RCMP Musical Ride thrilled audiences on the Brome Fair grounds

LOUISE SMITH

The RCMP Musical Ride is a fine example of human and animal precision and grace.

By Louise Smith

were there to see the famous RCMP Musical Ride.

Before the Mounties performed their show, a dog act entertained the crowd. The dogs jumped, played frisbee, and even “danced”. It ended with competing fun relay races.

The guest of honour for Friday was Ernie Banks, a longtime supporter and past president of the Brome County Agricultural Society. The Mounties gave him a salute of honour at the beginning of their program.

The horses were elegant and precise in all their executed movements. It was a joy to watch. The audience appreciated the skill that it took for the horses and riders to complete the maneuvers and formations. It was like an equine ballet.

Desjardins joins BMP Foundation campaign

BCN Staff

The Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital Foundation is very pleased to announce the generous participation of the Caisses Desjardins in its major fundraising campaign. With a donation of $200,000, Desjardins is a major partner in the campaign.

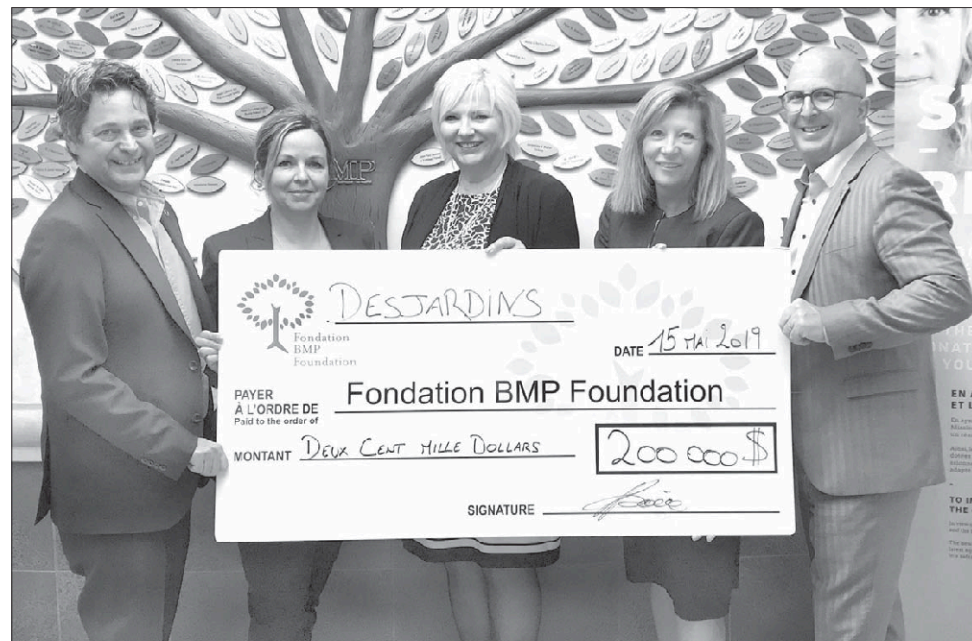

The donation is collectively provided by four Caisses Desjardins in the region: Les Caisses Desjardins de Brome-Missisquoi, Pommeraiie, Waterloo and Granby.

The major campaign aims to raise an additional $5 million by 2020. This money will be invested in the acquisition of new equipment and the redevelopment and relocation of the Orthopedic Clinic onto two floors. More spacious, comfortable and accessible, the new Orthopedic Clinic will be able to accommodate the growing number of patients requiring this service.

The Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital Foundation is above all a story of committed citizens who are concerned about the health of their community. Since its inception in 1993, the Foundation has raised and invested more than $30 million in several redevelopment projects to provide better services and greater access to health care.

The MRC Brome-Missisquoi is putting into action a plan to attract youth between the ages of 18-40 to the area.

Working with 21 municipalites, the MRC is looking to develop strategies to welcome youth to the area, and ensure that the needs of youth already living in the region are being met.

The region has created a short survey to gain information about the experiences, needs and issues facing youth, and to help find solutions to lodging and access to housing in the area.

Do you live or work in the Brome-Missisquoi area? If so, you are invited to

Mount Foster deadline is upon us

DEAR EDITOR:

Your vote (yellow piece of paper in the white envelope provided) must arrive at the West Bolton Town Hall, 9 Town Hall Road, BEFORE 12 NOON, THIS FRIDAY, June 7th.

A YES vote is a vote to preserve 217 hectares (3/4 of the property) as a CONSERVATION area, "FOREVER".

DEAR EDITOR:

Where are we going now? I went to this meeting with the hope that the Foster Mountain issue would be finally solved. I found a very well-prepared layout, a big enough gathering place, and a good panel. All very well organized. Congratulations to the people who must have spent quite a few hours for this event. It might be interesting to find out how much this democratic process cost the taxpayer.

Presentation was well done; question period started good with questions and answers flowing both ways, fairly quickly and precise without major problems. That is until a gentleman (may God forgive me for using that word) took the mike and began his usual spiel.

Now, opposition is good; it stimulates the mind and any debate. That is if both sides obey the same rules to any controversy. Short, exact and equal time.

Despite several warnings by the moderator, about time over-run, the man, as in the past, kept droning on and on. Shouting, and people believing all this to be very funny. Well, I've heard it too often, and left. my apology to panel and council. I might have been wrong in doing so, but I am tired of listening to the same complaints and arguments over and over. No, I don't know the best answer, so the only thing left is to vote and hope everyone else will, so maybe we can get this settled. This is how a simple citizen saw and sees it.

By the way, I was not born here. I chose this corner of our beautiful country to put down my roots, and even one day to get buried here. But lately...

Ruby

Hello! We are two happy, cheery, affectionate ladies who need to find a new home because our mistress had to move into a 'residence'. Bel: I'm 3 years old with white fur and light brown patches. Ruby: I'm about 8 years old with black and white fur. We really want to live together because we are such good friends.

A home where someone is around most of the time so we can be let out frequently while getting used to our new surroundings. We will love you for it in return and learn to behave like 'angels'.

We live at the SPCA Montérégie, 178, ch. du Vide, Ste-Angèle-de-Monnoir (exit 37 on autoroute 10).

Upcoming 175th anniversary celebration for Emmanuel United

By Louise Smith

There is a sign out on the lawn of Emmanuel United Church in Cowansville inviting everyone to the 175th celebration of the founding of the church. The event will take place on Sunday, June 9.

Emmanuel United started out as a Methodist / Congregationalist Church and it became a United Church when the United Church of Canada was formed. This church is older than Canada! A guest of the day will be the Rev. David Spivey who led the church for two years after the long service of Rev. Stewart Clarke. He was supposed to be an interim minister for one year, but his mandate was lengthened by a year. During his tenure was the three-week ice storm of 1998. David was renowned for his homemade bread made for communion Sundays.

To celebrate the anniversary on Sunday, June 9, a special covenanting service for the inauguration of Rev. David Lefneski, will be held at 2 p.m. followed by a rousing performance by the Union United Gospel Choir from Montreal. If you have never heard the choir, this is an opportunity not to be missed. The floor of the church will be moving as the audience responds to their incredible sound.

A freewill offering will be collected during the service. To continue the celebration, light refreshments will be offered downstairs when the afternoon's festivities are over.

Photos: Bottom left: Emmanuel United Church in Cowansville will be celebrating its 175th Anniversary with a special celebration on Sunday, June 9th.

New temporary exhibition of wedding dresses opening July 2019 at the BCHS

Submitted by
Brome County Historical Society

In May 2019, the Brome County Historical Society (BCHS) took a deep dive into its textiles and garments collection in preparation for a new temporary exhibition opening in July 2019. Within the collection are multiple wedding dresses each more beautiful than the last. However, many of our wedding dresses are not in the 'traditional' white but are instead made of brown, grey, or pastel-coloured fabrics. As more twenty-first-century brides choose to eschew the white bridal uniform, it is important to acknowledge that the tradition of the white wedding is barely one hundred years old and is, in fact, a product of the nineteenth century.

In 1840, Queen Victoria shocked the Western World by wearing a white dress to her wedding to Prince Albert. Before Victoria, red was the colour of choice for most royal brides in Europe and although Victoria was not the first British Royal to wear white – that honour falls to Philippa of England, daughter of Henry IV, who wore white to her wedding to Eric of Pomerania in 1406 – her choice of dress caused quite a stir. White wedding dresses slowly grew in popularity in Britain following Victoria's wedding but only reached Canadian shores in the 1890s. As of the turn of the nineteenth century, white, cream, and ivory wedding dresses became more common and eventually overtook the other colours previously favoured by Canadian women. By the 1940s, the white wedding dress had solidified its newfound status, becoming the new norm throughout Canada.

The collection of the BCHS testifies to the transition from non-white to white wedding dresses at the turn of the twentieth century. Grey and brown fabrics dominate our selection of nineteenth-century wedding accoutrements, but the year 1899 punctuates the end of the century with the appearance of our earliest white wedding dress (see picture). Prior to becoming the norm in the 1940s, white wedding dresses were considered a form of conspicuous consumption – a way for a bride's family to showcase their wealth. As it were, few were the women who could afford to buy a white dress that would only be worn on their wedding day and thus, many women opted for the versatility afforded by a non-white dress that could be worn for other formal occasions.

To learn more about the evolving history of women's fashion in Brome County visit our new special exhibition opening to the public with a free wine & cheese vernissage on Friday, July 5.

2019 Richard Evans award goes to the Potton Heritage Association

Submitted by QAHN

The Richard Evans Award is presented annually to a group of volunteers or organization in the heritage sector that has made an outstanding contribution to its community and to the celebration and preservation of our collective memory. At its annual convention, held this year in Knowlton, June 1 to 2, QAHN presented this prestigious award to the Potton Heritage Association. Representing the association for the occasion was its hard-working president Sandra Jewett.

Founded in 1990, the Potton Heritage Association will celebrate its 30th anniversary next year. A major focus of the association's energies recently has been the restoration of the Mansonville round barn. Over the last ten years, this historic building had been deteriorating, and, despite this, a group of dedicated citizens continued their efforts to secure the necessary funding for the barn's much-needed restoration.

Donations and a grant from Canadian Heritage, now totalling $645,000, enabled the beginning of the restoration last November. Future plans for the building include exhibition space, markets for local produce and crafts, a community garden, and meeting space for a variety of activities.

In 2017, Potton Heritage produced the exhibition "Tourism in Potton at the Turn of the 19th Century," which was a full year in its preparation. In 2016, the association mounted an exhibition on covered bridges. These productions required a large effort on the part of volunteers, and were expensive to mount.

A bilingual publication, Histoire Potton History, is published by the association twice annually, and features articles of local interest written by local authors. This publication is now in its sixth year. Over the years, Potton Heritage has produced an impressive array of other print publications on a range of topics pertaining to the history, lore, and built heritage of the local villages and hamlets around Potton Township.

Currently, volunteers are working to upload materials to the association's website, and there are plans to digitize the collections of archived photos. The organization hosts regular activities in summer and winter. These include excursions such as snowshoe treks and ice-fishing, with lunches included. Since 2011, Potton Heritage has participated in the selection of winners of the Culture and Heritage prizes awarded annually by the Potton Cultural and Heritage Committee. A project for funding has been submitted to the municipality for 2019. The association already has the basis for some excellent "virtual" exhibits of the type that may be seen in the Merry House in Magog.

According to QAHN Executive Director Matthew Farfan, the Potton Heritage Association and its volunteers are "tireless advocates for the preservation of local heritage and the dissemination of local history." QAHN, he said, "salutes the value of the work being done by the association, and we wish them continued success in the years ahead."

Yamaska Valley Optimist Club fashion show fundraiser

Submitted by
Yamaska Valley Optimist Club

The Yamaska Valley Optimist Club held its first Fashion Show fundraiser on Sunday May 26, from 12 to 2 p.m. at the Relais Bistro in Knowlton. The event was successful in raising over $2,100 in donations to help Association PANDA Brome-Missisquoi.

Association PANDA Brome-Missisquoi represents the interests of people with ADHD and offers conferences and workshops for children and teens at risk for ADHD and/or learning disabilities. The organization also supports parents/families and schools that may need resources.

Organized by Yamaska Valley Optimist Club, the fashion show was championed by an impressive team of volunteers, devoted to helping children in the community. The event highlighted some of the latest high-end fashion trends and outfits from local boutiques and retailers including; Cinetik, Friperie Caro-Lu, Iris Setlakwe, Le Jasmin, Lolë, Prestige Shoes, Rococo, and Windrush.

“It takes a village,” said club member and organizer of the fashion show, Dianne Normandeau – on producing the event.

“We want to thank all who came to the show, donated money and time – it is so heartwarming to see such amazing teamwork by the YVOC volunteers and turnout for this important cause.”

Door prizes were graciously donated by: Blueterie Benoit, Cinetik, IGA Sutton, Le Relais Bistro, Lolë, Purvita, Rococo, Virgin Hill Coffee, Vignoble Domaine Bresee, and Windrush.

The Yamaska Valley Optimist Club would also like to thank Gabriel Aubertin and Johanne Daigle, the new owners of Le Relais Bistro Knowlton for their gracious hospitality in entrusting the fashion show.

Death

Diana McIntosh Mizener (1925-2019)

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of Diana Mizener on the 21st of May. Diana joins her beloved husband Arthur. She will be missed by her many nieces and nephews, grand nieces and nephews and great-grand nieces and nephews. She was the daughter of the late Strader McIntosh and Leda (Merkley) McIntosh. She was a caring sister to her twin the late Donald Strader McIntosh, the late Elizabeth (McIntosh) Marcus, and the late Richard McIntosh.

It was her wish that there will be no funeral service or visitation at this time. A celebration of her life will follow at a later date at the DuBoyce Cemetery.

The family wishes to thank Dr. Nolze for her many years of support and friendship.

Cremation was held at Les Jardins Funéraires Bessette in Granby. As a remembrance to Diana, donations may be made to the Creek United Church in memory of Diana Mizener c/o May Banks, 4 Gaboury Rd., Foster, Qc JOE 1R0.

Take your Caesar salad to the grill to get a smoky char

By America'S Test Kitchen

The smoky char of the grill brings a whole new dimension to plain old Caesar salad. To develop good char and maintain crisp lettuce without ending up with scorched, wilted, even slimy leaves, we used sturdy, compact romaine hearts, which withstood the heat of the grill better than whole heads.

GRILLED CAESAR SALAD
 Servings: 6

Start to finish: 30 minutes

Dressing
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 garlic clove, minced
 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
 2 anchovy fillets, rinsed
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 1/4 cup extra-virgin olive oil
 Salad
 1 (12 inch) baguette, sliced 1/2 inch thick on bias
 3 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
 1 garlic clove, peeled
 3 romaine lettuce hearts (18 ounces), halved lengthwise through cores
 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

For the dressing: Combine lemon juice and garlic in bowl and let stand for 10 minutes. Process lemon-garlic mixture, mayonnaise, Parmesan, vinegar, Worcestershire, mustard, anchovies, salt, and pepper in blender until smooth, about 30 seconds. With blender running, slowly add oil until incorporated. Measure out and reserve 6 tablespoons dressing for brushing romaine.

- For a charcoal grill: Open bottom vent completely. Light large chimney starter filled with charcoal briquettes (6 quarts). When top coals are partially covered with ash, pour evenly over half of grill. Set cooking grate in place, cover, and open lid vent completely. Heat grill until hot, about 5 minutes.

- For a gas grill: Turn all burners to high, cover, and heat grill until hot, about 15 minutes. Leave all burners on high.

For the salad: Clean and oil cooking grate. Brush bread with oil and grill (over coals if using charcoal), uncovered, until browned, about 1 minute per side. Transfer to serving platter and rub with garlic clove. Brush cut sides of lettuce with half of reserved dressing.

Place half of lettuce, cut side down, on grill (over coals if using charcoal). Grill, uncovered, until lightly charred, 1 to 2 minutes. Transfer to platter with bread. Repeat with remaining reserved dressing and lettuce. Drizzle lettuce with remaining dressing. Sprinkle with Parmesan. Serve.

Cupcakes for all were shared on Thursday at Emmanuel United

By Louise Smith

The weekly meals organized by CAB (Centre d'action bénévole) in Cowansville at the Emmanuel United Church have ceased until the fall. This past Thursday, to celebrate the beginning of the summer season, members of the CAB along with members from the Emmanuel United Church shared a multitude of carrot muffins made by Eileen.

Eighty cupcakes were distributed.

Young children came by to partake of the treats and soon games and toys were out on the lawn to keep them happy. It was an organized event that had its spontaneous moments. The weather co-operated to make it a happy, successful, sharing with the community and passers by.

The farmer's market is now open! 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. every Saturday on Maple St. It's going on all the way through the summer!

Being close to the ground is a good thing. It's always good to get close to nature.

Kids had fun while the adults chatted and mingled.
