QUEBEC AWAITS ARRIVAL OF THE PRINCE

"INDOMITABLE," THE SHIP OF MYSTERY

Will Land His Royal Highness Here Today for the Celebration of the Tercentenary.

A DAY OF SPECTACULAR MILITARY DISPLAY

With the arrival of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales the culmination of the preparation for the celebration of the three hundredth anniversary of the foundation of the city of Quebec will have been reached. The "mystery" ship of the British navy, the Indomitable, with the Prince on board, is scheduled to arrive here some time after noon to-day, and according to despatches from the river below the ship will be on time. After a series of official calls from the Governor-General, the Lieut.-Governor, the Admirals of the different fleets now in port, and other officials, His Royal Highness will land at 4 p.m., and after receiving an address from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, on behalf of the Government of Canada, will proceed to the Citadel, where he will reside during his all too brief stay in Quebec. As already announced, His Royal Highness will pass through the following streets on his way to the Citadel:—Champlain, Dalbousie, Mountain Hill, Port Dauphin, Du Fort, Place d'Armes, St. Louis. The streets through which the Prince will pass will be lined with troops, and the day promises to be one of military splendor.

While to-day will be an exceedingly busy one, yesterday also had many attractions for the thousands of visitors, who still continue to arrive in large numbers. Among the events were the first formal performance of the Pageants, naval and military sports and a grand military tattoo on the Q. A. A. grounds, the rendition of David's Symphonic Ode "Christophe Colomb" at the Drill Hall, a ball by the British officers of the fleet at the Parliament Buildings, and numerous other events of more or less importance.

Quebec seems to have given itself up to a period of rejoicing without regard to any other consideration of the daily doings which have hitherto claimed the staid and peaceful procession of its progress. Business seems to be a foreign word and one not easy of translation by even the most regular of its mercantile residents. From those in high estate to those of more modest pretensions all seem imbued with a desire to make the birthday party of the Ancient Capital a worthy one and one which will live in the history of the future. The work of the decorator still continues, and by the time the Prince drives through the streets to-day on his way to the grim, grey fortress on Cape Diamond, the city promises to present an appearance such as it has never seen within the memory of any living resident. By day or by night, the historic natural beauty of the Ancient Capital will be added to by all that human hands can do and its hospitable walls will be open to its guests in the same happy and jovial spirit with which they come to participate in the festivities.

THE MILITARY PARADE.

The troops and order of procession which will take place on the 23rd inst. through the streets of Quebec will be as follows:—

WHAT IS GOING ON HERE TODAY

down the river for the accommodation of citizens who wish to meet the ships.

DANCE ON NEW HAMPSHIRE.

There will be a reception and dance on the United States warship New Hampshire probably on Friday afternoon.

CONSULS VISIT WARSHIPS.

The members of the Consular Corps paid official visits to the U. S. warship New Hampshire and the French warship Leon Gambetta between 11 o'clock and noon yesterday. The corps was represented by General Henry, Consul for the United States, dean of the corps, A. Joseph, Consul for Belgium, Major N. Levasseur, Consul for Guatemala, F. Gunn, Consul for Norway, Lieut.-Colonel E. F. Wurtele, Vice-Consul for Denmark, F. Carbray, Vice-Consul for the Argentine Republic, Geo. Tanguay, Vice-Consul for Uruguay, T. Levasseur, Vice-Consul for Brazil, and F. S. Stocking, Vice-Consul for the United States. The consuls were received very cordially by Commander Cowles, of the New Hampshire, and Vice-Admiral Jauregiberry, of the Leon Gambetta. The latter stated that the visit was a striking evidence of the harmony and entente cordiale which existed between the two races in Quebec, a harmony which was in the best interests of humanity and progress. On leaving each ship the U. S. flag, that of the country of the dean of the corps, received the usual salute.

WESTERN VISITORS.

That the people of our great Canadian West recognize that the Tercentenary celebration is of a national character is testified by the fact that the City Councils of Vancouver and Victoria, B.C., have sent both their mayors, Alex. Bethune and Dr. Lewis Hall respectively, to Quebec, the municipality bearing the cost of their long trip. These gentlemen arrived in the city yesterday, and are guests at the Chateau Frontenac. It is interesting to note that Victoria, B.C., is the furthest western city in the Dominion of Canada.

THE "DON DE DIEU."

The arrival of Champlain's ship, the "Don de Dieu," has been fixed for 2 o'clock to-morrow, after which the crew will immediately land, and it is urgent that the historical parade should form and get into position with the least possible delay immediately thereafter.

MEETING OF THE ROYAL SOCIETY.

The Royal Society of Canada will hold two meetings in this city to-day in the Convocation Hall of Laval University, one at ten o'clock this morning and the other at 8.30 this evening. At the evening's meeting, which will probably be attended by the Governor-General and most of the official guests to the Tercentenary festivities, the presidential address will be read and the presentation of New Fellows will take place, while poems will be read by Rev. Fred Scott and Mr. L. P. Lemay. At the evening meeting addresses will be delivered by Judge Routhier and Rev. Dr. Burwash, Chancellor of Victoria College, Toronto, and Mr. A. Rivard will recite one of Zolner's poems. At the conclusion of the evening's sitting a garden reception will be given by the Professors of Laval in the Quebec Seminary gardens.

RUSH TO QUEBEC.

Montreal Gazette: The rush to the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec, is larger than was expected by the railway authorities. All the trains of the Canadian Pacific were run in two sections Sunday and yesterday, and were well filled. In addition, an extra train, carrying 300 passengers, was sent out from Windsor street station, although the running of this train was not scheduled until to-day. Five C. P. R. trains a day are now running, and each of these will be run into, three or four sections as the exigencies may require. Telegrams from Quebec say that 25,000 visitors are already in town, and that there is still room for more.

ADMISSION TO THE TENTED CITY.

Owing to the fact that a large number of guests are now located in the Tented City and as the Directors are desirous of securing for them every comfort as well as privacy, they have decided that after two o'clock this afternoon a small fee of ten cents will be charged to those desirous of visiting this most novel attraction and enjoying its promenade walk, and view of the river and battleships. On the nights of the illuminations and naval display, Thursday, 23rd, and Monday, 27th, special provision will be made to allow a large number to view the fireworks and illumination of the fleet from one of the finest sites available. On these nights a fee of twenty-five cents will be charged. It is further contemplated that one or two band concerts will be held on the premises of which due notice will be given later.

A CLEVER CAPTURE.

Three men and one woman appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning and were remanded to jail for 8 days by Magistrate Angers. The quartette are well known in police circles over the border and their arrest was effected by Mr. W. H. Welsh, General Superintendent of the Canadian Detective Bureau, Toronto, and his staff of detectives. The prisoners are all expert shop-lifters and penny-weighters and three of them have quite a record in their line of business. These are Mabel Carson alias Mabel Ryan, Jimmy Ryan alias Broken Nose Ryan and George Townsend. They generally carry on their business in jewellery establishments and their arrest will no doubt be welcomed by people in that line of business.

QUEBEC, JULY 22, 1908.

"AND NOT A DROP TO DRINK."

It is not always the unexpected that happens; once in a while it is the expected. The behavior of the Quebec waterworks had been so phenomenally good this year as to become suspicious, and the citizens began to wonder when the customary annual breaks and stoppages of the water supply for which property holders are taxed one-eighth of their income would occur. The solution of their puzzle came on Monday when the banal break occurred and the city was deprived of water for the greater portion of a couple of days, at a time when its population was nearly doubled, and the number of thoroughbred horses sent down here to the races rendered the situation doubly embarrassing. People have been driven to all manner of shifts to obtain water for their pressing needs, they have been obliged to resort to the fountains until the supply in the basins was exhausted, and to the river. Such impure sources are a menace to the public health, as the scarcity of water is destructive of all sanitary arrangements, and if a serious fire were to break out at this time our present rejoicings would be turned into equally heartfelt lamentations. Quebec has gathered in her visitors from all parts of the world, and has been placed in the position of being unable to accommodate them with a glass of good drinking water or their morning bath.

The situation is a crying disgrace to the city, and the more so that this year it has been revealed to the eyes of the outside world. We are quite aware that the blame cannot fairly be placed on the shoulders of the water works officials who are able and painstaking men. They do what they can, but they cannot be expected to foresee and anticipate weak points in the main or subsidiary pipes; all that they can be called on to do, is to remedy the disaster when it occurs, and to make what provision they can in the interim, and this is done; but the trouble lies deeper. Accidents will occur, it is true, in the best regulated families, but not accidents of a regular and mechanical occurrence. We do not recall to mind any other city, where a series of annual breaks in the pipes supplying water was regarded as part of the normal conditions of civic existence. Other places would have concluded long ago that such a state of things involved too great a risk to the public health, the public life, and the public property, and would have supplemented their defective water system with one on which more dependence could be placed. They would not be deterred by the cost, even if they were forced to retrench in other directions. There is nothing more important to the well-being of a city than the reasonably assured regular continuance of the water supply, and there is nothing so little assured in Quebec. With an orderly population, with an efficient police protection, with our thoroughfare the admiration of visitors for the manner in which they are kept, with efficient sanitary regulations, with first class men and appliances for fire-fighting, we are exposed every year to the dangers and annoyances of a defective water supply, and this, as we have said, not the fault of the water works officials, but of City Council after City Council that has had this pressing problem before its eyes without the courage to attempt a solution of it.

GOD BLESS THE PRINCE OF WALES.
Today we hope to welcome to our shores His Most Gracious Majesty Edward VII. in the person of his representative and heir apparent, the Prince of Wales, and while we all regret, as we are sure His Majesty himself regrets, that State duties have prevented the King from gracing our festivities with his presence, and from renewing the acquaintances which he himself when heir apparent to the throne formed here, our welcome to his son is none the less hearty and spontaneous, for his own sake as well as for the sake of the august personage he represents, for His Royal Highness is no stranger to Canadians; but an old and valued friend whose worth and estimable qualities made them selves recognized on a previous visit. Today His Royal Highness represents not the King only, but the Empire of which he is the head, and which has grown up and prospered under the wise and far-seeing policy which has rightly earned for him the proud title of Edward the Peacemaker. In the Prince, so well known to us for his appreciative sympathy with Canada and the Canadians, we see the Empire which is being built up slowly and carefully to an extent greater than that of Imperial Rome, and on lines of freedom of which Rome never dreamed, assisting at our festes, identifying itself with our sentiments and aspirations, and making common cause with one of its members in its rejoicings. This lends a weight and dignity all its own to our celebration, and is a source of legitimate pride, but we see more than this. We see in the Prince of Wales the representative of a Royal House that has always been intimately associated with Canada, from the Duke of Kent, father of our late beloved Queen Victoria, to the present day; a House that has always taken Canada to its heart, and worked thoughtfully for her best interests; and finally, as we have said, we see in him an old friend whom we are glad to welcome back amongst us and to look upon once more. All these things are typified to us in the triple ostrich feather of his crest, and the motto which his House has so faithfully put into practice towards us, "Ich dien, I serve."

Yes! we are proud, as well we may be, of the honor done to us by the present visit, but we are also pleased, and humanly pleased, to meet once more one who won all hearts in his previous sojourn amongst us, and this gives our welcome a spontaneity and warmth which cannot accompany a mere official reception. There is but one thing lacking which would have completed our pleasure, the presence of His gracious consort, the Princess of Wales, who has, much to our regret, found herself unable to accompany him, but "though lost to sight to memory dear," and while our lips acclaim the advent of the Prince, our hearts will include in their warm good wishes his gentle and amiable consort.

HOW THEY DO IT IN OTTAWA.
The last discovery made at Ottawa is that relating to the sale of Indian lands to United States lumbermen. Our speculative friends next door wanted the property. But they could not buy it from the Government direct at the price they were willing to pay. They had, therefore, to deal with a little party of three Siftonian politicians. The three men bought the land from the Government for $9,017, and turned it over to the purchasers from the United States for $101,530. This transaction stands thus:
Paid by purchasers to the politicians $101,530
Received by Government..... 9,017
Profit for politicians $ 91,513
The three politicians pocketed $30,600 each.

This scheme is small when compared with the Saskatchewan land deal. In that case a politician now in Parliament, with a few other speculators, got 250,000 acres of land in the West for $1 an acre. Within a year these men had sold out for from $8 to $12 an acre. The figures are these:
Received from the settlers...$2,000,000
Paid to the Government at $1 an acre..... 250,000
Profit for politicians $1,750,000
But the politicians do not always deal directly with the settlers. Thus, in the Robbins irrigation case, the land, instead of being sold to settlers, was put on the London market, and was disposed of to a company for $800,000. The same policy seems to have been followed with the great timber grants made to the Burrows-Fraser group. This coterie has secured the best part of the timber of the West. Burrows sold one of his concessions for $80,000, and he and his friends have put up other grants for sale for sums running as high as $500,000.—Mail and Empire.

FRENZIED BOOKKEEPING.
Hon. Mr. Fielding has propounded a new doctrine of finance. Debt is not debt any more, so far as the principal is concerned. When you figure out your liabilities, all you have to take into account is the interest upon what you owe. Thus the National Transcontinental Railway will cost in the neighborhood of two hundred and fifty millions of dollars in cash, but all the country will have to pay will be the interest charges, amounting to some thirty-eight millions, according to the present estimate. The balance is a matter of bookkeeping.
The moment the Minister of Finance admitted the correctness of the figures as stated by Mr. Borden, he gave away the whole case for the Government. It does not make the slightest difference to the taxpayer how the items are buried or disguised. There is the cost, and it has to be paid, and whether principal or interest, there is only one way to pay it.

QUEBEC

By J. A. Sangster.

If you are a traveller, sailing up the St. Lawrence, what a picture Quebec presents, with her gilded domes, her sunlit steeples and the beauty and solidity of her varied architectural structures, founded, indeed, upon a lofty and majestic rock. If it be a Sunday morning the clear, bracing air seems to intensify the welcome strains of the sweet music of her many church bells. Looking over the Dufferin Terrace from Quebec, you have a broad range of beautifully diversified views surpassed by no other spot in the world. See her antiquities and curiosities. Mark well the many places gray with age and rich in historical interest. Take a ramble to see the landscape back of Quebec in view of the Laurentian Hills, and it will be to you "a thing of beauty and a joy forever." Mingle with her broad-minded people and at her feet you will launch forth from her shores upon the restless bosom of the noblest river on earth and with eye upturned to her stately summits your inmost soul will exclaim: Beautiful Quebec charming spot that has no peer, you will be the wonder and admiration of countless millions yet unborn.

Sparkling in the distance, as though she were the jewelled gates of a city of gold, Quebec stands out in all her effulgence as the entrance to a lovely, wealthy and healthful country. Within her portals are cities, towns and manufacturing centres which promise fair to rival Manchester, Leeds, Birmingham, Sheffield, Worcester and Kidderminster. A Dominion which, although almost limitless in area, has several continuous stretches of navigable waterways, each extending over two thousand miles, and two transcontinental railroads as long, with a call for others, and a network of railways throughout the more settled parts. Besides the ordinary farms in the more thickly populated provinces, there are, outside the boundaries, many extensive farms, it may be, with heavily loaded orchards of the most luscious fruits or perhaps covered with vegetables or made up of fields dancing with corn and grain, or yet again huge ranches able to pasture millions of cattle. Over her wide expanse are exhaustless hunting grounds and vast water areas teeming with fish and seal; many thousand square miles of forests that have not yet heard the woodman's axe and millions of acres of rich soil which have never felt the ploughman's blade. A country possessing the richest metals and most useful minerals of the world. Beyond all this far-reaching and almost unknown territory where countless herds of bison, horse and other animals roam at large over its vast prairies of waving grass. A smiling garden land of flowers everywhere. Canada enjoys a clear, bright atmosphere sweet, pure air; a varied and matchless climate creating healthy, sturdy and happy men and women. Who would not fight for such a land?

Quebec is pre-eminently "a city set on a hill." Before the advent of the red man was there no human life on this prominence? No succession of fierce contentions for mastery? Each tribe of Indians here in turn had its day, until finally the fiercest and most warlike tribe of these dusky denizens of the forest very reluctantly was forced to yield up this proud vantage ground to the destructive forearm of the French invaders. Next the British longed for a foothold in this Fortress of American waters, and sending Phips, demanded the surrender of Quebec, but Frontenac, as brave a general as adorns the pages of any country's history, sent back from his unassailable position on this height the haughty and defiant reply: "Go and say to your master I shall answer him by the mouth of the cannon." Later from Quebec's towering steep Montcalm, eagle-like, ceaselessly watched every manoeuvre of Wolfe in that deadly contest the British determination to get possession of and rest secure in the acie himself. I shall not here speak of Wolfe's many attempts to weaken or to out-general his tireless foe. How, for instance, from the high ground at Levis, across the river, he pointed his merciless artillery towards Quebec, and, hammering away, literally demolished "Lower Town," and yet how fruitless of good results such a prolonged cannonading was, as it left Montcalm unscathed and virtually unaffected in nature's acropolis. Suffice it to say "has by the shrewdest stratagem that dauntless hero at last succeeded in scaling the cliff near Quebec and the two armies were soon locked in deadly combat for the domination of America's Gibraltar and very reluctantly the French were forced to give up this "rock-bound citadel" to the British victors. In that dreadful contest the British and French, each alike, lost not only a gallant general, but death claimed for her own the greatest generals of a great age. We drop hot tears to their glorious and immortal memory and we breathe their names, if not their brows, with laurel and myrtle.

Oh, wondrous outcome, that the two most dominant and resourceful nations on earth, each of which, at that time, seemed bent upon the thwarting, disabling, yet upon the very annihilation of the other, should in this "Fair Canada" of ours have learned, through due respect for one another's traits, to live in such peace and concord that when, later, the Americans cast an envious eye on this "key-stone of the St. Lawrence" these two peoples, still speaking different languages, were able to repel the insolent invasion of a resourceful and haughty nation.

Quebec is truly the cradle of Canadian history. Here were the earliest as well as the most famous battles fought, and then, as ever since, she has nurtured her sons and daughters on her bosom of exhilarating breezes and sunshine; protection and liberty of thought and action; deeply-rooted patriotism and vigilance for a foreign aggressor. May that innate spirit never be quenched. Cruel, indeed, would be the mind that would conceive to sever; heartless the hand that would untie those priceless cords of friendship.

Of course Quebec does not yet close the epoch of her present history. Who can foretell her destiny; certain it is that, as in the past so in the future, it will remain for her two distinctive races, each maintaining its own, while respecting the other's characteristics and each imbued with a common love for dear old Canada, to say how long the adopted land of our forefathers, for which our ancestors toiled, fought, bled and saved their lives, will be our birthright, and who would not boast of such a glorious heritage?

There are two things of which we Quebecers feel justly proud—that we are Canadians and that, as such, we make up a part of the greatest empire that the world has ever seen—an empire the centre of which is graded by no less exalted a personage than His Most Excellent Majesty, King Edward VII., towards whom the eyes of his countless subjects are ever turned in admiring love. May God spare him long to guide the desherower on him His richest blessings of a faithful and loyal people.

Thermos

IN MID SUMMER

WILL BE A WELCOME COMPANION DURING YOUR VACATION

It will make your outing trip a thing long to be remembered. Ice cold or steaming hot beverages prepared early in the morning last all day or longer if you like—if you pour them in your Thermos. Just think of the work and trouble saved. The cook stove can rest, too. Don't you see it doubles your pleasure by doubling your play hours. And the best part of it is—you can take Thermos 100 miles away from the stove or ice box. It will serve you any hour of the day or night with Hot or Cold refreshments. Wonderful, isn't it? It is so wonderful that 720,000 were sold in the world in 1907. When you are out in the mountains, hills, rivers or lakes with good things in Thermos, you don't have to go way back to camp or hotel when lunch time comes. You will need Thermos for baby, too,—all the time. It keeps milk warm and sweet 24 hours. Thermos is indispensable in the sick room. It is a boon to invalids—and is always awake. It never sleeps. Invalids need have no more vain longing for refreshing nourishment night or day—they can help themselves at the bedside. The tired members of the household can sleep rights and saves running up and down stairs—Thermos does the work. For motorists, picknickers, fishermen, hunters, boating and travelling everywhere, Thermos is invaluable.

Thermos is made in two sizes—Pints $5, Quarts $7.50. You can get single or double leather carrying cases in any color you prefer; also special wicker cases for 6.

Thermos makes the most unique present you can give. For sale by over 50 leading stores in Montreal.

WEATHER PROOF AND THE PROOF IS HERE

Richard Harding Davis, the famous author, conducted an expedition into the heart of Africa; carried ice in Thermos Bottles into the Congo jungle. The temperature in that equatorial region is 120 deg. F., yet the ice was preserved perfectly in the Thermos Bottles.

The natives living under the broiling hot sun had never before seen ice and when they touched it they were overcome with superstitious fear.

Lt. Robt. E. Peary, U. S. N., the famous explorer of the Arctic Regions, kept liquid nourishment boiling hot in Thermos Bottles within 200 miles of the North Pole.

On his next trip, which begins soon, he will take a large number of Thermos Bottles and fill them at his base of supplies, and Thermos will go far to make this dash for the North Pole a success.

Bottle

IN MID WINTER

WILL BE A LIFE SAVER OUT IN THE BITTER COLD

In the sleigh, with the thermometer below zero, you can have steaming hot tea or broth. For coasting, snowshoe or toboggan enthusiasts, it banishes cold. You can warm the inner man with Thermos—and laugh at Jack Frost. If you enjoy skating, hockey or lacrosse now, Thermos will make you like it better. There is positively little fun in freezing—so why freeze when you can buy Thermos? Thermos is the hunter's delight. It promotes circulation—and makes you shoot straight. You can follow the moose or big game all day long—you can eat on the run. The game has to run and can't eat. Percentage in the Thermos hunter's favor. Cobalt, Vancouver and Northwest miners hail Thermos as a life protector every day in the year. Thermos provides them with pure drinking water instead of the prairie contaminated kind coming out of the ground. Thermos also gives them red hot soup, bouillon, coffee or tea, and makes some hardships easy. Timbermen, cattlemen, ranchmen, big and little farmers, will find Thermos invaluable. Railroad men, conductors, engineers on long runs can always have something from home in Thermos. Hospitals, both in the individual sick rooms and diet kitchen, find Thermos a friend in need. In fact, nearly everybody in every walk of life can use Thermos and promote their comfort.

Thermos Bottle is always ready for use. Filled, emptied and cleaned like any ordinary bottle. Never requires any preparation.

Every bottle guaranteed to hold hot and cold as claimed. Endorsed and recommended by Montreal's leading physicians.

MAGNIFICENT NUMBER

The Tercentenary Souvenir Number of The Standard, of Montreal, is certainly a magnificent production. That it is so keenly appreciated by the Canadian public and the visitors in Quebec must be gratifying to the publishers. It is a delight to all when a publication of genuine merit is receiving the universal applause that is accorded to The Standard. That paper, regardless of expense and regardless of pecuniary loss, which must be considerable, has endeavored to produce a work that would please the people of Canada, and give joy to friends in other lands, and its publishers have succeeded to an extent perhaps unparalleled in the history of commemorative publications.

Not least of the gratifying facts about The Standard is the enormous demand. It is reported that within two hours after the sale opened twenty-eight thousand copies had been purchased and the demand was only partially met. The sale had to be suspended for want of supplies. It is a great pity the purchasers will not be able to supply one half the number needed to meet the urgent demand all over Canada and the United States.

EIGHTH ROYAL RIFLES ORDERS

In deference to the interests of the Regimental performances, Colonel Wood has decided to eliminate the smoking concert on Friday night next, and to have this given at a later date.

Colonel Wood has also decided not to turn out his regiment on Thursday morning, as he feels it would be taxing the time of his men too much by asking them to do so.

The regiment will parade, however, at 9 a.m. on Friday for the Royal review on the Plains at 10 o'clock.

LE DON DE DIEU

On Thursday, 23rd July, steamship Champion will accompany Le Don de Dieu to Quebec. This steamer will leave Champlain Market wharf at 2 p.m. Fare 50 cents. July 21, 22x2

GOOD MINSTREL SHOW AT BENNETT'S

Colored Entertainers Giving Fine Programme During the Present Week.

Notwithstanding many counter attractions there was a good audience at Bennett's Auditorium last evening, when the Dandy Dixie minstrels gave their second evening performance. The company is composed of colored men, and as the majority of the race has always been recognized as vocalists of no mean order, it is almost needless to say that the songs on the programme were rendered in excellent style by the different members of the troupe, and in almost every instance the singers had to respond to repeated encores. All the humorists of the company had some original and most laughable jokes which pleased the audience immensely and peals of laughter greeted each witty rally. The vocalists of the company who won the favor of the audience were Messrs. M. Campbell, H. S. Wooten, Ed. Post, Monroe Tabac, Billy Wood, James Woodson and James Crosby. Mr. Arthur Prince and his educated hoops was a feature of the entertainment that was much appreciated, as was also the acting of Campbell and Megux, the black aristocrats, and M. Douglass, the wizard of the wheel.

The musical farce, entitled the "Possumville Spillers," rendered in fine style, brought a very successful entertainment to a close. The company is to perform every afternoon and evening during the remainder of the week, and there should be large audiences on each occasion.

The complete story of the discovery of America is old in this masterpiece and under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Veziha, director of the Quebec Symphony Orchestra, was marvellously successful in all its details. The fine finished execution of the orchestra composed of one hundred of Quebec's most brilliant and distinguished musicians ably accompanied four hundred or more vocalists, who interpreted the realistic and strongly defined emotions of Columbus, of his officers, sailors, friends, and the sad little sailor orphan lad, and finally of the lullaby of the loving Indian mother rocking her little child in its early cradle among the trees.

The entire musical production was so replete with interest and dramatic movement that the most willing critic might fail to single any special item for appreciation. Each chorus and solo differed completely from the others and yet each was faultless and found favor with the immense and delighted audience whose applause was almost intermittent. Miss Godbout, Miss Lacroix, Mr. Paul Dufault, Moise Raymond, Mr. J. A. Gagne and Mr. Jos. Saucier were the soloists chosen for this important Tercentenary function. Mr. Dufault is well known in American musical circles and everywhere that his highly cultured and expressive baritone voice has been heard he has been welcomed by all who love harmony, melody and a clear conception of an author's idea in the most difficult passages of sacred or profane music.

In the opening solo, "La Brise Qui Se Lève," and also in "Faithful Friends," his artistic vocal qualities were heard to advantage. The lovers parting duet, "Adieu, Ma Belle, a Toi, Toujours," was affectionately earnest and much admired. The chorus of prayer, "Dieu de Bonté," a touching appeal for protection on an hazardous voyage from home and loved ones was splendidly rendered and earned the vociferous applause of the multitude. Then followed the well known "Night in the Tropics" and that too received its meed of appreciation.

If there was one item in the programme which seemed to appeal to the popular fancy more than any other it was the rendition by Mr. Gagne, whose luscious baritone voice has often been heard by local concert-goers of the plaintive aria in the character of the orphan sailor boy, "Le Mer est ma Patrie." This number was greeted with prolonged applause and Mr. Gagne was compelled to respond to the recall which his work elicited. The next number "Qu'il Fait Bon, pres de Timon," sung by Mr. Dufault then came in for an outburst of enthusiasm and he too was compelled to repeat the song.

"The Chorus of the Ocean Spirits" was rendered with all the finish and sublimity grandeur possible only to a chorus of nearly half a thousand trained voices. "Les Douces Voix des Genies" completed the programme, which constituted, from a musical point what the pageants are in a dramatic sense in the perfect completion of this Tercentenary of ours.

Then burst upon the enthralled listeners the fierce and terribly thrilling music of the tropical ocean storm. It was a grand piece of orchestration in vivid contrast the calm, the heart-breaking calm, which ushered in the moutinous "Levons Nous" and the indignant "Ou sont les Rives Fortunées."

The baritone solo "Attendez la Nouvelle Aurore," sung with the success which always attends Mr. Moise Raymond's appearance came as a sweetly soft contrast after the wildly tempestuous music which had so lately been performed. "Land, Land at Last," opened the fifth part of the programme. The Indian ballet dance followed and afterwards the sweet and tender strains of the "Indian Mother's Lullaby," sung by Miss Laroux filled the theatre with its melodious cadences. The grand final chorus, "A Toi, Chef Immortel" brought to a close a performance which will live forever in the memory of those citizens who witnessed it and will furnish to them a narrative that generations shall not efface, an artistic performance in the success of which each one of the orchestra and chorus have just reason to feel proud.

Christophe Colomb will be repeated this evening.

You shake down the ashes —not the coal—in the

"Hecla" Furnace

There are four grate bars in the "Hecla" Each one can be shaken separately.

You don't have to shake the whole fire to get out the ashes around the edges of the firepot. You don't shake down a lot of good coal with the ashes. You don't have to use a poker at all.

The "Hecla" Triangular Bar Grate allows you to shake just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals.

Naturally, one grate is easier to shake, than four all geared together. That is why people find the HECLA "no trouble to look after."

Fused Joints—a patented "Hecla" feature—keep the house free of gas, smoke and dust. Write for free copy of our new catalogue which describes these and other special features.

ANOTHER FINE DAY'S RACING

Big Crowd Saw a Splendid Series of Contests at Exhibition Grounds.

The third day of the meeting brought to the track a larger crowd than either of the previous days. They evinced more interest in the different events than ever before. There was a greater play in the ring and one of the bookmakers was put out of business by the heavy clean-up made on the horse Herman Johnson, who won his third race at this meeting. This horse was held at as good as four to one against his chances. The trainer of this horse made a big clean-up and told all his friends about the coup to be pulled off. This race was one of the closest of the meeting, as the winner and Niblick raced close together all the last part of the trip.

The talent got a bump in the first race, when Manheimer was thrown out of the race by running out to avoid going over one of the assistant starters. This killed any chance he had of beating the fast little mare Dandy Dancer. The track was lightning fast and the time made in all of the events was good. Even in the race for non-commissioned officers, the six furlongs was run in 1:30, the horse carrying upwards of 140 pounds. In this event, the silver cup offered was won by Gigsamps, the only thoroughbred in the race winning by ten lengths. The first race saw a field of good sprinters face the flag. Manheimer was the odd on first choice and was well supported. When the barrier went up, one of the assistant starters got in front of him and Englander had to take him up to avoid an accident. This killed any chance he had for he was cut off and could never get through. Dandy Dancer rushed to the front and won tipping her field. Whisk Broom and Inspector Purvis fought it out all the way up the stretch, the former winning by a couple of lengths. Inspector seemed to tire.

It was all Long John in the two-year-old race; he was taken to the front soon after the start and led all the way. Flat Creek was the contender and at one time looked to have a chance to beat the favorite; there was a heavy play on Dr. Meyers in this race, but he ran disappointingly. The third race was an easy thing for the first choice, Billie Hibbs. He tipped his field, outclassing them, and won by over a length. L. M. Eckert fought it out with Gibson, outgaining him at the end. The others were never contenders. The fourth race was Halbard all the way. He won by three lengths pulled up, while Waterlaka was just as far ahead of King Cole. Halbard was the public choice on his splendid race of Saturday.

Herman Johnson and Niblick made a race of it in the fifth, by running head and head all the last part of the journey. Herman Johnson was always the best and stood the drive in better shape than did Niblick. The others in this field were outrun all the way, although Caper Sauce made up a lot of ground and finished a fair third. Miss Vigilant, after her easy victory of yesterday, seemed sore and ran disappointingly. The last race of the day was for non-commissioned officers and was won in a romp from the rest of the field. Trooper Littlewood was by far the best rider and had the only thoroughbred in the lot.

The card this afternoon brings out one of the strongest fields of horses at this meeting. There are over half a hundred named to face the flag. In the first race, Star Emblem, after his good race the last time out, should hold his field safe. Alec Grant, who will start for the first time, will be the contender and should be second with Vardoe third.

The second race should see Park Row go to the post first choice and should have no trouble in winning from this lot. Whisk Broom, after her race of yesterday, will surely be the contender and will be second, with Blue Coat, who has just about rounded into form, third.

The third race will probably go to Sparkles with L. M. Eckert the one to beat. This pair will be close together at the end, while Cursus will be right up. Bitter Hand will have to carry more weight than on Monday, but in this field it should not stop him. He should win, while Caper Sauce will likely be second and Allis third.

The fifth race will be one that will be hard to pick. Coksure has beaten better horses and should win from this lot to-day. Gibson is now in good form and will be the one to beat, with Dashaway third.

SENIOR LACROSSE.

All our lacrosse loving populace is now eagerly looking forward to the senior lacrosse match next Saturday afternoon on the Q.A.C. grounds between the National and Toronto teams. This event is made one of the big ones of the general programme, and no effort or expense has been spared to bring here the two best teams in the Senior League. After all, when all is said and done, there is nothing pleases our population so much on a Saturday afternoon as a good exhibition of the national game, and with such an attraction as is being provided for next Saturday no one can say that we do not have the best sporting events in Quebec. Both teams will be very keen to win the match both on account of the handsome trophies that will go to the winners, as well as on account of their desire to appear favorably before the notable guests who will be present. No stranger to this country should fail to take this opportunity of seeing the historic game at its best and as for our own people they can be relied on to attend en masse.

MUSICAL RIDE BY NORTH-WEST MOUNTED POLICE.

Additions are constantly being made to the Tercentenary Sports Committee programme, and we have now the pleasure of announcing that, through the courtesy of Commissioner Perry, the North-West Mounted Police will give one of their famous musical rides at the Friday afternoon sports on the Q.A.C. grounds. This very novel and interesting performance will naturally be made the central event of the afternoon, but an excellent programme will also be prepared at military and naval sports. These will include games, races, tug-of-war, &c. &c. The Gentlemen Cadets of the Royal Military College, Kingston, whose admirable work has already won such high praise, have also kindly consented to give another display of gymnastics. We trust that the efforts of the Committee to provide a series of sporting attractions worthy of the occasion with which they are connected, will be appreciated by Quebecers and their visitors, as also the kindness from many quarters which has enabled them to include in their programme so many magnificent attractions.

CENTLEMEN CADETS GAVE FINE DISPLAY

Wonderful Driving by the Members of Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

There were two features which stood out with remarkable prominence at the military and naval sports on the Q.A.C. grounds yesterday afternoon, and these two awoke the greatest of enthusiasm among the large crowd assembled. They were the remarkable gymnastic display given by the Gentlemen Cadets of the Royal Canadian Military College, Kingston, Ont., and the sensational driving of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

The Cadets are a fine-looking lot of muscular young fellows, and their physical development and training seems to be about perfection. They gave an exhibition of calisthenic drill and their marching and movements were done with machine-like precision combined with graceful abandon that caught the immediate fancy of the beholders. They presented a no less striking appearance in the vaulting horse exercise, while the pyramids were cleverly formed and made splendid tableaux.

The driving exhibition given by the R.C.H.A. was something which at times almost took the breath away. There were four field guns, each with six horses, and the manner in which the drivers handled them in the circumscribed space marked off was perilously daring but remarkably accurate. That the exhibition was really a perilous one, was amply evidenced when, on a particularly sharp turn, one of the carriages upset completely bringing down the two rear horses and drivers. It looked like a bad smash for a moment, but military discipline came into play immediately, and the drivers stuck to their horses, every man to his place, the gun was speedily unhitched without any fuss and the horses raised. No one was hurt and after being hitched up again, the wild gallop was continued as if nothing had happened. The narrow margin by which the gun carriages seemed to miss each other in the intricate movements through, which they were so successfully guided was almost hair-raising. It was a great exhibition certainly.

There were races of all descriptions for the sailors and soldiers, still races, sack races and wheelbarrow races, into which the competitors entered with the greatest of vim, providing plenty of fun for the on-lookers. The band of the R.C.H.A. was sent and performed a choice selection of music during the afternoon.

THEN YOU'LL THINK OF MOTHER.

When her weary hands shall rest, Folded on her quiet breast, Then you'll think of mother.

How in work those hands once moved For the children that she loved, Those toil-worn hands of mother.

When her eyes shall close in sleep, From which they'll never wake to weep, Then you'll think of mother.

Oh, the vigils they have kept, In the night while others slept, Those love-lit eyes of mother!

When her tongue shall silent be, Read no more, nor sing for thee, Then you'll think of mother.

Then your aching heart will long For the counsel, prayer and song From the tongue of mother.

When the lips shall part no more, With the dear, sweet smile of yore, Then you'll think of mother.

Think of every loving kiss, Which thrilled your childish heart with bliss, From the lips of mother.

Years will pass—they're fleeting now, Bring no shadow on her brow, But kindly think of mother; Help her often as you may, Life with her is such brief day,— Life is on earth with mother.

Wait not till her soul is last, To the home alone has passed, But show your love to mother; Cheer her while on earth she stays, By your loving acts and ways, Be dutiful to mother.

LONGBOAT'S ACCIDENT IS NOT BELIEVED

General Opinion is That the Indian Can Win the Marathon. London, July 21.—If the Indian, Longboat, is allowed to run in the Marathon, which it is believed he will, the committee having already decided not to allow the protest filed against him by the United States committee, it is likely that the prize in this event will again go to Canada. Little credence is placed in the reports in circulation of accidents to the Indian runner, and also that he is not well. A lot of money is being bet on the Marathon, the Englishmen freely backing A. Duncan, of the Salford Harriers, who covered the course at the trial in 2 hours 15 minutes. Beale, who ran second to Duncan, and T. Jack, another smart long distance man. The Canadians are ready to support their man almost to any amount.

ENJOYABLE NAVAL BALL LAST EVENING

Citizens of Quebec Entertained by Officers of the British Fleet.

A most magnificent ball was given last evening in the spacious apartments of the Parliament Buildings by Admiral Curzon Howe and officers of the British fleet now in port. Over one thousand invitations had been issued and from all parts of the Province responses accepting or regretting were received. Externally, beyond the display of electric lights for the tercentenary there was nothing to denote the fact that a great social function, resplendent with beauty and chivalry, was going on within. Long before the hour fixed for the ball, carriages and automobiles continued to roll up to the scene of festivity and though a large number of guests were in attendance, so excellent were the arrangements, that no one was crowded or unduly inconvenienced. All through the evening light refreshments were served and at midnight a sumptuous supper was partaken of.

The appointments for the ball were on a most elaborate scale. The splendid Legislative Council room and the Chamber of the Legislative Assembly presented a most beautiful and animated appearance. These halls are so handsome that they require to set them off little or no decorations. Brilliantly lighted and with flags, banners, streamers and streamers over the doorways, windows and skirting the galleries, they afforded a picture of esquisse which was admired by all. Palms, ferns and other plants and cut flowers were exquisitely placed in all the rooms and corridors, while other greeneries garlanded the supper room.

The floors of the two improvised ball-rooms were gorgeously festooned with bunting and during the evening excellent music was discoursed by the bands of H. M. S. Albermarle and H. M. S. Exmouth. The ball surpassed all expectations in the magnificence of its tout ensemble while the ladies toilets were in great taste and beauty. Many entirely new costumes were worn and the lovely gowns easily graced and enhanced the beauty of Quebec's fair sisterhood, as well as those drawn, one might say from every part of the continent, from Ontario, the great West, Maritime Provinces, from New York, Baltimore, Boston and other American cities.

It was early in the morning before the enjoyable entertainments closed the guests departing with very pleasant recollections of the hospitality of their gallant hosts. FOR THE TERCENTENARY. The Montreal Herald says:—Mr. Byron Nicholson, who is well-known to the Canadian public as the author of books dealing in a popular manner with the topography and history of Quebec, has come up to time for the Tercentenary by the issue of a handsomely illustrated volume entitled "In Old Quebec." The volume will form an interesting souvenir of a visit to the Ancient Capital, and should be of value as an aid to the realization of the atmosphere and historic significance of the town and its vicinity. The pictures are unusually good, and range far beyond the ramparts of Champlain's town, including as they do Canadian points of interest from Victoria, B.S., to Halifax, N.S. The reading matter exhibits Mr. Nicholson's usual wide acquaintance with Canadian antiquities, and is full of picturesque touches of imagination. Do Your Ears Ache? Why not use Polson's Nerviline? At the end of the conference Sir Thomas Lipton wrote out on the back of a programme a statement of how a race could be brought about and what he is willing to do. This he gave to Sir Thomas Dewar, who, in turn, gave it out for the benefit of the general public. The statement follows: "By the mutual agreement clause the New York Yacht Club can change the conditions from 90 feet load water line to the new measurement rules of their club, adopted to prevent the exaggerated type of yacht that has recently developed from the unrestricted over all measurement and flat section boats such as the Shamrock III and the Reliance.

The last challenge was refused among other reasons, because the proposed boat was too small, viz., 75 feet on the load water line or thereabouts. Sir Thomas is now willing to challenge with a 90-footer, the biggest size allowable by the deed of gift, if the New York Yacht Club want the largest size."

Sir Thomas is much elated over the yachting success he has had this season and he has high hopes that his proposed challenge will be accepted in America.

AIRSHIP LANDS SAFELY

While Count Zeppelin was engaged yesterday in establishing a fresh record with his airship, on which he has already been congratulated by the emperor in a telegram describing his achievement as the commencement of a new national era, the navigable balloon of the aeronautical department of the army was going through an experience that must have proved very exciting to the half-dozen occupants of the aerostat.

NEW TELEPHONE MARVEL EXHIBITED IN LONDON

Invention by Which Speaking and Handwriting May be Transmitted Simultaneously and With Little Trouble

The marvel of the telephone has become commonplace through daily usage. Fresh interest however, is likely to be aroused in its wonderful possibilities by a new invention, of which a demonstration has just been witnessed in this city.

The inventor is a German, Herr Gustav Graunna, and his mission to this country is an outcome of the new patent laws. His marvelous apparatus has already been exhibited in Germany, where it has aroused profound interest.

How the Instrument Works. This wonderful system of telephony is accomplished by means of a light ray traveling over sensitized paper. The graphite pencil at the transmitter end has two electrical contacts, one for horizontal and the other for vertical movement, a curve being made up of the component parts of one or the other. On taking the pencil from off its rest a tiny electric glow lamp in the receiver box is illuminated. The light from this lamp is conducted to a prism, from which it is reflected on to two little pivoted mirrors, one of which corresponds with the circles of horizontal movement and the other with that of the vertical.

The special correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt at Teheran telegraphs under yesterday's date that the Russian colonel of Cossacks, Liakhoff, whom the shah appointed as military governor when he placed Teheran in a state of siege, publishes a proclamation prohibiting the use of firearms under a penalty of severe imprisonment. In addition, offered to soldiers will also be rigorously punished. The activity of the 'dictator' extends even to measures for cleaning the streets, the sale of bread and meat, and the location of cash ranks. The dictator's commands create widespread popular resentment. It is rumored that the Cossack brigade will shortly be strengthened to 3,000 men.

ZAM-BUK SAVED THIS BABY. Mrs. M. Barrett, 600 Moreau St., Montreal, says: "A horrid rash came out all over my baby's face and spread until it had totally covered his scalp. It was irritating and painful, and caused the little one hours of suffering. We tried soaps and powders and salves, but he got no better. He refused his food, got quite thin and worn, and was reduced to a very serious condition. I was advised to try Zam-Buk, and did so. It was wonderful how it seemed to cool and ease the child's burning, painful skin. Zam-Buk from the very commencement seemed to go right to the spot, and the pimples and sores and the irritation grew less and less. Within a few weeks my baby's skin was healed completely. He has now not a trace of rash, or eruption, or eczema, or burning sore. Not only so, but cured of the tormenting skin trouble, he has improved in general health."

He Was a Prophet. In Cheshire, England, there are legends of a prophet, one Robert Nixon, who is supposed to have lived in the days of King James I. His fame spread, and the king sent for him, according to the story. Nixon was greatly distressed. He wept and mourned, saying that if he went to London he should be starved. When he arrived at court the king, having hidden a ring, asked him to find it. Nixon replied, "He who hideth can find." This greatly struck the monarch, who ordered him to be kept in the kitchen so that there might be no fear of his being starved. Nixon had a great appetite—he could manage a leg of mutton at a sitting—and he became such a nuisance that one day the cooks locked him in a closet. Here he was forgotten, and his prophecy came true—he was starved to death. The closet is shown in Hampton Court; but, unfortunately for the veracity of the tale, that portion of the building was not built till the reign of King William III.

To Save One's Bacon. Some think that the phrase "to save one's bacon" arose at the time of the civil wars in England, when housewives in the country had to take extraordinary precautions to save bacon, their principal provision, from the greedy appetite of soldiers. In a slang sense bacon stands for the human body, and "to save one's bacon" is just to escape, so that when it is said that a man has saved his bacon it refers to himself, as do the cognate expressions, "Spare my bacon" and "Sell one's bacon." Thus in Carlyle's "Schiller" we read, "To the knave I sold my bacon, and by him good charge of the whole is taken." Others have less probably connected the phrase with the times when heresy was exalted at the stake, and a man was said to have "saved his bacon" who had narrowly escaped being burned alive. The French have a very similar phrase, "Sauver son lard."

How Sparks Are Formed. Sparks are formed by the expansion, under the action of heat, of air contained in the minute cells of wood, coal or other burning substance and also by the evolution of gas in the same cells. When the elastic force of the imprisoned gas or air is greater than the tenacity of the material can hold in check, then the small cells or cavities burst, and the flying splinters rise as sparks. A sharp crack commonly accompanies the explosion and continues as hundreds of these cells burst in rapid succession. The quick flight of these burning particles acts as a fan to increase the flame, and when the substance burns so far that no more flame is formed the remaining carbon ash is kept in a state of incandescence by the draft of air. When all the carbon has been consumed the spark dies out, as is evident if we watch a falling spark on a dark night.

Raisins and Alcohol. "By the way, speaking of raisins," said a California grower, "did you ever know that they are a great help to sobriety? No; I do not mean that they will cure one of a taste for alcoholic stimulants, but that they will enable one to keep sober even when drinking to a considerable extent. The raisins absorb alcohol, and so, no matter how much one drinks, if he will eat raisins continually, not less than three or four to each glass of beer, for example, they will prevent the alcohol from being taken up in the blood and thus preserve a state of sobriety."

The Habit of Unhappiness. Most unhappy people have become so by gradually forming a habit of unhappiness, complaining about the weather, finding fault with their food, with crowded cars and with disagreeable companions or work. A habit of complaining, of criticizing, of fault finding or grumbling over trifles, a habit of looking for shadows, is a most unfortunate habit to contract, especially in early life, for after awhile the victim becomes a slave. All of the impulses become perverted until the tendency to pessimism, to cynicism, is chronic.—Success.

Amethystine Cups. The word amethystine means not intoxicated or drunken, because the stone was supposed to possess the virtue of preventing drunkenness, leaving the wearer or drinker not intoxicated. For this reason it was made into drinking cups by the ancient Persians, but unfortunately tradition leaves us in doubt as to whether it was this misplaced confidence or not that led to the discontinuance of the amethystine cup.

Uric Acid. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. The percentage of this poison in various articles of diet is: Fish, 8.15; mutton, 6.76; veal, 8.14; pork, 8.48; beefsteak, 14.45; liver, 19.26; coffee, 4.53; tea, 3.22. Milk and vegetables contain more, except the potato, which has a trace of uric acid.

Bacilli at Masked Balls. Trench and Lelli demonstrate a probable source of disease transmission in the lending of masks by costumers. Virulent tubercle bacilli, to say nothing of pneumococci, streptococci, etc., were found in eight out of forty-two masks examined.—New York Medical Journal.

What Did She Want? Mrs. Newkirk—I want to get some salad. Dealer—Yes, ma'am. How many heads? Mrs. Newkirk—Oh, goodness! I thought you took the heads off. I just want plain chicken salad.—Philadelphia Ledger.

KENT HOUSE GROUNDS. No visitor to the Tercentenary celebration in Quebec should return home without taking advantage of the opportunity to pay a visit to one of the most delightful, as well as handsome spots of the Dominion. Kent House and its grounds have become famed throughout America, and the Falls are well worthy of seeing. The other attractions are many and varied, and the frequent and rapid electric tram service makes the resort easy of access.

ANGLES AND JESTS. Artistic Preception. Young Dauber hired a pretty lass to pose, and when it came to pass A matrimonial knot was tied His model was the blushing bride. His female relatives exclaimed, "Why, Francis ought to be ashamed!" But Dauber leads a happy life, For, oh, he won a model wife!

The Limit. Bache—Won't your wife let you smoke around the house? Benne—Oh, yes, she doesn't mind my smoking around it, but she won't let me smoke inside it!

Nothing but Fun For Him. He went the pace, he sowed Wild oats with all his might, But do not weep for him; His sated soul took flight— His weary eyes were closed in sleep— Before 'twas time for him to reap.

Should Have Known Better. "What started the trouble between the Browns?" "Brown asked his wife a question while she was trying to put her hair up a new way."

Who Can Tell? This doth the child's mind beg— The tot would like to know "When a puppy turns to a great big dog, Where does the puppy go?"

Economy of Effort. "My sakes, how well your husband is trained! How did you ever do it?" "I didn't. He was a widower when I got him. It saves a lot of trouble."

The Difference of a Letter. When the hunter comes home from the hill He may not have much in his bag, But then it's quite certain he will Be strong as of old in his brag.

Didn't Care For Lectures. "My wife has such a cold that she can't speak." "I thought you looked uncommonly happy."

Their Lot. See Mr. Opossum and wife, While envy around them is rife They don't have to look To get a new cook— One serves them for all of their life.

Typical. Fuddy—They say Pinchey has money to burn. Duddy—That's because he never burns any.

Heartless. There was a gay maid of Japan Who never would love any man, The reason for this: The heartless young rascal Was only a maid on a tap.

Immaterial. Jones (at the bank)—Must I be Memphed? Teller—Not unless you wish; the check is no good.

A Supreme Test. In days of old those doughty knights Were eager for all kinds of fights, Yet who of them could rise to fame In any modern football game?

An Insultation. Bill—A man wouldn't expect to be cheated in church; now, would he? Jill—No, not unless he was married there.

Much From Little. Although the doctor cured him With a homeopathic pill, He subsequently flouted him With an allopathic bill.

Pretty Near the Truth. "No, I don't think much of a man who uses a perfume. Do you?" "No, indeed. Usually he isn't worth a cent."

A Query. I'm very modest—would not hint At any merit in my verse. But when I see the things they print A sadly ask, "Can mine be worse?"

Hopeless. "You could have caught that car. Why didn't you run for it?" "The motorman was looking at me."

Appreciation. To read them o'er I love to pause, Those poems in the magazine, They really soothe me more because I never know just what they mean.

His Meanness. Sally Gay—And after you rejected him— Dolly Swift—Oh, he married disgustingly well!

When Eggs Are High. The farmer thinks revenge is sweet And not at all a vicious whim, Provided it's his vengeance he gets, 'Who hate him so they lay for him.

Classified. Knicker—And was the love letter Exhibit A? Bocker—No; Exhibit Jay.

Not Too Rare. The day was raw, but patiently He stayed till set of sun, And then he liked it better, for At last the day was done.

In His Mind. Gerald—I claim to be a gentleman! Geraldine—But we all haven't your imagination.

For Cigars, You Can't Beat
"DIXIE or CAMILLO"
 You'll Say So Too If You
 Try One.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CAN BE HAD IN
 25c. TRIAL SIZE
 AS WELL AS IN REGULAR 50c.
 BOXES.

Everybody Can Afford To Give These Wonderful Tablets a Trial at Least
 And Prove Their Value

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets," the wonderful medicine made from the juices of ripe fruits, have scored a remarkable success. The demand for them has grown in four years till it now extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Druggists at first bought them in lots of one dozen boxes—to retail for $6.00. Now it is no uncommon thing to receive orders from wholesalers for 100 gross lots (14,400 boxes)—to retail for $7,200. There is only one reason for this great success—they cure sick people.

But still there are homes where "Fruit-a-tives" have not been tried—homes where they still suffer from Constipation, Biliousness, Kidney Trouble, Skin Diseases, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and kindred painful and weakening ailments—often because they have not cared to risk 50c. to try "Fruit-a-tives" when other medicines—supposed to cure—could be had for 25c.

This last objection to trying "Fruit-a-tives" has now been overcome. We have put out a new trial size to retail at 25c. The price no longer stands in the way. Get a trial box and see for yourself that "Fruit-a-tives" will help you. If your dealer has not the 25c. trial size, let us know. Give us your name and address and we will send you a booklet—free—containing valuable recipes and stories of what "Fruit-a-tives" have done. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

MILITARY TATTOO
WAS SPECTACULAR
 One of the Most Brilliant Scenes Ever Witnessed in Quebec.

Brilliant and picturesque in the extreme was the spectacle provided by the military tattoo on the Quebec Athletic Club grounds last evening, and nothing to compare with it, it can with all truthfulness be said, has ever been seen in the Ancient Capital. Eleven bands participated and they were accompanied by torch-bearers, bringing the total number of performers fully up to 500. The large audience present was very enthusiastic in their demonstrations of approval, but had the general public as well as the thousands of visitors present in town realized the really remarkable sight which the whole performance proved, there would without doubt have been an attendance which would have strained the spacious stands to the bursting point. However, another opportunity will be afforded to-night to those who desire to witness one of the most interesting and most peculiarly British features of the whole celebration of the Tercentenary. There seems no doubt but that the remarkable success which the tattoo met with last night will result this evening in an attendance which will eclipse anything yet seen on the Q.A.C. grounds.

The sight as the different bands marched on the grounds playing their various regimental marches, and escorted by torch-bearers, was a unique one, and one which evoked loud applause, the pipe band of the Highlanders coming in for a specially warm reception.

After the bands had taken up their positions the massed organizations rendered a number of selections under the direction of Mr. John Slatter, W.O., bandmaster of the 45th Highlanders, among them being the "British Grenadiers," "Red White and Blue," "O Canada," "Marsellaise," "God Bless the Prince of Wales," etc. These selections were received with loud applause as they were heard in turn, and then the strains changed to those of a religious and devotional character. As the camp sank to rest, after the day of duty, the music of a number of hymns, beloved by all, were heard. The soldiers, around the camp fires, have a period of leisure. The melody of songs and the rollicking abandon of Scottish dances is heard and seen, under the rays of the flickering torches. Then the torches are extinguished, and stillness reigns, no lights being seen but the glare of the camp fires at the door of the different tents. Suddenly the attack of the enemy is heard. The sleeping camp is roused to life, and amid the explosion of bombs and the discharge of variegated fireworks the whole impressive scene comes to a spectacular end. "God Save the King" is played by the massed bands, and troops and spectators troop off well satisfied with the whole performance. There has possibly never been such a unique performance as that which was given on the Q.A.C. grounds last evening, and it is a question if a military tattoo has ever before been given in Canada with the bands drawn from such distant varied parts of the Dominion.

"The Blood is The Life."
 Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge.
 When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also affected, the mind and judgement are clouded, and many an evil deed or impure thought can be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Pure, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures and cures the blood, thereby curing pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr.
 Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by inclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the name being attested as correct under oath.
 Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

Mr. and Mrs. Foley, Mobile, Ala.;
 Mr. A. Jonannet and Miss Shea, Boston; Mrs. Turcot, Montreal, and the Misses Foley, of Ottawa, are in town
 the guests of Alderman and Mrs.
 Foley.
 Miss Irene McFaul daughter of Capt.
 James McFaul, Pascagoula, Miss., a former Quebecer, is in town for the Tercentenary celebration, and is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. (Ald.) P.
 Dinn.

At a banquet given to the delegates of the City of London, in Paris, by the Committee of Industry and Commerce, of the Republic of France, the Champagne used was G. H. Mumm &
 Co.'s Cordon Rouge.

 ion, Montreal, are in town, the guests cester, Mass., are visiting the city of rence MacLeod, who motored from
