VOL. XXXV. No. 18 MONTREAL, THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1903. PRICE ONE CENT.

TWO YEARS TO-DAY SINCE DEATH OF QUEEN VICTORIA THE GOOD.

1100 McGill Students Marched to Square and Decorated Her Late Majesty's Statue with Flowers—Anniversary Quietly Observed Throughout City.

THE PASSING OF QUEEN VICTORIA TWO YEARS AGO TO-DAY.

Her late Majesty passed away at Osborne House at 6.30 p.m., January 22, 1901.

It was when the cold, gray day dawned on the morning of that day that the renewed decline of the vital powers warned the watchers that the struggle against nature could not much longer succeed. The Queen was then completely unconscious, and from moment to moment the exhaustion of the small remaining store of vitality became perceptibly greater.

Shortly after nine o'clock the doctors sent summonses to all the members of the family and also to the Rector of the Royal Chapel. Before they all arrived there took place that prudential phenomenon which nature sometimes grants to the dying.

The Queen became conscious and free of all suffering.

It was under those circumstances of precious memory that the last interviews with her children and grandchildren took place. The Queen received them all, singly and by twos and threes, within the next four hours. She recognized most of them.

Then the curtain of unconsciousness fell for the last time and the physicians made known that the Queen was dying. All assembled and remained until the very end.

It was so quiet, peaceful and gentle that it was difficult to realize that the shadow of death was present.

To-day is the second anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria.

In so far as this city is concerned, it was marked by the decoration of her late Majesty's statue on Victoria Square by the students of McGill University.

Three wreaths, the gifts, respectively, of the Faculties of Law, of Applied Science and Arts, and of Medicine, were placed on the pedestal and figure. The ceremonies attending the decoration were brief, and consisted chiefly of the singing of the National Anthem and Rule Britannia. There were no speeches.

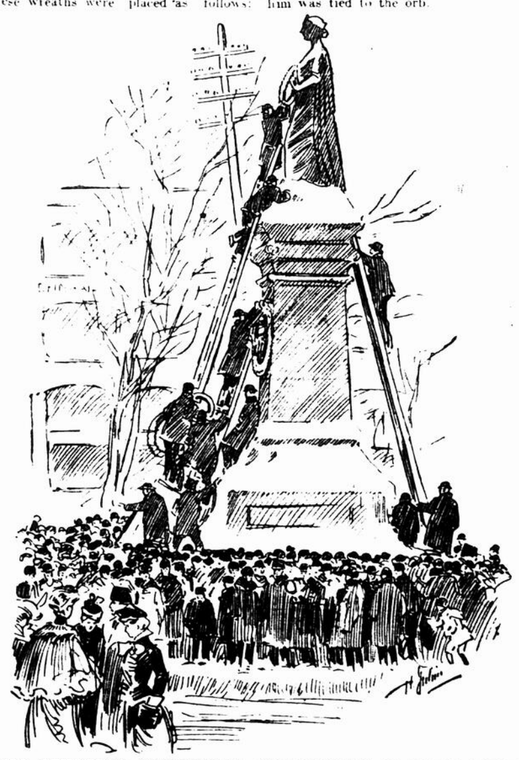
The wreaths were extremely pretty. That of Medicine was composed of four small wreaths combined into one very handsome whole. Each of these wreaths was made up of Boston laurel, Jerusalem cherries and white carnations. On the backgrounds, formed by the carnations, the class years were worked in Roman numerals. Near the centre of the cluster of wreaths a larger background of carnations, bearing the word "Medicine," was noticed. A good-sized streamer of red and white silk ribbons held the different wreaths together.

COMPOSED OF RARE FLOWERS.

The wreath contributed by the undergraduates of Law was smaller, but it was composed of the rarest and best of flowers, and for that reason was costly. Among the flowers entering into its composition were red and white roses, violets, pink and white carnations, forget-me-nots, and white hyacinths, all of which were charmingly interwoven into a backing composed of smilax, ferns and mignonette.

The Arts and Applied Science men clubbed together and secured a wreath of exceeding prettiness and delicacy, the constituent parts of which were hyacinthes, violets, roses, carnations, maiden-hair fern, smilax and Boston laurel. In size it was somewhat larger than that contributed by the undergraduates of Law.

These wreaths were placed as follows:



McGILL STUDENTS HONOURING THE MEMORY OF HER LATE MAJESTY QUEEN VICTORIA.

That from Medicine on the pedestal proper, that from Science and Arts on the sceptre, and that from Law on the orb.

No little trouble was experienced in depositing the wreaths, and it was not until a couple of ladders and a ball of twine had been secured, and an empty corporation toolbox had been pulled up to the base of the statue, that the boys were able to succeed in their undertaking.

MUSTER OF STUDENTS.

The students mustered by years on the college avenue at 11 o'clock, and proceeded to Victoria square by way of McGill College avenue, St. Catherine street, and Beaver Hall Hill. The turnout was the largest that McGill has mustered for years, almost every student being in line. It is computed that over 1,100 undergraduates were present at the decoration ceremonies. Besides these there was a big crowd of ordinary every-day citizens.

VICTORIA SQUARE REACHED

Victoria Square was reached about half-past eleven o'clock, and soon after the task of depositing the wreaths was commenced. The snow was brushed off the base of the pedestal, and a ladder was run up one of the sides. It was found to be too short for the purpose for what it was wanted. A second ladder was soon procured, and with its assistance a wire was passed around the cornice at the top of the pedestal, from which the wreath from Medicine was hung. Then the tool-box, above referred to, was pulled to the monument, turned on end, and one of the ladders was fastened to it. When in position the ladder was so perpendicular that it seemed risky to mount it, but, at last, one of the Science students, named Taylor, undertook the job, and was presently on the top of the pedestal clutching the figure of Her late Majesty.

TAYLOR PLACES THE WREATHS.

While in that position, the Science and Arts wreath was passed to him, and was by him in turn thrown over the sceptre. Then the smaller wreath from the undergraduates in Law was passed to him and by him was tied to the orb.

When that was finished Taylor retraced his steps, the ladders were removed, and the tool-box was taken back to where it had stood prior to the arrival of the students.

Some one called for a speech, but it was not forthcoming. Then a lusty singer started the National Anthem and soon the gathering of students and citizens was heartily singing it. "Rule Britannia" followed as a matter of course, and then a cheer was given for the King.

This brought the exercises to a close, and soon after the students dispersed, some to their homes, some to the hospital clinic, some to the college laboratories, and a considerable number to dinner.

ORIGINATION OF THE IDEA.

The idea of annual decorating the statue originated with the students of the Faculty of Medicine, who, some weeks ago, decided that each year, on January 22nd, they would deposit a wreath on the Victoria square memorial to Her late Majesty. It was subsequently felt that it would be desirable if the students of the faculties of Arts, Law and Applied Science would join in this annual tribute of affection to Victoria the Good.

With this end in view the Alma Mater Society of the University was asked by the Alma Mater Society to undertake the management of the whole affair, and the society then communicated with the various undergraduate bodies, with the result that it was decided that the University as a whole, and not any particular faculty thereof, should be responsible for the annual decoration of the statue.

THE ACCESSION OF HIS GRACIOUS MAJESTY KING EDWARD.

The King-Emperor entered his capital at 12.35 p.m., Jan. 23, and proceeded to Marlborough House. Shortly afterwards he drove to St. James' Palace to preside at his first Privy Council. He was attended by Lord Suffield and was escorted by a captain's escort of the Horse Guards.

By the time the King arrived a great gathering of Privy Councillors in levee dress, with crepe on their left arm, had taken up a position in the Throne Room — members of the royal family, Cabinet Ministers, Peers, Commoners, Bishops and Judges, the Duke of York, the Duke of Connaught, etc. Lord Salisbury, Lord Rosebery, Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, and a host of the most prominent personages in the land were there to receive the King's formal oath, binding him to govern the Kingdom according to its laws and customs, and hear him assume the title of King Edward VII. of Great Britain and Ireland, and Emperor of India.

The King was in a separate apartment from the Privy Councillors. The Royal Duke and certain Lords of the Council were directed to repair to the King's presence. His Majesty thereupon addressed the councillors in a brief speech. The Lord Chancellor, Lord Halsbury, administered the oath to the King. Commencing with the Lords-in-Council, they took their respective oaths of allegiance, and, in turn, passed before His Majesty as at a levee, except that each paused and kissed hands before passing out of the chamber.

This brought the ceremony to a close.

By 3.30 p.m. His Majesty returned to Marlborough House, in the vicinity of which there was a crowd of immense proportions.

Immediately opposite Marlborough House a tall gentleman in front of the crowd waved his hat and shouted, "Long live the King," whereupon the crowd cheered with great enthusiasm.

BARON DE HIRSCH PUPILS HELD MEMORIAL SERVICE TO-DAY.

The children of the Baron de Hirsch School assembled in the large hall of the new institute, this morning, at a service in memory of Her late Majesty Queen Victoria, in accordance with the form prescribed for the use of the united Hebrew congregations of the British Empire.

A short address was given by the Principal upon the progress of Canada and especially the advancement of education during the late good Queen's reign.

The service concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

The Day in England.

London, January 22.—The second anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria was observed to-day at Windsor, London, and elsewhere, by the depositing of wreaths on statues erected to her memory and by memorial services. King Edward, Queen Alexandra, the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the Royal family were present at the service held in the Frogmore Mausoleum. The sarcophagus of Queen Victoria and the Prince Consort was decorated with plants and white flowers. Subsequently, salutes were fired in celebration of the accession of King Edward.

MONTREAL LADIES TELL OF ST. LOUIS ADVENTURE

Mrs. Orkin, and Mrs. Vineberg Safe After 14 Days Experience on American Liner Arrive Home--Interesting Narratives of An Eventful Voyage.

Two Montreal women returned this morning from a journey to find themselves, if not actually famous, at least the objects of much interest.

They are Mrs. M. Vineberg, 255 Bishop street, who, with her husband, was a passenger by the unlucky St. Louis, which was given up as lost, and Mrs. J. A. Orkin, of 220 Clarke avenue, Westmount, who was also travelling on the St. Louis, and returned to find that her husband had been waiting in New York eight days for the vessel, and was ill with the anxiety and nervous strain.

"One must be a passenger by the St. Louis to find oneself mentioned in the newspapers," said Mrs. Orkin, an attractive little German lady, who has lived for nine years in Montreal.

MRS. VINEBERG'S EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. Vineberg, when seen this morning by a Star representative, looked as bright and fresh as if fatigue and anxiety had had no part in the past fortnight.

"We certainly are glad to be home again," she said, "but we had no idea what a fuss there would be. As soon as we got near New York there were tugs and yachts out to meet us, flags waving, people cheering, and the wildest excitement prevailing. I wish you had seen the masses at the dock. The place was densely packed with a cheering throng. The strain had been so great that the relief meant an outbreak of feeling. I have two brothers in New York and their employers gave them a half holiday to meet the boat. There were some diamond merchants on board, and you may depend there was business anxiety about them. They say there was no work done that day among the dealers, they were so excited about the boat getting in. Why, the general feeling of relief was so strong that a lady stopped me on the street and asked to shake hands and congratulate me, as she saw by my luggage I had come by the St. Louis. When Mr. Vineberg came up to the hotel he said, 'My arm aches with shaking hands.' Certainly we are glad to get back.

"The delays were from the very beginning. When we got to the station in London to go to Southampton we heard that the boat could not sail till the evening. Delay number one. However, we went to Southampton and found a notice 'Vessel sails at six.' Passengers to be on board at five.' But she did not sail at six or seven or eight. She left about midnight for Cherbourg. Where we found the passengers from Paris had been waiting all night in a terrible little river side hotel, where the discomforts were great.

"We began to be suspicious before we had been out long that something was wrong. We found that the daily run instead of being nearly four hundred miles was about two hundred and eighty, sometimes not so much. Then it gradually came out that some of the boilers were altogether disabled and the rest were leaking. They were also short of coal before the journey was nearly ended. It takes about three hundred tons a day to run the boat, so I don't know what they burned before they got home."

"Were the passengers much alarmed, were they afraid of being lost?"

"They were hardly as much alarmed as angry, I must confess, however, that there were times when it seemed as if we would never see land again. The weather was dreadful. We ran through blizzards. One of the officers said the wind was at the rate of one hundred miles an hour. It was so cold that when the stormy weather was at its worst, huge waves rolled up and dashing over the deck froze in solid masses. At those times no one was allowed on deck, but we could see. Several of the crew were badly injured during the storm."

OFFICERS BEHAVED WELL

"How did the officers behave?"

"Very well indeed. They were naturally anxious and had to keep a good face on the matter. Of course they were inundated with questions which were sometimes impossible to answer.

"The captain promised to signal the first ship, and when the Pennsylvania was sighted we thought that if we were not transferred, at least she could take word to our friends. But she was slow and met bad weather and only reached land a little before we did.

"Some of the passengers were very angry. They complained bitterly of the American Line sending out a disabled boat. The passengers petitioned to have a meeting held, when all the men met and talked over matters and passed resolutions censuring the American Line.

"The captain in reply to many requests to take the ship to Halifax, promised, if it were necessary, to land the passengers at Boston, but it was found possible in spite of leaky boilers and shortage of coal to bring her to New York.

"The passengers were very anxious for the sake of their friends on shore. There was much talk about the advantage it would have been to have the Marconi system when it would have been possible to let those on land know how we were situated, and if necessary send to meet us. It certainly would have been a comfort to know one could communicate with the rest of the world.

"There were about eighty-three first cabin passengers, and only two or three ladies travelling alone. Most of them were with friends. All behaved very well, though in stormy weather, and thinking of all the circumstances, some of the passengers were pretty blue and frightened."

MRS. J. A. ORKIN,
Montreal Lady Who Made Famous 14 Day Voyage on SS. St. Louis.

MRS. ORKIN TELLS OF EXCITING 14 DAYS ON ST. LOUIS.

Mrs J. A. Orkin, who seemed none the worse for the memorable journey, told the story of that exciting fourteen days. It was an adventure to be remembered. Five boilers out of ten useless, the other five leaking. Stormy weather, a shortage of coal, anxious friends and nervous passengers.

"The trouble was," she said, speaking with a pretty foreign accent, "that the St. Louis had no right to make that trip at all. She was disabled when she got to Southampton on the Friday, already late. Then there was so much freight that owing to the shortness of the time the crew had to work day and night, and were worn out when we started.

"It appears that some of the passengers who arrived in Southampton by the St. Louis told that the boilers were then in bad shape, but the matter was hushed up, and the passengers taken aboard as if nothing were wrong. What they should have done was to take only freight and travel light, instead of subjecting passengers to so much inconvenience.

"I heard in Cherbourg, when I arrived from Paris, and was obliged to stay all night waiting for the St. Louis, that there was something wrong and I went to the agent, whom I knew personally, and asked him to tell me the truth. He said:

"'There is nothing wrong with the boat. I'd like to go over in her myself.'

"We went on board about eight, and at ten, when the deck steward came with beef tea I said something about it to him.

"He said: 'Oh, leaky boilers never hurt, so we are quite safe, but we probably won't reach New York until Wednesday.' So you see, they all knew five of the boilers were quite disabled and those working leaked.

"I have heard for a positive fact that the boilers of the St. Louis have been weak since she was used in the Spanish-American war, also that the new boilers had been ready for weeks, but it was thought each trip that it would be possible to make one more before putting them in.

"It must be said, however, that she is a very trustworthy boat. When one considers the state of the boilers and the stormy, rough weather she had to contend with, one wonders we ever saw land again.

OFFICERS WERE VERY NICE.

"The officers were very nice. The captain said he was only a servant of the company and was sent out by them. All the officers tried to keep up our spirits, though some of the passengers were so angry that they had no patience to listen to any cheering up.

"I feel sure that this combine is to blame. When there was great competition the boats were kept up to the mark, but now they are getting indifferent about the condition of the vessels.

"The meals on board were very good. For the last few days we were eating canned goods, as the supplies were getting short.

"One reason for the low rate of speed was that in addition to the other drawbacks the coal was running out. If they had had enough coal the speed would have been greater, and we would have brought home quicker. They must have been using coal that had already been wet.

"We would have been thankful if we could have let any one know. There were two men on board who were greatly worried about their aged mother, who would imagine the boat was lost. We also had a bride and groom who were very angry about the delay. However, we are promised that the St. Louis certainly will have the Marconi system introduced for the benefit of other passengers.

"Danger? Well, I hardly can say that. We felt very soon after it was known about the boilers that it was more a question of delay than real danger. We only realized how grave the apprehensions were when we reached New York, and found that there was wild excitement over her safe return. I then read in New York papers of a few days before 'St. Louis doomed. No hope,' and knew what a fright every one had had. The scene at the New York dock cannot be described. We were the heroes of the occasion. The St. Louis came into port surrounded by tugs and other vessels.

"The passengers had had a bad fright and were very angry with the American Line, but were most thankful to be home after all their perils at sea in midwinter."

HEAVY SENTENCES WERE DEALT OUT

Two Slot Machine Thieves Will Serve Terms in Penitentiary.

FOUR OTHERS PLEAD GUILTY

Determined Effort Being Made to Put a Stop to This Form of Robbery.

Judge Desnoyers kept his word to day when he dealt with two of the six gas metre slot machine thieves.

To Jean Blanchette he dealt out a sentence of five years in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary. Emil Heuroux got three years.

In delivering sentences, His Honour dealt with the seriousness of this class of crime. He pointed out that in nearly all of the dozen or so charges against the six prisoners it had been shown that they went to the business places of inoffensive Chinamen, and in more than one case it was at the point of a knife that the victim allowed him to rob him.

When the other four young men were arraigned there was fear on their faces that has not been seen since the time of their arrest. They had been hoping for a sentence of a month or two, as has been the record of the past for this crime, but the five year dose dealt out to Blanchette made them decidedly dejected.

OTHERS TO FOLLOW.

These others are Arias Corriveau, Alfred Goulet, Edward Rousseau and Albert Vezina. They did the robbing in twos, threes and fours, and the evidence, which was prepared by Chief of Detectives Carpenter and his staff, was so thoroughly convincing that each one of the four pleaded guilty to four charges, and not guilty to others.

But even though there is enough now to send them all away for long terms, the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Company will press the cases in which they have pleaded not guilty in order to show their determination to put a stop to the destruction of their slot machines and the accompanying thefts of all the money that there is in them. When it is remembered that fifteen thousand homes in Montreal have slot machines it may be judged how necessary it is to deal seriously with the men who have been daily robbing them.

The two sentenced men will be taken at once to the penitentiary, and the trials of the others will take place on Tuesday next.

Tragedy at Bridgeton, N.J.

Bridgeton, N. J., January 22.—The burning of the house of Frank Nichols, a negro, at Springtown, a village near here, revealed, as the officials believe, a murder and suicide. The house was destroyed and when searched in the ruins the body of Mrs. Nichols was found burned to a crisp. In another part of the ruins lay the body of Nichols with throat cut from ear to ear. The theory of the police is that Nichols and his wife quarrelled, and that the man murdered his wife, set fire to the house and then committed suicide.

BANK HAS PURCHASED VALUABLE PROPERTY.

The City and District Savings Bank, ever anxious to meet the convenience of its patrons, has purchased the Hall property at the corner of McGill College avenue and St. Catherine street. The price paid, $15 per foot—between $90,000 and $100,000 in all—indicates the increased value of desirable corner lots. The real estate agent, who registered the sale, Mr. W. Ernest Bolton, states that in his opinion it is an excellent sale; but smilingly added, "Doubtless the bank also considers it a very satisfactory purchase, the intention being immediately upon obtaining possession, to alter the building into up-to-date bank premises."

BATTERED, BRUISED MONTREAL WON OUT

Defeated Victorias By Five to Two Last Night.

AN INTERESTING MATCH

President Chitty is Confident That Montreal Will Uphold Honour of Club Next Week.

Montreal, battered and bruised, turned an expected defeat into a welcome victory, increased the interest in the coming Stanley Cup matches, and gave a serious setback to the Victoria hopes for the league championship.

With a much disorganized team, they defeated Victoria by five to two.

A Stanley Cup crowd attended the match, but although the play was very exciting at times, it was not Stanley Cup play.

In the first half it was particularly not up to the championship standard. The juggling, which the Montreal committee had been compelled to do with the team, was no doubt responsible for that as far as the boys in blue were concerned; but there was also something wrong with the Victoria team. They kept bunched together too much, and did not allow one another sufficient room, while but scant advantage was taken of the possibilities of passing.

In the second half, play improved much on both sides, although combination play was sadly lacking, the brilliant individual efforts of the players failing to counteract the bad effect of its absence.

PRESIDENT CHITTY CONFIDENT OF THE BIG CUP RESULTS.

Says "Our Team Will Uphold Honour of Club."

President Chitty, when asked what he thought about the Montreal team's chances in the Stanley Cup matches, said:

"I think what I have always thought, namely that our team will be quite able to uphold the honour of our Club. We will have a better team than last night when the Winnipeg Victorias come down here, and we will give a good account of ourselves."

HOW THE GAME WAS PLAYED.

"Dicky" Boon was the particular bright star of the evening. He played out of his position, and yet while managing to make a good forward, seemed to drop back, whenever he found leisure, into his usual place.

He made two fine hits, which both counted in the score, and which in each case deceived the Victoria goalkeeper.

The first one was made when the spectators had just about time enough to realize that Marshall had got the best of the face and that play was really started. Boon was at the lower east side of the rink when the puck came his way. It was a risky side shot, and a difficult one. The Victoria goalkeeper was looking for the puck in the air, and while he did so it rolled right into the net under the very nose which was hited to discern it above.

The match was not a particularly rough one, and Mr. Trihey, who acted as referee, did much to prevent it from being so by his strict rulings. He was very impartial, and the crowd never questioned his actions once.

REFEREE WAS STRICT.

From the beginning he seemed to have his eye on Bellingham, and as it is difficult for as big a man as the latter to escape being caught in even a very small infraction of the rules, he was one of the first to go off.

These two big men, Bellingham and Hodge, with the ponderous but alert Mr. Nicholson in goal, certainly made an exceedingly strong defence last night.

Boon's lucky shot seemed to have stunned the Victorias somewhat. The confident bearing with which they had come on the ice somewhat disappeared, and they started in to try and undo Boon's work. For a while the play was fairly even, and divided between both ends of the ice, then Victorias began to make a regular onslaught and came down several times, four abreast, driving the puck before them, but doing nothing with it in the end.

This was followed by a biting match that was continued for some minutes, and then Montreal sallied forth to the assault. Individual members of the Vic team now tried what they could do, and Allan made several very good attempts to bring the puck within the Montreal net but had it taken away from him just at the psychological moment, when, if he had managed to beat off his opponents, he would have surely scored. He and several of the others kept at it however, and were encouraged by someone with leather lungs, who with the regularity of clockwork, and the insistence of a foghorn, kept shouting:

"OH VICTORIA! OH VICTORIA!"

They certainly worked very hard, and did not let up, but the weakness of their system of passing spoiled the effect of their hard work.

Montreal took a turn at the game for a while, but Victorias would not let them score, and Allan again and again got very close to the enemy's goals without managing to get in.

The first accident of the evening happened to Marshall, who was hit over the knee with a stick, and limped and made faces, but pluckily resumed play as soon as the injured part had been rubbed a little.

Shortly after that there was a face right near the Montreal goal. It looked bad for the holders of the Stanley Cup, but Nicholson and Hodge stuck out their sticks sideways like a double fence, ready to intercept the puck no matter whether it came to them along the ice or in the air, but as it happened it went the other way. Referee Trihey was still watching Bellingham when Bowie, who happened to be close to the big Montreal cover point, stumbled, and Bellingham, as the nearest man to him, was put off once more, to the great indignation of the little Montreal captain, who bristled up like a porcupine, and that of the well nourished goalkeeper, whose protests, however, had no effect.

CAPTAINS FIGURE IN THE FUN.

There was a fine bit of a struggle shortly after between the two captains, near the fence and later on one of them, Captain Bowie, forgot himself and was given a short rest.

Molson made a great run with the puck and brought it down close to the Montreal goals, but his swiftness availed him little as he lost it. Bellingham and Hodge, the former having finished his period of exile, had their work cut out for a while. They stood well out from the net and they withstood the attacks of the little Victoria forwards like rocks.

Whenever any of the latter, accidentally or intentionally hurled themselves upon the two tall fellows, they simply bounced back. The pace was getting hot. Boon's hair fell over his face occasionally in the excitement and he would have to stop to shake it back. Once Montreal came near scoring again, and would have done so if Marshall had not slipped and fallen right in front of the goals.

Molson made a great lift from past the middle and for a moment it looked as if he would score, but the puck was stopped and shortly after Montreal scored its second game. Here luck came in to some extent. The puck came from the side and would have gone straight over the net, if the Victoria goalkeeper had not been so anxious to stop it. When he did stop it with his uplifted hand, it fell in front of him, and was pushed in by Smith.

Montreal without losing any time started on another rush, but nothing more was done till half time was called.

MONTREAL AHEAD AT HALF-TIME.

The Montreal supporters were frantic with joy. Hooper, who was in costume and ready to go on if it should be actually necessary, was beaming with delight, and Frank Bickerdike, who was also prepared to jump into the breach if any of the team on the ice should be disabled, winked from under his blue and white cap.

The Victoria supporters had a chat with their men in the dressing room. "Go in and win, there is lots of time," was the advice, and there seemed to be a feeling prevading the atmosphere outside of the dressing rooms that there were going to be rough times.

When the whistle blew again Referee Trihey came on the ice with a stern look upon his face. There was not going to be any rough time if he could prevent it, apparently, and as soon as it did begin he put a stop to it.

It commenced within a short time after the match had started again. Strachan put Gardner into the fence, with a force that might have stove in the entire right side of his face, but which, as luck would have it, only bruised him severely, and made him look much worse hurt than he really was, on account of the flow of blood.

CROWD AGAINST ROUGH PLAY.

As Strachan has rather a reputation for rough play there was a howl and a roar at him. This stopped when he went off, but when, during a wait, he came towards the centre of the rink in response to a motion from the president, the noise commenced again. It was a most trying time for Strachan, but he stood it with a coolness than was remarkable, and Molson, who played cover to his point, stood right by him and gave him his moral support till the crowd, somewhat ashamed of itself, changed its tune and gradually turned its groans of dislike into somewhat like cheers. At different times, however, he was groaned at again, but less and less till the incident was forgotten.

The fact of the matter was that Gardner brought the trouble pretty well upon himself by his unjustified interference play. That Strachan hurled him into the fence much harder than was at all necessary, is undeniable, however. Both men were ruled off.

With six men a side, Montreal instead of playing a defence game, as most of the spectators expected they would, started in hard to win a few more points, but this Victoria considered as adding insult to injury. So they went to work and made one themselves, Captain Bowie, who up to that time had not made himself as conspicuous by his play as he usually does, doing the scoring.

PLAY SLOWS DOWN

For a while after that the play was very indifferent, although Marshall made a magnificent run, waiting, however, too long before he shot. Bowie also made a beautiful run, with as little success, and Marshall and Gardner both made shots which went too much to the side. In return, Molson, Bowie and Allan made an onslaught on the Montreal goals, and at one time a shot came so close that everyone yelled "Game," although the Umpire did not put up his hand. Gardner and Molson both suffered from broken skates during the match, and this caused some delay.

There were some very beautiful runs in the second half. Bowie, Gardner, Smith and Marshall, who goes at the goals with his head down like a butting ram, distinguishing themselves.

The Victorias tried hard to score again and did not let up. The skating was fast now, and the Victoria combination play much better than before, while the Montrealers had become faulty in that particular line of play, and seemed for a while to be utterly unable to score although they brought the puck close enough to the Victoria goals many a time. Bellingham came very near it once and would have scored if it had not been for a beautiful stop on the part of Nichol. Montreal continued the attack, and Marshall was doing very well indeed, when he lost his stick. He kicked the puck in his rage, and he nearly kicked it in, but Nichol was there again. Then came a few very strenuous minutes, in which three points were added to the Montreal score, and one to that of the Vics.

It commenced with a magnificent lift by Boon. Gardner had the puck and lost it, but it came back again. Boon was standing about midway in the rink, and there was no one to bother him from behind, while in front the Victoria goal was well protected. There was only one thing to do, and that was to lift it in, and lift it in he did with a perfectly straight lift. Nichol put up his hand to stop it, but the puck soared towards the roof, and then dropped into the net. This made the score: Montreal 3, Victoria, 1.

Russell, almost immediately afterwards, made a rush and scored for his side. After that Montreal started to rush again, and while Marshall came near scoring, Gardner actually did so, from a long shot.

Marshall was not to be denied, however, and he scored from the next good one which Gardner brought down.

After that there was very little time left, and whatever was done did not change the situation.

The teams and scores were:

Notes of the Match.

Phillips, of McGill, was present at the match wreathed in Montreal ribbons.

The twenty-five cent crowd was so great that the doors had to be shut against them, many being exceedingly disappointed.

Smith has proven himself an exceedingly valuable man to Montreal. He has been ready to jump into the breach whenever it was necessary, and has always been a success when he has done so.

A Draw at Cornwall.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Cornwall, January 22.—The Senior O. H. A. eastern district match was played on Cornwall ice, between Smith's Falls and Cornwall, and resulted in a draw, each team scoring one goal. Two thousand people witnessed the match. Owing to a death in the family, which occurred yesterday morning, both Captain Harlow and George Stiles, two of Cornwall's strongest players, were unable to play. Their places were taken by McDonald and Percival. The former was very effective, but the latter, owing to recent illness, was unable to cope with the Fall's strong defence. The play was mostly a defence game for the visitors, but their strong point and cover-point proved a stone wall which the Cornwall forwards found hard to break through. Chauncey Elliott, of Kingston, was referee, and if his reputation was not previously established, he would have made one last night. His rulings were strict and impartial. The following were the teams:

Smith's Falls — Gould, goal; McDonald, point; Gilroy, cover; Jarvis, Saucier, Lazier, and Rankin, forwards.

Cornwall—Hunter, goal; Warwick, point; McDonald, cover; McMillan, Eastwood, Percival and Allan, forwards.

Referee—Chauncey Elliott.

Umpires—E. Webster and D. J. McDonald.

Time-keepers—W. J. Miller and J. A. Hunter.

REFEREE TRIHEY THINKS IMPROVEMENT IS NECESSARY.

But Admits Judgment Was Difficult Last Night.

Referee Trihey, who is also president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey League, in speaking of the Montreal chances in the Stanley Cup matches, said:

"It was very difficult to judge from its make-up and its work last night what the Montreal team will do in the coming Stanley Cup matches.

"I am of the opinion, however, although I do not know very much about the Winnipeg Victoria team, that some improvement is highly necessary."

New Yorkers in Ottawa.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, January 22. — The New York Hockey Club came to Ottawa to return a date with the Ottawa Hockey Club, and while they are a lot of young players who act well on skates, they were distinctly out of their class when pitted against the Ottawas. The game was a very quiet and featureless one, and resulted in a win for Ottawa by 10 goals to 2. The attendance was good and the puck was faced by His Excellency the Governor-General. By mutual consent there was a general freedom in the interpretation of the rules, and several New York men got away with the puck offside without any protest. Frank McGee and Westwick were off the Ottawa team, owing to injuries received in the Montreal-Ottawa game, but young P. Sims, who made his bow in senior company, is a boy who can hold his own with the best and shows Ottawa to be well-off on the reserve list. There was absolutely no hard play, as the Ottawas cut out body-checking entirely. But for many phenomenal stops by Ellison in the New York flags, the Ottawa score would have been much higher.

The teams were:

New York.	Position	Ottawa.
Ellison	Goal	Hutton
Clarke	Point	Pulford
Newberry	Cover point	Moore
De Cazanova	Forwards	S. Gilmore
Russell	"	W. Gilmore
Hazelton	"	D. Gilmore
Liffiton	"	P. Sims.

The referee was Mr. James McGee, of the Aberdeens.

HOCKEY TEAM FUMIGATED.

Picton Players Got Into a Hotel with Smallpox.

Picton, Ont., January 22.—The hockey team which went to Deseronto yesterday to play a match with the team at that place had a most unpleasant and unexpected experience. The team on reaching Deseronto put up at the Deseronto House, and had dinner. After their meal they were met with the surprising announcement that the proprietor of the hotel had been just found to be suffering from smallpox and that the house was quarantined. The boys at once collected their clothes and despite the quarantine regulations hurried out of the place and played the game, after which they started for home. A telegraphic message reporting the situation was sent here ahead of them and the party on arrival was subjected to a thorough process of disinfection.

SKATING.

In the Rinks.

Owing to the match on Friday night at the Arena in the inter-collegiate series between Queen's University of Kingston, and McGill, there will be no skating night this week. Next Friday night, January 30th, there will, however, be skating as usual.

Shamrocks Go Visiting.

The members of the Shamrock Amateur Athletic Association will visit the Montagnard Skating Rink to-night.

There will be a special band night at the M.A.A.A. on Friday.

MISCELLANEOUS

Another Bad Knockout.

Providence, R. I., January 22.— Eugene McCarthy, the "school boy pugilist" of New York, was knocked out by Hugh Murphy, also of New York, in a boxing match at Scituate last night and remains unconscious. The attending physician declines to give an opinion as to the outcome. Murphy and his manager, John J. Mack, are detained for the present.

A despatch from Bangor, Me., says that the property of the Sea Coast Packing Company, a combine said to control 80 per cent. of the domestic sardine packing business of the country, has been sold to U. H. Dudley & Co., of New York. The Sea Coast Company was capitalized at $5,000,000.

BEFORE FISH AND GAME MEN

It Was Decided That the Next Meeting Will be Held at Portland, Me.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, January 22.—At Wednesday afternoon's sitting of the Fish and Game men, the following new members were proposed and elected: F. R. E. Campeau, E. Lemieux, John Emo, Major S. M. Rogers, Col. D. T. Irwin and Col. John Tilton, Ottawa; H. G. Thomas, Stowe, Vt.; W. C. MacCormac, Ald. John Askwith, Mayor Cook, Edward Waldo, Geo. S. Davidson, Morley Donaldson, Col. Gourdeau and C. A. Douglas, Ottawa; J. A. Hupple, Pembroke; F. L. Fish, Vergennes, Vt.; James McCutcheon, E. A. Leven, E. A. Olds, and W. Haight, New York; C. A. Blanchet, Ottawa; H. W. Cooper, Cedar Lake; Ruggles Wright, Hull; Montague A. A. Smith, Forest, Ont.; John M. Williams, Salem, N. Y.; W. A. Allan, W. Lake Marler and E. S. Leetham, Ottawa.

Dr. Thomas C. Brainard, of Montreal, vice-president for Quebec, then read the report for that province. He told of the two changes effected in their game laws in the past year—the first forbidding the killing of beaver until 1905, and the second making the possession of game after the open season subject to the same penalties as selling the game. He protested against the spring shooting of ducks, and said they had been able to secure no change in the law shortening the open season for deer.

Ottawa, Ont., Janury 22.—At the meeting of the Fish and Game Protective Association, this morning, the first business done was to decide on Portland as the next place of meeting. A discussion ensued on net fishing in Missisquoi Bay and Lake Champlain.

It was moved by Hon. Nelson W. Fish, seconded by General Henry, and carried unanimously, that the sense of this meeting is that all net fishing in Lake Champlain be forbidden, and that all possible efforts be made to prevent the further spring seining in Missisquoi Bay, and Lake Champlain, in Vermont and Canada.

Mr. Bastedo, Fishery Commissioner for Ontario, gave an account of the duties of the Ontario inspectors, after which Dr. Finnie, of Montreal, read a paper on the wolf, and its relation to the game of the Province of Quebec. He pointed out that the wolf is found wherever the common red deer is abundant. For many years, he said, the Province of Ontario, urged by the settlers and sportsmen, have paid a bounty for the killing of wolves, which has resulted in almost the complete extinction of the wolves. The bounty now amounts to $13 and when years ago the trapper made a good living killing wolves, he now seldom pays his expenses.

The Ottawa River divides the two provinces for hundreds of miles, and a person has just to cross the river to find the effect of the bounty. Complaints come in, that wolves are destroying the farmers' stock, and deer from the counties of Pontiac, Ottawa and Argenteuil, while on the Ontario side a wolf is not seen. He advocated the Association urging the Quebec Government to place a bounty upon wolves.

Mr. Joncas, Game Commissioner for Quebec, reported that 18 licenses were issued by the Quebec authorities. These were all taken by Canadians, but 15 of them were transferred to Americans. The order-in-council prohibiting the netting of wall eyed pike was rescinded, hence the issuing of the licenses. If the Canadian fishermen do not catch the fish during the spring they cannot later, but they go south in the American waters of Lake Champlain. The meeting then adjourned.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON TALKS OF SHAMROCK.

An Interview in the Yachting World.

Sir Thomas Lipton has made some of his plans public in an interview with a representative of the Yachting World. Sir Thomas was seen just after he had inspected the Shamrock III. The interview follows:

"Every stroke of work which has been done on her," he said, "has been under the personal superintendence of Mr. Fife, Mr. John Ward, the managing director of Messrs. Denny, or of Mr. Jackson. It seems to me certain that she will be, so far as workmanship goes, a very much superior boat to Shamrock II.

"As for the design, I cannot, of course, give any details of that just at present; but I may say that the yacht is already in shape. I am both surprised and confident that we have at last got the boat we have been aiming at. Mr. Fife does not say much—he never does—but I know that he shares the opinion of the very few competent judges who have seen the framework of the yacht. That general opinion is that she looks every inch a cup winner.

"There has not so far been any official statement as to her design. Is it true that Mr. George L. Watson assisted?"

"The responsible designer of the boat," replied Sir Thomas, "is Mr. William Fife. She is his boat. The work and the worry is his, but it is quite true that Mr. Watson gave some valuable assistance."

"It would be accurate then, to describe her as embodying the ideas and experience of both of our leading designers?"

"Absolutely accurate; and I feel confident that the work will be justified by the result."

"Has any date for the launch been suggested as yet; or any arrangements made for the trial races?"

"The work is well under way, but we must, of course, delay the launch and races until such time as we may expect favourable weather. At present it is our intention to have the yacht launched about the end of March or in the early days of April. She will be finished as far as practicable before she is put into the water; but even with this the date fixed will allow of time to have everything done without the slightest hurry. After the launch we shall allow about three weeks or a month for fitting out, and then the trial races against Shamrock I will be started. It is, of course, too early for us to have these arrangements completed, but it is our intention to have the first trials on the Clyde. Then both boats will go south to continue the test matches on the Solent and on the more open water outside the Wight. These will be continued until Captain Wringe and Mr. Fife are both confident that they know exactly what the new boat can do. Then both boats will return to the Clyde for a final match before dismantling."

"It has been rumoured that there will be no trial races in American waters. Is there any intention of abandoning that part of your plan?"

"None whatever. We look to the trials in American waters to give us a big advantage over the previous contests by enabling us to make sure that the boat is brought to proper racing pitch after refitting. At present it is our intention to have these races sailed against Shamrock II., which was left in America mainly for that purpose. If, however, it should be decided that it is preferable to have Shamrock I. also across, I shall have no hesitation in taking her also."

"It is quite possible, then, that you might have a fleet of three cup racers sailing together in American waters before the next race?"

"You may count anything possible that we can accomplish and that promises to better in any way our chances in the cup contest."

"The date of your departure for America—"

"Is not yet fixed. We desire to make no arrangements that may fall through, and there are many things which might alter the date. We shall, however, make certain that we leave early enough to give us good time for all the work we intend to do there before the contest."

"And you expect to win?"

"I expect to leave no stone that might help us to win unturned."

FOOTBALL

HOW ALBIONS BEAT CANADIANS.

McClure Dropped a Grand Goal.

(Special by Cable from the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star in London.)

London, January 22. — The Devonport Albion team scored 34, and the Canadians 4 yesterday. The Albion team was much stronger and Canada was outplayed. The brilliant Albion's passing bewildered the Colonials, whose creditable footwork could not cope therewith. In the first half Albion made seventeen and McClure dropped a grand goal. Canada improved in the second, although unable to score. Seven thousand spectators enthused over the visitors.

WINDERMERE.

Canadians vs. Jed Forest.

This match was played at Riverside Park, Jedburgh, before a large gathering of spectators, in boisterous weather. The Canadians started the game against the wind, and the exchanges ended in Tait securing touch at midfield. A mark by Wilson was neutralized by a visiting three-quarters finding touch beyond centre. Fine work by Jardine, Mabon, and Hall carried the game into Canadian territory. Play did not stay here long, a magnificent dribbling run by the visiting forwards changing the venue. Stewart sent them back, and then Mabon, with a punt, found touch at midfield. A mark by a visitor was charged down, and Tait extricated his side from a difficult position, scoring touch at his own twenty-five. Give-and-take play ruled for a time. Ogilvie got clear away, but J. Robson was too much for him and bundled him into touch at midfield. A fine kick by Mabon got touch near the Canadian quarter, the visitors cleared to centre and a great effort by Mabon nearly ended in a score. Jed Forest kept up a hot pressure for some time. The Canadians worked to midfield, where Mabon threw out to Oliver, and he ran to the twenty-five. The visitors again reached neutral ground. Play up to the interval ruled pretty even, and the visitors had hard lines on one occasion the ball going out of play. Half-time: No score.

Mabon opened the second period against a strong wind, and the start was of a somewhat sensational description. Within a minute of the resumption Douglas dribbled off, and Mabon scored a try at the corner. Douglas's kick just missed at goal. After the drop-out Mabon was hurt, and was off for some time, Brown taking his place at half. On resuming, Jed Forest rushed to the Canadian ground, but a splendid dribble by the Canadian front rank sent them back. An attempt at goal by a visitor went wide. The Canadians were now doing a good deal of pressing, but could not break down the home defence. At this junction Mabon reappeared. Hall was also off hurt. Ogilvie picked up and scored in a good position. Tait goaled. Jed Forest played up pluckily, but in their crippled condition were outplayed. Before the close Canadians again scored, through Schofield, but Tait failed to improve. A hard game ended in a win for the Canadians by one goal and one try (eight points) to one try (three points).—Manchester Guardian.

POSTPONEMENT OF MATCHES.

To-morrow's Basketball Games Will Not be Played.

It is announced that the basket-ball matches, which were to have been played in the Westmount gymnasium to-morrow night, will not be played for the present.

GOLF

Ottawa's New Links.

Ottawa, January 22.—The annual meeting of the Ottawa Golf Club was held at the Russell House. The sale of the Chelsea Road links to the International Portland Cement Company was ratified and the members present expressed pleasure at the good price obtained for them.

It was definitely decided to purchase the McVeity property, on the Aylmer road. On this property extensive links will be laid out, and according to present plans these links will be equal to any in Canada. They will be situated within convenient distance of the Aylmer electric line. It was also agreed that the new clubhouse would be of most handsome proportions. It will not only be a clubhouse, but also a country house, and will be most modern in type. It is naturally anticipated that this country house will be among the club's strongest attractions. The plans for this house will be prepared at an early date. The reports showed that the club was in a sound financial condition. Mr. George H. Perley was re-elected president. The other officers will be appointed by the executive committee.

LOST VITALITY

Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Early Decay and Waste of Power, they are Quickly and For Ever Cured by the Grand Product of Nature.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt, With Its Free Electric Suspensory For Weak Men.

This grand restorer of life carries a strong current direct to the weakened parts and is a positive cure for all weakness in men. It develops and expands all weak organs, and checks unnatural drains, no case of failing vigor or debility can resist the powerful Electric Suspensory. I have cured thousands of weak, impotent men, and I can cure you, if you will write me. You are a broken man as a result of living a reckless, fast life; your errors of youth and dissipation in manhood have drained the vital force from your body. Before you are forty life will have lost all its pleasures for you unless you stop this drain now. It is a grand method, and every man who has ever used it is praising it.

B. HOLLINGSHEAD, Woodbridge, Ont., says: I have doctored and spent hundreds of dollars without relief, and your Belt has made a new man of me every way. My step is firmer and I am stronger in every part of my body. The drains are stopped altogether.

ROBT. BOOKHOUT, Golden, B.C., writes: Your Belt is more than I expected. I begin to feel like a new man or one made over.

D. B. WINTERBOTTOM, Wa Wa, Ont., writes: The parts have now regained their natural firmness and vigor. I feel no pain whatever. I am also entirely cured of dyspepsia.

W. J. BROLEY, Fernie, B.C., says: I purchased one of your Belts. I have worn it now four weeks and feel satisfied it is the only thing to cure night losses. I feel satisfied that it will make a man of me.

If you are not yourself, write to me at once, and tell me. No matter where you are, I think I can give you the address of some one in your town that I have cured. I have cured thousands, and every man of them is a walking advertisement for my Belt. Every one who ever used it recommends it because it is honest; they are grateful because the cure cost so little.

It is as good for women as men.

THE CONDITIONS ON WHICH YOU USE THE BELT.

You run no risk, as I guarantee every case I undertake. Failure to cure costs you nothing, as I take all the chances. All I ask is that you give me evidence of your honesty and good faith; that you are willing to pay me. By offering me reasonable security you may then use the Belt and PAY WHEN CURED.

CAUTION—Thousands write me that they have used electric belts and received no benefits from them. I will explain why: In many cases they have been purchased from concerns offering you a belt free, others advertising them from $3 up. This is merely a catch. My office contains hundreds of these old magnetic bands, which possess no more electricity than a piece of string tied around your waist. The best is none too good when you want a cure.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—I have the only electric appliance in which your case receives special attention of a practical physician who has made a life study of electricity. The success of my electric appliance depends upon intelligent application. Agents or drug stores not allowed to handle my Belt.

FREE BOOK.—If you can't call send for my beautiful illustrated 80-page Book, sent sealed, free. It explains my method; it tells how strength is lost, and how I restore it with electricity. If you are not the man you should be write to-day.

SCOTTISH CURLERS NOW IN TORONTO.

They Were Very Well Received There.

Toronto, Ont., January 22.—The touring Scottish curlers were given a warm welcome when they stepped off the train at the Union Station this morning. The reception and executive committee composed of representatives from the different curling clubs in the city took the visitors in charge and escorted by hundreds of other citizens, mostly devotees of the roarin' game, with the bagpipes in the forefront, the Scotchmen marched to the Queen's Hotel, where they will be quartered. Speeches of welcome were made by prominent curlers and others, and replied to, after which they were driven to the Granite Club and luncheon partaken of.

BASEBALL.

PEACE SEEMS FIRM SINCE YESTERDAY'S TALK.

Cincinnati, Ohio, January 22. — At 2 o'clock a. m., the National Baseball League conference adjourned. It was announced that after both the majority and the minority reports had been disposed of and copies of the same placed on file the following offered by Mr. Robinson, and seconded by Mr. Herrman, was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, that the agreement heretofore entered into between a committee of this League and a committee of the American League, which is commonly known as the Peace Agreement, and which agreement is herewith attached, be and the same is hereby ratified and adopted, and ordered spread upon the minutes of this meeting."

While the vote was unanimous it was received without any demonstrations whatever. President Ebbitts of the Brooklyn Club, which had led the minority in the fight offered the following, which was adopted:

"Resolved, that a vote of thanks be tendered to chairman Herrman and the other members of his committee of the conference for the able manner in which they have handled their most difficult task."

A resolution by Mr. Robinson was also adopted that the National League compensate the Brooklyn club in such sum as may hereafter be determined and that the amount shall be paid in such manner as shall hereafter be determined between the president of the Brooklyn club and the members of the conference committee on account of the loss of Pitcher Donovan.

The meeting then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning, when much other business is to be transacted that has no bearing on the peace compact.

Mercer's Suicide.

San Francisco, California, January 22.—"Suicide" was the verdict of a coroner's jury to-day in the case of Winnie Mercer, the ball player who was asphyxiated at the Occidental Hotel, on January 13.

CIVIL SERVANTS WILL DEMAND MORE PAY.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—An agitation is on foot amongst the employes of the various departments of the civil service, having in view the obtaining of larger salaries for the clerks classed as chief clerks, first-class clerks and second-class respectively. The clerks contend that their salaries were fixed many years ago, when the cost of living in Ottawa was very much lower than it is now. Delegates are being elected by the clerks of the various departments to perfect the scheme they have already drafted, and lay the views of the civil servants before the Ministers.

Fort Scott, Kas., January 22.—A passenger train on the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad ran into an open switch at South Greenfield to-day and crashed into a freight train. Engineer Fischer of the passenger train was killed instantly; the express messenger is missing and the fireman was fatally injured. It is reported that several passengers were injured. The train caught fire and was totally destroyed.

Rangely, Me., January 22.—A train consisting of three engines, a snow plow and a flange digger on the Philipps and Rangely Railway was wrecked to-day near Dead River. Three men were badly injured, namely: Conductor Charles Allen, Engineer Aldrich and Fireman Lovejoy.

Water Power Secured.

Toronto, January 22. — The Rainy River Pulp Paper Co., whose concession was approved by the Government on Tuesday, has secured a water power on Sand Island river, where it proposes locating its mill. This is a few miles north of the mine centre and also north of the line of the Canadian Northern Railway. The water power has a 16-foot fall and is estimated to be capable of developing 1,800 horse power. The concessionaries include Hon. G. E. Foster.

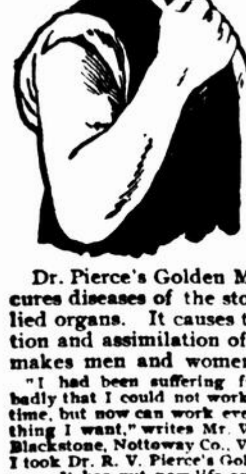
STRENGTH

Is an attribute of manhood universally desired. Few people understand that the only source of physical strength is food, and that every one who has sufficient nourishing food should be strong. But there are thousands of puny people who have plenty of good food. How is that explained? The explanation is simple. Food does not nourish the body unless digested and assimilated. Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition hinder the proper digestion and assimilation of the nutrition contained in the food eaten. Thus the strength of food is lost, wasted.



Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its allied organs. It causes the perfect digestion and assimilation of food and thus it makes men and women strong.

"I had been suffering from indigestion so badly that I could not work more than half the time, but now can work every day and eat anything I want," writes Mr. Victor L. Hayden, of Blackstone, Nottoway Co., Va. "Why? Because I took Dr. R. V. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has put new life and energy in me, restored my health and made a man of me once more. I used to weigh 170 but had gotten down to 144, now am back to 160 and will soon be back at my old weight if nothing happens. Your medicine has done it all."

D'Abra the Buddhist.

By E. M. Lonsdale.

CHAPTER XVIII.—Continued.

"I know you are most eager to have in your hands the communication from your betrothed. I saw her in a close carriage in St. James's Park, and gained permission to receive these two lines from her," she said with a gentleness which, if artificial, must have proved her a superb actress, as she handed in a small scrap of paper, evidently torn from a pocket diary.

I accepted the note with trembling hand, and but for her presence, would have crushed it to my lips.

"I will return in a moment after you have read it," she observed with a considerateness apparently intended to disarm my antagonism to her.

I examined the paper as she departed, and surely enough it was the handwriting of my unfortunate betrothed that met my eyes—no writing more marked by individualism. It was no lady's hand of the approved pattern, but firm rounded where her nature bade her round it, and pointed accordingly. It showed no flourishes, but was strong, clear, elegant, like her own beloved self. Know it! Ay, among a whole century of world's manuscripts.

But the words, whose were they? Not the words of a woman at whom misfortune had hurled her fiercest darts; not the words of one whose heart was rent with a longing to see her lover again, not the words of my beloved, my Ella, my queen I read them again.

"Do not be troubled about me. I am well and happy. Should our parting be for ever, as it may be, then a last long farewell to you, and let me add I honour you, and am proud to have called you mine."

Well and happy! Assuredly that had not been my condition. Well and happy while in captivity! Well and happy when I was hunting for her day and night! Our parting for ever! Was ever man so cursed with bewilderment?

But there must be some explanation, I thought. This also will I leave for time to unriddle. Honour me. Am proud to have called me hers. Was ever man so cursed with such arrant bewilderment. She was proud of me! Surely, surely she was bewitched by her Eastern gaolers. They had thrown some powerful charm about her and won her from me. I was not surprised when I thought the matter over. If they could master into servile submission a strong sane man, as I believed myself to be, was it to be wondered at if they had succeeded in subduing a woman.

At this point D'Abra himself entered and led me to the dining room, where an abundant meal was spread for us. The table was headed by the handsome woman who had given me Ella's note, and whose name she told me later was a pretty Sanscrit word, meaning sweet, Priya. D'Abra himself, however, never addressed her by any other name than as Subhri or Pipasa, which a friend from the East states to be well translatable by the English words respectively, beautiful and thirst. The latter word, in the light of all I now know respecting that curious household, has been filled and shadowed for me with a great significance.

Two chairs were placed for D'Abra and myself, one on either side of the table, but the arrangement was not to his liking, and he brought his own chair across and seated himself close by my side. I changed colour at once, no doubt; at least my feelings underwent a sudden change, and I noted that across the fair face of my hostess, if I might so name her, a faint shadow again swiftly flitted, and her beautiful eyes slightly lowered. It was patent that he was bent upon continuing his mysterious treatment of myself, and, moreover, that he was not inclined to allow me much interval of rest from his presence. I was not greatly in the humour for eating previous to his disconcerting action, but under the oppressiveness of his nearness my appetite utterly vanished. Besides, how could I trust myself to partake of anything from so suspicious a source? I needed food after my night's ordeal, but decided to eat of nothing except what Priya herself tasted.

Faint by reason of my prolonged fast, I thought a drink of the wine which was by my side could do nothing to injure me, especially as D'Abra had helped himself to it. I took a sip and started. That peculiar orange-like taste was only too familiar. It was the cordial Kraviya I was drinking, the same cordial I had tasted so often before at D'Abra's offer, with the same suffocating and reinvigorating effects. Why I should hesitate to drink what D'Abra so freely used I could not explain exactly. I had only a dim notion that after a draught of it I seemed to feel myself in a different relation to the doctor, and to be more easily open to his influence. I replaced my glass hurriedly, and helped myself sparingly to the biscuits and fruit in imitation of Priya.

As soon as possible I returned to the room appointed me for the night. What was to happen to me I could not, dare not, imagine. As I bade my hostess good night, there was a tender light in her eyes, at least, so I should have described it in other circumstances. Was it pity for some terrible fate to which I was passing? Was it womanly sorrow breaking through a long hardened exterior? I mounted to my room with lead in my heart, and threw myself with my weight and foreboding upon my bed all dressed as I was.

The room was no large one, panelled on every side with beautiful specimens of ancient black oak, probably an original feature of the apartment. My bed was stood lengthwise against the wall, opposite the fireplace. Whether the place was one from which escape were possible, I had too little remaining hope to investigate. Weariness and misery appeared to have completely cowed my little residue of manliness my enemy had left me. As I lay, exhaustion took my senses, and gave me a brief respite from my misery.

But the respite was only brief. I awoke, and gradually gathered together the details of my condition and whereabouts. What was that sound I heard? Was it in the room I occupied? There broke upon my ears the sound of deep, heavy breathing, such as I had heard before proceeding from D'Abra. Again I felt the faint hair-like network upon my flesh; but now it was not merely upon my neck, I was completely enveloped in it. The deep heavy breathing continued and I knew at once that my fiendish foe was at his devilish practices again.

Weak and limp as I felt myself, I leaped from the bed to my feet, and seizing my box, struck a fusee match. Recollecting a past experience, I took from my pocket-book a minute mirror, and with the help of a second fusee caught a glimpse of my face. I had drawn no incorrect inference. The face that I saw was the same face that I had observed in the glass in my own dressing-room, drawn, parched, aged. As the match fizzed itself into darkness I noticed that the breathing had ceased. I had stopped his proceedings for the present. But what should I do? Should I again lie down and allow myself to be subject to his black arts again? God help me! How weak I was! It was with difficulty that I could stand erect. I groped for a chair and seated myself, vaguely wondering what was to be my next affrighting experience.

I sat, waiting for the morning, as the tortured victim of the Spanish inquisition once waited for death. Years of feeling crawled over me, and at last the stir of a new day betrayed itself in the room. When the hours had passed, one by one the house woke, and a faint noise sounded here and there in the lower region, and eventually the day was throwing its broad light through the room. The large mirror in the room showed only too plainly the awful change that had passed over my features. My age had doubled. I was a tottering old man of sixty, and no strong, energetic man of thirty. I descended into the dining room at the summons of the second bell. It was to my unspeakable relief I found the satanic wonder-worker was absent, and, better still, had left the house for the day.

Priya was in charge of the table, and welcomed me cordially to the meal, which, despite my sense of fear, I hungrily attacked. My appetite appeared to have suddenly grown in the night, and I was compelled to apologize to my smiling hostess for the amazing copiousness with which I supplied my wants. Strengthened by the food, I was enabled to give my attention once more to the wonderful woman who kept me company. Again was I dazzled by her extraordinary beauty. Again was I puzzled by the likeness of certain of her features to Ella. At times I could not rid myself of the belief that it was Ella herself to whom I was speaking. Ella changed in some marvellous fashion. Could D'Abra have changed her also? I knew only too well what havoc of a change he had wrought in me. Surely he had power to transform the looks of my beloved, but standing up she prolonged herself another. Whatever alteration he could effect, surely he could not add inches to her stature.

She led me into the library and there left me, with a promise to return within the hour. After the performance of a few duties in the house, she would return for a long and serious conversation, whereby she hoped to explain many of the mysterious problems which had baffled the utmost efforts of my ingenuity. I threw myself upon a luxurious lounge with a feeling of great relief at the prospect of her explanations. This network of mysteries was passing beyond the extreme limits of my endurance. Little more of such would assuredly unseat my reason.

I took up the morning paper lying upon the table and glanced it through. Plenty of padding, as usual. Nothing about Ella, nothing about my disappearance, nothing to show me how to escape from this hopeless den. I dashed the paper aside, weary, miserably, abjectly weary. A chance glance, however, brought a curious rush of emotion into my breast. There was something in that commonplace sheet that amazed me as much, perhaps, as I had ever been amazed throughout the whole course of the present tissue of amazing events; and it was the commonest of all commonplaces that struck me with this great shock of wonderment, a detail that occurred in every issue of every paper. I examined the sheet again closely. Was I actually mad? There seemed to stand before me a printed testimony upon that page. That commonplace statement proved me a stark-raving madman. It was the date. December the 15th. It was December the 7th only last night, and December the 16th was the time limit imposed by Maharsei the Great Unknown. Surely this was madness!

PRESBYTERIANS MEET AT ARNPRIOR, ONT.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Arnprior, Ont., January 22.—At a meeting of the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew, just concluded here, the commissioners were appointed to represent the Presbytery at the Presbyterian General Assembly to be held in Vancouver, B. C., in June next as follows: Clerical representatives, Rev. A. H. Scott, M. A., Perth, Rev. C. A. Ferguson, Rev. Mr. Crombie, Oliver's Ferry, Rev. A. A. Scott, M. A., Carleton Place; Rev. George Campbell, Chalk River, and Rev. John Hay, B. D., Renfrew. Lay Commissioners, J. A. Allan, Perth, A. G. Farrell, Smith's Falls, A. M. Greig, Almonte, Mr. Dickson, Pembroke.

The call to Rev. Mr. Wallace to the charge at Middleville and Darling, was sustained, and arrangements were made for his induction on the 3rd of February. A petition and a complaint from the session of St. Andrew's Church, Lanark, against the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew for alleged irregularities and inaccuracies was forwarded to the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa, to be dealt with by the Superior Court at its next meeting in May. This is an outcome of a matter which has been before the Presbytery of Lanark and Renfrew and the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa for more than a year. The Presbytery passed a resolution bearing upon the demise of the late Principal MacVicar.

There was also, he he said, no truth in the statement that the Pacific Division was to be extended.

STRANGE EXPLOSION NEAR WHITMAN, MASS.

Whitman, Mass., January 22.—Two fissures in the earth about three feet deep and a few inches wide, and running for a distance of a quarter of a mile, are the only evidence of a mysterious explosion which shook this town just before daylight yesterday. Houses were violently shaken. The report was heard three-quarters of a mile away. Certain residents here aroused by the incident, began search at daylight. In a meadow a quarter of a mile from their houses, they found a crack in the earth's crust about three feet in depth and two or three inches wide. They followed it for three-quarters of a mile before they reached the end. Later they discovered another fissure of the same description about 75 feet away from the first and parallel with it. An explanation of the explosion is lacking.

NOT JUST AS GOOD

Did you ever inquire at a store for certain articles and get for a reply "We have something just as good"? Did it ever occur to you that "Something just as good" is something the dealer has been able to buy much cheaper than the articles you inquire for? This is true in drugs, fabrics, groceries, hardware, and in fact every line, including silver-plated ware. If you inquire for 1847 Rogers Bros.' Knives, Forks or Spoons, don't accept any bogus Rogers' stamp because your dealer tells you it's just as good.

1847 ROGERS BROS. TRADE MARK

The above trade mark has been stamped on every article of the original and genuine Rogers Bros.' goods for over 50 years. Get this and you get the best that is made.

MR. CHARLTON'S VIEWS.

He Thinks the Joint High Commission Will Meet Again.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—Mr. John Charlton, M. P., who is in the city, expresses surprises at the wonderful advance which has been made in the United States within the last few months in regard to the question of reciprocity. Thinking men there, he says, seem to have arrived at the opinion that the course which they have pursued in the past has failed entirely in the results anticipated from it, and they now see the necessity of a different policy. Mr. Charlton thinks that indications point to a reassembling of the Joint High Commission at no very remote date.

The Vital Difference between Laxatives and Purgatives cannot be too clearly understood. The former are GENTLE, the latter VIOLENT. A LAXATIVE assists the organs; a PURGATIVE takes the work out of nature's hands.

And every time that nature fails to perform its proper functions it is less disposed to perform them.

Purgatives, therefore, are at best a necessary evil, like an emetic to relieve the Stomach of undigested food.

IRON-OX TABLETS

are an ideal Laxative, strengthening instead of debilitating.

PORTE AND KHEDIVE.

Strained Relations Over Route of Holy Carpet to Medina.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Cairo, January 22.—Relations between the Sultan and the Khedive continue strained. The Egyptian Government desired to change the route of the Holy Carpet pilgrimage to Mecca, and Medina, and telegraphed to the Hedjz, of Mecca, suggesting that the Holy Carpet, instead of proceeding as hitherto to Jedda and Mecca, and hence by seventeen days' journey across the desert to Medina, and thence via Elwach to Cairo, should return from Mecca to Jedda and proceed by steamer to Yambo and make the pilgrimage to Medina from and returning to that point. The Hedje referred the matter to the Sultan, who refused to guarantee the safety of the caravan between Yambo and Medina, stating the local tribes were hostile. The Egyptian Government thereupon despatched Rifaat Pasha, who will escort the Holy Carpet on its pilgrimage to endeavour to arrange by means of Backsheesh with the Sheiks of the local tribes for the safe journey between Yambo and Medina. Two days after the departure of Rifaat Pasha, the Grand Vizier at Constantinople telegraphed the Khedive that an irade had been issued absolutely forbidding the Holy Carpet making the journey between Yambo and Medina. The Khedive replied praying for the reconsideration of the decision, and stating otherwise that the Holy Carpet would not visit Medina at all. No reply has been received. Considerable disquietude has already been manifested among the devout Mussulmans here who, while deploring the Sultan's decision by no means welcome that of the Egyptian Government. The question of the pilgrimage route is not the only bone of contention between the Porte and Egypt.

ONTARIO ELECTION FRAUDS.

When Professor Goldwin Smith was interviewed with reference to the recent by-elections in Ontario, he said:

"I don't think it makes much difference which party is in power in Ontario. It reminds me of the time I was in Ireland and there were two-year-old and three-year-old factions. These parties had faction fights every year. It was very difficult to obtain the meaning of the two parties, but it finally appeared to be a dispute over the age of a bull calf.

"I have no doubt there has been a great deal of machine work on both sides, which, of course, is not in the interests of the public.

"I feel that, like Sinbad, we have had the old man of the sea around our necks so long that it would be a great relief if we could shake off the Grit party. The comparative weakness of the Conservative leaders is due to the fact that the party which is particularly excluded from power becomes atrophied, and that is one reason why we should have a change. I only heard Mr. Whitney speak once, and, while not as polished in his utterance as Mr. Ross, he made a strong, manly speech.

"The Government is still in an unsatisfactory position, although they have a majority. Any three Liberal members have the party at their mercy."

It is no doubt possible to work up a great deal of enthusiasm over the age of a bull calf when there is no more important issue to quarrel about. The fact of the matter is that there is not and should not be much scope for big issues in provincial politics. Given honest and economical administration and the provincial legislators might as well bend their intellectual energies to the discussion of the age of a bull calf as to anything else.

The Weekly Sun, to which Professor Goldwin Smith is a regular contributor, in discussing the Hon. Sam Blake's letter, says:

"There is unfortunately far too much ground for charges of corruption and fraud on either party against the other. Mr. Ross' charges and Mr. Whitney's denials are, we doubt not, well founded. But the weak point on the Government side appears to be this. Unlike their opponents, they are in office, and entrusted by the whole people with the enforcement of the laws. This is a sacred trust, and wholesale corruption on the part of Conservative workers affords not the slightest excuse, nor any failure on the part of the Provincial Government to put the law in force against all wrongdoers. Yet the Government failed to put the law in force against the ballot manipulators, and although gross frauds were established not a single criminal was placed behind the bars. The Government had before them the example of Sir Oliver Mowat, whose first act when he took office at Ottawa in 1896 was to employ a force of detectives and prosecutors to run down the criminals who the month before had manipulated ballots in Manitoba. The failure of the Ontario Government to punish the perpetrators of the ballot frauds here shocked the moral sense of the community, and did the Government more harm than any act committed by them during their whole tenure of office. It is this that gives force to Mr. Blake's indictment of the Government."

The Legislature of Ontario might very properly give the bull calf issue or any question of a similar kind that may be mentioned in the speech from the throne, the six months' hoist, and devote its time to the discussion of the really important question to be put to the Ontario electors.

The Sun is unquestionably right in saying that the Government has a special responsibility in connection with the suppression and punishment of ballot frauds, from which no wrong-doing on the part of the Opposition can relieve it.

We can safely leave it to the Liberals and the Conservatives of Ontario, respectively, to discuss the question which party is the more corrupt of the two. They can talk about that until the calf dies of old age, but the discussion will have no bearing whatever upon the question whether the Government of Ontario is even making the slightest effort to hold honest elections.

That Mr. Whitney is responsible for clearing the skirts of the Conservative party in Ontario goes without saying. He can do a great deal to purify his following, and should be called upon to do all he can. But he cannot guard the ballot boxes and he cannot appoint the election officers. Nor can he be responsible for the punishment of fraudulent officials. That is a matter for which the Government is being held and must be held responsible.

Students of language are aware of a strange propensity lurking in the popular bosom to adopt at times cumbrous and awkward expressions in lieu of plain, simple and fully expressive ones which lie ready at hand. A case in point is the frequent use of the words "not to exceed" in the sense of "more than." A man asked how much money another is earning will very likely reply, "Oh, not to exceed fifty dollars a month." Occasionally the phrase is introduced in an amazingly harsh manner. Thus a man writing to a New York paper on the coal shortage says: "Not to exceed 200 to 220 days can be counted on in the year for coal output." It would be hard to beat that. There are people probably who would say: "Give me not to exceed half a cup of tea." What has the word "more" done that it should be turned down like that?

Talking of words that are "turned down," other instances could be cited. When, for example, did any one last see the expression formerly very common, and certainly essentially appropriate "a moderate estimate?" You may search the press of the day, at least on this side of the water, in vain for it. The fashionable word for several years past has been "conservative," and all moderate estimates are now "conservative" estimates. Yet really the word "conservative" has very little sense as applied to "estimate." In making an estimate what is there to "conserve" which any one would wish to destroy? The word has probably slipped in through its opposition, as a political expression, to the word "liberal." But the word "liberal," it is need less to say, is not applied to an estimate in any political sense, and therefore there was never any justification for adopting its political opposite as a qualification of "estimate." However, the thing is done, and "moderate" for the present is turned down. So with the word "hopeful." Any well to do citizen now a days would be ashamed to take a "hopeful" view of a situation, or almost to know anyone who did. He and his friend must always take "optimistic" views, nothing else will meet the exigences of the time. Go back twenty-five years or less, and you will search the daily papers in vain for the words "optimism" and "optimistic" except in their strictly philosophical meaning. To-day you have to look long to find the words "hopeful" or "cheerful." Now and then you may encounter them like rare peeping violets. People who want to be up to date, however, should be careful to let them waste their sweetness, and see to it that for their own part they are always "optimistic," except when circumstances require them to be an equally fashionable thing—"pessimistic."

The Saturday Review disagrees with Dr. Garnett, who says of Anthony Trollope, in an article in the Dictionary of National Biography, that "his diction is careless." To prove the critic wrong, the Saturday Review quotes a passage from one of Trollope's novels, the first sentence of which is this: "Lotta's eyes were quickly full of tears, and before long they were rolling down her cheeks." This certainly means, or ought to mean, that Lotta's eyes were rolling down her cheeks. It would have been hard to hit upon a sentence more confirmatory of Dr. Garnett's dictum. It may also be said that a really scrupulous writer would have avoided using two expressions so nearly equivalent as "quickly" and "before long" in the same sentence. To avoid the ambiguity as to the eyes, the sentence should have read: "Tears filled Lotta's eyes, and before long they were rolling down her cheeks." We may safely say, however, that Trollope's style was good enough for the object he had in view, which was the entertainment of average educated Englishmen and women.

There is no commercial panic of any account, says a writer in the New York Evening Post, due until the year 1913, twenty years from the date of the last serious one, which was in 1893. Twenty years back of that was the panic of 1853, which, however, came four years before its time, being hastened by the financial disturbance caused by the Civil War. Counting twenty years back from 1857, the true period, we come to 1837, and then by another similar leap to 1817, these having both been great panic years. Canadians, however, remember with satisfaction that the panic of 1893 can hardly be said to have crossed our borders, and possibly the promised panic of 1913, if it comes at all, may spend all its fury to the south of us. This is not a land of cyclones to any great extent.

An American lady, writing in the New York Sun, observes that the best thing about the new English liquor law is that it will be enforced. "Over there," she adds, "they don't make laws to please one half of their constituents, and then fail to enforce them to please the other half." This is about as neat an explanation of the ineffectual character of much of the State legislation in the neighbouring Republic as we remember to have seen.

The modern spirit is well illustrated by the proposal to harness Niagara to the street cars of Toronto. Thus one of the wonders of the world will pull Torontonians home to dinner. One of these days we will declare our independence of the coal miners and heat our houses with the flow of our winter rivers. Literally we shall set the St. Lawrence on fire and warm our hands at the blaze.

The New York franchise tax has been declared unconstitutional, as the income tax was some years ago. Our cousins are finding that it is possible to have too much constitution. A constitution with which a people are constantly colliding must make them envious of the British Parliament, which can do anything but resign.

Elected Royal Academician.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

London, January 22.—At a meeting of the Royal Academy, Sir Ernest Waterlow, the well known landscape painter, was elected a Royal Academician, in place of Frederick Goodall, who voluntarily retired. J. H. F. Bacon, W. R. Calton, and Arnesby Brown were elected associates of the Royal Academy.

Porte Grants Privileges.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

London, January 22. — The Times' Constantinople correspondent says the Porte has communicated to the British Embassy an irade granting British schools, and religious institutions privileges identical with those allowed Russian and other orthodox establishments.

They have had an earthquake shock in Switzerland. Probably the good little Genevan girls jumped simultaneously for joy when they heard that the naughty Saxon Princess had gone away and they could walk out with safety.

An Italian physician has discovered the sleeping sickness microbe. An infusion of teething baby, with a little touch of cold furnace and a ping-pong party next door, is sure death to the microbe, however.

The case of the St. Louis is to be raised in the British Parliament. The steamship company is in luck that the St. Louis itself does not have to be raised from mid-ocean.

The Toronto city council wants New Year's Day fixed as election day for all municipalities. This shows no proper fear of the electors turning over a new leaf.

Married women may get votes in Toronto on the same terms as widows and spinsters. Does this include doing without husbands?

"There are some spectacles," remarked the man who had travelled, "that can never be forgotten."

"Dear me," exclaimed the absent-minded old lady, "I wish I had a pair of 'em."

Cholly—"D'you know, Miss Sharp, I believe some people inherit their stupidity?"

Miss Sharp—"But, Mr. Saphead, it is not proper to speak that way of your parents."

THE FOX AND THE GRAPES.

A Fox passing through a vineyard beheld a Bunch of luscious Grapes hanging from a Considerable Height.

"Them for Mine," remarked Reynard, sprinkling at Them.

But spring at he would the Grapes remained a Case of Higher Up.

This Fox, however, did not characterize as Sour the object of his Exertion like the Fox in the Other Fable. He sat Himself Down and waited Patiently until his Friend the Cat came Along.

"Are the Grapes Sour?" asked the Cat.

"Oh, no. The Grapes are not Sour," replied Reynard. "But I cannot reach Them."

"Oh, fudge!" the Cat exclaimed, with a tumble spring that landed the Grapes, which the Fox was Coveting.

When the Cat had eaten the Grapes the Fox ate the Cat.

Can't get a two cent stamp in Toronto on Sunday. Nonsense! All you've got to do is to spend five cents on a street car, come down to a hotel, register, take a $2 room, and become a guest. In this way anybody can buy a two-cent stamp on Sunday for $2.05.—Toronto Star.

"How do you like your new servant?"

"That isn't the question at all," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "We are trying to find out how she likes us."

"At the risk of being considered egotistic," began the conceited man.

"Constant exposure," Miss Peppery interrupted, "I suppose makes you minimize the risk, Mr. Bragg."

"I wonder," said the bon vivant, "why Providence only provides shad for us in the springtime, and not at other seasons."

"I'll bet," replied the pessimist, "it's because the shad hasn't all its bones at other seasons."

Sympathetic Listener—In those dreary, desolate wastes, Mr. Dashpole, I suppose you grew fond even of your dogs.

Retired Arctic Explorer—Seasons, no, miss. We had plenty of pemmican and walrus meat.

"Doctor, a week ago you gave me something that you said was good for dyspepsia."

"Yes."

"Well, now, suppose you give me something that's bad for it. It's been humoured enough, sir."

Uncle George—Don't you think it would be becoming if you would keep your temper, Henry?

Henry—To be frank with you, Uncle George, I don't think my temper is worth keeping. It's the worst possible, I assure you.

HIS WORSHIP'S DREAM.

Upon Mount Royal's crest I stood,
Midst flowers in bloom and giant wood,
And gazed down at the scene below,
A chain of gold entwined my neck;
And at my call, my nod, my beck,
Three hundred thousand souls, or so.

As down the asphalt ways I strolled,
Bouquets were showered by young and old
Upon my stately form serene.
No maid too shy, nor youth too bold
Whose eyes no admiration told
In viewing my majestic mien.

With wisdom new, dispassionate,
I guide the mighty ship of state,
I and my aldermanic crew.
My orders by a look conveyed,
My every wish at once obeyed
By vassals to their master true.

I hear the plaudits of the throng:
Of George and Pat and bland Lee Chong,
With Joe and Ike, in one sweet song.
* * * * * What's that? A voice at first quite dim
Now higher soars, with growing vim.
The old familiar: "Get up, Jim!"

My dream is o'er. O, rub most cruel!
My waking thoughts of civic fuel.
Less wood, more coal, more wood, less coal.
I can't tell which to save my soul.
Then comes a rush of other care:
The road committee and Vallieres,
A scandal to investigate.
Reduction of the water rate.
Dan Gallery and his Mister Blair,
Who seek to raze my precious hair.
The merry jugglers of finance,
Who lead me such a rapid dance.
The scribes who put my thoughts in ink,
Before I've taken time to think.
A thousand applicants for jobs.
A thousand all—most worthy slobs.
A library without a site,
Or one which changes over night.
Electric cars on Mountain Park;
Investigations in the dark.
Three hundred thousand men, or more,
With great, long knives out for my gore!
These—just a few—nice, cheerful things
To mind each morning's waking brings.

But, thank the Lord, while I am mayor,
And exercise one function,
No power can bid me cease to dream—not even an injunction.

Judge Gray of Coal Strike Commission Makes Pointed Remarks

BY CAR OR BY WEIGHT

Commission to Devote a Day to Discussion of System of Pay for Loading Cars.

Philadelphia, Pa., January 22.—Chairman Gray, of the Coal Strike Commission, made some pointed remarks at the conclusion of the Temple Iron Company's case yesterday.

R. S. Mercur, a district superintendent of collieries in the Mahanoy and Shamokin districts, was on the stand. He said: The men in his collieries worked on an average about seven hours a day. The miners, he continued, will not produce any more coal, as a result of President Mitchell's "hurry-up" order. They claim there is no coal shortage, and that it was a scheme of the operators to show the men are earning large wages.

Chairman Gray remarked that the miners should come to Wilmington (Del.), his home, and see poor people standing around waiting to buy a bucket of coal, at 17 and 18 cents a bucket.

Mr. Darrow asked the witness why he did not work two shifts, and he replied that he could not get the men to cut enough coal to keep the breakers going ten hours a day.

QUESTION OF PERMISSION.

Mercur further stated that his company had contracted with a man to build a boiler house for packer colliery No. 3. The strikers refused to permit this to be done; they would not even allow the material to be taken from the railway cars. Finally the contractor wrote to District President Fahey, asking permission to erect the boiler house, and the labour leader replied: "On account of the existing conditions, I cannot grant you the permission."

Chairman Gray asked the witness if he did not apply to Mr. Fahey, and he replied he did not. The president of the commission sarcastically asked the witness why he did not, with due submission, go to see Mr. Fahey, and appeal to him to permit the building of the boiler house. He might have softened a little, added the commissioner. Judge Gray said he did not like the word "permission" as used by Mr. Fahey. This was a free country, and he was not educated up to using the word in the way Mr. Fahey had employed it. Then he added that he hated tyranny, no matter whether it was practiced by an operator, a miner, or any one else.

WITNESS FOR MINERS.

John F. Murray, a union miner, was placed on the stand by the Lehigh to testify about what seemed a trivial matter. He said the company did not deliver enough cars to the men, and that the union had no rule restricting the number of cars to be delivered to each miner. He added that there would be trouble in the anthracite regions so long as some of the companies insist on paying the men by the car instead of paying them by weight. The commission decided to devote an entire day to the consideration of car and weight system.

S. P. Warriner, general superintendent of the company, in his testimony said there were no complaints made to him on the car question prior to the recent strike.

NOTES.

Legal action is being commenced against the Ontario Coal Dealers' Association, of which Thomas Elliott, Brantford, is president, and George Hatley, Brantford, secretary, charging it with conspiracy against the public. The association, of which all the coal companies in Brantford with one exception, are members, took steps, it is charged, to prevent any one in Brantford, but members of the association, from buying coal from the operators.

A crowd of men, women and children attacked and captured a train of seven cars loaded with more than 200 tons of anthracite coal at the Sutter avenue crossing of the Long Island Railway in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn. Despite the efforts of the train crew the people helped themselves.

After an investigation lasting a week, the common pleas grand jury yesterday indicted six officers of the Toledo Coal Exchange on the charge of maintaining an alleged illegal combine to keep up prices for coal. They were arrested and gave bond.

At yesterday's session of the United Mine Workers' convention at Indianapolis, Ind., the report of the resolution committee recommended a demands for an increase in wages of miners over last year ranging from 15 to 25 per cent. The demand is also made for an increase for the labourers, and the introduction of the run of mine system.

May Change Registry.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Philadelphia, January 22.—The management of the International Mercantile Marine Company has begun a series of radical changes and financial reforms in the conduct of the affairs of their fleet. Although the plans have been kept secret, it is learned they embrace the changing of the registry of several of their steamers which will shortly be placed under the British flag. The reason for obtaining British registry is that wages and incidental expenses in British vessels are lower than on this side of the Atlantic.

CHILDREN HEAR ABOUT CANADA

Mr. Gard Returns to Brooklyn School After Years Absence.

PRESENTS PROMISED PRIZES

One Little Girl Thought Quebec Children Looked on Ice Palace in Dominion Square in Summer.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

New York, January 22.—Mr. Anson A. Gard, the author, who is now on a visit to New York, is meeting with a hearty reception from press and people. He is endeavouring to awaken interest in Canada on this side of the line, and while he has found that many persons know absolutely nothing about the great and varied country to the north, he has yet discovered others who are well posted with regard to its governmental system, topographical features, natural resources, etc.

Mr. Gard, a few days ago, paid a visit to public school No. 44 in Brooklyn, at the corner of Putnam and Throop avenues, to award prizes to the scholars best posted on the Dominion. Last spring Mr. Gard paid his first visit to this school, and asked the pupils 50 questions on Canada. The children could guess at only 36 of the questions, and Mr. Gard then offered a prize, in the shape of one of his books, for the best letter on the subject, and received 76 letters. Two of the responses were about equal in merit, and Mr. Gard was, therefore, obliged to award two prizes, which he did.

The letters were so full of valuable data that Mr. Gard makes the claim that they cannot be excelled, if equaled, by the Canadian children on their own country. He claims that he has offered prizes to Montreal school children and that the offer has not been taken up.

In addressing the Brooklyn school Mr. Gard said: "Canada, which you think of as a monarchial government, is as free as our own, and in some ways even more so. When I saw the interest manifested at the time of McKinley's death, I felt that no line divided us, but that in every heart feeling we were but one people.

"The opportunities for a man to rise from the masses in Canada are as great as in our own country. I have in mind one of the most prominent, one of the ablest men in Canada who started as a poor boy. Although he is yet a comparatively young man, he has, for years, been the Mayor of Quebec, the Prime Minister of the Province of Quebec and has refused the Lieutenant-Governorship of the Province.

"We of America may manifest a just pride in our greatness, but there is such a thing as being too proud. We know too little of that young giant to the north. He is worthy of more attention, and I blame our newspapers for this lack of knowledge and inattention.

"Only this week I saw in a Canadian newspaper no less than thirty different items and articles, some of them a column long, on the affairs of the States. On the same day I looked carefully through one of our great New York dailies, and had I been a man from Mars I would not have known that there was such a place as Canada. There was not a single Canadian item in that paper. This is not right. Our people look to the newspapers for all that is of interest, and Canada is too full of real worth to be so lightly passed over.

"Canada is waking up to her vast possibilities in railway building. She is getting ready to make Herculean strides in manufacturing. She will ere long compel our attention. In extent of wheat growing she will become a rival to the richest of our western prairies.

"Children, do you think of Canada as a cold country? It is not. I have been much more chilled during the past week in New York than I have been during two winters in Canada. The thermometer may get below zero there, but the air is so free from dampness that one does not feel the cold as one does here. I know some of you think it is cold there. I wonder if the little girls here to-day who wrote me this letter. The children of old Quebec have a charming life. They go out of a beautiful summer afternoon to Dominion Square to see the magnificent ice palace and watch the sun as it shines on the glistening sides of the palace. Oh, it must be delightful to live there.

"No, children, they don't have such things up in Canada any more especially in the summer time." (Laughter.)

At a banquet to the city a night or two since Mr. Gard made some pointed remarks on Canada and was heartily cheered.

BOARD OF TRADE RETIRING COUNCIL

Letter From Mr. C. M. Hays Regarding the Grand Trunk Pacific

THE DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA

Cordial Thanks and Appreciation Conveyed to President McFee and Secretary Hadrill.

The last meeting of the retiring Board of Trade council was held yesterday afternoon.

In acknowledging a communication from the council regarding the Pacific extension of the Grand Trunk Railway, Mr. Charles M. Hays wrote:

"I find that through the pressure of other business, I have overlooked replying to your favour of December 15, communicating the resolution which was unanimously adopted by the council of the Montreal Board of Trade at its meeting on December 10, with reference to the proposed extension of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to the Pacific coast.

"I fully appreciate the cordial reception and endorsement that the board has given to this project, which all business men will doubtless concede is the most practical proposition that has been put forward for the further development of the great North-West Territories.

"The new company, with the support of the Grand Trunk Railway Company and its large resources in the way of existing equipment, double tracks and terminal facilities, is certain to accomplish the best results within the shortest period in securing the greatest measure of efficiency and furnishing modern transportation service to that section of the country through which the line will run.

"Please extend my thanks to the council of the board for their action in regard to this matter, also for their approval of the work already done by this company in improving the system."

DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA.

President McFee reported that he had represented the council on the deputation that proceeded to Ottawa last Saturday, with regard to the desired removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle. The deputation was received by the Minister of Agriculture, and the Minister of Railways and Canals was present for a time.

These gentlemen listened with much interest to the representations made by Mr. William Henderson, of Lawton, Scotland, representing the Canadian Cattle Importation Association of Great Britain.

On the motion of Mr. George E. Drummond, seconded by Mr. McD. Paterson, it was resolved to recommend to the London (Eng.) Chamber of Commerce the addition of Mr. Alexander McFee's name to the organizing committee of the Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire for special purpose of the Montreal meeting.

The following were admitted to membership on the board: Mr. Francis H. Clergue, Sault Ste. Marie; Col. E. Edye, of the Trust & Loan Company, of Canada; Mr. W. L. Hogg, grain, hay and feed merchant; Mr. M. H. Day, general manager of the Consumers' Cordage Company, and Mr. Robert Sharpe, grain inspector of the state of Maine, Portland.

THANKING THE PRESIDENT.

The business on the agenda being concluded, Mr. George E. Drummond, second vice-president, at the request of Mr. A. J. Hodgson, first vice-president, took the chair, and the latter thereupon moved a vote of thanks to President McFee, supplementing the same by cordial references to Mr. McFee's work during the year and speaking of the pleasant relations which had existed between the president and all members of the council.

A resolution was then adopted expressing the council's appreciation of the work of the secretary, Mr. George Hadrill, and thereafter the members of the council exchanged adieus.

Mr. Tozer's Coming Visit.

Mr. Basil Tozer, of Plymouth, England, who is anxious to meet West country folk resident in and around Montreal, will be in the city on Sunday or Monday next. Any West Country men or women who desire to meet him who have not already sent in their names and addresses to the Editor of the Star, are requested to do so before Saturday next.

Sacred Concert This Evening.

The sacred concert which will be given this evening in the West End Methodist Church, under the direction of Mr O. Stewart Taylor, promises to be largely attended. The programme includes seventeen numbers, the soloists being Miss B. Ferguson, Mr. Diplock, Miss Blakemore, Miss Stafford, Mr. Gillmour, Miss McMartin, Mr. J. C. Freer, Mrs. F. Clark and Mr. F. P. Lamb.

"I Take First Place"

That's the meaning of proteid, the substance which builds healthy cells in the human body. People ought to know more about proteids—we are constantly in need of them. What are they and why do they "take first place?"

All active tissues must contain proteids. They are a necessary article of diet to replace the living cells that are destroyed in great numbers every day by wear and tear on the body. They furnish resisting force—power to withstand illness, ability to gain healthy flesh, means of acquiring energy.

The body gets them in the best form from the flesh and fat of animals. But there are lots of people who do not or cannot eat the proper food to get these necessary proteids. What can they do to get their share? It has been found that Scott's Emulsion furnishes the necessary proteid elements and provides them in a way that insures their proper distribution in the body.

In addition there are hypophosphites of lime and soda, which, when carefully and perfectly blended with the whole oil as in Scott's Emulsion, represent one of the most valuable forms of nourishment known to the medical profession.

GETTING POSSESSION OF THE DRILL HALL FOR A PUBLIC MARKET.

When the Market Commitete met yesterday afternoon the question came up of the possibility of the city getting possession of the Drill Hall on Craig street and using it for a market.

Ex-Ald. Gagnon appeared before the committee in regard to the matter. He said he had heard the Government was to dispose of the Drill Shed as the place was getting too small to properly accommodate troops. If the statement was correct it would be a good thing for the city to try and purchase or rent the place. Continuing ex-Ald. Gagnon explained that as St. Lawrence Market was to be abolished another market should be provided by the city. If the Drill Shed could be used as a market the butchers at St. Lawrence Market might not feel so bad about leaving the old market. It was further pointed out that Bonsecours Market was badly congested on market days; but matters would be materially improved if the Drill Shed was turned into a market. Details were given as to the number of teams, etc., the Drill Shed could probably accommodate. The committee decided to make enquiries and find out if the Government was willing to part with the place.

Ald. Lamarche spoke at some length on the proposed demolition of St. Lawrence Market. His opinion was that the market should not be demolished, as it would diminish the civic revenue. It might be that the Legislature would be asked to legalize the procedure, but in that event, Ald. Lamarche thought, it would be unfair to throw the butchers out in the street, and force them to work up a new class of customers. Anyway Ald. Lamarche thought it would take a year to get the market demolished.

It was decided to see if something could not yet be done to have the market retained.

Before adjourning Ald. Walsh moved a vote of condolence to Ald. N. Lapointe on the death of his brother. It was adopted unanimously with expressions of sympathy from all the members of the committee.

DOES NOT APPROVE THE REASONS GIVEN BY MR. C. M. HAYS.

At a meeting of the Lord's Day Alliance, held in the Stanley Street Presbyterian Church last night, an address was delivered by the Rev. J. G. Shearer, field secretary of the Dominion Alliance, in which he referred to the necessity which existed of passing railway legislation, and pointed out that the principle of the arguments used by Mr. C. M. Hays, in urging the necessity of Sunday labour on railways, would justify any other business concern in working seven days a week whenever there was a press of work.

At the conclusion of the meeting enrolment in a branch of the Alliance for Point St. Charles was begun. Rev. E. A. Mackenzie was elected president, Ven. Archdeacon Ker, Rev. G. Winter, and Rev. J. M. Harvey, vice presidents, and Rev. J. R. Webb, secretary-treasurer. A strong committee of laymen was also appointed.

Rev. Mr. Shearer will preach at Douglas Methodist Church Sunday morning, and Crescent Street Presbyterian Church Sunday evening.

The Park and the Electric Railroad.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star:

Sir,—Is not the solution of this difficulty for the city to obtain power to expropriate the Incline Railway and to make it free for the citizens? Everybody wants the access to the park to be made as easily as possible. No one would like to see the park itself disfigured by cars, and by the booths and merry-go-rounds which might be expected to follow in their train. Even the mother, with six little children, can walk from the top of the Incline Railway to the Outlook, assuming, as the aldermen do, that she will not be happy till she gets there. The more of the poor who can be brought to find pleasure in the park the better. By all means let the cars run as near the park on all sides as is possible. But Montreal would stamp itself for ever as a city devoid of taste if she destroyed the wild beauty of a park which, in its peculiar way, has no rival on the continent.

Yours truly,
MOUNTAINEER.

Mr. Springle's Appointment.

Mr. Hobart A. Springle, of Montreal, has left for Walkerville, Ont., where he has accepted an important position with Hiram Walker & Sons. Mr. Springle, who is a graduate of McGill, is a member of the Bar of the Province of Quebec.

Customs Office Cashier.

Charles Meunier has been appointed cashier of the Montreal customs office in the place of Lavoie, superannuated.

On Wednesday night the Colonial Club of London entertained Admiral Sir Frederick Bedford, the new Governor of West Australia, to dinner. Mr. Duff Miller the agent-general of New Brunswick, and other Canadians were present.

INCREASE OF WAGES WILL BE DEMANDED

City Bricklayers Intend to Ask For Forty Cents An Hour.

INTRODUCING CARD SYSTEM

Is Already in Operation in Various Centres on the Continent and Works Well.

The bricklayers of Montreal will make a demand in the spring for an increase of wages and in all probability there is trouble ahead in the building trades, as the new working card system, which is in operation in the various large cities throughout the United States and Canada, is to be put in force in Montreal.

Under this system only union labour can be employed by building contractors. The class of labour affected by the new rules and regulations are carpenters, joiners, bricklayers, stonemasons, plumbers and steamfitters, tinsmiths, roofers, electrical workers, plasterers, lathers, painters, iron structural workers and building labourers.

The last named body have now what the leaders call a perfect organization, and will also demand an increase in wages. They want a uniform rate of $1.75 for a day of nine hours.

EXPECT NO TROUBLE.

The officials of the Bricklayers' Union, state that they do not anticipate any trouble in getting an increase of five cents an hour as it is, in their opinion, a very reasonable request, and that they have been working for 35 cents an hour for about ten years. They also state that five years ago the union insisted on a nine-hour day, so as to enable as many men as possible to get employment, and it is owing largely to this that the men have been able only to barely supply the absolute needs of their families. The following table of wages per hour has been supplied by Mr. J. H. Bernier, of 630 Mentana street, the secretary of the union:

	Per hour.
New York	65
Winnipeg	55
Ottawa	40
Toronto	55
Hamilton	45
Detroit	55
Kingston	50
Massena Springs	45
Montreal	35

Mr. Bernier states that the resolution making the new rate of 40 cents an hour effective was unanimously passed at the annual meeting in January, and that the committee would be pleased to hear from the officers of the Builders' Exchange and the various contractors.

DISAPPROVE PLANS FOR WHARF SHEDS.

Chambre de Commerce Condemns the Proposal to Erect Ramps—Advise the Use of Cranes.

The Chambre de Commerce yesterday pronounced against the plans proposed by Mr. John Kennedy, harbour engineer, for the sheds on the shore wharf. The special committee appointed to examine the plans expressed their opposition to forcing carters to climb great ramps to discharge or load. They condemn both the ramps outside the wall and those inside. The committee, however, favours the building of two-storey sheds, but advises the use of cranes or other like means to raise goods to the second storey. The committee also strongly recommends that the Harbour Board should take under its own charge the working of the railways on all the wharves, and that electricity should be the motive power, in order to avoid smoke and steam.

SUGGEST OVERHEAD RAILWAY.

As an ultimate settlement of the transportation question along the harbour front, the committee recommends the construction of an overhead railway. This can be constructed for a reasonable amount, and would give the port its fullest development. The elevated could run along the shore wharf, and communicate with the second storey of the high level sheds. The carters could carry on their business during the whole day and night, without interruption from the trains, and vice versa. This arrangement would also be advantageous, the committee considers, to the railway companies, inasmuch as it would allow them to send their cars down at all hours, and save them the long haul around by way of Outremont, when they wish to reach the east from the west, or vice versa. In winter also the sheds on the wharf could be used for storage purposes and facilitate business.

Mr. J. X. Perrault introduced a motion against any grant of subsidies by the Government of Canada to any trans-continental railway company for the construction of its line across the continent. The only aid he would favour is the guarantee of the company's bonds. The question was referred to the railway committee.

On motion of Mr. C. H. Catelli, seconded by Mr. Perrault, the Chamber adopted a resolution in favour of a duty on white lead to aid this industry.

HAD MONEY MAKING-SCHEME.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

New York, January 22.—By the arrest of a man, who the police say is Wm. G. Furlong, an alleged scheme to fleece the public was brought to light yesterday. The police say that Furlong has been advertising in New York and Philadelphia for a "Gentleman, who would be willing to marry a lady he had never met and from whom he would be expected to secure a divorce as soon as possible after the marriage." The advertisements said it was necessary, in order to settle an estate, for the lady to marry and the man accepted would receive $20,000. As soon as an answer was received a circular would be sent in which the applicant was asked to send $1 for the picture of the lady. The police say 5,000 answers were received and that Furlong also secured money by advertising for applicants for a position. Furlong had handsomely furnished offices on Wall street. When arraigned the prisoner gave his name as J. V. S. Scudder. He was remanded for forty-eight hours as a suspicious person.

NOT DUE TO CLIMATE.

Catarrh is Found Everywhere.

Catarrh is at home anywhere and everywhere. While more common in cold, changeable climates, it is by no means confined to them, but is prevalent in every state and territory in the union.

The common definition of catarrh is a chronic cold in the head, which if long neglected often destroys the sense of smell and hearing, but there are many other forms of the disease, even more obstinate and dangerous.

Catarrh of the throat and bronchial tubes as well as catarrh of the stomach and liver are almost as common as nasal catarrh and generally more difficult to cure.

Catarrh is undoubtedly a blood disease and can only be successfully eradicated by an internal treatment. Sprays, washes and powders are useless as far as reaching the real seat of the disease is concerned.

Dr. McIverney advises catarrh sufferers to use a new preparation, sold by druggists, called Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, because actual analysis has shown these tablets to contain certain anti-septic qualities of the highest value and being an internal remedy, pleasant to the taste, convenient and harmless, can be used as freely as required, as well for children as for adults.

An attorney and public speaker, who had been a catarrh sufferer for years, says:—

"Every fall I would catch a cold which would settle in my head and throat and hang on all winter long and every winter it seemed to get a little worse. I was continually clearing my throat and my voice became affected to such an extent as to interfere with my public speaking.

"I tried troches and cheap cough cures and sometimes got relief, but only for a short time, until this winter, when I learned of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, through a newspaper advertisement. Two fifty cent boxes which I bought at my druggist's, cleared my head and throat in fine shape and to guard against a return of my old trouble I keep a box of the tablets on hand and whenever I catch a little cold I take a tablet or two and ward off any serious developments."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets deserve to head the list as a household remedy, to check and break up coughs and colds, because unlike many other catarrh and cough cures these tablets contain no opiate, cocaine or any injurious drug.

PATRIOT OF 1837-8 HAS PASSED AWAY AT ADVANCED AGE.

Mr. Louis Gonthier Was One of Those Who Defended the Church of St. Eustache.

Mr. Louis Gonthier, one of the last of the patriots of 1837-8, died yesterday morning at the advanced age of eighty-eight years. The deceased was the father of Mr. George Gonthier, of Montreal, and Mr. Joseph Gonthier, of Three Rivers.

Mr. Gonthier was in the church at St. Eustache with Dr. Chenier at the time of the attack. Turning his back to the altar with a couple of his friends by his side, the three began to shoot toward the door of the church, where the mob had collected. His two comrades were killed by his side, the shot which cut one of his friends in two setting fire to the church.

It was not until then that the patriots took refuge in the cemetery, by jumping from the windows. All resistance being useless he followed the example of the others and fled.

Two of his brothers, Joseph and Gregory, also took part in the memorable combat. The first was killed in action.

Mr. Gonthier, upon several occasions, proved his courage. In one instance, when visiting his father's house, he hid a quantity of fire arms, while the English were searching the house from top to bottom.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning.

China has arranged for a new loan of £1,000,000 for the construction of a railway from Tchengting to Yuan Fu.

How an abscess in the Fallopian Tubes of Mrs. Hollinger was removed without a surgical operation.

"I had an abscess in my side in the fallopian tube (the fallopian tube is a connection of the organs) I suffered untold misery and was so weak I could scarcely get around. The sharp burning pains low down in my side were terrible. My physician said there was no help for me unless I would go to the hospital and be operated on. I thought before that I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which, fortunately, I did, and it has made me a stout, healthy woman. My advice to all women who suffer with any kind of female trouble is to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once."—MRS. IRA S. HOLLINGER, Stilvideo, Ohio.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

It would seem by this statement that women would save time and much sickness if they would get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and also write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helps. No other person can give such helpful advice as Mrs. Pinkham to women who are sick.

Meetings and Societies.

In the Labour World.

THE IRON MOULDERS.—There will be a meeting of the Iron Moulders' Union tonight at 132 St. James street, when delegates will be elected to the new Montreal Trades and Labour Council. There will be a discussion in reference to allowing an electric railway an entrance to Mount Royal Park, and other matters of interest to the trade will be considered.

THE PRINTING PRESSMEN.—At last night's meeting of the Printing Pressmen's Union, addresses were made by Messrs. George Warren, district organizer of the A. F. of L.; J. A. Rodier, president of Jacques Cartier Typographical Union, and others. The chair was occupied by the president, Mr. F. A. Boudreau. Thirty-five new applications for membership were received.

THE OPERATORS AND BASTERS.—An open meeting of the Operators' and Basters' Union, Local No. 134, United Garment Workers of America, was held in the Empire Hall. Fourteen propositions for membership were received and will be voted upon at the next meeting. It was decided to hold a concert and ball on February 14 in the Empire Hall. Mr. H. Kronenberg was appointed chairman of the hall committee. It was decided to procure the best musical and vocal talent possible, the union being determined upon making this affair the best of the season. Beginning with the first of February, the initiation fee will be raised to the constitutional minimum.

THE RUBBER CLOTHING WORKERS.—A largely attended mass meeting of rubber clothing workers was held last evening at the Empire Hall. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. B. Sanders, secretary of Local Union, No. 216, United Garment Workers of America; A. W. Walshe, business agent of the Electrical Workers' Union, H. Kronenberg, secretary of the Operators' and Basters' Union, and B. Rose, provincial organizer of the Garment Workers. The various speakers pointed out the benefits arising from organization, and urged upon all present the desirability of the workers co-operating with each other for the common purpose of bettering their economic condition. At the conclusion of the meeting several names were added to the membership list, and the opinion of the officers is that they now have the trade thoroughly organized.

THE HORSESHOERS.—A joint meeting of journeymen horseshoers and employers was held on Tuesday evening to discuss the new schedule of wages which becomes effective on May 1. There was a very large attendance of members, and the following employers of labour were present, and took part in the debate: Messrs. Charles Houton, M. Grant, Wm. Grant, M. Montmegany, J. B. Legault, Charles McKearsaw, J. Lafrance, H. Dubeau, Francis Charlebois, J. H. Seguin, M. Bellefleur, A. Germin, M. Pineau, O. Desrocher and others. The president, on behalf of the union, extended to the bosses a hearty welcome. He said he was more than pleased to see bosses and employes getting together to consider a matter of the greatest importance to all concerned. The new rate sof wages were then read by John Fitzgerald in English and by Jean Larue in French. It was decided to send a printed copy of the new rates to all the employers in the city. Mr. George Warren, district organizer of the A. F. of L., then delivered a spirited address, after which it was agreed to hold another joint meeting in the near future.

Tug a Total Wreck.

Block Island, R. I., January 22.—The tug Leyden, bound from San Juan, Porto Rico, for Newport, ran ashore on the south side of this island in a thick fog yesterday, and is a total wreck. She is fast going to pieces. Six of her crew left the wrecked tug in a small boat, which was dashed to pieces on the rocks a short distance from the shore. They were rescued by the life savers. The remaining 28 men, and Lieut. Wells, the commander, were taken off in the breeches buoy with great difficulty by the New Shoreham life saving crew.

New French Line.

Toronto, Ont., January 22.—Secretary Younge, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, to-day received a letter from L. Canaud and Nordlindh, of La Rochelle, France, announcing that at the end of March a regular steamship service will be established between Canada and France. The same shipping firm have already established a service between France, Cuba, Mexico and New Orleans.

Notes.

The North German Lloyd steamship Lahn, Capt. Malchow, left Gibraltar last evening for New York. She had on board 71 cabin and 657 steerage passengers.

The steamer Stanley is still hard and fast in the ice off Cape Tormentine, N.B., while the Minto is having a hard time keeping up communication between the island and the harbour of Pictou, N.S.

The Elder, Dempster & Co.'s Beaver line steamer Lake Ontario sailed from Liverpool at three o'clock yesterday afternoon for St. John, N.B., with 10 first, 40 second and 500 steerage passengers, and a large general cargo.

The Leyland line steamship Columbian sailed from London Tuesday for Boston.

The steamer Victoria, which went into winter quarters in front of Poole's resort, Brockville, Ont., sank the other day, and investigation showed that a muskrat had gnawed a hole through her hull.

The British ship Pythomene will shortly sail from Vancouver for South Africa with a cargo of 3000 tons of Manitoba flour and general merchandise.

AN AUCTION SALE IN THE SPRING

May Have to Dispose of Wood Supply in That Way.

COAL ARRIVES VERY SLOWLY

Receipts for Past Two Weeks Have Been Much Less Than Was Expected.

"I think the city will have to divert to an auction sale of wood in the spring," said the Mayor to-day.

"Why? Are citizens not buying the wood being brought in by the corporation?" was asked.

"Bless you no," answered His Worship. "For some reason citizens, poor and rich alike, do not seem to be anxious to purchase wood. I cannot explain what the matter is. Years ago people burned wood freely in the winter, but now they will not purchase it."

His Worship was asked if the corporation was not charging too much for the wood, and replied that corporation wood was being sold much cheaper than what wood merchants were retailing it for.

"We have hundreds of cords of wood," he went on, "in the civic wood yards at the present time. The spring will soon come around and then we shall have the stuff on our hands."

The Mayor's secretary, Mr. Bauset, said in reassuring way: "Every year the corporation has to buy a lot of wood for civic use; the wood in the yards can be taken by the corporation if citizens will not buy it."

"Yes, yes, that is so, that is so," said His Worship with sudden satisfaction.

The Mayor then produced several way bills he had received of cars of wood and coal arriving in the city for the corporation. He said that in a few days all the orders for soft coal would be filled. It was likely the city would get a yard where soft coal could be stored. With a lot of coal on hand there would be no further complaints from citizens as to the delay in getting fuel.

COAL COMING IN SLOWLY.

The receipts of hard coal in the city to-day are absolutely nil, not a pound coming over either the Grand Trunk or the Canadian Pacific Railways.

The daily receipts into Montreal are far below the requirements, there being but one day within the past two weeks when the receipts were upward of one thousand tons, while the average has ran under five hundred tons per day.

The daily receipts in tons on both railways from the fourteenth to date, both inclusive, are as follows:

	G.T.R.	C.P.R.
Fourteenth	334	79
Fifteenth	473	21
Sixteenth	450	[illegible]
Seventeenth	340	32
Nineteenth	1,014	71
Twentieth	554	[illegible]
Twenty-first	236	000
Twenty-second	000	000

ARE SUPPLYING CUSTOMERS.

Anthracite coal continues very scarce among the dealers and is correspondingly high in price. The coal men are doing their best to supply their own customers and are succeeding fairly, but there is no pretence of delivering anything like large quantities. Some of the dealers are clear out of fuel of all kinds with the exception of wood.

DOOLEY IS HOPEFUL AND CONTINUES TO SIGN NEW PLAYERS.

"No Transfer Made or Likely to be Made." He Says.

A gentleman who has just come from Cornwall, and had a talk with Inspector Dooley, former captain and manager of the Montreal Baseball Club, says that the latter gentleman is still very optimistic about Montreal's chances of remaining in the Eastern League. He says Mr. Dooley is continuing to sign players, amongst the latest whose signatures he has acquired being Outfielder Ned W. Thomas, of the Philadelphia Club, and Hayes, an outfielder for the Western League. He says that Mr. Dooley states that no sale or transfer of the franchise has yet taken place, and no sale or transfer of the franchise is likely to take place.

STAR DECORATIONS IN MEMORY ANNIVERSARY GOOD QUEEN'S DEATH.

Among the chief displays in commemoration of the sad anniversary which Montrealers in common with the rest of the Empire observed to-day, was that in the centre window of the Montreal Star Office, on St. James street. A handsome picture of her late Majesty was draped with the British and Canadian flags and covered with a wreath in which violets, Queen Victoria's favourite flower, were predominant.

CORN EXCHANGE AND ITS CANDIDATES.

Nominations for officers of the Montreal Corn Exchange Association close at six o'clock this evening, and the annual meeting will be held on Wednesday next, at three o'clock in the afternoon. From present appearances it would seem that no opposition would be offered to Mr. James Carruthers, the nominee for president, or to Mr. Norman Wight, who has been nominated for the position of treasurer.

Ten nominations had been made up to noon for places upon the Committee of Management, and from this number seven will be chosen.

Those nominated are: Messrs. Robert Peddie, E. S. Jaques, G. A. Thomson, Alfred Chaplin, A. E. Coes, J. A. Cuttle, A. E. Labelle, R. W. Oliver and Edgar Judge.

THE CHARITY BALL AND ITS PATRONESSES.

The Charity Ball, in aid of the Montreal Maternity Hospital, to be held on February 11, in the Windsor Hall, will be one of the big events of the season.

A new feature of the ball will be favour dances.

The patronesses are: Mrs. R. B. Angus, Mrs. Hugh Allan, Mrs. E. S. Clouston, Mrs. [illegible] A. Drummond, Mrs. Hugh Graham, Mrs. C. M. Hays, Lady Hickson, Lady [illegible], Mrs. Meighen, Mrs. Jesse Ross, [illegible] Redmond, Lady Shaughnessy, Mrs. [illegible] and Lady Tait.

[illegible] meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon to appoint committees.

Funeral of Mrs. James Tasker.

The funeral of the late Mrs. James Tasker, of 32 Drummond street, took place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The service was private. Mrs. Tasker was the daughter of the late Mr. James MacQueen, of Fergus, Ont. She was a member of St. Paul's congregation, and was an active worker in church societies.

Awarded $250 Damages.

Mr. Justice Lavergne to-day awarded Zotique Paquet $250 damages in his action for $500 for slander against J. Neveu. Plaintiff complained that defendant had accused him of being dishonest, and thus deprived him of his position as carter for a wholesale house.

ALDERMEN WILL NOT FIGHT MAYOR'S VIEW

Now Seems Likely no Investigation Meeting Will be Called.

NOT ANXIOUS FOR PRISON

Police Probing Now Awaits in All Probability Action of the Court.

There was considerable merriment to-day at the City Hall over the fact that Mayor had not been told by the members of the police investigating committee that a meeting of the committee would be called in spite of His Worship.

"It looks," said the Mayor to-day, "as though the members of the investigating committee are not very anxious after all to set the courts at defiance as advised by the City Council. It was all very well of Council passing a motion saying the committee should go on with the investigation; as chairman of the committee, the responsibility of calling the meeting devolved upon me. I should also have had to shoulder all the responsibility which would have ensued from the calling of the meeting."

"The aldermen of council were trying to bluff you," put in a citizen, who was in the Mayor's office while he was speaking.

"It looks very like that," quoth His Worship, calmly, "but I do not intend to be bluffed into calling a meeting which the courts of the land say must not be held."

INVESTIGATION TIED UP.

"The investigation," queried a reporter, "is then probably tied up until the writ, taken out by Mr. David, is argued in the courts?"

The Mayor—"I think that is about the position of affairs. In my decision not to summon the investigating committee to meet I made the statement that any three members of the committee could call a meeting in spite of the Mayor if they so desired. There were lots of aldermen willing to go to gaol in order to have an investigation in spite of the law. Well, let them call the meeting. I want an investigation as much as any man, but I do not want an illegal enquiry."

"You favour a royal commission?" was asked.

The Mayor (with considerable unction)—"That is just it, if we desire a decent investigation there must be a royal commission. There has been a lot of bluffing one way and another. No favours will be shown by a commission appointed by the Legislative Council and we get satisfaction in any other way."

ALD. MARTINEAU'S POSITION.

The mover of the motion to continue with the police investigation in spite of the mandate of the courts, was Ald. Martineau. Seeing that the Mayor would not call the investigating committee together, as ordered by council, Ald. Martineau has given the following written statement to the press as to his reasons in making the now famous motion:

"I would like that my position and that of the council be well understood. This is not a challenge to judicial authority that we have issued. No, we are too anxious for the dignity of the magistracy, and of justice represented by it, to try to diminish its prestige.

"But we ask ourselves whether writs of injunction like those of David's should be a thing of the past, and we answer 'yes.'

"The next thing we ask ourselves is what is the most effective means to have them done away with, and we believed it was to ignore them completely once for all.

"Does not public interest sometimes require the violation of the constitution?

BEING IN CONTEMPT OF COURT.

"Why should we not expose ourselves to a contempt of court to save the municipal institutions? Besides what shall we do, will it be really contempt of court?

"Legally, yes, but morally, no, since our sole determination is to assume for good, the recognition of our municipal rights, that are of capital importance.

"I think our good intentions should pardon us.

"Now, what should we do? If the Mayor has not vetoed the resolution of council, but simply refused to call a meeting, the members of the committee should take on themselves the responsibility to call it.

"If the Mayor has refused to sign the minutes, then everything should stand till the next meeting of council, which shall have to sustain or reject its resolution of January 19."

From the above it is evident the aldermen have no intention of calling a meeting of the investigating committee, now that the Mayor has refused to do so.

WHAT ALD. LAVALLEE THINKS.

Ald. Lavallee, a lawyer, upon being seen as to the refusal of the Mayor to obey the orders of Council and call a meeting, said:

"If the Mayor refuses to sign the minutes of Council I think it belongs to Council to decide the question of difference between itself and the First Magistrate of the city.

"The committee must be sure that the writ of injunction is only a shield to protect certain interested people, if it proceeds, in spite of the injunction, and that it has the support of the city of Montreal, represented by the Council.

"Admitting that contrary to the injunction three members would call a meeting, and the witnesses would decline to attend or to testify, what would be the position of the committee?

"The witnesses might be brought before the Recorder's Court, but would they be condemned in the face of the injunction, and the action of the Mayor?"

In conclusion, Ald. Lavallee said he saw no alternative than to have the charter amended, so that investigations could not be stopped by what he called the caprice of interested persons, who like to interfere in the administration of civic affairs.

Certain members of the investigating committee were seen, but none of them said they were going to call a meeting of the investigating committee now the Mayor had refused to do so. The investigation is not now likely to continue till the reasons of Mr. David for stopping the investigation are heard in the courts.

WINNIPEG VICS' COACH.

President Code, Well Known Here, Thinks They'll Win.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Winnipeg, January 22. — Charlie Johnstone, the crack Rowing Club forward, who probably did more to defeat the Vics in the match the other night, turned out with the Cup challengers to coach them in preparation for Stanley Cup matches. The Rowing Club gives Vics great support in their efforts to lift the Cup. The Vics put in hard practice last night. President A. B. Code, of W. C. H. L., says he believes the Vics will lift the Cup.

COLE-COOKE APPEAL DISMISSED IN COURT

Judges Say Arrest of Lt.-Col. Cooke Was Not Justified.

MILITARY LAW DIDN'T APPLY

The Court Considered, However, That the Minimum Damage Would Have Been Sufficient.

The Court of King's Bench to-day confirmed the judgment of the court below, awarding Lt.-Col. J. P. Cooke, commanding officer of the 1st Prince of Wales Fusiliers, $100 damages, in his action against Lt.-Col. Cole, former commanding officer of the Second Regiment Canadian Artillery, for illegal arrest.

The Court made it very plain, however, in rendering the judgment, that the conduct of Lt.-Col. Cole in the matter had been, in their opinion, actuated by the utmost good faith, and that any disagreeable remarks made about Lt.-Col. Cooke in the report of the General Officer commanding the troops, Major-General O'Grady Haly, could not be attributed to Lt.-Col. Cole.

Mr. Justice Ouimet, who rendered the judgment of the court, expressed his regret that the decision of the Major-General, as well as that of the Governor-General in Council did not make it clear what the military position of the parties was.

The Court was of the opinion that while Lt.-Col. Cole had acted in good faith, Lt.-Col. Cooke was within his legal right in refusing, under the circumstances, to order a voluntary parade. The commanding officer of the regiment is the only officer who could order such a parade, and when the District Officer commanding had told Lt.-Col. Cooke that he need not order out his regiment, and after Lt.-Col. Cooke had told his men in uniform to go back home, and especially when the colonel was not himself in uniform, Lt.-Col. Cole, who was acting only as senior officer present, had no right to order his arrest.

The Chief Justice added that it was with the greatest reluctance that the civil courts interfered in military matters. In the present case he had taken a long time to deliberate before he could bring himself to condemn Lt.-Col. Cole to pay damages. The course of the officer had evidently been dictated by the best of good faith, and the wish to perform an imperative duty which, he believed, devolved upon him by the command laid upon him by the district officer commanding. Unfortunately, however, there had been an error of judgment on his part. This could be the more readily understood when he had to judge in the hurry of the moment, and after incomplete and hurried consultation, whereas the general officer commanding and the Governor-General in Council, after hearing both sides merely gave Lt.-Col. Cooke the benefit of the doubt.

Both Sir Alexander Lacoste and Mr. Justice Ouimet remarked that while they were not disposed to disturb the first judgment they would have awarded the minimum of damages, had they heard the case in the first instance.

PRIVATE PAY-WARDS SHOULD BE OPEN

The Mayor to-day received the following communication, which he sent to the special committee considering the civic hospital question:

To His Worship the Mayor:

Sir,—The Montreal Homeopathic Association, acting on behalf of a large number of taxpayers, employing and believing in the homeopathic system of medicine, desires to present to the City Council the necessity of making the private pay wards of the new civic hospital open to all reputable medical men.

As the Montreal Homeopathic Association has not been asked to join with the four hospitals, chosen in the erection of buildings, it does not feel at present that it has the right to ask the privilege of the public wards, although its members are large taxpayers.

It feels, however, that, in common with all reputable practitioners, not on the staffs of these four hospitals, homeopathic physicians should have the right to attend their own patients, when these patients occupy private rooms and are paying full rates for the same.

Such privilege existed in the old civic hospital under Dr. Laberge. It exists at present in the Notre Dame, Homeopathic and Western hospitals, giving satisfaction.

We, therefore, trust and hope that in drawing up agreements with the various hospitals for the management of the new civic hospital this very moderate and limited privilege will be secured, not only to homeopathic physicians, but to all practitioners of good professional standing. In that way the good will of the entire medical profession will be obtained and the patients will go with less reluctance to a civic hospital, being assured that if desired they may still have the services of their own physician.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) HUGH PATTON, M.D.,
Sec'y M. H. Association.

STANLEY CUP CHANGES—SHACKELL IS MENTIONED AND SO IS PHILLIPS.

The Montreal Hockey team leaves this evening for a trip to New York. The players will be almost the same as those who played last night, but Hooper will be with them, and will probably be in sufficiently good shape to play.

All sorts of rumours are flying about in regard to the changes that will be made on the team before they meet the Winnipeg Victorias.

It is stated, for instance, that Frederick Shackell will be on the forward line, and on the other hand it is stated that Phillips, of McGill, will play his last match with the university team to-morrow night, and that after Friday he will be one of the Montreal combination. To tell the truth, even the Montreal executive are not quite certain what the team will be, and will not know definitely till after the players come back from New York.

For Illtreating a Child.

A woman named Kate Walsh and a man, who gave his name as O'Connor, were arrested last night on a warrant issued by Mr. Marshall, of the Society for the Protection of Women and Children. They are charged with ill-treating a four-year-old child and it is said that there is evidence to show that the woman has been in the habit of sending the child out for whiskey with which she became intoxicated. The child, a little tot that looks as though she were not more than two years old, was in court, and went to the cells with the inhuman mother, when she was remanded for a few days for enquete. The man was also held.

Sidney Tomlinson Recovering.

Sidney Tomlinson, the young man who shot himself in the head a few days ago at the Grand Union Hotel, was reported today by the officials of the General Hospital to be recovering, and if complications do not set in he will be out of danger in a short time.

Consulting Engineer Arrives.

Mr. F. S. Pearson, of New York, who has been appointed consulting engineer of the Mexican Light and Power Company, arrived in the city to-day and is a guest at the Windsor.

SATISFIED WITH RESULT OF VISIT

Lead Miners' Deputation Pleased With Reception at Ottawa.

EXPECT MORE PROTECTION

They Believe That No Opposition Will be Offered by the Paint Manufacturers.

Satisfied that the results of their visit to the East had proved as good as they could be at present, the members of the Lead Miners' deputation, of British Columbia arrived in the city to-day from Ottawa and will leave for the west to-morrow. When seen by a Star representative at the Windsor to-day, the delegates, Messrs. J. L. Retallack, Geo. W. Potter and G. W. Hughes, of Sandon, B. C., stated what they considered was the exact result of their visit.

"We have seen Sir Wilfrid Laurier," said Mr. Retallack, "and nearly all the members of the Cabinet. They admitted that the condition of the silver lead industry was unique and that something would have to be done to grant it better protection. Of course, they would not pronounce what would be the attitude of the Government, but we understood that a higher duty would be granted.

NEW FEATURE OF SITUATION.

"A new feature of the situation has presented itself and it is that a number of petitions were received at Ottawa yesterday from the Mormon settlers in Southern Alberta, asking that a duty be granted the industry because they depended on the districts in which it was situated to secure a market for their produce. The petitions stated that many thousands more of Mormons would find their way into the North-West if they were sure of securing a market for their produce. Their action was an entirely independent one.

"As a result of our conferences with the paint manufacturers, I may state that they will not oppose a duty being granted. Another deputation will come east during the session."

QUEBEC ARCHITECTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECT OFFICERS.

The Province of Quebec Association of Architects held their annual meeting today, at the office of the Association, 112 Mansfield street. The meeting was under the presidency of Mr. Jos. Venne. To-night the architects will hold their annual dinner at the Place Viger Hotel.

The election of officers for the ensuing year took place to-day, and resulted as follows: President, W. E. Doran; First Vice-President, J. P. Ouellet, Quebec; Second Vice-President, J. S. Archibald; Secretary, S. H. Capper; Treasurer, A. H. Lapierre; Council, A. Raza, D. R. Brown, J. Carmichael, J. E. Vanier, Jos. Venne, and E. H. Staveley, Quebec.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER DID NOT ARRIVE IN CITY TO-DAY.

Contrary to expectation Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier did not arrive in the city at noon. The delay of the Premier's visit was caused by the desire of Mr. C. M. Hays, second vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway to have another interview with him with regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway project. Mr. Hays has gone to Ottawa in his private car, for that purpose. Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier will arrive at seven o'clock, and will be the guests of Senator F. L. Beique.

SUIT FOR INSURANCE—LATE G. ERNEST MUIR.

The Montreal Coal and Towing Company, through its attorneys, Messrs. Atwater, Duclos and Chauvin, has taken an action for $8,500 each, against the British Empire Mutual Life Assurance Company and the Metropolitan Life Assurance Company. The amounts are claimed under contracts of insurance on the life of the late G. Ernest Muir, manager of the company, who was accidentally shot some weeks ago. The policies were transferred to the Montreal Coal and Towing Company by the deceased.

THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC PROJECT.

Toronto Globe Agrees With Minister of Interior in Regard to Question of Subsidy.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Toronto, Ont., January 22.—The Globe to-day, in a leading editorial discusses the Grand Trunk Pacific project. It admits the attractiveness of the proposal that the Government should build the road, but says that while the people have the experience of the Intercolonial before them, the Government would not be justified in undertaking the building of a trans-continental railway. The Globe continues: "The country is even more united against the subsidy system. It agrees with Mr. Hill that the time has passed in the affairs of Canada when it is necessary for the Government to subsidize a railway. Mr. Sifton has said that there will be no free gift of land from the public. If we read the signs of the times aright, it is equally determined that there shall be no free gifts of money. If Parliament deems that the project is one worthy of public encouragement the encouragement should be extended in a way that a private capitalist would extend his encouragement. Thus, we believe, or something very similar to it, should be the position of the country towards this enterprise."

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—Information has been received here that the eastern members of Parliament, are taking the views of their constituents, with the aim of demanding a quid pro quo in the shape of increased subsidies to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick lines, should any proposition be made to the house to grant a cash or land subsidy to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

SCHOOL BOY PUGILIST SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES.

Scituate, R. I., January 22.—Death today followed the knock-out blow given Eugene McCarthy, of New York, the "school boy pugilist" by Hugh Murphy, also of New York, in a bout here last night. Concussion of the brain was the cause.

McCarthy received a blow on the body in the 15th round. His head struck the floor with great force and he never regained consciousness. McCarthy was 18 years old, and a pupil at a New York high school.

Rewarded for Bravery.

Toronto, January 22.—Two young lads under 15 years of age, Otto Norton and Edgar Sheppard, have been presented with bronze medals, and Clifton Hilton, another youth, and Police Constable Tinsley with parchment testimonials, by the Royal Canadian Humane Society for conspicuous bravery and presence of mind in saving from drowning at Ashbridge's Bay on December 29th last, a young lad named Geo. Hatey. The drowning boy was brought ashore after much difficulty when Police Constable Tinsley gave a practical lesson of the training the Toronto police receive in the matter of resuscitating persons who have been submerged in deep water.

BOMBARDMENT OF VENEZUELAN FORT

Charged That Germans Disregarded the Rules of Warfare

CIVILIANS WERE NOT WARNED

Both at London and Washington the Situation is Regarded More Seriously Now.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

New York, January 22.—The Evening World publishes a despatch from Maracaibo, saying that the German warships drove the Venezuelans from the Fort of San Carlos and demolished the fort. The village of San Carlos was destroyed by the fire from the big guns. There is much indignation at Maracaibo over the wanton destruction of property and the killing of innocent persons. It is claimed that the rules of civilized warfare were violated by the Germans who failed to give the civilians notice of the bombardment. The Germans captured the Venezuelan gunboat Miranda and now guard the rivers, preventing traffic to and from the Republic of Colombia.

London, January 22.—The bombardment of Fort San Carlos at Maracaibo has been made the matter of diplomatic concern. It formed the subject of American representations to the Foreign Office this afternoon.

Admiral Douglas, who is in command of Venezuelan waters, has definite instructions governing his course in actual hostile action. His abstinence from participation in the bombardment is regarded as significant.

Washington, January 22. — A cablegram has been received here from Mr. Russell, American charge at Caracas, confirming the press report to the effect that three German warships began to bombard Fort San Carlos yesterday. The cablegram does not indicate the result of bombardment, and, in fact, contains no other details.

The Late Mr. W. H. Warren.

The funeral of the late Mr. Walter H. Warren took place at 2.30 this afternoon from the family residence, 12 Ingleside avenue, and was largely attended by friends and acquaintances. Rev. Mr. Winfield preached the sermon. The deceased gentleman was for thirty years connected with the firm of Messrs. Ira Gould & Son, and later was employed as general accountant and auditor. He was sixty-three years of age, a member of the American Presbyterian Church, and leaves a widow and family of grown up children.

ARGUMENT PROCEEDS IN TREASON TRIAL

Counsel for Defendant Makes Plea for Col. Lynch.

SAYS HE WAS PROTECTED

Naturalization Law, He Says, Covers the Case—The Attorney-General Does Not Agree.

London, January 22.—The court in which Col. Arthur Lynch, member of Parliament for Galway, is being tried on the charge of high treason, was again crowded to-day. After reading the deposition of an American, Lewis Handley, who said Col. Lynch had compelled him to take up arms in behalf of the Boers at Glencoe, but who had got off through the intervention of the American Consul, counsel for the defence submitted that the prisoner was protected by the naturalization laws.

He claimed that a man was entitled to become an alien at any time, even after the outbreak of war. Referring to the War of Independence, he said there were at least 20,000 men of British birth in the American mercantile marine, and asserted that there were twenty million people living in America who possessed two nationalities.

Counsel contended that Col. Lynch took up arms in behalf of the Transvaal without secrecy, and under the mistaken belief that the Naturalization Act permitted this. In any event, counsel added, if the court decided the prisoner was a British subject he ought to be tried in Australia, where he was born.

The Attorney-General, Sir Robert Finlay, replying for the prosecution, argued that Col. Lynch procured naturalization for the purpose of fighting against his own country, and added that even could naturalization cover the prisoner's subsequent actions it could not cover his anterior reason, namely, adhering to the Queen's enemies and declaring his willingness to fight against her forces.

Ultimately the court decided that the naturalization act afforded no defense in the present case. Naturalization was preceded by taking an oath of allegiance to the enemy, which was a treasonable action.

The case was then adjourned.

Wheat Goes Higher.

(From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.)

Chicago, January 22.—May wheat opened at 80⅝ to 80⅞c, sold at 80 3-8c, and then rallied to 81⅜c, holding later at 81½c. It closed at 80⅛c last night. The market was more buoyant than at any time since the present bull campaign started, and the majority of the trade was convinced that another Armour "deal" has become an assured fact. That interest was again buying in a way to cause shorts much anxiety, it being estimated that in the neighbourhood of four million bushels were added to the Armour holdings, which are now many times larger than the local contract stocks. The market was shaped mostly by pit conditions, and the news for the day came in for less attention. One item of importance was the big reductions now being made in the estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus. The weather in that country was still reported unfavourable. The Price Current claims that the crop conditions at home are in the main very favourable.

Three Cases of Smallpox.

Three cases of smallpox were reported at the Health Department to-day — two in Point St. Charles and one in Dorchester street. The patients have been removed to the Smallpox Hospital, and the houses have been quarantined.

FEARED COMPLICATIONS IN WALL STREET.

Venezuelan Trouble Proved An Unsettling Factor and Depressed Market.

New York, January 22.—Wall Street.—The Venezuelan situation was the cause of weakness of American stocks in London, which was reflected at the opening here. Declines ran to ½ in some of the leading active stocks, and in Atchison, Manhattan and Brooklyn Transit there were losses of a point. Chicago Great Western B rose ½, and Delaware and Hudson a point. The dealings were on a small scale.

At noon selling became more urgent again, traders were prompted to offer stocks on account of the feeble demand. Colorado Fuel lost 2¾, and recessions ran from 1 to 1½ in leading members of the principal groups, including the trunk lines, coalers, grangers, Pacifics, Southerns and specialties. There was as much hesitancy in pursing the selling movement as the buying, and there were indifferent rallies before noon.

GERMANS BOMBARD VENEZUELA FORT

The Panther Reinforced Returns to the Attack at Maracaibo.

POURED IN A FIERCE FIRE

Residents of Caracas Express Indignation at the Proceedings—What Venezuela Wants.

CARACAS, January 22.—At ten o'clock on Wednesday morning, the German gunboat Panther, reinforced by the cruisers Vineta and Gazelle, resumed the bombardment of Fort San Carlos at Maracaibo. Many of the shots from the German warships had reached the mainland, where they did terrible damage. Popular feeling in the capital and elsewhere is inflamed over the action of the Germans.

A correspondent in a row boat approached to within three miles of the fort at noon. The roar of guns was terrific. The Panther appeared to be not more than 500 yards from the fort. Her guns were being fired every minute. The fort could not be seen, for the clouds of smoke, but it was plain that the Venezuelan gunners were answering the German fire splendidly, and with great rapidity.

At one o'clock in the afternoon, an explosion occurred apparently in the fort, and a denser cloud of smoke covered part of the ramparts. A number of Indian fishermen were intercepted fleeing from the direction of the fort in their dugout canoes. They reported that the smoke seen was from the burning village of San Carlos, which had been shelled by the German ships, and was in flames.

The shelling of San Carlos has created much excitement among the German residents of this port, who have protested against the action of the warships.

WANT BLOCKADE RAISED.

Washington, January 22.—Raising of the blockade is Venezuela's condition precedent to the formal institution of negotiations with the powers for a settlement of their claims. Her representative, Minister Bowen, has presented this proposition to representatives of the allies here, and it has been cabled to the Foreign Offices at London, Berlin and Rome. Little progress can be made pending the receipts of the answers, which it is expected will be in the nature of a joint reply and may not reach Washington for several days.

PENITENTIARY FIGURES.

Over Twelve Hundred People Serving Long Terms in Canada.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22. — The average daily population of Canada's penitentiaries during the fiscal year ended June 30 last was 1,294, a decrease of 111 as compared with the previous twelve months. At the close of the year, there were in custody 1,214 persons. During the year 43 convicts were pardoned, 157 were paroled, 14 died, 3 were removed to asylums, and 1 escaped. Seven convicts forfeited their parole. The one successful escape occurred at Kingston. Of the entire prison population, 858 were natives of Canada, 113 were born in England, 52 in Ireland, 12 in Scotland and 103 in the United States. The remainder came from other foreign countries. In religion 617 were Roman Catholic, 242 Church of England, 18 Lutherans, 57 Baptist, 146 Methodist, and 103 Presbyterian. Deducting revenue, the cost per capita at the several penitentiaries was: Kingston, $307.97; St. Vincent de Paul, $290.92; Dorchester, $263.56; Manitoba, $452.47; British Columbia, $418.45.

Dr. Ami Wins Coveted Medal.

Ottawa, January 22.—Dr. Henry Ami, of the Geological Survey, has recently received a communication from Charles Lapworth, president of Birmingham University, stating that he has been awarded the Bigsby gold medal by the council of the Geological Society of London, for his eminent and useful researches in geology during the past 20 years. The medal is awarded every two years to the geologist having the best known record. In order to encourage work by young men, the medal is only granted to men under 45 years of age. Dr. Ami is the second Canadian geologist to win the coveted distinction, it having been awarded in 1891 to Dr. Dawson, the late director of the survey.

Graduates of McGill.

Ottawa, January 22. — At the annual meeting of the graduates of McGill University the new constitution and by-laws were adopted. The following officers for the current year were elected: Honorary president, Sir Wilfrid Laurier; president, Dr. H. M. Ami; first vice-president, Dr. G. H. Groves, Carp; second vice-president, Geo. C. Wright, third vice-president, Rev. Norman MacLeod; treasurer, W. Gamble; secretary, Dr. Argue; executive committee, Dr. F. P. Cooke, Dr. Ells, B. B. Dowling, A. W. Duclos and J. A. Roberts. The following honorary members were elected: Principal Peterson, Dr. Roddick, Dean Walton, Dr. McEachran, Prof. Cox, and Prof. J. B. Adams, all of Old McGill.

Down on Cake-Walks.

Paris, January 22.—A section of smart Parisian society has formed a sort of informal league to suppress the growing fancy for cakewalks and coon songs. A lady who, the other evening, provided such entertainment for her guests only succeeded in shocking them, the dancing particularly being declared barbarous and disgraceful. Mr. Warren, an American, to whom the introduction of the cake walk is ascribed, says he is delighted, and that there is never opposition to anything that is a failure.

The Canadian Parliament.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—The Cabinet sat yesterday afternoon to consider the estimates. The date of the opening of parliament will be settled next week, and the impression is now general that it will be the last Thursday in February.

Trouble Among Lynn Shoe Workers.

Lynn, Mass., January 22.—The replacing of Knights of Labour men by union shoe cutters caused trouble here yesterday owing to the fact that some of the new men were brought from Rochester, where there was a shut down owing to a smallpox outbreak. The news caused great excitement and the city authorities took steps to prevent an outbreak while the Knights of Labour are seeking an injunction to prevent the boot and shoe workers' union from bringing men in from infected districts. Five men pleaded not guilty to rioting in the police court yesterday and their cases will be heard Saturday.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS ARE IN A FERMENT.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

New York, January 22.—The correspondent of the New York Tribune in London cables:

A great sensation has been created throughout Germany by the action of the President of the Reichstag in prohibiting the Socialist members criticising the strong speeches against Socialism delivered by Isen and Breslau. It is believed that there is a great deal more behind the Krupp affair than has been made public, and that, therefore, the official classes are most anxious that it be not brought up in the Reichstag. The Socialist organ, Vorwaerts has published a powerful manifesto appealing to the German people, and the Socialist committee has summoned thirty-one public meetings for this evening in the Capital alone, for the purpose of agitating the matter.

AN ANTI-TRUST BILL

Was Introduced in United States Senate by Hon. Mr. Elkins.

Washington, January 22.—Senator Elkins has introduced a bill, which covers the features of anti-trust legislation so far as it relates to railways. It contains the provisions which have been recommended by Attorney-General Knox as to the punishment of those who receive, as well as those who give rebates. It provides for the punishment of corporations by fine instead of imprisonment of the officials; also, for injunctions to prevent discriminations. The bill is the result of conferences among various senators, most of them being members of the Interstate Commerce Committee. Its purpose is to separate interstate commerce and railways from other trust legislation.

The bill was referred to the committee on inter-state commerce, of which Senator Elkins is chairman, and it is the intention of the committee to take it up at an early date.

Among other provisions of the bill are the following: The wilful failure to file tariff rates and observe them subjects the road to a fine, granting or receiving rebates subject the corporations or persons to the same fine, the Interstate Commerce Commission can institute suits in the United States courts for supposed infractions of the law. It is the duty of U. S. district attorneys under direction of the attorney-general, to institute and prosecute suits provided for in the act. The bill gives courts power to compel the attendance of witnesses, both carrier and shipper, who are required to answer on all subjects relating directly or indirectly to the controversy; the courts can also compel the production of all the books and papers, but all witnesses shall have the same immunity from prosecution and punishment as now provided by law.

POPE LEO IS WELL.

An Untrue Report Promptly Denied From Rome.

Rome, January 22.—A report which was started in the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday that Pope Leo was dead was speedily denied here. His Holiness is well. On Wednesday he gave a number of long audiences and his callers included Senor Quirno Costa, vice-president of Argentina, and the latter's wife and family. The Pontiff talked with Senor Quirno-Costa for one hour.

Marianna Moroni, who proudly claimed to have carried the Pope in her arms when he was a baby, has just died in her 101st year. Her death was the result of an accident. She was sitting at her fireside alone when her clothes ignited. She was unable to call for help and was terribly burned. The Pope received her in a private audience in October and they were mutually delighted at seeing and talking with each other. The old woman subsequently said: "He is a fine old man, but he is not so well preserved as I." His Holiness remarked after the interview: "She is frail looking for her years."

Mgr. Sbarretti Visits Convent.

Ottawa, January 22.—Mgr. Sbarretti, apostolic delegate to Canada, paid his first visit to the Sacred Heart Convent yesterday. After being presented to the heads of the institution the party repaired to the assembly hall, which was beautifully decorated and where 300 pupils were assembled. An appropriate programme of music was carried out after which an address was presented by Miss Lillian Costello. Replying, Mgr. Sbarretti spoke both languages, giving the young ladies some wholesome advice as to the benefits of education and the higher culture. He also expressed himself as being impressed particularly with the large number of pupils. He presented a handsome medal for competition among the classes between now and June, and gave the pupils a holiday.

Sir E. Barton's Crusade.

Sydney, January 22.—In the face of a discouraging want of response, Sir E. Barton, the Federal Premier, continues his advocacy of a preferential tariff in favour of Great Britain. He states that at the Colonial Conference Mr. Chamberlain plainly indicated that Great Britain was prepared to reciprocate by giving Australian products every possible preference in the placing of Government contracts as well as making tariff concessions. "If we play the filial part," says the Premier, "I am sure the Motherland will not be outdone in generosity."

Spain Makes Startling Claim.

Edinburgh, January 22.—The Spanish Government is suing the Clyde Bank Engineering and Shipbuilding Company to recover £75,000 damages for the non-delivery in contract time of four torpedo boat destroyers. Witnesses on behalf of Spain testified that if the vessels had been delivered in the time specified in the contracts the American filibustering expeditions to Cuba would have been stopped, the rebellion in Cuba suppressed, and there would have been no war with the United States.

Watch Thief Sentenced.

Toronto, January 22.—Pat O'Brien was arrested on the arrival of the Grand Trunk Railway express from Montreal yesterday for stealing watches from passengers on the train during the night. He took two watches, one from H. Morse, Idaho, and the other from John August, of New York. He was sentenced to 14 months in jail.

LONDON INTERESTED IN TREASON TRIAL

Court Room Was Crowded When the Proceedings Commenced

CASE FOR CROWN CLOSED

Result Depends on Whether the Citizen Had Become Naturalized Burgher.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

London, January 22.—The presentation of the evidence for the Crown in the Lynch treason trial was concluded yesterday. It did not differ materially from that presented at the preliminary trial.

The Court room was crowded when the antique formulas were repeated and a special jury was sworn. Nearly one hour was taken up with the reading of the indictment. Bristling with quaint phrases, such as "Seduced by instigation of the devil," the prisoner's counsel moved that the proceedings be quashed and quibbled over the terms of the statute under which the trial had been ordered.

The Lord Chief Justice, Lord Alverstone, brushed the technicalities aside and the case for the Crown was rapidly presented with the proofs that the prisoner had enlisted in the Irish Brigade as one of its leaders and had fought against the British Army.

Col. Lynch was dressed as for the drawing room in a frock coat and silk hat, and was not appalled by the legal record that the only form of punishment for treason was death. The case is an awkward one, in view of the condonation of treason in Cape Colony by the Dutch authorities, and the policy of friendliness and kindness adopted toward Ireland. The defence is based upon the right of this Australian-Irishman to become a naturalized Boer on short notice.

BRAVE HAROLD BORDEN.

Tablet to His Memory Unveiled at Sackville—Parents Were Present.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Sackville, N. B., January 22.—A tablet to the memory of Lieutenant Harold Borden, who was killed in South Africa, was unveiled by Mrs. T. B. Flint, Wednesday afternoon, in Mount Allison University Chapel. Sir Frederick and Lady Borden, T. B. Flint, Mrs. Flint, a number of citizens, two members of Lieut. Borden's class of '97, the faculty and students of the university were present. The tablet is of bronze with a framework of yellow marble. It bears the following inscription:

"This tablet commemorates the patriotism and courage of Lieutenant Harold Lathrop Borden, B.A., '97, who while leading his troops to victory, fell at Withpoort, South Africa, July 6, 1900."

In the marble of the upper part of the frame are carved the well known words from the first book of Virgil's Aeneid, "Semper honor nomenque tuum laudesque manebunt," in Dryden's English: "Your honour, name and praise shall never die."

President Allison presided and Rev. Dr. Read, of St. Stephen, offered prayer.

Dr. Allison spoke briefly, and introduced Rev. J. M. Rice, representing the class, '97. An appropriate chorus was sung by eight students and Mr. T. B. Flint delivered the oration, after which Mrs. Flint drew aside the Union Jack, and revealed the tablet erected to Lieut. Borden, a beautiful tribute to a memory held in sacred esteem here.

Sir Frederick Borden made a few remarks on behalf of his wife and himself in appreciation of the honour done the memory of his son. He revered the circumstances surrounding his son's departure for and subsequent death in South Africa. Sir Frederick and Lady Borden were both visibly affected. The National Anthem was sung and the ceremony ended.

Sir Frederick and Lady Borden left for Ottawa to-day.

DEPORTED A SECOND TIME.

Chinaman's Unsuccessful Attempts to Get Into United States.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., January 22.—The peculiar tactics of Chinamen in seeking an entrance into the United States came out in a case before the court here. A Chinaman, who gave the name of Kee Yen, before United States Commissioner Gray, was arrested in July, 1901, on the Canadian border, west of Malone, and brought to Ogdensburg for trial. A Boston Chinaman swore at the trial that he was the prisoner's "uncle," and that Kee was born in the United States. But the boy was ordered back to China, and deported from San Francisco in January, 1902. Kee, on December 11 last, again appeared on the border line below Malone, expecting to be taken to the gaol at Rouse's Point, so that the trial would come before another commissioner. His arrest was made by Marshal Smith, of Ogdensburg, who brought him here, where full identification was made. Yesterday Lue Hing, a New York merchant, swore he was the prisoner's father, that the boy was not here at the time of the first arrest, and that the prisoner had no Boston uncle. Lue was ordered arrested by United States District Owen for perjury, and committed for the grand jury. Kee will be deported again.

Huntingdon By-Law Defeated.

Huntingdon, January 22.—The voting on the by-law to grant a bonus of $1,500 to the Truro Condensed Milk and Canning Company, of Truro, Nova Scotia, who are establishing a branch of their factory in this village, took place on Tuesday and Wednesday. The by-law was defeated. Fifty-nine ratepayers voted in its favour, with a property valuation of $103,150, and 67 against, with a valuation of $121,650. Seventeen ladies polled their votes — five in favour of the by-law and twelve against.

St. Ignace Presbytery Burned.

Murray Bay, Que., January 22.—The presbytery adjoining the Roman Catholic Church at St. Ignace, was burned yesterday morning, and Rev. Mr. Gagnon was severely burned in making his escape from the burning building. The vicar and housekeeper saved themselves by jumping from a second storey window into a snowbank. The presbytery and contents are a total loss.

Toronto's Gas Question.

Toronto, January 22.—The city solicitor has received instructions from Mayor Urquhart to proceed with the trial of the suit against the Consumers' Gas Company at the next assizes.

His Worship, replying to the letter of the Gas Company's president to-day, expressed pleasure that the price of gas had been reduced even at this late date, but added an opinion that it should have been greater than ten cents. In private conversation, Mayor Urquhart expressed the opinion that if the reduction had been made before the elections, ex-Mayor Howland would have been put in for a third term.

HEAD-ON COLLISION— TWO MEN MISSING.

Station Agent at Newtonville Blamed for Not Turning Semaphore.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Port Hope, Ont., January 22. — A head-on collision occurred a little after 6 o'clock last night, on the main line of the Grand Trunk Railway, at a point four miles west of this station. Fireman Thomas Matthews and Brakeman Wm. Everist, both of Little York, are missing, and the crew of the auxiliary, which is on the scene, expect to find their bodies after the wreckage is cleared away. Neglect on the part of the station agent at Newtonville to hold the east-bound train is given by the officials here as the cause of the terrible affair.

According to the best information available, the engines, both moguls, and pulling very heavy freight trains, were going at a good rate of speed, when rounding the curve at Port Brighton. The orders were it is said, to let the west-bound freight train through Port Hope to pass the east-bound train at Newtonville. The operator at Newtonville, who also performs the duties of a switchman, is said to have failed to turn the semaphore, and, as a result, the collision occurred. Fireman Matthews, and Brakeman Everist, of the east-bound train, are believed to have been killed instantly or burned to death in the fire, which followed the coming together of the two trains. The fire at times threatened to spread to adjoining property, and occasioned much excitement in the neighbourhood. Conductor Preston, of the west-bound freight, sustained some painful wounds about the face and hands.

Thomas Matthews, fireman of the east-bound train, who is reported missing, is 26 years of age, and unmarried. Nothing can be ascertained regarding Everist.

WOLSELEY WILL VISIT BATTLEFIELDS OF NAPOLEON.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

London, January 22.—Lord Wolseley's Mediterranean journey has brought him to Naples, where he has formed an interesting plan for his literary work. He intends to visit the scenes of Napoleon's ill-starred Oriental campaign and obtain local colour for future military articles, possibly a book. As he is travelling by private yacht, he will probably follow Napoleon's track to Malta, and sail thence to Alexandria. He will visit Napoleon's battlefields, Chubreis and Embabeh, from Cairo, and subsequently land in Syria, making the journey from El Arish to Gaza and Jaffa, tarrying at Acre. He will visit the plain of Esdraelon, the famous Hebraic battlefield, where Napoleon won a victory after the disastrous siege of Acre. Lord Wolseley is full of plans for literary work and is in excellent spirits.

SOUTH AFRICAN MINES.

Mr. Chamberlain Suggests a Solution of Labour Problem.

Johannesburg, January 22.—Mr. Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary, received a number of mine representatives yesterday and talked over the labour situation. He agreed to throw open Nyassaland and British East Africa for the recruiting of native labour, and said that if his influence with the Foreign Office prevailed Uganda would also be thrown open. Mr. Chamberlain proposed that the Government should import to South Africa 5,000 natives on condition that the mines import an equal number, the Government labourers to be employed on the railroad and other Government works. He estimated that this step would release 10,000 natives for work in the mines. The mine owners, however, appear to object to any Government control in the matter. They want the open door policy and believe that the shareholders will not sanction the importation of British labourers.

Denied by Canadian Northern.

Toronto, January 22.—The statement of Mr. J. J. Hill that the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern are allied against the proposed Grand Trunk Pacific, is denied by Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the C. N. R., in the following statement: "We have made no alliance with any road, Canadian or American. We have the usual interchanging of traffic arrangements with the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Canadian Pacific, such as are always made with other connecting roads, but there is absolutely nothing beyond that with any of them."

Every Woman Should Know.

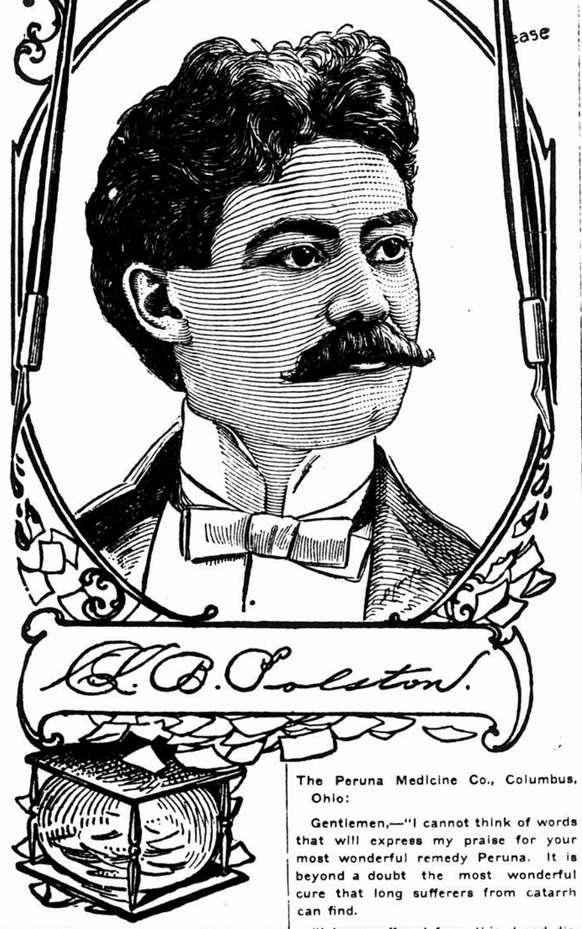
That Prof. W. Hodgson Ellis, Official Analyst to the Dominion Government, has recently made a number of analyses of soaps, and reports that "Sunlight Soap contains that high "percentage of oils or fats necessary "to a good laundry soap."

What every woman does not know is that in common soaps she frequently pays for adulterations at the price of oils and fats. Try Sunlight Soap—Octagon Bar—next wash day, and you will see that Prof. Ellis is right. He should know. 200

HEADQUARTERS
National Prohibition Voters' League.
Office of C.L.B.Polston Treasurer
611 BURLINGTON BLDG.
St. Louis,

The Peruna Drug Mfg. Co.,
Columbus, Ohio

Gentlemen—



C. B. Polston.

THERE are people who object to the use of any proprietary medicine, on the suspicion that spirits may have been used in its manufacture.

Even Peruna has not altogether escaped such criticism. But people who have taken Peruna, who have known of the benefits of Peruna by actual experience know how utterly unfounded such notions are concerning Peruna. When the treasurer of the National Prohibition Voters' League comes out in a public statement to the effect that words fail to express his praise for Peruna, and for the manufacturers of Peruna, it must appear to every candid mind how utterly irrational it is to suppose that any objection could be raised against Peruna from the standpoint of temperance.

Every great success is sure to make enemies. Peruna is a great success, and through jealousy and envy much has been said calculated to prejudice the public against it.

But those who have taken Peruna know better. The vast multitude of people who have been cured of catarrh in some form by Peruna, will never cease to praise Peruna for the benefits received.

Hon. Geo. W. McBride, ex-U. S. Senator from Oregon, from the Dewey Hotel, Washington, D.C., writes: "The excellence of Peruna for catarrh and colds has been so satisfactorily established by many of my acquaintances who have been relieved by its use, that I unhesitatingly endorse its curative qualities."—Geo. W. McBride.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen,—"I cannot think of words that will express my praise for your most wonderful remedy Peruna. It is beyond a doubt the most wonderful cure that long sufferers from catarrh can find.

"I have suffered from this dread disease more than twenty years, and was only induced to try your remedy against my will after having spent hundreds of dollars in every possible channel seeking relief, as some of my intimate friends had been cured by it.

"I am most pleased to tell you that I am to-day a perfectly well man who cannot help but praise the manufacturers for the everlasting benefit I have received from your remedy.

"With hopes for your greatest success, I am,

"Sincerely yours to command,

"C. L. POLSTON."

Peruna has among its friends many of the leading temperance workers in this country, who give it unstinted praise, and do not hesitate to endorse it by the use of the most extravagant language.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

DONATIONS RECEIVED AT CHATEAU DE RAMEZAY.

At the last monthly meeting of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, held Tuesday evening, permission was granted to the Deputy Adjutant General at Halifax to copy certain portraits in the Canadian national gallery at the Chateau de Ramezay. The authorities at Halifax are making a collection of the Generals commanding in Canada.

A number of donations were received, including an autograph letter of John J. Audobon, the great American ornithologist, given by Miss Isabel McCullough, of Truro, N. S. The letter is dated 1837, and is addressed to "Thos. McCulloch, Esq., Pictou, N.S." It gives directions for the shipping of a number of specimens of Canadian birds which Mr McCulloch was collecting for him. A gold medal, worn by Gabriel Cote, as member of La Coterie du Castor (Beaver Club), Montreal, 1796, was loaned the society by Mr. C. A. Laframboise.

Hon. Charles Boucher de Boucherville has donated to the library of the Chateau de Ramezay a fac-simile of the "Atlante di Andrea Blanco dell' anno, 1436," the original of which is preserved in the Marciana Library, of Venice.

No Permit for Coal Yard.

The Pennsylvania Coal Company have been summoned to appear in the Recorder's Court for maintaining a coal and wood yard on Wellington street, without the necessary permit from the city. They say that they are unable, for some reason which they do not know, to obtain the permit and becoming aware that there were a lot of people, in the district in which they desired to open a yard, who were badly requiring fuel and could not get it, they decided to open. For some time past, poor people have been visiting the yard and on paying for coal and wood were allowed to take it away. Mr. Mitchell, of Greenshields and Greenshields, appeared before Mr. Recorder Weir yesterday and pointed out the injustice of the suit. He entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was set for Friday afternoon.

We have left in this beautiful Park four of the finest lots in Westmount, having all the advantages of the city, with fine old shade trees, open space and almost the quiet of country life. People living here do not require summer outings for health. To close we will offer them on most favourable terms.

FOR SALE — ON MT. ROYAL AND PApineau avenues, all fronting on these two avenues, a balance of 45 out of 256 lots. And to close the transaction we will offer them on most favourable terms. We hardly know in the East End of a property that has a better future than this, being at the corner of two of the principal avenues, only two blocks west of the fine, very extensive McCready factory and other prominent buildings, and about a half mile west of the new Canadian Pacific shops, and which is fast growing into a manufacturing and business centre, with largely increasing values. To a prompt buyer there is certainly a fine speculation in this property.

STAR OFFICE, Thursday, January 22, 1903.

The shareholders of the Toronto Railway Company held their annual meeting in Toronto yesterday, and re-elected the former officers. The gross earnings for the year were $1,834,968, an increase of $173,890 over last year. The net profit was $506,442, of which $302,438 was paid in dividends; $70,274 in pavement expenses, and $75,000 was carried to contingent account, and $58,729 to profit and loss. The percentage of operating expenses to earnings were 55.3, an increase of 3.7 over last year, attributed to the high prices paid for materials used in manufacture and repair, the abnormally high price of coal; the increase in wages, and the outlay in prosecuting the digger cases. The sum of $191,656 was spent on capital account, purchasing equipment. The contingent account is a new move to provide against heavy special renewals. During the year 44,437,678 passengers were carried, being an increase of 4,589,591.

Government securities unchanged.

Following is a view of the New York market:—

Although the sap has not yet begun to run up the trees, it is evident the market needs something for "that tired feeling." That the stronger interests are not now trying to move the market up is perfectly evident, or good news would have prevailed and bearish rumours been overlooked. On the recent rise insiders have undoubtedly sold stocks and are now buying them back on a scale downward. The short interest is growing larger as was demonstrated by the increasing demand in the loan crowd. When "talkative" Wall street is bearish, it may not be time to see the bottom of the market, but it certainly is not opportune to throw over legitimate holdings of securities.

The Detroit United shows for the twelve months ended December 31, as follows:—

	1902.	1901.	1900.
Gross earn.	$3,501,754	$3,063,503	$2,589,835
Oper. exp.	1,967,532	1,684,453	1,439,057
Net earn.	$1,534,222	$1,379,050	$1,150,778
Interest	815,004	726,744	638,317
Surplus	$719,218	$652,306	$512,461

Money is flowing into New York from the West in such large volume that it is predicted in banking circles that the surplus reserve will reach $30,000,000 before the end of the first week in February. Notwithstanding all of the discussion of possible exports of gold the idea prevails in conservative circles that such shipments may be deferred indefinitely. Sterling rates continue high, and the rate of Paris exchange on London also moved in the direction of making exports of gold profitable. If there must be shipments of the yellow metal it is evident that there is no time like the present in which to make them. The bankers who dominate the stock market are willing to see a reaction in prices, and had the present setback not occurred would have shipped gold ere this. Whether an export movement begins or not will have little material influence, because the money is here and can be spared very easily.

STOCK MARKET BUSINESS SLOW

Canadian Pacific Affected by the Weakness in Wall Street.

VENEZUELA CREATES FEARS

Germany's Tactics Accepted as the Possible Cause of International Complications.

The correspondents of the Montreal Star in Wall street and on the Chicago Board of Trade report that stocks were heavy, while wheat was strong. In the local market stocks were easier. Sales on the New York stock market yesterday were 506,300 shares.

The renewal of the German attack on a Venezuelan fort caused fears of international complications and induced selling in Wall street, resulting in a heavy tone which was in due time reflected on the local market. Canadian Pacific was the only local stock directly affected. The price was 136 at the opening, and in the early dealings rose ⅝, but later on the weakness in Wall street commenced to be felt and there was a decline to 135¼, closing at noon at 135⅞.

The rest of the market continued dull and uninteresting. Montreal Street continued a strong feature at 279. Twin City was also strong at 120, with Detroit only fractionally changed at 89¼. Richelieu was off ½ at 102, and Toledo Electric was on the heavy side at 35. Dominion Iron was unchanged and dull at 57.

The Bank of England's rate of exchange was unchanged to-day at 4 per cent.

Messrs. J. S. Bache & Co., New York, send the following advices to their Montreal manager, Mr. C. D. Monk:

Americans mostly higher in London. Bank of England rate unchanged. Germans renew attack on Fort San Carlos, three warships bombarding Maracaibo. Garrison making strong defence. Sterling shade easier. B. R. T. Dec. net increase, $68,780. Grain exports yesterday, 1 million bushels. Northern Securities directors confer to-day, said that an extra dividend of half per cent. will be declared. Operating officials of U. S. Steel in session in this city discussing plans for $20,000,000 improvements. Iron Age says some good contracts for structural material may have been placed by railroads.

Messrs. Burnett & Co., brokers, St. Sacrament street, received the following advices over their New York wire:

President Mackay, of Commercial Cable, notified the shareholders that the unissued share capital of the company, amounting to $1,667,700, is offered for subscription at par. Each shareholder of record February 20 may subscribe to one new share for every eight then held. Rights will expire February 20, when subscriptions must be paid in full. Subtreasury statement shows banks gained $2,343,000 since Friday. The Sloss Sheffield Steel and Iron Co. reports for November, 1902, profit from operations, $206,476; monthly proportion of bond interests, $17,500; monthly proportion of taxes, $2,500. Total charges, $20,000. Surplus, $186,476.

J. B. Picken & Co., stock and exchange brokers, received the following New York advices over their private wire:

The market is dull and heavy. The opening was at a lower level due to the new developments in Venezuelan affairs, but trading is again professional, and traders, realizing that the amount of stock for sale at the present moment is limited, soon desisted in their efforts to further depress prices. There was marked firmness in the group associated with Northern Securities on the belief that it would declare an increased dividend. London was no factor. Exchange, 4.87.

Messrs. F. J. Penfold & Co. received the following over their private wire from New York:

The first hours of trading did not bring out any quantity of long stock, but disclosed an apathetic public and very little disposition on the part of large speculative interests to take part in the market. Some Republic Steel common and preferred came out on poor showing in an analysis of the company's position. There were good buying orders in the market for Delaware and Hudson, but very little stock for sale. It was said Rock Island people had made overtures of peace to traders. It was intimated speculation in the future would be conducted with an eye to giving the professional element a chance to profit by it. American stocks sold off in London on the war-like activity of Germany in Venezuela, but the Bank of England's return was strong enough to offset this condition so far as consols were concerned. Canadian Pacific getting at present an average of $5 per acre for good arable land. Twelve industrials advanced .81 per cent. and twenty active railways .38 per cent. Sales to noon, 222,600 shares.

Live Stock Market.

It was reported from the market at the East End Abattoir that the supply of cattle was too large for the requirements, and that as a result prices showed a decline. However, as there were only 550 head offered, it is difficult to see how the market could have been so overstocked. Good to choice were quoted at 4 to 4 1-2c; fair to good at 3 1-2 to 4c; common to fair, 3 to 3 1-2c; common, 2 1-4 to 3c; common bulls and canners, 1 1-2 to 2c.

Offerings of sheep and lambs were large and, keeping this in view, prices were rather higher than usual. Sheep sold at 3 1-4 to 3 3-4c, and lambs at 4 to 4 1-2c, the offerings of sheep being 300 head, and those of lambs being 200 head.

Receipts of calves amounted to about 100, and all sold at from $3 to $5 each.

BUTTER—Trade on the local market is as good as it could be expected to be at this time of year, and with such large stocks of butter in store here. There is also some demand from out-of-town sections, and one dealer made sales of dairies at 18c, and of western creamery at 20 1-2c this morning, for shipment to a near-by point. Everything considered, these were pretty fair prices. Finest Townships creameries are steady at 22 to 22 1-2c in a jobbing way. Receipts continue very light, those reported on the Board of Trade this morning being only 376 packages. It is thought that for some time to come supplies will be even lighter than now. Export trade is badly needed, however.

CHEESE.—Rumours of large sales at large prices are going around, but they are not credited in all quarters. A sale of 500 choicest September Ontarios was made to give back 13 1-4c. This is the best bona fide sale we have heard of, and it was made under favourable circumstances. Townships are now in the hands of a few firms, and are being held at 13 1-2c, but no one would think of paying that figure. It was said to-day that finest Ontario coloured could be bought at 13 to 13 1-8c, and whites at 13 1-8 to 13 1-4c. The Liverpool public cable was steady at 62s.

EGGS—A number of holders appear to have taken a scare, and in order to effect sales they are cutting prices right and left. Sales were made yesterday at 1 to 2c a dozen less than the day previous, and even the prices mentioned below have been shaded in some cases. These figures are for large lots, and jobbers are showing their faith in the market by taking them in and holding the price to their customers firm. It is not at all impossible that there will be a slight shortage before the new stock begins to come in.

Straight lots of late fall-gathered eggs are selling at 16 1-2 to 17c a dozen, candled at 17 to 17 1-2c, and selected at 20 to 21c. Single cases of Montreal limed sell at 16 to 16 1-2c, and western limed a cent a dozen less. Cold storage sell at 15c.

POULTRY.—The market is very firm and the demand is fair. Holders claim that for choice, fresh-killed, unfrozen stock they are realizing the following prices: Turkeys, 14 to 16c; geese, 10 to 11c; chickens, 14 to 15c; fowl, 11 to 12c; ducks, 15 to 16c.

POTATOES—Owing to the extremely cold weather and the impassability of the roads stock is very scarce in the city, and as high as 97c had to be paid for it last night, while broken lots brought $1.15. This is only a temporary scarcity, however, and we do not quote the outside figures. Some of the stock shipped recently was badly frozen, and made a heavy loss for the consignees. Finest stock is selling at 95c a bag of 90 pounds on track. In a jobbing way dealers are making $1.10.

BEANS—The market was firm to-day, and there was more doing. Prices remain steady, primes selling on track at $1.90 a bushel, jobbing lots selling from $1.95 to $2.00.

POTASH—The market is rather firmer. First pots sell at $4.45 to $4.50; seconds, $3.85 to $4; first pearls are wanted at $6.25.

WHEAT MARKETS STILL ADVANCING.

Flour is Consequently Very Firm—Bran Firm and Oats Higher—Benefits of a Call Board.

The Liverpool grain market was stronger to-day. March closing ⅛d up at 6s 4⅜d; May closing ⅛d up at 6s 3⅜d. Antwerp closed ⅛d up at 16⅞ for No. 2 red winter. Paris was steady to ⅛ higher at 22 80 for January and 22 15 for May and August. London reported No. 1 standard, Cala., January, 31s 9d. Walla Walla, white 30s 3d; December, 30s 3d. La Plata, f.o.r.t., January and February, 29s 9d, above average quality.

English weather was cloudy and French fine.

Chicago quoted grain at noon as follows: Wheat, January, 1⅛c up at 77⅜c. May, ⅛c up at 81⅛c. Corn, January, 3-8c down at 47 3-8c; May, ⅛c up at 44⅝c. Oats, January, ⅛c up at 34¼c; May, ⅛c up at 36⅛c.

In his report at the annual meeting of the grain section of the Toronto Board of Trade, the chairman, Mr. C. B. Watts, pointed out that the daily call board had proved disappointing owing to the fact that the large exporters had refrained from making purchases at the public call board, because they did not wish the prices that they would pay to be known to their competitors or the country dealers. Several prominent grain men in conversation with "The Man on the Street" stated that it was deeply to be regretted that the exporters took such a narrow view of the situation. They felt that they were standing in their own light and acting in a manner inimical to the city. One thing which had contributed to make Chicago great had been the establishment of option boards, and the fact that the prices paid and offered were given to the world. Duluth was also coming to the front in this particular. There was no reason why Toronto could not be made a big centre for grain operations if the dealers and exporters would drop secrecy and make the daily call board the medium of their operations.

F. J. Penfold & Co.'s wire from Chicago says: "Wheat opened active and strong on good cables, and reports of more damage in France. Armour reported to be a big buyer. Fair buying for foreign account. Corn and oats firm and quiet.

The New York Journal of Commerce says: "The Manitoba wheat crop of 55,000,000 Winchester bushels (official), instead of all the way from 70,000,000 to 100,000,000, as per early estimates of individuals, is fast disappearing, as 900,000 bushels have been sold in the past ten days by four concerns for the opening of navigation, of which 400,000 at Chicago, 300,000 at Toronto, and 200,000 mostly to go via New York, and very little more is now offered, while brokers in the wheat estimate two-thirds of the crop has already been sold."

LOCAL MARKET.—The market for coarse grains was stronger and demand was fair.

No. 2 oats were quoted at 35¾ to 36c in store, and 31c high freights; peas, 72c high freights; buckwheat, 50c east; No. 3 barley, 42c middle freights; No. 3 extra, 44c; rye was 49 1-2c east.

No. 1 hard Manitoba wheat was quoted at 76c in store at Fort William; No. 1 northern 74c.

FEED—Bran and shorts were steady to-day. Quotations in car lots on track are: Manitoba bran, in bags, $18.00; shorts, in bags, $20; Ontario bran, in bulk, $17.50 to $18.00; shorts, $19.50 to $20 in bulk; middlings, $22 to $23; moulie, $23 to $30, according to quality.

FLOUR.—Both Ontario and Manitoba millers are paying high prices for wheat and as a consequence they are holding flour very firmly.

Quotations in Montreal on track are $3.50 to $3.60 for straight rollers in barrels; in bags, $1.70 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.55 to $1.60; winter patents, $3.75 to $4; Manitoba finest strong bakers, $4.05; patents, $4.35.

ROLLED OATS.—Demand is fair and prices range from $4.10 to $4.20 a barrel, and $1.95 to $2.05 in bags, in broken lots.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Winnipeg, January 22.—Local wheat is quiet, with demand moderate. Prices hold firm on the strength in the American markets. Prices at Fort William for January delivery, 74 1-2c; May, 78c.

Raleigh's Great Oil Gushers

A SECOND BIG FLOW STRUCK NEAR THE FIRST ONE

FIVE PAYING WELLS

Fields Expected to Have Permanent Value—Oil is of Splendid Quality and a Good Illuminant—The Work Now Under Way.

Chatham, January 10.—A little over two months ago Chatham was startled by the news that in Raleigh Township, eight miles south of the city, an oil gusher had been struck that gave the phenomenal flow of 1,000 barrels a day.

After the first month much had been done toward the establishment of what is expected one day to be a permanent oil field, and the discovery of more oil during the past week has started another stir. Four new paying wells have been struck since the Gurd Gusher. These, however, represent but a small amount of the work that is in progress. Early in November there was no sign of the present industry; to-day the farms in the neighbourhood are dotted with derricks and little neighbouring sheds that cover boilers and engines.

Another Big Gusher.

The Gurd Gusher was the first strike, and ITS LARGE YIELD KEEPS IT TO-DAY THE BIGGEST OF THE FIELD. Yesterday afternoon, however, a good strike was made, which would be considered a wonderful find if it had not to compare with the Gusher. Corvell and Gage struck oil last week on Lot 22, Concession 13, the well was "shot" in the afternoon, and after the operation produced a flow that will yield 25 barrels an hour. This is but one-half the capacity of the Gurd Gusher but is greatly in advance of the other wells. A well on Lot 23, Concession 12, produces 30 barrels a day; the well on Lot 18, Concession 13, is producing 20 barrels a day, and one on Lot 20, Concession 10, is producing 20 barrels a day. Yesterday oil was struck on the Mills farm, a little south of the Gurd Gusher.

Oil of Good Quality

The most satisfactory feature of the Raleigh oil is its quality. The gravity is 34 degrees, which is 2 degrees higher than any Canadian oil. As an illuminant it can scarcely be excelled. Expert oil men who have examined the fields express hopeful views regarding their future. At present there are two flowing wells producing 75 barrels an hour between them, and there are three others producing oil in profitable quantities. As to permanency, it is believed that these wells and any others that may be found will compare favourably with any others in the world.

OUR PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

The recent oil discoveries will place the production of petroleum and its products in Ontario in a high place, probably the leading mineral product of the province.

The value of petroleum and products in 1901 was $1,467,949, in 1900 was $1,869,015, in 1899 $1,747,352 and in 1898 $1,970,534.

Above is the result of careful investigation upon the part of one of the leading Canadian newspapers, which during the week ending January 10th despatched one of its special reporters to examine the field. It still further proves the Dominion Oil Co's claim to at least 1,000 acres of oil lands out of the 1,530 acres surrounding their "Gurd Gusher," and constitutes an extremely gratifying endorsement of the company's claims.

The oil we produce is bringing the highest price of any on the North American continent.

A marked demonstration of the way in which the permanency of this field is regarded is shown by the Standard Oil Company having constructed a pipe line from the "Gurd Gusher" to the nearest railroad and now erecting additional steel tankage and pumping stations.

A limited issue of the treasury stock is now offered at the exceptionally low price of 35 CENTS per share, this being the OPENING and the LOWEST price at which a share of the stock has ever been offered.

The present purchasers will be entitled to a dividend of ONE PER CENT. PER MONTH, ON PAR, commencing February 1st—36 PER CENT. per annum on the investment at PRESENT PRICE.

Books Close Monday, January 26th, for January Dividend.

M'GILL SESSIONS MAY BE EXTENDED

Corporation Has Referred the Matter to Board of Governors

DIFFICULTIES TO OVERCOME

Policy of Other Universities and Cost of Living in City Must be Considered.

A meeting of the corporation of McGill University was held yesterday afternoon, when the proposal to extend the sessions in Arts, Law and Applied Science was again discussed. The matter was carried a step forward by the reference of the reports of the faculties and corporation to the Board of Governors, which will now have to take the next step.

The general opinion of the University authorities seems to be that the lengthening of the session will be excellent for various reasons, but that there are many difficulties which must be overcome before the scheme can be carried into effect.

AT OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

One of the principal matters that must be considered is the policy of other Canadian universities, as it would be a serious matter to take any steps without some understanding with other institutions. Then there is the expense of living in Montreal to be reckoned with, and this brings up again the great need of some sort of dormitory system.

The reports sent on to the governors are in a majority and a minority report from the faculty of arts, a report from the faculty of applied science, and a report of the committee of the corporation appointed to deal with them. Of these only the report of the committee of science is published. This recommends that all first year students take four or five weeks' field work in surveying.

"That during the four or five weeks immediately following the close of the present session in April, electrical and mechanical students be required to do such additional work in the physical laboratory in the drawing room and in the workshops as may be necessary to supplement the work already done in these departments during the second year.

DOING PRACTICAL WORK.

"That at the close of the third year, all electrical and mechanical students be required to obtain employment in regular electrical and mechanical workshops, which employment must be of a character to meet the approval of the faculty. Should any students be unable to obtain such employment, they must then take a special course in the university drawing rooms, workshops or laboratories, for which provision will be made.

"That all students be required to prepare summer theses and that the marks awarded for such theses be counted towards their sessional standing.

"That provision be also made that the architectural and practical chemistry students shall do an amount of summer work in their special departments, equivalent to that done by the engineering students.

"If these suggestions are adopted the faculty point out that the session will be lengthened by four or five weeks."

Rev. Dr. Barclay was appointed a member of the Normal School committee, in succession to the late Rev. Principal MacVicar.

Principal Peterson referred in feeling and appropriate terms to the death of Dr. MacVicar, and a suitable resolution in connection was passed.

Defendant Not Responsible.

Mr. Justice Archibald yesterday dismissed the action of Messrs. Kent and Turcotte, curators to the insolvent estate of M. Saxe & Sons, against Hiram Levy. The action was to recover the amount paid by the insolvents a couple of days before their failure to retire notes in favour of defendant, discounted at the Merchants' Bank of Canada. The court found that there was no lien de droit between plaintiffs and defendant, who was responsible only as endorser. It had not been shown, either, that the defendant had taken any part in securing the payment of these notes before the date of their maturity.

Liberal Club in Maisonneuve.

A public meeting was held Tuesday night in Messe's Hall, Maisonneuve, for the purpose of forming a Liberal Club. There was a large attendance, and after considerable discussion it was finally decided to call the new organization the "Club Libéral de Ville Maisonneuve." Messrs. R. Prefontaine, M.P., and Jeremie Decarie were chosen as patrons, J. E. Desilets, barrister, was elected president, Joseph Lauzon, manufacturer, treasurer, E. Paquette, secretary. It was decided to hold a banquet in the very near future to which leading politicians of both parties will be invited.

Suit Against South Shore.

Mr. Justice Doherty yesterday heard in the Superior Court an action by Hon. Raymond Prefontaine against the South Shore Railway Company for $54,000. He claims this amount as money lent to the company at the time of the purchase of the Great Eastern Railway some years ago. The plaintiff is present in court, with his law partner, Mr. J. L. Perron and Mr. E. A. D. Morgan, while the company is represented by Messrs. Madore and Guerin and Mr. A. Falconer.

Robbing Gas Slot Machine.

A man giving his name as Patrick Tierney was arrested Tuesday by Detectives Cowan and Samson on a charge of breaking into a St. Antoine street saloon and stealing about $10 from the gas slot machine. The Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. now have a thorough organization for the capture of the slot machine thieves and their attorneys have been instructed to leave nothing undone to bring about their conviction. Tierney has pleaded not guilty and has been remanded for enquete.

Notice is called to the fact that the lecture will commence promptly at 8.15 o'clock, after which there will be no admittance.

Attacked in a Pool Room.

Last night the ambulance of the General Hospital was called to the corner of Robin and Wolfe streets for J. R. Labelle, 53 years of age, of Berri street, who had been attacked in a pool room and badly beaten. On examination at the hospital it was found that his nose was broken and other wise badly used up.

HER FATHER WAS A DRUNKARD

A Plucky Young Lady takes on Herself to Cure her Father of the Liquor Habit.

STORY OF HER SUCCESS.

A portion of her letter reads as follows: "My father had often promised mother to stop drinking, and would do so for a time, but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day, after a terrible spree, he said to us: 'It's no use, I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee, or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he say its is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are so wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send me one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

FREE SAMPLE and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials, and price sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Address, enclosing stamp for reply, The SAMARIA REMEDY CO., 23 Jordan street, Toronto, Canada.

Also for sale by J. A. Harte's Drug Store, 1780 Notre Dame street.

The Daily Star.

COLUMBIA AND COLOMBIA.

The New York Sun is very indignant with the government of the sister republic of Colombia for the very thrifty spirit it is manifesting in its negotiations with the United States for the transfer of the strip of territory required in connection with the proposed Panama canal. It holds out a distinct invitation to the State of Panama to revolt against the federation to which it belongs, and set up as an independent republic. The Sun does not say so, but doubtless it considers that a better course still would be for Panama to cast in its lot with the land of the Stars and Stripes. Its description of the Colombian patriots who are trying to get a big price from rich Uncle Sam, is quite unflattering; it speaks of them as "gangs of South American blackmailers." But does the New York organ do well to be angry? Is there a country under the sun more disposed to be thrifty in international negotiations than the United States? Is it not a fixed principle in its policy not to allow an atom of unnecessary advantage to any foreign state? Is not more than half the pleasure its citizens derive from their high protective tariff due to the knowledge that it hampers the trade of other nations? What do we read on the very page of the Sun in which this outburst appears? Its own correspondent telegraphs from Washington that Senator Cullom, of Illinois, explaining to the Senate the proposed treaty with Cuba, showed that "while the concessions to Cuba were enough to make her prosperous, the better part of the bargain was struck by the United States." Precisely, where a little is given much is taken. Senator Cullom might have gone on to say that not only does the United States by the treaty get the better of Cuba, but it gets the better of all the world besides; because it requires Cuba to admit its goods on terms which make any competition by other nations wholly impossible. Thrift for thrift, Columbia and Colombia are perhaps not so bad a match.

ST. PATRICK'S CHOIR CHARITY CONCERT A GREAT SUCCESS.

The annual charity concert given by the choir of St. Patrick's Church has been for years one of the features of the parish work, and has been always a marked success. This year was no exception. The concert was held last night, and Windsor Hall proved too small for the number asking admittance, hundreds having to be turned away. The occasion was under the patronage of His Worship the Mayor, who offered a few remarks appropriate to the occasion. His Grace the Archbishop and a number of the local clergy were also present.

The programme was of much more than ordinary excellence, the whole being organized, arranged and conducted most ably by Pro. J. A. Fowler. Those who took part were Miss A. Menzies, soprano; Miss Belle Foley, soprano; Miss Winnie Dempsey, pianist; Mr. Thomas M. Cowan, alto; Mr. John P. Kelly, tenor; Mr. Peter Flood, tenor; Mr. D. L. McAndrew, tenor; Mr. G. A. Carpenter, baritone; Mr. W. J. Walsh, baritone; Mr. J. J. Walsh, basso; Mr. Joseph St. John, violinist; Mr. J. M. Power, 'cellist. There were also Japanese sketches, Gypsies and boy choristers, the chorus consisting of 125 voices. Mrs. Belle Rose Emslie, L. C. M., acted as directress of the sketches, and Prof. Louis Ratto as accompanist. The rendering of the choruses was especially admired, as was also the "Annie Laurie" quartette by Messrs. D. L. McAndrew, G. A. Carpenter, W. J. Walsh and J. J. Walsh. The soloists were also greatly appreciated, and, in fact, every number was of a high character.

The chief feature of the evening was a lecture by Rev. M. J. McKenna on "Music and the Catholic Church." The reverend lecturer is thoroughly versed in the subject, which he handled in an able and eloquent manner.

THE WEATHER.

OPPOSITION LEADER SPOKE AT SYDNEY

Mr. Borden Guest of Honour at Banquet Last Night.

HIS VIEW OF CANADA'S NEEDS

Policy of Adequate Protection is Best for the Country—Newfoundland and Canada.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Sydney, N.S., January 22.—The banquet given here last night to the Liberal Conservatives of Cape Breton to Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, was a success.

It was after 11 o'clock when the speaking began. The toast to Mr. Borden, proposed by the chairman, was received with great enthusiasm. Mr. Borden's speech was listened to with the closest attention, and punctuated with outbursts of applause.

THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY.

After expressing his pleasure at the magnificent reception rendered him, Mr. Borden alluded to the great history of the Conservative party, and to the fact that even greater work remains for it to do in the future. There are problems to be faced and difficulties to be overcome. The Conservative party is not met. From the great West he brought a message of hope and confidence. They are there bravely preparing for the next Federal elections. Mr. Borden then spoke of the strength of the party in Ontario and Quebec, and stated that while the party had not been as successful as could be wished for on a magnificent fight had been made, and there was good hope for the future. "We have every reason to believe," he said, "that the policy of the Conservative party commands itself at the present time to the people of Canada, but whether our prospects are good or bad, we believe in a certain policy as necessary for the welfare and development of this country, and, believing in that policy, whether it receives the support of the country or not, it is our duty to announce and to maintain it.

ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

We have declared ourselves in favour of adequate protection to the industries of Canada and in favour of such adequate protection as would preserve the Canadian market to Canadians at all times in respect of every legitimate Canadian industry."

"Mr. Fielding has recently declared," Mr. Borden went on to say, "that my expression, 'adequate protection,' is a meaningless phase, and that the people of Canada are not to be caught with 'chaff.' If the expression 'adequate protection,' was a meaningless phrase, what does Mr. Fielding say as to the expression 'legitimate protection,' used by Mr. Pirie tone on a recent occasion? Was Mr. Pirie tone seeking to delude the people of Canada with 'chaff'?"

Mr. Borden then criticised the Liberal policy as one of compromise.

THE DUTY ON COAL.

Referring to the coal duties he said that the coal industry of Canada is confronted at the present time with a serious question. The Congress of the United States is removing a duty hitherto imposed on soft coal entering the United States. It is suggested that Canada should meet this step by the removal of the duties on soft coal entering Canada. It did not seem to him that the removal of the duty on coal entering the United States leads to any such conclusion. We are not in this country to follow every, or any change, in the tariff of the United States. We are to establish and maintain that tariff which is best calculated to preserve and develop Canadian industries, and thus to ensure the welfare of our people. Is it to the advantage of the great coal industry of Canada that the duty should be removed? That is the question which must be asked, and that is the question which practical men must answer. For his own part, that question should be answered in the negative, and no such step should be taken as that which has been proposed.

RELATIONS WITH NEWFOUNDLAND.

"Another matter which is of vital importance to Canada," said Mr. Borden, "is that of our relations with Newfoundland. It is of great importance to Canada that Newfoundland should become a part of confederation. I say that not because I think that Canada would profit at the expense of Newfoundland, but because I believe such a union would be of great advantage to both countries."

FAST ATLANTIC LINE.

Mr. Borden made a pertinent reference to the proposed fast Atlantic line and to transportation problems.

In conclusion he predicted that with organization and preparation the Conservative party should have every hope of success in the next contest. Other speakers were A. C. Bell, M.P., C. F. Tanner, M.L.A., and Senator McDonald.

IMPROVEMENT AT ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

Report of Minister of Justice Deals With Recent Work Accomplished at the Penitentiary.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—Speaking of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, the report of the Minister of Justice states: The St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary was for some time in serious danger, owing to an epidemic of smallpox in the surrounding village. Five officers were quarantined at their homes on account of the existence of the disease in their respective families. The prompt and intelligent efforts of the warden and the surgeon proved effectual in protecting the institution, and its inmates.

The farm has been doubled in area by the purchase of 160 acres of excellent land. Larger quantities of produce will be raised for prison use, and employment provided for a larger number of convicts. The land has been prepared for crop, and the fences repaired. The stone work of the north lodge is finished, the roof completed, the floors laid, and the interior fittings well advanced towards completion. In addition to the guard room and armoury, the building contains spacious store rooms, and a storekeepers' office. Stores of all sorts will be centralized here, instead of being scattered in several buildings, as at present. The building will be occupied this winter. Stone was quarried, cut, and built into a commodious shop in which the stone cutters will work. It occupies the south east corner of the yard. The second section of the sewage filter beds is filled in. The brick and tile machinery is set up. The electric light plant has been successfully installed. The installation of the boilers, engine, and dynamos, and the wiring of the buildings and surroundings involved a large amount of skilled labour. It was done by the convicts under the supervision of the chief trade instructor, engineer and electrician. Here, as at the Kingston penitentiary, important alterations are being made in the heating and power systems, which will result in the saving of fuel to the value of several thousand dollars a year.

The water system was installed twenty-five years ago. Its capacity is not sufficient to ensure adequate fire protection. The water mains are, in places, about worn out. Larger pumps and mains are required. Their purchase has been authorized, and they will be installed next summer.

The school instructor's report shows that forty pupils attended the prison schools, fifteen registering for the English and twenty-five for the French language, whilst sixty men were furnished with school books to study in their cells.

Dr. Allaire, the surgeon, presses the urgent need of a new hospital.

GERMAN ACTION CAUSES DISPLEASURE

Great Britain Does Not Approve of the Recent Bombardment.

BERLIN STILL IN THE DARK

No Advices Have Been Received Owing to Lack of Direct Cable Communication.

London, January 22.—The British Government is entirely in the dark in regard to the reason for the aggressive action of the German naval authorities in again bombarding Fort San Carlos, at the entrance of Lake Maracaibo yesterday. The foreign officials here are apprehensive of the result of the bombardment. They say that no decision has yet been reached on the question of the suspension of the blockade. It was hoped that the matters would have progressed further before now, but this was largely based on the belief that Minister Bowen would reach Washington earlier than he did.

The only press comment on this second bombardment appears in the St. James's Gazette, which repudiates the aggressiveness of the Germans, and says it trusts "the Americans will understand that the German proceedings are as little approved by the British nation as by themselves."

Diplomatic circles here are much aroused by the news of the bombardment, but the officials of the various embassies seem equally ignorant as the Foreign Office regarding its cause. The belief prevails that the step taken by the German commander will seriously delay the settlement of the questions in dispute. There are many indications that the blockade will not be raised for the present and that the negotiations at Washington will proceed with, perhaps, a modified form of blockade or some similar arrangement as the preliminary basis.

BERLIN WAS SURPRISED.

Berlin, January 22.—Neither the Foreign Office here nor the Navy Department has received reports of the bombardment of fort San Carlos. At both places it is said no orders were given to bombard the fort. The naval officials admit they knew the Vineta was proceeding to Maracaibo, but they did not anticipate a bombardment. The Foreign Office regrets extremely that it was unable to publish a report on the subject, due to the fact that it is without information, through defective means of communication by way of Curacao, and owing to the German Consul at Maracaibo being cut off from reporting by cable to the authorities at Berlin. The officials admit that the incident is likely to "renew anti-German agitation in the United States," and say they recognize the disadvantage Germany is placed in through the impossibility of getting prompt reports from Venezuela. The Foreign Office does not even know what was the purpose of the Panther in its first action against Fort San Carlos.

The German Government has received a communication from its Charge d'Affaires at Washington, saying that Minister Bowen has seen the representatives of the allies separately. The Foreign Office admits that the subject discussed was the raising of the blockade, but the officials here decline to make any further statement.

REVOLUTIONISTS DEFEATED.

Caracas, January 22.—The revolutionary army under General Riera, which attacked Coro on Monday, was obliged to retreat, leaving thirty men killed and fifteen wounded behind, a considerable amount of arms and baggage and many prisoners in the hands of the Government forces.

THE QUARANTINE LAWS.

Montreal Shipping Men See Mr. Fisher in Regard to Them.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

Ottawa, Ont., January 22.—Representatives of Montreal Steamship Companies, namely, John Torrance, Dominion Line; James Thom, Hamburg American, and Furness Lines; George Hannah, Allan Line, and D. W. Campbell and George Ringland, Elder Dempster Line, waited on Hon. Sidney Fisher yesterday, to ask for changes in the quarantine laws. The steamship men thought that under the Canadian laws there was an undue detention of vessels and passengers, and they cited instances at New York where they claimed far more promptitude had been shown in releasing the vessels and passengers from quarantine than was the case on the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Fisher replied that the rules and regulations on the St. Lawrence and in New York were identical, but possibly United States officials exercised their judgment more leniently than did those of Canada in releasing passengers. He promised to ascertain how the quarantine law was administered in New York and if improvements could be applied to our system without endangering the public health, it would be done.

United States and Cuba.

London, January 22.—Owing to the fact that the Foreign Secretary, Lord Lansdowne, is suffering from influenza his reception of important deputations from the Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom for the purpose of discussing the proposed reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba, fixed for to-day, was postponed.

The treaty was strongly criticized January 16 at a meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, the speakers alleging that it practically shuts out other nations from trading with Cuba.

Colonists for Saskatchewan.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

London, January 22.—The party of 2,000 British settlers destined for the Saskatchewan district of the Canadian North-West will sail from Liverpool for St. John, N. B., by the Elder-Dempster Line, on March 21st.

A "Quaker Tea" Festival.

Many complimentary remarks have been made about the display of the Quaker Tea people at the Park Side on Tuesday night. Apart from the artistic effect of the decorations and of the quaint Quaker costumes worn by the fair dispensers of Quaker Tea, the cheering effect of the amber liquid was much appreciated by the Tobogganers. Many hundreds of cups of Quaker Tea were served and invariably brought forth the appreciation of the recipients.

STRIKE DECLARED ON QUEBEC SOUTHERN

Employees of the Company Want Wages at Fixed Intervals.

SAY REQUEST IS IGNORED

It is Expected That Satisfactory Arrangement Will Soon be Arrived at.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

St. Hyacinthe, Q., January 22.—All the employes of the Quebec Southern Railway Company have gone on strike, because the company, they claim, failed to pay them their wages, which were due on the twentieth instant. The Superintendent urged them to wait a few days longer, when they would be paid, but they refused to do so, as they claim the same thing occurs monthly. All traffic is suspended, but it is expected that satisfactory arrangements will be made to-day, whereby all will return to work. In an interview with employes of the Quebec Southern Railway Company, this morning, they claim that they have been treated unfairly by the company and will not resume work until they can secure fair treatment.

About four months ago, they petitioned the officials for payments on the 20th of each month, and were willing even to allow a few days of grace, but the company refused to acknowledge receipt of petition.

This angered the employes considerably, and when the 20th of this month passed and they received no wages, they decided to go on strike. The Superintendent claims that everything will be settled so as to open traffic on Saturday.

FOOD VS. DRUGS.

A Drug Man's Wisdom That Counts.

It's a shrewd man who, while in the drug business, learns that although drugs are all right in their place, the use of proper food will make medicine unnecessary in the majority of cases.

"Traveling through various towns," writes a drug salesman from Lancaster, Pa., "drinking different waters to which I was not accustomed, eating strangely prepared meals at irregular hours, I contracted dyspepsia, accompanied by nervousness, loss of sleep and consequently loss of energy. I often had the 'blues,' that indescribably tough feeling which makes one look on the dark side of every picture, and see the shadows of life rather than the substance, imagine the thousand calamities that were never in existence, and so render life almost unbearable. Many thousands of men under the circumstances would have resorted to stimulation from drugs or liquor.

"I happened to read an article on Grape Nuts about a case similar to my own and determined to give the food a trial. It agreed with me from the start and the miserable distress that usually came after eating did not manifest itself when I ate Grape Nuts. I asked for this food at every hotel at which I stopped and made it the principal part of the meal. My stomach soon got so that I could eat any kind of rich food in connection with Grape Nuts without it distressing me. My dyspepsia and nervousness disappeared and life looked bright and happy once more. I am now well, healthy, happy and able to work 16 hours out of the 24, and can sleep like a healthy child the other 8 hours.

"My family soon tires of mushy cereals, but we never tire of Grape-Nuts. The children thrive on it and enjoy it. You may publish this if you think it will encourage others to try Grape-Nuts instead of medicine or spirituous remedies that stimulate the system for a time but do not build it up." Three Thieves Sentenced.

The three Street Railway thieves were sentenced to-day. Motorman Reynaud got six months, Conductor Masson, seven and a half months, and Oscar Mongeau, who received the stolen tickets, three months. Masson, it will be remembered, stole a collection box and this was to be used during certain hours of the day for the collection of fares, and it was then hidden behind the controller until there was a chance to get the money and tickets out.

The Academy Attraction.

The merriment created in the Academy of Music by Dan Daly's contortion acts in "The New Clown," reached its climax last night, when one of the audience, unable to suppress laughter, fairly shrieked, raising a perfect roar from the rest of the people present. It is reported about town this morning that even Daly himself smiled; but this is denied officially, because Daly never smiles. The chorus is being strengthened and for the balance of the week "The New Clown" will be seen under improved conditions.
