EMERGENCY MEASURES UNDER CONSIDERATION

Thirteen Killed In New York Fire—"Summer Time" Bill

Food Prices In United Kingdom Have Advanced

While Business Men Are Grumbling Over Stoppage of Mails, Housewives Are Much Concerned Over Evidence Manifest Yesterday of Intention of Tradesmen to Raise Food Prices—Most Notable Increase Was for Meat—Fruit Is Another Commodity in Regard to Which British Public Is Likely to Suffer—Government Held Cabinet Council Meeting Last Night to Consider Emergency Measures for Insuring Food Supplies—Plan to Prevent Exploitation of Consumers Owing to Present Dockers' Strike.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, February 19.—While British business men are grumbling at the stoppage of the mails through the dock strike, the housewives are concerned over the evidence manifest yesterday of the intention of the tradesmen to raise food prices. The most notable increase was for meat, dealers in which issued through their trade associations explanatory statements purporting to show that the increase was unavoidable, and saying they would forthwith submit their reasons to the Government.

Fruit is another commodity in regard to which the public is likely to suffer, especially oranges and bananas. One large firm of importers says it has groves of bananas to the value of £75,000 at Bristol, Liverpool and elsewhere waiting to be unloaded. The possibility of having to jettison these cargoes is foreseen, although it may be possible to divert them to Germany, where fruit is greatly in demand.

CABINET COUNCIL CONSIDERS EMERGENCY MEASURES

The action of the Government in holding a Cabinet Council last night to consider emergency measures for insuring food supplies and the subsequent official statement declaring there was no reason for price increases brought hearty approval from the press this morning and the public is fixing its hopes thereon, but it is not yet apparent how far the Government may be able to protect the consumers or punish profiteers.

The official statement, after declaring that the "Cabinet has information from various parts of the country that meat prices and other prices are being raised from thirty-three to fifty per cent.," said the ministers had "asked the law officers to consider the powers of the Government in this matter and to draft such emergency measures as may be necessary to prevent the exploitation of consumers owing to the present strike."

LARGE NUMBER OF BAGS OF MAIL AT PLYMOUTH

The five thousand bags of mail stacked in tenders at Plymouth had not been moved up to noon today and were still lying, covered with tarpaulins, only a few yards from the railway tracks leading to London.

Postal officials say there are no prospects of the immediate removal of the sacks, and they are still doubtful whether the mails destined for Canada and the United States, New Zealand, Costa Rica and Jamaica, which are booked for the liner Olympic tomorrow, will be placed aboard.

QUITE A NUMBER STILL

AT WORK AT LONDON

(Associated Press Despatch)
LONDON, Feb. 19.—The dock strike became fully effective yesterday in all ports except London, where a considerable number of dockers are still working. The Government has announced the appointment of a committee of three members to make a report on the causes and circumstances of the strike.

FISH TRADE OF GRIMSBY

BROUGHT TO STANDSTILL

(Associated Press Despatch)
GRIMSBY, England, Feb. 19.—The fish trade of Grimsby, source of London's vast fish supply, has been brought to a standstill by a strike of the railwaymen belonging to the National Union of Railwaymen, who are employed in checking consignments of seafood into the railway cars for shipment into the metropolitan district. On learning of the strike the railway officials immediately notified the Grimsby hospital here that the fish would not be accepted for delivery. The effect of this will be to throw thousands of persons in the fishing industry out of work.

NOT TO HANDLE CARGOES FROM GREAT BRITAIN

(Associated Press Despatch)
BELFAST, Feb. 19.—The Ulster dock workers received orders this morning not to handle any more cargoes arriving from Great Britain, where the dockers are on strike.

(Associated Press Despatch)

HEIR TO ITALIAN THRONE TO WED RUMANIAN PRINCESS?

Queen Marie of Rumania, by her arrangement of royal matches, has already won the title of "Grand-mother of the Balkans." One of her daughters is Queen of Jugo-Slavia, and another married King George of Greece. Since Queen Marie's recent visit to Rome many Italian papers are predicting the marriage of Princess Lieana, her youngest daughter, to Prince Humbert (right), the Italian Crown Prince. It was rumored some time ago that Princess Lieana was to marry King Boris of Bulgaria.

Bill Provides That Municipalities May Hold Referendums As To Daylight Saving

Provincial Treasurer Yesterday Introduced "Summer Time" Bill in Legislative Assembly—House Passed Charitable Estimates—Members of House Keenly Interested in Quebec Civic Elections.

(Special to the Record)
QUEBEC, Feb. 19.—Quebec civic elections had more interest for a handful of members of the Legislative Assembly than the usual business programme at yesterday afternoon's sitting. When the House was sitting in committee to discuss the annual dental bill, Louis Letourneau, M.L.A. for Quebec East, entered the chamber, and as he is credited with knowing something about civic elections a number of the members, even including the Prime Minister, gathered about him to get his forecast as to results. The conversation soon became animated, and Hector Lafferty, chairman of the general committee, became annoyed. "I would call the attention of the members that the rules of the House provide that they enter the chamber quietly, keep their seats, and attend to business," he said, and the civic experts went back to business and dentists. The bill was given third reading.
The House also passed the charitable estimates. Mr. Sauve suggested that perhaps it would be a good thing to revise them upwards, instead of voting the same amounts each year as a matter of routine. The Premier said that these items did not represent the last word of aid given, but that a good deal of money

New York Tenement Fire Claims Thirteen Lives—Believed Fire Was Of Incendiary Origin—Seven Of Victims Were Children

Four Men Held by Police—Blaze, Fanned by Draft from Tenement's Open Front Door, Flared up Staircase, Blocking Escape of Eight Families Who Occupied the Building.

(Associated Press Despatch)
NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Thirteen lives were snuffed out in a few minutes in a fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, which early today swept from the basement to the roof of a five-story tenement in the heart of New York's lower East Side ghetto. Seven of those killed were children.

The blaze, fanned by a draft from the tenement's open front door, flared up the staircase, blocking escape of the eight families that occupied the building. Some of those in the two upper stories, awakened to find the flames at their bedside, met death before they could even try to brave a dash through the roaring furnace with which they were confronted.

Terrified on opening their hall doors to find a vortex of flame mushrooming down from the roof through the smoke-choked corridor, the families on the lower floors retreated in a panic to the windows from which they managed, in some cases by seemingly impossible means to reach safety. Several were severely burned; others were injured in falls.

Of the dead, five were boys and two girls, four women and two men. One of the children who lost their lives was an infant, whose charred body was found at the breast of its dead mother.

The fire was discovered by a passing policeman, who saw smoke and flames rising against the inner side of a window.

He rushed into the house and up the staircase, hammering with his fist on doors and shouting a warning. Descending, flames checked at the roof, and whipping their way downward, stopped him before he reached the upper storeys.

The front door had been open as he entered, and as he dashed out, he saw Louis Choenfeld, a news vendor, running from the entrance with three men at his heels. He took all four to a police station where Choenfeld, who appeared to police to be mentally deranged, babbled in answer to all questions: "I haven't got any matches; you can search me."

Later Dr. Charles S. Rubenstein, of Gouverneur Hospital, recognized him as a man he had treated several times for epileptic seizures, and who, he added, had come to him for treatment late last night about an hour before the fire was discovered. He said several days ago he had taken two stitches in a cut on Choenfeld's head, and that last night he had removed the stitches.

WAY OF FIRE ESCAPES CUT OFF

Members of families in the second and third floors of the building climbed to window sills as the flames licked their way through hallway doors. Fire escapes at the

BUDGET ESTIMATES ARE NOT YET COMPLETE; COUNCIL INTERESTED IN OPENING OF LEVIS HIGHWAY

Electric and Gas Committee, as Well as Waterworks Committee, Table Budget—Hours on Outside Work in Winter Reduced from Ten Hours to Nine Hours—Discussion of $10,000 Reduction in the Gas and Electric Department—Delegation to Quebec to Try and Push Through Building of Levis Highway and Assist in Increased Grant for E.T.A.A.—Routine Business Transacted.

THE City Council enjoyed another pleasant session last evening, with unpleasant scenes congenial accepted his task of critic with seriousness and asked a large number of questions in a polite and effective manner. Ald. Houlahan was the only Alderman absent, although Ald. Skinner changed seats with Ald. Crepeau. Among the ratepayers in attendance, ex-Alderman Alexander Trudeau displayed keen interest in what was going on.

Letters were read from the waterworks and gas and electric committees relative to payment of men on Christmas and New Year's. The waterworks department admitted that the Council's instructions had been inadvertently overlooked, while the gas and electric department pointed out that the men were on duty repairing damages caused by wind. A slight discussion was entered into, and the matter was finally shelved.

A letter was received from the Superheater Company, Limited, relative to the difference between the 2c and 6c rate, effective between certain hours, and the matter was referred to the gas and electric committee for action.

Mr. Ovila Bouchard, who built his residence with the assistance of a grant secured through the Municipal and Provincial offices, asked for permission to sell his residence, to Mr. L. G. Rouleau.

A letter was received from the Sherbrooke Harmony Band asking for a grant of $800 for the coming year.

Mayor Brault observed he had received a verbal petition from the directors of the E.T.A.A. asking the Council to nominate a delegation to accompany them to Quebec to try and influence the Provincial Government towards securing a large grant. He contended that personally he felt it would be advisable to have a delegation go in the interests of the city.

Ald. Skinner—"If we go down, the Government will turn around and ask what we are going to do." Mayor—"I do not think so. It is for something else."

Ald. Skinner—"They will want to know, as they will base their grant on the city's grant."

Ald. Langis observed that while the city had gradually increased its grant from $2,000 to $8,000, the Provincial Government had done nothing in this line; and he suggested that inasmuch as the Exhibition was an Eastern Townships event, it was clearly up to the Provincial Government to assist. After a slight discussion relative to the delegation it was decided Mayor Wm. Brault and Ald. J. D. Lacombe would represent the city.

The question of the 1924 budget came up and Ald. Langis suggested that before the chairman of the different committees presented their budgets, they should have same approved by their respective committees. The budgets would then be turned over to the finance committee (Continued on page 10.)

Popular Explanation Is That Heavy Drop Of Franc Due To Attack For Political Purposes By International Financiers

What Principally Puzzled Commentators Was the Rise in Sterling in Both Paris and New York Simultaneously With Coming into Force of British Dock Strike.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, Feb. 19.—The further heavy drop of the franc to more than twenty-four to the dollar and over a hundred to the pound sterling was the uppermost topic of discussion today and numerous explanations were forthcoming. What principally puzzled commentators was the rise in sterling in both Paris and New York simultaneously with the coming into force of the British dock strike.

The popular explanation, especially favored by Le Matin, Echo de Paris and such newspapers, was that the fall was due to an attack on the franc for political purposes by international financiers. Technicians found it less easy to explain, but generally expressed belief that the determining cause was the fact that the French importers had been disappointed in their hope for early enactment of the government's fiscal measure, and had been obliged to buy foreign exchange in large quantities to meet their obligations.

BOURSE DE COMMERCE CLOSES

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The Bourse de Commerce, which is a sort of French equivalent for a Board of Trade, was closed today under the order issued yesterday by the prefect of police. The closure was variously commented upon, being severely criticized in trade circles as likely to have an effect opposite to that intended.

The authorities held that by closing the market so quotations could not be posted during the flurry in exchange they might prevent a sky rocketing movement of some food products, with consequent disturbances throughout the country.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is In Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when properly prepared and taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you use of it the better it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, and after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectively cleans and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in the form of another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest quality of charcoal powdered to extreme fineness, then compressed in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being sweetened to be smooth and palatable.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

Many physicians advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, nose and throat. They are also believed to greatly benefit the liver. These lozenges cost but thirty cents a box at drug stores. For a free trial send your name and address to F. A. Stuart Co., 19 Stuart Bldg., Montreal, Mich.

You get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets.

STANBIDGE EAST

The St. Valentine leap year dance, which was held in the Memorial hall on Thursday evening, February 14, was very successful, both socially and financially. The hall was very tastefully decorated with appropriate valentine emblems. The grand march started about 9 o'clock and was led by Mrs. G. D. Harvey and Mr. M. A. Cornell, with about one hundred and seven couples following. The dance was carried out in leap year style throughout the evening. The guests were received at the door by Mrs. C. M. Blinn and Mrs. P. E. Richard.

Mrs. G. D. Harvey, Mrs. H. A. Baker and Mrs. M. A. Cornell ably officiated as floor managers and committee of introduction. The ladies have decided that it is not such an easy matter to engage their partners without neglecting many of their old friends, but the men were highly delighted with the chivalry extended to them by the ladies on this occasion. Sawyer's orchestra furnished excellent music and, as usual, were very indulgent with their encores. A very nice lunch was served at midnight in the banquet hall above, and was in charge of Miss Jessie Corey, Mrs. Harry Kemp and Mrs. E. C. Knight, who were assisted by other members of the Women's Institute. Gross proceeds of the evening were $170, leaving after all expenses were paid, a balance of $120 for the Memorial hall fund. There were about twenty ladies and gentlemen from Freighsburg, thirty-five from Bedford, ten from Farnham, a number from Cowansville and Franklin, Vt.

COULDN'T SLEEP HEART WAS BAD NERVES A WRECK

Mr. H. A. Reid, Upper Musquodoboit, N. S., writes: "I am very thankful for the benefit I have received by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

When I came home from overseas in 1920, my heart was very badly affected by concussion, and my nerves were a dreadful wreck. I was very short winded, and could not possibly sleep at night, in fact, I was in such a condition I felt as if I did not wish anyone to speak to me. I thought I would try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before I had taken two boxes I could enjoy a good night's rest as well as anyone.

There are lots of returned men who are suffering the same as I did, and I feel sure that if they would only try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills they will receive the same relief that I have."

CRITICIZE THE MINISTRY AS A PROFESSION

College Students Free With Opinions Regarding the Calling.

(Associated Press Despatch)

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Ministers of today are expected to understand human nature, be human themselves and consider themselves lost "if they show any evidence of isolation or reserve," according to college student criticism of the ministry as a profession, solicited and compiled by Evans A. Worthley of the Commission on Life Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The ministry in general "has too many men who are narrow-minded, unprogressive and not sufficiently educated," Mr. Worthley said, was a typical answer to his questionnaire. Others asserted that ministers are "not meeting present-day problems with present-day thinking" and that they "overlook the possibilities for service in the social and industrial fields of today."

In reply to the question "How can the ministry become more efficient?" the general declaration was for "emphasizing the practical rather than the sentimental side of Christianity," said Mr. Worthley.

Advice was for ministers to interest young people, co-operate with his laymen, preach more straight-forward facts, and get a broader grasp of sociology.

Fewer and better preachers was an idea expressed by many college students who believe that a higher type of man with a better income and a better education could accomplish more.

Mr. H. A. Reid, Upper Musquodoboit, N. S., writes: "I am very thankful for the benefit I have received by using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."

SEEKS EXPERTS FOR ADVICE ON AGRICULTURE

Argentine Ministry Has Engaged Experts to Supervise Activities of Department.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 19.—The ministry of agriculture has engaged the services of two American cotton experts and one Canadian tobacco expert to supervise the official activities of the Argentine government in fostering and improving cultivation methods of these crops in Argentina.

L. E. Tutt, chief of the textile section of the United States department of commerce, and N. E. Winters, of Cornell University, will aid Argentina in cotton production during two and three years respectively, while F. Charlan, of the Tobacco section of the department of agriculture of Canada, has been engaged under a five year contract.

so encumbered, and which may be far less intelligent. I know many reasons why we should help a man to be useful, or happy, but I know none why we should exert ourselves to prolong his unproductive period."

Mr. Alfrod then had something to say about equality of opportunity which may seem strange to Americans. He declared equality of opportunity was a good rule for application to the young, but not for men and women over twenty.

It results inevitably in inequality of achievement, he said, and political theories which do not recognize this are in conflict with Nature, and Nature is bound to win in the long run.

"Discovery is needed in education, for instance, of how to select the distinguished best and to give the necessary basic instruction to all, without at the same time proceeding to lengths which result in super-abundant gifts being conferred on those in whom they produce discontent rather than culture."

The day Mr. Alfrod expressed his thoughts about old age and productivity, the press of Britain was rejoicing that the year 1923 had brought down the death rate to 11.3 a thousand, the healthiest year ever known in the country.

Following the roll call for the attendance contest and the usual devotional exercises, a temperance story "Old Glory," was given by Mr. E. L. Beerworth, illustrated by forty lantern slides.

Next week the Young People will have a sleigh drive.

FELL BENEATH TRAIN.

A man, said to be from Mont real, narrowly escaped death or serious injury when he fell between the cars of the Canadian National Portland to Montreal train, just as it was pulling out of the Union Station yesterday afternoon.

The man ran to step on the train after it had gained some little speed. All the doors of the coaches were closed and he fell to the platform. Not content with failure, he jumped up and made another run at the steps of a coach as to prevent "chaps" and assure a smooth white skin in all weathers, wash in warm water, rinse well, dry and always use

The train was stopped, and quite a crowd collected, but as soon as it was found that the man was uninjured, the train pulled out again.

TWENTY-SIX BELOW ZERO LAST NIGHT.

The contrast between the temperature at midnight and the temperature at midday is very great these days. Cold weather is holding sway, but the power of Jack Frost cannot withstand the strength of King Sol at high noon. At midnight and in the succeeding hours last night, Jack Frost was king indeed, and he asserted his power when he forced the mercury down to twenty-six degrees below zero, according to statistics received at Lennoxville Experimental Farm. But his supremacy was short-lived, and in the combat between him and King Sol, which commenced at sunrise, Jack Frost was vanquished from the start.

At eight o'clock this morning the thermometer still stood at ten below zero, but by noon, with the sun at his height, milder weather prevailed. King Sol was victor; But—beware of the dark.

LITTLE LAD HAD THREE FINGERS CUT OFF.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leith, Craig Street Terrace, will be pleased to know that their little son, Stuart, who met with an accident a couple of weeks ago, is improving. Master Stuart had the misfortune to have three fingers on his left hand cut off with an axe. He was playing with a little boy and laid his hand on a block just in time to have the axe's playmate was holding strike his fingers, severing the little finger and part of the next two. The little boy of 8 has borne his suffering in a fine spirit, and is now fairly well recovered from the accident, though with a maimed hand for life.

SILVER CUP FOR LENNOXVILLE FARM.

McClary, superintendent of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, is just back from spending the week in Toronto, where he was attending the various live stock meetings which were being held in that city. While there Mr. McClary had the honor of having presented to him, as representative of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm, by the Dominion /Ayrshire Breeders' Association, a silver cup that was won by one of the Ayrshire cows at Lennoxville, "Duchess of Fairmount"—64362—which produced in 365 days 13,571 pounds of milk and 572 pounds of butter fat in the three-year-old class, being the highest record made by any Ayrshire in the Dominion as a three-year-old in 1923.

1924 MINSTREL SHOW PLEASED CROWDED HOUSE

Programme Under Auspices of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club Was Bright and Witty.

The 1924 Minstrel Show, under the auspices of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club, played to a full house yesterday evening, standing room being at a premium. The minstrel songs were bright and witty, while the sparkling sallies of the aged dandies were well received.

The programme included a splendid variety of coon songs, recitations, instrumental items, a real act, a little sense and much nonsense, all of which contributed towards providing barrels of fun.

"Oh, How She Lied," Dr. Lynch's "true to life" version, and "I Love her, She Loves Me," an interesting fact which brought Mr. Percy H. Walker back to Sherbrooke, were the outstanding hits of the evening. In both instances the songsters were backed up by a splendid chorus, which showed the results of the consistent and efficient training of Mr. Albert Blier.

The opening number of the evening was an "Overture" by the entire company, following which Mr. J. G. Armitage sang the "Coon's Prayer," staging an appropriate setting for the peculiar doings of "them niggers" who were to follow.

Mr. B. H. Irwin started off the actual minstrel by singing "Somebody Has Been Here." It was well received and contained many references appropriate to every day life.

"Lassie O' Mine," by H. McConnell and quartet proved to be a delightful rendition, but the real fun began with Dr. Lynch's "Oh, How She Lied," a catchy song which soon found favor with the audience.

"Vale" was the outstanding item undertaken by the chorus. The blending of the voices was delightful and showed the marks of careful and extensive practice.

Mr. Percy H. Walker, a born nigger comedian, enthused a considerable amount of vim into his coon lullaby, "I Love Her, She Loves Me." The sincerity and eagerness which featured his rendition of this "ditty" enabled the audience to read between the lines, and the conclusion of his song was received with a salvo of well merited applause.

"Would You Believe it," a coon quartet, included breezy references to some of our more prominent and less prominent citizens. The members, Messrs. J. A. Cook, D. C. McRae, B. H. Irwin and Dr. Lynch, secreted behind a volume of enormous proportions, took turns in relating some of the more amusing incidents of city life, concluding their remarks by "Really! Would You Believe It," an expression very common in every day gossip.

"Kashmiri," by E. M. Armitage, was a delightful song ably rendered, and was followed by "Louisville Lou," by Mr. Don McRae, one of the minstrels. The latter showed himself to be a coon of "high water" and Louisville Lou could scarcely have failed to be impressed by her "nigger's" ardent wooing. A clear and strong voice enabled the audience to follow every word of the song with interest. The first half of the programme was brought to a close with the chorus singing "Oh, How she Lied."

Presentation to Mr. Blier.

During the course of the intermission, Mr. Albert Blier, director, was presented with an ebony baton, silver mounted, as an expression of appreciation from the members of the chorus.

"Southern Airs" marked the opening of the second part of the programme, a delightful number of nigger melodies being rendered. Mr. Ernest Armitage, as an elderly nigger, took the solo part of one of the melodies and was a decided success.

"Shuffling Along," by Mr. Percy H. Walker, was fully up to expectations and enhanced his reputation as a black nigger.

"Pung and Chow," omitted at the afternoon performance, was a scream from start to finish, with the colored gentlemen, Dr. Lynch and Mr. B. H. Irwin, entertaining the audience with a series of amusing anecdotes.

A musical act, with Messrs. J. A. Barrie, J. C. Somers, T. McConnell and R. Hutchison, as snake charmers, was a delightful exposition of the ability of accomplished musicians to snatch charms from the guitar.

The actor and the janitor, featuring egg and milk as custard brothers, gave Messrs. Charles Foss and E. J. Page an opportunity of passing on some of the witty sayings for which they are both noted.

"Old Pardon," a recitation by Mr. D. Stevenson, was one of the best items on the programme, and coupled with "Come Back, Old Pal" by Mr. E. M. Armitage, left a splendid impression.

The performance was brought to a close with a selection by the chorus, followed by the National Anthem. The afternoon performance was also well attended, and many a school teacher found herself presented with a polite note asking for special permission to leave school half an hour earlier. The children enjoyed themselves immensely.

The cast was as follows: Minstrels—Dr. Lynch, P. H. Walker, D. C. McRae, B. H. Irwin, J. A. Cook, P. D. Mathias.

Chorus—M. Armitage, E. Armitage, G. Armitage, Dr. Bayne, A. Barrie, C. Bryant, G. Bryant, C. Campbell, J. Hovey, R. Hutchison, T. Hurn, H. McCollough, R. McConnell, W. McCullough, R. Moe, F. Norcross, H. Nourie, R. Robertson, J. Ranshouzen, N. Robins, C. Somers, D. Stevenson, E. Soles, B. Smith, R. Smith, G. Sampson, C.

Young People's Corner

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Children:—

Are we not having lovely winter weather now? I would like to join the children in their sliding and snowshoeing, but do not have time. Yes, Ardell does write a neat, newsy letter, and we shall always have a place for her letters on the corner table. You will not be left out in the cold regarding your magazines, Ardell, you shall have your share. Your favorites are mine, in winter sports; it is hard to decide as to only one, so we should like them all.

I am beginning to think of sugaring time, which means the coming of spring, and it is jolly fun to go to the sugar camp. I hope many of the boys and girls can go.

When you are out snowshoeing there is something really nice you could do for mother, or some friend who cannot get out into the country. Get a few branches of pussy willows, or twigs of the wild cherry bushes, put them in water in a warm sunny place, and you will soon have something decidedly like spring. They will have green leaves, and sometimes the pussies will come out nicely. Just think how cheering they would be to those who do not get out of doors very often.

I have read Ardell's little story, and though there are some corrections to make, it is quite nice, and we will have it on the corner reading table.

The story about the Wishing Table is very odd, but I think it will be a change from the other fairy tales—or stories of imagination.

Until tomorrow best wishes from

UNCLE JIM.

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:

This is my second letter to your corner. I try my best to write the corner a neat and newsy letter, and I think all the cousins should, don't you, Uncle Jim? I am still at Cherry River five months. I have not received my badge and magazine yet, but am willing to wait my turn. I was sorry to learn that when you went snowshoeing the snow was so soft and deep. I have been out snowshoeing three times, and think it must be better tramping now. When I get home from school, every night, I read your letters. I like all the corner stories, and I am sending you one I wrote myself. We have a good time at school. What is your favorite winter sport, Uncle Jim? Mine are skating, snowshoeing and sliding. As

VISITING Y.W.C.A. OFFICER GAVE INTERESTING ADDRESS.

Mrs. Foster Told Ladies About the Various Lines of Work Carried on in Canada, and Urged Hearty Co-operation.

A well attended and most interesting meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. parlor, when the members of the board and women interested in the work of the Association gathered to meet Mrs. Foster, Eastern Field Secretary, Y.W.C.A., and listen to her instructive address. The visiting official, who has spent much time in the Eastern Provinces, is conversant with the work whether residential, recreational, educational, or helping the underprivileged girl. Her earnest manner and firm belief in the progress of the work deeply impressed her hearers. She emphasized the need of the Y.W.C.A. from coast to coast, saying that in the immigration service the Association was helping in every country in the world. The Travelers' Aid was a safeguard for lonely girls, and the help accorded them was briefly touched upon, the speaker giving instances to prove its value. She stated that there were now forty-two Canadian Associations, and in referring to a statement that had been made at times, namely, that the Y.W.C.A. was only a polite boarding house, she said, "if it is only a polite boarding house we have got a long way off the right road." She explained that the Association really meant a home, and that "home" meant to protect, to shield, to uphold, and these were the true aims of the Association.

"Physical development is necessary for us all," Mrs. Foster said, adding that she considered recreation even more important than physical exercise. "We work from necessity, we play from choice. Recreation is play that leads to health and happiness."

She spoke in an impressive way of the religious part of the work, telling of experiences that showed the value of winning the wayward girls, and of encouraging them. She explained that there was no better way than to give them office in the group work; "girls enjoy the honor and it helps them." She strongly recommended a definite Bible study course and the telling of Bible stories to children, adding that in the latter "we are behind the times."

Regarding the emigrants and strangers to this country, she asked: "Do we go out to find them? Are our doors open to them?" She urged the women interested in Y.W.C.A. work to make the Canadian link the strongest in the world.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Foster's helpful address, Mrs. Jones said she could not add one word and that the Field Secretary had left with them a distinct message.

At a later hour the members of the Y.W.C.A. Chapter, 10, my letter is getting long I will close wishing the corner success, and good luck to you, Uncle Jim. Good-bye, yours faithfully,

ARDELL BEARD.

THE WISHING TABLE

(An odd fairy tale.)

In the meantime the eldest son went to a joiner's shop and spent many months in learning his trade. At the end of his apprenticeship his master, who was pleased with him, gave him a table which, though nothing fine to look at, had one very curious quality. If anyone said to it, "Serve up a meal, table," it was instantly covered with a white cloth, knives and forks, and dishes containing all kinds of nice foods.

The young man now saw that he would never want for something to eat, and soon after he decided to go back and see if his father had forgotten his anger. On his way home he had to stay one night at an inn where there were many guests. They invited him to share their supper, but he replied:

"I will give you supper instead."

Then he sat down his table in the middle of the room and said, "Serve up a meal, table," when it was at once covered with dishes of delicious food. All the guests sat down and enjoyed themselves greatly; while the landlord, in a corner of the room, said to himself, "I could make good use of such a table as that."

After the young man and his friends had gone to bed, the landlord changed the table for another of the same size and appearance, which he happened to possess. In the morning the young man went merrily on his way, never suspecting that he was carrying away the wrong table.

When he reached home his father greeted him with great joy and asked what the table meant. The son explained that it was a wishing table and asked his father to invite a number of his friends in, so they might have proof of the table's power. As soon as the guests assembled the son ordered the table to serve up a meal. To his amazement nothing whatever happened. He then knew that the table had been changed, and he was so ashamed of having deceived his father that he ran away.

Add to Carnation a little more than an equal part of water and you have milk of natural consistency, for all milk uses. Carnation Milk is convenient and economical. Order from your

2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk, 2 tablespoons butter or substitute, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup water.
Melt butter or butter substitute, add flour and stir until thoroughly mixed. Add the milk, diluted with water, and cook about five minutes, or until the mixture thickens, then add seasonings. This recipe makes one cup of White Sauce.

cooked by either boiling or steaming. After cooking with

DEFECTIVE UNDERGROUND WORK.

Expensive excavations are being undertaken on Dufferin Avenue in order to locate a gas leak. Holes are being cut in the recently laid pavement at several points in this connection.

It is probably impossible to wholly guard against the necessity of digging up pavement. The numerous occasions on which the City pavement has been broken in order to reach underground work, however, indicates lack of care in this regard prior of laying of pavement. On Wellington Street many holes have been dug since the pavement was laid.

We ought to learn from the lessons of the past and the need of careful construction of underground work before paving is laid would appear to be fully established.

BRITISH LABOR TROUBLES.

The Labor Government in Great Britain has its opportunity to demonstrate its ability to handle acute labor troubles. The dock workers are on strike, ships cannot be unloaded or despatched, and unless a speedy settlement takes place the tight little Isle will feel the pinch of hunger.

This is the second serious strike to develop since the Macdonald ministry assumed office. It looks as though labor organizations were more ready than usual to strike expecting their friends at London to help them win their demands. These situations are of extreme difficulty and it is not likely that the Labor Government will find them more readily solved than have their predecessors in similar emergencies. It is quite possible that a class Government may find itself handicapped and less capable of action than the regular party cabinet.

In any event the industrial situation for both labor and capital becomes intensely worse under strike conditions such as those now prevailing.

GERMAN FARMERS.

Reports are to the effect that large numbers of German farmers are desirous of emigrating from the Fatherland and are looking to the United States and to Canada as a field for settlement. As the quota law excludes them from the States, their interest, it is said, centers in Canada.

The Financial Post, referring to this, says: "German farmers have suffered in the manipulation of the mark by which the great middle class of the German people have found themselves shorn of their wealth. The situation in Germany today, with extremes of poverty and wealth, is the result. Wealth has accumulated to those few who were in a position to take advantage of the situation, while the city masses are short of food. This shortage of food is not actual in Germany as a whole, but is the result of the policy of the farmers in refusing to sell their products for marks which soon decline to a fraction of the value at which they accepted them. Now they merely sell from their stores to get money for immediate purposes, preferring to retain their products to getting marks of doubtful value. It is not hard to understand then that there are many of the best class of German farmers who are ready to leave the country. A German who is friendly to Great Britain and who is well in touch with conditions in Europe says that Canada would make no mistake in taking these German agriculturists. He says they will become good citizens, will mix and can be readily assimilated. But he strongly advises against taking Germans from the industrial centres. They have been turned into poor citizens by Kaiserism and Junkerism. Hard working, frugal German farmers are not to be classed with industrial workers from the hot-beds of unrest in the cities in considering Canada's policy toward German immigration."

While the above may be true it is not likely that Canadians will look with favor on German immigration. There is little doubt that the British Isles can supply about all the immigration that Canada can absorb, and aside from this immigration from the Scandinavian peninsula would be looked upon with more favor. The Canadian Government is not likely to take any steps to encourage Germany immigration, at least not for some years to come.

PRESS COMMENT

THEY WEAR SOME IN FLORIDA.

(Altamont, Mo., Times.)
Wonder what the bathing suit manufacturers do during the winter time.

THEORY AND PRACTICE.

(Peterboro' Examiner.)
Nearly everybody is shouting "Retrench," and declaring from the house-tops, "Our taxation must come down." And yet there is never a meeting of the City Council in which somebody does not ask for the assistance of the city—to be more exact, a portion of the revenue contributed by the taxpayers—on behalf of some enterprise or other that may or may not be of general benefit.

GOOD MATERIAL.

(Montreal Gazette.)
It should not be occasion for surprise if the Labor Government in Britain makes a fair record. The leaders come from the class of men which produced many of the pioneers in industry and commerce and invention. The brains that developed the great iron and textile industries and the engineering and shipbuilding works were not inferior, nor is it to be suggested that their power was exhausted by what they accomplished.

By all means let Mr. Carter finish his work, unless the present dispute ends by leaving Tut securely where he is.

HOW USE THE EXTRA DAY?

(Los Angeles Times.)
February is rich in notable days—ranging from Groundhog Day through Lincoln, Valentine and Washington days to Leap Year Day. There are some favored souls who have five pay days this February, which is certainly a fine and noble prospect. But the point remains that there is an extra day this year and the problem is how best to use it. It is evident that the old day cannot be used to finish the Second street tunnel or to make the country completely dry, but it has its place on the calendar for service and suggestions are in order. What shall be done with this dividend from the bank of time? Shall it be spent with fair women or in dispassionate reflection? Shall it be awarded to business or pleasure?

SPEED, GREED AND COAL.

(Christian Science Monitor.)
Admitting that speed and greed seem the masters of some American coal fields, it may be asked of what good from a national viewpoint, is the increased output which these harsh masters strive for? The United States Coal Commission reports that soft coal output is too great as it is, that there are too many mines, and too great a competitive production. Sacrificing lives for the periodic glut in the unregulated industry, where the aggregate annual lay-off time now for all miners, if it could be made of profitable use, would give an army of some 200,000 men steady employment for the entire year.
How can a safety law, costing perhaps five cents a ton, be enforced in one state when the competing mines of another state have no similar law, and when one American state, at least, has no protective legislation at all? The answer to the question is the Interstate Commerce Commission, as proposed by the United States Coal Commission last year, and the delegation to it of powers sufficient to eliminate the needless hazards of this wasteful industry.

MAKING ANNUAL MEETINGS MEAN SOMETHING.

(Financial Post.)
Why are the annual meetings of so many large corporations merely perfunctory affairs, run on a cut-and-dried plan and bringing out nothing new for the shareholders or the general public? At the ordinary annual meeting of a company the secretary reads the notice calling the meeting, the minutes of the last meeting taken as read, the president reads the report that everybody else has already read, the shareholders stand by and watch while some silly procedure to the end of depositing one ballot in the presence of two much-embarrassed scrutineers is engineered for the re-election of the old board of directors, and then the meeting is adjourned.
What an opportunity has been wasted to deliver a message that will win the goodwill of the shareholders for the management and the goodwill of the public for the corporation! The meeting has performed no useful positive function; indirectly it may have performed a negative function in preventing the concealment of an unsatisfactory state of affairs, for it does not give an opportunity for the shareholders to ask questions of the directors face to face.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE FATHER OF SHERBROOKE, DAVID MOE.

Editor of Daily Record:
Dear Sir—Your issue with write-up, "Heart of City was Property of David Moe," reached me today, and although you have not published the deed in its entirety, yet I think enough has been mentioned to settle for all time the long-dissolved question as to who the father of Sherbrooke really was. There was never doubt in my mind, and I feel that this subject is now definitely settled.

In your "notes" with this write-up you mention the Gilbert Hyatt grist mill was located at or near the Magog House. This should be shown as being built on the other side of the river on the land acquired in the David Moe transfer to Mrs. Gilbert Hyatt (August, 1812). All of the early industries were built on the Moe land on the south side of the Magog river, with the exception of a saw mill built by Jonathan Ball, on the Orford side of the river.

I am now going to deal briefly with the other (south) end of Ascot, along the Moe's river, (Milby) ten miles from the Sherbrooke site, and although I am not particularly interested in establishing the pioneer settlers there, yet I would like to point out again that this is the oldest settlement in what is now Sherbrooke county.

Although the name of the village of Moe's River and the river itself would establish the fact that the first settlers were Moe's, yet there has not been a Moe located along that river for over one hundred years. David Moe took up his original abode in Canada along the banks of the Moe's river, after leaving Half-Moons-Point-on-the-Hudson river (Albany, N.Y.) after the war of the Revolution, and his holdings of land on both sides of the Moe's river amounted to in the thousands of acres. There were two younger brothers of David, (E. A. and Joseph) and all three were among the original patentees of Ascot, but the younger brothers have never been heard of since the war of 1812-14. David Moe sold out his holdings along the banks of Moe's river about 1796 when there was quite an influx of new settlers. Several of the Hyatt brothers settled there from Vermont, others coming from St. Armand. I understand David Moe sold upwards of one thousand acres to one of the Hyatts. He also sold and traded his other remaining land in the original holdings, in one instance giving one hundred acres for a cow. He acquired other holdings then at the extreme north end of the township, commencing at the Magog river and continuing half way through to what is now Lennoxville, on both sides of the St. Francis river. It was here he lived and raised a family of ten children, several of whom were born on the site of Sherbrooke. Hiram Moe, sr., my grandfather, was the sixth child, and was born on the site of Sherbrooke in 1807. I imagine the war of 1812-14 was some incentive for David Moe to part with some of his Sherbrooke holdings as $400 in those days was quite a tidy sum, and there was all sorts of land available.

Trusting you will be able to find space for this letter at your convenience, and I will now leave it for others to finish the history of the city of Sherbrooke and Sherbrooke county, a locality for which I have the greatest affection, the original site of my forefathers in Canada of some one hundred and forty years.

Yours truly,
E. C. MOE.

AMALGAMATION GIVES BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

Results Show Better and Cheaper Service in England, Scotland and Wales.

(Associated Press Despatch.)
LONDON, Feb. 19.—Better and cheaper railway service for the people of England, Scotland and Wales are among the results of the first year's working of the amalgamation of one hundred and twenty railway companies into four groups, according to a statement issued on behalf of the companies.

Heavier expenditure and new capital outlay have been needed for the improvements which have been accomplished, and may continue to be needed for some time, according to the statement. However, the travelling public has benefited by the reduction of passenger fares from the abnormal rates which ruled after the war to only 50 per cent. more than the pre-war figures, a reduction which was inaugurated at the time of the amalgamation of the lines at the beginning of 1923. There have been corresponding reductions in excursion and other cheap fares.

Freight rates were reduced during the year to a general average of 50 per cent. more than pre-war figures. Dock charges at the various railway-owned docks also have been reduced.

Extensive programs of excursions, fully equal if not superior to those in force before the war, have been a feature of the past year, and the nopularity of these cheap trips from "anywhere to anywhere" was illustrated in the ministry of transport statistics for August, when excursion and week-end passengers totaled more than 21,000,000, or about double those of August, 1922.

According to the railway companies, among the first results of grouping were the greatly-reduced times occupied in journeys between London and Scotland, the south and west of England and other parts of the country. Some of the cuts in previous quickest times have been exceptional, particularly on the east and west coast routes to Scotland. A new record has been set up by the Great Western with its Swindon to Paddington run of 77.3 miles in seventy-five minutes, an average speed of 61.8 miles an hour.

The rolling stock, passenger and freight of all groups is in process of standardization, both as to color and design.

Altogether, schemes of extension and development of railways and docks, costing from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, have been decided upon during the past year, and will as rapidly as possible be put into operation.

Electrification developments on the Southern Railway have been commenced, and the electrification of suburban lines of other groups is under consideration. These schemes will provide employment throughout the country for a large number of men.

Mothers know a dose of
DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE
SYRUP PEPSIN
Will keep them fit

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him, she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. G. R. Paquette, Pierreville, Que., and Mrs. J. F. Beale, 325 Johnson Av., Winnipeg, always give Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good laxative," and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children—calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

TIME REALIZED PROPHECY MADE BY GOVERNOR

Pioneer Governor of Idaho Predicted Events of Sixty Years.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Feb. 19.—Sixty years ago the first governor of Idaho reviewed the sixty years that had preceded him in the history of the United States, with particular reference to the Pacific Northwest, and made a prediction of what the succeeding sixty years would bring. The review and prediction were made by William H. Wallace and delivered to the legislature of the newly-created territory of Idaho. The territorial capital was Lewiston, on the site of which, at the confluence of the Snake and Salmon rivers, Captain Meriwether Lewis and Lieutenant William Clark, officers in the United States army, sent west by President Jefferson had camped in 1804. The address by Governor Wallace in 1864 cast back over the three score years since white men first had been the spot on which it was delivered, and told what he believed the west might expect by 1924. With felicitations which might be quoted from any ceremonial address, the territorial executive, with the signature of Abraham Lincoln hardly dry on his certificate of appointment, began his talk. "I congratulate you," he told the legislators, "upon those indications of rapid and permanent growth with which we are surrounded. "Sixty years ago little did President Jefferson dream of what this country would be today, and much less did he dream of what it will be sixty years hence."

His listeners were a handful of members of the upper and lower branches. Not all the electors were present. Representatives of parts of the infant territory which now are Montana and Wyoming had been named by the voters, but to reach the legislative inaugural they had to choose between the trip over the backbone of the Continental Divide or a journey from Virginia City and Bannack to Salt Lake City, west to San Francisco, north along the coast to the Columbia and up it and the Snake river to Lewiston.

With this difficulty of travel in mind the new governor made this prediction: "The child is born who shall see railroads and telegraphs connecting our great centres of trade with the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; who shall not only see the inexhaustible mineral wealth of this country developed, but shall see the trade of Asia turned from its ancient channels and the road across this continent become a great highway of travel."

"He shall see the states of the Pacific rival those of the Atlantic seaboard in population and wealth; he shall see a city located on the western side of the continent by the Pacific ocean surpassing in trade and magnificence ancient Tyre when she sat as queen and her merchants were princes, and cities in the interior surpassing Palmyra and Persopolis in the days of their glory."

"He shall see the capital of the nation removed to the valley of the Mississippi, not four days' journey from either ocean. Then shall the population of the mountain states be counted by the tens of millions and Idaho shall be one of the first of states."

Remarkable was the accuracy of the vision of Governor Wallace in view of the fact that Lewiston, virtually the only settlement in the immense territory which was then Idaho, excluding placer camps of the mountains, had itself come into being merely as a trading post through which were handled the supplies of the gold seekers.

Governor Wallace considered himself an old resident of the coast region. He had, after serving in the Iowa legislature and holding federal office as receiver of public moneys in Iowa, traveled west to California and north in 1853 to the settlements of Puget Sound.

In the Indian wars of the fifties he had raised a company and commanded it in campaigns in the Puget Sound and Snoqualmie valleys while young Lieutenant Philip Sheridan was punishing the redskins on the Naches and the Yakima. In 1881 a vacancy had occurred in the governorship of Washington territory and Wallace had been named to the place by President Lincoln. His tenure was short, however, as he resigned to seek place as Washington's delegate in Congress. When governor of Idaho he followed a similar course, and had hardly completed his hopeful account of the glories he foresaw for Idaho before he resigned as executive to wage a successful campaign for Idaho's delegateship to the national capital.

Governor Wallace was 52 years old when he made his sixty-year review and sixty-year prediction. He was 68 when he died, later living to see the beginning of the railroads and telegraphs, the commerce from Asia and the growth of the cities he had prophesied.

How did Nelson reach the top of his Column?

Nelson was not born to greatness. He achieved it by his own ceaseless indomitable energy. Unless you are profoundly contented with your lot or devoid of ambition to improve it, you have need of the same great-hearted energy and vitality without which success is never won.

You will find that strength in Bovril. It builds up physical and nervous energy and you find yourself able to do things with less effort.

HOCKEY RESULTS

SHERBROOKE HIGH SCHOOL VS. DANVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

The Sherbrooke High School journeyed to Danville on Saturday night and played a 1 to 1 tie with the High School there. Sherbrooke did not play their usual brand of hockey, although they had the best of the play most of the time. Danville played a much better game than on the Minto rink. Johnston, for Sherbrooke, and Smith, for Danville, were the outstanding players.

The first period was scoreless. The scoring commenced in the second period when Smith put Danville ahead on a fine piece of work. Johnston evened the score when he and Spafford worked their way through the Danville defence. This was the most brilliant hockey of the game.

Neither side was able to score in the final period.

ST. FRANCIS COLLEGE WON

RICHMOND, Feb. 19.—The St. Patrick's Academy team, of Sherbrooke, went down to defeat in their game with St. Francis College on Friday night by a score of 7 to 3. The game was fast and close except in the second period, when Richmond scored three goals and had all the play. Lepage, P. Gain and L. Gain all put up a good game for the visitors. Desmarais played a fine game in goal for the locals, while Halbert was the pick of the rest. D. Pope and Rattray also put up a good game. The game was stopped in the second period when "Benny" Kenalty, diminutive goater for the visitors, received a hard shot in the forehead.

Mr. Cecil Wallace handled the game well.

Richmond failed to put in an appearance last evening to play a scheduled fixture with the Sherbrooke Wanderers and the latter went on the ice and accordingly claimed the game by default. A regular league game is scheduled for Thursday evening, when Wanderers play against Lennoxville, at the Minto Rink at 8.15 p.m.

LENNOXVILLE SCOUTS DEFEATED BY WATERVILLE

At the Minto Rink on Saturday the Lennoxville Scout hockey team met Waterville Scout team in a friendly game, and for juniors the scouts of both teams gave a splendid exhibition, no penalties being given throughout the whole game. The return game, which will be played on Friday, February 29th, should prove very interesting.

F. Cann secured Lennoxville's only goal in the first period, while Waterville were successful in getting two goals in the second period and one in the final, the total score being Waterville 3, Lennoxville 1.

A rather unfortunate accident happened during the game when one of the Waterville scouts tripped and broke his skate, and in trying to prevent himself from falling, raised his hockey stick in the air, striking the Rev. Mr. Pergau on the side of the head and inflicting quite a bad cut. However, the Scouts immediately rendered first aid, and the hockey game continued.

The line-up was as follows:

Waterville Lennoxville
Long Goal H. Nickle
Nelson Defence R. Benton
Kirovac Defence Stewart
Donaldson Forward Cann
Dean Forward Harris
Anderson Forward Stafford
Meigs Subs. Pergeau
Francis "
Bennett " Bassett
The game was handled by Mark Bennett.

SNOWSHOEING

OLD WARHORSE NIGHT

The regular weekly tramp will be held tomorrow evening, and inasmuch as there are only three regular meetings left and the members will be anxious to hear a report of the results of the Ministerial show, a good attendance is anticipated. The meeting place, as usual, will be at the corner of Portland Avenue and Quebec Street.

SIGNING OF THE LIQUOR TREATY IS DELAYED

Delay to Allow a Change in Draft Sent to Washington by Canadian Government.

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Signing of the Treaty worked out between the Washington and Ottawa governments for the suppression of illicit liquor traffic along the Canadian border has been temporarily delayed in order that a minor change in the draft sent here by the Canadian authorities may be made. Request for the alteration has been communicated to the British embassy by the State Department and it is believed that the embassy will be able to secure approval of it by telegraph from Ottawa and thus make possible the completion of the treaty within a few days.

It is understood the Canadian government, while assenting to the greater number of suggestions regarding the measures desired by the United States for checking border liquor traffic, has declined to enter into any arrangement by which ships operating between the two countries would be denied clearance papers if they carried liquor as a part of their cargoes. It has been explained that such a course would be in violation of Canadian law.

NEW YORK PRESS
MARKET COMMENT
Furnished by Johnston & Ward

Journal of Commerce—Once more a careful scrutiny of the business situation appeared to show improvement and betterment all around, rather than loss, and if the indications thus afforded had been followed yesterday's market should have shown increase rather than recession.

Wall Street Journal—Opinions differed as to the reason for the decline. Oil inquiry results and the fact that the chance of getting through the Mellon tax plan was decidedly slim, were the two factors most discussed. Wall Street Journal will say today: Stewart Warner strong in cash. Working capital at close of year $8,561,149. Union Oil earns $8.92 a share. Net profit $8,032,649 compares with $10,735,875 or $11.92 a share in 1922. Cluett Peabody ends good year. Earns $14.15 a share on common against $12.01 in 1922. Copper takings at world high. Consumption and production about balanced at 255,000,000 pounds monthly. Prices turning the corner.

GRAIN PRICES SCORED AN ALL AROUND ADVANCE

(Associated Press Despatch)

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Grain prices scored an all around advance today during the early dealings. Buying by independent bulk leaders appeared to be chiefly responsible, together with a lack of an aggressive selling. Prospects of a slowing down of the movement of the corn crop had a strengthening influence on values. Wheat opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to a quarter cent lower, with May at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4 and July at $1.09 1/2 to $1.09 3/4 were followed by an upturn all around to well above yesterday's figure. Stormy weather led to belief that selling and shipping of corn would be delayed. After opening unchanged to 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, with May at 79 1/2 to 79 3/4 cents, the corn mar-

WHEN the Bank of Montreal opened its first office in Quebec 106 years ago, travel between Montreal and Quebec was mainly by stage coach, occupying three days in the journey. The difficulties and exigencies attending travel were such that funds were only conveyed between the two cities "at the first safe opportunity."

With the opening of this Quebec office, the Bank of Montreal introduced into Canada branch banking, one of the elements that has contributed to the remarkable elasticity of the Canadian banking system, winning for Dominion finance an enviable reputation in all parts of the world.

Of the Bank's 567 Branches, 83 are situated in the Province of Quebec.

Reduction in Expenses in 1923.

Ald. S. R. Newton gave figures, in accordance with a previous request made by Ald. Langis, relative to the $10,000 reduction in expenses last year. He contended that the best way would be to show the cost per $100. In 1922 to earn $100 it cost the city $89.93, while in 1923 it cost the city $79.77. On the basis of the 1922 cost, the expenditures in 1923 should be $294,500 whereas they actually were $261,162.

Ald. Langis contended that this $10,000 cut in expenses was purely election talk, and that the reduction of $10,000 shown was merely a method of accounting which provided for a smaller amount of interest charged up.

Ald. Newton observed that while there was an increase in interest on loans, there was a decrease in the interest on bonds, so it did not matter which item was considered. He further pointed out that the Gas and Electric Department had assumed the sum of $2,300 additional rent as their share of the new premises, this amount being that much in excess of the amount paid in the Whiting block. He added the department had also taken over a greater share of the proportion of civic employees' salaries.

Ald. Newton proposed that during each successive year the working hours from November 1st to May 1st be reduced from ten to nine hours on outside work.

Ald. Langis Opposed Motion.

Ald. Langis opposed this motion and held that it was not an economy as the men would not be doing more work in nine hours than ten hours, and it would mean work would drag along. Ald. Skinner pointed out it would benefit the employees of the water department and Ald. Newton pointed out some of the economies which would be effected, citing the road department as saving some $2,000.

que refers to the increased rate of taxation. I understood that with the new arrangements in the council there would be a big improvement and that one dollar would go as far as four dollars formerly did, while we would have better streets, a cleaner city and many other improvements.

A vote on the motion to reduce the hours from ten to nine hours resulted as follows:

In favor of motion: Aids. Skinner, Lacombe, Bourque, Newton, Crepeau, Fortier and Labrecque.

Against motion: Aids. Tetreault and Langis.

Ald. Crepeau advised that a number of proposals and plans had been received from the Canadian Pacific Railway relative to the Galt Street viaduct and that same would be considered during the week.

Ald. Skinner asked that in submitting the budget for 1924, the committee should also secure a statement of outstanding accounts. Ald. Langis suggested that accounts receivable be included to get a more accurate return.

Camping Grounds for Tourists.

Ald. Bourque suggested that the Provincial Government be approached relative to the Levis road and Mayor Brault undertook to take up the matter when on the E.T.A.A. delegation. Other municipalities are to be asked to send delegates. It was stated that the Municipality of Ascot was divided on this issue, and if they could reach an agreement it was practically certain the road would be undertaken this year.

Ald. Skinner introduced the matter of camping grounds for tourists of moderate means. He suggested the Levis property. The E.T.A.A. effort in this connection was referred to, and it was decided to endeavor to co-operate with the Association in this respect. Ald. Newton drew the attention of the Council to better conditions governing the regulation of traffic, and the matter will be discussed further.

At the conclusion of the meeting, adjourned until next Monday, Mayor Wm. Brault observed that he would be at his office regularly between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. whenever he was in the city.

IMPROVING STATE OF TRADE IS FORECAST

Expect that Wholesale Prices Will Rise Moderately for Some Months to Come.

(Associated Press Despatch) TORONTO, Feb. 19.—The index of general conditions in Canada compiled by Professor H. Mitchell, of McMaster University, showed no very definite trend during the past thirty days. Stock prices continued to advance moderately during the period of January 15 to February 15. Wholesale prices advanced slightly up to the end of January, but the ratio of current loans to total assets of the banks fell again up to December 30. So far as can be judged from these movements, wholesale prices are due to rise moderately for some months to come.

The forecast for the next three months is a slowly improving state of trade without any very marked activity.

CANNOT REOPEN NEGOTIATIONS RE DEBT TO U.S.

Can Be No Question About Any Proposals to Reopen Negotiations for Arrangement of Other Terms, States Macdonald.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Feb. 19.—Answering a question in the House of Commons, Premier Macdonald said that the British Government had accepted the terms of the settlement of the British debt to the United States and, therefore, there could be no question about any proposals to reopen negotiations for the arrangement of other terms. Premier Macdonald told the House there should be no formal agreement on any document regarding the settlement of the palatine question, but as a result of correspondence between the British, French and Belgian Governments, it had been decided to entrust the representatives of these three governments at Coblenz with the task of supervising reparations and the formal administration of the palatine and the disarming of all unauthorized persons with the object of facilitating the settlement of the whole question.

DOUBT IF LABOR GOVT. WILL HOLD TO ITS IDEALS

Mary MacSwiney Claims First Test of Labor Party's Sincerity Will Be in Ireland.

(Associated Press Despatch) DUBLIN, Feb. 19.—Mary MacSwiney, leading Irish woman Republican, has written to Ramsay MacDonald, the new British Premier, saying that the Republicans have watched with sympathy the rise of the Laborites to power, but doubt whether they will stick to their ideals "any more than President Wilson did." The first test of Labor's sincerity, she says, will be in Ireland, where the Republicans refuse to recognize allegiance to the King or the parliament of the country. She raises the question whether Mr. MacDonald, like his predecessors, will "force His Majesty's ministers in the Free State into a war of aggression against the Republican citizens."

Miss MacSwiney urges the Premier to make an Irish peace on the basis of Ireland's sovereignty and integrity.

As an alternative he offers to defray the expense of such a campaign among the English-speaking population of the cities if the Government will undertake concurrently to deal with the rest of the population.

SEVERE WATER SHORTAGE EXPERIENCED IN ROME

Four-fifths of Population Have Gone for Past Few Days Without Even Washing Their Faces.

(Associated Press Despatch) ROME, Feb. 19.—The people of Rome for several days past have been suffering from bathless days, and no relief seems in sight for them until tomorrow, when a broken water main, which has caused all the trouble, is repaired.

Premier Mussolini is among those who have been compelled to go without their baths. Hundreds of North American and South American visitors have had to forego their showers, while it is estimated that four-fifths of the population of Rome have gone for the past few days without even washing their faces.

When the Premier and American visitors are foregoing their baths, the Roman ladies insist on having theirs. Scores of limousines are to be seen waiting about the fountains while the chauffeurs sought their place in the line of people to fill the kegs or barrels to be taken to various parts of the city so that milady might perform her ablutions. The water shortage at the hotels has caused particular discomfort to the patrons.

RESIGNATION OF DAUGHERTY IS DEMANDED

Protests Against Attorney-General's Continuance in Office Have Reached White House from Several Sources.

(Associated Press Despatch) WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The demand for resignation of Attorney General Daugherty suddenly has become one of the most acute of all the questions growing out of the oil scandal, and there were indications today that some important development could be expected shortly. Protests against Mr. Daugherty's continuance in office have come to the White House from several sources and were before President Coolidge when the cabinet met for its Tuesday session. Mr. Daugherty was one of the last to arrive for the meeting.

NEW DEPARTURE IN REGARD TO APPOINTMENTS

J. C. Fenton Has Been Named Solicitor-General for Scotland—Appointments to the King's Household.

(Associated Press Despatch) LONDON, Feb. 19.—Announcement is made that J. C. Fenton has been appointed solicitor-general for Scotland. He is not a member of the House.

Some of the chief appointments to the King's Household still remain closed preserves for the aristocracy under the Labor Government, as evidenced by a Downing Street notice stating that His Majesty had approved of certain nominees for posts which became vacant when the Conservative Government fell. The notice announces, however, that these appointments would be of a non-political character during the present administration. This is a new departure. The Earl of Cromar retains the post as the Lord Chamberlain, and the Earl of Shaftesbury as Lord Steward. The Earl of Granard is reappointed to the post of Master of Horses, which he occupied from 1907 to 1917. Viscount Hamaden and Lord Colebrooke are appointed Lords-in-Waiting, the Earl of Dunmore as Captain of the Honorable Corps of Gentlemen-at-Arms, and Lord Loch as Captain of the King's Bodyguard of Yeomen of the Guards.

WILL MEET FIRPO'S DEMAND FOR GUARANTEE

(Associated Press Despatch) NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Luis Firpo has notified the syndicate which intends to promote a contest between the South American champion and Harry Wills, that unless the sum of fifty thousand dollars was placed to his credit in Buenos Aires before the end of this week, all negotiations for the proposed bout would be considered cancelled.

The information was contained in a cable received by Billy McCarney, Firpo's American representative, who subsequently transmitted it to Lew Raymond, spokesman for the syndicate.

Raymond advised McCarney that not only would the fifty thousand dollars be posted to Firpo's credit within the next few days, but in addition the syndicate would further agree that unless the sum of $100,000 was turned over to Firpo within forty-eight hours after his arrival here, the original fifty thousand dollars would be given to the Argentine as a forfeit.

BOUT ENDED IN A ROW

(Associated Press Despatch) WILKESBARRE, Pa., Feb. 19.—A scheduled ten round bout between Frank Moody, of Wales, and Joe Jackson, Philadelphia, in the Armory A. C., here last night ended in a row in the seventh round when Al Dewey, former lightweight boxer and now matchmaker of the club, jumped into the ring, pushed referee J. D. Kelly through the ropes and started to officiate. Kelly had had difficulty making Jackson "break clean."

The boxers clinched and Dewey separated them and pushed Jackson against the ropes. Jackson turned on Dewey, who immediately hit him with an overhand right to the jaw and matchmaker and boxer blazed away at each other until police and fans rushed into the ring and separated them.

There was speculation as to the winner of the bout, for the official referee was still out of the ring and the judges made no ruling when the police dispersed the crowd.

In the first bout Young Detto, a Filipino boxer, was knocked out by Kid Baldino. In falling, Detto's head hit the floor and he was knocked unconscious, suffering a concussion of the brain.
