Traffic tickets account for bulk of all offences

It's hard to get a traffic ticket fixed in Westmount.

Police department figures for December show that of the total court cases for the month, 1,492 were for traffic offences. Only 24 arrests were made on summonses issued for offences other than traffic violations.

The court carried over 770 cases from November, which were added to the 1,516 for December. The disposition?

Convictions, 1,627; dismissals, 3; withdrawals, 1; carried forward into January, 655.

Contrary to what has recently turned out to be a popular belief, the new radar speed check control does not account for a large percentage of traffic tickets. During December, 128 tickets were issued, and 105 caution tickets given.

A total of 153 accidents were investigated during the month, resulting in injuries to 33 persons. 138 of the total numbers reported were traffic accidents, causing injuries to 18 persons. This represents a .09 percent decrease in the daily accident average from December, 1958.

YMCA schedules 'Family Swim', Valentine dance

Last Friday and Saturday, the Westmount YMCA was just a "hive" of activity. The Girls Hi-Y Club had a very interesting meeting during which the 15 girls planned several future programs and service projects. One such is the sponsoring of a "ski trip" for the teenage members of the Y and the local high school.

The special Friday evening program — "Family Night at the YMCA" — was a huge success with over 100 parents and youngsters participating. The "splash-party" in the pool seemed the most popular. Several parents and youngsters who did not swim found the games room, the gymnasium, and the folk dance program a great deal of fun. Coffee and cookies were provided by the Girls Hi-Y Club, followed by movies, a sing-song and a stunt entitled "Know your YMCA," conducted by the staff. The programs conducted were supervised by our "volunteer leaders."

There is a "Family Swim" period every Friday evening at the YMCA from 8-9 p.m. and members are invited to attend.

Westmount YMCA Teens' Club is sponsoring a Valentine's Dance on Saturday, February 13. It is to be semi-formal, with boys in ties and jackets — and girls dressing accordingly. It will be held in the gymnasium and the price will be $1.50 per couple, $1.00 for members. Entertainment will be provided. Tickets on sale at the "Y."

Since 1950 the primary steel mills at Hamilton and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Sydney, N.S., have spent half a billion dollars on expansion programs.

Roslyn H&S constructing new library

Reference work is playing a large part in today's education and as soon as a child is able to read he can make use of books suited to his reading ability and interest. School is the obvious place to introduce him to a library and to train him in its use.

At present, the pupils of Roslyn School are spending their spare time designing book-plates for this purpose. In February, one of these book-plates will be chosen for use in the books which will form the library. A group of mothers sponsored by the Home and School association and with the wholehearted approval of the staff, hope to make this reference library a reality.

The Roslyn Reference Library Committee is appealing to all interested parents and friends to help fill the shelves. The Principal, Mr. W. A. Wilkinson, has selected books which will directly supplement the class instruction of all grades and these will be purchased as funds permit. Donations should be forwarded to The Roslyn Home & School Association, Library Committee, c/o Roslyn School, 4699 Westmount avenue, Westmount. Each donor who gives sufficient money to purchase a book will have his name inscribed on the book-plate. Other donations will combine to purchase expensive encyclopaedias and other types of reference books.

Parents, students to hear panel on high school life

By VALENTINA RAHR

"High school life — opinions of parents, teachers and students" is the subject of a panel discussion to be held at Westmount Junior High on Tuesday, February 9, sponsored by the Home and School Association. Moderator will be Dr. Leyland J. Adams, vice-president of the association. Representing parents, Colin Anderson and Mrs. F. V. Elkin, teachers — J. K. Snyder and Miss Catherine McKenzie, students — Miss Linda Guthrie and Ronald Cohen. The discussion will cover homework, allowances, use of the family car, TV and sleep, and 'after school' activities.

Doyle Klyn, Victoria avenue, Women's Editor of Weekend Magazine, in an interview on Montreal Matinee said, "In our work the weekly deadline for copy must be met, and, although our deadline is not like working on a daily, we still work under pressure to meet it. We also have a tremendous back-log of material that can be put in at appropriate times for deadline, if a regular story cannot be ready on time for any unexpected reason."

Joseph Lauzier, superintendent of the Westmount Park apartments for more than 35 years, has retired and gone to live in the north end of Montreal. "Joe" was well known to many youngsters over the years, and was often visited by them and their children. Mrs. Lauzier intends to take up gardening as soon as the weather permits. In a farewell letter circulated to all the tenants, the Lauziers wished everyone "good luck and good health."

Mrs. Norman Holland, The Boulevard, was judge at the Canadian Authors' Association poetry contest. Fourteen poems were submitted and all received high commendation. Winners announced at last Monday night's meeting were: first, Miss Malca Friedman, for her poem "The scene at Courbevoce"; second, Miss Margaret Furness MacLeod for "Orchard in Empryo"; Poems receiving honorable mention were: Miss Betty Warsaw for "The Newest Testament", and Mrs. Amy Bissett England for her poem "Baby Quartette." Prizes will be awarded at the general meeting, sponsored by the Poetry Group, at the Ritz Carlton Hotel on Monday, March 7, at 8.30 p.m.

The distinguished English pianist Kendall Taylor is a house guest at the home of Mme. Rose Goldblatt, Elm avenue. Mr. Taylor will appear shortly with the Little Symphony.

Special tax may come to meet Metro charge

By LARRY McINNIS

Westmount City Council, in a benevolent mood, suggested that $16,634 be paid as a current expenditure from funds for this year rather than consider the possibility of including it in a special tax to be raised to meet the assessment by the Metropolitan Corporation for the administrative costs of 1959-60.

The Corporation has sent out bills to all municipalities to recover the cost of construction and maintenance to date for the Metropolitan boulevard. Westmount's share is $159,459.60.

Mayor J. C. Cushing, bringing the matter before council, suggested that some thought might be given to approaching the federal and provincial governments to determine whether they would take up some of the costs.

In Cote Saint Luc, Mayor Paris has already made representation to federal and provincial authorities on the theme that the boulevard constitutes a part of the Trans-Canada highway, and is a main provincial traffic artery.

Some other municipalities, notably Ville St. Pierre and Dorval, have protested the assessment, suggesting the boulevard should be made into a toll road. Their idea is "people who use the road, and derive most benefit from it, should pay for it."

The Metropolitan Corporation has a bill pending before the Quebec Legislative Assembly to make mandatory the levying (by municipalities) of a special tax to pay the assessment. The bill was recently withdrawn from the Private Bills Committee and placed before the Public Bills Committee as an amendment to the Cities and Towns Act. No decision has been handed down as yet by the provincial government.

The charge from the corporation was again set aside. It had been introduced to council at their meeting of January 11, but it was decided that the matter needed further study.

If it is necessary for Westmount to levy the special tax, as Cote Saint Luc has already done, it would be under section 5 of by-law 637 — the school tax. The tax at present is .26 mills. In order to make up the amount required by the corporation, and additional 1.79 mills levy

Public relations committee named

Westmount City Council, in what may be a move towards better liaison between it and the citizens and press, has appointed a Public Relations Committee.

The move came at their first council meeting after the general election of January 18, held last Monday night.

The committee will consist of Aldermen P. A. Ouimet, L. W. Bovaird and M. L. Tucker, DSO.

Backler, Tucker sworn — Council goes to work

Newly elected aldermen Michael L. Tucker, DSO, and Irving S. Backler shared the same table at Westmount City Council meeting Monday night. It was the first meeting since the general elections of January 18 when Westmount Municipal Association-backed Tucker and Backler defeated Frank Megan and Mrs. Helena Reusing of the rival Westmount Voters' Association.

Mr. Tucker and Mr. Backler were administered the oath of office by city secretary-treasurer A. W. D. Swan. The usual decorum of the meeting was only briefly interrupted as photographers flashed pictures of the two new aldermen.

Mayor J. C. Cushing, in his welcome to Tucker and Backler, thanked them on behalf of the citizens and council of Westmount.

"I look forward to having your association throughout this year, and in the years to come," the mayor said.

Alderman C. H. Drury proposed that, in accordance with a city by-law, a general committee be set up to supervise the administration of civic departments and to conduct the business of the city. Mayor Cushing was named chairman, with aldermen Backler, Bovaird, Common, Drury, Ouimet and Tucker as members.

Alderman Frank B. Common, Jr. was nominated as acting mayor in the event of the absence of Mayor Cushing during February, March and April. Mr. Common will also act as chairman of the general committee during this time.

The re-division of 22 lots and four part lots into two new lots on St. Catherine street was approved. The lots were sold, along (Continued on Page 13)

Talented Trumpeteer on TV

Billy Walker, singing star with the Unity Boys' Talent Parade for the past several years, will appear on Talent Caravan over CBMT next Thursday evening at 8.30 p.m. The program will emanate from Victoria Hall in Westmount.

The talent parade, featuring junior talent at its best, provides entertainment for the benefit of veteran's hospitals, church organizations, service groups, penal institutions and many other worthwhile establishments. The group was selected to entertain at the International Rotary Assembly last June at Lake Placid, N.Y., and had a return engagement there for a Rotary Convention in October. The successes achieved have resulted in another engagement for Rotary—at Binghamton, N.Y., on April 2.

One of the principal attractions at the Unity variety shows has been Billy Walker, who, in addition to having a fine singing voice, does a very fine job with the trumpet. He has appeared with the Montreal Symphony Orchestra on two occasions, and rarely misses an opportunity to offer his services for the benefit of patients or shut-ins.

Mayor Cushing asked for questions from aldermen on the issue, but informed them that there was no hurry for a decision. The council had no comment to make, and asked no questions.

I wish to thank all those who have written or phoned me regarding the recent action taken against me by the College of Veterinary Medicine. Your sympathetic remarks have cheered me greatly and my only regret is that I cannot answer the volume of letters individually.

WE SAY YOU SAY

How City's business is done in private

EXAMINER readers will see elsewhere in this issue, in reports of the first City Council meeting Monday evening following the municipal election, reference to appointments of the mayor and aldermen to committees.

Some light thereby is shed on why Westmount City Council, with much justification, is accused of conducting entirely too much public business in private.

Unlike so many other municipalities, Westmount does not have small Council committees each with one or more civic departments its responsibility. Instead, each alderman is a "commissioner" of a particular department; but the supervision of all departments is in the hands of a "general committee" consisting of all the aldermen and the mayor, with the acting mayor as chairman.

What happens, therefore, is that practically all business may be classified as pertaining to a department and is dealt with in "general committee," which is another way of referring to City Council sitting in informal, non-public session.

No wonder then that matters which require formal Council action come to open sessions completely cut and dried — so much so that the agenda well might serve as minutes, so little room or cause is there left for variation from what already has been decided behind closed doors.

We note one committee separate from the "general committee" has been appointed, of only three aldermen, Messrs. Ouimet, Bovaird and Tucker, named "public relations."

This new body's functions were not explained at the open Council sitting Monday evening.

But its most useful first task well might be to revamp

Vets should invite James to be member

Sir — The reason we have laws is that the public welfare requires them. Laws are enacted to protect people, the state, and the common good. Laws must be enforced at all times with the basic concept in view, and in the enforcement, commonsense and good judgment are necessary.

I have in mind the recent case of Mr. C. A. James, and the Quebec College of Veterinary Surgeons. Invoking the letter of the law, the college has been instrumental in having Mr. James forbidden to carry on what has become his life's work.

No one will quarrel with the proposition that surgery of the type involved should be carried on only by persons duly qualified. Whether membership in the Quebec College of Veterinary Surgeons is the only way a person can be considered to be qualified is another matter.

Having satisfied the legal aspects of the case, the question arises: Has the basic concept of law, that it must be in the public weal, been preserved? I feel that it has not.

It seems to me that the Quebec College of Veterinary Surgeons, having confirmed their position in law, and thus having served a warning to all unqualified persons that infringing on their territory will not go unpunished, could now very easily turn around and undo what is obviously a great injustice by granting Mr. James an honorary membership, or admitting him to full fellowship, in their organization, with the right to carry on that work for which he is so evidently, and unquestionably, qualified without risk of prosecution.

This will enable Mr. James to continue giving that skillful service to God's creatures that has won him such a well-deserved reputation over the years, and will remove from the minds of many the thought that perhaps the enforcing of law is not always justice.

Yours truly,
Pro Bono.

By-law 311 under which the "general committee" is constituted — possibly eliminate it — and return the public business of the City of Westmount to the more regular, open, public sessions of City Council itself, where such deliberations properly belong.

The price of progress — physical deterioration

"The high price we are paying for so-called progress is the physical deterioration of our nation," declared Dr. Stewart Davidson, principal of Outremont High School and president of the Greater Montreal Branch of the Canadian Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, addressing the Rotary Club of Westmount at luncheon Wednesday in the Victoria Hall on "What price progress?"

"I do not subscribe to the theory that things are not as bad as they appear — I claim that they are worse than they appear," said Dr. Davidson, who was speaking at the invitation of the Health League of Canada in support of National Health Week. "The unfortunate thing about it is that our research program has lagged behind and we find it difficult to present scientifically reliable data to support our claims that Canadian youth are sliding downhill faster and faster and in almost direct relation to the rising standard of living. It is ironical that we should enjoy one of the highest standards of living in the world and yet find ourselves ranked with the poorest in terms of physical vigor and skill."

Dr. Davidson declared "the price we pay in physical debilitation is fantastic." No longer was man required to exert physical strength in order to provide for his existence — he sits back at his ease and luxuriates and statistics show an alarming rate in obesity. Parents are, he said, far too prone to confuse laziness with disability on the part of their children and are too quick to excuse them from physical activity.

"This is the very activity which would have been of most benefit to them if indulged in regularly in the first place," he continued. "It is no surprise to physical educators that those children who most often ask to be excused from physical activity are those who need it most. Physical fitness does not improve as the child grows up. As his normal instincts for play are worn down by the combined pressures of homework and television we notice a corresponding lessening of strength and endurance. By middle-age we are in trouble."

While statistics show that Canadian men are steadily growing heavier for their height and age, the speaker asserted there was no indication that the increased weight is due to anything but more fat — overweight is characteristically associated with a sedentary life.

"The mortality rate of American men from early middle age on is shockingly high as compared to that of men of other western countries," said Dr. Davidson. "The combination of physical sluggishness, a high-fat, high calorie diet and the highest cigarette consumption in the world may well be the deadly combination which prevents half of our 35 year olds from becoming 70. Just as surely as sedentary living diminishes the predisposition for physical activity so does participation in frequent and regular exercise result in an increased readiness for exertion. There is an increased desire for activity as physical condition is raised by regular exercise — the key word is regular."

Doyon featured in organ concert

The supporting cast consists of Agnes Gottlieb, Robin Scott, Eleanor Lefschitz, Cassie Weintraub, Krayna Kagen, Shelly Hays and Jill Brown.

Barbara Veninsky and Rosalind Litvack will be on hand to welcome all the boys and girls.

From the rise of the curtain to the final act there will be excitement and fun. You will meet Jack, Bossy the Cow, the little magic man, Jack's mother, the great giant, the Magic Harp and the hen that lays the golden eggs.

Magic beans will be given to all the children in the audience.

BY THE WAY

IT is a growing wonder that there are any workhours left.

The statisticians reckon that 1,378,428 work-hours are lost every eight weeks through traffic congestion, and several million more per day through the infernal noise of modern life, nervous breakdowns, sheer laziness, inefficiency, imbecility, holidays, strikes, wet weather, and leisure. "The time will come," said a cretinous grandee of the plastic furniture world, "when nothing will be done at all by anybody."

Dorchester, Greene, improvement by-law is passed by council

The complete listing of lots and sub-divisions connected with the homologation of Dorchester street and adjacent areas received the prescribed three readings at council meeting Monday night.

The lengthy list, read by Frank B. Common, Jr., prompted the remark from Mayor Cushing, "If there was ever any doubt about Alderman Common's fitness as chairman of the finance committee, it should be dispelled after he read all those figures."

The homologation will be held pending a decision by Montreal on the area from Atwater avenue to St. Matthew.

The by-law, part of a bill passed by the Private Bills Committee in Quebec, gives Westmount wide powers for providing improvement on Dorchester street. Originally, the suggestion of homologation needed clarification because normal measures would allow the city to take, in many cases, only half a building. This was not satisfactory. Under the new by-law, entire lots can be expropriated.

Widening and improvement of Greene avenue from St. Catherine to Dorchester will also come under the new by-law.

The improved Dorchester street would provide for six lanes of traffic, bypassing the present outlet via Hollowell to St. Catherine street.

Although the mayor ordered immediate promulgation of the new by-law, actual work will not be commenced for an unknown time.

SICK BIRD CLINIC

After 30 years of operating a sick bird clinic in Westmount and vicinity, Mr. Chas. A. James has been forced to abandon his activities in this field on complaint of a member of the College of Veterinary Medicine which, in view of the fact that Mr. James is not a member of that organization, claims that he is encroaching on their rights. Be that as it may, the fact remains that Mr. James, in spite of his knowledge of the subject, has been operating illegally.

The name of the complainant is known to Mr. James, but seeing that he has, for years, been on good relations with the members of the Veterinary Association, it is only fair that he should mention the names of the veterinarians in this area who DID NOT register the complaint: Dr. Chas. Baker, Dr. Harper, Dr. Leatherdale. The above named gentlemen are tops in their profession and Mr. James is glad to count them among his friends.

Mr. James regrets, that by order of the court, he has to abandon his life's work, but in this world one has to bow to the laws of man rather than the will of God.

Chas. A. James

ALEC PARNELL

He may be 78, eyes may be dim, but Alec shoots perfectly anyway

By LARRY McINNIS

On a blustery day last May, a 78 year-old ex army man carried his rifle to the firing point at the range at Mount Bruno. "I don't think I can shoot any more," he said. "My eyes are bothering me."

More than 100 members of the Montreal Military Rifle Association were holding their first official shoot. There was only one perfect score turned in.

Alec Parnell, 1197 Godin, Verdun, in spite of his "bothersome eyes," had done it again, proving that 62 years of shooting only serves as practice towards perfecting technique.

Parnell has been picked for the Canadian Bisley team 14 times. That is the highest honor bestowed on Commonwealth sharpshooters. While competing at Bisley, he made the King's (or Queen's) Final nine times. The Final is a test of skill using standard weapons on issue to the armed forces.

Parnell, a former Black Watch CQMS, still shoots for the infantry regiment, is a member of the Province of Quebec Rifle Association, Dominion of Canada Rifle Association, Montreal Military Rifle Association, and others.

The Montreal Military Rifle Association was formed to provide opportunity to younger marksmen to take advantage of experience of the "veterans" like Parnell and Major Charlie Spencer, ED, CD, the president.

Major Spencer, the training officer of the 11th Signal Regiment and a Bell Telephone engineer, will represent Canada at Bisley next spring. Last year he was the supervisor of the Canadian team.

The association is open to all residents in the Montreal area provided they are members of any active or reserve military group, or are physically unfit for military service. In the first nine months of operation, the membership has grown to more than 100.

Alec Parnell is up for another prize for marksmanship when the association holds its first social gathering Saturday evening at 9 p.m. at the armory of the Royal Montreal Regiment, Westmount. Although probably the oldest competitive marksman in the city, Alec "still does alright."

Shooting practices will undergo a change in 1960 when all rifle associations will introduce to their members the new Canadian FN rifle. The weapon, now on issue to most NATO countries, has been made standard in the Canadian army, active and militia. Of Belgian design, it has a chamber to permit the controlled escape of gas caused by cartridge detonation. There is no recoil when the rifle is fired. It can be used as single action or automatic repeating action.

Fire department gets promotions

Five promotions in the fire department were recommended to council at their meeting Monday night by chairman of the police and fire committee, C. H. Drury. The promotions, which include an increase of pay:

Lieut. K. A. Ryan to acting Captain.

Lieut. J. E. Dubber to temporary Captain.

Fireman W. Bayliss to acting Lieutenant.

Fireman W. G. Black to temporary Lieutenant.

Fireman R. L. Morris to temporary Lieutenant.

Council unanimously approved the promotions. The effective date in all cases was January 17.

City policeman Lachute chief

A. J. Whiteway, 32-year-old newly appointed Police Chief of the Town of Lachute, on Monday this week commenced duties; Chief Whiteway is married with two children, and previous to his being appointed to the local office, was Chief at Morin Heights for a two-year period. Prior to that time, he was with the Westmount Police Department for more than seven years.

While nothing definite has been decided as to the new police department, it is expected that Council will continue to engage officers from Phillips Investigation Bureau for the present, or until such time as a definite decision is reached.

New ice rink is preferred

Although Westmount's artificial ice rink caused wide-spread controversy before, during, and after its construction, Recreation Department figures show that it is preferred by a ratio of nearly eight-to-one over the city's five natural ice rinks combined.

Figures released for December by the department show that 10,769 persons of all ages used the artificial rink, whereas only 1,451 used the five outdoor rinks for skating.

For those who are interested in figures, the department reports that there are 30 children's hockey teams using the rink facilities with a total membership of 431. In December they played 46 games.

6,054 people used the artificial ice rink for hockey in addition to the more than 10,000 who used its skating facilities.

Energy consumption shows big increase

Energy consumption for December, as reported by Westmount's Light and Power department, was 6,304,000 kwh. This represents an increase of 230,000 kwh over the same period last year.

Power demand was 15,00 kw, an increase of 1,000 kw.

Although consumption and demand were higher this year, the load factor of 55.8 percent was 1.7 percent lower than last year's figure.

'Editorially independent'

Examiner has a birthday, — 25 years old this week

Twenty-five years ago this week the first issue of The Westmount Examiner appeared in the homes of Westmount. Friday, February 1, 1935 was the day.

In the lead front page story of that first issue, it said: "Editorially the Examiner is independent. Its only interest is, and will continue to remain, Westmount's interest."

Progress, no only for the sake of progress itself, but for the sake of modernization or expansion, necessitates many changes. The Examiner's head office in 1935 was 5384 Sherbrooke street west. Today we have spacious new plant quarters at 7005 Kildare road and an office at 5135 Western avenue but the policies laid down those 25 years ago have not changed.

The functions and purpose of the newspaper, as laid down in that first issue: "To tell the news; to attack; to defend; to praise; to teach; to advertise legitimate business."

The newspaper had been published since 1928 as The Outremont Examiner. A poll of leading citizens in Westmount showed that the "picturesque city" needed their own paper. They thought that Westmount's biggest news was only good enough for lesser news in Montreal's bigger papers, and Westmount's lesser news was no good at all.

Except for changes brought by the dying days of the depression, and World War II and its aftermath, some of the firms advertising in 1935 are still going strong today. Only service, method of presentation, sometimes location, and of course, price, has changed.

In 1935, tea was 28 cents a half-pound; eggs, 21 cents a dozen; bacon, 35 cents a pound; pork chops, 19 cents a pound. Those prices, it would seem, are gone forever.

The Examiner's first issue was full size (eight columns), eight pages, and sold for two cents. Today it runs from 16-64 pages, and the price is only five cents per copy. For the convenience of readers, and to enhance its presentation, the Examiner appears now in tabloid size (five columns).

Incidentally The Examiner's first advertising manager 25 years ago was Hugh Mount who has held the same position ever since.

But, one wonders if times do change as much as would seem. Today the emphasis is on the lack of physical fitness of Canadians — every day we read about it to some degree somewhere. In our first issue there is a lengthy column devoted to Jiu-Jitsu — the need for physical training was as much in the light then as now.

Also noted was a notice that the Children's Theatre was rehearsing for its second annual performance at Victoria Hall. They were presenting "The Three Wishes." We are happy to say that the Children's Theatre is still going strong.

There is no doubt but the Examiner will continue to maintain its high standards of publication and editorial policy for time indefinite, and we sincerely hope as many of our readers as possible will be watching this very space in February, 1985 when we celebrate our 50th anniversary.

Inspection team checks premises

The Westmount fire department received 43 calls during December, only one of which was a false alarm. 28 of the calls came from police or fire telephones.

The department's inspection team was busy, examining 247 premises and inspecting 177 fire extinguishers.

An interesting statistic — the chimney sweep visited 403 buildings and swept 788 chimneys.

On December 17, 59 members of the department successfully passed their St. John Ambulance first aid examinations.

King and Queen elected for '60

By JOHN WATSON

It wasn't Sadie Hawkins Day, but the girls at Westmount Junior High School knew who they wanted to be king for the year when they cast their ballots for Rick Hand, 9th grade student, at the annual King and Queen Dance last Friday.

The boys had their chance — they picked Kitty Tutsh as queen to reign with King Hand.

There were four candidates for queen — Bonnie Graul, Martha Christmas, Kitty Tutsh and Carol Renaud. Only three candidates were named for king — John Cooper, Rick Hand and Bill Stevens.

Everyone attending the dance, held in the school auditorium, was eligible to vote. Secret balloting took an hour. Votes were counted by the chaperons.

The King and Queen were crowned by "Uncle Burt" Taylor, the school's custodian, and a great favorite of the students.

As prizes for their election, Rick Hand received a tie clip and cuff link set. Miss Tutsh received a bouquet of roses and an identification bracelet.

The Friday night dance was the fourth for the students this year. Music was supplied by the Del Cappos, a musical quintet. Prizes were given for dance contests, and free soft drinks were distributed.

The school entertainment committee is planning four more dances to be held before the close of the school year. The next dance will be at the end of February with music by the Golden Tones.

Vets, judge sympathetic, but birdman found guilty

Although veterinarians and the judge were sympathetic, Charles A. James, a 71 year-old West End pet shop owner, was found guilty of breaking a law by performing an operation on a canary.

White-haired James, owner of Victoria Pet Shop Supplies, has been treating ailing birds for 30 years. He appeared on the verge of tears when Judge Peter Shorteno told him he could not engage in such work without a licence.

The complaint against James was made by the Quebec college of Veterinary Surgeons. It followed his removal of a tumor from a canary in his shop last May 21.

The college's case rested on the testimony of George Brooks, a former detective agency employee. He said he went to Mr. James' shop with a sick canary last May 21. Mr. James removed a tumor from the canary's stomach. The charge for the operation was $2.50.

On the stand, James said he has had a deep interest in birds, especially caged birds, for 30 years. He recalled that years he had been called to Lafontaine Park to treat sick or wounded birds in the zoo there.

For eight years, between 1933 and 1940, he did voluntary work on birds for the SPCA.

"I did the bird surgery while veterinarians looked on," he said. "There was never a complaint."

SPCA, W. N. Dunlop, said that he has known James for 40 years and considers him an expert on birds. On many occasions he has sent birds to him for treatment.

Finding James guilty and imposing a $50 fine, which he immediately suspended, Judge Shorteno said he was faced with a most unusual case.

"It is a case where a man who, out of love of animals, took on work that others who were qualified refused to do," the judge said.

The judge said James was guilty under the statute, but he ruled he should not be punished because treatment of birds had suddenly become more popular know more about the subject than most people, including veterinary surgeons."

During his testimony, Mr. James that many veterinarians still refer bird cases to him. He said he knew of no veterinarians qualified to work on caged birds because there are no textbooks on the subject.

Three veterinary surgeons, Drs. Thomas Harper, J. B. Leatherdale and George Baker, said that James had a special knowledge of birds and they usually referred cases to him.

They said their training 25 and 30 years ago did not cover ornithology except where it involved ailments affecting fowl, such as chickens and turkeys.

The consequences of ChristmasV
By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

A further consequence of the Incarnation follows on the note that we made last week on the fact that Jesus opened up a way to God; in fact, that He provided Himself as the way to God. In one figure of speech He is the Way, in another He is the Door by which men may enter in, and enter with assurance, for him that cometh He will in no wise cast out.

There was a new simplicity in the means of approach to God. Judaism had already taken steps in that direction. The prophets had emphasized the spiritual as well as the sacrificial; the laity had already provided Synagogues for worship over against the Temple.

But Jesus of Nazareth went farther. He offered Himself a sacrifice to end all sacrifices. In place of the animal sacrifices of all the ancient religions He substituted the simplest of material things, water and bread and wine, as means of grace, and left to His disciples a prayer which is so simple and so all-inclusive that any man who believes in God at all can use it.

gion in another way: He abolished distinctions of privilege between the sexes; not in the way which the Gnostics adopted in the second century as recorded in the newly discovered Gospel of Thomas. That strange writing represents Jesus as saying that He would make Mary of Magdala male in order that she might share salvation with the disciples. It was not the distinction that our Lord abolished but the privileges connected with them.

Still further, the Incarnation abolished the distinctions of privilege between the races. It was Jesus' adoption of the strange title "Son of Man" that allowed Paul to declare that henceforth there was neither Jew nor Gentile, Greek nor Scythian, neither bond nor free, for all are one in Christ Jesus. It is the Incarnation that makes them one. It is the universality of Christ that makes the Chinese artist represent Him as a Chinese, and the African as an African. There is no race where He is out of place. Therefore, there is no race which can claim superiority over others. They all share alike in the Christ.

BERNARD PANET-RAYMOND
Ex-Westmount man to important post

A young Quebecer has been chosen to fill one of Canada's important posts in the pulp and paper industry.

Bernard Panet-Raymond, a native of Westmount but now living in St. Catharines, Ont., has been named vice-president, industrial relations of the Ontario Paper Company, Ltd., and its subsidiaries, Quebec North Shore Paper Co., and the Quebec and Ontario Transportation Company. He is the son of Boisdore Panet-Raymond, Q.C., of Westmount, and the former Lizette Painchaud of Quebec. The appointment is announced by Arthur A. Schmon, company president and general manager.

Following studies at St. Leo's Academy, Westmount, he took his B.A. at Collège Jean de Brébeuf, an affiliate of the Université de Montréal. Mr. Panet-Raymond then entered McGill University. His education was interrupted by the war in which he served with the Royal Canadian Artillery and Royal Canadian Engineers. He held the rank of captain on demobilization, following which he resumed his studies at McGill, graduating with the degree of B.Sc., in 1947.

That year he joined the Ontario Paper Company at Thorold, Ont., as a construction engineer. Two years later he was transferred to Baie Comeau Company. Posted to Thorold in 1953 as assistant director of industrial relations, he was promoted to the directorship of that department in 1955.

Mr. Panet-Raymond is married to the former Helene Casgrain, daughter of the late Mr. Justice Pierre F. Casgrain, former speaker of the House of Commons, and Marie-Thérèse Forget. The Panet-Raymonds have one son.

11th Signals plan forming trumpet band

A plan to form a military trumpet band in Westmount was announced this week by Lt. Col. S. E. Alsop, ED, commanding officer of the 11th Signal Regiment, Hillside Army.

A band was formed some years ago within the regiment, but administrative details could not be worked out in time to make its operation feasible. All the instruments, music and uniforms have been kept in a state of good order since that time.

The size of the new band has been tentatively set for 25 men. The band, although a unit within the Regiment, will not be required to take technical training usually associated with the Signals corps. It will be used for parade and ceremonial occasions.

The regiment is seeking volunteers for the new band, and especially a qualified musician or bandmaster to direct the forming and training.

Previously it was thought that a cadet band would be formed, but Colonel Alsop ruled in favor of a proper regimental trumpet band.

Health cases show decline

Despite the "polio scare" which spread throughout Canada, and especially Quebec, during the summer, the total Westmount figure, according to the Health Department, was only 287 cases of all communicable diseases for 1959 as compared with 565 for 1958.

There were 10 cases of communicable diseases reported during December.

The school health program completed 209 medical examinations during the month, plus 599 individual inspections. 35 defects requiring immediate attention were found.

The department also sponsored five teacher-nurse and one parent-nurse conferences during December.

Library members show increase

Membership in the Westmount Public Library increased by 513 from the 1958 total of 13,885. Librarian Kathleen Jenkins said in her annual report. The 1959 total now stands at 14,398.

A total of 192,889 books were borrowed during the year. The library stocks over 100,000 books.

During 1959, the library's 60th anniversary, a new three-storey building, was added, and the old structure was completely renovated. Membership and lending statistics, therefore, refer to only an eight-month period. The library was closed to the public from July to October.

In her report Miss Jenkins said that 1959 was a vintage year for good biographies. There was a continued interest shown in war books, and works of a sociological nature.

Construction active in city

Twenty building permits with an estimated value of $1,988,340 were issued by the Westmount Public Works department during December. Only $275,000 of the total was for non-taxable construction.

41 construction jobs were completed during the month, leaving 96 still in process.

Of the 17 jobs completed by the department's carpenter shop, the biggest was listed as the demolition of the Westmount Athletic Grounds clubhouse.

St. Andrew's elect Kenneth H. Copland the board chairman

Kenneth H. Copland was elected chairman of the board of managers and president of the congregation at the annual business meeting of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount.

Following a brief period of worship conducted by the minister, Dr. D. M. Grant, the retiring president, J. LeRoy Lawson, presided as reports were presented by the various organizations. W. H. Spearman read the annual statement on behalf of the Kirk Session. Mr. Lawson gave the report of the board of managers, and in the absence of the treasurer, Mr. D. W. Sutherland, the financial statement for 1959 was read by Mrs. Sutherland.

The reports indicated interest in the general work of the church has been well sustained and the active membership of the church remains at a satisfactory level. 38 new members were received during the year. In financial matters, St. Andrew's enjoyed another successful year, and the results of the financial canvass for 1959 forecast an encouraging prospect.

The ladies' organizations presented glowing reports. The Woman's Association contributed $1,811 and the WMS Auxiliaries $4,102. The congregation raised a grand total of $107,481, of which more than $37,500 was for missions and benevolences.

Mr. D. W. Sutherland was elected to the office of vice-president of the congregation; J. LeRoy Lawson, past president; Howard Gough, honorary treasurer; R. B. Stronach, honorary secretary, and Michael McBean, auditor for the year. In addition, Cameron Hough, Leonard Martin, Dr. J. Preston Robb, John M. Rudel, and Arthur T. Sargent were elected to serve as members of the board of managers.

LeRoy P. Davis was re-elected chairman of the missionary and church work committee, and Miss Marion Mansfield secretary. D. O. Bremner was made vice-chairman and John R. Minty, treasurer. Miss Alice Eadie, Mrs. Gordon Miller and Mr. Bert McKenzie Davey were appointed to represent the congregation on the committee.

Searfoss, general superintendent of the church school and director of Christian education; Mrs. Clifford Hargreaves, president of the MacGillivray Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society; Mrs. Francis Rhead, president of the Evening Auxiliary; Mrs. C. R. Armstrong, president of the Woman's Association; Miss Grace Alexander, president of the Junior Woman's Association; Miss Diana Falkner, president of the Young People's Union and A. A. McGarry, chairman of the music committee.

In November, 1960, St. Andrew's will be celebrating its diamond jubilee — sixty years of Christian leadership. Plans are underway to make this an outstanding event in the history of the congregation. A special jubilee fund is being created, ($38,000) the purpose of which is two-fold: $10,000 for a special project in one of the overseas mission fields, and specific improvements in the church halls to facilitate the work of Christian education, and the various organizations.

The Hill Beyond

Down at the base, each sees but his own path,
The clouds, obscure his vision of the rest,
But there are many roads, to reach the height,
And those, who nobly climb, shall reach their quest.

As they ascend, the paths are closer drawn,
Above the clouds, the pure, white light reveals,
A holy temple, where all peoples meet,
And all humanity in worship kneels.

Rallye des neiges—1960 to be held Feb. 26, 27

It has been reported that a number of sportscar enthusiasts from the Verdun, N.D.G. and Westmount areas will take part in the Sports Motor Car Club's annual winter rally—"Rallye des neiges"—to be held February 26 and 27.

Between 50 to 100 cars driven by top rallyists from the United States, others are more straightforward — drive 1.8 miles and turn left at the first intersection.

Time controls to check on each car's progress are set up along various points of the route. Demerits are given for: failing to check in at time controls, checking Ontario and Quebec are expected to enter the 700 mile event.

Rallying, a sport designed to test navigational and driving skills as well as car dependability, has been popular in Quebec since it was introduced from the European continent several years ago.

Sportscars rally in teams of three with a crew of two — a driver and a navigator. Contestants are not furnished with the route of the rally before the event; instead the navigator must plot the course from a sea of intricate instructions given out prior to the start. Some points of the instructions are in the form of mathematical formulas, in at time controls too early or too late and opening sealed envelopes provided for the assistance of lost competitors.

Trophies are given to the car and team with the least amount of demerit points.

The "Rallye des neiges" will have its starting and ending point at the

MUSICAL Sharps, Flats and Naturals

Surprising statistics — Part II

By FRANCES GOLTMAN

IT IS NOT UNUSUAL for an examiner in any field to make general statements when speaking on his subject to an assembly of people in the same line. In the early years of the Quebec Music Teachers' Association, we had a number of morning sessions. One of these meetings has always stood out in my memory because it brought to light that even examiners cannot judge certain factors because they do not know details. This is why parents should be enlightened and about music essentials right from the start.

GOING TO SCHOOL and studying properly is work for any child . . . not just "fun" and "play". But it can and should be enjoyable. (When a child cannot do something correctly, it is never enjoyable but discipline must be taught in the earliest stages in order that correct habits be formed immediately). Music lessons should be the same. Learning anything, whether physical or mental, entails concentration and continued repetition to make progressive advancement. Learning cannot be acquired by wishing.

THE MEETING that I am going to tell you about was during the war. Dr. Staton had come to Canada to examine for the Royal Schools across the continent and made the statement that he found most music students very poor in ear-training, sight-reading and their scales were deplorable. This is perhaps true enough but what is the reason? Is it the fault of the teachers completely or the parents or pupils?

OFTEN IT IS LACK of good tuition but there is certainly insufficient time to cover every music subject in the short space of a half hour. And in most cases only once a week! In the thirty minutes the teacher is expected to hear the work prepared and teach a new assignment.

MOST MUSICIANS would agree with Dr. Staton that the work is not up to standards we should expect.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT FACTOR — how much practice does the student do? If two pupils start at the same time and have equal mental ability and one practices 45 minutes and the other does 20 minutes a day, the progress will be proportionate.

AS IS USUAL at meetings of this type, Dr. Staton asked for questions from the floor. Everyone present was in the field of music and each had heard the pronouncements of a man of vast experience. He answered various questions and then Miss Catherine Smith, now retired and living in Richelieu Village, asked in her gentle voice, "Dr. Staton, would you tell us how anyone can teach exercises, scales, arpeggios, studies, pieces, ear-training, sight-reading and have review pieces in a half hour lesson?" Needless to say the well-known examiner was completely stumped and found it hard to reply.

PROPER BASIC TRAINING is a slow process unless there is sufficient practice. Every violin teacher tells the parents the student needs two lessons a week but nearly all parents think one lesson in piano is enough. The teacher cannot perform miracles!

To Be Continued.

SAYING OF THE WEEK: I am of opinion that there are no proverbial sayings which are not true, because they are all sentences drawn from experience itself, who is 'he mother of all sciences.

SAAVEDRA M. de CERVANTES, 1547-1616.

The council approved civic expenditures for December of $419,619.26 including salaries.

Payment of $241.05 was authorized for Miss Marilyn N. Gardner for damages to her car last July 28 in an accident with a city garbage truck at Greene and Western. Alderman Ouimet, in explaining the accident, said that the truck came to a stop at Western "some seven or eight feet from the curb" cutting off a Nash Rambler driven by Miss Gardner. When the light changed, the truck driver decided to turn right, striking the left rear side of the Rambler.

A 20 year-old typewriter in the Assessors' office will be replaced with a new one. The old machine, purchased in 1939, has a value now of only $22.50. Alderman Common said: "It would seem advisable to keep the old machine as a spare."

Rockland Shopping Centre in the rally will become part of the Laurentian winter carnival. Registration headquarters at De Serres. The first car will leave the start-point at 10 a.m. followed at stop and 200 miles point will be two minute intervals by the ball located at St. Agathe where the dance of the entries.

T. LEO'S SPORTS

By PETER RASSENTI and RAY MAYNARD

St. Leo's bantam team have forged their way to the front in their section, riding the crest of a five game streak that featured by a 4-2 victory over Loyola.

They are, sportively speaking, the talk of the school with their hustling style of play and fine spirit. The team, like all Academy clubs, is not too big but they play exceedingly well together and possess two fine ice-generals in co-captains Connie Nucci and Peter Johnson.

The victory over Loyola was a classic example of the drive in this little team. Faced with possible elimination, they journeyed out to the west end stadium, to face not only an unbeaten club but unscored upon.

It was in this setting they proved their mettle, fighting back from the brink of elimination to go on to a well-earned 4-2 win and thus tie up the race by joining the Maroon and White in a first place deadlock.

Coach Andy McGillis is well pleased with his club and feels they have an even chance to go all the way. In the Loyola game it was the co-captains who took charge of the situation.

Connie Nucci dented the twine twice and Peter Johnson once. With these boys playing inspired hockey they led them back into the thick of the race. Diminutive Tony Tyrrell, digging all the way, scored the other goal.

The Saints moved into first place in the bantam section by a 5-1 win over the cellar dwelling Lachine. Nucci picked up two goals while Fred Fisher, Jacques Leblanc and Tony Tyrrell accounted for the remaining three. Nucci now has eight goals to his credit.

St. Leo's seniors came to life at the Westmount artificial rink to post a 1-0 decision over West Hill. The Maroon and Grey club, fresh from an upset win over the league-leading Loyola team, were surprised by the tenacious checking thrown at them by a determined band of Academites who needed the win to escape the cellar position in the standing.

Both goalers were at top form to keep the score. John Bonneau was not as busy as his rival but was Johnny-on-the-spot with a couple of hair-raising saves to protect his first shut-out of the season. It was left to lightweight forward George Spare, enacting the role of giant killer, to score the winning goal with but four minutes left to play in the game.

The defensive play of the winners was superb with Allan Keith and Pierre Leduc forming a bulwark but they were given able assistance from John Rinfret and Mike Johnson who were all over the ice breaking up West Hill plays.

At Verdun Auditorium, St. Leo's hastily-assembled midgets played a 2-2 draw with St. Willibrord. The game, played as a part of the St. Willibrord Carnival, was a ragged affair due to the extremely poor condition of the ice. Billy McNally and George Spare were the lamplighters for the Westmounters.

Ted Lindsay and Dollard St. Laurent, members of the Chicago Black Hawks, visited St. Leo's dressing room prior to the game to chat with the boys. Both players made a big hit with their informal visit.

Also participating in the Carnival was St. Paul's Academy girls relay team, who again skated off with top honors, winning both races.

The triumphant trio on coach Andy McGillis' girls relay team was Sheillagh Taylor, Barbara Donnelly and Ginny Spare. They all turned in fine efforts but it was Ginny Spare in the anchor spot that spelt the difference with her gallant finish.

Lower Canada handed St. Leo's curling crew their first defeat at St. George's Club... Dave Keller's Pee Wee puckchasers nosed out King's School 2-1. John Donnelly and John Lang scored for the Saints.

Westmount cage scores 50-42 win

In a western school cage section encounter, Phil Field's Westmount five disposed of John Rennie 50-42. Mark Friedman, Larry Dallas and Howard Blanchette picked up 15, 11 and eight markers respectively to pace the winners.

Little Harvey Friedman stole the ball from a John Rennie player to score what proved to be the winning basket.

For Ron Sharp's John Rennie squad, which had held a 27-21 halftime advantage, centre Dave Boston was best man on the floor, getting 14 points.

However both Boston and first-string guard Bruce Black fouled out of the game in the third quarter to contribute to the team's demise.

St. Leo's stops Loyola's streak

In a crucial bantam hockey fixture, St. Leo's stopped Loyola's winning streak at four games by recording a 4-2 triumph over Father O'Hanley's boys.

Both teams are now tied for the division lead with 4-1 slates. Loyola blanked St. Leo's 2-0 three weeks ago.

Connie Nucci, whose heads-up style of play has spearheaded Andy McGillis' outfit in its surge to the top, collected a pair of goals. Tony Tyrrell and Pete Johnson added singletons.

Jim Cullen and Peter Quelch received credit for Loyola's tallies. The club had won all four of its matches by shutouts before running into the inspired St. Leo's gang.

Sportsmen's group select award winners for 1959

Dickie Moore, who topped the National Hockey League scorers with 96 points last season for Montreal Canadiens, has been voted professional athlete-of-the-year by the Sportsmen's Association of Montreal.

He will be honored by an award at the annual banquet of the Association, Feb. 17, at Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel.

The outstanding amateur athlete chosen by the Sportsmen's group was also announced.

Cameron Grout, holder of more than a dozen swimming records and championships, while competing in the colors of McGill and MAAA will receive this recognition.

Herb Trawick will be the recipient of a brand new award — the Crown of Gold Trophy.

This goes to the coach or athletic leader who in the regard of Sportsmen's judicial committee, has done the outstanding job this season.

Selection of Moore and Grout should be popularly received. For two straight seasons Moore participated in all his team's games. In the 1958-59 season he not only repeated for the scoring championship; he set a new high points total, with 96, outstripping a record of 95 set by Gordie Howe, of Detroit Red Wings, in the 1952-53 campaign.

Grout, a modest type, exemplifies the truest concept of amateurism, as he has steadily added an array of cups and medals for swimming to his laurels.

Gerry Snyder was chosen as the sports executive of the year and will receive the James Foley Memorial Trophy. As president of the Snowdon Fastball League and director of many boys' activities in the Snowdon district, he has been the inspiration to many fine young athletes.

Certificates of Merit will be presented to Lorne Wilson, sports organizer in the Snowdon area since 1940; Brother Hamelin, leader in juvenile sports activities in Cote des Neiges, and Ian Hume, long a devoted zealot in promotion of track and field sports.

Perry Moss, new head coach of the Big Four football Alouettes, will be guest speaker at the dinner.

This will be his first public appearance, other than press conferences, and Moss is expected to outline his policies for the 1960 grid campaign.
