SAND BAY COTTAGE BURNED TO GROUND

Children from a neighboring cottage examine the remains of Mike Dereschuck's summer home in Sand Bay which burned to the ground Saturday night. Mike and his little girl, Dixie, escaped minutes before the cottage crumbled and everything in the house was a complete loss as well as the car which was parked against the east wall. It is believed that the fire may have started in the car and spread to the house. The fire was so hot between the car and the brick chimney on that side that window glass melted and ran down the side of the car. The surrounding woods were saved by the fact that there was no wind at all and the fire burned itself out in a dead calm.

Special Mass For Coulonge Couple On 70th Wedding Anniversary

Fort Coulonge—Placide Laroche 93 years and his wife the former Philemon Rouleau 87 years will celebrate the occasion of their 70th marriage anniversary this week. Both lifetime residents of this district and community were born and raised in the "Boisfranc" district.

They were married in Lepasse, Ont., on October 3rd, 1887 by the Late Rev. Father Lemoine, there being no established church in Fort Coulonge at the time.

After marriage they lived and farmed in "Boisfranc" district. Mr. Laroche following the career of handy man and logmaker in lumber camps in season.

Some 25 years ago Mr. Laroche left his original abode and moved with his wife and family to Fort Coulonge village, building a home on Lepasse Road, where he still lives with his wife and some of his family. At present Mrs. Felix Laroche and her seven children live with the old couple.

According to last survey, there are 10 children living (of a family of 15); 68 grandchildren and 128 great grand children. On Saturday in honor of the occasion in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, where they both have been devout members.

A reception is to be held at their home for friends and relatives on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5.

77 To 2 Vote For Waterworks

Driving voters to the polls is nothing new here or anywhere else but on such an important matter as increased water works and payment for the overhead tank already built it surprised some newcomers to town to see councilmen using their Wednesday afternoon off to call up and transport resident rate payers to the voting office.

Those who showed surprise, though, reckoned without the great trust which is placed by Shawville voters on their council and mayor. "If the council passed it I guess it's alright with me" was the remark of one of those who didn't bother to go out and put his name down in favor of the new By-law.

Out of a total of 285 resident ratepayers only 79 were finally brought to the polls yesterday where Mayor Lee Hodgins was presiding officer and Mac Hayes was clerk. It is interesting to note that of the 79 voters only two representing $4200 worth of property voted against the By-law while the 77 in favour represented $229,400 worth of property.

The vote in this instance was not by ballot but merely by word to the clerk. As a result of the affirmative vote the council can now proceed with plans for increasing the scope of water supply in Shawville to include houses in the newly developing sections. Household in the areas thus effected were unable to vote as their tenure of property was not long enough under law.

The plans cannot be put into effect until the approval by the Municipal Board which should in this case be automatic.

Hanaberry's In Accident

Philip Hanaberry, 45, of Maryland was dead and his brother Arthur, 41 was in very serious condition at the Pontiac Community Hospital following an accident shortly after midnight Tuesday night.

Hanaberry, who was a miner temporarily unemployed, had been staying at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew Hannaberry of Maryland.

A younger brother who was home sick from Ottawa had been visited by the doctor Tuesday night and shortly after the doctor left the farm Philip and Arthur drove out onto the highway and headed towards Shawville.

In front of Dave Fraser's farm, the Hanaberry car, a Mercury 1956 sedan, apparently went out of control and rolled into the ditch, through a fence and

Kinmond Reports Red Chinese Are Honest, Hospitable, But Hungry

Monday night's speaker at the Shawville Rotary Club meeting was Bill Kinmond, correspondent and parliamentary reporter for the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Recently returned from a 71 day, 7,500 mile tour of Red China, Bill's subject was a commentary on the changes Communism has made in the lives of the Chinese.

The trip through China was made by boat, train and plane. The boat trip was a two and a half day journey down the Yangtze to Hankow. Bill was the only foreigner on the small river boat, which had another 999 passengers on board, half of whom lived on deck. The others were crowded into below decks accommodation. Bill shared a cabin with a Chinese who spoke no other language, while he spoke only enough Chinese to ask for some of the necessities of life. On this trip he had to take his own food on board with him, and ate in solitary splendor in his cabin.

Plane trips were in aircraft without safety belts, and sometimes with loose freight piled in the fuselage along with the passengers. Added to these interesting features was the fact that Chinese pilots insist on flying through weather rather than around or over it thus adding greatly to the discomfort and hazards of the flight.

The speaker travelled partly by train, and found, through experience that night trips were definitely to be avoided. He made one such trip and found himself in an unupholstered compartment with five Chinese, all of whom snored so loudly it was impossible for him to sleep.

China, noted the speaker, is a land of contrasts, where enormous public buildings stand side by side with the pitiful shacks in which most Chinese live. The Chinese will admit that much public money has been wasted on such buildings. An example is the "Geological Palace" in Manchuria, which has 250,000 glazed tiles on the roof, but no provision inside for the students who study there, to sit down. Another example, is an auditorium built to seat 10,000 people in a city of 2 million population, used almost exclusively for political meetings, a total of about 40 times per year.

China has a population of 650 million, with an annual increase in population of about 16 million. The average number of children per family is 5.3 (In Canada the average number of children per family is 1.5, Ed.) One of the major problems is therefore that of food. The speaker estimated that 30% of the people don't get enough to eat; 60% get just enough to eat, and the remaining 10%, who are Party members and their families, get plenty to eat. The Communist Party has about 12 million members in China.

The Chinese Congress has 1600 seats of which 1260 are held by the Communists. Election to this Congress is achieved in the following way. Elections of a local municipal type are held—in some places by public ballot and in others by secret ballot. Municipal officials in each municipality so elected then get together, and from amongst their number elect one to represent them in what would correspond roughly to our County Council. County Councillors in turn elect one of their number to the Provincial Congress, which in turn elect representatives to the National Congress. The National Congress then elects a chairman (Mao Tse Tsung) who is also commander in chief of the armed forces.

One of the most surprising things about present day Red China is the complete honesty of its people. They even resist all efforts to tip them! This honesty derives, Bill believes, from the system of spying which the Communists have instituted. In each group of 100 people, three or four are appointed by the Communists to spy on the other 96 or 97, and report continuously to a higher authority on their findings. Thus each person in China has to be able to account at all times for his every action. Failure in this respect is an open invitation to liquidation by a shot in the back of the neck. So far, it is estimated that some 2 million have been liquidated in this way.

One of the most striking achievements of the Communists in China is the sense of national pride they have infused in the Chinese people.

At no time in China was the speaker interfered with in any way. His dispatches to the Globe & Mail were not inspected or tampered with, nor was he watched or secretly listened to at any time. The Chinese are, he said, a most lovable people, courteous and hospitable always.

One of the sadder aspects of the Communist regime is that to some extent the family tradition, which used to be an integral part of the Chinese system, has been destroyed. This has been brought about by causing the children to spy on their elder and report their findings at school. The result is Bill believes, that while the Chinese are privately not enamoured of Communism, publicly they are all for it.

Following the completion of the trip through China, Bill spent a week on Formosa and Quemoy. While on Formosa he spent half an hour with Chiang Kai Chek and an hour and a half with the chief of the Nationalist Army.

The speaker was introduced by Harland Rowat and thanked by Ed Pettapiece.

Other business of the evening included the induction of a new member—Fred Lawrence, who is a Lay Reader of the Anglican Church. Induction was performed by Bill Brown.

LEGION HALL RISING AT CAMPBELL'S BAY

Andre Audet, President of the Pontiac Branch of the Canadian Legion, is thankful to all those who have contributed towards the new building. As can be seen, above, the building has come a long way since last week and the landscape is definitely changing on this beautiful spot on the Ottawa River. To take full advantage of the unusual view, two picture windows will overlook the river. The building when complete will measure 70 by 40 feet. The basement is 8 ft. high and ceilings throughout the main floor are 12 ft. On the main floor will be an office 15 by 11, a cloak room, a card room 15 by 11, a hall including stage for an orchestra, two bathrooms, a bar and a kitchen. As all the possessions of the Pontiac Branch were lost by fire last spring, the Legion here is building this new hall with the help of donations from many interested parties. Donations are still welcome and may be sent by cheque or money order to Pontiac Branch Canadian Legion 162, Richard Bowie, Treasurer, Campbell's Bay, Quebec. GUEST EDITORIAL FROM COULONGE

It was not only unfortunate but a very serious situation that presented itself at the Sunday morning Sicard-Beaulieu Fire.

Just who was responsible for the slow delivery of action and service, with the New Fire Fighting Truck and apparatus now on hand to meet these Fire calls?

You cannot put the responsibility on any one or two individuals or organizations under present circumstances. There is no organization or working system in vogue.

There is no doubt there is ample supply of material in our town (from a recent survey) of able young men to fill the situation. Many volunteers who would readily respond and be ready to step into line when called.

Let us get together once more and elect a leader and chief and get our fire brigade operating so we will be in a position to meet such occasions as presented itself so recently.

Every individual owes it to himself, his family and community to act in some manner to remedy the situation.

Old Macdonald Had A Farm
Where Now They Gauge The Dew

They even gauge the dew fall at the Petawawa Forest Experiment Station in their determination to know whatever there is to know about our forests. The amount of knowledge is so vast and the means of attaining it so many that it can't be dealt with in one article so we'll start with the grand opening this week and try to include some of the work being carried on there from week to week as space permits.

Where once grazed former Macdonalds' cows on the southern side of Corry Lake, North Renfrew County, the new Minister of Northern Affairs and Natural Resources last week officially opened a Forest Experiment Laboratory as modern as tomorrow.

One of the finest forestry research laboratories of its kind in the world, it will provide complete facilities for scientific research carried out at the station by the Forestry Branch.

The $619,000 project, which was completed in June, consists of three buildings—the laboratory, the administration building and the staff house. All three buildings were designed by the architectural staff of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to fit together in an integrated centre that would serve the needs of laboratory research, administration and accommodation.

The project was built by the federal Department of Public Works with M. G. Sullivan and Sons, of Arnprior contractors.

Guests representing federal and provincial government departments, forestry professional and trade organization, the Petawawa Army Camp and press and radio were shown through the new buildings and visited research areas at the Wednesday opening, guided by senior research officers of the Forestry Branch.

On hand to greet these visitors were Dr. L.C.M. Place, Officer in Charge, J.D.B. Harrison, Director Forestry Branch, and the Minister, Hon. Alvin Hamilton.

Mr. Harrison said that as a student in 1922 he had come to this station which was then merely one building with one trail leading to it. To work in the forests in that time a compass and hatchet were necessary as no further roads were on the premises.

Mr. Hamilton's speech has been published in the daily papers and was rebroadcast over CHOV so only the highlights will be set forth here.

"The gates of this station," said the Minister, "are always open to visitors". He said this station is the largest of the five experimental stations operated in Canada's forest regions by the Forestry Branch. It is also the oldest experimental station, now in its 40th year of operation.

The objective of the research program is to point the way towards improvement of the management of Canada's forests and the utilization of the forest products. The basic problem of the Canadian forest industry, explained the Minister, is the continuance of the present rate of utilization by improved management and protection. To anticipate future problems and to plan research now so that the answers will be ready a few decades hence when probability becomes reality is the pressing task of the Forestry Branch.

Closely linked with forest research are forest products, said Mr. Hamilton, and forest economics research—both functions of the Forestry Branch and both being prosecuted with equal vigour and effectiveness.

Dr. Place outlined the history and scope of research station listing five important sections: Tree Genetics, Silviculture and Forest Fire Prevention. Each of these sections will be expanded upon as described by Dr. Place and his officers in future articles.

Three Former Residents Of Coulonge Pass On

Fort Coulonge—Over the past weekend, we have record of three deaths of former residents of this town. Mrs. Patrick Murphy, the former Louis LeBlanc; Mrs. Arthur Spinks, the former Margaret Millar and Mr. Ernest Bertrand.

Mrs. Murphy died in Windsor, in her 59th year. She had been ailing for some time. She was the daughter of Napoleon Le Blanc and Armaline Fleury, born in LePassee. She came to Fort Coulonge with her parents and received her schooling here, then went to Windsor and married and settled in Windsor. Mr. Emerel LeBlanc and Mrs. Fred Aubrey of Fort Coulonge are brother and sister of the deceased. Interment was in Windsor.

Mrs. Arthur Spinks was the wife of the late Arthur Spinks, who was in the grocery and butcher

The Editor, The Equity.

Dear Sir:—
Congratulations on your editorial in last week's issue of The Equity entitled "Can The Party Games."

You expressed so ably the sentiments of many of the staunch supporters of Farm Forum and we appreciate having these views brought before your readers in such a capable manner.

Your interest in, and the publicity you give to the problems of rural population deserve our co-operation and support. Thank you.

Yours sincerely,

Grains of Sand

Some of Kinmond's discoveries about China which don't appear in the write-up of his Rotary talk were the most interesting. See a Rotarian for further details.

An unusual program of music on the Thomas electronic organ will be played by one of Pontiac's finest musicians, Bill Kenney, on the evening of October 13. This will be Sunday evening service at Bristol's Memorial Presbyterian Church. Purpose is to try out a new organ but it affords a terrific opportunity for anyone in the area to hear the best there is and no admission charge.

At the height of fashion Grandmother had to be wasp waisted and Mother to be flat chested but today's woman is lucky — have you seen the latest — the EGG shape. You can be any shape at all and the eggier the better. Even big flat feet are in style this year according to Rome, Paris and London.

They say the fire equipment was all set to go but the key to the fire hall was in somebody's pocket and that somebody was out hunting! Don't laugh — it happened at Coulonge but it could happen anywhere.

Norman Horner shot one little bear this week but says there are two more lurking too close to his flock of sheep for comfort.

His friends and patients will welcome the news that Dr. Thompson, who has been ill since early July, is back on the job — filling and pulling teeth etc. — in Bristol.

Some child in Otter Lake lost a wallet at the Shawville Fair — its here at the Printshop.

We wouldn't put money on it but if the new government actually succeeds in ousting our Hughie from his Ottawa office at least it will be a step up in the world. Hugh will move from the fourth floor to room 518 on the fifth.

Shower For Marion Yach

Mrs. E. C. Mackay, Mrs. Ellis Palmer and Mrs. Don McCord were joint hostesses at a delightfully arranged china shower at Mrs. Mackay's home on September 10, in honour of Miss Marion Yach, one of September brides.

Master Robert McCord presented the gifts to the bride-elect, who thanked her friends for their kind intent. The evening was spent in garnering "advice to brides" from games and contests.

The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. E. Palmer, Mrs. D. McCord, Mrs. O. J. Cuthbertson, Mrs. A. Elliott and by the Misses Sally Mackay and Ellen McCord.

business here for years before moving out to Northern, Ontario.

Mrs. Spinks was 84 years of age and died at her recent home in Sheenboro, Que., after some months illness. She leaves to mourn her loss, one daughter (Laula), Mrs. Grant.

Funeral services were held in St. Andrews Presbyterian Church on Sunday, September 29th here, with Dr. Younger-Lewis in charge of service. Interment was in the United cemetery, Pembroke, Ont.

The late Ernest Bertrand, age 64 years died in Cottage Hospital, Pembroke, after a lingering ill-

FERD. SICARD'S LOSE GARAGE AND SHED IN FIRE

Mrs. Sicard looks dejectedly upon the ruins of her garage and storage shed. Note tires burned off rims—charred hydro poles.

Serious Loss In Fire
Of Mysterious Origin

Fort Coulonge—A centre town fire of not certain origin started in Ferd. Sicard's Taxi Garage on Barme St. at an early hour Sunday morning, spreading to adjacent buildings and getting a good start before being brought under control.

The fire totally destroyed Mr. Sicard's Taxi Garage and a 56 Custom Royal Dodge, which was in the building. Next in line was a storehouse belonging to Mr. Sicard containing taxi car essentials and spare parts, paints and oils and supply of anti-freeze; also stored in building was household effects all of which are a total loss.

The flames from the storehouse spread to the rear end of Beaulieu and LeCuyer establishment, which was next to the flaming fire and caused a considerable lot of damage both by fire in rear end workshop and water damage to stock of hardware and electrical appliances department.

The back part of Beaulieu LeCuyer Hardware store was a work shop and assembling plant for farm machinery and over-head a reserve stock of mattress and springs and miscellaneous household furniture, all connected to the main part of business establishment.

The contents of stock room was

Mrs. Arthur Spinks
Dies At Sheenboro

Mrs. Arthur Spinks died recently at her home in Sheenboro Quebec following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Spinks was born at Sheenboro December 23, 1874. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Millar. She was educated at Sheenboro and Pembroke Ontario. In 1907 she was married to Arthur Spinks.

Surviving her are one daughter Mrs. Lula Grant wife of the late Dr. G. James Grant of Kars, Ontario.

The funeral was held from the Ringrose Funeral Home in Campbell's Bay on Sunday afternoon to St. Andrews Presbyterian Church at Fort Coulonge where the service was conducted by the Rev. C. Younger-Lewis of Carleton Place Ont. Interment took place at Pembroke Ontario.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Lloyd Neville, Felix Spence, James Duke, Sandford Smith, Walter Stitt and Bennie Duke.

ness. He was born in Fort Coulonge, the son of the late Demas Bertrand and Delia Charlebois. He received his early education in local schools and worked as a riverman and lumberman.

His wife, Rose Bastien whom he married in Fort Coulonge, predeceased him 7 years ago. Leaving to mourn his loss are three daughters, (Doris) Mrs. Alf Meredith and (Cecile) Mrs. Paul Lecour of Pembroke and (Connie) Mrs. L. Latour, of Elliott Lake; two brothers, Joseph and Arthur of Fort Coulonge and one sister, Mrs. (Harriet) Telesphore Bourbonnais, Gatineau Mills, Mass. for the deceased was held in Pembroke and interment was in Fort Coulonge Parish cemetery.

a complete loss and the damage by water to stock in main store is very great.
Estimated loss on all is $20,000 to $25,000 with partial insurance. The fire was in the centre of the business section of town and had there been a wind results would have been disastrous.

The alarm was given by Mr. Ray Davis, a neighbour, who noticed flames from Sicard Garage, from his window. There was some delay in getting the new fire truck and equipment into operation, owing to shortage of experienced help, but once the unit was at work, the fire was soon brought under control.

Need $5,000 To Complete Children's Home

"It is not the will of your father which is in heaven that on of these little ones should perish" Matt. 18:14. So Brookdale Farm was founded in 1953. It is administered by a Board of Directors consisting of ten representative citizens of the Ottawa Valley including Achol Dale and H. I. Hobbs of Shawville.

Brookdale is a Protestant Children's Home located in the scenic Gatineau Hills near Wakefield. For the past four years no large-scale financial appeal has been made to the public but now the great need for additional space makes it necessary to launch a Building Fund Campaign.

The home has expanded and is expanding to such a degree that it has been necessary to build beyond the original large farm house which housed the project.

The excavation of the front wings and main section of the new building commenced on August 3. Forms were constructed for the footings and cement poured during the week of August 5. The laying of the cement blocks was completed on September 5 and the roof completed shortly thereafter.

In order to complete the building for winter occupancy, wiring, heating and plumbing remains to be done and this will mean an additional amount of about $5,000 will be required. (Donations to Treasurer, Howard Harris, RR1 Gatineau)

A homelike atmosphere is provided at Brookdale Farm by those in charge with a great deal of care to avoid an institutional routine in the management. Problems joys and sorrows are discussed with Uncle Lloyd and Aunt Jessie (Mr. and Mrs. Waterson) who jointly manage the Farm.

Another sympathetic, companionable and jolly pair are the teacher and the cook Miss Shirley Orok and Miss Marjorie Moffat.

The children all eat together and have their own companions.

Other children are allowed to come to the Farm to play with them and they are permitted to go outside the grounds to play in return visits. Five of the children are taught privately at the home and the others attend Wakefield School.

Practical training is emphasized at Brookdale Farm where the child is taught to respect property and to cooperate with others as an interested partner in the affairs of the farm and home. Chores consist of caring for animals and fowl and weeding in the garden where individual plots are provided for each little farmer.

Domestic duties include washing dishes and general house cleaning with prizes being given periodically for neatness and tidiness in rooms. These occupational help to build character traits that will greatly help the children to become responsible citizens in the community.

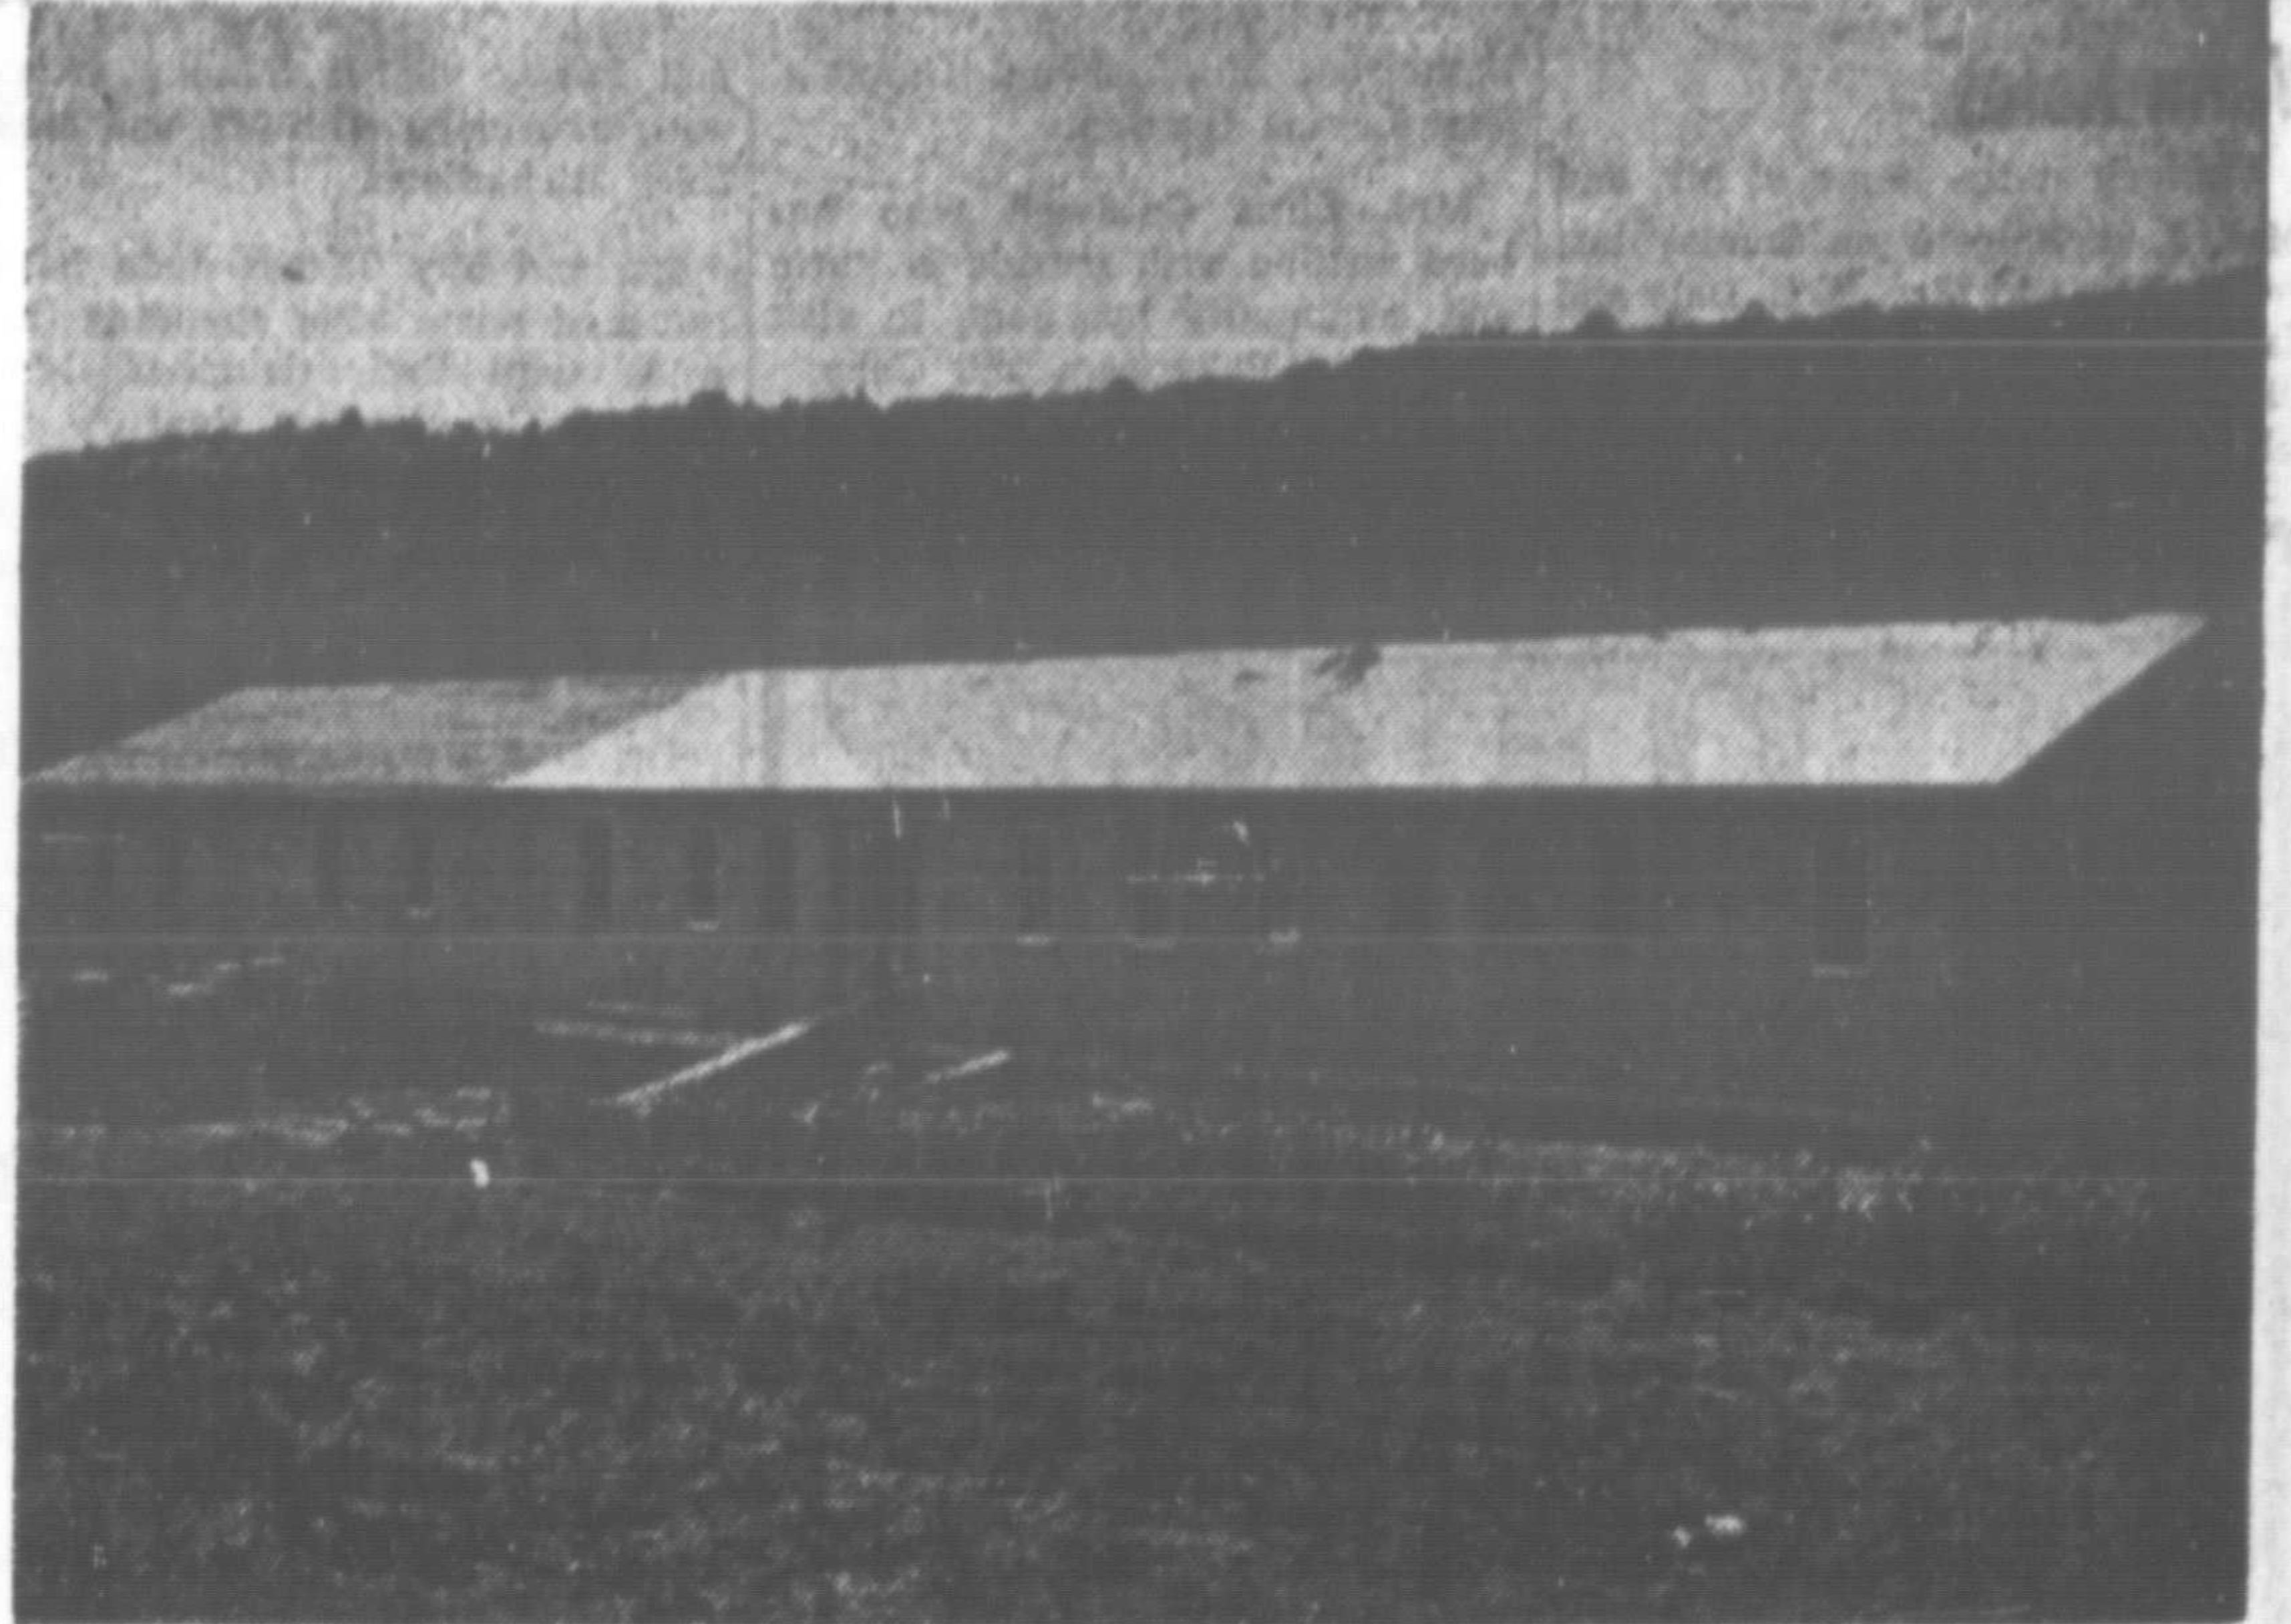

Fun and recreation at Brookdale Farm is always in evidence throughout the year. Summertime brings swimming, fishing, hiking, baseball and other popular pastimes. The teeter-totter, slide, swings and various toys provide amusement for both girls and boys.

There are the ten wonderful days of vacation every August at the Phillips Lake Camp and in the winter the hills and pond give everyone an opportunity to enjoy such thrills as sliding, skiing, skating and tobogganing.

Spiritual needs are recognized in the Christian education program and conduct of the home. Children are taught thankfulness taking turns saying Grace at meals and learn the Bible from Mr. and Mrs. Waterson who were both Christian missionaries before they took on the task at Brookdale Farm.

Singing is encouraged by allowing them to choose their own songs. Each day there is a story hour at bedtime. Sunday school is held at the Farm every Sunday as well as a Missionary Story in the afternoon and Evening Worship conducted by the Christian Businessmen's Committee of Ottawa.

The Farm has been incorporated under the laws of Quebec. It is situated on 38 acres of ideal surroundings offering a haven to underprivileged and neglected children and brings them into a Christian atmosphere. A number of children from Pontiac County

This rear view of the new building at Brookdale Farm shows the uncompleted rear wing and the central portion being erected. $5,000 is still needed to complete the job. This is the only Protestant home for children in Western Quebec.

FEED CONVERSION — is the secret, unless, of course, you're in on the secret and are already feeding SHUR-GAIN.

"Feed conversion" is simply the number of pounds of feed required to produce one dozen eggs.

What conversion are you getting? six? seven? or even eight?? If it's near these figures, it's too high!

At the SHUR-GAIN Demonstration Farm, it's been repeatedly proven that a feed conversion of under 4 pounds with light breeds, and under 5 1/2 pounds with heavy breeds; can be attained and maintained with the SHUR-GAIN program — employing SHUR-GAIN 20% Super Laying Mash, fed 50-50 with scratch grains.

Pontiac Dairy's Nic Nac Takes New Mark At Connaught Park

Driver Eddie Davis is the hero of the week among Pontiac horsemen. He wasn't in the sulky at Connaught race track last week when the horse he sold to Pontiac Dairy beat all comers to a new record of 2:15.4 in the fourth race, but he has been driving this remarkable pacer through great races at both Renfrew and Arnprior fall fairs.

At Renfrew the Dairy's horse, Nic Nac placed second and fourth in stiff competition with Eddie Davis doing the honors. At Arnprior only James Baskin's Mr. Blue could lead Nic Nac who came second and third with a startling time of 2:12.3 for the mile. This was on the second day of racing at Arnprior. On the first day Nic Nac was seen running fourth and fifth.

The Connaught win last Friday night with driver Bill Pyke was just one of three real Pontiac thrills. Mrs. Richie Dale's Pontiac Don was driven by Jimmie Richardson to show third in the Opening Trot and Alan Young's Senator Will, also driven by Jimmie Richardson came third in the first Quinella pace.

Pontiac Don placed second at Connaught last night, again driven by Jimmie Richardson.

Two Prominent Families United In Autumn Wedding At Ladysmith

St. John's Lutheran Church in Ladysmith, Que., was banked with autumn blooms on Saturday, Sept. 28th, for the wedding of Marion Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Yach, of that place, to James Leon (Bud), son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCord of Charlester.

The marriage vows were heard by the Rev. E. Buehler, Pastor of the church, and Mr. Fred Schroeder, of Arnprior, uncle of the bride, played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of Alencon lace over satin, having a fitted bodice with long lilypoint sleeves and high neckline. The hooped skirt was floor length with front panel of lace and the back of wide ruffles in nylon net. Her veil of tulle illusion was lace bordered and fell from a chaplet headdress of pearl embroidered lace, and she wore pearl necklace and earrings, the gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and white mums.

The bride's attendants were Miss Della Schrankler, as maid of honour, who wore a gown of blue net and lace with ruffled skirt and blue cummerbund, Miss Ellen McCord, sister of the bridegroom, in a ballerina length gown of apricot net over crystalette, and by the Misses Caroline and Marilyn Schroeder, cousins of the bride, in similar gowns of lime green and autumn gold. The tiny flower girl, Miss Audrey Krose, wore a blue floor length gown. The bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets and wore matching feather headdresses and the flower girl carried a basket of autumn flowers.

Mr. Merlin Woods, of Shawville, was best man, and assist ing groomsmen were Mr. Elmer Krose and Mr. John Doxey of Ottawa. Mr. Wm. McCord, brother of the groom, and Mr. Denzil Yach acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, supper was served in St. Paul's Anglican Parish Hall in Shawville, and an evening reception was held in Coronation Hall in Bristol.

For travelling the bride wore a sheath dress of blue and grey flowered crepe, with matching duster, and patent leather accessories. Mr. and Mrs. McCord will live in Shawville.

Hints For Home Freezers

Before fruit is frozen many authorities recommend that an anti-darkening agent should be used. This prevents the fruit from turning brown and from losing its fresh flavour.

Citric acid or lemon juice can be employed for this purpose but these agents require large quantities, tending to mask the natural flavour or make the fruit too sour. A new product which avoids these two difficulties is a combination of ascorbic acid, long used by commercial freezers as an anti-darkening agent, with sucrose, a natural form of sugar.

The two ingredients are free flowing and mix readily with syrups to make a solution for fruit freezing. The product is equally effective in preventing discolouration when it is sprinkled dry on fruit slices before they are placed in the freezer.

Another advantage offered by this mixture is that when sprinkled over fruit salads and deserts they remain fresh and appetizing for hours. This enables you to prepare such dishes long before mealtime.

A 5-ounce jar, which costs

Winter Logging Helps New Tree Growth

Nearly every day now trucks loaded with horses may be seen on the highways of the upper Ottawa valley. Fat and sleek after a summer pasture, the horses are heading for logging camps deep in the pine forests above Pembroke. Already the sound of hammers can be heard in the bush as camps and stables are made secure against the cold to come.

Most timber operators now strive for an early start in their cutting operations. Not very long ago logging operations could only be carried on after the haul roads were frozen hard and packed with snow, and the lake ice was thick enough to support teams and sleds. Modern machinery can build all weather roads quickly and cheaply so that the operations can begin before the snow flies. Many operators can complete a heavy cut before the end of the year, if the weather is favourable.

The skidding of logs and the bulldozing of road networks on bare soil in the limits has the effect of ploughing and cultivating the seed beds from which will grow the next stands of trees in the cutover area. Logging operations that take place on the surface of the snow leave the forest floor beneath practically undisturbed and seeds that settle on the undisturbed leaf litter have small chance of producing trees. Seeds that fall on the bare mineral soil turned up by the horses, machines and logs that are moved about before the snow falls have a much greater chance of growing to healthy trees.

This can be seen in many recent cut-over areas. Where activity has been greatest, at skidways and loading points and along skidding trails, thick stands of young seedlings are growing, produced from the seed of mature trees left standing to reseed the area. In the undisturbed areas, regeneration is severely limited.

Thus the mere fact that logging operations start early in the year contributes to the improvement of our forest stands.

Shabby Kitchen Chairs Rejuvenated With Plastic-Coated Fabric

Like a cat, a kitchen chair can have more than on life. Bright plastic-coated fabric and a few hours' work will make the shabbiest old relic look spritely as a kitten.

As long as the frame remains sound, a chair with padded seat and back can be rejuvenated time after time by simply changing the covering. Any housewife who can drive a tack or twirl a screw-driver can do the job.

Ideal for the re-covering is a vinyl-coated fabric called "Fibrilite", available in most stores which carry plastics by the yard. It is hard-wearing, wipes clean easily, and comes in a wide range of colors and textures, to suit any kitchen color scheme.

The first step is to take out the screws that hold the seat and

The floors of 1957 interiors will more often than not carry the decorative standard with fabrics, which formerly were in command, playing "follow the leader". Rugs are stealing the spotlight from drapery and upholstery fabrics as to both pattern and weave. Fiber diversity is one of the ways the rug stylists are achieving interest, high and low piles being combined to work out geometric patterns. Colour, too, is important and many of the better rugs are in such high style shades as pumpkin, melon, the various blues, gold and red, from a clear almost scarlet hue to the softer Renaissance shades. However, the most interesting emphasis is on pattern—stripes, diamonds, ripple effects, contemporary design inspired by the Scandinavian countries and still others that bear the stamp of the Orient. Such rugs are not only handsome from a decorative standpoint but homemakers are finding they are practical. A polished floor is always easy to keep as it requires only periodic waxing for that well cared for look. An area rug may be taken up and cleaned at a minimum of expense and trouble and may be changed around to avoid wear in heavy traffic areas. The area rug also seems to have a natural affinity for contemporary interiors. With all of these points in mind stylists are creating rugs with a regally luxurious look to make them important decorative factors in the room.

WHAT PRICE ONE EGG?

Ever divide your production costs by the number of eggs produced? It's the price you pay to get one egg. Cut those costs with balanced feeding. Follow the XL (EXCEL) feeding programme — for economical egg production. Better feed means higher egg production — lower costs per dozen eggs. And the lower the costs, the greater your profits!

Cut Your Costs with XL (EXCEL)

Make your layers pay. Your birds need the added essential nutrients in XL (EXCEL) feeds — the proteins, minerals, vitamins. Cut your costs this way:—

Have us mix — 3 bags your grain — 1 Bag XL (EXCEL) 32% Egg Producer Concentrate.

or 4 bags your grain — 1 Bag XL (EXCEL) 35% Laying Concentrate.

Then — watch egg production go up and costs go down! If you haven't your own grain — feed XL (EXCEL) Laying Mash.

My Window on The World

BY THE REV. E. REX TAYLOR

There is an arresting verse in the letter Paul wrote to the church in Philippi; Let your gentleness be known to all men. Apparently like justice it must not only be done but it must be seen to be done! Let your gentleness be known to all men. The only time other people know us is when we have an axe to grind about something or other or when we want to get something off our chests! But our gentleness is the thing by which men are to know us! Let all the world know that we will meet a man half-way.

The Greeks were very wise people. The word translated gentleness-epieikeia was used to convey the idea of justice and in those cases when if justice had been used it would have been an injustice. It is possible, you know, for justice to become unjust because of its generality-so the Greeks aid. A law can be perfectly just but there may be individual instances where it becomes unjust. In modern terms justice is not the same as equity.

As Barclay points out if two students sit an examination and one gets 50% and the other 80% that is not necessarily a fair indication of the true situation. One student might have been in excellent health with no worries and had ideal conditions in which to work. The other might have been anxious about finance in poor health and working with the radio on all the time because of a large family in a small house. The marking was just, of course; the 50% and the 80% represent the values of the answers. But gentleness, moderation epieikeia would esteem the lower marked paper more highly than its examination mark.

Church courts may sit down to handle a certain matter with their rule books and procedure manuals open before them but the wise elder and minister knows that there are times when the welfare of a person or a church demands that those books remain shut.

The christian is the man who knows that for him there is something beyond justice. In his relations with his fellow men there is a time to insist on justice a time not so to insist. There is something beyond justice. As far as justice goes there is not one of us who deserves anything but condemnation from God. But God goes beyond justice in the cross of our Lord Jesus.

Why should this joy, this moderation, this gentleness be left out of our lives? If we remember the ultimate triumph of God, we can never lose our hope or joy. Time is short and when the end comes we won't want to insist on justice which nearly always divides men but on love which unites them as we hope that God will so deal with us. Justice is human epieikeia is divine. How about reading the whole of the fourth chapter of Philippians?

Mr. Andrew Grant of Elmside with characteristic thoughtfulness and generosity has presented us with specimens of squash and citron which would have been sure prize winners had they been at our fair. Many thanks.
A very pretty and stylish wedding took place at the Methodist Church on Wednesday afternoon when Mr. Joseph Kilgour, second son of the late George Kilgour, Esq., and Miss Gertrude, fifth daughter of Robert McJanet Esq., were united heart and hand by Rev. Walter S. Lennox.

Amusements at the fair—Midway amusements were not so numerous as on other occasions. The merry-go-round and Mr. James Reilly's celebrated swings provided amusement for the kiddies. Mr. Reilly also had on the grounds some other devices of his own invention which he demonstrated to a large and interested audience. Bailey Bros pipe band supplied music both days. Night entertainments were staged in Shawville Theatre by the Arlie Marks Co. under the auspices of the Society. Friday night the company staged Tilly the Toiler and Saturday night Fixing it for Father. A square dance followed the show both evenings and at Wilson's new hall a round dance was held. These were also held under the auspices of the Society and favored with a large attendance of young people.

On Wednesday morning of last week the stables, storehouses and sheds of Lawn Bro. merchants of Campbell's Bay as well as an adjoining store house and woodshed belonging to Mr. Geo. Laforest were completely destroyed by fire.
The R. G. Hodgins Lumber Company have completed a large cottage at Green Lake for Mr. and Mrs. Goldwyn McDowell; Messrs Gerald and Clarence Horner were in charge of building operations. Messrs. Norris Brough, Ernest Eades, Donald McRae and Wallace Hodgins left this week to resume their studies at Lenoxxville University, Que.
I wish to announce that I have taken over the draying business of Norman Smith, and will be pleased to attend to the cartage of Shawville business places and other requiring such service.

The steamer Pembroke has completed the season's towing on the Coulonge lake and is now in her winter quarters at Bryson.
Fire on Sunday destroyed the dwelling house of Joseph Lepine about four miles from Bryson on Calumet Island. All the contents except a sewing machine were burnt, leaving the family in a very destitute condition.
We would feel obliged if those parties to whom subscription accounts were sent some time ago would favour us with the "needed" at once. Further delays in this behalf may be found expensive.

A young man named Loken of Campbell's Bay employed at the Cawood Mica Mines was accidentally shot by a companion named Irwin while the two were out hunting one day last week. As we heard the story Irwin was walking ahead of Loken armed with a .44 cal. rifle. He threw the rifle over his shoulder and in some manner the weapon discharged. The bullet struck Loken a little below the shoulder and went right through his arm, inflicting a very severe, dangerous wound, which may render amputation of the limb necessary.

Exhibition notes—The impression that our fair is altogether too dry is well founded. There is certainly a dearth of entertainment for at least 60 per cent of the people who attend—people who come out for a day's recreation and fun, yet the society does nothing practically to amuse them.
The rather flimsy device for calling horses into the ring for the double purpose of killing time and keeping the crowd from straggling off should be side tracked for some sort of field sport.

Alexander Pitt and Archibald McKay of Mansfield bound one hundred and forty four stocks of oats last Saturday in the short space of five hours. This is a fact—who can beat it?
There are between 700,000 and 800,000 logs in the Schneaux boom at present.
Some sneak-thief entered Mrs. will get more than they are looking for one of these nights.

Duplessis Says Liberals Harp On Election Immorality Theme
Premier Duplessis said yesterday he will be happy to attend the Dominion-Provincial Conference on fiscal problems called for November 25-26 in Ottawa.
He said at his weekly press conference he plans to write Prime Minister Diefenbaker soon advising him of his acceptance of the date suggested.
He was very touched, he said, by Mr. Diefenbaker's courtesy in Bryson's stable at Coulonge a few nights since and carried off a bag of oats. He was tracked to a certain gate in the village. Our village is infested with some notoriously thieving scoundrels some of whom sending the invitation in French. He had always been happy to meet the heads of other governments in Canada to study and help settle problems arising from Dominion - provincial taxation powers.

The Ottawa conference will be held during the third week of the Quebec Legislature's session—which opens November 13 — but no conflict is expected because the talks are scheduled only for Monday and part of Tuesday.
The Quebec Legislature normally does not meet on Mondays and only in the afternoons Tuesday.
Mr. Duplessis, commenting on the recent Quebec byelection in which his Union Nationale Party retained three seats and regained one from the Liberals, said the voters had "answered proudly in the face of the insults from detractors of the province."
The Liberals, he said, disparaged their province and Quebec voters in harping on the theme of election immorality.
He also announced that loans under the Housing Act now total $226,640,000. The Provincial Government's total share of this was $66,125,182. Loans under the Farm Loan Act totalled $149,368,375.

A lady writing to a friend at Quyon, with reference to the harvest home to be held there on Friday makes serious objections to a dancing platform which is to form part of the days amusement, and says that she hopes that those who participate in this pastime may be treated to a wet day, and that they may break their legs and arms. Further, she adds, that rather than see the church completed with the devil's money she would prefer seeing it burnt down.
