"A FIGHTING CHANCE" IS ALL 'E DOCTORS GIVE PRESIDENT

While Case Not Hopeless-- h Not Unlikely.

MRS. M'KINLEY IGNORANT OF HIS REAL CONDITION

Heart Specialists Summoned to Give Relief—The President Realizes His Danger.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—12.30 p. m.—The President's physicians report that his condition is practically unchanged since the 9 o'clock bulletin. He is sleeping quietly.

GEO. B. CORTELYOU,
Secretary to the President

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 6.30 Secretary Wilson said the President had rallied and had a fighting chance. This expression is believed to represent the limit of a forlorn hope.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 7.20 Dr. Rixey said that the prospect was somewhat brighter. "The President has rallied somewhat," said he, "but," he added significantly, "he is always better in the morning."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Geo. P. Sawyer, a friend of Mr. Milburn, said at 9 o'clock:

"I am glad to be able to say that the President is better than he was three hours ago. The surgeons are now dressing his wound."

THE OFFICIAL BULLETIN.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physicians at 9 a.m.: "The President's condition has somewhat improved during the past few hours. There is a better response to stimulation. He is conscious and free from pain. Pulse, 128; temperature, 99.8. (Signed) P. M. Rixey, M. D. Mann, Roswell Park, Herman Mynter, Eugene Wasdin, Charles G. Stockton, George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the President.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—10.37 a.m. The President is now sleeping. Dr. Park and Dr. Rixey are in attendance.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Dr. Stockton came from the house at 11.50. He said: "The President is holding his own. That is all I can tell you."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 12 o'clock Dr. Wasdin, one of the physicians, left the house and said: "A bulletin will be issued at 2 o'clock. Further than that I decline to talk."

Milburn House, Buffalo, September 13.—There is a chance for the President's life. His family, the two members of the Cabinet who remained here, Senator Hanna, Colonel Herrick, and others who arrived by special trains this morning, are in the drawing-room of the Milburn house, watching the clock and listening to the pendulum which may be ticking away the seconds of a great man's life.

All realize that only a slender hope remains and all dread a sudden attack of heart failure, which might bring death. Of all the sad household only the wife does not know the real truth. She surmises that the President is worse, for she was told this morning it would be better for her not to enter the sick chamber. She assented, but it was with a look of mute appeal in her eyes.

The President himself seems to realize that his life hangs by a thread, although he has not yet been told how slim the chances are.

The doctors, it is needless to say, are doing all that modern science and skill can do to save the President. Dr. W. W. Johnston, of Washington, and Dr. Janeway, of New York, two of the most eminent heart specialists in the United States, have been summoned to lend their skill and counsel, and Dr. M. Burney has been recalled. He advanced the theory before he left that the abnormal pause might be due to the after effects of the clot of the last bulletin upon the brain, now manifesting itself for the first time.

The President's condition is fairly satisfactory at this writing and a boost the hope for his recovery. If the heart action can be controlled and strengthened the crisis now existing would pass. But everything is being prepared for the worst.

HOPE WITH PASSING NIGHT.

When the sinking spell occurred about two o'clock this morning it was feared the President might expire at any moment, as he did not respond to ordinary stimulants. It was only when recourse was had to the desperate resource of injecting into his veins saline solution, which saved Mrs. McKinley's life in San Francisco, that the circulation grew stronger, and after an hour he rallied somewhat.

Dr. Mann declared most emphatically that it was absurd to say the President was dying.

The physicians feel that if they can pull their patient through to-night there will be hope. The President is getting practically no nourishment. What little nourishment he is receiving is by enemae. The physicians are puzzled by the heart action and have not yet been able to determine the cause of the sudden weakness of that organ.

THE MORNING CONSULTATION.

The first physician to arrive for the morning consultation was Dr. Wasdin. He passed quickly into the Milburn residence. Two minutes later Abner McKinley walked down to the corner to tell his coachman, who had been waiting for him with a carriage for an hour, that he would not go to his hotel for breakfast.

Dr. Mynter arrived at 8.23. "I saw the President at 5 o'clock," said he. "His condition was then very grave."

The doctors finished their consultation at 9.40 a.m. They left the house together, and stopped for a few minutes on the lawn to convey their verdict first to the President's brother. The physicians looked grave and serious as they walked away from the residence. Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter came away together.

DOCTORS VERY ANXIOUS.

"We are very anxious," said Dr. Mann, "very anxious," he repeated as he entered the carriage in waiting.

"Have you given up hope"

"By no means," replied the doctor.

"Is he better than when you saw him last?"

"He is better than he was in the early hours of the morning," he responded as he directed the coachman to drive away.

Dr. Mynter had little encouragement to offer.

"I am not absolutely without hope," said he. "The President has a fighting chance, but I would be more hopeful if the day were passed and he had gained a little strength. He has improved some since early this morning, but the improvement is very slight. The trouble lies with his heart. We are stimulating it, and our treatment has been fairly successful."

NOT ABSOLUTELY HOPELESS.

Dr. Mynter admitted that saline solution and other means to keep up the action of the heart were being administered.

"Do you still have hope of saving the President's life?" Dr. Mynter was asked.

"I will say in answer to your question," replied Dr. Mynter, hesitatingly, "that I do not consider the case absolutely hopeless. I should be more hopeful if the day were passed, and it had shown some improvement in his condition."

Dr. Mynter's remarks left the inference that the crisis might be prolonged.

The bulletin when issued was slightly better, and indicated that the President's life might be prolonged, stating definitely that the President's condition had somewhat improved during the past few hours, and that there was better response to stimulation. But his pulse was up to 128, and the conviction grew that it was almost a forlorn hope.

MRS. McKINLEY NOT TOLD.

It was learned that the physicians had decided that it would not be well for Mrs. McKinley to enter the sick room to-day, both on account of her feeble health and the excitement it might cause the President. So far as can be learned, Mrs. McKinley had not been informed up to 10 o'clock of the grave condition in which her husband was.

Shortly after ten o'clock the intimate friends and relatives of the President, who were telegraphed for early this morning, began to arrive, and soon after ten o'clock there were assembled in the downstairs rooms of the Milburn House Senators Hanna and Fairbanks, ex-Secretary of State Day, Secretary Wilson and Secretary Hitchcock, Abner McKinley, Miss Helen McKinley, a sister of the President; Mrs. J. T. Duncan, another sister; and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, in addition to Mr. John G. Milburn.

SPECIALISTS SUMMONED.

All the Cabinet officers were telegraphed to at 3 o'clock this morning, and are now presumably on their way thither. Dr. W. W. Johnston, of Washington, who is at Portsmouth, on the Maine coast, and Dr. Janeway, of New York, both celebrated heart specialists, have been summoned.

A celebrated heart specialist, who has been watching the bulletins closely, has expressed the opinion that the extreme weakness of the heart is due to the shock of the first bullet, which struck the President's breast bone, now manifesting itself for the first time.

PRESIDENT REALIZES HIS STATE.

The President is perfectly conscious, despite his extreme weakness. The doctors believe he fully realizes how low he is, although he has not been informed. When Mrs. McKinley was told that it would be better for her not to see him this morning she assented, with no protest. She seemed to realize the full import of the request, though she said nothing.

Vice President Roosevelt was heard from shortly after ten o'clock. He had received the news of the President's serious condition, and sent word from the Tuscarora Club, where he is staying, that he would come at once.

HEART CAUSED ANXIETY.

Springfield, Mass., Sept. 13.—A special to the Union from Pittsfield says that Dr. Charles McBurney, who left Buffalo yesterday afternoon for Stockbridge, will return to Buffalo to-day. He was seen in Pittsfield just as he was taking the train this morning, and said that from the first the President's heart action had caused the physicians some anxiety. From the bulletin issued at 7.30 this morning, which was the latest he had received, Dr. McBurney said he should judge that the President's condition was very critical.

ON WATCH FOR ALL VAGRANTS

Chief Carpenter's Plans to Keep City Free From Suspicious Characters.

In the minds of the police authorities the ordinary vagrant, who is merely kept under surveillance, presents an element of annoyance for the festivities attending the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York and he must be removed. It is a measure of precaution for the safety of the Royal party and the comfort of the people.

During the past few days several consultations have been held by the heads of the police department, and it has been decided to arrest all persons who come within the scope of the vagrancy act. This act is one of broad significance, but it is principally to the "loose, idle and disorderly character" that its enforcement will be applied. A person of suspicious mien will surely fall in the network of these precautions.

"How do you judge a suspicious character?" Chief Carpenter was asked this morning.

"It is a study of men, judging their purposes by their actions. A good officer can soon tell what a person's object is in being in such a place. Of course I cannot tell you the secrets of our system. It is a complicated piece of machinery.

"Photographs? Yes, they help sometimes; but we have not got the photograph of every criminal nor do all the men whose faces we have in print come over here. The latter are no longer suspicious characters to us. We know them, and their meeting us is tantamount to an introduction to the prison cell. But the stranger who comes to town is the one who catches the eye. We must know him, all about him, and for this the officer must use his judgment."

While assuring the public that the men under his control would do all in their power to prevent any disturbances of the public peace or the safety of the Royal visitors, Chief Carpenter wished to warn the people that it would be wiser and safer not to wear jewellery too conspicuously or go out with purses too well filled. "In this case," said the chief, "an ounce of prevention is worth, indeed, a pound of cure."

LOANED A SEARCHLIGHT.

The Thousand Island Steamboat Company has loaned the searchlight of the steamer Empire State to President Shaughnessy, of the C.P.R. The apparatus was shipped to Montreal on Tuesday. It will be used by the C.P.R. in connection with the royal visit.

RESERVE OF OFFICERS.

All the officers of the reserve will be privileged to attend the civic reception accompanied by their wives. Lieut.-Col. Roy, D.O.C., yesterday received an official welcome from the Mayor.

ILLUMINATION OF PROCTOR'S.

At Proctor's Theatre during the royal visit will be seen a novel form of illumination. An immense British flag of stained glass, illuminated with hundreds of electric lights, will by an ingenious device be made to appear as though waving in the breeze. The interior of the house will also be prettily decorated.

OFFICIAL PROGRAMME

An official programme of the visit of their Royal Highnesses, profusely illustrated and artistically arranged, has been published by Mr. C. B. Morris. The frontispiece shows portraits of their Majesties, King Edward and Queen Alexandra, and their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York. The back of the cover is a combination of the Union Jack, the Dominion coat of arms and the maple leaf. The programme contains pictures of the principal public buildings of the metropolis and portraits of the Governor-General and Lady Minto, Mayor Prefontaine, Hon. George A. Drummond, chairman of the citizens' committee, and Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal. The programme also gives the names of those composing the royal party, and contains the official programme for the two days' visit to Montreal.

SIR WILFRID AT QUEBEC.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier left for Quebec last evening to await the arrival of the Duke with their Royal Highnesses. It is likely that the Premier will be the only minister who will cross the continent with the royal train. Sir Wilfrid was accompanied by Lady Laurier. Sir Louis Davies and Hon. Mr. Fielding are on their way to Quebec from the Maritime Provinces. General O'Grady-Haly and Commissioner of Police Sherwood also left for Quebec last night.

A DRAWING ROOM.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—It was learned at Government House to-day that there will be a regular drawing-room in the Senate chamber during the visit of their Royal Highnesses. The only difference will be that no veils will be worn by the ladies. Those who attend will be presented. The official notice will be issued in a few days.

TORCHLIGHT PROCESSION.

A meeting of representatives from the various fraternal societies will be held in the Mechanics' Institute, on Saturday evening, the 14th, at 8 o'clock, to complete arrangements for the torchlight procession which is to take place on the second evening of the Royal visit. All societies wishing to take part are requested to send a representative to this meeting.

MAY WEAR KHAKI.

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The Ottawa members of the South African contingents at a meeting practically decided that unless they were allowed to parade in khaki to receive their medals from the Duke, they would not parade at all. This threat, if such it may be called, is referred to in a militia special order, which was issued this morning, as follows:

"With reference to M. O. 153 some misapprehension appears to exist as regards the instructions for the dress of those persons who are to receive South African medals from H. R. H. the Duke of Cornwall and York during his tour in Canada.

"Officers, non-commissioned officers and men serving in units of the active militia must attend in the prescribed uniform of the militia corps to which they belong, in accordance with Canadian regulations. To do otherwise would be an act of gross disrespect to His Royal Highness, of which no Canadian soldier should be guilty. Individuals who have been discharged from any of the special service corps, and who are not now enrolled in any Canadian unit, are simply civilians, and as such are not in any way under the orders of the Militia Department."

The last clause removes the only circumstance which could afford even an occasion for complaint, as civilians, if they choose, may plainly wear the khaki in which they fought.

AN HISTORIC MIRROR.

Quebec, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The troops of the garrison of Quebec will parade for church service on Sunday, Protestants at 2 p.m. on the Plains of Abraham, and Roman Catholics at 10.15 a.m. in front of the Drill Hall.

A few days ago Her Excellency Lady Minto requested Major Sheppard, A.D.C., to inform Major Dorion, of Charlesbourg, that she accepted with pleasure, his offer to place a magnificent mirror in the apartment to be occupied by their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall and York. This mirror was purchased in London, Eng., in 1860 by the City of Quebec to decorate the apartments of the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII, during his sojourn in this city. The precious souvenir, now the property of Major Dorion, will be transferred by him to the Citadel on Saturday afternoon.

LACROSSE AND CRICKET.

His Excellency the Governor-General signified, yesterday, his intention of being present at the lacrosse match on Saturday between Quebec and the Shamrocks of Montreal. A Royal box has been constructed for the accommodation of the vice-regal party. The Quebec men have practiced this week unremittingly. They have worked hard and fully expect to win the Inter-provincial championship.

Lieut. Farrell's Quebec cricket team played an interesting one-inning match against H.M.S. Crescent, on the Q.A.A.A. yesterday afternoon, which resulted in a win for Lieut. Farrell's team by 32 runs.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be the guest of His Honor Lieut.-Governor Jette during his stay in the city.

QUEBEC'S DECORATIONS.

Work on the decorations of the Federal Government buildings are progressing very favorably. The arch on the King's wharf, where the royal party will land, is nearly completed. The decorations on this neat structure will not only be appropriate, but replete in genuine taste. As their Royal Highnesses pass through they will observe the royal standard painted on a shield in the centre of the arch over their heads, which will be surrounded by all the provincial shields comprising the Dominion. The royal shield will be surrounded solely by English ensigns, and the British flag will occupy a prominent place on the extreme top, surrounded by banners bearing royal ensigns.

The wharf on which their Royal Highnesses will land has been repaired, and everything surrounding where the eye will reach within the enclosure will be so arranged by decorations that nothing but artistic neatness and scenic effect will be observed. Four Venetian towers have been erected in four corners of the wharf, from which flags and bannerets will be strung, reaching from one to the other diagonally.

The towers will be, when completed, handsomely dressed with shields and banners, and a flag flying from a pole running up the centre of each tower.

The whole enclosure will have flags arranged along the fences to hide from view the surrounding yards, etc. When their Royal Highnesses will land on the wharf they will be surrounded with flags and other tastefully arranged decorations, which will enable them to observe the full stretch of Dufferin Terrace and Citadel only.

HAMILTON MEN DISGRUNTLED.

Hamilton, Sept. 13.—A meeting of members of "C" Battery, who served in South Africa, condemned the Government because it had retained from their pay the amount they received from the Rhodesian Government, and a resolution was passed to the effect that the men will not go to Toronto to receive their medals from the Duke unless they get full justice from the Government.

MR. A. Z. PARADIS THE NEW JUDGE

Ottawa, Sept. 13. — (Special.)—At a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday Mr. A. Z. Paradis, of St. Johns, Que., was appointed a judge of the Superior Court of the Province of Quebec for the district of Iberville and St. Johns, in the place of Mr. Justice Charland, deceased. There are two more judicial vacancies to be filled, one on the King's Bench of Ontario, and the other on the Supreme Court bench of the North-West Territories.

DURNAN GOES TO WINNIPEG.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Eddie Durnan left yesterday for Winnipeg, where he meets Towns on September 19, and although he will not have very much time on his arrival in which to condition himself, he expects to be in good enough shape to win the $500 purse hung up for the race.

PRETORIAN SAILS FOR MONTREAL.

Allan Line steamer Pretorian sailed from Liverpool, for the St. Lawrence, on Thursday afternoon, with 58 cabin passengers and 31 intermediate.

A Yell for the Classical

DOWN AT THE CITY HALL yesterday, Mayor Prefontaine handed out instructions to the orchestra that is to play at the Duke of York's reception.

"What we want," said the mayor, "is subdued, mellow, dreamy music."

On the musical proposition the mayor has the rest of the Council 6 holes up and 4 to play. None of your syncopated rag time airs for the mayor. Not on your suspenders. He is out after the classical music vote, and the orchestra will reel off a few Beethoven symphonies in appassionato subito sentimento con crescendo.

Willie's Saw

Weary Willie, on his travels,
Unto the housewife said:
"Madam, pray give me work
That I may earn some bread."

Said she: "Here is a dinner,
Eat—twill do you good.
And when finished in that shed
You'll find a saw and wood."

The table cleared and Willie
Was of gratitude bereft,
For he into the woodshed went,
Saw the wood—and left.

Dedicated to Dmitri, Etc

[Dmitri Merejkowski, the new Russian novelist bids fair to be one of the popular authors this fall.—Literary Note.]

Dmitri Merejkwski,
You're the limit, sure;
We thought that Henrik Sienkiewich
Was all we could endure.
But your name is more tangled
Than is allowed by law,
And he who tries to speak it
Takes chances with his jaw.

Now, there are Maxime Gjorki,
And Maurais Jo-ka-i—
We've twisted tongues from trying to
Pronounce them full and free.
But, oh, D. Merejkowski,
Some dark suspicions rise
That your name is a puzzle,
So who's to get the prize?

Dmitri Merejkowski!
We know not what you write,
But as an advertising stroke
Your name is out of sight.
Double with your name is
There's naught to rhyme it with,
Oh, won't you kindly tell us
It's Russian for Bill Smith?

SURE PROOF.

When France and Germany were at war an Englishman was arrested by the French and accused of being a German spy. A letter dated "Berlin," and being signed by his mother, was found upon him. He was tried by drum-head court-martial and condemned to be shot.

On the way to the place of execution he said that he had left something behind, and insisted on going back for it.

"You can't go back," was the reply. "You are about to be shot."

"I can't help that," said he. "I have left something, and I must get it."

"What have you left?"

"My umbrella."

That settled it. He was released. No one but an Englishman, said his captors, could be such a thorough-going imbecile as that.

PEARY GETS WITHIN 450 MILES OF POLE

The First News in Three Years Was Received To-day.

EXPLORER IS WELL AND REMAINS NORTH

He Reached 83.50 Degrees of Latitude—Mrs. Peary and Daughter Are Back.

Halifax, Sept. 13. — (Special.)—The steamer Erik arrived at North Sydney this morning after a most successful expedition. Lieut. Peary was found, and he and all his party are safe.

Lieut. Peary still remains north to continue his work, but Mrs. Peary and her little daughter Marie, together with Mrs. Pierce, stewardess of the Windward, have come back on the Erik.

Lieut. Peary succeeded in penetrating as far as 83.50 north, the furthest north ever reached before. The Erik found the Windward at Etah. Lieut. Peary was left at Cape Sabien.

The only mishap the Erik met with was the loss of an anchor at Alexandria. The relief expedition have brought back some 350 walrus heads and a number of kayaks and other curiosities. All the members of the expedition are well.

Lieut. Robert E. Peary sailed on his present voyage on July 7, 1898, over three years ago. The last news heard from him was dated in Greenland on August 13th of that year, and was simply to the effect that "So far all my plans have been successfully carried out." Lieut. Peary's first Arctic expedition was in 1891-2, when he determined the insularity of Greenland, and his second in 1893-5. He undertook summer trips in 1896 and 1897, and published the results of his work in "Northward over the Great Ice: A Complete Narrative of Arctic Work." During his summer trips he discovered and brought home the Cape York meteorites, the largest known in the world.

When Lieut. Peary left on his last trip it was with the determination to reach the Pole before he returned. He expected to be away perhaps two, perhaps five years. He made careful preparations for the trip, which he made in the Windward. The steamer Hope, which carried a cargo of coal and a large stock of provisions, sailed in advance and met the Windward at Cape York. There Peary had arranged for twelve Esquimaux and a number of dogs to meet him, and after taking them on board the two vessels sailed to Kennedy Channel, landing the party and their stores there and returning to St. John's, Nfld. From Kennedy Channel the intention was to push ahead for the pole by sled and boat, establishing a chain of depots of stores along the way, upon which the party could retreat if need be.

The Windward was to sail to Kennedy Channel every summer, returning to Newfoundland if there was no sign of the party there. This she did for a couple of years, but the last time she did not return. A relief expedition was then organized and sailed in the Erik. Nearly all the crew of the Windward were Nova Scotians and Newfoundlanders.

The point reached by Lieut. Peary is only six and one-half degrees, or 450 geographical miles, from the Pole.

GRAND TRUNK MUST BRING TRADE HERE

Mr. Tarte Tells Mr. Reeve the Line Will Give Up Shipping to Portland.

Collingwood, Ont., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The Northwest Transportation Company's new steel vessel, Huronic, was successfully launched here yesterday. A luncheon was given afterwards by the company, at which the distinguished guests were Hon. J. I. Tarte, Hon. E. J. Davis and General Manager Reeve, of the Grand Trunk.

Mr. Tarte asserted the Canadianism of his administration by referring to the rejection of the Welvin proposal. He then referred to the railway question. "We are the boss of the Canadian railway, and I know it," said Mr. Tarte, with emphasis. "I have told Mr. Reeve in the past, and I here give him notice again that I believe the time will soon come when the Grand Trunk will leave their line to Portland and return to the St. Lawrence route."

After discussing the questions of assistance for the steel shipbuilding industry and expressing his confidence in the Collingwood-Toronto short line, Mr. Tarte declared that the transportation question would not be satisfactorily settled until the entire trade between the west and the east, that is, between Western Canada and Europe, was controlled by Canadian cars and vessels, built in Canada and traveling by Canadian routes. There was no reason why this ideal should not be realized. Canada had the shortest route from the Pacific to the Atlantic and there were in the Dominion all the facilities for building and equipping vessels and trains.

Mr. George B. Reeve evidently interpreted Mr. Tarte as reflecting on the company's loyalty and declared emphatically that there was no more loyal company in Canada than the Grand Trunk. "My own opinion," said Mr. Reeve, "is that large boats will hold the ocean traffic of the future. The small boats on the lakes are being crowded out by large ones. Why, we never think of engaging an ocean vessel with a tonnage of less than 10,000 tons, and when loaded a steamer having that capacity cannot navigate the St. Lawrence river."

"They will be able to do so in ten years," said Mr. Tarte.

"But what are we to do in the meantime?" said Mr. Reeve, rather earnestly, and looking straight at Mr. Tarte. "Can we delay business until then? We must have traffic that the families of our workmen may have bread and butter. Would any of you business men do nothing for two years rather than look elsewhere for business? Could you afford to do so?"

Soon after Mr. Reeve had left to catch his train, Mr. Tarte remarked that Mr. Reeve had stated just what he wanted him to state. He (Mr. Reeve) had stated that the Grand Trunk Railway would return to the St. Lawrence route as soon as the channel was deep enough to accommodate vessels of 10,000 tonnage.

"When that accommodation is to hand," said Mr. Tarte, "you people will make the Grand Trunk stand by the Canadian people. Canadian railways must stand by Canada or we will not stand by them."

Mr. Tarte concluded by saying that the vessels navigating the Portland waters this year were losing money notwithstanding the fact that privileged rates have been given to that port.

COMPANY AND COUNCIL FAIL TO MAKE TERMS

Westmount's Water Rate Cases Will Probably be Continued.

WILL KEEP COUNCIL BUSY ALL WINTER

Fourteen Hundred Ratepayers Must be Heard. The Witnesses.

The Montreal Water Company and the Westmount Finance Committee failed last night to agree that rental values in Westmount are too low. Hope of an amicable understanding disappeared when this meeting concluded. Now, unless the company recedes from the position it has taken, the Westmount Council will have fourteen hundred complaints to hear.

This will probably keep the Westmount Council busy for some months to come.

It will also furnish occupation to the residents of Westmount who object to having their rental values increased.

The company, at the meeting of the Council on Tuesday evening, stated their claims clearly. Their solicitor said the Water Company believed that half the houses of Westmount were valued by the assessors at too low a rental. As the company, by its contract with the town, had to base its charges for water on the rental value returned by the assessors, it could not collect all that it was legally entitled to for water supplied.

Fourteen hundred cases of what was claimed to be under-valuations were given, and the Council was asked to consider an application for their increase. The company offered to produce evidence under oath that in these cases the rental value fixed by the assessors was too low.

AN APPALLING VISION.

The Westmount councillors were appalled at the prospect of sitting in judgment on fourteen hundred cases. They were willing to give some, but not all of their time to the service of the town. So the matter was referred to the assessors, the town secretary-treasurer, the town engineer and the Water Company for a conference. It was hoped the tangle would be unsnarled at this meeting. Instead, the knot was only tightened.

The assessors flatly told the representatives of the company that the valuations were right, and defied them to prove them incorrect.

The Water Company, with due deference to the assessors, said the rental values returned were entirely too low, and they proposed to have them raised if it took all winter. It was hinted that an effort might be made to upset the assessment roll.

The Finance Committee took the matter up last night, and found both sides firm. They threw their lot with the assessors, and will recommend to the Council at its next meeting that the assessors' returns be approved.

Unless the company gives in, the fourteen hundred hearings must go on. The Westmount charter provides for them.

It is pretty certain that the company will not try to have the assessment roll thrown out by the courts, as they suggest. Should they do it, they will be out a year's water rent, as they will then have nothing at all to base their charges on.

HARD TO PROVE.

The Westmount authorities say that the Water Company will have a good deal of trouble in proving their claims. Half a hundred of them have been investigated, and it is found in almost every case that the assessors' figures are higher than the actual rent paid. The figures of the Water Company give as the "actual rent" are in most cases far above the rent paid by the tenants.

CASES ALREADY BEGUN.

The cases which have been investigated are as follows:—

George Curtain, 446 Claremont; M. Fisher, 444 Claremont; John Morgan, 442 Claremont; A. Carruthers, 440 Claremont; Arthur Perry, 438 Claremont; W. E. Hamilton, 436 Claremont; Mrs. J. MONTREAL'S ART PRINTERS—HERALD JOB DEPARTMENT.

Saturday's Herald.

In connection with the regular daily edition on Saturday next, The Herald will issue eight pages on tone paper, profusely illustrated, and descriptive of Northern Ontario interests, dealing fully with the great Clergue enterprises now under way at the Soo, which involves the expenditure of millions of dollars. This will be done in a more complete manner than has yet been attempted by a Canadian daily. The circulation will be unusually large, and advertisers will find it a profitable medium for advertising purposes.

DEAD BODY IDENTIFIED.—The man found in an unconscious condition on the street, near the Longueuil ferry wharf, died at the Notre Dame Hospital yesterday. Last night he was identified as William Fleming, machinist, of 370 Notre Dame street. How he came to his death is a mystery, and an inquest will be held this afternoon.

AROUND THE CITY

WESTMOUNT.

The Westmount Whist Club will meet to-morrow evening in Elm Hall.

Miss Belliss, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. W. M. Knowles, Aberdeen Avenue, Westmount.

Mrs. J. H. Wallace, Melbourne Avenue, Westmount, has returned from Little Metis, where she spent the summer.

The opening meeting of the Westmount Lodge Sons of England takes place this evening in the lodge rooms, Victoria Hall.

Mr. F. W. Evans and family, Sherbrooke Street, Westmount, who have been spending the summer in England, return shortly.

Miss Ward, daughter of the Hon. J. K. Ward, Rosemount Avenue, has returned from England, where she spent the last couple of months.

Miss K. E. Griswold and party, who have been the guests of Miss L. G. Keyes, Clarke Avenue, Westmount, have left for Lake George and Saratoga.

Miss Aylmer, London, England, sister of Mr. G. Aylmer, of the Bank of Montreal, has arrived in town and is the guest of Miss Ward, Rosemount Avenue.

At the Church of the Advent, Western Avenue, Sunday, the Bishop of Ottawa has kindly promised to preach at the morning service. The Bishop of Algoma will occupy the pulpit in the evening. The reverend gentlemen have been attending the Synod held in the city during the present week.

The reception of welcome to Rev. and Mrs. G. T. Johnson, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church takes place on Tuesday evening next, September 17. A special committee are looking after the various arrangements, and are leaving nothing undone to make the evening as thoroughly pleasant as possible.

The Westmount Academy lacrosse team meets the High School team to-morrow morning at Westmount Park. Great interest is being taken by the boys of the town, as they expect to be able to score their first victory. The team has been practising hard for some time past and should have no difficulty in making it very interesting even for an older team than itself.

POINT ST. CHARLES.

Mr. G. Reid, Wellington Street, has returned from a two weeks holiday spent at Old Orchard Beach.

Rev. A. Wynne Thomas, of Wales, will again be in charge of St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday next.

Mr. and Mrs. T. McCabe, who have been visiting Mrs. Rouson, Congregation Street, have returned home to Toronto.

The ninth anniversary of the opening of Grace Church, Wellington Street, will take place on Sunday. Special services will be held.

At the Point Railway Association to-night takes place the first social and concert of the season under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary Society. Extensive preparations have been made to make the event a distinct success and a large attendance is expected.

The Point lacrosse team, who meet Cornwall team to-morrow in a match that will do much towards settling the intermediate championship, will be the strongest put on the field this year. If faithful practice counts for anything the team should be able to bring new honors to the association.

A very imposing ordination service took place at St. Matthew's Presbyterian Church last evening, when Mr. F. Anderson, of Paris Street, was ordained to the ministry. The service was very largely attended. The Rev. W. R. Cruikshank son, of Paris Street, was ordained to the ing on the noble calling the young man had embraced. Prof. Scrimger, of the Presbyterian Theological College, presided, Rev. G. A. Mackenzie assisting.

An important and interesting meeting of Excelsior Rebekah Lodge, No. 6, I.O.O.F., was held in Gareau Hall, 119 Maisonneuve Street, last evening, Sister Mrs. W. J. Fuller, N.G., presiding. Among the visitors present was Sister Miss Benton, of Boston, Mass., U.S.A. The unfavorable weather of last evening did not interfere with the attendance of members, which was remarkably large. A committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for an entertainment to be held on the evening of October 31st. A special meeting will also be held on Friday evening, September 20th, at the residence of Mrs. W. J. Fuller, 355 Laval Avenue, at which all members of the lodge are particularly requested to be present. Excelsior Rebekah Lodge was instituted January 18th, 1894.

MIZPAH LODGE, NO. 3, I.O.O.F.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 3, I.O.O.F., held the regular meeting in the lodge room, No. 6 Phillips' Square, Bro. Wm. Reid, N.G., presiding. The business proved of unusual interest. Several questions in regard to lodge affairs were satisfactorily disposed of. The committee to make the necessary arrangements in regard to a series of progressive euchre matches between the various city lodges of the order presented a report stating that up to the present time the following lodges had desired to enter the contest:—Lansdowne Lodge, No. 9, The Excelsior Lodge, No. 12, Lafayette Lodge, No. 15, Wellington Lodge, No. 20, Star of Westmount Lodge, No. 33. There will be a meeting of the committees of above lodges in the rooms of The Excelsior Lodge, No. 12, Oddfellows' Hall, 251 St. James Street, on Tuesday evening, September 17th. Amongst the visitors present were Bro. S. J. Bolton, N.G., Wellington Lodge, No. 20.

LAFAYETTE LODGE, NO. 15, I.O.O.F.

The regular semi-monthly meeting of Lafayette Lodge, No. 15, I.O.O.F., was held in Oddfellows' Hall last evening, Bro. A. Fortier, N.G., presiding. Among the visitors present were Bro. C. Spencer, P.G., Star of Westmount Lodge, No. 33; Bro. J. Dickinson, P.G., Bro. David Fels, V.G., Bro. A. Chapman, and others members of Wellington Lodge, No. 20. Two applications for membership were received. The lodge decided to take part in the series of progressive euchre matches arranged between the different lodges of the order in this city, and appointed a committee to act in conjunction with the other lodges to complete final arrangements to be made by general committee in the rooms of Excelsior Lodge, No. 12, on Tuesday evening, August 17th.

Lafayette Lodge, No. 15, was instituted June 8th, 1894, and is the only lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows in the Dominion of Canada working exclusively in the French language. It may be needless to state the membership is composed of our French-Canadian fellow-citizens. The cash assets of the lodge are about $1,800 and the membership 97.

FEDERATED TRADES COUNCIL.

A special meeting of the Federated Trades Council was held in Blue Label Hall last night. President Roberge presided, and explained his reasons for calling the meeting, which was to reconsider the vote passed at the last meeting to send no delegate to the Dominion Labor Congress to be held at Brantford, Ont.

Several delegates having spoken for and against sending delegates, it was finally decided to send one delegate. Three candidates were put in nomination, Messrs. Griffiths, Mack and De Witt. On a ballot being taken Mr. Griffiths was elected.

Delegate Popkins, for the Cap Makers Union, brought to the attention of the Council a small difficulty with a firm on St. Paul Street, that refused to recognize the union. Three members of the Council were appointed to interview the firm and try to effect a settlement.

WANT NO POLITICS

Ontario People Would Exclude Them From Local Affairs.

St. Catharines, Sept. 13.—The Ontario Municipal Convention concluded its session yesterday. Solicitor Reynolds, of Brockville, submitted the report of the special committee recommending certain matters for consideration. A clause that all real and personal property should be assessed at its fixed value was adopted unanimously. It was recommended by the committee that the act relating to the cutting of trees should apply to towns and cities, also that the time of receiving municipal nominations be limited to one hour.

A clause adopted unanimously was to the effect that politics should be eliminated from municipal affairs.

Brockville was chosen as the next place of meeting. The election of officers for the coming year then took place, resulting as follows: President, E. J. Reynolds, town solicitor of Brockville; first vice-president, Mayor Slater, Niagara Falls; second vice-president, Mayor McIntyre, St. Catherines; secretary, S. H. Kent; assistant secretary, Mr. Cleek, Hamilton; assistant secretary, J. T. Hall, assessment commissioner, Hamilton.

Executive committee—Mayor Collins, Dundas; Mayor Kennedy, Guelph; City Solicitor Caswell, Toronto; Ald. Champagne, Ottawa; Mayor Hendrie, Hamilton; Ald. Hubbard, Toronto.

DISTRICT NEWS

HUNTINGDON.

Huntingdon, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The Huntingdon County Agricultural Society's fair opened here yesterday under favorable auspices. The attendance was not so large as in some other years owing, no doubt, to the heavy rain of the day before, which left the roads in a bad condition, but as the weather cleared it brought out a larger attendance to-day. Huntingdon is noted for its fine exhibit of horses and cattle, and this year is no exception to the rule. Horses and cattle show a small falling off, sheep, the average number of entries, pigs much ahead of previous years, poultry a large increase, domestic manufactures a large increase, fancy work the largest exhibit on record, and flowers and plants a largely increased entry. Fruit, owing to the small yield in the district is a small exhibit, and in vegetables there is a slight falling off.

Among the exhibitors are: Horses—Pure bred Clydesdales, David A. McFarlane, G. G. Stewart, Howick; McGerrigle Bros., Ormstown. Cattle—Ayrshires, D. McFarlane, Kelso; D. Baxter, A. Muir, sr.; Durhams, John E. White, David White, Jas. Ritchie; Holsteins, J. J. Tannahill, John Tannahill; grades, Peter McArthur, A. Muir, sr., Jas. Ritchie. Sheep, John Pringle, David Pringle, David Baxter, John Purcell, John Lang, Robt. Roy, John R. Roy. Poultry, A. Gilmore & Son, Rowland Ness. Swine, Daniel McFarlane, R. J. McNeil, Jas. Donaldson, J. H. Donaldson, John Alexander, D. L. Cameron, W. McNeil.

PEMBROKE.

Pembroke, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Mr. F. W. Aylesworth, of Kingston, who has been engaged as teacher in the public school here began his duties Tuesday.

The party in search of the body of Mr. James Carmichael, who was drowned last week near Bissett's Creek, on the Ottawa River, found it near Rockliff, fourteen miles from where the accident occurred. The remains were brought to town and the funeral took place yesterday to the Presbyterian cemetery, and was in charge of the Oddfellows.

There was a fire alarm Wednesday midnight for a fire in the suburb known as Squaw Hollow, across the Indian River bridge, in a small frame dwelling unoccupied, which was burned to the ground.

The citizens band went to Renfrew Wednesday to attend the demonstration, and were accompanied by a number of our citwere accompanied by a number of our citi-

Rev. W. G. Henderson was taken very ill with congestion of the brain shortly after his arrival home from his vacation last week. He is now out of danger and will recover.

The young ladies of the Mission Band of the Methodist Church, had their annual thank offering service Wednesday night, when Rev. W. T. G. Brown, who is supplying for Mr. Henderson, gave a very practical missionary talk. The offertory amounted to about $30. Miss Clendenning, of Ottawa, rendered a solo "Hark, the Voice of Jesus Calling."

KINGSTON.

Kingston, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Addington Liberal Association, held at Harrowsmith, for nominating a party candidate for the coming bye-election, caused by the death of the late John W. Bell, M.P., Frederick Wartman, of Colebrook, received the unanimous choice. He is a well-known and popular man, and was the party candidate at the last general provincial election. He will take ten days to consider the matter.

George Anson Aylsworth, Newburgh, was selected as the candidate for the next general provincial election.

H. G. Helligrass is accused of obtaining money under false pretences, soliciting orders for a Toronto publishing house, and securing money. It was held that he was not an authorized agent for the concern. He discounted notes for the goods ordered.

BROCKVILLE.

Brockville, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Brockville Presbytery held on Tuesday at Winchester, a call from the Merrickville congregation to Rev. A. J. McMullen, Springfield, was sustained, and arrangements made for his early induction. The standing committees of the presbytery for the year were struck, with the following chairmen:—Augmentation, Rev. R. Laird; Young People's Societies, Rev. C. H. Daly; Sunday Schools, John McGill; Home Missions, Rev. Dr. Stuart and Rev. D. Strachan. The next meeting will be held in Morrisburg on the second Tuesday in December.

Mr. A. Lamoureux, proprietor of the Rio News, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, with his wife and children, is visiting relatives in Brockville and vicinity. In conversation with The Herald, he said that Brazil is not any too well governed, and at present is not in a very flourishing condition, though signs of improvement are not wanting. The native population are not over-anxious to work, and, as a sample of this, he said that although fish are in abundance, the natives will buy imported cod fish or salmon rather than go to the trouble of catching the fish in their own waters. In fish, Mr. Lamoureux says, the Maritime Provinces have always done quite a good trade with Brazil, but it could be largely increased. The population is about three times that of Canada, and there is a market for light woollens, prints, fine cotton goods, hardware, breadstuffs, boots and shoes, &c. The English houses, so far, have held most of the trade, and the Americans have done a good deal, but the Germans are rapidly gaining ground.

"Why are the Germans getting such a foothold?" asked the reporter.

"Simply because they will cater to the whims of the people and make whatever they want, while the Englishmen are too slow to break away from old styles. Then, too, the Germans have established branch houses, and this is the only way to reach the trade of South America. Sending commissioners to visit our country is of little use. It needs a residence there to get into touch with the population."

Mr. Lamoureux thinks Canada could do a large trade in Brazil and other South American countries, although Brazil is trying to encourage some manufacturing, such as boots and shoes, but many lines must be imported for years. In exchange for goods, Brazil grows coffee very largely, which exports heavily, as well as rubber.

Mr. Lamoureux will remain here a few days, and then go on to Mentane. His health is none too good, and if the northern climate does not prove too strong for him, will remain there for some time.

ARTHABASKAVILLE.

Arthabaskaville, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The County Council, composed of the mayors of the different municipalities of Arthabaska County, had its sitting on Wednesday at Arthabaskaville. The incorporation of Maddington Falls into a district municipality from the parish of St. Anne du Sault was the first thing decided upon. The incorporation of Daveluyville village, which some wished to have, did not pass because of legal proceedings pending. The members of the council would not give a decision till they could hear from the general accountant of the province. Mr. Cote, advocate, reported that hereafter the different municipalities would each have to pay for the support of the insane in proportion to the number in each parish. After the sitting Mr. Louis Lavergne, M.P., invited the councillors to the Albion Hotel for dinner. There were present at the sitting of the council:—Felix Baril, prefect of the county; Chas. H. Walsh, J. E. Butler, J. Q. Adams, W. Carignan, Alexis Boule, A. P. de Courval, W. Fournier, G. Beliveau, H. Demers, Nap. Labaie, J. Lacourse, A. Bergeron, J. Baril, Hect. Poisson, J. Laroche, Nap. Campagna, Ed. Leclerc, Nap. Parent, A. Boisclair.

The Arthabaskaville Club has admitted Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a member.

RICHMOND.

Richmond, Que., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Yesterday was the second and last day of the Richmond Fair, and was a success in every way. The attendance from both country and town was large. The weather for the most part was fine and cool.

In the ladies' work, fruit, grain, dairy products, roots and vegetables' departments the exhibits were splendid, one feature of the latter being two gigantic squashes, one weighing 110 pounds and other 98 pounds.

In the live stock department the exhibits were large and very good, the chief prize winners being Mr. Jos. Bedard, ex-M.P.P., Richmond, and the Messrs. Cleveland, McCallum and H. J. Elliott, of Danville.

An accident occurred while the judging of the horses was going on, Mr. Nelson Taylor being seriously injured by a kick from a mare he was exhibiting.

The green race was the event of the afternoon. It was a one mile heat for a purse of $25. Five started, but one fell out, and it was finally won by John Boast. Time, 2.99.

The success of the fair was due in large measure to the splendid management by the secretary, Mr. E. C. Atkinson, and the president, Mr. W. Gallup.

Owing to the limited accommodation on the St. Francis ferry, a regular jam occurred there when the crowd from the Melbourne side were returning home.

The following is the result of the judges' work:

TO PREACH IN ST. MARY'S.

The preacher at the morning service in St. Mary's Church of England, Sunday, will be the Rev. Canon Pollard, rector of St. John's Church, Ottawa, and at the evening service the Rev. J. C. Farthing will preach. Both these gentlemen are delegates to the Provincial Synod, now in session in this city.

SYNOD TAKES UP THE MISSIONS

At To-day's Session Reports of Receipts and Allotments Were Made.

This morning the Provincial Synod as a whole resolved itself into the General Board of Missions and received the triennial report of the Board of Management of the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society. The report showed that the grand total of $165,440 had been received during the last three years. Of this sum the Woman's Auxiliary had contributed $69,023.32 to domestic missions, foreign missions and missions to the Jews; and the C.C.M.A. had contributed $3,504.85 to domestic missions and $24,340.20 to foreign missions. In each case there was a very marked increase in the givings for the past year.

The total amount for domestic missions which passed through the grand treasurer's hands was $63,148.66, received as follows:—

1898-1899	$19,535.08
1899-1900	15,699.77
1900-1901	27,913.81

ALLOTMENTS.

The total to be appropriated for the domestic field was $33,857.08, which was allotted as follows:—

Algoma	$9,250.00
Athabaska	1,100.00
Calgary	2,000.00
Columbia	1,700.00
Mackenzie River	1,200.00
Moosonee	550.00
New Westminster	2,450.00
Qu'Appelle	1,600.00
Rupert's Land	1,450.00
Saskatchewan	850.00
Selkirk	1,650.00
Charges Account	1,968.10
Balances on hand to be appropriated:
Domestic: General	$ 5,710.12
Indian Homes	2,302.81
North-West	76.05
	$33,857.08

FOREIGN MISSIONS.

The total amount for foreign missions which passed through the general treasurer's hands was $56,980.10, received as follows:—

1898-1899	$15,207.64
1899-1900	16,333.62
1900-1901	26,438.84

The total to be appropriated by the board from 30th July, 1898, to 1st August, 1901, for foreign missions was $28,501.89, allotted as follows:—

Japan missionaries, 1898-1899	$3,495.01
Japan missionaries, 1899-1900	9,431.23
Japan missionaries, 1900-1901	6,413.39
Superannuation to 30th September, 1901	824.68
Charges account	1,312.06
Paid Miss J. C. Smith, Japan	1,988.75
Balance on hand to be appropriated	5,036.77

The treasurer also reported $21,320.40 received from the Ascensiontide appeals and $19,739.35 from the Epiphany appeals.

The contributions from Sunday schools from August 1st, 1900, to 31st July, 1901, directly traceable, amounted to $1,529.47, an increase of $338.10 over the previous year.

The board referred in its report to the fact that at the request of the missionaries in the Canadian district in Japan, and with the cordial concurrence of the S.P.G., it had been decided that the board should pay its missionaries directly, instead of through the S.P.G.

Dr. Davidson, in commenting upon this clause in the report, pointed out that the practical meaning of it was that the Canadian Church had now an independent mission in Japan, that it had therefore taken upon itself the responsibility for the welfare of a certain district of Japan containing millions of souls. He hoped the Canadian Church would rise to the responsibility, and be ready with more men, more money, and, above all, more prayer for the work.

MASS MISSIONARY MEETING.

There will be a mass missionary meeting in connection with the Provincial Synod held in the Windsor Hall on Tuesday evening next. Archbishop Bond will preside, and the speakers will be Bishop Courtney, of Nova Scotia, the Bishop of Tinnevelly, India, and Rev. L. N. Tucker, of Vancouver, formerly of Montreal.

ST. FRANCIS DOCTORS

Elect the Officers of Their Association.

Sherbrooke, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The regular meeting of the St. Francis District Medical Association was held yesterday afternoon in the Continental Hotel. Dr. Rioux, second vice-president, presided. There were present Drs. Bowen, Magog; McCabe, Windsor Mills; Banfill, East Angus; C. L. Brown, Ayer's Flat; Thomas, Lennoxville (secretary); Smith, Pelletier, Williams, Gadbois, Camirand, Lamy, Fregois, Sherbrooke. Dr. Lynch having been proposed at the last meeting, was elected unanimously. Dr. F. W. Fourey, Fitch Bay, was proposed as a member of the Association.

It was unanimously decided to support the candidature of Dr. McCabe, Windsor Mills, for the position of joint coroner for the District of St. Francis, made vacant by the sudden death of Dr. McMorine, Richmond.

It was moved and seconded that the association express its deep grief for the loss of the late Dr. Chambers, Magog, and also at the sudden demise of the late Dr. McMorine, Richmond, both of whom were members of the association.

Dr. Pelletier reported that the Provincial Board of Health proposed to teach the people hygiene, and with this end in view a convention will be held next September in Sherbrooke for the purpose of considering how best to further this proposition, and he appealed to the members to make the convention a succes by contributing papers on the subject.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. Rioux, Sherbrooke; first vice-president, Dr. D. W. Smith, Sherbrooke; second vice-president, Dr. McCabe, Windsor Mills; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Thomas, Lennoxville (re-elected); assistant secretary, Dr. Gadbois, Sherbrooke; members of council, Drs. Worthington, Pelletier and Williams.

THE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION.

Dr. Russell Thomas, Lennoxville, who was the delegate of the association at the annual meeting of the Canada Medical Association which met recently in Winnipeg, presented his report. He was pleased, he said, to state that the Canada Medical Association had adopted in toto the Medical Defence Union, as formed by the District of St. Francis Medical Association, with the exception of the name, which they have changed to the Medical Protective Association, out of deference to the opinion of the Ontario men, many of whom looked with disfavor upon the term "defence," by reason that a small party in Ontario had bound themselve stogether under that name and were righting against their own provincial council. He had pointed ont to the members of the C. M. A. that the District of St. Francis Medical Association were only desirous of having their protective association accepted by the C. M. A., and that they were not willing but pleased that the C. M. A. should elect new officers for the protective association, and that these officers should be men well known in the profession and living in a central position. This suggestion of Dr. Thomas' was adopted by the C. M. A.

DOMINION MEDICAL COUNCIL.

In respect to Dr. Roddick's Dominion Registration Bill he (Dr. Thomas) reported that the following amendments to the bill in respect to registration was endorsed unanimously: The first hundred or fraction thereof of medical men in a Province would mean one representative, and for the second hundred or fraction over 50 per cent. should have one representative; after the first second hundred over the next 600 or fraction over 50 per cent., one representative, and so on. In this way Ontario will get five representatives, Quebec, four, Nova Scotia two, New Brunswick two, Manitoba two, British Columbia two, N. W. T. one, P. E. I. one. Of this representation Ontario will elect two out of the five, and Quebec two out of the four. The colleges and medical men will elect the balance whatever the balance may be. In addition to this representation the Governor-General in Council will elect one representative for each Province, which will make a total of 27. The retroactive clause was amended to read so that any man who had been registered five years prior to the bill passing, would be entitled to register under the Dominion, and any man who had registered previous to the passing of the bill for less than five years could, on the completion of that period, ask for and obtain registration in the Dominion.

TRAINED NURSE SHOOTS HERSELF

Miss Margaret Plant Attempts to Commit Suicide in Her Room.

A telephone message at four o'clock yesterday afternoon summoned Capt. Gray from No. 10 police station to 2409 St. Catherine Street. There he found a woman with a bullet hole through her breast and a revolver clasped tightly in her right hand.

The woman was apparently dying, but was still conscious and told the police officer she was Margaret Plant, and a trained nurse.

"I shot myself," she said, in answer to a question. "No, I don't know why I did it." She gave her age as 36 years.

She was taken to the General Hospital and this morning her life was hanging by a slender thread. The tiny bullet from the little 22 calibre revolver with which she wounded herself had torn a way clear through her left lung, making a frightfully ugly and dangerous wound. The woman had lost a large quantity of blood and was very weak.

The place in which the woman shot herself is above a store near the corner of Peel and Windsor. The door bears a placard advertising rooms to rent, and there is another sign stating dressmaking is done there.

Mrs. O. Griffin, who runs the place, says Margaret Plant hired a room from her three months ago. She paid the first week's lodgings and has not paid anything since. Mrs. Griffin said "I was good to her. Although she never paid me. I did not have the heart to turn her out and this is the way she shows her gratitude. She shoots herself in my house and gives it a bad name. She would have done me a kindness to have committed suicide somewhere else."

"The woman has acted peculiarly ever since she came," said Mrs. Griffin. "She has kept closely in her room and has only been out twice. Yesterday I went out, and when I returned with Mrs. Gorden, who rooms here, we heard groans. I went to Miss Plant's room and found her lying on the bed groaning and with the revolver in her hand. I saw what had happened and went for the police. I thought they would never stop coming. There must have been a dozen in here after the Captain came. And such a crowd, and the ambulance. Oh, it was awful.

"She told me she had tried to commit suicide once before. She took a dose of poison but took too little or too much, I don't remember which now. Anyway she didn't die. She also told me she shot a man once with that same revolver. He was the son of a woman with whom she boarded. She said he went into her room and would not leave, so she shot him in the shoulder. I guess she killed herself because she had no money."

The police are of opinion that it is a plain case of attempt at suicide.

The wounded woman has either friends or relatives in Sudbury, for this morning a letter came for her bearing a Sudbury postmark and the business card of a large wholesale and retail grocery and provision house of that place.

THE STEEL STRIKE

Pittsburg, Sept. 13.—President Shaffer was again absent from his office to-day and rumors were current that a settlement of the strike had been made. From an official source it was learned that negotiations were in progress, but that nothing definite had been accomplished as yet.

The Amalgamated Journal in to-day's issue gives the result of the Civic Federation conference in New York. The members recommended the acceptance of the final terms of the combine, but the Journal says President Shaffer was unable to get the executive committee together before the expiration of the time limit. The Amalgamated board then decided to make another effort to get negotiations started and President Shaffer at once proceeded to ascertain what could be accomplished.

STUDENT WAS A THIEF

St. John, N.B., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Murray McCutcheon, of Lakeview, Queen's County, a student at the Currie Business College, was arrested by Detective Ring on a charge of obtaining $40 from Messrs. Slipp and Flewelling on a forged order. McCutcheon has admitted the charge, and also admitted having stolen money from Captain Brannen on the steamer May Queen, an offence for which Harry Nelson was tried and acquitted, although Capt. Brannen swore positively he was the thief. The resemblance between the two is striking. Nelson proved an alibi. McCutcheon said he was hard up and needed the money.

KINGSTON.—Mrs. M. W. Pruyn, relict of the late Mr. W. Pruyn, M.P. for Lennox, died in Napanee, on Monday night, aged 70 years. Her remains were conveyed on Wednesday to the Fredericksburg cemetery. Her husband predeceased her by two years.

WOULD KEEP VICE IN ONE SECTION

The Aldermen Think the Police Committee Should Carefully Consider Question.

The question of the proper limitations to be placed upon the social evil—if, indeed, it is to be officially recognized at all—is one that must be treated with the utmost delicacy. Most of the aldermen who have been approached by The Herald reporter are averse to stating their opinion until Chief Legault's scheme has been properly digested by the Police Committee. That much opposition, however, will develop may be taken as granted.

A certain section of the population—and a very large and influential one—is unalterably opposed to even the smallest degree of official license. This being the case, Ald. Laporte thinks it important that the Police Committee should canvass the subject with the utmost thoroughness before any plan is submitted to Council.

THE POLICE COMMITTEE.

"The Police Committee is the proper body to deal with the matter," said Ald. Laporte this morning, "but the Police Committee should be assisted in reaching its conclusions by a consensus of opinion on the part of every section of the community affected. With that object in view, I would favor the appointment of a commission to study the social evil in all its phases. Such a commission should include representatives of the Police Committee, the clergy, the medical profession, real estate dealers and the press. Unless all these elements can agree upon some common ground of action, it is useless to canvass the subject further. The clergy can view the problem from its effect upon the morals of the city; the doctors will be able to tell of inroads upon the physical life, while the real estate men will be in a position to state just what bearing the existence of such establishments have upon the value of surrounding property."

IN ONE AREA.

One object Chief Legault has in mind is the gathering of all disorderly houses within a certain area, after the fashion adopted in most of the larger American cities. In Buffalo, for example, this has been done, and the proceeds from fines upon each during the course of every year has netted the corporation between $50,000 and $200,000 annually. Much difficulty will be experienced in applying this principle to Montreal unless it is done with considerable secrecy.

Ald. Laporte does not think it could be done at all; that he conceives to be the least practicable portion of the Chief's proposal. While the properties used for this purpose would undoubtedly bring higher rentals than if inhabited by private families, the other properties in the neighborhood would be greatly depreciated in value. Ald. Laporte sees in this inevitable result an insuperable barrier to any attempt at concentrating the social evil. Reputable people would, he feels assured, refuse to live anywhere near the locality selected.

"But why go into details?" concluded the alderman. "There are so many considerations to be taken into account that it would be impossible to outline them all within a reasonable space. Let a commission be appointed to go into the subject thoroughly. Personally, I must be thoroughly convinced that a quarter devoted to this style of life would not have a baleful influence upon the reputation of the city abroad before I can accede to even a limited amount of police recognition."

TWO MILLIONS A MONTH'S INCREASE

Ottawa, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Trade figures for the two months of the fiscal year ending August 31 last, have been prepared by the Customs Department. The imports for the two months, including coin and bullion, were $33,100,001, compared with $31,016,471 for the same time in 1900, an increase of over two millions. This, however, includes about one million of an increase in coin and bullion. The duty increased by about $100,000. The domestic exports were $32,834,273, a slight decrease over same two months last year. The total exports was $36,797,002, as against $35,571,490 last year, an increase of over one million dollars.

THE CHICAGO ANARCHISTS

Chicago, Sept. 13.—Emma Goldman and the other nine alleged anarchists under arrest in this city, it is now believed, will all be given a chance to obtain liberty on bail when the habeas corpus proceedings before Judge Chetlain comes up to-day. City Prosecutor Taylor says that as no evidence has as yet been received from Buffalo, the present charges constitute nothing more than a misdemeanor, and that the prisoners are consequently entitled to bail. He will, however, ask to have it placed at a high figure, possibly $15,000 or $20,000. Judge Chetlain has concluded to take up the case in the Criminal Court building, on the North Side, adjacent to the jail, instead of in his regular court room on the South Side. The change was made at the request of the sheriff, who feared both an attempted rescue and a lynching.

CONFERENCE AT CITADEL.

Quebec, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and General O'Grady-Haly arrived this morning and proceeded immediately to the Citadel, where they had an interview with His Excellency.

COLLECTING SAILORS' "CORPSE RINGS."

(London News.)

The Dublin Freeman's Journal calls attention to a very novel and somewhat gruesome development of the collecting fad. A Ballyshannon gentleman has, it states, made a collection of sailors' "corpse rings." Seafaring men of most nations possess in common the habit of wearing a thick silver ring on the little finger. These rings are engraved inside with the owner's name and port, and serve to identify his body in the event of death by drowning. The collection of "corpse rings" is a fairly large one, and every ring has, it is stated, been obtained from the relations or comrades of the drowned sailor. The fad of a well-known statesman, no longer living, for the collection of false teeth is beaten in its singularity by this phase of the collecting fever.

LATEST NEWS FROM BEDSIDE OF PRESIDENT

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Dr. Stockton left the consultation at 2.05, in a great hurry. He refused to say a word, saying that he was in great haste, and would be back soon. He jumped into an automobile and was driven rapidly down the street.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—To a representative of the Associated Press Dr. Wasdin said: "I cannot reiterate it too often; the President is holding his own."

"Has he rallied perceptibly, doctor?" was asked.

"Yes and no," replied the surgeon.

"What does that mean?"

"It simply means," was the answer, "that there are fluctuations. One moment the patient appears to revive, the next the depression returns."

"The physicians have not abandoned hope, have they?" was asked.

"By no manner of means. Again, I say there is certainly a fighting chance. At present the condition of the President is not hopeless, but within ten minutes the greatly to be feared moment might come."

"Is it true, doctor, that the saline injections have been stopped?"

"Hardly. Indeed, we gave such an injection not long ago. The patient responded, and we are waiting to see if another will be necessary."

Senator Hanna, who paid an extended visit to the house, was awaited with greater interest possibly than anyone else in the house. He came out at 12.25, and a score of newspaper men gathered outside the guard ropes. He walked very slowly and appeared very grave.

"Is there any good news, Senator?" he was asked.

"Well," he answered, "there isn't any good news. I can only say that the President has a fighting chance. I am always hopeful. My faith is strong. I saw a rainbow in the sky as I came up here this morning. I hope it is prophetic."

MUST HAVE CARDS

No one who does not obtain an invitation to the reception will be able to gain access to the presence of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York when they visit the City Hall next Wednesday evening. At a meeting of the civic reception committee this morning it was determined that the cards of invitation should be used as passports for admission. This course was decided upon in order that only those whose names have been approved by the committee should be accorded the privilege of entrance.

Some of the members pointed out that it was regrettable that the necessity for such a precaution had not been suggested sooner, so that smaller cards, as in the case of the invitation to be on hand at the presentation of the address of welcome, might have been included. It would be extremely awkward to have to carry the big card.

The Only House in the City that Can Supply You With

The Perfection Waterproof Decorations.

We are the Sole Agents.

Some storekeepers, realizing the fact that people will not purchase common cotton or paper decorations that a rain shower will destroy, have purchased a few of the PERFECTION DECORATIONS from us, made a display of them in their windows, and advertise them for sale. In most cases they have only one or two of each kind to sell, as we refuse to supply them.

Ask these storekeepers to sell you, say, a dozen Lanterns—they cannot deliver them to you. Put this statement of ours to the test, and you'll find it exactly as we state.

THE CHANGE FOR THE WORSE.

It would seem now that the doctors presumed too much upon the strength of President McKinley, and were over-hasty in their assumption as to the condition of his injured stomach. Doubtless they did not administer nourishment before they thought he needed it, but evidently they overestimated the significance of the favorable symptoms. It is easy to believe the physicians saw the necessity of doing what they could to make up for the drain upon the patient's vitality. But the apparently unlooked-for inability of the digestive organs to discharge their function only tended to increase the strain, instead of lessening it.

The very high register of the patient's pulse, which continued long after other favorable conditions had inspired his attendants with confidence, must have been an occasion of alarm. The President was a large man, inclined to a full habit of body, a condition which of itself imposes an extra strain upon the heart. It was even stated before the last election that Mr. McKinley was advised not to be a candidate for another term on the ground that his heart showed signs of not being able to stand the strain of an arduous campaign. If there is any truth in that story it may go far to explain the sudden collapse of yesterday.

A BRITISH VIEW.

The London Economist displays considerable interest in the Canadian census, regarding it, as becomes a paper so-named, chiefly for the lesson it teaches in respect of the relations between Canada and the United States. The Economist agrees with the rest of us in charging a goodly share of the loss of population to the contiguity of the States. It finds the crossing of a parallel of latitude in search of superior opportunities a very easy matter, not appreciably more difficult, in fact, than it would be if the parallel were not an international boundary at all. The observation throws a somewhat new light upon the subject, for it suggests the reflection that if the parallel were not a boundary at all the movement of population would still be southward, and that in all likelihood it would be accelerated rather than retarded. However, there the movement is, reducing our rate of growth by one half, and, as the Economist points out, everything we do to make living in Canada more agreeable seems to contribute to our loss. If we build railways, the railways make it so much easier for our people to emigrate. If we establish a manufacturing industry at great sacrifice, the industry trains hundreds or thousands of young men to a point where they can command high wages in the States. If we bring our common school system up to the point of perfection, what we accomplish is to provide the youth of the land with tastes they can best gratify in American cities. Population increases as we would wish it to only in those parts where people go upon the land and deliberately cut themselves off from such advantages.

Naturally, the Economist is interested in knowing what we propose to do about it. Here is its summary of the situation: "The Imperialist newspapers declare that in the light of the figures nothing remains for England, if she wishes to see Canada prosper, but to concede preferential duties, that is to revert to the policy of coddling the colonies and obstructing trade with foreign countries, which she abandoned over fifty years ago." So far the Economist has observed rightly, for it describes not only the official policy of the Conservative party and the declarations of its principal newspaper supporters, but also the attitude of men like Hon. G. W. Ross, Hon. David Mills, and Principal Grant, who seem to think that although we Canadians cannot devise means for retaining our own natural increase of population or any of the immigration that comes to our shores, Great Britain is under obligation to see that our population is augmented by taking means to keep British emigrants from going to the States, and to have them settle here instead. But there is a curious counterpart to the foregoing statement over which one may be pardoned a smile. "Those Canadians," it says, "who are not Imperialists in the Howard Vincent sense reply that if the British artisan were once more compelled to carry the Canadian farmer on his back the disintegration of the Empire would be merely a question of time and one or two general elections." The fact is that in this country such expressions of opinion are never heard above a whisper. Those who believe that the British artisan would be a fool to take up such a burden take the ground that if he chooses to do so the loss might be his, but the profit, as long as there was any profit, would be ours, and that there is no use standing in our own light. They have not yet got to the point of inquiring whether an interference with the British Free Trade system might diminish the value of the British market, or even to speculate about the return that the Government of Great Britain would be bound to exact for such a concession by its people. We must conclude that the opinions the Economist ascribes to Canadians are, at least so far as expression is concerned, wholly its own, and it may even be worth noting that it is evidently grateful for another's cloak in which to dress them. Nevertheless it is quite true that the Economist has very well described the aims of the Canadian Conservative party and indicated not unfairly its probable consequence. It only remains to organize a similar party in Great Britain and the consolidation of the Empire on a mutually predatory basis can be gotten under way, as soon as the parties are in office together.

ALL READY FOR THE DUKE.

There is every indication that Montreal will rise to the occasion when the royal visitors reach the city. The arches are going up, public and private buildings are being covered with incandescent lamps, the civic authorities are going about their work in a businesslike way that augurs well for the proper carrying out of all the arrangements they have in hand, and the citizens generally accept the increasing nearness of the visit with a calm confidence which shows that their preparations are already made. The spectacle at Quebec will probably be the choice morsel of the whole Canadian visit, for Quebec seems to have been constructed by nature with a view to the success of pageants. But if Mount Royal does not push its nose clear to the river bank, there are at its feet as many people as in any three other Canadian cities put together, and the Duke and Duchess will see and be seen by such multitudes as they probably did not expect. The route chosen for the procession is an excellent one, affording as it does ample accommodation for all without risk of accident or interference with traffic. The people of Montreal will make the visit one to be remembered to his latest day by the heir to the throne.

Music and the Drama

It was worth while braving the rain last night to hear the wonderful ensemble singing of the Westminster Abbey concert party; it was very well worth while, if only to listen to the solos of the most gifted boy soprano who has ever appeared in this city.

Harold Davis is a boy of possibly twelve years old, whose voice is purer, sweeter and truer than either Blatchford Kavanagh or Earl Gulich, the two best-known American boy singers. To the regret of all those who heard him last night, he appeared only once as a soloist. So appreciative was the reception he received that he sang a second song instead of repeating the last verse of the first, as was wisely done by the other singers. The second selection, "Spring is Come," was undoubtedly the best received of all the evening's numbers.

As a background for the brilliant work of the boy soprano, nothing could have been more effective or appropriate than the magnificent singing of the sextette of older members of the choir. It was quite the most artistic ensemble work ever heard in this city. Mr. Edward Branscombe, Dan Price and Robert Hilton were also heard to advantage in solos, as was Madame Marie Hooton.

Paul Johnson, the Scotch humorist and lecturer, will speak this evening in Windsor Hall on "Woman's Rights."

Schlatter, the "Divine Healer," next Sunday gives the first of his series of lectures at Drummond Hall. His subject will be "Modern Infidelity."

William A. Brady's "Way Down East" will be seen in this city for the second time at the Academy next week. It is quite as realistic a study of rural life as "The Old Homestead."

"The Scarlet Lancers," or "Bootles' Baby," will be produced at Proctor's next week. It will be retained for the entire week, with little Althea Burrows, the child actress, in a prominent role.

"Miss," a dramatization of one of Bret Harte's best known stories, comes to the Francais next week. Nellie McHenry will be at the head of the company.

The Utopian Burlesque Company comes to the Royal next week.

A DOCTOR'S SUDDEN DEATH

St. John, N.B., Sept. 13.—(Special.)—Dr. J. H. Morrison, who was suing the Street Railway Company, died very suddenly at 10.30 this morning. On Thursday afternoon the case was adjourned until Monday because of Dr. Morrison's illness. Doctors worked with him all day and night, but he sank gradually. Death was due to an overdose of morphine which the doctor had been taking. He had been in constant pain ever since his accident, and the trial was such a strain on his nerves that he could not sleep and began taking morphine. It is not believed that he contemplated suicide, but rather over-estimated his capacity to absorb the drug. Dr. Morrison was one of the leading oculists in the city, and enjoyed a large practice. His death will end the case.

NOVEL MILITARY INSTRUMENT

(London Post.)

Our Rome correspondent states that an Italian officer, General Gilletta, who has been for some time engaged in studying the effect of smokeless powder on military tactics, has succeeded in inventing an instrument called an acoustic telemeter, with which he claims to be able to locate the position of guns or riflemen whose discharges may be invisible not only to the naked eye, but also to field glasses. The instrument shows the direction from which the sound of the detonation proceeds, as well as the approximate distance at which the firing has taken place. The Italian War Office has ordered several of these instruments to be constructed at the military engineering works of Pavia, so as to be able to make experiments with them during the next grand manoeuvres.

Military critics express a doubt that the telemeter can be of much practical use except on a perfectly clear day when no wind is blowing. Without waiting for the grand manoeuvres a test might easily be made in Rome any day of the week. At midday a cannon is fired from Castle Santangelo to warn all Romans that it is 12 o'clock. When the wind is in the right quarter the report of the cannon shakes the windows of houses a mile away; when the wind is in the opposite direction the report is usually inaudible; yet the distance is always the same. General Gilletta's telemeter, our correspondent adds, will not be much good unless it can gauge the strength of the wind and indicate the variations in the strength of the report likely to be produced by variations in the wind.

THE MONTREAL HERALD'S PORTRAIT GALLERY

MR. JUSTICE DESMARAIS.

The new judge of the Superior Court for the District of Three Rivers is a comparatively young man, being only in his forty-eighth year. He was born at Joliette, and comes from an old Norman family, one of the members of which was a son-in-law of Champlain. He was educated at Joliette College, and graduated from McGill University in law in 1876. He took up the practice of law in St. Hyacinthe, and became identified with that city. He was a councillor for two years, filled several positions in local societies, and did a good deal of journalistic work. From 1890 to 1892 he represented St. Hyacinthe in the Legislature. Removing to Montreal in the latter year he began the practice of law here, and particularly distinguished himself in the defence of Demers, accused of murder. From 1896, until his appointment to the Bench in June, he was returned for St. James division by an overwhelming majority, which he increased when he was re-elected last November.

Old Guilds and Modern Trade Unions

BY H. B. DRUMMOND-HASTINGS.

VI.

It is not to our credit that one of the chief social forces of the age is almost unknown in its operations or in the significance of its organization. Of all human movements in the wonderful world drama of which we are spectators less reliable information has been scientifically tabulated or put in an understandable form than that connected with that portion of the labor movement known as Trade Unionism. Common hearsay, gossip of the club or street, ignorant and false generalizations gathered from particular instances of foolish or necessary strikes, and the still more foolish methods taken to repress them form as a rule the basis of all arguments against this unparalleled social movement. The deliverances of university professors, of political economy when dealing with this subject being generally based upon an ideal conception of combination and competition which in practice does not exist, are not to be relied upon, and are worse than useless as evidence either for or against the benefits of the organized struggle of the masses to attain larger leisure and more economic resources. Voluminous proceedings of Royal Commissions and select committees seldom end in any theoretic judgments, or practical conclusions of scientific value, and yet every thinker knows how necessary and indispensable is a thorough and complete knowledge of any social fact to an accurate apprehension of its functions and psychology. Great, however, as are the difficulties that confront us in studying this question for want of necessary data it is nevertheless possible by careful investigation to ascertain some definite facts of this, the greatest social investment of the age which in the course of living memory has attained to gigantic proportions, become possessed of millions of capital, and is daily developing a deeper political complexion and democratic structure, and contributing in no small measure to the world's councils that specialist experience of manual labor without which any state regulation of industry can neither be popular or efficient.

Differ From Guilds.

Many plausible theories have been advanced as to trade unions being the lopsided representatives of the old guilds, and direct outgrowths of the guild system and government, but on comparing the rules and ordinances of the old craft guilds with the rules and regulations of any of the modern trade unions, it will be seen that they are sufficiently distinct to show that while the unions are the successors they are in no way the representatives of the old guilds, and the one fact that in no single instance did a withdrawal of the masters from the craft guilds leaving the government to the workmen ever take place, is sufficient proof of this. On the contrary the masters always remained paramount in the guild for their own protection, and as we have already seen, the more effectually to restrain the influence of the workmen, and when the guilds were suppressed and their ordinances failed to have any binding effect, the whole system became crystallized into trade customs which had the force of law, in fact the later guild associations, both in England and on the Continent, sought in every way to destroy combinations of workmen, and statutes were passed with the view of stamping out their existence; but the real germ of the trade union of to-day is seen in the many confederacies and combinations that were formed during the closing years of guild life and history, but it can easily be understood how enormous were the difficulties in the way of a labor organization that should be to the workman what the guilds had been to the masters. Some attempts at a definite combination of workmen to protect their trade interests appear to have been made by the Nottingham Frame Work Knitters in 1710, and again in 1725, but owing to the laws then existing against combination and conspiracy were easily defeated by the masters. As far back as 1562 a very praiseworthy attempt had been made by Parliament to cope with the troubles and constant difficulties that beset the workmen owing to the abuses and exactions of the masters in the "Statute of Apprentices" of 5 Elizabeth C 4, and whatever flaws later experience found in this celebrated enactment, its wise and humane provisions offers a striking contrast to the 70 repressive chapters of legislation on this subject, which degraded the statute book of England from the date of the notorious State of Laborers in 1349 down to the 4th of Philip and Mary in 1558. According to this statute of Elizabeth no one could lawfully exercise any art, mystery or manual occupation except he had served seven years thereat as an apprentice. Every householder dwelling in a city or corporate town was allowed to take apprentices who were not over 21 years of age, but whoever had three apprentices was also obliged to employ one journeyman, and an extra journeyman for every three further apprentices. Also, no master was allowed to hire a journeyman for a less period than one year, and even then he was not to be discharged without three months warning. The act also fixed the hours of work which were to be twelve in summer, and from sunrise to sunset in winter. The wages were to be settled by the justices of the peace or town magistrates at every quarter session first holden after Easter, and ranged from £3 to £10 per annum, with board and lodging and the same regulations held the power to settle all disputes between employers and employed, and also protect the apprentices from any undue exactions on the part of the masters. It is, therefore, evident that while this statute was truly and conscientiously carried out the legal status both of workmen and apprentice was secured, and so there was at that time no need of combinations amongst the workmen, because this legislative code superseded all guild laws and ordinances, substituting a wise and practical way of dealing with the then existing industries, and section 2 of this act repealed many of the specially oppressive statutes that had been passed between the reigns of the Third Edward and Henry VIII. It sought also to regulate and control the ever varying conditions of industrial life, and although it had defects that were natural and inherent, yet taking into consideration the age and circumstances of the times, and the previous unwise and oppressive legislation, it was on the whole a wise and beneficent measure, an almost ideal code of labor laws protecting at once the interest of the workman and the master by whom he was employed, and it was the non-observance of the regulations of this statute and the negligence and disregard of the authorities in carrying out its provisions that caused the introduction and originations of those combinations of the laborer and craftsman that finally developed into the trade unions as we now know them. One of the principal provisions of this statute that was the first to be disregarded, was the question of the assessment of wages, which led as might have been expected, to various oppressions by the masters.

Caused Combination.

This caused the workmen to combine in a body so as to bring pressure upon the magistrates to make them enforce the provisions referring to this subject. Upon their declining to do so considerable disturbances ensued, especially amongst the woollen weavers, and so we find in 1725 an Act of George I c. 34, prohibiting under severe penalties, combinations of workmen, but ordering the justices to again fix the rate of wages. Again in 1756 the workmen had to make fresh complaints against the masters for non-fulfilment of the act, and petitioned the justices to at once remedy this state of things, as they were empowered to do. But the masters also counter-petitioned, alleging that the state of trade was such that they were unable to abide by the statute. The justices, therefore, declined to carry out the Act as they should have done, and the consequence was that revolts broke out amongst the workmen in various parts of England, looms were destroyed and damage was done according to the minutes of the Journal of the House of Commons on this subject to the extent of £20,000. This caused another act to be passed, the 29 of George II., ch. 33, once more ordering the justices to fix the workmen's wage, and a patched up peace between the workmen and masters was established. But it is easy to see the masters were dissatisfied with the existing state of things and were anxious and determined, if possible, to get this Act of Elizabeth repealed, and skirmishes were frequently occurring in all trades, but in ever case at the instigation or through the desire of the masters to override the Act. If the masters had but loyally observed its provisions there would not, as we have already seen, have been any necessity of agitation or combination amongst the workmen, for in that case the workmen would have had regularity of employment assured, and the restrictions as to apprentices would have prevented undue competition, while according to the intention of the Act, "the magistrates were to assess the wages so as to yield unto the hired workman both in time of scarcity and time of pletny, a convenient proportion of wages," moreover the hours of work as fixed by the Act were not excessive, neither was the manner of carrying on the trade as exhaustive as we now find it.

The Woollen Trade.

The woollen trade, being at this time the staple trade of the country, affords a good example of the exactions practised by the masters at this date in other industries. One hundred years ago this trade was principally carried on by small masters in their own homes, and who had all served their seven years' apprenticeship. The cloth being manufactured was taken to one of the regular cloth halls to be examined and measured, and reported on by the authorities. In Leeds there were two of these halls, one for white and one for colored cloths. There were also cloth halls at Halifax, Bradford and other cloth centres, under the direction of trustees, who were triennially elected from amongst the most reputable of the manufacturers by the cloth workers of the adjoining villages. Their principal duties were to watch over the general trade interests and see that all the rules and regulations in force for the government of the halls were truly carried out, and no master or manufacturer was allowed to bring his cloth into the halls for sale unless he could produce his indentures showing that he had served his seven years' apprenticeship. If trade became slack the master worked on stock, but did not discharge his workmen on account of insufficiency of work, and the witnesses examined by a committee of the House of Commons testified that at this date it was unknown for a workman to be discharged because his master could not give him employment. The introduction of machinery, however, altered all this, and completely revolutionized the relations hitherto existing between the workman and his master. Water power was utilized to serve the mills now erected, and the various processes of manufacture, formerly performed on these cloths, many of the masters became capitalists, and erected their own plant and machinery, and the alienation had a most damaging effect upon the condition of the workman. Apprentices were no longer bound as heretofore for seven years to their trade, and in addition to the class of workmen now growing up who had also served no apprenticeship, women and children were employed in large numbers whose labor being cheaper, decreased the wages of the skilled workmen. Masters also were now admitted to the cloth halls without any necessary qualifications, and violation of the old laws and customs were of frequent occurrence. This led the weavers in the Yorkshire towns in 1796 to bind themselves together into a union, or, as they then called it, an institution, to prevent any one carrying on a trade in violation of the laws hitherto existing. This combination of workmen led to the passing of the act of 39 of George III., ch. 106, prohibiting, and severely punishing, any combination of workmen whatsoever. They therefore secretly enrolled themselves into professed friendly societies for the assistance of sick members. The masters in turn now set to work in earnest to get the 5th of Elizabeth repealed, and petitions to Parliament were signed for the purpose urging the fact that there were now no master manufacturers and but few journeymen who had passed a seven years' apprenticeship, and that masses of workmen would become paupers and a charge upon the counties if the 4th chapter of the 5th of Elizabeth was enforced. Upon these petitions being presented to the House of Commons, they allowed the act to be suspended for one year, and all prosecutions for violating its provisions were stopped. This suspension was renewed yearly until the final repeal of the law in 1809. Well might Adam Smith say that the rights of the workmen are always overridden by the necessities of the masters, or, as the report of the committee of the House of Commons which was appointed to inquire into the best measures to be adopted for the relief of the calico printers, said: "The legislation of the past years for the working classes had operated only in favor of the strong against the weak. Everything has been made subservient to the interests of the masters, and exclusively, too; for the diminution of expense, considerable as it is, the manufacture arising out of their multiplication of apprentices at reduced wages and the introduction of machinery, do not appear to have produced any reduction in the price of the fabric to the consumer."

In the Whirl of the World

The Branching Aster.

The queenly chrysanthemum has a rival, and a dangerous one, in the race for popular favor. It is the branching aster, and its adherents say that whatever the new aster lacks when compared with the beauties of the chysanthemum it is more than made up by other advantages. The appearance of this rival in the field is due to the ingenuity and the perseverance of man. The patience of flower lovers and flower growers is proverbial, and the many tricks they can and do play upon the unconscious blossoms are a marvel to the uninitiated. The epigram that "nature is the source of beauty" has no longer the stamp of absolute truth, for man so assists her that she can scarcely recognize her own handiwork.

About ten years ago there were sent to some seedsmen a few seeds of an aster with a tendency to branch which was far stronger than existed in any species of aster then grown. The seeds came from a white aster, and the first plants developed bore all white flowers. Then from these seeds "sports" began to appear, the first being a dark purple. After this came other "sports" till now these beautiful flowers are produced in purple, lavender, rose, pink and white.

These beautiful plants, in the opinion of some, actually threaten to oust the chrysanthemum, from her proud position, and, when comparison is made, they have several points in their favor. They are annuals, easily grown from seed, and blossom freely through the late summer, long before chrysanthemums have waked up enough to start out their buds. They require only ordinary care, and the great variety of colors makes them most attractive for cutting. A couple of seeds in a six-inch pot, will make a bush of beauty, a splendid ornament for house or porch.

Negro Lightning Calculators.

"One of the oddest things I came across in my wanderings," said a traveller recently returned from the West Indies, "was the extraordinary aptitude of negro children for mental arithmetic. I visited a good many of the public schools and saw some astounding exhibitions of this faculty which is probably the last with which one would credit the grandchildren of African savages, as many of the West Indian negro children are. The currency of the islands is, of course, British, so that calculations of any sort are more complicated than with us. Yet an inspector or visitor can ask a school full of ragged urchins what would be the cost of seven gross of handkerchiefs at fivepence three farthings apiece and receive the answer almost as soon as the words are out of his mouth, and doubtless long before he had himself worked it out. This can be kept up all day, to the great enjoyment of the children who regard that sort of thing as sport.

"The same children, when confronted with a reader, may make sad work of it, and seem certainly little above the average. Even when made to do sums on a slate they are not brighter than most white children. Perhaps that statement should be qualified, for there is no doubt that the children of pure-blooded Africans develop phenomenally for the first five or six years of their lives, and, indeed, until twelve or thirteen years old, are fully the equals, intellectually, of white children. I have never seen white babies as intelligent as some of these negro infants at the same age. But when past twelve their minds seem full grown and it is not easy to teach them except in cases here and there. All these observations, however, apply to children of negroes whose parents or grandparents were brought from Africa when full grown.

"There are many West Indian negroes who do not speak English, and there are large societies named according to the part of Africa from which the members or their parents came. A Nangobar, for instance, would not think of joining a Congo society. So they all stand much nearer to Africa than do our negroes, which makes the observation of their characteristics very interesting. Unfortunately, they do not seem to retain to any marked degree this faculty for rapid calculation when they reach manhood. And even if they did they would be so backward in other respects that their value as clerks would be slight."

Boers and the Bible.

Mr. Kruger's cable to his Pretoria relatives who inquired what was to be done with the ex-President's house now it was no longer tenanted by the late Mrs. Kruger was: 'Read Proverbs vii., verses 19, 20":— "For the goodman is not at home, he has gone a long journey.

"He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed."

Under Kruger's rule every South African editor found the Bible an indispensable book of reference, most proclamations from Pretoria containing Biblical allusions, now prompted a correspondent to a Leeds. The latest cable sent by Mr. Kruger has warden (Holland) paper to enumerate a number of Scriptural messages exchanged by the Boer leaders just before the surrender of Cronje.

On February 25, 1900, Mr. Kruger telegraphed to General Christian De Wet (who was to rescue Cronje): "Notify Cronje that large reinforcements are on the road, and he will be released. Psalm xxii., 21," which reads:—

"Save me from the lion's mouth, for Thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns."

De Wet heliographed Cronje the same day at 12.20 p.m.: "President telegraphs 'Stand firm'; large reinforcements are approaching. As soon as they arrive we shall attack at dawn on the north. Psalm lxiv., 7."

Crone repiied with Psalm xx., 7, also mentioning incidentally that his food supplies were getting short, to which the ingenious De Wet retorted: "Psalm lix., 15.":—

"Let them wander up and down for meat, and grude if they be not satisfied."

But Cronje grew impatient; De Wet's promised convoy of food was long in coming, and he again heliographed, "Psalm xx., 7":—

"Some trust in chariots and some in horses; but we will remember the name of the Lord our God."

No relief coming on the morning of the 26th, General Cronje heliographed: "The enemy has been enormously reinforced: I am hard pressed. Psalm iii., 1":—

"Lord, how are they increased that trouble me! Many are they that rise up against me."

The unhappy general's final message to De Wet was at 4.10 on the afternoon of the 26th: "Bombardment terrible; enormous losses. Majority of the burghers clamoring capitulation. Psalm lx., 11":—

"Lord give us help from trouble; for vain is the help of man."

But this message was captured by Lord Roberts, who is generally credited on the Continent with having heliographed to both De Wet and Cronje: "Psalm lxxxiii., 9, 10, 11":—

"But those that seek my soul to destroy it shall go into the lower parts of the earth.

"They shall fall by the sword; they shall be a portion for foxes.

"But the King shall rejoice in God; every one that sweareth by him shall glory; but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped."

Most of the verses have been most aptly chosen, and in many cases convey the meaning of the sender as perfectly as a long message sent over the wires in the usual way.

TORONTO.—Mr. John F. Taylor, head of the big firm of Taylor Bros., piano manufacturers, who failed recently, died yesterday. The misfortunes of the firm, which has been a leading one in the city's mercantile history, are believed to have hastened his end. Mr. Taylor was 59 years old.

LIQUOR AND DIVORCE LAWS

Synod Yesterday Took Up at Some Length Both Questions.

The liquor traffic and the marriage of divorced persons were the questions which occupied the attention of the Provincial Synod yesterday. After the whole of the morning session and the greater part of the afternoon had been taken up with the former question, it was finally settled by voting down the Gothenburg idea and adopting a resolution urging the clergy and laity, both by example and influence, to do all in their power to influence public opinion in the matter, and the establishment in every parish of branches of the Church of England Temperance Society, and the bringing of pressure to bear upon the proper authorities to bring about a reduction in the number of licences.

The re-marriage of divorced persons is a matter that has occupied attention at many sittings of the Diocesan and Provincial Synods, and yesterday the step was taken of adopting a resolution adding to canon 16 a paragraph debarring any clergyman of this ecclesiastical province from knowingly marrying persons either or both of whom had been previously married and had been divorced, during the lifetime of the other party to the first marriage, without reference to the ordinary, except where such persons desired to be reunited to each other.

It will be three years, however, before the canon, as amended, will come into operation, as it will have to come up for confirmation, after being amended as called for by the resolution, at the next Provincial Synod.

The question was brought up by a memorial from the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal, asking that the synod of the ecclesiastical province might be pleased, at its present session, to enact some definite, unmistakable and universal rule for the guidance and instruction of the clergy touching the re-marriage of divorced persons.

Dr. L. H. Davidson made a motion, seconded by Chancellor Walkhem, that the prayer of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal be granted, and the question was warmly debated.

Judge McDonald held that in these days, when the standard of morality seemed to be getting lower and lower, the synod should declare unswervingly upon the question, and declare emphatically that in this ecclesiastical province there should be no marriage of divorced persons.

Several spoke very strongly in support of the right of the innocent party to marry again, basing their argument upon the well-known passage in Matthew dealing with the subject.

Mr. N. M. Hoyles pointed out that if the canon was amended as proposed, such amendment would have to come up for confirmation at the next synod, three years hence. The General Synod, he pointed out, would meet in Ottawa next year, and as it could legislate at once, and its decision would be binding, it would be well to refer the matter to that body. By adopting the motion before the house, the synod would be putting itself in opposition to the law of the land, and decide a question that the Lambeth Conference had not passed upon, and that some other religious bodies, which were sometimes thought something of, had not ruled upon. He moved as a sub-amendment: "That this synod does not deem it advisable to legislate upon the memorial of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal, but desires that the General Synod be requested to pronounce on the question."

This was seconded by Canon Low, who said that he should like to see a law upon this important subject prevail from the Atlantic to the Pacific. It would be a very bad thing if that Synod legislated one way and the western province another. Canada would then be in the same mess as the United States, where a man by just popping over into another state could obtain what he desired.

The amendment, however, was lost, and Dr. Davidson's main motion carried, the vote being:—Clergy—73 yeas, 16 nays; laity, 24 yeas, 17 nays.

Dr. Davidson's motion as adopted was: "That the prayer of the memorial of the Synod of the Diocese of Montreal be granted, and it be resolved that the following paragraph be added to Canon 16, within the prohibited degrees: 'No clergyman of this ecclesiastical province shall knowingly solemnize a marriage between persons, either or both of whom have been previously married, and have been divorced, during the lifetime of the other party to the first marriage, without reference to the ordinary, except where such persons desire to be reunited to each other.'"

TOOK CHANGE AND CIGARS

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock a discerning burglar, a young man about 21 years of age, entered the cigar store at 617a Dorchester street, owned by Rene Gareau. There was nobody in the store, and he helped himself liberally, taking all the ready change and filling his pockets with cigars, when Madame Gareau appeared, and he decamped with somewhat undignified haste after he had struck her in the face and emptied her pockets. He has not yet been caught. The amount of his stealings was $2.75, besides cigars.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY

William Latter, of St. Urbain street, and Arthur McCleave, of Emily street, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Lafontaine to charges of burglary on the property of Mr. Try-Davies, 99 St. Famille street, and George Taylor, of 1174 St. Denis street, whom they allege to be their accomplice, pleaded "not guilty," and the three will come up in the Court of Special Sessions on next Tuesday, the 17th inst.

HONORABLY ACQUITTED.

In the Court of King's Bench yesterday John Seymour Allen was honorably acquitted of the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses from the American Dressing Company. Mr. Justice Ouimet, who presided, withdrew the case from the jury, as he said there was no evidence against him.

Charles Beaudoin was found guilty of breaking into the residence of Mr. Thomas Davidson, in Westmount, and stealing several articles of value. Two other charges, one of housebreaking and another of attempting to escape lawful custody, have been made against him. He pleaded not guilty.

You Have Catarrh.

You have had it a long time. Probably it is getting worse, but still you neglect it. Neglect it despite the fact that this is the best season of the year to cure Catarrh. It's easily and permanently cured by the very pleasant, medicated air treatment, "Catarrhozone." You must know the name, for everybody is talking of its wonderful cures. Catarrhozone is the only remedy that promptly, effectually, always cures Catarrh. Doctors recommend it, and druggists sell it in two sizes, 25c and $1.00.

KINGS OF THE KEY AT BANQUET BOARD

Old Time Telegraphers and Their Friends Dine at the Windsor.

Four hundred old time telegraphers and their guests sat down to a splendid banquet in the Windsor hotel last night. This is the twenty-first annual dinner of the order and was worthy of the order. It was served in the ladies' ordinary of the Windsor Hotel in the best style of that famous hostelry. Mr. L. B. McFarlane, of Montreal, president of the old time Telegraphers Association, was at the head of the table, and beside him were Major Bittinger, Consul-General of the United States, Mr. W. C. Burton, of New York, and Mr. H. P. Dwight, president and general manager of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company.

When the last of many courses had been despatched President McFarlane proposed the health of "The King," which was drunk with musical honors. Then Mr. W. C. Burton was appointed toast master and proposed the health of President McKinley. This was responded to by Consul-General Bittinger, who said the civilized world was shocked at the attempt which had been made upon the life of the President, and nations everywhere united with the people of the United States in praying for his speedy and safe recovery.

Speeches were also made by Mr. H. P. Dwight, president of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, William Maver, electrical expert, of New York; Col. William B. Wilson, president of the United States Military Corps; Mr. O'Leary, of New York; Mr. W. H. McLea Walbank, manager of the Lachine Hydraulic Works; Hon. Mr. McKay, of St. John's, Nfld., president of the Anglo-American Cable Company, and Senator W. L. Ives, of New York.

Songs were sung by Mr. Samuel Crodder and Miss Fanny Meyer.

During the evening messages were received from Mr. George H. Corse, of Ogden, the newly elected president, and from Mr. Belvedier Brooks, of Denver, the new vice-president.

CHAMBRE DE COMMERCE

The Chambre de Commerce held a meeting yesterday afternoon, with Mr. L. E. Geoffrion in the chair. Among those present were D. Masson, A. Surveyer, C. P. Chagnon, A. V. Roy, D. Parizeau, Phon. Alp. Desjardins, C. H. Catelli, Jos. Fortier, F. J. Granger, J. B. A. Lanctot, and F. Sauvageau.

It was announced that the railway companies would probably give reduced rates to the persons who would have to come from a distance to attend the banquet to be given in October to Hon. J. I. Tarte. Mr. J. X. Perrault spoke of the ports in the Province of Quebec, at Quebec city and at Three Rivers, and stated that Montreal had no reason to fear. Nevertheless that was no reason why delay should be allowed and all improvements to our harbor should be pushed vigorously. The speaker also referred to the recent census, deploring the weakness of the Canadian poulation. He proposed, seconded by Mr. Lanctot, that a committee composed of Messrs. Morin, Parisean, and Desjardins be appointed to study the means of preventing emigration.

FIRE-PROOF WOOD

The Electric Fireproofing Company gave a public exhibition of the efficiency of its product—fire-proof wood—on the Champ de Mars yesterday, before a large assemblage of prominent and influential citizens. Two small houses had been erected some distance apart, near the centre of the square. One was constructed of ordinary wood, while the other was composed entirely of wood that had been treated by the company's process. Large piles of shavings were placed against both structures, and, after being thoroughly saturated with benzine these were set on fire. The flames immediately leaped high in the air. They soon took hold of the ordinary wood, but it was some time before they made any appreciable impression on the other. The latter charred but would not burn. The wood treated by this company whose works at Cote St. Paul were formally opened yesterday, takes between five and six weeks to prepare, and a large company of guests, accompanied by Mr. Percival St. George to the works in special electric cars to have the process explained.

BADLY IN NEED OF MONEY.

The Road Committee, which has all year been pinched for lack of funds, decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon, to appeal to the Finance Committee for an additional appropriation. Five thousand dollars is required. City Surveyor Barlow reported that the $3,000 appropriation for repairs to sewers was entirely exhausted. No money was now available to repair any caved-in or choked up sewer, though demands for the same were received every day, and the department was utterly unable to attend to them. Last June a further appropriation of money was asked for, but was not obtained. Mr. Barlow concluded by saying the city was leaving itself open for heavy damages. The amount voted for these repairs this year was only one-half that voted last year.

QUEBEC EXHIBITION AND THE ROYAL TOUR.

For the Quebec Exhibition, tickets will be sold by the Intercolonial Railway at one way first-class fare for the round trip, good going September 14th to 21st inclusive, and good to return until the 23rd inclusive. This will give passengers an opportunity of seeing the exhibition and also permit them to be present during the time of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York.—Adv.

D. W. MILLS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—The preliminary hearing of a case of much interest to Canadian cattlemen was concluded here yesterday when Magistrate Baker committed D. W. Mills to stand his trial at the Assizes, on the charge of fraudulently disposing of cattle belonging to Premier Roblin, for whom Mills had been acting as partner or agent. The trial has occupied three days. Before the court adjourned the clerk read another charge against Mills which charged him with stealing cattle to the value of between $3,000 and $4,000 at Calgary. Hearing of this case is fixed for next week.

BROKE COURT WINDOWS

The windows of the Recorders' Court were broken last night by stone-throwers. About 10 o'clock Lieut. Murphy, who was in charge of the central police station, was notified that the sound of breaking glass could be heard on the side opposite the Champ de Mars. An examination showed that several windows had been broken. The floor was covered with stones and broken glass. The police kept a watch on the Champ de Mars for the balance of the night, but the offenders did not appear again.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY IS IN A VERY CRITICAL CONDITION

He Had a Sinking Spell at Two O'Clock.

DRUGS WERE NECESSARY TO STIMULATE HEART

The Physicians Will Say No More Than That He Has a Fighting Chance.

Buffalo, Sept. 13, 2.58 a.m.—President McKinley experienced a sinking spell shortly after 2 o'clock. The physicians are administering restoratives to him with the hope of reviving him. A general call has gone out to the physicians and the members of the Cabinet now in the city. Dr. Park reached the house at 2.50, and shortly after him came Secretaries Hitchcock and Wilson.

The Associated Press has been authorized to say that President McKinley is critically ill.

Buffalo, Sept. 13, 2.48 a.m.—Abner McKinley, brother of the President, was called to the house at 2.40. He came by carriage, and passed into the house at once.

A messenger was despatched at the same time to summon two absent nurses. The impression is created that the President has taken a serious turn for the worse, but an expression from those within the house was unobtainable.

Several messengers were hurried from the house, and it was understood that they carried despatches to the absent members of the Cabinet, and the kin of the President. Additional lights burn in the Milburn home, and the household is astir.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 3 o'clock all of the physicians were gathered at the bedside of the President. It was stated that digitalis was being administered to the President.

A GRAVE CRISIS.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Beyond the statement that the President is critically ill, no further announcement has been authorized, but it is manifest that the wounded President faces a grave and menacing crisis. Alarm can be read in the actions of those to whose nursing and care he is committed. The scene about the house is a dramatic one.

The attendants can be seen hurrying about behind the unshaded and brightly lighted windows, and messengers come and go hastily through the guarded door. Outside half a hundred newspaper correspondents are assembled awaiting a word that may carry sorrow to a nation.

3.16 a.m.—It is understood that aside from digitalis no other restorative has been used.

Mrs. McWilliams drove to the Milburn house at 3.25. As she alighted from her carriage she said:—

"I was told the President was much worse, and asked to come to the house at once."

3.25 a.m.—The following bulletin was issued by the President's physicians at 2.50 a.m.:—The President's condition is very serious and gives rise to the gravest apprehensions. His bowels have moved well, but his heart does not respond properly to stimulation. He is conscious. The skin is warm and the pulse small, regular, easily compressible and 126; respiration, 30; temperature, 100.

(Signed) P. M. Rixey, M. D. Mann, Roswell Park, Herman Mynter, Eugene Wasdin, Charles G. Stockton, Geo. B. Cortelyou, secretary to the President.

DEATH AT ANY MOMENT.

3.45 a.m.—The President is so weak that he does not apparently suffer much. Strychnine, digitalis and other powerful heart stimulants do not produce effects, and the worst is feared. His death might occur at any time from heart exhaustion. Mrs. McKinley has not yet been informed of the change for the worse.

DIGESTIVE ORGANS FAIL.

Milburn House, Buffalo, September 13.—President McKinley began to sink shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, after a critical period of 12 hours in which alarm and hope, mingled in the emotions of those who surrounded him. Trouble began on the preceding afternoon through the failure of the digestive organs to perform their functions. The necessity for nourishment had been pressing for several days and the partial failure of artificial means had led to the adoption of natural means. The rectum, through which nourishment had been injected previous to Wednesday, became irritated and rejected the enemas. This forced the physicians to try to feed through the mouth, probably before the stomach was prepared. The first administration of beef juice through the mouth, however, seemed to agree with the patient and the physicians were highly gratified at the way the stomach seemed to receive the food.

Dr. McBurney was especially jubilant over the action of the stomach and yesterday morning before his departure for New York dwelt upon the fact that the stomach seemed to have resumed its normal functions. The breakfast of chicken broth, toast and coffee, given yesterday morning, was spoken of by all the physicians as strong evidence of the President's marked improvement. It was only when it became apparent late in the morning that his food had not agreed with the President that the first genuine anxiety appeared.

THE HEART AFFECTED.

The first note of alarm was sounded in the official bulletin yesterday afternoon which spoke of the President's fatigue. President McKinley, already weak from the ordeal of the tragedy and suffering, complained of an increasing feeling of fatigue. He had heretofore been so buoyant and cheerful that his complaints were seriously regarded. The pulse was then also abnormally high, 126 beats to the minute. With a temperature of 100.2 it should have been 30 beats lower. The weakness of the heart began to arouse serious concern. Instead of growing better the President's condition after that grew steadily worse.

PHYSICIANS HASTILY CALLED.

The staff of physicians, augmented by Dr. Stockton, who had temporarily taken the place of Dr. McBurney, was summoned early in the evening and there was a conference.

At 8.30 o'clock last night the physicians officially announced that the President's condition was not so good. The problem of disposing of the food in the stomach was becoming a serious one and the danger of heart failure increased. As midnight approached the situation was growing critical. Calomel and oil were given to flush the bowels and digitalis to quiet the heart. However, just before midnight the President had two operations of the bowels which relieved him very much and the midnight bulletin was more favorable. It stated that all the conditions had improved since the last bulletin.

APPREHENSION FELT.

It was believed then that the opening of the bowels would have the effect of allaying the wild pulsations of the heart. His pulse did drop to 120 and the prospect was slightly brighter. But owing to the President's extreme weakness and his fatigue, no attempt was made to conceal the serious apprehensions which was felt. The feeling of depression increased in volume and intensity.

Secretary Cortelyou insisted that the truth should be made public by the doctors, and the bulletins themselves were telling their unfortunate story too plainly. There was still hope that the patient would be better in the morning, and at midnight Secretary Cortelyou said it was not probable that another bulletin would be issued until then.

Hope came once more to the breasts of those who had waited for hours in anxiety. The physicians parted for the night, and every sign was a cheery one. There had been disquieting pulse action for several hours, but practically all of the unfavorable symptoms had been linked to the stomach trouble, and it was thought that they would probably disappear with the removal of the cause which was supposed to have created them. The unofficial reports at one o'clock and 1.30 o'clock were both of a satisfactory nature, and the watchers gathered about the house, prepared for an uninterrupted night.

POWERFUL DRUGS GIVEN.

Shortly after two o'clock the physicians and nurses detected a weakening of the heart action. The pulse fluttered and weakened and then sank toward collapse. The end appeared to be at hand. Restoratives were speedily applied and the physicians fought the battle with all the reserve forces of science. Action was immediate and decisive. Digitalis and strychnia were administered, and as a last resort saline solution was injected into the veins.

A general alarm went speeding to the consulting physicians and trained nurses as fast as messengers, the telegraph and telephone could carry it. The restoratives did not at once prove effective, and it was realized that the President was in an extremely critical condition. That realization with the shadow of death behind it led to another call, and that a summons to the Cabinet, relatives and close personal friends of the President. The messengers who returned with the doctors and nurses were hurried off after those within reach, and to those who were absent from the city telegrams conveying the painful tidings were quickly transmitted by telegraph.

FAMILY SUMMONED.

An automobile racing at top speed brought Dr. Mynter first. Dr. Mann came almost on his heels. Neither stopped for a word as they rushed in. After them came Abner McKinley, pale and agitated. He had left the house scarcely two hours before, and had departed with the assurance that the tide had turned in the case of his distinguished brother. He had been aroused from slumber by a messenger, who told him to come at once.

Dr. Wasdin's arrival completed the circle of physicians. The physicians after their consultation and the examination of the patient could offer little encouragement. He was very weak and his heart was so feeble that they feared lest his life might go out at any time. The bulletin they issued at 2.50 told of the very critical condition of the President.

Dr. Mann and Dr. Mynter left for their homes. Their only reassuring word was that they had not given up hope.

SPLENDID REPORTS AUXILIARY WORK

$106,865.49 Raised by Woman's Auxiliary in Three Years.

In the three years since the last triennial meeting, the Church of England Woman's Auxiliary working in seven dioceses has raised the sum of $106,865.49. Of this amount the total money for three years was $69,023.72, and the actual cash expended on new materials, church furnishings, freight, etc., mentioned by Dorcas secretary, for three years, $37,841.77. This statement was made yesterday at the afternoon session by the provincial treasurer, Mrs. Bell-Irvine. Amongst the items appears $3,226.20 for the education of missionaries' children, while $9,189.63 went to India, the famine fund alone receiving $5,972.61.

After devotional exercises, conducted by Mrs. Tilton, it was announced that Prince Edward Island had become an affiliated diocese, and the two representatives, Mrs. Simpson and Mrs. Halcutt, were introduced. Mrs. Tilton announced that a life membership had been presented to Mrs. Muckleston, of Ottawa, who was one of the original members of the W. A. The gratifying statement was made that the Triennial thank offering at the morning service amounted to $2,058.22. This is dedicated to work among the Chinese in British Columbia.

Mrs. David Denne, provincial recording secretary, read her report showing that there were now 633 branches of the Woman's Auxiliary, as opposed to 569 in 1898. The total number of members at the time of the last triennial was 12,172, while at present the number is 15,297, AND 318 LIFE MEMBERS.

The work done by each diocese was given as follows: Quebec gives towards the salary of lady medical missionary in Japan, and teacher at Onion Lake, and education of missionaries' children. Montreal supports Rev. Mr. Borut, and teacher at Onion Lake, contributes to salary of another, and nurse at Dyneoa hospital, teacher in Japan, and lady medical missionary in Najario. $100 to evangelization of Chinese in British Columbia, educates missionary's child, and helps in education of another. Supports five Bible women in India and Japan. Ottawa helps in support of a lady on Indian reserve, lady medical missionary, Japan, and matron of Gordon school, educates a missionary's child and supports three children in India. Ontario gives $150 a year to the Victoria Home for Indian children, assists in Miss Phillip's salary, and lady missionary in Japan, educates two children, helps towards another. Toronto supports three missionaries in Blackfoot hospital and two in Blackfoot Home, one at Lesser Slave Lake, and assists others in Japan. Educates several missionaries children, two Indian children, and teacher in India. Niagara assists in salary of three missionaries, one lady medical missionary in Japan, and educates missionary's son, and supports two Bible women in India. Huron supports in whole or part six lady missionaries, educates two missionaries children.

The interesting report of the corresponding secretary was presented by Mrs. Patterson Hall, who succeeded Mrs. E. St. George Baldwin, Toronto, as secretary. The report was therefore the work of both secretaries. Full particulars were given of the work of the W. A. in Japan, and reference made to the work sustained by Miss J. Smith's resignation. Touching reference was made to the death of Miss Frances Murray, of St. John, N.B., who was a prominent worker.

DORCAS REPORT INTERESTING.

Miss Halson, of Toronto, provincial Dorcas secretary, read an admirable report of the Dorcas work, which Mrs. Boomer, of London, referred to as the "backbone of the Auxiliary." The announcement was received with interest that the Diocese of Algoma has resolved to do with but little help in future, and that only for Indian missions and in special cases, in order that the assistance may be given to more distant and needy fields. Miss Halson reported that through the kindness of the Government a large amount of money for rebate on freight has been returned to missionaries. A total number of 1,989 bales has been sent out in the three years. The actual cash expended in connection with this work is given above in connection with the treasurer's report. Special mention was made of a number of suitable gifts to North-West hospitals, such as an operating chair, surgical instruments, etc.

Miss Tilley, of Toronto, junior secretary, reported that there are 158 branches and 3,632 members, doing a great amount of work. Miss Tilley, in conclusion, urged the strong need of educating the young in missionary matters. Mention was made of one young member, Miss May Cummings, who raised $75 for missionary work.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

After the adoption of reports Mrs. Tilton, the much-beloved Provincial President, rose to give her address, in which she referred to the many who had passed away in the 15 years since the first triennial was held. The important events of the past three years were touched upon. War, in which Canadians had shared the anxieties, had afflicted the nation, but the greatest event was the passing of the marvellous Victoria era, in the death of the Queen, whose beautiful life was an example to all women. The names of many who have passed away were tenderly mentioned, and in conclusion the president urged the spread of the missionary spirit, and the wider discrimination of missionary teaching. The address was accepted on motion of Mrs. Albert Holden, Montreal Diocesan President, all standing.

INDIAN CHILD MARRIAGE.

One of the most important questions of the meeting was brought forward by Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, of Toronto, in her report as convener of the committee on Indian affairs. Mrs. Cummings, besides giving statistics showing the number of Indians in Canada belonging to the different denominations, as well as pagans, said the idea that the Indians were dying out was erroneous. They are increasing in numbers. There are thousands of pagan Indians in all parts of Canada. The subject of child marriages among the Indians was forcibly brought to the notice of the meeting, as well as the gross immorafities attendant upon the sun dance of the Indians.

At the evening session the discussion of these reports was continued, in place of the programme previously arranged. "How to bring the Provincial Board into closer touch with Diocesan Branches," which will be taken up at 8 o'clock this evening in the Synod Hall.

Mrs Cummings, who has studied the question and travelled amongst the Indians, again urged that the W. A. bring to the notice of the Government the question of the child marriages among the Indians of No. 7 Treaty. Little girls of 13 and 14 are taken from the Indian schools and married. The speaker also pointed out the advisability of having the girls taught weaving and spinning. The Indians do not care for education, but would be willing to have their daughters taught what they considered useful. Mrs. Boomer (London), and Mrs. Cummings were appointed a committee to prepare resolutions to the Government.

"LEAFLET" AND DORCAS.

Miss Halson again spoke upon Dorcas work, and Mrs. Williamson, Toronto, editor-in-chief of the "Leaflet," reported on that subject.

The Leaflet has a circulation of 2,807 monthly. At a subsequent meeting the subject will be more fully discussed. Mrs. Boomer reported upon education of missionaries, children, and advised that a list of possible candidates for such aid should be kept in the dioceses. The total number of children now educated by the W. A. is 25, as against 17 at the last triennial.

ART ASSOCIATION CLASSES.

The Art Association has issued its customary circular with reference to classes. The session begins on October 16th, and closes on May 16th. The studios are open each week day, and regular instruction is given on the mornings of Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The classes are held in the studios of the association, and students are allowed the free use of the reading room and library and admission to galleries. Mr. W. Brymner, R.C.A., has a painting class twice weekly, and Mr. E. Dyonnet, R.C.A., will conduct a sketching class from September 12th to October 12th. Miss Alberta Cleland will have charge of an elementary drawing class, to be held Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, commencing November 5th. Intending students should communicate with the secretary, Mr. Robert Lindsay.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE.

Yesterday afternoon there was a meeting held at the residence of Mrs. Thurston, 81 St. Famille Street, to give those interested an opportunity to see the address which the Montreal branch of the Daughters of the Empire proposes to have presented to H.R.H. the Duke of Cornwall and York during his visit to Canada. The address, which is contained on one sheet of parchment, has been handsomely illuminated by Mr. W. Greig. The badge of the society is embodied in the decoration. The address assuring the Duke of the loyalty of Canadian women is signed by the officers of the Montreal branch, Mrs. Hemsley, Mrs. Tabb, Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Thurston, Miss Lawrence and Mrs. McKay.

THE LADY GOLFERS.

Representatives from the Ottawa Ladies' Golf Club will take part this year in the interprovincial match to be held in Montreal on the 7th of October, and will also play in the first golf championships of Canada, at which it is understood that several of the crack United States lady golfers will be present.

CHAPTER IX.—(Continued.)

I woke first, at sunrise, and took a run up to the grotto to see that nothing had been forgotten and to feast my eyes with a last look at the fairy beauty of the frozen schooner. When I returned the others were making ready to hoist the sail. I loosened the two mooring oars from their cracks and took them aboard with me. We sculled her out into deep water and ran the sail up. Ryan took the helm; I took the sheet, and we had started.

There was not a cloud in the sky. A gentle breeze from the southwest was playing over the water, and the morning sun glanced on the flanks of the long swell. The water was a deep, brilliant blue, and a thousand little waves chattered and chased one another diagonally across the swell. It was a morning of glorious brilliancy, and our hope rose responsive to nature's smile as we told one another that our venture was a desperate one enough the omens were the fairest that sea and wind and sky could give. With the powers and caprices of the ice we hoped that we had done forever; indeed, we thought that we might fairly hold that we bore the ice Queen a grudge, for to us she had always shown herself to be a cruel, wayward tyrant.

Our boat carried us with the fair wind rapidly away from the great flat-topped berg. We looked back at its majestic, frowning cliffs with strange feelings. The sea birds wer circling and crying about its summits, screaming a discordant farewell to the four shipwrecked adventurers who were leaving them, to dare the unknown dangers of the southern deep in a little open boat. Our stay on the berg had been eventful, and in the memory of two of us at least the discomforts of that cold, gleaming wonder of grottoes and terraces would ever be seen through a softening halo of romance. For it was there that the great decision of their lives had been taken.

Margaret brought out her handkerchif and let it flutter in the wind.

"Good-by, old berg," she murmured quietly. "We had a terrible struggle to reach you, and yet we are leaving you without a regret. But there are some memories of you that are pleasant."

I jumped up and removed my cap. I bowed low three times to the white lump of frozen water behind us. Ryan asked me what on earth I was doing that for.

"I am saluting," I returned with great solemnity, "the grave of the man in Valparaiso."

CHAPTER XI.

A WHALE SPOUTING IN THE FOG.

We started from the iceberg with fine weather. We had a good boat, perhaps the very best type of small boat which exists for a heavy sea. But our voyage was a fearfully hazardous one in spite of these things.

We had no compass, no means of shaping a course for any port of the south, and no sufficient knowledge of practical navigation to have enabled us to make the port, even if we had possessed the necessary instruments. I was a scientist, it is true, but natural history was my subject, and natural history isn't of much use to a sailor; I knew little or nothing of practical mathematics. Ryan knew just as much pure science as had been necessary for his medical "prelim," and, as he himself said, had forgotten most of that. Penny was an ignorant ship's steward, and Margaret Landon, though a woman, was not one of the up-to-date kind of women who "know things." Altogether, therefore, we were a very amateur crew of navigators.

But perhaps the worst thing was that we did not know where we were now. If we had known that we might have set a course, roughly, for some tract of sea where vessels were likely to cross our path. But we could not tell, to within several hundred miles, in what part of the waste of southern water the little speck which was our boat floated. We thought, indeed, that if we sailed due north we ought to hit South America somewhere, but even of that we were not in the least confident.

On the last day which we had spent on board the Ellen Brock we had been cruising, so far as memory served me, on or about the sixty-seventh parallel, but of our longitude I could only remember that it was somewhere between 73 and 76 west. That was vague enough in all conscience, but even had my memory been more exact, the information would have been of very little use to us, for we had no means of judging how far we might have drifted on our icebergs. It was quite conceivable that the sum of our various driftings might have left us very nearly in the same place from which we had started, but it was also quite conceivable that we might have covered some hundreds of miles of ocean since the day when we lost the Ellen Brock. The chances were, on the whole, that we had made some northing, because the tendency of icebergs is, as a rule, to travel to the warmer latitudes. But East or West? We could not even guess.

"It seems to me," I said at lenght, when we had given the matter a full discussion, "that Valparaiso, at any rate, is out of the question. I'm sorry for your disappointment, Ryan, but——"

"But there's no need for you to be a fool, Dix," interrupted the doctor, a little irritably. "There's nobody aboard this craft who hankers after Valparaiso in the smallest, so you needn't be talking about the place quite so much, please. I vote we shape a course northeast."

"Why northeast?" asked Margaret quickly, and I saw with some penitence that my remark, and the way Ryan had taken it, had made her uncomfortable. Therefore she rushed headlong at the chance to change the subject. "Why northeast?" she repeated, with a nervous eagerness which had other reasons than the mere interest of the answer she might receive.

"Because we want to be picked up, and northeast should spell the Atlantic somewhere. If we're lucky we shall hit the track of the vessels making for the South American ports; if we're not, we must just go on till we do hit something."

"Why not make a little more westing and try to hit land?" I suggested.

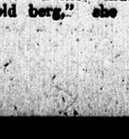

"Simply because we might miss it. We don't know how far west we are now, and I want to make dead sure of getting on the Atlantic side of South America. There isn't a more desert tract of sea anywhere than the South Pacific for thousands of miles west of Cape Horn. We musn't get into that."

CANADIAN SHIPS FOR WORLD'S TRADE

Minister of Finance Discusses Government Aid to Steel Shipbuilding Industry.

Halifax, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—"If we are ever again to engage in the carrying trade of the world, of which we formerly had so large a share, we must have steel vessels to do it. It would be better that we should buy them abroad than to be without them. But it would be still better to build them ourselves, if that would be feasible, and I have a strong hope that we shall gradually do so."

So said Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, in discussing the steel shipbuilding project with The Herald correspondent. Referring to what is being done in Nova Scotia yards, in the Government shops at Sorel, and by the Polson yards in Toronto and the Collingwood Shipbuilding Company, Mr. Fielding said:—

"We are already building steel ships in Canada on a moderate scale, and I feel confident that we shall extend our operations of that kind. When introducing the legislation last session respecting the bounties on iron and steel under which the industries at Sydney have been established, I expressed a belief that steel shipbuilding would follow within a short time. My expectation in that respect is not likely to be disappointed. But, of course, we must be content to move gradually. I doubt whether we can expect to establish at once any shipyard on so large a scale as is sometimes talked of in the discussion of the subject."

"I think the possession of a considerable fleet of steel ships is of the utmost importance to Canadian trade. If we can build them ourselves so much the better. The carrying trade of the world remains to be done as before, and we know we cannot do much with wooden ships. There has been during the last two or three years a revival of wooden shipbuilding along our coast, but the vessels in nearly all cases have been of small size. For fishing vessels and occasionally special service in the carrying trade where larger tonnage is needed, we shall still find employment for our wooden shipbuilding industry, but if we are ever to engage in the carrying trade of the world of which we formerly had so large a share we must have steel vessels to do it. It would be better that we should buy them abroad than to be without them, but it would be still better to build them ourselves, if that would be feasible, and I have a strong hope that we shall gradually do so."

GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE.

Asked if the Government would give any assistance to builders of steel ships, Mr. Fielding said:—"If any aid were given by the Government it would have to be given on some general plan, which would apply equally to shipyards on the coast and on the lakes. It is not generally known that the Government already aids shipbuilding to a moderate extent. This aid is given in the form of a drawback, which is supposed to be equivalent to the amount of customs duties paid on the materials entering into the construction. This policy was adopted many years ago in relation to wooden shipbuilding. Much can be said in favor of extending this policy to the new conditions proposed, in which case it would be only logical that the drawback should be increased to correspond with the increased cost of steel ships as compared with the cost of wooden ones. But a difficulty arises as respects ships constructed wholly or chiefly from materials produced in Canada. In that case, no duties having been paid by the shipbuilders, there would be no drawback."

"Would not the Government grant the drawback or its equivalent to ships built of Canadian materials?"

"That is a question well worthy of consideration, but it is not one in which any Minister would be justified in answering definitely. Important questions of that character have to be considered by the whole Cabinet, and pending their decision no Minister can undertake to declare a policy. The Government have already provided a bounty on the iron and then a further bounty when it is converted into steel. To carry the system still further and pay a bounty on the next process, the product of steel plates, might be open to grave objection.

"However, the steel plates are only a small part of the cost of a steamer. It is probable that at the early stages of a large shipbuilding industry a considerable portion of the materials used would have to be imported. In that way the drawback system would afford some degree of aid. All that I care to say on that point or on the general question of aid is that the Government are most anxious to see the industry carried on in Canada in a large way, and any reasonable proposals looking to development of that kind would receive very favorable consideration."

On the subject of the fast Atlantic line Mr. Fielding said that he was not at liberty to say more than that he felt assured that at an early day such action would be taken as would assure a steamship line between Great Britain and Canada of which the Dominion might be proud.

CANADIAN NORTHERN EARNINGS.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works for Manitoba, says the earnings of the Canadian Northern Railway in Manitoba will be $80,000 per month until the completion of the line to Lake Superior. The line has been operated, along with the old Northern Pacific and Manitoba system by Mackenzie and Mann, for two months, July and August, and despite the fact that these are the two poorest months in the year, the earnings have run $100,000 per month. Speaking of the crop, he said so far as it was threshed it was running well up to the estimated overage of twenty-five bushels per acre. Wheat had already begun to move to Lake Superior over the Canadian Pacific to Fort William. Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann expected to commence operations by hauling wheat direct over their completed line to Port Arthur by October 15. The quality of the wheat was grading No. 1 hard or No. 1 northern. Mr. Rogers regarded the census in Manitoba a disappointment. Winnipeg, he says, should have 50,000 instead of only 40,000.

MOST IS UNDER LOCK AND KEY

The Notorious Anarchist, Who Has a Bad Record, Put Where He Ought to Be.

New York, Sept. 13.—Johann Most, the most widely known of New York anarchists, and editor of the Freiheit, organ of anarchists, was arrested last night by Central Office Detectives Krauch and Fernelson. The arrest was made in a saloon over which are the offices of the newspaper. Herr Most objected volubly to the arrest, but to no purpose, and he was locked up at police headquarters as a "suspicious person." Captain Titus refused to allow Most to see anyone or make a statement, the captain declaring he would not allow the prisoner to pose as a martyr before the public.

The complaint against Most, which covers five and a half typewritten pages, is based on and quotes in full an editorial which Most printed in the Freiheit on September 7. The editorial reads in part:

"The greatest of all follies in the world is the belief that there can be a crime of any sort against despots and their accomplices, such a belief is in itself a crime. Despots are outlaws; they are in human shape what the tiger is among the beasts; to spare them is a crime. As despots make use of everything, treachery, person, murder, etc., so everything should be employed against them. Yes, the crime directed against them is not merely a right; it is also the duty of every one who has the opportunity to carry it out, and it will be his glory if it is successful.

"Revolution is nothing but defence. Murder, as an instrument of defence, is not merely allowed; it is a duty toward society when it is directed against a professional.

"We know our enemies; we know them all, and everywhere personally. There can be absolutely no excuse if they are again spared. Whatever stands on the other side of the line which divides the camp of ruling possessors of power from that of the people has come under the ban. Let the people carry out the sentence.

"We say, 'Murder and murders. Save humanity by blood and steel, poison and dynamite.'"

JAILED MANY TIMES.

After Herr Most was locked up, Captain Titus displayed a copy of the paper containing the editorial, and said:

"There is a place on North-Brother-Island for those suffering from smallpox and contagious diseases, and other places for those who are insane and those murderously inclined, and we believe we can find a place for men who publish such articles as this."

Most protested to the captain that he had committed no crime, and that all that had appeared in his newspaper was simply opinions in a new guise, that had been printed and reprinted and voiced thousands of times in the last fifty years. Herr Most's residence is in Brooklyn. The police records show that he was arrested in 1886 for making inflammatory speeches in this city. Recorder Smythe sentenced him to one year's imprisonment and to pay a fine of $500. He served his sentence at Blackwell's Island. In 1887 he was again arrested and charged with being the cause of an unlawful assembly and inciting to violence. He was found guilty by Judge Cowing, and sentenced to one year's imprisonment. He appealed, but was not successful, and served his time. In 1891 Most was again arrested, but not convicted. Captain Titus spent several hours at police headquarters, which is contrary to his usual custom. When asked if he expected more anarchists to be brought in, he said he did not know.

A SENSATIONAL CASE

St. John Citizens Charged With Attempt to Silence Witnesses.

PREMIER TWEEDIE INVESTIGATING CHARGES MADE BY LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE REGARDING SABBATH LAW.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 13.—(Special.—Premier Tweedie has arrived to begin an investigation into charges preferred by the asked for attachments for contempt not enforcing the Sabbath law. The civic board of public safety to-night will go into an investigation of the complaint.

Last night's heavy rain stamped out the dozens of forest fires that were raging about St. John and in other parts of the Province, destroying valuable timber lands and threatening farm houses.

There was a sensational scene at the trial of Dr. J. H. Morrison against the Street Railway Company for $100,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received while riding on one of the company's cars in 1899, and from which he has suffered ever since. Hon. Wm. Pugsley, representing the Street Railway Company, asked for attachments for contempt against Fred. Morrison, a brother of the plaintiff, and James Crawford, a well-known bookseller, charging that they had endeavored to induce material witnesses to leave the city.

The charge is that Crawford urged Whittaker, conductor of the car on which the accident occurred, to go to New York and accept a position that can be secured for him, and that Morrison urged Miss Brownell, formerly bookkeeper for Dr. Morrison, to leave town until after the trial, giving her $20 for expenses and promising that her position with the Pure Milk and Cream Company would be retained for her. She consulted friends, who advised her to remain in town, and who are understood to have disclosed the plot. Judge Gregory strongly condemned the proceedings, and ordered Morrison and Crawford to appear in court on Monday to answer the charge and show why they should not be punished. The counsel for Dr. Morrison did not make any answer to the allegations.

The strike of the trackmen on the Intercolonial Railway on the St. John division did not last long. The railway authorities reinstated Mr. Rafferty as foreman of the St. John crews yesterday morning, and sent Mr. White back to Sussex, whereupon the men at once returned to work.

SCHLEY SCORES THE FIRST POINT

Objection to Admiral Howison's Competency to Serve on Inquiry is Upheld.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Naval Court of Enquiry which is to pass upon the charges against Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, growing out of the West Indian campaign, and the battle of Santiago Bay, convened at the Washington Navy Yard at 1 o'clock yesterday. Never before in the history of the navy has an issue been presented of such supreme and universal interest; with such conspicuous naval figures in the foreground of the controversy, others equally conspicuous as witnesses, adherents and spectators, and with the active head of the navy establishment, Admiral Dewey, presiding over this tribunal.

The interest in naval circles was shown by the distinguished array of officers of highest rank who were present, together with a number of Government officials. The areas in the court reserved for the public was about two-thirds full. There was little of the spectacular in the opening scene. It was marked by dignity and impressiveness rather than dramatic spirit. The court is being held in the tool shop, a new building, devoid of any decoration and without window shades even.

The distinguished figures in the trial, including the members of the court—Admiral Dewey and Rear Admirals Benham and Howison, and Admirals Schley, about whom the procedure centred, came to the court in civilian attire, and with little outward demonstration. But when the court convened at 1 o'clock, all of the chief participants were in the showy uniform of high rank, presenting a picture of striking brilliancy.

HOWISON DISQUALIFIED.

Within three hours from the time of convening the court it was announced that Rear-Admiral Howison was disqualified from serving as a member of the court, and was excused from further duty. This brought the proceedings to an abrupt termination and caused a temporary adjournment of the court, in order to permit the Navy Department to designate an officer to succeed Admiral Howison. No further session is probable until the early part of next week.

It had been expected that little official business would be accomplished on the opening day, and the prompt decision as to Admiral Howison came somewhat as a surprise.

A salute of 15 guns in honor of the Admiral of the Navy marked the opening of the proceedings. The usual formalities were transacted with despatch. The first skirmish was opened by Admiral Schley rising from his seat and speaking in strong voice, calmly and deliberately, challenging Admiral Howison's eligibility as a member of the court.

Admiral Schley introduced three witnesses in support of his allegations of unfitness on the part of Admiral Howison. They were Francis E. Frost, reporter on the Boston Record, who published an interview with Admiral Howison, in which the latter was represented as reflecting upon Admiral Schley; William S. Spon, of New York, who claimed to have heard Admiral Howison say that Admiral Schley should have been court-martialed, and Foster Nichols, of Yonkers, N.Y., who stated that Admiral Howison had said to him that if Schley had been an officer in the English navy he would not have been allowed to retain his commission. All said Admiral Howison had given them the impression that he was prejudiced against Admiral Schley. When the last witness left the stand Counsellor Raynor, for Admiral Schley, called attention to the fact that Admiral Howison had made no defence. The court then took a recess to permit Admiral Howison to formulate a statement.

When the court resumed Admiral Howison presented his reply. He said he could not remember Spon's face, but remembered his conversation with Nichols. He was here to obey the order of the department, and he would not enter into a discussion of his private utterances. He had no personal feeling, and he considered himself a competent member of the court.

NEGROES LYNCHED NEGROES.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 12.—A mob of negroes last night broke into the jail at Wickliffe, Ky., across the river from this city, and lynched three negroes, Frank Howard, Sam Reed and Ernest Harrison. They hanged the men to a cross beam in a mill. The crime for which the men were hanged was the murder of an old and respected negro whom they killed and robbed. The murderers confessed their crime before the mob.

BOILER EXPLODED AND KILLED FIVE

Two Men Were Fatally Injured and Many Were Badly Hurt—All Were at Dinner.

New York, Sept. 13.—Three explosions occurred in the works of the American-Schultze Power Company, in Oakland, N.J., yesterday. Five men were killed:

William Titus, 40 years old, engineer, in charge of the boiler; Arthur Curry, 22 years old, driver, Newburg; John Dupont, 25 years old; Richard Van Blarcom, 20 years old; Mason Harrison Weyble, 25 years old.

Fatally injured: Bartholomew Burns, 22 years old, back broken; Andrew Lessinger, 21 years old, back broken.

The first explosion was that of the boiler from a cause not known. Following almost immediately were two explosions, one in the magazine, the other in the mixing house. The latter is supposed to have been caused by a spark.

The two men whose backs were broken were taken to the Paterson, N.J., hospital. The other injured were taken to their respective homes.

The coroner ordered the removal of the dead.

The men were at dinner when the explosion occurred. The building was shattered. The police quickly formed a cordon about the ruins and held back the crowd. All business in the town was suspended during the excitement.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED.

Toronto, Sept. 13.—(Special.)—The Police Magistrate yesterday acquitted Ernest Beers, accused of murdering Michael Hartnett, a cattleman, on August 9, by striking him over the head with a baseball bat during a row at an hotel kept by Beers' father. There was no evidence at all to connect young Beers with the death of Hartnett.

SPORTING COMMENT

In yesterday's issue it was stated that the dates claimed (13th and 14th of September) had been cancelled. Since that notice there have been many enquiries as to the cause. All endeavors to enlighten the sporting public on this subject, or to answer the question intelligently, have not been successful and the plea must be ignorance as to what the circumstances were that lead the management of the Bel-Air Jockey Club to cancel the dates claimed.

On looking the situation over it may reasonably be considered that the public have a right to know why this meeting has been declared off. There has been quite a shortage of racing of any kind at Bel-Air this year, and the meeting announced for to-day and to-morrow, was looked forward to by many of our citizens with a good deal of interest. On June 10th a circular was issued inviting a large number of Montreal's prominent business men and others to become subscribers to the meeting that was subsequently held June 20th and July 1st. In regard to members' badges the circular contained the following underlined paragraph: "And will also admit to all races on this track during the year."

Naturally these holders of ten dollar members' badges are now inquiring where they come in.

The Capital Lacrosse Club has opened two sections at Varsity oval for the Minto Cup match before the Royal party and are asking five, three and two dollars for seats. When the general sale was opened at one dollar a seat the two central sections where the Duke will pass on his way to the Royal stand were not for sale. But last night the plan was opened at R. T. Shillington's drug store and the price asked for the seats in the first six rows is five dollars a seat, the next few rows are offered at three dollars, and the top rows at two dollars a seat.

That is a statement of fact. Now what do you think of it? Isn't it just the rawest touch you ever heard of? And at that it isn't a Minto Cup match. It has nothing whatever to do with the Minto Cup. Only the Duke will be there and a lot of people will go on that account no matter what the cost is. So the Caps, to gather a few bunches of the filthy, force the men who really keep up lacrosse to see the game in the newspapers. It would serve the Caps right if the advance sale was small and the skies should be opened and the floods come the day of the match.

CRICKET

LONGUEUIL WINS TROPHY.

The Longueuil Cricket Club on Saturday last concluded their season's cricket in connection with the Montreal and District Amateur Cricket League, and by defeating the Victorias, made themselves winners of the trophy, having won eleven matches, lost two and drawn one, a very creditable showing, considering this is practically the first season of the club. As will be shown by the appended list, the team as batsmen do not make any large averages, but in computing the total runs as scored and scored against them, Longueuil has an average of 57 runs per innings, against 31 for their opponents; but in the bowling the team only used four bowlers during the season, and their averages as shown below would show creditably in any class, notably that of Mr. A. B. Wood.

Batting Averages.

	Innings.	Not Out.	Highest Score.	Runs.	Averages.
Wood	10	1	30	90	10
Jones	13	0	23	92	7.07
Ashbury	6	2	13	27	6.75
Dipple	10	1	21	57	6.3
Wiggins	9	2	16	37	5.28
Lightbourn	8	2	12	31	5.16
Harrod	10	0	28	49	4.90
Emblem	4	0	16	40	4.44
Beard	11	0	22	48	4.36
Bourk	3	0	10	12	4.00

Bowling Averages.

	O.	M.	W.	R.	Av.
A. B. Wood	45	16	37	62	1.67
C. J. Harrod	76	23	44	123	2.90
H. Lightbourn	29	8	17	57	3.35
C. H. Beard	63	12	31	141	4.35

It will be noticed that Mr. Wood's bowling analysis is phenomenal, and that he is also the winner of the batting average.

MISCELLANEOUS

TRAP SHOOTING.

New York, Sept. 12.—In the New York trap shooting tournament to-day at the Inter-State Park, Coney Island, the conditions of which were 100 targets per man at unknown angles, the handicaps running from 14 to 25 yards high, guns to count, shot off to-day, J. F. Piercy and John S. Fanning, of Jersey City, and C. W. Dudley, of New York, tied for first honors with 93 kills each. In the shoot off at 25 birds each, Piercy broke all of his targets, while Fanning grassed 23 and Dudley 20. A. H. Winchester, of Philadelphia, and E. E. Kelsey, of Aurora, tied for fourth honors with scores of 91 each, and Captain A. W. Money, of Oakland, N.J., came next with a well won total of 89. In the Merchandise prize event, for high guns, C. W. Dudley made top score of 48 out of a possible 50; F. D. Kelsey, of East Aurora, N.Y., was second with 47, and S. S. Van Allen, Jamaica, L.I.; I. Tallman, South Millbrook, N.Y., and H. McMurchy, of Fulton, N.Y., each killed 46, and in a shoot off at 25 targets each finished in the order named.

HOLLY SNOWSHOE CLUB.

A general meeting of the Holly Snowshoe Club will be held this evening in the M.A.A.A. rooms, Mansfield Street, at 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to attend as business of importance is to be transacted.

PIERCE QUITS THE GAME

Washington, Sept. 12.—Archie McEachren, of Canada, to-night won the twenty-mile motor-paced race in a walk-away from Burns Pierce, of Canada. Time, 32.15 4-5. Pierce immediately announced he had given up professional racing.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS.

Two events for amateurs were pulled off at the State fair grounds, Syracuse, yesterday afternoon, the determination of the managers to have races being reached at 2.30 o'clock. None of the Grand Circuit races were pulled off. It was announced that five grand circuit races and three amateur events will be pulled off to-morrow. The commission this afternoon decided to continue the fair till Saturday, when the last of the Grand Circuit races will be held.

ORDER BY NAME.

BASEBALL

NEW CLUB FOR EASTERN LEAGUE

Jersey City May Take the Place of the Syracuse Team, it is Said.

New York, Sept. 12.—Now that the Eastern and other leagues are no longer subservient to the National agreement, territory in this vicinity will be developed. It is safe to say that Jersey City will take the place of Syracuse in the Eastern League.

Demont, Kittredge and Pittenger have signed with the Boston Nationals for next season.

The present Pittsburg club is the first one from that city that ever won ten games running.

Rain once more interfered with the Buffalo-Montreal game. In consequence, there will be a game this afternoon, and two on Saturday. Buffalo also plays here on Sunday.

TORONTO WON.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Both teams fielded loosely to-day; errors, two hits and Bannon's home run tied the score in the fourth, and Toronto was never headed again. Crabell replaced Bowen in the seventh, when "Silk" O'Loughlin removed him from the game. Smith pitched the last inning. Flaherty eased up in the last two innings but pitched good ball. The score by innings:—

TO FINISH WITHOUT HARTFORD.

New York, Sept. 12.—At a meeting of the Eastern League here to-day it was unanimously decided to play out the schedule of games for the present season with seven clubs. No new clubs will be taken into the circuit until next season. The clubs represented at the meeting were:—Providence, President Geo. P. Cressy and Manager Murray; Rochester, President E. E. Higgins and Geo. W. Sweeney; Toronto, President Edward Mack; Montreal, Jas. P. Shearer; Brockton, W. Leonard, and Worcester, P. H. Hurley. President Powers, president of the organization was in the chair. The circuit question occupied the attention of the magnates during the greater part of their session. There was some little talk trying to fill the gap left open by the failure of the Hartford Club, but this was not deemed advisable.

"There are three different cities that are anxious to get into our league," said President Powers, "but we have decided to stand pat until next year. We will play out the schedule for this season with seven clubs. As to the dates left open by the passing of the Hartford Club, exhibition games will be arranged by the various clubs. For instance the New York Club will play in Providence next Sunday instead of Hartford."

Asked if the Players' Association has sent him any communication regarding the failure of several of the clubs of the Eastern League to pay salaries promptly, Mr. Powers replied:

"I have received no such communication. What's more, I don't think I ever will. If it does come the players' organization will hear an entirely different story than was poured into their ears last Sunday."

President Powers was asked to name the cities that sought membership in the Eastern League, in place of Hartford, but he refused to answer. As soon as the meeting was over the various magnates started for home.

AT FORT ERIE

Fort Erie, Ont., Sept. 12.—This was the fifty-fifth day of the Fort Erie meeting. The weather was clear and the track slow and heavy. Summary:

First race, selling, three-year-olds, 6 furlongs—Margaret Steele won by one length; Lord Crimson second, Infallible third. Time, 1.22½.

Second race, selling, two-year-olds, 4½ furlongs—Mattie Spencer won by one length, Lathrop second, Audita third. Time, .56½.

Third race, selling, three-year-olds and upwards, 1 mile—Lester won by a nose, Pioneer second, Mynheer third. Time, 1.46½.

Fourth race, four-year-olds, 5½ furlongs—Flintlock won by a length and a half, Lady Patroness second, Kirk Livingston third. Time, 1.07.

Fifth race, selling, three-year-olds and upwards, 7 furlongs—Prince Eager won by a neck, Miss Redwood second, Princess Aurora third. Time, 1.31½.

Sixth race, selling, all ages, 5½ furlongs—Competitor won by four lengths; Diva second, J. Patrick third. Time, 1.18½.

AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

New York, Sept. 12.—The track at Sheepshead Bay was even worse than it was yesterday, for just before the racing began the rain came down and made the going a sea of mud. Scratches were in abundance, therefore, and the stakes were spoiled. In the Belles, there were three starters, with Amicitia as the favorite, and she won all the way easily. In the Omnium all but Herbert of the original starters were scratched, so the Musketeer and Kinginnic went against him, but they might as well have stayed in the stable, for Herbert won in a common canter. The other fixture was the Rockaway Steeplechase for Hunters. Lost Chord won without effort. Summary:

First race, 6 furlongs—Chuctanunda won, Unmasked second, Lady Sterling third. Time, 1.15 4-5.

Second race, one mile—Wax Taper won, Kilogram second, The Rhymer third. Time, 1.41 4-5.

Third race, The Belles, 5½ furlongs—Amicitia won, Sunshowers second, Flora Pomona third. Time, 1.09 4-5.

Fourth race, Omnium Handicap, 1¼ miles—Herber won, The Musketeer second, Kinnikinnic third. Time, 1.58 3-5.

Fifth race, Rockaway Steeplechase for Hunters, about 2½ miles—Lost Chord won, Sifter second, Champion third. Time, 5.51.

Sixth race, 1¼ miles on turf, selling—Lady Chorister won, Little Daisy second, Astor third. Time, 2.18 2-5.

CANADIAN HUNT RACES.

The programme for the Canadian Hunt Club steeplechases, which will take place at St. Lambert on September 28, has been finished, and the entry list will be closed September 20.

The Canadian hunt will hold their autumn meeting in the country, and a track will be laid out at St. Lambert near the property of the club, so that the race course will be easily accessible by train. The programme is made up as follows:

Race for polo ponies.

Green race for horses owned by members of the club since August 15, 1900, and which have never come in first in any race.

Open race.

Farmers' race; for horses bred in the County of Chambly, the County of Laprairie and the Parish of Repentigny, mounted and ridden by farmers.

Club race, open only to horses owned by club members.

Consolation race, for horses which have won nothing during the previous events.

AT DONCASTER.

Doncaster, Eng., Sept. 12.—The Americans who lost heavily by the defeat of Volodyovski, in the race for the St. Leger Cup here, backed C. W. Whitney's Mount Vernon filly, ridden by L. Reiff, in the race for the Rous Plate of 500 sovereigns, for two-year-olds, three-quarter mile, today. But she only ran second. Valiant came in first.

Richard Croker's bay filly, Minnie Doe, by Fitzsimon-King's Daughter, ridden by J. Reiff, won the Scarborough Stakes of 100 sovereigns each, with 200 sovereigns added, for three-year-olds that had never won a race, the Sandall mile.

The Duke of Devonshire's Dieudonne (Maher) won the Portland Plate of 500 sovereigns added to a handicap sweepstakes of 200 sovereigns, for three-year-olds and upwards, five furlongs and 152 yards.

ANACONDA BEAT PATCHEN.

Bethlehem, Pa., Sept. 12.—Fully twenty thousand persons attended the State Fair yesterday. The race between Joe Patchen and Anaconda was the attraction. Anaconda won the first heat by half a length, pacing the first mile in 1.02. The second heat was easy for him, and he won by two lengths. Frank Walker started the horses and Alexander Newburger was the presiding judge.

SHAW SUSPENDED.

For his ride on Blue Girl, Jockey Shaw was suspended for the balance of the Coney Island Jockey Club meeting. No fraud was established in connection with the race.

FOOTBALL

COLLEGE WORKING.

The football squad of Ottawa university athletic association, has commenced active work. About thirty-five men are exercising in the gymnasium and yesterday afternoon the first field practice was held. There was a splendid turnout of men, but the material was mostly of the untried variety. However, the players took to the game kindly and played hard. So far, however, very few men of last year's fifteen are certain to play. Halligan, Cox, Harrington, Richards, Keeley and Fay are yet available. The majority of last season's team will likely turn out.

A meeting of the association executive is called for to-morrow night, when it is possible that an outside committee will be appointed to act in conjunction with the executive. The outsiders will consult with the manager and captain of the team at all times. It is expected that with an outside committee the footballers will be brought into closer touch with the citizens.

The appointment of a manager and captain will be delayed for some days.

STRATHCONAS PRACTICE.

The Strathcona Football Club have recently had their grounds overhauled, and at present they are equal to any playing grounds in the city. A full practice is requested Saturday afternoon to prepare for the game with the Points Saturday, Sept. 21st.

MONTREAL PRACTICE.

The Montreal Football Club will have a practice after the Oxford-Cambridge games on Saturday afternoon. Twenty minutes after the finish of the last race the members will be admitted to the club house and the boys should have time for a good hour's practice.

PUNTS.

Montreal had more than two fifteens out this morning.

The Limestone Rugby team has reorganized for the season. The following officers were elected: Hon. president, W. B. Carruthers; hon. vice-presidents, C. M. Grange and Dr. Clarke; president, J. M. Shaw; vice-president, E. J. B. Ponse; secretary-treasurer, W. A. Spriggs; manager, Dr. E. Fahey; assistant manager, E. Warrick; executive committee, W. Robinson, W. Hiscock, G. Berch, N. Woodrow. The team will enter the junior O.R.F.U.

GAUDAUR IN NO SHAPE

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—W. H. Smith, the well-known aquatic authority, in an interview here, says: "I think Gaudaur was not trained correctly or was overworked. He became stale during the last four days of the week, and could have rowed a much better race on Tuesday or Wednesday than on Saturday. They were terribly hard days on any man. The hotel was crowded night and day and afforded not a moment's peace or rest. Gaudaur used to get up at night and pace his room because he could not sleep. Moreover, he was not in condition. I saw him when he came in from the race, and he was like a man in fever. His skin was hot and red, but not a drop of perspiration came through. He rowed like a man in distress, and whereas Towns started at 36 to the minute, Gaudaur could only hit up 31 to the minute, and rowed like a man whose muscles were stiff. He told me after the first mile his forearms were paralyzed. It is Gaudaur's last race. He did not lose much money, because the others would not bet. They told me they had come over for the championship and nothing else, but were afraid to bet. I do not think much money changed hands, as most of the betting was for small amounts of $5 and $10. All I had on was $500 to $250 and another wager of $225."

"What is your opinion of Pearce?"

"I was greatly impressed with that young man," said the veteran sportsman. "Pearce rowed Hackett and beat him to a knockdown. He struck a pace of 38 to the minute, and rowed a beautiful, clean, steady stroke. He is only 22 years old, and is a magnificent specimen of manhood, tough as an oak, as was shown by the fact that they worked him hard enough to kill an ox down there, and never took one pound of flesh off his lean, bony frame. He shoots through the water as straight as a bullet from a gun, and I consider he pushes that within two years he will be a successful candidate for the world's championship."

YACHTING

SHAMROCK HAD EXCITING DAY

Almost in a Collision, Then Caught in a Heavy Squall—Canada's Cup.

New York, Sept. 12.—The Shamrock went out for a trial spin to-day and got into two ticklish positions before returning to her anchorage. The first was a narrow escape from collision with the steam yacht Giralda, and the second was a ten-minute experience with a forty-mile squall.

The challenger had gone out past Sandy Hook at a 12-knot clip, striking several small squalls which put her lee rail under water. She had eased her sheets to starboard for a reach home, when the Giralda's captain, evidently not realizing her great speed, attempted to cross her bow.

Captain Sycamore, of the Shamrock, was unable to keep the yacht off because of the press tug Unity under her lee. After he cleared the latter, the Giralda was right under the lee starboard bow. To clear her he almost had to gybe the yacht. The men jumped for the port preventer backstays to slacken them. The main boom was already swinging over, when the Giralda, under full speed, fairly crossed the Shamrock's bow, and the danger was over. Not more than fifty feet separated them, and if the Shamrock had hit her, she would undoubtedly have sunk her.

The new jib was broken out, and the Shamrock headed seaward again. On her way back a heavy squall struck the Shamrock off the Hook. For ten minutes the wind blew at a forty-mile gait, and the yacht heeled over to it in an alarming manner.

The staysail was quickly lowered, and the yacht, heaving to, outrode the blow in safety, the big mast standing the strain wonderfully well. Before she was really safe, however, she came dangerously near running aground inside buoy No. 6. Sir Thomas Lipton was an anxious observer of this affair.

The yacht was taken in tow immediately afterwards, and hauled back to her anchorage in Sady Hook Bay.

"SHAMROCK II. WILL WIN"

Boston, Mass., Sept. 12. — Capt. Hank Haff, the skipper of the Independence, is of the opinion that the Shamrock II. has a better chance of lifting the America Cup than any former challenger.

The veteran skipper returned from New York last Tuesday, but on account of the extreme illness of Mrs. Haff did not have a chance to see the Shamrock sail. To a reporter he said: "Yes, I think Lipton's boat has the best chance any boat ever had of capturing the cup. Her lines indicate extreme speed and she looks like a dangerous boat.

"I have not seen her sail, but those who have tell me she shows good speed, which, together with an examination of her lines, makes me believe that Columbia has a very fast boat to sail against.

"Having sailed against the Constitution and Columbia, I know what the latter boat can do. The Columbia is a good boat and probably a better boat than Constitution; but from knowing the merits of the defender and what is to be expected of her, and what I have learned of Shamrock II., think the latter will give a very close race.

"I have not changed my mind the least iota regarding the ability of the Independence to defeat either the Columbia or Constitution, and I still think that had we been allowed in the trial races Independence would have fairly won the right to defend the Cup. She is the fastest boat of the three. When we came home she was in the best possible trim. In the races she sailed at Newport she was not properly tuned up.

"Those races did not show the relative merits of the other boats as against Independence. If she had been allowed one more race at or about the time the trial races took place, a different story would have been told.

"It's a shame to see her broken up. She is a good boat, but it now looks as though she has seen her last day under sail, as the orders are for her to be given over to George Lawley for breaking up."

THE OFFICIAL NOTICE.

Notice has been issued by the Steamer Committee, N.Y.Y.C., as follows:

"The America's Cup races will be sailed on Saturday, September 21; Tuesday, September 24; Thursday, September 26, and on succeeding alternate days (Sundays out), until the best three out of five races have been determined.

"The Chester W. Chapin will leave pier 19 (the Fall River line), foot of Warren Street and Hudson River, at fifteen minutes past nine o'clock in the morning, and not at fifteen minutes past ten o'clock, as has been stated in some of the notices recently issued."

ANOTHER CANADA'S CUP YACHT.

Detroit, Sept. 12.—The acceptance of the Rochester's challenge for a race for Canada's Cup next year by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto did not occasion any great amount of surprise among Detroit yachtsmen, except among the few who thought the Chicago Yacht Club had a cinch. Commodore Shaw, of the Detroit Boat Club yachtsmen, says the Cadillac will probably be sent to Rochester if trial races are held on Lake Ontario for the selection of a challenger, and that another boat might be built. He says that his syndicate had the refusal of Hanley's services for a 1902 Canada's Cup defender. It is known that Commodore Shaw is favorably inclined towards George Wilds, who designed the yacht Detroit, and it is possible that Wilds may get an order from the Detroit yachtsmen.

ATHLETICS

VERDUN SPORTS.

The sports at the Verdun Hospital are to take place on Saturday, September 21. It is hoped that all old employes and ex-patients of the hospital will as usual make it a point to be present at this pleasant annual reunion.

HANDICAPS POSTPONED.

Owing to the weather the M.A.A.A. weekly handicaps, scheduled for last evening, were not held.

STARS MEET TO-NIGHT.

The meeting of the Star A.A.A. will be held this evening in the Prince Arthur rink at 8.30 o'clock sharp, to make final preparations for the torchlight procession in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York. All are welcome.

TO SELECT COLLEGE TEAM.

Worcester, Sept. 13.—A contract for the Yale-Harvard trial games was made yesterday by Captain Hadlowel, of Harvard, and Irving C. Bigelow, representing the Worcester Oval. It provides for the use of the track on Wednesday, Sept. 18, by the Yale and Harvard athletes for the selection of representatives for the international meet.

LACROSSE

POINTS VS. CORNWALL.

The Cornwall and Point teams meet on Saturday afternoon on the Queen's Park grounds to play the last scheduled match in the Western end of the Intermediate League, and a good game of lacrosse can be looked for.

The Point team have succeeded in winning all their matches thus far, but Cornwall have only lost one, and should they succeed in winning on Saturday, both teams will then be on an even footing, and a decisive game will require to be played.

Captain Kennedy has had all his men doing gymnasium work this week, and states that they are in good shape and expect to win. In any event it will not be a walk-over for either team, as Cornwall are reported to be bringing down a strong aggregation and are sure to make the Point boys hustle.

The P.A.A.A. were told by some of the representatives of the big clubs, when applying for admission into the Senior ranks this year, that if they succeeded in winning the Intermediate championship their application would be strongly endorsed. They are therefore determined to win out and then hope to be given a chance among the seniors. Mr. Andrews has been agreed upon as a referee.

LIKE THE C.L.A.

Owen Sound, Sept. 12.—Owen Sound today forwarded to the secretary of the C.L.A. the particulars and supporting affidavits on which it protests the semi-final game played with Warton on Friday at Chesley, and which was won by the latter by 5 to 4. The charges are that the players who played under the names of Stevens and Gordon McEwen were James Clark and Miles McDonough, members of the Galt Manchesters. That Charles Meers played under the name of Stanley Meers, and Sinclair under the name of St. Clair. Each of these charges is supported by one or more affidavits, and the local club is confident that not only will the game be disallowed, but that Warton will be expelled from the association.

FOUR LEFT IN GOLF FINALS

Atlantic City, Sept. 12.—The premier golfer, Travis, former champion Douglas, Egan, the western expert, and Seeley of New York, are the only contestants left in the tournament in the amateur championship of the United States Golf Association, now in progress on the links of the Atlantic City Golf Club at Northfield, near here. These men won their matches in the third round of play. To-morrow Travis will meet Douglas, and Egan will measure strokes with Seeley, and on Saturday the great battle for the championship between the winner of these matches will take place. Summary:

Walter J. Travis, of New York, beat Percy Jennings, of New York, 3 up and 2 to play.

Findlay Douglas, of New York, beat Louis Livingston, of New York, 4 up and 3 to play.

Walter E. Egan, of Chicago, beat Percy Pyne, of New York, 1 up.

C. H. Seeley, of New York, beat A. G. Lockwood, of Boston, 3 up and 1 to play.

To-morrow, semi-final play—Travis vs. Douglas; Egan vs. Seeley.

Miss Lily Smardon, St. Matthew Street, who was operated upon last week at the Montreal General Hospital, for appendicitis, is progressing favorably.

The oil industry is assuming large proportions in the United States, and promises to be a very profitable one. The Vernon properties are located in both North and South California. One, 26 acres, is situated in Kern County, every foot of which is proven oil land. This property has room for 70 or 80 wells. Five wells on the location have at the present time a capacity of 800 barrels daily. It is in the very heart of the proven oil belt in the famous Kern River territory in Southern California.

The other Vernon property, of 160 acres, is located in the Mattole Oil Fields, in Humboldt County, in the northern part of the state. Oil of the highest grade is being produced in properties adjoining, worth $4 per barrel.

Work on an extensive scale will be commenced at once on the Vernon properties, experts agreeing that an inexhaustible supply of oil wealth can be produced from these properties.

Mr. Chas. Dickinson, of Woodstock, N.B., one of the Canadians interested, has just returned from California, and while there went carefully over the Vernon property in the Kern River Oil Fields. He also met parties who are largely interested financially in the properties adjoining the Vernon property in Humboldt County, and they all report very highly of the outlook of the Vernon property in that section.

Robert Meredith & Co. have had placed in their hands for disposal, 50,000 SHARES of stock AT PAR. They will be glad to supply the fullest information on application at their offices, 57 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal.

THERE WAS A BAD BREAK IN STOCKS

Wall Street Prices Fall One to Six Points on McKinley's Relapse.

MONTREAL PRICES SUFFERED AS WELL

Most of the Local Leaders a Good Deal Below Yesterday's Closing.

The news that President McKinley had taken a turn for the worse was received with something approaching dismay in the financial world to-day, and before the markets opened it was considered a foregone conclusion that stocks would decline.

There was plenty of excitement in Wall Street and at the opening thousands of shares were poured on the market.

By noon the market had passed through an exciting period and a casual glance at the quotations showed declines of all the way from 1½ to 6½ points compared with last night's closing.

$ $ $

The following table shows it all in a nutshell, to-day's 12.45 quotations being compared with those of last night:

	Yes'day. Close.	To-day. 12.45.
Amal. Copper	111¼	105¾
Atchison	75¼	72
Atchison, pfd.	96⅜	93½
Balt. & Ohio	101¼	97

Union Pacific	97½	93½
U. S. Steel	43⅞	40⅝
U. S. Steel, pfd.	94	90½

The New York market not only confronted the problem of the President's condition, but also had to consider the money market which at times did not appear to be in a very promising shape. Money loaned at 7 per cent. there with 6 per cent. the ruling figure at one o'clock. St. Paul, which showed the greatest decline, had the dividend as a factor, the public being disappointed over the fact that the directors at yesterday's meeting did not decide upon an increase.

$ $ $

Naturally enough Montreal stocks worked more or less in sympathy with New York and there were declines all round as the following will show:

	Yes'day.	This a.m.
Pacific	110½	108
Street Ry.	291½	288
Twin City	101¾	103¾
Dom. Coal	43¼	42
Toronto Ry.	114¾	114
Rechelieu	116¼	114
Power	97	95

$ $ $

In some instances early prices were the lowest and there was a recovery afterwards. Pacific was very active and the trading aggregated more than for many days past.

In sympathy with the decline in London it opened flat at 108. It sold later at 107¾, then recovered to 108¾, the final sale at the morning session being 108.

Toronto Rails opened at 113 and advanced to 114, while Dominion Coal started at 42, went back to 41½ and then to 72.

Twin City opened very weak at 98, but braced up and sold at 99⅝. Street Railway sold at 288 and Power 2 points lower to 95.

At times the market was very well supported by buying orders, coming from people who looked upon it as bargain day.

$ $ $

Sales in Wall Street up to noon amounted to 875,000 shares.

$ $ $

L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable quoted Grand Trunk first at 100¼, second at 86½, third at 37½; C.P.R. at 111½, and Anaconda at £9.

$ $ $

Mr. C. D. Monk's message said: Latest strike news indicates early settlement. Secretary Gage took $7,500,000 bonds. J. P. Morgan holds U. P. proxy for Northern Pacific meeting. Transvaal gold output increasing. Adverse trade rumors on copper officially contradicted. C. & O. report will show 3 per cent. earned on the stock. Market will be influenced almost entirely by the President's condition.

$ $ $

Robert Meredith & Co. received the following over their private wire from Zimmermann & Forshay, New York: After early break the market steadied. Its plain very limited public account open; big interests had it well in hand. Commission houses with hardly any exception reported exceedingly light line of stock open. The pressure of European selling well taken. Gould issues reported well supported. The Standard Oil interests have been buying American smelters. It is said there is a deal of considerable importance going on, and manipulation may force it down, causing weak holders to liquidate; but those who will hold on to their stock will surely see it sell eventually at twice its present price. At 11 a.m., the market sold still lower on a report that the President had died. The report proved to be unfounded and the market rallied a little, but only to sell off again, and at noon prices were lower than at any time during the morning. American stocks closed weak in London, general market steady. Canadian Pacific, 111½.

The directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway failed to justify expectations, quite commonly held on the Stock Exchange, of an increase in the rate of dividend, on the common shares, declaring only a semi-annual payment of 3 per cent. on the shares to-day, the same dividend as was declared a half year ago. To-day's dividends are payable on about $100,000,000 outstanding shares of the St. Paul Railway, the new stock authorised last March, for new lines sharing in the dividend disbursements. That stock is now fully paid for, the last 25 per cent. instalment falling due on September 5. The new stock amounts to $8,882,520, and is all common stock.

A CHEESE ROW

There Was Something Doing at Brockville Board Yesterday.

FAIRLY FIRM PRICES PAID FOR CHEESE AT MOST OF THE COUNTRY POINTS.

Brockville, Sept. 12.—There was a lively meeting of the Brockville cheese board today. Considerable discussion ensued over the alleged practice of Brockville buyers paying higher prices at other boards than here, and their apparent combine to keep down local prices. It was predicted by some prominent salesmen that unless the salesmen take immediate action to remedy the present system of doing business, the board will become extinct in a few years. Factory inspection and weights was strongly advocated, and next season may see a move in this direction. The offerings showed a marked decrease, being 683 white and 1,630 colored. There was a brisk demand for both kinds, and the competition was spirited. The buyers tried to do business first at 9⅝c, and failing, the price was raised to 9 5-16c, Dickey getting 40 white and Webster 120 colored. Still many salesmen refused to sell, and on 9⅜c being bid for colored, 53 boxes went to Earl, and Dickey 320 colored. Dickey bought 380 more white at 9 5-16c. The other buyers were not disposed to reach these prices at the board, but on the curb they bought up freely, with one or two exceptions, everything in sight. The transactions are reported as follows: Dickey 1,500, Hodgson Bros. 1,000, Alexander 800, Earl 200, Ayer 200.

Tweed, Ont., Sept. 12.—There were 750 cheese boarded; 160 sold at 9c, balance unsold. Magrath and Watkin buyers. Board adjourned for one week.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 12.—A small attendance of buyers and salesmen. Top price reached 9¼c for colored and 9 3-16c for white. At these prices 740 boxes were cleared out; 1,348 boxes boarded.

Madoc, Ont., Sept. 12.—There were 1,620 boxes of white cheese offered. Watkins bought 450, Hodgson 300, Brenton 650 and Ayer 225, all at 9c. Market adjourned for two weeks.

Vankleek Hill, Ont., Sept. 12.—There were 1,000 boxes of white cheese offered. Birdsell got the call at 9 5-16c, securing about 400 boxes; Gibson secured 100 at the same price. The price was then raised to 9⅜c, and W. E. Egar got 250 boxes and Pitt 150 at that figure. Balance unsold.

Barrie, Ont., Sept. 12.—There were 655 boxes first of September make boarded; market completely lifeless, only two buyers being in attendance; 9c best bid, and 71 boxes sold at that price, balance being held until next meeting, Friday, September 27.

CATTLE MARKETS

According to cable advices received from Glasgow this week the trade in Canadian and American cattle was not so good as the week previous, which was due to increased supplies. The tone of the market was weak and the prices realized show a decline of one pound per head, but even at the reduction shippers made a small profit. The demand for export cattle in the western market has continued good and all the offerings met with ready buyers at firm prices. A few extra choice lots were offered, which sold at $5.15 to $5.25, but the general run of prices for heavy stock was from $4.75 to $5 and medium at $4.25 to $4.65 per 100 lbs.

Hogs.

The demand for fresh killed abattoir dressed hogs was good to-day and a fairly active trade was done at $9.50 to $10 per 100 lbs.

Cattle in Toronto.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Receipts at the western cattle market to-day were generally light; were 62 cars; 974 cattle, 1,304 sheep, seven hundred hogs, and 55 calves. Trade was good, except in exporters, in which the demand was good, but quality was not up to the mark, and they are from 10c to 25c a hundred off.

Butchers' cattle—Trade was good in this line, everything being cleared up, as the offerings were light; the quality was not really choice, however, and the best lots sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; fair animals sold around $3.50 to $3.85, and the summer stock at $3 to $3.50 per cwt.; cows came in slowly, and quality was better, selling at from $3.25 to $3.37½.

Feeders—Demand was better, but there are still no offerings; prices are unchanged; good stock steers, weighing from 1,100 to 1,200 lbs., being worth from $4 to $4.25 per cwt., and heavier ones, $4.50 to $4.75; light stock is worth $3 to $3.50.

Bulls—Those weighing around 900 to 1,050 lbs., were selling at $2.50, while extra good animals, ranging from 1,200 to 1,300 lbs. brought from $3.50 to $4.

Milch cows—Good milchers were wanting; prices were about $45 to $47.

Sheep were about the same and all lines were cleared up; export ewes bringing $3.35 to $3.50; bucks, $2.50 to $2.75, and culls, $2 to $3.

Lambs were steady; everything being sold at from $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt., and $2.50 to $3.25 each.

Calves sold at from $2 to $10 each.

Hogs—There was no change. Sales of 160 to 200 lbs., unwatered and unfed, off cars, are still quoted at $7.25 and $6.75 to $7 for lights and fats.

SMALL IRON OUTPUT

Monthly figures of pig-iron production as of September 1, published to-day by the Iron Age, show a decrease of 3,986 tons in weekly output as compared with August 1, but an increase of 68,007 tons as compared with September, 1900. Furnace stocks have decreased 10,235 tons during August, and are 248,083 tons below this date in 1900. The "visible supply" of pig iron, in fact, is lower than it has been at any time since June 1, 1900.

WHEAT AND CORN WERE VERY SLOW

Fluctuations Were Rather Narrow in Both Grains This Morning.

December wheat in Chicago was quoted at 70½ at the opening and did not vary much from that figure. It advanced a little and then stood at the opening figure at 12.30.

December corn opened at 57 and 56⅝. It fluctuated but little, being quoted at 56⅝ to 56½ at 12.30. May corn opened at 58⅝ to 58⅛, and stood at 58⅝ at 12.30.

$ $ $

Mr. H. D. Metcalfe, grain exporter, received the following despatch from his Winnipeg office: Manitoba No. 1 hard wheat closed at 60½, and No. 1 northern at 67½c, ex store, Fort William.

$ $ $

In its weekly crop summary, the Cincinnati Price Current says: "Corn crop promise regarded fully equal to a month ago (1,400,000,000 bushels). Wheat crop indications unchanged (700,000,000 bushels)."

$ $ $

In France, per Broomhall's cable to-day, there was renewed agitation for a temporary suspension of the duty on wheat (36½ cents a bushel). This was more likely only a speculative move to intimidate the French farmer and force a freer new-crop movement. Estimates of the French wheat crop this year continue as wild as ever, ranging from 240,000,000 bushels to 300,000,000 bushels. French newspapers are at the ears with one another in discussing their estimates, and freely intimate interested motives. Conservatism still holds to a 300,000,000-bushels wheat crop as a fair estimate.

STOCKS SLUMPED

Big 5,000 Share Block Sold in Wall Street at Opening.

THE NEWS OF McKINLEY'S RELAPSE CAUSES CONSTERNATION IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES.

New York, Sept. 13.—Conditions were nervous and excited in the financial district this morning before the stock market opened, and the wide declines in the London market gave an index of what might be expected at the opening here as a result of the President's relapse. The first transactions showed sentiment demoralized, and blocks of 1,000 to 6,000 shares were thrown on the market at the opening, and further sales of equal volume followed each other in quick succession in the prices. St. Paul, Union Pacific, United States Steel stocks and Amalgamated Copper were most acutely affected, St. Paul dropping suddenly six points on a wide opening, at 157½ to 155, as the price of the stock. Union Pacific's loss was 5¼ within the first few minutes, and Amalgamated Copper 4½. Republic Steel preferred 4⅜, Atchison 3¼, and Brooklyn Transit, 5⅜. Earle, 3¼, New York Central 3¼, Rock Island 5, Tennessee Coal 4, U.S. Steel stocks 2¼ each, and the principal active stocks as a rule from 2 to 3 points. There were some slight momentary rallies, but the market continued excited and feverish.

Washington, September 13. — The Secretary of the Treasury announced to-day he would continue the purchase of bonds on the basis of what has been in force for several weeks.

OCEAN FREIGHTS

Since this day week there has been an improved demand for ocean grain room; in consequence the bulk of the space for September has now been engaged and a moderate amount of business has also been done for October shipment. On the whole the market has been more active with a steadier undertone. Liverpool, 1s 3d; London, 1s 3d; Glasgow, 1s to 1s 3d; Bristol, 2s; Hamburg, 1s 9d; Antwerp, 1s 6d; Manchester, 1s 6d; Leith, 2s; Cardiff, 2s, and Dublin and Belfast, 2s, all for October. Mail advices from New York say there is considerable tonnage offering for grain, and though low rates are quoted, no interest is displayed. Rates are quoted as follows: Liverpool, 1d; London, 1¼d; Antwerp, 1¼d; Glasgow, 1d; Newcastle, 2½d; Bristol, 2¼d; Leith, 2½d; Hull, 2d, and Hamburg, 30 pfgs.

SUGAR MARKET

The feature of the local market during the week has been the decline of 5 to 10 points in the price of No. 1 and No. 2 yellows, which has already been noted in these columns. The demand has continued good, and a large volume of business is passing. Orders coming forward are chiefly for granulated, of which stocks in refiners' hands are not excessive; consequently prices for the same are firm at $4.40 per 100 lbs.

MINING EXCHANGE

LAKE ONTARIO SAILS.

The Beaver line steamship Lake Ontario, Captain G. C. Evans, sailed for Liverpool this morning with a full general cargo and a good list of saloon passengers.

SS. IONIAN.

The Allan line new steamship Ionian was successfully launched yesterday from the shipbuilding yards of Messrs. Workman & Clarke, at Belfast. This interesting news was received by Messrs. H. & A. Allan yesterday afternoon by cable. The Ionian was built for the mail and passenger service from Montreal to Liverpool, and is scheduled to sail on her first trip from Liverpool November 21, and from St. John December 7, Halifax December 8, with mails and passengers. She is 8,070 tons burden, much like the Bavarian and Tunisian, but a little smaller than these steamers. The Ionian's addition to the Liverpool service makes a strong fleet of new steamers, comprising the Tunisian, Bavarian, Australasian, Pretorian, Corinthian and the Ionian.

DUE TO-NIGHT.

The Elder-Dempster line steamship Lake Champlain, Capt. Stewart, is due to arrive in port to-night with a general cargo and a large list of saloon passengers.

LAKE SIMCOE ARRIVES OUT.

The Beaver line steamship Lake Simcoe, Capt. Carey, arrived at Liverpool last night. She sailed from Montreal on Sept. 4 at 9 a.m., and passed Malin Head at 9.15 a.m., yesterday. The Lake Simcoe has made a favorable trip, her time from Father Point to Moville being 6 days 21 hours 39 minutes.

HEAD LINE MOVEMENTS.

The Head line steamship Bray Head, Capt. Phillips, sailed yesterday from the other side, direct for Montreal.

The Head line steamship Bengore Head is expected to arrive up on Sunday. She has a full cargo of steel rails on board.

The Head line steamship Glen Head, from Quebec, with a full cargo of deals arrived at Cork, all well, on Wednesday afternoon last. She will sail again for Montreal in about a week.

The Head line steamship Dunmore Head, Capt. Burns, arrived in port this morning. She has on board a cargo of steel rails and fish plates, which will be discharged at the company's sheds at Hochelaga.

The Elder, Dempster & Co., Beaver line SS. Lake Simcoe, from Montreal, 9 a.m., Sept. 4, past Malin Head, arrived at Liverpool at midnight on Thursday, the 12th inst.

FOREST HOLME COMING.

The Holme line steamship Forest Holme, Capt. Beaton, sailed yesterday at noon from Maryport for Montreal with a full cargo of steel rails and fish plates. The agents here are McLean, Kennedy & Co.

ROSARIAN IN PORT.

The Allan line steamship Rosarian, from London, arrived in port at 6.30 p.m. yesterday. She is moored at the foot of Jacques Cartier square, and is expected to sail on Sunday.

NOTICE TO PILOTS.

The Department of Marine and Fisheries has issued the following notices for the guidance of pilots:—

A light established by the Government of Canada on the outer end of the Government wharf at Ste. Irenee, in the county of Charlevoix, on the north shore of the river St. Lawrence below Quebec, has been put in operation. Lat. N. 47 degrees, 34 minutes, 19 seconds; long., W. 70 degrees, 11 minutes, 53 seconds. The light is a fixed light, showing red to the eastward, or down stream, and white to the southward and westward. It is elevated 32 feet above high water mark, and should be visible seven miles. The illuminating apparatus consists of a small pressed glass lens. The light is shown from a small square lantern, built on the apex of the roof of the freight shed, on the outer end of the wharf. The freight shed is a wooden building, painted drab, with a brown roof. The height, from the deck of the wharf to the ventilator on the lantern, is 31 feet.

The Department of Public Works, Canada, gives notice as follows, with reference to the ship channel in Lake St. Peter, river St. Lawrence, between Quebec and Montreal, between lightship No. 2 and lightship No. 1:—

The dredge which was at work on this stretch (see notice to mariners No. 55, of 1901), has been removed on account of the lowness of the water on the banks, and the work is still unfinished. Pilots should, therefore, continue to observe the warning of notice to mariners No. 71 of 1900, regarding this stretch of channel, and not approach too closely to the south bank with vessels of heavy draft. The middle of the channel and the north half have the standard depth and are in good condition.

TO-DAY'S POLICE CASES

There were only two new cases on the Police Court register this morning, and the inference is irresistible that Montreal is becoming good in preparation for the Duke's visit.

What with three men held on a burglary charge, and two held on a charge of highway robbery, and the good and excellent town of Westmount convulsed in preparation for another burglary trial, this idea of becoming good all at once sounds like a mockery; but the officials of the Police Court were somewhat surprised at the announcement of so little to be done, so they adjourned one and all to the Court of Special Sessions after dealing with the following cases:

FOR FOUR TOMATOES.

Thomas Brennan, stoker of R.M.S. Parisian, came up, accused of the crime of stealing four tomatoes from a crate in Bonsecours Market. He pleaded not guilty and was turned over to the Court of Special Sessions, which will try him to-day.

CHARGED WITH THEFT.

The other was Thomas Williams, alias Ferns, alias Deguire, 35 years of age, porter, of 67 St. Elizabeth Street, who came up on a charge laid by Assistant Detective Coleman of theft. He was remanded September 20.

COURT OF SPECIAL SESSIONS.

While the Police Court was thus idle, the Court of Special Sessions, on the other hand, was busy. In fact, judging from the number of names called, Judge Desnoyers has his work cut out for him for some time to come. All these are old ones, however, on information laid last week, or weeks before, so that they are hardly indicative of increasing or decreasing depravity.

After the names of Edmond Fraser and Theodore Quinn had been called, that of Francis S. Snow, charged with breach of contract by the Montreal Gas Company, came up, but was remanded.

George Kent, charged with obtaining $5 by false pretences from Arthur N. Temple of the Maclean Manufacturing Co., pleaded guilty, and was remanded for hearing, and the case of Elsie Bourgeois and W. N. Bentley were postponed.

After these had been dealt with the case of the C.P.R. authorities against Mme. Allard, her son, Henri Allard, and Emile Decelle, came up. The first witness was J. R. Erthier, of the C.P.R., who stated that on Monday the two boys had been arrested charged with stealing 77 pounds of cheese, worth $3.85, in one crate, and nine dozen eggs, worth $1.80, and carrying them away in a bag. The next witness was John J. Bain, who testified along similar lines, and he was followed by the two boys, who admitted the theft to some extent, but mutually recriminated each other, and were followed by Madame Allard herself, who denied that she had received the stolen goods knowing them to be such. Several pounds of the cheese stolen were produced in court. The case was remanded for further investigation. In the meantime the two boys will remain in the reformatory and Madame Allard in the Central Police Station.

The cases to be dealt with this afternoon are charges of Joseph Blanchette, accused of stealing gas from the Montreal Gas Co., and Thomas Brennan, accused of stealing tomatoes, as noted above.

PERRIN PUT ON TRIAL.

The enquete in the case of Charles Perrin, 21 years old, the alleged burglar who stole $100 from the Queen School, Oliver Avenue, Westmount, commenced this morning in the Westmount Police Court, Recorder McMahon presiding. Perrin comes of a good family, and disappeared immediately after the robbery on Saturday of last week, but was tracked, located at Albany, N.Y., and brought here by Constable Cowan, of the Westmount police force.

MANY COMING TO SEE SCHLATTER

Healers From Many Parts of Canada Here to Consult the "Healer."

Schlatter is a much sought man just now. Ever since it became known that he was in town, the hall where he will lecture, has been a rendezvous for cure seekers.

But the "divine healer" is not to be found. He is sought for without success. Daily the faithful make their pilgrimage to Drummond Street and patiently they wait around to catch a glimpse of the great man, but they see him not. All do not come to be cured, though that is what attracts many.

There are those, themselves minor healers of lesser fame, but lacking the colossal confidence that has carried the master to the niche he adorns in the temple of success, who seek by communion with him to be strengthened in their faith and efficacy.

It was one of these who found her way up into the innermost recesses of the Herald office yesterday afternoon. She had looked for Schlatter all day, and was weary of her quest.

"I came here," she said, "because of this."

A copy of Tuesday's Herald was produced from the depth of one of her garments. The paper contained a reference to Schlatter. It was to this that she pointed as she asked: "Can you tell me where I will find Schlatter?"

She was a little woman, whose face and hands gave evidence that her path through life had not been strewn with roses. Her name, she said, was Mrs. Dennings, and she had come all the way from Valleyfield to Schlatter. To see and talk with Schlatter represented the sum total of her desires. Yet after hours of searching she had not yet seen him.

"But I shall see him before I go home," she went on, finding that she had met someone who would listen. "Aye, even if I have to stay here over Sunday to do it. He's going to lecture then, the paper says. Lecture on 'Modern Infidelity.' What's that? Seems to me it was something like that caused trouble in a family I knew in Valleyfield. I don't quite know what it's got to do with divine healing, but since its Schlatter it
