WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1941

PRICE—TWO CENTS

SPECIAL APPEAL IS MADE IN WESMOUNT SALVAGE CAMPAIGN FOR OLD RAGS

Are Particularly Useful as Machine Wipers in War Production Plants — Chairman of National Salvage Office Also Requests Citizens to Save Old Rags for War Use — Collections Here Show Big Gain

The Westmount War Salvage Drive, conducted in co-operation with the National Salvage Campaign, is this week centering its activities on the collection of old rags and seeks the support of residents in gathering as large a quantity of them as possible.

Old clothes, rugs, carpets and mattresses are particularly wanted and these should be placed alongside garbage cans on regular garbage collection days when they will be picked up by the city.

The majority of rags collected will be used as wipers in war production plants, while woolen rags and other materials will be sent to the textile mills to be made into blankets, rugs and great coats.

This week, for the second time, the local salvage committee is making a special appeal for the same thing as is the National Salvage Office, William Knightly, director of the National Salvage Office, appealed Monday night for Canadians to save their old rags for use in war industry.

"Don't throw away or burn a single scrap of cotton or wool," he said in a statement, explaining there were many and varied uses for rags, the most essential of which was as wipers to keep parts of machinery clean.

Rags collected at home should be sorted and when they have accumulated local salvage committees will see that the rags find their way to cleaning and reclamation plants and thence to war industry.

"We want all the rags we can get," said Mr. Knightly.

It was reported at the City Hall yesterday that the local campaign had resulted in the collection of a far greater amount of articles last month over that of August. In August 11,000 pounds of bottles and broken glass had been collected while last month the total weight of bottles and broken glass collected reached 25,000 pounds. A similar increase has been noted in other salvage articles appealed for.

TRIO ARRESTED FOR BREAKING AND ENTERING

Oldest of Youthful Gang Gets Jail Term, Second Sent to Reformatory — Sentence of Third Suspended

Three boys, all in their teens, pleaded guilty when they appeared before Deputy Recorder A. E. Laverty on charges of breaking and entering a St. Antoine street store by night, in the Westmount Police Court last Thursday.

A 17-year-old member of the trio, who had a police record, was sentenced to a jail term of three months, while a second, 15 years of age, who also had a previous record, will spend the next three years at the Boys Farm at Shawbridge. The third member of the youthful gang, a youngster of 14, who was appearing before a court for the first time, was allowed off with a suspended sentence.

The boys were arrested earlier last week by Detectives Belec and Lines.

Pleading guilty to two charges of thefts of money from a store where he was employed, a man giving his name and address as Walter Patrick Seymour, 18, 300 Richmond street, was sentenced to serve two months on each count, by the Deputy-Recorder Friday morning. The sentences are to run concurrently.

DR. J. ALLYN DESCRIBES HER WORK IN INDIA

Missionary Wears Native 'Sari' in Pulpit at Westmount Baptist Church

Superstition and belief in magic must be overcome in dealing with the Indian population, Dr. Jessie Allyn, Baptist missionary to India at present home on furlough, stated when she addressed the congregation at Westmount Baptist Church Sunday evening.

Dr. Allyn was attired in a gold-colored "sari", a seven-yard-long native dress, and she gave the congregation a description of the manner in which Indian women wore the costume.

Some, she said, deftly turned the long flowing skirt into "picturesque slacks" while others in the working classes were able to take in a reef here and there and appear in passable shorts.

The nurses, she said, wore white saris trimmed with green, and the loose end, worn usually as a head-piece, came in handy as a duster, handkerchief or towel.

She related her experience with the reigning Maharajah of Petaipur, the province in which the hospital where she labors stands, and of receiving a 10,000-rupee fee for delivering the Maharajah of a son and heir—the fee ultimately used to construct a hospital and nurses' home in the area.

Relating the details of the construction of the hospital at Petaipur, Dr. Allyn told how the wards of the hospital are laid out with the chapel in a courtyard in the centre, where the entire staff meets each morning for prayer. Here, she explained, the names of patients to be operated on are used in the prayer. Use of spinal anesthesia has precluded the former custom of prayer in the operating room, she said.

In conclusion she urged young people who were still seeking a vocation to decide on the mission field.

CADETS HEAR PO BIRDSALL

Pilot Officer Birdsall, of the Royal Air Force, addressed Westmount Air Cadets in the Intermediate School on Monday evening.

P.O. Birdsall arrived in Canada recently following a period of acting flying over Norway, Germany and Greece.

The speaker described the various stages of day and night bombing raids, interspersed with interesting and amusing anecdotes of his adventures.

At the conclusion questions from the boys were invited which the speaker answered as well as possible without betraying secrets. The speaker was introduced by Cadet Squadron Leader H. P. Hilsley and thanked by Squadron Leader the Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver, U.C., the chaplain of the unit.

Library Association Holds First Meeting

The opening meeting of the 1941-42 season of the Quebec Library Association was held recently at the Mechanic's Institute when lantern slides depicting Banff and other parts of western Canada were shown. The slides were presented by Dr. G. R. Lamer, who commented on each scene.

Miss Hubbard presided over the meeting which listened to reports of the annual meeting of the Ontario Library Association.

Will Ventilate Victoria Hall Kitchens

Westmount City Council authorized installation of ventilation systems in the two downstairs kitchens in Victoria Hall, at regular meeting Monday night. They are to be electrically operated.

Due to the fact that next Monday is Thanksgiving Day no meeting of the Council is scheduled until October 20.

Mayor Walter A. Merrill, K.C., presided at the meeting on Monday.

MRS. PHILLIPS ELECTED HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Resident Named President Of Division of Jewish Congress War Efforts

Mrs. Lazarus Phillips, of Westmount, was elected president of the Women's Division of the Canadian Jewish Congress War Efforts Committee (Eastern Division), it was announced today at the Congress headquarters.

The Women's Division has been created to coordinate and supervise the war work activities being carried on by the various Jewish Women's organizations in Montreal. Aside from the work of co-ordination, the Women's Committee will set up such sub-committees as may be required to carry on the expanding war work.

Following are the officers and executive: President, Mrs. Lazarus Phillips; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Samuel Bronfman; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Felix Leopold; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. C. Tauer; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Fox; corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. Cohen; treasurer, Mrs. H. Levine.

Chairmen of sub-committees: magazine committee, Mrs. Horace Friedman; hospitality committee, Mrs. I. Selig; speakers committee, H. Robinson; telephone committee, Mrs. M. Morris; next-of-kin league, Mrs. C. Tauer; comforts committee, Mrs. M. Hyman and Mrs. S. Celbaum, co-chairmen; war diary, Mrs. J. J. Jacobs.

Members of executive, Mesdames J. J. Block, L. Crestohl, A. Raginsky Sr., G. Rotsky, B. H. Rubin, Sam Leopold, and Miss Ethel Schwisberg.

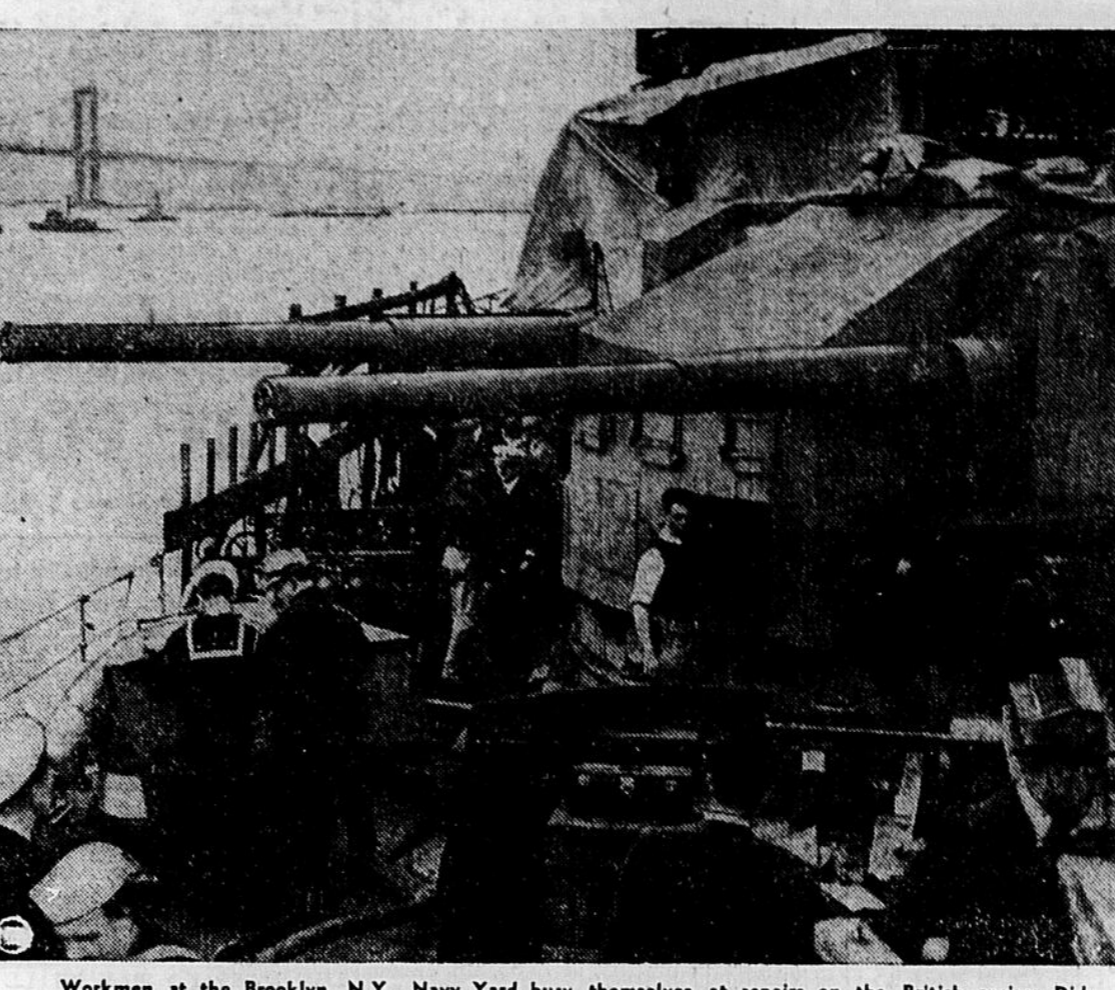

GIRL, 5, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Five-year-old Beverley Guilfoyle, of 379 Clarke avenue, suffered minor head injuries when she allegedly ran into the path of an automobile driven by Noel Seguin, of 5046 des Erables street, opposite 4280 Western avenue at 12.10 p.m. last Thursday.

Seguin stopped immediately after the accident and drove the girl to her home where the family physician was summoned. The doctor reported that the youngster had suffered a slight concussion.

According to information obtained by police the accident occurred when the girl ran out into the street from the south side of Western, directly into the path of Seguin's car, which was proceeding from west to east.

TIME OUT FROM BATTLES AT SEA

Workers at the Brooklyn, N.Y., Navy Yard busy themselves at repairs on the British cruiser Dido under two of its 5.25-inch guns. The Dido, one of four cruisers, an aircraft carrier and a number of battleships, corvettes, destroyers, submarines and minesweepers which are being repaired in the U.S., was damaged in an air attack during the removal of British troops from Crete.

D. GRANT GUEST AT MEETING OF BOYS BRIGADE

Conducts Brief Drill and Speaks on Tradition of The Organization

D. A. Grant was the guest of the First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade at its regular weekly meeting Friday evening.

Mr. Grant conducted a brief drill period, featuring the new "Movement in three's." He also spoke to the boys on the tradition of the Brigade and particularly the honor of belonging to the First Company. He recalled having seen the 1st Glasgow Company, which today numbers 383 members, with a waiting list of as many more, desirous of belonging to this historic unit. All down the years this unit has maintained the high standards set by its founder, Sir William Smith, and thus today stands as the finest example of a B. B. Company; a guide to thousands of others.

The first of a series of floor hockey games was played, with squad two ending up as winner. The company is looking forward to an active season of this sport and will enter a team into the Battalion Indoor-Hockey League.

On Sunday evening, the officers attended the annual re-consecration service in Ephraim Scott Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. H. S. Rodney, Chaplain of the 8th Company. This service is observed throughout the B.B. world, on the first Sunday in October, marking the anniversary of the founding of the movement, and a re-dedication of the leaders to their tasks of advancing Christ's Kingdom among boys.

The company model-railroad group is making great strides in building up a very neat outlay with the equipment which has been flowing in these past few weeks. Lieut. Alex Upham, assisted by Lance-Cpl. Edwin Goring and Ptes. James Wright and (Continued on page 3)

YMCA Entertains Men Of Services

Westmount Y.M.C.A. Gym Class and Badminton Club Girls entertained the airmen, sailors and soldiers at the regular Saturday night dance in the Westmount Y.M.C.A. gym. The music was supplied by the Music Makers, an orchestra composed of Westmount boys who give their services each Saturday night. The gym was spotlighted and everyone entered into the spirit of friendship which makes these dances so popular.

The refreshments were served by Mrs. Gilpin and Mrs. Brodie of the Westmount Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hubbell the hostess, was kept busy introducing the new men who had just come to town. Among the most popular guests at the dance were the officers and men of the Merchant Navy. Neil Compton was back on the job as master of ceremonies. This Saturday evening the girls of the Westmount Hi-Y Grads will be the hostesses.

N. ERIC OHMAN NAMED TO BOARD

Elected Solar Club Vice-President — Capt. Rev. T. W. Jones Speaker Tonight

Captain the Rev. T. W. Jones of Calvary United Church will address the members of the Solar Club of Montreal, at a meeting being held tonight at the Homoeopathic Hospital, 2199 Marlowe avenue.

At their meeting two weeks ago the members of the Solar Club of Montreal elected N. Eric Ohman as vice-president of the club to fill a vacancy created when Milton A. Foss joined the Royal Canadian Air Force.

P. H. Henley was also elected to the Board of Directors.

PAT. CHRISTIE SPEAKER AT PROGRESS CLUB

Tells of Experiences While in R.A.F. Since the Outbreak of the War

Flight-Lieut. G. P. (Pat) Christie, D.F.C. and Bar, a Westmount resident and graduate of Westmount High School now attached to the R.A.F. Ferry Command, told members of the Canadian Progress Club on Tuesday that at the outbreak of war in 1939 Britain had but five fully trained fighter squadrons.

Flight-Lieut. Christie spoke from wide experience. It was in 1937 that he joined the Royal Air Force and began training in England. At the crisis in the fall of 1939 he was a member of one of the handful of first-line fighter squadrons which were prepared to do battle with the Nazis to keep them from dropping deadly "loads" on English soil.

It is an interesting fact that it was just one year ago, to the day, that Flt.-Lt. Christie made his first visit home after more than two years overseas without a break.

"It was a relief to have war declared," he said, "because we had done little but wait... and wait." During the last few months of 1939 and the first few of 1940, not many German planes appeared over Britain. Protecting convoys was the main work. The boys began to get restless for more action and they got plenty of it during the "blitz" of September, 1940.

Flt.-Lt. Christie, who is 24, spoke of using a specially striped plane, painted light blue so that it couldn't be seen easily, which he flew at high altitudes, taking pictures of the progress of German panzer divisions through ill-fated France in April and May, 1940. "Nobody ever bothered us," he said with a typically broad Christie smile—a good thing too because all they had to shoot with were their cameras.

After his short sojourn in France he moved over to the Italian front, doing the same job there, helping the Greeks stall the Fascist "advance."

"I can tell you that the boys doing that work along the whole Atlantic coastline of Europe from Spain to Norway today can be thanked for doing a wonderful job," he declared. "Their photographs, taken every so often, can spot enemy movements and changes in detail."

After Italy, it was back home to join Sqdn.-Ldr. Douglas Bader's outfit in the north of England flying Hurricanes. He paid tribute to the legless ace, now a prisoner of war in Germany, calling him a superb flier and a real leader.

NEED FOR WELL ORGANIZED ABLY-LED YOUTH TRAINING PLANS URGED BY SPEAKER

Changed Conditions of World Make Strong Youth Leadership Necessary, V. F. McAdam Tells Westmount Rotarians at Weekly Meeting — Praises Scout Movement But Says Professional Heads Required

Stressing the need for ably-led and well organized youth training programs, V. F. McAdam, secretary-manager of Weredale House for boys, addressed the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall yesterday.

While the youth of today was fundamentally the same as that of previous generations, world conditions had differed greatly resulting in an over-growing demand upon society to provide young people with proper guidance, the speaker declared.

The home, and even the church, he stated, exerted a far lesser influence on today's youth than they did in former years. In the case of the former, movies and other modern forms of entertainment left young people with much less time to spend under parental guidance and with the coming of the automobile, running water and automatic heating household chores were practically eliminated, as was the responsibility they entailed. Mr. McAdam held the view that young people today were not attending church in the same numbers as their grandparents and that it therefore was not as strong an element in influencing their spiritual growth.

Another need for a planned youth training program was industries' failure to prepare young people for skilled positions. This was due, largely, he declared, to the gradual abolishment of the apprenticeship system.

Furthermore, he said, after this war today's youth will find themselves in a world widely populated by young people of other lands who have been taught ideologies that will be foreign to them. It is essential that the youth of this country have a clear conception of what democracy stands for, he averred.

Mr. McAdam was strong in his praise of the Boy Scout movement and similar organizations, but stated that they failed to be completely successful because they depended for leaders on voluntary helpers. Trained, professional leaders and a scientifically planned youth training program was the only answer to today's youth problem, he said.

The speaker was introduced by R. Stalinger and thanked by P. Jarman, The president, E. Everson, was in the chair.

G. W. SPINNEY IS APPOINTED TO NEW BOARD

Prominent Westmount Resident to Head National War Finance Committee

G. W. Spinney, of 1 Braeside place, joint manager of the Bank of Montreal, has been appointed to head the newly created National War Finance Committee, it was announced in Ottawa this week. News of the appointment created a considerable amount of interest in the Capitol.

The function of the committee will be to take charge of all voluntary money-raising operations. Hitherto each time the Government sought to raise a loan, a brand new committee was formed only to be disbanded after the money drive was completed. Mr. Spinney's fiscal machine is to be permanent.

The new Spinney Committee is set up to last throughout the war, but only the barest outline of its functions are available yet.

But this much is known — Mr. Spinney did such an excellent job as chairman of the last highly successful Victory Loan drive that the Government has chosen him as the right man for future loan campaigns. It was believed, too, that he might also take under his official wing, the sale of War Savings Certificates and War Savings Stamps, both of which have had their ups and downs.

The machinery is now to be provided, so that when the Government seeks any specific loan, or has to go to the public for any money, Mr. Spinney's committee will be ready. Then, instead of seeking temporary help, instead of having to go to the length and breadth of Canada to get volunteers to raise money, a permanent organization will be available.

Many of these, it is surmised, may be volunteers, but they will be permanent volunteers, ready for any eventuality along these lines.

Commenting on the appointment, Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance, said he expected Mr. Spinney would come to Ottawa within a week or two and spend all or most of his time here indefinitely.

Dr. Clark intimated that no further members have been named, and that Mr. Spinney will look into various aspects of the war borrowing program in an endeavor to obtain greater co-ordination in its operation.

STAMP CONTEST WINNERS NAMED

The Westmount Stamp Club held another successful meeting Thursday evening. Thirty-six persons attended and two contests were held. The winner of the junior contest was Robert Kearney and the winner of the senior contest J. Pickering.

This evening the members and friends will be privileged to hear Dr. A. E. Whitehead speak on "Early Stamps of Great Britain." This should be a particularly interesting talk as Dr. Whitehead is recognized as one of the greatest authorities of the stamps of Great Britain in North America. The meeting will be held in the Oak Room, Victoria Hall, at 8.15 p.m.

Westmount Teacher Will Present View

Compulsory education in the Province of Quebec will be the subject of discussion at the first meeting of the entire membership of the Y.W.C.A. on Tuesday, October 14th. The problem will be dealt with in panel discussion, and then opened to the meeting for comments from the entire group.

Mrs. T. B. Hughes, chairman of the Education Committee of the Association, will preside over the panel in which Mrs. A. Stalker, Mrs. A. P. Byers, Mrs. G. F. W. Kuhring and Miss Beryl Truax, a Westmount teacher, will participate. Each speaker will present one aspect of this important subject in which all citizens of Quebec province must be concerned.

Mrs. K. S. Barnes, president of the Y.W.C.A., will preside at the meeting which will begin with supper in the Club Rooms. Guests will be welcomed.

The Week At Victoria Hall

WESTMOUNT, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1941

GLOWING PRAISE FOR CANADA

In view of the criticism levelled at Canada's war effort by United States isolationists, it is gratifying to read a recent release by the British Propaganda Ministry on "Canada at War". Unfortunately, British methods of distributing favourable propaganda are not any better than our own here in Canada, and the release referred to will therefore not get nearly the attention it deserves.

Of our navy, the British say: "At the outbreak of the war it mustered only thirteen ships and 3,600 officers and men. Today those numbers are 250 ships and 22,000 men, and within six months four hundred ships will fly the ensign of the Royal Canadian Navy."

Of our army: "During the last war Canada raised and maintained five divisions. This time she is already topping that figure. 100,000 Canadians are at this moment manning our coasts at strategic points... they represent the First, Second, and Third Canadian Divisions. The Fifth Armoured Division is shortly due. The Fourth Division is stationed in Canada. The Sixth Division is now being mobilised."

Of our Air Force: "This great three-year scheme (British Commonwealth Air Training Plan) conceived in Canada in 1939, is well on the way toward its goal of training 50,000 men who will emerge as the best trained airmen in the world. To this Empire undertaking Canadians are contributing eighty percent of the students and sixty-five percent of the cost of the scheme as a whole."

Of our industries: "... this year alone Canada is turning out more explosives than she produced in the whole of the last war. More than 100,000 Canadian made trucks and lorries are already in service, chiefly in the Middle East. Canada is justly proud of the cruiser tank, 100 percent Canadian even down to the design, which is faster to build than any tank of its size yet produced in Britain or America. Starting from zero Canadian factories have already produced 1,500 aircraft, and are now turning out air frames for all types from Catalinas to trainers at the rate of forty per week. At the beginning of the war Canadian shipyards employed only 1,500 workers. Today they employ more than 20,000 and are laying down every type of vessel from destroyers downwards. Their new shipbuilding program will produce a million tons of cargo shipping in 1942."

Of our other help to Britain: "In the past year alone 3,500 ships with 21,000,000 tons of Canadian cargoes made a safe journey across the Atlantic escorted in large part by the Royal Canadian Navy... Canada is not only spending every cent of the war effort required... but she has made large indirect contributions by tariff concessions on British imports, and large sacrifices by financial adjustments. Up to March, 1941, she had provided Great Britain with more than $500,000,000 to help her finance American purchases. The figure will have risen to nearly $1,000,000,000 by March, 1942."

And of our unity: "Canada, like Switzerland, stands as proof to the world that national unity does not pre-suppose racial or even linguistic uniformity. Fused by a common cause her inhabitants are all Canadians, entering each week his own capacities into the rich and vigorous national amalgam, which is pouring out its energies on behalf of the Allies."

SCIENCE AND WAR

Two distinct but not necessarily divergent views as to the task confronting science in connection with this war have been presented to the International Conference on Science, being held in London. They came from Prime Minister Churchill and Mr. John G. Winant, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, and they set forth two phases of one subject, aptly complementing each other.

They had one common theme. This is that science must be devoted today to the needs of the war. Mr. Churchill stressed its part in the rebuilding of the world after peace returns, while Mr. Winant stressed the service which science can render toward winning the struggle.

It is, incidentally, an interesting fact that these two men chose these particular sides to the discussion, the representative of the non-belligerent nation being the more vehement in urging an all-out effort toward victory, while the British wartime leader dealt with the peaceful days to come.

BOOK REVIEW

BY HOWARD S. ROSS

"Looking For Trouble" by Virginia Cowles, The Musson Book Co. Ltd., 480-485 University Ave., Toronto.

The author likes and understands English folk and it is quite evident she is like and trusted by them or she would never have been able to get to know intimately so many prominent persons and to visit them in their homes. Her sprightly book-filled with wit and good humor and at the same time with pertinent facts is a good inside story of the events which led to the present war and of the personalities and policies involved. Her reports are vivid and exciting, whether of political or diplomatic encounters, or of the bitter fighting in Spain, or of battles in the war itself, which she saw from Poland to Finland, Finland to France, and France to Britain.

Most revealing is her talk with Prince Philip of Hesse, in Rome, on the eve of Italy's entry into the war. One critic would make this volume required reading for every would-be diplomat or student of foreign affairs.

Miss Cowles went abroad first as an unknown correspondent to report the war in Spain and soon became attached to the Sunday Times and The Daily Telegraph of London, G. B. and then went from front to front as war swept over Europe. She covered besieged Madrid in company with a number of veteran British correspondents and held her own with the best of them. In Franco Spain she barely escaped being arrested as a spy. She was on hand during the 1937 Spring crisis in Czechoslovakia, in Nuremberg for the huge Nazi rally preceding Hitler's dramatic Sudetenland speech, in Prague before and after Munich. She saw Russia becoming the dupe of the

The Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest

The Westmount Examiner's Hidden Titles Contest is run with the kind co-operation of Mr. Godel, manager of the Westmount Theatre. Each week twelve passes are given to the six lucky winners who comply with the following requirements:—
 Simply find the two "ads." in the current issue of The Westmount Examiner in which the names of the two feature pictures being shown at the Westmount Theatre during the first half of next week are hidden. Submit all answers to The Contest Editor, The Westmount Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue, using the special coupon provided in each issue for the purpose.

Contestants must be over 16 years of age. Residents of Westmount, only, are eligible. All answers must be in this office not later than Wednesday, and the names of the winners will be published in Thursday's issue. A convenient coupon will be found elsewhere in the paper. The winners are drawn from among those who submit the correct answers, as, unfortunately, it would be impossible to give passes to every one submitting the right answers.

The winners of last week's contest are as follows and their passes will be received in Monday's mail.

Mrs. F. B. Rogers, 228 Redfern Ave.; Winifred Thomas, 6 Park Place, Apt. 9; B. Mann, 72 Chesterfield Ave.; Mrs. E. F. Kieran, 229 Kensington Ave., Apt. 18; Jacquelyn de Cotret, 256 Prince Albert Ave.; Mrs. J. C. Bruce, 2 Albert Place.

THE FORUM
 Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.
 In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed
 The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Following is the decree on total defence promulgated by the Committee on Public Salvation on the 23rd day of August 1939 when the young Republic of France was surrounded by enemies:

"ALL FRANCE, AND WHATSOEVER IT CONTAINS OF MEN OR RESOURCES, IS PUT UNDER REQUISITION. THE YOUNG MEN SHALL GO TO BATTLE; IT IS THEIR TASK TO CONQUER: THE MARRIED MEN SHALL FORGE ARMS, TRANSPORT BAGGAGE AND ARTILLERY, PROVIDE SUBSISTENCE: THE WOMEN SHALL WORK AT SOLDIERS' CLOTHES, MAKE TENTS, SERVE IN HOSPITALS: THE CHILDREN SHALL SCRAPE OLD-LINEN INTO SURGEON'S LINT: AND THE AGED MEN SHALL HAVE THEMSELVES CARRIED INTO PUBLIC PLACES, AND THERE, BY THEIR WORDS, EXCITE THE COURAGE OF THE YOUNG AND PREACH UNITY TO THE REPUBLIC."

All private automobiles, with some exceptions for emergencies, are banned from the streets and roads of Japan, because of shortage of gasoline.

A dominant theme of the national week ceremonies of Reconciliation Week has been the need for more recruits for the armed forces. As Col. Raiston said in his radio address: "Hitler is not going to quit because you buy war savings certificates. He is not going to be stopped by the ships and guns and tanks and planes you make unless men are ready to pledge not just their dollars and their comfort, but their lives, if need be, to meet and beat him."

Bombed British victims for December showed a considerable reduction. There were 3,793, but in September there were more than 6,900. During that same month there were 313 victims from highway accidents, nearly 30 per cent of the number killed from the air.

The proper purpose of work is the satisfaction of human needs; hence Christian doctrine has insisted that production exists for consumption—though it must always be remembered that the producer is also human and must Nazis, and Rome under German pressure.

When the war broke she witnessed it from Berlin the day the Germans marched into Poland. She went to Finland for the Russian invasion where, as the only woman of six foreign journalists, she watched the struggle in the Arctic Circle. She was in Paris the last twenty-four hours before occupation and fled just in time back to London for the most critical war phase of all—the battle of Britain. She reports conversations with the King of England, Churchill, Mussolini, Halifax, Eden, Beaverbrook, Clarno, Balbo and touches them off with understanding and wit.

The closing paragraphs read: Our forebears shed their blood to establish the principle of justice and equality which we take for granted. They fought their most savage war for the conception that has built us into the most powerful democracy the world has known: "United we stand, divided we fall."

To-day on a broader horizon, the same tenet applies. Divided we will fail. United—and only united—we will stand. With desperate conviction, I say: Let us recapture the virility of our forebears and rise up now, before it is too late, to declare war on the Nazi forces which threaten our way of life.

CALVARY CHURCH NOTES

On Sunday next Harvest Thanksgiving Services will be held in Calvary Church, Dorchester St. at Greene Ave., Westmount, with the Minister, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., preaching both morning and evening. "Canada Gives Thanks in Wartime" will be the theme of these services. Special thanksgiving music will be rendered by the choir under the leadership of Henry E. Colcomb.

The evening preaching service will be followed by the Friendship Hour in the Church Hall, at which Dr. Jones will deliver an illustrated address on "Canada the Beautiful," using colored slides of scenes across Canada. Since returning from overseas where he served as Y.M.C.A. Supervisor with the 1st Canadian Division, Capt. Jones has crossed Canada, addressing the troops in the camps and the air force men in the training centres throughout the Dominion and Newfoundland.

Gifts of fruit, flowers and vegetables for use in the services on Sunday should be sent to the church on Saturday. These gifts will afterwards be distributed to worthy institutions.

The Young Worshippers' League will be held Sunday morning at 11 a.m. as will also the morning church school. The afternoon school will be held at 3 p.m., classes are held in all departments from beginners to adults. The Men's Own Brotherhood will also meet at 3 p.m. On Monday the Young People's Union will meet at 8.15 p.m. and join in a special Thanksgiving holiday excursion.

The Red Cross Units will meet on Tuesday from 10.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. and the evening branch at 7.30 p.m.

On Thursday, Oct. 16th, at 1 p.m., a Thanksgiving Luncheon will be held under the auspices of the Women's Association. The speaker will be Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., B.D., the subject of the address being "Among My Souvenirs," telling of his experiences in the British Isles. Ladies of the congregation and friends desirous of attending the luncheon should call Mrs. W. H. Ritchie, W.I. 7705 or Mrs. A. E. Robinson, WE. 4783 for reservations.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

St. Andrew's choir, under the direction of Fred Whiteley, will render a program of Thanksgiving music on Sunday evening. The whole service will partake of the glad and enriching theme of gratitude. A brief address by Rev. Dr. Kerr will show the marvellous deliverances of the past year, for which our people must be abundantly thankful.

Every Monday evening a large group of young women have been gathering in the parlour for Red Cross work. This is one of the most attractive organizations in the church, and an effort is on hand to double their attendance before the end of October.

Mr. Leonard Griffith is forming a dramatic club from the young folks of St. Andrew's. Already four religious dramas have been selected for the winter months, the first of these entitled The Lost Book, being presented at the evening service on Oct. 26. A Christmas Pageant is also under way which will require a cast of about forty young folks, in addition to the senior and junior choirs.

Violin And Organ Recital Planned

G. E. Flower and Joseph Berljawski will give a violin and organ recital in Westmount Park United Church immediately following the evening service. This, it is hoped, will be the first of a series proposed for the fall and winter.

A cordial invitation is extended to all. Mr. Berljawski and Mr. Flower have each, jointly, prepared a fine program of both classical and familiar compositions and it is hoped that many will be present to enjoy hearing them.

Mrs. J. C. Scott will sing "I Will Extol Thee," by Costa. The evening service itself, will feature some fine music by the choir and a solo by Miss Violet Fairbairn.

Westmount Women's Club Present Entertainment

On Sunday afternoon at the Westmount 'Y' a record number of men in uniform were in attendance for the monthly social of the Westmount Women's Club. Mrs. Holland and her painstaking committee had prepared a beautiful supper which was enjoyed to the full, and the entertainment was as usual in the capable hands of Betty Speirs and Peter Miller. Mr. Miller and Miss Speirs presented one of the most colorful programs it has been our pleasure to see and hear. Andrew Webster, well known Westmount citizen was heard in two splendid songs, while the singing trio of the Westmount Women's Corps, Olive Fletcher, Peggy Hollett, Peggy Smith with Elleen Ellis at the piano were accorded time and again. Yvonne Hindle, a young refugee from England was heard in two lovely recitations, while Gill MacKenzie and his western songs and his guitar were to the liking of all.

The two Trans-Atlantic fliers, guests of Miss Harold Mills were greatly enjoyed, as they related their experiences. From the boys themselves came two of the most entertaining artists we have seen in many a long month. Private John Ryan, an American citizen and a professional entertainer of sixteen years in the New York sector, sang until he could sing no more, while a wee Scotch lad, Peter McCurrain, of the Mercantile Marine, now in port, was sensational in his impersonations of Will Fyffe, the famous Scotch comedian.

Synagogue Auxiliary Will Hold Succos Tea

Mrs. Edward Solomon, president of the Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim, with the board and members of the auxiliary, will be "At Home" on Saturday, October 11, from 3.30 p.m. until 5.30 p.m., in the assembly hall of the Synagogue, when a Succos tea will be given. The Rev. Dr. H. Abramowitz will express Succos greetings, and Mrs. S. Gershon Levi will read a Succos story. Mrs. L. K. Freedman and her committee will preside at the tea hour. A cordial invitation is extended to members, friends and visitors to the community to attend this tea.

"Defending" the town were anti-tank units like that in foreground and a company of infantry.

FALL PROGRAM AT 'Y' BRANCH HERE POPULAR

Regular 'Friday Friendly Frolic,' Attracting Young People of City

The local "Y" fall and winter program is off to a good start. The Friday night weekly feature, "Friday Friendly Frolic" is proving to be very popular with the young people of the community. The ladies' and business girls' membership is steadily increasing. The business girls' class, with its gym, swim and badminton is extremely popular. The weekly mixed badminton at the Westmount Intermediate School on Wednesday night from 7.00 to 10.30 is proving to be popular with the badminton playing members of the Association. The school girls' swim, after school on Friday, is drawing together an enthusiastic group of young swimmers. This group under the supervision and direction of Miss Betty Searth, ladies' and girls' physical director, meets at 4.00 p.m.

The fencing group under the direction of Mr. Douglas Rolley meets weekly on Friday nights. The hours are from 7.00 to 8.00 at the Y.M.C.A. on Dorchester St., and from 8.00 to 9.00 at the Westmount "Y". This group is made up of last year's members. It is hoped that new members will be added in the near future. The Senior Leaders' Corps will hold its first official meeting Saturday, October 11, beginning

Turkey Price At High Level As West End Supply Down

Local dealers agree that prices of Thanksgiving turkeys are the highest and supplies the lowest the West End has experienced in many years.

A year ago retail stores advertised Grade A turkeys at 29 cents a pound. This week they are going to be at least 10 cents a pound more than that in most stores.

with some already 12 cents above last year's figure and talking of still higher levels. Many stores, earlier this week, were not prepared to quote prices on Thanksgiving turkeys, advising their customers that figures would be available later in the week when stocks would be lined up.

Chickens and other poultry are also up, and, because they are not as expensive as turkey, it was anticipated there might be a considerable switch to chickens, geese and fowl.

Dominion Agricultural Department officials have just announced that consumption of poultry meat has been at the highest point in history in Canada during the past year, evidently reflecting the greater purchasing power in the country now, with war industries proceeding at top speed.

HIGH PRIORITY RATING GIVEN TO BREWERIES

Effective this month the brewing industry in the United States has been given a priority rating by the government which places it among the first twenty essential industries with relation to the war effort. In this rating the breweries are placed with the food processing industries and their products are recognized as essential to the prosecution of the war.

According to Mr. Norman J. Dawes, president of National Breweries, who is active in arrangements on behalf of the British Government for the supplying of beer to the armies in the near east, this rating by the U.S. Government is recognition of the food value of this beverage and establishes its rightful position as a factor in helping maintain the health of those in the army and those engaged in the vital war industries. The high rating given to the brewing industry by the United States will probably also be recognized by Canada as this country and the United States are working in close relationship in such matters.

This is important, too, because of the many allied industries which embrace farming, railroads and shipping, glass manufacturers, bottle cap manufacturers and those engaged in these lines, to mention only a few. The new priority rating makes the efforts of the brewing industry to obtain raw materials, accessory materials, shipping rights and machinery less difficult and will aid in speeding up the essential part that the breweries are taking in the prosecution of the war.

It was only a short time ago that it was announced that both Canadian and American breweries are shipping beer to the British and Allied troops in Egypt, Lybia, Iraq, Iran and other countries where the intense heat has the effect of "drying out" those not accustomed to the climate. These shipments are being made on order from the British Government as a result of the discovery made by Lord Allenby during the last war that beer was an essential part of the rations of the soldiers under his command.

LAST RESPECTS ARE PAID LATE STEWART WATT

Private Funeral Service Held Yesterday — Was Resident Here 43 Years

A private funeral service for Stewart Ashley Anderson Watt, of Westmount, was held yesterday in the chapel of William Wray, University street. Interment was in Mount Royal Cemetery. Mr. Watt, who had resided here for 43 years, died on Monday at the Homeopathic Hospital at the age of 73 years. He had been in ill health for about twelve months.

Mr. Watt was born in Montreal and had been connected with the district office of the Guardian Assurance Co., for 45 years. He was a well known athlete in his younger days, being closely connected with lacrosse, and was a life member of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association.

Survivors include his wife, formerly Della Moran; one son, Stewart Hartland Watt, of Toronto; one daughter, Mrs. C. Douglas Taylor, of Montreal; a brother, Lawrence W. Watt, a sister, Mrs. A. S. McNaughton, both of this city, and four grandchildren.

of England near London with a squadron flying Spitfires. On a number of occasions he related, he had a squadron of Hunns all to himself, but inevitably found that he "couldn't surround them."

On one such occasion he was forced to parachute to safety. He told tales of the exploits of Czechs and Poles now serving in their own squadrons affiliated to the R.A.F. There was a Polish lad who, reporting after a particularly long stint in the air, told of dispatching upwards of 80 Nazis. "I saw Junkers. Pouff! and she is gone. Ten men. I saw another Junkers and chase her across Channel (which is officially forbidden in defensive operations). Pouff! and she is gone. Ten men. Below I see troops in town street. Pouff! Maybe 60 gone."

Admonished for his rule-breaking exploit, the Polish pilot took it in stride replying: "Next time I no report!"

LOCAL SCHOOL GROUP REPORTS ACTIVITIES

The annual meeting of the Lower Canada Group of the Canadian Red Cross was held recently, when reports were read on the various activities of the group.

During the winter, work was carried on from 2.30 to 5 o'clock every Tuesday afternoon, and by a smaller group on Wednesday evening, while during the summer, with the exception of two weeks, the members met and worked in the homes of several of the ladies. The work finished by the group consists of 802 pieces of sewing, and 645 knitted articles. To this were added 3 afghans and 15 knitted articles donated by friends of the group.

first get-together of the school faculty at which time, the program for school activities will be completed. All departments of the school are now in session on Saturday and Sunday mornings with daily Hebrew classes meeting on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

FINAL TRIBUTE PAID TO LATE MRS. R. BLACK

Funeral Service Conducted By Father McDonough At Church of the Ascension

The funeral service for Mrs. R. A. Black, of 46 Academy road, was conducted in the Church of the Ascension by Father W. McDonough, parish priest, on Tuesday morning. Interment was in Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

Mrs. Black, the former Miss Norris, died on Sunday at the Ross Memorial Pavilion, Royal Victoria Hospital, following a long illness. She was the wife of R. A. Black, engineer of transportation of the Canadian National Railways. Mrs. Black is survived by one son, R. M. Black, of Montreal, two daughters, Mrs. D. H. Williams, of Halifax, and Mrs. J. R. Bassett, of San Francisco, Cal., and three sisters, Miss M. O. Norris, of Vancouver, Mrs. J. B. Hankey and Mrs. J. J. Burke, of Montreal West.

RESIDENT PAID FINAL TRIBUTE

Final tribute was paid to Mrs. George W. Dorton, of 36 Aberdeen avenue, at the William Wray funeral chapel, 2075 University street, on Monday afternoon. Interment followed in Mount Royal Cemetery. Mrs. Dorton, the former Ruth Meredith Parker, died on Saturday in the Private Pavilion of the Montreal General Hospital.

A talented singer, for many years soloist in the Church of St. Andrew and St. Paul, Mrs. Dorton was born in Salem, Mass., 52 years ago. She came to Montreal with her family in 1911, and in 1919 married George W. Dorton. She was a member of the I.O. D.E., and is survived by her husband.

The following officers were elected for 1941-42:
Honorary president, Mrs. D. S. Penton; president, Mrs. V. C. Wansbrough; vice-president, Mrs. M. C. Small; secretary, Mrs. E. R. S. Hodgson; treasurer, Mrs. A. H. Bouillon; work convener, Mrs. O. R. WEDDINGS

Godwin-Scott

The marriage of Margaret (Peggy), elder daughter of Major and Mrs. E. Leroy Scott, to Mr. John David Godwin, of Belleville, Ont., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Godwin, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, took place on Saturday afternoon at Westmount Park United Church, the Rev. J. Lavell Smith, assisted by Canon F. L. Whitley, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, officiating. Miss Royia Scott was her sister's only attendant, and Mr. A. Bennetts Lamb was best man for Mr. Godwin. The ushers were Mr. Donald Cochrane and Mr. John W. Hopkin.

Major Scott gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a frock of spruce green imported English rabbit's hair with a green veil tailored hat, a shoulder length veil and accessories of spruce green, her corsage bouquet being of Token roses and bouvardia. The maid of honor was wearing an imported English woolen frock of rose hatter with brown tulle hat and matching accessories and carried a flower muf of gardenias.

Following a reception for the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents, 4150 Hingston avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Godwin left to spend their honeymoon at Lake Westwood, Ont. They will reside in Belleville.

Mowat-Armstrong

The marriage of Iris Meryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Armstrong, to Mr. William Stewart Mowat, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mowat, took place on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock

MARRIED AT LACHINE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hilliard Whiteman, whose marriage took place recently in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Lachine. Mrs. Whiteman is the former Miss Mary Burrell Kirk, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kirk of Notre Dame de Grace. Mr. Whiteman is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Whiteman of Lachine.

in St. George's Church, the Venerable Archdeacon Gower-Rees officiating. Mr. J. J. Weatherseed, organist of the church, played the wedding music.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of white crepe intrigue, fashioned on Princess lines, the full skirt ending in a train. Her veil of tulle lustrous was held by a cluster of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia.

The bride attendants, Mrs. Edward Drake, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Charles N. Turner were groomed alike in frocks of crepe romaine cut on Princess lines and having heart-shaped necklines. They wore tiny hats of pompons of the same material as their frocks and carried bouquets of bronze mums. Mrs. Drake wore almond green and Mrs. Turner was in gold. Mr. Keith Mowat was best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. John Locke, Mr. Charles N. Turner, Mr. Bruce Mowat, brother of the bridegroom, and Mr.

Richard Stevens, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held in the Prince of Wales Salon of the Windsor Hotel, where the bride's table was arranged with pink and white mums.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Mowat left to spend their honeymoon in the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a rust-colored wool suit trimmed with silver fox, a black felt hat with a tiny veil and a corsage bouquet of white carnations and bouvardia.

The out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Armstrong, Miss Ida Armstrong, Captain Edward Drake, and Flying Officer and Mrs. Douglas Laird, of Ottawa; and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kelly, of New York.

MACNUTT-MEDLAR

The marriage of Frances Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil T. Medlar, and Squadron Leader Ernest Gerrard Macnutt, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mr. E. A. Macnutt and of the late Mrs. Macnutt, took place quietly at the home of the bride's parents, 125 Arlington avenue, on Saturday afternoon. Venerable Archdeacon Gower-Rees officiated at the ceremony.

Miss Kathryn Medlar was her sister's only attendant, and Mr. Frederick R. Duncan, of Toronto, was best man.

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory silk moire with square neckline and long close fitting sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her circular train extended from a low-waisted bodice, and her veil of tulle illusion fell from a halo cascade bouquet of white orchids and bouvardia.

The maid-of-honor wore shell pink moire modelled on lines similar to the bride's gown, and carried sweetheart roses and blue cornflowers, wearing a cluster of the same flowers in her hair.

A small reception followed the ceremony, and later the bridal couple left to spend their honeymoon at the Seignior Club, the bride travelling in a suit of imported grey English tweed with grey fox collar, and matching hat and accessories.

They will reside in Toronto. Owing to the uncertainty of the condition of the bridegroom's brother, Sergeant-Pilot P. S. Macnutt, who is reported wounded and a prisoner in Germany, only immediate relatives of the bridal couple were present at the ceremony.

Because of the heavy Chinese traffic on the Burma Road, the Burma railways made a profit in the last fiscal year after nine years of deficits.

EVERYTHING CONSIDERED

BY GERALDINE BRIETZCKE

We sang God Save the King in Church as usual, and the organ pealed royally enough to remind you of Westminster Abbey, and purple velvet, and cheering crowds. But for some reason I didn't think of pomp and circumstance and the aloof symbols of majesty at all.

I thought of a lean, tanned gentleman, in a rough tweed jacket, smiling as his children romped with their terriers in an English garden. I thought of a father riding with his daughters along woodland paths in the early morning, with autumn mist rising up from the bracken, and fresh, cheerful laughter bursting out in the quiet air.

That's what we're fighting for—the peaceful countryside, the happy family gatherings, the free laughter of free hearts, in England and the world over. That's why we sing God Save the King.

Better than the cookie jar, and better by far than the candy dish, are staples of nice plump raisins, stationed in suitable containers at suitable positions around the house. Everyone from papa down will dip into the fruit absentmindedly or purposefully, and the more they dip, the more good nourishment they absorb.

We went to a double talkie the other night. I don't refer to the double feature on the screen—the other half of the talkie took place beside us, where a not too bright girl found it necessary to exclaim, question and ponder in a monotonous undertone. It was funny, and her escort took it nobly. Not once did he say, "Will you be quiet!" or even "Shh!". He answered her in patient monosyllables.

The picture was a real cliff-hanger of the most exciting sort. You've probably seen it—"Man Hunt." During the tragic scene when Thorndike is handed Jerry's tam-o'-shanter which still sports the little diamond arrow ornament—and knows that she has met her death at the hands of the Gestapo;—when the fierce thought comes to him, that he can use the little arrow to kill his foe distorted with hatred and sorrow, twisting the arrow in his trembling hand, "Is he going to put it in his hat?" enquires our girl, curiously.

We liked the dining room, we liked the menu, and we had excellent appetites gained from walking a long way in the country. One of us, however, became imaginative, and remarked that she hoped the drinking water supply didn't wander through a farmyard on its way to the hotel. It wasn't a pleasant thought, and it preyed on her mind, so when the waitress returned, she asked her if the water was good? "Oh, yes," the girl said, reassuringly, "it's fertilized."

Dr. Jones To Speak On British Empire

Captain the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D., of Calvary United Church, will speak in Wesley Hall on Wednesday evening, October 15, at 8 o'clock, his subject being "The British Empire." Dr. Jones was the supervisor of the Y.M.C.A. War Services First Division C.A.S.F.

Music will be provided by a group of members of the Montreal Masonic Choir, under the leadership of Walter S. Clapper. This meeting is open to any who wish to attend. There will be a small admission charge, and the proceeds will go to the Women's missionary society.

Moon Over Miami Packed With Fun, Romance Tunes

All the lavishness of "That Night in Rio," the melody of "Tin Pan Alley," and the eye-appeal of "Down Argentine Way" have been brought together in the latest 20th Century-Fox Technicolor musical, "Moon Over Miami," which opened at the Monkland United Theatre last night playing until Saturday.

Framed against the lush tropical beauty of Miami, the glamour of the South, "Moon Over Miami," features Don Ameche, Betty Grable, and Robert Cummings in their most delightful and entertaining roles. The stars more than live up to their parts by giving outstanding performances. Charlotte Greenwood, Jack Haley, Carole Landis, and Colby Wright, Jr., are other members of the star-studded cast whose acting merits orchids.

This amusing film is the gay, tune-filled tale of how to invest an inheritance. Two sisters, Betty Grable and Carole Landis, induce their aunt, Charlotte Greenwood, to accompany them to Miami. All three have just inherited $5,000, and Betty decides to invest it in clothes and a lavish suite at one of Miami's ritziest hotels. Her purpose is to hook a millionaire by looking like a millionairess. Carr poses as her secretary and Miss Greenwood as her personal maid. Betty is so convincing as an heiress that she not only hooks a millionaire, Robert Cummings, but another fortune hunter like herself, Don Ameche. Unfortunately she falls in love with Don before she discovers her mistake. Down to her first dollar, she accepts Bob's proposal, but before she can marry him, cupid sets things topsy-turvy for a mad-cap climax.

That "Moon Over Miami" will go down in musical history was proven by audience reaction. Theatre patrons came out whistling Leo Robin's and Ralph Rainger's hit tunes, "Kindergarten Conga," "Hurrah For Today," "Miami," "I've Got You All to Myself," "Loveliness and Love," "You Started Something," "Is That Good," and "Solitary Seminoles."

Equally impressive is the dancing. A Conga routine is performed by Dance Director Hermos Pan. His demonstrations on the set were so excellent, that the studio drafted him to go through this routine for the film with Betty Grable. Betty also does a sure-fire number with the sensational Condos Brothers, stage and night club favorites. Jack Cole, one of the nation's finest interpretive dancers and his company of sixty bring to the screen for the first time a sensational series of modernized Seminole Indian folk dances.

Walter Lang, who directed "Tin Pan Alley," repeats his cinematic triumph in "Moon Over Miami." Harry Joe Brown was the producer. The skillfully contrived screen play by Vincent Lawrence and Brown Holmes was adapted by George Seaton and Lynn Starling from a play by Stephen Powys.

ROLAND YOUNG SEES DIFFICULT DECISION

Roland Young, the art collector, caused plenty of grief for Roland Young, the actor. A lover and collector of Chinese porcelains, Young had no suspicion when he was signed for Hal Roach's "Topper Returns," now at the York United Theatre until Friday night, that his hobby would play hob with his career.

The grief arrived in a scene in which the invisible Miss Blondell, tipsy on champagne, decides to juggle a three foot Ming vase. She playfully tosses it to Young, who fumbles, and it smashes to smithereens. At least that's what the script said. The vase, of course, was only a reproduction of the original, which rested safely in another part of the set. But it was a masterly imitation, and that's where the trouble began.

Three times Joan tossed the vase at Young, and three times he hung on to it for dear life. The scenes, naturally, were ruined. "I just can't let it go," he apologized to director Roy Del Ruth. "My mind tells me it's just a cheap copy, but at the last minute I get a sneaking feeling that it might be real, and I'm a goner."

It was canny Joan Blondell who solved the dilemma. She simply suggested that the studio print shop make and attach a "Made in Germany" label to the bottom of the vase. On the next "take," Young, an Englishman, saw the label and forgot he was an art collector. He dropped the vase like a hot potato.

"Perfect!" shouted director Del Ruth. "Thanks," said weary Roland Young to psychologist Joan Blondell.

Among the more than 600 participants in the Buryat-Mongolian Art Festival in Moscow, Russia, were 45 actors of the musical drama theatre, 85 ballet dancers, 80 musicians, members of the national instruments orchestra, and 150 singers of the state chorus.

Cagney And Bette Davis Shine In Bride Came C.O.D.

It's a laugh hit now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. Living up to the intriguing promise of its title and exciting star combination, "The Bride Came C.O.D." with James Cagney and Bette Davis, easily walks away with top comedy honors.

The two stars have pooled their considerable talents to make "The Bride Came C.O.D." hilarious entertainment. Cagney, who had some practice in his recent hit "Strawberry Blonde," approaches his comedy role with an effortless savoir faire that is a joy to behold. As for Miss Davis, playing her first light role in several years, she proves that comedy is just as much her forte as drama.

The story, adapted for the screen by Julius J. and Philip G. Epstein, twin acrobats responsible for some of the screen's wittiest output, has the supreme virtue of getting comedy from legitimate situations, rather than trumped-up ones. Briefly outlined, the plot concerns itself with a spoiled young debutante who becomes engaged to a band leader. Planning to elope, they hire a taxi plane to take them to Las Vegas. The pilot, however, decides he can make more money by delivering the bride C.O.D. and unmarried to her father, who opposes the union. He captures the bride and lies off with her, but they are grounded in the desert. They find shelter in a nearby ghost town, populated solely by a philosophical old innkeeper. From then on, it is a tug of war between the heiress and the aviator—with the girl trying to get back to civilization and her fiancé, the man trying to keep her until he gets his plane fixed and deliver her to her father. During the battle they reluctantly fall in love with each other. The climax is refreshingly different and we won't spoil it by giving it away.

William Keighley, whose knack with comedy is well known through his work on such films as "Yes, My Darling Daughter" and "No Time For Comedy," has directed "The Bride Came C.O.D." superbly, keeping the story going at a fast clip, without a

Snowdon Bill Held For Second Week

The outstanding Frank Capra produced, "Meet John Doe," which co-stars Gary Cooper and beautiful Barbara Stanwyck, is being held over for a second week at the Snowdon United Theatre. Included in the strong supporting cast are such well known players as Edward Arnold, Walter Brennan, Spring Byington, James Gleason and Gene Lockhart.

Combine one of the best novelties of all time, a mystery writer of all time, a great character star, Will Fyfe, and a director capable of maintaining suspense to the utmost degree, and you have the second feature on this held-over program, "Missing People."

The film which must be classified among the better mystery yarns of the current film season, is based on the activities of Mr. J. G. Reeder, kindly bespectacled country gentleman detective.

A slow-moving, quick-thinking salty old gent, he looks less like a detective than anybody imaginable. This fact enables him to work without suspicion among the gangs of the underworld. Lovely Kay Walsh and Lynn Harding are in the cast.

The latest War News and other short entertainment will be included.

Never think that God's delays are God's denials.—True.

wasted foot of film, dextrously emphasizing the humor, without pounding it down. Scores of inspired little touches pop up here and there through the story to contribute to the general merriment.

An unusually grand supporting cast lend able aid to the stars in bringing the picture to such a high peak of perfection. Jack Carson is marvelous as band leader, so egotistical that when his bride-to-be tells him she hates him, he asks with genuine amazement, "How is that possible?" Harry Davenport is even better than his usual best as the ghost town innkeeper, and Eugene Pallette is properly apologetic as the bride's father. Stuart Erwin does a clever caricature of a radio gossip columnist who

WESTMOUNT FOOTBALL SQUAD DOWNS D'ARCY McGEE

PURPLE AND WHITE TRIUMPHS BY 29-5 TO CHALK UP THIRD STRAIGHT VICTORY IN LEAGUE

Chalking up its third straight win, the Westmount High School senior football squad trimmed D'Arcy McGee to the tune of 29-5 at Westmount Park Monday afternoon.

McGee, which crushed Loyola, 19-8, in its first fixture, was outplayed and out-bruised from the starting whistle, by the rugged Westmount aggregation.

Just one minute and 50 seconds after the contest opened Johnny Porter swept around his end for the initial major, thus keeping up the practice he had started of scoring the first touchdown of each Westmount triumph. The McGee kick-off was run back to the Double Blue's 33 territory, then two first downs, minus 10 yards for roughing, put the Westenders in a scoring position on the McGee 15. From there it took just one play, behind perfect interference, for Porter to go over.

Jimmo Peters then notched his first placement for the extra point, starting off his 1,000 kicking average for the day. He converted the four he attempted.

The Westmount stalwarts held back the McGee drive during the rest of the initial canto and even made the odd, ineffectual one, themselves. They did show power and balance.

Less than four minutes after the second chapter got under way Tommy Finical, the only member of last year's team on Coach G. P. Smith's crop of juvenile up-set-artists, not one of whom is over 18, proved just why he was held over. He snared a McGee kick on the Double Blue 4, and swivel-kipped his way over the goal-line standing up. Peters, as usual, made the extra point.

Finical, an American, also scored the last five points for the winners, carrying the ball around the right end to bring the score to 29-0. Only it wasn't merely another end run. This one started on the McGee 49 and ended up over the goal-line with another great exhibition of broken field running. Peters converted.

Just 45 seconds after Finical's first touch, Bill Reade intercepted a McGee forward on the losers' 30 and strolled over the line for another major. Doug Heron's attempted drop kick for the convert failed.

On the second to last play before half-time, Peters booted a 55-yarder that landed on the Irish four-yard line, and before a McGee back could run it out, he was hit, and tumbled the ball, giving Westmount possession on the Double Blue four. Greg Heron had a comparatively easy time on the first buck to run up one more touchdown. Peters kicked the extra point.

McGee's lone score to save it from a shut-out came in the dying minutes of the game. Andy Muir gathered in a Westmount spiral on the Royal and White 35, and several plays, of which two were short forwards, traveling no more than 12 or 15 yards from Muir to Frank Roche, dropped the Pine Avenue squad on its opponents eight. Roche fought for the touch around his left end.

Twice Roche was hurt, and both times returned to the game to carry the mail for McGee. He was his most consistent yard-gainer, Bill Hawkins was another

South Bend.—Francis William Leahy has made many changes at Notre Dame, but this does not mean he has junked the Notre Dame system, or that he is any less a traditionalist than his own coach, the late Knute K. Rockne. Knute Rockne always tried to get his best 11 players on the field at the same time.

If Rock had sufficient material, as he usually did, he would have two or even three good teams available.

He sacrificed weight for speed... picked the fast, dexterous, agile player over the slower type. If they were swift and big, so much the better.

Rock's primary interest was in offense.

That's why he was such an interesting coach and why his teams were such attractions.

Rock's outfits knew plenty of fancy plays.

While they were primarily blocking and tackling teams, they always had a special scoring play in the hole for an emergency.

"The trouble with most football teams," Rock used to say, "is that they rarely have anything left when a punch is badly needed."

LEAHY NOT AFRAID TO MAKE CHANGES

If Rock were alive today, you may be sure he would have plenty of new stuff. He was always ahead of the field.

Frank Leahy is built along the same line.

"Rock probably wouldn't have made the same changes we're making, but he wouldn't have made still," says Leahy. "He always said: 'You either progress or regress. You don't stagnate.'"

"Perhaps the changes we have made are not good, but some of them worked for us at Boston

Frank Leahy makes it perfectly clear to Fighting Irish.

College, and we're willing to try the others.

"We'll be first to admit we're wrong, if they don't work."

It's always "we" with Leahy, never "I." Everybody around the South Dakota Irishman gets full credit.

One of Leahy's changes is a line shift, but his team always goes into a balanced line. Line-men merely lineup about a foot behind the tip of the ball, and take three small steps in rhythm with the backs. Line-men tire less easily if they do not have to hold a squatting position for five or six seconds.

Linemen feel they are more a part of the offense if they shift with the backs. They obtain a better blocking angle and are less likely to tip off plays. Spectators enjoy the added movement, and Leahy is first of all a good showman.

NOTRE DAME MOVES FROM LOPSIDED T

Leahy runs about a third of his plays from a T formation, but not the T that Rock used and that most T teams are using now. Henry Toczykowski, who called his plays at Boston College, well describes it as a lopsided T.

The quarter is the blocking back. He handles the ball on no more than two or three plays. He lines up behind the guard—left or right, depending on the shift, and thus the center can feed to the other three backs. When not operating from the T, the Irish go from the regular Notre Dame box, shifting into it from the T.

One difference here is that the lead back now takes the position of a wingback, a little wider than before, so as to help the end block the tackle.

ARGOS WIN 12-11 FROM BULLDOGS BUT SUFFER 10-7 DEFEAT IN SIX-MAN LEAGUE

Three games were played in the Westmount Six Man Rugby league last week, two senior and one junior. Kevin Kennedy's Argos appeared in both the Senior contests with varied success, suffering a surprising 10-7 defeat at the hands of John Pierson's Beavers but winning a close 12-11 victory over Pierre Rodier's Bulldogs. The Junior game resulted in a 2-0 win for the University team over Herbie Kert's Flyers.

Two of the games were played in the form of a double-header on Saturday morning. In the first game a junior fixture, Mickey Darling booted two rouges to give the University School team a 2-0 win over the Flyers.

In the senior game, the Argos* seemed well on the way to a win with a 7-4 lead and but a half minute to play. Beavers had possession of the ball on the Argos' 15 yard line. Dave Harvie faded back to try a forward pass, only to find all his men covered. Howie then cut for the goal to go over for a touch and the winning points. Howie converted with a placement.

The Argos scored their seven points when John Kennedy caught Ed O'Brien's forward to go over for a try, Dick Beattie converting. Beattie also kicked a rouge. The Beavers other points were scored by Ian Fraser and Howie.

The Argos nosed out the Bulldogs on Tuesday afternoon 12-11. This marks the second time the Argos have won a game via accurate converts of Dick Beattie. Beattie converted both Argo touches to make it five straight.

Happy Hamilton and Vogue McDonald notched the winners' tries, with Adrian Lunny and Kevin Shea scoring a touch apiece for the Bulldogs. Adrian Lunny kicked the odd point for the losers.

Meeting Is Held By Girls' Hi-Y

The second meeting of the Girls' Hi-Y was held on Thursday. The speaker was last year's advisor, Miss Banfill, who is a teacher at Westmount High School. She spoke on the subject, "What Is The Hi-Y," and explained the Constitution, illustrating some of her points by amusing stories.

Lois Gnaedinger reported on the Hi-Y Chapter meeting, and said that it was suggested that all Hi-Y clubs co-operate on one project, "The Children of Canada," during the winter. The girls were very enthusiastic about the idea.

Miss Parker, the other last year's advisor, came to the meeting, and said "hello" to the girls and wished them luck.

WIHS DEFEATS MOUNT ROYAL SCHOOL SQUAD

Westmount Juniors continued their winning streak on Monday afternoon, defeating Mount Royal High School 11-6 at Model City. However the local squad won only on a brilliant play in the final half which broke up the game.

Early in the second quarter W.I.H.S. carried the ball on a lengthy march down the field to Mount Royal's five-yard line from where Norris Masterman came up with a touchdown. Jim de Lalanne threw a pass to Ray Hellyer for the convert.

Mount Royal benefitted by a number of penalties against its opponents in the same quarter and when the half had ostensibly ended, it was sitting on the W.I.H.S. 25-yard line after receiving a rumble, but there had been some error in the time-keeping so the quarter continued. Bill Teddy swept around the end almost out of bounds to score. At this point of the game Hellyer was banished for talking back to the referee, the first such penalty of the season.

The spirited Mount Royal squad had pushed Westmount back to its own 30-yard line, but with its back to the wall Westmount brought off the most spectacular play of the game. De Lalanne whipped a pass to Kyle Prescott who took the ball at his 50-yard line and covered the remaining 60 yards to put his team ahead 11-6 and complete the scoring.

There was little to choose between the teams, Coach Merritt's Mount Royal squad showing surprising form although lacking the experience and smooth interference of its rivals. Thurston Hunt and Gordon Clough played strong games for the losers.

The teams: Westmount: de Lalanne, Prescott, Robinson, Masterman, McCrae, Edmison, Oliver, Williams, Jackson, Spencer, Patterson, Chippendale, Johnson, Emo, Boxer, Wilson, Hellyer, Ross, McAllister.

Mt. Royal: Jackson, Hunt, Reede, Clough, Tedley, Gallagher, Davis, Binning, Odell, Ricketts, Legge, Clendenning, Young, Hale, Logan, Little, Hughes, Lyons.

Referee: Lang.

LOCALS DOWN MONTREAL BY 13-10 SCORE

Westmount High School's powerful entry in the new interlocking Senior High School Football League, defeated Montreal High 13-10 at McGill Campus last week.

The West-enders piled up an 11-0 score on the strength of their extra weight and power before the University street squad could begin to let its razzle-dazzle backfield do its stuff.

The first quarter was climaxed by a series of power plays and end sweeps that started about the Westmount 25-yard line and finished up with 16-year-old Johnny Porter carrying the ball over for the major on an eight-yard sweep around the right end. The convert failed.

Continuing the same tactics, alternated with one of Coach G. P. Smith's patented backfield formations, the Westmounters again scored in the second canto, with Outside Tommy Finical trotting around left end with perfect interference from his backfield. Peters booted a perfect placement for an extra point.

Things were again looking dark for M.H.S. until Bill Norman intercepted a Westmount forward on his own 32-yard line, galloped to the Westmount 35, then lateraled to Ray Howard who continued on his merry way for the first major of his team.

About 2,500 students went wild over this, the most thrilling play of the game, as both Howard and Norman pulled some tricky broken-field running through all 12 members of the Westmount squad. The convert was blocked and the score was 11-5.

Starting immediately after the kick-off on its own 50-yard line, the Blue and White aggregation put together two sweeps around the end, a forward, a solo dash resulting from a blocked toss and a 10-yard penalty to end up on the nine-yard line of the West-enders.

Westmount had little trouble crashing through the Montreal line, with its sweeps around the end fairly productive and until the backfield could get to them. Gibbs was the most effective M.H.S. man in stopping their attacks.

The teams: Westmount: Peters, Heron, Porter, Nicholson, Curtiss, Murray, Harrison, Tilden, Goode, Chisholm, Finical, Drennan, Bardwell, Robinson, Common, Frass, Levinson, Mitchell, Phillips, Reade, Townsend, Woods, Lord.

Montreal High: Rutter, Howard, Gibbs, Norman, McLeod, Damas, Young, Nittall, Snow, Lawton, Adams, Robertson, Dunbar, Kirschner, Smith, Turnbull, Webb.

Recreational Program Is Held At 'Y' Branch

A social program of dancing, bridge, table games and swimming, attended by 120 persons, was sponsored by the "Y" 3-F Club on Friday. Host and hostess of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. James Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. Murray McFarlane, Parker Wearling, Miss Jean Harvie, Miss Allo and Ken Fraser.

When interviewed, Mr. Smeek explained that this program was an effort on the part of community leaders to provide a wholesome activity in recreation.

It is planned later on to give instruction in dancing, and craft work, which would include woodwork, metal craft, leather skills, photography, tinting and fine arts. Friday an election for officers will be held. A feature of this week's program will be instruction in barn dancing.

ST. LEO'S AND LOYOLA TIE

Bantam football teams of Loyola College and St. Leo's Academy, playing in the Inter-Scholastic Association, ended up in a scoreless draw in a match fought out at the college field on Saturday morning.

The teams were well balanced for one thing and the field was very slow for another and these facts combined to produce an even struggle with play staying fairly close to the mid-field mark for the greater part of the game.

Only once did a major threat develop, that in the last quarter when St. Leo's worked the ball down to Loyola's five-yard line, but the game ended at that moment.

Best work on the Loyola side was turned in by Rooney and Toohy, while Milton Orr and Jack Shannon went well for the visiting team.

L.C.C. TRIMS WESTMOUNT BY SCORE OF 22-0

In an exhibition game at the college grounds, Lower Canada College senior B football squad trimmed Westmount Intermediate High School Juniors 22-0 on Tuesday.

Individual star of the game, Hunter Wilson scored two touchdowns for L.C.C., both in the fourth quarter. Savage and Danfil tallied the other majors in the second and third quarters, respectively. Wright followed Savage's touch with the only completed convert while the remaining point came on a rouge by Birkett.

Not only was the L.C.C. line too strong for the Westmount junior league entry but the game was played under the five-yard in-
