FINAL VOTE APPEALS MADE

MRS. REDVERS BUNCLARK, 250 Wood Ave., listens with a smile as Hon. D. C. Abbott, Liberal candidate in St. Antoine-Westmount, makes a point in support of his party's election in next Monday's election. This meeting of voter and candidate took place Wednesday in Mrs. Bunclark's livingroom as Doug Abbott toured this riding to meet and talk with electors.

Busy Finance Minister Abbott Has Time To Chat With Voters

Despite the heavy demands on his time in the current national election, Hon. D. C. Abbott, MP for St. Antoine-Westmount and this riding's Liberal candidate, has managed to talk to many voters. Without fanfare, Doug Abbott has been visiting homes throughout the riding and talking with the men and women who will vote next Monday.

Last Wednesday we caught up with Westmount's popular cabinet minister outside the home of Mr. and Mrs. Redvers Bunclark, 250 Wood Ave. The Bunclarks have lived in Westmount for nearly 25 years. Mrs. Bunclark is Vice President of the Altar Guild of the Church of the Advent, Wood and Western Avenues.

"Old friends," said Mr. Abbott as he rang the bell.

He was right. In Mrs. Bunclark's living room the conversation was typical of old friends meeting again. "How is Mrs. Abbott?" asked Mrs. Bunclark, an attractive grey-haired woman with a brisk friendly manner. "Fine," said Mr. Abbott, "and how are all your boys?" Is Owen still a policeman?"

Mrs. Bunclark's eldest son, Owen, has been a member of the Westmount Police since his return from wartime overseas service with the Armed Forces. Obviously a proud mother, Mrs. Bunclark brought Mr. Abbott up to date on her family. Her other worried son, James, is working for Howard C. Simpkin Ltd., David, the youngest boy, is with the RCAF at Camp Borden, Ont.

"How is Tony?" Mrs. Bunclark wanted to know. So Mr. Abbott told her about his boy's summer job as a deckhand on a freighter which has carried him to several countries in the Far East.

Then with a broad smile Mr. Abbott became the campaigner seeking re-election. "Tell me, Mrs. Bunclark, can I count on your vote next Monday?"

"You certainly can," said the lady with conviction. "My family and I are more than satisfied with the kind of government that Mr. St. Laurent and the Liberal party have given this country. As a wife and mother I have many reasons to appreciate the social welfare program. I wouldn't want to see Family Allowances or the Old Age Pension endangered by an unsympathetic government made up of several parties," she said. "I most certainly will vote for you, Mr. Abbott."

Westmount's Liberal candidate beamed.

At this point Mrs. Bunclark was ready to ask a few questions.

"It is true that the Conservative government in New Brunswick has been unable to bring about the tax reductions they

Human Needs 1st Says C.C.F.

In a public address Monday night, Mrs. Therèse Casgrain gave her audience the broad lines of the CCF programme in this election, stating that she joined the party because it puts human needs before profits. She particularly criticized the fact that the liberal government has not yet given health insurance to the Canadian people.

"A survey made by the government shows that one family in every five could not afford to spend any money at all on health care in the year covered by the survey. 261,000 Canadian families spent nothing at all on any medical or health care or any drugs or appliances. With an income of $1,500 a year or less, they simply had no money left over for any kind of health care. In contrast, the average expenditure of families with incomes of $5,000 a year or more was over $150 a year. The figures clearly show that only those with high incomes are receiving the care they should. They also show that families in the lower income brackets cannot afford the fees charged by private health schemes, such as Blue Cross, Physicians' Services and so on.

"The CCF is convinced that there is absolutely no legitimate excuse for further delay in inaugurating a plan to care for the health of all Canadians, irrespec-

Conservative Meeting Attracts Hundreds To Victoria Hall

An estimated crowd of three hundred and fifty citizens, composed of young and old Conservatives and voters in the St. Antoine-Westmount constituency heard Egan Chambers, M.C., official Conservative candidate in the federal election re-affirm his belief that the electorate will choose the Conservative candidate and the platform of the Conservative party when polling day rolls around, on Monday, August 10th.

In a concise speech which set a high standard of political objectivity, restraint and humour and which drew enthusiastic applause from the audience the Conservative candidate, nevertheless, pulled no punches as he upheld the Conservative party's platform of thrift and efficiency in governmental expenditures and cited specific cases of wasteful spending to support his contention that it was the duty of all good Canadians to vote the Conservative ticket.

In his speech he said:

"A political campaign usually gives the electorate a chance to compare the programs of the various parties that aspire to govern the country. This time, however, only one of the major parties has shown that it has a plan for the country. The Conservative Party, soon after the election was called, announced a comprehensive 16 point platform giving our ideas on all the major parts of government policy. The Liberal Party appears to be

EGAN CHAMBERS, M.C.

L.P.P. Candidate Says "Put Canada First" Significant Slogan

When asked in a recent interview why the Labour-Progressive Party emphasized the slogan "Put Canada First," Mrs. Louise Harvey, 93 Somerville avenue, the party's candidate in the August 10th, federal election gave the following reply:

"The answer to that question is simple," she said. "The present government, during its period of office, has shown that it will continue to carry out a domestic policy of economic subservience to the United States, and a foreign policy based on what the United States demands—not what Canada needs.

"American interests reach into every cranny of Canadian life, from towering investments and outright ownership of Canada's natural wealth to a majority of American players on a French-Canadian baseball team. All the talk laddled out by the old-line parties about continuing prosperity is vote-catching blarney as long as we are tied to American interests and a made in US policy of war. There can be no social project or health insurance as long as there is an arms race. An arms race leads only one way—toward war. Abbott's budget provides amply for war, but not for the basic needs of the people.

"Canada needs peace, in order to develop its world trade and its prosperity. Just as peaceful co-existence of countries with differing social systems can be a reality, so in Canada itself peaceful coalition of the democratic political forces can come about—a co-campaigning on a platform of 'it can't be done'. The taxes can't be reduced; waste and extravagance can't be eliminated from the public service; nothing can be done to restore our foreign trade. In fact, they seem to feel that no change or improvement is possible in Canada—a pretty discouraging attitude for a young and vigorous country. This great party was originally called the Reform Party. They have the Reform Club still. But where is the spirit of reform?

I felt sure that when, to the relief of all, the Korean Armistice was signed, they would forestall one of our most popular appeals by repealing the Emergency Powers Act. But no! It seems that there will always be an emergency while this government is in power. The fact is they can no longer govern in the traditional Canadian way—through Parliament. They need the crutch of the order-in-council because their measures cannot stand the light of public scrutiny. They say that this is no time for a change. The truth is that there never has been a more auspicious time for a change of men and ideas and attitudes at Ottawa.

If there were no other reason, it would be sufficient that we must change the Minister of National Defence. It seems that every time this unfortunate man gets up and says that everything is lovely in his department, the newspapers report that someone else has been arrested for stealing from him. One of the interesting things about these thefts is the fact that they are always discovered to have been going on for a long time, undiscovered by the department's 8 accounting systems. There is a serious thought here for Canadians. If the Department's administration is not able to keep track of its money and property, how are they doing with the far more important job of stockpiling materials against an emergency. We know we are well supplied with things like cooks' caps but will we

The sing-song at the W.A.G. on Thursday, July 30th, did not get under way until after 8:30 p.m., but when things did start to roll there were many budding artists anxious to show their talent. The Craig sisters, Helen, June, and Norma, were very popular with the audience after singing solos and duets.

Bill Lothian was the sing-song leader and after going along with you last week, he feels that he will be more prepared for his next showing. Let us give Bill some support by singing right out.

Alfred Daly sang two numbers which were received very enthusiastically by the gang and everyone would like to see him back again.

Sing-songs are held every Thursday evening at the W.A.G. commencing at 8:30 p.m.

If you have any talent of any nature, we will be glad to have you do your stuff.

Call Rocky Rothwell at FI. 6975 for further information.

PUTTING

Something new in the form of tournaments was introduced at the Westmount Putting Green on Thursday, July 30th.

The competition held was a Tombstone Tournament. Each player was given a par 72 score to start with, the idea being to see how many holes one could go before running out of strokes. On completion of the 72nd stroke a stake was placed in the ground at the point where the ball stopped. The player with the most holes was declared the winner.

Mr. "Monty" Lamontagne was the winner of the men's tournament after playing a semi-final round and then a final round against Mr. Harry Smith. In regular tournament play there were four men tied at the 32nd hole. Mr. Lamontagne won the final round by one stroke over Mr. Smith.

In the ladies' competition, Mrs. Harry Smith led the field by finishing her 72nd stroke at the 31st hole. This was a very fine showing for the ladies.

The tournament last week was postponed from Wednesday to Thursday because of rain.

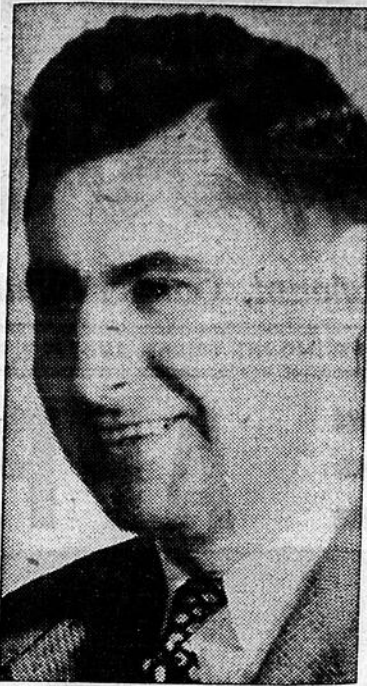

Each Wednesday evening commencing at 7:30 p.m. putting tournaments are held at Westmount Park.

Residents of Westmount are encouraged to participate.

The two Westmount entries in the N.D.G. Intermediate League have put on some fine ball games for Westmount softball enthusiasts this past season and we would like to take this opportunity of thanking them for some very pleasant evenings.

Both these teams, "Dow" and "MacRae Electric", were in the playoffs, but came out second best in each case and are now finished their league play for the season. "Dow" were defeated two straight by Oxfords by scores of 7 to 4 and 9 to 7. "MacRae Electric" were tive of their income. The health and well-being of the individual is not by any means a matter which concerns that individual alone. It is and should be a concern and responsibility shared by all. Only if we adopt that co-operative attitude to this problem can we build a strong and healthy Canadian people.

"One of the chief objectives of the CCF in this election campaign is to fight for national health insurance. The liberal candidate, with his party, voted four times in the last few sessions, against health insurance."

Mrs. Casgrain made a strong appeal to the people of Canada to use their vote on August 10th and send to Ottawa a candidate belonging to a party that really fights for the rights of the people.

Mrs. Casgrain also stressed the fact that if she is elected she will take the necessary steps to have adequate protection for the population at the railway crossing of her division where so many accidents unfortunately happen.

lition which will be the people's alternative to fascism and war. A growing number of Canadians have shown that they want peace and independence on Canadian terms.

"The 100 candidates of the Labor-Progressive Party believe in the Canadian people. They believe that cold war can be ended, the peace victory in Korea followed up by world peace agreements, and that a great Canadian people's movement can become a people's coalition government which will lead Canada along the path of peace, independence and prosperity because it will "Put Canada First."

The Reddy Memorial is appealing to the Montreal area public for $200,000 to meet an $85,000 objective for urgently-needed capital equipment, and $115,000 operating deficit, representing the free or less-than-cost care provided by the hospital last year.

also knocked out in two straight by St. Augustines by scores of 14 to 1 and 5 to 3.

Watch for these two teams in exhibition games at the Western Avenue Diamonds.

The Military League is still going strong, and is now in the middle of its semi-final play-offs. The R.C.M.P. and R.M.R. are playing a best 3 out of 5 series, as are the R.C.A.S.C. and the Westmount Police and Fire. The winners of these two series will play off for the championship.

This is a lively league and provides plenty of action for the fans. Choose your team and go out to support them.

The Westmount Cricket Club is now leading the League, and are in a very solid position to cop the league trophy.

find (as has been found before with inefficient military accounting systems) that if an emergency arrives, the ammunition does not fit the weapons and all the boots are for the left foot. No one should be surprised after what has been revealed about the administration of the Department of National Defence.

My friends, this government, grown old in office, grown careless and arrogant in the thought that they are irreplaceable, has lost the initiative, energy and ideas needed to lead this country along its road of progress. They say we promise too much. Ladies and gentlemen, there is no promise in them. It is true that we have promised certain things. Rather it can be said that we have produced a plan to release Canadians from the burden of overtaxation and government interference and let them move freely toward the future with a thrifty, helpful and understanding government. What should be remembered is that the men who formed this plan or made these promises believe sincerely and strongly that they can be successfully put into effect, and they are men, in every case, of outstanding ability in their fields. The Conservative Party is the only party in Canada that has a well thought-out plan for the next four years and has the men to administer it. I urge you to read this plan, to study it, to study the men who have put it forward, and to go to the polls next Monday and vote to let them put that plan into effect.

promised in last year's election down there?"

"That's right," said Mr. Abott, "they have been unable to keep their promise. That's the dangerous thing about promises. They're so easy to make, but sometimes impossible or impractical to fulfill. Then you have to fail the people who believed you."

"Do you think then that people believe Mr. Drew when he says he can safely cut government expenses by hundreds of billions of dollars?"

Mr. Abbott shook his head. "I'm afraid some people believe him — just as the people in New Brunswick believed the Conservatives last year. They are still waiting for their tax reductions."

At this point the Liberal candidate noticed a bundle of knitting on one of the chairs. "You do believe in keeping busy," he remarked.

Mrs. Bunclark proudly held up the half-finished sweater. "I'm going to be a grandmother soon." "You're ahead of me by a few years," conceded Mr. Abbott getting to his feet.

At the door Doug Abbott once more became the campaigner. "I certainly enjoyed seeing you again — and it was especially pleasant to learn that you and your family will continue to support Mr. St. Laurent and the Liberal party."

With a wave to Mrs. Bunclark, Canada's Minister of Finance set off to meet more of the voters of St. Antoine-Westmount.

Self-Developing Photo Machine Cuts Time In Operating Room

A 25-pound self-developing photo machine in the Reddy Memorial Hospital is performing the daily life-saving chore of cutting surgeons priceless operating room time literally in half—with its low but clear warning buzzer the only fuss or fanfare of this new medical feat.

The completely automatic self-developing and printing unit was released on the Canadian civilian market only a few months ago.

Until then the process had been restricted to the use by armed forces, and then only in combat areas where time is a vital factor in rendering medical assistance.

The Reddy Memorial Hospital is among the very first in Canada, and certainly the first hospital in the Montreal area, to receive and put into use the new medical equipment, Dr. Jean-Pierre Jean, radiologist at the Reddy Memorial, points out.

To accomplish its time-saving task in the operating room, the self-developing unit levels and processes a good quality, dry film in the astonishingly short time of 60 seconds.

With its sister apparatus—the portable X-ray machine—the unit thus releases the darkroom for other processes. The one-minute film it produces can be handled and does not require the make-up of chemicals or long drying procedures.

The special equipment has a variety of uses, chief of these being for the control of the reduction of fractures in the operating room, and for the positioning of radio-active materials, such as radium and cobalt, in the treatment of cancer in the operating room.

The unit is also used in checking the accuracy of positioning in X-ray therapy or in deep therapy for cancer.

Dr. Jean said the machine has many advantages.

"We consider we save in the treatment of a hip fracture, for example, one hour of anaesthesia, operating room time of the same duration for other purposes, surgeons' time, and, since all other processing in the darkroom and the X-ray room stops for emergency operations, this new machine releases both these places for other uses during the same lapse", he explained.

He added that hip fractures operating time could be anywhere from one hour and a half to two hours, if all proceeds well, and that the unit shortened this time period to one hour.

"Since most patients are usually older people, it is very important to shorten anaesthesia and therefore prevent complications," Dr. Jeah said.

Handled by qualified technicians the radiographic speed process is only equalled by its ease of loading. Within seconds, the special film, with its own self-contained developer, can be fitted into its special holder, exposed and inserted into the processing unit. Sixty seconds later, a buzzer announces the completion of the process, the plate is removed, opened and yields an accurate, finished print which provides all the X-ray details required by the surgeon.

As Dr. Jean points out: "The exposure will be accurate only in expert hands, and this being so at all times, the print we receive is always of excellent quality... it has to be, because once exposed holder enters the machine, there can be no human factor or error, the process cannot be altered."

Anonymous Heckler Livens Proceedings At Liberal Rally

Four hundred friends and supporters of the Liberal Party and one unknown heckler attended the traditional public rally held by the St. Antoine-Westmount Liberal Association in Victoria Hall, last Wednesday and witnessed a revival of and old political custom which caused the Hon. D. C. Abbott, P.C., the principal speaker to laughingly describe the rally as, "the best Liberal meeting ever held in Westmount".

Mrs. Mostyn Lewis spoke for the Liberal women of St. Antoine-Westmount and with the sole exception of her description of Egan Chambers, the Conservative candidate as a charming curly-haired, misguided youth the traditional Westmount pattern for political meetings was followed with no speaker indulging in personalities.

The four hundred friends and supporters and the unknown heckler also conformed to the accepted Westmount standards at this point, with polite applause on the one hand and silence, polite or otherwise on the other and it was not until the Hon. D. C. Abbott began a eulogy of the Liberal party that this silence was broken.

From that point onward, whenever the record of the Liberal party or the record of the Liberal candidate was mentioned the unknown heckler went to work, interrupting continuously. As the rally drew to a close, he earned the usual reward of too noisy political meeting heckler. "Peace," he cried, as he was escorted to the door.

Red Cross Aids Brother, Sister

William Condon of Huntingdon, will always be grateful to the Red Cross and with good reason. A few days ago, he received a letter from his sister, Mrs. F. O'Malley of London, England. He hadn't heard from her in 33 years. It was through the Tracing Bureau of the British Red Cross that Mrs. O'Malley was able to procure her brother's address.

Mrs. O'Malley told the British Red Cross that her brother had emigrated to Canada back in 1911 or 1912 and she thought he had settled on a farm somewhere in Quebec. Although the particulars were few, it took the Enquiry Bureau of the Red Cross in Montreal only a few weeks to locate the whereabouts of Mr. Condon.

It was from an orphanage in Orpington, England that William Condon came to an Ottawa Convent when he was only 14 years old. Later he was sent to St. Stanislas a French village halfway between Valleyfield and Huntingdon where he worked first for a blacksmith then for a farmer. When William Condon turned 18, he enlisted in the 87th Battalion and went to England. During his stay in England, he managed to get in touch with one of his brothers and one of his sisters but after he came back to Canada in 1920, he lost track of all his relatives. Now after 33 years, the Red Cross makes it possible for him to re-establish contact with his sister.

William Condon will be able to tell Mrs. O'Malley all about his Canadian way of life, his French-Canadian wife (Vinalda Lefebvre) whom he married in Huntingdon in 1920, the lovely bungalow they own in Huntingdon as well as the trials and tribulations encountered since the day he left his native land 42 years ago.

Fight Forest Fires Urges V. E. Johnson

The real meaning of forest fires is not the burning of trees but the extinction of trade, Vernon E. Johnson, President of Canadian International Paper Company said in a public message to the Canadian Forestry Association.

Every Canadian wants to keep the pulp and paper industry ranking first in total wages paid, first in export values, and first in capital invested. But all of these firsts are built upon raw materials taken from the forests. Unlike mining and most branches of manufacture, the basic materials of forest industry are exposed to fire hazards which, in the main, are set in motion by public carelessness. If lightning fires were all we had to fear, four-fifths of the conflagrations would come to an end. The majority of recreation-seekers and other groups travelling or working in the woods contribute in minor degree to forest destruction, but we face a stubborn minority that by defiance of every precaution delivers the woodlands to flame and repeats its misconduct season after season.

"To cut the lifeline of wood-using industries by these acts of virtual sabotage cannot be condoned and must be faced boldly and brought under control.

Good is when I steal other people's wives and cattle; bad is when they steal mine.—Hottentot Proverb.

Federal Surplus Down Finance Minister Says

Honourable Douglas C. Abbott, the Minister of Finance, recently released a statement of the final figures of the Government of Canada's budgetary revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year 1952-53 and of the Government's assets, liabilities and net debt position as at March 31, 1953.

The statement shows that for the fiscal year the budgetary surplus was $23,547,000 compared with the forecast of $48 million given in the budget speech on February 19, 1953. Revenues as finally determined were $4,361 million or $14 million less than the budget forecast of $4,375 million while expenditures were $4,337 million or $10 million more than the forecast of $4,327 million.

The statement also shows that at March 31, 1953, the gross liability of the Government amounted to $17,918 million of which $14,811 million consisted of unmatured funded debt.

Local Vacationers Fight Fire Threatening Val Morin Village

By MORT RANSEN

Over 50 vacationers, many of them from Montreal's west end, helped 12 volunteer firemen fight a 27 hour forest blaze in Val Morin, Quebec, approximately 60 miles north of Montreal.

Covering a square mile of dense foliage on a mountain just overlooking the Laurentian resort town, the flames spread dangerously close to the village itself, causing panic to dozens of local families.

Assistant fire chief, Réal Legault, of Val Morin, told The Monitor that he "shuddered" to think of the results of the blaze if not for an ample supply of up-to-date fire fighting equipment and the co-operation of nearby families.

The flames first burst out at three o'clock Friday and did not subside until 5 p.m. the following day.

Families within a half mile radius of the blaze kept all night vigil with furniture and belongings in preparation for moving to the centre of the village if necessary.

The fight between the flames and men took a seesaw effect all day Friday when a heavy wind moved the flames alternately towards the peak of the hill and then towards the homes in the valley below.

Government rangers helped the local voluntary firemen since the first burst of flames.

Fire Chief Lucien Lepage and Assistant Chief Legault said jointly that the fire was the largest in seven years and one of the most dangerous in recent times because of hundreds of nearby homes and the intensity of the wind.

Gladiolus Society Plans Annual Show

The 19th annual exhibition of the Gladiolus Society opens in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on August 11th. Growers are watching their spikes of bloom open and the cooler weather will insure finer flowers for the show.

The regional directors report keen interest in the coming show and the Show Manager, Bob Baker, may require more space to accommodate all the entries. Dr. L. Bouthillier of St. Hyacinthe will have some fine bloom for the show. Mr. J. G. Todd of Brownsburg, winner of the Grand Sweepstakes last year, has a grand show of spikes ready to open for the coming show. Mr. H. Cordeau of Lachute Mills reports excellent growth and some fine spikes. Mr. S. A. McPhail of Farnham, reports the hot weather has resulted in rapid growth and they will have some fine blooms again this year. Mr. J. C. Somers of Sherbrooke reports they will have some beautiful blooms for the show.

It is evident the growers in every section of the province are looking forward to the coming exhibition in Victoria Hall. The noted gladiolus breeders have been out to see their fields. Mr. Percy Barrett of Baie d'Urfe, formerly of Verdun, will have some new seedlings to show. Mr. Sidney Mode of Vankleek Hill is bringing down a fine collection of the newest varieties. Albert Stinson of Ville LaSalle, who introduced Chatterbox at last year's show will have something special again this year.

The trophies and prizes will be presented on the second evening of the show by Mayor Edward Wilson of Verdun.

Tours Are Popular At Unity Boys Club

Two tours of the Unity Boys Club were enjoyed last week by 50 members. The first, took place on Wednesday at the R.C.A. Victor Co. The girls and boys were each given a record. The second tour was made at the Kraft Cheese Co. on Thursday.

Tuesday a group of 20 girls and boys spent the afternoon at Westmount Park, where they sailed boats they had made in the workshop during the rainy days.

The trip to l'Anse A l'Orme was cancelled for a later date, and replaced by a bus trip with the Lions' club to Cap St. Jacques.

The Lions' Club softball team lost to the Unity Spitfire team. The captain of the team, Don Neilson, informs his players that there will be a revenge match, August the 11th at N.D.G. August the 12th, the field day at St. Helen's Island will take place.

THREE DAYS TILL TAX CUTS!

In 3 days you will have the opportunity to clean up the mess in Ottawa . . . a mess that the present Ottawa Government is trying to hide. But a mess that does exist . . . as shown by the scandals at Petawawa . . . cheque-kiting by a Liberal M.P. . . extravagant and wasteful defence spending . . . spring-filled dance floors and gold-plated pianos . . . The Progressive Conservatives know this mess exists . . . and they know how to clean it up . . . and with your help they will clean it up.

EGAN CHAMBERS

In 3 days you will be casting a vote — a vote that can mean lower taxes — thrift in Government — responsible Government — and a return to the democratic principles of Confederation. All these things will become a reality if you cast your vote for EGAN CHAMBERS, your Progressive Conservative Candidate. The Progressive Conservative Party is pledged to bring about these things if they are given a mandate by the Canadian People. That they will be given this mandate we can be sure — for we know that the greatest need of the Canadian people is a return to responsible Government.

The Campaign in Westmount

Doug. Abbott Heavy Favourite To Win Re-Election

Electors in St. Antoine-Westmount will have a wide choice of candidates from which to choose on Monday: D. C. Abbott, Minister of Finance in the St. Laurent administration; Egan Chambers, a young sales executive; Gisèle Bergeron, an editor; Joseph Loder, a pensioner; and Louise Harvey, a housewife. Mr. Abbott, runs on the Liberal ticket, of course; Mr. Chambers is a Progressive-Conservative; Miss Bergeron a CCFer; Mr. Loder an independent; and Mrs. Harvey a Labour-Progressive. Quite a choice.

Doug Abbott enters the race a heavy favourite for re-election. A local boy, still "Doug" to everyone who knows him. A reputation as Canada's most successful finance minister, and international fame, have not gone to his head. Doug is certain of hundreds of votes among friends of political beliefs opposed to his own. He has brought considerable prestige to his riding. May be Liberal leader, when Mr. St. Laurent retires.

Egan Chambers has conducted a vigorous campaign that has attracted attention beyond the bounds of the riding. He got into the campaign early utilizing every possible means of reaching the voters. If energy means votes, he'll get plenty.

Miss Bergeron is carrying the Socialist banner here. Socialists haven't made much of an impression in this riding in the past, and hardly expect to win this time. But Miss Bergeron is an excellent candidate.

What brought Mr. Loder into the campaign, few voters seem to know. Miss Harvey has helped the LPP get free radio time on the national network.

Why Vote?

Citizens Get Chance To Express Inner Thoughts

In the concentration camps and uranium mines of Siberia, they won't be voting on August 10th.

In the "police stations" of Argentina, where the Peronist police invent new and brutal ways of handling political prisoners, there won't be any secret ballots cast on August 10th or any other date.

You won't find the secret ballot in places where enslaved peoples are forced to serve tyrants and dictators.

Dictators long ago realized that the secret ballot makes it hard to choose the kind of government they want to set up.

Dictators like to be able to hurt and kill the people who disagree with them. If the voting is secret, they can't find out who these people are.

So the secret ballot is always one of the first victims when a dictator comes into power in countries where the secret ballot safeguards free elections?

The answer is simple. Dictators come into power when the people don't take advantage of the chance offered by free elections to keep them out.

When a country has "had it good" for a long time, people may start to think that it doesn't matter which party wins an election. So they don't bother to vote.

Then a new party may start edging in, and by organizing a solid body of voters it may gain a government majority before anybody realizes that it is really trying to do so.

If the men behind that party feel that the secret ballot isn't necessary, or that general elections aren't necessary, the country is headed for years of bloody, miserable hardship under a tyranny which will probably have to use brutality to keep itself alive.

Any mechanic will tell you that a machine gets rusty if it isn't properly maintained or kept in use. Free elections and the secret ballot are machines which produce democratic government for us.

Unless we use them, somebody might decide that they aren't necessary. So they'll be scrapped. In Russia, and East Germany, and Argentina, and North Korea, the election machine was scrapped. In Czechoslovakia, nobody casts a secret ballot any more.

It can't happen here, you say? Maybe not. But perhaps you might pick up a copy of the current issue of a Canadian magazine, in which a prominent writer says that a Canadian political party would like to get into power AND PASS A LAW MAKING IT NECESSARY FOR VOTERS TO SIGN THEIR BALLOTS.

If you have any New Canadians living near you, ask them how they feel about elections in this country. Ask them what happened to election machinery in their homelands when the dictators marched in. Let them describe what life is like when the secret ballot is abolished.

GET OUT AND VOTE!

Lesson In Progress

Newfoundland Moves Ahead — But Not Too Quickly

The more one studies Canada's most recent province, the greater the assurance that through the alliance the other nine provinces have stumbled into great good fortune. Newfoundland, like the rest of this country, is rumbling with industrial expansion, but it manages to do so with a hard-headed resolution not to surrender all the qualities of the past.

Progress, yes, but no need to get carried away to the point where the certain niceties of life are discarded. Take the recent resolution reported in the Grand Falls Advertiser, asking for a new commuter train between Gander and Clarenville. It urges flatcars for automobiles as well as passenger service, but stipulates that such trains should stop at all fishing streams along the line.

Writer Dorothy Thompson Replies Provocatively To Criticism Of Women

What's wrong with American women? Their husbands are supposed to be the "world's best"—yet they walk out on their wives more frequently than any other males in the world. What accounts for this apparent paradox? Are American women too bossy? Too independent? Too prudish? Too beset by money worries?

Dorothy Thompson, writing in the August Ladies' Home Journal, states that her first reaction to the question, "What's Wrong With American Women?" was a rather irritated reply, "Nothing's Wrong With Them." However, in studying the subject more closely, she gathered some doubts. She tells how no effort has been spared by Biologists, Sociologists, Psychologists, Historians, Novelists, Dramatists and Poets to describe, dissect, analyze and interpret "woman" to herself and the other half of humanity.

With this background, she comes up with some provocative answers to: what's wrong with american women? They are HER answers . . . but they are ones with which you violently agree or

The minister of Calvary, the Rev. Walter J. Spence, B.A., will preach at both services Sunday and continue the double series of sermons. The theme at the service on Sunday morning will be The Glory of CHALLENGE, the 2nd in the series on THE FOUR C's.

Parents are invited to bring their children to the morning service so that they may join in the junior congregation after the Children's Story.

At the evening service the theme will be—the PATHOS of Protestantism, the 2nd in the series on THE FOUR P's.

The members of First Baptist Church worship with Calvary for the month of August.

Friends and visitors to the city are invited to these services.

Christian Science

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

This Lesson-Sermon teaches that in reality there are not two opposit powers, the material and the spiritual, contending for control of man; but that, since God is omnipotent Spirit, the spiritual must supersede the material in every situation.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God."

Bible citations include the following from Matthew: "And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art

Correlative passages from the denominational text book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "It was now evident to Peter that divine Life, Truth and Love, and not a human personality, was the healer of the sick and a rock, a firm foundation in the realm of harmony. On this spiritually scientific basis Jesus explained his cures, which appeared miraculous to outsiders. He showed that diseases were cast out neither by corporeality, by materia medica, nor by hygiene, but by the divine Spirit, casting out the errors of mortal mind. The supremacy of Spirit was the foundation on which Jesus built."

Social Events Honor Miss Marjorie Box

Mrs. Percy Swail, of Benny Avenue, entertained Wednesday afternoon and evening at a trousseau tea in honor of her niece, Miss Marjorie Lillian Box whose marriage to ABC VI Stuart Stockman, R.C.N., takes place in Calvary United Church at three o'clock tomorrow, August 8. Gladioli and assorted summer flowers decorated the rooms and a miniature bridal party of figurines and pink and blue gladioli single asters and baby mums formed the decorations in the dining room.

Mrs. Cecil Box, mother of the bride elect, assisted in receiving the guests and those in charge of the dining room during the afternoon and evening were Mrs. Clive Masterman, Mrs. Donald Ewins, Mrs. Fred Stephen, Mrs. Willington, Mrs. Harry Gill, Mrs. Roy Glassford, Mrs. Frank Holland, Mrs. Harold Wild and Miss Claire Walters. Those assisting in the other rooms were Miss Maureen Vaughan, Miss Callie Brooks, Miss Evelyn Price and Mrs. Stanley Wade.

Others who have entertained for the bride elect are, Mrs. Clive Masterman who gave a miscellaneous shower; Miss Maureen Vaughan, Miss Callie Brooks and Miss Evelyn Price, a personal shower; —and Mrs. Roy Glassford a card party and shower. Mrs. Joseph Stockman, mother of the bridegroom elect entertained the bridal party after the rehearsal yesterday evening.

Newest In Fall Fashions
Include Double Necklines
Also Tweedy Overblouses

This fall there'll be some refreshing additions in the fashion world. Clothes have been designed for the selective eye of the fashion-wise woman and her taste for a wardrobe that's good-looking, and convenient to live in. The new fresh look, says the August issue of Harper's Bazaar, will feature double necklines — the new effect of the wide boat line filled in with a sweatery turtle neck.

You'll also see plenty of overblouses — straight, easy fitting, newest in thick but supple tweed. Narrow skirts will be set off by lightly fitted jackets.

The article adds that small effects will be featured at the wrist, momentarily changing the emphasis of the whole: a little, round, neatly strapped watch and the brisk, little chopped-off glovelet.

more talk to the minute

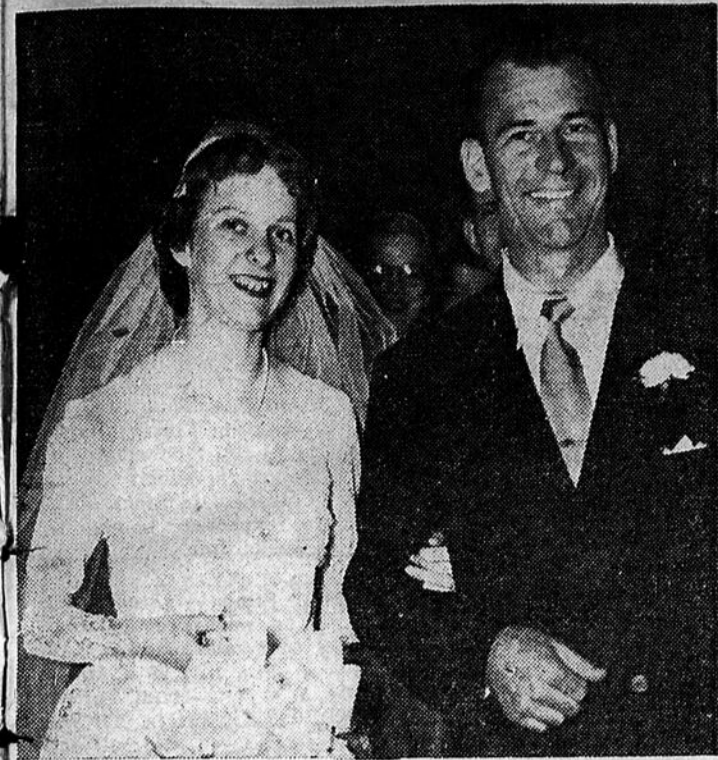

They have a "time compressor" at the University of Illinois. It can record a 45-minute speech and play it back in thirty minutes. It does this without changing the pitch of the voice and, they say, without lessening intelligibility, since the human ear and human understanding are quicker than the human tongue.

Maybe now we can spend less time listening to other people talk, leaving more time for pleasant pursuits such as eating, taking leisurely baths, lying in bed on Sunday morning and sitting in the shade with detective novels. On the other hand maybe the new device will enable everybody to do more talking during the standard 24-hour day.

There is one speech which, it is to be hoped, will never be processed by the time compressor. Its average duration is one and a half seconds, although impatient characters rattle through it in 1.3 seconds, while more phlegmatic types spin it out to two full seconds. It reads "Make Mine Molson's", and the act of utterance produces in the speaker an anticipatory delight that it would be a shame to curtail, by mechanical or other means. Like the raising of the curtain before an excellent play, it is a moment to be savored — deliberately, unhurriedly, with no snipping of either vowel or consonant. It is the prelude to an equally unhurried enjoyment of the fine ale that the Molson family has been brewing since 1786.

A murrain on time compressors! Roll the words over your thirsty tongue in their own natural tempo. Just sit back, relax, and say "Make Mine Molson's".

"I'd like to say this to all Canadians..."

UNDER a Liberal government, Canadians have added every year to the national strength and national unity of Canada;

We have had the greatest expansion of social welfare in our history;

We have increased our employment, our production and our national income every year;

We have had the greatest expansion of our primary and secondary industries — truly an industrial revolution;

Because of the outstanding contribution of the members of our Navy, Army and Air Force, we have been able to do our full share to prevent and to stop Communist aggression;

We have reduced the national debt every year, and, in the last two years, reaped the reward in lower tax rates.

Do we want all that to be continued?

Do you really think it's time for a change?

For a change to a Parliament of regional groups — a handful of Social Crediters from the Far West, a few Socialists from the Prairies, a few more Conservatives from Ontario or the Maritimes and some so-called Independents from Quebec?

In such a Parliament without the leadership and responsibility of a united national party, how could the government help being weak and insecure?

Do we want a weak and divided government to deal with the formidable problems of the next few years? I ask you, IS it really time for a change?

We believe most Canadians want a government which encourages enterprise, promotes trade and fosters the exploration and development of our resources; and you know it as well as we do, that requires balanced budgets, paying off debts in prosperous times and a tax structure which, while fair to all, is adequate to meet these demands.

General Manager Of Ad Club Talks Of Business Letters

Six points for improving business letters and making them more effective sales-wise were outlined by Bill Hamilton, General Manager of the Advertising and Sales Executive Club of Montreal to the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday.

Be friendly and write from the heart, said Mr. Hamilton, in explaining what he considered the most important and first of his six points. Too many letters, he said, included archaic words and phrases which may have been satisfactory many years ago, but had no place in modern business. Letters should be written from the viewpoint of the man who was to receive them, and not that of the writer, he noted because people were motivated by their own interests. The easiest way to accomplish this was to 'write to a person, and not to a postmark' because as soon as the writer began to visualize the person to whom he was writing the letter would become personalized and more effective.

The speaker recommended the use of short postscripts as a means of focussing attention on a single point of interest which might otherwise be overlooked in the body of a letter.

"Letters should be brief because people are busy," said Mr. Hamilton, pointing out that often long phrases were used when much shorter ones would better serve the purpose. As examples, he cited the use of the word 'normally' to replace 'in the normal course of our procedure' and "Because" instead of "In view of the fact that." The easiest way to keep a letter short, said the speaker, was to plan it in one's mind, or on paper, before dictating it.

Corn is for canning — keep it out of letters, said the speaker in presenting his third point. A letter should talk naturally, and not mumble moth-eaten jargon of many years ago, such as 'acknowledging you recent communication, I wish to state . . . ' or 'In response to your favor of even date, kindly advise . . . ' Make your letters different from other letters by using your own style of writing and avoiding tired, worn out phrases, the speaker advised.

When you've said it, stop, was Mr. Hamilton's fourth point. In this connection, the first sentence of any letter was the most important because it must capture the reader's attention and interest and make him want to read the rest of the letter; following this, the last sentence was next most important because it should contain the thought of what you wanted the recipient of the letter to do. "Too many letters," he pointed out, "opened by re-hashing the letter they were answering, or by highlighting the date of the letter just received, instead of giving the important first position to new information." — A thought need be expressed only once in a letter, and need not be repeated several times, the speaker claimed.

It takes only one tackless word to lose a customer, warned Mr. Hamilton in his fifth point, pointing out that since the personal touch was lost in a letter the exact words used had to be chosen with great care. 'You say that . . . ' and 'You claim that . . . ' could be interpreted by the recipient as casting doubt on his integrity, while phrases such as 'You failed to . . . ' and 'You neglected to . . . ' were almost sure to annoy him since they suggested that he had made an error.

The final suggestion of Mr. Hamilton was to 'say 'no' gracefully' when it was necessary to turn down a request. The speaker recommended the avoidance of opening a letter with 'sad words' such as 'regret' and 'we are sorry' and recommended instead that whatever good news it was possible to find should be included in the opening part of the letter. Even when there was no good news, it was possible to wish there was such news, said the speaker.

The speaker was introduced by Bill Abbott and thanked by William Tawse. Bill Allison, president, was in the chair.

Camp Westmount began its second month with a new program entitled "Summer Fun Club" which concentrates on picnics, hikes and trips.

Monday the gang visited the Verdun Natatorium and enjoyed a swim and a sun bath during the afternoon.

The trip of the week was to Malo Beach for an all day picnic. Highlights of the day were—fast trip in the motor boats, swimming, games and a rainstorm. Following the rain the boys returned to the Y for more swimming—they just never get enough of it.

Over the week-end registrations are being taken for an overnight trip to Camp Kanawana. There is still room for a few more boys for this trip.

Swimming—
Special summer membership rates are available for the months of August and September. Swim periods are scheduled for women and mixed groups as well as for men. Periods in pool for business girls are each evening from 7:00 to 8:00, except Tuesday and Saturday when there are periods for mixed swimming.

Instruction in swimming may be arranged by calling Lew Waller, "Y" Physical Director.

Fencing—
The hardest working group at the "Y" this summer is the Fenc-

Bowling Club Holds Mixed Rink Series.

Last Saturday 104 bowlers from the home and neighbourhood clubs gathered at the Westmount Club to take part in the George Bishop Memorial Mixed Rink Tournament. Mr. Bishop was at one time a member of the club, and, when President, inaugurated this mixed tournament, which has become part of the regular yearly schedule. Thirteen greens can be marked off in case of need. Two games of 10 ends each were played in the afternoon and one of 15 ends in the evening, with an interval at 6 o'clock for a box supper. President J. M. Heggie performed the ceremony of presenting the prizes, all of which were carried off by rinks from the Notre Dame de Grace Club, which had a big entry. First: Mrs. Simpson, Hector Simpson, Mrs. John Scott, G. E. McFarlane (Skip). Prizes—English Leather Purses and Leather Travelling Cases. Second: Mrs. Evans, R. Tapley, Miss F. Lemmerz, A. C. Evans (Skip). Prizes—Folding Umbrellas and Travelling Clocks. Third: Mrs. H. A. Stevens, Ken Kearns, Mrs. Rowe, Hollis Rowe (Skip). Prizes—Bowling Measures. The Spider Competition was won by Mrs. F. W. Tetley, Mt. Royal, who received a handsome Bathroom Scale.

Mr. Heggie thanked the bowlers for taking part in the tournament, and for the good sportsmanship shown, which helped to make the event such a success. On behalf of the club he extended thanks to all those who had assisted in the arrangements, notably, Messrs. J. Perrigo, D. B. Mackenzie and Professor C. M. McKergow, who prepared the greens, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bremner who took charge of the supper arrangements so capably.

The centre of attraction on Wednesday evening was the playing of the final game in the P. Q. L. B. A. Doubles Championship, which attracted a large gallery. In a closely contested game Mr. W. Burnside and Mr. C. Foster, Verdun, defeated Mr. A. Green and Mr. A. Holmes, St. Lambert, by a score of 21 to 15. Mr. Green substituted in this game for Mr. S. Lalanne, who had played in all games up to the finals, but was then unavoidably unable to continue. The ladies played their regular points and monkey competitions on Monday evening and Friday afternoon, the prize winners being Mrs. R. C. Braithwaite, Mrs. W. Capper, Mrs. P. Defries, Mrs. E. Hughes and Mrs. A. Melville.

Westm't Rink Wins Another Tournament

A rink from the Westmount Bowling Club carried off the honours at the Outremont Men's Rinks Tournament held last Saturday. The players on the rink were: A. B. Gibb, F. Thomas, W. Brown and J. Douglas (skip), who won their 3 games with a plus 21. They were tied with the St. Lambert rink skipped by A. Green, which necessitated the playing of 3 extra ends, Westmount winning 3 to 2. Alfred Edwards, of the Outremont Club, was the originator of the men's rinks competitions held annually by the city and district clubs, the first one being held at his club years ago. These competitions are very popular, producing some excellent bowling.

Another major event last week was the St. George Bowl Competition held on Friday evening at the St. George Club, in which a Westmount rink skipped by J. M. Heggie participated. The St. Lambert rink skipped by A. Holmes were the fortunate winners, this being the second time in 29 years that St. Lambert has won this competition. Their motto evidently is "Nil desperandum". The St. George Club, under the direction of the President, Captain R. H. Monks, entertained the players before and after the games. The trophy and prizes were presented by Matt Campbell, Chairman of the St.

George Bowl Trustees. The fixture is now known as the Wally Hagar Memorial Trophy Competition, although from long custom it is sometimes still referred to as the St. George Bowl.

In the ladies' branch of the Westmount Club the usual Monday evening and Friday afternoon competitions were held, the prizes going to Mesdames R. C. Braithwaite, F. Ewing, G. Hill, E. Johnson and N. Read. On Saturday afternoon mixed games were played, the tumblers being won by Miss E. McConnell, Mr. M. E. A. Coulter, Mrs. W. Capper and Mr. D. B. Mackenzie (skip). After the games tea was served by members of the entertainment committee, Mrs. E. M. Thomson presiding at the tea table.
