Strong Influences at Work to Quell the Popular Excitement in Tokio and the Crisis is Thought to Have Passed

Mob Again Attempts to Fire the House of Minister Katsura—Menacing Crowds Collect in Vicinity of the Police Stations.

Tokio, September 8.—(Delayed in transmission.)—Excitement is everywhere manifested. Snowfall brought a verification of the prediction of renewed trouble. The streets in the centre of the city began filling at dark. The first disturbance occurred in the vicinity of the residence of Minister of Home Affairs Katsura. A mob again attempted to fire the structure, but were restrained by the guards. Considerable roughness and fighting followed. Menacing crowds gathered in the neighborhood of the Metropolitan police headquarters. They refrained from attacking on account of the presence of a strong police reserve.

The passage of street cars through the crowded streets angered the people and they began attacking and destroying cars. They drove off the crews and passengers and set fire to the cars. Ten large cars were speedily destroyed. Later an outbreak occurred in the Kanda district of the city, where a fire was started.

Because of popular enmity, largely directed toward the police street patrols have been withdrawn and the police have been centred at the dangerpoints. The withdrawal of the patrols has left the streets unguarded and has given license to much minor disorder.

Up to midnight the number of arrests totals 500. They are on charges generally of rioting and inciting riot. The barristers association has resolved to defend all arrested free of charge.

The number of persons known to have been killed thus far is six.

INFLUENCES AT WORK.

Strong influences are working toward calming popular excitement, and looking the matter. The opinion is expressed [illegible] that the worst [illegible] has passed and that conditions will speedily improve.

Gen. Sakuma, [illegible] charge of the capital, [illegible] under the authority of the [illegible] ordinance, has in his proclamation created a good impression [illegible] conciliatory tone in which it is expressed and its notice of firm [illegible] that the soldiery will resort to extreme measures if forced to [illegible]. It has refrained from making [illegible] display of military force in the city, having only detailed guards to preserve order, holding the main [illegible] of reserves at the barracks.

MASS MEETING CANCELLED.

The municipality has also greatly relieved the situation by cancelling a mass-meeting [illegible] at Hibiya Park, which is the [illegible] ground for all elements of disorder. Political leaders are counselling the people to remain quiet and acquiesce in [illegible] with the government, urging the speedy calling of a special session of the Diet. Many believe that the people of the suppression for the special session of the Diet will fully restore tranquility among the public.

The report that trouble has spread at Chiba, forty miles distant from Tokio, has been partly confirmed. It seems certain that the police station was destroyed by the destruction of the prefectural office and court house is not confirmed.

The character of the crowds has changed materially of late. Earlier in the trouble thousands of responsible citizens joined in the rioting, but they now the crowd is largely formed of the disreputable classes, students and young roughs.

The city has been quiet in Tokio and no trouble is expected to-night. A heavy rain began to fall at dusk, which drove the majority off the streets and indoors.

PRISON COLLAPSES MANY ARE INJURED.

It is Feared Over a Hundred Persons Buried in the Ruins of Stefaconi.

The towns of Pizzo, Monteleone di Calabria and Martirano were almost entirely destroyed. At Monteleone di Calabria seven persons were killed outright, and many were injured by the collapse of the prison there. The Pizzo district is said to be almost entirely destroyed.

All the houses at Stefaconi have been wrecked by the earthquake. It is feared that a hundred people are buried in the ruins.

The villages of Pisciopo and Triparni have been destroyed.

Grave news continues to arrive from Pizzo, Monteleone di Calabria and Martirano. There are numerous victims. It was hoped that the district of Nicastro had escaped but that also has been seriously affected.

At Martirano all the buildings have collapsed, including the barracks of the gendarmes. Six wounded men have thus far been taken from the ruins. There are other victims.

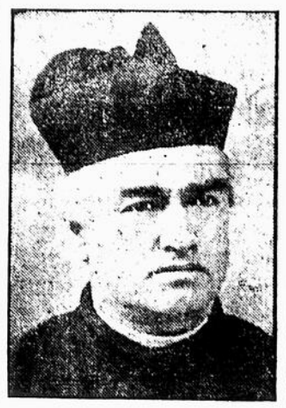
RETURN OF CANADIAN SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITION TO LABRADOR



REV. I. J. KAVANAGH, S.J., Professor of Science at Loyola College, who was one of the Canadian eclipse observation party to Labrador. — Photo by P. J. Gordon.

Rev. Father Kavanagh Tells of the Experiences of the Party—Saw Many Interesting Things, But Not the Eclipse of the Sun.

Rev. I. J. Kavanagh, S.J., Professor of Science at Loyola College, has returned from Labrador, where he was a member of the party sent by the Canadian Government to study the eclipse of the sun. The King Edward, which was the vessel used by the party, reached Quebec yesterday morning, and Father Kavanagh immediately took train for Montreal.

When interviewed to-day he spoke at some length and very interestingly of the life and work at the camp. He was of the first party sent, and is, therefore, familiar with the whole course of events there.

"You want to get the story of the trip. Well, to begin at the beginning, we left Quebec on the King Edward, the boat which runs to Natasnkwan, on the Labrador coast. From that point on we had to charter the vessel for the party. Our route led us to Hamilton's Inlet and into Lake Melville. Between this lake and Lake Grand lies the North-West River, which is nothing more than a narrowing of the lake. It was on the bank of this stream that we pitched camp near Rigolet, the principal post of the Hudson Bay Company in those regions.

POST FULL OF MEASLES.

"Rigolet is also rather well known of late as the post from which the ill-fated Leonard Hubbard left on his disastrous journey into the wilderness. The factor at Rigolet is Mr. H. M Cotter, and no praise would be worthy of his unfailing courtesy and kindness to the members of the party. When we got there every bit of yellow in the place was in service as a danger flag to give warning of an epidemic of measles, which had attacked the inhabitants of the post and had laid even the factor on his back. It was rather inconvenient for us at first, as we could hold communication with so few people, not being able to get even our washing done for fear of spreading the infection.

"Just across the river from Rigolet is a post of the rival Revillon Company. Competition is very keen, and has resulted very well for the trappers, who are getting much higher prices for their furs. There are two kinds of Indians about the place, the Esquimaux, who live about there the year round, and the Montagnais, who come only to dispose of their furs, and who trap and hunt back in the wilderness.

ESQUIMAUX A FINE SORT.

"The Esquimaux are a very fine sort of Indians, inteligent and good-natured. They nearly all speak some English. I never saw anything so fine as the furs which are brought in to the post, splendid mink, bear, otter, sable and now and then a silver-fox, one of the rarest and most beautiful of furs, a fine skin being probably worth $2,000 in London. Rigolet, by the way, is the first post at which Lord Strathcona worked for the Hudson Bay Company. He married the daughter of one of the factors there, and she is the present Lady Strathcona. Some of the buildings put up during his time at the post are still standing.

POWERFUL ANIMALS.

"But when describing the post and camp I must not forget the dogs, as they are probably the most in evidence of anything about the place. It is not so much for their numbers as for their quality. There were only about ten or a dozen of them, but you could never forget their existence. In the first place they are not like the huskies of the North-West, but are a much larger and heavier dog in every respect. To give you some idea of their strength, four of them will draw two men and 300 pounds of equipment on a long journey. When we were setting up camp, Mr. Cotter harnessed six of them to a heavy waggon to draw lumber, and the great difficulty was to prevent them from running away with the load.

"They are very strong, but their strength is even exceeded by their ferocity. They are terribly savage brutes, and have been known to eat even their masters. When they are hungry it is very dangerous to trip or fall within reach of them, for they would be on you in an instant, and that would be the end of it.

"The only thing they are afraid of is this.

"Here Father Kavanagh picked up a long whip tightly rolled up, made of walrus hide, with a very short handle.

"This whip is about 25 feet long, and in experienced hands is a terrible weapon. It could almost cut a man in two. Some of the members of the party were curious enough to try to wield the whip, and one of them received two weals across the face which considerably damped his ardour in the practice.

"These dogs, by the way, cannot bark but they make up for it by the greatest proficiency in the art of howling. It was a most amusing thing at the camp, when we would be sitting around the camp-fire and a song would be started, to hear the dogs join in, not only on our side but also at the other post. It had a weird effect in those surroundings, which might be called even beautiful.

"The first thing we did after we pitched our tents was to make pedestals of cement and set up our sun eclipse observation instruments. Then they had to be adjusted and there were a thousand and one other things to keep us busy. The work to be done was allotted to each, and we had daily practices so as to be perfect in every movement when the eventful time arrived for we would have only a little over two minutes to do everything in.

A FORLORN HOPE.

"After we had been there about ten days we realized that we were only a forlorn hope. It rained at least twice every day. Still we went on with our arrangements, and when the moment came we were all at our posts. Though the clouds were too dense for any observations, they did not take much from the effect of the eclipse. It was terrible in its grandeur of appearance. We were all anxiously waiting, when the clock indicated that the eclipse was at hand, and suddenly a darkness fell over everything, as if a pall had been drawn over the earth. We could not see even across the narrow river. But the mountains, fifty miles away, were in all the brightness of the sunshine. I will never forget the beauty of the sight."

GREAT ANXIETY FELT AT WASHINGTON

Fears Expressed for the Safety of American Tourists in Japan.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Washington, D.C., September 8.—Unofficial advices from Japan have caused great anxiety at the State Department. At least they are officially termed, "unofficial advices," but they relate to the disturbances in that country which have followed the treaty of Portsmouth, and to the attitude which the Japanese people have taken in consequence toward United States tourists and others.

Apparently the common people of Japan hold the United States responsible for the terms of the treaty. There are now thousands of tourists in the island empire, and Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt are expected to tour some of the Japanese ports.

It is expected at the State Department that apologies will be made by the Government of Japan for the stone throwing at Mr. Harriman, but at the same time, even with apologies, the former state of good feeling between the two countries has now been impaired.

New York, September 8.—Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan yesterday received a cheque for $6,750,000 from Sir Cheutung Liang Cheng, Chinese Minister, who has come from Washington to conclude the sale of the Hankow Railway by the American China Development Company to the Chinese Government. The Chinese minister called at the office of Mr. Morgan and quickly brought the sale to a conclusion.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Engineer of Transcontinental Train Killed Near Dingley.

Winnipeg, September 8.—A head-on collision occurred on the Canadian Pacific Railway west of Dingley, 17 miles east of Regina, at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, the westbound Transcontinental running into a silk train. R. Emerson of Moosejaw, engineer of the Transcontinental, was killed instantly. Express Messenger J. A. Telford and a mail clerk, W. H. McKinnon, both of Winnipeg, sustained some cuts and bruises, but were able to remain on duty. None of the passengers sustained injuries. The mail, express car and one of the engines were seriously damaged. The accident appears to have been caused by the Transcontinental running by Dingley, where it had orders to meet the silk train. Engineer Emerson had been in the service 23 years.

JEROME COLLAPSES IN COURT ROOM

New York's District Attorney Threatened With Attack of Pneumonia.

New York, September 8.—District-Attorney Jerome is suffering from a severe attack of capillary bronchitis, which threatens to develop into pneumonia. His physician, Dr. George A. Foster, said that Mr. Jerome had consented to be removed to Lakeville today. Whether or not this illness will prevent him taking active part in the coming political campaign depends entirely upon the manner in which the District-Attorney obeys the physician's orders. He has not been well since his trip to Chautauqua, where he caught cold while delivering an address. The cold settled in the bronchial region, and a severe cough followed. Dr. Foster, who was summoned to Mr. Jerome's country place, at Lakeville, last week, advised the District-Attorney to remain there and rest a week longer. With his usual impetuosity, Mr. Jerome returned to the city and threw himself into his work at the Criminal Courts building, without regard for the doctor's advice. He collapsed in one of the court-rooms on Wednesday, and was taken home.

Robbed a Gas Meter.

At seven o'clock this morning a box from a gas meter was found on Jacques Cartier Square. It contained a card that showed that $1.25 had been put into it when it was attached to the meter. The box is supposed to have been taken from one of the stores around the square. Mr. Chartrand, who found the article in question, reported the matter to the detective office and the officers are on the lookout for the guilty person.

Arrested for Alleged Threats.

Napoleon Brunette, who is a coachman and comes from Beaconsfield, was before Judge Lafontaine this morning. He was arrested by Detective Charbonneau on a charge of threatening to kill Mr. Eugene Tarte and his family. He had been in the employ of Mr. Tarte and was dismissed, and on the occasion of his dismissal he made the above threat. The prisoner pleaded not guilty and was remanded for a week.

The Lake Manitoba.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Lake Manitoba passed Cape Magdalen at 8 a. m. to-day. She is due in Quebec at 9 a. m. to-morrow, and Montreal on Sunday.

MEETING: The officials of the Longshoremen's Union have sent out a notice to-day requesting a meeting of all the foremen employed on the wharves, whether union or non-union, for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the headquarters at 828 Notre Dame street east. The circular says that the meeting is important and that all foremen should be present.

THE TROUBLE AT THE ANNEX.

What the Salvation Army Commander Has to Say.

(See also page fourteen.)

Staff-Captain Moore, of the Salvation Army, when interviewed to-day, said that as last night she was of the opinion that adequate protection would be given the Army the services would certainly be continued. To-morrow night, however, on account of a petition from some of the merchants of the district, there will be no service so as not to injure the trade by drawing crowds. The captain gave great credit to the authorities for keeping order last night, not forgetting the part played by the friends of the Army who banded together for their defence.

Going to Visit Europe.

Mr. C. A. Vallee, Governor of the Montreal gaol, leaves by the Dominion line steamer Canada to-morrow for a three months' vacation in England, France, Belgium and Italy. He will be accompanied by Mr. A. O. Dostaler. Mr. Vallee has been for sixteen years in charg of the gaol, and this is the first vacation he has ever taken, so that he looks forward with keen appreciation to the voyage. While across the sea he will naturally strive to learn all he can of the management of prisons and penitentiaries in the different states which he will visit. He looks forward with peculiar interest to his visit to Rome, which he last saw after the entry of the troops of the King of Italy, against whom he fought, in company with the other Canadians, who served as Zouaves in the papal army.

He expects to meet once more General Charette, the French veteran who commanded the Zouaves during thos stirring days, who is still in command of the papal troops. He expects also to have the opportunity to meet His Holiness. In the absence of Mr. Vallee the deputy governor of the gaol and the accountant of the institution will divide his duties between them.

Found Dying in a Field.

What at first appeared to be the dead body of an unknown was found lying in a field near the corner of St. Hubert and Belanger streets. It was thought that it was another suicide and the police were notified. When examined it was found that the man was living, but unconscious. He was hurried in the ambulance to the Notre Dame Hospital, where he was identified by Dr. Hebert, house surgeon, as being a man named Lapiante. He is suffering from kidney disease and the doctors say he can only live a few hours.

Disposed Without Jury.

The case of Mrs. Alarie, 38 years of age, who was found lying dead in her kitchen with a broken gas pipe in her mouth, was disposed of to-day by Coroner McMahon without summoning a jury. After hearing the statements of those who were on the spot, the coroner was convinced that it was a clear case of suicide, while suffering from unsound mind.

He Was Guilty of Trifling.

Wilfrid Brouillette, who lives on Montcalm street, and is a shoemaker by trade, was sentenced this morning by Judge Lafontaine to three months in jail. He was charged with not supporting his family and paying attentions to other women by sending them presents. The judge accordingly gave him a stiff sentence.

A DAY WITH THE CORONER'S COURT

The Two Boys Who Were Burned to Death at St. Paul Boulevard.

Coroner McMahon held two inquests to-day.

The first was over the bodies of Calixte and Leopold Mailly, the two boys who were burned to death at St. Paul Boulevard yesterday.

Dr. C. A. Dugas, morgue physician, gave expert medical testimony. Francois Mailly, father of the dead children, said that Calixte was 7 years of age, and that Leopold was 4 years old. He had $700 insurance on the house and furniture. The company interested in the property also had an insurance of $350. When he left the house at 6.30 a.m., to go to his work, all the inmates were up except Calixte.

Constable Emele Robillard, of St. Paul Boulevard, swore that as soon as he saw smoke issuing from the upper windows of the dwelling he gave the alarm and hurried to the spot. He tried to enter a bedroom, where the fire was burning fiercely, but failed. Upon his arrival he found Mrs. Mailly on the street crying: "My children, save my poor children."

Narcisse Dupont, who was also one of the first arrivals, corroborated the evidence of the last witness, and stated that Mrs. Mailly told him that the children must have been playing with matches and accidentally set fire to the premises.

The jury, after hearing all the evidence, returned a verdict "that Leopold and Calixte Mailly were burned to death in an accidental fire, at St. Paul Boulevard on September 7, 1904, and that there was no crime."

In the case of Theophile Chabot, the identification was established by Mrs. Chabot, of Cartierville, who informed the coroner that she did not think her husband had been murdered. She said he left home with $5.25 in his pocket on August 28th, slightly under the influence of liquor. He was a good man when sober, but a bad man when under the influence of liquor. He was generally robbed of his money every time he visited the city.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased was found drowned, and that no crime was suspected.

MORTON WILL TRY TO BREAK RECORD WEEK FROM TO-MORROW

MORTON,

The celebrated English crack sprinter

GREAT MORTON STAYS HERE.

Will Try and Break the Hundred and Twenty Yards World Record.

J. W. Morton, the wonderful English sprinter, has agreed to stay over for the annual meet of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union.

The governors have decided to put a hundred and twenty yard race on the programme and, in addition to the regular medals, will put on a special medal for the breaking of the world's record.

[illegible] this sum at least $20,000 will be [illegible] in for tickets and various concessions.

The Wells Fargo Company Express will have charge of all this money, which they have contracted to deliver safely at the city. They will have a force of shotgun messengers who will guard the coin until it is deposited in the bank vaults here.

Betting is still [illegible] with Britt on the long end despite the fact that Nelson is in prime condition. The trouble with the Dane is he makes a poor appearance in the gymnasium, and even at boxing he does not shine. While the spectators have no idea of the power of his blows, still, as a boxer he is clumsy and awkward. Britt is like Jim Corbett, master of all gymnasium work and a fancy boxer, and after seeing his work every one is enthused.

BRITISH MAIL SPORTS.

A new fish is promised Thames anglers. It is to be a salmon, and a salmon which unlike the English species, has no desire to spend a considerable portion of its existence in the sea. The salmon in question is not that common to many of our rivers in this country, but is the salmo hucho, a variety found in the Danube and of which there is a fine stuffed specimen in the Piscatorial Society's club-room. The Thames Salmon Association is presenting the new fish, which is said to attain an average weight of 35 lbs., and are now busy rearing thousands of the huchen at Isleham, on the Colne, the association's fish hatchery.

Entries have been received from Belgium, Holland, France and several other countries for the International angling competition, which will be held along the Thames towpath from Henley Bridge to Temple Island next week, under the auspices of the Silver Trout Angling Society of London.

This will be the first angling competition open to all the world ever held on Great Britain, and is the direct outcome of an international competition held at Ballingcourt, near Paris, last Easter. Several of the champion fishermen of France will take part in the competition. The contest will be governed by the rules of the Thames standard of fishing, except that reach and dace will not be counted unless they are one inch longer than required by the Thames standard. Two rods may be carried, but only one may be used at a time. All fish will be weighed except jack, eels, bleak and minnows. It has been found necessary to limit the number of competitors because of the large number of foreign and provincial applicants, to five hundred. The entrance fee, which includes railway fare from Paddington and a dinner, is 1os. 6d. each, and all surplus profit will be devoted to additional prizes.

PREPARATIONS FOR CANADIAN ATHLETIC GAMES NEXT WEEK.

Captain P. Gorman, president of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, has gone to New York, partly on business connected with the United States Consulate and partly in connection with the arrangements of the programme of the annual meet of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union.

From what he knew when he left, he was convinced that Montreal would see the greatest entry list it has ever seen at a meeting like this.

Morton will be one of the attractions, and he will try to break the one hundred and twenty yards amateur world's record.

There will be a very large number of Canadian entries also.

Secretary Sullivan, of the National Athletic Union of the United States,

MILNES,

will be here and in all probability President Joseph B. Moore, who comes from Boston.

A recent letter from Mr. Sullivan to President Gorman says:

I beg to advise you that the following men have been suspended by the A. A. U.: John J. Joyce, Thomas Hynes, E. J. Cupp, E. Spitzer, R. Todd, Frank Castleman, Doc. Hamilton, Fred. Lorz, A. M. Kochler, J. Shutz.

Sheridan, the celebrated all round athlete from New York, is also in trouble again.

He will, however, be enabled to take part in the games here, because, although he has been protested he can perform under protest.

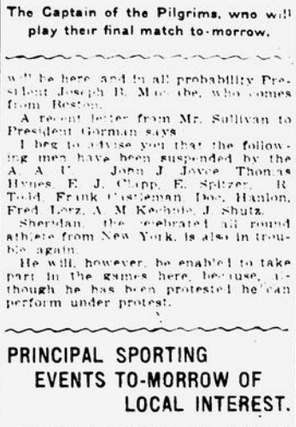
Toronto, Ont., September 8.—Final arrangements have been made for the provincial bicycle meet, to be held at the exhibition to-morrow.

Following is the list of events in all of which good prizes are offered. One mile, novice, half mile, provincial championship, one mile championship, two mile provincial championship, messenger boys' race, two mile handicap. A medal will be given to the rider making the most points.



MR. MIKE SHEA,

The all round Canadian athlete, who has begun his term of coaching the Montreal Football team.

MONTREAL POLO TEAM SCORED A GREAT VICTORY.

Toronto, September 8.—Montreal turned the tables on the Toronto Polo Club in the first game of the tournament. Last week at Montreal, Toronto won two games, and it was generally considered that they would have no difficulty in winning yesterday, but Montreal surprised the cognoscenti by defeating the local team in no uncertain way, the score being 14 to 4.

At no stage of the game was there any doubt as to its outcome. Montreal led from the beginning, and the Toronto team never had a look-in. The visitors played the more systematic game, always having one, and very often two players, back ready to repel a Toronto attack. The home players, on the other hand, were not so cautious, and as a consequence the Montrealers frequently got clear for brilliant individual rushes.

A heavy shower just before the time for starting the game made the field wet and slippery, but nevertheless the contest was replete with fine plays.

Mr. Simard played a decidedly useful game for the winners. He was always on the alert, and seldom missed a stroke, his back drives being particularly accurate. Major Meighen and Colonel Williams played in dashing form. Mr. Robertson, of the High River team, who, in the absence of Dr. Mignault, figured in Montreal's line up showed up splendidly. His long drives were a feature.

Mr. K. R. Marshall and Captain Strachenzie were probably the most conspicuous players on the Toronto side. The latter made many good rushes, although handicapped with a lame wrist. Two of the Toronto goals were scored by Mr. Marshall. Mr. A. O. Beardmore and Dr. Myers were bothered apparently by the slippery grass.

During the third period Mr. Simard was injured in a collision with Captain Strachenzie. The latter was coming full tilt when Dr. Simard pulled up suddenly, and the ponies came together. Dr. Simard's leg being hurt. He fell off his mount but was soon well enough to walk to the side line. The game was continued with three men a side, Montreal being without a spare man until the fourth period when Mr. Simard resumed play. There was a fair-sized crowd at the game. The teams and summary follow:

Toronto	Montreal
A. O. Beardmore	Major Meighen
K. Marshall	Mr. Simard

PETER DEER.

Ottawa, September 8.—The five-mile foot race run on Varsity oval yesterday evening between Peter Deer, of Montreal, and Art Burn, of Ottawa, resulted in a dead heat. Burn was leading near the finish mark, but Deer, with a great burst of speed, managed to sprint up on even terms with his man in the stretch, both runners getting over the line so close together that the judges were unable to separate them. The time, owing to the damp condition of the grass track, was slow, 29.45. The race was started at 7 o'clock, and the finish took place just as darkness was setting in. A large crowd witnessed the event. The judges were D. H. Baird and Mr. J. J. Slattery.

THE TURF

Racing on Grand Circuit.

Hartford, Conn., September 8.—The 2.12 trot furnished the sport of the day at the Charter Oak Grand Circuit meet yesterday. Harrison Wilkes winning. The Futurity for pacers was disappointing as the horses broke repeatedly. In the first heat Easter Lily and Bonnolet ran all the way and were distanced, and the second heat proved easy for Miss Adbell who won first and third money. In the Futurity trot, Bon Voyage made an easy win.

Kid Shay, in the 2.14 trot, won all three heats, and was never headed.

Stein captured the three last heats, and the race in the 2.10 pace, the strong finish of the horse being a feature of the meeting. Summary:

THE PILGRIMS PLAY FOR THE FIRST TIME IN AMERICA TO-MORROW

Large crowds are expected at the first match which the Pilgrims will play in America, and which will take place on the grounds of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association in Westmount.

It is expected that Woodward will be left in to play, and as the Lake Manitoba has been sighted, and a special train will bring him and O. E. Wilson, of Lancashire, to Montreal.

Wilson is the only member of the team who has not yet been mentioned. He plays good and is considered one of the finest goal tenders in the world.

The Montreal team will be:

McIntyre (Goalkeeper)—

A very sure man with his hands and one who has had great experience. The Pilgrims' officials will find him a difficult customer to beat.

McChesney—

Right back—a spendid tackler and a very sure kick. Has had experience in First League Company in the old country.

Sutherland (of the Point)—

The left back is an experience on the part of the Montreal Committee, but on Club form will make good. Crabbe, the right half back (captain of the Westmount team) is one of the most popular selections of the Montreal representatives. He is a splendid tackler, and his shots, when close on goal, are very deadly.

Hollis (centre half)—

One of the hardworking class. He has a hard afternoon's work before him to hold down Woodward.

Ross—

One of the finest half backs in Montreal, but we are inclined to think he ought to have had the company of his fellow townsman, Hughey Woodburn.

Wright—

One of the speediest forwards in Canada and was always sure of his place in the team.

Whyte (outside right)—

Is another experiment in the hands of the Montreal committee. He is the dashing right back of the Westmount Club, but on his form against Galt as centre forward, is quite entitled to his place.

Surdy Hall—

The Galt Smith of Canada, and the man who secured more goals than any individual in the country and is perhaps the most popular selection on the team. He will give Barnsdale the hardest afternoon's work for many seasons, and it will be a surprise if he does not find the net more than once.

Reynolds—

The popular pro. from the C. P. R. club. He has a style all of his own and will keep the defence guessing for some considerable time. He is fast and true on the ball and feeds his outside men a magnificent game.

Is of an unknown quantity but on his play three weeks ago against Westmount is well worthy of a place on the team. The Montreal team will play in the black and red jersey of the Montreal Football Club, but they are requested to provide themselves with white knickers and black stockings.

The reserves, Messrs. Savage and Merin, along with other members of the team, are requested to report at the M. A. A. A. clubhouse at 2.45 p.m.

ANOTHER CANADA'S CUP CHALLENGE ACCEPTED BY ROCHESTER

Special to the Montreal Star.

Rochester, N. Y., September 8.—The Board of Governors of the Rochester Yacht Club yesterday afternoon accepted the challenge of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto, Ont., for a race for the Canada's Cup, recently held against the efforts of the Canadians by the American Yacht Iroquois under the command of Skipper Mabbett.

A committee composed of Commodore Pritchard, Skipper Mabbett, of the Iroquois, and Frank Christy was named to confer with the Canadian Club concerning the year, month and time of the race.

There may be a race for the cup next year, and there may not be. It is to be settled by the Committee. The Canadians challenged some time ago, but the Americans have thought up to now that there was not time to build and prepare for the race. Perhaps they will change their minds now that the anxiety of the Canadians is apparent. When the Canadians left Charlotte they expressed the opinion that next year would be too soon to have another try at the cup, said Mr. Mabbett. "and it was understood that there would be no more cup races until 1907 at least. It is probable that the Canadians have challenged simply to be the first in the field. The cup races disarrange all other class races for a season, as it is impossible to arrange any races aside from the contest and trials or to arouse any interest in them if they are scheduled."

St. Albans Visit.

The St. Albans team that will be seen here on September 9th and 10th, so the local management state, will be a very strong aggregation, and among the many good players that will be picked to go against them will be the following: Payette, White, River, Farrel, Poirier, Wilson, Larocque, Miron, Briggs, Page and several other fast ones that are now being negotiated with to become members of the new Mascotte team which, from present indications, bid fair to be one of Montreal's best permanent athletic institutions from now out, being backed by a few of our foremost French and English business men.

DYSENTRY EPIDEMIC IN DAWSON CITY

Adults and Children Prostrated, and Many Deaths Have Occurred.

HOLD MEDICAL CONFERENCE

Governor McInnes Will Ascertain if Possible the Cause of the Outbreak.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Victoria, B.C., September 8.—Dysentery of a more sudden and serious character than the medical men of the West have heretofore had experience with is epidemic in Dawson, and at other adjacent camps in the Klondike valley. Adults and children alike are being prostrated, and numerous deaths are occurring with exceptional suddenness. Up to Tuesday last the children of Messrs. G. H. Sharp, Julius Blaker, Emil Kaushen, Donald MacDonald and Henry Ferguson had died, while many others were very low. The circumstances that Dawson is comparatively a childless town, the population, like that of a majority of mining towns, being composed largely of adult men, without their families, makes the inroads of the present epidemic more noticeable.

Governor McInnes has convened a conference of all medical men in the city and district to ascertain if possible the cause of the disease, and to devise and promulgate the best means of preventing and checking the malady. The doctors are not agreed apparently, some ascribing the epidemic to bad water, some to malaria, and others to poisoning, the result of continued use of storage and canned meats and other foodstuffs, while others ascribe the prevalence of the disease to the house fly pest.

Death of Hon. Thomas Robertson.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., September 8.—Hon. Thomas Robertson, K. C., who after sitting eighteen years on the High Court Bench of Ontario, retired a short time ago, because of ill health, died at his home here yesterday. He was 80 years of age, having been born in Ancaster, this county. Hon. Mr. Robertson was called to the bar in 1849. In 1878 he was elected to a seat in the Dominion Parliament as a colleague of F. E. Kilvert, i.e. the representation of Hamilton, and sat for two terms. A seat on the bench was then offered him.

Fatal Head on Collision.

Newcastle, Pa., September 8.—Two men were killed and about 30 injured in a wreck yesterday, on the Western New York and Pennsylvania division of the Pennsylvania lines, near this city, when an excursion train bound from the city to the Stoneboro fair, crashed head-on into a regular southbound passenger train.

The dead are: Engineer L. S. Maskray, Mahoningtown, Pa., and Fireman Cannon, of Stoneboro.

The most seriously injured are: Harry Sheelerman, Newcastle; John Popman, Mahoningtown, engineer of the excursion train.

Cleveland, O., September 8.—The will of H. W. Baird, a well-known attorney and promoter, who died several weeks ago, which is being contested by his sister, Mrs. Anna E. Wadsworth, directs that his ashes be placed in a glass receptacle and thrown into Niagara Falls from Prospect Park.

Mr. Baird also directs that one-fourth of the income from his estate be used each year in support of the propaganda of Socialism. The value of the estate has not yet been made public.

Bradley and Mackenzie have been requested to take charge pending the arrangements of the amalgamation. Mr. Mackenzie will reach Rossland about September 20.

Gambling Not Allowed.

Toronto, September 8.—Mr. H. B. Cowan, superintendent of agricultural societies, has sent notices to the officials that, in accordance with the resolution of the convention last winter, asking the Government to enforce the law, no games of chance or gambling will be permitted at the autumn fairs. TO AVOID ALL POSSIBLE FRICTION

Russia Will Put Articles of Peace Into Effect in Spirit of Fairness.

St. Petersburg, September 8.—Russia is determined that the work commenced in administrative circles toward putting into effect the articles of the peace treaty shall be carried on in a spirit of fairness and equity and with the desire to avoid all possible friction or misunderstanding. This work includes a new treaty of commerce with Japan, the establishment of a line dividing the Island of Sakhalin, the definition of the Manchurian frontier, the cession of Russian privileges in Manchuria, a working arrangement whereby through trains and freights may pass from the Russian to the Japanese section of the railroad, the arrangement of freight and passenger rates, the return of Japanese prisoners to Russia and vice versa, the payment for the maintenance of the same by each country, etc. The resumption of actual diplomatic relations between the countries will greatly facilitate these works and personal relations can be resumed immediately after the exchange of telegraphic notifications from St. Petersburg and Tokio of the ratification of the treaty.

TO DEAL WITH FAMINE.

The first sitting of a ministerial conference called to deal with the famine which threatens several provinces was held to-day. It was attended by the Governors of the provinces, representatives of Zemstvos and Red Cross and philanthropic societies and marshals of the nobility. Reports were presented, showing that the distress is particularly acute in the provinces of Saratoff, Rizan, Samara, Penza, Tamboff, Orel, Voronesh, Toula and Valska. It was approximately estimated that 36,500,000 pounds of cereals would be required to feed the distressed populations, and the conference recommended that the treasury assign nearly $20,000,000 for the purchase of these cereals.

Lameterzi, Manchuria, September 8.—The result of the Portsmouth conference was officially announced to the Russian forces here on Wednesday. The army, however, is still without official orders from St. Petersburg to cease its activities, and the situation is intense. The soldiers are waiting for an armistice to be declared and they cannot understand how Russia can talk peace while the Japanese continue reconnaissances in force and outpost engagements. The fighting of September 3 in Corea cannot be understood here.

His Second Revival Tour.

Boston, September 8. — Rev. W. J. Dawson, the London evangelist, arrived by steamer from Liverpool, yesterday, to begin a second revival tour in America. Mr. Dawson said: "The religious revival in Wales is only an extreme example of what is going on all over the world. The people are finding out that dollars don't give them the satisfaction that is lasting. In this country I think there are great possibilities for work, and what has been done already is of the utmost importance."

The Government will give no information until they have been actually made by the Lieutenant-Governor. His Honor is expected home on Saturday.

TWO KILLED IN COLLAPSE.

Condemned Building Goes Down in New York.

New York, September 8.—Two persons were killed when a building at Grand and Mott streets collapsed yesterday. The building is said to have been condemned two years ago, but has been permitted to be occupied since. Thomas McGovern, a foreman in the building department, is under arrest in connection with the collapse on a charge of criminal negligence.

The dead are: Maria Garioso, 16 years old, and Joseph Farinia, 48 years old.

Nearly a score of persons were injured, some suffering broken limbs.

A policeman noticed a big crack in one of the walls of the building, which was occupied for various purposes. He gave the alarm and ordered everyone out of the structure. Pedestrians were warned not to go near the place, but many paid no attention to the order.

The Garioso girl was passing the building when the collapse came, and she was almost instantly killed. Farinia had returned to the building to get some of his belongings, and was caught by the falling walls, being dead when taken out. The injured persons included several policemen, firemen, and tenants of the building, who had declined to leave at the first alarm.

ACCIDENT IN COAL MINE.

Hoisting Rope Breaks and Cars Rush Down Slope.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Glace Bay, N.S., September 8. — A very bad smash up was caused yesterday, at Dominion No. 3 Colliery, by the breaking of the hoisting rope. When the rope parted sixty-eight loaded cars, which were being hauled up, ran down the slope over two thousand feet, gathering tremendous momentum as they went, and were piled up in indescribable confusion, breaking stone off the roof in their mad career. The landing tenders heard the rumbling in the darkness, and stepped aside in time, none of them being hurt.

Equitable Will Help.

New York, September 8.—Governor Frank S. Black, of this State, before appearing as counsel for the Equitable Life Assurance Society before the joint legislative committee appointed to investigate insurance methods, stated: "We have nothing to conceal, and no one to protect. We seek no legal technicalities to avoid answering questions. We will aid in every way the progress of the inquiry."

The Virginian's Arrival.

The Allan line turbine steamer Virginian passed Heath Point inwards at 10 a.m. yesterday; all well. They report a stormy passage. The steamer was due at Quebec at noon Friday, and in Montreal to-morrow morning.

AN ENOCH ARDEN CASE.

The First Husband Wants to Keep the Second's Children.

If a woman has heard on good authority that her first husband is dead has she the right to marry again? There is a case in the city where a woman thought thus and married the second time, but unfortunately the first husband was not dead, and returned after having been absent for a number of years, but only to find that his wife was married.

The first husband had left his wife with four children, and there were two children by the second marriage. Now that the first husband has returned there is a difficult question to be settled.

The second husband wishes to keep his two children, while the first one is not contented with his own four, but wishes to have the control of the additional two.

The opinion of the wife has not been heard. Probably it will be decided amicably between the two parties.

The Abattoir Nuisance.

Judgment was given yesterday in the Recorder's Court in the case of the Abattoir nuisance, caused by the smell from their rendering house. Judge Poirier found them guilty and imposed a fine of $20. In his remarks he stated that people living in the vicinity of abattoirs must have protection against such nuisances and that they were very injurious to the health. Messrs. R. A. E. Greenshields and Surveyer were the counsel for the defence and Mr. Rodolphe Monty for the town of Delorimier, the complainant.

RESIGNED HIS OFFICE.

Petition for Annulment of His Contract Presented.

Mr. W. Reeves, Mayor of Pointe aux Trembles, has resigned as Mayor and councillor of that municipality because, on account of his ownership of the water works of the village, his right to sit as Mayor was questioned. At next Tuesday's meeting the Council will have to provide for the election of a new councillor and choose a new Mayor.

A petition has been presented to the Council for the annulment of the contract with Mr. Reeves, on the ground that the contract was made for thirty years, while the municipal code allows contracts for twenty-five years only. Mr. Reeves declares that he will continue to supply water, but at a higher rate, in order that he may realize some profit as a return for his investment.

Opening of Classes at Laval.

The opening of the lecture course at Laval University will take place next week. The Law Faculty course will open on September 12; the Medical course September 14; the veterinary surgery September 15, and the Technological Institute on September 11. The theological faculty lectures at the Grand Seminary will open, as usual, on September 20.

The dentistry course will open on October 2nd. This course will be stronger than ever, the dean of the faculty, Dr. Dunbeau, having spent the summer in Europe studying the latest methods of operation and teaching.

Rev. Abbe Perrier will again be in charge of the public lectures on the public church law, while Mr. Lagace will lecture in the aesthetic course.

A new professor of French literature — Mr. Arnoul—will occupy the chair, the expenses of which have been entirely taken over by the Seminary of St. Sulpice, which has been so largely instrumental in founding that chair at Laval.

Wood Avenue Widening.

Wood Ave., Westmount, will be widened from Sherbrooke street north. The Sulpicians, who owned the strip of land on the eastern side of the street, have agreed to transfer it to the corporation at the rate of twenty cents per foot, whereas the prevailing price is nearer seventy cents per foot. Much is due to the good offices of Mayor Duclos, in connection with this matter.

TOWN OF ST. LOUIS OUTRAGES.

While the Press of other lands is publishing the record of General Booth's triumphant journey around the world and the cordial reception extended to him by the representatives of various classes and creeds, it appears a little strange that in Montreal a district that is so much under the control of Christian influence we have to record a series of brutal attacks upon the soldiers of the veteran General, the Prophet of the Poor."

Only the most ignorant person would need to be informed that the members of the Salvation Army are the most peaceable of Christian workers, and are ever eager to afford material aid or religious consolation to individuals of all creeds and nationalities. In the face of these facts the members of the Salvation Army have won for themselves a standing which should be recognized in any community and especially in the outskirts of Montreal, for their work in this city has been arduous and efficacious. And they are clearly entitled to police protection against an outburst of ignorance and brutality. The method of the town of St. Louis police in handling this affair has betrayed both incapacity—and shame that it should be so — indifference. Upon the authorities of that municipality should be impressed the axiom that the day is past and gone when religious liberty is to be sought as a favor under the British flag. It is a right as free to the Jew from the Russian pale, to the religious, expelled from continental Europe, as it is to those of us who have lived generations in this country and who worship in the manner of our fathers. There is no necessity of indulging in intemperate and mischievous discussion over the disorders. The Salvationists are entitled to protection, and it is the first duty of the municipality to enforce it. In case of failure an appeal can be made to the provincial authorities to disperse the rioters, arrest and punish the ringleaders. The principle at issue is important, and to ignore it would be, especially at the present time, to allow an impression to go forth which this province cannot well afford.

Having said this much there is another aspect of the case that may be dwelt upon. While the Salvation Army have certain rights, at the same time we think they are wise in abandoning their street parade in the town of St. Louis for the present. The peculiarities of the Army have called down upon their heads various kinds of interference from the very first. In almost every country in which they have appeared. There have been communities in which they were welcomed from the start, protected and accepted as one of the recognized religious bodies. These places, however, were few. In most of the "new ground" that they opened up they have found that the "thankless pumped their ribs every time the plough point struck a stone. There is no excuse whatever for young hoodlums baiting people who have any kind of peculiarities, yet it is a fact that they will do it, and may often thus cause much ill-will and bad blood and even passions and raise issues not at all relevant. And just one word to those who go to the neighborhood of the barracks, at the Annex, out of curiosity, to see what is going to happen. They are unwittingly helping to create disturbance. The gathering of a crowd to see some illegal proceeding often brings about the very thing they went to see, which, without their presence, would not have happened. The proper authorities could chastise and chase away youthful offenders, and protect everybody's rights and property very much better if those of "maturer years" would quietly stay at home and mind their own business. The presence of a number of grown up people sometimes makes young mischief-makers think that they have a countenance for their misdeeds even though the majority of the spectators may have the most law-abiding intentions. Those who, out of motives of mere curiosity, go to see a possible disturbance are often as great factors in causing it as those who deliberately start out with sticks of dynamite in their pockets to do damage. It is often the innocent spectator who gets hurt in case anything does happen. Therefore stay at home instead of parading a road which is none the better for your presence.

IMPURITY OF THE WATER SUPPLY.

Some months ago the superintendent of the Water Department was asked by the Water Committee to prepare a report as to what could be done in order to improve the water supplied to citizens.

After considerable research a report was made that it would be a very wise thing if the city's water could be filtered. In order to accomplish this it was urged that a new aqueduct, starting from Montreal, alongside the present aqueduct should be constructed. This is the first point to call for comment, as much desired increase in the volume of water while, secondly, in order to give citizens pure water sand filters could be built near the present settling basin.

So much for the report of the Water Department. It might be explained that the present settling basin is a useless basin to name only, owing to the heavy output of water it is now considered to be of any practical use.

As to the question of the purity of the supply, it is far from being as satisfactory as some city fathers would have citizens believe. This is demonstrated by a report made on the water supply by the late Mr. Wyatt Johnson. After an exhaustive analysis of the water he wrote to the City Council, as follows:

"Although taken from the north side of the St. Lawrence River the Montreal water supply is derived during the greater part of the year, from the Ottawa River, which enters the St. Lawrence from the north at a point about twenty miles above the intake of the aqueduct, and which forms a belt of dark water close to the shore — the border between this water and the clear green of the St. Lawrence being very distinct. During the winter owing apparently to ice jams, the Ottawa passes to the north of the Island of Montreal, so that the Montreal water supply, during the months of January, February and March, consists of nearly pure St. Lawrence water."

Another authority on the city's water, Mr. McGill, the analyst of the Dominion government, declares that a great portion of the organic matter contained in the water supply of Montreal sustains and nourishes more easily than most waters all those organisms which, although almost always inoffensive are closely associated with others which are known to be very offensive. A water impregnated with organic matter like that of the Ottawa River, thus becomes a fruitful source for the germination of bacteria. If such organisms are able to gain entrance to the supply. Further information as to the quality of the water shows that during the greater part of the year the number of bacteria per c.c. of the water varies between 100 and 200. During the early part of the summer, and in midwinter this number falls considerably below 100, and during the spring and early fall it rises to between 1,000 and 2,000. These temporary elevations coincide with a period of heavy rainfall, which washes in the winter, and with the melting of the snow in the spring, on both of which occasions the river level rises considerably. From the above it is demonstrated that the water, which is fairly pure during certain periods, becomes dangerous during the spring and autumn.

It is the intention of the City Council to once more take up the problem of improving the purity of the city's supply. The sand filtration system is that most approved by the Water Committee.

SOME STATISTICS OF THE WAR.

The statisticians are now getting after the late war. The men who see Niagara Falls and simply take out a pad and begin to figure what weight of water is being wasted, and what the motive possibility of so many cubic feet of water dropping so many feet are now handling out the cold figures of the Russo-Japanese unpleasantness.

It seems that in the war Russia lost 404,141 men and Japan 187,424. No such losses of life in battle have been recorded since the American War of Secession.

When we turn to the financial side it is found that the struggle cost Russia seven million dollars a week, or a total cost of $807,000,000, besides the loss of $150,000,000 of war vessels. They also lost Dalny, Port Arthur and the railways, which losses have not yet been put into figures. It will thus be seen that a terrible punishment in men and money has been inflicted upon Russia by her little antagonist, whom some people thought would simply be eaten up by so well-equipped and warlike a country as that which four European nations combined and all they could do to conquer fifty years ago, when she was not half as big or powerful.

The losses to Japan are not yet definitely known but have been stated as about half those of Russia and are probably even less than that, as her cost of carrying on the war, with a base much nearer and the unimpeded water transportation would be very much under that of Russia, whose soldiers are paid more and cost more to keep, besides the enormous expense of carrying them and their supplies over thousands of miles of railway.

When we turn to the details of the naval losses we find that Russia had twelve battleships, thirteen cruisers and three coast defence ships sunk, some of which were afterwards raised by the Japanese. Two battleships and two coast defence ships were captured and six escaped and were interned in neutral ports. In all, Russia had 303,366 tons of her larger war shipping put out of business, besides her loss of gunboats, training ships, repair ships, etc. Her loss of big guns in this naval smash-up was 422.

Japan's sea losses consisted of two battleships, two coast defence ships, four cruisers and twelve torpedo boats and small craft, or twenty in all amounting to 43,337 tons, and involving a loss of 59 big guns.

These figures will convey some idea of the completeness of the Japanese victory and how overwhelmingly she overmatched her opponent.

CONTINUING OLD METHODS.

From present appearances the old method of removing snow from the streets of the city—and not removing snow from the sidewalks—will continue throughout another winter. Had it not been for "red tape" proceedings at the civic Palace the important question of the city taking charge of the sidewalks and cleaning them to a uniform height would have been settled many weeks ago.

Weary of the many actions for damages which the city has to pay on account of accidents on the billowy winter sidewalks Ald. Carter, some time ago presented a by-law in the council which proposed that the city in the future should take upon itself the task of cleaning the walks. No sooner was the by-law presented than certain members of the Road Committee were indignant because the matter had not first been brought up before them. Upon hearing the complaints, Ald. Carter said that the Road Committee might consider the subject if it desired, at the same time he was not going to stand any further shelving of it. He pointed out that not only were the walks a terror during the winter months, but they incurred a great deal of cost to the corporation. This statement everyone present knew to be correct, as many thousands have to be paid out every year on account of people falling on the walks and being injured.

The proposed by-law contains much that is timely and interesting. It proposes that the city shall clean the walks in winter, and for so doing shall levy an assessment upon the owners of immoveable property at a pro rata cost per foot according to frontage. In order that the walks may be cleared quickly the city is to be divided into districts. Attached to each district there will be snow ploughs. The work of removing the snow will generally be done at night. No profit is to be derived from the work.

The above proposal is considered a good one. It has been adopted in other cities and has proved to be a success. Our sidewalks in winter are something long to be remembered. They are dangerous to life and limb, and every year the corporation has to pay out, as stated, a big sum for accidents which happen upon them.

In regard to the question of removing snow from the streets it is as far from settlement as ever. The likelihood is that the little box sleigh will continue to attract humorous comment, and continue also to waste tens of thousands of good money.

Hon. J. P. Whitney has succeeded in bringing down on his own devoted head the maledictions of some of his old-time supporters, because he does not make room for them and their friends and give being to the prerequisite of decapitation of Grit office holders. At the same time Mr. Whitney's journalistic opponents are pointing out, with emphasis, that many office holders are being unfairly dismissed. Given this criticism within and without his party, it is safe to say that there is a third section, or even a fourth body of the electorate, which is not saying much, but doing considerable thinking. The Liberal of moderate views and decent instincts will hardly blame Mr. Whitney for not chopping off the heads of Liberal appointees who have properly performed their duties, forgetting their former political connections. And the same kind of a Conservative will take much the same view. So long as Mr. Whitney refuses to be stampeded by threatening partisans, just so much longer will his position be strengthened. The utter collapse of the opposition is a better index of the Ontario Government's strength than the adverse criticism and comment of the extreme partisans, whether Liberal or Conservative.

The New York Times has been devoting its attention to Canada, because of the laws of some of the provinces imposing a special tax upon commercial travellers, and it thinks we are "queer people." Our peculiarity is, after all, not so different from that of our neighbors. We are not defending the tax upon representatives of foreign houses. In fact, the law may be so easily evaded that it will not be likely to seriously interfere with any trade that any foreign house has with Canada. At the same time, it might be well for the United States to remember that the "queer people" of Canada give the adjoining republic the best market they have in the world. Canada buys more goods of the United States than any other country, except Great Britain and Germany, yet her sales to her neighbor are very disproportionate. The restrictions which interfere with our doing business with the United States are much greater than those we have to prevent her selling to us, and the regulations complained of are not especially aimed at the United States either.

Points About People

William O'Brien, M.P., is busily engaged in writing his reminiscences. From the age of 17—that is, since 1869, when he became a junior reporter on the Cork Daily Herald—he has been behind the scenes in Irish politics and an active participant in some important events, the secret history of which has never been published.

Dr. Adolphe Danziger, formerly United States consul at Madrid, has been in Washington laying before the Department of Commerce and Labor memoranda concerning the condition of the Jews abroad. The information was gathered by Mr. Danziger at the request of the department for the use of the Bureau of Immigration.

The Duke of Argyll, who was 60 on the 6th of August, is a man of very varied interests and distinctions. As is well known, he is related to the King and the Duke of Connaught, whose sister, the Princess Louise, he married. The Duke is also a prolific writer, having during the past twenty-one years produced upward of a dozen works, including the opera "Diarmid" in the great jubilee year.

The St. Louis Trouble.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—If Chief Clermont, of the Mile End police force, honestly believes he is "doing all in his power to have the (Salvation Army's disturbances suppressed" then the sooner some of his friends impress upon him his utter unfitness for the office of Chief of Police, the better for his own sake, and for the sake of the good name of Mile End. Certainly it would be difficult to conceive how another man could display greater incompetence in dealing with the situation than he has. I live west of Park avenue, and on Tuesday night the peace of the neighborhood was disturbed by a blatant mob which followed members of the Salvation Army to the Park avenue car line. Last night I had occasion to go to St. Lawrence street along Fairmount avenue. From St. George street to St. Lawrence street the north side of the street was crowded with idlers. I was rudely jostled as I worked my way through the crowd, and at times was obliged to leave the sidewalk to make progress. Coarse jests and idle jeers were heard on all sides. Chief Clermont must have known that these people had gathered for no good purpose. Yet not the slightest effort was made to disperse the mob. Instead, members of the police force—or the four whom I saw, and for aught I know Chief Clermont may have been one of them—sauntered idly up and down the street (where their passage was not obstructed by the mob), or stood idly talking with some one in the gathering. To another person the proper thing to have done in the circumstances would appear to have been the immediate dispersal of the crowd. Chief Clermont, however, seems to think it his duty to see a mob commit some actual violence before taking any measure to suppress it. I am not hinting that he was prompted by any ulterior motive waiting for the mob to commit violence in the present instance. The question of the Salvation Army's right to parade the streets or to hold meetings does not enter into the discussion. Chief Clermont's duty is clear. He should see that law and order are preserved in the town. He has not done it. He allows idle mobs to congregate on one of the main thoroughfares of the town to the danger and annoyance of residents and merchants, and to innocent passers-by. Fairmount avenue has been rendered impassable to unprotected women every night this week, and residents in the neighborhood are in constant dread of violence. Chief Clermont appears to be either unable or unwilling to do his duty. In either case he is unfit for the office he holds, and should be instantly dismissed, if he has not sufficient intelligence to appreciate the public's estimate of himself, and resign.

THIS DATE 30 YEARS AGO.

The Hon. Chief Justice Perion is at present in Quebec awaiting the sittings of the Court of Appeals in their city. The Hon. Judges Monk, Ramsay and Sanborn left last night by boat to attend the same court.

ALL the learned judges mentioned have since joined the great silent majority. Their legal attainments were of the highest, and their decisions in court were rarely appealed. From the learned Chief Justice, died in May, 1891, Judge Monk on October 25th, 1888, Judge Ramsay, December 22nd, 1886, and Judge Sanborn, July 17th, 1877.

The preliminary enquete into the circumstances attending the anti-vaccination riot at the City Hall last month, taken with a view of bringing the ringleaders to justice was continued this morning before Mr. Brehaut. Sergeant Kehoe, of the police force, made his deposition this morning, and the investigation will be continued this afternoon.

THE late Mr. Brehaut was for many years the respected police magistrate for the city of Montreal and district. He was held in the highest esteem by his colleagues of the bar. He passed away in the eighties. Mr. Kehoe has been a member of the police force for a long period, and is, under the new system of promotion, quartermaster and storekeeper of the force.

Mr. Alexander Murray and Mr. William Workman will be the visiting governors to the General Hospital for the ensuing week.

BOTH the governors mentioned above have long since paid the debt of nature. They were prominent in financial and commercial circles, and were esteemed for their probity and sound business methods. They took a deep interest in all philanthropic work for the good of their less fortunate brethren.

MORE CRITICISM OF LABOR SERMON

Trades and Labor Council Discusses Remark of Rev. Dr. Young.

CONDEMNATORY RESOLUTION

Building Trades Section Report Very Few Carpenters Idle in Connection With Strike.

The recent sermon of Rev Dr Young of St. James Methodist Church, in which he referred to the walking delegate of the present day as the best of labor, was again under discussion last night, this time at the hands of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council.

It was a largely attended meeting, delegates being present from all the big international organizations of the city as well as the outlying districts. The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. Arcand, presiding.

The attention of the council was called to the remarks made by Rev. Dr. Young, in his Labor Day sermon, by a delegate representing the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, who declared among other things, that Jesus of Nazareth was himself a poor carpenter, and that he was the most successful delegate that had ever walked.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED.

Delegate Anderson moved, seconded by Delegate Poupin, that this council, in regular session assembled, condemn and repudiate the utterances made by Rev Dr. Young in his sermon preached in the St. James Methodist Church last Sunday evening, as being false, misleading and calculated to do much injury to the working classes in general.

Delegate Anderson expressed surprise at the attack made on union officials by the clergyman in question. He did not think that his action would receive the sanction of the authorities of the Methodist Church. Workingmen, he said, were going back to the church but attacks of this character would have the effect of making them again hostile.

Delegate Verville stated that when the reverend gentleman attacked the representatives of labor he struck a blow at the foundation of the labor unions. He thought his remarks were uncalled for and untrue.

After it had been pointed out that Dr. Young had never studied economics as applied to the labor problem, and could not, as a result, be considered an authority on labor, the resolution was unanimously passed.

COURT OF ARBITRATION.

A communication was then read from the Montreal Longshoremen's Union, No. 373, disapproving of the Court of Arbitration, which was recently proposed and discussed by the council.

A communication was also read from Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, regretting that he would be unable to attend the picnic at Deliorimier Park to-morrow afternoon, owing to pressure of business. He stated that the request for the appointment of a permanent organizer for the province of Quebec would be considered at the coming convention of the Federation.

The following delegates were announced as having been elected to attend the coming convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which commences in Toronto on September 18: A. Verville, A. Garley and H. Sandelins, Montreal Trades and Labor Council; J. J. Gardiner, Plumbers and Steamfitters; A. Mathieu, Iron Moulders; Ker Trolsass, A. Beauvais and A. Martin, Longshoremen's Union; G. Francq and A. H. Paquin, Jacques-Cartier Typographical Union; T. McGreevy, A. Viau and A. Laverdure, Cigarmakers' Union; A. Anderson, Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners; Z. Demuro, Journeymen Barbers' Union. Others are to be elected later.

Credentials were received from L. Thibault, Boot and Shoe Workers' Union; E. Poitras, O. Grand'Maison, Victor Tardif and J. H. Paquin, Jacques-Cartier Typographical Union.

FEW CARPENTERS IDLE.

The Building Trades section reported great progress. The strike, it was said, is nearly finished, in so far as men being out of employment, is concerned, the number being reported as being less than forty. The officials seem to be well pleased at the outcome of the struggle. They claim that more than fifteen hundred men have been benefited by the strike.

It was announced that the organization of the American Federation of Musicians was now in a flourishing condition.

The executive board recommended the admission of delegates of the Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen, after having examined their constitution and by-laws.

Mr. J. C. E. Tardif tendered his resignation as general secretary of the council, and his brother, Victor Tardif, was unanimously elected to the position.

The painters announced a special meeting for Monday evening, in the Empire Hall, when interesting matters will be decided.

The secretary of the Labor Day committee stated that new features would be introduced at the picnic to be held to-morrow afternoon. He did not think that Mr John Burns, M. P., of the British House of Commons, who had left for Toronto to attend the Dominion Trades Congress, would be present.

A communication was read from Lord Strathcona, enclosing a cheque for $100. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered his Lordship, and the hope expressed by the president that he might live and enjoy good health for many years to come.

Is This the Reason?

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,

Referring to the recent correspondence in your paper regarding the "Importation of Wives" from the Old Country, from observation in close study of the marriageable young woman in Montreal, we believe the reason for the said importation to be the extravagance of the young ladies in Canada.

Now, for instance, how many of them would be willing and capable of running a house on, say $15 a week, which is the average salary of the young man in business here, and, in proportion to the cost of living, is more than hundreds of young couples have to be satisfied with in Britain, where the salary of clerks is about $10 a week.

We are quite sure many young men living at present in boarding houses, (more or less comfortable), and tired of this uncongenial mode of life, would gladly enter the matrimonial state, provided they could be convinced that housekeeping with a Canadian bred girl for a wife would be possible on the salary they earn.

As the matter of economical housekeeping lies with the wife, and as the girls in the Old Country are trained and bred in habits of thrift. This to our minds explains the readiness of the young men to marry such girls.

Several Boarders.

Jury Said She Suicided.

Girl's Suspender Apron, 5122.

A DAINTY LITTLE APRON.

Pretty aprons serve the double purpose of protecting the frocks and rendering their young wearers attractive. This one is quite novel, made in suspender style, and is adapted both to white lawns and similar materials and the colored ones of harder usage. It is made with waist and skirt portions, which are joined by a belt, and the suspenders, the portions of which are attached with pearl buttons, but at the centre from the waist and skirt are cut in one, so giving unbroken lines at that point. In this instance white dimity is finished with machine stitching, but if a more dressy effect is desired, the suspenders and bands can be made of insertion.

For a girl of ten years of age will be required 2 1-4 yards of material 36 inches wide.

A May Manton pattern, No. 5122, sizes 6 to 12 years, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents.

TELEPHONE TALKS.

TO TELEPHONE USERS AND THE GENERAL PUBLIC,—

France has been described as an ideal field for the telephone, and with unlimited financial resources, a free hand in administration, and rates as stated in our last Talk, the service should be an ideal one. Let us review the practical results.

It is stated on undoubted authority that the Telephone Department is constantly striving to prevent an increase of subscribers, which would demand increased capital, and also to avoid a more general use of the service, which would require more assistants and increased facilities.

The service is exceedingly slow, so much so that business is generally greatly retarded thereby. When the administration is remonstrated with for delays, the reply is that the staff is much too small, and there is no remedy. An individual is powerless; he may not show his impatience over the wire without running the risk of future and greater delays, and possibly a summons before the Local Court for discourtesy to a functionary in his official capacity, a point on which French law is very strict.

It is stated that in a place near Paris conversation by telephone became absolutely impossible through interference from a trolly wire. The Government would not apply the very simple remedy of making the lines metallic until the subscribers advanced the funds necessary for the work. Numerous similar instances could be cited showing the disadvantages to the public of Government administration of the telephone service in France. So exasperated have the telephone users become that they have formed an Association for united protest, but so far with little effect.

It is sometimes stated that long distance rates are low in France, but it is overlooked that the Government has a system of "urgent call" rates, three times the ordinary rate and of necessity, the great bulk of the business goes through at the higher charge. Lines are limited and few people who have business which requires to be done by telephone can wait till others are served. Those who want the lower rate must wait until no one else wants the line.

France, the ideal field of the telephone, is not only poorly served and charged high rates under Government control, but development is practically prohibited.

Canada has little to learn regarding telephone service from the system of Government operation in France.

Dr. Morris is a naturalist of note, and his journey into northern Ontario was largely for the purpose of exploring some of the wilder districts in that northern country. He is interested in the Canadian Camp Club and his trip will be of decided use to the club in its establishment of camps from Desbarats north to Hudson's Bay.

PROPOSITION TO EXTEND THE GAS FRANCHISE FOR 30 YEARS

Alderman Vallieres Has a New Plan Which Will be Submitted to the City Council on Monday—Somewhat on the Lines of the Toronto Plan.

City Attorney Ethier completed to-day, at the request of Ald. Vallieres, a striking by-law in regard to a proposed new agreement with the Montreal Gas Company as to what the proposed price of gas shall be in the future.

The by-law will be submitted to the City Council at its meeting on Monday. The chief matter is the 'clause' calling for discussion as it proposes a long extension of franchise to the company.

The by-law proposes as follows:

1. That the Gas Company shall be given a thirty years extension of franchise on the following conditions: That the company shall supply lighting and heating gas at not more than five cents per thousand cubic feet.

2. That the city or ratepayers in the person of the Mayor shall be given a seat on the board of the company.

3. That dividends of the company in the future shall not exceed five per cent.

4. That all earning profits shall be paid to a fund for reducing the price of gas.

The above are the main features of the proposed by-law.

FOLLOW TORONTO PLAN.

The main idea of Ald. Vallieres' proposition is that Montreal should be dealt with on a plan somewhat similar to that in vogue in Toronto by the operation of the city's gas department, which took over the gas supply from a company which had a franchise to run for a number of years. The city's gas department is represented on the company's board of management. In such an arrangement there is said to be information as to the work as good as the company's, and the consumer gets gas furnished by the city at cost. The by-law is framed in such a way as to give citizens the right to buy out the plant at any time after five years, so that the city may not be left with the plant on its hands when the franchise expires.

It is understood that the by-law will be submitted to the Council on Monday, and that it proposes to ask the ratepayers to vote on the matter at the municipal elections in November. It is not known whether the Gas Company will oppose the by-law, but it is said that the company is not in favor of the proposition to extend the franchise for thirty years.

Ald. Vallieres and other progressive members of the City Council of Montreal point out that it is useless for the Gas Company to expect that real estate owners will ever vote for the borrowing of seven or eight millions in order to establish a municipal gas plant. Even were permission secured from the Legislature to borrow such a sum, it would mean that all the permanently paved streets would have to be torn up in order to lay new mains. On account of leakage in the mains, which caused considerable loss to the company, the feeling was that it would be most unwise for the city to decide to buy out the company's plant and operate it.

A majority of the council had definitely decided that if the company will take anything like a generous contract with the corporation, that its offer will be accepted. The desire is to close this vexed question before the elections in February next.

VIEWS OF OPPOSITION.

Those opposed to the by-law of Ald. Vallieres hold that there is little use of entering negotiations with the company. They desire that the contract should be thrown over and a request made direct to the Legislature to borrow money to build a new plant. They also object to the company being given an extension of franchise for thirty years. It is admitted however, that it would be a good thing if the Mayor could be elected to the board of the gas company and it is also admitted that it would be a good thing if the profits of the company, after paying a five per cent dividend, could be put aside for the purpose of lowering the gas rates.

The whole situation in regard to the gas question is that it be settled long before the elections. It is well known that members of the City Council have, of late, had far more than one interview with the company in regard to what terms it is willing to give. There is every reason to believe that the company is fully cognizant with all the terms and conditions of the proposed new by-law. The likelihood is that if the proposal is submitted to the company that it will be accepted.

FAILURE OF ECLIPSE PARTY TO LABRADOR

Everything Was in Readiness But Sun was Obscured by Clouds.

INDIANS SAW IT, HOWEVER

They Were Only Nine Miles From Astronomers and Were Terrorized.

(See also page one.)

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 8.—Mr. J. T. Plaskett, assistant to Dr. W. F. King, the Dominion astronomer, accompanied by Mr. Joseph Pope, under secretary of state, and W. H. Winters have arrived in Ottawa from their trip to Labrador with the Canadian observation party, which went to observe the eclipse of the sun, and which proved to be a failure, owing to the cloudy atmospheric conditions, which prevailed.

Mr. Plaskett says that the camp of the Canadian party was situated at the head of Hamilton Inlet 150 miles from the sea and at the outlet of the Northwest river, on which Mr. Hubbard met his untimely end last year. In anticipation of the eclipse, the observers had their valuable instruments, many of which came from the Royal Observatory at Greenwich, in position, but unfortunately all their preparations were in vain.

When August 30 dawned, masses of clouds absolutely obscured the sun and rendered it impossible to secure a single observation. One of the disappointments of the trip was the information which reached Dr. King and his associates the day following, when an Indian from a settlement only nine miles away came to camp and told the astronomers that his tribe had been terrorized by the sight of the unusual phenomenon. They had had a clear view of the eclipse.

The Canadian party otherwise enjoyed their trip. Partridges and rabbits were plentiful, and in the streams entering Hamilton Inlet there was no scarcity of trout.

Dr. King also returned to the city this morning and confirmed the statements made by Mr. Plaskett in regard to the failure of the expedition.

ATTACKED DR. ORANHYATEKHA

Montreal Delegate Charges Him with Bad Management.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Joliette, Que., September 8.—The annual meeting of the Provincial Court Independent Order of Foresters, closed here to-day.

During the course of the convention, Mr. A. W. Blouin, one of the Montreal delegates, seized the opportunity to make an attack on the Supreme Chief Ranger, Dr. Oronhyatekha, claiming that his administration of the funds of the order was not what it might have been. He read from a prepared statement and reproached the head of the order, particularly with the investment in the Union Trust and the tax on members for the orphanage at Desjardins. He also complained of the cost of the Temple building in Toronto, which he claimed had deteriorated in value to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Blouin further declared that from December 31, 1904, the Supreme Chief Ranger had paid the deficits of $432,243 in the general funds of the order, with money taken from the mortuary fund. He also said the order had bought lands in the Northwest which it resold to members who desired to settle in that part of the country, only it sold them at a profit.

His concluding remark was that some people compared the administration to that of the Equitable Life Society.

Dr. Oronhyatekha, in reply complained that he had not been given notice that such an attack as that made by Mr. Blouin was to be made, but made a general denial of the charges. Mr. Blouin declared, however, that he had given the necessary notice.

The doctor put forth the suggestion that, in his opinion, Mr. Blouin was not competent to deal with the financial matters he had brought forward in his charges.

Dr. Oronhyatekha's Statement.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., September 8.—Dr. Oronhyatekha says that one man only made any objection, asking an explanation of the apparent discrepancy shown in the Temple books, giving the value of the building to be between $600,000 and $700,000, while in another book it was placed at between $500,000 and $600,000. This was satisfactorily explained by the Doctor. The complaining member said the Independent Order of Foresters was the most expensively managed order of forty or fifty that he knew of. The Supreme Court Ranger explained that extension of operations to foreign countries necessitated expensive management.

A telegram received this morning from Senator Choquette said everything at the convention is proceeding satisfactorily.

New York, September 8.—Mrs. Annie R. Petre, a woman forger, who produced a regular income of $40 a month by issuing forged cheques to the amount of $100 and then taking up $60 worth of fraudulent paper, was to-day sentenced to three years and six months' imprisonment.

Missing Steamer Golspie.

Detroit, Mich., September 8.—H. S. Wilkinson, of this city, who has friends on board the steamer Golspie, supposed to have been lost on Lake Superior in the recent storm, believes that the Goldspie was not on Lake Superior at all, and that she is safe in some out-of-the-way place, beyond communication. He has a postcard dated Little Current, September 2, saying the boat had struck a rock in French River and was slightly damaged. As she has not since been reported as having passed the Soo, it is not likely that the Golspie was in the storm. Her owners had chartered her to the Canadian Government as a lighthouse tender.

Tariff Commission Adjourned.

Winnipeg, Man., September 8.—The Tariff Commission adjourned shortly after 1 p.m. to-day, after taking some evidence on general subjects. Mr. Fielding announced that the commission would meet here again in November.

London Fears That Hostilities May Again Break Out in Manchuria if Discontent Spreads to the Army

Enemies of Japan are Pointing to the Disturbances at Tokio as Evidences of the Thin Veneer of Civilization—Much Praise for the Firm Hand of the Government.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

London, September 8.—Fear is expressed in London lest the violent demonstrations in Tokio against the peace treaty may spread to Manchuria and infect the Japanese army with discontent, leading to excesses which conceivably might result in reopening hostilities against the Russian forces.

It would not be surprising if, under the leadership of a few disgruntled generals, the army decided to abandon the remarkable restraint and discipline which it has exhibited throughout the war.

The reports from Tokio have created a painful impression and deep disappointment among Japan's allies, the British. The knowledge that the British government counseled the Japanese Emperor to accept the terms of peace, against which the Japanese populace is now in partial rebellion, fills Englishmen with peculiarly deep sympathy for the plight of the government at Tokio.

They realize that the rioting and incendiarism must inevitably detract from Japan's newly won prestige among other nations, as its enemies will seize upon these displays of lawlessness, which show that the islanders have surrendered their self-control, as a basis for further preaching of the doctrine that Japanese civilization is only a veneer. The destruction of Christian church property by the mobs is regarded as the gravest manifestations of popular sentiment in Japan. It is interpreted as a protest against what the Japanese conceive to have been pressure exercised against their government by a combination of European and American diplomacy, to cheat them out of the full fruits of victory.

There is general admiration in London at the firm hand with which the Japanese government is attempting to cope with the situation.

There is devoutly expressed that no amount of violence, and no volume of protests will induce the Emperor to ratify the treaty of Portsmouth. Confidence is felt that the treaty will be promptly ratified.

CHURCH PROPERTY DESTROYED.

Tokio, September 8.—Church property was destroyed and damaged Wednesday and to-day. The Catholic Church, school and priests residence in Honjo were destroyed. Four small houses at Honjo was also burned and the Protestant Church at Honjo, under the pastorate of Aubrey Armstrong, an American, and the latter's residence were burned. Three mission churches in the Asakusa district were partly wrecked.

DEMANDS CABINET RESIGNATION.

Tokio, Sept. 8.—7 a.m.—The Asahi asserts that the obstinacy of the Government is responsible for the attacks on the Christian churches, adding:

"Had the Government lent an ear to the popular voice and refrained from enraging the people by its obduracy Tokio would have been spared the shame and humiliation of the mob rising resulting in the destruction of the mission property. Foreign susceptibility has thus been touched. We regret the occurrence greatly."

The Asahi blames the Home Minister and the chief of police, and declares they should not remain in office.

The Jiji resents the humiliation of the proclamation of martial law and demands the resignation of the cabinet.

CONVENT OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD

An Impressive Ceremony in Which Several Took The Veil.

In the inner chapel of the Monastery of the Good Shepherd on Sherbrooke street, there was an impressive ceremony this morning, when a number of young ladies were received into the congregation. Four novices took their final vows, becoming professed religious, and six postulants received the white gown of the order. Only the relatives of these young ladies and a few others were permitted to witness the ceremony from behind the cloister.

Shortly before eight o'clock, the white-robed sisters, novices and postulants, preceded by a cross-bearer, walked in a long procession through the cloister, carrying lighted tapers and chanting the Ave Maris Stella. Entering the chapel they took their places in rows on either side while the ten principals of the event, attended by the Mother Peoress and Mother Provincial, occupied seats in the centre of the aisle. Both novices and postulants were in white, the former wearing the religious habit with light blue girdles the latter in white muslin gowns with long veils and wreaths of flowers.

After mass, which was celebrated by the chaplain of the house, His Lordship Bishop Racicot delivered a brief address suitable to the occasion. While the novices and postulants retired to the vestry to put on the white serge gown of the order, the choir of nuns chanted the psalm, "How lovely are thy Tabernacles." On their return the postulants were examined by His Lordship as to their desire to enter the order, then each was given the scapular, veil and long church mantle.

The ceremony of profession which followed was even more impressive. Repeating for the last time their will to enter the community, they vowed perpetual poverty, chastity and obedience, promising to employ themselves in the instruction of the girls and women committed to the guidance of the religious of their community. When each had been given the black veil of the professed and the silver heart that is worn about the neck, crowned with a wreath of flowers, they prostrated themselves before the altar. A large black pall was held over the prostrate figures, while the choir chanted the solemn "Libera." This ceremony, symbolic of their death to the world of pleasure, was followed by the chanting of psalms, after which the newly-professed were saluted by each member of the community as sisters.

In the large bright community of the cloister the day was afterwards observed as one of rejoicing, the radiant faces of the newly-professed signifying their content with their choice.

The names of the professed are: Sr. M. Auxiliatrice—Miss Pelletier. Sr. M. de la Compassion—Miss Gagne. Sr. M. Marg du S. Coeur—Miss Brosseau; Sr. M. Claire de la Croix—Miss Brabant.

The novices are: Miss Mary Cournoyer, Sister M. Ste. Radegonde; Miss Cecilia Bero, Sister M. de la Charite; Miss Aurize Lessard, Sister M. de St. Eusebe; Miss Albertine Gadon, Sister M. de St. Bernardin de Sulme; Miss Anna Benoit, Sister de Ste. Anastasie; Miss Hortense Nadeau, Sister de St. Augustin.

SYNOD DISCUSSES MISSIONARY WORK

Triennial Report of the Board of Management Read To-day.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Quebec, September 8. To-day's session of the synod was devoted to discussions of missionary work, the only other business so far being the acceptance of an invitation from the Lake St. John Railway Company for the whole Synod to take a free trip Saturday afternoon to Lake St. Joseph.

When the house of Bishops had joined the lower house, Rev. Dr. Tucker, General Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church in Canada, read the triennial report of the board of management, a very lengthy paper showing the progress of the society's work. Special reference was made to the women's auxiliary, and its work. In the gross receipts which now amount to $90,000 a year. Indian work, foreign missionaries, the literature of the society, the appropriations for 1906, etc.

The paragraphs relating to the general secretary and approving of his work were read by Canon Cody. The balance of the morning was occupied with a discussion on the various motions for adoption of different clauses of the report and with addresses by Rev. Dr. Alsop and M. Thomas on missionary work.

PASSENGER TRAINS COLLIDE.

Ocean Limited Runa Into the Portland Express and Causes Smash-up.

A rear-end collision occurred on the Intercolonial Railway this morning a quarter of a mile east of St. Bruno station, about 14 miles from Montreal. The Ocean Limited Express from Halifax, due to arrive here at 7 a.m., ran into the west-bound Portland express, throwing the engine of the Ocean Limited off the rails, and causing considerable damage to several of the cars. Mr. G. S. Lowe, of the Bank of Montreal, Point St. Charles, one of the passengers, was slightly cut about the head and arms owing to broken glass in one of the Pullman cars.

It is claimed that the accident was caused by carelessness on the part of the train crew who were in charge of the Portland Express. It is stated that the Portland train stopped about a quarter of a mile east of St. Bruno. The brakeman placed two torpedoes on the track, which was a signal for the following train to run slowly, instead of obeying the rules of the road, and remaining the proper distance from the train he was in charge of, until the following train was given the signal to stop, or his train was ready to proceed, he returned, and was standing on the rear of his train when the Ocean Limited approached. The engineer of the Ocean Limited got the signal to run slowly and he reduced the speed of his train to about 15 miles an hour, but owing to fog and slippery rails, and not getting the proper signal to stop, he was unable to avoid the accident.

The following report was received from the Grand Trunk officials:

At 7.20 this morning, east of St. Bruno station, Intercolonial passenger train due in Montreal at 7.10 a.m. ran into the west-bound Portland Express owing to fog and slippery rails. Damage slight. One passenger slightly cut on hands and face owing to broken glass of a mirror in one of the Pullman cars.

Importing Rails from the States.

Owing to the fact that Canadian mills were unable to supply the demand for steel rails, it is stated that the Grand Trunk Railway has placed an order for 10,000 tons with a United States firm. They placed an order some time ago with the Dominion Iron and Steel Company for 25,000 tons to be delivered during the months of June, July, August and September this year, but as they were unable to fill the order, the Grand Trunk people were obliged to make a contract with the United States firm. It was stated that only about 25 per cent. of the Canadian order has been delivered. The Grand Trunk requires the United States firm to deliver their order to the company at Detroit by September 20. A duty of $7 per ton is imposed on all rails coming into this country, so that the net duty on the shipment from the United States will be $35,000.

Fire Commissioner's Report.

The report of the Fire Commissioner for August shows that there were 79 reports for the month against 75 for the corresponding month last year. All these are petty affairs and it was necessary to make only 10 enquiries.

QUEBEC JUDGE MERCIFUL.

Lynch and Dufresne Only Bound Over to Keep Peace.

The prize fighter who was arrested the other day Kid Dufresne, appeared in the Police court to-day with Lynch, who has given himself up.

Both gave bail in $500 to keep the peace for six months and were then discharged from custody.

The arrests were the result of a fight held just a few miles outside of Quebec about a week ago, and which lasted six rounds.

Lynch is a well-known boxer, who has appeared in this city on the Shamrock Lacrosse grounds.

Attempt to Float Victorian.

Another attempt is being made this afternoon to float the Victorian. The steamer is still in the same position with the stern fifty feet in the channel.

The captain of the steamer Druid reports to-day that he passed the Leyland liner Virginian on Seven Islands, and there is no change in her position.

Not In His Right Mind.

Louis de G. Birin, who not long ago attempted to kill himself by jumping into the river, is to be sent to the Longue Pointe Asylum, as Dr. Villeneuve said that he had examined him and found that he was not in his right mind.

WHY THE SULTAN YIELDED TO FRANCE

Germany Refused to be Drawn Into the Morocco Dispute.

GENERAL OPTIMISM NOW

German and French Officials Think All Danger of Misunderstanding Passed.

Special Cable from a Montreal Star Correspondent.

Paris, September 8.—"If any danger of a serious misunderstanding between France and Germany ever existed, it has certainly passed over for all time." This pronouncement was made to-day by Dr. Rosen, the German Emperor's new Minister to Tangiers, who is deeply impressed with the general optimism that is now felt in regard to Moroccan affairs by both French and German officials.

The Sultan yielded yesterday to France completely, because he had received at last a blunt intimation from Germany that the Morocco matter is none of Germany's business, and that the Kaiser cannot allow himself to become embroiled in a dispute between the Sultan and France.

Although some such hint as this was expected it is taken to mean that Germany desires to play a role somewhat more frank than heretofore at least until the present matter is settled. Dr. Rosen has made an excellent impression here. Dr. Rosen and Premier Rouvier parted yesterday after their conference in the most cordial manner.

The Premier followed the German diplomat to the door and seized his hand repeatedly in full view of the idlers on the Seine embankment, who lifted their hats as Dr. Rosen drove away.

THE VALLEYFIELD MYSTERY.

Preliminary Trial of Chatigny Opened To-day.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Valleyfield, September 8.—The preliminary hearing in the case of Dominique Chatigny, charged with murder, was opened to-day. The morning session was largely taken up with the discussion of preliminaries. The prisoner has grown very thin and looks anxious.

Some surprise is expressed that none of the relatives of old George Archambault, the murdered man, who came from Faribault, Minn., have ever considered it worth while to come here to see what disposal was made of his body.

Berlin, September 8.—An official bulletin just issued announces that 19 new cases of cholera and seven deaths were reported during the 24 hours ending at noon to-day, making a total of 123 cases and 39 deaths.

FOREIGN CAPITAL FOR CANADA

Hon. Adelard Turgeon, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Quebec government, left for his home to-day after a visit to the city.

"I have been here largely on private business, he declared, connected with the affairs of the Credit Municipal. Their bankers in Paris are so well satisfied with the operations so far, that they are sending out their chief inspector to seek new investments in Canada. I saw several leading financial men in France and Belgium during my visit at the Jacques Cartier fetes, this summer, and I have every reason to believe that French and Belgian capital will pour into Canada within a short time."

Seeking a Missing Woman.

Dame Firmin Pariseau, about 54 years of age, has been reported missing since August 14, when she was last seen in Montreal. At the time, she was dressed in a black and white waist grey shirt, with brown hat and had two parcels wrapped in newspapers. Mr. Firmin Pariseau, of Beloeil station, is anxious to hear of her whereabouts.

Store Was Broken Into.

At an early hour to-day the store of the William Davies Company on Chabolliez Square was broken into and a few dollars taken from the cash register. The thieves forced open the door which opens on Inspector street and thus effected an entrance.

He is Charged With Theft.

M. Gagne was arrested by Constable Landriault last July on a charge of stealing from a cabby to the extent of forty dollars. As the constable was sick when the case came up, the charge was dismissed by Judge Choquet, who said that the man could be arrested again when the constable would be able to appear. This morning the man appeared before Judge Lafontaine, and his case was remanded for a week.

Charged With Being Vagrants.

John Ryan and John Morrisey pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy this morning when brought before Judge Lafontaine. One of the men made a plea to get off as he was not a vagrant, but a shoemaker by trade, and wished to get work before the winter sets in. The Judge, however, said that he would pass sentence on the 12th of this month.

LADEROUTE TRIED TO BREAK GAOL

Got Through Window Bars But was Seen and Caught in Time.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Bryson, Que., September 8.—Laderoute, who is here a prisoner in the Aylmer murder case, the preliminary hearing of which is to be held here next Tuesday, almost escaped from gaol last evening. He managed to break off a piece of iron on a door of the cell and worked with it on one of the window bars until he got it out of the window sill.

A prisoner whose time expired last evening left a coat in the cell. Laderoute tried to get this coat and escape, but the jailer saw him when the coat was put in and took it from him and he was placed in a private cell.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LANDS.

Denial of a Story That a Company is to Take Them Over.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, September 8.—As reported here the object of the meeting of the president and directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Winnipeg on Wednesday next, is the formation of an important land company.

There is little doubt that some movement of an important nature is contemplated regarding the C. P. R. properties.

Upon enquiry at the office of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy it was stated that while Sir Thomas and other directors were leaving to-morrow for the annual inspection tour there was no arrangement for any meeting in Winnipeg and there was no reason for the formation of a land company at the moment.

Mails Guarded by the Police.

New York, September 8.—Police guard of policemen and mounted police showered with sticks and stones, the United States mail in wagons across the operation of which in New York is threatened by 300 striking drivers carried the mails without delay to-day. During the night four drivers were hurt on wagons passing through East side streets, bricks from the upper floors of tenement houses.

BALAKHAN BURNED BY THE TARTARS

Street Fighting Continues and Fierce Encounters are Reported.

Baku Caucasus, September 8.—Street fighting continued until late last night. The consulates, banks and Government buildings are guarded by troops. Balakhan was completely burned out after the Tartars had plundered it of everything valuable. Although shot down in masses by the artillery, the Tartars were not deterred from their work of wreckage and looting. Fierce fighting and great slaughter occurred at the Balakhan Hospital, where a thousand Armenians and workmen gathered. General Shirinkin sent a detachment of artillery with three guns to the scene and the commander of the detachment summoned the mob to surrender. The latter replied with volleys of stones and some shots which killed one of the gunners. The commander thereupon ordered the troops to fire. The first discharge of the three guns mowed down the mob, killing and wounding many. The latter then fled. Cossacks and infantry reinforcements attempted to recapture the abandoned guns, but were driven back by the suffocating smoke.

Oyster Bay, September 8.—His Majesty the Emperor of China has extended to President Roosevelt his congratulations upon the success of the President's efforts to establish peace between Russia and Japan, and to promote the welfare of mankind." In his congratulations the Emperor is joined by Her Majesty the Empress Dowager of China.

THE NELSON-BRITT MATCH.

James J. Jeffries Says He is to Referee To-morrow.

San Francisco, Cal., September 8.—"I have accepted the offer of $1,000 to referee the contest between Britt and Nelson, and I will be the third man in the ring Saturday, and that is all there is to it," said former champion James P. Jeffries, as he stepped off the train from Los Angeles last night. "I understand that Nelson fears that Nelson will not get a square deal. But the public has demanded that I officiate, knowing full well that I will give both sides a square deal. If I suspect that the least bit of crookedness is going on I will call the fight off in an instant."

It is believed that Manager Nolan will be induced to agree to Jeffries as a referee, and that the deadlock will be broken at the meeting of the managers and the referee to be held to-day.

George Siler, the veteran referee who has been spoken of as an umpire in the event that Jeffries could not be finally decided on, has arrived from Chicago, accompanied by Nelson's father. Siler declared he was not anxious to referee, and spoke as though he would not take the place even if it were offered to him.

The Chronicle says to-day:

From information authoritatively given out last night it appears that ever since three days after the articles for the Britt-Nelson match were signed, instead of the contest being a winner take all proposition, there has been an agreement between the principals that the fighters' share of the receipts should be divided on a basis of sixty per cent. to the winner and forty per cent. to the loser. Moreover, there is no side bet of $10,000.

In answer to the statements that have been made to the effect that Nolan and Nelson were objecting to the referee, as an excuse for "crawling out" of the match because there was no loser's end, it is stated on behalf of the Nelson party that three days after the articles were signed Nolan was approached on behalf of the Britt's, who claimed that the winner take all proposition was not satisfactory to Britt, and that the boxers' share would have to be divided on a sixty and forty per cent. basis or there would be no match. The demand was further made that the side bet of $10,000 be declared off.

Nolan argued the matter according to the statement, and finally said that his only desire was to get Britt in the ring, and that he would in order to secure the match agree to anything that was fair in the matter. As a result, a second agreement was signed, bearing date of the match, that the boxers' share of sixty-five per cent. of the gross receipts should be divided—sixty per cent to the winner and forty per cent. to the loser. The $2,500 deposited as a forfeit on the side bet was returned to Nolan and the cheque for the same amount deposited by Britt was returned to the maker.

WELL PLEASED AT PACIFIC'S REPORT

STOCK WAS STRONG TO-DAY

Another Big Rise in Canada North-West Land Stock, 370 Being Bid for 1000 Shares.

The recent great rise in Canadian Pacific induced more than the usual number of people to scan the annual report which came out to-day.

The progress made by the road was commented upon by all, and a great deal of satisfaction was expressed at the wonderful manner in which the road was making headway.

One little item tucked away in the report was read with special interest by the stock market followers, namely, the announcement that of the $25,000,000 new stock offered to the shareholders at par, all was subscribed for "excepting 2,500 shares, which will be sold in the open mrket."

This seems to be rather an unusual proceeding, yet on the other hand it is just like so much found money for the road to take advantage of the present high price and sell stock in that way. It was probably, in any case, an odd lot left over from the allotment. At par, the shares would have yielded the company $250,000. Marketed at 160, the company would get $400,000. It is a little block of stock that Wall Street would swallow up in ten minutes on an active day.

A strong rally in the London market at the opening carried Canadian and American stocks up from ¼ to 1¼ per cent., with special strength in Canadian Pacific, Union and Reading.

Wall Street was inclined to follow the lead at first, but in subsequent dealings a good deal of irregularity was developed. Canadian Pacific was the interesting stock, and the great bulk of the morning's trades were in the vicinity of 164. There was a little trading locally at around that figure, but local speculators were again inclined to watch the Wall Street market with more interest than they did the local list.

The feeling that the trend of stock prices in the immediate future will depend largely upon the course of money rates, is now very general. Call money loaned to-day at 3 per cent. in Wall Street, and of the position in New York Post points out that in view of predictions that the banks will shortly be compelled by the condition of the money market to contract loans, much of the market discussion to-day centred on the possibility that traders may even make a matter of purchasing stocks now for quick turn. It is simply a question evidently, of how quickly the expected contailing will come. Traders have a habit of as close to it as it would be possible to such circumstances, and the impending crisis intuition or further warning events to get them out of the market just before the time of reckoning. At present, however, some of the most astute are giving heed of the totally unexpected increase in the Bank of England rate and reasoning that this money market is not one to trifle with.

"Soo" common was on the strong side in Wall Street and sold up to 137, an advance of over 2 points. Trading was light. This is the first spirt the stock has taken since the very disappointing dividend announcement.

In regard to Dominion Coal, a wire from the east says:

"Dominion No. 6 is now commencing to figure as a shipper and will soon be heard from to great advantage. The older collieries are working at a rate near maximum, as labor conditions stand at present. Skilled labor is scarce. Unskilled labor is being constantly brought in, but is of a most unsatisfactory nature. With better labor a larger output could be secured. No. 2 colliery now has a good lead over its output and will maintain it. September output promises to be large."

The Havana shares are having a good breathing spell but the report of the company are inclined to credit that they will soon come to the front. The gross earnings for the week ending September 5 were $38,360 against $4,000 last year, an increase of $3,414.

The Hill stocks were strongest. Northern Pacific was more active and 2 pts to 208½. Northern Securities were 1½ to 189.

Union Pacific for the month of July showed a net increase of $

Outside of Pacific, the sales of Canadians in Wall Street were small. The record to noon was as follows:

DULUTH HAS BIG GAIN.

Duluth wound up August with the big gain of $23,815. From July 1st the road's increase is $66,390.

TRADING ON LOCAL "CURB."

The New Rio Issue Will Not Be Made Right Away.

The "curb" market has been dull this week. The unlisted securities have apparently been allowed to shift for themselves and have acted very well.

Rios sold up to 50¾, and were quoted to-day at the close at 48½ to 49½. The bonds were firm at 75 bid. The report that some three million underwriting would be made seems a little premature. On the strengthening of this rumor a leading English banking house bid for the total amount at the market, but the officials of the company say that there will be no underwriting offered for some time as there are ample funds in the treasury for all needs, and the earnings of the traction properties are paying handsomely on the investment.

Mexican stocks were neglected this week, the stock varying between 65½ to 67, and closing at that figure. The installation of the first unit of power is expected to be announced in a few days, and bonds have been loath to part with their stock. The bonds have been at 80½ to 81.

Sovereign Bank is still quoted at 131 to 135, with no sales reported.

Shawinigan is still wanted at 17, with 200 offered at 19.

NO SESSION ON SATURDAY.

By a vote of 15 to 13 the members of the Montreal Exchange decided to continue the Saturday holidays, and there will consequently be no session to-morrow.

HAVE ANOTHER BIG RISE.

The tremendous rise in Canada North-West land shares is a subject of much comment. This week a local broker has repeatedly bid 370 for 1,000 shares of the common, with no sellers in sight.

THE BULL TALK ON C. P. R.

Here is a sample of the bull talk on C. P. R. that comes floating over the wires: It is reported there is a tremendous short interest in Canadian Pacific. It is stated that certain large holders have received advices from a man of prominence who is now abroad stating there will be important developments in Canadian Pacific soon.

GOSSIP ON DOMINION COAL.

August and July Increases Were Exceptionally Good.

Yesterday the Star published the Dominion Coal output by mines. The comparative record for three years, by months, is shown as follows:

	1905.	1904.	1903.
January	160,818	201,721	270,120
February	176,278	183,500	258,738
March	236,765	236,290	259,669
April	213,541	242,625	263,875
May	240,189	314,355	251,812
June	242,926	321,090	283,000
July	267,355	275,850	278,850
August	227,206	243,509	244,235

It will be noted that the output increased in July and August are exceptionally large.

It is expected that September will make an equally good showing.

SUES FOR HALF A MILLION.

Bank of Yarmouth Directors Sued for Money Lost.

A writ was issued on Wednesday in the suit of W. E. Stavert, liquidator of the Bank of Yarmouth, against Senator John Lovitt, S. A. Crowell, Augustus Cann, J. Bradley Cann and Leslie Lovitt, directors of the bank, for a declaration that the defendants were guilty of a breach of trust and negligence as directors and for payment of money lost by said bank.

The amount is about half a million dollars. The suit is in the interest of the shareholders who seek to recover their losses from the directors. A call has been made for the double liability.

BANK OF ENGLAND'S RATE.

First Change Since March in Its Rate of Discount.

The Bank of England yesterday advanced its minimum rate of discount from 2½ to 3 per cent., the first change since March, and the first advance since 1903.

On March 9 the rate was reduced to 2½ per cent. from 3, the rate established on April 21, 1904. The week before (April 14) the rate had been reduced to 3½ from 4, the rate maintained from September 3, 1903, when it was advanced from 3 per cent.

HILL ROADS ARE DOING WELL.

In an interview yesterday, James J. Hill said that the first two months of the fiscal year have shown good results on the roads with which he is identified, and that the prospects are bright for a continuance of good business.

WAR BONDS SHADE LOWER.

The war bonds were not materially changed to-day. The Japs in Wall Street were 101 for the first 6's, 90⅜ for the new 4½'s, and 90⅝ for old 4½'s.

In London Russian Imperial bonds were ⅜ lower at 94¾.

TWIN CITY'S GOOD GAINS.

The Twin City Rapid Transit for the fourth week of August showed a decrease of $2,317. For the month the increase was $33,602, and from January 1st the gain was $203,613.

A LOCAL BROKER'S VIEW OF "STEEL"

Reorganization Scheme, He Thinks, Will be Arranged During Next Year.

THE FOUR MONTH'S EARNINGS

The Standing of Dominion Steel First and Second Mortgage Bonds and What They Yield.

A leading member of the Montreal Exchange, who is well posted on Dominion Steel matters, has written a rather interesting letter to a client, in connection, chiefly, with the bond issues of that concern.

After referring to the annual meeting, which will be held next month, the letter says:

"The earnings for the first four months of the year amounted to about $315,000, which, after providing for all fixed charges, including sinking and redemption funds, left a surplus of nearly $25,000. Since then the rail mill has been started up, and its earnings will consequently be clear profit to the company.

"As the sinking and redemption funds will amount this year to $200,000, and next year to $290,000, it would be quite reasonable to expect that some reorganization scheme will be arranged next year, following the example set by the Dominion Coal Company, which will provide for the redemption of the existing issues of bonds, so as to obviate the large annual payments for sinking and redemption funds, and leave a large amount available for dividends.

"The large demand for steel rails, structural steel, steel rods, etc., which is assured for years to come owing to the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the extension of the Canadian Northern, the double tracking and new branches of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the various other railroad enterprises in Canada, ensures a large and increasing market for the output of the company.

"It would seem, therefore, that the premier securities of the company, the first and second mortgage bond issues, are now on a stable footing, and should command the attention of both the investing and speculative public.

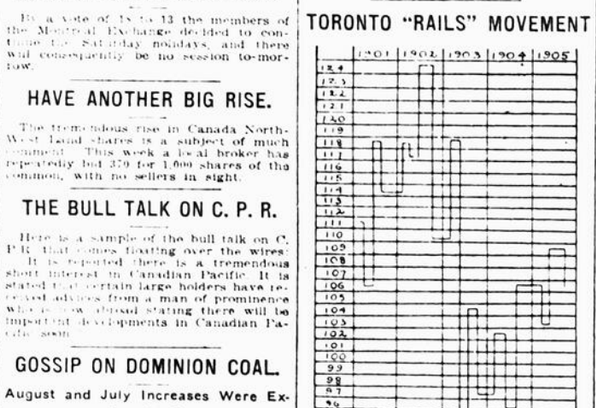
"The 1st mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due in 1929, of which there are $7,876,000 issued, have behind them the following securities, the market value of which is as follows:

$2,400,000 second mortgage bonds at 82	$1,968,000
$5,000,000 preferred stock at 72	3,600,000
$20,000,000 common stock at 21 1-2	4,300,000
Total	$9,868,000

"The 2nd mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, which are payable in ten annual instalments, have behind them the preferred and common stock, the present market value of which is $2,900,000, or nearly four times the value of the issue.

"Under these circumstances, the 1st mortgage bonds now selling at 85, which yield 5.88 per cent. on the investment, and the 2nd mortgage bonds, now selling at 82, which yield about 11 per cent., certainly look attractive."

TORONTO "RAILS" MOVEMENT



Toronto Railway stock is now midway between its high and low level of recent years.

There has been very little life to the stock of late, and so far it has failed to respond to the road's record breaking earnings, and the talk of a 6 per cent. dividend.

It is expected that the company will earn well over 9 per cent. this year, in which case it could easily afford to make the increase.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

E. & C. Randolph.—The speculative element seems disinclined to enter into new commitments on either side, and the bulls are undoubtedly afraid of to-morrow's bank statement and higher money rates. Call money remains firm at 3 per cent.

Charles Head.—There is little outside interest, and the traders are inclined to sell on the advance. On the other hand, the shorts have not covered to any extent, and the undertone is strong. It looks as though the rally would be carried further this afternoon.

J. S. Bache.—The market looks as if it might work higher, but there is no life to the rally now, it may sell off later on on the bank statement forecast. If so, would buy on all recessions.

Burnett & Co.'s London cable.—After a flat opening the securities markets show some improvement. Gilt-edged investment issues steadied and Americans are hardening. Rio Tintos up ⅜ to 66⅜. South Africans slightly higher. Canadian issues show special strength.

J. B. Picken.—The information on Atchison is still bullish. The stock is in the trading position still, but has exhibited a little weakness. Smelting is now held better. According to a specialist, professionals await the breaking of support or check before taking an aggressive stand. Be satisfied with moderate profits for the present.

N. P. Bryant—The Erie annual shows actual earning power of about 3¼ per cent. on the common, which will be increased substantially by current improvements. There is fresh talk of an early Southern Pacific dividend.

Edmund Randolph.—This market looks sold out and over-sold to me. Small people have been frightened by Lawson and the bugaboo of tight money (which will not materialize) into selling stocks. There has been a bear party, and stocks have been sold heavily by professionals. There is nothing in the situation that I can see to sell stocks on, and every reason to buy them on any concession like the present.

Mr. John Morrison, who has acquired a reputation as a keen critic at bank and corporation meetings, and who is always handy with a few timely questions for the directors to answer, has not assumed the mantle of critic in recent years.

As far back as the days of Lord Strathcona's active participation in C. P. R and Bank of Montreal affairs, Mr. Morrison attended meetings and crossed swords with all comers.

A rather good story is told of the times that the main part of the C. P. R. was in the course of construction.

At each of the Bank of Montreal meetings, it was the habit of Lord Strathcona, then Sir Donald Smith, to tell the meeting of the progress being made by the C. P. R., and, needless to say, his remarks were interesting.

When the C. P. R. was completed, Sir Donald celebrated the event at the bank meeting with a speech on the road of nearly an hour in duration.

When he had finished, Mr. Morrison launched into oratory, and it began to look as if he would occupy about the same time as Sir Donald.

People at the meeting began to get restless, and many signalled Sir Donald, who was in the chair, to call him to order.

The moment Mr. Morrison touched upon a somewhat irrevelant topic, Sir Donald rapped the occasion and told the speaker that while his speech was, no doubt, instructive, they had gathered to discuss the affairs of the bank.

"Well, Mister Chairman," said Mr. Morrison, "I am very glad to hear you say that. We have just listened to your own speech, which was composed of 9 yards of C. P. R. with 1 inch of Bank of Montreal tacked on."

Said a local broker:

"Someone asked in the Star last night why the bonds of the Dominion Steel Co., which look so cheap, do not move.

"The answer is that the local market is simply dead. Why, you can't go down there and sell a $20 gold piece for $19.50."

"Why all this fuss about manipulation in C.P.R.?" said a local broker.

"There is manipulation in all stocks that are any way active. Do you suppose that the stock market goes up without manipulation? Not once in ten years. There is manipulation going on all the time.

In a market such as we had in 1901, it was not necessary, the public would have paid 40 cents for a plugged quarter then, but markets of the 1901 brand are scarce.

Manipulation at times does not do the market any harm. In fact, it strikes me that a little of it just now in the Montreal market would do it a lot of good."

One joker had this on the wire yesterday:

"Sell Southern Pacific. E. H. Harriman stoned by angry mob in Tokio. He was badly frightened. Go short of all Harriman stocks and only cover when the news arrives that he is out of the hospital."

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Senator Forget, Mr. Charles F. Hosmer and Mr. H. B. Mackie leave for the west to-morrow on another look at the growing country.

The party will be back in time for the annual meeting of the C.P.R.

CANADIAN PACIFIC LEADER.

Showed the Best Gain in Wall Street To-day.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star in Wall Street.

New York September 8.—Practically all the active shares showed initial advances of half a point up to more than two points in the morning's market. These gains seemed to reflect an almost entirely unexpected strength advance in London for American stocks. Advances that point extend from fractional limits to a point and over, and were succeeded by foreign buying in this market upon a fairly large scale.

Interest centred chiefly upon the monetary situation, and it seemed to be generally apprehended that to-morrow's bank statement will show a still further reduction in the already small surplus reserves.

Both Russian and Japanese bonds were weak in London on account of internal disturbances in both countries.

Advances in local market led to profit-realizing sales, under which a number of stocks receded from high levels they had made at the outset.

The most extensive advance in any stock was in Canadian Pacific, but many other active issues showed good gains. United States Steel shares were notably strong and active.

BROKER'S VIEW OF TAX LAW.

Mr. W. H. Weir Predicts More Trouble in Active Times.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—In regard to the tax on sales and transfers of stocks, I do not for a moment believe that the Government realized the embargo it was putting on the business, of not only the Stock Exchange, but all companies and corporations. Although the act has already created a great deal of confusion, it will be nothing to what will arise when the market becomes active and the brokers have a great many transfers to make. The other day I saw a 25-share scrip with no less than ten transfer stamps on it. What the fate of that scrip will be when it reaches the transfer office is not easy to imagine. The brokers have done everything in their power to make the act workable and comply with the law.

If the tax had been made on sales, we could have put the stamp on our contract sale note, and that would have been the end of the transaction. And as there can be no sale without delivery and no delivery without a transfer, and as the law does not now apply to transfers for security of loans, the tax on sales would have covered all and put an end to the legal difficulties and the uncertain ground we stand on in reference to the legality of transfers. I have known the tax to have been paid four times on the same transaction—before the scrip could be transferred to a client. You can easily see how this sort of thing will drive business away from the Province of Quebec. Surely our Government, which has been known as a businesslike and progressive one, never intended this. We want the grand old province to be what she always has been to Canada, the financial centre. This is not the way to keep it so.

LATEST ESTIMATE OF WESTERN CROP

91,633,000 Bushels of Wheat —Oat Crop Also Large.

THRESHING NOW GENERAL

Market Firm at Chicago—Claimed Good Export Business in Manitoba Wheat.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Chicago, Ill., September 8.—September wheat sold from 80½ to 81¾, and December from 81⅞ to 82¾, compared with the closings yesterday of 81 and 82¾, respectively.

There was a strong undercurrent with both the shorts and longs on the building side. The bears made several drives at the market, and by persistent selling, were enabled to make an occasional indention.

On the removal of the selling pressure there were quick reactions.

Cables were better and the news from abroad was more or less bullish in character.

The Missouri and Kentucky reports were bearish, while the flour demand showed improvement. The cash wheat trade continues slow, the wheat going aboard is mainly Canadian.

Manitoba grain merchants are using the Chicago market to help move their big wheat crop. Liberal hedging sales have been made here in the last few days by Winnipeg grain men as a protection against their purchases in the interior, or for grain in transit to the Atlantic ports. Manitoba is getting the lion's share of the export trade thus far.

American farmers are more able to hold their wheat for the chance of a higher market later in the crop year. Manitoba No. 1 northern wheat was offered at the seaboard at about 2½ cents lower than any contract grade wheat could be bought on the Chicago market.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, Man., September 8.—Over ninety-one and a half million bushels of wheat is what the Canadian West will produce this year, according to an estimate made by Frank G. Fowler, secretary of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association. This is a report showing the crop condition on August 15. Mr. Fowler figures on acreage, average yield, and total production of wheat, oats, barley and flax. His figures are as follows:

	Acres.	Average yield.	Total yield.
Wheat	4,150,000	22.5	91,633,290
Oats	1,150,000	57.2	67,165,000
Barley	432,000	31.5	15,664,200
Flax	24,000	19.5	471,150

It will be noticed that the average yield of wheat is placed at over 4,000,000 acres. According to reports issued by the Manitoba and Territorial Governments some time ago, the acreage under crop of wheat was figured at 2,646,788 for Manitoba and 1,119,836 for the Territories, fall and winter wheat, total, 3,793,146 acres, or a difference between the Government and Fowler's figures of 225,000 acres.

The average yield of wheat is placed at 22.5 bushels. There is no doubt that in many sections this figure will be exceeded.

Another bumper crop will be oats, the production being placed at 67,165,000 bushels on an area of 1,422,000 acres, and an average yield of 47.2 bushels per acre.

Barley also shows an increase in acreage and the yield is excellent, the increase being figured at 15,664,200 bushels.

Flax, on the contrary, shows a remarkable falling off in area, the average being estimated at only 34,900 acres, as compared with 51,606 a year. The decrease is due to the fact that flax is a troublesome crop to raise compared with wheat, and there is not the market for it that there is in wheat and oats.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cartwright, Manitoba, September 8.—The first wheat was marketed yesterday and graded No. 1 Northern. It was grown by George Lumbis, farm north of the town. The yield is between 25 and 30 bushels per acre.

Threshing will be general by the end of the week.

Winnipeg, September 8.—The inspection of wheat was as follows yesterday:

The spot wheat market at Liverpool closed fully 1¾d lower than last night, at 6s 5d to 6s 6d for No. 3 nor. Mar.

Options closed stronger than last night, Sept. being 3¼d up, at 6s 10d, and Dec. ¼d up, at 6s 7¾d.

Antwerp was steady to-day. Bahia Blanca closing at 17⅜.

Paris closed 10 down on Sept., at 22 45, and 10 down on Nov. and Feb., at 23 05.

Chicago: September wheat was ⅛c higher than last night at noon, at 81¾c. Dec. being ¼c higher, at 82½c. Sept. corn was ¼c down, at 53¾. Dec. being steady at 43⅞. Sept. oats were ⅛c up at noon, at 28, and Dec. ⅛c up, at 27¾c.

Duluth was ¼c down on new Sept., at 77½c, and steady on old, at 81½c. Dec. was ¼c down, at 76¾c.

Minneapolis was steady on Sept., at 81c, and ⅛c down on Dec., at 80⅜c.

Winnipeg was ¼c down on Sept., at 77¾c, at noon, and ⅛c down on Oct., at 77c.

LOCAL MARKET.—Demand for oats for export showed an improvement to-day, and prices were a fraction firmer, at 32½c offered for Sept. shipment. Local demand for oats was on the easy side, and dealers quoted 31½ to 32c for No. 2 oats on spot, in store, and a cent less to arrive. No. 3 oats are a cent under No. 2 in both cases. The above prices are all for new oats, old being quoted at about 35c to 40c in store.

HAY.—Demand from all quarters is fair.

The market is weak on spot, with an over supply, and firm at country points to fill outside engagements. Prices here are now $8.50 to $9 for No. 1, $7.50 to $8 for No. 2, and $6.50 to $7 for clover mixed.

FLOUR DECLINED IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Man., September 8.—There was a drop of [illegible] cents in the price of first three grades of flour yesterday. This has been expected for some time, owing to the new crop being about due.

Cotton Yield Disappointing.

Asheville, N.C., September 8.—The summary of the cotton crop of 1905-6, as reported by the statistical commission of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, is as follows:

Production, 9,655,113 bales; percentage of condition as compared with last year, 73.3, as compared with the Government estimate of 72.1.

The yield is regarded as exceedingly small, as from ten to ten and half million bales were confidently expected.

DAIRY PRODUCE IS EASIER.

Prices are a Shade Lower and Trade is very Dull.

Huntingdon, Que., September 8.—The Huntingdon Dairymen's Exchange met to-day. 2n factories boarded 84 boxes of white and 180 boxes of colored cheese, and 550 packages of fresh and 148 packages of salted butter. Cheese sold for 11 to 11 1-16c. Fresh butter sold at 22½c and salted at 22½c.

CHEESE.—There is an easier feeling in the market this morning but it is doubtful if holders would sacrifice very much to make sales. Demand from the other side is exceptionally dull, there being no orders in at full prices. It is hard to say what will be the result of the present stand-off. Buyers in England evidently are looking for September cheese at less money, but factorymen in the country do not seem disposed to let their cheese go, and doubtless the market will be pretty well supplied by exporters during the present month.

It is claimed that purchases may be made to-day at 11¾ to 11¾c for easterns, and 11½ to 11⅝c for westerns.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade were only 694 boxes to-day.

BUTTER.—The market was rather easy this forenoon. Factorymen from the north were offering their butter at the cool storage points, and settlements had been arrived at by one o'clock, at 21¾ to 21⅞c, some going as low as 21c. A cable to sell finest Townships at less than 22c met with no response, so that the feeling of importers on the other side may be judged.

The range of prices is from 22 to 22¼c for finest Township creameries, with some holders quoting under these figures. Good to fine is quoted at 21¾ to 21⅞c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 2,983 packages.

EGGS.—Supplies are light, and demand fair.

Straight gathered stock is selling at about 18½c here, and costing a cent less in the country. No. 1 stock sells at 18c to 18½, and selects at 22c, some bringing 23c. No. 2 stock brings all sorts of prices, according to quality, from 15 to 16½c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 792 cases.

POTATOES.—Dealers report that they are now paying 1¼ per lb. to farmers, so that 80 lb. bags are costing about 40c. These are selling at 55c each, in a jobbing way. The quality of the stock coming in is fair, but is reported from some sections, but not being at all menacing as yet.

BEANS.—The market shows very little change to-day. Demand is dull, and the outlook fairly firm. Prices are $1.65 to $1.70 per bushel for primes in jobbing or wholesale lots.

COUNTRY BOARDS EASIER.

Kingston, September 8.—At the Frontenac cheese board salesmen refused 11c. The sales-books registered, of which 151 were colored.

Tweed, September 8.—There was no meeting of the cheese board.

Madoc, September 8.—There was no meeting of the cheese board.

Winchester, Ont., September 8.—At the regular weekly meeting of the cheese board 25 boxes of colored and 640 boxes of white were registered, 35 boxes of colored and 180 boxes of white were sold on the board at 11¾c.

LEMONS STILL THE FEATURE

Prices Very Strong—Fruit Market Shows Considerable Activity.

The market for fruit showed very little change the past week. Lemons continue to show great firmness and stocks are light. Bananas are in good supply, and all sorts of California fruit is fairly plentiful and in good demand. Canadian basket fruit is also coming in well and trade is good. Canadian grapes are still scarce, but will shortly be coming forward in liberal quantities.

Hurd and Haskell's circular quotes the market as follows:

CALIFORNIA FRUIT.—Demand is fair for everything offering. Pears, boxes, $2.75 to $4.25; peaches, per box, $1.85 to $2.15; plums crates, $2.75 to $3.50; Tokay grapes crates, $2.75.

ORANGES.—Fancy California late Valencias, "Defender" brand, 200, 216 and 250 sizes, $6.50; do 288 sizes, $6.25.

LEMONS.—These are the feature of the market, and the strength which has frequently been referred to, is shown in the quotations of $7.50 per box of 300 extra fancy lemons.

SWEET POTATOES.—Fine quality per barrel, $2.50, extra fancy, Vineland in bushel baskets, $2.25.

MUSK MELONS.—Baskets containing 9 to 12 melons, per basket, $5.00 to $7.00.

APPLES.—Demand is good. Duchess and Astrachan, per barrel, $2.00 to $2.25.

PINEAPPLES.—There is a slow trade. Fancy 18 size, $5.50.

BANANAS.—Supply is fair. Extra fancy Jumbos, $2.15 to $2.25.

ONIONS.—Spanish onions, large cases, about 70 lbs., $2.75. Canadian red onions, bbls., $2.25.

CANADIAN BASKET FRUIT.—Plums, 20 quart basket, 50 to 60c; peaches, do, 75c; pears, 60 to 75c.

VEGETABLES.—Cabbage, per dozen, 40c; cucumbers per doz., 15c; cauliflowers per doz., $1.50; corn, 15c; beans, per bag, 75c; potatoes, per bag, $1.

APPLES.—New golden stock, 4½c.

NUTS.—Grenoble nuts, new stock, 100 to bag, $3.25; peanuts, "Bon-Ton," roasted, 11c; "Sun" brand, roasted, 10c; Spanish, shelled, 11c; "Virginia," shelled, 11c; "Sun" brand, roasted, 7½c; Grenoble walnuts, 14c; Tarragona almonds, 12½; Sicily filberts, 11c; shelled walnuts, 26c; Brazils, 15c; pecans, large, 15c; shelled almonds, 24c.

IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY.

Situation in United States is Very Encouraging.

In a few exceptional cases there have been distinct advances, notably Gray Forge pig iron, and Bessemer and angles, says Dun's Review of New York. The general situation is without change, improvement having been in progress for many weeks. New business is still irregularly distributed, a few favored departments being crowded while other shops search for it. The better tone. Purchases of pig iron by leading interests have not yet attained expected proportions, but that concern has most of its blast furnace capacity active.

Plans are being prepared to enlarge the open hearth capacity, which will call for much material, but will subsequently add to the production. Large orders for steel rails were placed during the past week, chiefly for delivery next year. No change in the list price is contemplated. Wire mills have also secured more business, and in plates and merchant steel the new tonnage is heavy.

Bessemer pig is the active feature at Pittsburg of the raw materials, while open hearth billets are very scarce and commanding higher prices. Structural shapes and railway equipment lead in general interest, most works being behind with deliveries, and new business is constantly offered. Machinery and hardware reports are favorable, and on the whole, the industry is in a better position than at any previous time this year, while prospects for 1906 are even brighter, provided a boom with the usual inflation of prices should be avoided.

DOMINION APPLE CROP LIGHT.

One-third of Last Year's Crop, But Better Quality.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 8.—Mr. A. McNeill, chief of the fruit division of the Department of Agriculture, has made his fruit crop report for August.

The conditions are practically unchanged since the July report. The weather has been favorable the whole most favorable. A few wind storms have been reported, but the effects have been local, and not in the large commercial orchards. Insects are singularly more numerous than last year, especially the codlin moth and San Jose scale, fungus diseases have not developed abnormally during the month.

The feature of the month is the apple reports. The crop is now so far advanced that a fair

THE WORKING EXPENSES

The working expenses for the year are 69.32 per cent. of the earnings, as compared with 69.61 per cent. for the previous year. The net earnings were sufficient to pay the interest on bonds and rentals of leased lines and the charges and liens on Railway Contracts, the Duluth, Lake Erie and Pacific Railway Company, the Northern Colonization Railway Company and the Guelph and Goderich Railway Company, the interest on which had been guaranteed by your company.

Preference stock to the amount of £900,000 was also created and sold, and the proceeds applied to purposes for which authority had been obtained.

During the year 50,586 acres of land were sold for $2,416,500, being an average of $4.80 per acre, and from the proceeds of land sales a further amount of $3,500,000 was deposited with the Dominion Government on account of the $15,000,000 land bonds, mortgage leaving a balance due on account of this mortgage of $5,000,000, against which are offered investments on account of land and town sites sold of $4,650,129.

The company's guarantee was endorsed on consolidated bonds of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway Company to the amount of $3,620,000, representing the cost of 181 miles of additional railway constructed in extension of its system, which extension promises to add to the already prosperous business of that company.

TWO NEW STEAMSHIPS

Two additional steamships for the Atlantic service of 11,200 tons gross register and 18 1-2 knots sea speed are being constructed under a contract authorized at the last annual meeting. It is expected that these steamships will be ready for service on the opening of the St. Lawrence navigation in 1906. Their cost with equipment will be approximately $900,000, and a resolution authorizing the issue and sale of the necessary securities to meet this expenditure will be submitted for approval.

Of the additional $25,000,000 ordinary capital stock authorized at the last annual meeting, the amount of $16,500,000 was offered to the shareholders at par, and all was subscribed for except 2,500 shares, which will be sold in the open market.

The directors recommend that an amount equivalent to 15 per cent. of the last issue of ordinary share capital, or $2,535,000, be transferred, as was done in the case of the previous issue, from the accumulated surplus earnings, this amount to be transferred to a special fund for improvements, and for such other purposes as in the opinion of the directors may conduce to the company's advantage.

In accordance with the by-laws of the company, the undermentioned directors will retire from office at the approaching annual meeting. They are eligible for re-election: Chas. R. Hosmer, Esq., Hon. Robert Mackay, David McNicoll, Esq., Robert G. Reid, Esq.

The company sustained a serious loss by the death in March last of Mr. George R. Harris, who has been a member of the board since 1885. He was always an active and zealous member of the board, and at all times evinced the greatest interest in the welfare of the company.

He Will Be Committed.

A man named Lafranchise, who was charged with having stolen a box of soider from a load that was to have been delivered by him for the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company, was before the Enquete Court yesterday. Judge Lafontaine said he would commit him on Monday.

The carter, it appeared, received the goods to be delivered on Saturday evening, and when he went to the establishment where the goods were to be delivered he found the place closed. He then returned to the stables and covered over the goods on the waggon. Sunday morning he returned and loitered around for an hour or so as if he were going to clean his horse. On Monday when the goods were to be delivered one of the four boxes was missing.

RUSSIAN ENVOYS ENTERTAINED AT DINNER IN NEW YORK AND M. WITTE MAKES SPEECH

New York, September 8.—Col. George Harvey entertained at dinner last night at the Metropolitan Club, the Russian peace envoys, M. Witte, Baron Rosen, and the members of their suites. Eighty persons were present. Mr. Witte spoke first, saying he had insisted upon being accorded that privilege that he might have the honor to propose a toast "to the health of the illustrious statesman, Theodore Roosevelt," He added:

"At the same time, it is my great pleasure and I believe it my duty to propose a toast to the prosperity of the great and marvellous American people who are so admirably personified in the President. I drink to this republic and its President, Mr. Roosevelt."

Col. Harvey followed M. Witte and proposed a health to the Russian Emperor, which was drank standing. He offered a greeting "from the great white nation of the West to the great white nation of the East."

Baron Rosen gave a personal estimate of the Russian Emperor, and said it was next to impossible for any one to conceive the responsibility of the man who governed one hundred and fifty millions of people and a territory embracing one-sixth of the inhabited portion of the globe. When President Roosevelt whispered the word "Peace" it found a hearty echo in the breast of the Emperor. "Peace," he said, "was the passionate desire of Russia, but Russia wanted the peace that comes of right to the just man armed, and not the peace given to the beaten craven."

Elihu Root, Secretary of State, congratulated the envoys on the success of their mission. He referred to the courage which had enabled the representatives of both great nations to make peace, for he said, it required more courage to make peace than to make war.

"Men who cry most loudly for war," Mr. Root continued, "and who criticize the inevitable concessions to honorable peace are the weaklings who never fight. It is the antithesis of these qualities which have made our President such a fitting emissary of peace. Only he who is known to be willing to make war is heard with respect when he implores for peace."

OLD CROP WHEAT VS. NEW.

Claim Made That This Year's Crop Will Be Satisfactory.

In connection with the article on "Old and New Wheat Flours," which recently appeared in the Montreal press, and was originally produced in the American Miller, one largely interested in the milling business was asked if it were not possible under certain conditions for new wheat to give better results than old.

"Does history repeat itself? I am strongly of opinion that it will," said the gentleman. "Referring to the article in the American Miller on old and new wheat flour, it may be admitted that given samples of equal quality, the old wheat will produce a better flour than the new. The writer of the recent article does not make a positive statement that at all times the old wheat flour is better than the new, probably for the following reason. Any miller of Manitoba flour milled from the season's wheat crop of 1902 was well aware that the result was very unsatisfactory. He would also be aware of the fact that the flour produced from the season's crop of 1903, the moment the new wheat reached the mill and was ground, was much superior to the old wheat flour milled from the crop of 1902. All users of flour milled from the Manitoba crop of 1904 are well aware that the wheat was a poor flour maker and much inferior to the crop of 1903. At the risk of being called visionary, I will prophesy that the present wheat crop of the season 1905, the moment the new wheat is milled, will produce a flour, in my opinion, superior to the flour from the crop of 1904. The climatic conditions existing for the six weeks before the crop was cut were all that could be desired, and in point of fact, was the weather required to produce wheat that will give excellent results, from a milling and baking standpoint.

"Therefore, as I have said, history may repeat itself, and I believe will, that the flour produced from the season's crop of 1905 will excel in point of quality the flour milled from the crop of 1904, as was the case when the new wheat of 1902 gave better results than the old wheat milled from the 1902 crop.

"It is now on record that new Ontario wheat flour made from the year's crop is giving better satisfaction that flour made from the old crop wheat of 1904.

"It may be possible that the article referred to in the American Miller was inspired by parties loaded up with a stock of old wheat, it being decidedly in the interests of those people to let the public know that flour made from the new wheat is of inferior quality. I am interested as a holder of old wheat, but at the same time the facts stand prominently out that the present season's crop, both in the United States and Canada, is superior to that of 1904, both in quantity and quality."

TERROR-STRICKEN INHABITANTS ARE FLEEING FROM THE CITY OF BAKU

Baku, September 8.—The situation here last night could hardly be worse. The terror-stricken inhabitants are fleeing from the city, knowing that the garrison is inadequate to protect them, and although the worst scenes of fire and massacre have not yet occurred in Baku itself, no one dares think how far the excesses may spread.

The entire oil and commercial quarters of Balakhan, Sabunto and Nomani have been wiped out by fire, and the inhabitants remaining behind were massacred and thrown into the flames. Bibiebat continues to burn, and is threatened with the same fate as Balakhan.

The consulates, banks and administration buildings here are guarded by troops. All of the English residents and almost all other inhabitants of the better class have boarded ships and gone to sea to escape from danger. All available steamers have been employed for this purpose. Martial law has been proclaimed here. Nobody is allowed on the streets after 8 p.m., and inhabitants of houses are held strictly responsible for shots fired from them. Artillery was employed against one house from which shots were fired. The walls were breached, the house was stormed, and all the people inside were killed. There is a general panic here.

An army of hungry workmen, driven in from the burned suburbs, has flocked into the city. There is the greatest destitution, and measures for transporting the workmen from the city are imperatively necessary.

Reinforcements of troops are arriving daily.

EVENTS OF SIX DAYS.

Following is a brief review, in sequence, of the events of the last six days as witnessed at Baku.

At about 5 p.m. on Sunday reports were spread that the Tartars and Armenians were massacreing each other. Everybody was immediately greatly alarmed and a panic prevailed. Stores were closed and windows and doors were barricaded. Twenty minutes later sounds of rifle firing were heard from the various quarters of the city.

At 7 p.m. patrols of Cossacks and other soldiers began to arrive from the barracks, and these troops engaged the rioters. The fire between the warring factions continued all Saturday night. On Sunday the situation showed no improvement and firing was in progress during all the day, the streets being deserted except for combatants. No one dared to leave his house during the day. A carriage, surrounded by Cossacks, conveyed the city authorities to the house of the Governor-General. At 8 p.m. Sunday the first reflection on the sky of fire in the "Black Town" quarter was noticed, and it was learned that the Nobel oil reservoirs were burning.

Sunday night was more fearful than the night preceding. Fires broke out in several quarters and the firing of the troops was uninterrupted.

Fires also broke out in the suburbs of Balakhan and Sabanto. Telephonic communication between Baku and these points was destroyed, and it was impossible to ascertain what was burning on Monday.

Many inhabitants braved danger in an effort to leave the city. They went in cabs surrounded by Cossacks to the railway station and the flight from the city soon became general.

BURNED BY TARTARS.

Tiflis, Caucasus, September 8.—All the spirit distilleries and silk weaving works in the district of Shusha have been burned by Tartars. Part of the workmen succeeded in escaping to the mountains. The remainder were killed. Orders have been given to send wheat to Shusha to relieve the starving.

The town of Tiflis is full of refugees from the Baku, who have abandoned all their belongings. A deputation from the great petroleum works has asked military protection for 25 million pounds of combustible liquids contained in the reservoirs at Baku.

Charge Against Canadian Refiners.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 8.—The old trouble between the Canadian sugar refiners and the producers in the West Indies is again to the front. The producers some time ago accused the Canadian refiners of pocketing all the 33 1-3 preference which was passed by Parliament in their interests. The refiners agreed to divide the amount, but this has been abandoned, and the old state of affairs has been resumed.

Mr. Burke, Canada's representative in Trinidad, writes that the sugar producers are much exercised over what they term the unreasonable greed of the Canadian refiner. Mr. Fielding has the matter under consideration and some plan will probably be devised to aid the sugar growers, who are getting no more in Halifax for their sugar, notwithstanding the preference, than is being paid in New York.

Will Arrange to Take Census.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 8.—Mr. Archibald Blue, chief census commissioner, who is now in the West, will make arrangements for the taking of the census in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in June next. In order to furnish a basis for the per capita payment for the Dominion, a census has to be taken every five years. At the last census of this kind taken in Manitoba, 1896, it was merely a counting of heads, but in the census to be taken next June a census of agriculture will be taken.

Chief Constables' Association.

Toronto, September 8. — Dissatisfaction with the present system of liberating prisoners on parole was expressed at the chief constables' convention by Chief Harrison, of Westmount, Montreal, who declared that when prisoners sentenced to long terms were allowed their liberty after serving a few months they became in a great many cases charges upon communities.

Officers were elected as follows:—President, Chief Grasett, Toronto, vice-president, O. Campeau, Montreal, secretary-treasurer, Deputy Chief Stark, Toronto. Executive committee, Chiefs Buckley, Chatham, N.B., Harrison, Westmount, Que., Berthiaume, St. Hyacinthe, Que.; Sherwood, Ottawa, and Randall, Guelph.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted and it was decided not to include sheriffs and governors of gaols in the association.

New Zealand and Implements.

London, September 8.— The Times' correspondent at Wellington, N. Z., says: The operations of the United States harvester trust are seriously menacing the business of New Zealand implement makers. The manufacturers recognize that even a protective tariff of twenty per cent. would be unavailing. A deputation yesterday asked the Government to prevent the trust doing business. The Premier, replying to the deputation, asked its members if they wanted war with the United States, adding that he did not think that country would stand such prohibition, or that the agricultural members would agree to a prohibitive tariff. He said, however, that something might be done if the local manufacturers would agree not to raise prices. The Premier intimated that the Government would proceed with the monopolies prevention bill.

Two Fish Firms Assign.

Halifax, N. S., September 8. — The large fish, and former hardware, firm of Black Bros., & Co., Limited, has gone into liquidation. The bondholders are practically the Bank of Montreal, successor to the Peoples Bank of Halifax, to whom Black Bros. were very heavily indebted.

The Lunenburg fish firm of I. Anderson, which at one time was one of the largest in Nova Scotia, has assigned to D. R. Clarke of the Bank of Montreal. Like Black Bros. & Co., I. Anderson were largely indebted to the Peoples Bank.

Railway Commission Grants Rights.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., September 8.—The application of the Guelph and Goderich Railway Company for rights to use certain lands and premises of the Grand Trunk Company in the city of Guelph, has been granted by the railway commission. The Grand Trunk also is permitted to have running rights over part of the Canadian Pacific Railway line. The compensation to be paid by the respective companies and the conditions of joint use are carefully set forth in the board's order.

The Quebec Tax Again.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, September 8.—At a conference of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce assembled at Liege Belgium, in the course of discussion on the Quebec Legislature's tax on commercial travellers, a Leeds delegate asked: "Would any civilized country adopt proposals so obnoxious and so derogatory to the unity of the Empire?" It was, he said, as if Yorkshire taxed travellers from Lancashire.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE HOLD INDIGNATION MEETING IN TOKIO PARK

Decided to Send a Telegram to Oyama Asking Him to Continue the War—The Privy Council to Be Asked to Petition the Emperor Not to Sign the Treaty.

New York, September 8.—A special despatch from London to the New York Sun states that the Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph has sent the following account of the rioting, dated September 5:

"Although the outlook is threatening all is outwardly calm. The members of the Government and the Elder statesmen, however, remain in their residences, closely guarded. The meeting came last night when five leaders of public opinion were arrested, among the number being a member of the staff of the Asahi. An illegal meeting was convened for to-day in Hibiya Park. At early hour this morning the grounds were occupied by the Police and all the gates were barred with chains. A crowd of about a hundred thousand persons assembled outside and the police and an alderman of the city protested against the action of the authorities as a breach of civil rights.

"The chief of police refused to allow the meeting and attempted to disperse the crowd. Eventually a member of the City Council mustered all his colleagues and ordered the police to open the gates. They promptly obeyed. Meanwhile the mob smashed the barriers and made a great rush. When the people were assembled in open space national flags dropped with black streamers were distributed. Speeches were delivered by members of the Diet and also by an ex-president of the House of Representatives. It was decided to send a telegram to Field Marshal Oyama urging him, in the name of Japan, to continue the fight and not to accept a treaty of national shame. It was also decided to call upon the Privy Council to petition the Emperor not to ratify the treaty.

PROFOUND SILENCE.

"The great audience was perfectly orderly, and profound silence was maintained during the meeting. As the crowd quietly dispersed a rumor spread that Prime Minister Katsura and the chief of police were at the residence of Viscount Yoshikawa Minister of the Interior, which occupies a position directly facing the park. The crowd surged toward the great iron gates, but many mounted police arrived, and formed cordons, both within and without the grounds. Loose stones were gathered up and thrown by the mob into the grounds, and dust was collected in bags and thrown into the eyes of the police. Mounted gendarmes charged through the crowd, which closed behind them, throwing stones.

Five desperate men succeeded in entering the hall of the minister's house, where the mayor drew his sword and killed one foreigner and disarmed and arrested the remainder. The great gates were repeatedly swayed and the crowd battered them with wooden poles. A number of injured persons were carried away. The headforms of the police were spattered with blood and their faces were cut, and fury was otherwise wounded. Armed with poles, the mob broke away the coping of the gate at the lodge entrance which was held by a strong force of mounted and cool police. The leader received admirable restraint. Only when many of them were seriously wounded did they draw their swords. This demonstration continued several hours. At dusk a conflagration suddenly broke out in the outer buildings. The palace of the minister being alongside the principal hotel, the fire caused considerable anxiety among the foreign guests. The wooden buildings burned furiously. When the fire engines arrived they were greeted by groans. While the firemen started to work repeated charges were made by the Imperial Guards who had been called out.

"Meanwhile another mob proceeded to the offices of the Kokumin and stormed the building with ladders and poles. They reached the editorial offices and smashed the furniture. They forced their way into the machine room and wrecked the machinery. One member of the literary staff a man of huge proportions, bravely faced the mob armed with an iron rod, but he was stoned and compelled to retire. He returned with a sword and a student went to meet him, holding his hands over his head. The swordsman slashed at and wounded the student and several other Police mounted police charged in the Ginza street and dispersed the rowd. At night theatre were many fires throughout the city. Crowds met the police boxes on the middle of the street and set fire to them, then laid them across the car lines, stopping traffic. At midnight six fires were blazing outside the railway station with which the ministers' residence were guarded and closely surrounded by howling mobs. A crowd of several thousand proceeded to the palace and cheered the Emperor. A detachment of soldiers was also greeted with enthusiasm. It is stated that the disorderly element consisted mainly of tough characters, who are hired by agitators to do ugly work. They used knives and clubs on the police, who had no alternative but to draw their swords. There is every indication that the authorities have the situation well in hand."

DUE TO LEADERS' ARREST.

London, September 8.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Telegraph attributes the disorders in the Japanese capital to the arrest of five leaders of public opinion. He says that representatives from the whole of Japan met Wednesday night and resolved to organize a national movement from Hokkaido to Formosa and to memorialize the throne and the Government against the ratification of the treaty of Portsmouth. The correspondent says that he anticipated an imperial manifesto to the people. He describes the rioters as composed mainly of fanatics hired by agitators. He believes the objects of the mobs is to deprive the city of light and then liberate the prisoners in the goals.

Anglican Synod Extends Warm Welcome to Visiting Bishops of Church in the United States

Bishop Doone, of Albany, Bishop Morrison, of Duluth, and Others Make Interesting Addresses—Many Notices of Motion Presented.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Quebec, September 8.—The reception by the General Synod of the delegates from the American Church yesterday was a most interesting feature of the proceedings.

The members of the delegation and the ladies accompanying them were Bishop Doane of Albany and Mrs. Doane and Miss Condit, Bishop Morrison of Duluth, the Rev. Dr. Alsop, rector of St. Anne's Church, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Alsop, and Mr. George C. Thomas of Philadelphia, treasurer of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Church in the United States, and Mrs. Thomas.

The House of Bishops entered the Lower House to receive them, and the visiting delegates as well as the presiding bishop of the United States, Bishop Tuttle, were invited to the platform with them.

His Grace the Primate of all Canada affectionately greeting the delegates of the sister church warmly welcomed them to the General Synod.

Bishop Doane, the head of the deputation, having begged the members of the Synod to seat themselves, said that it was always a happy occasion in a man's life when he found the performance of official duty to be a pleasure and a personal privilege. This was his experience at the present moment. He was glad to be here to renew relations of official intimacy, particularly with his fellow-workers in a country contiguous to his own, and with those older Canadian bishops whom it had been his privilege to meet at the Lambeth Conference. It was his pleasant official duty, as senior member of the deputation, to extend the warm and affectionate greetings of the American church to her Canadian sister.

GRATEFUL TO CANADA.

Referring to Bishop Morrison of Duluth, he was grateful to Canada for having given him to him some years ago. For some time his friend and brother had labored under him at Fredensburg keeping the fort and patrolling the shores of the St. Lawrence, and was now a beloved member of the episcopate. Dr. Alsop another member of the deputation was his friend, while Mr. Thomas of Philadelphia, had been called the financial minister of the American church. He had certainly brought its finances from the mausoleum of mourning to a real ministry, and in the ranks of the American Episcopal church nobody stands higher than the treasurer.

Bishop Morrison of Duluth said that after the address of the head of the deputation delivered in those terms in which he is so admirable a master, there was not much that he would say. Coming as he did from the Great West, where his field of labor touched three Canadian dioceses, he could enter into the zeal of that work in the great harvest field into which the Master has sent him. "I am closely related with you, though a native of New York State. My father, with the prejudices of a Scotchman, sent me to a grammar school in Canada, simply because the master was a Scotchman. In Montreal I had the advantage of studying at McGill University, where Sir William Dawson was my teacher and my friend. I was ordained deacon by Bishop Williams, of Quebec, and priest by Dr. Oxendon, of Montreal he is, as I believe, the first priest upon whom His Lordship laid his hands after consecration."

FAME OF THE NORTH-WEST.

"The fame of this Northwest country has gone everywhere and United States farmers by thousands and tens of thousands have crossed into it. From the State of Ohio alone it is said that 15,000 have gone. Beyond any question a great and powerful nation will have its seat of power to the north of us and we felicitate ourselves accordingly because she walks with us towards the highest material and moral adornment of the human race. Upon the church represented by this synod rests the responsibility of supplying the spiritual needs of the great population flocking into the great west. You will go away from this synod meeting armed with inspiration and courage to enable you to meet the problems of the future and from the successes of the past it is certain that the workmen will have no cause to feel ashamed. There is no more courageous story than that of some of your early missionaries sent out by the great missionary societies of Labrador, Hudson Bay and to the verge of the Arctic ocean to preach the unsearchable riches of Christ. When I read of such a man wandering over those lonely solitudes of ice and snow with only one mail a year from civilization, and of another living for twenty years on the western side of Hudson Bay, I feel that though I am a missionary Bishop, my hardships are nothing and my work quite tame, but I am sure that the spirit of the martyrs still lives and that the work of such a church shall not be permitted by the Master to flag or fail. You are watching our experiments, as we have watched yours, in the matter of provincial synods and other matters, and now I should like to say something about reciprocity, and the necessity of a system of issuing letters to all clergymen passing from one country to the other.

BISHOP OF ALASKA.

Rev. Dr. Alsop being called upon said that when Bishop Doane had referred to the fact that they owed Bishop Morrison to Canada, he was reminded that they also owed another bishop to them, the splendid man who was doing his work with such heroism and endurance in Alaska. As Bishop Morrison spoke of McGill University his thoughts ran back to that stately pile of buildings, which he had seen on Tuesday last. He had read the books of Sir William Dawson, of whom Bishop Morrison had spoken and the name of another great man for which they were indebted to McGill occurred to him, the name of a doctor who spent three years at Johns Hopkins University who had proposed rest to all men of forty years and over and chloroform to those of sixty. What would become of mankind if this suggestion was acted upon? Where would the house of bishops be? Where would all be?

"We cannot make all people see as we see and feel as we feel," he continued, "but we may do much to create a healthy public spirit and to make those who feel that they are all English people draw closer together. We, in the United States, are feeling a little proud just now. We read that the blessed are the peacemakers. The Christian man who sits in the national presidential chair, though not afraid to fight when fighting is necessary, is a lover of peace and of God, and to his infinite fact is largely due the blessings of peace in the Far East, in the place of war. And now that there is an open door in the East, trade may come and go. But we want the English people, who between them own one-third of the world, to see that through that open door shall go the knowledge of the Kingdom of God."

Mr. George C. Thomas also addressed the Synod in eloquent terms, after which the Archbishop of Rupert's Land thanked the delegates who had spoken, and Bishop Tuttle, at the demand of the Synod, also added a few words, and at the special request of the Primate, gave his blessing to all present.

NOTICES OF MOTION.

At the afternoon sitting of the Synod

Archdeacon Cary gave notice, seconded by Rev. Canon Richardson, that he would move that the Committee on Canons be requested to report all necessary amendments of the Constitution and Canons of this Synod as shall fix the date of meeting of this Synod some three weeks later than the date at present fixed for its meeting.

Archdeacon Ker gave notice that he would move That the House of Bishops be requested to authorize a short form of service suitable for use on Labor Day or on some day in the week in which Labor Day falls.

Rev. Dyson Hague gave notice of the following motion, seconded by Archdeacon Fortin. That in view of the fact that certain of the Old Testament Scriptures are never read in the hearing of our people at Morning Prayer, the Committee upon the Appendix to the Prayer Book be authorized to draw up a scheme of alternative first lessons for the morning service and provide that in churches where only one service is held on the Lord's Day the incumbent may at his discretion use any one of the first lessons appointed for that day."

Archdeacon Fortin, seconded by Very Rev. Dean Davis, gave notice that he would move That, whereas a large foreign immigration amounting to 25,000 persons has already come to the North-West, and that many more of the same class will in all likelihood come in the future.

And whereas the majority of these are without the regular ministrations of the Gospel and, therefore, their children are in danger of growing up without those moral and religious safeguards which insure good citizenship.

And, whereas it is reported that a large proportion of them are ready to receive the services of the Church of England and prefer them to those of the Church of Rome, which is now making a strenuous effort to absorb them all.

Therefore, be it resolved that this Synod is of opinion that serious effort should be made to reach these people and that with this end in view an appropriation should be made out of the funds of the M. S. C. C. for a missionary whose duty it shall be to visit the various centres of foreign population in the North-West, and if possible inaugurate Christian work among them.

Rev. F. G. Scott gave notice that he would move, seconded by John Hamilton, Esq., That a standing committee of this House be appointed to watch all federal and provincial legislation in the Dominion, which is calculated to further or retard the moral progress of the people, and if necessary to consult with and seek co-operation from the various Diocesan Synods in all matters affecting the national well being.

Rev. Canon Richardson gave notice that he would move, seconded by Dr. Hoyles. That steps be taken to secure the appointment of Thanksgiving Day on a Sunday, the following day to be observed as a public holiday.

Archdeacon Navior, seconded by Canon Smith, gave notice that he would move, That the prolocutor appoint a committee to draw up a form of commendatory letter for parishioners removing from one parish to another, and from the church in Canada to the U. S. and to submit the same to the Synod for adoption.

OPENING OF TARIFF COMMISSION IN WINNIPEG FINDS MANITOBA UNPREPARED

Special to the Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, Man., September 8.—The opening by the Tariff commission of their investigation yesterday found Manitoba unprepared. Hon. Messrs. Fielding and Brodeur constituted the board, the train bearing Hon. William Paterson from Regina having been delayed by a wreck. The ministers did not actually work long yesterday, in fact for a length of time, they sat waiting for deputations to appear.

At the outset, the grain growers' association of the province of Manitoba, through their secretary and others, voiced strong objections to the commission pursuing its inquiries now, as the farmers were too busy to attend.

Hon. Mr. Fielding said he was glad they were busy, as indeed people were all over Canada, but a beginning had to be made somewhere. He realized the force of the objections, however, and promised to try to arrange a limited series of meetings, say, in November.

Walter Martin, of the Tilden-Gurney Company, appeared before the commission at the opening of the afternoon session. He said he desired to speak of the importation of cheap lines of American stoves. His experience was that Canadian manufacturers were sidetracked. The cheap lines were practically going away from them. Unless some form of relief was given in a short time, these goods would be imported almost entirely from across the border. The immigration now taking place called for a cheap stove. In two or three years people would want something better. To-day was the day of cheap stoves, and unless something was done to help the Canadian manufacturer in that line, said Mr. Martin, "we are out of it."

After a lengthy address to the commissioners, Mr. Martin's recommendation resolved itself into placing a $2 or $2.50 tax on stoves generally, in addition to the 25 per cent. on those now being brought into the country.

UNFAIR COMPETITION.

James Drew, of the Gurney Foundry Company of Toronto, said that during the last two or three years his firm had been subjected to the most unfair competition from the United States, through the importation of cheap stoves. The trouble was that the stoves seemed to be sold at 15 or 30 per cent. below their regular market price. If Canadian manufacturers had an over production of goods here they could not sell them in the United States on account of the tariff. Obviously the remedy for that state of things was to put an equivalent duty on American production.

Replying to Mr. Fielding, witness said he only spoke in reference to stoves. He would suggest that a cent a pound weight of the stoves and 25 per cent. would be a fair price.

William Martin, Manitoba Gypsum Company, complained not against the tariff, but the Americans importing their goods and selling more cheaply than the Canadians could. If the dumping clause was in force the difficulty would be met. The goods were still being sold in Canada and they could not be sold against the Canadian article, if they were bought at that price.

INCREASED AMERICAN CHARGES.

J. H. Ashdown, of Ashdown Hardware Company, quoted a number of figures in reference to numerous articles of merchandise and called the attention of the commissioners to cases where the American manufacturer increased his charges to the Canadian, because of the so-called dumping clauses. Then, again, they were not allowed as much discount by the customs authorities as the American manufacturer allowed to his home trade.

Mr. Fielding said that Mr. Ashdown's point was that in certain cases the Canadian manufacturer could not supply the goods. In that case the dumping clause operated oppressively because it protected nobody, and was only a higher source of revenue. The inference ought to be that there should be a distinction between the rates of duty when the manufacturer could not and when he could supply the goods.

Mr. Ashdown said it was the dumping clause he complained of, which in cases where 50 per cent. was added to cost, the increase to the ultimate consumer was very much greater. Mr. Ashdown asked if the dumping clause was retained that a greater margin of difference than 5 per cent. be allowed before drawing the line too fine. He asked the same freight allowance as the average American dealer received.

UNDERSELL CANADIANS.

John A. Henderson, lime manufacturer, complained of the way Duluth lime manufacturers could undersell the Canadian, owing to the natural facilities the manufactdrers there possessed of more cheaply manufacturing. Until recently this was shipped loose. Now it was barrelled and the Canadians were confronted by a 25 per cent. duty on barrelled stock. He asked for a duty of 10 per cent. extra on each barrel, making the total 35 per cent.

TO SUSPEND ENQUIRY.

Late last night Secretary Bain handed out the following statement:

"In view of representations made as to inconvenience of farmers and business men generally in attending the meetings of the commission, the Ministers have decided to suspend their enquiries after Friday's meeting, until they reach British Columbia. Dates for that province will be announced immediately. It is the intention of the commission to return to Manitoba and the Territories in November, at which time they are assured it will be convenient for all classes to attend. It is desired that farmers' associations and all others who wish to present their views should in the meantime prepare for the meeting, of which more exact notice will be given later. The Ministers had contemplated holding meetings at a large number of points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and will be able to see at once if this were convenient for the people when they return in November."

Negro Burned at the Stake.

THE CONVENTION WAS A SUCCESS

Buildings are the Town and Streets, Parks, etc., are Merely Adjuncts.

A WORD ABOUT TAXATION

The Erection of Ramshackle Should Be Rendered as Costly as it is Dangerous.

Last night, at the rooms of the Canadian Engineers' Club, the American Society of Municipal Improvement held the last session of the convention. The delegates will remain two days longer in town, but their time will be spent in visiting the municipal plants and places of interest in the city. The work of the convention is now over. It has been a very successful one, though the attendance was not as great as at first expected. The plans of the society, however, have been completely realized, the different sessions have been most interesting from the value and attractiveness of the papers read, and the delegates all speak with enthusiasm of the pleasure of their visit to Montreal.

The papers read last night were the reports of the Committee on Water Works and Supplies and the Committee on Sewerage and Sanitation. In his paper on "Sanitary Engineering in the Southern States," Mr. J. N. Hazelhurst, of Mobile, Ala., speaking of the labor problem in the South, said that the one remedy was the fostering of immigration on the plan adopted by the Dominion.

Out of the most interesting contributions was a lecture on "Buildings, Their Relation to Municipal Improvement," by Mr. F. W. Fitzpatrick, of Washington, D.C. The paper began by stating the great importance of this subject, which has hitherto been altogether too much neglected. For, after all the buildings are the town, and the streets and parks and other subjects for improvement are merely adjuncts and accessories. Cities are beginning to realize this, and in their plans for improvement are turning their attention to what buildings are being put up and how. The result of this is already evident in the advance in later architecture and the general improvement in point of appearance of the streets. Precautions are now being taken to prevent one man spoiling a whole neighborhood by his tasteless erections. A more or less general plan and uniformity should be observed in the buildings of the same vicinity. But sound construction is of still more importance than beauty of design and here there is great room for improvement. The first point of a soundly constructed building is that it be fireproof. But what is a fire-proof building? There is considerable popular delusion on this question, and buildings are regarded as fire-proof which are little more than fire-traps. A truly fire-proof building is one built entirely and not only in the walls, of brick and stone, and steel and glass and incombustible materials. There should be limits marked out within which such construction should be the law. Limitations as to height should also be insisted on, and builders forbidden to make chasms of the streets.

In conclusion, the lecturer made a very important and suggestive statement about our present system of taxing buildings. He claimed that it is a drag on improvement, instead of being a help. Taxes ought to be laid most heavily on the shoulders of those who erect buildings which are a common blemish and menace. Instead of on those who put up edifices which are a municipal good by their beauty and safety. Changes should be made in the system of taxation, so as to foster the development in the construction of buildings and make the erection of a ramshackle as costly as it is dangerous.

After the discussion of some general business, the twelfth annual convention was brought to a close.

Railway Education Scheme.

The Grand Trunk officials have decided to offer to apprentices and other employes of the company, under 21 years of age, and to minor employes, two free scholarships, covering four years' tuition in the Faculty of Applied Science of McGill University. These scholarships are subject to competitive examinations, which will be the regular entrance matriculation examination provided for in the annual calendar of the university, and held under the supervision of the faculty at McGill from September 11th to 15th. The two candidates making the highest average and complying with the requirements of admission will be awarded the scholarships and have the option of taking a course in civil or mechanical engineering, or transportation. Scholarships will be renewed from year to year, only upon the holders thereof passing satisfactorily, the sessional and other examinations prescribed by the faculty. Students who are successful, will be required to enter the service of the company as student apprentices, and serve during vacation periods while in attendance at the university, and at the option of the company, for two years after completing the college course. Successful candidates before entering the university will be required to execute the company's regular form of student apprentice contract. Copies of this contract may be obtained from Mr. R. S. Logan, assistant to the second vice-president of the Grand Trunk. Mr. Logan will also receive applications for certificates entitling eligible persons to enter the competition.

Dinner by Monk Club.

The Monk Club met Wednesday night to complete arrangements for a dinner to be held by its members at Cartierville, on September 10. Mr. Edmond Brossard, president of the club, is at the head of the arrangements for the dinner, which will be more or less of a private nature. Mr. F. D. Monk, M.P., the patron of the club, has been invited to accompany the diners to Cartierville, which is in his county. Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, M.P., and Hon. L. O. Taillon, as well as several other gentlemen who have taken prominent parts in the political campaigns of the Conservative party have been invited to attend, and it is probable that several interesting addresses will be delivered.

Mayor of Sault Au Recollet.

Mr. Alphonse Poitras, of Sault-au-Recollet, has been appointed Mayor of that village, to replace Mr. J. Giroux, deceased. The council had refused to appoint or recommend a new councillor to replace Mr. Giroux so Mr. Phileas Pesant was appointed by order-in-Council. He was proposed as Mayor in opposition to Mr. Poitras, but voted against himself, and Mr. Poitras was elected.

VISITED SEVEN ISLANDS.

Industrial Activity of the Place Highly Spoken of.

Mr. Rodolphe Forget, M. P., for Charlevoix, spoke yesterday of the trip to Anticosti from which he has just returned, and on which he accompanied Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, Premier Gouin and Mr. Speaker Sutherland. He is very enthusiastic over the wonderful improvements of the province on the banks of the river. One of the most interesting places visited was seven Islands, on the lower north shore. Here there are pulp mills and a railway and other works on which over $2,000,000 has already been spent. The mills are of cement, and "as solid as if they were put up on St. James street." 18,000 barrels of cement reached the point on one steamer.

There is also a very interesting whaling venture being carried on at the Islands, and Mr. Thos. Gauthier, of Montreal, is president of the company. The enterprise promises well, over thirty whales having been taken in one month. One day's catch was three, and as each produced about 90 barrels of oil, it was estimated that the catch was worth from five to six thousand dollars.

Mr. Meunier was also visited at his Island home, on which he has spent large sums of money. It is questioned if he will remain there much longer.

Death of Madame Francoise Hurteau.

Mrs. Francoise Lamarre, widow of the late Lt.-Col. Hurteau, in his lifetime president of the Longueuil Navigation Company, died Wednesday at her home in Longueuil. The deceased lady was born on September 6th, 1820. Among her children and grandchildren are Mrs. Barault, mother of Messrs. Oderic, Decoutz, Hurteau, and Dr. Rene Brault; Mrs. Dufresne, widow of the late J. B. Dufresne, and among her grandchildren are the Misses Jeanne and Mina Dansereau, and Messrs. Lionel and Arthur jr., children of Mr. Arthur Dansereau.

The Farm Laborers' Excursion.

Another farm laborers' excursion left Ontario yesterday, and there will be one from Quebec to-day. It is expected that 2,000 or more men will go west on these excursions, which will make the total number this year ahead of last year. Last year there were 14,500 persons taken out on the farm laborers' excursion from points in Eastern Canada. Already this season some 13,700 have gone out from the Maritime Provinces, Quebec and Ontario and with the additional 2,000 who go to-day and to-morrow, it will make an increase of 4,200 over last year.

Death of Mrs. John Patterson.

The death occurred at St. Henri de Mascouche early on Sunday morning, September 3rd, of Mrs. Patterson, widow of the late John Patterson. The deceased lady had attained the ripe old age of 84 years. Her father died during her infancy and she came to this country from Ireland, with her mother, sister and uncle, and has resided in Mascouche nearly all her life. By her marriage she had ten children, three of whom survive her, one son, and two daughters.

The late Mrs. Patterson is also survived by her sister, Mrs. Robert Ewan, sr. The funeral, which took place from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Albert Robinson, was very largely attended.

All notices of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, must be endorsed with the names and addresses of the persons sending same.

WANTED TO GATHER A CROWD.

A resident of a London suburb who thought he had a sure tip on the race for the Stewards' cup turned in a fire alarm, so that it might communicate the good news to as many of his neighbors as possible. But the officers of the fire department were not sporty and turned him over to the police.

AUTOS WITH WIRE WHEELS.

English automobile manufacturers are experimenting with wire wheels in the belief that, weight for weight, they are stronger than those of wood of the artillery variety. This would be a practical return to first principles, as all the early types of self-propelled vehicles were equipped with wire wheels.

HOW LONG IS AN EGG FRESH?

"How long is an egg fresh laid?" asked a London judge of a witness the other day. "As long as it is good," replied the witness. The London newspapers duly record this incident, but what pleases them most about it is that the name of the judge who asked the question is Bacon.

THEY CLAIM RIGHT TO ERECT POLES

City Attorney's Opinion Was Submitted to Road Committee Yesterday.

THEY ARE WITHIN THE LAW

The City Can Only Indicate Spots Where They Would Prefer Poles to Be.

When the Road Committee met yesterday afternoon the question of companies erecting poles in the streets was taken up. It appears that certain companies claim they have the right to lay conduits and erect poles without the direct sanction of the city, while the latter selects the spots where the poles are to be put up.

The Road Committee some time ago ordered that all requests for raising poles should be brought before them. The feeling was that something should be done to lessen the pole nuisance, and it was decided to get an opinion from the City Attorney.

At yesterday's meeting the City Attorney drew attention to the fact that in June, 1893, the city gave permission to the Merchants Telephone Company to put poles in certain streets. That resolution was confirmed by statute, on the express condition, however, that the company should not exercise other rights in the streets of the city, without the permission of Council. Other companies likewise mentioned in the resolution of the committee, submitted for examination, had placed poles in certain streets without the consent of the city. "We are of opinion," concluded the City Attorneys, "that all these companies have the right to use the streets of the city to erect their poles thereon, but the city by means of the Council is authorized to superintend the work of erecting the poles."

From the above it was seen by the committee that it could do but little more than select spots which certain companies decided to erect poles.

The committee discussed the request to have the street line on Hotel de Ville avenue raised. It was decided to allow the matter to remain over for the present.

Ald. Payette came before the committee with a request that the name of that portion of St. Hyppolite street between Sherbrooke and the city limits be changed into Colonial avenue.

This was finally agreed to, Ald. Lecaine dissenting.

A letter from the Heat and Power Company having been read, that the cost of putting their wires underground between St. James and Notre Dame street, or St. Lambert Hill, would exceed $5,000, and as it did not seem very practicable on so short a piece of street, it was resolved to notify the company to move back their poles to the new lines.

TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE IN NEW YORK

Italian and Two Children Lost Lives by Suffocation.

BUILDING FULL OF PEOPLE

There Were Many Narrow Escapes and Firemen Did Heroic Work With Ladders.

New York, September 8. While trying to save his two children, a son and a daughter, both under 10 years of age, from a fire in a crowded tenement building in East 21st street early this morning, Antonio Coletto and both children were suffocated by smoke.

The body of the father was found lying in the hallway of the fifth floor with the children clasped in his arms where he had fallen in an effort to reach the window where the attention of the firemen who were taking others down their scaling ladders might have been attracted to them. Coletto had already helped to carry his invalid wife to the roof, whence she escaped to an adjoining building.

There were twenty-four families, numbering 120 persons, mostly Italians, in the building, and all were asleep when the fire broke out. It started in the basement and spreading to the hallway of the first floor, cut off all escape from the floors above. A policeman awoke the sleeping tenants, who then swarmed down the fire escapes in the front and rear of the building. Those on the front became panic-stricken when they reached the first floor above the street, where the ladder reaching to the sidewalk had not been lowered. Note had presence of mind sufficient to drop the ladder and a policeman climbed to the lower platform of the fire escape and with his club drove back the frightened men, dropped the ladder and permitted the women to descend first.

Michael Angelin, his wife Mary and daughter Nora were badly burned in a hurried flight from their rooms on the upper floor to the roof. In their haste the Angelin family left three of their children in their rooms, and the firemen who went up on scaling ladders found the two boys and one little girl in a smoke-filled room from which they were unable to reach the fire escape. They were removed in safety.

At the height of the noise of engines and shouts of the crowds the firemen found one entire family sound asleep in their bedroom, where the flames had not yet penetrated. The fire was quickly extinguished with a damage of about $50,000.

PROBING INSURANCE MEN.

Equitable People Acknowledge They Do Not Know Where Jordan is.

New York, September 8. The affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and the Mutual Life Insurance Company held the attention yesterday of the legislative life insurance investigating committee in session here. Nothing particularly new was developed in regard to the Equitable Society other than the statement drawn from one of the officers that the society does not know the present whereabouts of Thomas D. Jordan, the former comptroller. It was stated that Mr. Jordan was wanted as a witness to explain the loss of $685,000 made to the Equitable Society by the Mercantile Trust Company.

The inquiry into the Mutual Life Insurance Company was begun. The testimony drawn from an officer of this company showed that the Mutual controls many trust companies among them the Morton Trust Company, the Guarantee Trust Company and the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. On deposit with these companies the insurance company keeps hundreds of thousands of dollars, against which it does not draw. It was explained that the prosperity of the trust companies meant the prosperity of the insurance company. The insurance deposits draw 2 per cent. interest and the trust companies pay as high as 20 per cent. dividends on par value of the stock, or 5 per cent. on the market value.

Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual Life, said the company had bought securities from the syndicate and received individual profits by selling these bonds to the company. He did not see that there was any impropriety in the officers going into syndicates when the company had gone in first.

Location of Grand Trunk Pacific.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., September 8.—A letter received at the Bureau of Mines from Mr. H. L. Kerr, who is at the head of the Government's exploration party in Northern Ontario, intimates the probable location of the Grand Trunk Pacific through that portion of the country. Mr. Kerr says a try line of the railway crosses Speight's second meridian line, about four miles north of Speight's first base line. If this route were followed it would bring the Grand Trunk Pacific about 75 miles north of Lake Abitibbi, or about one-third of the distance between the Lake and James Bay.

TOO HOT WEATHER

The warmer spell has at last arrived. Early this morning the sun was shining and it looked as if Montreal were going to have a regular summer day without the oppressive heat. There is a coolness in the atmosphere that is really refreshing and everything is ideal for outdoor recreation.

At 2000 today the heat was quite noticeable but not so hot as to be disagreeable. The maximum today is 69, which is 3 degrees over that of yesterday and the probabilities are that of warm, weather for Saturday.

As the weather was so unfavorable on Labor Day it is hoped that tomorrow will be an ideal day for the sports which are to be held.

CHINESE KNOW ABOUT BOYCOTT

Montreal Merchants Contribute to Relief Fund to Help Their Fellow Countrymen

"Chinaman boycott Mexican Melon, Chinaman boycott Chinaman, but what Mexican melon or the terse opinion expressed by a prominent Chinese merchant on the American boycott.

A local reporter found that the whole of the Chinese colony here are aware of the situation in the Far East and have decided for themselves to have no dealings whatever with American business. They have passed a resolution to this effect and have notified Express companies, and in one case a merchant who had consignments of goods on their docks had the shipments taken off and the money refunded to him, it being found that the goods were of American manufacture.

Mr. Chin Nom Seng, the assistant to the Chinese missionary, Dr. Thompson, was the most interesting of the Celestials seen.

He said that his countrymen's action in Canada was the most beneficial effect. There were marked signs that the Chinese were being better treated in the States. To show the determination with which the scheme was taken up, the Chinese in all parts of the world have come to a fund for assisting those Chinese coolies and merchants who had been injured by the withdrawal of the American trade. In New Zealand over $5000 had been subscribed to this fund and each Chinaman in the State was contributing a dollar. Even in no fixed rate in Montreal, but the whole community had risen against the scheme, so that a total sum of over $4000 had been forwarded to Canton and Hong Kong for distribution.

It is found that the $500 tax imposed by the Canadian Government had been entirely prohibitive, not a single Chinese coolie having entered since the adoption of the law, while in the States no tax exists, but the country will not admit them at all.

Mr. Chin Nom Seng, in speaking of the results of the war, was convinced that Japan would reap the harvest of commerce awaiting development in China.

He considered that America had acted foolishly and blindly in its own interests. Had the Chinese reformers, who are seeking knowledge in all parts of the world been welcomed to the colleges and universities here and admitted to the navy, army and manufactories as Togo and other great Japanese were a feeling of gratitude would have led to trade relations.

Lee Tee Loy, a Bleury street dealer in Chinese goods, both wholesale and retail said that the Americans would soon find out that China was not to be fooled with. "No other country of such importance," he added, "would be so treated by a big nation. The men who came to these shores from China are law abiding citizens and records will show that the percentage of crime among them is smaller than among any other immigrants. So why should he be kept out. Let them keep him out but they must not find fault when China bites back and refuses to allow American goods to enter her ports. I have no knowledge that such action has actually been decided upon. It would not affect Canada in the least."

Mr. Yuen Shing, of Yuen Shing and Co., among the biggest importers of Chinese goods in Canada, would go farther than has been suggested. He says:

"Sure my people are right. But the best thing to do would be to make every man stepping on Chinese shores show his passport and the man that came from America should be told to walk back if he failed to get a boat within five minutes.

"The Yankees are funny Christians. They send missionaries to China to teach our people and yet they wont let them come to America and be taught Christianity.

"I know that even if the boycott as you call it, does not go into force as a statutory law the people of China will be taught to buy the goods made by England, Germany and France and to let everything alone that ever came from America.

"The proposed action will make no difference to Canada."

MILK SHIPPERS' MEETING.

Delegates Appointed to Discuss Proposed Rules With Committee of Hygiene.

The semi-annual meeting of the directors of the Milk Shippers' Association, was held Monday. The vice-president, Wm. Graham, presided. There were also present Wm. Smith, Lachute, E. Lacroix, St. Hermas, E. Stringer, Hemmingford, Wm. Brown, Howick, Wm. Stewart, Athelstan, W. C. Hall, Cornwall, H. W. Thompson, Hudson Heights, T. Anderson, Bishop, Lachine Locks, H. S. Tannahill, Trout River and W. E. Stephens, see, Huntingdon. After considerable routine business was disposed of, the secretary laid before the meeting the proposed rules and regulations issued by the Committee of Hygiene in connection with the inspection of the stables and dairies on those farms from which milk is shipped to the city by reason of the proposed improved system of shipment.

As the first object of the association is to supply only good pure wholesome milk to city dealers it was discovered or cognized fact that the quality of the milk shipped to the city by each had improved very materially since the organization of the Association, and while the directors were quite ready to fall in with many of the proposed rules and regulations yet some of them were considered impracticable and if carried out would add considerable expense to a milk producer. It was further agreed that if the proposed plan of inspection was carried out the inspectors should be practical men who fully understood the conditions under which the dairy farmers labors. A committee composed of Messrs R. Ness, Wm. Graham, Wm. Smith, H. S. Tannahill and W. F. Stephens was appointed to meet the committee of hygiene and discuss all matters in connection with the proposed rules and inspection.

The William Street Building.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star

Sir, Referring to your article of Tuesday, 5th September, under the heading of "Trouble on William street," I would ask you to kindly publish the following as the article was not dictated or written by me, so that there may be no public misunderstanding so far as the general contractors on this job are concerned.

In conversation last Saturday, 2nd September with a gentleman who has taken an active interest in the labor troubles for some time past, I was asked for a reason why our men were allowed to work at nights on the William street job. My answer was that if I remembered correctly, when the specifications for this job came out it was to be finished by a specified date and that no doubt was the reason why our men were ordered on night work to rush the job to completion. I stated that we had done this for other proprietors and contractors in the past, and would continue to do so in future where a building was urgently required for some specific purpose on a set date.

The balance of the article was apparently furnished you by my interviewer according to his own ideas.

Upon looking into the matter I found that our men had not worked at night upon the job and that the contract was not behind hand, days ahead of time, and anything our company can do to keep it ahead, either by working nights or otherwise will be cheerfully done.

R. H. WILLS

The Late Andrew Hardie, Longueuil.

At a meeting of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners for the town and parish of Longueuil, held on the 5th instant, a resolution was passed expressing the loss the board and the school municipality had sustained in the sudden death of Andrew Hardie, J. P. who had been for many years chairman of the Board, and a person who at all times took a deep interest in educational matters.

Mr. Hardie's father was one of those who, over 40 years ago assisted in organizing the first Protestant school in Longueuil, and the late Mr. Hardie did much in the direction towards the erection of the present new school building, and furthering the success of the model school.

Is Charged With Arson.

Angus McDonald, alias Lafleche, was arrested on Saturday by Detective Lepointe and ex-Constable Picard, in Dundee in the County of Huntingdon, on a charge of having set fire to a building belonging to Mr. Charles Laprade, of St. Anicet. Not only is there a charge of arson against him, but he is also charged with having killed two horses belonging to Mr. Laprade, in the month of July last. McDonald pleaded not guilty before the magistrate at Dundee, and will be taken to Huntingdon for enquete.

Election of New Directorate.

The St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway held their annual meeting Wednesday in the Board of Trade building, and the following board of directors was elected for ensuing year: William K. Vanderbilt, Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew, William H. Newman, Hamilton McK. Twombly, J. Pierpont Morgan, W. Seward Webb, William Rockefeller, James Stillman.

Jury Trials are Frequent.

At the Court House the jury trials have become so frequent that it has been decided to practically establish a jury trial division which will be in charge of a judge each month. For September there are four jury trials, all of which will be presided over by Mr. Justice Doherty. The Acting Chief Justice will appoint another for October and so forth from month to month.

His Action Was Dismissed.

Anselme Riendeau, who was struck by the handle of a hook used for hoisting iron in the Peck Rolling Mills, where he was employed, sued the Peck Rolling Company for $1,999 damages. Mr. Justice Doherty today handed down a judgment holding that the company could not be held responsible and dismissed the action.

The marriage took place on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. John Hunter, Point St. Charles, of his only daughter, Miss Sarah Hunter, to Mr. Harry A. Butt, of Montreal, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell. Mr. and Mrs. Butt have left for the West.

THREE ARRESTED AND FINED TO-DAY

Much Better Order prevailed at the Mile End Last Evening.

POLICE WERE RE-INFORCED

Crowd of French-Canadian Youths, Armed With Sticks and Stones, Were Dispersed.

The St. Louis town authorities have at last wakened up to the necessity of reinforcing the police force to suppress the disgraceful riots which have characterized the Salvation Army meetings on Fairmount avenue the last few evenings.

Chief Clermont was on hand last evening with ten specially sworn-in constables, besides five of the regular policemen of the town. They are calling for more men. Chief Clermont will sweep in all able-bodied men, French or English, who present themselves at the Town Hall to-day, so that he will have a very large force at his command to handle the mob tonight if there is one.

He succeeded very well in keeping the peace last night. A constant patrol was kept up all along Fairmount avenue, where hundreds of citizens were walking during the whole of the evening in the expectation of seeing some excitement, but they were agreeably disappointed, for there was no fighting with the exception of a little skirmish at the corner of St. Louis and Park avenue, where some twenty-five French boys were put to flight by the Fairmount boys, who were escorting the army to the car on Mount Royal avenue, singing "Rule Britannia," "God Save the King," and "John Browns Body," etc. Three men were arrested for refusing to move on when told to do so by the police and they were each fined five dollars by Recorder Pelletier. Their names are Joseph Pigeon, aged 55, Thomas Fisher, aged 23, and Edward Bates. The Fairmount young men were fairly well organized last night, and were ready to protect the Salvationists when they left the meeting, but the police under the direction of Chief Clermont, were ready at the door to protect the army corps and there was no attack made upon the Salvationists, who were escorted as far as Park avenue by the squad of police, followed by the Fairmount young men and other English-speaking citizens of the Annex. About 150 French-Canadian youths from Mile End, east of St. Lawrence street, had assembled in the early part of the evening and marched down St. Urbain street, armed with sticks and stones, and muttering "Mile End," but the bunch was broken up by the chief and his men.

While the Fairmount young men are ready to protect the army corps further, if necessary, the citizens of the Annex are pretty well re-assured now that the chief can effectually cope with the situation and preserve the peace, especially with the large number of the constables who it is expected will be sworn in to-day, and there is no great excitement expected in St. Louis this evening.

The Salvation Army service last night was conducted by Staff Captain Creighton, the assistant provincial commander. There was a large attendance, including Prof. Villard, of the French Methodist College, of Westmount, and Rev. Mr. Halpenny, of the St. Henri Methodist Church. It is the intention of the army to defer the open air meetings till next week.

It is understood that the cure of the Catholic parish of St. Louis, Rev. Father LePailleur, will address his parishioners on Sunday morning, impressing upon them the desirability of keeping the peace in the town and letting the Salvation Army people conduct their meetings without interruption, as they have a perfect right to do.

THE PACIFIC TERMINUS.

B. C. Government Enters Into Arrangement With Grand Trunk Pacific.

Victoria, B.C., September 8.—The Provincial Government has entered into an arrangement with the Grand Trunk Pacific, for the establishment of the Pacific terminus of the new transcontinental line at Kalen Island. Mr. F. Carter Cotton, president of the Council, thus describes the negotiations:

"As the result of its investigations, the company found there would be some difficulty in securing an eligible site for its terminus on this coast. Port Simpson was considered, but it was found that the land there was nearly all held by speculators, who demanded high prices for their property.

"A similar state of things was found to exist at Kitamaat, another possible location. Ultimately the company approached the Government with a view to securing a site for its terminus on the Tsimpsean Peninsula, in the vicinity of Tuck's Inlet, on the Crown lands.

After careful consideration the Government acceded to the company's request, and has sold 10,000 acres of land in the vicinity of Tuck's Inlet, at a price of one dollar per acre, as a site for the Pacific terminus of the railway."

The lands are to be surveyed at the company's expense, and in accordance with the provisions of the Land Act, should the company fail to carry out the provisions of the agreement, the Government has the right to cancel this and to resume possession of the land.
