$1.5 million temporary borrowing

City Council Tuesday evening gave the administration authority to borrow from the Bank of Montreal "at a rate of interest not exceeding 8-3/4 percent," up to $1,500,000 if and as required to prelude the possibility of an overdraft in either the general or the electricity revenue accounts.

This is a seasonal thing, normal each year between the time tax bills are issued and until payments flow freely while expenses continue at a heavy clip.

Mayor Peter M. McEntyre or Chairman of Finance Ald. Ian Craig or the acting mayor, on the one hand, and General Manager N. T. Dawe or Assistant Treasurer E. J. McCullough were authorized to sign the necessary promissory notes.

October's bills top $1.5 million

October's accounts, totalling $1,558,634.29, were reported to city council for the aldermanic nod Tuesday evening.

They comprised payrolls of $348,306.12 and other payables of $1,210,328.17.

Finance Commissioner Ald. G. I. Craig explained that this was an increase of approximately $300,000 over a year ago, mainly because of $135,000 paid to the Montreal Catholic School Commission on collected school taxes in September 1968 and its equivalent in October this year, and an increase in debt servicing of about $70,000 in October this year not payable a year ago.

Walker hit

A pedestrian in the south crosswalk of Sherbrooke street west at Claremont avenue, John Walker, 22, of 2050 Grey avenue, suffered injuries to both knees and his right elbow last Friday just after 5 pm when he was struck by a MTC bus westbound on Sherbrooke and turning south into Claremont. He was taken to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital.

City offers board Academy road for $1

The City of Westmount is prepared to sell to the Protestant school authorities the bed of Academy road, from Melville avenue to Park place fronting Westmount Park School, for $1.

This was the gist of a letter Monday from Mayor Peter M. McEntyre to the School Commissioners for the Municipality of the City of Westmount.

It was the reaction hoped for by the school board in answer to their bid to acquire the right-of-way and convert it into an outdoor play area between the school and the Westmount Park playground.

Closing was mooted by the Westmount Municipal Association last spring but subsequently turned down by the city after a traffic survey indicated there appeared to be little danger to youngsters in the area.

Subsequently, the school board heard an imaginative series of suggestions from Architect Joseph Baker, which led to a new bid to the city, followed by a city hall meeting of interested parties on Oct. 28.

Provisions

The provisions of Mr. McEntyre's letter include the closing by the city of both ends of the property by sidewalk continuations so as not to retain the appearance of a street.

The school board would be required to maintain a paved surface, "accessible to and of sufficient strength to support the heaviest of the city's fire-fighting vehicles."

The cost of relocating services and drainage existing under the street, if relocation is necessary, would be borne by the school authorities.

The mayor stipulated that the land should remain in perpetuity a park or playground area, but would be ceded back to the city in the event of sale of the school property or other change which might affect ownership of the area.

School people would have to undertake all maintenance, including snow removal.

His Worship attributes the decision to the General Committee of Council - which is City Council operating behind closed doors.

$10 snatch

Three young boys snatched the purse, containing about $10., of a woman as she walked through the lane at the rear of 4054 Dorchester boulevard west about 1:30 pm Saturday.

Red light jump score: 4 cars bent, loss $4,000

An admitted entering of an intersection against a red light involved four cars in at least $4,000 damages at 5 pm Sunday at Victoria avenue and Sherbrooke street.

Claude Laurin, 22, of Lac des Deux Montagnes, who was driving a 1968 Dodge, was charged.

No one was injured.

Laurin was driving west on Sherbrooke and he hit first a 1960 Bentley driven by Walter Leslie Foster, 66, of 61 Summit crescent, who was proceeding south on Victoria.

Laurin then struck a 1968 Plymouth, also going south on Victoria, driven by Michele Renallo, 21, of Montreal.

Finally, the Dodge failed to dodge a 1969 Pontiac which was going east on Sherbrooke with Magde G. Nicolas, 36, of Montreal at the wheel.

Learned thief

Someone stole eight volumes from the Westmount Public Library, it was discovered on Monday. The library cards for the books were found scattered in Westmount Park.

Slap, arrest

Westmount Police Monday night arrested a man in Alexis Nihon Plaza for allegedly slapping a youngster on the Montreal side of the big shopping complex. The man was turned over to Montreal Police.

Hit-run to walk 3 months

Michael Donald Patrick, 22, of Nun's Island, admitted in Westmount Municipal Court yesterday morning that he had failed to stop after an accident at Atwater and Dorchester last Wednesday evening in which he struck, with his 1968 Consul, a 1968 Ford driven by Paul André Goulet, 48, of Montreal North.

There was $300 damage done to the two cars and another $150 damage to Patrick's pocketbook in fines, plus costs, and the loss of his driving privileges for three months.

Westmount Police had traced him by his license number which had been noted by an eyewitness.

Three more

A fire extinguisher was reported Monday stolen from Victoria Hall. Two others were found to have vanished from the apartment house at 48 Academy road sometime over the previous fortnight.

Untired

A pair of premium winter tires, valued at $108, were reported last Thursday stolen from the garage of the apartment house at 400 Lansdowne avenue.

Renewal is law; queried

"The Québec Government by Orders-in-Council 3492 and 3497 dated Nov. 12, 1969, has approved your renewal program and has authorized the Québec Housing Corporation to grant you a subsidy estimated at $1,917,830 and a loan estimated at $639,277. Letter will follow. - Robert Lussier, MD, Minister of Municipal Affairs."

So went the translation of a telegram read to Tuesday evening's mid-month meeting of Westmount City Council, complete and self-explanatory after four years of planning, study, discussion and legislating - or so city officials might have been foregiven for believing.

It wasn't quite so simple. Coincidental with the final passage of Westmount's proposal by Québec authorities, a group of St. Antoine street residents chose this time to launch a renewed campaign against the project or, at least, that part of it affecting their homes.

They did it last week and this with a series of press releases to a daily newspaper, a meeting with Mayor Peter M. McEntyre over the weekend, a more formal meeting with the mayor and aldermen Monday night and a

PART OF THE 'NAYS' ON WHS SCHOOL COMMITTEE FORMATION

Monday evening, on the occasion of 400-plus parents present for a Home & School Association meet-the-teacher night, Westmount High School Principal Noel Hamilton called for a vote on formation of a school committee à-la-Bill 62. The decision by a wide margin was to go ahead. Our picture shows some of the "nays" with arms raised. In the balloting elected were Dr. Ian Campbell, dean of arts at Sir George Williams University; Mrs. J. R. D. Cox, a teacher and member of the WHS H&S executive; Prof. Stanley French, Westmount Park H&S president and Sir George Williams faculty member; Mrs. Carol Kahn, active in launching of the Roslyn School French immersion program; Rev. Leonard Mason, Unitarian minister; Frederick Solomon, a lawyer, and W. H. Williams, Westmount School Commissioner and McGill faculty member. Mr. Hamilton and a teacher to be chosen to the teachers' "school council" will complete the nine-person committee to advise on school matters.

Hamilton outlines functions

Organizing of a school committee for Westmount High School went into high gear last week, on a crash basis, with a call from Principal H. Noel Hamilton to parents for nominations to be voted upon at Monday evening's Home and School meet-the-teacher night.

The committee was authorized by the central board on Sept. 30, on an experimental basis. Bill 62, announced in the National Assembly last week, also provides for school committees.

ment of parents in school activities.

Mr. Hamilton said that on Monday night he would outline the organization as recommended by PSBGM officers. In a letter to parents, he mentioned that the committee would be consultative with no administrative function and should make recommendations to the principal on "general social environment of the school," school facilities, extra-curricular activities, the school program, and involve-

It would be made up of from five to nine members, the principal and a teacher. Besides parents, "any adult citizen of majority age residing in the district served by the school" may serve.

There was to be a secret ballot Monday night from nominations received in writing up to noon that day. Nominations were required to be made in each instance by two parents.

We Say

Make French courses tax-deductible

A taxpayer we know has just paid a $124.01 provincial reassessment of his 1965 income tax.

The Québec revenue department minions have ruled that an expensive, full-time, two-week, "complete submersion" course in French is not educational and not deductible.

To which we say, someone in the Ancient Capital has his priorities, his sense of values and his awareness of the times very mixed.

It is interesting to note that the same expense was not challenged on the same Westmounter's federal return for that year.

Is the minister of revenue not in accord with the policies of his own cabinet; indeed, of the National Assembly and the people generally of the Province, that everything should be done to encourage use of and proficiency in the French language in La Belle Province - alike, by those whose mother tongue is French, English or any other?

You Say

Congratulations on Hyde editorial

Sir: Congratulations on your editorial on the Hon. Richard Hyde. I heartily agree with you, but perhaps you should tell us that all he has done during his years in Québec is to vote himself two increases in salary.

Federal assistance for minority-language education

When the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism was set up under Mr. Pearson's government in 1963, there were various reactions from the public at large.

Some considered it to be a waste of public funds. Others, that it would solve the French-English problem in Canada.

At the time, I was not so rash to voice either sentiment. I did believe, however, that some positive steps would result from the commission's inquiries.

To date, my views have certainly not proved to be unfounded. The principal recommendations of the commission's first volume are embodied in the Official Languages Act, in force for some months now.

Volume II

Volume II of the B and B Commission was published late last year. It deals with education. People were perhaps surprised and somewhat taken aback that the federal Royal Commission should involve itself with a matter under provincial jurisdiction. However, the commissioners realized that if positive measures were to be adopted to preserve and foster the growth of our two official languages and cultures then these measures should be applied to our educational institutions.

That the cost of giving instruction in two languages is greater than doing so in one language was apparent to the commissioners. That some provinces might give priority to educating the urban poor over providing minority-language education was considered not impossible. It was, therefore, in the commissioners' view, essential from the standpoint of confirming Canada's bilingual and bicultural character that the federal government should contribute to the cost of educating the minority-language group in its mother tongue.

Recently, Mr. Pelletier, the secretary of state, outlined the federal government's proposals with regard to those recommendations of the B and B commission directed toward the federal government. There are 12 recommendations, ranging from aid to minority-language schools to the establishment of teacher training institutions. These recommendations are related to two basic and not unrelated priorities - equality of opportunity for education in the minority, as well as in the majority, language; and the encouragement of second-language learning.

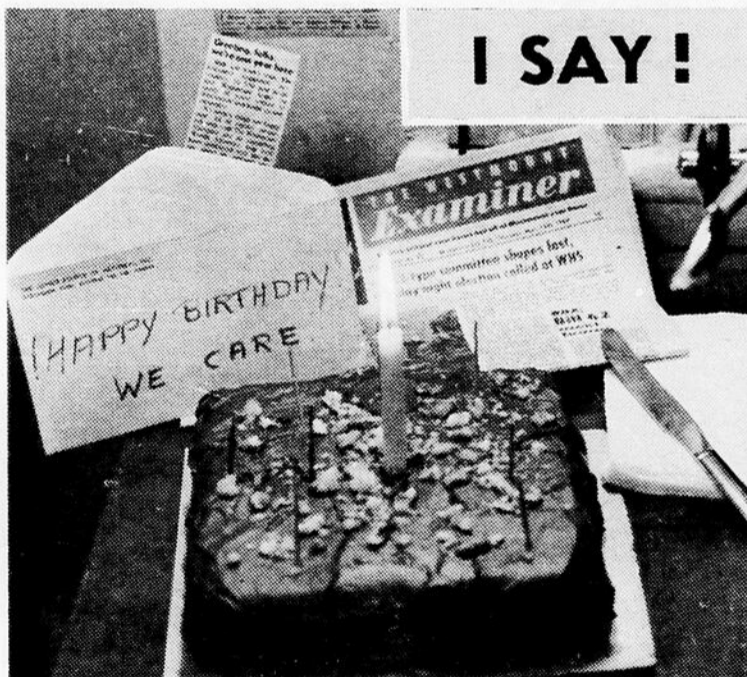

It has been suggested by the B and B commission that true equality in language instruction might be achieved by alternating the language of instruction within each school so that each child would receive half of his instruction in each language. I understand that the Québec government intends, under the provisions of Bill 63, to have English-speaking students take almost half their courses in French within a few years.

However, for the time being and certainly in provinces other than Québec, equality of educational opportunity will mean providing instruction in the language of one's choice, if not providing two separate educational systems.

Desire

Many provinces already make compulsory the studying of their second language at certain, if not all, stages of the educational system. There seems to be an increasing and widespread desire among Canadian students to learn both of the official languages and so to enable these ambitions to be fulfilled. The federal government is proposing to share the capital costs with the provinces of establishing second-language training centres, designed for the training of language teachers.

The government is prepared to contribute initially $50 million for the first full year of operations for the proposed program, which could begin in January 1970. Mr. Pelletier could not be more specific about the implementation of the proposals nor about the detailed financing. These matters have to be discussed and worked out with the provinces. As he put it: "Translation of these principles into practice requires acceptance by the provinces, and beyond that a willingness on their part to take the initiative in putting new programs into effect... The federal government is prepared to do its part. It profoundly hopes that the provinces will wish to do likewise."

The Junior League, They Care!

The nicest "letter" to the editor we have received was this freshly home-baked chocolate cake, Tuesday afternoon, brought to our office by its maker, Mrs. David Ross, 609 Roslyn avenue, publicity chairman of The Junior League of Montreal, to mark only a little belatedly our first year in our Westmount office. Mrs. Ross was inspired by an editorial in our Oct. 2 issue, noting the anniversary and that we were too busy to stop that week for a birthday cake. Some might call this undue influence; but with or without the cake we still would have run the picture of the two Westmount ladies preparing toys for the Junior League, on page 13 - the occasion for Mrs. Ross' visit to our office. The single candle was duly blown out and the perfect piece of baking shared by the staff of The Examiner and Weekly Adservice here at 4630 St. Catherine street west.

And now...

our M.P.Q.
J. RICHARD HYDE
also says...
Bill 63

I am pleased to note that The Examiner considers it desirable that I should send a weekly letter from Québec, and shall be only too happy to comply with this suggestion. I sincerely regret any misunderstanding in the past, and look forward to this added opportunity to communicate with the electors of Westmount.

It goes without saying that I shall welcome suggestions as to subjects of general interest from those of your readers who may wish to write to me direct at the following address: Member for Westmount, Parliament Buildings, Québec City. I will of course reply individually to all such letters, as well as deal with as many of them as possible in this column.

At present most letters which I am receiving have to do with Bills 62 and 63. Bill 62 is the proposed law dealing with school reorganization on the Island of Montreal. It is a complex measure proposing to replace the existing 35 Protestant and Catholic School Commissions, by 11 multi-denominational boards, under a single co-ordinating School Council. Bill 62 is, in effect, a working paper and will be the subject of long study and discussion before its final version is adopted. I shall deal with Bill 62 in the future.

The question receiving the attention of all Québécois at the time of writing is Bill 63. Seldom in the history of the Québec Legislature has there been a measure which has given rise to such a volume of oratory and confused thinking as Bill 63.

The most vocal reactions, and the most strenuous objections, appear to come from extremists and individuals who far too often do not seem to have any clear idea of what the proposed law contains.

The bill sets out three basic principles:

1- The right of parents to choose the language of instruction for their children;

2- The need for improved teaching of French to children in the English schools in order eventually to provide all students with a good "working knowledge" of French upon leaving high school;

3- The need for the government to set up facilities to induce immigrants to choose the majority language and culture in Québec for their families, by all reasonable measures of persuasion, but without coercion.

As a result of strong pressure from the Liberal Opposition as well as from more moderate elements of the Québec population, the Government has also proposed additional amendments to encourage the use of French as the normal working language in Québec industry, particularly for those whose mother tongue is French.

These four principles have always formed the basis of the language policy of the Québec Liberal Party. They were set out in clear terms at our annual convention in October 1968. The resolution containing this policy was

Book Fair is arranged at St. George's School

In celebration of Young Canada Book Week, St. George's School parents, staff and students will present over 2,000 books of all categories for sale in a two-day Book Fair Nov. 28 - 29 at the School, 3100 The Boulevard.

In addition to featuring a comfortable reading area where buyers can sit and browse through the books, the Fair will present films on Saturday morning.

Authors and educators have been coming to the school for the past two weeks to talk to the students, among them Prof. Archie Malloch of 524 Lansdowne avenue who, together with several colleagues from McGill, conducted a special assembly entitled "Books as Medium."

Among the students and parents working together on the fair are several Westmount residents. Mrs. A. Gill of 490 Argyle avenue and Mrs. L. Clarke of 4363 Montrose avenue are actively involved. Mrs. J. Dickstein of 476 Mount Pleasant avenue is working with the food committee to provide refreshments throughout the fair. Susan Glickman of 641

Victoria avenue has designed one of the posters and Jill and Jody Golick of 30 Oakland avenue, Charlotte Disher of 29 Bellevue avenue, and Margy Shavick of 4386 Montrose avenue are working on decorations.

Leslie Malloch of 524 Lansdowne and Linda Goodwin of 572 Victoria are helping with refreshments, while Robert Kaud of 14 Surrey Gardens is in charge of the record section. Anna Fisher of 637 Victoria avenue is student publicity chairman.

The students will paint posters and murals, run films, select and sell records. They hope that not only their parents but the general public will come and see what is being read and listened to by young people.

adopted by a vote of 2,000, against one dissenting.

It is a policy which is surely acceptable and reasonable for every real Québécois regardless of his mother tongue. I am convinced that the English-speaking citizens of Québec will fully endorse and gladly promote these principles. In the past, I have stressed the need for understanding of the problems faced by our French-speaking fellow citizens of Québec. I feel now that something more is required and that we must show our desire to participate in the Québec of 1969 by joining together with all Québécois to create an atmosphere of friendly harmony which in turn will bring back the feeling of confidence which has been so sadly lacking for the past two or three years.

It is my sincere hope that by the time these lines appear, Bill 63 will have become law in our Province.

Dr. R. Douglas Smith will preach Sunday in Dominion-Douglas Church on "The Conquest of Fear."

Over 200 people, attended a reception given for the moderator of the United Church, Dr. R. B. McClure, last week. Dr. McClure spoke to the group on the opportunities that Canada has in today's world, and following his address questions were asked and answered.

The gathering was ecumenical and French-speaking as well as English-speaking attended and also representatives of the churches and synagogues of Westmount.

Modern-breed missionary, Dr. Knight speaks here

Dr. Allen Knight will address the congregation of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday morning.

Recently described as "a living example of the 'modern breed' of missionary" Dr. Knight is an agricultural engineer who directs a community development centre in the Congo, serving refugees from Angola. After 19 years of service in Portuguese West Africa, Dr. Knight is an outspoken critic of the colonial regime.

"I took a stand for dignity, justice and education for the African people," he says. "As a result my visa to return was education in health and nutrition. The Community Development Centre provides tools, fertilizer, and seeds to village projects, but is careful to give neither village nor individuals so much help as to destroy initiative.

In addition to his frank opposition to the government of Angola Dr. Knight has provocative opinions in other areas. He blames the missionaries of the past for trying to change the culture of countries they didn't understand. He defends some native customs, among them the witch doctor. "We should have one in each of our hospitals. Some cases respond to native treatment. There's a psychological value involved," he says.

Following this Sunday morning's service, Dr. Knight will engage in a "talk back" with members of the congregation.

Africa will also be the centre of attention at this Sunday evening's chapel service. Miss Ellen Donald, a social work student, will share her experiences with a Crossroads Africa team in Nigeria last summer. Her presentation will include color slides contrasting differences in life here and in Africa.

A group of young Westmount musicians, the St. Andrew's Chamber Players directed by Gordon White, will play at the evening service.

N. D. Bryan-Jones Scientist lecturer

"The Science of Being Unafraid" is the title of a free public lecture on Christian Science to be given by Noel D. Bryan-Jones of Worthing, England, on Thursday evening, Nov. 27, at 8.15 o'clock in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

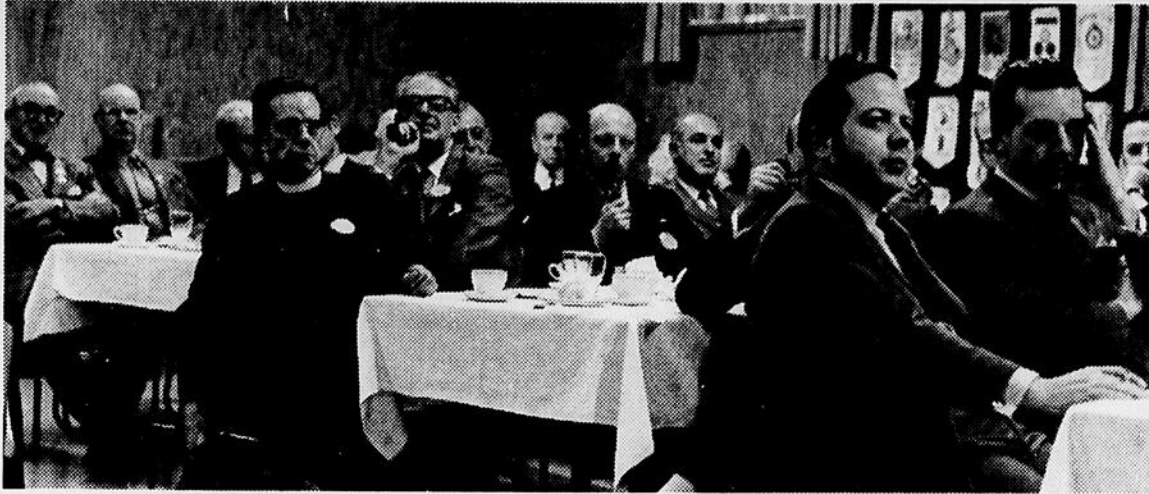

Mr. Bryan-Jones was a council member, fellow and examiner of the British Optical Association before entering the healing ministry of Christian Science in 1957. He has served as First Reader of the mother church of Christian Science in Boston. While a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, he has toured extensively throughout the Far East. He will speak here under the auspices of the Christian Science Church in Montreal.

Whether man's conscious identity is the reflection of God, or the product of physiology, will be examined in the Bible lesson on the subject "Soul and Body" to be read at services in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

cation disorders, McGill University.

Dr. Ling was speaking to the Westmount Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting in Victoria Hall yesterday.

According to Dr. Ling, very few people realize the problems of lack of hearing which may start as early as 40 years.

A child born deaf has to learn how to discriminate and how to talk. Most children can be taught how to speak, he said. To illustrate his point, Dr. Ling gave a tape recording demonstration of how progress was made in one dramatic case.

According to Dr. Ling the field of electronics is playing a great part in perfecting speech therapy. Enormous strides are being made in this regard by McGill University, he said. In this opinion, 90 per cent of those afflicted can be taught to speak properly but the work will take more funds for research.

Congratulations of President Curt Ross were extended to Frank Kenwood and Messrs. Moxley, Trimm, Everson and Durso for the success of the "fireside evening" last week. Lew Steinberg was the recipient

1969-70 municipal hockey league schedules posted

The City of Westmount recreation department this week posted schedules for its five 1969-70 hockey leagues.

Recreation Supervisor John Garland issued regulations covering all players.

Every participant must wear a helmet, with the chin strap securely fastened. Every player must provide his own sweater for practices and all team members are expected to arrive at the rink at least 20 minutes before game time.

If unable to attend a practice or a game, each player is asked to advise Mr. Garland at the arti-cial ice rink at the southeast corner of Westmount Park. His phone number is 932-4293.

The timetables follow. All leagues have schedules of practices prior to the opening games.

Volunteer Bureau runs the Christmas Index

The Christmas Index, a temporary co-ordinating service provided at Christmas time so that gifts from generous Montrealers may be distributed as evenly and as fairly as possible, is being operated this year by the Volunteer Bureau of Montreal, a Red Feather Federated Appeal Service.

Without this service some families would receive gifts from several sources, while others, equally in need, would receive nothing.

The office of the Index is now open at 985 Sherbrooke street west and the telephone numbers are 842-4814 and 842-4815.

Westmount residents on the board of directors of the Volunteer Bureau include: Mrs. M. Charness, 655 Roslyn avenue; Mrs. J. N. Mappin, 598 Argyle avenue, Mrs. P. E. Le Feuvre, 696 Grosvenor avenue; Miss M. Chadwick, 235 Metcalfe avenue; Mrs. R. E. Fisher, 465 Mount Pleasant avenue; Mrs. A. K. Glassford, 513 Clarke avenue; Mrs. K. C. Hague, 557 Roslyn avenue; Mrs. M. F. Nicholson, 8 Hudson avenue; Miss A. Peterson, 250 Kensington avenue, and Mrs. G. Taylor, 455 Roslyn avenue.

To make this service effective the co-operation of individuals and organizations planning to provide gifts to specific families is needed. By registering the names of the families and the type of assistance being given, organizations have enabled the Christmas Index to prevent from 1,500 to 2,000 duplications each year during the 49 years the service has been in operation. It was formerly under the auspices of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies.

Forms coming

Churches, schools, social agencies and welfare departments who have previously worked through the Index will shortly be receiving in the mail forms on which to register information required. Those who have not previously used the service are asked to call the Index for these forms.

As soon as the completed registration cards are received they are checked and filed. If the family is already registered as receiving assistance, the organization is notified immediately.

DEBUTANTE: Among those presented at St. Mary's Ball last Friday, was Miss Dorothy Long, 3033 Sherbrooke street west. Following presentation to the guests-of-honor, Prime Minister Jean-Jacques Bertrand and Mme Bertrand, the girls took part in the traditional Father-Daughter Waltz which officially opens the ball.

ARRANGED 'NOEL '69' AT THE MUSEUM

The Ladies' Committee of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts is holding, commencing tomorrow until Sunday, Nov. 30, inclusive, a display of Christmas trees decorated by 26 different ethnic groups. "Noel '69" had a gala opening today and will be open to the public tomorrow. Among special events will be performances by Westmount's St. Matthias Church Boys' Choir Saturday at 2 and 3:30 pm, with other special daily attractions. Left to right are Mrs. David Culver, 4344 Westmount avenue; Mrs. H. H. Cotton, 345 Roslyn avenue; Mrs. Howard M. Smith, 28 Rosemount avenue; Mrs. David Hodgson, and Mrs. James Plant, 479 Strathcona avenue.

All files are confidential and are destroyed at the end of each Christmas season to protect the privacy of the families involved.

Although the primary purpose of the Christmas Index is to serve as a checking centre for those who are planning to give to specific families, organizations needing help for their clients may list these needs with the Index.

Those wishing to make donations will not be given the names of families by the Christmas Index but will be directed to these organizations.

It is strongly recommended that gifts be cash in the form of cheques, money orders, gift certificates or food vouchers. This allows parents the pleasure of choosing gifts for their own children which they know they will like or need, and to select food according to their own traditions and culture. The responsibility for delivering packages or food hampers must be assumed by the donors as the Index does not have a delivery service.

GRENFELL LABRADOR MEDICAL MISSION CHRISTMAS CARDS

"The Grenfell Labrador Medical Mission is now selling Christmas Cards to help provide equipment for Medical Mission work in Quebec and Labrador. Last year the monies so received purchased an incubator for the maternity wing and helped towards the purchase of a skidoo to transport doctors to outpost communities. Two years ago an X-ray machine was purchased for the dental department of the hospital. The cards include four scenes to choose from, one of which is from a painting "Northern Lights", donated by Stephen Hamilton of New York, the original having been sold at the annual sale of handicrafts recently. Other scenes are Eskimo characters, all of which had been donated.

The Christmas Cards and Hasty Notes are on sale at the following locations:

McGregor Travel Co., 1373 Greene Ave., Westmount, until Dec. 15th.

Hartmut C. Schwenn, the 27-year-old tycoon whose combined sales last year totaled about $6 million, is planning a chain of stamp stores in 50 West German towns and cities to be in operation in the early 1970s.

In stamp auction sales, Schwenn's house is now the largest in Europe and the catalogues prepared for these sales prices. Once a packet has been held six months, Schwenn guarantees the purchaser to original price plus a minimum of six per cent a year for the first two years.

When asked to comment, Schwenn replied: "I consider stamps primarily a capital investment. For the man who spends a couple of thousand dollars a year for stamps, they are no longer a hobby."

Late news from Cuba tells of an Aug. 20 issue of seven stamps depicting art works of the Napoleonic Museum of Havana. Printing was by multicolor offset chrome unwatermarked paper: 1c - Bonaparte in Milan, by Andrea Appiani (The Older); 2c - Hortensia de Beauharnais, by François Ferard; 3c - Napoleon, First Consul, by J. B. Regnault; 4c - Elisa Bonaparte, by Robert Lefebvre; 5c - Projecting the coronation, by J. G. Vibert; 13c - Brigadier de Cuirassier (Armored forces), by Jean Meissonier; are kept by collectors as works of reference.

A long-time dream of Schwenn's, "a mini-stock, investment plan", finally became a reality in September - 22 West German banks began offering stamps at teller's windows as an investment opportunity. According to the terms, investors will initially be offered West Germany's most scarce stamps in specially sealed packets at average stamp market 30c - Napoleon Bonaparte, by Robert Lefebvre.

There were only 255,000 complete sets printed and from the copies seen I would venture to say that this set will prove to be equally as popular as the "Napoleon" issue from Monaco.

On Sept. 11 a 13c stamp was issued on the occasion of the International Baseball Championship 1969, which was held in the Dominion Republic and was won by Cuba. The stamp was designed by Raimundo Garcia Parra and shows a player sliding in at home plate to score a run. One million were issued printed by multicolor offset on chrome unwatermarked paper. Although we read that many of the new issues from Cuba are printed by multicolor offset on chrome unwatermarked paper, we should not take this for granted that all new issues are being

Musical photographer

One of the top fashion photographers of the city, Sam Getz lives in Westmount on de Maisonneuve boulevard. He is known far and wide for his knowledge in his own artistic sphere. Many folks do not know all the detail that must be measured into a moment's flick that took years of practise.

Talent for this vocation and work must go hand in hand. As I mentioned the words "artistic sphere" above, Sam Getz is also interested in another segment of artistry - music.

The affable gentleman goes to many concerts, certainly most of the classical ones, and sometimes these true music lovers know more about the performance than musicians think they do.

I learned that Sam also has a record collection of the best works and often relaxes by playing them. The well-known photographer has friends with the same tastes and he always is accompanied by one.

New Opera - New Plot - New Company. Like many other cities, our town rarely gets opera - that is, grand opera. And for two distinct reasons: one, not enough people attend, therefore it is not advantageous to an agent or the performers; the other, people who would like to hear it usually cannot afford it. But now is your opportunity this Saturday.

The Montreal public is really starved for good opera. The Metropolitan has as yet not opened due to monetary disputes. Therefore the stars who were engaged do not get their fees! Nor could they accept other engagements. Some fix!

Yes, the music business is unpredictable. Would anyone believe such a situation with the Metropolitan Opera, the opera house which is the goal of all opera aspirants on this continent and from abroad?

You can believe it because it is true.

Now a bright note. This Saturday night, one performance only, in Place des Arts, Salle Wilfrid Pelletier, an original three-act opera "Anna Yaroslavna", conducted by the composer, Antin Rudnytsky, has a and plot with a happy ending.

Two famous stars, Baritone Leo Reynarovich and Mezzo-soprano Alicia Andreadis, head a cast with six other noted singers.

The 60-voice Kobzan Choir from Philadelphia, a dance group with choreography by Roma-Pryma Bohachevska and 30 of Montreal's best orchestral musicians complete the roster.

Since most of the cast are of Ukrainian origin, they are superbly trained with thorough grounding. If they are anything like that wonderful Bandurist Choir with soloists that I reviewed in Plateau Hall the end of last season, I just can't wait for Saturday night.

"Hare Krishna" Invades Dawson

An 18 year old, dressed in a sheet stood at the doors of Dawson College, Nov. 17, distributing the literature of Hare Krishna. Jaya Pastaka (his spiritual name) is the president of the temple of Hare Krishna. His garb, consisting of an orange sheet, socks, a closely shaven head, except for one thick strand of hair and beads showed that he, as well as all the members of the movement, dressed this way in order to help them remember spiritually what they stood for. Their outfit also includes a pouch containing beads for individual chanting. The other significant aspect is their make-up Tilak, the only essential aspect of their appearance which shows that they have dedicated their body for service.

The followers of Hare Krishna believe that behind all this there is a supreme intelligence. This supreme being has a planet called Spiritual Sky and Krishna is the supreme of all. The trick is to get from individual planets to beyond the universe, which may be done by chanting.

Their aim is not to try and convert people but to convince them that there is a supreme being. Anyone could become a part of this movement as this is a post graduate course for all religious.

They chant anywhere, including at 3720 Park Ave.— their Montreal H.Q.

Lobbies

Chances are you don't know what is happening about lounges.

There have been four spaces allotted for student lounges in Dawson. 1) The basement lounge, 2) the carpeted first floor lounge, 3) The large second floor lounge, and 4) space 60-a darkish room commonly referred to as the "Cage", which is big enough to hold 300 people.

We students have been allotted $14,000 to pay for lounge furniture while the faculty, has been allotted only $1,400. Interestingly enough, students are getting more money per head than are teachers.

In early September several staff members formed a committee and after looking for furniture, and it is now in place in the smaller second floor lounge.

In a similar fashion, a committee of interested students was formed to furnish our lounges. These four students have a hard task. Designs which are conclusive to the favoured atmosphere must be drawn up by the students. Then, someone to translate these drawings into technical terms must be found. The students then must "shop around" for the best price at several furniture makers. After the order is made there will be a four to six week delivery wait.

In charge of the Basement lounge is Gary Albert. For this area, a coffee-house atmosphere is planned with black tables on metal bases, mural-like tapestries on the walls, a low stage for performers and benches of sorts along each wall.

The second-floor lounge is being planned by Paul Rheault — and, something extraordinary with "undulating furniture". The first-floor lounge, being planned by Fred Pellier, will have a more lobbyish atmosphere.

Classical Demise

"Modern Classical music is slowly killing itself".

Such is the opinion of Michel Perrault, conductor, composer, formerly a member of the Montreal Symphony Orchestra. "Today's modern classical composers are getting little attention. They literally have to drag a few hundred people to their concerts of contemporary classical music."

Michel Perrault, himself concerned with the recent demise of the classics, feels that this is due to two important factors being overplayed (no pun).

"With time and pitch having been forgotten and volume and timbre being overworked, music hardly has a leg to stand on. Hence the phenomenal rise of pop music which emphasizes two basic main functions we go back to the days of Bach when this was the basis."

Mr. Perrault is pouring his not unconsiderable talent now to musical pedagogy, the science of teaching. He supervises instructors on the methods of teaching music.

Later this year, Mr. Perrault will conduct the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra during their Xmas season. He talked last week to sections of the "Man the Communicator" Humanities class.

Library quorum reduced to 3

A "by-law to further amend By-Law 82 concerning the establishment and maintenance of a free public library in the town" was moved by Ald. John Birks, seconded by Ald. Ian Craig, read by City Clerk R. B. Seaman, adopted unanimously and promulgated by Mayor Peter M. McEntyre Tuesday evening.

In short, they lowered the quorum required for a meeting of the trustees of the library from four to three. The original by-law dates from when Westmount was not yet a city but merely a town.

Victory Light Shines For Dawson

You'd never know that Dawson is a first year CEGEP.

Our Dawson "heroics" humiliated Valleyfield by a score of 85 to 13, Nov. 14th. The "big gun" for Dawson was Howard Cohen, who jumped and rebounded for 24 points. Mark Shedlack, Chris Alzavazidis, and Gary Connelly were other notables.

The opposing team met with some superb ball control on the part of the Dawsonites, even though Valleyfield displayed an abundance of muscle. (maybe they were distracted by our pretty cheerleaders) Although Valleyfield was no competition for Dawson, nevertheless, the exhibition proved that our team is a strong contender. At the end of the first half the score was 54 to 6, which led Mike Ruskenstein, coach, to remark: "It wasn't real basketball on the other teams part."

Mike also was disappointed by the lack of support from our spectators. There were only 50 - 75 persons in attendance.

Support your team in their next game Monday Nov. 24, at R.M.R. in Westmount, against Edouard Monpetit. Time - 8:15 p.m.

Each to his own needle

Drugs are the scene among today's youth. Some question the present laws that govern the illegal use of narcotics; the major controversy surrounding the effects of "grass", both instantaneous and long term.

Many "experts" have given their evaluations on this subject, with the result being a mass of conflicting ideas.

Lee Robins, a psychiatrist from Washington, and Professor Thomas of Laval University added some further "insight" to this issue. When they took the floor at the recent inquiry of the Royal Commission on Drugs, they illustrated the effects through a study of the population of urban negroes given in 1965.

"A survey which was taken of the urban negro population in the United States stated that there is no difference between users of marijuana and nonusers. 230 boys were taken in public school, and they were watched until the age of 33. Half of the people took drugs and 1/4 of them took marijuana.

"The other quarter took hard drugs such as heroin. The two groups were compared and it was proven that those who took marijuana led happier lives than those who took hard drugs".

How does that grab you?

Women's Basketball

Congratulations to the following girls who have successfully made the Dawson College Women's Intercollegiate Basketball Team as of November 11, 1969. Those girls whose names do not appear may see Miss Paton for manager application. C.I.L. Briefs Dawson

On Tuesday, November 11, four representatives of Canadian Industries Limited came to Dawson and gave a brief exposé of the company for students enrolled in technology and data processing.

A massive turnout of thirteen students and four teachers were present at the meeting.

Dr. Dixon of C.I.L. started the meeting by explaining the main divisions of the company. Mr. Murdock followed, briefing the students on the technological side. Mr. Faibish spoke about the production area and Mr. Anderson talked about data processing.

During a question period, questions were asked by the Dawson professors, no student participated in the debate. The discussion period turned from a technological aspect to a humanitarian aspect, when a professor asked if the classification of a CEGEP graduate in technology would be regarded, by a company, above, below, or equal to a university graduate in the same field.

No answer was found, and with that the meeting ended.

EDITORIAL

Recently the ISAC distributed sheets to students in reference to the publication of a yearbook. As a student of Dawson College, I favour such a venture, but I am somewhat disturbed over the type of book the ISAC has planned.

I am apprehensive. Last year I worked in my high school as an editor, and became somewhat familiar with the financing of one. Money will be the prime concern in producing the publication at Dawson. The ISAC has made known the yearbook would be 104 pages, containing four full-colour pages and 28 duotone pages.

This would indeed be impressive, but I remember the approximate prices from last year. Full colour runs $250. per page and duotones somewhere between $100. and $150. This would mean approx $4,000. for only 32 pages!

Then there is the cost of the total amount of pages (divides into 16 page signets), the number of books (1800 in Dawson's case), and random extra. Unless some extra special, extraordinary basic contract with a publisher can be wangled, I foresee a cost of over 10,000 dollars.

Now much of this is made up by the students, but even if five dollars per student is charged, there would be a couple thousand dollars to be made up in advertising and fund raising campaigns. Although I think the majority of students would like some kind of publication, I doubt whether many would agree to pay 5 dollars for it.

The average cost of a university yearbook is ten thousand plus, but then universities like McGill have 15,000 students to make up the cost.

Dawson is in its first year, and with a student population slightly over that of a large high school it would be ludicrous; to do what the ISAC has planned. It would be rash and extravagant.

Yes, let there be a yearbook; let the "Dawson Story" be told; let there be reflections of college life in a neophyte institution, but let's budget ourselves, develop and save our financial resources ... and in the long run be able to produce a superlative annual for the first graduating class from Dawson next year.

B. Zaget.

Letters

Dear Sir:

"Apathy is action" is the term now used to describe the situation in the cafeteria.

People sit at tables loaded with garbage and ignore it. They continue playing cards or eating their lunch as if it does not exist.

Is this the way students who have complete freedom should react?

Surely people have more pride in themselves than to eat like pigs.

Students should take pride in themselves and their school by removing their garbage before leaving.

Can the situation continue this way?

Riddell, Stead again auditors

Messrs. Riddell, Stead, Graham and Hutchison, chartered accountants, 630 Dorchester boulevard west, Montreal, were reappointed auditors by city council Tuesday evening, for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1969.

It was stipulated in Finance Commissioner Ald. Ian Craig's motion that the firm's fee was not to exceed $8,000.

"Why so late?" asked Ald. Jean H. Richer.

"We didn't get it on the agenda sooner," replied Mr. Craig, who added that the firm had been the city's auditors for a number of years.

Mother, child hit

Mrs. E. Leisser, 488 Elm avenue, and her five-year-old daughter escaped serious injury last Thursday when at the de Maisonneuve boulevard crossing at the foot of their street they were struck down by a car as they ran across the busy thoroughfare. They were hit by a passing 1968 Comet owned by a Montrealer. The mother suffered bruised muscles in a leg, the child apparently unharmed when felled by her mother's body.

Confronted, the customer offered to make good with a new cheque for $100 at the same time as he was cashing yet another $20 once.

Gussed it? Both the $100 and the latest $20 have now bounced, the accommodating restaurant man ruefully told Westmount Police this week.

amended by By-law 735, unless suitable lodgings shall have been made available to such persons, taking into account their incomes, the whole in accordance with the provisions of the Quebec Housing Corporation Act - Bill 63 '1967'.

Their activities also brought on a quick-turnaround trip from Québec by Jacques Bernier, a commissioner of the Québec Housing Corporation, bearing a letter on procedure which was read Tuesday night and enlarged upon by Mr. Bernier, who also answered questions of the public present - largely southeast Westmount residents, affected in various ways by the renewal scheme.

Mr. Bernier arrived a quarter of an hour later than his expected 8:30 pm at Tuesday evening's mid-month City Council meeting. He apologized, explaining that his train was late. "Blame Mr. Richer!" commented Mayor Peter M. McEntyre, referring to Ald. Jean H. Richer, a Canadian National Railways vice-president.

Mr. Bernier had brought with him a letter addressed to City Clerk R. B. Seaman from the president of the QHC, which was opened and read aloud in French by Assistant City Clerk Peter Patenaude to Mayor, aldermen, city officials and approximately 40 on-lookers in the council chamber.

Upon a call for a summary in English by Journalist Mrs. Helen Rochester, a City Council aspirant nearly a year ago, Mr. Bernier proceeded to provide just that.

CITY OF WESTMOUNT

Public notice is hereby given to all who may be concerned that By-law 736 entitled "BY-LAW TO FURTHER AMEND BY-LAW NO. 82 CONCERNING THE ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF A FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY IN THE TOWN" was adopted by the Municipal Council of the City of Westmount at a General sitting held at the City Hall on Tuesday, 18th November, 1969.

Details relating to said By-law are fully set out in By-law 736 which is open for inspection by all persons interested at the office of the City Clerk, City Hall, Westmount.

Given at Westmount this nineteenth day of November, 1969.

R.B. SEAMAN
City Clerk

Summary

The outline of an agreement between the city and QHC would be coming in a week or so, he said, but meanwhile he was pleased to convey information, specifically on how QHC had come to submit the proposal to the provincial cabinet and requested authority for grants under the QHC Act.

Originally, he said, City Council had passed its urban renewal by-law, No. 727, on March 17, 1969, and modified it with by-law 735 on Nov. 3 last. These had been ratified by Order-in-Council 3492 on Nov. 12 and, following the corporation's resolution 2306 of Nov. 5, by Order-in-Council 3497 of Nov. 12 to grant subsidies, when the city chooses to go ahead, of up to $1,917,830 and a loan to cover the city's share of $639,277.

It was a definite condition of any agreement, he went on, that the City of Westmount undertakes implementation of a housing scheme with a minimum of 100 housing units as provided by Article 51 and subsequent articles of the act.

The agreement will have two specific clauses:

- 1) to submit a housing program to the QHC within six months of the signing of the agreement; and

2) to specify the number of families who will be displaced unless the city has made available suitable units within the income capabilities of such families.

Henry needs new housing. We don't."

Albert J. Fisher, 329 Selby street, spoke next, as president of the Westmount Tenants' Association. He asked if the persons already displaced by the Selby street expropriation for the Trans-Canada Highway were included in the 100 homes mentioned to be provided.

Mr. Bernier reiterated that the figure of 100 was the minimum required by QHC of the city. The Selby street residents had been evicted, he went on, and were in residence in various parts of the metropolitan area, and they should be looked after if wishing to come back. He thought a limited number would, and there should be a reserve for them; not only for those needing subsidized housing, but others who moved out voluntarily.

Some available

Maybe some 60 homes would be needed for the persons displaced by urban renewal, leaving 40 available for others such as Selby residents, he suggested. There should be subsidization if need be, the economic rent (at cost) for those others who cannot meet the market-value rentals. He doubted that "the city should be in competition with private enterprise at market-value rents."

Prof. Norbert Schoenauer, 53 Prospect street, noted a disappearance of some 300 dwellings on the north side of Dorchester boulevard, 250 on Selby street and 120 contemplated, on St. Antoine. He asked if the city did not have a moral obligation to replace these.

Mr. Bernier described the disappearance of low-cost housing as a "drama" throughout Québec municipalities. However, "housing does not have to be tied in with renewal" but there cannot be renewal without housing.

This disappearance has to be replaced "at a certain point and at a certain time," he agreed.

Also answering the sarge questioner on the desirability of releasing areas as quickly as possible from renewal zone restrictions, he agreed saying that after the first year or as soon as work in a sector is done, it should be removed from the renewal zone.

Architect Joseph Baker, 1087 Greene Avenue, said that while the discussions had been on the disappearance of dwellings, there should be more concern over the disappearance of families. He also asked if there was an order-of-priority list kept anywhere of schemes such as Westmount's.

Mr. Bernier commented that the 100 figure was the bare minimum of homes for families which Westmount will be required to provide. "If more are needed, money is available," he stated clearly.

First-come

Regarding priorities, renewal and housing schemes are on a first-come, first-served basis. If the municipalities concerned come forward, their plans are considered. There were at the present time 65 QHC schemes afoot in 58 municipalities, he added.

Mr. Baker then went on to declare that he could not agree with the advice given the city about the condition of the St. Antoine street dwellings. "Why must buildings be demolished?" he asked.

Condition is not the sole factor, Mr. Bernier replied. Overall factors are considered.

Mr. Baker deplored the dwindling "stock" of habitable dwellings in the province.

To which Mr. Bernier, before departing to catch a plane back to Quebec City, delivered his

7 car breaks in one day; little taken

It was car-breaking-into night in two distinct sections of Westmount on Saturday night, Nov. 1. In only one instance was anything of more than nominal value stolen.

And to provide a little wrinkle, in another of the seven cases reported to Westmount Police either late Saturday or next day, a credit card stolen from one car was left in still another three streets away.

One lot occurred, in turn, at 615, 625, 637 and 658 Lansdowne avenue and 521 Victoria. The credit card found its way from the Victoria scene to the vehicle at 658 Lansdowne.

Taken from a car on Clendoyne avenue, just south of Dorchester boulevard west, was a suede coat valued at $150, two 40-ounce bottles of Scotch Whisky, a botebook and other small items.

And outside 4218 Dorchester a car, a convertible, had its soft top cut.

Forty-six RMR officers and 1,097 other ranks crossed to Europe in the fall of 1914. Six months after leaving Montreal. They were in the trenches at Armentieres. From then on the Montrealers fought in some 20 battles. Many of these are carried as battle honors on the regimental colors.

With the onset of the Second World War, the RMR again sailed for England, in December 1939, and subsequently saw action in Europe, particularly the liberation of Calais and parts of Holland.

closing words:

"If there is no renewal, will Quebec ever carry out any housing?"

The same dwellings (opposite) but taken from the rear housing is to be included in the agreement.

The QHC is including in its current year's reserve $1,500,000 for financing the construction of housing units under the Westmount scheme.

The secretary of the corporation will be contacting the city clerk to establish procedures to be followed for depositing lists with the registrar so that all properties affected will be registered.

So much for the QHC chairman's letter.

Comments

Mr. Bernier went on to say that the city clerk had already been advised of what will be required, under provisions of the Cities and Towns Act, by way of public notice. The city will be required to give notice by mail to "each owner, tenant and occupant" affected by By-law 735 of Nov. 3. The By-Law 735 amendments, according to the QHC Act, require notices to be given by newspaper advertisements and by notices posted at the city hall in addition to the individual notices under the Cities and Towns Act.

The amendments, he explained, were made subsequent to analysis of the original scheme, which didn't provide for housing. However, the housing corporation had been informed of the city's plans for housing and areas for construction had been looked at. The cost of land was too high for low cost housing and, though the city might acquire buildings to reconvert, again the cost involved precluded such a solution.

Therefore, as had been done in other cases, a subsidized rental system was devised as a temporary solution for a maximum of one year. To assure that the city could not get around the provisions of Article 39 of the QHC Act regarding housing, a condition was that the city must submit its scheme which must also be appropriate to the needs and resources of the displaced persons.

It was now up to the city to proceed with an appropriate housing scheme, Mr. Bernier stated.

He noted that a distinction must be made between ordinary, normal expropriation laws, where there is no requirement to look after displaced persons, and those uprooted under the QHC Act, where the opposite is true.

The original scheme had been reviewed at a public meeting and a thorough analysis made by housing corporation staff. Mr. Bernier therefore thought it was not up to him to pass judgment on the merits of the plan itself.

with federal authorities, namely CMHC, and to negotiate approval of the Québec government in any scheme in the province.

The provision of $1,500,000 by QHC was based, he said, on facts provided as requested of the city.

Too costly

Rejection of the city's two housing proposals, in connection with renewal, was based on $8 per square foot, the value of available land, being too high and the estimated cost of refurbishing existing houses also being too much.

Mr. Zannis pressed for an indication of the where, what type and when of the housing contemplated, pointing out that protracted waiting and uncertainty would be unfair to the residents facing displacement.

Mr. Bernier said that the agreement between QHC and the city would include a mandatory implementation within five years and that by each Dec. 31 the city would be required to state its program under the scheme for the year ahead from April 1 to the following May 31.

The terms of the draft agreement are to be submitted to the city authorities within 10 days, Mr. Bernier added. So far, the green light had been given to go ahead but only under certain conditions which particularly included housing arrangements.

Robert Legault, 3225 St. Antoine street, then asked about representations which might be made by groups or individuals. Mr. Bernier explained that the housing corporation had been careful to hold public hearings here last spring and these had been carefully weighed.

Why demolish?

Fernand A. Leclaire, 3209 St. Antoine street, declared: "Low rental lodging is available now! Why must we demolish St. Antoine street?"

Mr. Bernier replied that the conditions were established by the city and its consultants. "You will look at the situation in one way. Your neighbor in a different way. Your neighbor's neighbor in yet another way."

But the problem cannot be looked at in terms of individual properties, he added, but "as a community."

Furthermore, Mr. Bernier went on, it must be looked at through a Westmount eye as opposed to, for example a St. Henry eye.

"I resent that," Mr. Leclair shouted, indicating anger.

"Besides," he declared, "St.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

First question put to Quebec Housing Corporation's Jacques Bernier Tuesday night came from Mark Zannis of Outremont, a sociologist and planner who represented himself as a consultant to the residents of the area of Westmount below the CPR right-of-way.

He quoted at length from a document setting out informational requirements of a municipality which must be met before an urban renewal scheme can be entertained, and asked if all this information had been provided.

Mr. Bernier said that it had, but is not included in any published report because of its confidential nature relating to the family incomes, sizes of household and other personal data.

Mr. Zannis also had asked if all the requirements for implementation, including a program of rehousing, had been met to which Mr. Bernier also answered affirmatively.

The City of Westmount may put the minimum of 100 dwellings units anywhere. But since two schemes of the city had been rejected because of high cost, it was necessary to implement the renewal scheme first so that the area could be cleared for the construction of the present residents' alternative housing.

To courts?

He added that anyone who chose could take the matter to the courts, but cautioned that those concerned should be careful not to mix the housing scheme with the renewal scheme. In this instance, the housing must come after renewal, in the meantime with temporary rehousing in some surrounding area. As had been true in renewal schemes elsewhere, it must be made sure that no person be displaced before either temporary or permanent housing is made available.

In answering a further question of Mr. Zannis regarding the original role of the federal Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation in the Westmount scheme, Mr. Bernier reviewed the genesis of the QHC, formed in June 1967. Québec then became the only province with a combined renewal and housing authority. The QHC's role is to look to the municipal side in negotiations
