

JAP SHELLS KILL BRITISH TROOPS

Ulstermen Victims During Shelling Of Suburb Of Shanghai

Large Number of Foreigners Wounded in Burst of Artillery Fire that Claimed Lives of Three British Soldiers—Shells Apparently Intended for Chinese Positions in Hungjao — British Prevent Warship Movement in Soochow Creek.

Shanghai, October 29.—Three Royal Ulster riflemen were killed and several wounded last night during Japanese shelling of Hungjao, suburb to the west of the International Settlement and home of many foreigners, British military headquarters announced.

Artillery shelling and aerial attack in the Chinese-Japanese war spread damage among mission and other foreign property, and during the day British defence lines along the Settlement frequently were under fire.

Seven Chinese non-combatants also were killed or wounded. The Ulster riflemen were stationed at the British defence post on the corner of Keswick and Brennan roads, at the northwest corner of the Settlement and opposite the entrance to Jessfield Park.

The shells apparently came from Japanese batteries in Chapei and were intended for Chinese positions in Hungjao.

One unidentified foreigner also was reported killed.

Many windows in buildings and homes in the western district, especially along Yu Yuen Road, were shattered. Trolley car wires in the Jessfield sector were broken, disrupting all service.

Many foreigners abandoned their homes in Hungjao to seek safety within the Settlement, as the battle for possession of Shanghai centered in the suburban area.

Throughout the day shells exploded near posts manned by the Royal Ulster Rifles. Japanese artillery, bombarding Chinese in the Hungjao area, dropped eight shells into Jessfield Park, one of which shattered St. John's University.

Declares Class Consciousness Dominates The British Policies

British Labor Leader, in Moving Want of Confidence Motion to Speech from the Throne, Declares that While Government Could Intervene to Release Engineers in Russia, Economic Boycott Cannot Be Imposed on Fascist Powers.

London, Oct. 29.—Herbert Morrison, Labor leader in the London County Council, arraigned the Government in the House of Commons today as putting its class consciousness not only before the peace of the world but before the security of the British Commonwealth.

The only explanation of the Government's attitude toward Premier Mussolini and Chancellor Hitler was that it feared that if the dictators went they would be succeeded by Left Governments. That would not suit the Chamberlain Government's class outlook.

"If," said Mr. Morrison, "there was ever a man with a crude mercantile class conscious outlook it is the Prime Minister."

The Government could not impose economic and financial sanctions against Japan over China. It could not save Ethiopia. But when a couple of British engineers were arrested in Moscow the Government could impose an economic blockade against Russia forthwith.

(The reference apparently was to the Metropolitan Vickers trial of 1933. Great Britain imposed an embargo on the importation of goods from the Soviet Union when two engineers of the British firm were arrested in Moscow in March of that year on charges of sabotage.)

(When the two engineers, Leslie Morrison and Harold W. Hastings, Tammany candidate for District Attorney.

Mahoney dropped all other issues to blast at what he termed LaGuardia's attitude as a stockholder in the Russian-American Industrial Corporation, "a Communist organization," and declared the "Little Flower" was a "Red Menace" that threatened the city if he were re-elected.

Hastings, at an earlier rally, predicted a "Reign of Terror" if Special Rackets Prosecutor Dewey were elected.

Dewey, threatened with a libel suit by Charles A. Schneider, a Tammany leader, repeated charges that Schneider had been paid money collected by racketeers for acting as defence counsel in a murder case. General Schneider said he had done only his duty.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Branding the present system of inspection and supervision of Toronto stage shows entirely inadequate and unsatisfactory from the point of view of public morality, the law observance committee of the Community Welfare Council of Toronto yesterday demanded a clean-up of burlesque houses here.

Two members of the Local Council of Women, the committee was informed, attended a burlesque house in the city and were forced to leave before the show ended because, they said, "it was so disgusting." The manager refused to hear their protests.

Rising Newsprint And Other Costs May Force Papers To Raise Rates

Every Commodity Going into Manufacturing of a Newspaper, with One or Two Minor Exceptions, Has Advanced in Price Over the Previous Year.

New York, Oct. 29.—Prediction that many newspapers may be forced to raise their circulation rates because of rising newsprint and other production costs, came today from W. G. Chandler, chairman of the newspaper committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Chandler already has asked publishers to protest to newsprint manufacturers over prospective price increases for 1938. Newspapers in more than fifty cities of the United States have been forced to raise their rates recently because of increased costs, he said.

Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently far out of proportion to increased receipts from advertising and circulation.

Payrolls, it was stated, have jumped ahead of even the 1929 level, both through wage increases and from additional employees taken on, while receipts generally are still well below the 1929 total.

Every commodity going into manufacturing a newspaper, with one or two minor exceptions, has advanced in price over the previous year, according to A.N.P.A. statistics. Publishers are paying more for metal, fuel, services, newsprint, and all the numerous requisites to producing a newspaper.

In one instance, in one group of newspapers, payrolls in nine months this year increased nine per cent, according to statistics reported, over the already sharp increases of 1936. Taxes, especially for social security, are cutting into receipts, the reports indicate.

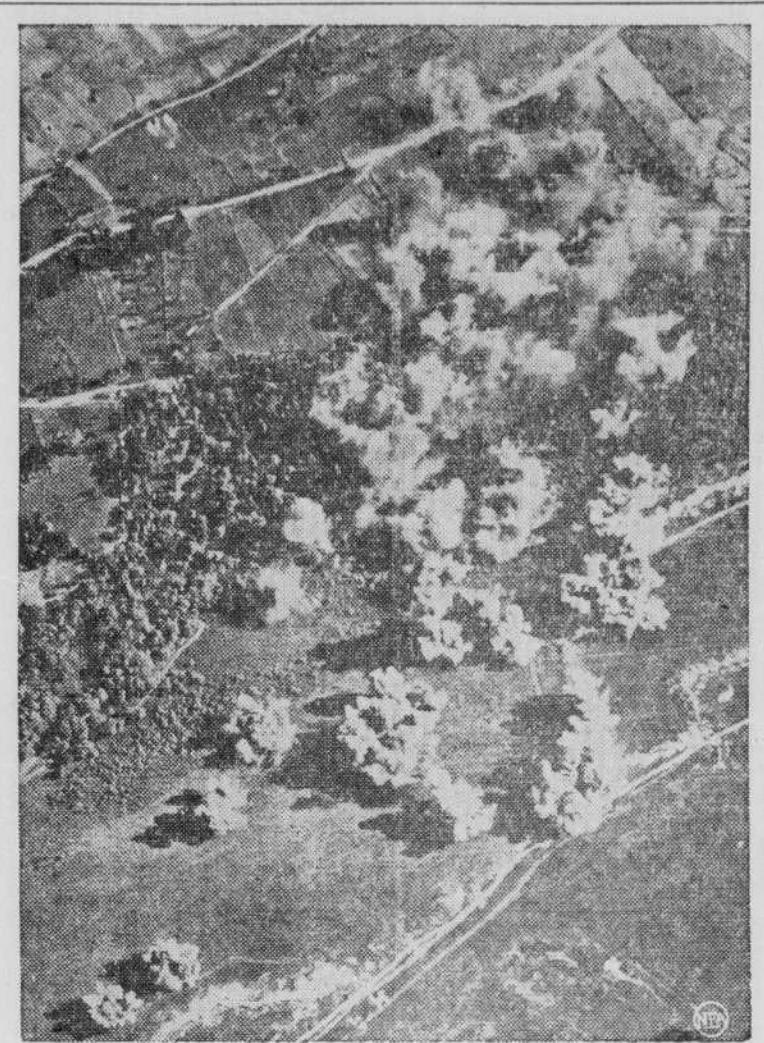

The largest item of cost in producing a newspaper, next to payrolls, is newsprint paper, Chandler explained. Newspapers have not only been paying an increased price on this product this year, except a few having long-term contracts at lower than current rates, but in 1938 they will generally face an even greater increase.

JAPAN PREPARES TO CALL ALL MEN ON RESERVE TO COLORS

Tokyo, October 29.—An Imperial decree today revised the Japanese conscription law to call to the colors all men on the reserve list without the usual drawing of lots.

The decree also ordered immediate registration for military duty of all physicians, surgeons and pharmacists.

Replying to questions from correspondents today, the Foreign Office spokesman said the question of establishing a neutral area in Shanghai might follow expulsion of all Chinese troops from the Shanghai zone.

He said Japan was willing to agree to Chinese initiative for peace talks upon termination of hostilities in the Shanghai zone, but up to the present Nanking has taken no steps in this direction.

BROKERS LOSE APPEAL BEFORE PRIVY COUNCIL

Judicial Committee Rejects Appeal of I.W.C. Solloway and Harvey Mills Against McLaughlin.

London, Oct. 29.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council today dismissed the appeal of I. W. C. Solloway and Harvey Mills of Toronto against J. B. McLaughlin in an action against the brokers in respect of the purchase of mining stock.

Mr. McLaughlin's cross-appeal was allowed and the judgment in the Ontario Courts of Mr. Justice Kerwin dated June 13, 1933, restored.

Their Lordships ruled that the respondents should have the costs of the appeal to the Ontario Court of Appeals and to the Supreme Court of Canada. The appellants also must pay the costs of the appeal and cross-appeal to the Privy Council.

The appeal was heard in July by Lords Atkin, Macmillan, Wright and Maugham.

Solloway, Mills and Co., and the partners of the firm, were sued by J. B. McLaughlin, Toronto, for $33,320, being the profit made by them on the sale of 11,500 shares of Sudbury Basin Mines Ltd. stock, given by Mr. McLaughlin to them at margin, and $28,637 paid by him to them on representation that the company had paid $48,937 for 7,000 shares of Sudbury Basin when, in fact, it paid only $20,000. These amounts he claimed together with brokerage charges and interest and $100,000 damages.

Solloway, Mills Company went into bankruptcy at this time.

Fire losses January 1st to October 27th were $10,849,350, as compared with $11,443,400 in the same 1936 period.

CIVIL WAR IS DISRUPTED BY RAGING FLOOD

High Waters Covering Wide Areas in Valleys of Ebro River and Tributaries Cause Heavy Damage and Halt Hostilities.

Zaragoza, Spain, Oct. 29.—Insurgent and Government armies on the broad Aragon front quit fighting each other today to combat a common enemy—a flood that covered wide areas in the valleys of the Ebro River and its tributaries.

The Gallego River, rushing down from the French frontier to join the Ebro at this insurgent base and old Aragon capital, was at its highest level in twenty years—twenty-one feet above normal. The Ebro was twenty-two feet above normal. Heavy rains were responsible for the high water.

The Ebro flooded roads and railways in Government territory near Huesca to the north, causing great damage. It filled trenches and drove the Valencia troops to higher ground. Zaragoza was threatened and forced to take flood precautions.

Some of the recent principal battlegrounds of this front were under several feet of water. Hostilities were disrupted.

Government forces were driven out of positions near Sabina, in the Jaca sector, in the headwaters area of the Gallego. Almost the entire fighting zone south of Zaragoza, along the Ebro, was one great lake.

(Dispatches from Madrid told of the Government plan for the second transfer of the capital since the civil war began fifteen months ago, including denial by Home Secretary Julian Zugazategui that the Government was "fleeing" to Barcelona from Valencia.)

(The Government shifted to Valencia nearly a year ago when General Franco's insurgents laid siege to Madrid.)

BELIEVE SOVIETS MAY MODIFY THEIR VIEWS

London, Oct. 29.—Antagonistic Italo-German and Soviet positions on the question of withdrawing foreign volunteers from Spain were expected to cause trouble for the Non-Intervention Sub-Committee when it meets today.

Optimists, however, saw a possibility that Moscow, fearing isolation, may modify its refusal to sanction the granting of belligerency rights to the Spanish combatants until practically all foreign fighters have been withdrawn.

The plan approved Tuesday by the eight other members of the sub-committee, including the four great western powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Germany, provided for recognition of belligerency rights as soon as a "substantial" number of volunteers have been withdrawn.

The Earl of Plymouth, who will again take the chair at the committee meeting after having given place to Foreign Secretary Eden for several sessions, twice yesterday conferred with Italian Ambassador Dino Grandi.

Count Grandi was understood to have emphasized two points: first, that there must be a "showdown" today on the Soviet stand, and secondly, that the Moscow representative should no longer have equal rights with other members of the Committee in view of the Soviet Government's announcement yesterday that it will discontinue payments towards non-intervention control costs.

New Speculative Restrictions May Follow Inquiry Into 'Short' Selling

Independent Foundation, Asked to Undertake Inquiry by Stock Exchange, Expected to Recommend Outlawing of Bear Raids as Creators of Artificial Price Slumps.

New York, Oct. 29.—Wall Street speculators faced the possibility of new restrictions today as a result of a New York Stock Exchange move to investigate "short selling."

The Twentieth Century Fund, independent foundation which the Stock Exchange has asked to conduct the inquiry, was already on record as opposed to some existing marketing practices untouched by the federal market control law.

It went so far as to recommend four years ago that so-called "bear raids"—"short sales of unusual size" in a single stock in one day—should be outlawed as creators of artificial price slumps.

Figures high in the Stock Exchange said they were aware of this, but promised serious consideration to any changes the Fund may propose.

The findings of the new study, one prominent market figure declared, would "carry tremendous weight."

"This is not intended as a job to be engineered from the inside," he added. "We picked the Twentieth Century Fund because we know it will do an expert, thorough and fair study without trying to grind anyone's axe."

The Exchange announced yesterday it had "invited" the Twentieth Century Fund to make a "thorough study of the effect of short selling on security markets and to publish its findings."

Evans Clark, director of the Fund, which was founded by the late Edward Filene for study of contemporary social and economic problems, said the Fund's trustees would have to decide whether to accept the invitation.

BAKERS LODGE PROTEST WITH TRADE BODY

Local Bakers Complain Of Unfair Competition

Ald. Eugene Thibault Explained Two Miles Falls Development at Chamber of Commerce Meeting last Night—Would Prefer Buying Power than Going Ahead with Project at Present Time.

Sherbrooke bakers placed their troubles before the members of the Chamber of Commerce last night. They claimed they are facing "unfair competition" from Montreal firms and urged the Chamber of Commerce to petition the City Council to take immediate steps to protect their interests and local capital by imposing a prohibitive tariff against outsiders.

This was the chief item to come before the Commerce body at its regular session at the City Hall last night. An explanation by Ald. Eugene Thibault about the Two Miles Falls power development and discussion regarding a publicity campaign for the city were other matters on the agenda.

B. E. A. Brooks, director of the Fontaine Bakery, presented the bakers' case to the Chamber. Mr. Brooks declared that several Montreal firms, who were only paying a minor tax, were invading Sherbrooke with their product and, by offering "unfair competition," threatened to put the local bakers out of business. He did not believe it was fair that these outsiders should be allowed to carry on business in this city at the expense of the local proprietors of bakery shops who were called upon to pay heavy taxes every year.

The matter had been brought to the attention of the City Bakers in a petition presented on April 9, 1937, but to date, Mr. Brooks said, nothing has been done. The petition carried seventy signatures.

Mr. Brooks cited one case as an example of what the Sherbrooke bread manufacturers are up against. A local firm, he said, has a capital investment of $108,000, and pays to the city every year $2,100 in taxes and $350 for power, besides distributing an annual payroll of $25,000. Yet, he explained, a Montreal firm could enter the city and offer competition of a cut-throat nature by paying only about $50 in the form of a business tax.

Lachine and Quebec, he said, had been faced with the same problem, but they had done something about it. They had imposed a prohibitive tax of $300 against outside bakers. That had solved the problem. Mr. Brooks suggested that the City Council be urged to take a similar step to protect local bakers.

Antonin Deslauriers, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and City Clerk, explained, in reply to Mr. Brooks' explanation, that Sherbrooke could not impose such a tariff under the conditions of the Cities and Towns Act. He said he would like to know how Lachine and Quebec had done it.

Mr. Brooks said, "Why can't it be done?"

"Because," Mr. Deslauriers replied, "the Cities and Towns Act stipulates that we can charge an outsider only fifty per cent, more than a local firm is taxed."

Local bakers are charged a tax of $10 for their first vehicle and $5 for each additional vehicle.

Walter Allard said that he felt confident that the Chamber of Commerce would endeavor to solve the problem. He stated that the bakers appreciated the fact that the Chamber members had agreed to listen to their troubles.

Leo Foley, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the best course to follow would be to write to Quebec and Lachine and learn how these two municipalities had managed to impose their $300 tax. This it was decided to do.

Two Miles Falls Development

Ald. Eugene Thibault and J. R. McGregor, superintendent of the Gas and Electric Department, were on hand to enlighten the Chamber members concerning the Two Miles Falls development and the conditions pertaining to the city power.

Mr. Thibault explained the work already accomplished at the Two Miles Falls and estimated that the complete development would cost the city in the vicinity of a million dollars, with an annual maintenance cost of $35,000. He said that he was not opposed to the project, but believed that for the present the city should buy any extra power it requires from some outside source until such time as it was deemed advisable to develop the power plant.

When discussing power, Mr. Thibault explained the development of the city power. Sufficient power to meet present requirements could be purchased for $25,000 a year, he said. Negotiations, the nature of which was not revealed, have been entered into with several firms for the purchase of power, the members were told.

Don't worry about the power, we have plenty of that," Mr. McGregor replied.

Publicity Campaign

Mr. Foley brought up the matter of a publicity campaign for the city. He believed that this was the opportune time, in view of the immense amount of advertising that has resulted from the Centennial celebration, to carry out an extensive programme that would make known the industrial and social attractions of Sherbrooke to the public.

Mr. Foley also referred to the heroism of Stewart Grose, who sacrificed his life in the Grand Central Hotel fire in an effort to rescue inmates trapped within, and said that the Chamber should do something in recognition of his bravery. A committee composed of J. K. Flaherty, Albert W. Reed and A. Gauthier was appointed to decide the most fitting way in which Grose's heroism could be recognized. The Chamber will also forward a letter to the Royal Humane Society, suggesting that a medal be sent to Grose's parents.

Reviewed Problems Of Colonists At Newport

Rev. C. E. S. Bown, of East Angus, Re-elected President of E.T. Protestant Colonization Association—Government Criticized for Delay in Paying Newport Settlers for Work.

Problems relating to the Newport Colony were discussed, officers for the ensuing year elected and a report reviewing the activities of the past twelve months tabled at the annual meeting of the Eastern Townships' Protestant Colonization Association held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon.

Payson Sherman, M. L. A., for Compton, who has consistently been opposed to present colonization plans, although he has co-operated in an effort to make possible the success of the Newport colony, reiterated his opinion that families desiring to establish themselves on the land should be placed on abandoned farms and not settled on virgin soil, as in the case of the Newport colonists.

Mr. Sherman even declared that in many instances the lot of the colonist was better than that of the established farmer, and he did not believe that this was "common sense." He said that he personally knew of some farmers who desired to dispose of their small properties and acquire lots in colonization areas.

"Tell me this," he asked of Fred Robins, a Newport Colony settler who was at the meeting, "would the families in Newport Colony rather be on abandoned farms?"

"No, I wouldn't say that," Fred Robins replied. "I for one would rather be in Newport Colony."

Rev. C. E. S. Bown, of East Angus, was re-elected president of the Association for the fourth consecutive term. The efficient and devoted manner in which he has guided the destinies of the association since its foundation found expression in a resolution of appreciation and thanks extended to him by the members. Rev. W. S. Lennon, B.A., D.D., who has moved from Sherbrooke to West Shefford, was re-appointed honorary president. D. J. Salis, of Sherbrooke, was re-elected vice-president and R. W. S. Nutbrown, also of this city, secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of Rev. F. R. Matthews, Lennoxville; A. W. Pratt, Cookshire; Rev. W. C. Dunn, Sawyerville; W. A. Briggs, Sherbrooke; Rev. W. D. Smith, Lennoxville; Rev. Fred Williams, Sherbrooke; Thomas Keeler, Sherbrooke; Rev. R. W. Carr, Cookshire; W. J. Humphrey, Sherbrooke; George Hurley, Sawyerville; and Rev. Canon E. Roy, Waterville.

Financial Statement

The financial report indicated that receipts for the year— including cash on hand at the outset of $1,549.32—amounted to $1,648.32, and expenditures to $1,285.30, leaving a bank balance of $363.02. Actually, the Association's operating deficit of $1,185.30 is not a true indication of its financial standing owing to the fact that the annual grant from Quebec, the exact amount of which is not known, has not yet been received. Last year the Association received $2,000 from the Provincial Government.

The Society's educational account revealed a deficit of $355.50, and operating of $254.63, leaving an operating surplus of $95.37.

Rev. Philip Carrington, Lord Bishop of Quebec, stated that he had paid two visits to the Newport Colony during the past year and was impressed by the progress with which the members of the Society for the Colonization of the Association four years ago, and laid particular emphasis upon the splendid work that had been done by Rev. Mr. Bown, Bishop Carrington also commended the Newport Colony settlers for their courage and perseverance they had shown in endeavoring to surmount the many obstacles and trials they faced in their new home.

Colonization Deserves Greater Attention

J. A. Blanchette, M.P., for Compton, declared that unemployment conditions would not be as they are today had colonization received the attention it deserved in the past. "Respectful of the government in power."

Mr. Blanchette added: "If the sum of $200,000,000 has been spent on unemployment between 1930 and 1935, can you conceive what could be spent to aid colonization?"

The Federal Member also declared that he did not believe that colonization in the Eastern Townships had been given the proper impetus "by the past or present governments."

He deplored the delay that had occurred regarding the payment of colonists for road work and bonuses. This delay, occurring frequently, was discouraging and would, unless remedied, result in numerous settlers abandoning their newly-established homes, Mr. Blanchette said.

Some discussion centred about Mr. Sherman's remarks, particularly his criticism that some colonists in Newport did not appear to be of good faith in desiring to take advantage of the opportunities offered them. Rev. Mr. Bown said that he had frequently visited the colony and he believed that some of Mr. Sherman's criticism was unfair.

Reviewed Difficulties

Rev. Mr. Bown, reviewing some of the difficulties that had arisen in the formation of the new colony, said in his president's report that "Today, as we view the events of the past year we can take comfort in viewing much genuine progress."

Rev. Mr. Bown added that settlers establishing themselves this year did so with a building grant of $250 and the regular bonuses.

"Houses built last winter by the government actually cost $349.95 each for materials, labor, administration and transportation. Lumber cost $258.96, labor $71.60, administration $43.10 and transportation $21.20," he said.

Rev. Mr. Bown said that a grant of $3,000 was spent on the colony road in 1936. "A grant of $2,500 has been expended this year, $1,200 of this being spent on the Nicky Nocky road and in opening an entrance to Lot 15 on the range line between ranges two and three." He declared that a further grant of $2,000 was urgently needed to make the colony road possible for double teams.

"The courage of the men who have continued from the beginning is to be highly commended," he said. "They have shown a splendid pioneering spirit in the face of great difficulties, disappointments and disappointed hopes. Those who have followed the fortunes of these families for the past twelve months cannot fail to know that English-speaking people are still good pioneers."

Rev. Mr. Bown criticized the dilatory system of paying the men for their road building, land clearance and garden bonuses. "Road work done this last September has not yet been paid," he charged.

Suggests Opening Up Lingwick Area

The speaker, forecasting the needs for the coming year, recommended the building of an adequate road through the present settlement and the opening up of other Crown land. He believed that the opening up of Lingwick land would serve the needs of several families, and suggested that representations ought to be made to the Government respecting this matter.

The Association, before closing its annual meeting, moved a vote of appreciation for the "generous and heroic" services rendered the settlers of Newport Colony last winter by Dr. S. M. Banfill, of Cookshire.

FINAL TRIBUTE GIVEN TO MISS ALICE GRIGGS

Protestant Schools Staff, Pupils, Members of School Board and Many Others Attended Funeral Services for Esteemed Teacher in Trinity United Church.

Yesterday afternoon in Trinity United Church the final curtain was drawn on the life of a prominent figure in Sherbrooke educational circles for over a third of a century and a member of the teaching profession in the Province of Quebec for forty-six years when funeral services were held for Miss Alice Griggs, who passed away on Tuesday afternoon following an illness of several months duration.

Following prayers said at her late residence on Walton avenue by Rev. Fred Williams, pastor of Trinity Church, the cortege proceeded to the church, where Rev. Williams conducted the service. He was assisted by Dr. W. O. Rothney, head of the Department of Education at Bishop's University, and H. G. Hatcher, who delivered the eulogy.

Mr. Hatcher, now superintendent of the Protestant Schools in Lachine, was principal and superintendent of the local Protestant Schools for eleven years, during which time he was associated with Miss Griggs.

In his remarks, Mr. Hatcher said that all those who were privileged to know Miss Griggs loved and respected her, and admired her for her work. Among her many noble characteristics, her industry was the most outstanding. She was continually seeking new ways to improve herself and to become more fully equipped for the work she had chosen and in which she attained such admirable success. Her intelligence was of the highest order, said Mr. Hatcher, and she coupled with it a courage and devotion to duty the equal of which is seldom seen.

Two hymns were sung by the choir, with Miss Bertha Allen presiding at the organ, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide with Me."

Central figures among the hundreds who crowded the church in a final tribute to an esteemed lady were Miss Eva Beaton and Miss F. I. Leonard, of Sherbrooke, the Misses Agnes and Mary Parker, of Montreal, and Mrs. Jennie Scott, of Ocean Park, Me.

All the Protestant Schools in the city were closed yesterday afternoon as a mark of respect to the deceased, and the pupils of grades eight, nine, ten and eleven attended in a body, as did all the principals and teachers of the various Protestant Schools in Sherbrooke.

Headed by A. D. Brodie, chairman, members of the Protestant School Board also were present. They were Dr. W. E. Hume, J. H. Wark, K. B. Jenckes and F. J. Southwood.

The bearers were John Wiggett, Lloyd McClay, James Davidson, William Jowett, John Ross and Robert Kellett, all of whom had been pupils of Miss Griggs at one time.

At the time of her retirement slightly over a year ago, Miss Griggs was a specialist at the High School and supervisor of art studies of the local Protestant schools. In this field she was unusually efficient, her work winning provincial-wide commendation.

Included in the hosts who mourn her loss are many men and women, once pupils of Miss Griggs, who now hold prominent places in the business and social life of Sherbrooke and other communities. She is survived by an aunt and several cousins in England, where she was born.

Interment was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Three Plays Delighted Lennoxville Audience

Entertaining Programme Presented by United Church Young Women's Association—Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Browne Guests of Honor of Their Numerous Friends.

An evening of sparkling entertainment was provided last night in Douglas Hall, Lennoxville, when three one-act plays were presented by the Young Women's Association of the Lennoxville United Church before a large audience.

"Our Aunt from California," by Madeline Demaree Barnum, was a delightful little story of three sisters expecting a visit from a wealthy aunt, however, arrives unexpectedly, promised to take one of them to Europe with her. But a telegram arrives stating that the aunt has changed her plans and is not coming after all, and is opened by one of them in the absence of the other two. She decides to try out her part in a play she has been rehearsing by impersonating her aunt. The result, however, arrives unexpectedly, is mistaken for the dreamer, her fellows with much amusement her niece's impersonation of her aunt, and matters become complicated, and upon the return home of the girls' mother true identities are made known and the real aunt invites her impersonator to accompany her on the coveted trip abroad.

Miss Elsie Gilby's natural portrayal of "Sally," the impersonator, was one of the highlights of this presentation, while the other parts were splendidly taken by the following: "Felicia Needy," Miss Irene George; "Rosalie Needy," Eileen Stalker; "Mrs. Needy," Mrs. H. B. Teal; "Miss Wilcox," Miss Thelma Crawford; and "Mrs. Merriam," Miss Thelma Crawford.

Following a short intermission, during which home-made candy was sold, the second play, "The Lady Interviewer," a dramatic sketch by Herbert Swears, was staged. This story, which proved most amusing, concerned "Eliza," a housemaid who was taken by surprise while alone in her own reflection in the mirror after having dressed herself in her mistress' new dress and hat, which have just been delivered. Mistaken for the mistress of the house, and not daring to reveal her real identity, she carries on a conversation to the best of her ability with the caller who, unbeknown to her, is Miss Maguire, a lady journalist bent on securing an interview from Miss Ortolon, celebrated novelist, who has thus far been successful in escaping interviews. Thrilled by her success in obtaining what she believes to be a " scoop," the interviewer draws poor "Eliza" out and her outlandish reflections on life prove highly amusing. Hot words and withering looks result when the mistake is discovered, and the play ends amid hearty applause and peals of laughter.

Mrs. Kenneth McLeod, who has long been a favorite of Lennoxville audiences for her excellent portrayals of humorous characters, scored another success last night in her role of "Eliza," while Mrs. B. V. Titcomb, as "Miss Maguire," the lady interviewer, handled her part admirably.

Changing the programme a little, a charming piano solo, "In a Monastery Garden," was played by Miss Patricia Watson and much enjoyed.

The curtains were then parted on the last of the three plays, "The Kleptomaniac," a comedy by Margaret Cameron, wherein a purse containing a large amount of money and several valuable rings is lost at a reception. "Mrs. John Burton," an impulsive young society woman, impulsively young society woman, impulsively portrayed by Miss Hazel Crosby, "Miss Valerie Chase Armistead," a young widow, was well played by Miss Rhoda Hawes; the role of "Mrs. Charles Dover," a young bride, was carried out exceptionally well by Miss Joyce Richardson; "Mrs. Preston Ashley," was capably enacted by Miss Irma Ross; "Miss Freda Dixon," was outstandingly portrayed by Miss Helen Harris, of Sherbrooke.

Friends of "Mrs. Burton" and "Miss Evelyn Evans," a reporter, played by Miss Edith Titcomb, endeavor in various ways to regain the lost purse for her. The climax of the story comes when they discover that the young lady, believed by Mrs. Burton to have stolen the purse from her at a recital that afternoon, is none other than "Mrs. Otis Howard," wife of one of Jack Burton's most important clients, expected to arrive that evening for dinner. There follows a hurried scramble to intercept a detective who has been sent by the police to hotel to arrest her for the supposed robbery. In the meantime, the purse is discovered in the pocket of Mrs. Burton's coat, just as Mrs. Howard is announced by the maid, well played by Miss Isabel Lipsey, and all ends happily.

To Mrs. Donald Ross and Miss Doreen Stewart go much of the credit for the success of these plays, for their tireless efforts in directing them, and to them, as well as to all those assisting in any way towards the enjoyment of the evening, the sincere thanks of the Young Women's Association was extended. Mr. Harold Frizzell was in charge of the lights, the Misses Mina Pergau and Greta Frizzell handled the curtains and Miss Florence Rollins acted as cashier.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. F. S. BROWNE

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Browne, who are leaving shortly for Ottawa, where Mr. Browne will take up the duties of his appointment by the Dominion Government in the Experimental Farms Division, were the guests-of-honor at a most enjoyable party last evening in the Parish Hall of St. George's Church, given by the Sherbrooke Agricultural Society, the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association, Lennoxville Short Course Committee and the Lennoxville Farmers' Club.

Over a hundred were present and a pleasant social evening was spent by all. Cards were enjoyed and two greatly appreciated tenor solos were sung by Miss Thelma Crawford, Carrie Jacobs Bond's beautiful "Pee-fee Day" and "The Little Yellow Dog," the soloist being accompanied by Mrs. Browne. Mr. Cecil Reeves, of Sand Hill, was also heard in the charming little song, "The Girl in the Little Green Hat," accompanied by the piano by Mrs. W. T. Pearson.

Later N. L. Cameron, president of the Sherbrooke Agricultural Society, acted as chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Browne were presented with several lovely gifts. A beautiful floor lamp was presented by Mr. Charles Crawford, president of the Lennoxville Farmers' Club, from the Lennoxville Agricultural Society, the Sherbrooke Ploughmen's Association, the Lennoxville Short Course Committee and the Lennoxville Farmers' Club. On behalf of the staff of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, W. S. Richardson presented Mr. Browne with a fitted Gladstone travelling bag and Mrs. Browne with a lovely handbag. Mrs. G. G. McCurdy, representing the chair of the Lennoxville United Church, presented Mr. and Mrs. Browne with a beautiful silver cheese and cracker plate.

In the remarks which accompanied the presentation of these gifts, the love and esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Browne are held by residents of the community were expressed.

—Eastern Townships' Only English Daily—

SHERBROOKE, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1937.

And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment.—1 Kings 3:11.

Tolerance And Understanding.

The people of the Eastern Townships have every reason to feel proud and satisfied in the knowledge that this section of Quebec Province stands out in a class by itself in the fostering of broad-mindedness and tolerance.

We are a collection of communities who have learned that by living together in peace and harmony we are setting an example to the rest of the Province and to the nation as a whole.

There is a friendly feeling among our people and we are always anxious to show others that we desire to be friendly and tolerant with them.

During the city's Centennial celebration Sherbrooke was proud and happy to extend an official welcome to the Governor of the State of Vermont. Several weeks ago a delegation of Sherbrooke citizens gladly paid a return visit to the neighboring state.

Last week when Trinity United Church held its anniversary supper the occasion was graced by the presence of Rev. Canon J. C. McGee, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, and by Colonel the Hon. J. S. Bourque, Provincial Minister of Public Works.

We as a people are united in fighting the spread of Communism and we stand united to protect and respect the rights and beliefs of all who live within our borders.

Truly, we have reason to feel proud. Every part of the community is working for still closer relations. We are all benefitting by our work. We are happy and we are proud to form part of a community in which such a fine example of tolerance and understanding exists.

Civilization Quitting Before It Is Beaten.

It must have been very amusing to watch, that day when British Government authorities went into an orphan asylum near London to experiment with gas masks.

The Government has been trying to devise gas masks suitable for small children. A number of experimental masks had been made; so fifty infants in an asylum were chosen to play the part of guinea pigs. These children put on the masks and had a great time, giggling and gesturing gaily as they went blundering about the asylum in their grotesque "funny faces."

And it's a good thing someone was able to get a laugh out of it. For nothing that modern society does is quite so grimly discouraging as this despairing effort to find some way of protecting children against the gas attacks of wartime.

If we had any real conception of what the word "civilization" ought to mean, a news story of this kind would make us rise in revolt against the modern war machine and the blight it has put on modern life.

For a society that has to devise gas masks for small children is clearly a society which, having stumbled to the dark end of a blind alley, is vainly trying to protect its own children against itself. It is admitting its own incompetence to perform one of its most important jobs. For if civilization does not mean that small children are protected against the threat of violence and sudden death, what in the name of sanity does it mean?

To be sure, the gas masks may help a little. The inventors may be able to keep one jump ahead of the chemical warfare experts. They may be able to rig up a mask which a small child won't tear off. And there is always the chance, slight but hopeful, that the bombs will leave a few children alive to put on the masks before the gas attack comes.

But what a ghastly mockery it all is! For this despairing effort to fit gas masks to babies simply means that we have given up trying to make our Christian civilization live up to its name. We have equipped ourselves with the kind of weapons which make it certain that when we make war we shall kill the young, the aged, the sick and the defenceless with indiscriminating efficiency.

Having done that, we have found ourselves forced to admit that we have no way of preventing war. At the same time that we have made war more horrible than ever before, we have confessed its inevitability.

A world which does things like that is a world profoundly out of joint. It is a world that is about to discover that ahead of the problem of deciding between democracy, Fascism, Communism and any other ism whatever must come the task of protecting children from child-killers in uniform.

For if it cannot do that, it is assuredly a lost world—whatever choice it makes on these other matters.

A Real Philanthropist.

It sounds nice to hear a man spoken of as a "great philanthropist." Usually, however, we do not realize the human values back of that word until someone reminds us of them.

Felix Warburg, famous New York banker, was such a philanthropist. He gave of his time and money to many causes, but probably his most notable contribution was his service as chairman of the distribution committee through which aid was extended to thousands upon thousands of Jewish people in eastern Europe in the terrible years just after the war.

That was a truly great work, which literally saved many thousands of lives. To have had even a small part in it would be cause for just pride; to have directed so much of it is a mark of great distinction. Few people have served their fellowmen as valiantly and effectively as did Mr. Warburg.

A School Boy's Essay On Editors.

"I don't know how newspapers got into the world, and I don't believe God does, for he ain't got nothing to say about them in the Bible. I think the editor is the missing link we read of, and stayed in the bushes after the flood, and then came out and wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. If the editor makes mistakes, folks say he ought to be hung; but if the doctor makes mistakes he buries them and people don't say nothing because they can't read and write Latin. When the editor makes mistakes there is a big law suit and swearing and a big fuss, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anyone else knowing what it means, but when the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife, he charges the man for the visit, but if the editor goes he gets a charge of buckshot. Any college can make doctors to order, but editors have to be born."

Editor's Note-Book.

Japan claims she loves and wants to help China. Perhaps, after all, all those bombs are just love notes.

We read of a case where man's mentality improved after firing a bullet into his head. There should be no lack of subjects.

FIRE-SIDE.

Sometimes I lose myself in dreams
Beside a blazing fire,
And in its ruby caverns glimpse
A phantom, old desire.

It dances out between the flames,
With sweet enticing face,
And lures me down the lanes of time
To that familiar place.

I see you standing there, beloved—
I speak your darling name—
Your eyes are pools of darkest night,
Your hair a lambent flame

My senses leap to feel your touch...
I tremble and grow chill—
The fire is dying out—and now
The leaping flames are still.

PRESS COMMENTS

CLAIMS REAL RISK OF POWER SHORTAGE.

(Toronto Telegram)

Power consumption in Ontario continues on the increase. In September the total primary load on all Hydro systems was 12.7 per cent. above that of the same month last year, or 1,337,367 horse-power as compared to 1,204,276 in September, 1936. Combined primary and secondary loads totalled 1,550,558 horse-power, as against 1,402,914 a year ago. On the Niagara system there was a thirteen per cent. greater demand.

If this rate of increase continues for another year, as it probably will in view of business and industrial recovery, new industrial development and extension of rural electrification Hydro Commission will be pretty close to the end of its reserves which have been provided by the Quebec contract renewals. Such a situation would be an uncomfortable one for the province, since a power shortage would create havoc in industrial production and in employment.

The two new Hydro Commission members are to make a survey of the situation shortly, it is announced, including possible new sources of supply. This is a satisfactory development, since the Hydro Commission is in a position to make a survey of the situation at last being realized. What precaution can be taken is not readily apparent, however, in view of Premier Hepburn's attitude. He has said that he will not agree to St. Lawrence development, and that the province must depend on its own resources. This precludes the possibility of renewal of the Beauharnois contract and leaves the Niagara as the only substantial source. But there, too, there will be difficulties. Additional development at Niagara means additional development from the river and that is not possible without consent of the United States Government. Some years ago the U. S. Senate rejected a treaty permitting the withdrawal of a greater quantity of water on the Niagara River, and the Niagara Falls, there is no evidence of any change of attitude in Washington since that time. Until there is, Mr. Hepburn's "back to Niagara" plan is unworkable.

The Hydro Commission has no practical development in prospect. Several small plans are being considered, but the amount of energy which these will produce is negligible. Unless there is soon a keener realization of the situation by the Government, Ontario may be in a bad way before substantial new supplies can be made. It is certainly becoming quite evident that for normal demand and normal growth the much-denounced Quebec contracts did not represent an over-purchase as the public were at one time led to believe.

THE VALUE OF NATIONAL UNITY.

(Montreal Gazette)

Herr Adolf Hitler, in opening the fifth winter relief campaign of the National Socialist Party, made some remarks which are worthy of consideration. He said that the German people have been inspired by the great ideal of national unity, and as long as she retains this ideal so long will she increase in power. This ideal of comradeship prevails even in these troubled times, he continued. In other parts of the world, declared the Chancellor, there is tension, and Germany has been spared disturbances and remains an island of peace.

Whatever the merits or demerits of Nazism, what Hitler says of the value of national unity and comradeship deserves consideration even by those who detest the methods of dictatorship. A people whose ideal of patriotism is far stronger than one in which political divisions tend to sap the national strength. Serious sectional disputes attract outside attention and a power that may be dreaming of prey does not overlook the domestic conditions which threaten its power.

The weak Giant of the East, is a case in point. If the Chinese had not been divided against themselves ever since the establishment of their so-called republic, they would hardly have been a world power. Recent developments in the Far East should serve as a lesson that, whereas there is strength in union, in disunion there is national peril. Hitler, like Mussolini, has no respect for democracy, which he regards as a hindrance to the expansion of his empire. His criticism of the democratic system is based on the success of National Socialism should ever spur democracies to strengthen themselves by making every effort to secure greater national unity. If this is done there will be little chance of either Fascism or Communism making inroads in countries which continue to believe in the liberty of the subject, and whose people have no desire to be dominated by the whims and ambitions of any single man.

CHURCH ACTIVITIES.

(Ottawa Journal)

Of the seasonal activities of the season of 1937-38 none will be greater, more general or more effective than those devoted to work of the churches. In the church there is much for everyone to do for himself and for those about him in home, in local community, in country and in the world.

In other organizations there is some justification for the feeling that the persons who do the work make a sacrifice of time and effort for the common good. The church proceeds upon a deeper psychology. It holds that service is reward rather than sacrifice.

The churches in Canada have a new call to activity. The national calamity of still another year of drought in an immense area of the prairie West reveals itself more than ever as a problem—immediate and commanding—of people both as individuals and as communities. The problems of moisture distribution, soil reclamation, adaptation of farm and industrial methods—these things must be dealt with in due course by means of political and social organization. The problem of relief also—the plain question of subsistence and shelter—is mainly in the hands of governments.

But the work of saving such valuable assets as individual and communal morale is a work of brotherhood at its highest, a work for the churches.

The fear of war with its hatreds and other horrors still exists. There may be question whether, in a given case, the churches could or should unite to prevent war. But beyond that question the churches should endeavor mightily to establish peace in the hearts of men so that war may be no more.

It is evident that the churches everywhere feel the call of the time. It may well be that the churches in Canada can make a special contribution to the general endeavor to establish world society upon a firm basis of universal good-will.

BRITAIN'S DEFENCES.

(Sydney Post-Record)

Almost every day brings further evidence of the popular support being accorded the British Government's rearmament programme. Latest is the overwhelming majority by which a resolution criticizing the programme was voted down by the Labor party at its annual conference in Bournemouth. Mr. J. R. Clynes, former Home Secretary, presided over the situation when he told the Conference: "Pacifism may be glorious, but as a political policy it would be deadly to the party. If it were believed that Labor would leave the country defenceless, Labor would not win a single seat in Great Britain." This does not mean that the British have become a militant people. But common sense tells them of the great danger to which they would be subjected if somebody should let down their defences in the face of the present world situation.

GRAVE SITUATION.

(St. Catharines Standard)

There is no doubt today that a nasty international mess exists over Spain and it threatens to become worse. The opening of the French frontier for shipment of men, guns and munitions, the lifting of the embargo against similar shipments from Great Britain and the seizure of the Island of Minorca to forestall Italy are last resort measures which might lead to declared and open hostilities.

Russia has rejected the British plan for withdrawal of French troops from Spain. For what purpose? It is just possible that realizing what a breakdown of the Non-Intervention Committee will mean, Russia is betting on the drastic action proposed by France. Russia wants that action.

Aggravating and provocative has been the policy of Mussolini. Night after night there is the blare of the radio from high-powered Italian stations with propaganda to create a feeling of alarm among the Arabs of Palestine, and among the Jewish populations of Britain and France in Africa. This is all part of the piece. As regards Spain, nothing is more certain than that Mussolini aims to secure a foothold to threaten, if not cut, British and French lines of communication as well as a secure, along with Germany, possession of the rich ore and other resources within the country.

The "peace at any price" policy of the British government today hangs by a slender thread. Anthony Eden, the great idealist, is in a "very grave" situation. It can be accepted as a fact that such pronouncements by a British statesman are made neither for effect nor for bluff, but simply to bring the reality home.

SOVIET WATCH HUNTERS.

(Chicago Daily News)

The mentality of Stalin and his terrorists is that of the witch hunt. In old New England's witchcraft days the people knew for a certainty that if the cream soured or the baby got the mumps or a hayrick burned or the cow went mad, it was the work of a witch. Any old woman who had a limp or a squint, or lived alone and was a bit queer, could be made to take the blame. Just so in Russia today, the Stalinists have no doubt that if a train is wrecked, or a bridge falls, or a factory is destroyed, or a diabolical Trotskyist, and almost anybody can be tortured into "confession."

HOW MUCH IS A MILLION?

(Star)

A million dollars is to be spent on the new power plant at the lower falls on the Montreal River. With the numerous amounts of even larger sums announced for other projects in the district, a million dollars does not bulk as very impressive in the money world. It is a million dollars? If you started to save $1 a day out of your wages for eight hundred weeks before the Christian era, you would just about have the money the second power plant on the Montreal River will cost. Or if you had put $2 in the savings bank every day from a little after the Roman Empire blew up you would have the million. A million dollars is a stupendous amount of money.

JUNGLE LEADERSHIP.

(Ottawa Journal)

Adolf Hitler welcomed Benito Mussolini to Germany as "one of the lonely men in history who are not put on trial by historic events but determine the history of their country themselves." It is a splendid ideal. But determination implies thought and planning, and Hitler is a dictator. Let Hitler himself answer. He says, "We think with our blood." Savages think that way. Their actions in their private lives and their tribal affairs, are determined by primitive emotions. Only savages are naturally seeking Canadian as man. Hitler is a dictator. The thought processes of the animal do not intelligent reasoning out instinct and the "call of the wild" as a factor in controlling human behavior. Only when statesmen of all nations learn to think with their heads rather than their instincts, and when they are a throw-back to the animal world, will Europe be ready for peace and progress through peaceful change.

THE FRENCH PRESS

GOVERNMENT DECIDES ELECTION RESULT

(La Presse, Montreal)

Elections will be held in the U.S.S.R. on December 12. The people will be invited to elect, by secret ballot as in Canada, members of the two Houses which will be drawn now on the holders of all authority in Soviet Russia. Representatives will be elected for a period of four years; when this period is up, new elections will be held.

All this is very similar to the political institutions in force in a great number of capitalist states, which it has evidently been the intention to imitate. The Russians owe this new regime to the Constitution promulgated last year and celebrated not only in the U.S.S.R. but abroad as the abandonment of the severities of dictatorial rule for the reorganized liberalism of parliamentary institutions.

But has Russia freed herself from the dictatorial regime which weighed on her since the 1917 revolution? The world wished to believe it. Unfortunately, almost immediately a series of "purges" was begun which gave us the proof that there were any changes in theory in the constitutional laws of the country, the authority was exercised in the same old way.

Besides, the government has taken precautions to prevent any unwanted result. Candidates standing on December 12 will be chosen by the Communist Party. This has received its orders, and will present only those men of whom it is sure. The circumstances, whether the people vote or not, the result will be absolutely the same. No illusions must be held concerning the new Soviet regime.

CANADIAN PAVILION AT PARIS

(Le Droit, Ottawa)

Visitors to the Paris Exposition have great admiration for the Canadian pavilion. They praise the originality of its architecture—its pavilion has the shape of a grain elevator—and, so it seems, a sweet little ornamental buffalo, a work of our sculptor Brunet, has become the darling of the photography fanatics. But there are several shadows in the picture. The organizers of the Canadian pavilion completely lost sight of the specific character of the Paris Exposition, which is an exhibition of arts and techniques in modern life. The interior decorations of our pavilion have a commercial mustiness; they are made of the same collection of cardboard which is dragged from fair to fair without thought for adaptation or novelty. In Canada there are only wheat fields, railways and Niagara Falls.

We had an opportunity to make known the natural beauties of the country, to display our artistic and intellectual riches. No one made use of them.

Canada made itself humble, it is said in official circles in Ottawa, so as not to eclipse Great Britain, who had not gone to great expense either.

PIPE-SMOKING AND PRONUNCIATION

(Le Nouvelliste, Three Rivers)

Had you never given a thought to the fact that the pipe might have had some sort of influence on the language? Mr. Ernest Curzon, an English philosopher, has just completed a pamphlet dealing with the engraving question. Pipe smokers are in the habit of answering brief answers, of clipping off the endings of their words.

The English pronunciation gives the impression that the person speaks with compressed lips. It is the pipe which is responsible, for as the habit of answering briefly, the smoker does not remove the pipe from his mouth.

It is very simple, but one had to think about it.

Menace of Alien Empire Migrants

(From the Imperial Review)

The facts which have been published lately in regard to the rapid infiltration of foreign emigrants into the Empire are most disquieting. Only a week or two ago five hundred settlers from South and Central Europe arrived at Fremantle, Western Australia, and it was stated that nearly a thousand more were due to arrive shortly. During the past twelve months nine hundred Italians, the same number of Greeks, and four hundred Yugoslavs have gone to Australia with the purpose of making their permanent home in the Commonwealth. The tendency is exactly the same in regard to South Africa. Here is a land whose present prosperity is obviously only the prelude to far greater things in the future; it might be assumed, therefore, that men and women of British stock should be foremost in the race to take advantage of so glorious an opportunity. Unfortunately nothing of the kind is happening. Immigrants in considerable numbers are certainly going to South Africa—in fact, we are told that last year the immigration figures of the Union country were as good as—but not total of ten thousand less than four thousand came from the Mother Country, or for that matter from any other part of the Empire. The bulk of the immigrants were Croats, Magyars, Rumanians and Slavs, the very kind of folk whose history and traditions are far removed from ours, and naturally render it difficult for them to assimilate the ideas upon which the Empire has been built up.

Canada, the senior Dominion of the British Empire, presents a picture which is equally disturbing to anyone who can be bothered to visit the various parts of the Empire. The consequences of the terrible unit in years to come which are almost bound to result unless Great Britain and the Dominions take resolute action to stem the tide of aliens into the Empire. During a period of six months last year three thousand new settlers were sent into Canada, mostly of the same foreign origin as we have just mentioned in regard to Australia and South Africa. Less than one-third were of British stock. While this process goes on year after year no wonder that we are told on good authority that by the end of the present year the number of Canadians of Anglo-Saxon stock will number less than fifty per cent. of the total population of the Dominion. The anxiety which patriotic Canadians themselves feel on this subject is reflected in the various and important articles recently published in a Toronto magazine. The author of the article, Mr. W. B. Hurd, gives it as his definite opinion that unless there is some fundamental change in the situation, within the next thirty years the proportion of Anglo-Saxons in Canada will fall as low as forty per cent. of the total population. Mr. Hurd seems to assume that the possibility of a fall in the population of the United Kingdom in the future will mean that the tide of emigration from this country to Canada will be lessened. The Empire will inevitably become very difficult. Assuming that the gloomy predictions of certain sociologists and statisticians on this question are borne out by actual facts in the future, it may become less easy to keep the proportion of British emigrants up to the ideal standard. But it would be wrong to assume as certain that the population pessimists will necessarily turn out to be correct.

This is a present-day problem and should be met by the Government. We are bound to ask ourselves if we are to be false to our trust if we allow this foreign infiltration of the Empire to proceed much further without taking some practical steps to stop it as far as it is reasonably possible to do so.

These are days when we hear much about the necessity for planning; nowhere is there a greater need for wise forethought and skilled planning than in regard to the development of our vast Empire. We cannot afford in a world which contains so many countries which are envious of our great Imperial position to let things slide along and adjust themselves haphazardly, and without any relation to any well-thought-out scheme. Yet that is exactly what is happening now in regard to the whole question of Empire development. The Governments of the United Kingdom and the Dominions know quite well that the problems of emigration and inter-Imperial trade cannot be solved separately; they are intimately bound up together, each other, and a practical step forward in one direction is a solid contribution towards an advance in the other. Business men of great experience have long expressed the view that Empire development and emigration development are getting a little anxious on the subject, but one waits in vain for any tangible sign that at last they are awake to the real dangers and are ready to substitute action for useless talk.

The inescapable fact is that the Empire must be peopled, whether the emigrants are of British stock or not. We believe that if a proper emigration policy were worked out between Great Britain and the Dominions it would be possible in a short time to correct the balance which is being upset to such a dangerous extent by the arrival of such large numbers of non-British emigrants in various parts of the Empire. But if it should prove impracticable to get enough immigrants from Great Britain, surely it is only common sense to do as Mr. Butler, the Premier of South Australia, suggests, namely, try to get more immigrants from the various parts of the Empire, particularly Scandinavia, where the habits and customs of the people are very similar to our own. But we are convinced that the root of the question is to be found in an increased volume of trade between this country and the Dominions. A good beginning was made at Ottawa, but there is still room for something more. If Great Britain were only prepared to cut down her imports of foreign foodstuffs and give a larger market to the Dominions it would be a step towards the solution of this question. It is not only in the doing plenty of Britishers to make a new home across the sea under a common flag, but also in persuading the Dominion Governments to give such emigrants every possible facility. The sands are running out; every month that elapses makes the task more difficult. Is it too much to hope that those members of Parliament—and they are many in number—who are deeply conscious of the danger of the alien invasion of the Empire will take every opportunity of pressing a remedy of the matter to the Government when they return to Westminster for the new Session?

WORDS OF WISDOM

Mystical, more than magical, is that communion of soul with soul, both looking heavenward; here, properly, soul first speaks with soul; for only in looking heavenward, take it in what sense you may, not in looking earthward, does what we call union mutual love, society begin to be possible.—Carlyle.

The mistake of the best men through generation after generation has been the great one of thinking to help the poor by almsgiving, and by preaching of patience or of hope, and by every other means, ennobling or consolatory, except the one through which God orders for them.—Justice.—Ruskin.

Nothing is more expensive than penuriousness; nothing more anxious than carelessness; and every duty which a husband owes to his wife, and every fresh duty at its back.—Charles Kingsley.

Heroism may be manifested in society or out of it; in solitude or in the press of affairs; in secret wrestlings or in open conduct; by the pure and ignorant or the great and the wise. But everywhere it makes the same call. Everywhere it implies really great thoughts, great hopes, great attempts; great measures of what is worthy of man, and great willingness to pay the price.—R. W. Church.

GOLD IS GAY AS TRIM ON NEW FROCKS

The Midas touch is everywhere this season. Everything is touched with gold, in other words. By everything I mean, first of all, black dresses, and secondly and thirdly, hats and jackets.

There's gold in "them thar" Paris models, which are, as I hope I have managed to make clear, both simple and elaborate. Sounds like and is one of the neatest tricks of the season. It's this way—simple clothes are elaborated on. Lines are straight, but trimmings are ornate and on the spectacular side.

"Narrow," "Slender," "Slims," those reducing silhouette terms that are so important this season, must be gauged in their newest value, which is "straight." Not just straight, but straight cut. The bias cut, which gave to even the narrowest skirt a suggestion of flare at the hemline, is removed from the scene this season. Instead, there are skirts cut altogether on the straight, in the familiar two-or-three-piece formula, with seams at sides and sometimes at center back.

It is fairly well accepted that, when skirts have narrowed down to the form-fitting lines of this season, a straight cut holds the shape of the skirt more firmly; obviously, the bias skirt, when drawn by snugly fitted lines below the waist, is pulled out of shape.

So much being clear, let's take a look at what is the next step toward the desired elegance. Embroidery does the trick. Fine hand embroidery, even good machine embroidery, can never possibly be cheap. Gowns rich with embroidery are just for rich gals—make no mistake about it.

Not all the embroidery in vogue is gold, but a good deal of it is. Cellophane is fashioned into all manner of effective trimmings. In fact, you'll be surprised how many unexpected materials appear in unexpected places, and manage to turn the trick of looking chic.

At the Paris couture openings in August, where 1900 fashion themes were so pronounced, one of the significant observations was the dog collar worn not only with evening décolletés but also with day dresses. The latter connection is noteworthy, since the higher neckline is repeatedly emphasized in Paris fashions, and it was with this that the dog collar was frequently shown by the couturiers.

There is some prejudice that the dog collar is an old fashion, due to the fact that, up to now, when it is gaining prestige as a young style, it has been associated chiefly with dowagers who have used it so obviously as a "prop" for withered necks.

Some jewelry designers are devising dog collars by joining two bracelets with a center ornament.

Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Dupuis and Miss May Mitchell are returning tonight from Montreal, whither they motored yesterday. Mrs. F. H. Bradley, who accompanied them, is remaining on in the metropolis to spend the week-end with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell.

Mrs. J. L. Monrad-Martinsson, of Sherbrooke, is sailing next Friday on the Duchess of Richmond for Denmark, and will be away for a year. During her stay overseas, Mrs. Monrad-Martinsson will take a post graduate course in Swedish massage in Stockholm, Sweden.

Mrs. J. S. Mooney, diocesan president of the Catholic Women's League, entertained the members of the east and all who assisted in the presentation of the charming play "Goblin Gold," at her home on Walton avenue, following the closing performance on Wednesday evening. The effective Hallowe'en decorations which were placed about the reception hall and living room were continued in the dining room, where later delectable refreshments were served. A large lighted pumpkin lantern and four orange tapers in black holders were arranged on the lovely lace cloth covering the table, at which Miss Arlene Hand, president of the Junior C.W.L., poured coffee. Assisting were the Misses Gertrude Conway, Alice McKenna and Daphne Mooney.

Entertaining at a jolly Hallowe'en party in honor of their guests, the student nurses-in-training at the Sherbrooke Hospital, the Young People's Union, under the supervision of the recreation committee, sponsored a delightful programme in Plymouth hall on Wednesday evening. With Mr. Charlie Vaughn acting as chairman, assisted by Messrs. Raymond Stevenson, Bruce Lathrop and Arthur Rider, the party was a huge success. The hall was gay with Hallowe'en decorations, pumpkin faces grinning at the merry crowd of young people who enjoyed most heartily the many games directed by Mr. W. H. Wolter. Later delicious refreshments were served.

The concert singing of the Misses Nan McLeay and Beth Bishop after the last jolly song, the pleasant and successful Hallowe'en party closed with God Save the King.

Profiles For Today

OSCAR OF THE WALDORF WED FIFTY YEARS

The best known hotel man in the world is undoubtedly Oscar of the Waldorf. He has just celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary, and so a large dinner party was given for him in New York. To the world at large he is known as Oscar of the Waldorf; his right name is Oscar Tschirky.

Oscar has greeted and attended to more famous people than any other man in hotel business. It is small wonder then that his banquet should be attended by throngs of notables. He received greetings from the President, the Cabinet, the Governor, the Mayor and others.

He was born in Switzerland, is a naturalized American, and has been in hotel work since 1883 when he landed here. Starting as a busboy in the old Hotel Brunswick in New York, he rose rapidly. He was at the Hoffman House, Delmonico's and later went to the Waldorf, then being built by Astor. He had, as he still has today, a very large following among the elite and the wealthy. Today he is 71 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Tschirky have three children. They are Leonora, August and Lulu Clover, now Mrs. Ira Zimmerman. Despite their long association with wealth and luxury, their tastes are simple.

At their banquet they would have relished a plain, simple meal. Did they get it? Well, read the menu printed below:

Green turtle soup, with cherry; brook trout gourmet with cucumbers in cream dressing; Steinwein, 1930; mignon of beef barenaise with new peas, lettuce, claret, 1935; kirsch sherbet; gray-legged partridge with wild rice and currant jelly; Waldorf salad; red Burgundy, 1936; golden anniversary dessert, wedding cake, fresh fruit, champagne, 1926 and 1928 vintages; and coffee with cognac 50 years old.

Members of the W. M. S. greatly appreciate Mrs. Gibson's gracious hospitality in opening her attractive home for the tea party, which was not only a success financially but was also a most enjoyable social event.

The "Mayfair" was en fête last evening for the mammoth bridge party given by the Women's Guild and the St. Agnes Guild of the Church of the Advent at the New Sherbrooke through the courtesy of Mrs. Roland Badger, who received with the two presidents, Mrs. J. H. Bryant and Miss Doris Price. This already attractive rendez-vous for social activities was brilliantly decorated in honor of Hallowe'en, owls, black cats and all kinds of spooky emblems looking down with solemn faces on the gay throng of players below. Bridge was played at forty-five tables, the acceptable prizes at each being score pads and pencils. During the evening the players paused for a few minutes while Rev. E. K. Moffatt, on behalf of the Guilds voiced their grateful thanks

MARRIAGES

FARRELL-CUTTS

A quiet wedding took place on Friday afternoon, October 22, when Miss Jessie E. Cutts, daughter of Mrs. Jessie E. Cutts and the late Edward J. Cutts, became the bride of Mr. Michael Farrell, son of Mrs. Cornelius Bouchard, Rev. Canon McGee, officiating. The contracting parties were attended by Miss Georgina Farrell, sister of the groom, and Mr. Robert Cutts, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home where some twenty-five guests assembled to extend their best wishes to the young couple. Refreshments were served in the dining-room, a pretty table being centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and green and pink candles in silver holders.

Mrs. Bertha Rolfe looked after the refreshments, assisted by the Misses Evelyn Rolfe and Katherine Johnston, cousin of the bride.

For travelling the bride wore her wedding costume, a three-piece English tweed suit trimmed with Fitch fur, a green silk chiffon velvet blouse and hat with a brown veil and brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow Talisman roses and lilies of the valley.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnston, aunt and uncle of the bride, Miss Katherine Johnston, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Toussaint, of Drummondville, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Bertha Rolfe, of Bury.

LEVITT-TABER

Melbourne Ridge, Oct. 29.—The marriage of Miss Marjorie L. Taber, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Taber, of Melbourne Ridge to Mr. John R. Levitt, of Waterloo, was solemnized on Wednesday evening, October 29, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, with the near relatives present. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. G. Brown, pastor of the United Church.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty blue dress and was unattended. Later in the evening a large number from the Melbourne Ridge Young People's Society arrived and presented the bride and groom with a lovely clock.

Lunch was served and a happy evening spent Mr. and Mrs. Levitt received many beautiful and useful gifts from their many friends, who wish them much joy and happiness. They will reside in Waterloo.

THOMPSON-REED

Sawyer's, Que. Oct. 29.—The marriage of Gladys Lena, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reed, to Mr. Stanley W. Thompson, son of Mrs. Thompson and the late Mr. Henry Thompson, of East Clifton, was solemnized at St. John's Hall, Sawyer's, on Saturday evening, October 29, at seven o'clock, the Rev. W. C. Dunn officiating.

She bride wore a navy blue tailored suit with accessories to match, and carried an Anglican prayer book.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Hume, grandparents of the bride, who gave a bride and groom fifty-two years ago.

After the ceremony the wedding party, consisting of the immediate family, repaired to the Sawyer's House for dinner, and after receiving congratulations, the happy couple left amid confetti and good wishes and visited St. Johnsbury, Vt., Portland, Me., Nashua, N.H., and other places.

Upon their return a reception was held at Mr. Alton Taylor's hall, Sawyer's, where about two hundred and fifty relatives and friends gathered to enjoy dancing and social entertainment until the early hours of the morning.

Lunch was served at midnight, when the bride and groom fittingly thanked their friends for their love and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will reside in East Clifton.

and appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Roland Badger for their reception, hospitality and kindly co-operation in placing the "Mayfair" at the Guild's disposal for the delightful party. After a round of applause had confirmed Mr. Moffatt's motion of thanks to the host and hostess, the players returned to their game.

Delicious refreshments, including chicken patties, rolls, cake and coffee, were served at the conclusion of the game by the members of both Guilds, who were assisted by the Misses Marion Peak, Kathleen Simpson, Helen Livingston and Helen Hall.

SCENTED BATH PEPERS YOU UP AFTER A GAME

The final whistle sounds. The football game is over. It has been an exciting afternoon, but you realize with a start that it is time to think about yourself. You are probably mused up; your cheeks burn from the wind; you are stiff from sitting, hoarse from cheering and possibly none too sweetly perfumed with the odor of hot dogs and mustard.

You will have to dash for home and begin concentrating on being lovely for the evening's dining and dancing. A complete transformation is in order and you have none too much time to bring it about.

I have discovered that one of the nicest ways of handling the after-the-game situation is with lavender, a gay, modern interpretation of the old-fashioned fragrance that mother used to use when you were something like this: Home and off with your sports clothes. Slip into a dressing gown. Cleanse your face with a rich, soothing cream that removes every particle of dust and literally melts

PUMPKIN FACE AND COCOANUT BEARD MAKE CAKE FIT FOR GOBLIN BY GOBLINS

Try as it will to hide behind a camouflage of cocoanut, this orange-faced Hallowe'en cake doesn't fool the hungry witches and black cats that are closing in on it. They know a luscious treat when they see one and so will you when you make this raisin-featured beauty.

Better whip up a cake, for tomorrow night the friendly goblins may drop in for a few pranks and a Hallowe'en greeting—and goblins are notorious cake-hounds. Everybody forgets their cares on Hallowe'en, so why not join in the fun even though you had decided to let it pass unnoticed? The following recipe produces a handsome cake and watch the witches and the black cats and the goblins grin when they see it.

Hallowe'en Cake
(Two 9-inch layers)
Three cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup butter or other shortening, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup milk, ½ cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ teaspoon almond extract, 3 eggs away the roughness caused by the wind. Remove the first application of cream with tissues and skin tonic, then apply a second and more liberal coating.

Now, time out for a half-hour's snooze, or if you can't nap, rest. Then take a tub made refreshing with lavender-scented bath salts or water-softener.

Follow by dusting yourself all over with a sweet, faintly spicy lavender-scented bath powder. Slip into fresh undies and give yourself a final spray of misty toilet water. You'll feel like a new girl.

If you need something extra, spray a few drops of eau de Cologne on your handkerchief and maybe a speck on your hair.

When you have applied the last dab of make up take a peek at yourself in the mirror. You are rested and ready for frolic, pretty and fragrant, perfectly synchronized with the softer note in the autumn fashions. Reach for your wrap, confident of winning plenty of cheers from the sidelines.

REVIVAL OF OLD SYSTEM OF NAMING PEAS

Those who remember shopping for groceries twenty years ago will recall that the various sizes of canned peas were identified by name: "Sweet Wrinkle," "Early June," and so on, rather than by the plain numbers 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, as is the usual case today. This more modern system of numbering, however, has left the housewife somewhat confused. Not only is it difficult to remember just what size of peas the respective numbers represent, but numbers alone, she finds, are no guide to quality.

In this connection it is interesting to note that the old idea of naming peas according to size is being definitely revived. For example, fancy quality Aymer size 5 peas are now best known as "Jumbo Sweet Peas." Further, a new label this season for Aymer choice size 3 peas (the favorite medium size) carries the new registered name, "Honey Drop," which officials of the company state will henceforth designate a special selection of Aymer choice quality size 3 peas.

Women who buy groceries readily agree that there is much more satisfaction in buying peas by registered name than by mere number. Not only is "Honey Drop" easily remembered as the name by which to order choice medium size peas, but it affords protection against substitution with size 3 peas of inferior quality.

COLORS PIGSKIN

Pigskin, in a rich, warm, reddish brown, is a new development in this practical, good-looking leather. It has just been introduced in women's handbags in a variety of styles, as well as for men's leather goods. The leather has been produced by aniline dyes and is said to be guaranteed against rubbing off or fading.

whites, stiffly beaten, 1 can moist, sweetened cocoanut.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add flour, alternately with liquid, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add flavoring; fold in eggs whites quickly and thoroughly. Bake in two 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 20 minutes. Spread tinted fluffy frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake, reserving about 1 cup of frosting. Cut pattern of pumpkin from waxed paper and place on top of cake. Cover rest of cake with moistened, sweetened cocoanut. Remove pattern and fill in with reserved frosting to form raised pumpkin. Make face of pumpkin out of raisins.

HOME MADE PICKLES

There are three main classes of home-made pickles: (1) sweet fruit or vegetable pickles; (2) sour pickles which include mustard pickles; and (3) the large variety of pickles in which the material is chopped finely. The following recipes contain examples of several kinds.

Cabbage Pickle

1 large cabbage finely chopped
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ pound butter
1 tablespoon mustard seed
1 pint of vinegar
Yolks of 2 eggs.
Melt butter, add starch, then vinegar and well-beaten egg yolks, sugar, and seasonings. When slightly thickened, add cabbage. Boil ten minutes, stirring to prevent sticking. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

Red Cabbage Pickle

1 quart vinegar
2 tablespoons whole black pepper
2 tablespoons whole crushed ginger
2 cups sugar
First remove outside leaves and stalk, cut across in very thin slices. Spread on a flat dish, sprinkle with salt, and let stand 24 hours. Turn into a colander and drain thoroughly. Place in jars or a crock and pour the above mixture over it while very hot. Cover and let stand a week before use. Spices may be varied.

Celery Sauce

6 heads celery
1 cup sugar
2 ounces mustard seed
1 teaspoon turmeric
4 large onions
2 quarts vinegar
¾ pound mustard
3 tablespoons salt.
Blend turmeric and mustard with a little vinegar. Mix all ingredients and simmer slowly 2 hours. Bottle while hot.

Pickled Onions

1 quart small pickling onions peeled.
1 quart good white vinegar
1 teaspoon table salt
2 teaspoons whole pepper corns
Bring vinegar and seasoning to boiling point, remove any scum, put in onions, simmer for three minutes, or until onions are transparent.

MUFFETS

A 100% WHOLE WHEAT BREAKFAST CEREAL

Delicious as they are nutritious

Tinted Fluffy Frosting (Orange)

One teaspoon vegetable food color (orange), ½ cup water, 3 eggs whites, unbeaten, 2½ cups sugar, 2 teaspoons light corn syrup, 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Dissolve tint in water in top of double boiler; and egg whites, sugar, and corn syrup, and beat with rotary egg beater until thoroughly mixed. Place over rapidly boiling water, beat constantly with rotary egg beater, and cook 10 minutes, or until frosting will stand in peaks. Remove from fire; add vanilla and beat until thick enough to spread. Makes enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 9-inch layers with about 1 cup extra frosting for special decorating.

Pepper Relish

12 large onions
12 large green peppers
12 large red peppers
12 large yellow peppers
Chop exceedingly fine, cover with boiling water slightly salted. Let stand 10 minutes then drain. Do this three times, the last time pressing in a cloth. Add 1 quart of vinegar, 3 cups of sugar, and cook slowly one hour.

Winter Salad

1 cauliflower
¾ cabbage
1 cucumber
1 quart onions
1 quart green tomatoes
2 heads celery

WOMEN NEED BOW TO AGE NO LONGER

Twenty years ago, a woman was said to be "getting along in years" when she celebrated her thirtieth birthday. Today, she can grow younger and prettier at forty. It all depends on how much she wants to stay young and attractive, and the steps she takes to preserve and develop her good features.

There is no one point at which you lose your youthful features. One by one, small physiological changes take place in the body. The freshness of the skin is lost as minute oil glands slow down and fail to keep it moist and soft. Paint lines appear around the eyes, and an extra hour or two of sleep each night fails to remove them.

This is what happens when nature is allowed to take its course. But if you do the common-sense things that you know you should, you can prolong your beauty for an indefinite period. Just supply the necessary lubrication to your skin, watch your diet, and exercise to keep your circulation lively.

Age usually shows itself first around the eyes. The skin in this area is even drier than that on the rest of the face. In addition, the skin is being stretched and moved constantly. Every time you smile or frown or blink your eyes, the skin is made into little folds and wrinkles. It tends to lose its elasticity early, and temporary lines become permanent—if you let them.

Massage around the eyes daily, also use a mild toning preparation, and use an eyeshadow to keep the eyes themselves clear and refreshed.

The eyes are made up of tiny muscles, nerves and blood vessels, just as any other part of the body. Overwork them, or allow them to become irritated from exposure to bright sun, and they cause trouble.

If you use a cooling, soothing eyeshadow to relax the eyes, they will no longer cause you to frown and squint. Once eyestrain is relieved, it is not difficult to soften the little lines around the eyes with a rich cream, and to iron them out with a bracing tonic.

Here are the steps for a simple eye treatment:
Cleanse your entire face first, using warm water and soap or cleansing cream and skin tonic. Bathe the eyes with boric acid solution. Blot away any remaining moisture with an absorbent tissue, and then apply a rich lubricating cream to the skin around the eyes.

Work it in by massaging gently at the temples and working inward beneath the eyes with a circular, pressing-kneading movement. Look upward, so that the skin is slightly stretched while you massage. Then stroke gently over the closed eyelids with more of the cream. Leave the cream on the skin for ten minutes or longer if you can spare the time.

Now squeeze small pads of cotton out with eye tonic—a good eye wash preparation containing camphor or plain water to which a few drops of witch hazel has been added—and lie down with these over the eyes. Leave on from five to ten minutes, to tone the skin surrounding the eyes.

A small amount of cream applied to the lids when you go out into the chilly autumn air will help to protect the skin and, in addition, will give your eyes a youthful sparkle.

URGES CLOSE CO-OPERATION WITH INQUIRY

President of Canadian Chamber of Commerce Asks Local Bodies to Prepare Briefs for Finance Commission.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—"The appointment of a Royal Commission to investigate the economic and financial basis of Confederation has brought an opportunity which is tantamount to a duty to every citizen of Canada to play a part in reshaping the destinies of our Dominion. Looking back over the seventy years since Confederation, one cannot but be impressed by the fact that the manifold benefits deriving from the privileges of citizenship have far exceeded the drawbacks and that on balance Canadian citizens have been extremely fortunate during the period," George C. MacDonald, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce stated today.

"What is the situation today and does it augur well for the next seventy years?"

"Unfortunately, it appears that our very prosperity is threatening to be our undoing. A disease has crept into our attitude towards the spending of public moneys, with the result that we are spending today what we hope to collect tomorrow. This is striking at the very foundation of our economic life which should be based on the encouragement of thrift and industry. For years, as a result of this spending and failure to raise sufficient revenue, our debt burdens—municipal, provincial and federal—have been piling up, and the increase is altogether out of proportion to the increase in the resources of our citizens and in our capacity to support the burden. Daily our taxes increase, but even so this fact does not prevent our leaving an unfair burden to posterity.

"There will be some who will say that the same situation obtains all over the world, but what are the facts? Some nations are spending vast sums for armament because they feel they need greater scope for their people. Other nations are arming to defend themselves against the first lot. Neither of these reasons applies to our situation.

"It seems to be an absolute disgrace that Canada, with her enormous capacity to produce wealth, should have got herself into this gigantic debt situation. But we are in it and unless we are going to cheat the thrifty and industrious by further inflation we must expect to face further taxation. It is hard to take, but it won't get any better until we eradicate wasteful expenditure and educate public opinion to a proper appreciation of the whole situation.

"The problem of the Commission is two-fold:

"1.—To deal with financial problems of an immediate and pressing nature in some of the provinces.

"2.—To evolve a new business plan for governmental collecting and spending that will appeal to the citizens of Canada as being fair and just to all.

"We have an opportunity to help the Commission, and we propose to enlist the support of all business men in first of all making a study of the problem with a view to getting a proper understanding and appreciation of it, then to bring forward such suggestions for a fit and proper solution as may seem good.

"For many years it has been obvious that in the light of the changes that have come about in our economic system since Confederation the arrangements for the allocation between the federal and provincial realms of the powers and responsibilities of collecting and spending moneys have become inequitable, causing great dissatisfaction in many, if not all, parts of Canada. The increasing load of Canadian debt and taxation, the suspicion that all are not sharing equally and the feeling that some parts of the country are receiving advantages denied to or out of proportion to others all tend to injure the unity of spirit in Canada. I think that it is fundamental that the good luck of being a citizen of Canada should be shared equally, in so far as that is possible, by all the citizens of Canada.

"At Confederation the main source of revenue allotted to Federal Government was the customs and excise. It must be realized that what Canada produces year by year must provide the resources out of which the obligations of our various governments are met. Since Confederation substantial new sources of revenue have appeared—such as, succession duties, sales taxes and income taxes with all their ramifications. The question of how these and other new forms of taxation should be dealt with as between the different jurisdictions is of outstanding importance.

"I am, therefore, appealing for the interest and support of all business men of Canada in the work of this Commission. I feel that the situation is extremely critical, but I believe that if the facts can be put clearly before the people a good common sense business solution can be found which will ensure a better outlook for those who enjoy the privilege of citizenship during the next seventy years.

"The sittings of the Commission now afford an opportunity for the education of the public as to the gravity of the national situation and its inherent threat to Canadian unity and our financial integrity. I feel sure, therefore, that local chamber members will be ready to assist the Commission in every practical way. The Chamber will be communicating regularly with local organizations and we are confident that the executive and membership will consider recommendations, which should be made to the Commission."

The MacKinnon Steel Company, of Sherbrooke, announces that the past year was a better year financially for this well-known company. In presenting the report to shareholders, President D. H. McDougall states that "unfilled orders at the end of the year were considerably higher than at the corresponding date last year, and further improvement has been indicated during the past three months."

Total income for the year, including miscellaneous revenue from investments, etc., was $41,106, as compared with $12,903 in the preceding year, and after all deductions, including depreciation, fees, loan interest, etc., and after deduction of income tax at $3,288, there remained a net profit of $18,159, equal to $3.82 per share on the 47,794 shares outstanding, against a deficit of $6,841 a year ago.

The balance sheet shows higher cash, receivables and inventories, increasing current assets from $217,844 to $303,373, while current liabilities at $70,081 compare with $9,028, leaving net working capital at $233,292, a substantial increase over the $208,218 reported a year ago. Total assets at $761,196 compare with $672,583 a year ago.

YOUR RECORD BOYS

The Record is proud of its sturdy and reliable delivery boys who each afternoon smilingly leave the Record Office with their bags to deliver the Record to the homes of the city. A fine class of boys are associated with the Record, and they are an important part of the organization which each day publishes and distributes the only English daily of the Eastern Townships.

Many former Record boys are today holding important positions in the life of the community, and each one is proud of the fact that he once "delivered Records." The Record boys are pictured above as they were ready to set out from the office with the papers. Standing at each end is a stalwart of the law, at the left is Constable J. L'Heureux and at the right Constable D. Brady.

Further Response to Reduction in Margins Was Made by Leading Stocks on Wall Street Exchange Today.

New York, Oct. 29.—Further response to reduction in margins was made by leading stocks in today's market, many extending yesterday's upturn by as much as three or more points.

The trading pace quickened after a moderately active opening. There was a later slow-down and extreme gains were shaded.

Outstanding on the push were United States Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Republic, National Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, United States Rubber, American Can, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, American Smelting, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, American Locomotive, Phillips Petroleum, Union Carbide, Allis Chalmers, Columbian Carbon, Briggs Mfg., J. I. Case and Deere.

Steels reflected the favorable earnings statement for Bethlehem which appeared after Thursday's close.

American securities were higher in foreign markets. Bonds leaned forward but commodities were a trifle uneven.

$200,000 LOSS IN NOVA SCOTIA FIRE

Sydney, N.S., Oct. 29.—Loss estimated at close to $200,000 was counted today after a spectacular blaze which destroyed one building on Sydney's main business street, partially gutted another and caused damage to a third.

Within thirty minutes of its discovery soon after midnight, the fire had enveloped the Mason building, a three-story brick structure housing the Robert Simpson Eastern, Ltd., agency, operated by Roy Mason, and eaten its way into the adjoining Carroll block.

Salvage of stock from the Mason basement was hopeless because of the flames' rapid spread. A fire wall between that building and the radio building, home of station CJCB, saved the second structure from more extensive damage but water loss was heavy.

Cause of the blaze, believed to have started in the Mason building, was unknown.

Mason said his loss would be $100,000. Loss of $10,000 was estimated by operators of bowling alleys on the second floor. Damage to the radio building and equipment and to the National Shoe Company on the second floor was caused chiefly by smoke and water.

The Citadel Hill observatory readings said 1.57 inches of rain fell in the two-hour storm, which was accompanied by a twenty-five-mile gale. Railway officials said they knew of no washouts despite general reports of heavy rains in the province.

DOWNPOUR CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE IN NOVA SCOTIA

DEEP PROBE IN LIVES OF FIVE FAMOUS BABIES

Two Hundred and Fifty Psychologists, Child Specialists and Students to Discuss Everything About Quints.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—If the Dionne quintuplets could look out of their nursery windows today and see a giant microscope bigger than their father's hot dog stand pointed down from the sky at them they might get an idea of what will happen in Toronto this week-end.

For science will probe the lives of the famous youngsters tomorrow as it never has before. Two hundred and fifty psychologists, child specialists and students will discuss everything about the Quints from the reason Emilie's left ear may be

1-32nd of an inch longer than Marie's to Annette's reaction to a crack on her crossed knee.

From the day of their birth science has stood beside Yvonne, Cecile and the rest. First in the person of country Doctor Allan Roy Dafoe who returned from their birth to write in his diary "Dionne—5F"—meaning five females were born to the Dionnes that morning of May 28, 1934.

Since then they have come under the scrutiny of scores of specialists who travelled to Callander to study the children or watched their development in Dr. Dafoe's medical journal reports.

More than a year ago the idea of a symposium on the Quints was born. Leading child specialists in Canada and the United States were enlisted for a study of the famous babies in the belief medical histories of the little girls could teach science much and that science, in turn, could contribute to the Quints' future development.

So tomorrow fifty Americans will join with Canadians for a symposium that will make medical history. Never before has there been such a gathering for the study of a group of children.

The first business will be a report on the children's welfare prepared by Dr. Dafoe and his brother, Dr. W. A. Dafoe, of the University of Toronto.

After the Dafoe brothers have told of the physical development from the time of the quint's birth, Dr. W. E. Blatz, Professor of Psychology at the University of Toronto, will read a report he has prepared after thirty months of study.

Dr. Blatz, head of the famous St. George's School for Child Study which is allied with the University of Toronto, will tell the visiting specialists of the mental growth in the Quints and their development in social activities, speech and self-discipline.

Although hundreds of thousands of words have been written about the babies no psychological study has yet been published and Dr. Blatz's report will disclose for the first time the opinions of a psychologist on many angles of their development.

The symposium will continue all day Saturday in private. A summary of the reports and perhaps the discussion will be issued later, Sunday the gathering is to move to Callander for a visit with the babies.

Rev. and Mrs. Stewart were guests of friends in Sherbrooke. Wonderful, marvellous, amazing, were some of the adjectives applied by those who attended the violin recital given in Pierce Hall by Marian Burroughs, in the Eastern Townships Conservatory at Stanstead. Miss Burroughs is only sixteen years old, but her command of her instrument is that of a true virtuoso. When her age is mentioned it in no way asks for allowance in view of the few years that adds to the amazement. Her technique is never taxed to its utmost possibilities and one feels that gratifying satisfaction which reserve power always gives. Her interpretation is mature. Miss Burroughs is daughter of the well-known teacher and orchestra leader "Tom" Burroughs. He taught his daughter up to two years ago, since which time she has been studying with Prof. Ondrick in Boston. A delightful touch was added to the programme when the mother of the young lady stepped to the piano and splendidly accompanied her gifted daughter. Mr. A. H. Martin introduced Miss Burroughs and was fittingly thanked by Principal E. C. Amaron. This is the first of a series of recitals to be given at Stanstead College this winter.

Rev. E. Leroy Rice, of Barre, Vt., delivered a thoughtful, inspiring message entitled, "Why Religion?" The all sufficiency of the gospel and salvation offered by Jesus Christ to a needy world, and the disappointments which must follow all other, "Little Systems" of men such as "Nationalism, Communism and many other 'isms'" were clearly presented by the speaker.

The auditorium recently renovated and brightened with lacquer, stained windows, etc., was fittingly provided with autumn flowers and leaves by a committee under the direction of Miss C. Wyman. The pastor and officers extended thanks to all who so generously co-operated to make this so helpful and inspiring.

AN EASIER WAY for Young Men to Protect their Families

IT HELPS YOU GIVE YOUR FAMILY MORE PROTECTION

IT TAKES LESS OUT OF THE PAY ENVELOPE

AND IT HELPS YOU TO RETIRE IN COMFORT AT 60

Here is the "Security at 60" Plan for Young Men

This plan of life insurance has been devised for the younger man who wants to provide adequate protection for his family during the years when children are growing up, and also create a fund that will guarantee a monthly income for himself after age 60.

For example, if you are age 30 the annual premium to provide $2,000 of protection with the option of taking a pension of $10 monthly for yourself at age 60 is only $53.16. For each additional $1,000 of protection and $5 monthly pension the annual premium is only $26.53. There are no premium payments after age 60.

The pension is payable throughout your lifetime. It is guaranteed for 10 years and in case of your death during that period the balance will be paid to your beneficiary.

At age 60 should you wish to surrender your policy for its cash value you will receive $770.00 plus dividends for each $1,000.

Or the company will pay $120.00 in cash for each $1,000 and continue the policy for its full face value to be paid to your beneficiary at your death. Dividends also continue during this period.

Dividends earned may be used to reduce premium payments, or allowed to accumulate. In the latter case the cash payments or the monthly income will be increased over the guaranteed figures.

It will be to your advantage to fill in and mail the coupon for complete information about this policy at your age.

DOUBLE WEDDING

ILLUSTRATED BY Schabelitz

THE STORY THUS FAR

Life in the Agnew home on Long Island has hitherto been under the firm guidance of lovely Margit, aloof, cool and unemotional. But her impulsive sister, Irene, engaged to Waldo, has fallen in love with Charlie Jones, a sidewalk artist. Worse, Charlie is married and lives in a trailer. That affects her personally, Margit refuses to admit. When Waldo nobly renounces Irene to Charlie she begins to crack up. Then she pays a visit to Charlie's trailer. Suddenly she hears a noise from the front section. It is Waldo, lying in one of the bunks.

CHAPTER XII

Margit, up on realizing that the figure reposing in the upper bunk of Charlie's trailer was indeed Waldo and not a tramp—which she had at first suspected—made a normal exclamation. She exclaimed, "Waldo!"

Waldo looked at her. His eyes were bloodshot. His hands were trembling. "What are you doing here?" he said finally.

"I might very well ask the same question of you."

Waldo eyed her disrespectfully. "You might ask the same question of me. But it would be presumptuous of you, Margit. For one thing, I asked you first. For another, I am an independent male citizen of the United States of America and I have a right to be where I please. But you are the sister of my fiancé—my former fiancé—and you have no business whatever to be in the bedroom of my present fiancé." He leered at her. "If you get what I mean."

She said, "Waldo, you're drunk."

"I was drunk," he said agreeably. "Now I'm suffering from a hangover." He stuck his head out of one of the windows of the trailer and yelled at the top of his lungs, "Spike!"

A cheery Italian voice floated back. "Hello, Mr. Beaver! How're you feeling?"

"Terrible. Send me a whisky sour."

"Coming up."

Waldo pulled his head back into the trailer.

Margit felt uncertain of herself but she realized that action was necessary. She said, "Waldo, you're not yourself!"

He shook his head. "On the contrary that's just what I am. Myself."

"How did you get here? What did you mean last night when you said you were tired and wanted to go to bed early? You were lying!"

"Sure. I sneaked out across the porch roof and walked into the village. I had an appointment with Charlie."

"What for?"

Waldo looked calmly at Margit. "Two things. To dispose of Irene—"

Margit gasped.

Waldo went on impatiently, "and to be psychoanalyzed."

About that, Margit had nothing to say.

But Waldo had plenty. "Charlie has made a study of me and he was good enough to tell me the results deliberately."

Waldo paused while a waiter from Spike's came in with a drink. He polished it off before the waiter had left the trailer. Then he continued, "Superficially, I am the mama's boy type. For instance, my mother bought all my clothes until after I had graduated from college. The old sport names Margit, my pet. That explains why I was willing to subject myself to the humiliation of being tested for a year at your house. I am accustomed to being ordered around. I am accustomed to female method. I have submitted to domination from women from early childhood."

"You're getting drunk again," Margit said coldly.

Waldo leaped to his feet. He wagged his finger in front of her face. "No doubt," he shouted. "And suppose I am getting drunk again? Is that any business of yours, Miss Margit Agnew Almighty?"

He raised his face to heaven and shook his fist at the ceiling. He exclaimed "Ach." Then he calmed down. "That was the analysis. Correct in every detail. Now for the prognosis. I am only superficially a mama's boy. Actually I am a dreamer and an adventurer at heart. So far I have depersonalized that side of myself. Instead of actually doing things I have invented them! Airplane car-reports and deep-sea grappling hooks! That has been a false extension of myself." He bent over her. "Do you see what I mean?"

"No," said Margit.

He said, "Naturally you don't. I should have gone down in diving suits myself. I should have flown airplanes myself. When you told me I had to live for a year in your house as a trial before I married your sister, do you know what I should have done?"

"I'm beginning to imagine what you think you should have done," Margit replied.

"I should have picked Irene! Then I should have picked Irene up bodily, thrown her into my automobile—or for example over the back of a horse—and galloped away with her willy-nilly."

"Willy-nilly. Whether I had three wives, or Irene had four husbands, or whatever. Phooey and willy-nilly. Those are the words I should have based my behavior pattern on from the cradle. Take Farsagut. Damn the torpedoes! Good head! There's your true phooey man. Take Grant. We'll fight it out on these lines if it takes all winter. There's your willy-nilly man. What was Napoleon? I'll tell you! Fifty per cent. phooey and fifty per cent. willy-nilly!"

Waldo sat down. The oration seemed to have exhausted him. He blinked a little at his own phooey and willy-nilly-ness. He had thrown the thing right into the teeth of Margit Agnew! He picked up his cocktail glass and put it down sadly when he perceived it was empty.

As he was thus maneuvering, a great variety of thoughts poured through Margit's brain. What Charlie had done to Waldo appalled her. She perceived from it that Charlie was a man of vast and dreadful possibilities. He would have taken a person who was practically a sorcerer to give Waldo Beaver Jr. courage to sit in her presence at ten-thirty in the morning drinking whisky. Margit was astute enough to realize that that there was no unwholesome mind she could employ force to control Waldo. He was unsympathetic toward obeying commands. A more skillful maneuvering was necessary. She felt desperate—less because of the change in Waldo than because of the imminent probability that Mr. Charlie Jones would all out deeply and permanently enamoured of Irene.

When Waldo set down his glass, she had a plan ready. Her voice was calm—even congratulatory. "I'm glad to see this change in your character, Waldo."

Waldo stared glassily at her. "What?"

"I respect courage and audacity. If I hadn't known they were latent in you I would never have considered allowing you to marry Irene."

"I'm glad to see this change in your character," Waldo said vaguely. "Yes. Yes indeed."

"I assume you're still in love with my sister?"

Waldo nodded. "Of course. So deeply in love with her that her happiness is more important than my own. I've thought of her a great deal. I've thought of her a great deal."

SEED SHORTAGE OF RED CLOVER; ALSIKE

Preliminary estimates of commercial production of clover and grass seed in Canada in 1937 show that there is likely to be a shortage for annual domestic requirements in red clover and alsike, while alfalfa, sweet clover and timothy crops are more than sufficient to meet the approximate annual consumption of seed.

The estimates of this year's seed production are as follows: Red clover—1937 production 1,044,500, compared with 1,910,000 lb. in 1936; 4,500,000 lb. in 1935, and 1,900,000 lb. in 1934. Carry-over from 1936 crop 440,775 lb.—total for 1937 distribution 1,485,275 lb. to meet the annual domestic requirements estimated at about 4,000,000 lb.

Sweet clover—1937 production 3,303,000 lb. compared with 3,100,000 lb. in 1936; 3,500,000 lb. in 1935; and 4,000,000 lb. in 1934. Carry-over 515,800 lb.—total 3,815,800 lb. to meet a normal domestic consumption estimated at around 3,500,000 lb.

Canadian potatoes are in steady demand in the eastern group of the British Empire and in the West Indies. Small sizes are favoured in all of these colonies with the exception of Barbadoes. The latter fact, combined with the advantage of the British preferential tariffs and the absence of unduly keen competition, renders the markets of British Guiana, Trinidad and Barbadoes of interest to Canadian farmers and shippers.

The United States 1937 potato crop is estimated at 403,393,000 bushels compared with 329,997,000 bushels harvested in 1936, and 372,115,000 bushels, the five-year average 1928-32.

Moody," by Miss Alice French, a short reading concerning the hymn, "I Was a Wandering Sheep," by Miss Esther French, and a poem by Miss Elsie French, "What Would You Do With Jesus?" As this was the twenty-first birthday of Mr. Dwight Forgrave, the table was centred with a lovely three storey birthday cake, the gift of his mother, and at the close of the evening's programme, Mr. Arthur Lake, on behalf of those present, presented Dwight with a purse of money accompanied by the good wishes of all, to which he replied very fittingly, thanking all for the pleasant evening they had given him.

APPROVED CHICKS MAKE MOST PROFITS

The importance and volume which the chick hatchery business has assumed in Canada in the last few years may not be generally appreciated. During the 1937 hatchery season, 12,900,000 chicks were produced and sold by over 500 breeders and hatcherymen operating under the Record of Performance and Hatchery Approval Policies, administered by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. To produce these chicks, 21,500,000 eggs were set, enough to fill 135 freight cars and make a train over one mile long. All of these eggs were produced by flocks which had been culled, that is, the poor birds as regards egg production or meat type removed. Practically all of these flocks were also blood-tested as an insurance against outbreaks of pullorum disease in the offspring. A large number of flocks were heeled by Record of Performance males—males whose female ancestors for two or more generations had laid over two hundred two ounce eggs per year.

Through Record of Performance and Hatchery Approval, also through co-operation with the various provinces, the breeders and hatcherymen are steadily improving the quality of eggs and poultry meat produced on the farms throughout the country.

More and more farmers today realize that they can purchase, either from Record of Performance breeders or approved hatcherymen, chicks of a higher quality and at less cost than can be produced on their farms. The approved chicks sold in 1937 are enough to replace half of the total poultry flocks of Canada.

Under Record of Performance chicks of various grades and quality are produced, ranging from straight approved commercial chicks, selling in competition with those produced by non-approved hatcheries, to chicks selling as high as $1 each, produced from the finest matings of pedigreed, high production, progeny tested matings in Record of Performance flocks.

The flocks inspected and approved as the sources of hatching eggs are bred and culled not only for high egg production and large egg size, but also for the production of poultry of good market type and quality. Half of the chicks reared each year will be males and the majority of these have to be sold as broilers or roasters. Fowls also have to be sold as market birds after they have finished one or two years of laying. It is therefore important that the birds be bred to a type which will have a desirable appearance when dressed for market and bring the highest price. A difference of two or three cents a pound premium received for high quality market birds over those of a lower quality is an important factor when a large number of birds are to be marketed.

The time will soon be here when orders will be placed for chicks for 1938. Those who wish to make the highest possible profit from their poultry flocks will order chicks from Record of Performance breeders or approved hatcherymen. High production, large egg size, suitable meat type are thus ensured.

HOW BEST TO FINISH POULTRY FOR MARKET

In crate or pen fattening poultry for market the greatest gains in weight are made on the thinner, under-developed birds that ordinarily grade "C" for finishing and fat if sold straight off the range. Such birds should make steady gains up to three weeks feeding. If the birds are in good shape and reasonably fat when placed in the crates a shorter finishing period may be used.

The average increase in weight in normal rate feeding should more than pay for the feed. The increased returns from improvement in grade is additional profit. Some ground grains, such as corn and wheat, are better than others but any grains the farmers may have available, suitably cooked and mashed, are economical and add palatability to any ration. They also help to produce white fat. Milk in any form is desirable; they may be used if milk is not available. The addition of mutton tallow or any animal fat to the ration will increase the proportion of fat on the finished carcass.

In experiments at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the addition of 5 per cent. ground oyster shells increased both feed consumption and gain by 10 per cent. Crate feeding of capons was also found to be definitely superior to pen fattening.

TO IMPROVE BREED OF CANADIAN GOATS

Following the announcement made earlier in 1937 that Live Stock policies of the Dominion Department of Agriculture had been extended to allow for the housing of approved buck goats, two such sires have just been purchased. Toggenburg breeders in Ontario and Quebec will now have available the services of these well-bred young bucks.

In co-operation with the Ontario Goat Breeders' Association, the leading buck "Laurentian Tanager," C.G.S. 1211," of good size, color, short coat and a proven stock-getter, has been assigned to the care of W. J. Brad, Scarlett Road, Weston, Ontario. The other buck, two-year-old, "Laurentian Nimrod," C.G.S. 1142, A.M.G.R.A. 51700," hornless, a proven stock-getter, and from a long running strain, will stand in care of H. Smith, Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

The pedigree of both these sires can be traced back to Switzerland; their dams have excellent show ring records never having been defeated in their classes. Many does in their pedigrees have Advanced Registry standing, and sires of this type should help to raise the general quality of the breed in their respective communities.

Pot some hyacinths for indoor bloom. Put three bulbs in the shallow pots sold as bulb pans.

RUGBY PENNANT AT STAKE HERE TOMORROW

Locals Can Take Title With Win Over Quebec

Sherbrooke Needs Only One More Victory to Clinch Q.R.F.U. Championship—Bishop's Journey to Montreal to Oppose Loyola and Quebec Commissioners' High School Play Here and at Stanstead.

Sherbrooke Independents have a great chance to take the eastern section championship of the Q.R.F.U. when they play the Grads at the Parade Grounds on Saturday.

The Quebec rugbists have not played here this year, but were beaten in a close game with Sherbrooke on their home ground. Since then they have trained hard, and last Saturday beat their city rivals, the Quebec Grantes.

If the Grads should win, and then beat the Grantes in their return game, they will be the title-holders. However, if Sherbrooke can blast out a victory on Saturday, no matter what happens in the last Quebec game, they will be champions.

This is the first time in at least seven years that the locals have been so close to a Q.R.F.U. title, and the game on Saturday should see the most exciting seen this season.

BISHOP'S GO TO LOYOLA

The Bishop's University gridiron squad will travel to Montreal to meet their old rivals, the maroon-watered Loyola team tomorrow. Bishop's have not won a game all year, and Loyola are second in the league, one point behind the unbeaten McGill team.

Bishop's would rather win on Saturday than any game on the schedule, and have been practising hard for the tussle.

COMMISSIONERS' HIGH HERE OVER WEEK-END

This afternoon the Sherbrooke High School will play Commissioners' High School in the return game of their annual home-and-home series.

In Quebec the Sherbrooke boys were outclassed, but hope to do better in their own backyard.

On Saturday Commissioners' will play Stanstead College on the Stanstead campus.

This game should be one of the best school games seen in the Eastern Townships for some time. The Stanstead lads have proved themselves the outstanding school team in the Sherbrooke district, but when

Sport Chatter

By John Bassett, Jr.

The amateur card of Romeo "Patsy" Seguin was received today by Albert W. Reid, vice-president and Sherbrooke representative of the Q.A.H.A., with the official O.K. from Montreal. This is the first card of the four sent in, that has been returned so far. That means that Laroche, Cormier and Leroux will have to wait awhile longer for official permission to play here.

Stanstead certainly proved to all and sundry that they are by far the best in the School League. Look at their record for the past four years: 1934—Undefeated in four league games. Points for 28, against 11. 1935—Undefeated in six league games. Points for 169, against 6. 1936—Undefeated in four league games. Points for 64, against 1. 1937—Undefeated in three league games. Points for 88, against 0.

They have done all this, and yet they have been hampered by injuries this season. Tony Millett, captain of the Stanstead squad, was operated on for a kidney ailment and has only played in one league game. Four of the best men are unable to play in the School League as they are overage. They will be available for the exhibition game with Commissioners' High on Saturday.

Prediction time is here again. Sherbrooke to beat Grads and take the title. The Independents won in Quebec, and though the Grads have improved since then, the Sherbrooke machine is clicking in good style.

I would love to pick Bishop's to beat Loyola but it can't be done, for in the opinion of this corner, the Purple team just can't do it—hope that one goes phooey.

In the school games, Quebec Commissioners' High School boys are called to beat Sherbrooke High this afternoon, but the Stanstead boys should stonewall the Ancient Capital lads on Saturday. Of course, that is only a hunch of Sport Chatter, but those Principal Errol Amundson-coached lads will be hard to hold.

Felix Miquet has been signed for the feature bout at the Forum next Monday. His opponent, or stooge, has not yet been named. It seems as if the big lad from Savoy is definitely being built as the next champion.

St. Jerome prefer to try and be big frogs in a little pond than any kind of frogs in a big pond. Now that they have got their franchise in the Montreal Intermediate League they are definitely out of senior company until at least the play-offs.

The old dream of the McGill Grads has at last been realized and a hockey team has come to life in the Montreal Intermediate League. With Kenny Farmer, "Bino" Crosby and such a defence as Wiele and McKeljohn to start with, the old boys' should do right well by themselves.

Tony "Push 'Em Up" Lazzeri has hooked up with the Chicago Cubs as coach and player. That makes everything Jake for Tony, but how does Manager Charley Grimm feel?

Archie Wilcox, coach of the Sherbrooke hockey team, has been prevailed upon to run as alderman in his home town of Verdun. Besides his hockey duties, Wilcox runs the "Archie Wilcox Trucking Co." The big boy should be able to take off a little weight running around looking after all his duties.

Boston Olympics are definitely in the Provincial Hockey League, and should lend a little excitement to the games. The international flavor added by their entry will make up for the loss of the last year's champions, St. Jerome.

Joe DiMaggio has started a grill room which will net him twenty-five grand a year if present receipts keep up. It must be quite a sight to gander the Great One ushering in his guests for a touch of the old spaghetti.

Torchy and Doug Peden set some sort of a record when they won the tenth annual Toronto bike race. It was the first time that two brothers had won a race in the history of bike racing.

Elmer Ferguson, chief sport writer of the Montreal Herald, takes a gentle crack at Trevor Wignall, English sport writer, who said that Tommy Farr was a this and that, and who claims that amateur hockey players have little social grace.

But at least Mr. Ferguson does agree that the system of paying amateur hockey players, and still proclaiming them amateurs, is the old bunkum.

The Oregon Terror, Bob Wagner, has been signed as Miquet's opponent for the final bout in the wrestling rodeo in Montreal on Monday night. Wagner has jumped from a pre-fight in Sherbrooke, Quebec and Ottawa to a finalist fight in the big town of Montreal. All this has been worked up from the fact that the crowd go to see him hoping for mayhem.

Just fifteen years ago, Willard Crocker, who was then a McGill student, defeated A. J. Vesey for the indoor tennis championship. Crocker played in Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships about four years ago when he was living in Sutton.

Tough luck for Boston Olympics, who have just joined the Provincial league and will play their first game here last Sunday in November.

Even if they win the league they will not be allowed to go any further in the Allan Cup playdowns.

Rugby is nearly over, Sherbrooke High play their last game this afternoon and the Independents wind up their schedule on Saturday. The big team will probably go on with the Q.R.F.U. championship games, if they beat Grads and take the Eastern section title.

Hockey Training Camp Notes

Whoops! They're at it again. Lionel Hitchman, coach of Boston Bruins, has popped up with the N.H.L.'s second "baby line." The fans already have had numerous "red lines," as produced by Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers, a "Big S Line" and "Green Line." The Boston threesome is made up of Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and "Porky" Dumart.

As a golfer Pop Kelly is well, he's a good hockey player. Kelly was high man yesterday at the annual golf tournament held by Leafs and members of their Syracuse farm team. Harvey "Busher" Jackson won the tourney with a gross 76, Kelly's score—126.

Don't mention that new N.H.L. penalty shot to Jack Adams. The Detroit Red Wings coach claims it's almost impossible to make a goal under the new rule which shortens the distance the player must fire the puck and allows him to rush with the disc instead of heaving at a stationary puck. Adams claims it makes for "cheap" victories and has registered his disapproval with League President Frank Calder.

Bill Stewart, who spends the summer calling close ones in the National Baseball League as an umpire, springs up with the newest wrinkle for hockey training. Though he did not say just what they were, the new Hawk coach says he has used a lot of training tips from professional baseball on the Chicago team.

Plenty of drawing power, and scoring power, too, in the Toronto Maple Leafs and Syracuse Stars. The shuffled teams scored eighteen goals in all last night in an exhibition at Galt, Ont., watched by 3,500. The city's largest turnout in a decade saw Dick Irvin's Blues win fourteen to four against Eddie Powers' Whites, as Charlie Cameron and Kelly scored three apiece for the winners.

CLAIM CAPT. EYSTON IS CAUTIOUS DRIVER

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Oct. 29.—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, who sped 302.6 m.p.h. over the salt desert yesterday, is just a "snail in traffic" — the most cautious driver you've ever seen.

The Briton's younger brother, Basil, made that disclosure today while Capt. Eyston rested and mechanics primed his "Thunderbolt" for another assault on the 301 m.p.h. record for one mile.

Transmission trouble halted Eyston halfway through his record attempt yesterday. Whether "Thunderbolt" would be ready for a new trial tomorrow was problematical.

MECHANIZED UNITS REPLACE CHARGERS

London, Oct. 29.—Artillery officers the length and breadth of England mourn the passing of the horse.

They are confronted with a War Office order stipulating that from January 1, 1938, there shall be only one charger for every two officers.

The new order is a step in the process of mechanization of Britain's fighting forces.

Sentimental pleas of horse lovers will avail little. The War Office is pushing ahead steadily with transformation of artillery regiments to a fully mechanized basis.

The order simply means that after the new year either Col. Brown or Col. Jones, of the artillery, can ride horseback—but not both. If Col. Brown is in the saddle, Col. Jones will probably have to take a lorry.

The War Office announcement states that mechanization of divisional artillery will be completed by December 31. From then on, the chargers in the various artillery brigades will be reduced in numbers and regarded as brigade "pools."

U. S. Team Not Eligible To Play For Allan Cup

If Boston Olympics Win Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League Title the Other Finalist Will Advance in Trophy Play—Season Will Open on November 21 When Granby Visits Sherbrooke.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Boston Olympics, who broke with the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States to affiliate with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, will not be able to compete for the Allan Cup, emblematic of Canadian supremacy, but they will undergo a full season of play in one of the Dominion's top leagues.

The Olympics were admitted officially to the Quebec Provincial Senior Hockey League last night and given a single schedule of home-and-home games with the local six other clubs. Lafontaine and St. Jacques, new entries which have no arenas, will play both their games with Olympics at Boston.

If the Olympics win the league title the other finalist will continue in Allan Cup playdowns. Ulysses Paquin, league vice-president, will represent Boston at meetings.

The season will open November 1st, when Granby visits Sherbrooke. Boston will come to Canada on week-end trips, playing two games on each visit. Entries are Boston, Sherbrooke, Granby, Valleyfield, Lafontaine, St. Jacques and Drummondville.

By entering the league, the Olympics automatically defaulted their A.A.U. affiliation, since the C.A.H.A. has broken with the A.A.U. of Canada and because the A.A.U.'s of the United States and Canada work in collaboration.

Garcia Belliveau, who played with Verdun in the Quebec Senior League last winter and was given a tryout by Montreal Canadiens of the National League this year, has joined Drummondville, the meeting was told. He is a centre.

DETROIT PILOT CLAIMS WINGS TEAM TO BEAT

Detroit, Oct. 29.—Blessed with one of the acknowledged great defence units and an abundance of first-class forwards, Detroit Red Wings, in the opinion of Manager Jack Adams and the rest of the league, are the team to beat for the National League title and the Stanley Cup, both Detroit property for the past two years.

There is no reason to suppose Wings are not as good as last season, and three reasons why they might be better. They are wee Larry Aurie, one of the first-string line, Captain Doug Young and Orville Rouillon, all of whom played only a part season because of broken legs.

Either Rouillon or Scotty Bowman, another defenceman, and centre Wally Kilrea will drop back to Pittsburgh Hornets of the Int-Am League when the National League opens November 4. Johnny Sheff, native of Calumet, Mich., will replace Kilrea on the third line.

Two other minor changes have been made. Johnny Gallagher and goalie Earl Robertson, who starred in the playoffs, have been sold to

New York Americans. Aside from these shifts, the Red Wing management has let well enough alone.

Back of the blueline will be Norm Smith in goal. Bucko McDonald and Young will form one defence pair and Ebbie Goodfellow and Rouillon or Bowman the other. Smith is one of the best netminders in the business and those defencemen can really hit, and attack in their spare time.

In the first string line lies the Wings' greatest offensive. It is created by veteran Marty Barry, who makes plays so well that Horbie Lewis on left wing and Aurie on right have their work made much easier.

Two steady trios back up the aces. Syd Howe, Johnny Sorrell and Pete Kelly will form the second line with Gord Pettinger, Mud Bruneten and Sherf as the third stringers. The Ottawa speedster, Hec Kilrea, will give up his regular forward duty for use as utility man.

Not the least reason for the Detroit successes, the forwards have always backed up. With the necessary speed and size this season's ten should have plenty of backchecking power.

If injuries do strike again Adams can fall back on the Pittsburgh farm which helped him each time a Wing was felled last season. From the Hornet camp came Robertson, Jimmy Orlando, Sheff and Rouillon as one after another was injured. There wasn't a replacement who didn't make good.
