IMPERIAL DEFENCE DEBATED

Press Conference Takes Up Question from Navy Standpoint

"SUPREMACY OF SEAS MEANS SUPREMACY ON ALL SEAS," SAYS MR. M'KENNA.

Mr. Reginald McKenna.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, June 8.—The Imperial Press Conference to-day discussed the topic of "Press and Empire." Mr. Reginald McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, presided, while there were also present Sir Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary; Lord Cromer and ex-Colonial Secretary Lyttelton.

The following resolution was on the agenda table:

"That it is the duty of the Press to do everything in its power to co-operate with the naval and military authorities in organizing the defences of the Empire, and to take all possible precautions to avoid injury to the public interest in publishing news in time of war; that it is desirable also that the Press of Great Britain and the Colonies should act in concert in the wise direction of emigration."

Mr. McKenna, who opened the discussion, anticipated that as the result of the conference their ideas would be cleared and a way be opened to put these ideas into effect.

He dealt exclusively with naval supremacy, and admitted that the diversity of naval problems which confronted Britain's naval defence, covered the whole globe.

"We cannot," he said, "force our strategic ideas upon you. We should fail if we attempted it. If you come to ask us, we shall be ready to answer you, but we should not necessarily expect you to accept that answer. It is only by working out your problems yourselves that you can gain the experience we have gained. We will assist you by every method in our power, no matter by what method we are asked to assist.

"Out of this process of self-development in every Dominion we will all come to the same idea, namely, that the maintenance of our supremacy on the sea means the maintenance of supremacy on all seas alike.

Mr. McKenna concluded with an appeal to the Press to maintain the navy above and apart from all party dissensions.

Sir Edward Grey.

Sir Edward Grey outlined with humorous vagueness the British foreign policy. "It was," he said, "to keep all we have, to consolidate and develop it, to quarrel as little as possible with other people, and to uphold in the counsels of the world those ideals by which we set so much store."

Sir Edward Grey.

He dwelt at some length upon the important functions played by the Press in questions of Empire, and concluded by endorsing all Lord Rosebery had said with respect to the European situation. "Excessive armaments," he said, "have made the weather very sultry."

He deprecated the idea that the Foreign Office was more prone to compromise when the interests of the self-governing Colonies were concerned than in cases where they were not directly affected. He would state rather that the opposite was the case. (Applause).

Lord Cromer also spoke briefly along similar lines.

Mr. Ward, of Sydney, N.S.W., vigorously urged assistance from the overseas dominions to the Imperial Navy. Mr. Gwynne, of the London Standard, deprecated any happy-go-lucky naval policy, and advocated an Imperial Admiralty. Mr. Park, of the Cape Times, anticipated that when the Union was completed, South Africa would do more for the navy.

MR. LYTTELTON AGAIN HEARD.

Mr. Lyttelton spoke against the idea of annual contributions to the Imperial Navy. He reiterated Lord Rosebery's statement that Great Britain would spend her last shilling in the construction of Dreadnoughts in the defence of the Empire, but said the times and circumstances had altered since Trafalgar. The time might come for overseas assistance, in some tremendous struggle of the future, when the Empire might depend upon its unity and its consolidation for its defence.

He thought that monetary contributions should take the form of the cost of a warship. The ideal of the contributors should be to man this warship ultimately with natives of the colony presenting it, so that it could form the nucleus for their own naval aspirations.

The discussion was adjourned, and the delegates were entertained to luncheon at Sutton Place, as the guests of Lord Northcliffe, proprietor of the Times and the Daily Mail.

This was followed by a reception by Sir Michael Beachcroft, chairman of the London County Council.

CONFERENCE MEANS BUSINESS.

The press here is agreed that the conference means business. The Daily Mail says it will be well if the cable companies, in their own interests, take into consideratiton the reduction debates and give way before a decision is reached to lay state cables.

The Morning Post, however, hopes the "thorough sympathy" expressed by the Government will take a more practical form than it seems to have taken in connection with the steamship side of the All Red route.

NEW YORK TIMES' STRIKING COMMENT.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 8.—The Times says: It is a striking argument in support of the movement for reasonable cable charges that the Colonial delegates bring to the conference at London. The present charges are nothing less than a private tax, levied by Governmental permission, on the good understanding between distant people. Needless and inexcusable limitations they impose on communication, directly affect opinions, sentiments, and actions of these people in public, or political affairs, and, what is equally important, in business relations, on which political relations so intimately depend.

Quarrels in a great majority of cases grow out of misunderstandings based on defective information.

THANKS TO SIR W. MACDONALD M'GILL WINS

Joseph Property Transferred to Him To-day at Last

SYNDICATE ACCEDES TO HIS WISHES BUT HOTEL SCHEME NOT DEAD.

Thanks to Sir William Macdonald McGill wins out in the fight for the Joseph property.

To-day it was transferred to McGill with a letter explaining that it was sold at the cost price solely at the request of him who had done so much for the university and to whom a hotel on that site would be a severe blow.

Sir William has been a generous benefactor to McGill but perhaps nothing he has done will so appeal to the public as saving McGill from what graduates looked on as almost desecration.

Short But Dignified.

The letters which follow are short and very simple and are therefore all the more effective. They tell their own story:—

Montreal, June 8th, 1909.

Sir William Macdonald, K.C.M.G.
Notre Dame street,
Montreal.

Dear Sir William Macdonald,—

I beg to hand you the enclosed memorandum transferring to you all interest in the Joseph property and as representing the hotel interests, for whose benefit the property in question was bought, I wish to associate myself with the action of the other gentlemen concerned.

While we feel that we are sacrificing a position of the very greatest value to our enterprise, we have been impelled out of consideration for McGill University with which you have been so long and so closely associated to relinquish the obvious advantages which the property affords for our purpose.

Believe me,
Yours very truly,
LIONEL G. GUEST.

The memorandum referred to follows:

Solely, out of sympathy for Sir William Macdonald, who has done so much for educational establishments here, we agree to transfer to him, at cost price, our interests in the Joseph property.

June 7th, 1909.

(Signed) C. Meredith, E. S. Clouston, E. L. Pease, T. J. Drummond, George A. Drummond, L. J. Forget, C. D. Wetmore, H. Montagu Allan, H. S. Holt, A. Baumgarten.

Rounds Off McGill.

The purchase of this property rounds off McGill and puts her where her governors, faculty and students have dreamed of for year after year. The university now controls all the Sherbrooke street frontage.

RESULT IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Last Constituency Heard From—St. Barbe Went for Bond.

St. John's, Nfld., June 8.—The result in St. Barbe election, held on May 8, is just announced. The vote stood: Mr. Clapp (Bondite), 911; Mott (Morrisite), 790. This leaves the standing of the parties in the new Legislature, 26 to 10. The delay in counting the ballots was due to the ice blockade.

The engagement is announced of Miss Margaret A. Sparrow, of Huntingdon, Que., to Mr. L. D. M. Meyers, of Montreal, the marriage to take place on June 16th.

GERMAN PRESS DENOUNCES LORD ROSEBERY'S SPEECH

Morgen Post Calls it Agitator's Speech—Other Press Comment

Canadian Associated Press.

Berlin, June 8.—Lord Rosebery's speech at the banquet to the overseas press delegates, while universally condemned, forms the most prominent feature in the German papers and has produced a profound impression.

The Vossische Zeitung, in a leading article, states that the spectacle of Lord Rosebery, as the mouthpiece of a once proud country, bewailing to representatives of the Colonial press that Europe exercises such a pressure on the "little island" is pitiful. "The day on which the boundless panic set in in England," the Journal adds, "was the day when the triple entente against Germany and Austria-Hungary was worked on the Central European bloc. It is untrue that weapons with which Europe is studded are directed against England. It remains, however, true that without such weapons, Europe long ago would have been the football of England."

The Local Anzeiger expresses the opinion that Lord Rosebery's speech will result in a strong revival of the agitation which has kept Europe in breathless suspense. The Morgen Post in an article entitled "English mischief-making and hopes," says Lord Rosebery made an agitator's speech before six hundred people, in which almost every word conveyed an untruth.

SOUTH AFRICA APPLAUDS.

Canadian Associated Press.

Johannesburg, June 8.—Lord Rosebery's speech has increased the strong undercurrent of feeling that South Africa must do more for Imperial defence. The Johannesburg papers warmly applaud Lord Rosebery's utterances.

TORONTO PRESS COMMENT.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 8.—The Globe to-day, in an editorial says Lord Rosebery's standpoint was, as it always has been that of an advanced, but sane imperialist, and recent occurrences furnished him with an eminently apropos text of which he was able to make expert use. Referring to Lord Rosebery's intimation that the trend toward "barbarism" in Europe made it difficult for one small island to defend both its own liberties and those of its colonies, the Globe says: "To stop at that was tactful, to have said much more would have been a blunder."

The Mail and Empire says there can be no question that Lord Rosebery, in his speech at the Press dinner, cut, judging by his latest deliverance, while sound at heart he can scarcely be regarded as practical. What he advocates is combination for defence and for nothing else, distinctly settling aside anything in the nature of mutual agreements for the promotion of commerce as unworthy of consideration. This, the Mail and Empire declares, is a revival of the Cobdenite superstition, from which many of the leading men in Britain are now recovering.

The World says Lord Rosebery's message is that the Old Country is right at heart, that there is no failing or weakness in her and that she rejoices in renewing her youth in her giant dominions beyond the seas. Preparation against attack envolves no aggressive policy, it does not incite to war, it will prevent war. Imperial co-operation for mutual defence is the best guarantee of peace.

The News says:

"On those few occasions on which he emerges from his scholarly seclusion to participate in public affairs, Lord Rosebery strikes the high note of Imperial statesmanship. His message to the Imperial Press Conference in London was that in these times of stress the old Mother of us all does not falter. Rather does she rejoice that it has been given to her to renew her youth in these giant dominions beyond the seas. To use his own graphic language, 'Europe is rattling into barbarism, and pressure is put upon this little England to defend itself and its liberties and yours.'

"'And yours' are the words upon which emphasis should be laid. England is guarding our liberties. Such an appeal should reach the hearts and the pockets of Britons all around the world. Australia and New Zealand already have given their Dreadnoughts, and are prepared to give more. It is Canada's turn to act."

New York Comment.

New York, June 8.—Commenting on Lord Rosebery's speech to the press delegates in London, on Saturday evening, the New York Post says: "Lord Rosebery plainly declared that the road of fierce competition in guns and ships leads directly to war. Where it would end, short of a general lapse into barbarism, he could not say. One faint hope lay in the possibility that the workingmen of the world might find themselves so staggering under the burdens of militarism that they would say: "We will have no more of this madness and this foolery, which is grinding us to powder." Yet Lord Rosebery, with the customary and seemingly frenzied inconsistency of most public men who discuss this question, went on to say that England would never draw back; she would "build Dreadnoughts as long as we have a shilling to spend or a man to put into them;" and if that were not enough, as he was afraid it might not be, she would call upon her colonies to save her. Not a word about any possible alternative. If the workingmen do not prevent outbreak of war, European statesmen can do nothing. Such is Lord Rosebery's counsel of despair!"

A Boston Opinion

Boston, Mass., June 8.—The Herald says: "Lord Rosebery's speech was strategically timed and placed. Before him were Canadian, Australian, Anglo-Indian and South African journalists of eminence, as well as six hundred British makers and reporters of opinion. His very detachment from office, his known philosophical temper of mind, and his creditable record as a former foreign Minister gave to whatever he might say exceptional weight; and his hearers, in turn, furnished him with live wires to the uttermost borders of the Empire. What does he see? A situation ominous, almost appalling in its unrest and in its flux that cannot be foreseen as taking on stability.

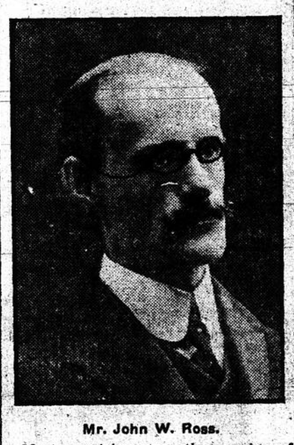
GREAT EXTENSION FUND CAMPAIGN IS INAUGURATED

Enthusiasm, Keynote of Inaugural Banquet--$25,000 Subscription Received



Mr. John W. Ross.

Most auspicious was the opening of the fifteen days' campaign of the Young Men's Christian Association, to secure the sum of $300,000 for extension work. At a banquet last night the movement was formally inaugurated and before the evening was over the first subscription had been received, from Messrs. Henry Birks and Sons. This is one-twelfth of the whole amount to be raised; there are fourteen days in which to raise the other eleven-twelfths.

The campaign started off with enthusiasm. More than two hundred men were gathered around the tables in the large hall of the Y. M. C. A. building on Dominion Square. Mr. John W. Ross, president of the Montreal Association, presided, and with him were enlisted Franklin W. Ganse, of Boston; C. S. Ward, of New York; T. Duncan Patton, of Ottawa, and C. K. Calhoun, of Montreal. The centre of the whole movement is Mr. Ward, who during the last four years has participated in thirty-six campaigns, in which over six million dollars has been raised for the advancement of the Y.M.C.A.

"This is our sixty-fifth anniversary," began Mr. Ross, "but though we are sixty-five years old we are full of life and are but now setting out upon a new forward movement." He introduced Mr. Franklin W. Ganse, of Boston, as a visitor from "our twin born in the same month"—a variety of twinship which caused an amused smile to pass over the well seated tables. Montreal, he intimated, began the experiment of Y. M. C. A. work on the American continent, and Boston was a close second.

Mr. Ganse introduced himself as a seeker after knowledge. Boston, he said, would enter upon a building campaign next autumn, and he had come to Montreal to learn how to do it in the most approved fashion. There were many similarities between Montreal and Boston, he went on, but he for one was glad that they were not both under the same flag. He was glad because of the type of brotherhood, which was being developed on this continent, which had extended into the field of religion and which would, he prophesied, extend within a decade into the field of international relations, so that the English-speaking nations would capture this world for Christian civilization.

THE WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

He then proceeded to discuss the Y.M.C.A. and its work. The Association was now taken as a matter of course. It was only a question as to how well it would do its work. Its field was, he put it, "from home to home."—from the time the home influence of a man's boyhood dwindles until he enters his own home. It appealed to the young men from fourteen to twenty-six. In that period the young men went out into life, they mingled as men among men. They entered upon an experience in which there was a great deal of good, but in which there was also a great deal of evil. That was the period in which was decided the life a man would lead—he then chose his life work and he then, in the majority, decided for or against Christ. That was the period of storm and stress. Through it all young men must pass, and the interests of civilization demanded that around them should be thrown all the safeguards which were possible. Provision must be made for the strengthening and purification of the body, for the elevation of the intellect, and for the salvation of the immortal soul.

Mr. Ganse quoted the words of Archbishop Ireland: "There is one thing I envy the Protestant Church and that is the Y. M. C. A." And he added: "And well he might envy it for there is no church or other organization which has equal efficiency for bridging the temptation period from home to home."

ITS CLEANSING PROPERTIES.

He presented as an illustration the cleansing of Chicago river by the turning into it of water from Lake Michigan through the Chicago drainage canal; and incidentally said he did not see why we should grudge the Americans that small portion of Lake Michigan, which would, if left to itself, flow down past the city of Montreal. By that work countless lives in the city of Chicago would be saved, which otherwise would have fallen victims to typhoid fever.

"It is a beautiful sight," he completed his illustration, "to see how Lake Michigan water has purified the vile sewage of the Chicago river. And in the same way the Y. M. C. A. exists to turn the great stream of Christ's life through the life of the young men and of the world."

After Mr. Murray Brooks, of McGill, had sung, Mr. C. S. Ward, of New York, told about the practical details of the campaign.

The Plan of Campaign.

"There seems to be a deep seated conviction," he said, "that the raising of a large sum of money in a short time might be possible in the United States, but could never be possible in Canada. Curiously enough, however, we have had our best times in the conservative cities of Canada, and of our South. I have often wondered why? I think it must be because you take pity on us because we are not part of your great Empire, and because the Southerners take pity on us because we do not belong to th old Virginia families."

Then he outlined the plans. There will be three committees at work: (1) The Citizens' Committee. (2) The Business Men's Committee. (3) The Young Men's Committee.

Among these three committees the people of the city will be divided, and they are instructed to "shoot at short range." "Personal work' is the motto. Each committee will be composed of ten teams of ten, with a captain for each team. Every day at 12.30 p.m. there will be a luncheon for the committeemen at 256 St. James street, when reports will be received and plans laid for pushing the campaign with renewed vigor.

Other Campaigns.

Mr. Ward told of the campaign recently in Richmond, Virginia, where $200,000 was aimed at, and $227,000 raised. The last subscription in this fund was $25,000 from Helen Gould, who owns the street railway in the city.

"These building campaigns," said Mr. Ward, "have never failed. And this city, at the gateway of your great Empire, cannot afford to falter."

"No doubt some of you are expecting to do big things the first day," he went on. "Let me tell you that the great day is the last day.

Right on the top of this Mr. T. Duncan Patton, general secretary of the Ottawa Y. M. C. A. told of the success of the campaign in that city, when $202,048 was raised in fifteen days.

Next, Mr. C. K. Calhoun, who is leaving the Montreal Association to become field secretary for Canada, told of the campaign in Halifax, where $114,000 was raised in a ten day campaign.

"The keynote of these campaigns," said Mr. Calhoun, "was the spirit honored in the beatification of Joan of Arc. It was the spirit of the practical mystic. It was the combination of prayer and hard self-sacrificing work."

Mr. Budge told of the growth of the Y. M. C. A. in his experience from the two rooms down town to the present quarters, now nineteen years old, and outlined the plans for the future. In addition to the details already given, he stated that a man would be assigned to the east end of the city—the district bounded by Rosemount and the river, St. Denis street and Longue Pointe—to take charge of the industrial work and study the best method of coping with the problem in that quarter of the city and suburbs.

PERSONNEL OF THE COMMITTEES

After Mr. Budge had made the announcements the various committees met separately for organization to begin the actual campaign to-morrow, when the first noon luncheon will take place.

The Citizens' Committee and the captains of the other committees are as follows:

Building campaign executive—John W. Ross, chairman; D. A. Budge, secretary; L. H. Packard, F. Howard Wilson, R. L. Charlton, R. C. Holden, Gerald W. Birks, C. C. Holland, J. W. McConnell.

TACKLE INSPECTOR TAKES UP DUTIES.

After many solicitations, the Department of Marine and Fisheries has yielded to the request of the Montreal Longshoremen and a special inspector of ship's tackle for this port has been appointed. The new inspector is Mr. Adolphe Martin, a member of the local Longshoremen's Union, a fact which affords additional gratification to the wharf laborers.

The new officer took up his duties on Saturday. He will be under the direction of Mr. Lauzé, steamboat inspector.

It is understood that the Government will go further along this line and appoint similar officers in all the principal Canadian ports.

Lady Aberdeen Thursday.

Lady Aberdeen, accompanied by her secretary and a small party, leave Boston to-morrow evening for Montreal, on the Grand Trunk private car, "Violet," which leaves Montreal to-night. The party will arrive here Thursday morning.

MONTREAL 17, TORONTO 2—IT WAS ONE OF THE WORST SLAUGHTERS EVER PULLED OFF FOR THE ONE PRICE OF ADMISSION

Local Swipers Hammered Three Toronto Pitchers All Over the Lot—Eleven Men Went to Bat in the First Innings

The gentlemanly ump. chased Mullin.

DIED—Suddenly at Atwater Park, June 7, Toronto baseball team. It was cruelly slaughtered and cut down in the prime of youth. Omit flowers. Toronto papers please copy. —4-11-44.

By the robust score of 17 to 2, the greatest in the checkered career of sporting statistics, Dr. J. Casey's highly paid, likewise demon athletes stepped on, mangled and generally messed up, Mr. J. Kelley's employes from Toronto, Ont.

For the benefit of the uninitiated we may explain at the outset that Toronto, Ont., is a quiet and select health resort, opposite Hanlan's Island.

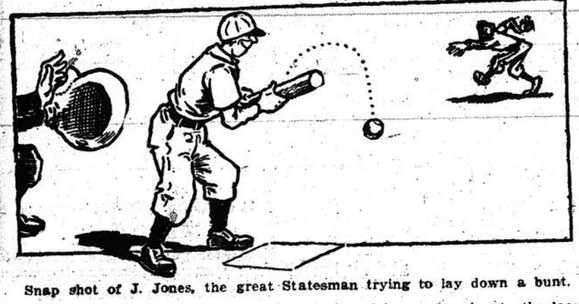
The doings to the Toronto repre-sentatives partook of enormous proportions.

It was the worst holocaust seen in many years and was viewed by a large outpouring of maddened peanut eaters, including a few Toronto sports, who were quickly detected by their sorrowful looks and agricultural garments. When all other signs fail you can always tell a Toronto sport by the way he looks at the diamond to see if the hay crop is making good.

In order to amass the 17 runs, mentioned above at great length, it was necessary for Dr. J. Casey's mastodonic athletes to assassinate three pitchers, two catchers and a second baseman.

Altogether it was a terrific combat and the victorious athletes left nothing but death, ruin, disaster anda few other things in their wake.

The only shadow cast upon the festive event was in the eighth, when a fast inshoot heaved by Mr. Duggleby plunked Dr. J. Casey, the demon leader, in the rear.



Snap shot of J. Jones, the great Statesman trying to lay down a bunt.

The gifted third baser walked painfully to first and owing to the location of the injury, one and all will be grieved to know that he will have to eat his meals from the mantlepiece for some days to come.

This is a much more serious affair than it seems.

To reach for a four course banquet from the mantlepiece is all right in the privacy of one's home, but Dr. J. Casey left for Toronto last evening and will be there for some days. It is a far different thing to walk into the King Edward dining room and in full view of a fashionable throng ask them to serve soup, one steak, two cans of string beans, lobster a la Newburg and one glass of lemonade all at an elevation of not less than five feet.

Use Three Pitchers.

Toronto used three pitchers in the conflict, and might have exercised more had there been any surplus heavers on hand to participate in the landslide.

Mr. Lundgren started off and lasted one inning. He was succeeded by a child wonder by the name of Moffitt and after we had assassinated Mr. Moffitt they sent out Mr. Duggleby.

Just to show that there was no ill feeling and that we were playing no favorites we also handed Mr. Duggleby a few carefully assorted bumps.

The hitting sounded like a riot in a bass drum factory. The hits were not only stupendous but continous, and embraced a flock of singles, doubles and three-baggers.

Why no gent. was thoughtful enough to explode a series of death-dealing home runs and connect with The Star's hard-earned $5 is a mystery.

They put in Mr. Lundgren first. Mr. Lundgren has been heaving for the Chicago Nationals the past few years, and when it was announced that he would go to Toronto the Toronto papers wired Mr. P. Powers (who pinched Mr. T. Longboat's gate receipts), to kindly send them the championship flag, for the reason that the race was all over and that Toronto couldn't possibly lose.

In the opening inning eleven Montreal men came to bat. M. Joyce scored two runs in that inning, while J. Yeager, the demon shortstopper, made a hit both times up. These exploits have rarely been seen in any ball yard.

Altogether there was a medley of six hits, two bases on balls, three errors and eight runs. Is it any wonder that Mr. Lundgren, late of Chicago, was sent to the coop for a few light repairs?

SLAUGHTER KEPT UP.

Mr. Moffitt's term of office lasted three innings. He was touched in that space of time for eight swipes, three of which were two baggers, and one a three baser, by Mr. M. O'Neil, who distinguished himself so forcibly by a Barnum and Bailey one hand clutch on Saturday.

It might also be added that one of the two base blows was contributed by Mr. B. Keefe, the popular heaver. Mr. B. Keefe's ability to produce two base blows is like the century plant. It blooms once every 100 years, by a reliable stop watch.

Altogether they scored four runs off Mr. Moffatt and amassed five during Mr. Duggleby's brief, but unhappy reign.

To liven matters up a little there was a debate supplied by the skilful ump. Mr. Byron and Mr. Mullin, the gent with the big head who second bases for Mr. Kelley.

Mr. Byron was so busy all afternoon that we had no time to enquire if he was by any chance a distant relative of Lord Byron, who wrote Childe Harold and other soul stirring poems. We can say, however, that if Ump. Byron is the descendant of a poet he doesn't wear his hair that way.

Mr. Mullin's emotions were ruffled by a high class decision at second base rendered in Mr. Byron's happiest vein.

Mr. Mullins' observations were so strenuous that the great Ump. pulled his golden 16l jewelled timepiece and told Mr. Mullin that unless he disappeared in 4 seconds by the clock he would be assessed $37.50. Mr. Mullin disappeared.

Observant populace noted that Mr. G. Lichtenhein has returned from his hurried tour of the world and is positively wearing a finer line of fancy weekits than ever before. Travel, likewise, has not dimmed the lustre of the 94 candle power arc lamp that shines in Mr. G. Lichtenhein's necktie.

BASEBALL NOTES.

17 to 2. Can you beat it?

On the showing they made in Montreal, the Toronto team has no license to be in second place.

Casey's pitching staff looks strong, as Smith, Wicker, Savidge and Winter are all good, with Keefe and Rogers to fall back on.

Mike Joyce is playing great ball these days.

Joe Yeager has all the shortstops in the league beaten a mile.

Yeager made 10 hits in the Toronto series.

J. Jones, the great statesman, has suffered the temporary loss of his batting eye.

In the four games, the Torontos scored only six runs.

All four Montreal pitchers, Smith, Winter, Savidge and Keefe, were enigmas to the Maple Leafs.

Mitchell, who leads the league in batting, did not make a single hit during the series.

Houser was guilty of some dumb plays around first base.

Joyce and O'Neil contributed dandy triples down the first base line.

Corcoran ran home from third while Mullen held the ball.

Three wins and a draw from Joe Kelley's band is moving some.

Toronto is carrying seven pitchers. Montreal has six.

Baltimore is moving up toward the first division.

Byron hurries the game along and will stand no back talk. His work here was, on the whole, very good.

Twenty hits for a total of twenty-seven bases.

Joe Kelley watched the ascension from the bench. Joe was in his street clothes and did not appear on the field.

Up to the eighth, Toronto made but three hits and were without a tally, but they made one in the eighth and one in the ninth.

HOT ON THE TRAIL OF THE MEN WHO CATCH FISH DURING THE CLOSE SEASON OR DESTROY THEM WITH NETS

Good Work of Fish Wardens and Magistrates—Many Convictions for Illegal Capture of Trout, Dore and Bass

The months of April and May are probably the most important in the year as far as the work of those gentlemen is concerned, who are laboring to preserve the game fish of the Province of Quebec.

These months see the end of the close season, first for trout which finished May first, and next for dore, and finally for bass, which can be caught after the fifteenth of this month.

Good Work Being Done.

It is therefore gratifying to be able to note that the fish and game wardens of the various districts, where these fish abound, and the different Magistrates are still doing their utmost to aid the efforts of the Fish and Game Protective Association of the Province to have the laws obeyed.

Mr. J. R. Innes, the secretary of the Association reports that excellent work has been done in various parts during these last two months, and he himself has taken a hand recently in bringing some of the Dore poachers in the vicinity of St. Ann's to book.

The Trout Question.

With Trout, the great trouble is that they are caught not so much out of season, although there is always a great deal of that the same as with other fish, but that they are caught too small. Game Warden Griffith has done good work in that direction and only last week seized some eight hundred pounds of trout, the bigger portion of which were undersized.

Convictions of poachers captured at Lachine.

Judge Lanctot at St. Johns has reported eight convictions of poachers caught in South River, on the Richelieu and near St. Johns.

After Dore Poachers

From St. Ann's it is reported that seven convictions and summonses have taken place for Dore poachers, while the seizure of eleven nets is announced.

At the request of the Mattawan Club, active warfare was waged in the vicinity of Joliette against trout poachers, and twelve convictions took place at Joliette for catching trout out of season.

The Justice of the Peace at Annunciation convicted two men for fishing through the ice.

As the Chateauguay River is the greatest Bass haunt in the Province, many experienced fishermen say in Canada, poachers after Bass are naturally inclined to make it their headquarters at this time of the year, when the fighting fish is spawning.

The Fight for Black Bass.

During the past six weeks no less than eight infractions of the game laws were tried at Chateauguay by the local magistrate, Mr. Clifford Smith. In the majority of the cases those arrested had not caught over two bass; hence the fines were not as severe as they otherwise would have been.

The arrests, which have been unusually numerous this year, have been due to the vigilance of Game Warden William St. Marie. He has patrolled the Chateauguay River night and day. Indeed he has been so active as to arouse the hostility of certain parties who do not think there should be any game laws at all. The hostility in question has been demonstrated by the sending of threatening letters to Mr. St. Marie. In addition to arrests for infractions of the game and fishing laws, Mr. St. Marie has also seized some big nets that were playing havoc with the fish and with the spawn.

Mr. Riendeau Active.

Mr. Riendeau, Chief Inspector of Fisheries for the Province of Quebec, said that in the month of May up to the present date he had caught six offenders against the fish laws of the Province. Three of these were fined five dollars apiece and two are to come up for trial. He destroyed two nets in the Lake of the Two Mountains and confiscated three more. He also liberated about seventy sturgeon which were under the required size, and imprisoned in boxes.

Many more cases in other districts have been heard from, although not yet officially reported.

NEW CLASPER BOAT FOR LACHINE IS NOW ON ITS WAY

Coach Stephenson Will Arrive Here a Week From To-day

The Lachine Boating Club is showing more interest this season in rowing and sculling than for many years past. The four-oar crews are working hard to be in condition for the trials to be rowed next week with the finals on Saturday, 19th. Coach Stephenson will arrive on 15th, and will immediately take charge of the coaching for the season. There is an abundance of good material in the club, so Lachine should turn out some fast crews. It is the intention of the club to enter crews at St. Cathasines in the Canadian Henley Regatta in July, in the 140 lbs. Junior "Four" class, open junior and intermediate "fours" and junior and intermediate "eights."

The new Clasper shell has been shipped from England and will arrive in a few days, and the "Eights" will be delivered to the club this week.

The cricket match between Osborne and Longueuil, which was scheduled for Saturday afternoon, was called off owing to the rain and to the fact that only about seven men of each side showed up. A practice was played instead.

JEFFRIES WILL START TO TRAIN IN OCTOBER WILL WEIGH IN AT 218.

It has been a long time coming, but the official announcement has finally been made and by James J. Jeffries himself, that he will meet Jack Johnson, the negro champion, for the world's title some time soon after the first of January. No date is set, but in all probability the contest will be arranged for some time during January or February.

When asked as to his plans for the future, Jeffries said:

"My theatrical contracts with William Morris will carry me along until August 1st, after which I intend going over to Europe with my wife.

"When I return from Europe, which will be some time in September, possibly a little later, I will go direct to the coast and then to the mountains. I have been taking off weight gradually and weigh at the present time a little over 235 pounds. You can see for yourself that I am not fat and flabby, as a great many have tried to make out, but it will require a few months of steady work in order to get into condition for so important a battle. I have never figured him as a tough proposition, for any man as big as he is and with the advantages he had who could not put Tommy Burns out in fourteen rounds is a poor excuse of a champion. When we do enter the ring I expect that my weight will be around 218 pounds.

The following gentlemen qualified for the Starke Cup yesterday afternoon at the Beaconsfield Golf Club:—W. W. Walker, J. B. Donnelly, W. I. Hogg, R. H. Irwin, H. Yuile, R. S. Morphy, D. W. Oliver, E. R. L. Henry-Anderson. In addition a sweepstake was played, which was won by W. W. Walker. J. B. Donnelly, W. I. Hogg.

THE KING'S DERBY CAUSED A GREAT POPULAR OVATION

Extraordinary Enthusiasm—National Anthem and Rule Britannia Sung

London, May 27.—The Daily Telegraph says: For the first time in the history of the race the Sovereign has won the Derby. "The King's Derby," as it will always be called, not only produced one of the finest races on record, but it furnished a scene of enthusiasm unparalleled even at Epsom. Every sportsman on the course went to the Downs wishing to see the Royal horse triumphant, but no one knows better than the racing man that hopes are not always realized. When the horses had swung round Tattenham Corner, and it was seen that Minoru was excellently placed, tremendous excitement seized the crowd, and as the animals passed the post—aye, even before they had reached the goal—there was a shout of great joy, and every face was turned from horses and jockeys to the centre figure in the Royal stand. There the King stood for a minute or two acknowledging the mighty "Hurrahs" which came from the lawns and enclosures, which echoed across the course and were sent back increased a hundredfold by the dark mass of humanity on the Hill, and which rolled along in front of a surging crowd rushing forward with the speed of trained athletes to join in the popular tribute to the Royal sportsman.

For a few brief moments it seemed as if the customary gathering in front of the stands would not assemble. The Epsom authorities have decided to keep the general public off the course for a stretch of about 150 yards between the winning post and the end of the lawn in front of the Grand Stand. Possibly the idea originated in the minds of gentlemen who were convinced that His Majesty's horse would carry off the Blue Riband this year, and they may have been under the impression that a clear way could only by this means be secured for the King when His Majesty led back his champion to the unsaddling enclosure. If this was the view of the authorities they reckoned without the host. At the two ends of the rectangle a few dozen constables held firmly to stout ropes drawn across the course immediately the rearmost horse had tolled behind the leaders. The running crowd soon came up to the thin blue lines, and, as in the two previous races, they halted in obedience to the decrees of the guardians of law and order. Then the King was seen retiring from the Royal box, and, quick as thought, a big portion of the people on the reserved lawn and in the Grand Stand enclosure began to stream out on to the course from those favored places and to make their way to the Jockeys' Gate.

Not until then did the crowd realize that His Majesty was going to observe the time-honored custom of owner leading in his victor. If the police had been multiplied by hundreds they could not have withstood the rush of many tens of thousands of sportsmen determined to be witnesses of a historic Turf event. A soon as the move from the lawns was noticed the police and their ropes were set aside, and some were carried in front of the bustling, cheering throng, to be jammed in the middle of a dense press shouting itself hoarse at the appearance of the King on the top of the steps leading to the enclosure wherein horses are unsaddled for the weighing-in process. His Majesty was followed by the Prince of Wales, who, like his Royal father, was obviously delighted at the success of Minoru, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and Prince Alexander of Teck. The sportsmen in the enclosure, some of them owiers of animals the King's horse had beaten, raised their hats high in the air and cheered as they waved them, and, making a passage for His Majesty to the gate, allowed the people outside to take up the greeting.

The police evidently anticipated that the crowd on the course would not be quite so amenable to the requirements of the occasion as the gentlemen inside the railings. But, with all their excitement and unbounded enthusiasm, the behaviour of the multitude was magnificent. Mounted police were there to force a clear way for his Majesty. As it happened they were as unnecessary as were their brother officers on foot. The people were their own police. They instinctively formed a guard of honor for the King, and never did Monarch have a more enthuiastically loyal bodyguard. The front lines pressed back the spectators behind them, and the latter, who probably on other occasions and in other circumstances would not have budged an inch, yielded immediately until a broad path was opened for the King. His Majesty walked down the course, raising his hat every yard or two, and was saluted by the lusty shouts of a hundred thousand of his loyal subjects. Someone on the lawn next the Jockey Club enclosure gave the signal for the National Anthem, and the singing was taken up by deep-chested bookmakers and carried on from ring to ring, from stand to stand, and from one quarter of the Downs to another. It was the demonstration of a great gathering of Englishmen at the fulfilment of hopes the realisation of which they had hardly trusted themselves to expect. A soloist with a coronet blared out "God Save the King" near the winning post, but it was a day for vocalists, and the effort of the instrumentalist was speedily drowned. Nor was his "Rule, Britannia," more successful. Away on the Hill the spectators had given up the attempt of joining the densely-packed mass on the course. Their ranks had been swollen by the people who had witnessed the start, and the shouts of these two sections of the Derby crowd rent the air. In their jubilation scores commenced to dance, and some threw their own and other people's hat about, knowing that there was not the slightest chance of recovering them.

The first horse to pass through the jockey's gate was William the Fourth, whose rider, Higgs, was cheered not so much because he had ridden a gallant race as because he was third, instead of first. His Majesty — unattended save by his loyal subjects — waited some distance from the enclosure for his horse to approach. There was a slight delay owing to Minoru being surrounded by admirers; but when the colt reached the King His Majesty, preceded by a mounted constable and Lord Marcus Beresford, led the victor into the unsaddling enclosure. The horse was perfectly quiet, and paid no heed to the vociferous demonstrations in his honor. Jones, the jockey, appeared a trifle pale, but immensely pleased. While the Derby winner was being unsaddled the cheering continud; indeed, it was continuous for upwards of a quarter of an hour, and while His Majesty stopped on his way back to the Royal stand to receive further congratulations from personal friends, the people refused to leave the scene. The "all right" signal had been given some time before a successful attempt was made to clear the course for the next event, and when the crowd again took up their positions to view the racing they felt they had been rewarded for their determination to brave the weather by witnessing what was probably the finest scene in the history of the Turf.

PEACE AND QUIET AT SENIOR LACROSSE LEAGUE MEETING A DISAPPOINTMENT TO OLD TIME FOLLOWERS OF GAME

Shamrocks' Motion to Take Roberts From Montreal Could Not Get a Seconder—Nationals Prepare for Capitals

What is the lacrosse world coming to?

A meeting about the possession of a player, who, although he probably did not show up to the best advantage always with the Shamrocks, has proven to be quite an acquisition to Montreal, and without the shadow of a fuss, or so much as an unkind word.

"What," asks the old time follower of the game is the use of a meeting at all if there are no vocal fire works set off, and what is the use of asking for a meeting at all if you do not even know that your motion is going to be seconded. Surely, surely, lacrosse has fallen upon evil ways."

Nationals will do their best to defeat Capitals here on Saturday, and it is likely that the trouble between the Executive and some of the players will be patched up again.

They are not going to take any chances for it is a habit of the Capitals the same as it is of the Ottawa Football and Hockey Clubs to make a "poor face," at the beginning of the season, and then try to swallow the championship whole later on.

The meeting of the National Lacrosse Union was held in the Windsor Hotel last night to consider the protest by Shamrocks of Roberts, the Montreal player, who last year played two league games with the Irishmen.

The rule that caused all the trouble read last year to the effect that any player who played more than two matches with a team one season should not be eligible to play with any other team the next season. At a meeting held a few months ago the words "more than" were struck out but Shamrocks contended that the rule should effect last year as well as this. Roberts was the case in point.

All the clubs were represented except Capitals. President St. Pere was in the chair. Shamrocks were rperesented by their president, Mr. Slattery.; Montreal, by Messrs. Whyte and Findley; Torontos, by Mr. Murphy; Cornwall, by Mr. Fitzgibbon, and Tecumsehs, by Mr. Querrie.

A Matter of Principle.

Mr. Slattery entered his protest, saying that it was being made merely as a matter of principle and the Shamrocks did not want Roberts on their team. He then started to enumerate the reasons, but Mr. Whyte, of Montreal, strenuously objected to the personalities which were used about the player in question. The representative of the Shamrocks then remarked that Roberts had played, not two, but three matches with them, one of which, however, was an exhibition game, not a league fixture. This argument was soon put out of the way by Mr. Whyte, who brought up Howard, who played this season in the Minto Cup games in Vancouver, as an example, saying that if that meaning was to be put upon the rule not only he but many others now playing in the Union would be ineligible.

After a quiet discussion among the different members of the committee, Mr. Slattery moved that Roberts should be ineligible to play this year with Montreal. There was no seconder to the motion so that it was lost.

It was also decided that as the protest had been made as a matter of principle, the deposit which had been made to the League should be refunded.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 8.—The big attraction here Saturday will be the lacrosse match between Shamrocks and Torontos, which will mark the opening of the Scarboro Beach Athletic field. The field is longer than Rosedale, but not quite so wide, while a commodious grand stand has been erected with a seating capacity of 4,000. The bleachers will seat the same number. The Shamrocks are old favorites in Toronto and a big turn out is expected.

SPORTING NOTES.

Englewood, N.J., June 8.—A fair start was made yesterday in the lawn tennis tournament held here under the direction of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, on the courts of the Englewood Club. The list of contestants includes: W. A. Larned, national champion; R. D. Wrenn, Whitman H. Ward, all ex-champions; R. D. Little and H. H. Hackett and F. A. Alexander. Larned was in rare form. It is the first time in many years that he has appeared upon dirt courts.

To-morrow evening St. Patrick's A. A. A. will hold their third weekly handicaps in the Victoria Skating Rink. The following events will be run off.

Junior—440 yards, 800 yards and one mile.

Senior—50 yards, 440 yards, 5 mile, and running high jump.

Kansas City, Mo., June 8.—John Svanberg, of Sweden, winner of the Chicago Marathon, and Johnny Hayes, the American runner, were matched for a 20-mile race, to be run here next Saturday at Athletic Club Park.

Chicago, June 8.—Plans for a hockey league, uniting Chicago with eastern cities in this sport, will probably be determined definitely at a meeting this week between Thomas W. Prior and eastern team managers. Prior, who is manager of a West Side ice rink, left last night for a tour of the eastern cities.

Sorel, June 8.—The Royals, of Montreal, opened the season here Sunday and succeeded in defeating the locals in a hard-fought game. McKay's all around playing featured the contest.

| | | R. | H. | E. |

Batteries—Edwards and Weir; Larue and Paradis. Umpire, Emard. Attendance, 600.

Billy Weller and Frank Carroll met last night to select a referee for their fifteen-round bout in the Victoria Armory on Thursday night. A dozen names were mentioned, including that of Jim Jeffries. It was decided to interview the big fellow to-day, and ask him if he would consent to act, but as he has received as much as $5,000 for refereeing fights in California, it is not likely he will consent.

The M. A. A. A. second eleven defeated Westmount second in a friendly match played on the latter's ground on Saturday by the score of 100 to 36. The chief feature of the game was the batting of D. Wilds, of the M. A. A. A., who carried out his bat for a well-played 30.

St. Cloud, June 8.—W. K. Vanderbilt's horses were victorious in three races here yesterday. His L'Exile won the Prix de Ruisseau, distance, one mile 4 1-2 furlongs, and a purse of $400. In the Prix Des Vaux D'Or Cornstalk came in first and won a purse of $2,000. Ripolin won the Prix Des Greaniums and the purse of $1,000.

Lewes, Eng., June 8.—The Abergavenny stakes for 2-year-olds, of five sovereigns, with 200 sovereigns added, distance, five furlongs, was run here yesterday and won by Wolfsland. The Israelite was second, and H. P. Whitney's Top of the Morning, third.

Toronto, June 8.—The Police Court yesterday morning saw the rapid disposal of thirteen men gathered in at the Woodbine during the last two weeks on nominal charges of vagrancy. All were from across the line and all pleaded guilty and were let go on suspended sentence.

Three Rivers, Que., June 8.—A game was played here between the Stars, of Montreal, and the Three Rivers A. A. A., resulting in a victory for the home team by a score of 11 to 7.

San Francisco, June 8.—Veteran ball player, George Van Haltren, who was ten years with the New York Nationals, was handed his release yesterday by the Oakland Coast League Club.

The pugilistic encounter in which Victor Lyons was so badly beaten in 11 rounds by George Kepp, that he died from his injuries, has aroused Governor Campbell, who says he may within a few days call a third special session of the Legislature to prevent further boxing in Texas.

PRESBYTERIANS HAVE HOT DEBATE ON CHURCH UNION

Dr. Campbell and Professor Forrest in Lively Argument

Special to The Montreal Star.

Hamilton, Ont., June 8.—The outstanding feature of the debate on the Church Union question which took place at the session of the Presbyterian General Assembly last evening was a disturbance which set the meeting on a roar. Things had been running very smoothly until Prof. Forrest, who was supporting Principal Patrick's motion in favor of organic union, attacked Principal McKay, the sponsor for the amendment. The attack, which was humorous, put the large crowd in a good humor and caused them to forget they were in a church.

When Rev. Dr. Campbell accused Prof. Forrest of teaching the audience something he had never taught his pupils, the former rose to his feet and indignantly remonstrated with the Moderator for permitting such language. The crowd yelled to the professor to sit down. The Moderator, making himself heard with difficulty, threatened to have the court cleared in a way that was quite judicial. Friends of the professor tried to get him to sit down, but he persisted in shouting defiance at Dr. Campbell, waving his fist at him in a threatening fashion.

For three minutes the din was maintained, the various factions supporting their representatives as they rose to give counsel to the Moderator, who himself was trying to calm the meeting. Finally something like order was restored and Prof. Forrest then said that he insisted on speaking as a constitutional right. He then denied the doctor's imputation and the latter was permitted to conclude his remarks without interruption.

The subject of Church Union was introduced by Principal Patrick, yesterday afternoon. He quoted from the report made by the joint committee, and advanced a number of powerful reasons on behalf of the Union.

Rev. Dr. Duval, seconded the resolution submitted by the committee, and said the Presbyterian Church was very badly in need of reorganization. It had murdered the late Dr. Robertson, the founder of missions in the North-West, by imposing too much work upon him. Union was also necessary to enable them to fight the Roman Catholics, who were making progress against the disorganized forces of Presbyterianism, Methodism and the other independent churches.

Principal McKay introduced what he called his substitute motion, which was as follows: "That before any further steps are taken another committee be appointed to meet with similar committees from the two other negotiating churches to ascertain whether or not a plan of federation cannot be formulated, that if the labors of this committee result in formulating such a plan, it be reported to the Assembly, and through it sent down to sessions and congregations along with that now proposed, that the other negotiating churches be assured of our desire to continue relations which already exist between the churches and to secure that the wisest possible use be made of the manifest desire for truer fellowship in our world wide task, that they be asked to appoint similar committees with a view to carrying out the plan suggested, and further, that a pastoral letter be sent to all sessions and congregations, assuring them that nothing has so far been done which is in any way binding upon us as a church, nor will action be finally taken until the people, having had every opportunity of informing themselves of the issues at stake, have agreed, with reasonable unanimity, upon the plan to be adopted."

His principal arguments against union and in favor of federation were that by merging they would be creating a great ecclesiastical machine, similar to that behind the Roman Catholic church. He also drew attention to the fact that the churches in Scotland had only succeeded in weakening themselves by uniting and would be in a state of comparative chaos for some years as a result of it. He was still speaking when the hour for adjournment arrived.

In the evening he concluded his address and stated that denominationalism was necessary as it represented the outlet for various religious temperaments.

The seconder of Principal McKay's amendment was Rev. M. Ralston, who held that spiritual union was enjoined on all of them but organic union was a chimera.

Prof. Forrest, Halifax, in supporting Principal Patrick's motion, said that Principal McKay was wrong in his conclusions about the union in Scotland, as every one was satisfied with it there. Rev. Dr. Campbell then entered his objections to the union and precipitated the incident which has already been alluded to.

Hotel Sold for $2,500,000.

London, June 8.—The Piccadilly Hotel, which was opened last season and speedily went into the hands of a receiver, has been purchased outright, just as it stands, for $2,500,000 by H. Mallaby Deely.

To Suffer From Headaches Makes Life Miserable.

It takes a person that has had or is subject to headaches to describe the suffering which attends them.

The majority of cases are caused by constipation and dyspepsia. The dull throbbings, the intense pain, sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then over the whole head, varying in its severity by the cause which brings it on, purely indicates that there is something the matter with the stomach or bowels. To the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters reaches every part of the system is due its success in relieving and permanently curing headache. It has proven a specific for the malady in all its forms.

CONSTIPATION AND HEADACHES.

Mrs. Allison E. Brown, Summerfield, N.B., writes: — "I have been troubled with Constipation and Headaches for a long time. After trying different doctors to no effect, a friend asked me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I find I am completely cured after taking three bottles. I can safely recommend it to all."

COL. M'CLURE, A NOTED JOURNALIST, PASSES AWAY

He was for Many Years Prominent in Politics of Pennsylvania

Philadelphia, June 8.—Colonel Alexander K. McClure, prothonotary of the Supreme and Superior Courts of Pennsylvania, and for many years a prominent figure in politics and journalism, died yesterday at his home in Wallingford, Delaware County, aged 81 years.

After spending his early youth on a farm in Pennsylvania, Alexander Kelly McClure rose to fame as a journalist, lawyer and politician. It was probably in journalism, however, that he achieved his greatest reputation, rising to be editor-in-chief of the Philadelphia Times in 1873, a position which he held until 1901.

He was born at Sherman's Valley, Perry County, Pa., in 1828, and was educated at home and afterwards apprenticed to a tanner's trade, at which he worked until 1846. From that time he seems to have discovered his vocation in journalism as he successively published and edited the Mifflin Sentinel and Chambersburg Repository, terminating his connection with the latter in 1864. He took up the study of law and was admitted to the Bar in 1856.

Like most young lawyers he took an active interest in politics and was Whig candidate for auditor-general of Pennsylvania in 1853. He was a member of the convention that organized the Republican party at Pittsburg in 1855, and thereafter took an important part in the deliberations and organization of that party. He was a candidate for the mayoralty of Philadelphia as an independent in 1874, but was defeated by a small plurality.

He also took an interest in military matters and was on the staff of Governor Johnson in 1849 with the rank of colonel. He was also an author of note, one of his most popular books being "Our Presidents and How We Make Them," published in 1900. He also wrote "Three Thousand Miles Through the Rocky Mountains," 1869; "The South," 1886; "Lincoln and Men of War Times," 1892; "Recollections of Half a Century," "To the Pacific and Mexico," 1901; "Old Time Notes of Pennsylvania," 1906.

He was appointed prothonotary of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1904, a position which he held up to the time of his death.

PLEBISCITE AT HAMILTON.

Electors Vote for Contract With Hydro-Electric Company.

Hamilton, Ont., June 8.—The ratepayers yesterday voted in favor of the city entering into a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission of Ontario for a supply of power. The local Cataract Company was in the field against the Hydro Commission, and its last offer was to supply the city with electric power for civic uses at ten per cent. lower cost than the commission supplied power to any municipality. The City Council sent both contracts on to the people. The majority against the Cataract by-law was 185, and the majority for the Hydro by-law was 610. This vote is not mandatory to the council, which, if it sees fit, can still enter into a contract with the local company.

The ratepayers, by a majority of 1,569, voted for a board of control, and by a majority of 209 turned down the hospital by-law, which was to provide $30,000 for new hospital buildings.

M. CHAUCHARD'S WILL.

Leaves Great Art Collection to French National Museum.

Paris, June 8.—The will of the late H. A. Chauchard, proprietor of the Magasin du Louvre, leaves his collection of paintings, bronzes, marbles, etc., comprising some of the most celebrated works of the romantic school of 1830, to the National Louvre Museum. The collection is valued at $4,000,000. To the employes of the Louvre store, M. Chauchard leaves $600,000. He gives $400,000 to the poor of Paris, and makes also numerous bequests to various philanthropic and charitable institutions. The big individual legacies are $3,000,000 to Geo. Leygues, the lawyer and man of letters, and the members of his family, and $400,000 to Gaston Calmette, proprietor of the Figaro.

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT FUND.

Toronto University Admitted to Professorial Pension Scheme.

New York, June 8.—The University of Wisconsin, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, and the University of Toronto have been admitted to participate in the professors allowance system of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching. These are the first state institutions admitted to the endowment.

Threat to Burn University.

Norman, Okla., June 8.—Because of the dynamiting of a water pipe, which it is believed with an attempt to carry out a threat to burn the university, 100 members of the student body, under command of A Grant Evans, president of the university, stood guard around the campus throughout two nights. The large water pipe connecting the city pumping station with the standpipe was severed by a dynamite explosion, and no water was left in the stand-pipe

Protest Against Sunday Trains.

St. John, N.B., June 8. — The St. John Evangelical Alliance, composed of Protestant ministers of the city, has passed a strong resolution against Sunday trains which the Canadian Pacific Railway is to run between here and Montreal, beginning next month.

Mr. Hodgins' Election Sustained.

Ottawa, June 8—The petition against the election of Mr. G. T. Hodgins, M.P. for Pontiac, on the grounds of bribery and corruption, was dismissed by Judge Champagne in the Bryson Superior Court on Saturday.

Premier Asquith's Picture Defaced.

London, June 8.—A portrait of Premier Asquith by S. J. Solomon, one of the features of the Royal Academy, was defaced yesterday by the pasting across it of the familiar legend, "Votes for Women."

Trade Commissioner Chosen.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 8.—Mr. J. E. Campbell, of Hepworth, Ont., will succeed J. B. Jackson, as Trade Commissioner, at Leeds. The latter goes to Shanghai.

NEWS OF THE LABOR UNIONS IN MONTREAL.

Meetings will be held to-night as follows:

Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Union—Labor Temple.

Sheet Metal Workers' Union — Labor Temple.

Joint Council Boot and Shoe Workers—748 east St. Catherine street.

Stonemasons' Union—St. Joseph's Hall.

Blacksmiths' and Helpers' Union, Liberty Local—784 east St. Catherine street.

Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners—772 Charlevoix street.

Painters' Union—Gordon Hall, corner of Mountain and St. Catherine streets.

Patternmakers' League — No. 3 East Craig street.

At last night's meeting of Local Union, No. 134, Carpenters and Joiners, it was decided to take part in the St. Jean Baptiste demonstration, and a special committee was named to make arrangements. The nomination of officers resulted in nearly all the former officers being elected by acclamation. Mr. A. Descotes was elected secretary, and three candidates were nominated for the position of business agent. Several new members were initiated, and the report received showed a marked improvement in trade conditions.

The American Federation of Labor has secured Massey Hall, Toronto, for the annual convention. The headquarters will likely be at the Rossin House. The president, secretary and eight vice-presidents, with their clerks and stenographers, each require separate offices, and the old hotel will look more like an office building than a place of refreshment and repose.

There is a movement among the Boot and Shoe Workers to discard the referendum system of electing general officers, and those behind it claim that they will win out at the coming convention in Syracuse, on June 21st. It was said that if the officers were to be elected at the conventions the local unions would take considerably more interest in these gatherings and be more fully represented.

Louis Beloin, vice-president of the International Association of Machinists, and former president of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, is in Hamilton. He will be the guest of Local Union No. 414, next Thursday evening.

The Plumbers and Steamfitters are to hold an outing in the near future.

EIGHTEEN MASONS AGGREGATE 700 YEARS OF MASONIC AGE.

One of the most remarkable gatherings of Masonic veterans ever held in Montreal was the June Communication of St. Lawrence Lodge, No. 14, A. F. & A. M., Q. R., in the Inglis building, St. Catherine street west, when over one hundred brethren met to do honor to eighteen old members of the lodge of over thirty years' standing.

The united Masonic ages of the veterans aggregate 700 years. Four of them have completed over fifty years of Masonic service, four of them being initiated on the same evening forty-two years ago.

The regular business of the lodge was conducted by the old members, the various chairs being filled as follows: R.W. Bro. J. W. Hughes, 42 years, W.M.; R.W. Bro. George W. Sadler, 35 years, I.P.M.; V.W. Bro. Frank Smith, 31 years, S.W.; W. Bro. A. T. R. Page, 26 years, J.W.; Bro. Peter H. Couper, 60 years, treasurer; Bro. John Allan, 53 years, secretary; Bro. the Rev. Canon Ellegood, 55 years, chaplain; V.W. Bro. W. V. McNally, 25 years, S.D.; W. Bro. J. McBoyle, 24 years, J.D.; W. Bro. W. W. Williamson, 26 years, I.G.; Bros. Jas. Nairn, Walter Stenhouse and W. H. Dixon, each 42 years, and Bro. Mallory Palmer, 41 years, stewards. Others present were: Bro. George Meldrum Murray, 50 years; V.W. Bro. R. S. Thompson, 38 years; Bro. James Young, 38 years; Bro. L. R. Grothe, 37 years, and Bro. W. H. Laurie, 35 years. Owing to illness, W. Bro. Joseph Dixon, 40 years; Bro. Wm. Crason, 35 years, and Bro. E. J. Savage, 32 years, were not present.

The three oldest members, Bros. P. H. Couper, John Allan and Rev. Canon Ellegood, were presented with handsome jewels.

The Cawthra Estate.

Toronto, June 8. — Sir Wm. ### THE CITY COUNCIL AND THE COMMISSION.

The City Council need have no doubt as to what the people would like it to do with regard to representation before the Cannon Commission. They would like it to help; but they would not like it to obstruct. Nor will there be much dispute as to how the people will judge whether the aldermen are helping or obstructing. If they send a lawyer to act with the lawyers of the Citizens' Committee, or if they send a contribution to help the Citizens' Committee carry on the work it is doing so well, they will be helping; but if they send a lawyer to conduct independent examinations, they will come under a strong suspicion of being desirous of obstructing.

To contend that they are only anxious to "bring out the truth," is an empty formula. Every lawyer before the Commission who is representing a private interest or acting for one of the officials who seems to be getting on the wrong side of the evidence, would at once claim that his sole purpose is to "bring out the truth." No lawyer ever appears before a court or a commission who will confess to any other object. The entire legal profession are untiring truth-seekers! But there is a public impression that lawyers sometimes appear before courts, committees or commissions for the purpose of suppressing the truth; and it is inevitable that a suspicion of this sort will discount the usefulness of any legal representative of a body which is practically on trial.

The lawyers of the Citizens' Committee are doing their work well. Messrs. Laflamme and Perron have been collecting their data with industry and pressing it home with vigor and point. If the majority of the City Council really wish the truth to be made known with a view to arousing public opinion to a wholesome and wholesale job of house-cleaning, they cannot do better than assist these gentlemen. It is not the Commissioner who needs protection against wrong conclusions, but the lawyers who need intelligent help in understanding the ins and outs of City Hall business. Here the law department of the City Council could undoubtedly render much valuable service; whereas they could hardly appear before the Commission to cross-examine Mr. Laflamme's witnesses without exposing themselves to the suspicion of being counsel for the defence. Now the citizens do not want their money voted to defend the sinister elements in the present civic administration.

STOP POLLUTING THE RIVERS.

While we are considering—not too energetically—whether we will filter the sewage out of our drinking water, the North American Boards of Health Conference has been discussing the other end of the same problem—i.e. how to prevent municipalities from draining their sewage into the drinking water of other people. It is obvious that if no town or village put its sewage into the rivers, it would be unnecessary for any other town or city to take that sewage out. In several of the American States, efforts are being made to prevent the contamination of streams. In New Jersey, there are fifty-four sewage purification plants installed, and the policy there is to allow no untreated sewage to be discharged into the waters of the State. Twenty-two places are now under orders to install sewage purification plants, and the discharge of raw sewage into the Delaware river is to be stopped.

Baltimore is putting in an excellent sewage filtration plant. Indiana has taken the question up seriously. There are more that fifty sewage disposal plants in operation in New York, but the state laws are unsatisfactory. The position of the American Boards of Health is that the rivers are not the natural sewage carriers, and that they must be kept free from unnecessary impurities. In some cases it is not only that they are rendered unfit for drinking purposes; but the fish are killed and the rivers are ruined for boating and bathing. It might be added that the dumping of sewage into the streams is likewise a great waste; for, if the sewage were properly treated, it would furnish a fine and cheap fertiliser for the enrichment of the farms and market gardens.

This is a problem which must soon arise in Canada. It is the sewage of our towns from Ottawa to Lachine which renders our drinking water here so dangerous; and when we add our own contribution below the city, it is not at all likely that we improved the supply for down-river communities. Of course, we should filter the water in any case. The drainage of farms and swamps is enough to pollute it. But it is time that we inaugurated a campaign to educate our people up to the wisdom of conserving the wealth that lies in their sewage and at the same time ceasing to turn the noble rivers of our country into gigantic sewers. Even if we filter the water before it reaches our drinking glasses, it is not pleasant to bathe in a sewer or to skim across its glassy surface in a canoe.

ROSEBERY ATTACKED.

The German press seems to have regarded Lord Rosebery's speech at the Imperial Press Conference banquet as a new revelation. Yet it contained nothing novel. It was exactly in line with the things which Lord Rosebery and most other British statesmen have been saying ever since Mr. McKenna and Mr. Asquith launched the Dreadnought "scare." There are no two opinions on the subject in Britain. Even Mr. W. T. Stead, the apostle of peace, is heartily in agreement with the policy of building as many Dreadnoughts as may be needed to protect the Empire as long as "we have one shilling or one man to put in them." Lord Rosebery, Sir Edward Grey, Lord Lansdowne, Mr. Balfour, Mr. Asquith—everybody who has any close and intimate knowledge of the foreign relations of the Empire—take the same grave view of the situation. This sudden and feverish rush to build battleships is not due to purposeless freak or a renewed confidence in permanent peace.

Lord Rosebery's new point was a direct appeal to the Colonies. That appeal could come with better grace from him—an unattached leader of opinion at home—than from either a responsible member of the present Government or a probable member of the next Government. The colonies have already answered the appeal. New Zealand and now Australia have offered Dreadnoughts. Canada's representatives are getting ready to go to London next month to discuss with the British Government the best way in which we can assist. There is no doubt that the time has come when the worth of the Colonies as allies on the field of battle is to be tested; and we cannot too soon or too fully realize in this country the reality and the sternness—and the finality—of the test.

ALDERMEN ALERT.

The statement that the aldermen propose to organize a campaign to bring out the vote against the reduction of the Council by half, is surely no more than the announcement of the expected. It was hardly to be anticipated that the aldermen would obligingly stand still and permit their own decapitation. Public opinion in favor of the change was so strong that they did not dare fight it very hard when it was up in Council; but that does not constitute a reason why they should not quietly pass the word to their friends to come out on the day fixed for the voting and prevent—if possible—the cutting of the conduit which connects them with the public treasury.

They are calculating on the chronic neglect of the people. Toronto has just voted on two important by-laws—for the erection of a "sea wall" and the extension of the water works system—and only 4,300 out of 40,000 voters came out to the polling booths. If we were to see similar indifference here at the time of the voting on the proposed reduction of the Council, it would be absurdly easy for the interested aldermen to get together a sufficient phalanx of the faithful to quite bury this corporal's guard out of sight. If the people want a smaller City Council, they will have to come out and vote for it.

Mr. Gifford Pinchot is appealing to the railways of the United States to help conserve their forests. He points out that the Americans are cutting their forests three times faster than they are growing; and that four-fifths of the forest wealth of the Republic is in private hands and is being cut almost exclusively for present profit without regard to the future. Now the railways are among the largest consumers of wood, and will suffer keenly when the pinch comes. So Mr Pinchot urges them to be as saving as they can, using chemically treated ties which will enable them to utilise inferior woods, planting trees on their own lands, conserving their own forest reserves, and co-operating in fire prevention. Our railways will hardly believe here that such methods would be economical; but they can at least be doubly careful in the matter of forest fires. This anxiety of Mr. Pinchot, by the way, emphasizes the fact that Canada is rapidly approaching a forest monopoly.

The Colonial Secretary has endorsed the course of the Governor of Newfoundland, Sir William MacGregor, in refusing a dissolution to Bond and granting one to Morris. The Governor's course would appear to have been in line with common sense. Bond had gone to the people as the head of the Government and had only succeeded in creating a deadlock. He wanted another "try"; but the Governor declined to permit the turmoil of two general elections in such close succession. So Morris came in, when it would have been obviously unfair to have asked him to face a House which had not been elected under his leadership. So he was sent to the people, and came back with a large majority. The people and the Colonial Office thus combined in endorsing the action of the Governor; and there is no appeal beyond these two authorities. In case of a deadlock, the Governor is always bound to remember that "the King's Government must be carried on."

Victor Hugo's body is to be removed to a better place in the Pantheon. George Meredith's ashes were denied any place at all in Westminster Abbey. So long as the great in literature and art are more highly honored in France than in Britain, the British people need not wonder that they are excelled in these finer fruits of the mind by their neighbors across the channel. On this continent, when a young man announces his intention of devoting his life to literature or art, when he might be a stock broker and ride in an automobile, we generally think that his friends ought to kindly put him in some place of restraint for the mentally defective. The consequence is that our output of Hugos, Mereditns and artists is exceedingly slim.

If the Building Inspector is allowed to set aside the requirements of the building by-laws at will, most people will wonder what on earth was the use of adopting the building by-laws? Why not simply make the Building Inspector an autocrat, and let it go at that? If the aldermen knew that this unchecked power rested with their Building Inspector, they might take a little more pains to see that the plans he endorsed were really up to the standard set by the law. We seem to have plenty of law in this city, but precious little enforcement. Our Council is most obliging in passing by-laws to suit the tastes of all; and then they temper the wind to the shorn lamb, by letting them lie in the dead letter office indefinitely.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

(Chicago News.)

A face that cannot smile is seldom worth while.

A man's dollars do not always make up for his lack of sense.

All work is drudgery to those who are not interested in honest labor.

When a man spends all his salary himself it's a sign that he isn't married.

A young man seldom begins to rise in the world until after he settles down.

The time for any man to marry is when he finds a woman silly enough to accept him.

It is to be hoped that the meek inherit the earth before the other fellow gets through with it.

Many a man with a powerful voice has a dent where his bump of intelligence ought to be.

One of the "sights" which Lord Rosebery told his audience they might see in Canada was that "under the most advanced democracy a prime minister may hold his own against the successive buffets of innumerable general elections." Canada has certainly given the world an example of stability of government joined to breadth of franchise. Sir John Macdonald ruled for thirteen years and his party for five more; Sir Wilfrid Laurier has ruled for thirteen years; while Sir Oliver Mowat governed Ontario as long as he chose to "stay on the job." Our fault is not fickleness, at all events.

The season of the canoe accident has made its sorrowful entrance. Why will not people realise that riding a canoe is something like riding a bicycle—a balancing feat—not to be undertaken by novices and always to be regarded as liable to a "side slip" or an upset in a "rut." Canoeists should be good swimmers and good canoeists; and even then they should run no risks. Those unacquainted with the tricky ways of the canoe should do their practicing in knee-deep water.

The Toronto people voted down a by-law to spend money on the erection of a "sea wall." They are consequently being lectured for not paying sufficient attention to the teachings of the Guild of Civic Art. But it may only be that they possess a sense of humor. Just why an inland town abutting on a bay should be asked to erect a "sea wall," may not have been clear to the wide-awake citizens of a city whose boast it is that it is the Queen of the Lakes. They might as well have been urged to provide tidal wharves.

Jack London is Ill.

New York, June 8.—A Honolulu despatch says that Jack London, the novelist, writes in a gloomy way of his physical condition. He mentions five different diseases from which he has suffered, and tells of being relieved of two of them by operations in Sydney; but he still has malarial fever, while a nervous trouble has wrecked his strength.

STANLEY, N.S. — Elizabeth, widow of Daniel Anthony, is dead, aged 70 years.

QUEBEC. — George Darveaux, a well-known broker here, is dead. He was 50 years old.

PORT PERRY, ONT.— Mary Elizabeth McKinney, wife of Thos. W. Robertson, is dead in her 80th year.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

June 8th, 1879.

The late Ald. Jacques Grenier.

Ald. Jacques Grenier is leaving in a few days for a holiday and business trip to England and the Continent, and his place as chairman of the Police Committee will be filled by Ald. Hood during his absence.

BOTH the worthy aldermen mentioned have since paid the penalty of humanity, the late Ald. Grenier dying a few years ago after a long commercial and civic career. He was a wholesale dry goods merchant, and was most successful, and became president of the People's Bank in the days of the depression in the seventies. He and the directors were deceived by the manager's reports, who eventually caused its failure with much loss to himself and shareholders. After his term of office in the Mayoralty chair, he retired from public life. He and Ald. Hood were excellent Councillors, ever with an eye to the ratepayers' interest, and the enemies of grafters and boodlers.

The visiting governors to the Montreal General Hospital for the week beginning Monday are Messrs. Warden King and G. Kemp.

THE two life governors mentioned above have since passed from their earthly activities. They were merchants of high standing, and were very generous contributors to the hospitals, and to all benevolent institutions in helping the needy and distressed.

The late Mr. Warden King.

Good news comes from Southern Russia that the terrible plague has been nearly stamped out, by the enforcing of sanitary rules on all classes and large communities.

THE Russian scourge was said to have been introduced from Asia by trading caravans. The loss of life was so serious for the first six months that all Europe became alarmed that the plague should spread. Doctors were hurried to the scene from every country, with medical supplies, food and clothing for the unfortunate victims. The Russian troops suffered very severely while the disease was at its height, and the garrisons were moved repeatedly.

The annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held in the rooms of the Natural History Society on Saturday afternoon. There was a very fair attendance of lady and gentlemen members of the society. Mr. Fred. Mackenzie read the tenth annual report of the inspector, which stated that the total number of prosecutions was fourteen, two cases being dismissed. The financial report showed a small deficit of fifty dollars The reports were adopted, with thanks to Mr. W. H. Kerr, Q.C.; Dr. McEachran, and the Chiefs of City and Water Police for much good assistance.

THE late Mr. Frederick Mackenzie, who was a great admirer of the dumb animals, was one of the founders of the above society, and gave all his time, and was generous in his subscriptions to the work of the society, of which he was for a long period the secretary-treasurer. The late Mr. A. Galley was the efficient inspector at the time.

RACING MEET OPENS IN EARNEST AT BLUE BONNETS AND GAY CROWDS WATCH FIVE FAVORITES ROMP HOME

Perfect Weather, Fast Track and Fair Attendance Mark Second Day of the Meet—Good Sport Promised To-day

Smiling skies, a brilliant crowd and the finest of racing made notable the second day of the spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club at the Blue Bonnets course yesterday afternoon.

Again it was a favorites' day, but the contests were keen and in every race excitement was intense. Better track conditions could not have been wished for, and the number of horses in the field was an improvement over Saturday. The whole pointed to increasing success, and with a continuance of the weather of yesterday, the meeting is bound to be a credit to the sport in Montreal.

MANY WOMEN THERE.

Noticeable in the crowd yesterday was the feminine contingent. Both as to the number of club guests and those who cheered their favorites from the grand stand, they were out stronger than was expected, and while the attendance was not as large as Saturday interest was greater, if possible, and the number of bets made far larger. The bookmakers were there in force, nearly sixty being on the grounds and the betting ring presented an animated spectacle during the entire racing.

The grand stand was a pretty color scheme during that part of the afternoon when the sun shone brightest and the crowds were greatest, the women in gala attire setting off the dark costumes of the men enthusiasts in a manner decidedly good to look upon. On the roof of the stand were lined scores of women, who sought advantageous places to watch the running, and their cheering and waving when the contests were close spoke well for the card. On the roof of the club house, too, the fashionables were lined, and during the racing, some of the debutantes stood on chairs and waved their parasols in the abandon of the moment. The club members entertained a large number of prominent out of town men and women, and the members were in attendance in formidable numbers.

GENTLEMEN RIDERS.

The race that appealed particularly to the club members and the guests inside the exclusive enclosure was that in which gentlemen jockies competed, and during the few minutes that the horses and riders were held at the post before getting into shape to start, the men and women friends of the riders shouted jocular advice to them, and called them by name. During the contest the cheering was loudest from the fashionable quarter, and when Burton Holland, of Toronto, led at the finish on Bobbie Keen he was soundly applauded. He acknowledged with a wave of his jockey's cap. Mr. Burton has won before on the Montreal Blue Bonnets course, and is the only gentleman jockey to gain the distinction of more than one win.

Thomond in that race was the favorite, but was handily beaten by the Holland mount. Mr. Gordon A. Henderson, of Hamilton, owner of Thomond, acted as his own jockey, and rode a splendid race. Mr. Mathias on Sweetner, Mr. Wray on Elmhurst, Mr. R. H. Henderson on Stalker, all had their supporters, not only among those clustered on the club grounds and verandas, but in the grand stand and betting ring as well.

ARRIVED IN TANDEMS.

A great many of the club members and their guests of the afternoon came to the course in tandems and automobiles and in several cases parties of young women arrived in that fashion unaccompanied. The crowd was obviously one of enthusiasts, and when the racing was not actively on, the buzz of comment and conjecture made the enclosure a lively place. Many of the fashionables visited the paddocks with hundreds of horse lovers from the grand stand crowd, and between the races nearly all of the stalls of the thoroughbreds were clustered about with interested men and women.

The nature of the day countenanced the wearing of true summer attire, and there were many elaborate dresses and sportsmanlike gentlemen's garb in the throng. Nearly everybody had a field glass, and, taken altogether, it was a fashionable, patrician gathering.

Officials' Report.

The officials who had been at Toronto for the Saturday races arrived Sunday night, and were seen at the grounds yesterday. Judge J. J. Burke was on duty and Starters William Hendrie and Francis Wilson were also seen among those at the post. Besides, a large number of the owners, who remained over for the closing at Woodbine, got here, and were busy forming their opinion of Blue Bonnets and the hospitality of the Montreal Jockey Club. Prominent among the latter were William Garth, J. W. Colt, Courtland Smith, Mrs. L. A. Livingston, T. Chinn, Dr. R. E. Webster, Andrew Shearer, Capt. Presgrave, and several others. Mrs. Livingston spent much of her time near the paddocks, where she was the proud exhibitor of her handsome string of two year olds, to a score of friends. This is Mrs. Livingston's first appearance at Blue Bonnets.

Prominent Guests.

Among the new arrivals at the club house were several well known Canadian and American horse enthusiasts who got their first view of Blue Bonnets. A party of about ten came up from New York, and a half dozen Chicago men were shown about the grounds by the club members. Of those who hail from more distant places, was seen Col. Weston Jarvis, personal friend of His Excellency Earl Grey, who came to Canada from England as the guest of the Governor-General. Since the departure of Earl Grey for England, Col. Jarvis has been at the mercy of his scores of other admirers and acquaintances in different Canadian cities, and he was in constant attendance upon the races at Woodbine last week. Col. Jarvis was much interested in the races, and was most of the time in the centre of an equally enthusiastic throng.

The intimacy of Col. Jarvis with Earl Grey dates back from their boyhood. He was his Excellency's fag during their school days in England, and during their early manhood they kept up their warm friendship. In the South African campaign Col. Jarvis served with His Excellency, and made himself notable by his service.

OTHER NOTABLES.

Another greatly interested member of the group on the Club veranda was Major Hetherington, vice-president of the Quebec Turf Club. He arrived Sunday night and will possibly remain during the meet. Dr. and Mrs. Webster, familiar figures at Canadian meets were down from Toronto, and their opinions were eagerly sought after. S. S. Skead, of Ottawa, Capt Newton, associated with His Excellency, and W. A. Thayer, author of Thoroughbreds and well known throughout Canada as a novelist and horselover, were others who were entertained at the Club House during the afternoon. Mr. James Ross, president of the Dominion Coal Company, Mr. Hugh Payton and Mr. Ramsay, well known in Montreal Clubdom were also on the grounds.

Seated in a box on the grand stand during the racing, as interested and as well posted a spectator as any of the four thousand, was Mr Charles Reid, former owner of Fairview and one of the veterans of the racing and breeding game in North America. It was this same Mr. Reid, who, with one bid, broke up the auction of the famous stallion St. Blaze, about twenty years ago. He offered $100,000 and stopped all would be competitors.

Capt. Reid is an old man now, over eighty. He looked well, however, and one would take him for one well under seventy. He took a lively interest in what was going on about him, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the meeting, as much as he had seen of it. "I have seen a lot of them in my day," said Mr. Reid, "and a good number in Montreal. I enjoy coming here, for I can look forward to fun and usually get it. The racing to-day is high class."

ONLY ONE FAVORITE BEATEN YESTERDAY

Tasley Won — She Pleased—Bob R. the Good Thing was Beaten—Story of Races.

Tasley, 6 to 5, favorite, won.
Compton, 1 to 2, favorite, won.
Bobbie Keen, 3 to 5, favorite, won.
Dalhousie, 2 to 1, second choice, won.
Centre Shot, even, favorite, won.

With ideal weather, the card of six racers, run off on the second day of the spring meeting of the Montreal Jockey Club, was productive of first class racing. The opening event brought out the best field of sprinters at the track and the six furlongs was run in fast time. The feature event of the afternoon was the race for hunters with gentlemen riders up. In this event Bobbie Keen went to the post the first choice on his last race at Toronto, while there was a heavy play in the ring on the local owned horse Stalker. The attendance was larger than on the opening day, this was due to the finer weather, and then the card was a much more attractive one as there were many new horses at the track from Toronto. The fields were larger which also created a greater interest in the racing. There was the usual steeplechase, which had Economy as the favorite, with the others ranging many points above him in the betting. There were many more outsiders at the course. Mr. William Hendrie and Mr. Francis Nelson, of Toronto, who are to act as stewards at this meting, were in the stand for the first time, they arriving from Toronto in the morning. W. A. Fraser, the author of thoroughbreds, was also a visitor at the track.

It was truly a favorite's day as five out of the six won handily. The card, although it did not see big fields, go to the post, was one of the best that has ever been run off over the Blue Bonnets course. The layers of odds got an awful drubbing starting at the first race and going down the card.

EASILY FOR TASLEY.

The opening event was won by the first choice, Tasley, from the Clyde stable. There was a field of nine went to the post in this event, which was the largest field of the meeting. The start was first class, all going away in a bunch. Colored Lady and Chilla were the first to get the call, they stepping the first sixteenth together. Chilla soon pulled away from the others and set the pace for the greater part of the trip around the track. Goldstein, who had the mount on the favorite, saved all the ground he could making the turns and never went after the leaders until the stretch was reached. As the lot straightened away he gave the mare her head and sent her to the front, winning by a length. Chilla under a hard drive stalled off Pinte, who showed a wonderful burst of speed in the last eighth of a mile. There was a heavy play on the winner, while Chilla was supported as well for the place. The first three horses were lengths in front of the others in this event.

COMPTON IN A GALLOP.

The second race, which was for two year olds, was nothing more than a walk over for the favorite Compton, who went to the post at odds on. Even the price of one or two was a liberal price against his chances. Wild Fire, who won so handily on Saturday, was outfooted all the way, never being a contender even in the early stages. When Starter Dade let the field away Compton was rushed to the front by Goldstein, he making every post a winning one. He opened up a gap of ten lengths in the first furlong and never let those behind him get nearer. McCarthy on Amyl was at the whip, all the way, but could not get within even a challenging distance of the fleet footed winner. Rounder was just as easily third. This race was run close to the record of the track.

The Feature Event.

The third race which was the feature event of the card was for hunters with gentlemen riders up. In this event Bobbie Keen went to the post the odds-on first choice with support from nearly every one at the track from across the line. The local public going down to a man of the local owned horse Stalker on his race at the Toronto meeting when it was thought that he was short. The start was in front of the stand and there was some delay, which is always looked for when Bobbie Keen goes to the post. Mr. Holland, who had the mount on him got him off well with the rest and making the first turn took a hold on him. Thomond and Sweetner then raced head and head with him for the greater part of the journey. When the turn was made into the stretch, Mr. Holland let out a wrap and Bobbie Keen soon pulled away from the rest, winning pulled up by half a dozen lengths. Thomond was as easily second, while it was a drive between Stalker and Elmhurst for third, Stalker landing the long end of the purse.

In the fourth race it was a head finish between Dalhousie and Chief Kee. In this event Dalhousie opened as first choice, but owing to a heavy play on the colt, Bob R., he went back to two to one, while Bob R. went to the barrier at six to five. The break was a first-class one and Goldstein went away first with Dalhousie. Daisy Garth close on his flanks. As the field went the first furlong, Daisy Garth took up the running and set the pace to the turn into the stretch. Bob R. was never a contender at any stage of the race, Chief Kee coming with a rush at the end made Dalhousie and Daisy Garth drive the whole length of the stretch run. Goldstein was working hard on the winner and lifted him over the wire by a head. Chief Kee was the next best, outgaming Daisy Garth in the last few strides.

It Was All Economy.

The fifth race was through the field and as predicted all Economy had to do was to stand up to win from this field he was entered in. There were only four starters in this event as Dr. Koch was withdrawn, he having contracted the coughing that is so prevalent among the horses at the Woodbine and even at Blue Bonnets. From the start Economy went to the front and made his own running all the way. Jim McGill showed a lot of early speed but when it came to the last turn of the field he tired badly and could not get in the money. Dacra and Wild Refrain fought it out all the last furlong for the place, Wild Refrain winning it by a head. Dacra ran an improved race and should gather at this meeting.

It was all Centre Shot in the last race. This mare outbroke her field and won as she pleased, after making her own pace all the early part. There was a heavy play on this winner, while Ontario also came in for his share of the support. It was a drive up the stretch between Ontario and Dareington for the place, the latter outgaining the former and in the last few strides.

VALUABLE HORSE BREAKS HIS NECK

Mr. Bartlett MacLennan's "Spy" Killed at Track This Morning.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Blue Bonnets, June 8.—The chestnut gelding, Spy, owned by Mr. Bartlett MacLennan, who is one of the stewards at this meeting, was killed at the track this morning. This horse is a green jumper and was being schooled through the field by a stable boy when he came to grief at one of the jumps. The horse was sent the first turn of the field without a mis-step, but on the second turn he had a bad hobble and went down, breaking his neck. The boy, who had the mount, luckily escaped injuries. He was badly stunned for a time, but on examination it was found that no bones were broken. This horse was a valuable one, as a good price was paid for him.

CHILD'S DREADFUL SKIN TROUBLES

Had Sixty Boils when but Six Months Old—Was Annually Attacked by a Humor—It Looked Red Like a Scald and Spread Over Half Her Head—Both Troubles are Cured.

NO PRAISE TOO HIGH FOR THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"When my little Vivian was about six months old, her papa had a boil on his forehead. At that time the child was covered with prickly heat and I suppose in scratching it, her own head became infected for it broke out in boils, one after another. She had about sixty in all and I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which cured her of them entirely. Then, sometime later, her little foot got sore between the toes. Being afraid it was salt rheum, I spoke to our doctor. He gave me a powder which dried it up, but soon after it broke out behind her ears. They cracked half way around and the humor spread up on to her head until, on several occasions, it was nearly half covered. The humor looked like a scald, very red with a sticky, clear fluid coming from it. This occurred every year. I think it was toward the spring. I always bathed it with warm water and Cuticura Soap and applied Cuticura Ointment which never failed to heal it up. The last time it broke out was when she was six years old. It became so bad that I was discouraged. Then I procured a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent which soon cleared it out of her blood. I continued the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment with the Resolvent until she was perfectly well. She is now about eight years old and has never been troubled in the last two years. We also find Cuticura Resolvent a good spring medicine and we are just giving the children Cuticura Resolvent Pills as a tonic. We do not think any one can praise Cuticura Remedies too highly." Mrs. M. A. Schwerin, 674 Spring Wells Ave., Detroit, Mich. Feb. 24, 1908."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment to Heal the Skin and Cuticura Resolvent (or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, in vials of 60) to Purify the Blood. # PRESS DELEGATES GUESTS OF THEIR ROYAL HIGHNESSES

Many Interesting Social Functions Were Held Yesterday

By Special Cable From Our Own Correspondent.

London, June 8.—One of the most interesting features of the press gathering is the series of private dinners to meet eminent Englishmen. Last night Lord Derby, as the son of a Canadian ex-Governor, gave a banquet in honor of the bachelor delegates at Derby House. Mr. Austen Chamberlain entertained a party to meet Sir Hugh Graham and Lady Graham. Lady St. Helier entertained Mr. and Mrs. D'Hellencourt, of Quebec. Mr. Kennedy Jones, of the Daily Mail entertained Mr. MacDonald, of Toronto, and Mr. Nicholas, of Winnipeg, and so on.

The most interesting personal incident at yesterday's sitting of the conference was the long continued cheering when Mr. Austen Chamberlain during his speech incidentally spoke of "my father," a tribute from Canadian journalists, by which I am told Chamberlain pere was much touched when it was related to him at Birmingham by wire.

H.R.H The Prince of Wales, who entertained the Press delegates.

At noon yesterday the delegates proceeded to the House of Commons, where the Speaker of the House, Mr. Lowther, presided at a luncheon of literary and journalistic members of the Lords and Commons, including Lords Morley, Rosebery and Milner.

The afternoon was occupied by the Prince and Princess of Wales' garden party at Marlborough House.

Among all the entertainments set out for distinguished visitors to England, two are unique—the Mansion House banquet, and the House of Commons luncheon. The delegates to the Imperial Press Conference enjoy both of these distinguished honors, but being politicians every man of them, they may be excused if they find even the Lord Mayor's princely hospitality pale in interest before the gathering of parliamentary, literary and journalistic men over whom the First Commoner of England presides to-day.

SPEAKER OF THE COMMONS.

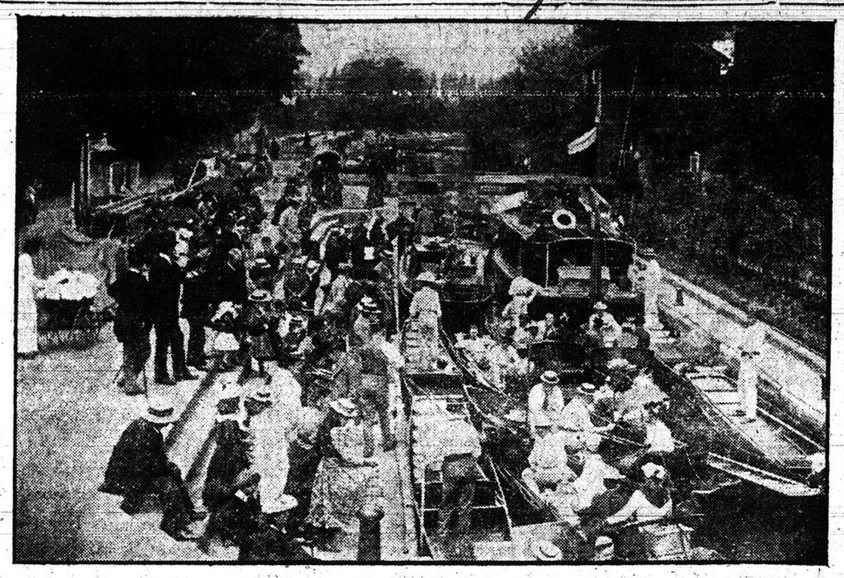
The Right Hon. James William Lowther, Speaker, comes of the Lowthers of Westmoreland, who can trace their direct descent back through not a few generations. He himself has crowded many eventful doings into the 54 years since his birth. At Eton and Cambridge he won high honors. Entering parliament as a sort of family heritage he walked in the quieter paths of politics until 17 years ago, when Lord Salisbury picked him out to become Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs. So happily did he then show that combination of dignity and wit which is especially sought after in the highest parliamentary places that when Mr. Gully, now Viscount Selby, retired from the Speakership in 1905 there was no man eligible for the vacancy to compare with Mr. Lowther. A Conservative to the bone, he was nevertheless retained in the Speakership when Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman and Mr. Asquith came to power in 1906 upon the great Radical-Socialistic wave, and what higher tribute to his impartiality could you wish than that.



IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE—Boulter's Lock, a beautiful spot on the Thames, close by Lord Desborough's residence, Taplow Court, where the delegates visited Sunday.

Indeed it is from the bitterest of Radicals to-day that you will hear the highest encomiums passed upon Mr. Lowther's qualities in the Chair and arrayed in flowing robes, full-bottomed wig, knee breeches and silk stockings he exactly looks the part.

Only those who have sat through question time in the House can appreciate the calls made upon the temper and character of the Speaker. Two or three of the most recent instances of his success in handling difficult situations may be quoted. The other day that irrepressible Nationalist, Mr. Swift MacNeil, bubbling with rage about some minor injustice to Ireland, snapped out a sharp retort to Mr. Birrell, the Chief Secretary. Instantly the Speaker was on his feet. "The hon. member," he said gravely, "must put his interruption in the form of an interrogation." The House roared with laughter, and the Irishman enjoyed the reproof as much as anyone.

Even more recently an indignant Ministerialist was annoyed by the curt way in which a Minister refused to answer his point. "Is it not a fact," he demanded, "that a private member has a right to ask any question of Ministers" "Certainly," replied the Speaker, in his full, rich voice. "Hon. members have the right to ask any question" — members cheered — "but that does not necessarily mean that Ministers are compelled to answer them."

He knows too how to rebuke with dignity. Only the other day in the heat of debate a Unionist member told a Ministerialist whose features and name suggest Teutonic origin that he had better go back to Germany. The Speaker's reply was crushing. "I cannot rule," he said, "that the remark of the hon. gentleman is unparliamentary, but it is certainly most offensive." And of course it was immediately withdrawn. By manner and tone no less than by word he knows how to convey reproof, and tumultuous, though the elements have often been during the present Parliament it has been left for that irresponsible Socialistic schoolboy M.P., Mr. Grayson, to provoke the solitary disobedience to the chair of the present Parliament, and the only "scene" worth a newspaper headline.

MARLBOROUGH HOUSE.

The London home of the Prince and Princess of Wales where yesterday's garden party was held, looks nothing much as it peers above the high walls bordering on Pall Mall and St. James Park. But the alert sentries marching to and fro on the Pall Mall pavement, and the careful watchfulness of the two "men in blue" at the great gates assure you that here is something beyond the usual even for this land of mansions. The homely touch comes when you see a group of little Princes shepherd by their sister Princess peering over the high wall to catch glimpses of soldiers on the march, or perhaps "grandpa and grandma" on their kingly and queenly way down the processional walk from Buckingham Palace to the Houses of Parliament. For them there is always a wave of the hand and a thrown kiss.

The house is the creation of Wren, the architect of St. Paul's Cathedral; it was once the home of the great fighting Duke of Marlborough of Blenheim fame, and owes much to the taste of the present King who lived here for some 40 years as Prince of Wales. The garden is on the St James's Park side, and is a pleasant retreat from the noise of Pall Mall, while no one knows better than the Princess how to make her guests feel welcome and at home. She is well spoken of as the most English of Princesses. She would herself wish nothing better than to be as popular as was her mother, the Princess Mary.

MARLBOROUGH HOUSE—Residence of the Prince and Princess of Wales, where the Press delegates were entertained.

MR. AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN.

As the son of his father, if for no other reason, Mr. Austen Chamberlain must take a prominent part in any British national occasion. His build, his coloring, his nose, his profile, his carefully-poised single eye-glass; and his occasional orchid—all recall the great statesman, who did not, it is true, "discover the Empire," but certainly did give it a new consciousness. Yet Mr. Austen Chamberlain is no mere shadow of his father. It is twelve years since he began an official career as Civil Lord of the Admiralty, and he has been in succession Financial Secretary to the Treasury, Postmaster-General and Chancellor of the Exchequer. He is 46 years of age, and the proud father of a little "Joe" Chamberlain. He is hungry for power and opportunity, and means to be the Chancellor of the Exchequer to pass through the next Unionist Parliament a Tariff Reform and Preference Budget. Whether he will realize his ambition, who can say? Mr. Balfour may think it easiest to settle rival claims by taking the post himself. For the moment however, Mr. Austen Chamberlain shares with the Canadian-born Mr. Bonar Law the heat and burden of the Tariff Reform campaign in the House of Commons. He is a clear thinker, a bold aggressive politician, and withal genial and well-informed; and if the deliberations of the Imperial Press Conference were intended to be more than a polite interchange of views he would greatly add to its deliberative power.

Shooting Affray Near Deseronto.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Deseronto, Ont., June 8.—I. W. Green, an Indian from the Mohawk reservation, about a mile from town, is confined in the local jail here awaiting trial on a charge of shooting with intent to do bodily harm. This is the outcome of a shooting affray which occurred Sunday morning.

It is reported that H. Fish, a young man from Belleville, drove out to see Green's step-daughter. Fish was about to put his horse in the barn when he was shot.

Green will be given a hearing on June 12.

EARL GREY SCORED FOR ATTENDANCE AT HORSE RACES

Dr. Chown Speaks on Betting Before Montreal Conference

Special to The Montreal Star.

Pembroke, June 8. — Rev. Dr. Chown, Toronto, secretary of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist Church, addressed the Montreal Methodist Conference yesterday afternoon. The Governor-General was scored for patronizing the Woodbine races, and Dr. Chown stated that next year a measure to prohibit betting would be introduced in the House of Commons.

Dr. Chown expressed regret that the Dominion Cabinet could not be aroused to the point of moral enthusiasm to make notorious and flagrant adultery a crime, and that the penalty for securing women for immoral purposes was only five years' imprisonment in the extreme, less than for burning a house or other offences to property. The need of a home for the care of feeble-minded women, the desirability of taking care of inebriates, and literally boiling the taste for liquor out of them, the urgency of a probation system for criminal offenders, and the need of education for the young people as to what they should know of life were among the other matters touched on. The Whitney Government was praised for its attitude on the cancelling of liquor licenses, and even better things were hoped for.

Dr. Chown's attack on Earl Grey came early in his speech.

"It is strange," he said, "that an institution which attracts the very scum of the blacklegs of the United States to Canada should be countenanced by the Governor-General of Canada." He said he had been inclined to make an appeal to His Majesty the King, but had learned that the Archbishop of Canterbury had failed in an effort to have His Majesty withdraw the King's plate from the British races for the same reason. It would have been impossible to have carried an anti-betting measure through the House last session owing to the social prestige given the races and for other influences, and so the bill was not introduced. Next session, however, if the bill was not introduced by the Government, it would be by a private member, who has already given assurance that he would introduce it.

The department had also failed to get a law penalizing adultery. The business of making money from it was punishable, but the department had not been able to work up enough moral enthusiasm in the Cabinet to prohibit even the most notorious and flagrant adultery. Some success had, however, been attained in increasing the penalty for procuring women for immoral purposes. The penalty for the white slave traffic had been raised from two years to five years.

Rev. W. S. Lennon asked what had been done regarding the ministers in the Province of Quebec who were excluded from voting. In Shawville, Mr. Lennon said, the ministers had been prevented from voting in a local option campaign and in the last municipal elections, on the ground that they lived in houses which did not pay taxes directly or indirectly. Dr. Chown said he had written the Quebec Government in the matter, but had received no satisfactory answer.

The public meeting in the evening was devoted to temperance and moral reform. The report of the temperance and moral reform committee was presented, and was in part as follows:

"We find the greatest satisfaction in the action of the Minister of Militia in forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquors in and about our military camps, and in making the commanding officers responsible for such prohibition. In the Province of Ontario we are pleased to note the Government's action in the faithful enforcement of the license laws, and especially affecting territory where local option is in force.

"The attitude recently taken by the Roman Catholic Church has been a powerful accession of strength. The Roman Catholic Total Abstinence Union has officially affiliated with the Dominion Alliance, and is working in perfect unison with that organization.

"We would recommend that the Legislatures of Ontario and Quebec be urged to enact such amendments to the license laws, that, first, in municipalities where no license is granted, where local option by-laws are in force, that provision be made that all intoxicated persons found in public places be compelled to declare where they procured the liquor; that, second, in Quebec no new license shall be granted in a municipality unless the application is signed by a majority of the electors; that, third, we memorialize the Ontario and Quebec Legislatures so to amend the license acts that the privileges of club licenses shall be subject to the same restrictions as to hour and conditions of sale as other licenses."

The report gave rise to a warm discussion, which will be resumed to-day.

MANY WERE WOUNDED.

Lightning Struck Powder Magazine Causing Explosion.

London, June 8.—A despatch received here from Cracow, in Austrian Poland, says that 500 persons were wounded by the explosion of an army powder magazine there on Saturday night. Three soldiers were killed, 40 houses were wrecked and hundreds of other houses damaged, and many of the wounded are seriously hurt. The magazine, which was situated near the railroad station, was struck by lightning and exploded. Several thousand pounds of powder went off, and 1500 projectiles were scattered among a big crowd of people who had assembled at the station awaiting a train. A local hospitals are crowded with the wounded.

Church Union Will be Discussed at Toronto Conference.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., June 8.—The Congregational Union, the governing body of the Congregational Church in Canada, convenes in annual session to-morrow, and will continue till Monday. A debate on Church Union is expected to be an interesting feature, and there will be a series of public meetings held in connection with the convention. Rev. Hugh Pedley, of Emmanuel Church, Montreal, is chairman of the Union.

FOUR TREED BY BULL.

Peterboro Men Kept Among Branches for Three Hours.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Peterboro, Ont., June 8.—Four Peterborough men were kept in trees for three hours by an infuriated bull on the banks of the Otonabee River on Saturday evening. They were preparing to go in bathing, when the bull appeared and they sought refuge in some trees. The animal made shreds of some clothing left on the ground, and remained on guard for over three hours.

Manace to Navigation.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Detroit, Mich., June 8.—A notice has been issued by the United States hydrographic office to the effect that the wrecked steamer Iron Age, which was burned and sank off Bar Point, in Lake Erie, last Friday night, is considered a menace to navigation. Three white lights have been placed to mark the wreck.

North Waterloo By-Election.

FOREIGN COMMENT ON CANADA'S NEW NAVAL POLICY

New York Times Thinks Present Zeal is Misdirected

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 8.—Commenting on Canada's naval plans, the Times says editorially:

"Canada's new naval policy is scarcely intelligible. Eight cruisers and a score of torpedo boats would hardly guarantee to her immunity from attack. Like New Zealand and Australia she appears to be fired with the desire to make Englishmen more comfortable in their homes by augmenting the total of imperial naval strength. It had been proposed that she make a "cash contribution to the Royal Navy" and let the mother country do the fighting. This was rejected by the proud Canadians. But certainly that would have been the more logical procedure. If Canada is attacked, England would necessarily have to hurry warships across the Atlantic to aid the rather feeble fleet of the Dominion. Ships built with the money of the Canadians would have been available for that purpose, and also available for the defence of England herself, which can hardly be said of Canada's cruisers and torpedo boats.

"We do not know that Canada has an enemy in the world. We cannot imagine any source from which she need fear attack. We certainly hope that she does not believe that we have any evil designs against her. Contrariwise, we have not the least idea that Canada considers it to be within the range of possibility that her new fleet should be directed against our coast. At any rate, instead of building new warships and torpedo boats to counterbalance the force to be created in the North, we might easily come to a firm understanding with England, or we might add new provisions to our existing understanding, that would make it unnecessary for us to take any measures whatever of defence against Canada's navy or England's navy."

The Boston Herald says: "Canadian imperialism, although loyal enough, is tempered with an increasing nationalism. The Canadians will contribute to the naval strength of the Empire, but they must be permitted to do it with a view to serving national ends. The Canadian navy, as proposed, is for coast defence. A considerable part of it must be built in Canadian shipyards by Canadian labor. It must be manned by Canadian sailor-men. So, also, the Montreal Board of Trade recently has rejected a resolution favoring free trade within the Imperial union, and has substituted for it a resolution supporting a general policy of preference, but on a reciprocal basis. But Canada is not less loyal to the Empire nor less valuable as an essential link in the Imperial chain because she is determined to be self-reliant."

Mr. E. L. Macwithey of the well known New York Banking and Brokerage House of J. K. Rice, jr., & Co., of 33 Wall Street, New York, is visiting Montreal with a view of putting himself in touch with the financial interests in this locality.

HAWLEY RAILWAYS WILL NOW STRETCH ACROSS CONTINENT

Negotiations Almost Completed for New Transcontinental

Special to the Montreal Star.

New York, June 8.—Edwin Hawley, in the development of a railroad system which is already important, has made arrangements for a Pacific outlet through the partly-built Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railway. With this traffic relationship, which may become closer, it will only be necessary for the Hawley interests to connect Cincinnati with Chicago in order to route traffic from coast to coast.

It has already been announced that this will be done, probably through the purchase of the Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad.

Last week the officers of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, and Chicago & Alton, made a joint traffic arrangement under which trains will be run from the Pacific terminus of the Orient road to Chicago.

The Hawley interests are now represented on the Orient board by two men.

Indirectly, the new agreement will extend to the other Hawley lines the Clover Leaf, Minneapolis and St. Louis, Iowa Central, and Chesapeake & Ohio.

TERRIBLE DAMAGE FROM FOREST FIRES

Maine, New Brunswick and Quebec Woods Endangered by Fire Demon.

Presque Isle, Maine, June 8.—The fire which ravaged this town last night, was extinguished about midnight. There were 125 buildings destroyed with an estimated loss of $250,000.

The town with its population of 4,000 people awoke to-day to a situation as trying as could be presented to one of its size.

Like other prosperous towns in Aroostook County, the citizens were fairly well protected by insurance, and there is said to be no question but what the destroyed buildings will be replaced speedily. Although there were several accidents of a minor nature and a number of men were exhausted from the work of fighting the fire, no one was fatally hurt. The ruined area covers about half a square mile.

Between 500 and 1,000 people are homeless. The woods into which the fire spread were still burning this morning, but little further damage has been done.

Fires at St. Romuald.

Quebec, Que., June 8.—Since yesterday morning forest fires have been raging in the vicinity of St. Romuald, over a considerable extent of lumber land. The principal sufferers from the devastation are Messrs. Bilodeau, Lambert, F. Demers, and P. Cantin, on whose property the fire is at present raging.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Fredericton, N.B., June 8.—The fire which has been sweeping the central portion of New Brunswick is still burning, but is at last fairly well under control. No further damage of any consequence has been reported thus far to-day, and it is expected that the fire will be extinguished by to-morrow.

Construction Camp Destroyed.

Western Associated Press.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Messrs. Sherwood and Russel's construction camp on the National Transcontinental, has been destroyed by fire which spread from a bush fire raging in the vicinity. The loss is several thousands of dollars. Bush fires have been doing much damage, recently, in the district.

PRISONER SAYS HE FORGED NAME OF SIR JOHN HANBURY-WILLIAMS

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. John, N.B., June 8.—John Wilson alias John Burditt, who was fined for drunkenness in the Police Court this morning, declared he was also guilty of forgery to the extent of $110 on the Union Bag and Paper Company of Three Rivers, Que. He is thirty-eight years of age and came to Canada four and a half years ago. He said he had also forged the name of Sir John Hanbury-Williams and claimed to be a relative of the Colonel. He was remanded pending enquiry.

Banquet to Dr. Pelletier.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Sherbrooke, Que., June 8.—The banquet which will be tendered to Hon. Dr. Pelletier, Speaker of the Legislative Assembly, will be held on June 17th, in St. Jean Baptiste's Hall. It will be a social and not a political affair as both Liberals and Conservatives have been invited.

HOW RULES FOR CLOTHING TENDERS WERE LAID ASIDE

Was Made Easier for Police Contractors to Get Their Own

The Royal Commission this morning did not furnish any very sensational evidence, but many facts in regard to the buying of uniforms for the police, were elicited.

It was shown that, for some reason, a system of forcing tenderers to supply as good cloth as a standard sample in the quartermaster's office, had been quietly discontinued, without striking out the resolution creating it. A new system had taken its place, individual tailors tendering and submitting their own samples. It was also proved that some of the tenderers had submitted several different pieces of stuff, together with several different tenders. If the highest of these tenders was not low enough, the tenderer could thus fall back on his lower tender to secure the contract.

At the opening of the Royal Commission this morning, Mr. Victor Gaudet read a written motion regarding the different documents which he wished to have produced concerning the different departments, and the witnesses that he wished to have called for such production. As there was no objection the motion was granted.

Mr. Laflamme then made a suggestion that the magistrates, Judge Choquet, and Recorders Weir and Dupuis should be called before the Commission, in order that they might make suggestions in regard to the Police Department.

Mr. Justice Cannon thought that the suggestion was a good one and said that these three magistrates should be called to-morrow.

It was then asked how long the investigations into the Finance Committee would take, and Mr. Rodier answered, that there were five charges, which he was about to bring, and that each of them would take him about one day.

Ald. L. A. Lapointe then rose and complained that the Finance Committee had never received any notice of these charges, and that such insinuations should not be made without a notification of some kind.

Mr. Justice Cannon showed him that the Royal Commission was perfectly open, everything that happens in its sittings being considered as public property.

Alderman Lapointe then demanded that an expert accountant should be named, on behalf of the Finance Committee, for it was well known that Mr. Rodier, the attorney of the accusers, already had one. The Commissioner admitted that such an appointment was necessary.

THE POLICE CLOTHING.

The first witness called was Chief Campeau. Mr. Laflamme examined him in regard to the clothing of the constables.

There were 456 constables and 73 officers in January, 1909. The only difference in the officers' clothes in summer and winter was the overcoat and the tunic, which were both renewed every two years; blouses were renewed every year, and trousers twice a year. The constables also had practically the same clothes renewed in the same way.

The allowance of collars to the constables is four a year, and of gloves two pairs a year. If the constables kept their clothes in good condition, instead of giving them a new suit of police clothes, they are allowed to order a suit of civilian clothes at the expense of the department. $20,000 or $25,000 or perhaps more is spent every year in policemen's clothes, shoes and hats, and thus in the buying of them great care is needed. Samples of the cloths are sent to the Quartermaster, and the official tailors, Tisdale and Tourangeau, decide on the quality of the cloth. These men are now constables, and the Chief did not know whether they had ever been tailors. They, nevertheless, make a report on the cloth after they have examined it. Thus there is no fixed quality of cloth in the Police Department, and the question of clothing the men is an exceedingly difficult one. Each tailor is asked in a public notice to tender and send a sample of at least half a yard to the Quartermaster.

Chief Campeau said that since he was in his position there had never been a standard sample, thus forcing the city to make a new decision each time police garments were bought. In 1903, however, it was proved that there was a standard sample, but Chief Campeau did not know into whose hands the sample had been, nor where, nor why the system of having such as ample had been discontinued.

That Sample Cloth.

The Chief insisted that a sample had never existed for tunics, but Mr. Laflamme showed him a notice stating that there was such a standard sample, and the Chief answered that he knew nothing about it, and did not believe that it existed.

"Then, under the old system, all a tenderer had to do was to go and see the sample in the Quartermaster's office?"

Chief Campeau, however, would not admit that he knew of any such sample, except in regard to trousers and boots. At the present time the Chief admitted, the tailors could tender and submit any sort of cloth they wanted. This new system was introduced because the old trousers were not giving satisfaction.

"Then why did you not change your standard sample?"

"I don't know."

Under cross-questioning by Mr. Desaulniers, the Chief stated that he considered the system of having a standard sample was the better, and that the tenderers would have a fairer chance of getting justice. The Chief, however, had never suggested such an idea to the department.

Quartermaster Holland.

Quartermaster Holland was then called regarding the same matter. He swore that there was a standard uniform, but no sample.

"What have you in your office?"

"Well, when a tenderer comes along I show him a uniform, and in that way he knows how to make it, but I have no sample of cloth."

The Quartermaster's opinion was that the stuff ought to be bought directly from the mills, in order to increase competition. He said, however, that this would not likely be any improvement, but would at least give every tenderer an equal chance.

"Then everyone hasn't got an equal chance?"

"Well, every man hasn't got time to send in his sample."

The quartermaster said that a tailor could send in as many samples as he wanted, one of greatest price and so on down, so that if he missed on the highest priced sample, he could come in on his lower tenders, and would thus have several chances. He did not believe this was exactly square, but had never made any suggestion to the police committee. He swore that everything was done that was possible, once the garments were made, to protect the city against deception.

MORE ABOUT THE SAMPLE

Mr. John Barry was then called. He swore that in a way the system of having a standard sample had been suggested by Mr. Ames, and that when Mr. Ames left the system was changed, and now each tailor can submit his own samples. He also swore that Mr. Ames's resolution to this effect had never been amended, nor struck out, and that, therefore, the city must be at present violating its own resolution. He thought that the city was better off under the "Ames system" because the city could know that it was getting as good as sample, and that the tailors were also better off, because they were put on a footing of equality.

DESTITUTE PEOPLE FROM OLD WORLD BESIEGE MAYOR

Mayor Payette used some very plain language to-day when speaking of the bringing of large numbers of immigrants in a destitute condition into the city.

"Since the opening of navigation," said His Worship, "scarcely a day has elapsed without destitute immigrants having waited on me at the City Hall and prayed me to give them employment. The situation in regard to these people is absolutely serious.

Cruel Promises Made.

"From stories they tell me it appears that immigration agents in foreign cities have assured these people that they will get employment the moment they land in our city. Such promises are absolutely cruel. The fact is that so far as the corporation is concerned, it can give destitute foreigners no employment whatever. In the hope of getting a few positions for the most painful cases, I have consulted with the heads of the Water, Roads, Fire and other departments; but I have found there are practically no vacancies whatever.

"There is no civic fund whereby I can give money to the destitute; the best I can do is to give them a little out of my own pocket. This, of course, in no way solves the problem as to what the city can do with the many hundreds that are now stranded here.

Action Called For.

"I claim that the Dominion Government should take steps so that immigration agents will not be permitted to send persons who are destitute to our shores. The law ought to be strictly enforced that an immigrant shall have a certain amount before he leaves his native shores. Unless this is done there is nothing but starvation awaiting the foreigner when he reaches his destination in a strange country.

"I may say that I have tried to get many of the unemployed in various homes in the city; but I generally fail. It is pointed out by these places that they are founded on the principle of caring for the infirm, and not for men, women and children who are able to work. This shows how helpless I am to do anything practical. It is really pitiful to see fine strong men come before me and beg in the most abject manner for work. It seems to me that the whole system of our immigration is wrong; and prompt steps should be taken to put it right."

W. R CLOUDS HANG OVER EUROPE, AND WAR IS IMMINENT

New York, June 8.—Mr. W. T. Stead cables to The American from London as follows:

Alarming rumors are current as to new trouble in the Near East. Servia, which can ill afford to spend a red cent, is spending $12,500,000 upon armaments. In Belgrade it is believed that when Francis Joseph dies the new Emperor will on his accession develop an active, aggressive policy and dash southward to Salonica. Germany, it is said, will support Austria in exchange for concession of right of way to Trieste.

Italy, also uneasy, proposes to add $5,000,000 per annum for the next six years to her shipbuilding programme.

Pan-Slavonic movement reviving. Dread of this may precipitate Austrian action before Russia recuperates.

Much anxiety about Turkish situation.

Europe, in fact, is in a condition of unstable equilibrium. If war once breaks out it may involve the whole Continent.

On the other hand, there are a few bright spots—vigorous, systematic endeavor to promote better feeling between Germans and British by international visits.

But the people who make war are not those who enjoy these picnics. A curious paradox is that, while there is no clash of interests between Germany and England, each feels that the other may be unable to resist the temptation to seize a favorable opportunity, if it arose, to secure his own safety by knifing his menacing neighbor.

Another bright spot is the settlement of the Casablanca incident by The Hague court. Nothing seems more obvious than the judgment of the tribunal; but before the case could be got before the court nearly every Power in Europe had to look war in the eyes.

SALVATION ARMY TAKES WESTMOUNT HOME TO COURTS

The Salvation Army may yet be able to conduct their Maternity Hospital in Westmount in spite of the action of the Westmount Council last night in refusing a permit.

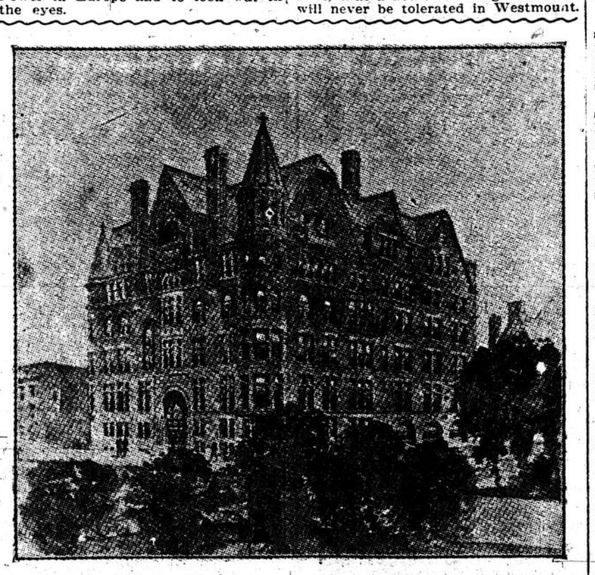
There was much activity at the headquarters of the Salvation Army to-day when a Star reporter called. The Star man was informed by Brigadier Hargrave that the question was far from being settled. The matter, he said, would now be fought out in the courts. The Salvation Army had bought the property in question last March for $13,500.

The officers of the Army believed they had some legal rights in the premises, and they would not bother about any other site until some final decision was reached by the courts. Brigadier Hargrave said he regretted the action of the Westmount Council. The matter, he said, was in the hands of Mr. A. R. McMaster, of the legal firm of Cook, McMaster and Brodie, and the Army would be guided by the advice of their attorney.

Mr. McMaster, interviewed by The Star, said he had not had time to consult his clients as yet, and was not in a position to make a public statement.

Several prominent citizens of Westmount when seen were unanimous in their declarations that the citizens of Westmount would fight to the last ditch.

It was said that the Salvation Army could easily dispose of their property to advantage, and as their work was principally in the slums of Montreal they should establish their proposed maternity hospital in one of the slum districts. You may say, said the speaker, and make it as emphatic as possible, that a home for indigent women will never be tolerated in Westmount.



As the Y.M.C.A., Dominion Square will look when the new annex is added.

CANADIAN PACIFIC MUST BUILD TUNNEL

Railway Commission Orders Iberville Street Crossing Replaced by Subway.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—In the Railway Commission today argument was heard in the application of William Payette and others to compel the Canadian Pacific Railway to construct a tunnel under its line where it crosses Iberville street, according to an agreement with the city. The application was successful and the work was ordered to be done. City Solicitor Archambault said the point at dispute between the city and the company was not as to the necessity of the work but whether it should be 48 or 30 feet in width.

The board ordered that plans for the subway be filed at once and that work be started thirty days after approval and be finished within six months, the width and other details will be left to the Chief Engineer of the commission.

Mrs. J. Lodge and family, Candeboye avenue, Westmount, have left to spend the summer at Valois.

MARK II. ROSS RIFLE BARRED FROM BISLEY

But Will Have Little Effect on Canadian Team This Year.

London, June 8.—Having been officially informed that Mark 2, two stars, Ross rifle, weight 9 lbs. 8 ozs., has been issued on trial only, the Council of the National Rifle Association has decided it cannot be used as a service rifle at Bisley this year.

Mr. Merrill W. Eastcott, of this city, a member of the Bisley team of 1908, says that this order will have little effect upon the Canadian marksmen as very few of them are using the Ross rifle. The old Ross rifle had proven entirely unsatisfactory. There was a Ross rifle Mark 3 which was used with satisfaction at Bisley last year by George Mortimer. This, however, was a special match rifle and had not been issued to the militia. Evidently this is not the rifle which has been barred, but the belief is that the rifle spoken of in the despatch is the old rifle with some slight changes. Lee Enfields will probably be used by most of this year's team.

Mr. Leo. F. Currie, of Halifax, is visiting his brother, Mr. C. H. Currie, Drummond street.

INSPECTOR CHAUSSE GETS HOT SHOT FROM THE ALDERMEN

Takes Stand he has Power to Alter By-laws if he Thinks it is All Right

Building Inspector Chausse came in for it hot and heavy at the meeting of the special committee investigating No. 13 fire station last evening. He was on the stand for thre hours under examination by Architect Godin and Mr. Fitzjames Browne, as to whether the station was in conformity with the by-laws or not

No Permit Issued.

The chief point brought out was that he has not issued a permit for the station and that he considered that he had the power to alter the clauses of the by-law referring to walls if he thought that the alteration was as strong as the clause demanded.

The aldermen waxed very wrath at this. They trusted to their officials to carry out the details and signed the warrants on their statements and it turned out that they had signed warrants for a station which was far from carrying out the plans.

Alderman Lavallee, chairman of the commission, denounced the laxity of the City Council and the aldermen generally, concerning No. 13 station.

"I am disgusted with this sort of work," he said. "We have been deceived by the Police Committee, by our Building Inspector, and by the head of the Department. We took all precautions to see that the by-laws were respected, and they have not been."

Ald. Robinson thereupon stated that he would never have passed the plans for No.13 station unless he had thought that the city building inspector had already passed upon them, as being according to the by-laws of Montreal.

Ald. Carter, as a member of the Police Committee, said, that he, and no doubt the other members of that committee, although seemingly at fault, had passed upon the plans of the station expecting that these would be looked into by the proper authorities

MR. CHAUSSE'S DEFENCE.

Inspector Chausse's defence was that the city building by-laws, while specifying the height and the width of walls, necessary for a building like No. 13 station, nevertheless, gave him power to allow buildings, if he considered them solid and good in their kind.

This occasioned another outbreak on the part of Alderman Lavalle.

"In other terms, Mr. Chausse," said the chairman, "the by-laws do not exist, if at any time you can set them aside?"

Mr. Chausse did not answer.

Mr. Fitzjames Browne made a lengthy examination of Building Inspector Chausse, attempting to show that the plans of the station did not conform to the by-laws, nor the building to the plans.

At the opening of Mr. Fitzjames Browne's examination of Mr. Chausse, it was decided that English should be the language used except when necessity made Mr. Chausse lapse into more familiar tongue.

A TECHNICAL EXAMINATION.

Mr. Browne then immediately commenced an extremely technical examination of the witness, in regard to the quantity and quality of cement used, the wood, the beams, the buttresses, and the size of walls and buildings in general. The witness at times answered satisfactorily, but several times was forced to admit that the No. 13 station building had not been properly built in regard to one or other particular.

CAN ALTER BY-LAWS.

Mr. Browne—"You say in your report that the only thing which does not agree with the building by-laws is the iron cornice?"

"That is my opinion."

"In the building by-laws you will see that the foundation walls of buildings of the second class should be 27 inches thick. If they were not 27 inches thick, would they conform to the by-laws?"

"Yes, they would if I accepted them as strong enough. Clause 12 of the by-laws shows that I have discretion in the matter."

"You claim, then, that you have a right to make a wall other than stated in the by-laws if you consider it of sufficient strength?" "No doubt."

GAVE NO PERMIT.

"Did you pass these plans?" "I did not give any permit."

"Then they went forward and built these walls less than the by-law calls for without your authority?"

"If I had found that the walls were insufficient I would have reported to the committee."

HOT SHOT FOR MR. CHAUSSE.

Alderman Robinson, in a disgusted tone, remarked, "Are the by-laws dead, that the architect can build what he likes?"

Alderman Lavallee immediately became warm upon this point. "It was news to me," he said, "to learn that when we build municipal buildings, our building inspector does not interfere with the plans. I feel very sorry that this should be the state of affairs, and I will insist that the building inspector find out whether the plans are according to the by-laws or not."

ALDERMEN IN A FIX.

He then continued as quoted above. "You see" he remarked, "that we poor aldermen are in a fix. We take all precautions; we ask our officials to certify that a building is complete; and now to-day we are confronted with the idea that the council as a whole was a party to a plan which does not follow the city by-laws at all."

The Commission adjourned at 12.10 until Thursday evening.

ALDERMEN BEGIN TO TALK OF THE MAYORALITY ELECTION.

Although the civic elections are eight months off, there is already considerable talk at the City Hall as to who will be the next mayor of Montreal.

Ald. Yates makes the assertion that he intends to retire from the representation of St. George's Ward, and become a candidate for the mayoralty.

It is also stated that Ald. Gallery thinks he is entitled to become the city's chief magistrate, and that he will contest the honor.

There was some talk to-day about asking Mayor Payette to remain in office for another two years; but it was stated on good authority that His Worship has fully decided to retire from civic life at the close of his term.

Board of Conciliation Named.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—Judge Chipman has been appointed chairman of the Lemieux Board which will deal with the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company's dispute. The other members are Judge McGillivray and Dan McDougall.

DILLON TRIAL AGAIN POSTPONED, SOME ONE BLUNDERED

Another Commission will Probably have to go to Ireland

John Dillon, alias Smith, appeared in court to-day, with the neatly-combed hair, parted down the back, and in his hand was the well-known silk hat. He heard a few words quietly spoken by the judge, a few words from the Crown Prosecutor, fewer words still from his own counsel, Mr. Papineau Mathieu, and he was removed. All he knew was that his trial had been postponed till the September term of the court, and he has probably since learned that here is a peremptory order that he must then be tried.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Mathieu, on the prisoner's behalf, asked for a postponement of the trial till the September term, and put in a letter received from Mr. L. J. Walsh, who had been making enquiries in Ireland on behalf of the accused, showing that he (Walsh) had not expected to conduct the examination of the witnesses, nor was he authorized to do so. He had advertised in the Belfast papers for any person who knew Dillon to write and let him know what they could say about him. Several of them had done so and he sent their letters to Mr. Mathieu. These people had not given their evidence before the Commissioner who went to Ireland, and the testimony had an important bearing on the question as to the prisoner's sanity.

The court took the matter en delibere, and this morning Mr. Justice Cross said that he had examined the letters and affidavits in the case and decided to postpone the trial till the September term, fixing it peremptorily for the second day of the term. Some of the facts referred to in the documents he had examined related to matters of ancient history, occurrences of forty years ago in Ireland, but yet they seemed to have a bearing on this case. When, a day or two ago, he had set aside the evidence taken in Ireland, because the counsel for accused had not been present when that evidence was taken, he (the judge) had declined to grant a request for a new commission, but had left an opening so that in case any new facts were brought to the notice of the court, the prisoner would not be barred from the benefit of putting them in evidence.

After the commission was granted last November said the judge, the petitioner had acted in a way which was little short of contempt of the court. He hoped that there would be no repetition of this conduct.

Crown Prosecutor Hibbard suggested that the trial be fixed for the first day of the September term, instead of the second, as it would thereby ensure precedence. This was agreed to.

Mr. Mathieu asked for a few days' delay before making his application for a new commission to go to Ireland, as he wished to have Mr. R. A. E. Greenshields, his associate counsel in the defence, present, to argue the motion, and he was now absent in Quebec.

The Court reminded him that the petition should name the commissioner desired. He did not wish to have any more delay than possible, but as the case was an important one he did not mind a day or two.

Mr. Greenshields is expected back on Monday, when the application for a new commission to go to Ireland to take evidence as to the prisoner's sanity when in Ireland will be made, and will probably be granted.

This is a pretty expensive piece of business for the people of the Province of Quebec, and the defence claim that they have made no unnecessary delay. They say that they discovered evidence of an important character in Ireland which is very essential should be before the court. As it was not heard when the commission was there, the only thing to do is to arrange for another commission. If the witnesses were resident in Canada it would be a trifling matter to secure them, but as it is the court can only send to Ireland and get their evidence.

They claim, too that it is most essential that counsel for the prisoner should be present when such examination is going on, and that had the commissioner had more complete instructions, and withheld his examination for a day, until Mr. Mathieu could get there, it would not have been necessary to ask the court to strike out the evidence and appoint a new commission.

BEATEN, ROBBED ON BUSY STREET, THUGS GET AWAY.

To be attacked by thugs on a prominent street in the busy part of the evening and to be relieved of one's watch and chain by the most approved yegg method, seems to be going some even for Montreal. But it happened.

On Monday evening, about nine o'clock, Mr. Ernest C. Bray, advertising manager for the Ogilvy Company, was walking up St. Denis street. At the corner of Dorchester street, a man asked for money. He made the request in French. Mr. Bray refused, and before he had time to defend himself was struck on the side of the head. A confederate grabbed Mr. Bray from behind.

The two dragged the helpless Mr. Bray into an alley to go through his clothes at their leisure. His coat and vest were slit open with a knife, and the valuables in his pockets taken. The man holding Mr. Bray, from behind became careless and removed the gag. Mr. Bray then called loudly for help. As he did so he was struck on the jaw with a brass-knuckled hand. The blow knocked him down and the two men ran away.

Mr. Bray gave chase to the fleeing pair. Others joined, but the thugs got clean away.

Mr. Bray then went to police headquarters, left a description of his assailants, and was taken to a physician. Eight stitches were inserted in the cut in his lower lip, and a tooth was missing.

Berthier Holiday House.

The Good Will Club Holiday House at Berthier opens for the season the latter end of June. It is exclusively for girls working in manufactories, shops, etc. $2.50 a week admits a girl to all the privileges of the house. Her fare there and back by rail is $1.80; a little less by boat. Those who cannot afford to pay the full amount are assisted. But a reference is expected from every applicant from some one well known to the officer in charge. Subscriptions to the work may be sent to Miss Howard, 22 Tupper street, who will also receive applications and give any information required.

LADY ABERDEEN TO SPEAK IN BOSTON ON WHITE PLAGUE WAR

Will Leave Wednesday Night to Join Comrades Here

Special to the Montreal Star.

Boston, Mass., June 8.—The Countess of Aberdeen, who has come to interest Boston in her fight against the great white plague, arrived from New York at 10 o'clock last night.

Included in her party were Sir William Thompson, of Aberdeen University, physician to Lord Aberdeen, her private secretary, Miss Delles, and her maid. Lady Aberdeen was met at the station by Dr. Alfred Worcester and his wife, whose guest the Countess will be during her stay in this city, and the party was driven at once to the Worcester home in Waltham.

Lady Aberdeen came to Boston to attend the international meeting at Faneuil Hall, Wednesday night. She will be the chief guest and will address the meeting on the white plague and its suppression in Ireland. The Faneuil Hall meeting will begin at 7.30 to allow Lady Aberdeen to take a special train for Montreal.

Her Excellency, on arriving, said: "My mission to this country in behalf of the afflicted in Ireland has been most successful. I am looking forward to a very pleasant visit in Boston where I have many friends. The Irish people have greatly aided in bringing prosperity to this country, and I am happy to see America so nobly responding to our appeal for aid."

During her stay in Boston, Lady Aberdeen will be entertained lavishly. Mrs. George A. Hibbard, wife of the Mayor, entertained her at breakfast this morning at the Algonquin Club. This afternoon one thousand invited guests met Lady Aberdeen at the Hotel Somerset. To-morrow morning, the Professional Women's Club will give a breakfast in her honor, and in the afternoon there will be a reception at the Tuileries by committees of the Canadian Club, the Victoria Club, the British Charitable Society and the Scots' Charitable Society.

THOUGHT BAG OF GARBAGE WAS MURDERED MAN.

Considerable excitement was created at Windsor street station yesterday when the driver of the Rigaud train notified the police that a bag containing a living human being was lying alongside the track just west of the station.

The driver, a big tender-hearted chap, when approaching Guy street, saw a bag which was well filled and apparently moving, on the track just ahead of him; he immediately applied the brakes and was dumbfounded to see the bag roll off the track and down the embankment. Upon arrival at the station he immediately reported the matter to the police, who discovered that the bag which had caused the driver so much worry contained nothing but garbage, and the movement is accounted for by the suction caused by the rapidly moving train.

To-day the driver is the brunt of considerable joshing, which he is taking good-naturedly.

Two Years Penitentiary.

In the Court of Sessions to-day, Theodore Benard was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary on a charge of housebreaking.

A Welcome Competitor in Insurance Field.

The Permanent Insurance Agency, Limited, which has already been mentioned in these columns, has opened its new offices in the Coristine Building, and is now ready for business. This is in no way an underwriting company, and as to rates will not be bound by tariffs or agreements. The object of the Agency is to act as insurance adviser to the owners of insurable property and generally to look after their interests in the placing of insurance at the lowest possible rates and the settling of losses, etc.

Another feature of this enterprise and which its promoters and directors particularly emphasize is the fact that there will be a continuity, permanency and certainty in its arrangements for carrying on its business by reason of the fact that it is a company with a continuous life and governed by a board of directors that in the nature of things is not so possible when similar business is carried on by private individuals.

The public has a right to expect that their interests will be studied and conserved. This the Permanent Agency claims to be peculiarly constituted to do.

Whilst only transacting a commission business as intermediary between the owner of the property and the insuring company the Permanent Insurance Agency has a subscribed capital of $100,000, and among the stockholders are upwards of thirty of Montreal's most prominent business men with the following well known gentlemen as directors:—

Mr. Charles F. Smith, President.
Mr. H. S. Holt, Vice-President.
Hon. L. J. Forget.
Mr. Edwin Hanson.
Mr. George Caverhill.,
Mr. A. Haig-Sims.
Mr. John McKergow.

The Permanent Insurance Agency claims it has exceptional facilities for the handling of large lines of insurance and expects by close attention to the needs and interests of its clients to build up a large local business as well as a general business throughout the Dominion.

The recent attempt to introduce legislation confining the insurance business of Canada to licensed companies or to companies paying a tax to the Government, the majority of which are operating in a strong association, is still fresh in the minds of the public and a substantial concern such as the Permanent Insurance Agency ready to render impartial service to the owner will, it is believed, be eagerly welcomed by the many business men who have until lately been practically compelled to submit to the rates determined or fixed not independently by each insurance company for its own particular business, but by an association which imposes on the companies the rates they shall charge.

The Agency has engaged as manager John R. Loomis, jr. Mr. Loomis has had 20 years' active experience in the insurance business, during the last twelve of which he has been devoting his energies almost entirely to the many large interests of his firm in Canada. Mr. Loomis comes from Little & Loomis of Glens Falls, N.Y., which is one of the oldest agencies in that State.

ROSEDALE, OUTREMONT,

Is the Ideal Place to Live in During the Four Seasons.

This magnificent property is surrounded by Bernard, Wiseman and Durocher avenues and the Canadian Pacific Railway track.

There are some unfinished dwellings on these building lots, constructed on the most modern lines, which can be bought on very advantageous terms.

During the warm season this is like the real country, with pure mountain air, with spacious grounds around each residence and with the additional enormous advantage of being within 20 minutes' distance of your place of business.

You have for your children a number of Catholic Schools where a sound education is given. The Church of St. Madeleine will be finished in a few months.

Rosedale is, in short, the healthiest, most convenient and most delightful quarter to live in at any season. The trolley service is the same as in town. We have still a large number of lots to sell on very easy terms.

10 p.c. CASH

(the balance payable in ten years).

The councillors of Outremont, being men of progressive ideas, are continually improving their beautiful little locality, which is the garden of the Island of Montreal.

Office open every afternoon, and all day Sunday, at the corner of Park and Van Horne avenues.

PERSONALS.

Miss Fletcher, of Carillon, leaves today for a trip to Winnipeg, Vancouver, Seattle and other Western cities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Stanford are leaving town this week for their summer cottage at Hudson-on-the-Lake.

Sir William and Lady Van Horne, and Miss Van Horne have sailed for home from England, and are expected to arrive on Friday.

Miss Creighton, of Carlisle, England, sister of the Bishop of London, will be the guest of Mrs. Norton, at the Rectory, University street.

Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Ross have returned to town from their wedding trip and taken up their residence at 4178 St. Catherine street, Westmount.

Mrs. Clifford Sifton left Ottawa yesterday for her summer residence on the St. Lawrence, accompanied by her two sons, Mr. Winfield and Mr. Harry Sifton.

Mrs. Charles Reiffenstein, of Montreal, will be the guest of Miss Reiffenstein, in Ottawa, this week.

Mrs. R. R. Macauley will receive for the first time since her marriage on Wednesday afternoon, June 9th, at Cedarleigh, Cedar avenue, Pointe Claire.

Mrs. William Ambrose, of Hamilton, will arrive in town on Thursday and will be the guest of her son, Mr. J. R. Ambrose, 364 Olivier avenue, for June and July.

Mrs. Edwin Gray, of York, England, president of the National Council of Women of Great Britain and Ireland, while in Montreal will be the guest of Mrs. Hamilton Gault, at Rokeby.

Mrs. Charles B. Gordon will entertain the Countess of Aberdeen and delegates of the International Council of Women, at a garden party on Saturday afternoon, at her residence, Terra Nova, Cote des Neiges Road.

The engagement is announced of Miss G. M. Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rogers, of Montreal, to Mr. Frank S. Date. The marriage will take place on Saturday, June 12th, at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Kenneth Prowse has arrived in town from St. John's Nfld., to be present at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. McLea, 41 Victoria street, which takes place on June 9th. Mrs. Prowse is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McLea, Peel street.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Palmer, at Brantford, Ont., the marriage was performed by the Rev. F. J. Maxwell of Miss Naomi Adair, to Mr. J. A. Lindsay, of Victoria, B.C. The bride, who was unattended, wore an ivory satin gown with garniture of embroidery and pearls, with a Limerick lace veil. Her bouquet was lilies of the valley and orchids. She wore the groom's gift, a diamond brooch. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay have left for a three months' trip abroad, the bride travelling in a green suit and Tuscan hat.

A pretty wedding took place last week, in Brantford, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Palmer, when their niece, Miss Coralie Ruth Edwina Adair, was married to Mr. Henry Alexander Carmichael Jackson, of Montreal. The bride, who was unattended, wore a lace gown over white Duchess satin, she also wore her mother's veil and orange blossoms and carried a sheaf of white lilacs and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a pearl and peridot pendant, the gift of the groom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. J. Maxwell. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have left for Quebec, the Saguenay, and other eastern points, the bride travelling in a cloth costume of ashes of roses with touches of black, and a large black hat.

This $3.50 Chair for $2.69

Cut illustrates one of a number of reed chairs and rockers that we're offering at a special price of $2.69.

These are ideal chairs for use in country homes, as they're not only cool and comfortable, but neat, light and easily kept clean.

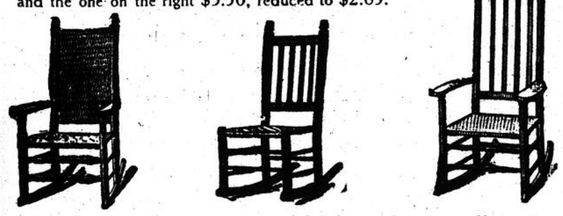
Very artistic effects are obtained with these chairs by upholstering the seats and partly covering the backs.

You will notice that the back of this chair is made with a large woven reed mesh which conforms to the shape of the back and makes them very comfortable and restful.

These chairs have always sold for $3.50, but we're now offering them at a special price of $2.69.

The following cuts illustrate just a few of a large variety of chairs suitable for country cottages

The price of the chair on the left is $5, reduced to $4, the one in the centre is $1.40, reduced to $1.20, and the one on the right $3.50, reduced to $2.85.



These are just samples of the values that we're now offering in country furniture.

We have everything needed for the country cottage.

Remember, during the month of June, we're giving discounts of 10 to 50 per cent. off everything.

Any responsible person can buy furniture from us on easy terms of payment.

We are sole agents in Montreal for the Marshall Sanitary Mattress—the only really comfortable and healthful mattress made.

Any furniture bought from us by Lake Shore residents will be delivered free of charge promptly.

NEWEST SPRING PATTERNS

MAY MANTON PATTERNS, 10c EACH.

Spring and Summer Catalogue, 700 Designs. 15c; by mail, 20c.

A SMART BATHING SUIT.

The bathing suit that is shapely and smart in effect at the same time that it is satisfactory to wear, is one for which every woman is on the outlook, and here is a model that fulfils all the requirements. In this case checked black and white silk is trimmed with black silk bands, and there is a shield of white; but while silk is much liked, and has the advantage of being light in weight, mohair is the general standby for garments of this sort, and mohair can be found in checks and in plain colors and in stripes. For the trimming either contrasting material or banding can be used, and if short sleeves are not liked long ones can be substituted, while the shield can be omitted, and the blouse made high at the neck and finished with a rolled-over collar. The straight small sleeves illustrated are fashionable and comfortable in one, but many women prefer the puffed sort, and these also are included in the pattern.

For the medium size will be required 11 yards of material 24, 7⅜ yards 32, or 5⅝ yards 44 inches wide, with 7 yards of banding. A May Manton pattern, No. 6332, sizes 32 to 46 inches bust, will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which ensures more prompt delivery.)

DAILY STAR PATTERN COUPON

The price of each pattern is 10c. City readers must call at the Star Branch Office, corner Peel and St. Catherine streets, for patterns. Out-of-town readers will be served by mail, and will receive patterns promptly.

NEW LEADER OF OPPOSITION IN MANITOBA HOUSE

Hon. C. J. Mickle Goes on Bench and Mr. T. C. Norris, Succeeds

Special to The Montreal Star.

Winnipeg, June 8.—T. C. Norris, M. L. A., for Lansdowne, has been selected as leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Legislature of Manitoba. He succeeds Hon. C. J. Mickle, appointed to a judgeship.

Tobias Crawford Norris, to give the new leader of the Opposition his full name, is of Irish parentage and was born at Brampton, Ont., in 1861. He is a farmer of the type which takes a keen interest in public affairs. He was a member of the Council of Sifton in 1895, and was first elected to the Manitoba Legislature in 1896, and was re-elected in 1899. In 1903 he was defeated by sixteen votes, but was again returned in the general election of 1907.

Hon. Charles Julius Mickle, the new judge, represented Birtle in the Legislature, and succeeded the late Hon. Mr. Greenway in the leadership of the Opposition. He was a lawyer and practised for ten years in Ontario before going to Manitoba. He was born in Stratford in 1848, and he was admitted to practise in 1872. He was first elected to the Manitoba Legislature in 1888, and remained a member up to the time of his translation to the Bench. He served under the late Mr. Greenway as Provincial Secretary.

Gibeault Praises Lemieux Law.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., June 8.—A. A. Gibeault, president of the Federation of Textile Workers of Montreal, writes the Labor Department that the employes of the company concerned in the recent enquiry before the Board of Conciliation have accepted the report of the Board. But for the investigation Mr. Gibeault believes there would have been a long confirmed strike.

Mr. Justice Longley has been appointed chairman of the Board of Conciliation in the dispute between the Cumberland Coal and Railway Company and its men.

MGR. DUHAMEL'S FUNERAL.

Archbishop McEvay, of Toronto, Will Take Part in Services.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 8. — The Ottawa City Council expressed its sincere regret last night concerning the death of Archbishop Duhamel, and out of respect to the departed prelate adjourned for a week. A resolution eulogizing the Archbishop and his works was adopted, the flags ordered to be half-masted, and it was decided that the Mayor, controllers and aldermen should attend the funeral in a body on Thursday.

Messages of condolence have been received by Mgr. Routhier, administrator of the diocese, from Cardinal Merry del Val and from all the leading ecclesiastics of the country. The body of the Archbishop lies in state at the Basilica, and is being viewed by thousands of the faithful. A slight change has been made in the arrangements, and Archbishop McEvay, of Toronto, will give the funeral oration in English in place of Mgr. Gauthier, of Kingston.

Truants Act as Caddies.

Special to the Montreal Star.

St. John, N. B., June 8.—Being otherwise unable to cope with the problem of truancy, a juvenile court was opened here by Judge Forbes, who sentenced two boys to terms in the Reformatory. Judge Forbes censured the Golf Club for having truants as caddies on the links.

Shrubb and Sellen Agree.

Toronto, Ont., June 8.—Late last night Alfred Shrubb and Percy Sellen buried their troubles and agreed to run at the Island Saturday night next. Sellen's good performance at fifteen miles against St. Yves and Marsh was an eye-opener to Alf, who, as a result hesitated about signing up with the former Irish Canadian for that distance. Sellen made good his offer to run Shrubb at any old distance, and when the champion said twelve miles Percy acquiesced. Saturday night's race promises to be the middle distance tid bit of the season.

Miss Sears Champion.

Philadelphia, June 7 — In the final round of the women's championship lawn tennis tournament for Pennsylvania and the Eastern States, held today at Haverford, Miss Edith Rotch, of Boston, defeated Miss Rachel Harland, of Philadelphia, 7—5, 7—5. In the challenge round however, Miss Eleanor Sears, also of Boston, the title-holder, who drove Reginald C. Vanderbilt's tandem team on the last afternoon of the Montreal Horse Show, defeated Miss Rotch, 6—3, 2—6, 6—4

The Tug-of-War Pulls.

At Dominion Park last evening the G.T.R. Boilermakers tied twice with the Canada Car Company's team, and on the final pull off were declared winners by a bare inch. Between the M.S.R. and the Montreal Locomotives the latter had the advantage till the last half minute of the three minutes allowed when the Street Railway team with a big final pull was declared the winner by two inches.

The G.T.R. Blacksmiths were successful in their pull against the M. L. H. & Power Company's team by two inches, after a hard struggle.

To-morrow night the National Brewers will pull against the Scotch team, and the M. L. H. & Power Company will try conclusions with the Montreal Locomotive Company.

Montreal Stocks Again Go to Higher Levels--List of Power Shareholders

STEEL OVER 41, STREET RY. 216, RICHELIEU IS 86

Detroit Ry., Illinois and Steel Pfd. Also go Higher this Morning

Montreal stocks had a strong undertone to-day.

Conspicuous in the upward trend were Steel common, which sold up to 41¼; Steel preferred, which made 123¾; Richelieu, which touched 86; Street Railway, which reached 216, and Detroit and Illinois, which sold up to 59 and 96¼ respectively.

For a time it looked as if Dominion Steel would not surmount the 41 mark, as several brokers around the room had stock for sale at that figure, but towards the close the buying movement assumed more formidable proportions, and absorbed 1,440 shares at the 41 mark.

Only 50 shares sold at 41⅛, and 200 came out at 41¼. The stock was offered at the latter figure at the close, with 41⅛ bid.

Richelieu acted well, while Illinois pfd. is being steadily absorbed by investors, and showed more strength, selling up to 96¼.

It did not take much buying to put Detroit United up to 59. It is one of the few stocks which has failed so far to participate in the boom.

Richelieu Better

Richelieu was better. The company's earnings are ahead of a year ago, but there is scarcely any justification for the confident talk of an increase in the dividend. If the season turns out to be a particularly good one it is likely that the rate will be raised, while it will certainly not be raised if the season is poor. Everything depends, therefore, on future earnings, and these no one can foresee with any degree of accuracy. The company at present is in an excellent position.

TEXTILE QUIET.

Textile was having a breathing spell, but the bulls say that it is going over 80 one of these days.

TORONTO RAILWAY.

Rails are neglected just now, but they look cheap compared with the fancy figures the 7 per cent. stocks are bringing in Wall Street.

Copper, the metal, was weak in London. Spot was £60 17s 6d, off 10s; futures, £61 15s, off 10s.

$1,000,000,000 OUT IN SIX MONTHS

Bonds, notes and stocks have been issued by the railroad and industrial corporations of America since January 1 to the total of $747,445,980, and for the first six months of 1909 the aggregate will approach $1,000,000,000.

The increase to date this year has been only $43,711,772, as inordinately cheap money in 1908 brought forth unusually heavy offerings.

Bank Commerce to Raise Dividend?

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, June 8.—As high as 184½ was paid for Bank of Commerce shares here this morning in small lots. The belief is that the advance means a 9 per cent. dividend basis before the year is out. The directors will probably settle the question on the 11th, when they meet.

FINANCIAL PERSONALS.

Mr. T. J. Drummond has left for New Jersey to attend the "Soo" Corporation annual meeting.

Mr. E. H. Harriman arrived in London yesterday.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller is playing golf at Pocantico Hills.

Mr. C. J. McCuaig is in New York.

The 13,300 p.c. In Dividends

The Cobalt Dividend Wonder Will be No More.

Now that the Temiskaming and Hudson Bay Company is to increase its capital from $25,000 to $3,500,000, the big dividends which have made the T. & H. B. so popular with the writers of promotion literature will be a thing of the past and a record of those dividends will be of interest. Here it is:

| Date. | P.C. | Amount |
|---|---|---|
| November, 1906 | 200 | $15,552 |
| October, 1906 | 2,500 | 94,025 |
| November, 1906 | 6,500 | 504,465 |
| July, 1907 | 300 | 23,283 |
| February, 1908 | 200 | 15,522 |
| March, 1908 | 200 | 15,522 |
| June, 1908 | 400 | 31,044 |
| July, 1908 | 600 | 46,566 |
| August, 1908 | 1,200 | 93,132 |
| September, 1908 | 300 | 23,283 |
| November, 1908 | 300 | 23,283 |
| December, 1908 | 300 | 23,283 |
| February, 1909 | 300 | 23,283 |
| Total | 13,300 | $1,032,213 |

BAR SILVER WAS EASIER.

Bar silver in London was 24¼, off ⅛ pence.

GRANBY SOLD OVER 106.

There was a sale of Granby in New York at 106½.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Shareholder, Quebec.—Your question has been submitted to a lawyer.

Pen.—The B. C. Packers' annual meeting is held the third Monday in July.

X.—Ogilvie pref. sold as high as 140 in 1902, and reached that figure again in 1905.

TORONTO RY. HAD GOOD GAIN.

Toronto Railway earnings last week were $77,225, an increase of $8,277.

ITEMS OF THE COBALT BOOM

A message received from the Ophir Cobalt Company's office in Cobalt reports that the plant is being rapidly installed under the management of Mr. Gilchrist, who installed the plant of the Temiskaming mine. In all probability the drills will be working next Monday.

The first ore to be shipped from Gowganda is now on its way to Elk Lake via the canoe route from the Bartlett mines. Three thousand pounds are being shipped and as soon as it reaches here it will be taken by boat to Latchford, whence it will be shipped to New York.

ORE COMES IN A COFFIN.

(Toronto Star.)

There is something suggestively sinister or sinisterly suggestive that the big nugget recently found on the Cobalt Gem property is to be shipped to Montreal in a coffin.

HAVANA SHOWS BIG GAIN.

For the week ending June 6th, Havana Electric shows the big gain of $5,717. From January 1 the increase is $42,481.

SALES ON MINING EXCHANGE.

Sales on Mining Exchange: Silver Alliance, 100 at 35; La Rose, 100-35 at 7.53, 35, 300 at 7.53; Foster, 200 at 28; Temiskaming, 500 at 1.09, 300-100 at 1.08½; Reddick pfd., 400 at 22½; Beaver, 200 at 35½; Jno. Black, 500-500-500-1,000-500-1,000-250-2,000-1,000 at 21.

HOLDERS OF 200 SHARES AND OVER POWER STOCK

Many Leading Financiers Figure as Holders of Stock

H. S. Holt.

The other day the Star printed a list of those holding 500 shares and over of MontrealLight, Heat & Power stock. To-day the list is made more complete, as all holders owning 200 shares and over are given. The list includes the names of many leading financiers, and does not suffer in comparison with the lists of shareholders shown by many of the leading banks.

*Decrease.

GROSS INCREASE 20.02 P. C.

Twenty-eight railroads in the States and Canada for the fourth week of May show an average gross increase of 20.02 per cent.

CHINA'S BIG NEW LOAN.

The British-German and French loan of $27,500,000 to China for railroad construction will be in 5 per cent. bonds, issued at 95.

"NIP" AND LA ROSE.

Nipissing was 10¾ to 10⅞; La Rose, 7½ to 7 9-16.

1,302 SHAREHOLDERS.

There are now 1,302 shareholders of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

STANDARD OIL.

Standard Oil was 674 to 677.

LAWSON'S STOCKS.

Yukon was 4⅞ to 5, Bay State Gas 1 to 1⅛, Trinity 13 to 14.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

Burnett & Co.—Leading bull operators have in no way altered their views as to the market's future on account of yesterday's reactionary tendency of prices.

Oswald Bros.—In certain directions there was pronounced strength. This was particularly conspicuous in L & N., Hill stocks and a number of the industrial groups, like A. C. O. and Leather. Norfolk & Western sympathized to some extent on the argument that the soft coal trade was in good shape.

COBALT WILL LIVE 50 YEARS ANYWAY

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cobalt, Ont., June 8.—"Everything indicates that it will be fifty years at least before the camp sees its finish."

This statement was made by Prof. Wm. E. Hidden, of New York, considered one of the best authorities on geology of this district, in speaking of Cobalt and its future.

Canadians should take a good deal of pride in the fact that our credit is now rated higher in London than that of any other Colony, or of any European country, except France.

This is how London rates the 3 p.c. bonds of various countries:

|---|---|
| French Rentes | 96-8 |
| Canada 3 per cents. | 93-4 |
| India | 88-9 |
| German | 85-6 |
| Hungarian | 77-8 |
| Swedish | 84-7 |
| New South Wales | 87-8 |
| New Zealand | 86-7 |
| Queensland | 86-7 |
| South Australia | 89-90 |
| Victoria | 87-8 |

It is likely that stocks will eventually go very much higher, but nobody ever got poor taking profits.

The Bank of New York, the first bank in that city to open its doors, began business 125 years ago to-day.

"I wish The Star would kindly refrain from drawing attention to the fact that we are making money," said a broker this morning, "as there were about seventeen collectors in to see me yesterday."

It is estimated that there are 110,000 shareholders of the United States Steel Corporation.

THAT HALIFAX RY. DIVIDEND.

It was rumored to-day that there may be no increase in the Halifax Tramway dividend this year. Some of the Halifax interests are said to be opposed to a higher rate in view of contemplated expenditure.

IRON CORPORATION AT 40.

Canada Iron Corporation common stock is quoted in London at 40. This is the Drummond, McCall enterprise.

Guessing On The Dividend

What Is Temiskaming Going to Pay? That's the Question.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, June 8. — The interesting amusement of guessing on the next Temiskaming dividend is helping to fill in the time for those connected with the mining stock market. If the ticker tells the story, the dividend is going to be cut, as the stock since the beginning of the year has dropped from 178 to 132, a depreciation of 37 per cent., but, of course, the decline in this one stock has not been isolated, the whole market having gone off, so that Temiskaming's decline is not as conclusive as it might be.

Last year the company paid 3 per cent. a quarter, and doubled that at the end of the year, and have paid two quarterly dividends of 6 per cent. each this year. The next dividend is due July 1, so the directors must answer the question this month.

Predictions are made that the dividend will be put back to 3 per cent. a quarter, and that the reason given will be that the company needs funds to erect a concentrator. Last year the company paid out a sum of $360,000 in dividends. This year, however, they have paid $300,000. The mine is believed to be in good shape and shipments of high grade are so far ahead of last year. On the other hand, it is pointed out as against the likelihood of a dividend reduction that big United States interests in Temiskaming are heavily involved in new mining developments, notably the Pan Silver, and a reduction in Temiskaming's dividend would not help these promotions.

Mr. John Black On the Break

Mr. John Black, president of the John Black Mining Company, has just returned from a trip to Cobalt.

With regard to the recent break in the price of the stock of the John Black Company, Mr. Black stated that the company itself, of course, was giving no particular attention to the market, but was content to devote its energies to the development of its property, which was being carried on in an aggressive manner with a staff of over 20 men, who are steadily employed in night and day shifts. He was led to believe, however, that the temporary break had been brought about by one or two of the disgruntled faction, some of whom were carrying on an active campaign against the stock.

The shaft on the company's property, Mr. Black stated, has now reached a depth of 72 feet, where the vein continues to widen and improve. The ore now being removed is of low grade, but the management consider that they are getting close to the high values.

"Is it a fact that an amalgamation between the John Black Mining Company and the Black Mines, Limited, is about to be effected?" he was asked.

"So far as the companies are concerned, this subject has not been taken up."

TRADE IS SMALL IN NEW CHEESE

A letter received to-day from Hodgson Bros., Liverpool, says regarding the English cheese market:

"There has been a steady consumptive enquiry for choicest old colored and white Canadians and New Zealands, and quotations are well maintained. Trade in new is limited, and holders under the influence of easier cables are ready sellers.

"English cheese in free supply at declining values. We quote: Finest Canadian fall makes, colored, 68s to 69s per cwt.; do. white, 65 to 66s; finest new Canadian, white and colored, 60s to 61s; finest New Zealand, colored cleared, white, 64s to 65s; new season's English cheese, as in quality, 48s to 66s per 120 lbs."

The Canadian visible supply of wheat decreased 1,177,000 bushels; oats, 493,000 bushels, and barley, 20,000, as compared with the previous week. Comparative figures are as follows: Wheat, 3,969,000; previous week, 5,146,000; a year ago, 4,389,000. Oats, 2,509,000; previous week, 3,002,000; a year ago 2,393,000. Barley, 386,000; previous week, 406,000; a year ago, 435,000.

The visible supply of oats in Canada decrease 493,000 bushels for the week, and barley 20,000 bushels. The oats stocks in Canada are placed at 2,509,000 bushels and barley at 383,000 bushels.

BUTTER PRICES STRONG.

Receipts of butter to-day were 758 packages, against 433 for the corresponding date of last year.

Prices are firm under a good demand, finest creamery being quoted at 22½c to 23c.

CHEESE RECEIPTS HEAVY.

Receipts of cheese to-day were 17,015 boxes, against 10,583 for the corresponding date of last year. The local market is steady, westerns being quoted at 11⅝ to 11⅞c, and easterns at 11½ to 11⅝c.

Ogilvies Report From Broomhall

Broomhall cabled the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company, Limited, to-day:

"United Kingdom and France — Outlook good.

"Germany—Crops backward, rain needed, foreign wheat bought generally.

"Russia—South-east and East — Crops satisfactory; holders very firm.

"Roumania — Rain benefiting crops, more expected; supplies very light.

"Bulgaria-Turkey — Drouth.

"Turkey in Asia—Moderate harvest.

"Hungary — Rain insufficient, more needed.

"Italy, Northern Africa—Crops satisfactory.

"Spain—Crops good.

"Portugal—Crops excellent, no imports expected 1910.

"Australia—Further rains.

"Argentine—Drouth continues. Outlook will soon become serious.

"Liverpool—Wheat 1d higher on American advance, Chicago predictions bullish, Bureau Continental purchases near Plate steamers. Corn ¼d higher in sympathy with wheat."

LOCAL GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Local grain receipts to-day: G.T.R.—Wheat, bbls., 1812; meal, bbls., 893; oats, 1211. C.P.R.—Wheat, 22,548; flours, bbls., 3071; meal, bbls., 1830. Boat—Oats, 94,198.

EGG PRICES ABOUT STEADY.

Receipts of eggs to-day were 2304 cases. Prices are about steady, with a fair volume of business passing at 19 to 20c per dozen.

JULY SOLD AT $1.19 ON PROFIT TAKING BY BULLS

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Ill., June 8.—Big profits were taken by the Bartlett-Patten house today, when July sold from 120¼ to 119, against a close of 118⅞ to 119 Saturday. The September was under more or less profit taking pressure, too, selling at from 111 to 110 and back to 110¼, and December from 109⅛ to 108¼, against closings Saturday of 109¾ and 107¾ respectively. The news in wheat was practically all bullish.

Bull Factors.

The great strength shown by the world's markets yesterday, the continued drought in the Argentine, and unfavorable conditions in Hungary and Germany were factors in the markets. Cash wheat is selling freely and at full former prices, with $1.66 bid here and at St. Louis for No. 2 red winter.

World's shipments of wheat for the week were 9,488,000 bushels, compared with 12,384,000 bushels a week ago and 8,464,000 bushels a year ago. On ocean passage wheat decreased 472,000 bushels. The visible supply of wheat in the United States decreased 2,250,000 bushels for the week. Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 400,000 bushels for three days.

Hessian Fly Bogey.

Hessian fly is reported in the lower counties of Missouri, and the harvesting of wheat will be two weeks late. The Missouri June wheat condition is 76, May 74; last June, 84; last July, 75; and crop, 21,000,000 bushels. Government May condition, 82.

Corn average: South-West, 87; North-West, 80, last June, 77; October, 73; and crop, 182,000,000 bushels. Oats condition, 87; last June, 87; about 12 per cent. of the corn crop has been replanted.

European Visible.

The visible supply of wheat in Europe this week amounts to 64,428,000 bushels, against 64,700,000 bushels last week, showing a decrease of 280,000 bushels last week. There was an increase of 407,000 bushels last year, a decrease of 5,210,000 bushels, when total was 70,890,000 bushels.

Liverpool wheat was 1d to 1¼d up for futures, and 1d off to 1d up for spot.

Impartiality on the part of the Executor is indispensable to the successful administration of an estate in which several heirs are to share.

This is one forceful reason for the appointment of a public executor in preference to private executor.

The public executor is free from personal interest, and is in a position to act for all the heirs without favor or bias towards any.

THE FAMOUS THREE-FIFTHS CLAUSE PROVIDED TOPIC

Special to the Montreal Star.

Pembroke, Ont., June 8.—The Montreal Methodist Conference, this morning, after a four hours discussion, eliminated from the report of the Temperance and Moral committee a clause censuring the Ontario Government for the three-fifths clause in the local option law. The discussion was very animated and strong opinions were expressed on both sides. The original report regretted the "continued requirement of a three-fifths vote and reaffirmed our position of great dissatisfaction to this unjust discrimination of the three-fifths clause."

After the discussion of last night the committee made a change and the report this morning read "dissatisfaction to the three-fifths clause, seeing it retards the elimination of the liquor traffic," and continued, as the first report did urging a simple majority law.

Rev. W. H. Raney, South Mountain, moved a substituting clause urging that where local option fails to get the three-fifths vote, but secures a majority that another vote may be taken in one year, instead of three years as now.

W. H. Lambley, Inverness, who presented the report, urged that Mr. Raney's motion be not made as an amendment but as an addition to the report. The vote was then taken on Mr Raney's motion and it was carried by quite a majority, the figures not being announced.

The clause which carried Monday evening expressed commendation for the Ontario Government' enforcement of the liquor laws and increasing the penalty.

Another amendment by I. Hilliard, Morrisburg, will ask that six months instead of thirty days be allowed in which to lay information of an infraction of the liquor law. The Ontario and Quebec Governments will be petitioned, on motion of Mr. Hilliard, to prohibit pool and billiard rooms in connection with premises licensed for the sale of liquor. Several spoke on the clause censuring Methodists who lease buildings for hotels or liquor shops, all being strongly opposed to such being allowed.

All the clauses in the report, with the exception of the three-fifth vote censure, carried without any dissent.

Consideration of this report occupied all morning.

PRESIDENT TAFT MAY VETO TARIFF BILL.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, June 8.—A Washington special to the Globe says that President Taft will veto the tariff bill unless the Senate and House leaders effect reductions at some stage of the passage of the bill through Congress.

DEFINITE CHARGES AGAINST LAMOUCHE.

Three definite charges were made today at the Royal Commission against Inspector Lamouche. They are made by Capt Baignet, through Mr. Albert Germain, the lawyer who formerly represented Chief Campeau.

The charges are general bad conduct and setting a bad example to his men; returning gambling paraphernalia in the Racette case; being drunk after midnight in Lapierre's saloon.

Lingerie Waist Oddments

NOT FROM A SECTION
BUT FROM THE WHOLE DEPARTMENT

From time to time we go through a certain section of our Lingerie Blouse stock and take out all the oddments there are, for clearance. But in preparation for to-morrow's business, we have gone right through all the fixtures and have gathered together more than 500 Waists, marked, even up to the hour of writing, at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00. These we purpose to clear on Wednesday at, each..... .95

You must know how fine the lace, how neat the embroidery, how sheer the mull and lingerie are on our blouses at these prices.

What need is there to say more? There's a blouse in the collection in the size you want, in one style at least, if not more.

3360 HANDKERCHIEFS
Less Expensive Than They Should Be

They were picked up by our buyer in Ireland while en route to Paris. Here they are with their values and prices.

HERE ARE SOME CORSETS
Which We Are Both Clearing and Discontinuing

Space will not permit us to carry all the many lines of corsets we would like to. Some have to be discontinued, at least until more space can be provided for the department.

We say this to make you aware that it is not the corsets which are at fault. Not at all! Many of them are the makes of American Corsetieres of world wide repute. Others are Canadian models.

Of course they are not the very newest of styles, but that fact is amply compensated for in the price—they being $1.75, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 corsets offered at, per pair ..... $1.49

DUTCH COLLARS--SPECIAL

Soft Swiss embroidered muslin Dutch collars, which really ought to sell for .19, .25 and .35, are being offered at, each ..... .15

New stiff linen Dutch collars with colored spots and colored edges, are selling special at, each .35 But they are pure linen.

DAILY NEWS BULLETIN

Only those who have paid a careful leisurely visit to our Mantle Department can have any idea of the attractiveness, the range of styles, and the splendid values of our linen suits and Princess dresses.

One of the most charming of those New York Kimonos of ours has the Princess effect. The all over pin spot design has a Paisley patterned yoke beaded and tied with ribbon. Price, $3.50; others from $1.75 to $5.00

Caroline Reboux introduced a new large fine open black mesh veil in Paris a few days ago. Our buyer, who is just now in the French Capital, by a lucky circumstance, secured a small consignment of it for us and shipped it direct. It arrived last week end. The prices of it range from .60 to $1.25.

Our new $5.00 Hand Bags, come in Monkey, Saffian Persian, Patent, Hippo-calf, Pig, Walrus, Seal, and calf-Alligator.

Even all the folks at home are going to the country — There's our Lunch Room.

PAIR TARRED AND FEATHERED

Brothers and Cousins of Man Were Among Ringleaders.

Washington, Pa., June 8. — A mob, composed of about twenty men, shortly after midnight went to a house in Daisytown, a suburb of California, Pa., and, after tarring and feathering Mollie Ridge and H. O. Wright, dragged them to Pike-Run Creek near by and dumped them both into the water. The leaders of the mob were J. F. Wright, Charles Wright and Clifford Wright, brothers of H. O. Wright, and Playford Wright and Chas. Hands, his cousins.

Mollie Ridge has been an eye-sore in the community for several months, and had been repeatedly warned to leave. When H. O. Wright finally championed the woman's cause, his brothers and other relatives were the first to turn against him. They organized the mob and directed its movements. Both criminal and civil actions will result from the episode.

(From the New York Courier Extra, May 15th, 1909.)

And right here at this very conjuncture, I am brought to the recognition of a new scale, small Grand Piano I tested just before leaving New York. I ran in to try it a number of times, after the first touch, in order to secure a correct perspective on the instrument, and it always endorsed itself after each search. It is a "little darling."

Knitted into its Perfect Shape—Not Stretched

Long after it is purchased —after numerous trips to the Laundry—Pen-Angle Underwear still retains its graceful, perfect glove-fitting shape, and looks as if it were donned but yesterday. Ask your dealer to show you Pen-Angle. Examine it—feel it, note its soft, smooth texture; stretch it, and see its wonderful elasticity—it cannot shrink.

Pen-Angle Underwear is vastly different. It is knitted, not woven—comfortable, not irritating.

Pen-Angle is an individual, exclusive Underwear creation. It is knitted into its snug, perfect shape— not stretched. The variety of styles, sizes and weights (for any climate) is almost unlimited.

Look for the Pen-Angle label—it's a guarantee of complete satisfaction, or your money refunded. It means quality—removes the last straw between you and Underwear satisfaction.

MONDAY NIGHT AT THE CITY THEATRES.

THE PRINCESS.

The Princess-Robinson Opera Co. in "Said Pasha."

At the Princess last night the Robinson Opera Company entered upon their fourth week, presenting the Oriental comic opera, "Said Pasha," to a large audience. Excellent singing, a bunch of charming chorus girls, pretty eastern scenic effects, and clever comic relief, are the features of the show. What story there is in the piece is the little love affairs of the Pasha's daughter and Hassan Bey, one of the Pasha's officers. The Pasha wishes the fair Serena to marry a Mexican nobleman, but after some funny intrigues and humorous complications, for which Hadad and Nockey, the comic pair of the cast, are mainly responsible, the curtain falls to the chime of wedding bells. As the Pasha, Mr. William White appeared to advantage, his vocal efforts being warmly applauded. Miss Doris Goodwin as the Pasha's daughter cut a pretty figure, while Miss Nettie De Coursey as the Queen of Altara was indeed fair to look upon, and the singing of both ladies was exceptionally good. Mr. Grafton Baker, as the Mexican nobleman made a good appearance, and as the funny men of the show, Mr. Gilbert Clayton and Jack Leslie kept up their reputation as smile raisers. The performance is pretty, clean, and bright all through.

The Acodemy.

By special arrangement with Wm. Morris Incorporated, the offering at the Academy of Music, according to the bill, is a grand race week vaudeville carnival, with James J. Jeffries, the undefeated fistic champion of the world, in a sketch "At the Gymnasium," as the headliner.

Jeffries, as an actor does not show much class, but in the training stunts, as well as in the boxing bout with his sparring partner, Sam Berger, he shows considerable.

Miss Daisy Harcourt made a decided hit with her singing. Mlle. Olive introduced some new features in juggling and was well received. A ridiculous sketch "The Lost Boy," by Ed. Blondell and Company, furnished a laugh, if nothing more. "Fun in a Chinese Laundry," by Messrs. Harding and Ah Sid, developed some clever tumbling feats. Harry Jolson, a monologue artist, and Adamini and Taylor, in a singing and musical sketch, were also well received. The performance closes with a moving picture of the English Derby won by Minorou, the King's horse, a few days ago.

Bennett's.

This week's show at Bennett's is really an afterthought, rung in after the anouncement of the final closing of the season had been made. It was a happy thought of the management, too, for the aggregation of vaudeville stars now holding the boards is much more likely to leave the patrons of the house in a satisfied state of mind than that of last week. The company is stronger all along the line and it was greeted with warm applause by an audience surprisingly large for the season.

In putting the strongest feature first on the programme, another unusual departure was made, Ferry, "The Human Frog," is a contortionist of unusual ability and his clever stunts both amused and amazed the audience. Eva Tanguay, the versatile comedienne, is the headliner and, if the merit of her production is to be measured by the favor of the audience, then she is a success. Henry Keene and Olive Briscoe provided some lively fun in the playlet "A Trial Marriage." Other items on the programme were Armstrong and Burns in a comedy duo; Keeley Brothers with a fancy bag punching turn; a pretty representation of a post card album by a little girl; Charley Brown, with some clever songs and bright jokes; and Kennedy and Melrose, acrobatic comedians.

The Francals.

"How Baxter Butted In" is the attraction this week at the Theatre Francais. The Cummings Stock Co. which is still playing to good houses, has been considerably strengthened by players from the company which disbanded at the Academy last week.

The piece is very light and affords little opportunity for clever acting. The part of Baxter, the drummer, was taken by Edward Van Sloan, who is somewhat of a comedian, while the part of Nellie Dale, the degraded daughter, is taken by Mable Griffith.

Lyric Hall.

At the Lyric Hall, the two Fishers, smallest boxers in the world, give a mirth provoking go of three rounds, ring, referee and all. There is a clever sketch, "Married Life," and moving pictures, among them "The French Cartouche," "The Brahmin's Miracles" and "The Mill Owner."

The Chamberland Concert.

The pupils of Albert Chamberland, violinist, appeared in the third annual recital in the Hall of St. Mary' College on Monday evening. The pupils showed great proficiency in their work and the selections were all favorably executed. In the closing number twenty-nine violinists took part, and the result showed the power of the students to appear in concert.

The singing of the boys from St. Mary's College choir was a feature of the evening. These boys, about forty in number, gave two selections. Their voices were very sweet and well balanced and their tempo remarkably even.

In their individual selections all the students performed well. The work of Master Corber in Mendelssohn's "Songs without Words," was particularly good, as was the rendition of Drdla's "Souvenir," by E. Vandette.

The most finished work of the evening was performed by Miss G. Chamberland, who rendered a concerto from Mendelssohn in fine style, her technique being particularly commendable Miss Alice Robillard is a splendid accompanist and her work was an important factor in the success of the concert.

The hall was crowded with friends of the musicians and the work of Mr. Chamberland's pupils was warmly commended.

Stanley Hall.

The pupils of the Montreal School of Elocution presented a dramatized version of Dickens's story, "The Cricket on the Hearth" at the Stanley Hall last evening before a good audience. In fairness to the players it must be said that the dramatization killed every bit of originality and character in the story, and called upon them to put life into a play of monumental dullness. To lovers of Dickens, this mutilation of his work must cause anything but pleasure, while to those who have never read the original story it must prove almost childish. If there is one author in the English language thoroughly dramatic, that one is Charles Dickens, although so many poor dramatizations of his works have been given the public. However, in spite of these many drawbacks, the play went along fairly smoothly, and credit must be given to Miss Annie M. Upton, who, as Tilly Slowboy, managed to imbue her part with life and humor.

Some splendidly rendered selections from Eugene Field were given after the play by Miss Gertrude Sheppard, and the singing of Mrs. Adams, soprano, was deeply appreciated.

The following is the cast of "The Cricket on the Hearth":

John Peerybingle—Mr. Arthur M. King.
Mrs. Peerybingle ("Dot")—Miss Carrie A. Dogherty.
Tilly Slowboy—Miss Annie M. Upton.
Mr. Tackleton—Mr. G. R. Small.
Caleb Plummer—Mr. Clifford G. Higginson.
Bertha—Miss Edith F. Stanfield.
Mrs. Fielding—Mrs. James Gibb Stewart.
May Fielding—Miss Mariam Forrest.
Old Gentleman—Mr. William G. Hay.
Porter—Mr. John Speak.

Dominion Park.

The newly finished vaudeville theatre at Dominion Park was inaugurated on Sunday evening. "Brengk's Bronze Beauties," presenting classic figures, as "Golden Graces," "Venus," "Salome," etc. These, with Edward Markey's imitations of Harry Lauder, go to make up an excellent programme. "A Musical Farmyard," and a comedy sketch, "A Lucky Liar," called for repeated applause.

Cruelty Case at Derry.

A story of extraordinary cruelty of a father towards his children was told at the last Londonderry Sessions, when William Gallagher was sentenced to three months. When the first baby was born he bit his wife on the breast, and she had to undergo an operation. Later another bite caused lockjaw. A short time ago, when drunk, he threw a burning paper into the bed where the children were, and one of them had its lip burned.

Guilty of Arson.

Odilon Nolin was yesterday afternoon found guilty of setting fire to his home on Levis street after he had sent his wife and children away to visit a relative.

Death of Mr. D. Boud.

David Boud, restaurant keeper, Rieury street, died last night, of dropsy. Many years of ago he was connected with the Theatre Royal.

HON. ARTHUR BOYER BACK FROM ROME

Well Pleased With Work Being Accomplished by Institute of Agriculture.

Hon. A. Boyer.

Hon. Arthur Boyer, a former member of the Quebec Government and now a representative of the Canadian Government to the International Institute of Agriculture, has returned to the city after a lengthy stay in Italy, where the headquarters of the Institute are. Mr. Boyer had remained in Rome after the departure of his colleague, Hon. Sydney Fisher, for home. He has had the honor of being elected to the presidency of one of three divisions into which the work of the Institute founded at the instance of King Emmanuel in 1905, has been divided.

Mr. Boyer is highly enthusiastic as to the ultimate value which this new organization will prove to have in its relations to the forty-eight nations which have co-operated to forward the interests of agriculture. There are, of course, many difficulties which must be encountered, in the way of differences of standards, differences of methods of computations and so on. The central committee have, however, been energetically at work considering a uniform system which may be recommended to all the countries and so simplify the work of the Institute.

As to the beneficial results to be derived from the interchange of opinions, the compilation of statistics and the records of methods which the Institute affords, Mr. Boyer feels no doubt. The first actual result will not been seen until the end of this year. The department over which he presides deals with the questions of rural wages and co-operation in farming. The latter is a question which is of small moment on this continent though of great importance in European countries where the farming communities are highly delighted with the co-operative plan which they claim means a better standard of crops and in general better returns at a lower cost.

Mr. Boyer arrived by the Oceanic at New York at the end of last week. He will probably spend several months in Canada before returning again to Rome.

SEVENTY-FIVE LETTERS FOR THE VICOMTE.

The Vicomte de Marsey needs to be a swift gentleman if he answers all his correspondence. He has been for some time touring the Dominion and reached Montreal yesterday, on his way from the Pacific Coast. When he registered at the Place Viger, he found awaiting him no less than seventy-five letters, which is the largest mail held at that hotel for a single guest for many years. The Vicomte left last night for the east on his way back to La Belle France.

Will Run in Delorimier.

Geo. Jeffrey will be candidate for seat No. 1, of the new Delorimier Ward. The election is June 23, and nomination June 12.—Mr. Chabot, who had previously announced his candidature, retires in favor of Mr. Jeffrey.

Grand M---r Pays Visit.

Grand Master W. W. Smith visited Loyal Harmony Lodge, No. 7454, I.O O.F., M.U., last evening, in the Oddfellows' Hall, 251 St. James street. Noble Grand C. W. Parker presided.

Drowned From Rowboat.

St. John, N.B., June 8.—Arthur Moffatt, 66, was drowned on Saturday night in Lake Wauceneew, by falling from a row-boat.

A Mighty Ruler, He

Who wisely rules himself

Curious what a scrap you have now and then (maybe two or three "nows" and several "thens") with what the old Scotchman called the "deevelish part" of your make-up.

It's safe to say "you" and not miss the mark, for we all belong to the same lodge, and it seems to be a part of some great plan to try us out and see if we can thus earn the right to rule greater things.

* * *

Most every day some one of the many "warriors of the enemy" comes across your pathway and puts up a scrap to see if he can rule.

* * *

You must be well trained and alert or he will make you bend the knee or, perhaps, break a leg or permanently cripple you.

There are several of these "enemies," which can be named over, but for the purpose of this article let us speak of the narcotics, the family which includes morphine, whisky, coffee, cocaine, tea, tobacco, etc., all the same family, each member having a different degree of strength.

Now, coffee is perhaps one of the most plausible and deceitful of them all.

It has many friends, but cooly and cunningly knifes them, and they don't know where the blow comes from.

* * *

Many and many a poor, nervous wreck with weak heart, suffers by day and lies sleepless at night without suspecting that his "dear old friend," Mr. Coffee, is quietly pushing him along towards the silent city. No, coffee don't hurt everyone by any manner of means, but it does pick out the highly organized individuals and wrecks them by the score.

Perhaps the victim realizes it, but has fallen time and again in the battle and been whipped so often that he has given up and bowed the head to the chain of his master.

"I simply cannot give up my coffee," is the wail, and so day by day he grovels and the master stretches him a few turns tighter on the rack of suffering.

Make sure of one thing. Once you become conscious of the fact that a fight is on, suffering follows steadily until you are able to rule.

Then comes the reward—comfort, health and happiness for the victor.

It is good work to stand right up and smash away with a "mailed fist" but it's much more comfortable to whip Mr. Coffee by throwing him "right over the side of the mountain" and give his place to Postum.

A steaming, fragrant cup of this famous beverage has the clear seal-brown color which changes to a rich golden brown under cream.

* * *

Oft times, remarkable changes quickly follow the victory of one's better self over a known enemy. Peaceful sleep, balanced nerves, stronger heart, and all the joy which comes after the removal of a drug and its replacement with natural food elements which old Dame Nature is only too glad to seize upon for the building material so badly needed and so long denied.

* * *

Well, here's best wishes to you, reader. Hope you don't get "licked" too often, it's weakening.

ORDER SUSPENDED DURING APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT

Recent Ruling of Railway Commission will not be Enforced

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, June 8—Mr. F. E. Meredith, K.C., on behalf of the Montreal Street Railway, applied to the Railway Commission this morning for leave to appeal from the recent order of the board, directing them to enter into any necessary agreements with the Montreal Park and Island Railway for the establishment of through passengers rates and the abolition of discriminations.

The leave was granted and the case will now go to the Supreme court on points of law, including the right of the commission to make such an order. Meanwhile the order is suspended.

BISHOP MILLS ON UNION.

Churches Won't Join Before Second Coming of Christ.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., June 8. — Bishop Mills, of Ontario, in his pastoral address to the local synod this afternoon referred to Church union. He referred to the requirement of the joint committee of the Presbyterians, Methodists and Congregationalists that the general synod consent to the abandonment of the historic episcopate as a preliminary to negotiations. "So you can judge," he continued, "how near we are to union. I do not thing that union will ever take place before the second coming of Christ, when all things will be made new, and men shall become of one mind."

Bishop Mills does not believe that the world is getting better and in support of his position refers among other things to the divorce scandals, and the presence of the demoralising crime of infanticide.

SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until 4.30 p.m. on Thursday, July 15, 1909, for the supply of coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

Combined specification and form of tender can be obtained on application at this office.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent. (10 p.c.) of the amount of the tender, which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,

NAPOLEON TESSIER,
Secretary.

Officers of the Manchester Mariner.

Mr. E. D. Spencer, chief officer of the Manchester Mariner, which is on her way to Liverpool and Manchester, had an adventure once on a Canadian boat that sailed around the Horn. There was a storm, a leak, and the crew abandoned the ship. In a small boat Mr. Spencer drifted about for fourteen days with little to drink, less to eat, and no knowledge of his whereabouts. He landed at Tierra del Fuego, where the savages tried to carve up what was left of him. He escaped, however, and was later picked up. The other two officers are the second, Mr. H. Bellhouse, and chief engineer, Mr. A. Cooke.

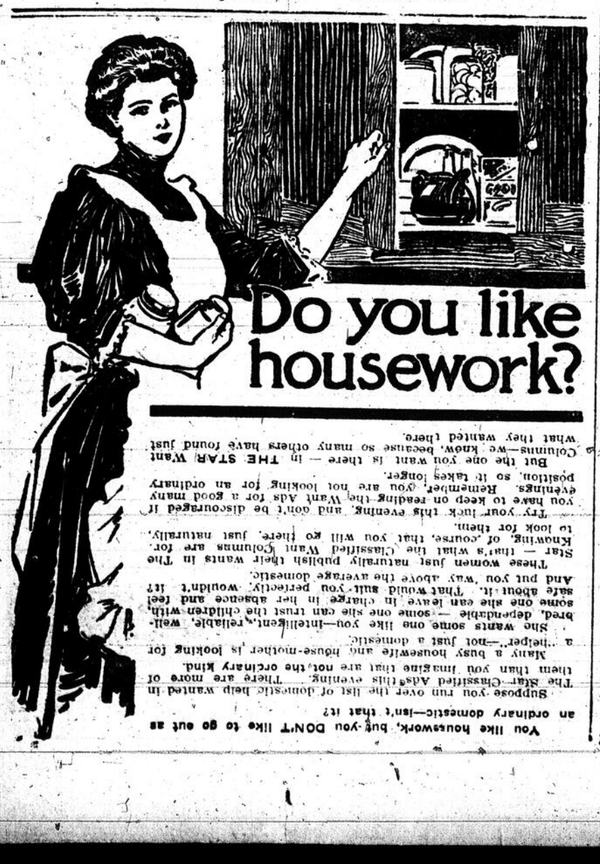
Rev. Father Vincent Naish, S.J., will lecture on India this evening at the Catholic Sailors' Club.



Do you like housework?

You like housework, but you DON'T like to go out as an ordinary domestic—isn't that it?

Suppose you run over the list of domestic help wanted in The Star Classified Ads this evening. There are more of them than you imagine that are not the ordinary kind.

Many a busy housewife and house-mother is looking for a "helper"—not just a domestic.

She wants some one like you—intelligent, reliable, well-bred, dependable—some one she can trust the children with, some one she can leave in charge in her absence and feel safe about it. That would suit you perfectly, wouldn't it? And put you "way above the average domestic.

These women just naturally publish their wants in The Star — that's what the Classified Want Columns are for. Knowing, of course, that you will go there, just naturally, to look for them.

But the one you want is there — in THE STAR Want Columns—we know, because so many others have found just what they wanted there.

Try your luck this evening, and don't be discouraged if you have to keep on reading the Want Ads for a good many evenings. Remember, you are not looking for an ordinary position, so it takes longer.

NO CITY LAWYER BEFORE ROYAL COMMISSION

Mayor's Request Refused —Mr. E. W. Villeneuve Complains of Contracts

Mayor Payette, at the meeting of the City Council yesterday afternoon, brought up a suggestion that the city should be officially represented before the Royal Commission. The idea was that a lawyer, representing the city, should give help to Mr. Justice Cannon in explaining complicated civic matters.

"I want to draw the attention of Council," said the Mayor, "to the civic investigation that is proceeding before Mr. Justice Cannon. The situation is such that I think the city should have a lawyer at the investigation. There are many matters, in regard to civic administration, that are difficult to understand; for this reason there should be a lawyer before the commission who is thoroughly versed in civic matters. The Citizens' Committee have excellent lawyers; at the same time I do not think they can give thorough explanations in various matters.

"From evidence that has been produced before the commission it would appear that reports are being sent away giving the city a bad name. I have no doubt but that there have been grave irregularities in the administration; at the same time it is just possible that the irregularities are being exaggerated. I do not desire in the least to lessen the scope of the investigation; but I do think that the city's interests should be guarded by a competent lawyer; a gentleman who would be able to give Mr. Justice Cannon explanations in things that are somewhat difficult to understand."

Ald. Lavallee Approves.

Ald. Lavallee—"I approve of the plan of His Worship. What we want is a thorough investigation; at the same time it is only right that both sides of every story should be thoroughly enquired into."

Ald. Lavallee then moved:

"That the law department be instructed to give their assistance to the Hon. Commissioner in order that the municipal administration of Montreal, and its different departments should be investigated and the results set forth in their true light."

Ald. Giroux—"While the motion is a good one, I think that if a lawyer is to be employed he should not be connected with the civic law department. I would suggest that Mr. Aime Geoffrion be appointed. This gentleman could look after the interests of others as well as those connected with the city's administration."

It was the opinion of Ald. Carter that Council should let well alone. He feared it would look bad if the aldermen appointed a lawyer to look after their interests before the investigation. It must not be forgotten that Council itself had prayed that there should be a Royal Commission.

ASK JUDGE IF HE WANTS ONE.

Ald. Clearihue—"Let us ask Mr. Justice Cannon if he neds a civic lawyer to explain matters. It seems to me that the Court is trying hard to get at the facts and to protect witnesses."

Ald. Mercier—"So far as I am concerned I intend going before Royal Commission when the affairs of the Fire Department are taken up. I think every alderman should protect himself in this way."

SAW NO NEED FOR CHANGE.

Ald. Sadler was sorry that any suggestion had been made to appoint a lawyer to go before the Commission. The way he understood the matter was that it being considered the city was being administered in a loose manner, a royal commission had been asked for. Judge Cannon would no doubt see that the city's interests were protected before he summed up the case. Documents would be laid before him, and, no doubt, the judgment would be based on the records.

ALL MOTIONS DEFEATED.

Ald. Carter's motion that a lawyer be appointed if Judge Cannon asked for one was defeated by 25 to 12.

The motion of Ald. Giroux that Mr. Geoffrion be appointed, was defeated on a division of 32 to 14.

The main motion, of Ald. Lavallee, to have a corporation lawyer at the investigation, was also defeated as follows:

Nays—Ald. L. A. Lapointe, Giroux, Yates, Clearihue, M. Martin, Levesque, Lesperance, Turner, Sadler, Bumbray, Gallery, Mercier, O'Connell, Couture, Laviolette, Gadbois, Robinson, Ward, Seguin, David, Fraser, Carter, Lamoureux, Prud'homme—24.

Ayes—Ald. Dagenais, Robillard, Lavallee, Larivlere, N. Lapointe, J. B. A. Martin, Marin, Duquette, Major, Guay, Roy, and Resther—12.

DISAPPROVE OF CONTRACTS.

A series of letters were now read protesting against the manner in which the Roads Committee was awarding paving contracts. It was pointed out that in a great many cases the committe had carefully selected the highest tenderers; this meant a heavy and unnecessary loss to the city.

A long letter of protest was read from Mr. E. W. Villeneuve. It was explained that a certain contract for laying of granite blocks had been given out illegally; that there had been no steps taken by the committee to get competition for the job.

Various contracts for Danforth stone were also criticised. There was nothing to prove that the Road Committee was justified in paying very fancy prices for this material.

Attention was drawn in the letter to the difference in the prices of two kinds of asphalt, one at $2.37, that of the Barber Company, while that of the Sicily Asphalt Company was but $2.29.

ANNEXATION OF DELORIMIER.

On the motion of Ald. Lavallee it was decided that the civic officials should take the necessary steps to formally annex the town of Delorimier. It was pointed out by Ald. Lavallee that the Legislature had already consented to the annexation of this place. It was finally decided that nomination in this new ward be held June 12, and election June 23. This will mean that still two more city fathers will be added to the present unwieldy Council.

AN OFFER OF LIGHT.

A letter was read from the Saraguay Electric Company offering to supply light to the city in different wards, which were mentioned. The letter was of the same sense as a previous letter from the company, but the wards were different. If the city preferred, light could be supplied to Duvernay, St. Jean Baptiste, St. Louis vernay, St. Jean Baptiste, St. Louis and Lafontaine wards.

Sohmer Park.

There was a great crowd at Sohmer Park both yesterday afternoon and evening, when the second week of the twentieth anniversary opened. The programme is a long one and is fully up to the standard long ago set by the management. The Four Baltos are marvellous acrobats, their work being clean cut and out of the ordinary rut while the act introduced by Selbini and Grovini, in which they display their wonderful strength pleased everybody. Those fond of vocal music found a treat in the Toulansin quartette. Keene, the juggler, is exceedingly funny and he particularly pleased the young folks. Martha, the trapeze artiste, has an act that is quite new. The band under Bandmaster Larose has an exceptionally good programme this week.

WHY AM I ILL?

HOW TO TELL.

Does every cold affect your back, and cause a feeling of chilliness, followed by disturbance of the kidney action.

Does the use of spirits, tea or beer excite the kidneys? Are you easily worried and annoyed over trifles? Are the feet and hands cold? Circulation bad? Do the feet and legs swell? Is there puffiness under the eyes? Do you have rheumatism, poor eyesight, headaches and backaches? Is there gravel or any unnatural action of the kidneys?

If you have any of the above symptoms your kidneys are either weak or diseased, and these symptoms are warnings of more serious troubles to follow; Bright's Disease, Diabetes or Dropsy.

Whatever you do, whatever you think your disease is, look well to your kidneys at the first sign of anything wrong. Give them just the aid they require in Doan's Kidney Pills, the Great Quaker Kidney Medicine, and see how well and fit you feel after even a few doses.

Mrs. O. Warren, Radisson, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe pains in my back for years. I tried everything I could think of but they did me no good. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking two boxes, I have not been troubled since."

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto.

In ordering specify "Doan's."

Hamilton Methodist Conference Will Deal With Evil

Special to The Montreal Star.

Brantford, Ont., June 8. — Mr. E. Sweet, a lawyer of this city, following an appeal on behalf of the laymen's missionary movement, at the Hamilton Conference yesterday, went upon the platform and revealed a disgraceful condition of affairs regarding the manner of life of foreigners in Brantford. Mr. Sweet pointed out to the members that their real duty lay nearer home than China and Japan.

He was followed by Rev. Dr. Allen, of Toronto, home mission secretary. Dr. Allen not only confirmed all that the Brantford lawyer had said, but he went further, and said that in Winnipeg, Toronto, Guelph and London there existed slums and crowded foreign settlements, the like of which was not approached in even old, notorious Whitechapel, in the capital of the Empire.

Dr. Allen read a small portion of the address regarding the conditions in North Winnipeg, given by Professor Osborne, of that city. Minister after minister rose to his feet and asked that the conference take some action towards working a cure along the lines of an appeal to the Legislatures or to the cities concerned.

A committee was appointed to bring in a working solution which could be given to the Conference for approval.

McGILL AND THE NEW "RITZ"

She stands in stately splendor in the shadow of the hill,
Our honored Alma Mater, our beloved old McGill,
A sacred trust bequeathed to us by noble-hearted men,
To be held by us unsullied, and so handed on again

In the city; yet not of it; and within the College gate
Reigns a staid scholastic silence, hitherto inviolate.
Save when from the College campus comes a loud triumphant cheer,
Which proclaims the College athletes champions for another year

We thought our pride in old McGill was also Montreal's,
We did not heed the "trend of trade" within our sacred walls,
Too late our eyes are opened, and we see things as they are,
See the glitter of the glasses; hear the clatter of the bar

Arise ye sons of old McGill, wherever ye may be,
And with one voice protest against this gross iniquity;
McGill is for purity — when we are turned to dust—
McGill is ours in trust, and we must not betray that trust

J. R. B.
