UNIONIST LEADERS ABANDON FOOD TAX KEEP LEADERSHIP

A. BONAR LAW AND LORD LANSDOWNE ACCEDE TO MEMORIALISTS' WISH.

London, Jan. 14—Andrew Bonar Law and Lord Lansdowne decided today to retain the leadership of the Unionist party in the House of Commons and the House of Lords, respectively and to abandon the stand they have heretofore taken on the subject of food taxation in connection with the scheme of Imperial preference.

ANSWER TO MEMORIAL.

In reply to the memorial addressed to him in January by a representative meeting of Unionists in which the abandonment of the policy of food taxes was advocated, Andrew Bonar Law, who also speaks for Lord Lansdowne, says:

"It would have been more agreeable to ourselves and, in our view, more for the interest of the Unionist party, that a change of method should have been accompanied by a change of leadership would be fatal to the interests of the party and the country, we feel it our duty to comply with the request."

DUCHESS GAINING TOWARD RECOVERY

STILL SUFFERING FROM A COLD, BUT THERE IS NO
APPREHENSION.

Montreal, Jan. 14—Continued satisfactory progress towards recovery was the substance of the official bulletin issued to-day regarding the condition of Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught. The patient is now able to take regular nourishment, and while she is still suffering from a cold it is not causing serious apprehension. The one bulletin issued to-day read: "Her Royal Highness, the Duchess of Connaught, continues to make satisfactory progress towards recovery, although the cold from which she is suffering is still troublesome. Her temperature is normal, and she is sleeping better."

ZAZA OFF BY REQUEST OF THE CHURCH

MONTREAL OPERA COMPANY
MAY ALSO WITHDRAW
HERODIADE IN QUEBEC.

Montreal, Jan. 14—At the special request of His Grace Archbishop Bruchesi the Montreal Opera Co. has finally decided to withdraw the performance of the opera "Zaza," which was to have taken place next Thursday evening. The opera which is to take its place has not yet been decided upon.

OBJECT TO OPERA.

The request to withdraw "Zaza" is on account of the moral character of the opera, which was originally produced last week. It is understood that the opera will not be produced in Ottawa when the company goes there and probably not in Toronto.

It is also understood that "Herodiade" will not be produced in Quebec, at the definite request of the Archbishop there. When questioned on this subject, the officials of the opera company said they had not yet decided whether or not to produce "Herodiade" in Quebec.

Lt.-Col. Robt. Meighen, in speaking to a Star representative, stated that any difficulty that might have arisen regarding the production of "Zaza" by the Montreal Opera Co. was of a private nature, and would not deny or confirm that Archbishop Bruchesi had requested that the opera be cancelled from the list.

Regarding the cancellation of the opera, Lt.-Col. Meighen said the management had not arrived at a definite decision.

RAFFAELLO GETS A MONTH'S REPRIEVE

SHERBROOKE MURDERER'S GALLOWS WAS READY FOR EXECUTION TO-DAY.

Sherbrooke, Que., Jan. 14—Messrs. O'Grady and Tracy, attorneys for F. Raffaello, the Italian murderer who was to be hanged to-morrow morning, received word about 4 o'clock this afternoon that he had been granted a month's reprieve. The gallows had already been placed in position, and hangman Ellis was on hand. Sheriff Henry Aylmer, of St. Francis district, has made important suggestions in connection with the hanging. He suggests that all Quebec murderers be hanged at the penitentiary and save all extra expense and trouble necessitated by hanging at various points.

VENERABLE PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER DIES AT TORONTO

Toronto, Jan. 14—After a two months illness, Rev. Henry M. Parsons, pastor emeritus of Knox Presbyterian Church, died this morning, in the 75th year of his age.

He was one of the oldest and best known Presbyterian ministers in Toronto. Death was due to general debility, brought on by old age.

Dr. Parsons was born at East Haddam, Mass., Nov. 13, 1838, the son of a Presbyterian minister there. He received his education at Yale University, and at the Yale Theological Seminary. His first charge was at Springfield, where he remained for years. Then moved to Boston and Buffalo.

In 1880 he was called to Knox Church, Toronto, to succeed the late Dr. Topp, and for twenty years was active in the pastorate there.

In 1900 Dr. Parsons retired from the active pastorate of Knox Church, but remained pastor emeritus up to the time of his death.

London, Jan. 14.—Unless unforeseen events should change the current of affairs, the war in the Near East will be resumed within a week and Europe will witness the horrors of a winter campaign.

The allies have firmly made up their minds to take up arms a second time. The Turks last week were threatening to leave London and let matters take whatever course they might. Now the Balkan delegates are convinced that the Turks are merely drifting without a fixed policy, and they have decided to end the seemingly fruitless debates and wire pulling and begin the battles anew where they left off more than a month ago.

TURKS ARE EVASIVE.

The Ottoman government failed to convene the Grand Council to-day and apparently has no intention of meeting the allies' ultimatum on Adrianople. The allies do not believe in the efficacy of the note which the powers will present at Constantinople because it is couched in too mild terms and simply advises Turkey to submit to the fate of war and abandon Adrianople for fear of complications in other parts of the empire at a time when Turkey could not find moral or financial support in Europe.

The Turkish government knows that this means nothing, because it is aware that the powers will be unable to agree upon any coercive measures. Thus the presentation by the powers of the note, it is pointed out, might mean simply the opening of a new chapter in the already wearisome diplomatic parleying and the shifting of the debates from one between the belligerents to one between Turkey and the powers.

Balkans Want Relief.

The Balkan kingdoms, moreover, are anxious to obtain relief from the heavy burdens of keeping their armies on a war footing indefinitely. Wishing, however, to observe all the diplomatic courtesies, they have given the powers a reasonable time to agree on the note, frame it and present it to Turkey. But this once done, if Turkey, as is probable, fails to yield, they are determined to act. Their governments have agreed to call another sitting of the conference through Sir Edward Grey and Rehad Pasha, who, according to rotation, would be the next presiding officer. They will then simply announce their decision definitely to break the negotiations and also thank England for the hospitality extended, and the conditions of fair play under which the discussions occurred.

Immediately afterward, Sofia, Belgrade and Cetinje will denounce the armistice, and the Serbian, Bulgarian and Montenegrin commanders will notify the Turkish headquarters that hostilities will be resumed within 96 hours.

ONLY VERBAL REPORT ON QUEBEC & SAGUENAY

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—(Special.)—In the House of Commons this afternoon the Hon. Mr. Cochrane in reply said that he had only received a verbal report.

PANAMA BILL NO VIOLATION THINKS KNOX

U. S. SECRETARY OF STATE
AGREES WITH PRESIDENT
TAFT IN REPLY.

New York, January 14—A despatch from Washington to the New York World says:—

Secretary of State Knox will reply to Great Britain on the canal tolls question in a few days.

Throughout his reply to Sir Edward Grey, Mr. Knox has confined himself to an argument that under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty the American Government has the right to exclude from the payment of tolls any of its ships which do not compete with those of Great Britain.

AGREES WITH TAFT.

Secretary Knox follows out closely the argument used by President Taft in his memorandum when he signed the Panama Canal Bill, around which the protest of England is built.

He holds as did the President, that Article 3 of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty was adopted by the United States for a specific purpose, namely, as the basis of the neutralization of the canal.

Secretary Knox's interpretation of the words, "The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules on terms of entire neutrality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation, or its citizens or subjects, in respect of conditions or charges or traffic or otherwise," is that all nations will be treated alike and no discrimination made by the United States against any one of them observing the rules adopted by the United States. He takes a very contrary entirely to that held by Sir Edward Grey.

Surrendered No Rights.

Secretary Knox denies that there is anything in the treaty which can be interpreted as meaning that the United States, when it agreed to the treaty, surrendered its rights to regulate its own commerce through the canal. He contends that Great Britain is trying to read into the treaty the question whether the United States has surrendered the right to regulate its own shipping through the canal.

Secretary Knox has answered the other objections raised by Great Britain, one of which was the expressed fear that if the protest against the granting of free passage through the canal to coastwise ships was not passed and insisted upon, the subsidy granted to the coastwise trade would in time be extended to all American shipping, and consequently come in direct conflict with British shipping.

Further Exchange of Notes.

Secretary Knox holds in his argument that the premises assumed by Great Britain are not sound. He closes his argument by asking for the further exchange of notes on the question, and expressing the willingness of the administration to do everything to adjust the dispute.

YACOVLOFF HANGS ON FRIDAY NEXT

CABINET DECIDES LAW MUST TAKE COURSE—MAN IS SANE.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Yacovloff will be hanged on Friday. The Cabinet Council has decided that the law shall take its course in the case of Yacovloff, in Montreal, and Rafaelo at Sherbrooke.

Yacovloff, the murderer of his sister-in-law, Marie Louise Tremblay, sits smiling in his cell and occasionally regales his guards with a song. He jokes and laughs and enjoys life; as much as it is permitted in the Montreal common jail.

The condemned man is in the best of health, he enjoys his meals, which he insists should be served regularly, and he sleeps his eight hours every night.

Yacovloff was twice reprieved. The first time in September when his counsel obtained leave that he should be examined as to his sanity, and the second time four days before the date fixed for his hanging. He was then again taken before Justice Gervais who fixed the date of the execution for the 17th of January and the Cabinet Council, notwithstanding all the efforts which were put forth by Messrs. Geoffrion and Fournier, refused to interfere with that last sentence.

Yacovloff saw two inmates of death row taken to the scaffold within the last couple of months.

The execution will take place on Friday morning at 8 o'clock, and Ellis, the hangman, will again perform the gruesome duty of sending the murderer on his last long journey.

LIBERALS MAKE OFFER TO COMPROMISE NAVAL BILL

Two Dreadnoughts Instead of Three To Be Built in England, Other Units in Canada
---Not Taken Seriously.

(Special to the Chronicle.)

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—If the Liberals intend to obstruct the Naval bill, or to attempt to force an election, there were no signs of it today. On the contrary, Hugh Guthrie, one of the recognized Ontario Liberal leaders, held out the olive branch and suggested that the bill between the two parties be bridged and that a compromise policy be adopted. As Mr. Guthrie's idea of compromise consisted to a very large extent of an acceptance by the government of the Laurier proposals, the suggestion is not taken seriously. The Liberal opposition has apparently come to an end. The prediction is made tonight that the bill will pass in less than a couple of weeks.

GENERAL APATHY SHOWN.

General apathy was shown in the debate today. While the government benches were well represented when Speaker Sproul opened the House, there was barely a baker's dozen of the Liberal members present. Mr. Guthrie got little encouragement from his own side in the way of applause and his whole speech as well as the general attitude of his fellow members was in striking contrast to the spirit of defiance shown before the House adjourned for Christmas recess.

Mr. Guthrie's compromise proposal was that the government reduce the number of its dreadnoughts from three to two, to correspond with the two which were to head the Laurier fleet units.

He proposed that they be built in England instead of Canada, as the Liberals had suggested. The balance of the ships in the two units would be built in Canada. This plan he thought would open up no constitutional difficulties, while the question of the appointment of a Canadian minister in London should be held over for later consideration.

Praise for Mr. Borden.

Mr. Guthrie warmly congratulated Premier Borden on the manner in which he had presented to the House a measure of such vital importance. He had used language of simplicity and dignity, in keeping with his position as first minister of the land. However, while he congratulated, he could neither agree with him as to the facts or to the remedy. Mr. Borden, he had presumed, based his proposals entirely upon the memorandum of the Admiralty. The memorandum did not support the contention of the Prime Minister that there was an emergency.

Mr. Guthrie said that Premier Asquith was in a position to possess the largest amount of political knowledge of anyone in the Empire, for he was in daily touch with the whole situation.

Premier Asquith had stated that Britain's power was overwhelming, superior to that of any foreign fleet. Bonar Law, Mr. Balfour and Lord Crowe had all taken very much the same position.

SEEK HELPLESS STEAMER ADRIAT ON BROAD OCEAN

THE ABESSINIA RUDDERLESS, WITH BROKEN SHAFT, HAS A CREW OF 40.

New York, Jan. 14.—The Hamburg-American Line freighter Abessinia, crippled by the great storm of January 3 and 3, may still be adrift in mid-Atlantic. Wireless from the steamship Cedric yesterday gave grounds for the belief that the Abessinia had been picked up by the freighter Armenian, and was being towed to port; but when the Cedric arrived to-day her captain said the disabled vessel and the rescue ship might have missed each other in the fog.

LAND CALL FOR AID.

The Cedric sighted the German freighter on the night of January 11 to find that she had lost her rudder and broken her shaft. The Cedric's commander decided that because the Cedric had passengers and mail he would send out a general call for aid rather than be delayed.

The Cedric's operator was flooded with replies promising aid from as far away as 150 miles. The Armenian, a White Star freighter, was within 29 miles and her offer was accepted. The Cedric stood by until the Armenian signalled that she could see the lights of the drifting Abessinia. Then the Cedric, believing the disabled ship was safely provided for, resumed her journey. A few hours later came word from the Armenian that a sudden fog had hidden the German freighter before the tow line had been stretched between them.

At midnight of Jan. 12, when the Cedric passed out of wireless radius, the Armenian was still groping in the fog and the crippled steamer was still adrift.

The steamer Pisa, of the Hamburg-American Line, is the likeliest vessel to give prompt assistance to the Abessinia, according to advices received by the line late this afternoon. The Pisa left here Jan. 2 bound for Hamburg and is apparently near the position of the disabled vessel, for a wireless from the Minnetonka of the Atlantic Transport Line, said that the Pisa was proceeding to the Abessinia to render assistance.

The Abessinia is a freighter and carries no passengers. She has a crew of about 40.

ATTEMPT TO RELEASE THE URANIUM FAILS.

Halifax, Jan. 14.—The pull on the steamer Uranium made this afternoon failed to release the liner. Cargo is being removed and one hundred tons is now out of the forward hold. Four steamers will be put on her at the next pull. The weather conditions continue favorable.

A PERMANENT POLICY.

It is clear that the naval building programmes of Germany, Austria and Italy are in themselves a menace to British supremacy, and, therefore, that even in this sense there exists an emergency justifying the prompt action of Premier Borden. The confidential information imparted to the Government by the Lords of the Admiralty tends to strengthen the conviction that contributory aid is our best and most effective policy at the moment. Ultimately, of course, we shall have a permanent policy.

It may be granted that the principle of the Laurier navy was good. But it was never developed. Niggard hands held the purse strings and there was no earnest effort to make the Canadian force efficient. The Liberal Government was half-hearted and sluggish on defence questions and the Liberal leaders were trying to quiet a public opinion which they affected to think should not exist. A Canadian navy of obsolete vessels is utterly useless.

In the long run provision may be made on each coast for a full naval unit. But this cannot be yet. And as to men, any permanent policy must consider the possibility of obtaining recruits. In a new and prosperous country that task must of necessity be a difficult one. The man who can make $60 a month on shore will not exchange his freedom for ship discipline when the naval pay may be only about half. But the militia idea might be applied to naval as well as to military service.

The Toronto News suggests that we might utilize the natural patriotism of the citizen by establishing training barges in the ocean and lake ports where volunteers might be instructed in the essentials of gunnery, the care of equipment, the mechanics of engineering and electricity as applied to modern naval practice and in the countless other requisites.

Instructors for these barges might be borrowed from the British navy until such time as men from our own permanent forces were competent for the task and annual cruises of two or three weeks' duration for each company of naval militia would assist in creating all over the country a reserve force that might be used in time of trouble. The tendency of some Liberal papers to talk about manning our three Dreadnoughts with Canadians is based on a misconception. The navy man does not happen. He is a person of training. Even a merchant seaman on a battleship would be a lubber for a long while.

THE BOTHA DISPUTE.

Fuller details with regard to the recent resignation of Premier Botha of South Africa show that this action on his part was due entirely to friction between himself and General Hertzog, the South African Bourassa, over the question of British connection.

Since the event of the South African Union General Hertzog has been the leader of the Boer extremists. Almost from the beginning his narrow and bigoted views caused trouble in the administration and matters came to a crisis last month.

In a bye-election contest the question of South African participation in Imperial defence came up. General Botha affirmed the readiness of his government to do its share, and, speaking at Grahamstown early in the month, he said that wherever he had spoken he had said only one thing. He knew the Dutch people and he knew they would stand by him, and neither he nor they would stand back before any man in loyalty to the Empire." Also, while asking for time for the education of his people and for consultation with the Admiralty, General Botha declared that "the Cabinet recognized their responsibility to undertake the naval defence of South Africa as they had done on land."

But next General Hertzog at Rustenberg declared that "Imperialism was important to him only when it was useful to South Africa; and, when it was not serviceable, he had respect for it from a distance, but, as a South African, he had little to do with it; and, when it was contrary to the interests of South Africa, he was a distinct enemy to Imperialism." Regarding the navy he intimated that all the talk about it was fomented by "the great capitalists."

The only choice after this was whether Botha would dismiss Hertzog from his Cabinet or resign himself. Botha chose the latter. This was probably a wise move. Over an ordinary political issue, the only sensible thing to do would be for a Premier to eject an insubordinate minister. But in a grave racial issue, something is to be gained by allowing the people to see that mere racial champions can only get along as kickers. Botha having resigned it became manifest that General Hertzog could not even form a Government, let alone carry it on. After a week's interregnum, General Botha was invited to form a new government, which he is doing.

The episode must show how high is the estimation in which General Botha has come to be held throughout the Empire. There will be a general hope that he will overcome the difficulties of the political situation in South Africa, which remain great.

POSTAL EFFICIENCY.

The Ottawa Citizen gives a measure of well-deserved praise to Hon. L. P. Pelletier for the recent improvements in Canada's post office department which, it says, has several times recently come into the limelight, each time showing gratifying progress. In this connection it says:—"The declared intention of the postmaster-general to consider favorably the establishment of the parcels post in the Dominion is the latest evidence of a progressiveness which can hardly receive too much praise at the hands of the people whom it would so splendidly serve."

Reviewing the history of the department for the past twenty years the Citizen goes on to say that when the Liberals came into power in 1896 there was a deficit in the department, this being due rather to the growing needs of the country than to inefficient management. When Sir William Mulock became Postmaster-General his aim, perhaps, naturally enough, was to turn the deficit into a surplus. Unfortunately, however, he failed to realize that efficiency of service is more desirable than any surplus and he therefore sacrificed the former to the latter.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux followed practically the same course and everyone will remember how in his time the employees of the department clamored in vain for the increase in salaries which the rising cost of living rendered almost imperative.

Since Mr. Pelletier took over the office he has done justice to the employees and extended the service as well. The salaries paid are better and the service rendered is much greater while the rural routes have been increased as the needs of the country demand. In the matter of efficiency, too, much improvement is shown. Yet, in spite of the extra cost and the abandonment of the old surplus-or-die policy the surplus has been increased very materially. For all this Mr. Pelletier merits much credit, and, as the Citizen remarks, "it is only hoped that he will speedily make the crowning climax of his excellent administration the establishment of a parcels post system."

OBSTRUCTION.

Judging from the general disgust aroused by the announcement of blocking tactics made by the Liberal press and a few of the ex-Ministers whose utter inability to interpret the feeling of the Canadian electorate led to their being swept out of existence two years ago, it will not be very long before the leaders of the Liberal party are compelled to renounce their obstructive ideas.

It will easily be seen that few of these Liberal journals have as yet dared to counsel opposition in their editorial columns and we are sure that none of the local organs of the Opposition will enter upon such a course without a good many searchings of heart. They well know that the public will not be slow to voice its disgust at such unworthy tactics.

A Wall Street paper calculates that during the past seven years there has been an exodus from the United States, mainly from the north-western border States, to Canada, of not less than 676,305 souls. Statistics are available to show that the capital taken in by these people has averaged $800 to $1,500 per head, furnishing a total sum of $775,350,000 (155 millions sterling) for the up-building of Canada. It seems to us, says the journal in question, that this addition to the working capital of Canada requires to be borne in mind by the economist when he deals with the so-called adverse balance of trade against Canada at the present time. Will it keep up? With such a copious reservoir as the United States to draw upon it is hard to see how the movement can very well cease until Canada is relatively filled up.

Comment of The Press

Lord Hardinge is the second viceroy of India to be struck by an assassin. In 1872 Lord Mayo was killed by a vicious convict while on a visit to the Andamans. The position of the head of the government of India is probably as perilous as any in the service of Great Britain. The masses of the people are satisfied and many are earnestly loyal in their adherence to British rule. There are many fanatics among them, however, and of late political agitators, sometimes encouraged from Great Britain, have worked to create and spread dissatisfaction. In this latest case the intended victims happily escaped. It will be necessary in the future, however, to have a greater care over the viceroy.—Vancouver Sun.

One important reason given for public ownership has been the fact that municipalities have been able to borrow money at a lower rate than companies. This has been true, and is now to a certain extent, but the rates for municipal loans and public utility bonds have been steadily approaching one another, and this process is likely to continue. The enormous municipal debts which American and English cities are running up are tending to render capital cautious, and although not only the property of the municipality, but that of every individual citizen, stands as security for the municipal loans, still the difficulties which would arise if a municipality should go into bankruptcy—not an unthinkable proposition—does not allure the investor. This may seem an exaggerated statement, but the United States Census Bureau reports show that between 1902 and 1908 the sixteen largest cities in the United States increased their gross debts by $646,000,000, or 71.6 per cent., while during the same time their population increased only 15.5 per cent. This means that the gross debt of these cities for each man woman and child living in them rose from $75.47 to $112.50. Such an increase cannot continue without a demand from investors for a higher rate of interest to compensate for the risk.—Walter S. Allen in the North American Review.

During the years that the Laurier Government dallied with the Hudson Bay railway question Eastern critics of that proposed grain route did not hesitate to express scepticism as to its feasibility. Tales about the shortness of the navigation season, about the immense flocks of ice in the bay and harbors, about the impossibility of obtaining insurance for vessels on such a hazardous route, were spread with some gusto even by leading supporters of those supposedly staunch friends of the Western farmers—the Laurier Ministers. The halting steps taken by the late Government towards the fulfilment of its pledge to build the road, and the lack of real investigation of the water route possibilities showed its heart was not in the undertaking. When Mr. Borden came into office his Government was charged with the duty of carrying out his election promise to proceed at once to open the route. That duty became doubly pressing because of the inadequacy of the existing Canadian outlets for the Western grain. The delay in the construction of the Western half of the National Transcontinental had left the West with only a single rail outlet to the East. It was imperative that as the Borden Government proposed a development of Canadian trade with Canadian channels, in contradistinction to finding relief from the difficulties of the transportation situation by making general use of United States railways, United States milling interests United States grain exporting terminals, Canadian railway facilities must be up to the capacity required by the growing traffic of the country. The Borden Government applied itself to the task. In the success of the harvest traffic movement this Fall is to be seen part of the fruit of its energy. In the completion of the National Transcontinental to Cochrane in time to assist in the rail movement of the crop is more evidence. The plans now being rapidly carried out for the construction of the Hudson Bay route will yield further fruit of the same kind. The contracts for the railway construction having all been let the arrangement of terminals and of aids to navigation now occupies attention. In the Spring a party will be sent out to locate sites for the installation of buoys, lighthouses, and other necessary guides for vessels, and the work on the terminals at Fort Nelson and Le Pas will be begun in earnest. The Government has, by order-in-council, reserved a half-mile strip of land on each side of the railway that it may control all land schemes in connection with the railway. The only departure from this rule is in Le Pas, where owing to the neglect of the late Minister of Railways and Canals land needed for terminals was allowed to pass into private ownership, and now has to be rebought by the Government at a high cost.—Mail and Empire.

WILL PROBE ST. LAWRENCE SYSTEM

MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES TAKES ACTION TO IMPROVE PILOTAGE.

Following on representations made to the Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, by representative shipping men, it has been decided to appoint a commission to be known as the Pilotage Commission to inquire into the whole system of the appointment of pilots in Canada. The Commission will direct its energies more particularly to the method of appointment and to the workings of the pilot organizations as seen on the Atlantic coast and the River St. Lawrence.

This prompt action on the part of the Minister will meet with the approval of not only the shipping men of the country but of all those who have to travel by water. The action has been precipitated by the number of marine accidents, which have taken place on the St. Lawrence within the past six months.

Pilots Blamed.

At one point four months ago near the City of Quebec two large ocean going steamers went aground almost at the same spot. After a thorough investigation it was found that in both instances the pilots were to blame. This led shipping people to look into the question of the appointment of pilots and it was alleged that there existed a combine amongst them to the disadvantage of capable men, who might otherwise be qualified.

Dangerous System.

This combine is described as of the family type, picturesque but dangerous. Its influence extends to the system of examining pilots. The present examining board for pilots was granted a federal charter many years ago before the potentialities of St. Lawrence shipping were fully recognized. This board was composed of members of certain families on the Lower and Upper St. Lawrence. They set the tests for admission to the rank of pilot with the inevitable result that only certain members of families were allowed to pass.

Has Flourished.

A former Minister of Marine in the Laurier government, the Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, passed legislation that the Government should have the right to have certain ex-officio members on the Pilot Examining Board. But these are only a small number of the Board and the so called combine has been allowed to flourish with serious results in many cases to the reputation of St. Lawrence shipping.

Do Away With Favoritism.

It is probable that the government will have the whole system of examining pilots brought directly under federal supervision with the examiners appointed by the Government. This will do away with favoritism and in different tests for admission to the rank of pilot. The question is one of the most important, which the Minister has been called upon to deal with.

STEEL TRUST RAISES WAGES

MILLION DOLLARS A MONTH

New York, Jan. 14.—Wage advances aggregating approximately $1,000,000 a month have already been arranged for by subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, in line with plans recently announced, according to a statement by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the Steel Corporation today.

"In accordance with the recent announcement made by the chairman respecting an adjustment in wages," says the statement, "many of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation have made up their schedules, which together aggregate an increase in wages of about $1,000,000 per month, commencing about February 1. These benefits largely apply to the workmen receiving the lowest daily wages. Some of the mining companies are not included for the reason that wages have been heretofore adjusted by these companies and are now above the average."

EVERYBODY HURT BY TARIFF REDUCTION—HOW THE
WATCH TRADE DOES BUSINESS.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The metal schedule of the tariff law was again under fire before the House Committee on Ways and Means to-day, several steel manufacturing interests contending for retention of the present duties in the schedule.

S. P. Kerr, of Sharon, Pa., president of the Sharon Steel Hoop Company, advocated changes in the phraseology of the law to avoid importers taking advantage of its terms.

Mr. Kerr expressed optimism of the future of the steel industry regardless of any action the Democratic administration might take. He said the steel manufacturing industry was practically limitless in its possibilities and he urged protection against invasion from abroad. He added that if the industry was disturbed, the capital would remain and the companies would reduce labor to the point of meeting with the competition.

R. E. Jennings, representing the Carpenter Steel Company of Pennsylvania, urging the present tariff law, testified that the labor cost of production in the crucible steel industry was about 40 to 50 per cent of the total cost, which he said, in response to Chairman Underwood, was much greater than in the Bessemer or open hearth steel business.

Wants a Dumping Clause.

E. P. Reichelm, of New York, wanted the present tariff retained on the products of the file and tool industry. During the discussion Mr. Kerr advocated a dumping clause to prevent the sending of goods into this country at prices lower than in the country of production.

"If we had a dumping clause in this metal schedule," asked Chairman Underwood, "don't you think that the rates fixed in our metal bill last session would be sufficient?"

"I don't think that is so. We don't know as to that yet."

Mr. Underwood asked as to the reasons for the United States Steel Corporation's proposed increase of wages. Mr. Kerr said he thought "that the corporation was taking time by the forelock to hold its labor."

Affairs of the Waltham Watch Company of Waltham, Mass., also were taken up by the committee, which continued its session far into the night.

C. A. Keene, of New York, a watch retailer, whom E. C. Fitch, of the Waltham Watch Company, criticized for violating the company's price standard, urged the committee to fix a tariff of 30 per cent ad valorem on watch movements of all grades, and with regard to watches brought back from abroad 20 per cent to apply on the improvements only.

He said he found several years ago it was quite profitable to go abroad to buy American watches to sell here. Other purchases included a Waltham movement, $9.90 here, foreign list price, $9.98, which he bought abroad for $8. He asserted the Waltham company now seeks to prevent the re-shipment to America of their watches by adding dials to these watches after the latter get abroad, thus making them dutiable.

As one familiar with watches, he said, he could not see where there was any improvement, but it put up a customs barrier in the interest of their lower foreign price list policy. He said the Waltham Company had tried to force him to sell only at their prices, and that he couldn't get their watches to handle now.

Company Fixes Prices.

"If a dealer undersells their price he can't buy any more," suggested Representative Palmer of Pennsylvania.

"Precisely," replied the witness. Mr. Keene said the specific rates on various grades of watches under the present tariff were what the watch companies wanted and he favored an ad valorem tariff, more importations.

"Haven't you imported watches and sold them for less than they cost you?" asked Representative Fordney of Michigan.

"May be so, they might be mixed up in the stock sometimes." Mr. Keene was asked about the Waltham Company selling him watches in London on the expectation he would sell them in Egypt.

"Oh, yes," he said. "I put up that job, and by the way, those watches went to Aden, Arabia. We put on a new label there and then re-shipped them to this country and I made about 30 per cent profit." He said further that India, Ceylon and other foreign places figured in similar transactions. He told of being enjoined by the Waltham interests and how at last, before the injunction, he "tried very hard to keep on getting the goods."

"Some years ago," said the witness, explaining the source of his troubles, "the Waltham Company had trouble in selling the watches, one jobber in Illinois, for instance, being short a certain grade, and another in Texas having too many. I conceived the idea of buying in one market and selling in another, whereby the jobber got what he wanted, when he wanted it, contrary apparently to the Waltham's idea, for they stopped me."

"JIM CROW" CAR CASE IN COURT

WOMAN SUES BECAUSE NEGROES HAD BERTHS IN SLEEPING CAR.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Probably the most novel "Jim Crow" case ever before the Supreme Court of the United States reached it to-day when the Alabama and Vicksburg Railroad Co. filed an appeal from the verdict of the Mississippi Court, which awarded Miss Pearl Morris $15,000 for distress of mind and body caused by being required to occupy a berth in a Pullman car in which three negro men occupied berths. The Supreme Court of Mississippi reduced the damages to $2,000.

No case of this nature has ever been considered by the Supreme Court. The case is attracting particular attention because the Mississippi courts have interpreted the "Jim Crow" law of that state as applicable to interstate commerce as well as to interstate travel. They justify the law on the ground that the "Jim Crow" law was enacted to preserve order by separating the two races, and disturbance is as likely to occur upon an interstate train passing through the state as upon a local train.

Another point upon which the case may serve as a precedent in case of affirmance is that state "Jim Crow" laws requiring separate accommodations on passenger trains mean that separate Pullman cars must be furnished as well as separate "passenger" cars.

In the case brought to the court to-day, Miss Morris boarded the train at Vicksburg for New York. Upon entering the Pullman she observed the presence there of three negroes. She at once demanded separate accommodations, which were refused.

NOTABLES ENTERTAIN OFFICERS OF NATAL

New York, Jan. 14.—Captain Grotz and other officers of the British cruiser Natal, which brought home the body of Whitelaw Reid, Ambassador to Great Britain, were entertained at luncheon to-day by the Pilgrims of the United States. Joseph Choate was toastmaster. The gathering included many men notable in the army and navy, Sir Ernest Shackleton, Robert E. Peary, Chauncey M. Depew, and Mrs. Robert D. Evans, widow of "Fighting Bob." She was the only woman present.

GAMES TO-NIGHT.

QUEBEC AT CANADIENS.
Wanderers at Ottawa.
Toronto at Tecumsehs.

Naturally the sensation of the hour in local sporting circles is the suspension of Joe Hall for his conduct toward referee Tom Melville in the Quebec-Canadiens match played here last Saturday night.

Interviewed last night, the Quebec executive said that while the punishment might "fit the crime" and they were just as anxious as President Quinn to stamp out all rowdiness in the league, they were nevertheless of the opinion that it was a case of discrimination against Quebec.

QUOTE CLEGHORN CASE.

They remark that Sprague Clegghorn, who was infinitely worse, got off with a much lighter sentence and they also instance the case where Odie Clegghorn actually assaulted Melville and there was no suspension.

As for Joe Hall, they point out that it is four years or so since the incident in which he was mixed up with Roddie Kennedy occurred and that there has been no serious complaint against him since then. They are of the opinion, however, that simply because of that incident there is not a single referee who thinks he is doing his duty unless he chalks up something against Hall in pretty nearly every match that he plays, while other players who are guilty of the most flagrant offences get off scotfree every time.

No Use For Melville.

As for Tom Melville, if the Quebec club gets its way, he will never referee in any match down here again. They by no means forget the way in which he ruled both Paddy Moran and Marks off last year at a most critical period in a Montreal match, when his decision was so unfair as to excite the derision of the crowd.

Again, taking his record for this year, they refer to the three matches which he has refereed up to date. In the first, which was the exhibition game between Wanderers and Canadiens, he only ruled Sprague Clegghorn off for one match and might not have done even that if Clegghorn had not been summoned before the courts. Besides, Clegghorn did not stick at laying his man out.

In the second match, Quebec versus Wanderers, he ruled Mummery off, but let Odie Clegghorn poke him in the face.

Lastly, in the match here last Saturday he gave absolutely nothing

The membrane of the face is very tender is specially compounded to soothe and heal—Dries instantly—Never sticky—absolutely antiseptic.

SEELY'S AFTER-SHAVE

against the Canadiens, though Laviolette and Dubeau jumped on Mummery and hit him in the face when he was up in a corner near the Canadian goal and though there were numerous instances of dirty work on the part of the visiting team.

Hall Had Provocation.

In the case of Joe Hall there was plenty of provocation as, according to Joe himself, Lalonde used the most filthy and disgusting language to him from the very beginning of the match and got away with a lot of underhanded work.

Almost every member of the Quebec team got something from the Canadian centre and yet the referee never called him down. As everyone knows, Joe Malone is about the cleanest player in the league and it was for this reason that Lalonde made a dead set at him throughout the game, and did everything to anger him, digging him with the short end of the stick, poking the hook end into his face and everything else that he could think of. As a result the Quebec executive has filed a protest against Lalonde's playing.

Team Is Confident.

The loss of Hall at this juncture, just when Quebec is called upon to face its most dangerous opponents, the Canadiens and Tecumsehs, will be a serious handicap to the team, but for all that they are confident that they will pull out of to-night's match with a bigger lead than they took last Saturday.

The line-up will be:—Goal, Paddy Moran; point, Mummery; cover-point, Crawford; centre, Joe Malone; right wing, Marks; left wing, T. Smith; spares, Jeff Malone, Joe Savard, Billy Creighton and Delaney. It is very probable that Joe Labrecque, who is in Montreal at the present time, will be tried out on the defence if the occasion arises.

As for the criticisms of La Presse concerning the game here last week, several of the French-Canadian supporters of the club say that the paper in question can only look at the game from a racial viewpoint and that some of its representatives have reproached them for favoring the Quebec club against the Canadiens.

As To Disputed Game.

Referring to the statement that the equalizing goal scored by Quebec was an offside one, Mr. Chas. J. MacNamara, who assisted Melville, says that the puck was put outside by coming in contact with Dubeau's skate when Smith passed it to Marks.

Another goal which Quebec put through was not allowed as it went right through the net. Hundreds, however, saw it go through, however, saw it go through.

Another thing that is not generally known is that Mr. Dorval and others who are making all kinds of accusations against the Quebec club tried to prevent Tom Melville from boarding the same train as they left here, and to all appearances mobbed him on the way up to Montreal. Several of the Canadiens were crying like children after the match.

Joe Hall received a good offer from Halifax to put in the rest of the season with them, but said last night that he would stay with Quebec. It is known that Halifax thinks they have got him.

SOME HEALTHY ADVICE.

Our advice to Joe Hall is to speak kindly and the office boy has taken another spasm over this hockey fuss. This time it is a poem to Joe addressed as follows:

"Speak kindly to a grizzly bear;
He is a quiet cuss,
But, though he wears a quiet air,
He is cantankerous.

Speak kindly to the healthy mule;
His temper may be quick,
And he is hasty as a rule
To register a kick.

Speak kindly, Joe, to beasts and men,
To animals and chumps,
But, most of all, speak kindly when Conversing with the umps."

N. H. A. RULES
CLEARLY DEFINED

The following is a copy of a circular letter sent out to the officials by President Emmett Quinn, of the National Hockey Association, so as to have a uniform interpretation of the rules:

Dear Sir: As there seems to be a difference of opinion amongst some of the officials acting in our league matches this season, I deem it prudent that I should instruct each official just what his duties shall consist of, and by so doing have uniform rulings in all our games:

As referee your duties are as follows, viz:

You are to have complete control over the players and officials, on or off the ice, you have power to overrule an umpire's decision and remove him, should you in your own opinion, decide that he has been unfair in his decisions.

It is your duty to see that the game is started at the scheduled time of 8:15 p.m., and should there be more than 15 minutes' delay, kindly state the cause of such delay and the club at fault in your report.

Each home club shall furnish you with such report, with the names of the players, prior to the starting of the match.

Kindly see that the goals are changed at the end of each 20-minute period, including any overtime play.

With regard to the fouls, it seems to be the general impression amongst the players that in some cases they have been penalized for a mere infraction of the rules, and if such is the case the rules have been wrongly interpreted.

The rules expressly define the classes of fouls, as follows: Major, minor, and match.

A minor foul shall consist of deliberately holding an opponent or his stick, tripping when a goal is not in danger, loafing offside.

A major foul shall consist of throwing a stick to prevent a score, tripping an opponent when the latter is attempting to score, cross-checking, charging from behind, kicking, collaring, hooking, loafing off side after having been fined for same offence as a minor foul.

The stopping of a goal by a goalkeeper deliberately lying or kneeling on the ice.

Using foul or abusive language to any official.

A match foul shall consist in deliberately injuring or disabling an opponent. Clean body checking is permissible at all times.

Kicking the puck with the skate, batting same with the hand or stick, raising the stick over the shoulder to stop the puck, are only infractions of the rules of hockey, and merely call for a face, without any foul, in other words, anything not defined in the three classes above mentioned are only infractions.

Do not depend upon the recorder to get your penalties, after you signal to the public the class of foul by raising the recorder himself of the class of foul committed and thereby insuring the proper recording of same. In case of loafing off side be sure to state same to the recorder as a third offence constitutes a major foul.

When the puck goes off the ice behind the goals see that same is taken midway between the goal posts and outside edge of the rink, on the side that it went out of bounds, and faced five yards at right angles from the goal line.

Do not give a goal keeper a major foul for falling on the ice after he has stopped the puck, the rule states he must not deliberately lie or kneel on the ice to stop the puck.

A rebound off any part of the goal-keeper, including his skates, but excepting his stick, shall be considered on side.

In conclusion, permit me to remind you that the players are human like yourself; a little friendly advice on your part during a game will help considerably to keep the game clean, and from past experiences I know that you will find that they are only too anxious to make your duties light. Co-operate with them and I fell positive that they will endeavor to the best of their ability to uphold the principle of giving the public clean hockey.

The public demand that it should be such, the rules call for it, and I look to the officials to see that we get it. Trusting that this letter will be received in the same spirit in which it is written, and that in future your duties shall be lighter, I remain, yours respectfully,

T. EMMETT QUINN.

NEW YORK TRACK GETS THE READVILLE DATES

Pittsburg, Jan. 14.—The stewards of the Grand Circuit this afternoon admitted the Empire track of New York City to the circuit and assigned the week of Aug. 25 for the meet surrendered by Readville.

CHANCE INTENDS TO PLAY FIRST BASE

Los Angeles, Jan. 14.—Frank Chance, the new manager of the New York American League team, returned to his orange ranch at Glendora today. He said he would leave home February 4 for New York.

"Will you be a bench manager?" he was asked.
"No," was the reply. "I expect to play first base some of the time. Chase and I will alternate, probably."

ANDREW CARNEGIE SAYS
"BUY LAND"

This great Steel Magnate - whom we have all read about - is a self made man and a shrewd Financier. He is not only a big land owner himself but his constant advice to others is to "BUY LAND" - Suburban Properties.

City and Suburban Real Estate is the best of all possible good investments—this has been proven conclusively.

An investigation will show that most of the big fortunes of this would, if not founded on the ownership of land, rely on realty for their maintenance and strength.

The enormous ASTOR ESTATE of New York City is the most prominent example and proof of this statement. This fortune is essentially a REAL ESTATE FORTUNE. The policy laid down by shrewd old John Jacob Astor and always followed by his successors, was to buy Manhattan Real Estate, never sell it, but to invest its earnings in other Manhattan property a little out from the centre; until now in Greater New York, from the heart of old downtown New York to the furthestmost limits of the Greater City, and a little beyond, the map is dotted with Astor holidays, all paying a revenue to the Astor Co. larger and larger as the City expands.

REAL ESTATE is now, and always has been the measure of wealth and importance. The old feudal system was based on the ownership of "BROAD ACRES". And the money earners of to-day count the bulk of their wealth in realty holdings.

The ownership of a piece of property, no matter how modest, at once stamps the possessor as a person of consideration and means. It is a basis of credit. It is a passport to the guild of influential citizens.

Andrew Carnegie's advice to others is "BUY LAND."

Our advice—backed up by years of experience—to you today is the same. WE SAY—"BUY LAND IN MONTREAL, AT MONTREAL PARK."

SOMETHING THAT WILL INTEREST YOU IN OUR NEXT AD.

JOHNSON STOPPED AT THE BORDER

PUGILIST ON WAY TO ARRANGE PARIS FIGHT WITH PALZER.

COMING FOR GOOD.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—It is stated that permanent residence had been arranged here for Jack Johnson, who had become disgusted at what he terms his persecution by United States authorities.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 14.—Jack Johnson, negro heavyweight pugilist, was taken off a train here early today by the local police, and is being held pending the arrival of Chicago authorities, who requested his detention. Johnson was accompanied by his wife and two negro friends.

According to the local officers, he admitted that he was on his way to Toronto. The pugilist is being detained at the home of a negro friend. Johnson is said to have at first insisted that the local authorities had no right to detain him, but when a patrol wagon came in sight he left the wagon without further trouble.

To Consult Tom Flanagan.

He said he did not wish to violate any of the terms of the bond insuring his appearance in United States District Court, and simply intended to go to Toronto to consult with Tom Flanagan, his former manager, regarding a proposed fight with Al Palzer in Paris. He claimed that the latter's manager has offered to arrange a fight for $25,000.

Chicago detectives were expected to arrive here about noon.

Mann Act violations are not extraditable, and for this reason Johnson had no right to leave the United States, the federal authorities assert. His payment on the train of cash fare to Toronto indicated his intention to go to Canada, say the police.

CORRECTION.

The trophy won by the 8th Royal Rifles indoor baseball team was not, as reported, the Boswell Cup, but was given by the Beauport Brewery.

WILL BULLETIN MATCH TONIGHT

RESULTS OF QUEBEC-CANADIEN GAME WILL BE GIVEN AT SKATING RINK.

The details of the match to be played between Quebec and Canadiens in Montreal to-night will be bulletined at the Quebec Skating Rink to-night during the match between St. Patricks and Crescent.

This match will give the St. Pats. management a line on the players to represent them in their opening game of the Interprovincial League against Three Rivers on Saturday.

Sporting Notes

Englishmen all over the world thrill whenever the "English Cup" is mentioned. It is a magnificent silver cup awarded to the winner of the English football championship. At a recent meeting of the national football committee in England sixty-five clubs were drawn up for the tournament. This will go on till the final contest, which will be held in April at the Crystal Palace. Over 150,000 people will attend the final meeting to decide the championship football team of England.

Kolemainen, the wonderful Finn, is suffering from the effects of the American climate and the conditions of living in this country. He is at the present time away off form and has little hopes of regaining his wonderful speed for some time.

The sale of Louis Cook, last year's manager of the Ottawa Baseball Club, has been completed, Guelph making the purchase. Louie will manage the Maple Leafs this season and chances are will bring his team here for the opening contest. Cook should make a good manager, both on account of his ability to create harmony in a club as well as his popularity with the fans. He is a good player himself and will likely play the outfield for his club.

GROWS A TWO-POUND LEMON.

Bantry, N. D., Jan. 14.—Successfully growing lemons for some time, Mrs. Johnson of near here has one that weighs two pounds and is twelve inches in circumference. It is about a year old. Her trees have a number of others in lesser stages of development.

RIVERS BEATS LEACH CROSS

NEW YORKER HAD BETTER OF FIRST TWO ROUNDS, BUT COULDN'T HOLD OUT.

New York, Jan. 14.—Joe Rivers, the Mexican lightweight, outpointed Leach Cross of this city in a ten-round bout here tonight. Cross had the better of the first two rounds. While the New Yorker was showering rights and lefts to the head in the first round, the Mexican slipped to one knee at the ropes, but was up in an instant, adopted blocking tactics and proved Cross' superior at infighting. In the second round Cross scored the only real knockdown of the bout with a left hook under the jaw.

Thence on, Rivers fought cleverly and was so rapid in movement that Cross frequently could not find him, losing his range and missing and becoming decidedly wild at some stages. Rivers' showing in the last eight rounds earned him a victory by a comfortable margin.

Each man weighed a fraction more than 133 pounds at 9:45. They were to weigh in at 133 ringside.

TORONTO Y. M. C. A. TO TACKLE FOREIGN PROBLEM

Toronto, Jan. 14.—The Toronto Central Y. M. C. A. has taken upon itself the question of the city's foreign problem, and a committee has been appointed to find a solution. The plan of the committee is to include all "strangers within our gates," and to help all alike whether they be black yellow or scarlet in exterior color. The various Protestant churches may also fall in line with the project and a meeting is being arranged to have an open discussion on the matter.

The Y. M. C. A. proposes to have men travel on the trains from the different ports and direct the newcomers before they reach the city. Men will also give assistance at the Union Station, and an office may be opened near the depot.

MINISTER'S LIBEL SUIT COMES TO SUDDEN END

Hamilton, Ont., Jan. 14.—A surprise was sprung at the last hour today in the libel action of Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., against Rev. J. J. Ross, formerly of Toronto.

When Justice Meredith threw out the case at Toronto last week on the ground that, when it came up in police court originally, the defence did not have an opportunity to cross-examine Pastor Russell, the latter at once starting proceedings all over again, and on Saturday had a summons issued. The case was scheduled to come up in police court this morning before Magistrate Jellics, but at the last moment it was found that Mr. Ross, the defendant, had left the city, presumably on the advice of his counsel.

In view of this, the case had to be adjourned. It will now be impossible for the plaintiff to bring on the trial at the assizes, which opened today. Pastor Russell wanted to rush the case through.

ANOTHER DONATION TO FIREMEN'S FUND

MISS EMMA WIGGS SENDS CHECK FOR WORK AT THE CHATEAUVERT FIRE.

Mayor Drouin on Monday last received the sum of $50 from Miss Emma C. Wiggs for the Firemen's Fund, as a token of appreciation for the work done by the Quebec Fire Brigade at the recent fire on the St. Foye Road, which resulted in the destruction of the residence and stables of Mr. V. Chateauvert and the Quebec Hunt Club premises.

This is the third tangible recognition the Quebec firemen have received for their work at the fire. Mr. Chateauvert previously sent his check for $100 and the town of Montcalm contributed $50.

The following is a copy of the letter received by Mayor Drouin from Miss Wiggs:

Hessel Grove, St. Foye Road,
January 10th, 1913.

Nap. Drouin, Esq.,
Mayor of Quebec.

Dear Sir,—Being desirous of recognizing your kindness in allowing the fire brigade of the city of Quebec to come to the assistance of our own local brigade at the recent fire in this vicinity, I herewith enclose a donation of $50, as a slight token of my appreciation to be given to the Firemen's Fund.

Yours truly,
Emma C. Wiggs.

The Quebec Firemen's Association feel grateful for the donations to their fund that they have received from citizens and put to excellent use.

It is now suggested that the entire fund in their possession should be handed over to the city providing that it would be made the nucleus for a pension fund.

"Peter is an expensive monkey," sighed Manager Paquet, "but it looks as if we'd have to have a peep at so fastidious an ape." So a wire went back to the Montreal representative to use his own judgment, which, Mr. Paquet says, doubtless means that Peter will be at the Auditorium all next week.

JONQUIERE FIRE CLAIMS ANOTHER

Death claimed another victim of the Jonquiere fire yesterday, when Mrs. Hick, who was burned last Thursday evening, as the result of a gasoline lamp explosion, after lingering five days, finally succumbed to her injuries.

The particulars of the explosion are as follows: Last Thursday Mr. Hick, one of the engineers working for Messrs. Price Brothers at Jonquiere, on returning home, found that a serious accident had occurred. The maid, an elderly woman named Mrs. Lila, had evidently used coal oil to light the fire for supper, and the oil exploded.

One of the neighbors, hearing one of the children screaming, rushed in and found the maid dead at the front door, to which she had evidently rushed with the oil can. Mrs. Hick and one of the children were badly burned about the head and hands, and both were left in a critical condition. The baby was also burned, but not so badly as the others, and the house was singed from top to bottom, but did not take fire.

Dr. Pouliot, of Jonquiere, gave the greatest attention and care to the sufferers, but it was all in vain in the case of Mrs. Hick, and, according to latest advices, the eldest child also is in a very low condition.

PROPERTY

The Property is situated in the Township of Amherst, in the County of Labelle Province of Quebec containing about six hundred acres as follows:

TOWNSHIP OF AMHERST.

Range VI — West Part Lot 13.
VI — " " 14.
VI — Lot 15.
VI — " 16.
VII — " 18.
VII — " 19.
VII — East Part Lot 20.
VII — " " 21.

Three hundred acres are owned outright, and the balance is held under mining license.

The Mine is twelve miles from St. Jovite on Canadian Pacific Railway, and ten miles from Huberdeau on the Canadian Northern Railway.

REPORT ON PROPERTY BY FRITZ CIRKEL.

A detailed report upon this property has been made by Mr. Fritz Cirkel, the well-known geologist and mineralogist, author of an important monograph on "Graphite, its Properties, Occurrence, Refining and Uses," which has been published by the Department of Mines of the Dominion of Canada and which is regarded as an authoritative hand-book on the subject.

DESCRIPTIVE REPORT

In this report Mr. Cirkel states that lots 15 and 16, four sections of the deposits gave a total graphite width of 143 inches, or approximately 36 inches per section of eight feet width, or in other words, out of 8 feet of rock surface, as an average three feet were occupied by graphite of the crude and disseminated variety, the greater portion of which is flake graphite of the highest grade.

Mr. Cirkel states that all of the graphite as exposed in these veins and pockets is of a high grade quality, and if properly treated and refined would yield an article similar to the best of the Ceylon Product.

Remarking upon pit No. 3, Mr. Cirkel states that fully fifty per cent of a width of 28 feet is taken up by Graphite.

The Graphite belt crosses the country in a north-easterly direction for a distance of two miles. As to Lot 16, owned by the Company, Mr. Cirkel states that the work so far done shows conclusively that this belt has a width of at least 200 feet, and contains for a length of at least 1400 feet, graphite deposits of workable extent and of a quality which ranks with the best in the market.

As to the quality of the Ore which has been discovered on lots 15 and 16 in ten places, it must be stated that the crude ore, which may be seen in any of the present outcrop, is of excellent pure quality, and resembles in its physical aspects entirely that of Ceylon.

CARBON CONTENTS OF ORE.

Numerous assays have been made, and a majority of these have given carbon contents (pure graphite) to a degree exceeding 90 per cent while one sample, designated as large scales, gave an assay, certified by Mr. Milton L. Hersey, Provincial Analyst, of the extraordinary percentage of 97.98 pure.

Messrs. Krupp, the world renowned ordnance manufacturers of Essen, Germany, recently tested 3000 pounds of graphite from the Amherst mine and they reported that the first quality gave 90.5% and the second quality 57.5% carbon.

USES OF GRAPHITE.

The uses of Graphite are many and various, but it is by far most commonly and widely known as a component of that most popular of misnomers—the ever familiar "lead" pencil.

And yet out of the world's total consumption (in 1903) of 75,000 tons of graphite, it is estimated that no more than four per cent was consumed in the manufacture of lead pencils. Refractory articles such as crucibles, stoppers, nozzles, etc., accounted for thirty-five per cent of the consumption, stove polish for 30%, and lubricating graphite and greases 16%.

Foundry facings, graphite packing and graphite paint, consumed fourteen per cent of the product, and the last named item alone, when efficiently exploited, may be regarded as capable of taking the leading place in the world's demand for graphite products.

PLANT

The Plant consists of Engines, Boilers, Air Compressor Drills, and a complete Mill for refining the Ore.

PROSPECTUS

This mine was, for a period of three years, systematically tested and developed under expert management. When it was found that the ore supply gave promise of long and rich continuity a high-class, up-to-date mill was erected, having a capacity of one hundred tons in twenty-four hours. The amount expended to date, in development and installations, exceeds one hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars, and the production of the refined graphite, for which a world-wide demand exists, is expected to commence on a profitable basis on the first of February, 1913.

Mr. G. N. Brewer, one of the best known experts in refining graphite, under whose direction the milling plant has been installed, will conduct its operations, and Mr. J. M. Cohen, the eminent mining engineer, is in charge of the mining department.

The Company now has about fifteen hundred tons of high-class mining ore on the dump, and about six thousand tons blocked out in the mine.

Samples of the ore and certified assays, also engineers' reports can be seen at our office.

This is the first public offering made of this stock and we strongly recommend it to our clients.

The directors expect that the mine will be on a permanent dividend paying basis and the stock listed at the exchange before the end of the present year.

WOULD PROSECUTE ETTOR FOR SPEECH

CLAIM I.W.W. LEADER MADE REMARK ENDANGERING THE PUBLIC PEACE.

New York, Jan. 14.—Demand for the prosecution of Joseph J. Ettor, the labor leader, under the section of the penal code relating to acts "endangering the public peace" was made to-day upon District Attorney Whitman by Charles J. Campbell, counsel for the New York Hotelmen's Association.

Campbell complained that Ettor's quoted remarks before the striking hotel waiters last week was in violation of the penal code. Ettor has denied making the statement complained of, advising the waiters that if they were forced to go back on unacceptable terms to go back with their minds made up "that it is the safest thing in the world for the capitalist to eat food prepared by members of your union."

District Attorney Whitman, according to Mr. Campbell, promised to investigate the matter.

WEEKS' ELECTED JUNIOR SENATOR

WILL SUCCEED W. MURRAY CRANE FROM STATE OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Jan. 14.—The legislature to-day chose Congressman John Wingate Weeks, of Newton, a graduate of the Naval Academy, the successor of Winthrop Murray Crane as the junior senator from Massachusetts.

Congressman Weeks polled the full Republican strength in the Senate and obtained all but five of the party votes in the House. The Democratic opposition was split up among sixteen candidates. The vote in the Senate was: Weeks 26; Sherman L. Whipple (Dem), 11; scattering, 2.

In the House 134 out of 240 members voted for Weeks, 69 supported Whipple, and five progressives voted for John Graham Brooks, of Cambridge, while 22 Democrats who bolted yesterday's caucus divided their votes among 13 well known party leaders. One Republican voted for Curtis Guild, and another for Robert Luce.

TWO KILLED 40 INJURED

IN ENGLISH TRAIN CRASH
Birmingham, Eng., Jan. 13.—Two passengers were killed and 40 injured, many of them seriously, in a collision on the Midland Railroad to-day, when an express train crashed into an accommodation train at Bromford Bridge, near here.

The express was proceeding to Leicester and the accommodation train, from Birmingham to Walsall. Nearly all the victims of the collision were traveling in the slow train.

When Limbs and Chest Ache

ZAM-BUK GIVES EASE QUICKLY

Have you got cold in your bones? Have you a bad attack of "general aching"? You know the feeling. Limbs ache, muscles seem to have become tired out, back aches, now and again a twinge of rheumatism strikes you here and there. Your chest feels tight, and there is a pain between your shoulders.

Cold is responsible for this condition, and a vigorous application of Zam-Buk will put you right. Take a hot bath, and then rub your chest and the aching limbs well with Zam-Buk.

Mrs. B. Gorie, 76 Berkeley St., Toronto, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Zam-Buk. A few weeks ago I was suffering from a bad cold, which had settled in my throat, chest and limbs. I tried all kinds of remedies, new and old, and found very little relief until I used Zam-Buk. On applying this to my throat and chest I found such ease and relief from the tightness and soreness I determined to use only Zam-Buk. I also rubbed it on my limbs where I felt the rheumatic pains. In three days from the time I first began applying Zam-Buk I was free from the cold in throat and chest, and also the rheumatism in my limbs."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Avoid harmful imitations and substitutes.

REVIEWS YEAR OF CANADIAN MILITIA

PREPAREDNESS FOR WAR ONE THING SOUGHT, SAYS COL.
SAM HUGHES.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The year's work in the Canadian militia is reviewed in the annual report of the Militia Council, presented by Col. Hon. Sam Hughes. The one object sought, says the report in part, was preparedness for war, the power to mobilize at short notice a force of adequate strength, well trained and fully equipped. In the scheme of defense a few readjustments have been made, but no important changes introduced.

Respecting mobilization the general scheme is assuming definite shape. It depends for its success on decentralization. Division commanders will be given as free a hand as possible and not required to adopt a uniform system. The peace strength of the militia compared to war establishment is relatively low.

An inter-departmental committee composed of the director of naval service, chief of the general staff and general staff officer for mobilization has been formed. Seventeen officers took instructional courses in England during the year.

Instructional Schools.

The report deals at length with the instructional schools of the militia in Canada, which in the last fiscal year granted certificates to 1724 officers. In the year forty officers were appointed to the permanent staff.

The permanent force now comprises 3,118 men, of which 202 are officers. The largest number, 1,201, are at Halifax, Quebec coming second with 404, Toronto with 345, and Kingston with 344. The year's expenditure under votes was $7,558,284, and by statute $21,600. This was an increase of $791,947. A total of 38,994 men received efficiency pay aggregating $174,053.

The Inspector-General reports 15 city corps as good, 21 as fair, 3 indifferent, and 2 disorganized. In regard to rural corps 8 are classed as good, 29 as fair, 18 indifferent and 3 disorganized. The establishment is 1,459 officers and 16,825 non-coms and men, while the number trained was 1,012 officers and 11,558 men.

Obstacles to Efficiency.

"The main obstacles to our efficiency," remarks General Otter, "present themselves in two forms—lack of money on the one hand and the profusion of it in the form of successful enterprises on the other. The former militates against the provision of armories and equipment, rifle ranges and training grounds, and so placing obstacles in the prosecution of effective training in its full significance; the latter prevents individuals from sparing the time necessary to fit themselves for the military duties they have assumed."

General Otter goes on to say that not enough serious thought is given to neglect of preparation for defense. Is it not imperative, he asks, that we possess a military force adequate to bear the first brunt of conflict, or at any event cause the invader to stop and think on the threshold. He expresses the belief that the plaudits for church or ceremonial parades may have lured us into the belief that we are fit and capable for any invasion and that we are encouraging a rude awakening and irreparable loss some day.

UNCLE WALT MASON'S

DAILY PROSE POEM

MORE LAWS.

Wax says a law we ought to have, requiring this, compelling that; he thinks a law's the only salve for every grief beneath his hat. If some old lean rambunctious mule reached out and kicked him on the jaw, he'd say the people ought to rule, and that there ought to be a law. His house is standing by the creek, and every spring the floods come down, and drive him from it pretty quick, and strew his garden through the town. He never thinks to move his shack away from that wild river's maw; he views the wreck and cries alack, and says there ought to be a law. He takes things easy day by day, when prudent men around him toil, a-herding geese or cutting hay or playing thunder with the soil; he hates to soo those toilers eat their turkeys while he feeds on slaw; he loafs along the busy street and says there ought to be a law. When wintry tempests boom and howl, his wiser neighbors sit at ease, and eat their pies and roasted fowl, and shredded eggs and scrambled cheese; they rest at night in feather beds while Wax lies on his mouldy straw, and there the futile tears he sheds, and says there ought to be a law. Oh, brethren, we have laws enough, and we have ord'nances to burn! Get out and hustle—that's the stuff, and put in brine the seeds you earn!—Walt Mason.

TWO BRITISH AVIATORS

DROWNED IN THAMES

London, Jan. 13.—Two British aviators, L. F. MacDonald and a man named Ingles, were drowned in the River Thames this afternoon. The aviators were flying at a height well above the river when the machine suddenly swooped downward. Immediately upon coming in contact with the water the engine exploded. One of the aviators clung for a while to the top of the machine, but he sank before boats, which were hurriedly put off from the shore, could reach him.

LADY ABERDEEN WITH OLD FRIENDS

FORMER FIRST LADY OF CANADA SEES SIGHTS OF THE CAPITAL

Toronto, Jan. 14.—When Lady Aberdeen arrived from Ottawa in her private car this morning she was met at the station by Sir John Gibson and Major Caldwell, A. D. C., and immediately motored to Government House. With many appointments in prospect, Her Grace found time shortly after breakfast to have a short interview with Mrs. Torrington, president of the National Council of Women, and Mrs. Willoughby Cummings, secretary of the National Council.

Owing to the fact that Miss Asquith is not leaving Ottawa until this evening, Lady Aberdeen has delayed her departure from Toronto until tomorrow, and a few of her former friends were invited to meet her at Government House this evening. Tomorrow morning Miss Asquith goes direct to Government House first, and according to present plans, after seeing something of the city during the morning, will leave with Lady Aberdeen at 1 o'clock for Niagara Falls.

The Countess of Aberdeen spent several hours at the City Hall this morning investigating the work of the tuberculosis division, Department of Health, and inspecting the health laboratories under the direction of Dr. N. A. Smith.

From the City Hall, the party, accompanied by Mayor Hocken and Dr. Hastings, proceeded to the Queens Hotel, where a civic luncheon was tendered the former first lady of Canada. As they emerged from the hall they were besieged by a small army of photographers, which the mayor attempted to disperse. But the Countess graciously declared her intention to be "snapped," and the party stood on the steps and allowed the photographers to do their worst or their best. In addition to the civic officials, the Lieutenant-Governor and Lady Gibson and a number of guests were present at the luncheon.

RACE UNFINISHED AFTER FOUR HEATS

BABY AND MAMIE B. ARE EQUALLY MATCHED—CROWD AT THE EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

The trotting races organized under the auspices of the Quebec Amateur Horse Association, were held yesterday afternoon on the Quebec Exhibition grounds, and were a grand success, both as regards the two contests and the attendance. The grandstand was completely filled with citizens who were anxious to learn the result of the match race between horses owned by two residents of Beauport, Messrs. Lotie and Giroux. Over two thousand dollars had been wagered on that race, which was well contested, but the result of the race was anything but satisfactory to those who witnessed it, as the horses each won two heats—and as darkness set in, Mr. Giroux was in favor of postponing the meet, while Mr. Lotie wanted to run the remaining heat, and protested the race.

No decision has been given by the judges, and it is probable that the race will have to be run over.

There were two races on the programme; a local two-mile race, for which five entries had been made, and the match race between Messrs. Lotie and P. Giroux, of Beauport, on which, it is stated, $2,000 had been wagered.

In the two-mile trotting, the result was as follows:

1—Major B. O. 1 1
2—Thorlo B. 2 2
3—Pearl Patch 3 3
4—Texas N. 4 4
5—L'Oiseau Blanche 5 5

Time, 5:05; 5:11 1/2.

The special race between P. Giroux's "Baby" and A. Lotie's "Mamie B." at one mile, resulted in a win for Baby in the first two heats and the match race between Messrs. Lotie and P. Giroux, of Beauport, on which, it is stated, $2,000 had been wagered.

Time, 2:32 1/4, and for Mamie B., 2:33 1/4.

AUDITOR GENERAL'S ANNUAL REPORT IS INCOMPLETE

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—Volume three of the report of the auditor general just published gives in minutest detail the expenditures of the Public Works, Railways, State and Trade and Commerce departments, but is peculiarly devoid of criticisms or correspondence. The most interesting parts of the reports are yet to come.

There was no correspondence on public works affairs and the only matters upon which some explanations were asked concerned certain estimates for the Holland River division of the Trent Canal and an appropriation towards two grade separations north of Brice.

The total cost was $12,083 and of this $4833 was charged to the railway grade crossing fund. This latter amount is equal to 40 per cent of the cost, whereas the act authorizes payment of only 240 per cent. For that reason payment has been held up.

Liberals Make Offer To Compromise Naval Bill

Mr. Guthrie, at some length, outlined the policy of the Liberals and Conservatives in 1909. He said that Mr. Borden made a speech on Dominion Day, 1909, in London, in which he strongly confirmed his stand in the House in favor of building a Canadian navy. Later, at a banquet in Halifax, he also favored building a Canadian navy.

Mr. Guthrie then proceeded to trace the growth of the Nationalist movement and claimed that the Conservative policy had been changed owing to an alliance with Nationalists.

"The Conservative party," he said, "I believe is tied up to a written agreement with the Nationalists which will be held over them all through their term of office and is the reason they cannot establish a permanent policy."

Proposes a Compromise.

"I have not consulted my leader," he said, "but I am going to make a proposal that I believe will do much to bring about a compromise. You propose a contribution of Dreadnoughts. We propose the establishment of two fleet units, each headed by a Dreadnought. The British Admiralty has not asked for a definite number of Dreadnoughts. Why not make it two? We would agree that they be built in Great Britain, the rest of the fleet units could be built in this country. There would be no constitutional difficulties in the way of such a plan and the proposal could be considered later."

"There is a gulf between us and it ought to be bridged. If we can bridge this gulf let us do so. If we cannot settle the question this way then there ought to be an appeal to the court of final resort—the people. If there was an immediate peril no mandate would be needed. I don't believe there is immediate danger and on so great an occasion in this moment of peace and overwhelming security why not let the people decide?"

Mr. Middleboro Replies.

Mr. W. S. Middleboro (North Grey) in replying, said that while it was to be regretted that both parties did not see eye to eye on the naval question, especially in view of the tremendous and salutary moral effect such an agreement would produce in Europe—nevertheless the most gratifying and outstanding feature of the whole debate was that whatever differences there might be as to its application, all were united and agreed that a sum of $35,000,000 should now be granted for naval defence.

This being the one point upon which the parties were agreed he had made an analysis of the speeches delivered by the members of the Opposition in order to learn the main differences, and he had found that the argument had been directed to showing as true the following propositions, which the government denied.

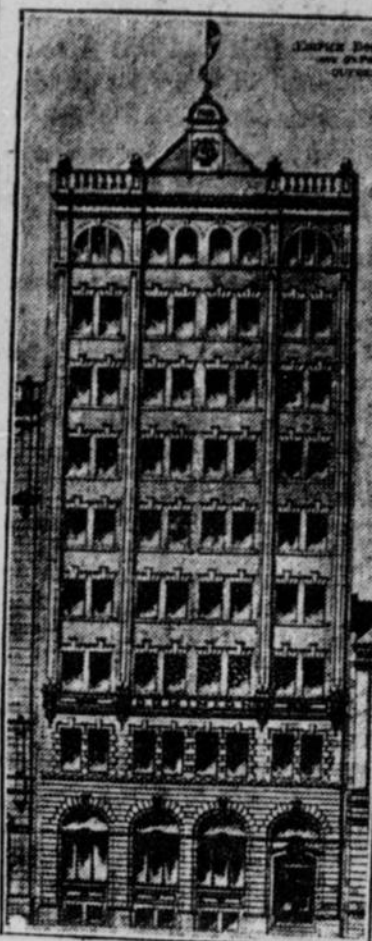

1. The denial of an emergency or need of immediate and effective aid.
2. That the grant of $35,000,000 was but the beginning of a permanent contribution plan.
3. That this gift endangered the principles of autonomy and free constitutional government.
4. That the Admiralty memorandum does not show an emergency.
5. That Canada can best contribute to the naval defence of itself and the Empire by the construction of a separate and independent navy along the lines of the act of 1910.

The German Peril.

These propositions, Mr. Middleboro took up in turn and analysed. Dealing with the question of the existence of an emergency, he traced the tremendous growth of the German navy, in 16 years coming from a practical nonentity to become the second most powerful navy in the world.

"Can there be any doubt," he asked, "of the ultimate object of that policy, and when you find that they have appropriated more than $500,000,000 more for the purpose of increasing and strengthening that navy one is irresistibly forced to the conclusion that it is not for defensive purposes only."

The Liberal Government in Canada utterly ignored the crisis that had arisen in 1910 and brought down instead their naval service act as the permanent naval policy of Canada. It was then that the Conservative Opposition moved an amendment that Canada should grant $25,000,000 for the building of two Dreadnoughts for Britain.

"That was the psychological moment," said Mr. Middleboro. "Had we sent the Dreadnoughts the moral effect would have been much greater than the material. The policy which the government adopted is now, after three years, of absolutely no assistance to the Motherland in her present crisis. The German navy bill of 1912 alone constitutes such an emergency as to justify the present grant of three Dreadnoughts."

Constitutional Aspects.

Mr. Middleboro discussed the constitutional aspect at some length. Who, he asked, had ever heard of a free, spontaneous and untrammelled gift in any way effecting Canadian autonomy or the constitutional relationships except to preserve both by helping to preserve the Empire. There had at no period been a demand from Britain as to what action the colonies should take, yet there was an evident desire on the part of the Opposition to make it appear that the government was proposing something in the nature of a tax, the beginning of a permanent involuntary contribution. In this there was absolutely no truth.

Is Not Permanent Policy.

"This Borden bill," said Mr. Middleboro, "does not pretend to affect the permanent naval policy of Canada. The frank admission by Hon. Frank Oliver of an emergency, the statements of Mr. Borden, the confidential statement given to him by the Admiralty, supplemented by the Admiralty report, all these justify the introduction of the present bill."

Mr. Middleboro closed with an appeal to Sir Wilfrid Laurier to join hands and pass the bill unanimously. If he did so, he would be grasping the opportunity of a lifetime and the effect of it in the chancelleries of Europe would equal the monetary assistance proposed by the bill.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt (North Oxford) argued that if Russia and Japan could MONETARY TIMES DEMANDS REPORT OF BANK VERDICT.

Toronto, Jan. 14.—In an editorial this week the Monetary Times complains of a delay of two months in the handing out of the judgment of Judge Leet, of Montreal, regarding charges made against officials of La Banque Internationale, and heard by him in private. The journal states that its correspondence with the Department of Finance, the Department of Justice and with Judge Leet, has as yet failed to penetrate the lengthy silence. It says that the Minister of Finance, in a letter to the paper, lightly dismisses the matter by stating he has no authentic information. While almost unanimous silence persists regarding the charges, gossip as to what might have occurred at the bank is heard day by day. That Canadian banking and credit are injured by this continued silence is asserted by the Monetary Times, which asks "what did really happen at the bank, and what is the judicial finding?"

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, January, 1813 and 1883.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAYTHIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the New York Gazette, Dec. 15, Canandaigua:

Dear Sir,—The accounts from the lines are so very extraordinary that I seize a moment in much haste to give Canandaigua:

My information is not only from all the returning volunteers and from universal report, but personally from my friend, Capt. P. When Smyth had given up his first attempt to cross (I think on Saturday last) the army were with difficulty kept quiet on Sunday and Monday; the officers waited on him in a body upon the subject. He swore with tremendous imprecations that he would cross (the Niagara River) that night. The troops were under arms from 10 to 1 o'clock; all were embarked in good order and silence in boats. The men were all emulous to be in first. The boats pushed off and lay on their oars ready for the word. At the time two guns were heard to go off on our side. Soon after the morning signal was heard on the other side. The boats were ordered ashore. A flag of truce sent over. He returned with an officer of General Sheaffe's. After a long conference the men were ordered to their quarters; the volunteers dismissed. The officers broke their swords and the men beat their muskets over stumps with rage. General Porter harangued the volunteers, and concluded with calling Smyth a scoundrel and coward, and that he would post him as such. Smyth for safety took lodgings in Buffalo, but the mob becoming dangerous, the landlord desired him to depart. On his way a soldier snapped a pistol at him. He took refuge in his own camp surrounded by guards and sentinels. During Tuesday night different parties who did not know where he was, came to Judge Granger's (where he had lodged) and swore they would have him dead or alive. $1,500 are said to be offered for his head, and he is no more to be seen. On Tuesday, a Seminary of St. Sulpice, Montreal.

Mr. I. X. Perrault, a well known authority, of Montreal, published a letter, 30 years ago, in which he cited the charters granted to the Seminary of St. Sulpice by the King of France and afterwards confirmed by the English Government, granting the association the whole island of Montreal without fee or reward for the conversion and education of the subjects residing within its bounds. He shows that the duty was nobly done for 200 years, and only abandoned when the Government Commissioners took hold of the education of the people and levied city rates for the purpose, thus relieving the Seminary from the obligations for which the lands were granted. His letter caused a sensation, as he says the value of the grants was several millions of dollars.

SOME GOLD IN THE MINE AT ANY RATECOST $3 TO GET $1 OUT BUT DIVIDENDS WERE PAID JUST THE SAME.

New York, Jan. 14.—It cost $63,000 in wages to take $20,000 in ore from the Empire gold mine in Sierra county, Cal. Notwithstanding this A. L. Wisner declared a monthly dividend of one half of one per cent on the stock for a year and then raised the dividend to one percent, according to testimony given to-day by Jerry Curtis in the trial of Wisner and John J. Meyers on charges of using the mails to defraud in promoting mining companies.

Courtis testified that he was foreman and superintendent of the mine from 1905 to September, 1907. He said that the mine had once been a great producer, but that during this period it cost about $3 to get $1 in gold.

George W. Storck, the government's expert accountant, testified that the dividends referred to by Courtis aggregated more than $35,000. Nearly 700,000 shares of stock in this mine, he added, had been sold by the defendants for a net sum of $205,000.

Question "Ridiculous."
Alexander Engleman of Minneapolis, testified that he wrote to Wisner in 1907 asking if the report were true that dividends on the stock of the Marchie Extension Gold Mining Company were being paid out of money received from stock purchasers. Wisner replied, he testified, that the "question is too ridiculous for consideration."

The government then closed its case so far as the gold mines promoted by the company are concerned, and took up the four oil companies.

Because of the long trial, Miss Anna L. Coddington, of San Francisco, is likely to lose her job as stenographer. Counsel for the defense asked the court's permission to have her testify at once and return home, saying that her employer telegraphed her last night that she would lose her position unless she returned at once. The government lawyers objected, and Miss Coddington will have to remain here and await her turn.

A SURE, QUICK COLD CURE--ACTS GENTLY

PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND
CURES COLDS AND GRIPPE
IN A FEW HOURS—CON-TAINS NO QUININE.

The most severe cold will be broken and all gripe misery ended after taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive cures are taken.
You will distinctly feel all the disagreeable symptoms leaving after the very first dose.

The most miserable headache, dull-

WORK ON BRIDGE GOING RIGHT ON

PIERS TO BE COMPLETED THIS SPRING; STEEL WORK BE-GINS IN SUMMER.

With a view to getting authentic information on the construction work on the Quebec bridge, a Chronicle reporter last evening sought the office of the resident engineer at Cap
Rouge, who is constantly on the work, and the responsible representative of the Board of Engineers that form the government commission in charge of the bridge construction.

It was learned that the resident engineer, Mr. Wilkins, was in Ottawa on matters in connection with the bridge, but one of his staff communicated the following information:
"As already announced, the caissons for the new piers that were decided upon by the commission, have been sunk, the one on the south shore finished in the fall of 1911, and the one on the north shore in the fall of 1912.

"Last summer the work of building the piers over the caisson foundation was commenced, and in all probability would have been finished last fall only for the interruption caused by the strike declared by the stonecutters, who were off the work for nearly two months.

"The caisson on the south shore was successfully sunk in the early part of November last, and is declared one of the finest jobs of caisson work ever undertaken.

"At present there are a large number of men at the quarries and on the works, both at Cap Rouge and the Chaudiere beach, getting out and preparing the granite to be used in north shore piers, and the building of the south shore piers, which will be gone on with early next spring, when as many stonecutters as it will be possible to secure, will be engaged to hurry on the work.

Steel Work Next Summer.

"It is anticipated that the piers on the north side will be completed and ready for the steel superstructural parts in the early part of the summer, and the building of the piers at the south side of the river next fall.

"In the meantime the false work that must be constructed in connection with the superstructural work will be placed in position as soon as it is possible for a large staff of bridge workers to do, who will commence at the work next spring.

The structural work, which comprises the caissons and piers carried out by the contracting firm of Messrs.
M. P. & J. T. Davis, is not only solid and firm, but without the least question of doubt, the best work in existence in connection with bridge building, and is so recognized by engineering experts.

Superstructural Work.

"The St. Lawrence Bridge Co., who have the contract for the manufacture and building of the superstructural work, and who have been obliged to enlarge their steel works to make the large and weighty parts that will be put into the superstructure, have nearly completed their new buildings, with their equipment, and will shortly begin the manufacture and be ready with the steel when the piers are completed and the false work in position, to go on with the building.

"The steel to be placed in the structural work will be strengthened by the infusion of nickel, and have the same strength as the armor plate used in the present-day battleships. In the meantime the commission engineers are busy on the various details of the whole work, and when the earnest work is commenced next summer, nothing will be left undone to complete the gigantic undertaking with all possible despatch, in keeping with the necessary precaution that the importance of this national project calls for.

"None but skilled men in every branch of the work will be employed, and the Government is taking the greatest interest in the construction."

8TH R. R. STARTS INSTRUCTION CLASS FOR OFFICERS

A class of instruction for officers and non-commissioned officers of the 8th Royal Rifles commenced at the Drill Hall on Monday night.

The class was well attended, but non-commissioned officers and privates wishing to qualify as such may still join by applying at the Drill Hall on Thursday night, when uniforms will be issued.

The class is in charge of Sgt. Quatr.
Ryan, R. C. R., and should be the means of providing the regiment with a large number of well trained officers and N. C. O. for the coming drill season.

A similar course held recently in Montreal for the Victoria Rifles was attended by over thirty N. C. O.'s.

McCUSKER TOPS THE LIST WITH A "POSSIBLE"

The holiday festivities having ended, the interest in miniature rifle shooting has again come to the fore and the members attending the practices of the Quebec Miniature Quebec
Rifle Club are constantly increasing.
Last night shooting commenced at 7.45 and continued until 10.30. During the evening over a case of amunition was used. The scores also took an upward bound and were the highest made this season, Albert Mc-Cusker topping the list with a "possible."
