

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

September 18 to 25

Blue sky mornings with heavy dews or rime frosts. Drizzle for northern counties and the Gulf.

Mainly sunny into the middle of the week, then stormy as two hurricanes near the Atlantic States. Tornado conditions in the central States, with gale winds and thunderstorms for all Eastern Canada.

Sunny periods and light intermittent showers into the week-end. Nights frosty. Temperature range, night and day: 30 and 70°F.

7 accidents in 7 days 3 persons hospitalized

Westmount was the scene of seven car mishaps in the last week resulting in three persons being taken to hospital.

Poor weather conditions were believed partly responsible for the high number of accidents.

Last Friday, two cars collided at the corner of Greene avenue and Dorchester Blvd. at 8.09 a.m.

There were no injuries. Damage was estimated at $225.00.

On Saturday there were three accidents.

The first happened at the corner of Cedar and Clarke avenues at 12.58 a.m. when one car on a stop and another on a through street collided at the intersection. There were no injuries.

Saturday's second accident took place at the corner of St. Catherine and Western when a driver smashed into some traffic dividing signs.

The accident took place at 3.22 a.m. The driver of the car was arrested and charged with three offenses of the Highway Code.

The last accident on Saturday happened at the corner of Clarke and Western avenues at 7.50 p.m.

As a lady was getting out of her car on Clarke avenue, another car slammed into the opened door. The door was badly damaged but no one was hurt.

There were also three accidents on Monday.

The first took place at the cor-

Westmount, Montreal agree

Westmount City officials have agreed to co-ordinate construction schedules with Montreal, in the Dorchester Blvd. widening program.

On Wednesday, the Drapeau-Saulnier administration approved recommendations by Montreal Planning Director Aime Desautels to nearly double the width of Dorchester between Guy street and Atwater avenue.

Westmount demolitions are about completed which will permit similar treatment for Atwater to similar treatment from Atwater to its western extremity, where fork into St. Catherine street.

Montreal Administration Chairman Lucien Saulnier said Westmount has agreed to work with Montreal in the construction timing and that Mr. Desautels has been authorized to enter into talks with representatives of the suburb for such purpose.

Bookie gets booked, fined and jailed

A St. Antoine street man appeared in Westmount court Wednesday, for a second time, on the same charge, "bookmaking."

The bookie was operating from the rear of a store he owned on St. Antoine street.

Last time he appeared in court here, he was given a fine and set free.

Wednesday, he was also given a fine, $300, and in addition he was given 15 days in jail, or no fine and 30 days.

30 day search uncovers stolen cheques — and thief

Two Westmount detectives who refused to give up a case were rewarded last week with the arrest of a man they had been seeking for over a month in connection with some stolen travelers cheques.

The cheques were taken several weeks ago from a home on Rosemount avenue.

The man was given over to Montreal where he is wanted for two more cases of breaking and entering.

Westmount detectives knew that the man lived in the Guy street-Peel street area and also knew of several establishments where he was a well known visitor.

For a month they watched and waited — with no results.

They had checked several places in the area where he had been living, but they always seemed to have just missed him.

Finally they caught him in a Peel street apartment building.

After questioning, the detectives were unable to get from him the hiding place of the cheques.

When they told him they would search his apartment and his newly discovered place of employment, he gave in and brought them to the cheques. They were behind a radiator in a building on Guy street.

Westmount's second candidate

NDP's Geoffrey Adams

NDP's Geoffrey Adams to run in Westmount

In a written statement to The Examiner, Mr. Adams said:

"In calling a federal election for November 8, Mr. Pearson and the Liberals seem to have failed again to understand the mood of the Canadian public. As in the days of the pipe-line debate, they have put party interest and the control of Parliament above national interest. They cannot claim that the opposition parties have prevented the carrying out of government business. In fact, the opposition, particularly the NDP, has prodded them along and made sure that key legislation gets consideration. It is clear that the only purpose for the coming election as far as the Liberals are concerned is the one thought up in the Toronto office of their key organizer, Mr. Keith Davey: to win a majority. Mr. Pearson, pretending to look forward, has surrendered to the party professionals.

Why?

"On the defensive, a minority government like the Pearson government has to make at least an attempt at responsible government. Left to themselves, with the kind of majority they had before 1957, the Liberals are bound to revert to the arrogant attitude towards Parliament and the com-placement attitude towards the country's welfare they showed then. Nothing could be more dangerous to Canada's future than the confirmation in power of a party recently shaken to its foundations by multiple scandals, incapable of reforming itself from within, and lacking any clear overall programme for this nation's welfare and its unity.

Organs Are Sick

"It is especially disturbing at such a critical time in Canada's history that the representatives of the Province of Quebec in Ottawa in no way reflect the boldness and imaginative, creative quality that has been shown in our provincial administration since 1960. True, there is Maurice Sauve. But look what happened to him! He went to Ottawa determined to give the Federal Liberals a blood transfusion. But the patient soon enough relapsed, because its vital organs are sick. And that is where the NDP comes in. Since 1963, when the New Democratic Party made its first real breakthrough in votes in Quebec, it has made immense progress. Now, under the vigorous leadership of Robert Cliche, it forms a rallying-point for Quebec progressives. Quebec's voice in tackling the serious problems in domestic policy (inflation, the war on poverty, job retraining, bargaining rights for civil servants, Canadian unity) cannot be the voice of the Liberal Old Guard. The NDP offers Quebec voters a clear choice for a Canada devoted to genuine reform and unity at home and willing to speak and act boldly for peace abroad."

Conservatives are conferring here privately

Westmount Conservatives — who have seen their fortunes ebb and flow during the days of Hon. R. S. White, Hon. Douglas Abbott, A. R. Webster and the present incumbent — are back in the candidate-hunting business today.

Peter Kerrigan, it is understood, is not seeking the nomination again, and while a nominating convention is being tentatively planned for a couple of weeks from now, the 'back-room' boys are taking a good close look at several possibilities.

As is usual at this stage of operations, a cloud of silence is hanging low over Westmount Tories.

By far the busiest home in Westmount this week was that of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Buchanan, 650 Grosvenor avenue.

Last Sunday, Mrs. Buchanan greeted 11 young people from Gibraltar who are visiting Canada through the Commonwealth Youth Movement. She found them homes in Westmount to stay in while they were in Montreal and in her position as Chairman of the Ladies' Committee of the Youth Movement, was responsible for their program, while in Montreal.

Meanwhile, as all this was going on, Mr. Buchanan dashed out to Dorval International Airport to meet a BOAC flight from Britain. On board were 27 young business executives from Britain who are involved in "Operation Maple Leaf" a project put on by the Royal Commonwealth Society.

Mr. Buchanan, who is Chairman of the Canadian Royal Commonwealth Society's National Council, has arranged for them a tour of such cities as Quebec, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Halifax.

While in Montreal they will live in Westmount homes. After a five day visit here they will move on to Ottawa.

Although Mrs. Buchanan's 11 left for home on Thursday, she is by no means resting, now she is helping her husband in following out plans for a full scale tour of Montreal for the members of Operation Maple Leaf.

Also on hand to meet the group at the airport was Westmount's Liberal candidate, Hon. C. M. Drury, Minister of Industry and Mr. Arnold Heckle, Principal British Trade Commissioner.

The 27 guests were taken from the airport to Victoria Hall where they were greeted by Mayor M. Tucker.

After a brief reception, they were driven to their appointed homes. Their five day tour of Montreal began yesterday with a visit to the CNR Hump Yards and the Air Canada Repair Depot.

Today, they tour Expo '67. On leaving Montreal, they will go to Ottawa, where they, on Sept. 23, will again meet Mr. Drury and be his guests at a luncheon reception.

C. M. Drury, Mr. W. G. Buchanan, and Mr. Arnold Heckle, Principal British Trade Commissioner. The group began a five day tour of Montreal yesterday.

Drury, Buchanan, welcome "Operation Maple Leaf"

On hand Wednesday to greet 27 young British executives as they arrived in Canada, under the Royal Commonwealth Society's "Operation Maple Leaf" were the Hon. C. M. Drury, Minister of Industry, and W. G. Buchanan, Chairman of the Canadian Royal Commonwealth Society's National Council.

In welcoming them to Canada, Mr. Drury said:

"On behalf of the Government of Canada, I should like to extend a warm and special welcome to the young executives from Britain upon their arrival in Canada to take part in Operation Maple Leaf. The Royal Commonwealth Societies of Britain and Canada are to be commended upon their initiative in arranging this exchange. During the next three weeks, you will have an opportunity to visit many of our leading centres in Canada and I know you will be well received wherever you go.

"This is, indeed, a great occasion for it marks the first time that a group of young business executives from Britain will study the political, economic and social conditions of this country at first hand.

"As a Montrealer, I believe it is entirely appropriate that your first visit to Canada should start in this great cosmopolitan centre. While here, I understand that many of you will be guests in the homes of Royal Commonwealth Society members living in Westmount. Having served as Member of Parliament for St. Antoine-Westmount, I can assure you that you will be well looked after.

"During the course of your visit to Canada, you will meet many of our key business and professional and Government leaders. I shall have the privilege of serving as your host during part of your visit to Ottawa and it is my hope that you will have an opportunity to meet Canada's Prime Minister, the Right Honourable Yester Pearson.

WE SAY

Renewal program found commendable

WE find it difficult to speak out, as a reader has suggested we should, against the progressive renewal of the older lower sections of Westmount.

In fact, in many areas it is overdue.

Sadly such programs cause heartache for some individuals, particularly elderly folk who were content to spend their last days in such areas as have been familiar to them for years or decades. But inevitably old buildings, unless of historical significance, become both economic and social liabilities to a community.

There undoubtedly is speculation in such redevelopment, where it is done by private entrepreneurs. Unless City Hall is to get into such enterprise itself, and Heaven forbid, such activity properly belongs in the private sector.

"Speculation" is a two-edged sword, and we discount tales of unconscionable profits generally. Some rewards may be high, but in general real estate and building trade profits are only commensurate with the risks and sometimes serious losses typical of such undertakings.

The City's role in the current program is to see that it is orderly and in keeping with some overall plan. Generally, City Hall should be commended for the results thus far.

Let's have more party enthusiasm

WE neither expect nor wish full concurrence with what "We Say" here each week.

Especially on politics.

Last week disagreement with what we'd written apparently extended to our own typesetters and proofreaders, when we wrote that the up-coming Federal election gives us "yet another chance to elect a better one (Parliament)."

It came out "... a bitter one."

Maybe the backshop boys are right, at that.

Or take the case of Mr. John Aimers — see adjoining "You Say."

We are glad to see healthy partisanism rearing its enthusiastic head.

While attempting not to be partisan ourselves, at this writing Mr. Drury still remains the only obvious choice for Westmounters.

Unless, of course, the leading opposition party comes up, as they have not not so far, with a candidate — and one to better than match him.

YOU SAY

Sir: I must disagree with your editorial of Sep. 3 stating so categorically that "Westmounters won't have to do much head-scratching over their ballots," in the general election.

In the narrow sense of our single constituency perhaps Mr. Drury is popular. But he faces an active Progressive Conservative organization, and will certainly have to, and will certainly have no blank cheque for re-election.

On the broader plane of general politics, you state that Mr. Drury is "Cabinet proved." After the rather shady, to say the least, conduct of the present Ministry, I would call this a liability — not an asset.

I hope that Westmount voters will consider the muddy record of the Pearson government on Nov. 8, and vote not for Mr. Drury, popular though he may be, but for a party and an honest Prime Minister.

Obituary

Winifred Crossley dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Miss Winifred Crossley, who taught school in Westmount for 35 years, at Westmount Baptist Church.

She was a member of the first class of teachers to graduate from Macdonald College in St. Anne de Bellevue.

Miss Crossley taught at King's and Roslyn schools for 35 years. She also wrote poetry and was a painter and a pianist.

In her earlier years she was an excellent basketball, golf and tennis player.

Cremation was at the Mount Royal Crematorium.

Sir, Being very vehement in criticism of the re-vamped Westmount Park last year, I think it only fair to now state that, thanks to the good repair work of the regular staff at the Park during the past summer, re-sodding, seeding and grading and planting flower beds here and there, plus the copious rains of August and early September, the whole scene is changed and to an almost unbelievable extent.

Now, outlined in new grass, bathed by nature by copious rains, there are vistas of much beauty to be observed. I recommend a sunny day and the picture looking down across the spillway and the large pool towards Western avenue, from the vicinity of the Children's Library, or looking towards Western avenue from the path midway between the swings.

There are other vistas you will find for yourself. Try it,

Yours truly,
James R. Macken

Two local men head Red Feather divisions

This year the Red Feather Campaign objective is $2,550,000, and many Westmount residents will be helping in obtaining it. It must be obtained if the 35 Red Feather agencies are to continue serving the people of Greater Montreal and the surrounding area.

Two Westmounters who are heading divisions in this year's campaign are, A. K. Sills, 4300 Western avenue and D. W. Casey, 4695 Westmount avenue.

Mr. Sills is Chairman of the Commercial Division and his objective is set at $205,800.

On the other hand, Mr. Casey, who is Chairman of the Advanced Gifts Division is expected to collect $1,362,000.

Last year, in spite of a tremendous effort by all campaign workers the drive fell short by nearly $120,000.

Mr. Neapole, who is vice-president of the Royal Bank of Canada pointed out that as a result of last year's shortfall the rock-bottom requisitions from the Red Feather agencies for 1965 had to be cut by $180,000. As the city grows so does the demand for service. The campaign chairman pointed out that increased costs of operation, something common to all today, meant that the agencies had been unable to increase their budgets above minimal levels. Mr. Neapole said that the clarion call to the canvassers was that "every dollar of the objective is needed and must be obtained."

PEOPLE ARE GENEROUS WHEN AWARE OF NEEDS

"I believe that the business leaders and residents of this metropolitan area are generous. We have proof of this already. Initial donations to our Advance Gifts division have been encouraging and represent positive endorsement of the campaign by the business leaders of the city," said C. B. Neapole. "We feel hopeful that we can reach our objective if two things happen: Firstly, if the public is informed fully of the work of Red Feather and made aware of the great need in our metropolitan area which can be met by the Red Feather agencies. Secondly, the public must be approached by our canvassers. It is embarrassing if the need is made known and the public is willing but is stymied by the absent canvasser. The volunteer canvasser is the key man and woman. I ask them to make every effort to call on all donors and prospective donors just as quickly as they can."

SELLING JOB IS NEEDED

"We don't want our canvassers to be mere collectors. We want them to be salesmen for Red Feather. They have been given the tools to do the job and we believe that they will be given a sympathetic hearing," said this year's chairman.

Mr. Neapole added a personal word concerning this year's drive:

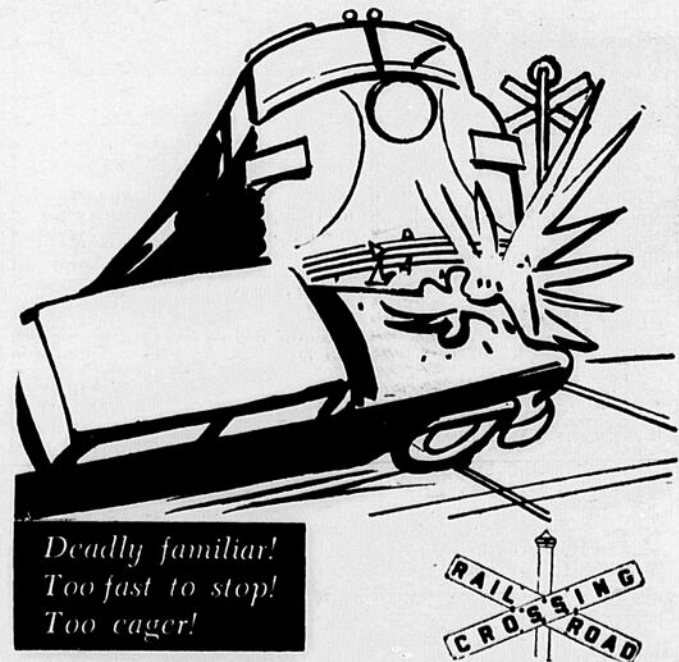

"It is one thing to say that we must support Red Feather as a civic responsibility, and as an obligation of our position in society, and as a religious duty. All these are true, and I have no hesitation in saying that the person who does not fulfil these obligations is not living up fully to his citizenship, his personality, and his conscience, nor is he discharging his debt to society."

RED FEATHER HAS LONG HISTORY

Mr. T. R. Meighen, Q.C., president of the Federation and chairman of its Board of Directors, termed himself not unlike the general manager gingering up his baseball team before its annual try at the championship. "Red Feather is a good team but its annual approach to the public it does have several things against it," said Mr. Meighen.

The Red Feather president pointed out that the campaign had been going on annually for over 40 years, known in turn as Federated Charities, Welfare Federation and more recently as United Red Feather Services. "Like the song, people have become accustomed to our face," said Mr. Meighen. "we are taken for granted and while this should be very much in our favor it has become something of a liability. In spite of our long record of outstanding service and accomplishments we are accepted as part of the scene, something that is a little difficult for the average person to become ex-

Mtl. United Churches launch campaign, goal - $1,350,000

At a luncheon meeting held in St. James United Church, Montreal, attended by 135 delegates, ten churches in the Montreal Presbytery of The United Church, a campaign to raise $1,350,000 was officially launched.

During the next four weeks, capital funds representatives and counsellors will visit the Official Boards or Board of Managers of 109 congregations to seek a three-year commitment in support of these urgently needed projects. The Rev. P. W. S.

Weredale House for boys reports that the volunteers, Robin Allen, who coached in science, and Patrick Shea, in French, did a truly outstanding job.

Westmount Library informs us that they are in possession of the latest and last of the James Bond thrillers, "The Man With The Golden Gun".

The Meadowbrook Golf Club, out on the Lakeshore, has a problem. The CPR is going to build a spur line right up the middle of the course. Would you say the whole will be halved?

Jones, Chairman of the Montreal Presbytery, said "every member and adherent of The United Church will be given an opportunity to participate in this missionary task, long overdue".

Also in support of the drive, the Rev. George Morrison, Secretary of the Board of Finance of this National Church, from Toronto made an appeal for the continued support of all the Missionary enterprises in Home Missions and Overseas. "Many new programs of the Church could not be initiated because of the lack of funds" he said.

The five projects designated for the Montreal area, some on which construction has already begun include the $350,000 City Mission on St. Dominique Street, below Pine Avenue, which will receive its allocation of $150,000. The Church Centre, an office complex in St. Luke's United Church, on Decarie Blvd., near Sherbrooke Street, will receive $150,000. The Christian Pavilion for Expo '67 will receive Montreal Presbytery's share of $50,000.

Other major projects for the next five years are the extension in Montreal of 9 new church sites and 14 new churches which will require $500,000. And the United Theological College associated with McGill University will also require $500,000 from Capital funds.

A complete survey and analysis since April, was made by the Capital Funds service of Toronto. Information and data about the life of each congregation, the financial state and future plans were obtained.

cited about." In contrasting many appeals Mr. Meighen pointed out that whereas an individual can become enthused about a specific project or program, particularly in the health or child care fields, combined appeals such as Red Feather represented a very wide and diversified field of operations. Because of the wide-ranging work of the 35 Red Feather agencies the average citizen can remain comparatively unaware of the work done.

WELFARE IS NOT AN IMPERSONAL THING

"It is becoming almost a cliché to say that welfare today is an impersonal thing," continued Mr. Meighen. "In the earliest days of the community charity - now more frequently called welfare - was a personal thing: neighbors helping neighbors and one group going to the aid of another in time of trouble. In a modern city such as Montreal there are massive and complex welfare needs and the individual is at a loss to know where to best put his efforts." Mr. Meighen concluded "It is important to stress that while the money collected in an appeal such as Red Feather's is done so by many hundreds of people the actual service rendered in the agencies is done so by comparatively few people."

As early as 2,700 B.C., Orientals recorded the virtues of tea in a man's life. A philosopher of the period wrote: "Tea tempers the spirit, awakens the thought, prevents drowsiness, lightens and refreshes the body and clears the perceptive faculties. It is better than wine, for it deadeth not into intoxication, neither does it cause men to say foolish things and repent thereof in somber moments."

Reports from St. Leo's and St. Paul's

ST. LEO'S AND ST. PAUL'S RENOVATIONS DELIGHT STUDENTS

Upon return to school last week, the pupils of ST. LEO'S noticed a great change in the atmosphere of the school with newly painted walls adding a bright finish to the classes and hallways. The oldest classrooms besides getting a fresh coat of paint also had the walls replastered and new tiles laid. The latest addition has not yet been entirely completed but a night shift is busy putting the finishing touches to the project. A few classrooms have been completed and are now being occupied by newly designed desks and hopefully inspired students. The administration offices are still at the crude stage of construction but are progressing well.

EXECUTIVE ELECTIONS

The elections for the various student activities (YCS, School Newspaper, Social Council, etc) have not yet been held, but it is hoped that they will begin next week.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Entries for the tennis tournament will start match play next week. There should be many new faces out and keen competition is the order of the day with all involved eyeing the crown now held by Desio Fernandes.

English speaking agencies join to form new centre

Each year thousands of Montreal's children end up as wards of the city's child welfare agencies.

And each year it is getting more difficult to find foster homes for these children whose own families can't take care of them.

In the past, many Westmount homes have taken in some of these children. Among these families is one, which is considered by all the child welfare agencies as very special.

The woman they place so highly is Mrs. R. Ives, 44 Burton avenue.

Over the years she has taken in many babies and young children. She was thanked at a press conference held this week in honor of the opening of the Foster Parents Recruiting Centre.

To tackle this growing problem in child care the three major English speaking agencies — the Catholic Welfare Bureau, the Children's Service Centre and the Jewish Child Welfare Bureau — have joined forces to form the Foster Home Recruiting Centre. It is under the auspices of the Montreal Council of Social Agencies and is the first such integrated effort in Montreal social welfare circles. It is also believed to be the first in Canada.

Not For Adoption

"These children are not legally adoptable," said Miss Eileen B. Griffin, executive director of the new city-wide recruiting centre. "They are just taken on a boarding basis. This means, of course, that a foster parent may have to give up a child after having had him for a few weeks, or months or what might even be for the major growing up years of the child.

"It's really a sharing proposition," she said. "The foster parents are taking the child into their homes and giving him daily love and care. It calls for a good deal of wisdom, patience and tolerance because children who have lost their homes are unhappy children.

"They have witnessed physical or mental illness or death. Often they have been frightened by drunken and quarrelsome parents. They have lived through separation, desertion and neglect. They are hurt, confused and belligerent.

"So foster parents in addition to providing domestic features of a home, like proper meals, comfortable beds and pleasant surroundings, have to have a great deal of patience, understanding and willingness to wait for the child to make his overtures because he has lost his faith and his trust in adults. He does have to regain his confidence."

What with the pace of modern living; its pressures and tensions, broken homes are becoming more prevalent. Children of all ages are affected and the Foster Home Recruiting Centre is looking for foster homes for infants and children right up to 18-year-olds.

"Too often a child has to be placed when there is not enough selection of foster homes to find one that meets his particular needs," Miss Griffin said. "There should be a matching of child and home but since there is a dearth of foster homes this is extremely difficult.

"One of the most urgent needs right now is for homes for babies. There is also a pressing need for homes for adolescents, homes for brothers and sisters together and very particularly for homes for children with special problems. For instance, emotionally and physically handicapped children. There is always a lack of homes for children of mixed racial parentage.

"It's important for all children to have close relationships and to know parent-child relationship," said Miss Griffin. "And so often good foster homes can provide this. Certainly babies and pre-school children need an abundance of maternal love, otherwise they are going to be deprived children and warped adults."

The Foster Home Recruiting Centre is helped and financed by donations from a Montreal Foundation, the Rotary Club of Westmount, the Rotary Club of Montreal, Jewish Junior Welfare League and private donations.

Licence sought for Heather Club

An application for a liquor licence on behalf of the Heather Curling Club has been submitted to the Quebec Liquor Board. The application is in the name of David F. D. Lennox.

The club, which has just moved to 24 Cleve road in Hampstead from Westmount, is applying for a club licence

Lady 'Y' members get self-improvement plan

The Westmount YMCA is offering, again this year, to its lady members — classes in self-improvement, under the direction of Sonya Bollini.

Mrs. Bollini bases her exercises on motions of the dance as well as basic body exercises. She says "Anyone of any age can have a healthy body if he or she takes the time to work at it a little. To relax and co-ordinate the body becomes as natural as breathing".

These classes will help you to learn to move beautifully and they will also firm your figure. All this, of course, leads to better body tone and will give you poise in everything you do.

Anyone interested in registering for this course, please phone the Westmount YMCA, 937-3916, before 4.00 p.m. on Monday, September 20th.

A note to the prominent Canadians who insist that Bell should be owned by Canadians.

They've overlooked one small point. Bell is already 93.6% Canadian-owned.

People who are uneasy about foreign control of Canadian companies needn't worry about Bell. For the fact is, the ownership of Bell is overwhelmingly Canadian. Of 208,000 shareholders, over 203,000 are Canadian residents, and they hold 93.6% of the total shares. The little tag line you see at the bottom of Bell advertisements means just what it says. And since it's important that people know the facts about one of Canada's most important public service companies, we'll go on putting it in. Here it is again.

Texas lecturer to speak at Christian Science

The independence which everybody is looking for can only be fully realized when its spiritual basis is understood, according to Thomas O. Poyser of Dallas, Texas, a Christian Science lecturer who will speak in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Tuesday evening, September 21, at 8:15 under the auspices of the Christian Science church in Westmount. The title of Mr. Poyser's lecture on Christian Science, which will be open to the public without admission charge or collection, will be "How Independent Can You Be?" He is making a nationwide tour.

POLLUTION

With the Mactaquac power headpond coming what's being done to avoid creation of the world's biggest cesspool in the St. John River? The towns that dump raw sewage into the river can't afford expensive water treatment plants. Therefore the only solution seems direct aid from Fredericton and Ottawa, repayable over a long period. Now's the time to start planning if the potential beauty of the headpond is to be realized. — Woodstock (N.B.) Bugle.

Speaker available for club meetings

By Millicent Hickmore

CLUB MEMBERS will be pleased to learn of a new source for attaining a speaker for their program. It is not always easy to get a speaker who will please all the members and guests and the following suggestion should be of interest to all women.

Standard Brands Limited, manufacturers of Fleischmann's corn oil margarine and the Bakery Council of Canada have organized a Speaker's Bureau in Montreal for women's clubs during this program year.

The speaker, Mrs. Claire Friefeld of Cote St. Luc, a graduate dietician, will talk with the guests and answer questions pertaining to the subject, "Daily Breads and a Balanced Diet." The address, including a colorful slide presentation will last about 30 minutes, and will feature a review of all breads available from your bakery — dark and light, in slices or rolls and with more taste treats than you can imagine.

The nutritional value of bread, and its increased nutrition when it is served with corn oil margarine, will be another item in the address.

The Bureau will be pleased to supply the sandwiches for the refreshment hour following the meeting, to sample one of the breads that have been discussed. A recipe booklet on sandwiches will be given at the end of the meeting.

As this program promises to be a very popular one — requests should be made as early as possible.

WHY BREAKFAST! "Why eat breakfast when you want to lose weight?" "I don't feel like eating anything in the morning." "Breakfast just isn't necessary." All too often we hear these comments. So why eat breakfast? To keep away from high calorie snacking all the rest of the day is one reason. To maintain high reaction time, alertness and efficiency late in the morning is another reason. Because you haven't eaten anything for about 12 hours is a third reason. These are especially important for school-age children.

When children are allowed to skip breakfast, they get too hungry before lunchtime. Overweight children need breakfast just as much as other children. They need to maintain the same late-morning efficiency. The high calorie snacking is detrimental to appetites, nutrition and the scales.

The breakfast meal should supply 1/4 to 1/3 of the day's supply of protein and calories. What you eat for breakfast is not so important as that you do eat something. A cereal-milk-fruit breakfast is easy and quick to fix. Add other foods for complete calorie and nutritional adequacy.

September is Better Breakfast Month. Let's start the school year out right — with breakfast. It's the most important meal of the day.

The Forty-Three Hundred

LOOKING OVER PRODUCTIONS to be presented this year are, left, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters of the Montreal Children's Theatre. This year marks the 33rd anniversary of the Theatre. The productions to be presented this year at Victoria Hall, Westmount, include 'The Clown Prince,' 'Beauty and the Beast,' and 'Sleeping Beauty.'

Children's Theatre plans active season

There is an air of excitement about the planning of the Children's Theatre this season, as Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters celebrate their 33rd year, 100th major production and the 300th performance.

For two generations the Children's Theatre has contributed to the cultural and educational growth of the children of Montreal by providing live theatre of the highest calibre. They develop and train a discriminating audience who in future years will wish to support live professional theatre. The Montreal Children's Theatre is today acknowledged as Canada's foremost and oldest school of speech and drama for young people. Since the inception of the Children's Theatre thirty-three years ago, thousands of children have been given instruction in speech, mime, deportment, and trained for stage and television work.

Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters directors with their extensive knowledge of Children's Theatre work and their experienced staff of teachers, are able to give a full and comprehensive training to their students. They point with pride to many of their former pupils who are now appearing in London, New York and Hollywood, as well as many of their many students now attending the school, who have done a great deal of work locally for television and radio, the National Film Board as well as modelling and commercial work.

OPENING SHOW

They have planned an elaborate opening show to celebrate their 300th performance. They have secured the rights to a charming play with music entitled "The Clown Prince" which has played before thousands of Children in Budapest, and has been specially translated and adapted for the Children's Theatre by Agy Poly, who also has entire charge of the choreography. Musical arrangements are in the capable hands of Alan McIver.

POPULAR CHOICE

Auditions will be taking place immediately for Children's Theatre students as the "Clown Prince" includes many actors, singers and dancers. The two other performances being given this season have been selected by young Montrealers who were invited to write in expressing their wish of the plays they would like to see. Topping the list were "Beauty and the Beast" and "The Sleeping Beauty".

There is a special Children's Theatre subscription plan which gives patrons an opportunity of securing choice seats for the three performances, but these should be ordered immediately.

Trinity afternoon WA

Trinity Memorial WA, afternoon branch, will hold a meeting on Monday, September 27, at 2.30 p.m. in the Archdeacon Almond Room.

Coming Events

RUMMAGE SALE: Temple Beth Shalom Sisterhood will hold its first rummage sale of the season on Monday, September 20, at 1 o'clock, at 6666 Terrebonne avenue. Please use Walkley avenue entrance. No. 104 bus to door.

Do you know that most people, even the great majority of religious people, do not even know what a church is? Ask the average man on the street what a church is and he'll probably reply: "A church? Well anybody knows that! A church is a building where people go to worship!" But this is not correct.

The word translated "church" in our Bibles, simply means assembly, so a church is not a building, but the assembly of people who meet in the building. And a church is not necessarily a gathering of worshippers. The riotous mob that had gathered at Ephesus in Paul's day is called a "church" (Gr. ekklesia) in Acts 19:32, and this passage states that this assembly, or church, was "confused, and most of them did not know wherefore they were come together." So a church is simply an assembly, not a building.

The church of which the Bible has most to say is "the Church of God, which He hath purchased with His own blood" (Acts 20:28). St. Paul calls this church, again and again, "the body of Christ," or "the Church which is His Body."

We do not join this Church by water baptism or any other religious rite; we join it by faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Referring to believers in Christ, Paul declares: "By one Spirit are we all baptized into one Body" (1 Cor. 12:13), and in Rom. 12:5 he says "Ye being many are one Body in Christ."

Many sincere people have had their names on the rolls of religious organizations for years before learning this great truth, that the true Church, the Church of God, the Body of Christ, is not a building, but the company of those who have come to trust in Christ as their Savior.

We sincerely hope the reader belongs to this one true Bible Church — and also attends a local church, an assembly of believers in Christ who love and study the Word of God, so as to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (II Pet. 3:18).

Miss G. D. Copland . . .

ther, wore a gown of copper Chantilly lace over silk organza, with a hat of silk organza and ostrich feathers to match, and a corsage bouquet of clivia.

Mrs. Carpenter, the mother of the bridegroom, was in a gown of burnt sienna velvet and beige brocade. She wore a small hat of bronze feathers and a corsage bouquet of feathered tangerine carnations.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Themis Club, where standards of orange, gold and yellow flowers were used as decorations. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter left for Stratford, Ont., and the West, the bride travelling in a suit of gold and white tweed wool and wearing a gold chiffon headdress and black patent leather accessories.

Champion of champions tournament

Individual club champions from golf clubs throughout Quebec are scheduled to compete with each other for the top championship titles in classes A, B, and C, this Saturday, September 18, at Granby-St. Paul Golf Club, during the annual O'Keefe "Champion of Champions" golf tournament.

The 1965 "Champion of Champions" match is the final event in the series of 15 tournaments on this season's O'Keefe Quebec circuit, the largest golf circuit in the province.

The 1964 "Champion of Champions" tournament, at St. Hyacinthe Golf Club, saw 134 club champions, representing 55 different Quebec clubs compete for the three class titles and individual merchandise awards.

Class A honours last year were taken by Jean Lafontaine, of Islesmere, class B by Walter Golfman, of Hillsdale, and the class C title by Guy Cliche, of East Angus.

In all 47 class A, 48 class B and 39 class C club title holders took part in the 18 hole medal play tournament in 1964, setting a new participation record in all classes for the three year old event.

Eligible to participate in the annual invitational tournament are the class A, B, and C champions of any club within the limits of the province-wide O'Keefe amateur circuit.

The Redwings are moving to the city

Did you know that the Red-winged Blackbirds like suet? We discovered that only this summer. A wire container hangs from a small branch a yard and a half beyond the kitchen window, and Mrs. Redwing has taken a violent fancy to its contents.

Redwings on our feeding tray are something new, because they ordinarily build in or beside swampy ground and there is nothing like that near us. However, on finding that their former territory was occupied by a new house and a family of children, this pair evidently decided that they would try their luck amidst alder bushes at our shore instead of cattails and lily pads. We cannot reach the nest either by land or by water, but imagine it must be, like any other Redwing's, woven of coarse grasses and lined with finer grass, roots, or decayed vegetation of some kind. Construction takes almost a week, and almost another week passes before the female lays the first of about 4 eggs, one a day. But they are not incubated until the whole clutch is laid. Then they all hatch at once in about twelve days.

Mrs. Redwing wanted to bring up the children on bread, but she is so shy that she found it hard to stop long enough on the feeding tray to look over the supply and choose the right size and shape as do most of the mothers. She sat on a nearby twig, flipping her tail around and giving her disagreeable "cack" call until we backed away from the window, then came and grabbed a bit of bread and fled off with it towards the children. They all ate their own weight every day, so she was a busy mother. If we persisted in staying close to the window, she went to the suet, hanging dexteriously sideways on the wire. She managed to pull out quite large pieces of suet, and devoured so much that we feared she would have to be given reducing pills. But she generally took a lump to the family.

Her husband, meanwhile, appeared to do nothing but sing "conk-kar-ree", and occasionally visit the feeding tray to get bread and corn for himself. He does not care for suet. In his jet black suit with the scarlet and yellow epaulettes he is quite beautiful, especially when he spreads his wings and sings. Hard working mother is a little like a large, pointed billed Sparrow, with quantities of tiny brown specks sprinkled all over her underparts.

Any day now the juveniles should be old enough to join flocks of other Blackbirds and travel south.

Westmount

RUGGER CLUB

by Art Blondin

Westmount is still batting 1000 percent this season. Playing on a rain-soaked field Wednesday evening, we showed a strong first half game against the powerful Montreal Wanderers, but slacked off in the stretch and dropped a 16 to 3 decision to the Wands. Half time score was 3-0.

Tony Moss-Davis, John Patton and Roy Harvey turned in strong games for the locals, while fly half Chris Pickwood was a magnificent performer for Wanderers. Harvey, by the way, is phys. ed. instructor at St. George's School and Moss-Davis is ditto at Selwyn House. The superb condition of the playing field at Westmount Park was borne out this night, after it had been deluged by a steady downpour during most of the day.

Captain Tim Evans feels that the enthusiasm of the Canadian members of the Club is a major factor in the increasing strength of the team. "It may not show on the scoreboard yet," he said, "but we're getting there." I hope we get there soon.

Last Saturday, the Intermediate team played its first game of the season, against the Tracy XV. With the exception of three players, we fielded an all-Canadian team, and spectators witnessed an exciting, wide-open, if not polished, game. The score going into the last ten minutes of play was 3-3, but Tracy came through with two late T.D.'s and a convert to go home with an 11-3 win. Nevertheless, it was a satisfying experience from our point of view, since it was the first game of the season for most of our players, and the first game, period, for two.

Tomorrow afternoon the Senior team will be hosting the Ottawa Irish at Westmount Park. This match may well put an end to our unblemished losing streak. Game time is 3 o'clock. Meanwhile, The Intermediates will go against the Montreal Irish Intermediates at Marymount High School, starting at one o'clock. Let's keep our fingers crossed.

this will be but the first of many such visits. May I also extend an invitation to each and everyone of you to visit us again in 1967 during our Centennial Year, in which Montreal will be a centre of great activity as the site of EXPO '67."

Then, Mr. Buchanan, who has arranged for homes in the Westmount area for the group, said in his welcoming address:

On behalf of your host and sponsor, The Royal Commonwealth Society in Canada, I offer all of you a very hearty welcome to this country. I am delighted that the Hon. C. M. Drury, Minister of Industry and Defence Production and Mr. Arnold Hebble, Principal British Trade Commissioner could be here with us to greet you.

You are now taking part in an exciting and dynamic project designed by The Royal Commonwealth Society to bring closer understanding now and in the future between young business and professional leaders in Britain and Canada.

The goodwill I have encountered in the planning of your tour has been nothing short of remarkable. I can give you my personal guarantee that Canadians in the six cities you are to visit have done their utmost to produce a stimulating program for you. You are going to have unique opportunities of meeting people and visiting places quite out of reach of the majority of our own young people. Everyone here, from the families in whose homes you will stay to the executive officers of the business and institutions you will visit want to make the idea behind this scheme a reality.

We hope you will find that we have to offer interesting and rewarding — but whatever happens — enjoy yourselves!

How does it feel to be abandoned on an island?

Ask Debbie.

Abandoned—by some 2 million people who live on and around the Island of Montreal. People so wrapped up in their own daily lives that they fail to notice a little child in need.

Facts of the case: Debbie H., age 4½. Dark hair, brown eyes. Found in sparsely furnished room by neighbour. Deserted by mother. Father unknown.

Sole companion when discovered: a rag doll. Reported by telephone to Children's Service Centre, 4/9/65. Immediate assistance vital.

What will the Children's Service Centre, a Red Feather Agency serving Greater Montreal, be able to do for Debbie—and hundreds like her—during the forthcoming year?

Nothing. With too few trained workers and too little money, absolutely nothing. Unless their share of this year's Red Feather Campaign Objective comes through! For this, they're counting on you!

When did YOU last give something extra to Red Feather? Could you... this year?
