MARTIN ELECTED: BIG MAJORITY

ALDERMANIC CONTESTS CLOSE IN MANY WARDS MANY ARE RE-ELECTED

Alds. Vandelac, Macdonald, Blumenthal, Dubeau, Hushion and Mayrand Will Be Among Members of the New City Council—Brodeur Elected in St. James Ward

There will be a number of old faces on the City Council this year, and a number of new ones as well, according to tonight's election returns.

Ald. Vandelac is re-elected by a good majority in St. Jean Baptiste ward.

Ald. Dubeau appears to be elected in St. Gabriel, although the returns are not complete.

Ald. Blumenthal will again represent St. Louis winning by a handsome majority over his numerous opponents.

Ald. Dr. Dubeau is the favorite in Lafontaine ward, Ald. Hushion in St. Joseph's, Ald. Mayrand in Delorimier, and Ald. Macdonald in Notre Dame de Grace, Ald. Lariviere in Mercier, and Ald. Houle in St. Denis.

Ald. Menard appears to be beaten in Ahuntsic-Bordeaux by Daniel Kochenburger.

Ald. Turcot is running a close fight in Laurier ward with Mr. Berube.

PRESENT MAYOR THIRTY-SEVENTH CHOSEN IN CITY

First Was Jacques Viger, Elected in 1833 — Commission of Judges—Peter McGill Appointed by Governor-General — Mayors Serving More Than One Term

Montreal today elected her thirty-seventh mayor. Her first mayor, Jacques Viger, was elected in 1833.

From the time of the British occupation to the year 1833 the city was administered by a commission of judges. The first charter was adopted in 1833, and the city was at that time divided into eight wards: East, West, St. Ann, St. Joseph, St. Antoine, St. Lawrence, St. Mary, and St. Louis. This charter remained in force until 1836.

The first mayor, Jacques Viger, was elected by the City Council. His successor, Peter McGill, was appointed by the Governor-General. Mr. McGill was elected for another term by the City Council. The last mayor to be elected by the City Council was E. R. Fabre, mayor in 1849-50. Beginning in the year 1851 mayors have always been elected by the people at large.

Of the thirty-six mayors of Montreal, seventeen were French-Canadians. In the earlier days mayors were frequently re-elected for several terms, but during the past twenty years the Hon. Raymond Prefontaine was the only mayor to be given a second term. Among the several term mayors were:

Joseph Bourret, three terms; the Hon. Charles Rodier, four terms; the Hon. J. L. Beaudry, ten terms; Charles Coursol, two terms; the Hon. Severe Rivard, two terms; H. Beaugrand, two terms; Jacques Grenier, two terms; the Hon. J. O. Villeneuve, two terms; the Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, three terms; Sir William Hingston, two terms; R. Wilson Smith, two terms; the Hon. James McShane, two terms; William Workman, three terms; and others.

Upon the retirement from the office of the Hon. Raymond Prefontaine, the term of mayor was prolonged to two years instead of one. The full list follows:

1833-36—Jacques Viger.
1836-40—Interregnum during which judges of the peace carried on the administration.
1840—The Hon. Peter McGill.
1841-42—The Hon. Peter McGill.
1843-44—Joseph Bourret.
1845-6—The Hon. James Ferrier.
1847—John E. Mills (died during his term and was succeeded by Joseph Bourret).
1848—Joseph Bourret.
1849-50—E. R. Fabre.
1851-52-53—The Hon. Charles Wilson.
1854-55—Wolfred Nelson.
1856-57—The Hon. Henry Starnes.
1858-59-60-61—The Hon. Charles S. Rodier.
1862-63-64-65—The Hon. J. L. Beaudry.
1866-67—The Hon. Henry Starnes.
1868-69-70—William Workman.
1871-72—Charles J. Coursol.
1873—Francis Cassidy (died during his term and was succeeded by Aldis Bernard).
1874—Aldis Bernard.
1875-76—Sir William Hingston.
1877-78—The Hon. J. L. Beaudry.
1879-80—The Hon. Severe Rivard.
1881-82-83-84—The Hon. J. L. Beaudry.
1885-86—Honore Beaugrand.
1887-88—Sir J. J. C. Abbott.
1889-90—Jacques Grenier.
1891-2—The Hon. James McShane.
1893—Alphonse Desjardins.
1894-95—The Hon. J. O. Villeneuve.
1896-97—R. Wilson Smith.
1898-99-1900-01—The Hon. Raymond Prefontaine.
1902-03—James Cochrane.
1904-05—H. Laporte.
1906—07—H. A. Ekers.
1908-09—L. Payette.
1910-11—The Hon. J. J. Guerin.
1912-13—L. A. Lavallee.
1914-15—Mederic Martin.

EXCITEMENT HAS DIED DOWN TODAY IN WINNIPEG CITY

WINNIPEG, April 3.—Following is a list of the more or less seriously injured in Saturday's rioting: Pte. George Smith, fractured skull, condition grave; Sergt. E. Langford, internal injuries; Bugler Wood, bruised and cuts; Pte. McKay, injured knee, battered face and cuts; J. F. Norton, president of the Norton Land Company, cuts on the head.

Military opinion is that the trouble started from the uncalled for police interference in arresting a military police officer together with the soldier the latter had in charge.

A military inquiry was held and sittings of both license and police commissioners are taking place today. The excitement of Saturday night's disturbance has died down and conditions are perfectly normal.

As a precautionary measure all local troops are today confined to their parade grounds, except such as are employed on the usual garrison duty.

City policemen are today on their customary beats downtown, after being withdrawn entirely all day yesterday within the police station on Rupert street.

WASHINGTON, April 3. — The State Department today received a statement from one of the crew of the English steamer Manchester Engineer to the effect that he saw the periscope of a submarine just before the vessel was sunk.

GRILL DANIELS ON ALLEGED BETRAYAL OF NAVAL SECRETS

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Accusing his Department of having furnished specifications and intimate details of the fourteen-inch guns, armor strength, and other offensive and defensive features of the United States navy to other Governments, "Big Navy" members of the House Naval Committee today subjected the Secretary of the Navy, Josephus Daniels to a grilling cross-examination.

Representative Butler, of Pennsylvania, made the charges that the Navy's plans and specifications had fallen into the hands of the Russian Government and the Krupps under Daniels' administration.

The Secretary denied any knowledge of the charges.

OSBORNE TRIAL SET FOR APRIL 10

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 3.—Thomas Mott Osborne, former Sing Sing warden, will go to trial April 10 on the charge of mismanagement and personal immorality. The new date was fixed today by Supreme Court Justice Platt at White Plains.

A technical argument on the motion of Osborne's counsel to have the personal immorality count dismissed is in progress before the Appelate Division today in Brooklyn.

THOUSANDS LOSS IN BIG BLAZE AT BOARD OF TRADE

Several thousand dollars damage was done this evening by a fire in the premises of R. G. Dunn and Co., mercantile agency, on the third floor of the Board of Trade Building.

The alarm was rung in at 6:23 o'clock from Box 114 and as this box is in the heart of the wholesale business district the entire fire-fighting force of the Central division was called. The blaze, which started in the stock room, obtained a good start among the quantites of papers, consisting of valuable records and the firemen had a stubborn fight on their hands.

Three streams were turned on and after about half an hour's work the fire was under control, but not until great damage had been done by water to the records of the mercantile agency and to the offices of other tenants on the floors below. The salvage corps did good work in protecting property and spread some 150 covers.

New Murder Trial in Los Angeles Times Dynamiting

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 3. — David Caplan, charged with the murder of Charles Hagerty, one of the twenty persons who lost their lives when the Los Angeles Times building was destroyed by dynamite October 1, 1910, was placed on trial today in the Superior Court here before Judge Willis.

Judge Willis presided in the case of Matthew A. Schmidt, convicted on the same charge, December 30, 1915, and sentenced to life imprisonment. An appeal in his case is pending.

It is expected that the trial of Caplan will be completed in less than a month.

SAY $4,500 PAID FOR BAFF'S MURDER

NEW YORK, April 3.— Testimony as to methods of hiring murderers will be presented at the trials of the alleged slayers of Barnat Baff, which are on today's calendar in the Supreme Court.

Baff, a wholesale poultry dealer who had incurred the hostility of some of his business rivals, was shot as he left his store on the night of November 24, 1914.

Of the four men awaiting trial, Giuseppe Arichiello is accused of firing the fatal shot and the others of being lookouts and driving an automobile in which the murderers fled.

The authorities assert they have witnesses who will testify that $4,500 was collected to pay for Baff's murder.

E. L. BAUGH IS TO HAVE NEW TRIAL

TORONTO, April 3.—A new trial for E. L. Baugh, of Montreal, has been directed by the Appellate Division on the ground that certain evidence admitted by Judge Winchester was properly inadmissible.

Mr. Baugh was charged with conspiracy in connection with the fabrication of evidence submitted in a civil action brought by him against G. A. Stimson, of Toronto.

Mr. Justice Magee dissenting, the court decides that the defendant Baugh was prejudiced and that he should have a new trial.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From our London Correspondent. (Copyright).

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cookspur street, London, April 3. — Today's casualties include sixty-two officers, of whom thirty-two are dead, and 1,489 men, of whom 429 are dead.

The regiments suffering most are the Lancashire Fusiliers, Northumberland Fusiliers, Royal Field Artillery, Royal Fusiliers, Buffs, Inniskilling Fusiliers, Durham Light Infantry, West Kents, King's Royal Rifles and Sussex Regiment.

Lieut. G. H. Smith, of the South Staffordshire, killed in action, was president of the Cambridge University Athletic Club for 1903 and a well-known high jumper, having cleared six feet, both in Cambridge and Canada.

The relatives announce today that John Henry Palmer, a director of Debenhams, Canada, Limited, was killed on board the steamship Sussex on March 24, while crossing the Channel.

WINDERMERE.

PROBING CHARGE SHODDY USED IN MILITIA ORDERS

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Davidson Commission is holding sittings here today to investigate charges made by G. Graves, of Peterboro, a former employe of the firm, that shoddy was used in the manufacture of woollen goods by the Auburn Woollen Mills Company for the Militia Department.

Graves testified that several hundred thousands of yards of woollen goods used in the manufacture of articles for the militia contained about 50 per cent of shoddy.

He stated that in ordinary times a yard of good cloth would be worth about $1.50, while the inferior cloth would sell for about $1 per yard. He did not know militia contract prices.

Graves was asked if he had any knowledge of flour paste having been used by the company. He replied that in the manufacture of all the overcoats flour paste was used.

The inquiry will be resumed this afternoon.

BIG INCREASE IN HUDSON BAY LAND SALES REPORTED

LONDON, April 3.—Lieut. K. L. McMay, of the 25th Battalion, has been dismissed from the service by sentence of general court martial.

Edwin Leonard, of the Canadian Artillery, who was recently awarded the D. S. O., was received by the King on Saturday and invested with the order.

Vipond Meeting in New York Today

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Hamilton B. Wills, of Toronto, and a half-dozen other shareholders attended the Vipond meeting here today, when R. Shillington was elected to the Board of Directors in succession to I. Carey. The report of the secretary for the past three months showed that 11,816 tons of bullion had been recovered, having a value of $53,348 or an average of $5.24 a ton. The cost of production averaged $4.81 a ton. The ore reserve as of April 1 amounts to 21,666 tons, having a value of $638,531. The expected quarrel did not materialize. Mr. Wills insisted upon the election of Mr. Shillington with a view to having outside representation, and he had enough proxies to win the point.

Mail between two cities on a river in Columbia 800 miles apart will be carried by a light draft, high speed boat driven by aerial propellers.

MAYOR MEDERIC HOLDS OFFICE WITH AN EASY VICTORY OVER BOTH

His Majority Will Run About 10,000 Over McDonald——Villeneuve and Ross Easy Winners for the Controllership Seats

The polls closed this evening at 8 o'clock and the voting returns gave the following results up to 11.15:

Mayoralty

900 - - - - - Polls out of 954

Lapointe	15405
Martin	31827
McDonald	21841

Board of Control

760 - - - - - Polls out of 954

Beaudry	8379
Gallery	8468
Giroux	9846
Lacombe	7649
Langlois	2328
Levesque	5333
Marsil	12802
Ross	14541
Villeneuve	25453

Returns from the first five polls showed Martin leading with 17; McDonald coming next with 92 and Lapointe, third with 54.

For controllership, Villeneuve led with 103, Ross came second with 70, while Giroux stood third with 97.

The first ten polls gave Martin 272, McDonald 206 and Lapointe 92.

The controllers' gain was Villeneuve 196, Ross 164 and Giroux 149.

Returns from twenty polls showed Martin ahead with 518, McDonald following with 333 and Lapointe third with 254.

For the Board of Control, the returns showed Villeneuve in the lead with 416; Ross came next with 272, Giroux, 257; Marsil, 240; Lacombe, 181; Beaudry, 172; Gallery, 149; Levesque, 95 and Langlois 72.

The feature of the returns from fifty polls was the leap forward of McDonald to 1,149, coming close to Martin, still leading with 1,180, while Lapointe stood third at 719.

The controllership still fell first to Villeneuve and Ross, the former having 1,326, and the latter 1,098.

Marsil, Beaudry, Lacombe and Giroux showed up close to each other, but Langlois and Levesque fell far behind.

McDonald leading in the returns from seventy polls was the sensation of that bulletin, his votes standing at 1,713; Martin's being 1,696 and Lapointe coming third with 1,029.

The next bulletin, of eighty polls, gave Martin the lead again, however.

CLOSE TO MARTIN.

McDonald came close to Martin, the latter leading, in returns from one hundred polls. Martin's figures were 2,619 and McDonald's 2,411. Lapointe came third again.

Villeneuve maintained his first place in the controllership race, followed pretty closely by Ross, while Giroux, Gallery and Marsil came next, the others lagging behind.

From one hundred and fifty polls, Martin still led, as again in the figures from one hundred and eighty stations. In each of these returns, McDonald preceded Lapointe again, both keeping their second and third places.

In the controllership contest, Villeneuve kept well ahead, with Ross still at about the same distance as second, and the others in much the same places as previously. From one hundred and eighty polls, the returns showed Giroux, Gallery, Marsil and Levesque in advance of Beaudry, and Lacombe and Langlois.

Martin was still in the first place in returns from two hundred and sixty stations, having 8,085, while McDonald had dropped to 5,790, and Lapointe had advanced, showing 4,765.

LATEST AIR MURDERER KILLED 3 CHILDREN.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3.—Three children were killed and two women and four children wounded in last night's Zeppelin raid on the Scottish coast, it was officially announced this afternoon.

Skipper Used Radio to Effect Arrests

NEW YORK, April 3. Using the wireless to get evidence and to notify the police, he would need their aid when his ship docked, the captain of the Fall River boat Plymouth today effected the arrest of two men wanted to face a swindling charge at Cambridge, Mass.

They were Chris and James Soltas. The captain, while the boat was en route here, overheard the brothers talking about $1,400 he had planned at Cambridge. He wirelessed the Chief of Police there and was told by him that the men were wanted. He then wirelessed the police here. When the boat docked this afternoon the brothers were arrested.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY REFUSED RIGHT TO VOTE IN MONTREAL

OTTAWA, April 3. The Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, was denied the exercise of his franchise as a municipal elector in Montreal today.

The law provides that a ratepayer may vote for aldermen in whatever ward he is an elector but for mayor he must vote in the polling division wherein he resides.

Mr. Doherty is on the lists as a property owner in St. Lawrence Ward, but his residence is in Ottawa.

On this ground, the deputy returning officer refused him the right to vote at all.

MIGHTY POWER OF EMPIRE'S FORCES SILENCED SCOFFER

ARMY AND NAVY PASSED IN REVIEW

Kinematograph Spectacle Made Him Forget All But Britain's Valor

(By B. M. R.)

It has been suggested to me that I write something for The Star about these Official British Government motion pictures of the Army and Navy, to be shown by The Star at the Princess Theatre during the week beginning April 10.

That I might speak intelligently of them, I was provided an opportunity to see the pictures at private view.

"Take a friend," I was told, "we want you to enjoy the films, and too many can't see them, anyway."

Now I have a very dear American friend in the city. He's something of a cynic. Also, he has the "practical" characteristics of his race. Down in New England, where he comes from, they call him "careful." Also—some of his ancestors as he frequently informs me, fought at Bunker Hill and Lundy's Lane. And he considers this war is three thousand long miles away. So I took him.

I am a British citizen, with all that that conveys. Therefore, I am not going into the impressions the pictures made upon me. I am too old to enlist, anyway. But I want to tell you something of what my American friend thought.

We were not in a theatre. We sat in hard chairs in a bare room at the office of the Famous Players Film Corporation, under whose management the pictures are, I believe. There was no music, no lecturer, no flags. Just the pictures.

"THE GOODS."

They began with the land forces, under the flashed caption, "The New Army in the Making." We saw the development of the soldier from the raw recruit into the finished, polished soldier. We saw the drills that made him so, the games that keep him fit.

Then we saw the films taken by Vickers, Limited, films of thousands of women making shells, fuses, what not. Fiddle, I'm not going to tell you all we saw. This was the practical, and it hit my American friend right between the eyes.

"Well, on the level," he whispered—why is it one whispers at the movies as one would do at a spoken play?—"you folks have got the goods, at that. I thought we had the prize stuff down at little old Bridgeport, Connecticut, but I'll take the count."

That was the line he took all through the army films, too. Trench digging and field drill reminded him of Plattsburg—I am sure I don't know why, do you?—and the really remarkable Aviation Corps films brought to his mind the time Grahame-White "did some of these here stunts" at Boston.

Finally, His Majesty the King was shown reviewing a million soldiers, or thereabouts. Actually, it said there were 40,000 soldiers shown but that seemed too small to me. Now, I hope I am a good Canadian, and I will admit that there is something in the picture of our beloved Sovereign that makes me choke up a bit. My American friend said:

Well, say, George doesn't look a day older than he did when the war started, does he?"

BRITAIN'S SURE SHIELD.

After that they gave us "The Sure Shield of Britain and Empire." The Navy, of course. My American friend thinks his country has a Navy, too. He started to tell me so when the first pictures of this series, showing the launching of a battleship and the making of its parts, appeared.

He had less to say when the minesweepers slid into view on their perilous task of bringing home those dreadful, bobbing harbingers of stealthy death. He had less still when there followed the sweepers the great, new battle cruisers which none of us have seen before—the Agincourt and Long Live Our Lady of the Snows—the Canada in all her glorious might. You know the American Navy has neither the minesweeper nor a sister to the Canada.

SILENCE AT LAST.

The Grand Fleet at sea, and silence. We saw the remainder of those marvelous films to the clicking of the projecting machine alone. My friend sat dumb and quiet through it all—through the views of the battle squadron steaming out to meet the Germans, the black North Sea billows breaking into towering pillars of flying foam on those gigantic prows. Neither the submarines above and beneath the seas nor the giantess of them all, the Queen Elizabeth, aroused him to speech. For almost a good half of the two hours and thirty minutes we watched the Empire's might parade before us he was silent.

But at the end I knew. The glow on the screen departed. His Majesty in full naval uniform dissolved into darkness. Then the lights in the room flared up suddenly, and I realized that traffic had been roaring by on St. Catherine street all that time, and that my muscles were stiff and sore, so tense had I been on the edge of my chair.

I looked at my friend. There were tears in his eyes, his cheeks were wet. And he didn't even try to hide his face.

SCHOOL BOARD IS LOSER IN ACTION OVER ANNEXATION

The Commission of the Catholic Schools of Montreal is condemned by Mr. Justice Lane to pay F. X. Tremblay, lawyer, $750. This ruling, unless affected by decision of a sought annexation to the Central Catholic Board will have to pay the accounts of all the lawyers even those whom it opposed on the annexation question at the recent session of the Legislature.

Mr. Tremblay represented the Tetreauville School Commission, which sought annexation to the central Catholic Board. The annexation was granted by the Legislature, and in the act which ensued it was, as usual, specified that the Montreal board should assume the liabilities of the newly annexed board. Mr. Tremblay, after annexation, presented his bill for services rendered the annexed board at Quebec, in connection with the annexation proceedings. The Montreal board strongly objected, stating that the account was excessive and that it was not responsible for payment.

Mr. Justice Lane decided on the first point that the account was not excessive; and scanning the Act of Annexation, His Lordship ruled on the second that the Montreal board was liable for the payment.

Numerous other lawyers who acted for divers annexed commissions awaited a ruling in this case to see what action they would take to collect.

Y. W. H. A. DANCE.

The Young Women's Hebrew Association will hold its fifth annual dance on Wednesday in the Auditorium Hall.

HERE and THERE

Willow View, a small settlement in northern Manitoba, has a unique record. Every man there, married and single, has enlisted in the 78th battalion.

A New York woman, sued by her modiste for $135, the price of a costume, refused to pay on the ground that the suit did not fit. The case went to court and the defendant was asked to put the suit on. She did so, and the male jury decided that it was a perfect fit and that the dressmaker should get her money.

According to the Schoolmaster, 11,400 men teachers are serving with the Forces, and about 9,000 have attested under the Derby scheme. In addition there are 147 serving with naval forces, and 236 women acting as nurses. Teachers have already gained five Victoria Crosses, while 232 have been killed, 118 wounded, and nine are missing.

A rumor comes from Spain that the German Emperor after the war intends to become a Roman Catholic. At present his religion is supposed to be that of the Lutheran Church. The statement of the predicted change is made in the current Churchman, an organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church, published in New York.

It has been estimated by statisticians that more than 200,000,000 small clay marbles are used by the boys of America every spring time. It is a known fact that 125,000,000 marbles are made every year by one clay marble manufacturer whose plant is in Summit County, O., and these marbles are made or rolled by young girls.

When Mr. and Mrs. August Holtz, of Wells, Minn., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary they were seated as guests of honor at a table with their nine children and thirty-one grand and great-grandchildren, not a single broken link in the chain. Mrs. Holtz's mother, Mrs. Beyer, sat at her table, and five generations were represented.

Jacques Robert Raoul, a lumber jack in British Columbia, has joined the 137th Battalion at Calgary. He is a native of Quebec province. His brother died with one of the Montreal regiments at St. Julien, while two other brothers are at the present moment training with the French-Canadian regiment in the east.

The city of Verdun, now the target for so many German shells, was for twelve years practically an English settlement. It was there that Napoleon, in 1803, interned the greater proportion of the English touristsin France, who were suddenly arrested, on May 23 of that year, on the rupture of the Treaty of Amiens, as a reprisal for the seizure by the British Government of all the French ships in our ports. From 1803 until the Allies entered Paris in 1841—some thousands of British tourists lived in compulsory exile in France. Verdun became, temporarily, an English town. English shops sprang up in every street. The exiles established their own clubs, including a Jockey Club, and regular race meetings and a pack of harriers were organised. There was also an English church, and one of the sights of Verdun for the French in those days was to watch the exiles leaving church after Sunday morning service.

Two Thousand U. S. Schools Will Join in Shakespeare Festival

By Canadian Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Nearly 2,000 schools and colleges of the country have arranged for a pageant or dramatic performance in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's death this month, the Federal Bureau of Education announced today.

The Bureau, in co-operation with the Drama League of America, is assisting in planning celebrations by giving practical suggestions as to kinds of celebrations, type of performances, lists of dances and designs for simple costuming for Shakespearean plays.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY KILLED IN ACTION A GALLANT SOLDIER

The first officer of the 60th Battalion to fall in action has been Capt. the Hon. A. T. ("Fred") Shaughnessy, the second son of Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The news came to the city by two cables, one sent by Lieut.-Col. F. A. Gascoigne, the officer commanding the battalion, to A. D. MacTier, of the C. P. R., and another direct to the baron.

Capt. Shaughnessy took his company into the trenches early last month for the first time, being received by the 22nd Battalion, French-Canadians, who stayed for six days to initiate the newcomers into the mysteries and dangers of trench fighting under modern conditions.

The company commanded by the gallant officer was one of the first sections of the battalion to get into action, and the cabled news indicates that last week the troops were once more doing their bit. Capt. Shaughnessy was struck by a piece of shrapnel and "passed peacefully away and died like a man," to quote the words of Col. Gascoigne.

VERY POPULAR.

The receipt of the news in the city caused a distinct shock, for it is doubtful if there was ever a more popular young officer than Captain "Fred." Full of enthusiasm for his work, he was popular alike with officers and men, and during the long weeks the 60th were in training at Valcartier, Capt. Shaughnessy was always to the fore in anything that had as its object the improvement of the efficiency of his company or the comfort and well-being of his men. He was always busy, even devoting any well-earned spare time to the study of signalling and other military duties, and he attained a high standard of efficiency which made him a most capable officer. He was a gallant Canadian gentleman in the best sense of the word, and his loss will be a heavy one to the 60th Battalion.

Born in Montreal on October 18, 1887, Captain Shaughnessy was educated at Bishop's College and Abingdon Schools, afterwards going to McGill University where he was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. On leaving the university, he entered the traffic department of the C. P. R. but subsequently joined the brokerage firm of Charles Meredith & Co.

In 1906 he made a trip around the world travelling entirely on the Canadian Pacific Railway service by land and sea. In 1910, he joined the 3rd Victoria Rifles as a subaltern and after the outbreak of the war qualified for his captaincy at Halifax, joining the 60th Battalion with the rank, and being given a company, with his brother-in-law Capt. Rene Redmond as his second in command.

HAD TWO CHILDREN.

He was married in April, 1911, to Miss Sarah Pelk Bradford, daughter of Judge Bradford, of Nashville, Tennessee, and a descendant of President Polk of the United States. There are two children, Elizabeth, aged three, and Thomas Bradford, aged one and a half years. Mrs. Shaughnessy is in London, having crossed at the same time as the Battalion.

Capt. Shaughnessy was buried yesterday near the spot where he fell, and although it is an established military rule that bodies of officers or men killed in action can not be sent home from France, steps are being taken suitably to mark the burial place, with a view to the body being brought home after the war.

Capt. the Hon. W. J. Shaughnessy, a brother and the heir to the barony is training for active service with the 199th Battalion, Irish-Canadian Rangers, and at the church parades of that unit yesterday feeling references were made to the death of the gallant officer, by Lieut.-Col. H. J. Trihey, and by the Rev. Father Kelz, who offered special prayers at High Mass at St. Ana's Church for the soul of the dead officer.

At St. James Methodist Church, where Major the Rev. C. A. Williams, chief recruiting officer for the Fourth Division, and R. B. Bennett, M.P., spoke, tributes were also paid to the memory of the officer.

FATHER'S TRIBUTE.

Lord Shaughnessy, who has received many messages of condolence, in speaking of the news said:

"To his mother, myself and the family the sacrifice is indeed cruel and almost overwhelming. But after all, we are only passing through the same sad experience as thousands of others in every portion of the Empire. He had a sweet wife and two little children, and everything in the world to live for, but he recognized his duty, and the attendant risk. If his example arouses a feeling of patriotism and responsiveness in those hundreds amongst us of military age, many of whom are without his family cares, who thus far through indifference or because of bad leadership or petty local issues have failed to assume their responsibilities as citizens and subjects, we shall feel that there is additional compensation for the sacrifice."

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Barbour-Beck.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. Lamert, 170 Park Lafontaine in the presence of immediate relatives, when Lulu Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Beck, of Coleman, Alta., was married to Mr. James Alfred Barbour, Ph.B., son of Mrs. M. E. Barbour of Winnipeg, Man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Joliat, of St. John's Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. J. O. Lamert, and was attended by her cousins Miss Clara Lamert and Miss Alice Guilmont, of Ottawa. She wore a suit of midnight blue cloth, with corsage bouquet of rose buds, and a blue and old rose hat with ermine trimming, and the bridegroom's gift, ermine furs. Spring flowers were prettily arranged in the drawing-room and also in the dining room where refreshments were served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Barbour will visit New York, Chicago and other points in the United States en route to their home in Portland, Oregon.

Gibson-Vosberg

The marriage of Miss Yetta Vosberg, daughter of Mrs. S. C. Vosberg, to Mr. Louis Gibson, took place last evening in Sinclair's Hall, the Rev. Mr. Yudleson officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her mother, wore a white satin gown with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Estelle Bloomstone, as maid of honor, and Miss Rose Vosberg, as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Isidore Vosberg.

Approaching Marriages.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Henderson, Westmount, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Spencer to Mr. William Andrew Eden at six o'clock Thursday evening, April 20, at their residence. The bridesmaids will be Miss Ruth Martin, of Kingston, Ont., and Miss Ruth Henderson, sister of the bride-elect.

Engagements Announced

Major and Mrs. Arthur Allison Bartlett, of Charlottetown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Florence, to Mr. Allen Batiscombe Cosh, 105th Battalion, C. E. F., son of the late Rev. Nathan Cosh, D.D., and of Mrs. Cosh, Dalry, Ayrshire, Scotland. The marriage will take place the last of April.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCord, of Quebec, announce the engagement of their daughter, Muriel Dorothy, to Malcolm Mackenzie, of that city, formerly of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, the marriage to take place on April 24th.

WILL EMPLOYERS VOTE TO CONDONE TREACHERY ON THE PART OF THEIR EMPLOYES?

It is impossible to vote for McDonald today without condoning a number of admitted acts and endorsing a number of principles as applied to civic government.

A vote for McDonald endorses the principle that a public servant may know that a fellow public servant is being bribed without being under any obligation to tell the public and so stop the outrage.

It endorses the principle that a public servant may go much farther than this—he may conspire with the bribed public servant to help him earn his bribe.

It endorses the principle that two public servants may get together and agree to betray the interests of their employer—the city—robbing him ruthlessly in order that one of them may pocket a bribe and the other get through a scheme in which he is interested.

If these are worthy principles for employes of the public, they are worthy principles for the employes of private employers. Every private employer had better think this over before voting today.

NEW METHODS OF GETTING NEW MEN PROVE VERY GOOD

148th Battalion Will Continue Campaign Bringing Fine Results

The new methods employed by the 148th Battalion to recruit the necessary number of men to complete the unit's strength have led to encouraging results, and Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee and his officers believe that by maintaining this campaign the strength of the battalion will be reached very shortly.

Since Thursday last thirty-six men have been added to the strength; that is, sworn in and now in Barracks. In addition to this number, there are twenty more who have been medically examined and sworn in, and who will return this week to take up their new life, so that the net result of last week in recruiting means an addition of about fifty-six men. The total for the whole week, in consequence of the last few days, being up to average.

Col. Magee has decided to maintain his present plan as long as necessary. One most satisfactory result of the direct method of recruiting has been the type of man, the majority of those taken on giving up good positions to enlist.

RECENT RECRUITS.

Among those joining on Saturday were:

F. Boyce, Montreal.

Children Dance Pretty Figures at Closing of Classes

A very pleasing program of dances was given at the closing reception of the Juvenile class given by Mr. Frederic W. Norman in Victoria Hall Saturday afternoon. The children entered into the spirit of the entertainment, and executed the dances in a manner which reflected much credit upon their training.

The program opened with a two-step followed by the Highland fling presented by the Misses R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, R. Norman, H. Ritchie, A. Reynolds, G. Nelson, R. Barwick, E. Norman, F. Barwick, J. Wynness, M. Reynolds and M. Boswell; the Spanish Andalucia by the Misses Ruth Barwick, Elsie Norman, Jean Wyness and Rita Norman.

A tambourine dance was given by the Misses K. Falconer, M. Hamilton, E. Norman, F. Barwick, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, Alice Reynolds, H. Ritchie, J. Falconer, E. Donnelly, M. Dyke, M. Cameron, D. Daniels, B. Reynolds, R. Norman and D. Robinson, after which a clown dance was contributed by Messrs. D. Ross, D. Wilkins, O. Seath-Smith, M. Hill, G. Severs, F. Hamilton, F. Manley and L. Gilmour.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "Every Inch a Sailor," after which two tiny girls, Miss Diana Claydon and Miss Peggy Norman danced the hornpipe, receiving hearty applause. A sailor ballet was given by Misses K. Falconer, V. Feltes, Jean Wynness, G. Nelson, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, A. Reynolds, H. Ritchie, L. Whiting, E. Donnelly, R. McCoy, R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, Rita Norman and E. Quint.

The pizzicatti dance by Miss Alice Reynolds and Miss Margaret Boswell, and a Dutch peasant dance by Miss Jean Wynness and Miss Rita Norman; with a skirt dance by Miss Elsie Norman, Miss Jean Wynness, Miss Ruth Barwick and Miss Rita Norman.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "The Low-backed Car," and the old Irish tilte, given by the Misses Margaret Boswell, Elsie Norman, E. Phelan, E. Donnelly, Rita Norman, M. Reynolds, L. Whiting, M. Hill, G. Nelson, H. Ritchie, R. McCoy, Alice Reynolds, G. McCoy, V. Feltes, R. Elliott and E. Quinn. The program also included two-steps, one-step, American gavotte, pirouette waltz, fox trot, gavotte and society dances.

Before becoming head of the United States Steel Corporation, Elbert H. Gary is said to have received the largest yearly retaining fee of any lawyer in the United States.

RODIN'S SPLENDID GIFT TO FRANCE.

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3. — Auguste Rodin, the sculptor, has executed a deed of gift to the Government of the entire collection of his own works, other art objects he has acquired, and the Hotel Biron in which they are assembled. The building hereafter is to be open to the public as the Musee Rodin.

M. Rodin retains the studio, but the remainder of the extensive buildings and the fine grounds which surround it become public property under the supervision of the Government.

Rodin is 76 years old and the foremost of French sculptors, — perhaps the greatest living sculptor.

SOLDIERS NEED NO SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR EQUIPMENT

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3.—A memorandum issued by the Militia Department today says:

"It has come to the notice of the Department of Militia and Defence that since orders were issued that no overseas units should solicit subscriptions from the public for the purpose of obtaining extra equipment subterfuges have been adopted for the purpose of defeating the object of this order.

"The Department wish it to be thoroughly understood by the public that the Government supplies all necessary equipment for overseas units and that there is no necessity for any donations on the part of the public to supplement what is supplied by the Government. Any statements to the contrary are unauthorized and incorrect."

CLYDE STRIKE IS SETTLED

ISSUE OF BATTLE AT VERDUN TURNING NOW IN FAVOR OF FRENCH

Fighting Continued All Night Between Douaumont and Vaux—French Gained Ground in Northern Part of Caillette Wood Which Was Captured by Germans Sunday—Hun Front Widens

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, April 3.—Official announcement was made this afternoon that the Clyde munition workers' strike has been settled and that the men will resume work tomorrow.

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3, 3:25 p.m.—A Havas despatch from Athens says the Bulgarian Government has notified Greece that it has given orders for the evacuation of points on Greek territory occupied by Bulgarian troops.

Bulgaria assured Greece of the intention to do everything possible to maintain friendly relations between the two nations.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

PARIS, April 3.—By successful counter-attacks, French troops gained ground last night in the Caillette woods, southeast of Fort Douaumont, the War Office announced this afternoon.

The counter-attacks were of great violence and brought to a halt the German offensive delivered in this region by a force estimated at 20,000 men.

The Germans apparently were attempting to drive southward, planning to surround Fort Vaux, which has resisted successive massed attacks by the Germans since the early days of the Verdun fighting.

On the west bank of the Meuse, the Germans bombarded Haucourt and Esnes throughout the night. The French guns on hill 304 replied energetically.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT

The text of the French official communication this afternoon follows:

"A Zeppelin last night threw down eight bombs on Dunkirk. The material damages were not great, but two persons were killed and four wounded.

"To the west of the river Meuse the bombardment has continued at the villages of Haucourt and Esnes, but without any action of infantry.

"To the east of the Meuse the fighting which went on last night in the region of Douaumont and Vaux was favorable to us.

"We gained ground in the wood of Caillette. Our line rests on the right on the pond of Vaux; then crosses the Caillette wood, the northern corner of which is occupied by the enemy, and rejoins our positions to the south and west of the village of Douaumont.

"It has been confirmed that the attacks of the enemy yesterday were extended over a front of three kilometres. They came forward in successive waves, followed by small columns. The activity of our artillery and the fire of our infantry caused heavy losses, in the ranks of the enemy.

"In the Woevre district the night passed quietly.

"In Lorraine the fire of our artillery caused flames to break out at Les Remabois, to the west of Leintrey, and in the region of Ancerviller to the south of Blamont.

"The reconnaissance of the enemy, which was attempting to reach our positions, was repulsed by our fire at a point near Moyen.

"A German aeroplane has fallen within our lines. The aviators were taken prisoner."

In yesterday's fighting the whole sector between the ruins of Fort Douaumont and the Vaux brook was the scene of desperate fighting. By hurling mass after mass at the French trenches the Germans forced their way across the Vaux-Douaumont road. Then, sheltered from machine gun fire by a slight rise they advanced into the northern fringes of Caillette wood.

Further south, near Vaux village, the German charge was met by a sheet of fire that broke the German ranks in confusion. The French shattered the German front with artillery and machine gun fire from behind redoubts on the highway leading westward from Vaux clear the approaches to Fort Douaumont, and 15,000 men were thrown forward on the mile and a half line between Douaumont fort and the village of Vaux.

The attacking force succeeded in crossing a little ravine which hitherto had stopped them and in entering the Caillette wood. Further east they dislodged the French from the last ruined houses of the village of Vaux, but the French positions were so placed as to make it practically impossible for the Germans to debouch from the village.

Vigorous French counter-attacks drove them back to the upper fringe of Caillette wood.

The total result of the very formidable effort they had put forth was a gain for the Germans of about 500 yards of terrain more than offset, it is affirmed, by the very heavy losses they had endured.

On the west of the river the Germans attacked the Avocourt blockhouse in a no less determined manner, but again met with complete failure, the observers declare.

NO CHANGE SAYS AUSTRIA.

By Canadian Press.

BERLIN, April 3, by wireless to Sayville.—The Austrian War Office has given out, under date of April 2, the following statement in regard to the progress of the campaign on the Italian front:

"The situation in the Italian war theatre is unchanged. This morning enemy aviators threw bombs on Adelsberg (in Carniola, 22 miles northeast of Trieste) killing two men and wounding several."

The statement follows:

"The enemy's endeavors to check the advance of Turkish troops in the Tchoruk valley failed.

"Turkish submarines on March 30 sank a Russian transport of about 12,000 tons, with troops and war material, and on March 31 sank another ship of 1,500 tons and one sailing ship. Our submarines effectively shelled fortified positions on the coast north of Poti (a Russian seaport in Trans-Caucasia, on the Black Sea).

"Turkish detachments made a surprise attack on British position at Alamad, northeast of Sheikh Osman, which the British had been fortifying for some time. After suffering heavy losses the British retreated under protection of their long-range guns to Sheikh Osman

NEW PHASE OF FIGHT BEGUN.

PARIS, April 3.—A new phase of the battle of Verdun has begun, and the belief prevails that the violence of the latest attacks foreshadows another attempt by the Germans to rush the fortress with vast forces. New batteries of large calibre have been moved up closer to the French front and the German infantry has been rested and reorganized.

Yesterday's fighting on the whole western front was favorable to the French, it is authoritatively stated. The object of the Germans was to

TRANSPORT REPORTED SUNK.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3. — A Russian transport of about 12,000 tons, carrying troops and war material, was sunk by Turkish submarines on March 30, it was officially claimed today.

Another enemy ship of about 1,500 tons and a sailing ship were also sunk it was asserted.

Turkish submarines effectively shelled the fortified coast north of Poti, the report further affirmed.

KYTE CHARGES HAVE AROUSED WHOLE COUNTRY

Full Ventilation of Scandal Will Be Insisted Upon

DEFENCE IS CASH WENT TO BANKERS

Maj.-Gen. Hughes Expected to Produce Col. Allison

Special to The Montreal Star by our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Parliamentary week starts with both the expectation and prospect of highly interesting developments. Today will be devoted to a private Bill—the Mackenzie and Mann hydro radial fight,—but tomorrow, it is expected, the discussion will be resumed on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's resolution for an inquiry, not by a Commission, but by Parliament, into all the Shell Committee's doings and not alone the fuse contracts.

As nearly all the principal speakers on both sides have already been heard, the further discussion is unlikely to be long, but interest will not be vitiated because of brevity. The Kyte charges, unquestionably, have altered the situation greatly, and in the light of them there is a renewed interest in the question.

It is not diverted by the Government's decision to appoint a judicial commission of inquiry, so far as can be learned today, the Government has no intention of varying its course and increasing the scope of the inquiry, though circumstances eventually may necessitate that course. The announcement in the House, and the decision come to was regarded as final.

The political effect of the charges is much discussed and causing a lot of speculation. In its immediate aspect it seems likely to prolong considerably the session of Parliament though hope of proroguing by Easter has not been abandoned.

COUNTRY SEEMS AROUSED.

Members of Parliament who spent the week-end at home came back this morning with reports indicating that the country is pretty well aroused and insisting upon a full ventilation of the scandal. The stories vary somewhat.

According to the Conservatives, the Government's action is viewed with satisfaction, though there are some on the Ministerial side who think the scope might well be enlarged.

Liberals expect to make political capital out of the situation and out of anything which tends to circumscribe the investigation.

The gravity of the allegations made is not minimized, but the real effect will depend largely upon the extent to which they are substantiated.

The Order-in-Council appointing the commission passed only on Saturday, and arrangements for work have been yet discussed. The judges will confer on the question this week, but the general idea is to start work as soon as possible.

I. N. Helimuth, K.C., of Toronto, or the Hon. A. W. Atwater, of Montreal, are most prominently mentioned as counsel for the Government, and W. N. Tilley, K.C., of Toronto, will likely be retained by the Liberals, with Messrs Carvell and Kyte associated with him.

It is intimated that the defence will consist largely in the contention that moneys advanced by the Shell Committee went to a New York banking house which gave a surety bond, making payments to contractors contingent upon the delivery of the fuses.

Though the cables are somewhat contradictory, Maj.-Gen. Hughes is expected back in Ottawa in the early part of next week. If Col. J. Wesley Allison proves as elusive as he has been heretofore, the Minister will be expected to induce his attendance.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From our London Correspondent. (Copyright).

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur street, London, April 3. — Today's casualties include sixty-two officers, of whom thirty-two are dead, and 1,489 men, of whom 429 are dead.

The regiments suffering most are the Lancashire Fusiliers, Northumberland Fusiliers, Royal Field Artillery, Royal Fusiliers, Buffs, Inniskilling Fusiliers, Durham Light Infantry, West Kents, King's Royal Rifles and Sussex Regiment.

Lieut. G. H. Smith, of the South Staffordshire, killed in action, was president of the Cambridge University Athletic Club for 1903 and a well-known high jumper, having cleared six feet, both in Cambridge and Canada.

The relatives announce today that John Henry Palmer, a director of Debenhams, Canada, Limited, was killed on board the steamship Sussex on March 24, while crossing the Channel.

WINDERMERE.

END OF ARGUMENT OVER MAIL SEIZURE

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The reply of all the Entente Allies to the American protests against mail seizures was presented, today to the State Department.

Denial is made that any treaty rights of the United States have been violated, the Allies re-assert their jurisdiction in mail in territorial waters, and the right to exclude contraband.

Publication will be made simultaneously later in Washington, London and Paris.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

The Germans capture the village of Drei Grachten, on the west bank of the Yser Canal. A large force of Bulgarian irregulars crosses the Serbian frontier near Valandevo; they are repulsed after a violent engagement. The Turkish cruiser Medjidieh is sunk by a Russian mine near Odessa.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY MET DEATH LEADING MEN INTO TRENCHES

Special Cable to The Montreal Star from Our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur Street, London, April 3.—The Canadians have been under strenuous shelling, hand grenade, and minewerfer fighting in new positions during the week-end. Capt. Fred Shaughnessy, second son of Lord Shaughnessy, was killed while leading his company in the 60th into the trenches.

There is a very dangerous salient, with all kinds of enfilading fire, and Capt. Shaughnessy was caught on a clear night by a shrapnel burst, which came from the extreme left. Several of his men were injured, but their first thought was for their popular captain. The stretcher bearers found that the full force of the shell had caught him, and he died in their arms.

In spite of the heavy shelling that was in progress, the chaplain came down the trenches, and Capt. Shaughnessy was buried in a soldier's grave, a simple cross marking the spot almost where he fell.

"A fine soldier and a fine man. He would never have wished to die in a better manner," was how one of his former comrades spoke in describing him.

The Canadian Army Service Corps "somewhere in the south-eastern counties" have had all the Zeppelin excitement they needed during the week-end. Bombs were dropped near two of their stations, but, so far as could be learned, there was not a single Canadian casualty.

ROLAND HILL.

HEAVIEST VOTE IN MANY YEARS IS THE ESTIMATE

That voting in this campaign is the heaviest in twenty-five years is the approximate estimate formed by those who have studied the polls today. In the 954 polls in all parts of the city, voting has been mainly steady since nine this morning, and a big rush is expected, as usual in the manufacturing districts, when the factories and workshops close at six o'clock. Noon time being a rush hour in many places for the same reason.

The vote polled in the early hours of balloting was taken to mean that the vote would be unusually heavy, and that a much larger proportion of the electors would marke ballot papers that did in 1914, when only 76,000 out of a total electorate of 137,000 visited the polls.

The usual almost incessant enquiries were made at the office of the city clerk all day, and many were the queries telephoned. The Star by citizens who wished to ascertain their what were their rights and privileges in the matter.

With regard to reports of heavy telegraphing throughout the city there was not any evidence traceable to Lapointe's committee as any of his workers although gangs of operators were working in the interest of other candidates.

A feature of this election day has been the great number of automobiles in use carrying voters to and from the polls. Some votes will be lost through notices being returned undelivered, in consequence of the residents changing their places of residence and not notifying the authorities of the change. The result is that while their names appear on the assessment rolls, they do not figure on the electoral lists and so are excluded from casting votes that tell.

One case of attempted impersonation at a polling station, in which the police did not make an arrest was reported this morning. A man came to polling station No. 3 St. Joseph's Ward, at 8 Inspector street, and gave his name as Holland. A moment later, before he had time to register his vote, the real Mr. Holland appeared, and established his identity.

The returning officer called to Patrolman Francoeur, of the Chaboillez Square station, and told him to arrest the man.

"Have you a warrant?" said the constable.

"No, I have no blanks," was the reply.

"Well, then, I can't arrest him," was the constable's ultimatum.

And so, by the time the returning officer had telephoned police headquarters, and someone there had telephoned to Chaboillez Square, telling the officer in charge to send up a couple of men to arrest the impersonator, the bird had flown.

PROBING CHARGE SHODDY USED IN MILITIA ORDERS

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Davidson Commission is holding sittings here today to investigate charges made by G. Graves, of Peterboro, a former employe of the firm, that shoddy was used in the manufacture of woollen goods by the Auburn Woollen Mills Company for the Militia Department.

Graves testified that several hundred thousands of yards of woollen goods used in the manufacture of articles for the militia contained about 50 per cent of shoddy.

He stated that in ordinary times a yard of good cloth would be worth about $1.50, while the inferior cloth would sell for about $1 per yard. He did not know militia contract prices.

Graves was asked if he had any knowledge of flour paste having been used by the company. He replied that in the manufacture of all the overcoats flour paste was used.

The inquiry will be resumed this afternoon.

HON. C. J. DOHERTY REFUSED RIGHT TO VOTE IN MONTREAL

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3. The Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, was denied the exercise of his franchise as a municipal elector in Montreal today.

The law provides that a ratepayer may vote for aldermen in whatever ward he is an elector but for mayor he must vote in the polling division wherein he resides.

Mr. Doherty is on the lists as a property owner in St. Lawrence Ward, but his residence is in Ottawa. On this ground, the deputy returning officer refused him the right to vote at all.

Judge Wright, Republican and Illuminator also ran.

TEN KILLED, 11 HURT, IN LAST NIGHT'S RAID ON ENGLAND AND SCOTLAND

All the Casualties, However, Were in Scotland—Three of Those Killed Were Children—Of Those Injured, Two Were Women and Four Were Children

VIENNA, April 3.—Italian aviators bombarded Adelsberg, killing two men and wounding several, the War Office announced today.

Special Star Cable by Wilbur S. Forrest, of the United Press.

LONDON, April 3.—Ten persons were killed and eleven injured in last night's Zeppelin raid on the Scottish coast, the War Office announced this afternoon.

Though a Zeppelin threw down 101 bombs on the eastern counties of England, there were no casualties. Six airships took part in the raid.

Fifty-three bombs were dropped in Scotland. Several hotels and dwellings were damaged, but no military loss was inflicted.

Three of the ten persons killed were children.

Of the eleven injured, two were women and four children.

The total casualties in the Friday, Saturday and Sunday night raids on England and Scotland, according to official reports, was sixty-nine killed and 177 injured.

The Zeppelins approached the coast in two squadrons. Three airships directed their course over Scotland.

One raided the northeast part of England, dropping thirty-seven bombs.

Two others from this squadron turned southward and flew over eastern counties.

In point of territory visited last night's raid was the most extensive ever made on England.

THE OFFICIAL STATMENT

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3.—The official statement says:

"It appears that altogether six Zeppelins took part in the raids of last night. Three raided southeast counties of Scotland, one on the northeast coast of England, the remaining two eastern counties of England.

"The vessels which raided Scotland crossed the coast at 9 p.m., 9:45 p.m. and 10:15 p.m. respectively, and cruised over southeastern counties of Scotland until about 1:10 a.m.

"Their course gave no indication of any special locality for attack, but thirty-six explosive and seventeen incendiary bombs were dropped on various places, damaging some hotels and dwelling houses. Following are the casualties which are reported at present in Scotland:

"Killed: 7 men, no women; 3 children; total 10.

"Injured: 5 men, 2 women and 4 children; total, 11.

"One vessel visited the northeast coast and dropped twenty-two explosive and fifteen incendiary bombs. The two remaining ships crossed the English coast about 10:15 p.m., and cruised over eastern counties until about 10:15 p.m. and cruised over eastern counties until about 1 a.m. They were both engaged at various times by anti-aircraft artillery, and appear to have been prevented by this means from selecting any definite locality as their objectives.

"Thirty-three explosive and sixty-five incendiary bombs were dropped by the two vessels. As far as has been ascertained, no casualties were caused in England."

FOREIGN AFFAIRS AGAIN HOLD BACK OUTSIDE BUYING

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

NEW YORK, April 3. The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

"There was no apparent change in the conditions governing the speculative market over Sunday and business continued limited, exceptional upon the resumption of dealings in Wall street this morning.

"The Mexican revolutionists will not go to Scandinavian countries, inasmuch as Gen. Villa appears to have ended his parleys for the present and is reported to be on his way to the City of Mexico. This influenced pronounced rearguard in Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting and Refining, but specialties elsewhere were better in the initial reading and the tone on progressive Crucible Steel, American Locos, Industrial Alcohol, American Car and Foundry, Baldwin Locos and the like advanced 1 to 2 points.

"There was little or no relaxation of public buying, for the substantial gains of the week-end in the German counter-attack in the French positions in the vicinity of Verdun appeared to have a bullish influence upon the outside interests, but specialties continued seemingly independently and the tradition of movement united with the pools in working for higher prices.

"Bonds were fairly active and firm, with investment demand for the high grade issues, but the feature was a further advance in Anglo-French fives to 96 for round amounts, the highest price of January 1. Wheat advanced excessively on continued unfavorable crop estimates, the May, July and September options selling from 1 to 1½ cents a bushel higher. Further weakness in francs, which declined to 5.98¾ against Saturday's closing 5.97½ for checks, was the feature of the exchange market. Rates generally proved a trifle on the later transactions.

LATEST AIR MURDERER KILLED 3 CHILDREN

LONDON, April 3.—Three children were killed and two women and four children wounded in last night's Zeppelin raid on the Scottish coast, it was officially announced this afternoon.

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL IS TABLED NAMING FUSE COMMISSION

OTTAWA, April 3. — The investigations of the Royal Commission will not necessarily be confined to fuse and cartridge cases contracts, although those are the only contracts so far referred to the Commission.

In the House of Commons this afternoon, the Prime Minister tabled the Order in-Council appointing the Commission. It not only authorizes the Commission to inquire into fuse and cartridge case contracts, but also to inquire into such other matters relative to the acts or proceedings of the Shell Committee as may be referred to the said Commission by order in-Council from time to time and to report result of any such enquiries and the evidence taken thereon.

The order, generally speaking, authorizes the Commission to inquire with all reasonable diligence into the matters referred to in the speech of G. W. K., relating to acts and proceedings of the Shell Committee, whether by its members or by any other persons or corporations, and to report, and for the Minister of Militia, whether by itself or any other person or persons, to institute inquiries in regard to any matters relating to the said Committee and to the future control thereof, and to the profits or prospective profits arising thereunder, the disposition, division or allotment of the profits or prospective profits of any contracts or proposed contracts, all contracts connected with any of them, and as to the percentages, bonuses and especially options, and all other acts, transactions and matters of every kind relative to the said contracts, and to report the result of such inquiry with the evidence taken thereon.

On the orders of the day Sir Robert Borden referred to the publication of the Government's refusal to a statement in the press that a memorandum representing that an officer of the British Government had been sent from New York to see the Government in regard to allegations of improper dealings in regard to fuse contracts.

"I am authorized by the Governor-General," Sir Robert added, "to state that the report is untrue."

ARMY AND NAVY PASSED IN REVIEW

Kinematograph Spectacle Made Him Forget All But Britain's Valor

(By B. M. R.)

It has been suggested to me that I write something for The Star about these Official British Government motion pictures of the Army and Navy, to be shown by The Star at the Princess Theatre during the week beginning April 10.

That I might speak intelligently of them, I was provided an opportunity to see the pictures at private view.

"Take a friend," I was told, "we want you to enjoy the films, and too many can't see them, anyway."

Now I have a very dear American friend in the city. He's something of a cynic. Also, he has the "practical" characteristics of his race. Down in New England, where he comes from, they call him "careful." Also—some of his ancestors, as he frequently informs me, fought at Bunker Hill and Lundy's Lane. And he considers this war is three thousand long miles away. So I took him.

I am a British citizen, with all that that conveys. Therefore, I am not going into the impressions the pictures made upon me. I am too old to enlist, anyway. But I want to tell you something of what my American friend thought.

We were not in a theatre. We sat in hard chairs in a bare room at the office of the Famous Players Film Corporation, under whose management the pictures are, I believe. There was no music, no lecturer, no flags. Just the pictures.

"THE GOODS."

They began with the land forces, under the flashed caption, "The New Army in the Making." We saw the development of the soldier from the raw recruit into the finished, polished soldier. We saw the drills that made him so, the games that keep him fit.

Then we saw the films taken by Vickers, Limited, films of thousands of women making shells, fuses, what not. Fiddle, I'm not going to tell you all we saw. This was the practical, and it hit my American friend right between the eyes.

"Well, on the level," he whispered—why is it one whispers at the movies as one would do at a spoken play?—"you folks have got the goods, at that. I thought we had the prize stuff down at little old Bridgeport, Connecticut, but I'll take the count."

That was the line he took all through the army films, too. Trench digging and field drill reminded him of Plattsburg—I am sure I don't know why, do you?—and the really remarkable Aviation Corps films brought to his mind the time Grahame-White "did some of these here stunts" at Boston.

Finally, His Majesty the King was shown reviewing a million soldiers, or thereabouts. Actually, it said there were 40,000 soldiers shown but that seemed too small to me. Now, I hope I am a good Canadian, and I will admit that there is something in the picture of our beloved Sovereign that makes me choke up a bit. My American friend said:

Well, say, George doesn't look a day older than he did when the war started, does he?"

BRITAIN'S SURE SHIELD.

After that they gave us "The Sure Shield of Britain and Empire." The Navy, of course. My American friend thinks his country has a Navy, too. He started to tell me so when the first pictures of this series, showing the launching of a battleship and the making of its parts, appeared.

He had less to say when the mine-sweepers slid into view on their perilous task of bringing home those dreadful, bobbing harbingers of stealthy death. He had less still when there followed the sweepers the great, new battle cruisers which none of us have seen before—the Agincourt and—Long Live Our Lady of the Snows—the Canada in all her glorious might. You know the American Navy has neither the mine-sweeper nor a sister to the Canada.

SILENCE AT LAST.

The Grand Fleet at sea, and silence. We saw the remainder of those marvelous films to the clicking of the projecting machine alone. My friend sat dumb and quiet through it all—through the views of the battle squadron steaming out to meet the Germans, the black North Sea billows breaking into towering pillars of flying foam on those gigantic prows. Neither the submarines above and beneath the seas nor the giantess of them all, the Queen Elizabeth, aroused him to speech. For almost a good half of the two hours and thirty minutes we watched the Empire's might parade before us he was silent.

But at the end I knew. The glow on the screen departed. His Majesty in full naval uniform dissolved into darkness. Then the lights in the room flared up suddenly, and I realized that traffic had been roaring by on St. Catherine street all that time, and that my muscles were stiff and sore, so tense had I been on the edge of my chair.

I looked at my friend. There were tears in his eyes, his cheeks were wet. And he didn't even try to hide his face.

HEROIC OFFICER KILLED

Capt. the Hon. Alfred T. Shaughnessy.

SCHOOL BOARD IS LOSER IN ACTION OVER ANNEXATION

The Commission of the Catholic Schools of Montreal is condemned by Mr. Justice Lane to pay F. P. Tremblay, lawyer, $750. This ruling, unless affected by decision of a sought annexation to the Central Catholic Board will have to pay the accounts of all the lawyers even those whom it opposed on the annexation question at the recent session of the Legislature.

Mr. Tremblay represented the Tetreauville School Commission, which sought annexation to the central Catholic Board. The annexation was granted by the Legislature, and in the act which ensued it was, as usual, specified that the Montreal board should assume the liabilities of the newly annexed board. Mr. Tremblay, after annexation, presented his bill for services rendered the annexed board at Quebec, in connection with the annexation proceedings. The Montreal board strongly objected, stating that the account was excessive and that it was not responsible for payment.

Mr. Justice Lane decided on the first point that the account was not excessive; and scanning the Act of Annexation, His Lordship ruled on the second that the Montreal board was liable for the payment.

Numerous other lawyers who acted for divers annexed commissions awaited a ruling in this case to see what action they would take to collect.

Y. W. H. A. DANCE.

The Young Women's Hebrew Association will hold its fifth annual dance on Wednesday in the Auditorium Hall.

HERE and THERE

Willow View, a small settlement in northern Manitoba, has a unique record. Every man there, married and single, has enlisted in the 78th battalion.

A New York woman, sued by her modiste for $135, the price of a costume, refused to pay on the ground that the suit did not fit. The case went to court and the defendant was asked to put the suit on. She did so, and the male jury decided that it was a perfect fit and that the dressmaker should get her money.

According to the Schoolmaster, 11,400 men teachers are serving with the Forces, and about 9,000 have attested under the Derby scheme. In addition there are 147 serving with naval forces, and 236 women acting as nurses. Teachers have already gained five Victoria Crosses, while 232 have been killed, 118 wounded, and nine are missing.

A rumor comes from Spain that the German Emperor after the war intends to become a Roman Catholic. At present his religion is supposed to be that of the Lutheran Church. The statement of the predicted change is made in the current Churchman, an organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church, published in New York.

It has been estimated by statisticians that more than 200,000,000 small clay marbles are used by the boys of America every spring time. It is a known fact that 125,000,000 marbles are made every year by one clay marble manufacturer whose plant is in Summit County, O., and these marbles are made or rolled by young girls.

When Mr. and Mrs. August Holtz, of Wells, Minn., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary they were seated as guests of honor at a table with their nine children and thirty-one grand and great-grandchildren, not a single broken link in the chain. Mrs. Holtz's mother, Mrs. Beyer, sat at her table, and five generations were represented.

Jacques Robert Raoul, a lumber jack in British Columbia, has joined the 137th Battalion at Calgary. He is a native of Quebec province. His brother died with one of the Montreal regiments at St. Julien, while two other brothers are at the present moment training with the French-Canadian regiment in the east.

The city of Verdun, now the target for so many German shells, was for twelve years practically an English settlement. It was there that Napoleon, in 1803, interned the greater proportion of the English tourists in France, who were suddenly arrested, on May 23 of that year, on the rupture of the Treaty of Amiens, as a reprisal for the seizure by the British Government of all the French ships in our ports. From 1803 until the Allies entered Paris in 1841—some thousands of British tourists lived in compulsory exile in France. Verdun became, temporarily, an English town. English shops sprang up in every street. The exiles established their own clubs, including a Jockey Club, and regular race meetings and a pack of harriers were organised. There was also an English church, and one of the sights of Verdun for the French in those days was to watch the exiles leaving church after Sunday morning service.

Two Thousand U. S. Schools Will Join in Shakespeare Festival

By Canadian Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Nearly 2,000 schools and colleges of the country have arranged for a pageant or dramatic performance in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's death this month, the Federal Bureau of Education announced today.

The Bureau, in co-operation with the Drama League of America, is assisting in planning celebrations by giving practical suggestions as to kinds of celebrations, type of performances, lists of dances and designs for simple costuming for Shakespearean plays.

THE EMPTYING OF CANAL IS PUT OFF.

Further preparations are found necessary before the Lachine Canal will be emptied. The sluices were to have been opened today. The canal will probably be emptied towards the end of this week.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY KILLED IN ACTION A GALLANT SOLDIER

The first officer of the 60th Battalion to fall in action has been Capt. the Hon. A. T. ("Fred") Shaughnessy the second son of Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The news came to the city by two cables, one sent by Lieut.-Col. F. A. Gascoigne, the officer commanding the battalion, to A. D. MacTier, of the C. P. R., and another direct to the baron.

Capt. Shaughnessy took his company into the trenches early last month for the first time, being received by the 22nd Battalion, French-Canadians, who stayed for six days to initiate the newcomers into the mysteries and dangers of trench fighting under modern conditions.

The company commanded by the gallant officer was one of the first sections of the battalion to get into action, and the cabled news indicates that last week the troops were once more doing their bit. Capt. Shaughnessy was struck by a piece of shrapnel and "passed peacefully away and died like a man," to quote the words of Col. Gascoigne.

VERY POPULAR.

The receipt of the news in the city caused a distinct shock, for it is doubtful if there was ever a more popular young officer than Captain "Fred." Full of enthusiasm for his work, he was popular alike with officers and men, and during the long weeks the 60th were in training at Valcartier, Capt. Shaughnessy was always to the fore in anything that had as its object the improvement of the efficiency of his company or the comfort and well-being of his men. He was always busy, even devoting any well-earned spare time to the study of signalling and other military duties, and he attained a high standard of efficiency which made him a most capable officer. He was a gallant Canadian gentleman in the best sense of the word, and his loss will be a heavy one to the 60th Battalion.

Born in Montreal on October 18, 1887, Captain Shaughnessy was educated at Bishop's College and Abingdon Schools, afterwards going to McGill University where he was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. On leaving the university, he entered the traffic department of the C. P. R. but subsequently joined the brokerage firm of Charles Meredith & Co.

In 1906 he made a trip around the world travelling entirely on the Canadian Pacific Railway service by land and sea. In 1910, he joined the 3rd Victoria Rifles as a subaltern and after the outbreak of the war qualified for his captaincy at Halifax, joining the 60th Battalion with the rank, and being given a company, with his brother-in-law Capt. Rene Redmond as his second in command.

HAD TWO CHILDREN.

He was married in April, 1911, to Miss Sarah Pelk Bradford, daughter of Judge Bradford, of Nashville, Tennessee, and a descendant of President Polk of the United States. There are two children, Elizabeth, aged three, and Thomas Bradford, aged one and a half years. Mrs. Shaughnessy is in London, having crossed at the same time as the Battalion.

Capt. Shaughnessy was buried yesterday near the spot where he fell, and although it is an established military rule that bodies of officers or men killed in action can not be sent home from France, steps are being taken suitably to mark the burial place, with a view to the body being brought home after the war.

Capt. the Hon. W. J. Shaughnessy, a brother and the heir to the barony is training for active service with the 199th Battalion, Irish-Canadian Rangers, and at the church parade of that unit yesterday feeling references were made to the death of the gallant officer, by Lieut.-Col. H. J. Trihey, and by the Rev. Father Kelly who offered special prayers at High Mass at St. Ann's Church for the soul of the dead officer.

At St. James Methodist Church, where Major the Rev. C. A. Williams, chief recruiting officer for the Fourth Division, and R. B. Bennett, M.P., spoke, tributes were also paid to the memory of the officer.

FATHER'S TRIBUTE.

Lord Shaughnessy, who has received many messages of condolence, in speaking of the news said:

"To his mother, myself and the family the sacrifice is indeed cruel and almost overwhelming. But after all, we are only passing through the same sad experience as thousands of others in every portion of the Empire. He had a sweet wife and two little children, and everything in the world to live for, but he recognized his duty, and the attendant risk. If his example arouses a feeling of patriotism and responsiveness in those hundreds amongst us of military age, many of whom are without his family cares, who thus far through indifference or because of bad leadership or petty local issues have failed to assume their responsibilities as citizens and subjects, we shall feel that there is additional compensation for the sacrifice."

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Barbour-Beck.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. Lamert, 170 Park Lafontaine in the presence of immediate relatives, when Lulu Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Back, of Coleman, Alta., was married to Mr. James Alfred Barbour, Ph.B., son of Mrs. M. E. Barbour of Winnipeg, Man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Jollat, of St. John's Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. J. O. Lamert, and was attended by her cousins Miss Clara Lamert and Miss Alice Guilmont, of Ottawa. She wore a suit of midnight blue cloth, with corsage bouquet of rose buds, and a blue and old rose hat with ermine trimming, and the bridegroom's gift, ermine furs. Spring flowers were prettily arranged in the drawing-room and also in the dining room where refreshments were served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Barbour will visit New York, Chicago and other points in the United States en route to their home in Portland, Oregon.

Gibson-Vosberg

The marriage of Miss Yetta Vosberg, daughter of Mrs. S. C. Vosberg, to Mr. Louis Gibson, took place last evening in Sinclair's Hall, the Rev. Mr. Yudleson officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her mother, wore a white satin gown with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Estelle Bloomstone, as maid of honor, and Miss Rose Vosberg, as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Isidore Vosberg.

Approaching Marriages.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Henderson, Westmount, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Spencer to Mr. William Andrew Eden at six o'clock Thursday evening April 20, at their residence. The bridesmaids will be Miss Ruth Martin, of Kingston, Ont., and Miss Ruth Henderson, sister of the bride-elect.

Engagements Announced

Major and Mrs. Arthur Allison Bartlett, of Charlottetown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Florence, to Mr. Allen Battiscombe Cosh, 105th Battalion, C. E. F., son of the late Rev. WILL EMPLOYERS VOTE TO CONDONE TREACHERY ON THE PART OF THEIR EMPLOYES?

It is impossible to vote for McDonald today without condoning a number of admitted acts and endorsing a number of principles as applied to civic government.

A vote for McDonald endorses the principle that a public servant may know that a fellow public servant is being bribed without being under any obligation to tell the public and so stop the outrage.

It endorses the principle that a public servant may go much farther than this—he may conspire with the bribed public servant to help him earn his bribe.

It endorses the principle that two public servants may get together and agree to betray the interests of their employer—the city—robbing him ruthlessly in order that one of them may pocket a bribe and the other get through a scheme in which he is interested.

If these are worthy principles for employes of the public, they are worthy principles for the employes of private employers. Every private employer had better think this over before voting today.

NEW METHODS OF GETTING NEW MEN PROVE VERY GOOD

148th Battalion Will Continue Campaign Bringing Fine Results

The new methods employed by the 148th Battalion to recruit the necessary number of men to complete the unit's strength have led to encouraging results, and Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee and his officers believe that by maintaining this campaign the strength of the battalion will be reached very shortly.

Since Thursday last thirty-six men have been added to the strength; that is, sworn in and now in Barracks. In addition to this number, there are twenty more who have been medically examined and sworn in, and who will return this week to take up their new life, so that the net result of last week in recruiting means an addition of about fifty-six men. The total for the whole week, in consequence of the last few days, being up to average.

Col. Magee has decided to maintain his present plan as long as necessary. One most satisfactory result of the direct method of recruiting has been the type of man, the majority of those taken on giving up good positions to enlist.

RECENT RECRUITS.

Among those joining on Saturday were:

F. Boyce, Montreal.

Children Dance Pretty Figures at Closing of Classes

A very pleasing program of dances was given at the closing reception of the juvenile class given by Mr. Frederic W. Norman in Victoria Hall Saturday afternoon. The children entered into the spirit of the entertainment, and executed the dances in a manner which reflected much credit upon their training.

The program opened with a two-step followed by the Highland fling resented by the Misses R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, R. Norman, H. Ritchie, A. Reynolds, G. Nelson, R. Barwick, E. Norman, F. Barwick, J. Wynness, M. Reynolds and M. Boswell; the Spanish Andalucia by the Misses Ruth Barwick, Elsie Norman, Jean Wyness and Rita Norman.

A tambourine dance was given by the Misses K. Falconer, M. Hamilton, E. Norman, F. Barwick, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, Alice Reynolds, H. Ritchie, J. Falconer, E. Donnelly, M. Dyke, M. Cameron, D. Daniels, B. Reynolds, R. Norman and D. Robinson, after which a clown dance was contributed by Messrs. D. Ross, D. Wilkins, O. Seath-Smith, M. Hill, G. Severs, F. Hamilton, F. Manley and L. Gilmour.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "Every Inch a Sailor" after which two tiny girls, Miss Diana Claydon and Miss Peggy Norman danced the hornpipe, receiving hearty applause. A sailor ballet was given by Misses K. Falconer, V. Feltes, Jean Wynness, G. Nelson, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, A. Reynolds, H. Ritchie, L. Whiting, E. Donnelly, R. McCoy, R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, Rita Norman and E. Quinn.

The pizzicatti dance by Miss Alice Reynolds and Miss Margaret Boswell, and a Dutch peasant dance by Miss Jean Wynness and Miss Rita Norman; with a skirt dance by Miss Elsie Norman, Miss Jean Wynness, Miss Ruth Barwick and Miss Rita Norman.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "The Low-backed Car," and the old Irish tilte, given by the Misses Margaret Boswell, Elsie Norman, E. Phelan, E. Donnelly, Rita Norman, M. Reynolds, L. Whiting, M. Hill, G. Nelson, H. Ritchie, R. McCoy, Alice Reynolds, G. McCoy, V. Feltes, R. Elliott and E. Quinn. The program also included two-steps, one-step, American gavotte, pirouette waltz, fox trot, gavotte and society dances.

Before becoming head of the United States Steel Corporation, Elbert H. Gary is said to have received the largest yearly retaining fee of any lawyer in the United States.

RODIN'S SPLENDID GIFT TO FRANCE.

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3. — Auguste Rodin, the sculptor, has executed a deed of gift to the Government of the entire collection of his own works, other art objects he has acquired, and the Hotel Biron in which they are assembled. The building hereafter is to be open to the public as the Musee Rodin.

M. Rodin retains the studio, but the remainder of the extensive buildings and the fine grounds which surround it become public property under the supervision of the Government.

Rodin is 76 years old and the foremost of French sculptors, — perhaps the greatest living sculptor.

SOLDIERS NEED NO SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR EQUIPMENT

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3.—A memorandum issued by the Militia Department today says:

"It has come to the notice of the Department of Militia and Defence that since orders were issued that no overseas units should solicit subscriptions from the public for the purpose of obtaining extra equipment subterfuges have been adopted for the purpose of defeating the object of this order.

"The Department wish it to be thoroughly understood by the public that the Government supplies all necessary equipment for overseas units and that there is no necessity for any donations on the part of the public to supplement what is supplied by the Government. Any statements to the contrary are unauthorized and incorrect."

Capt. Shaughnessy Met Death Like Soldier

NO THREAT BY ALLIES TO HOLLAND

Official Statement by British Foreign Office to This Effect

DUTCH REPORTS ARE CONFLICTING

Some Power Asked Holland to Demobilize Forces Now Under Arms

Special Star Cable by Ed. L. Keen, of the United Press.

LONDON, April 3.—The British Foreign Office informed the United Press this afternoon that there is no foundation for the rumor that Holland's warlike preparations are due to any threat by the Allies to violate Dutch neutrality.

It was also denied that any decision made by the Allies at the recent Paris conference was responsible for the sudden summoning of the Dutch Parliament into session, and the cancellation of soldiers' leaves of absence.

The Dutch Minister of War, in an interview with correspondents at Amsterdam, instead of explaining the reasons for Holland's activities, made the situation even more puzzling. He hinted that from some Power had come the suggestion that Holland demobilize the forces she now has in arms to preserve her neutrality.

"Holland must be ready at a moment's notice to resist with the utmost vigor any danger that may arise," he said. "We must be ready to use our whole force at a moment's notice against the violators of our neutrality. We have, therefore, decided to reject the suggestion that we demobilize even the smallest part of our army."

Most of the Danish papers assume that England and France have requested Holland to dissolve the Rhine treaty, whereby Germany has the right to import freely up the Rhine, and have also urged her to stop exports from Germany.

NOT PREPARING FOR WAR.

Semi-official despatches from The Hague today insist that Holland's sudden warlike moves are not the result of any tensity of relations with any of the belligerents and must not be interpreted as a preparation for war.

The despatches were filed last Saturday. They not only were held up by the Dutch authorities for two days, but bore evidence of having been heavily censored.

Another delayed despatch said the Dutch newspapers are both puzzled and annoyed and that it is rumored the Government's moves are threatening in their relations to the Allies.

The Danish newspapers deny that the Tubantia controversy with Germany caused the military activity in Holland, though admitting an increased concentration of German troops on the Dutch frontier.

The English newspapers are greatly puzzled by these conflicting reports. The popular view here is that Germany threatened to violate Dutch neutrality and that Queen Wilhelmina took prompt steps to meet the threatened danger.

ROTTERDAM ALL UNCERTAINTY

LONDON, April 3.—A telegram to the London Weekly Dispatch from Rotterdam, dated Saturday, runs:

"Excitement and uncertainty prevailed here last evening. Many rumors were afloat after the leave of absence of all officers and men of the Dutch army and navy was cancelled.

"All exports from Holland have been prohibited; some have been stopped on the way out. Soldiers yesterday unloaded a train filled with vegetables bound for Germany. All goods trains have been seized by the military.

"The Ministers and chiefs of the army and navy have had an audience with Queen Wilhelmina, it is announced officially.

"Opinion is about equally divided as to which side Holland leans to. Some say the torpedoing of the Dutch steamer Tubantia, will be the cause of trouble with the Central Powers. Others declare the seizure of Dutch mails by the British has given offence to Holland.

"But no matter what the surmises, the secret of increased diplomatic tension is being well kept. Even persons whose position justifies the assumption that they have knowledge of what is happening confess themselves puzzled.

"The Daily News says editorially that it is in a position to state confidently that the alarms at Amsterdam have nothing whatever to do with the Paris conference."

SITUATION IS DEPRESSING.

By Canadian Press.

THE HAGUE, April 1, via London, (delayed.)—The Associated Press is again authoritatively informed that all apprehensions regarding any impending embroilment of Holland with any foreign Power are wholly unfounded, but a considerable section of the public persists in believing that the expected coming offensive by the Allies, supposedly planned at the Paris conference, holds the possibility of danger to Holland's neutrality.

Public anxiety has been considerably allayed, but has not wholly disappeared, in the absence of a statement from the Government to clear up the situation. An alarmign bulletin published on Friday was not issued at the instance of the Government.

The Hague agency of the Bank of The Netherlands was the scene of a small run for specie in exchange for paper, especially on the part of money changers who have been apprehensive of a return of the panicky conditions of the early days of the war, of which, however, there is so far no indication.

SITUATION NOW "VERY SERIOUS"

Washington Gets Some More Affidavits About the Sussex

MERCHANT SHIPS ALL TO BE ARMED

Will Transfer Trust from Berlin to Rapid-Fire Guns

Special to The Montreal Star by Robert J. Bender of the United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Wilson is rapidly accumulating evidence tending to indict Germany for recent attacks on unarmed vessels in the English Channel.

New affidavits have reached this country, it was learned today. The additional evidence materially increases the strength of opinion prevailing in Administration Srcles that a German submarine was responsible for the attack on the Sussex and other vessels, jeopardizing American lives.

The situation today was once again described as "very serious." The Cabinet will meet tomorrow to take up the additional proofs received by the State Department.

It is possible by that time definite word as to Berlin's attitude on the Sussex and other attacks will be at hand, in view of a cable from Mr. Gerard today, stating he anticipated an early reply to this Government's inquiry.

All Allied Merchant Vessels to Be Armed

All the merchant ships of the Entente Powers, including British and French steamships calling at American ports, will soon mount rapid-fire guns for defence against submarine attacks according to information today from an authentic source.

The fate of the Sussex and of many other unarmed ships which recently have been attacked by submarines has convinced the British and French Governments, it was said, that it was useless to place dependence in assurances of the German Government guaranteeing unarmed ships immunity from attack. Henceforth trust will be placed instead in the range of rapid-fire guns.

Wily Hun Now Begins to Hedge

Special Star Cable by Carl W. Ackerman, of the United Press.

BERLIN, April 3.—The Sussex affair is arousing little apprehension in Berlin with regard to German-American relations. The tension apparent during the Lusitania and Arabic negotiations is utterly lacking.

This is chiefly due to the popular conviction that the Sussex was mined, not torpedoed, though it is pointed out that she formerly was in service as a British transport and might, through error, have been so regarded by a U-boat commander.

WASHINGTON INTERESTED.

Special to The Montreal Star by United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3. — The suggestion that the Channel liner Sussex may have been torpedoed in the belief that she was a British transport, contained in exclusive Berlin despatches to the United Press, proved of greatest interest to State Department officials today.

It was the first admission from Berlin that the Sussex may have been a submarine victim. All previous despatches had insisted that the Sussex struck a mine.

It is accepted here that if a submarine attacked the Sussex, believing she was still in transport service, Germany will immediately disavow the attack and make full amends.

SWEDISH PAPERS PEEVED.

Special Star Cable.

BERLIN, April 3.—England's latest blow at neutral shipping has increased the bitter feeling in Sweden toward the English, according to Stockholm despatches today.

The Swedish newspapers declare the abolishment of paragraph 10 of the Declaration of London by arbitrary action of England was created a serious situation for Sweden.

This paragraph guarantees that no ship shall be seized, if en route to a non-blockaded port, whatever may be her ulterior destination.

"We demand a United Swedish policy opposed to any unnecessary surrender of our rights," said the Stockholm Tidninger. "We demand this not only for our own future, but for the sake of international law."

The Tidninger believes the British announcement was a direct result of the Paris conference of the Allies.

German Writer Sees the End of Neutrality Coming

Special Star Cable.

LONDON, April 3.—The Daily News prints a quotation from an article by Herman von Rath in the Tag on America as follows:

"Should the last great Power which has hitherto remained neutral join the circle of our enemies, the idea of neutrality will become an illusion, for then the Anglo-Saxon nation will, on the principle of 'who is not with me is against me' compel the smaller States to assume a definite position.

"That this position would in most cases be favorable to our enemies is vouched for by the latter's control over the food and raw material supplies of the continent."

Replying to the argument that America would not intervene in the war, Herr von Rath says:

"A responsible statesman will not base his decisions on such uncertain and optimistic considerations. Indeed, they must not do so. Their duty is, in case of grave decisions, to make their calculations as a careful merchant does, who is willing to undertake a serious business only when he sees a sure prospect of success in spite of certain unfavorable chances.

"Such circumspection is not a sign of weakness; it can go hand in hand with courage and enterprise. It is, indeed, by connection with it that these latter qualities are distinguished from recklessness and criminal levity."

KYTE CHARGES HAVE AROUSED WHOLE COUNTRY

Full Ventilation of Scandal Will Be Insisted Upon

DEFENCE IS CASH WENT TO BANKERS

Maj.-Gen. Hughes Expected to Produce Col. Allison

Special to The Montreal Star by our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Parliamentary week starts with both the expectation and prospect of highly interesting developments. Today will be devoted to a private Bill—the Mackenzie and Mann hydro radial fight,—but tomorrow, it is expected, the discussion will be resumed on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's resolution for an inquiry, not by a Commission, but by Parliament, into all the Shell Committee's doings and not alone the fuse contracts.

As nearly all the principal speakers on both sides have already been heard, the further discussion is unlikely to be long, but interest will not be vitiated because of brevity. The Kyte charges, unquestionably, have altered the situation greatly, and in the light of them there is a renewed interest in the question.

It is not diverted by the Government's decision to appoint a judicial commission of inquiry, so far as can be learned today, the Government has no intention of varying its course and increasing the scope of the inquiry, though circumstances eventually may necessitate that course. The announcement in the House, and the decision come to was regarded as final.

The political effect of the charges is much discussed and causing a lot of speculation. In its immediate aspect it seems likely to prolong considerably the session of Parliament though hope of proroguing by Easter has not been abandoned.

COUNTRY SEEMS AROUSED.

Members of Parliament who spent the week-end at home came back this morning with reports indicating that the country is pretty well aroused and insisting upon a full ventilation of the scandal. The stories vary somewhat.

According to the Conservatives, the Government's action is viewed with satisfaction, though there are some on the Ministerial side who think the scope might well be enlarged.

Liberals expect to make political capital out of the situation and out of anything which tends to circumscribe the investigation.

The gravity of the allegations made is not minimized, but the real effect will depend largely upon the extent to which they are substantiated.

The Order-in-Council appointing the commission passed only on Saturday, and arrangements for work have been yet discussed. The judges will confer on the question this week, but the general idea is to start work as soon as possible.

I. N. Hellmuth, K.C., of Toronto, or the Hon. A. W. Atwater, of Montreal, are most prominently mentioned as counsel for the Government, and W. N. Tilley, K.C., of Toronto, will likely be retained by the Liberals, with Messrs Carvell and Kyte associated with him.

It is intimated that the defence will consist largely in the contention that moneys advanced by the Shell Committee went to a New York banking house which gave a surety bond, making payments to contractors contingent upon the delivery of the fuses.

Though the cables are somewhat contradictory, Maj.-Gen. Hughes is expected back in Ottawa in the early part of next week. If Col. J. Wesley Allison proves as elusive as he has been heretofore, the Minister will be expected to induce his attendance.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY MET DEATH LEADING MEN INTO TRENCHES

Special Cable to The Montreal Star from Our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur Street, London, April 3.—The Canadians have been under strenuous shelling, hand grenade, and minewerfer fighting in new positions during the week-end. Capt. Fred Shaughnessy, second son of Lord Shaughnessy, was killed while leading his company in the 60th into the trenches.

There is a very dangerous salient, with all kinds of enfilading fire, and Capt. Shaughnessy was caught on a clear night by a shrapnel burst, which came from the extreme left. Several of his men were injured, but their first thought was for their popular captain. The stretcher bearers found that the full force of the shell had caught him, and he died in their arms.

In spite of the heavy shelling that was in progress, the chaplain came down the trenches, and Capt. Shaughnessy was buried in a soldier's grave, a simple cross marking the spot almost where he fell.

"A fine soldier and a fine man. He would never have wished to die in a better manner," was how one of his former comrades spoke in describing him.

Capt. Rene Redmond, a son-in-law of the Canadian Pacific head, arrived in London today to attend the widow, a bright American girl, who has made herself extremely popular in Canadian Red Cross circles in London. She returns to Canada this week.

The Canadian Army Service Corps "somewhere in the south-eastern counties" have had all the Zeppelin excitement they needed during the week-end. Bombs were dropped near two of their stations, but, so far as could be learned, there was not a single Canadian casualty.

CAPTURE OF VILLA AT ANY MOMENT IS EXPECTATION NOW

No Definite Word Received Since Battle Last Week in Which Bandit Was Routed—Two Missing Aviators Return Safely—Lost Way in Storm

CAMP OF GEN. PERSHING, AT THE FRONT, April 2, by aeroplane to Colonia Dublan, and by radio to Columbus, N.M., April 3.—American cavalrymen encountered a fleeing force of Villa men near (deleted) early today and sounds of firing have been heard from that direction, but no report has been made to headquarters as to the results.

Special to The Star by H. D. Jacobs of the United Press.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN ARMY, NEAR DUBLAN, MEXICO, April 2, via wireless to Columbus, N.M.—Two army aviators missing with their aeroplanes since Friday afternoon have arrived here. They were caught in a rain and snow storm in Chocolate Pass, ten miles south, while en route from Namiquipa.

Following this pass they narrowly escaped death when faced by a blinding rain between towering walls. The two fliers finally lost their way in the storm and were forced to descend near a Mexican house. The native rancher gave them food, lodging and musical entertainment and brought them to headquarters on Saturday. A horse and wagon then went back after the aeroplanes, which were undamaged.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Five days have elapsed since Col. Dodd's cavalrymen routed Villa's main command near Guerrero. As practically no word of the chase beyond that point has reached the War Department, officials today suspect that Villa has already hidden himself away in the mountains.

Confidence continues that news of Villa's capture is likely at any time. Many officials put in Sunday at the Department in the hope of getting the news. The Secretary of War, Mr. Baker, was one of them.

But nothing whatever came through from the border. This, too, was the case overnight.

Army men believe Villa's roundup is so close that they are speculating as to what this nation will do with him.

Mr. Baker refuses to "cross that bridge" yet, but others say the bandit will probably be turned over to the Carranza Government if he is taken alive. Legally, Villa could be returned to Columbus to answer to a murder charge there because of his raid.

Germany Finds Her Friend's Misfortune Not Too Displeasing

LONDON, April 3.—A Morning Post despatch from Berne says the Germans are rejoicing over America's difficulties in Mexico, and quotes the Leipzig Neueste Nachrichten, an influential organ of the National Liberty party, as saying:

"President Wilson now has his war, and we should make ourselves look ridiculous if we concealed the fact we are glad he has it—as glad as the English are sorry that the energies of the President find scope in his own hemisphere.

"We are unenvious enough to hope that President Wilson may, as augmenter of his Empire, make a triumphant entry into Mexico with Villa's scalp hanging from his belt. We hope the ambition of the warlike President may be gratified by the acquisition of even the whole of Mexico and other territory up to the Panama Canal, for while digesting this hard nut Jonathan maust cease to be John Bull's willing servant."

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

TWO BOARDS FIND DEAD ENGINEER TO BLAME FOR WRECK

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The Engineman Curtis is held to have been directly responsible for the New Haven wreck at Milford, February 22, by the report today of H. W. Belnap, head of the Interstate Commerce Commission Division of Safety.

Curtis, the report says, failed properly to observe and be guided by certain signal indications. All who could possibly throw light on why the signals were not obeyed, Mr Belnap says, however, are dead—including Curtis

HARTFORD, Conn., April 3.—The engineer Curtis, now dead, is held chiefly responsible for the New Haven wreck at Milford, February 22, in a report made public today by the Public Utilities Commission.

Curtis and ten others were killed and forty-four were injured.

ISSUE OF BATTLE AT VERDUN TURNING NOW IN FAVOR OF FRENCH

Fighting Continued All Night Between Douaumont and Vaux—French Gained Ground in Northern Part of Caillette Wood Which Was Captured by Germans Sunday—Hun Front Widens

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3, 3:25 p.m.—A Havas despatch from Athens says the Bulgarian Government has notified Greece that it has given orders for the evacuation of points on Greek territory occupied by Bulgarian troops.

Bulgaria assured Greece of the intention to do everything possible to maintain friendly relations between the two nations.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

PARIS, April 3.—By successful counter-attacks, French troops gained ground last night in the Caillette woods, southeast of Fort Douaumont, the War Office announced this afternoon.

The counter-attacks were of great violence and brought to a halt the German offensive delivered in this region by a force estimated at 20,000 men.

The Germans apparently were attempting to drive southward, planning to surround Fort Vaux, which has resisted successive massed attacks by the Germans since the early days of the Verdun fighting.

On the west bank of the Meuse, the Germans bombarded Haucourt and Esnes throughout the night. The French guns on hill 304 replied energetically.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT

The text of the French official communication this afternoon follows:

"A Zeppelin last night threw down eight bombs on Dunkirk. The material damages were not great, but two persons were killed and four wounded.

"To the west of the river Meuse the bombardment has continued at the villages of Haucourt and Esnes, but without any action of infantry.

"To the east of the Meuse, the fighting which went on last night in the region of Douaumont and Vaux was favorable to us.

"We gained ground in the wood of Caillette. Our line rests on the right on the pond of Vaux, then crosses the Caillette wood, the northern corner of which is occupied by the enemy, and rejoins our positions to the south and west of the village of Douaumont.

"It has been confirmed that the attacks of the enemy yesterday were extended over a front of three kilometres. They came forward in successive waves, followed by small columns. The activity of our artillery and the fire of our infantry caused heavy losses in the ranks of the enemy.

"In the Woevre district the night passed quietly.

"In Lorraine the fire of our artillery caused flames to break out at Les Romabois, to the west of Leintrey, and in the region of Ancerviller to the south of Blamont.

"The reconnaissance of the enemy, which was attempting to reach our positions, was repulsed by our fire at a point near Moyen.

"A German aeroplane has fallen within our lines. The aviators were taken prisoner."

In yesterday's fighting the whole sector between the ruins of Fort Douaumont and the Vaux brook was the scene of desperate fighting. By hurling mass after mass at the French trenches the Germans forced their way across the Vaux-Douaumont road. Then sheltered from machine gun fire by a slight rise they advanced into the northern fringes of Caillette wood.

Further south, near Vaux village, the German charge was met by a sheet of fire that broke the German ranks in confusion. The French shattered the German front with artillery and machine gun fire from behind redoubts on the highway leading westward from Vaux.

NEW PHASE OF FIGHT BEGUN.

PARIS, April 3. A new phase of the battle of Verdun has begun, and the belief prevails that the violence of the latest attacks foreshadows another attempt by the Germans to rush the fortress with vast forces. New batteries of large calibre have been moved up closer to the French front and the German infantry has been rested and reorganized.

Yesterday's fighting on the whole western front was favorable to the French, it is authoritatively stated. The object of the Germans was to clear the approaches to Fort Douaumont, and 15,000 men were thrown forward on the mile and a half line between Douaumont fort and the village of Vaux.

The attacking force succeeded in crossing a little ravine which hitherto had stopped them and in entering the Caillette wood. Further east they dislodged the French from the last ruined houses of the village of Vaux, but the French positions were so placed as to make it practically impossible for the Germans to debouch from the village.

Vigorous French counter-attacks drove them back to the upper fringe of Caillette wood.

The total result of the very formidable effort they had put forth was a gain for the Germans of about 500 yards of terrain, more than offset, it is affirmed, by the very heavy losses they had endured.

On the west of the river the Germans attacked the Avocourt blockhouse in a no less determined manner, but again met with complete failure, the observers declare.

NO CHANGE SAYS AUSTRIA.

By Canadian Press.

BERLIN, April 3, by wireless to Sayville.—The Austrian War Office has given out, under date of April 2, the following statement in regard to the progress of the campaign on the Italian front:

"The situation in the Italian war theatre is unchanged. This morning enemy aviators threw bombs on Adelsberg (in Carniola, 28 miles northeast of Trieste) killing two men and wounding several."

The statement follows:

"The enemy's endeavors to check the advance of Turkish troops in the Tchoruk valley failed.

"Turkish submarines on March 30 sank a Russian transport of about 12,000 tons, with troops and war material, and on March 31 sank another ship of 1,500 tons and one sailing ship. Our submarines effectively shelled fortified positions on the coast north of Poti (a Russian seaport in Trans-Caucasia on the Black Sea.)

"Turkish detachments made a surprise attack on British position at Alamad, northeast of Sheikh Osman, which the British had been fortifying for some time. After suffering heavy losses the British retreated under protection of their long-range guns to Sheikh Osman.

TRANSPORT REPORTED SUNK.

Special Star Cable by United Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3. — A Russian transport of about 12,000 tons, carying troops and war material, was sunk by Turkish submarines on March 20, it was officially claimed today.

Another enemy ship of about 1,500 tons and a sailing ship were also sunk it was asserted.

Turkish submarines effectively shelled the fortified coast north of Poti, the report further affirmed.

BRITISH WARSHIP RESCUES ALL ON LINER CHIYO MARU

By Canadian Press.

HONG KONG, via London, April 3.—The Japanese steamer Chiyo Maru stranded in a storm off Lema Islands, twenty miles south of Hong Kong, was abandoned as she was being driven on the rocks by a heavy gale, repeated attempts to refloat having been unsuccessful.

The 229 passengers of the steamer, which was bound from San Francisco for Japanese ports, the Philippines and China, were rescued by a British warship shortly after she had stranded.

LATEST AIR MURDERER KILLED 3 CHILDREN.

LONDON, April 3.—Three children were killed and two women and four children wounded in last night's Zeppelin raid on the Scottish coast, it was officially announced this afternoon.

END OF ARGUMENT OVER MAIL SEIZURE

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The reply of all the Entente Allies to the American protests against mail seizures was presented today to the State Department.

Denial is made that any treaty rights of the United States have been violated, the Allies re-assert their jurisdiction in mail in territorial waters, and the right to exclude contraband.

Publication will be made simultaneously later in Washington, London and Paris.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

Special Cable to The Montreal Star From our London Correspondent. (Copyright).

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur street, London, April 3. — Today's casualties include sixty-two officers, of whom thirty-two are dead, and 1,489 men, of whom 429 are dead.

The regiments suffering most are the Lancashire Fusiliers, Northumberland Fusiliers, Royal Field Artillery, Royal Fusiliers, Buffs, Inniskilling Fusiliers, Durham Light Infantry, West Kents, King's Royal Rifles and Sussex Regiment.

Lieut. G. H. Smith, of the South Staffordshire, killed in action, was president of the Cambridge University Athletic Club for 1903 and a well-known high jumper, having cleared six feet, both in Cambridge and Canada.

The relatives announce today that John Henry Palmer, a director of Debenhams, Canada, Limited, was killed on board the steamship Sussex on March 24, while crossing the Channel.

MIGHTY POWER OF EMPIRE'S FORCES SILENCED SCOFFER

ARMY AND NAVY PASSED IN REVIEW

Kinematograph Spectacle Made Him Forget All But Britain's Valor

(By B. M. R.)

It has been suggested to me that I write something for The Star about these Official British Governmental motion pictures of the Army and Navy, to be shown by The Star at the Princess Theatre during the week beginning April 10.

That I might speak intelligently of them, I was provided an opportunity to see the pictures at a private view.

"Take a friend," I was told, "we want you to enjoy the films, and too many can't see them, anyway."

Now I have a very good American friend in the city. He's something of a cynic. Also, he has the "practical" characteristics of his race. Down in New England, where he comes from, they call him "careful." Also—some of his ancestors, as he frequently informs me, fought at Bunker Hill and Lundy's Lane. And he considers the war is three thousand long miles away. So I took him.

I am a British citizen, with all that that conveys. Therefore, I am not going into the impressions the pictures made upon me. I am too old to enlist, anyway. But I want to tell you something of what my American friend thought.

We were not in a theatre. We sat in hard chairs in a bare room at the office of the Famous Players Film Corporation, under whose management the pictures are, I believe. There was no music, no lecturer, no flags. Just the pictures.

"THE GOODS."

They began with the land forces under the flashed caption, "The New Army in the Making." We saw the development of the soldier from the raw recruit into the finished, polished soldier. We saw the drills that made him so, the games that keep him fit.

Then we saw the films taken by Vickers, Limited, films of thousands of women making shells, fuses, what not. Fiddle, I'm not going to tell you all we saw. This was the practical, and it hit my American friend right between the eyes.

"Well, on the level," he whispered—why is it one whispers at the movies as one would do at a spoken play?—"you folks have got the goods, at that. I thought we had the prize stuff down at little old Bridgeport, Connecticut, but I'll take the count."

That was the line he took all through the army films, too. Trench digging and field drill reminded him of Plattsburg—I am sure I don't know why, do you?—and the really remarkable Aviation Corps films brought to his mind the time Grahame-White "did some of these here stunts" at Boston.

Finally, His Majesty the King was shown reviewing a million soldiers, or thereabouts. Actually, it said there were 40,000 soldiers shown but that seemed too small to me. Now, I hope I am a good Canadian, and I will admit that there is something in the picture of our beloved Sovereign that makes me choke up a bit. My American friend said:

Well, say, George doesn't look a day older than he did when the war started, does he?"

BRITAIN'S SURE SHIELD.

After that they gave us "The Sure Shield of Britain and Empire." The Navy, of course. My American friend thinks his country has a Navy, too. He started to tell me so when the first pictures of this series, showing the launching of a battleship and the making of its parts, appeared.

He had less to say when the minesweepers slid into view on their perilous task of bringing home those dreadful, bobbing harbingers of stealthy death. He had less still when there followed the sweepers the great, new battle cruisers which none of us have seen before—the Agincourt and—Long Live Our Lady of the Snows—the Canada in all her glorious might. You know the American Navy has neither the minesweeper nor a sister to the Canada.

SILENCE AT LAST.

The Grand Fleet at sea, and all-once. We saw the remainder of those marvelous films to the glitering of the projecting machine alone. My friend sat dumb and quiet through it all—through the views of the battle squadron steaming out to meet the Germans, the black North Sea billows breaking into towering pillars of flying foam on those gigantic prows. Neither the submarines above and beneath the seas nor the giantess of them all, the Queen Elizabeth, aroused him to speech. For almost a good half of the two hours and thirty minutes we watched the Empire's might parade before us he was silent.

But at the end I knew. The glow on the screen departed. His Majesty in full naval uniform dissolved into darkness. Then the lights in the room flared up suddenly, and I realized that traffic had been roaring by on St. Catherine street all that time, and that my muscles were stiff and sore, so tense had I been on the edge of my chair.

I looked at my friend. There were tears in his eyes, his cheeks were wet. And he didn't even try to hide his face.

HEROIC OFFICER KILLED

SCHOOL BOARD IS LOSER IN ACTION OVER ANNEXATION

The Commission of the Catholic Schools of Montreal is condemned by Mr. Justice Lane to pay F. P. Tremblay, lawyer, $750. This ruling, unless affected by decision of a sought annexation to the Central Catholic Board will have to pay the accounts of all the lawyers even those whom it opposed on the annexation question at the recent session of the Legislature.

Mr. Tremblay represented the Tetreauville School Commission, which sought annexation to the Central Catholic Board. The annexation was granted by the Legislature, and in the act which ensued it was, as usual, specified that the Montreal board should assume the liabilities of the newly annexed board. Mr. Tremblay, after annexation, presented his bill for services rendered the annexed board at Quebec, in connection with the annexation proceedings. The Montreal board strongly objected, stating that the account was excessive and that it was not responsible for payment.

Mr. Justice Lane decided on the first point that the account was not excessive, and scanning the Act of Annexation, His Lordship ruled on the second that the Montreal board was liable for the payment.

Numerous other lawyers who acted for divers annexed commissions awaited a ruling in this case to see what action they would take to collect.

HERE and THERE

Willow View, a small settlement in northern Manitoba, has a unique record. Every man there, married and single, has enlisted in the 78th battalion.

A New York woman, sued by her modiste for $135, the price of a costume, refused to pay on the ground that the suit did not fit. The case went to court and the defendant was asked to put the suit on. She did so, and the male jury decided that it was a perfect fit and that the dressmaker should get her money.

According to the Schoolmaster, 11,400 men teachers are serving with the Forces, and about 9,000 have attested under the Derby scheme. In addition there are 147 serving with naval forces, and 236 women acting as nurses. Teachers have already gained five Victoria Crosses, while 232 have been killed, 118 wounded, and nine are missing.

A rumor comes from Spain that the German Emperor after the war intends to become a Roman Catholic at present his religion is supposed to be that of the Lutheran Church. The statement of the predicted change is made in the current Churchman, an organ of the Protestant Episcopal Church, published in New York.

It has been estimated by statisticians that more than 200,000,000 small clay marbles are used by the boys of America every spring time. It is a known fact that 125,000,000 marbles are made every year by one clay marble manufacturer whose plant is in Summit County, O., and these marbles are made or rolled by young girls.

The city of Verdun, now the target for so many German shells, was for twelve years practically an English settlement. It was there that Napoleon, in 1803, interned the greater proportion of the English tourists in France, who were suddenly arrested, on May 23 of that year, on the rupture of the Treaty of Amiens, as a reprisal for the seizure by the British Government of all the French ships in our ports. From 1803 until the Allies entered Paris in 1841—some thousands of British tourists lived in compulsory exile in France. Verdun became, temporarily, an English town. English shops sprang up in every street. The exiles established their own clubs, including a Jockey Club, and regular race meetings and a pack of harriers were organised. There was also an English church, and one of the sights of Verdun for the French in those days was to watch the exiles leaving church after Sunday morning service.

Two Thousand U. S. Schools Will Join in Shakespeare Festival

By Canadian Press.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Nearly 2,000 schools and colleges of the country have arranged for a pageant or dramatic performance in commemoration of the three hundredth anniversary of Shakespeare's death this month, the Federal Bureau of Education announced today.

The Bureau, in co-operation with the Drama League of America, is assisting in planning celebrations by giving practical suggestions as to kinds of celebrations, type of performances, lists of dances and designs for simple costuming for Shakespearean plays.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY KILLED IN ACTION A GALLANT SOLDIER

The first officer of the 60th Battalion to fall in action has been Capt. the Hon. A. T. ("Fred") Shaughnessy the second son of Lord Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. The news came to the city by two cables, one sent by Lieut.-Col. F. A. Gascoigne, the officer commanding the battalion, to A. D. MacTier, of the C. P. R., and another direct to the baron.

Capt. Shaughnessy took his company into the trenches early last month for the first time, being received by the 22nd Battalion, French-Canadians, who stayed for six days to initiate the newcomers into the mysteries and dangers of trench fighting under modern conditions.

The company commanded by the gallant officer was one of the first sections of the battalion to get into action, and the cabled news indicates that last week the troops were once more doing their bit. Capt. Shaughnessy was struck by a piece of shrapnel and "passed peacefully away and died like a man," to quote the words of Col. Gascoigne.

VERY POPULAR.

The receipt of the news in the city caused a distinct shock, for it is doubtful if there was ever a more popular young officer than Captain "Fred." Full of enthusiasm for his work, he was popular alike with officers and men, and during the long weeks the 60th were in training at Valcartier, Capt. Shaughnessy was always to the fore in anything that had as its object the improvement of the efficiency of his company or the comfort and well-being of his men. He was always busy, even devoting any well-earned spare time to the study of signalling and other military duties, and he attained a high standard of efficiency which made him a most capable officer. He was a gallant Canadian gentleman in the best sense of the word, and his loss will be a heavy one to the 60th Battalion.

Born in Montreal on October 18, 1887, Captain Shaughnessy was educated at Bishop's College and Abingdon Schools, afterwards going to McGill University where he was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity. On leaving the university, he entered the traffic department of the C. P. R. but subsequently joined the brokerage firm of Charles Meredith & Co.

In 1906 he made a trip around the world travelling entirely on the Canadian Pacific Railway service by land and sea. In 1910, he joined the 3rd Victoria Rifles as a subaltern and after the outbreak of the war qualified for his captaincy at Halifax, joining the 60th Battalion with the rank, and being given a company, with his brother-in-law Capt. Rene Redmond as his second in command.

HAD TWO CHILDREN.

He was married in April, 1911, to Miss Sarah Pelk Bradford, daughter of Judge Bradford, of Nashville, Tennessee, and a descendant of President Polk of the United States. There are two children, Elizabeth, aged three, and Thomas Bradford, aged one and a half years. Mrs. Shaughnessy is in London, having crossed at the same time as the Battalion.

Capt. Shaughnessy was buried yesterday near the spot where he fell, and although it is an established military rule that bodies of officers or men killed in action can not be sent home from France, steps are being taken suitably to mark the burial place, with a view to the body being brought home after the war.

Capt. the Hon. W. J. Shaughnessy, a brother and the heir to the barony is training for active service with the 199th Battalion, Irish-Canadian Rangers, and at the church parades of that unit yesterday feeling references were made to the death of the gallant officer, by Lieut.-Col. H. J. Trihey, and by the Rev. Father Kelz, who offered special prayers at High Mass at St. Ann's Church for the soul of the dead officer.

At St. James Methodist Church, where Major the Rev. C. A. Williams, chief recruiting officer for the Fourth Division, and R. B. Bennett, M.P., spoke, tributes were also paid to the memory of the officer.

FATHER'S TRIBUTE.

Lord Shaughnessy, who has received many messages of condolence, in speaking of the news said:

"To his mother, myself and the family the sacrifice is indeed cruel and almost overwhelming. But after all, we are only passing through the same sad experience as thousands of others in every portion of the Empire. He had a sweet wife and two little children, and everything in the world to live for, but he recognized his duty, and the attendant risk. If his example arouses a feeling of patriotism and responsiveness in those hundreds amongst us of military age, many of whom are without his family cares, who thus far through indifference or because of bad leadership or petty local issues have failed to assume their responsibilities as citizens and subjects, we shall feel that there is additional compensation for the sacrifice."

THE SOCIAL WORLD

Barbour-Beck.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. S. Lamert, 170 Park Lafontaine in the presence of immediate relatives, when Lulu Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Back, of Coleman, Alta., was married to Mr. James Alfred Barbour, Ph.B., son of Mrs. M. E. Barbour of Winnipeg, Man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. Joliat, of St. John's Presbyterian Church. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. J. O. Lamert, and was attended by her cousins Miss Clara Lamert and Miss Alice Guilmont, of Ottawa. She wore a suit of midnight blue cloth, with corsage bouquet of rose buds, and a blue and old rose hat with ermine trimming, and the bridegroom's gift, ermine furs. Spring flowers were prettily arranged in the drawing-room and also in the dining room where refreshments were served after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Barbour will visit New York, Chicago and other points in the United States en route to their home in Portland, Oregon.

Gibson-Vosberg

The marriage of Miss Yetta Vosberg, daughter of Mrs. S. C. Vosberg, to Mr. Louis Gibson, took place last evening in Sinclair's Hall, the Rev. Mr. Yudleson officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her mother, wore a white satin gown with tulle veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Estelle Bloomstone, as maid of honor, and Miss Rose Vosberg, as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Isidore Vosberg.

Approaching Marriages.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Henderson, Westmount, have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Mabel Spencer to Mr. William Andrew Eden at six o'clock Thursday evening April 20, at their residence. The bridesmaids will be Miss Ruth Martin, of Kingston, Ont., and Miss Ruth Henderson, sister of the bride-elect.

Engagements Announced

Major and Mrs. Arthur Allison Bartlett, of Charlottetown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Florence, to Mr. Allen Batiscombe Cosh, 105th Battalion, C. E. F., son of the late Rev. Nathan Cosh, D.D., and of Mrs. Cosh, Dalry, Ayrshire, Scotland. The marriage will take place the last of April.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCord, of Quebec, announce the engagement of their daughter, Muriel Dorothy, to Malcolm Mackenzie, of that city, formerly of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, the marriage to take place on April 24th.

WILL EMPLOYERS VOTE TO CONDONE TREACHERY ON THE PART OF THEIR EMPLOYES?

It is impossible to vote for McDonald today without condoning a number of admitted acts and endorsing a number of principles as applied to civic government.

A vote for McDonald endorses the principle that a public servant may know that a fellow public servant is being bribed without being under any obligation to tell the public and so stop the outrage.

It endorses the principle that a public servant may go much farther than this—he may conspire with the bribed public servant to help him earn his bribe.

It endorses the principle that two public servants may get together and agree to betray the interests of their employer—the city—robbing him ruthlessly in order that one of them may pocket a bribe and the other get through a scheme in which he is interested.

If these are worthy principles for employes of the public, they are worthy principles for the employes of private employers. Every private employer had better think this over before voting today.

NEW METHODS OF GETTING NEW MEN PROVE VERY GOOD

148th Battalion Will Continue Campaign Bringing Fine Results

The new methods employed by the 148th Battalion to recruit the necessary number of men to complete the unit's strength have led to encouraging results, and Lieut.-Col. A. A. Magee and his officers believe that by maintaining this campaign the strength of the battalion will be reached very shortly.

Since Thursday last thirty-six men have been added to the strength; that is, sworn in and now in Barracks. In addition to this number, there are twenty more who have been medically examined and sworn in, and who will return this week to take up their new life, so that the net result of last week in recruiting means an addition of about fifty-six men. The total for the whole week, in consequence of the last few days, being up to average.

Col. Magee has decided to maintain his present plan as long as necessary. One most satisfactory result of the direct method of recruiting has been the type of man, the majority of those taken on giving up good positions to enlist.

Children Dance Pretty Figures at Closing of Classes

A very pleasing program of dances was given at the closing reception of the Juvenile class given by Mr. Frederic W. Norman in Victoria Hall Saturday afternoon. The children entered into the spirit of the entertainment, and executed the dances in a manner which reflected much credit upon their training.

The program opened with a two-step followed by the Highland fling presented by the Misses R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, R. Norman, H. Ritchie, A. Reynolds, G. Nelson, R. Barwick, E. Norman, F. Barwick, J. Wynness, M. Reynolds and M. Boswell; the Spanish Andalucia by the Misses Ruth Barwick, Elsie Norman, Jean Wyness and Rita Norman.

A tambourine dance was given by the Misses K. Falconer, M. Hamilton, E. Norman, F. Barwick, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, Alice Reynolds, H. Ritchie, J. Falconer, E. Donnelly, M. Dyke, M. Cameron, D. Daniels, S. Reynolds, R. Norman and D. Robinson, after which a clown dance was contributed by Messrs. D. Ross, D. Wilkins, O. Seath-Smith, M. Hill, G. Severs, F. Hamilton, F. Manley and L. Gilmour.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "Every Inch a Sailor," after which two tiny girls, Miss Diana Claydon and Miss Peggy Norman danced the hornpipe, receiving hearty applause. A sailor ballet was given by Misses K. Falconer, V. Feltes, Jean Wynness, G. Nelson, E. Phelan, M. Boswell, A. Reynolds, H. Ritchie, L. Whiting, E. Donnelly, R. McCoy, R. Elliott, B. Reynolds, Rita Norman and E. Quinn.

The pizzicatti dance by Miss Alice Reynolds and Miss Margaret Boswell, and a Dutch peasant dance by Miss Jean Wynness and Miss Rita Norman; with a skirt dance by Miss Elsie Norman, Miss Jean Wynness, Miss Ruth Barwick and Miss Rita Norman.

Miss Jean Wynness sang "The Low-backed Car," and the old Irish tilte, given by the Misses Margaret Boswell, Elsie Norman, E. Phelan, E. Donnelly, Rita Norman, M. Reynolds, L. Whiting, M. Hill, G. Nelson, H. Ritchie, R. McCoy, Alice Reynolds, G. McCoy, V. Feltes, R. Elliott and E. Quinn. The program also included two-steps, one-step, American gavotte, pirouette waltz, fox trot, gavotte and society dances.

Before becoming head of the United States Steel Corporation, Elbert H. Gary is said to have received the largest yearly retaining fee of any lawyer in the United States.

RODIN'S SPLENDID GIFT TO FRANCE.

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3. — Auguste Rodin, the sculptor, has executed a deed of gift to the Government of the entire collection of his own works, other art objects he has acquired, and the Hotel Biron in which they are assembled. The building hereafter is to be open to the public as the Musee Rodin.

M. Rodin retains the studio, but the remainder of the extensive buildings and the fine grounds which surround it become public property under the supervision of the Government.

Rodin is 76 years old and the foremost of French sculptors, — perhaps the greatest living sculptor.

SOLDIERS NEED NO SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR EQUIPMENT

Special to The Montreal Star From Our Own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 3.—A memorandum issued by the Militia Department today says:

"It has come to the notice of the Department of Militia and Defence that since orders were issued that no overseas units should solicit subscriptions from the public for the purpose of obtaining extra equipment subterfuges have been adopted for the purpose of defeating the object of this order.

"The Department wish it to be thoroughly understood by the public that the Government supplies all necessary equipment for overseas units and that there is no necessity for any donations on the part of the public to supplement what is supplied by the Government. Any statements to the contrary are unauthorized and incorrect."

LAPOINTE LOWERED THE POOR MAN'S TAX---WILL THE POOR MAN BE GRATEFUL?

Men in public office invariably serve those sections of the community which show the greatest gratitude for benefits conferred. It is a cynical remark, frequently made, that wealthy exploiters of the poor pay their public servants well. They are grateful and work hard to get them re-elected.

It is an equally frequent remark that the wage-earners are forgetful.

There is an opportunity today for the wage-earners to repel this slander.

Ald. Lapointe encountered bitter opposition in his steady fight for low water rates—the Poor Man's Tax. He got considerable unpopularity over this move from men who want the Poor Man to pay most of the taxes.

But he won out for the Poor Man.

The Poor Man can show his gratitude today by electing Lapointe. This will serve notice on all public servants that it pays to cater to the just demands of the Poor Man.

A NEW CANNON COMMISSION NEEDED

An Appeal to Sir Lomer Gouin

The citizens of Montreal go to the polls today with their minds full of suspicion regarding all the influences that centre in and play upon the City Hall.

There is far more general disquiet at this moment touching the honesty, the integrity, the common decency of our civic government than existed at the time when the Cannon Commission was called into existence.

The last two years have been years of shameful exposures and shocking revelations touching the condition of affairs connected with our muniicpal government.

* * * *

We have seen a Controller driven from office by the publication of a letter offering to sell his vote on a Tramways proposal for $200,000.

We have seen another Controller swear to an affidavit in which he confesses that he knew his fellow Controller was being bribed to push through the Board a scheme to loot the city of some $137,000, and that he conspired with him to get the corrupt scheme through.

We have seen our Mayor figuring before the courts in all sorts of fantastic capacities.

We have seen suits to unseat Controllers jockeyed along until their term of office had practically expired.

We have seen high tenders accepted and contracts sought to be let without tenders being invited at all.

We have seen, in short, precisely the sort of misgovernment which made the Cannon Commission necessary, embroidered with some sensational incidents quite novel and thoroughly nauseating!

* * * *

It is high time for another Cannon Commission!

This must be entirely plain to so constant a student of Montreal municipal matters as Sir Lomer Gouin, in whose power the appointment of such a Commission rests.

The citizens of Montreal are bewildered and discouraged. They long to see another iron broom sweep through the dusty corridors of the City Hall, and tumble this new "23" into the dust heap of condemnation and oblivion.

This time, we will hope there will be no such resurrection as there was before. We must now have learned that the predatory leopard of municipal "graft" and plain thievery cannot change its spots.

This Commission should enquire fearlessly into all the questions that the people of Montreal clamor to have answered.

To whom did ex-Controller Hebert offer to sell out?

What Tramway proposition did he propose to put through?

What was behind the Drolet St. deal?

Is it true that men serving the city, either as Mayor, Controllers or Aldermen, are interested in favoring the Tramways Company, the Autobus Company, or any other company or concern dealing with or endeavoring to deal with the city?

Is it true that one section of the press of the city or its proprietors have—as charged by rival newspapers—been guilty of improprieties touching civic affairs., either as relates to the Mayor, the Controllers or the Aldermen or the discharge of their duties in any way?

In connection with this last question, the publishers of The "Star" declare their willingness to have investigated by the Commission every charge and every insinuation that has been made against this paper or its publishers. We invite the fullest and the most searching enquiry. Only by some such rigorous and judicial scrutiny can the truth be established and justice done.

The "Star" did not propose this new Commission until the campaign has been practically closed. Such a step might have been misunderstood before polling day. Now no one can doubt that we are looking candidly and confidently to the future, and demanding only the means to secure for the city decent, honest and clean government.

* * * *

Sir Lomer's duty is surely plain.

He is the Attorney-General of the Province, and he should act.

He can turn the search-light on our City Hall.

He can discover the rascals and enable the people to punish them.

He can give the innocent a chance to clear themselves from the ink-storm of insinuation and cowardly clandestine assassination of character.

Another Royal Commission is needed.

Give us a fearless and capable Commissioner, and rescue us from the Hebert-Martin-McDonald miasma of misrepresentation, bribetaking, clownery and corruption.

INDICATIONS POINT TO VERY HEAVY POLLING

Twenty-four Thousand Had Cast Ballots Up Till Noon Hour—Campaign Has Been Brisk One

Predictions that a heavy poll would be cast in today's civic election was strengthened at noon when officials declared that about 24,000 people had voted, an average of twenty-five votes to every poll.

Voting was fairly good all over the city, though, curious to say, St. Mary ward was reported as little interested in mayor and controllers, Ald. St. Denis having been re-elected by acclamation.

All conditions are favorable. Voting day dawned bright and sunny, an ideal spring day, just enough chill in the air to give zest to life and keep the blood flowing briskly. The streets, the main business thoroughfares at any rate, are dry, and in splendid condition for traffic.

Another factor which scores of electors have declared will make for the polling of a heavy vote is the briskness of the election campaign of the past two weeks, not only in the mayoralty field, but in the contest for the Board of Control, and for aldermanic honors in the various wards as well. There are contests and hotly contested contests, in all city wards but five, St. Andrew's, St. George's, St. Lawrence, St. Ann's and St. Mary's. In the wards where no aldermanic contests are taking place the warmth of the fight for mayoral and Board of Control honors will, it is believed, bring out the vote to a large extent.

POLLS OPENED AT 9.

Sharp at 9 o'clock this morning the 954 polls opened in all parts of the city, and from the opening minute the electors kept coming, especially in the more populous polling centres in a steady stream. The rush hours at the booths would, it was expected, be the same as in former years, about midday, when business men and workingmen utilize the recess for doing their civic duty, and in the evening between six and eight o'clock, when those who have put off their voting to the last usually crowd into the booths.

The vote polled in the early hours of balloting was taken to mean that the vote would be unusually heavy, and that a much larger proportion of the electors would mark ballot papers than did in 1914, when only 76,000 out of a total electorate of 137,000 visited the polls.

POLICE WOULD NOT ARREST MAN WHO TRIED TO TELEGRAPH.

One case of attempted impersonation at a polling station, in which the police did not make an arrest, was reported up till noon today. A man came to polling station No. 2, St. Joseph's Ward, at 89 Inspector street, and gave his name as Holland. A moment later, before he had time to register his vote, the real Mr. Holland appeared, and established his identity.

The returning officer called to Patrolman Francoeur, of the Chaboillez Square station, and told him to arrest the man.

"Have you a warrant?" said the constable.

"No, I have no blanks," was the reply.

"Well, then, I can't arrest him" was the constable's ultimatum.

And so, by the time the returning officer had telephoned police headquarters, and some one there had telephoned to Chaboillez Square, telling the officer in charge to send up a couple of men to arrest the impersonator, the bird had flown.

IMPRESSIONS OF CANADIAN FRONT AT PRESENT TIME

Montreal Star Representative Visits Our Boys' Lines

FROM HOSPITAL TO SNOWED TRENCH

Canadian Red Cross Doing Splendid Work in Its Quarters

Special Correspondence from the London Correspondent of The Star visiting the war area.

NORTHERN France, March 18.—I began my four days at the front by a talk with the first Canadian General to be wounded in the war—that was near a base on the seacoast. I finished them in a cosy little snow-clad dug-out in the firing line of the now famous 22nd (French-Canadian) battalion within a hundred yards of listening Huns and within hearing of the ping-ping of the sniper's bullet.

Let me try to set down snapshot impressions as they some back to me after such a whirl of motor-cars and motor lorries, snowstorms and mud-trudgings, luxurious chateaux and tiny canvass huts, four-course dinners and bully beef snacks, dignified staff officers and chirpy young subalterns—a kaleidoscope of many shapes and hues from which it is difficult to weave any consecutive story.

Smooth sea, blue sky, and uneventful crossing; yet above and below, many reminders of the perils that beset the war voyager even in this narrow strip of water which keeps England inviolate. But the interesting and often queer things heard and seen during a Folkestone-Boulogne passage these days would encounter the censor's blue pencil, even if I set them down here. Enough that we Canadians passing to and fro in saftey behind the sure shield of a navy which is none of our providing.

CHEERY WOUNDED GENERAL.

Never such a cheery wounded man as Brigadier-Gen. Macdonnell, ex-North West Mounted Policeman, and today idol of his men. We had heard with dismay of his wounding by a German sniper a fortnight before at a perilous point on the Canadian front and hardly hoped that he would be well enough to receive visitors.

Thinking he was still a prisoner in the hospital, our Staff officer entered to learn if we might go to the patient's bedside and see him for one short minute.

"Oh, yes," said the house-surgeon, "you can see him if you can find him." And almost as he spoke, along came the thick-set martial figure getting the not always salubrious air of the quayside of Boulogne, and in charge of a proud orderly.

"Come to see me, have you?" Newspaper men? Ah, we know them. Well, you can say I am doing well enough and am the same old pessimist. (A great guffaw). No England for me, thank you. Here I stay till these tyrants of doctors and surgeons—(a sly and smiling look-round to make sure that he was well-heard)—have done with me and let me get back to business."

We wanted to know of his wounding, but he would rather talk of his men—the "sandbags" of the Brigade, especially the company of the —th with its average height of 6 feet 2 inches and the rest.

IN A RED CROSS DEPOT.

A few minutes in the car accompanied by Col. Hodgetts, the Canadian Red Cross magician, brought us to the business haunts of Capt. Blaylock, once a Calgary lawyer, now organizer of hospital supplies, Canadian Red Cross Depot, Boulogne. Such stores of pyjamas, shirts, towels, tobacco ("Tucketts") games, tinned peaches, jams, Eau de Cologne even — indeed, everything that the hospital patient can want. Twenty-five thousand pairs of socks sent out in one day. Perhaps the chiefest of the Canadian Red Cross workers' joys is the handy knapsack which the wounded man, who has lost all his kit, finds beside his bed when he begins to get well into touch with life again. New socks, shirt, slippers, collar, tie, hair brush, tooth brush and paste, razor (made by the way in Sweden) and all else that can be counted an immediate necessity. The wounded man comes in stripped of his all; he goes out a well-equipped soldier once again.

No more cheering sight for the Red Cross worker and contributor in the scattered homes of Canada than these well-equipped stores, ready to turn supplies wherever they are needed be the need Canadian, British or French. "Comptoir Economique" was by a curious coincidence the former designation of one of the stores where Capt. Blaylock works his marvels; the name well fits the new purpose of the building. It is an economical department in more than one sense.

MEDICAL McGILL IN FRANCE.

Next, McGill Hospital in its new quarters. Instead of the tents and huts of Camieres we have the spacious if rambling quarters and grounds of an old Jesuit College. In the early days of the war it was the Meerut Hospital for the Indian soldiers of the King; now it is one of the homes of wounded Canada and England too in the war area. A great change from the tented spaces of Camieres and a great undertaking the removal.

Already Colonel H. S. Birkett, O.C. and Lt.-Col Elder can point to a fine achievement, to be crowned a month hence, when the 1,500 beds are all ready for patients. The patients now there exceed 600. To move 200 tons from Camieres to Boulogne was a task indeed. Two days were given for the job; the Canadian boys with 50 traction engines did it in eight hours.

"You should have seen them," said the elated Colonel; "beavers they were, just that, without stopping for meals; they meant to show French and British alike what Canadians can do at a pinch. Hospital for Indians is one thing; hospital for Canadians and Britishers quite another—cooking, sleeping, sanitary and other arrangements are all different of necessity.

"And now that things are getting shipshape it is plain that even Colonel Birkett will have here a hospital to be proud of, with its spacious wards and bath houses; its operating theatre; dental room—how great a part tooth-care plays in modern warfare; X-ray department—we would if we were allowed reproduce Captain Pirie's X-ray study of the unmailed fist of General Sam Hughes; and the other accompaniments of medicine and surgery after the irreproachable McGill manner.

"THE McGILLIKEN"

But is is not all medicine and surgery at the McGill Hospital. We had placed in our hands the new issue of "The McGilliken." It speaks of many mental and sporting activities. Thus we are told that the Soccerities of the McGill Unit have entered the Boulogne League. The staff and patients in the hospital have been enjoying lectures by Dr. Grenfell, the Labrador missioner, and Professor John Baillie of Edinburgh University has been talking on "The Battle of the Marne."

The appointment of Sergeant "Tim" Tinling, of Hamilton, Ontario, and McGill, to the responsible position of Sergeant-Major is heralded with joy; and so is the award of the Royal Red Cross, First Class, to Matron MacLatchy, a niece of Sir Robert Borden.

Among other scraps of news the following may be quoted:—

"The Sisters admired the energy and devotion which prompted three of their officers to walk from Boulogne to see them."

"Reliable news reaches us that two raids were experienced at No. 4 Canadian General Hospital, Salonika. A bomb has been kept as a souvenir. Damages (only to property,) were slight."

"Heard around barracks: 'Hang it all! I owe J. G. tuppence I guess I'll let him give me a hair-cut and call it square.'"

Snowdrops and primroses begin to show beside the Virgin's Grotto in the grounds of the McGill hospital. On the walls of the ample rounds are fruit trees eager to bud and the birds in the copse make sure that Spring is near at hand. What trials and triumphs has that Spring in store for these men at the front.

We remember last April and Langemarck.

So in swift British official cars to G.H.Q. and there Major Manley Simms of Canadian Headquarters is our kindly host in the absence of Sir Max Aitken. The last scene of the day: a tree-embowered chateau in whose spacious rooms Captain Roberts an English staff officer, makes visitors realize the power and grace of England—military attaches one week, American editors another, distinguished English writers a third, and in the week succeeding our visit the Russian delegation.

"And the evening and morning were the first day."

WINDERMERE.

JOE AINEY ON LAPOINTE.

Some Saturday papers, contained a reproduction of an interview given by Controller Ainey on Duncan McDonald, as originally published in "La Presse" of December 13th, 1915.

Here, now, is an interview given on February 23rd, 1916, two months after the interview featured Saturday, giving Mr. Ainey's opinion as to Mr. Lapointe's candidacy to the Mayoralty:

"Mr. Lapointe is a very strong candidate. No one knows Montreal's charter better than he does, nor does any one understand better our financial situation. If he placed his great experience at the service of the City, he can do much good."

MANY DEALS IN REAL ESTATE ARE REGISTERED

Special to The Montreal Star by the United Press.

The following real estate transfers were registered this morning:

Mrs. Wm. Ramsay sold to Mrs. Eugene Tarte, lot 1794-12, St. George Ward, measuring 272 x 130, with buildings fronting on Peel street, No. 303, for $1,900.

The Lachine Central Park Land sold to Louis Jacobs lots 709-88 89, 134, 135, 179, 180, 440, 441, Lachine City, area 23,073 feet, vacant, fronting on St. Catherine and St. Antoine sts., for $4422.60.

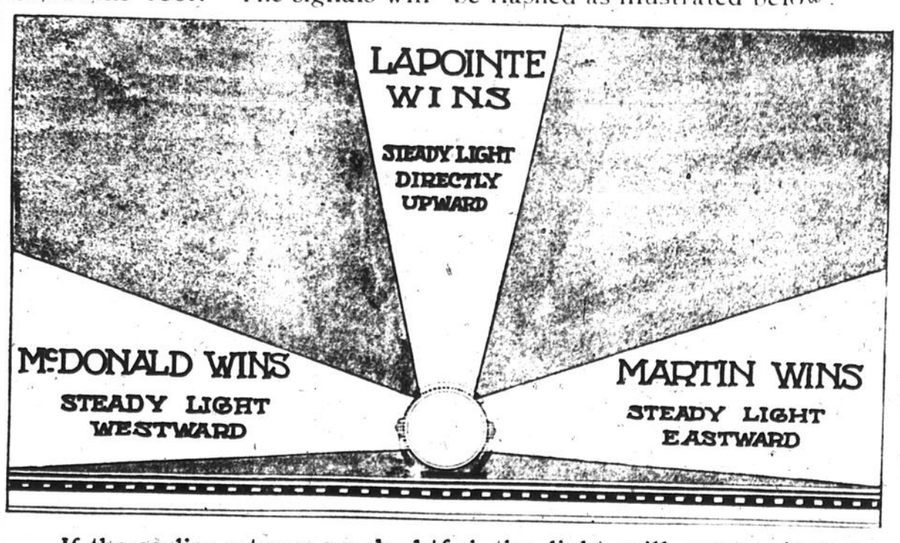
Hyman Mendels et al sold to Max Pinsky lot 15-453, St. Jean Baptiste Ward, measuring 10 x 70, with buildings fronting on Rivard street, Nos. 188 to 188b, for $6,000.

Richard O'Meara sold to Jacob Seiflelovitz lot 903-285, St. Louis Ward, measuring 20 x 75, with buildings fronting on [illegible] avenue, Nos. 325 and 327, for $4,150.

Louis Mithas sold to Adolph Weiss lots 177-139, 140, Notre Dame de Grace Ward, measuring 50 x 90, vacant, fronting on Girouard street, for $3,500.

ELECTION NEWS BY SEARCHLIGHT.

The Star has arranged with Goodwins Limited to flash the earliest decisive news of the election by means of the great searchlight on Goodwins' roof. The signals will be flashed as illustrated below:



If the earlier returns are doubtful the light will waver, inclining more to the eastward, upward, or to the westward, according as Martin, Lapointe or McDonald is leading. When sufficient returns are in to indicate the result decisive, the light will remain fixed as follows:

Lapointe Wins—Steady Light Upward.

Martin Wins—Steady Light Eastward.

McDonald Wins—Steady Light Westward.

The polls close at 8 o'clock and unless the fight is very close, the result should be definitely known between 10 and 11.

In addition The Star will give a complete bulletin service of all election returns tonight at—

THEF CHARGES HEARD BY JUDGE IN COURT TODAY

Summoned by loud cries to the corner of Windsor and St. Antoine streets at midnight on Saturday Constables Tremblay and Belanger were in time to chase the retreating figure of Frank McElbron, of 144 Murray street, and finally to arrest him. McElbron appeared before Judge Saint Cyr this morning charged with hitting James Daly in the mouth, and stealing his watch and also a pocketbook containing $2. He will be committed to stand trial tomorrow morning.

While rooming in the house of A. Fissette at 1567 Wellington street Verdun, Stanley Williamson Zelsman, recently arrived from Boston, stole a gold watch and chain and a bracelet valued at $115 from Mrs. Fissette and also a gold filled watch and chain worth about $20 from the room of another boarder. Detective Bezeau, of Verdun, found him disposing of the goods in a secondhand store on Notre Dame street. A revolver was found in his possession. He appeared before Judge Saint Cyr this morning, and was committed to voluntary statement on the two charges of theft, after pleading guilty, and was fined $20 and costs or one month in jail for carrying a revolver.

After breaking open four trunks belonging to different roomers, in a house on St. Antoine street, Laurence Rivers, a soldier, succeeded only in stealing a silver watch valued at $26. He admitted the theft this morning, and will appear before the Court of Sessions tomorrow.

Napoleon Desjardins, charged the barge of breaking into a stable on City Hall avenue and stealing a horse and rig on Saturday. His case will be heard on Thursday.

John Young was charged with having passed a worthless cheque for $25, drawn upon the St. Lawrence Trust Company, of Cooksburg, N.Y., upon the Queen's Hotel Company, Limited. Young stated in court this morning that he was not aware there were no funds in the bank. The case will come up for hearing on Thursday.

AMBULANCE DRILL.

The members of No. 5V Field Ambulance are requested to attend drill every Thursday evening at 8.30 o'clock in Craig street Drill Hall.

Weather

PROBABILITIES.

Today and tomorrow—Fair and cool.

The disturbance which was over the Gulf of St. Lawrence yesterday has passed out to the Atlantic, and an area of high pressure, with fairly cool weather now covers the eastern half of the country.

A few local showers or snow flurries have fallen in the Western Provinces.

Readings by Hearn & Harrison's standard barometer — At noon yesterday, 29.12; at 8 a.m. today, 30.23; 11 a.m. today, 30.25.

SWISS PROTEST GERMAN BOMBING OF PORRENTRUY

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 3. A special London cable to the World says:

Referring to the dropping of bombs by German aviators at daylight Friday on Porrentruy, a Swiss town near the French frontier, a Berne despatch to the Morning Post says:

"The violation of Swiss territory by German aviators has produced great excitement and indignation among the Swiss public, while the Government regards it as a very serious matter and has requested the Minister in Berlin to protest against this renewed violation of neutrality and to demand speedy and full satisfaction, severe punishment for aviators and compensation for material damages.

"Six incendiary bombs were dropped on Porrentruy, which was bombarded by German aviators on November 29, and Chaux-de-Fonds on October 17, when the German Government expressed regret and declared that orders had been given all German aviators to drop bombs only when absolutely certain they were well over enemy territory.

"The newspaper Germans control admit that a bad impression has been produced by the incidents."

MANY ARE JOINING FORESTRY BATTALION

The last days of recruiting for the 224th Overseas Canadian Forestry Battalion have brought a large number of men into the ranks, and when the unit goes overseas it will be very representative of the Province of Quebec as well as of the West. During last week recruiting parties brought in fifty-five men from Sherbrooke, seven from Campbellton, twelve from Chicoutimi, six from Morin Heights, four from Grand Mere and seven from Three Rivers. Montreal contributed at least fifty through the recruiting office at 50 Bishop street, where Lieut. H. W. Racey and Sergt.-Major McDuff are in charge. The men are being sent down to Quebec today and tomorrow, and the whole battalion is assembling at the Immigration Building, Quebec. The average height of the men is nearly feet 6 inches.

DEATHS.

EAGNE, At his residence, 21 York avenue, Westmount, on the 31st inst., Charles A. Eagne, son of the late Wm. Eagne, of Perth. Funeral took place Saturday morning to St. Leo's Church, and thence to Cote des Neiges cemetery. (New York, Kingston, Hamilton and Quebec papers please copy.)

A Record Auto Year

There was more automobile advertising in the Montreal Daily Star in 1915 than ever before.

Automobile factories ran to capacity to supply the demand.

There will be still greater volume of newspaper advertising in 1916 — manufacturers agree.

Commenting on this fact the President of a leading motor car company says:

"The fact that newspaper advertising will sell automobiles leads me to the conclusion that it will sell any good product."

INDIGNATION RAMPANT OVER ZEPPELIN RAIDS AND CIVILIAN KILLING

Public Turned Out to See Airships Come — Details of Later Raids Not Yet Available — Official British Denial of German Claims Regarding Friday's Attack — How L-15 Was Brought Down

By Canadian Press.

PARIS, April 3, 12:35 p.m.—A Zeppelin appeared over Dunkirk last night and threw bombs which killed two civilians.

Dunkirk, the northernmost town of France, is a strongly fortified port on the Straits of Dover. During the war it has frequently been shelled by a long-range German gun.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3, 11:52 a.m.—Details of last night's Zeppelin raids over eastern Scotland and the northeastern and eastern counties of England have not been given out officially, but from such reports as have been received it is evident the Zeppelins covered a wider area than during the visits on the two previous nights. Trains and street cars were held up and lights were dimmed for several hours. The Zeppelins were about from 9 p.m. until after 1 a.m.

BRITISH ATTITUDE IS ANGER

Special Star Cable by Wilbur S. Forrest of the United Press.

LONDON, April 3.—A great wave of indignation swept England today, following the third Zeppelin raid with loss of life among non-combatants in seventy-two hours.

Demands for extreme punishment for the crew of the Zeppelin L-15, captured off the mouth of the Thames early on Saturday, were heard on every side. The newspapers exercised the greatest restraint in discussing the possible fate of the prisoners.

In the clubs, the hotels and on the street they were denounced as "baby-killers," and it was urged that the Government should make an example of them.

Reports that the Zeppelin officers are being served from the British officers' mess table, with a servant assigned to each, particularly aroused the public's anger. It seems certain that the Governmen will be interrogated on this point in Parliament.

Details of the Sunday night raid, the first in which the coast of Scotland has been visited, were still lacking early today, but the War Office expected to make an announcement of casualties this afternoon. It is believed certain that the casualties in the three raids will total nearly 300 in dead and wounded.

The Zeppelin attacks were generally coupled in the popular mind with the renewal of submarinings, both in British waters and in the Mediterranean. Four more vessels have been sunk in the last twenty-four hours, with the loss of nearly twenty lives.

RAIDS SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

The Zeppelins which visited the east coast of Scotland last night hung over the district for forty-five minutes, during which time twenty bombs were dropped. No further details from that district have yet been announced.

A Zeppelin which appeared over a northeastern county remained about an hour and a half, but, as far as at present ascertainable, dropped only twenty bombs over a considerable area, largely agricultural.

The official announcement by the Secretary of War says:

"A Zeppelin raid took place Sunday night, when the coast of Scotland and the northern and south-eastern counties of England were attacked.

"Bombs were dropped at various places. No details are available."

SIXTEEN WERE KILLED.

Sixteen persons were killed and about 100 others injured by the explosion of bombs dropped in another raid of Zeppelin dirigibles over the northeast coast of England Saturday night. The official version of this raid says:

"Two airships approached the northeast coast Saturday night. Only one crossed the coast. The other turned back.

"For the present we know that sixteen persons were killed and about 100 injured.

"Eight dwelling houses were demolished and a serious fire was caused in a French polishing shop."

The damage caused by Saturday night's raid was mostly confined to a single northeast town, where fourteen explosive and seven incendiary bombs were dropped. The damage was almost entirely confined to a circle a few hundred yards in diameter in a district inhabited by the working class.

One bomb, which was dropped in a street close to a street car track, left mute evidence of the tremendous power of the Zeppelin bombs. It tore up the street for a distance of several hundred feet, rooted up the tracks, burst water-pipes, smashed a waiting street car into bits, killed a street car inspector, cut off the leg of a girl street car conductor and killed a leading local labor leader who was standing by the curb. All adjacent buildings were damaged.

A remarkable feature of the situation was the good natured way in which the people acted in the darkened and stalled trains, showing no signs of panic, despite the fact that they had just learned the result of the previous raids.

Aeroplanes Attacked Zeppelins Friday

The Office Press Bureau last night gave out the following statement dealing with the Zeppelin air raid on the English east coast last Friday night:

"The total casualties reported in the Zeppelin raid on the night of March 31-April 1, now amount to forty-three killed and sixty-six injured. Nearly 200 explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped.

"A Baptist chapel, three dwelling houses and two cottages were demolished. A town hall, four dwelling houses, thirty-five cottages and a tramcar shed were partially wrecked. There was no military damage.

"A number of our aeroplanes went up to attack the raiders. Lieut. Brandon, R.F.C., rising 6,000 feet, saw a Zeppelin about 3,000 feet above him. At 9,000 feet he got over it and attacked, dropping several bombs, three of which, he believes, took effect.

"Later he got over the airship again, and let off two more bombs over her nose. His own machine was hit many times by machine-gun bullets. This may have been the Zeppelin which dropped a machine-gun, ammunition, a petrol tank and machinery, or possibly that which came down off the Thames Estuary."

New Zealander Struck Zeppelin

Alfred Brandon, the British airman, is a native of Wellington, N.Z. He is thirty-two years old, and only joined the flying corps last July.

There has been constant agitation in the newspapers for British airmen to ascend and attack Zeppelins, and the fact that this has now been successfully done gives promise of still greater achievements in the same direction.

At the same time it will tend to increase public confidence that the authorities are making progress in their efforts to deal with the Zeppelin danger.

In connection with Lieut. Brandon's exploit is an unconfirmed but interesting report from Copenhagen that a Danish fishing vessel observed at a great distance in the North Sea what appeared to be a half submerged Zeppelin. The authorities express the hope that this may prove to be the machine that Lieut. Brandon bombed.

EYE-WITNESS OF FIGHT.

An eye-witness of the Zeppelin in flight and its encounter with anti-aircraft guns describes the scene as a most thrilling one. The Zeppelin, which appeared to be of a larger type than that of previous visitors, flew at a considerable height.

The glimmer of its surface as it passed overhead attracted the attention of hundreds of persons who came out of doors to gaze upward despite the instructions given to remain under cover.

The searchlights that played on the raider illuminated it effectively and shells from the guns that opened fire could be seen bursting all round it. One gunner claimed that he had secured a hit, the Zeppelin thereupon being seen to turn about and proceed towards the coast apparently damaged.

In one town eleven bombs were dropped by a Zeppelin without causing any loss of life or property.

Public Stay Up Late to See the Airships

In London no formal notice is given the people when a raider is about, but various customary precautions make it impossible for anyone who is in town to be in doubt as to what is up.

In villages in many parts of England it is the custom to give the inhabitants ample warning, when it is possible. Special constables go from door to door informing the villagers that raiders are on the way. The inhabitants gather in one another's houses, in the streets and in public buildings, making the visit something in the nature of a social event.

Although the hour the Zeppelins visited most of the towns on Sunday night was late, many thousands of persons were waiting to catch a glimpse of them. In most cases the visitors flew so high that it was almost impossible to distinguish them, except when searchlights brought them out clearly against the sky. In some places, however, they flew low and were clearly seen by everybody.

"The newspapers today comment with satisfaction over the success of the British air defenders in bringing down at least one of Friday night's raiders. They point out, however, that the Germans are not likely to be deterred by the loss of one, or even of several airships, and point out as evidence their immediate repetition of Friday's performance on Saturday and Sunday.

A TIMELY REMINDER.

The Times, while devoting many columns to a description of the activity of the Zeppelins, expresses the fear that the British people "are in danger of losing their sense of proportion," saying there seems to have been a more profound interest in the Zeppelin raids of the past few days than in the whole of the mighty struggle before Verdun, and that the destruction of the L-15 created more excitement than the fall of Erzerum.

"While regretting the casualties among unfortunate civilians," says the Times "the nation should learn to see them in the proper perspective never forgetting how infinitely greater have been the sufferings of our neighbors and Allies at the hands of invaders."

GERMAN REPORT FALSE.

Authoritative denial was made today of the truth of the official German statement regarding the Friday night raid, in which the L-15 was shot down.

"It was unusually clear Friday night," said one official. "If the Germans showed such ignorance of the localities they visited under ideal weather conditions, how can they hope to do military damage by Zeppelin raids under less favorable conditions.

"You know for yourself how near the truth are the German claims regarding bombs dropped on London. The reports of batteries silenced and factories attacked in other localities are equally absurd."

TISSUE OF GERMAN LIES.

The German official claims in regard to the Zeppelin raid on Friday night, which it is officially declared here are "absolutely false," with the single exception of the announcement of the loss of the L-15, are as follows:

"On Friday night and early Saturday morning one of our airship squadrons attacked London and the South coast of England. Bombs were freely dropped between the Tower bridge, London and the London docks, on military camps of the North-western district, on city manufactories, on the Enfield munition works, and on Wath Abbey. Another airship successfully attacked a battery near Stowmarket and dropped a number of explosive incendiary bombs at Lowestoft. A battery was silenced near Cambridge. Extensive manufacturing works were attacked. Bombs were finally dropped upon fortification works in harbors. Three batteries were silenced. The attacks were successful. Reliable observations from the airships discerned numerous fires and the collapse of buildings. In spite of a violent bombardment all the airships returned with the exception of the L-15, which was compelled to descend in the Thames. Searches of our naval forces have been unproductive in their result."

The black line shows the battle front as it stands today. The shaded portions show the gains made by the Germans in their attack upon the fortress.

LAND BATTERIES FINALLY BROUGHT ZEPPELIN DOWN

Aviator Dropped Bombs That Broke Her Back, it is Believed

SHEERNESS, April 3.—Credit for rescuing the crew of Zeppelin L-15 belongs to the scouting trawler Olivine, commanded by Lieut. William R. Mackintosh, Royal Naval Reserve, but naval men freely concede that the credit for finally bringing the Zeppelin down belongs to one of the land batteries, which may be described as stationed in an eastern county.

The Zeppelin came down in the broad mouth of the Thames soon after three o'clock on Saturday morning.

That stretch of water, as well as the adjoining coast waters, swarms with patrolling craft. The airship's back had been broken by gunfire; her gondolas were riddled with shrapnel bullets.

Several of her crew were badly wounded. Her commander had sufficient confidence in the humanity of British sailors to send out wireless signals of distress.

CAME DOWN LIKE A SICK BIRD.

"She came down like a sick bird, flopping at both ends as though they were wings," said a sailor who witnessed the descent of the Zeppelin.

The sea was smooth and the night was clear, though dark, so the trawler was able to take aboard wounded as well as unwounded. Some of the crew were at the top of the balloon, while the wounded and their attendants remained in the baskets below.

After all the survivors were aboard the Olivine, the crew of the trawler attached a cable to the Zeppelin in the hope that they would be able to tow the prize to port, but towing was difficult, as the airship had broken in two. Her ends stuck up in the air, while the middle section was well down in the water. After making about two miles, the Zeppelin became entirely water-logged.

The Olivine is engaged in patrol duty, and Lieut. Mackintosh transferred his prisoners to a destroyer and again put out to sea. He did not expect to return within a week.

The destroyer brought the Germans to Sheerness to report them and proceeded with them to Chatham, where the wounded were placed in a hospital.

AVIATOR BROKE ZEPPELIN.

LONDON, April 3.—The Zeppelin L-15 was literally surrounded by British craft when brought down in the Thames Estuary, according to a young lieutenant of one of the British aeroplanes.

"First we sighted two Zeppelins," he said. "They were followed closely by three others, all flying at a height of about ten thousand feet, toward the east coast. We signalled the land batteries and got out of the zone of fire ourselves.

"Three of the Zeppelins, received terrible punishment. We saw one distinctly drop its tail and shoot upwards. One of the balloonettes had caught fire, and the commander, turning off his light, sent the airship upwards until it disappeared from view.

"Then Brandon flew over one of the Zeppelins and dropped several bombs, which did not appear to take effect. But, making a swift dive closer, he dropped three more bombs, and believes he broke the Zeppelin's back, as the craft swiftly dropped to the water.

"I cannot be sure whether the airship fell, or the commander was able to let her down. We immediately signalled the destroyers, and patrols and got within two hundred yards of the derelict, ready to finish her with bombs if necessary. But she surrendered as our ships came up."

It is stated that a number of persons who were injured in the Zeppelin raid were rendered unconscious by asphyxiating bombs. This is the first mention of the use of these bombs in air-raids over England.

A correspondent who visited a portion of the raided area says that eye-witnesses concur in a declaration that Zeppelin raiders never previously have met with such a cannonade from anti-aircraft guns. The raids, individually and in concert, attempted to progress inland during a greater part of the night, but were repeatedly checked by a tornado of shells.

ANOTHER GERMAN LIE IS NAILED.

LONDON, April 3. — The Admiralty this afternoon issued a denial of the German wireless report that a British warship of the Donegal class has been sunk.

No German announcement of the sinking of a British cruiser of the Donegal class, a vessel of 9,800 tons, has been received in the United States.

It is possible the statement was held up by the naval censors at the Sayville and Tuckerton wireless stations.

ANOTHER BRITISH STEAMER IS SUNK.

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3, 11:50 a.m.—The British steamship Perth has been sunk. Six members of the crew were lost and eight were landed. The Perth was unarmed.

There are three British steamships named Perth. The largest, 1,799 tons gross, is owned in Melbourne. Another of 1,693 tons, is from Dundee, and the third, 653 tons, is owned in Glasgow.

Zeppelin Commander Has a Very Good Opinion of Himself

LONDON, April 3.—"I do not think you would find an officer of the German navy or army who would willingly participate in the killing of women and children."

Lieut.-Commander Breithaupt, commander of the Zeppelin L-15, which was hit by shell fire in the raid Friday night on English towns, and later sank in the Thames estuary, replied thus to The Associated Press when requested to explain the psychology of German air raids on defenceless cities and the killing of harmless civilians.

Breithaupt, who was at first inclined to total reticence, thawed when told that he could speak in his own language quite free from hindrance from his British captors in the detention quarters.

"I am very well satisfied with the treatment here," he said, "but naturally feel the loss of my freedom. As to air-raids, we have a much more important object in view than the killing of women and children — namely, the destruction of the enemy's armed positions, warships and factories. Women and children become the victims of our operations, but not because we kill them intentionally. It is war."

The commander declined to express himself as to whence the airships came, nor would he reply to questions regarding the length and duration of the raid, or whether he had participated in previous raids. But the Iron Cross with which he was decorated bore the date of the air raid of October, 1915, and he informed the interviewer that he had been in the Zeppelin service since the outbreak of hostilities.

Asked whether he knew the location of the airship during raids in the darkness and whether he could distinguish buildings and other objects at night, he asserted that he could tell almost exactly, but could not say whether the bombs fell where they were intended to fall, except in some instances.

DOES NOT HATE BRITISH.

Commander Breithaupt, who was a regular naval officer before the war, served in Australasian waters and also in South America. He said he was acquainted with numbers of British naval men, and did not feel any hatred for them, but was doing his duty in fighting the enemies of Germany.

Asked whether he participated gladly in air raids, he replied: "Yes, I do my duty as an officer gladly. As to the risk of air fighting, we know the chances we run, and are prepared to take them. Our aircraft was hit three times by shrapnel and we came down very rapidly into the water, where we found ourselves almost by surprise."

With respect to the altitude at which the raiding Zeppelins flew, he admitted that the height was very great, but evaded nearer particulars, merely smiling when 5,000 feet was mentioned, and saying: "We should not reach England if we flew only at that height."

Lieut. Kuehne, second in command, was more reticent, but said that it was his first raid in England. "I had hoped to come again," he added.

Lieut Kuehne declared that he knew absolutely where the airship was when cruising.

WERE CLOTHED BY BRITISH.

The greater part of the men lost most of their clothing when wrecked, but were warmly clad by the British seamen, and provided with thick blankets.

Five men of the total crew, now known to number eighteen officers and men, were slightly injured before their rescue. One of the men was drowned.

The airship was flying at about 3,000 feet over the Thames estuary, when suddenly, according to the crew, the craft dashed down to the surface of the water.

None of the men would admit that bombs had been dropped during the raid, probably from the unfounded fear that any such admission would entail punishment.

SCANIDAVIANS WORRIED BY NEW BLOCKADE RULING

LONDON, April 3.—A great stir has been caused in Scandinavia by the report that Great Britain has decided to suspend Section 10 of the Declaration of London, according to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company. The general opinion is that the decision is attributable to a determination to prosecute the blockade of Germany with more rigor.

Some newspapers suggest the suspension is possibly a preliminary to a formal announcement of a complete blockade, which may have been decided upon at the Paris Conference of the Entente Allies.

Great Britain issued an order-in-Council March 30, which declared that "neither a vessel nor her cargo shall be immune from capture for a breach of blockade upon the sole ground that she at the moment is on her way to a non-blockaded port." This is in contravention to section 19, of the Declaration of London, which declared neither a vessel nor her cargo on the way to a non-blockaded port might be captured.

A series of remarkable photographs of the crater of Kilauea, Hawaii, have, according to Science, been obtained by C. F. Haworth by means of kites during the last six months. The primary object of taking these pictures was to obtain additional data for use in the construction of the large naturalistic model of Kilauea that has been under way for the last three years for the geological department of Harvard University.

CIVILIZATION IS BEING MADE OVER IN THIS CONFLICT

R. B. Bennett, M.P., for Calgary Speaks at Patriotic Service

R. B. Bennett, M.P., for Calgary, was the chief speaker at the monthly patriotic service in St. James Methodist Church, last night.

He declared the civilization of all ages had been thrown into the melting pot of this war. Every neutral nation recognized the justice of the British cause. The honor of every man in the Empire had been pledged to give Belgium back her land and her liberty. The war was not Britain's alone—the life of Canada was at stake just as much as that of London; the future of Canada was being modelled each day in the trenches of Flanders; if the Germans prevailed, then all Canadian ideals of liberty and justice would perish.

Canada's first line of defence was in the trenches, the second was in training in England, and the third was still in Canada, the battalions now recruiting, and the male population yet to be drawn from. He was proud that Canadians were taking the opportunity to do their "bit" for their descendants and to keep faith with those ancestors who made the lives of each Canadian and the liberties they enjoyed today possible.

Mr. Bennett made a forceful appeal to all men to do their duty by those Canadians who had already fallen. Not only must those at home do their duty by volunteering, but also by practising strict economy. Everything must be done both for the preservation of national liberty, and for the preservation of the State. Every man should realize that the war was not over yet, and that it was a matter between himself, his conscience, and his God, whether he obeyed the call to serve.

Major the Rev. C. A. Williams presided and referred feelingly to the death of Capt. the Hon. Fred. Shaughnessy at the front. Others who were present were: Sir Herbert Ames, Lorne C. Webster, Major A. S. Eve and Capt. Campbell Stuart.

KING'S GIFT OF $500,000 SETS A FINE EXAMPLE

Shows He Regards Himself First Servant of Nation, Says Chronicle

By Canadian Press.

LONDON, April 3. — The Daily Chronicle this morning says:

"King George has set a magnificent example to his subjects by handing from his own purse no less a contribution than £100,000 to the Treasury. The generosity of the gift may be better appreciated when it is recalled that of £470,000 forming annual payments made to the King on the Civil List, only £110,000 goes actually to Their Majesties' Privy Purse.

"It is well known that since the war began the King and Queen have given a lead to society in the observance of simple habits and restriction of luxurious expenditure. When war aspects of the liquor problem came to the fore the King acted while statesmen hesitated and by his voluntary exclusion of all alcoholic beverages from his household for the period of the war initiated a course which might have been even more fruitful than it has.

FIRST SERVANT OF NATION.

"The King's latest initiative shows him once more as a monarch who regards himself as the first servant of the nation, and it must inevitably make people ask how other servants of the nation propose to act.

"The contribution of King George is regarded by the newspapers generally as an effort on the part of the monarch to make a personal sacrifice for the carrying on of the war. The King, they say, has not given up any of his usual revenues, but he has made retrenchments and curtailments in his household.

"The use of the contribution doubtless will be the subject of much speculation. It may go directly into the revenue of the country, but it is likely to be devoted to some specific purpose, which, it is believed would be more pleasing to King George."

FOUR MORE SHIPS, THREE BRITISH, HAVE BEEN SUNK

Four Lost on British Steamers—One Saved on Norwegian

BRITAIN LOST 27 SHIPS IN MARCH

Total of 124 Lives Snuffed Out—Report on Hospital Ship Outrage

LONDON, April 3. — The British steamship Ashburton has been sunk by shrapnel shells fired by a German submarine. Five members of the crew have been taken to hospital. The vessel according to the Exchange Telegraph Company, was not armed.

The Ashburton sailed from New Zealand February 23, for London and was last reported as leaving Montevideo, Uruguay, March 1. The vessel was 4,445 tons gross and was built in 1905 for the Australind Steamship Company of London. She was 392 feet long, 50 feet beam and 26 feet deep.

The British steamer Goldmouth has been sunk and her crew, two members of which suffer from injuries, was landed at Penzance, says a Lloyd's despatch from that place dated Saturday.

The Goldmouth was of 7,446 gross tons. She was 471 feet long and was owned by the Anglo-Saxon Petroleum Company, of London. She was probably in the Government service. Latest shipping records give her sailing from Port Arthur, Texas, Oct. 28, and Norfolk, Nov. 4, for Dartmouth.

The British liner Achilles was sunk on Friday. Four members of her crew are missing. The captain and sixty-two other persons from the steamer have been landed.

The Achilles was in the trade between Australia and England. She was a vessel of 7,042 tons gross, and owned by the Ocean Steamship Company, of Liverpool.

She sailed from Sydney, N.S.W., January 19 for London and Liverool. The last report of the Achilles shows that she left Capetown, where she had evidently put in on the voyage, March 6th.

SUNK WHILE AT ANCHOR.

Lloyds reports that the Norwegian steamship Peter Hamre was sunk on Saturday night, while at anchor. One man, the sole survivor of the crew of fifteen, has been landed from Kentish Knock lightship.

The Peter Hamre had a tonnage of 1,080 gross and was 234 feet long. She was owned by S. Tonnesen and Company, of Bergen, Norway.

A Reuter despatch from Almeria says that the crew of the Norwegian steamship Norne has been landed there. The Norne, the sinking of which has been previously reported, was torpedoed by a German submarine in the Bay of Biscay on March 26. The men were allowed ten minutes in which to leave the vessel.

The Board of Trade's summary of casualties to British shipping reported in March shows that nineteen steamers aggregating 44,609 tons and eight sailing vessels of 1,865 tons were sunk by enemy warships. Ten steamers of 13,927 tons were sunk by mines. One steamer, of 2,131 tons, was sunk either by an enemy warship or a mine.

Forty-three lives were lost in the case of the steamers sunk by warships, and eighty-one in steamers sunk by mines.

Hun Sub Sank Hospital Ship

PETROGRAD, via London, April 3 The official statement on the sinking of the Russian hospital ship Portugal, in the Black Sea, last Thursday, reads as follows:

"At 8 o'clock on the morning of March 30, the Franco-Russian hospital ship Portugal, lying in the Black Sea off eastern Anatolia, having been sent there to receive wounded, was attacked by a German submarine. Two torpedoes were fired. The second torpedo hit the engine-room of the vessel and she sank in less than a minute.

"Eleven out of twenty-six Sisters of Charity were saved by boats which accompanied the Portugal. The missing include Count Tatistcheff, delegate of the Red Cross; Dr. Pankricheff Tikhmeneve, Baroness Meyerendoreff, Sister Superior of the Sisters of Charity. There were 273 persons aboard the Portugal, of whom 158 were saved.

"The Turkish Government had recognized the Portugal as a hospital ship. She was painted with the prescribed colors. The submarine steered around the ship and fired point blank.

"This act of the Germans was useless from a military standpoint. It proves again that peace with an enemy who insanely violates divine human laws, is impossible before his complete destruction."

WEATHER AIDED U-BOATS.

PARIS, April 3.—Owing to the fact that bad weather has damaged the Entente Allies' barriers, causing mines to drift and making the entrance to the Channel easier, submarine activity in the North Sea has been more pronounced during the last three weeks than for four months, according to a semi-official communication dealing with the marine situation. The communication says:

"During four months there was no torpedoing in the Channel, but in the last three weeks enemy submarines have shown activity in this sea. This activity has succeeded owing to the fact that bad weather damaged the Allies' barriers, caused mines to drift and made entrance to the Channel easier. The enemy doubtless possesses a large number of submarines and can simultaneously attack in the North Sea and in the Mediterranean. Measures have been taken, in concert with Great Britain, to bar more effectively Pas de Calais and to multiply the trolls.

ENEMY WITHDRAWS.

"At Salonika German and Bulgarian detachments, which had occupied Greek villages, have been withdrawn to the frontier after skirmishes in which they suffered comparatively heavy losses."

The communication concludes with a reference to the British conquest of German East Africa. It says:

"This is Germany's last colony. The enemy has large sums invested there in railways and other exploitations. The complete conquest of the colony is only a question of time and cannot be long delayed. Consequently, the colonial empire created at such cost by Germany will disappear, and Germany will no longer have an outlet out of Europe.

"It is easy to see the important bearing this fact will have at the conclusion of peace. Every time, in the course of our history, that we have lost colonies, even when there had been successes on the continent we have had to accept disastrous terms of peace. It is probable similar events will have similar results in the case of Germany."

A PATHETIC REQUEST.

PARIS, April 3.—Prof. James Mark Baldwin, of Baltimore, whose daughter was seriously injured in the explosion on the cross Channel steamer Sussex, yesterday gave out a copy of a cablegram which he had despatched to President Wilson. It reads:

"A woman travelling where her right was, carrying an American passport, stricken on the Sussex, hovering between life and death, demands that reparation for assault on American life and liberty be exacted.

"(Signed) Mark Baldwin."

BERLIN'S BABY STARE.

BERLIN, April 3, via wireless to Tuckerton.—The German Government is not yet able to make any reply regarding the sinking of the British steamers Sussex and Englishman, about which the United States Government has requested information; but it asserts most positively that Germany had nothing to do with the Tubantia disaster.

As a result of a number of experimental studies, scientists have found that the eyes of fish are relatively large in comparison with human eyes; a fish's eye is ordinarily about 1-20 of the length of its body, while that of a man is from 1-60 to 1-70 of the height. It is believed that this is one reason for their near-sightedness.

BRITISH PREMIER ENTHUSIASTICALLY GREETED IN ROME

Received by Mayor and by Pope—Cheered by People

REPEATS ALLIES STAND FOR RIGHT

Loyalty of Italy Emphasized at Government Luncheon for Him

ROME, via Paris, April 3.—Herbert H. Asquith, the British Prime Minister, was the guest Saturday night at a great public reception given at the Capitol by Prince Prospero Calonna, Mayor of Rome. In the course of his speech, Mr. Asquith said:

"In this place and in the gravest moment of the world's history I want to reaffirm the unshakeable faith of the Allies in the cause of liberty and justice, and to proclaim our irrevocable determination to conquer, to protect weaker peoples, and also not to tolerate the violation of elementary social laws after centuries of struggle."

The Premier sent a "message of faith and affectionate salutation to the heroic army of Italy and to the whole Italian people."

He reminded his hearers that this was the first time a British Premier had been received by the "first citizen of Rome in the capitol—the temple and citadel of the ancient world, the outpost of the world of the Middle Ages, and now a monument symbolic of the renaissance and the unity of Italy."

After the reception, Premier Asquith received a delegation of representatives of the Italian press.

POPE RECEIVES MR. ASQUITH.

Premier Asquith was received in a private audience lasting thirty minutes, by Pope Benedict, Saturday. Ceremonials in keeping with his position were observed at the Vatican.

The presence of Premier Asquith in Rome, his visit to the Vatican, and his audience with the Pope mark a new and important phase of British policy, due chiefly to the influence and activity of one of the greatest Cardinals England ever had, namely, Cardinal Gasquet, who recalls the time when Britishers were represented in the Senate of the Papacy by such names as Howard, Manning, Newman and Vaughan.

Cardinal Gasquet has been almost alone in his attitude, against all the members of the Sacred College, in proclaiming the necessity for the Pope taking a stand for Gasquet's idea of justice, right, honor, and humanity, without which both peace and religion are impossible.

The visit of Premier Asquith to Pope Benedict is another victory for Cardinal Gasquet over the majority of his colleagues and a fresh attempt to induce the Pope to recognize that the head of the Church must admit that the Allies are fighting for principles which are the basis of Christianity.

CHEERED BY PEOPLE.

Premier Asquith appeared on the balcony of the British Embassy Saturday evening to salute a great concourse of the people of Rome who had gathered to cheer him.

"We are here," he said, "to further the victory of right and justice."

The Tribuna ventured the opinion Wednesday that the subjects dealt with in the British statesman's interview with the head of the Catholic Church would be chiefly Irish affairs and the participation of Irish Catholics in the war. The newspaper also thought that the question of the Irish in America would be discussed as "a portion of them are conducting a most audacious campaign in favor of the Central Empires."

Other newspapers expressed the opinion that Pope Benedict desired to take advantage of Mr. Asquith's presence in Rome to make another effort in favor of peace, by insisting on his previously stated contention that an expressed willingness on the part of the belligerents to make reciprocal concessions might lead to the opening of negotiations and the ending of the great conflict.

It was also asserted that the Pope was anxious to set forth his claim to participation in the respective peace conference to be held at the conclusion of hostilities, the basis of which claim is that he is the spiritual head of millions of those engaged on both sides in the war.

ROUSING SEND OFF.

The visit of Mr. Asquith to Rome ended yesterday, and Mr. Asquith left the capital amid the cheers of thousands of people.

Premier Salandra gave a luncheon in his honor, at which were present many Senators and Deputies, former Cabinet Ministers, members of the present Cabinet, and other high officials of state.

Toasts were exchanged, further emphasizing the union of the Allies and their determination to achieve "the mission undertaken in the name of civilization and humanity."

There was an imposing demonstration at the station, when Mr. Asquith said farewell, great crowds with flags and bands gathering to give the British Premier a rousing send off. The bands played British and Italian patriotic airs, while the people cheered for England and shouted for the Allies and victory.

Germans Gain Entry Into Wood Only to Be Thrown Out

BRITISH HAVE ARTILLERY DUEL

Russians and Italians Report Enemy Driven Back

PARIS, April 3.—The Germans launched heavy attacks again yesterday against the French positions, both to the west and east of the Meuse. To the west the attacks were repulsed, but to the east, in the neighborhood of Fort Douaumont, the assaulting forces were able to penetrate the Caillette Wood, lying to the south. From the northern part of the wood they were almost immediately ejected by French counter-attacks. The official statement of these operations issued last night by the War Office reads:

"Between the Somme and the Oise our artillery was particularly active in the region of Parvillers, Fouquescourt and Lassigny, where German trenches were shattered by our fire.

"West of the Meuse the Germans launched several powerful attacks on a corner of the Avocourt Wood. All the assaults were repulsed by our barrier fire and the fire of our machine guns.

"To the east of the Meuse the action was very spirited throughout the day in the region of Douaumont and Vaux. The Germans, after a bombardment of extreme violence with shells of heavy calibre, directed four simultaneous attacks with effectives of more than one division on our positions between Fort Douaumont and the Village of Vaux.

"Southeast of Fort Douaumont they penetrated Caillette Wood, but our counter-attacks, delivered immediately, drove them back in the northern part of the wood. South of Vaux our line runs along the immediate outskirts of the village, the last ruined houses of which we have evacuated.

"In the Woevre there has been intermittent artillery activity in the Bois le Pretre. An aviatik brought down by our special guns, fell within the German lines.

"In the Vosges the fire of our batteries caused the explosion of a munitions depot east of Reich Ackerkopf, west of Muenster.

"Last night a bombarding squadron dropped twenty-eight shells on the railway station at Etain, and the bivouacs established in the outskirts of the village of Nantillois. The same night three of our aeroplanes dropped twenty-two shells, which caused numerous fires in the villages at Azannes and Brisuilles, on the Meuse.

"Today (April 2) our aviators brought down three enemy machines on the Verdun front. Two other German aeroplanes were compelled to land precipitately in the same region. Finally, a Drachen was brought down in flames by one of our aeroplanes.

"The Belgian official communication reads:

"The Belgian artillery bombarded during the night the German positions at Mercken. Today there was a violent artillery action in the sector east of Ramscappelle and in the direction of Dixmude."

HEAVY ARTILLERY FIGHTING.

LONDON, April 3.—The British official communication, issued last evening says:

"Last night, at Ploef, we captured an officer and four men. The grenade fighting continues.

"The artillery of both sides has been active about Souchez, Angres, St. Eloi, Loos and Ypres. There has been mining activity by both sides about Hulluch and the Hohenzollern Redoubt.

Two hostile aeroplanes were driven down behind the German lines. One of our machines, which was sent out yesterday, is missing.

"The following official statement on the campaign on the western front was issued on Saturday night:

"There was considerable aerial activity yesterday on both sides. Hostile artillery was active today along the front between the Hohenzollern Redoubt and Souchez. We retaliated by shelling the enemy's positions.

"Enemy artillery was active about Ypres. The enemy fired mines yesterday and today opposite Fricourt and near the quarries and in the Hahenzollern Redoubt. Little damage was done to our trenches.

"Last night there was heavy shelling on both sides about St. Eloi, and the enemy made three bombing attacks against our new position. The attacks were repulsed."

SMYRNA FORTS DESTROYED.

Forts St. George and Sanjak, as well as the other coastal defenses of Smyrna, were destroyed on Friday in a three-hours' bombardment by a British warship, says a despatch to the Times from Salonika. The Turks did not reply to the fire of the warship.

Sanjak is the chief work commanding the entrance to Smyrna Harbor. St. George is about three miles to the southeast.

RUSSIANS FORCE HUNS BACK.

PETROGRAD, April 2, via London, April 3.—The official communication, issued from General Headquarters today, reads as follows:

"Near the Ikskull bridgehead there have been encounters of secondary importance. In the region of Nova Selki, south of Kreyo, we exploded two small mines, blowing up the enemy's mine galleries.

"North of the Baranovitchi station the Germans took the offensive, but were forced back into their trenches. An enemy aeroplane dropped bombs on Zamiree Station, on the Minsk-Baranovichi line.

"South of Olyka the enemy made another attack on the heights which we hold, but was repulsed by the fire of our rifles and machine-guns, and fled in disorder after considerable losses.

"On the Upper and Middle Stripa we dispersed many detachments and made some prisoners. The floods continue.

"Caucasus front—In the basin of the Upper Tchoruk our Cossacks and riflemen continue their attacks on the mountain positions, which are deep in snow. We have dislodged the enemy from some positions and taken some prisoners."

ITALIANS SCORE SUCCESSES.

ROME, April 2, via London, April 3.—The following official communication was issued today (Sunday):

"There were artillery actions Friday in the Valley of Giudicaria, in the Rovereto zone, and on the Upper Astico. Movements of railroad and waggon trains at the head of the Sugana Valley continues.

"In the Upper Rienz on Saturday night, by a movement through mountain footpaths, we got near enemy positions on the Rauchkofel and by a brilliant attack captured three enemy blockhouses, taking thirty-one prisoners and some war material.

"On the Isonzo front there were night artillery activities on Saturday. We repulsed a new enemy offensive on our position recently captured west of Sielz. During the afternoon our men took the offensive and enlarged the territory already in our possession by taking another entrenchment by assault.

"Near Aquileja, our anti-aircraft batteries brought down an enemy biplane and we made prisoner of the two aviators."

GERMAN OFFICIAL REPORT.

BERLIN, April 2, via London, April 3.—The German official statement issued today (Sunday) is as follows:

"Western theatre—Near Fay, south of the Somme, an enemy attack began after short artillery preparation was checked by our fire.

"Through the bombardment of Bethenville, east of Rheims, the French caused considerable losses to their countrymen. Three women and one child were killed, and five men, four women and a child were seriously injured.

"In addition to the position taken March 30, French trenches northeast of Haucourt, extending over about 1,000 yards, have been cleared of the enemy.

"On the eastern bank of the Meuse our troops, March 31, after careful preparation, took possession of the enemy defence and flanking works northwest and west of the village of Vaux.

"Yesterday morning, after the French fire had reached its height of intensity in this region, the expected counter-attack which took place broke down completely under the fire of our machine guns and the curtain of fire of our artillery.

"Apart from the sanguinary losses sustained during our attack March 31, the enemy left in our hands unwounded prisoners amounting to eleven officers and 720 men and five machine guns.

"Great activity was displayed by aviators of both sides and numerous aerial battles were terminated in our favor.

"In addition to enemy aeroplanes brought down beyond our lines, an English biplane was shot down near Hollebeke. The occupants of the machine were captured. Ober-Lieut. Berthold thus put out of action his fourth enemy aeroplane.

"Southwest of Lens an enemy aeroplane was brought down in flames by a direct hit from our anti-aircraft guns.

"Bombs were freely dropped upon Dombasien-Argonne, west of Verdun, which is strongly garrisoned with troops, and upon the aerodrome of Belfort.

"Eastern theatre—The general position on this front is unchanged. East of Baranovichi there was greater fighting activity than usual.

"Balkan theatre—There was nothing to report."

WHAT AUSTRIANS CLAIM.

BERLIN, April 3, by wireless to Sayville—The official Austrian statement of Saturday follows:

"Russian front—Near Olika Austria-Hungarian detachments captured an advanced position of the enemy, filled the trenches, destroyed the defence works and returned to their main positions.

"Attempts of the enemy to advance southeast of Sienkowce were frustrated by our artillery and by counter-attacks.

"Italian front—The fighting was resumed at several places.

"There were more or less spirited artillery duels near the Tolmino bridgehead, in the Fella sector and on the Dolomites front.

"Italian attacks on the sector between Great Pal and Small Pal and near Schluderbach were repulsed."

TURKS' LATEST REPORT.

By Canadian Press.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 3, via London.—The following official statement has been issued by the War Department:

"Caucasus front—Part of the enemy advanced posts in the Tschoruk valley were compelled by our forces to retire. Our operations there are progressing satisfactorily.

"Dardanelles—On Thursday two of our aeroplanes shot down an enemy machine near Seddul-Bahr. Other enemy machines retreated in the direction of Imbros. An enemy torpedo boat in the Gulf of Saros was repulsed by our batteries and withdrew toward Samothrace."

Marconi Improves Radio; Italy Will Receive Benefit

LONDON, April 3.—The New York Times has received the following from the Marconi Company:

"Signor Marconi has been engaged in research work in Italy, where he has been able to carry out some important experiments and tests. He advises that the results obtained are far-reaching and directly concern the future practice of the entire science of wireless telegraphy and telephony over long or short distances, no matter whether conducted by means of ordinary sparks, quenched sparks or continuous waves.

"He is now engaged in making applications for patents which probably will be applied at once in Italy to military purposes. By these means results heretofore impossible will be obtained."

ASYLUM AND JAIL PROBE MAY BARE $250,000 GRAFT

Haultain Commission in Saskatchewan Will Sit April 12

E. L. H. SMITH FOUND AT MINNEAPOLIS

Commission on Liquor Charges Adjourns to April 15

Special to The Montreal Star.

REGINA, April 3. With the announcement Saturday that frauds involving more than $250,000 will probably be charged in connection with the construction of the asylum for the insane at Battleford, chief interest now centres in the Haultain Commission which starts work on April 12, and will probably continue until the end of the month, when it will adjourn for some time.

The asylum buildings cost something about $1,300,000 and the frauds which counsel on behalf of J. E. Bradshaw will charge therefore represent about 25 per cent of the actual cost of the building.

The Royal Commission on this phase of the Opposition's charge is composed of Sir Frederick Haultain, Chief Justice of Saskatchewan, Mr. Justice Newlands and Mr. Justice Lamont. It has the Asylum building, the Regina Jail and the Telephone Department to inquire into. Two Ministers, the Hon. P. McNab and the Hon. George Bell are named as guilty of complicity in fraud.

Counsel for the Opposition member who laid the charges, Mr. Bradshaw, will be J. F. Bryant and Frank Turnbull, while the Government members are represented by H. Y. MacDonald, K. C. Counsel for the various contractors and subcontractors will also take part in the proceedings.

ARCHITECTS INVESTIGATING.

The asylum was built by the Saskatchewan Building and Construction Company, and the Parsons Company built the Regina Jail.

Engineers, architects and other experts have been at work on the plans and specifications for over a week now on the buildings.

No intimation has been received as to when the Royal Commission on roads will start work. The chairman, former Chief Justice Wetmore, is still on the coast, convalescing from his recent attack of bronchitis, but is expected back shortly.

There is understood to be some doubt as to whether W. E. Mason, another member of the Commission, will be able to act.

Meantime the criminal prosecutions of some of the men involved are proceeding. After several adjournments, it is expected the preliminary trials of Job Parsons Brown and Edward H. Devline, the former chief clerk of the roads branch of the highway department, and the latter member of the Legislature for Kinistino, will be proceeded with on Wednesday. H. W. Sampson, Crown prosecutor will act in both cases, and it is understood H. Y. MacDonald, K.C., will defend both.

E. L. H. Smith, the missing bank manager required as a witness, is expected back any day. It was reported on Saturday on good authority that he had been located at Minneapolis by C. A. Mahoney, Provincial Police Chief.

It took considerable persuasion before Mr. Marshall would allow his name to go up again for the position of commodore, but it is considered very gratifying indeed that he finally gave in, as a man with his experience is much needed at the head of the club's affairs during the present ticklish times.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

To be moved at the Annual Meeting of the Grand Trunk Boating Club, to be held on [illegible], that the following amendment be made to the By-laws of the Club:

"To eliminate the whole of section and sub-section 1, Article III, and to substitute the following:

"That candidates who are not members of the executive or of any nominating committee shall be appointed by the executive the week previous to the Annual Meeting, to supervise the election of officers and committee at the annual meeting."

"To eliminate the whole of section 3 of Article III and to substitute the following:

(A) The executive shall appoint, on or before the day of the Annual Regatta, two separate committees of three each which shall be known as the official nominating committee, composed of active or life members, who are not officers or members of the executive, who shall nominate candidates for office and committeeship to be filled at the Annual Meeting.

(B) It shall remain entirely at the option of the nominating committees as to the number of candidates they shall nominate and as to whether or not they shall nominate the same candidates for any position.

(C) The nominating committee shall report to the secretary in time to enable him to have published in two of the daily newspapers on Friday, two weeks previous to the Annual Meeting, a list of the candidates nominated by each committee, together with the names of the members forming such committees as nominators.

(D) Any ten or more members desiring to make nominations, may at the [illegible] up to 6 o'clock p.m. on the Wednesday following the publication of candidates, delivering nominations in writing signed by the ten nominators into the hands of the secretary, who shall forthwith cause to be mailed to each active and life member, a list of all nominations with the names of the nominators, together with a notice of the time, place and date of the Annual Meeting and accompanied with a report of the executive and the annual financial statement duly audited.

(E) In the event of a candidate being elected to fill more than one office or committeeship, he shall have the choice of retaining only one such, and shall immediately vacate any other to the runner-up."

"To eliminate from Section 4, Article III, second and third line, the words 'At the nomination meeting' and to substitute the words 'by the executive'."

Mover, C. N. Marshall.
Seconder, John Laing, Sr.

At the nomination meeting the following officers were elected by acclamation:

Commodore—C. N. Marshall.
Vice-Commodore—C. Allen.
Rear-Commodore—J. Laing.
Secretary—C. L. Cohn, Jr.
Treasurer—J. Watson.
Captain—G. D. Marshall.

There will be contests as follows:

ANOTHER WELL-KNOWN SPORTSMAN LEAVING FOR THE FRONT

Lieut. Coffin, of the 69th Battalion, F. E. C., who was for eight years captain of the Mount St. Louis Cadets, also director of the Ahuntsic Amusement Club, and always took a keen interest in hockey, being manager for three years in the Outremont Hockey League. He is also a member of the S.A.A.A. He always took a great interest in the affairs of the Chateauguay Boating Club, of which his father, Tristam Coffin, is commodore, and organized the native war canoe crew.

INCORPORATION OF THE CANADIEN HOCKEY CLUB

Managing Director Kennedy and President Boucher of Club Athletique Canadien Amongst Incorporators of New Stock Company — May Mean New Arena

Official notice is given of the incorporation of the "Canadian Hockey Club" with a capital of twenty thousand dollars divided into two thousand shares of ten dollars each. The date of incorporation is the 10th of March of this year.

The incorporators are:

George Washington Kendall (George Kennedy), promoter; Napoleon Dorval, merchant; U. P. Boucher, civil engineer; Raphael Ouimet, journalist; F. X. DeGrandpre, gerand; Hector Desloges, physician, and Lorenzo Prince, gentleman.

All these people are prominent members of the Canadien Athletic Club, of which the hockey team was thought to be part.

Kennedy is managing director; Boucher is president.

The Canadien Athletic Club is also said to be a stock company, and how the new corporation fits in with the old one is difficult to figure out, since Mr. Kennedy was not available today to give an explanation.

The powers conferred upon the new stock company are the same as are generally supposed to have been conferred upon the Canadien Athletic Club.

It includes the sale of intoxicating liquors, and the erection of buildings, from which latter clause it might be inferred that the new Club might go in some day for the erection of a new Hockey Arena.

ANTI-TOXIN WILL BE TAKEN TO BENNINGS TO PREVENT ILLNESS IN RAYMOND STRING

Eleven Horses Will Leave Dorval for the Washington Track This Evening — Jockey Smythe Will Accompany Them to the South

The pretentious racing establishment of D. Raymond, the Montreal turfman and breeder, and one of the turf's foremost supporters in this province, will be shipped from his Dorval farm to the Bennings (D.C.,) race track, the home of the Washington Jockey Club, in charge of trainer James Boden tonight. The thoroughbreds that will sport the Raymond silk this season, had plenty of shed work at the farm, but training has been retarded to such an extent this spring by the severity of the atmospheric conditions, Trainer Boden decided it was advisable to give his charges their preliminary "prep" in the south.

Trainer Boden's consignment tonight will be made up of several classes, including two-year-olds, a conglomeration of the older division, and a fencer. According to advices, there are four two-year-olds, but the names of the Raymond juveniles are a mystery insofar as local turf enthusiasts are concerned.

All told Mr. Raymond is the owner of some thirty thoroughbreds. From an authoritative source it is understood Trainer Boden will take the following equine stars South. The names and breeding follow:

Irish Heart, b.g., 6, by Dublin-Sans Couer.
Boxer, b.c., 4, by Star Shoot-Cremorne.
Reddest, b.g., 4, by Red Fox II.-Ruby Knight.
Golden Vixen, ch. f., 3, by Red Fox II.-Called Back.
Cincinnati, b.c., 3, by Marta Santa-Serpentaria.
Chester Krum, ch. g., 9, by Sir Hercules-Ravolette.
Malamont, b.c., 6, by Flying Fox-Mme de Longchamps.
Malamont, ch. c., 2, by Bassetlaw-Gargle.
..... ch. c., 2, by Bassetlaw-Gargle.
..... b f., 2, by Athel-Sans Couer.
..... ch. f., 2, by Oiseau—Miss Chubby.
..... b.f., 2, by Hastings-Golden Sands.

Mr. Raymond has given names to the aforementioned juveniles, but they were not available at this writing. In the estimation of many who seen the "baby racers" trials last fall, they are the equal of any developed in the province, and it goes without saying Mr. Raymond will make several nominations to the Provincial Nursery, to be run for at the Blue Bonnets in September.

Malamont, the giant son of the English Derby winner Flying Fox and Mme. de Longchamps, herself a winner of the Grand Prix, the blue ribbon event of the French turf, one of the most royally bred horses in the Dominion, will likely be seen under the silk this season. He went "wrong" following his only start and win in this country, when Trainer Boden was "prepping" him for the Hamilton Derby two years ago. Trainer Boden has paid especial attention to Malamont, which he is confident will stand this season. The King's Plate winner, Irish Heart, has wintered splendidly, and it is with an eye to have him in perfect trim for the early province-bred races, Trainer Boden is sending him South.

Retrospectively speaking, several of the Raymond-Bulcroft representatives were taken down with pneumonia on their arrival in Baltimore last spring, and to prevent analogous complications a shipping fever antitoxin will be administered to the thoroughbreds before they are loaded on the cars this afternoon. Allan Bulcroft, who is training a public stable was to have shipped to Bennings, but countermanded his order for car space for his charges at the eleventh hour.

Jockey J. (Patsy) Smyth, the Montreal youngster, who has achieved fame on every race track of prominence in America, will accompany the Raymond stable. He is just after finishing a successful season in Havana, Cuba, where he rode for H. G. Bedwell, and on his arrival here gave his services to Mr. Raymond for the season.

FRIENDS OF SHAMROCK ASSOCIATION CONTINUE TO COME TO ITS RELIEF

Some More Good Sized Donations Reported — Campaign May Be Extended for a Few Days Over the Originally Proposed Limit

(By Thomas J. Power, Secretary S. A. A. A.)

The captains of the different teams with their assistants met Saturday evening at the club house, 697 St. Urbain street, to compare notes, discuss the result of the campaign to date and to formulate plans for a whirlwind finish. It is announced that owing to the difficulty experienced in reaching all those who would be willing to contribute their mite, the date for the close of the campaign was extended till April 15.

It was also decided to open a central office in the business district where captains and assistants could meet and discuss the situation at any time during the day. P. J. Brennan, 238 St. James stret, very kindly offered a portion of his store for this purpose. The offer was gratefully accepted.

A few more of those who realize the necessity of a strong Irish Shamrock organization are:

D. J. Byrne	$100.00
Ed. Brennan	100.00
The Jas. Robertson Co., Ltd	100.00
McKenna's Ltd	100.00
H. W. Stevenson	100.00
Leslie H. Boyd, K.C.	25.00
Ancient Order of Hibernians (per P. Keane)	50.00
C. A. Sheehan	50.00
T. J. O'Neill	25.00
National Drug and Chemical Co.	25.00
W. H. McNally	25.00
W. C. Christmas	25.00
P. J. Cooney	25.00

E. J. Quinn, the Westmount grocer, besides being one of the first to contribute a cheque bearing the century mark is one of Harry McLaughlin's hardest working lieutenants.

Billy Christmas, a veteran of the Montreal Lacrosse Club, on being approached said "Contribute to the Shamrock Fund? Well, I guess yes. I could relate the history of a great many battles against the Shamrocks and it must be said for them that while they were mostly victorious, yet when they did lose, they accepted defeat like winners. They are deserving of public support." These are the sentiments of a true sport Billy, and we thank you for them.

It was no surprise to receive a handsome donation from the Ancient Order of Hibernians. No worthy Irish cause has ever gone unanswered by that ancient and truly noble order.

D. McAnulty, of Ald. W. J. Hushion's team, is meeting with great success and he deserves it. "Well, Dan if you can do as well as your worthy leader, your name will be enstrined in the 'Hall of Fame.'"

BOY SCOUTS' ASSAULT-AT-ARMS WAS BIG SUCCESS

This week-end the Central District of Canadian Boy Scouts, under D.S.M. P. R. Lyman, held the first "assault-at-arms" of its kind in the city.

A special committee was in charge of the "assault" composed of A. S. Dobell, 11th Mtl. McGill, A. S. M. Capel, 18th Mtl. Christ Church Cathedral, and A. S. M. Thistlewaite, 12th Mtl. St. George's who provided a splendid program of boxing, wrestling and singlestick.

The 18th Montreal won first place by 40 points, or 4 events, the 12th Montreal second by 25 points, and the 11th Montreal third by 20 points.

Boxing—Bercovitch (11) won welterweight (preliminary); Low (18) won bantamweight; Twizel (11) won lightweight.

Wrestling—Adelson (12) won paperweight (preliminary); Giles (12) won paperweight; Michaud (12) won featherweight (final).

Boxing—Todd (18) won welterweight (final) by a foul to Bercovitch (11); Adelson (12) won paperweight (final).

Wrestling—Adelson (12) won paperweight (final); Letovsky (18) won lightweight (final).

Boxing—Smith (18) won middleweight (final); Twizel (11) won lightweight (final).

Wrestling—Mann (18) won welterweight (final); Taylor (18) won heavyweight (final).

Boxing—Colle (11) won heavyweight (final); Smith (18) won middleweight (final).

Singlestick—Taylor (18) won final.

The wrestling was handled by Mr. Trapp of McGill, the boxing by Mr. B. S. Burland of the M.A.A.A., and the singlestick by Prof. John Bell. Mr. E. Ross-Ross and Mr. L. R. Thompson acted as timekeepers. Mr. W. E. Finley acted as chairman.

The proceeds, which will amount to about $50, will go to the benefit of the "Central District Bugle Band," which is in charge of A.S.M. England, and rendered a few of their calls during the evening. The "assault" was well attended by the public, officers, including D.S.M. Lyman, S.M.'s Ascah, Lordly, Costain, Thompson, Cartier, Bradley, Roch, A.S.M.'s Carrick, Harris, Dowd, Capel, Thistlewaite, Dobel England; also by the scouts of the various troops, who all pronounced the first "assault" a splendid success.

MYSTERY LOCAL SPORTSMAN AND SOLDIER CLEAR

President Quinn, N.H.A., Intimate Friend of Corporal J. J. Campbell, Who Departed with 13th Battalion, Received Word of Friend's Death

At last all doubt as to the fate of John James Campbell, one of the best known young men about town, and a well-known amateur athlete, and all-round sportsman has been settled.

He went to the front with the first Canadian Contingent and has been missing since April of last year. All enquiries went through the English official channels failed to have any result.

Finally President F. Emmett Quinn of the National Hockey Association, an intimate friend of the missing soldier was advised to try the Red Cross, and as the result the following letter was received.

Geneva, March 8, 1916.

Emmett Quinn, Esq.,

Dear sir: We much regret to inform you that our inquiry at Roulers has resulted in the following information, sent to us by the Red Cross Society of Frankfurt A. M.

"Corporal John James Campbell, 24583, 13th Battalion, Canadian Regiment, was taken to a Lazarett on the 16. 5. 15; in spite of medical treatment he died there on the 26. 5. 15. The burial took place on the 28. 5. 15. with military honors in the Military Cemetery of Raeselare, in French "Roulers," West Flanders, (now occupied by Germans. (Part of the Cemetery of the town set apart.) The grave, according to enclosed photograph, bears in the books of the dead of the town the 20733 on the plans of the Cemetery that of 20733, the latter number is inscribed on the grave.

We are, dear Sir, with sincere regret and sympathy

Yours faithfully,

E. LONG.

From this it would appear that Corp. Campbell was taken prisoner by the Germans. The photograph which accompanies the letter shows the cemetery and a cross bearing his name.

SPORTING answers

Sporting Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—Will you kindly tell me of what nationality is Jess Willard, the champion boxer?—T. M.

Willard was born December 29, 1887, in Pottoatomie County, Kansas, U. S. A.

Montreal, March 29, 1916.

Sporting Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—To settle a dispute, would you kindly advise me as to whether J. Willard (before his fight with Johnson) had any record in boxing? I contend that he came forward as the "White Hope," and won; also that he had no previous encounters. Am I right? Please state as to whether he was a complete stranger to the ring when he faced Johnson, and oblige, yours truly,

J. T. BAXTER.

Following is Willard's record:

1911—
February 15—Louis Fink (L-F), Sulpa, Okla., 10 rounds.

SONS OF ENGLAND WILL NOT DISBAND

The following letter was received:

171 Congregation St.,
Point St. Charles.

Sporting Editor Montreal Daily Star.

Sir—I see in your Friday night Star that Sons of England will disband, so the rumors say, but such is not the case, as the S.O.E. have signed on at least a dozen players, some of the names are H. Wakelem, Frank and Albert Jude, J. F. Taylor, A. White, J. Rainbow, H. Nicholls, J. Hudspith, S. Ginn, E. Everden. Hoping you will oblige the S.O.E. Committee by inserting the above in The Star.

C. SAUNDERS,
President.

GEORGE BLACKBIRD WAS G. T. R. VETERAN

George Blackbird, aged sixty-six years, passed away at the Royal Victoria Hospital after an operation.

Just a year ago Mr. Blackbird retired, coming to reside in the city from Richmond, Que., after forty-nine years' active service in the Grand Trunk Railway.

The funeral was held from Wray's undertaking rooms, the service being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Osborne. Interment was in Toronto.

Mr. Blackbird is survived by his widow, one son, William Blackbird; two daughters, Marion and Edna, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. William Blackbird.

Mr. Blackbird was a member of the Anglican Church, a Royal Arch Mason, Holyrood Chapter; Connaught Chapter No. 4, O.E.S., and a Son of England.

Presentations Made Saturday to Cecil Hart by League

Two very pleasant surprises were furnished Saturday night in the form of presentations to Secretary-Treasurer Cecil Hart, of the Montreal Hockey League, and to Lucien Riopel, manager of La Canadette Hockey Team, when President Charles N. Five Knock-outs at Boxing Tourney Held in Toronto

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 3.—The Riverside International Boxing tournament was wound up Saturday night with some good bouts that gave the fair sized crowd a good night's entertainment. The best bout of the evening was the one between Newton, of Riverside, and Hoover, of Detroit, in the 125-lb. final, in which the local boy won a decision in a very fast and hard hitting contest. Newton had previously defeated Donovan on the semi-finals after a hard bout, in which he showed extreme cleverness and hard hitting ability with the right mitt.

Hard hitting appeared to be the prevailing epidemic with practically five knock-outs. Schneider, of Detroit, stopped Stroud of the 81 Battalion in the second round, and later on did likewise to Oram, of St. Charles. Nettke, of Detroit, also stopped Soloman, of the 83rd Battalion in two rounds, while Bull, of the Riversides, scored knock-out in the 115-lb. final and semi-final over Ted Price and Moylan respectively. Burke, in the heavyweight, was the other winner by this route, when he beat Moylan, of the 83rd Battalion via the slumberland wallop.

George Goulding Defeated Every Rival Saturday

Special to The Montreal Star.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3. There was nobody in Buffalo Saturday night who could wrest any laurels from George Goulding. There were many who tried, but he defeated them with ease at 74th Regiment Armory indoor games. Goulding gave the tremendous crowd a glimpse of a regular champion walker when he mowed down a field of handicap men in a one and one-half mile race and strode across the tape a winner in ten minutes, twelve and three-fifths seconds. At that he did not have to extend himself, his mark being six seconds slower than his own record.

Sam Cobb, the local phenomenal "ped" was the only one to give Goulding even a semblance of struggle. Cobb had a handicap of 175 yards and managed to keep in front of the champion until the last lap, when Goulding overtook him with apparent ease. For a half of a lap they walked almost shoulder to shoulder. Then coming down the home stretch Goulding cut loose in a sprint and finished with several yards to spare.

Goulding received a great ovation as he breasted the tape at the finish.

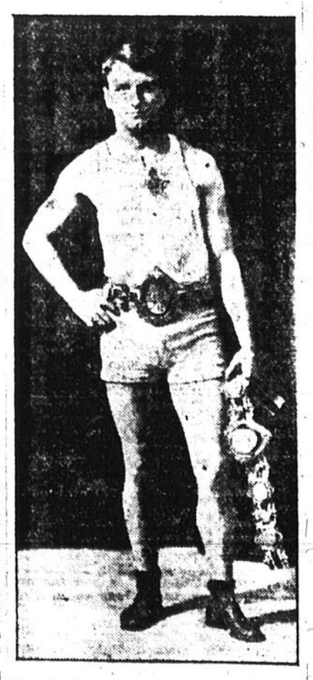
FREDDIE WELSH



Bennie Leonard intends to follow him till he forces him into a fight, like Burns did Johnson.

PETER MURPHY

Refused re-election as president National Lacrosse Union.

"WHIP KAISER" IS NOVEL DEVICE TO GET RECRUITS

An original aid to recruiting is being employed by the 150th Battalion in an office on St. Catherine street, near St. Urbain. A large bust of the Kaiser, wearing a dog collar with a name-plate bearing the inscription "Crime," and attached to a leash, stands in the window. In front of it is a big dog whip and a large poster, "Come with us and whip the Kaiser."

Recruiting continues brisk and very fine candidates are presenting themselves daily.

Lieuts. Wm. Murray and Meunier-Colin have just returned from Huntington with a large number of recruits. The officers were entertained by the Rev. Abbe J. H. Derome and Mayor Pringle of the town.

DR. LESPERANCE BURIED.

Several hundred people, including a large number of Court House officials, attended the funeral of Dr. Alphonse Lesperance, one of the best known veterinaries in the city, and brother-in-law of High Constable Achille Saint Mars, this morning. The funeral service was held in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Dr. Lesperance was forty-two years old.

URGES BRITONS IN AMERICA BE CALLED TO WAR

Special Star Cable by United Press.

LONDON, April 3.—The London Times today prints the following by Sir Arthur Herbert, former secretary to the British Embassy in Washington:

"In the United States there is a large number of British subjects who are anxious to return here with a view of taking up active service if their fares are paid, and they are informed what provision will be made for their wives and families.

"I made enquiries at the Consulate in New York, but was told they had specific instructions not to enlist anybody.

"These instructions were given before the compulsory scheme was adopted, and I venture to point out that since the adoption of the regulations now in force conditions have changed.

"We have as much right as any other country which has the compulsory system to invite our citizens in the United States to return here for military duty.

"It is obvious that British subjects who are living in America and drawing big salaries should, on their return to England after the war, be subject to some such disability as are Frenchmen, Germans and Italians who have neglected to perform this military service.

"I am aware that I am opening a pretty big question, which, owing to its importance, should be settled with little delay."

COLLEGE COURSES IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS IN U. S.

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Eighty universities, colleges or normal schools in the United States will co-operate this summer with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace by offering to students in their summer schools courses on international law and relations.

The Carnegie Endowment, acting through the American Association for National Conciliation, will supply the instructors or grant allotments to pay part of their salaries.

The object of the work is to spread a wider and more accurate knowledge of international polity and international relations.

CHINESE BOXER FEATURE FOR THE BOSTON TOURNEY

Special to The Montreal Star.

BOSTON, Mass., April 3. — Tonight trial bouts in the annual national amateur contests will be held at Mechanics Building, followed tomorrow night by the finals.

With the array of talent entered there is every reason to think that the 1916 event will prove one of the best in the history of amateur boxing sport. Aspiring youngsters from distant points as far west as Kansas City and several from Canadian communities are here ready to disport themselves of their skill for the gold medals emblematic of championships. The visitors are a likely looking lot.

Most of them are picked men, and several of them are champions of their respective localities. The local entry and those who will represent New England are a fine assortment of boxers. While many popular faces will be missed from the ranks this year, there are enough of the local contingent to keep alive the interest.

No entrant is attracting more attention than Don Lew, the University of Pennsylvania student, who will compete in the 135-pound class. Lew is 21 years old, a native born Chinese.

READY FOR THE PROS TO MEET IN BOSTON THIS WEEK

Special to The Montreal Star.

BOSTON, April 3. — As a "wind-up" to the most successful amateur hockey season in the history of the game in the United States, the Boston Arena management have arranged to bring three Canadian professional teams here this week to demonstrate to the New England hockey public just how far the game has progressed among the greatest players in the world.

The first game will be played tomorrow night, and will bring the famous Wanderers, of Montreal, together with the crack Quebec team, which electrified the local fans here a few years ago. The same teams will meet again Thursday night, and the winner of the two games will meet the Ottawa team Saturday night, and again the following Monday night.

That neither of these teams was able to win the championship of the National Hockey Association was due to the usual flukes in hockey. When T. Emmet Quinn, president of the association, was here ten days ago to make arrangements for the approaching series, he confessed that the teams were so closely bunched that it was impossible to pick a winner, and the Boston Arena management had to proceed along the line that the next three teams in the standing would be brought here.

ALL STARS FOR PITTSBURG.

Manager Roy Schooley, of the Duquesne Garden hockey team of Pittsburg, has made arrangements with Cecil Hart, secretary-treasurer of the Montreal Hockey League, for an "All-Star" team chosen from the league, to play in Pittsburg on April 7th and 8th.

The All Stars will leave here next Thursday night.

Stanley Gun Club Shoot

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 3. — The first event of the Stanley Gun Club's monthly handicap shoot at twenty-five targets each week for the five weeks in April, was held on Saturday.

The shooting was somewhat delayed owing to the flow of ice from the Don doing considerable damage to the traps. One of these, however, was fixed up and the shooting commenced. The scores in the monthly shoot of twenty-five birds each week were as follow, not including the handicap: Joslin, 18; Stevens, 21; Hulme, 21; Salsbury, 19. Case, 13; Norman, 21; Dorf, 21.

The scores:

BIG BILLIARD MATCH.

BOSTON, April 3.—A real billiard match, surpassing anything since Willie Hoppe defeated Yamada here last fall, will be staged at the City Club auditorium, when Geo. Slosson meets Jake Schaeffer of Chicago next Wednesday night. The match will be 400 points, 18.2 balk line.

ARRESTED after the match Spurs vs. Q. P. R. at Tottenham, two absentee privates in the Middlesex Regiment were remanded for an escort at Enfield. It was stated that the men left their regiment without leave in order to play for their old team, Queen's Park Rangers. They told the police they had intended to return that night.

Actors and Actresses at Orpheum Theatre Supply Fine Sporting Outfit for Boys at the Front

The sporting goods purchased by the artists appearing at the Orpheum theatre this week, in answer to The Star's appeal for the equipment for the "boys" on the firing line and in training, have arrived at The Star office.

The parcel contains a set of leather boxing gloves, two English footballs complete, two catcher's mitts, one fielder's mitt, five baseball bats, five baseballs and one cricket bat. The goods are brand new.

The amount was made up as follows:

Fred Crow	$5.00
Jack Wilson	5.00
Charlotte Parry	2.00
Kelso and Leighton	$2.00
Marion Weeks	1.00
Ryan and Tiernay	2.00
Evans and Wilson	2.00
"General" Ed Lavine	1.00
Bicknell	1.00
Schrenck and Percival	1.00
Total	$22.00

Every act appearing at the Orpheum willingly contributed to the fund arranged by Mr. Fred Crow.

Result of M.A.A.A. Revolver Club's Monthly Work

The outstanding feature of the club's work during the last month is the equalling of the club's record of ninety-five by Mr. F. Dumfries on March 22. This is the second time Mr. Dumfries has made a score of ninety-five in competition. This record was made by Mr. K. D. Young in 1907 and has never been seriously challenged by anyone except Mr. Dumfries, who has so narrowly missed beating it on two occasions. Everyone in the club expects to see him beat it before the season closes.

When it is considered that to make a score of 95 fired at 20 yards means placing ten consecutive shots fired off hand inside a circle that can be covered by a fifty cent piece the reader can see what extreme accuracy of aim and complete control of the nerves are required to accomplish the feat with the revolver.

The monthly spoon goes to Lieut. Le Hain, who made a double score plus handicap of 216 points. Lieut. Le Hain also leads by a good margin for the President's Cup, a handsome sterling silver trophy presented by Mr. C. A. Simpson. This cup is one of the finest ever competed for in the club and if Lieut. Le Hain is fortunate enough to win it he will be the envy of all the other members.

The fourth match of the series with the Toronto Revolver Club resulted in a win for the latter by twenty-six points as per detail below:

BENNY LEONARD TO BOX FOR $8000

NEW YORK, April 3.—Benny Leonard, conqueror of Freddie Welsh, has been offered a twenty-round bout with Charlie White, of Chicago, for a purse of $8,000, the battle to take place in Denver, May 15. The winner is offered a chance to meet Freddie Welsh, also in Denver, July 4 in a finish bout.

AFTER FREDDIE WELSH.

CHICAGO, April 3—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion will find Chicago a hotbed of challenges when he arrives here today, to put in a few days training for his bout with Ritchie Mitchell at Milwaukee Friday night. Charlie White who meets Mat Wells at Kansas City Thursday night, has issued his usual challenge and Ever Hammer, conqueror of Ad. Wolgast plans to make his debut as a challenger.

WALLACE AFTER FLEMING.

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. — Eddie Wallace, the Brooklyn featherweight, defeated Tommy Buck before the members of the National Athletic Club here on Saturday night. The bouts went the limited six rounds. Wallace has been after a match with Fleming, the Canadian, for a long time, but cannot get Fleming to come to terms.

Frank Miller Starred on Mound Against Red Sox

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 3.—Frank Miller's wonderful pitching in a crisis, against the batting genius of Tris Speaker and Dick Hoblitzel was the outstanding feature of more than a dozen thrills. In the Pirate-Red Sox game here Saturday. The Montreal recruit pitcher was hurried to the box in the eighth inning with three Red Sox on the bases, none out and the Pirates leading by one run. He prevented any scoring and threw a large crowd of fans into a state of wild despair by striking but Speaker and Hoblitzel as the base runners and coaches pleaded for a hit.

The slugging Speaker came to bat and got Miller in a hole when he stood and watched two wide balls go by. Then he set himself for a drive, but missed the ball. He fouled the next and missed the following pitch for the second out of the inning. Hoblitzell came up and also got Miller in a hole with the count two and nothing. He had three balls and two strikes when Miller caused him to swing at the next pitch and the danger was over. Miller retired the Red Sox in order in the ninth.

Frank Shaughnessy Gets a Tempting Offer from Warren

OTTAWA, April 3. — Frank Shaughnessy, thrice a pennant winner, with the Ottawas in the Canadian baseball league, will likely manage the Warren Club in the Tri-State this year. He has been the recipient of several offers and tonight he left for Warren to look over the situation. The Warren people asked him to name his own terms and are ready to surround the big leader with a strong team. If Shaughnessy decides to make Warren his headquarters he will take several Ottawa players along, including Dusty Bullock, Al Bashang and Louis Peters.

He will remain at Warren until Wednesday. Shaughnessy has notified all the Ottawa players of the suspension of the Canadian League and will recall them next season, if the circuit decides to continue.

Benny Kauff Made Poor Showing When Matched with Cobb

Special to The Montreal Star.

HOUSTON, Texas, April 3. — Ty Cobb is off to a flying start for stellar honors in his league, and off so fast that if Benny Kauff wants to stay near him he'll have to hustle.

The pair met for the first time in the Tiger-Giant game at Houston yesterday. Each got one hit, but there the resemblance ceases. Cobb stole a base, scored a brace of runs, and grabbed five put-outs, each a breathtaker. He was all over the pasture.

Kauff had one put-out to his credit. He failed to lay hands on a pair of fly balls, neither more difficult than some of the ones Cobb nailed without difficulty. Detroit won 9 to 2.

THORPE AGAIN RELEASED.

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 3.—An announcement made by Manager McGraw tonight probably foreshadows the end of Jim Thorpe's career as a major league ball player. After some telegraphic correspondence here today McGraw stated that he had arranged to send the famous Indian athlete to the Milwaukee Club of the American Association this season. The New York Club retains an option on Thorpe who may be repurchased next fall if his record in the American Association warrants further trial.

Watching the Score Board

CINCINNATI, O., April 3. — Dick Kinsella, scout for the New York Giants for a number of years signed a contract to scout for the New York Yankees and left for the east with that team last night.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 3. — Mike Doolan, veteran shortstop was relegated to the second team of the Cubs today. Eddie Mulligan was put on the first team.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 3.—The combination of pitching by Mails and Colwell and the slugging by other members of the Superbas was too much for Jack Dunn's International Leaguers. Score: Brooklyn, 14; Baltimore, 2.

BASKETBALL NOTES

The basketball tourney which was held last week by the Y. M. C. A. was the most successful event ever held by the Drummond street institution, the championship of the various classes being won by different teams. Central Y. M. C. A. won the 95-pound honors through defeating North Branch in the afternoon in the semi-final, and then beating Westmount at night. North Branch captured the honors in the 115-pound division, and First Presbyterian won the 125-pound class. Shamrocks were the winners in the 135-pound class.

In addition to the tourney fixtures the Central Y. M. C. A. and Ottawa Collegiate Institute teams played an exhibition, which was won by the former by a score of 26 to 15. Dr. George Smith acted as referee in the most important games. The results are as follows:

95-pound class semi-final — Central (26)—Stevens and Murray, forwards; Watson, centre; Race and McCarroll, defence.

North Branch (7)—Beggs and Potter, forwards; Cuthbert, centre; Cullen and Yale, defence.

SWIMMERS MEET AND ELECT THEIR NEW OFFICERS

The Quebec Branch of the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association held their annual gathering at the Windsor Hotel Saturday, when the different reports were presented.

The out of town meets held during the past season were successful in every way and brought out a large number of competitors. On November 23 a meeting of the association was called for the purpose of meeting the caretakers of public baths with a view to having the latter affiliate themselves with the C.A.S.A., and, while a satisfactory agreement was not reached at this gathering, there is a hopeful outlook that these difficulties will be adjusted in a short time.

Two new baths were opened during the past year, the Rubenstein Bath for public swimming and the Knights of Columbus, Lafontaine council, for members of that organization.

Saturday's meeting took up the question of assisting the Montreal Schools Swimming Association to purchase certificates for their pupils who come up to the standards required, a design for which has been submitted, and it was decided that steps should be taken to hold some sort of an entertainment for this purpose in one of the public baths, if permission can be obtained in the near future.

The election of officers resulted in the re-nomination of Dr. A. A. McKay as president; H. E. Herschorn, first vice-president; W. A. Kneeland as second vice-president; Armand Garlepy as secretary, and Albert Farmer, treasurer. A new office was created, an official handicapper for open meets, and A. W. Ross was chosen to fill this position.

INDOOR ATHLETIC MEET AT THE M.A.A.A.

Donald C. Smelzer won the all-round honors of the M.A.A.A. indoor athletic tourney on Saturday night, with a total of thirteen points. Jack O'Hara was second with 9 1-2 points, and Anderson third with 8 points.

The results were as follows:

Twenty yards dash (first heat)—1 J. O'Hara; 2 Anderson; 3 J. Speak. Time 7 4-5 seconds. Second heat—1 A. Rowlands; 2 D. Smelzer; 3 R. Hapenny. Time 7 3-5 seconds. Final—1 A. Rowland; 2 Anderson; 3 Speak. Time 7 3-4 seconds.

High jump—D. Smelzer; 2 Boussiere; 3 R. Hapenny. Height, 5 feet 1 inch.

Rope climbing—1 Anderson; 2 Venning; 3 Smelzer. Time 9 2-5 seconds.

Vaulting—1 D. C. Smelzer; 2 R. Hapenny; 3 J. O'Hara and Heasley tied.

Potato race—1 O'Hara; 2 Venning; 3 Rowlands. Time 56 1-5 seconds.

Basketball for accuracy—1 O'Hara; 2 Boussiere; 3 Anderson.

Standing jump—1 R. Hapenny; 2 Smelzer; 3 O'Hara. Length 8 feet 8 inches.

Baseball for accuracy—1 A. Rowlands; 2 J. O'Hara; 3 D. S. Smelzer.

Obstacle race—1 Smelzer; 2 Anderson; 3 Heasley. Time, 53 4-5 seconds.

CHARLES BRITTON, 61, a signwriter, of Batterson, who was found dead in bed after he had been missing for two days, was in 1896 the last champion heavy weight-lifter of the world, and once challenged Samson at the old Royal Aquarium for £50 a side. At the inquest yesterday, medical evidence showed that death was due to pneumonia.

PETER MURPHY RETIRES FROM THE N.L.U. PRESIDENCY

The annual meeting of the National Lacrosse Union which was called for Saturday, had to be adjourned until April 8, when it was learned that Peter Murphy would not accept re-nomination for the presidency. Press of business was the reason given by Mr. Murphy for his retirement.

The decision to continue the schedule this season as usual was reached after a short discussion, the motion by George Bower and Bob Taylor, of the Montreal team, to suspend the series for the current season failing to find a seconder. Although placing the motion on record the Montrealers, upon hearing the views of the other delegates, decided to abide by the majority and the league will be made up of four, or possibly five clubs, should the talked-of application from the Ottawa team be received.

There was no application from the Ottawa club but it is understood that one will be made shortly and it was the opinion of those present that the new application would receive favorable consideration. A discussion took place on the substitution of players in case of penalties instead of the teams playing short, but as no notice of motion was made previous to the meeting it did not carry. In order to put this change into operation without a notice of motion being filed it would be necessary for the unanimous consent of all the clubs and as the National delegates had had no instruction in the latter they could not see their way clear to vote on the question. It will probably come up at Saturday's session, however. The clubs were represented as follows: Montreal, Geo. A. Bower and Bob Taylor; Shamrocks, T. F. Slattery and E. Conroy; Cornwall, Captain Ockers and Jake McFee; Nationals, R. Donmouchel, L. Dandurand and J. Cardinal.

LATEST mail advices from Australia state that Sandy Young, the not-a-footballer, who was charged with murdering his brother, was remanded for a month and sent to Melbourne jail. The Everton directors have cabled the mayor of Tongania that they are prepared to furnish medical evidence that Young was of unsound mind at the time and not responsible for his actions.

WHAT DID HAPPEN TO MR. QUACK.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

(Copyright, 1916, by T. W. Burgess.)

"When did you last see Mr. Quack?" asked Jerry Muskrat, who had been listening while Mrs. Quack told Peter Rabbit about her terrible journey.

"Early yesterday morning," replied Mrs. Quack. "We were almost filling Mr. Quack's self and myself with the Big River over by the big rock that had started from the sunny Southland. How we got so far up that I can't know. But we did, and neither Mr Quack nor I had lost a feather from those terrible guns that had banged away at us all the way up, and that had killed so many of our friends.

"We were flying up the Big River and everything seemed perfectly safe. We were in a hurry, and when we came to a bend in the Big River we flew quite close to the shore so as not to have to go way out and around. That was where Mr. Quack made a mistake. Even the smartest people will make mistakes sometimes, you know."

"We were flying up the Big River and everything seemed perfectly safe."

Peter Rabbit nodded. "I know," said he. "I've made them myself." And then he wondered why Jerry Muskrat laughed right out.

"Yes," continued Mrs. Quack, "that is where Mr. Quack made a mistake, a great mistake. I suppose that because not a single gun had been fired at us that morning he thought perhaps there were no hunters on the Big River. So to save time he led us close to shore. And then it happened. There was a bang, bang of a terrible gun, and down fell Mr. Quack, just as we had seen so many fall before. It was awful. There was Mr. Quack flying in front of me on swift, strong wings, and there never was a swifter, stronger flier or a handsomer duck than Mr. Quack and then all in the wink of an eye he was tumbling helplessly down, down to the water below, and I was flying on alone, for the other ducks turned off, and I don't know what became of them. I couldn't stop to see what became of Mr. Quack, because if I had that terrible gun would have killed me. So I kept on a little way and then turned and went back, only I kept out in the middle of the Big River. I dropped down on the water and swam about calling and calling, but I didn't get any answer, and so I don't know what has become of Mr. Quack. I am afraid he was killed, and if he has I wish I had been killed myself."

Here Mrs. Quack choked up so that she couldn't say another work.

Peter's wife was very sorry for Mrs. Quack, for Peter had told her how brave Mr. Quack had been when Peter was killed and how he had stood by Mrs. Quack and helped her. Peter Rabbit felt very sorry for Mrs. Quack, and who wouldn't? Mr. Quack had been very kind and helpful to Peter, and Peter had grown very fond of him. Peter felt that he would have been only too glad to help Mrs. Quack in her trouble, though I don't see how he could have been of any more help without Mr. Quack than with him. Peter thought for a long time. Finally he said: "The Big River is no place for Mrs. Quack and her children. It is a long way to the shore, and if they were to go over the fields along the banks, I think I'll be pretty safe. I'll be careful, anyway, and I'll be back pretty soon. Nothing will happen to me. You folks who live always right at home have a great deal to be thankful for."

"It's lucky for me that Mrs. Peter wasn't here to hear her say that," said Peter, as he and Jerry Muskrat watched Mrs. Quack fly swiftly toward the Big River. "Mrs. Peter is forever worrying and scolding because I don't stay in the dear Old Briar Patch. If she had heard Mrs. Quack say that I never would have had heard the last of it. I wish there was something we could do for Mrs. Quack. I'm going back to the dear Old Briar Patch to think it over, and I guess the sooner I start the better, for that looks to me like Reddy Fox over there, and he's headed this way."

So off for home started Peter, lippety-lippety-lip, as fast as he could go, and all the way there he was turning over in his mind all that Mrs. Quack had told him, and trying to think of some way to help her.

WHAT GIRLS MAY DO
BY JESSIE ROBERTS

DOES PATIENCE PAY?

The Shop Talk Club was busily discussing the virtues of the model employee. Rose began it by saying she didn't think that patience paid. "The girl who aims at being a perfect employee and who sticks to it patiently at work, think I, is apt to lose her speed limit and to fulfil all the obligations of her position carefully, is often the girl who just sticks at that one job all her life. I think a girl needs a different viewpoint. She ought to put herself first, her job second."

Sounds like rank heresy," Belle remarked. "And what better can you do for than being a perfect employee?"

I think I get Rose's idea," Margaret said, finishing her chocolate and beginning to draw on her gloves. "She means that if you centre too much on being just what the boss wants you to be, in the position you hold, you'll stick right in that position the rest of your natural life. You'll fit it so well that no one will want to stir you. The people who get ahead are those who use whatever the present job may be simply as a step to something better."

That's the idea," agreed Rose. "I mean that if you patiently await promotion if you are content to stay set and some one comes along and asks you to step on ahead, you'll keep a-setting. If your employer had been satisfied to be patient, do you think he would be where he is now?"

We were all inclined to agree with Rose.

"You ought never to work in a small circle," as Belle put it. "You ought to work in a segment of a big, a very big, circle. Don't get to thinking that the employers are in a different circle from yours, but simply that they are farther along your own circle, and that some day you mean to be an employer yourself."

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENCE

All correspondence for this department should be addressed to Margaret Currie.

All communications must have name and address signed.

Please address legal and military questions to Editor Notes and Queries.

WILLIAM LANCASHIRE.

I have given your letter to the editor of "Notes and Queries," who will reply to it in his column.

BETTY.

Madame T., Madame R. de L., Mrser, to whiten the neck.

(2) Massage treatment is the best thing for the hair. Curling irons are bad for it.

A CONSTANT READER, CORNWALL.

If you will write to the circulation manager, enclosing stamp, he will send you a copy of the paper of the date you wish.

JOYCE.

1. It is possiblbe your underskirt is too full for the outside skirt, and that may cause it to "ride up." 2. Yes, you may use pure white soap in conjunction with gasoline for cleaning purposes.

JEANNETTE.

1 Kaiser is pronounced Ki-ser (the "i" is long). 2. Kéwpie is pronounced Kew-pee. 3. Recipe in Economy Corner.

THE ENGAGEMENT RING.

Does the man choose the engagement ring himself, or is the lady's taste consulted.

SNOOKS.

Ans.—I think the man usually asks the girl what style of ring she prefers.

DWARF AND STRAWBERRIES.

1. Write to Macdonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, for information about the cultivation of mushrooms, strawberries, etc. 2. I note you wish poems entitled "The Life Story of David Garrick," and "The Anien Corner." Referred to readers.

FURS.

Will you please tell me what one could do to prevent the hair from coming out of a red fox muff? The muff has been worn very little and is the genuine fur, as I bought the fox from a trapper.

PERPLEXED.

Ans. I am sorry, but I know of nothing you could do.

OLD TAR.

In speaking of an old sailor, do you know if they call them "Old Tar," or have they been nicknamed thus. I've heard it said that they call sailors Tars. I would like to know. Thanking you for same.

J. E. B.

Ans. "Jack Tar" is the nickname for a sailor. "Old Salt" is another.

BLONDE OR BRUNETTE?

To settle an argument I would be pleased if you would advise me the following. If a person has dark hair and dark eyes and fair skin, are they fair or dark, or if a person has fair hair, light eyes and dark skin are they dark. In other words, how do you tell whether a person is fair or dark, is it by hair, eyes or skin?

Ans.—I should say you would judge by the hair and eyes.

WEDDING COSTUME.

I am to be married at a private house during the evening, will it be correct to wear my hat and gloves; the same as if it were an afternoon wedding. I am to be wearing a dress.

"IGNORAMUS."

Ans.—You do not tell me if you are wearing the conventional white wedding dress, or a colored dress. If white, the veil is more usual, but you may wear a hat if you choose. If your dress is colored, a hat will be better.

CANADA'S POPULATION.

Will you kindly give me the address of any school or schools where evening classes are held, for drawing from life and the antique.

Has Canada had 8,000,000 (or over) population? If so, please give figures.

What day of the week was November 17th, 1892?

F. H. STANWAY.

1. Drawing classes of this kind are held by the Council of Arts and Manufactures in the Monument National, 296 St. Lawrence Boulevard. 2. In 1914, Canada's population was estimated to be 8,075,000. 3. Thursday.

LILLY R.

I have repeatedly stated in this column that I think a girl is very foolish to lend her jewellery to a man. Certainly, ask for your ring.

CITIES.

Will you be kind enough to tell me the exact population of Montreal (late census), together with its suburbs, Westmount, Notre Dame de Grace and Maisonneuve.

Also the population of Three Rivers, Que.; Calgary, Alta.; St. Catharines, Ont., and Dawson City, Yukon.

Please tell me something about the latter; how to get there. What is the nearest railway station, and is it on the C. P. R. line.

ROSEBUD.

Ans.—Montreal, estimated, 1915, 617,130; at census of 1911, 466,197; Notre Dame de Grace is part of the city, estimated, 1911, 14,318; Maisonneuve, estimated 1915, 39,070; 1911, 18,674.

Three Rivers, estimated, 1914, 1900; Calgary, estimated, 1914, 81,161; St. Catharines, estimated 1914, 14,471. Dawson, census of 1911, 7,142. It is easy to get to Dawson; it is not on the Canadian Pacific Railway, but any Canadian Pacific Railway ticket office will tell you how to reach it.

ELIHU. (REQUESTED.)

(Alice Carey.)

"O Sailor, tell me, tell me true,
Is my little lad, my Elihu
A sailing in your ship?
The sailor's eyes were dimmed with dew,
"Your little lad? your Elihu?"
He said with trembling lip.
"What little lad, what ship?"

What little lad?" as if there could be Another such — one as he?
"What little lad, do you say?"
"Why, Elihu, that took to the sea
The moment I put him off my knee,
It was just the other day
The 'Gray Swan' sailed away."

The other day? The sailor's eyes
Stood wide open with surprise.
"The other day?—the Swan?"
His heart began in his throat to rise.
"Ay, ay, sir, here in the cupboard lies
The jacket he had on."
"And so your lad is gone!"

"Gone with the Swan," "And did she stand
With her anchor clutching hold of the sand,
For a month, and never stir?"
"Why, to be sure I've seen from the land,
Like a lover kissing his lady's hand,
The wild sea kissing her
A sight to remember, sir."

"But, my good mother, do you know
All this was twenty years ago?
I stood on the Gray Swan's deck,
And to that lad I saw you throw—
Taking it off, as it might be so—
The kerchief from your neck;
Ay, and he'll bring it back.

"And did the little lawless lad,
That has made you sick, and made you sad,
Sail with the Gray Swan's crew?"
"Lawless! the man is going mad;
The best boy mother ever had;
Be sure, he sailed with the crew—
What would you have him do?"

"And he has never written line,
Nor sent you word, nor made you sign,
To say he was alive?"
"Hold—if 'twas wrong, the wrong is mine;
Besides, he may be in the brine;
And could he write from the grave?
Tut, man; what would you have?"

"Gone twenty years! a long long cruise;
"'Twas wicked thus your love to abuse;
But if the lad still live,
And come back home, think you you can
Forgive him?" "Miserable man!
You're mad as the sea; you rave—
What have I to forgive?"

The sailor twitched his shirt so blue,
And from within his bosom drew
The kerchief. She was wild;
"My God!—my Father!—it is true?
My little lad—my Elihu?
And is it?—is it?—is it you?
My blessed boy—my child—
My dead—my living child!"

Sent in by Mr. L. Weinman, 39 Benoit street.

Editorial note—Many thanks.

DREYFUS CASE.

For Ethel M.—Alfred Dreyfus (of Jewish extraction), is now a general in the French Army. As a captain he was condemned by a military secret tribunal ona charge of divulging secrets in 1894 to a foreign power (Germany), and condemned to imprisonment for life on Devil's Island, in French Guina. At a new trial in 1899 he was again found guilty and sentenced to a milder form of imprisonment for ten years. Strenuous efforts on his behalf eventually secured a pardon. In 1906 he was completely exonerated and reinstated in the army, reaching the rank of general and becoming a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

(2) The Scripture says: "Which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit," and I'm afraid there is nothing you can do to make yourself taller.

FLOOD AND FIRE.

1. Could you tell me when the last flood was? (2) Also when the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery on King or Queen street was burnt down. (3) I would like to know if there is a St. Bridget Church in Toronto, Ont., as I would like to know how I am to find out how to write there and find information about some personal matter.

Mrs. W. C.

Ans. (1) The last great flood in Montreal was on April 17 and 18, 1886, when great damage was done. (2) The Queen street building was burned in 1887.

(3) I'm sorry I don't know, but there is a correspondence column in the Toronto Daily Star, and I am sure, if you send a stamped, addressed envelope, the editor of that column will be glad to send you information.

KIPLING'S VERSE.

(1) I have found frequent references in Kipling and other authors to a poem of the formers in which the following stanza, or part of one, (I quote from memory and may have made a slip or two.)

"What did the Colonel's lady think?
Nobody ever knew.
I asked the canteen(?) Sergeant's wife
And she told me true!
For the Colonel's lady and Julia O'Grady
Are sisters under their skins,
And I learned about women from her."

—Barrack Room Ballad.

In spite of the title given, I have looked in vain in two editions of the Barrack Room Ballads with other verse attached.

I should therefore be obliged if you could tell me in what collection of Kipling's verse I could find this much quoted poem; and if it is not too long, if you could publish it.

(2) I should also like to know whether the correct plural of Sergeant-Major is Sergeant-Majors, or Sergeants-Major. The Red books use the former, but the Irish Rangers use the latter in their recruiting bulletins.

PLATOON SERGEANT

Ans.—(1) The correct form of the verse is:

"What did the Colonel's lady think?
Nobody ever know.
Somebody asked the Sergeant's wife,
An' she told 'em true!
When you get to a man in the case,
They're like as a row of pins—
For the Colonel's Lady an' Judy O'Grady
Are sisters under their skins.

It is from a poem called "The Ladies," Barrack Room Ballads, 1892-1896. Collected Verse by Rudyard Kipling, published by The Copp-Clark Co., Toronto.

(2) It appears there is no definite rule. As a fact, it is optional, or determined by usage, but the leaning is towards Sergeants-Major, as in the case of Governors-General.

OCEAN TIDES.

Kindly let me know how far the ocean tide comes up the St. Lawrence river.

AN ENQUIRER.

Ans.—Tide on the St. Lawrence ceases to be felt at Three Rivers, Que.

C. BELRACH.

I am sorry. I do not know the people you mention and I would suggest your writing to the paper which, you say, gave a notice of their performance.

Today's Household Affairs
By MARY LEE.

A correspondent in New England sends me the following letter, which I pass on to my reader:

"I never see anything in your columns about ways to prepare codfish. Up here in New England, you know, it is the staff of life, and since the use of codfish as a meat substitute has the recommendation of the Federal Department of Agriculture, I think we New England women should share our knowledge of ways to prepare it, which will be a change from the codfish ball and creamed codfish that seem to be the only ways in which codfish appears in other parts of the country.

"This recipe is what is called 'masked codfish.' I don't know where the name originated, or the reason for it—unless because it is hard to believe the dish is merely ordinary codfish.

"Cook a cupful of picked-up codfish twenty minutes; to this add three cupfuls of mashed potato (freshly cooked and hot), a third of a cup of melted butter, half a cup of cream and one teaspoonful of scraped onion. Beat all these together until the mass is light and foamy. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Add half a cup of sweet pepper chopped fine and one tablespoonful of parsley. Mix these in thoroughly. Butter a baking dish (be sure to butter the sides as well as the bottom) and bake in a hot oven twenty minutes, or until the top is a uniform delicate brown. When this is turned out on a hot platter it should keep its shape perfectly. The dish may be garnished to suit individual taste with lettuce leaves or points of toasted bread, or sprinkled with minced olives, red peppers, or bits of parsley.

"Codfish au gratin is another popular dish with us:

"Shred half a cup of salt cod, cover with cold water, and after it comes to a boil let it simmer fifteen minutes. Drain and dry in a cheesecloth so that the moisture will be absorbed, then add three cups of hot mashed potatoes, three tablespoonfuls of melted butter, half a cup of rich cream, and three well-beaten eggs. Season to taste. Put in a baking dish — in which it may be served. Sprinkle the top with finely grated cheese, in which has been mixed a little salt and paprika. Bake for twenty minutes in a hot oven. This also may be garnished with sprigs of parsley before serving.

"Let me just suggest the secret of the difference between the New England codfish ball and that which appears in other parts of the country. As this is a breakfast dish, the ingredients are usually prepared the night before in order to save time in the morning. Therefore, the potatoes are mashed and ready at least twelve hours before they are to be used. The secret of success is: Use only freshly boiled and mashed potatoes if you want light codfish cakes."

A SPORTS COSTUME IN THE LATEST STLYE

By MAY MANTON

Price 15 Cents Each.

8976 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Double-Breasted Coat, with or without Box Plaits, 34 to 42 Bust.

8926 (With Basting Line and Added Seam Allowance) Four-Piece Skirt, 24 to 34 Waist.

In these days of sports costume is absolutely essential to every wardrobe. This coat is quite new. It may be made as it is here with applied box plaits or without them to become a perfectly plain coat, also the neck may be finished with or without a draped collar that is extended to form scarf ends. The skirt is in four pieces, circular at the sides and back.

For the medium size the coat will require 4¾ yards of material 36 inches wide, with 1¾ yards 7 inches wide for the sash and 1¾ yards 7 inches wide for the scarf collar and for the skirt 5½ yards.

The pattern of the coat 8976 is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 bust measure, and the skirt 8926 in sizes from 24 to 34 waist measure.

They will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of fifteen cents for each.

DAILY STAR PATTERN COUPON

The price of each pattern is 15c. City readers must call at The Star Branch Office, 45 Union Avenue, above St. Catherine street, for patterns. Out-of-town readers will be served by mail. Orders are filled from our factory in New York, and take a week or ten days, for which readers should allow.

For Ladies, give Bust Measurement. For Misses and Children, give age only. For Skirt give Waist Measurement.

Make Yours a Morning Visit!

The bright, morning sunshine, streaming through the windows of our display-rooms, will add to your appreciation of the beauty of our new spring goods. It is reflected from the polished surface of fine mahogany; it brings out the soft lustre of satin-finished rosewood, and the rich black of ebony; the daintiness of ivory and French grey bedroom suites is delightfully emphasized, and its brilliance brings out the myriad colours of carpets, tapestries, figured cretonne upholstery, art wall-paper, silken lampshades, antique bronzes, and all the other exhibits in this "exposition of de luxe furnishings."

You will enjoy a morning visit to these show-rooms. There are not as many other visitors as later in the day, and you will have more time for a leisurely inspection. Many of the articles have interesting stories attached to them, facts about their origin, materials, and manufacture, that our salespeople are glad to tell you if you will inquire of them.

Come with an open mind—not necessarily to buy, but simply to look around. If you see nothing that you wish to purchase, you will at least enjoy seeing the many new and beautiful articles that have been assembled for the Spring season. If any article appeals especially to you, you will find the price upon it in plain figures. That price is likely to surprise you with its reasonableness. Artistic beauty is not necessarily an expensive virtue—it is often simply a result of more skilful handling of materials.

If you have definite needs in mind, you will be promptly directed to the proper department, where you will find the goods you wish, in a wide variety of styles and prices.

FINAL DELAY IN ELECTRICAL CASE

A final delay of ten days, within which the various parties to the dispute as to the advisability of having high and low tension wires in the one conduit, with common manholes as mode of ingress thereto, has been granted by the Quebec Utilities Commission.

At the expiration of this delay, the Electrical Commission and all the various electrical companies interested, must appear before a joint session of the Railway Board of Canada and the Quebec Utilities Commission. The latter announces that it will hear no further argument but will hand down final judgment, unless the parties have before that date reached an amicable agreement.

ATTRACTIVE SUMMER HAUNTS

The Delaware and Hudson Company's office in this City have received from their General Passenger Agent at Albany a very handsomely illustrated little booklet giving a list of camps and cottages located along the line of The Delaware and Hudson Railroad, this book containing special information in regard to places along Lake Champlain, Lake Placid, Lake George, Adirondack Mountains, etc. This book would be of value to anyone desiring a good site for a cottage or camp to spend their summer vacation or a few days' holiday.

DISMISSES SUIT OVER LAND DEAL

Because A. Themens and his associates in a syndicate, when buying a block of land specially agreed that if the land contained more than seventy arpents they would benefit; and if it contained less, they would stand the loss, Mr. Justice Lane has dismissed their action against E. McDuff, the seller.

The sale price was $50,000 and the buyers, after acquiring the holdings, found that the land contained a little over fifty-four arpents. They sued, claiming that the sale was one by measure but Mr. Justice Lane found that, by the deed itself, the transaction was unequivocally one without reference to measurement.

Admits Setting 50 Fires in Two Months

NEW YORK, April 3. — Arrested early today in the act, the police say, of setting fire to a tenement which houses twenty-two families, Edward C. Clarke, a janitor's helper, confessed to having started at least fifty blazes in the Harlem district since January 20.

"Drink did it," was his excuse. "When I get drunk I get crazy and wanted to see the firemen work."

CAN GERMANY BREAK THROUGH AT VERDUN?

SUCH meagre news as the cables bring us over the week-end show but slight change on any of the various fronts. By the employment of a great number of men—dispatches say no less than four brigades were used—the Germans managed to gain possession of the site of the village of Vaux after the place had been practically blown off the map by concentrated artillery and grenade assaults during a period of twelve hours. No doubt Berlin will make the most of this capture, but a glance at the map shows there is no need for discouragement on the part of our Allies. Vaux lies farthest east of all the Verdun fortresses, forming the angle of a salient and so more completely exposed to attacks from two sides. By taking it the Germans have captured the point of the projecting angle, but the French have been quick to begin the work of straightening out their line, which is now drawn south of the town. Vaux is a loss, but not a critical one. The large body of troops which would be required to hold an advanced position of this kind will no doubt be more profitably employed further on. Elsewhere in the Verdun region all German assaults have been unsuccessful, with heavy losses, the cessation of the enemy advance marking the beginning of a French counter-attack, which has more than once gained its objective.

It is now quite obvious that the great German offensive against Verdun has completely altered in character, changing from the open assault which marked the first two awful weeks to what is now a well-defined siege action. As such the final result depends on the price Germany is prepared to pay for it. The action of Friday night shows that this is high: four brigades are not usually employed to clear a handful of ruins. If, for reasons known to herself, Germany is prepared to besiege Verdun with the same ghastly extravagance in German blood which marked her unsuccessful attempts to storm it and if she is given sufficient time and freedom from pressing attack on other fronts, she may conceivably succeed in carrying the whole position.

These are big "ifs," however. German losses since the attack on Verdun was launched have been enormous. Should the trench-to-trench attack be continued, the deadly grappling for every foot of the miles of ground covered by the great ring fortress, the "butcher bill" will mount to a figure which even a fanatical Hohenzollern dynast may hesitate to pay.

* * * * *

Again it is not probable that either we or our Allies will give the enemy leisure to pursue his Verdun plans in peace. The British forces have already given the enemy another taste of their mettle at St. Eloi. Although temporarily halted by thaws and unplumbable mud, the Russians are in much better position and condition this spring than they were last, and will be at the throats of the foe just as soon as drying roads and fields enable the big guns to be moved. Our Italian Allies are also surging forward through the "back door of Austria." It may be that at any time now the signal will shrill out along the trenches where our own boys stand on tip toe to be up and at them, and the "great drive" for which we have been preparing during so many weary months will be launched at last. In a word if Germany intends to subdue the great ring fortress of Verdun, she must do so with the least possible delay. A little later will be too late for her, and it is the realization of this which is inspiring the present desperate attacks with their fearful butchery.

CAPT. SHAUGHNESSY, MUSTERED OUT.

THERE will be deep and genuine grief throughout Montreal today at the heavy news of the death in action of that brave officer and gallant gentleman, Captain the Honorable A. T. Shaughnessy, of the 50th Battalion. Life must have seemed very fair to "Fred" Shaughnessy when the bugle sounded the call to him to leave it. Yet all the things which make life worth living to most men were light in the balance when weighed against that which he considered his duty. In the presence of the supreme sacrifice offered up by such men as "Fred" Shaughnessy, we can only stand, reverently, with uncovered head, tendering to their sacred memories a realizing sense of the incalculable debt which we and all humanity owe to them, and to those others to whom the lives gone out were inexpressibly near and dear, our heartfelt and respectful sympathy.

Of such men as the late Capt. Shaughnessy it was once said: "The world . . . . . can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain, that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

A SECOND AMERICAN "DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE."

THE meeting of the American Rights Association in Carnegie Hall, New York, the other day, marked the official birth of the new spirit among our southern neighbors. Hitherto much of the opinion expressed has been the result of either direct or inherited racial sympathies. The pro-German or the pro-Ally is what he is because of a more or less close connection with one or other of the belligerents. Purely "American" opinion has been largely inarticulate, save that part of it—necessarily an inconsiderable one—which has found expression in print. But with the great New York meeting of the other day we, as outside observers, must reckon with a new force, the appearance of an articulate and vigorous national opinion unswayed by interest or prejudice, the voice, as it were, of the soul of the nation.

That is why the meeting of the American Rights Association was one of the most significant happenings in America since the war began, why the statement of the belief of its founders, subscribed to now by tens of thousands of American citizens, is of more than passing importance. It says in part:

"Our eyes have been opened to facts which were not fully revealed when we adopted a policy of neutrality, and the situation which confronts us today is not that which confronted us in August, 1914. Then we were admonished to remain neutral towards the European crisis; today we are involved in a world-crisis. Then we followed the traditional American policy of non-interference in European political struggles; today we are called upon to champion the immutable and universal rights of man. Then we tried to maintain neutrality of thought as well as of word and deed; today the Teutonic Allies have forced upon us issues which render neutrality not merely impossible, but utterly repugnant to the moral conscience of the nation. Through our fuller knowledge of the events which precipitated the war, of the manner in which it has been prosecuted by the Teutonic Allies, and of the enormous schemes for Teutonic aggrandizement, we have come to understand that a theory and method of government which we abhor is being forced upon the world by military might, and that all those human liberties which our nation was founded to maintain are today imperilled by the possibility of a Teutonic triumph.

"In the face of these assaults upon democratic government and human liberties, the America people have abadoned an impossible neutrality of thought and are today hoping and praying for the defeat of Teutonic arms and the triumph of those principles for which the Entente Allies are fighting.

"We believe that the time has come for an authoritative expression of American sentiment on the moral issues of the war."

And upon this firm foundation, this second American Declaration of Independence, there has been established a certain definite doctrine which is, we take it, the reasoned belief of the nation. To quote again:

1 "We believe that there is a morality of nations which requires every Government to observe its treaty obligations and to order its conduct with a decent respect to the opinions of mankind.

2 "We believe that the Teutonic Powers have repudiated the obligations of civilized nations and have raised issues which lift the present struggle from the sphere of European political disputes to a crisis involving all humanity.

3 "We believe that in the face of such a world crisis our people cannot remain neutral, and our Government should not remain silent.

4 "We condemn the aims of the Teutonic Powers, and we denounce as barbarous their methods of warfare.

5 "We believe that the Entente Allies are engaged in a struggle to prevent the domination of the world by armed force, and are striving to guarantee to the smallest nation its rights to an independent and peaceful existence.

6 "We believe that the progress of civilization and the free development of the principles of democratic government depend upon the success of the Entente Allies.

7 "We believe that our duty to humanity, and respect for our national honor demand that our Government take appropriate action to place the nation on record as unalterably opposed to the aims and methods of the Teutonic Alliance and as deeply in sympathy with the efforts of the Entente Allies to remove the menace of Prussian militarism."

It has taken American citizens a long time to find their voices, but now they are using them to some effect. The American Rights Association speaks for the country with certainty and authority.

Villa has lost a leg, according to today's despatches. This is quite satisfactory so far as it goes, but that is not far enough. Villa must lose at least his head before he becomes an altogether agreeable Mexican.

In nothing has Britain's attitude toward the enemy been more admirable than where the Zeppelins are concerned. Despite frequent raids, which accomplish nothing but murder, there is no panic, no hysteria, above all no general demand for reprisals in kind. But quietly and grimly Britain prepares hotter and hotter receptions for the baby-killers of the night. German losses in the last raid were heavy. Very soon they will be so heavy that raiding will be no longer profitable and then, and then only, they will stop.

THE WORLD'S PRESS

The Allies Will Not Stop

New York Press:—Berlin may realize that the war is lost already in the sense that it can never be won. Berlin may see all the rest that lies ahead in the way of failure, defeat and retribution. But Germany is not yet in the position, it may be many months before she is placed in the position, where the Allies can compel upon her such terms as to the present and such conditions as to the future which they mean to compel upon Germany before they shall ever be willing to negotiate the close of the war. This situation, in truth, might be summed up as one where Germany wants to stop now but cannot; the Allies will not.

The French "Stocking"

Edinburgh Review:—Those marvellous "stockings" that the French peasant woman knits and fills have really no parallel here, though our Savings Banks are some indication of what we might do if we chose. If the French Opeasantry today were securing the wages that men and women and children are obtaining in Rngland, vast reserves would be built up with amazing speed; reserves, it must be remembered, not ordered to be created by law, but brought into existence by the habit of carefulness of mind, by the applied sumptuary ideals which are apart of the moral structure of their lives. We in our excess of freedom have lost these ideals in the very belief that we could best retain them by not resisting upon theN.

Von Tirpitz's Tender Heart.

New York Sun:—The task of rehabilitating Admiral von Tirpitz in the world's esteem has been undertaken already. We are in receipt of circumstantial stories of the progress of remorse and sorrow in his heart; of tears shed over brave young officers lost in the mysterious traps set for them by the British; of grave impairment of his mental and physical powers beginning with that triumph of undersea war, the murder of the Lusitania's women and children. We can well believe von Tirpitz found the responsibility that fell on him impressive. Yet by mere observance of the recognized customs of humanity, the operations of the submarines could have been raised from thedreadful level on which they were put to the honorable plane of civilized warfare.

The Zeppelin Raids

London Times:—Not a single military or nava structure of any kind was injured. But two terraces of houses were destroyed—one at least of which, as we know, consisted wholly of workmen's houses—a public house, a cafe, and several shops were wrecked, and a block of almshouses was badly damaged. Three sisters were killed in one house; a mother and four little children in another. If the Germans really imagine that deeds of this kind will have any moral effect upon the English people but one,they are exhibiting once more their utter incompetence to understand us. Their outrages visited upon the poor, the weak, and the helpless only deepen the resolve of the whole nation o fight on until the Prussian "militarism" which anctions and applauds these methods of barbarism is finally and completely destroyed.

The New Empire Partnership.

Canadian Gazette:—The war has already knit the British Empire together in an economic sense far more closely than the general public imagines. There is, for instance, no important part of the financial or industrial life of Canada which has not been mobilised, so to say, for the war purposes od the whole Empire, and the history of the Napoleonic crisis shows that these war arrangements—export and import prohibitions and the like—persist long after peace is declared. The new economic partnership of the Empire created by the war will therefore be the basis from which we must start our after-war atrrangements, and we hope it is not too much to expect that every administrative and legislative means will be taken both here and in the Dominions to give them a far more complete and permanent efficiency. It will also, we believe, be found of great advantage to Canada that, in seeking to realize her hopes as an exporting country, she will negotiate with France, Russia, Italy, Japan and other Allied countries as a full accredited partner in the great British concern. Russia, for instance, has much that she wants to sell in England, and little that she wants to sell in Canada, and Canada might expect to get a far better entry for her goods in the Russian market were she carrying on her negotiations as a fully accredited partner of England.

The Limit of Toleration.

New York Times:—Ever since the war began German-Americans have been constantly complaining that those of their neighbors whose sympathies were with the Allies—a large majority of the American people, unquestionably—were not sufficiently heedful of the fact that, officially, this is a neutral country. Admitting that those of us favoring the Allies should have considered more carefully the feelings of neighbors differently aligned, what is to be said of the sitting up in Madison Square Garden by those neighbors of dummies dressed in British, French and Russian uniforms, and the using of them by German men and women in great numbers as targets for rifle practice. Apparently it has not occurred to these marksmen and markswomen, or to those who encourage their efforts and applaud their skill, that there are other people in the United States who have sensibilities to be offended, others here who have European friends, relatives and ancestors, and others who, however strong their affiliations with one or all of the Entente Powers, have as yet reframed from and such manifestation of their partialities as this. Many things trying to the patience of the American majority have been said and done at the German bazaar. Till now they have escaped even criticism. But this form of target practice approaches, if it does not exceed, the limits of toleration. It is equally obnoxious in manners as in morals, and it reveals either an astounding indifference to prevailing public sentiment or a more astounding ignorance of it.

WHO SLEEPS?

Midnight and England; in the curtained room
Shadow upon grey shadow creeps
Till black, all conquering, dominates the gloom,
And darkness cries—who sleeps?

Who sleeps—the bride? She girt him for the fight,
Gay when her happy warrior went.
Now empty arms she stretches to the night
With passionate lament.

Who sleeps—the old man? Up the wind-swept street
He heard a brown battalion come.
And all night long his weary worn old feet
Keep measure with the drum.

Who sleeps—the mother? Immemorial throes
Torture her heart and labored breath;
This hour, it may be, her beloved goes
Undaunted into death.

Who sleeps—the barren woman, for her breast
Passion, nor pain, nor rapture stirs?
She wakes and watches for the first and best,
A thousand sons are hers.

On desolated far-off fields, who sleep?
We know not, but through summers green,
We know their rigid hands that hold, will keep
The flag of England clean.

Who sleeps? Faint and forsworn, no sentinel
Between the trenches' snarling lips;
Not one on guard where moonlit waters swell
Under the battleships.

They sleep not for whom furnace smoke-clouds roll,
Nor they who [illegible] care,
Armor laid on the anvil of her soul
And hammered out with prayer.

Who sleeps—your God on His eternal hill,
And Zion falls, and Rachel weeps?
Captain of hosts and our salvation still,
He slumbers not nor sleeps.

—Eleanor Alexander in London Times.

THE WINE AND SPIRIT HOUSE OF THE DOMINION.

FOR UPWARDS OF 30 YEARS NOW

Without a break, we have been catering regularly every year to our Jewish Fellow-Citizens for their Great Annual Festival.

THE FEAST OF THE PASSOVER

This year our Passover Department will be opened and ready for business on Monday, the 10th inst.

We know of no class in the community that is more particular about what they eat and what they drink than the Jewish people and especially for the Passover Holidays.

EVERYTHING MUST BE STRICTLY KOSHER.

Some years ago, at the request of Mr. E. Lewin-Epstein, manager of the Carmel Wine Company of New York and Palestine, we accepted the agency for Canada of the Carmel Wines and Carmel Cognacs, and we are bound to say—after an experience in the Wine and Spirit business of Canada of close on to 50 years—now we have never known of or handled than those we import from Palestine from the Grandes' Caves de Rishon le-Zion.

BETTER OR PURER WINES AND SPIRITS

Here they are, and we stake our reputation on their absolute purity and superior quality.

If mixed IN THE GLASS with one-third of mineral water, the white wine gets a champagne-like taste and is refreshing and appetizing.

These wines are sugar-free and are recommended as fine tonics for diabetics.

Carmel Wines

TABOR.—CARMEL TABOR wines are of the finest Tokay wines obtainable, absolutely pure and highly delicious in taste and bouquet. They are highly recommended for the sick and convalescent by prominent authorities.

BARZEL.—The natural remedy for Anaemia and Chlorosis is iron, which is prescribed by physicians in the form of various mixtures, among which iron wine is the most popular.

The Carmel Iron Wine BARZEL is one of the most wholesome and delicious iron wines.

REHOBOTH and EZRA. — These Carmel Port Wines are made from Spanish Alicante species, and superior to similar Spanish and French Wines, as they are not concentrated by the process of cooking.

MISRA.—The sweet wines MISRA are highly delicious and contain much natural iron. They are BLOOD-MAKING wines.

AKRON and PINAH.—These wines are made entirely and exclusively of Muscatel and Malaga grapes, respectively.

COGNACS.—The cognacs of the Carmel Wine Co. are a PURE WINE DISTILLATION of choice grapes. They contain the volatile constituents of wine, such as the acetic and oenanthic ethers of genuine grape spirit, and are free from fusel oil.

WHITE WINES.—The CARMEL WHITE WINES rank between the best Rhine wines and the genuine Sauternes, and are made of the finest Haut-Sauternes and Sauternes species.

CLARETS.—CARMEL CLARETS come from the best Bordeaux species of grapes transplanted to Palestine and enhanced in value by the richest of iron in the soil.

To prevent adulterations, the Carmel Wines and Cognacs are sold IN BOTTLES ONLY, bearing the Registered Label, Trade Mark and Seal of the Carmel Wine Co.

The Carmel Wines and Cognacs do not contain any preservatives. They are natural grape wines and of good age. COGNAC 'CARMEL' is of the Best Quality.

FROM THE STAR FILES

THIRTY YEARS AGO.

The Late Baron Leighton.

"London, April 3.—Sir Frederic Leighton, A. R. A., and John Millais, A.R.A., have been elected members of the Academy of Arts at Berlin."—From The Montreal Star, April 3, 1886.

The late Baron Leighton, 1830-1896, English painter and sculptor, won his first success with "Cimabue's Madonna, carried through the streets of Florence," exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1855. This work, differing from that of the pre-Raphaelites so popular at the time, was purchased by Queen Victoria. Thackeray wrote of him to the young Millais, "Here is a versatile young dog who will run you close for the presidentship one of these days."

By such pictures as "Paolo and Francesca," "The Star of Bethlehem," etc., Leighton rose rapidly to the head of his profession. The main effort of his later life was to realize visions of beauty suggested by classic myth and history.

Leighton was elected an Academician in 1868, and succeeded Sir Francis Grant as president in 1878, when he was knighted. He was created a baronet in 1886, and raised to the peerage in 1896 a few days before his death.

The accompanying picture of Lord Leighton is after the portrait painted by himself in 1891 for the Uffizi Gallery in Florence.

"Advices from all parts of the province report great inconvenience and considerable damage as a result of freshets and floods. The Chateauguay Valley is suffering heavily."—From The Montreal Star, April 3, 1886.

"Cincinnati, April 3.—The Ohio River is flooding railway tracks in this district."—From The Montreal Star, April 3, 1886.

"Chattanooga, Tenn., April 3. — The floods have forced several families to move from the lower lands. Only one train has entered the city this week."—From The Montreal Star, April 3, 1886.

AN ELECTION TRICK.

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star:

Montreal, March 31, 1916.

Sir,—A letter is being circulated among the Pratestant clergy of Montreal asking them to use their influenoe against Controller McDonald on the ground of his religion. No intelligent person will be influenced by this letter, first because he will know that all the candidates for Mayor are of the same religious faith, and second because no intelligent person will pay any attention to an anonymous letter, which is the weapon of a sneak.

The letter may, however, prejudice the minds of some who do not see its grave danger. The question of religious faith does not enter into this campaign, and it is lamentable that anyone should be attempting to put it forward.

We therefore feel that it is our duty to warn the voters of Montreal against this sinister influence.

Our sole purpose in sending this letter to the press is to protest against this unfair and dangerous method of political warfare.

(Signed), FREDERIC R. GRIFFIN, Church of the Messiah.
HUGH PEDLEY, Emmanuel Congregational Church.
HERBERT SYMONDS, Christ Church Cathedral.
M. T. McCUTCHEON, First Baptist Church.
ROBERT JOHNSON, American Presbyterian Church.
S. P. ROSE, Dominion Methodist Church.

[It was certainly no opponent of McDonald's who circulated the letter referred to. It sounds like a characteristic election trick to arouse sympathy for McDonald.]

LIFE IN EMARD WARD IS "NO CATCH."

The Editor, Montreal Daily Star.

Sir,—I have seen some remarks in your valuable paper about Emard Ward. Now, I live in Emard Ward and I can safely say that living in this ward is no cinch. If you go into the city you have to walk to the bridge that goes over the canal, but it is not going down to the city that puts people out of temper with the members of the City Council for lack of a decent tramway service, but it is the coming back at night, weary and tired out. When other people can almost ride to their doors, we poor souls of Emard Ward have to walk from the bridge, and I can tell you, Mr. Editor, I am no poet myself, nor am I a writer, but the flow of language that I have heard at that bridge would fill the soul of a poet with envy. Now, two years ago, when our retiring member was seeking the people's votes, he promised he would try to get them a decent car service. It has not arrived yet, but I think if a few of the aldermen of the city lived in Emard Ward and had to put up with the cold nights and inconveniences of having to walk perhaps twenty or thirty minutes' home it would make a wonderful difference, for which the people who live in Emard Ward would be very grateful.

Yours truly,
J. H.

Dr. Hugo Phillips, who died recently in Minneapolis, reached this country from Prussia during the Civil War and two days later enlisted and fought all through the remainder of the conflict, first in a New York regiment and later in the surgeon's corps.

DEAD WATCHMAN FOUND IN CESS PIT

Lying under fifteen feet of water, the body of William Rogers, a night watchman in the employ of the city, was recovered yesterday morning from the bottom of a cess pool on the grounds of the new Loyola College on Sherbrooke street, Notre Dame de Grace. Rogers was missing from home at 357 Wellington street, Point St. Charles, since Friday night.

Early on Friday evening fire broke out in a small temporary wooden structure used as a pumping house for removing water from the cess pool into the city sewer. The firemen extinguished the flames with two streams but not before the inside of the building was burned out. A thorough search to ascertain the cause of the outbreak was made without success.

On Saturday morning when Rogers did not return home, his family reported the matter to Capt. Marwick of the Notre Dame de Grace police station. It was also ascertained that the burned building was the one in which Rogers spent most of his evenings while on duty. A search of the grounds showed no trace of the watchman. The cess pool was the only place left, all Saturday night an engine worked to empty this and finally Roger's body was recovered. The hands and back were slightly burned, and death is thought to have been due to suffocation.

Policewomen are now employed in 26 cities. Chicago has 21; Baltimore, Los Angeles and Seattle, five each; Pittsburg, four; San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and St. Paul, three each, and Dayton, Ohio, Topeka, Kan., and Minneapolis, Minn., two each. Fifteen other cities have one each. Their pay ranges from $625 per annum in Dayton to $1,200 in San Francisco.

SOLDIER'S ARREST CAUSES A RIOT

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3.—Rioting took place Saturday night on Main street in the neighborhood of the police station on Rupert street, following on the arrest by the police of a soldier, which was resented by his comrades and men of other battalions.

The trouble started at seven o'clock, and went on intermittently until midnight, with the result that one soldier and one civilian are in hospital with severe injuries and a number of persons, including innocent civilian lookers-on, received cuts and bruises, chiefly from batons of the police.

The crowd that gathered divided its sympathies between the soldiers and the police, finding expression some times in fisticuffs. Col. Ruttan, D.O.C., finally turned out three companies and confined the mob to cross streets until the score of men under arrest had been taken away by officers.

There was something in the nature of a resumption of rioting yesterday afternoon near the police station, for which it is charged the police themselves were to blame. Another display of force sufficed to quell the disturbance, and the military authorities have the situation well in hand. It is possible that local troops will be confined to barracks for a few days.

Material damage was confined to broken glass.

Merchants and farmers in the Middle West are being brought to school in vastly increasing numbers. State universities are putting their teachers and lecturers out where they will do the most good, and the grownups are taking advantage more and more of these courses. Prosperity has brought automobiles, in which the country merchants and farmers ride away to imbibe the latest ideas in their lines.

GIVE PORTRAIT TO ROYAL EDWARD

A large portrait in oils of the late Col. Jeffrey H. Burland is shortly to be presented to the Royal Edward Institute, which he founded, by officers, members and others associated with the work, as a mark of affection and gratitude.

Edmond Dyonnet, R.C.A., secretary of the Royal Canadian Academy, has been commissioned to do the work. Col. Burland sat to him for a portrait a few years before his death. The new portrait will fill the place of honor over the fireplace in the board room. It will show a three-quarter-length seated figure.

RED CROSS FUNDS AIDED BY BAZAAR

Mrs. Ivan Wotherspoon has handed the Canadian Red Cross Society a cheque for $275, proceeds of a sale of pictures given to the bazaar held at the Windsor Hotel some months ago, and organized by the management of the Iverley Settlement. These were not sold at the time, but have now been disposed of. The proceeds, added to what was handed in June to the Red Cross Society brings the sum total realized by this bazaar up to $2,085.

ELECTION RESULTS AT THE IMPERIAL

By special arrangement with the Great North-West Telegraph Company and the newspapers, an operating table has been installed in the computing room at the City Hall and connected by direct wire with the Imperial Theatre. The election returns will be given out from the stage at intervals immediately each count is made at the City Hall.

MISSANABIE IN; 21 MONTREALERS IN 180 WOUNDED

Lieut. Ball, St. Johns, Que., Rose from Private to Adjutant

COL. DENNISON WAS IN CHARGE

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Grigg, Montreal, Among Civilians Aboard

Special to The Montreal Star.

ST. JOHN, April 3. Capt. P. Giroux, of the 12th Battalion, a former Quebec man, was among those to return on the Missanabie last night. He is coming back to Canada to take a new post. He is a close friend of Lieut.-Col J. A. Dansereau, of the 69th French-Canadian Battalion training here. Before entering military life Capt Giroux was Quebec manager of the Mutual Life Assurance Company of Australia.

Nursing Sister Johnson, formerly of Ottawa, and Nursing Sister Wess, of Quebec, were passengers on the Missanabie, returning home on a short leave of absence after a period of service on the western front.

The Missanabie brought 180 wounded Canadians in charge of Lieut. H. Col. C. T. Dennison, of Toronto.

Lieut. G. L. Ball, of the First Cavalry, a former St. Johns, Que., man, has had a remarkable career since the war began. He entered the ranks, was promoted to sergeant and on the battlefield won his commission. He is returning to become Adjutant of one of the new battalions in Quebec.

Among the prominent civilians on board were Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Grigg, of Montreal, Miss L. Harris, of Quebec and Mrs. J. E. Slocombe, of Quebec.

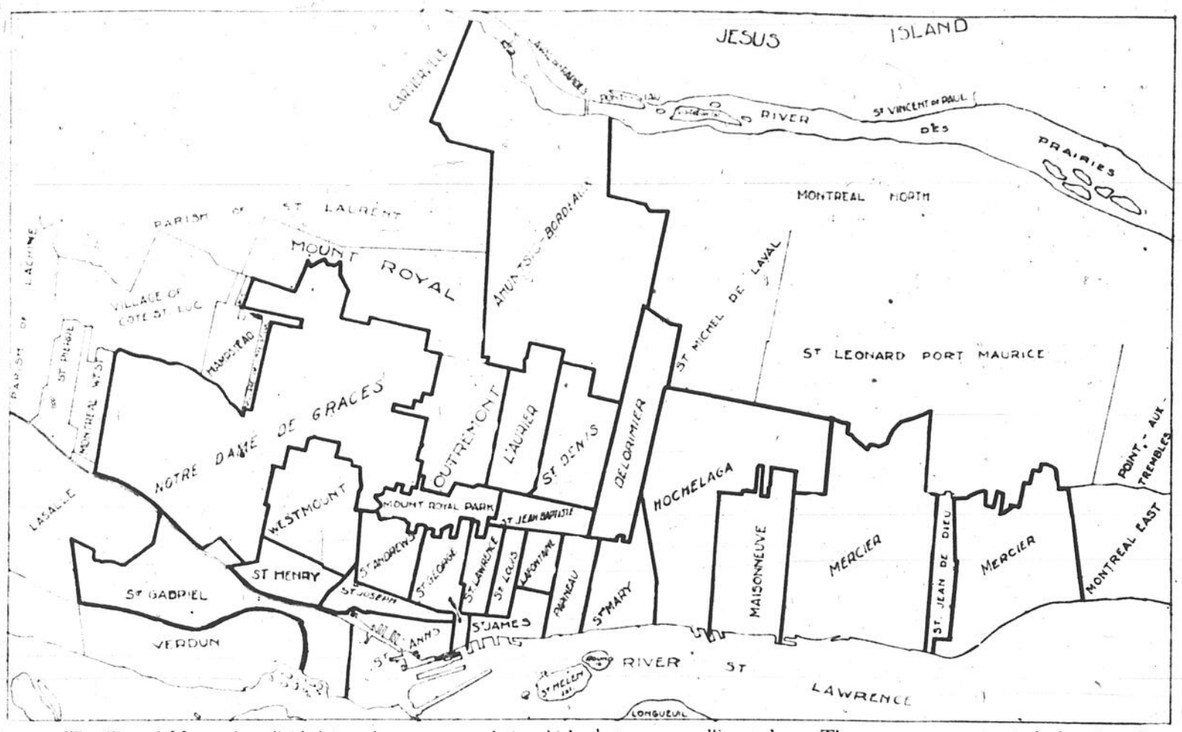
EX-ALDERMAN OF HALIFAX IS DEAD

HALIFAX, N. S., April 3. — Ex-Alderman Thomas Mitchell, one of the best-known citizens of Halifax, is dead at the age of 67. He conducted a confectionery store in Halifax for forty years and before that lived in Montreal.

MONTREAL'S TWENTY WARDS, RECENTLY RE-DISTRIBUTED



The City of Montreal re-divided into the twenty wards in which electors are polling today. The arrangement was made by city charter amendments adopted at the recent session of the Quebec Legislature. The new administration being elected today has the power to redistribute divisions in the manner it sees fit.

LAPOINTE ENDS CAMPAIGN IN A BLAZE OF GLORY

Busy Week-End Spent by Popular Candidate — Addressed Electors in Many Parts of the City— His Closing Words

Ald L. A. Lapointe, candidate for the mayoralty, closed his election campaign last night at a rousing meeting held in Latendresse Hall, Ahuntsic, attended by some 500 electors of the new Ahuntsic-Bordeaux Ward. As he pronounced his last word before the opening of the battle today, he was greeted with prolonged cheering.

As has been the custom in his election addresses, Ald. Lapointe in his last speech urged the electors to act like business men, to lay aside all questions of sentiment and vote seriously in the interests of their own pockets. Ald. Bastien acted as chairman, and among the speakers were Ernest Tremblay, T. Rheaume and J. R. Gravel.

"If you elect me mayor of Montreal tomorrow you may be sure of one thing, and that is that all questions coming before the administration during the next two years will be given serious and careful study. I can promise you that I will preside over the affairs of the city with dignity and that I will not be dragged before the courts or provoke public opinion because of my stand on questions of the day." This was Ald. Lapointe's final message.

VERY BUSY WEEK-END.

The week-end was a busy time for the candidate. No less than five meetings figured on his program yesterday, while on Saturday night Ald. Lapointe addressed a large meeting in St. Charles Hall, 220 Island street, St. Gabriel ward. Yesterday's assemblies included one at Park Extension in the forenoon after the mass, a meeting in the City Hall, Mercier Ward, at 2 o'clock, an address to Chinese electors at 6 Lagauchetiere street at 4, a final message to the Jewish electors in Prince Arthur Hall at 5, and the Ahuntsic meeting in the evening.

Point St. Charles received Ald. Lapointe with a gratifying welcome on Saturday night, when he spoke in St Charles Hall. Addressing an audience of several hundred electors, Ald. Lapointe indignantly repudiated suggestions made in certain sections of the English press of Montreal that he had been "mixed up with the crooks" during his sixteen years' service as an alderman. The candidate made speeches in both French and English, the audience containing large representations of both nationalities.

IN GOOD COMPANY.

"If they say that I have been mixed up with the crooks, they condemn at the same time their own English-speaking aldermen," said the candidate. "Would they dare to say that the Boyds and the Wards, the Rubensteins, the Stearns' and the other English-speaking aldermen who have been in the City Council with me were mixed up with crooks? I do not think so, and yet whenever there has been a doubtful scheme to combat before the City Council I have been found fighting on the side of these men. Ask anyone of them and they will tell you."

Ald. Lapointe dealt with the charge that he was the candidate of The Star.

"Some newspapers, the McDonald newspapers, take pleasure in saying that I am the candidate of The Star," he said. "They say that The Star is making my campaign. It is true that The Star has been supporting my candidature. I accept the support, as I will accept yours.

Speaking to a crowded meeting of Jewish electors in Prince Arthur Hall yesterday afternoon, called by the Laurier Political Club, Ald. Lapointe delivered a final message to that division of the electorate. Peter Bercovitch, K.C., presided.

"I have addressed myself to citizens of Montreal, to taxpayers, not to races or creeds or divisions of the electorate," said the candidate. "I have spoken as a business man speaking to business men.

TO JEWISH ELECTORS.

"I am not afraid to answer the questions asked by the proprietor of the Jewish Eagle. If you have difficulties with regard to your schools, I will do all in my power to secure you representation on the school boards. So far as having Jewish representation in the city's service, I shall be for that, and I am not afraid to say so.

"If I am elected, some of my opponents may say to me: 'The Jews have elected you.' I shall be proud to be elected by the Jews.

"I promise you that if I am elected Mayor of Montreal my first visit shall be paid to you."

484 MORE VOTERS THAN CAST VOTES AT LAST CONTEST

There are only 484 more electors entitled to vote in today's civic elections than there were for the 1914 contest. The figures, according to the list used at the polls today, are: 1916, 138,431; 1914, 137,947.

Under the law now governing the municipal franchise, all those paying taxes to the city have a right to vote. The disqualification that previously existed for non-payment of taxes before a certain date has been removed.

One striking feature of the contest this year is that the number of wards has been reduced from thirty-one to twenty, with a corresponding decrease, of course, in the number of aldermanic candidates to be elected. The wards as now constituttd, and their voting power, are as follows:

St. James	5,239
St. George's	5,098
St. Ann's	5,069
St. Joseph's	6,640
St. Andrew's	3,938
St. Lawrence	5,304
St. Louis	7,154
Lafontaine	5,613
Papineau	9,116
St. Mary's	5,973
Hochelaga	8,524
St. Jean Baptiste	9,194
St. Gabriel	7,948
St. Denis	11,698
St. Henri	7,326
Notre Dame de Grace	6,581
Delorimier	6,218
Laurier	12,193
Ahuntsic-Bordeaux	6,338
Mercier	3,267
Total	138,431

The wards abolished by the new charter amendments are: East, Centre, West, St. Cunegonde, Rosemount, Duvernay, Emard, St. Paul, Mount Royal and Cote des Neiges, ten in all. The amalgamation of Ahuntsic and Bordeaux accounts for the disappearance of the eleventh ward.

Life and Character Reading

APRIL 3.

The nature of the person of this birthdate is indicated by the horoscope to be impetuous, generous and highly magnetic. This person will have many friends and although he speaks with brutal frankness he seldom gives offense for his speech is never tinged with any poison of malice.

Three planets govern in this horoscope, Uranus, Neptune and Mars, thus you have the stronger character, the set ideas, the fiery disposition and the great physical energy and will power.

This person is a natural teacher and writer. He loves music and art is an interesting conversationalist and always attracts large numbers of friends.

This man is sensitive to the wants of others and is extremely generous. In love affairs, however, he is extremely fickle, and there seems to be some unhappiness in his domestic life.

His lucky days follow April 13th.

McDONALD IS NOT THE CANDIDATE OF THE ENGLISH MINORITY

A last hour attempt has been made to stampede the English vote to McDonald—in spite of his unsavory record—on the plea that he is the candidate of the English minority.

He is nothing of the sort.

Ald. Lapointe would never have opposed him if he had been. Ald. Lapointe has always been the French champion of English rights in the Council. He pledged himself not to enter the field for the Mayoralty this year if the English minority put up a man.

They did not. A clique nominated McDonald for their own purposes, deliberately choosing a tainted candidate because he would serve them better.

Representaive English citizens have openly opposed him. They have come out for Lapointe. When men like Ex-Controller Wanklyn, ex-Ald. Stearns, ex-Ald. Robinson, Henry Miles and other trusted leaders of the English minority, are for Lapointe, it is dishonest and deliberately deceptive nonsense to talk of McDonald being the candidate of the English minority.

55 CANDIDATES DISPUTE FOR 18 SEATS AT THE HALL

The list of candidates as their names appear on the ballot papers today is given below. There are three in the field for Mayor, nine for the two vacancies on the Board of Control, while forty-three citizens are disputing for fifteen aldermanic seats. JAPAN WILL HOLD SOUTH SEA ISLES, AVERS AMERICAN

By Canadian Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3. —That Japan intends to retain the South Sea islands, captured during the present war from the Germans, was the statement made here by Dr. Frederick Starr, professor of anthropology, University of Chicago, who is en route to Chicago today from the Orient after six months' research work in Japan and Korea.

"Japan," said Dr. Starr, has no intention of withdrawing from the Ladrone or Marshall Islands, which she has taken from Germany and which lie about midway between the Philippines and Hawaii. She has already undertaken expensive schemes with reference to the postal service, telegraphs and cables of these possessions. She is sending settlers in quantity to them."

"Since the war began in Europe," continued Dr. Starr, "more than 1,000 new millionaires have been made in Japan, and a wave of speculation is sweeping over the country."

Dr. Starr said also that Japan's trade with India had increased enormously since the war and that in this development lay the possibility of future commercial competition with Great Britain.

During his stay in Japan, Dr. Starr travelled from Tokio to Kyoto, 300 miles, along the Tokaido highway.

Former Vice-President Fairbanks entered college when he was fifteen years of age.

EXCURSIONS TO WESTERN CANADA VIA GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM.

Each Tuesday until October 31st the Grand Trunk Railway will run special excursions called "HOME-SEEKERS'." In connection with these excursions round trip tickets will be issued at very low fares to points in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. These tickets are good via the New Transcontinental or via Chicago, and during the season of Navigation, via the Great Lakes. Tourist car accommodation is available and stop-overs are allowed on these tickets.

Full particulars may be had on application to any Grand Trunk Agent.

USUAL SPEECHES ARE FINAL FLING ON CON. McDONALD

Dying Moments of Campaign Utilized to Appeal to Voters

Utilizing the dying moments of the mayoralty campaign to their fullest extent, Controller McDonald addressed eight meeting over the week-end, making his accustomed speech in each case.

Saturday night Mr. McDonald spoke to fair sized English audiences in Cote St. Paul Town Hall, Amherst Park Congregational Church Hall, and the hall of the Park Extension Municipal Club. He was listened to by a large audience at the committee rooms of Ald. Blumenthal, St. Lawrence boulevard.

Yesterday morning the controller reappeared at St. Henry Town Hall, scene of a stormy meeting early last week, and this time secured complete calm from a small gathering. In the afternoon he first addressed a large meeting of Italian electors in the basement of the Italian Church, 2808 Drolet street. He then went to Masson street hall, Rosemount, to meet a small band of Martin and Marsil hecklers who tried to upset his discourse. He ended with a two-hour address to a mass meeting of Hebrew electors at Prince Arthur Hall.

At the Masson street meeting yesterday afternoon, Mr. McDonald answered the charge that he had given letters recommending carpenters for work in the plant of the Canadian Vickers, Ltd., since strike conditions prevailed.

"I have given hundreds of letters of recommendation in the last two years," said Mr. McDonald, "but since I knew a strike was on I have not given a single letter."

After he had visited Ald. Blumenthal's committee rooms, Mr. McDonald suddenly woke up to the fact that other mayoralty candidates had been very busy among the Hebrews. He decided to make a determined fling for some of the Hebrew vote and at Prince Arthur street hall yesterday afternoon he explained his policy, attacked his opponents, and assaulted The Star at great length. He promised that if he were re-elected to the administration he would work for Hebrew representation on the Protestant Board of School Commissioners.

56 MEETINGS IS PROUD RECORD OF MEDERIC MARTIN

Mayor Concludes Election Campaign Last Night in St. Henry Ward

Mayor Martin concluded his election campaign last night at a meeting in St. Henry Ward, claiming the record among mayoralty candidates, with fifty-six meetings to his credit, attended by some 56,000 people. The mayor held two meetings last night, both in St. Henry, one in College Hall, St. James street, and the other in George Etienne Cartier Park.

The mayor held three meetings yesterday afternoon, one in the northern part of Laurier Ward, one in Mercier Ward, and the third in Prince Arthur Hall. On Saturday night he spoke at two meetings, one in Lelleur school hall, Fullum street, St. Mary's Ward, and the other in Ste. Rose school, Papineau Ward.

In his Saturday night addresses, the mayor found an unique explanation for the present financial position of the city. He said:

"If we are in the financial position we have today, it is the fault of Ald. Lapointe during his sixteen years of service as an alderman. He is responsible and now he is trying to throw the blame on me. Ald. Lapointe is a nervous man, and a sick man. But he is not nearly so sick as he will be Monday night."

During the discussion of the manufacture of thymol in the United States, arising from the greatly increased price of the drug, the fact has been overlooked that a plant from the seeds of which thymol is made is widely distributed in the Philippine Islands. It is not cultivated in large areas anywhere in the country, but small quantities of the seeds are sold in many regions. The seed is used by the Filipinos for food, much as caraway and allied seeds are used.

LEVEL OF RIVER VERY HIGH, BUT TUGS WORK WELL

High Level Wharves May Soon Be Flooded—Ice-breakers are Busy

With a sharp rise of 3 feet in the river level since Saturday, bringing the depth in the outer channel up to 47 feet 8 inches, almost 17 feet above normal, the state of the St. Lawrence river is regarded as critical today. The danger of the river flooding shortly before the break-up in the ice has thus become acute, for the mark set in the river level today is a record for this season.

The crisis which river authorities have looked for has come, and if the river rises a few feet more the high level wharves in the harbor will begin to be flooded.

However, this may be avoided as satisfactory news comes from the ice breakers Montcalm and Lady Gray, now backing their way from Three Rivers to Montreal. They entered Lake St. Peter this morning for the first time, and reported at the White Buoy, about eighteen miles above Three Rivers, having made only 800 feet progress since yesterday. The ice jam, however, has been broken up, and both vessels now face barely 2 feet of solid ice. Their progress through Lake St. Peter will precipitate the break-up here. Easter shipping is the general belief along the entire river front this morning from Sorel to Montreal.

Below Three Rivers and Quebec the St. Lawrence river and gulf stations report "no ice," even Anticosti Island reporting "no ice in sight." Belle Isle strait, however, after being clear of its own ice is now receiving its annual visitors from the Labrador coast. Forty icebergs have drifted in on the easterly gales, an indication that spring is making itself felt much further north. These bergs will drift into the gulf in time and drift out again on west winds. The majority are expected to run aground and rot away under summer suns.

The Marine Department tugs Dollard and Shamrock are busy outfitting at Sorel for the annual trip down stream, where they will lay the navigation buoys.

The death occurred in Boston on Tuesday, of Henry Lovett, of Kentville, many years prothonotary of the court and for the last twelve years registrar of probate for Kings County. Mr. Lovett has been in failing health for six months. He went to Boston last December and some time ago caught cold, which developed into acute bronchitis. Other complications followed which ultimately caused his death. Mr. Lovett was about eighty years of age. His wife, who was a daughter of the late Dr. Lewis Johnstone, and sister of Lady Weatherbe, died some years ago.

4 MONTREAL MEN PAY GREAT PRICE TO HELP COUNTRY

These Casualties in Addition to Death of Capt. Shaughnessy

Four other Montrealers, in addition to Capt. the Hon. A. T. Shaughnessy of the 60th Battalion whose death is referred to in another column have laid down their lives for the Empire in the last few days. They are: Pte. D. F. Torrance, of the 24th Battalion, Pte. Wesley Caldwell, of the 42nd Battalion, Pte. Charles Colin of the 41st Battalion, and Pte. Fred Mees of the 42nd Battalion.

The news regarding the first two named was received by private cables, but that of the others was announced in the official casualty lists issued at Ottawa. In addition to these men five are reported as wounded and one as seriously ill. Their names are:

Seriously Ill—Corp. Wilfrid Drolet, 1118 Demontigney street, 22nd Battalion.

Wounded—Ptes. Alexandre Ouellette, 455 Frontenac street, and Lucien Gendron, 218 Cherrier street, 22nd Battalion; Pte. Thomas Walton, 191 Canning street, 42nd Battalion; Pte. Josephat Delisle, Longueuil, 3rd Pioneer Battalion, formerly 41st.

Wounded, but returned to duty—Pte. Arthur Wilmot, 753 Panet street, 22nd Battalion.

PTE. CALDWELL.

Pte. Wesley Caldwell was an electrician and enlisted in the 23rd Westmount Rifles, but had to leave through illness. He soon got fit again, however, and joined the 42nd Highlanders a fortnight before they went away. His brother George, who was working at Pennsylvania, came home and joined the same unit two days before it sailed, and the two brothers have fought side by side for months, undergoing many narrow escapes together. On one occasion they were talking when a piece of shell passed between them. On another occasion Wesley and Pte. Cox of Waverley street, were knocked over together, and the latter was killed. Pte. Caldwell's mother and sisters live at 154 Champigny street, Cote St. Paul, and the dead soldier was the youngest of the family.

PTE. TORRANCE.

Pte. D. F. Torrance was killed on March 28 according to a cable received by his uncle, Dr. F. J. Shepherd. He is the son of Mrs. Forbes Torrance of Lachine, and a grandson of the late John Torrance. Pte. Torrance was employed in the Merchant's Bank but when the 24th Battalion was organized he and his brother, Sam G. Torrance, both enrolled and were appointed to the Machine Gun Section. They were always together, and when Donald was awarded his corporal's stripes, and found this would mean a severance of brotherly companionship, he gave up the promotion so that the two could be together on an equal footing. He was twenty-five years of age and unmarried. A brother is going on active service with the Divisional Column.

Lance-Corp. Adam Addison, of the 13th Battalion, reported on Saturday as among the wounded, is the adopted son of Mrs. Robert Gilbert, of 41 Bourbonniere street, Maisonneuve. He was employed at the National Steel Works, and a member of the Presbyterian Church at Maisonneuve. He was wounded in the arm on March 20 and has been admitted to No. 3 Canadian General Hospital at Boulogne.

PTE. ALEX KERR.

Pte. Alex. Kerr, of the 42nd Battalion reported on Saturday as suffering from shell shock, went over to England with the 13th Battalion at the outset of the war, but was laid out with spinal meningitis while training on Salisbury Plain, and invalided home as unfit for further service. He made a rapid recovery however, and was declared sufficiently fit to be accepted by the 42nd Highlanders three days before the Battalion sailed. He is twenty-two years of age.

TWO KILLED IN ANOTHER WRECK ON INTERCOLONIAL

By Canadian Press.

QUEBEC, April 3.—The sixth accident to occur within the past three weeks to Intercolonial trains in this section was caused about one o'clock this morning, resulting in the death of two men and serious injuries to a third, who now lies in the Hotel Dieu Hospital in Levis.

The accident, according to early advices, was a rear-end collision between two freight trains, one of which was an Intercolonial and the other a Grand Trunk train.

The dead, all Grand Trunk trainmen, are: A. Jones, engineer, of Richmond, Que.; Joseph Provencher, fireman; and the injured man is J. Abercromby, brakeman, Richmond.

At Chaudiere Curve, where the accident occurred, the lines of the Intercolonial and Grand Trunk meet to a single track leading to Levis.

The Intercolonial train had just pulled into the station to take on water when the Grand Trunk freight crashed into it from the rear.

The wreckage took fire, partially destroying the station and four carloads of automobiles on the Grand Trunk train.

SISTER WINNER OF RAFFLED PONY

Sister St. Eliza, directress of the University postgraduate course conducted at the Mother House of the Congregation of Notre Dame, Sherbrooke street west, is puzzled. In the past her difficulties have been wholly of the academic kind. Now she has a pony on her hands, and the question is: what is she going to do with it?

Sister St. Eliza's new charge is Barney, the little steed donated by Alex. McGarr, to be raffled off in connection with the recent tag day for St. Patrick's Orphanage. Sister St. Eliza was one of the 15,000 persons who bought a ticket. She won, and now wonders what she can possibly do with that pony, unless it be to have it again raffled off for the benefit of the little orphans.

MOUNT WHATLEY RECTOR DEAD.

AMHERST, N. S., April 3.—The Rev. Lewis Blackall, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Mount Whatley, N. B., died this morning.

According to an English scientist, men go to sleep more quickly than women, but sleep less soundly, and, when in normal health, not so long.

NEW PRICE RECORDS CREATED---BAR SILVER AGAIN SOARS

LOCAL LIST STRONG, FOUR NEW RECORDS

Four new price records were created during the course of the trading in the local market today.

These were in Cement, Detroit United, Canadian Cottons and Ames.

The rise in Detroit, referred to reported intention of the board to increase the dividend to 7 per cent. The advance was from 90 to 93.

In Cement, which touched a new high at 56 3-4, compared with the former high of 55 1-2, there was nothing new beyond the former statement that the buying is based on the expectation that the next dividend declaration will place the stock on a 6 per cent basis.

The buying of Cottons, as already reported in this column, has a dividend tinge to it, the new high being 44 1-4. If dividend action is to be forthcoming it is believed that it will not be long delayed.

The new high touched by Ames was 29, after opening at 28 1-4, but it later reacted to 28. The buying in this quarter has inside sanction based on the volume of business.

Steel of Canada was the leader of the steel group and on the near by confirmation of the bullish reports about the company's business the price held very strong at 46 5-8 to 47 1-8. While the annual report is expected at once the real basis of the trading is the large earnings on the current years business, rather than on what was done last year.

The other steel issues were quiet, Iron at 45 3-4 and Scotia at 104 3-4. Elsewhere the market was on the quiet side, features being Quebec Ry. at 19 to 19 1-2. Hollinger 27, Ontario Steel 31, Macdonald 19 and Penmans 62 1-4.

Press Opinions on N.Y. Situation

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Tribune.—Though the securities market refused to be stampeded by the reckless submarine campaign that Germany had instituted, dealings last week were on a small scale, daily totals running at about 500,000 shares or so, and the trading was largely left to the professional element.

American.—The feature of the market that appeals to professionals is that the big people are afraid of a sharp, quick break at the end of the week when the German affair approaches a crisis again, and are prepared to support the market. This means prospect of profit on the short side first, and then a good ride on the rising tide.

Press.—"Under the circumstances there is little significance in the loss of reserve, but it is easy to see that under anything like a general call from the country for money, the condition of apparent plethora would change very quickly." In this way the National City Bank in its April circular, takes up the discussion of the New York banking position, the downward tendency of which has been pointed out several times.

Sun.—Although early spring has resolved itself into a season of hesitating sentiment in financial and business circles, lack of basic confidence does not appear anywhere in the market places. Bound all same peril to a situation in trade, industry and finance which is strongly founded.

Times.—The close of the first quarter of the year finds the stock market, measured by the average of fifty active issues, four points under the closing price of 1915, while the level of bond prices stands unchanged. There is considerable significance in this contrast. Speculation in stocks has been put under check, but the investment demand has continued good.

Herald.—Nevertheless, the market was held in check during the earlier part of the last week by discussion of the possible effect of the sinking of the Sussex and other vessels and uneasiness over the position of our troops in Mexico.

Post.—In a general way, it would probably be stating the financial point of view correctly if one should say that Wall Street does not look for a long and irritating episode in Mexico or for a break with Germany, or for an ultimate German victory at Verdun, or for an early and sudden end of the European war. Its judgment may turn out to have been wrong in any or all of these particulars. Yet the opinion of the larger financial community, as expressed in the movement of the Stock Exchange, is in the long run apt to be well-grounded.

BOSTON, April 3.—After a year of jitneys, Pacific Coast cities find the number decreasing and stricter regulation the tendency.

Los Angeles, with 350 machines, has given jitney supervision to the Public Utilities Board, and in common with San Diego has passed practically prohibitive laws.

MASSEY HARRIS TO PAY PREFERRED DIVIDENDS

Special to The Montreal Star.

TORONTO, April 3.—It is stated that a full year's preferred dividend, 7 per cent, on Sawyer-Massey, will be paid June next, and that there is every probability that the entire two years' accumulations of deferred dividends (since May, 1914) will be wiped out by the end of the company's present fiscal year.

The company is not only making shells, but it is also making 4.5 high explosives, and there is enough war business on the company's books at the present moment to keep the works running at capacity for the remainder of the present fiscal year.

WALL ST. TRANSACTIONS

Transactions in stocks on the New York Stock Exchange for the month of March aggregated 13,314,375 shares compared with 12,080,136 shares in February and 7,875,789 shares in March, 1916. The par value of bonds sold during the month just past amounted to $77,293,000 against $80,390,000 for February and $65,518,000 in March of last year.

ONTARIO STEEL POOL NEVER GOT WORKING

An interesting story is told in the street of the organization of a pool to operate in the shares of Ontario Steel Products which did not operate. It appears that before the pool got a chance to get to work and pick up any of the stock buying started from another quarter with the result that the price rose so rapidly that very little low priced stock was to be had at the lower levels.

It will be remembered that within about a week the stock rose from 23 to 34. The commencement of the buying was said to be coincident with the placing of a good order with the company in one of its foremost lines automobile springs.

The pool which was on the point of taking the stock up was said to have New York connections, but up to the latest accounts available it had not touched the stock owing to the rapidity of the rise.

It is not believed there was any designed or prearranged effort in connection with the buying which thus spoiled what appears to have been a bull coup—it just happened that way. One house started it and it spread to others in a seemingly natural way. It is possible, however, that the movement was accelerated by the report which got around the street that bull efforts were in prospect.

For the present the movement seems to have exhausted itself and the price reacted to 31. Whether the plans of the bull pool referred to will be abandoned probably will rest with the future action of the stock.

The company is known to be doing an excellent business in its several lines and will probably soon pay the back dividends on the preferred shares.

Steel Company to Show Record Earnings

The annual statement of the Steel Company of Canada for the year ending December 31, which will be published tomorrow, will show net earnings for the year amounting to $1,756,000, which is slightly better than 15 per cent on the common stock.

This is the highest figure ever reached in the history of the company, the best previous year being 1913, when net earnings were $1,640,000. The net in 1914 amounted to only $539,811.

SHARP DECLINE IN BANK CLEARINGS

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Bank clearings in the United States for the week ending March 30, as reported to Bradstreet's Journal, New York, aggregate $4,058,417,000, against $4,714,260,000 last week, and $3,007,702,000 this week last year.

Canadian clearings aggregate $141,418,000, as against $170,032,000 last week, and $118,347,000 in this week last year. Following are the returns for this week and last, with percentages of change shown this week as compared with this week last year:

Opinions from Wall Street

Laidlaw & Co.: Except for the growing influence of high commodity prices on domestic consumption the actual business situation throughout the country continues satisfactory and the prospect favors activity for many months to come as a result of orders already placed.

Jenks, Gwynne & Co.—There is nothing new in the news over the week to warrant a change of market policy. We are looking for a firm undertone to continue we still believe purchases on reactions for quick turns should be effected for the present.

Post and Flagg: The market opened decidedly firm again. Nothing has occurred over Sunday to materially affect the situation one way or the other. It looks as if this strong market is going to continue, barring some unexpected adverse developments.

Burnett & Co.: Reports of extraordinary domestic business prosperity were influences, and the war industrials and copper stocks made substantial advances.

Sheraton Hammill & Co.—The buying came almost entirely from the professional element and the pools were active. We look for higher prices but advise our people to take the opportunity to liquidate.

K. & C. Randolph: Big speculators seem to have entirely withdrawn from the market for the time being. As they are unable to make up their minds they are adopting a "watchful waiting" policy.

KENNECOTT COPPER LED IN WALL ST.

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Of the leaders, Mexican Petroleum at 109¾, off half, was the only stock to show a loss in the opening quotations on the Stock Exchange today. Marine pfd. opened at 71½ up three-quarters, Crucible at 93 up three-eighths.

Kennecott Copper was the most active stock on the list during the morning. Its sales were 29,000 shares at prices ranging from 58⅛ to 59. Anaconda gained three-quarters. Crucible was active, selling as high as 94¾. Industrial Alcohol sold up 3½ points to 159.

Prices evinced a higher tendency, but with the exceptions of the better known specialties no marked changes from last week's final quotations were registered. There were one to two point gains in American and Baldwin Locomotives, Crucible Steel, Colorado Fuel and Associated Oil, with new records for South Porto Rico Sugar, which gained 9½ to 219½, and Jewell Tea on its rise of 4½ to 89.

Disappointment over latest advices from Mexico was indicated by the backwardness of Mexican Petroleum and American Smelting both, however, soon recovering.

Crucible, Kennecott Copper, the latter at the new record of 59, and American Locomotive were the main features of the forenoon, in which the volume of trading steadily diminished.

United States Steel was in moderate demand, rising fractionally to 85 and Industrial Alcohol led the issues of its particular class, advancing 4 to 159½. Varying degrees of strength were shown by Mercantile Marine preferred, Maxwell Motors, American Cotton Oil, International Paper pfd. and International Nickel. Representative stocks were neglected, with heaviness in New York Central. Bonds were steady, with continued activity in Anglo-French 5s.

EXCHANGE HONORED MEMORY OF MEMBER

The Montreal Stock Exchange adjourned the morning session today until 10.30 o'clock as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Capt. the Hon. A. T. Shaughnessy, news of whose death at the front reached the city late on Saturday.

"Fred" Shaughnessy, as he was best known to his friends in the Street, is the first member of the Montreal Stock Exchange to lay down his life for his country, authough several men well known in the financial community have fallen in the service of the Empire since the war began.

He was a member of the firm of Charles Meredith & Co., another member of which, as well as of the Exchange, is at the front in the person of Hartland B. MacDougall, who was president of the Exchange when he accepted a commission.

The news that an officer of the 60th Battalion had fallen in action aroused keen anxiety here, as several well known men of the financial community are officers of the same battalion. These include Lieut. Douglas Cowans, of Jenks, Gwynne & Co.; Lieut. S. R. McGibbon, a partner in the late Stock Exchange firm of McGibbon & MacDougall; Lieut. F. F. Archibald, of Oswald Bros.; and Lieut. John Black, who was office manager for Farrell, Seely & Co.

It was at first feared that the battalion might have been in a general engagement, and it was not until today that it became known that it was during trench duty with his company that the late Capt. Shaughnessy met death from shrapnel.

There was general sorrow in the Street over his death. He was among the youngest members of the Exchange and he was popular with a wide circle of friends.

Cobalt Bullion and Ore Week's Shipments

Cobalt bullion shipments were almost a minus quantity last week. Crown Reserve was the only shipper, with thirty bars, containing 35,000 ounces, valued at $21,000. This compares with 324,144.64 ounces, valued at $193,057, shipped last week.

The following is a list of the ore shipments from the camp for the week ending Saturday night:

Company.	Pounds.
McKinley-Darragh	223,867
Dominion Reduction	172,000
La Rose Mines	87,451
O'Brien Mines	73,173
Nipissing	130,734
Peterson Lake (Seneca Ore)	86,420

Short Notes of Interest

Bank of England on Saturday shipped £340,000 in sovereigns to Spain and £25,000 to Uruguay.

The loan to be placed in the United States by the Chinese Government will probably amount to $5,000,000, and the proceeds will be used in the purchase here of supplies, it was understood in banking circles today.

Winnipeg's bank clearings for March show an advance of 23 per cent over the corresponding month of last year, and approximately 33 per cent over 1914. The figures show: March, 1916, $123,883,482; March, 1915, $100,143,829; March, 1914, $91,710,153.

Bank clearings in Canada last week totalled $146,962,833, an increase of $27,883,561, or 23.4. This is slightly below the recent average, but a good showing.

Ames-Holden March sales are reported at $750,000, the highest on record.

Cunard Steamship Company's annual profits increased by £314,000 to £1,247,000.

Exports of general merchandise from U. S. during February amounted to $409,835,525, the highest point ever reached by the export trade in the country, and exceeds the high mark for December, 1915, by $50,000,000.

Dome Mines production for March was as follows: Tonnage milled, 34,300; production, $173,380.63; average value, $5.05. These figures show the heaviest tonnage and largest gross production in the history of the mine.

Delaware and Hudson for year ended December 31 earned 14.28 per cent on stock, increase of 3.44 per cent. Surplus for year totalled $6,061,000, against $4,609,000 in 1914.

National City Bank's April letter says war's yearly cost is now $25,000,000,000.

Adams' Express Company secures controlling interest in Southern Express Co. and closer relations will be established.

Bank clearings in U. S. last week amounted to $3,595,472,574, an increase of 36.0 per cent as compared with the $2,644,077,161 of the same week last year, and of 15.2 per cent as contrasted with the $3,121,720,610 reported for the corresponding week in 1914.

Mr. Brown, manager of Dome Lake, South Porcupine, will relinquish his duties on April 15. On July 15 Mr. Brown will assume his new duties in Quebec in charge of exploration work for New York interests.

A contract is being let to sink the shaft on the old King Edward property from the 530-foot level to the 1,030 level. A new company, called the National Mines, Limited, of Rochester, has taken over the lease from the York, Ontario, and will proceed at once with developments.

Business Men in the Public Eye

H. N. STEVENS

President of Amherst, N.S., Board of Trade.

Topics of the Street

As a general rule traction issues of high merit have sold on a higher price range in the Montreal market than industrials of equal dividend basis.

This may in part explain the strength in Detroit United which has been working up to a record level since the change in the company's status as regards the violent campaign which was waged against it for years by political foes and opportunists.

There has been talk for some time back of a dividend increase, but whether this materializes or not it is understood that it can be shown that the value behind the stock is higher than it is at present selling for.

The chief factors holding Wall Street back are the uncertainty of the relations with Germany, the Mexican situation, and the labor unsettlement.

There are many now who take the view that the New York market has become about as shock proof as it possibly can be.

Conditions in the textile trade are so favorable that it seems surprising to some that more attention has not been diverted to the shares of the interested companies.

There has been a little trading in Canadian Cottons, but the shares of the other companies have been virtually neglected. The different mills are understood to be working to capacity and some of them overtime.

The limit to which the bears may swing prices in Wall Street appear to be becoming more and more prescribed. General sentiment is said to be decidedly bullish, and it is considered dangerous to try too far on the short side.

Last week's appreciation in the shares of the Massey-Harris Company is explained by the announcement that prospects are good for the payment to the shareholders of at least a full year's back dividend on the preferred within a short time.

This company was one of the many Canadian concerns whose business was badly demoralized when the war broke out and found some war business to take the place of the regular lines in the meantime.

"A needed spirit of caution is developing in nearly all departments of trade and finance. The violent rise in certain commodities, the mad rush of orders for many manufactured products, the complete exhaustion of supplies in other commodities and the unreasoning eagerness of buyers created a situation so extreme and unprecedented as to seriously raise the question, is it not time for a pause? The war is, of course, responsible for these extraordinary conditions, which are additionally complicated by the unusual uncertainties in home affairs."

Such is the view of Henry Clewes in his market review, and he adds:—

"Such conditions cannot last. They will bring their own reaction without fail, and it is only a matter of time when that reaction begins. The longer it is postponed and the greater our profits out of the misfortunes of others the worse will be the reaction when it arrives. Inflation always accompanies war, and in our case inflation has been materially aided by our big gold supply and the new Federal Reserve law which greatly facilitated the enormous expansion of credit."

Dividends

Montreal: Canadian Explosives regular quarterly dividend of 1 3-4 per cent on preferred stock, payable April 15 to shareholders of record March 31.

BOSTON.—The Louis K. Liggett Company declared an initial dividend payable Saturday of 1 1-2 per cent on its $6,000,000 capital, all of which is owned by the United Drug Company. The new Liggett Company which operates the chain of Liggett and Riker drug stores (152 in number) was organized on February 1 last with $500,000 cash balance which has doubled to $1,000,000 in the past two months.

BAR SILVER ADVANCES ON INDIA BUYING

Special to The Montreal Star.

LONDON, April 3.—American stocks in this market ruled below parity. Trading was in moderate volume and without feature, the general tone being steady. U. S. Steel was 3-4 lower. Canadian Pacific was 3-4 higher, but other rails, like Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Reading and Erie receded fractionally.

Budget probabilities and the air raids occupied most of the attentions of dealers on the stock exchange and business was only a secondary matter.

The tone, however, was good with continued strength in Marconi, Oil, Rubber and Copper shares, while the French loan and Brazilian issues were prominent in the foreign section.

Gilt edged securities were inclined to ease off and American securities were neglected.

Bar silver was strong on buying for India, which is further depleting the small stocks of the metal here. The price advanced 3-8d to 29 3-8d per ounce.

Money was a shade easier and discount rates were quiet.

The Bank of England today sold £201,000 in bar gold and released £50,000 for Egypt.

Bar silver, 29 3-8d per ounce. Money 4 to 4 1-2 per cent. Discount rates, short and three months, 4 5-8 to 4 3-4 per cent.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Bar silver here rose to a new high level in years at 61 5-8. Last week's high was 60 3-4.

PARIS BOURSE ACTIVE

PARIS, April 3.—Trading was active on the Bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 63 francs 25 centimes for cash. Exchange on London, 28 francs 51½ centimes; 5 per cent loan, 88 francs.

N. Y. FOREIGN EXCHANGE

Sterling—Cables, 4.77; demand, 4.76½.
Franks—Cables, 5.97; demand, 5.97½.
Marks—Cables, 72 1-16; demand, 72.

DETROIT AT NEW HIGH; HIGHER DIV. TALK

A further advance in Detroit United shares today—the sharpest the stock has had since the movement began—revived with additional emphasis the reports which have been current in the Street for some time back that the stock will soon be placed on a 7 per cent dividend basis as against the 6 per cent now being paid.

The high for the stock last week was 90 1-4, and today it opened at 90 and went to 93. Last year when the stock came into the open market it sold as low as 62, and was one of the very few stocks on which the minimum was reduced here as the result of similar action on the New York Exchange, when trading was resumed.

Although 62 was the lowest here, it sold under that price in Wall Street when the market restrictions were all thrown aside, the lowest being somewhat under 60.

The rise which culminated in 93 today is in consequence over thirty points from the low.

It is understood that a circular is in course of preparation for distribution pointing out the values and assets behind the shares. This it is said will claim a value considerably in advance of the present market quotations.

Since the municipal ownership agitation in Detroit quited down, investors have bought the shares with more confidence, and the reports of an increase in the dividend have naturally attracted speculative buying and it has been very prominent in the trading for some time back.

POWER ANNOUNCEMENT

The power group which figured somewhat prominently in the dealings last wek with marked strength fell out of view today and quotations were nominally strong. While plans are believed to be pretty well advanced for the reorganization plans which have kept the Street on the qui vive for some time it is thought that a public announcement may be witheld until the annual meeting. The fical year ends this month.

$25,000,000,000 PER YEAR IS COST OF WAR

NEW YORK, April 3.—It is costing Europe $25,000,000,000 a year to carry on the war according to figures in the April letter of the National City Bank. Uncle Sam's expedition into Mexico is costing $50 a minute, one nine hundred and fifty-seventh of the European cost.

The annual rate of expenditure of the big fighting Powers is divided as follows:—

Great Britain	$5,000,000,000
Germany	6,000,000,000
Russia	6,000,000,000
France	4,400,000,000

The remainder is made up by Italy, Serbia, Bulgaria and the other warring nations.

CATTLE AND HOG PRICES ADVANCED

The prices of cattle and hogs showed increases today of 25c a hundred pounds in each case, which was due mainly to the light run on the market and to the steady demand in both these lines for good quality stock.

Following last week's light run of cattle, butchers' steers were in very good demand this morning at firm prices, the highest paid being $8.50 cwt in car load lots, and as high as $8.60 cwt. in small odd lots. The trading was decidedly brisk and all offerings were quickly taken up; as a result the market was cleaned up by eight o'clock this morning.

The hog market has experienced fairly heavy buying of late and the prices have been very firm, today bringing them up to $11.75 a hundred pounds for select stock—the highest prices paid for pork in a good many years. At this rate, drovers say that it would well repay farmers to raise hogs when they can be marketed at these high prices. Prices, however, seldom show signs of permanency and conditions might work out lower prices at any time.

In all other lines of live stock the market remains steady at firm prices, calves easing off somewhat owing to the large run on the market just now. Offerings of sheep and lambs have increased slightly, but a firm feeling still prevails in the small meats trade.

Prices of round lots of live stock quoted in car loads were:

Butcher steers, best, $8.25 to $8.50; good, $7.80 to $8.15; fair, $7.50 to $7.75; medium, $7 to $7.40; and rough, $6.75 to $7.25. Butcher bulls, best, $6.70 to $7.20; medium, $6.10 to $6.60; common, $5.60; canning bulls, $4 to $5 cwt.

Hogs, selects, $11.25 to $11.75; roughs and mixed lots, $10.50 to $11; common, $10.25; sows, $7.85 to $8.10 cwt., all weighed off cars.

Sheep, 6c to 8c lb., and lambs, 9c to 12c lb.

Calves, milk fed, 6c to 8c lb.

Receipts of live stock at the West End (G.T.R.) Stock Yards last week amounted to 700 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 1,700 hogs, and 1,600 calves. Today's offerings were: 400 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs, and 600 calves.

Receipts of live stock at the East End (C.P.R.) Stock Yards last week totalled 700 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs, and 600 calves. Today's offerings were 250 cattle, 25 sheep and lambs, 200 hogs, and 200 calves.

QUEBEC BOND TENDERS

The Bank of Montreal, acting on behalf of the City of Quebec, Canada, is calling for tenders for the purchase of $475,000 5-year 5 per cent gold bonds, dated April 1st, 1916, due April 1, 1921. Tenders will be received up to April 7.

GRANBY EARNINGS ARE ESTIMATED $25 SHARE

BOSTON, April 3.—Granby Consolidated should treat approximately 1,000,000 tons of ore at its Anyox smelter during the coming year. Assuming a recovery of not better than 35 pounds of copper per ton of ore, the yield from that plant should approximate 35,000,000 pounds in addition to which the Grand Forks smelter should turn out 15,000,000 pounds, making a total of 50,000,000.

During the coming summer the Midas mine in Alaska, owned by Granby, is expected to start shipments. This ore will be treated in the Hidden Creek smelter at Anyox.

The usual winter interference with operations has about ceased. The agglomerator will start permanent operations just as soon as normal water power can be secured. This will also permit the entire four furnaces of the Hidden Creek smelter to run full blast. With the agglomerator the management expects four pounds of copper per ton of flue dust to be secured at a very low cost.

Although paying but $6 dividends Granby, has been earning very much more. Assuming a cost of 10 1-2 cents a pound the company on 20 cent copper can show profits of $4,750,000 per annum, on an output of 50,000,000 pounds. On a production of but 40,000,000 profits would approximate $3,800,000. The latter figure is equal to $25 per share.

Plan Proposed to Bring Oil Price Down

Special to The Montreal Star.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Entrance of the United States in the oil business to bring down the price of petroleum products was proposed today in a bill introduced by Rep. Bailey, of Pennsylvania. He would direct Secretary Lane to sink wells in oil lands still held and owned by the United States, and to place the products in the open market.

"It may not be necessary actually to enter the oil business," said Bailey. "Just an obvious willingness and determination to do so may turn the trick. Even the introduction of this bill should have a good effect."

NEW HAVEN'S NEW HIGH

New Haven February gross inc. $1,211,200; net after taxes, dec., $91,300; 8 months gross inc., $7,220,300; net after taxes, inc., $3,712,800; surplus, after charges, inc., $1,891,400.

Gross earnings of New Haven in February were largest for that month in history.

BRAZILIAN TRACTION ACTIVE IN TORONTO

Trading in Brazilian Traction was one of the most active features of the Toronto market today, and this created some interest here, with the result that a little of the stock was picked up at 54, the local minimum.

The minimum in Toronto is 53 and the demand there pulled the price up to 53⅞ from 53, but later it reacted to 53. For some time back the stock has been selling in Toronto outside the exchange under the minimum, but for some days back has been creeping up close to the basis on which regular market business can be transacted.

The continued increases in the earnings and the likelihood that the dividend can be maintained on the present basis has, no doubt, attracted buying. It has, however, risen above the minimum several times in the past year, only to fall back again.

TEXAS BANK CLOSED

SAN ANTONIO, April 3. — The West Texas Bank and Trust Co. did not open its doors today. It has a capital of $250,000 and deposits of about $2,000,000.

WINNIPEG WHEAT CLOSE

The Winnipeg wheat market closed today: May, $1.19⅞; July, $1.20⅞; October, $1.15⅜.

PRICES SOAR, CEMENT AND DETROIT LEAD

Marked strength characterized the afternoon dealings. Cement and Detroit following their early movements, developing advances of unusual proportions.

The high for Cement at 59 is a record, while Detroit did the best since 1906, when it was 102, compared with this afternoon's high of 95 3-4.

The whole market seemed to imbibe the strength, Wall Street's improvement being a factor.

Cement opened at 56 3-4, compared with 54 3-4 to 56 1-2 in the forenoon, and went to 59 later, reacting to 58 and closing stronger at 58 3-4.

Detroit started at 94 7-8, the early high having been 93, and it soon rose to 95 3-4, later reacting a fraction.

Steel of Canada rose to 47 1-4, Scotia to 106 3-4, Textile 79, Steamships 20, Ames 30, Iron 47 1-4, Bridge 210, Power 238.

Other features were Macdonald 18 7-8, Quebec Ry. 19, Locomotive 59, BBrazilian 54, Wayagamack 35 3-4.

The first transaction in Rubber in some days took place at 99 as against the minimum of 91, a jump of eight points.

Hollinger rose to $27.50, the highest since the war tax break.

MODERATE REACTION AFTER SHARP ADVANCE

CHICAGO, April 3.—Assertions that the domestic winter crop at present showed the lowest condition for any corresponding time since 1909, sent wheat prices today sharply upgrade.

According to a leading authority here, the percentage is 78.8, as against 88.5 last year. On this basis, the probable maximum yield for 1916 was estimated at 490,000,000 bushels, compared with 655,000,000 bushels in 1915.

Opening prices, which ranged from half to 2c higher, with May at 116½ to 117, and July at 115⅛ to 116⅛, were followed by a rise to more than 3c above Saturday's finish and then a moderate reaction.

A private Chicago wire to Shearson, Hammill and Co., said:

Liverpool market steady to firm on wheat, without important developments. Amateur and expert crop observers will have their say today over Sunday excursions. It is likely that they will have seen little green wheat. The Missouri report issued after close Saturday, showing a condition of 65, reflects the promise in the soft winter wheat States. We feel friendly to the list, but advise patience in waiting for setbacks. The international situation will make them.

CANADIANS ARE DECORATED BY MAJ.-GEN. HUGHES

By Canadian Associated Press.

LONDON, April 3. — In brilliant weather Gen. Hughes reviewed the troops at Shorncliffe today.

The General was accompanied at the saluting base by Gen. Carson and others of high Canadian command. There were several thousand spectators. Many Canadians motored from London preliminary to the review.

Gen. Hughes conferred decorations granted by the British, French and Russian Governments during the last few months.

The following are the recipients: Lieut. Stephenson, of the 14th Medaille Militaire and D. C. M.; Lieut. Birdseye, of the 2nd, D. C. M.; Sergt.-Maj. Flinter, of the 12th, D. C. M. and Croix de Guerre; Sergt Ferris, of the 2nd Engineers, D. C. M.; Sergt.-Maj. Tomkins, of the 3rd Field Ambulance, St. George's Russian Medal.

The following received the D.C.M.: Staff-Sergt. Cameron, of the 3rd Ambulance; Sergt. Brown, of the 1st Ambulance; Sergt. Calder, of the 15th; Sergt. Highstone, of the 2nd; Corp. Kranchel, of the 13th; Corp. Baker and 20,743, Pte. Paderson, of the 7th; Corp. Hefter, of the 5th; Pte. McQueen, of the 7th and Pte. Bushby of the P. P. C. L. I.

GEN. HUGHES SPEECH.

Gen. Hughes, addressing the parade, congratulated all ranks on their splendid appearance.

"There are always persons ready to send word back to Canada," declared Sir Sam, "that you are not just as nice looking boys as you should be, but I want to tell you here that from the moment I landed in England I have heard nothing from all the English officers but praise for the good conduct of the Canadians.

"Further, you are recognized as exemplary not only for your personal conduct here but as model soldiers both in camp and at the front.

"I was privileged a few days ago to go through a training school and was more than delighted with what I saw. This war has outgrown our greatest expectations. When we sent over the first division we thought we should probably have finished, with the exception perhaps, of some reinforcements.

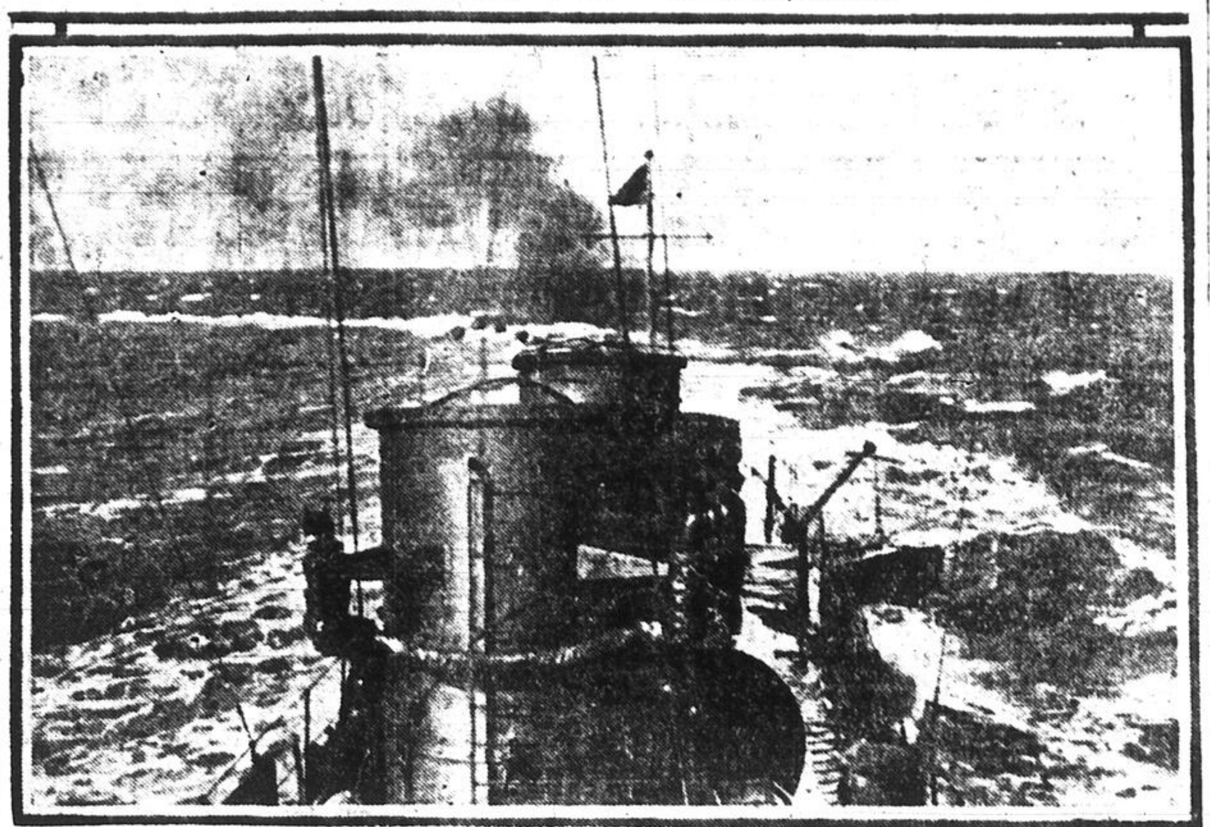
"It is recognized that as soldiers the Canadians are second to none at the front, and there is not a man but is ready and willing and anxious to do his duty."

Gen. Hughes afterwards shook hands with the officers, each officer announcing his name and regiment as he approached the Minister.

ACTING SUPERINTENDENT.

The Grand Trunk Railway system announces that J. D. McMillan is appointed acting superintendent of the Belleville division (Districts 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10), vice H. F. Coyle, who is granted leave of absence on account of illness.

FOOLING THE SUBMARINE



A British destroyer in a salient duel with a Hun undersea pirate. The destroyer's zigzag course to avoid a torpedo is clearly shown. This is the kind of picture to be seen in the official war films, "Britain Prepared," to be shown in this city the week of April 10 by The Montreal Star.

GERMAN SPIES IN SWISS POSE ARE NABBED IN PARIS

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—A special to the New York Times from Paris says:

"The French secret service has been busy rounding up the German spies in Paris, who are working in the hotels and restaurants as 'German-Swiss' waiters, porters and valets. Two hundred suspects were arrested recently and half that number have been imprisoned and fined. Those who have been proved to be of neutral birth will be interned or expelled from France, when they have completed their term of imprisonment.

"No one is permitted to talk over the telephone in France except in the native language, by order of the Government. An alleged Swiss waiter at one of the best known hotels along the boulevards was overheard by a naval officer rejoicing over the telephone to a colleague on the heavy German artillery attack on Verdun. When he was arrested the man proved to be a genuine Boche, but the man he was talking to was a German-Swiss, the secret service men said.

"The majority of the police have gone to the war and their places have been taken by young men from the provinces who have been exempted from military service for some reason or other."

DAUGHTER OF LATE ALLAN MACDONELL TO BECOME BRIDE

Special Cable to The Montreal Star from Our London Correspondent. (Copyright.)

THE MONTREAL STAR OFFICE, 17 Cockspur street, London, April 3.—The marriage has taken place in London of Major J. A. Devine, R.A.M.C., of Winnipeg, to Mary, daughter of the late Henry Miles, of Liverpool.

The engagement is announced of Frank, eldest son of William Harrington, of Montenatte, County Cork, to Helen, daughter of the late Allan MacDonell, of Montreal.

Capt. L. J. Beirne, formerly secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, has today been gazetted temporary captain in the Essex Regiment from the Reserve Battalion.

WINDERMERE.

HELD FOR TRIAL ON BIGAMY CHARGE

LONDON, Ont., April 3.—William Wilson, manager of a shoe company here, who has been in jail four weeks on a bigamy charge, today pleaded not guilty. He will be tried April 17.

Mrs. Paul Guay, of Lynn, Mass., alleged she married Wilson under that name fifteen years ago. The Crown is bringing a score of witnesses from America. He was to have opened a big new factory at Owen Sound shortly. His present wife declares she believes absolutely in his innocence.

CONSUL-GENERAL AT PHILADELPHIA DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—Charles Alexander Spencer Percival, British Consul-General at Philadelphia, died here Sunday after an illness of about eight weeks. Mr. Percival was forty-five years old, and was one of the youngest Consuls-General in the British service.

He was born at Caen, France, and entered the Consular service in 1893 as Vice-Consul at Marseilles. In 1897 he was transferred to New York as Vice-Consul, and from that time his career was spent in the United States.

OTTAWA SCHOOL BOARD HAS LOST APPEAL TO COURT

By Canadian Press.

TORONTO, April 3. — That the statute creating a Commission to manage the Ottawa separate schools and to replace the elected School Board if intra vires is the decision of the Appellate Division.

"Not only is it not open to the objection urged against it," remarked the Chief Justice, Sir William Meredith, "but it is one safeguarding the rights of the Roman Catholic separate schools supporters."

The court dismisses both appeals brought by the members of the board against the Quebec Bank and the city of Ottawa as to the custody of funds and directs that the $85,000 in court be paid out to the Commission. This represents the separate school share of collected taxes.

LINCOLN FINDS DETECTIVES AT DOOR OF JAIL

NEW YORK, April 3.—Ignatius T. T. Lincoln, now held in Brooklyn for a forgery charge, awaiting extradition to England, tried on Saturday night to escape a second time while 100 city detectives, twenty-five agents of the Department of Justice and eight deputy United States Marshals watched the Raymond street jail to thwart the gang attack he had planned.

According to Lincoln's scheme, uncovered by a fellow-prisoner, Paul Kelly and eight of his East Side gangsters were to enter the jail by a ruse, summon the keepers one by one to the Warden's office, overpower them and release Lincoln and his two prisoner confederates.

Lincoln, waiting in his cell with hat and overcoat on, didn't know his twenty-two page letter to the gangster had fallen into the warden's hands. At 11 o'clock on Saturday night he was summoned from his cell by a cautious dark figure.

RAN INTO DETECTIVES.

Covered with a wide-brimmed slouch hat and a great overcoat, Lincoln slipped from his cell, down the tier and out by the cell gate the main door of the jail, his hurrying figure suddenly ran into forty detectives with drawn revolvers.

"So long, Lincoln," they chimed in chorus.

Lincoln stopped, straightened up, and burst out with: "Vell, vat of it, vat of it, vat of it?" He was led away to the warden's office, was confronted by United State Marshal Power, a correction commissioner, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Warden Hayes and Department of Justice officials, who had participated in the month's chase for him last January. Then he was removed to solitary confinement.

Richard Haskins and Jacob Bergman, his prisoner confederates, who were sentenced to Sing Sing today for burglary, said they had "squealed" on Lincoln, hoping to gain clemency for themselves. Haskins was to have paid the gangsters $325 for the job, but the only money actually paid was $50, which Bergman borrowed last week from his sister; the loss of which made him almost crazy.

GROSS NEGLECT IS CHARGE AGAINST HON. A. P. McNAB

By Canadian Press.

REGINA, Sask., April 3.—J. F. Bryant, counsel for J. A. Bradshaw, M. L. A., today filed particulars of charges of graft and fraud in the Battleford Asylum with H. Y. MacDonald, K. C., counsel for the Hon. A. P. McNab, the Minister accused.

The particulars charge that the province lost more than a quarter of a million dollars in the frauds. The total cost of the asylum was about $1,200,000.

Following are the particulars:

"That in connection with the asylum for the insane of North Battleford there has been gross neglect on the part of the Government and its officials in the matter of letting contracts and the manner in which changes in the contracts were made and supplementary contracts entered into.

"That there has been systematic violation of the contracts connived at by the Government.

"That in consequence the treasury of the Government has been defrauded of sums exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

"That the contracts were let without tender or sufficient opportunity for tender at excessive prices."

PLAN TO PLACE SOCIETIES UPON A STRONGER BASIS

By Canadian Press.

TORONTO, April 3. — Eighteen fraternal insurance societies of Ontario were represented this morning before the special committee of the Legislature appointed to consider W. D. McPherson's Bill to amend the Ontario Insurance Act.

The Act has several important features. It compels all fraternal insurance societies to publish every three years a statement of assets and liabilities. The first statement is to be made in December 1917, and if it shows the society's balance is on the wrong side it is allowed until the next three year period to recover or get no worse.

If at that time the society is drifting back, the Registrar of Insurance is authorized to cancel the charter and wind up the society.

The Act also forces societies to send to each member a statement of the financial condition, to publish the same in the orders paper and also in other publications.

John Paterson, K. C., who with Lyman Lee, acted as counsel for societies, said that unless the Bill were passed many societies in the near future would have to plunge into the vortex of insolvency.

From 1913 to 1914 the membership in Canadian fraternal societies had dropped 31,000, because people had not confidence in the societies.

Eighteen societies were solvent and five insolvent at the present time.

MORE RECRUITS JOIN THE RANGERS FOR N. C. O. CLASS

The 199th Irish Canadian Rangers marched out about 250 strong yesterday on their second church parade. The Catholic party, lead by Lt.-Col. Trihey and the Honorary Colonel C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice, attended high mass at St. Anne's at 10 o'clock where a strong appeal was made by the Rev. Father Kelch. Father Kelch also referred to the death of Capt. the Hon. Fred Shaughnessy and spoke in glowing terms of his character and career. The Protestant party under command of Capt. Knox-Leet attended a special service at St. John the Evangelist where the pastor, Rev. Dr. Davidson preached.

Capt. W. P. Kearney and his staff of officers are doing good work in the way of recruiting for the N. C. O. Class of the 199th. These officers are in attendance at the different recruiting stations from early morning until late at night and their efforts are meeting with great success. Twelve men joined on Saturday, including the following:

John William Kelly, Composite Battalion.

William Lee Chamberlain, Composite Battalion.

Eric W. Sutherland, Composite Battalion.

Lewis Wisheld, Composite Battalion.

T. Hammill, Composite Battalion.

Walter Cantwell, 1 year 55 I. C. R.

C. Blake, 1 year 55 I. C. R.

McGILL SCOUTS HAVE WON TROPHY

Provincial headquarters of the Boy Scouts this morning received notification from Lieut. Drysdale, who acted as judge at the shooting competitions held last Wednesday for the Rutland trophy, that the 11th McGill troop had won the trophy over all comers. Their score was 425 out of a possible 500, or 85 per cent, for an average.

The 6th Montreal, 1st Westmount, came second, with 406, or 81 per cent. The latter is the team which won over the Quebec scouts at a recent competition.

CONFEDERATES OF SCHILLER ADMIT THEY BLED HIM

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—One of the three named by Clarence Reginald Hudson, alias Ernest Schiller, as his associates in an alleged conspiracy to blow up with dynamite the Cunard steamer Pannonia, is still at liberty, but the police say they expect to arrest him before night.

Hudson, who tried to capture the British steamer Matoppo at sea and awed her crew of fifty-six men by a display of revolvers, will be arraigned in court in connection with the Pannonia plot as soon as the case against him is completed.

George Haller and Otto Milleder, arrested last night and held on minor charges as Hudson's fellow conspirators, admitted today that they had frequent conferences with Hudson concerning his plan to blow up British or French vessels lying at piers here.

They said they had received money from him to buy dynamite, a motorboat, revolvers or other supplies, but asserted that they spent his money for their own benefit and pawned the revolvers he bought for them.

AFTER ENGLISH SHIPS ONLY.

Milleder said that he went with Hudson to look over the vessels at the piers of the Anchor and Cunard lines and that Hudson said he did not want to injure any but English ships.

Haller said Hudson proposed to him within five minutes after they met to blow up a Cunard line steamship. He said that Hudson proposed to cross the river from Hoboken in a launch, climb aboard the steamer, carrying guns and dynamite, and, when the steamer was outside of Sandy Hook, hold up the captain and crew and blow up the steamer, escaping in life boats.

"We took Hudson to be crazy," said Haller, "and decided to get what money there was in it. He told us he got the money from a young woman in Salem, Mass., so I wrote her and told her that Hudson was locked up and that I wanted $60. She sent it by special delivery. I wrote again for $20 but she did not send it."

Price of Wheat Stumbling Block in Wilhelmina Case

LONDON, April 3.—The British Government has served its brief in the case of the steamship Wilhelmina and A. G. Hays, reporting the American owners of the cargo, will reply within a fortnight. The whole case will then be submitted to Lord Mersey for arbitration.

The Government contends in its brief that the cargo should be valued at the price of wheat at Hamburg as legally fixed by the German Government in February and March of 1915, which was 40 per cent below the London price.

The owners will contend that since the German Government promised not to interfere with the sale of the cargo, thereby giving it a free market, the regular competitive price should be taken as the basis.

Within two weeks one year will have elapsed since the Wilhelmina case was settled on principle, but the appointment of Lord Mersey as arbiter to assess the price of the cargo and the amount of loss for detention of the vessel.

SHACKLETON MADE TRIP ACROSS POLE AURORA MAN FEELS

DUNEDIN, New Zealand, April 3.—On the arrival of the Aurora here, J. R. Stenhouse, the first officer, who brought the vessel from Ross Sea, expressed confidence that Sir Ernest Shackleton had succeeded in making his trip across the Pole according to schedule.

He added that, although the party entrusted with depot-laying were to go as far south as possible, they may nevertheless have been unable to reach Cape Beardmore, the point originally intended.

Lieut. Stenhouse, explaining the circumstances in which the Aurora broke adrift, said:

"It might look as if we were running away to save our hides, but as a matter of fact the ship was so buckled by her six weeks' pressure from the ice that the ship's party were on the point of abandoning her and sending a wireless message to the King, requesting that a relief expedition be sent, when she managed to get clear. It was a sad home-going, but it was utterly impossible for the ship to be of any use in her condition. I hope to return with the same personnel and to pick up the parties left ashore."

Mr. Stenhouse said they had taken enough hawsers and anchors to moor the ship, but they snapped like threads in the blizzard.

"As our ship drifted away," he said, "we could see plainly the lights in the little hut occupied by the landing party."

For some time the explorers lived on what they were able to kill, mainly seals and penguins, their provisions just holding out.

PORT CHALMERS, New Zealand, April 3.—Back from the Antarctic seas came the auxiliary ship Aurora of the Shackleton expedition today, with a thrilling story of perils from great masses of drifting ice and of terrible hardships in the Ross Sea.

The Aurora arrived off the coast in command of the Chief Officer, J. R. Stenhouse, of the Royal Naval Reserve, who became commander when the Aurora broke loose from her moorings and went adrift last May, leaving Captain Mackintosh and several other members of the party ashore on Cape Crozier.

A tug, sent to the relief of the Aurora yesterday, wirelessed her arrival off the New Zealand coast, but said she would be able to proceed into port without assistance. The Aurora's rudder was snapped off when she was caught in the ice pack last May. She drifted more than 1,200 miles in the ten months she was held in the ice grip, but her crew fitted out a jury rudder when she was freed three weeks ago and made slow progress toward the New Zealand coast.

NO WAR NEWS IN SEVENTEEN MONTHS.

The Aurora left for the South Pole shortly after the outbreak of the war, planning to meet Sir Ernest Shackleton when he merged in Ross sea after crossing the Pole from the South American side.

"Is all well in the Old Country—we have no war news for seventeen months," flashed the Aurora's wireless operator a few hours before the tug reached her.

From a New Zealand station the latest war news went crackling back to the relief ship. One of the messages informed the Aurora's wireless operator that his brother had been killed in action at the British front.

The explorers leaned over the Aurora's side and cheered wildly when the tug approached, a wireless message said. They reported they had been existing on the flesh of seals and penguins since the ship broke loose.

LONDON, April 3.—The Carnegie, the non-magnetic vessel which has been engaged in making a magnetic exploration in southern latitudes, has returned to Lyttleton, New Zealand, according to a despatch from Wellington. The vessel covered 17,000 miles in 120 days.

The captain of the Carnegie says that he passed over the Aurora's course two days ahead, and, had the Carnegie been fitted with wireless apparatus, he would have welcomed the opportunity to bring the Aurora to port.

The Carnegie in 1913 completed a four-year tour of the world in the interest of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, and in the summer of 1914 made a trip in the North Atlantic ocean.

The purpose of the trip from which the ship has just returned was to obtain matter for magnetic charts which will indicate the variation of the magnetic needle from exact north and south points of the earth.

Since 1915 the various magnetic surveys sent out by the Carnegie Institution of Washington, according to a statement by L. A. Bauer, director of the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of the Institution, have covered over 1,000,000 miles, have visited over 100 countries and established more than 3,000 stations, all without the loss of a single life.

FUSE CONTRACT CHARGES VOICED AGAIN BY KYTE

Member for Richmond Spoke Before Reform Club Here

Before members of the Montreal Reform Club Saturday night, Geo. W. Kyte, M.P. for Richmond, N.S., repeated his charges that on Imperial Government munition contracts totalling $15,000,000, Col. J. Wesley Allison and Messrs. Yoakum and Lignante had divided a rake-off of $1,863,000.

The occasion was a banquet originally planned in honor of Ernest Lapointe, M.P. for Kamouraska, and Frank Carvell, M.P. for Carleton, N. B. Mr. Carvell, however, was unable to attend and requested Mr. Kyte to take his place.

The member for Richmond took off his gloves to deal with the matter of munitions contracts. The Liberal party, he said, had entered into a political truce for the duration of the war, but that did not enforce silence when the question of assisting men at home was involved. Touching briefly on events in the House of Commons the speaker got to his actual charges.

Through the influence of the Minister of Militia, said Mr. Kyte, Col. Allison had access to the militia department and was able to secure contracts out of which he made millions of dollars. He had secured an order to purchase Colt pistols and machine guns in the United States; the Order-in-Council proved it. The pistols, sold to the trade at $14.50, had cost the Government $18.50 each and a rake-off of $3,200 went into the pocket of Col. Allison.

A MATTER FOR SHAME.

Shell contracts, declared the speaker, furnished history of which Canadians must be ashamed. Shells had been made in Canada for eighteen months, but during fifteen months not a single fuse had been made here and of 3,000,000 shells, the British Government had furnished fuses for 500,000, the remainder being without fuses.

"Two men had offered to make fuses for $3.50 apiece, but the Government derided their offer and negotiated with a man named Yoakum who, in the name of the American Munitions Company, entered into a contract for 3,000,000 fuses at $1 a piece more than the Harris and Russell quotation. No fuses were to be delivered until five months after signature of the contract; despite that, Yoakum received a $1,000,000 advance with another $500,000 four months later.

Arrangements then were made between Allison, Yoakum and Lignante, former conductor of the orchestra at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Montreal, whereby some of the money advanced was divided up, partnership afterwards being dissolved. Five contracts altogether had been secured by the trio and before any goods were delivered the gentlemen were dividing the spoils. In all the rake-off taken on contracts worth $15,000,000 had been $1,863,000, of which Lignante was to get $266,500. And it must be remembered, he said, that the total amount of contracts to be awarded was $500,000,000.

The speaker ended with the declaration that, apart from his thirst for glory, Sir Sam Hughes had always acted as an honest man, and his return to Canada for the inquiry the Government had accorded would be eagerly awaited.

Mr. Lapointe spoke of the misdeeds of the Borden Government that had appointed eighty-one commissions during its reign, instead of working itself.

Those present included: Senator James Ross, Senator Arthur Boyer, Senator Gilmour, the Hon. Sydney Fisher, the Hon. J. Decarie, the Hon. Walter Mitchell, of the Quebec Government; J. W. Levesque, M.L.A. for Laval; John A. Chisholm, ex-mayor of Cornwall; Wm. Chisholm, M.P. for Antigonish, N.S.; Senator Robert Watson, S. Letourneau, M.L.A., and T. C. Lemaire.

NOTES AND QUERIES

CREMATION IN MONTREAL.

Q.—Would you kindly tell me what it costs to have a body cremated.—A Constant Reader.

A.—Cremation costs ten dollars for an adult and five dollars for a child at the Crematorium in Mount Royal Cemetery, the only establishment provided for the purpose in Canada, as far as we are aware. By the generosity of Sir William C. Macdonald, this Crematory was built and endowed in 1901. It is the only institution of the kind where the charges are so low—being approximately the actual cost to people who have means, and entirely free to those who cannot afford to pay. Contrary to the general belief, it is not necessary for the deceased to express a wish in a will in order to be cremated. The company takes every precaution to see that the process is not used to hide crime, and for that reason application has to be made on the proper form by an executor or nearest surviving relative, and sworn to. The certificate of the medical attendant must state clearly the circumstances and cause of death and in case of any doubt, a coroner's certificate must also accompany the application. The papers are passed by a medical referee—or his deputy—officers of the company. The certificates and forms are much like those in use in Great Britain. The Crematorium Limited has its head office at 207 Papineau Avenue, Montreal, where all forms and information can be had for the asking.

NATURE OF MEERSCHAUM.

Q. — Will you please let me know if meerschaum used for tobacco-pipes is a mineral, and in which country is it found — N. A. S., Batiscan Station, Que.

A.—Meerschaum (literally "sea-foam"; German: "meer," sea; "schaum," foam), is a fine white clay-like mineral, soft and light enough in dry masses to float in water, and called by mineralogy "Sepiolite." It is a hydrous silicate of magnesium. It got its name from the old notion that it was petrified sea-foam, being found on the sea-shore in some places. The meerschaum used in the manufacture of pipes, cigar-holders, etc., comes chiefly from Asia Minor; but it is found also in Spain, Moravia, Turkey, Morocco and the United States. In Spain meerschaum is used as a building stone and in Algeria as a bathing soap.

NO PASSPORT REQUIRED.

Q.—1. I am English Canadian, born in Province of Ontario, and I want to go to Bethel, Vermont, to buy a farm; I will probably be one week on the trip. Is it necessary for me to have a passport or birth certificate to go into the States? 2. Would it be necessary for me to have my Canada money exchanged in Montreal for American money?—A Reader, Montreal.

A. No passports or certificates are required by the authorities of the United States from Canadian citizens who enter the United States either for business or pleasure. 2. Canadian money will pass all right in Vermont.

BANKING HOURS.

Q. — Is it legal for a bank in the country to keep its doors open until 5 every day? Another bank in same town closes at regulation hour of 3 o'clock, and naturally "regular hour" bank loses a certain amount of business. To whom should a complaint be made — The Minister of Finance, or the Canadian Bankers' Association? — Country Bank Manager.

A. No hours are prescribed for banks by the Act. In most places they are fixed by usage at from 10 to 3 on all business days except Saturdays, when they are from 10 to 12, or 1. This is a matter for each bank to determine.

CANADIAN TEACHERS ABROAD.

Q.—Could a Canadian Model School teacher obtain a position as teacher in, say, a Mexican or South American school without taking special examinations? If so, how would she proceed? —K. F. M.

A.—We think so; but a Canadian teacher will be able to pass any examination that may be set, for an English school in Mexico and South America. The best thing to do is to communicate with the consuls representing the countries in question. You will find a list of the consuls in Montreal at Page 1079 of the Montreal Directory.

THE AREA OF QUEBEC.

Q.—What is the area of the Province of Quebec?—G. A. T., Montreal.

A.—The Province of Quebec covers an area of 703,653 square miles, including New Quebec, formerly the territory of Ungava, the annexation of which has had the effect of doubling its extent of territory. Old Quebec: 351,873 square miles; New Quebec: 351,780; total, 703,653 square miles. From east to west, from Labrador to the Province of Ontario, its breadth is 3,000 miles, and from north to south, from the 45th degree to Cape Wolstenholme in Hudson's Straits, its length is 1,900 miles.

POPULATION OF CANADA.

Q.—What is the latest official estimate of the population of Canada? What was the population of the Dominion five years ago?—J. R. MacD., Cornwall, Ont.

A.—The population of Canada in 1914 as estimated by the Dominion Government, was 8,075,000. At the last census, in 1911, the population of Canada was 7,206,643.

PROHIBITION REFERENDUM.

Q. — Would it be possible, with a petition big enough to have a referendum on the prohibition issue at the next provincial elections, even if they come next June? Should the petition be sent to the Lieutenant-Governor or the Prime Minister?— H. B. Bedford, Que.

A.—Such a petition would be quite in order. It should be presented to the Prime Minister.

IMPORTED FROM FRANCE.

Q.—I recently learned that the Montreal custom of yearly leases with three months' notice also prevails in Scotland. Can you tell me whether Montreal imported the custom from Scotland or from France? Scotland undoubtedly got hers from France.—Invalid

A.—From France.

"UNTIL JULY 1ST."

Q. — Is the expression "up until July 1," or "up until he resigned," good or passable English. — J. R. C., Montreal.

A. — These forms are not good or even passable English. In both cases the word "up" is redundant and is not necessary to the sense. The sentences should read "until July 1st," "until he resigned," etc.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

Q.—Will you please give me Mr. Rockefeller's address.—Mrs. A. L., Montreal.

A.—John D. Rockefeller, 4 West 54th St., New York.

URGES SLACKERS BE DISFRANCHISED

TORONTO, April 3.—That single men, without encumbrances, who do not enlist, should be disfranchised is the contention of Lt.-Col. H. A. C. Machine, M. L. A., for Kenora, and commanding officer of the 94th Battalion, Port Arthur, who spoke at Loew's Theatre last night at a rally of the Irish Fusiliers.

"Those men should be disfranchised," he said, "The men who refuse to defend their country should have no say in the government of that country."

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

How They Work

Victoria, B.C.

For several years I have been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble caused by uric acid. For this I was taking something or other continually with but little or no relief. At last a friend handed me a sample package of your Gin Pills. The contents of this sample gave me relief that I had not experienced in a long time. Since then I have been taking Gin Pills occasionally and have no returns of my former trouble.

Toronto District Has Enlisted 67,420

TORONTO, April .—An official announcement of Saturday afternoon shows that 67,420 men had been enlisted in the Toronto Military District. As the total number to be enlisted for the district is 85,000, its share of the half million men to be raised in Canada, this leaves only 17,580 yet to be raised. Only part of the 17,500 will be infantry, probably.

LIFE and CHARACTER READING
APRIL 2

The horoscope of this birthdate indicates that the person is frank outspoken and sometimes almost brutal in his directness of speech.

However his warm generous nature and quick responsive sympathy seems to offset his directness and he has a large circle of friends who depend on his judgment and advice.

This person is very active, energetic and impulsive and when in his right line of work he accomplishes a great deal.

There are few better workers in the Zodiac than the Aries people. Aries being the sign for all birthdates between March 21 and April 19.

The chief characteristic of this person is intuitive insight and he belongs in the profession of teaching literature or lecturing.

Metal workers and machinists will be able to find good positions through the Montreal Daily Star Want Ads.

JOHN PIERCE IS GIVEN PROMOTION IN CANADA LINES

John F. Pierce, just appointed assistant passenger traffic manager of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited with headquarters at Montreal has had long experience in the steamship business.

He was born at Chatham, Ont., and was educated in the High School and business college, came to Montreal in 1896 to take a position as stenographer in the passenger department with the old Richelieu & Ontario Company. He was subsequently made chief clerk of the passenger department, which position he held until 1911 when he was sent to New England as travelling passenger agent. In 1912 he was appointed district passenger agent for New England.

When the merger took place in 1913, Mr. Pierce was brought back to Montreal and made assistant general passenger agent. With the amalgamation of the various steamship lines under the name of the Canada Steamship Lines, Limited, he was made general passenger agent and the company has further shown a mark of the appreciation for his services by appointing him to the important post of assistant passenger traffic manager.

QUEBEC WILL HEAR RACEY WAR LECTURE

Great interest has been aroused over the approaching presentation in Quebec of A. G. Racey's remarkable illustrated lecture, "The War in Cartoon," which met with success when given in Windsor Hall recently in aid of the Soldiers' Wives' League fund.

The Quebec entertainment will be under the patronage of Lieutenant-Governor and Mme. LeBlanc, Sir Lomer and Lady Gouin and the Mayor and Mayoress of Quebec. The date is Thursday evening, April 6.

WORKERS COMMITTEE AGAINST THE STRIKE.

GLASGOW, April 3. — The strike of Clyde munitions factory workers, which threatened to hinder seriously the manufacture of big guns, was practically ended today. The committee from the workers voted to recommend to the men that they return to work at once.

The army of Monaco, though small was resplendent during peace times, but now that war is under way it has been dissolved because the professional soldiers who composed it have all been called home and are fighting under the French or Italian colors, as the case may be, or drawn up in the Swiss contingents guarding the frontier.

Under the right atmospheric conditions the heavy firing on the west front of the European battle line has been heard 140 miles away.

EXPECT CLYDE STRIKE TO BREAK DOWN AT ONCE

LONDON, April 3.—The Clyde strike is expected to collapse today and it is affirmed that the night shift will resume work tonight and that the day shift will return tomorrow morning.

This result is due largely to the decision of the strike committee to hand over the whole matter to the local officials of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers for negotiations with the Clyde dilution-of-labor commissions.

An announcement of the decision reached will be made at a meeting of the strikers this afternoon, when the men will be advised to resume work immediately. The chief labor commissioner has returned to Glasgow after consulting with the Cabinet Ministers, and it is understood that if a settlement is not effected the Government is determined to adopt stringent measures in order to bring the strike to an end.

The Mersey dock strike has ended. The men returned to work this morning.

PINEMORE SAVES CREW OF SINKING ANNIE E. LARDER

By Canadian Press.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Nantucket lightship today reported by wireless that the British steamer Pinemore, from Manchester would arrive here today, having on board the crew of the British schooner, Annie E. Larder.

The Annie E. Larder, according to the message, was abandoned at sea in a sinking condition on March 27. The schooner was last reported at Gibraltar on February 9.

CHAMPLAIN I. O. D. E. SENDS GOODS AWAY

Excellent work is being done by the Champlain Chapter I. O. D. E., of which Madam A. Chevalier is regent.

This chapter is composed almost entirely of French ladies, who amongst other activities send comforts regularly to the French-Canadian battalions. Lately 840 pairs of socks were sent to the 22nd Battalion. Five convalescent suits, 5 shirts, 7 pairs of pyjamas and other hospital comforts were made last fortnight for the Canadian Red Cross Society, besides thousands of folded gauze pads.

The money donations given by the chapter last fortnight were $30 to Lady Drummond's prisoners of war fund and $25 to the University Settlement Milk Station.

ONE ROUND TRIP TO WEST INDIES TO GET MOLASSES

In the matter of the shortage of ocean tonnage to bring molasses from the West Indies to this country, respecting which the council of the Board of Trade has been in correspondence with the Minister of Trade & Commerce, the secretary of the board has received the following letter:—

Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

"Dear Mr. Hadrill,—With further reference to my letter to you of the 24th instant, the Intercolonial Railway proposes to put on a boat to make at least one round trip between Halifax and the West Indies, to leave Halifax somewhere about April 15, and it would be well for your people to get into communication with the manager of the Intercolonial Railway in connection with the molasses business.

"Whether this vessel can make more than one round trip or not, I do not know, but I hope she will be able to meet your demands to a certain extent at least. Outside of this vessel I have no others in sight about which I could advise you.

"Yours sincerely,

"(Signed) GEORGE FOSTER."

ROCKEFELLER BODY URGES REVOLUTION IN SCHOOLS OF U. S.

Special to The Montreal Star.

NEW YORK, April 3.—An innovation which if adopted would result in a complete change in the American public school system is advocated today by the General Education Board.

The Board is part of the Rockefeller Foundation, Dr. Abraham Flexner, who issued the statement, is secretary of the Board and also a member of the New York City Board of Education.

The plan advocates the abandonment of formal instruction in grammar, of the dead languages, of the teaching of the dry bones of history and of other studies, taught, according to the Board, solely because of their traditional rather than their actual value.

Instead the Board would turn the whole city into a laboratory. "Aside from reading, writing, spelling and figuring," Dr. Flexner writes, "the curriculum of the modern school would be built out of actual activities in science, industry, aesthetics and civics."

NOMINATIONS FOR TYPOGRAPHICAL, 176

The Montreal Typographical Union, 176, meeting on Saturday, received nominations for executive officers, the elections to take place on the fourth Wednesday in May. The nominations were as follows: J. C. E. Tardiff and Thomas Black, vice-president; W. Gillespie, J. T. Edward; secretary-treasurer, James Philip (acclamation); recorder, E. J. The Minister of Justice of Chile has appointed a commissioner to make a study of crime in that country and to submit an annual report concerning it to the Government, including recommendations of preventive and reform measures ad for the classification ad separation of prisoners.

New South Wales is said to have more varieties of flowering plants than all Europe.

Recent Deaths.

FUNERAL OF LATE ROLLO C. SIMPSON HELD HERE TODAY

The funeral of the late Rollo C. Simpson was held this afternoon at all past two o'clock from the residence of his son-in-law Robert Curry, 99 Victoria avenue Westmount.

Mr. Simpson, formerly of Montreal, and eldest son of the late James Simpson, builder, died suddenly yesterday at the residence of his son in New York city. His illness which was brief set in with a slight cold and pneumonia developed rapidly. Mr. Simpson was a general favorite with those engaged in the wholesale dry goods trade in Montreal. He was also one of the oldest members and officers of the Dominion Commercial Travellers' Association, a member of Royal Albert Lodge A. F. and A. M. and a governor of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane at Verdun.

He is survived by his widow and by three daughters Mrs. S. W. Stevenson, Mrs. A. E. Rex and Mrs. Robert Currie, all of Montreal, two sons Harry of New York and Lieutenant Walter Simpson on service with the 16th (Queen's Canadian Scots Battery by Mr. Currie, four brothers James and Robert of Montreal, Will son of Toronto and Jack of Oswego N.Y. and one sister Mrs. Alex Wallace of Dunoon, Scotland.

FATHER AUCLAIR FELL DEAD WHILE IN CHURCH PULPIT

Just as he had mounted the pulpit at high mass yesterday morning, and was on the point of beginning his sermon, the Rev. Father Zephirin Auclair, parish priest of St. Polycarpe, fell to the floor. Parishioners who rushed to his assistance found him dead of heart failure.

Father Auclair was fifteen years parish priest of St. Polycarpe and was universally beloved. He served for many years at St. Joseph's Church, Richmond street here. He was a brother of the Rev. Magloire Auclair, for years pastor of St. Jean Baptiste Church, Rachel street, and uncle of the Rev. Abbe Eli Auclair, the well known ecclesiastical writer and editor, who is attached to the household of Archbishop Bruchesi.

Father Auclair was born at St. Vincent de Paul, and studied at Montreal College where he was a classmate of Mr. Justice Charbonneau, Mr. Justice Guerin, E. J. Bisaillon, and a school mate of Archbishop Bruchesi.

MANY AT FUNERAL OF LATE L. E. WATERS

The funeral of the late L. E. Waters was held on Saturday and was largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. M. F. McCutcheon, pastor of First Baptist church, and the Rev. Wm. Johnson, of Wyman Memorial church, Hudson. The chief mourners were: Sidney, Frank and Fulton Waters, sons; Arch. F. Waters, brother; J. H. McNaughton, brother-in-law. Among the many others present were: Art Brown, R. I. Dutton, Clarence Dutton, J. R. Lowden, W. A. Wood, Frank Mathews, H. S. Ross, K.C., W. E. Gladwish, J. Young, L. Edgar, F. W. Wallace, Wm. FOUR ARE KILLED SEVERAL INJURED WEEK-END RECORD

Three men killed by street cars, two of them in the same accident; an unidentified man killed by a train; a woman who broke her neck falling down stairs and is expected to die; and one or two sufferers from minor injuries figure in the week-end list of accidents.

A west-bound Notre Dame street car was passing by a siding just east of the crossing over the Grand Trunk Railway when the rear truck jumped the switch, swinging the car into B. Dufort's tailoring establishment. Two men standing on the sidewalk were caught. Sylvio Fortin, sixty years old, 66 St. Ferdinand street, was killed outright. A. Lepine, forty-seven years old, died last night in the General Hospital. Death seems to haunt the Dufort store. Two weeks ago the proprietor died, to be followed to the grave by his wife a week later.

Three hours later, and three streets from the scene of this accident, O. Marsil, seventy-four years old, 108 Cartier Park, was killed by an east bound Lachine car, as he was crossing the street near his home.

Early this morning, an unidentified man, thought to be a Polish laborer, who was knocked down by a C.P.R. train near St. Martin's Junction yesterday, died from a fractured skull.

On Saturday night, Mrs. M. Robillard, 667 Gilford street, fell down stairs at the home of friends she was visiting at 1150 St. Hubert street. She is at the Notre Dame Hospital. Her neck is fractured. She is fifty years old.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.—Advertisement.

WAITE PLANNED TO SLAY WIFE, HE CONFESSES

NEW YORK, April 3. Dr. Arthur Warren Waite confessed yesterday that, in addition to murdering his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, he had also intended to poison his wife, who was formerly Clara Peck.

The District Attorney obtained evidence some time ago showing that Dr. Waite induced his wife to make a will leaving practically all of her fortune of $500,000 to him and that the dentist attempted to allay in advance any possible suspicion by cerefully spreading a report that Mrs. Waite was in poor health, but Dr. Waite had denied that the daughter of the murdered parents was his next intended victim.

Walter R. Deuel, counsel for Dr. Waite, was asked yesterday the direct question "Has Dr. Waite confessed that he planned to kill his wife?"

Mr. Deuel hesitated for a moment and then replied: "Although I would prefer not to discuss that question, I can't deny that such a confession has been made."

LED BY CUPIDITY.

Mr. Deuel further admitted that Dr. Waite was guided through his practicing and planning of murder by cupidity and nothing else. The dentist married Clara Peck without loving her. He lived in Grand Rapids and knew that John E. Peck possessed about $1,000,000 and that all of it would go to his two children, Clara and Percy. He therefore set about deliberately, first to make Clara his wife, then to murder Mr. and Mrs. Peck, and, finally, after he had made it certain that he would inherit his wife's fortune, to put her out of the way.

It is also believed by many that the dentist planned the death of Miss Katherine E. Peck, of this city, his wife's aunt. She is a sister of John E. Peck and is worth a fortune in her own right. Dr. Waite, by ingratiating himself with her, obtained from her, before the exposure of his crimes, about $100,000, and probably anticipated that he would be generously remembered in her will.

NEW BRUNSWICK MEN IN OTTAWA OVER RY. ROUTE

OTTAWA, April 3. A delegation representing the New Brunswick Government was in Ottawa on Saturday to interview the acting Minister of Railways, the Hon. Dr. Reid, and members of the Government, with regard to the construction of the Valley Railway into the city of St. John.

The point at issue is as to the route to be followed from Gagetown to St. John. As originally planned, the route would carry the line across the St. John and Kennebecasis rivers by two expensive bridges, which it has been estimated would cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

The proposition was that the Dominion should build these structures. Recently engineers who reported on this plan, however, found that on account of the nature of the river bottom it would be a difficult matter to erect these bridges. They recommended a route along the west bank of the St. John River, via Westfield by which the road would enter St. John over the Canadian Pacific Railway, temporarily, at least.

It was the recommendation which was discussed at Saturday's conference, but no definite decision was reached. When an agreement has been come to it will have to be ratified by Parliament.

The matter was discussed between the Government, F. P. Gutelius, general manager, and Mr. Alward, general counsel of the Government railways; E. C. Fairweather, solicitor for the Railway Department; and the Hon. J. M. L. Baxter, attorney-general, and the Hon. James A. Murray, acting Premier of New Brunswick.

The Dutch Government has taken over the distribution of all coal in Holland. Distribution is under control of a body known as the State Coal Distribution and Advisory Committee. Importers of coal must disclose all their stocks for the purpose of it subject to the instructions of this body.

Seeds germinate rapidly under the influence of violet and blue rays, but flies and other insects do not like these colors.

SHERIFF'S SALE — Province of Quebec. District of Montreal. No. 385 Superior Court. His Majesty the King, Plaintiff, versus Remi Lachapelle, defendant. On the 13th day of April 1916 at ten of the clock in the forenoon, at the domicile of the said Defendant, No. 1163 Dorion street in the City of Montreal will be sold by authority of Justice to the goods and chattels of the said Defendant seized in this cause consisting of household furniture, etc. Terms cash. E. E. COUTU, B.S.C. Montreal, April 1st, 1916.

PRIVATE C. A. P. Hornung, 18th (C.D.S.) Battalion, Royal Fusiliers, was the youngest of twelve first cousins grandsons of the late J. P. Hornung, Shadieshrough, who have joined the colors during the present war, of these he is the third to fall.

Born in 1897, he was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hornung, of Barnadine, Upper Norwood, and a nephew of J. W. Hornung, the novelist, whose only child was killed in France on July 6. He was educated at Marlborough where he made a name for himself as a boxer of more than average ability. In 1912, when scarcely 15, he was beaten only by a point in the final for the bantams, which, however, he won the year after, while in 1914 he won the feather-weights and the silver medal for boxing. These performances were the more meritorious in a boy not exceptionally robust, but indeed one singularly delicate. They were the outcome of a natural talent, allied with a temperament which led to France as surely as into the ring nobody ever took a more serene delight in fights for the fearless. In order to play out whether earnest or fun he "put up" at first for a commission, but received one in the ranks of the Public Schools Battalion, with which he went to the front last November. At the end of January he was recommended for a commission, and had only to be gazetted when on the evening of February 7 he was killed by a shell while going into the trenches.

TO EXTEND LABOR DISPUTES ACT TO MUNITION PLANTS

OTTAWA, April 3.—The Government has decided to extend the scope of the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act, hitherto embracing only "public utilities," to include all branches of the war munitions business.

The announcement is of exceptional interest in labor and manufacturing circles in view of the allegations that certain shell plants and other firms engaged on war work were not paying fair wages and the efforts of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to have a fair wage clause inserted in all British contracts for munitions.

When ten or more persons are employed they may now demand a board of conciliation to investigate wages or conditions of employment and the company must agree to reference of the disputes to arbitration by a tribunal of three, one appointee representing the workers, another the company, and the third named by the Department of Labor.

The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act of 1907, now extended in its scope to include war workers, embraced only public utilities, such as mining companies, railways, steamships, telephones, telegraph, gas, electric light, water and power works, and all agencies of transportation or communication employing ten or more persons.

Under the Act all disputes concerning wages, hours of employment, child labor and other grievances either on the part of employee or employer must be submitted to a board of conciliation and investigation and a strike or lockout is unlawful prior to or during such reference to the board.

VERDUN CONCERT.

The "Excelsior Orchestra," of Verdun gave a very fine concert on Thursday evening last to the patients of the Protestant Hospital for the Insane, Verdun. Songs by Mr. Simmonds, and Mr. Warr added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. The director of the orchestra was Thomas Taylor.

CHARGE TORTURE FORK PLACED IN OATS FOR FRENCH

NEW YORK, April 3.—Richard Harding Davis has sent to the New York Times a "petite fourchette," or little fork, many of which, the French say, have been put into American oats and other horse feed by Germans or German sympathizers in America to cause death by tearing the intestines of the animals of the Allied armies.

To the French eye the small fork might be likened to a diabolical torture prong similar to those pictured in use by small caricatured devils. To the German eye it might be a disloged part of a feed-mill mechanism. The "fourchette" is about three-quarters of an inch long, and breaks into two sharp prongs in its middle.

With the fork sent by Mr. Davis was a clipping from the Paris Matin denouncing "les Boches d'Amerique."

"Knowing to what lengths German 'propagandists' are going in this country," Mr. Davis writes, "I believe the charge made by the Matin is true. That in this land of the 'free and the brave' an act so cruel and cowardly is possible is disheartening and sickening. The only way to put an end to it is to uncover it."

He continues that this can be done "by giving the widest publicity to this torturing of dumb animals, and by warning Americans against the Germans, who are masquerading among us as American citizens."

It is said that "any quantity" of the forks could be obtained in France.

VERY SHORT WILL; WIDOW BENEFICIARY

The will of Marie Louis Jean Baptiste Boudreault, insurance agent, has been probated. The testator bequeathed all his property to his wife, Marie Anne Leonie Bernard. The will is one of the briefest submitted to the local courts. It reads:

"January 30, 1915—I, the undersigned, give and bequeath my immovables and money to my beloved wife."

Y.W.C.A. HOLDING SUMMER CONFERENCE

The city and student annual summer conference of the Young Woman's Christian Association will be held from June 21 to 30, at Elgin House, on Lake Joseph, one of the Muskoka chain. The conference, although convened by the Y.W.C.A. will be one beneficial to all social workers, and those engaged in social work, whether belonging to the association or not are invited.

In addition to the meetings, studies and more serious business of the conference, there will be launch trips, tennis, bathing, and other amusements.

Elgin House is at the south end of Lake St. Joseph and is easily reached by train. Provided that 100 delegates attend, the Eastern Canadian Passenger Association will grant tickets for the round trip at the rate of one fare and a third.

Information can be obtained from Miss A. Cassels, 332 Bloor street west, Toronto.

The Tufts radio station near Boston has recently been completed and experiments are now being conducted with it. The steel tower, which replaces that blown down last fall by a gale, is more than 300 feet high, being the largest in New England and the third largest in the United States.
