Looted Bodies Recovered From Mexico Air Disaster

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — The looted bodies of the 45 victims of Mexico's worst air disaster were being brought to Guadalajara today for identification.

At the rain-swept mountain-top scene five miles away, investigators sought to learn what caused the Constellation of the Aeronaves de Mexico Line to crash into El Picacho peak Monday night during an electrical storm.

The plane was climbing away from a takeoff. One official said 10 feet more altitude would have taken it safely over the peak.

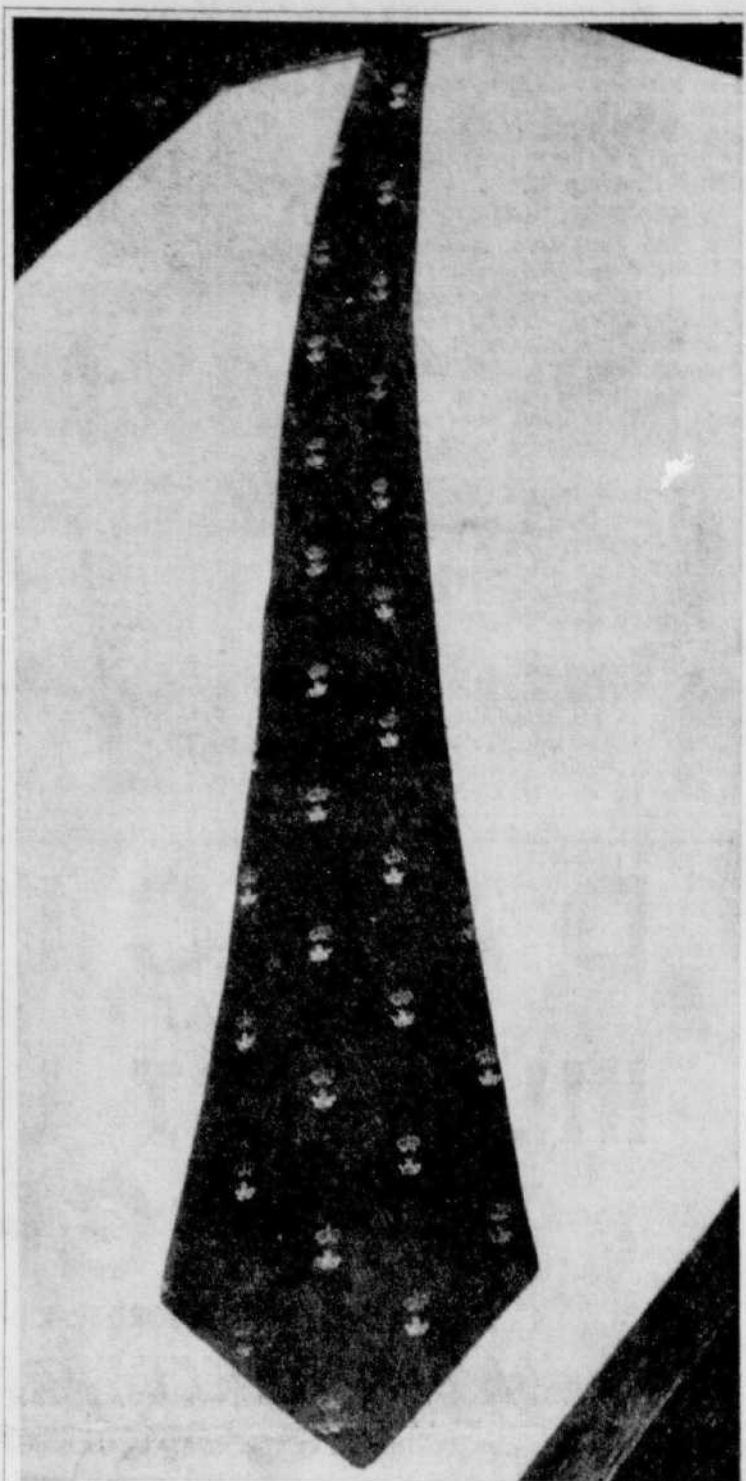

The dead included 13 American and two Canadian passengers — all residents of California — and two American engineers on the crew.

SEARCH FOR LOOT

The army was ordered to make a house-by-house search of Tlajomulco village, about four miles from the crash scene, in an effort to recover property looted from the wreckage.

Searchers arriving from Guadalajara more than eight hours after the crash found the bodies and luggage stripped of money, jewelry and some clothing. Officials charged that villagers, awakened by the explosion and flames, had raided the wreck.

One Mexico City newspaper said "human buzzards" had visited the disaster scene.

Khrushchev Raps Tito Again

LONDON (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev is stepping up the pressure on Yugoslavia for its "heresy" in deviating from the Kremlin line.

The Soviet prime minister, intervening personally and publicly for the first time in the latest ideological dispute between Yugoslavia and the other Communist countries, made a slashing attack on President Tito's policies Tuesday in Sofia, Bulgaria.

He was addressing the seventh congress of the Bulgarian Communist party, one of the staunchest supporters of the Moscow pattern.

In an emotional speech reported by Tass news agency, Khrushchev defended Yugoslavia's 1948 expulsion from the Cominform grouping of Communist satellites.

He accused the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest of being "in substance" a centre of revolutionary activity in Hungary's 1956 anti-Communist revolt.

CALLED "TROJAN HORSE"
And he charged that Yugoslavia was the "Trojan horse" of imperialism and the chief culprit of "revisionism"—the Communist term for any deviation from the Moscow line.

The Soviet premier's broadsides were delivered after five weeks of unremitting pressure on Yugoslavia by every other Communist state.

Resentment flared into the open when the Yugoslav Communist party, at a congress in April, once again affirmed its "own road to socialism" and its independent, non-bloc policies.

Recruiter's Eden In Montreal

MONTREAL — Master Sergeant Joseph Sheridan of the United States Army has stumbled upon a recruiting officer's paradise, but he's not happy about it.

"It's been a bit embarrassing," he complains. "We're up here as representatives of the U.S. army exhibit unit, not as a recruiting crew."

The sergeant is in charge of the U.S. satellite and army progress exhibits at the Montreal International Trade Fair.

Young Montrealers have been eyeing the exhibits, then asking if they can join the U.S. army.

"We've had at least 25 inquiries in the first five days of the fair," M-Sgt. Sheridan says. The young men—between 20 and 25—ask first about schooling, then the length of service and the choice of occupations the army offers.

"We just can't answer their questions," says Sgt. Barne Arthur, M-Sgt. Sheridan's partner. "We refer them to the American consulate."

SARTORIAL ACCOMPLISHMENT — Governor-General Massey was the designer of this dark blue silk tie to be worn by present and past governors-general and members of their personal staffs. The tie, which has been approved by the Queen, has a pattern of royal crowns and gilt maple leaves. (CP Photo)

Foreign Aid Increase Suggested By Winters

MONTREAL (CP) — Former works minister Robert Winters called today for Canada to step up its foreign aid program "to take up the increasing tendency toward slackness in our economy and at the same time to benefit peoples elsewhere."

In an address to the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the former member for Queens, Lunenburg said it seems only logical that surpluses which cannot be sold for cash should be made available to needy countries.

Mr. Winters, now president of Rio Tinto Mining Company of Canada, was one of two persons discussing present and future issues to be faced by the country's industrial leaders.

LOCKED IN COLD WAR

"The major powers of the world now are locked in a cold war in which each is trying to gain ascendancy over the other in the arena of destruction and defence, but the end goal is economic domination rather than mere short-term military ascendancy."

"In this impact of the real threat from Russia and other Communist countries is still to be felt."

In a discussion of American influence on the Canadian economy, President Ron W. Todgham of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada said the achievement of complete autonomy of this country's industry "would become a costly sacrifice on the altar of patriotism."

RODE COAT-TAILS
"We have achieved our present high standard of living largely through riding on the coat-tails of the great mass market which exists in the country to the south of us."

"Until such time as we have an enormously greater population, creating an increased domestic market for our products, we will continue to ride those coat-tails."

During other sessions, the more than 1,300 delegates attending the "parliament of Canadian industry" were to discuss United States trade policies, labor relations, labor costs, inflation, transportation and marketing. The meeting ends Thursday.

Red Press Chides Canada For Part In NORAD

MOSCOW (CP) — The Soviet press has chided Canada for participation in NORAD, which makes her "not only dependent on the United States but a potential arena of atomic war."

Canada now shares to a certain extent responsibility with the United States, under the North American joint defence system for "provocational flights of American planes toward the Soviet Union's borders," says an article in Izvestia.

Izvestia describes the NORAD system as "aggressive" and says it places the RCAF completely under U.S. control.

In the light of the agreement with the U.S., Prime Minister Diefenbaker's recent message to Premier Khrushchev "attempting to justify" the American flights as well as the American proposal for mutual Arctic inspection "becomes especially clear."

De Gaulle In Algeria To Confer With Rebels

Tunisian Dispute Easing

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The tension-ridden French-Tunisian dispute appeared headed back toward friendly negotiations today.

United Nations diplomats expressed the belief that conciliatory messages exchanged by Premier de Gaulle and President Bourguiba had averted a security council fight which might have had far-reaching effects.

The council was scheduled to resume debate this afternoon on French and Tunisian complaints against each other, but informed quarters said the emphasis would be on a renewal of private talks.

Tunisian sources said Ambassador Mongi Slim would declare his country's readiness to resume negotiations with France on the basis worked out by the British-American good offices committee earlier this year.

Derby Results, Winners

EPSOM, England (AP) — Hard Ridden today won the 179th Derby. Paddy's Point was second.

There was a photo finish between Nagami and Boroco II for third place. The judges gave third place to Nagami.

Hard Ridden's rider was the veteran jockey Charlie Smirke. The winner is owned by Sir Victor Sassoon, who won last year's Derby with Crepello.

WAS 18-TO-1 CHOICE
The starting price for Hard Ridden was 18 to 1. Wallaby II, a French horse, was the favorite at 4 to 1.

Second-place Paddy's Point started at 100 to 1 and Nagami 10 to 1.

This was the fourth Derby win for Smirke, having ridden Windsor Lad in 1934, Mahmoud in 1936 and Tulyar in 1952.

The Derby sets a premium on tactics and experience and it has seldom paid off better than today. The race is over a 1½-mile course shaped like a tongue — the finish is up-hill. It takes a real stayer to win.

Hard Ridden's time was two minutes, 41.5 seconds. The course record is 2:33.8 set by Mahmoud. The race was run this way: After two furlongs, Milander took a clear lead over Arctic Gittel, with Boccaccio, Guersillus.

Fast Delivery

LONDON (Reuters) — One million doses of Canadian-made Salk anti-polio vaccine have arrived in Britain ahead of schedule, the ministry of health said Tuesday night. The University of Toronto's Connaught Laboratory hurried delivery so Britain's current vaccination program can be completed. The delivery completed a 4,000,000-dose order.

Roncarelli Vs. Duplessis

OTTAWA (CP) — Counsel for Frank Roncarelli is expected to conclude today the argument in an appeal before the Supreme Court of Canada for $90,000 damages from Premier Duplessis of Quebec.

Frank R. Scott, law professor at McGill University, in two days of hearings so far has sought to show that Mr. Duplessis illegally ordered the Quebec liquor commission to suspend the former Montreal restaurant owner's liquor licence.

He argued that the liquor licence was cancelled by Commission Chairman Edouard Archambault because Mr. Roncarelli, an adherent of the Jehovah's Witnesses, used his legal right to post bonds in 393 cases where his co-religionists were charged with distributing pamphlets without a city permit.

CANCELLED IN 1946
The charges were later withdrawn or dismissed and Mr. Roncarelli stopped posting bonds three weeks before his licence was cancelled in December, 1946.

Mr. Scott argued Tuesday that Mr. Duplessis could be sued for damages because he acted illegally, outside of the statutory powers given to him as premier and attorney-general.

Quebec statutes gave him no authority to advise the commission, an autonomous body, or order its chairman to cancel a licence.

EXCEEDED POWERS
He also contended Mr. Archambault exceeded his discretionary powers by cancelling the permit because such discretion was enacted only to enforce liquor laws.

Mr. Roncarelli had not been charged with breaking the liquor laws and the only reason for cancelling the licence was that he had exercised his right to post bond for Jehovah's Witnesses.

Mr. Roncarelli originally sued Mr. Duplessis for $118,000. He was given $8,123 by the Quebec superior court. The Quebec Court of Appeal upset this judgment and cleared Mr. Duplessis.

The former restaurateur, now an inspector with the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, is asking the Supreme Court to award him $90,000.

Hero's Welcome Awaits Him

ALGIERS — (AP) — Charles de Gaulle landed in Algiers today for a fateful meeting with the French insurgents who seized control of the vast North African territory from the Paris government de Gaulle himself now heads.

A tumultuous hero's welcome awaited the wartime leader brought back to power by the insurgency of French colonists and military chiefs in Algeria.

Waiting beside the runway were Gen. Raoul Salan, the top insurgent commander, and all the other leading military men and civilians of the public safety committee now ruling Algeria.

A bright sun beat down on the flag-decked airport and the massed thousands waiting to cheer de Gaulle. Helicopters hovered overhead as a V-formation of eight fighters escorted the premier's twin-jet Caravelle in.

Dressed in a sack-fitting general's uniform, the usually grim de Gaulle beamed as he stepped from the sleek 500-mile-an-hour jetliner.

MEETS INSURGENTS
After the usual playing of the Marseillaise and review of troops units, de Gaulle went down the line of military leaders, shaking hands, and the insurgent leaders were introduced to him.

Tremendous cheers went up from the huge crowd, which broke through police lines at several points. However, the crowds were quickly pushed back.

Thousands awaited him along the 15-mile route into Algiers, and in the city's streets. The crowds had begun massing almost three hours before his arrival.

Salan headed the official welcoming committee on the airport apron and shook hands with de Gaulle.

Biggest Talker Is A Woman

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The biggest talker in the United States — at least officially — and right now — is a pretty Fayetteville secretary, 27-year-old Mrs. Lois Grant.

Mrs. Grant ended a non-stop talk — a — then in mid-afternoon Tuesday after having been on radio station WFLE here continuously for 27 hours, 31 minutes and 55 seconds.

Her objective was a 26½-hour national chat record set last year by a midwestern disk jockey.

Speaking without notes in a soft, low voice, Mrs. Grant touched on everything from windshield wipers to sack dresses.

Just how long Mrs. Grant's feat will stand remains to be seen. As she stepped wearily away from the mike, a 63-year-old housewife, Mrs. Lih McCauley, bounced up to try to break Mrs. Grant's record.

Crosby On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Company said Tuesday it has signed Bing Crosby to a five-year radio and television contract. The contract, as outlined by ABC, calls for Crosby to appear in a minimum of two 90-minute specials on TV each year.

Bus Over Cliff
QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Eleven persons were killed and 29 injured Tuesday when an overloaded bus plunged over a cliff near the city of Tulcan.

Stiff Criticisms End With Defeat Of Non-Confidence Vote

OTTAWA (CP) — Stiff opposition criticisms of the government's record on unemployment and fiscal relations with the provinces have ended—temporarily at least—with defeat of a Liberal non-confidence motion by the Progressive Conservative majority in the Commons.

The vote Tuesday night climaxed a two-day debate in which Opposition speakers worried away at two main points—the government's record in combating unemployment and the fact that it is not prepared to say yet when a federal-provincial conference on tax-sharing will be held.

Lionel Chevrier, former Liberal transport minister, said the government has contradicted itself on both points.

NO PROGRAM
No major public works program had been started in the first four or five months of this year contrary to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's campaign claims that $270,000,000 would be spent in the first three months of 1958 to counter unemployment.

Further, Mr. Chevrier said, the promised federal-provincial tax-sharing conference had not been called. The one last November had devoted perhaps five or 10 minutes to fiscal matters during the two days it met.

The defeated non-confidence motion presented Monday by Opposition Leader Pearson, regretted the government's "failure" to call a conference to deal with unemployment or to state its policy on maintaining a central feature of present tax-sharing agreements with the provinces. The vote was 155 to 43 with the CCF supporting the Liberals.

DEBATED HOSPITAL ACT
The Commons then debated the government proposal to change the Hospital Insurance Act so as to allow the four western provinces and Newfoundland to begin receiving federal payments by July 1.

It also heard from Revenue Minister Nowlan that a start will be made this year on installing facilities for an Arctic radio service.

Mr. Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, also criticized federal payments by July 1.

Mr. Diefenbaker, replying to a Commons question of Opposition Leader Pearson, said U.S. bombers bearing nuclear weapons occasionally fly over Canada.

FLIGHTS APPROVED
Each flight was individually approved first by Canada, there was no blanket authority, and the nuclear weapons were "inactivated" to avoid accident.

"I wish to make one thing perfectly clear," the prime minister said, "... in any of those flights to which I have made reference none has approached or been to the borders of Canada and the U.S.S.R."

Mr. Diefenbaker said procedures followed in connection with the flights were instituted by the former Liberal government and have not since been changed.

GERMANS UPSET?
However, there has been some Parliament Hill comment that German circles were slightly upset that Dr. Heuss did not get a warmer welcome. Only small numbers of spectators turned out for public functions in connection with the visit.

Informants said Prime Minister Diefenbaker was perturbed that when he introduced Dr. Heuss at a session of both houses of Parliament Monday only 40 of the 264 Commons members and fewer than half the 96 Senators were on hand.

Mr. von Brentano, who has had a round of talks with Canadian government officials, expressed satisfaction Tuesday that Western Germany is in "very large agreement" with Canada on such important international questions as relations with Russia, NATO and policy towards a summit conference.

Today's Chuckle
The trouble with being punctual is that there is no one there to appreciate it.

ULVERTON — A meeting of the W.A. of the United Church, held in the church vestry, was opened with prayer by Rev. E. New. The president, Mrs. E. Smith, was in the chair. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. R. Graham.

The annual Presbytery meeting will be held in Waterville, June 10th. Mrs. F. Smith was appointed as delegate to attend this meeting.

It was decided to give one life membership per year instead of having a flower fund.

Devotional portion of meeting was taken by Mrs. A. Smith, with Mrs. W. Cripps at the piano for the hymns.

Thetford Golf Activities

Wednesday, May 28th, the Thetford Golf Club was the scene of much activity with a Mixed Four Ball Foursome starting at 6 p.m., 32 players taking part. The winners of this competition were Mrs. Olive Poiré and Mr. Maurice Legendre. After the competition around 8 p.m. a buffet supper was served with about 80 people on hand.

Thursday, May 29th, the weekly 10th Hole Competition took place with the winners being: Henry Setlakwe with a net score of 33, Lionel Bourgault and Lloyd Boynton tied for 2nd place with a 34, and Laval Couture, 3rd with a 35.

The guest speaker was Mrs. S. Doyle, member of Richmond-Melbourne Branch of the C.A.C., who gave an interesting talk on the Canadian Association of Consumers.

Waterloo S.S. Pupils Attended Closing Service

WATERLOO — Trinity Sunday, June 1, marked the closing of St. Luke's Sunday School for the summer season. The children attended the morning service as usual in a body. The Junior Choir led the singing.

During the service, Rev. Paul Busing presented prizes to three members of the Sunday School who had written essays on "What is wrong with the Sunday School and how can we better it?" Alex Martin, Prudence and Pauline Messier were the winners.

Announcement was made that the Sunday School Picnic would be held Saturday, July 5th.

Notice was given of the W.A. meeting to be held on Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin in Frost Village. Members were asked to bring in their "Purple Bags."

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There seems to be no end to the quantity of westerns being pressed on the American public. This was the year of the horse opera in television, and next season will be more so.

Virtually all of the westerns have been renewed, since they have dominated the audience ratings, and a new supply of gun-slingers is being brought up for reinforcement.

But all these free horse operas aren't deterring the movie makers. It will be a bang-up year for the western in theatres, too. Gary Cooper just finished one and is starting another, Hanging Tree. John Wayne is making Rio Bravo, and Joel McCrea is looting through The Bat Masterson Story. Don Murray, who has already travelled From Hell to Texas, will next prowl These Thousand Hills. Nunnally Johnson is seeking Frank Sinatra and Marlon Brando for Brothers of the Flaming Arrow.

Brando himself is planning a couple of westerns. Gregory Peck produced The Big Country. Fred MacMurray finds it's a Good Day for a Hanging. Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster and Glenn Ford are again heading out west.

This will continue until the public starts singing, Lay That Pistol Down.

Sequel: Fess Parker ironed out his troubles with Walt Disney amicably. Fess will do five pictures in the next five years for Disney, is free the rest of the time.

Sequel: Gale Storm will have to return to work after her sick-leave vacation. Her Oh Susanna TV series has been renewed for another 52 weeks.

Esther Williams and Jeff Chandler are making no effort to hide their romance. . . . Jon Hall is mighty proud of the new underwater camera he has designed. Claims it will take wide-screen movies with only one camera man, where two or three were needed previously.

Marie McDonald's comeback continues. After playing Las Vegas and Dallas, she reports to Paramount to co-star with Jerry Lewis in Geisha Boy, her first movie in seven years.

U.S. Grant Cut

MONTREAL (CP)—The International Civil Aviation Organization has agreed to grant the United States a cut in its annual contribution to the organization. France and Canada opposed the move and asked that a vote on it be postponed until the U.S. provided more information on it for other members to study.

Recorded Music Concert June 10 At Cowansville

COWANSVILLE — The first concert of recorded music was so successful there has been a unanimous demand for more. Following the pattern of the first concert, Mr. Kennedy has arranged a program of many types of music. A group of English Madrigals will be sung by Alfred Deller, a counter-tenor who is acknowledged on both sides of the Atlantic as the foremost exponent of this music. Two Flemish Madrigals will be sung by a very fine Chamber Choir. Maggie Teyte was selected by Debussy as the best exponent of French art songs. She will be heard in three by Reynaldo Hahn, including the very beautiful L'Heure Exquise.

For those who admire the magnificent in music there will be the first part of the Berlioz Te Deum, sung by a large choir, full orchestra and organ. A trumpet concerto by Haydn will display the artistry by Helmut Wobitsch, now first trumpet with the Berlin Orchestra.

La Campanella by Paganini is one of the brilliant pieces of violin music ever written. R. Odnoposoff gives it a truly magnificent performance. Arthur Rubinstein will be heard in one of the Brahms Rhapsodies. The second half of the Beethoven Emperor Concerto will close the program. As before, the concert will be at the Art Centre on Main Street. There will be no admission charge and everyone is welcome. The date is Tuesday June 10th, and the time, 8 p.m.

GENERAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. John Standish, of Loudonville, N.Y., spent two days in Cowansville at the time of the directors' meeting and banquet of the Albany Felt Company. Prior to arriving here, they had been guests at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, Montreal, where they attended a company dinner.

An afternoon tea and food sale will be held from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, June 7, in Legion Hall. This event is being sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Branch 99. Everyone is invited.

At the morning service at Emmanuel United Church, Rev. C. J. Gustafson in his sermon outlined the Christian response to adversity. The Senior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Guy Cou-

Cowansville To Spend $109,000 On Improvements

Cowansville — At a meeting held in the Town Hall, under the chairmanship of Mayor Roland Desourdy, property owners of Cowansville approved the expenditure of $109,000 to permit the undertaking of a number of improvement projects. These include extensive road work, municipal park facility extensions and a foot-bridge across the Yamaska River, linking Jean-Baptiste and Bonnette Streets.

Lionel Beauger outlined the advantages to be derived from a well-equipped municipal park, especially in affording sane and safe recreation for the youth of the community. Other members of the council who spoke were Arthur Knight and Conrad Beliveau.

The improvements will include excavation on Laurier and Bonnette Streets; paving on Laurier, Bernard, Montee McClure, Decarie, Barker Elizabeth, Glen, Jean-Baptiste; a 4 1/2 foot wide sidewalk for the south side of Glen, and a similar sidewalk on both sides of Jean-Baptiste on the south side of Westmount from St. Antoine to Parker, on Parker, on the east side, a cement border six by 12 inches from Laurier north.

Service installations are planned for Buzzell Avenue at an estimated cost of $8,814, and in the two sections of the Riverside Realities, west $10,222 and east, $8,576. These estimates were submitted by Guy Migue.

The Municipal Park, on which work is already in progress and where the swimming pool was opened last summer, will have bathers' pavilion, a filtration plant, a well-equipped playground, a separate, enclosed section for small children where benches, slides, see-saws, etc., will be installed. There will also be a wading pool and landscaped lawns. The cost outlined includes upkeep of the grounds.

In connection with the park beautifying, the bandstand has been moved to higher ground, a better vantage point, and a number of young trees have been planted this spring.

A report by O. J. Broadbent, a club director, on the club's activities in the field of aid to crippled children marked the regular dinner meeting of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club last night.

The club, he said, sent 12 children to the Ayer's Cliff crippled children's camp last summer at an average cost of $135 per child for the seven-week period the camp is open. In addition, the Rotarians provided entertainment in the form of pony rides, a variety show, a party with square dances and free ice cream and pop.

In other field, Mr. Broadbent continued, the club had secured and artificial hand for a young man of 23, had provided four braces for children and bought two wheel chairs.

Butchers Ask Controls On Beef Exports

MONTREAL.—(CP)— Quebec food retailers plan to ask the federal government to control beef exports so that adequate supplies are available in Canada, it was announced Tuesday.

Elphège Labbe, president of the Province of Quebec Food Retailers Association, said the request will be made to the trade department through the national food division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada.

"Housewives are mistaken if they imagine that their butcher is getting richer because beef prices have risen so sharply during the last year," he told a special meeting of the association's board of directors.

He said higher beef prices were caused chiefly by huge Canadian cattle exports to the United States. In the first four months of 1958, he said, Canada exported $23,758 head of beef cattle to the U.S. compared with only 7,121 head in the corresponding period of 1957.

May Temperature Proved Slightly Below Average

The average temperature for the month of May this year was 50.76, slightly over one degree colder than the 44-year average of 51.94, according to the Lennoxville experimental farm.

The lowest temperature recorded at the last month was 21 on May 6. The highest temperature, 82, was recorded on May 18. It is interesting to note that the all-time low temperature for the month of May was recorded on another May 8, in 1924.

There were 223.6 hours of sunshine last month, 22.3 hours more than the 44-year average but 14.3 hours less than last year. There was, however, less rain than last year: 1.71 inches this year and 3.22 last year. On May 6, 1945, 2.04 inches of rain fell. This is the highest single day's rainfall for May in 44 years and is greater than this month's total.

The wettest day last month was the 28th when 0.53 inches of rain fell.

About $1,500 worth of fire damage was caused yesterday afternoon when the roof of a small home belonging to Jean Paul Quirion on the St. Elie road was charred by flames of unknown origin.

Light water damage to the walls and floors was noticed. Quirion told firemen that all his furniture had been moved out of the home a short time previously as he had intended to renovate the small one and a half storey frame building.

He had already repaired the inside walls of the building and was just commencing work in the upstairs portion. The flames appear to have sprung up right in the middle of the roof peak, but Quirion could offer no explanation for the outbreak.

Firemen from Sherbrooke's No. 1 station, headed by Director W. P. Donahue, answered the call and extinguished the flames a few minutes after their arrival at the house.

Coaticook Unit Sergeants' Mess Annual Dinner

COATICOOK.—Over 120 members of the 27th Field Regiment's Sergeants' Mess, friends and guests attended the Regiment's Headquarters here last Saturday night on the occasion of the Sergeants' Mess annual mixed Dinner and Dance.

Amongst the invited guests were Lt.-Col. and Mrs. F. L. Armitage, Commanding Officer of the Regiment, Major and Mrs. M. Tyler, C. O. of the Regiment's 75th Battery of Cowansville, the Medical Officer Major and Mrs. A. Samson and members of the R.C.M.P., from Coaticook and Rock Island.

After a sumptuous meal, both Col. Armitage and the Regimental Sergeant Major, W.O.1 H. G. Edwards, both spoke about the splendid progress made by the Regiment during the past training year, due to end this month. Col. Armitage remarked on the good recruiting enjoyed by the Regiment and that the strength of all Batteries showed an encouraging increase compared to the same period last year. The effective strength of the Regiment is now 246 all ranks.

Touching briefly on the controversial Civil Defence course, Col. Armitage said that results, whilst not having been too encouraging on the whole, had been received with enthusiasm by those members attending the lectures and who had learned a great deal from them. He hoped that the Regimental Civil Defence Exercise which is to be held next fall, would stimulate greater interest.

On the other hand, the many Army courses held including the 105 Conversion Course — the Howitzer taking the place of the "Old Faithful" 25 pounder — had proved highly successful and maintained a high attendance throughout.

Dancing was then enjoyed to the strains of the Regimental Dance Band under Bandmaster W.O.1 V. L. Vincent — who had been presented with his Royal Warrant earlier in the proceedings.

Organization was again handled efficiently by RSM Edwards and Staff.

Forest Resources Value Exceeds Mines — Bertrand

COWANSVILLE.—Because they can be replenished indefinitely with proper reforestation, Canada's forestry resources were placed ahead of the country's mining wealth in importance by Hon. Jean Jacques Bertrand recently appointed Quebec Minister of Lands and Forests to replace the Hon. J. S. Bourque who has assumed the Finance portfolio.

Mr. Bertrand, in his first such appearance since his appointment, addressed a well-attended meeting of the Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association held at the New Ottawa Hotel here. The meeting which was also addressed by Mr. Armand Russell, M.P.P. for Sherbrooke, was presided over by Alex Babin from Granby, president of the Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

Mr. Bertrand, who is also member for Missisquoi stressed the importance of the lumbering industry in the country's economic structure and said he would endeavour to bring all cooperation possible from his department, to deal with problems which might affect the lumber industry and the country's forest resources as a whole. He attached great importance to proper reforestation methods which could convert the country's forest wealth into a perpetual asset.

Mr. Bertrand was introduced by Rolland Desourdy, mayor of Cowansville and president of the Quebec Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

Customs, Excise Revenues Show Sharp Decline

Sharp reductions in receipts from customs import duties and excise taxes caused a decline of $89,503.48 in collections at the local office of the Department of National Revenue, during the past month, L. W. Greenland, collector in charge, reported.

Total revenues for the past month were $225,989.83 as compared with $315,493.31 a year ago.

Cumulative collections for the first two months of the 1958-59 fiscal year were $471,720.02, a decline of $156,833.69 compared with the $628,553.71 taken in during April and May 1957.

The sharpest percentage decline in collections was registered in customs import duties which fell more than 50 per cent from $99,044.39 in May, 1957, to $46,465.01 last month.

Receipts from excise taxes, largely the manufacturers' sales tax, were $179,347.44 last month, a drop of approximately 17 per cent from the $213,332.72 collected a year ago.

Excise duty collections last month were $111.38, a missing item in 1957, while sundry collections dropped from $116.20 to $66.

Then... And Now

A change of scenery often changes a person's mental outlook, whether the scenery be natural or political.

Already Hon. Jean Lesage, newly-elected leader of the Quebec Liberal party, has given indication of some change in political thinking since his entry into the provincial field. In a Montreal interview Monday night, he declared that ways must be found to increase the revenues of the provinces. He went as far as to intimate that if he is elected to head a Quebec Government he may propose a constitutional change to give the provinces access to the field of indirect taxation. The British North America Act restricts to the federal government the field of indirect taxation.

This appears in marked contrast to the attitude Mr. Lesage must have assumed during his period as a member of the federal Liberal administration which did everything in its power to limit the fields of revenues available to the provinces.

It is not on record that Mr. Lesage was ever very bitter in his attacks upon the Quebec provincial government for its insistence that it be given greater sources of revenue. But he was a member of the federal government which granted these concessions as reluctantly as possible and on the principle of collective cabinet responsibility — the basis of British parliamentary practice — he must assume his share of the blame for this federal Liberal policy.

Mr. Lesage's difficulty over the taxation issue is just an indication of the problems which face a politician when he transfers his activities from one field to another. That which appears logical for a man at Ottawa cannot be accepted at Quebec or Toronto and vice versa.

Fortunately Mr. Lesage was never to the fore in any fight over federal-provincial relations and he may be able to re-orient himself without too much difficulty.

No Limit In Forecasting

Recent pronouncements of some labor union leaders on the work day of the future must have made a good many people feel they have been born a few decades too soon. There was the man who predicted not long ago that in a few years workers would be toiling only two hours a day; then again the CIO executive who forecast yearly vacations of three months before the year 2,000.

In an age when the virtues of moderation, often far from being attractive, are forced on most of us there is at least one sphere to which there need be no limit. One can forecast anything. It is only a matter of time before some bright prophet will predict a fifteen-minute working day and vacations of at least six months.

These speculations as to the future are based on the supposition that because the working day and the working week have been growing shorter they will always continue to grow shorter. When the uses of machinery and electronics are increasing this looks reasonable, obvious, one might say, but the obvious often fails to materialize. It also presupposes scientific progress on the part of the United States dizzy enough in its vaulting strides to allow that country to disregard the rest of the world's labor market, that of Soviet Russia included; dizzy enough to invest the U.S. with economic immunity. That is quite a rate of progress.

Dog To Dog

With the friendliest of intentions dogs manage to make man look just a bit foolish when they come tail-wagging around.

Whether they're disrupting football games by getting buried amid a pile of tackles and guards, or whether they're inspiring acid political comment because of their association with leading figures (as with Roosevelt's Fala and Nixon's Checkers), it's always the same.

Now they've been injected into debate over funds for the Voice of America, the U.S. radio propaganda agency. The Voice's chief, George Allen, had to tell a congressional group in all seriousness that he had no "Spaniel Committee."

He said as part of the Voice's "People to People" program it fosters exchanges between hobbyists, including pet owners. But that is all.

Maybe this is the wrong approach. Maybe they should have a Spaniel Committee, a Collie Committee, and so on. A "Dog to Dog" program might produce some amazing results. The dogs could hardly mess things up more than people have done.

Letter To The Editor

Let's Make Lotteries Legal

The Editor,
Sherbrooke Daily Record
Dear Sir,

Britain had its football pools, its dog races and other forms of taking a flutter. Australia has a succession of lotteries all the year around.

In Canada lotteries are not legal yet we have them. In one well-known example the tickets masquerade as membership subscriptions while hundreds of thousands of tickets in the Irish Hospitals' Sweepstakes are probably sold in Canada every year. Tickets are available here but, like liquor in the days of prohibition, are illegal. The restriction, doubtless, reduces the ticket sales very substantially but, otherwise, its result is to make lawbreakers of persons not naturally lawbreakers and to send a large sum of money each year to Ireland even though a large proportion of this amount is devoted to a cause which none can claim is not a good one.

Why should lotteries not be made legal in Canada and placed under government supervision? Ah, say some, this would obviously encourage gambling and help to undermine the morals of our people. But there are already dozens of forms of gambling including the stock market, racing and the nightly card game, attended by stakes, in a legion of homes. Life itself is a gamble. Every man or woman who marries is a gambler and so is every parent who contributes to bringing a child into the world.

It is the view of the writer that legalized lotteries in moderation add immeasurably to the color and interest of life. They give the poor a chance — infinitely small, it is true, but the same as the other man's — at riches. Of course, their prizes give something for next to nothing and so do many of the rewards of our economic system. As only one instance there is given a large block of shares for little or nothing, a block whose eventual value is often out of all proportion to the amount at which his efforts might reasonably be appraised.

If lotteries are the cause of disappointments they are also the fountain of hope. And just so long as an individual has the chance of winning a prize just so long as he is unlikely to be a fervent Communist.

What fun there can be among fellow ticket holders, usually the humble, when sweepstakes are legal! Anne confides to Helen how she will first give Mother that long-deferred holiday and help someone else she knows before her own personal dreams are given a chance to come true. A ticket may be put between the leaves of a favorite book or brushed by a rabbit's foot and may come out in a throng to be kissed into fortune. All very silly, of course, and all very human but what is the real harm? The lottery has taken millions of people out of themselves if only for a short time.

Tickets are bought, anyway. Why shouldn't the buying be made legal instead of a minor crime? And why shouldn't their contributions be towards a Canadian good cause instead of going to help that of another country.

No Limit To Tourist Possibilities

(Windsor Daily Star)

Too often Canadians think of the tourist business too much in the merely immediate sense. They are wondering how many tourists will come to Canada this year, how much they will spend and where they will spend it, etc.

Hon. Alvin G. Hamilton, Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources, pictured a broader, and better, vista when he spoke to a combined meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and the Essex County Tourist Association here yesterday.

Canada has unlimited tourist possibilities for the future, countless beauty spots, lots of woods and waters, plenty of space for all time. And it is wrong to think in terms of those areas already utilized. Mr. Hamilton cited instances of some tourists wishing to visit our Arctic frontiers.

Tourism is already our third "export industry," mentioned Mr. Hamilton, coming behind

The Danger

Southern Rhodesia

Election May Not End Political Uncertainty

By CLAUDE COOK

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (Reuters) — The political uncertainty that has prevailed in Southern Rhodesia since Garfield Todd's cabinet rebelled Jan. 11 may not be ended by Thursday's general election.

The three parties in the election all have decided to contest so many seats and have produced candidates of so generally high a calibre that, in a country where personalities traditionally count for nearly as much as policies, none of the parties may have a majority after the election.

The reason for the rebellion against Todd never was made clear, but it seems certain that the cabinet considered his attitude too dictatorial and that the reforms he was insisting on in order to put into practice the principle of "racial partnership" of Negroes and whites were too "liberal" to ensure a victory for the government party at the general election, which was due towards the end of this year or early in 1959.

Instead of resigning himself, Todd accepted the resignations of his cabinet ministers, formed a new temporary cabinet and insisted that the whole issue should be put to a special territorial congress of the United Federal party in Southern Rhodesia.

At this stage, Todd's United Rhodesia party, which had governed Southern Rhodesia for the last four years, was in the process of fusing with the Federal party, led by Sir Roy Welensky. The Federal party governs the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, of which Southern Rhodesia is a part.

A fusion congress already had created the United Federal party but many branches of the former United Rhodesian and Federal parties had not then formally fused.

The special congress heard the case put forward by Sir Patrick Fletcher, former minister of native affairs, who led the revolt against Todd, and Todd's reply.

Before a vote on the leadership of the United Federal party in Southern Rhodesia could be taken, it was proposed that Sir Edgar Whitehead, a former Southern Rhodesian minister of finance and then the federation's minister in Washington, should be brought in as a compromise leader. By this means it was hoped to maintain unity in the party.

After the first vote, Todd was at the top of the poll, but did not have an over-all majority. Fletcher, who was at the bottom of the poll, then was withdrawn from the list of candidates for party leadership, and on a second ballot Whitehead was chosen over Todd, most of the Fletcher supporters having voted for Whitehead.

Whitehead flew back to Southern Rhodesia to assume the post of prime minister and formed a new cabinet, which included Todd and several of the ministers who had rebelled against him.

But Whitehead was not yet a member of Parliament, and under the constitution of Southern Rhodesia had to be elected within four months or cease to hold office.

Whitehead contested a bye-election in the Hillside (Bulawayo) constituency on April 16. Todd appeared to support him on the same platform, together with other members of Todd's former cabinet.

But Whitehead was beaten by Jack Pain, candidate for the Dominion (official opposition) party, a newcomer to politics.

A general election then was called. A week later, the United Federal party caucus met to consider the position, and Todd and five of his personal supporters were forced out of the party.

Todd promptly decided to reform the United Rhodesia party and to contest the general election.

By nomination day, May 15, Todd was able to put 23 candidates into the field, compared with 30 from the United Federal party and 30 from the Dominion party. There are two independent.

PLAY MAKES UP FOR BAD BID

Today's slam contract is really unsound. How did North and South manage to get there?

Some slight blame must attach itself to South. His partner's three-diamond bid might have warned him against any further slam jumped to four hearts.

How about North's jump to five diamonds? It turned out that North meant to bid four diamonds and thought he had. Hence, when South bid five hearts, North thought that South was making a jump bid and went right on to the slam.

South won the opening spade lead with the ace and saw that there was a good chance to make his contract if he could find the queen of hearts in the West hand. Hence South led a low heart and finessed dummy's eight.

When that held he took dummy's ace of diamonds and ruffed a low diamond with his ace of trumps. Both opponents followed to that and now all South had to do was to take another trump finesse; pull West's last trump and run out dummy's diamonds. Eventually, he had to lose one club trick but the slam was made.

speeches that the tide of African nationalism cannot be stemmed, and that the white population must go out of its way to provide opportunities for Negro advancement and to allow Negroes a say in the running of the country, if the whites are not to be thrown out.

Whitehead's United Federal party believes in basically the same thing, but contends that some of the steps taken by Todd, as prime minister, to encourage Negro advancement went too far and too fast, and that the legitimate rights of the white people who have brought civilization and prosperity to Southern Rhodesia were being overlooked.

The Dominion party believes that economic advancement for the Negro should precede political advancement. It will admit Negroes to the common voters roll, but demands a "civilization test" in addition to the qualifications required of whites.

The Dominion party believes that there also should be a separate roll on which Negroes would elect a number of their own representatives to Parliament. This is in sharp contradiction to the other parties, which favor a common roll for all races, with basically the same qualifications.

In the federal field, the Dominion party is prepared to create several areas, such as Barotseland and Nyasaland with parts of Northern Rhodesia, which would be protectorates within the Rhodesian federation, and where the British colonial office would continue to have a say after Dominion status is granted to the federation.

Although this is a federal, rather than a territorial matter, it has been strongly opposed by the United Federal party during the present campaign.

"5 BRANCHES IN SHERBROOKE"

Treasury May Finance CBC

OTTAWA (CP) — A Commons speech by Revenue Minister Nowlan has raised speculation that the government may be considering financing the CBC directly from the federal treasury.

Mr. Nowlan said Tuesday night he believed the system of meeting the CBC's operating expenses in part from a 15-per-cent excise tax on radio and television sets and parts, in effect since television was inaugurated in Canada in 1953, was an "error" and a "mistake."

The minister, however, declined to be drawn out in questioning by J. W. Pickersgill (L-Bonaville-Twillington), who asked whether Mr. Nowlan was anticipating a new policy announcement in the next budget.

OWN OPINION

Mr. Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the publicly-owned CBC, said he was expressing his own opinion about the earmarked excise tax. He was "not for one moment suggesting, intimating or in fact presuming to know anything about what might be contained in the budget with respect to these matters." But he said it was a mistake to expect the CBC to rely on the tax "because the revenue bore no relationship whatever to the needs of the CBC."

"When everybody was buying TV sets millions of dollars rolled into the CBC, whether or not they needed the money. When the people stopped buying TV sets, the CBC needed still more money which it could not get from the excise tax and therefore had to hope that the treasury of Canada . . . would make up the difference."

tized as a "mistake" the present system of financing CBC operations in part from the 15-per-cent excise tax on radio and television sets and parts. But he declined, under questioning, to say whether the government will drop this system.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, at the House opening, denied Soviet charges that United States bombers carrying nuclear weapons approach Soviet territory in flights over Canada.

OIL BOOM IN NORTH — Oil companies, moving northward in the search for oil, have taken out exploration permits covering 60,000,000 acres of the Yukon and Northwest Territories. Shaded areas on this map indicate the land under exploration licences. The main exploration area is near the $8,000,000 highway being built from Flat Creek to Fort McPherson. Companies exploring in the two territories have paid the federal government $1,400,000 for their permits but the money will be returned if stipulated work is carried out. (CP Newsmap)

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters) — Airline officials sent an urgent request to Brisbane Tuesday for 2,000 platypuses. Three hungry platypuses—Paul, Patty and Pamela—were bound for the Bronx Zoo, New York, when their plane was delayed for 27 hours this morning. They are expected to eat more than half their specially-packed supply of earthworms and freshwater crayfish before the extra rations arrive.

LONDON (Reuters) — West Germans last year drank more beer than Britons for the first time in at least 20 years, the Brewers' Society said Tuesday night. West German consumption jumped by 15 per cent to 972,000,000 gallons. British consumption increased to 917,000,000 gallons. Individual consumption in both countries was about 18 gallons a head.

HERO'S WELCOME

Gaulle first. But right behind came Jacques Soustelle, the National Assembly deputy and long-time Gaullist who fled Paris to take a leading role in the rebellion in Algiers. Soustelle joined the premier and Salan in reviewing the honor guard of paratroopers, sailors and infantry men.

CEREMONIES BROADCAST

Also in the receiving line for a handshake was Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu, the tough paratroop commander who first seized control in Algiers after the mob of colonists took over the government headquarters May 13.

The premier also shook hands with all 72 members of the insurgent public safety committee for Algeria, and with Pascal Arghit, the National Assembly deputy from Corsica who has been suspended by his colleagues for leading the insurrection on his island.

The airport ceremonies, broadcast throughout Algeria and France, lasted less than 15 minutes. Then de Gaulle and Salan entered a car and sped into the city. Fourteen motorcycle policemen preceded them. The same number followed. Crowds lining the route set up long cheers.

Although the crowd cheered de Gaulle, the man who got the biggest roar of approval was Soustelle, at de Gaulle's side. A roaring chant repeated "Soustelle . . . Soustelle . . . Soustelle" and then "Algeria is French" — a clear indication that the simple appearance of de Gaulle could not still the sentiments which gave rise to the right-wing revolt of which Soustelle is the political on-the-spot symbol.

Many in the vast crowd were Moslems but the overwhelming majority were Europeans.

COATICOOK — The High School gymnasium was the scene of a gay gathering, when the annual graduation prom was held. The members of the graduating class, Monique Côté, Doreen Flanders and Jeannie Birch, were presented with school pins by Mr. Lawrence, who wished them every success. 104th Anniversary Marked By Parish Of Nelsonville COWANSVILLE — On May 25 the Parish of Nelsonville observed not only the important church festival of Whit Sunday, but also the 104th birthday of the parish.

The rector, Rev. John Peacock, officiated at the two services at Trinity Anglican Church which were held at the usual hours. There was also a special service for members of the District of Bedford Masonic Order, at 3:00 p.m., open to the public.

Three important announcements were made. Confirmation will be held at Christ Church this year, on Friday, June 13. A large class is anticipated. The parish picnic is already being planned, and the date is shortly to be announced. This is not a Sunday School picnic, but a family occasion.

The Trinity Workingmen's Club holds its annual auction sale on Saturday, June 7, starting at 2 p.m. in Trinity Memorial Hall. Members and friends with anything to contribute — "Furniture, clothing, dishes, food, cows" — are invited to telephone Mrs. Gordon Myhill at 1076.

RURAL LIFE SUNDAY

Rural Life Sunday was observed at Emmanuel United Church on May 25. Special folders presented the order of service and included both a poem and the explanation that this Sunday, the fifth after Easter, which has its roots in the Rogation Days, is a day set apart for emphasizing the meaning of Christianity for rural life; for the invocation of God's blessing upon the seed, the fruits of the soil, and the cultivators of the earth; for the consideration of justice for agriculture and the spiritual values of rural life. It was first observed in 1929, at the suggestion of the International Association of Agricultural Missions.

In keeping with the theme was the sermon of the pastor, Rev. Carl J. Gustafson, who included thoughts upon the religious significance of rural life, and the rights and duties of the farmer. Also mindful of Nature was the Children's Message, about the interesting habits of the birds who frequent the Manse garden. The young listeners were informed incidentally that there is a Bird Sanctuary near Philipsburg.

The choir rendered an anthem of praise, with Mr. Guy Cousens as soloist. Congregational sympathy was expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKell and their family in their hour of anxiety.

GENERAL NOTES

Miss Andrea Gustafson is spending some time at home with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Carl Gustafson, prior to going to MacDonald College as assistant dietitian for the summer. Miss Gustafson has successfully passed her third year, Household Science, at the college.

Four letters lie before me asking what can be done about snoring.
Two of them come from persons who snore. The other two are from the spouses of snorers.
Q—Can snoring be helped in any way?—M.R.

A—Snoring is the sound or sounds made during sleep by vibrations of one or more structures in the nose or throat, resulting from the inspiration or expiration of air. Sometimes there is a physical explanation such as the presence of polyps, a deflected septum in the nose, or the like. In some such cases the snoring can be eliminated or lessened by surgical removal of the polyps, by treatment of an allergy, by removal of tonsils and adenoids or by similar means.

In other cases the snoring is the result of the position of the sleepers. Usually it occurs when lying on the back. If this sleeping position can be changed, thus preventing the tongue from falling backward, the snoring may disappear. One suggestion for accomplishing this is to make back-sleeping uncomfortable by placing a small pillow under the neck.

Drama Opportunities Increasing In Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Pauline McGibbon, president of the Dominion Drama Festival, has this advice for girls who want to be actresses: "Leave the country!"

This, says Mrs. McGibbon, 48-year-old wife of an oil company executive here, is still the best way for Canadians to obtain a thorough grounding in theatre and allied arts.

But over the last 10 years drama opportunities in Canada have increased, so actors and actresses must go abroad.

"We have no theatre schools in Canada comparable with, say, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in England, so most budding actresses must go abroad," said Mrs. McGibbon.

"But the increasing popularity of theatre in Canada, and the television demands for talent, mean that an experienced actress can continue her career here."

Mrs. McGibbon, a native of Sarnia, Ont., makes no claims herself to acting talent, but she has wide experience of training programs as a member of the senate of the University of Toronto. She is the only woman ever to have been president of the Alumni Association of the university, and has served as a national vice-president of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

The IODE is closely associated with theatre training, as it gives scholarships to enable drama students to train abroad.

AMATEUR TRAINING

"A young actress must first gain all the dramatic experience she can through amateur companies," said Mrs. McGibbon.

"She must enter local drama festivals and hope to be 'spotted' by an adjudicator."

Then she should seek to enter a drama school in England or the United States (most of them have waiting lists), then save the money to go, then obtain a part-time job to supplement a scholarship income.

"If youngsters have the spark of talent, plus determination and a small appetite, they will suffer the hardships without becoming discouraged," said Mrs. McGibbon.

At the end of this training, which will probably be followed by constant travel in touring companies, is "a job that carries no pension, no fixed hours, no steady income, no permanence and no

Macdonald College Students Awarded W.I. Scholarships

Winners of this year's Provincial awards, offered by the Quebec Women's Institutes at Macdonald College, have just been announced. These go to students from the rural areas of the province.

In the School of Household Science, Miss Alison Margaret Reid, Huntingdon wins the Frederick Campbell Macfarlane Memorial Scholarship. Miss Reid has completed the work of the first year and obtained second class honours.

Miss Janet Louise Finlayson, Ormstown, is the winner of the Mrs. Alfred Watt Memorial Scholarship. Miss Finlayson has completed her third year and also obtained second class honours standing.

The bursary in the Diploma Course in Agriculture goes to Mr. Stewart James Robertson, Lachute. This student led the first year class and is one of the 4-H Club judging champions who have earned a trip to the Royal at Toronto this fall.

"Actors and actresses have always had to leave Canada to gain experience," said Mrs. McGibbon.

National IODE Report Shows Strong Support To Education

HALIFAX (CP)—More than $281,000 was spent by chapters of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire on educational work in Canada during 1957. Mrs. O. M. Martin of Toronto reported to the IODE annual meeting here today.

Chapters spent $61,165 in gifts to schools of calendars, libraries, pictures and magazines, and $127,780 went for scholarships to students studying in Canada and abroad.

"Reports indicate that chapters are concerned about the plight of many worthy young Canadians who need financial assistance to further their education," the education secretary said.

"Small wonder when one considers the fact that only eight per cent of the young people of university age attend Canadian universities!"

AID MISSION SCHOOLS

A Newfoundland chapter "adopted" a Moravian Mission school at Nain, Labrador, by the donation of 125 books. Another sent special gifts to Hebron Moravian Mission School in Labrador. Chapters throughout the country regularly supported schools in underdeveloped parts of the country.

Students were sent to United Nations seminars, awarded music festival scholarships and loaned money to finance their education. In Nova Scotia, seven permissive teachers were assisted towards getting teaching diplomas.

Other examples of educational work were a money award by a Saskatchewan chapter to the Hungarian student making the best progress in English. A chapter in Ontario provided library service to schools by underwriting the cost of a bookmobile for outlying areas.

Mrs. Martin told delegates that the "present educational crisis" emphasized recently by the Canadian Conference on Education at Ottawa—required IODE's fullest support to ensure "equality of educational opportunity for all Canadians."

The national film report, presented by Mrs. E. S. Gallagher of Toronto, disclosed that a steady increase of film use was apparent in the work of the order.

FILM SPONSORSHIP

Chapters were sponsoring film showings to senior citizens, "film nights" for new Canadians, films in schools and were helping in local film councils, which maintain film libraries and hold workshops on film use.

The IODE film fund had purchased eight prints of The Sceptre and the Mace, the National Film Board's production commemorating the opening of Parliament by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth. These would be distributed to chapters in October.

"It is interesting to note that the documentary film Royal Journey holds the record for being booked into more Canadian theatres than any film from United States or Britain. It is expected The Sceptre and the Mace will surpass that record," Mrs. Gallagher said.

Mrs. W. J. McCall, Dartmouth, N.S., national standard bearer, reported the IODE standard has been displayed at a variety of civic and religious functions.

In Nova Scotia, for example, the standard had been carried or displayed 1,111 times during 1957.

Personals

Mrs. Maggie Flack of Danville, Que., has been the guest for the past week of her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. E. McKee, Montreal St.

Friends of Mrs. M. G. Wilson, Church St., Lennoxville, will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. J. C. Davidson has returned to her home on Newton St., after spending the past ten days visiting relatives in Moline, Ill. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Gerald Wiggert, who is remaining for a longer stay.

Miss Elberta Broadbelt of St. Petersburg, Fla., accompanied by Miss Ruth Waterspoon and Mr. Melvin Munroe, arrived on Thursday to spend several weeks with her sister, Mrs. F. W. Diamond and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Broadbelt, Argyle Street.

Friends of Mr. Harold Lord, St. Denis St., will be sorry to learn he was admitted to the Sherbrooke Hospital on Monday, for observation.

Record readers are invited to submit suitable items of interest to the Social and Personal column.

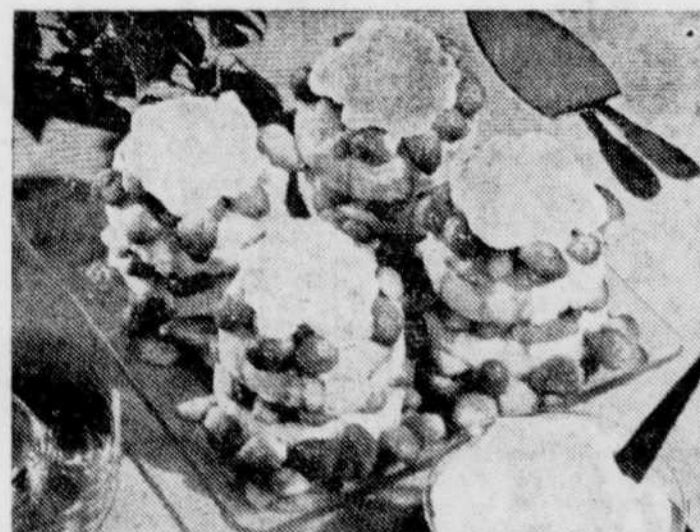

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Paquette announce the approaching marriage of their eldest daughter, Jean Ann, to Mr. Robert M. Wright, of Montreal, Que., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison C. Wright, of Lennoxville. The marriage has been arranged to take place at 12 o'clock on Saturday, June 14th, in St. Pauline's Chapel, St. Michael's Cathedral.

Beauty Tips

A young girl who towers over boys and girls her own age often sags and stoops to come down to their level. However, if she continues to do this, her mature figure may resemble a bow. Keep those shoulders back and walk proudly for future good looks.

No need to give persons the feeling they are shaking hands with a horned toad. Pumice stone is a good remedy for calluses. When washing hands, dampen a pumice stone and rub it in a gentle circular motion over a callus.

THE SEASON'S FAVORITE... CREAM-TOPPED STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

Who would refute that strawberry shortcake is tops in appeal at this time of the year? And who would argue that real shortcake is made with a sweetened biscuit dough made extra rich with the addition of butter or cream and egg. We won't, and to prove it, we present a well beloved, old-fashioned shortcake, done up with that luscious fruit of June, the strawberry, and whipped cream, one of the dairy foods that never fails to add a final flourish to hot and cold desserts. The shortcake resembles the scones we love for Sunday morning breakfast or afternoon tea... and for an extra bit of flair we've added a sprinkling of mace to the scone ingredients.

INDIVIDUAL STRAWBERRY SCONES SHORTCAKES

(Makes 6 to 8 Servings)

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 3 teaspoons baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1/3 cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon mace; ½ cup butter; 1 well beaten egg; ½ cup milk; strawberries; whipping cream.

Sift together dry ingredients. Add mace. Cut in butter until it resembles coarse cornmeal. Add egg, combined with milk, adding more liquid if necessary to make a soft dough. Turn out on floured board and knead 10 times. Roll dough ¼ inch thick and cut into 2 or 3 inch rounds. Spread tops with butter. Sprinkle with sugar. Place on cookie sheet. Bake in a very hot oven (450°F.) about 12 minutes.

Split hot biscuits, butter generously, and put together with some of strawberries, sliced if desired. Top with remainder of berries, left whole, and sweetened whipped cream.

What you Are, not what you Want, Builds a Marriage

Most marriages would be happier if a woman would only remember—

That instead of trying to be her idea of a "good wife" she should simply try to do the things that are important to her own husband.

That unless she trusts her husband she isn't likely to have a husband she can trust.

That it is her job to get along with her in-laws. And if they are difficult to get along with that means she has a harder job—not that she can mark them off as hopeless.

That no man will thank her for doing without things she needs and could have. She should accept her share of things and be happy instead of foolishly doing without in the hope that her self-denial will make her husband think he is a lucky man to have a wife who demands so little.

That being a good housekeeper and good mother doesn't necessarily mean that a woman is a good wife.

That while her husband can talk about "my office" she should never talk about "my home." It should always be "our home" and her aim should be to make it as pleasing a place to live for her husband as for her.

That the only way a wife can improve her husband is by doing her part to create a happy marriage and a happy home. She can't improve him by trying to make him over to suit herself.

That the more tolerant she is of her husband's faults and shortcomings, the more tolerant he will be of hers. That she can't hope to make her husband and family happy unless she is happy herself. That if she doesn't want to be married to a heel she should never make her husband feel like one.

Recorded Music Concert Enjoyed At Cowansville

COWANSVILLE — A capacity audience filled the main salon of the Cowansville Art Centre to enjoy a program of recorded music, arranged by William Kennedy, whose instructive comments added to the pleasure of the occasion.

Mr. Kennedy stated that this was the first public concert he had given in Cowansville and that therefore he had chosen variety as the keynote for the program. He requested suggestions and remarks as a guide for future concerts which might be arranged.

From the response to this "sample" concert, it was apparent that much more musical experience of this type would be desired. The Hi-Fidelity equipment gave a bell-like clarity to the recordings. So lifelike were the recordings that on several occasions the audience applauded.

INTEREST IN FLYING

There is a decided interest in flying in this community. It is not uncommon to hear: "Have you been out to the Sweetsburg Flying Club lately?" or "I enjoyed a flight with Billy Stocks." Mr. Stocks is a Cowansville resident, and was one of its pioneers in becoming a pilot.

Further evidence of this trend is the fact that nine serious students meet every Monday and Wednesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. to attend Ground School sessions at an evening class in Korman's Store, Willard Street.

There they study navigation, meteorology, air regulations, and other necessary subjects.

They are fortunate in having as their instructor-lecturer, Squadron Leader W. Goettel, whose experience and war record are well-known here in Cowansville where he and his family now reside.

One of the students, Walter Korman, has already been flying solo.

Mrs. James J. Bell, of Sherbrooke, was the guest of Mrs. R. H. Hibbard on the weekend of May 24.

The Cowansville Brownies are planning to present a concert in Legion Hall at 8 p. m. on Friday June 6. Their variety show will include 25 items, some of which are naturally brief, recitations, solos, choruses, and a one-act play, entitled "Pack Holiday." Leading roles in the playlet are to be performed by Lynne McCrum, Linda and Christina Pratt and Glenna Gowdy.

Mrs. Walter Merrill, of Montreal, was the weekend guest of Col. and Mrs. J. G. Gibson.

Mr. Robert Morse has returned from a ten-week business trip by plane to Australia. En route Mr. Morse also visited New Zealand, the Philippines and Hawaii.

Commander and Mrs. Hugh McGregor and family, of Pointe Claire, recently visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Boyd. Mr. Boyd was then briefly a patient at the B.M.P. Hospital; he is now home convalescing satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson of Arvida, were Victoria weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. William J. Beattie.

DAVIDSON HILL —

Miss Margaret Davidson R.N., of Haverhill, Mass., is spending a few days at the home of her mother and brother, Alex, and sister, Irene Davidson. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. Percy Tibbitts and son Wallace, of Waterloo.

Flowers were placed in the Church recently in loving memory of Mrs. J. Proulx and her granddaughter, Mrs. Albert Davidson, of Montreal, by their families.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

Own Creations Modelled By Sutton Students

SUTTON — The latest event at Sutton High sponsored by the Home and School Association was the fashion show put on by pupils of the Domestic Science classes in the gymnasium.

Before the interested view of many mothers and other friends of the school the participants, members of Grades VII to XI inclusive, modeled a variety of garments made by them as assignments in Domestic Science courses. Materials ranged from cottons to woolsens, silks and rayons and some of the productions were really lovely.

Besides the fashion show, the program included piano solos by Carolyn Thompson, Judy Pergau, Sheila Hooper, a vocal selection by Mrs. R. Cowan. The financial and other reports of the Students Council were given by Wayne Laroque, report of the Athletic Association by Brenda Boule, Junior Red Cross report presented by Annie Dudley, and account of the recent bus trip of students of the upper grades to Ottawa by Bob French, Vincent Roy and Diane Ingalls.

Funds amounting to more than $2,000 had been handled this year by the Students Council. By various pupil projects and some sponsored by Home and School $965 had been raised to finance the Ottawa trip and with all its expenses paid there is still a balance of $222.28.

In addition to the already mentioned items on the program there was a modeling by members of Grade XI of dress articles from the local merchant-ile establishment of Mr. Camille to show some of the latest style designs.

Mrs. Holden gave the introduction to the event and at the close of the program, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pergau, who are this year co-presidents of Home and School here, presented gifts from the Association to Miss A. Ropars, French specialist,

Two Showers For Thetford Mines June Bride-Elect

THETFORD MINES — Mrs. Stuart Vaudry and Mrs. Norman Bradley were joint hostesses at a delightful bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Vaudry in honor of Miss Helen McCammon, a June bride-to-be.

Upon arrival of the guest of honor, she was led to a chair decorated with pink streamers and tiny multi-colored umbrellas and presented with a corsage of two-toned pink carnations, following which the hostesses presented her with attractively wrapped gifts which consisted of an electric coffeemaker and four cups and saucers. Miss McCammon thanked all for their useful and lovely gifts.

Games were played with Mrs. Bill Lynn and Mrs. Gordon Moore emerging the top winners and Mrs. Arthur Vaudry and Mrs. Louis Roff, winners of the consolation prizes.

Lunch was served from a linen covered tea table centred with an angle cake with pink carnations and greenery gathered in the centre and around the base and with pink candles in silver holders. Mrs. A. M. McCammon, mother of the bride-elect, poured.

Miss McCammon was also guest at a linen shower at Maple Grove when Mrs. Bill Dinning entertained the members of Progress Chapter, O.E.S., of which the bride-elect is a member.

The guest of honor was led to a chair decorated in pink and white and the hostess presented her with a crown of flowers. Following this, Mrs. Dinning, with the assistance of little Miss Bonnell Anderson, brought in the gaily wrapped gifts on a table decorated in pink and white. Amid much gaiety Miss McCammon proceeded to unwrap the gifts which consisted of a lovely assortment of linen articles. Miss McCammon thanked all for their lovely gifts.

The delightful lunch was served from a linen covered tea table centred with a bowl of pansies. On the buffet was a pretty basket of cherry blossoms effectively displayed. Sis. Elaine Moore, Worthy Matron, poured tea and coffee and the Five Points of the Star, Sisters Emma Robinson, Bessie Dinning, Winnifred Moore, Dorothy Daigneau, in the absence of Muriel Bateman, the fifth point of the star being the hostess, Sister Patricia Dinning, all assisted in serving.

Braves Rediscover Home Runs And Use Them To Edge Giants; Musial Drives In Three As Cards Win; Dodgers Lose

Milwaukee Braves have rediscovered the home run, and with it have gained the lead in the National League. They have walked 12 in their last four games. The champs led five, their best one-game total of the year, and made them good for all but one of their runs in a 7-6 decision at San Francisco Tuesday night that dumped the Giants into second place, 610 percentage points behind.

Wes Covington and Hank Aaron each hit a pair. Covington's second home run in the eighth inning and Aaron's second clinched it in the ninth.

There were at least two home runs in every National League game Tuesday — except at Los Angeles. That cozy corner in the Coliseum gave up just one, a sliced shot by Duke Snider, as Cincinnati used a bunch of walks for an 8-3 victory over the Dodgers.

14 FOR BANKS
St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 8-4 on two-run homers by Stan Musial and Joe Cunningham, and Chicago Cubs clobbered Philadelphia 12-4 with Ernie Banks hitting his 14th homer, tops in the league.

The Braves, who set a team record and led the league in homers with 169 as they won the pennant last season, had been averaging less than one a game before the current spurt. Covington, with four in the last four games, hit his first in a two-run fourth that gave the Braves a 2-2 tie, matching Ray Jablonski's two-run homer in the Giants' third inning.

Aaron, who has hit eight for the season, one less than Covington, and Felix Mantilla hit consecutive homers for a 4-2 lead in the fifth, but starter Lew Burdette and reliever Gene Conley blew the bulge.

Unbeaten Don McMahon won his fifth in relief, but needed Ernie Johnson's help when the Giants scored with one out in the ninth on Willie Mays' triple and an infield out. Ruben Gomez lost his fourth.

Cunningham's second home run of the season junked a four-all tie against losing reliever Curt Raydon (0-2) in the fourth for the Cardinals. Musial slugged his 390th in the majors, ninth this year, in the sixth. He drove in three runs, moving past the 1,600 mark in career RBIs. Larry Jackson won his fourth although allowing 10 hits, including home runs by Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski.

KOUFAX WILD
The Redlegs had nine walks, five of them in a six-run third off loser Sandy Koufax, who didn't allow a hit while giving up five runs. Don Hoak's three-run double was the only hit in the big frame, and the ex-Dodger also stole home in the inning. Brooks Lawrence won his first in a month for a 2-3 record, giving five hits in his first complete game in 11 starts since last September. Snider's homer was his third of the season, first at the Coliseum.

Banks was 4-for-4 for the Cubs, who also had a homer from Cal Neuman as unbeaten Taylor Phillips won his fourth. The young lefty had a five-hit shutout for seven innings. Two of the Phils' runs were unearned. Curt Simmons lost his sixth, but counted his 1,091st strikeout with three.

Conn Smythe Using Some Of His Hockey Tactics With His Entry In Queen's Plate, Racing Back-To-Back

TORONTO (CP) — Conn Smythe, a builder of iron men for hockey, is moulting an iron horse for the Queen's Plate.

The boss of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League is the owner of Caledon Beau, a three-year-old running in Saturday's 98th renewal of the $25,000-added plate. Caledon Beau is favored at 7-to-5 odds.

Smythe is carrying the reputation he made in hockey on to the track — namely, his performers may not always win, but he'll get more mileage out of them than anybody.

Caledon Beau raced in the one-mile Marine Stakes last Saturday at Old Woodbine race track. He ended fourth, then went for a two-mile limbering up exercise Sunday.

RACED MONDAY
Monday? He moved to New Woodbine track and won his plate trial race over 1 1/16 miles.

"What does he think he's doing, running a three-year-old in back-to-back races like that?" one railbird asked.

Smythe scoffed. "They used to tell me hockey players couldn't play on successive days. Now, everybody wants to claim I'm crazy because I started my horse Saturday and again Monday."

Mathieu Retires Ten As Athletics Win Over Windsor 5-3; Game Thurs. Night

Pierre Langlois came up with a triple in the bottom of the fifth to drive in the winning run and give St. Jean Baptiste Athletics a 5-3 decision over Windsor Cardinals in a Junior League game played at the local ballpark last night. The big centre fielder smashed out the best hit ball this year to send Lemire across the plate when the count was deadlocked 3-3.

Jean-Guy Mathieu went the distance for the A's to be credited with the win while Couture pitched the route for the Cards and was the loser. Mathieu gave up six hits and walked two while Couture was tagged for three hits and issued five free passes.

St. Jean opened the scoring in the bottom of the second when Chartier stole home and Langlois scored on a sacrifice bunt along the first base line by Mathieu. They added another in the third when Perrault scored to right field by Provencher.

Windsor picked up their three runs in the third. The rally started when Millette walked and then Mathieu made a wild throw to first and Lemire missed tagging G. Guilbault. With two on Jean Couture hit a well-placed single into right field to score both runners and he in turn crossed the plate on another bingle by Belanger.

Langlois' big triple came in the fifth with Lemire on and then Langlois came in on error by Couture. This rounded out the scoring for the Athletics and a single by Couture and a double by Couture in the fifth for Windsor got runners no further than third. Both pitchers retired the sides in order in the bottom of the sixth and top of the seventh.

The duel on the mound was the best we have witnessed this year Mathieu striking out ten to Couture's five.

The fine hurling display aided the game's cause in yet another way as the teams cut one whole hour off their usual three hour exhibition. It was generally considered that the pitchers and better calibre of play had a lot to do with the shorter playing time.

The loss for the Cards last night left the Indians in sole possession of first place followed by Windsor, the Athletics, and Fuller who are all tied in second spot. Coaticook are in last position.

The Coaticook crew invade Sherbrooke tomorrow night for a game against Fuller. Game time at the Sherbrooke Ballpark is 7:30.

Yanks Wallop Chicago To Extend Lead As Rest Of Loop Stage Real Battle For Top Spots; Senators Pick Up Two

The American League race is a tight one — behind the New York Yankees, that is.

Only four games separate second-place Kansas City Athletics and last place Baltimore Orioles. But the As are 8½ behind the Yankees.

The Yankees clobbered Chicago 13-0 last night, rapping three home runs in support of Johnny Kuck's two-hit pitching. It was the ninth shutout by the Yankee staff this season.

Washington Senators jumped into a third place tie with Boston, just two games behind Kansas City, by beating the As 5-4 and 10-9.

CLEVELAND LOSES
Boston beat Cleveland 7-3, and Baltimore shut out Detroit 2-0 on Arnie Portocarrero's six-hitter.

The Yankees shelled Dick Donovan before he retired a man in a four-run first. Mickey Mantle hit a three-run homer and Bill Skowron socked a solo homer. It was Mantle's sixth, Skowron's fifth. Yogi Berra also hit his sixth home run for the Yankees, who now have won four straight.

Billy Goodman, out since May 6 with a leg injury, singled for both hits by the Sox, who have been shut out three times in a row.

GOT FOUR IN FIRST
The Senators scored four in the first game first, then got the clincher on Roy Sievers' ninth home run in the second inning.

Ralph Terry (2-5) lost it with Russ Kemmerer winning his second. Dick Hyde relieved in the ninth after Bob Cerv, who bit his 15th homer in the fourth, upping his AL lead, singled home two runs.

Herb Pless committed four errors in the nightcap, tying an often tied AL record for third baseman, and booted three in the seventh, when the As scored two for a 9-6 lead. But the Senators hustled back with four in the eighth, with Pless doubling home two and scoring the tying run.

Albie Pearson scored the clincher on an error. Truman Cleveland (3-3) won it in relief as the Nats gained their longest winning string of the season—four games. Duke Maas (2-5) lost it in relief.

Portocarrero, who blanked Boston 2-0 on four hits in his last start got his second in a row with the help of four double plays. Jim Bunning lost his fifth.

Dick Gernert hit a three-run homer for a 5-0 Boston lead in the fifth against starter-loser Mudcat Grant (4-3). Tom Brewer won.

HIT BY BALL

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals lost a customer for Tuesday night's baseball game. He was hit by a batted ball before he could buy a ticket. Louis Scher, 75, was nearing the Busch Stadium ticket office when he was hit on the left hip by a ball knocked out of the park in pre-game batting practice. He was treated for minor cuts at a hospital.

Films Studied

On Crack-Up In 500-Mile Event

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Anton (Tony) Hulman, owner of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, told a news conference Tuesday three films of last Friday's fouled-up parade lap are being studied and he will order whatever changes are needed in the annual 500-mile race start.

Three cars burst out of the pits ahead of the pace car, finally getting into position two laps later just before the green starting light flashed on the mainstretch.

On the third turn of the first racing lap, 15 cars piled up. Pat O'Connor was killed and two other drivers were injured. Ed Elisian was accused of causing the wreck by an error of judgment trying to pass Dick Rathmann. Elisian was suspended by the United States Auto Club.

Canadiens Peddle Three Others To Wings; Leafs Pick Up Johnny Bower; NHL Clubs Spend $95,000 For Minors

MONTREAL (CP) — The National Hockey League winds up its annual meeting today with the intra-league draft after pulling off a couple of Montreal-originated sales and side-tracking demands of the Players' Association — a group not recognized as such by NHL owners.

Canadiens handed over defenceman Dollard St. Laurent to Chicago Black Hawks for an undisclosed sum and peddled three farm hands to Detroit Red Wings for cash only.

St. Laurent's sale came shortly after the NHL clubs had picked up nine minor leaguers in the inter-league draft and the American Hockey League had exercised its draft privileges by grabbing 11 players from the Quebec Hockey League and the Western Hockey League.

Between these player scrambles, the joint relations committees of the NHL and minors tried to settle their own problems and got nowhere.

AGREEMENT EXPECTED
It was much the same when players' representatives met with NHL club owners, although an agreement was expected today.

The owners have never recognized the association, which tossed a law suit at the owners last year and later withdrew it. The players agreed to go along on a players-owners council basis.

"We are no further ahead today than when we met with the owners in Florida last winter," said Doug Harvey, association vice-president. "We thought a lot of things were straightened out then, but we have been going through them all over again."

Players' demands have included requests for more money for the players' pension fund, more money for season finishes in the NHL standings—particularly for lower-placed clubs—and greater consideration for veterans so that they may be placed on a free-agent basis.

SEEK BENEFITS
Harvey said the players' group probably will sign an agreement but will still keep hammering away for further benefits.

Representing the six NHL clubs were Harvey and St. Laurent of Montreal; Ted Lindsay, NHL Players' Association president, and Jim Thomson from Chicago; Dick Duff and Tod Sloan from Toronto; Don McKenney and Fern Flaman from Boston; Red Kelly and Marcel Pronovost from Detroit, and Red Sullivan from New York.

In selling St. Laurent to Chicago, Canadiens indicated they are satisfied with Bob Turner and Albert (Junior) Langlois as defencemen along with Doug Harvey, Tom Johnson and Jean-Guy Talbot.

"Why should we let St. Laurent be picked up in Wednesday's draft?" asked Managing Director Frank Selke—a hint that more than $15,000 was obtained for the French Canadian defenceman.

SELL THREE
Before the draft meeting got under way Canadiens announced the sale of three farm hands to Detroit. They are Gene Achymichuk, centre; defenceman Jim MacPherson and left winger

The AHL wants to retain the draft privilege — at $7,500 per player — and has also hinted broadly that the major NHL hides players by whisking them down to the WHL without giving the AHL a chance to take them.

The Quebec Hockey League took something of a middle ground in the debate and offered no objection to the AHL's draft privilege.

Outcome Of Chavez Ravine Is Still In Doubtful Stage Although Dodgers Hold Slight Lead, 62.3% Voted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The baseball Dodgers' most important contest since they came to Los Angeles was over today, but nobody knew the final score.

The answer was hidden in a vast pile of election returns which will show whether the city's voters have decided to give the ball club a site for a glamorous new stadium in Chavez Ravine.

The last returns announced before counting was stopped for the night put the Dodgers ahead by 47,471 votes to 43,453. This moderate advantage was anything but decisive, since 62.3 per cent of the city's 1,105,427 registered voters cast ballots.

It would take a simple majority for the Dodgers to win the Chavez Ravine property, located just a mile from the Civic Centre.

INVOLVES 300 ACRES
The deal submitted to the voters Tuesday would convey some 300 acres of Chavez Ravine property to the ball club in exchange for Dodger-owned Wrigley Field, a former Pacific Coast League park.

The Dodgers would spend up to $12,000,000 on a new four-tiered stadium seating about 32,000. They also would construct a

Ryan gave two reasons for ending the nine-year stay of the Dodgers in Miami:
1. They have moved to the West Coast and now are no longer an attractive to Miami, which essentially draws eastern people.
2. They are not the top attraction they once were from a player personality standpoint.

The Dodgers drew 80,000 fans for 11 spring games here in 1957. Last spring attendance dropped to 30,000.

Lucky Fisherman Could Land $1,000 Dow Salmon In Lake Memphremagog

"I reeled in a 10-pound salmon and the tag was worth $1,000."

If one of your friends spins this yarn to you this summer, better hold on before dismissing it as just another fish story. Because it might very well be true.

Shortly before July 1st, a fine specimen of landlocked salmon carrying a special Dow tag will be dropped into Lake Memphremagog and whoever comes up with it within the next two months will earn himself a $1,000 cash prize—a nice kettle of fish.

The contest, which is expected to heighten interest in fishing off the waters of the 32-mile lake, is the brainchild of Euclide Langlois, sports-minded Dow Brewery distributor in Magog.

Mr. Langlois, who has been a member of the Memphremagog Conservation Club since it was formed, says club members are constantly trying to promote the tourist trade along both shores of the lake which stretches from Magog to Newport, Vermont.

"The lake is an angler's paradise and one of our best tourist attractions," he explains. "I thought that the best way of luring them our way was to tag a fish, put a $1,000 price on it and drop it into the lake."

Contest rules are simple: (1) the salmon must be caught between July 1st and August 31st, (2) line fishing only is permitted, (3) the winner must be a member of the Memphremagog Conservation Club (membership can be obtained anytime upon payment of a $2 fee), and (4) the catch must be reported immediately to Mr. Langlois or club headquarters in Magog.

The landlocked salmon chosen for the contest comes from the provincial fish hatchery at Lake Lyster, near Coaticook, and it will be tagged under the supervision of Louis-Roch Seguin, director of the hatchery.

According to Yves Laplante and Leonard DeSeve, president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Memphremagog Conservation Club, the contest has already fired up the imagination of anglers throughout the Eastern Townships and even in Montreal and other parts of the province.

"The lake is 350 feet deep in some places and the Dow salmon will offer a challenge to whoever catches it," both club officials report.

"We owe our thanks to Euclide Langlois and to Dow Brewery for coming up with a gimmick which is bound to put Magog and surrounding centres on the map still further."

Divot Diggers Play Champs In Golfers' Weekend

The week-end now coming up, June 5th to 8th, will give the hackers and divot diggers of the nation's golf courses a chance to beat the champion. It's National Golf Week-End, the one time in the year when golfers everywhere can tilt lances with the champion and at the same time help the great development program among boys and girls in all Provinces. Most of these youngsters are not members of country clubs and some youth authorities regard the golf program as the most productive teenage project in existence.

Here's how it works. Playing over the course of the Mayfair Golf & Country Club at Edmonton, Canadian P.G.A. Champion Stan Leonard and Canadian Women's Champion Betty Stanhope of Edmonton will turn in gross scores against which the rest of the country will match their net totals... men against Leonard, women against Miss Stanhope.

Along with Leonard and Miss Stanhope will be the nation's two junior champions, Judy Darling of Montreal and Bill Wakeham of Victoria. They win this big league opportunity to perform because as title-holders they typify the peak of the junior development work financed by National Golf Week-End.

All Mr. & Mrs. Joe Golfer have to do is play a round (or more than one if they wish) at any Canadian club, pay a National Golf Week-End dollar at the first tee and then turn in their net scores when they step off the 18th green. If their net beats the champion's gross they receive an "I Beat The Champion" certificate. Win, lose or draw they help the great character-building golf program of their Province.

Golfers everywhere will be swarming up to the first tee with their dollars in their hands come this week-end. They recognize this as their annual opportunity to have a part in what is said to be Canada's greatest youth project.

C. Legare Paces Indians To 9-2 Win Over Red Sox

C. Legare gave up four hits and batted two-for-four to lead the Rotary Indians to a 9-2 win over the Optimist Red Sox in a Little League game played at the Parade Grounds last night. Both of Legare's hits were solid and stretched into doubles.

M. Adam was another standout for the winning Rotary squad and their new coach Bob Morin was pleased with the team's all-round performance.

For the Red Sox A. Marit showed great promise in the field as he nabbed all six flies headed his way. The Sox opened and closed their scoring in the second when their two runs were scored. The Indians came back in their half of the third to move into a 3-2 lead. They rolled right ahead adding another three in the third and wound up their scoring with three in the fifth.

C. Legare went the distance for the Indians and was credited with the win while O. Boutin took the loss.

The next game in the Little League will be played in Sherbrooke at the Parade Grounds tonight when the Lennoxville Optimist Yankees take on the Kilmorris Senators. Game time is 6:30.
