GEORGE DREW COMES TO SHERBROOKE TONIGHT

World News In Brief

Shawville, Que., June 21.—(CP)—Mrs. Gustave Bretzlaff and her two small children died yesterday when the six-year-old daughter threw coal oil into a burning stove and flames razed their isolated farm home.

Mrs. Bretzlaff, 30, died in hospital last night. The children—Barry, two, and Beatrice, six—were trapped in the blazing frame house at Otter Lake 25 miles north of here.

Shawville is 40 miles north-east of Ottawa.

Montreal, June 21.—(CP)—Progressive Conservative leader George Drew will address employees of Canadian Limited when he visits the Montreal district tomorrow.

Party headquarters said he will stop at a highway restaurant to speak to the employees of the aircraft plant whose purchase by the Electric Boat Company he has criticized during the election campaign.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 21.—(AP)—Kiwians were told today "the key to world peace may be food."

J. W. G. MacEwen, Dean of Agriculture at the University of Manitoba, told the 34th annual convention of Kiwanis International.

"By well-directed food policies, we stand to improve soils, increase security, feed hungry people and create good will among men."

MacEwen said it takes 2-1/2 acres to give each person an adequate diet, but there are only two acres per person available.

Simla, India, June 21.—(AP)—An East Punjab high court today confirmed a death sentence against two Hindu nationalists for the slaying of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

The court confirmed a New Delhi court's death penalty against Narayan V. Godse and Narayan B. Apte and sentences of life imprisonment for Vishnu Karkare and Madan Lal, in connection with the crime.

The Punjab court reversed the Delhi tribunal's judgment in the case of two other defendants in the case, however. They acquitted Dattatraya Parchure and Kistayya Shankar, both of whom had been sentenced to life.

Berlin, June 21.—(AP)—Attempts to end Berlin's month-old rail strike ran up against a stone wall today. Both the strikers and the Soviet-appointed railway management refused to budge from their positions.

This apparently is the major point now at issue: The strikers want job security and recognition of their union, the U. G. O. Acceptance of their demands would force the communist railway system to recognize an anti-communist union.

Body Of Tennis Ace Is Found

Montreal, June 21.—(CP)—A body taken from Montreal harbor this morning has been positively identified as that of Marcel Rainville, former Canadian Davis Cup tennis star, city morgue officials said today.

A morgue official said a number of persons who knew the Montreal lawyer and athlete had identified the body which was found by a tugboat crew.

The body was discovered near Victoria pier where bystanders Friday night found a pile of clothing and a sheet of paper with name "Marcel Rainville" scribbled on it. Police at that time said there had been no report of Rainville as missing and they were unable to confirm whether the clothing belonged to the Montreal lawyer and former Davis Cupper.

The discovery of the clothing coincided with a report from a ship in mid-harbour that a man's body had been sighted but until today no body was found.

Rainville, in his early 40's, had been living in various Montreal hotels recently and police were unable to reach his wife.

He was a law graduate of University of Montreal where he first started as a tennis player.

Rainville was a man of small stature—so small he was known in the tennis world as "Pee-Wee" Rainville.

In 1930 and 1931 he was ranked as Canada's No. 2 tennis player.

By 1932 he was No. 1, the winner of the Canadian men's singles championship and perhaps his greatest effort for Canadian tennis was in the 1931 Davis Cup matches at Montreal when he won his match—a long-drawn-out, gruelling affair—with the United States star, Sidney Wood.

From 1932 to 1936 he was one of the brightest stars in the Canadian tennis firmament, ranking at or near the top. He spent much of the winter season during those years in Bermuda, playing in tennis matches, then followed the late-winter and early spring tournament trail through Florida and up into Canada with the result he was usually in prime condition when Canada came to naming her Davis Cuppers.

Coldwell Fears Depression Here

Regina, June 21.—(CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C. C. F. leader, said last night that Canada is on the brink of a depression and the Liberals must assume responsibility for the "deteriorating economic conditions" which are leading to it.

He told an election campaign meeting here that falling farm

Meeting to Be Held at Dufresne Park if Weather Clears Up. Otherwise It Will Be Held at Belvedere Street Armoury.

Progressive Conservative leader George Drew will come to Sherbrooke tonight to address a giant rally supporting P. C. candidates from the Eastern Townships in next Monday's Federal election.

Making his first visit to the Townships as leader of the official opposition, Mr. Drew, who is accompanied by Mrs. Drew, left Montreal by car this morning and will make several stops to address gatherings in towns between here and the metropolis.

The motor cavalcade stopped at noon at Farnham for lunch and a parade and open air address were scheduled to be held in Granby.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew are expected to arrive at the outskirts of Sherbrooke at 6:15 p.m. and will go immediately to the Social Club for a private dinner to be followed by a meeting with all the P. C. candidates in the Townships.

Members of the Conservative Women's Association have made special plans to greet Mrs. Drew. From the Social Club the Progressive Conservative chief and members of his party will go to the City Hall at 8:25 p.m. for a reception at which Mayor Alphonse Trudeau will preside.

A giant parade, headed by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band, will leave the City Hall at 8:25 p.m. for Dufresne Park, where the public meeting will get under way at 8:45. If there is rain the meeting will take place in the Belvedere street armoury.

Tonight's meeting will be the major P. C. rally of the campaign in the Townships and it will be under the joint chairmanship of Alphonse Armand Fiset, Georges Sylvestre, president of the local Conservative Association, and Forest Keene.

Speakers, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Drew, will include Redmond Hayes, the Sherbrooke County candidate, John T. Hackett, K.C., member of the last House for Stanstead, and again the candidate, George Heon, provincial P. C. organizer, and Hon. Johnny Bourque.

Col. Bourque is Sherbrooke's member in the Provincial Legislature and he holds the cabinet portfolios of Lands and Forests and Hydraulic Resources. Tonight's meeting will mark his first appearance in the campaign.

Yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Drew spent a busy day in Quebec where they called on church leaders and Premier Duplessis and dropped in at the offices of the Progressive Conservative party.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew visited an orphanage. They spoke to a theatre gathering of Quebec women and wound up their visit to the provincial capital with speeches last night to a crowd standing in the Quebec drill hall.

The Progressive Conservative leader was cheered when he delivered part of his 40-minute speech in French and declared: "We will always remain determined defenders of the autonomy of the provinces."

Mrs. Drew also spoke for ten minutes in French, urging the women in the audience to turn out to the polls on voting day, next Monday.

Mr. Drew repeated charges that a "bureaucracy" had grown up in Ottawa under the Liberals, that taxes were excessive and that the Federal government had let the Communists "run loose" in Canada.

Identifying Prime Minister St. Laurent only as the "leader of the Liberal party," Mr. Drew contradicted a reported statement by the Prime Minister that the Progressive Conservatives had "one policy in Quebec and one in Ontario."

"I say there is only one in Quebec and in the other provinces," Mr. Drew declared.

The Progressive Conservative leader said Mr. St. Laurent seemed to think that the "co-operation" between Mr. Drew as Premier of Ontario and Premier Duplessis of Quebec had been "improper."

"If there is one thing I am happy about, it is that while I was

Fuel Supply Is Reduced In Sydney

Sydney, Australia, June 21.—(CP)—The fuel shortage in New South Wales has reached crisis proportions.

Electric power for industries in Sydney was cut off today. The supply of illuminating gas is negligible.

Residents of Sydney, which has a population of 1,500,000, swarmed into stores yesterday in frantic search for stoves, oil lamps and candles.

Only plants processing food are exempt from the electricity ban. Stores, warehouses, theatres and offices are not permitted any power. Householders may not light more than two lamps at one time and get electricity for only two 20-minute cooking periods a day.

The situation is comparable with the British fuel crisis of early 1947 when unprecedented cold and a long-standing shortage of coal cut industrial production in England by an estimated 50 per cent.

The New South Wales emergency fuel program was put into effect mainly to meet the threat of a strike of Australia's communist-led coal mines, due to start next Monday. In addition, disastrous floods have swept the major coal-producing areas in the state.

The hardship of curtailed power supplies is intensified by the fact that winter now is starting in Australia.

The miners' leaders have announced that intention to call a general mine strike through the Commonwealth unless the miners are granted long-service leave, a 25-hour work week instead of the existing 40-hour week, and a wage increase of 30 shillings (about $4.85) a week.

Already tens of thousands of workers are idle in New South Wales because of the floods and the ban on use of power and gas. It has been estimated that some 230,000 persons will be temporarily unemployed by next week-end.

Heavy rains inundated central Japan.

Halifax Begins Three-Month 200th Birthday Celebrations

Halifax, June 21.—(CP)—This old, grey port forgot the scars of war, explosion and riot today and launched into a rip-roaring birthday party to mark its bicentenary.

Two centuries had not been easy ones for Halifax, but they had never been dull. It had known Indian raids, press-gangs, depressions and epidemics. It had been ripped apart by an explosion in 1917 that killed thousands. Its back had been almost broken by the strain of two world wars.

Halifax's history is the story of ships and the men who man them. Tragedy born of the sea has marched past Halifaxians in a steady chronicle of ships that were lost and men who went down with them.

Warships have sailed from here on their grim business. Settlers came in other vessels. There have been privateers and rum-runners, giant liners and little fishing vessels, ships of wood and sail, steel and steam. Halifax has seen them all.

Down along water street you can still hear all the stories—of how the Titanic sank, of rum-runners

Church-State Tension Is Mounting In Czechoslovakia

40 Killed By Typhoon In Pacific

Tokyo, June 21.—(AP)—Police estimated 40 persons were killed and 533 were missing in a typhoon that struck Okinawa and southern Japan early today.

The typhoon, with winds up to 115 miles an hour, is expected to hit the big northern Japanese island of Honshu tomorrow.

(Reuters news agency said the 8,591-ton American steamship Lightning was grounded 150 miles west of Naha, Okinawa. Two tugs were rushing to help her.)

Destruction in southern Japan was described as heavy. More than 500 houses were reported destroyed. An estimated 4,500 farms were flooded by torrential rains.

Communications have been disrupted. Most of Kyushu island's telephone service has been cut off from this section of Japan. Railroad lines were washed out in many places.

Sixty-two boats were destroyed or set adrift. Police said a 2,500-ton freighter went aground at the entrance of Hakata Bay in northern Kyushu.

Heavy rains inundated central Japan.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

Prague, Czechoslovakia, June 21.—(AP)—Church-state tension mounted today as the Communist government was reported seizing Roman Catholic opponents in Moravia.

Churchmen reported numerous clergy and prominent laymen arrested in that province, southeast of Prague near the Austrian and Hungarian border junction.

One source reported, without confirmation, that Archbishop Joseph Matosha of Olomouc, second city of Moravia, has been placed under a police watch like that over Archbishop Joseph Beran of Prague.

Reports of the arrests followed a hectic weekend during which a pastoral letter from Beran was read in churches through the country. It denounced the separatist Catholic Action Group sponsored by the government. The Archbishop's sermon in Prague was broken up by Communist heckling.

The Moravian arrests were made, church sources said, to crack resistance of loyal Catholics to the separatist group. They said those arrested, whose number could not be estimated, had refused to sign pledges of allegiance to the new organization.

The Vatican, meanwhile, denounced the group as "schismatic, anti-Catholic, a Communist tool and in opposition to the Episcopate."

The Supreme Sacred Congregation of the Holy Office said that voluntary membership in the organization would automatically bring excommunication to those joining. It further pronounced the excommunication of "the authors and promoters of it."

By implication this affects President Klement Gottwald and other official sponsors.

Excommunication denies the sacraments and the companionship of Roman Catholics to the person so banned.

Church circles here denied the government's claim of widespread support for its new movement. They said the government listed as supporters priests and laymen who signed only through force and that other names were "copied off gravestones."

Archbishop Beran, who has led the church's fight in Czechoslovakia, spent yesterday in seclusion in his Prague palace.

Security police cut him off from any communication with the outside world either by telephone or personal visits.

The guard was believed to have been tightened because the Archbishop was able to smuggle out last Saturday a pastoral letter which his priests read at Sunday masses. The letter declared he would never sign an agreement with a government which subjugated the church to an anti-Christian ideology.

Fear that he would amplify his attack Sunday at St. Vitus' Cathedral is believed to have occasioned the heckling by Communists which broke up the service.

St. Laurent Says That Drew Is Endangering Democracy

Ottawa, June 21.—(CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent last night accused George Drew of endangering democracy by his "gravelly disturbing" method of deprecating the honesty and integrity of public men who oppose him.

In this capital city, inhabited by tens of thousands of civil servants, Mr. St. Laurent also attacked the Progressive Conservative leader for making the civil service a "subject of political controversy."

Speaking a short distance from Carleton constituency where Mr. Drew is a candidate, he suggested that the "Tory attack on bureaucracy is just an indirect way of attacking the kind of services they (civil servants) are performing, such as family allowances and other social security measures which Tories don't like but don't dare attack openly."

Mr. St. Laurent spoke to a capacity theatre audience of 2,500 which gave a standing ovation to the man who introduced him—Hon. W. L. Macenzie King, the former Prime Minister.

Mr. King came out of retirement to preside at the public meeting and to say it is "very much in the interest of our country" to re-elect the government next Monday. This, he said, is "one of those mysterious periods of transition in world affairs... we are bewildered by mists of uncertainty."

Canada should return a "tried and trusted leader" in days when a "nation's fate tends increasingly to be in the hands of its leaders."

Mr. St. Laurent charged that Mr. Drew "seems incapable of believing that anyone can hold a different view than his and still be honest." This view struck at the very basis of democracy.

"The fundamental basis of democracy is the belief that public men can differ honestly and sincerely on public policy without imputing dishonest motives and with the intention of accepting the will of the majority."

Mr. Drew had been charging members of the cabinet with "misleading and deceiving the people, acting like tyrants and deliberately lying." The important question in the face of such "vilification and slander" was "whether democracy can long survive the degeneration of public debate to the level to which it is daily brought by the leaders of a once great party who seems to have substituted systematic abuse for principles and policy."

He questioned, too, whether "democratic government can work if civil servants are made the objects of public abuse for no other reason than the proper performance of their duties and responsibilities."

Ottawans must feel a "special concern" at Mr. Drew's attitude towards the civil service, at his reference to "bureaucrats," his statements that trade policies were forced by an "irresponsible brains trust" and about "long-haired boys in the ivory towers."

Mr. St. Laurent said the cabinet alone took responsibility for policy and suggested Mr. Drew should review to any negotiations about civil servants he knew of and have them probed.

UK Freighter Is Bombed At Shanghai

By FRED HAMPSON

Shanghai, June 21.—(AP)—Chinese nationalist planes today damaged the British freighter Anches, injuring four members of her crew. The war planes also fired a Shell Oil Company warehouse.

Three fighter-bombers made the raid. It was the second attack on Shanghai in 24 hours.

The 8,000-ton Blue Funnel lines Anches was beached.

In the fire at the Shell warehouse, 20,000 tons of kerosene and other petroleum products were destroyed.

The raid resulted in the diversion of several foreign ships from this port, normally one of the world's busiest. All foreign shipping is likely to stop immediately.

A nationalist blockade was announced yesterday. It was to begin June 26. Communist ports from Foochow, south of here, 1,200 miles northward into Manchuria were named.

The Anches was hit about 8 a.m. local time, just after she turned from the Yangtze into the Whangpoo river.

Capt. J. E. Watson said a bomb struck her first. Then the same plane or another turned and strafed the ship.

Watson said there was no question in his mind that the attack was directed at the ship. He said the British flag was plainly visible.

The bomb exploded on the port side between the engine room and No. 4 hold. The vessel developed a quick list. She will be unable to proceed without repairs, the captain said.

The Anches entered from Kobe with 700 tons of machinery and textiles. She was to go to Hong Kong with seven passengers, including two Chinese, after she left Shanghai.

The Shell warehouse, a few miles upstream, was hit by another bomb from the raiders. No casualties were reported at the warehouse.

The raid lasted about 30 minutes.

The Anches was the fifth British ship hit during the last two months of the Chinese civil war. The other four were warships: the cruiser London, the destroyer Consort, and the sloops Amethyst and Black Swan. They were hit by Communist artillery on the Yangtze.

The Amethyst, crippled and still threatened by Communist guns, is stranded on the Yangtze between here and Nanking. The other three warships escaped after the attack, which occurred last April.

Within minutes of the time the Anches was hit today, shippers—already worried over the impending blockade—began cancelling ships due to call here.

Foreign Ministers Bring Paris Meetings To Close

Paris, June 21.—(AP)—The big four foreign ministers ended four weeks' debate last night with a pledge for east-west peace in Germany and general agreement on an Austrian independence treaty.

As the conference closed, the following results were announced: 1. A six-point statement of principles to guide negotiations in Germany. This featured a Russian promise not to reimpose a blockade of Berlin, in return for efforts to revive east-west trade in the former Reich.

2. A joint communique announcing a series of agreements on the outstanding issues in the Austrian treaty and instructing the deputies to wrap up the document by Sept. 1.

3. Agreement among the four ministers to maintain contact and hold another meeting in New York next fall during the United Nations General Assembly.

An American deputy, Samuel Reber, told reporters he is confident the four powers will agree on an Austrian text in time for the fall session, when it presumably will be adopted and the allies will pull their forces out of Austria.

The way toward Austrian agreement was cleared after the east met a $150,000,000 Soviet claim on Austria for German assets, and Russia dropped her support of Yugoslav claims on Austria.

On Germany the four countries were less definite. They acknowledged they had failed to unify the country politically and economically, but promised to try to do better in the future.

They pledged themselves not only to encourage inter-zonal trade and commerce in Germany but also to facilitate the movement of persons and information.

They also agreed, according to Robert Schuman, the French foreign minister, to respect each other's political set-ups, even though they do not agree with them.

The conference had a hectic ending when Russia sought unsuccessfully to make a last-minute change in the big four communique.

It seemed Andrei Vishinsky had been reprimanded by Moscow for one point on the Austrian treaty, regarding oil profits.

After a hurried session at the French foreign office, it was decided to take up the point through diplomatic channels and the ministers left.

In Vienna, chancellor Leopold Figl said the big four decision is "a big step toward peace and the freedom of humanity."

Western officials have expressed belief that in any new election the Russian-backed Communists would be defeated.

King George Officiates At Opening Of Colonial Month

By MICHAEL O'MARA

Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, June 21.—(CP)—The King drove today through flag-decked London streets to Church House in Westminster to declare open Britain's "colonial month."

Showing no signs of the leg ailment which first affected him last autumn, His Majesty delivered a 20-minute address standing at a lectern. Later he stood to receive about 50 citizens from various colonies who were present by colonial secretary Arthur Creech Jones.

Colonial month is being staged by the colonial office with co-operation from various British societies and merchants with the idea of increasing the British public's knowledge of the vast colonial Empire.

The King, dressed in morning clothes with a jaunty red flower in his lapel, spoke of the work of men who through long generations had built up the colonies. He said he is confident that their work will continue and that colonial peoples will draw increasing benefits from their British connections.

The Queen, wearing a smoky-grey dress and a matching hat, accompanied His Majesty. During the King's speech, a detachment of mounted police from the Gold Coast formed a guard of honor. Their knee-length dark-green tunics and bright-red sashes made a vivid splash of color in the crowded hall.

Following the Church House ceremony the King and Queen continued to one of the major features of colonial month, an exhibition in Oxford street showing many facets of life in the colonies.

There are sections of education, economic problems, health maintenance and so on. One room is devoted to colonial history and within it are war clubs, ships' figurheads and logs and contemporary accounts of early settlements.

In another room is representative colonial art, ranging from the primitive work of the more backward peoples to some paintings which might have come from the easels of metropolitan sophisticated artists.

Cleveland, June 21.—(AP)—Planes and surface craft ganned out over Lake Erie today in a search for three men missing in a 21-foot cabin cruiser.

Clarence T. Marx, 35; Bert T. Scanlon, 24, and John Mikos, Jr., 22, have not been seen since they left here early Sunday.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

By BILLY ROSE

A few blocks away from where I live and let live on the East River Drive they're digging a big hole, and eventually—Allah and the atom willing—what they're digging will become the diggings of the United Nations.

Now, as everybody knows, there are two kinds of people in the world—those who dig holes and those who stand around watching them. The latter are known to the trade as sidewalk superintendents, and the most interesting of the peeping-tomatoes in my neighborhood is an old boy named Charlie Grainger.

It was a sunny afternoon a few weeks back when Mr. Grainger took up the station next to mine on the rim of the excavation, and I couldn't help but notice his Herbert Hoover neckband and high button shoes.

"That's a pretty sizable hunk of hole," said Mr. Grainger by way of opening, signalling the steam shovel to move a little to the left. "They got plenty of nothing down there and it's getting bigger all the time."

"Knee-rect," was my neighborly comeback.

"My boy," Mr. Grainger continued, "the world's got one gosh-awful throb of a toothache, and you're looking at the cavity. As I see it, it's going to take a heap of international dentistry to plug it up right and proper."

Then, there and on the spot, I decided that my construction-casting colleague was an hombre worth knowing.

"How come you aren't producing any shows this year?" he asked me the other day when we both reported for work at the usual hour. "Does it get in the way of your duties down here?"

"That's part of it," I said, "but the chief reason is the depression I see creeping up on us. It's my theory that when people are worried about bread, they won't lay it on the line for circuses."

"Son," said Mr. Grainger, "you've got a good head on your shoulders, and here's a little story that proves it. . . .

"For the past twenty years, a friend of mine in Indiana has been selling hamburgers and making a right pretty dollar at it. He's hard of hearing, so he never listens to the radio, and he's had so much trouble with his eyes that he never looks at a newspaper. But the hamburgers he sells are good hamburgers, and so his inability to keep up with the times has never interfered with his business."

"A few weeks back, the old man's son got out of college after majoring in economics, and when he got home he said, 'Pop, I think you ought to start watching your pennies. The European situation is all messed up and we're beginning to Hughes was asked, backstage, if anyone ever took a screen test of him.

"Yeah," said Hughes. "A guy named Rogell—Al Rogell."

MONTREAL - Wednesday, June 22nd, 8:00 P.M., St. James' Market.

The Progressive Conservative Party.

$50,000,000
is certainly an imposing sum!

That's the sum Sherbrooke industries received from the Ministry of Munitions and Supply.

IN WAR CONTRACTS OF ALL KINDS!

from 1939 until 1945.

All Industries Benefited

Sherbrooke industries benefited by varying degrees, but all benefited directly or indirectly from these war contracts.

From 1939 until 1943 only the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand was granted contracts amounting to $12,779,000 for machine tools and the Paton $10,743,000 for clothing.

The Whole Population Benefited

Dominion Burlington, Dominion Textile, the Superheater, Hall Machinery and many other concerns worked on nothing but war contracts. The workers also gained, because salaries went up.

The Liberal Party will continue to bring Sherbrooke her fair share of industrial contracts; contracts which are economically indispensable in these times of reconversion. Re-elect Maurice Gingues who will continue to work for Sherbrooke!

Maurice GINGUES

Official Liberal Candidate

Redmond Hayes Says Drew Has Never Been Opposed To Family Allowances

St. Elie d'Orford, June 21.—George Drew has never been opposed to the principle of family allowances, Redmond Hayes told an election gathering here last night.

Mr. Hayes, Progressive Conservative standard-bearer in Sherbrooke constituency, was supported on the platform by four other speakers — Charles Lemieux, H. Perron, Marcel Bourque and Mayor Stanislas Lefebvre, of St. Elie d'Orford.

Mr. Drew's concern has not been with the principle of family allowances but with the methods of their distribution which endanger provincial autonomy, Mr. Hayes declared.

Mr. Hayes attacked what he termed "Liberal bureaucracy and centralization" on the grounds that it is destroying provincial autonomy. He declared that the continuation of such a policy would ultimately lead to country to socialism and communism.

The Liberal government's stand on communism was charged with weakness and indecisiveness by Mr. Hayes. He declared that communists or communist sympathizers have been permitted to remain in high civil service posts.

Policies of the past government on world trade and taxation also came in for heavy criticism. Mr. Hayes stated that the world trade situation is not nearly as good as the Liberals would have us believe and that the Liberals rushed the election so that they could come before the people before the weakness of Canada's position became generally evident.

In attacking government taxation policy, he charged that drastic tax cuts had been made on luxuries and unnecessary articles while such items as shoes carry a heavy tax.

"If the electors give me the mandate," he declared, "I will respect their wishes and carry them with me to the House of Commons."

Legion Presses Drive To Get Out The Vote

"Operation Vote," the Canadian Legion's campaign to have every qualified voter at the polls on June 27, goes into effect today," Joe Gilbert, president of Sherbrooke Branch 10, Canadian Legion, told fellow members at the regular monthly meeting at the Legion home here last night.

"The Legion is a non-political organization, but part of its duty toward Canada is to urge every citizen to exercise his electoral privilege," he said.

"We will contact labor leaders, businessmen, factory managers, service clubs, in short all those people with influence among others, and ask them to urge those they know to get out and vote."

"We must ask every Sherbrooke man and woman, regardless of his or her political beliefs, to vote on June 27," the president stated.

"Operation Vote" in Sherbrooke is part of a nationwide campaign announced by the Legion's Dominion Command in Ottawa.

Lennoxville Philathea Society Holds Final Meet

The Philathea Society of the United Church held their closing meeting before the summer recess in the ladies parlor of Scott Hall.

Mrs. E. A. Orr the president presided and opened the meeting with prayer. A most satisfactory report of the annual supper and sale held recently was given by the treasurer, Mrs. L. Parker.

During the business period the following sums were noted: $50 towards the purchase of new dishes; $35.15 towards purchase of a corner cupboard for the ladies parlor; $10 to the Sangster Memorial Church appeal; and $5 to the Cancer Research Appeal.

Several letters of thanks were read from recipients of the monthly food parcels sent to England. This concluded a busy session. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Wark, in September.

Boy, 16, Drowns In St. Francis At Drummondville

Drummondville, June 21.—The St. Francis River claimed its first victim this year when Fernand Bouchard, 16, drowned near here Saturday afternoon.

Young Bouchard, whose parents reside in Montreal, is an excellent swimmer. He dived from a rowboat some 30 feet from the shore. He left two friends waiting in the boat. When the youth struck the cold water, his body was instantly convulsed with a cramp and sank rapidly.

Screams of the boat's occupants summoned an ambulance rescue group. Forty minutes of grappling recovered the body, but artificial respiration measures failed to revive the boy.

A coroner's inquest found the tragedy "death by misadventure."

Heating By Electricity Is Advocated

The advantages of the electrical heating system were explained by Arthur Wilkinson, representing an engineering agency from Montreal, who addressed a group of electricians and architects in the New Sherbrooke Hotel last evening.

Mr. Wilkinson pointed out that the system was absolutely clean, the safest form of heat and that the system was entirely automatic.

He said depreciation and maintenance is only 2% compared to about 8% with other forms of fuel-fired heating systems.

Decorated By Governor-General

Three Sherbrooke residents were among 43 members of the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem who were decorated by Viscount Alexander in a ceremony at Government House on Saturday. Seen here, immediately after the investiture, are left to right, J. M. Rennie, Dr. Georges Saine and Miss Ina Cobligh. Mr. Rennie and Dr. Saine were admitted as Serving Brothers of the Order and Miss Cobligh, who is country editor of the Sherbrooke Daily Record, was admitted as a Serving Sister.

Maurice Gingues Says Liberals Will Introduce National Health Insurance

"A national health insurance plan is the next social security measure to be undertaken by the Liberal government if it is returned to power," Maurice Gingues told a rally at the St. Sacrament Church hall last evening.

"It is most important to the country's interests that the Liberal Party be given another mandate in order to round out the program of social security begun by the Liberal government under Mackenzie King."

Mr. Gingues pointed out that the proposed national health insurance plan was an integral part of the Liberal government's policy which has already given to Canadians the family allowance plan and unemployment insurance.

"The period we are now entering is a critical one in the country's history," Mr. Gingues said. "But the next five years will never be the five years 1920-1935 that Canadians experienced under Bennett's Conservative regime," he added.

The speaker attributed this to the social security legislation accomplished by the Liberal government in the past 14 years.

The Liberal candidate also pointed out that the C.C.F. Party could never hope to win the majority of seats in Parliament since it has too few candidates. The real battle, Mr. Gingues said, is between the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives, and voters should cast their votes accordingly.

Mr. Gingues went on to speak about the policy he has followed concerning the county he represents. He pointed out that during the war he had prevented the establishment of a large number of war industries in this city. "At the time," Mr. Gingues said, "this policy displeased many of the leading commercial men in this district."

The reason for his action, he declared, was to prevent a large number of people from coming to this city to work in these industries. With the end of the war would come the closing down of these same factories leaving a large number of unemployed.

"Today, Sherbrooke's economy is not so dislocated and the city enjoys a stable commerce," Mr. Gingues said, "which it would not if a large number of war industries had been built here."

In his speech, Mr. Gingues reiterated what he had said before in that Prime Minister St. Laurent had given his personal support to him as the Liberal candidate for Sherbrooke.

E. Veilleux, also a speaker before the assembly, praised Maurice Gingues' past record as Liberal representative for Sherbrooke county.

The Progressive Conservative party was charged by P. Pelouquin with attempting to destroy the country's autonomy by following a different course in politics in the provinces of Quebec and Ontario.

On these grounds Mr. Pelouquin declared that Mr. St. Laurent is the only leader capable of bringing national unity.

Local Optimists Postpone Date Of Fridge Raffle

Discussion on the Optimist raffle and the forthcoming "Peanut Day" in Sherbrooke highlighted the regular weekly business meeting of the local Optimist Club in the LaSalle Hotel last night.

After some debate, the date of the drawing for the refrigerator, washing machine and mixer was postponed from June 24 to July 3. The prizes will be on display meanwhile in the Crown Diamond store on King street, members decided.

"Peanut Day," a city-wide festival sponsored by the Planters Peanut Company and operated by the Sherbrooke Optimist Club, was discussed and committee heads named. Gilles Triganne, general secretary, was named.

Joe Gilbert, president of Sherbrooke Branch 10, Canadian Legion, delivered a brief address to the club, asking their support of "Operation Vote," a nationwide Legion campaign to have every citizen at the polls on June 27. Optimists pledged their support of the movement.

Seated at the head table were Joe Gilbert, Henry Crochetiere, Bud Belec, president, Marcel Bernard and Phil Barbeau.

Shorts Ban Here Is Still In Effect

With the official arrival of summer today, Sherbrooke citizens were advised by municipal authorities that shorts, two-piece bathing suits and short skirts are still taboo within the city limits.

Sylvio Rousseau, chairman of the park committee, reminded aldermen at a council meeting last night of an old city by-law, still in effect, banning the wearing of abbreviated summer attire.

Municipal police have been authorized to arrest anyone found breaking the law and that includes persons playing tennis in shorts.

The penalty is a fine. While it is believed that the majority of the aldermen are opposed, in some measure at least, to the by-law, it will remain in effect until some council action is taken to amend it.

Local Stores To Be Closed This Friday

This Friday is St. Jean Baptiste Day, an important festival for all French-speaking Canadians. In accordance with the Merchants' Holiday Closing Agreement which was signed a few years ago, nearly all of Sherbrooke's retail stores will be closed for the day.

This year there has been some feeling among the merchants that it was unfortunate that the holiday fell on a Friday because this is normally the busiest day of the week. Consequently the Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce investigated the situation and found that the majority of the stores preferred to respect the agreement. The Committee is therefore asking all merchants of the City to co-operate by closing their businesses for the day.

Market Day has been changed to Thursday of this week, and consequently most of the local stores plan to be open Thursday evening.

Dominion Day also falls on a Friday the following week, and the stores will be open Thursday evening and closed all day July 1st.

Piano Recital Given By Miss Leonard's Pupils

A large and appreciative audience of relatives and friends heard the annual piano recital by the pupils of Norah H. Leonard, given in St. Patrick's church hall recently.

Miss Leonard is well-known in local musical circles and is turning out some worthwhile young pianists to take their places in the musical organizations of this city.

In appreciation of her devotion, young John Hogg, on behalf of the pupils, presented Miss Leonard with a bouquet of red roses.

Adding to the interest of the evening was the presentation of prizes, which was ably handled by Frederick J. Sangster, who also congratulated the students on their splendid program.

Special prizes for first place in grade went to the following: Preparatory—Faith Clark, North Hatley, 95.5 per cent. Very high distinction.

First grade—Sandra Taylor, 95.3 per cent, very high distinction.

Prizes Are Presented At Closing Exercises Of St. Patrick's Academy

A large gathering of students with their parents and friends attended the closing exercises at St. Patrick's Academy on Friday evening. The musical program opened with Brahms' Lullaby and A La Claire Fontaine sung in chorus by the junior choir of the school accompanied by Miss Gertrude MacFarlane at the piano. This was followed by Violinist Hector Herbert accompanied by Jules Clements in a delightful rendering of Traviere and Kiss Me Again.

"Under the Greenwood Tree," an Operetta performed by pupils of Grades 1 and 2 was directed by Miss MacFarlane who also provided the musical accompaniment. This item was particularly well received and reflected much credit both on Miss MacFarlane and her young artists.

John McCabe, in a valedictory address, thanked on behalf of the graduating class, the parents who had made it possible for them to obtain a High School education and the teachers who had done so much by way of work and direction to bring their course to a successful conclusion. He paid warm tribute to the paternal interest taken in the welfare of the school at all times by the Priests of the Parish and to the generous help the students always received from the School Commission. He pointed out the great value of the training which the Academy provided not only in the pursuit of learning but also in training which the school provides in the development of character and of the social virtues so necessary in life. In conclusion he exhorted his fellow-graduates to be worthy of the best traditions of the school and of the long list of honored names to be found among the alumni.

Kenny Hetherington's singing of "Into the Night" to Mrs. C. Gervais' piano accompaniment was enthusiastically applauded and called for an "Encore" brought an equally delightful rendition of "My Wild Irish Rose."

The list of Prizes for academic distinction was then read by Rev. Brother Joseph, Principal, while prizes were distributed by Rev. Father Moisan, Rev. Father Tierney and members of the School Commission. The following students received prizes.

Fourth Grade: Guy John, Paul Finn, Earl Ferguson, Stewart Carson and Earl Clarke.

Fifth Grade: Terence O'Connor, Edward Wdward, E. McConne, Donald Wilson and Brian Farrell.

Sixth Grade: Robert Simms, Paul Drapeau, Robert Quine, Leonard Ryan.

Seventh Grade: Douglas Daniels, Albert Crosby, David Simms, Gerald Winslow, Kenneth Maguire, Norbert Leclerc, Albert Carrigan, John Hayes, Stanley Bruce, John Lynch and Peter O'Brien.

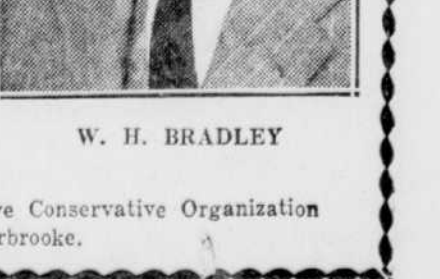

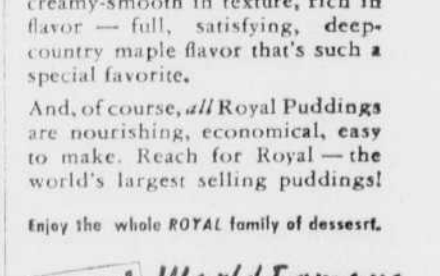

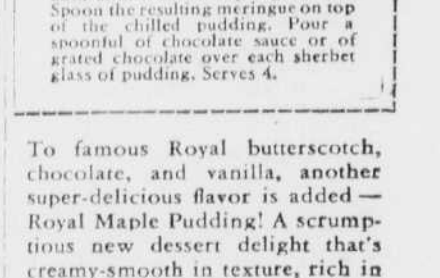

First High: Gilles Gagne, Class Prize and first place in Christian Doctrine and written French; Robert Gagnon, Prize in European History; Richard Tobin, Prizes in Geometry and Science; Andre Noel, Prize in French; Ashton Palmer, Prize in Christian Doctrine; Peter Murray, Prize in Christian Doctrine; Francois, St. Pierre, Prize in Algebra.

WELCOME GEORGE DREW

Tonight the citizens of Sherbrooke are privileged to receive the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, Col. George Drew, who is being accompanied by his charming wife. On this occasion Col. Drew will address a Progressive Conservative rally for this district at Dufresne Park.

Col. Drew is a forceful speaker and he carries a message to all Canadians — a message for the restoration of responsible government, the re-establishment of democratic processes in administration and for the preservation of individual enterprise which was responsible for the development of this Dominion and upon which its future prosperity depends.

Since his selection as leader of the Dominion Progressive Conservative Party, Col. Drew has infused that organization with new life and enthusiasm which has been reflected in the by-election results held since that time.

He boasts that the Conservative party is on the march and there is every reason to believe that his boast is based upon the strongest groundwork.

But if it is on the march, it is largely due to the inspiration he has given it.

Tonight the people of this district have an opportunity of meeting him for the first time and perhaps partake of part of that enthusiasm he gives to all who know him.

PURGES IN COMMUNIST LANDS

Two political factors which appear inevitably linked together are dictatorships and purges. The first almost invariably brings the last. And, of course, the reason is obvious. A dictatorship can only exist through police rule. If and when there are objections to the trend of dictatorship, the objectors must be eliminated ruthlessly.

Recently reports have been seeping through the Iron Curtain that certain individuals fairly well up in the Communist hierarchy have been pushed aside in Russia. This would be quite understandable. The Communist party line has been changing, and something caused the change. Any who advocated too great a change or who resisted any change at all would be fit subjects for a Siberian concentration camp.

The satellite states appear receiving the chief benefits of the purge. It is openly admitted that Vice-Premier Traicho Kostov of Bulgaria has been thrown out of his post, out of what passes for a parliament there, and out of the Communist party.

Furthermore, there is a story that Anna Pauker, foreign minister for Romania is in disfavor, allegedly for maintaining large bank accounts in Swiss banks. And it is to be remembered this woman had been one of the key figures in the Cominform.

From all indications it is not a comfortable position, that of being a member of the Communist hierarchy. Over-ambition can prove fatal. Failure to tread faithfully the party line, no matter how it twists and turns, can lead to exile or death. An official cannot trust his closest associate, because of the system of espionage that operates within Communist ranks.

Usually, of course, the purges are not due merely to personalities. They reflect the fear by the dictators of public discontent. In a totalitarian state it is dangerous to reveal any discontent. A dictatorship implies a nation of yes-men.

NAZI IDEALS NOT DEAD

When hostilities with Germany were actually concluded, many observers expressed the belief that many years would elapse before the Nazi mentality was erased from the minds of the people. And all indications are that Nazi tendencies have by no means been eradicated from German life. Large numbers of Germans have not been convinced that Hitler's way was a bad way, and erstwhile Hitlerites continue to show their totalitarian inclinations in many overt ways.

One such bit of evidence has come to light in a law enacted by the Bremen legislature dealing with the press. A military government directive required the state in the American zone of occupation to pass legislation protecting the freedom of the press, as a prerequisite to relinquishment of licensing powers by the military government.

What the Bremen legislature has done, in effect, is to revive the infamous "editor's law" passed by the Nazis in 1933 — a law which forbids publication of anything that would "weaken the power of the German Reich in its foreign and domestic relations," or anything that would contravene the "common will of the German people, German fighting power, culture or economy, or anything contrary to German honor or dignity."

PRICELESS INGREDIENT

A writer with McKim Advertising Limited put these words into an advertisement which was published in a Toronto newspaper at the time the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association was meeting in annual convention:

"Every day of the year you are called upon to make certain choices. Every article you buy—your food, your clothing, your furnishings—is a vote for the product of your choice."

"The important thing is that, in Canada, you can choose—freely. In some countries the Government makes the choice for you — you take what they offer or go without. It is the priceless ingredient of freedom of choice that forms part of your Canadian birthright . . .

"On June 27th you will be called upon to make an important decision. That day you will decide what your Government will be for the next five years. On that day you will decide upon your future — and the future of Canada."

The case is stated simply. But it is a powerful message that could be repeated frequently in every part of Canada.

PRESS COMMENTS

MR. DUPLESSIS AND HIS PARTY

The Ottawa Journal

Of all the hypocritical nonsense talked in this election the worst, surely, is the professed horror of government spokesmen over the fact that in Quebec most of Mr. Duplessis' Union Nationale party is supporting Mr. Drew.

Supposing most of Mr. Duplessis' party were supporting the government, would the same Liberal spokesmen be rejecting such support? They are taking all the Union Nationale party support they can get. And they are not repudiating the support of the Republican isolationist, Wilfrid Laurier.

And what would Liberals do about Union Nationale party people, anyway? Disfranchise them? Take the vote away from them just because they choose to vote against Mr. St. Laurent? After all, Mr. Duplessis' government represents the vast majority of the people of Quebec—won more than 80 of Quebec's 90-odd ridings in the last Quebec election.

We are told that Mr. Duplessis and his associates are a bad lot, that they are isolationist, un-British, and so on and so forth. We wonder how many people who hear such talk know that one member of Mr. Duplessis' Cabinet, Mr. Bourque, was wounded at Vimy Ridge in World War I, and that another, Mr. Sauve, was decorated for valor in World War II? It may be that some of those assailing such people's loyalty have a right to do so—we leave it to their conscience.

Incidentally, The Journal is being asked whether it didn't oppose Mr. Duplessis in the war. Of course it did. We opposed Mr. Duplessis' position in the war, and we would oppose Mr. Duplessis again in the same circumstances. Moreover, this newspaper opposed Mr. Duplessis' "padlock act," and still opposes it. But is the attitude which a Canadian citizen takes with respect to a war to be held against him ever afterwards—to debar him forever from part in the government of his country?

John Bright opposed the Crimean war, made one of the greatest speeches against it ("The Angel of Death is abroad in the land . . ."), today he is one of the glories of British parliamentary history. Lloyd George opposed the Boer War (he was mobbed in Birmingham); he went on to become Britain's Prime Minister. Ramsay MacDonald opposed World War I; he, like Lloyd George, went on to become Prime Minister. Do Mr. Duplessis' attackers think that Canadians don't know British parliamentary history—or the history of liberalism?

But we don't think it is Mr. Duplessis' war part that is bothering the government—not what his support of Mr. Drew is doing to national unity. What worries them is what Mr. Duplessis' support of Mr. Drew may do to the Liberal party.

MASS HONEYMOON

Peterborough Examiner

The U.S.A. has no quintuplets but in almost every other way its genius for mass production is unrivalled. It began the manufacture of automobiles on assembly lines; it put a thousand offices into one skyscraper; it has staged multiple marriage ceremonies. Now it is to provide mass honeymoons. An enterprising fellow in Los Angeles, a travel agent called Wesley Oliver, has devised a "packaged" honeymoon for newly-married couples.

He has chartered a train and is selling a complete tour to June bridegrooms. The happy men with their happy brides will board the honeymoon special in California and go of course to Niagara Falls. They will touch on other cities: Toronto on July 12, Winnipeg on the 15. There will be a two-day mooning at Banff, then on to Vancouver.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The Lord shall reign for ever and ever.—Exodus 15:18.

It is a great truth, "God reigns," and therefore grace reigns through righteousness unto eternal life, by Jesus Christ our Lord; and, therefore, no sinner on earth need ever despair.

Modern Hymnals Emphasize The Living Church, Spiritual Life

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York, June 21. —(AP)—There are trends in hymns and hymn books, even as in hemlines and the stock market.

"We're getting away from 'heaven-longing' today," explains Miss Caroline Parker, editor of church music for one of the largest publishers of hymnals, which are used by some Protestant denominations. The Episcopal and the Roman Catholic churches have special hymnals.

"There's a movement away from golden streets and golden crowns. And we're weeding out the gruesome ones that talk of blood and wounds." The emphasis in hymns today is on the world we live in, Miss Parker says, the words are designed to appeal to the future, and point out the good on earth.

In many cases, familiar tunes are merely fitted with new lyrics—in that way they may be used in connection with church music. But Miss Parker is constantly on the lookout for inspirational poetry. When she finds some likely material for a hymn, she turns it over to one of the composers on her list who sets it to music. One of the currently popular Easter hymns was first seen as a poem in a popular woman's magazine.

Publishers of hymnals think several times before they go in for revisions. Churches buy in large quantities and expect the title to be "open stock" for a long period so they can re-order as the books become lost or torn. Miss Parker says the average life of a hymnal is about 20 years.

Miss Parker's firm (Fleming H. Revell Co.) specializes in what the trade calls "interdenominational" hymnals.

In spite of the increasing use of modernized hymnals there is still wide demand for the old fashioned "gospel" hymnals, put together in the days of the great revivalists, Billy Sunday and Homer Reidhever.

Revival and Revised.
"The old revival hymns are still very popular in the South," says Miss Parker, "and in smaller communities in the Midwest. The churches in the larger cities seem to be more interested in the revised hymnals."

Despite all the talk of pitching popular hymns lower so they'll be easier to sing, Miss Parker isn't entirely in favor of it.

"When you pitch them lower, you frequently lose the attractiveness of the music. They tried it once in the Episcopal hymnal, and they found that many of the hymns were spoiled."

In compiling a hymn book it is necessary to scan the hymns of two thousand years of Christianity and then select those which have present day values. Thus you'll find under one cover, works by St. Francis of Assisi, a modern poet and an eminent preacher like Harry Emerson Fosdick.

One of her most recent compilations, "The New Church Hymnal" contains more than 100 hymns written since 1900.

"It illustrates the way we are thinking now," Miss Parker said. "The hymns are concerned with the living church today, the spiritual life, service to mankind, childhood and youth—and higher patriotism."

Another of her favorites is "The Hymnal for Boys and Girls," which she says, is designed to interpret through moral and spiritual lyrics the teachings of the church, rather than "medieval ideas of heaven."

Questions and Answers

Q—What is a congressional whip?
A—A whip in a legislative body is a member who is charged with the task of rounding up the members of his party and getting them to vote on bills in which the party has a special interest. It is his duty to keep his party leaders informed as to the attitude of members toward public questions.

Q—Is there a species of fish that swims upside down?
A—Yes. A species of catfish, Synodontis batensoda, found in the Nile and certain other African rivers, has the remarkable habit of normally swimming and floating upside down.

Q—Is voting compulsory in Argentina?
A—Voting is compulsory in Argentina and women have the right of suffrage in presidential and congressional elections.

Q—What percentage of the world's corn is grown in the United States?
A—In an average year the United States grows about half the world's corn.

Q—Where did Patrick Henry make his famous "liberty or death" speech?
A—This famous oration by Patrick Henry was delivered March 23, 1775, in St. John's Episcopal Church, a comparatively small structure still standing on top of Richmond Hill in Richmond, Va.

Q—Does water freeze at 32 degrees?
A—Water does not freeze at "freezing-point" but at a considerably lower temperature. Really pure, clean water, free of particles that might serve as nuclei or starting-points of freezing, does not begin to crystallize into ice at 32 degrees above zero Fahrenheit but at zero Fahrenheit or a little below it.

Q—Who was the United States' smallest president?
A—James Madison, who was five feet four and weighed less than 100 pounds. They called him the Great Little Madison.

The Record Short Story

Vernie's Dad

By ARTHUR ROWLAND

When Aunt Carole came to Kenwood to teach the fifth grade, she treated me same as the others in class and it didn't make any difference because she was my mother's sister and lived at our house. The kids all liked her, even Vernie Buford, and he never got on with teachers before. Vernie was sort of stubborn, but maybe teachers didn't like the way his black hair was always so long and wild, or his wrinkled shirts, which were washed but not ironed because his mother as dead and his dad said he learned in boot camp that if you hang a shirt on the line, wet without wringing, it didn't need to be ironed.

Vernie's father drove a truck for a packing plant. He was sure husky and could toss a side of beef up all by himself. He used to gamble a lot, though, and sometimes I'd hear him singing loud when he walked home late Saturday nights and was pickled. Once I heard Mom say all that Larry Buford needed was a good wife to straighten him out. But Vernie thought his dad was tops and knew all the answers, no matter what a teacher or the books said about things.

Aunt Carole found this out the time she told us the days grew longer following Dec. 21 and Vernie piped up that the sun rises later for a while after the shortest day of the year. She asked how it was possible for the sun to rise later if the days lengthened and he answered, "I don't know. But it's true, because my dad says so."

A good many times I thought she'd lay him low for contradicting, like when Sadie Green said the camel is useful in the Arabian desert and Vernie insisted that wasn't a camel, but a dromedary; and the camel has two humps and lives in India. After giving him a hard look, Aunt Carole explained that a dromedary is a species of camel, like a coolie is a dog while not all dogs are collies. But Vernie said, very stubborn, "My dad says the camel has two humps. And he's been in India."

That night when she was drying dishes, I heard Aunt Carole tell Mom it was not good for a child to place too much faith in the word of one person when that word was of questionable truth and that discipline in her class was being disrupted. Mom asked why she didn't see the boy's father and she said she shuddered at the very thought. Aunt Carole never went out much, except to church, but she'd stay home and read or practice the piano. She was a lonely sort away from school, never laughed, only smiled sad-like. Once I heard Pa growl to Mom that the girl ought to find a good man and get married. We all knew she never would, though, because when Robert Norman, who was her fiancé and a pilot flying the airlift in Germany, got killed in a crash, Aunt Carole decided she would devote her whole life to teaching.

But at last she did get fed up on Vernie's telling her his dad said this and his dad said that. We had to say what the word meant in oral spelling. Vernie spelled out sanctuary all right, but when Aunt Carole told him to define it, he said a sanctuary was a washroom. She wanted to know where he got such a definition and he answered, "My dad says so."

Sadie Green bleated that it was a temple or church, then Vernie argued, "I guess my dad ought to know. He was in the navy." That night at supper Aunt Carole said she was going to hear the lion in his den. She asked me to go with her. We walked across town to Larry Buford's house, an old one with a lot of untrimmed shrubs. Aunt Carole pressed her finger hard on the doorknob. Pretty soon Larry opened the door, sudden-like, and growled, "What's the idea, ringing . . ." He stopped, looking surprised. "Oh, thought it was Vernie."

"I am Miss Conrad," Aunt Carole said, very stiff. "I have come on a matter concerning your son, Mr. Buford." Larry, grinned as he took off the big apron he had on. "You see I'm chief cook around here. But, please come in, Miss Conrad." She smiled, like she does when she can't make some nunsbuck in school under—and, I followed her in. She sat down c the sofa. I could see her big blue eyes taking in everything. The room had good furniture and a new rug and wasn't exactly dirty, but Vernie's sweater was on the floor where he tossed it and a big pair of shoes tossed under the sofa. Aunt Carole looked up at Larry, who is dark like Vernie, and she seemed to fidget a little. Then she told him what it was all about, saying the boy couldn't see only one side to any question—his father's—and such an attitude might make him dogmatic in all his viewpoints, later. Larry told her he had no idea the boy placed such importance on what he said. When she asked if he had said the sun rises later after Dec. 21, he brought an almanac and sat down beside her. "See," he explained. "Though the sun rises later for several mornings, it sets still later, so the days lengthen." "You should have explained that to Vernie," Aunt Carole answered. "And today he insisted a sanctuary is a washroom."

"What?" Larry laughed. "I told the mugg it's a place of worship." Then he said, "Perhaps it's because Vernie has no mother, because his home is incomplete, that he brags about his father. Hadn't you thought of that, Miss Conrad?" She said she hadn't and we got up to leave. The only thing she said all the way home was, "Well, he isn't such an ogre as I expected."

Larry Buford took Aunt Carole to a movie one night, then they went a lot of places together. Pa said it looked like we might lose our boarder. But one Sunday she got out of his car in a hurry, rushed inside and to her room, mad as a boiled owl. I heard her telling Mom she'd never forgive him for saying she ought to get wise to herself and stop living in the past if she didn't want to grow cynical. She said she couldn't think of being unfaithful to Robert's memory, had vowed no other should enter her heart and her future road was mapped out. Mom snapped, "Fiddlesticks! You better make a detour."

She didn't go out with Vernie's dad again, though. She went sad dreamy half the time and cross as Old Harry the other half. Sadie Green whispered about that the teacher must be in love. I hadn't heard Larry all winter, but now he'd wake me up in the middle of the night with his loud singing.

One Saturday when Vernie and I were fishing on the river, we were surprised to see Aunt Carole pop out from the trees. We dropped our lines and jumped up. She smiled and said she was taking a stroll, but she kept glancing back, like you do when you're trying to shake somebody. A fish pulled Vernie's line and when he made a dive for the pole, his foot slipped. Losing balance, he went rolling off the high bank and into the river. Aunt Carole let out an awful scream, yelling he'd be drowned, which I knew he wouldn't. She stood stiff a second, then picked her way down the steep bank. She grabbed a broken branch and held it out to him. Vernie got out, soaked to the skin, but grinning. Aunt Carole knelt down beside him and dried his face with a handkerchief. "You might have been killed," she told him, all excited. Then she laughed a little, but I saw a tear on her cheek when she said, very low, "It's funny how a boy can get so wet and still have dirty ears. Poor child, you do need a mother."

"That's what I've been trying to tell you," came a voice from up on the bank. It was Vernie's dad standing there, smiling. "Now," he said, "I'm waiting to hear you say the boy's father needs a wife, Carole."

We lost our boarder, like Pa said. Because when vacation came, Aunt Carole went and married Larry Buford.

McKENNY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenny, America's Card Authority

GOOD DEFENSE PLAY DEFEATS CONTRACT

Some time ago I had a radio program in New York City, called "Everybody plays Bridge." Bud Greenspan used to work with me in securing sports celebrities for interviews on the program.

Bud has been associated with radio for a long time, having worked for six years as a page boy at one station in New York before joining the sports department of another station in 1944. The Merchant Marine kept him occupied from 1944 to 1945. At the end of the war he returned to radio, covering tennis, track meets, and the New York Rovers hockey games on Sunday afternoons.

Bud is well posted on all sports. It would be pretty hard to stick him with any reasonable sports question, but at bridge he claims he is just a kibitzer. His boss, Bertram Lebar, Jr., who is known to sports fans as Bert Lee, is one of the masters of bridge.

Lebar made a nice defensive play in today's hand while Bud was kibitzing. Declarer ruffed the third spade and then played a small diamond, finessing dummy's ten. A heart was lost from dummy and the jack finessed. West led the six of diamonds and Lebar jumped up with the king, killing the diamond suit in dummy. If he had played low, declarer could have finessed the jack and taken another heart finesse. Then he would have led the queen of diamonds, overtaken it with the ace and finessed the club queen.

Bud said it was a nice defensive sacrifice, like walking a man and then getting the next fellow to hit into a double play.

Paris Conference Ends Without Major Achievements

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst.

The month-old big four foreign ministers' council meeting in Paris finally has ground to a weary close, having recorded some achievement although it has done little to make the halls of the pink palace echo with satisfaction.

Small wonder that a United States spokesman wasn't optimistic in evaluating the results. One of the conference's chief accomplishments, as I see it, has been to emphasize again the conflict between the two blocs—western democracy and totalitarian Bolshevism. It's difficult to find common ground on vital issues.

The principal object of the conference—to establish economic and political unity for Germany—hasn't got far. The best that could be done by the four statesmen—Vishinsky of Russia, Bevin of Britain, Schuman of France and Acheson of the United States—was to agree on a "modus vivendi" under which dismembered Germany will continue to be administered by the opposing blocs.

Under this agreement the big four would reopen and encourage trade between east and west Germany. The Russians promise not to impose blockade conditions on Berlin again.

At face value that looks good, but its real value depends on whether it can be made to work. The establishment of political and economic unity of Germany is essential to the rehabilitation and peace of Europe. However, this very importance of the Reich has made it the object of a tug-of-war between west and east. There is no guarantee that this tug-of-war will cease.

The council announced agreement in principle on an Austrian independence treaty.

The council agreed that Austria's frontiers will remain what they were Jan. 1, 1938, which means that Yugoslavia's claim has been thrown out. Russia is expected to withdraw her support to that claim. Yugoslavia won't get reparations but may "seize, retain or liquidate Austrian property" in Yugoslav territory. Austria will pay Russia $150,000,000 in reparations.

That's what has been agreed to in principle. It remains to be seen whether it will be what ultimately is signed, sealed and delivered. Agreements in principle have had an uncomfortable habit of blowing up, and so we shall wait and see what happens before accepting the treaty as an accomplished fact.

If this agreement does work out as scheduled, it will be agreeable to western powers.

St. Laurent Says Continued from Page 1

He doubted the effect of "sweeping attacks against persons who have no right of reply."

Mr. St. Laurent left Ottawa last night for Toronto where he speaks tonight. For the rest of the week he campaigns in Quebec and Newfoundland.

Capetown, June 21.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Daniel Malan said today in the house of assembly that the South African government shortly will appoint a high commissioner to Canada. The post, now vacant, last was held by Dr. P. B. Viljoen.

One reason is that the Russians will have to withdraw their troops from Austria when the treaty is signed. Another is that if the Soviet does drop its support of Yugoslavia claims this may drive Marshal Tito—who is feuding with Moscow—into the western sphere of influence.

To summarize, judging from the communiqué, nobody seems to have gained any tremendous advantage in the conference.

Mrs. H. Cartwright Passes Away Here In 69th Year

Mrs. Mabel Ursula Cartwright, wife of Harry Cartwright, was laid to final rest last Tuesday here. She passed away in the Hotel Dieu Hospital on June 12 following several weeks' illness.

Born Mabel Ursula Reed on May 8, 1881, in North Hatley, daughter of Lafayette Reed and Ruth Slack of that town. Mrs. Cartwright leaves behind her husband and seven children: Verie, Mrs. H. Tommilla, of Kirkland Lake, Ont.; Marion, Mrs. John T. Gilmour, of Montreal; Harold, of London, Ont.; Clayton, of Sherbrooke; Mabyn, Mrs. George N. Johnston, of Toronto; Wilbert, of Niagara Falls; Lloyd, of Longueuil; besides several grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted in the Johnston Funeral C. Chapel, Melbourne street, by Rev. R. C. Tait, of Plymouth Church, of which congregation Mrs. Cartwright was a member.

Paul bearers were three sons, Harold, Clayton, Lloyd, and Terry Gilmour, a son-in-law, Another son, Wilbert, was called back to his home and unable to return to attend the funeral.

Those who attended the funeral from out-of-town included Mrs. H. Tommilla, of Kirkland Lake, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gilmour, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cartwright, of London, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. George N. Johnston, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Cartwright, of Longueuil; Mrs. Luvia Hunting and Archie Hunting, of Stanstead; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reed, of North Hatley; Arthur Slack, of Ayer's Cliff; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conner and Garland Conner, of Minto; Mr. and Mrs. Jeffre Wilcox, of Montreal.

Ex-Resident Of Sherbrooke Dies In Montreal

Montreal, June 21.—(C)—John Charles Shea, 63, retired insurance agent died at his home yesterday.

Born in Sherbrooke, Que., Mr. Shea studied at St. Charles Seminary there before coming to Montreal where he founded and directed the dry goods firm of John Charles Shea, Ltd. He became an agent for the Sun Life Insurance Co. Ltd. in 1926 and retired in 1947.

He is survived by two brothers, three sisters and ten children.

New Paint Is Demonstrated In Sherbrooke

Demonstrations of Spred-Satin, described as the "greatest single advancement" in the paint industry, are being given today and tomorrow by salesmen of the Glidden Company at the King Hardware Store and Dawson Auto Parts.

Resistant to rubbing, Spred-Satin can be spot-washed indefinitely without losing its color or sheen. Also, spots can be repainted without showing joining marks.

Spred-Satin is practically odorless and is dry enough in 20 minutes to permit re-hanging of pictures.

A. D. Duncan, vice-president of the Glidden Company, said the formula is secret but that the basic ingredients are similar to those used in synthetic rubber.

Leghorn, Italy, June 21.—(Reuters)—The 10,000-ton Canadian freighter Pantrooper was tied up here today by refusal of dockers to unload her cargo.

The dockers, announcing their decision yesterday, said it was "a gesture of solidarity" with the strike of members of the Canadian Seamen's Union. The Pantrooper came here from Gdynia, Poland, with a mixed cargo.

prices, growing scarcity of jobs, a jittery stock market and an increasing number of commercial failures all pointed to economic recession in the Dominion.

"They are all symptoms of capitalism getting ready to move from boom to bust, from inflation to deflation and to depression. Nowadays they speak of recession. That's just another name for what we had in the 1930s under both Liberal and Tory parties."

Mr. Coldwell said June 27 was earlier than the Liberals had originally intended to call the federal election, but it was still not "soon enough to prevent developing economic conditions from having an adverse effect on Liberal party fortunes."

He predicted that Ontario would show major gains for the C. C. F. with the large portions of these gains being taken from the Liberals. Mr. Coldwell mentioned Hamilton, Windsor and northern Ontario as areas where the C. C. F. expected to pick up seats from the Liberals.

"The government may expect to regain some federal seats from the retreating Tories, but they can hardly expect to hold their own in that province after the C. C. F. is through with them."

Mr. Coldwell today moves into his own constituency of Rosemont-Biggar for the first time in the campaign. He will tour the riding for the three days, speaking in Central Butte and Lucky Lake today.

Prague, June 21.—(Reuters)—Gen. Heliodore Pika, chief of the Czechoslovak military mission in Russia during the war, was executed today.

The court of appeal had rejected his appeal against the death sentence by a state tribunal which found him guilty of military treason and misuse of his official powers.

Miami, Fla., June 21.—(AP)—The United States Coast Guard said today an unidentified submarine had been reported off the south Florida coast.

Three navy planes from the hurricane-hunting squadron in Miami searched during the night without finding a trace of the craft.

DAVIDSON HILL

Mr. and Mrs. R. Graham, of Ulverton, attended church service here on Sunday and were supper guests of Mrs. J. Proulx and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson and son, Wilbur, were visitors in Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt, of Granby, attended church service here on Sunday.

Mr. Alex Davidson was a visitor in Richmond.

Mr. Wilfred Proulx, Mrs. J. Proulx, Mrs. William Robinson and Mrs. Alfred Davidson spent a day in Granby and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Knowlton, of Knowlton Landing, and Mrs. Percy Tibbets and son, Kenneth, of Waterloo, were guests of Mrs. Alfred Davidson and Mr. Alex Davidson and called on Mrs. J. Proulx and family.

Trading In Cattle Was Slow Today

Montreal, June 21.—(C)—There were 790 cattle, 804 sheep and lambs, 1,441 hogs and 1,745 calves offered for sale over the week-end on the Montreal west end livestock market.

Today's receipts on the two Montreal livestock markets totalled 116 cattle, three sheep, four hogs and 77 calves.

Cattle trading was slow and at 10 a.m. there were no sales registered.

Calf offerings were of common to medium quality. Vealers brought 17-21. There were no real top calves offered, drinkers were 10-16 with the bulk of sales between 12-13.

Good lambs were 25 a hundred-weight. Sheep ranged from 6-13.

By the close of the day, Monday, hogs sold at 10.50-13 for Grade A. The few hogs offered early today brought $1 for Grade A. Sows were 13-20 dressed.

Second High: The following students were awarded prizes on the year's work, George Begbie, Ronald O'Keefe, Johnny Camirand, John Paul Fortier, Rodney Moran, Richard Cogan, Raymond Maguire, Hector Hebert, Charles Smith.

Third High: Edmund Tobin, Class Prize; Andre Gervais, Prize in Apologetics and English Composition; Leonard Dorey, Prize in Geometry; Francis Corcoran, Prize in Latin Composition; James Scrimger, Prize in English Composition; Bruce Cline, Prize in Geometry; Peter Cochrane, Prize in English Composition; Horace Lecours, Prize in Apologetics; Kenny Hetherington, Prize in English Literature.

Graduating Class: Rene Hebert, Marc Leclerc, John McCabe, Donald Winger, Thomas Toney.

A special prize of $5 donated by Mrs. J. H. Walsh for the most popular boy in the school was won by Bruce Cline.

After the presentation of prizes, Rev. Father Moisan in a short address congratulated the students on their graduation and paid tribute to their work and conduct. He emphasized the real meaning of success and pointed out that worldly achievement is but a passing phase and is valuable only in as far as it promotes real success which is the fulfilment of our destiny as children of God.

Charles Stenson of the School Commission spoke in high praise of the students and the school. He expressed his willingness at all times to help St. Pat's and pointed out that at the present time much is being done to improve the material conditions in the school and to provide facilities for more detailed study of some school subjects.

Presentation of rose bouquets to Mrs. C. Gervais and Miss G. MacFarlane was enthusiastically applauded and the evening came to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

P. C. Leader Continued from Page 1

Premier of Ontario we established the most effective co-operation there had ever been between these provinces in more than 50 years."

The Progressive Conservative leader promised "co-operation of that kind" between a Progressive Conservative government, "all the provincial governments," and "strong governments in the local field" as well.

Addressing the meeting of Quebec women, Mr. Drew said the strength of the country depended on safeguard of the traditions and characteristics of the provinces.

Confederation would not have been established without constitutional guarantees to Quebec protecting French-Canada's civil code and language rights.

IN MEMORIAM

DAVIDSON—In loving memory of a dear husband and dad who was called away on June 21st, 1945.
Four years have passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away
The shock was great the blow severe
We little thought his death so near
Only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.
Sadly missed by his loving WIFE MAUD AND FAMILY.

OBITUARIES

MISS ALICE DOONAN OF WATERLOO

Waterloo, June 21.—The death occurred on Sunday, June 20th, of Miss Alice Doonan, a life long resident of this vicinity.

The deceased, in her 65th year, was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Doonan, and was born in West Shefford.

She died after an illness of one week at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
C. L. Hanna, and the suddenness of her death was keenly felt by her relatives and many friends.

The funeral service was held in the West Shefford Roman Catholic Church, on Tuesday morning, at 9:00 a.m., with Canon Roy, of that parish, singing the mass.

The bearers for the ceremony were Messrs. Peter Gunter, Alan McKergow, Roger McKergow,
Francis Campbell, Merdosh Mac-Intosh and Andre Lafond, and burial took place in the family lot in the West Shefford Cemetery.

MR. WALTER GODDARD KNEELAND OF WARDEN

Warden, June 21.—There passed to his reward one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Warden,
Mr. Walter Goddard Kneeland, in his 90th years. He was the youngest but one of the seven children of the late Gardner Kneeland and Susan Goddard, his wife.
There were four sons by a former wife.

Among the brothers of Mr.
Kneeland who predeceased him were Professor A. W. Kneeland, B. C. L., M. A., D. D.; Ph. D., who was considered one of the leading educationalists of Canada in his time; Principal W. A. Kneeland, B. C. L., M. A., and Brig. Gen. Stillman Foster Kneeland, lawyer, of New York.

Mr. Kneeland while justly proud of his family, did not aspire to, or attain any high rank in the educational world. He was, however, a very zealous worker in the church and in his early manhood passed examinations to become a licensed preacher or deacon in the Methodist Church. He travelled many miles around the Eastern Townships with horse and buggy, to preach the Gospel wherever he was

The Doctor Says

VITAMIN AND MINERAL CONTENT RETAINED IN FROZEN FOODS

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

All signs point toward an enormous expansion in the use of frozen foods over the next few years. Many people wonder whether these foods have lost any of their nutritious value or vitamins because they have been frozen or stored for a long time. Fortunately, there have been several studies made of this subject and the answers are highly encouraging.

The blanching and cooling to which vegetables must be subjected before quick freezing often causes a loss of vitamin C and some of the other vitamins and minerals. The freezing itself, however, does not result in any loss in these substances nor does storage.

Frozen foods do not require as much cooking as the fresh products. Hence when the cooking stage is reached there is less loss of vitamins and nutrients. When these processes are added together, it has been found that frozen vegetables when ready to serve after a year's storage have about as much vitamin C as the same products cooked within 72 hours after picking.

Properly prepared frozen and stored fruits, vegetables and meats do not develop any poisonous products even after long storage. Apparently fish stored for several years may become indigestible or unpalatable, but even this is not dangerous.

Reports indicate that freezing causes a decrease in the number of germs, but it does not kill them all. Frozen foods should not be held for more than a short time above 15 degrees, because germs can grow at or about this temperature. Taste and appearance are better, and deterioration and germ growth avoided, at storage temperatures of about zero to 10 degrees.

Provided frozen foods are prepared properly and quick freezing, storage and cooking are done properly, they will supply the same

Q—I was bitten by my parrot and had quite an infection for about a week. Could the after effects of this bite be serious?

A—There is a disease spread by parrots, but this is usually through the air rather than by bite. If the immediate infection cleared up, there is probably not much danger of serious after effects.

FORDYCE

The Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Hilson Smith, with Mrs. G. Hansen for the joint hostess. The meeting was opened by repeating the Collect for Club Women and singing the "Ode." The roll call was answered by naming a vitamin and telling in what food it is found. The president, Mrs. David, was in the chair and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Earl Dryden. A letter of thanks was read from the Dunham Institute thanking Fordyce Institute for taking charge of the handicrafts Exhibit at the County Convention. Mrs. Lewis is to see how much it will cost to print more cook books. Mrs. E. Dryden gave a report on the County Convention held in Dunham. A paper on Health and Welfare was given by the convener, Mrs. Allan Strange. The finished aprons for the hospital staff were brought in. Mrs. Hilson Smith gave a report on the Short Course, which she attended at Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, and reported that the "Tweedsmuir Histories" were on display and that our delegates were asked to bring our copy to the Convention and that the government might possibly print copies of the book for us. A demonstration of Wear-Ever brushes was given by Mrs. Martin of Sherbrooke. Members gave orders for brushes, 15 per cent of the orders are to go to the Institute. Seven dollars and thirty-five cents was given to the Institute. Mrs. Mar-

Miss M. Miltimore, A June Bride-To-Be Of Waterville, Was Honored At Home Of Mrs. P. Ingham With A Crystal Shower

Waterville, June 20.—Mrs. Preston Ingham was hostess at a delightfully arranged crystal shower held at her home on Main St., in honor of Miss Marguerite Miltimore, a June bride-to-be.

Mrs. Ingham welcomed the bride-elect and pinned a corsage on her shoulder. Activities started when the hostess presented Miss Miltimore with a gaily decorated box which, when opened and placed on a nearby table contained a beautiful collection of crystal glasses in four different sizes.

Miss Miltimore graciously expressed her thanks for the gifts. Cards were played at five tables. The prizes were won by Miss Miltimore, Mrs. Alton Parkinson, Mrs. Gerald Miltimore, Mrs. Gerald Daine and Mrs. Fred Burton.

A sing-song was enjoyed following which, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Gerald Miltimore and Mrs. Gerald Daine presided at the tea table, covered with a lace cloth and centered with spirea in a silver bowl.

Assisting in serving were Mrs.

Percy Bean, Miss Jean Lowry and Mrs. Charles Smith.

A SHOWER

Mrs. Robert Reed was hostess at a miscellaneous "shower" at her home on Highland Avenue, in honor of Miss Marguerite Miltimore, a popular bride-to-be of the month.

The living-room was profusely decorated with white lilacs.

On arrival, Miss Miltimore was presented with a corsage of lilacs of the valley.

The gifts were presented to Miss Miltimore in a novel and interesting way. The prize for the best presentation was won by Miss Thelma Ball.

After the lovely gifts had been opened and admired, Miss Miltimore graciously thanked her friends for the delightful party and the gifts.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Gerald Miltimore presided at the tea table, which was covered with a Maderia cloth and centered with a crystal vase of lilacs of the valley flanked by tall white candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Reed was assisted in sewing by Mrs. Celon Ball, Miss Thelma Ball and Miss Dawn Le Sage.

Out of town guests included Miss Ruth Evans, of Lennoxville, Miss Dawn Le Sage, of Montpelier, Mrs. Thomas Bowen, of Rock Island, Mrs. William Davis, of North Hatley, and Miss Ebba Neilson, of Compton.

General Notes

"Talk about real-life dramas— you should try my job!"

Bill: "I don't see how you keep so cheerful, Dick. I should think a life insurance agent's job would be humdrum."

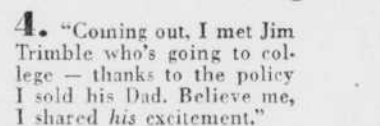

Dick: "You're wrong there! You'd be surprised how much drama there is in my job — and what a kick I get out of it. Yesterday, for instance . . ."

1. "At the office I found a claim cheque ready for delivery to a widow who needed that money. Don't you suppose her gratitude made me feel I'd done something important?"

2. "Then, on the way back, I stopped off to see Tom Black — he and a partner have just opened a new garage. Now, if one of the partners should die prematurely, the other will be able to carry on that business."

3. "From there to see George Williams who's retiring soon. Our company will start paying him to relax and enjoy himself. You should have seen him smiling, just like a happy kid!"

4. "Coming out, I met Jim Trimble who's going to college — thanks to the policy I sold his Dad. Believe me, I shared his excitement."

5. "Next, I helped a couple bring their life insurance programme up to date. They've just had an addition to their family. They were happy before, but now they've got peace of mind, too!"

"That's the way it goes. And that's why I think a life insurance agent has the best job in the world!"

A helpful citizen in your community

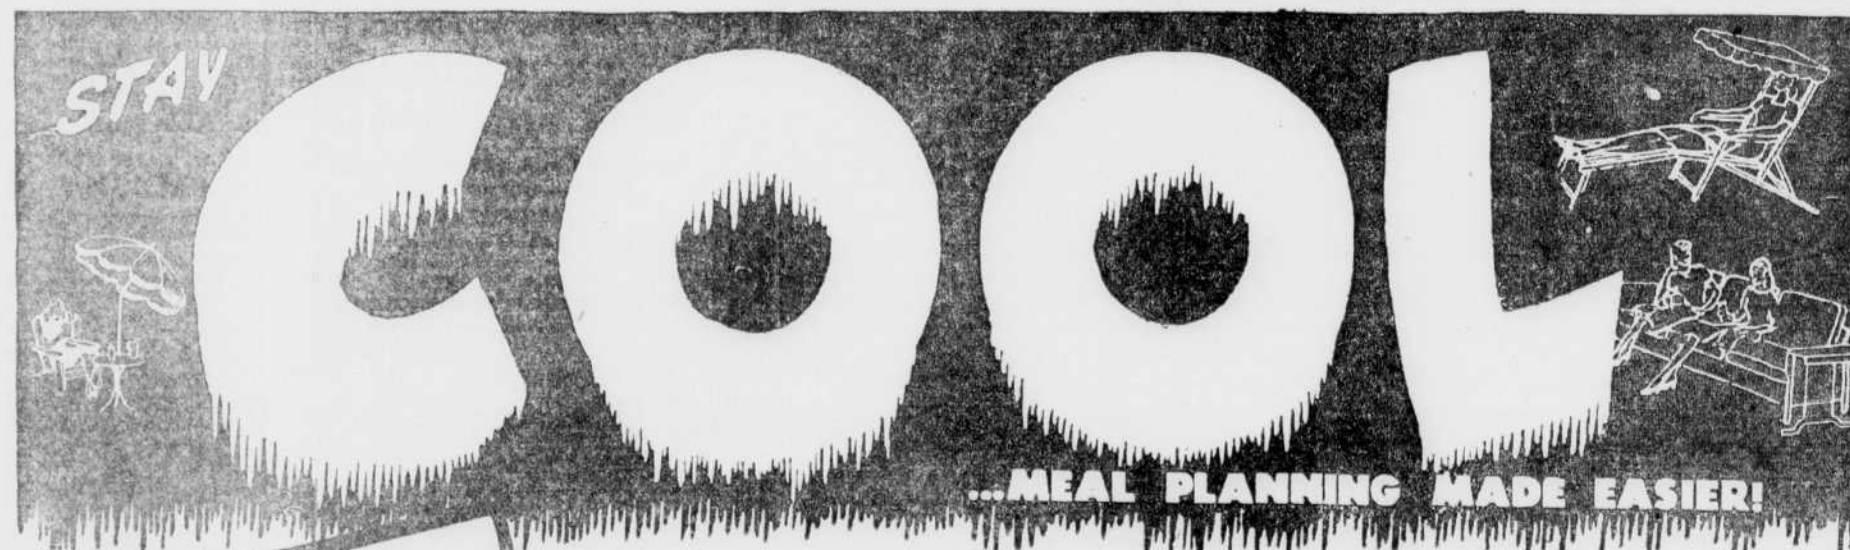

When your agent sells you life insurance, he also helps to improve your community. For a large part of each life insurance dollar is put to work, through investments, to build schools, bridges, highways, industrial plants and many other projects that create jobs and make for better living.

You share in these improvements, made possible through the efforts of your helpful fellow-citizen — the modern life insurance agent!

The christening of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wood, Esplanade Avenue, took place in St. Peter's Church Sunday afternoon, the Rev. Russell Brown officiating. The godparents were Miss Helen Murchie, Mr. Charles Gordon, Jr., and Mr. Frank Smith. Following the service the baby's parents entertained relatives and friends at their home.

Following her graduation at Mont Notre Dame, last Friday afternoon, Miss Louise Fortier, was guest of honor at a garden tea arranged by her mother, Mrs. Albert J. Fortier, at their home on Cambrai Street. The garden, where the guests assembled, presented a mass of bloom and shrubbery and a fitting setting for the occasion. The grounds were further enhanced by two lace-covered tables, decorated with peonies of variegated shades, at each end, and centered with carnations and cream candles in silver holders. An elaborate graduation cake centering one of the tables, featured a scroll inscribing the place and date of Miss Fortier's graduation, bells, caps, gowns, and an owl topping the whole. Mrs. Leo Durocher, Mrs. Herman Fortier, aunts of the graduate, and her mother, Mrs. Albert Fortier, poured tea. Refreshments were served buffet style. The guests numbering 32 included the relatives and intimate friends of Miss Fortier.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dorrian are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jean, to Mr. Frederick Ayton Hovey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hovey. The marriage will take place on Saturday, July 30th, at 3 o'clock in Plymouth United Church. Miss Dorrian is a graduate of Macdonald College School for teachers. Mr. Hovey is a graduate of Commerce '49, McGill.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Truax and children, Billy and Sandra, Westmount Street, have left for a two weeks' holiday at their summer cottage, "Shady Nook," Little Brompton Lake.

Messrs. Lawrence, Raymond and Willis Brooks, and Miss Pauline Brooks, all of Montreal, arrived in the city, yesterday morning, called by the death of their father, Mr. B. E. A. Brooks, London Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Tessier, Montcalm Street, are guests at Jasper Park Lodge, in the Canadian Rockies.

Mrs. Bert Lyon, Montreal Road, was hostess, on Saturday night, at a shower in honor of Miss Evelyn Faith, R. N., whose marriage takes place, shortly. The rooms were attractively decorated in purple and gold, the long table in the dining room being covered with a lace cloth and centered with Sweetheart roses and mauve candles, toning in with the predominant shades. The 26 guests were seated around the long table and following the serving of refreshments, the bride-elect was presented with a lace tablecloth and a silver tea-pot stand, gifts of her assembled friends.

Miss Peggy Ryan, of Montreal, spent the week-end visiting her father, Mr. M. L. Ryan, East Brompton Road. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens, also of Montreal, were guests at the same home.

Friends of Mrs. Treffe Gelin, will regret to hear she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she underwent an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kilgour and their daughter, Miss Muriel Kilgour, of Verdun, spent the week-end in the vicinity, where they visited relatives and friends in Sherbrooke, Rock Island and Lennoxville.

Mrs. F. E. Brown, Brooks Street, was in Montreal, last week, when, on June 15, she attended the wedding of her son, Dr. Edwin James Brown, which took place at St. Clement's Church, Verdun. Mrs. H. F. Farrow, of Stanstead, aunt of the groom, was also a guest at the wedding.

The weekly tea held at the Lennoxville Golf Club took place on Saturday afternoon, with the following hostesses: Mrs. A. L. Vallee, convenor, Mrs. L. F. Jene, Miss R. Pettigrew, Mrs. E. Harrington, Mrs. Phyllis McMurray, Miss Gwen Hurn, and Mrs. Walter Irwin. Miss Joan McMurray assisted the hostesses in serving. Mrs. George Pare presided at the lace-covered tea table, centered with pink peonies. Small baskets of pastries decorated the individual tables.

Mrs. W. M. Hall was hostess last week to the Women's Association of the Trinity United Church, at her summer home, North Hatley.

Mrs. M. V. Long presided at the brief business meeting, following which on behalf of the association, she presented the gift of a tri-lite to Mrs. Fred Williams, who will be leaving Sherbrooke, at the end of July. Mrs. Long expressed the regret felt by the group at Mrs. Williams' departure and their thanks for the kind co-operation she had given to all their endeavours during her stay in the city.

Mrs. Williams voiced her appreciation of the thoughtful gesture of the association and her own sorrow at leaving her many friends in the church and in Sherbrooke. At the tea hour, several friends of Mrs. Hall, of North Hatley, joined the party and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. R. Havard, Mrs. H. L. Cleveland, Mrs. C. L. Soles, Mrs. G. C. Hall and Mrs. R. D. Wood.

Mrs. E. M. Armitage presided at the tea table, covered with a lace cloth and centered with a low bowl of white and purple lilacs, circled with large yellow p.

MARRIAGES

BLUMENFELD—KORMANN

Mansonsville, June 21.—The marriage of Katharina, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kormann, to Kurt, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blumenfeld, both of Mansonsville, took place on Saturday, June 4, at 2 p.m. in the United Church, Rev. J. Clark Reilly, B.A., D.D., performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Mr. Edward White, B. Eng., student minister. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Guy George. She also accompanied Mrs. Edith MacLean, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register. The church was beautifully decorated with lilacs, evergreens and flowering shrubs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of pink rayon sheer with sweetheart neckline and shirred bodice outlined with pleated trim. The wide panel waistline was exquisitely decorated with trapunto and soutache embroidery. The long full sleeves were finished with cuffs. Her veil of fingertip-length was of pink tulle and fell from a halo type crown centered with lily-of-the-valley. Her only ornaments were pearls and earrings, fits of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses, lily-of-the-valley and maiden-hair fern.

After sister-in-law, Mrs. Walter Kormann, of Sutton, as matron of honor, wore a gown of aqua taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and plain panelled floor-length skirt with back fullness, completed by a bolero styled jacket trimmed with self-covered buttons. White stiffened net formed the headdress and wrist gauntlets, the latter being fastened with narrow white satin ribbons. She carried a colonial bouquet of roses, sweet peas and lily-of-the-valley tied with white and lavender streamers.

Miss Hilde Kormann, her sister's bridesmaid, wore a floor-length gown of blue rayon net with Peter Pan collar, a fitted bodice buttoned to waistline and a full skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white roses, sweet peas and lily-of-the-valley tied with pink and white streamers.

Mr. Ludwig Blumenfeld, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Fred Kormann, the groom's brother, and Mr. Karl Steinbach, a friend.

Mrs. Kormann, mother of the bride, wore a printed chocolate brown jersey dress trimmed with brown lace, a natural panama hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of red and white carnations.

Mrs. Henry Blumenfeld, mother of the groom, was gowned in printed white jersey, and she wore a navy straw hat, white accessories, and a uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lormier Willey.

Mrs. Lloyd Moore and son, Roy, and Miss Elsie Moore, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemoine and Miss Mary Lemoine and Mr. Perry Lemoine attended the Curtis-Jrvin wedding, at Lachute.

Mr. Perry Lemoine and Mr. Lloyd Windle, of Tremholville, have returned from a motor trip through Ontario and New York State.

DRUMMONDVILLE

Mr. Claude St. Sauveur, aged 20 years, son of Mr. Georges St. Sauveur, of St. Eugene, met with a tragic death Saturday evening around midnight, while driving a milk pickup truck. The other youths were with him, when the tragedy occurred, one was in the cab and the other riding in the rear. At the coroner's inquest it was brought to light that young St. Sauveur opened the door of the vehicle, while in action to talk to the youth in the rear, and in doing so lost control and was crushed to death by the closing door. An accidental death was pronounced by the coroner.

Mr. Elisee Pelouin, of Marcotte village, was slightly injured and badly shook up while riding his bicycle Wednesday afternoon, when knocked down by a hit and run driver of an automobile. The Provincial Police are continuing their investigation in locating the hit and run driver of the car.

Following an investigation by detective Elzear Desjardins, in collaboration with Herman Lenoir, of the Provincial Police, a Wickham truck driver was arrested Monday, after a hit and run accident. The accident took place late Friday evening at Marcotte village, while Mr. Fernand Mercier, driving his car was struck by the passing truck, while two of his friends were slightly injured and damage to his car amounted to $350. The accused pleaded guilty and a fine of $25 was imposed and his drivers' license cancelled for one year.

Rachel Lacharite, five-year-old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lacharite, of Wickham, was killed instantly Wednesday evening around 5:45 p. m., while walking along the highway accompanied by her two small companions. Investigation by the Provincial Police revealed that the children were suddenly to cross the other side of the road and failed to note the approach of an automobile driven by Mr. J. P. Yergeau, also a resident of Wickham, who was powerless in avoiding the sad fatality.

An important public works program has recently got under way in St. Joseph, which includes the paving of the following streets: St. Laurent, St. Paul, St. Albert, St. Francois, Sixth Avenue, St. Louis, St. Philippe, St. Norbert, and Scott. When completed, all streets in this municipality will all be paved with the exception of Melancon and Marchand in the new Berard suburb, where sewers and water installations will be undertaken and expected to be completed some time this fall.

The Canadian Celanese Sports Committee wishes to draw to the attention of the citizens of Drummondville, that a new ruling prohibits the facilities of their bathing beach to the general public. In order to prevent overcrowding it was decided that only employees and their families would be eligible. The committee regrets very much that due to limited space no visitors will be allowed and employees are not to bring their friends.

The Provincial Hotelkeepers' Association is holding its annual convention here in Drummondville from June 12 to the 13th. This convention will also mark the 20th anniversary of the forming of the Association with a membership roll of 725 members. A detailed and interesting program has been mapped out for the visiting members, with the opening ceremony taking place at the Drummondville Airport, where six planes have been chartered to take the visitors on a tour over Greater Drummondville. During the evening the group attended the ball game to see the local team in action against Sherbrooke. Mr. Norbert Boisvert, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, and director of the Association, for Drummondville presided at the opening meeting and assisted by Mr. G. Sylvestre, manager of of a Woman," and his keen sense of humour was given a wide scope during his address.

Relating personal happenings during his lifetime, the speaker cleverly wove a pattern to point out that a woman has a peculiar habit of creating a power over mankind that he likes and looks up to. This power of a woman is a great one, and it brings out a certain weakness in man that no other power can awaken.

The speaker mentioned these girls in particular that marry the war-torn veteran, one who has no use of his lower body, and is condemned to live an unnatural, childless and apparently useless. However, many Canadian girls have devoted their life and their love to these men, to make them happy, and they themselves are apparently contented with their lot in life.

Another example of the power of a woman is the tender power a mother holds over her child. This power has been evident since the beginning of mankind, and will continue until the end of time.

The work that the Queen did in London during the blitz is another excellent example of the power of a woman. With her periodic tours of bombed-out sections of England, she cheered up the population to such an extent that it made this torture more bearable to them, and helped in a large measure toward the ultimate victory of the allies.

"Yes," Mr. Richardson concluded, "never underestimate the power of a woman, for the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world."

Kiwanian Roger McKergow introduced the speaker, who in turn was very warmly thanked by Rev. E. D. Mitchell.

Next week will be an interclub meeting with the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club, and the speaker will be Mr. Doug Amaron, of the Sherbrooke Record. This will be held at the Canadian Legion Hall on Tuesday evening at 6:30 and a very good attendance is expected to be on hand for this meeting.

The Manior Drummond. The professional Association of Hotelkeepers at each yearly meeting elects one director for each County in the Province, these are elected and selected by each County, and each director is called to elect the officials of the executive board. According to Mr. Gerard Delage, administrator of the Association, this year's convention will be of the most importance as the members will study the unification of all hotelkeeper groups in the Province, who thereafter would represent all hotel owners of Quebec.

In order to meet the citizens of Drummondville continued demand for telephone service, additional equipment to serve 200 new telephones recently went into service according to a report by Mr. A. Whelan, resident manager of the Bell Telephone Co., here. A total of 1,300 telephones have been installed since 1945, an increase of more than 75 per cent and by late autumn this year an additional (800) subscribers will have been added. At the present there are now 3,750 telephones in operation in Drummondville. This is another step in the vast expansion and improvement program undertaken by The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, throughout Quebec and Ontario.

At the Faith Baptist Church, 1153 Mercure Boulevard, both services were conducted by the Rev. W. J. Wellington, a guest preacher, who, with his wife have spent a half year in Abitibi, Northern Quebec. During that time he saw the good hand of God manifested in the establishing of two bilingual churches in Val d'Or and Malartic and another entirely French-speaking church at La Sarre, a town of some 3,000 population. Mrs. Wellington, who accompanied her husband spoke to the girls and boys in the Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. The visitors were welcomed by the resident preacher, Rev. T. D. M. Carson.

The 47th Anniversary Of North Hatley Baptist Church Was Observed On May 29 And 30 By Special Services

North Hatley, June 21. — Two services of special interest marked the forty-seventh anniversary of the North Hatley Baptist Church.

On the evening of Sunday, May 29, a capacity congregation, of friends gathered from Sherbrooke, Minton, and North Hatley, heard the guest speaker, Dr. Ivar Johnson, of the Coaticook Baptist Church, give an inspiring talk on the subject of the depths to which Jesus Christ descended to become the Saviour of mankind.

The choir, with Mrs. Gardness Rublee at the organ, sang "I know that My Redeemer Liveth," and Rev. O. L. Davidson also sang a beautiful sacred song, "When Jesus Comes," by Rodhever.

Beautifully arranged groups of lilacs, wild cherry blossoms and honey suckle had been placed in the church, and also many flowering plants.

On Monday evening at six thirty, the Ladies' Circle, under the co-sponsorship of Miss Hazel Cinnamon, served a salad supper at the Community Hall, at which the congregation and a large number of friends from the community, were present.

Following the supper hour, a sing-song of old time favorite songs was enjoyed. Mrs. Robert Vaughan sang the beautiful sacred song, "The Lord's Prayer," and "Bless This House."

Greetings were brought from the North Hatley University Church and St. Barnabas' Anglican Church, by their pastors, Rev. Vernon Young and Rev. Mark Beaufoy.

Mr. J. E. Shortt, of the Sherbrooke Y.M.C.A., spoke briefly regarding the special occasion, after which Dr. Johnson gave a short informal talk, basing his remarks upon the tenth verse, of the sixth chapter of "The Songs of Solomon."

Mr. Shortt then entertained all with two highly amusing readings. At the request of several friends, Rev. Mr. Davidson sang the loved old hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross," and a pleasant evening was closed with the Benediction.

Mrs. V. Bell And Mrs. G. French Gave East Clifton's Women's Institute A Fine Demonstration On Rug-Making

East Clifton, June 21. — The salads. A rug demonstration was given by the Women's Institute held its monthly meeting with Mrs. James Parkinson on one afternoon with eleven members and several visitors present.

The president, Mrs. Ray Waldron, presided over the meeting, which was opened by singing the opening "Ode" and repeating the "Mary Ste-wart Collect." The motto was "It is better to light a candle than to live in darkness." Roll call was answered by starting "ideas for sible to reply regarding a donation for the Compton County Agricultural Society. It has been the custom in years past to donate $1 as a Special prize. The offer was made good with an additional prize of $1 in the Junior class, to be used at the discretion of the ladies committee.

The president announced that a nice collection of books, which had been donated by the Scotstown Library, which they had discarded had been presented to her through the kindness of Mrs. Roy Waldron, and anyone caring to read them would be able to get them from her. The members of the W. I. are very grateful for such a donation.

Mrs. James Towers, convener of the Ways and Means committee, reported on behalf of the Agricultural committee that they had supervised three card parties in the School House and the net proceeds were $16.80, which will go for prizes for the School Fair and to defray any other expenses, which may be incurred.

Mrs. Victor Bell, Mrs. Ben Waldron and Mrs. Ronald Luce kindly offered to act as the committee for the card party, held in the School House on June 17. The proceeds, which go to the general fund.

Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, Mrs. Irwin McBurney and Mrs. Gordon French were appointed to act as a committee to raise funds to defray the coming expenses of donations to the Dental Clinic and the picnic treat on July 1st, and the numerous demands which are being made.

The president announced that the picnic on July 1, which is held as usual by the Women's Institute and the Sunday School jointly, will be in charge of the conveners of National and International Relations, Mrs. Guy Waldron and Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, assisted by Mrs. Ronald Luce. The W. I. members are donating small prizes as usual for races and jumping contests, etc.

The delegate, Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, who attended the annual W. I. convention at East Angus, gave an excellent report of the proceedings there, which was greatly appreciated and enjoyed by those unable to attend. Mrs. Waldron was heartily thanked for such an informative report.

The meeting was then placed in charge of the conveners of Home Economics, Mrs. Victor Bell and Mrs. Gordon French, who took as their topic, Rug making and demonstrated this craft by original work. Mrs. Gordon French brought some rugs already completed mentioning how much these heirlooms were being appreciated by the younger generation, who considered them a work of art. Mrs. Victor Bell gave an interesting talk on Drawn Rugs bringing one in a frame so everyone could see how the pattern could be worked in. Both conveners gave different patterns for hooked rugs, ragrugs, wovenrugs, braided rugs and crocheted rugs.

Lady Tweedsmuir has donated two silver cups for Heirloom Rugs and their history.

The members and visitors enjoyed a pleasant and instructive afternoon showing that nice and useful things could be made from things of little value. Heartly thanks were accorded the conveners.

A busy meeting was brought to a close by the hostess serving supper. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. James Bellam and Miss Violet Parkinson.

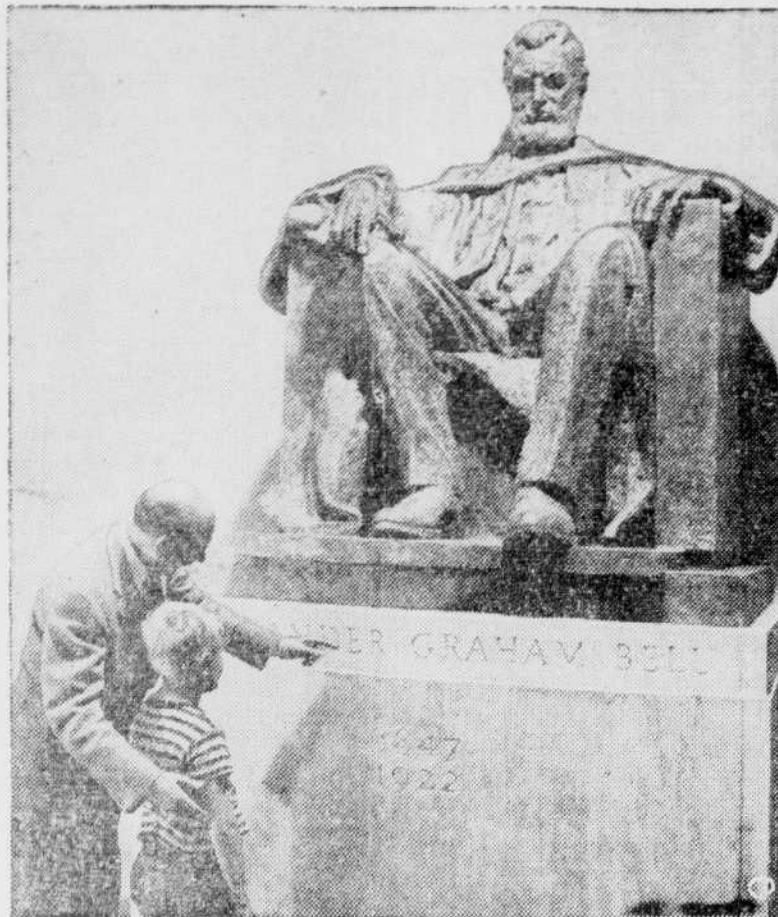

A CARD PARTY

A card party was held in the School House one evening, "500" was played at seven tables.

Mrs. Everett Blair and Mr. James Bellam won the prizes for the highest scores, while Mrs. Frank McConnell and Mr. Ronald Luce won the consolation prizes. Refreshments were served by the ladies. The proceeds were very gratifying.

Among those from out of town who attended the card party were Mrs. Arthur Campbell, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luce and sons, Douglas, Donald, Albert and Wendell, of Moe's River; Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, Mr. W. E. Bellam and daughter, Mary, and Mr. Oscar Hurley, of Sawyerville; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell, and sons, Malcolm and Willis, of High Forest.

Inventor Honored

This memorial statue of Alexander Graham Bell was unveiled Saturday at Brantford, Ont., hometown of the inventor of the telephone who died 25 years ago. The eight-foot statue in green bronze is the work of Cleve Horna, noted Canadian sculptor. EAST ANGUS

The Ladies' Guild of Christ Church entertained the members of the Senior Choir, the organist, Rev. and Mrs. Robins and the officers of the Church at a dinner party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Westgate. Brief addresses were given at the close of the dinner. Mrs. Westgate, the president, of the Guild welcomed the guests and compared the work of the Guild with that of the choir. "The Guild," she said, has its social functions and interesting events, whereas the choir, had to give up a lot of time during each week apart from Sundays. Some of its members have been active for over forty years. She thanked the organist for taking over very unexpectedly and Rev. and Mrs. Robins for all the extra work they had done in connection with the remodeling of the church and the officers for making the church so beautiful.

Mr. G. Rowley on behalf of the choir thanked the ladies of the Guild for their gesture in entertaining them. Mr. R. Bailey on behalf of the church officers credited the two Guilds for their continuing support and Rev. Mr. Robins thanked the choir, the organist his officers and Guides for their excellent work. KNOWLTON

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church took place at the home of Mrs. R. B. Call on Wednesday evening, June 8, with sixteen members and one visitor present. Mrs. Le Roy Bullard was in the chair and the opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. E. H. Gray, who read a Scripture lesson and offered prayer, which was followed by the "Lord's Prayer" repeated in unison. In her prayer, Mrs. Gray paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. L. M. Knowlton, expressing the hope that the influence of her fine Christian life would live on among the members of the W.A. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Elton Bockus, and approved. Mrs. Gray reported that 140 pounds of clothing had been shipped to Europe by the Women's Association. The treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Parkes gave her report, which showed $31.45 as the amount realized from the food sale, and $13 from the sale of furniture. The W. A. was asked to take charge of a social evening at the church, on Monday evening for Miss Drake. Several ladies offered their services for this evening. A MAN with ideas often needs more than his own brains and hands to prosper from his enterprise. Often he needs money...

Such a man is the "primary producer"—the farmer, fisherman, pulpwood contractor, miner.

When he needs a bank loan to help him put his ideas to work, he is free to shop around among Canada's ten chartered banks for the best deal he can get.

That's why primary producers—like most people—intend to keep banking competitive.

It means a better deal, freedom from red tape, loans made on merit, not on politics... and it means respect for privacy in money matters.

supervision of schools, gave an outline of the dental clinic to be held in Bury, in June, and which will be attended by pupils of the Scotstown High School. Fifteen dollars was voted towards this project. A report from the group committee of Scouts and Cubs showed that the difficulties encountered in obtaining leaders have been overcome, and that both Groups hold meetings regularly. A School Fair committee was set up, with Mrs. W. K. Gordon as convenor. Following adjournment, two interesting educational films were shown, and refreshments were served by the executive.

The June meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Association, with a large attendance, was held at the home of Mrs. Charles MacKee, with Mrs. Roy Waldron for the joint-hostess. The president, Mrs. W. K. Gordon was in the chair and the devotions were in charge of Mrs. William Taylor. The topic, "How can the church promote home religion?" was based on Matthew VI, and the reading was followed by comments and prayer. The treasurer, Mrs. C. M. Smith, submitted a gratifying financial report, which included a satisfying amount realized from the play, "Aunt Tilly Goes To Sea," presented by the East Angus players. In response to an appeal from the School Dental Clinic, to be held in Bury, it was agreed that the sum of five dollars be donated to this project. In response to a request that the organization sponsor one campaign, during the year, it was decided that when a campaign is announced for "cancer research fund," that canvassing for this project be assumed by the organization. It was decided that cupboards for dishes, etc., be built in a small room in the church hall, the committee for same to be named by Mrs. Gordon. Several donations were on display, and an announcement was made that a quilt had been completed, the top of which had been donated by Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, a former member. It was also reported that a quilt was ready for quilting. Thanks were extended by Mrs. Pollitt, for the re-decoration in the "Manse," and the secretary was instructed to send a letter of thanks to Mr. Thomas Riglar, who kindly replaced the glass in the Honor Roll. Mrs. F. B. Mayhew kindly volunteered to supply the church with flowers, during the month of June. A cordial welcome was extended to Mrs. A. G. Sherman, of South Freeport, Me., a former active member, and to her daughter, Mrs. T. G. MacAulay, of Quebec. A greeting, signed by all present, was sent to Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, who is a patient in La Providence Hospital, in Magog. It was announced that no meetings would be held until September, and the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Mrs. F. B. Mayhew assisted the hostesses at the tea hour.

An open meeting of St. Alban's Women's Auxiliary was held in the church, and all the ladies of the congregation were invited to attend. Mrs. E. C. Ward conducted the devotions, consisting of the W. A. Litany, prayers, and Scripture lesson. With Mrs. J. A. Penoyer, organist, the hymn sung was "The Love of Christ Constrains." The guest speaker, Rev. J. S. Wetmore, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, field secretary of the Eastern Division of the General Board of Religious Education of the Anglican service, all adjourned to the church hall, where Mrs. Penoyer spoke briefly on the work of the Women's Auxiliary. The recital of the "Member's Prayer" closed the meeting, which was followed by a social hour, and the serving of refreshments. Previous to the meeting, Mr. Wetmore met with the superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. N. D. Maher, and the other teachers, giving them much helpful information concerning Sunday School work. During his stay in town, Mr. Wetmore was a guest of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Ward, at St. Alban's Parsonage.

A well attended meeting of the Presbyterian Circle was held in the Church Hall and was conducted by the president, Mrs. F. C. Goodin. The devotions were in charge of Mrs. Harvey MacKee, who read the Scripture lesson from John X, followed by the "Lord's Prayer." Plans were formulated for a supper, to be held in the Church Hall and it was agreed that five dollars be donated to the School Dental Clinic, to be held in Bury. It was decided that necessary repairs would be done on the Manse, and that the church would be cleaned. The Mizpah Benediction closed the meeting.

With Miss Clara Hanright as assisting hostess, Mrs. E. S. McManis entertained a meeting of St. Alban's Guild, at her home on Coleman Street. The president, Mrs. Roy Desruisseaux, directed the meeting and it was reported that the proceeds from the play "Aunt Tilly Goes To Town," were very gratifying. It was decided that a cement walk to the church entrance should be replaced, and that the Church Hall be cleaned. Announcement was made that the next meeting would be held with Mrs. Desruisseaux the last week in June. Later, the hostesses served tea, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Atkin.

A meeting of "Old Home Week" committees was held at the home of the chairman, Mr. P. A. Sherman, and featured reports on the formulations of plans, relevant to the entertainment and billeting, etc. It was suggested that the use of the High School be obtained as a social centre, and for the serving of meals, and the committee authorized to approach the local school board with a view to arrange for the same. Mr. F. C. Goodin and Mr. Alex M. MacDonald were appointed as members of the Ways and Means committee, and the program committee was authorized to add to their number, Mr. Robert Smith and Mr. W. W. Bowman were empowered to secure suitable picnic grounds. Before dispersal, Mrs. Sherman served tea, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Campbell.

The Young People's Society with their leader, Mr. Robert Smith, enjoyed an outing in the form of a "weiner roast." The evening pleasantly spent in social activities, ending in a "treasure" hunt, was climaxed with the "weiners." Mrs. K. R. MacLeod and her sister, Mrs. W. S. MacCaskill, of Keith, have returned from Montreal, where they attended the graduation of the former's daughter, Miss Dorothy MacLeod, who has completed a three-year course in the Montreal General Hospital. Miss Eleanor MacLeod, of Queen's Village, Long Island, N. Y., was also present at the graduation of her sister and with her mother and aunt, Mrs. MacLeod, and Mrs. MacCaskill, spent the week-end with the latter's daughter, Miss Helen MacCaskill.

Miss Ethel MacIver and Mr. Peter Comske, of Springfield, Mass., spent a week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. D. G. MacIver. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Comske, who had spent a two-weeks' vacation with her mother, Mrs. MacIver.

Visitors of Mrs. A. P. MacLeod included Mrs. Louisa Longmore, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Welch, of Virden, Man., Miss M. MacLeod, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Rev. E. C. Ward and his guest, Rev. J. S. Wetmore, attended the clergyman's Deaneary meeting held in East Angus. Lt.-Col. and Mrs. E. S. McManis spent a week-end with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. F. Noble, and Mr. Noble, in Richmond. Miss Lois MacKenzie has returned home from Montreal, where she attended the Convocation at McGill University, and spent the week-end with Miss Helen Dunlop, in Verdun. Lt.-Col. Thomas S. G. MacAulay and his son, Dr. Malcolm C. S. MacAulay, of Quebec, spent the week-end with Mrs. MacAulay, at the home of the latter's brother, Mr. P. A. Sherman. Miss Katherine Watson, who spent a holiday with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John I. MacKenzie, of Orleans Street, has returned to her home in Inverness.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

GIVE SIRENS THE RIGHT-OF-WAY

As soon as you hear the warning siren of a fire truck, police car or ambulance, pull over to the curb if you're driving—stay on the sidewalk if you're walking. Your quick action, multiplied by that of your fellow citizens along the route may help save a human life, prevent property damage, or capture a criminal. To aid in this way, may seem a little thing—but it's one of the "little things" that make up "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

EZZARD CHARLES FAVORED TO COP JOE LOUIS' TITLE

Sherbrooke - Farnham Tilt Postponed Until Tomorrow Evening At 8.30

The scheduled game this evening between Farnham and Sherbrooke Athletics has been postponed until tomorrow evening, announced Ivan Dugre, secretary of the club, this morning at a late hour.

The main reason given was the condition of the grounds, even if the weather had cleared, it would have been impossible to play as the water would not have sufficient time to drain away.

The postponement will help the local squad, weakened by the loss of Fred Martin and Harry Feldman, who have left town to join the ranks of organized ball. Martin with St. Louis and Feldman in the Pacific Coast League.

Manager Gladu was in contact yesterday with several players and should have a few in town this week-end.

Gerald Staley Earns "Giant-Killer" Label After Pitching Cards To Within Half-Game Of N. L. Leadership

"Staley, The Giant Killer"—that's what St. Louis fans are calling Gerald Lee Staley, 25-year old, broad-shouldered right-hander of St. Louis Cardinals.

Primarily a bull-pen operative last year and at the start of the current season, Staley has been going great guns since given a start-er's role May 28, The Brush Prairie, Wash., native has found his side-arm sinker ball and sweeping curve especially puzzling to the New York Giants.

Staley pitched the Cards to within a half-game of the National League's leading Brooklyn Dodgers last night, beating the Giants, 7-2, before 18,160 fans in St. Louis. The Dodgers were idle.

The triumph was Staley's fifth of the season and his third over the once-powerful Giants who occupy fifth place.

Staley began the game boasting a streak of 13½ consecutive scoreless innings over the Polo Grounds. He ran the skin to 18½ before the Giants solved his offerings for two runs in the sixth inning. But the Cardinals already had the game in the bag.

The cards nicked Monte Kennedy for a run in the first and drove the young lefty to cover with four more in the third. Doubles by Red Schoendienst and Nippy Jones plus Enos Slaughter's triple featured the uprising. Schoendienst collected his average to .357, a point back of Brooklyn Jackie Robinson's league-leading .358.

Boston's third-place Braves crawled to within two games of the Dodgers, edging the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, in the majors' only day game. Elbie Fletcher singled home Ed Stanky from second base in the ninth inning with the winning run.

The fourth place Philadelphia Phillies, behind the seven-hit pitching of Russ Meyer, turned back the Pirates, 7-1, in Pittsburgh before 30,066 customers.

Meyer also took a hand in the Phils' 15-hit attack, socking two singles and driving home a pair of runs.

The New York Yankees grabbed to tighter hold on the American League lead, increasing their advantage to four games over the runner-up Detroit Tigers. The Yankees beat the St. Louis Browns, 4-1, in the Stadium while the Tigers lost, 6-1, to the Red Sox in Boston.

Fred Sanford, pried from the Browns for $100,000 in the fall, limited his former mates to seven hits. Jack Phillips socked his first homer of the season with two on in the sixth inning, off Bill Kennedy, to provide the New Yorkers with their margin of victory.

Wait Masterson, recently obtained from Washington, and Joe Dobson halted the Tigers on six blows, while the Sox collected 14 off a trio of Detroit pitchers.

The third place Philadelphia Athletics inched to within a half-game of Detroit, beating the world champion Cleveland Indians, 4-1, before 19,561 rooters in the Quaker City.

Dick Fowler, who came to the majors from Toronto, granted the Indians only four hits in posting

Rocky Graziano Returns To Fistic Wars Tonight

Wilmington, Del., June 21.—(AP)—Rocky Graziano returns to the fistic wars tonight after an absence of a year. His sights are set on a shot at the middleweight crown he once held.

The one-time boss of the 160-pounders takes on Buffalo's Bobby Clark at Wilmington ball park. The bout is slated for 10 rounds.

It will be Graziano's first competitive appearance in the ring since Tony Zale took back the middleweight title June 10, 1948. Rocky had won the title a year before from Zale.

The New York State boxing fathers suspended him Feb. 7, 1948, for failure to report two $100,000 bribe offers he thought were "jokes." He was reinstated last May 6.

The N.B.A. suspended him Nov. 26, 1948, for running out on a fight with Fred Apostoli in Oakland, Calif. That suspension was lifted May 29.

Grand Circuit Feature Goes To Young Bill

Westbury, N. Y., June 21.—(AP)—Young Bill, a 2-0-1 favorite, captured the featured New Mexico trot event at Roosevelt Raceway as the Grand Circuit meeting was ushered in last night before a crowd of 14,363.

The winner, far back early, rallied in time to nose out Victory Melwyn in 2:08 for the mile. Hollywood Count was third.

his fifth straight triumph and sixth of the season. The Indians scored in the first on three walks and Hank Majeski's error after the first batter had been retired. Fowler then got out of the jam by inducing Lou Boudreau to hit into a double play.

The A's went ahead for keeps in the second against Mike Garcia, scoring twice on Elmer Valo's inside the park homer and singles by Mike Guerra, Coleman and Dale Mitchell's misfire.

Chicago ended a five game losing streak as lefty Bob Kuzava pitched the White Sox to a 5-4 triumph over the Senators in Washington.

Money Rolls In That Jersey Joe Will Take Crown But Experts Pick Younger Opponent To Come Through

Chicago, June 21.—(AP)—For the first time since Joe Louis cornered the heavyweight boxing market 12 years ago and whipped all comers, an even contest for the title has shaped up in the Ezzard Charles-Jersey Joe Walcott scrap tomorrow.

Although the bout has been dubbed the "slim pickin'" heavyweight championship, it sincerely presents two fired-up contestants who are not afraid of each other and appear evenly matched.

Louis, before he retired and tossed up his crown for the Charles-Walcott winner, was always an overwhelming favorite who usually came through on schedule in cut-and-dried fashion.

Walcott, the 35-year-old family man from Camden, N.J., and 27-year-old Charles, unmarried Cincinnati slugger who has lost only four times in eight years, are expected to enter the rings at odds of about 6-5, take your pick.

A definite swing to Walcott has been reported with the present odds dropping from 7-5 to 13-10 for Ezzie, indicating Jersey Joe's late support probably will send the two Negro heavies together at even money.

Arthur Wirtz, co-partner with Joe Louis and Jim Norris in the International Boxing Club, which is promoting the bout, says the advance sale is "between $250,000 and $300,000." This indicates that some 25,000 to 30,000 patrons will see the show at Comiskey Park, home of the White Sox, where Louis defeated James J. Braddock for the crown exactly 12 years ago to the day.

Accommodations have been made for a crowd of 45,000 with gate receipts of $450,000, about the same take when Louis met Braddock.

The scrap has the blessing of the National Boxing Association but is being snubbed as a title affair by New York State and the British Isles.

Charles' youth is being upheld by his backers as his most decisive edge. Those who favor Walcott like his weight advantage of 135 pounds to Ezzie's 180.

Diligent, Determined British Amateurs May Surprise In Walker Cup Play, Says Willie Turnesa

New York—(NEA)—American golf may be surprised by the British Walker Cup team which meets the United States side at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N. Y., in mid-August.

You have this on the authority of Willie Turnesa, just returned from England, via Italy.

For years the American attitude toward Britons has been one of smugness, touched with a feeling that our golfing cousins just don't have it when it comes to international matches.

But Turnesa says something new has been added to the postwar crop.

"If Winged Foot is fast, and the rough is dried out, the American team may be taken unawares," he advises.

"All of them hit the ball a ton, and length comes a lot there. British better here."

"It may help the British players to be over her instead of at home," continues the youngest of the seven Turnesas and reigning U. S. Amateur champion.

"I think the galleries over there are so partisan they put too much pressure on their players. They get to feel as though they would rather beat one American than three British players. You can't get excited and play good golf."

"Another thing they have learned over there is to practice. After the 1947 Walker Cup matches, we told the British players that they didn't practice enough. Now that is all they do."

"Our tip may turn against us." Turnesa thinks Ronnie White is probably the best golfer in the Isles, and that Arthur Parrone, 22-year-old star, is the most promising.

Joe Carr, Irish star who beat Ted Bishop in the 47 Cup play, has improved a lot, and veteran Cecil Ewing still has a wonderful game, capable of testing anyone.

Macready Underrated.
"Don Macready is a lot better golfer than he has been given credit," says Turnesa. "He has a nice swing, is a powerful hitter and has an excellent short game. They tell me that he is an in-and-out, which may be true."

"Actually, he cracked against me in the closing holes, but I cracked right along with him."

Two others on Willie's approved list are Ray Milward, a youngster from the south of England who has a fine game that should improve, and Jerry Micklen, perhaps the nearest swinger of them all. Micklen is something of an enigma, however, in that he plays practice rounds in practically nothing but loose clothes, but in the competition becomes official.

Of Irish Jim Bruen, longest hitter over there with the shortest backswing in big-league amateur play, Willie doesn't dare to venture.

"Jim has an unorthodox swing but gets great results. I heard discussions at Portmarnock that the reason he didn't play in the championship was because he was afraid he would lose," says Turnesa. "Others vowed that his stomachache was authentic."

"The Portmarnock course, first Irish site of the British Amateur, is a hard test, but really narrow. If the professionals who played in the U. S. Open thought Medinah was narrow, they should see Portmarnock."

"Not only that, but the course is hard and dry."

"The wind never stops blowing. 'If you hit a ball in the fairway in this country, it will stop in the fairway. But there are so many bounds and bumps at Portmarnock that you never could tell where the ball would end up. It was just as apt to scoot off into non-playable rough at right angles as to bound straight ahead."

Turnesa has settled down to the business of selling fire extinguishers for a couple of months prior to the Cup matches and the defense of his title at the Oak Hill Country Club, Pittsford, N. Y., Aug. 29-Sept. 3.

Meanwhile Willie is awaiting, almost as anxiously as Mrs. Turnesa, the near advent of a third offspring.

Montreal Tennis Stars Dominate Ont. Games

Toronto, June 21.—(AP)—Montrealers are dominating the senior events at the Toronto tennis championships here.

Play began yesterday and top-seeded Montrealers Henri Rochon, J. J. Desjardins and George Robinson, together with Toronto's Dave Dymont, weathered the first rounds successfully and see action in the second and third rounds today.

Rochon and Robinson remain top favorites to take the doubles event, with Beau Summers and Mel Jones of Toronto well back in second slot.

In women's play, Pat Macken, of the Montreal Tennis Mackens and Elaine Flett, also of Montreal, were prominent in both singles and doubles matches, advancing on yesterday's play.

Pete Stewart of Toronto is rated as the dark horse in the junior men's division after yesterday's spectacular play. He still is eligible in both junior and senior men's events.

Top-seeded junior Jim Bentley, 17, dropped from senior play in the first round on the short-end of a 6-0, 6-1 score. His opponent, however, was the starry Henri Rochon, and Bentley is still favored to take the junior crown.

Bisons Still Leading Thrilling I.L. Race

The thrilling International League pennant squabble finds Buffalo Bisons leading the field by one game today and the fourth-place Toronto Maple Leafs only 2½ games away.

Jersey City's Giants moved to within a game of Buffalo last night by beating the Bisons, 8-4. The Giants snapped a 3-3 tie and won the game with a three-run rally in the seventh inning. Monte Irvin featured the rally with a two-run single.

Pete Pavlek, Fred Gerken and Ray Noble paced the Giants' 11-hit attack with a pair of safeties apiece. One of Noble's blows was his first homer of the season.

Montreal Royals, second-place occupants when the day began, tumbled to third place, a game and a half behind Buffalo, by dropping a 5-3 decision to the sixth-place Syracuse Chiefs.

Ken Burkhardt went all the way for the Chiefs and granted 10 hits. His mates made four errors. But the former major leaguer was tight in the clutch. The Chiefs collected nine hits off Clarence Podbielniak and Jean Roy, including Carden Gillenwaters' 11th homer of the season.

The seventh-place Baltimore Orioles upset Maple Leafs, 5-3. Frank Mancuso was the chief spoiler with two homers, his ninth and 10th of the season. Lefty Irv Medlinger was reached for 10 hits but he fanned eight and went all the way to post his second victory for Orioles.

Rochester's fifth-place Red Wings trounced the last-place Newark Bears, 10-2. Right-hander Clyde Bower held the Bears to four hits to post his sixth straight victory. Bower lost his shutout in the fourth when Lew Riggs homered.

The Wings pounded Wally Hood and two relief pitchers for nine hits, including three singles by husky Steve Bilko.

Cleveland's Dick Wagner, 10-1-2, Portland, Ore., knocked out Artie Levine, 170, Brooklyn, (8).
