29 LIVES LOST BY STEAMER'S WRECK

Recent Hurricane off the Southern Coast of Cuba Does Great Damage.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 17.—Advises received here to-day from the Isle of Pines, off the southern coast of Cuba,
tell of the loss of the steamer Nicholas Castina, with 27 members of its crew and two passengers during the recent hurricane in these waters.

NEW ZEALAND'S CONTRIBUTION

In Addition to a Dreadnought, Three Cruisers and Other War Vassels will be Built.

Honolulu, Sept. 17.—Joseph Ward, Premier of New Zealand, who arrived here to-day, said that in addition to building a Dreadnought of the Immortal type for the Empire at a cost of $10,000,000, New Zealand
would give three $2,000,000 cruisers,
six torpedo boats and six submarines. These, with the submarine fleet and the ships attached to the China station will give Great Britain double the naval strength in the Pacific Ocean over all other powers with the exception of the United States. The combined Oriental powers and European powers in the Pacific, he said,
would not, however, equal the combined naval force of Great Britain and America.

ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTE MADE SENSATION

Premier Asquith had a Thrilling Time
—Women Wielded Axes and Threw Tiles.

Birmingham, Sept. 17.—Premier Asquith to-night addressed a great budget demonstration here. He declared that the House of Lords was impotent in finance and that the Liberals were eager for a fight should the House of Lords venture to reject the budget.

The meeting was remarkable because of the frenzied behavior of the suffragettes, who threw toy bombs and wielded axes during the proceedings.
Two of the women climbed to the roof of a building adjacent to Bingley
Hall, where the meeting was held,
and loosened tiles and bricks with axes and pelted the police below. Several persons were hurt. The suffragettes were dislodged only with the aid of the fire hose. Others of the suffragettes threw missiles which smashed windows in the train in which Premier Asquith was departing from the city after the meeting. Several of them were arrested.

FIGHT WAS A DRAW
Baltimore, Md., Sept. 17.—Hervey
Stone, of New York, and Kid Sullivan, of Washington, fought fifteen rounds to a draw to-night before the Eureka Athletic Club.

SUICIDE OF BOOKMAKER.
New York, Sept. 17.—Frank E. Beck, a bookmaker, widely known among racing men, committed suicide in his room on West 127th street to-night, by inhaling illuminating gas. He is said to have lost several thousand dollars at the last Saratoga meeting.

LADY GOLF CHAMPION.
Montreal, Sept. 17.—The Canadian ladies' golf championship contest was brought to a close this afternoon,
after Miss Henry Anderson, of Montreal, won the title by defeating Miss Dick, of the Lambton Club, by 5 up,
4 to play.

SUICIDED WHILE INSANE.
Woodstock, Ont., Sept. 17.—Wm.
Sutherland, aged 55, while temporarily insane through illness, cut his throat with a razor to-day and was dead when found. Sutherland went out for a walk this morning, and when he failed to return a search was instituted and his dead body was found in a grove to the south of the city. His throat was slashed deeply.
He had taken the razor from his pocket apparently with suicidal intentions.

WIRELESS MESSAGE

Received at Cape Race States that American People Can Have Full Confidence in His Conquest of Pole.

On Board the Steamship Oscar II., at Sea, Sept. 17, via Marconi Wireless Telegraph to Cape Race, Nfld.:—
"Tell the people of America to have the fullest confidence in my conquest of the Pole. I have records of observations made by me which will prove my claim. I shall be glad again to set my foot on American soil." This was the brief message Dr. Frederick Cook to-day asked the Associated Press
to give to his countrymen as he nears home on the steamer Oscar II., bound from Christiansand, Norway, for New York. The Oscar II. is due to arrive there sometime next Monday.

Dr. Cook discussed freely with the Associated Press correspondent to-day
the assertions of Commander Peary that he (Cook) had never reached the North Pole and drew from him a detailed story of the causes that brought about disunion between the two explorers.

When he departed for the North, Dr.
Cook said he left a depot of provisions at Anaktok, north of Etah, in charge of Rudolph Franke and several Eskimos. Franke had instructions to go south aboard a whaler and return later. This he did, but missed the returning vessel, owing to a slight illness. He was then taken aboard Peary's ship, the Roosevelt, and proceeded north.

"Commander Peary found my supply depot at Anaktok," Dr. Cook continued, "and the Eskimos in charge told him I was dead, which they fully believed to be true at the time. Peary placed two men in charge of the depot—Boatswain Murphy and another Harry Whitney, the New Haven hunter also remained there. Murphy had orders to search for me, but was told he could send Eskimos northward the following spring from the relief depot.

"When I returned from the Pole unexpectedly, Harry Whitney was the first to see me and tell me what had occurred. Whitney was placed in possession of the facts concerning my journey to the Pole on the condition that he would not inform Commander Peary or his men of them. At the same time the Eskimos who had accompanied me north were told to maintain the strictest silence.

"When I went into the depot there was a dispute between myself and Murphy, who delivered to me written instructions he had received from Peary, although he himself could neither read or write. These instructions showed that he was making a trading station of my depot, the contents of which had been used in trading for furs and skins."

Dr. Cook said he was intensely annoyed at this alleged wrongful use of his supplies and threatened to kick
out Murphy and his companion.
Finally, however, he consented to their remaining at the depot as there was no other shelter in the vicinity
for them.

"On one occasion Murphy asked me abruptly, have you been beyond 87°?" Dr. Cook said, "but I was determined not to let Peary know of my movements and replied evasively that I had been much farther north. From this statement has been concocted the declaration that I had said I had not reached the pole."

Dr. Cook declared that neither Harry Whitney nor his (Cook's) recommendation on board the steamer Roosevelt and that, therefore, Peary's information concerning him emanated from Boatswain Murphy, although he knew nothing of his movements. Dr. Cook said also that he had made arrangements for the two Eskimos who went with him to the Pole and Knud Rasmussen, whom he met in Greenland, to go to New York and confirm the story of his discovery.

Dr. Cook is thoroughly enjoying his rest aboard ship after the strenuous days at Copenhagen. He sleeps ten hours each night and spends a long time daily in writing and in walking the decks and conversing with the American passengers, who all have been formally presented to him by Benjamin Trueblood, President of the American Peace Society of Boston.

MARDI-GRAS AT CONEY ISLAND.
New York, Sept. 17.—Coney Island's mardi-gras was spoiled for a considerable portion of the 400,000 persons who visited the island to-night, by the boisterous rowdiness of several gangs of hoodlums. Nearly half a hundred arrests were made by the police in the effort to curb the rougher element, but the crowds were so large and so densely packed that most of the leaders of the ruffians escaped. Two men were seriously hurt while on their way to the resort,
their injuries being caused by the crowded condition of the cars.

FEDERATION OF CANADIAN CLUBS

Definitely Decided Upon at Meeting of Representatives in Montreal Yesterday.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Montreal, Sept. 17.—A federation of Canadian Clubs was definitely decided on at to-day's meeting of the convention of members of these bodies, representing all important organizations from Atlantic to Pacific. Although there will be a central organization
individual clubs will be left to look after their own interests. The first president of the association of Canadian Clubs is W. H. D. Miller, of Montreal; Vice-Presidents, C. R. Mc-Cullough, Hamilton; J. D. Mitchell,
Winnipeg; Mayor Chisholm, Halifax;
F. C. Wade, Vancouver. The appointment of a general secretary was left in the hands of the Montreal club.

Lord Strathcona was honored by the Canadian Club of Montreal tonight, in conjunction with the representatives of the other clubs throughout the Dominion, gathered here for old home week. The speech of the High Commissioner was eagerly awaited, as it was expected he would make some reply to the repeated rumors of his expected retirement. Lord Strathcona, however, left that subject severely alone, and with his old time
vigor aroused the younger members of his audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm, by referring to the immense possibilities which Canada offered to men with energy and brains.
He recalled the Canada of fifty years ago and pathetically wished he could live his 90 years over again.

GRAND MASS AT BASILICA

Will Mark the Opening of the Plenary
Council Tomorrow
Morning.

Special preparations have been made in the Basilica for to-morrow morn-ing's service in that sacred edifice. If fine weather prevails, all the Archbishops and Bishops, accompanied by the delegates to the Plenary Council, will proceed to the Basilica at 8.30 by way of Buade, Garden and Fabrique streets. Mgr. Sharette will officiate at Grand Mass, while Mgr. Bruchesi, of Montreal, will deliver a sermon in French, and Mgr. Gauthier, of Kingston, will preach in English. A special musical service will be rendered.

SOUSA AND HIS FAMOUS BAND

Won Great Success at the Auditorium
Yesterday—Large Audiences Present at Both Performances.

John Philip Sousa and his famous band have lost none of their magnetic power, as was evidenced by the two big houses which assembled at the Auditorium yesterday to hear the well-selected programmes which were offered to musical Quebecers.

In the evening in particular there was almost a record audience, standing room being almost impossible to be found. Sousa is the same Sousa as of yore, and his band has lost none of its effectiveness
nor its offerings none of that attractiveness which impels attendance all over the continent when its appearance is announced. For the present season, Sousa has an exceptionally well balanced band, and whether the selection was of the heaviest classical character or of the lightest or most fanciful character the results seemed to be the same, and the audience applauded with an enthusiasm which showed that their pleasure was genuine. Sousa has been named the "March King," and the title seems to be well deserved, for perhaps the greatest enthusiasm of all was awaked by the rendering of the old and well-known strains of many of his march successes. Sousa also has a new march this season, "Fairness of the Fair," and it seems likely to take its place with such well-known compositions as "El Capitan," "Hands Across the Sea," "Manhattan Beach," and all the rest which have come to be regarded as classics in the march line. It met with a hearty reception last night, and called for repeated en-cores. The day's programmes included such offerings as Goldmark's "Spring"
verture, Liszt's symphonic poem, Sousa's Bachmanian Suite (new),
Rachmanoff's "Prelude," Friedman's
"Slavonic Rhapsody" and other like compositions, while there were numbers other lighter numbers that were rendered with no less delightful effect.
Mr. Herbert J. Clarke, the cornettist, won a distinct success with his solos
and the duets of the Misses Hoyt and violin solos of Miss Florence Hardeman also added to the success of the programme. Mrs. Frank Murphy, to whom Quebecers are indebted for the appearance of Sousa in Quebec, is entitled to the thanks of all musical lovers in the Ancient Capital, and it is to be hoped that the success which marked her venture will encourage her to give Quebecers the opportunity of hearing some of the other great stars in the musical firmament during the present season.

WITH FULL MILITARY HONOR

Remains of Late Company Sergeant-Major Lyndon Were Laid to Rest Yesterday.

With all the impressive honors
which members of the military service of the Dominion can pay to the memory of a departed comrade, the remains of the late Company Sergt-Major Herbert B. Lyndon, whose unexpected death at Halifax, in the prime of his young manhood, created so much sorrow among his large circle of friends in this city, were laid to rest in Mount Hermon Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The body arrived by the Maritime Express and was met by a large detachment of the military corps of the Ancient Capital. Preceded by a firing party of twenty-one men from the R. C. G. A., and with the band of the corps playing the Dead
March in Saul, the mournful procession took up its march to the cemetery. Following the gun carriage, upon which were borne the remains of deceased, enveloped in the Union Jack,
and with his sword and helmet upon
the casket, came the chief mourners, among whom were Lieut. A. A.
Lyndon, C.O.C., Toronto; Bandsman
Lee Lyndon, Quebec, brothers, and Sub-Conductor Herbert, Halifax, brother-in-law. Then came many of the friends of the deceased and large detachments from almost every military corps in Quebec. There were many floral offerings upon the casket, testifying to the high esteem in which the late Sergt-Major was held by his many acquaintances in Quebec. The prayers at the graveside were said by Rev. Geo. H. Cobbleick, pastor of the Methodist Church, and after the body
had been lowered into its narrow bed, the "Last Post" was sounded and a volley fired, a last tribute from his mourning comrades-in-arms.

AN IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT.

The citizens of Quebec will be pleased to learn of the appointment of Mr. Harold B. Shaw, son of the late well known and highly respected Mr. P. A. Shaw, of this city, to the position of Assistant General Manager of the Union Bank of Canada. Mr. Shaw has been the manager of the bank in the West for a number of years, and has acquitted himself with great credit in that important capacity, his success therein testifying to the energy and ability which he will no doubt display in the still more important position to which he has now been assigned. He will be a great loss to the west, and an equally great gain to Quebec, which will be proud of the success of the son of one of its most valued citizens. We understand that Mr. Shaw, who has recently returned from a four month residence in Europe with Mrs. Shaw, take up his abode at the Chateau Frontenac for the winter.

A FAMOUS VISITOR

Halley's comet, which has visited the glimpses of the earth at intervals of about three-quarters of a century was observed by the astronomer at Heidelberg on Saturday night. This is in accordance with the prediction of the famous French astronomer, M. Flammarion, who announced last July that this dweller in space might be looked for in September. He now states that it will soon advance rapidly to the stars of Taurus, and reach Aldenaran in the last days of November, but it will not be visible to the naked eye for a long time. When it is seen it is likely to cause a sensation, for it is notable for the tail described as half as long as the average rainbow. It will be a celestial feature till May next when it will only be a trifle of twelve or thirteen millions of miles away from the earth, but it will not come nearer than that, or not near enough to disturb more than unstable nerves.

In November, 1906, Dr. J. J. Holetschek pointed out that at the end of this year Halley's comet would be observable, and that during the second half of March, 1910, it would be visible to the naked eye. Previous computations had indicated May 16, 1910, as the date of its perihelion, subject to an error of only thirty days, and it was inferred that its brightness would increase decidedly in the late months of 1909. The recorded appearances of this comet date from 451 A.D., and Professor H. C. Wilson, in May, 1908, discussing the approximate elements of the comet's orbit on these dates showed that the elements for 1900 indicate a similarity with those of 1066 when it became an object of remarkable grandeur, and when it was regarded as a propitious omen for the army of William the Conqueror.

The last appearance of this famous comet was 74 years ago, though considerably more than 76 years passed between that and its next previous visit. During its last visit, the comet made its perihelion, or nearest approach to the sun on Nov. 16, 1835, and the next previous one was observed on March 16, 1759, or 76 years and eight months before. The next perihelion passage is calculated to occur in June, 1910, only 74 years and six months later than that of 1835. The time for a comet to traverse its orbit is believed to be variable, and affected by the attraction of any of the larger planets which it may happen to approach too closely. Jupiter is said to have caused the latest change in the time table.

Halley's comet is, as we have said, notable for a tail of magnificent extension; it is also noteworthy as the first comet whose reappearance was predicted; the old theory being that comets were vagabonds in space and had no regular periods. One of the earliest recorded visits of this comet was in 1456, just as the Turks had become masters of Constantinople and were threatening to pour into Europe and one of the litany of the period prayed the Lord "to save us from the Devil, the Turk, and the Comet"; previously to this, it had appeared as a "fiery dragon" to the Chinese. At every return it has been bright enough to become conspicuous, and is coming toward us now in a vast oval orbit.

GOLF UNDER DIFFICULTIES

The devotees of the ancient and royal game of golf can hardly refrain from sympathizing with Mr. Asquith, the British Prime Minister, for the circumstances under which he was recently compelled to indulge in his favorite pastime. President Taft has had his own troubles in the pursuit of this healthy and flesh reducing sport. He has found himself exposed to the fire of a legion of photographers, who evidently delighted to picture him in the most awkward positions a stout man could assume, and who have shown no mercy in their determination to expose him to the smiles of the public, but to a gentleman with the keen sense of humor which the American President possesses this ordeal was not so very dreadful as it might have proved, for instance, to a stout gentleman like the late President Cleveland.

But Premier Asquith's troubles are more serious than those to which President Taft has been exposed. When he went out to play a game the other day, he was attended by a bodyguard of six stalwart policemen, not to protect him against the harmless and necessary camera fiend, but to save him from the danger of being overwhelmed by the eloquence of the stout, voluble ladies who compose the fighting line of the British female suffrage army, and who have evidently made up their minds to make life a burden to the British Prime Minister. These ladies are doing their best to drive the unfortunate dignitary into the insane asylum. They simply will not leave him alone. They dog his steps to lunch, and they keep on ringing his doorbell when they suspect he has succeeded in lodging their verdicts and getting home in spite of them. Now that they have invaded the golf links and compelled him to surround himself with an official guard when he simply seeks a little innocent diversion, he would doubtless welcome a dissolution of parliament and a new election that might divert the feminine attention from himself to a Tory successor. What's the use of being a Prime Minister if a man is not allowed to play golf in peace?

NO END OF THE TRICKS

There appears to have been no end of the tricks that were played in the Quebec constituency of Chivoutini, prior to the last election, to secure Dominion Government money for works that do not come within its purview. Some of the facts brought out in the trial of a case in court have already been referred to. Others may be cited.

A better road than the existing one was needed from L'Anse a Benjamin to St. Alphonse. The people had been agitating it for fifteen years, but had been unable to get anything done. It came before the election in the shape of grants "for the purpose of improving the wharf and clearing away rocks that injured the approaches to the wharf." Over four thousand dollars was spent in this way. Of course it was an improper expenditure, as the Dominion Government does not ordinarily build country roads. It had its effect, however, in getting votes for the Government candidate.

Anse St. Jean had a bridge, but it wanted another opposite the church. The residents petitioned for it and it is said threatened to vote against the Government if it was not forthcoming. It was built and charged to the Government telegraph line which runs through the district. Abbe Alfred Labrecque, cure of the parish, testified that he knew of the request to the Government for the construction of a bridge. The bridge was for the use of some families on the south shore. They were obliged to cross on a four-foot boom. If they desired to drive across they had to go a mile and a half further down stream to the municipal bridge. Mr. Tache, the Government engineer in the district, had told him to find a reason for asking a subsidy. He had responded not without satire that there was no rock to blast; only sand, and that there was no dredging to be done. The witness said that the bridge would be of no use to the telegraph lineman because he lived to the southeast of the river, and the line was a mile and a half from the bridge. Abbe Labrecque said that he had heard that the telegraph line would be changed from one bank of the river to the other to justify the work which had been done on the bridge.

"Here is a plain case. The Abbe, seeing that the parish needed a bridge, thought it would be no harm to ask the member, but when pressed for a plausible excuse he could find none. But the threat of certain of the patriots of that district, no bridge, no votes, brought the member and his associates to see that something must be done. The excuse was made that the money was needed to repair a telegraph line which was more than a mile away. The money was granted and spent. The Government and the Auditor-General were misled and the treasury was robbed by false pretences."—Moncton Times.

GRAVEYARD OF PACIFIC.

Waters of Vancouver Island Cast Up Remains of Many Wrecks.

Much interest has been aroused in Victoria regarding the reports of the finding of the wreck of the long-lost sloop-of-war Condor, which foundered with her complement of 140 officers and men, under command of Capt. Schlatter, during a heavy gale of Dec. 3 and 4, 1901.

There is scant proof, however, that the lost warship has been located. It seems that Mr. Harvey, a settler at Long Beach, situated between Ucluelet and Clayoquot, on the west coast of Vancouver Island and open to the Pacific, noticed that the waves broke at a distance of a mile and a half south from his ranch, where they had never broken previously. He noticed this first four years ago. Afterward wreckage of various kinds, some of which bore the admiralty mark, was washed ashore near his ranch, and a few weeks ago a spar repaired with copper after the manner of work done by naval men was found. About this time Bonnycastle Dale, a naturalist, who has been visiting the locality, questioned Mr. Harvey, who had never made public the news of his finds. On his return to Victoria, Mr. Dale put forward the theory that the hull of the Condor was the object over which the waves were seen to break off Long Beach. Since then the vicinity has been carefully patrolled, but nothing further has been found ashore. Investigation to prove or disprove the theory can only be made from the sea on a calm at low water, and no investigation has yet been made. It was near this place that the only floatplane that reached shore from the lost warship was found in January, 1902, by His Majesty's ship Egeria and the United States revenue cutter Grant, which were sent to patrol the coast when the reports arrived that the Condor was missing.

The west coast of Vancouver Island has been called "the marine graveyard of the Pacific." A wreck chart shows two scores of wrecks between Victoria and Clayoquot, some few of which still remain broken monuments of disaster, on the island coast. How many vessels were lost before the coast was settled fancy can scarcely speculate. The Indians tell stories of Japanese junk lost long before the white man came, and there is a partially buried wreck near the Columbia River from which cubes of wax marked with Roman numerals have been dug—a mystery nobody has solved. Coins and other things Japanese have been dug out at various points, and there is strong evidence that Indians of the Vancouver Island are the offspring of Japanese, or, at least, of mixed marriages between shipwrecked aliens from across the Pacific and the coast women. Stones bearing Chinese characters have also been found, which fact supports a statement that documents were found years ago at Peking stating that a Chinese discovered the coast of Vancouver long before Columbus crossed the Atlantic.

NERVOUS DISORDERS

Promptly Cured by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

If your hand trembles or is unsteady, remember that this is a sure and early sign of your nervous system being at fault. The mischief may develop slowly to a worse stage. You feel unaccountably weak and weary after exertion; you lose flesh; you turn against food and suffer palpitations and indigestion after eating. At times you are intensely irritable, greatly depressed and easily worried. Sometimes sharp pains shoot down your spine and legs and probably neuralgia robs you of your sleep at night. These are some of the troubles that indicate the presence of nervous disorders. If these troubles are neglected they result in complete nervous collapse and possibly paralysis. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have won a great reputation by curing all forms of nervous disease. The nervous system depends entirely upon the blood supply for nourishment; when the blood is thin and weak the nerves are affected as described. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually increase the supply of good red blood, feed, strengthen and tone the nerves, enable them to perform their functions and dispel all signs of a breakdown.

Mrs. Jas. H. Ward, Lord's Cove, N.B., says: "About two years ago I suffered so much from nervous prostration that I was little better than a helpless wreck. I suffered from headaches and a constant feeling of dizziness. The least unusual move would startle me and set my heart palpitating violently. I had little or no appetite, and grew so weak that I was hardly able to drag myself about, and could not do my household work. In every way I was in a deplorable condition. As the medicine I had been taking seemed to do me no good, my husband got a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had only been taking the Pills for a couple of weeks, when I seemed to feel somewhat better, and this encouraged me to continue the treatment. From that on my strength gradually but surely returned, and in the course of a few more weeks I was once more a well woman, able to do my own household and feeling better than I had done for years. I have since remained well and feel that I owe my good health to the healing powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Every other weak, sickly, worn out, nervous person should follow the example of Mrs. Ward and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. These Pills will send new blood coursing through the veins and bring brightness and energy to the weak and despondent. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BREAD FOR AN EMPIRE IN CAN. ELEVATORS

Fastest Elevators on Earth at "Twin Cities" Where 1,200,000 Bushels of Wheat Handled Every Day.

Toronto, Sept. 17—Canada has the largest and fastest terminal elevators in the world.
That is a statement of fact that may be listed among the accomplishments of a young country in the first decade of the twentieth century, that is to be all our own.
Canadians may brush aside sentimental generalities now and then, the world cold facts instead of platitudes. In one single day the Canadian elevators at the head of Lake Superior can unload from miles and miles of freight cars enough wheat to feed a city of 100,000 inhabitants for an entire year.

These same vast terminal warehouses at Port Arthur and Port Arthur can pour streams of grain into the holds of waiting steamers so fast that their capacity is the only limit to be considered.
The farmers of the West can crowd their prairie elevators to the point of bursting, and trains can move eastward as fast as operating conditions on the Transcontinental systems will permit, heaven forbid the big terminal elevators can unload and load again, accelerating the movement of the Canadian wheat crop to the seaboard and to Europe.

The demand for speed is ever increasing. One elevator of the latest type today can do the work of a dozen 30 years ago. Quick dispatch is one of the economic factors in marketing, for the bulk of the export crop must get down the lakes before Dec. 10, when navigation becomes impossible. After that the all-rail haul is the only alternative, and that means loss to the farmers, and curtailment of the purchasing power of the west.
Canada today is beating out United States in the handling of grain, not only because of the improved waterways of the lower lakes and the splendid terminal facilities at Montreal, but also because there are high speed elevators at the head of the lakes. Port Arthur and Port Arthur are great strategic points in the battle for the business of carrying the grain crop of North America to the seaboard.

From now on to the close of navigation the elevators at Port Arthur and Port Arthur can handle 1,200,000 bushels of grain daily.
The wheat crop for 1909 has been estimated at 168,000,000 bushels and on this calculation the elevators at the head of the lakes can handle every ounce that will not be retained in the west for domestic consumption and seedling purposes.
The elevators run to their full capacity and every day 30 trains of 40 cars each—big, modern capacity cars, are unloaded.
At Port Arthur and Port Arthur there is today a storage capacity of 20,000 bushels, or sufficient to store one-third of the export wheat crop of the western provinces for this season.

The house under construction for the Grand Trunk Pacific is the first unit of a 40,000,000 bushel plant.
No wonder Port Arthur and Port Arthur face the future with complacency and dream of the next decade, when their 30,000 people will have grown by 100,000 more.

Following is the elevator capacity to-day at Port Arthur and Port Arthur:

Western terminal.....	960,000
Elevator A.....	1,250,000
Elevator B.....	500,000
Elevator C.....	1,300,000
Elevator D.....	3,000,000
Elevator E.....	2,000,000
Empire elevator.....	1,750,000
Ogish elevator.....	1,250,000
Consolidated elevator.....	960,000
Addition to Consolidated.....	800,000
G. T. P. elevator.....	3,000,000
Thunder Bay elevator.....	1,750,000
Marhead & Black.....	100,000
Canadian Northern.....	7,000,000
Total.....	27,720,000

There are 25 steamers in the carrying trade between these ports and Montreal, and there are 25 times as many steamers call at the ports as 25 years ago. The "Twin Cities" are the unchallenged Liverpool of the Canadian lakes.

A STRANGE TRIBE.

The Touaregs, to Whom Timbuktu Owes Its Origin.

A recent explorer, journeying from Tripoli across the great desert of Sahara, gives account of much of the progress of his progress offered by the various wandering tribes. Much of the serious trouble was caused by the Touaregs, a strange band of people, supposed by some to have descended from the crusaders. These dwellers of the desert are distinguished by the wearing of veils, a custom which has caused much discussion. Says Felix Dubois in "Timbuktu the Mysterious."
"As you travel an atmosphere of secrecy hovers over the country, and you remember that these mysterious Touaregs are still momentarily its oppressors and masters.
These people keep their eyes from the excessive glow of the desert by two veils, one rolled round the temples and falling down in front, the other reaching from the nostrils to the edge of the clothing, covering the lower part of the face. Savants seek all manner of forbidden origins to explain this custom. Hygiene is obviously the only motive. This is proved by their own statements and by the sobriquet, "mouths for flies," which they give to all who do not wear the veils.
These veils are never removed, even at mealtimes. They are so much a part of their wearers that any one deprived of such covering is unrecognized by his friends and relatives. If a number of the tribe should be killed in battle, no one could identify them if they had not on their veils.
Theft is the Touareg's natural form of industry. "This word," says a native proverb, "is like water fallen upon sand, never to be found again." The Sudanese term them as "thieves, hyenas and abandoned of God." Yet to this strange tribe Timbuktu owes its origin.

Beware of the barkless dog and the silent enemy.

AN ARCTIC GLORY FOR THEM

San Francisco, Sept. 17—Ernest Leffingwell, Arctic explorer, reached Point Barrow with a crew of picked whitemen, who were to accompany him on extensive voyages into unknown regions of the North only to be deserted by every man of the crew before preparations for the first trip could be finished.
News of Leffingwell's predicament has just been received here in a letter written early last month.
Leffingwell fitted out a gasoline line schooner Victoria for an expedition into the Arctic that was expected to extend over six or seven years, and, through agents in this city, engaged a crew who went North to join him at Victoria.
At Teller, in Behring Sea, the first point touched by the schooner, several of the whitemen left without notice, and at Point Barrow the last of the picked crew of white men deserted. Leffingwell found himself helpless and his season's work practically lost. The last report was that he was endeavoring to reach Herschel Island to establish headquarters. It is reported that the whitemen, injured as they were to the Arctic, did not approve of Leffingwell's plans for voyages into remote regions and decided to take no chances of being marooned on bergs or being starved or frozen to death.

The explorer was at last accounts endeavoring to ship a crew of Eskimo at Point Barrow, but he anticipated that the success of his plans was greatly jeopardized by the desertion of experienced whitemen. He will, however, attempt to find the north and west of Beaufort Sea and will make deep-sea soundings throughout that region.

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Doctors Recognized New Remedy That Prevents and Cures
This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhazone doesn't fail, it goes wherever the air breathed goes and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhazone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhazone protects and heals the inflamed surfaces, relieves congestion, allays inflammation, and perfectly cures all bronchial affections, throat weakness, chest trouble, catarrh and deafness. The dollar outfit of Catarrhazone lasts two months and invariably cures. Smaller size 50c. All dealers or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Ontario.

STRANGE COUPLE SEE POPE

Rome, Sept. 17—The Pope received as usual Saturday morning many people, among whom were a man of the name of Montorsi, 68 years old, and an old crippled woman, who was wheeled into the presence of the Pontiff in a wheelbarrow. Both pilgrims came from Modena, the man walking and pushing the seventeen days to make the journey. The Pope received them most cordially and thanked them for their great proof of attachment. He presented each of them with a silver medal.

CANADIAN BONDS INCLUDED

London, Sept. 16—Mortgage bonds and debentures of the railroads of the United States and Canada, Mexico and the Argentine, as well as the funds of all foreign Governments, were today included in the list of securities in which the trustees of estates purchased from life tenants under the Irish land bill may hereafter invest this purchase money.

END OF A RED NOSE

New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections.
A peculiar feature of psoriasis, a new skin discovery, is that it is naturally flesh-colored and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion, or for pimples, red noses, or any other inflammations, blemishes, or discolorations, its presence cannot be detected. It can thus be applied in the daytime, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the actual healing and curing process accomplished in a few days. It can be had of any pharmacist who sells pure drugs. Henry Willis, 4 St. John street, makes a specialty of it. Fifty cents' worth will answer either for the troubles mentioned or in curing ordinary cases of eczema.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York, can secure, by mail free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.

A SALE OF ANTIQUES.

The Trick A Shrewd Dealer Played on an Astute Banker.

A story told in the "Memories of an Old Collector" makes clear the tricks in trade to which an unscrupulous dealer in antiques will resort in order to get a large sum for his wares. The two parties were, Alessandro Castellani, the clever dealer, and Baron Adolph Rothschild of Paris. Castellani had managed to get hold of a superb enamelled ewer, together with the dish on which it stood. He knew that Baron Adolph had a fancy for objects of this kind, but he also knew that Rothschild was never so carried away by his fancy as to pay more than was reasonable for anything that pleased him. Castellani devised a bit of strategy.

The Baron on arriving in Rome visited Castellani's shop and was shown the best things the dealer had except the enamelled dish and ewer. When everything else had been inspected the dealer drew from a hidden cupboard the dish, but not the ewer. The Baron was so pleased with the dish that he agreed to buy the lot of which it was a part, for one of the customs of the shop was not to sell a rare specimen apart from the group of which it formed the principal object. The Baron paid heavily for the whole, lamenting that there was no ewer to sand on the dish, and departed for Florence.

There he was visited by an agent who told him of an old lady who wished to sell several beautiful Indian pieces. He visited her house in the country and was disappointed. As the majolica lady seemingly chagrined, left the room to order refreshments the Baron saw through the open door of a bedroom a ewer covered by a glass shade on which rested a wreath of immortelles.
When the lady returned the Baron asked permission to examine the ewer. It was brought out, and the Baron saw that the enamel was of the same work as that of the dish he had bought, but he wished to be certain that the foot of the ewer would fit into the hollow of the dish. He inquired the price of the ewer and was told by the lady that it was not for sale, as it was the only souvenir she possessed of her husband.
The Baron went back to his room, had the dish unpacked and found that the foot of the ewer fitted it perfectly. The next day the Baron sent the agent to offer the old lady a princely sum for the ewer. He brought back a refusal to sell. But at last the widow's scruples were overcome.
Castellani, with his Italian cunning, had planned the whole affair. The agent who called and the old lady who was sentimental were his aids in making the Baron pay a much larger sum than he would have given had ewer and dish been sold together. The Italian shopman's scheme had taken in one of the most astute of business men.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

DICTIONARY READERS.
That the natives of Niagara are capable of advanced forms of education is apparently proved by this little incident told by Constance Laymore in "A Resident's Wife in Niagara."
"My husband told me that in the course of the patrol they passed through a valley where the inhabitants of the rocks and hills above apparently made their homes in holes and caves. One member of the party idly asked what was the scientific name for cave dwellers, the word having slipped his memory for the moment. No one appeared to be able to supply the word, but then the native interpreter, pleading along behind, came up, saying: 'Pardon me, sir. Don't you mean troglodytes?'
"The Englishman amazed, asked where he had ever heard such a word, and 'George' replied placidly, 'I was reading a dictionary one day and saw it.'
"I cannot imagine myself reading a German or Italian dictionary for pleasure and storing in my mind for future use conversationally a specially unusual scientific term. I only wish I could!"

OFFICERS ON
STEAMER LUSITANIA

Will Demand More Pay—Fare of One Passenger Well Pays Salaries of Captain and all Officers.

New York, Sept. 17.—"For bringing the Lusitania—a ship which cost $7,500,000—from Liverpool to New York, with her two to three thousand passengers and crew, valuable cargo and mails, through fog and storm and calm, the captain and his six officers get the magnificent sum of $99.42 in wages, which is divided among the seven of them.

$99.41 AMONG SIX.

"The captain gets but $40.41 and $59.01 is divided among the six officers. The chief officer gets $14.55, the first $12.13, the second $9.70, the third and extra third $8.08 each, and the fourth officer $6.47. Most of the officers in the Cunard service get less pay than the Lusitania's officers.

MINIMUM FARE $127.50.

"The minimum fare that the Cunard line accepts from a saloon passenger on the Lusitania, which is $127.50, not only pays the wages of the entire executive staff, viz., the captain and his six officers, for the voyage, but what is left pays the wages of two quarter-masters, two firemen and two stewards, with a couple of bellboys or a stewardess thrown in.

FREIGHT CAPTAINS BETTER PAID.
"I know more than one captain of a freighter who is paid twice as much for bringing his 3,000 to 5,000 ton craft across the Atlantic as the Cunard line pays to the skipper of the 32,000-ton, $7,500,000 Lusitania for like service.

The captain of the wrecked Slavonia received but $60.61 for commanding and navigating that ship for the voyage from New York to Naples, a distance of some 4,000 miles.

NO INCENTIVE.

"What incentive is there for a young man to take up maritime life as a profession or to continue in it if he is luckless enough to be a qualified navigator?"

ULTIMATUM EXPLAINED.

The above statement, made by a former officer on one of the Cunard liners who has quit the sea for a land lubber's job, explains the ultimatum which the captains and officers of the big British transatlantic steamships entering this and other American ports are about to present to the directors of their lines.

This ultimatum will demand that they receive pay and treatment commensurate with their skill and labor and the risk they run in the service.

The captains and officers on these liners number nearly 300 men, all of them highly educated navigators of the first rank, and many of them also members of the Royal Naval Reserve. The number given includes the officers serving on the Cunard, White Star, Atlantic Transport, Wilson and Anchor lines.

EXPECT TO WIN DEMANDS.

It is not expected that these captains and officers will actually go on strike, but they have in mind in their proposed presentation to the English Board of Directors the strike of the 500 captains and officers of the British India Service, which was nearly crippled before the owners came to terms.

Unlike the latter officers, however, the transatlantic men declare they expect to sign articles which will guarantee them their positions for at least two years under higher pay.

SIGNED FOR VOYAGE ONLY.

Officers on the big liners, such as the Cunard and the White Star, as your correspondent learned yesterday, are signed for the return trip only. They have not the slightest guarantee that they will be signed on for the next voyage. But reckoned monthly their incomes may be gathered from the following table:—

	First Month.	Second Month.	Third Month.
Chief Officer.....	$80	$85	$90
First Officer.....	65	70	75
Second Officer.....	55	60	60
Third Officer.....	45	50	50
Fourth Officer.....	35	40	40

Chief officers' pay increases to a final maximum of $110 a month, where it remains until they are ranked as captain.

TAKING TO THE SHORE.

It was learned that the officers on these liners were leaving their positions for places ashore as fast as they could secure them.

A former first officer on the Cunard Campania is now superintendent of a New York dock company. The former first officer of the Mauretania took a position with MacArthur Bros., contractors, working on the Ashokan Dam. The third officer of the Mauretania is now manager of a cotton mill in Fall River, Mass., while the first officer of the Cunard Pannonia left her at the end of the last voyage to take a situation in Philadelphia. The former fourth officer of the Caronia is now teaching the boys' school at Tarrytown founded by Helen Gould.

HERE'S A PRETTY ROMANCE

London, Sept. 17.—Old age pensions are responsible for a pretty country romance. The bells of the little village church at Kewell in Wiltshire will ring next week for the wedding of two old age pensioners who were lovers fifty years ago and met again only after each had married twice. It was in the village post office that they met once more, when the Old Age Pensions Act came into force. The old man could not sign his pension order and a venerable dame who happened to be in the office came to his assistance. His name was familiar to her, and when next pension day came around the two old folks compared notes and discovered that they had been sweethearts half a century before. Each had been married twice since then and now they are going to be married a third time—to each other.

LABOR MEN FOR
QUEBEC CONGRESS

To Discuss Policy to Protect International Unionism, Lemieux Bill, Importation of Musicians and S.A.

Toronto, Sept. 17.—There is considerable activity among the unions regarding the approaching convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, which opens in the City of Quebec on September 20th. As predicted some weeks ago, the number of delegates from Toronto will be the largest in the history of the labor movement. Fourteen delegates have already been elected and it is expected the number will reach 20 before Monday.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE UNIONS.

The chief subject of discussion will be the attack made on the international unions by the Canadian National movement.

The members of the International Trade Unions feel that the time is here when they must define a policy that will protect their interest.

DELEGATES ELECTED.

The delegates so far from Toronto are — Trades Council, William Glockling, James Ralph and J. Richardson; Typographical Union, Sam Haddon and James Simpson; Street Railway-men's Union, Joseph Gibbons; Brewery Workers, J. Corcoran and R. Babcock; Leather Workers, J. Shipman; International Printing Pressmen, W. A. Vickery; Boiler Makers, M. Cornell; Pattern Makers, Fred. Bancroft; Iron Moulders, J. Barnett.

NOT SATISFACTORY.

The congress will also take up the Lemieux Bill, which is not, according to labor men, just what it might be from their standpoint.

They are not satisfied with the policy pursued by the Salvation Army in bringing men to Canada from England.

IMPORTATION OF MUSICIANS.

Another question that will be taken up if the musicians are represented is the importation of musicians from the old land under contract. The Salvation Army is also interested in this question, because it is alleged that they are allowing their members to go into competition with musicians, and not asking for or receiving anything like the union rate.

The local trade union representatives, however, while in sympathy with the musicians, think they should be sufficiently interested in their own welfare to send representatives to the convention.

MAIZE FROM SOUTH AFRICA

London, Sept. 17.—A striking fact in the history of the grain trade of the world is the recent rapid increase in exports of maize from South Africa. It is not long since the South African farmers began to realize the possibilities of maize growing and the great value of this grain in the markets of Europe. Experts on this continent pronounced South African maize to be of the finest quality, and agriculturists found that the South African climate and soil were particularly favorable to the growth of the cereal. This year there has been an unusually large harvest, and owing to the fact that the natives have grown large quantities of amabele, or Kafir corn, they were not such extensive buyers of maize as in former years. As a result, so the Hon. F. R. Moor, the Prime Minister of Natal declared in a recent speech, 240,000 tons of Natal maize will be shipped to Europe between now and December next. The Transvaal has considerably over a million bags of the cereal available. So great has been the output that the Natal railroad has been unable to cope with the large consignments forwarded to each roadside station for transit to Durban.

$3.50 Recipe Cures
Weak Men - - Free

Send Name and Address Today—
You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4436 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

HOTEL GUEST FOUND DEAD

Aged Gentleman Who Has Been Frequent Visitor to Quebec Expired Suddenly.

Mr. W. L. Davidson, of Davidson
Hill, County of Sheffield, died rather suddenly yesterday afternoon in one of the up-town hotels. The deceased, who was 78 years of age, has been coming to this city frequently for several years past and arrived in town on Wednesday last. He became ill on Thursday and was under medical care, but was apparently improving in health yesterday morning. When one of the chambermaids passed the room yesterday afternoon she could not get an answer when she knocked at the door, and notified the office staff. The hotel porter went to the room and upon opening it found the old gentleman apparently lifeless. His physician was called in and pronounced the man dead. The body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held this morning.

News was circulated in town yesterday that a young man named Dar-

explosion at the Rock Portage Co.'s

news had been sent to Quebec by

TRIALS IN ELECTION CASES.

Most of the contested election cases in the last federal elections in this district were settled some time ago, but the petitioners who contested the election of Mr. Fortier in Lotbiniere and those who contested the election of Mr. Jos. Turcotte, in the County of Quebec, objected to any settlement, and moved to have dates fixed for the trial in each case. The Court ordered the Lotbiniere case to be tried on the 28th September and that of the County of Quebec, on the 4th of October next.

AT THE NICKEL.

The Nickel theatre had another pleasing programme for its patrons
in the change which took place yesterday afternoon. This theatre is proving a favorite resort for those who desire amusement and that the management is giving the audience a fine line of entertainment no better evidence is needed than the daily increase in the number of people attending the different performances.
The Nickel is splendidly conducted and particular care is exercised as to the pictures exhibited, so much so, in fact that any picture possessing even the slightest semblance of likelihood to be offensive is immediately discarded. This accounts largely for the high reputation which the Nickel holds.
The present programme is a diversi-
one and will meet with approval.
"A Half-Freed's Treachery" is a stirring picture, while comedy of the convulsive order is supplied in "Women Chauvinists." "A Wreath in Time" is another very pleasing subject, as are also each and every one of the others exhibited. Little Bonnie Rossley's popularity is increasing daily,
and her songs elicit the heartiest applause. Her numbers for the balance of the week are "Childhood Days" and
"I'll Remember," both of which she renders in a captivating manner.
Miss Wolfe has a very pleasing vocal number in "Twilight," a waltz song and she renders it in a style that leaves no doubt as to her ability as a soloist. Mr. Carroll's number is also of a pleasing nature and altogether the line of entertainment given at the Nickel is not eclipsed in any picture house, either here or elsewhere.

PRISONER IS KNOWN TO POLICE

Wilson, Supposed Bank Robber, is Alleged to be an American Crook.

Detective D. McLaughlin, of Montreal, and Detective Murray, of the Pinkerton staff, Boston, were in town yesterday to try and identify Wilson
alias Gordon, arrested by Constable Thos. Walsh and Defoy and Constable Lacasse a few nights ago under suspicion of being one of the burglars who last week blew up the safe of the Yamacache branch of La Banque Provinciale. Both detectives identified
Wilson, who, under the name of Regan, is alleged to be one of the best known burglars in the United States. He was remanded to jail for eight days, and in the meantime the United States and Canadian authorities will be notified of his arrest.
Detective Murray will return to Yamacache to-day and will come back here with parties from that town who may be in a position to identify the prisoner as one of those seen around there last week.

EASY FOOD

Ready For Instant Use Without Cooking

Almost everyone likes a cereal food
of some kind at breakfast and supper,
but the ordinary way of cooking cereals results in a pasty mass that is hard to digest, and if not properly digested, the raw mass goes down into the intestinal tract where gas is generated and trouble follows.

Everyone knows that good food properly digested keeps the body well, while poor food, or even food of good quality that is poorly prepared and not digested, is sure to bring on some kind of disease.

The easiest food to digest in this line is Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and barley, some 12 to 16 hours being consumed in the different processes of preparation. The food, therefore, is ready for instant service and the starch has been changed to a form of sugar, so that it is pre-digested and ready for almost immediate absorption.

A Chicago young lady writes that she suffered for years from indigestion
and dyspepsia from the use of food
that was not suitable for her powers of digestion. She says:

"I began using Grape-Nuts, and I confess to have had a prejudice at first, and was recently cured before I finally decided to try the food, but I have not known what indigestion is since using it, and have never been stronger or in better health. I have increased in weight from 100 to 124
pounds."

People can be well, practically without cost, if they will adopt scientific food and leave off the indigestible sort.

"There's a Reason."

Grape-Nuts food is crisp and delicious to the taste. It should be served exactly as it comes from the package, without cooking, except in cases where it is made up into mud-dies and other desserts—Bak of delicious puddings, and "The Road to Wellville," in plain.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

IS COMING

Noted Australian Contralto to Appear in Quebec on October 6th.

After a voluminous correspondence with Miss Mylott's impresario, our local concert manager has succeeded in inducing this famous singer to include Quebec in her Canadian tour.
Artists of Eva Mylott's calibre are very seldom heard in this city. She created a most favorable impression among music lovers last season both in England and the United States, and also in Toronto. To a striking stage presence and charming personality, Miss Mylott adds a purity of diction, mellow richness of tone and superb interpretative ability rarely found off the grand opera stage. Miss Mylott's repertoire includes all the operatic arias and oratorio parts for contralto, and has at her command numerous songs in French, Italian and the world's metropolis was unmistakable. She sang under the patronage

LEFT FOR TORONTO.

Two well-known and popular young men in the persons of Austin Nolan and Robt. Perry, left Quebec yesterday for Toronto, where they have obtained lucrative positions. Both were very prominent last winter on the forward line of the Crescent hockey team, and a large circle of friends will wish them every success in their new position. They were both employed at the Chateau Frontenac here and have now gone to Toronto to take positions at the King Edward Hotel.

PAINTING IN THE DARK.

Considerable interest will doubtless be aroused at the forthcoming exhibition of the English Salon at the Albert Hall, by the work of Mr. H.
K. Raine, a young artist who paints portraits in the light so subdued as to seem, to the new-comer's eyes, almost total darkness. He has invented a portable shutter for regulating the light of a room, and is thus able to paint his sitters in their own homes. One result of his method is that he paints with extraordinary speed. Sittings of about half an hour before and after luncheon for one week are all that he demands. Mr.
Raine makes his own oil, canvas, and colors by a secret process, and anyone may see the distinct similarity between his colors and those of the old Dutch colorists.

MAKESHIFT COMPASS.

Float a Magnetized Sewing Needle in a Bowl of Water.

If a thoroughly dry and clean sewing needle is carefully laid on the surface of water in a basin the needle
will float in spite of the high density of steel—seven or eight times that of water. On close inspection it is found that the surface of the water is depressed under the needle, much as if there were a thin film stretched over the water and slightly indented by the weight of the needle.

This property of liquids of offering a certain resistance to a force exerted
upon their surface is termed "surface tension." The magnitude of the force of surface tension varies from one liquid to another. It is greatest in the case of mercury. The cause of the phenomenon must probably be looked for in the attraction of the liquid
molecules to one another.

A sewing needle thus floating upon water may be used as a compass if it has previously been magnetized. It will then point north and south and will maintain this position if the containing vessel is moved about. If the needle is displaced by force it will return to its position along the magne-netic meridian as soon as the restraint is removed.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS

RECORD CROWD IS EXPECTED

At the Big Lacrosse Game in Montreal
To-day—Cousineau and Cattarnich Officials.

Montreal, Sept. 17.—Dr. Cousineau and Joe Cattarnich, of the Nationals, are the men who will handle the big game on the M. A. A. grounds tomorrow between the Montreal and Shamrock teams. They selected last night by President St. Pere, of the N. L. U., who seemed satisfied they would give both teams a square deal.

Both men know the game thoroughly, as they have played it for years. Joe Whyte and Tim Slattery had not been officially notified last night that Cousineau and Cattarnich had been selected, but when informed of the fact both expressed themselves as satisfied with the appointments.

Both teams had their final workouts yesterday, and will have a rest now until they line out on each other tomorrow.

It could not be learned last night how the teams would be made up, but it is almost certain that Roddy Finlayson will play with Montreal, as he is feeling in fairly good condition. In order to make room for him it will be necessary to drop one of those who played against the Nationals last Saturday, and in all probability Jack O'Kane is the man who will be given a rest. Neville will likely go in at cover point, and Finlayson drop in on the defence between McKerron and Fred Scott.

Should Gus Dillon play with the Shamrocks he will be found at cover point. It is hard to say who will be dropped to make room for him, but it will be either Secours, Hyland or Brennan.

In the game between Shamrocks and Nationals a couple of weeks ago Secours did not show anything like the form he did last season when with the French-Canadians, and it is not so sure that he is much better now. Hyland made a name for himself in the early games of the season, but since then has not done anything wonderful, and as is not certain of catching a place on the team tomorrow.

Should he be selected, it will be a great opportunity for him to redeem himself in the eyes of the followers of the Irishmen. Johnny Brennan has been suffering from a bad leg since July, and although he has been going well in practice, it may be decided to give him a rest tomorrow.

It will not be known until the teams are ready to go out on the field just how they will line out on each other.

With fine weather, there is no doubt but that the largest crowd that has ever witnessed a lacrosse game, or, for that matter, any other sporting event held in this vicinity, will be inside the M. A. A. grounds tomorrow. Everyone who goes out to the grounds will see the game, as the officials of the M. A. A. have made arrangements to accommodate over 15,000. Work was started yesterday on fences that will be erected within the field. One will run the full length of the ground, 40 feet out on the south side, and it is estimated 6,000 persons can find standing room there and see the game. Two other fences will run diagonally northeast and northwest.

Some are inclined to think the Shamrocks will throw the game in order to get the share of the gates in a home and home series. But those who know the Irishmen, and the men behind them, know they would rather win from Montreal than any other team in the league, and are anxious to wipe out the defeat they sustained on the Mile End grounds early in the season at the hands of the winged wheel team. They again, they could make more money in a couple of Minto Cup games at the Coast than with Montreal. So they can be counted on to do their very best to win. Should they lose tomorrow, there is small chance of their capturing the championship this season.

AUTO RECORD BROKEN.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 17.—At the Western Michigan State Fair this afternoon, Ralph De Palma of New York broke the world's record for 25 miles. His time was 22.59 3/5. The previous record for the same distance was 23.35 held by De Palma.

DIXIE H. SMASHED RECORDS.

New York, Sept. 17.—In the third and last day of the National Motor Boat Carnival here to-day, the Dixie II, owned by E. J. Schroeder, of Jersey City, smashed all competitive records for the hour by covering 37.8 miles in sixteen minutes and won the world's international championship in her class. The Dixie II. sped along over the triangular course of thirty miles in fifty minutes and fifty seconds then filled out the full hour for her record. The Elco-Craig and the Willow Brook, her only competitors, dropped out in the first day's racing.

SHOCK TO RACE TRACK FOLLOWERS

Sixteen Men Arrested at Gravesend on Charge of Aiding and Abetting Bookmakers.

New York, Sept. 17.—Race track followers received a severe shock to-day as that administered to prize fight promoters yesterday, when the state, county and city authorities refused to countenance the bout between Stanley Ketchell and Sam Langford. Sixteen men, many of them well known members of the Metropolitan Turf Association, were arrested at Gravesend Bay, while the races were in progress and arraigned before the King's County Court charged with aiding and abetting in the employment of bookmakers.

The arrests were made by detectives from the office of the King's County District Attorney on bench warrants, granted by County Judge Faucett. The men were taken into custody quietly and it was some time before the news spread through the enclosure. Then there was a commotion. The men were taken before Judge Faucett, of Brooklyn, where they all pleaded not guilty. They were released under $1,000 bail each for trial on September 27th.

THE DOUBLE UMPIRE PLAN

Report that National League May Revert to it Next Season.

John Heydler, president of the National League, is laying plans for his organization to have the double-umpire system again next season, his first move in this direction being the engagement of William Brannan, recently an arbitrator in the Wisconsin-Illinois League. Brannan will be regularly engaged. Harry Pulliam, the late president of the National League, saw Brannan work and was well pleased with his decisions. Mace of the Virginia State League, and Steinberg of the Connecticut State League have excellent chances of becoming National League umpires next season.

President Heydler started for Chicago yesterday, the probability being that there will be an important meeting in that city on Thursday of the National Commission to arrange the details of the coming world's championship series. Arrangements will then be made about the distribution of the prize money and a representative of the National League will then be selected to act for this organization in a business capacity.

While Harry Pulliam was alive his secretary, John Heydler, always was the National League's representative. Heydler, now president of this body and a member of the National Commission, cannot act in his former capacity and either Frank C. Bancroft, business manager of the Cincinnati Club, or Charles G. Williams, treasurer of the Chicago Club, will get the position formerly held by Heydler.

The fines assessed against the Chicago players for kicking on decisions by Umpire Klem in the recent Chicago-Pittsburgh series have been received at National League headquarters, as well as a complaint by Charles W. Murphy, president of the Chicago Club against Klem being allowed to umpire any more games in the National League in which his team participates. Mr. Murphy's protest is so strong that perhaps it will be brought to the attention of the National Commission.

HARRIER MEET TO-DAY.

Everything is in readiness for the annual meet of the Quebec District Harrier meet to-day, and with a fine day the attendance should break all records. The card for to-day is an attractive one and the events will bring out strong contingents from Quebec, Montreal and other points.

ORDINARY CARD AT GRAVSEND.

New York, Sept. 17.—A very ordinary card was run off at Gravesend to-day. The feature was the fourth event at one and a quarter miles which resulted in a victory for the favorite, Beauparc. He trailed his field a couple of lengths to well in the stretch where he came to the outside and under a hard drive won by a nose. Woolcasta, at 15 to 1, proved a big surprise when she won the third event.

CRICKET MATCH.

The last cricket match of the season will take place this afternoon on the Plains of Abraham at two o'clock. The teams will be picked from the players on the field.

METROPOLITAN GOLF CHAMPION.

New Rochelle, N.Y., Sept. 17.—Alex. Smith won the Metropolitan Golf championship here this afternoon with a score of 306 for the 72 holes.

EEL WON STAR EVENT.

Syracuse, N.Y., Sept. 17.—The free-for-all pace was the feature of the Grand Circuit meeting to-day. The grey Canadian stallion, the Eel, wriggled out a victory after losing the second heat to Copa De Oro in 2:03 1/4.

ORDINARY CARD AT GRAVSEND.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—The local cricketers had a score of 100 runs for a total of six wickets when stumps were drawn to-day in the match at Gravesend between All-Philadelphia and the gentlemen of Ireland.

YORKSHIRE DISMISSED

FOR TOTAL OF 26 RUNS.

Anybody with a hankering after sport will be surprised to hear that the entire batting strength of Yorkshire was dismissed for the modest total of 26 runs. It was Surrey who did it, and the match will ever be memorable. Surrey scored 273 in the first innings against Yorkshire's 223. When Yorkshire went in for a second time, after Surrey were all out for 62, they were set the task of getting 113 runs in an hour and a half on a wicket which was anything but true. They failed so dismally that they were dismissed in an hour for 26. The last wickets fell without a run being obtained. Rusby took five wickets for nine runs and Smith 5 for 12. Yorkshire will no doubt console themselves with the fact, for were not Northamptonshire bowled out by Gloucestershire for 12 runs. The downfall of Yorkshire will give particular pleasure to Notts, who were bowled out by Yorkshire in 1901 for 13, to Northamptonshire, who made 15 in 1908, and to the Australians, Sussex, Worcestershire, and Derbyshire, who have in various seasons all been dismissed by the Tykos for less than 30 runs in an innings. They will all have some sense of satisfaction that at last misfortune has overtaken the wearers of the white rose.

DONLIN PREFERS

STAGE TO DIAMOND.

Mike Donlin, that extraordinary genius of the baseball field, will never play professional ball again, according to his own expressed determination. His three-year engagement along with his wife, Mabel Hite, to Liebler & Company, does not involve any starring treatment whatsoever.

"We are simply going to play two parts that have been assigned to us," said Donlin. "And the parts are not the principal ones, either, but the management thinks they will be suited to us and we will do the best we can with them. I get better money for acting than I would playing ball, and there, I am not subjected to the whims and caprices of a baseball manager. They are strange people to deal with, those ball club owners."

"They thought me out of condition but I exercised daily and was in the best of condition at the termination of my vaudeville engagement, but the management and baseball magnates thought otherwise. But, let it go at that; I'm satisfied, and will stick to the stage. It's good enough for me, and I don't have to keep in training."

SWISS NAVAL WARS.

References to the Swiss navy are usually couched, but it is none the less a fact that ships of war once floated and even fought on the waters of the lake of Geneva. The great fleet was that of the Duke of Savoy, who at the beginning of the fourteenth century maintained a number of war galleys armed with guns and propelled by turrets varying in number from forty to twenty-two. These vessels besieged Venetian and even blockaded Geneva. But Geneva also had a fleet which helped in the capture of Chillon in 1536, and when the Bernese annexed the canton of Vaud they, too, had their flotilla. Their largest vessel was the Great Bear, with 64 oarsmen, 8 guns and 150 fighting men.—Westminster Gazette.

"HENNESSY"

A Trademark that is a Guarantee

If you purchase a bottle of Brandy and the label bears only such empty titles as

Very Old Pale Brandy Fine Cognac Brandy
Fine Old Brandy Eau-de-vie Vieille
Choice Liqueur Brandy Vieux Cognac
Fine Old Pale Brandy Fine Champagne Brandy
Old Liqueur Brandy Très Vieux Brandy

you are buying Brandy without any guarantee—such labels mean nothing—the absence of the makers name from the label leaves the purity and quality of the bottle's contents open to doubt.

It may be a Wine Brandy—it may be a mere chemical imitation.

There is one trademark that, in itself, is a guarantee of genuine Cognac Brandy—distilled in a "pot-still" from wine of the Char-ente district of France.

This is the well known White and Gold Label of the old established firm of Jas. Hennessy & Co. who, for 140 years, have shipped only the finest Cognac Brandy.

Their "ONE STAR" (over 6 years old) is as fine a Brandy as their "LIQUEUR" (over 70 years old)—the former brisk and strong with youth—the latter, mellow with age.

To insure getting the genuine Cognac Brandy, look for the HENNESSY label, as shown above, on every bottle you buy.

SAINT BERNARD DOGS

Live Where It Is Deep Snow In Summer—Heroic Service of the Monks whose House Is High In the Alps.

Come with me in the alpine diligence for a drive up the queer zig-zag road that goes twisting and climbing until it pierces the wet and misty clouds and reaches a region of eternal ice and snow. Here, in a climate almost as cold as Greenland, we shall find a band of men who do a great and good work, assisted by dogs, as Bernard de Menthon did long years ago, says a writer in St. Nicolas.

We start from the lovely Village of Chamonix at the very foot of mighty Mont Blanc and drive to Martigny. This "diligence" is the road coach of the Alps, drawn by five big horses, all decked with bells and fly-flickers. The air is like wine for its bracing sweetness, and all around us are roaring cataracts, glistening glaciers, or moving ice seas; gloomy ravines and towering peaks, below whose top-most crags thin wisps of cloud float like wreaths of gauze.

Round and round, up and up. It grows colder as we ascend, and the smiling landscape fades away. The pretty flowers disappear too—the anemone and gentian; draft-leaved saxifrage and sweet alpenrose. We shiver, even in August, and put on our wraps and furs.

We have passed from summer to winter in a few hours. Now we enter the Valley of Death, so called from its many fatal memories. Here at the most dangerous part of the Saint Bernard Pass a little shelter-house has been built; and parties climbing still higher to the famous hospice or monastery can now telephone their coming. This has saved hundreds of lives. For, now-a-days, after such a message, the good monks at the top look out for the travellers, and if they fail to appear after a certain time search parties of dogs are sent out to look for them. Here is deep snow even in August. It is so bitterly cold that we get off and walk to warm our numb limbs, and soon the bare, black walls of the world's loftiest house of charity loom through the damp mist. Winter lingers here for ten long months and the few weeks of summer do not suffice to melt the wilderness of ice and snow. We are here nearly 9,000 feet above the level of the sea, and the slightest exertion distresses our breathing apparatus, so rarefied is the air. No sooner are we at the door than a dozen monstrous dogs come baying forth to greet us. No questions are asked.

In the reception-room is a big piano which King Edward, then Prince of Wales, gave the monastery nearly 50 years ago. The Emperor Frederick of Germany and his consort also passed the night here, as also have a host of world-famous celebrities. For nearly two centuries, from generation to generation, some fourteen monks and eight or nine attendants have occupied the monastery and helped travellers crossing over the summit of the great Saint Bernard.

It is sad to think that even these helpers have to descend periodically in search of health, so terribly trying is the climate. The dogs themselves, even, suffer severely from rheumatism. At present the monastery costs about $9,000 a year to keep up, and this money is partly collected in Switzerland and partly derived from the revenue of the monastic order. But in the middle ages the monastery was stripped of all its wealth, though it still continued and continues to this day to carry out the work of Saint Bernard. Over 30,000 travellers pass this way every year, and hundreds of these, at least, would lose their lives were it not for the guardians of the mountain.

The poor emigrant laborers from Switzerland are often found by these faithful dogs, in the snow, utterly exhausted from hunger and fatigue, and often with badly frozen limbs. These are tenderly nursed in the spotless clean infirmary of the hospice. I visited this lofty house of charity in the clouds. Of course, the great attraction is the kennels of the famous Saint Bernard dogs. One is grieved to learn that even these, hardy and intelligent as they are, often perish in terrible storms. They are big, powerful short-haired animals, most of them white, but with a few brown patches. Last winter five magnificent creatures were lost in a furious blizzard.

I saw one or two aged veterans over twenty years old; these are now privileged to lie before the kitchen fire, and each of them has saved over twenty lives in the snowy wastes. The monks are not now so dependent on the dogs for news of travellers in distress, because of the telephone I have already mentioned. The scent of these dogs is so wonderfully keen they can track a man's footsteps in the snow for two or three days after he has passed. It is a grand sight to see the monks and their attendants go forth in their big fur coats, high rubber boots, helmets and swart's down gloves. Behind them come assistants with long ash poles, ice-axes, alpenstocks, spades, wine and provisions. When the first snow comes in September the paths are marked with posts twenty feet high. But these soon disappear and other posts are fixed on top of them, and so on. Soon the winter paths lead indifferently over enormous rocks and buried alpine huts. The greatest danger comes from the furious gales shifting the snow and making return impossible. The rescue parties are always led by the dogs, whose intelligence is never questioned. Sometimes the dogs go prospecting on their own account, and each carries a supply of good red wine in a flask about his neck. Should he track and find some wayfarer in the snow, or fallen down a precipice, he gallops back to the hospice with a message that is unmistakable. Then the rescue party goes out, rubs the frozen limbs of the unfortunate with handfuls of snow and encourages him to rise and walk a little. If this be impossible, or the victim be dead, he is borne back on the stalwart shoulders of the monks' attendants.

I was most interested to learn that the pure dogs of Saint Bernard dogs cannot live away from the mountain; they have been associated with the alpenrose in law and strength, and their wonderful capacity to sense danger, under any circumstances will the monks sell or part with their dogs, although they have had many tempting offers from foreign travellers, who will pay a high price. Most notable among these four-legged saviors is Oliver, with a record of 56 rescues. He is to be sent to Martigny, where the monastery has a kind of sanatorium in which the dogs try to regain the health and strength they have lost in the service of strangers.

"THE BURGOMASTER" NEXT WEEK

Pixley and Luders' musical masterpiece, "The Burgomaster," in which Harry Hermen will be seen in the part of Peter Stuyvesant, the jolly, one-legged Governor of New Amsterdam, who is buried while trying to escape hostile Indians, and who is dug up 200 years later in the City Hall Square in New York. The music of "The Burgomaster" is what has made it the greatest musical comedy success of the times. It is of high quality but popular, and perhaps no two songs have been more widely whistled or sung than "The Tale of the Kangaroo" and "I Love You." The story of the play is as follows: Peter Stuyvesant, Governor of New Amsterdam, wishes to be released and sent back to Holland. The Indians and the English are pressing him, they ask for concessions which he is unable to give; he and his secretary, Von Kull, prepare a keg of drugged liquor for the Indians, but drinking too freely of it themselves, they fall asleep. Two hundred years later, they wake up, while workmen are digging a trench in the City Hall Square, New York. Their experience in the metropolis can be imagined. They meet a gilded youth, Willie, who shows them the town—a rook, who fleeces them, a theosophist, who claims the burgomaster for her former husband, and scores of other types. The entire costuming and scenery for the production of "The Burgomaster" have been especially made for this big revival, and are entirely different from all former presentations of the "Burgomaster." The famous original Kangaroo girls chorus and the male sextette are still prominent factors in the formation of the present company which has been selected for ability as well as its beauty. Besides Mr. Hermen, there are over half a hundred well known comedy people in the cast. This catchy musical production will appear at the Auditorium for three days Sept. 20-21-22.

Our Strong Men

excite the admiration of the whole world by their startling feats which we love to applaud while we admire and envy their splendid muscular development and physical perfection. The Featherweight Champion of the World, Arthur Bourret, which we here represent in one of his favorite feats, when asked for the secret of his great strength and power, answered: "Good training, scientific diet and the regular use of that popular tonic and restorative which creates a constant supply of energy, the source of strength, power and endurance. Its daily use enables me to perform with comparative ease my feats with a 400 lbs cannon, feats which I would find exhausting were it not for the use of this wine. If you would increase your strength and energy, use regularly Vin St-Michel."

VIN ST-MICHEL is taken in doses of a wine glass full before each meal and often when required.

TAFT STARTS ON 12,759 MILE BOURNEY

Will Visit 29 States and Talk to Nearly 3,000,000 People.

Beverly, Mass., Sept. 17.—President William Howard Taft has left his summer home for Washington. But his way lies along the Pacific coast, the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic coast and before he reaches the capital and resumes his duties at the White House the President will have travelled 12,759 miles, visited twenty-nine States and two territories, made several hundred speeches, shaken hands with probably 100,000 persons and been seen and heard by three million of his countrymen.

With the exception of the famous Roosevelt swing round the circle in 1903, the Taft trip will discount anything before attempted by an American President and in many ways it will discount even Roosevelt's dash.

The President does not delude himself into thinking the forthcoming trip either a picnic or a siesta. It seems likely to be the hardest two months, in some respects, he ever put in, and in many features will be a repetition of last fall's campaign tour. Some of his friends are even willing to admit that it is in reality another campaign looking toward "four years more." Whether or not Taft looks so far ahead, there is no dodging the fact that he will be on trial in many of the sections he will visit. Out where the cowboy is king he will have to explain why he advocated free hides. The farmers who swear by Roosevelt and the homesteaders who are watching the Roosevelt irrigation projects reclaim deserts will want "inside information" on the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Up in the Northwest he will run into the camp of the insurgents who so nearly played hob with the tariff bill and Speaker Cannon, last winter, and in more than one district he will speak to unfriendly audiences for the sake of Congressmen whose acts at Washington in the tariff fight threaten to lose them their jobs. He will need all the potency of the potent Taft smile to stave off clear of threatening rocks. But if he comes through without staving holes in the Republican party craft, what better start could he make for the 1912 nomination?

One of the most picturesque, as well as the most historical incidents of the present journey will be Taft's meeting at El Paso with President Diaz, of Mexico. This takes place October 16, and under the gold lace and glittering formalities of the meeting are said to be some sensational international reasons. Diplomatic students smile wisely when it is expected these two men will meet on the boundary line merely to exchange a handshake and a few pretty platitudes. A few words between the two Presidents, the intercolonial witnesses say, will go farther than months of tedious negotiations between the foreign offices of the two Powers. Diaz has automatic away below the Rio Grande and the American President can do many things that the statutes fail to recognize or department regulations provide. What more natural then, they ask, than for Taft and Diaz to have a little heart to heart talk to come to a understanding on matters which might otherwise develop into serious friction between the two republics?

Out at Seattle the President will take in the Alaska-Yukon Exposition. Down in New Orleans he will attend the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterways Convention. In Texas, at Corpus Christi, he will visit the 200,000-acre ranches owned by his brother. At Augusta, Ga., he will play golf on the links he learned to know so well between his election and his inauguration. He will ride a 1,200-mile voyage down the Mississippi from St. Louis, will ride through the royal gorge by moonlight, will stage it in and out of the beautiful Yosemite Valley, and will visit for the first time the great alkali deserts of the southwest. When he gets back to Washington, November 1, he will have traveled over every kind of soil and through every climate the country offers, and will have spoken to nearly every class of people under the flag.

ROSY-CHEEKED BABIES

Nothing in the world is such a comfort and joy as a healthy, rosy-cheeked, happy baby. But the price of Baby's health is constant vigilance on the part of the mother. The ill of babyhood come suddenly and the wise mother will always be in a position to treat them at once. No other medicine can take the place of Baby's Own Tablets in relieving and curing the ill of babyhood and childhood, and there is no other medicine as safe. Mrs. Wm. Viggers, Perretton, Ont., says: "My baby was troubled with his stomach and was very cross while getting his teeth, and did not sleep well at night. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets with the best of results. He is now one of the best natured babies one could wish." Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

ONLY A BABY LOST

Cape Town, Sept. 16.—A tug that has returned here from the wreck of the Umbria reports that the eleven persons supposed to have been drowned have been picked up. It is now declared that all the passengers and crew of the vessel have been saved with the exception of an infant which is missing.

FEARS A FOOD SHORTAGE

"Back to The Farm" is Slogan of James J. Hill—Gives a Warning to Bankers.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Warning that the United States may soon cease to be an exporter of foodstuffs was given to the American Bankers' Association by James J. Hill, chairman of the board of the Great Northern Railway.

Mr. Hill made an address, in which he pointed out the increased tendency of the rural population to leave the fields and agricultural pursuits and to seek city life. In corroboration of this he cited the decrease of the value of farm lands in the Eastern States and contrasted the conditions in European countries with those of the United States.

All through the address Mr. Hill sought to impress on the banker delegates that future prosperity is to come in the development of agriculture rather than in an extension of foreign markets for manufactured goods.

"The idea that we feed the world is being corrected; and, unless we can increase the agricultural population and their product the question of a source of food supply at home will soon supersede the question of a market for our own products abroad," declared Mr. Hill.

MAY IMPORT WHEAT.

"We have," said the speaker, "almost reached a point where, owing to increased population without increased production per acre, our home food supply will be insufficient for our own needs; within 10 years, possibly less, we are likely to become a wheat-importing nation; the percentage of the population engaged in agriculture and the wheat product per acre are both falling; at the same time the cost of living is raised everywhere by this relative scarcity of bread, by artificial increase in the price of all manufactured articles and by a habit of extravagance which has enlarged the view of both rich and poor of what are to be considered the necessities of life."

Mr. Hill declared that never yet has enhanced cost of living, when due to agricultural decline and inability to supply national needs, failed to end in national disaster. He asserted that the majority of people fail to realize practically the declining status of agriculture in the country.

"They are misled by the statistics of farm values and products, mounting annually by great leaps, into thinking that this absolute increase implies a relative advance of this industry as compared with others," said he. "Exactly the opposite is the case. I refer not merely to the quality and results of our tillage, but to the setting of the human tide away from the cultivated field and toward the factory gate or the city slum. This is something whose consequences for evil are as certain as if the aggregate deposits in all the banks of this country were decreasing by a fixed percentage every 10 years, while their loans were increasing by another percentage just as stable. You would know what catastrophe that assured by and by."

"It means the same thing, in kind and consequences, when the agricultural population, the producers and depositors in the great national treasury of wealth, is declining year by year, while the city population, which thrives only by drawing drafts upon the land and cannot live a year after these cease to be honored, rises at its expense. Yet not only is such a crisis approaching, but it is being hastened by legislative stimulation in favor of other industries while overlooking this."

"With our annual increase of more than 1.5 per cent in population from natural causes, and immigration that has not been less than 750,000 a year since 1902, there will be from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 more mouths to feed every year. Having in view this increase in population, the declining average yield per acre of cultivated land in the United States after it has been farmed for a few years, the rise of per capita consumption with a higher cost of living and the movement of the working population away from the land, the time is now approaching when we shall not only cease to be a wheat-selling nation, but will find it necessary to import a portion of what we consume."

"Our foreign trade in the past has rested mainly on our exports of products drawn from the earth directly, or only once removed. Our manufacturers for export are to a large extent simple processes. How are we to meet the immense trade balance against us, how prevent financial storms of frequent occurrence and destructive force; how feed the coming millions, if the farmer, who pays most of the bills, has retired to the city or the country town in order that his children may the better enjoy their automobiles and enter into the delights of the social game?"

TAFT ON THE CONSERVATION LEAGUE

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The National Conservation Association, announcement of whose formation, with former President Chas. W. Eliot, of Harvard, as president, was made yesterday, was the subject of a brief informal chat between President Taft and Walter L. Fisher here today. Mr. Fisher, who is president of the National Conservation League, was the active agent in forming the new and broader National Conservation Association. The president's approbation of the new organization is expressed in a letter to Mr. Fisher acknowledging the letters announcing the formation of the organization. President Taft in his letter, said: "It is of the greatest importance that this movement should proceed both wisely and effectively, and the National Conservation Association should be a valuable instrumentality for accomplishing this result. I shall be glad to have you enroll my name in its membership."

Latest feature—burnished surface

The Pandora might truly be named "the range with a piano finish," for the smoothness, lustre and brilliancy of the new burnished surface rivals the finish of a high-class piano. This new burnished surface polishes quickly and requires about one-third the black lead necessary for the rather rough surface of ordinary ranges.

Ordinary ranges need polishing once a day to look bright, while the marvellously smooth burnished surface only needs polishing once a week. The burnished surface is a McClary invention—found on no other make of stoves—so if you desire to save time, polishing-labor and black lead, be sure you choose Pandora.

Only Medicine That Did Any Good

After Suffering Torture for Years, This Lady Found Happy Relief in 'Fruit-a-tives.'

Frankville, Ont., June 11th, 1908.
"I have received most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' I suffered for years from headaches and pain in the back, and I consulted doctors and took every remedy obtainable without any relief. Then I began taking 'Fruit-a-tives' and this was the only medicine that ever did me any real good. I took several boxes altogether, and now I am entirely well of all my dreadful headaches and backaches."

MRS. FRANK EATON.

I take 'Fruit-a-tives' occasionally still, but I am quite cured of a trouble that was said to be incurable. I give this testimony voluntarily, in order that others who suffer as I suffered may try this wonderful medicine and be cured."

(Signed) MRS. FRANK EATON.
'Fruit-a-tives' are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial box, 25c.—or sent post-paid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.
