World News In Brief

London, Dec. 10.—(Cable)—Six prefabricated houses manufactured in British Columbia, will be brought to England as prototypes of homes to be manufactured in Britain as part of a housing scheme sponsored by Woodville, Leics, Vurton and district war products group, a private organization of commercial firms, an official disclosed today.

L. E. Farmer, representative of the group, went to Canada to place the order and is now believed on his way back to Britain.

In Vancouver last Thursday Mr. Farmer said he had signed a contract for delivery of material to be used in the $47,500,000 project and that he expected the first shipment from British Columbia would start some time this week.

New York, Dec. 10.—(Cable)—Juan D. Peron, former strong man of Argentina, personally aided Axis friends and corporations even while the South American country was seeking United Nations recognition, the New York Times said today in a cabled dispatch from Buenos Aires.

The Times said Peron's activity on behalf of the Axis came to light as a result of a controversy now in progress between Foreign Minister Juan Cooke and several members of the committee for vigilance and final disposal of enemy property.

Peron, Vice-President in the Government headed by President Edelmiro V. Farrell, carried on his efforts on behalf of the Axis even after the Government had won diplomatic recognition from the United Nations upon assurances that it would break completely with the Axis. At the same time, Argentina was playing host to the United States good-will mission headed by Avra Warren.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—(Cable)—Charged with giving support to Communism, four officers of Aircraft Lodge 712 of the International Association of Machinists (A.F. L.) today stand suspended from that organization just as they and 36 other delegates to the Montreal Trades and Labor Council were suspended by the Council for one year recently for backing the Labor-Progressive party during the last federal election.

The Union leaders under suspension are: Robert Haddow, organizer, Jean Pare, business agent, Irving Burman, financial secretary, and Adrien Villeneuve, Grand Lodge representative.

Romeo Desparois, business agent for Lodge 111 and special investigator appointed by the I.A.M. to check on the activities of members of Lodge 712, told of his findings and the I.A.M. decision at a press conference here yesterday.

Calcutta, Dec. 10.—(Reuters)—Field Marshal Lord Wavell, Viceroy of India, today told a meeting of India's Associated Chambers of Commerce that the use of Indian troops in Indonesia was not to suppress Indonesians.

"They went there on an errand of duty and an errand of mercy to disarm the Japanese and rescue Allied prisoners and internees," he said.

Lord Wavell said he did not believe an agreed solution between Indian parties was impossible. "I do not believe it would even be very difficult, given goodwill, common sense and patience on all sides," he said.

Bretton Woods Bill Faces Social Credit Filibuster

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Ottawa, Dec. 10.—(Cable)—Parliament today begins a concerted drive to conclude sessional business by next week-end with the Bretton Woods International Monetary Agreement being the first item of the schedule.

The session's first Saturday night sitting dealt with the difficult agriculture estimates and showed all parties agreeing that this land of vast spaces and many waters should extend its natural wealth by irrigation and reclamation.

Saturday also saw the House vote 124-12 to go into committee on a resolution to a bill ratifying Canadian signature of the Bretton Woods International Monetary Agreements. And the members, wisely thinking of the nearness of departure home, lustily sang the nostalgic "White Christmas" during the division which also saw Dan McIvor, veteran Liberal Member for Fort William, Ont., and native Ulsterman, produce a fire and shrill the strange song "Protestant Boys" amid general laughter.

The Bretton Woods bill again will face filibustering tactics by Social Creditors, who have given notice they want answer to between 20 and

Nazis Planned To Starve People In Vanquished Areas

Invasion of Russia Based on Coldly Calculated Policy of Stripping All Captured Territory of Food and Raw Materials—Rosenberg Said to Have Directed Economic Plunder—Plans for Capture of Gibraltar Abandoned Because Necessary Artillery Sent to Russian Front.

Nuernberg, Dec. 10.—(P)—Germany's invasion of the Soviet Union in 1941 was based on a coldly calculated policy of stripping all captured territory of food and raw materials, leaving the hapless victims to starve, Allied prosecutors charged today before the International Military Tribunal.

Revealing secret Nazi plans for political and economic subjugation of Russia, the prosecution produced documents in which Reichsmarschall Goering, one of the twenty top Hitler leaders on trial accused of war crimes, ordered "seizing raw materials and taking over all important concerns" in the wake of the German armies.

Nazi philosopher Alfred Rosenberg, another defendant, was named in other secret plans as the top political agent to direct what the prosecutor described as "economic plunder."

Papers from Rosenberg's files disclosed that the Nazis were confident that the Red armies would collapse "very soon" after the initial onslaught with 125 divisions and three full air fleets. The June 22, 1941, date for the jumpoff was set by Hitler April 30, 1941, it was disclosed. The role of the Gestapo was made plain in an order dated March 13,

1940—more than a year before the invasion—in which Hitler delegates to secret police Chief Heinrich Himmler "the special tasks of preparation of political administration—tasks which result from the struggle which has to be carried out between two opposing political systems."

Hitler, it was disclosed, issued his proposed time table for the Russian campaign June 11, 1941-11 days before the attack—in which he warned that "the Russians will fight, on the appointed spot, up to the last breath."

High Command records introduced as evidence disclosed that Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, Chief-of-Staff for the army, reported February 3, 1941, that plans for the capture of Gibraltar would have to be abandoned because the necessary artillery already had been sent to the Russian border area.

Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence, presiding, announced that each of the twenty Nazi defendants would be permitted to make one speech in his own defence when all the evidence had been submitted.

Under plans worked out by Rosenberg and filed as evidence, the Ukraine was to become an independent state, allied with Germany, while the rest of Russia was to be "divided into Reich commissariats."

D. J. McCarthy IS KILLED AT WINDSOR MILLS

Assistant Superintendent of Canada Paper Plant Accidentally Electrocuted While Inspecting Mobile Water Heater.

Windsor Mills, Dec. 10.—Dennis J. McCarthy, well-known local resident and Assistant Superintendent of the Canada Paper Company plant here, was accidentally electrocuted while inspecting a mobile water heater in the plant shortly before noon on Saturday.

Mr. McCarthy was born in L'Avenir, Que., 59 years ago and came to Windsor in 1906 where he was employed by the Canada Paper Company for 34 years, during which time he became Assistant Plant Superintendent. He is survived by his wife, the former Isabelle Davie, and five children, David, Albert, Harry, Grace and Kathleen.

The funeral will be held in St. Philippe's Church at 9 a.m. tomorrow and interment will be in Windsor Mills.

Threaten To Lynch Youth In Ontario

Shelburne, Ont., Dec. 10.—(P)—Some 500 residents and rural shoppers in Shelburne expressed Saturday night in a two-hour man-hunt which reached its crescendo in shouts of "Lynch him!" — "Hang him to the nearest post!" — as local and Ontario Provincial Police dispersed the mob which formed as

SHUTDOWN ENDS IN 3 TEXTILE COMPANY MILLS

Operations Resumed as Union Heads Accept Provincial Government Proposal for Settlement of Dispute.

Montreal, Dec. 10.—(P)—Three Montreal mills of Dominion Textile Company, Ltd., strike-bound since Tuesday morning, resumed operations today as the result of an announcement by Union heads Saturday that they had accepted a Provincial Government proposal for settlement.

Antonio Barrette, Quebec Minister of Labor, wired officials of the United Textile Workers of America, Local 120, Friday that the Department would assist in further negotiations between Company and employees, but only on condition that the 2,300 employees at the Merchants, Mount Royal and Hochelaga Mills return to work. Acceptance of the proposal was recommended by Union leaders at two meetings of workers Saturday afternoon.

Starting point of the trouble was a new plan of wage distribution, involving a new wage schedule, put into force by the Company last Monday, which a Dominion Textile spokesman said was completely in accordance with a recent decision of the Regional War Labor Board. Some 1,500 workers at Merchants and Mount Royal Mills staged a sitdown strike Tuesday noon in protest against "extra work loads," and Thursday Hochelaga's 800 employees walked out in sympathy. The strike was declared general and pickets were placed at all three mills.

The U.T.W.A. announcement declaring the strike over stated that the Labor Relations Board had promised an investigation into the dismissal Wednesday of seven Union

Formation Of New Cabinet In Italy

Rome, Dec. 10.—(P)—After grappling for sixteen days with the problem of forming a new Italian Cabinet, Premier-designate Alcide De Gasperi announced today that he finally had completed a government consisting of representatives of all the country's six major political parties.

The new Cabinet, which must be approved by Crown Prince Humbert and the Allied Commission, contains only three ministers who had not previously served in the Coalition Government of Ferruccio Parri, whose resignation November 24 precipitated a political crisis.

De Gasperi, a Christian Democratic party leader, retained the portfolio of Foreign Minister, which he held in the Parri Cabinet, and in the Philippines, in prisons, camps and hospitals in Japan proper, and on the prisoner of war ship Oryoku Maru during the vessel's nightmarish voyage from the Philippines to Japan.

Also ordered arrested were three Japanese naval officers. Two of the trio are being court-martialed by the Japanese.

The newest war criminal suspects were considered "small fry" in comparison with some of the Japanese arrested recently, but to Allied prisoners of war they ranked highest.

Included was Lt.-Col. Banzo Mori, who commanded the Vesuvius prison camp from 1942 to 1944, and Col.

Sign U.S.-British Loan Proposal

Representatives of the United States and Great Britain sign a loan agreement for American financial assistance to Britain reported to total $4,400,000,000. Proposal must now be sent to U. S. Congress and British House of Commons for ratification. At the State Department in Washington, where signing took place, are, left to right: Lord John Maynard Keynes, head of the British Loan Mission; British Ambassador Lord Halifax; U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes; and Secretary of the Treasury Fred S. Vinson.

Nazi General Who Led S.S. Troops Against Sherbrooke Fusiliers At Capriquet Is On Trial For Life

Aurich, Germany, Dec. 10.—(Cable)—Maj.-Gen. Kurt Meyer, former S. S. Division General who took an active part in the battle which developed when the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment and the North Nova Scotia Regiment attacked Capriquet airfield, pleaded innocent today to charges that he was responsible for the shooting of forty-eight Canadian prisoners of war in the Caen beachhead area in 1944.

Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald, of Windsor, Ont., opening the case for the prosecution, and reviewing the charges against Meyer, said that on the second accusation the Nazi general was held responsible for the shooting of twenty-three prisoners in eight separate instances on the afternoon of June 7 at the villages of Buron and Authie, five miles north of Caen.

It was there that the Sherbrooke Fusiliers and the North N. S. Regiment attacking towards Capriquet airfield met the 12th S.S. and a terrific battle ensued.

The chief prosecutor said that Meyer admitted he took an active part in leading this battle and was well forward as was his usual practice in an effort to "draw on" his young troops in this, their first engagement. He submitted that because of this the Court can reasonably infer that the accused must share directly in responsibility for what occurred and "indeed may himself be the perpetrator of some of these offences, or the immediate instigator of them."

"Evidence will further show that those prisoners who had not previously been killed were escorted to what is described as the Ancienne Abbaye or Ardenne which was established that day as Meyer's headquarters for the 25th Panzer Grenadier Regiment."

The trial of Meyer—regarded as Canada's No. 1 war criminal—opened here today in a panelled court room located in the former German barracks with the first five indictments with the reading of an 8,000-word statement surveying the case of Lt.-Col. Bruce Macdonald, of Windsor, Ont., chief prosecutor.

The original seven war crimes charges against Meyer were reduced to six but the indictment remains the same, with the first five indictments the German General for crimes committed while he commanded the 25th Panzer Grenadier Regiment of the 12th S.S. Division. The sixth charge—which will be dealt with later—involves crimes committed when he commanded the division. Maj.-Gen. Harry W. Foster, of Picton, Ont., and Halifax, is President of the Military Court trying Meyer.

He inspected a guard company of the Royal Winnipeg Rifles, commanded by Capt. W. J. Stitt, of Calgary, in a brief ceremony held today outside the barracks where the trial is taking place.

Dealing with the first five charges comprising the first charge sheet in the indictment, Col. Macdonald told the Canadian military court: "We are trying here today a man who, we shall contend, is supremely

State Rice Riots In Japan Likely If Policy Unchanged

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Dec. 10.—(P)—A warning from influential farmers that rice riots are inevitable unless the Government abandons agrarian policies coincided today with Gen. MacArthur's second demand that Japan's feudal land system be altered immediately.

Fifteen farmer representatives from Akita Province in Northeastern Japan said that muddled Government policies have produced such lack of confidence that the rich Tohoku district may sell only 60 per cent of its crop to the Government.

Meanwhile, continuing his roundup of war criminal suspects, Gen. MacArthur directed the arrest of fifty-seven Japanese accused of committing atrocities against United Nations nationals held in the ill-famed Canadian prison camp in the Philippines, in prisons, camps and hospitals in Japan proper, and on the prisoner of war ship Oryoku Maru during the vessel's nightmarish voyage from the Philippines to Japan.

Also ordered arrested were three Japanese naval officers. Two of the trio are being court-martialed by the Japanese.

The newest war criminal suspects were considered "small fry" in comparison with some of the Japanese arrested recently, but to Allied prisoners of war they ranked highest.

DISSOLUTION OF 2 GOVERNMENT BOARDS DEC. 31

Combined Production and Resources Board and Combined Raw Materials Board Will Be Dissolved, Premier King States.

Ottawa, Dec. 10.—(P)—Dissolution of the Combined Production and Resources Board and the Combined Raw Materials Board, effective December 31, was announced today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Mr. King's statement was issued simultaneously with announcements by Prime Minister Atlee and President Truman. The combined Food Board will continue probably until June 30, 1946, and special committees under the Boards being dissolved may remain in being for a time to deal with short supplies.

"We take this opportunity of paying tribute to the outstanding achievements of the Boards in the full and equitable utilization of resources for the effective prosecution of the war," the three leaders said in their joint statement.

"This novel experiment in economic collaboration unquestionably hastened the moment of victory. It is, however, our view that the work of the C.P.R.B. and the C.R.M.B. on its existing basis should come to an end. It has accordingly been agreed that these two Boards terminate on December 31, 1945."

The continuation of some control over commodities was considered necessary to handle goods which were in global short supply. For cotton, textiles, tin, rubber and hides and leather it was proposed that the committees set up under the Board to deal with those commodities should continue.

"It is also proposed that in all cases representation on the committees should be on an appropriate international basis having regard to their independent status following the dissolution of the Boards," the statement said.

It has been concluded that conditions do not yet permit the dissolution of the Combined Food Board. Because many foodstuffs are still in world short supply and because of

Iran Premier Hopes For Soviet Accord

Teheran, Dec. 10.—(P)—Premier Mahmud Hakim called today for the immediate evacuation of foreign troops from Iran and said he still was hopeful that direct discussions with the Soviet government would "produce the desired results" in establishing Iran's security.

"The Iranian government is ready to take any steps necessary to reassure the Soviet government and nations generally of its sincere desire to strengthen good relations with the Soviet," he said at a press conference.

He declared that any suggestions made by the United Nations Organization in regard to Iran would be "gladly welcomed," and that Iran was "confident" the three great powers will honor the Tri-Partite Treaty and Teheran Declaration and remove troops as soon as possible.

A special six-man council has been established to direct Iranian affairs during the present emergency.

Four Children Died In Blaze

Montreal, Dec. 10.—(P)—Four children lost their lives this morning in a fire in their suburban Sault au Recollet home.

They were Robert Cloutier, 14, and his brothers Jean Guy, 14, Leo, eight, and Marc, two. All were reported to have been asphyxiated.

First reports said the blaze did not seriously damage the house, in the north end of Montreal suburb. Robert, Jean Guy and Marc were said to have been found in a clothes closet while Leo was in bed.

The fire was reported to have broken out about 7 a.m.

9 LIVES LOST IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Two Victims in Train Collision When C.N.R. Crack Passenger Train Piled Into Rear of Second Train Near Armstrong, Ont.

By The Canadian Press

Most spectacular of the accidents which claimed nine lives in Eastern Canada during the week-end was a train collision 38 miles west of Armstrong in which two men died and 33 others suffered injuries.

In a Sunday morning storm, a Canadian National Railway crack passenger train piled into the rear of a second train near Jacobs, in Northwestern Ontario, and killed Arthur W. Hall, Toronto, a sleeping car conductor, and O. Mayes, of Winnipeg, another railway employee.

In other accidents, a young Wueber hunter died after a companion's shotgun discharged accidentally, a youthful coaster collided with a truck, an Ontario farmer succumbed to injuries suffered when his clothing became tangled in machinery, a Montreal child died in a street accident, an Ontario woman died from a stroke attributed to shock of a car accident, a Saint John, N. B., man was fatally injured by an automobile, and a duck-hunter's body drifted ashore on the Bay of Fundy.

Rosario Lowmyer, nine, was killed Sunday night when hit by an automobile on Centre Street, Montreal, as he tried to cross.

Jacques Sanbault, 18, of Beauharnois, Que., 22 miles from Montreal, died Saturday afternoon when accidentally shot in the leg by Fernand Allard, 17, also of Beauharnois, on a hunting trip.

When his coasting sled collided with a truck at a road intersection, Jack Taylor, 15, was killed Saturday in Juniper, N.B.

Ethridge Martin, 37-year-old farmer, was killed Saturday near Wallaceburg, Ont., when his clothing became entangled in a tractor-powered corn picker on the farm of Joseph Pegg.

Shortly after an automobile in which she was a passenger toppled from a farm bridge into an eight-foot ditch, Miss Clara Burke, 60, of Northwood, Ont., near Chatham, died Sunday of coronary thrombosis which a coroner said resulted from shock caused by the accident.

Struck by an automobile driven by Sgt. George Kelly, R.A.F., Florence Mahoney, 60-year-old foundry worker, died early Saturday at Saint John, N. B.

Sunday the body of Robert Bishop, Wolfville, N.S. service station operator, drifted ashore on the Bay of Fundy in the Wolfville area. Searchers found no trace of the body of Robert Warren of Wolfville, with whom Bishop left on a duck-hunting trip Oct. 13.

Gen. Patton Is Seriously Hurt In Car Smash

Veteran of Two Great Wars in Dangerous Condition Following Automobile Accident Near Mannheim, Germany.

By JAMES F. KING

Mannheim, Germany, Dec. 10.—(P)—Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who fought through two great wars without serious injury, was in dangerous condition today at Heidelberg following an automobile accident near here yesterday. A United States Army Headquarters statement said Patton was suffering from spinal injuries.

The accident occurred when an army truck was reported to have turned off a side road into the autobahn (super highway) and crashed into Gen. Patton's sedan. Gen. Patton and his chief-of-staff, Maj.-Gen. Hobart R. Gay, had left Bad Nauheim yesterday to go pheasant hunting near Mannheim. Gay and the driver, Pte. Horace Woodring, were unhurt.

Mrs. Patton today was en route to her husband's bedside in an Air

Mrs. Patton's plane left Washington last night, and was due to arrive in Paris tonight, flying via Newfoundland and the Azores.

Meanwhile Patton was being treated by Lt.-Col. O. S. Hill, an army surgeon. Maj. Gen. A. W. Kenner, theatre surgeon, also was at the hospital. An army statement, issued yesterday, said: "... a diagnosis of his injuries, which are serious, cannot be completed until tomorrow."

A combat engineering unit was summoned by an unidentified Red Cross girl and found Gen. Patton slumped in the rear seat of his sedan. An eye-witness said Gen. Patton's face was covered with blood from cuts suffered when he was thrown forward by the impact of the crash. Patton was reported to have said that, though his neck hurt, he felt no other injury.

The fiery Patton, who reached his 60th birthday last month, has been commanding the 15th Army since October 2, when he was relieved of his command of the famous 3rd Army, which he led from Normandy to Czechoslovakia. He previously had won fame in North Africa and Sicily. The 15th has been a "paper" army, primarily concerned with preparing reports on lessons of the war.

Frankfurt, Dec. 10.—(P)—A United States army medical bulletin said today that Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., is partly paralyzed as a result of injuries he suffered in an automobile accident yesterday but his general condition is "satisfactory."

Gen. Patton "passed a restful night and slept five hours," the bulletin said. He was reported "quite comfortable and completely rational."

It was disclosed that a British specialist in neuro-surgery, Dr. Hugh Cairns, of Oxford, has been flown to Heidelberg to examine the general at Mrs. Patton's request.

His general condition is satisfactory, but neurologically unchanged," it added.

Settlement With Russia On Balkans Issue Is Possible

By John M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Dec. 10.—(P)—A special investigation made for State Secretary Byrnes of political conditions in Romania and Bulgaria may hold one of the keys of success of the approaching Big Three Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow.

Results of the survey, made by Mark Ehrbridge, Louisville, Ky., publisher, are due to be released before Mr. Byrnes leaves for the Russian capital Wednesday.

Reports of diplomatic officials indicate Mr. Ehrbridge's findings make two main points:

1—That democracy and political freedom do not at the moment exist in Russian-dominated Romania and Bulgaria.

2—That there are no insurmountable blocks in the way of a settlement with Russia on the Balkans issue.

This latter point particularly is tied in directly with the plans for the Big Three Moscow gathering.

There is apparently well founded speculation here that the three Foreign Ministers may move on from Moscow to London to participate in the United Nations launching in January. There, if results are good at Moscow, they may seek to revive the five-power Foreign Ministers Council to consider such difficult questions as the organization of peace in Asia and the improvement of Allied controls in Germany.

MOON ECLIPSE WILL OCCUR ON DECEMBER 18

Washington, Dec. 10.—(AP)—A total eclipse of the moon—the first visible in North America since 1942—will occur the night of December 18th.

If skies are clear, the eclipsed moon will look like a giant red Christmas tree bulb. Even at total eclipse the moon is never completely darkened by the shadow cast when the earth comes between the sun and moon.

Rays from the sun are "bent" in the earth's atmosphere so that some light side-steps the earth. The eclipsed moon shows up ruddy in hue because the red light from the sun gets through the earth's atmosphere most easily. Blue light is largely absorbed.

During a total eclipse of the sun, the sun is virtually "black-out" because the moon, which comes between the earth and sun, has no atmosphere to bend solar rays.

The eclipse will start at 7.30 p.m. E. S. T., 8.30 p.m. A. S. T. and will end at 11.03 p.m., 12.03 a.m., A.S.T., the period of totality will be about one hour and 20 minutes.

Observers on the West Coast, where the eclipse begins at 4.38 p.m. P.S.T., may see the partially-eclipsed moon rising when the sun is still visible.

Dr. Charles G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institution says a couple of lunar eclipses—either total or partial—are visible somewhere in the world almost every year. In 1944, however, there was not one.

"It's interesting to think about what takes place on the moon during an eclipse," Dr. Abbott said. "Since it has no atmosphere, the moon is subject to rapid changes in temperature. When the sun is shining full upon the moon, the temperature on the moon's surface is that of boiling water."

FORD AND UNION OFFICIALS HOPE TO END IMPASSE

Union's Negotiations With Ford Motor Company Enters New Phase—General Motors Dispute Remains Deadlocked.

New York, Dec. 10.—(AP)—C.L.O. United Auto Workers' top officials planned conversations with Labor Secretary Schwelmbach today as the union's negotiations with the Ford Motor Company entered a new phase and the General Motors dispute remained deadlocked.

Union negotiators with Ford hoped to end an impasse that had developed over the company's demand for protection against unauthorized work stoppages and slowdowns.

The U.A.W.-C.I.O. says it has the answer in a plan for penalizing "wildcat" strikes. It expressed confidence the company will accept the union's company security guarantee to be presented later today.

Having rejected G.M.'s offer of a 10-per cent wage rate increase, U.A.W. Vice-President Walter P. Reuther still insisted upon "30 per cent unless the arithmetic proves us wrong" as negotiations were resumed. Rank and file approval of the union leadership's rejection of President Truman's recent back-to-work plea is considered certain.

Across the United States labor troubles affected approximately 400,000 persons, with the General Motors strike alone keeping 213,000 idle. Other continuing strikes involved 30,000 A.F.L. lumber and sawmill workers in the Pacific northwest, 10,000 to 50,000 over-the-road A.F.L. truckers in the mid-west, 10,200 C.I.O. glass workers in seven states, and 6,000 A.F.L. employees of the Greyhound Bus Lines.

their close inter-relationship, it is believed desirable to retain the Board as a supervisory and co-ordinated mechanism.

"The commodity committees of the Board will be abandoned as soon as the foodstuffs with which they deal cease to require international allocation. It is anticipated that the Combined Food Board itself will be dissolved on June 30, 1946, or sooner, if conditions permit.

"However, a few of the commodity committees may have to be retained beyond the termination date to recommend allocations of materials which continue to be in serious short supply. Arrangements were made last summer to associate other major exporting and importing countries with the work of the commodity committees. These committees will continue to operate on this principle."

The three Boards concerned all had headquarters in Washington. Munitions Minister Howe has represented Canada on the production and materials committees with G. C. Bateman as his deputy. Agriculture Minister Gardiner is the Canadian member of the Food Board with Dr. G. S. H. Barton, Deputy Minister, as his alternate.

The Boards were the co-ordinating bodies for integrating the production, material supplies and food programmes of Canada, the United Kingdom and the United States.

responsible both directly and indirectly for the killing by those under his command of the 41 Canadian prisoners referred to in the first charge.

"We shall seek to establish that he was the motivating force behind the cold-blooded, deliberate and calculated murder of these prisoners."

These crimes cover the period immediately after the D-Day landings in Normandy when Meyer commanded the 25th S.S. Panzer Grenadier Regiment of the 12th S.S. Hitler Youth Division. The second charge sheet consists of the sixth charge, involving the shooting of seven Canadian prisoners of war on June 17 when Meyer was commander of the division. It will be dealt with later in the trial.

Col. Macdonald said many of the prisoners were killed far behind the front line where there was no conceivable justification or excuse—other than possibly the brutal punishment of a helpless prisoner who refused to answer improper questions.

"If he was not directly responsible then we do contend that the prisoners lost their lives as a result of wilful or criminal negligence and the failure of the accused person to perform his duties as commander of the troops concerned."

The chief prosecutor disclosed that Meyer denied in interrogations that he had any knowledge of these atrocities. However, several days later Meyer said he only discovered about the atrocities two days after the murders took place when they were reported to him by medical officers attached to his headquarters.

In proof of the first charge, that Meyer incited and counselled the troops under his command to deny quarter to Allied troops, Col. Macdonald said he would call three members of Meyer's favorite company, the 15th Reconnaissance Motorcycle Company, attached to his said his department was considering the necessity of improving cold storage facilities on trains, docksides and ships in Canada and warehouses in Britain to ensure Canadian products would be marketed in the best condition in Britain.

Mr. Gardiner also said the Government was considering an increase in the advertising of Canadian products overseas.

5—The Agriculture Minister also disclosed that subsidies on cheese would be continued indefinitely and an effort would be made to maintain the relationship between the price of cheese and commodity prices cheese producers had to pay.

6—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Party Leader, advocated a policy of water conversion for Western Canada and land reclamation for Eastern Canada and won support from all sides.

7—Percy Black (P. C., Cumberland) suggested the use of war surplus explosives, destined for destruction, as a means of blowing drainage ditches in land reclamation project especially in the Mantramur Marshes between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

8—Mr. Gardiner, winding up the irrigation and reclamation discussion, envisioned expenditures of $20,000,000 in the next five years in a continuation of projects, costing a similar amount, which had been carried on during the last ten years.

9—Controls which prevented the sale of food produce in United States markets where prices were higher ensured that Canada had enough food, Mr. Gardiner said.

10—Justice Minister St. Laurent announced that attempts were being made to find ways to amend the Criminal Code so that more effective steps could be taken to curb crime.

11—Mr. Gardiner announced his department was considering the resumption of grants to grade A and B country fairs, now that the war was over.

12—Four bills based on the budget resolutions were introduced and given first reading.

The discussion on irrigation and reclamation came up during consideration of an agriculture estimate on this subject and before it ended Mr. Gardiner had told a ghost story and Dr. King Hazen (P. C., St. John Albert) had recited passages from Longfellow's Evangeline.

Mr. Hazen quoted from Evangeline to show that dykes were considered necessities for the Maritime marshlands even in the days before the expulsion of the Acadians. Tides were carrying in heavy layers of mud over land in his own Albert County that might easily be made into a productive area.

He said they would say that during training, in which Meyer took a particular interest, Meyer said to him on more than one occasion: "My unit takes no prisoners" and "I don't care what other units do; my company here has taken no prisoners."

Another witness will testify that on June 6, while on the way to meet the invading Canadians, one company commander went from a platoon to platoon telling the men they were not to take prisoners.

"To indicate these seeds did not fall upon barren ground but upon very fertile soil we have only to look at the loss of lives as detailed in the succeeding charges," Col. Macdonald continued. "The killings consisted of mass shootings in which as many as nine were killed at one time and of individual and very brutal killings of wounded soldiers in which it is believed that at least one officer participated."

A Polish soldier named Jesoinek who served with the 12th S.S. Division will be one star witness for the prosecution, Col. Macdonald indicated.

He will testify, the prosecutor said, regarding the shooting of 18 Canadian prisoners at Meyer's headquarters at the ancient abbey of Ardene.

The prosecution's main endeavor will be to fix upon Meyer responsibility for the murders. If they were committed either directly as a result of his orders or were done in obedience to his reiterated instructions previous to the invasion that no quarter be given, that prisoners not be taken or else be shot immediately after interrogation, the responsibility and hence the guilt must be his.

Obtaining evidence which it is hoped will convict Meyer has been the task of Col. Macdonald's unit for the last fifteen months.

Indonesians May Assault Batavia

Batavia, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Several thousand armed Indonesians were reported mobilizing in villages around Batavia today, possibly for an attack on the city, while British planes blasted the mountain village of Tibjabad, fifty miles south of the capital.

Large concentrations of natives were reported in Batavia's suburbs, and British troops were on the alert. However, reports of any new advance on the city itself were indefinite. One rumor said a new uprising was scheduled for December 14.

Earlier it had been reported that the Indonesians had attempted to filter into the Pandjone Priok dock area and had also attempted to set fire to an R.A.F. barracks in the suburb of Kramat.

One British officer, one British soldier and four Indian soldiers were reported killed Sunday in an Indonesian attack on the convoy route from Batavia to Bandung. In Bandung itself the situation was reported quiet.

An official British casualty list for the period of October, November and up to December 5 gave a total of 145 killed, 604 wounded and 167 missing.

Authoritative sources here today said acting Governor General Hubertus Van Mook may fly to Holland Thursday to report on Indonesian political developments to his government. The trip was considered routine, probably necessitated by inadequate communication facilities.

The work load changes would be looked into and a report would be made to the December 18th meeting of the Regional War Labor Board. Labor Minister Barrette said he would without delay call together representatives of the Company and the Union to discuss grievances of the workers.

In a statement released today, Bertrand Boissonnault, Industrial Relations Officer for Dominion Textile, said that "the inference would be that the illegal strike of United Textile Workers of America, Local 102, in three of our local mills has been caused by the dismissal of seven of our employees, and that these dismissals were 'anti-Union activities,' is untrue and requires clarification."

they took 21-year-old Robert Jones of Simcoe into custody.

Later Jones was transferred, on a charge of car theft, from Shelburne fire hall county jail at nearby Orangeville.

He was overtaken by Walter Little who, in company with several others in his truck, offered Jones a lift and, when Jones refused to get in, jumped to the road and grabbed him.

The arrest came in the wake of reports that several young women had been waylaid in Shelburne's darkened sidestreets by a man dressed in army coat, dark trousers and rolled rubber boots.

"First I knew of the trouble was when a young girl ran screaming down the street past my home," T. H. Gilchrist, Shelburne bank manager said.

This prompted further investigation which brought information that two girls had been stopped by the driver of a car and offered money to ride with him to Owen Sound, 25 miles northwest of here. When they refused, according to the reports, the man jumped for one of the girls while the other ran screaming for help.

There were reports too that other young women had been molested by an automobile driver and the car, Gilchrist discovered had been stolen from a line of parked shoppers' cars on the lighted business street.

The speed with which daily newspapers print news is largely the result of modern printing inventions. Chief of these is the Linotype machine, first introduced into Canada in 1892, which enabled type to be cast five times faster than by the old hand-setting method.

Delegation May Be Led By St. Laurent

London, Dec. 10.—(AP cable)—Justice Minister St. Laurent, who has acted as Secretary for External Affairs, when Prime Minister Mackenzie King was away from Ottawa, may lead the Canadian delegation to the United Nations Assembly meeting here in January.

The preparatory commission of U.N.O. now is in session with Dana Wilgress, Ambassador to Moscow, as chief Canadian Delegate. The Commission is expected to complete its work about Dec. 20 and most of the Canadian delegation probably will return home for Christmas by air. The Assembly may meet Jan. 7.

French and English are the working languages of the United Nations meetings and bilingualism is an advantage possessed by Mr. St. Laurent. Paul Martin, Dominion Secretary of State, also bilingual and a student of foreign affairs, is another possible Canadian delegate.

"Imperial Life Cheques will follow them wherever they go"

● To young people, the days and weeks seem long—but how the years glide by! To the people in the picture, it seems only a little while since the husband took out an Imperial Life policy.

Now, in their sixties, it brings them a regular income. They live in comfort, dependent upon no one. In their perpetual holiday, they know that, go where they will, as long as they live, their Imperial Life cheques will follow them.

Think ahead! Why not provide for your sunset years, now, through an Imperial Life income policy? It will give you confidence from day to day, free you from worries about your future and turn dreams into realities.

No matter what other investments you may have, there is a definite place in your life plan for Imperial Life protection. If you are in good health, act today. You never know about tomorrow. Imperial Life representatives offer self-made "social security."

Immediate Re-Opening Of West Ward Fire Station Advised By Underwriters

The immediate re-opening of No. 5 fire station, located at the intersection of McManamy and Belvidere streets, properly manned and equipped, is essential for the proper protection of Sherbrooke citizens against the fire menace, according to a survey of the local fire prevention system prepared by the Fire Branch of the Canadian Underwriters' Association and submitted to the members of the Sherbrooke City Council by J. N. Pryce on behalf of the manager. In addition, the Association also advises the installation of a new fire alarm system and a reduction of five cents on the present key rate for insurance in the city will be granted, provided the other facilities of the Department prove adequate.

The report declares that the present fire protection facilities are far from adequate and continues that it is impracticable to properly cover the area of the city for fire department service with the existing two stations and declares that provision must be made for the rapid extension and growth in the southern section of the city.

The equipment deemed necessary for the proper protection of a city of forty thousand inhabitants is also listed in the report, which will be studied at a special session of the City Council this afternoon. It recommends that the strength of the Department be brought up to six hose or hose engine companies, three ladder companies and one salvage company. Of the hose companies specified, at least three should be combination hose and engine type with an aggregate pump capacity of not less than 2,000 gallons per minute. One of the ladder companies should be equipped with a truck of power operated, aerial type, while the equipment for the other companies should be of the city service truck type. The salvage company, state the underwriters, should be equipped with a truck carrying waterproof covers, squeegees, mops, brooms, pails, sawdust, shovels, tarpaper, sprayer heads and a full assortment of special tools. The apparatus specified should be of automatic type of substantial design and with sufficient power to negotiate hills encountered under all conditions. Pumping engines should be of a make approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Mr. Pryce emphasizes that much of this apparatus is already in the possession of the city and that the list is made expressly to indicate the total amount of equipment required. The report also recommends that a total of fifty-four men be assigned to each shift, twenty-eight being assigned to the central station and thirteen to each of the outer posts. This is in addition to such extra men as may be required for substitutes for men off duty on regular leave or on account of sickness. It also declared as unsatisfactory the practice of using personnel from the police

THREE ONE-ACT PLAYS STAGED BY B.C.S. BOYS

Three one-act plays, "Bimbo the Pirate" by Booth Tarkington, "The Watch Scenes from Shakespeare's 'Much Ado About Nothing'" and "Banquo's Chair" by Rupert Croft-Cooke, were successfully presented by the Players' Club of Bishop's College School on Saturday evening. Mr. Lewis Evans, M.A., directed the production and Lorne Walls was the head stage manager.

"Bimbo the Pirate" is the story of a "gentleman pirate" who captures a ship on its way from Jamaica, whose only passengers are a wealthy merchant and his daughter, who, much against her father's will, has married a young captain. Bimbo is just about to force the youthful captain to enter his service as a seaman, when the marriage between the merchant's daughter and the would-be-seaman is revealed. Norman Soliman handles the lead very well and John Lawrence performed very commendably as the young captain. Eric Hickey gives a good portrayal of the young lady. In their task they were well supported by Dick Bradley, Mickey MacFarlane and Donald Lawrence.

The scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing" were rather a novel experiment, the players wearing modern costumes and it was well received by the large audience. John Scholes, as the Second Constable, and Paul Almond, as Dogberry, did very well, being ably supported by John Ross, Tim Ballantyne, Donald Lawrence and R. Morgan.

Perhaps the best received of the three was the last one, "Banquo's Chair," a detective story, with a clever surprise ending. Bill Boswell played the leading part of Sir William Brent, a retired Scotland Yard man, while Donald Lawrence portrayed John Bedford the suspect. Both actors did well in their parts. Others in the cast were Robin Miller, Tom Price, Donald Lawrence, Fred Rider and L. Rolland. Tom Creswell and G. Stairs were assistant to the stage manager and Peter Winkworth designed the costumes. The Players' Club will produce their major play in the autumn.

Interesting Meetings Held By Organizations At Lennoxville

The Women's Auxiliary of St. George's Church met in the Parish Hall with a good attendance. The meeting was opened with an Advent hymn and special prayers and Bible readings. Mrs. L. V. Parent presided.

The Treasurer reported that an acknowledgment had been received for the money sent to Quebec from the last meeting and that there was a small balance on hand, and five dollars of this was voted to Orphaned Missions. Several letters were read, one being from Rev. C. Brett-Terrill, of Labrador, prayer partner, thanking the Auxiliary for the interest taken and stressing the need of children's books. Several were promised at this meeting.

A nomination committee was named to draw up a slate of new officers for the coming year, consisting of Miss Stevens, Mrs. Boright, Mrs. Baker and Miss Davis. It was decided to hold the January meeting on the 11th instead of the 4th. Mrs. Parent thanked the members for their kind co-operation during 1945 and for the splendid work accomplished and stressed the hope for a banner year in 1946.

Archdeacon Jones then told the members something of the life of their prayer partner, Rev. Elton Scott gave an interesting talk on a conference he had attended in Montreal recently, the Christian Social Council, which was of three days' duration, and at which the many problems of the youth of today were discussed.

Rev. Scott said that the Rexford College in Montreal was giving a six-weeks' course on "The Preparation for Marriage," and stressed that all young people should take advantage of this course. The speaker also touched on the influence of the Christian family life. This talk was of great interest and the speaker was warmly thanked by Mrs. J. Morrison for his interest in the work of the Auxiliary also.

At the close the tea was served by Mrs. Burbridge, Mrs. Pearson and Mrs. Morrison.

CHRISTMAS SALE

Mrs. R. S. Lipsey, President of the Women's Association of the United Church, cordially welcomed a large number of Christmas shoppers and supper guests to the Gertrude Scott Hall on Saturday evening where the annual Christmas sale and supper was held.

The hall was gaily decorated with fir trees and lighted fire place decorated with pine branches and poinsettias.

The large tea table, which was in the center of the hall, was centered with a tiny tinsel decorated Christmas tree and tall red tapers in crystal holders and a gleaming silver service at either end where Mrs. J. T. Reid, Mrs. N. McLeod and Mrs. L. D. Smith and Mrs. Bradshaw did the honors.

The committee in charge of the delicious baked ham supper were Mrs. W. J. Lane, Mrs. J. McNaughton, Mrs. H. Webster and Mrs. L. B. Pierce who were ably assisted in serving by Mrs. McClary, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. E. Seale, Mrs. D. M. Ross, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. A. Willard, Mrs. A. Drennan, Mrs. C. E. Stealing, Mrs. F. Crane, Mrs. C. Butler and the Misses A. McKinnon, B. McKinnon, B. Richardson, M. Hamilton, A. Stalker and M. Merrill.

The many sales booths which were well patronized were: aprons, sold by Mrs. T. B. Majury, Mrs. W.

Richardson, Mrs. J. S. Marlin and Mrs. P. Pergau; home cooked foods, Mrs. H. Webster, Mrs. W. J. Marlin and Mrs. F. Woodard; fancy-work and gift suggestions, Mrs. H. White, Miss N. Lovering and Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown. Another similar table was in charge of two members of the Young Women's Association of this group.

This delectable supper of baked ham, scallops, home made bread and pies was well patronized as were the various sales tables and the splendid returns were most gratifying to add to the finances for the year's ending. This and all who helped to make this final event so successful is much appreciated by the Association.

The last business meeting of the year of the Women's Association of the United Church was held in the Scott Hall, Mrs. R. S. Lipsey, the President, presided. Mrs. Norman McLeod conducted the devotional exercises, reading a psalm, followed by an article from "The Saturday Night," on the Canadian Japanese question.

The reports of several committees were received. Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown reported that the Association and the Philanthropic Society had packed fifteen Christmas boxes for service men still serving Overseas. The Treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Abernethy, reported the very satisfactory financial condition of the Association, having the usual chicken pie supper.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. R. S. Lipsey, re-elected; 1st. Vice-President, Mrs. W. S. Richardson; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. W. J. Lane; Treasurer, Mrs. C. Pergau; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. L. Smith; Recording Secretary, Mrs. R. W. S. Nutbrown, re-elected.

The retiring officers were thanked for their faithful and efficient service during the past year. It was decided to send Christmas remembrances to several sick and shut-ins. The President named the members of the executive to be a Good Cheer committee during the incoming year.

Masonic Order's Significance Emphasized At Local Service

Ninety officers and brethren of Victoria Lodge No. 16 and Prince of Wales Lodge No. 63, A.F. and A.M., attended divine service at Trinity United Church yesterday morning. The service was conducted by the minister, Rev. Bro. Fred Williams, and the lesson was read by Wor. Bro. George E. Brault, Master of Victoria Lodge, Wor. Bro. B. Thorne led in the responsive reading.

Marshals of the parade were Wor. Bro. Henry Barlow and Wor. Bro. George Davidson. Members of the Knight Templars formed a guard of honor. Regalia was worn.

Miss Thelma Crawford, tenor, was the guest soloist for the morning service, with Bro. Gault Parker, Drummondville, at the organ.

"You're a significant organization," Rev. Mr. Williams declared, addressing the Masons directly, "You have been powerful enough to be hated. This is a sign that you are alive in the world, since to warrant the hatred and opposition of some people is an achievement."

He congratulated Rt. Wor. Bro. Robert Broadbent, recently appointed to office in the Grand Lodge, and Wor. Bro. Brault, who organized the parade, and welcomed all the Masons, "who represent an important cross section of the life of the City of Sherbrooke."

Illustrious kings and men in great and small capacities have been yours, Rev. Mr. Williams declared, maintaining that the Masons have a great tradition, history and message.

He urged the brethren to remember the tradition of "a glorious past" to ensure a "glorious future." "We who live in the present cannot help but be affected by the past. There are tides in life that would sweep us away from our goal, but we are reminded of a Christian tradition. We are sons of John Wesley here, but are all the sons of God. We are brethren in the arms of Jesus Christ, and the bogle is calling us to be true to the call of the blood."

Touching on the history of the brotherhood, Rev. Mr. Williams declared that members have behind them men of great character "who understood the value of a foundation, who knew how to use the plumbline, who were taught the essential value of the square and the level, and who found the true meaning of the deeper foundations and values of life."

The plumbline, he said, still tests the uprightness of men. "Your organization is preaching that God is central in states as much as in man if life is to be built according to the enduring pattern," Rev. Mr. Williams continued. He stressed that until the world appreciates this fact, "the tragedy of this century will continue until the world ceases to be. You stand before the open volume of the sacred law, and when the Bible closes, the Lodge will close."

Among the Grand Lodge officers, past and present, at the service were R. Broadbent, A. W. Rowat, W. Byham, W. Nutt, R. E. Mesher, G. T. Phelps, G. Ogston and H. Barlow.

THE GESTAPO LIST FOR GREAT BRITAIN

With Germany a thoroughly defeated nation and the leaders of its ill-famed Gestapo either dead or behind prison bars, the list prepared by the German secret police for use of the occupation forces in the British Isles can now be viewed with tolerant amusement. But, it may be taken for granted that this little booklet was prepared for no purpose of amusement, but rather was the fruit of Nazi research into pre-war Britain and was the invaders' guide to dangerous persons who should be put under lock and key—or rather into the new concentration camps which it was planned to open. Presumably the theory of the would-be conquerors was that if the better-known anti-Fascists were put safely away the rest of Britain would be docile and teachable.

But the book itself offers convincing proof of how little the Nazis understood the British temperament. They never realized that if the test had come people who never made a political speech in their lives would have been as tough and as troublesome as the most eloquent of Hitler's pre-war critics.

Still, here the list is, the painstaking collection of names of men and women who during the years of the Hitler regime had spoken against it and for freedom. It is a very odd list and the small fry were included with the great.

How diligent the Nazi note-takers must have been, searching through newspapers, listening to gossip, scrutinizing German passport visas, and keeping track of the poor exiles who had fled from persecution in their native land. For the larger part of the list, much too long to be given in full, is given up to German Jewish exiles. They were to be followed and exterminated. They had slipped from the Nazi clutches and the beast was angry.

Of the British list itself the main thing that strikes one is its extraordinary capriciousness. It is not an enumeration of the key men of British life, but for the most part of those who, being Liberal or Labor or outspokenly anti-Nazi, were known to the Nazi students of the British press and thus became natural objects for persecution. That some of them were pacifists is according to strict Nazi logic.

The Americans are also doing good work in making known other documents from the Gestapo's files and from the archives of the German trusts. There is wisdom in this if we are to bring home the nature of the Nazi system and its wide ramifications.

This is a marked contrast to the attitude of the British authorities who have been by comparison rather lacking in this spirit of enterprise and appear to sometimes have a poor sense of the value of publicity, even when it is in a good cause.

THE GREAT TREK

One of the greatest organized mass movements of people in history—the transfer of at least 6,350,000 Germans back to Germany—is now under way, as according to the United States State Department announcement. The four major European Allies have begun to bring back Germans from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary and Austria.

Some of these Germans have lived in their adopted countries for many years, but the greater portion of them moved in on the heels of Hitler's aggression, seizing the most valuable farms and properties in the occupied countries.

The tentative schedule for transfers drawn up by the Allied Control Council in Berlin is very interesting, listing the transfers approximately as follows:

From Poland: 3,500,000 Germans, 2,000,000 of which go to the Russian zone and 1,500,000 to the British zone. This will leave very few Germans in Poland.

From Czechoslovakia: 2,500,000 Germans, most of them from the Sudeten land, which Germany annexed after the Munich Conference of 1938. Of these, 1,750,000 will go to the United States zone and 750,000 to the Russian zone. This will leave only 500,000 to 600,000 Germans in Czechoslovakia.

From Hungary: The Allied Control Council agreed to admit 500,000 Germans into the United States zone, but Hungarian officials now believe they will transfer a much smaller number, possibly no more than 200,000.

From Austria: 150,000 Germans, all to the French zone in Germany.

ROMANIA'S ECONOMIC PROBLEMS

Romania, although one of the richest countries of the world insofar as natural resources are concerned, is going through an acute economic crisis at the present time. A breakdown of agrarian production and lack of transportation are the main causes of the pending period of hunger and misery. So complete is the devastation of means of transportation that if the Allies could give one thousand transport planes—thousands are lying unused on various European airfields—this might save the country. Romania has enough gasoline to run the planes and plenty of trained pilots.

Railways damaged by Allied bombings during the war were demolished by the Germans during their retreat and most of the rolling stock was destroyed or taken to Germany. Now Romania is bound by armistice terms to hand over to Russia more trucks and rolling stock than she can repair in a month.

The Germans also took away most of the Danube barges and tugs—now reported to be lying idle in the large shipping park at Regensburg, in Allied hands. Road transport, highly developed because of the cheapness of gasoline, has almost disappeared owing to the requisitioning of trucks and cars, first by the Germans and then by the Russians.

Economic experts say that if transportation were available and goods could be circulated more freely, high prices and the inflation danger would disappear.

Even more important than the transportation problem is the lessening of agricultural production, due to inefficient organization. Tractors have been requisitioned and are lying idle. At the same time appeals are being made to Great Britain for more tractors. Drought has left little fodder in the land and most of the cattle must be slaughtered.

Both industrial and agricultural production are affected by the presence of a large army of occupation. Manufacturers are loath to produce goods which may be used for the needs of the army and peasants have returned to the wartime practice of hoarding crops.

THE SUGAR SITUATION

Canadians who had hoped for an early and substantial easing of the current sugar shortage due to fairly large importations from the liberated areas of the East Indies are doomed to disappointment, according to authorities in these areas. These officials report that Java's sugar stocks are dwindling because of the Indonesian unrest and claim that other countries will be lucky to get any Java sugar at all.

Britain, the United States and even the normally sweets-exporting Philippines are bidding for a share of the Java stocks, which the Japanese reported had totalled 1,500,000 tons at the end of the war. The East Indies themselves, relying on Java production, consume 500,000 tons of sugar annually, authorities pointed out, and the situation is further complicated by the economic upheaval attendant on the Indonesian independence movement.

The situation is outlined by Dr. P. J. Honig, chief of Agricultural Affairs of the Netherlands East Indies economic department who declares: "I am afraid not much sugar will be available for export when the situation clears up. We have found less than 4,000 tons in Batavia godowns, or warehouses, 1,500 tons at Semarang and only 30,000 tons at Batavia."

"The Island's sugar production is all in Central and East Java—areas presently beyond Allied control. Indirect reports from those areas tell of organized, large-scale looting."

The Japanese Sugar Corporation reported 1,500,000 tons stored throughout Java at the end of the war, but the Dutch say the Japanese reports were incorrect and incomplete. Honig said the 1942 crop, harvested and processed under the Japanese, was 1,300,000 tons, after which production dropped sharply. Dutch stocks at the time of the Japanese invasion, he said, were 500,000 tons, and he added that probably only 7,000 acres were planted at the present time, as compared with pre-war plantings of 250,000 acres.

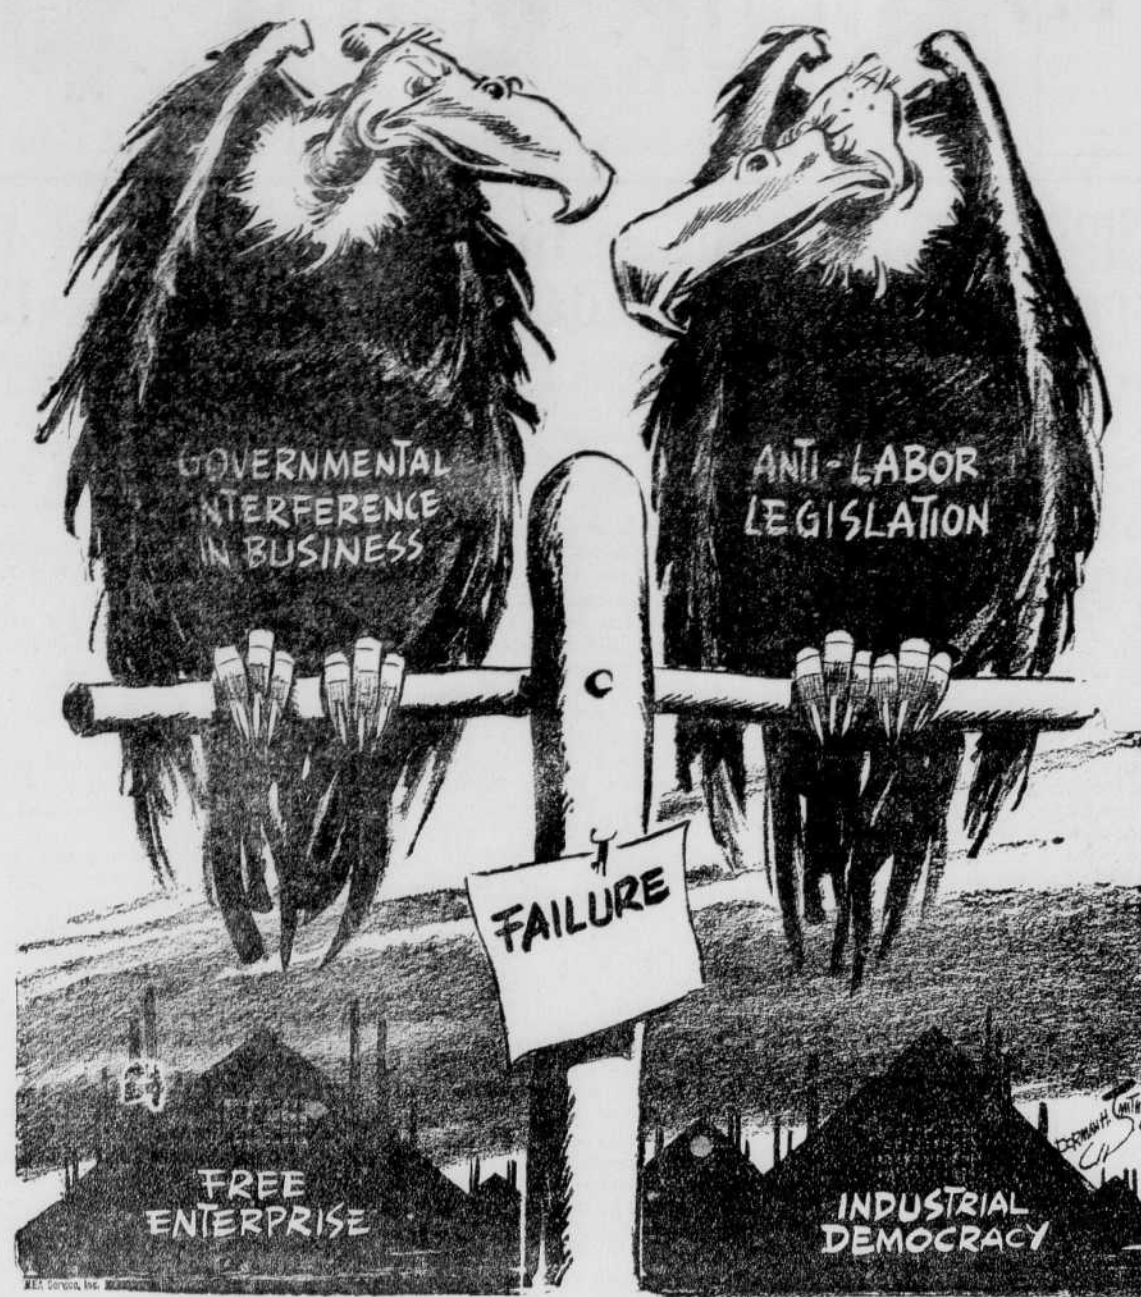

One source estimated Java's present stock pile was more than 1,500,000 tons, because in addition to stocks at the time of invasion, there was the 1942 crop and another already planted "which should have yielded 1,200,000 tons." He added that Japanese exports were restricted by Allied blows at their shipping.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

And if ye will not be reformed by me by these things, but will walk contrary unto me; then will I also walk contrary unto you, and will punish you yet seven times for your sins.—Leviticus 26:23, 24.

The severest punishment a man can receive who has injured another, is to have committed the injury; and no man is more severely punished than he who is subject to the whip of his own repentance.—Seneca.

PRESS COMMENTS

THE LAND OF THE FREE

Port William Times-Journal
The United States claims to be the land of the free and recent events show that it has strong grounds for the claim. Many thousands of workers there are free to strike when they want to do so. Thousands now are on strike for one cause or another and just recently a vast body of workers in the highly essential steel industry voted in favor of a strike whenever the wage policy committee and executive board of the union decided to call it.

The strike vote of steel workers involves 766 plants and about 650,000 workmen. It is reported that about 412,764 workers polled their votes. Of these 342,125 were in favor of striking and 70,639 were opposed. The ratio was about 5 to 1 for the strike. Those who did not vote at all numbered 237,236, approximately. Even if they had voted, and against the strike, there still would have been many too few to reverse the decision. As a matter of fact had these voted it is probable that at least a majority of them would have been in favor of a strike. The result is that the steel industry in the United States has hanging over its head the threat of a strike which has been authorized by the main body of the workers in the steel plants. When the signal will be given remains to be seen.

The chief demand of the steel workers made through their union, the C.I.O. United States Workers of America, is for a pay increase of two dollars a day. This may or may not be an exorbitant demand. It is for the union to prove that it is not exorbitant and it is for the steel interests to prove that it is. It is stated that the steel companies have said they cannot grant the $2-a-day increase unless they raise the prices for steel which the O.P.A. will not permit. This seems to bring the government into the picture again and adds another worry to those who are perturbing President Truman.

It used to be said that "Unhappy lie the head that wears a crown." That applied chiefly to monarchs who ruled by virtue of might and whose power was absolute or nearly so. It seems to apply also to government heads in "free" countries. There will be old-timers who can remember working ten or more hours a day for a dollar and if it comes to half will have the notion that a two-dollar-a-day increase is quite some boost. It certainly seems like a large pay increase even in these times when costs of living are comparatively high.

At any rate there may be a strike over the matter and if it comes it will be of a paralyzing nature. It will be a strike on a scale which only could be possible in a country where men are free.

The United States, however, is a free country and its workers have the right to strike, a right which is questioned by few. It all simmers down to whether or not a strike has public sympathy and support behind it. If it has that sympathy and support it is bound to succeed in the end. If it has not it will fail eventually. In a free country the great masses of the people are the final arbiters in all matters of national and world economy. That is a fundamental truth which neither governments, industry or the unions can afford to ignore or forget.

THE EXAMPLE OF SWEDEN

Saint John Telegraph-Journal
In Sweden, forestry for decades has been on a "perpetual crop" basis with the cut regulated by what nature, with scientific help from man, was capable of producing. The Swedes have no shortage of big logs even though lumbering has been the keystone of their economy for such a long period. With a land area of only 173,000 square miles they cut about 1,600,000,000 cubic feet of wood annually, while Canadians, with 2,008,000 square

RUSSIA AND OUR FRIENDSHIP

Ottawa Journal
The Very Reverend Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, is declaring from heavily-publicized Canadian platforms that "Russia wants our friendship."

We must all hope earnestly that the reverend gentleman is right, but many would like to see his statement backed up by more proof than has come for it recently.

In Moscow yesterday Ivestia, which does not speak without the Soviet Government's inspiration, charged that "British agencies" were making "a mountain out of a molehill" of disturbances in Iran, added:

"The BBC needed this in order to divert attention from the large-scale disorders actually occurring in Palestine and Egypt, and for which British authorities, as is well known, are responsible."

This, coupled with the Iran Government's charge that Iranian troops dispatched to deal with rebels were ordered by Russian forces to return to Tehran, does not make pleasant reading. Not any more than the British Government's statement, also yesterday, that Britain's protest over Russia's separate trade treaty with Hungary was "unsatisfactory."

The British people have an alliance with Russia, attach value to her friendship. They would welcome evidence that Russia holds the same feelings.

SARTORIAL PREFERENCE

St. Thomas Times-Journal
A year ago the National Association of Tailors forecast that men's haberdashery would break into shades of the brightest color, basing their prediction on the fact that discharged servicemen would like to depart far as possible from any color which might have even the remotest suggestion of khaki. In St. Thomas, at any rate, the prediction has not been realized, because veterans are favoring browns—light brown, dark brown, medium brown, red-striped brown—an old shade, as long as it's brown. The local clothing dealers say they don't know why it should be, and neither do we. Perhaps it's just a case of favoring that to which a person has been accustomed.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

By Wm. E. McKenney, America's Card Authority

FORCING END PLAY PULLS FOE'S TRUMP

Tournament bridge activities in Canada, which ceased during the war, are now being revived. George L'Esperance and Emile Beausoleil, of Montreal, recently won the Province of Quebec open pairs and finished second in the mens' pairs. Today's hand was played in the open pair event.

L'Esperance realized that East and West were attempting to take a sacrifice against their heart game contract. The five-heart stop was good bidding, and the play was excellent. When East's opening lead held the first trick, he shifted to a club and Beausoleil won with the jack. A small heart was led to the king, and a heart returned to the ace. Realizing that his only chance to make the contract was to find West with a singleton diamond, Beausoleil cashed the ace of diamonds and then led clubs. West tried to avoid the end-play by refusing to trump, but he was finally

Discarded Fiancee

Woman Jilted By Widower Should Pretend She Likes It

DEAR MISS DIX: For several years I have been corresponding with a man whom I thought was seriously interested in me, though he told me he could not marry me because he had vowed after his wife's death never to marry again. I felt so sorry for him that I tried to cheer him up and was willing to wait and carry on our courtship in secret, thinking he would change his mind.

Now I find he is going to marry another woman. I am so humiliated and feel that I can never trust another man. I had felt so smug and satisfied when I saw other women casting loving glances at him, for I was sure I was the only one. What should I do in a case like this?

ANSWER: There is nothing that you can do except to accept the situation with a smile and pretend you like it. Of course, when a girl is left flat, it is a bitter pill she has to swallow, but if she is wise, she takes her medicine without making faces over it, and never, never, NEVER lets down her hair and tells even her best friend about how badly she has been treated and about her broken heart.

BLUFFING, GOOD CURE
The cure indicated in such a case as yours is to put up a bluff and give the impression that you are not hurt and are not hurt. Instead of letting him broadcast that he ditched you, go to the beauty shop for consolation instead of the waiting wall. Buy yourself a lot of pretty clothes and get into circulation again. Like cures like, and a new boy friend will soon make you forget the old one.

But why, oh, why, will girls refuse to apply a few acid tests to men's lovelornness? Why will they let a man hang around them for years and monopolize their time and keep other men away, but who never pops the question? Why haven't they sense enough to see that a man who carries on a secret courtship never means to make good on it? Why, in a word, don't they make a man put up, or shut up, before they get serious about him?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have met a beautiful, intelligent, capable and understanding young woman who I believe loves me as much as I love her, and we plan to be married soon. My problem is this—she is majoring in biology and finds snakes very interesting. She has collected 15 snakes and plans to breed them as a hobby after we are married.

As I do not have any affection for snakes, would this necessarily create a marital problem?

ANSWER: Every man to his taste, and if you want to marry a snake-charmer it is your own fault, especially if one of your bride's pets happens to be a rattler. But if I were a man, I would put about a million miles between me and any lady serpent addict.

I can't imagine a happy home with snakes squirming and crawling all over the place, and having to watch one's step for fear of treading on a dear little cobra, or disturbing a python who was taking his rest on the sofa. I am confirmed in my opinion that snakes do not promote domestic felicity by divorce case I once reported in which a man demanded separation from his wife on the grounds that she made him sleep with the snakes in the wintertime in order to keep them warm, and that it made him nervous to have a snake crawl up his neck and stick its head in the coffee cup when he was trying to eat his breakfast.

So my advice to you is to think long and earnestly before you marry a girl with the snake complex. Remember the trouble that the serpent got Eve and us into.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am in love with a married man who can't get a divorce because of religious reasons. It will be impossible for either one of us to forget the other unless one of us quits our job, as we work in the same place and are thrown constantly together. What should I do?

ANSWER: Give up your situation. Remove yourself from temptation. It is better to lose a good job than a good name.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

WE NEED HANGERS—so, if you have any spare ones hanging around the house, please give them to our drive and we will credit them to your account.

Incidentally, until hangers are more plentiful, it would be wise to send a hanger with any article you wish to have returned on one.

The annual Christmas tea party and sale, sponsored by the Ladies' Committee for the benefit of the Sherbrooke Library, is ever a delightful social event, and on Saturday afternoon the many patrons who attended were cordially received by Mrs. Everett Bayley, President, and Miss Agnes Duncan, Librarian. At the entrance to Plymouth Church Hall, where this year's party was held, Miss A. Evelyn Bradley, Treasurer, acted as cashier. The delicious salad tea was served under the supervision of Mrs. Milo Lohrop, with Miss Gladys Mullins and Mrs. Francis Hoyer assisting. Candle-lit tables were arranged about the spacious room, where Mrs. Ralph Sanders was in charge of the bevy of attentive waitresses. These included, Mrs. W. J. Northey, Mrs. Charles Combs, Miss Thelma Sanders, Miss Margaret Earnshaw, Miss Jean Beattie and Miss Jean McLeod. Doing the honors were Mrs. R. C. Tait and Mrs. E. G. Bascom, who presided at the silver services at either end of the tea table, which under the artistic supervision of Miss A. Evelyn Bradley, looked exceptionally lovely, with large graduated red and white candles, effectively placed on pine branches, tied with silver and red balls, and arranged on a lace banquet cloth. The sales tables continued the season's motif with small Christmas trees, lighted red candles and red trappings. Mrs. W. J. Nubrown and Mrs. S. H. Bachelder, who were in charge of the attractive fancy work table, also supervised the sale of a beautifully dressed doll, the envy of every child, and grown-ups too, and for which Mr. P. S. Rugg, who officiated at the drawing, announced the lucky number, 485.

Mrs. D. A. Martin, of North Hatley, Mrs. George Lohrop and Mrs. Arthur Cross sold many lovely articles made of wool, featuring children's and baby clothes, of which they had a very tempting store. The sale of mystery parcels was looked after by Miss Sara Hall, who, in company with the other sales ladies, found no trouble in disposing of her wares. From every viewpoint, the 1945 benefit party for the Sherbrooke Library, was most gratifying success, its sponsor, the "Ladies' Committee" having carried out all arrangements with their customary efficiency.

the fact that in wartime Japanese women substituted a two-piece kimono for their time-honored kimonos, mostly because ration points on kimonos were so high.

Nearly as hard to find as kimonos, is lacquer ware. Tokyo shops have some, but Kyoto stores are fairly well stocked mostly with pieces of dug out of family attics for the unfortunates of the war.

Gift wrapping stands, so far, are out because paper is limited but wooden boxes can be had for the asking. Mailing home is a problem right now, as even air mail is bogged down while prisoners of war are flown back.

Most essential to the Christmas gift-seeking soldier is an English-Japanese conversation dictionary. An everyday scene in Tokyo stores is a group of holiday-minded men saying in their labored Japanese: "Ikura deska? Ikura deska?" which in English, means "How much?"

Kimono, which top the fighting men's shopping list, are as scarce as hen's teeth (and so are the hens, for that matter). Industrious Japanese—if they can secure the silk—probably will whip up some for the holiday trade, but right now it doesn't pay to try to do your shopping early. Too, bazaars are in the planning and stalls will be set up along the streets, ready for buyers.

PAID HIGH PRICES
First comers to Tokyo snapped up the few available kimonos, paying around 1,400 yen for the lavish ones (15 yen to the dollar). In outlying communities there are still a few kimonos to be had from Japanese women willing to sell their private stock, but stores have few. In mountain-hidden Nara, typical off-the-beaten-path village which was untouched by the war, the local shopkeeper had but two which he sold for 350 yen each.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

The Situation: You do not feel that you can send a birthday gift to a friend whose birthday you have remembered in that way for several years.

Wrong Way: Completely ignore the birthday so that the friend will think it has slipped your mind.

Right Way: Write a birthday letter, or send a greeting card. It is the thoughtfulness of having a special day remembered by a friend—not the gift itself—that is important to most persons.

Melboro W.I. Entertained At Home Of Mrs. L. Driver For Regular Meet

Melboro, Dec. 10.—The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. L. Driver. There were fifteen members and six visitors present.

The President, Mrs. G. Frank, presided, and the meeting opened by singing the hymn, "Silent Night," followed by the "Ode" and Mary Stewart Collect. The motto was, "God Bless Us, Everyone." The roll call was answered by members exchanging gifts.

The minutes of the last meeting were read by the Secretary, Mrs. Minnie Solomon, and were adopted, and the correspondence was read. Mrs. R. Kerr read the Treasurer's report, which showed a balance on hand of $34.63. One bill on hand was ordered paid. Two birthday cards were sent to persons outside the community. Cigarettes are to be sent to all local boys in uniform who will not be coming home for Christmas. All sick, aged and shut-ins are to be remembered by Christmas cards from the Society. These are to be in charge of Mrs. M. Watters.

Mrs. L. Driver, Mrs. Henry Fowler and Mrs. G. Frank were appointed as a committee to make arrangements to collect twenty-five cents per member to buy gifts and sweets for all pre-school age children of the community, the whole to be distributed at the regular Sunday School Christmas tree.

Two members handed in their birthday notices. It was moved by Mrs. H. Fowler and seconded by Mrs. G. Malbouef that ten dollars be sent to the Salvation Army.

Mrs. W. Adamson auctioned a box of bath salts, which went to Mrs. S. Milley. Mrs. M. Watters had her apron on hand, made from the County talent money. It was handed around among those present, who each sewed on a patch with their donation. The "Consumers' News" was distributed among the members by Mrs. A. Batchelor.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the National Anthem, and delicious refreshments, which were provided by all the members, were served by Mrs. L. Driver, Mrs. George Satterlund, Mrs. W. McMorris, Miss Helen Driver, Mrs. W. Adamson and Mrs. M. Solomon.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Fowler on Tuesday, January 8.

OBITUARIES

MR. ANGUS MACRAE, RICHMOND.

Richmond, Dec. 10.—The death occurred on November 13, at his residence on Dufferin Avenue, Richmond, of Angus MacRae, a highly esteemed resident of the town for the past forty years, and a man who will be greatly missed in the community. Of pure Scottish extraction, he was born at Glensandfield, Glengarry County, Ont., on October 10,
1869, a son of Malcolm and Ann MacRae. He received his education in the local schools and at Alexandria. In early manhood he moved to Montreal, where he was employed by the Lang Packing Company for a number of years, rising to the position of city retail supervisor.
While in Montreal he met his future wife, Miss Alexandrina Fraser, whom he married in 1908. Deciding in 1905 to commence business for himself, he moved to Richmond, where he formed a partnership with his brother, Kenneth, who was already established there in the retail grocery and hardware line, under the name of MacRae Bros. This continued until the death of his brother in 1916, after which he carried on alone successfully until his retirement in 1929.

Mr. MacRae was a man of sterling Christian character, quiet and reserved in his manner. He was sound of judgment, careful and efficient in all his undertakings. He was senior elder of Chalmers' United Church and took a leading part in the amalgamation of the Chalmers' and College Street congregations. He acted as lay representative at Presbytery for a number of years, was Communication clerk, an active member of the Official Board and in many ways showed his deep interest in the work of the church.

In municipal circles he was Alderman for Ward 1 for several years and was also an active director of the Richmond County Agricultural Society, in whose affairs his wise counsel and helpful assistance will be much missed. The Wales Home was another organization in which he took a deep interest as a valued member of several important committees and chairmen of the Grounds Committee. He was also a member of St. Francis Lodge, No.
15, A.F. and A.M.

The deceased was an active and successful canvasser for practically all of the nine Victory Loans, and was in fact engaged in this work up to the very moment of the seizure on November 10, which was the immediate cause of his death.
His hobby was wood-working and carpentry, and many samples of his fine work are cherished by his family.

The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, November 15, at Chalmers' United Church, with Rev.
Thomas N. Mitchell officiating.
There was a large attendance of friends and relatives, with a full choir.

The bearers were Messrs. Seth
Carr, Robert Hall, J. H. Coles, W. L.
Pope, Dr. C. R. Boast and K. G.
Nourse, and the pall bearers were Messrs. Louis Lemoine, Wesley
Lyster, R. E. McArthur, Alfred T.
Smith, W. P. Healy and H. C. Pease.
Floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. The impressive Mason ritual which preceded the church service was held at the house, and concluded at St. Anne's Cemetery, where interment was made.

Left to mourn his loss are his widow, the former Alexandrina
Fraser, two sisters, Annie, Mrs. D.
MacRae, of Alexandria, Ont., and Kate, Mrs. Thomas Bethune, of Star
City, Sask.; two sisters-in-law, Mrs.
K. MacRae, of Toronto, Ont., and
Mrs. Andrew MacRae, of Avonmore,
Ont., as well as numerous nephews and nieces, of whom Stein MacRae and Dorothy, Mrs. Ira Harris, of Toronto, Ont., Ruth MacRae and Lloyd MacRae, of Ottawa, and Gilbert MacRae, of Glensandfield, Ont., were able to attend the funeral.

One of a large family, the following brothers and sisters predeceased Mr. MacRae, Roderick, Donald, John, Malcolm, Kenneth, Andrew and Maggie.

MRS. J. A. PEASLEY, OF STANSTEAD.
Stanstead, Dec. 10. — Mrs. J. A.
Peasley, nee Emma Josephine Morrill, passed away at a Sherbrooke
Hospital on Thursday, November
22. Mrs. Peasley had been in failing health for several years.

The deceased was born in Rock Island, on December 29, 1874. The family moved to Boston, Mass., the following year, where she lived until 1909, when she returned to Canada.
On November 4, 1903 she was united in marriage to Joseph Albert Peasley.

The deceased leaves to mourn her loss her husband; a son and

Mrs. Florence Gooley, Of Coaticook, Won Prize At Victory Loan Dinner

a beautiful desk set valued at fifty dollars. Congratulations are extended to Mrs. Gooley.

The objectives and the amounts raised for the County were as follows: Magog, $545,000, $747,850; Coaticook, $406,000, $631,200; North Hatley, $127,000, $201,250; Ayer's Cliff, $112,000, $194,000; Georgeville, $80,000, $136,750; Border Communities, $455,000, $643,650; and Special Names, $500,000, $569,100.

Col. Triquet has for a long time been popular with the Canadian Legion, having been an associate member of the Quebec No. 13 Branch, while he was a sergeant-major and stationed with his unit, the Royal 22nd in the ancient capital before the war started.

He will bring an important message to the ex-service men, especially to those who have recently returned.

The newly-elected officers of the branch will be installed by George W. H. LeBrun, a member of the Legion Provincial Command, representing the Black Watch Association. Of the four officers to be installed, three had service in the war just over. Alexander Galbraith, President, who served in both wars; Jesse Bowbrick, first vice-president, an Imperial veteran of the first war; Herbert A. Plow, second vice-president, who served in the last war and had five and a half years in the Royal Canadian Navy as a Lieutenant on corvettes; and Percy C. Cowin, treasurer, who served in the last war.

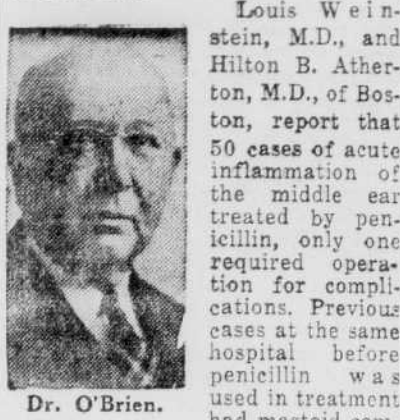

At this meeting, the winner of a Victory Bond will be announced.

The Doctor Says

PENICILLIN NOW USED IN EAR INFECTION

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Acute ear infections may cause inflammation of the mastoid bone; they also produce permanent hearing loss by destruction of vital ear structures. Penicillin now appears to be the drug which most effectively controls ear infections and their complications.

Dr. O'Brien.

Louis Weinstein, M.D., and Hiltion B. Atherton, M.D., of Boston, report that 50 cases of acute inflammation of the middle ear treated by penicillin, only one required operation for complications. Previous cases at the same hospital before penicillin was used in treatment had mastoid complications in from 28 per cent to 53 per cent.

Sulfa Drugs Tried

Discovery of the sulfa drugs raised hopes of those who deal with these infections that the ideal treatment had been found, and sulfa drugs were tried for both prevention and treatment. They were of little value as a preventive and their use in treatment led to variable results; sometimes the effect was satisfactory and at other times the course of the infection was little influenced.

Penicillin is of great value in ear infections caused by certain germs. Treatment is started as soon as possible after drainage is noted. Drug is administered by injection into the muscles every three hours and it is continued until there has been no discharge from the ear for at least 24 hours. Some patients require treatment for a longer time to dry up the secretions.

Middle ear infections result from upper respiratory infections, scarlet fever and measles. When the ear becomes inflamed, the patient experiences pain which varies from mild stabs to a deep boring sensation. Sudden relief from pain suggests the ear has opened. Coughing, swallowing and coughing make the pain worse.

Fever Usually Occurs

An infected ear makes the patient sick, and as a general rule there is a degree or two of fever. Eardrums have a tendency to develop at night. The home should be prepared for such an emergency by having on hand some ear drops. Application of external heat is often helpful, but a physician should be notified the first thing in the morning even though the patient feels better, as continuing home treatment of an ear infection may result in serious damage or complications.

As a general rule, infected ears are opened and the pus evacuated as soon as possible, as this aids penicillin in overcoming the infection.

LOCALS TROUNCED DRUMMONDVILLE 7-2 BEFORE RECORD CROWD

4,500 Fans Look On As Rand Moves Out Of Cellar Spot

Displaying considerable power, and period, Young scored Drummondville's last goal on a pass from Lefebvre, while Herb Carnegie counted for his second time six minutes later when McIntyre went right in on Tournant, drew him out of position and slipped the disc past him to make the count 5-2. At the three-quarter mark in this stanza, Raymond Courteau converted the puck into the Rand's sixth goal. On the play, Cote and LaBarre carried the puck into the Rand's zone. Cote shot from just inside the blueline but it went over the net and landed on the boards behind. Courteau skated in from the opposite direction, reached behind the net, brought out the puck and slid it past Tournant before he could move to stop him.

At 2:50 in the final period, Cote took a pass from Courteau who stickkicked his way in on the goal, drew Tournant out of position and at the last moment passed to LaBarre on the other side of the cage, who slid it over the red line for the Rand's last goal.

CLEANING THE CUFF
When Bruno Betzel, who got only about $3,000 take home pay out of $7,000 salary at Montreal last year, was offered a $6,000 job last week, he said he'd think it over the next day he signed to pilot Jersey City at $10,000 even though he would be profitable thinking even for an Einstein.

GRIMM CONSEQUENCES
Charley Grimm, the Cubs manager, tells about his "best performance" batting against Dutch Reuther. Charley hoisted a pop fly so easy that every man in the infield hollered for it. The next time Grimm came to the plate, Reuther called time, walked up to the plate and warned: "get ready to hit the dirt." "Why?" asked Charley. "You're beginning to hit me," Dutch replied.

SWINGING A WIDE LOOP
If George Mikan, the tall Depaul basketball centre, ever shows signs of falling down on his high-scoring performances, he may be replaced by his equally tall brother, Eddie. The scoring duels between these co-owners of a Joliet, Ill., roller skating rink are almost nightly features at Depaul's practices. The Pacific Coast League, which recently signed Ziggy Sears as umpire, likely will take on Lonnie Warneke in the same roll. He'll have to be good to uphold the league's "major league" rating with fans who condemned the umpiring all last season.

Principal Interest In N.H.L. To Centre On Fight For Second Place

By The Canadian Press
Unless Montreal Canadiens falter badly, it appears that the principal interest in the National League race will focus upon the struggle for second place.

Canadiens haven't the kind of a clutch on first place they had last season, but they're playing consistently enough hockey to remain in the top tier week after week.

Meanwhile their closest rivals—Chicago Black Hawks, Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins—are working up such an earnest argument over the runner-up spot that none has been able to overtake Canadiens.

Bruins threatened momentarily with a six-game undefeated streak that carried them from fourth to second place, but they slipped back into fourth last night after losing an 8-3 verdict at Chicago.

It was Boston's first defeat since Nov. 10 and it thrust Chicago into a second place tie with Detroit, who conquered Canadiens 2-1 at home on Adam Brown's goal in the last four minutes of play.

In the third N.H.L. game Sunday, New York Rangers met Toronto Maple Leafs in a "basement" game and took a 2-1 triumph on home ice. In defeat Leafs dropped into a tie for last place with the reinforced Rangers who have two games in hand on Leafs.

Bruins encountered double disaster on the week-end that was to have launched their announced offensive campaign, lost 1-0 to Canadiens in Toronto Saturday.

AUTHORITY MAY BE WITHDRAWN FROM CHANDLER

By JIMMY JORDAN

Chicago, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Major league baseball moguls who last spring elected Kentucky's A. B. (Happy) Chandler to the commissionership of baseball expect some sort of debate here this week over just what powers the late K. M. Landis' successor will wield.

A breach between the men who pay the bills and the new "Czar" slowly has been developing, and at last week's minor league meetings in Columbus, O., the argument virtually reached a stage of open warfare.

That argument is being carried over into the three-day meetings of the major league here today. It is expected to be the highlight of the annual mid-winter gathering.

Already the major club owners seem on the way to eliminating the clause which gives Chandler power to overrule any legislation deemed "detrimental to baseball."

The clause was eliminated last week. The majors don't want it either. This authority was Landis' biggest stick.

However, talk around the hotel lobbies indicated Chandler and the club representatives would reach a "middle-road" agreement on the scope of his authority.

Such questions as to whether the Pacific Coast League is to be accepted as a third big league circuit, and the number of night games to be played in the majors also are up for consideration. It appeared doubtful there would be much swapping in the ivory market.

Among player deals already rumored as in the discussion stage are those which would send Detroit's Rudy York and Cleveland's Jim Bagby to Boston Red Sox, and another that would see Cleveland swap Jeff Heath to Washington for George Case. However, there was no comment from club officials on these reports.

Bisons Now Within One Point Of A.H.L. Eastern Division Leaders

By The Canadian Press

Buffalo Bisons earned three points in their two week-end games to move within one point of the American Hockey League eastern division leaders, Hershey Bears, who split in their two fixtures. Indianapolis Capitals, top club in the Western section, remained five points in front of their nearest rivals, Pittsburgh Hornets, as they won their only game while the Hornets won and drew.

Buffalo drubbed New Haven Eagles 6-3 last night after being held to a 4-4 draw by Pittsburgh Saturday. Hershey whipped Providence Reds 5-2 Saturday but were nosed out 3-2 by the powerful Indianapolis Capitals last night. Providence suffered their second straight setback last night bowing 4-1 to the Hornets while other games saw Cleveland Barons drop a close 2-1 decision to the improved St. Louis Flyers after chalking up an 8-6 Saturday victory over the Eagles.

Big Mike McMahon, recently acquired by Buffalo from Montreal Canadiens, was a big factor in the Bisons' victory over New Haven, collecting one goal and three assists in his debut on Buffalo ice. Sharing honors with the hard-hitting defence man was Paul Mundick who clicked for three markers, giving him a five-goal total for the week-end. Murdo McKay and Doug Lewis earned the other Bisons tallies and Joe Bell, Norm Larson and Bob Dawes scored for Eagles.

Vic Lynn equalled Mundick's two-goal effort when Buffalo tied Pittsburgh 4-4, getting the other two Bisons counters. Pittsburgh gained the draw on Howard Mackie's long shot that tied the game up in the final minute. Other Hornets scorers were Don Metz, Doug McMurdy and Wally Wilson.

Providence Reds built up a 2-0 lead on first period goals by Bill McComb and Roger Bedard Saturday, but Hershey Bears replied with five straight in the second session to win out 5-2 as the final game was scoreless. By Butler, Jack Shewchuk, Armand Gaudreault, Gino Rozzini and Bill Jennings were the Bears' marksman.

The Bears were unable to fathom a stubborn Indianapolis defence as they dropped the 3-2 verdict to Caps last night. Pete Leswick got the winning tally in the third period when his shot caromed into the net off a Hershey player's skate. Johnny Holota and Les Douglas fired the other Cap counters while Ken Smith and Armand Gaudreault connected for Hershey.

Pittsburgh coasted to their 4-1 victory over Providence outclassing the Reds all the way. Marcel Brodeur, Peanuts O'Flaherty, Doug McMurdy and Bobby Walton gave Hornets a commanding lead before Lloyd Roubell scored Reds' lone marker.

Morey Rimstad paced St. Louis to their close 2-1 decision over Cleveland, coming through with the winning goal and feeding Defenceman Bill Allum for the other. All scoring took place in the second period with Allum sending Flyers ahead and Bus Brashaw tying it up on an unassisted goal that set the stage for Rimstad's clincher two minutes before the stanza ended.

Cleveland had an easy time whipping the lowly New Haven Eagles Saturday as defenceman Alex Milns filled in as goalie for the regular Eagle netminder, Yves Nadon, who was taken sick before the contest. The victory was the Barons' eighth straight on home ice and their offensive was led by Tommy Burlington and Ants Atanas who scored two goals each. Norm Larson fired three for New Haven.
