'STAR NIGHT' SCHEDULED AT WESTMOUNT PARK NEXT WEEK

Church Of The Advent Minister Arrives From Barbados

Big Crowd Expected To See Annual Event

"Star night" one of the most popular annual events held in Westmount Park is scheduled next Thursday when twenty or more telescopes will be placed in front of the bandstand.

The event is the annual Star Night of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Montreal Centre. This is the eighth consecutive year that the society, under the sponsorship of the City of Westmount, has given the residents of this and surrounding communities an opportunity of having a telescopic view of the Moon and other celestial objects.

The telescopes in use will be of various types and sizes, all owned and operated by members of the Society. Many of the telescopes of the reflector type were made by their owners. It is expected that several new instruments, completed in this year's telescope making class, will make their debut at Star Night.

DeKinder In Charge

F. DeKinder, Director of Observations of the Montreal Centre, is in charge of the observation program which will include the first-quarter moon, double stars, star clusters and, later in the evening, the planet Jupiter.

In addition to these observations, there will be a program of slides and moving pictures. Through the courtesy of the Province of Quebec Cinephotography Service, two films will be shown — "The Sun's Family" and "Solar Prominences." An illustrated talk entitled "To the Stars and Beyond" will be given by W. H. Birtles, member of the Council of the Montreal Centre.

Question and Answer Period

The question and answer period, which proved so popular last year, will be conducted again by Henry F. Hall, Dean of Sir George Williams College and secretary of the Montreal Centre. Miss Isabel K. Williamson, president of the Society's Montreal Centre, will act as master of ceremonies.

Star Night will be held "rain or shine". In the event of cloudy skies, the program of moving pictures and slides will be supplemented by a special exhibition of telescopes in which the various types of instruments will be demonstrated.

There is no admission charge.

Two Children Hit By Cars

Three persons were injured in accidents in the district last week, two of whom were children, Westmount Police reported.

Five-year-old Howard Greenwood, of 644 Lansdowne avenue suffered bruises and abrasions after he was knocked down by a streetcar attempting to cross Lansdowne avenue near Cote St. Antoine Road.

The child apparently attempted to cross from the east side of Lansdowne avenue to the West corner. He ran out from behind a car and was struck by the tram but escaped serious injury when caught by the front guard of the trolley.

Hit on Bike

Nine-year-old Paul Dubé was treated for an abrasion over his left eye after he was knocked from his bicycle by a passing car at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Mount Stephen avenue.

Driver of the car was James Spencer, 813 St. Philippe street who was charged with imprudent driving by Westmount police.

Spencer was travelling west on Sherbrooke street and attempted to turn north on Mount Stephen avenue when he struck the boy travelling east on Sherbrooke street. Spencer told police he thought the boy would turn up Mount Stephen.

Rose Goldblatt Will Introduce Piano Concerto

What is thought to be the first performance on this continent of the Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in C Sharp minor by Rimsky-Korsakov will be given by the distinguished pianist Rose Goldblatt, 342 Elm Avenue, in a broadcast on Sunday evening Sept. 21 at 10:30 p.m.

She will be soloist with the CBC Little Symphony conducted by Roland Leduc.

This concert was first sketched by Rimsky-Korsakov when he was 38 years old, but was not completed until some time later. It is listed as his opus 30.

Written to be performed as one movement, the work is essentially a phantasy on Russian themes, with a brilliant piano part scored against full orchestra.

This broadcast will mark Rose Goldblatt's second appearance with Roland Leduc and the Little Symphony, having performed last year the rarely heard "Introduction and Allegro Appassionata" by Robert Schuman. The program next Sunday will be heard over the CBC Trans-Canada and French network and over the Mutual Network in the United States.

Local Friendship Club Opening Meeting Oct. 1

The Westmount Friendship Club whose motto is "affability" will hold its initial meeting of the season Sept. 1, Mrs. Frank Binmore, publicity director for the club announced this week. The meeting will be held in the Westmount Athletic Grounds, 4350 St. Catherine street.

The Club swings into its second season of operation with new plans being formulated by the executive and chairman Mrs. H. S. Jacques.

Mrs. Binmore said that euchre, hearts, nines and bridge were the main activities for the men last year. Women members also enjoyed these games and made scrapbooks for children convalescing in the Montreal General Hospital. Tea is served every afternoon during a sing-song and meetings are held from 2 p.m. until 5 p.m. every Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Binmore said that last year birthday parties were held for the members complete with cake, and candies.

Outstanding performers in show business entertained the Friendship Club last year and Mrs. Binmore hopes that more talent will be available this season.

Through the courtesy of the City of Westmount plants were distributed to members of the club in June and will be shown in competition in October.

Westmount Students Enter Middlebury College

One student from N.D.G. and two students from Westmount registered Sunday for the 153rd academic year of Middlebury College in Middlebury, Vt.

They are N. Terence Edgar, 5825 Cote St. Luc Road; Helen Elizabeth Alexander, 716 Upper Roslyn avenue and Susan H. Laratt, 502 Grosvenor avenue.

. . . That Mr. Horowitz, Jr. is an accomplished photographer and has some excellent photos to prove it in his ladies' tailoring shop.

. . . That Mr. Bercovitz, genial proprietor of Grindley's Pharmacy, actually took a short vacation this year. His first in 3 years. Plattsburg was the happy holiday haven. The vacation was short but half a loaf was better than none.

. . . That George Bradner used his time off to take a trip to Cape Cod. Looking for seals, of course.

. . . That Leslie Millett is doing business like crazy with his new method of colour photography that makes the resultant picture look like a genuine oil painting by one of the old masters.★

. . . That the Crossing Guardian at Clarke and Western sure takes his job seriously. Held up all traffic to shoo a lady across the street although school kids are supposed to be his special responsibility.

. . . That the management at the "Y" has to be on the alert at all times. Seems that Communists, under the guise of innocent groups, have tried to rent rooms there to hold meetings on several occasions. Got the boot.

. . . That the Avenue Radio & Television store is doing such a record business that help was needed for the Record Bar. Aid for Pat arrived in the form of a blond in a red suit. Goes to lunch sharp at noon.

. . . That the New Westmount Shoe Repair Store on St. Catherine near Metcalfe has been under new management since last April.

. . . That Ned (Melville Fruit) Wolman has butterflies in his stomach. Doctor says it's nothing serious. Probably just a few old cigar butts that Ned has swallowed during moments of excitement.

. . . That the owner of the gray Chrysler which was double-parked in front of the Bon Ton Tailors on Wednesday A.M. doesn't know how close he came to having his license number reported to the police for blocking traffic.

. . . That there's many a chuckle over the story going the rounds about the minister of the church in England which was left a heap of rubble from the bombing raids. When the war was over, a rich American donated the money to have the church rebuilt. At the dedication ceremony, the minister closed his remarks with the words, "And thank Thee, Lord, for this succor."

. . . That Mrs. Lewis, receptionist at the new Emile Beauty Salon, was formerly associated with Simpson's.

. . . That before the next issue of the Examiner reaches you, Norm Millington of the "Y" will have celebrated another birthday. Thursday the 25th is the big day.

Avon Players To Appear At Westminster Hall

Tickets will be placed on sale tomorrow at the box-office of the Avon Players, 944 Calument Place, Wellington 4416 for their production of William Roos' comedy called "January Thaw". This Broadway laugh hit will open at Westminster Central United Church Hall, Atwater Avenue on October 3 and continue there for 2 performances through October 4.

In the Avon Players presentation of "January Thaw" Donald Davidson will be seen as a harrassed New York writer who spends considerable money fixing up a presumably abandoned house in rural Connecticut and has just nicely moved his wife and three daughters in when he discovers a serious flaw in the ownership title.

The writer's not-so-bright wife, to be played here by Mavis Pritchard had neglected to tell her spouse (or rather, she told him while he was taking a shower) that they not only might expect the Rockwood family to move in with them — but that the Rockwoods had every legal right to do so.

It seems that Farmer Rockwood and his wife, to be played by Alf Glenen and Donalda Clarke, had only temporarily vacated their Connecticut quarters and had been roaming the country in search of their shiftless son, Matt, to be played by Bill Owens. When Mr. and Mrs. Rockwood along with Matt move in on the New Yorkers to claim their property the fun Players production of "January begins! Other roles in the Avon Thaw" which is being staged by Bob Graham and designed by Don Davidson, will be portrayed by Harry Roberts, Peggy Gillespie, Phyllis Glenen, Sheila Dawson, Patricia Copland and Frank Summerton.

Charge Laid Against Man In Mishap

André Pilon who was sent to hospital following an accident here was charged by police with "failing to have a chauffeur's license to operate a truck".

Pilon's truck was hit by an auto driven by Miss Thérèse Gélineault, 571 Grosvenor avenue, at the corner of Cote St. Antoine road and Grosvenor avenue.

Pilon who was travelling east on Cote St. Antoine road told police that the other auto involved in the accident failed to make a full stop at the south corner of Grosvenor and Cote St. Antoine road, before entering the intersection.

WHS Current Events Club Plans Trip To UN Assembly

A record turnout of 106 students appeared at the first meeting of the Westmount High Current Events Club this week to hear former Clubbers Pat Smith, Doug Turner and Dan Wainberg talk on the subject 'Current Events Around the World'.

However, perhaps the news best received was the announcement by Club founder and adviser, J. K. Snyder, that arrangements had been completed for a four-day trip to New York on October 30 for the purpose of viewing the United Nations' General Assembly in session.

Take Chartered Bus

In an exclusive interview with Mr. Snyder, The Examiner learned that negotiations had been concluded whereby Murray Hill Taxis Inc. would provide bus accommodation at a good rate to and from New York while other arrangements for city tours, living accommodations and a visit to an NBC-TV show were also agreed upon. The total cost of the aforementioned (minus meals) will amount to just $25.00 per person !

The complete program of events is as follows:

Thursday, Oct. 30 — Leave by bus from front of school in the morning, spend day travelling.

Friday, Oct. 31 — Spend day sitting in on Assembly meeting; lunch in delegates' dining room.

Friday Evening—Theatre night.

Saturday, Nov. 1 — Four hour tour of New York City; shopping in the afternoon; evening visit to NBC-TV.

Sunday, Nov. 2 — Trip back.

Mr. Snyder pointed out that during a similar trip by the CEC two years ago, the visitors were announced on the nation-wide TV hook-up as being a 'group of students from Westmount High, Toronto, Canada ! !

'52 - '53 Executive

It was also announced that Jane Bartlett had been elected President of the Club with Vice-Pres. Smith Chapman from the grade ten enrolment. Bill Home is Treasurer with Nancy Bacal as Secretary, and Margery Klein acting as Publicity Director.

Bruce McFarlane rounds out the executive along with adviser Snyder.

The Far East was the subject that Pat Smith presented as her contribution to 'Current Events Around the World', while Doug Turner spoke on 'The Americas', and Danny Wainberg, on 'Europe and the Near East'.

Mr. Snyder concluded the interview with a note that the Club would undertake a second trip in the Spring when they plan to take in the goings on at the Parliament in Ottawa; Westmount High being the first Canadian high school to visit the capital in 1949 with a heretofore unsurpassed total of 132 students making the voyage.

CANADA'S WATER SUPPLY

Canada has the largest freshwater area of any country, is second in development of water power although only one-fifth of our potential water power has been harnessed.

Immigrants Have Helped Us W. A. McFaul Tells Rotary

Scarcely a section of Canada has not benefitted from some new enterprise started by an immigrant, W. A. McFaul, district superintendent of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration, told the Rotary Club of Westmount at their weekly luncheon. Mr. McFaul resides at 44 York avenue, Westmount.

In addition to their skills, the immigrants have brought new wealth — $260,000,000 in capital since 1946, he stressed.

"We are increasing the population of Canada by immigration — 762,246 between the end of the war and July, this year — but we are keeping in mind two safeguards," Mr. McFaul continued. "First, the fundamental character of the Canadian people must remain unchanged through immigration; and the absorptive capacity of the country must not at any time be exceeded."

Of the more than three-quarters of a million people who have come to Canada since the end of the war, more than 370,000 were workers, the balance dependents he said.

"In addition to industrial workers, the department has brought to Canada since the war's end 91,000 agricultural workers who have bolstered an industry in which the young people were more and more leaving the country for the city," Mr. McFaul said. "And even those who had no particular skills, who offered Canada only their brawn and their willingness to work have been of importance, for they have gone into the remote areas, they have been mobile and they have helped greatly in providing a labor force for the development resources in these areas."

"We cannot afford, in our economy, to have our agriculture production seriously interfered with. It is too important. There is too great an interdependence between agriculture and industry to permit this to happen," the speaker said.

He was introduced by Bill Allison and thanked by Dave Youngson.

Motorist Does His Banking The Easy Way

A scene that will be oft repeated for the teller of the "drive-in" wicket at the Bank of Montreal's new drive-in branch, which opened for business this morning at Cote St. Catherine road and Decarie boulevard. The customer drives up to the wicket and a motorized tray slides towards him to receive his cheque or deposit. The tray is then withdrawn by the teller who completes the transaction and returns the tray carrying the motorist's cash or bank book. Customer and teller can speak to one another through an intercommunication system. If the teller is away, she can be summoned by a buzzer conveniently placed within the motorist's reach. The wicket, first of its type to be installed anywhere in the world, is constructed of glare-proof, bullet-resistant glass and stainless steel. A canopy overhead protects motorist in rainy weather.

Drive-in Bank In NDG Opens Today

First of its type anywhere in the world, the "drive-in" wicket of the Bank of Montreal's new branch at Cote St. Catherine road and Decarie boulevard opened today, to provide car-driving bank customers with lightning service in the deposit of money and the cashing of cheques.

Pioneer of "drive-in" banking in Canada, the B of M opened its first branch of this type over two years ago in Vancouver. The new St. Catherine and Decarie branch — first "drive-in" banking office in Eastern Canada — was announced soon after, but shortage of materials delayed construction 18 months.

Delay, however, has meant a better "drive-in" wicket for the new B of M office. This unique banking window is the result of years of experience and research on the part of Diebold engineers at Canton, Ohio, and is regarded as the most effective example of this type of bank equipment.

Wicket is What Bank

The wicket is a bank within itself. Motorists can do their banking swiftly and easily without getting out of the driver's seat. Built of stainless steel, the wicket has glareproof, bullet-resistant glass on the front and two sides, thus enabling customers to watch the teller handle their transactions.

To approach the drive-in, the motorist drives through a special entrance on Decarie boulevard and turns left around the back of the bank building. At the wicket, the customer speaks to the teller through a two-way intercommunication system. If the teller should be away from the wicket, a special buzzer on the front of the wicket within easy reach of the customer will summon her.

In handling transactions, the teller extends an automatic sliding tray towards the motorist, who places his cheque or deposit on it. The tray is then withdrawn into the wicket where the teller receives the cheque or deposit, places his cheque or deposit on it, and presses a lever which returns the tray to the customer. After completing his banking business — a matter of seconds — the motorist drives out onto Cote St. Catherine road.

A special feature of the new B of M wicket is recessed fluorescent lighting in the ceiling for night-time banking. A canopy overhead protects motorists in wet weather.

Building Latest Design

The bank building itself is as modern as its drive-in service, with the latest type of low stream-lined counter line featuring sloping bronze screens. Five tellers' wickets ensure fast, efficient service. A large extra-strong vault has been installed at the back of the banking room with two coupon booths conveniently located nearby for the privacy of safe-keeping customers.

Incandescent lighting is recessed into the acoustic-tiled ceiling, while large oversize windows ensure an abundance of natural light. Rubber-tiled flooring to match the soft two-tone color scheme completes the interior of the modern bank building.

Outside, the building is faced with Indiana limestone trimmed with a highly-polished black granite base. The high entrance is finished in aluminum with plate-glass doorways.

Early "Drive-In" 100 Years Ago

The first record of "drive-in" banking in Canada shows that it occurred in the Bank of Montreal more than a century ago. One day during the 1840's Lord Mark Kerr, an officer of the Governor-General's staff, rode his horse into the banking room of the B of M's main office on St. James street. Needless to say, his lordship's action caused quite a stir among the tellers and his fellow-customers, but it was certainly a convenient way of cashing a cheque.

Charlotte Forster To Head MRT Classes At West Hill

Charlotte Forster has been named director of both junior and intermediate classes of Montreal Repertory Theatre School with classes to be held at West Hill. Appointed as teachers were Dorothy Danford and Griffith Brewer.

In an effort to develop more theatrical talent in this city, the M.R.T. will make the new West Hill High School stage one of its two headquarters for persentations this season.

The other will be located at Victoria Hall, Westmount.

Reasons for this major deviation from practise are (1), to replace the old M.R.T. stage which was destroyed in a disastrous fire on March 4, this year and (2), to bring the M.R.T. School of the Theatre inside a high school and to present senior productions in the same school to keep pupils in close contact with the entire theatrical process.

Objective Set

The school sets its objective as, "that of teaching Theatre Art with emphasis on two main principles: encouraging and guiding individual creative expression in close relationship to group work, and that of gaining a sound knowledge of theatre techniques, rather than upon grooming children to appear upon the stage in a single play."

Classes will be given for a 30-week period, commencing September 27 on Saturday mornings for two groups: junior students from 9 to 12 years and intermediate students from 13 to 17 years. A general asembly will be held for students and parents in the high school on September 24, at 4 p.m.

The courses of study are as follows: Junior School (9-12 years of age), the study of voice and body control, pantomime and creative group dramatics, taught at 9:30-11 a.m. by Dorothy Danford; Intermediate School (13-17 years of age), the study of voice and diction, improvisation, dramatic technique, creative pantomime and interpretation, taught at 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. by Dorothy Danford and Griffith Brewer.

Courses of Study

The first play to be put on this season will be "Travellers Joy" by Arthur Macrae. It opens Oct. 14 at Victoria Hall.

West Hill's initiation to M.R.T. will be made with productions on Oct. 21 and 22.

Dr. E. M. Crawford Outlines Hospital Radiographer Course

One of the most interesting careers for young men and women today is that of a technician or radiographer in the department of radiology of a general hospital, Dr. E. M. Crawford, director of the school and radiologist of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, said yesterday in an interview.

The Queen Elizabeth Hospital is currently staging a campaign to raise $101,500, and Montrealers, particularly those living in the west end of the city, have been asked to support the work being carried on by the Marlowe avenue hospital.

Dr. Crawford explained that all types of patients come to the X-ray department at one time or another, from those with minor ailments or injuries to the more difficult cases requiring diagnosis. Since radiology is a rapidly expanding specialty, new ways of diagnosis and treatment are constantly being developed.

There is at present a steady demand for well-trained radiographers and especially for those who show special aptitude and interest, for it is from the latter that the chief radiographers of X-ray departments are selected.

Curriculum Published

To co-ordinate the training of radiographers in Canada, the Canadian Society of Radiological Technicians has published a curriculum in which the course of training has been carefully detailed and is available to all hospitals undertaking this training. The Associated Hospitals of Montreal X-ray Technicians Training School has adopted this curriculum as a basis of training but is also prepared to offer additional subjects not mentioned in the curriculum, especially in radiotherapeutic techniques, Dr. Crawford said.

In this School are joined the radiological staffs of five hospitals of Montreal; the Children's Memorial Hospital, the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital, the Jewish General Hospital, The Queen Elizabeth Hospital and St. Mary's Hospital. This joint effort, now in its fourth year, has proven very successful and all students have passed the examination for registered technicians and have secured positions in the X-ray departments of hospitals in this city or with radiologists practicing privately.

The demand for trained X-ray technicians, or radiographers, is such that the prospective students can be assured of satisfactory positions once they obtain this certificate of registered technicians, which is awarded to candidates passing the examinations set by the Canadian Society of Radiological Technicians, Dr. Crawford stated.

Two-year Course

The course requires two years of theoretical and practical studies, and in this school there are junior and senior students. The junior students are assigned to one hospital for their practical work for one year. This is supplemented by lectures in administration, dark room technique, anatomy, physiology, physics as applied to X-ray and radium, etc.

In the second year the seniors take lectures in more advanced work and rotate for periods of two to three months in the X-ray departments of the five hospitals mentioned above. This affords the student experience with the work in a number of hospitals, with different types of machines and especially in the radiography of infants and children.

Toward the end of the first year training, those students showing special ability are asked to work in the summer, replacing the regular technicians who may be away on holidays during the months of June, July and part of August. For this they receive a small salary that enables them to earn something toward the cost of their course. Textbooks are supplied at cost prices and the students are encouraged to make use of the libraries and periodicals that exist in the X-ray departments of each hospital.

The school year begins and ends on Sept. 15 of each year, and the students have one month's holiday a year, usually from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15.

The number of students that can be accepted is limited and application can be made to Dr. E. M. Crawford, Director of the School, Queen Elizabeth Hospital of Montreal or to the following radiologists- Dr. A. Bernstein, Queen Elizabeth Hospital; Dr. J. S. Dunbar, The Children's Memorial Hospital; Dr. J. P. Jean, The Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital; Dr. J. C. Lanthier and Dr. P. Simard, St. Mary's Hospital, and Dr. I. Sedlezky, Jewish General Hospital.

Entertainment Six Nights A Week At Queen Mary Veterans Hospital Is Taxing Job Of Harry Rattigan

By JOHN O'MEARA

Harry Rattigan is quite a hero to the permanently disabled veterans of the Queen Mary Hospital. He is the man who keeps them in contact with the outside world through his work as recreational supervisor.

Such outstanding performers in show business as Bob Hope, Eddie Cantor and Barbara Ann Scott, to name only a few, have entertained at the hospital through the efforts of the recreation department.

"Entertainment is the life blood of these veterans", Mr. Rattigan told The Monitor.

"It must be at least a dozen times daily that the vets stop to ask me what we have lined-up", he said. "What's on the agenda tonight, Harry?" they ask.

Mr. Rattigan recently succeeded Alec Oneson as supervisor and runs the recreation program assisted by Miss D. Migneault and Adrian Boulay, stage and booth technician.

Mr. Rattigan outlined the benefit of recreation as he prepared the distribution of bouquets among the patients. Miss Migneault said that 22 wards would be brightened by the flowers, donated by the Mount Bruno Floral Company.

Groups Donate Flowers

"Flowers help brighten the lives of these men", Miss Migneault said. "We receive donations from the Montreal Horticultural Society, NDG Garden Club, Diggers and Weeders of Montreal and Pinkerton's, to name only a few."

There is entertainment every night of the week except Sunday at the hospital with a special show given to TB patients. The auditorium in the hospital has a seating capacity of 600.

Last year through the efforts of the recreation program some 142 films were shown, 43 stage shows presented, 19 outings and 32 bingos held.

The Forum allows 50 patients admittance to the boxing and wrestling matches. The Montreal Baseball Club admits any number of veterans into ball games during summer months.

Social Agencies Aid

Social agencies throughout the City aid the hospital by supplying vets with books, candies, magazines and entertainment.

An indefatigable group helping to entertain these veterans is the Verdun Optimist Club who have presented 18 shows at the hospital to date. This organization is headed by Tom Blythe.

"Harry" singled for special thanks the performance held at the hospital Sept. 10 by the Continental Revue, sponsored by the Calanthe Temple No. 1 Pythian Sisters. The Knights of Pythias helped the Continental Revue in this effort by passing out refreshments.

The recreation department is also in charge of all sports activities at the hospital — this summer the vets enjoyed volley-ball and baseball every afternoon.

Mr. Rattigan was formerly with the Rehabilitation of Psychiatric and Neuro-Surgery patients at Basing Stoke, Hospital, RCAMC, England.

Railway freight rates in Canada are slightly more than 40% higher than before the war, while costs of running the railways has risen more than 100% in that time.

Make Lunch An Event, Enjoy Renewed Energy

Many people who find it necessary to eat lunch at the office or place of work make a hurried sandwich to serve as the meal, after which they get right back on the job. It is much better for the digestion and the general health to eat a nourishing lunch, with fresh fruit and vegetables and milk or a hot beverage included. In cooler weather, hot soup carried in a vacuum bottle adds both nourishment and interest to the meal. Part of the noon hour should be spent in the fresh air; a walk helps to renew energy for the rest of the day's work.

Australians Beat Heat, Shortage Of Houses, By Building With Mud

Australians in the hot Northern Territory are going back to mud or adobe houses—houses of earth bricks dried in the sun.

There is a serious shortage of houses in Australia, where the problem has been aggravated by the arrival of half-a-million immigrants since the war. Experiments at making houses of this primitive material have given good results, for it has been found that in hot climates earth-houses are much cooler than most temporary structures.

Special equipment has been installed in Melbourne for making this new type of house, and an expert has been going the rounds explaining to builders how to make strong mud walls.

Canada Is Robust Enough to Disregard Fear, Hesitation of Socialists

An examination of the torrents of advice and warnings being hurled at the citizens of the free world reveals one clear-cut distinction. It is between those with conviction and courage and those who, yielding to fear, drift almost as if they were puppets of Moscow.

There is no doubt the right course and also the safest course is to proceed with the measures designed to establish the military and economic security of the free world. NATO, the European Defence Community, and a parallel organisation in the East, are elementary precautions of self-preservation. Allied with these are the steps being taken to raise the standard of living in backward areas. Point Four and The Colombo Plan are getting things done.

As the prospect of world domination recedes it is natural that the Lords of the Kremlin should resort to every artifice of deception that can be devised. Spurious peace talk, and divisive tactics of all kinds — these are what to expect and these are what we are getting from the camp of the enemy.

And as the Kremlin fumes and rages and cajoles, simpers, and pleads, according to the audience addressed, the old magnetic fascination for all Collectivists reappears. Socialists all over the Western World yield again to the spell of those whose success would guarantee their immediate extinction.

Not content with trying to mislead their own people, peripatetic British Socialists such as Michael Foot and Kingsley Martin, cross the Atlantic to spread their doctrine of surrender and their poison about the United States.

The whole Socialist clan, including the Socialist fringes of the other political parties, proclaim disaster, foster gloom, and demand retreat in the face of intimidation.

The task of saving civilization rests on the shoulders of the individualists — those who accept the challenge of to-day as their fathers accepted similar challenges — with courage, faith, determination, skill and, above all, with cheerful confidence. Canada is robust enough, and adult enough, to disregard the simpering fear and corrosive hesitation of suicidal Socialists.

I Apologize Miss Smith

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor,
Trinity Memorial Church

It was not very polite of me last week to fail to carry on our conversation of the previous week, but I found myself rather heavily involved in other matters. But there is a point about Education in Quebec which I wish to emphasize, whether you are a young teacher beginning her career, or a teacher coming from another province or even an experienced teacher who knows the system from beginning to end. For we all need reminders of the things we know.

The point I wish to emphasize is this; that our educational system in Quebec is based on Christianity. Several of the provinces allow prayer and Bible reading: one other province emphasizes Bible study, but our province speaks of Roman Catholic and Protestant schools, and both of those terms imply Christianity. Our schools then are Christian schools with a very careful guarding of the rights of such minorities as the Jews, and an equally careful guarding of the rights of conscientious objectors. But generally speaking our schools are Christian schools, and the standards of living and teaching and learning are Christian standards.

Let us think what we mean by Christian standards of learning. There are various reasons for learning. For example, I learn engineering, that I may make a good income as an engineer, and it may be a purely selfish reason. Or I may learn engineering in order that I may build dams in Central India, to irrigate new lands and feed new multitudes. I may or may not make a good living.

Think again of the Christian standard of teaching: I may teach to earn a salary, and I am the first to admit that a salary is necessary, but it is not the first reason for teaching. Actually I should teach because I am interested in seeing boys and girls develop into good, useful, Christian citizens. I should teach because I am so keen on some subject that I must pass on the knowledge of it to the next generation.

I consider it essential to the good life. Mathematics is essential; so is History, and English Literature, and Greek Philosophy. If we think they are dry-as-dust subjects we neither can nor should teach them. Or I teach in order that I may improve on all the teaching of the past and contribute to a better community. I should consider those Christian standards; but I can make them more emphatically Christian if I illustrate the purpose by definite reference to Jesus Christ as teacher, and to the subject of His teaching.

And I shall do that naturally and sincerely if I am committed to a Christian standard of living. It is not an act we put on; it is a life that we live. And when we are living that life we make our place in a Christian system of education a very natural one.

Christian Science

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 21.

This Lesson-Sermon explains that man cannot find health and happiness in material theories of existence any more than in the accumulation of material possessions; but that he must recognize God as Spirit and himself as spiritual, immortal.

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (3:23): "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel."

Citations from the Bible include the following: "For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. (Gal. 6:8)

Correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The sharp experiences of belief in the suppositious life of matter, as well as our disappointments and ceaseless woes, turn us like tired children to the arms of divine Love. Then we begin to learn Life in divine Science. The pains of sense are salutary if they wrench away false pleasurable beliefs and transplant the affections from sense to Soul, where the creations of God are good, 'rejoicing the heart'."

Craft Of Knitting Shetland Shawls Said Dying Out

Today there are only about a dozen people left in the world who can spin the exceedingly fine thread used in knitting Shetland shawls, these most beautiful handmade lacy cobwebs. Of those who can actually knit these shawls, which need infinite patience and entail a tremendous amount of labor, there remain today in all perhaps less than twenty people.

Actually the special thread used in the shawls is really double, and not single as it appears to be. It is amazing to learn that nearly six miles of fine thread have to be spun and then twined to make up 5,000 yards of firm thread; the number of loops in a single shawl is often well over half a million. So intricate is this delicate work that it needs constant attention.

It is said that a good knitter in the Shetland Islands (north of Scotland) usually takes 10 hours to knit 100 yards of thread. To complete a shawl generally takes about 500 hours, but at the end of this time the shawl is not finished. It has to be "dressed."

Several processes go to complete the dressing, including the washing, bleaching, and then the rewashing. After this it is lightly starched and then stretched. To stretch the shawl it is pinned by every separate point of lace to a special wooden frame, and with infinite patience and care, it is dried in front of a peat fire. Then, when it is ready for market,

For the first time, Max Factor reveals the thrilling off-stage beauty secret of Hollywood's loveliest stars. Now, a new natural beauty can be yours, without a trace of "made-up" look! Just follow these 5 simple steps:

1. It's simple with lanolin-rich Max Factor Pan-Cake* Make-up — only cake make-up guaranteed not to dry your skin.

2. Use sponge — wet, just short of dripping point. Rub lightly over Pan-Cake. Put thin film over entire face. Blot with tissue.

3. Puff on light coating of powder. Brush off surplus for natural-looking mat finish! For "sheen look" pat face with damp sponge.

4. Let make-up overlap lips. Draw desired outline with Max Factor's Non-Drying Indelible Lipstick. Patented base colors never make lips parched.

5. To make super-indelible rub lips with tip of finger. Apply more lipstick and blot by pressing tissue firmly to lips. Remove carefully.

Now look! Your skin is so petal smooth, your lips are so alluring — you're so much more naturally lovely than ever before. Come in and discover this fascinating make-up magic — today!

Mrs. Patch, mother of the bride, was wearing a gown of navy blue lace with a periwinkle blue feather hat, while a cluster of Sweetheart roses was pinned at her shoulder.

The bridegrooms's mother, Mrs. Waugh, chose a frock of Gainsborough blue taffeta, worn with a matching hat, and a shoulder spray of Talisman roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Aberdeen Avenue, where gladioli were arranged throughout the rooms. Leaving later on the wedding trip to the New England States, the bride wore a black and beige tweed dress with a black velvet hat. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rogers Waugh will reside in Montreal upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of McGill University, while the bridegroom graduated from Yale University.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watts, of Daytona Beach, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Witters of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Collins of St. Albans, Vt., were among the guests from out of town attending the wedding.

Decoratively Speaking

Picture Patter
By Frances James

"One picture is worth 10,000 words" states an old Chinese proverb. If this be literally true, perhaps one picture per room is quite sufficient. Anyway the modern trend is to reduce the number of pictures but to increase the size of the few which are used. It coincides with the whole modern scheme of things to redute non-essentials and to simplify living. If there are fewer pictures there are fewer things to dust, to care for and to worry over.

Some extremists have abolished pictures from their rooms. But in such cases there must be a substitute. The fireplace wall may be covered with a large dominant wallpaper pattern and the side walls finished in a textured paper in a co-ordinated colour. Pattern and texture simply replace the pictures as far as wall decor is concerned. This treatment can be interesting and is fun.

For the more conservative homemakers who like their pictures and want to continue to use them, here are some words of wisdom.

Relate your pictures to furniture groupings. Your living room should not look like an art gallery with the pictures evenly spaced in a straight row around the room thus completely divorcing them from the other furnishings. Each picture may hang at a different height which will be governed by the furnishings around and below it. Each should become a definite part of a group. A picture placed with a low table, a chair and a small table lamp should be hung lower on the wall than one placed above the fireplace or with a large overstuffed wing chair and a floor lamp.

You may think that this is a strange method of hanging pictures. But remember when visitors see your room they will notice the perfection of the groups of furnishings, not each individual piece.

One last caution . . . keep pictures low. Most of us tend to hang our pictures much too high. Try the picture with the furniture group and if you are in doubt we would suggest a rule of thumb is to move it down an inch or two.

Here is an old pointer well worth remembering. Rub a little soap over the bottom of pots and pans before using them over a picnic open fire, and the soot will wash off easily.

Fashion Hints

There's plenty of talk about the little black dress, to be sure, but the suit in all its many phases is getting lots of attention. And no wonder, for never were there such stellar styles, such excellent values. Dressmaker details mark such as curved insets at the yoke, and another crossing the front closing where a jewelled pin holds its in place. Another smaller pin adorns the shoulder. A moderately padded peplum adds interest to the single-breasted moulded jacket. The skirt is straight.

Institute To Open Course For Parents To Aid Child Study

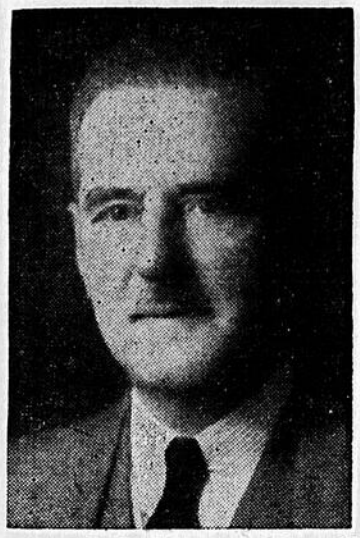

Studying the personality development of children is right in line with a mother's job as homemaker, Mrs. Ernest W. Crowe, B.A., director of parent education, stated in announcing the opening of registration for the leadership training course offered by the Mental Hygiene Institute, a Red Feather agency.

The two year course is open to a limited number of parents who are interested in increasing their own understanding of child development and who are willing to prepare themselves to lead child study discussion groups.

Beginning in October, there will be 20 two-hour sessions for first year students. Introductory lectures will be given by M. H. I. staff psychiatrists. The session on Child Development and Family Relationships will be conducted by Mrs. Ewen Irvine who has her M.A. in child psychology. Other lectures will be given on group discussion techniques. The Mental Hygiene Institute has an excellent library on child guidance for members of the course.

Anyone wishing to enroll in this study course should phone the Mental Hygiene Institute, BE. 3971.

Orange Social Club Reports Success In First Venture

A cheque for $300.00 was turned over on Saturday to Mr. Roy Wherry, Q.C., President of the Orange and Protestant Home for Children at Rosemere, Que. This was the proceeds of the First Annual Picnic held on July 12 on the grounds of the Home.

Saturday's meeting was held in Grace Church Hall under the chairmanship of Mr. Geo. Argue. Plans were made for "Pound Day" to celebrate the fourth anniversary of the Home on October 18. This will be in the form of an "Anniversary Get-together" and admission will be by a donation to the home of 1 lb. at least of some staple food which can be used by Matron Mrs. Durning in the care of the 14 children now resident at the Home. Of course if you wish to take along 5 lb., 10, 25, or 100 lbs. or even a ton, you will be all the more welcome but the Directors say 15 ounces will not do. Mrs. Durning has been exceptionally busy with her pickling and jam session — she has "done up" 300 quarts of good things for use during the winter months.

All L.O.B.A. and L.O.L. Lodges in the Province will receive notification of these anniversary celebrations and, as in former years, many out-of-town members will bring along their truck loads of garden and farm produce.

Make it Yourself
by Pauline Roy

If you would like to have a leaflet containing directions for making the BERET AND MUFF SET, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Make It Yourself Department of this paper requesting Leaflet No. SS-64.

The first step to your fall and winter wardrobe is a new hat. It is a "must" if you want to look up-to-date and smart. Because the season is short, and perhaps you do not want to invest too much money on this early fall hat, why not make it yourself? Many patterns are available for home millinery, and by taking care to check your own measurements carefully with those of your pattern, you should be able to emerge with a stunning, professional looking hat that will win admiration from all who see it. Another advantage for making your own is that you can have many more hats including just the right one for each costume.

Other Accessories to Make

Handbags and muffs are also easy to make from your own choice of materials. Velveteen, broadcloth, wool jersey and suede finished materials are popular for hat and bag sets to match. Last year's suit can be transformed completely with a brand new set of bright, smart accessories. Your suit can go to parties if you choose a dressy material, such as velvet, satin, fur or fur fabric for your accessories. Or, wear the same suit to the football games and team it with matching accessories made from a gay tartan, velveteen, corduroy or suede and you'll have achieved just the right effect. You can make your own millinery sewn from fabrics or, it can be knitted or crocheted. Whichever you do, you'll find it is fun and you will save yourself many dollars for your efforts.

Velveteen is the material chosen for the fetching beret and muff set pictured above. For a bright effect choose a brilliant blue, green or red or, if you prefer, a dramatic black. The hat pattern is in two pieces, lining and felt stiffening are also used. Padding plumps out the muff which adds warmth and a handy zipper pocket is designed for your valuables.

Cereals Add More Value to Your First and Most Important Meal

Take a survey right in your own family; then, if the breakfast-eating habits fall behind, if breakfast isn't giving your family from ¼ to ⅓ of the day's food needs, it's important for you all to begin improving your first meal menu. Then you will be able to work better, to think faster, won't tire as easily and you'll feel better.

Here are three pleasant ways to get what it takes into your family breakfasts.

Apple Cereal Pancakes
(Yield: 14 to 16 panckaes)

Two cups pancake mix, 1 cup slightly crushed bran flakes, cornflakes, or whole wheat flakes, 2½ cups milk, ¾ cup finely chopped tart apples, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon.

Combine pancake mix and crushed cereal. Add milk, apple and cinnamon, and stir lightly Batter should be somewhat lumpy. Bake on lightly greased hot griddle. Serve with syrup, spiced honey or jelly.

Pineapple Bran Bread

Two-thirds cup whole bran, ⅜ cup pineapple syrup, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup chopped nuts, ½ cup drained, canned, crushed pineapple, 1 egg, well beaten, 2 tablespoons melted fat.

Combine whole bran and pineapple syrup; let stand 15 minutes. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt into mixing bowl. Combine nuts, crushed pineapple, egg and melted fat with bran; add to sifted dry ingredients. Mix only until blended. Turn into greased loaf pan 9x5x3 inches. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) one hour and 15 minutes.

Peanut Butter Oat Muffins

One and one-quarter cups milk, 2 tablespoons fat, ⅓ cup peanut butter, ¾ cup rolled oats, uncooked, 1 egg, well beaten, 3 tablespoons sugar, ¾ tespoon salt, ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder.

Heat Milk; add fat and peanut butter and mix until blended. Remove from heat and pour over rolled oats; let stand about 3 minutes. Add egg. Sift dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Mix just until ingredients are well moistened. Fill greased muffin pans, 2 inches in diameter, ⅔ full Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

Storage hassocks (hallow inside) make handy accessories for either the college room or studio apartment.

Hard Workers Should Have Hearty Breakfast

Factory laborers too often cut down their efficiency by eating poor breakfasts or no breakfasts. A recent survey shows that the poorest breakfast habits in the country are among this working group. Factory men, the survey shows, eat their breakfast more hurriedly than women. Most of them dash through breakfast at breakneck speed.

Scientists at one eastern university studied the work production records of a group of factory workers who were paid on a piece basis. Some workers were found to be much more efficient than others; their work production was much higher.

The research scientists then took a look at the meal pattern habits of the group and found that some members habitually ate no breakfast. Further study showed that these were the ones who had the low work output records.

When these workers changed from "no breakfast" to breakfast, their output increased.

Also studies conducted at a prominent medical college prove that both men and women are able to turn out more work when they have a good breakfast.

Government nutritionists say we should get about a third of the day's protein at breakfast. A fruit cereal, milk, bread and butter breakfast supplies this amount, giving protein of top quality, adequate to meet all body requirements.

Here's a good breakfast menu: A glass of blended citrus juices, oatmeal topped with cinnamon apple slices. (Make the apple slices, like this: Make a syrup of ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup red cinnamon drops and 1 cup water. Add thin slices of unpeeled apple and cook until tender. Serve either hot or cold), honey cereal kuchen, butter, milk, coffee.

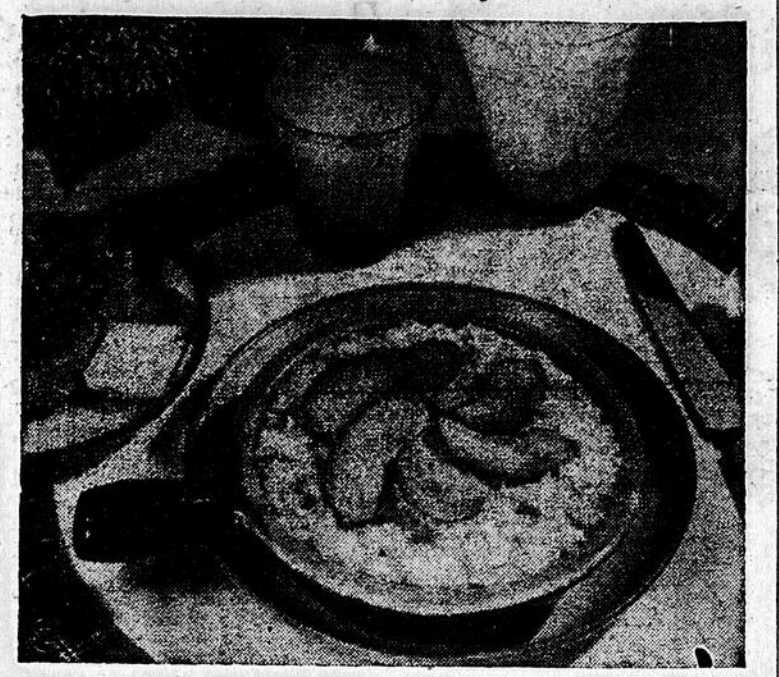

Honey Kuchen
(Yield: 1 square kuchen)

Topping: One-half cup brown sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 tablespoons melted butter, ½ cup bran flakes or whole wheat flakes.

Mix together brown sugar, spices, butter and cereal flakes. Set aside for use on top of batter.

Kuchen: Three-quarters cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2½ teaspoons bakikng powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup milk, ¼ cup honey, 1 egg well beaten, 3 tablespoons melted fat, 1½ cups bran flakes or whole wheat flakes.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine milk, honey and egg and add to flour mixture. Add fat, mixing only enough to combine. Fold in cereal flakes. Pour into greased pan 8x8x2 inches. Sprinkle topping over matter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 25 minutes or until done.

An efficient breakfast for working men includes citrus juice, oatmeal with apple slices, sweet cereal bread, and milk or coffee.

Dietitians Advise Reducers Never to Skimp On Breakfast

Despite reducing diets that call only for the skimpiest of breakfasts, accredited scientists keep insisting that a good breakfast is the key to any successful reducing plan. Here's how this business of eating and reducing go together. No matter what the calorie total your reducing diet allows dietitians recommend dividing the day's total by three. Therefore, if you are on a 1200-calorie diet, you should eat three meals of 400 calories each.

Every meal in a reducing diet should provide its share of the day's foods that make a worthwhile contribution of important vitamins, minerals, proteins, and food energy. That's the only way to maintain pep and stamina, and to feel good during a reducing regime.

Doctors consider overweight to be a serious medical problem. Overweight persons on the average die younger, and more of them develop diabetes, cancer, heart and kidney diseases, arthritis, other joint disturbances, and high blood pressure than persons of desirable weight.

Through a carefully prescribed and supervised diet, you can trim the pounds. Remember, it's a matter of cutting down on food, not of cutting out foods.

If one person in the family is on a reducing diet, the homemaker doesn't need to worry about fixing two different breakfasts. Build the family meal around a fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter patern. Then, for the reducer, trim calories by omitting the sugar used on the cereal, use skim milk, and reduce the amount of butter used.

A popular main dish for the reducing-diet breakfast is a bowl of cereal and milk. This combination of food offers more than two dozen different versions, so the monotony of a reducing diet is avoided. This main dish of cereal and whole milk adds up to only 182 calories, yet it gives top-quality protein, important B vitamins, minerals and food energy.

Golden Apricot Butter
(Yields 9 ½-pint jars)

Five pounds apricots, 3 pounds (6 cups) sugar, juice and grated rind of 1 orange, 1 teaspoon nutmeg.

Wash and pit apricots. Cut into small pieces and place in large kettle. Add sugar, orange juice, grated rind and nutmeg. Bring to a boil. Cook to desired consistency stirring frequently to prevent scorching. Fill hot sterilized jars with the "butter." Seal while hot.

Simpler Type Of Toy Enjoyed By Children

The expensive and complicated toy received by Junior often affords more fun for the adults of the family than for the small child. A youngster usually prefers something simple in the way of toys—small boxes, an old saucepan and a spoon, with some sand to pour from one container to another will supply hours of amusement. Dolls and soft cuddly animals are enjoyed by both small girls and boys and are less frustrating than the complicated playthings.

Evangelista To Star In "Traviata"

The fabulous "Traviata" of all, lovely Lucia Evangelista sings Verdi's most celebrated masterpiece from Dumas famous "La Dame Aux Camélias" at the Sunday matinee at the Show Mart on Sept. 28 as one of the outstanding features of the September Opera Season.

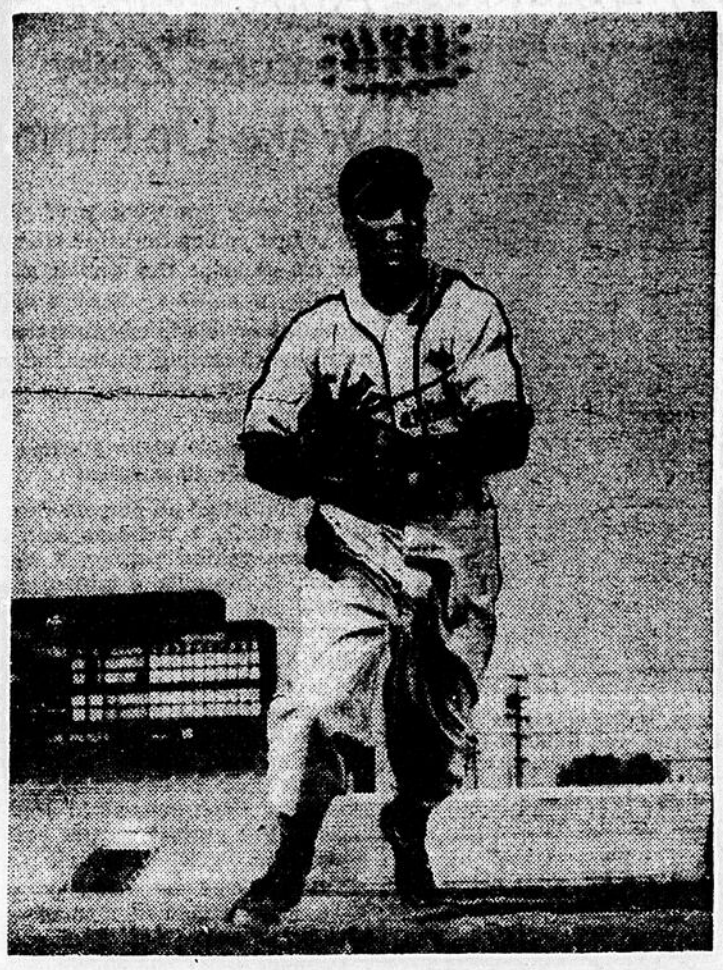

The famous soprano who sings the role of "Violetta" in "La Traviata" comes to Montreal from Santiago in Chile, with a brief stop off in New York City. Prior to that she scored a tremendous success in Caracas, Venezuela.

Her musical life is one of the outstanding success. Born in Genoa she is one of the great artists with the stamp of the famed LaScala. The bringing of the artist who is considered the greatest of all time in this role is a considerable achievement for Montreal and Signora Puliafito, the Impresario, is to be congratulated for this great succes.

The noted Carlo Moresco is the conductor. Opera dances and choreography are by Elizabeth Leese, who is the premiere danseuse, while Dr. Anthony Stivanello is the stage director.

Those who are present at the Show Mart on Sunday afternoon Sept. 28 will see an historic event in Canadian musical history. Prior to this on Friday "La Tosca" is presented, Saturday afternoon "Cavalleria Rusticana", and both Saturday and Sunday evening, the concluding opera, presents "Rigoletto."

Bureaucrats and TV Plague Movie Box-Office

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 — The film industry, already plagued with pressures on every side and declining box office in the new video age, has now been nailed to the cross of political persecution by one of Washington's multitude of bureaux, departments, offices, secretaries and agencies.

This time the movie moguls have been sued to force the sale of their product to television stations.

The suit, filed by the government, is so ridiculous in concept that I cannot quite fathom its purpose. It seeks to force the producer of a multi-million dollar motion picture to sell his film to television as well as to the theatres — and with only an inconsequential clearance period between theatre exhibition and broadcast. Yet even a kindergarten economist knows that television can under no circumstances pay a million dollars for a movie — or even half a million. About the peak figure for rentals in the video field today, and this includes fourth, fifth or even tenth runs included, is $100,000.

True, with more stations in different communities coming on the air the field will broaden, but it can never reach a size sufficient to make it economically feasible for studios to sell new or recent films to TV and hazard the possibilities of earning major revenues from the theatre market.

If the government is successful in its suit there can be but one result — the death of the motion picture industry as we now know it. "The Greatest Show on Earth", for example, cost $3,500,000 to film, plus an additional $2,000,000 in advertising and distribution expenses. Only by charging many millions of customers admission to theatres showing this picture can the producers expect, over a period of several years, to earn back their initial outlay and show a profit.

Obviously, no advertiser or television network can possibly afford to fork out $5,500,000 for a single two-hour program — plus whatever time charges the network affiliates would make for use of their transmission facilities.

Therefore, if this inane attempt to muzzle an industry (which has given more people more entertainment as less cost than any other medium) proves successful we shall see the demise of the motion picture for once and for all. In this event theatres will close by the thousands and television will still be denied the product it seeks.

The one solution to the problem is a system of pay-as-you-look video, whereby viewers will be charged for looking at films, sporting events and live drama on their home screens. Even this, however, should never reach the stage where it puts the theatre out of business. Strictly adult screenfare should bring crowds to the theatres, whereas broadcast material will always be highly censored. Moreover, it is logical that film producers be allowed to release to TV.

Any attempt to force the studios to sell their new movies — or old ones, for that matter — to television, thus hazarding the actual existence of the film industry, can certainly be regarded only as manifestly unfair and probably high-

"Singin, In The Rain" Starts At Westmount Theatre Sunday

Hollywood, during its frantic transition from silent films to pictures that "talked," furnishes the locale and period of M-G-M's star, laugh and song-loaded new Technicolor musical, "Singin' in the Rain," starting Sunday at the Westmount Theatre, with Gene Kelly, Donald O'Connor and Debbie Reynolds forming as merry a trio of leads as you have seen in some time.

Kelly and O'Connor enact a vaudeville song-and-dance team who crash Hollywood in the Twenties, when the Charleston was the rage and silent-film directors dressed as though they were riding masters. Starting as a "mood musician," indispensable in putting a star in the right mood in those days, Kelly becomes in turn a stunt man and then the swashbuckling hero of costume action pictures opposite the beautiful Lina Lamont (Jean Hagen). Unfortunately, the alluring Lina's beauty is confined to her face.

With the thinking apparatus of a four-year-old and a rasping voice, she is frankly a dumb bunny, so dumb, in fact, that she believes the fan magazines when they say she is Kelly's sweetheart off-screen as well as on. This leads to a number of heated repercussions when Kelly falls in love with pert, young singer, Debbie Reynolds.

But the real crisis occurs when the success of "The Jazz Singer," the first talkie, revolutionizes the old silent-film technique. It looks as though Lina, with her frightening voice, is a goner. How she plots to save her career at the expense of her rival, Debbie, who has been employed to "dub" her voice in place of Lina's in a musical, and how this plot is thwarted by Kelly and O'Connor, makes for an hilarious tale studded with memorable song hits from the pen of Arthur Freed and Nacio Herb Brown and felicitous hoofing upon the part of all three principals.

In the impressive musical score are such nostalgic heart-warmers as "All I Do Is Dream of You," "You Were Meant For Me," "You Are My Lucky Star," "Would You," "Good Morning," "Beautiful Girl," "I've Got a Feelin' You're Foolin'," "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," the title song and a number of others.

An elaborate fashion show revealing the now-hilarious fashions of the flapper era is a highlight. Kelly and O'Connor prove themselves an adroit hoofing team in song-and-dance routines respectively to "Fit as a Fiddle" and "Moses," while the film is brought to a stunning climax with the brilliant fifteen-minute "Broadway Melody Ballet," featuring Kelly with Cyd Charisse in the dance drama of a young hoofer who achieves fame on Broadway.

Added Attraction

An outstanding cast headed by Walter Pidgeon, Ann Harding and Barry Sullivan star in M-G-M's "The Unknown Man", one of the year's most unusual mystery dramas. The story of a youth who twice is put on trial for his life and of the lawyer who holds that life in his hands, it is marked by one startling and unpredictable development after another.

Variety and Television

"TEMPO" IS A WORD that causes continual controversy and dissention. Even though there is a set metronome marking at the top of a composition who is to say that it is absolutely authentic? But students should abide by it because it was put there by an authority, although it is one man's opinion.

We read the following interesting item by no less a celebrity than Richard Wagner . . . "The composer naturally wants to see his work performed exactly as he conceived it; the performer is not to subtract anything from it, nor add anything to it. He is to be the composer's alter ego. But this is often very difficult for who can put himself exactly in another's place."

Interpretation naturally induces liberties because tempo is one of the prime factors. Take for example Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" (First Movement) . . . listen to recordings . . . does each artist play it at the same speed. Paderewski plays it extremely slow, slower than the tempo mark in the Bulow-Lebert editing of the Sonatas. Countless people were privileged to hear the composer Rachmaninoff perform his own works yet many deviate from the tempo that the Russian master played them himself. That is truly surprising for artists!

People Are Very "Allergy Conscious" these days. They will go through all kinds of scientific tests, subject themselves to various measures to ascertain the whys and wherefores of these unpleasant nuisances, too often without favourable results, yet they try, which is creditable.

Now if some of these same conscientious people would delve into facts, such as finding out why their children are "allergic" to certain studies at the beginning of each season they would save themselves many headaches that arrive at the end of the scholastic year, and trips to teachers to find out how they could make them "catch up" or "get through". Would it not be better to confer carefully at the beginning of the session rather than find the student will have to burn the "midnight oil" later on?

It Did Not Take The "Blue Danube" long to arrive in America after its premiere in Vienna on Feb. 14, 1867 with the composer Strauss conducting Four and a half months later on July first, Theodore Thomas introduced it to New Yorkers, conducting his own orchestra and the Waltz was an instantaneous success.

What Effect Will Television have on students? What is the effect of radio? The answer is much the same . . . except . . . those who have television sets will doubtless continue to listen to their favorite radio programs so where will the time for television come from? It won't be taken from the radio but in all probability other duties and studies will be neglected and suffer as well as the youngsters getting less fresh air.

One parent we know with foresight has asked her husband not to buy a television set until their offspring have finished school . . . the children are in high school now and much to the parents' regret are radio addicts. Another parent told us he doesn't want his children in darkened rooms. Eye doctors in the United States have found that television really does affect some children's sight.

Even though there is a vast amount of knowledge gained through the radio and television they cannot take the place of education. We learn through mistakes and who is going to correct errors if there is no live contact for the student? Watching others is not the same as doing something yourself. While television and radio are a wonderful means of increasing knowledge they are also a detriment to serious study but a wonderful invention to pass leisure hours.

Miss Beetles stressed that she and her staff are anxious to form a closer contact with the parents and teachers of the school, so that pupils may benefit by this co-operation.

Miss Beetles, her staff, including Miss Jeanne Rodier, vice-principal and ballet mistress; Ann Holland, dancing teacher; Florence Herman, teaching Royal Academy of Dancing syllabus; Muriel Shoobridge, singing and classical piano; Annette Deschamps, popular piano; Vicki Yates, Charm, modelling physical culture and ballroom dancing.

The afternoon closed with an open discussion and question period between parents and teachers.

ly illegal and unconstitutional. If such confiscatory action can be imposed upon one industry by the government, it can be imposed on all. Conceivably baseball and football teams could be forced to televise their games, and theatrical companies could be ordered to permit the video cameras to scan their hit shows. And, pray tell, who would be the authority to determine just what price the video broadcasters would be ordered to pay for these tasty program titbits?

No, Sir . . . the entire prospect is one too ugly, totalitarian and utterly asinine even to contemplate for long. I'd suggest in my inconsequential way that the American government turns its attention to graft in high places, rising prices, rent control and balancing the budget. Somehow these would seem to take precedence over such mishmash as putting the movies out of business.

TICKERTAPE — Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are booked for 27 one-night stands and will receive a minimum of $10,000 per evening . . . If their act were televised they'd be dead ducks, their material entirely murdered in one night . . . Hugh Kemp, former Westmount High student and now script chief at the Radio City GHQ of the National Broadcasting Company, is readying a play for the autumnal boards with co-author Budd Schulberg . . . In filing a report with the Federal Communications Commission relative to his purchase of 50,000-watt Radio KOA, Denver, Bob Hope listed his net worth as just under $4,000,000 . . . Jim McNally, who once played hockey in London and Ottawa, has signed with Monogram to supervise hockey sequences in White Heat, a forthcoming feature . . . Montreal's Henri Letondal has the role of a French General in Universal's "Desert Legion" with Alan Ladd.

CHAT WITH "OLLIE"

Last week, we had the good fortune to have a luncheon date with a young man who will be remembered by many Tamaracouta campers . . . Oliver Stevens, ex of the Montreal West unit. "Ollie", as he became known, was famous (or infamous) for his guitar at camp, and his cowboy singing. Since the last time we saw him, Ollie has travelled around quite a bit, and has just gone back out west to Vancouver. He was in Montreal for only a few days on leave from his latest posting in the far northland with the RCAF, where he is on the way to becoming a padre.

Ollie and your reporter had a very interesting discussion about all manner and means of subjects, ranging from Scouting to husky dogs. Before leaving the city again, for probably another year or more, Ollie wished to be remembered to his many friends in Scouting, which we are pleased to pass on.

Lord Alexander Unit

Group Committee chairman Fred Beauchamp has things rolling again for the Lord Alexander unit, with both cubs and scouts already meeting. The Troop is led by Scoutmaster Evan Wake, and meets every Friday in St. Phillip's Church Hall.

Former Cubmaster Dick Halhed of the CBC was transferred during the summer to Toronto, and it was with deep regret that goodbyes were said to such a reliable and active leader. His work and co-operation with the boys was absolutely tops. Mrs. Halhed also spent many hours teaching first aid, in addition to being secretary of the ladies' auxiliary. Our best wishes go with them to Toronto.

Cubmaster John Wilson is planning to hold both his own Gold Pack and also the Blue Pack in a joint session every Friday night until a replacement is secured for Mr. Halhed. At that time, he will return to his Wednesday night meetings. Anyone wishing to help out should should contact Mr. Beauchamp at DE. 2345.

Trinity Memorial Group

Over the past weekend, members of Trinity Memorial Scout Group travelled to Lennoxville to camp at Mitchell's Maple Braes Farm. The Scout party was in charge of Scoutmaster K. D. Bedford, whose father-in-law, R. N. Mitchell, owns the property. The Muskrat Patrol, headed by Patrol Leader Dickie Powell, and one member of the Fox Patrol, Ronald Leadbetter, made the trip.

Camp was established about a mile from the farm buildings, in the bush, and Saturday and Sunday were spent in hiking, Scoutcraft and cooking wonderful meals. A visit was paid on Saturday to the farm buildings. Incidentally, the boys in the Muskrat Patrol are P.L. Powell, Jim Ranger, George Meyer and Bobby MacGillivray.

Sunday morning, 7 sixers of the cub pack arrived on the scene, escorted by two dads, Messrs. Ireland and Witcher. Cubmaster Kay Bedford and Raksha Alice Brown, along with Mr. Brown, were already on hand as a welcoming committee. Dinner was cooked in the sugar bush clearing, followed by a long hike, a good game of baseball and supper. The sixers who made the trip were Michael Warmington, Herbert Doyle, Jack Witcher, Robert Burnside, Robert Buckley, Bevin Boyd and Peter Ireland.

Willingdon Troop

Willingdon Troop has commenced the new season with a new Scoutmaster, Don Rodgers, assisted by Charles Pick. Anyone wishing to join the troop should make application to do so within the next three weeks. The Troop meets in the Willingdon school gymnasium every Thursday evening at 7 p.m.

Scouters' Conference

All Scouters, group committeemen and others should note the annual provincial Scouters' Conference is just around the corner . . . October 11, 12 and 13 to be exact. The site once again is the Pleasant View Hotel at North Hatley, Que. Registrations are now being received, and yours should be sent in right away.

WHS GRIDDERS OUT FOR REVENGE

'Scribe Predicts' Brings Chain Reaction; Quick Explanation

By ALLAN SANDZELIUS

When the Purple and White come on the field at Molson's Stadium next Monday night, they'll be out to avenge the 7-0 licking handed them by Catholic High last year in the Protestant School Board's annual Football Carnival. Westmount High will again meet CHS in the second of three scheduled Senior "A" tilts of twenty minute's duration each. Loyola tangles with HSM in the opener while the defending champs, West Hill tackle this season's "team to beat", D'Arcy McGee.

May I first of all rectify my position as to what the locals' chances are in the forthcoming high school football calendar. Last week I mentioned something about a 'dismal' season; though I did not exactly mean to imply that Westmount's chances were nil, I did set out to observe the fact that mentor Ron Sharp does not have anywhere near the same number of boys to work with this year as in the past and thus could not be expected to uphold the same standard as was recorded last semester.

Although, from pre-season practice sessions, the WHS gridders seem a bit on the light side and slightly out-manned by other clubs let not their support be lacking, and let's see as many grads as students out to give cheer and encouragement at each encounter, with the certain knowledge that the team will give an excellent account of themselves in every game.

Another newcomer was noticed in the ranks of the Purple 'n White this week as noted Lachine High athlete, Paul Zwinge took up a position in the squad's backfield. Paul may be remembered by some as a very effective hockey player with Lachine in the Sr. "B" ranks last season.

Thursday next will see Westmount High tangle with this term's dark horse entry, defending title holders, the new, all new West Hill. The game is scheduled for an early four p.m. start with yours truly shooting off the fireworks, so to speak.

Unique Dancing Steps Are Easy For Irene Keller

Irene Keller who lives at 5051 Grosvenor Avenue, Apt. 11, in Westmount, and Jack Ellard, are a Montreal born dance team who are going to teach the young women and men of the Montreal Y.W.C.A., this winter how to waltz, swing, samba, and even mambo, that Puerto Rican simple-looking dance with the intricate steps.

Miss Keller started to dance as soon as she could walk, and started dancing lessons in her pigtail days. She discovered that she had a flair for teaching, and met her partner, Jack Ellard, while she was training other dancers in one of the big local studios.

Between them, they have worked out a technique, which they say, "will teach anybody who can beat time to dance — and that's most everybody." They have even taught cripples the know-how. "We put people in small groups," she said, "and after they learn the basic steps, we move them to the more complicated numbers. For example, we can even teach the more advanced rythms of the mambo in an hour. That's why we divide our teaching at the "Y" in three groups; the first hour we do the Foxtrot, Waltz, Swing, the next, the Rhumba, Tango and Samba; and in the final hour of the evening, the Mambo."
