Mooted Hotel Project Raises Eyebrows

Site Might Raise Query On Beverage

Word of a proposed hotel and shopping district project for the old Atwater ball grounds, owned latterly by Alexis Nihon, has set local authorities thinking.

If a hotel is constructed on the site, which is largely in Westmount, the local bylaws would forbid the sale of alcoholic beverage.

And the possibility of a hotel in which beverages were confined to one sector of the building set legalites turning up precedences and references.

Rene Lafleur, a contractor who has been specializing in housing projects, is reported to have bought the ground in a $3,500,000 deal consummated this week in Nassau, Bahamas.

Lafleur flew down from Montreal with his lawyers in a private plane to buy the property from Alexis Nihon, who purchased it for a reported $1,800,000 from the Gentlemen of St. Sulpice in 1950.

It was learned here that Nihon had himself planned a development on the site, including an apartment house, theatre, hotel, office building and shopping center.

The property, partly in Westmount and partly in Montreal, is occupied mainly by a parking lot now. There are stores and a gasoline station on it now.

Centre is Mrs. Casgrain, conductor of the obedience classes. The school shows films on obedience and puppy trouble this coming Monday. Proceeds from the graduation show brought $162. to the offers of the SPCA.

Fine Stage Presentation Is Climax Of Students' Two Months Hard Work

Westmount High School has been humming with activity for the past two evenings, but Wednesday the climax of two months of difficult labor was reached.

At 8.15 the curtain rose revealing the beautiful set stage of "Berkeley Square," produced by the Westmount High School Dramatics Club.

Ablely directed by Miss King and produced by Mr. Schaffelburg, the students presented "Berkeley Square" in the best manner of the theatre. Although Westmount High School has neither a permanent stage nor equipment, the group managed to overcome these difficulties marvellously and on opening night the stage resembled that of any professional group.

The entire production was a student effort and credit must be given primarily to stage manager Mike Larratt, electrician Steve Brewer, costume mistress Georgia Copland, makeup mistress Rose Rochman, as well as all those who were connected with the production. Together with their committees and staff advisors such as Miss Ross, costumes, Miss King, makeup, Mr. Patrick, publicity, and Miss Sherman, who handled the finances, these students.

Rotarians Hear Story Of RCMP At Coronation

Experiences of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Coronation contingent were related to the Westmount Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday.

Inspector R. J. Belec, who led the contingent to England, spoke on the training the group received here and in England, told of their participation in the Coronation parade, and gave a resume of many of their activities while in the United Kingdom.

He said that several performances of the RCMP's famed musical march were given outside of the Coronation itself by the squad of two officers and 44 men, 46 horses travelled with the company.

Thirty-two of the men performed for 10 days at Earl's Court, while some were on television in London. They also attended a garden party at Buckingham Palace for the investiture of Coronation Medals.

A command performance was dents helped make the play the success that it was.

The opening night audience was very appreciative and the actors received their complete co-operation. The actors, all students in the school played their parts exceptionally well.

John Seely, as the hero Peter Standish, was outstanding. Appearing in every scene but one, and in many different costumes, John never faltered, and turned in a performance rarely seen in a high school production.

Nedra Salmon, the female lead, played her part equally well. As Helen Pettigrew who falls in love with Peter, she supplied the romantic interest in the show.

Ian Pemberton as Tom Pettigrew and Phil Johnston as Mr. Throble, an eccentric painter in quest of Helen's hand, did a wonderful job as the show's comics.

Joan Fish and Ilene Riddell complete the Pettigrew family. Joan as the mother Lady Anne, and Ilene, as daughter Kate, were well received by the audience. Others in the cast included Norm Bedford, Sandra Noble, Valerie Law, Bob Reid, Richard Samuelson, Jack Annesley, Sue Barnett, Carol Cumming, and Frances Young.

Mr. Schaffelburg and Miss King, who were responsible for the entire production, deserve a great deal of praise. Both are teachers at the school, and they devoted much of their time to the play.

The costumes were exceptionally remarkable for their richness. Most of them were made by the students under the capable guidance of Miss Ross.

Credit must be given also to the electrical crew headed by Steve Brewer. The sound and light effects added much to the overall appearance of the show.

Tonight at 8:15 is the last chance to see "Berkeley Square." It is truly a credit to all those involved and to Westmount High, and recommended to all those who have yet to see it.

to Miss King and Mr. Schaffelburg for their time and unceasing effort to make the play the success that it is. The production staff, which includes stage manager Mike Larratt, electrician Steve Brewer, costumer Georgia Copeland and many other hard-working students, did an outstanding job. Tonight's the final performance and we strongly urge all those who have not as yet had the pleasure of viewing "Berkeley Square" to do so this evening.

Mail Delivery Speed-Up Seen

Residents of the west end of the city, who have been complaining for some time now about faulty postal services, will doubtless be able to take some comfort from announcement from Ottawa that the postal service is planning the use of an automatic sorter which will take the load off memory-harassed employees of the department.

Technicians, it is reported, are working on a gadget that will do the work of 500 men, and do it faster. The first test will be made early next year, it is said, and by three years time it is hoped the electrically-operated automatic sorting machines will be installed in the postal branches of several of this country's largest cities.

Research started about two years ago after Walter J. Turnbull, Deputy Postmaster-General, was in Europe and looked over sorting equipment that speeded the routing of incoming and outgoing mail. He then put it up to experts to build a machine that would go even further.

MAIL VOLUME GROWING

Mr. Turnbull said that with the volume of the mail growing approximately six per cent a year, a breakdown is approaching in the capacity of sorters to memorize the names and locations of all of Canada's post offices, the routes to get to them, and the names of the smaller communities serviced by them.

"The electronic brain shows great promise of solving the memory problem," he said.

The device is capable of storing as many as 13,000 names and their proper routing on a drum that functions somewhat like the cylinder in a dictating machine. It can handle between 30 and 40 letters a second as compared with manual sorting which requires at least two successive operations at the approximate speed of 30 letters a minute.

HOW IT WORKS

Dr. Maurice Levy, 46, a South African who came to Canada three years ago, and a staff of eight experts have set up a working model of the machine in the Post Office laboratory in Ottawa.

Before the letters are fed into the machine, operators change written or typed letter addresses into a code of dots on an electronic keyboard. The code is stamped on the back of the envelopes.

Outside Cash Aid Not Needed For Seaway Says McNaughton

There will be an early start on actual construction work of the St. Lawrence seaway, even though United States participation must await a Supreme Court ruling, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section, International Joint Commission, said here Monday.

Speaking at a meeting of the Canadian Club of Montreal, he said the Canadian government is prepared to "launch the work very shortly."

He added that Canada no longer needs outside financial assistance for the project.

"The Canadian economy has strengthened in a most remarkable manner since 1941 and we have come to appreciate that we do not now need to be dependent on others for financial assistance in carrying out the St. Lawrence projects for power and for navigation," he said.

"On the contrary, we can well proceed with them on the basis of ordinary useful commercial ventures, the full costs of which can confidently be expected to be returned to the respective parties plus considerable profit, both direct and indirect."

Gen. McNaughton said he thought every conceivable argument that could be raised in opposition to the project has now been answered to the full satisfaction of every "fair-minded" person.

DANCE FOR PURIM

The Young People's Association of Shaar Hashomayim will mark the Jewish feast of Purim with a dance on Tuesday evening, March 16, in the community hall of the Synagogue, 650 Kensington Avenue. Dancing will be to orchestra music and refreshments will be featured.

Canada Wasting Precious Asset Dr. James Warns Educators Here

A critical view of what Canada is doing to help bright children from poor families attend school was given Tuesday by Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice chancellor of McGill University.

He said that this is "appalling little", referring to opportunities for university as well as school education.

"Canada is wasting its most precious national asset, the ability of its young people," he said.

Speaking to a joint educators-businessmen's luncheon organized by the Headmasters Association of Greater Montreal, he continued the observance of Education Week here.

Though he did not enter into any debate with Dr. Hilda Neatby, who sharply criticized Canadian education here previously, he was equally outspoken against the idea that so few share so little.

He said that only a small proportion of this country's youngsters finish high school, a situation which is "little short of alarming."

Few Figures

He said that two years ago almost 100,000 Quebec children were enrolled in Grade 1; less than 75,000 were still at school in Grade 5; about 25,000 were beginning high school in Grade 8; and less than 6,000 were enrolled in Grade 11.

In Ontario the drop-out pattern was "slightly happier, but still alarming."

A heavier pupil enrolment in Grade 1 than in Grade 11 was to be expected in view of a recent birth rate increase and the fact that "some children do not have the intelligence to complete a high school education."

But even with full allowance for both factors, "it is apparent that economic factors operate strongly to reduce the number of Canadian boys and girls who complete a high school education."

"The costs of school education in Canada bear more heavily upon poor families than in either England or the United States, and it is notorious that Canada has very much less to offer in the way of scholarships and bursaries to help youngsters of ability who come from families with restricted money incomes."

Folk Song Event Stars Allan Mills

Folksongs from all over the world will be featured in the McGill Choral Society's ninth annual "springsong" Concert to be held in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym on March 20. In keeping with this folksong theme, the guest artist for the concert will be Allan Mills, noted Canadian interpreter of folksongs. Mr. Mills will present a number of renditions of some distinctively Canadian folksongs as well as join the Choral Society in several selections.

Another feature of the programme will be a special group of negro spirituals. Of these selections, more notable are "Every Time I Feel The Spirit" and "Dig My Grave", a spiritual from the Bahamas. The Choral Society will also present "Dry Bones" in the unique arrangement used by Fred Waring.

"Wallie, Wallie" and "Sing Song Kitty" will also be featured as songs of early Americana. The latter of these has a distinctive "nonsense" chorus that "seems to appeal to young and old alike", said Gifford Mitchell, the Society's director. Mr. Mitchell is Director of Music of the Westmount School Board.

Included among the folksongs of Europe will be "Think On Me", a distinctively Scottish melody, and "I See You Through The Window", a Norwegian tune about the rocky course of love.

Canadian Club To Hear Ford Of Canada Chief

Rhys Maly Sale will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Canadian Club of Montreal Monday, March 15th, at 12.50 pm in the Mount Royal Hotel. He will speak on Country With A Future.

Born at Windsor, Ont. in 1897, he began his career as a bank clerk, but joined Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited in 1915 and, apart from war service, has been with that Company continuously, assuming the Presidency in 1950.

Mr. Sale is a recognized authority on industrial production and sales and the national economy.

Blood Transfusion Service Used To Save Lives Daily

The Red Cross Blood Transfu-

sion Service is not only here to stay... it has become as necessary a part of life as a fire department.

Like the fire department, many persons have come to take the blood bank for granted. But the Red Cross, which in the province of Quebec alone supplies blood free of charge to 81 hospitals, certainly cannot take blood donors for granted.

"We are always on the lookout for donors" Dr. Cecil Haris, medical director of the Quebec Red Cross Transfusion Service said recently, "and we never have too many".

He pointed out a fact which is often overlooked by the public... that any patient receiving blood from the Red Cross bank doesn't have to pay for it, and neither does he have to replace the blood.

REV. ANDRE POULAIN, B.A., B.D., of Eglise St. Luc, the French Presbyterian Church in Montreal, will preach the evening sermon at Stanley Presbyterian Church, tomorrow. Mr. Poulain's Congregation will accompany him, and at the social hour, following the evening service there will be an opportunity to meet with his people and discuss with him, his work. At the morning service, the Minister, Rev. J. D. Wilkie will preach, his subject being "Why Go To Church?" In this sermon Mr. Wilkie asks the questions "Is it because your Christian faith pays by giving a feeling of respectability and a sense of stability to life? Has your faith something more vital to offer even than that?"

Curlers Hear Rev. J. D. Wilkie

In addressing the Heather Curling Club at their regular luncheon Saturday Rev. J. D. Wilkie of Stanley Presbyterian Church spoke on the subject "It's all in a Day's Work."

Mr. Wilkie, who next month celebrates the 25th. anniversary of his ordination to the ministry, recounted some of the unusual and often humorous experiences which had been his as a minister - experiences which had not only made the work worth - while but had often made it more than merely interesting. It was admitted that other fields of labour sometimes offered greater financial returns, "but", he asked, "what remuneration could be a substitute for comfort given to troubled hearts; for assurance given to trembling souls; or for encouragement given to defeated lives? What are you to put down as the value of vows made and kept; of forgiveness offered and accepted; of hope sought and found? And as he ended Mr. Wilkie made a plea to the men of the club to encourage any of their own sons who showed any interest in making the ministry their life's work.

"It is not always an easy job" he said. "There are unpleasant things as well as pleasant. There are disagreeable things as well as happy ones. With a sense of humour you can ignore the one and enjoy the other. It's all in a day's work, and for me there is not a finer day's work anywhere waiting to be done."

Appeal Of Salvation Army Stressed By Col. A. A. Magee

The fact that Canada's population is growing older, coupled with other trends, constitutes a problem demanding close scrutiny, Col. A. A. Magee, D.S.O., Chairman of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army in Montreal, said today.

This problem was discussed in a message he issued urging all workers in the Army's Eventide Home public appeal for $890,000 to surpass all previous efforts during the Campaign period of May 3 to 17.

"In 1881," he pointed out, "the number of Canadians over 40 constituted 20 per cent of the population; by 1951 this had increased to approximately 32 per cent, and it is still higher today. When we consider this trend in relation to the fact that one of the chief difficulties facing the National Employment Service in matching unplaced applicants with unfilled jobs is the tendency on the part of employers to reject older applicants, one major of a serious problem is exposed."

Again looking at population figures; in 1881, there were 15 adults under 65 to every one over 65. "Today," Colonel Magee noted, "there are only seven adults under 65 to every one over 65. By 1971 it is estimated that there will be only five to one."

To the Army, with its policy of "holding out a helping hand wherever the need arises, this constitutes a serious challenge," Colonel Magee said.

"It is a challenge, moreover, not only to the Army," he added, "but to the public generally, for very good reasons. In the matter of this trend towards more older people being put on the shelf there are serious considerations in relation to the possibility of the increasing demand for extension of State old age assistance.

Get Hobby Entries Ready, 'Y' Advises

The committees of the Westmount Boys' and Girls' Hobby Show wish to remind all girls and boys under 19 years of age to get their hobbies ready now. There is only six weeks until the opening of the 18th annual show. Brush up cats and dogs and get postage stamps ready; opening night is April 21 and the grand spectacle will continue until April 24.

Here is a chance for girls to show the fellows how well they can cook; similar for the boys it is a chance to show the girls their talents.

This year as usual the show will feature everything from culinary caprices to scintillating singing, melancholy menageries to aquatic antics. Entrants can even bring their parents.

The booklets, blotters and posters are being printed now and will be distributed to the schools as soon as they are ready.

tainment and a Barn Dance are also on the agenda.

GROUP CLUB

A new group club for girls was inaugurated last Friday afternoon under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Currie. Members on hand for the opening session were: Beverley King, Ruth Driver, Zita Tagieff, Carol Chase, Joan Driver, Margot Reilly, Carol Riopel, Sarah Roberts, Dorothy Laviolette, Sandra Walker and Shirley Brault. The Club will be known as the Junior Travel Club and meetings will be held weekly alternating between the Club and various places of interest in Montreal and district. Each member will keep a scrap book and periodical discussions will be held on the places visited. It is also expected that this group will attempt to establish pen-par relations with school children in other countries.

Letter of Commendation

Last Saturday's mail included a letter from a Montreal citizen who endorses very highly the training program which is being carried out at the Unity Boys' Club. The letter reads:

Dear Sir:
I have been endeavouring all week to drop you a line to report on the good behaviour of a group of boys and girls from your Club on the Street Car last Friday night, February 26th. We hear so much these days of the actions of the younger generation in general as being anything but pleasing, I thought it only fair to commend those from your Club.

Apparently they were on their way to a Basketball game and although full of energy and excitement, they were extremely polite in their talk and two or three offered their seats to adults. It is nice to know that somewhere in our City there are children who are being well trained.

Wishing your Club every success,

Yours very truly,
(Miss) Isabel F. Abraham.
Just a Reminder

Do you leave your work behind when you quit for the night? Or do you—and your wife—often answer business calls that are too important to wait till morning?

This sort of thing happens so often to so many people they've come to realize how important a home telephone is in helping them to keep their jobs going.

In fact you may be one of those who say that, for business reasons alone, your telephone at home is worth more than it costs!

Quebec's Film Censors

Paul Earl Raises Question in the Legislature

The banning of the film "Martin Luther" still rankles among a large proportion of the population, not only among Protestants but among many Roman Catholics as well to whom the issue is not whether or not the film is Protestant propaganda, but freedom of choice to see or not to see it as the individual himself determines. The man who cherishes freedom instinctively feels a natural right to choose what he will read and what he will see, conceding to the police only the right to censor the indecent and the obscene.

What is Protestantism? What is Catholicism? What is Liberalism? What is Socialism? What is Conservatism? What is Buddhism? What is Antidisestablishmentarianism?

A free man in a free country should be free to find out if he is interested. A free man in a free country shouldn't be forced to read about any of them if he doesn't want to. But no man, no matter at what altar he bows, likes being submitted to the dictates of political appointees who say: "This you can't see; we don't think it's good for you".

Two friends in Cleveland, one a Roman Catholic, one a Lutheran saw "Martin Luther". Said the R.C. "A very fine movie, but historically inaccurate." Said the Lutheran: "An excellent film, and a fair portrayal of the beginnings of the Reformation, I think." Their friendship wasn't affected, any more than the fact that one is an ardent Democrat and the other an ardent Republican.

In the Legislature last week, Paul Earl, M.L.A. for Notre Dame de Grace, while not specifically mentioning the film "Martin Luther" raised the question of censorship by asking the government benches why there is no representation on the Board of Censors. Mr. Earl pointed out that there are twenty-eight English Catholic parishes without representation, as well as some 100,000 Jews and about half a million Protestants. The answer given to Mr. Earl—that there is no necessity for such representation, that minority groups are well treated here—by-passes the question. Our minority groups are numerous and important enough to have such representation.

Dr. Denzil Ridout St. James Speaker

St. James United Church will have two outstanding leaders as guest preachers this Sunday.

Rev. M. W. Booth, B.A.B.D., will preach at the morning service, his sermon being "The Lively Word of a Lively God," and at the evening service Dr. Denzil G. Ridout, D.D., F.R.G.S., will preach on "Living the Doxology".

Dr. Ridout, who has been associated with the missionary and maintenance department of the United Church of Canada since 1925, is secretary of both those departments.

He has journeyed all over Canada, and was among the first visitors to see the new iron fields in Labrador. Besides travelling in Canada, Dr. Ridout made an extensive tour in Africa, to study the people and missionary work there. In all of these journeys his chief interest has been in the people, and the ministry of service which the church has been able to render.

His present work gives him responsibility for the missionary and stewardship cultivation in over 6,000 United Church congregations.

Born in the south of England, Dr. Ridout came to this country in 1908, and St. James United was his first church on arriving here. Some Montrealers will remember when Dr. Ridout was secretary of the Dickens Fellowship in this city, nearly 40 years ago.

He received his Doctor of Divinity degree at United Church College in Montreal, and is the only Canadian to have held the office of President of the United Stewardship Council, which represents some 30 denominations of Canada and the United States.

Among Dr. Ridout's accomplishments was to successfully liquidate the $1,750,000 deficit which faced the United Church during the depression years.

At a recent testimonial dinner given in his behalf at Toronto, Dr. Ridout was lauded for his great work for the churches of North America, and it was pointed out that through his leadership in Stewardship Conferences and in creation of Stewardship materials, used by many denominations on this continent, he had lifted the promotion of Stewardship to a higher spiritual level.

A Study In Isaiah
By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor
(Rector of Trinity Memorial Church)

We emphasize the fact that the salvation of the individual and of the community is worked out in the field of history in the mighty acts of God, and that in those acts He has used individual men and women who in some way were ready for the using. The readiness may have been a surprise to them but in most cases at least there was a preparation. Saul of Tarsus was not called until he had already been deeply involved in the Christian movement as a persecutor. Luther was not called until he had been deeply disturbed by the failure of the Medieval Church to reform itself. Wesley was not called until he had already gone very far in his spiritual training in the Church of England. Ignatius Loyola did not enter the religious life until he had become involved in the Wars of Religion. The Apostles were not men casually picked out of the crowd. They were not even the result of sudden conversion. According to St. Luke the Twelve had all "compared with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, beginning from the Baptism of John." (Acts 1-21-2). We are bound to infer that Levi was one of those publicans who asked John, "Master, what shall we do?", and He said unto them, "Exact no more than that which is appointed you." We may even think of Simon the Zealot receiving from John the same instruction that he gave to the soldiers: "Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely." (Luke 3-12-14) They were men already drawn into the way of repentance. We do not read of our Lord taking as His immediate followers those who came to Him untried.

Perhaps we can go a little farther than that and say with the modern Jewish scholars that the disciples of Jesus belonged to the fringe of the Pharisaic party. That is, they were strict, pious Jews, similar to that "man in Jerusalem whose name was Simeon; and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel." (Luke 2-25). The break between Jesus and the Pharisees arose from the fact that they were not willing to accept the Consolation of Israel when He was made known to them in deed and word. They were so obsessed with their own reading of an idea that as a group they could not allow themselves to go beyond it. Yet the individuals in the group or on the fringe if it made the nucleus of His disciples. Saul is the undoubted case.

Saul was a man of two deep religious experiences. He had been brought up in the faith of Israel and in the Pharisaic sect within that faith. And he never gave up his pride both in his national ancestry and in his Jewish faith. That was the fundamental fact of his life. But he had another experience — he saw the Lord Jesus and spoke to Him. He received a command from Him to go far hence unto the Gentiles, and he never doubted the reality of the command or his own obligation to carry it out. He became the great apostle of the first century.

What I am anxious to emphasize is that when Saul was called he was already a deeply religious man. The Holy Spirit did not have to undo in him all his previous life, but to build on what was already there. The same, I think, was true in the case of Isaiah.

Christian Science
The healing power of the faith that is rooted in a spiritual understanding of God will be emphasized at Christian Science church services on Sunday. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Substance."
Bible selections will include the following from Hebrews: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen... Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear."
Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following: "When we come to have more faith in the truth of being than we have in error, more faith in Spirit than in matter, more faith in living than in dying, more faith in God than in man, then no material suppositions can prevent us from healing the sick and destroying error."

★ Speaking Of Academy Awards

Actor Frederic March Says, —

Acting Should Not Be Made Competitive

HOLLYWOOD, March 11 — By the end of the month the current crop of Academy Award winners will have placed their brassy Oscars upon their mantels, the statisticians will have brought the Academy records up to date, and the public will have started to forget. A month later most folk won't remember who won what. If you doubt my word pray tell me quickly who won last year's top awards.

I was discussing this subject at lunch yesterday with Frederic March, one of the few performers who have won two Oscars as best actor of the year. His were for "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" and "The Best Years of Our Lives". Mr. March, an amiable gent who likes a couple of highballs with his meatballs, said he thought it ridiculous that acting could be made competitive.

"It's not like handball or boxing", he pointed out. "It's not even like public speaking. Oratory can be competitive but acting cannot. How can a jury—even a jury of professional actors—pick the year's best performer? How can they tell how much of the performance the actor created or how much he merely followed the director's instructions? How can they compare a flashy portrayal in a highly dramatic role with the quietness of another part. The showy histrionics of a spectacularly written role are generally easier to play than the near normalcy of a less gaudy assignment."

March, for instance, says his favorite characterization was in "Death Takes a Holiday" and not either of the two parts which brought him Academy recognition. He feels, too, as do many of his confreres, that sentiment and personality play too strong a role in the Academy vote. If dear, dear Humphrey has never won an Oscar his loyal chums are likely to give him their support rather than vote for the

'Walking My Baby Back Home' Lavish

Co-stars Donald O'Connor & Janet Leigh at Monkland

"Walking My Baby Back Home," the Universal-International Technicolor musical production scheduled to open Saturday at the Monkland United Theatre, co-stars Donald O'Connor and Janet Leigh for the first time.

The story of the trials and tribulations of a group of ex-GIs who organize a new style dance orchestra, "Walking My Baby Back Home" features a dozen song and dance musical numbers highlighted by the title tune and such perennial favorites as "The Glow Worm" and a batch of new melodies headed by "Hop on the Band Wagon."

The musical romance introduces comedian Buddy Hackett as O'Connor's sidekick, and features Lori Nelson, Kathleen Lockhart, Scat Man Crothers and two of the nation's top vocal groups, the Sportsmen and The Modernaires.

★ MRT's 'His Excellency'

Newcomer To Appear In The Title Role

At Westhill March 17 to 20

Ivor Barry, an Englishman recently come to Canada, plays the role of Sir James Kirkman in the Montreal Repertory Theatre production of "His Excellency" which opens at Westhill Auditorium next Wednesday. Ronald Kinsman, Father Day in MRT's "Life with Mother", was originally announced for this role, but he was obliged to drop out through illness.

Mr. Barry played professionally in England the Charter Players, and had a number of small roles in English films. Since his arrival in Montreal, he has become a regular CBC player, as well as appearing in MRT's "Saint Joan" in the part of the Archbishop of Rheims, and in MRT's "The Deep Blue Sea", as Sir William Collyer.

Len Vickerstaff, a newcomer to Montreal, plays the title role in "His Excellency". The Birmingham Repertory Theatre, which for many years has stood amongst the first of England's little theatres, was Mr. Vickerstaff's training ground. He had also a varied experience with RAF productions during the last war.

Daughter to His Excellency is Marion Dennis, winner of the best supporting actress award in the 1952/53 Western Quebec Regional Drama Festival for her part in MRT's "Tartuffe." Miss Dennis, who had preparatory training in London at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, has played with a number of Montreal groups: the Open-Air Playhouse, Trinity Players and the Mountain Playhouse. She has done radio work, and last summer played professionally with the Scarborough Summer Theatre.

The part of Vice-Admiral Sir Oliver Pain-Bartley will be played by Kenneth Culley, a veteran MRT player. His most recent MRT parts were in "Harvey" and "The Inspector Calls." Mr. Culley has also played with the Shakespeare Society and the Lachine Open-Air Theatre.

Maud Withmore, a well-known local player who has appeared with the Mountain Playhouse, CRT in Ottawa and Brae Manor, is Lady Kirkman. Mrs. Whitmore has had a number of roles in MRT productions. Amongst the MRT plays in which she has been seen are "Pygmalion", "Ring Round the Moon" and "The Madwoman of Chailot."

Two players who have also appeared in the number of MRT productions are John Gibbon, who will be seen as Major-General Alan Copeland, and Robert Robinson, who will be the ADC to the Governor. Mr. Robinson played the Earl of Warwick in MRT's "Saint Joan" earlier this season.

Edward Willis, who has ap-

★ New York Theatres Spark Drive vs Juvenile Delinquents

New York, Mar. 10. — In conjunction with New York City's unified drive to combat juvenile delinquency, the film industry will be in the forefront of a campaign against juvenile vandalism in theatres. A positive campaign is now being formulated by the Metropolitan Motion Picture Theatres Association and the Independent Theatre Owners Association, the two N.Y. exhibitor's organizations, in co-operation with city officials.

Discussions center around how the theatre drive can fit in with the overall city efforts to crack down on the wayward youths.

★ appeared only once before with MRT, will be Major Charles Hugonin. Three newcomers to MRT, in addition to Mr. Vickerstaff, play in the cast: Jose Rettino, who has acted with Canadian Players, Les Compagnons and Le Rideau Vert; Frank Walter, who has played with the Drama Circle and the Ottawa Little Theatre, and James Cane, who has played in Toronto.

"His Excellency" is directed by Cicely Hessey-White, with setting by Arthur Voronka and costumes by Tom Owen. The play runs for four nights next week, from Wednesday to Saturday, in Westhill Auditorium.

★ Europe's Theatre Shortage

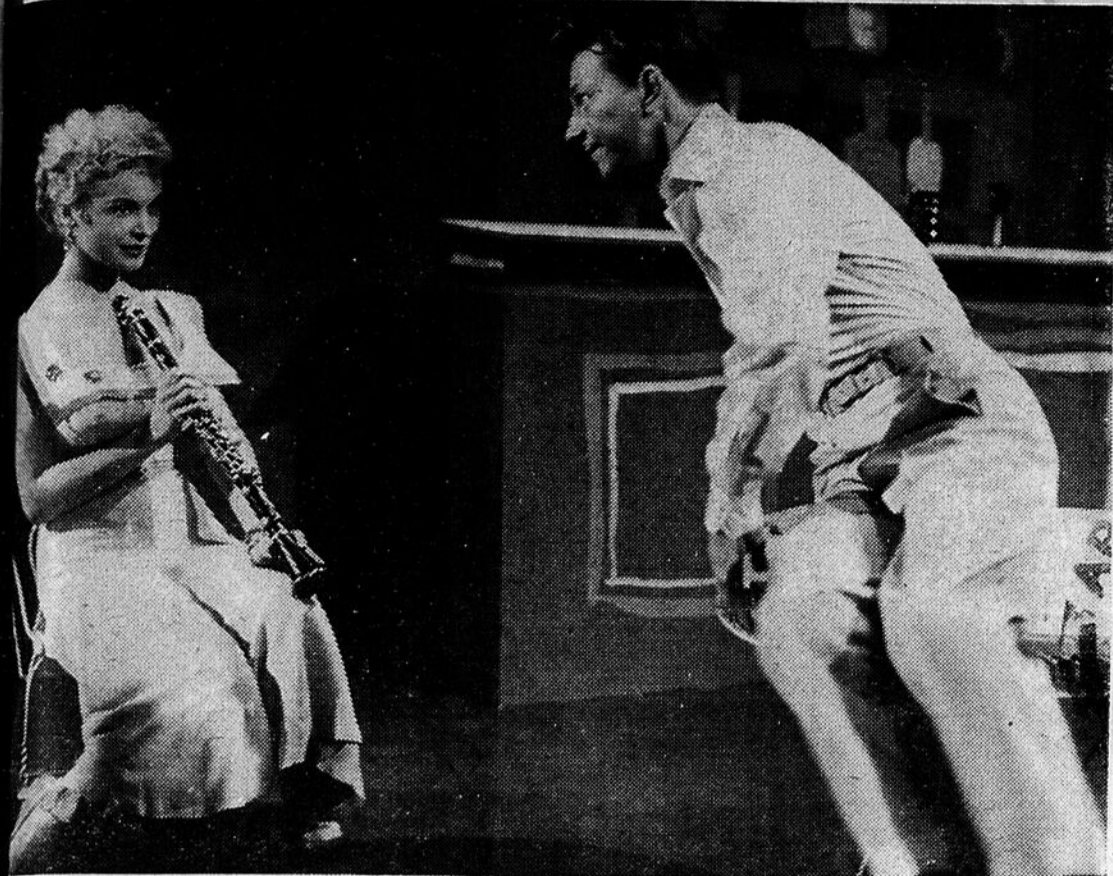

Kills Incentive to Experiment

There is still a grave shortage of theatres in Europe, according to Ben Cohn, Universal's assistant foreign sales manager, who reported in New York last week.

Returning from five weeks through France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden, Cohn noted that there was a great deal of theatre construction going on, particularly in western Germany. He also remarked that European theatre men often take a picture doing capacity business out, so as not to disappoint his regular patrons.

Regarding CinemaScope he found exhibitors less interested than on this side in this new marvel of motion picture making, partly because of the costs involved in the installation and partly on account of the high level of assured business he now enjoys.

★ Those Screwballs Loose Again

Martin & Lewis At Westmount

A Positive Riot In Their Latest Laugh-Provoker Until Tuesday

A comedy that's superbly tailored to the practically indecipherable laugh-provoking talents of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis now at the Westmount United Theatre until Tuesday. It is called "The Caddy" and is one whale of a show.

Dean and Jerry have delivered a lot of screen laughs in the past, but this Paramount production gives the crewball twosome more genuinely funny situations than they have ever had before. What they do with them is in the best tradition of lay - 'em - the - aisle - and - keep - em - there comedy.

Without a shadow of a doubt, "The Caddy" is the best of the best. The story tells the entertaining tale of two guys who would rather play golf than work. Because Jerry, the better golfer of the two, goes to pieces when shooting before crowds, he teaches Dean what he knows of the game and becomes his caddy, never taking credit for his vital contribution. In no time at all, Dean becomes a top golfer and at the same time acquires a swell head. This leads to a falling out between Dean and Jerry which is not resolved until the final fade.

Interspersed throughout the fast-paced story line of "The Caddy" are a veritable cavalcade of new song hits which from one hearing this reviewer rates as odds on favorites to become tomorrow's best sellers. Highlighting this mixture of mirth and melody is Jerry Lewis' side-splitting rendition of "The Gay Continental", a "comer" if ever there was one.

Supporting Dean and Jerry in the uproarious proceedings are Donna Drake and Barbara Bates with Joseph Calleia and Frank Clark.

McGill Alumnae Announce Winners Of P.S. Contest

The eight finalists of the McGill Alumnae public speaking contest shower that students not only learn good English in School, they also learn how to speak it well and effectively, Mrs. Michael Tucker said last night when she named Handa Bray of Hudson High School as winner of the finals.

Miss Bray, a daughter of Lieut-Col. and Mrs. P. D. Baird, whose topic was "The Spirit of the New Year", was awarded a silver cup to be held by Hudson High School for a year and a cash award of $25.

In announcing the judges' decision, Mrs. Tucker, a member of the Westmount School Board, congratulated the contestants on the excellence of their presentations and material.

The second prize of $10 and a silver spoon was awarded to Rosemary Richardson of Mount Royal High School whose topic was "Speaking in Public". Joan Pollard of St. Dominic's High School won the third prize of a silver spoon and $5 for her talk on "Canada's Obligations to Help Less Fortunate Nations".

Honourable mention was awarded to Vivian Rapoport of the High School for Girls who spoke on "Not Only From Books", Anna Guthrie of The Study whose topic was "The Responsibility of Young Canadians", Elizabeth Richards of Chambly County High School who spoke on "The Power of Words", Eva MacFarlane of Howick High School whose topic was "Choosing my Career" and Suzanne Davy of Three Rivers High School who spoke on "Newspaper".

Car Designers Unite In Making Models Safer And More Comfortable For Women Drivers

With women not only spending the bulk of the nation's money, but tending to do more and more of the car driving, car designers each year incorporate into their models features designed to appeal to women and to make the time they spend in the cars safer and more comfortable. During the National Motor Show at the Show Mart, in Montreal 12 to 21, inclusive, women will get a chance to see for themselves what has been done on their behalf.

To reduce driving fatigue to a minimum, power steering is standard on some cars and optional on many others. Turns that used to involve physical effort can now be made with the pressure of a finger and it makes parking much easier, although some of the cars are longer. Power braking has the same fatigue reducing features. Combine those features with automatic transmission and even a long trip through the heavy traffic should work no hardship.

Even the most graceful of women sometimes find it difficult to get in and out of a car with any degree of grace but manufacturers have taken this into account too. They have increased the width of the entrance in a number of models and changed the shape of the door. People of ample proportions will be happy to know that some cars have added inches of hip room and shoulder room.

Women will be interested too in the better visibility offered by new designers in windshields which have a wide panoramic view and eliminate the awkward "blind spots." Optional on many cars, but an obvious delight, is push button window control which lowers or raises a window at the touch of a finger.

Added comfort while riding is a feature of all the models, from the less expensive to the higher-priced automobiles. One medium-priced model uses the recess under the front seat as a foot rest for back seat passengers. The mothers of small children will be delighted with the club coupe which has the seat division on a two-thirds one third basis which not only makes it easier to get into the back seat but makes a steady anchor for a baby car seat. Adjustment of the driver's seat is also simpler than last year.

Air conditioning systems are incorporated in many models and one is designed to reduce the interior heat of the car from a sizzling 100 degrees to somewhere in the pleasant 70's.

One model, popular with tourists because it converts to win beds for automobile trips, has this year been designed to allow one bed to be made up while the car is in motion — so one person can sleep while the other drives.

Fabrics used in interiors are a fashion story in themselves. One manufacturer is using materials which until now had only been shown on high-quality upholstered furniture. The synthetics, sturdy easy to clean and in cheerful bright patterns which match the car are much in evidence. Real leather is, of course, in evidence on a number of sports models.

A film entitled "Royal Journey" will be shown and members are invited to take a friend or friends. There will be a silver collection.

On Monday, March 15, the Auxiliary will pay its monthly visit to Queen Mary Veterans' Hospital. Members will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital lobby, and then will spend some time with the veterans in the auxiliary's adopted ward, C3.

Church Homes Report Good Year: Note Growing Need For New Home

The annual meeting of the United Church Homes for Elderly Ladies took place yesterday in Cheney Hall, Mrs. Gordon McKay, chairman of the board, presided. After the reports of the officers and superintendents were read, Rev. R. DeWitt Scott, M.A., D.D., spoke and tea was served; Mrs. Lloyd Smith and Mrs. D. M. Grant pouring.

Chairman's Report

Mrs. Gordon McKay's report states that 1953 had been a very successful one, 46 elderly ladies being cared for. However, applications are so numerous, a new home is badly needed, and it is the wish of the Board that a new home be started in the near future.

Secretary's Report

Mrs. E. H. Woodley reports that there had been four board meetings and two executive meetings. Fourteen churches are represented, with 34 members on the Board, namely, Calvary, Westmount-Park Emmanuel, St. Andrew's, St. James, Dominion-Douglas, Town of Mount Royal, Montreal West, Wesley, Rosedale, Queen Mary, St. Luke's, Erskine-American, Fairmount-St. Giles and Ahuntsic.

Treasurer's Report

Mr. David Pollock, treasurer of the Pine Ave., Home, reported that the year had ended with a favourable balance, receipts amounting to $10,221, while disbursements were $9,382. Mrs. Parsons, reporting for Dunedin, with 30 guests, showed receipts of $22,578 and expenditures of $21,369. During the year donations from groups and friends amounted to $1,085.

Superintendents' Reports

Miss Bratt, from Dunedin, reported that there are 18 guests over 70 years of age; 12 over 80; and that 35,000 meals were served, at the average cost of 17c per meal. The parties given by the churches, I.O.D.E. Chapters, and the Red Cross groups, are greatly appreciated, it was noted.

Mrs. Baker, from Pine Avenue, reported that, of her 15 ladies, one is over 90, and most others over 80. Fire drill is a regular feature; the house clearing in less than five minutes.

Mrs. A. P. Christmas reported

Professional Advice On Interior Decorating Available For One Week

Spring is here, and a young man's fancy turns to love! But a woman's fancy turns to interior decorating.

Yes, interior decorating today is every woman's business, and a mighty interesting business too. We are all artists at heart though not all gifted to create masterpieces with oils and brushes. Our talents, we use them to create beauty in our homes, a warm and beautiful home; a home which is a reflection of our personality, our tastes, our hobbies, our very own philosophy of life.

Industry and business are co-operating in lending a hand to those of us who might find it bewildering at first to attempt such a task. We are always a little afraid the results will fall short of our dreams. So professional advice is yours for the asking.

Next week, March 15 to 20 inclusive, Ryan Paint Co. Ltd., 1311 Greene Avenue, Westmount, offers you the services of an interior decorator to help you obtain this professional look in your home. Miss Marie Frémont, a graduate of the School of Furniture Arts and a member of the Interior Decorators Society of Quebec, will be available for consultation every day from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., courtesy of Ryan Paint Co. Bring your problems and you will receive personal attention.

Miss Frémont is an expert on wallpaper and color co-ordination. She will advise you on how to create your own individual color scheme, how to incorporate your furnishings into your new decoration, how to choose your drapes and rugs to create a pleasing and correct interior.

So bring your samples if possible, but mostly bring your problems. With the help of the decorating consultant you will become an expert.

Bessborough I.O.D.E.

The monthly meeting of the Earl of Bessborough Chapter I.O.D.E. will take place next Thursday evening, March 18, at the home of Mrs. G. Youpes, 4918 Earncliffe Avenue, starting at 8.15.

THE WORK OF MERCY NEVER ENDS

For so long as there is human suffering then so long does the Charter of the Red Cross require to be honoured by the work of mercy. You know the need, and how great it is. Please help generously.

Mtl. Diet Dispensary Answer Unusual Queries

The Montreal Diet Dispensary is never stumped by a nutrition problem — even when it has an international flavor. One day last week, for instance, this Red Feather agency dealt with three unusual queries:

A Montreal woman going to live in Japan asked what foods are available there. "And as I understand they don't use ovens, have you any recipes for top-of-the-stove cooking?"

Some Eskimo children are in Montreal for medical treatment — what should they be given to eat?

A dietetic graduate is going to Pakistan with her doctor husband and wants to teach nutrition there. Can she get some experience at the Diet Dispensary before she goes?

The Montreal Diet Dispensary is the only organization in Canada which provides supplementary diet for the ill and needy and at the same time carries on an active educational program.

Presents Measure For Measure

Moyse Hall March 11-12-13

One of Shakespeare's most controversial plays will be given its first Montreal showing this week at McGill University. Measure for Measure will be performed in Moyse Hall on March 11, 12 and 13. This great but seldom-played tragi-comedy is presented by the Department of English in accordance with the University's new policy of giving Montreal audience a chance to see a series of neglected masterpieces on stage.

The most experienced student talent in McGill has been assembled to make the performance as professional as possible. Julie Anne Holden, who has been featured in several Red and White Revues, as well as in last year's successful Hippolytus, takes the leading role of Isabelle. Gergory Friend, a veteran of MRT's memorable Saint Joan and many campus productions, plays the Duke. Edward Bell, who has handled classic roles both at McGill and in his native England, appears as Angelo, the most dramatic figure in the play.

Other important roles are taken by Gerda Rother who recently appeared as the heroine of Legend of Lovers, Peter Salzer, Brian Jones, and Bernard Miller, who has just scored a personal success as the Grandmother in The Big Bad Wolf.

Professor S. W. Porter is both director and set designer for an elaborate production, Althea Douglas provides costumes in the colorful and incredibly fantastic style of the German Renaissance. Professor Porter and Mrs. Douglas performed these same services for last spring's revival of Euripides' Hippolytus with which this classic series started.

Warners signed Henry Fonda to repeat his stage role in the film version of "Mr. Roberts", which Leland Hayward will produce with John Ford directing.

chap they honestly feel merits the statuette most. The newcomer or oldtimer who has never hit the jackpot stands a better chance in the balloting than the superior actor who may already have one or two Oscars home on the shelf.

Nonetheless, March feels the Awards serve their prime purpose.

"They do stimulate writers, producers and directors to aim at quality," he admits. "And there's no doubt they focus attention on motion pictures, if only fleetingly, every spring."

And now, dear friends, I shall stick my neck out and engage in the seasonal guessing game. Best actress: Audrey Hepburn for "Roman Holiday". Best actor: William Holden for "Stalag 17". Best picture: "From Here To Eternity".

★ Greenwood, Barbara Mindell and Rona Abrams.

The script of Beauty and the Beast has been adapted by Dr. Jos. Elfenbein of New York well known for his Children's Theatre plays. The children will be intrigued by the Magic Window through which the Prince is enabled by a magic charm to see anywhere in the kingdom, as well as the magic rose bush which grows before your very eyes. The Fairy princesses who visits the good Prince, the King and Queen, the Court Jester, the delightful Kitty Kat who adds much humour to the show, — all these characters will help to charm the audience. Dancing, beautiful costumes, special magical effects and a lovely story should make an afternoon of excellent entertainment for all. Tickets are now on sale at Willis and Co. Limited, cor. ★ Mari Blanchard Out

Of Hecht-Lancaster Film

Hollywood, Mar. 10 — Hecht-Lancaster Productions have switched Mari Blanchard for Denise Darcel in "Vera Cruz" when Universal declined to grant independent television rights which are a part of Blanchard contract.

"We think this unfortunate in the case of Miss Blanchard who, we felt, had every opportunity to reach top stardom in 'Vera Cruz,'" Hecht-Lancaster declared "while we have no intention selling television rights to this picture or any of our films in the foreseeable future, lack of these rights made recasting our only alternative."

The change was made hours before Miss Blanchard was to have left for Mexico for the filming of Gary Cooper-Burt Lancaster starrer on location.

★ Purdom As "Egyptian"

Hollywood, Mar. 10 — Darryl F. Zanuck finally rounded up his top cast for "The Egyptian" by borrowing Edmund Purdom to replace the rebellious Marlon Brando. Meanwhile 20th Century-Fox is suing Brando for $2,000,000 damages.

Other headliners in "The Egyptian" are Victor Mature, Jean Simmons, Gene Tierney, Bela Darvi and Peter Ustinov, with Michael Curtiz directing. Filming on the picture will start shortly.

The Old Boys were coached in the annual game by George Smith.

Unity Boys Club Hoopsters Drop Series Opener 59-54

Unity Boys Club will carry a five-point deficit into the second game of their two-game, total points series with Holy Trinity this Friday night. The series wind-up is scheduled for the UBC's home court with game time announced as 8.30.

Holy Trinity, showing a much better team than that which Unity twice defeated by 20-point margins in the course of the regular schedule, outthrust George Presho's quintet almost all the way in the series opener, played on the spacious Mont St. Louis court Wednesday night.

The Greek club overcame an early deficit to lead 34-26 at half-time, led 59-54 at the end of the tussle.

It was a fast-paced contest with erratic shooting, particularly on the part of the Unity boys, keeping the score down.

Referees Emmett Jones and Dick Schroeder turned in top-notch refereeing jobs.

Jack McKissock, the raven-haired Unity captain, emerged as the night's top point-getter with 17 to his credit. The McCoose turned in a terrific game.

George Tjelios and Simatos paced the HT brigade with 15 points apiece.

George Cochrane was second high man for Unity with nine points while Tom Pappas came through with an identical number for the winners.

Unity Boys Club (54): D. Barnard 8, McKissock 17, Reddon 7, Cochrane 9, Rice 4, Peterson 4, McGrail 2, Sutherland, M. Barnard 2, Gooding 1, Hubbard.

Holy Trinity (59): Lekas, J. Tjelios 7, P. Pappas 5, G. Tjelios 15, Apostolas, Arniotis 7, G. Pappas, Andrews, T. Pappas 9, Simatos 15.

Royals Trim Stars, Stayner Wins 65-59 In League Openers

Logue McDonald's Royals trimmed Avenue Stars in the Westmount Intermediate Basketball League opener Tuesday 32-27. Stars led 25-18 going into the fourth quarter, but the loss of Cam McFadden and Willie "The Actor" Manolson via the foul route was their downfall.

Billy Graham started to roll and with the aid of Ted Jackson and Ed. "Bucket" O'Brien chalked up the victory.

Royals — 32 — Leslie 4, McDonald, D. 2, Jackson 8, Graham 11, O'Brien 7, Shugrue.

Avenue Stars — 27 — Lomasney 9, Manolson 4, McDonald H. 1, Guilfoyle 1, Brambell, R. 12, McFadden.

STAYNER ALSO WINS

Stayner also opened up with a win when they beat Lions 65-59 Wednesday. They were ahead all the way, leading 45-31 at the half. Not until the end of the game were they seriously threatened by Lions, who were paced by Mike Shade with 32 points.

Pete Siemers with 21 and Earle McDonald, 15, led the winners. Stayner (65) — Siemers 21, McDonald 15, Selby 14, Brown 11, Alexander 4, Brambell, Easton.

Lions (59) — Shade 32, Dyer 2, Day 2, Ouimet 2, Wilson 11, Blunden 4, Blackie 6, Duncan.

Badminton club members are reminded that next week play will be resumed in the YMCA gymnasium every Tuesday evening from 8 to 10. For the past eight weeks the players have been using King's School gymnasium while a golf clinic was conducted on their home floor.

Dow Brewers Play MAAA Tonight, Down 2-0 In Senior B Finals

Down two games in a best of five series and faced with the prospect of winning three straight, Dow Brewers still have a lot of fight left in them.

After upsetting Giants in the semi final round of the Montreal Basketball League senior B playoffs, the Brewers dropped the first two tilts of their final series with MAAA, and play what may be their hoopla windup for the season Friday at the Mont St. Louis gym.

Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Blow Big Chance

Coach Doug Alexander's crew blew their golden opportunity to knot the playdowns against their favored opponents when they were edged 58-57 in the second game.

"It was our big chance and the game we should have won," mentor Alexander says. "We've been a hot and cold club all season, and our only chance now is to get sizzling for the rest of the series." The Dow boys practiced at their Roslyn gym Monday, and looked good. All the boys are in fine shape, and they still have a lot of fight left in them.

Have Comeback Example

In addition, they've got the comeback example of De LaSalle to spur them on. Down two games to none against the powerful YMHA Blues in the senior finals, they came back to win three in a row and enter the Eastern Canada semi finals.

Alexander figures this game will be the big test for his boys. Either they just aren't good enough and will bow out in three straight, or they'll take the games one by one and finish the series as champions, is the way he sees it.

Little Leaguers Start Training; Hope To Move Up

Despite the fact that March's unpredictable weather is still with us, baseball spring training — of the little league variety — gets underway locally Saturday at 10 a.m. in the United Boys' Club.

The Cleveland Indians of the American B League will trot out onto the indoor diamond to loosen up limbs for the coming ball season then, and practices and try-outs will be held inside until the weatherman permits the athletes to move outdoors.

Any boy 12 years old or younger wishing to play little league is welcome to attend these opening sessions.

Hope To Climb

The Indians, who finished in second spot last season, are counting heavily on holdovers to move up to the top. Doug Rowland, four game winner and member of the American B League all star squad has several new pitches and seems to be in for a good season.

Andy Byford, another veteran, is expected to return at third base, while 10-year old Morgan Turner looks like one of the loop's top pitchers in the near future.

Good Newcomers Tabbed

Good newcomers are Steve Levy, from Westmount Junior High School, and lefty Jim Crouch of St. Thomas Aquinas.

Several other new prospects have been tabbed but all positions are open until the final signing.

Coaches Jack McKissock and Dave Barnard will be back again, while Rodney Wilson, former all star fielder, has been named as a scout. Gloves and running shoes should be brought along to the Saturday workouts.

Cage Series Ends Friday

Unity Boys' Club cagers and Holy Trinity wind up their semi-final Montreal Intermediate Basketball League playoff round this Friday night at 8.30 o'clock on the Unity larrigans home court: First game of the series was played at the Mont St. Louis gymnasium, home of the Holy Trinity aggregation, on Wednesday.

Unity downed the Holy Trinity squad twice in regular schedule competition this season but since that time the Greek crew have added two glitter guys to their roster and now boast of a much more powerful team than that which carried their colors during the regular campaign.

In post-schedule competition, the HT brigade downed East End Boys Club and Taurus. The series with Taurus was a protracted affair. Taurus won the opener by something like three points. The second game ended up in somewhat of a minor furore. Holy Trinity protested and the tilt was replayed Sunday with the Greek squad winning.

Unity had a somewhat easier time of it in their playoff series, eliminating Senators and Northmount YMCA without too much difficulty.

Winner of the Holy Trinity-Unity series will meet the winners of the service league playoffs next week for the city championship and the right to travel to Shawinigan Falls on March 20 for the provincial championship tournament.

The Business Men's "Hit or Miss" Volleyball league is now on its ninth week. Leading players are Harold Stackhouse with 33 points, Bruce McFarlane with 32 and Errol Smith with 31 points.

MacRae And Royal Pharmacy Tie 1-all In Series Start

Westmount MacRae Electric and Royal Pharmacy made sure their best of three final series for the St. Laurent Intermediate Hockey league title would go all the way by battling to a 1-all draw in the opener Saturday.

Another carnival will be taking place at the St. Laurent Arena this Saturday, so that the playoffs will be interrupted once again, League president Jimmy Slater is trying to obtain Loyola's new ice plant, but chances are the second game will be played a week from this Saturday at the St. Laurent ice sheet.

In their opening game for the Dr. Rendeau Medical Trophy, MacRae counted at the start of the first period and Royal Pharmacy at the start of the final canto.

Scoring on the first shot in the game Stan Simmons gave MacRae Electric a one goal edge after only thirteen seconds of play when he blasted home Bud Selby's pass over Val Chartier in the druggist's goals.

Ranson Knots Count

The Electricians held on to the lead for over two periods, with both goalers, Brambell for MacRae and Chartier for Pharmacy, making sensational saves. However, a young blond fellow by the name of Bill Ranson was not to be outdone by Stan Simmons of MacRae, and at 3:30 of the final frame he knotted the count for the Druggists as Dod Richardson and Don Bussiere combined for the tally.

Flare-up

A brief flare-up in the final period added to the excitement of the game and as a result Val Chartier, who played a terrific game in the twines for Royal Pharmacy, collected his second penalty of the game, a 10 minute misconduct.

Both teams settled down to close checking hockey throughout the game to keep the score at 1-all, typical playoff hockey.

Over 40 boys have entered the spring basketball house league at the Unity Boys Club, scheduled to get underway at the conclusion of the regular basketball campaign. It is expected that games will be played on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The bantam and midget basketball teams play at Point St. Charles Tuesday in the first of a two game total point series for the championship of the western section.

Wednesday the bantams will play their return game at Unity, while the midget play on their home grounds a week today.

Both teams finished first in their leagues. The winner of this series will meet the winner of the eastern section for the Montreal Boys Basketball League title.

Friday the UBC juveniles beat East End Boys Club 36-30, while Wednesday Neighborhood House failed to show up for a regular scheduled match.

The person responsible for returning the balloon will receive a cash prize.

Will Encourage Skiing

The addition of the midget race was made to encourage skiing among the younger set and develop them into possible stars of tomorrow. Other classes are senior, 11 and 12, intermediate 8-10, junior 5-7. There is no entry fee, and no zone card is required. Those having zone cards, however, are not excluded from racing.

Entries may be made Saturday before the race at the Chalet Cochand. Juniors and seniors winning the combined races will be given silver cups. There are 20 other prizes.

Short Notice Only For Hockey Playdowns

Coaches of winning Westmount Municipal Hockey league teams who will eventually meet up with the Town of Mount Royal in Q.M.H.A. playdowns are reminded that they must be prepared to play within 24 hours notice.

Unity Boys Drop Exhibition Tilt

MALONE, N.Y.—Unity Boys Club's travelling band of hoopla artists dropped a heartbreaking 67-66 exhibition fray to a smart-passing, hard-running National Guard outfit here Sunday afternoon. The thrill-packed tussle was reeled off in the soldier boys' armoury before a sparse throng of onlookers. A return game is being arranged.

Malone had to come from behind twice to earn the verdict. They got hot in the dying moments of the first half, swished six shots through the hoop in succession to take over the lead. George Prescho's Phellows fought back to reduce the half-time score to 37-35 in favor of the host club.

THE LINEUPS

Unity Boys Club (66): Barnard 13, Cochrane 4, McGrail 5, Sutherland McKissock 4, Reddon 12, Rice 2 Preston 22, Gooding 4, Hubard.

Malone (67): R. Ashlan 10, La-voie 4, Poupare 17, Hanna 16, Devoste 10, Marlowe, Laterneau 10, D. Ashlan.

Early in the second half the visitors regained the lead and midway through the fourth stanza they appeared to have the game wrapped up with an 11-point bulge on the scoreboard.

Blow Lead

But for the second time in the ball game the UBC'ers managed to blow the lead. Malone came fighting back, scoring most of their points on one-hand jump shots from outside the Unity Boys' zone defence.

With two minutes to go, the visitors were ahead by five points. But Malone kept attacking, picked up four points via the freethrow route and scored a basket to take the lead.

A couple of desperate shots by Unity's Dick McGrail in the dying seconds of the ball game went just wide of the mark.

Good Game

It was a well-played game, gave the palmful of cage zealots on hand plenty to enthuse about. Both teams played it hard and clean — and fast.

Poupare with 17 points and Hanna with 16 were the big guns for the winners.

Grant "Oscar" Peterson was the big offensive threat for the Canadians, dropping 22 points through the hoop, Dave Barnard and Johnny Reddon were next in line with 13 and 12 points respectively.

Unity's Jack McKissock and George Cochrane were despatched to the sidelines in the course of the fray with five personal fouls apiece, McKissock making his exit at the end of third, quarter Cochrane in the last minute of the ball game.

The Maloners' Poupare left the tussle for the same reason early in the fourth quarter.

singing statue

Egyptian pharaohs were vain fellows who left a lot of statues to themselves around. A pharaoh named Amenhotep built two at Thebes called the Colossi of Memnon. One even used to sing each morning, giving forth a hollow groan like the twang of a harp.

People were pretty impressed and thought it super-natural, which was okay with Amenhotep. But all that happened, really, was that the sun's rays heated the cool air in the statue's porous stone. The air expanded the stone which made a sort of singing moan.

As a matter of fact, porous stone bottles are often used in hot countries to cool drinks. The liquid soaks through and evaporates, taking heat from the bottle.

Fellow we know who likes Molson's Ale somewhere between "shelf" and refrigerator temperature has suggested we put it in porous stone bottles. That way, he could cool it by hanging the bottle in a breeze for an hour or so.

Trouble is that people would moan louder than the Colossi at the thought of all that precious Molson's seeping away. Much better, we think, to put the familiar long, green, glass bottle in the refrigerator and chill it to about 45 degrees. That way you can best enjoy the full flavour and bouquet of Molson's Ale. And the song, if any, would come from you, not the bottle.
