THE SMOKE OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE

This famous old Kentish tavern, the Leather Bottle Inn, will be remembered as the retreat whither fled the lovelorn Tracy Tupman of Dickens' "Pickwick Papers"

ASSOCIATION...

THE associations surrounding the name WILLS are more than substantiated by the quality, flavour and general excellence of W. D. & H. O. Wills' Gold Flake cigarettes.

Fastidious Canadian smokers find W. D. & H. O. Wills' Gold Flake cool, sweet, mild and fragrant . . . the cream of the crop . . . made in the time-honoured English manner, with their more delicate flavour and finer finish.

The full freshness and flavour are sealed in with cellophane.
