UNITED NATIONS SPEED PACIFIC DRIVE PLANS

MacArthur Has Full Control Of United Forces

Australian Declaration Over Week-End Clarifies Powers of United Nations Commander, Clearing Way for Preparation of Large-Scale Plans for Offensive Strategy to Oust Japan from Southwest Pacific.

(By The Canadian Press)
With the Japanese still trying to figure out how they were bombed in their own islands Saturday, the United Nations drew up plans today for an Australia-based counter-offensive in the Southwest Pacific and the struggle took a favorable but still indecisive turn against the enemy.

Chungking reported that Chinese troops swooping down from the Northeast had recaptured Yenangyang, Burmese oil centre, and in two days of bitter fighting had released a British force of several thousand from Japanese encirclement.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur and aides discussed offensive plans today with Australia's Prime Minister, John Curtin, at Canberra.

Japan showed signs of jitters over the raids. Two more alarms sounded yesterday, evidently with no real basis, and Domei, Japanese news agency, said the Government was trying to control "baseball rumors" concerning the Saturday smashes.

By their latest official account, the Japanese appeared fairly convinced that the raiders were United States medium bombers launched by three warship-shielded aircraft carriers from considerable distance East of Japan, with instructions to bomb Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe and then continue on to landings in Free China.

Heavy fighting continued on the Burma approach to India, with the British and Indian forces, now helped on the right wing by Chinese reinforcements, reported holding their ground at Taunggyingyi.

No one could say yet whether invasion of India, or Australia, or possibly both at once, was next on Japan's timetable. There was the chance that the Japanese might thrust at the Australian mainland for a landing before a counter-offensive can be mounted.

With that in mind, the Southwest Pacific command sent its warplanes yesterday against Rabaul, New Britain, keystone of the flying buttress of Japanese conquest in the islands facing Australia.

The formal charter granted by the United Nations to Gen. MacArthur as their supreme commander in that region, effective as of Saturday midnight, removed the last technical impairment of MacArthur's purpose, as Prime Minister Curtin put it, "to lead a crusade, the result of which means everything to the future of the world and mankind."

Kuibyshev, April 20.—(AP)—Increasing German air activity was reported from the Southwest Pacific.

Japanese Spirit Obviously Much Disturbed Over Raiding Of Tokyo

The aid raids which bore home today to Japan for the first time Saturday dealt her a jolting blow both materially and spiritually, it became increasingly evident today despite her efforts to belittle them.

As effective, perhaps, in haggling the enemy's nerves as the unforeseen, startling bombardment itself, was the mystery of how the bombers got there.

What Japan would most like to learn, no doubt, is that the attacking planes are back aboard aircraft carriers hurrying at top speed out of flying range.

The Japanese radio, perhaps wishfully, has suggested the air raiders were sea-based but the only indications so far have been contrary to such a thesis.

"Martin bombers" were said by the Japanese to have swept 1,000 miles off their shores. Presumably, what were meant were the United States army's B-25 medium bombers—army rather than navy planes and too large to be launched from carriers.

Furthermore, a Reuters news agency report from Chungking today said the planes had reached their "destination" safely. This evidently meant their return to bases.

GERMAN ARMY HELD FIRST MANOEUVRES IN MOUNTAIN AREA

London, April 20.—(P)—The Germans held extensive army manoeuvres on the mountains of Norway last Thursday and Friday for the first time. Reuters quoted today a report in the Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten.

Heavy batteries, it said, were set up and fired in the mountains and some areas were barred to the public.

Buenos Aires, April 20.—(P)—Ten persons were reported today to have been killed and others injured when a huge sulphur refinery boiler exploded at La Casapalada Sulphur Mines in the Province of Los Andes.

Father Coughlin Takes All Responsibility For Review

Royal Oak Priest Changes Earlier Story in Which He Denied Any Active Interest in Magazine "Social Justice" Which Has Been Termed by United States Attorney-General as "Clearly Seditious."

Royal Oak, Mich., April 20.—(P)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, Royal Oak priest, in a public statement today assumed personal responsibility for control of the magazine "Social Justice," its policies and its contents "if Social Justice, as Attorney General Biddle is reported to have declared in his press conference, is 'clearly seditious.'"

Biddle announced Friday at Washington that a special district of Columbia Grand Jury would investigate all phases of the publication of "Social Justice," a magazine which Father Coughlin founded in 1934, but with which the priest has disavowed any connection since 1940.

The Attorney General's action followed an order from Postmaster General Frank Walker barring the periodical from the mails for alleged seditious statements.

Father Coughlin has stated that "Social Justice" is owned by his parents, Thomas J. and Amelia Coughlin of Royal Oak. E. Perrin Schwab is its editor.

The priest's statement assuming responsibility for the magazine's pronouncements was issued in a press conference at the Rectory of the Shrine of the Little Flower here.

Japanese Open Intensive Effort To Silence Big Corregidor Guns

Washington, April 20.—(P)—Opening of an intense Japanese effort to batter the Philippine island fortress of Corregidor into helplessness by bombs and siege guns was reported today by the United States War Department.

From new positions on the Bataan Peninsula and from the South shore of Manila Bay the foe began an intense artillery bombardment Sunday and for the first time dive-bombing raids were made on Corregidor.

Defending gunners replied effectively to the new attack, silencing at least three batteries, a communication reported; and breaking up three motor truck and troop concentrations at Bataan.

Five dive-bombing raids were on Corregidor and in addition Japanese light bombers attacked Corregidor and Fort Hughes several times from high altitudes.

One bomber was hit by anti-aircraft fire, the War Department reported.

Meanwhile near Zamboanga, on the island of Mindanao more than 500 miles to the South an American-Filipino patrol ambushed two busloads of Japanese troops and inflicted numerous casualties.

The three enemy batteries silenced by the fort's guns were in addition, officials said, to at least four and possibly five which it was announced yesterday had been put out of action in the past few days.

The bombing attacks on the besieged forts have been confined thus far to high altitude level bombing, officials noted.

The dive bombers operated on the Bataan Peninsula before defenses there were overcome. They were particularly deadly after anti-aircraft defenses had been reduced.

Laval Formally Assumes Control Of Pro-Nazi French Government

Vichy, April 20.—(P)—Collaborationist Pierre Laval, new Chief of the Vichy Government, called the first formal meeting of his Ministers today to take up the mandate handed them by Marshal Petain amid a crisis which Petain compared with that of France's defeat in June, 1940.

In a few sentences broadcast to the French people yesterday, the aged Marshal stated the duties which he, as Chief of State, had delegated to the new Chief of the Government and exhorted them to stand behind Laval's regime "with a single heart."

Now that his organization has been completed, Laval, too, is expected to broadcast a message to the nation today. The broadcast is scheduled for 2 p.m., E.D.T.

CHINESE UNITS EASE PRESSURE ON OIL FIELDS

Recapture Town in Centre of Burma Oil Fields, Releasing Thousands of Britishers Encircled by Japanese.

Chungking, April 20.—(P)—Chinese troops which swooped down from the Northeast have recaptured Yenangyang, in the heart of the West Burma oilfields, after two days of bitter fighting, and have released a British force of several thousand men from encirclement by the Japanese, a Chinese communique said today.

(British headquarters announced yesterday that "Chinese forces are now operating with our troops on the Irrawaddy front" where the Yenangyang oil fields were destroyed last week before the Japanese could fight their way into that area.)

Chinese headquarters said the troops which won back Yenangyang attacked from Kyaukpadaung, thirty miles to the Northeast.

Japanese casualties in the ensuing fight were more than 500, the communique reported. Chinese losses were placed at more than 100.

(A military spokesman in London, without giving any details of the battle along the Irrawaddy, said that fighting continued heavy and that British forces at Taunggyingyi, midway between the Irrawaddy and the Salween, were holding their positions guarding the flank of Chinese troops to the East.)

The Chinese said yesterday that their advanced forces on that flank have just ended with the withdrawal from Myohla some twenty miles North of the vicinity of Elia. It is ten miles South of the important town of Pyinmana on the Rangoon-Mandalay Road.

PRACTISE JAPANESE METHODS
U.S. Army Headquarters, Panama Canal Zone, April 20.—(P)—The largest field manoeuvres conducted in Panama since start of the war have just ended with the theoretical repulse of an invading "Yellow" army employing tactics used by the Japanese in their Pacific conquests. Thousands of men of the United States Army's Panama mobile force, together with air corps and marine detachments, participated in four-day operations staged in dense jungles and along rugged shores as a further move in strengthening the defenses of this strategically vital zone.

MORE CANADIAN TROOPS REACH GREAT BRITAIN

By ALAN RANDAL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, April 20.—(C.P. Cable)—The bulk of the new Canadian Army reinforcements whose safe arrival was announced during the week-end settled down today in holding unit quarters before joining their regular units.

The trans-Atlantic jaunt was described as "very quiet, just another boat ride under the watchful navy's care."

Mostly reinforcements for an armored division, the others were for the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Royal Canadian Artillery, and infantry, including French-Canadian units.

"I couldn't call the trip exciting," said Pte. K. J. Wason, of Bickleigh, Sask., a medical corps man.

"No signs of sub," he added.

Signallers included Pte. C. H. McDonald, Winnipeg, and Pte. J. N. Skilling, Grand Forks, B.C.

Pte. D. P. Carrigan, New Glasgow, N.S., of the Nova Scotia Highlanders, was among the Maritime representatives.

A dispatch from an East Coast Canadian Port said the contingent included, besides the Canadian Army reinforcements, personnel from many of the United Nations and a draft of Commonwealth Air Training Plan graduates.

Life Termers Seek Suicide Missions
McAlester, Okla., April 20.—(P)—Fighters, incarcerated, an organization of Oklahoma life-term convicts, appealed to President Roosevelt today for a chance to perform suicide missions in the war.

"Please help these men," the group appealed in a letter to the White House, "to redeem themselves in their own eyes—as well as in the eyes of the world."

Fighters, incarcerated, was inspired by a recent report that the old battleship Oregon would be refitted and manned by a suicide squadron to harass the Japanese.

Mobile, Ala., April 20.—(P)—A 10,000-ton freighter and two minesweepers, the U.S.S. Tumult and the U.S.S. Velocity, were launched simultaneously here yesterday. Christening was the only ceremony allowed.

YES VOTE WILL COMPEL DRAFT, SAYS RAYMOND

Beauharnois-Laprairie Member Continues Attack on Government Plebiscite Vote at St. Hyacinthe Rally.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., April 20.—(P)—Maxime Raymond, Liberal Member of Parliament for Beauharnois-Laprairie, said yesterday that if the vote in the plebiscite should be in the affirmative, military conscription for Overseas service would follow.

Mr. Raymond spoke at a meeting held under the auspices of La Ligue Pour la Defense du Canada.

"This is clearly the issue since conscriptionists like Messrs. Meighen and Hanson have stated they would vote 'yes' in the plebiscite," he said. "It has not as its object a confidence vote in the King Government. Mr. King himself said that he would not consider the result a vote of confidence."

René Chaboult, Liberal Member of the Quebec Legislative Assembly for L'Orignal, said voters should give an "emphatic no" in the plebiscite. Mr. King had told his Cabinet that it is the sentiment of the Province of Quebec that is hindering the imposition of conscription, he said.

"If Quebec answers 'Yes' in the plebiscite April 27, it is evident that Mr. King will have no further arguments to prevent conscription. Even if the Province of Quebec is the only Canadian province to vote 'no,' it is possible that conscription will not be put in force."

Philippe Girard and Gerard Filion of Montreal, also urged voters to give a negative answer. Victor Sylvestre, St. Hyacinthe alderman and President of the Diocesan St. Jean Baptiste Society, presided.

LEGION OFFICIAL ISSUES WARNING
Montreal, April 20.—(P)—Henri Laurendeau, Province of Quebec representative on the National Council of the Canadian Legion, said last night that the war must be fought to victory or else Canada will be crushed along with the other United Nations.

Mr. Laurendeau addressed members of the Jean Brault, V.C., Post, and urged them to vote "yes" in the plebiscite.

"It is impossible for any thinking man to believe French-Canadians would not be treated as a conquered people if the United States or Great Britain were to lose this war," he said.

Nazis Massing Planes On Eastern Front For Opening Spring Drive

Hitler, Observing Fifty-Third Birthday at Eastern Front Headquarters by Seeking to Put Old-Fashioned Zip Back into Russian Campaign—Diverts More Air Power from Western Europe to Russia.

(By The Canadian Press)
Hitler, observing his fifty-third birthday at Eastern Front headquarters, was reported by the Russians today to be trying to put the old zip back into the air war with attacks by as many as fifty planes against single secret objectives.

The signs were that he had marshalled the bulk of his air force on that front, at the expense of his air strength in Western Europe. Poor visibility over the Continent last night, however, caused a pause in the British offensive in the West.

Small R.A.F. fighter forces swept over Northern France yesterday without opposition and the best the Germans could muster today against Britain was a three-plane strafe and bombing of a train and a South coast town. Three persons were killed and several injured.

German bombers ranged the vast Russian front, smashing at railway stations, airfields and front line positions. They were impelled to this activity by improving weather, the hope of starting a general offensive some time and perhaps also by the widening breach which the Russians were exploiting against the Finns above Leningrad.

On the Southern front the Germans were making a show of action by tank-plane teams, the Russians said, but failed to restore positions pierced by the Red Army.

The German high command said its bombers had hit again at harbor installations and utilities on the Caucasian coast of the Black Sea, with one Russian tanker damaged. German fighters claimed destruction of twenty-two planes without loss in the Southern sector.

The Germans said that "local" Russian attacks collapsed in the Central and Northern sectors and that in Karelia, Germans and Finns exacted heavy losses "in defensive battles."

In the Arctic Hitler headquarters claimed two "enemy ships," totalling 12,000 tons were sunk out of convoy by U-boat action in co-operation with the air force, and three others were damaged, apart from his among the escorting warships.

The German high command reported that in the Mediterranean, a German submarine was said to have torpedoed a merchantman at Beirut, Lebanon harbor, while another shelled the electrical works at Jaffa, Palestine.

The Italian high command reported loss of the 1,036-ton submarine Michele Bianchi.

On the Libyan front there was only sporadic patrol fighting. The Kamsheen, five-day-long sand-laden wind from the desert, hampered operations. There were the usual air attacks on Malta.

Kingston Shipyard Labor Strikes In Sympathy With Midland Group

Kingston, Ont., April 20.—(P)—About 275 employees of the Kingston Shipbuilding Company failed to report for work today, striking in sympathy with the workers at the Midland Shipyards Ltd., who left work last Wednesday in a dispute over dismissal of an employee and wages and working conditions.

A spokesman for the strikers here said they had no dispute with the management of the Kingston Shipbuilding Company and said Company officials had been informed of the reason for their action.

The walkout here was planned at a mass meeting Saturday and in a statement issued last night the workers participating in the protest requested the Federal Labor Department "arrange settlement on the basis of the reasonable demands of the Midland workers."

About 100 workers reported to the shipyards here today.

The workers said yesterday that in settlement of the Midland strike the Government should reinstate the worker over whose discharge the strike was precipitated and urged "setting up of a board by the Government to assist in the proper classification of the workers in the three yards (Midland, Kingston and Collingwood) in conformity with a recent Order-in-Council, P.C. 629."

The Order-in-Council refers specifically to the shipyards at Midland, Collingwood and Kingston.

The statement said the Order-in-Council had set out classifications and temporary wage rates to which employers had not adhered. It said the Department of Labor had been notified of the possibility of a protest by workers here and would be notified "of its continuance."

(The Midland strikers, who number about four hundred, asked last night for clarification of a Federal Labor Department edict that they should return to their jobs or have the case referred to the Department of Justice for prosecution under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. The edict called the Midland strike "not only illegal but subversive of Canada's war effort.")

MONTREAL BUSINESS MAN DIES
Montreal, April 20.—(P)—Albert E. Tuddenham, seventy-five, a native of Birmingham, England, died at his home here yesterday after a lengthy illness. Mr. Tuddenham was a partner in a well-known tailoring firm.

He is survived by his widow, the former Fannie Tupper, of Sutton, Que., one son and two daughters.

WAR BULLETINS

London — Poor visibility over the continent kept the Royal Air Force grounded last night but British sources said today that small fighter forces made sweeps over Northern France yesterday without meeting opposition. All planes returned safely.

Three German fighter-bombers swept over the South coast of Britain today, strafing a train with cannon and machine-gun fire and then dropping several bombs on a town.

Cairo — While the Khamseen, sand-laden wind of the desert, brought land operations in Libya practically to a standstill, British aircraft were active in the advanced area of the desert battlefield. Saturday night Bengasi, Axis supply port, was bombed.

The Italo-German assault of Malta continued. Three German Junkers bombers were brought down yesterday and others severely damaged by anti-aircraft fire.

Lucien Hebert Named Representative Of Wartime Prices And Trade Board

Lucien Hebert today was named local representative of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for this district, which constitutes six Eastern Townships counties, succeeding Lloyd McKee, who held the post since the office was opened in His Majesty's Building, 85-a Wellington Street North, Room 112, recently.

The appointment of Valere Labrecque as local investigator for the six counties under the jurisdiction of the local office, was announced at the same time by E. E. Good, enough, local adviser of the Board.

Eastern Townships counties under the jurisdiction of the local Price Board office are Sherbrooke, Wolfe, Richmond, Stanstead, Compton and Frontenac.

Mr. Hebert, proprietor of the Portland Store, is Chairman of the local Retail Merchants Association and very well known throughout the city and the Eastern Townships.

ONE DEAD, SIX HURT IN STE. ROSE CRASH

Ste. Rose, Que., April 20.—(C)—Madeleine Gascon, twenty, of Montreal was killed last night and six persons were injured when a car left the Cure Labelle highway and crashed into a tree about one mile from here. Robert Lacasse, twenty-six, and Hector Piche, twenty-eight, were taken to hospital in Montreal for treatment.

Four others, Rita Lavigne, nineteen, Roger Montpetit, twenty-four, Francis Ouellette, twenty-three, and Hervé Corbeil, twenty-five, were treated by Ste. Rose doctors.

Police said the car, rented by a drive-yourself firm, left the road and ploughed along a ditch for two hundred feet before striking the tree.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

ALL A-SHATTER FROM CLANG AND CLATTER?

With guinea pigs and clanging bells, scientists have proved it can drive you crazy. At her desk, Tillie the office teller knows its toll in throbbing headaches causing silly mistakes. It's been known to drive strong, steady-eyed executives into the quiet haven of the corner movie in the middle of the year's busiest afternoon. It is the uncontrolled noise that flourishes in nine out of ten business organizations.

Really, there's no need to put up with any longer. For modern industry has perfected materials to quiet even the loudest noise. John-Manville, pioneer in the field, has installed these new acoustical materials in thousands of business offices, scores of broadcasting stations, dozens of hospitals, hundreds of restaurants. Everywhere they have achieved almost unbelievable results. If you have a noise problem, write today to Canadian John-Manville, 199 Bay Street, Toronto, Ont., for a free booklet, "How to Quiet the Noisy Office."

PRAISE HELP OF SALVATION ARMY WORKERS

Great Job Being Done for Servicemen at Halifax by Men and Women in Blue
—Gratitude of Soldiers
Earned.

Halifax, April 20.—High officials of the auxiliary services for the armed forces at this crossroads of Empire pulled their chairs up to the conference table and got down to business.

They had a problem that required outside help. Capt. Alastair MacKinnon, Divisional Auxiliary Officer, explained it. Provision had to be made, quickly, to care for a large force of servicemen who had just arrived in the city.

The Divisional Commander of the Salvation Army didn't hesitate when he was asked what his organization could do to help. The men and women in the dark blue uniforms, he said, would do their best—as they had so often done before in human emergencies in this war and the last.

The Superintendent of the "Army's" war service hostel here, went to work the next morning and in twenty-four hours, had set up a fully manned and stocked canteen at the place designated.

Light lunches, hot drinks, candy bars, soft drinks, cigarettes and other necessities were waiting when they were needed—not only for the servicemen but for a group of German refugees from the U.S. and ada.

It was intended for a few days emergency, but before The Salvation Army was able to close its shutters, weeks had passed and the "servicing army" was still carrying on to meet the human needs they saw.

Women members of this organization, already heavily burdened with war work, volunteered for this extra service and donned aprons to cater to the uniformed men and civilians behind the counters—working from ten in the morning till ten at night.

Men from all parts of the globe were their patrons—Poles, Belgians, Jamaicans, British, American and Canadians. And when they moved on, they left behind their war tributes to the work of the "Sally Ann."

Officers of the Polish Legion, largely from the American continent, left a letter. "As a token of your service I am offering a most valued gift of remembrance, an emblem representing the Eagle of the Polish Army. . . In closing, we tell you we will never forget the hearty services you gave service of the most human kind. Three cheers for The Salvation Army."

"Here's hoping you spend many years in His Service," was the written wish to The Army lassies, of Eddith Walker, Tulsa, Oklahoma, an Irish-Indian which had joined the Polish Legion. At thirty-nine, she had seen his fourth fight. Nicaragua revolution fifteen years ago, action with the Brazilian army and later, two years with the Chinese army against the Japs—before Pearl Harbor.

R. K. Tice, of Allenstown, Pennsylvania, wrote: "To a dear and understanding friend, my most sincere appreciation. You will never know the peace and rest our many little chats have caused me to know. God bless you."

These Salvation Army women are like mothers to the men, far from home. "I can't help but treat them as my own sons," said one of them. One night, four Jamaican soldiers were found huddled together on a bench. Asked if they were lonely, they answered—they were not. They were cold! They had come into the Northern winter without proper clothing. The Army soon fixed that. The officer jumped into his car and returned with woollen underwear and sweaters, socks, scarves—knitted by volunteer Canadian women of the Red Shield Auxiliaries in other parts of Canada—and the men were happy.

The cases mentioned run into millions. During one three-month period recently, 108,550 members of the armed forces visited the two Red Shield service hostels in Halifax. Many of them were not Canadians. But more significant than figures is this remark: "Whether he is broke or his pockets lined with bills, a serviceman is turned away from a door with The Salvation Army name on it."

Motorist Will Be Advised By Mail If His Gas Ration Cut

Re-allocation of gasoline category rationing throughout the country will start immediately, via mail. This was revealed today by an official at the licence plates bureau in the Court House, according to word received from the Munitions and Supply Department in Ottawa.

This means that there will be no crowding of offices or standing in lines. Everything will be done by the oil controller's regional offices, through the mail.

"Every application for a ration book—from category B to E, inclusive—will be reviewed by the regional offices," the department notice reads.

MISSING OVERSEAS

Flight Sergeant Alphonse Boisvert, son of J. A. Boisvert, 101 Drummond Street, has been reported missing as a result of aerial operations on April 14. The cable received by Mr. Boisvert gave no details other than stating that the airman was missing. Flight Sergeant Boisvert has been Overseas for some time.

"The offices will judge each individual case with an eye to reducing the category of all car operators in the preferred category. Operators will be informed by mail that his category has been reduced. He will be ordered to turn in his ration coupon booklet immediately and a new one will be issued."

However, it is reported that the operators will have an opportunity to appeal the decisions of the regional offices. "But the oil controller's office has made it clear," it was pointed out, "that gas rationing must be reduced drastically. So appeals are not likely to be granted unless there is real merit."

LOCAL AIRMAN PROMOTED

Word has been received here of the promotion of Flight Sergeant Marcus Vineberg, who is now on duty in England, from the rank of Radio Observer.

Flight Sergeant Vineberg is now on furlough in London with several other R.C.A.F. members from Sherbrooke.

SALVAGE DRIVE IS HELD TODAY IN SHERBROOKE

There are a lot of lonely attics and cellars in Sherbrooke today. Mother has been up to her determined neck in a grand housecleaning spree in anticipation of this date.

And father has been closing his eyes. He would not want to see "treasures" he has been carefully storing away in the odd corner for months—or years.

Today is Special Salvage Day under the sponsorship of the Sherbrooke Lions Club. Members of this organization, Boy Scouts and volunteer workers, with from twenty-five to thirty trucks, will make a city-wide collection for the salvage material from Sherbrooke homes starting at 6.30 o'clock tonight.

The Lions Club Salvage Committee consists of Noel Cloutier, Donald V. Eber, and Joseph-Louis Labrecque. No doubt collection depots which the committee set up rapidly will resemble a cross-section picture of what closets, attics and cellars of Sherbrooke looked like before it was made known to the public that six old bottles would make one shell carrier; that six old bills would make one washer for a shell; that twelve old letters would make one box for rifle cartridges.

And metal, rags, rubber and bottles: they will all go into things to non in the car of Hitler. So said the Government. And today Sherbrooke is responding to the special salvage campaign conducted by the Lions Club.

Citizens are requested to leave their salvage in front of their homes, which will have the time of day. Collectors will have no time to go into homes.

URGED TO SPEED REGISTRATION

Maurice Gingues, Federal Minister for Sherbrooke County, today issued an appeal to employers to speed up the registration of employees in the National Unemployment Insurance Commission scheme and to return last year's registration books as soon as possible.

The appeal was promoted by a telegram received by Mr. Gingues from Humphrey Mitchell, Federal Minister of Labor, in which the urgent need for a total mobilization of manpower was stressed.

The local Unemployment Insurance Commission stated that these returns were supposed to have been made by April 1.

BEEF IS STILL AVAILABLE ON REGULAR MENU

Despite the reported shortage of beef in Sherbrooke and throughout the Eastern Township many restaurants still were serving beef today, a survey indicated.

Many of the local restaurants and hotels reported no shortage and the managers told a Record reporter that they would continue to serve beef dishes as long as possible. Numerous other Sherbrooke eating establishments reported they were getting all the beef they could use. All managers of restaurants queried said that they had heard of the shortage but that they were continuing with the regular beef dishes on the menu.

The meat manager of a local store said that he had enough beef in stock until at least Tuesday. "We are trying to switch customers to veal, lamb and poultry, of which we have plenty," he said.

Another Sherbrooke butcher said that there is no beef famine. "There is a shortage and we can't get beef from the big packers, but some of the smaller houses have carcasses."

"There is no shortage of beef in Canada as a whole, but in some localities there may be a difficulty getting the normal quantity of beef due to the increased demand by the consumer," said an official of the food administration section of the Warman Prices and Trade Board, according to a Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa.

"Since the war began," the official was quoted as saying, "there has been a twenty to twenty-five per cent increase in the demand for beef. We find that although a man joins the army it doesn't mean that his family buys any less beef."

Livestock killings in Canada now are approximately what they were the same time last year and any shortage will be due mainly to increased demand for beef, he said.

About 1,000 cattle a day are being exported to the United States. At the same time about 2,000 are being slaughtered in Canada daily and this amount is normal for this time of the year. "Exports," he said, "have shown a slight increase, but they are not responsible for any shortage that may exist."

He declared loss of tires "can be expected" by car owners who leave their machines in vacant lots or driveways at night.

SUGAR SHAKERS CONDEMNED BY PRICES BOARD

If you are one of the "shaker boys" who use more than your share of sugar in restaurants, watch out—the Wartime Prices and Trade Board is watching you!

So reads a notice from the board received today by Sherbrooke restaurants, hotels and other eating places.

Quite a lot of people with a sweet tooth have begun to shake sugar containers with pre-ratting abandon lately, despite the fact that they have to ask the waitress for the sugar, and apparently this has been called to the attention of the Price Board officials who are noting the appearance of the "sugar-shaking saboteurs."

Restaurants, hotels and eating establishments have been instructed to cut their sugar consumption of last year, despite the increased volume of trade, the "Price Board" notice points out, but the "shaker boys" are making it a difficult goal to reach.

A survey conducted by a Record reporter today indicated that restaurants and several of the hotels are limiting their coffee-drinking public to four cubes of sugar per cup. When anyone asks for a fifth one, they are politely refused by the waitress who explains the reason.

However, several other Sherbrooke hotels, lunch carts as well as other restaurants and eating places still are using the sugar containers and the customers are taking all the sugar they desire.

Series Of Seven Motor Car Mishaps Occurred In This City On Week-End

Municipal Police investigated a series of seven motor accidents during the week-end, in which one Sherbrooke taxi driver figured in two of the collisions in less than a two-hour period, according to police. Taxis were involved in two other accidents.

A taxi driven by Leo Dufort, of 172-b King Street East, and a car operated by Philippe Miller, 4 Park Street, collided at the intersection of Laurier Avenue and Aberdeen Street at eight o'clock on Saturday night. Colliding sides of the machines were damaged, police said. The cab was proceeding West on Aberdeen Street and Miller was driving South on Laurier Avenue.

Two hours later, at ten o'clock, the same cab operated by Dufort was involved in an accident with another car at the intersection of King and Belvidere Streets, police reported. However, police said that the driver of the car refused to give his name and address. The machine and the taxi were proceeding West on King Street and Dufort was negotiating a left turn on to Belvidere Street South at the time of the mishap.

Colliding sides of two machines were damaged as a result of an accident at the corner of Depot and King Streets. Police stated that the driver of the taxi was Gerald Marceau, 80 Dorval Street, and the operator of the car was Lorenzo Rodrigue, of St. Isidore d'Aukland. The cab was travelling East on King Street and was turning right on to Depot Street, while Rodrigue was going North on Depot Street when the machines crashed.

A car owned by S. Blais, of Ascot Corner, was damaged badly when it struck a light post on Larocque Street. Police said that the auto was parked in front of 24 Larocque Street and Blais' young daughter released the gear shift and the car rolled down the street for several blocks before it hit a pole on the opposite side of the thoroughfare. The girl was uninjured. Electric wires were broken by the impact of the crash, but these were repaired by linemen and service was restored in a short time.

A car owned by Ernest Bergeron, R.M.D. No. 1, which was parked near the intersection of Galt and St. Pierre Streets, was damaged badly when it struck a tree in front of 94 St. Pierre Street. No one was in the machine at the time, and police believe that the brakes became loose in some unknown manner. The accident occurred yesterday morning.

Minor damage resulted when a taxi and a car collided at the intersection of Wellington and King Streets yesterday. Felix LeFebvre, 227 Wellington Street South, was the driver of the car, and Lucien Phaneuf, 150-b Belvidere Street, was operating the taxi. Both machines were travelling North on Wellington Street.

After getting medical treatment, Racine was discharged from the hospital and was taken to his home by Lambert. He was reported to be resting comfortably today.

Paul-Emile Lambert, also of Acton Vale, a friend of the injured man, who was waiting for Racine in the car, took him to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital with Constable Dion's aid.

The beautiful flowers on the communion table in the United Church yesterday were placed there by Mrs. E. Gagnon in loving memory of her husband.

Pte. C. L. C. Longmore, C.E.C., of Valcartier, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Cameron, Spring Road. While here he also called on friends in Sherbrooke and Sawyerville.

Mrs. D. D. MacMillan, of Inverness, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. N. L. Cameron, Spring Road. Mrs. A. Burbank is a guest of her sister, Miss Clem George, on Prospect Street.

Word has been received here that Mrs. W. K. McKenzie has passed away at her home in Rose Isle, Man. Mrs. McKenzie was formerly Isabel Hill, of Inverness, well known to many in this vicinity.

YOU HAVE A DUTY ON THE 27th

Keep Monday, the 27th of April, open. It is Plebiscite Day and your opportunity to answer the following question:

"Are you in favour of releasing the Government from any obligation arising out of any past commitments restricting the methods of raising men for military service?"

Do not make any arrangements that will keep you from going to the polls. It is a democratic duty to register your opinion on the important issue represented in the Plebiscite.

Therefore, your chief appointment on April 27th is at your polling booth. It will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Daylight Saving Time.

JAP ATTACKS ON RUSSIA LIKELY

A sudden Japanese attack on Siberia, a Pearl Harbor on a bigger scale, is regarded by many informed military and diplomatic observers in Washington as a distinct possibility. They suggest it might come either as a prelude to a German drive against the Caucasus oil fields or coincide with a campaign of that sort. It would be an Axis attempt to smash Russian resistance this year by simultaneous attacks on widely separated fronts with its attendant dilution of Soviet military strength.

Although the Russian campaign now is in its tenth month and has been perhaps the most costly and the most brilliantly contested military operation of all times, it is believed in Washington that neither the Germans nor the Russians today stand in position for a knockout punch against the other. Germany, it is admitted, is still in fair position for an offensive against the prime objective of the Caucasus but, because the Russians, by their winter counter-offensive have carved Central-Front salients which they might develop as wide flanking operations against the Nazis in the South, it is believed in some quarters here the Germans may seek the assistance of the Japanese in drawing off Russian strength from the whole Eastern front.

The strength of Russian forces in Siberia is unknown but Premier Stalin and his military advisers, realists every one of them, are not likely to be caught napping on the Pacific side of the Soviet Union, despite the fact they were forced to draw troops from the Siberian garrison this winter to reinforce the Eastern front.

As far as Japan is concerned, there are at least two reasons why an attack against Siberia might appeal to her warlords. The first is that Siberia, particularly the Kamchatka peninsula and the heavily fortified area surrounding Vladivostok, provide ideal bombing bases against Japan, within easy flying distance of her vulnerable and teeming cities and she might wish to put them out of business while the Germans are still comparatively strong and fresh on the European side of Russia.

Secondly, Japan can never hope to consolidate her "co-prosperity sphere" in Asia, most of which she has over-run since December 7, as long as Russian armies and Russian bombers stand poised within that loosely defined sphere of influence.

The biggest impediment to the degree to which Russia has rebuilt her industrial machine in the interior to counteract such known facts as the loss of Kharkov, her steel centre. Whole industries have been transplanted to the Urals and beyond but only the Russians know how they are producing.

When winter retreats over the long front, when the rivers return to normal and the mud hardens under the warming sun, the Germans are expected to launch full-scale operations in the South. Despite the ferocity of the Russian counter-offensive this winter, the Nazis still hold the whole of the Ukraine. As jumping-off places for a drive toward the Caucasus, they have clung to Kharkov, Stalino and Taganrog.

Russia is receiving outside help in at least two directions. Canada, the United States and Britain are co-operating to send a steady stream of tanks, planes and other munitions while the Royal Air Force, by its constant bombing of factories, military bases and transportation agencies in Germany, France and the Low Countries, has drawn off a sizeable portion of the German Air Force, particularly fighter squadrons, from the Eastern Front.

BRITAIN AND BEER TAXATION

Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, by his new beer tax in the budget of twopence a pint, made that old master of taxation, King Charles II, look like a rank amateur. Charles, a strong believer in taxation of all kinds, was first to strike at the British "workingman's food and workman's drink" when he levied in 1660 a tax of four shillings nippence the barrel.

Sir Kingsley put him in the shade when he jumped the pint tax threepence to fivepence, or forty-eight shillings a barrel of thirty-six gallons. That means the cost of a pint of beer is hiked from nippence to eleven pence, or that the pub frequenter as a result of the new budget now pays as tax on one pint the equivalent of the total cost of a glass of beer in Canada.

As indicated by the action of King Charles in 1660, beer taxing is an old form of budget sport for British Chancellors, but at the start of the Second Great War the average pint price for beer was only sixpence, including a penny tax, with the cheapest brew fourpence a pint. Since then it has taken three individual penny tax jumps plus the latest and severest tuppenny hike.

In comparison with prices today, the price of a pint at the start of the First Great War was twopence halfpenny, rising to fivepence in 1919 and sixpence in 1920.

With the rising cost of beer in this war, the drinker has been suffering a drop in the potency of his pint. Since January 1, 1942, the Food Ministry, which controls brewers' supplies, has allowed the brewers to reduce the specific gravity of their product by five per cent due to shortages of malt and labor, though the same amount of beer is being put out as in 1941.

The Stock Exchange was one place where the beer impost had little effect. It is considered likely that brewing and distilling will remain fairly satisfactory industries for investors.

RUSSIA SEEKS FOOD RESERVES

Attacking the food supply lines as realistically as they treated the factories, compelling workers to remain at their jobs in time of war, Russian leaders are mobilizing 150,000,000 men, women and children to fight the summer battle for food. To this end the People's Commissars have decreed: Collective farmers must work a minimum of 102 to 150 working days this season.

Children from fourteen to sixteen must work in the fields fifty days a year.

City high schools must be suspended so that students can lend a hand.

The sweeping decree affects all males from fourteen to fifty-five and all women from fourteen to fifty not already engaged in war work.

Exceptions are pregnant women, invalids and mothers of children under eight years.

Persons mobilized from the cities will be fed, sheltered and paid at prevailing collective farm rates.

The decree supersedes one which required a minimum of fifty farm working days a year.

Children will have a limited work day, from six to eight hours. But there is no limit on the number of hours an adult may work.

During the last harvest, with the Germans advancing, the Russian farmers worked day and night. It is to be assumed that if necessary, the same will be true this year.

Violation of the decree is punishable by six months of forced farm labor and fines of twenty-five per cent of earnings. Culprits also will lose their collective farm advantages which include an individual strip of land.

TO LIVE WELL

By Grenville Kleiser

It is curious and instructive to notice the changing significance of words and phrases according to the time and country in which they are used. In a modern town, when a man is said to make a good living, or to be a bon vivant, what is meant is that he makes a large income, or that he enjoys the pleasures of the table and similar luxuries.

But a hundred years ago, or in country places, where words still have their original significance, a "good-living man" is one who is upright and honorable, and who leads a good life. And this, of course, the right use of the phrase. It is a commendation of much modern thought and modern ways that the old sense of "good"—the Biblical sense, if you will—has been so altered that now it means luxurious rather than moral, pleasurable rather than honorable.

If "to live well" meant only to live in luxury, the best way to do it would not be worth an instant's consideration. Wholesale dealers in food, wine, tobacco, furniture, clothes and cars would solve the problem, and all we would have to do would be to produce the necessary cash to pay for what we wanted of these things.

Obviously, with this as an aim, only the rich could hope to live well. But on the face of it this is an absurdity. Our lives are our own; we can make of them largely what we like; we are not limited by anything but our own personalities. Whatever our income, our social position, our education, our circumstances, we all can—we all should—"live well."

It is a sign of the sickness of the age that so many people nowadays say that they are "tired of life." Early in middle age, they declare that they have drained the cup to the dregs; they know all about life; it has no more to offer them; they are weary, satiated; they long to be through with it.

And yet when we wish a person well, we wish him "Long life and happiness"; still the birthday greeting is "Many happy returns of the day"; the New Year wish is, "A happy New Year and many of them." Whatever the fashion or pose of the day, at heart we know, instinctively and surely, that life is a precious gift; that in receiving life at all we have received an inestimable favor; that each succeeding year enhances our opportunities of happiness, of usefulness, of fulfillment.

And this intuitive feeling would become a reasoned conclusion if we only take the pains to discover what life really is, what it can mean, what it can bring. We should then understand that with every year of our lives we have the opportunity to live more fully, to realize more completely our own possibilities and the possibilities of life itself.

Thirty Years Ago

FROM THE RECORD FILES

A delegation of officials of the Eastern Townships Boards of Trade has returned from Ottawa where the members presented a petition to Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of the Interior, asking for assistance in an advertising campaign to develop colonization and industry in this district. They were given the customary promise of careful consideration.

Dissatisfied with the manner in which the municipal affairs of the Township of Barford are being conducted, a number of ratepayers residing on the outskirts of Coaticook are seeking annexation to the latter town.

The Coaticook Town Council has decided to take advantage of the offer of the Provincial Government to borrow money on attractive terms for the improvement of roads within the municipality.

A number of residents of the St. Armand district have run afoul of the law as the result of a recent train wreck when a number of carloads of grain were upset. Railway investigators claimed they talked too much about what happened to a considerable quantity of missing grain.

The officers elected at the annual meeting of the St. Francis Golf Club were J. S. Mitchell, William Farwell, E. C. Fraser, R. MacDonald, E. V. W. Causton, Dr. MacCallum, K. Turnbull, W. S. Fry, J. F. Morkill, H. Irwin, A. F. Fraser, E. L. Hebert, R. Turnbull, Mrs. H. M. Tomlinson, Mrs. William Spier and Mrs. H. F. MacFarlane.

The barn and contents on the farm of Angus Burrill at Kirkdale were totally destroyed by a fire caused by a lightning bolt.

The members of the Inverness Methodist Church, by a vote of fifty to thirty-one, voted against the proposed union with the Presbyterians and Congregationalists.

Class leaders in the Inverness High School examinations were Alvin R. Little, Myra Melrose, Annie Hogge, Dale Smyth, Ruth Miller and Howard Hagarty.

THE GAME OF LIFE

All play the varied Game of Life,
With chance to win or lose;
The game goes on from day to day,
To baffle or amuse.

Some play the game with confidence,
Some paralyzed with fear;
Some play with high expectancy,
Some fail when victory's near.

Some play it nervously and fast,
Some stack the cards to cheat;
Some play to pass the time away,
Some, white-faced, meet defeat.

Play on, my friend, the Game of Life,
No matter how you fare;
Play on, play hard, and play to win,
But always play it square.

THE MOST UNKINDEST CUT OF ALL

Sherbrooke Telegram

We have some knowledge of the unforfeitable and unfortunate blunder which caused the Hon. Johnny Bourque to relinquish his post as officer-commanding the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre. It was a political error of far greater magnitude than might appear on the surface; it was enough to embitter any man who had freely volunteered for active service for the second time in his career.

We know what it means to be "politically unfit" for active service but in time of emergency we must rise above personal disappointments and give evidence of true loyalty by subordinating even our legitimate hopes to the ultimate good of the nation as a whole.

To say that we are keenly disturbed by Johnny Bourque's appearance with renegades who have never fought—and never will—is putting it mildly.

We are saddened and disillusioned but we are far from being convinced that our Provincial member is expressing his true feelings. It is not the Johnny Bourque we have known so well for so many years. When a mere youngster, he volunteered for active service during the First Great War. He served with distinction and earned his spurs on the field of battle. This we must never forget.

In later years, Johnny contributed a great effort towards creating a spirit of real understanding between the Canadians irrespective of race or creed. He did a splendid job and this, too, we must not forget.

We cannot, in spite of appearances, associate him with the likes of Maxime Raymond, Liguori Lacombe and Rene Chalouit. The latter he despises; the others are indeed strange bed-fellows among whom he must feel ill at ease.

Early during the present war Johnny Bourque offered to go on Active Service. He assumed onerous duties at the insistence of the Military authorities, and did a sterling job.

He was unfortunately one of the "politically unfit" and political expediency sacrificed a man who should have been a great leader.

We do not know to what extent Johnny has compromised himself. We still value his friendship; we honor the memory of his great achievements; we believe in his unquestioned loyalty. His talents are needed and it is a catastrophe that he has been driven to sulk in his tent. Those who are responsible for his retrogression have a serious

CENTRALIZATION OF SCHOOLS OPPOSED

To the Editor of The Record:

Dear Sir: As the Board of School Commissioners of Eaton wishes to make known to all the ratepayers of the School Municipality they serve the stand of the Board on the question of Larger Units of Administration, will you kindly publish the following resolution which was passed and recorded at a regular meeting of the Board in the month of February, 1942:

Whereas: The proposed Act for the creation of Larger Units of Administration in Protestant Schools in the Province of Quebec, will presently come before the Legislative Assembly, and

Whereas: The proposed Bill is aimed at more centralization of schools, which, in our opinion, works a hardship on scholars of a tender age, and

Whereas: This Board is conveying to those pupils of a tender age the best education that the Department of Education has been able to promote, and within the neighborhood of their own homes, and

Whereas: We consider it essential that this education be given to those children of tender years, where they may return to the comfort and care of their own homes within a few minutes of being released from school, and

Whereas: The bill, in its present form, fails to offer anything to rural education that will outweigh those disadvantages mentioned, and

Whereas: We deplore the fact that the words "permissive legislation" have been removed from this Bill, and also that the Bill, if enacted, is not made general to cover the Province, and

Whereas: We further deplore the attitude of the Council of Public Instruction in seeking to pass a Bill which must, of necessity, be of a controversial nature, at this particular time, when unity between Government and ratepayers, and the conservation of finances for war purposes should be their first consideration;

Therefore be it Resolved: That we, the Board of School Commissioners of this School Municipality of Eaton, in the County of Compton, presently in session at this time and place, do, with the full understanding that we are reflecting the attitude of our ratepayers, hereby place on record our unanimous opposition to this Legislation, and that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Member for Compton, W. J. Duffy, M.L.A., and to the Provincial Secretary.

EXPERT IS NOTED FOR KEEN DEFENCE

The Eastern States Tournament, recently held in New York, produced an unusually fine crop of brilliant hands. Today's hand was played in the final event, the mixed pairs, which was won by Mrs. A. M. Sobel and Edward Hynes, Jr., of New York. Mrs. Sobel, who is my choice for the No. 1 player of 1941, here shows extraordinarily keen defence.

Sitting West, Mrs. Sobel opened the defence of diamonds, since it seemed safest to open through dummy's second suit. The trick was won by the jack. South cashed the ace of spades, then led the three of diamonds.

Mrs. Sobel stepped up with the ace and now bent her efforts to keep dummy from gaining the lead. She led the king of clubs, which South won. South led the four of hearts and Mrs. Sobel took her king. A heart exit put South in to cash his suit, on which dummy discarded some spades and diamonds saving the club eight.

With four clubs left in the South and West hands, South led the three of clubs. Mrs. Sobel won with the nine.

Instead of cashing the queen, thus giving South the last two tricks, she returned the five-spot. South had to win and then lead away from his minor tenace to lose the last two tricks.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

Role Played By Y.W.C.A. Girls In Wartime Is Outlined At Conference

"Farmers prefer girls," stated Miss Louise Gates, General Secretary, National Council of the Canadian Y.W.C.A., guest speaker on Saturday evening at a largely attended banquet given during the two-day Quebec-Ottawa Regional Conference at the MacKinnon Memorial.

Miss Gates, who has just returned from an across Canada Conference trip, stopping en route at all important centers where, in conjunction with the Federal Government, the Y.W.C.A. has established "Hostess Houses," stressed the "Roll Call of the Canadian Y.W.C.A. in Wartime."

Introduced by Mrs. George H. Carr, President of the local Board of Y.W.C.A. Directors, the guest speaker expressed her pleasure at returning to the East as "coming back where I want to be."

Citing under three headings the Y.W.C.A. war work in conjunction with the Government, the speaker listed them as follows:

The first covered the establishment of Hostess Houses wherever possible near or in military camps and training centres. Her interesting stories of her inspection of, and the work done at these hostesses, was, to say the least, illuminating, and the fact that the Hostess Houses are only established at the request of the Officer Commanding, was news to many.

Secondly, the Y.W.C.A., still by the Government's request, has established registry-rooms, this service being very much appreciated throughout the length and breadth of Canada.

Thirdly, hospitality. This scope of Y.W.C.A. work is locally well known, as many men in the King's forces can testify both in private homes and at the Howard Residence, where the local Y.W.C.A. War Services Committee has and is, doing wonderful work.

In connection with hospitality, Miss Gates, who always addressed the girls in such an understanding manner, asked them even if they were tired of dancing, to remember that it was truly a part of their special "war work."

"Girls on the land," said Miss Gates, are doing great work in the Niagara District and in the Far West. Farmers prefer girls, their nimble fingers gather fruit and berries more carefully, while their connection with the Y.W.C.A., which provides proper camps and supervision, again in conjunction with the Government, keeps up the morale.

"In the Niagara District alone there are ten camps and hundreds of girls are happily employed, and at the same time are valiantly doing their 'bit' towards helping to win the war."

That the Y.W.C.A. was co-operating in the Price Ceiling campaign, helping refugees, in the latter instance using its International relationship in giving assistance to prisoners and others in distress, was interestingly illustrated in Miss Gates' review of Y.W.C.A. activities "across Canada."

In conclusion the National Secretary especially addressed the "girls" who were about to form discussion groups, advising them to "make their own path, not to wait until it was already a well-beaten road."

"War accentuates the work for the young," said Miss Gates. "There is always something new turning up. Keep yourselves fit, mentally and physically, practise tolerance, have courage and faith, always remembering that the Y.W.C.A. is behind you, ready and willing to help whenever or wherever you may be."

Other items on the programme for the two-day Quebec-Ottawa Y.W.C.A. Regional Conference, which was attended by upwards of eighty girls from Ottawa, Montreal, Toronto, Cornwall, Quebec and elsewhere, included the formation of discussion groups on Saturday evening after Miss Gates' address.

Under the following captions and conversers a profitable and enjoyable hour soon passed. Miss Jean Attiwell, Quebec, led the group, discussing "Crafts in Your Club," Miss May Ferguson, also from the Ancient Capital, "Dresses," Miss Fern McKeague, Ottawa, "So-ed," a new co-ed approach; Miss Phyllis Haslam, Cornwall, "Discussing Discussions"; Miss Louise Colley, Notre Dame de Grace, "Health Education"; Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A., War Services and Club Programmes; Miss Donald McEwen, Montreal, "Inter-Chap, and Inter-Departments," Programme; and Miss Marion Best, Notre Dame de Grace, "Made-in-Canada."

On Sunday morning the girls attended Plymouth Church in a body following which dinner was served in the gym. The afternoon session featured a series of addresses by Miss Donald McEwen, of the Montreal Y.W.C.A., on "Present Attitudes in the Y.W.C.A." after which the girls divided into small discussion groups with their leaders.

At the business session a Sherbrooke girl, Miss Alice Hutchison, was chosen as Regional Girls' Chairman for next year and the Quebec Y.W.C.A. extended an invitation for the Conference to meet with them at that time.

A very impressive worship service led by Miss Marion Royce, Educational Secretary of the Montreal Y.W.C.A., brought the Conference to a close.

Afternoon tea was served in the gym by members of the Y.W.C.A. Board, at small tables decorated with daffodils. Mrs. G. T. Armstrong and Mrs. George Carr presiding at the tea table.

Many kind friends opened their homes to the visiting delegates, including Mrs. Leslie Arter, Mrs. F. G. Bascom, Mrs. D. J. Salls, Mrs. Frank Thompson, Mrs. Claude Turner, Mrs. A. C. Hill, Mrs. Ben Howard, Miss Haight, Miss Fales, Miss Wells, Mrs. Fred Rugg, Mrs. Andrew Sangster, Mrs. A. E. Willis, Mrs. J. F. McCaw.

Y.W.C.A. girls also entertaining delegates were Alice Hutchison, Emily Odell, Charlotte Robinson, Phyllis Smith, Irene Deslites, Lily Fountain, Dot and Kay Symes and Mavis Johnson.

A hearty vote of thanks to the Sherbrooke "Y" was extended by Rolande Drolet, of the Quebec Y.W.C.A., which will be the Hostess Association next year.

A "Look-Your-Youngest" Style

MARIAN MARTIN

Pattern 9026

"How young you look!" is the compliment that greets you in this pretty frock! Marian Martin cleverly, artfully designed Pattern 9026 to minimize extra width. The novel shaping of the side-front skirt panels slims your waist; long panels give nice lines on back. To show off the panels, the sash may begin at the sides. Do notice the soft scalloping on sleeves and neckline that is so youthful!

Pattern 9026 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to Sherbrooke Daily Record, Pattern Department, Sherbrooke, Quebec.

BEACHBURG PUDDING
(A Chateleine Institute approved recipe)

1/4 cupful of sugar
1 tablespoonful of butter
1/4 cupful of corn syrup
1 cupful of flour
1 teaspoonful of soda
1 teaspoonful of baking powder
1/2 teaspoonful of salt
1/2 cupful of milk
1/2 cupful of raisins
1/2 teaspoonful of vanilla

SAUCE
1/4 cupful of brown sugar
1/4 cupful of corn syrup
1/2 cupful of boiling water
1 tablespoonful of butter
Cream the butter, add the sugar, syrup and cream. Sift and measure the flour and sift again with the dry ingredients. Add the sifted dry ingredients alternately with the milk. Add the raisins and vanilla and pour the batter into a greased baking dish.

Combine the brown sugar, syrup, boiling water and butter and pour this sauce over the top of the batter. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) thirty to forty minutes. Five to six servings.

PRUNE WHIP
2 cups cooked prunes
1 teaspoon lemon rind
1/4 cup prune juice
4 egg whites
Method: Pit prunes, mash to a pulp. Mix with stiffly beaten whites, lemon rind and prune juice. Pour in greased baking dish. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 25 minutes.

SUTTON JUNCTION
Much sympathy is extended to Mr. W. B. Bradshaw in the death of his mother, in Montreal. Mr. Bradshaw is well known here. He was manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Sutton for several years, leaving here one year ago to take over the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Bedford.

Social and Personal

Mrs. Carroll S. Ives entertained informally at the tea hour on Friday afternoon at her home on Ontario Street, for Mrs. Ruth Becker, Mrs. Harold Morgan doing the honors.

Many friends will indeed be pleased to hear that Mr. Harry Tribble has received word of the safety of his brother, Chief Mechanician F. Tribble, of the Aircraft Carrier "Hermes," recently sunk off the Coast of Ceylon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Sutherland entertained delightfully on Saturday evening at their residence on Quebec Street, where they gave a farewell buffet supper party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Becker, who are leaving Sherbrooke shortly to take up residence in Ontario. The table was charmingly done in green and white with pussy-willows and greenery in a large crystal bowl, and lovely crystal candelabra.

In addition to the guests of honor the guests included the members of the Sherbrooke Sun Life Office Staff, namely Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robitaille, Miss Diane Delorme, Miss Vivian Powers, Miss Leonie St. Pierre, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. McRae, Mrs. E. E. Codere, Mr. J. Goulet and Mr. Edward Loomis. Later games were played and during the interim Mr. Sutherland, on behalf of the Sherbrooke Sun Life Staff, presented a beautiful Sheffield tray to Mr. and Mrs. Becker, and voiced in a touching manner their regret at their departure from Sherbrooke and the severance of the happy relations which for so many years had existed between the officers and members of the Staff.

Assisting were their united best land also extended their united best wishes for health and happiness in whatsoever place Mr. and Mrs. Becker eventually make their home. Mrs. Maurice Biron, who is visiting her parents, joined the guests during the evening.

Mrs. Jack Grime, President, and members of the Evening Branch of St. Peter's W.A. entertained delightfully on Saturday evening at the home of Miss Lyndall Jackson, Secretary, in honor of Miss Hope Selveright, who recently resigned, after acting most efficiently for several years as Secretary of the Branch.

Assisting were Miss Grace Jackson, Miss Marion Tomlinson, Miss Lyndall Jackson and Miss Gretchen Parrook. During the interim Miss Lyndall Jackson, on behalf of the Branch, presented the guest-officer with a beautiful inlaid walnut desk set, with a handsome fountain pen and pencil set to complete the lovely gift. Miss Jackson voiced in a touching manner the regret of the members at Miss Hope Selveright's departure, paying high tribute to her devoted and outstanding work in the Evening Branch, both as its most efficient Secretary and for her beautiful handicraft, while as a popular and much-loved member she will be sadly missed.

In thanking the members for their handsome gift and for the loving thought which prompted the donors to thus honor her, Miss Selveright expressed her regret at leaving Sherbrooke and the happy memories she will have of the association with the Evening Branch, and that every Monday evening her thoughts and best wishes would be with the members.

Seated at the head table with the Chairman, Miss Milne and Mrs. George Carr, President, were the guest speaker, Miss Gates, Miss Vance, Miss Mary Jane Le Sautere, Miss Halsey, and the popular General Secretary of the Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A., and Mrs. Arthur Fraser. On behalf of the local Association, Mrs. Carr, President, extended a cordial welcome to the guests from out of town and later gracefully introduced the guest speaker, Miss Louise Gates, who addressed on "A Roll Call in War Time," was the outstanding feature of the conference. Following this the girls dispersed to form discussion groups.

Supper, preceded by the Grace, "Father we thank Thee for Thy Care," sung while the guests were standing, was served at half-past six o'clock, in the Main Club Room upstairs. Here four long tables formed a huge square and were attractively decorated in the "Y" colors with golden daffodils in crystal vases and lighted blue candles in crystal holders, arranged alternately down the center of each.

Everything on the well-planned menu was delicious, and the service, by members of the "Home Guard," was well nigh perfect, so assiduously did the girls anticipate the needs of their many guests, while the inter-spersion of sprightly songs, under the leadership of Mrs. J. E. Keane, of Ottawa, between courses, proved an excellent introductory ice-breaker.

Miss Betty Steele spent the weekend in Sherbrooke as a guest of her mother, Mrs. D. J. Steele, Quebec Street.

Miss Evelyn Desaulniers, of Richmond, was in Sherbrooke on the weekend as a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Flaherty, Magog Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. McKee, of Dixville, wish to announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Dora Eliza, to Edward Waymouth Reid, R.C.A.F., of Montreal. The marriage is to take place shortly.

The engagement is announced of Veronica Mary, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Tuite, to C.S.M. Edward J. Wolfe, 27th Canadian Armored Regiment (S.F.R.), son of the late Mr. Michael J. Wolfe and of Mrs. Wolfe. The marriage is to take place in the near future.

Miss Julia Matouskova, Chairman of the National Y.W.C.A., Educational Department, arrived in Sherbrooke this morning and will address the Girls' Supper Club this evening and also speak before the local Board members of the Y.W.C.A. tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Saunders will receive congratulations and best wishes from many friends and relatives tomorrow, April 21st, on the occasion of the fifth anniversary of their wedding day. Due to Mr. Saunders' ill health there will be no celebration to mark their golden wedding day, but Mr. and Mrs. Saunders will be "at home" to a few intimate friends at their home on the Belvidere Road.

Graced by the presence of Miss Louise Gates, of Toronto, Canadian National Secretary of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. George H. Carr, President of the local Board of Directors, and Miss Winnifred Milne, Montreal Regional Chairman, who presided, the largely attended banquet at the MacKinnon Memorial on Saturday evening, most happily inaugurated the Quebec-Ottawa Regional Y.W.C.A. Conference, in session here for two days.

Miss Betty Steele spent a week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall.

Mrs. G. A. Chamberlin, Regent of the Udothous Lord Aylmer Chapter, I.O.D.E., attended the eighteenth annual meeting of the Quebec Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., which was held at the Mount Royal Hotel. Other officers who attended were Mrs. C. R. Boast, Mrs. A. E. Fee and Mrs. C. E. Manning.

Miss Mary Jane Le Sautere, who was a guest of her aunt, Miss Florence Davis, has returned to St. Helen's School, Dunham, to resume her studies.

Mrs. Harry Finigan, of Asbestos, Mrs. Ken Moulton and daughter, Betty Ann, of Quebec City, and Sgt. Clifford McGee, Mrs. McGee and son, Bill, of Toronto, were guests of Mrs. Douglas Fletcher, Sgt. McGee has just returned from England, where he spent the past two and one-half years, and has been sent back as an instructor.

Mrs. Marjory Alexander entertained at a party for her young son, Gordon, the occasion being his seventh birthday. Games were played after which supper was served. Master Gordon received many gifts from his little friends.

Mrs. Sarah Cairns has returned to her home at East Kingston, after spending the past month at the Harkness home.

Miss Esther Farwell, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Gordon Butler, of Lennoxville, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Farwell.

Mrs. S. N. Cairns and daughter, Roberta, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Locke, at Lennoxville, where Mrs. Cairns met her brother, L.-Cpl. George Fuller, who has been taking a course at Camp Borden, and is returning to Nova Scotia.

Several flocks of wild geese were seen passing Northward during the past week.

Miss June Reed spent the week-end at her home in Waterville.

UNITED CHURCH GROUP MEETS AT RICHMOND

Thank-Offering Meeting Held by Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Richmond and Melbourne Church.

Richmond, April 20.—The Thank-offering meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of the Richmond and Melbourne United Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. Norris, under the leadership of Mrs. M. Armitage, the President, with sixteen members present.

The programme for Auxiliaries was followed under the theme, "The Call of the Risen Christ to Youth; the Church is Christ, living throughout the centuries." The hymn, "We Church's One Foundation," was sung. Several items were read by the President and responded to by passages of Scripture by different members. Silent prayer was held for the youth of the Church and community; for the youth of Canada; for the youth in the armed forces; and for the youth of the world, especially for those who are members of the younger churches of Asia and Africa, concluding with the prayer offered by Mrs. Beers, which closed the devotional period.

The Secretary's report of the last meeting was read and approved, as was that of the Treasurer. The Associate Helpers, under Mrs. A. MacRae, reported twenty-one calls made. For the Baby Band, Mrs. S. G. Woolfrey reported nineteen members as subscribers to "World Friends," and forty names on the roll.

Referring to the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery to be held in Richmond on May 20 and 21, as Convener of the Bilingual Committee, Mrs. F. L. Tanner's report was satisfactory. Mrs. A. Norris, Temperance Secretary, read an interesting article, An item on Hong Kong prisoners of war, read by the Press Secretary, was followed in the reading by the President of an article on Great Britain's "Big Ben's Silent Minute," instituted on request by the BBC. The influence of this "Silent Minute" prayer extends to prisoners of war who unite in spirit with their friends at home.

"Do we need Revival?" was the heading of an article read by Mrs. A. MacRae. The prayer partners, Miss Drummond, Neimuch, India, (Central), and Miss Grace A. Sykes, of Chungking, West China, were referred to by Mrs. Tanner. Miss Sykes spoke of a most pleasant and speedy trip from Hong Kong in a letter under date of November last.

Mrs. G. T. Pope read an interesting article on the work of Miss Drummond. The meeting was closed by the Mizpah Benediction.

The Quality Tea "SALADA" TEA

Sherbrooke Library Book Review

"Mr. Churchill" By Philip Guedalla (Mussion). It was perhaps inevitable that the foremost British biographer should turn his attention to the life of the foremost contemporary Briton. However that may be, Mr. Guedalla's portrait of Mr. Churchill is a most welcome. The main events of Churchill's colorful career are familiar to most people, thanks to the assiduous efforts of the press since his rise to fame and power, but his latest biographer has given the familiar story a typically delightful touch. There is not much new material in "Mr. Churchill" but the story is re-told with all the charm and lucidity which has made Mr. Guedalla the most popular biographer of the day.

Manifestly the production of "Mr. Churchill" was a rush job, but that has not prevented the author from writing a fascinating and moving account of the public and political career of one of the, if not the greatest, certainly one of the most interesting statesmen England has produced. For Mr. Guedalla is no hero-worshiper, and his treatment of his subject is not marred by awe or stupefaction. On the contrary his able and witty pen has produced the portrait of a man, and not a sticky cardboard figure. Thanks to this, "Mr. Churchill" reads as easily as a novel and should hold no terrors to those readers who seem constitutionally unable to digest biography.

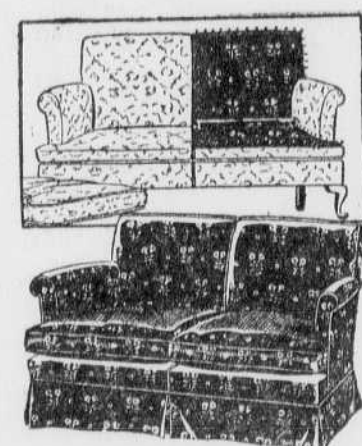

If Mr. Guedalla does not hold his subject up as a tin god, neither does he spare the "mediocrities" who kept Churchill from office in the Lloyd George Coalition Government after the last war, and he has some hard things to say of erstwhile popular heroes including Ramsay MacDonald, Earl Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain. Mr. Churchill was too active, too talented and too unconventional to suit the solid, substantial qualities of the "mediocrities."

This is by no means a definitive biography of a great contemporary—a man who is a soldier, administrator, man of letters and sportsman besides a statesman. But it is an entertaining and enjoyable portrait of a very great man executed with style, humor, balance and good taste. Should be included in your "must read" list, no matter what your literary tastes are.

—W. H. BRADLEY.

Sofa Revived by a New Slip Cover

Made By Quick Pin-on Method

A glossily dark, brightly printed new slip cover does wonders for your old sofa's morale! It picks up the spirits of beholders and sitters, too!

You can make it easily the pin-on way. You just pin pieces of fabric directly to the sofa, snip off the excess material and sew piece to piece.

To start, remove cushions and pin fabric to top-back with big pins. Pin it down over the inside-back and seat of one section, allowing 4 inches for tuck-in between. Then trim around all the pins, leaving 1 1/2 inches for seams.

Now, working in the very same way, pin and trim other pieces of fabric to fit other back-and-seat sections—and do likewise for front arms, sides, back and cushions. Pin piece to piece, remove to waste, then try on.

Finish with a deep, gathered flounce—or a smart stiff one with corner kick-pleats.

32-page booklet diagrams each step in making and trimming slip covers for chairs, sofas, auto seats. Has directions for barrel and channel-back chairs; includes frilly and tailored cover styles. Suggests colors, fabrics.

Send 15c in coin for your copy of "How To Make Slip Covers" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

WORLD-WIDE POLICY AGAINST ALL RISKS

Rehearsal was over one day, and the three boys and Patsy were talking things over in the office when all of a sudden the door opened and there was Pete Detroit. They stood frozen as he motioned to a mug that was with him. "Look that dog in the eye, Murray." Then he faced the boys.

"We will, if you will," Steve replied. Then, as Pete nodded he motioned to Eightball to stall the cops. Off, pressed a panel button, and shoed everyone into a secret hiding place which he and the boys had discovered just the other day. Now, as they heard Eightball arguing hotly with the cops, they went to town with Pete.

"Don't you see?" Patsy pleaded when her turn came. "This show will not only clear my Dad and put his

"In the greatest of all emergencies, I ask you, are you not prepared to trust the Government and your own Parliament to see that only those things are done which are wholly in the interest of the country. If there are any who are not, who or what are they prepared to trust?"

The above is a quotation from a recent broadcast by Premier Mackenzie King.

"You will be voting to give or refuse to Mr. King and his Ministers in the tragic hours through which we are passing, an authority, a liberty similar to that which already other chiefs of states possess for methodical organization, logical and free, in our common war effort."

The above is a quotation from a recent broadcast by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Transport and Public Works.

"In this, the greatest crisis in our history, it is only by unselfish devotion to duty, by all sharing the common burden, by all joining in the common task, that we can overcome the common enemy. When this has been done, when you have done your job, then we shall go forward as a race, and as a nation, with prayers on our lips, hope in our hearts, and strength in our arms, to meet and overthrow the enemies who would destroy us all."

The above is a quotation from a recent speech by the Hon. E. G. Power, Minister of Defence for Air.

100 ACRE FARM, 15 MILES FROM SHERBROOKE on gravel road, wood and lumber, running water in buildings. Apply Box 85, Record.

WARNING! IF INTERESTED IN PURCHASING the farm of the late C. H. Massiah at Stanstead, Que., complete, on block with livestock, implements and full equipment, 413 acres, make your offer before April 24th as on that date arrangements will be completed for auction sale in May, Executor Massiah Estate, Baron & Cushing, Royal Bank Building, Montreal.

The funeral service, preceded by prayers at his residence, took place at Holy Trinity Church on Easter Monday afternoon, April 6, Rev. E. F. Macklin officiated and spoke very feelingly though briefly of the many acts of good fellowship which Clinton Sweet had freely bestowed upon local citizens.

The choir led the singing of three hymns and the Nunc Dimittis, with Mrs. Rhea Moffatt presiding at the organ.

The bearers were four nephews of the deceased, Messrs. Herman, Wilfred, Lynford and Jackson Hadlock, of Iron Hill.

The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful and interment was made in the Union Cemetery here.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the widow, mother and only sister.

Among those in attendance from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Beard, Ashland, N.H.; Mrs. Harry Sawyer, of Montreal; Mrs. L. E. Fessenden, of Fulford; Miss Lora Robinson, of Sweetburg; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dennis, of St. Albans, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Rockus, of Fulford; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clough, of Cornwall; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Paquette, of St. Albans, Vt.; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Miltimore and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miltimore, of Sutton; Mr. Henry Clough and grandson Henry Clough, Jr., of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Kristian Lukassen, West Brome; Mr. Luc Marchessault, Mr. A. Stone, Mr. J. A. Mallette, all of West Shefford; Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCutcheon, Mayor Errol and Mrs. Marsh, of the Centre Road, Mr. and Mrs. John Worden, of Brome Centre.

RED CROSS WAR WORK NOTED AT COWANSVILLE

Mrs. Charles Robinson Gives
Paper on Activities of Society Since Start of Hostilities.

Cowansville, April 20.—Owing to inclement weather the monthly meeting of the Red Cross was not so largely attended as usual. A very interesting paper on the work of the Red Cross since the beginning of hostilities was given by Mrs. Charles Robinson, and a sketch of the life of Florence Nightingale was presented by Mrs. H. Winsor, and Mrs. N. Ingalls read an article on "Preparation for Emergencies."

Mrs. Robinson said in part: "Through more than three-quarters of a century of increasing effort on behalf of distressed humanity, of binding up their wounds, lessening their pain and suffering, restoring their health, the Red Cross has become the universal symbol of mercy, succor and help to all peoples in all lands."

"The Canadian Red Cross is proud to be the representative of one of over sixty nations subscribing to the worldwide confederacy of Red Cross Societies, and to have had a share in the building up of its great humanitarian traditions."

"Up to December, 1941, the Canadian Red Cross had shipped to England 8,729,000 articles for comfort and supplies for the forces and military hospitals, 5,000,000 surgical dressings, 3,115,000 articles of relief clothing, 11,000 cases of canned goods, 232 ambulances, nine station wagons, three trucks, one car, as well as hundreds of thousands of food parcels for British prisoners of war in enemy countries."

"The first appeal for $3,000,000 and the second for $5,000,000 were both over-subscribed. The third appeal for funds will take place in the month of May, and very close co-operation is hoped for."

"The Society" has about 2,600 branches in the Dominion, and working with these branches are about 10,000 units, with about 750,000 workers."

"Great care is taken in packing goods for shipment and a very small percentage has been destroyed by enemy action, and in one year about two hundred steamers were used to carry Red Cross supplies."

"In January, 1940, the Blood Donor Service was inaugurated and this has been of great value. As many as 4,000 parcels for war prisoners have been packed in one day, by a group of volunteer workers in Montreal."

"The Canadian Red Cross Hospital, known as No. 5 Canadian General Hospital, was built, equipped, and turned over to the Government of Canada by the Canadian Red Cross in July, 1940, at a cost of $755,000."

"Plans already have been made whereby this hospital will continue to function after the war, and remain a lasting memorial to Canadian generosity."

"These were only a few of the great services rendered by the Red Cross, which were mentioned by Mrs. Robinson."

Mrs. Drennan, Convener of the Work Committee, gave the following report for the past month: Received from Red Cross House 18 pounds of wool for sea-boat stockings; hospital supply cotton for bandages, 94 yards; dressing gowns, one dozen bedjackets, two dozen; pyjamas, four dozen; wool for body belts, 24 pounds; kilt, 100; wool, 108 pounds.

Returned to headquarters, 33 kits with knitted articles to correspond; donations: 4 ditty bags, 3 pairs of socks, 1 scarf, 13 quilts, 1 blanket, 217 comforts. Conservation Department: 5 quilts, 47 nighties, 4 jackets, 31 handkerchiefs and 12 extra articles, and a number of articles for the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Drennan asked that knitted articles be returned as promptly as possible, and volunteers for the delivery of and the collecting of supplies were asked for.

Mrs. Nasen Ingalls read an article from "The Despatch" which described the preparations which have been made for emergencies which would arise should war come to our shores.

Mrs. Winsor gave an interesting sketch of the life and work of Florence Nightingale, an English philanthropist, born at Florence, Italy, in 1820, who became the most famous nurse in the world.

Her childhood was spent chiefly in Derbyshire, where she was privately educated. She very early showed her characteristic delight in helping the unfortunate, the dearest pleasure of her childhood was that of nursing sick animals and bandaging broken dolls, and she would travel many miles to help an infirm or ailing person. Her social position was such that she could have spent her time in the highest society of England, but she disliked such activities.

She at length refused to consider marriage or any work other than nursing and in order to be prepared went to hospital schools in Germany and Paris.

In 1854 tales of the suffering of British soldiers in the Crimean War began to reach England and enough of the truth reached Miss Nightingale to convince her that she was needed among those sufferers. She wrote the British War Secretary offering her services and on October 24, 1854, left London with thirty-eight nurses and a shipload of supplies.

She reached Miss Nightingale in time to be of service to the great number of wounded from the battle of Balaklava. Probably such confusion and suffering had never before been seen in a hospital. Most of the surgeons were dead or dying; there were no medicines or supplies for the wounded.

Her executive ability, resources and enthusiasm were so great she ultimately restored order and reduced the death rate from forty per cent to two per cent.

She was given entire charge of the hospital service for the British troops in the field and worked so unceasingly that in the summer of 1856 she was prostrated and never regained her health.

On her return to England the grateful English raised a fund of $150,000 for her, but in spite of her real need of money she used it to found the Nightingale House at St. Thomas Hospital in London. Though confined to her room she continued to supervise hospital undertakings in Great Britain and was consulted officially during the War of Secession in the U.S.A., the Franco-German and the Spanish-American War.

She wrote numerous books on the subject she had so thoroughly mastered. Miss Nightingale died in 1910 at the age of ninety and is buried at Wellow in Hampshire, England.

TRIBUTE PAID TO LIBRARIAN AT SCOTSTOWN

Mrs. G. C. Beard Presented
Silver Teapot in Recognition of Efficient Services—
Library Now Has 500
Volumes.

Scotstown, April 20.—A meeting of the Scotstown Public Library was held at the home of the Librarian, Mrs. G. C. Beard, and was directed by the Chairman, Rev. C. J. Gustafson.

As Mrs. Beard is taking up residence in Sherbrooke for a time, it was arranged that the Library be transferred to a room in the High School. The day and hours for exchange of books to remain as formerly, viz., Saturday, from 2-4 and 7-8 p.m. Miss Winnifred MacLaughlin kindly consented to continue to act as assistant librarian.

The Library report showed that 500 volumes were owned by the Library, the total circulation for the past year being 1,351, which included 1,085 fiction, and 266 non-fiction. Part of these were obtained through the Book Pool and others from the McGill Travelling Library. It was agreed that several of the earlier books be donated to those in the armed forces, to be distributed through headquarters in Montreal.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. E. S. McManis, assisted by Miss Winnifred MacLaughlin and Miss Betty Beard.

A pleasing interlude, was the presentation of a beautiful silver teapot, with inscribed monogram, to Mrs. Beard, as a tangible expression of appreciation of her work as Librarian, which was cheerfully and efficiently performed during a period of several years. Mrs. Beard graciously acknowledged the gift, which was presented by Mr. Gustafson, on behalf of the members of the Library.

ST. PAUL'S W.M.S.
The April meeting of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Malcolm Morrison, with a fair attendance of members, and one visitor. The President, Mrs. D. A. MacIver, opened the meeting and Mrs. A. P. MacLeod was in charge of the study period.

Mrs. MacLeod read a thought-provoking paper, entitled, "What Think Ye of Christ?" This question was a test and sifter of religion, and the answer given showed whether a person was a true Christian or not.

Destiny is decided by this momentous, eternal and eternal question, which goes to the root of man's faith, and shows Jesus as supreme revealer of God.

The Convener of Welcome and Welfare Committee reported calls on the sick, and it was decided to remember three sick friends, two of whom are in hospital. Following adjournment, the hostess served tea, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Bennett.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PROGRAMME
The following programme was given in St. Paul's Sunday School, on Easter Sunday: Hymn, "Once For All," by the Sunday School; recitation, "Christ the Lord Is Risen," by Alvin MacAulay; recitation, "Recitation, 'Jesus Is Risen,'" by Audrey MacLennan; hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory"; School Prayer, Rev. J. W. Smith; recitation, "On Yonder Hill," by Ann Goodin; reading, "There Is No Death," by Dorna Boy; recitation, "Gladius, He Is Risen," Remedie Coates; hymn, "Who Is He?"; School.

Instead of the regular lesson period, the classes with the exception of the primary, were addressed by the Pastor, Rev. J. W. Smith.

W.C.T.U. MEETING
The April meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was entertained by Mrs. George Kinsey at her home on Coleman Street. The meeting was opened with the hymn, "O Way of Rest and Gladness," in keeping with the topic, "Sabbath Observance."

The President, Mrs. R. A. Scott, conducted the devotional period, and the Scripture lesson was based on the Fourth Commandment, as found in Exodus XX, followed by a reading on the Sabbath from the "Upper Room," concluding with prayer to keep the Sabbath a holy day, after which a prayer was given by Mrs. J. D. Cox, for those in the armed forces who are tempted by strong drink.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held in the Church Hall and would take the form of a quilting for the refugee work.

Superintendents were requested to submit reports of work accomplished during the year, at the annual meeting. Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Kinsey were appointed a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers, and Mrs. A. G. Sherman and Mrs. J. W. Taylor were named as auditors.

In the absence of the Superintendent of Sabbath Observance, Mrs. K. M. Smith, the study was directed by the President, and the following items were read, "Wake Up America," by Mrs. A. G. Sherman; "Tragedy Comes to Fairweather," Mrs. Scott; and "Canada Needs the Sabbath," Mrs. William Taylor. The Mizpah Benediction brought the meeting to a close, and tea was served by the hostess.

ST. ALBAN'S WOMEN'S AUXILIARY
The monthly meeting of St. Alban's Women's Auxiliary was held in the Church Hall, Rev. D. Berry conducted the devotional period held in the Church. The hymn, "Ye Choirs of New Jerusalem," was sung, with Mrs. H. A. Scarth at the organ. The Litany was said, also special prayers for those in the armed forces, those suffering because of war, especially remembering those in Hong Kong at the time of its surrender, and those who have enlisted from St. Alban's. The business session was directed by the Vice-President, Mrs. Scott Parsons, following which the members worked on articles for the fall sale. A food sale was held for the members of the congregation, which netted a goodly sum, and tea was served by members of the Auxiliary.

NATIONAL FILM BOARD
MOVIES
Sponsored by the National Film Board, and under the auspices of the Adult Study Group, a series of moving pictures were shown in the Town Hall, and the showing was well attended by local citizens. The meeting opened with "O Canada," in both English and French, as well as other community singing, directed by Mrs. H. A. Scarth, with Mrs. J. B. Scott, as accompanist.

The Chairman, Mrs. E. A. Wilson, explained the object of the community gatherings, and stated that it was the duty of every citizen to give serious thought as to world conditions after the war, and the necessity of being prepared for the change. One way of preparation is by the forming of study groups, and the speaker extended a cordial invitation to all to become members of the local study group. The pictures shown depicted certain aspects of the war, as well as life in Canada, and included "The Atlantic Patrol," "The Navy," "Northwest Frontier," "The Backwash Highway," "H.M. Minelayer," and a Charlie Chaplin film.

Following the singing of the National Anthem, a period of dancing was enjoyed.

ST. ANDREW'S W.M.S. SOCIAL
Under the auspices of the Stewardship and Finance Committee of St. Andrew's Woman's Missionary Society, a social evening was held in the Church Hall. Various amusements were provided. The prize in the Ice Contest was won by Mrs. R. A. Scott, and the prize in the Snow-hall Race was awarded to Madeline Henderson's team.

The Misses Lois Mackenzie and Gertrude Simpson convened a display of paper hats, which were purchased and worn during the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. J. D. Cox was in charge of the display.

LEAFS BRING STANLEY CUP BACK TO CANADA

Toronto Gains 3-1 Win In Final Clash Before Record Canadian Crowd

Leafs Come Back for Three Goals in Final Period to Capture Stanley Cup for First Time Since 1932—Dave Schirner Sparks Toronto Team, Scoring Twice—Crowd of 16,218 Fills Maple Leaf Gardens to Overflowing.

Toronto, April 20.—(C)—A little man who once did a great job managing the Maple Leafs and now does a greater job in Canada's Active Army wasn't taking any bows today, but the players he once led to battle will tell you he had a lot to do in bringing Toronto its first Stanley Cup in ten years.

The Leafs were trailing Detroit Red Wings here Saturday night when Major Conny Smythe stalked into their dressing room and there quietly. What he said is still a secret, but the Leafs came out fighting mad to score three goals and win hockey's world title in the decisive game in the best-of-seven series, 3-1. The largest crowd ever to witness a hockey game in Canada—16,218 fans—saw the Wings take the lead early in the second period and hang on desperately until the eighth minute of the closing period.

Dave Schirner, who spent five seasons with the struggling New York Americans before he joined the Leafs in 1939, was elated at finally being on a Stanley Cup club. He had reason for rejoicing for the big left winger sparked the Leafs all night, and fired two of their three goals.

Syd Howe scored on a backhand on a perfect passing play with Syd Abel and Orlando to put the Wings in front. The Wings seemed to have the Leafs stopped when Schirner drifted a slow shot across the Detroit goal line just as Orlando completed a penalty.

The payoff goal by Pete Langelle two minutes later was somewhat of a freak. Goalie Johnny Mowers moved out of his net to check Johnny McCredy and the puck sailed high into the air. The puck came down to rest on Langelle's stick and all he had to do was push it home.

Jack Stewart, Detroit defenseman, went into the net as Mowers moved out, but he was unable to reach the high puck because his stick was attached to his wrist by a rubber band. Stewart was playing with an injured wrist and he didn't have enough strength to lift both his stick and his arm to bat at the puck.

The Leafs had nothing but praise for the game stand of the Wings who won the opening three games only to drop four in a row. The Detroit dressing room Coach Ebbie Goodfellow said: "They had a little better club but it could have gone the other way with a few breaks."

GENERALS HIT BACK TO STAY IN CUP FIGHT

Oshawa Youngsters Outskate Portage La Prairie to Record 8-4 Victory in Third Memorial Cup Game.

Winnipeg, April 20.—(C)—Coach Charlie Conacher, pleased with the 8-4 trimming his Oshawa Youngsters handed the speedy Portage La Prairie Terriers in the third Memorial Cup game Saturday will send his players through a 30-minute workout today so that they "can bear down twice as hard" in the fourth encounter Tuesday. Terriers lead the best-of-five series 2-1.

"We're not going to be satisfied till we get the Cup," he said. And the possibility the series would go the five-game limit was heard in many Winnipeg circles when the first game ended Saturday as the Youngsters outskated Terriers in 32 games this season. The Coach of the Eastern champions, meanwhile, claims his team had "just played its natural game."

Losers in the first two games by 6-1 and 8-7 counts, the Generals came up with a sound performance. The Terriers fought the Generals on even terms for only twenty minutes and from there on the Oshawa forwards were breaking up plays before they got started or tying up the puck-carrier at the Oshawa blue-line.

Capt. Bill Mortimer broke away twice to score two of the prettiest goals of the game. Then he snared Ken McNaught's passout in the final minutes of play and backhanded a high screened shot into the Terriers' net.

Floyd Curry pushed home two Oshawa counters while "Bep" Guidolin, Ron Wilson and Smith got the others.

Joe Bell, returning to Terriers' lineup after receiving treatment for a bladder infection, shot the disc by Goaler "Rube" Waddell twice and helped Bob Love on another goal while the other Portage goal went to Wally Stefani.

When an announcer was broadcasting the Dodgers' first home games of the season he put in an appeal from the Red Cross for blood donors. Before the game was over there were 157 telephoned offers from Brooklyn fans. Suppose they figured they might as well shed blood for the Red Cross since they've done it so often for them Bums.

Before Hatten threw a single pitch he was out in front by seven runs and the Canadians went on from there to win 12-0 behind a six-hit curve ball magic. George Washburn, the Bear starter, walked five players and got another on base by an error before Charlie Gelbert swatted a homer with all traffic stations jammed in the first.

Some of the best pitching was on display at Baltimore where the home club took both sections of the bargain bill from Buffalo 4-2 and 6-1.

The first game was decided in the ninth inning by Bob Lemon's home run with a man on the plate. Bob Boken's two errors at second allowed five unearned Oriole runs to count in the second affair.

In Saturday's games, Rochester scored three runs in the ninth inning to defeat Baltimore 8-6. Montreal scored a 5-3 victory over Jersey City and Newark walked Buffalo 10-3. Toronto at Syracuse was postponed on account of weather.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Ned Harris and Charley Fuchs, Tigers, and Chet Laabs, Browns, batted with a man on the plate. Laab hit two-run homer to beat Tigers 2-1 in first game and Harris hit ninth-inning homer to give Fuchs victory in second game on four-hit, 1-0 shutout.

Dixie Walker and Curt Davis, Dodgers—Walker drove in four runs on three hits, one a two-run homer, and Davis pitched five-hit ball in triumph over Phils.

Boston Red Sox And Braves Leading In Major Circuits

Sox Take Over Sole Possession of American League Lead by Stopping Yankees 5-2—Braves Bow 5-2 to Giants But Hold One-Third Interest in National League Peak—Reds and Cubs Battle Fourteen Innings, Cincinnati Taking 2-1 Decision.

Patriots' Day in Boston took on added significance today, with the Red Sox and the Braves setting a pace in the major league baseball races that would have made Paul Revere's dash look like a trot.

As the Red Sox returned home from a successful invasion of Yankee Stadium to open against Washington in a Patriots' Day double header, they were in supreme command of the American League and the Braves owned a third interest in the National League lead.

The Red Sox took over sole possession of the first place Sunday by stopping New York Yankees 5-2, their second victory over the world champions in two days. St. Louis Browns, who had been deadlocked with the Red Sox and Yankees, slipped into second place ahead of the New Yorkers as they divided a double-header with Detroit.

The Braves and Pirates formed a cozy little twosome at the top of the National league until yesterday, allowing Brooklyn Dodgers to muscle in on their party by brushing aside Philadelphia Phils.

From the spectators' standpoint, the first Sunday of the 1942 season was a shining success, although the action was confined to seven fronts when the opening game between the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox.

At Yankee Stadium Heber (Dick) Newsome, of the Red Sox, chalked up his second pitching victory of the season. Marv Breuer, of the Yankees, gave up only five hits, but he had a shaky ninth inning when the Red Sox turned three safeties and a pair of walks into four runs.

At St. Louis, the fans were treated to a brace of pitching duels, but both games were won on home runs. Chet Laabs smashed over a two-run homer in the opener to give the Browns a 2-1 decision over the Tigers, although the winners managed only four hits off Al Benton, the one less than Elden Auker yielded.

MONTREAL WINS THREE MATCHES OVER WEEK-END

Royals Spill Newark Bears 8-7 and 13-0 After Busting Jersey City 5-3—Jersey City and Rochester Share Lead.

It is customary in the spring to explain the local slugs that pass for games in organized baseball with the phrase "the hitting was far ahead of the pitching." But that wasn't the case in the International League Sunday.

The hurlers had the swatsmiths breaking their backs in virtually every contest and pitching duels were common.

Syracuse and Rochester swapped well-pitched victories, the Chiefs taking the first 5-0 behind Tom DeLaur's mound mastery and the Red Wings annexing the nightcap 9-2 with Ira Hutchinson giving up only three hits.

Jersey City had a pair of mounds-men in top condition and took two games from Toronto to set up a deadlock with Rochester for first place in the standings.

The Little Giants grabbed the first battle 6-2, with Warren Picken limiting the Leafs to four hits and came back to take the second 1-0 with Rube Fischer getting the decision over the veteran Bill Brandt.

Newark's first tussle with Montreal was an old-fashioned slugfest, but the Royals fashioning a run in the tenth inning to win 8-7 but the second encounter was all Joe Hatten.

Before Hatten threw a single pitch he was out in front by seven runs and the Canadians went on from there to win 12-0 behind a six-hit curve ball magic.

George Washburn, the Bear starter, walked five players and got another on base by an error before Charlie Gelbert swatted a homer with all traffic stations jammed in the first.

Dixie Walker and Curt Davis, Dodgers—Walker drove in four runs on three hits, one a two-run homer, and Davis pitched five-hit ball in triumph over Phils.

John Beasley, Cardinals—Pitched

in gaining the verdict.
Rookie Charley Fuchs also tossed a four-hitter at the Browns in the nightcap, but Ned Harris came through with a ninth-inning homer that produced a 1-0 victory for Detroit spoiling a six-hit pitching job by Buck Newberg.

John Newsome pitched Washington Senators to a 5-4 triumph over the Athletics in the second game of a twin bill at Philadelphia after the A's had grabbed the opener, 5-1, behind the six-hit elbowing of Phil Marchildon.

The prize game of the National League was a 14-inning affair between Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs at Chicago. Claude Passeau won all the way for the Cubs and gave up seven hits, but the Reds won the game 2-1 after committing eight errors and going hitless for the first seven frames. The winning marker came on three hits and a fly.

At Brooklyn, the Dodgers captured the rubber game of their series with the Phils, 6-2. Dixie Walker drove in four runs and Curt Davis racked up his second pitching victory with a five-hit job.

John Beasley's four-hitter gave St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 decision over the Pirates, although he had to have help from Harry Gumbert in the ninth when the Bucs scored both their runs.

At Boston, the Braves suffered their second straight setback at the hands of New York Giants who cashed in on a five-hitter by Cliff Melton for a 5-2 triumph.

New York scored an 8-5 victory over the Braves Saturday. In other games, Pirates shut out Cardinals 2-0 and the Phils squeezed out a 2-1 decision over the Dodgers. Cincinnati at Chicago was postponed. In the American League, Cleveland gained a 1-0 triumph over the White Sox. Browns gained a 4-0 victory over Detroit, Washington took back Athletics 10-6 and the Yankees lost 3-1 to Boston.

C.A.H.A. MOVES TO SAVE LARGE SUMS OF MONEY

Stringent War-time Economies to Save Some $8,000 Annually—$17,241 Received from N.H.L. for Amateur Players Signed.

Toronto, April 20.—(C)—Delegates to the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's annual meeting, striving to conclude their sessions which started Friday, swung right back into the consideration of branch reports today. There was no let-up in the deliberations over the week-end.

The Finance Committee, under the chairmanship of President George Gaudin, reported that the association had received a total of $17,241 from the N.H.L. for amateur players signed in 1941-42.

The Finance Committee's report, submitted by Mr. Dudley, called for stringent war-time economies that would effect saving of some $8,000 annually.

Chief among the proposed economies is a reduction in players' travelling allowances; elimination of the $500 grant to the International Hockey Association; lessening of printing costs and placing of a maximum upon the extent of financial assistance to injured players.

A senior club of 15 players now will be allowed $90 a day while travelling and $120 while registered at hotels. Junior clubs will get $80 a day while travelling and $100 while at a hotel. The old rate was $100 a day while travelling; $130 while at hotels for clubs of both series.

A saving of $2,000 annually is expected to accrue from the change.

Not in the book:
When an interviewer was questioning Mrs. Lilly Barrow, Joe Louis' mother, about Joe's boyhood days, he asked: "Did you ever have occasion to whip Joe when he was a boy?" Mrs. Barrow: "Yes, I'm afraid I hold a couple of decisions over Joe."

four-hitter to beat Pirates 3-2 although he had to be rescued in ninth. Heber Newsome, Red Sox—Pitched his team into league lead by beating Yankees for his second victory in two starts.

Cliff Melton, Giants—First Giant pitcher to go nine innings. He limited Braves to five hits in 5-2 victory. Claude Passeau, Cubs—Pitched 14-inning, seven hitless, only to lose to Cincinnati, 2-1.

Phil Marchildon, Athletics—Pitched six-hit ball to win first game of doubleheader with Washington.

SPORTS CLUB'S FIRST ANNUAL DINNER SUCCESS

Mayor A. C. Ross Reveals Excellent Winter Experience by Arena—Gerard Plamondon Honored.

Speaking yesterday at the first annual banquet of the newly-organized Sherbrooke Sports Club, held at the Vacation Colony Pavilion, Mayor A. C. Ross stated that this season had seen the best attendance figures at the Arena in many years, with 45,000 people attending the various sports attractions during the winter and contributing $2,000 to the City in the form of amusement tax.

Mayor Ross congratulated the Sports Club on its initiative, and expressed the hope that this city's athletic teams would continue to make a fine showing in the seasons to come. The banquet was also addressed by Alderman J. A. Savard, Roland Dugre, representing Col. J. S. Bourque, M.L.A., Roger Cormier, Manager of the Indians, Eastern Townships Senior Hockey League champions, J. A. Rouleau, President of the Social Club, Eugene Lalonde, President of the Sports Club, Gaston Leroux, Hertel O'Beardy, A. Gauthier and Ex-Mayor Joseph Labrecque.

The banquet was in honor of the Indians, the Aces, Eastern Townships Juvenile champions, and Trois Etioles Juvenile commercial winners. Gerard Plamondon, youthful centremen of the Indians, who jumped from juvenile to senior ranks, was voted the player who made the most progress during the year, the presentation being made by Mayor Ross. Cups were presented the Aces and Trois Etioles, with the Povey Cup going to the Indians Juniors.

Two minutes' silence was observed in memory of Flight Sergeant Charles Tourville, former local hockey player, who was killed in the Middle East on December 7.

Among others at the banquet were Aldermen J. O. Deziel, J. W. Genes and Armand Fiset, Building Inspector J. O. Charlier, and Tourist Information Bureau Director, Jean Joncas.

BANQUET MARKS CONCLUSION OF ACTIVE SEASON

Members of Hillcrest Ski Club Hold Closing Banquet and Dance at New Chateau Hotel—Prizes Presented.

Climaxing a highly successful season in which the Hillcrest Club really put Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships on the winter sports map, the members of the progressive ski club wrote "finis" to their activities Saturday night at a closing banquet and dance at the New Chateau.

Speaking at the banquet, Roger Audette, of Waterloo, President of the Eastern Townships Ski Zone, paid high tribute to the officers and members for the hard work they had put in, and said that the layout at Capelon runs favorably with the finest runs and trails in the Laurentians. He also praised the city authorities for the interest they had shown in the club, pointing out that an active winter sports group is a great asset to any city.

Alderman Armand Fiset, representing Mayor A. C. Ross and the City Council, thanked the club for what it had done for Sherbrooke, referring particularly to the ski excursion from Victoriaville which came here in connection with the slalom championship at the Hillcrest Club in March. Ex-Mayor Joseph Labrecque also spoke briefly.

Greetings of the Coaticook Ski Club were extended by the President, Paul Stork. Dr. A. N. Dupuis proposed the toast to the ladies, and President Aurelien Noel, in his remarks, thanked all members and officers for their co-operation. He also thanked the press, the City Council, and the Provincial Transport Company for much-appreciated assistance.

Activities of the season were reviewed by J. A. Lusignan, who officiated for the presentation of the various cups and trophies won during the year.

George O'Connell was awarded the Guertin Trophy and Hillcrest Cup for winning the men's Class "A" championship, also receiving a cup for winning the slalom championship.

Miss Therese Lebeau received the McConnell Trophy for the second straight year and the Noel Cup, emblematic of the ladies' club championship, and also received a cup for capturing the slalom competition. Second place in Class "A" went to Harold Croteau, the men's captain, while Miss Jeanne Beaulieu was runner-up in the ladies' aggregate.

Erich Schiller who was awarded the Jean Paul Perreault Trophy for best services given the club during the season, also received a trophy for capturing the cross-country event in Class "A" while Gerry Croteau was the Class "A" downhill winner. Harold Mooney was Class "B" cross-country champion, Gilles Choquette the slalom winner and George Kandalaft the downhill champ. Jeannine Beaulieu captured the ladies' downhill event.

Flyers One Game Away From Allan Cup After Shading Bearcats 8-7

Rags-to-Riches Royal Canadian Air Force Hockey Team Bango Out Second Straight Victory Over Port Arthur—Buddy Hellyer Notches Winner in Overtime After Brilliant Rally by Lakehead Squad—Third Tilt in Montreal Tonight.

Ottawa, April 20.—(C)—The success story of senior hockey's Cinderella team stands in search of an ending today.

The chance to write the final glowing chapter comes when the rags-to-riches Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers oppose Port Arthur Bearcats at the Montreal Forum tonight in the third game of a best-of-five Allan Cup final series.

Flyers reached the title threshold Saturday by edging Bearcats 8-7 in overtime for their second straight win in the series.

Bearcats never gave the Airmen a chance to relax. Midway through the second period, the Ottawa club took a 5-1 lead with a burst of scoring fireworks which left the 7,8
