CLASH IMMINENT.

Conflict Between British and Russians at Tien Tsin Seems Certain.

RUSSIANS DETERMINED TO FIGHT.

Russian General Spurns Von Walderssee's Compromise—French Troops Side With Russians—Forces of the Powers Under Arms.

Tien Tsin, March 19.—(Special.)—Tension is increasing momentarily and a conflict between British and Russian troops seems certain. The French soldiers side with the Russians and are giving the British the forces of all nations are now under arms. The situation is most critical. The Russian general has spurned the compromise offered by Von Walderssee.

WALDERSEE'S OFFER.

(Earlier Despatch.) London, March 19.—(Morning.)—The Times this morning makes the following announcement:—"We learn that Count Von Walderssee has interferred as commander-in-chief of the allied forces in China to put an end to the mutually hostile attitude of the British and Russian troops at Tien Tsin. There is no confirmation of this statement in order quarters, but it has an air of extreme probability and will be read by England with feelings of considerable relief. The Daily Mail in an editorial, which frankly faces a disagreeable situation, says:

"We must admit that this is no juncture to risk fresh quarrels. Our armaments are inefficient, and our fleet in the Far East is so weak that its position would be perilous. It is a painful process for the nation to have its face slapped, but until the country compels the Government to put our houses in order it is a humiliation to which we must accustom ourselves." A semi-official statement was issued last evening to the effect that the much talked of assurances of the Russian foreign minister, Count Lansdorf, to Sir Charles Stewart Scott, British ambassador at St. Petersburg, were made February 6, and evidently referred to the Russo-Chinese agreement concluded at Port Arthur last November and not to the Manchurian convention. Enquiries at the Chinese legation this afternoon were rewarded by the reply: "His Excellency has gone to bed," which was presumably the celestial equivalent to an assurance that the Chinese minister preferred to say nothing as to the most recent developments. The Japanese legation was equally non-committal. It is understood that one official view is that the dispute may eventually be referred to arbitration.

THE BRITISH NAVAL PLANS.

Discussed Yesterday—33 New Ships—£9,000,000 to be Asked For in This Connection.

London, March 19.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Hugh Oakley Arnold-Forster, parliamentary secretary to the Admiralty, explained the naval proposals of the Government. It was proposed to have 154,575 men available to man the fleet, of whom 118,625 should be on the active list; 28,650 on the Royal Naval Reserve list, and 7,300 on the Royal Fleet Reserve list. "The Government," he went on to explain, "would ask for £9,000,000 sterling for construction, the largest sum ever appropriated, out of which thirty-three new vessels were to be started. Proceeding to analyse the estimates, Mr. Arnold-Forster alluded particularly to the condemnation of the Bellville boiler. He declared that, even with the delays in the pending construction, England held pre-eminence in the rapidity of shipbuilding. "The Admiralty hold no exaggerated notions as to the value of submarine boats," he remarked, "but we have collected a great deal of information which it is proposed to use to the full value."

WITH THE LEGISLATORS.

Mr. Borden Answers the Budget Speech—Amendments to Quebec Game Laws.

AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Ont., March 19.—After private members had introduced bills and had questions answered yesterday the House of Commons proceeded with the continuation of the budget debate. Mr. Borden in moving his amendment, made an interesting answer to the challenge of Mr. Fielding and Sir Richard Cartwright. He quoted past opinions of those gentlemen against the policy they are now pursuing, and endeavored to show that even now they are at variance between themselves as to whether the present tariff is a protective one or merely a revenue tariff. Mr. Borden pointed out where he believed taxation might be reduced, if the Government were really anxious to lighten Canada's burden. The Premier followed in a comparatively short speech, criticizing the resolution as embodying the same policy the Conservatives had had since 1878, which, and maintaining that the tariff is a revenue tariff. Mr. Clarke Wallace in the evening continued the debate.

AT QUEBEC.

Quebec, March 19.—At yesterday's afternoon session, Hon. Mr. Parent introduced his bill to amend the game laws. The object of this Government measure is among other things, to shorten the close season for shooting black duck by one month, that is the season will, in future, begin first of April instead of March. It also aims at prohibiting the killing of partridges until the first of September, 1903. Hon. Mr. Gouin's bill to amend the law respecting the organization of departments was introduced, the Commissioner of Public Works explaining that the object of the bill was to separate the Colonization and Mines Department by adding the former to the Public Works Department, and the mines branch to the Crown Lands Department.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

March 19.—11 a. m.—Forecast for the next 24 hours, issued by the Meteorological Bureau: Northerly winds; colder; light local snow falls but mostly fair.

A new company called the Aylmer Drill Manufacturing Co., has been formed, and will shortly apply for incorporation. The capital stock of the company is $50,000, and the chief place of business the city of Montreal. The head of the company is the Hon. Henry Aylmer, sheriff of the district of St. Francois, who is the inventor and patentee of the Aylmer rock drill.

GROVER CLEVELAND'S BIRTHDAY

New York, March 19.—Grover Cleveland, the only living ex-President of the United States, was sixty-four years old yesterday. He was born March 18, 1837. He passed the day quietly at Princeton, N.J., where he has been for some weeks with his family.

NEW MUNICIPALITY.

The residents of St. Catherine de Hatley presented a private bill before the Quebec Legislature to have a certain portion of the township of Hatley erected into a separate municipality, to be known as St. Catherine de Hatley. This petition asked for a portion of 3, 4, and 5 ranges; that is that portion of the 3rd, 4th and 5th ranges on the line of township of Ascot. Those who were opposed to the bill were not against the erection of the municipality of St. Catherine de Hatley, but the ratepayers living on the 4th and 5th ranges objected to be taken into the new municipality, inasmuch as it was going to interfere with their school districts, which have been established for many years.

The parties residing on ranges 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and in fact all the people residing on the east side of Lake Massawippi were in favor of having the division made between ranges 5 and 6, which would be in the centre of the township.

The bill came up before the Private Bills Committee last Wednesday, and the committee was unanimous that the division of the said township should not interfere with the school districts already established, and that, inasmuch as the line between the 5th and 6th ranges was the centre of the township that the division should be made on said line down to lot 21, thus leaving the other lots in range 5 on the St. Catherine side of the lake in the new municipality, excepting lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.

Messrs. Panneton, K.C., of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Tremblay, of Hatley, appeared on behalf of the petitioners, and John Leonard, advocate, Sherbrooke, and Mr. O. LeBaron, North Hatley, appeared in opposition to the bill.

PRESENTATION TO MR. H. ROSS.

A very pleasant surprise was given to Mr. Hector Ross on the 14th, the occasion being his birthday. He was the recipient of a very handsome oak writing desk and chair, given by about 35 of his employees. Mr. James Flynn made the presentation on behalf of the men, together with a very complimentary address, to which Mr. Ross responded in his usual happy manner. A very pleasant evening was spent in singing songs and choruses, and closed with singing "For he's a jolly good fellow, that nobody can deny."

DEATH OF R. L. PARKER.

Another of Sherbrooke's old citizens passed away last evening in the person of Robert L. Parker, aged 75 years, at his residence, 12 Brooks street. He came to this city about 30 years ago, and for some time was foreman in the old paper mill. On its removal to Windsor Mills he went into business for himself. For several years he was in company with Mr. T. A. Bourque, but latterly has done a commission business.

He leaves two sons and two daughters, John Parker, of Colorado, George Parker, of Vancouver, and Mrs. W. H. Fuller and Mrs. M. A. Houlihan, both of Sherbrooke. The funeral will take place on Wednesday, at 2 p.m., at late residence, 12 Brooks street, thence to Elmwood Cemetery.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

The Twentieth Century Debating Society of the Y.M.C.A. will hold their next debate (Thursday evening, this week).

The subject for debate is one that should interest every man who has the interest of the city at heart. Resolved, "That municipalities should operate their Electric, Gas, and Water Works Plant." The affirmative will be taken by Mr. V. E. Morrill, and Mr. J. Logie. The negative side of the question will be conducted by Mr. H. V. Haight and Mr. R. Neilson. The members are looking forward to a very interesting debate. In addition to the debate, Mr. C. C. Knight will give an essay on "Life insurance and its opportunities for young men."

There will be no admission fee, and all men whether members or not, will be given a hearty welcome. A special meeting of the Board of Managers of the Y.M.C.A. is called for tonight at 8 o'clock.

The euchre party given under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters on the evening of last night, was a very successful affair. There were twenty-four tables, and the guests nearly a hundred in number, played with great animation. The prizes were pretty, and were won by the following: First ladies' prize, Miss R. Prevost, second, Miss Beauchemin; first gentlemen's prize, Mr. A. Couture; second, Mr. Alf. Dussault.

Mr. R. W. Darby, of Capelton, has just returned from a visit to Montreal, where he went to see his sister, Miss Fanny Darby, who was recently so severely injured by the explosion of a soda water bottle. Mr. Darby states that his sister has undergone a very painful operation, and that the sight of both eyes has been saved, though one will be defective. Miss Darby is extremely weak, and will not be able to come out to her brothers before May.

The threatened epidemic of scarlet fever at Stanstead seems to have been averted. Mr. C. A. E. Lefebvre received this morning a letter from the Lady Superior of the convent stating that there was no longer any danger from the disease in the convent. The one case which occurred proved fatal. The convent had been going on as usual and pupils who left were returning. The Lady Superior hoped that all the students who left temporarily would return at once to their classes.

A meeting of the general committee of officers of the 53rd Regiment was held at Captain Fraser's office last evening, and it was decided, in order to aid the regimental and band funds, and to purchase head gear for the regiment, to hold a grand military carnival and tombola. It was felt that the ladies and citizens generally would assist, with so commendable an object in view, and it was decided to invite them to participate. The organization was then proceeded with, and the following committees were authorized to add to their numbers, both from the ranks of the corps, and the citizens who would be willing to assist. The carnival will be held during the week ending the 25th of May. A special feature will be made of "Victoria Day," and possibly one or two neighbouring corps invited to the city, although this point was not definitely settled. It was decided to invite the ladies of the city, who are willing to assist the officers and men in the proposed scheme, to meet in the Art Hall, on Monday afternoon next, the 25th inst., at 4 o'clock.

WANTED.—IMMEDIATELY. A competent pipe fitter, speaking and writing English. One who thoroughly understands fitting up factories, etc. Must be well recommended and steady. Married man, from 25 to 40, preferred. Apply by letter, at once to K. Record Office.

BOTHA DECIDES TO FIGHT.

He Has Rejected the Peace Terms of Gen. Kitchener.

PEACE PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT.

While Details of Botha's Answer Have Not Been Received It Seems to Destroy Chances of Immediate Peace.

London, March 19 (Special).—General Botha has rejected the peace proposals. This seems to dispose of the immediate prospects of peace.

The announcement was made in the House of Commons by Mr. Chamberlain this afternoon.

AN EARLIER DESPATCH.

London, March 19.—Lord Roberts in a letter to a correspondent expresses a confident hope that Lord Kitchener will soon be able to secure peace in South Africa, but thus far there is no sign from Pretoria or Cape Town that peace is near.

The latest news is that Gen. Mourie with 800 men escaped Sunday from the British columns that were endeavoring to corner the commando east of Bloemfontein.

Further big operations will be started in Orange River Colony within a few days.

A General Ian Hamilton addressing the Authors' Club, in London, last evening, made the curious suggestion that the Boer prisoners should be sent to Canada to work on the railways where they would learn the English language and become imbued with English sentiments.

THE BOER LOSSES.

Pretoria, March 18.—The prospects of peace are considered still hopeful. The Boer losses last month were 160 killed, 400 wounded and 1,000 captured and surrendered. Owing to the heavy rains General French's transport difficulties are still enormous.

Sutherland acted as chairman. The creamery question was discussed briefly and the fact was omitted that at trifling cost the present cheese factories could be equipped for the making of butter for the winter months. It is hoped that in the near future there would be established a large central creamery at Richmond. Messrs. Watson, Dunbar, Ezra Dunbar, A. Stewart, A. Healey and James Dickson spoke in regard of the formation of a Dairymen's Board of Trade and a committee was formed for the purpose of restoring the Board of Trade.

COATICOOK.

March 19.—The fifth recital of the Ladies' Musical, which took place on Saturday afternoon, was a most successful one, the attendance being larger than any former meeting. Several strangers were present, who expressed themselves as agreeably surprised at the amount of talent shown in such a small place as Coaticook. The programme, which was a miscellaneous one, was led off by a spirited instrumental duet, "Feste Overture L'entour," admirably executed by Mrs. W. T. Stewart (Halifax), and Miss Sleeper. This was followed by a song, "Ora pro nobis," Piccolomini, very sweetly sung by Miss Fiske. The next a pianoforte duet, was to have been played by Mrs. Drew and Miss Belle Wadleigh, but the latter being ill, her place was kindly taken at the last moment by Mrs. Keough. "O, rendez-moi mon ciel," Jos. Beljeune, was next sung by Mrs. Beaulne, whose exquisite voice and artistic rendering of this charming song, evoked round after round of applause. A pleasing variation in the usual programme was then announced, viz., a recitation by Mrs. Darbo, of Drummond's poem, "Madeleine Vercheres," which was given by this talented lady with the pathos and fervor of the finished artist, and caused the members to regret that it was a rule of the society that there should be no oratorios. A song, "For All Eternity," Angelo Mascheroni, by Miss Austin, with violin obligato by Mrs. Darbo, was charmingly given, and much appreciated. A very pretty piano solo, "Si j'étais Roi," by Mile. Geoffrion, brought the programme to a close, as owing to the unavoidable absence of three of the members, their numbers had to be omitted, but Mrs. Beaulne, having been urgently requested to sing again, very kindly complied. A verse of the national anthem then closed a very enjoyable recital. A meeting of the committee of management was held immediately afterwards, at which it was decided to allow any lady, not a member, to attend the rest of the recitals, (not public concerts) on application to any member of the committee, and the payment of 25c at each recital.

La gripe is still raging in our midst. I had it very bad last week and had a very bad cough. A store keeper offered to cure my cough and gripe with Smith's Indian Cough Syrup and Gripe Killer or he would refund the money. I bought a bottle on the guarantee plan, and before I had the bottle finished I was well. My child caught cold and had cough and croup. I purchased another bottle. It cured the child. I know that this gripe killer will cure gripe and cough every time.

A trifle vain, but commendable for all ladies, is pride in looking well. Unfortunately a great many ladies think that to obtain a good complexion they must use paints or powders. These preparations whatever kind you buy, whatever price you pay for them, are all bad and injurious to the skin. Do not defy nature by putting on a complexion, when you can obtain one by using which gives a rosy clear complexion, bright eyes, red lips which are sure signs of good health and pure rich blood. #### SHAMROCK GUARDED CLOSER.

Glasgow, March 19.—As the hull of the Shamrock II. nears completion extra precautions are enforced in the builder's yard at Dumbarton. Special night and day watchmen are continually on guard. Double doors are fixed in the building shed, and as fresh squads of workmen are introduced every man is pledged to secrecy.

The story goes that a scare was caused by the temporary mislaying of an important part of the yacht's equipment, which has since been recovered.

THE VICTORIAS HOME AGAIN.

Montreal, March 19.—The Victorias arrived home from Pittsburg yesterday morning after what they say is the best trip they have ever had. "We couldn't have been treated better," was Captain Bowie's comment. They played two matches, one on Friday with the Key-stone Club, which they lost by 4 to 2. Their clothing had not come on, however.

On Saturday they played the champions of the Pittsburg Athletic Club team, and defeated them 6 goals to 2. This time they were clad in more civilized fashion.

The rink was a hard one to play in. It is about 60 feet longer than the Arena, and wider, so that the first match was really only a practice to get them used to the rink.

FISH AND GAME CLUB.

The annual meeting of the St. Francis Game and Fishing Club was held on Saturday evening. A number of changes were made in the rules. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mr. John Leonard; vice-president, Mr. J. B. Duford; treasurer, Mr. J. O. Lanctot; secretary, E. N. Cayer; committee, Messrs. B. Desrochers, A. Lanctot, H. I. Desjarlais, L. P. Desjarlais, N. Beaulieu.

NOTES.

The Metropolitan A. A. Club have completed arrangements with the Lennoxville Senior Hockey team, champions of the E. T. League, to play here on Thursday night. It is now three years since these clubs have met on the ice and the game on Thursday promises to be one of the old time struggles. The team to represent the M.A.A.C. will be members in good standing of the Association. A strong seven can be selected to wear the black. Lennoxville will be represented with its champion team, therefore a great struggle is in store for the public, Thursday night.

That Some Time.

Gaylor—Glad to have met you, old boy. Come up and see me some time. Meeker—I declare, it's too bad! It will be impossible for me to come then. I've an engagement elsewhere. So sorry.

STUDY ALL YOU MAY.

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A "TIRED BRAIN."

When a Man Thinks His Brain is Tired, It is Really His Stomach That is Overfed or Some Other Vital Point That is Weakened.

Every man should have impressed upon him the fact that the human brain is capable of absolutely unlimited development. It can be developed more easily, more permanently than the muscles. Like the muscles, it is developed by exercise, but unlike them there is no limit to its possible development and there is no age limit to the growth of mental faculties.

If you go to a certain hotel in Chicago you will find at the door of the large dining room a colored gentleman who takes your hat, overcoat and umbrella. He gives you no ticket. When you walk out again, to your intense amazement he hands you your property, identifying you among hundreds of other guests and immediately associating you with the proper hat and coat.

In a big store in Twenty-third street, New York city, a small negro lad, 14 or 15 years old, works for a living. One day at that store this writer asked for a book apparently seldom purchased. Various dignified white men were asked about the book. They thought that they did not have it, but to make sure they asked the colored boy. Without a moment's hesitation he pointed out a certain balcony on the east side of the store and told exactly where the small volume could be found. Every one of the thousands of books in that store was located in a definite spot in that young negro's mind, despite the fact that he probably had seen the insides of very few of the volumes.

The two instances quoted are not unusual. They indicate merely the most superficial sort of development of one particular mental faculty, that of recollection. A more remarkable instance of such development was shown by Houdin, the French prestidigitator. He could pass a shop window containing perhaps scores of different articles, cast a glance at the window as he went by and enumerate without error everything in it from that one glance. Some men learn a score or more of languages.

Yet the greatest development of any human brain has never taxed even to the slightest degree the actual capacity of the mind. No matter to what extent you may train your mental faculties, no matter how much you may use your brain, you will still be like the man who has spent 5 or 6 cents and has a million dollars in the bank. We are justified in believing that we are destined to marvelous mental achievements in the future, when we consider the instrument of thought that has been given to us and which is so little used at present. A scientist named Meinerz calculates that the gray matter of the brain contains 600,000,000 cells.

That in itself seems quite complicated. If we only had one thought stored away in each cell, we would know quite a good deal.

But you must remember that each cell is divided into several thousand molecules separately divisible. Every one of these molecules contains many millions of atoms. Unquestionably each separate atom plays its part in the working of the brain. Figuring on a very modest basis, you find that your brain contains 18,000,000,000,000,000 separate atoms.

The theory that the atom is an indivisible particle of matter, which is indicated by its name, meaning uncuttable, is only a theory not by any means demonstrated. There is no reason to believe that there is any limit to the universe in the direction of bigness or littleness. What we call an atom may be in effect an indivisible particle of matter or it may be a small universe in itself. However this may be, don't you think that with a brain organized as above you ought to be able to develop a good deal of mental energy and be quite free from any worry about overworking the machine which has been given to you to do your thinking?

When a man thinks his brain is tired, it is really his stomach that is overfed or some other vital point that is depleted or overtaxed. Keep the rest of your body in good condition, and your brain will never feel any amount of work that you will be able to give it.

That's different. "Papa," asked the little boy, "do you remember the first money you ever earned?" "Yes," said papa. "It was a nice, new, shiny 5 cent piece that old Mr. Gregg, the grocer, gave me for doing about a quarter's worth of work in carrying a load of potatoes into his cellar. I worked all Saturday afternoon to earn that nickel, and when he paid me I ran three blocks home, tired as I was, to show it."

"And did you put it in your little bank?" asked the little boy. "No; I got father's permission to spend it just as I pleased. However, I kept it for three or four days, just to have the satisfaction of having money of my own, earned by my own exertions. And if I could have bought all the things I thought of buying with that nickel I would have had about $10 worth of books, toys, marbles and what not. Finally I made up my mind. What do you think I bought?" "I am sure I can't guess," said the little boy. "What did you buy, papa?" "I went to the bakery and bought a custard pie."

"Why, papa! And you said grandma always had custard pie at home and let you have a slice of it as soon as you got home from school?" "Yes, I used to get a slice, but not a whole pie, and she never let me eat it the way I wanted to. So I went to the bakery and bought my pie and borrowed a spoon from the baker and ate all the custard and left the crust. I never had anything taste so good in all my life."

"You never allow me to eat custard pie that way, papa," said the little boy. "Oh, that's different!" said papa.

PAINT ON INDIAN FACES.
Nearly All of It Means Something to Those Initiated.

The fact of the matter is that every paint mark on an Indian's face is a sign with a definite meaning which other Indians may read. When an Indian puts on his full war paint, he decks himself not only with his own individual honors and distinctions won by his own bravery, but also with the special honors of his family or tribe. He may possess one mark of distinction only or many. In fact, he may be so well off in this respect that, like some English noblemen, he is able to do a new distinction for every occasion. Sometimes he will wear all his honors at one time.

Among the Indian tribes one designated by the symbol of the dogfish, painted in red on the face. The various parts of the fish are scattered heterogeneously on the surface of the face; the peculiarly long snout is painted on the forehead, the gills are represented by two curved lines below the eyes, while the tail is shown as cut in two and hanging from either nostril. When only one or two parts of an animal are painted on a man's face, it is an indication of inferiority; when the whole animal appears, even though in many oddly assorted parts, the sign is one of great value and indicates a high rank.

Very peculiar are some of the honorable symbols painted on the Indians' faces. There are fish, flesh and fowl of all kinds—dog salmon, devilfish, starfish, woodpeckers, eagles, ravens, wolves, bears, sea lions and sea monsters, mosquitoes, frogs, mountain goats and all manner of foot, claw or beak marks—each with a special meaning of its own.

He Got Some Work to Do.
"Prisoner," said the learned magistrate to a lazy fellow before him, "this is the third time you've been here." "But, your honor," pleaded the prisoner, "I've been trying to get work, but couldn't."

"You wouldn't work if you could get it?" "Yes, I would, your honor." "What kind of work?" "Anything, your honor, so long as it was honest work."

"What kind of wages?" "Wages is no object, your honor; all I want is work, with food and clothing and shelter."

"And you'd work if you had that sort of a job?" "Indeed, I would, your honor; only try me," and the tears actually came into his eyes.

"Very well," said the magistrate kindly. "We'll give you a job with shelter, food and clothing combined. Six months' hard labor. Next case."—Tit-Bits.

Asparagus with Oil.
Fontenelle, who was passionately fond of asparagus with oil, invited to dinner an abbe friend, who preferred it with butter. Mindful of hospitable obligations, M. Fontenelle had given orders that half the dish should be served one way, half the other. Just before the course came on the abbe fell down in a fit. Without taking the slightest notice of him Fontenelle rushed straight to the kitchen crying: "All with oil! All with oil!"

If it pays to employ good men and to use good tools, it pays to give them good stock; Apollo galvanized iron.

THAT WAS DIFFERENT.

Papa said There Was No Similarity in the Two Cases.

"Papa," asked the little boy, "do you remember the first money you ever earned?" "Yes," said papa. "It was a nice, new, shiny 5 cent piece that old Mr. Gregg, the grocer, gave me for doing about a quarter's worth of work in carrying a load of potatoes into his cellar. I worked all Saturday afternoon to earn that nickel, and when he paid me I ran three blocks home, tired as I was, to show it."

"And did you put it in your little bank?" asked the little boy. "No; I got father's permission to spend it just as I pleased. However, I kept it for three or four days, just to have the satisfaction of having money of my own, earned by my own exertions. And if I could have bought all the things I thought of buying with that nickel I would have had about $10 worth of books, toys, marbles and what not. Finally I made up my mind. What do you think I bought?" "I am sure I can't guess," said the little boy. "What did you buy, papa?" "I went to the bakery and bought a custard pie."

"Why, papa! And you said grandma always had custard pie at home and let you have a slice of it as soon as you got home from school?" "Yes, I used to get a slice, but not a whole pie, and she never let me eat it the way I wanted to. So I went to the bakery and bought my pie and borrowed a spoon from the baker and ate all the custard and left the crust. I never had anything taste so good in all my life."

"You never allow me to eat custard pie that way, papa," said the little boy. "Oh, that's different!" said papa.

PAINT ON INDIAN FACES.
Nearly All of It Means Something to Those Initiated.

The fact of the matter is that every paint mark on an Indian's face is a sign with a definite meaning which other Indians may read. When an Indian puts on his full war paint, he decks himself not only with his own individual honors and distinctions won by his own bravery, but also with the special honors of his family or tribe. He may possess one mark of distinction only or many. In fact, he may be so well off in this respect that, like some English noblemen, he is able to do a new distinction for every occasion. Sometimes he will wear all his honors at one time.

Among the Indian tribes one designated by the symbol of the dogfish, painted in red on the face. The various parts of the fish are scattered heterogeneously on the surface of the face; the peculiarly long snout is painted on the forehead, the gills are represented by two curved lines below the eyes, while the tail is shown as cut in two and hanging from either nostril. When only one or two parts of an animal are painted on a man's face, it is an indication of inferiority; when the whole animal appears, even though in many oddly assorted parts, the sign is one of great value and indicates a high rank.

Very peculiar are some of the honorable symbols painted on the Indians' faces. There are fish, flesh and fowl of all kinds—dog salmon, devilfish, starfish, woodpeckers, eagles, ravens, wolves, bears, sea lions and sea monsters, mosquitoes, frogs, mountain goats and all manner of foot, claw or beak marks—each with a special meaning of its own.

He Got Some Work to Do.
"Prisoner," said the learned magistrate to a lazy fellow before him, "this is the third time you've been here." "But, your honor," pleaded the prisoner, "I've been trying to get work, but couldn't."

"You wouldn't work if you could get it?" "Yes, I would, your honor." "What kind of work?" "Anything, your honor, so long as it was honest work."

"What kind of wages?" "Wages is no object, your honor; all I want is work, with food and clothing and shelter."

"And you'd work if you had that sort of a job?" "Indeed, I would, your honor; only try me," and the tears actually came into his eyes.

"Very well," said the magistrate kindly. "We'll give you a job with shelter, food and clothing combined. Six months' hard labor. Next case."—Tit-Bits.

Asparagus with Oil.
Fontenelle, who was passionately fond of asparagus with oil, invited to dinner an abbe friend, who preferred it with butter. Mindful of hospitable obligations, M. Fontenelle had given orders that half the dish should be served one way, half the other. Just before the course came on the abbe fell down in a fit. Without taking the slightest notice of him Fontenelle rushed straight to the kitchen crying: "All with oil! All with oil!"

If it pays to employ good men and to use good tools, it pays to give them good stock; Apollo galvanized iron.

The Rev. J. A. Cote, Vicar of the Cathedral has obtained leave to go to his old home, at Weedon for a needed rest, and to recuperate from an attack of illness.

There are in Sherbrooke a number of veterans of the Civil War of the United States who receive pensions. Among them is Mr. Charles Couture, who at present is living in town. Mr. Couture enlisted in the 16th Maine Regiment, went through the war, was severely wounded twice, and passed seven months in a rebel prison. Mr. Couture says that out of a full regiment of 1,000 men, only thirty-seven returned, and most of these had been wounded. He himself has never had good health since the war.

A delightful entertainment was given on Saturday evening last, the eve of Ireland's Patron Saint, by the pupils of the Convent of the Congregation Notre Dame. The hall was prettily arranged for the occasion, and in the audience were a number of old pupils, and Mr. Chalfoux, Rev. Father Flynn from Montreal, and several others of the reverend clergy. The stirring strains of St. Patrick's Day upon three pianos opened the concert, and the curtain then rose upon the Gypsy's Festival, a gay and pretty little operetta, sung and acted very spiritedly by those who took part, and closing with a tableau. More Irish airs followed, and were much applauded, as they well deserved to be. A little comedy, entitled "The Discontented Sister," was very interesting, and the final tableau, "The Harp that once," etc., with Miss Elsie McKay of Gould as the Irish maiden, bending over the harp with broken strings, was really lovely. Mr. Chalfoux, and the Rev. Father Flynn made congratulatory remarks, assuring the Rev. Ladies and the pupils of the convent that the evening had been a most enjoyable one.
