"Stonepicker is greatest boon to farmers"

Says Denzil Payette

A few weeks ago in the Equity there appaered a story about a rock picker, including a picture of the machine and a description of how several western farmers had joined together and formed a syndicate to purchase it with a farm loan.

Denzil Payette of RR 2 Shawville came pounding into The Equity office this week with such fire in his eyes as usually denotes anger. But Denzil wasn't cross, he was wild with enthusiasm about the stone picker which he called the greatest boon to farmers yet invented. So fired with enthusiasm was he in fact that he had ordered one for himself and it has now arrived at his farm beside the CNR station in Portage du Fort.

As this is the first stone picker in Pontiac County, the manufacturer was enthusiastic too, so much so that he personally delivered to Payette's farm, from Creighton, Saskatchewan.

For anyone who has cleared land, or had had an expensive piece of machinery broken by a stone in a field, Denzil says this machine is a godsend and now that he has it h ewonders how it could have happened that others haven't had them here long before this.

Anyway, he has has now and is getting h's hydraulic tractor organized to draw it. Meanwhile he invites anyone who would like to see it to come on over and have a look. There is a possibility that it could be demonstrated at a plowing match or agricultural fair soon.

Concert in the Park was a big hit Sunday night

Porches of the houses surrounding Shawville Memorial Park were filled to capacity Sunday night. Likewise the lawns and driveways. Cars parked on all sides of the park held other hundred people and the park itself was bright with families seated on lawn chairs and on the grass. There hadn't been so many people there in living memory.

The occasion was the first outdoor appearance in Shawville of the Shawville Community Band. The thirty amateur musicians who make up the band include some of the busiest people in town who go to great lengths to never miss a practice.

The inspired leader for this summer is Dennis Murphy who has something new up his sleeve to introduce in time for the band's next concert in the park.

The Shawville Council provided a wooden platform for the band, Eric Judd placed spotlights so the band could read their music after dark, Bud Blake brought in the Lions Club sound system to amplify Bill Main's voice as he announced the numbers, and the program was recorded on tape by Dr. Cowley.

Bryson Lions annual picnic Sunday, July 31

"Sea Pie and Beans is all that is needed to draw the crowd at so many of Pontiac's big events and when the sea pie and beans are products of Bryson's kitchens there's something special in store.

That'll be the fare at the annual Lions Club picnic next Sunday, July 31st at the Lions playground which will include games of chance, rides for children, softball, hardball and at night a real ball with popular music and dancing until 2 am in the Bryson Town Hall.

The whole affair will be, as always, utterly informal and all the money they make goes to administration of this fine service club. "Help the Lions to Help Others" is their motto and when it comes to their annual picnic those who attend are also helping themselves to a very good time.

Emards return from West

An unforgettable experience for Rev and Mrs. Ludger Emard and her sister Miss Annie Gamble was their presence at the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the city of Brandon, Manitoba.

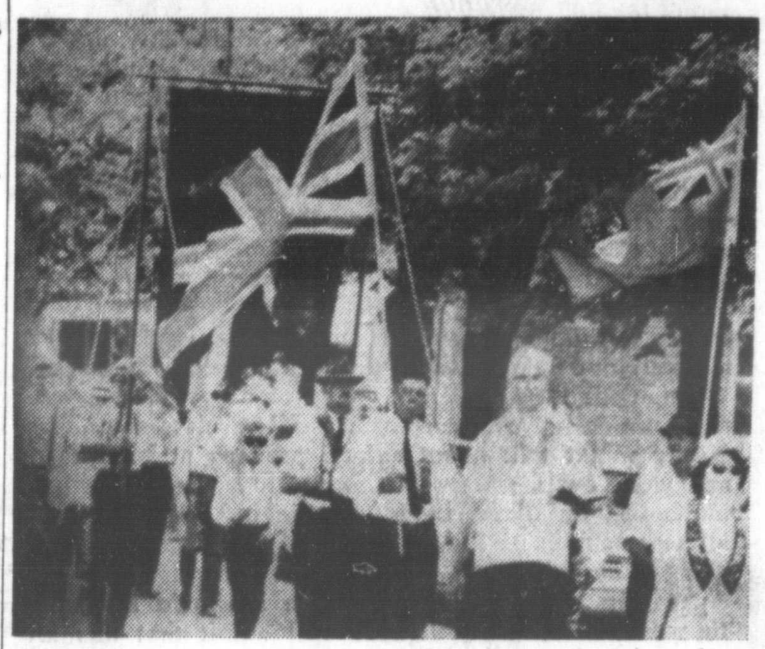

The three have now returned after an absence of over a They left Shawville on June 13 month travelling in hte west. for meetings in Winnipeg of the British America Grand Lodge of the Orange Association of which Rev Emard is the Deputy Grand Chaplain.

They also visited Regina, Moosejaw, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria, Sidney, Anacortes by Washington State Ferry and the Stephen Pass. On the way back they visited Sault Ste Marie, Sarnia and Willow Park Georgetown.

rode down Shawville's Main street last Tuesday escorted by the Lodges of the area in bright array, and accompanied by drums by the dozens, fifes unlimited and flags emphasizing the British heritage of the interested parties. As usual, in Shawville, the demonstration was peaceful in every aspect, despite the "ready for business" look of the unsheathed swords and the skirling of bagpipes along the route of march. The comment most portentious came from the most orange of all Orangemen who said "They call us Protestants but I'm sure I don't know what we are protesting!"—and this from the Most Worshipful Honorary Past Grand Master of Quebec and Past Grand Chaplain Rev. The barn raising

Irwin Hayes now has his new barn, thanks to a traditional Pontiac custom called a bran raising. Ninety-three meals were served by Eleanor with the help of her neighbors' wives, on the spacious porches around the Hayes farm house. All passing motorists grazed in wonder as the barn went up so speedily early this week with 35 men at a time putting the rafters in place. Ken Wilson masterminded the job and made the forms for the rafters which Irwin has been making (7 ply of 2x1) since April. One visiting anthropologist wondered what motivated the neighbors to help out. Could it have been Eleanor's deep apple pies? In this photo the last rafters are going up on the far end and the boys with stringers are fast catching up with the rafter men.

Public works in Temiscamingue

Tom Lefebvre tells us the Contract for the reconstruction of the Ontario Dam at Temiscaming and widening of the roadway on it to 2 lanes was awarded to G. A. Pitts Construction Ltd of Toronto.

The low bid for an amount of $1,117,131 was accepted. The other bidders were Inspiration Ltd., Montreal 1,161,146; W. D. Laflamme, Ottawa, $1,393,-363.50; Peter Kievit, Toronto, $2,624,759.

The Federal portion of the contract amounts to over $600,-000.00, the balance being divided between Ontario Hydro and Ontario Dept of Highways. This dam is the first link from Ontario to Quebec at this point, running from the Ontario shore to an island in the Ottawa River. The second link is from the Island to the Quebec shore of the Ottawa at the town of Temiscaming.

It provides a means of road communication from North Bay via Ont Highway 46 to Temis- the Dams Quebec Highway No. caming and thence to join via 63 which leads from Temiscaming to Rouyn.

Reconstruction and widening of the second Dam on the Quebec side is now under study and further announcements on this will be made this fall.

The upstream side of the Dams marks the end of Lake Temiscaming, the downstream side marks the beginning of the Ottawa River.

Up until this point the dams have provided only single lane traffic and the widening to two lanes will remove a very bad bottleneck to traffic in this area.

Victory party at Otter Lake Friday

A street dance, entertainment and refreshments in Otter Lake on Friday night, July 22 will be the Hon. Raymond Johnston's opportunity to honor his electors and thenk them for re-electing him.

Ray's return to office at this time has been particularly significant because as his own Party is in power it has allowed him to be given greater responsibilities as a member of the Cabinet of Premier Daniel Johnson.

The party Friday night is for everyone, regardless of how they voted. Ray will be the host.

Who?

Someone has asked us who got those refreshments on the picket line that Jack Kirkham was thanking Renfrew and Bryson merchants for in the paper last week.

Denfensive Farming

The National Safety League of Canada has come forth with a suggestion which might save a life or a limb this season. They call it "defensive farming" to parallel the modern trend to defensive driving.

As everyone knows, defensive driving is anticipating hazards and knowing how to avoid them. The same principle can be applied to farming.

Farmers always know the hazards which exist in farm work but often are too rushed to plan to work around them. Short cuts, they say, cause the most slashed arms and legs, blindness, broken skulls and crushed ribs, and the farmer who refuses a short cut when danger is there is the one who lives the longest.

Farm Safety Week is July 24 to 30 which accounts for the reminders we have been receiving in the mail lately. The Equity, along with all weekly newspapers, is being asked to write something about farm safety in hopes that it will cause a farmer or two to stop and think about it a minute.

Empashis is placed on the fact that farm safety is a family affair, involving everyday habits in living and working and playing. In industry there are safety engineers such as Mr. Mosgrove of whom we have been hearing a great deal for his success in preventing accidents at the mill site. But on the farm there is nobody special to keep safety posters up in strategic places and to award little green stars to safety conscious workers.

On the farm the entire family must work together to eliminate hazards and to forestall careless acts. The family might talk about safety, perhaps at breakfast, and work out a safety plan for the day's work including home, buildings, fields, machinery, chemicals and all aspects of farm life—including what the children are going to be doing.

Then when the plan is made it should be made to work. The Safety League will admit that this all takes time but we go along with them in saying that it will not be a waste of time.

New dairy policy milk subsidy explained

To get paid by the Agricultural Stabilization Board under the new federal dairy policy, milk producers must be registered with the Board in Ottawa. Forms are supposed to be available from creameries, manufacturing plants, cheese factories, dairies and other outlets to which milk or cream is shipped.

Last year cream prices were based on 55 cent butter plus a subsidy of 10.9 cents per pound of butter fat. The subsidy was paid by the plants to the farmer and the plants were reimbursed by the Stabilization Board.

This year cream prices are based on 59 cent butter plus a subsidy of 21.43 cents per pound butterfat. But this year the subsidy is being paid direct to the farmer from the Stabilization Board in Ottawa.

These payments are to be made to cream shippers every three months, with the first cheques intended to go out in July.

The producer, that is the dairy farmer, needs only one registration certificate even if he is shipping to more than one manufacturing plant, but he should make sure that each manufacturing plant to which he ships has on record his registration number so they can forward the information on deliveries to the Stabilization Board for payment on his total production.

Fluid milk producers numbers are prefixed by the letter F and if one farmer is registered as a fluid shipper and also separates cream for manufacturing he should give his registration number as a fluid milk shipper to the creamery as well.

When more than one person owns the cows on one farm and all the milk is shipped together, only one registration number is to be used and if a farmer sells his farm and moves to another he should return the certificate stating he has moved. A new certificate will be issued for the new address.

The 75 cent subsidy will be paid regardless of what the farmer receives for his milk, whether it is 3.25 a hundredweight or more or less. The reason for this is that if the subsidy depended on the payment from the plant there would be no incentive for the processor to pay or for the producer to negotiate a fair price. It is the intention of the Government that the farmer should receive $4 per hundred-weight on the basis of a 3.25 payment from the plant, for milk testing 3.5 butterfat which is 21.43 cents per pound of butterfat. If the milk tests 3.8 for instance, the payment would be about 81 cents if the milk tested 3.2 it would be about 68 cents per hundredweight.

Fish & Chips anyone? On the back of the copy for the big Bryson Lions Club annual picnic poster someone has scribbled down the recipe for fish & chip batter. Whoever wrote it down most likely has wondered where it went to and would like it back so here it is: (and also for other readers who doubtless have wanted a good recipe).

1 cup teabisk, ½ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 unbeaten egg, 2 teaspoons vinegar, 1/3 cup cold water. It doesn't say what to do but obviously these are to be beaten together and then the filetted fish is dipped into the batter and then dunked into hot oil until nicely puffed up and brown. Thank you whoever you are for jotting down there by mistake.

There will be no Highland Dancing competition at the Ottawa Ex this year because the bandshell had to be demolished to make room for the new multipurpose civic centre at Landsdowne Park. Highland Dancing is mentioned in their ad in the list of closing dates but this was a mistake.

One striking mine employee wants us to publish the fact that in his family there is no inconvenience because of the strike. Also a visiting reporter from an out of town paper says he interviewed a number of the strikers on the picket line and has been told that they are quite happy to be on strike; they are getting their farming done—those that have farms, and the others are working, between shifts on the picket line, at other jobs. So as far as they are concerned the strike might as well last all summer! Isn't that an encouragement for other industries to come to this area!

What this town needs more than ever now is a Chamber of Commerce! There are a number of unique and wonderful things about Shawville which, if developed and made widely known, can surmount any of our weaknesses. This is the job of a Chamber of Commerce — to spark progress and advertise strengths in an effort to increase commerce. The Canadian Chamber of Commerce provides all the necessary information and help to any new Chamber to get started with a bang and to keep useful forever, in case anyone or any few are interested in getting going in this direction.

Antique Printing Equipment Going to Upper Canada Village

David Dickson and Gordon Crouse of Pontiac Printshop Limited in Shawville handed over some unique antique printing equipment to Mr. Hough of Upper Canada Village where pioneer buildings are reconstructed and furnished with early Canadian articles. Thousands of people pass through these buildings each week and the popularity of the project has caused its growth steadily since it was first begun as a modest few buildings. The current plan is to add an authentic early Canadian printing plant to the entrance where people can watch pamphlets and posters being printed as they were printed years ago. Going to furnish this shop from Shawville are a complete case carrying a variety of different types, all antique, an ancient paper cutter (which was actually in use during the first few months of the present ownership of the Printshop), interesting cuts of animals and designs and many other articles for use in printing. The value of the gift is impossible to estimate. This will put Pontiac in the picture at Upper Canada Village which will be one of Canada's greatest attractions during Centennial Year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Soap

St. John's Rectory
Quyon. Que. July 13

The Editor,

The Equity,

Dear Sir:

This is an item which might be omitted from the account you receive of the Celebration of the 12th in Shawville. It is the reference to the Orange and Protestant Home and Orphanage Inc. at Rosemere.

With others I was invited to address the gathering after the Walk. Just before being called upon for his remarks, the Grand Treasurer of the Orange Grand Lodge of Quebec in a low voice said to me "I'll leave it to you to speak about the Home".

One is always happy to do this because the Home is the best of the Orange work in the Province of Quebec.

I mentioned the Home and the work it is doing for children in this province who would otherwise have no one to care for them.

As a Christian minister, I appealed for the continued support of all who love children.

A little girl came forward with ten cents for soap for the Home. Others came too. Within a few minutes I had in my hand 18.75 and $8 for the Home Extension Fund.

Afterwards my daughter and I went shopping and we had a very large supply of soap ready when two of the Grand Lodge Officers called that evening to take it to Rosemere.

In the name of all directly connected with the Orange Home, "Thank you."

Afterwards in conversation with the Master of the Shawville Lodge, we discussed the possibility of holding a Pound Day in the Shawville Orange Hall on October 21st, a week previous to the Annual Pound Day at the Home on the 28th. The cooperation of many will be needed.

Faithfully yours,
Rev E. N. McColl

Consolidated announces some new developments

Consolidated Paper Corporation Limited has announced three new projects for experimentation and modernization at the Laurentide mill in Grand' Mere.

Ritchie MacPherson manager of Laurentide division, told reporters at a press conference in the office of Mayor Hormidas Prud'Homme that the projects will entail construction of a plant for experimenting with mechanical pulp made from wood chips, installation of new barking drums and extension of facilities in the shipping shed.

"Total cost of the projects is estimated at $4,500,000," he said. Dr. Alan H. Vroom, director of research for Consolidated Paper, said in a statement the plant represents a major investment in the development of new technology in th emanufacture of newsprint.

The plant will use two refiners and auxiliary equipment supplied by Sprout, Waldron & Co. "In the initial phase, the refiners will concentrate on softwoods," Dr. Vroom said. "But we also intend to investigate the pulping of hardwoods".

The plant should be in operation by next April he said.

Consolidated will also install three new barking drums, 12 feet in diameter and 60 feet long which, unlike the present units, will be able to handle wood in the winter. A company statement said this will allow for the purchase of a wider range of species of wood and will enable continuous year-round delivery by local farmers and dealers.

It is expected that some employees who are now hired on a seasonal basis will become regular workers, the statement said,

The present eight barking drums, eight feet in diameter & 45 feet long, have become obsolete. With the new drums, it will be possible to make paper from wood cut four days previously in the Chibougamau area, the statement added. This will produce brighter and cleaner paper.

The new drums should be installed by next February.

The third project is the extension of the shipping shed by 150 feet to relieve congestion & provide fo rmore trucking outlets.

The statement said the extension will make room for 4,000 tons of 60 inch rolls of newsprint stored on end. It will also allow for storage of offset papers, which are in wider use, and of tonnage from the new number 10 high-speed paper machine which began initial pro duction last week.

The statement said shed facilities have been in need of more space to handle the variety of orders demanded by the increasing number of small customers.

Mr. A. J. Billes (right), former President and co-founder of Canadian Tire Corporation Limited, Toronto, discusses aspects of management change with incoming President Dean Muncaster (centre) and new Vice-President "Rich" Hobbs.

Management changes in Canadian Tire Corporation

A big change has taken place in the Toronto headquarters operation of Canadian Tire Corporation Limited according to Weldon J. Hobbs, who owns & operates the Canadian Tire Associate Store on Main Street.

Mr. A. J. Billes, who began the business in 1922 with his late brother J. W. Billes, has chosen to step down as President and Director.

The new management team, according to Mr. Hobbs, now assuming administrttive responsibility for the 44 year old corporation is one of the youngest to be found in any major Canadian company today. The new President is J. Dean Muncaster, BA, MBA, 32, and his new Vice-President is Richard J. Hobbs, BA, MS, 35. Returning to the corporation after a number of years absence is Alex E. Barron, well-known Toronto financial executive as Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Billes, who is well known personally to Canadian Tire franchise dealers, and was its chief executive officer for the past 10 years, will remain in the business. While giving up administrative responsibilities, including his seat on the Board, Mr. Billes will continue to be active in merchandising and personnel, two areas in which he has always been personally interested. In planning this move, he considers it "more like graduation than retirement".

Canadian Tire's new President Dean Muncaster, was formerly Vice-President and Director. He comes from Sudbury, Ont., where his father operated a highly successful Canadian Tire Associate Store for many years. There he got his first business experience as a $15 a week stock boy. Also, at 18 he got his first chance at management when his father left him in charge of the family store and 40 employees for one long summer month.

Mr. Muncaster gained his Honors BA at the School of Business Administration, University of Western Ontario in 1956 and his MBA at Northwestern University Chicago in 1957. He joined Canadian Tire in 1957 as Financial and Operational Analyst, became a Director in 1960 and Vice-President in 1961. During an interval of three years from 1960-1963 he managed his father's store in Sudbury commuting back and forth from Canadian Tire's Toronto headquarters.

"Rich" Hobbs has also had first hand associate store experience having managed or owned Canadian Tire stores in three Ontario communities, Sault Ste Marie, Orangeville and Hamilton. He was invited to join the head office staff of Canadian Tire in May last year. Mr. Hobbs obtained his BA in Honors Business Administration at University of Western Ontario and MS in Marketing at Columbia University.

The Company's new executive will manage an organization which has grown rapidly in the last ten years and now has 224 Associate Stores throughout Eastern Canada.

Mr. Muncaster, an executive with a crewcut and an earnest manner said his election to the presidency illustrates Canadian Tire's commitment to a youthful and aggressive management. He sees his task as making profitable use of the resources that have been created over the years by the founders. He intends to broaden the line of products offered by the chain of Canadian Tire Associate stores which stretch from Ontario to the Maritimes. Plans are being made to enlarge several existing stores and to open new ones in the Montreal area.

COURT REPORT

Court was held in Campbell's Bay on July 6, 1966 with District Judge Arthur Labbe presiding.

Three young men who had their preliminary inquiry before District Judge Labbe were condemned by him to stand trial at the next term of the Criminal Assises to be held on the 27th of September next at Campbell's Bay, on charges of Rape.

Lorne, Ranger 23 yrs, Chichester, Maurice Fleury 19 and Mervin Ranger 18, both of Nickabong who were accused of raping two young Pembroke girls are released on $500 property bail.

A number of dangerous drivers who pleaded guilty were fined heavily. Mervin Ranger 18 of Nickabong who was accused of dangerous driving and of hit and run at Chapeau where he hit a parked car on main street causing extensive damages was fined a total of $200 and ordered to pay court costs. He was prohibited from driving a motor vehicle in Canada for a period of 1 yr.

He will spend the next 14 days in jail in lieu of the fine. Lawrence Cartier 36 of Otter Lake who answered to two charges of hit and run in Otter Lake where he hit a parked car on main street and two gas pumps on the property of Mr. Arnold Bretzlaff causing approximately $400 damage was fined $150 and court costs. He was prohibited from driving a motor vehicle in Canada for 3 months.

Gilbert St Aubin 21 ot Hull was sent to jail for 14 days on charges of dangerous driving & two hit and run. The evidence revealed that St Aubin hit two different cars in the Township of Leslie, and while he was trying to run away from the scene narrowly missed hitting a QPP Police Cruiser which happened to be coming from the opposite direction.

St Aubin had just paid a $200 fine on the 29th of April last for dangerous driving. Judge Labbe in passing sentence told him that he had a duty to protect the public from irresponsible drivers and that therefore his suspension to drive a motor vehicle for a year should teach him a lesson.

Emery Gagnon 22 Nickabong was fined and paid $150. fine and court costs for dangerous driving. He was prohibited from driving a motor vehicle for a period of one year.

The lone woman accused who appeared in Court was fined and paid $50 plus Court costs for hit and run.

The court was told that she hit a parked car in a hotel yard in Chapeau and then tried to run away with intent to escape civil or criminal liability.

Causing a disturbance in a hotel at Davidson cost a $15 fine and Court costs to Donat Dubeau 26 of Vinton.

Richard McNulty 21 of Sudbury who on Confederation Day decided to mark the occasion in a special way found out that his fancy turned out to be costly. He was ordered to pay a total of $60 in damages to 5 different car owners whose car radio aerial he broke, and to pay court costs.

Pastoral comment...

Rev A. Morgan, Yarm

Unshaken Faith Acts 27:25. I believe God! Here we have an account of a certain prisoner on his way to Rome by ship. Paul desired a prosperous journey (Romans 1:10) but instead the ship on which he was sailing encountered an awful storm, a tempest that threatened the destruction of every life on that ship. It was under these circumstances that Paul a prisoner of the Lord speaks forth a ringing testimony "I believe God". Many have said these words under fair weather sailing, when the seas were calm, but when tempests have swept over them, & everything seemed lost, plans were shattered and hopes failed to materialize, they have lost faith and begin to doubt.

Paul was a man who knew God and could contact the God of Heaven in the crisis hour, and we ourselves need faith and courage in these days in which we live. We need faith that looks beyond the storm and sees Him who holds the storm in His control and the winds in His fist; Faith that looks through the darkness and sees the shining face of One who stands by our side.

I believe God, said Paul. We may believe things about God, but it is a far more personal matter to know His grace and power, and to have His presence with you, and to hear the still small voice speaking words of cheer and comfort as Paul did in the trying hour. Paul could also say "there stood by me an angel of God, whose I am and whom I serve". Paul belonged to God and so does every true believer belong to God. Paul served Him faithfully and in the hours of deepest distress he found God by his side. What was true of Paul may be the experience of every true Christian. God wants fellowship with His children and desires His children to trust Him on every occasion for His promises never fail.
