SOVIET FORCES ADVANCE ALONG KALININ FRONT

Claim Thousands Of Germans Dead In Flaming Town

Northern Section of Kalinin, Ninety-Five Miles Northwest of Moscow, Recaptured, Soviet Forces Claim—Red Army Hopes to Drive Attackers Completely from Vital City for Northern Encirclement Move.

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Kuibyshev, Soviet Russia, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Red army dispatches reported today the recapture of the Northern section of Kalinin, ninety-five miles Northwest of Moscow, and said thousands of Germans were buried under ruins of flaming houses as the two-week-old siege entered a phase of intensified ferocity.

The Red army has increased its pressure to drive the Germans completely from the suburbs of the Upper Volga river city, focal point of the Nazi thrust to encircle Moscow from the North.

The dispatches said the Germans were straining every nerve to break into Tula, one hundred miles South of Moscow, where another encirclement arm is probing Eastward.

But they were meeting with a fierce blanket of Red artillery fire and tank-led counter-attacks besides the stubborn resistance of civilians of the munitions town who had thrown up a deep zone of barricades. A supplement to the Soviet Information Bureau's communiqué said forty German tanks were destroyed and at least five hundred Fascist officers and men killed in Russian operations the night of November 1-2. The communiqué said Russian troops were fighting bravely everywhere, but the latest advances indicated no important change had taken place on other sectors of the Moscow front.

Both sides continued to mass men and material for the decisive battle there, in the directions of Maloyaroslavets, sixty-five miles Southwest of Moscow, Mozhaisk, fifty-seven miles West, and Volokolamsk, sixty-five miles Northwest. The Russians were reported fortifying, stabilizing positions while raining artillery shells and aerial bombs on the gathering Nazi concentrations.

A Tass broadcast in Moscow quoted Pravda's correspondent as saying the Germans were draining the forces in their rear to reinforce their front lines.

He told of one group of six hundred Red army men who, caught behind the German lines, marched 125 miles Eastward from Dorogobuzh to Mozhaisk without once encountering German troops.

"We marched as if we were in (unoccupied) Soviet territory," the leader was quoted as saying. "In every village, the peasants met us with accommodation for the night. Contrary to the wishes of the Fascist

SOVIET RUSSIA SUGGESTS GREAT BRITAIN DECLARE WAR ON HUNGARY

London, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Soviet Russia has "suggested" to Britain she might "with advantage" declare war on Hungary, Rumania and Finland, an authoritative source said today.

They added Britain had not yet reached a decision on the suggestion, but "naturally the United States is being kept informed on the subject."

THWART SABOTAGE ATTEMPT

Vichy, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Paris press said today that railway guards had thwarted a new attempt to blow up tracks in the German-occupied zone and that three of the guards had received financial rewards from Lt. Gen. Ernst von Schauberg, German military commander of Paris.

PHILIPPINES INVOLVEMENT IN WAR SEEN

Nacionalista Party in Elections Urges Return of President Manuel Quezon on Defence Proposals.

Manila, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Nacionalista Party campaigners urged the re-election of Commonwealth President Manuel Quezon today, emphasizing that the Philippines might soon be involved in war.

Vice-President Sergio Osmeña said the Nacionalista Party had drafted the National Defence Act, and is carrying out its provisions, and that therefore the party's candidates at the November 11 election would be the people's best choice if an emergency should

REST REPLACES NOURISHMENT FOR FRENCHMEN

Survey Shows French People Stay in Bed Longer to Compensate for Lack of Proper Food.

Vichy, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Hungry Frenchmen are lying longer in bed to make up energy they are missing in their food, a newspaper canvass of medical opinion disclosed.

The newspaper, in Lyon, said data collected from doctors in four leading cities of the Unoccupied zone of France showed that most Frenchmen are forced to sleep two hours longer at night to compensate for conditions of partial famine. The extra sleep compensates them for about ten per cent of their normal ration, the report said.

Only the overfed rich are benefiting from the lack of protein, fats, sugar and vitamins in food, the paper said, while the poor and weak, especially children, are hard hit.

Many in France have taken to "violent chewing" in an effort to get more out of their food.

Numerous new cases of alcoholism are appearing despite liquor restrictions, it was said.

Chief victims of undernourishment were the manual laborers, children and tuberculosis sufferers.

On the credit side, the paper found, what a decrease in the number of ailments brought on by overeating.

Sherbrooke Flier Included In Squadron Causing Heavy Damage To German Coastal Ship Convoy

London, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Hudson bombers of the Coastal Command attacked a fish oil factory on the Norwegian Coast and hit a tanker and a supply ship last night in low-level attacks on Axis shipping off the coast of Norway and The Netherlands, the Air Ministry announced today.

NAZIS CLAIM AIR RAIDERS DESTROYED TEN MERCHANDISE SHIPS

Berlin, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The Nazi Government claimed today that German air raiders destroyed ten merchant ships totalling approximately 38,000 tons, being held in readiness to evacuate Russian troops from the Crimea.

The attacks were carried out despite bad weather which forced a full in the air offensive against Germany after a week-end of intense activity during which the R.A.F. blasted at Kiel, Northern France and coastal shipping. Canadian airmen were particularly active in hammering enemy ships.

Besides the bombardment of the fish oil factory, a recurring target for the R.A.F. now to prevent the oil from reaching Germany, the communiqué said a wireless station was bombed, a small supply ship machine-gunned and a warehouse attacked.

The German air force, relatively inactive overnight, sent over only a few lone wolf raiders.

British authorities declared the R.A.F. had sunk or seriously damaged at least twenty German ships during the past three days.

They acknowledged the loss of four planes Saturday night. The R.A.F. shot down six German bombers over Britain the same night.

Reuters news agency quoted the German agency, D.N.B., as saying British Spitfires attacked military objectives on Alderney, one of the German-occupied Channel Islands, last night and that one of them was shot down and the pilot taken prisoner.

In the ferocious assault on enemy shipping during the week-end the newly-constituted Royal Canadian Air Coastal Squadron accounted for nine ships sunk or seriously damaged.

Two were listed definitely sunk, one possibly sunk and at least six disabled.

Canadians who took part in the attack, which followed a similarly successful one a week ago, included Sgt. D. A. Ross, of Sherbrooke, Que., and P.O. W. H. Brown, of Amherst, N.S.

Britain listed the loss of fifty-two fighters, eighty-nine bombers and one other plane shot down over Europe and one plane shot down over Britain. In the same time the Germans lost twenty-three planes over Britain and seventy-four fighters and three bombers over Europe.

In the Middle East, Britain lost forty-one planes during the month to eighteen for the Axis.

Sir Archibald Wavell Confers With Singapore Defence Heads

Singapore, Nov. 3.—(AP)—General Sir Archibald P. Wavell, British commander-in-chief in India who arrived yesterday by airplane from Rangoon, conferred today with Alfred Duff Cooper, Far East co-ordinator for the British Government, prior to the latter's departure for Australia.

Sir Archibald also conferred with Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, British commander-in-chief in the Far East, who returned a week ago today from a series of important conferences with British, Netherlands and other leaders.

A military spokesman said Sir Archibald was visiting Singapore because India is the principal supplier of manpower and one of the most important sources of war materials for the formidable Imperial force guarding Malaya.

Following his conferences here, it is expected that Sir Archibald will tour Malayan defences, especially those manned by Indian troops.

SIX PARACHUTISTS FOUND IN MOUNTAIN

Georgetown, Calif., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Six men who parachuted from a storm-tossed army bomber over the Sierra Nevada Sunday were found early today by rescue parties.

Two others of the crew of nine who leaped from the huge four-motored B-17 ship were rescued last night. Only the pilot, Second Lieut. L. M. H. Walker, was still missing.

Pte. Robert V. Mosely, of Columbus, Neb., was reported seriously injured.

At least three other fighting planes crashed in California Sunday, killing two fliers and injuring another.

MUSSOLINI SERVES NEW WARNING OF DEMANDS FOR FRENCH SOIL

Rome, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Mussolini asserted today that Italy "does not forget" her scores against France.

He spoke at the dedication of a monumental mausoleum on Janiculum Hill to the memory of the Italians who died fighting under Giuseppe Garibaldi for the unification of Italy.

THIRTEEN DIE IN ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

Fire, Traffic Accidents and Drownings Led List of Deaths in Ontario Over Week-End.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Thirteen fatalities were reported in Ontario during the week-end, four being the result of traffic accidents and two from drowning mishaps. In addition, five persons died in a fire near Ottawa, one boy was accidentally shot through the heart by a friend, and an air force man died as a result of a crash last Thursday.

Mrs. George Shields, 38, was burned to death Saturday in her blazing home at Britannia Heights near Ottawa after she had handed her 18-month-old son through a window to safety. Her body was found near the front door of the home by searchers after the fire had been extinguished. Beside her body was found those of two of her children. The bodies of two others were found in another part of the house.

Donald Clithero, 12, of Grafton, was shot through the heart Saturday when a friend pointed a .22-calibre rifle at him and told him to "Stick 'em up." The rifle discharged and killed Clithero almost instantly. His friend told police he "didn't know it was loaded."

Injured last Thursday in a plane crash that took the life of LAC.

General Discussion Of International Outlook To Mark House Session

Little Business of Importance Expected to Come Before Adjourned Session of House of Commons Opening Today—Will Mark Conclusion of Longest Parliamentary Session in Canadian Constitutional History.

JAPAN EXPECTED TO REFRAIN FROM HASTY ACTION IN ARGUMENT

Tokyo, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Signs multiplied today that Japan would refrain from any hasty action as a result of Germany's charge that she had been attacked by the United States.

The opinion prevailed nevertheless that Japan would be more likely to accept the German rather than the American version of incidents involving warships of those two powers in the Atlantic.

TRIO MET DEATH IN ALBERTA ACCIDENT

Lethbridge, Alta., Nov. 3.—(AP)—Three members of a Southern Alberta family were killed last Saturday night when their automobile crashed through an irrigating bridge near here.

The three were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horn and their son, Emil, 27. Their car plunged through a bridge into a 32-foot canal.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The longest session of the Canadian Parliament in history enters its last lap today. As members reassemble in the historic Green Chamber of the House of Commons for a general discussion of the war policy and the war situation they expect to remain only a short time and thus bring to a close a session which opened on November 7, 1940.

Assuming the present sitting runs all this week until Friday it will be at least one year from the time the Governor General declared the session open until the time he declares it closed.

Thereafter members are expected to reassemble in another session some time after the new year to transact the regular business for 1942.

The sittings opening today arouse interest because of possible Government declarations on the intensification of the war effort and because of deliberations on the future of the National Conservative Party which are to take place at the same time.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King's speech today is expected to set the tone of the session in that it will disclose the Government's view of the war effort as it stands and, possibly, what is contemplated for the future.

The National Conservative Conference towards the end of the week has been called for the purpose of deciding whether a national convention for the election of a permanent party leader should be held and, if so, when and where.

On the eve of that party gathering the acting House Leader, Hon. R. B. Hanson, has made known that he wishes to be relieved of his duties, because of his health.

The present session opened November 7, 1940, immediately after the previous session prorogued. It continued until December 6. It then adjourned until February 17 when, in sittings running on until June 14, the 1941 budget and other legislation were enacted.

Adjustment was then taken until today under the policy adhered to since the start of the war of keeping a session of Parliament in being all the time so that, in case of emergency, members can be called to Ottawa and get down to business without the customary formalities of a sessional opening.

Indications in advance of the opening were that a fair attendance of members could be expected for this afternoon, despite the fact that members will draw no pay for this sitting.

Even Greater Co-Operation Of Industry To Follow Talk

Believed that Regulations Governing Priorities, Allocations of Raw Materials and Accumulation of Strategic Reserves Were Coupled with Question of Supplies for Russia at Hyde Park Conference.

By J. F. SANDERSON.

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Hyde Park, N.Y., Nov. 3.—(AP)—The wartime industries of Canada and the United States will be brought into closer harmony as a result of two days of informal conversations and discussions here between Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt.

The discussions touched "anything and everything"—a wide range of topics covering wartime problems in general—but there was no agreement or joint declaration announced after the Prime Minister boarded his train for Ottawa last night.

It was understood, however, that a series of executive actions, both in Canada and the United States, might result from the conferences, designed to co-ordinate even closer the war time production of the two countries.

It was believed likely that such regulations as those governing priorities, allocations of raw materials and the accumulation of strategic reserves might be brought closer into harmony in the two countries.

The Prime Minister's visit here was a personal one and the two North American leaders spent hours together in the 1,200-acre estate along the Hudson.

Although there was no formal statement or official hint on the topics under review, it was believed they ranged from Canada's financial position in respect of American dollar reserves to aid to Russia and from wartime production in the two nations to the Far Eastern situation and the possibilities of Japan moving North or South in East Asia.

It was believed, also, that aid to Russia loomed large in the discussions, particularly the facts and impressions gathered recently by United States officials who have visited Moscow.

Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of the Treasury, also spent the week-end at the Roosevelt estate. His presence strengthened reports that Canada's financial position was under review. While Canada's export change position is believed infinitely better than six months ago, it was reported to be still causing uneasiness in Ottawa.

Yesterday Mr. King, the President and Crown Princess Juliana of The Netherlands, who came from Ottawa on the Prime Minister's train, attended services in the village church. They heard the pastor, Rev. Lyman A. Talman, pray that the day may soon arrive "when peace shall reign again among men and brother shall not rise up against brother."

INVASION RUSE FOR DESERTION TO DE GAULLE

Group of French Troops in Somaliland Spread Report in Move to Leave Control of Vichy Officers.

London, Nov. 3.—(AP)—A recent Vichy Government announcement that British and Free French troops had invaded French Somaliland was explained here today as the result of a ruse by which a small group of French troops succeeded in deserting to join the Free French forces.

An authoritative source said a native sergeant and his troops in a French outpost found themselves thwarted in their desire to escape by a corporal who did not want to leave. The sergeant gave him a note to

Price-Fixing Legislation No Ban On Bargain Sales, Officials Say

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Assured of still being able to take advantage of bargain sales, Canadian consumers today studied provisions of an Order-in-Council establishing the Government's price-ceiling programme.

Under the new order issued early today it will be an offence on or after November 17 to offer or sell or knowingly offer to buy any goods or services at prices higher than the lawful maximum. But the ceiling provision does not prevent the sale or supply of services lower than the maximum.

In a statement by Finance Minister Dingley, the maximum was described as the highest price at which a person or firm sold or supplied goods or services "of the same kind and quality" during the period September 15 to October 11, 1941, both days inclusive.

Informed circles expressed belief that the element of competition would remain in business in face of the ceiling arrangement. In many instances it was noted that prices were higher during the basic period than they had been for some time, leaving the opportunity to merchants to offer attractive prices.

"And there is nothing in the legislation forbidding bargain sales," one official said.

Expanding powers of the Wartime

Prices and Trade Board, the order provides that any amount paid above the maximum may be recovered by the buyer. Penalties for violation of the order permit seizure of goods by the Crown and fines up to a maximum of $5,000 and two years imprisonment or both.

WASHINGTON DEBATES ACTION

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—After almost three months of preparation in committee a price control bill for commodities and defence area rents took a preferred place on the United States House of Representatives calendar today and found the outlook stormy.

Administration sources especially took exception to the Banking Committee's decision in favor of permitting farm prices to go considerably higher before the imposition of any ceilings. It was reported that White House backing could be sought for a campaign to overturn the committee action when the legislation is considered.

Indications were that the measure would not reach the debate stage until next week. Chairman Henry Steagall (Dem.-Alabama) of the

HOPE EBBS FOR REUBEN JAMES CREW

Washington, Nov. 3.—(AP)—Hope ebbed slowly for the unreported crew members of the U.S.S. Reuben James, some seventy or more men—potentially the greatest number lost by a regular United States navy ship through belligerent action since the Battleship Maine was blown up in 1898.

Throughout the long week-end the word from the naval communications nerve centre here was: "No news. No News."

Pending receipt of a report listing the forty-four crew members known to have been saved when the destroyer was sunk Thursday night, the navy stood on its refusal to make public the names of the enlisted men on board or the total crew strength.

However, inasmuch as the ship's normal complement would be 120, unofficial estimates placed the number of men unaccounted for at seventy-six. If all have been lost, it would be the heaviest casualty list on a regular combat ship through belligerent action since 260 died

WAR BULLETINS

Deal, England — A furious, twenty-minute fight between German bombers and a number of British vessels in the Dover Strait this morning ended, shore watchers said, when R. A. F. planes roared onto the scene and chased the Germans off. None of the ships appeared hit.

London — A Ministry of Economic Warfare source said today that Britain had given permission for a United States Red Cross ship to sail to unoccupied France late this month.

London — Informed British sources said today that a steady stream of munitions and supplies is moving to Russia, much of it shipped from Britain by way of the Northern port of Archangel.

Information here indicates that Russia expects to keep the Archangel harbor cleared of ice throughout the winter so the flow of materials to replace those lost on her fighting front may continue.

WOMEN SEEKING REAL PLACE IN ARMY SERVICE

Common Aim of Would-Be Recruits for C. W. A. C. Is Service Under Discipline
Like Men-folk.

Written for The Canadian Press
By MARIENNE IZSAK
Toronto, Nov. 3.—The time and place—a day in the recruiting office of the Canadian Women's Army Corps. The girls, plenty of them, some young and petite, others
just "around 30"; some stoutish, some slim; girls in uniform, girls in slacks and girls in dresses.

But there's an objective common to all—enlistment in the "army";
war service with uniforms, regiment-
ation, discipline.

There may be a dozen at a time in the dingy little waiting room.
They await an interview with the recruiting officers. The half-expectant, half-doubtful look on their faces is not necessarily a feminine characteristic. One can see it in any recruiting office, for either men or women.

The pleasant young girl who might be called a receptionist smiles at each one and shows her where to go when her turn comes. As the applicant enters the inner sanctum she invariably turns around and looks at those remaining with a "well-here-I-go" expression. No sooner is a seat vacated than an hopeful-looking applicant comes up the stairs to take her place.

Make no mistake about it, they want more than anything else in the world to be in the army, doing their share like their men-folk.

Take, for instance, the two eager young women who motored two hundred miles from another city to join the C.W.A.C. Florence is the daughter of a speed car race and is no longer with a car herself. She knows all about the "innards" of a car—any car—having taken a motor mechanics course with honors. She already trains mechanics for the Red Cross.

Her friend, Vera, is a nurse but wants to be a mechanic. "I've taken care of people long enough, now I want to take care of cars. They, at least, don't talk back," she says.
Vera was born in England but has lived for twenty-one years on this side of the Atlantic. "I've been trying to get overseas or to help in some way here ever since the war started," she says. "Now maybe I'll have a chance."

Over in one corner is blond young Dorothy from the Northern Ontario mining country. She wants to be a waitress in the army. She has never been in the big city before and had difficulty in learning to read.

"But I guess you have to be pretty resourceful to get into the army so I just walked and walked until I found a boarding house," she says.
Some of the girls gave up good jobs to enter the army. There's a driver from the Red Cross in another city, for instance, who was also chief dietitian at a big club. Her husband is in the army.

Several of the waiting girls didn't know where they would sleep for the night. They came from various provincial towns. Their bags and suitcases were in the waiting room.

Ask Sgt. T. W. Brand what he thinks of the girls and he'll say enthusiastically.
"They will make great material for the army, they're all so keen about it." The sergeant is on loan to the C.W.A.C. for the purpose of instructing in administration and orderly room technique. "But the girls are so good already they don't really need me any more," he says—
a bit gallantly perhaps.

before the war, especially among the doctors said, was a waste in dyspep-sweets—and obesity, from too large a quantity of fats. Less meat has also lessened cases of protein poisoning and apoplexy brought on by high blood pressure.

MEMORIAL FOR AIRMAN HELD AT INVERNESS

Large Congregation Attends
Service in Ascension Anglican Church for Sgt. Pilot
Donald Bennett.

Inverness, Nov. 3.—The high estimate in which the late Sgt. Pilot Donald Ward Bennett, R.C.A.F., was held here was demonstrated on Sunday, October 26, at a memorial service held in Ascension Anglican Church.

Representatives of the R.C.A.F., and friends from all the districts in Megantic County gathered to pay tribute to the memory of the gallant airman, who made the supreme sacrifice.

As the mourners assembled in the church Mrs. A. P. Weary played appropriate music until the officiating clergy had taken their places in the chancel. Rev. John Prout, Rector, said that the services at Inverness were the prayers, Rev. Mr. Seely, of Thetford Mines, read the Psalm for the occasion, and Rev. Charles Adey read the lesson. The address was given by the Rector.

"Unto The Hills," "Lead Kindly Light," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Abide With Me" were the hymns sung. At the end of the service the "Dead March in Saul" was played by the organ.

The family mourners were Dr. S. J.
Bennett, father, and Jeffrey H.
Bennett, mother. Mr. J. H. Bennett, brother and sister-in-law. The beautiful flowers on the altar were placed there by his father and brother.
In front was the Royal Air Force flag.

General Notes
The weekly meeting of the Y.P.U. of the United Church was held at the Parsonage. The President, William Mooney, conducted the opening exercises and the business. The meeting was in charge of Miss Ruth Doherty, Literary Convener, and Marie McArthur, Business Manager.

At the same time German forces pushing into the Donets Basin were
said to have captured Kursk, 125
miles North of Kharkov, a provincial capital and a rail and industrial centre.

A special communiqué asserted
the Russian retreat in the Crimea as taking on the aspects of a rout, and declared that the Germans had captured 53,175 prisoners, 230 tanks,
218 cannon, several armored trains
and much other war material.

More than 13,000 land mines, laid
by the Russians in an attempt to impede the German push, have been removed, the high command declared.

It said the Russians had massed transports at Sevastopol, big naval base on the Southwest coast of the Crimea, and at Kerch, on the East coast in an attempt to save their forces, but asserted that German
diver bombers were keeping down
ports under continuous bombardment.

"Attacking transports held in readiness, the air force destroyed
ten merchant ships totalling approximately 38,000 tons by bomb hits and severely damaged an additional fourteen," the communiqué asserted.

Earlier dispatches reported that a warship and another transport had
been damaged at Sevastopol.

The high command indicated the German armies were pushing steadily
ahead from Simferopol, Crimean
capital forty miles North of Sevastopol, but did not say how far the Nazi advance guard was from the latter port.

Great fires were said to be raging
along the Sevastopol docks under the pounding of the Nazi air raiders.

Capture of Simferopol, a city of 98,000, was claimed yesterday in a special communiqué which said the Germans and their Rumanian allies
were sweeping the Soviet forces
back across the Crimean peninsula
on a broad front.

Simferopol is only forty miles
from Sevastopol and approximately seventy-five miles South of the narrow Perekop Isthmus, where the Germans announced last Wednesday
they had forced an entrance to the Crimea after ten days of savage
fighting.

D.N.B. claimed the drive already had netted 27,700 Russian prisoners
and that vast quantities of military equipment had fallen into Nazi
hands.

News dispatches said an entire German infantry division had smashed through a strongly-fortified Soviet position on the central sector
around Moscow and had captured
several towns and villages, but the high command makes no reference
to this in its communiqué yesterday.

On the Leningrad front, the Germans claimed they had smashed
back several new Russian attempts
to force a crossing of the Neva
river South of the beleaguered city.

when the Maine went down in Havana harbor.

When last night passed without
additional reports on the casualties
of the Maine, hopes began
to decline. It was recalled that the U.S.S. Kearny, badly damaged by a torpedo attack on October 17, was able to supplement her initial report
of the action by radiating a list of
casualties forty-eight hours later,
whereas more than seventy-two hours had passed without further
word from the Reuben James.

Since the Reuben James was traveling in a convoy, there were chances that survivors might have been picked up by merchantmen
who, preserving radio silence, would
not report until they made harbor.

SOVIET ARMIES IN CRIMEA SPLIT UP

Berlin, Nov. 3.—(AP)—The German high command today claimed the Russian army in the Crimea has been split into two groups by the Nazi drive and is attempting to flee
by sea through the ports of Sevastopol and Kerch under the heavy pounding of the German air force.

pushing into the Donets Basin were
said to have captured Kursk, 125
miles North of Kharkov, a provincial
capital and a rail and industrial centre.

A special communiqué asserted
the Russian retreat in the Crimea as
taking on the aspects of a rout, and
declared that the Germans had captured 53,175 prisoners, 230 tanks,
218 cannon, several armored trains
and much other war material.

More than 13,000 land mines, laid
by the Russians in an attempt to impede the German push, have been removed, the high command declared.

It said the Russians had massed transports at Sevastopol, big naval
base on the Southwest coast of the Crimea, and at Kerch, on the East
coast in an attempt to save their
forces, but asserted that German
diver bombers were keeping down
ports under continuous bombardment.

"Attacking transports held in
readiness, the air force destroyed
ten merchant ships totalling approximately 38,000 tons by bomb hits and
severely damaged an additional fourteen," the communiqué asserted.

Earlier dispatches reported that a
warship and another transport had
been damaged at Sevastopol.

The high command indicated the German armies were pushing steadily
ahead from Simferopol, Crimean
capital forty miles North of Sevast-
opol, but did not say how far the Nazi advance guard was from the latter port.

Great fires were said to be raging
along the Sevastopol docks under the pounding of the Nazi air raiders.

Capture of Simferopol, a city of 98,000, was claimed yesterday in a special communiqué which said the Germans and their Rumanian allies
were sweeping the Soviet forces
back across the Crimean peninsula
on a broad front.

Simferopol is only forty miles
from Sevastopol and approximately
seventy-five miles South of the narrow Perekop Isthmus, where the Germans announced last Wednesday
they had forced an entrance to the Crimea after ten days of savage
fighting.

D.N.B. claimed the drive already
had netted 27,700 Russian prisoners
and that vast quantities of military equipment had fallen into Nazi
hands.

News dispatches said an entire German infantry division had smashed through a strongly-fortified Soviet position on the central sector
around Moscow and had captured
several towns and villages, but the
high command makes no reference
to this in its communiqué yesterday.

On the Leningrad front, the Germans claimed they had smashed
back several new Russian attempts
to force a crossing of the Neva
river South of the beleaguered city.

when the Maine went down in Havana harbor.

When last night passed without
additional reports on the casualties
of the Maine, hopes began
to decline. It was recalled that the U.S.S. Kearny, badly damaged by a torpedo attack on October 17, was
able to supplement her initial report
of the action by radiating a list of
casualties forty-eight hours later,
whereas more than seventy-two
hours had passed without further
word from the Reuben James.

Since the Reuben James was
traveling in a convoy, there were
chances that survivors might have
been picked up by merchantmen
who, preserving radio silence, would
not report until they made harbor.

Canadians Should Thank God For Britain, Minister States

Rev. John Pitts, D.D., of Montreal, Delivers Stirring Sermon to Congregations of Three Churches at Evening Service Concluding Trinity United Church's 96th Anniversary Observance.

Canadians are able to worship, untouched by German bombs, because of the gallant stand of the British people against the savage Nazi onslaughts a year ago, and residents of this country should thank God for Britain, Rev. John Pitts, D.D., stated last night in an inspiring sermon delivered at the evening service which concluded Trinity United Church's 96th anniversary observance.

Rev. Dr. Pitts spoke to the congregations of three local churches, the members of Plymouth United Church and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church uniting in the evening with the people of Trinity, as had been the custom for several years.

Speaking plainly, Dr. Pitts gave an impressive picture of the past and present of Britain, tracing the development of the British Empire and discussing the relationship of the countries making up the Empire, and then showing the men, women and children of the beleaguered British Isles standing firm against terrific odds, fighting to save civilization from a Godless nation who would destroy Christianity and Democracy and replace decency by bestiality.

Admitting that there were black patches in Britain's past, the speaker declared that Britain's record is snow white compared to that of the Hitler-led Germans, and said that people who are safe from German bombs for the present and far away from the scene of battle, should go to their knees and thank God for Britain.

During this evening service the Scripture lesson was read by Rev. F. A. C. Dosses, of Plymouth Church, and Rev. W. R. Northridge, of St. Andrew's Church, led in prayer. Mrs. Wright Gibson was heard in a beautiful soprano solo. Anthems sung by the choir were "In the Wilderness," with a bass solo by Sgt. Charles Greenfield, R.C.A.F.

A General Meeting of the Town of Lennoxville will be held in the Town Hall at 8 p.m., Monday night, November 3rd, for the purpose of appointing thirty residents to assume responsibility during blackout operations on November 10th.

H. W. S. DOWNS, Mayor.

ADDRESSED TELEPHONE WORKERS

A. P. ROSS, of Toronto, Assistant Vice-President of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, who was in Sherbrooke today to appeal for even greater subscriptions to war savings certificates by the company's employees.

Mr. Ross, who was introduced by Mr. Graham, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, addressed local telephone workers in his capacity as general director of the Bell Telephone War Savings Effort. Mr. Ross pointed out that some 11,000 employees in Quebec and Ontario are already investing $715,000 annually in war savings certificates under the payroll deduction plan. Coinciding with the current province-wide campaign, however, a new objective of $1,000,000 has been set, Mr. Ross said, and he urged Sherbrooke's telephone employees to make a further effort toward the successful prosecution of the war by increasing the amounts of their pledges.

Plans For Reception Of War Weapons Cavalcade Completed

Plans for the reception of Quebec's War Weapons Cavalcade sent out by the Provincial War Savings Committee were completed at a meeting held this morning at the office of A. C. Skinner, who with Georges Deslongchamps heads the local Committee. The Cavalcade will form at the intersection of Belvidere Street and Drummond Road at 8 o'clock tomorrow night, and will be joined by men of the Saskatchewan Horse Regiment, stationed at the Exhibition Grounds, the Sherbrooke Regiment, Les Fusiliers de Sherbrooke and trainees of the Sherbrooke Training Centre. The Sherbrooke Police, working in co-operation with the Cavalcade, will be stationed at various points along the route of march to keep the streets clear of traffic of any kind.

The parade is scheduled to proceed along Belvidere Street South, Wolfe Street, Wellington and Dufferin Streets and to Wellington Street where it will come to a halt in front of the Bank of Montreal. At this station an inspection will be made by Executives of the Committee and the scroll will be read and signed by Mayor Joseph LaBrecque as a further pledge of the determination of this Committee to attain its objective in the current drive.

Following this ceremony the Cavalcade will continue its route of march to the Wellington and King Street intersection where the salute will be taken and then proceed along Wellington Street to its starting point.

The Cavalcade will be made up of sixteen motorized units including a company of the Beeworth and Sons store, which occurred on Saturday afternoon, came as a great shock to his many friends in Coaticook and other parts of the Eastern Townships. He was fifty-five years of age.

Mr. Beeworth went to his store as usual on Saturday morning, leaving accompanied by Mrs. Beeworth at one o'clock for his home. On the way he complained of feeling ill and on arriving home grew suddenly worse. In spite of medical assistance he passed away in a short time from angina pectoris.

Mr. Beeworth was always a most devoted husband and father and will be sorely missed by his family and a host of friends.

He was born in Passumpsic, Vt., May 22nd, 1886, coming to Sherbrooke with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beeworth when a young boy. While employed as clerk at the Livingston Drug Company in Newport, Vt., in 1911, he met and married Miss Martha Eleanor (Nellie) Saunders, of Lennoxville, by whom he has two children, a son and a daughter. He later was in the employ of the Fraser Drug Store in Sherbrooke and the Brown Drug Store in Derby Line, leaving there to purchase the Robinson Drug Store in Coaticook, and the home on Cutting Street where they have resided for the past twelve years. During this time he has enjoyed the esteem and respect of a large circle of friends and with Mrs. Beeworth has taken an active part in the various town and United Church activities. He was a member of the United Bible Class.

Mr. Beeworth leaves two sons, Gordon H. Beeworth, of Kingston, Ont., Stanley S., of Coaticook and their wives; one daughter, Ruth Eleanor, at home, and one grandson, Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Beeworth; a brother, Earle S. Beeworth, of Montreal, and a sister, Miss Edna Beeworth, of Sherbrooke, Secretary-Treasurer of the Sherbrooke Record Company.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home, Rev. Roy P. Stafford officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Forest Cemetery.

MANY ATTENDED DANCE STAGED FOR SOLDIERS

Approximately five hundred boys and girls attended the dance in the William Street Armory on Saturday night given under the auspices of the War Auxiliary Services for a group of the men of the 16/22 Saskatchewan Horse Regiment and their friends.

The Armory was made available through the courtesy of Lieut.-Col. T. R. MacKenzie, Officer Commanding the Sherbrooke Regiment. Refreshments were served by W.C.A. workers under the direction of Miss Marjorie Haley, while a canteen was operated by members of the 53rd Regiment Chapter, I.O.E., with Mrs. Loughheed in charge. The efficient work of the Toc-H Club, headed by F. W. Jackson, also was largely responsible for the success of the evening.

Music was provided by Tom Coley's orchestra, Lieut.-Col. W. Van Allen, Officer Commanding the Saskatchewan Horse, was present for a short time, and expressed thanks to the organizers of the dance.

MORE FINE GOLD Gold receipts at the Royal Canadian Mint up to June 30th totalled 2,539,879 fine ounces compared with 2,445,614 in the same 1940 period.

TWO HOSPITALS IN SHERBROOKE GIVEN APPROVAL

St. Vincent de Paul Gets Approval and Sherbrooke Hospital Provisional Approval from American College of Surgeons.

Both St. Vincent de Paul and Sherbrooke Hospitals are included in the list of approved hospitals released in Boston today at the twenty-fourth annual Hospital Standardization Conference of the American College of Surgeons.

St. Vincent de Paul Hospital was in the approved list while Sherbrooke Hospital was "provisionally" approved, which, according to the standards set by the College, means that the institution has accepted the minimum requirements and is endeavoring to put them into effect.

The 1941 list of 2,873 approved hospitals in the United States, Canada and other countries represents more than three-fourths of the hospitals of twenty-five beds and over which are under survey by the College.

In making the advance announcement, Dr. Irvin Abel, of Louisville, Chairman of the Board of Regents of the College, and head of the Health and Medical Committee of the Federal Security Agency, said: "Hospitals are more appreciated today than ever before, doubtless because the nation in mobilizing its resources for defence has recognized the fundamental value of a high average of health. Physical deficiency to an alarming extent has been brought to light in the examinations for selective service, which have resulted in rejections for that cause of about forty per cent of the registrants.

Medical, dental, and hospital services have been readily available to all lives to most of these men, but many have failed to utilize them. Hospitals should be considered fortifications for health preservation, especially those which are properly staffed and equipped to meet the standards of health improvement and the therapeutic service should be used to discover and arrest disease in its earliest stages, before impairment of vital functioning has occurred."

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, Associate Director of the American College of Surgeons and in charge of hospital activities, added that more than 10,000,000 patients were admitted to hospitals in the United States and Canada during the past year, yet the rejections for selective service reveal that hundreds of people are still neglecting treatment of easily remediable defects. "The approved hospital in your community, with its excellent facilities and its efficient personnel," he declared, "stands ever ready to assist your physician in rendering to you every possible aid that scientifically applied medicine can afford. The hospital exists to amplify and extend the powers of the physician to combat disease and the effects of injury. The physician remains the general in charge of the attack, though we have set up an elaborate armamentarium and trained staff to help him. For the protection of the patient and the advancement of health of all the people, communities should help their hospitals to meet the basic standards for approval by the American College of Surgeons, which, briefly stated, are as follows:

1. Modern physical plant, assuring the patient safety, comfort, and efficient care.
2. Clearly defined organization, duties, responsibilities, and relations.
3. Carefully selected governing board with complete and supreme authority.
4. Competent, well trained superintendent responsible to the governing board.
5. Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and competently supervised.
6. Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians and surgeons.
7. Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.
8. Accurate, complete medical records, readily accessible for research and followup.
9. Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.
10. A humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration being the best care of the patient.

Appeal On Behalf Of Various Charitable Groups Launched

With this year's objective set at between $12,000 and $15,000, the fifth annual Federated Charities Campaign got under way last night at an inaugural banquet held at the Sacred Heart Hospice. The campaign was instituted several years ago to replace the annual bazaar held in the basement of St. Michael's Cathedral and is held for the benefit of a number of local charitable institutions such as the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, the St. Vincent de Paul Society, La Creche Ste. Elizabeth, L'Assistance Materielle, La Goutte de Lait, the Children's Welfare Association and the Catholic Women's League.

Mgr. Philippe Desranleau, Lord Bishop of Sherbrooke, addressing last evening's dinner, recalled that Sherbrooke had always exceeded its objective in past campaigns and expressed the hope that this appeal would not be an exception. He lauded the contribution of Sherbrooke citizens to war-stricken countries and the efforts being made by various organizations to provide Canadian soldiers overseas and refugees with comforts. "But it is also evident that the poor living in our midst should be looked after," he said.

Gedeon Nadeau, President of the Federated Charities Campaign, said he was convinced the solicitors would be well received by the citizens of Sherbrooke and that the drive would meet with success. He said that although wartime brought on greater prosperity, charitable organizations were not affected by this greater flow of wealth and their requirements for financial assistance were higher than in normal times, if anything.

Leo Foley, Past President of the Campaign, explained to what use the proceeds of the drive would be devoted. The Sacred Heart Hospice, he said, at present houses approximately 575 old people and orphaned children, with a personnel of about 75.

He said that the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital is frequently called upon to give free medical service and hospitalization and that the St. Vincent de Paul Society, which functions in each parish, is in immediate touch with the needy who are attended to promptly.

The Creche Ste. Elizabeth is an organization which cares for the children of mothers who are obliged to work out and is also the sewing centre for charitable ladies who give of their time and funds for mending, repairing and even making of children's and adults' clothing which is distributed free of charge. The sphere of activities of L'Assistance Materielle is confined to ministering to the needy mothers at child birth and thereafter furnishing clothing for the infants, medical care and the proper food to the mothers and even going so far as to assist other members of the families, acting in conjunction with its subsidiary, La Goutte de Lait, Mr. Foley said.

The Past President outlined the work of the Children's Welfare Association, which looks to the general health of children from a medical standpoint, which included free distribution of medical supplies and physical examinations and minor operations, and the Catholic Women's League which is the child care part of the St. Vincent de Paul Society among the English-speaking population.

In conclusion, the speaker expressed the hope that Sherbrooke would keep up its philanthropic reputation by contributing generously so that the less-favored people of the city would be well looked after.

A short address given by Mayor Joseph LaBrecque in which he wholeheartedly endorsed the drive and also held an optimistic outlook on the final tally of the campaign.

Under the patronage of Mgr. Philippe Desranleau, Campaign executives are: President, Gedeon Nadeau; Vice-Presidents, George Murphy, Frank Conway, Alphonse Gauthier and George Deslongchamps; Secretary, Jacques LeBlond; Treasurer, Armand Laberge and the Ladies' President, Mrs. J. H. Parent.

Each day throughout the week of the campaign a dinner meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Sacred Heart Home for the purpose of reviewing the progress of the campaign and a number of special speakers will deliver broadcasts to the people of Sherbrooke.

O God, Who art the author of peace and lover of concord, defend us Thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies.

A CLARION CALL

The declaration of James S. Duncan, former Deputy Minister for Air and President of the Massey-Harris Company, that the time has come for the Dominion Government to institute a policy of conscription of manpower for military service is a clear call to the Prime Minister and his associates to set aside politics for a short time in a real effort to improve Canadian participation in the war.

In his various capacities as Deputy Air Minister and as one of the leading industrialists of Canada, Mr. Duncan has had opportunities to gain a clear perspective of the manpower needs of the country, both in respect to the armed forces and industry. For a time, he admits, the Dominion was unprepared to equip and train a large defence force and the concentration of men in industry producing war supplies was of paramount importance. But now, he believes, much of the deficiency has been overcome and the time has come for the country to expand its forces at the fastest possible rate.

Dealing with the political side of the issue, Mr. Duncan is convinced that the country is prepared for such a step, which is but a logical development of the present system of compulsory service for home defence. If the country is faced with the issue fairly and squarely, it seems certain that the Government would find its stand overwhelmingly approved, as the vast majority of Canadians are fully aware of the problems which face the country.

Previous to the declaration of Mr. Duncan, many Canadians in other fields have voiced the plea for the Government to abandon its policy of laissez faire and have called for an all-out action.

Such an all-out drive must comprise all branches of national endeavor, the strict controls which are being applied to commerce and industry being extended to human resources. A total effort is needed. Half-measures will not do and to date this has been the limit of the national effort.

THE HOSPITAL IN THE COMMUNITY

The announcement of the American College of Surgeons that both local hospital institutions, the Sherbrooke Hospital and the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, have been placed on the approved list of the College is a tribute to the work of the officials in charge in bringing their organizations up to the standards required by the Surgeons' College.

Hospitals play an important part in the general welfare of the community and are virtually indispensable in the fight against suffering and disease. In this respect Sherbrooke is fortunate in having two modern, well-equipped institutions at the service of the residents of the city and the surrounding districts and their approval by the international organization is evident proof that they are both seeking to improve the standards which they have set for themselves.

THE WELL-TRAINED MIND

By Grenville Kleiser

As a host, wishing to exclude unwanted visitors from his home, does his best to fill his house with guests of his own choice, so the wise man will occupy his mind with helpful and constructive thoughts and leave no room for the ugly and the false.

If the evil, the foolish, the envious, the selfish thought has crept in—waste no time. Eradicate it at once, before it gains a hold. Such thoughts are like insidious and poisonous weeds. Allow them to remain a day—an hour—and they take firm root, strangling the flowers with which the mental garden has been planted.

Useless to tend the flowers while the weeds remain. Uproot them first, then tend and cherish the flowers. Prejudice, anger, hypocrisy, self-love, pessimism, pride, envy—all these are noxious and destructive weeds, in whose company no beauty can flourish.

Before all else, these must be exterminated; and in their place can be grown charity, broad-mindedness, forbearance; truth; honesty; faith in oneself and in others; hope; humility; generosity. So will the mind—the Self, the personality—be a garden of delight.

Have you ever watched an athlete in domestic surroundings? Have you observed how the smallest movement is controlled, direct, graceful, precise? Have you observed how he rises from a seat, how he mounts stairs, how he walks? His movements are beautiful, not from effort, but by instinct. His body has been so trained that its movements are unconsciously excellent, direct, exact, graceful.

It is precisely the same with the well-trained mind. With training, the careful exclusion of the false, the deliberate cultivation of the true and beautiful, the mind instinctively chooses the good and rejects the bad. Its immediate judgments are true and just and charitable; it has the habit of hope, of humility, of charity; and as the mental habit grows, so actions, which are all based either on instinct or on thought, become related to the mental habit. It takes no effort immediately to speak justly, truly and charitably if one's habit of thought is just, true and charitable. One's actions, like one's thoughts, become instinctive.

Like good habits of every kind that are not in-born but have been sedulously cultivated, the habit of good thought, once acquired, must be maintained. Most of us know how easy it is, when one has laboriously formed a good physical habit, to allow oneself to relax.

Take, as an example, the man who is a heavy smoker. He knows he is doing himself harm. By the exercise of will and self-discipline, he reduces his smoking by half—by two-thirds. He is, naturally and forgivably, pleased with himself. He has made a big effort, and he has succeeded.

He relaxes. He says to himself, "Well, I know now that I can stop when I like. I've earned a holiday." And within a month—even less, perhaps—he is smoking as heavily as before. So it is with the formation of mental habits. It is so hard to persevere, so fatally easy to relax.

PRESS COMMENTS

FIRE HAZARD IN WAR

Belmont, Telegraph

A necessary part of the outfit has been the bringing of all the fire-fighting services of the country under government control, and their organization into thirty-three districts, replacing the large number of local authorities which formerly were responsible for 1,400 fire brigades. The importance of this branch of national defence is fully realized, and a committee, of which the home secretary is head, has been set up for the whole of Britain to supervise the work. The duties of the fire-fighters are arduous and dangerous, and are beset by perils and difficulties infinitely greater than in time of peace. To combat flames amid showers of high-explosive bombs is a task worthy of heroes, and when, in addition, water supplies are interrupted by the destruction of mains in the vicinity, and recourse has to be made to distant sources, the obstacles in the way of firemen may well seem insurmountable. Yet such barriers have been overcome by the courage and resourcefulness of our fire-subduing defenders.

CASE OF FINLAND

Brantford Expositor

The fortunes of war are often melancholy. The case of Finland illustrates the point. Many of us contributed to Finland relief back in 1939-40. Now the Finns, if they do not fight against us, at least fight for our army. Gertrude Lawrence, the British stage star, has just declined a decoration proffered by the Finnish Government for the work she did in helping the Finnish people. She has refused the honor saying: "My creed has always been that expressed by my Prime Minister Winston Churchill, when he said, 'Any man or state that fights against Nazism will have our aid. Any man or state that marches with Hitler is our foe.' So say we all."

ALBERTA HAS SURPLUS, BUT DEFALTS

The Ottawa Journal

The Alberta Government announced that for the fiscal year to the end of last March it had an overall surplus on income and capital accounts of $2,270,845. In the previous fiscal year Alberta had a surplus of $336,551.

This comes just a few days after another announcement from the same quarter—that Alberta had defaulted on another bond issue for redemption. This was an issue of $3,853,000 sold by the province in 1921 to provide money for the construction of telephone lines, and brings to $21,458,430 the total of defaulted Alberta bonds. There has not been outright repudiation. Alberta will continue to pay one-half the contracted interest on the obligations but refuse to abide by the terms of solemn agreements with purchasers of her securities.

What the Lethbridge Herald calls "Alberta's financial muddle" has come about because the Alberta Social Credit government, lacking both character and ability, took what seemed the easy way out of difficulties which other provinces surmounted by the hard way of economy. The Alberta regime has been one of higher taxes and lavish expenditures—while the pledge of the province to pay a fixed interest rate on money it had borrowed to return the principal in a certain period has been ignored. This course naturally destroyed the market for Alberta securities except at bargain prices, and made refunding operations almost impossible. That much may be admitted.

But Alberta now has a large surplus because Alberta failed to keep her word, and Alberta cannot take much credit to herself for that situation.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

McKENNEY OUTLINES DEFENCES AGAINST VAN VLECK SYSTEM

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this series of articles the writer is not advocating the "V.V." system. In keeping with his policy to present anything new to his readers, the various details of this system are presented for their information, so that if and when they play against the system, they may have an adequate defense against it.

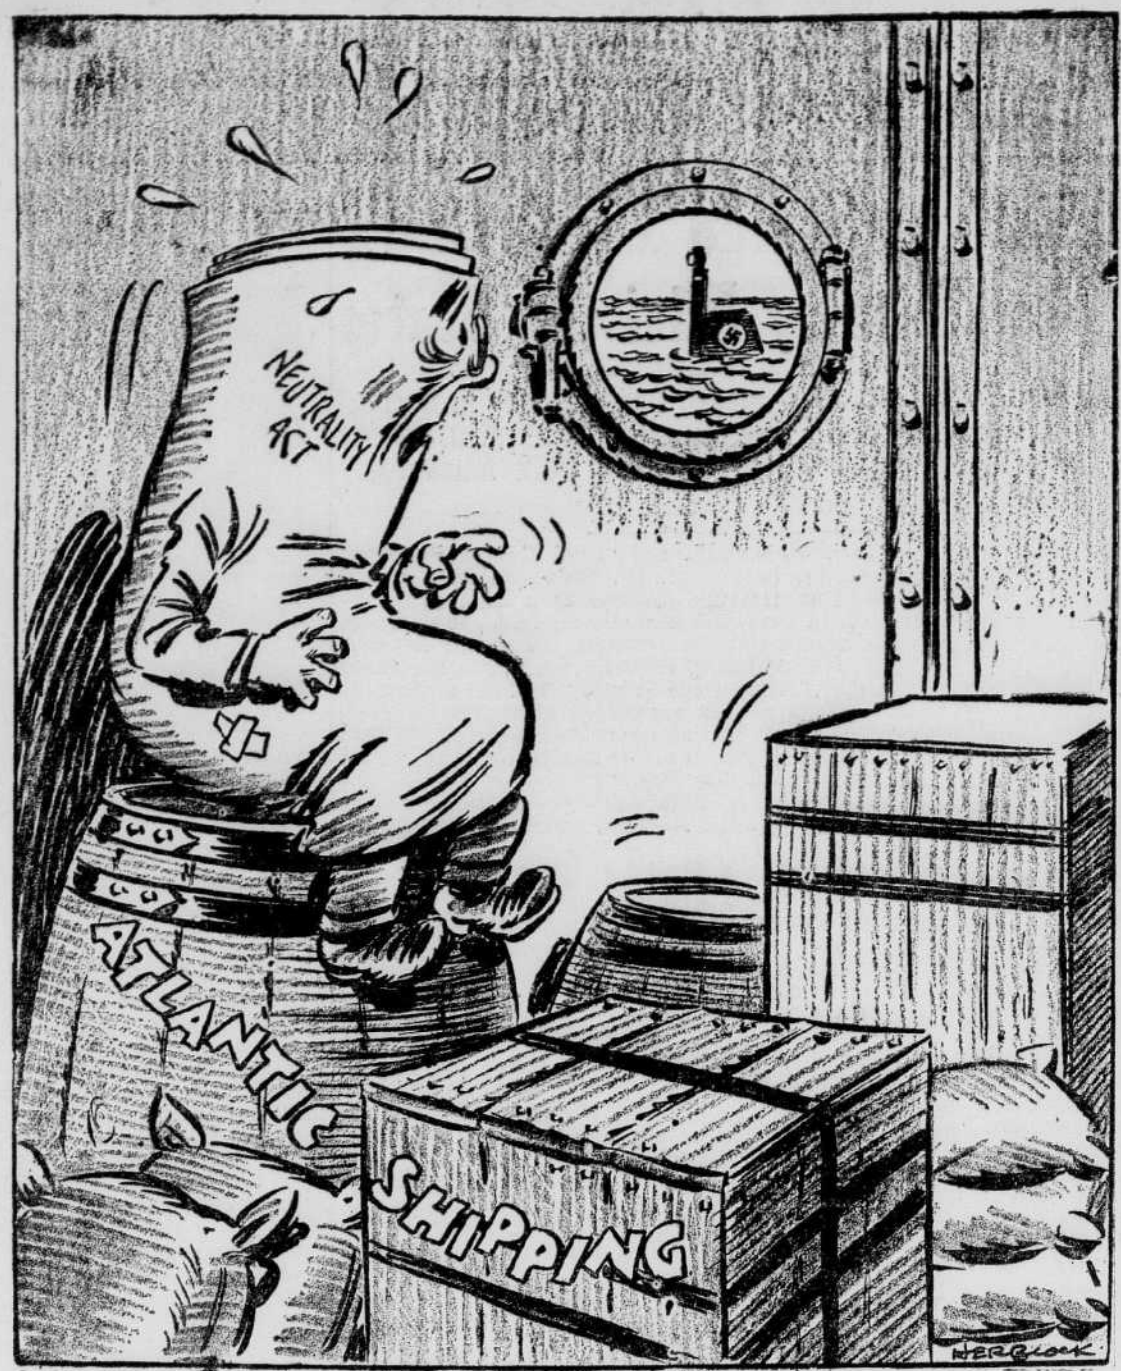

This is the first of a series of articles on the "V.V." system. Systems such as this, which use artificial bids, have caused a great deal of comment. Recently the American Contract Bridge League appointed a special committee to review the artificial conventions of these systems and to decide whether or not they would be permitted in tournament play.

The Van Vleck system has been taken up by Waldemar von Zedtwitz, one of the world's outstanding players; by Mrs. A. M. Bobel, one of the two women Life Masters of the country, and by Myron Fuchs, who has won 222 Master Points and needs only 38 more to make him a Life Master.

The basic theory of the system is that big hands usually take care of themselves. Its principal object is to interfere with the opponents' reaching their correct contract and to prevent the opponents from shutting you out of the bidding. One of its chief tactics is making shut-out bids.

The bidding requirements are based on the eight high cards, the four aces and four kings.

An original bid of one spade, heart or diamond shows three high cards, including an ace, or four kings.

AN "ITALY-IN-EXILE" REGIME?

Detroit Free Press

A report from an undisclosed source in Europe states that the Italian Government has sent a special mission to this country with full authority to set up here an "Italy-in-Exile" regime when, and if, Italy breaks with Hitler. True or false, that is plausible.

The Italian people are very unhappy under the Fuehrer's heel and the humiliation of military reverses in Africa and Greece. The Nazis have virtually taken their country over and bled it white economically. Mussolini, from being a sawant Caesar, has been reduced to a "gauleiter" for Hitler.

That the Italian people will try to throw off this yoke, at the first opportunity, is altogether likely. If the attempt fails, and Hitler moves in, what would be more natural for the Italian Government than to follow the example of a dozen or more other dispossessed European governments who have set themselves up on safe soil?

NOT VERY COURAGEOUS

New York Sun

Considerably more than a year has now passed since Marshal Pétain ordered his principal political adversaries under arrest and announced that they would be speedily judged by the supreme tribunal at Riom. The trial has not taken place and it is increasingly apparent that it will not take place. The accused have been transferred by Pétain's order to a fortress in the Pyrenees, where presumably they will be allowed to be forgotten.

Perhaps the French people feel, as most people out of France do, that Marshal Pétain's refusal to bring these men to trial is not very courageous, not very much in line with the reputation his friends have tried to make for him as a valiant soldier. Does he fear that even his own hand-picked judges would balk at condemning these eminent French patriots for acts in which Marshal Pétain himself participated?

HOT LUNCHES FOR THIRTY MILLION IS SCHOOL GOAL

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

The health and welfare of our school children is the concern not only of their parents, but also of the national government.

"The increase in hot school lunches is one of the most encouraging signs of the times, nutritionally speaking," believes Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the U. S. Bureau of Home Economics. "For from a national standpoint it is just common sense—and plain economics—to do all that can be done to help keep the nation's youth healthy in body and mind. Teachers report that better school attendance, better attitudes of work, even better scholarship show up as soon as hot school lunches are served regularly."

According to the Surplus Marketing Administration, school authorities or others interested in getting surplus commodities for the lunches in their school get in touch with local or State departments of public welfare. Civic organizations, such as parent-teachers associations, churches, and service clubs, usually co-operate in this programme.

No matter who oversees the school lunch or how it is financed, it needs to provide the kind of food children can use to build their bodies, and can use for energy for play and study.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit and orange juice, creamed eggs on whole-wheat toast, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Spanish rice with salt pork, carrot sticks, bread and butter sandwiches, stewed dried fruit, tea, milk.

DINNER: Meat loaf, tomato sauce, boiled potatoes in jackets, raw vegetable salad, enriched bread, prune cottage pudding, coffee, milk.

MAIN DISH IMPORTANT

"Ideally," points out Doctor Stanley, "a school lunch is made up of one nourishing main dish, a glass or two of milk, fruit or vegetable in some form, bread and butter or a sandwich, and a simple dessert."

Most substantial school lunches are built around a hearty main dish—with the rest of the meal of lighter foods. The main dish may be of meat, fish, eggs, or beans. Or it may be one of these in combination with a cereal or with vegetables.

On cold days, it may be lunch built around a hot soup or chowder. Here are sample menus: 1. Meat loaf, raw vegetable sandwich, fruit shortcake and milk. 2. Spanish rice with salt pork or bacon, carrot sticks or other raw vegetable, bread and butter sandwich, stewed dried fruit, milk. 3. Salt pork and vegetable chowder, muffins, prune cottage pudding, milk.

Even if there can't be a complete meal prepared at the school, the lunch programme is worthwhile nevertheless. It may be one nourishing hot dish and milk and fruit.

In any instance it is important to see that your child's diet is as balanced at nighttime as it is morning and evening at home.

OBSERVE COFFEE MEASUREMENTS CAREFULLY

Coffee experts say that good coffee is never made haphazardly. Both water and coffee should be measured accurately by standard measuring spoons and cups. Your taste for strong or not so strong coffee will guide your measurements. If you use the vacuum method, be sure to have the water boiling in the lower bowl before the upper bowl, containing filter and coffee, is adjusted.

Almost immediately, the water in the lower bowl will rise through the tube to the upper section. When all but the small amount of water below the tube has risen, stir the mixture in the upper bowl and turn the flame very low. If you use a very fine grind, coffee should remain in the upper bowl about two minutes before turning off the flame; if a coarse grind, about five minutes.

When all the coffee has returned to the lower bowl, remove the upper compartment. Then coffee is ready to serve, fragrant and hot.

Y.W.C.A. NAMES WAR SERVICES SECRETARY

Mrs. Gordon Miller has been appointed War Services Secretary of the Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A., and took up her responsibilities on Saturday.

Mrs. Miller will work in cooperation with the local War Services Committee in the Y.W.C.A. in all matters of local concern, such as the Home Hospitality League, and Rooms Registry, soldiers' wives clubs, dances, entertainment and emergency relief of illness with families.

She will also be responsible for the "Rendezvous," which the Y.W.C.A. is operating at 5 Moore Street, as well as for the Hostess House at the Windsor Mills Flying School.

Assisting Mrs. Miller is a strong group of volunteers. Mrs. Miller may be reached either at the MacKinnon Memorial, 2151, or at her home, 211 Ontario Street, Phone 2346.

ADDRESSED Y.W.C.A. BOARD

Miss Julia Capen, of New York, was the guest-of-honor at an enjoyable luncheon given by members of the local Y.W.C.A. Board on Saturday at the MacKinnon Memorial Building. Following the luncheon Miss Capen gave an instructive and comprehensive outline of the work which can be done by the various organizations and members of each Y.W.C.A. Association. Miss Capen's understanding manner charmed all her hearers and her wide experience enabled her to offer constructive suggestions which will undoubtedly be beneficial to the local Association in strengthening and broadening its work in the community.

Miss Marjorie Haley was spoken of most highly by the guest speaker, who pointed out that the General Secretary is very well equipped to execute the many exacting duties of her position.

Miss Capen's theme was that membership in any organization entails responsibilities as well as privileges. These responsibilities and privileges encourage "growth" in personality. Through "growth" in personality and effective reaching out to others, so that all organizations and members grow in "togetherness," the Y.W.C.A.'s work is accomplished. The thought was stressed that it is not an Association until all the different groups are inter-related and working in their various ways for the good of mankind.

Miss Capen also stressed that, as the Association is formed by members of different church groups, the life of the Church gives the impetus for the work of the Y.W.C.A. Through it a dynamic way of life may be attained.

The Y.W.C.A. has learned to meet girls at their point of need, and through that to help them to become concerned with other people—to put in action a sense of friendly responsibility.

The speaker left with her hearers the challenge that it is the responsibility of each individual to make the world a better place in which to live.

Mrs. George Carr, President of the local Association, thanked Miss Capen very sincerely for her well-considered talk, and assured her that her ideas would be gratefully accepted and carried out by the members to the best of their ability.

Before the meeting closed, Miss Haley reported that it would be possible to have a visit from Miss Kaufman during World Fellowship Week. To take advantage of this opportunity it was decided to have an open supper meeting on November 11th, when it is hoped a great many in the community will hear Miss Kaufman, who has had wide and interesting experience in Japan and British Guiana.

Mrs. Fred W. Lyster, who has spent the past ten days with her daughter, Mrs. Harry E. Grundy, is returning home to Tremholm today.

Second Lieutenants Leonard O'Donnell, Douglas Ward and Frank McKenna, Sherbrooke Regiment, (R.), C.A., are taking a special two-weeks course at the Brockville, Ont., Training Centre.

Miss Kay Davey, of Kingston, Ont., and Mr. John Davey, student at Mount St. Louis College, Montreal, spent the week-end at home with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilfred Davey, Walton Avenue.

Rev. John Pitts, D.D., of England and Montreal, who was the special preacher at the anniversary services in Trinity United Church yesterday, and Mrs. Pitts, were guests during their stay of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Williams at "The Parsonage," Court Street, and of Senator and Mrs. Charles B. Howard, at "Howardene."

An exceptionally delightful dinner party was given on Saturday evening by a ladies' bridge club, in honor of several of its members and their husbands, on the unique occasion of the joint celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. Dinner was served at the Chateau Frontenac, in the "Rose Room," which the hostesses had reserved and decorated with a profusion of flowers. The long banquet table, at which covers for twenty-four were laid, looked very lovely with many tall white tapers in glistening crystal candlesticks and a handsomely decorated wedding cake, topped with natural pink roses and baby's breath, forming its attractive and appropriate centerpiece. The guests-of-honor, who on Saturday jointly celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, were Mr. and Mrs. J. Fraser Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Richardson, of Montreal, formerly of Sherbrooke, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wiggett and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ross, while Mr. and Mrs. E. Goodenough, who very recently celebrated their wedding anniversary, were also among the honored guests. Other members, who with their husbands enjoyed the club's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. W. Davey, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Colin L. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Wiggett and Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Armistage. After dinner bridge and dancing were enjoyed, and during the interim lovely gifts of silver were presented to the guests-of-honor, while witty and felicitous speeches lent additional pleasure to the joyful celebration, amidst close friends of twenty-five years of married happiness.

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

(a) Say as much as you want about food you like, but don't name any foods you don't like?
(b) Name all the foods you can think of that you don't like?

ANSWERS
1—Leave it in the center of his plate.
2—No. Pass it and then later ask for what you want.

Colorful Cross-Stitch Makes This Lovely Rug

All Crosses in Same Direction

The individual touch that makes your home charming—a handmade cross-stitch rug! Or RUGS—for you can make several with fast, sturdy cross-stitch!

The first thing is to rule squares on your rug canvas (35 squares on a 26-by-35-inch piece) leaving a 1½-inch margin on all sides.

Then to stitch, following for each square our pattern diagram. Each little block stands for one cross-stitch; the shades are for colors—peach, turquoise, brown. In alternate squares you might have turquoise, orchid, corse.

Your stitching's done with fat rug yarn. Each stitch in the row, working to the right, should be from lower left to upper right. Coming back over these stitches, cross from lower right to upper left—all crosses in the same direction!

After completing all squares, make a border of one row of turquoise and one brown and stitch canvas to denim backing.

Our 32-page booklet has detailed instructions and diagrams for making this rug; also shows how to make lovely hooked, woven, braided and crocheted rugs. Includes Oriental, novel styles. Tells how much material you need for each.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "How to Make Your Own Rug" to Daily Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Crafty Russians See 5,700,000 - Square - Mile Bomb-Proof Area Behind Urals

"Endless" East, Once Barren, Now Productive, Called Red Army's Ace-in-the-Hole

Under crafty war preparedness plans of the Soviets, highly modern industrial plants, like the giant steel works pictured above, rose up in the endless reaches of trans-Ural Russia and Siberia.

New York, Nov. 3. — A natural "bomb-proof shelter," sprawling endlessly behind the stormy peaks of the Ural mountains, gives hard-pressed Russia a vast industrial war base to serve as an ace-in-the-hole for the death battle with Germany.

Tens of thousands of square miles, protected from enemy bombers and land forces by the "blitz-proof" mountains, roll ever Eastward over country now producing oil, wheat, coal, lumber, meat, limestone, fabrics and much-needed metals.

Alert to the day when her Western frontiers might crumble under the crash of an invasion, Russians craftily started ten years ago upon a giant programme to develop and exploit the land.

Tremendous capital investments, estimated in billions of rubles, were ordered after painstaking surveys. And today, on land that once was uninhabited—or even desert—great industrial plants with smoking chimneys stand as monuments to the achievement.

From this hideaway, Russia plans to ship an unending flow of tanks, guns and battleplanes to the men fighting at the front.

Already the Government has left Moscow and set up operations 500 miles Eastward in Kuibyshev, which lies on the banks of the Volga River at its Easternmost point.

If the Germans should press on beyond Moscow, observers believe, the river will form the next No. 1 line for defense. If, in time, the armies' line here should be breached, too, the Ural Mountains—extending 1600 miles from the Barents Sea in the North to the Caspian Sea in the South—will form the next natural line for defense.

Provided that the Soviet Government succeeds in preserving a powerful and well-equipped army, which will carry out its withdrawal in good order, this plan of continuing the war may open some interesting and rather promising prospects. The German army, in order to reach its new defense lines, would have to cover tremendous distances. It would have to occupy a country six times the size of all the countries it has thus far occupied put together.

The endless Russian plains which begin East of Moscow are sparsely populated, had been economically undeveloped and the means of communication were very poor.

To go farther East, beyond the Volga, is to enter a territory which could hold dozens of countries, but which is almost devoid of railroads and modern paved automobile roads.

To receive its war supplies, in case of its occupation of this territory, the German army would have to maintain uninterrupted and efficient communication with its base in Germany, 1500 to 2000 miles away.

One can state with complete confidence that if it is possible to lure the victorious German armies so far, they would be destroyed in the endless expanse of Russia.

To visualize the vastness of these distances and territories one should examine these figures. With Hitler occupying the entire Western part of Russia, including not only Moscow and the Ukraine, but also the whole region down to the Volga, the remaining Russian territory would still measure 5,700,000 square miles. (Continental U. S. A. comprises 3,026,789 square miles).

At the same time, the Eastern territories of European Russia near the Urals, and the Russian territories in Asia, which would have to be defended against the Germans, possess characteristics that would permit prolonged resistance, extending probably over several years.

Western Siberia, like the region between the Volga and the Urals, has always been an exporter of huge surpluses of wheat and other foodstuffs. Consequently, in the matter of food supplies the Red Army would be in a pretty favorable position.

There may be a considerable difference of opinion in appraising the general economic results of the three "Five-Year-Plans" carried out in Russia, but one fact is beyond dispute—Russia's predominant war-preparation aims have been achieved to a very substantial degree, and in no other section of Russia have the war industries developed with such striking rapidity as in the Urals and in Siberia.

A huge metallurgical combine has been created in Kuznetsk district in Western Siberia, where an extensive coal field is being exploited. The Magnitogorsk metallurgical combine, on the European side of the Ural mountains, is famous throughout the world. The mammoth tractor plant in Chelyabinsk is working for defense by this time.

Whereas on the eve of the first World War this region provided only 2.7 per cent of the total Russian output of coal, today it provides 16.3 per cent. For cast iron the respective figures are 21 and 28 per cent.

New oil deposits have been found South of the Urals, and the old ones have been considerably extended. Oil fields on the river Emba, which have been nicknamed "Second Baku," have come under intensive exploitation, carried on, sometimes, at an excessively high cost. The oil fields in the Northern Urals, near the Perm river, less rich than the others, are being exploited despite the wastefulness of such a procedure from the point of view of normal economic returns.

All this development has been carried out solely as protection in the event of war.

The oil production of the entire region, which only a few years ago accounted for six per cent of the total Russian output, was to be raised to fifteen to twenty per cent during the last Five-Year-Plan. Even though these figures have not been achieved, there can be little doubt that there has been a very substantial increase in the region's output of oil.

Other industries, not directly connected with war, have also achieved considerable expansion in this region in recent years. For example, huge textile mills have been built in Tashkent, in Central Asia, at an expenditure of 170 million rubles.

CANADIAN PORT MIRRORS WAR'S FITFUL CHANGE

Halifax on Intimate Terms with Battle of Atlantic as No Other City on This Side of Ocean Can Be.

By ANDY ROSS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Halifax, Nov. 3.—Halifax has become a city of human kindness and hate. For here, as nowhere else in America, the war clutches human hearts, distorts human souls.

This grey old seaport, which loves the sea, its men and ships, is a jumping-off point for war—a dividing line between preparation and actual fighting. No other city is on such intimate terms with the Battle of the Atlantic and nowhere have the Nazis earned themselves a more implacable hate.

When you realize that aboard almost every ship lost are men who have friends here, it is easy to understand the Halifaxians' collective reaction to each report of another torpedoing—"Why those dirty unprintable bastards!"

A list of vessels fallen prey to skulking undersea raiders means much more to a Halifaxian than a bald compilation of facts and figures. A series of newsreel-like pictures flashes through his mind—the familiar silhouettes of graceful liners, of squat tankers, of great hulking freighters and innumerable grimy tramps. He also sees hundreds of friendly faces among their crews.

These are indelible memories of ships and men who at one time or another had made Halifax a temporary home. Frequently Halifax sees the tragedies of war at first hand. Sometimes the wretched survivors of those familiar ships are brought here.

In her hospitals they recover from the effects of days or even weeks tossed in open boats or on flimsy rafts upon a black and cheerless Atlantic.

Here they tell the stories of attacks without warning; of the savage machine-gunning of crowded, defenceless lifeboats; of comrades who gave their lives for others—men who dumbly swim into the night to give a place on a raft to an injured man, a woman or a child, or men like those of the Jervis Bay who fight a hopeless battle to save the other vessels of a convoy. Sometimes scared and battered ships themselves find a haven here, have their wounds healed in the harbor's shipyards.

Halifax sees the joy and hate written on the faces of European refugees, men, women and children, who tell the unbelievable truth of the "N" terror. Some are fugitives who have been hounded from country to country by the Gestapo, some are well acquainted with the concentration camp and others have quivered to the stroke of the storm trooper's lash.

The city has welcomed pathetic and bewildered British guest children, driven from their homes by the Battle of Britain.

And Halifax remembers well the great explosion of 1917, still bears its scars. One of the greatest man-made disasters in human history, the blast laid waste a third of the city and caused a death toll of more than 1,600—almost as high as the Canadian total for all service in this war. And in this war Halifax probably has lost more of her sons, in proportion to her population, than any other Canadian city.

Sometimes Halifax has said au revoir to numbers of Canada's fighting youth Britain-bound. Halifaxians have witnessed those scenes of parting—mother and son, husband and wife, soldier and sweetheart, sometimes separated by wire barriers, wringing their utmost from the last moments together.

A young wife stands proudly watching her husband swinging along in a transport and column. Her small son holds her hand, keeps up a restless running chatter:

"Gee, mummy, hetcha daddy's the best soldier in the whole world. Gosh mummy, there's a lot of 'em. Oh, look, there's more comin'—they're highlanders, I'm goin' to be a soldier too, when I grow up."

"Gee, mummy, whatcha cryin' for?"

No, it is not hard to understand the city's tenderness and hate.

Here's Quick Relief from SINUS PAIN

3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear
Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Vapo-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE Vapo-nol is so effective because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's the best relief they've found. Try it!

Night Sight Invaluable In Air Wars

By J. A. McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, November 3.—Some men are gifted with the ability to see well at night and it is part of the Royal Canadian Air Force medical services duty to see that those who have this gift are placed where they can be of greatest value, officials say.

In recent months German night bombing raids in the United Kingdom have been made more hazardous to the Nazis by the effectiveness of British night fighter squadrons with crews whose night vision is good.

Air Commodore R. W. Ryan, Director of R.C.A.F. Medical Services, told a House of Commons Sub-Committee on War Expenditures recently that a surprising number of people have had perception at night under complete conditions of darkness.

Pilots had before them a lighted instrument panel and when they took their eyes off that panel and looked into the darkness it took them a considerable time in some cases to adapt themselves to the darkened conditions.

"In order to determine what men have quick perception and quick adaptation at night, we have to study each man individually," Air Commodore Ryan said. "We have evolved a test in conjunction with the people in the United Kingdom. The necessary instruments have arrived and tests are made now to determine every pilot's disposition or disposal when he gets over to England; that is to say, we recommend him to be a first-class night operational pilot or a secondary one who will be below the average."

Color perception is another concern of the medical services as knowledge of primary colors is essential to the pilot who is given instructions about landing at night by colored flares from the ground.

"About six per cent of the people who come up are what we call color defective; that is to say they will recognize a green as red and a red as green which is a very difficult situation to find oneself in in the air," Air Commodore Ryan said.

"Further, navigators and wireless people have received instruction in their panels, their instrument panels, indicating what means of colors, indicating what means of colors, they are on or what course and so on, in contact with the various people on the ground, and if a man cannot recognize his correct colors he is going to do some harm."

Air Commodore Ryan said he had been dealing with color vision for twenty years and was very interested in the subject.

"I have come to the conclusion that a man who is born with a defect in perceiving colors is in the same position as a man born without an arm," Air Commodore Ryan said. "You cannot grow one. It is a we are pursuing it to see what we can do."

Particular care is now taken to see that no man goes in the air without food, Air Commodore Ryan said. An overloaded stomach in air sickness would not incapacitate an experienced pilot who would become ill and then be all right, while empty stomach might lead to a faint.

Will General Winter Win?

As Russia's savage winter weather was reported to have arrived at last, this radiophoto was flashed to New York from Berlin. It shows, according to censored caption, a German tank rumbling through the scorched Soviet town of Vyasma on its way to Moscow battlefront. It does not mention that there was snow on the ground—snow that may decide the war's No. 1 question: will General Winter halt this mechanized Nazi march?

POETS UNITING ACTIVITIES IN SINGLE VOLUME

Prize-Winning Canadian Poems for Past Year to Appear in One Volume as Aid to War Effort.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Miss Agnes Aston Hill, of Calgary, has been awarded the Governor-General's silver medal as the winner of a Dominion-wide poetry contest held by the poetry group, Toronto Branch, Canadian Authors' Association. Second and third prizes go to Miss Isabel McFadden and Mrs. Carol Cassidy, both of Toronto.

Announcement of the award brings to light a many-sided project with artistic and patriotic aspects. "Voices of Victory," the volume of verse which Macmillan will publish November 6, is the means of distributing the best of the 766 poems entered in the contest. "It is also a collection of the work of our best-known poets, broadly representative of Canadian thought and feeling in this crisis, as well as a practical contribution," the announcement says.

Not only have distinguished writers contributed their talents, but the Toronto Poetry Group, besides managing the contest, has financed the scheme so that the entire proceeds of the book, and not merely the royalties on it, will later be given as a cash gift to an appropriate cause.

In addition to the medal given especially for this purpose by the Earl of Athlone, who is patron of the Canadian Authors' Association, Miss Hill will receive a cash first prize of $50 donated by R. V. Eaton, of Toronto. Miss McFadden, named second, will receive $25, the gift of the Toronto Poetry Group, and Mrs. Cassidy the third prize of $10 subscribed by Sir William Mulock, former Chief Justice of Ontario.

Twenty other poets, who received honorable mention, will be included in order of merit, as follows: John E. Nixon, Waukegan, Sask.; Miss Gloria Chaurman, Chatham, Ont.; Leo Cox, Montreal; Miss Herma Fraser, Victoria; Mrs. G. Joy Tranter, Toronto; John V. Hicks, Prince Albert, Sask.; Miss Margaret Complin, Regina; Mrs. Laura Thompson, Miss Rona Adams and Miss Robina Monkman, all of Toronto; M. Fabin, Vancouver; Miss Mary E. McCullough, Mavan, Ont.; Miss Margaret Gould, Toronto; Miss Helen E. Ross, Winnipeg; Francis William Gray, Sydney, N.S.; Mrs. Norma Smith, Halifax; Miss Helen Hall and Charles M. Nixon, both of Toronto; Mentie du Val, Wingham, Ont.; and J. Wrenford Watson, Hamilton.

The judges were Professor V. B. Rhodenizer, Wolfville, N.S.; Morgan-Powell, Montreal; Dr. E. A. Hardy, Toronto; Professor Watson Kirkconnell, Hamilton; and A. M. Stephen, Vancouver.

Sir Charles G. D. Roberts has embellished the book with the dedication of "Canada Speaks of Britain." Twenty-five of Canada's leading poets, including Duncan Campbell Scott, E. J. Pratt, Wilson MacDonald, Katherine Hale—in fact, the whole roster of established writers in this class—have contributed to the contents. Members of Toronto Poetry Group are also represented by work selected by an independent panel of judges.

ONTARIO RECORD

Thetford Mines, Nov. 3.—The Lord Bishop of Quebec confirmed six adults and eighteen children at the Church of St. John the Divine on Sunday evening, October 19th, with Rev. John Comfort, of Maple Grove, acting as Bishop's Chaplain. The Lord Bishop gave a fine address.

Later in the evening the Lord Bishop, the Bishop's Chaplain, the Warden, Messrs. A. S. Johnson and A. E. Johnston, and Miss Emma Johnston were entertained at the Rectory by Rev. M. H. W. Seeley and Mrs. Seeley.

The following morning the newly-confirmed members received Holy Communion together with twenty-nine others including parents and godparents. From the church the communicants accompanied the Bishop, the other clergymen and the warden to the Masonic Hall where breakfast was served under the convener'ship of Mrs. U. A. Vaudy. Mr. Seeley and the recently confirmed children had a group photo taken later in the day.

"V BUNDLES OF THETFORD"

A group of ladies met at the home of Miss Bessie Shmoker for the purpose of organizing "V Bundles of Thetford." A parcel of samples of various garments made from old material had been sent from Montreal for inspection and guidance of workers here, and were viewed with interest, and patterns were cut from them.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. P. L. Daigneault, Honorary President; Miss Gladys Burns, President; Miss Hazel Crosby, Vice-President; Miss Dorothy Daigneault, Secretary; Miss Bessie Shmoker, Treasurer; Supply Committee, the Misses Helen Bateman and A. Morin.

It was decided to meet in small numbers at various homes, only light refreshments to be served and a fee of five cents charged.

Mrs. M. Paterson poured tea and the table was very attractive with patriotic centre and red candles. The Misses Bateman and Pyc assisted Miss Shmoker in serving.

Fortunes were told by Miss Morin, which added to the receipts of the evening. Those having second-hand garments or other donation for this cause are asked to phone Miss Paterson at No. 240, and parcels will be called for.

Others having entertained the V Group since the inaugural meeting are the Misses Bateman and Daigneault, and Audrey Berry, Grace George and Maud Pyc.

SERVICES HELD AT SCOTSTOWN UNITED CHURCH

General Notes from Scots-town and District—Red Cross Executive Held
Session.

Scotstown, Nov. 3.—The first of a series of pre-communion services, held in St. Andrew's United Church, was conducted by Rev. W. H. Thomas, recently appointed pastor to Chalmers Church, Gould.

Rev. C. J. Gustafson welcomed and introduced the guest-speaker, Mr. Thomas, who expressed his pleasure in being able to be present and assist. His text was taken from Corinthians I, chap. 11, vs. 26, "Ye do show forth the Lord's death till He come," and in the course of a helpful and appropriate address, the preacher stressed the importance of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, which has come to us down through the ages, and which is the centre of Christian worship.

The guest-speaker for the second service was Rev. J. W. Smith, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. In introducing him, Rev. Mr. Gustafson expressed his deep appreciation of his presence with him in the pulpit, and of his kindness in conducting this service. Rev. Mr. Smith gave a very forceful and inspiring address on the "Grace of God," from the passage found thus in Titus 2:11-13, "For the grace of God, that bringeth salvation, hath appeared to all men, teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly in the present world, looking for that blessed hope and the glorious appearing of the great God, and our Saviour, Jesus Christ."

In this epistle, the speaker said, "the Apostle Paul gives great reasons for little things; he shows that it is a principle, not emotion, to do the will of God, and emphasizes order and holiness in church, at home, and in our relationship with the outside world."

The third service of the series was conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. J. Gustafson, who chose for his text, Matthew 18:4, "Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as a little child, the same is greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven." Two qualities of childhood that Jesus stressed were named, willingness to learn and trust.

The Sunday morning Communion service was conducted by Rev. C. J. Gustafson. The text, "He was known to them in the breaking of bread," was taken from Luke 24:35. From this text was shown that Christ was known by His compassion and love, and these important questions asked, "How are we known by others? Do our actions, our language, our business methods, etc., show us to be sincere and generous?"

RED CROSS EXECUTIVE MEETING
The Red Cross Executive meeting was held at the home of the President, Mrs. Payson Sherman. After some discussion, it was decided that in order to promote more interest among the members, all articles for shipment would be finished in the work room.

The following committees were appointed to pack Christmas boxes for the boys overseas: Mrs. Gordon Bennett, convener; Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie, Mrs. N. L. Nicholson, Mrs. Colin Henderson and Mrs. Dan P. Murray. Packing of boxes started on Friday, October 31st.

It was announced that the salvage which the Town Council had collected had been sold for $22.50. The amount of $2.67 had been received from Miss Ann Goodin, for selling red peppers. The auction sale held on Mrs. Joseph Star, of Sherbrooke, netted the sum of $160. A pair of lovely socks for an overseas box was donated by Miss Margaret Smith. The Red Cross is hoping to put on local moving pictures on Friday, November 7th. Donations of books in good condition are solicited. The same will be received at any Post Office. The Postmaster will assume any responsibility and forward them to Montreal, from whence they will be shipped to their destination.

STANSTEAD SCORES 38-0 WIN OVER S.H.S.

Maintains Undefeated Record Against School Football Teams Of E.T.

Rain-Soaked Gridiron Fails to Slow Down High-Scoring Stanstead College Machine—Jenkins, Poapst, Perkins, Gordon, Lindsay and Chaddock Register Touchdowns—Lorne Campbell and Lorne Arnold Play Great Games for Sherbrooke.

While rain beat down on the Parade Grounds and turned the playing field into a quagmire, a well-drilled, confident Stanstead College football team ploughed to a 38-0 victory over Sherbrooke High School Saturday afternoon in the last game of the annual home-and-home series between the two teams. Stanstead had won the opening encounter 29-0.

While the two outfits stuck to conservative tactics for the most part, Stanstead also made unexpectedly effective use of the forward pass, with quarterback Jamie Poapst and Chaddock doing the heavy lifting.

Stanstead maintained a ferocious attack ring from the opening whistle, and for most of the game field possession of the ball, pushing the Sherbrooke team from one end of the field to the other. Ken Jenkins, Chaddock, Lindsay and Poapst were brilliant ball-carriers, and with a charging line opening up gaping holes galloping for long gains time and time again.

Individual stars for Sherbrooke were Lorne Campbell and Lorne Arnold. Playing the sixty-minute route, these boys made most of the gains on the ground, and did three-quarters of the kicking. Campbell, who also did the kicking and passing for the school, worked like a Trojan in the mud, and almost every time a Stanstead player was brought down it was Campbell who did the nailing.

Scoring was well divided for Stanstead, with Lindsay, Ken Jenkins, Lindsay, Perkins, Gordon and Chaddock crossing the Sherbrooke goal-line. Jenkins played a great game, kicking for long distance as well as carrying the ball effectively.

Jenkins was also outstanding because of his placement booting, getting the extra point after every one of the six touchdowns although the ball was greasy and the field a mass of mud and puddles.

Stanstead drew first blood shortly after the kick-off, and a few minutes later had a touchdown. A Poapst to Jenkins pass put the ball on Sherbrooke's fifteen, and Poapst swept around the left end for a touchdown.

The converted made the score 7-0. In the second quarter the visiting team went ahead 14-0, with Jenkins doing all the scoring, a touchdown, convert and rouge.

At the start of the third quarter Stanstead marched right from their own twenty yard line for a major score, with tall Lindsay, blossoming out as a plunging star for the first time this season, carting the pigskin into pay-dirt territory.

Outside Wing Perkins showed up as an opportunist for the next Stanstead touch, batting a loose ball away from Sherbrooke's catching hands and taking the ball over for the five points. Then two long passes to Perkins set the stage for the fifth touch, and Gordon went through on a plunge for his first major of the fall campaign. Chaddock cracked over for the last touchdown of the game.

Although the players were very dirty after the first play, the game was played cleanly from start to finish, and usually the man who went down had a pat on the back for the tackler.

The teams: Sherbrooke: Chaddock, fly-wing, Perkins, K. Jenkins, half, Campbell, Lindsay, half, Arnold, Gordon, half, Wilson, Poapst, quarter, McFarlane, Quillman, snap, Carr, Blanchette, inside, Burrell, McFadyen, inside, Rosenthal, Bard, middle, Caunter, Scarth, middle, Bennett, Pope, outside, Joslin, Perkins, outside, Simpson, Stanstead subs: Bushnell, Sherman, Kilcock, Angrove, Downing, J. CHING JOHNSON LEADS ULINES TO FIRST WIN

Washington Team Tops Philadelphia Rockets 5-3 in First Home Start in American Hockey League.

Ching Johnson, bald-headed veteran of hockey battles everywhere, brought his Washington Ulines back to the Capital last night for their first American League victory before the home fans.

Repulsed in their inaugural last Thursday, the Ulines counted twice in the final minutes against the Philadelphia Rockets for a 5-3 verdict. It is the Ulines' first year in the loop.

Two games were played over the week-end, with the clubs pairing off in a home-and-home series. The double session gave the Indianapolis Caps the opportunity of running their present winning streak to three while the Providence Reds opened in reverse, dropping their first four.

The Cleveland Barons, defending champions, annexed both of their meetings with Buffalo's young and powerful Bisons. The Barons won, 2-1, Saturday night in the Ohio City and 10,839 spectators at Buffalo last night saw their favorites lose again, 4-2.

Hershey Bears won their second straight game from New Haven Eagles, going ahead in the first when Red Hamill sneaked in an unassisted goal and piling up three more on second period goals by Gordie Bruce, Frank Eddolls and Johnny Sorrell. That wild period saw Eagles tally off the sticks of Gus Mancuso, Mike Dzura and Joe Shack, while Bob Goldham got the final tally for Hershey in the last frame.

Almost 11,000 persons turned out for the opening game at Buffalo, seeing Barons pull ahead in the first period with goals by Bud Cook and Art Groux. Buffalo scored off Tony Hammerling in the second but Jake Milford came right back for Cleveland. In the last period McKay and Earl Bartholme traded scores.

Springfield Indians put Providence Reds away 3-2 for the fourth straight defeat the Reds have suffered in the young season. Rhys Thompson and Pep Kelly put the Indians in front with goals in each of the first two periods. The Reds fought back hard in the last period and scored twice off Frank Boucher only to have the tie wiped out by Max Kaminsky.

At Indianapolis the Capitals won their third straight game by downing Pittsburgh Hornets 4-2 after taking them 5-1 the previous night in Pittsburgh.

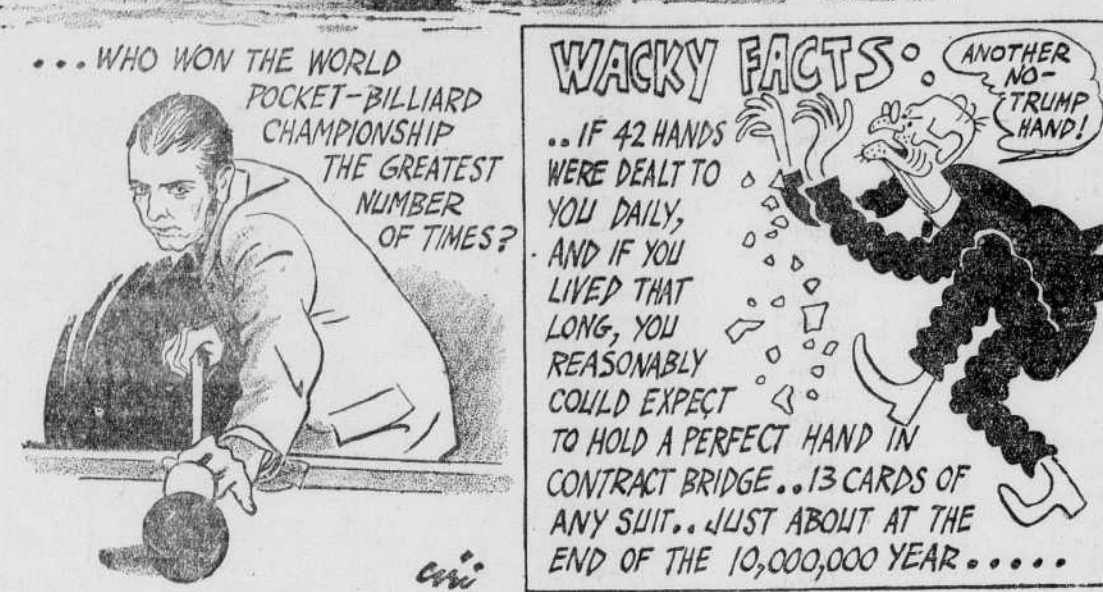

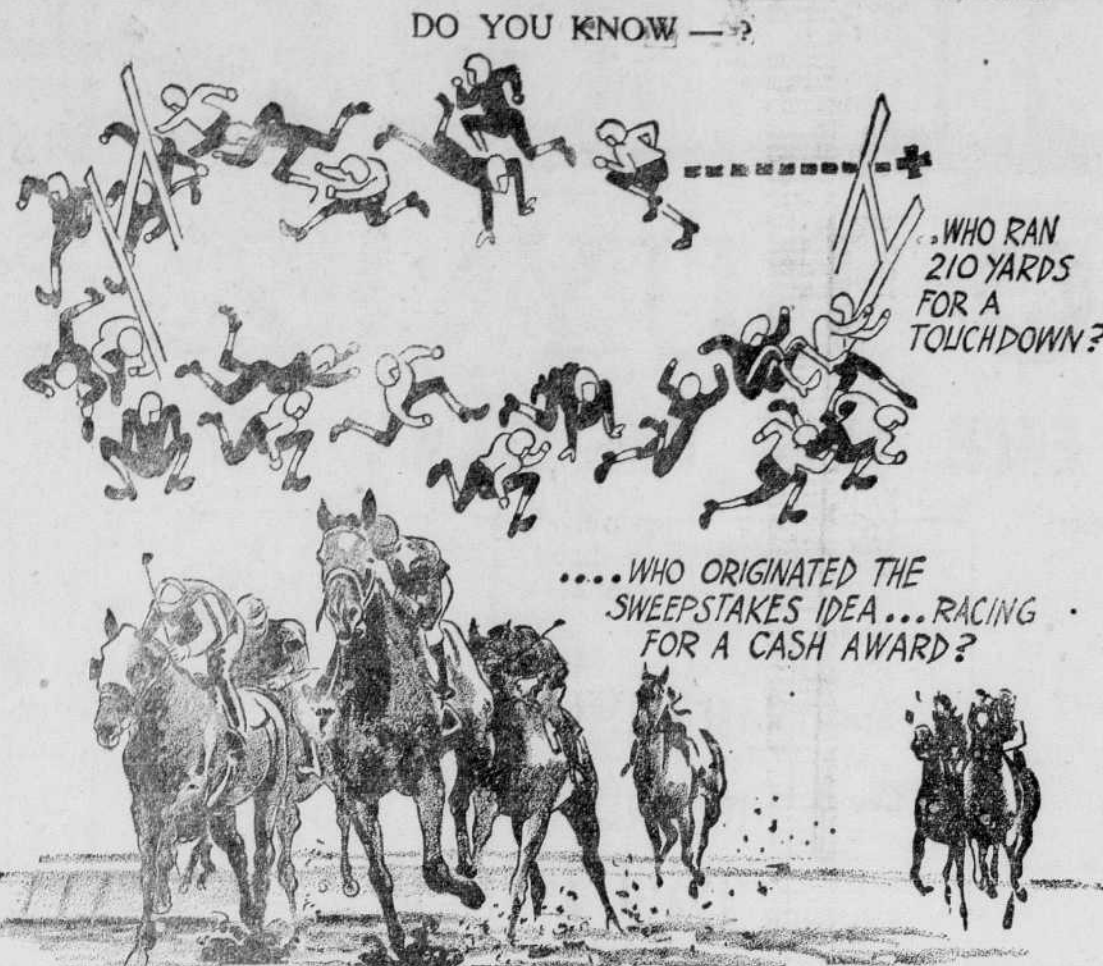

SPORT FLASHES

The week's gridiron hero, if you ask us, was the groundkeeper at the Polo Grounds. While Larry MacPhail had been making the pre-Dodgers practice in tennis shoes to keep his turf from being ruined, the Polo Grounds stood for cleats all week and then three games during the week-end, two of them in pouring rain.

Latest addition to the baseball rumor list is that the Yankees will bid for Ken Keltner because Red Rolfe is due to quit because of illness. Only trouble with that one is Rolfe would like to cut in on the World Series dough for a year or two more.

Today's guest star: Earl Loftquist, Providence Journal: "In the long, long ago there was a big three in football, Yale, Harvard and Princeton were the Big Three. The expression is now used only by historians."

Nat Fleischer, the Ring Magazine editor, is bringing out a book next month to beat them all. He even plans to include the financial figures in every important battle since John L. Sullivan's day.

B.C.S. CLOSING RALLY SWAMPS ASHBURY 17-6

Lynn and Shuter Score Touchdowns in Fourth Quarter—Two Safety Touches and Rouge Complete Scoring.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—Winding up the Tricollège Football League for another year, Bishop's College School and Ashbury College clashed Saturday afternoon on the Lower Canada College campus, with the Lennoxville aggregation finishing powerfully to ring up a 17-6 decision. Earlier in the season Lower Canada College won the championship.

There was no scoring in the first half, in which play was just about even, but Ashbury took a 6-0 lead at the start of the second half when Heath, flying wing, took the kick-off and carried the ball sixty-five yards for a major score which was converted.

B.C.S. could not get going until the fourth quarter, but in these last fifteen minutes Biff Lynn and Shuter carried the pigskin on touchdown jaunts, both of which were converted. B.C.S. also shoved Ashbury back over their own goal-line for two safety touches, and Ian Sewell booted a rouge.

The teams: B.C.S.: flying wing, Hurst, half, Sewell, half, Lanioux, half, Shepherd, quarter, Finley, snap, Day, snap, E. Fisher, inside, Powell, inside, Lynn, middle, Suter, middle, Jenkins, outside, New, outside, Horniman, outside, Hooper, Bishop's subs: Larimer, Rowe, M. Fisher, Hunt, Dohan, Ashbury subs: Brass.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 3.—Gerard Cote, last year's Boston Marathon winner from St. Hyacinthe, came from away back Saturday afternoon to win the annual road-race staged by the Hamilton Post of the Army and Navy Veterans.

Cote covered the nineteen miles in one hour, 52 minutes and 20 seconds, the best time for the event in a number of years.

Scotty Rankine, Preston, Ont., marathoner who won the race for the past three years, was forced to drop out. Harold Webster, veteran Hamilton runner, was fourth, some distance behind the first three.

Detroit Wins And Ties On Week-End To Secure Top Position In N.H.L.

Red Wings Nose Out Canadiens 3-2 in Montreal and Then Hold Hodge-Podge Americans to 3-3 Deadlock at Home—Rangers Come from Behind to Spill Maple Leafs 3-2 at Toronto—Toe Blake Gets Both Montreal Goals.

Three games have been written into the National Hockey League records for the new season and about the only prediction that one could make with safety is that the next six months will be full of surprises. There were two during the week-end—New York Rangers surprised by defeating the Maple Leafs 4-3 on Toronto ice Saturday and an even greater upset was sprung at Detroit last night when Red Dutton's hodge-podge Americans tied the Red Wings 3-3.

Don't feel sorry for the Wings, however. They defeated the Canadiens at Montreal Saturday 3-2 and they're all alone at the top of the league at the moment—one point ahead of Rangers.

A large amount of tears apparently have been shed in vain for Dutton and his Americans. Tossed together almost at the last minute when passport restrictions, holdout trouble and just about everything else made it look as if old Red would have to play himself, they showed enough last night against last year's Stanley Cup finalists to warrant the assumption they will make things hot for a few of their enemies from the right side of the tracks.

Three newcomers to the Duttonites did the scoring for Red's outfit. Two of the goals were provided by a pair of players who only a few days before were obtained on loan from the Maple Leafs. Gus Marker was one of the marauders and Nick Knott put Americans ahead early in the overtime period before Jack Stewart finally tied it up for good.

The other Amerk counter was notched by Mel Hill, Boston Bruins' erstwhile "minute man."

Knott was making his bow in major professional company and the former Oshawa junior star looked as if he knew his way around.

Americans were ahead 2-0 at the end of the second period but the Wings revived to tie it up in the third on goals by Don Grosso and Sid Abel.

Then came the Knott-Stewart give-and-take round that led to the overtime draw.

At Toronto Saturday night, the Leafs held a comfortable two-goal lead when the Rangers struck in the third period.

Babe Pratt cut the margin to one goal and Clint Smith banged in a pair in twenty-four seconds to clinch the game. The other Ranger counter went to Neil Colville.

Leafs marksmen were Gordie Drillon and Sweeney Schirmer in the first and then Colville got his in the next frame. Syl Apps offset that one near the end of the period, however.

Saturday the Canadiens, playing at home, were slow in starting and Grosso's goal put them in the red in the third minute of play. Toe Blake knotted the count but Carl Liscombe made it read 2-1 in the second. Mud Bruneteau added the clinchers for Detroit early in the third.

Blake, scoring champion of the week, scored twice.

A good scout: Before his Upsala team played Arkansas A. and M. last week, Coach Bob Meyer went down to scout the Boll Weevils against Moravian. Bob watched four periods of their goofy antics, then invaded the clubhouse and gave the Arkansas boys a pep talk about playing some real football against Upsala. It worked so well that the Weevils put on a passing attack that was good for 21 completions, even though they lost, as usual.
