

SITUATION IN CONSTANTINOPLE GROWING IN DESPERATION DAILY

25,000 Kurds Said to be on Way to Help Turks—Grave Danger That Their Appearance in Capital Will be Signal for Massacre of Christians—Little Definite News From the Front—Turkish Commander-in-Chief Says Turkey will not Give up—Confident of Success.

Cologne, Germany, Nov. 8.—(Special)—It is reported in Sofia, Bulgaria, that the Porte has proposed to Belgrade to begin peace negotiations without mediation of powers, according to a despatch to the Cologne Gazette.

TURKS MASSACRE CITIZENS.—Constantinople, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Fugitive Turkish soldiers are reported to have massacred many of the inhabitants of the village of Silivri, on the coast of the sea of Marmora, to southwest of Tchatalja fort.

Fleeing soldiers, who were in a state of semi-starvation and utterly demoralized, are said to have set fire to all the houses in the village. A disease, resembling cholera, has broken out among wounded Turkish soldiers in Constantinople.

KURDS TO AID TURKS.

London, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The situation in Constantinople is growing in desperation every day. News was received to-day that 25,000 Kurds are marching through Asia on their way to Constantinople. Their purpose is to aid in fighting against the Balkan Allies, but it is improbable that they will arrive at the front in time to do anything in organized battles.

ARE RELIGIOUS FANATICS

These Kurds are religious fanatics and are barbarians in religion. In riots in the past they have proved their viciousness and will stop at nothing to wreak vengeance upon Christians. If they arrive at Constantinople they will add to general confusion and unless authorities are able to keep them strongly under hand slaughter of Christians in capital is probable.

Small armed bands of routed soldiers, who have drifted into Constantinople are fleeing from hunger and any day they, augmented by Kurds and ruffians of town, may break out. BRITISH CRUISER CARES FOR AMERICANS.

The British cruiser Weymouth which arrived at Scutari, a town just outside of Constantinople, not the town of same name which the Montenegrins are attacking, took off a number of American and Bulgarian scholars from the High School.

CHRISTIANS ARE LEAVING

Every Christian who can do so is leaving the capital. There are 600,000 Christians in town normally and in event of massacre there will inevitably be wiped out. The feeling against them is caused not only by the fact that it was the coalition of Christian nations who are winning victories against them, but also because Mohammedan Turks say that the loss of many battles was due to the fact that Christian soldiers in Turkish army were first to break under heavy fire.

If massacre starts warships in harbor will be able to do little to save Christians.

MORE TURKISH LOSSES.

The loss of Tchatalja lines of defence became known in Constantinople just after war department got news of probable surrender of Salonica and news of other Turkish losses throughout European Turkey.

CALL ON TURKS TO SURRENDER.

Athens, Greece, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Crown Prince Constantine of Greece has called upon Turkish stronghold of Saloniki to surrender. The army under his command has crossed the Vardar River and is now before Saloniki.

The Turkish garrison, which is believed to be composed of 1,500 men, has made preparations to resist Greek attack, but it is not believed that any serious opposition will be met with by Greek army, which will probably enter fortress to-day.

NO AUTHENTIC NEWS.

London, Nov. 8.—The past twenty-four hours have brought little news of importance from the seat of war. The report that Saloniki has been evacuated is premature and a similar report concerning Monastir is still unconfirmed. There has been no authentic news of the alleged defeat of the Turks before Tchatalja.

On the contrary, a Constantinople despatch sets forth the Turkish claim that there are no Bulgarians before Tchatalja and that both armies are resting. The Turkish reports regarding the progress of the war, however, have been so consistently misleading as to have little value.

The present lull in news may mean that some important action is proceeding. In the meantime diplomatic efforts to end the war are making progress and the European progress is busy discussing all the aspects of the settlement of difficult questions. Everything tends to show that almost irreconcilable antagonisms will arise over the allocation of Turkish territory. Serbia claims as her share a large part of Albania, including the Adriatic ports of Durazzo, Alessio and San Giovanni di Medua.

According to the Serbian premier's statement to the Paris Temps the allies desire the partition of European Turkey, leaving the fate of Constantinople to the decision of the powers. According to reports current in Berlin, the intention of the allies is to divide Albania between Serbia and Greece, but an agreement already exists between Austria and Italy, which would be supported by Germany, guaranteeing the integrity and independence of Albania, and the Triple Alliance is determined to prevent Serbia at all costs from reaching the Adriatic. It is even asserted that the Triple Alliance has agreed to make Albania independent with the Duke of the Abruzzi as king.

Another important meeting occurred at Bucharest yesterday between the Roumanian premier and the Russian and Austrian ministers. It is reported that the powers will to-day communicate to the Balkan states Turkey's request for mediation.

CONFIDENT OF SUCCESS.

Constantinople, November 8.—Public opinion in Constantinople is strongly opposed to the idea of seeking mediation or peace. Nazim Pasha, the Turkish commander-in-chief, has reported to the Government that the army is determined to fight until victorious or absolutely defeated. He regards the reverses sustained as unfortunate, but says that the brave Ottoman army is confident of ultimate success and that the whole corps of officers are unanimously in favor of continuing the war.

The principal officers in Constantinople have handed the great vizier, Kiamil Pasha, a signed declaration in the same spirit, and the party of Union and Progress promises to support the Government in the policy of prosecuting the war with energy. These considerations are having weight with the Government.

HAS ADRIANOPLE FALLEN?

London, November 8.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail sends the following from Bucharest: "I have just arrived from Sofia and have good grounds for believing that Adrianople has fallen, but Bulgaria is concealing the fact lest the powers should intervene before the capture of Constantinople."

"Extraordinary endeavors have been made since Monday to prevent news leaking, the censorship being even extended to letters. I understand that the whole garrison surrendered Tuesday unconditionally. Meanwhile, with the utmost energy that they have, the Bulgarians are concentrating an overwhelming force with a view to the occupation of Constantinople, so that intervention by the powers will follow the accomplished fact."

MONTENEGRIN KING DISLIKES PROTRACTED SIEGE OF SCUTARI.

London, November 8.—Below Adrianople, says a Sofia despatch to the Standard, the Bulgarians have dammed up the river Maritza so that the water has been forced back and flooded the town. It is expected that this will compel an early surrender. A Cetinje despatch to the Standard, says that King Nicholas is annoyed at the protracted siege of Scutari as Montenegro has occupied much less Turkish territory than any other allies, and it is feared that this will have an unfavorable effect when the partition of Turkey is made.

The King, therefore, has ordered the commanders of the other Montenegrin columns to push forward and occupy as many places as possible before the Servians penetrate further west.

Another Cetinje despatch says that the whole country is in the grip of winter, that the snow there is two feet deep, and that the roads are impassable.

ANOTHER VICTORY.

London, November 8.—The Times prints the following despatch, dated Sofia, November 7, 11.20 p. m.: "It is reported, but without official confirmation, that the Bulgarian troops have occupied the Tchatalja lines."

NO SIGN OF ADVANCE.

London, November 8.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Mail reports that he was in Tcholaru on Tuesday last, at which time there was no sign of the Bulgarian advance.

ROYAL GEORGE STILL FAST ON ROCKS

Passengers Could Not be Taken Off Owing to Bad Weather.

EXPECTED THAT THEY WILL BE CONVEYED TO QUEBEC TO-DAY.

Quebec, November 8.—The Canadian Northern steamer Royal George still rests firmly on the rocks one mile east of Point St. Lawrence, on the north side of the south channel, with five hundred steerage passengers and the members of the crew on board. The company's officials were firmly convinced that the passengers would have been all removed from the steamer yesterday and conveyed by tender to Quebec, but the elements interfered with their plans. Consequently the people had to remain with the ship, at least until to-day, when they may be brought to Quebec.

The condition of the steamer is practically the same as when she got off her course, and was carried at full speed on the rocks, head on, and though her position is serious, experts have every confidence that she can be hauled off, but not before she is lightened and with the aid of the highest spring tide, which will occur Saturday next.

Her No. 2 hold is full of water, but so far as can be learned No. 1 hold is intact, likewise No. 3 and 4, stokehole and engine room.

The steamer is caught on the rocks between her two funnels, and so firmly that unless lightened of her cargo at least in No. 1 hold it would not be prudent in the interest of saving the ship to attempt to haul her off.

RUSSIA ON WAR FOOTING

Time Expired Soldiers Must Remain With Regiments Until Spring.

STATED GOVERNMENT HAS TAKEN THIS AS BEST MEANS OF PREVENTING WAR.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The Russian Government has decided to retain all time-expired soldiers of Russian army on active service with their regiments until next spring. This places the army practically on war footing, as the order affects several hundred thousand men whose places would in ordinary course have been taken by the same number of recruits who have just been called up. It is announced that the Government has taken this step as the best means of preventing war, and it is thought that this can only mean that Government fears possibility of complications arising out of the Balkan situation.

The detention of time-expired men will entail a cost of many millions.

EXTRAORDINARY FATAL ACCIDENT

Farmer Used gun to Strike Horse and was Shot In Breast.

WAS ON A HUNTING TRIP, ACCOMPANIED BY TWELVE YEAR-OLD SON.

Edmonton, Alta., November 8.—One of the most extraordinary accidents in the mortality records of Alberta was reported to Governor Dr. Frankum, of Stettler, when the 12-year-old son of Raphael Engles, a farmer living near Stettler, brought the body of his father home after an interrupted hunting trip, during which the father was killed accidentally by his own hand.

Father and son had started out with a horse and buggy on a hunting trip. They had gone only a short distance when Mr. Engle tried to make his horse travel faster. Failing to coax the animal into a trot the farmer picked up a loaded shotgun, which was lying in the bottom of the rig, and struck the horse sharply over the back with the stock of the weapon, breaking the butt end below the trigger guard. By some unknown agency the trigger caught and the right barrel of the gun exploded, killing him instantly.

The son placed his father's body in the bottom of the buggy, returned to Stettler and notified the coroner.

ILLINOIS IS IN WILSON COLUMN

California, However, Has Gone Over to the Progressives

COLONEL ROOSEVELT LOST 29 ELECTORAL VOTES WITH WHICH HE WAS CREDITED.

New York, Nov. 8.—Uncertainty as to the electoral choice of California and Illinois, as developed by belated returns from both States, was the chief point of interest yesterday, although counting of the ballots in several doubtful States was still under way.

That Illinois was safely in the Wilson column was indicated early in the evening, but California, which had been claimed by the Democrats shortly after the closing of the polls, wavered toward the Progressive ranks. The Wilson plurality, estimated Wednesday at 12,000, was cut to less than 800, with a few hundred remote precincts still unheard from. Progressive leaders claimed these would change the total to a Roosevelt plurality, but the missing precincts generally were accredited to the Democrats, and the Wilson lead, while small, seemed safe.

After apparently holding Illinois for nearly forty hours after the polls closed, Colonel Roosevelt lost its twenty-nine electoral votes late in the day when the assembling of State wide returns showed a definite victory for Governor Wilson.

HON. G. E. FOSTER ENTERS A PROTEST

Would Not Allow it to be Said Australian Wheat Was Best

CANADA WAS BOLSTERED UP TO BELIEVE MANITOBA NO. 1 IS BEST ON EARTH.

London, Nov. 8.—During a sitting of the Dominion Royal Commission a member of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce stated that Australian wheat was by far the best in the world. Hon. George E. Foster immediately pounced upon him for his proofs. "How can you expect a Canadian to sit cool while listening to such a statement unless you give some proof. You know," he added, "we've bolstered ourselves up in Canada with the idea that our Manitoba No. 1 hard is the best wheat on the earth. Perhaps you'll modify your statement to the assertion that Australian wheat is just as good."

THE FOUR ACCUSED GANG LEADERS ARE TO BE GIVEN SEPARATE TRIALS.

New York, Nov. 8.—(Special)—The preparations for the trial of the four gangsters indicted with former Police Lieutenant Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal were considerably advanced to-day, when the drawing of a panel was commenced from a special panel of 200 taxpayers. The four accused gang leaders are to be given separate trials. "Whitely" Lewis will be the first to face prosecution. It is expected to have everything in readiness to begin his trial about the middle of next week. William Shapiro, driver of the "murder car" will be one of the leading witnesses for the prosecution.

ITALIANS ATTACK RAILWAY CONDUCTOR

Incensed Because Their Boarding Cars Were Run Into.

EMPLOYEE NAMED CHAFFEE RECEIVED SEVERAL SERIOUS WOUNDS FROM THE MOB.

L'Acadie, Nov. 8.—(Special)—As a freight was taking a siding here to clear the main line for the passenger trains on Wednesday night, through some confusion of signals they struck a line of boarding cars at a good rate of speed, giving them a hard shaking up.

Among these cars were those of a gang of Italian laborers numbering twenty-five, who swarmed from the wreckage like bees, and arming themselves with shovels, stones, etc., attacked the first person they met, who happened to be Conductor Chaffee. He received several bad wounds from their weapons before his lantern was demolished, leaving him in darkness, which admitted of his escape.

The foreman of the Italians did all in his power to control them, but in the intense excitement he could do but little.

The event caused considerable excitement in the town, as the rumor spread that a murder had been committed.

THE "DEVIL SHIP"

Motor Vessel's 21,000 Miles Voyage to and From Far East

The motorship Selandia, the first mechanically propelled passenger and cargo vessel to be independent of steam power, completed her first round voyage to the Far East when she arrived in London after a voyage of 21,500 miles. In spite of the fact that the vessel embodies many new principles, and was strange to her engineers, only one slight adjustment of the exhaust valves, involving fifteen minutes' rest for the engines was found necessary during the entire trip. In all matters of fuel consumption, ease of manoeuvre and general behaviour the vessel far exceeded expectations.

The Selandia's progress east of the Suez Canal occasioned great excitement amongst the natives. The mystery surrounding the absence of funnels and sails resulted in her gaining the name of the "Devil ship," and as such she was heralded from Bangkok to Singapore. Great incredulity existed as to the nature of the vessel at first, even amongst the naval officials of one important eastern country, but this was dispelled after a day's cruise upon her.

The success of the voyage has left the owners, the Danish East Asiatic Society, to order three other motor ships of greater tonnage.

The fuel consumption fell considerably below that estimated by the builders. On her home voyage the Selandia averaged ten nautical miles per hour on a consumption of 8.5 tons of oil per day. During her stay in the Far East the Selandia, which is hand some appointed as a passenger vessel, was utilised by the Crown Prince of Siam and his suite for a short cruise.

Call to Prayer.

A call to prayer, in view of indications over the whole land of a great lack of spiritual interest, was issued by the United Free Church General Assembly.

Sprightly at Ninety-four.

At the annual school sports at Clocharn School at Auchnacraig there was a race for those over ninety, in which Mrs. Reid, Wolfstone, a nimble lady of ninety-four, took first place. She also danced a reel with the head teacher, the other male partner being Mr. Thomson, Blackbriggs, who is seventy-seven years of age.

Curious Outbreak of Fire.

While a lorry was being driven along Kennedy street, Glasgow, with a load of grain, the lorryman noticed that the grain was on fire. He capsize the lorry, and shot the burning grain on to the street. The Central Fire Brigade were summoned, and extinguished the fire.

Led by Octogenarian.

At the annual treat of the scholars attending the Nonconformist Sunday schools at Pontliffon, the procession was led by Mr. John Davies, who is over eighty-two years of age, and a regular attendant of Bethlehem Methodist Sunday School.

Sea Birds' Sanctuary.

A committee has purchased and handed over to the National Trust a portion of the seaboard of North Norfolk at Blakeney Point to be conserved for all time. It consists of several hundred acres of saltings, muds, and marshes ringed round with sandhills. The point is the sanctuary of hundreds of sea birds, protected during the nesting season, while the saltings are adapted for the study of marine plants.

Bird's Nest in a Skull.

It has just been discovered that a bird has built its nest in a human skull in a vault beneath a church at Rothwell, Northamptonshire. The bird must have entered the vault through the ventilator, and after selecting the largest cranium among the rows of skulls on the shelves proceeded to enlarge a hole which had probably been made originally by a battle-axe. The vault was discovered 200 years ago when a digger fell into it accidentally.

VILLAGE WITHOUT PAUPERS.

Wiltshire Hamlet Where Premier Often Reads Lessons.

Easton Grey, a little Wiltshire village, is in the enviable position of being pauperless. There has not been one person for over a year in receipt of outdoor poor relief.

Easton Grey is proud of its blind vicar, the Rev. J. J. Beresford, who is not only a poet, but writes his compositions with his own hand. Many of his works have been published. This blind poet's calligraphy is beautifully even and firm, and may almost be said to reach the beauty of the old-fashioned "copperplate" handwriting.

Frequently during the year Mr. Asquith visits this small old-world village, and when he does so he not only partakes of lunch at "Musby Junction"—as Charles Dickens called Swindon Station in the days of the Misses Pitt and Shuff—but he reads the lessons in the little parish church on Sunday, for the assistance of the vicar.

Close to Easton Grey village is the famous Fosse Way, made by the ancient Romans, and adjacent to this is a small hill known as Fosse Knoll. It is supposed to be the site of an old Roman station long since buried and obliterated, but Atkinson, the historian, wrote that this was the site of the city of "Whitewalls," and he alludes to the fact that "its masoned ramparts" and the "ruined foundations of the buildings within this area have been disclosed."

Some of the inhabitants of Easton Grey possess old coins and pieces of broken pottery, which have been found in the neighborhood.

The remains of the ancient earth-works—probably the pretorium of the station—are still visible in Easton Grey Wood, situated between the knoll and the village.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

OLD COUNTRYMEN IN THE TOWNSHIPS.

The Editor, Sherbrooke:

Dear Sir,—Following the reproduction in your issue of the 26th ult. of my letter which appeared in the Canadian Mail of October 12th, you publish in your issue of the 2nd inst. a critique of the same from Mr. Thomas Didymers of Sherbrooke. Judging from the tone of his letter Mr. Didymers is either a confirmed guidunc or somewhat of a St. Thomas.

Contrary to the opinion expressed by this gentleman I did not write the letter he refers to either as a lesson in "High Finance, Economy or Industry" or as a "Self Laudatory Statement," but simply gave a plain statement of facts which may easily be verified by a visit to Cookshire.

Perhaps my "achievement," as Mr. Didymers is pleased to term it, may appear as miraculous as "The Widow's Cruise of Oil." Who knows? But that, like the congregation at "The Sermon on the Mount," I invested five small loves and a couple of "Suckers" as a preliminary report then gathering up the fragments placed them in cold storage for future use, thus with the addition of the milk perquisite referred to, completely eliminating any further item of expense so far as food was concerned.

But no! The Twentieth Century is not an age of Divine Miracles and a more detailed explanation would, perhaps, serve to dispel any elements of a scepticism which a perusal of my previous letter might have instilled into the minds of some of its readers.

Had Mr. Didymers given my letter a more careful analysis he would probably have found his third question, viz: "Has he, perchance, omitted mention of any possible earnings by other members of his family?" a superfluous one, for on two occasions I mentioned my wife as having helped materially in getting together the sum requisite for the purchase of my house and lot. Simple arithmetic will show that eleven months earnings at $25 a month amounts to only $275 and as I paid $475 for the house and lot it stands to reason that the remaining $200 had to come from some other source other than my salary.

Four backs and feet to clothe and protect: Some of my household goods I brought with me, including sufficient clothing to last us over a year and surely Mr. Didymers will acknowledge that it does not require a very advanced technical training to make many articles of furniture which though perhaps not quite up to the standard of Chippendale would, nevertheless, serve until such time as I had sufficient saved to invest in more elaborate furnishings. I may here add that when I took possession of my house I didn't purchase at once dining and bedroom suites, cheval glasses, a piano, or any of the other "indispensables" of some of our "tony" emigrants.

As regards the implements for the cultivation of my acre I did not find it necessary to place orders with the firms of Massey-Harris or McCormack for all the tools I possessed were a spade, shovel and hoe. The remaining implements I brought with me from the Old Country, to wit: a pair of hands attached to two hundred pounds of "mere man."

My statement as to saving more in Cookshire in eleven months than in eighteen years in England is quite correct for I never saved £95 there, this sum being approximately the amount invested by me the first year, and I may add I lost practically no time through illness.

As Mr. Didymers suggests my tastes may have been "expensive." No! I never frequented either a Bond Street tailor or "The Savoy" Hotel—a beef-steak and an occasional glass of 'arf and 'arf being more in my line than grilled broths washed down with copious draughts of Mumm's or Pommery Extra Sec. The whole fact of the matter is—I determined to have a house of my own and in eleven months I, with the help of my wife, managed to put by $475, not by any means an impossible feat even though Mr. Didymers seems inclined to think that such an "achievement" would necessitate the study of advanced economics or some such works of this nature.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM G. LUCY.
"The Abnormally successful Economist."

ENDING THE "TAG DAY" NUISANCE.

(Christian Science Monitor)

Many of the cities of the country have passed through the "tag day" experience, but it is doubtful if any of them are now desirous of repeating it. At the beginning, being a novel idea, and the objects for which the tagging was carried on being unquestionably good, the public fell in with it very agreeably. But, like many other good things, the "tag day" has been overdone. Repetition has worn on the novelty. It was "tag day" for this and "tag day" for that. Business men in the cities could never tell what they were going to be tagged for next. It became an obnoxious practice, too, because it enlisted the activities of girls and young women under conditions that had a tendency to break down a reserve and impair a dignity in the maintenance of which, at the highest possible standard, all good men and women and society as a whole are deeply concerned.

The mayor of Chicago has given notice that no further permits will be given for general tagging. It will be tolerated for the present, if tolerated at all, only in the neighborhood of those outlying institutions that it purports to benefit. Even with this limitation, it is fairly certain that tagging will soon prove itself a custom deserving of honor only in the breach. The Mayor of New York vetoed ordinances of the board of aldermen granting permits for "tag days" in June, 1910, and again in Jan. 1912. He has just vetoed another, and on grounds that all thinking people must approve.

The practice has received a great setback. But it was high time.

RESTING ON HIS LAURELS.

An undertaker was discussing queer sepulchres.

"A queer sepulchre indeed," he said, "was that of a German play-wright, Gustave Von Moser. Von Moser kept in his house a costly and beautiful urn. He purposed to be cremated, and his ashes were to be put in the urn afterward."

But the strangest thing about the urn was it contained a little bed of ashes during Von Moser's life. He used you see, to get a good many laurel wreaths when his new plays were put on, and he would take a sprig from each wreath, burn it, and drop the ashes into the urn.

"My own ashes," he would say, "will lie on top. Thus, after death, it may be truly said of me that I am resting on my laurels."

CHASE & SANBORN MONTREAL

The choicest cocoa beans from the tropics are used for Lowney's Cocoa. We could buy beans at much lower prices. They would make a very fair cocoa—but not Lowney's.

The beans are thoroughly cleaned.

After cleaning comes the roasting. Cocoa beans from different localities are roasted in separate roasters. The roasting is carefully timed to bring out the full richness of the flavor.

The beans then go through a cracker and fanner to remove the shells. The product of this process is called "Cocoa Nibs."

Next comes the blend. The rich flavor of Lowney's Cocoa is largely attributable to skill and experience in blending cocoa beans from different localities.

The blended cocoa nibs are then ground into a semi-liquid.

Cocoa beans have a natural excess of cocoa butter. The excess butter is removed by a hydraulic process.

The cocoa, now dry, is ground again to a fine powder and sifted through silk to insure the proper fineness. The sifted powder is then packed in tins.

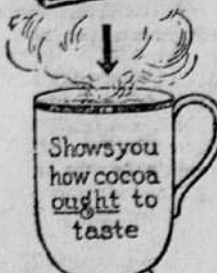

Each package, with the Lowney label, contains a blend of the world's choicest cocoa beans, thoroughly cleaned, skillfully roasted, relieved of excess cocoa butter and ground to a fine powder, which, in boiling, yields its full, rich flavor. It gives a beverage which, as we say, "shows you how cocoa ought to taste."

Our Montreal factory is in keeping with the cocoa it produces—a model for the cocoa business.

Sold at grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

NO INDIGESTION, GAS OR A SOUR STOMACH

"Pape's Diapiesin" makes your Stomach feel fine in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother.
If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; your head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Diapiesin and in five minutes you truly will wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapiesin occasional keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapiesin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.
Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

STATE AID TO MOTHERS.

(London Daily Graphic)
The Australian method of the endowment of maternity is the most direct yet in existence. In Paris large blocks of flats for working people have been erected, and every tenant has a quarter's rent remitted to him on the birth of a child. M. Messimy, the ex-War Minister, has a bill before the Chamber for the payment of $100 to a mother on the birth of each child after the third.

The inland revenue report issued recently shows that Mr. Lloyd George's 1901 bonus for babies—that is, the relief given to new-born with incomer not exceeding $2,500 at the rate of $50 free of tax in respect to each child under 16 years old—amounted to $25,000,000 for 1910-11 and $19, 000,000 in the preceding year. The figures for 1911-12 are not yet available.

HOW LEAVES FALL IN AUTUMN.
The fall of leaves in autumn is a remarkable process, the foliage of oaks and beeches being slowly dropping during a period of weeks and even months, while some trees and shrubs become suddenly bare in a few days. A curious case is made of a horse chestnut and a maple at the Botanical Garden at Halle, Germany. Both trees were in full leaf when a frost of 26 degrees F. came one October night, and when the sun rose at 8 o'clock a veritable shower began from each tree, the leaves dropping in a great stream.

The fall stopped suddenly at the end of an hour from the horse chestnut and in about half an hour from the maple. In the hour the horse chestnut lost 87,603 leaves, weighing 135 pounds; and the half hour fall from the maple was 61 pounds, or 16,518 leaves, at the average of 9.2 per second. The last leaf fell from the horse chestnut on November 10th, the total fall from it from October 27th, having been 276,900 leaves, weighing 445 pounds.

Deaths Reported

MRS. JOHN DOE, GRANBY.
Granby, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Alma Kenison, widow of the late John Doe, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Smith, on Sunday morning. The deceased, who was in her 96th year, had the misfortune to fall and break her hip bone about nine weeks ago, but was progressing favorably until Thursday last, when symptoms of appendicitis developed, and although everything possible was done she passed away on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Doe were the first couple to be married in the old Episcopal Church, about 66 years ago, and she had lived in Granby all this time, with the exception of two or three years spent in Roxton. The deceased was remarkably active up to the time of her accident, retaining her mental faculties to the last, and it was interesting to hear her relate incidents which occurred many years ago, when Granby was but a little hamlet.

Five children are left to mourn her loss: Messrs. Lewis, James and John Doe; Mrs. Robert Webster and Mrs.
Charles Smith, all of Granby, three sons, Seymour, Alphonso and Henry, having predeceased her some years ago.

The funeral was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith on Tuesday, the Rev. W. S. Lennon officiating.
The funeral was managed by Mr. D.
M. Mitchell and the bearers were the three sons and son-in-law.

THE LAST VETERAN OF BELGIAN WAR

Old Soldier Who Fought Under Many Flags Honored by His King
Shortly Before His Death

Philippe Dumoulin, the last of the veterans who fought for Belgium in dependence in 1830, is dead at the age of 103 years. Up to the last Dumoulin had, as the French express it, "Good foot and good eye." He smoked his beloved pipe and never missed his nightcap of old "peket" which was regularly sent to him from Limbourg.
Dumoulin used to boast that he had been French under Napoleon, Dutch under William the First, Belgian under two Leopolds and into the third generation of the Belgian dynasty—
"Vive le roi Albert!"

Just three weeks before the old pensioner died, the inhabitants of the village of Feluy-Arquennes, where he lived, were astonished by the spectacle of a royal automobile throbbing through the quiet old street, and pulling up in front of the little "cabaret" of which Dumoulin was landlord. This was the arrival of M. Godefrid, one of the royal secretaries, who had come to "prepare" the veteran for the visit of King Albert himself, the latter having expressed a desire to shake hands with the famous old warrior ere he responded to the last roll-call.

All roads led to Arquennes next day, and all roads were crowded with country-folk who left off work for the great occasion, and climbed walls and house-tops to greet the popular King Albert. The bent old man, trembling with emotion, awaited the royal automobile, standing on the threshold of his humble dwelling, surrounded by three generations of his offspring Spick and span in his veteran's dress with a row of gleaming medals and decorations, the old soldier was a striking figure.

The king, in full military dress descended from the automobile and advanced towards the old hero with his arms outstretched. There was a long embrace, during which the enthusiasm of the assembled multitude knew no bounds. King Albert then entered the little cabaret and was invited to step into the back parlor.

"Sure, you will accept a drink from me?" said Dumoulin, with quivering voice.

"No, no, I thank you for your good intention!" answered the king, smiling.

But the old fighter said in almost reproachful tones—"Is his Majesty going to deny me this pleasure?"

"Let be," said King Albert, "I will clink glasses with you and drink to your health."

Glasses were filled all round for the king, for the hero of the hour for the cure, and for the burgomaster.
The king approached his host and said:

"My brave Dumoulin, I drink to you health, and hope to see you again!"
"Vive le Roi!" cried Dumoulin, as the king clinked glasses with all.
Then the sovereign presented to the veteran one of his latest portraits representing him in full uniform.

"I could get my fare."

The clerk said that it had been ascertained that O'Brien came home from the South African war with $3,000, and that he soon spent the money. The application was refused.

Agassiz and Askwith

A witness giving his views on strikes before the Industrial Council of London, caused a good deal of laughter when, questioned as to "intimidation" he turned to the chairman (Sir George Askwith) and said: "If your esteemed brother, for instance, was coming out of the Carlton Club and got kicked to the ground—"

"I think you are confusing me with someone else," said Sir George.

"I understood the Premier was your brother," remarked the witness.

"No," replied Sir George, laughing,
"an esteemed friend but no relation."

"I think you are confusing me with someone else," said Sir George.

"I understood the Premier was your
brother," remarked the witness.

"No," replied Sir George, laughing,
"an esteemed friend but no relation."

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE AT CATHEDRAL.

Yesterday morning the great bells of St. Michael's Cathedral tolled solemnly for the anniversary service of Mr. Antoine Racine, first Bishop of the Diocese of Sherbrooke, who passed to his rest twenty years ago. The Church was draped in mourning, and the service was most impressive, the musical portion being finely rendered by the choir and organist. The Church was crowded with the faithful and the clerics of the city, including Mr. Chailfoux, V.G., Mr. Tansey, the Rev. E. V. Charest, Rev. H. A. Simard, Rev. A. L. Desaulniers, Rev. A. Maltais, the Rev. Abbes N. Codere, M. Marcotte, Rev. A. O. Gagnon and many others, together with all the priests of St. Charles College, Mr. Paul LaRoche assisted at the service, which was given by the Rev. J. P. Gosselin of the Bishop's Palace, assisted by the Abbes Honorio Carlo and V. Vincent, as deacon and sub-deacon. The anniversary Mass has been celebrated every year on this date since the death of the lamented prelate, who was a man of fine character, great ability and deep piety, and was beloved in the diocese.

"THE BOHEMIAN GIRL."

"The Bohemian Girl," as presented at His Majesty's Theatre by the Abena Company last evening, was one of the most stupendous and spectacular productions ever seen in this city. The scenery was without exception the best seen on the local stage for some time. The scenery in the first act must have mesmerized the audience, as not a ripple of applause was heard until after three or four songs had been sung. As the play progressed, however, the audience warmed up and reached the climax when the Hassans, the Arab acrobats, gave what was undoubtedly the best exhibition of unique acrobatic work ever seen in Sherbrooke. Their efforts simply carried the audience by storm.

The singing of the principals and chorus was very good. Miss Morrison as Arline, the Bohemian Girl, was charming. The Count and the Gypsy Chief both possessed beautiful bass voices, the former being heard to the best advantage in "Hearts Bowed Down," which was loudly encored. Other musical gems were "Then You'll Remember Me" and "Bliss Forever Past."

Coming back once again to the scenery it was most realistic. The mounted horsemen galloped across the stage and up the winding mountain paths. This in itself was something absolutely new. Taking the play from beginning to end, it was of the kind theatregoers should not miss.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

COUNTRY PRODUCE

EGG MARKET FIRM.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—There was no new developments in the egg market, prices being firmly maintained under a continued good demand for local consumption and the smaller supplies coming forward on account of the decreased production throughout the country. We quote prices as follows: Selected stock, in round lots, 30c to 31c; selected stock, in single cases, 30c to 31c; No. 1 cold storage stock, in round lots, 27c to 28c; straight receipts, in single cases, 28c; second grades, in round lots, 21c; second grades, in single cases, 22c.

HONEY DEMAND GOOD.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The demand for honey continues fair and the tone of the market is firm, but prices show no actual change. We quote: Clover, white honey, 16c to 17c; dark grades, 14c to 14½c; white extracted, 12c to 12½c; buckwheat, 9c to 9½c.

MAPLE PRODUCTS QUIET

Montreal, Nov. 8.—Business in maple product continues very quiet and the market is dull with prices nominally unchanged. Maple syrup is selling at 8c to 8½c per lb., in tins, and 6½c to 7c per lb., in wood, and maple sugar at 8½c to 9c per lb.

GOOD POTATO TRADE.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—A good trade is passing in potatoes and the market is fairly active with a firm undertone. We quote: Cobblers, in car lots, 70c to 75c per bag, and in a jobbing way, at 90c to 95c per bag.

DAIRY PRODUCE

BUTTER PRICES MAINTAINED
Montreal, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Receipts of butter were 402 packages, as compared with 556 for the corresponding date last year. There were no new developments in the market, prices being firmly maintained with a good demand from local buyers, and a fairly active trade is doing. We quote prices as follows: Finest creamery, 29½c to 30½c; fine creamery, 29c to 29½c; seconds, 28½c to 29c; dairy butter, 25½c to 26c.

CHEESE IN DEMAND.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—All the offerings at Peterboro were colored goods, for which the demand was keen and all were sold at 12½c. The local market is quiet, the demand being still limited from over the cable. We quote prices for current receipts: Finest western colored, 13c to 13½c; finest western colored, 13c to 13½c; finest Townships, 12½c to 12½c; finest Quebec, 12c to 12½c; seconds, 11½c to 11½c.

PROVISION MARKET.

NO CHANGE REPORTED IN PRICE OF HOGS.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—There was no further change in prices for live hogs on spot but it is expected that they will be 25c per 100 lbs. lower next week. The supply was fair, for which the demand from packers was good and sales of selected lots were made at $8.50 to $8.75 per 100 lbs. weighed off cars. A weaker feeling has prevailed in the market for dressed hogs and prices have declined 25c per 100 lbs. The condition of the market for hams and bacon was unchanged, but the feeling is easier and prices would likely be shaded for round lots. A fair trade is passing in lard, and the demand for barreled pork is increasing.

E. T. LIVE STOCK.

FRENCH WIRELESS STATIONS.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The French Government has decided to establish a series of wireless stations connecting Paris with the various French colonies with North and South America. The project as laid before the chamber contemplates the expenditure of $4,000,000, about a third of that sum to be expended in 1913.

The point of connection in North America has not yet been specified, but the South American-Pacific girdle includes stations in Morocco, the island of St. Louis, Martinique, the Marquesas Islands, Tahiti, Noumea, capital of New Caledonia, and thence to Saigon, Indo-China.

The opening was fractionally off from last night's final price, influenced by heaviness in the London market and during the first hour pressure increased, carrying active interests down, as a rule two points from yesterday's best. Moderate rally is now in progress though it lacks aggressiveness.

DRESSING FOR COURT

An Expert Tailor Scrutinizes Attire of Those Attending State Functions

Some interesting stories of mistakes made in the matter of dress for functions of the British Court, where punctiliousness in this respect is, of course, essential, are related in connection with a new edition of a book, "Dress Worn at Court," by Herbert Trendall. Mr. Trendall is chief clerk of the Lord Chamberlain's Department, whose regulations for the dress of those who attend Courts or levees are so strict that an expert Court tailor is posted as the agent of the department at the entrance of the rooms in which the functions are held. It is his duty to scrutinize the clothes of each man to see that they are in accordance with the regulations and to draw attention to any irregularity.

This expert declares that "the most frequent mistakes arise from the fact that there are two styles of Court dress at present permitted to the ordinary civilian—an old and a new. Both are of black velvet, but the older dress is more elaborately ornamented with steel buttons, and there are lace collars and cuffs at the neck and wrists. The mistakes arise in the form of attempts to introduce some of these ornaments of the old Court dress into the simpler form of the new.

"Sometimes people in uniform come to Court wearing the trousers prescribed for a levee instead of the breeches necessary for Court dress. If there is time the Lord Chamberlain's officials occasionally insist on their going home to rectify such mistakes, but as there is no need at Courts for many of the men to enter presence at all, they are often allowed to pass with the warning to keep in the background as much as possible.

"Once I had to point out to a well known General as he was going in that his sword was fastened on the wrong side. It is fairly common for civilians to make the mistake of putting the sword on the right-hand side.

"The Court dress of a private gentleman costs from $150 to $250, according to the elaboration of the steel work in the buttons and sword-belt."

MOTHER, WATCH THE CHILDREN'S HEALTH

If cross, feverish, sick or tongue coated give "Syrup of Figs."

SPORTING NEWS

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally, it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated, give a few hours of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the poisons will gently move on and out of its little system without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful. Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy.

Send a little given to-day will save a sick child to-morrow. Full directions for children of all ages and grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

MISTAKES MADE IN DREADNOUGHTS

Many Nations Find It Impossible to Estimate the Weight or Cost of Their Naval Fighting Machines

A rumor that Austria's first Dreadnought, the Viribus Unitis, is suffering from miscalculations in the preparation of her design is practically confirmed, according to the London newspapers, by the very weak denial that has been published semi-officially. This statement is to the effect that there have been no miscalculations, and that if there have been they can easily be remedied; or, if they cannot be remedied, that they do not matter very much after all.

It is explained that the trouble is in calculating the weight of the twelve 12 inch guns, which are to be mounted in four triple turrets, the weight of the mounting was forgotten. The difference amounts to twenty tons per gun, or 240 tons in all. This only means that the ship will be between two and three inches lower in the water.

The Austrian Admiralty may find some consolation in the fact that excessive draught is a common fault with pioneer Dreadnoughts. The first British Dreadnought, designed for a draught of 26½ ft., actually draws 31 ft. when fully loaded. There is, however, always a considerable difference between normal draught and the "full load" draught—the Dreadnought, for instance, carries only 900 tons of fuel at normal load and 2,600 at full load; but the draught in the latter condition is considerably over what was estimated, and is sufficient totally to submerge the main 11 inch armour belt.

The Dreadnought, however, was admittedly an experimental vessel, and her faults were not repeated. Germany, on the other hand, began her Dreadnought building with four vessels of identical design, laid down within a few weeks of each other. It was well known that one, the Westfalen, is several feet deeper in the water than was intended so that all four must necessarily suffer from the same defect.

The result of this increased immersion is to decrease speed, to submerge the armour belt, to reduce the "command" of the guns, and to reduce the area which the ship can navigate in safety.

The first Italian Dreadnought, the Dante Alighieri, displaces nearly 1,500 tons more than she was designed for. A committee appointed to inquire into the matter reported that it would be quite possible to save the extra weight elsewhere without detracting from the ship's efficiency, but decided that the loss of speed would be less than half a knot.

Russia has had an unpleasant experience as regards the cost of Navy building. The original estimate for the battleships Poltava, Petropavlovsk, Sevastopol, and Gangut, building on the Baltic was $11,400,000, but it is now anticipated that each ship will cost $16,000,000. This is equivalent to $700 per ton of displacement, which may be compared with the $390 per ton of the British Lion. The battle ship Andrei Perovskiy, recently completed for the Russian fleet, cost $5,000,000 in excess of the estimate.

BRITAIN'S FEEBLE-MINDED

New Legislative Aims to Protect the Unfortunate

The most important provision of the proposed British government bill for the care of the mentally defective are those imposing penalties in the case of marriages with defectives, the supplying of intoxicants to defectives and securing the protection of female defectives. The maximum punishment is two years' imprisonment, with or without hard labor.

Such defectives may be dealt with in two ways. (1) They may be placed under guardianship (2) or sent to institutions. The persons to be so treated are only those defectives who are found wandering about or neglected, those charged with or convicted of a criminal offence, habitual drunkards, and those who should not become parents in the interests of the community.

THE LAKE OF THE DEAD

Weird Sheet of Water Discovered in Nigeria—Held in Awe by Natives

In an interview with Mr. P. Amaury Talbot, an Englishman, who, accompanied by his wife, travelled for nearly two years in Nigeria, large portions of which have never before been visited by a Government official, and certainly never by a white woman, some interesting facts were made known. For the first time a survey, anthropological, botanical, and in parts geographical and zoological, has been completed almost uninterruptedly from the Gulf of Guinea right through to Central Africa. At the conclusion of his journey Mr. Talbot narrowly escaped being murdered in a July village of the Ibo country, which he was the first white man to visit. Among the botanical specimens brought to England the British Museum discovered no less than seven new genera and eighty new species.

One of the most interesting discoveries was that of the Lake of the Dead in the Oban country. "The name of this lake," said Mr. Talbot, "occurs in many of the tribal songs, but for a long time I could not discover the meaning of the word, and all enquiries failed to elicit information, and when I believed I was in the neighborhood of this haunted spot and begged to be allowed not to proceed, and were left behind. After a struggle through dense bush we could see the edge of a sheet of water, along the banks of which were the hooves of crocodiles, whose tracks covered the shore. The scene was a weird one; the surface was absolutely still, and round about were 10 foot high bushes, with what were apparently great tufts of creamy flowers. These, however, proved to be nests of tree frogs. The place is a sanctuary for all wild things, for no hunter would dare to penetrate the bush to this dreaded spot. As we stood at the edge, gazing out over the water, its quiet was suddenly broken by a broad ripple, and little fish were seen to spring agitatedly above the surface. A great python was crossing, and this, we learned, shared with the crocodiles the guardianship of the Sacred Lake. Nothing, we were informed, must be allowed to trouble the water or even to touch its outer edge, or famine and pestilence would ensue. Here, according to popular belief come by night the ghosts of long dead Ekor, to drift in sad companies hopeless and wailing over the surface of the water."

8,000 Tramps on the Road

It is estimated that there are in Ireland at present about 8,000 members of the vagabond tramp fraternity, exclusive of men who are on the road in a genuine search for work. The recognized tramp routes lie between Dublin and the chief provincial centres—Belfast, Cork, Waterford, and Limerick.

You'll Sleep More Soundly If You Keep Healthy With Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

The man or woman with a good appetite, sound digestion, and bowels and kidney working right, is never troubled with sleeplessness. It is when the bowels become constipated and the liver and kidneys sluggish that the trouble begins.

Lazy liver and constipated bowels quickly bring on biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, making a sound, refreshing night sleep impossible. Or the inactive kidney allow the blood to become loaded with uric acid, which causes rheumatism with all its sleep-destroying tortures.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills taken regularly, induce sweet and dreamless sleep by keeping all the organs active and regular. The headache disappears, the digestion becomes good again, the blood is purified and perfect health returns.

BABY IN FLOWER BASKET

A strange story comes from St. Petersburg. Mme. Vladimir Deniss, of wife of a member of the Council of the Empire, was surprised on her return home to find in her boudoir an immense and beautiful basket of flowers. There was no card accompanying the present. Shortly afterwards two lady visitors called and naturally all were intent on admiring the present. One noticed a slight movement and then were heard a baby's sobs. Removing the flowers, a pretty little girl of four months, richly clothed, was found. To its little lace bonnet was attached a note bearing the words: "Pray take care of my child and have her baptised." The "suisse" who received the present declared that it was brought by a lady who came in a motorcar, and that was all he could say. The baby is to be cared for, and it was baptised the day following.

Mrs. H. Sawyer, of Keene, Ont., writes: "My husband is engaged on a farm, and one day, while chopping wood, the top of the axe broke and fell upon his foot, cutting a nasty gash. The wound was so bad that we first thought we would have to get a doctor, but we finally decided to dress the cut with Zam-Buk."

"Well, the Zam-Buk treatment proved a great success. It not only eased the pain, but it prevented any inflammation, and right from first applying Zam-Buk, the cut began to heal. It is now completely healed, and my husband says he will never be without a box of Zam-Buk in the house, for we are sure it saved us a great deal of expense."

Over and over again Zam-Buk has been proved to be the worker's best remedy. As soon as applied to a cut, a burn, a scald, or any skin injury, it relieves the pain and it sets up healing. It also prevents blood-poisoning or inflammation. It is a sure cure, too, for eczema, piles, ulcers, old wounds, bad leg, ringworm, scalp sores, feathering, running sores, eruptions, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. Its absolute purity, also, makes it the ideal balm for babies.

Zam-Buk Soap should be used along with the balm for washing all sore places. This soap will be found excellent for baby's bath, even where the balm is not being used.

THE TREASURE OF THE OCEANA

Adverse Currents Rather Than Deep Water Prevent the Divers From Recovering Sunk Gold

One of the greatest difficulties which faced the staff of divers working under Captain Young, who took charge of the operations for salvaging the $3,750,000 of specie which went down with the Oceana off Newhaven, were the currents which sweep round the wreck. "It is very bad water to work in," said Captain Young, during the course of an interview, and the strength of the currents is strikingly illustrated by the fact that within a few hours of sinking the Oceana was carried nine miles from the spot where she was struck.

The Oceana went down in 90 feet of water, and the first task which fell to the divers was to find the key to the bullion-room in the captain's cabin. Ultimately one of the divers managed to get into the cabin, but the current was so strong that twice he was washed out again before he succeeded in his object. Another of the divers got entangled in the wreckage, while on several occasions the men were obliged to let go their hold on the guide ropes, and trust to luck and the currents to reach the surface.

It is the state of the water rather than the depth which makes the task of recovering the Oceana bullion so difficult, for it is by no means the greatest depth of water from which treasure has been saved.

Some years ago, for instance, $350,000 was recovered from a Spanish vessel, Alphonso XII, which had sunk off Point Gando, in the Grand Canary, in 165 feet of water while another case was that of the Skyrö, which sank off Cape Finisterre in 136 feet of water, and from which $100,000 bullion was recovered some time after dynamite having to be used in order to get at the gold. The dangerous nature of the work in this case may be gathered from the fact that the deck collapsed to within 18 inches of the cabin floor, and at the finish of the dynamite operations the diver reported that there was no part of the wreck standing higher than himself, excepting the engines and the main boilers; it was just a heap of scrap iron.

The greatest depth that admiralty divers have reached—and these divers are the most scientific in the world—has been 210 feet. The first man who set up this record was Gunner Catto, who, during the Scottish experiments with the Spanker some years ago, dived to this extraordinary depth and stayed down for twenty-five minutes. The previous record was held by Angel Frostable, who recovered $60,000 worth of silver bars from the Skyrö already mentioned. He made over eighty descents to a depth of 186 feet, and his maximum stay at the bottom was twenty-five minutes.

Poem Written Years Ago Had Weird Reference to Titanic Disaster

For twenty years Senator William Alden Smith, Chairman of the U.S. Senate Committee which investigated the loss of the Titanic, has made a collection of clippings on subjects of the widest variety. Some of these, having a personal appeal, he has kept in his pocket in a big envelope.

For nineteen years he kept a poem, one stanza of which he now looks upon as prophetic, and he thinks the coincidence doubly strange since he was the man named to inquire into the disaster. The poem was written by Sir A. T. Quiller-Couch in 1893. Its last stanza runs:—

Then she, the stricken hull,
The doomed, the beautiful,
Proudly to Fate abased
Her brow Titanic,
Praise now her multitude,
Who, nursed in fortune,
Fell in on deck and faced Death without panic.

GIGANTIC CRUISER

Latest Addition of Britain's Naval Force a Record Breaker

The battle cruiser Lion, the largest and most costly warship ever built for the British Navy, was placed in commission at Davenport by Captain A. A. M. Duff for service in the First Cruiser Squadron.

The Lion displaces 28,350 tons. The longest ship previously built for the Navy is the battle cruiser Indefatigable, 555 feet long and the heaviest battleship Orion, which displaces 22,500 tons. The Lion is armed with eight 13.5 inch guns—she is the first cruiser and the third completed British warship to carry these weapons—together with sixteen 4-inch guns and two submerged torpedo tubes. Her turbines are of 70,000 horse-power, and the designed speed, which has already been exceeded, 28 knots, while an armor belt with a maximum thickness of nine inches affords protection from attack. The new cruiser cost over $10,000,000 to build—a record achieved by no other vessel built for the fleet.

Domestic Servants' Demands

The committee of Aberdeen domestic servants appointed at a mass meeting drew up the following list of demands to be submitted to a meeting of servants to be held later:—One hour per day free, a weekly half-holiday, a part of the day on Sunday free, open character, proper and sufficient food, proper time for meals, proper sleeping accommodation, reasonable facilities for receiving visitors and an annual holiday of two weeks.

"Tolpuddle Martyrs"

Mr. Arthur Henderson, M.P., unveiled a memorial to the six men of Tolpuddle, Dorset, known as the "Tolpuddle Martyrs," who in 1835 were transported for combining to demand better conditions for themselves as agricultural laborers.

The memorial is placed near the Wesleyan Chapel where the men used to worship, and the residue of the $500 subscribed will be given to the county hospital.

LICENSES AT THETFORD MINES

Petition Made to Have Temperance Act Apply to City.

PETITIONERS ASK THAT IN FUTURE NO LICENSES BE GRANTED IN THE CITY.

Inverness, Nov. 8.—(Special).—A petition has been deposited in the Registry Office, signed by 572 electors of the city of Thetford Mines, asking that a vote be taken on the question of bringing into force in the city the provisions of the Canada Temperance Act as revised in 1906 so that in future no licenses will be issued for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

When licenses were allowed in Thetford Mines the sale of intoxicants was such a curse and ruin to the working men in the mines it is hoped that a very large majority of the true friends of Thetford Mines will be given an opportunity to "banish the bar" in the city of Thetford Mines.

DIVIDED THE PRESCRIPTION

A physician tells of attending an Irishman and his wife who were both down with severe colds. As their ailment threatened to develop into the grippe, he prescribed quinine and whiskey. "Take it every three hours," he said; "two grains of quinine and a swallow of whiskey."

The next day he called again. The man was up and about, but not the wife. "Did you follow my instructions?" asked the doctor. "To the letter, sir," replied the husband. "How much quinine have you left?" "Sure, Oi tink she have taken 't' whole av it," said the man. "And didn't you take it too?" he was asked. "Divil a bit," was the reply. "Begorra, it kept me busy takin' the whiskey every time she took a pill, an' sure she's in bed an' Oi'm up."

SHERBROOKE TO DERBY LINE ROAD.

Some weeks ago the township of Stanstead, through its secretary-treasurer, Mr. C. A. Jenkins, forwarded to the Provincial Government a resolution endorsing the trunk line highway from Derby Line to Sherbrooke, says the Stanstead Journal.

At that time it was understood that all other municipalities concerned had done the same. The Government afterwards advised Mr. Jenkins that the sanction of some of them had not been received and that no action would be taken until all were in.

In connection with the resolution referred to notice was given that the municipality would apply to the Government for a loan of $50,000 for permanent road work throughout the township, in accordance with the Good Roads Act of 1912. The whole matter seems to be held up for the present by lack of action on the part of some other municipality.

CELEBRATED 40TH ANNIVERSARY OF WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wheeler, well known residents of Orford, celebrated last evening the 40th anniversary of their marriage at their home in Belvidere, and the occasion was one long to be remembered. The guests, including neighbors, intimate friends and the members of the family, were received with the utmost cordiality, and the evening was delightfully spent in vocal and instrumental music, games, etc. A substantial supper was served, the table being adorned with the three-story wedding cake and yellow and white chrysanthemums. The worthy couple were overwhelmed with congratulations and good wishes, and also received many choice and handsome presents. The children presented an iron bedstead fitted with mattress; etc. Mr. Wheeler came to Canada from England 42 years ago, and two years after his arrival was married in Lennoxville by the Rev. A. C. Scarth, his wife being a native of the Townships. They were blessed with seven children, Edward J. Wheeler, Mrs. Fred Parkin, Mrs. J. R. O'Neil, William Wheeler and Walter Wheeler, who are situated either on farms of their own or in the city. Charles Wheeler and Miss Nellie Wheeler, who live at home, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler are widely known and highly esteemed for their sterling qualities, goodness of heart and neighborliness. Their friends wish them many more years of happy married life.

SUPPER AT ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH.

Not even the inclement weather and counter attractions, last evening, could keep the men of St. Andrew's Church from attending the Baked Bean Supper. Over sixty sat down to a sumptuous repast, faultlessly served.

At the conclusion of the supper a general discussion followed as to the advisability of forming a society for men. The idea found immediate favor, and before the meeting closed sixty members had been secured, with the prospect of nearly as many more. The society will be known as St. Andrew's Men's League.

The objects of the Association are many. The first is to bring the men together periodically for a social evening. For many years the need of an Association of this nature has been keenly felt. From time to time during the winter months social and literary evenings will be held.

DEMOCRATS DEFEAT LONGWORTH.

Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—Complete unofficial returns from the first Ohio congressional district yesterday indicate the defeat of Congressman Nicholas Longworth for re-election by Stanley Dowdle, a Democrat, by 169 votes. In the event Mr. Dowdle is declared elected, it is expected that Congressman Longworth will carry the contest to the floor of the House.

BRITISH TRADE GROWTH IN OCTOBER.

London, Nov. 8.—The October statement of the Board of Trade shows increases of $51,698,000 in imports and $29,398,000 in exports. The imports of food, raw material and manufactured goods each increased about $16,000,000, and manufactured goods and coal made the largest gains in the exports.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

Question Has Again Been Brought up in Legislature.

MEASURE ALSO PROVIDES FOR FREE BOOKS AND UNIFORM TEXT BOOKS IN PROVINCE.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—Dr. J. T. Flinn, M.P.P., is losing no time in getting his compulsory education bill before the Legislature again. He has introduced it and states that this time it will not be withdrawn. He is confident that before the expiration of the term of the present legislature the bill will become law. It provides for compulsory education for the Protestant population of the Province together with free and uniform text books.

The growth of public sentiment and the practical unanimity of the English speaking people of the Province, he says, is shown by the unanimous resolution of the Protestant Council of the resolutions of the Montreal Protestant School Board and the Board of Trade and Trades and Labor Council.

The real discussion of the bill will take place in the committee on legislation.

Mr. Godfrey Langlois, member for St. Louis division, is equally earnest in regard to compulsory education for the whole province. He will see that the matter is again discussed this session, and he declares that a majority of the members of the Legislative Assembly will undoubtedly now back up the Government if it adopts a policy of compulsory education.

SIXTY EMPLOYEES WERE DISMISSED.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The sixty Government employees, dismissed because they were supposed to have Liberal leanings in the recent Senate election, were found work yesterday morning by a new committee which has been formed by local Liberals. Under the name of the Dismissed Government Employment Aid Association the organization began work yesterday.

LITTLE GIRL ACCIDENTALLY SHOOT MAN.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 8.—John Campbell was accidentally shot at Canatota. A girl named Lizzie Seales was playing with a gun when it went off, a charge of shot entering Mr. Campbell's head and killing him instantly. Mr. Campbell had said to the girl that the gun was harmless, as he had unloaded it.

FARMERS ARE VERY PROSPEROUS

Good Demand for Produce at Remunerative Prices

STOCK IS GOING INTO WINTER QUARTERS IN VERY GOOD CONDITION THIS SEASON

Brome, Nov. 8.—(Special)—Many farmers are unable to do much if any ploughing owing to the excessive rains which have continued up to the late fall. The root crops in most cases have been harvested and the farmers are preparing for winter. Stock is going into winter quarters in good condition owing to the abundance of grass on the highland pastures. There has been a sharp demand, at remunerative prices, for all kinds of farm products, and were it not for the scarcity of laborers, notwithstanding the partial loss through wet weather, the farmers are passing through one of the most prosperous periods which they have experienced for many years. The thrifty farmer especially has enough and to spare.

PRESIDENT ELECT WILSON BUSY

Course is to Hear Everybody and Make No Statement.

WILL NOW ASSUME A RECEPTIVE ATTITUDE AND MAKE NO PRONOUNCEMENT.

Princeton, N.J., Nov. 8.—"I think my right course just now is to hear everybody and that I should not make any statement." This was the answer made by President-elect Woodrow Wilson yesterday to a series of requests for his attitude on national and international questions. He was asked by various newspapers about an extra session of Congress, Canadian reciprocity, international relations, the Panama Canal and a variety of issues, in line with his campaign argument that the presidency should be conducted "through the common counsel of his country." He will now so far as possible assume a receptive attitude rather than one of pronouncing himself on issues before he takes office.

The report dealt with specifications and probable cost of the work. It is the purpose of the Council to begin the work of macadamizing early in the spring.

CAME IN CONTACT WITH LIVE WIRE

Lady Sustains Heavy Shock Conveyed by an Umbrella

THOUGHT THAT BETWEEN 3000 AND 3500 VOLTS WENT THROUGH BODY.

Montreal, November 8.—Unconscious and in a critical condition, as a result of having come in contact with a live electric wire at the corner of Sherbrooke street and Ontario avenue last night, Miss Agnes McKay, 24 years of age, was taken to the Royal Victoria Hospital. The young woman, who is a maid in the family of George A. Grier, 58 Redpath avenue, was passing along Sherbrooke street when her umbrella came in contact with a live wire hanging from a pole at the corner of Ontario avenue. She was suddenly enveloped in a blue flame and fell to the sidewalk. Mr. Duncan, of 650 Sherbrooke street, and a couple of other men who happened to be passing, ran to the assistance of the young woman. They found she was unconscious and that both her hands were badly burned. An ambulance was summoned from the Royal Victoria Hospital and the young woman taken there. She was still unconscious at a early hour this morning and the physicians at the hospital said that they considered her condition critical. It is thought that between 3,000 and 3,500 volts of electricity went through the young woman's body.
