CANADA MAY DABBLE IN FOOD GIVEAWAY

World News In Brief

Nicosia, Cyprus —(Reuters)—British land and sea forces today sealed off a major trouble centre in this Mediterranean colony and began a house-to-house search for arms and explosives.

Eight hours later, the troops completed their search of Kihorakas village and the curfew was lifted. An official statement said several persons were being held for questioning.

Quebec. —(P)— A 4½ cent hourly pay boost has been recommended by an arbitration board for 2,000 employees of the Noranda Mining and Smelting Company, pacesetters for wages in northwestern Quebec.

Grossinger, N.Y. — (P) — Singer Eddie Fisher and actress Debbie Reynolds were married last night in this Catskill mountain resort where Eddie began his career six years ago.

Sullivan county Judge Lawrence Cooke performed the civil ceremony attended by the new couple's relatives and a group of friends.

Ottawa. —(P)— A monument will be erected here to commemorate 800 Commonwealth airmen who lost their lives in North America during the Second World War and have no known graves.

Charles Fuller, secretary-general of the Canadian agency of the Imperial War Graves Commission said today that the monument likely will be finished by next summer.

Hannover, Germany —(Reuters)—A criminal libel action began here yesterday as the result of sensational magazine charges against Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and two prominent German diplomats. The defendants are a self-styled German counter-espionage agent and three editors of the news magazine Der Spiegel (The Mirror).

United Nations, N.Y.—(P)—Spain applied yesterday for membership in the United Nations. The Spanish observer to the UN, Jose S. de Erice O'Shea, visited secretary-general Dag Hammarskjöld and brought the Spanish government's membership application with him. Spain was once virtually barred from UN membership. In 1946 the general assembly voted that because of her alleged support of Nazi Germany in the Second World War Spain should never be a member of the UN.

Egypt Accepts Soviet Offer For Supplying Military Equipment

LONDON — AP — Egypt has informed Britain that she has accepted a Russian offer to supply her with arms and military equipment, the foreign office said today.

Foreign Secretary Macmillan will discuss this development with State Secretary Dulles during their meeting in New York, a spokesman told the daily foreign office press conference.

The United States, Britain and France are bound under a 1950 declaration to maintain the military balance of power — and to prevent an outright arms race — between the Arab countries of the Middle East and the state of Israel.

The foreign office spokesman said in answer to a question:

"Our ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson was told by the Egyptian government Monday night that it has accepted the Russian offer to supply arms.

"The secretary of state Macmillan will discuss both the Russian offer and the Egyptian acceptance of it with the American secretary of state in New York."

The spokesman said he could not give details of the precise nature of Russia's offer, nor of the arrangement which Egypt has accepted.

The Big Three Western powers will reconsider their own policy of supplying arms to Egypt in the light of Russia's entry into the Middle East scene, the British officials said.

The foreign office disclosure came only 24 hours after the state department in Washington had confirmed that the U.S. had offered to sell weapons to the Egyptians.

Big Four Prelude Is Planned

New York. —(P)— The British, American and French foreign ministers planned strategy talks here today aimed at getting concrete results from the Big Four meeting starting in Geneva Oct. 27.

They will be joined for consultations Wednesday by West Germany's foreign minister, Heinrich von Brentano, due here today by plane from Bonn.

Together they plan to map a program they hope the Russians will accept at the Geneva sessions arranged at the "summit" meeting attended last July by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden, Premier Faure and Premier Bulganin.

They have before them a working program of strategy tying in some kind of European disarmament and security pledges with a drive to unify East and West Germany—and to hold Germany in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization despite Russian opposition.

But almost on the eve of the long-planned parleys here, there were three developments:

1. Foreign Minister Molotov introduced again in the United Nations the Soviet package plan on disarmament—a ban on nuclear weapons, German reunification outside of NATO, and demands for all countries to give up foreign bases.

2. Bulganin sent Eisenhower a letter throwing cold water on the president's proposals for the U.S. and Russia to exchange aerial inspection to avert surprise attack and to provide the first step in building up confidence which might lead to actual disarmament.

3. President Eisenhower had a heart attack.

Rap Picket Lines For Strike Act

Toronto —(P)— Pickets at the strike-bound General Motors Corporation of Canada plant in Oshawa were criticized by their union leader yesterday for turning back 300 office workers when they tried to enter the plant.

George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) said the action of the pickets in stopping the office workers was contrary to an agreement reached last Friday, after a similar incident.

At that time, it was agreed office workers and all other authorized personnel would be allowed through the picket lines without trouble.

One of the Oshawa pickets, who would not identify himself, said he was grazed by a car driven by GM executive W. L. Pierson as the car was driven up to the plant gates. He was not injured.

Double Trouble — A Bromptonville fire truck (lower photo) was put out of commission at one of the town's intersections yesterday afternoon while flames ravaged a barn a few miles away (top). The truck, driven by Andre Paradis, Bromptonville, toppled over when hit by an O'Connell truck as the former headed for the burning barn. Paradis escaped from the wreckage unhurt but the barn, owned by Alfred Bedard, was a total loss. (Breton Studio)

Ike's Progress Good Physicians Cautious, Hopeful

Denver —(P)— Hospital bulletins continuing to report President Eisenhower's "satisfactory progress" have raised hopes for his full recovery.

But the cautious optimism was sharply tempered last night by the note of warning sounded by one of his heart-specialist physicians.

"For the first two weeks we keep our fingers crossed," said Dr. Paul Dudley White of Boston in reporting on the president's condition.

White did say that the prospects for Eisenhower's complete recovery within two months from the heart attack suffered Saturday are "reasonable good," barring complications. But he added that complications "can still come," particularly during the first two weeks.

At a press conference before flying back to Boston, White also said the president should be "physically able" to serve a second term should he so desire. He will be 65 Oct. 14.

But the physician called the presidency one of the toughest jobs in the world and declared he had "no conviction one way or the other" as to whether Eisenhower should run for reelection.

The likelihood remains that members of the president's family will urge him to stand aside in 1956. For that matter, it seems likely that they won't need to urge him. Eisenhower himself said in August that the state of his health would be a factor in his decision about running again.

Another step in the slow recovery process was removal at intervals of the oxygen tent in which Eisenhower had been since Saturday afternoon, when he was taken to the hospital.

The president was out of the tent three times yesterday about 30 minutes each time. It is standard practice to place heart-attack patients under oxygen to assure greater rest in the early, critical days.

Meanwhile, the Denver White House announced that it was putting no pressure on the justice department for a requested legal opinion concerning what extent presidential powers could be delegated in event of an emergency.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, sent the request to Washington Sunday, but said yesterday that there was no need for a quick reply. There still was plenty of worry at the temporary White House offices at Lowry air force base. But the deep gloom of Saturday and Sunday was beginning to lift a bit.

Stock Plight "Bad" Say U.S. Ministers

OTTAWA — (CP) — It was an odd sight — four United States cabinet ministers huddled over a news dispatch on the lawns of Parliament Hill. But then it was an unusual report.

News of President Eisenhower's heart ailment had cracked stock market prices wide open. Treasury Secretary Humphrey read the New York dispatch, line for line, word for word. It told of losses more extensive in some cases than the great crash of 1929.

"This is bad," his colleagues muttered. They were state Secretary Dulles, Commerce Secretary Weeks and Agriculture Secretary Benson.

They had just emerged from a conference with four Canadian ministers, all delegates of the joint Canada-U.S. trade and economic committee attempting to resolve trade problems between the two countries.

But for Mr. Humphrey at least the stock market plunge appeared far more critical. As the conference ended he asked for the latest market reports. External Affairs Minister Pearson telephoned for news.

All the American ministers appeared deeply concerned over the state of the market. Mr. Humphrey kept pressing for news.

Flying Lady Janet Eyes C. America

Miami Fla. — (P) Hurricane Janet headed today for the Nicaraguan coast, leaving nearly 200 dead in her path across the Caribbean sea.

The hurricane, packing 110-mile-an-hour winds, was expected to pass north of Cape Gracias, on the eastern tip of Nicaragua, tonight and thrash the northern coast of central America.

Janet's death toll may have included 11 American airmen. A United States Navy hurricane hunter plane flew into the area Monday and was officially listed as missing.

The plane, a two-engine P-2V Lockheed Neptune bomber, has been unreported since yesterday morning, and the navy has begun an extensive air and surface search of the Caribbean.

Janet was moving west northwest at 12 miles an hour this morning and was due to show a gradual increase in size, the weather bureau said. Gale winds extended 200 miles to the north and east and 100 miles to the south of the centre.

The death toll on Grenada is officially estimated at 110. Twenty-five dead were reported on the neighboring island of Carriacou, and Barbados counted 30.

Bulletin

Washington. —(P)— Two Canadian newspaper men are abroad a U.S. Navy plane which disappeared over the Caribbean Sea Tuesday, an official source said today. The official, who declined to be identified, said the Canadians are Alf Tate, reporter, and Douglas Cronk, photographer, both of the Toronto Star.

Aid Onions Prohibited

Washington — (P) — The White House said yesterday it is terribly sorry but there is just no way Canadian onions can be brought into the United States for duty-free sale, even for so lofty a purpose as relief for U.S. hurricane victims.

"We are terribly disappointed," a spokesman said.

The White House dilemma arose from an offer by Ontario onion growers to ship six carloads of their product to the U.S. for sale, with the entire proceeds of $7,500 to $10,000 going to the relief of New York State onion growers whose crops were ruined by hurricanes Connie and Diane.

The Canadian plan, which originated with Bruce Bradley, onion grower of Painscourt, Ont., ran afoul of U.S. tariff laws which prevented President Eisenhower from waiving a duty of 1½ cents a pound on the 180,000-pound shipment from Ontario.

P. C.'s Score By - Election Upset; St. Laurent Wins

OTTAWA — (CP) — Progressive Conservatives have scored an upset election victory in a New Brunswick riding held by the Liberals for the last 22 years. Liberals, including a son of Prime Minister St. Laurent, have again been sent to represent three Quebec constituencies in the Commons.

J. C. Van Horne, 35-year-old Conservative lawyer from Campbellton, N.B., broke the Liberal hold on Restigouche-Madawaska in the surprise of Monday's four federal by-elections.

Quebec Liberal strongholds of Temiscouata, Quebec South and Bellechasse withstood strong Conservative attacks. But of their winners only Jean-Paul St. Laurent, 43-year-old Quebec City lawyer and victor in Temiscouata, was able to maintain the big leads gained by the party in the 1953 general election.

Frank Power, son of another famous Canadian, retained Quebec South for the Liberals with a lead sharply cut from the huge margin held there in 1953 by his father, Hon. C. G. Power, war-

To Parley With U.S. On Guards

OTTAWA —(CP)— Canada may soon play a hand in policing the huge United States food giveaway program.

Technical talks are to take place in Washington shortly aimed at setting up permanent machinery for closer consultation between the two countries on the impact of the American program on Canadian markets abroad.

Trade Minister Howe said yesterday the technicians, to include members of his department and the Canadian wheat board, will attempt to get the Americans to differentiate between disposal methods that may be legitimate and those that may not.

Canada was particularly interested in getting the "ground rules" changed on the U.S. wheat disposal program which Canada has charged has interfered with some of her wheat marketings abroad.

Agreement to hold the technical talks was reached at a one-day session yesterday of eight Canadian and U.S. cabinet ministers, members of the joint Canada-U.S. committee on trade and economic affairs. External Affairs Minister Pearson presided.

They said in a communique that they realized disposal of surpluses, if not handled carefully, could injure world trade and agreed there should be "closer consultation in an effort to avoid interference with normal commercial marketings."

Mr. Howe, at a press conference later, said conference discussions ranged from President Eisenhower's heart ailment to the disturbing signs of inflation in Europe. But he indicated that for Canada the main topic was ways of controlling the American give-away plan.

While he was sure the conference talks will bear fruit, Mr. Howe was none too optimistic on the future of the International Wheat Agreement, which also was discussed, along with U.S. legislation on import curbs, potato trade, and American customs simplification plans.

The current three-year, 4½ cent wheat pact expires next July. Mr. Howe indicated that whether Canada enters a new agreement will depend on the U.S. and Britain.

Mr. Howe said he thought U.S. Agriculture Secretary Benson was friendly toward a new pact, but Mr. Benson told a reporter the U.S. has not made up its mind.

Demands of Canadian potato growers for higher tariff protection against imports from the U.S. were discussed with the U.S. ministers Sunday night, said Mr. Howe, but he declined to disclose details of the talks.

He said the Americans came up here with some complaints on Canadian trade, but here again he declined to elaborate.

Richmond Legion Scores Success At Street Fair

Richmond — The citizens of Richmond and vicinity and the weatherman combined to make the 15th Annual Street Fair, sponsored by the Richmond

Branch 15, Canadian Legion, an outstanding success. The fair was held at the Richmond Arena. The Richmond Band paraded down Main Street at 8 p.m. and played several selections at the Arena. At 8:00 p.m. the Fair was officially opened by His Worship the Mayor of Richmond, H. P. Stone, who was introduced by the president of the Legion, M. C. Barrie. The interior of the Arena had been decorated by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Legion and Legion members. There were eighteen booths in all, consisting of hams, dolls, blankets, etc. The bingo played to full capacity all evening and was the most popular game of all. The blanket booth was also well patronized and sold out early in the evening. The children's fish pond, was so popular that it was sold out in the first hour.

The first Fair was organized in 1940 by the small core of World War I veterans, who kept the Canadian Legion alive, the original object being to provide comforts to soldiers in World War II. From this modest beginning the fair has steadily improved in size and scope until today it is an eagerly looked for event. The fair is now completely self-sustained and is the sole means by which the Richmond Branch maintains its many activities.

At the close of the evening, winners of the door prizes were drawn.

Record Housing Boom

Residential housing in Canada promises to set up an all-time record this year, according to the Bank of Montreal Business Review.

Housing units started in the first half of 1955 are estimated at 58,000, which the Bank notes as a "remarkable increase" amounting to 25 per cent over the corresponding period of 1954, which was itself a record year of residential construction.

On the basis of this performance, says the review, it would not be surprising if housing starts for the year as a whole were to reach or even exceed the unprecedented figure of 120,000.

The effect of the housing boom, involving the use of a wide range of products as well as a large labor force, is described by the bank as "a prime stimulus to the Canadian economy."

Among other things, the review notes, the erection of 120,000 residential units would probably require more than 6,000,000 barrels of cement, 1,800,000,000 board feet of lumber, over 20,000,000 square feet of glass and nearly 20,000 tons of nails.

Putting this in clearer perspective, says the bank, "housing requirements now absorb a quarter or more of Canadian production of each of these materials. Total employment, on site and off site, generated by the current housing program may be roughly estimated at around 300,000 persons working a normal year, or something like 5 1/2 per cent of the average employed working force.

The bank believes that, fundamentally, the pressure of demand for housing in the postwar period can be attributed to a high rate of family formation coming on top of the backlog of residential requirements that accumulated during World War II.

Despite the volume of housing construction accomplished in the post-war period, the review notes that families living "doubled up" — either of necessity or voluntarily — at the time of the 1951 census numbered 263,000.

The census also revealed that, of the net increase in occupied dwellings in Canada between 1941 and 1951, over nine-tenths was in the owner-occupied category, which — reversing a relative decline extending over more than 20 years — rose from 57 per cent of the total to 66 per cent.

In dealing with the financial considerations of the housing boom, the Bank notes that the total value of non-farm residential mortgage credit outstanding has been reliably estimated to have risen from around $700,000,000 at the end of 1945 to something like $4,000,000,000 at the close of 1954.

The bank points out that, in percentage terms, the magnitude of this increase is comparable to that which has occurred in consumer credit, discussed in the August Review.

"Nevertheless, as in the case of consumer credit," says the review, "there is little evidence to indicate that borrowers have over-extended themselves in their commitments. An analysis by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation shows that the average income of home-owners borrowing under the National Housing Act in 1954 amounted to $5,464, or more than half the average loan, while the combined monthly payment of mortgage principal and interest and municipal taxes has remained on the average at less than 20 per cent of earnings."

The Quality Of Mercy

The gates of a grim prison deep in Berlin opened yesterday on a feeble, wizened little old man.

In an automobile with his wife, 79-year-old Erich Raeder, once grand admiral of Hitler's mighty navy, sped to freedom. He was the second of seven top Nazi war criminals imprisoned in the Spandau to be freed. Raeder had been sentenced to life imprisonment for his part in the drive of the Third Reich in World War II. It was less than ten years ago he entered the prison.

But we venture to say he has served his sentence. Old and in feeble health, the one-time commander of many has only a few years left. He might have lived to quite a ripe old age if he had not been sent to prison.

Travesty On Justice

The acquittal last week of two white storekeepers in the State of Mississippi of the murder of 14-year-old Emmett Louis Till, Chicago Negro boy, was a shameful travesty on the role of justice in the United States. It is unfortunate that the outcome of the trial must ultimately reflect upon the whole of the American populace.

It proved, if any proof were needed, that the Old South is still as deeply mired in plantation prejudices and cowardice as it was in the dark days of Reconstruction, despite the brave determination of the United States Supreme Court to end segregation. But the proof exhibited at the Till trial is far more shameful than the evidences of injustice perpetuated before the Negro in the south was given equal rights with the white man.

The subordinate role of the Negro in the days of 1860 and after was one, inherent in the social structure of the south. Before the outbreak of Civil War, the role was even a good and healthy one; certainly it was an efficient system. Prejudice against the "Negras" then was at least an honest adjustment to what were thought of as natural conditions.

The same cannot be said now. How infinitely more disgusting is son. He is harmless now, and has paid in full for the suffering he has caused.

Justice, is after all, only a civilized form of retribution. No amount of punishment can bring back lost lives, and it is far better to forget the horrors of the Second World War, than to embalm them in living monuments.

It is the quality of mercy that allows justice to remain civilized; and the same quality that made the Allied cause against the Germans righteous. It is well to remain Christian in spite of wars, for as Shakespeare's Portia said, government is "nearest God's when mercy seasons justice."

the use of the vaunted principles of liberty and equality in the United States on the side of prejudice. What could be more revolting to all that stands for human dignity than the use of the instruments of law for the working of obvious injustice?

How the fires of Communism in the United States will burn brightly now, given the fuel of the Till trial! What possible refutation can there be to the old Marxist argument that capitalism in its democratic form is not government by the people, but tyranny of a few over the many?

It is, of course, inevitable that the problem of the Negro in the Southern States will continue to be a sore spot for many years to come. The psychology of a way of life cannot be changed overnight. Yet, when such things as the Till trial occur, then we are proud we are not Americans.

American author Frederick Spencer Theodore Aseph Elliott Peckham is busily engaged in a world investigation on the subject of "caddishness." Who would be better qualified than a man who is reported to have made some $250,000 in four years hiring out gentleman escorts to lonely ladies in the United States?

There are no indications of a break in the United States soft coal strike, and it is believed that many days must still elapse before any settlement regarding wages and working conditions can be reached in the bituminous fields.

COUNT YOUR CHANGE

(Windsor Star)
This far West none of us can presume to know the Japanese mind, and in view of a recent occurrence the job has become tougher than ever.

Word out of Tokyo is that an alleged religious sect is guaranteeing its followers survival in an atomic war by selling them "world bank notes." And not only that, the notes are to be the only currency after the world is destroyed. As the notes cost $280 each, the price of this gullibility is high.

Perhaps the inconsistency of survival in a destroyed world escapes the atom-conscious Japs. Possibly it seems completely logical to them. Anyway, it's a reminder that if a "world bank note" turns up in your change, demand a recount.

TRICKY MOVE LURES OPPONENT

When the opponents walk into your parlor, the thing to do is to put out the welcome mat and make them feel right at home. How the principle applies at the bridge table is illustrated in today's hand.

West didn't know what to lead against the normal contract of three no-trump. If he had led a heart, he probably would have defeated the contract. Unwilling to lead away from a king, West opened the queen of clubs.

Declarer put up dummy's ace and East played the nine. It seemed clear that the enemy wanted admission to his parlor, so South dropped the eight of clubs to give each opponent the impression that his partner had considerable length in clubs.

South now led a heart from dummy and lost a finesse to West's king. Full of pride in his opening lead, West led the jack of clubs immediately. East was afraid of blocking a long suit, so he played the king of clubs and returned the suit. This gave South four club tricks with his many holding in that suit.

There was very little to the rest of the hand. South easily made 10 tricks on a hand that could very easily have produced only a minus score for his side.

Letter To The Editor

Fine Response To Handicapped School Appeal

The Editor.

Sir:

The response to the letter concerning a school for handicapped children has been wonderful. I have received splendid co-operation from parents and others whom I have approached for help, guidance and assistance.

We are holding a parent's meeting at the Assot Consolidated School on Tuesday, Sept. 27, at 8 p.m. This is a cordial invitation to any interested teachers, or members of other organizations, clubs, associations etc., to attend with any offers, ideas, or suggestions of help in the way of finances or suitable equipment, such as two wheel chairs, cot beds, toys for therapy-training, coal for heating, first-aid kit, and anything that would be useful. This is all on a voluntary basis.

Mrs. Bertrand Turner, president of the Sherbrooke County Women's Institute, who has been such a wonderful help with counsel and guidance, is to be chairman for this meeting.

We have secured the services of a caretaker and a bus, which will pick up the children at special points in the city and Lennoxville shortly after nine a.m. and return them before three p.m. Mothers will take turns, two a day, supervising the children on the bus and at school. Lunches will be necessary.

Letters have gone out for special therapy teachers of speech, etc. A teacher for grade one and five will be needed.

and are more willing to take on duties." Dr. Jefferis said that if the youngster is determined to go to college, it is up to the parents to give him the right impression of what he is to go through. "Try to let him get a vision of why he is going to college. Show him that it is not for self and selfish gain. "University is not a school. It is primarily a place for learning and not a place for teaching. Teachers are not spoon-feeding the students. They are out on their own. The main difference lies in the fact that he is now a student, not a pupil, and must study for himself.

Dr. Jefferis concluded with a bit of advice. "If you send your child to college, leave him alone. He is on his own now and don't interfere." The speaker was introduced by Walter Lefebvre and thanked by Jack Lenaghan. During the meeting, Bill Charlebois gave a report on Kids' Day held at the Granada theatre Saturday, and Joe Faucher reported on the inter-club meeting held in Newport last week. John York discussed further developments of the horse show and described the outcome of a meeting with the ETAA over the show.

Final Tribute Is Accorded To Magog Resident

Magog — The funeral of Miss Ethelmary Cartwright was held on Tuesday from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Milne, Hatley St., with services in St. Paul's Church, Rev. C. J. Gustafson officiating.

Miss Cartwright, who passed away at her St. Patrick St. home on Sunday, Sept. 18, was born in England, Oct. 1, 1880, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Cartwright, of Croydon. She was educated in England and was a graduate of Chelsea College of Physical Education, London.

She was a member of the staff of Halifax Ladies' College from 1904 to 1906, when she joined the staff of McGill University, where she was one of the founders and head of the McGill School of Physical Education for Women. In 1929 she went to the University of Saskatchewan at Saskatoon to found the School of Physical Education for Women there. She was professor of the school and also of the Department of Physical Education until her retirement in 1943.

Miss Cartwright was keenly interested in public affairs, and particularly in education at all levels. Since taking up residence in Magog a few years ago, she had taken an active part in women's activities and in the Magog and District Home and School Association, where she at one time served on the executive and was always greatly valued as a member.

Miss Cartwright is survived by four sisters, Mrs. P. R. Andrews, Mrs. A. H. Pinnington and Mrs. G. O. Ritchie, in England, and Mrs. Charles Ellis, San Francisco; two brothers, A. E. Cartwright, London, England and G. H. Cartwright, of Quebec City, and numerous nieces, nephews and grandnieces and grandnephews.

New Federal Building Opened By Public Works Minister

Impressive Ceremonies Marked Formal Opening

A cabinet minister and six Members of Parliament were among the many invited guests at yesterday's official opening of the Federal building on St. Edward St.

Hon. Robert Winters, Minister of Public Works in the Federal cabinet, Maurice Gingues, M.P. for Sherbrooke, and Senator C. B. Howard presided at the ceremonies, held late yesterday afternoon.

In the absence of His Excellency Msgr. Georges Cabana, Archbishop of Sherbrooke, the new building was blessed by Msgr. Rosario Moisan, and Rev. Sydney Garland, of the Sherbrooke and District Ministerial Association.

Tribute was paid by Mayor Armand Nadeau to Maurice Gingues, local M.P. for his efforts in realizing the project. Mayor Nadeau declared that the new building was one which Sherbrooke could look on with pride. Mr. Winters referred to the Government building as the most modern of its kind in Canada, and said the constituents of Sherbrooke could feel proud of the efforts of their representative.

The Public Works Minister then cut the ribbon officially opening the building and unveiled a plaque commemorating the opening.

Senator C. B. Howard raised the flag from the St. Edward-

King St. corner of the building. In declaring the building officially opened, Mr. Gingues praised the work of architects Wilfrid Gregoire and Alphonse Belanger and the Newton Construction Company. As much as possible, declared Mr. Gingues, building materials were supplied by Eastern Townships and Sherbrooke producers.

The centralization of government offices in the new building, the Sherbrooke member declared, was a great service both to the civil servants and to the public.

Five other Eastern Townships M.P.'s were on hand for the ceremony; Maurice Cloutier, M.P. for Drummond, Maurice Boivin, M.P. for Shefford, J. A. Blanchette, M.P. for Compton, E. O. Gingras, M.P. for Richmond-Wolfe, and Louis Roberge, M.P. for Stanstead.

Aldermen and their wives and ex-mayors, Judges of the Superior Court and departmental heads were also present.

At the conclusion of the dedication ceremonies, the building was thrown open to the public until 9:30 p.m. and several hundred local citizens took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the new edifice.

In the evening, Mr. Gingues was host to the visiting parliamentarians, civic and religious dignitaries and to the contractors and sub-contractors at an informal dinner at the Social Club.

Welcoming the guests, Mr. Gingues expressed the thanks of the people of Sherbrooke to the federal government for the construction of the new building, which he said represented an important asset to Sherbrooke.

He also voiced the hope that the civic and provincial administrations would follow the lead established by the federal government and construct suitable office buildings on the vacant land available opposite the federal structure.

This, he said, would provide a real attraction for Sherbrooke and its citizens.

Federal Government Building A $2,000,000 Project

Federal Agencies Housed In St. Edward St. Building

A two million dollar project which began over three years ago was completed yesterday with the official opening of Sherbrooke's new Federal Building on King West.

The structure measures 382 feet by 101 feet and includes a sub-basement, a basement and three floors above the St. Edward St. level.

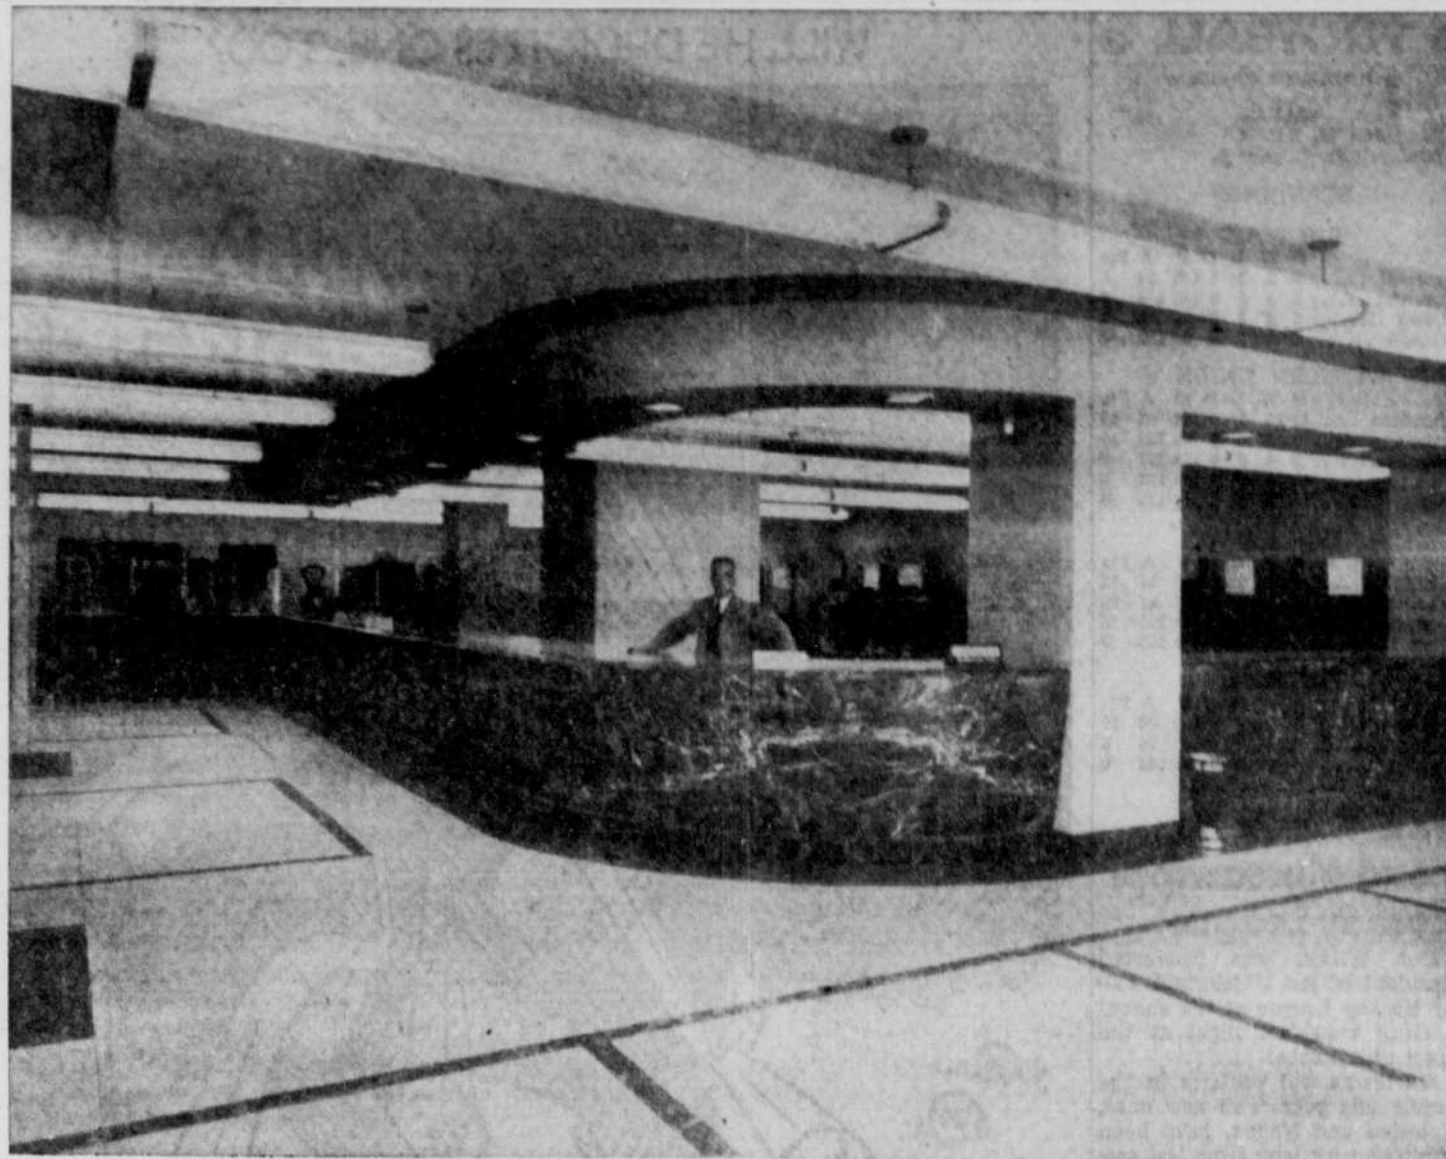

Plans for the building were brought to life by architects Wilfrid Gregoire and Alphonse Belanger of Sherbrooke and realized by Newton Construction Company. But the real credit for the perfection of the completed project goes to the few key men who were on the job directing the construction work, overcoming unforeseen problems, making necessary changes, and generally watching the designer's dream become a reality.

Among these men on whom the onus of responsibility fell are James Roberts, architect's representative, and Ed Lefebvre, general superintendent.

On every construction project difficulties arise which make it necessary to redesign parts of the building to fit in such things as ventilating and air conditioning systems. This job was Mr. Roberts' responsibility.

"Parts of the construction were new to the men who had to be shown just how to go about the work," Mr. Roberts pointed out. There were other technical problems which had to be overcome before the building could be completed, he added.

Mr. Lefebvre was in charge of the co-ordination of the whole job. Considering the fact that the building has concrete foundations and frame, stone and granite walls, doors and windows of both aluminum and wood, and marble finished public halls, the co-ordinating of work in all these fields is a considerable responsibility.

Other foremen on the project included: John Armstrong, 2112 Denault St., as time keeper; Odilon Rouleau, 1409 De Rosaire St., foreman in charge of finished carpentry work; Irene Roy, general foreman for the concrete work; Angelo Semard, labor foreman; Charles Audet, Lennoxville, general carpentry foreman; Edgar Ainslie, 325 Marquette St., finished carpentry work; and Reg Cahill, 510 Victoria St., who looked after the co-ordination between the Newton Construction office and the project.

Among the government offices which will be housed in the Federal Building are: the Post Office, National Revenue Department, Trade and Commerce, Dept. of Veterans' Affairs, National Health and Welfare, Dept. of Labor, Agriculture, R.C.M.P., U.I.C. — Auditors, Immigration, Dept. of Transport, and the National Film Board.

Guests of the Montreal and Granby Kiwanis Clubs, about 160 young people from Montreal Crippled Children's Hospital visited the Granby Zoo. The happy children, most of them travelling in wheelchairs and all of them handicapped by physical deformities were escorted by members of both clubs and other Kiwanis representatives. Five buses transported the group to Granby, where refreshments were provided before they were taken to the Zoo. The children enjoyed an exciting afternoon visiting the various animals and departed reluctantly after a happy day. The regular meeting of St. George's C.W.A. has been postponed to the following Thursday, October 13, at 3.15 p.m., when a food sale will precede the meeting.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Mr. Winters, in reply, stated that the building was an expression of the appreciation the federal government felt for the growing importance of Sherbrooke.

employment problem, he declared his department was accelerating plans for a number of large projects across Canada, which he felt would alleviate any temporary crisis that might develop.

Conrad Cayer, local postmaster, told the satisfaction felt by the Sherbrooke members of the federal civil service over their modern quarters, which, he said, materially improved their working conditions.

Other speakers included S. G. Newton, president of the Newton Construction Co. Ltd., the contractors for the building, Mayor Armand Nadeau and Louis A. Roberge, M.P. for Stanstead.

Yanks Remain Steady At 13-10 Odds Despite Mickey Mantle's Injury

Carl Furillo Down With Cold While Yankees' Centrefielder Still A Doubtful Starter For Series' Opener

NEW YORK —(P)— Carl Furillo rested with a cold and Mickey Mantle tenderly tested his injured right leg Monday as Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Yankees held final workouts in their own parks for Wednesday's world series opener at Yankee Stadium.

Furillo is expected to be in the opening day lineup at his usual right field spot for the Dodgers but Mantle may not be ready. The final decision on the Yankee centre fielder probably won't be made until shortly before game time Wednesday.

"It feels better," said Mantle after swinging away for about 10 minutes at the pitching of coach Frank Crosetti. Batting lefthanded, he smashed one pitch into the second deck in right field. However, he still couldn't run freely. Instead of going to the outfield, he foiled around with a first baseman's mitt, just to limber up.

Despite the doubt about Mantle's status, the betting men stretched the odds favoring the Yankees to 13 to 10. The Yanks remained the 6-to-5 choice in the opener. As for a sweep, you could get 11 to 1 the Yanks wouldn't do it and 19 to 1 that the Dodgers wouldn't win four straight.

The Dodgers, of course, never have won a series. This will be their eighth try. The Yanks hold the record with a 16-4 record for 20 previous series and five straight under Stengel from 1948 through 1953.

Stengel confirmed his earlier announcement that Whitey Ford

Bobby Simpson Leads Big Four Scoring Race

Bobby Simpson, the man with baskets for hands, is providing solid proof that he's just about the niftiest Canadian-born football player in the country. Nearly every pass thrown at him, or near him this season has been turned into a touchdown.

The 25-year-old Ottawa Rough Rider scored two touchdowns Saturday — one on an interception and the other on a great catch — to boost his point-total to 40 in the Big Four scoring race. He now is only five points behind Pat Abbruzzi of Montreal Alouettes who couldn't add to his 45-point count last week-end against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

Statistics compiled by the Canadian Press show Abbruzzi and Simpson well ahead of the field for honors taken by Montreal's Alex Webster in 1954. Tom Tracy, also of Ottawa, is in third place with 28 points and Bucky McElroy, hard-driving Hamilton back, follows with 25.

Mac Wilson To Head Massawippi Hockey League

Mac Wilson was re-elected president of the Massawippi Valley Hockey League at the annual meeting held last night at the Hotel Sherbrooke.

Six teams will perform in the circuit this year. Two new ones, Waterloo and Magog, have been admitted with four from last season, Windsor, Sherbrooke, Asbestos and East Angus. Phil Roy was elected as vice-president while Normand Batrie was named secretary-treasurer of the league.

The league will play 30 games commencing in the last week of November. An all-star game will be played in Asbestos next month, the date to be announced later. Another meeting has been slated for next month in order to prepare the schedule and discuss the final details before the season opens.

Lamirande To Be Coach Of New Entry In QHL

Trois-Rivieres, Que. — (P) — Francois Hetu, general manager of the new Trois-Rivieres entry in the Quebec Hockey League, announced today that Jean-Paul Lamirande has been named coach.

Lamirande last season played with Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the QHL.

(18-7) will work the opener and Tommy Byrne (16-5) the second, on the theory that his lefthanders would be more effective at the stadium than at Brooklyn with its convenient fences for righthanded hitters.

Unless he has to use him on relief in the first two, Stengel probably will start Bob Grim (7-5) in the Ebbets Field opener Friday, following with Bob Turley (17-13) and Don Larsen (9-2). Grim has been his most efficient pitcher in recent weeks.

Walter Alston, Dodger manager, said Billy Loes (10-4) probably will start the second game at New York. He has listed Don Newcombe (20-5) as his opening day pitcher.

Carl Erskine (11-8), another righthander who struck out 14 Yanks for a series record in 1953, probably will work the Friday game with either Johnny Podres (10-10) or Karl Spooner (8-6) going Saturday. Newcombe probably would be able to come back Sunday with three days rest, provided the best-of-seven series goes to a fifth game. Clem Labine (13-5) and Don Bessent (8-1) will be the relief men.

A sell out crowd of close to 70,000 is due to jam the stadium Wednesday.

If Mantle plays, the Yankee lineup is pretty well set with Irv Noren in left, Mantle in centre and Hank Bauer in right. Joe Collins will be on first, Billy Martin on second and Gil McDougald on third. Stengel is torn between Rizzuto and Gerry Coleman for short but is expected to lean toward the veteran scouter.

If Mantle can't play, there could be all sorts of changes. Against a righthander, Noren could play centre, leaving Bob Cerv or Elston Howard in left.

Rochester's Cot Deal Comes Up With His Fifth Playoff Victory To Give Wings 3-2 Edge In Series

Minneapolis — (P) — Rochester's longshot Red Wings today stood one step from the pinnacle of minor league baseball, the little world series championship.

The International Leaguers dumped Minneapolis' American Association champions 8-4 behind Ellis (Cot) Deal Monday night for a 3-2 edge in the playoffs, and can take the title with a victory tonight.

Minneapolis, against the axe for the first time in post-season play has small choice but to start its ace righthander Al Worthington tonight against fast-baller Gary Blaylock of the Red Wings. Worthington has only a day of rest but holds the Mil-lenners' two victories of the series. Deal recorded his fifth straight triumph since Rochester scraped into playoff competition by finishing fourth during the regular season.

He had to pitch the ninth inning in a downpour but neither the rain nor Miller bats could do much damage by then.

Catcher Ebba St. Claire, a weak hitter with the Millers a year ago, headed a 14-hit Rochester assault on three Minneapolis pitchers with three blows, one of them a third inning homer off starter Jim Constable.

Rochester led 3-0 before Bob Lennon reached Deal for a two-run homer in the sixth. Two more Rochester runs in the eighth and three in the ninth off Bud Beverly made Lou Ortiz' ninth-inning homer for Minneapolis inconsequential. Deal struck out seven and allowed as many hits.

Joe Kroll, Mr. Football, Comes Out Of Retirement To Help Argos With Their Kicking; To Play Saturday

Toronto — (P) — Joe Kroll, once the magic man of Canadian football, is back.

Swivel-hipped Joe, called the greatest running halfback in Canadian football when he was only 19 and who was voted second to Lionel Conacher as the outstanding football player of the half-century in a Canadian Press poll, agreed to come out of retirement to do the kicking for Toronto Argonauts. He is 35.

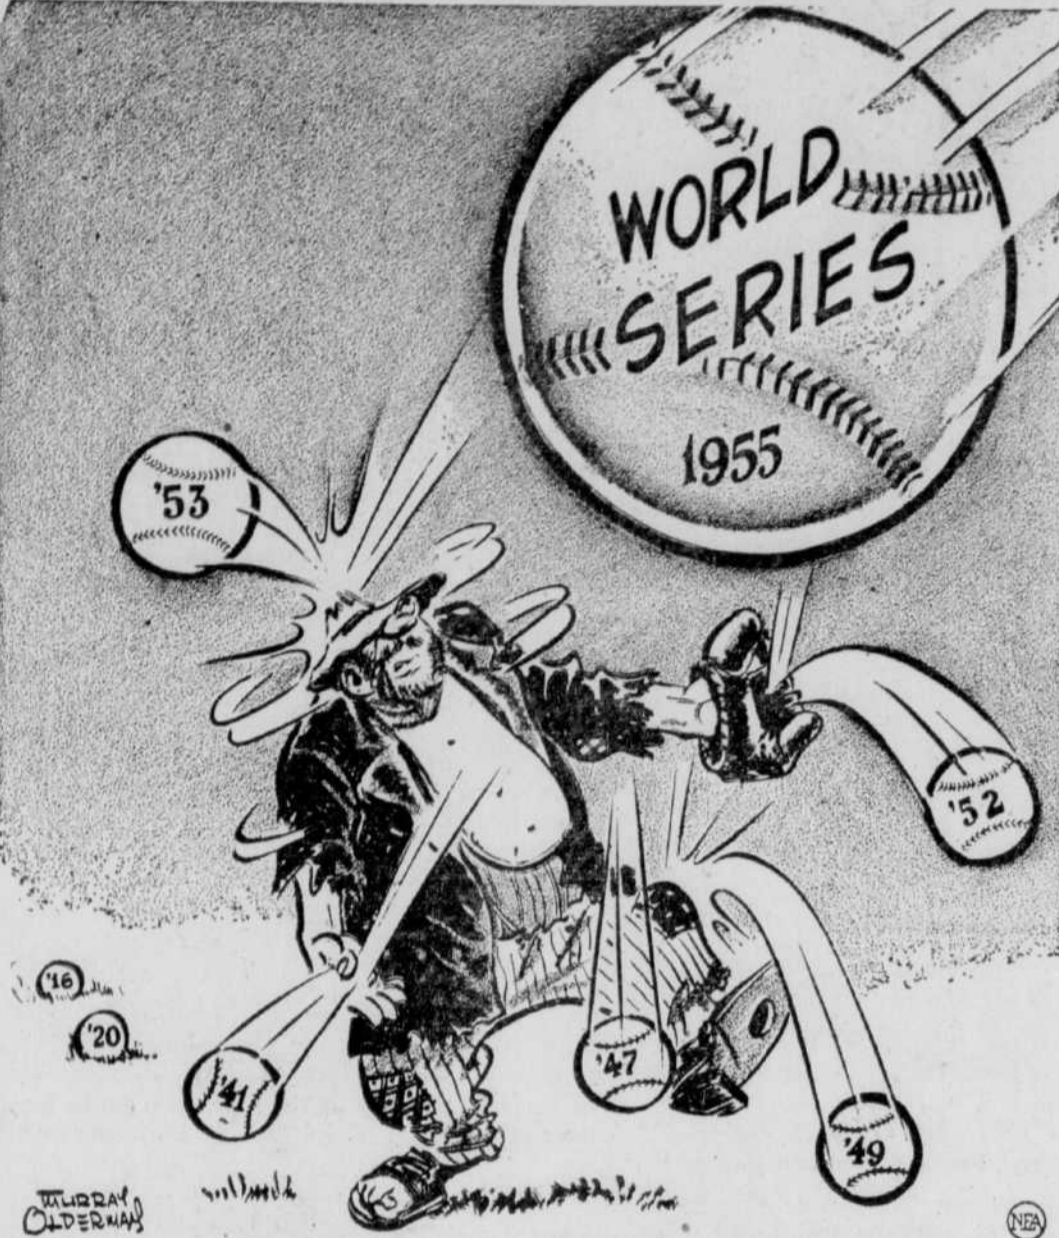

Kroll said he will put on his cleats after a year's layoff at the request of Argo team manager Harry Sonshine.

Argos need a kicker. Regular kicker Alex Ponto hasn't been doing well at all. On Saturday his kicks averaged 15 yards shorter than Ottawa's Avatus Stone.

Kroll's kicking, his passing and his open field running earned his team's six Grey Cup victories and himself the title "Mr. Football."

He retired midway through the 1953 season with a knee injury. He popularized the "knee" with Argo

WILL HE DROP THIS ONE, TOO?

Edmonton Eskimos Clinch Playoff Berth Blanking Vancouver Lions; Blue Bombers Wallop Stamps 25-6

Edmonton Eskimos, 1954 Canadian football champions, have made sure of a berth in the 1955 western conference playoffs.

The split-T Eskos, coached by Frank (Pop) Ivy, scored their 10th straight win this season in Western Interprovincial Football Union by trouncing British Columbia Lions 15-0 Monday night at Vancouver.

In other WIFU action, Winnipeg Blue Bombers overwhelmed Calgary Stampeders 25-6.

Edmonton could lose its six remaining games in the 16-game regular schedule and still grab the third and last playoff spot ahead of Winnipeg and Calgary. Winnipeg, in fourth place, now, already has suffered seven losses and the last-place Stampeders have lost eight times.

Edmonton's victory boosted their unbeaten streak to 15. In addition to winning all 10 league starts this season, Eskos won the WIFU playoff final game last season, defeated Kitchener-Waterloo in the Dominion semifinal, edged Montreal in the Grey Cup game and started off the 1955 season by defeating Big Four teams in two pre-season exhibition games.

Lions' loss prevented the B.C. team from going into a second-place tie with the idle Saskatchewan Roughriders.

At Winnipeg, quarterback Buddy Leake counted 15 points for Bombers, carrying the ball for a touchdown and kicking two field goals, three converts and a single.

Calgary's touchdown was scored by halfback Bob Meyers and the convert was kicked by end Tom Miner.

Edmonton point-getters were fullback Normie Kwong and quarterback Jackie Parker with

Ford, who entered the final round of the 72-hole competition with a two-stroke lead, carded a three-under-par 69 for a winning total score of 276. He took top

J. C. Caroline Arrives For Talks With ALS

Montreal — (P) — J. C. Caroline, the fleet-footed halfback dropped by Toronto Argonauts, came to Montreal Monday to talk things over with general manager Vic Obeck of Montreal Alouettes.

When Caroline's release was announced in Toronto Friday, newspaper reports said his argo salary was $15,000.

I think that's more than the Yankees have. Casey Stengel won it this year with a flock of moving around deals. He used three first basemen — Joe Collins, Eddie Robinson and Bill Skowron. He used five infielders and played them at every spot.

Yankees Lack Punch At Plate For World Series, Says Ol' Diz Dean

New York — The Yankees used to beat Brooklyn in a World Series as easy as Ol' Diz used to strike out guys when I was the big hero of the St. Louis Cardinals back in 1934 and thereabouts.

But this is one time you're gonna see Brooklyn on top. They tell me Joe DiMaggio and Billy Cox think the Brooklyn will fold when they take the field against the Yankees, but I can't see that.

To begin with, the Yankees have a top pitcher in Whitey Ford. He's a left-hander and they say them fellas can't go against Brooklyn. Well, Ford might. But the trouble is, I ain't seen anybody else on that club who could put the slug on the Brooklyn. And I've seen the Yankees a lot this year in my telecasting job for CBS' "Game of the Week."

Tommy Byrne has had a fine year, I know, and at times Bob Turley and Don Larsen have looked good. But I figure them Brooklyn hitters to wear out pitchers this time, seeing as they are Yankee pitchers.

Most of the Yankee attack this season came right from Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra. And right there, I think, is the center of this whole debate.

You take Mantle, and if Ol' Diz is back a few years he gives him the high fast one on the inside and he strikes out. Oh, he hits the ball a mile during the season — but in a seven-game World Series those strikeouts hurt and that's what I figure that guy will do a lot, especially seeing that he's injured.

This leaves the Yankees with Berra, which ain't bad. He is the most dangerous hitter in the American League. A tough game in his particular kind of bear meat. He chews along easy-like then hits any pitch in the book out of sight.

But the Brooklyn got more. They got Roy Campanella and a block of Carl Furillos and Gil Hodges and those guys.

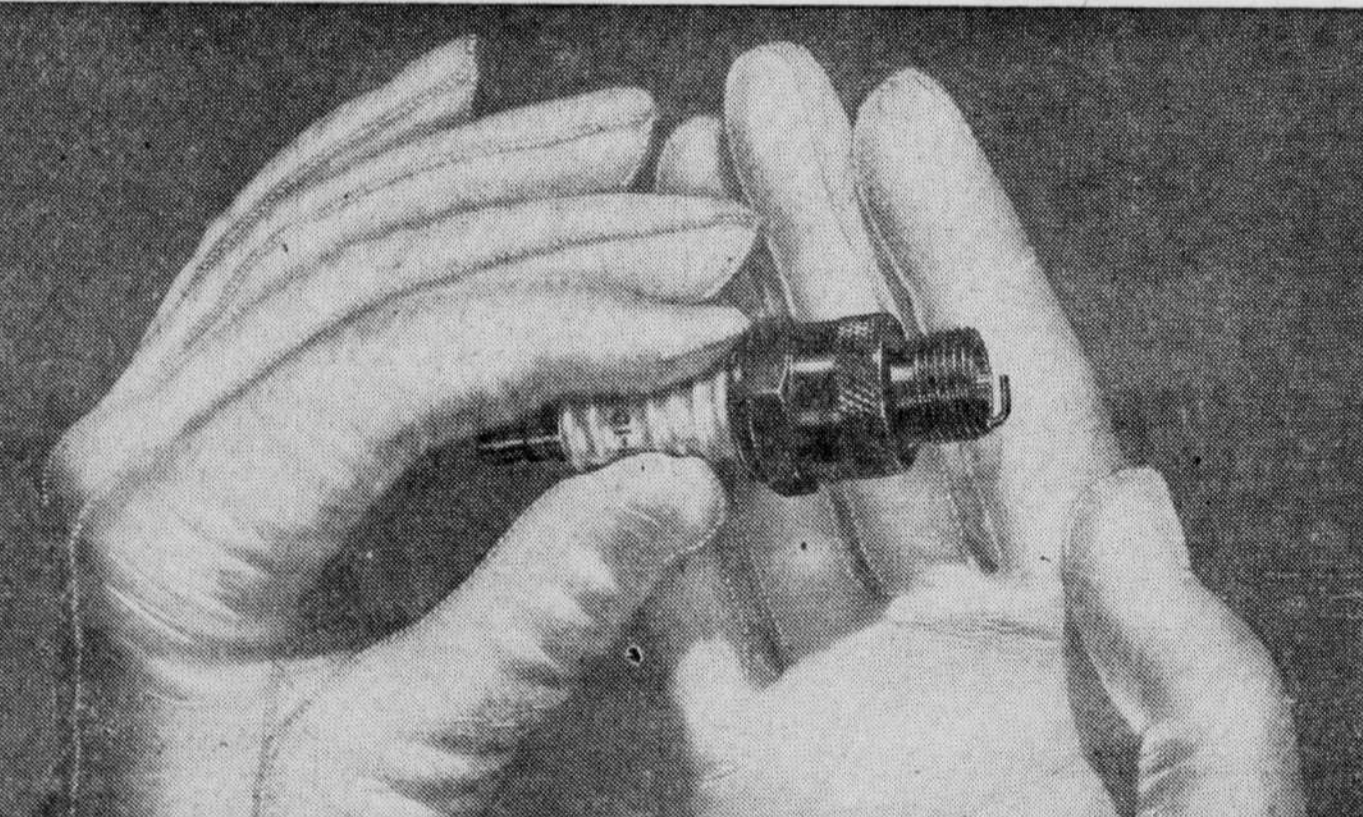

So, in the last game he comes to bat and you Cardinals is way ahead, so I yell to Mickey Cochran, the Tigers' manager, "Is this all you got? Can't you get a pinch-hitter for this fella?"

So, Ol' Diz sees Whitey Ford doing some winning and Yogi Berra a lot of hitting, but all those Brooklyn fellas will offset these two.

And I want to tell all my friends over in Brooklyn that I'll sure be around to see them. They're going to have a lot of fun for the first time in their lives.

NEXT: Ol' Diz looks at the Dodgers.

New York Rangers Have Added New Power, Says Manager Muzz Patrick

SASKATOON — General manager Murray (Muzz) Patrick doesn't visualize a Stanley Cup victory, but he says his New York Rangers are more powerful and much further advanced with their training than they were a year ago.

The Rangers, with a combination of a fiery coach, the return of high-scoring Wally Hergesheimer, a stronger defence and deeper bench strength, should enjoy more success in the National Hockey League this year than in recent seasons, says Patrick. They finished fifth last year.

"We've had a wonderful training camp in Saskatoon," he said. "Our new coach, Phil Watson, who always showed fire in his playing days, seems to have instilled this same spirit with the entire club and this will be a contributing factor to the success I think the Rangers will have in the 1955-56 season."

Watson, who succeeds Patrick as coach, appears to have done a remarkably fine job on the Rangers at the Saskatoon camp. A sticker for condition, he has worked his players hard. They open the season Oct. 7 at Chicago.

The goalkeeping job, last year held by Lorne (Gump) Worsley, is still far from decided with Johnny Bower, who spent the 1954-55 season with Vancouver Canucks of the Western League, putting up a great bid. Either Worsley or Bower will get the regular job with the other one going to Providence of the American League on a recall basis.

Mid Houghton, 23-year-old who finished the 1954-55 season with Saskatoon Quakers of the Western League, may be a new addition to the defence.

Lou Pontinato is a certain defence starter and the other four rearwards will come from Harry Howell, Bill Gadsby, Bob Christal, Jack Evans, Ivan Irwin and also Guidolin.

Centres Dave Creighton and Bronco Horvath, obtained in an off-season trade with Detroit Red Wings figure prominently in the Ranger plans. Horvath scored 50 goals for Edmonton in the WHL last year.

Other centres are Don Raleigh, starting his 10th season with the Rangers, Larry Popein and Ron Murphy, two sophomores. Murphy can also play wing and may be used as a utility forward.

About the best news the Rangers had at their 1955 training camp when Hergesheimer, kayoed with a fractured leg — the same leg at that — in each of the last two years, announced he was fit. A consistent 20-goal man, he scored only four goals before he was sidelined early last season.

Other right wingers are Andy Bathgate, a 20-goal star last year, and big Andy Heberton, brought up to the NHL from Victoria Cougars of the Western League.

Added bench strength for the forwards is expected from left-wingers Jean-Guy Gendron, Jim Bartlett and Billy McCreary. Gendron was obtained from Providence of the American League, Bartlett from Chicoutimi of the Quebec League and McCreary is a graduate of Guelph juniors, who finished last season with the Rangers.

Watson's No. 1 forward line may be Creighton, Lewicki and Bathgate. Raleigh has been working between Prentice and Hergesheimer; Horvath between Conacher and Heberton, and Murphy between Gendron and Bartlett with McCreary and Popein fitting in with all combinations.

Watson says that if he can get 100 goals from his four top scorers — Lewicki, Bathgate, Prentice and Hergesheimer — and an average job from the other forwards it will be sufficient to put the New Yorkers in the playoffs.

The new coach feels Bathgate, Murphy, Prentice and Conacher will come along in 1955-56.

"These boys are good major leaguers," says Watson, "and I think they are on the threshold of blossoming into stars."

Figuring The Series

By BEN OLAN

New York — (AP) — Figuring the world series:

For anyone who thinks the Yankees are going to lose in four straight games: The Yanks have lost four world series, but never have they been swept. They've dropped two classics in five games, one in seven and the other in eight (1921).

Versatile Jackie Robinson will be playing his fourth defensive position in his fifth world series for the Dodgers. Robinson was at first base in 1947, at second base in 1949 and in the outfield in 1952 and '53. He'll be at third base Wednesday.

You can bet Hank Bauer will be trying to change his world series luck. In 26 series games, the hustling Yankee outfielder is batting only .163 with 13 hits in 80 at bats. He's only had two extra base hits, both triples.

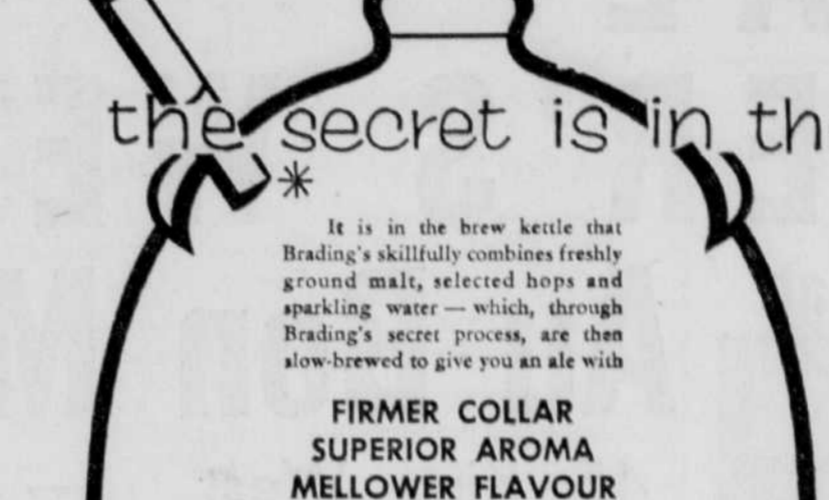

This could turn out to be quite a series for hitting pitchers. Don Newcombe of the Brooks wound up with a season's batting average of .358 with seven homers and 23 runs batted in. Don Larsen was the Yankees' home run leader among pitchers with a pitching contest. I think television all season . . . "And I notice that Campanella still is tagging them high," he cracked. "What's the matter—is Campy spike shy?"

Brooklyn pitcher Clem Labine is going to be one of the most important men in the country in the next few days. He's the Dodgers' best."

Whitey Ford, who is to start the first game for the Yanks Wednesday, said Jackie Robinson is the toughest batter he ever faced. "But I feel real good about starting against the Dodgers—in the stadium," added the Yanks' No. 1 hurler. Yank second baseman Billy Martin, who is due to be discharged from the army right after the series—he's on terminal leave now—said he watched Brooklyn games on

The first two games are in the Yankee Stadium and they don't get over to Brooklyn until Friday, but one fellow has camped outside Ebbets Field since last Saturday. This is the second straight big week for New York hotels and restaurants . . . You couldn't get a hotel room before the Rocky Marciano-Archie Moore fight and they're at a premium again.

The wisdom of tears

Do you fear you're "weak" to cry in moments of sorrow, sudden relief, surpassing beauty? Don't, for choking back tears can cause serious physical harm.

October Reader's Digest shows you why tears are nature's way of washing away tension — and how this physical release can help you better understand yourself and your fellow man. Get your copy of October Reader's Digest today: 43 articles of lasting interest including the best from leading magazines and current books, in condensed form.
