"Heavenly Twins" return to earth

Receive heroes welcome

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's "heavenly twins" returned to earth today and were reported in good health after bulls-eye landings ending record-breaking space flights that apparently gave the Soviet Union a giant stride toward a manned shot at the moon.

The Soviet news agency Novosti said the two Russian spacemen "brilliantly fulfilled" their task and "for the next few days . . . will remain under observation of doctors to study the influences of prolonged space flight on the human organism."

A "surge of jubilation" swept over the Soviet Union at the news of their landing, the agency said. Moscow residents flocked into Red Square. "Cosmos: Cosmos: Cosmos:" shouted younger members of the crowd.

Tass said Maj. Andrian Nikolayev landed in his spaceship, Vostok III, at 9:55 A.M. Moscow time (2:55 A.M. EDT) and Lt.-Col. Pavel Popovich in Vostok IV six minutes later at 10:01 A.M.

"Both cosmonauts feel well," said the Soviet news agency.

LAND 'NORMALLY'

Tass said they landed "normally" aboard their spaceships "exactly in the predetermined area" of the Soviet Union.

The landing site was not announced immediately, but Soviet astronauts normally come down in the central Volga area of Saratov, 400 miles southeast of Moscow. Both men are believed to have taken off from the usual launch zone near Karsakpay, in the Virgin Lands of Kazakhstan.

The flights lasted just 95 minutes short of four days for Nikolayev, who blasted off at 11:30 A.M. Saturday, and just 61 minutes short of three days for Popovich, who went up at 11:02 A.M. Sunday.

The Communist party central committee, the Supreme Soviet presidium and the Soviet government in a joint message said Nikolayev had circled the earth more than 64 times, covering a distance of 2,600,000 kilometres (1,600,000 miles). The message said Popovich made more than 48 orbits for a distance of nearly 2,000,000 kilometres (1,240,000 miles).

They far outdistanced the time and distance of any preceding space flight.

PLAN WELCOME

A hero's welcome and world acclaim awaited Nikolayev, 32, and Popovich, 31, whom Soviet newspapers have dubbed "the heavenly twins." Red Square already was being made ready for a mammoth welcome for the two new heroes, possibly Sunday, which is Soviet Air Force Day.

After its first announcement, Moscow radio began a program of patriotic music.

Soviet officials have not disclosed much of what has been learned so far. However, the flights apparently gave these results:

The two cosmonauts proved

Loot may reach $2,000,000

Massachusetts mail truck robbed

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—A gang backed by sub-machine-guns robbed a U.S. mail truck Tuesday night of an amount estimated between $250,000 and $2,000,000 in a caper that would have made a television writer proud.

No one could pinpoint quickly the amount taken since the money, much of it en route to the federal reserve bank of Boston from central Cape Cod banks, was carried in sealed pouches. Receipts from Cape post offices also were taken.

State Police Detective Lt. Joseph Simmons said the best estimate ranged from $250,000 to a possible $2,000,000.

Postal inspectors Luther H. Finerfrock and Frank Jencunis said they wouldn't be able to give an accurate estimate of the loss until several hours after the banks open.

The postal inspectors and FBI agents directed the investigation some felt could possibly involved a notorious gang of bank robbers.

The federal agents were only periodically available to reporters and then their answers were not too specific.

Final reports mentioned four robbers but authorities later said there could have been as many as seven.

Truck driver Patrick R. Schena and guard William F. Barrett told investigators their truck was halted at Plymouth by a man dressed as a police officer. Two cars then shot out from the side of the road and cut the truck off. But before Bennett had a chance to draw his own weapon, two men poked sub-machine-guns through the truck windows.

Police said the gunmen, who apparently used four cars to set up the crime, also made use of detour signs to halt traffic on the lonely Route 3 bypass. Two of the cars were found abandoned in Plymouth near the Plymouth County House of Correction.

Schena, 36, of Everett, and Barrett, of Mansfield, were forced from the cab, tied up and pushed into the rear of the truck. Two men drove the truck while two others trailed behind in cars.

The truck made several stops and its bound occupants said some of the bags were dropped off at each stop.

The truck was driven to Randolph—a distance of about 25 miles—where Schena and Barrett were freed and the truck was abandoned.

The robbery occurred at 8 p.m. It was about 10 p.m. when Schena and Barrett reached a telephone to notify police.

The two men were questioned for hours at Randolph police headquarters.

Description of the gang was sparse. One man who wielded a sub-machine-gun was described as a six-footer, well built, with horn-rimmed glasses. The man in the police officer's uniform was smaller.

One track of the investigation centred around New York police reports that bank robbers Albert F. Nussbaum, 27, and Bobby R. Wilcoxon, 32, formerly of Duke, Okla., were believed headed for New England last Feb. 17.

May 26, an Abington policeman reported he was shot at by a motorist who resembled Nussbaum. The man never was found.

Poland orders church schools nationalized

WARSAW Reuters — All schools and orphanages in Poland now run by monks and nuns will be taken over by the education ministry within a year, a spokesman for Poland's office of religious cults said Monday.

This will be carried out under a law enacted by parliament last year which stipulated that only lay schools would be allowed, the spokesman said in an interview.

Asked about evictions of nuns, as reported by the Roman Catholic primate, Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, in a pastoral letter read in churches throughout the Warsaw diocese Sunday, the spokesman replied:

"We ordered officials to proceed with gentleness and tact. There may have been some isolated cases of tactlessness but as often as not the officials were provoked by the nuns."

The spokesman said officials acting under last year's law sometimes had to enter convent premises when they were forcibly barred from discharging their duties.

Aided by devaluation

Canadian export trade created record in May

OTTAWA (CP) — The lower exchange rate on the Canadian dollar helped carry domestic exports in May to the highest monthly value on record, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Exports of Canadian - made goods reached $597,671,000—33.2 per cent more than the $448,833,000 recorded in May of 1961.

The previous record was $546,300,000, set in October, 1961.

"The lower exchange value of the Canadian dollar and the concentration in May statistics of most opening shipments through the St. Lawrence Seaway were factors in the record level," said the bureau.

The dollar was devalued on May 3 to 92.5 cents in terms of the United States dollar.

Domestic exports in the first five months of 1962 totalled $2,398,964,000 — 13.2 per cent more than the $2,118,771,000 registered in the same period last year.

While the over - all index was higher, however, exports to Cuba — a component that has proved an irritant in relations between Canada and the United States — continued to sag.

Shipments to the Communist-controlled Caribbean island dropped to $690,000 in May compared with $2,131,000 in the same month last year.

For the five-month period, exports to Cuba were little more than one-third of those recorded in the first five months of 1961 —$4,237,000 as compared with $12,431,000.

The drop apparently reflects Cuba's continuing shortage of hard currency and its near-complete reliance on the Communist bloc for its import needs.

Biggest increase in May exports was to the United States the value here increasing by nearly $80,000,000 to $332,763,000 compared with $253,357,000 in May of 1961.

For the first five months, exports to the U.S. totalled $1,429,024,000 as against $1,136,713,000 last year.

Sales to the United Kingdom also jumped markedly in May —to $98,335,000 from $61,884,000 in the same month last year. For the first five months, they totalled $349,446,000 against $347,671,000 a year earlier.

Jobless higher in July

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment increased by 7,000 to 308,000 between mid-June and mid-July, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the federal labor department reported today.

The rise following four straight months in which the unemployed total fell substantially, was not unusual, the report said. During the last five years the June-to-July figures have varied from an unemployment increase of 15,000 to a drop of 29,000.

At mid-July unemployment represented 4.5 per cent of the Canadian labor force, the same percentage as in June. In July of last year there were 354,000 out of work, 5.2 per cent of the labor force.

The joint release said employment rose by 118,000 during the month with the increase in the total labor force due to the influx of students into the labor market.

MOST FIND WORK

An estimated 173,000 teenagers entered the labor market, "most of whom found work." This increase was partly offset by a "significant" withdrawal of married women from working ranks.

The picture in brief, with estimates in thousands:

	July 1962	June 1962	July 1961
Labor force	6,877	6,752	6,743
Employed	6,569	6,451	6,389
Unemployed	308	301	354

The report is based on a survey of 35,000 households across Canada during the week ended July 21. Today's release did not include the bureau's industry-by-industry details for each region, which now comes out a few days later.

Farming was the weak point in July's employment picture.

"Seasonal requirements of agriculture were somewhat smaller than in recent years," the report said. This situation was noted particularly in the Atlantic, Quebec and Ontario regions where all of the increase in unemployment occurred.

Non - farm employment was higher in almost all sectors with increased activity in construction, transportation and trade. Manufacturing remained steady with increases in many industries offset by the seasonal layoffs for model changeovers in the automotive industry.

HOLDS STEADY

The service field, which normally shows a drop in this period, held steady during the month.

Total employment was a record 6,569,000, up 2.8 per cent from a year earlier. Non-farm employment rose four per cent.

Quebec showed the sharpest gain in unemployed, 4,000 despite a jump of better than five per cent in its non-farm employment.

Seeking $742,500

Campaign launched by Butters Hospital

AUSTIN — (Special) — A $742,500 subscription drive for the Cecil Butters Memorial Hospital, an institution devoted to the care of retarded children, was launched here Tuesday afternoon at a gathering attended by Hon. Emilien Lafrance, Minister of Family and Social Welfare in the Provincial Government, and other MPP's from the district.

In opening the campaign, Mr. Lafrance stressed the valuable work being done by this institution, which eares for mongoloid and incurable children and urged the full support of the public.

He complimented Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Butters on the excellence of the hospital which they founded as a memorial to their son who lost his life while serving with the RCAF during the Second World War.

Glen Brown, MPP for Brome County, and chairman of the hospital's board of directors, emphasized the tremendous need for assistance. He explained how the subscriptions received would be used.

The most costly item will be a badly needed new building, which would cost $243,000.

The second most required improvement is an adequate water supply system, which will cost $105,000. Also urgently needed is a suitable sewage disposal system. In enumerating the hospital's necessities, Mr. Brown stressed the urgency of 21 requirements, which can only be acquired through the generosity of donors.

Mr. Brown stated that the Butters Hospital now accommodates a mere fraction of the number of children seeking admission.

At present the hospital cares for 331 children.

In addition to the MPP's from the district, municipal officials, service club representatives and members of the clergy rallied to emphasize their approval of the project. Six of the Eastern Townships' countries were represented and a delegation from Montreal's Jewish community present.

Georges Vaillancourt, MPP for Stanstead, offered words of encouragement, when he said, "This is a long needed drive," concluding with his hopes for its success.

Sherbrooke MPP, Philippe Brousseau, expressed the hope that the public as well as firms and corporations would support the appeal.

Ending the formal ceremony of launching the drive, Mrs. Lillian Butters spoke, thanking these present for the wonderful assistance and encouragement they had already given her and Mr. Butters, their family and hospital staff. Mrs. Butters said there were many times when the skies looked dark and the future doubtful, but thanks to many kind friends, they managed to survive and overcome the almost unsurmountable odds that faced them.

"Today, while conditions have improved, our needs are that much greater," Mrs. Butters said, adding, "Our present family of over 330 children, is growning daily. More space and

Monty creates furore

Says Churchill opposes ECM link

LONDON (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery moved into the eye of a political storm today after letting slip in a press interview the supposedly private opposition of Sir Winston Churchill to Britain joining the Common Market.

Not for the first time, the peppery 74-year-old war hero appeared to have let a large diplomatic cat out of the bag. Repercussions are expected to be wide.

Emerging from a hospital visit to Sir Winston Tuesday, Montgomery announced he found his old chief in complete agreement with his own opposition to Britain joining the European Six. Montgomery said: "He agrees with me. He is entirely against Britain going in."

The statement almost certainly caused embarrassment to the Macmillan government which all summer has been engaged in delicate negotiations with the European trading bloc.

TRIAL FOR CHURCHILL

For Sir Winston, too, it was obviously a trial. Nearly 100 Conservative members of Parliament are firmly opposed to Britain entering Europe and showing signs of rebellion.

The 87 - year - old statesman acted quickly from his sickbed to prevent his name being used as a rallying point for the anti-Market faction.

Soon after hearing Montgomery make his assertion in a television newscast, Churchill ordered publication of a hitherto private letter which set forth his views on the British application.

The key paragraph appeared to be the last.

"I think the government are right to apply to join," it said, "not because I am yet convinced that we shall be able to join but because there appears to be no other way by which we can find out exactly whether the conditions are acceptable.

In these terms, Sir Winston's position appeared to coincide with the official government line. But observers pointed out the letter was written a year ago—as a private communication to party organizers in his electoral district of Woodford.

Argentine officers sentenced

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—Fifteen-day prison terms were slapped on general staff officers today in a bid to still the winds of mutiny blowing over army barracks.

The punishment was handed out to 116 young officers, ranging from captains to colonels, who refused to salute Gen. Carlos Lorio, who was appointed Monday along with Turolo in a division of top jobs among the army's two feuding factions.

Both men were backers of Gen. Federico Toranzo Montero, leader of the rebel faction that last week brought the country to the verge of civil war.

The war office announced a generals' meeting would be held today or Thursday to discuss the situation.

MINISTER RESIGNS

The military crisis deepened Tuesday night with the resignation of Defence Minister Jose Luis Cantilo, who said he quit "in sorrow for having failed in my purpose. My greatest ambition was to secure unity of the armed forces."

The mass circulation newspaper La Razon predicted an imminent government crisis.

Another 305 officers and pupils at the war school were reported backing their general staff colleagues in refusing to recognize the authority of commanders who sided with Toranzo Montero in last week's crisis.

The question being asked was whether Sir Winston had since made up his mind that Britain should drop the negotiations and stay out of Europe. If so, he understandably might want to keep his views to himself.

MONTY 'BEAMS'

Montgomery, whose record of diplomatic fluffs range from criticisms of Gen. Eisenhower as a war commander to ultra-enthusiastic estimates of Mao Tze-tung, made his disclosure of the Churchillian view in his customary perky manner. Standing on the steps of the London hospital where Sir Winston is confined with a broken thigh, he positively beamed satisfaction at photographers as he dropped his bombshell.

"Is that all right?" he asked.

Then he hurried off to his country home in Hampshire.

There Tuesday night, one newspaper was able to reach him—the staunchly anti-Market Daily Express.

The Express quoted him as saying:

"I was anxious to know what Sir Winston thought about us going into the market.

"Sir Winston did not go into any reasons. It was simply a case of me asking him if he was against it and Sir Winston saying that he was.

"He did not elaborate on his answer."

The Daily Mail says Sir Winston had "hit back" at Montgomery by causing his letter to be published.

The Daily Telegraph says Montgomery had been rebuffed.

The Daily Mirror says Montgomery had been "slapped down" and the Daily Herald headlines: "Monty in row with Churchill over the Six."

The Daily Express plays the story for its value to the anti-market cause.

"Winston steps in," it headlines. "Churchill's call for firm safeguards is revealed in unpublished letter."

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I read the script," goes the classic phrase, "and the series (or part) was just so great I couldn't resist it."

This is one of those delightful fictions of this make - believe land—that actors are artists and above the every-day necessity of earning rent money and paying the grocer.

"As a matter of fact, a performer is very lucky to land a regular part in a TV series," said actor Allyn Joslyn. "Sure, there's more work around now than there has ever been because of all the television. But a lot of it is just for one day or for a week."

Joslyn is one of the fortunate ones. He has been a successful performer for years in movies—he has a string of more than 60 features to his credit—and has done much television work. Now he is one of the stars of a new NBC comedy series, McKeever and the Colonel, which will have its premier next month.

"Actors—except for the big stars and the ones with regular parts in the series—really aren't doing as well today as they did before TV," said Joslyn. "The result is that there's a sort of panic on."

Screen Actors' Guild, the performers' union, has statistics to back him up. There are, at most recent count, about 14,000 professional film actors with union cards (and you can't do a movie or television show that is put on film without one).

In spite of the astronomical salary figures that get kicked around, only about 140—one per cent—of them make $100,000 or more a year from television and films. Well over half earn less than $2,000. Currently about two-thirds of all film acting employment comes from television.

"When movies were big an actor who had a decent part in a single feature could make enough money to set him up for a year," said Joslyn. "I remember once, in the mid-thirties, when I turned down a part that would have paid me $5,000 a week for four weeks. The money was great, but I was afraid it would tie me up so that I wouldn't be able to take on a part that would keep me busy for a longer time."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Clint Walker has a dream:

"It's what I want to do on my last day at Warner Brothers," he says. "I'd like to go out on the back lot and dig a hole, about six feet long and three feet wide. I'd lay this outfit in it, hat, gun and all. Then I'd cover it over and put a sign above it saying:

"'Here lies Cheyenne Bodie. Let him lie in peace.'"

Clint admits that the wardrobe department may prevent him from performing these rites. But he is closer than he ever felt possible to sending Cheyenne to his final resting place.

As is well known, Clint is the outsized Illinois boy who has been starring in Cheyenne on television for seven years. As is equally well known, he has been unhappy about doing it all along.

Clint's independence equals his frame. His tirades against his bosses have been frequent and well punctuated. They are just about at an end.

"I have only five more Cheyenne to shoot and then I'm through," he explained. "That will make 13 for next season, all that I'm obligated for. It can't be over too soon for me."

The finale will mark the end of a stormy eight years between Walker and Warners. He admitted that he was disgruntled from the beginning.

"I was used for a different purpose than I was signed for," he said. "I was signed to appear in feature pictures. I was put into a television series."

At the end of the first year, he signed a new contract—"because they weren't paying me enough to eat on." He is eating well enough now, he admitted, but that doesn't make him happy.

Clint is resigned to serving out his time—he hopes to be finished by October. Then he'll try his wings on the outside.

How will Clint bow out of Cheyenne?

He has his own ideas about that.

"I think he ought to be stripped of his gun and star, lose his horse, be thrown over by the girl and run out of town on a rail for being a lousy sheriff," said Clint, dreaming again.

Traffic committee recommendations

Urges parking be prohibited along Wellington in morning

The recently formed city traffic committee has recommended that parking should be prohibited on both sides of Wellington Street North and South, from Ball Street up to Frontenac Street, from eight to ten in the morning, in order to facilitate delivery of merchandise in that particular area.

The recommendation made in a report to council Monday, follows suggestions made by the chief of police concerning the goods delivery zones in the center part of the city.

The committee also asks the police department to undertake a safety campaign to educate pedestrians to cross the street only at intersections, particularly on Wellington Street North where traffic is constantly heavy. Jay-walking represents a danger for pedestrians as well as for drivers the report says.

The committee recommends parking be prohibited on the west side of Bowen Street South, on the corner of King Street, because parking on this particular section delays traffic, and futhermore, a parking lot already exists nearby. It also recommends parking be prohibited on the east side of First Avenue North, because parking there makes it difficult to enter the street.

Since the section of King Street East between Bowen Street and Alymer Bridge is very narrow and traffic is quite slow at rush hours, the committee suggests that parking be prohibited on both sides of King Street East in the above mentioned section from noon to 1.15 p.m. and from 4.45 p.m. to 5.15 p.m.

The committee also recommends improvments to be made in the center part of Sherbrooke. Because parking is presently prohibited on the west side of Big Forks Street South and parking is allowed there on Friday night thus creating a traffic problem, the committee proposes the abolition of parking in that area, up to the Hall Machinery plant.

The traffic committee points out that parking on the east side of Big Forks Street north upsets traffic and that the street had been built to relieve traffic along King Street. The committee advises that parking should be abolisned on the east side of Big Forks Street North from King Street to the Thibault Garage.

Parking on the west side of Belvedere Street South between King and Marquette Streets prevents traffic from going both ways the committee said.

Furthermore, a similar situation exists on the west side of Belvedere Street between Minto Street and the CPR viaduct. The committee suggests that parking be prohibited in that area.

Parking should be prohibited on both sides of Dufferin Street, from Frontenac Street up to Court Street, the committee says. The no-parking hours would be from noon to 1:15 p.m. from 4:45 to 5:15 p.m.

Upon the recommendation of the chief of police, the committee requests that there be no left turns on King Street East, going west to east, turning north on First avenue.

Prizes to be awarded

Giant rally is set for city cyclists

A giant safety rally will take place Thursday afternoon at Superior School in Sherbrooke for all youngsters who drive bicycles.

Sponsors of the rally are an English bicycle firm and Prudentia, a provincial government safety committee.

The bilingual rally is taking place in conjunction with the cyclo-touring school which is presently in session in Sherbrooke.

The school groups young cyclists to show them, by practical lessons, how they can reap the fullest advantage from this form of sport.

All those who attend the safety rally Thursday afternoon are eligible to win valuable bicycle accessories and all those who enter the rally and score 75 or more points out of a possible 100 are eligible to win a bicycle.

The first part of the rally, worth 25 points, is an inspection of the entrants' bicycles by experts to check the condition and safety of brakes, tires and other parts of the bicycle.

The second part of the test is a check of the drivers' riding posture, and is worth ten points.

Entrants then have to drive down a 90 foot-long corridor which is three feet wide and has three stops. Marks will be deducted for faculty or omitted hand signals.

Next in the rally is a slalom course worth ten points and once again signals are all-important.

The fifth step is going through an intersection with a traffic light and is worth 10 points. This is followed by a figure eight apparatus which is 28 feet in diameter, but only 18 inches wide. This, too, is worth 10 points.

The last practical part of the rally is a test of driving around a reverse L-shaped apparatus. Hand signals once again are very important. This is worth 15 points.

The final part of the rally is an oral test of safety procedures, for 10 points.

Departing sec.-treas. is honored

MAGOG — (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. Roger Boudreau were honoured at a dinner and reception at the New Magog Hotel Tuesday, prior to their departure from Magog for Seven Islands.

Mr. Boudreau served as Magog's secretary-treasurer for twelve and a half years. Both natives of Magog, they expressed their regrets on leaving the community.

Armand Gagne, pro-mayor, extended best wishes to the departing couple on behalf of the city, and a special citation, composed in honour of the Boudreaus by Germain Rivard, city engineer, was read by Dominique Beaulieu, public works supervisor. Mrs. Boudreau was presented with a large bouquet by seven-year-old Louise Lapointe, Mr. Boudreau was given a movie camera.

The reception and presentation that followed the dinner was organized under the direction of Arthur Charon.

LOMAS STREET EXIT NOW OPEN — The city's public works department employees Tuesday afternoon worked for over an hour to remove barriers which have blocked the Lomas Street exit of the Sherbrooke Shopping Centre for over a year. An appeal made by the city last October after a petition signed by officials of the Sherbrooke Shopping Centre resulted in a court judgment ordering the removal of the barriers, was turned down by the St. Francis District Superior Court recently. New farmland for Brome

EASTMAN — (Staff) — What was termed as "one of the biggest things ever to happen to Brome County" by Brome County Liberal Glen Brown is presently happening at Eastman.

The Quebec Public Works department and its minister, Rene Levesque, has authorized a $300,000 project that will lower the level of Silver Lake, Mr. Brown said Tuesday.

The project, which started about one month ago and will be completed in about two weeks consists of removing a natural barrage in the Missisquoi River leading from Silver Lake.

Eight feet of ledge is being removed from the River to lower the level of Silver Lake.

According to Mr. Brown, this project will not only uncover between 5,000 to 10,00 acres of farm land that was underwater but also eliminate the yearly spring flooding of the Town of Eastman.

Court orders Cowansville man to undergo a mental exam

SWEETSBURG — (Staff) — Seventy-nine year-old Ernest Robinson, of Williams Street, Cowansville was ordered to submit himself to a mental examination when he appeared before Judge Patrick Delaney here Tuesday.

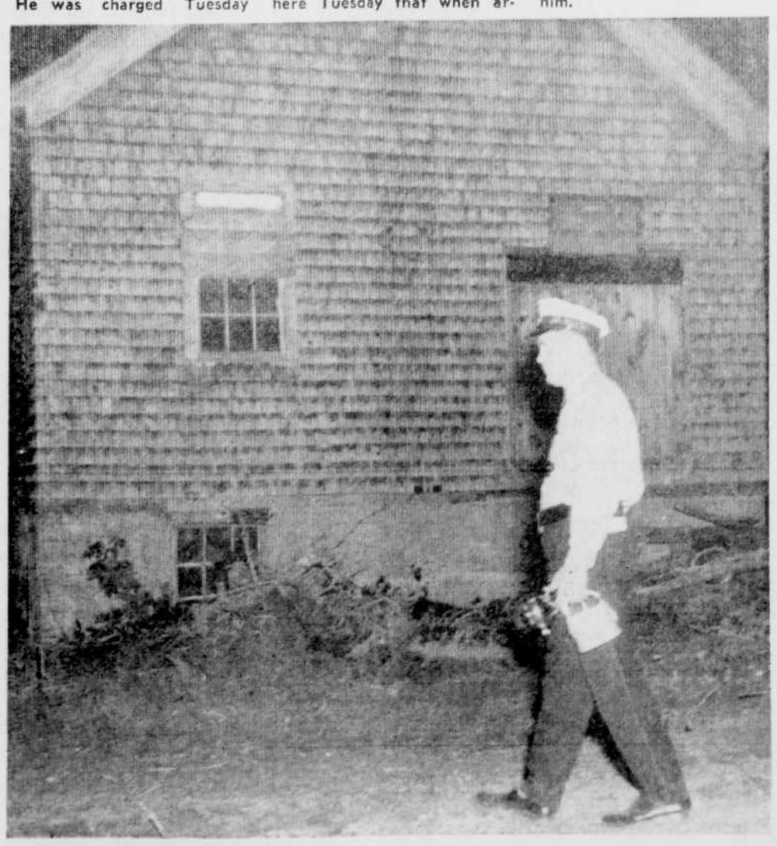
Robinson was arrested by Cowansville municipal police Sunday and taken to the Sweetsburg jail.

He was charged Tuesday with illegally possessing firearms, violence and pointing a gun at people.

Crown prosecutor Claude Noiseux explained to the court here Tuesday that Robinson had threatened to shoot Cowansville municipal employees after they went to serve expropriation papers on him.

Mr. Noiseux told the court here Tuesday that when arrested Sunday, Robinson had 21 firearms in his household together with 200 rounds of ammunition.

In addition to Mr. Noiseux's request that Robinson undergo a mental examination, Mr. Noiseux asked that Robinson be refused all bail until next Tuesday when he will once again appear to answer to all three charges against him.



POLICE PATROL — A member of the Cowansville municipal police force will patrol the property of 79 year-old Ernest Robinson on William Street until the man is released from jail. Robinson was arrested Sunday afternoon after he threatened to shoot anyone who set foot on his property. The Town expropriated Mr. Robinson's land so that work can be completed on the long overdue William Street bridge. Mr. Robinson had 21 firearms and 200 rounds of ammunition when arrested Sunday. Tuesday, he was ordered to submit himself to a mental examination when he appeared before Judge Patrick Delaney. (Record Photo by Studio Eclair)

To appear tomorrow

Criminal negligence charged in accident

A 25-year-old Sherbrooke man will appear in Sherbrooke Cuort of Sessions Thursday morning to face a charge of criminal negligence in connection with an accident which sent five persons to hospital last Saturday.

Guy Leo Castonguay, of 9th Avenue, had his bail set at $950 property or $500 cash by Sherbrooke Court Clerk Jean Marie Gregoire Tuesday.

Castonguay was charged with criminal negligence after the car he was driving struck a lamp post which was mounted on a cement centre band on King Street West near the Lowney plant.

Injured in the accident and taken to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital with multiple injuries were: Guy Leo Castonguay, Pierre Castonguay, 15, Rolande Castonguay, 20, Andre Piquette, 16, and Nicole Castonguay, 13.

Sherbrooke police said the Castonguays were returning home from a wedding reception at Danville when the accident occurred about 6 p.m.

Sherbrooke police said Castonguay's car struck the lamp post and overturned.

Jean-Marie Gregoire, Sherbrooke Court Clerk said the accused will appear before Judge Evender Veilleux at 10 a.m. tomorrow to answer the charge.

Bishopton, Marbleton to get dial

The dial telephone and the seven-figure telephone number will appear in Bishopton and Marbleton early next year, it has been announced by Paul W. Lesser, Bell Telephone Company manager of the region.

The contract for the new dial exchange building has been awarded to Williams Construction Limited, of Sherbrooke.

The new telephone numbers will consist of the first three numbers 884 for Bishopton and 887 for Marbleton, followed by four other figures. Thus a typical Bishopton telephone number might be 884-1234 while in Marbleton it might be 887-1234.

"This new telephone numbering system — called All Number Calling — is part of a program which is gradually being introduced throughout the Bell territories in Quebec and Ontario," said Mr. Lesser. "It also has the double advantage of offering more choice of exchange designations."

He also pointed out that All Number Calling (ANC) will eventually become necessary for all local or long distance telephone calling and talking of this he added that calls between Bishopton and Marbleton will continue to be free of long distance charges.

To take care of poor scholars

Outline rise of residential college

The impetus towards the creation of residential colleges as we know them today came not from the old universities themselves but rather it stemmed from one man and his attempt to take care of his scholarly kinsmen, Sherbrooke Rotarians were told Tuesday by Professor Sidney Taylor of Bishop's University.

In telling his tale of the rise of residental colleges in England, Dr. Taylor outlined the history of Walter de Merton, Bishop of Rochester in the troubled and turbulent 13th century.

De Merton was a favorite of the king, and thus a man of wealth and power while the king was absolute.

He set aside land and money to provide sustenance, at first, for eight of his kinsmen who were poor scholars all scholars were poor in those times—who wanted to further their studies at Oxford.

In the latter half of the 13th century, de Merton had no more public duties and so could devote more time to his poor scholarly kinsmen at Oxford.

During this time he drew up a code for his "scholars" which called for them to live together in one house and this was the real start of residential colleges in England.

The original house where they lived was the start of Oxford's famous Merton College.

Walter de Merton also persuaded his influential friends' to donate money and time to the cause of the fledgling colleges.

The function of Merton's students was threefold; learning, teaching, and providing new knowledge.

Accident wrecks family car

An accident last night on King Street West near the St. Elie road left the family car of Paul Lehoux of Welland, Ont., a "total loss"—but injured none of the seven in the family seriously.

Mrs. Lehoux and her two-month-old baby were taken to Hotel-Dieu Hospital for treatment for cuts and bruises, but later released.

The car turned over at 5:55 p.m. onto the shoulder of the road. No other vehicle was involved. It was at the Duclos Garage, to which it was towed, that the Lehoux car condition was reported as a "total loss."

Mr. Lehoux was driving, and other passengers were his daughters, Diane, 15, and Liliane, 11, and sons Richard, 13, and Jocelyn, 8.

Council should make the decision

Sherbrooke's Mayor Armand Nadeau made a classic buck-passing statement at city council meeting Monday night.

Discussing a proposal that cards be sent to all Sherbrooke citizens who pay water taxes to see whether they want a new filtration plant or a pipeline from Lake Memphremagog to replace the present outdated water system, he said doing things this way will protect city council because:

"If whatever they want proves to be an error in later years, we'll be able to admit we were wrong, but say the public voted for it."

Which is as slick a way of dodging the necessity of making a decision on a matter of public importance as we have heard in some time. It also provides a dangerous precedent. Is council going to decide all important matters in the future by polling the citizens to see what they want?

While carrying out the wishes of the electorate is one of the responsibilities of those elected to public office, there is a point where leadership should begin. In the matter of Sherbrooke's water, surely those concerned with the project are conversant enough with the needs of the city and the advantages and disadvantages of each project to make a decision. Surely, this is why they were elected in the first place, to take care of the city's needs in the best possible manner, without "protecting" themselves at every difficult turn.

And what about the people who are going to be called upon to make the decision for council? They will be, in the first place, only those who pay water taxes, according to Monday's night council meeting. This immediately excludes a vast number of people; the majority of all tenants who do not pay direct water taxes, but, who, nevertheless, are going to be directly affected by any decision on the matter. In a very real sense, the votes they cast for aldermen of their choice are being nullified in this particular case because an important decision is being taken out of the hands of duly elected representatives.

Then, too, few of those who are going to be consulted are in a position to judge the merits of the two suggested projects. They do not have at their disposal the reports and services of experts, which the aldermen do. They have not discussed various aspects of the problem for several years, as many of the aldermen have. They may not be motivated by the public welfare, as the aldermen should be.

It is council itself that should decide the merits of the two plans, and having done this, it should do everything in its power to ensure that the public is made fully aware of the reasons for its choice, and the desirability of following the line of action it advocates. Once having done this, it need not worry about whether or not residents approve. In the ordinary procedures of referendum and election, there are ample opportunities for electors to express their wishes.

Constant long arguments can easily shorten married life.

Cooperation as well as competition

While the historic voyage of the two latest Russian astronauts only serves to underline the intense race for power and prestige that is going on between the West and the countries of Communism, there is an aspect of international cooperation that has been all but lost sight of in the spectacular competition for space.

The International Geophysical Year brought home one aspect of this cooperation, but it is by no means the only example.

A number of other "international years" are under way, or scheduled. Among them:

- The International Indian Ocean Expedition will run from 1962 through 1965 and involve 25 nations and about 44 vessels.
- The International Year of the Quiet Sun will be held between April, 1964 and December, 1965. Observations made during this period of minimum sun spot activity will complement those made during the IGY, which was a time of maximum activity.
- Cooperation in meteorological research is going on at an increasing rate in an effort to understand more about the world's weather patterns.
- Space exploration continues to be the most spectacular area of international cooperation, and is being spurred by the United Nations.

This cooperation has come about not merely because of the obvious fact that it is physically one world. It is also because scientific knowledge has become so vast and complicated and all-embracing that no one nation has enough brains or wealth to go it alone.

Obviously, in science, there should be no nationalism or isolationism.

During vacation time we often wonder where the fish are taking theirs.

Other papers say:

Real austerity behind Iron Curtain

When the late William T. Tilden was tops in the tennis world he used to tell young players: "If you're hot and tired and wondering whether you can win, think about the fellow on the other side of the net. He may be in worse shape than you are."

This advice should be remembered by the pessimists who are always wailing about the diplomatic and economic blunders the West makes in the cold war against communism.

We've fumbled a lot, true enough, and we have some problems that are honeys. But if we look on the other side of the net we'll find that we're winning the game.

This should be no signal to relax; indeed it may very well be the time to press the advantage. But there is every indication that the brave new world which Russia's Khrushchev and China's Mao Tzetung have been promising their people has fallen flat on its face.

Mao's "great leap forward" which was to have put China in the front rank of industrial nations has, instead, brought her to the brink of starvation. It is a country of hunger and hard times.

The effort of trying to produce both food and machines for Mao's program has left millions of weary peasants disillusioned by the loss of their land. They have abandoned their livestock and refuse to work. On top of this there have been floods, droughts and insect plagues. Mao and his friends have their hands full.

So have the Kremlin gang. Soviet agriculture is faltering badly. Collective farming doesn't work well. Also the farmers haven't the machinery, manpower and fertilizer they need. Khrushchev needs men and money for more arms, space missiles and heavy industry.

The conflict with Red China grows more bitter and alarming and Khrushchev's distrust of Mao grows with it. And Mr. K. doesn't want to join with the U.S. in arms reduction because it will be an admission that the military threat to the Soviet Union — constantly harped on by Kremlin leaders—has either been greatly reduced or never existed.

We needn't be smug but neither should we be pessimistic.

Communism isn't "proving up" and that fact is becoming more evident every day to the people of the "new" nations who are making comparisons between communism and democracy.

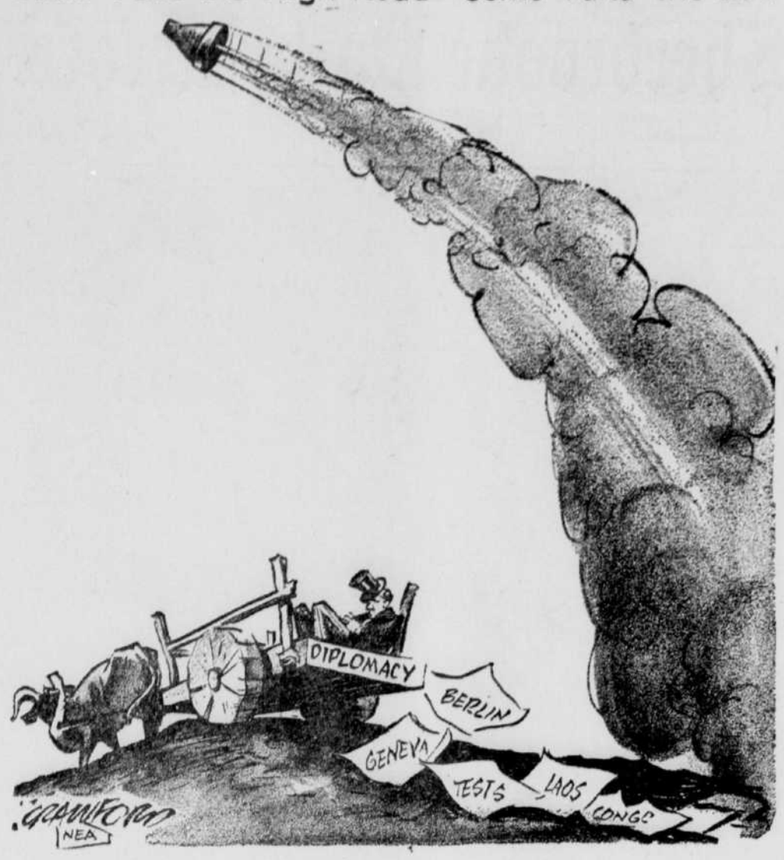
Some Take the High Road---Some Take the Low



75th anniversary marked this year

History of St. Paul's, Magog

By REV. R. A. MITCHELL
(St. Paul's United Church)

THIRD OF SIX ARTICLES

The Official Board (formerly the Quarterly Board) records for 1896 give the membership as 116, an increase of 57 over the past three years. It was in that year that the mortgage on the Church was discharged, and the congregation took "steps for Magog to be constituted a single independent circuit." (9) the first weekly record of offerings is dated from 1899, and Mr. W. H. Embury was the first recording Steward.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE TURN OF THE CENTURY

The big change, at the turn of the century, was the installation of electricity. At a Trustee meeting on November 9th, 1901, it was moved to insert the following vote of thanks in the Magog News and Enterprise. "The Trustees record their high appreciation of the valuable services gratuitously given in the wiring of the Church by Messrs. Thos. Osborne and R. Moffatt — and to all those who assisted in successfully and satisfactorily introducing the Electric light in the Church".

We are carried back, in our story, to the decision to sell the Parsonage. On September 12, 1905, the following was recorded: "The question of selling the parsonage on account of the extreme distance from the Church and the opportunity of buying the house and lot owned by the late J. W. Moore being offered and the scheme having been discussed during the past few days by the members etc. of said Church as well as by the board who are all of the unanimous opinion that the move would be of great advantage to the Church, C. C. Manning moved that our present parsonage be sold to the Rev. D. Brill for the sum of one thousand dollars on such terms as may be agreed upon by this board and the said David Brill provided this board purchases the Moore property, otherwise this resolution shall be null and void, seconded by James MacFarlane and carried unanimously.

"Moved by A. I. Turner, seconded by C. C Manning that the Rev. D. D. Elliott, chairman of this board and E. E. Smith secretary treasurer, be and are hereby authorised to buy the John D. Moore house and lot for the sum of $2,000 and arrange for payment for same in the best possible manner and to receive the sum of $200 or more from the Rev. David Brill as part payment for the old parsonage and to apply the same on the Moore property. Carried unanimously."

The authority of the Conference was eventually secured and these transactions were completed by October 31, 1905.

One of the briefest meetings to be recorded was the following: Magog Que, Oct. 24, 1905.

A meeting of the Trustee Board of this Methodist Church was held in the basement on the above date at 8 p.m. Present: Rev. D. D. Elliott chairman, C. C. Manning, W. H. Embury, N. Cachelder, E. D. Smith.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

"Moved, by W. H. Embury and seconded by N. Bachelor that we do now adjourn.

In the year 1907 "the lot adjoining the parsonage was purchased from the Executors of the John Moore Estate for the sum of $250." And a few months later Rev. S. F. Newton was paid for a desk he had purchased in Montreal while a clock for the Church was bought of E. D. Smith.

In 1910 the "town" water was installed in the parsonage. In this same year C. C. Manning died and "The first committee on temperance consisted of Dr. E. J. Adams, A. E. Smith and Mrs. McKenna."

The records are sketchy in the years just before World War I. There is mention of a parsonage fence, of gates at the Church being locked, of repairing the shed roof back of the church at a cost that was too high. Then on November 1, 1913, "the telephone was put in parsonage for one year and the Board pay "$10. being ½ amount charged per year".

A PIPE ORGAN

There was dissatisfaction with the musical instrument in the Church and at a meeting held in November 1913, it was decided to appoint a committee to see about the matter and to have the organ examined by a competent man. The committee consisted of Dr. West, W. H. Embury, R. R. Merrill, N. Bachelder, J. Osborne and J. I. Turner.

The committee evidently brought in an interesting report for it was soon decided to add an extension to the Church "to accommodate the Sabbath school children, and to house a new pipe organ. Another committee was appointed for this purpose, presumably because an interval of four years had elapsed, and it consisted of Rev. S. W. Boyd, H. D. Roberts, E. Donald, Dr. West, F. E. Bullard and J. W. Massey. This group was to arrange for specifications of a new pipe organ and also the means to be adopted to raise the money to defray the cost. The organ was in use before October 28, 1919 and the cost appears to have been $2350.00.

The minutes of the Ladies Aid carry us back to September 1914. They show that the ladies were busy with meetings, teas, sales, plays (dramas) and suppers. The annual December sale, which is still continued, goes back to one recorded for December 7, 1916; but it may extend farther than that. Some of the money raised by the ladies went to the building extension fund, and some to the organ fund.

It was in May 1917 that reports of church organizations were presented to the Official Board for the first time, and in August of that year 12 husband and wife teams were elected as visitors (of the congregation).

The following minutes give us a glimpse of life in the Aid in those years: "an 'Ice Cream Social' was given by Mrs. Grayson Turner at her home in 'Cherry River'. The evening proved to be quite cold, but a beautiful supper was served indoors and a social evening was enjoyed by good company - - -."

For some curious reason there are no records of the Official Board from 1923 until 1926, nor of the Trustees from 1919 until 1929. There is a note, however, to the effect that the congregation adopted the use of the Duplex envelope system in October 1919.

Inside Russia

USSR wasteland of suspicion

Felix R. McKnight, vice-president and executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, is one of 12 U.S. editors who recently went on a 23-day tour of the Soviet Union. Following is a condensation of a series of articles he wrote on his findings.

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Executive Editor
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion—simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view Americans as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what "they" want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Only a few hours after one group of editors left an old DC-3 type plane in the central Asian area of Samarkand, clutching rosary beads and saying prayers because of a misbehaving right engine, it fell in the wilderness near Tashkent.

Sixteen were killed — one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the U.S. embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Telstar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needled about joining the Soviets in "atoms for peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the midnight knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able—and determined. He stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean he will abandon the pressures that have kept the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there—world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach American levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us.

Richmond council

Whistle-blowing is protested; police ask for pay increases

By MAURICE MALICK
(Record Correspondent)

RICHMOND — Alderman Raymond Lafrance was named pro-mayor for the next three months, it was announced at the August meeting of Town Council presided over by Mayor Marcel Roy.

Several items were brought up and council held two meetings to clear up the agenda.

One of the main items was a complaint from a Main Street proprietor regarding blowing of warning whistles by trains as they come to the various crossings. He wanted the town to write the Transport Board to have a curb on the unnecessary blowing of whistles at the crossings. It was noted that in some towns, trains do not use their whistles at crossings. Council voted to have inquiries made to the Transport Board regarding this.

Alderman L. P. Labrosse of the Police Committee will report at the September meeting on demands made by the local constabulary for salary increases.

Council will study requests made by the local majorette corps and OTJ regarding a grant for each group. Alderman Lucien Cormier, chairman of the Youth Committee said he will give a definite answer at the next meeting of council. The financial statement of the two groups was read by council. Representing them were Claude Smith, president of the Corps and Dr. R. Bernier, treasurer of the OTJ.

The following property changes were approved by council: Rattray Estate to Gerard Chady; Judge Gaston Desmarais to George Savoie; Stein Taylor to Mrs. Kathleen Taylor; A. T. Smith and A. Lemire sold part of a lot to Jean Beland.

Sales tax for month of May netted $3,059.55.

Council has asked the secretary to make inquiries regarding cost of installing overhead traffic lights or blinker at an intersection. This was brought up because traffic at the corner of Adam and Main is still congested and the blinker would help slow it down especially during the noon and supper hours and on Friday nights when there is heavy traffic.

Council proposed that the secretary be authorized to hire a contractor for the installation of a water regulator at the H. H. Brown Shoe Company.

A demand made by the Richmond and Melbourne Board of Trade for improving the section between the MacKenzie Bridge and Newell's Warehouse at the south entrance of Main Street resulted in the formation of a board to study this project.

Alderman Lucien Cormier was named chairman of the committee which includes Andre Gregoire, NP; Stanley Bushey and Gilles Marcotte. They will meet with G. F. Roberts, General Manager, CNR, Champlain Section who will give them necessary information to help them in the project and what the CNR can do in this respect. This section of road leading into Richmond from Windsor has been found to be narrow at points.

Building permits were issued to the following: Jacque Tremblay; George Henri Poulin; Jean Beland; Claude Brouillette and Leo Lapre.

Council decided that in future, the SCP will have to get permission from the town engineer to install posts. A letter to that effect has been sent to Southern Canada Power authorities here.

Council has approved payment of bills amounting to $3,979.87.

On recommendation of the town engineer, council has hired a firm to take aerial photos of the town to help in the future development of the town.

Six injured as yacht explodes

PORTOFINO, Italy (AP) — A Spanish yacht on a cruise with 10 passengers and a crew of eight was ripped by a violent engine room explosion Monday night at the entrance to this crowded Riviera port.

Six persons, including a woman and a staff member of the Spanish embassy in Paris, were injured in the blast. Two were knocked from the vessel into the sea.

Authorities said a gas leak apparently caused the below-decks blast on the 151-ton Bhar Mingui.

Mrs. Butters concluded, "With your support, we are confident that the public and corporations will respond generously to the cry of our helpless little ones, and those who will follow them."

Bedouins return to old haunts

SETIF, Algeria Reuters — Thousands of Bedouin nomads were returning from the Sahara desert Monday to graze their herds on the high plateau area near Setif for the first summer since the start of theJ Algerian war nearly eight years ago.

The plateau-the petite Kabylie—is coastal area of flat uplands and almost impenetrable mountains in eastern Algeria that the French army never could subdue during the Moslem insurrection that ended last March.

The area was put under a ban during the war and the inhabitants, including entire villages, were evacuated by the French. The villages were then destroyed to prevent their being used by the insurgent army.

Roads were closed and French aircraft fired on anyone seen below.

Today, normal life is resuming in the area, with hundreds of black camel-skin Bedouin tents dotting the rolling countryside. Goats and sheep graze on the stubble of the grain fields. Children clean the fields for ears of grain.

Obituary

MRS. CLOVIS BUZZELL, OF SHERBROOKE

The sudden death of Mrs. Clovis Buzzell occurred at Ferry Beach, Saco, Maine, on July 21, at the age of 60 years.

The former Irene Lanahan, was born in Magog and attended the Sacred Heart Convent there, after which she studied singing, piano and violin at McGill Conservatory in Montreal for four years.

During her stay in Montreal, she took up dramatic art at LaSalle Conservatory. In her youth she was a member of the St. Cecile Dramatic Circle. Later, Mrs. Buzzell taught music in Magog for many years and was a member of the Lanahan Orchestra under the leadership of her father.

Mrs. Buzzell had lived in Sherbrooke since 1934 and was a member of St. Patrick's Church and the Catholic Women's League.

Mrs. Buzzell leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, two daughters, Mrs. R. S. Catta (Jocelyne), of Montreal, and Miss Gilliane Buzzell, Sherbrooke, a son, Peter Richard Buzzell, and a sister, Miss Laurence Lanahan, of Jacksonville, Fla.

After arrival of the body from Saco, the remains rested at Brien's Funeral Parlor on Ball Street, from where the cortege left for Requiem Mass at St. Patrick's Church, Sherbrooke. Interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Magog.

Says important records burned

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. government auditor testified Tuesday somebody burned records on huge stockpile profits of a nickel company once headed by former treasury secretary George M. Humphrey.

A company official denied the firm destroyed any records "that should properly have been kept." Humphrey himself reserved comment until Thursday, when he is to testify at the Senate stockpile inquiry.

Walter H. Henson, a general accounting office auditor, told investigating senators about the missing records.

He also said M. A. Hanna Company understated its income taxes and "artificially increased" operating costs during 1957 to boost the government price for finished nickel.

Henson advised the senators to "go to the top" and ask Humphrey and his son, Gilbert W. Humphrey, about the missing documents.

"HEAVENLY" TWINS

that man can withstand the rigors of space travel with its accompanying weightlessness at least for a trip to the moon and back. Such a trip is expected to take at least three days, with the first two days devoted to launching spaceships into orbit and joining them into a single craft for the final lunar voyage.

Titov had raised doubts about man's ability to withstand a prolonged space journey by complaining of a kind of seasickness during weightlessness. There has been no report that either Nikolayev or Popovich suffered such a sensation. All Soviet announcements reported them in good health throughout the flights.

Alexander Topchiev, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, confirmed that the two cosmonauts had manoeuvred their ships in relation with one another. He said the flight took a "first big step" toward solving the problem of controlling spaceships in flight, co-ordinating their positions and carrying on radio communications between vehicles.

In Memoriam

PATRICK — In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Ira R. Patrick, who passed away August 15th, 1961.

You are always in our thoughts
Though your voice we cannot hear.
Yet you seem to walk beside us
Never absent, always near.
Ever remembered and sadly missed.

KATHLEEN AND FAMILY.

Card of Thanks

BUZZELL—Mr. Clovis Buzzell and family wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the many friends and relatives, for their kindness and assistance during their recent bereavement.

HEATH — I wish to express my sincere thanks, to all those visited me, sent cards and letters and who helped me in any way. A special thank-you to Dr. Scott and also, the intern and nurses on the 4th. floor, which made it so pleasant for me, while I was in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

This will always be remembered.

MRS. RAYMOND HEATH.

FULLER — I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to my relatives and friends who visited me, sent cards, gifts, flowers, or helped in any way while I was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital and since my return home. Special thanks to Dr. Cooper, Dr. McLeod, Dr. Hicks and staff on second floor.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

U.S. TEAM GAINS POINT

American recovered one IMP on hand number three. Bobby Nail arrived at four spades after the very normal bidding shown in the box.

South opened a trump and Bobby was allowed to win the trick with his seven. He cashed the king and ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy. The next play was the king of trumps. North took his ace and led a heart.

Bobby went right up with the ace of hearts and ran off all his trumps. On the last trump lead South found himself caught in a squeeze. He had to chuck a club in order to hang on to the king of hearts. Bobby threw away dummy's queen and made the last four tricks with the club suit.

At the other table West arrived at the slightly inferior contract of three no-trump. There was no way for North and South to keep him from making 11 tricks, but there also was no way for him to make 12 and America picked up 20 points, or one IMP.

Incidentally, because Italy uses an artificial club bid West opened with one heart, East responded two clubs, West raised to three and then East bid three spades. This series of bids by East showed both a good hand and a five card spade suit, so it seems that West should have gone to four spades rather than three no-trump, but possibly West was afraid that his partner would become slam - minded. He shouldn't have feared it so much. While the spade slam would not be the sort of bid for a steady diet it is right there the way the cards lie.

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 Dmd.	Pass	1 Heart	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

Spades A-Q-4, Hearts K-Q-7-6, Diamonds 3-2, Clubs J-9-7-6.

What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. You have 12 high card points and no five card suit. Your partner has 18 or 19 points so there cannot be a good play for a slam.

Again you have responded one heart to your partner's opening diamond bid and again he has jumped to two no-trump. What do you do holding:

Spades A-Q-4, Hearts K-Q-7-6, Diamonds J-9-7-6, Clubs 3-2.

For and about Women

Heath, LeRoux nuptials

The marriage of Irena Joyce only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew LeRoux of Tingwick, to George Clifton Heath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Heath, Danville took place on July 25, 1962 in St. Augustine's Anglican Church, Danville, Rev. N. Tucker officiating. The wedding music was played by Miss Mildred McNeill and Mr. and Mrs. Wiliam Broscomb and Mr. Anthony Broscomb sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. The church was decorated with summer flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore an off white linen suit with ice blue flowered hat and white accessories and carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations. Her only ornament being a pearl necklace.

Mrs. Herman Risch, of Summerville, Ont., cousin of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a blue linen suit with white accessories and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Little Miss Laurie Jean LeRoux, niece of the bride as flower girl wore a blue nylon embroidered dress with white accessories and carried a basket of pink carnations.

Mr. Albert Gillim, acted as best man and the usher was Mr. Gary LeRoux, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a blue flowered sheath dress of organza over cotton, with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. G. Heath, mother of the groom, wore a two piece sheath dress of summer crepe with write accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony the couple left by motor for Kingston, Ont., the New England States and Old Orchard Beach, Me.

Upon their return, a reception was held at Mar - lodge, Danville. Out of town guests were from Brancroft, Summerville, Ont., Cap-de-la-Madelaine, Montreal, Sherbrooke, St. Lambert, Waterville, Richmond, South Durham and Asbestos.

Time to Check

Now is the time to check your wardrobe, and to ready your garments for fall wear.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE CLIFTON HEATH

Joyce Aldrich weds Wayne Chartier

BROMPTON — Christ Church, Brompton was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday afternoon, July 21, at two o'clock, when Joyce Faye Aldrich, daughter of Mrs. Eileen Aldrich and the late Ernest Aldrich, of Greenlay, became the bride of Mr. Wayne Lloyd Chartier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chartier of Richmond Road. Rev. J. D. Franklin officiated, assisted by Mr. Eustis. The organist was Miss Doreen Robinson. The church was decorated with baskets of white and yellow daisies and pink and red roses with lilies arranged on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Dan Aldrich, wore a gown of white nylon chiffon over taffeta with a peplum of nylon lace, a bodice of laced chiffon and long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her shoulder length veil of tulle was held in place by nylon petals. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Dan Aldrich, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a street length dress of nylon, turquoise with a small white hat of veiling and carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies.

Mr. Glen Chartier, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Mr. Denis Robinson and Mr. Harold Bean.

The bride's mother wore a royal blue rayon and nylon lace dress over taffeta, with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a blue acetate dress with a white stole and white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Oddfellow's Hall in Windsor.

Out of town guests were from Moncton, N.B., Montreal, Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships.

The couple will reside in Windsor.

Fashion Tips

Fur Preview

When you shop for a winter coat this fall, have a good look at the fur-trimmed and fur-lined fashions. They will be strong for winter.

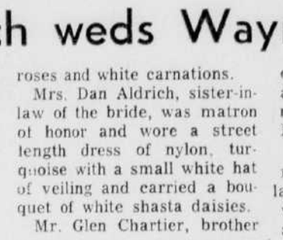
Toe Tip

With the crescent and oval toes due to replace the pointed toe for fall and winter, it's time to get through your shoes with pointy toes fast as possible.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Merriman Mayhew, Dixville, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Cynthia Janet to Derek Richard O'Brien of Montreal, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Brien, Traymore, Ireland. The wedding will take place in Montreal on September 15, 1962.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS



It is accepted practice for the bride to exchange duplicates of gifts.

Women's Institute members entertained in Milby

Members of the Belvidere and Lennoxville branches of the Women's Institutes were guests of the Milby Institute at their August meeting held on Thursday.

A profusion of garden flowers decorated the Milby club room and the damask covered tables were centred with crystal bowls of multicolored pansies.

The branch president, Mrs. Bertrand Turner, welcomed the branch visitors, also expressing pleasure that a former member and past president of Milby W.I., Mrs. Hubert Allison, presently of Grimsby Beach, Ont., was a guest, and Mrs. Frank Tarte, of Ottawa, formerly a member of the Belvidere branch was present.

The meeting opened in the usual manner and in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Stewart Cairns, Mrs. William Evans acted as secretary pro tem.

CONVENERS REPORTS

Agriculture: Mrs. Evans brought to attention that this is the time of the year to move dormant or semi-dormant perennials, such as iris and oriental poppies and several others, also the beneficial effect of dividing the roots at this time. The care of roses was briefly dealt with.

Citizenship: Mrs. Archie Fairbrother, read excerpts from a recent editorial on "Must Canadians speak English" which certainly gave food for thought.

Education: Mrs. Robert Suitor, circulated and read portions from the Report of the Royal Commission on Education, presented by the Quebec Farmers' Association.

Home Economics: Mrs. Eugene Naylor Jr., read a helpful article on the preservation of cut flowers.

Mrs. Johnston Beattie, reported on the successful sewing day held recently in the club room.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Roy Suitor, showed the funds to be satisfactory.

A discussion of the proposed demolition of the Milby covered bridge, brought a storm of protests from many. It was decided that a letter be sent to proper authorities urgently requesting that the very good old covered bridge be left as it is for historical purposes and rural ornamentation. Many tourists stop to admire and take pictures of this picturesque bridge. Moreover it has years of further use and convenience to the community.

Several members volunteered to serve in the W.I. booth at the Sherbrooke Fair.

Mrs. Allison gave a talk on the Ontario Women's Institutes, pointing out that although fundamentally the same in its aim, there were some variations in prodecure. An English pen pal of the Grimsby Beach branch had spent two weeks with them, observing at different meetings. Mrs. Allison mentioned the great interest and enthusiasm shown by the large membership.

A quiz on W.I. work was held, with Mrs. Wilson Beattie winning first prize and Mrs. Fred Green the consolation prize. The floating prize was won by Miss Beaton.

Tea was served under the convenership of Mrs. Robert Suitor, assisted by her committee.

Mrs. Hugh Wallace, president of the Lennoxville branch and Mrs. Charles Drummond, president of the Belvidere branch voiced their thanks for a pleasant and enjoyable meeting with the Milby group.

Aids work of auxiliary

HOSPITALITY SHOP CART — This is the cart which is used to wheel around the Sherbrooke Hospital wards. Patients are able to purchase magazines, chocolates, candies, writing paper and toilet requisites from the volunteer workers of the Sherbrooke Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary. Proceeds from the sale of these articles help the work of the auxiliary. Mrs. R. Gittel on the left, volunteer worker, looks over the magazines, while Mrs. A. J. Morrison, convener of the Hospitality Shop, standing on the right, chats with Mrs. J. D. F. Anido, volunteer worker, as she sorts over the chocolates and candy. One of the main money raising projects of the auxiliary is the House and Garden Tour, which is to take place Wednesday, September, 12. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Today's recipe

An expertly seasoned sauce can enhance a food and often make it a gourmet's delight. This is especially true when the food is fish. Put together a smooth curry sauce and some fine Canadian canned salmon, serve over fluffy hot rice, and you have an unqualified mealtime success, in this country as well as in the Orient. The home economists of Canada's Department of Fisheries have developed the following recipe for a delicious Creamy Salmon Curry. Though quick to make, the blend of flavours is superb.

CREAMY SALMON CURRY

1 can (7¾ ounces) salmon, 2 tablespoons butter or other fat 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon curry powder, ½ teaspoon sugar, ⅛ teaspoon ground ginger, 2 tablespoons minced onion ¼ tablespoon salt, ½ cup liquid (salmon liquid plus milk), ½ cup light cream, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 cups cooked rice.

Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Break salmon into bite-size chunks. Heat butter; blend in flour, curry powder, sugar, ginger, minced onion, and salt. Slowly add mixed salmon liquid and milk, followed by cream. Cook and stir over low heat until sauce is smooth and thickened. Do not allow sauce to boil. Add salmon and lemon rind; heat. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 servings.

Plastic flowers become rage

The recipe for making plastic flowers is simple. You start with polythene a product of the petroleum industry - then equal quantities of color awareness, nimble fingers and stamina. The Canadian chemical industry is supplying the polythene, but the Chinese people of Hong Kong are supplying the other three ingredients. For in that faraway country the ancient and leisurely art of flower arranging has given way to flower making using modern production line techniques.

Polythene resin is shipped in granular form from Canada to this British crown colony. After arrival, the granules are tumble blended with pigments to give them color; then put into an injection moulding machine where heat and pressure reduce the mixture to a pliable plastic and force it into a hollow steel die. After a brief cooling period the die is opened and the moulded part removed. These parts, in the shape of petals, leaves and stems, are then assembled by hand. That's why quick, sure fingers are necessary.

The blossoms are put together first - petal by petal - and then the centre of the flower is applied which provides the tension to hold the petals upright. They are then added to the stem, along with the leaves, and the complete flower is packed for shipping. Some flowers take longer than others; a hyacinth for instance may have up to 180 parts! It's easy to understand why labor costs for such painstaking work would be too high in this country.

Physical agility is important too. Some moulding machines are hand operated. If so, the injection cylinder is operated by a long lever which is worked by a coolie leaping into the air andi pulling down on it. He holds it down during the cooling cycle . . . then lets it go. These coolies are aptly called "jumpers".

Actually, flower making has been an occupation of the Orient for centuries, and in the beginning paper and cloth were the materials used. But the market for these products was limited because of their perishable nature. There were no signs of it becoming big business until 5 years ago when they first started to make moulded flowers, using polythene. Because of the texture and life-like appearance of the moulded flowers and plants, they were an immediate success. Markets for them opened up throughout the world, because they were easy to pack and ship. Today more than 400 companies are making flowers in Hong Kong, employing many thousands of people.

What's ahead for this novel industry? Well, from lessons learned while producing household and industrial decorative plants, the industry is starting to "branch" out. Production has started on Christmas trees. But instead of assembling the boughs at the time they are moulded, the tree is assembled after it reaches its destination. The growing popularity of plastic trees is good news for the fire insurance companies too!

While the natural habitat for artificial flowers and foilage is usually the living room or hotel lobby . . . a change is in prospect. Nature is not always friendly to growing things, so the market for plastic plants for outdoor use is increasing. Brilliant red geraniums - so real looking you have to make sure - can pep up a fading window-box . . . or hedges of plastic barberry that never need trimming and can be washed down with a hose.

And so the story goes . . . . . little grains of Canadian polythene travel halfway around the world to be converted into delicate yet durable blossoms by fleet-fingered orientals. A striking example of the diligence of the Chinese people and the versatility of Canadian polythene.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Foresight will keep wood from splitting

DEAR POLLY — Why confine your hints to the girls? I am a husband who likes to tinker around the house and I have a tip for the boys. Before using screws soap them. They go in easier and won't split the wood.

MR. HOME FIXER

Welcome to the column, boys, we are glad to have you.

POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Those transparent plastic bags that clothes are in when they come home from the dry cleaner are much better for packing than tissue paper. I cut pieces, through both thicknesses, the size of the suitcase, and place them between the clothes which go places almost free of wrinkles. A bit of air seems to stay between the plastic which helps. Keep these pieces stored in the suitcase and they are ready to go when you are.

MRS. J. D. L.

DEAR POLLY — I tried to make some glass fiber curtains. The "No ironing necessary" angle appealed to me since my ironing basket is always overflowing. The first pair I made were a mess as the hems puckered. A neighbor came to my rescue by telling me to use a new, sharp needle, make longer stitches than usual and loosen the thread tension on the machine. That turned the trick and even the first pair looks good since I remade them.

SARAH CAMP

DEAR POLLY — To remove the crush marks that chair and table legs make on a carpet, cover the spot with a damp cloth. Press lightly with a warm iron and then fluff up the pile with a stiff brush or comb.

MRS. J. L.

DEAR POLLY — Those rusty sewing needles become sharp and smooth as new after they have been punched in and out of a cake of soap a few times.

P. D.

DEAR POLLY — I have read a lot of ideas for cooking rice so the grains stay white and fluffy. None of them are as easy as my method which is to simply add one teaspoon lemon juice to each quart of water used for cooking the rice.

Roast Corn

An accompaniment to the mealtime masterpiece of steak and salad, "Roast TableFresh Corn would be a real delight.

Select corn with long stem ends. (They'll make handling and turning easier.)

Loosen husks just enough to remove silks and blemishes. You be the judge of quantity.

Dip ears in a deep pail of water. Shake well. Re-wrap husks around corn. Plunge in water again and let stand until husks are well-soaked. Place on grill over hot coals. Allow stem ends to extend beyond end of grill. Roast turning often until tender, about 15 minutes. Husk and serve with plenty of butter.

Training camp was once a federal park

WAINWRIGHT, Alta. (CP) — Camp Wainwright, Canada's second largest military training area, was once a federal park and game preserve.

The camp, 134 miles southeast of Edmonton, covers 51,323 acres, a little more than 236 square miles.

Part of what now is the military camp was set aside in 1909 by the federal government as a preserve.

The Canadian Army became interested in the property in 1941 and negotiations resulted in the park being leased from the Alberta government as a training area.

In 1943 and 1944 the camp was occupied by men of the 6th Canadian Infantry Division from Pacific Command.

In December 1944 it was ordered that the camp be used as a prisoner - of - war internment camp. In May of 1945 the first prisoners arrived and eventually 1,300 prisoners were concentrated in the camp.

The prisoners were moved out in 1946 and the camp was vacated except for a small maintenance crew.

From 1946 to 1950 it was used for reserve force training during the summer and for exercises of the regular army during the winter.

In 1951, due to the Korean war and the recruiting for the NATO brigade, regular troops were concentrated and trained in the camp.

The main function of the camp today is to provide facilities for units in Western Command to carry out field training.

Rev. Norman and Mrs. Hillyer, have arrived from Hamilton for an extended visit with Mrs. Hillyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas.

Mrs. Paul Cira from Alexandria, Maryland, was a recent visitor at her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Shore.

Mr. Leslie Shore from Kenogami, is on two weeks' vacation here at his home. Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Shore were, Mr. and Mrs. John Hand and Stephen of Longueuil; Mr. and Mrs. R. Kerr of Lachine.

Friends of Miss Gibson will be sorry to hear she is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Boucher and Mr. W. Frame of Montreal, are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McShane for a few days.

The U.C.W. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Cedric Dougall with an excellent attendance. Tentative plans were made for a ninetieth anniversary service for the Brigham United Church, to be held probably the third Sunday in September. After the close of the meeting, tea was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Sherrer.

PLANNED AREA

The planned "garden city" of Letchworth in Hertfordshire, England, was laid out as an industrial town in 1903.

School is just around the corner

Drivers take care! school is opening

It's September — back - to-school time!

If you're anything like most parents, the day Johnny and Mary dust off their books and go off to school is both pleasant and worrisome.

Like any parent, you're concerned about your children's welfare. You've probably heard back-to-school time is hazardous for children, though you may not know just exactly why.

Well, it is a dangerous time for several reasons — more children converging on one place (the school), more groups of children (who knows what kids in a group will do), and more children on their own for the first time in their lives.

Just exactly how dangerous is back - to -school time?

According to the National Safety Council, accidents are the leading cause of death to the nation's more than 30 million school-age children.

In recent years, about 1 out of 17 students injured accidentally has been on his way to or from school. More than 6,000 children 5 to 14 years of age are killed annually by motor vehicles.

Another reason parents are wary this time of year is because Johnny and Mary, giddy over going back to school and being with friends all day long again may have an urge to play in such dangerous places as dumps and open pits, or near railroad tracks.

What can parents do to make sure their children stay safe at back - to - school time, as well as the rest of the year?

"Make sure your children have been taught to do things the safe way", the National Safety Council advises. "If you've taught your children to live safely — to stop, look and listen before crossing the street, not to play in unsafe places, to keep to the right side of the road on bikes — then there's little to worry about!

"The parent who hasn't taught the child these safety rules is the one who should worry when the child's away from home".

And if you drive a car during back - to- school time — or any time, for that matter — here's a suggestion to the motorist from the Council:

"Keep your tires and brakes in good condition so you can stop in time, slow down on city streets and near schools, and be careful near groups of children. Expect the unexpected."

Health check-up is essential before school starts again

Good health is an important adjunct to good scholarship. Eyesight, hearing and teeth should be carefully checked before any student starts off to school after the vacation period.

A complete physical checkup to see that a child is healthy is a pre school requisite. A child with any acute or chronic disorder can not be expected to adjust to normal school conditions. A child who cannot see the blackboard or hear his teacher or fellow students, may develop poor habits which will make him a poor student.

Don't forget the child's teeth. Plan an early visit to the dentist; have needed dental work done well ahead of school opening.

Be sure that the youngster has all essential preventative vaccine shots. Check with the doctor on what's new and necessary.

Plan appointments for each of the children in the family well in advance of school opening. Be sure ample time is available for proper care and treatment of physical and emotional problems.

Don't overlook securing professional help for the child who sucks his thumb, wets his bed, or dawdles over food and chores. Some of these problems are emotional, others have a physical origin.

A thorough examination will check how normal are the child's eyes, ears, throat, sinuses, tonsils, heart and other organs. Healthy feet and good posture are important, too — for all of these are important to a child's well-being.

Children's fashions stolen from adults'

Talk about couture adaptations!

You've seen nothing until you've seen children's wear for back to school.

All the greats are represented. Norell, Balenciaga, Chanel, Bohan, St. Laurent have been unabashedly copied down to the very smallest sizes. Even when clothes are not out-and-out steals from a specific designer creation, they still reflect a definite awareness of current grown-up couture, according to reports of Women's Wear Daily fashion editors.

Norell's swirl-skirt, bow-blouse, little-jacket outfit is literally everywhere. The dress makers do it in everyday or dress-up fabrics, with or without wide belts, with flared or unpressed-pleat skirts, with floppy-or-tailored-bow blouses, with cut-away or squared-off jackets.

Sportswear makers have Norell-isms too. Flared skirts, blouses with pussy-cat bows, bolero jackets are new staples in many coordinate lines.

MATCHBOX ADDS ZEST TO COAT LINES

The matchbox has sparked children's coat lines to a new fashion height. In what is for them a drastic deviation from the tried-and-true formula, coat makers have adapted the squared-off, welt-seamed shape to both sporty and party styles.

Sportswear and dress lines, shapes, slim A-lines, fewer collars, pleats and froufrou are features of this strictly simple trend. Shifts, spare jackets, set-in sleeves, and princess curves are everywhere in dress and sportswear lines.

From out of the blue came the jumpsuit, possibly inspired by U.S. astronauts in outer space. Whatever their origins, these delightful all-in-ones are a practical way to play on earth. Stretch fabrics are too, take off with the matchbox skirt, combining high fashion with at least as much freedom and comfort as any other skirt shape allows.

The Paris pea coat is another item picked up by both coat and sportswear makers for translation to children's sizes. In smaller doses, suits with braided cardigan jackets look very Chanel, says Women's Wear Daily. Jumpers, suits and an occasional dress bear the widened midriff signature of Balenciaga.

WESTERN LOOK TAKES OVER

Out of the West and into Seventh Avenue come cowboy clothes, which really hit their stride as children's wear. The look is rugged, relaxed and far-reaching. There are hip-slung pants, sherriffs' vests, wrap-around skirts, cowboy-scarfs and frontier shirts. Suspenders, saddle stitching, brassy brads, metal and leather buckles are trimmings. Women's Wear Daily notes that rugged fabrics figure importantly in the Western look, along with calico and patchwork prints.

Another dominant theme, both in big and little fashion, is the spare look. Slimmer big here, but a surprising number of suede cloth and jersey styles team with ruffly dress-up blouses.

All this is not to say that basic bodies don't go on and on and on — in every category. Dress lines are burgeoning with border prints and tartan styles. Sportswear lines are still full of watch plaid cropped tops, hip-stitched box-pleated skirts. Chesterfield and boy coats keep coming back in more colors and fabrics than ever.

BROWN HEADS COLOR LIST

Be they basic or big-fashion news, back-to-school clothes all conform to a classic color scheme. Brown, from beige to deep-dark, is undisputed winner, and camel-and-gray combinations are big in sportswear and dress categories. Many muted colors looked good early in the season, but by this time vibrant reds, blues and greens have been added to brighten lines.

Fabrics, too, are subtle, and many have a flat, smooth surface, Women's Wear Daily points out. Melton is the big news in coats; non-textured wool knits and wovens are strong in sportswear lines. Woven cotton knits are of major importance. Denim, ticking and calico are part of the Western kick in both categories.

Tall furry hats are headliners for fall. Most are solid color pile; some are real curly lamb or lynx. Many gloves and bags are trimmed to match.

VALE PERKINS —

Mr. Theodore Berkenkemper of Dusseldorf, Germany arrived at Dorval after a 10-hour flight. He is spending an indefinite time with his daughter, Armgard, Mrs. Don Stanger, Mr. Stanger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Atwood, of Briny Breezes Park Club, Delray Beach, Florida, spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Besser who are their neighbours in the trailer community at Delray during the winter months.

Miss Joan O'Connor, nurse at the training camp at Farnham, is spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Russ Besser.

Canadian Amateur championship moves into cut-throat medal play today, Ontario wins team crown

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The Canadian Amateur golf championship moved today into its cutthroat medal-play competition in the wake of Ontario's team victory in the interprovincial team matches and a simultaneous qualifying round that left scores of players heading for home.

The 64 players who qualified after two days of 18-hole rounds including many of the team competitors, comprised 45 Canadians against 18 invaders from the United States and a lone South African—Reg Taylor from Johannesburg.

The qualifications were not finally decided until late Tuesday when three players emerged from an 11-man group tied at 152 after 36 holes and settled their own argument in a sudden death playoff.

Ontario claimed its 16th team title in 30 years of competition for the Willingdon Cup by keeping the pressure on while the front runners for 27 holes collapsed on the home stretch.

ERASES DEFICIT

Ontario won with an aggregate team medal score of 576, erasing a two-hole deficit down the last nine to win by a margin of 13 strokes over Alberta.

The Manitoba team, leading on every nine until the final run for home, suddenly faded and took third place with 590 to Alberta's 589.

The defending British Columbia team, off to a poor start in the first round, could never catch up and finished in fourth place with 594.

Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan tied for fifth with 603, followed by Quebec with 617 and New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island with 630.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, who begins defence of his amateur title today, paced the Ontario team with rounds of 69-71 for 140 and led the qualifying field of 171 finishers.

TWO UNDER PAR

Cowan was two under par for the full 36-hole distance, against the Sunningdale course par of 35-36—71.

Closest to Cowan for Ontario were Lou Molner and Nick Weslock, each with 145.

Keith Alexander, 1960 Canadian amateur champion, led his Alberta mates with 146 on two rounds of 73.

The Manitobans hung to a thin lead for 27 holes and then came apart. Bill Pidlaski, with 67 in the first round, fell off 10 strokes Tuesday with a 77. Only Ron Fiddler could equal his first-round score with rounds of 76.

The addition of Ticehurst and Fiddler means that four teams move in tact into the amateur title hunt — Ontario, Alberta, British Columbia and Manitoba.

The draw for today starts off with two matches that may bring together in the second round two of Canada's prime hopes.

Cowan meets Sid Salomon III of St. Louis and is a top-heavy favorite. Nick Weslock of Toronto, with a 145 contribution to his team Tuesday, is an equal favorite over Gordon MacKenzie of Toronto.

Junior tennis championships open Friday

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian junior tennis championships starting here Friday will provide native talent with the stiffest international competition in the 14-year history of the tournament.

The nine-day event, staged annually at the Rideau Lawn Tennis Club in suburban Overbrook, will offer 21 titles to some 250 youngsters expected to register for play.

First three days of the tournament will be for Canadians only. This closed section of the tournament offers eight singles titles — one for boys and girls in each of the age groups.

Als wallop Royals 14-1 to move into first place

Gilles Bernier hurls two-hitter in stopping Drummondville, meet here tomorrow, Gala Night on agenda

Sherbrooke Alouettes slid into first place in the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League last night when they walloped the Drummondville Royals 14-1 behind the two-hit hurling of Gilles Bernier. It was the eighth win in their last ten games for Claude St. Vincent's squad and gives them a half-game lead over the Royals and Beavers.

Tonight one game is on tap with Acton Beavers tangling with the hot Coaticook squad. The other tilt, scheduled last night, between Granby and St. Johns was postponed owing to wet grounds. It will be played at a later date. A win this evening for the Beavers would move them into a first place tie with the Als.

Tomorrow evening the Alouettes will again take on the Royals here in their home park. The first tilt will commence at 8.00. This is a game which ended in a tie after 13 innings earlier and the teams will resume from where they left off. The second game, the scheduled one, will follow immediately after.

Bernier didn't allow a hit until the eighth inning when Michel Sawyer connected for a single. This with two free passes allowed the Royals to register the only tally. Bernier retired eleven at the plate and his control was good. He gave up the other walk in the fifth but the rest of the way he was tops.

The Als jumped into the fore right from the start when errors and walks proved costly to the home club. The visitors picked up a 9-0 lead for the first two frames to give Bernier a cushion to work on.

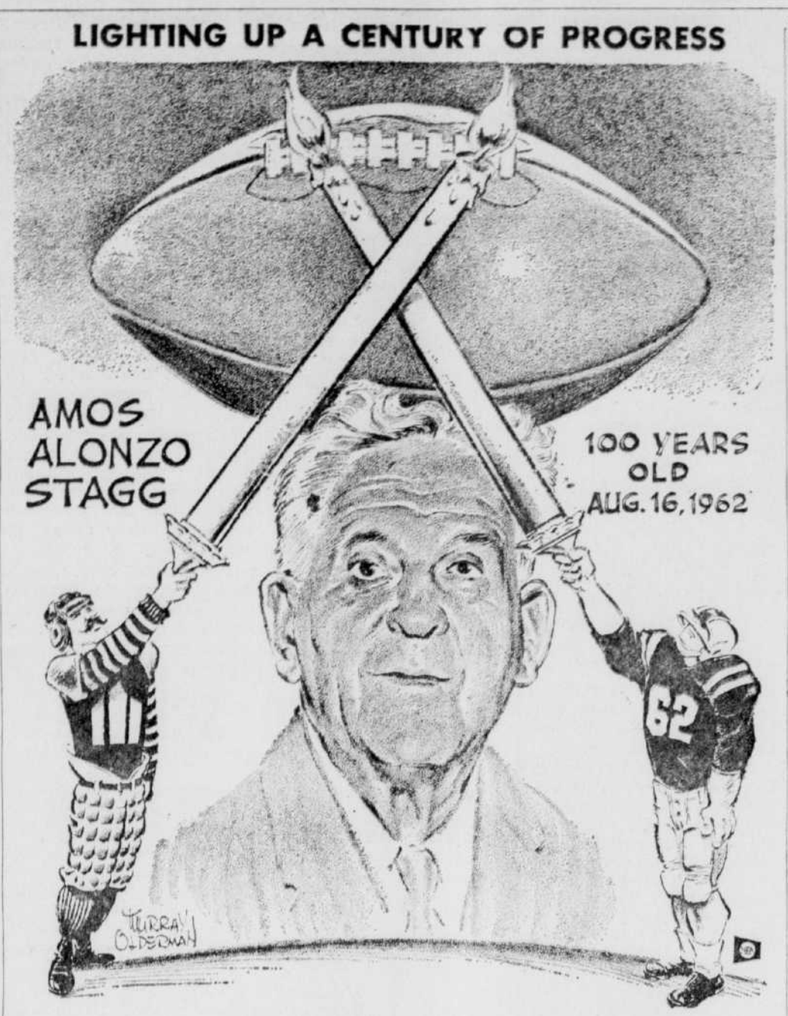
Pleau started for the Royals but he failed to last the first inning. Daniel Leblanc moved in but the Als made short work of him and he headed for the showers giving his place to Chabot who finally got the side out. Three hits, a walk and two errors accounted for five runs.

The Als' second sacker led the attack with a triple and two singles while Connie Mandala connected for a home run and a single. Jacques Monette, Claude St. Vincent, Lilas Poole and Normand Jacques accounted for the other hits. The Als were charged with three errors while the Royals booted four times.

"GALA NIGHT" PLANNED

Tomorrow evening the executive of the Als, in co-operation with a group of local merchants and supporters, will stage a "Gala Baseball Night" at the local park. Commencing at 7.30 the Sherbrooke Majorettes will give a special pre-game show while during the game $1,000 in prizes will be drawn.

The list of merchants who donated prizes follow; Gaudette Market; Galt Market; Crown Diamond Paint Co.; L. L. Roy; F. McMahon; Hart's Jewelers; H. Munkittrick; Dawson Auto Parts, Al Caplan; Seven Up; Michel Allard; Scheib's; Maurice's Restaurant; Raymond Bergeron; Donat Croteau's Grocery; Delta Service; Raby's; Marquis Tire Shop; Lynn, McLeod, H. Gagne; E. Richer & Fils; A. Ducharme; Molson's Brewery; Ivan Dugre; Beaulieu Furniture; Deziel Auto Spring; Pour Vous Messieurs; C. E. Cartier, Pelletier's Hardware and Roger Gauthier Inc.



Yanks win, Angels lose, extend lead to six

Throw away that shoe horn, Joe Cronin! The pennant race in your American League just might be turning into a runaway.

Cronin, American League president who a few weeks ago was beaming about the tight scramble that would require a shoehorn to separate the teams, must be shaking his head now with the closest pursuers of the league-leading New York Yankees riding a treadmill to nowhere.

A week ago, the second-place Los Angeles Angels began to move and rolled to within 4½ games of the world champions. After a 2-1 and 9-5 doubleheader loss to Boston Red Sox Tuesday night, the Angels are back where they started with another week of play gone.

While the Angels were dropping a pair, the Yankees took care of third-place Minnesota, beating the Twins 5-2 as Whitey Ford posted the 10th victory in his last 11 decisions. The Yankees six games in front of Los Angeles, 6½ ahead of Minnesota and the shoe is considerably looser.

KALINE PACES TIGERS

Al Kaline put on a one-man show and led Detroit Tigers to a 13-10, 5-4 doubleheader victory over Baltimore Orioles. Frank Baumann's eight-hitter gave Chicago White Sox a 9-0 triumph over Cleveland Indians and Kansas City Athletics edged Washington Senators 6-5 on a squeeze bunt by Billy Consolo.

Lu Clinton's two-out homer in the ninth inning following a single by Ed Bressoud gave the Red Sox a come-from-behind victory in the opener, tagged Angel starter Dean Chance (10-7) with the loss and snapped his scoreless-innings streak at 22 2-3. The victory went to reliever Dick Radatz (6-4).

The Red Sox struck for nine runs in the first two innings of the nightcap, got five innings of no-hit ball from Chet Nichols, then held on as the Angels rallied but fell short. Nichols (0-1) needed relief from Mike Fornieles to win it.

Ford (13-5), posting his first complete game in 11 starts since June 29, allowed nine hits and allowed both Twins' run on homers by Vic Power and Bob Allison. The Yankees moved ahead to stay in the fifth inning, getting a boost from Rich Rollins' error on Clete Boyer's grounder that set up a three-run homer by Tom Tresh.

Two more New York runs scored in the seventh inning on a walk and singles by Tresh, Bobby Richardson and Roger Maris.

DRIVES SIX ACROSS

Kaline drove in six runs in the opener for the Tigers with a single, a triple and athree-run homer off Oriole relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm that snapped an 8-8 tie in the seventh inning. That gave the victory to Sam Jones (2-3) and made Billy Hoeft (4-6) the loser. Norm Cash's 32nd homer, his first hit in 21 at-bats, gave the Tigers a 3-0 bulge in the nightcap before Kaline hit his 18th, in the fifth inning, for what turned out to be the decisive run.

Baumann (5-4) got the benefit of three double plays and a fine running catch by Floyd Robinson with two men on in the eighth inning to post his shutout over the Indians and sent Cleveland down to its 27th defeat in the last 37 games. Jim Landis drove in three runs for the White Sox while Al Smith and Mike Hershberger accounted for two each.

The Athletics went into the last of the ninth inning trailing 5-4. Singles by Ed Charles and Jerry Lumpe tied it before an intentional walk to Norm Siebern and the squeeze bunt by Consolo got the clincher across against the Senators. Siebern earlier hit his 16th homer of the season with Charles on base.

Esks wallop Riders 22-7

EDMONTON (CP) — Veteran quarterbacks Jackie Parker and Don Getty of Edmonton Eskimos are masters at exploiting an opponent's weakness on the football field.

They found it in the pass defence thrown up by Saskatchewan Roughriders Tuesday night and led the Eskimos to a 22-7 Western Conference victory before 13,288 fans.

Parker and Getty combined to complete 22 of 34 passes, each hitting for an eight-yard touchdown strike, as the Eskimos broke out alone atop the league standings with their second consecutive triumph.

Edmonton leads the league with four points, two more than British Columbia Lions, Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the Roughriders. Calgary Stampeders are winless in two starts.

CATCHES PASS

Parker fired his touchdown pass to halfback Bobby Walden, playing his second season with Edmonton. Getty hit end Tommy-Joe Coffey.

Defensive halfback Howie Schumm intercepted a pass thrown by Saskatchewan quarterback Dave Sarette and ran it back 60 yards for the other Edmonton touchdown. Coffey converted the three touchdowns, all scored in the second quarter. End Vic Chapman added a single in the last quarter.

Jack Sanford and Giants belt Cubs 9-2 while Dodgers drop 2-1 tilt Pirates, Phils win marathon tilt

Hand over that shoe horn, Joe Cronin!

The race in the National League is developing into a good thing to avoid if you have sticky heart valves.

You may recall that a few weeks back American League president Cronin was calling his scrambled flag battle a "shoe horn race."

Not so long after that, Los Angeles Dodgers were making motions toward a National League runaway. San Francisco Giants put a stop to that with a weekend sweep.

Tuesday, Jack Sanford won his 10th straight game and Willie Mays hit his 36th home run as the Giants beat Chicago Cubs 9-2.

For the Dodgers, Maury Wills was caught stealing and Tommy Davis struck out, hit into a force play and two double plays —when Los Angeles dropped a 2-1 decision to Pittsburgh Pirates.

As a result, the Giants are within 1½ games of the Dodgers and the shoe is getting tighter.

The flag hopes of Cincinnati Reds, 6½ games back in third spot, suffered a setback when they were beaten 5-4 by Milwaukee Braves.

St. Louis Cardinals, whose disgusted boss, August Busch, has threatened to trade almost every one on the team because of poor performance, dropped a 4-3 battle to Houston Colts in 10 innings. The winning run scored on an error.

Philadelphia Phillies and New York Mets struggled for 15 innings before the Phils won 3-1.

Sanford ran his record to 16-6 as he tamed the Cubs on eight hits. Ernie Banks drove in both Cub runs, one with his 30th homer of the year.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Giants. Mays' homer was good for three runs. Chuck Hiller also had a homer and Harvey Kuenn contributed three hits.

Ken Hubbs, 20-year-old second baseman with the Cubs, tied a league record by completing 57 straight games without an error. Hubbs also stretched a hitting streak to 12 games.

Johnny Podres was foiled in a bid for his 100th career victory for the Dodgers. The only Dodgers run off Al McBean (12-8) came on Podres' first major league homer. The Pirates got one run in the first inning on doubles by Bob Clemente and Donn Clendenon and the clincher in the third when Bill Virdon singled and Dick Groat doubled him home.

Maury Wills, who has 60 thefts in 68 attempts, was thrown out trying to steal second in the seventh inning.

The Braves snapped a Cincinnati winning streak at nine games for the second time this season.

Tommie Aaron broke a 3-3 tie with a homer in the sixth inning and Hank Aaron made it 5-3 with his 31st homer in the seventh. Reliever Claude Raymond of St. Johns, Que., squelched a Redleg uprising in the ninth frame after one run was in.

The Cardinals messed up a double-play ball in the 10th when Julian Javier threw into the dirt to Bill White and Roman Mejias scored from second, just beating White's throw to the plate. Bob Gibson (14-9) went all the way for the loss. Don McMahon (3-3) got the win in relief.

Al Jackson went all 15 innings for the Mets, who ran their latest losing streak to five games. He limited the Phils to four singles through the first 14 innings, but in the 15th Tony Gonzales reached second on a two-base error, Bob Oldis blooped a single to right, Ruben Amaro was walked intentionally and Mel Roach hit a two-run single.

Jackson's stint was the longest for a major leaguer since Billy Pierce and Jerry Walker each went 16 innings in 1959. All it earned him was his 15th loss against six victories. Jack Baldschun (7-7), third Philadelphia hurler, won.

ETTA turns in top performance in tourney

ST. LAMBERT — Competing in the Eastern Canadian Age Class Championships in Track and Field, the Eastern Townships Track Association emerged as one of the stronger clubs from the six eastern provinces. E.T.T.A. athletes scored 113 points to place 5th out of thirty clubs.

Winston Ingals of Ayer's Cliff turned out to be the best Quebec entry scoring 42 points, breaking the provincial discus record and barely missing the midget (under 16) Canadian high jump record. Ingals tossed the disc 151' 11½" several feet past the old mark and in the high jump almost cleared 5'9" which would have been a new Canadian record. Ingals also placed third in the broad jump, 120 yard hurdles, shot put, and javelin.

Also in the midget class Wallace Billing took a second place in the pole vault, while Nancy Smith took a second in the discus in the girls' section.

In the juvenile class Nancy Smith of Stanstead placed third in the javelin with 83' and a fifth in the shot put. Pam Macey of Sutton took a fourth place in the high jump where a new Canadian record was made and a fifth place in the 80 metre hurdles. In he same class. Betty Castle of Sweetsburg placed sixth in the high jump and reached a seventh place in the shot, discus and javelin.

The juvenile boys were led by Richard Coates of Sherbrooke with a second in the hop-step-jump and a fourth in the broad jump. George Rogers of Sweetsburg placed fifth in the pole vault and high jump and sixth in the hop-step-jump Ernest Hurley took a fourth position in the high jump. Ken Blake of Ayer's Cliff ran his best time at 4:48 but placed seventh. Morgan Barnes was seventh in the hop-step-jump while Tom Lees, also of Rock Island, was eighth in the javelin.

In the junior section Bob Hume of Knowlton cleared 10'8" to place second in the pole vault. Hume placed fourth in the broad jump, and sixth in the high jump. Reed Cook of West Brome placed fourth in the pole vault while the junior 440 relay team made the finals and placed sixth in that event. Running on he eam were W. Ingals, B. Denney, M. Barnes and D. Winslow.

The best athletes from the Eastehn Townships will be selected to go to the National A.A.U. of C. Age Class Track and Field Championships held at Waterloo, Ontario, August 24th and 25th. This meet is organized by the Royal Canadian Legion.

Overnight rains serve to further dampen fairways as ladies prepare for first match play in Open event

WINNIPEG (CP) — Overnight rains served to further dampen already soaked fairways at Winnipeg's Glendale golf club today in time for the tee-off of the first match play round of the Canadian women's open golf championship.

Tuesday, Edmonton's Betty Stanhope Cole captured medalist honors in the 18-hole medal play qualifying round with an even par 77 over the soggy, 6,585-yard suburban course.

Mrs. Cole, 1957 open champion and runner-up Sunday in the 54-hole Canadian women's close championship here, was even par in and out, taking a first nine 37 and a second nine 40 for her win.

She edged Calgary's Rae Milligan, who had 79, and was to met 15-year-old Marilyn Palmer of Kamloops, B.C., in today's round.

Miss Palmer, with 90, edged into the championship by taking a sudden - death playoff against five others with the same score, finally beating Mrs. Daisy Junor of Regina on the second hole.

TO PLAY HILTON

Miss Milligan today was to play Sue Hilton of London, Ont., who Sunday captured the imagination of the Canadian golf world by becoming the first to ever take both the Canadian women's close and junior titles at the same time.

Blackpool, — England — Brian London, 214, England, knocked out Howard King, 205, Reno, Nev., 6.

Montreal's Dennis Crotty leads pack in point standings for finals of Canadian Junior Davis Cup event

TORONTO (CP) — Dennis Crotty, 20, Montreal, Bob Moffatt, 16, Vancouver, Claude Savaria, 19, Montreal, and Barry Shakespeare, 16, Truro, N.S. ended Tuesday in that order in point standings to qualify for the finals of the Canadian junior Davis Cup tournament.

The tournament is a round-robin contest. The first player to win nine games wins the match, with one point counting for each game won.

The four players will meet today at the Toronto Cricket, Skating and Curling Club.

Crotty, the only player of the tournament's 14 undefeated, has six successive wins for 54 points, and Savaria, with 51. Shakespeare had a 4-2 record and 50 points.

With Davis Cuppers Harry Fauquier of Toronto and Keith Carpenter of Montreal already named to the Canadian team to compete in a junior Davis Cup tournament Aug. 24-25 at Poughkeepsie, N.Y., possibly three of Tuesday's four top winners may be named to round out this country's squad.

Sensation of Tuesday's matches was the play of 15-year-old Dave Brown of Port Credit, youngest player in the event. Brown toppled Savaria, 9-6, and defeated Frank Wodzicki, Toronto, 9-3. He lost to Maritime champion Bob Piers of Halifax, 9 - 8. Brown, who missed qualifying by only two points, was ahead of Piers 8-4 and had four match points, but Piers held on and won the next five games.

Other results: included Shakespeare upset Bob Jacob, Toronto, 9-6. Peter Burwash, Toronto defeated Piers, 9 - 3; Shakespeare defeated Dinelle, 9-1.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Batting — Al Kaline, Tigers, drove in six runs in 13-10 first game victory over Baltimore with single, triple and three-run homer that snapped 8-8 tie, then hit 18th homer in second game for run that proved to be clincher in 5-4 triumph.

Pitching — Frank Baumann, White Sox, shut out Cleveland 9-0 on eight hits.

Injured players causing Riders headaches

OTTAWA (CP)—The Journal said Tuesday in a front-page story that there is "bitterness, rancor and distrust" within the ranks of the Ottawa Rough Riders Football Club.

The story, bylined by sports writer Eddie MacCabe, said both the players and the coaches are at odds with general manager George Terlep over pay arrangements for injured players.

Asked for comment, Terlep said there was no undue friction within the club and that the story was "completely exaggerated."

Club president Barry O'Brian commented: "I'm not getting into any mud-slinging war with anybody. I feel that if this thing were as big as is made out in the paper, I'd have known about it."

The Journal story said the situation was brought to a head by the disclosure Monday that injured import halfbacks Dick Desmarais and Bob Beattie have threatened legal action to get more than the salary settlement offered them by the club.

Desmarais, a graduate of Boston University in his second year with Riders, suffered a broken leg, and Beattie, a graduate of Northern State College in his first year here, suffered a torn knee cartilage. Both are out of football for the rest of the year as a result of the pre-season injuries, and both were placed on waivers without recall late Monday.

OFFERED PART PAY

The club was reported to have offered them 10 per cent of their regular salary in settlement for this year's contract. Desmarais was said to have an $8,000 contract while Beattie's was reported at about $7,000.

The Journal story said the coaches had assured the players on signing their contracts that full salaries would be paid in the event of injury.

It added that head coach Frank Clair "took his complaints to the directors" last week. Clair, who entered hospital Tuesday with a back ailment, was not available for comment.

The general manager said he knew of no misunderstanding between himself and the two injured halfbacks until he received a letter from their lawyer.

Terlep said the contracts provide only for paying medical expenses for eight weeks after an injury.

He said he had one meeting with the injured players. It had been "amicable" and neither had approached him again to "bargain."

"Now the matter has been turned over to the club's lawyers," he said.

Argos to try Pete Hall as quarterback

TORONTO (CP) — Pete Hall, a gift to Toronto from New York Giants of the National Football League, may get a chance at the quarterback slot Saturday night when Argonauts meet Hamilton Tiger - Cats in Hamilton.

Hall came to the Eastern Football Conference team on waivers from Giants after he made it known he wanted to be a quarterback.

The club couldn't do much better than put him in as third quarterback and after he convinced the owners he wanted to be better than that he was released.

Being third or fourth choice as a quarterback, he said in an interview "is an impossible situation."

Hold Provincial water skiing tournament in Sherbrooke this weekend

For the first time in history the Quebec Water Ski Association will hold its annual water skiing tournament in Sherbrooke. This colourful event is scheduled to take place on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 18 and 19, at Jacques Cartier Beach on the Magog River.

The tournament, held under the auspices of the Club Nautique du Petit Lac Magog, will run on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and on Sunday from 10.30 a.m. to 6 in the afternoon. More than one hundred skiers from all over the provinces of Quebec and Ontario will be on hand to compete for the provincial championships.

Various types of competitions will be featured, such as slalom, trick skiing jumps and mixed doubles with the skiers being in three categories; juniors, (13 to 17 years old) senior, (18 to 34) and veterans, (35 and up).

The task of organizing this giant tournament has been given to Guy Donahue Sr. and Moise Codere, both directors of the Quebec Water Ski Association, while Eric Schiller, a noted local sportsman was named superviser.

The CBC television network will carry part of the tournament, — the senior men's jumps, from 4.30 to 5.30 on Sunday afternoon.

Trophies, of course, will be presented to the winners of each competition. Twenty-four of them will go to first place winners, while the CBC itself will award three trophies to deserving athletes.

Among the participants, will be Jean Rodrigue, overall champion of the province for the 1961 season.

The following is a detailed schedule of the tournament. The participants will register at 9.00 a.m. on Saturday morning, and the competition for the junior class will run from ten to 11.30.

At 10.00 there will be girls' trick skiing; while at 10.30, there will be girls slalom. Eleven o'clock will find boys, trick skiing, and at 11.30 there will be the girls, jumping.

At one o'clock in the afternoon, the senior women's trick skiing will take place while at two, men's trick skiing for the veterans class, is scheduled. At 2.30, junior boy's jumps, is on the card and at 4.00, the senior class men's slalom. At 5.30, mixed doubles will be run.

The day will end with a parade leaving Jacques Cartier Park at 7.30.

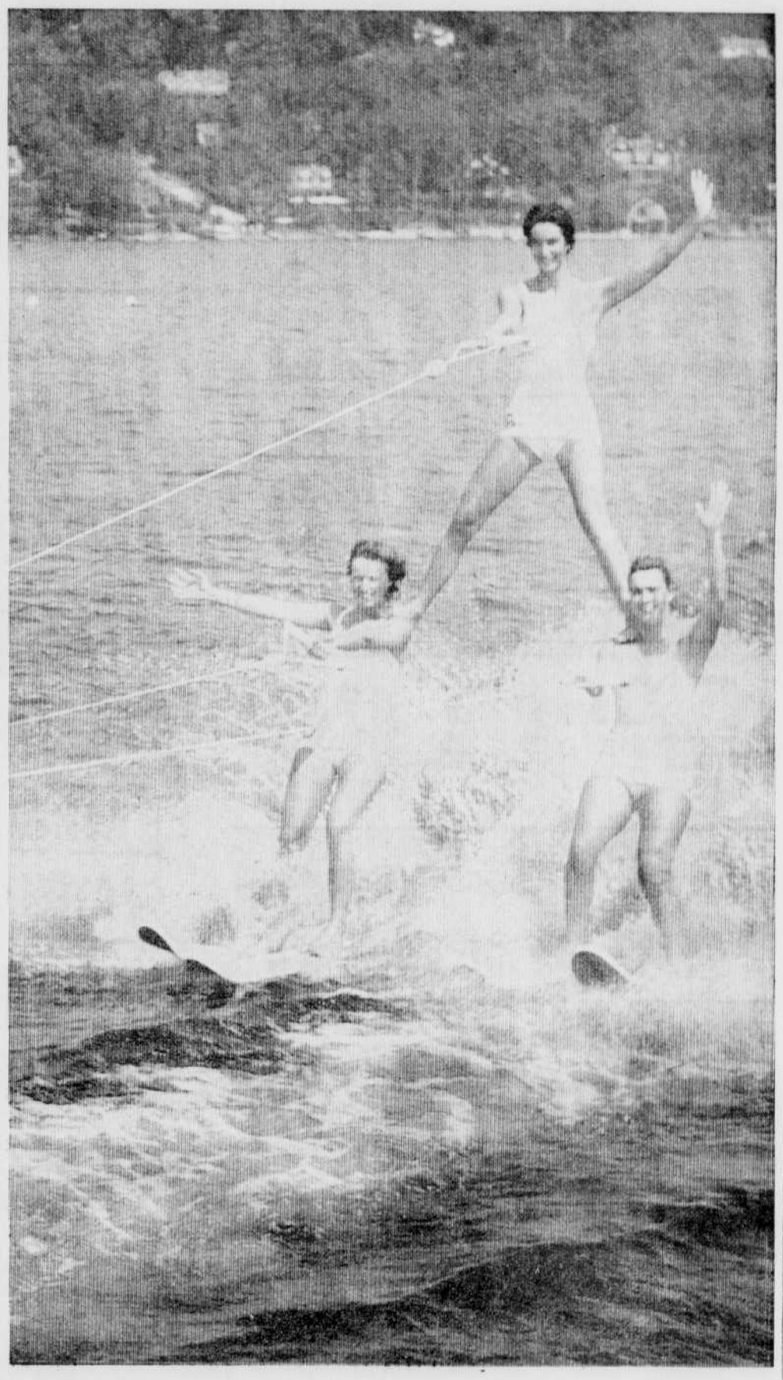
A mass will be held for the participants in the St-Jean de Breboeuf church at 9.00 on Sunday morning and activities will resume at 10.30 with the running of the senior women's slalom competitions.

At 12.00, men's jumps for the veterans class will take place.

The junior class will again be featured when the Boys' slalom contest gets under way at 1.00.

Next, in the senior division, men's trick skiing is on the card and at 3.30 women's jumps follow. At 4.30, the Senior Men's jumps commences and will be televised by the CBC.

The last event, the men's slalom will take place at 6.00.



TRICK SKIING — The 'human pyramid', as demonstrated above by three girls on Lake Massawippi is one of the more difficult of multiple-skier tricks to perform. This is but one of many tricks which can be seen by those who attend the Quebec Water Ski Association championships this weekend. (Record photo by Doug Gerrish)

New personal standard is adopted by the Queen

OTTAWA (CP) — The Queen has adopted a new personal flag for use in Canada. It will replace her own personal standard when she is in this country.

The distinctively Canadian flag consists of the shield of the country's coat-of-arms which is in the lower right-hand corner of the Red Ensign-formed in a rectangle with the Queen's own device superimposed on the centre. This device consists of a dark-blue circle, surrounded by gold trim, with the letter E and a crown in the centre.

The pattern of the shield, with its English, French, Scottish and Irish emblems and the three Canadian maple leaves, remains basically unchanged. But the red maple leaves on a white background, which occupy the base of the shield, get far more prominence on the rectangle. They take up a third of the flag's area.

England's arms show three gold lions on a red field while the Scottish emblem is a red lion on a gold field. Ireland is represented by a gold harp on a light - blue background and France by three gold fleurs-de-lis on a blue field.

Canada now becomes the second Commonwealth country for which the Queen maintains a personal flag. The only other country in which she flies a distinctive flag is Sierra Leone. But a spokesman at Government House said others were believed to be under consideration.

APPROVED BY OTTAWA

The idea of having a Canadian standard was said to have originated with the Queen herself. She conferred with Governor-General Vanier and Prime Minister Diefenbaker before asking the Garter King of Arms, Anthony R. Wagner, to submit a design. She then forwarded a sketch of the design to Ottawa for approval. The approval came about 18 months after the first suggestion of such a flag.

As far as Canadian officials know, this design was the first one submitted. The original drawing which the Queen sent to Ottawa—it bears her signature—will be framed and hung in Government House.

Officials said it was unlikely that other members of the Royal Family would adopt similar flags. "This one," said an official, "is intended to symbolize the Queen as Queen of Canada."

It will be flown from buildings in which the Queen is visiting in Canada, from the masts of ships on which the Queen is sailing in Canadian waters and from aircraft in which she is landing in Canada.

Not many will be made. Like her own personal standard, it will be carried with the Royal Party and not stored in advance in various countries.

QUEEN'S PERSONAL FLAG — This is the new personal flag adopted by the Queen for use in Canada. It consists of the Queen's own device—a gold crown and initial E on a dark blue field encircled by a chapalet of gold roses—superimposed on the shield of Canada's coat-of-arms, spread into a rectangle. The emblems are those of England, Scotland, Ireland and France with a sprig of three red maple leaves on a white background covering one-third of the flag. The arms of England show three gold lions on a red field (upper left). Scotland (upper right) has a red lion on a gold field. Ireland's emblem is a gold harp on a light blue background. Three gold fleurs-de-lis on a blue field is the French emblem. (CP Photo)

GYPSUM CENTRE

Most of the total Canadian gypsum output comes from the more than 600 square miles of deposits in Nova Scotia.

INDIA STRENGTHENS DEFENCE FORCES

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—India is well embarked on a far-reaching program of defence production designed to strengthen the security of her long land frontier and eliminate her dependence on foreign arms suppliers.

Within the next few years, the program envisages production in Indian factories of almost everything needed to equip the army, navy and air force, from small arms to supersonic jet fighters and from ships to sophisticated missiles.

Substantial progress has already been made. Six years ago, Indian ordnance factories produced goods valued at 140,000,000 rupees ($29,400,000), mostly in small arms and ammunition. This year, the total value of defence production is expected to be about 420,000,000 rupees ($88,200,000).

Items already being produced in India include anti-aircraft guns of the latest design, which are not manufactured anywhere else outside Western Europe, modern artillery, explosives, rocket launchers and recoil-less anti-tank weapons.

Sub-sonic medium Gnat jet fighters are being manufactured at the state-owned Hindustan aircraft factory in Bangalore, with British technical help, and a transport aircraft, the British Avro 748, is being produced by the Indian Air Force to replace its Dakota fleet.

Fire-control radar is being produced at another defence factory. A supersonic jet fighter, exclusively designed and developed in India, is being tested and British jet and turbo-prop aero-engines are in advanced stages of manufacture.

Defence ministry scientists are developing guided missiles at Indian research centres. Details of this program are still secret, but qualified observers here believe Indians may soon be manufacturing guided missiles to equip their supersonic jet fighters.

Warns Canadian universities expensive

Handbook offers suggestions to students coming to Canada

By DON HANRIGHT

OTTAWA (CP) — Tips for itinerant university students:

"In Canada relations between the sexes are quite informal. This freedom may sometimes be misinterpreted."

So says the Canadian Universities Foundation in a new booklet interded for foreign students arriving in Canada to study.

The notation under "some social customs" is further explained:

"For instance, if a man and woman share a seat on a train or bus they may talk to each other, but this should not be taken to indicate that either wishes to continue the chance acquaintance.

"Similarly, on campus, when men and women invite each other to join in various social activities, it need not imply sustained interest."

WOMEN FIRST

Then comes this note:

"Most Canadians believe in equality between the sexes but forms of courtesy in this country have traditionally given the woman the preference."

For example: Women go through a door first; men rise when a woman enters a room.

The booklet is first and foremost a compact guide to Canadian study. It lists 47 universities and colleges that grant degrees, and notes that 300 others don't.

It says frankly that Canadian university attendance is expensive. It tells foreign students not to come unless they can afford it.

A sample 12-month budget for a 1962-63 undergraduate is included. The total is $1,800 to $2,000, all told.

Incidental intelligence:

"Canadians buy a great many things by hire purchase or deferred payments. Do not sign any agreement or pay any deposit until you have had advice from a university official."

A BIT CONFUSING

"A hamburger is made of ground beef, not ham; and a 'hot dog' contains a sausage which may be made of pork or beef."

"The evening meal is often called supper."

"Most people in Canada attach much importance to punctuality."

"Guests in Canadian homes often offer to help with the dishes and overnight guests make their own beds."

African and Asian students are warned that they may be refused service by a barber. It's because the barbers have no experience with foreign haircuts, the booklet says.

And a note on discrimination:

"Students from other countries, and Canadian students also, may encounter some difficulty on occasion in obtaining accommodation."

SHOULD BE REPORTED

"In every country there can be found individuals who do not share the general views of the people and who practise discrimination based on religion, race, language, money or education.

"If you have no misfortune to encounter any form of discrimination in Canada, you should report it to the university authorities. Do not judge all Canadians by the attitude of the very few."

The booklet is timely. Written in May, it advises students to check the going exchange rate before coming.

Perhaps it was written a month too early. It says:

"There are three political parties represented in the federal House of Commons: Progressive Conservative, Liberal, and New Democratic parties."

The booklet reached the press the day after the June 18 general election in which Social Credit won 30 Commons seats.

Canada's civil servants fume over holdup in pay increases

By PETER DEMPSON
Toronto Telegram News Service

OTTAWA — Canada's federal civil servants are fuming — and with some justification.

So increased with the Government are they, over its refusal to grant 50,000 of them a pay raise, that they've held protest meetings, talked strike, and condemned the Cabinet as "unfair" and "dictatorial."

The Government has even been accused of using civil service salaries for political ends. This, however, was strongly denied by Hon. Donald Fleming, former Minster of Finance.

The federal employes insist the Government led them to believe that pay increases were forthcoming. If this is so, then it's understandable why they're not very happy.

The hopes of the 50,000 of receiving a pay boost began to fade from the day the Government unveiled its austerity program. That was on June 24. Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced at the time that the Cabinet planned to reduce spending by $250,000,000.

To grant these civil servants the raise they had been counting on would have cost the national treasury about $15,000,000. The increase, to have been retroactive to last October 1, would have totalled between $200 and $300 per employee. Not really a large amount, out of an overall budget of $6,500,000,000. Not even a large sum, when related to the $250,000,000 the Government is trying to save.

Surely the Cabinet could have snipped $15,000,000 from some less-essential expenditures, in order to grant the pay hike.

Mr. Fleming had emphasized that the salary increases, recommended by the Civil Service Commission, have only been "deferred," not rejected entirely. As soon as the dollar crisis is licked, the matter will be reviewed again.

This is well and good, up to a point. But economists predict, even though Canada's foreign exchange fund position is steadily improving, that it'll be a year at least, perhaps longer, before the austerity measures can end.

Des this mean then that the civil servants will be rebuffed this long in their efforts to obtain higher pay?

Not at all. As a matter of fact Mr. Fleming had strongly urged that the cyclical review of federal employees' salaries be continued. The impression he has left is that eventually, when conditions right themselves, the pleas of the public employees will be heeded.

What is annoying to the 50,000 employees immediately affected by the Government's decision, is that on March 1 about 7,000 in the professional classes were given pay hikes. These were retroactive to October 1. The attitude of all civil servants immediately was — could a pay increase be granted to one group, and then withheld from another? Civil servants were doubtful. But, despite these doubts, the Government showed it could be. And was.

At a time when the Government was appealing to all Canadians to tighten their belts, the Cabinet didn't feel it would be justified in approving a pay boost for its employees. To have done so for the 50,000 would have been only a start.

Across Canada there are close to 200,000 permanent civil servants, prevailing-rate workers, and ships officers. All these would immediately expect an increase in pay.

So, too, would the members of the armed forces and the RCMP. Furthermore, the Government would have to increase its contributions to the superannuation fund.

To have granted pay raises all down the line, plus the increased superannuation contributions, would have cost the treasury around $125,000,000. It's no wonder the Government hesitated in approving the boosts for the 50,000.

Despite the protests by the Civil Service Federation, the Civil Service Association, and the Professional Institute of the Public Service, the Government has no intention of changing its mind. Not in the immediate future.

What is unfortunate about all this is that private industry, in some cases, has seized on the rejection of a pay increase for civil servants as an excuse to hold the salary line for its own employees. Perhaps, in some instances, there's good reason for it.

But certainly, in others, there's not.

1 Competiton open to all residents or property owners of Compton County, Township of Ascot, North Ascot, Township of Dudswell, Municipality of Ascot Corner, City of Sherbrooke, and Town of Lennoxville.

2. All exhibits of purebred stock must be registered in the Canadian National Livestock Records and Registration numbers must accompany entries. No purebred animal shall be allowed to compete in grade classes.

3. All animals competing in grade classes must be from registered sires.

4. The age of horses will be reckoned from January 1 in each year.

5. No animal shall be entered for more than one class and section, except for specials, groups and in harness and saddle class. In case of pairs, horses may be shown single in single sections. No exhibitor will be awarded more than one prize in the same section.

6. All animals and other property entered for competition must be in their respective places before 10 o'clock a.m., advanced time, Friday, August 17 and shall remain in such place until 6 p.m. Sunday, August 19, unless otherwise authorized by director in charge.

7. No competitor shall interfere with the judges in the performance of their duties. Exhibitors so interfering will forfeit their right to any prize and may be expelled from the Association for a period of three years.

8. No bull over one year will be allowed on exhibiton grounds unless secured with a ring through the nose or suitable leader.

9. All horses and cattle will be judged in the ring, and must have their entry tag ready to produce.

10. In the absence of competition in any of the classes, the judges must use their discretion whether the exhibit is worthy of first, second, or third prize, or any at all. This rule applies to all exhibits and classes. Where prizes are withheld, judges will please give reasons.

11. All parties competing in this exhibition must be bona fide owners of the articles exhibited, except otherwise specified, and in case of livestock at least 30 days before opening of the fair.

12. No manufactured article or fancy work will be allowed to compete for a premium unless manufactured by the competitor, and all exhibits in the Horticultural Department must be the product of exhibitor's own garden, field or orchard. No article of fancy work or domestic work that has been awarded a first prize at any time compete in any class again.

13. All protests must be made to the Secretary within two hours after the judging of the class wherefrom the protest arises. A deposit of five dollars must be made with each protest, which must be made in writing.

14. Upon the discovery of any fraud, deception or dishonest practice, or misrepresentation in regard to any exhibit which may have influenced or may have been intended to influence the decision of the judges the Executive Committee have the power to withhold the payment of the prize and suspend the party or parties for a period of three years.

15. FATHER AND SON, or two persons working the same property or living together, will not be permitted to show produce from the same farm or property, in the same section, except in the case of the Calf Club calves.

16. Each exhibitor in Classes 1 to 43 inclusive will be required to purchase a member's ticket, which will entitle him or her as as many entries as they see fit in these classes. Price of member's ticket, $2.00.

An exhibitor in livestock may show two (2) animals in each section but will only be paid one prize.

Each exhibitor in Classes 43 to 48; inclusive, if not already a member, will be required to pay an entry fee of:

First 4 entries, 15 cents each.

Each additional entry up to 14, 10 cents each.

All above 14 entries must have member's ticket. When an exhibitor has paid $2.00 in entry fees, he becomes a member and is entitled to a membership ticket.

Classes 49 and 50 no entry fee required.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE

Though made of marble or granite, no beautiful monument stands silent. It speaks your love as eloquently as though it had a voice—and will for all posterity.

Do any of your loved ones lack such a tribute? If so, you'll be surprised at how reasonably you may express your sentiment in words that will live through time.

Cookshire Fair promises to be the best ever

Last year over 9,000 people attended the Compton County Agriculture Society's annual fair at Cookshire on Sunday to set a new attendance record and all indications have it that this year that record should be broken once again as the organizers of the exhibition have gone all-out to make this year's show the 'best ever'.

Activities for the Calf Club will get underway on Friday with the Sawyerville Calf Club Fair at 9 o'clock. The calf club fair will go on until 11:30 when there will be a break for lunch. Following lunch there will be a gala judging competition and at 3:30 on Friday there will be a calf parade.

Friday evening, starting at 7 o'clock a banquet will be held at which time the announcement of the winners in the judging contest will take place.

At 8:30 in the evening the grandstand show will be held.

At 9 Saturday morning there will be judging of both Shorthorn and Hereford calves.

Judging of inter-club exhibits will get underway at 10:00 in the morning under the categories of individual class, group class, showmanship class, and specials.

The calf parade will start at three in the afternoon and at 4:30 all will be over for another year as far as the calf clubs are concerned at the Cookshire Fair.

Youngster tells of adventures while on US trip

DERBY LINE — Peter Earle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Earle, had a wonderful outing this summer as well as learning to be a Guide in the wilderness.

Peter left Derby Line and travelled to Montreal and Toronto, by car, then by bus and plane to Ely, Minnesota. He left here the latter part of June. His destination was Charles L. Somers, B.S.A. Wilderness Canoe base, and after being at the base camp for a few days he, with a Guide and ten young lads from the American Middle West left on a 110 mile trip into the Wilderness of Quetico Provincial Park of Ontario, Canada.

Peter's part of the trip was to learn the arts and crafts of Guiding. The group travelled from ten to twelve miles a day, the entire area is roadless and air travel over the Park is strickly forbidden.

The boys made some 60 portages, with canoes, they camped on the trail in beautiful country, probably much as the Indians of years ago travelled.

The head Guide, while on the trip had his 21st birthday and this was celebrated with all due ceremony, birthday cake and all. At one camp site the boys found blueberries and made real blueberry pies. At another site one of the boys made lemon jello which was green when set because of the colored water from the plant life.

The country was beautiful beyond description, says Peter, swampy land covered with a profusion of water lilies, small rivers opening into lakes, abundant with fish, lake trouts, wall eyes, Northern pike, pickerel, and the boys learned how to clean them leaving no bones to be dealt with when cooked over the camp fire.

There were wild animals, such as white tail deer, moose, many kinds of smaller animals, birds of many descriptions and the group saw the almost extinct American Bald eagle and their nest, making a note of this and reporting back at the home base. There were magnificent sunsets, for the weather man provided fine days on most of the trip, the plant life was fascinating and there were mosquitoes and other menace, but this the boys did not seem to mind too much, as for human life, the boys met only the Custom officers and Forest Rangers, apart from this it was complete wilderness, says Peter.

Peter is a Boy Scout Explorer and his trip was made with Explorers from Oklahoma, he says he would like to form an expedition from Vermont and Guide them on a similar trip. At Wilderness Canoe Base one Guide makes an average of five trips into the wilderness during the summer season with Scout Explorers from America, this includes a total of 50 days and nights of camping and portages. Peter, who will be a senior student at Derby Academy in September, has the honor of being the First Explorer from the State of Vermont to have had this thrilling experience. He returned home the end of July.

Kirstein child christened Aug. 5

ASBESTOS — The christening of the chosen daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kirstein, Asbestos, took place on August 5, at St. Augustine's Anglican Church, Danville. The baby's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Griffin, of Asbestos, gave the baby's names, as Katherine Elizabeth.

The Rector Rev. Nevil Tucker officiated at the service with Mr. Anthony Broscomb as croisier.

During the afternoon a small gathering of friends met at the parents' home, 258 Laurier Street, Asbestos. The table was centered with a tall cake plate surrounded with flowers and the cake bore the name "Kathie".

Among those from out of town were, E. C. MacGonigal, Dorion, Que., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gale of Thetford Mines, Mrs. L. E. Gale, of Wickford, R.I., Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gilbert of Danville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCammon, formerly of Matheson, Ont., Mrs. E. G. Stevens and daughter, Cathy, of Danville.
