THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

GRAND VOLUNTEER REVIEW ON THE PLAINS OF ABRAHAM

After the proverbial "gray morn," a beautiful sun shine yesterday greeted the many intending observers of the day dear to all Her Majesty's subjects while the softest balmy breeze gave a pleasant and at times somewhat bracing atmosphere well suited for a military display, which is often attended with fatigue. All our patriotic young souls were filled with joy and gratitude for so heavenly a blessing after the many gloomy days of late. And thousands wended their way towards the classic Plains of Abraham where ample accommodation was afforded the wealthier classes in the shape of a grand stand of immense length, facing south near the winning post of the old race course. The Marquis of Lorne and Her Royal Highness Princess Louise, Prince Leopold in Windsor uniform, with their numerous suite took seats on the neatly decorated stand set apart for them. The following are the distinguished party who attended Prince Leopold:—Baron de Martin, Marquis and Marquise de Canola, Lt.-Colonel Freemantle, Lord Archibald Campbell, Lord Elphinstone, Lady Pelly, Hon. Mrs. Langham, Sir Alex. Campbell, Dr. Royle, Hon. Mr. Pope. At a quarter to twelve o'clock, the arrival of the Royal party was announced by a royal salute from the long line with colors drooped and all the ten bands playing the National Anthem. His Excellency and Her Royal Highness Princess Louise, both on horseback, then rode down the centre of the long line, and inspected the troops. The sight was a grand one and the cheers which rent the air proved how endeared to all are the representative of our gracious Queen and her amiable and beautiful daughter. The Princess was mounted on a splendid steed and her graceful gait drew forth the admiration of the vast assembly.

Public curiosity was now on the tip-toe of expectation for the grand march past of the ten battalions, to see which among the crack corps of the Dominion would win the laurels of the day in the presence of so many eminent judges. Each corps had their friends and admirers, who naturally bore the deepest interest in the well doing of their respective friends on this great day. The slow, quick and double-quick marches past the Royal Standard were a credit to all concerned, and to give special mention to one above another would be doing an injustice to the drill of all the fine corps present; for without exception the marching past of yesterday was not unworthy of regular troops. Some companies in each corps possibly met with more admiration than others, but there were many recruits among them and it rests with each officer to stimulate the less trained among their companies to co-operate towards building up their general reputation as soldiers. The various corps, numbered close on to 3,000 men. Each of the ten infantry corps was accompanied by their respective bands of music which discoursed those military airs which stir the soul and brought to our recollection the days of British military occupation. The Plains of Abraham offer a boundless landscape while for grandeur and suitability for military movements they cannot be surpassed. Due thanks were returned to and hearty congratulations lavished upon the troops after the sham battle. The Marquis of Lorne, expressed his unqualified satisfaction at so grand a success whilst the continuous smiling which graced the countenance of Her Royal Highness bespoke the unmistakable satisfaction and pleasure this review—the grandest since the Prince of Wales's visit to Canada—afforded her.

THE SHAM FIGHT.

The sham attack upon the Citadel was commenced as soon as the men of the attacking and defending forces were placed in position.

The attack force consisted of about 1,200 men, the whole force when posted for attack being formed on the low ground at the extreme edge of the Plains, close to the Marchmont fence. The composition of the attacking force was as follows:—Cavalry—A Troop Queen's Own Canadian Hussars, Lt.-Col. F. Wood Gray commanding officer. Artillery—Quebec Field Battery, commanding officer Captain Crawford Lindsay; Garrison Artillery, and B Battery Royal School of Gunnery. Infantry, 8th Royal Rifles, commanding officer Lieut.-Col. R. Allyn; 9th Battalion Voltigeurs, commanding officer Lieut.-Col. Amyot; 62nd Battalion, St. John N.B., commanding officer Lieut.-Col. McShane. The divisional commander of the attacking force was Lieut.-Col. T. Bland Strange, R.A., who had for his aide Major Hebert, Brigade Major B Battery School of Gunnery. The Light Brigade was commanded by Lieut. Col. Montzambert, B Battery Royal School of Gunnery, with Lieut. Imah, Halifax Field Battery as Brigade Major. The Heavy Brigade was in command of Lieut.-Col. Maunsell, DAG, NB, with Lieut. Pennefather, Brigade Major. The position of the divisional commander, Lieut.-Col. Strange was indicated throughout the attack by the lance pennant of his orderly sergeant, which was however very frequently indiscernible on account of the density of the smoke.

When arranged for the attack, the force had been formed in two lines of contiguous quarter columns at deploying distance, and represented a skeleton division of two brigades in two lines. The battalions of the second line were drawn up between the intervals of the first, the former being close to the Marchmont fence, evidently in order that the whole might be covered by the rising ground in front. The extreme left or exposed flank was occupied by the Cavalry and Field Battery, the ground being that part next to the Marchmont fence nearest the Grande Allee, being less sheltered and uneven, and consequently more suitable for those arms. Their position prior to the attack, was marked on the plan by an oblong square for guns, and the letter A nearest the St. Louis road. The Light brigade of the attacking force consisted of the 8th Royal Rifles and 9th Battalion, Quebec Voltigeurs, and the Heavy Brigade included B Battery Royal School of Gunnery, and 62nd St. John N. B., Battalion.

The defending force was as follows: Divisional Commander,—Lieut.-Col. Duchesnay, D.A.G. Brigade Major,—Lieut.-Colonel Lamontagne, Aide, Lt.-Colonel Colfer, 61st Batt; Commanding Scarlet Brigade,—Lieut.-Colonel Martin, 6th Fusiliers, Aide, selection of Commander. Commanding Rifle Brigade,—Lieut. Colonel Bond, 3rd Victoria Rifles, Aide, selection of Commander. The composition of force were:—Cavalry, one troop Queen's Own Canadian Hussars, Lieut.-Colonel Turnbull; Artillery, B Battery, two guns, Captain Short; Garrison Artillery Brigade, four batteries, Major Hamel; 5th Royal Scots, Lieut.-Col. Crawford, 6th Fusiliers, Lieut. Col. Martin; 1st Prince of Wales, Lieut.-Col. Whitehead; 3rd Victoria Rifles, Lieut. Col. Bond; 65th Mount Royal Rifles, Lieut.-Colonel Ouimet. They at once took position under the walls of the Citadel, in the ditches or on the low ground in front of them. They threw parties of riflemen round the Martello towers and left one corps of riflemen under cover of the broken ground near those towers, and another behind Wolfe's monument.

The western walls of the Citadel were manned by the five Garrison Batteries of Artillery, and the guns on the bastions commanding the approach from the Plains had gun detachments told off to each. On a signal being given, the attacking force advanced in order of attack across the Plains of Abraham, being first assailed by the outposts near Wolfe's monument, upon which they opened fire and drove them in. The Martello towers and supported corps of riflemen opened a fire upon the assailants when within range. The towers were captured and the troops driven in, retiring in skirmishing order upon the main body in the Citadel ditches.

The assailants advancing and steadily firing upon the retiring outposts were suddenly arrested by a fire from the Citadel walls, and simultaneously by a sortie of the infantry concealed in the ditches. This main body, now reinforced by the outposts, advanced in order of attack over the cove common and rough ground covered by the fire from the fortress. They recovered the Martello towers and detached a battalion of infantry supported by cavalry to the right in order to turn the left flank of the retiring force by the St. Louis road; the retiring force disputed the ground of every obstacle, and the 8th Royals succeeded in executing a coup d'état not on the official programme, capturing a battery of guns, though certainly under somewhat heavy fire.

After the fight, the troops were drawn up in battalion columns, when His Excellency the Governor-General addressed the mounted officers in English and French as follows:

Officers of the Canadian Militia:
"Let me congratulate you on the manner in which the troops have been handled by you to-day under the command of the gallant General whom we are all so sorry to lose. Your men have shown the greatest diligence, and wish to profit by the training which it has been possible to impart to them. They have with you to-day performed services which are the type of their duty. They have acted the part of defenders of their fortress. Our militia is organized for the purpose of defence. We believe that we shall never be obliged to use it for any other purpose than that of proving by its existence how futile an attack on our land would be. This is the meaning of to-day's work with the performance of which I have much pleasure in expressing my satisfaction."

Two important labor demonstrations are threatened, one at Glasgow and the other at Liverpool. Glasgow iron masters have decided to reduce wages of collier and furnace men.

The British troops have defeated 4,000 Afghans at Jellalabad.

AN OPEN LETTER.

GUSTAVE SATTER IN QUEBEC.

The writer prefers this mode of addressing a few lines to the good people of Quebec on the subject of the recent concert given by Dr. Satter on the Weber Grand Piano in the rooms of the Y.M.C.A. in Quebec.

Some of the papers objected that so great an artist as Satter should have appeared under the patronage of Weber. Others that he was announced under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. To the first objection we have to say that the house of Weber had nothing to do with the concert except to allow the free use of the piano on the usual conditions, namely: "That all artists who use the Weber Piano shall publish it on the programmes, and place his name on the piano." This rule is observed at all Operas, Concerts and Recitals where the Weber piano is used and is to prevent imposition such as is often attempted in Montreal three years ago the Italian Opera Company at great expense brought a Weber Grand from New York in the baggage car, the company having been refused the use of the Weber Grand in the Windsor Hotel. During the performance the public were furnished with a programme bearing the advertisement of another New York piano, and while under the fingers of Caron, the magnificent tones of the Weber Grand was appealing to the audience from the stage, the programme scrupulously placed in their hands, invited them to purchase a very different instrument.

To the second objection that he appeared under auspices of the Y.M.C.A., it is proper to state that in the undertaking, the association was guaranteed against loss, and all over the absolute cost of expenses was to be their gain. Neither Satter or any other great artist will undertake concerts without a guaranteed sum, and certainly the price of admission and size of the hall in Quebec did not offer much encouragement, unless supplemented by the individual exertions and good will of the members of the association. This no doubt would have been had, but for the unfortunate disturbance of the ship laborers which placed so many of them under arms. Nevertheless the concert was a success, at a very small cost to themselves the music loving people had an opportunity of hearing an artist of rare ability, and a piano which is the favorite instrument of every artist of renown, either in Europe or America.

As to great artists giving concerts without stipulated sums being guaranteed, we are all in aid if some one don't guarantee there will be very few visits this country. The piano on which Satter played in Quebec is the same which is mentioned in the following letter from Mr. Oliver King, pianist to H. R. H. Princess Louise, and addressed to the agents of the Weber Piano.

Mr. King's testimony is all the more valuable from the fact of his thoroughly independent position, and from his well-known character as an accomplished artist.

OTTAWA, 11th May, 1880.
DEAR SIRS,—I have to thank you for the magnificent Weber Grand which you so kindly placed at my disposal for a late Pianoforte Recital. In touch and tone it is simply perfection, and owing to its superlative qualities I was in a great measure assisted in my efforts.

I am, Dear Sirs,
Yours Sincerely,
OLIVER KING.

It is the same story with every great artist "Take it all in all" says Mr. C. Levallois, "the Weber is the Piano which every artist will choose in preference to all others."
An agency will soon be established in Quebec, and its merits can then be compared with other instruments.

The Quebec Mercury.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 25, 1880.

The Canada Gazette contains the official announcement of the calling of Joseph Northwood to the Senate. The public lack information as to the gentleman thus elevated, and the reasons that prompted his preferment.

Sir A. T. Galt and Lady Galt had the honour of dining with H.R.H. the Prince of Wales at Marlborough House on Wednesday evening, the 5th instant. Most of the members of the Government were present, including Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chamberlain.

A dinner was given last night by the Governor General and the Princess Louise at the Citadel. It is understood that the Governor General, the Princess Louise and Prince Leopold will leave Quebec Wednesday for Montreal, arrive at the Windsor Hotel there on Thursday morning and remain several days. Prince Leopold, Princess Louise and suite walked around the ramparts and viewed the fortifications and city walls and points of interest in the vicinity therefrom on Sunday evening. Their Royal Highnesses were attended by Colonel McNeil and Captain Collins.

"Yesterday was a great day for Ireland" said O'Connell after Tara and we may truly say yesterday was a great day for Quebec. The day was fine, and in honor of the Queen, (and the Prince and Princess we ought honestly to add) was well observed, and for Eastern Canada the native military display might justly be called splendid. More than all, the people saw the Prince and the Princess and we hope he may live to like them.

We asked on Saturday if there was a country on earth which could afford to keep a nest of Communists, Nihilists and Internationalists in its midst. Unfortunately there is such a country and Quebec knows it to her sorrow. They are, however, already diminished in numbers, and see no encouragement to linger long where they are so well known by their fellow residents.

THE NEW LOAN.

It was reported on Saturday in financial circles that the true inwardness of the French loan consists in a condition that the Dominion subsidy shall be pledged for the interest, and that a first mortgage shall be given on the Provincial railroads. The Herald says that the Dominion Government has already advanced the July subsidy to the Province, and that the money has supplied some immediate wants.

Lord Hartington, Secretary of State for India, in reply to a question, stated that he believed the cost of the Afghan war was about £7,154,000 sterling.

LORD KENMARE.—Some of the London papers had anticipated the objections now cabled as to the place assigned to Lord Kenmare. The London World of May 5th says:—

I observe Lord Kenmare, the most devoted of devout Catholics, who leads pilgrimages, etc., in Kerry, is to the horror, let me hope, of Exeter Hall, Lord Chamberlain, a more important functionary at Court than some people imagine. Besides guarding the morality of the stage, Lord Kenmare, the Catholic Lord Chamberlain, will have something to do with the selection of people entitled to go to Court. He is one of the judges of their morality too. This is a fine topic for the May Meetings.

The Mercury buildings, along with Capt. Holiwell's were profusely decorated with bunting the last two days in honor of the arrival of Prince Leopold and the volunteers who celebrated the Queen's Birthday.

ARRIVAL OF PRINCE LEOPOLD.

The mail steamship Sardinian rounded the point on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. On board were H.R.H. Prince Leopold, Colonel McNicoll, V.C., C.B., Equerry to the Queen; the Hon. A. Yorke, Mr. R. E. Collins, Equerry, C.B.; Dr. Boyle and Lord Elphinstone. Mr. J. S. C. Wartle, M.P.P., was also on board.

H.R.H. the Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne, attended by Lt.-Col DeWinton, A.D.C., Capt. Chater, Bagot and Collins, and the Hon. Chas. Harbord, A.D.C., went over in the police yacht Dolphin, Capt. Trudel, to meet the Sardinian. The yacht was tastefully and gayly decorated with flowers and bunting, and as soon as the Princess embarked, the Royal Standard was hoisted. The Sardinian came up stream flying the Royal Standard at the main, the Dominion ensign at the fore and the house flag at the mizzen. The Viceregal party were received at the gangway on the Levis side by Captain Dutton. The greeting between the Princess and her brother was, as can readily be supposed, very affectionate, and the entire party remained on deck for a few minutes, conversing pleasantly with each other and with Mr. Rae, of Messrs. Allans, Rae & Co., and Capt. Dutton. Prince Leopold is a frank, good looking young man and converses in an animated, genial manner. He expressed himself very much pleased with the passage out, and with all the arrangements made for his comfort. On the Queen's wharf on this side of the river a guard of sixty men of B Battery, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Montizambert, the B Battery band and a small escort of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars, under command of Lieut. Hethrington, were drawn up to receive the royal party. Lieut.-Gen Smyth was also present, attended by Lt.-Col. Duchesnay, D.A.G., Lt.-Col. Strange, R.A., Commandant, and the officers of the district staff.

The distinguished party were received at the landing by Mr. J. U. Gregory, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and as they landed a royal salute was fired from the Citadel. On ascending the gangway, which was draped with flags, they were received by the military with all the usual ceremonies. The Lieut.-Governor, the Hon. Mr. Chapleau, Premier, Hon. Messrs. Flynn, Loranger and Paquet, the Mayor and members of the Corporation represented the civil element of the reception. The Lieut.-Governor was presented to Prince Leopold by the Princess. The Prince and party then drove to the Citadel. During the afternoon the Princess, Prince Leopold and the Marquis of Lorne enjoyed a walk on Dufferin Terrace, and attended the review yesterday.

CURRENT LITERATURE.—"Lands of Plenty in the New Northwest" is a book for all travellers, settlers and investors in Manitoba and the Northwest Territory, by E. Hepple Hall, F.S.S., author of "The handbook of American Travel," "The Picturesque Tourist," "British North America, for Health, Sport and Profit." Toronto: Hunter, Rose & Co. Montreal: Dawson Bros. This is a small volume in handy form, designed to meet the increasing demand for information regarding our Great Northwest. From the author's well known literary ability and long experience in a cognate field of literary work, it was to have been expected that the subject would receive satisfactory treatment. This expectation is not disappointed. The book is good and cheap at its price and is well got up. We can recommend it as a handbook to the interior of the growing Dominion.

BOARD OF NOTARIES.—At the recent meeting of the Board, twenty-eight candidates presented themselves for examination for admission to study, and only thirteen were admitted. Fifteen candidates came up for examination to practise. Two were unable to pass on account of sickness and two were rejected. The remaining eleven were admitted.

NORTH SHORE RAILWAY.—All the employees of the Eastern Division of the Provincial Government Railway have received notifications that their services will not be required after the 31st instant, owing to the re-organization of the staff and the removal of the head offices to Montreal.

ST. PAULS CHURCH.—The Lord Bishop of the Diocese will hold a Confirmation service in St. Paul's Church, Diamond Harbour, at eight o'clock this evening.

BRADLAUGH AND THE OATH.

London, May 21. Mr. Charles Bradlaugh appeared at the bar of the House and stated to the Speaker that he was prepared to take the oath, which is in the following words:—"I do solemnly swear to be faithful, and true allegiance bear to Queen Victoria and her heirs and successors according to law. So help me God."

Sir Henry Wolf, member for Ports mouth, and a Conservative who sat in the late Parliament for Christ Church, offered a motion declaring that Mr. Bradlaugh should not be permitted to take the oath, nor admitted to his seat anyway. He was an atheist, said Sir Henry, and an avowed revolutionist; every one knew his taking the oath was a mockery and a blasphemy.

Alderman R. Fowler, a Conservative, and one of the members for the city of London, seconded the motion of Sir Henry Wolf, and urged the House to be careful how it opened the door to the admission of men who were known to be enemies to the Crown and the principles of religion upon which the stability of the Kingdom depended.

Mr. Gladstone then suggested that the right of the House to allow a duly elected member to take the oath be referred to a new select committee. He had no sympathy whatever with the principles of Mr. Bradlaugh, but he was anxious that no precedent should be set up in his case which would interfere with the right of the constituency to be represented in the Parliament of the nation.

By this time the House had become densely crowded, and great excitement prevailed. Several members endeavored simultaneously to obtain the floor, and some confusion followed. It was evident that a strong party was bent upon the exclusion of Mr. Bradlaugh at any cost, and feeling on both sides ran high. Finally Sir Stafford Northcote, obtained the floor. He said he wished to support in the strongest possible manner the motion of Mr. Wolf. Mr. Bradlaugh, he said, had declared that an oath was not binding on his conscience, and it would be a shame and a farce to allow him to take it. The act would be a disgrace to the House and an insult to God, and should not be permitted.

Mr. Henry Labouchere, who was elected for Northampton conjointly with Mr. Bradlaugh, took the side of his colleague, and in a somewhat impassioned speech appealed to the House to admit him to take the oath. Mr. Bradlaugh, he said, was elected for political and not for theological purposes. If the question were referred to a committee and that committee should report adversely, Mr. Labouchere said he would bring in a bill to enable Mr. Bradlaugh to make affirmation. The debate was adjourned until Monday.

AN ELOPEMENT PREVENTED.

The Thrashing an Adventurous Youth Got instead of Getting his Employer's Daughter.

Mr. John Z. Hyde, who declined to say where he lived, was taken before Justice Walsh, in Brooklyn, yesterday on the complaint of P. W. Jackson, who made a charge of assault. Jackson was not in court and Mr. Hyde said he thought he would not come. He went on to tell Justice Walsh about the case. He lives on Clinton street, near Atlantic avenue, and has an office in the city. Jackson, who was one of his clerks, is about twenty-five years old and Boards in Brooklyn. He was trusted a good deal by Mr. Hyde, who sent him several times with messages to Mrs. Hyde. On each occasion, Mr. Hyde has since learned, Jackson met his daughter Alice, who is eighteen. They met afterwards in the street, and acquaintance was formed. Mr. Hyde was astonished one evening to meet his daughter and Jackson on Broadway. They had been to the theatre. Mr. Hyde himself accompanied his daughter home and found that she had deceived her mother as to where she was going that evening. This brought out the story of her acquaintance with Jackson. Next morning Mr. Hyde called the clerk into his private office and told him that he must go, but upon his promise to remove from Brooklyn and never again see or speak to Miss Hyde he retained him. On Monday night Jackson's room-mate informed Mr. Hyde that Jackson had met Miss Hyde in spite of his promise and was going to elope with her the next night to Philadelphia and take the risk of "getting the old man's forgiveness." Mr. Hyde watched his daughter. About nine o'clock on Tuesday evening she asked permission to go out, saying that she wanted to go to Court street to buy some braid for a dress. Mrs. Hyde readily assented, and Mr. Hyde, taking a big stick, followed his daughter. She walked along Clinton street in the direction of Amity street. Near the corner a couple was standing in a dark place and Jackson was waiting on the sidewalk. Mr. Hyde quickened his pace so that he reached the carriage at the same time as his daughter, and when Jackson was preparing to receive Miss Hyde; Mr. Hyde stepped between them and thrashed Jackson on the head and shoulders with the cane. Then he took his daughter home. Jackson afterwards made a complaint against Mr. Hyde, but this latter does not think he will be troubled again about it. Justice Walsh dismissed the complaint.—N. Y. Herald.

CERTIFICATE from F. A. H. LARUE, Esq., M.A., M.D., Professor of Chemistry, and Government Analyst for the District and City of Quebec:—

Quebec, 12th May, 1880.
I have examined the "Cook's Own" Baking Powder, prepared by Messrs. Hossack, Woods & Co. Quebec, and having analyzed its product have found it perfectly satisfactory, containing no ingredient injurious to health, indeed a first-class article. I heartily recommend the use of the "Cook's Own" F. A. H. LARUE, M.A., M.D., Professor of Chemistry.

St. LAWRENCE HALL, Montreal, Feb. 20th, 1880.
Messrs. HOSSACK, WOODS & Co. Quebec.

Gentlemen—I take great pleasure in recommending your Baking Powder, "The Cook's Own," after having tried it I find it far superior to anything I have ever used, and I intend for the future to use it in my establishment. Yours, very respectfully, HENRY HOGAN, Proprietor, St. Lawrence Hall.

St. LOUIS HOTEL, Quebec, 23rd Feb'y., 1880.
Messrs. HOSSACK, WOODS & Co. Quebec.

Dear Sirs—After using the "Cook's Own" Baking Powder for some time I am pleased to advise you that it is the best I have ever used. You appear to have succeeded in compounding a perfectly unobjectionable Powder. I am satisfied that once it has become known its use will be very extensive. Yours respectfully, CONRAD STURFF, Head Cook St. Louis Hotel.

ALBION HOTEL, Quebec, 24th Feb'y., 1880.
Messrs. HOSSACK, WOODS & Co. Quebec.

Dear Sirs—The "Cook's Own" Baking Powder, manufactured by you, has now been used by this Hotel for some time, and gives unqualified satisfaction. Believing it to be the best in the market, I propose to use it exclusively. I am, yours truly, W. KNAPP.

MR. GLADSTONE AND THE BRITISH REFORMATION SOCIETY.

It appears that two of the appointments made by Mr. Gladstone in connexion with the formation of the new Government have given offence to some zealous Protestants, owing to the persons appointed being Roman Catholics.

"First—Because though not contrary to the letter it is contrary to the spirit of the laws, which preclude a Roman Catholic from occupying the throne of these realms and from filling the position of Her Majesty's representative in Ireland.

"Second—Because the Queen, having been created Empress of India, it is evident by implication that the same restrictions exist with respect to the appointment of Her Majesty's representative to rule over her 200,000,000 eastern subjects.

"Third—Because the appointment is a precedent changing those laws which preclude Roman Catholics from the throne of this country, which laws were found necessary to preserve the independence of the throne as well as our civil and religious liberties.

"Fourth—Because it has been so ably shown by the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone in certain pamphlets that more than ever since the decrees of the Vatican Council of 1870, no one can now become a convert to Romanism without renouncing his moral and mental freedom, and placing his loyalty, civil and mental, at the mercy of another; and because the spirit of a neophyte is expressed in the words, 'a Catholic first and an Englishman after,' which we take to mean that the convert intends, in the case of any conflict between the Queen and the Pope, to follow the Pope and not the Queen, and because the Marquis of Ripon, being in this position, it is, according to this showing, unbecoming to the dignity of the Empress of India and to the well being of her subjects that he should fill this very important position.

"Fifth—Because it is evinced by the fact that not a single Roman Catholic representative has been returned to Parliament by the constituencies of Great Britain, that this appointment is in direct opposition to their views.

In reply to these resolutions the following letter has been received from one of the secretaries of the Prime Minister:

My Lord—In reply to your letter enclosing a memorial from the British Reformation Society relating to the appointments held by Lord Ripon and Lord Kenmare I am directed by Mr. Gladstone to inform you that the qualifications of Lord Ripon for the high office of Viceroy of India had been carefully considered by Her Majesty's Government; that Her Majesty's Government repose particular confidence in the honor, integrity and impartiality of Lord Ripon, and are convinced, from long experience of his personal qualities, that he would never allow his religious leanings or professions to interfere in any case where religious interests might be concerned. I am desired to add that the office of Viceroy is one detached in a remarkable degree from all direct contact with religious or ecclesiastical interests, and that in the case of the Lord Chamberlain's office, Lord Kenmare, as has been publicly stated, has by voluntary arrangement divested himself of all functions bearing upon ecclesiastical matters, I am to add further that the citation in your memorial from the work entitled "Rome and the Newest Fashions of Religion" is verbally accurate, but presents, when taken alone, an incomplete and misleading view of Mr. Gladstone's opinions which are developed in the same book.

J. A. GODLEY.

FETE DIEU.—The procession of the Host will take place Sunday next from the Basilica to the Lower Town church.

ROYAL ARTILLERY.—Major Francis DeWinton, on the seconded list, has been gazetted Lieutenant-Colonel upon the seconded list. Captain F. H. W. Milner, from the supernumerary list, to be Captain.

SIX O'CLOCK EDITION

The Quebec Mercury.

TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 25, 1880.

The Viceregal Party, with the Prince Leopold and suite, left for Montmorency Falls this afternoon, and will proceed to Montreal to-morrow.

The Commander of the Militia Forces in Canada, Lieut.-General Sir Selby Smyth, left for Montreal by this afternoon's boat.

Prince Leopold is anxious to see as much of Canada as is possible having regard to the limited time at his disposal; and to enable him to carry out his wish the more effectually he feels compelled to avoid all ceremonial, and the fatigue and loss of time that would be involved in the reception of public addresses, or in public speaking of any description.

As a duty to perform towards the general public, we have been urged to protest emphatically against the abuse of power dealt out to the vast majority of Her Majesty's subjects by the lessees of the Driving Park. Abraham Plains have always hitherto been public ground since the conquest, and as such they should still be accessible to all on occasions of national importance. To keep out the general public at such times by the imposition of an entrance fee per head, is as unpatriotic as absurd. That the wealthier classes who chose to enter the grounds in carriages, or other people wishing a seat on a stand built at some expense, should pay for such comfort or luxury, we see no objection. For such expenses must be met by those enjoying the accommodation. But that humble pedestrians, comprising the great mass of our citizens, wishing to show their loyalty to their Queen on the first visit thereto of any of the Royal Family should be taxed therefor, was a matter of no small annoyance to very many yesterday who came unprepared for such an unexpected imposition. The levying of a toll at the front while thousands got in free all day on the east side is one which we cannot understand, and we are assured that His Excellency and the Princess join with us in condemning an act so derogatory to the rights of the people of the ancient capital.

From Ottawa this Evening.

Ottawa, May 25. It is understood that the Viceregal party, accompanied by Prince Leopold, will visit the capital in June before leaving on their fishing expedition.

A man named Savard and a child of his were thrown from a buggy at Hull last night and seriously injured. The child is not expected to recover.

Lumber shipping still goes briskly on, no further advance in prices is reported.

Several members of the police force have resigned their positions owing to the small salaries paid and are going to the Northwest.

Sir Chas Tupper is still confined to his room. As soon as he will recover he will leave for Manitoba. It is said, he contemplates a trip to British Columbia.

From Toronto this Evening.

Toronto, May 25. The first twelve of the Toronto lacrosse club defeated White Eagle's Iroquois team before an assemblage of 2,500 yesterday at the grounds of the club, winning three games to the Indians one.

An evening paper says that very little drunkenness was observed on the street yesterday.

The second twelve of the Toronto club visited Clifton yesterday and defeated the Cliftons in three straight games.

From Montreal this Evening.

Montreal May 25. A laborer named Cunningham fell into the hold of the steamship Sheik, of the Beaver line, and was instantly killed.

Miss Messier obtained a verdict for fifty dollars and costs for injuries received from being run over.

BERGLARY.—Thieves some time during last night broke into Mr. Barrow's money exchange office in Bunde street and made an attempt on the safe. They were apparently scared away before they had accomplished anything definite and left some of their tools behind them.

BY CABLE THIS EVENING.

London, May 25. Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Home Department, has been elected to Parliament for Derby without opposition.

THIS EVENING'S TELEGRAMS.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 25. The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment for $3,500 against the Reading Railroad for injuries sustained by a passenger at the time of the Pickering Valley Railroad disaster. This action will result in the prosecution of other suits unless the company's prostrated condition should interpose as barrier to further litigation.

Baltimore, May 25. A hard glove fight for $1,000 between Chas. Morton and Alfred Heath last night was won by Norton in 8 rounds in 24 minutes.

New York, May 25. R. C. Parsons writes to the Times, denying that he ever made an illegal contract of any kind to insure the Passage of the Texas, Pacific Railroad bills.

The Stock Market was excited this morning and showed greater depression than at any time the past year. A panic seemed imminent, but no failures are reported and the excitement is subsiding. Russell Sage, Jay Gould and other leaders privately state the bear movement has culminated and that bottom prices have been reached. Both Sage and Gould predict a much livelier and stronger market this summer than the public expect.

LATER.—At noon the market was recovering and showed an advance of 1 to 3 per cent on nearly all securities. Arrived, the steamships Wyoming, from Liverpool, Pereire, from Havre, Titania, from Dundee, Bothnia, from Liverpool.

Washington, Wis., May 25. John Conrad, a well-to-do farmer, a week ago on his return home intoxicated, beat his wife, bed ridden crippled son, aged 22 years, and threw him down stairs, breaking his neck. Conrad buried his son and announced that he had died of apoplexy. The body was exhumed and the crime discovered. Conrad was arrested at Buffalo en route for Germany.

East Greenwich, R. I., May 25. Mrs. Charles Hopkins, returning home this morning found a tramp rifling the house. Mrs. Hopkins, was dangerously hurt.

The native troops at Herat are fighting amongst themselves.

EPPE'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Eppe has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctor's bills.

It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame.—JAMES EPPE'S COCOA.—Solely in Packets in the "James Eppe & Co., Homeopathic Chemists London, England."

Dec. 15, 1879.

DR. J COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

ADVICE TO INVALIDS. If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary aching of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE, Member of the College of Physicians, London, to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered. CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Cholera, etc.

From Lord Francis Conyngham, Mount Charles, Donegal, 11th December, 1868. "Lord Francis Conyngham, who this time last year bought some of Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne from Mr. Daveport, and has found it a most wonderful medicine, will be glad to have half a dozen bottles sent at once to the above address."

CAUTION :- Beware of Piracy and Imitations. "Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he received a despatch from Her Majesty's Consulate at Manila, to the effect that Cholera has been raging furiously and that the ONLY remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."

CAUTION.-Vice-Chancellor Sir W. PAGE WOOD stated that Dr. J COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the Defendant, FREEMAN, was deliriously untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine unless the Words, "DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
