Sixty-Second Year

Negotiate Or Fight, Eisenhower Tells Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Thursday night told Communist China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight. Immediate congressional reaction to his White House address was strongly favorable. Nationalist China, which the United States has sworn to defend, was certain to applaud.

Nationalists Complain US Help Not Enough In Quemoy Convoys

TAIPEI (AP) — Nationalist Chinese commanders today wrote off as ineffective American-escorted convoys to besieged Quemoy.

The continued success of Communist China's mainland artillery in driving away the Nationalist supply ships before they could unload raised the possibility of air drops to the offshore islands.

Speculation also rose that the Nationalists would make air attacks on the Red siege guns 12 or 30 miles away from Quemoy.

FORCED OFF BEACH

The biggest barrage so far of the war in the Formosa Strait—57,746 Communist shells in 5½ hours—Thursday forced two Nationalist supply ships off Quemoy beach before they could unload more than a small part of their cargo.

Nine other landing ships could not even get to the beach. Reporters on the scene reported at least 40 Nationalist soldiers were wounded in the bombardment.

Thirteen ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet which had escorted the convoy from the Pescadores islands remained three to 12 miles off the beach, in line with U.S. policy not to incur the risk of a shooting duel with the Communists. The Americans ignored Peiping's recent declaration extending Communist China's territorial waters 12 miles to seaward, holding instead to the traditional three-mile limit.

Thursday's convoy was the second to be driven off by bombardment this week. The only one to succeed, on Sunday, was not challenged by the Communist guns.

NOT DOING JOB

"If the Communists keep shelling our convoys on the beach," said the Nationalists' deputy army chief on Quemoy, "it means the United States isn't doing the job of protecting them. I think the next step is for the U.S. to consider more effective ways."

"The only way to get our supplies through without disturbance is to smack their gun positions on the coast," Lt. Gen. Ko Yuan Feno told reporters visiting the island.

Nationalist military men have said several times in the last few days that the only way to silence the blockading shore batteries is with aerial assaults on the mainland guns. There was some doubt however whether the United States—which until now has restrained such blows—would give a go-ahead.

By mid-afternoon today there was no word of a fourth attempt to run the artillery blockade. But the Communist artillery shelling continued.

Jap Ships Shelled By Russians

TOKYO (Reuters) — A small northern Japanese fishing fleet today radioed an urgent message for help after reporting it was being shelled and attacked by Soviet patrol vessels near Habomai Island, north of Japan.

Habomai Island was occupied by Soviet forces at the end of the Pacific war.

A radio report received in Tokyo this evening from Kuchino Port, Northern Japan, said three fishing vessels of the fleet had run aground near Suisho Island, a few miles off Habomai Island.

A coast guard spokesman in Tokyo said one of the vessels, the 39-ton Waksahio Maru, had sent a final message saying she was boarded by Russian troops. The message asked for immediate aid.

Japanese patrol boats have left Kuchino Port to investigate, the spokesman said.

But it remained to be seen whether China and Russia—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand in hand"—would accept his warning.

Peiping Thursday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad Thursday night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on Russia.

INTERRUPTED VACATION

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the speech, perhaps the strongest of his career. He arranged to fly back early today to Newport, R.I.

In his radio-TV address, beamed in 40 languages by the Voice of America, Eisenhower deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it "a tragic affair" which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

But the issue, he said, is not the defence of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, is: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory in the hope that this will satisfy the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

ANSWER IS NO

Contending the answer is no, the president said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent—in fact brought on—the Second World War, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower coupled this warning to the Communists with a bid for negotiation—between the United States and China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

RAILWAYS OFFER DEAL, RAISES FOR RATE HIKE

Hollywood Triangle

Debbie Sad, Eddie Sick, Liz Disappears

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "My husband and I have separated. He isn't coming home."

These words from misty-eyed Debbie Reynolds summed up the situation today among Debbie, her estranged husband, singer Eddie Fisher, and Elizabeth Taylor.

Eddie would only discuss his health ("I'm sick. Sinus. Mononucleosis.") And Liz was so well hidden even her business manager couldn't find her.

After Liz and Fisher were seen nightclubbing in New York, Fisher returned here, argued with Debbie, and moved out of their home. Liz denied being the "other woman" and said, "they weren't getting along, anyway."

SHE DENIES IT

Debbie hotly denied this.

"We've never been happier than we have been in the last year," she said.

The separation was announced Wednesday night, but there has been no mention of a divorce. Debbie left the door open—figuratively—for Eddie to return.

"I don't want this marriage to break up," she said. "There are our lovely children and a beautiful life ahead of us."

The separation didn't leave Debbie moping at home. She attended a movie Thursday night with a girl chum. And neither Debbie's marital tangle nor his mononucleosis (a blood disorder) kept him from rushing off, pills in hand, to do a closed-circuit TV show for prospective sponsors.

No Boy Friends A Little Fat For Girl Swimmers

LONDON (Reuters)—Freedom from the worries of life—particularly boy friends—and a little fat have been suggested as essential requirements for the champion girl swimmer, the British Medical Journal said today.

Discussing the success of teen-aged swimmers in recent international events, the journal said that apart from training, girls have the advantage of a suitable body type.

They have the combination of fat for buoyancy and muscle for power and aggressiveness.

But, as they develop, girls lose their puppy fat and with more mature figures aren't able to swim as fast.

Electronic Brain

LONDON (Reuters)—An electronic brain which can translate and analyze scientific literature is being built in Russia, the Soviet news agency Tass said Thursday. In one hour the machine will be able to work through 4,000,000 pages of Russian text. Foreign language books will be automatically translated.

Integration Decision Today

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON. — (AP) — The United States Supreme Court today denied the Little Rock school board any delay in integration at Central High School.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine Supreme Court justices worked today toward a decision that will affect millions of whites and Negroes in the southern states and influence the course of racial integration in the public schools.

The question is whether to order immediate resumption of racial mixing at Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., or to allow a 2½-year delay sought by the city's school authorities.

The court arranged to convene at noon EDT amid indications of a ruling at that time. The justices could delay action, but the impending reopening of school in Little Rock next Monday pointed to a quick decision.

The issue before the court technically concerns Little Rock alone. But the impact of the court's decision is certain to be felt throughout the South, which has been grappling with the problem of changing its educational way of life in the light of the Supreme Court's 1954 edict against racial separation in the schools.

HELD UP ACTION

In other parts of the south, particularly in Virginia, various federal judges have held up action until they can get new guidance from the Supreme Court.

It is far from certain that Central High will reopen on an integrated basis, even if the Supreme Court should reject the requested delay.

The Arkansas legislature has armed Governor Orval Faubus with powers to close the schools rather than permit integration.

In Little Rock, the mood of the people was reported even harder against integration than it was a year ago when mob violence resulted in the use of federal troops to enforce court-ordered integration at Central High School.

Integration Not Too Fast, Robinson

MONTREAL (CP)—Jackie Robinson, former baseball star, now a business executive and a member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here Thursday night he does not believe the Negro in the United States is going too fast in seeking school integration.

Guest speaker at the opening dinner of the Advertising and Sales Association of Montreal, he said the Negro had waited 94 years—since the Civil War—for his rights and "if we slow down at all now the only way is backwards."

Lindsay Crosby On Drunk Charge

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby's son Lindsay, 20, was booked on suspicion of drunk driving Thursday after his car smashed into a parked car.

Officer James McClain, who arrested him, said young Crosby flunked a sobriety test.

Actress Weds Again

MALIBU, Calif. (AP)—Actress Judith Powell Spreckels, 26, divorced sixth wife of sugar heir Adolph Spreckels II, was married Wednesday to B. E. Blackwell, 46, sportsman heir to an English cannery fortune. Spreckels divorced the actress in 1954 after a 34-day marriage.

Search Continues For Missing Boat

PLYMOUTH, England (Reuters) — A Royal Air Force plane left southwestern England at dawn today to air search that began Thursday for a Canadian attempting to sail across the Atlantic alone in a small Catamaran sailing boat.

Glen Butt, 48, left Newfoundland three weeks ago. He was expected to reach England in his twin-hulled craft about Sept. 3.

Fast Flight

LONDON (AP)—De Havilland Aircraft Company announced that the Comet IV jet airliner which arrived in Hong Kong on a demonstration flight Thursday, covered the 8,000 miles from Hatfield, England, in 17½ hours—14½ hours faster than present scheduled services. The Comet will leave Hong Kong Sunday and is expected back at Hatfield that evening.

Farmers, Consumers Blast Fancy Gimmicks

TORONTO (CP)—Farmers and consumers today rapped merchandisers who try to get them to buy products with advertising gimmicks and fancy packages.

The Ontario branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers told the royal commission on price spreads that it wants goods "sold on the basis of quality and price rather than by pressure of costly advertising."

The association, which hoped the "premium and something-for-nothing period is nearly over," said in a brief to the commission that women "object to repetitive, frequently child-like and ever more blatant advertising."

CUT DOWN ON WRAPPING

Costs of foods could be lowered by cutting down on wrappings. Three pounds of rolled oats in an ordinary paper bag, the association said, costs 29 cents while a similar-size package with "pretty printing" was 41 cents.

Foods usually sold in two or three packages, such as jelly and custard powders, could be packed in one package at less cost.

The association, which says it represents 200,000 women, presented a five-page brief to the commission as it opened five days of hearings here in its study of

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's two big railways have openly proposed a straight deal with the federal government, offering to settle all their contract disputes with some 160,000 railway workers if the railways get a proposed 19-per-cent boost in freight rates.

The railways, facing a strike vote among their 130,000 non-operating employees, will apply to the board of transport commissioners next week for the general increase in freight rates.

They said they will seek an immediate boost and try to get a fast ruling from the Ottawa board. They also want an extra 25 cents a ton on coal and coke freight charges.

REACTION CRITICAL

Initial reaction to the railway move for higher freight rates was generally critical. Opposition before the board was indicated.

Shortly after announcing the freight rate bid, the two railway presidents disclosed that they have written to Labor Minister Starr stating bluntly that if they get the full rate increase, they will settle with the "non-ops" and extend the benefits to operating workers, such as trainmen, engineers and firemen.

On that basis, both groups of railway workers—represented by 18 unions all involved in contract disputes—would get a wage settlement worth about $60,000,000 a year.

The "non-ops," workers who do not actually run trains, have already agreed to a conciliation board majority recommendation for a 14-cent hourly wage increase, to be paid in three stages over a two-year contract expiring Dec. 31, 1959.

OTHERS UNCOMMITTED

The other unions, however, have not committed themselves to accepting the same solution as the "non-ops." But in previous negotiations they have generally gone along with such a settlement.

Thus, in one fell swoop, the railways could resolve their labor difficulties—provided the board of transport commissions, a federal agency, grants the entire freight rate increase.

In effect, the railway proposal

Robert Service

Chronicler Of Sourdoughs Dies

LANCIEUX, France (CP)—Robert W. Service, whose brisk and bawdy verse still speaks for the Yukon sourdoughs who toiled for gold more than half a century ago, died Thursday night at 84 in his villa on the coast of Brittany.

A heart attack was the apparent cause of death. Several weeks ago he became ill with what appeared to be the flu and was confined to bed. His wife was with him when he died.

France was Service's home for a major part of his life—and he has expressed the wish to be buried in the area where he died—but his works have linked him permanently with the history of the Canadian northland.

HE DIDN'T MOWL

For all his personal adventures, and he had many in his later years, in the Yukon he was a young, retiring bank employee who never took an active part in the territory's rough, lusty life.

But, more important, he became the chronicler of the Gold Rush days, winning the title of Bard of the Yukon with a series of books that included Bar-Room Ballads, Songs of a Sourdough and his best-known novel, The Trail of '98.

Service was born in Preston, England, Jan. 16, 1874, one of 10 children of Scottish parents.

He was 20 when he set out for

Camillien Houde

Mr. Montreal Mixed Shrewdness With Buffoonery

MONTREAL (CP)—Camillien Houde, once the biggest mayor of Canada's biggest city, died Thursday. He was 69.

Mr. Houde, who started in the slums as a butcher-boy and became a politician who could declare "I have the heart of the people," died in his sleep.

Known to the nation as Mr. Montreal, he was elected mayor six times and served 18 years between 1928 and 1954.

His portly figure with a bulbous nose and hairless, bullet-shaped head, was a cartoonist's delight. During his political career his weight ranged from 225 pounds to 300.

HAD READY QUIP

It was said of him that shrewdness and ruthlessness were hidden by his buffoonery and a ready quip.

Interned in 1940 for opposing national registration, he returned in 1944 to a hero's welcome from 100,000 persons. One of many Houde legends is that his opening words in his first speech after returning from internment camp were:

"As I was saying when I was so rudely interrupted . . ."

CAMILLIEN HOUDE

1954 on doctor's advice. His retirement was as quiet as his political career had been stormy.

Rumors that he would seek the mayor's chair circulated prior to the 1957 civic election. But he issued a statement that he would not run. It was his political swan song.

His up-and-down political career started when he joined a Conservative club. In 1923 he won the St. Mary seat in the provincial legislature. Defeated in 1927, he became mayor a year later.

Then he regained St. Mary and became provincial Conservative party leader. He resigned as leader in 1932 after being defeated at the polls in 1931.

Two years later he regained the job he loved best—he was re-elected mayor of Montreal. He resigned in 1936 and was back in office in 1938.

Then, in 1939, he was re-elected to represent St. Mary, remaining as the riding's official representative during his interment.

After his interment, Mr. Houde in 1945 once more became Montreal's mayor. He held the post until his retirement.

He also sat as an independent in Parliament—after two unsuccessful tries—from 1949 to 1953. But he was unusually quiet, saying he didn't have a big enough majority to speak for his riding.

Once he chided Montreal for his comings and goings in political office.

"You elect me, then you throw me out. There is never any joy in my city when I am beaten. The next day you realize what you have done and regret it."

He is survived by his second wife, the former Mignonne Bourgeois, who bore him the third of his three daughters. All the daughters survive him.

The body is to lie in state today and Saturday in the Hall of Honor at City Hall.

Funeral service is to be held Monday at Notre Dame Cathedral.

Two-Year-Old Bread Wins Prize

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — A loaf of bread two years old won a first prize for baking for Streeter Blair Thursday at the Los Angeles County Fair.

He said he baked his orange loaf in 1956 and stored it in deep freeze.

Streeter, 70, an artist, lives in Beverly Hills.

All About Stamps

The new regional stamps from Great Britain have caused a great deal of comment in areas outside of that country regarding the various symbols used for the different sections, and so, at the risk of being boring to the Canadians of British descent, I will give a quick run down of the various symbols. Wales: the Dragon has been used in Welsh legend since the earliest times and appears to have been established before heraldry. The Leek is a military and religious Welsh emblem. It was worn by Welsh soldiers at the battle of Crecy. St. David, patron Saint of Wales, was fond of it as a vegetable.

Scotland: The Saltire or St. Andrew's Cross is the registered identity badge of Scotland, and the thistle is the national emblem.

Northern Ireland: The Red Hand of Ulster is the badge of the Province of Ulster. This symbol was used in the seal of the old Kings of Ulster. The flag plant shown on all three values symbolises Northern Ireland's connection with linen. The flag plant with stone pillars on the 1/2 value is a feature of the Ulster countryside.

Guernsey: One of the Channel Islands. Crown of William the Conqueror taken from a silver penny minted 1069-72. Flower is the Guernsey lily associated with the island since the middle of the 17th century.

Jersey: One of the Channel Islands. Royal Coat of Jersey on the left, presented to King Charles II to Jersey in 1663. Arms of Jersey, right, date from 1279.

Isle of Man: The Three Legs of Man are the arms of the ancient Kingdom of Man. The ring chain pattern in the borders dates from the Norse period in the island's history.

There will be a new value for the Somaliland Protectorate added to the current series. The design includes a portrait of Her Majesty and features the Tomb of Sheikh Isaaq at Mait. The Tomb depicted on the stamp is that of a Sheikh who is the anonymous ancestor of a considerable proportion of the inhabitants of the Protectorate and his memory is greatly revered. Traditionally believed to be 739 years old, the tomb, was built by the Sheikh himself assisted by two other "Sharifs" who are buried beside him, as also are four of his sons and one of his grandsons. The stamp will be printed in two colours, ultramarine and black, by the recess process. The value of the new stamps is 1/2 and was issued on September 1st. Switzerland will issue an attractive set of stamps for the International Bureau of Education, and for the first time, for the International Telecommunication Union, both these are situated in Geneva. The stamps can only be used for the prepayment of the mail of the organizations mentioned. The date of issue is Sept. 22.

It is Scott Catalogue time again - and although it does seem like a lot of money to invest in a catalogue you really need one if you are going to collect intelligently. The sequence of issues and the dates will be needed as well as the information about perforations and watermarks. If you cannot afford a new catalogue for both areas then it is a good idea to purchase Part 1 one year and Part II the next. Catalogues can be shared by collectors in the same town. Clubs can purchase one or both for their members, but no matter how you do it, you need the Scott Catalogue.

The writer recently received from a chap who has the time to sort stamps by the thousands a lot of the Canadian 3c stamp of 1883-97. These stamps were sorted into groups that showed place names, dates, R. P. O's and other markings. The time spent to do this must have been many hours but the end results will mean that collectors will be able to purchase stamps without all this work. The point is that today it seems that we have far less time ourselves for this type of thing. To pay someone to do it costs money. When a collector asks for a stamp that catalogs 5c and expects to pay 1c to get it he forgets the time it took to sort it off paper, place it in stock, then take it out and put in a small glassine to send along to him, plus the paper and envelope, let alone the postage. That is why most dealers today ask for a minimum order of $2.00 at least or charge 25c to fill an order under this amount.

CORNER STONE LAYING 1908

Special Rededication Ceremony At St. Andrew's In Asbestos

By WM. H. LUNAN

ASBESTOS — The St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will hold a Special Service on Sunday, September 14th, to commemorate the founding of the church on September 12th, 1908, when the corner stone was laid.

The re-dedication service will be conducted by Mr. Goodwill MacDougall, B.A., Student Minister of the Presbyterian College of Montreal at 11:00 o'clock in the morning.

FOUNDING OF THE CHURCH

On the Eleventh day of November 1907 a group of members of St. Andrew's Church, met in the village of Danville and started a subscription list, the heading of which reads as follows: "We the undersigned promise to pay the amounts affixed opposite our respective names for the purpose of building a Presbyterian Church at Asbestos."

Among the first names on this list were Alexander MacLeay, John Riddle, J. A. McCallum, R. H. Stevenson, M.D., G. F. Brown, John Wadleigh, H. R. Cleveland, G. K. Foster, Mrs. Houston, Carl Brown and other residents of Danville, J. R. Pearson, Harry Williams, Jethro Brooks, A. C. Webb, Rev. L. N. Castonguay, J. H. Bourbeau, Denault & Freres, John Champoux, Wm. Kerr, Mrs. Church, Mrs. Livingstone and many others in the village of Asbestos. Marcus Crombie, George Williamson, of Kingsbury, P. S. G. MacKenzie, of Melbourne, H. E. C.B., and T. F. Manville, and T. F. Younglove, of New York, Turner Bros., England, The Asbestos and Asbestos Co. Ltd., Asbestos and many others.

The next document shows that on the fifth day of May 1908 before Donald M. Rowat, N.P., in the Town of Richmond appeared Arthur Lafrance "who sells fire and clear of all encumbrances to the St. Andrew's Church of the Village of Danville a congregation of Presbyterians in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada—and represented by Trustees of the said congregation duly appointed, to wit: Alexander MacLeay, of Shipton, Farmer and Merchant, James A. MacCallum, Farmer and Butter-maker and Robert Stevenson, Physician, both of Danville. A certain parcel of land on St. George St. in the Village of Asbestos forming Lots 45 of a certain private plan of Cadastral Lot 5—"

The work of constructing the concrete foundation wall was entrusted to Joseph Boisvert and the construction of the Church building thereon to T. T. Shurtleff.

The Corner stone was laid on the 12th day of September 1908 by the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Quebec A.F. & A.M. in the presence of a large gathering of members, adherents and friends of the congregation. A reception was held later in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pearson.

We have further information about the events of those days when reading a clipping from the Sherbrooke Daily Record of Aug. 1, 1952. "Glances into the past" by Bertha Weston Price, telling of a little story in a copy of the News and Advocate of Feb. 5, 1909 about the opening of the new Presbyterian Church at Asbestos. The actual date of this service was January 24th, 1909. The Dedication was performed by Rev. H. Carmichael, of Chalmers Presbyterian Church, Richmond assisted by Rev. E. C. Woodley minister of the Congregational Church, Danville and Rev. J. N. Brunton the regular pastor of the Church. The evening service was conducted by Rev. H. C. Sutherland pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Kingsbury assisted by Rev. Paul Pergau, pastor of the Methodist Church, Danville.

On Monday evening a supper was served in the basement of the church followed by a praise service presided over by Mr. J. R. Pearson, Manager of the Asbestos and Asbestos Co. Ltd. Mr. Alex MacLeay, of Danville read a resolution passed by the Trustees of the Church property granting to other denominations the privilege of using the Church for their services subject to mutual agreement.

Mr. H. J. Williams, General Superintendent of operations for The Asbestos and Asbestos Co. Ltd., read a statement of contributions received.

Rev. Wylie Clark of Quebec City gave a reading of The Sky Pilot.

In the year 1942 this Church property being in the proposed mine expansion area, was sold to The Canadian Johns Manville Co. Ltd., for a cash consideration and a building lot in another part of town where the present Church was erected.

The congregation today although smaller in numbers than that of fifty years ago is not lacking in interest and generosity. A cordial welcome is extended to members and friends at this rededication service.

Shriners Club Plans Benefit For Hospital

The Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in Montreal, an institution which has served over 9,000 youngsters in 33 years, will receive the profits from the informal dance to be sponsored by the Eastern Townships Shriners' Club on Sept. 26, in the Sherbrooke Regiment Armory.

Modern and old time dances to the music of Smiley Willette and his orchestra will be played from 9-1.

Most of the children admitted to the Montreal hospital on Cedar Ave., come from the provinces of Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island and the northern sections of Vermont and New York, but children have been admitted from as far away as Newfoundland, Labrador, Magdalen Islands and the West Indies.

In order for a child to be admitted to a Shriners' Hospital, the parents must be unable to pay for hospitalization. No charge is ever made for the treatment—it is a 100% charity crippled children's hospital.

Children are admitted without regard to race, creed or color, but must be under 14 years of age normal mentally, and there must be a possibility of either a complete cure or of being materially aided. Application for admission must be signed by a Shiner and approved by the Chief Surgeon and the Board of Governors.

Mayor Pays Tribute To 'Camillien'

The death of Montreal's ex-mayor Camillien Houde is the end of an era, Mayor Nadeau said yesterday during his press conference.

Speaking of the death of the 69-year-old politician who was widely-known as "Mr. Montreal", the mayor said "I have never met in my political career, an orator who was more able and more master of his audience."

"He did not have the eloquence of the classics but rather had an eloquence of his own. He could arouse emotions in a hall with his hands."

Referring to the famous anti-conscription meeting of 1940 in Montreal's poor St. Henri ward after which Mayor Houde was interned for speaking against conscription, Mayor Nadeau said "the threat of war was described by a waving of the hands."

"There's no mayor that Montreal liked more. His name was known all over the world."

Civil Defence Ottawa Matter, Mayor Declares

The cost of planning and organizing a civil defence unit in Sherbrooke should be borne by the federal government, Mayor Nadeau said yesterday during his weekly press conference.

He said civil defence pertained more to larger centres such as Montreal and Toronto and added that he agreed with Montreal's ex-mayor Jean Drapeau that civil defence is strictly a federal matter.

The Drapeau-Desmarais administration during their short reign eliminated civil defence spending from the municipal budget.

Mayor Nadeau said he agreed with Mr. Drapeau's opinion.

"The federal defense department should organize or establish a plan then submit it to us."

There were no civil defence experts on the municipal payroll, he said.

Suspended Sentence For Trio

Three Richmond youths were given a suspended sentence yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of trying to siphon gas from a Quebec Catholic School Commission bus on the night of August 23.

The three accused, Gerald Godbout, Yvon Salois and Marcel Lacroix, were given a suspended sentence by Sessions Court, Judge Joseph Marier, when the judge found out it was their first offence.

Dangerous Precedent

Mayor Doubts Value Of Allard Plan To Aid Textile Industry

Bolstering the textile industry with municipal tax concessions would be creating a "dangerous precedent," Mayor Nadeau said yesterday during his weekly press conference.

The mayor was referring to a statement by Maurice Allard, Sherbrooke M.P., who told a convention of Ladies' Hosiery Manufacturers Association Tuesday that the textile industries should be helped by municipal tax concessions.

"Mr. Allard's proposal would certainly apply to other cities more afflicted than Sherbrooke," Mayor Nadeau said.

"Aside from the American Biltrite Company, the textile industry is the best operating industry in Sherbrooke."

"We could not give concessions because it would be creating a dangerous precedent. As soon as one industry would slow down it would mean changing the valuation."

He said the proposal would suit such towns as Magog, Windsor Mills or East Angus where the entire labor force is dependent upon a single industry.

"In all cities where a single industry takes up all the labor force, the valuation is fixed by a special bill."

HAND IN HAND

The mayor said Sherbrooke has already done much for industry by fighting the tax on machinery levied by the school boards. The privilege was annulled by the Quebec government last spring.

"The city council goes hand in hand with industry. Without industry Sherbrooke would not be Sherbrooke."

CITY'S RIGHT

The machinery tax was annulled provided Sherbrooke industries agreed to turn over a fixed sum to the school boards over an eight year period, retroactive to 1955.

Referring to this amendment, Mayor Nadeau said one important clause in the bill was ignored. He said the city was also given exclusive jurisdiction in deciding whether machinery would be assessed for either municipal or school purposes.

The council alone, by a resolution, can order the imposition of machinery tax.

He said this clause follows a resolution he presented last year to the Union of Mayors and Municipalities which was subsequently adopted.

The clause was inscribed under amendment 521, Chapter 22 of the Statutes of Quebec 6, 7

Presbytery Held Active Session At Melbourne

MELBOURNE — (Special) — The Quebec Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Canada held their semi-annual meeting in Melbourne at L'Eglise des Cantons de l'Est, yesterday with the moderator, Rev. Ivor McIvor, of Scotstown, presiding and William Clarke, of Asbestos, acting as Presbytery Clerk.

The following churches were represented: St. Andrew's, Quebec City by Mrs. N. MacCarthy; St. Paul's, Scotstown by Mr. McIvor and Mrs. MacKenzie; L'Eglise des Cantons de l'Est by Rev. Jacques Smith and G. O. Malboeuf; St. Andrew's, Melbourne and Richmond, by James Leckie; Asbestos and Danville, by William Clarke, Valcartier by Owen Channon; St. Andrew's Sherbrooke by Rev. S. G. Garland and Hugh Rose.

The commissioners to the General Assembly, Rev. Wilfrid Butcher, Rev. Armand Jossinet, Gerald Fortier and Russell H. Morrison gave enthusiastic reports which were received with interest.

Rev. Ronald Rowat, superintendent of Missions, of Montreal, was present.

Goodwill MacDougall and John Fortier were in attendance and were certified as students for further study at Montreal Presbyterian College.

Owen Channon, chairman of the property committee, gave a report with 12 recommendations. The care of cemeteries of the Presbyterian churches in various districts received special attention.

Rev. S. G. Garland, quoting Dr. J. A. Munroe, general secretary of the Mission Board, Toronto, said that 1959 will be a bright year for the missions in Presbyterian churches. New churches are being dedicated at the rate of two per month. The churches in this Presbytery have increased their budget or mission giving in 1958 over 1957 to date by $2,169.18.

Dinner and tea were served the delegates by the ladies of the L'Eglise des Cantons de l'Est. The Presbytery adjourned to meet October 29 in St. George de Beauce, to conduct a memorial service prior to dissolution of the Jersey Mills Presbyterian Church. All former members of the Jersey Mills Church are urged to be present.

CNR Attempts To Cut Losses

The protests of the railway unions against the Canadian National Railway's decision to suspend operations of one of its two transcontinental trains during the winter are unlikely to find much sympathy with the general public.

The CNR decision was taken after a two-year study showed a marked decrease in the number of passengers using the Montreal-to-Vancouver run in the winter months. The Continental will be suspended and the other CNR transcontinental train, the Super-Continental, will make additional stops to fill the gap.

The CNR expects to lose money this year and President Donald Gordon told the Senate transport committee that he would be "afraid" to tell how many millions of dollars are lost on the passenger services. It is not surprising that the railways are losing interest in passenger services, as one union official complained the other day. Only the heavily-travelled inter-urban routes such as between Montreal and Toronto make money.

The railways' main operations and the bulk of their revenue come from freight hauls. Passenger services are costly to operate, not the least cause being that more men must be employed at high wages. Competition from road and air transport is keen in both fields, especially in the passenger field.

The CNR has had financial difficulties of one sort or another since it was first formed from a group of financially - pressed railways. Not the least of its difficulties in the past has been political pressure to maintain "public services" long after they had ceased to be revenue producing. It is to be hoped that in this case pressure is not applied to prevent the CNR from taking a sensible step to reduce its anticipated deficit.

Electricity And Atom Bombs

One of the most encouraging aspects of the peaceful development of atomic energy in the past few years is that it has ceased to be an eighth world wonder and has become a serious industry. The interest in atomic energy has partly shifted from the laboratory - - and the military testing ground - - to the factory.

The international conference on atomic energy at Geneva, at which Canada has played a leading part, has illustrated this change in emphasis. At the first such conference, some three years ago, much of the excitement resulted from the fact that many of the scientists who attended were speaking openly of what they had accomplished for the first time in 15 years. The end of this era of secrecy is now practically complete, at least in the field of peaceful application of atomic energy.

The great dream of the future of harnessing nuclear power for industrial purposes is not a national aspiration alone but is now shared by all nations. Everyone realizes the futility and waste of being secretive about new processes for harnessing the atom.

Another aspect of the development of atomic power for peaceful uses has not been so successful, however. Scientists and governments have realized that international collaboration on an unprecedented scale will be needed if the underdeveloped countries are to be able to exploit atomic energy as quickly as their needs demand. This has not materialized yet.

Atomic energy has two purposes - - peaceful and warlike. It is not possible to create electricity without also making plutonium, and plutonium is an explosive. This means that the building of power stations must be preceded by long and involved diplomatic negotiations and the fuel for the station will be made available only on conditions which are most restrictive. This seems inevitable so long as there is no international and enforceable ban on making atom bombs.

The benefits of atomic energy will not be achieved fully until military application of that energy is prevented. This is a long step forward and until it is realized will put a damper on the optimism of the scientists at Geneva. The benefits will be great, though, as soon as governments make it possible for the world to reap them.

Gentlemanly Campaigning

Americans are always coming up with something novel. Now Democratic and Republican leaders, preparing for the elections in November, have arrived at a code of conduct for politicians designed to bar "dirty campaigning."

Under the code, individual candidates for office will be asked to sign a pledge against slander, personal vilification, whispering campaigns, misrepresentation, and appeals based on race, nationality or creed.

This noble resolve will receive applause from all sides. From all reports, the level of campaigning across the border isn't much different from that practised in many parts of this country, particularly Quebec.

But how effective the code will be remains dubious. Rough and tumble politics is a habit in the United States. It would be just too good to be true if all candidates began acting like perfect gentlemen. Besides, it would be pretty dull too.

Press Comment

ON NOT APOLOGIZING
(Ottawa Citizen)

Things have come to a pretty pass, it would seem, when an influential British institution should warn people to be chary about apologizing. Except in politics, where the old maxim of "Never retract, never explain, never apologize" still has wide acceptance, admission of error and regret for committing it are usually regarded as marks of the civilized man.

However, the Royal Automobile Association evidently believes that gentlemanly behavior can be carried too far, at least when dealing with a traffic policeman. The association has informed its two million members that when a motorist who is stopped by a policeman murmurs "sorry," that remark is apt to be taken down in a little black notebook and used as evidence against him. Read out in court, it sounds like an admission of guilt.

In future, therefore, British motorists are expected to shed their good manners when dealing with the law. The number of convictions and fines for minor infractions may go down as a result, but whether this is altogether desirable is hard to say. And from declining to say "sorry" to a cop is but a step to not saying "sorry" to anybody. Where would the

But when it comes to rendering the Queen's English utterly unintelligible, those responsible for official publications are surely in a class all their own. Their consummate skill in constructing syntactic jungles of tortuous gibberish is such that lesser mortals can only marvel.

Take, for instance, the following gems, a verbatim extract from an official British document recently published by Her Majesty's Stationery Office:

"The regression coefficient of the logarithm of mean food expenditure per person on the logarithm of mean family income per head for a sample of households of given composition is an estimate of the income elasticity of total domestic food expenditure."

What on earth does it mean? Does it mean anything? We have read it a dozen times and dissected it in as many different ways, but we are as wise now as when we started.

Take, for instance, the following gems, a verbatim extract from an official British document recently published by Her Majesty's Stationery Office:

"The regression coefficient of the logarithm of mean food expenditure per person on the logarithm of mean family income per head for a sample of households of given composition is an estimate of the income elasticity of total domestic food expenditure."

What on earth does it mean? Does it mean anything? We have read it a dozen times and dissected it in as many different ways, but we are as wise now as when we started.

Montreal Troupe To Present Play At Auditorium

Montreal's Theatre du Nouveau Monde will present a French play entitled "Le Temps des Lilas" by the French-Canadian playwright, Marcel Dubé, at the St. Charles Auditorium, September 30. Curtain time will be 8.30.

The Theatre du Nouveau Monde is noted for its presentation of plays both in French and English. It has just completed a run of performances at Stratford, Ont., of "Le Temps des Lilas" in English and of plays by Molière in French.

Sherbrooke is one of the stop-off points on the troupe's province-wide tour. Next on schedule will be a tour of Western Canada with presentations of "Le Temps des Lilas" in English.

The tour will include Toronto, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Edmonton, Calgary and Vancouver.

Last March the troupe played at Brussels and Paris.

Starting at the St. Charles Auditorium performance will be many actors from CBC television.

The cast will be Jean Gascon, director; Huguette Oigny; Jeanmarc Roux, well-known as Ovide Plouffe of "The Plouffe Family"; Denise Pelletier who has played the lead role in English of Shaw's "The Joan"; Denise St. Pierre; Georges Groulx; Guy Hoffman and Gabriel Gascon.

"Le Temps des Lilas" was premiered at Montreal's Orpheum theatre.

Report Increase In Attendance At Stanstead

STANSTAD. — More than 175 students began their classes yesterday as the first academic year of Stanstead College as an all-male institution, got underway. Of the figure just named, 126 students are in residence.

With the inauguration of the College as a school for boys only, the number of students has increased slightly.

Largest increase in the size of classes occurred in Grade XII, now containing 21 students, an increase of 16 from last year.

Davis Hall, the new residence, originally slated to be in use last year, is now occupied, as is the Bugbee Business Building, housing junior boys. The balance of the resident students are living in Colby Hall, a wing of the main building.

Plans are complete for the junior boys' residence and construction is expected to begin in October in order to be ready for use in the fall of 1959.

New staff members include: Mr. A. J. Ledeganck, Mr. David MacKay, Mr. John Driscoll, Mr. John Butterworth, Mr. G. Ross, Mrs. Ruby Greer, and Mr. J. A. Ketcham. Religious instruction is under Rev. A. McK. Rose, Rev. T. W. Tyson and Rev. Frank Stanton.

GOLD RUSH

Gold was discovered in California in 1848, nine days before Mexico ceded the territory to the United States.

SOLUTION

dumps the whole wage problem into the board's lap—an unprecedented move in freight rate applications.

In a nationally-televised press conference on the CBC Thursday night, both sides explained their positions.

WINTER STRIKE POSSIBLE

Frank H. Hall, spokesman for the 15 non-operating unions, disclosed that a Nov. 1 deadline will be set for return of strike ballots, now in the process of being printed for distribution. He said a strike date could be set any time after that—thus indicating the possibility of a winter strike that could tie up the trans-continental services of both railways.

The railway presidents—Donald Gordon of the CNR and N. R. Crump of the CPR—said it was this possibility of a strike that forced them to take their present action.

And they warned:

"If we don't get the revenue, our position is that we can't grant the wage increase."

Eight days ago, the railways declined to reject or accept the conciliation board's majority report on the "non-ops" case. Their new letter to Mr. Starr, expected to be delivered today, changes this stand to acceptance—with a qualifying "if."

WANTED 35 CENTS

The non-operating unions originally asked for a wage increase of 35-cents an hour. They said they were accepting the 14-cent figure in the interests of industrial peace. The other unions still have demands before the railways for increases ranging from 18 to 25 per cent.

Early comments on the railway move for higher freight rates:

"ways and means should be explored to avoid any increase in freight rates for coal," said union spokesman W. M. Ure of Calgary.

The United Mine Workers of America official warned higher coal rates can only lead to further difficulties in the coal mining industry.

Meanwhile, Nova Scotia will get the Maritime transportation commission to do everything possible to keep freight rates in Nova Scotia at their present level, said Provincial Premier Stanfield in Halifax.

Both he and Premier Matheson of Prince Edward Island have said any increases will adversely affect the Maritimes.

ASCOT CORNER

Recent guests at the home of Mrs. Jos. Pageau and Mr. Orin Pageau were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vigard, of Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCafferty and Mr. E. Baker, of Cookshire, Mr. and Mrs. Rene Lemieux and Mrs. B. Mercier of Sherbrooke.

Miss Suzanne Lemieux and Miss Michele Mercier spent a few days at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Pageau.

Latest reports are that Miss Blanche Pageau is gaining steadily. Although still in the Sherbrooke Hospital she is able to take little outings in her wheel chair.

Mr. Vallee spent a week at Bertrig Farm, guest of his sister, Mrs. B. V. Triganne.

Master Jean Rock has left for school at Montreal.

Mrs. Arthur Coates, in company with Mr. and Mrs. J. Cowan, of Lennoxville, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Daintrey, of North Hatley, visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Powers at Richmond, Vt., and their guest, Miss Lela Cowan, of Bakersfield, Vt.

RCAF Units Hold Special Church Parades Sunday

Members of the local Air Force Squadron will hold their annual RCAF of Britain celebrations on Sunday, Sept. 14.

This year's celebrations will include members of the 303 (Sherbrooke) Wing, R.C.A.F. Association, Number 2450 A.C. and W. Squadron-R.C.A.F. (Aux.) and Rotary sponsored Air Cadet Squadron Band.

All Air Force veterans will assemble at the Radar Building on Depot Street at 10.15 a.m. from where a "Battle of Britain" Church parade will be held. The Protestants will attend St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and the Roman Catholics will march to the Chapel of the Precious Blood Convent on Dufferin St.

Participants will be addressed by Rev. S. G. Garland and Msgr. R. Moisan.

Salutes will be accepted by former C.O. of 2450 A.C. and W. Squadron, S/L Frank McCrea on the Bank of Montreal steps.

The Battle of Britain Ball will be held Saturday evening at the radar unit on Depot Street.

NEGOTIATE or FIGHT

"There is not going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

Two-thirds of the radio-TV "report to the American people" was on the theme, "no appeasement... no Munich... no retreat in the face of armed aggression."

WAS CONCILIATORY

The final third was conciliatory, a plea for Communist agreement to "a far better way than resort to force to settle these differences... the way of negotiation."

In rejecting "appeasement" and proposing negotiation, Eisenhower went further than State Secretary Dulles has in previous statements on both counts.

Eisenhower seemed very close to saying "yes" to the big question—would the United States fight for the offshore Nationalist islands—when he declared:

"It is as certain as can be that the shooting which the Chinese Communists started on Aug. 23 has as its purpose not just the taking of the island of Quemoy. It is part of what is indeed an ambitious plan of armed conquest."

WOULD BE HOSTILE

"This plan would liquidate all of the free world positions in the Western Pacific area and bring them under captive governments which would be hostile to the United States and to the free world."

Thus the Chinese and Russian Communists would come to dominate at least the western half of the now friendly Pacific Ocean...

"I must say to you very frankly and soberly, my friends, the United States cannot accept the result that the Communists seek. Neither can we show, now, a weakness of purpose—a timidity..."

But almost in the next breath Eisenhower emphasized he feels duty-bound "not to make absolute advance commitments, but to use my judgment according to the circumstances of the time."

Churchills Celebrate Quietly

CAP d'AIL, France (Reuters)—Sir Winston and Lady Churchill today celebrated the golden anniversary of their wedding, an event the statesman once described as the "most joyous and fortunate" of his life.

The quiet celebration under Riviera sunshine was part of a vacation in this Mediterranean resort for the former prime minister and his wife Clementine.

Hundreds of congratulatory letters, telegrams and gifts poured in to the Villa Caponcia, set in a tree-studded park by the sea and hidden from observation on all sides by steep cliffs and foliage.

INTIMATE GATHERING

The half-century of married life was being marked by a small and intimate gathering that included Churchill's journalist son, Randolph, and his eight-year-old granddaughter, Arabella.

It was an occasion that stirred memories of a fall day in 1908 when a rising young politician, later to be described as "the greatest Englishman of his time," married a 23-year-old society beauty named Clementine Hoizer.

At 33, Churchill already was president of the board of trade.

"Clemmie" was a notable speaker, an intellectual and an athlete.

Some of his wife's qualities were recognized when Churchill wrote years later:

"My marriage was the most fortunate and joyous event which happened to me in the whole of my life. For what can be more glorious than to be united in one's walk through life with a being incapable of an ignoble thought?"

RECEIVES CIGAR

Anniversary gifts ranged from tokens of goodwill in gold to such flamboyant offerings as a massive cigar in chocolate from Sweden, a crate of champagne from France and a gigantic bottle of brandy from a Riviera restaurant.

The wartime prime minister sometimes frequents.

The man who led his country in wartime is, his friends say, in excellent form. He is in good health.

Standing by today, as she has during almost every major domestic and international crisis of the century, is 73-year-old Lady Churchill.

There were five children. One of them, Marigold, died of pneumonia when a child. Then came Diana, now married to Defence Minister Duncan Sandys.

Their only son, Randolph, followed. Then actress daughter Sarah, now widow of society photographer Anthony Beauchamp, and finally Mary, wife of Christopher Soames, secretary of state for war.

PIGEON HILL

Miss Irene Davidson T.A. has returned home from Waterloo after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Percy Tibbitts, and nephew, Wallace Tibbitts.

Mrs. Leonard Davidson and daughter, Barbara Ann, of Melbourne, and Judy Lancaster, of Richmond, were guests over the weekend. They returned home with Mr. L. Davidson and son, John, and Mrs. Rose Davidson and two children, who were supper guests at the home of Mr. Davidson's brother, Mr. Alex Davidson.

Corn Abundant This Morning On Local Market

Local corn made its appearance in abundance today on the Sherbrooke market, selling at 25 to 30 cents a dozen. Most other vegetables were plentiful with prices showing little change from the previous week. Squash is expected to appear next week, but the supply of green beans has dropped off sharply.

Little change was noted in the price of meat cuts.

WEST BROME —

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Riley, of La Salle, and Misses Emma and Evelyn Coughtry, of Montreal, spent the weekend with the latter's parents and grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coughtry and Mrs. Minnie Derby.

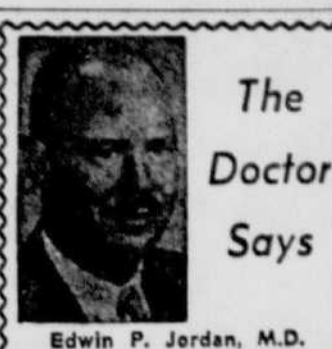

Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert Barber and friend, Miss Florence Cole, of Montreal, spent the long weekend at their home here.

Mrs. Minnie Derby accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Guy Darrah, of St. Come, to Newport, Vt., and visited their sister, Mrs. H. Cowan.

Miss Lesley Gilmour, of Montreal, spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gilmour.

Mr. Oran Ingalls and his son, Mr. Wyatt Ingalls, and daughter, of Reading, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. Casper Scott.

Mr. Albert Bernier is in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg, where he underwent an operation.

The Doctor
Says

GOOD SANITATION HAS PROVEN DOWNFALL OF TYPHOID FEVER

It has been a long time since I have written about typhoid fever because this disease is relatively uncommon now in North America.

Actually, typhoid exists primarily in those areas where sanitation is poor. Even today in certain parts of the southwest United States there are many people who are unaware of the dangers of drinking contaminated water, who have poor methods of sewage disposal, and therefore have a good many more cases of typhoid than most of the rest of North America.

The cause of typhoid has been known for a long time. It is a germ called bacillus typhosus. This germ can be seen under the microscope and grown in the laboratory. It enters the system through food or drink and is eliminated externally through the urine and intestinal waste.

Just the other day a letter came from a reader, who says that a close friend has been told she is a typhoid germ carrier.

The writer wants to know what this means, whether the friend can give the germ to others, if there is a cure, and whether the friend can lead a normal life without endangering their health.

A typhoid carrier is a person who is apparently well, but harbors the bacillus typhosus. Probably the most famous typhoid carrier was known as Typhoid Mary. She worked as a cook and infected a good many people before she was removed from this occupation.

Since a typhoid carrier harbors the responsible germ, he or she can give it to others. It is particularly important in such cases that the carrier does not handle food or drink for others persons. Certain other precautions are in order.

The question of cure must be answered with caution. It is possible that one or more of the newer antibiotics can be used to eliminate the germs from the carrier. Sometimes I believe the removal of the gallbladder must be considered in case the germs are permanently harbored in that organ.

There has been no satisfactory treatment for typhoid fever once it has been contracted. Today certain antibiotics, however, have been reported on as curable.

Prevention by proper sanitary methods is particularly important. Those who recover from typhoid are fortunate and generally remain immune or resistant throughout life.

In addition to improvements in methods of disposal of sewage and in guarding the drinking water against contamination with the germs, we now have an additional method of fighting the disease. This consists of a vaccine which should be given to anyone who is likely to be expected to unsanitary living conditions.

The vaccine does not prevent typhoid absolutely, but it does increase the body resistance so that there is far less risk of contracting the disease.

It has been used in both World Wars and is undoubtedly partly responsible for the exceedingly small number of cases of typhoid which have occurred in our fighting men in the last two wars.

EAST FARNHAM —

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lapointe and two children, Ross and Shelly, of Carmel, N.Y., are spending a week with her father, Mr. Harmon Nichols, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Sanborn.

Mrs. Charles Crawford was calling on her sister, Miss Carol Johnson, of Farnham Centre, who underwent surgery and is a patient in the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg.

Guests of Mrs. A. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. John Barrand over the holiday weekend were the Misses Mary Graham and Joan Hutchinson, Messrs. David Fraser and Kenneth McNicol, all of Ottawa, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Graham and two children, Michael and Christine, of St. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. John Beerworth and two sons, of Brome Centre. A wiener roast was the feature entertainment at this family gathering on Sunday evening.

Miss Joan Sanborn spent a week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Todd at their camp, in Mansonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford were recent guests of Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myles Johnson, at Farnham Centre.

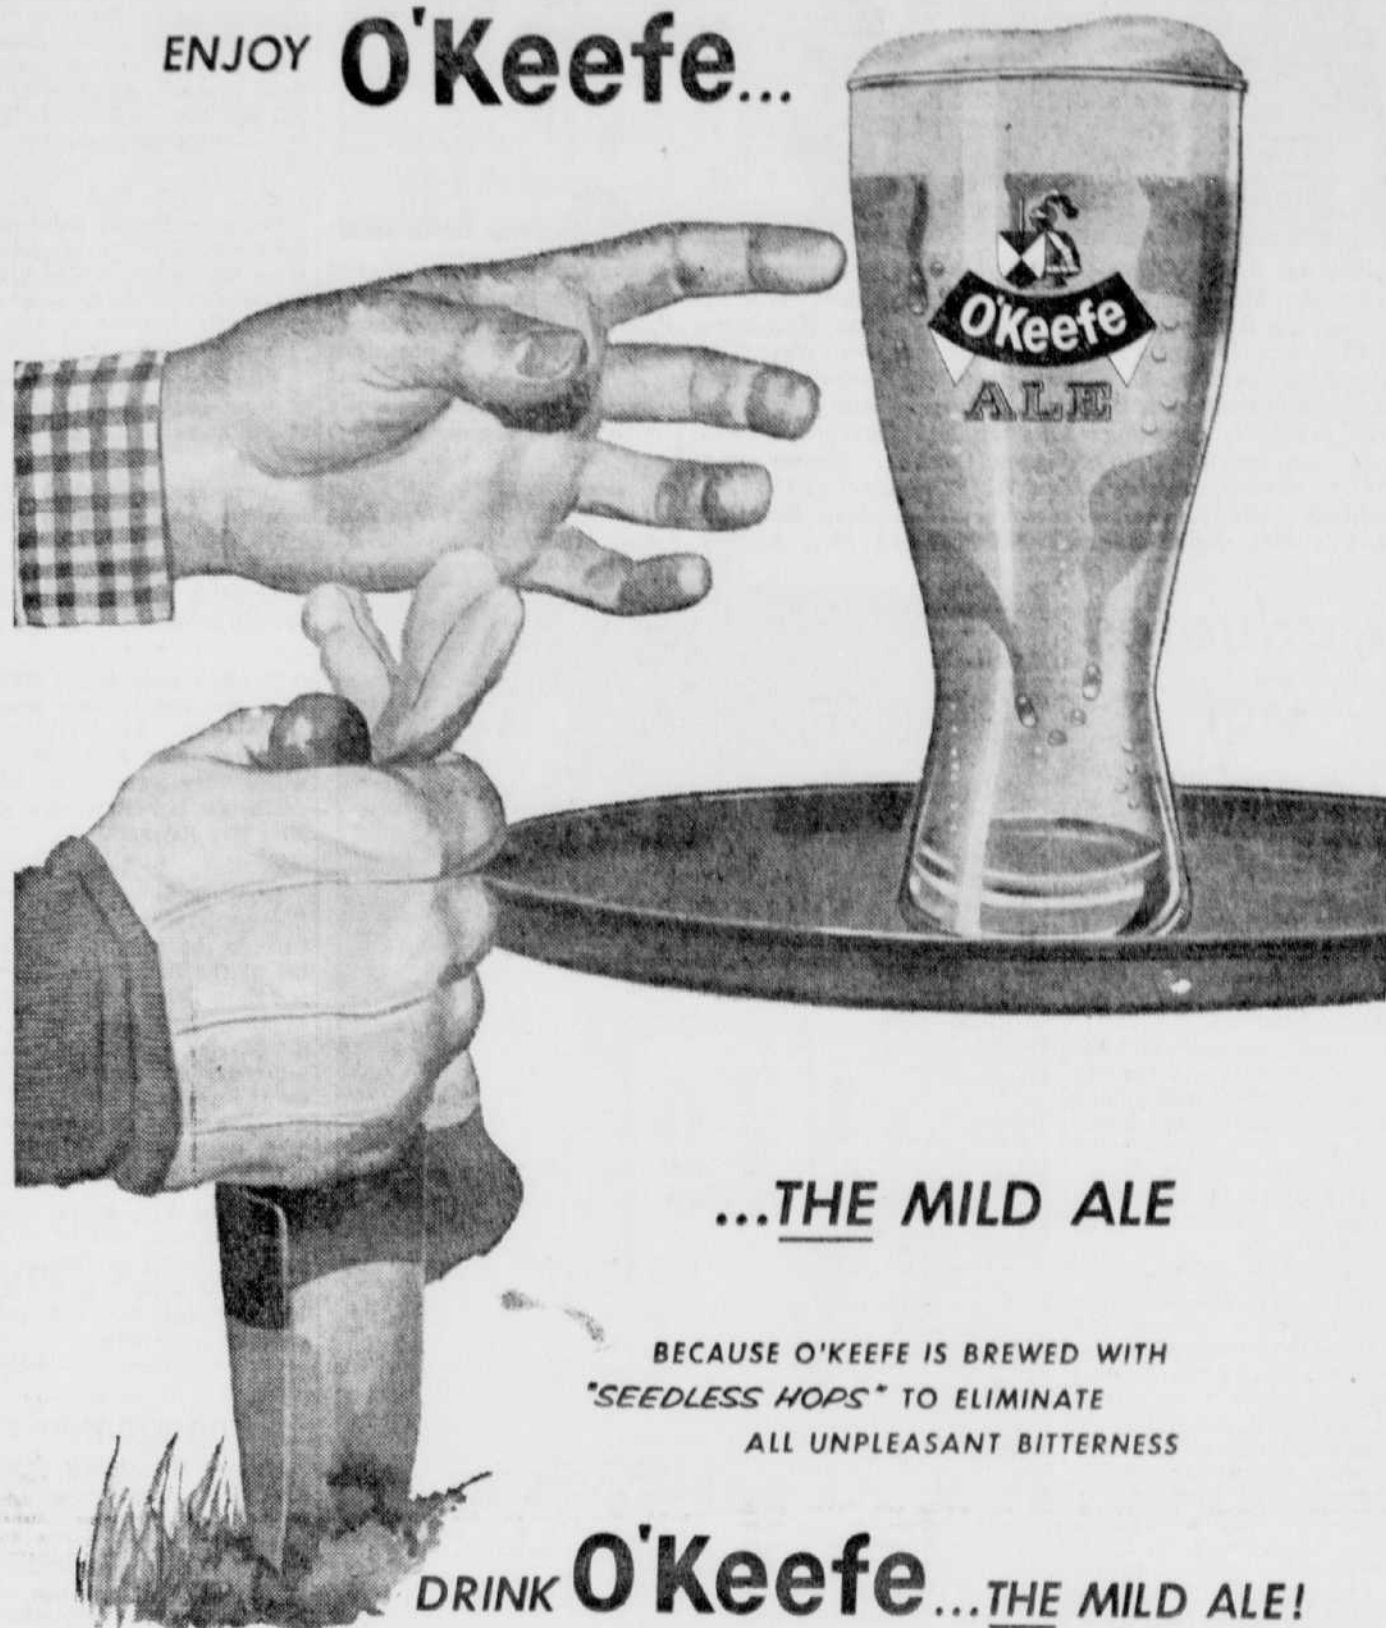

Miss Diane Sanborn accompanied the Hadlocks of Frelighsburg to Quebec City where they exhibited their fine herd of Jersey, and attended the Exhibition there.

Mr. William Lessard was an overnight guest of his sister, Mrs. Sylvia Lebrun, Granby, and attended the funeral of Mr. Lacroix.

Mr. Ernest King of Providence, R.I., and his niece, Miss Ruth King, of Richford, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clarkson.

Graduates Get Together

Old snaps, class pictures, photos of doctors, nurses and hospital scenes for decades back, all of the Sherbrooke Hospital and displayed in the living room of the Norton Residence acted like magnets as they drew fascinated spectators.

The lively conversation, the colorful decorations and the gay atmosphere which transformed the usually placid nurses' home, was all part of the Sherbrooke Hospital Alumnae's At Home, held last night in connection with the 60th graduation of the School of Nursing.

Well over 90 guests were welcomed by the Alumnae president, Mrs. Nelson Lothrop, and Miss Clara Aitkenhead, Director of Nursing. By far the greatest number, of course, were graduates of the school, many of whom had come from great distances. There were also former superintendents, doctors' wives and a few specially invited male guests including Lieut.-Col. B. D. Lyon, president of the Board of Governors, Colin Campbell, Lee Watson, Dr. H. D. Bayne and H. C. Allnutt, administrator.

A rousing welcome was given one of the hospital's most beloved former members, Dick Burroughs, who was stationary engineer for 43 years.

Ribbons of the school colors, and graduation dates, lumped usually in decades, denoted the sections of the room where the graduates congregated. Class

IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS — Janet Stevenson became a living replica of some of the old photos on display at the nurses' reunion last night when she modelled a uniform of the turn of the century. pictures often decorated the walls. It was a noticeably friendly reunion with much reminiscing.

This year's graduates, resplendent in their new uniforms and carrying their graduation bouquets, mingled among the guests and a number of the student nurses assisted with the event. One sported a uniform of the early 1900's.

The lace covered tea table, arranged with a low bowl of yellow roses and shasta daisies and purple tapers in silver holders, continued the theme of the school colors: gold and purple. Pourers were Miss Gwen Norris, educational director, and Miss Rosemary Smith, nursing instructor.

A rather heartwarming episode occurred before the departure of Mrs. A. Joyal, the school's earliest living graduate, when the guests rose in a body and sang "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow." Miss Joan Moffat, one of the 1958 grads presented Mrs. Joyal with the class' year book.

In addition to the many alumnae members from Sherbrooke and Lennoxville, the following out of town members were present: Mrs. Maurice Hudon (Dorothy Deacon), Montreal; Mrs. Robert Rushbrook (Marie Little) Beaurepaire, Que.; Mrs. Don Sanders (Sheila Mathias), Ville St. Laurent; Mrs. Kay Biggs (Kathleen Hatch), Thetford Mines; Miss Nora Arguin, Montreal; Mrs. Alex Glen (Elva Picard), Eaton; Miss Flora George, Bermuda; Mrs. A. J. Joyal (Agnes Patrick), Lochmere, N. H.; Mrs. H. D. Bayne (Margaret Gelin), Melbourne; Mrs. Gerald Osgood (Phyllis Goff), Cookshire; Mrs. O. Force (Virginia Greenlay), Windsor Mills; Mrs. I. Greenlay (Pearl Paige), Windsor Mills; Mrs. Mary Fountain (Mary Swanson) Windsor Mills; Mrs. Ernie Taylor (Dorothy MacAulay), Rock Forest; Miss Olive Meredith, LaJolla, Cal.; Mrs. Bryan McDermott (Velma Campbell), Cookshire; Mrs. E. S. Watson (Muriel Hammond), Bury; Mrs. Ken MacLeod (Teresa Weir), Bishopston and Mrs. Geo. Irving (Marian MacAulay), North Hatley.

Social conveners for the event were Mrs. Thelma Michaud and Mrs. Eula Cathcart.

B & P CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Sherbrooke was held in the Norton Residence of the Sherbrooke Hospital on Monday evening, September 8th, with the president, Miss Clara Aitkenhead, presiding.

An invitation was received from the Montreal Club to attend a buffet supper on September 20th at their Crescent Street Club House in honor of Miss Isabel Menzies, a member of the Montreal Club, on her election to the presidency of the Canadian Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs.

Plans for the celebration of Business Women's Week were discussed and arranged. It is hoped to have a Radio Broadcast made by two members of the Club.

The 25th Anniversary of the formation of the Sherbrooke Club will be held in 1959, and special features to celebrate this event are being considered. The next regular meeting will be held on the Monday preceding Thanksgiving Day instead of on that date.

The guest speaker for the evening was Miss Elsie McFadden past provincial president who gave an interesting address on the Convention of the Canadian Federation, held in Edmonton recently, and of her trip to the West Coast. The speaker was introduced by Miss Aitkenhead and thanked by Miss Leslie Fales.

The hostesses were Miss Clara Aitkenhead, Mrs. Beryl Johnson, Mrs. Lillian Turnbull, Miss Eva Hall, and Miss Gwen Killingbeck, who assisted the Social Committee, Miss Jean Barlow and Miss Aline Precourt serving refreshments.

What Is A Canadian Club?

A Canadian Club is simply a group of people in a town who meet at intervals around a luncheon or dinner table, or in the afternoon or evening, to hear distinguished Canadians or visitors from other countries speak on issues of national and international importance. There are about 100 Canadian Clubs located in all the larger cities, and most of the bigger towns across Canada.

A Canadian Club is a means of getting a large audience together, that represents a good cross-section of the community. Members can feel welcome just to come and listen, without being embarrassed if they have no time to do some sort of service work.

Such an audience provides an ideal forum of Canadian citizens, representing all political and religious faiths and a wide range of social and economic viewpoints.

The Canadian Clubs consider that such a work is particularly important in a country the size of Canada, consisting of areas that are isolated from each other and often by great distances and physical barriers. Canadian Clubs believe that one of the most practical ways to unify our country and to further the process of nationhood is for each of us to learn more about other parts of Canada, and about important national issues while they are timely, and all this from a variety of viewpoints.

WHAT DOES ONE GET FOR ONE'S MEMBERSHIP?

1. An opportunity to hear outstanding speakers.
2. A chance to broaden one's horizons.
3. A sense of participation in a nationwide organization trying to promote Canadian unity.

Consideration for Others Is the Mark of a Lady

A recent magazine article raised the question of what is a lady.

The term isn't used as much as it once was. We seem to shy away from it as being old-fashioned.

Yet in our own minds we still judge a woman by whether or not she is a lady.

Here, in a few words, are my ideas of what qualifies a woman to be generally regarded as a lady.

When you meet her you look at her instead of at her clothes. When she is talking to you, people across the room don't pause to listen. This is because she doesn't speak loudly enough to attract attention.

She doesn't talk about the things she does for others. She does her good deeds quietly and without fanfare.

She doesn't try to impress you with who she is or what she has. And on the other hand she isn't apologetic about what she doesn't have. She accepts you as a human being and expects you to do the same.

She has a certain amount of reticence about personal matters. She will listen sympathetically to someone else's troubles but isn't inclined to unload hers on anybody.

She gives other people the benefit of the doubt and doesn't go around criticizing and condemning or spreading malicious gossip.

She knows how to give a soft answer, instead of meeting insult with insult or cattiness with cattiness.

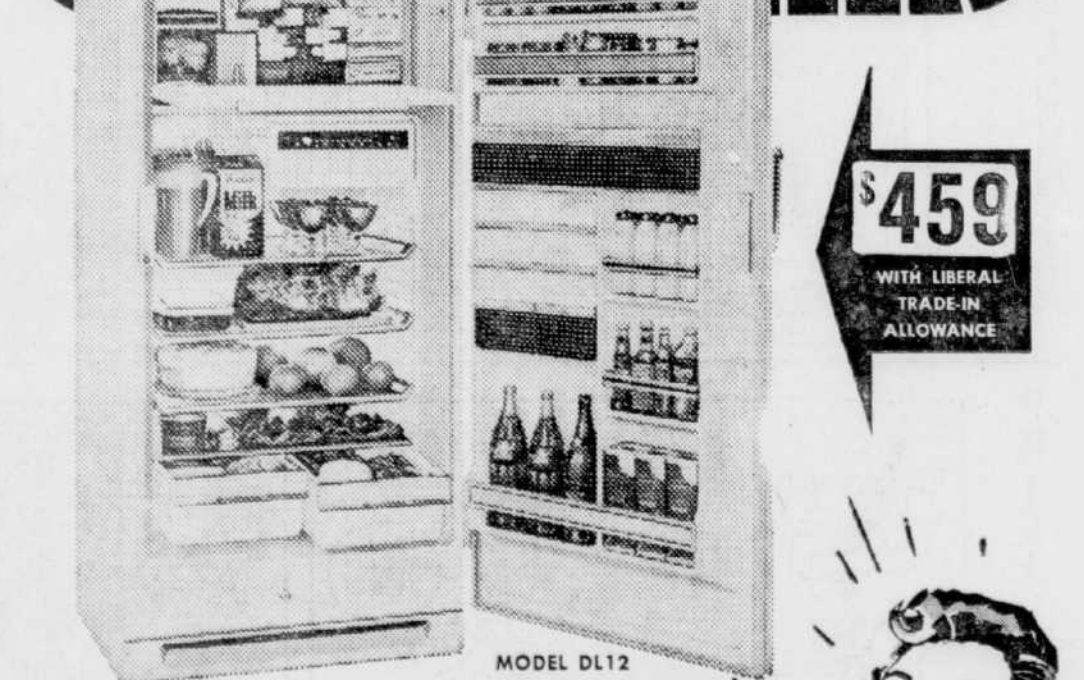

She chooses her friends without consideration for their social standing, bank accounts, or their possible usefulness to her.

If she is your friend, you are lucky because she will not let a friend down. After all, she's a LADY.

Homemaking

When using a sodium perborate bleach for stubborn stains, make the solution hot or cool depending on the fabric. A solution of one tablespoon per pint of water should cover the garment and be cool for wool, silk and dyed. Use a hot solution with other washables, and let the garment soak several hours or overnight.

WOM. MISSIONARY PRAYER GROUP

The opening meeting of the fall season of the Women's Missionary Prayer Group was held in Grace Chapel on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. A. C. Hill in the chair.

Following the opening hymn, prayer was given by Mrs. A. Baker and Mrs. Hill read the special prayer reminders.

Business of the meeting was discussed and various reports given.

The special speaker of the evening, Mrs. H. A. Welch, took as her topic "Victory in the Christian Life."

After the closing prayer, refreshments were served by Mrs. N. Tucker, Mrs. W. J. Klinck, Mrs. J. Statton and Mrs. H. Mun- kitchick.

CATHOLIC WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Under the presidency of Mrs. D. Pechie, the Catholic Women's League, Our Lady of Good Coun- sel subdivision, held its first fall meeting recently in St. Patrick's church hall.

Correspondence included let- ters of thanks from the following: Rev. T. G. Walsh, c.s.r., for gift received on the occasion of his first High Mass in St. Patrick's Church; from Rev. Father Paul, principal of St. Patrick's High School, Sherbrooke Library, Mr. J. Nolet and those who had been remembered while ill.

Hospital visits during the summer numbered: 227 Sher- brooke Hospital; 105 St. Vincent de Paul; 265 d'Youville Hospital and Sacred Heart Home; 11 in private homes.

Thirty dollars was donated for education. Miss Y. Campbell, con- venter, noted that one of the re- solutions of the diocesan con- vention was to give scholarships to foster higher education.

The president also reminded the members that the convention theme to put into practice "Pray- er and Penance", words spoken to Bernadette 100 years ago, must be followed up.

At the Cancer Dressings Ser- vice eight workers gave 193 hours of voluntary service.

Miss O. McKeon read replies to letters of congratulations from outstanding Catholic programs on TV and radio.

It was decided to renew efforts "To Bring Christ back to Chris- mas" in the city and homes.

Plans were discussed for the membership tea, September 27; CWL parish turkey supper, Oc- tober 23 and the Christmas tea, No- vember 22.

SANGSTER MEMORIAL W.A.

The first meeting of the fall sessions of the Sangster Mem- orial W.A. was held recently in the church hall with the president, Mrs. E. Morel, in the chair. The devotional period was led by Mrs. R. Wheeler.

Mrs. J. Paige read the corre- spondence which included a letter of greetings from Mrs. J. E. Bou- cher and thank you notes from Miss Myrna Innes, Mrs. E. Gelin- as and Miss Norma Pariseau.

Mrs. E. Howland, assisted by some of the members will take charge of the Bible Society.

Mrs. J. Paige informed the members that a brush and comb set had been donated to the group. Thanks were extended to Mrs. J. Hall for her hospitality at the raspberry social held this summer.

Mrs. J. Paige took orders for the World Friends magazine for children, and the Missionary Monthly. Anyone interested in ordering the World Friend, an ideal gift for children of all ages, is asked to contact Mrs. Paige.

The Sectional meeting of the W.M.S. will be held on Friday, September 26th at 10 a.m., in Plymouth Church, for which an interesting program has been ar- ranged, and all members are urged to attend.

Cupid Wins Over Glamor Of Air Life

MONTREAL (CP) — Even a glamorous life of air travel, new places and new faces can't com- pete with cupid.

Trans-Canada Air Lines says 93 per cent of its stewardesses leave its employ to be married.

"But few of them marry pas- sengers they meet in their work," said a spokesman. "It's usually the boy back home."

TCA maintains a staff of al- most 350 air hostesses, training new girls at a special flight ser- vice instruction school in Mon- treal.

MANY APPLY
The airline receives scores of applications for stewardess posi- tions monthly. The young women are chosen for appearance, per- sonality and intelligence. Age is restricted to between 21 and 27. At one time a nursing back- ground was necessary. But this has been dropped and the women now come from a variety of pro- fessions.

Of 19 girls who graduated re- cently as the school's 100th class, 15 were Canadian, two from continental Europe and one each from Britain and New Zealand.

The girls undergo five weeks of grooming, learning various air- line procedures, meteorology, air- craft identification, first aid, and food serving.

In addition there is special in- struction in deportment and ap- plication of makeup and other beauty aids.

Billie Houseman, TCA's chief stewardess and instructor at the school, said: "The girls taking the courses must also be pro-pared to do some homework ev- ery night to brush up on what they learn. That's the only way they can keep up."

FORMER TEACHER

One member of the 100th class, Helene Daze, was a school teacher in Ottawa. She said she taught her students about Can- ada and other countries and found herself wanting to see the vari- ous places herself.

Travel was also the attraction for Grace Sterk of Winnipeg, a former airport clerk, and Shirley Hook of Barrie, Ont., a stenog- rapher in Vancouver for a time.

"Going away to work made me realize how much I enjoyed trav- elling," said Miss Hook. "I wanted a job where I could do a great deal of it."

Miss Sterk said she became fascinated with travel through watching arrivals and departures at the airport.

Lorraine Gordon of Sydney, N.S., was in her final year of training as a nurse when she de- cided to become a stewardess. She saw a film on the work of a stewardess and "that made up my mind for me."

Beauty Tips

A quick pick-up after a busy day at home or in the office can be achieved in ten or 15 minutes. Thoroughly cleanse your face, give yourself a facial massage for five minutes. Then place cot- ton pads soaked in witch hazel or cold water over your eyes and lie down for another 10 minutes.

Six Clubs Attend Opening Meeting Of Massawippi Hockey League

Plenty Of Action In Big Four This Weekend, Als At Home To Argos As Ticats-Riders Meet In Philadelphia

While some Big Four football clubs are still looking for imports, the league will export its game wholesale to the United States this weekend.

The unbeaten Hamilton Tiger-Cats will take on second-place Ottawa Rough Riders in Philadelphia Sunday in a charity game that could set a record for attendance at a Canadian football game.

Saturday at Montreal the Alouettes and Toronto Argonauts, each with a single in and three losses to date, will be battling to take sole possession of third place.

BIG GAMES ON TAP

With each team having played four games of the 14-game schedule, the weekend meetings have the virtual status of four-pointers. The Ticats (4-0) could stretch their lead over Ottawa (2-2) to six points or see it dwindle to four.

In Philadelphia, promoter Ambrose (Bud) Dudley says "we hope to draw a crowd that will break the Canadian record of 39,000-odd" set in the Edmonton-Montreal Grey Cup game in Vancouver several years ago. He says 20,000 advance sales have been made.

Ron Stewart, former star at Queen's University, will replace Karl Hiltzinger in Clair's lineup at Philadelphia. It will be the first action for Stewart since joining the club early in the season.

End Norb Hecker, Washington Redskins castoff, may join the Hamilton lineup Sunday.

Argos coach Hamp Pool says latest import quarter Jack Crabtree, an Oregon product cut from Philadelphia Eagles, will have to show he's better than Canadian Gerry Doucette who will be a 60-minute man this Saturday.

PREDICT SHAKEUP
Reports from Montreal predict a major shakeup if Als lose but coach Douglas (Peahead) Walker says his main concern at present is to acquire a capable import guard. When guard Bill Albright will return to the lineup is doubtful. He's been out with a back injury.

Montreal has scored only 40 points so far this season but the club hopes that Charlie Horton, ex-Vanderbilt University halfback who was injured before the season started, will add some scoring punch. Horton played for Als last week when the club lost to Ottawa in a game played during a steady downpour.

Dick Hunter will probably be shifted to flying wing, coach Walker indicated. Tackles Billy Shipp and Bill Hudson were expected to see a lot of action both ways.

Bob Bedard Faces Tough Opponent In Dick Savitt Today At Toronto In International Quarter-Finals

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's prestige in international tennis rests with Bob Bedard, of Sherbrooke, Que., who is considered one of the country's all-time greats.

Canadian men's singles champion in three of the last four years, the 27-year-old French-Canadian today meets Dick Savitt, 31-year-old smoothie from Orange, N.J., in the quarter-finals of the third annual international invitation tournament. Savitt, an angular six-foot-five-inch giant and one-time Wimbledon and Australia champion, still has plenty of savvy left.

Bedard is the only one of the four or five homebrews left in the week-long tournament who is conceded anything resembling a chance of reaching a final berth in the 10-country tournament.

ONE UPSET AHEAD
He already has an upset victory to his credit—a second-round 6-3, 6-2 decision over Sweden's 24-year-old Ulf Schmidt two days ago. But Savitt is different medicine—he's seeded No. 2 behind Australia's Mal Anderson and experts around the Toronto Lawn Tennis Club don't give the Canadian much chance when he takes the court this afternoon at 3:15 p.m. EDT.

Canadians went down fast Thursday as the championship headed into final stages. One of the last to go was Don Fontana of Toronto, ranked No. 2 in Canada behind Bedard, who met Savitt in the men's singles second round and was unceremoniously bumped 6-1, 6-2.

Fontana and Bedard, the country's Davis Cup pair, got into the quarter-finals of the men's doubles with a hard-fought 6-2, 8-10, 6-3 victory over Australia's Pat O'Kane and Bert Kearney.

Otherwise, foreign competitors cleaned up.

Two of the four men's singles semi-final slots have been filled. Billy Knight, red-headed south-paw from England, eliminated 45-year-old Gardner Mulloy of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 6-3 and Luis Ayala of Chile disposed of Mike Davies, a hard-stroking Welshman from Swansea, 6-4, 6-1.

In the women's singles, an American, two Australians and an 18-year-old English girl advanced to the semi-finals which will be played today.

Thelma Long, chubby 40-year-old net artist from New South Wales, upset Maria Bueno of Brazil 7-5, 6-0. The Aussie today meets Anne Haydon, blond south-paw from England.

In the other semi-final bracket, Mrs. Dorothy Knodel from New York, seeded No. 1, meets Lorraine Coghlan of Australia. In Thursday's play, Miss Coghlan spoiled the debut of Toronto's Sharon Caldwell in international tennis by defeating the Canadian junior champion 6-2, 6-1.

Quarter finals of the men's doubles are on tap today and one quarter and the semi-finals of the women's doubles also are on the schedule.

Ted Williams Is Back In Business Again, Ties Pete Runnels For Lead In Batting Race; Senators-A's Win

Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox is tied for the American League batting lead but it has been a long haul.

There was that fuss over his ankle in the spring. He missed opening day because of food poisoning. He didn't get over .300 until July 1. Then he had another spit spat with a booing crowd.

A few weeks back, when the Red Sox beat Cleveland 8-6 with 15 hits, Williams had none.

Then a virus kept him out of action from Aug. 24 to last Tuesday, when the big guy was fifth in the batting race at .315.

SHARED WITH RUNNELS
Williams has gone 5-for-11 since, tying teammate Pete Runnels for the lead at .320 Thursday with a 2-for-4 day although the Red Sox lost 4-1 at Chicago.

Williams, shooting for his sixth title (a far cry from his winning .388 of last season), drove in the lone Boston run Thursday as the White Sox swept the three-game set and took a 3½-game lead over the Red Sox for second place.

New York Yankees, who could clinch the pennant Sunday, were idle. They open a two-game set at Chicago tonight with a 10½-game lead and their magic number at five.

SENATORS TOP TIGERS
Washington took a season series from Detroit for the first time since 1954 by beating the Tigers 7-6, and Kansas City belted Baltimore 7-1 in the only other games scheduled.

Dick Donovan (13-13) gave up seven hits for the White Sox. But he needed Turk Lown's mop-up after giving up his only two walks and Williams' single in the eighth inning. The White Sox counted their four in the fifth. Two-out, two-run singles by Jim Landis and Nellie Fox did it against the Delock (12-7).

Roy Sievers and Albie Pearson each drove in two runs for the Senators. John Romonosky (2-4) won it in relief.

Ned Garver, who had lost eight in a row to the Orioles before he shut them out May 25, knocked off the Birds for the fourth time in six decisions this season with a four-hitter. They scored on two singles and a fly ball in the third inning, but Garver (12-10) gave up only one more hit, none after the fifth.

15th International Tuna Meet Resumes With Prospect Of Better Weather Following One Bad Day

WEDGEPORT, N.S. (CP)—Already a day behind, the 15th international tuna meet resumed today with no prospect of annoying bad weather.

But as the 16-boat fleet bearing team members from Mexico, the British Commonwealth, Cuba and the United States headed for the fishing grounds, dockside well-wishers were worried over the lack of success.

The tournament started on a sour note Wednesday with teams battling high winds, spray and biting cold but not tuna. Only two were sighted momentarily.

Fearful of more wind, the competition's board of directors decided Wednesday night to cancel the Thursday program. The weather, however, dawned clear and bright sending members of the British and United States teams out for a little practice fishing. There were no strikes but both squads said tuna nudged close to their baited hooks.

The sturdy, low-slung Cape Island boats headed for favorite spots on Soldier's Rip and in river mouths nearby long before the starters' gun cracked at 6 a.m. EDT today.

The day's fishing was scheduled to end at 6 p.m. Barring another hitch in the weather, the tournament will officially close at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The eventuality of a fishless tournament has been generally shrugged off at this early date by officials, team members and hopeful guides, crews and skippers. The odds are against it despite the fact that fishing by scores of sportsmen in waters

Little Big Four Sounds Call For New Players

The annual call for youngsters between the ages of 11 and 13 years of age who wish to play football this fall has been sounded by officials of the Little Big Four Football League.

All interested in playing are asked to be on hand tomorrow morning at the Parade Grounds at 10.00. Only youngsters between the above ages will be accepted with weights between 80 to 125 lbs. These are league rules and must be followed strictly in order to avoid accidents.

Birth certificates are also required in order to check their proper ages.

Matthews Faces Tommy Tibbs On TV Card Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Unbeaten Len Matthews of Philadelphia meets one of the losingest fighters in the game in an internationally-televised boxing bout tonight.

Tommy Tibbs has little to recommend him as an opponent for the 19-year-old Matthews. The Boston fighter in 92 bouts owns a 43-46-3 record. He is the current New England lightweight champion for what that is worth.

Delegates to the annual Quebec Amateur Hockey Association meeting were named. This is slated to take place in Montreal Saturday, Sept. 20. President Len O'Donnell, vice-president Clem Fortin and Roger Trudeau, Richmond, were named.

With the exception of the Magog Aces all clubs have artificial ice and it was thought that the league should open earlier with the same number of games around November 9th. In Magog's case a special proposition was discussed in order that all teams could open around the same time.

It was proposed that the Aces would play some games on outside rinks switching tilts at their home games until they had ice in Magog. The representatives of the club will study the matter.

Braves Obtain Permission To Use Bob Buhl

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee Braves' request to make pitcher Bob Buhl eligible for world series competition was approved Thursday by baseball commissioner Ford Frick.

Approval was necessary because Buhl, on the disabled list for nearly four months because of an ailing shoulder, was not restored to the active list until Sept. 1, one day after the deadline for World Series eligibility.

Argonauts To Have New Player On Hand But Als' Supporter Won't Get Chance To See Him, Says Coach Pool

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts have a new hope in camp but Montreal fans won't get a chance to see him in Saturday's Big Four game.

In any case, says coach Hamp Pool, the arrival of Jack Crabtree still hasn't ended the Argos' search for a quarterback.

Crabtree, an Oregon product cut from Philadelphia Eagles, has one important attribute, however—he's available. Rudy Bukich, the Washington act Pool wanted, isn't.

Pool, meanwhile, will give Gerry Doucette a chance at a full 60-minute game in the quarterback slot Saturday, releasing Dick Shatto for halfback duties.

The two have alternated at the helm in past starts of which the Argos have won only one—a 15-14 squeaker in their first encounter with Montreal here.

Pool says Crabtree will still have to prove he's better than Several Important Points Discussed; Delegates Named To QAHA Meeting; Election Of Officers On Sept. 20th.

The first rumble of hockey in the Eastern Townships was heard last when the initial meeting of the Massawippi Valley Hockey League was held at the New Sherbrooke Hotel with President Len O'Donnell presiding.

Several important matters were discussed in preparation for the annual meeting which will be held Thursday, Sept. 25th for the election of officers and lay plans for the coming season.

All clubs of the league last year were on hand and a motion was passed and accepted that the circuit would remain as a six-team loop. No new demands from other cities for admission were received hence the motion to remain as in previous years. Sherbrooke, Magog, Richmond, Asbestos, Drummondville and Victoriaville comprised the league last year.

The clubs decided to remain in the circuit and at the same time it was decided not to increase the number of games on the schedule but to extend the number of playing weeks. In this manner it would prevent rushing throughout the season. If at the next meeting one team should decide to suspend, it was decided that they would look for a replacement.

Delegates to the annual Quebec Amateur Hockey Association meeting were named. This is slated to take place in Montreal Saturday, Sept. 20. President Len O'Donnell, vice-president Clem Fortin and Roger Trudeau, Richmond, were named.

It was proposed that the Aces would play some games on outside rinks switching tilts at their home games until they had ice in Magog. The representatives of the club will study the matter.

Those attending the meeting were: Ivan Dugre, Bob Beaudry and Camille Messara; Magog, Edgy Rancourt, Ben Benoit, Paul Laurendeau; Asbestos, Arthur Larocque and Pierre Veilleux; Richmond, Lucien Cabana, Roger Trudeau, Dr. Roland Bernier; Victoriaville, Jean-Maurice Bilodeau, Yvon Pavin; Drummondville, George Haggerty and Lou Poliquin.

Maple Leafs Come Up With Home-Run Display To Down Red Wings For 2-0 Lead As Bisons Upset Royals 5-1

Toronto Maple Leafs are sporting gents. If they can't beat you the conventional way through walks, singles, doubles or errors, then they'll get it over with quickly—home run run you to death.

They did it in the regular International League season, finishing second to Montreal, then turned on Rochester Thursday night in gaining a come-from-behind 4-2 victory in the second game of their semi-final play-off for the Governor's Cup.

The Leafs, who also have league home run leader Rocky Nelson on the roster, took a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 competition. Columbus knocked off Montreal 5-1 to tie its series 1-1.

Mike Goliat administered the hatcher Thursday night with a two-run homer in the 10th inning. Jim King hit an earlier two-run homer.

RICKETTS LOSES
Ricketts was the loser and Eddie Blake, 4-1 against Rochester during the regular season, won with an eight-hitter.

Lynn Lovenguth yielded only seven hits for Columbus as Montreal used 17 of their 20 players. Bob Lennon's solo homer got the only Montreal run.

Bob Giallombardo was the loser.

The teams shift cities tonight, with the Leafs moving to Rochester where they will send Jack Crimian, 15-8 during the season, against Bob Ginson, 5-5. Montreal moved to Columbus for three games with Bob Darnell (2-1) facing Whammy Douglas (16-10).

Longshots Pay $1,354.50 At Sackville Downs
HALIFAX (CP)—A pair of longshots combined to pay $1,354.50 in the exactor Thursday night in a harness racing card at nearby Sackville Downs.

Peter Lee Brewer and Runny-meade Darby finished one-two at about 800-to-one odds to produce one of the largest pays in the downs' three-year history.

Ronald Robinson, a Halifax oil company manager and C. L. Driscoll, a local shipyard worker, held the only winning tickets.

The winning time was 2:14.2. A daily double July 23 paid $1,615.20.

THURSDAY STARS
Pitching: Ned Graver, Kansas Athletics — Beat Baltimore Orioles 7-1 with a four-hitter, striking out six, walking four and throwing a one-hit shutout over the last six innings.

Hitting: Chico Fernandez, Philadelphia Phillies — Tied game with a two-run single and scored the clincher, after stealing second, on Dave Philley's pinch single in three-run eighth that beat Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3.

Sherbrooke Boxing Fans Placed In Unique Position For Monday's Fights, Tommy Jackson To Be On Trial Basis

By NICK POWELL
Sherbrooke boxing fans will find themselves in something of a unique position this coming Monday evening. They will be the sole judges of whether a professional fighter is still in condition and wholly fit to continue in his difficult career.

The case in point is that of Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson, slated to renew his attempt for reinstatement as a front-ranking boxer in the United States and Canada. Sherbrooke has now given him the opportunity to show that he is still capable, an action denied him by boxing commissions throughout the United States.

Lou Stillman, proprietor of the famous Stillman's Gym in New York City, said yesterday, "Jackson is the best-conditioned fighter in the world." Jackson has been training hard for the past two months in anticipation of this fight.

He has to show the rest of the commissions that he is physically and mentally sound. This is no set-up fight. For the Hurricane it is win and put up a good showing, or drop into the obscurity of being a "has-been."

The background of this fight is as dramatic as the possible outcome. This man, who is illiterate—can hardly write his own name—has made his living with his fists. There is little else he knows how to do. Imagine the sentiments of a man who, by some misunderstanding on the part of some possibly well-meaning authorities, has his very livelihood jerked out from beneath him. That's what happened to the Hurricane when he was barred from fighting in New York City and the state of California.

Ever since his enforced retirement, he has insisted that he's well enough and strong enough to continue fighting. For months he sat about in Stillman's hoping against hope that someone would stop by and talk to him. No one did. Still he continued working out. Hurricane's plaintive requests for his former buddies to get in the ring for a little sparring went cruelly unanswered or unheeded. This happened time and again.

Then the unheard-of possibility came to light. Some people in Sherbrooke were considering giving him the chance to prove his contentions that he was still a fighter.

Just a few days ago, the Sherbrooke Athletic Commission decided to give him a chance and agreed to sanction the bout. Jackson was matched with unranked Johnny Vick, of New York, for a 10-round main event here in Sherbrooke.

Vick knows that he can ill afford to lose to Jackson; a win will vault him into national recognition. He will be gunning for this big one.

Jackson, on the other hand, contrary to cries "shame, shame" from Montreal, is determined and in top condition. He will fight, and he will fight hard. This is it. No more chances.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—Some 40 hopefuls, including 13 holdovers, have started training here with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League.

The Rangers held their first workout Thursday, a two-hour skating and shooting drill, watched by Ranger coach Phil Watson and Bobby Kirk, coach of Buffalo Bisons in the American League.

Under a new agreement, the Bisons will train with the Rangers because 10 players were sent to the Bisons from New York's AHL farm club at Providence.

On hand are four goaltenders, including Lorne (Gump) Worsley, last year's Ranger netminder. Holdovers at the first practice included: defencemen Lou Fontinato, Larry Howell, Bill Gadsby and Larry Cahan; forwards Andy Bathgate, Dean Prentice, Larry Popein, Andy Heberton, Red Sullivan, Camille Henry, Hank Ciesla, Jerry Foley and Parker MacDonald.

The transplanted Providence players are: goalie Marcel Paille, forwards Bill Sweeney, Eddie Shack, Jim Bartlett, Ted Hampson, Bruce Carmichael and Bruce Cline; and defencemen Aldo Guidolin and Ivan and John Hanna.

Others in camp include Mel Pearson and Dennis Belisle, both from Trois-Rivieres.

Corny Shields To Be Skipper Of Columbia In America's Cup Races As Committee Names Boat For Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Corny Shields apparently is on again as skipper of Columbia, the U.S. yacht picked to defend the America's Cup against Britain's Scythia.

Shields, a 63-year-old cardiac case, is credited with pulling the Columbia crew together for the final trials. He was missing from the boat in the 12-second victory over Vim Thursday that convinced the selection committee it was time to name Columbia.

CORNY WILL SAIL
But today the head of the Columbia syndicate made it clear that Corny will sail the yacht in the cup defence.

"I have not merely sounded out Corny," said Henry Sears, who is also navigator of Columbia. "I simply told him we couldn't do without him."

Corny's absence Thursday is said to have followed medical advice not to continue racing. But it's going to be Corny at the wheel in the best-of-seven match opening Sept. 20, Sears insisted.

Furthermore, Sears said, "no body will tell us who to put on this boat."

NO OUTSIDERS
This was in reply to stories suggesting Vim's superb crew be allowed to sail Columbia in the 17th defence of the cup.

"There will be no outsiders," Sears said.

Leo (Buddy) Bombard, a Vim crew member, summed up the Vim reaction thusly:

"If it's a question of design, which it apparently is, then it was all in the stars. It was settled last winter in the tank tests. If we sailed poorly, we might feel sorry. But we didn't. Columbia is just a faster boat."

More Details To Be Fixed But Bout On-Gibson

CHICAGO (AP)—Target date for light heavyweight champion Archie Moore's title defence against Yvon Durelle of Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., is Dec. 10 in Montreal but several details still remained to be settled, International Boxing Club president Truman Gibson said Thursday.

"The bout is probable for that date," he added, "but Archie is fishing near Las Vegas and we've been out of touch with him. We can't say it's definite until several details are worked out."

GENE FULLMER EARNS NOD OVER WEBB

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Second-ranked middleweight Gene Fullmer, 158½, waded into the best that Chicago's Spider Webb could shoot Thursday night but came back with a strong finish to score a unanimous 10-round decision. Webb weighed 159½.

Hanson Drops Out Of US Amateur

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A rawhide-tough ex-champion, two surprised collegians and a virtual unknown today battled in the 36-hole semi-final round of the 58th U.S. amateur golf championships.

The bracketing assured a college player in the final for the first time since 1951 as Dick Foote, a junior at UCLA, met Tom Aaron, a Florida senior.

In the other semi, two 34-year-olds duelled—Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City who won the title in 1949 and Roger McManus of Cincinnati.

The last Canadian, Eric Hanson of Toronto, was eliminated in Thursday's fifth round.

Toe Blake Signs As Usual, No Contract Trouble

MONTREAL (CP)—Coach Toe Blake, who has piloted Montreal Canadiens to three successive Stanley Cup championships since he took over the coaching job, signed a contract again Thursday.

There was no announcement of terms. As in the past, Blake signed a one-year contract.

Court Reserves Action Taken By Winnipeg Warriors

WINNIPEG (CP)—Decision was reserved Wednesday in a $137,000 action taken by Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League against Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens. Warriors claimed $125,000 damages and asked repayment of $12,621 by the National Hockey League during the 1956-57 season.

Leafs and Canadiens each made counter-claims for $25,000 against the Warriors but they were dropped yesterday.

Knowlton Lions Club Cops Annual Golf Tournament Held At Mt. Orford; Len Harmon Wins Gross, R. Pepin Net

MAGOG—(Special)—One of the service club classics of the year is the annual Lion Clubs' golf tournament, which was held at the Mount Orford Golf and Country Club. Entering in the competition were Lions from Montreal, Granby, Farnham, Cowansville, Knowlton and Magog. The Knowlton players captured top honors, winning the E. J. Persons trophy for team play. The Magog Lions trailed close, lacking four points to match the Knowlton team.

Climax to the tournament was a banquet dinner at the Chateau du Lac when prizes were awarded for the day's play.

The Magog Lions Club trophy for low net of the field was captured by Roland Pepin of Cowansville with a score of 111, 40, 71. Runner-up was Bill Lecouffe of Montreal with 87, 28, 69. A prize for low net went to Jacques Marchessault of Granby. First prize for low gross went to Len Harmon of Knowlton with 77, and his team mate, Lorne Church, was second with a score of 90.

Marc Trepanier of Farnham, with a score of 130 was awarded the "Most Honest Player" prize. The dinner also marked the official opening for the Magog Lions Club after their two month summer recess. President elect, Roger Hebert, headed the gathering, which saw very little regular business attended to.

The Magog club will meet next Tuesday, September 23rd, having switched their regular meetings from Wednesdays.

BIRCHTON — The September meeting of the Birchton Helping Hand Club was held at the Kirkby-Harron home in Glenburn.

With the president, Mrs. Stanley J. Taylor, in the chair, the devotional period was taken by Mrs. Arthur Rogers, who took as her theme "Polluted Streams," as referring to human minds and God's Love in life.

The Sunshine committee reported a plant sent to a member in hospital, flowers to another member who has been bereaved and several cards.

Plans for the September 20th supper were discussed. It was voted to buy and install new blinds in the Church and that a supply of salt and pepper shakers be purchased for the Hall; also to buy a number of "Gems from the Bible" for the Sunday School.

The October meeting will be held at the Murray home, in the evening.

After the closing of the afternoon's activities, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Robert Kirby and Mrs. G. Harron.

Stanstead Game Club Reports On Prize Shoot

AYER'S CLIFF — A general meeting of the Stanstead County Fish and Game club was held at St. George's Parish hall, president Win Hunter presiding.

John Evans and John Lister, of Sherbrooke and Waterloo, were made directors to succeed two men who have missed four consecutive meetings.

Mr. Hunter urged all members to attend a general meeting of the Eastern Townships Conservation Association at the Mayfair Room of the Sherbrooke Hotel on September 15.

Phil Poaps reported on the raffle held in conjunction with the chicken and prize shoot. Rosario Fortin, Waterville, the first prize winner, preferred $100 cash in place of the rifle. Elaine Sequin, Waterloo, won the second prize of a camp stove and Rpy Parish, Beebe, the third, a camera. Mr. Poaps thanked all who had worked to make the shoot a success.

The Bishop brothers in charge of the shoot, also gave a report. The results of both projects totalled about $500, but there was considerable expense involved.

Recommendations for 1959 hunting laws will be made to the E. T. Conservation Association to be forwarded to the Quebec Federation. These include: That the duck season in the central district be set back two weeks to allow hunters a chance at the ducks coming from the North; that trapping and hunting of beaver be prohibited in the Townships; that buck Law be reinstated in Zone A and B, that the season on bucks be from November 1 through November 31, and that a bounty be put on racoons.

Houghton Hastings reported that Chucker birds had been spotted in this district with their baby chicks this summer.

It was noted that duck hunting at Hatley pond is prohibited as there is danger of killing stock in this district.

The members at the Boundary Villages were authorized to go ahead with repairs on the dam at the children's pond, which was damaged last spring by heavy rains. Phil Poaps will make adjustments at the outlet of Crystal Lake.

The O'Malley pond came up for discussion and Ronnie Bazinet, of Waterloo, with other members from this district, will inspect the dam and report on necessary repairs. Charles Brewer will bring in a report at the November meeting on the possibilities of establishing a rearing pond in the Lake Memphremagog district.

It was decided to give all Club game warden complimentary membership cards in future.

The membership chairman, Wendell Beattie, announced that club membership now stands at 801.

Another general meeting is to be held at the hall in November.

Miss Ella Carr Guest Of Honor At Miscellaneous Shower In Richmond

RICHMOND — Mrs. Hazel Semple and Mrs. Cecil Carr were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Ella Carr, a bride of the month, in the Legion Memorial Hall. Upwards of 45 guests were present. The hall was decorated with multi-colored gladioli attractively arranged in baskets and vases. Streamers of pink and white with wedding bells attached decorated the hall.

On the arrival of the bride-elect the "Bridal March From Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Ethel McNally of Montreal. The hostesses welcomed Miss Carr and she was presented with a corsage of sweepstakes and escorted to a decorated chair over which hung a decorated umbrella, sprinkler can and several colored balloons filled with confetti, which at intervals exploded showering the bride-to-be with its contents.

The Misses Christine, Lillian Carr and Karen Mallette, nieces of the bride-elect presented her with a beautifully decorated plastic basket laden with attractively wrapped gifts. The basket was replenished several times. Miss Carr was assisted in unwrapping the gifts by her sister, Mrs. C. Rodgers, of Spooner Pond Road, and Mrs. Alfred Davidson, of South Durham, mother of the prospective groom.

Miss Carr expressed her appreciation to the guests for the lovely gifts and good wishes and to the hostesses for their kindness.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses. The two attractively appointed long tables were decorated with bowls of cut flowers. The head table was centered with a decorated bride's cake, made and decorated by Mrs. E. Tibbitts. Those who assisted in serving were Mrs. N. Sullivan, Mrs. Kenneth Stevens and Mrs. E. Tibbitts.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Joseph Hinchcliffe and daughter, Miss Zora Hinchcliffe, Mrs. Ethel McNally, of Montreal, Mrs. Alfred Davidson, South Durham, Mrs. P. Blais, St. Felix de Kingsey, Mrs. R. Gunter, Greenlay, Mrs. Franklin Brock, Windsor Mills, Mrs. Elery Semple, Cleveland, Miss Patricia Kelly, Sherbrooke, Mrs. Percy Brock, St. Felix de Kingsey, Mrs. Clifford Rodgers, Spooner Pond, Mrs. Gordon Davis, Kingsbury, and Mrs. Omar Mallette, Ulverton.

DIAMOND WEDDING
Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hebert, Donnelly St., highly esteemed residents, who celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Friday, September 5th. Mr. Hebert is well known here and in this vicinity and was for many years an engineer on the former Grand Trunk railway and C.N.R., having retired from active duty a number of years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Hebert are enjoying fairly good health. The day was spent quietly with their immediate family. Among the many friends who called to wish them many more years of good health and happiness was Mayor C. W. Armstrong, who, in addition to his own wishes, brought those of the town of Richmond. He was accompanied by Mrs. Armstrong.

Family Honors Boundary Lady At Birthday Dinner

STANSTEAD — On the occasion of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eulalie Goodsell, Rock Island, her daughter, Mrs. Maynard Rollins, Mr. Rollins and grandson, Michael, entertained at a family dinner on Saturday evening, September 6th.

The table was covered with a white demask cloth and centered with the birthday cake, decorated in white and yellow and topped with candles. Yellow candles in silver holders completed the arrangements.

Present were Mrs. Goodsell's children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young, Tommy, Betty, Peggy and Susan, Mr. Elden Goodsell, Mr. Kenneth Goodsell and the three Rollins.

In the evening the family was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Rollins, Magor, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rollins, Mrs. Bruce Dustin, Laurie and Bobby of Fitch Bay.

Mrs. Goodsell received several lovely gifts from her family, for which she voiced her appreciation.

The many friends of this grand lady join in wishing her many more of these happy occasions.

INSTITUTE HOLDS DINNER

The annual dinner of the Stanstead North Women's Institute branch was held at the Red School house, when a large number enjoyed the tasty home-cooked meal. Mrs. Douglas Mayhew was convener of the dinner.

Later a business meeting was held, with the president, Miss N. Holmes, in the chair. Bills were voted paid. A report was given by the appointed to purchase a stove for the school house kitchen.

Miss Holmes announced a sewing demonstration will take place at Ayer's Cliff and sewing and smoking classes will be held at Beebe on the afternoon and evening of September 18th, with Miss Christie of Macdonald College in charge. Stanstead North members are invited to attend both these events.

Mrs. George Hatch, on behalf of the members presented Miss Holmes with an appropriate gift and the best wishes of all for her future work at Macdonald College, where she will replace Mrs. Frances Taylor as Quebec Institutes secretary. Miss Holmes responded with words of appreciation.

The meeting adjourned to meet
