Street Widening, Park Equipment To Cost $20,000

Belvedere Road Will Be Paved—Water System in Westmount Park Improved — Council Ratifies Motion To Instal New Fire Alarm — Ald. Panet-Raymond Named Pro-Mayor For Three Months

Approximately $20,000 will be spent by the City of Westmount on public improvements, including road paving and widening of streets, it was announced at a regular meeting of the City Council, under Mayor John Jenkins, Monday night.

A recommendation of Alderman George S. Currie to widen and pave Belvedere Road at the Boulevard intersection at a cost of $3,450 was adopted; the water system in Westmount Park will be improved at a cost of $4,045; paving on Belvedere road will be made from the Boulevard to Sunnyside avenue, for $8,650; and retaining walls, curbs and sidewalks, for $5,575, will be constructed, it was decided.

On a motion of Alderman McLeod, Council appointed Alderman Panet-Raymond pro-mayor for the months of May, June, and July.

Council also ratified a motion of Alderman Scott to install a fire alarm opposite 4851 Westmount Boulevard, and to purchase four horses for the Parks Department.

Arthur F. Bell, secretary-treasurer, stated that the new provincial electoral lists, which will become effective on April 15, count 12 new names.

A lease on the Westmount Athletic Grounds, from March 1 to the end of the season was granted to the Caledonia Bowling Club.

Dr. F. Morley Accepts Post Of Pastorate

Formal Induction At Stanley Presbyterian Church To Be Made May 12

Rev. Dr. Frank Morley, of St. Catharines, Ont., has accepted the invitation to take over the pastorate of Stanley Presbyterian Church, it was announced at a meeting of the Montreal Presbytery, Presbyterian Church in Canada, held Tuesday.

The formal induction of the new pastor will take place in Stanley Church at 8 o'clock on May 8th. Rev. Dr. J. B. MacLean, Moderator of the Presbytery, will induct the new minister. Rev. Dr. Malcolm Campbell will address the minister, and Rev. Principal F. Scott Mackenzie, the congregation. The sermon of induction will be preached by Rev. Alexander Nimmo.

Dr. Morley is one of the recent brilliant graduates of the Montreal Presbyterian College. He graduated in 1935 and was called to St. Catharines before completion of his course. He was a gold medallist graduate of the University of British Columbia and winner of the I. O. D. E. overseas scholarship which he held in Scotland. He came back to Canada in 1932 to study theology here.

Miss Martha Hamilton, formerly of St. Andrew's Church, Huntingdon, was designated deaconess of Stanley Church. A resolution of sympathy was passed for Rev. W. D. Reid for the loss of his wife a few days ago.

Gord. Taylor Heads Group

Elected President of St. Andrew's Church Board at Meeting Held Recently

Gordon Taylor, whose name is familiar in golfing circles, was elected president of the Junior Board of St. Andrew's church on Tuesday night. The occasion was the annual banquet when members of the Senior Board of Management entertain the Junior Board. W. Stanley Johnson acted as chairman in the absence of president W. G. Pyper. Addresses were given by the chairman, Donald Black and Dr. F. W. Kerr.

Following the banquet the annual election of officers was held, and Gordon Taylor received an unanimous election. Brodie Shearer was elected vice-president, while Gerald Cushing was named secretary.

The junior board has been in existence for only a year, and has proved to be one of the most effective agencies of the church, as a correlating and advisory board on all young people's activities, and as an auxiliary of the Board of Managers.

BRITISH SEA MIGHT IN PANORAMA FROM HEIGHTS OF GIBRALTAR

This picture, taken from the heights of Gibraltar, shows British tars looking out over the Mediterranean at Britain's vast display of her naval power. The Home fleet and Mediterranean fleet were brought together for what was considered the most strategically important manoeuvres since the World War. At the time of the sea power exhibit, Britain was negotiating for a settlement of her difficulties with Italy, foremost among which is the question of how far Italy shall go toward usurping Britain's domination of the Mediterranean.

Brother Merry Alphonse Returns From U. S. Trip

On his return a few days ago from an educational trip through the principal cities of the U.S. Brother Merry Alphonse, Director of St. Leo's Academy was given an enthusiastic reception. The pupils and teachers had been waiting for his return in order to show their appreciation for the splendid work he has been doing at the school for the last four years.

When he entered the auditorium in the company of the Superintendent, Mr. L. R. Désilets and his assistants, Brother George and Mr. Kehoe, the boys burst into a thunder of cheers and applause. In turn, Marc Collet and Paul Marshall, speaking respectively for the French and the English section of the school, expressed the feeling of their fellow students. Then, one little boy of the junior class offered a bouquet of roses and an engraved watch on behalf of the school.

In his address, the Brother Director expressed his gratitude for the cordial reception he was given, and related some interesting incidents of his trip. The meeting concluded with an interesting educational moving picture program.

The Teachers and the School Commissioners of St. Leo's Academy have shown great interest in the reports submitted by the Brother Director on the educational trends of the United States, both in Public and Private Schools. Such topics as the following were discussed: Education in the period of rugged individualism; the reaction caused by the depression; the period of experimentation—progressive schools; vocational education; the trend toward cultural education; the trend from "Deweyism." By way of conclusion, the Brother Director, said he was glad that his school system has been preserved from the risks of hazardous experimentation but had progressed along the lines of sane philosophy and Christian principles.

Feast of Victory

To Christians Easter is the great Feast of Victory. From the Cross to the Crown is the story of the Risen Christ and is and will be the story of all His true and constant followers.

From the Resurrection then, may we all gather a virtuous faith and hope looking forward to that day when she shall possess these things which the eye hath not seen, nor hath the ear heard, nor have they entered into the heart of man—Heaven.

Rev. Wilfrid E. McDonagh,
Ascension Parish.

Truck, Auto Are Damaged

Vehicles Collided on Sherbrooke Street at Victoria on Monday

Both vehicles were badly damaged when a car and truck collided on Sherbrooke street, at the intersection of Victoria avenue at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon.

According to police the truck, driven by Peter Tarok, 1551 City Hall avenue, had drawn to a stop behind a street car, when an automobile following in the rear, driven by Philys Louis Vincent, a farmer of Shefford County, Que., failed to stop, crashing into Tarok's machine.

A large dent was made in the body of the truck, and the front axle of Vincent's car was broken and the radiator and headlights damaged.

At the time of the accident both cars were proceeding east on Sherbrooke street.

VISITS PARENTS

Executive Slate To Be Presented At Open Meeting

Present Temporary Officers Merely Functioning Until Permanent Governing Body Appointed—Membership Rapidly Mounting, Finances in Sound State—All Urged to Attend Election

Election of a permanent executive will feature the open meeting of the Business Association of Westmount, to be held Tuesday evening in Victoria Hall. The Association has been carrying on since its inception some two months ago with only a temporary slate of officers, headed by Boyd Robson, and with J. A. Gagnon as vice-chairman and Jos. Bradner, jr., as treasurer. A permanent executive was not seen as possible with the limited membership available when the Association was formed; but with the ranks increasing by leaps and bounds, and now rapidly approaching the one-hundred mark, the installation of permanent and fully authorized officers becomes a necessity.

At an executive meeting held Monday evening this week, a provisional slate was drawn up, names thereon to be presented at Tuesday's meeting. The proposed set-up calls for a president or chairman, three vice-presidents, a treasurer, two secrtaries, and an as yet indeterminate number of directors and committee chairmen. It is expected the committee-chairmen will appoint their own committees.

Jos. Whatley, special membership organizer, reported that results of his efforts in recent weeks to enroll more members in the Association had been thoroughly satisfactory, and that enrollment now stood at a higher figure than in any other similar organization in the Montreal district.

Treasurer Jos. Bradner Jr., reported a satisfactory standing of the Association's finances.

Every member is urged to attend Tuesday's meeting, as the election of officers requires a large attendance to assure proper voting. The meeting will start at 8.15, and it is expected that the large salon in the lower part of the building will be reserved.

Easter Services At Local Church

Special Music and Pageant to Feature Activities of Westmount Park United

Easter Sunday will be observed at Westmount Park Church with appropriate sermons and music.

The minister's topic at the morning service will be "Ransomed from the Grave." At the evening service Mr. Smith's theme will be "Wrestling Victory from Defeat."

The evening service will be followed by the presentation of the story of the Resurrection in the form of a pageant, accompanied with music by the choir under the direction of Dr. Herbert Sanders, F.R.C.O.

In the afternoon, the Church School will hold an open session in the church with choruses and a suitable Easter story.

Anniversary services will be held Sunday April 24, with Rev. James W. Clarke of Knox Church, Winnipeg, as the special preacher.

Tax Arrears Reduced Here By $73,000

City Leads All Wards Under Metropolitan Commission for Month of March

A reduction of $73,000 in delinquent taxes owed the city of Westmount during the month of March is shown in figures issued by the Montreal Metropolitan Commission. At the end of February, unpaid assessments here totalled $507,000; by the close of March this had been reduced to $434,000.

A reduction of $164,000 in outstanding taxes during the month of March, bringing the aggregate figure from $1,912,000 to $1,748,000, was reported for the eleven solvent municipalities.

Westmount led the autonomous group in her tax arrears reduction, Verdun and Outremont were second with $25,000 each, and Lachine third with $17,000.

Individual standing of the towns as to uncollected taxes on March 31, as compared with February 28, 1938, was as follows:

Town of Mount Royal, $38,000 against $43,000; Montreal East, $38,000 against $39,000; Verdun, $332,000 against $357,00; Westmount, $434,000 against $507,000; Hampstead $35,000 against $40,000; Outremont, $340,000 against $365,000; Ville St. Pierre, $40,000 against $41,000; Lachine, $239,000 against $256,000; Montreal West, $64,000 against $69,000; Ville LaSalle, $85,000 against $88,000; Ville St. Laurent, $103,000 against $107,000; Pointe aux Trembles, $58,000 against $61,000 and $66,000 on March 31, 1937; Montreal North, $78,000 against $84,000 and $71,000 a year ago; and Ville St. Michel, $25,000 against $27,000 and $37,000 in 1937.

EASTER MESSAGES TO WESTMOUNT RESIDENTS FROM PASTORS

Rev. Wm. Orr Mulligan
Melville Church

A friend, who had spent many years in the tropics, once told a small group of us at an Easter gathering that "only in this northern temperate zone do you really get the proper environment and atmosphere of Easter." Of course, some doubted and became argumentative.

The speaker then proceeedd to explain: In the tropics there were not the seasonal changes in vegetation and growth characteristic of the north lands. The desolation and seeming death of the winter season was unknown. Likewise the magic and mystery of the Springtime were unknown. He felt it far easier to understand the religious truth of the Resurrection because he had been born and brought up in Canada and again when he had returned "home", than when he resided in the Indies. "I can see and feel the truth of Easter," he declared.

"Thanks be unto God Who giveth us the victory."

Easter proclaims victory over death. Jesus had been cruelly killed. Kind hands had taken his lifeless body from the cross and had laid it away in the cold silence of a rock-hewn tomb. If we can be sure of anything that happened in the first century, we are sure that Jesus died.

Equally we are sure that in a very short while, He made His disciples confident that He was alive, with new and even more wonderful powers. This fact blossomed into the great Christian affirmation "Now is Christ risen from the dead the first fruits of them that slept." "In Christ shall all be made alive." "There is no death, what seems so is transition."

Easter proclaims victory over life. The world after the resur-

"I wish you a happy and blessed Easter." These were the words of a friend as he was leaving the study of the Pastor. They might have been merely conventional; but they were not. They were, we have reason to know, the expression of a sincere Christian faith that was our friend's most cherished possession.

A happy and a blessed Easter! There is more than an earthly situation implied in those half-dozen words. What the world calls happy can probably be managed, provided one thinks only of a day. A company of congenial friends, or the companionship of a good book, or the opportunity to commune with nature as the spring foliage bears witness to the passing of winter's coldness—any one of these can thrust sadness aside for a day, if one has the privileges and the will power

Easter is known as the Queen of Festivals, and when we consider the significance of Easter, from the spiritual point of view, and the time of the year, we can well understand that this is regarded as the most important of religious observances. The trouble today is that most people want to enjoy Easter, but have no desire to even consider that the way to the Resurrection Tomb was through Calvary.

There was no roundabout way, no evasion; Calvary with its sacrifice and suffering had to be faced. There is no real victory without sacrifice, and this is true of the spiritual life just as it is true in art, athletics, etc. Good Friday, then, should be observed as faithfully as Easter, unless we are content to be fairweather Christians, which does not amount to much, as religion goes. To a

THE SEQUENCE OF EASTER

For many folk, Easter is a season almost devoid of any religious meaning — a time for fashion displays, for holidays in the South, for colored eggs and chocolate rabbits.

For the most part these things speak only of the return of spring; they are far from conveying the essential meaning of the great day. For the meaning of Easter is a matter of religious insight and indeed the happy day can only be understood when its relation to Good Friday is seen. Without suffering there can be no release from suffering; without sacrifice there can be no achievement, without the dying to lesser things, there can be no rising to higher things.

It's at this point that our modern world is so lamentably lacking. We want our joy without

The Lord is risen indeed.
Has He appeared to you?

In the Gospel of St. Luke, chapter 24, verse 34, appears the inspiring and revealing message: "The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon." This was the glad message with which the disciples gathered in the upper room in Jerusalem, greeted other disciples who had returned post haste from Emmaus, where they also had seen their risen Lord and held sweet and hallowed fellowship with Him.

It was indeed a message of Hope and Cheer, making glad their hearts and strengthening these men and women in their purpose to be loyal and true to their beloved Lord and Master. But it was also a message of Love for it told how Jesus had sought and found Simon, the disciple who

LIFE CONQUERS DEATH

What an incredible assumption this is, upon which we have established our Easter faith. The historians and biologists will have a hopeless task of convincing us that a dead man came back to life. But, fortunately, we are not thinking in terms of dead men—we are thinking of one particular son of man, in whom sin found no lodgment and over whom death had no dominion, we must never miss the inexorable sequence between sin and death, on the one hand, and between sinlessness and life, on the other hand.

When Death looked down upon that limp, white figure in the tomb, there was to be found in it none of the substance of corruption. The body lay ever so still as if asleep, then in God's three days, all its assence had become trans-

Christ Is Risen! "I am He that Liveth and was dead and behold I am alive for evermore." In His life the Sinless One witnessed for the Truth and lived for right principle; and in so doing He incurred the opposition of all the world forces that always oppose such a life. Jesus met all these in combat and routed them, death included. "The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death." Now he that wishes to "reign with Christ" must engage in the same conflict. "Take up the cross" is the invitation. The Promise is "If we suffer with Him we shall also reign with Him." This is the Reward—Eternal Life! Jesus "has opened the kingdom to all believers." Not in his own strength then does the Christian wage his warfare. Jesus came to give men His life, His Risen life; and it is in His power

Service Groups Attend Luncheon Saturday and Hear Layton, Almond Speak

Representatives of a dozen service clubs were guests of St. George's Club Saturday at the regular weekly luncheon when appeals were made to English-speaking citizens of Montreal to take more interest in public affairs, and to clubmen to see that colleagues of many years' standing were not set aside in their old age.

The Hon. Gilbert Layton, president of St. George's Club, voiced an appeal to English-speaking people to take more interest in the government of their city, province and country. The percentage of English-speaking voters who turned out to the polls was very low, Mr. Layton reminded the meeting, and pointed to the lack of interest on the part of the English sections of the city in regard to the identity-card system that had been put into force recently.

Paul Borup, past president of St. George's Club, and active Rotarian, presided at the "Service Club Day" luncheon. Others at the head table were: H. R. Varcoe, Solar Club; O. B. Stanyon, Gyro Club; W. H. Henry, Lions Club; C. E. Hinan, Progress Club; R. Bourque, St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club; Archdeacon Almond; Pro-Mayor Douglas Lorimer of the city of Westmount; C. H. Hearns, Fossils Club; Paul Wickham, Optimists Club; Austin Murphy, Kinsman Club; S. A. Neilson, Westmount Rotary Club; W. Zellar, Montreal Kiwanis Club; T. B. Dundas, Montreal Rotary Club.

Montreal Is Seen As Main Air Centre

Earl Moore Gave Talk on Avation at Meeting of Westmount Rotary Club

Earl Moore, past president of the Spoke Club, was the guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Westmount Rotary Club in Victoria Hall on Wednesday. The speaker, who chose aviation as the subject of his address, predicted that Montreal would one day be one of the leading flying centres on the North American continent.

Montreal, he said, will be an important point on the trans-Canada air route, and one of the principal bases of the trans-Atlantic route. These two factors, alone, he said, were sufficient to make Montreal one of the busiest airports on the continent.

Mr. Moore traced the history of flying from the early days of aviation, from early references in literature of individuals attempting to fly with home-made wings covered with feathers, down through the days of Bleriot and the Wright brothers, Langley, Alcock and Brown, Lindbergh, Wiley Post and others.

The Great War, Mr. Moore said, was largely responsible for the rapid advance in aviation. More and more speed wase demanded by pilots of the 1914-18 era and countries vied with each other for the manufacture of the best machines.

At the request of a member of the club Mr. Moore described the experience and reactions of his first flight, recalling many amusing incidents.

He pointed out that Canada now leads the world in the amount of freight carried by plane, and told of the great value aviation is playing in northern Canada.

In concluding his address, the speaker stressed the great importance of safety in flying. Speed, comfort, and flying schedule come secondary to safety, he said.

Stanley Neilson, club president, was in the chair.

BEACON FOR SHIPS

A tree beacon to guide ships has just been planted on Portsmouth Hill in Portsmouth, England, by the Men of the Trees.

All night the rain has whispered to the eaves
And told its secret to the unlocked ground.
That melancholy drip the only sound
Save when the wind has caught up last year's leaves.
And still, unheard, a faint hushed stirring weaves
Where lily bulbs are nestling underground,
It slowly presses to the heaped-up mound
Of sleeping peonies. A willow grieves.

And then it passes. One short hour tells
Of winter's swift transition into spring,
The puddled lawn reflects a jay a-wing,
The warm sun showers diamonds on the door,
And sleepers, wakening, rejoice once more
To hear the pealing triumph of the bells.

New Educational Feature Introduced In This Issue

By special arrangement with the Grolier Society, publishers of The Book of Knowledge, the editors are pleased to announce a new and educational feature, which appears for the first time in this issue.

Under the title of "Read and See," this feature, we are sure, will meet with the approval of our readers, particularly the youngsters. Wonders of the world, distant lands and travel, men famous in history, literature, music and many other subjects, will be brought into your home, there to entertain and educate.

Also in the series will be brief little synopsis on "How to make things," "why things happen," "how things happen," and a wealth of other subjects far too numerous to be mentioned here, but which will in due course appear in "Read and See."

Succeeding numbers in the series will introduce short-short fiction stories, selected poems, and perhaps a few nursery rhymes. All will be profusely illustrated, and presented in convenient form.

Efforts will be made to keep the series topical and seasonal. Starting this week, our last issue before Easter, the initial offering is dedicated to articles concerning that festive season. Thus we find: "How to make Easter Eggs," and an Easter verse in French, "le Petit Poulet."

The Book of Knowledge is well known throughout the civilized world, for in addition to being published for all English speaking countries, it has been translated into five other languages, French, Portugese, Spanish, Italian and Chinese. It has become a household guide and source of information for younger people.

While The Book of Knowledge is primarily for youngsters, it is widely read by many of more advanced age, as it contains a wealth of knowledge not to be found elsewhere in such convenient form.

In inaugurating this series the editors will be pleased to furnish further information concerning The Book of Knowledge, or better still a convenient coupon will be found at the bottom of the column, which you may send direct to the publishers.

WHAT THE ENGLISH THINK

Quebec's padlock law is being criticised far beyond the borders of Canada. the Manchester Guardian, considered by many to be the best newspaper in the British Isles, recently published an editorial from which we quote: "Those who cherish freedom of speech, writing, and public meeting are much concerned with the padlock law in Quebec, a measure which has no parallel in a British Dominion. Traditional liberty is here as drastically inhibited as under any of the dictatorships, and it is not surprising that the question as to whether the act is constitutional should be raised. Among the elementary principles are freedom of speech, of press, and of public meeting, subject to the limitations of criminal law, the right of a man to fair trial in open court if charged with an offence, and freedom of the home from arbitrary search. All these are violated by the new Act, and anxiety of liberal opinion throughout Canada at the reactionary nature of the measure can well be understood."

FEWER POCKETS

Five hundred members of the Customs Cutters' Club of New York have agreed that there should be fewer pockets in men's clothing. There must not be more than one inside the coat, and preferably none on the hip.

Who are five hundred members of a Cutters' Club to say whether or not men should have more or fewer pockets? After all, it is the man on the street who wears the clothes and uses the pockets? If the majority of men want twenty, it is the business of the Cutters' Club and their colleagues to supply them.

We don't care if the above-mentioned organization has five thousand members. We object to them placing any restriction on the number of pockets any man may have. Many men believe they have too few now. Nor is it any business of the cutters what men carry in their pockets. It is an infringement on personal liberty to have any limitation in this regard. Men buy their clothes and use them. They have a right to any number of pockets they want. We object to having to wear just the same as a tailor's dummy in New York.

"when I see flower and tree, the whole earth in fact, coming out again in newness of life." The Eastre Message is a Reality to me, not a theory."

The critics, of course, pointed out flaws in his argument, but to the majority this man's personal experience has remained a strong reminder that Easter heralds a new life, a new joy, a new hope, a new growth. There is no permanent winter—the winter of death. The One around whom the whole Easter Season centres said and taught: "I am came that ye might have Lift—. "Easter is a mighty mistress to that teaching.

rection was no different from what it had been on the day of the crucifixion, but the disciples were different. From timidity, vacillation, selfishness and cowardice they had been lifted into confidence, courage, joy and commitment to a great crusade. That sort of change is the tragic need of a modern multitude. Their real hope is not alteration in circumstances, but the same sort of inner revolution which the first Easter brought to Peter, James and John. To those who are willing it can happen again.

Easter proclaims victory over despair. The disciples of Jesus turned from the cross into starless night. All wherein they had trusted had proved a delusion. Their universe was in ruins. Then into this utter darkness came a sudden blaze of glory. Even death and the grave had not been strong enough to hold their Leader. Into despairing hearts came a surging spirit of hope which still is the source of our profoundest optimism. Gather together all the ominous threats in the world today—the prospect is not so dismal as it was at Calvary. Easter declares that in spite of man's folly and sin, God can give victory.

Victory! Let Easter trumpets blow!

needed to choose an environment conducive to happiness. But if blessings are to descend upon us, then we must have the aid of God.

It occurred to us after our friend left and we had opportunity to analyze the manner of his expression of good will that he felt himself authorized to ask God to deal kindly with us. Have you thought of yourself as possessing such a prerogative? When Jesus revealed to His disciples that their standing with the Father through the Son gave them the right to ask in the latter's name, did that include the privilege of claiming a blessing for another than one's self? Paul sets an example in his letters. Even for the Corinthians, who were not perfect, he asks," Grace and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ," and in the same breath expresses thanks for the granting of his request. Quite obviously we are taught that we can say to fellow believers with sincere propriety, "I wish you a happy and blessed Easter."

had denied his Lord in the hour when the Master most needed the love and comradeship of his followers.

Where and when and under what circumstances Jesus appeared to Simon we do not know. It must have been a deeply moving experience for Simon Peter, one that he would never, never forget.

As we today share in the commemoration of this great festival of Joy, of Hope, and of Victory, singing the praises of our Risen Lord, we do well to ask one another the question, "Has He appeared to you?" and also to speak to ourselves and ask, "Has He appeared to me?" Of this we may rest assured, He is ready to come to us, ready to meet us along the common ways of life, to share the load, to sweeten our sorrows, to hallow our joys and to take away the stain of sin and the fear of the unknown, and in place of the shame and the uncertainty of the troubled spirit, to give unto us peace, pardon and power in richest, fullest measure.

This is the precious promise of the risen, glorified Lord. "Behold I stand at the door and knock. I will come in with him and sup with him, and he with Me." Are we ready and willing to fill in our name alongside that of Simon, and tell it out to all the world, "The Lord Is Risen Indeed," and hath appeared, not only to Simon, but also unto me.

muted into the Body of Glory, even as the Easter lily rises in spiritual grace out of its earthly tabernacle. In Him was Life, and life can never be quenched by death, any more than light can be overcome by darkness. The deeper the darkness the more irresistibly glows the light. The wages of sin is death, therefore men die, but it was not possible that He who was the Life could be holden of Death. He rose, and with Him hope rose, and life and light. Men said "Not Christ, but Death died yesternight." And joy and truth and all things virtuous, rose when He rose.

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. # WESTMOUNT BUSINESS FIRMS ARE HERE TO SERVE YOU!

THE Business Association of Westmount represents a sincere effort on the part of Westmount business people to be worthy of increased patronage from local residents, and to improve shopping and general business conditions here in this city. That this Association is filling a long felt want is evidenced by the tremendous response that has been given during the past few days to the group's recently launched campaign urging people to

"SHOP IN WESTMOUNT FIRST"

You can get everything you need right here in Westmount; why shop elsewhere? Quality merchandise of recognized excellence can be obtained in local stores at the same prices that business houses elsewhere ask; courtesy and service are not confined to outside shopping districts, and the inherent desire to please that is the business dealer's first requisite is probably stronger here than elsewhere.

By Shopping in Westmount you will stimulate business here in this city of twenty-six thousand people; better business means better general prosperity.

Before you embark on another of those tiring shopping trips to the more congested areas, try shopping in Westmount First. It will pay you dividends. And that business you transact by telephone; there are dealers right here in Westmount who will co-operate with you; give them a trial.

A dollar spent in Westmount is a dollar invested in Westmount. Money spent in outside districts profits neither the buyer nor the taxpayers of this community.

The Business Association of Westmount invites you to

STARS ARE READY FOR BETTY SPEIRS DANCE RECITAL

Elaborate Scenic and Lighting Effects Are Being Completed — Show in Victoria Hall on April 25

From the Betty Speirs Studios comes word that everyone is in readiness for the big show, to be held at Victoria Hall on Monday, April 25.

The first feature will be "Hi Diddle Diddle." Much is known in fabled history about "The Cat and the Fiddle" and the "Cow Jumped over the Moon" and without disturbing the trend of the story, the adaptation by Peter Miller gives extended scope to the baby pupils of the school to romp and frolic through this entrancing presentation.

As usual the scenery and lighting effects will be elaborate. A large set has been built, the main piece being a huge fiddle and bow with a cow jumping over a huge moon. The antics of Clara, the Cow, have been the cause of great merriment during rehearsals.

In the other features, which will be presented by the senior pupils, classic ballet will be prominent. Miss Speirs, in collaboration with Miss Daum, has produced "Ballet de la Lune"—being the story of the man in the moon who fell in love with a pretty maid and as usual Cupid makes everything all right. Jean Barnes, Joyce Lozinski, Bernice Dickson and Nancy Telfer will be the soloists in this feature.

The Senior Ensemble will be seen to advantage in "Valse des Fleurs" and "Dainty Miss." Most of the Betty Speirs stars, such as Bernice Dickson, Peggy Jean Ross, Isobel MacLellan, Shirley Harris, Shirley Hutt, Phyllis Dickson, Jean Barnes, Dorothy Fitzgerald, Heidi Vasesha, Doris Jackson, and Eleanor Thompson will be featured in these two classics.

Miss Speirs believes that this recital will excel anything done in the past.

Betty Writes Of Fashions To Bunny

Dear Bunny:

New York is certainly favoring knitted suits this spring. I attended a fashion show the other day, which consisted of all hand knitted dresses and coats. They were very smart and well made, and gave the appearance of being made of tweeds and flannels.

One of the smartest models on display was a swagger coat in beige with a large button at the neckline, and trimmed with brown collar and cuffs. It was loose fitting, falling into a flared skirt. This model could be worn with almost any type of sport dress.

Dual tone dresses ranked first among the many models on display. One of the smartest features of this type of garment was the two tone contrasting colored inverted pleat. I saw a very stunning dress made in beige and the contrast being of two shades of blue. The inverted pleats were in these blues, and also a small square at the neck forming a very unique yoke. Another model on this type was in several shades of green, featuring a darker shade of green bolero.

Taking second place were the tailored models either with a zipper or buttons running down the entire front of the garment. One of the highlights in this field was a navy blue straight dress with short sleeves and a zipper down the front and white frogs making a very novel trimming, this was topped with a navy blue felt sport hat trimmed with a white band of ribbon.

Multi-colored braid belts were a feature. The belt being plaited around the waist and the fringe falling to the hemline. This style of belt does wonders to a plain dress.

For the business girl there were numerous sweaters to be worn with plain or dressy skirts. Angora took the prize in this field. The new styles are very attractive and adaptable to all types of wear.

If you want to be up to the minute this spring or summer include at least two knitted suits. Tweed suits for travelling in tailored styles are gaining favour daily.

If any of your friends want to know more about these new models of hand knitted goods I will be glad to forward any information.

I will be going home very shortly, so this is most likely the last letter from here.

Sincerely,

"RUDDIGORE" AT MONTREAL WEST

St. Lambert Operatic Society in Gilbert and Sullivan Opus in High School Next Week

Although it may be one of the lesser known operas written by Gilbert & Sullivan it cannot be denied that "Ruddigore" is one of the most tuneful St. Lambert Operatic Society now in its twenty-third year of activity has, with the exception of one or two years, been favourable to Gilbert & Sullivan, and it is questionable if any they have presented has been done quite as well.

"Ruddigore" was presented to the people of St. Lambert last month and now residents of the West End are to be given the opportunity of hearing this splendid company at Montreal West High School, for three nights commencing Thursday, April 21st. The opening night will be especially given over to children.

Mrs. Seymour Robinson, takes the very lifficult part of Mad Margaret, and Irene Eke, pretty Rose Maybud, with Ettie Fellows playing the part of old Dame Hannah. These three have been standbys of the society for quite a while and they will be thoroughly enjoyed this year. Then there is the chorus of bridesmaids and fisher girls, beautifully costumed and also good to look at. On the men's side, there is of course, George Husband, Porteous Jerdan, Alf. Jones, and Rodger Bourne, and the "ghost chorus" of course, also well costumed and they can also sing up to standard.

Chorus work has always been the glory of the St. Lambert society and this year's opera is no exception to that well established rule for the singing of the company is really excellent. Both the ladies voices and the mens' seem to have gathered increased tonal value and there seems to be more timbre in the ensemble this year than for some years past.

Scenery is splendid and the lighting well looked after. Added to this there is a splendid orchestra that knows its business under the very able direction of Harry Norris, late of the D'Oyly Carte company, who knows all the Gilbert and Sullivan angles, and who will be ably assisted by Mrs. Norris as stage director.

Restful Atmosphere With Meals Enjoyed

When a woman has a talent for food and a taste for decoration they can be made to pay high dividends. The story of Alice Foote McDougall is a striking proof of this. She took over a restaurant in New York although at the time she knew very little about the professional side of the business and her knack for food and atmosphere very soon began to show a return. Her restaurant became so popular that in a short time she opened another branch in an entirely different style. This was followed by others until she had built a business worth two million dollars.

While this is exceptional there is no other business which appeals so much to a woman of talent. Alone of all other types of activity it gives full scope to talents which are truly feminine.

Good food and cleanliness are their own advertisement, and careful buying and management can produce a surplus each day which is all the more satisfactory because it can be multiplied by the number of working days in the year.

People, too, are looking more for the intimate eating places which are 'different.' They are tiring of mass produced food and furniture which are too standardized to stimulate much pleasure in eating. A talented woman can produce for between twenty and thirty cents a meal interesting enough to sell from fifty to seventy-five cents merely because people are prepared to pay for atmosphere and appearances as well as the contents of the food.

Remember 'way back when Easter hats didn't look old and bedraggled by Easter? Or didn't they?

HILDA GALT DANCE REVUE HAS MANY NEW FEATURES

This Year's Edition of 'One Night of Rhythm' Will Be Presented in Victoria Hall

Everything is in readiness for Tuesday when the pupils of the Hilda Galt School of Dancing will present the second edition of 'One Night of Rhythm' at Victoria hall. The first edition was presented to a capacity audience last May and was enthusiastically acclaimed by all who saw the show.

Over one hundred and fifty pupils will appear in a very diversified program which includes toe, tap, ballet, acrobatic, exhibition ballroom dancing and musical comedy routines. There will be ample comedy and a liberal sprinkling of group numbers interspersed with solos, duets, trios and quartettes. The feature of the program will be Miss Galt's own dance version of 'The World's Fair of '38' in which the prime minister, premier and mayor are impersonated and they decide that the only way to settle the city's financial difficulties is with a fair. The younger stars of the school will appear in a nursery scene entitled "A Child's Fantasy."

A remarkable feature about the show is that although Hilda Galt is only twenty-one she is responsible for all the choreography.

Because of protests from medical bodies throughout the country, Warner Brothers dropped work of "Your Life Is in their Hands," an exposé of quack practitioners which was to have found its source in the files of Dr. Morris Fishbein, leading member of the American Medical association.

Preparing to Retire

Kay Francis, whose contract expires in September, has informed the studio that she "will retire from active service, except for an occasional picture." Miss Frances is now working in "My Bill" and will probably do one more before September.

BASE STEALING FEAT

Mark Christman, Beaumont recruit bidding for the third-basing job with Detroit Tigers, stole 47 bases in 50 attempts last season. Christman comes from St. Louis sandlots.

Grandmas Of Middle West Having Fling In Business

You had better keep your eye on grandma.

She is liable to get some of those new-fangled grandmother ideas that came to light in Illinois, North Dakota and Iowa.

Thirty-nine grandmothers, each active in business or in a profession, have organized "the Grandmothers' Club"—and as such they are out to prove it's not exclusively a man's world.

Mrs. John Wesley Gray, youthful grandmother of two, prominent clubwoman, lecturer and the only woman to run for mayor of Chicago, as charter member and secretary of the new club, said they intend to show:

"That grandma's place is not in a chimney corner.

"That women when they are gray in their hair are getting better sense in business.

"That women can start in business at middle age and make a success.

"And lastly, to show the younger generation we have their interests at heart, our slogan is: 'Bigger and better grandchildren.'

Ir addition to Mrs. Gray, other charter members are Mrs. Ora Snyder, of Chicago, a grandmother of six, who in 1909 began manufacturing candy and now employs 300 persons, and Mrs. Marie K. Brown of Chicago, three times a grandmother and head of the Baltimore and Ohio railway woman's department. Mrs. Brown is club president.

Twenty-one occupations and professions are represented by members who include grandmothers in North Dakota and Iowa.

Mrs. Bertha Bauer, of Chicago, Illinois Republican National committeewoman is the successful manager of a $2,000,000 estate left by her husband who died in 1912.

Mrs. Mary E. Ward of Mendota, Ill., who has 13 grandchildren, started business in 1899. Since 1930 she has managed a gravel pit.

Mrs. Lillian I. Danskin of Jacksonville, Ill., 72 grandmother of four, began selling insurance when 54 years old.

There is nothing soft and easy about the lives these grandmas lead.

From the questionnaires they belong —and are active—in from one to six other organizations.

About the only time grandma would need that rocking chair is after too much horse-back riding, for among recreations the members listed riding, swimming, bowling, fishing, hiking and gardening.

Talent Quest Broadcast Now From Seville Stage

An enthusiastic reception was accorded to the initial broadcast of the Good Humour Talent Quest program from the stage of the United Seville theatre last evening, as an appreciative audience enjoyed the pick of Montreal amateur talent in an exceptional good show.

Talent Quest programs have been broadcast for the past several Wednesday evenings from the stage of the Francais theatre, but last night was the first time that Seville patrons had the opportunity of enoying the feature.

Smiling Al Plunkett, bubbling over with personality and pep, as he did for many years with the famous "Dumbells", was master-of-ceremonies, and kept the show running at a smooth pace. He was surrounded with one of the best arrays of talent since the broadcasts started.

Broadcasts from the United Seville stage will be continued every Wednesday evening, and judging from the reception of last night's performance, promises to be a Seville feature for many weeks to come.

Amateurs appearing on the weekly broadcasts are the winners of contests held in six other United theatres throughout the week. The Talent Quest is now a regular feature at the United Monkland theatre, where Manager Bill Wright gives out the word that many outstanding artists are in the offing for future performances which will keep up the standard established on past Tuesday evenings.

Later it is planned that all winners of previous contests will take part in a super-contest, at which time the prize will be a trip to Hollywood and a screen test with a major studio. More details of this will be forthcoming at a later date.

"Rosalie" Stars Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell are co-starred for the first time in the super-lavish musical "Rosalie," which comes to the Snowdon United Theatre next Sunday for a three day engagement.

The musical also includes such favourites as Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Ray Bolger, the new European sensation, Ilona Massey, Billy Gilbert and Reginald Owen in a story that concerns the love and adventures of a West Point cadet and a Princess of mythical Romanza.

In order to bring new beauties to the screen, William Anthony McGuire, co-author of the original story and writer of the screen play, sent talent scouts over the principal colleges of the United States before he cast the 500 beauties in their respective dancing and showgirl roles.

Directed by W. S. Van Dyke II, the new musical includes nine hit tunes by Cole Porter, Outstanding among the numbers is the "Romanza" set, which covers more than sixty acres and was filmed entirely at night with the aid of twenty-four cameras. This set was so large that lights had to be rented from every major studio in Hollywood for its operation. Twenty-five hundred people were included in that number alone.

IN THRILLING ACTION ROMANCE

Bob Burns and Joel McCrea in a scene from "Wells Fargo," now playing at the Seville United Theatre, opening at the Monkland United Theatre Sunday until Tuesday. Lloyd Nolan, Ralph Morgan, Frances Dee and John Mack Brown head a strong cast.

GIRLS CAUGHT IN RACKET

Bette Davis and Eduardo Ciannelli and Mayo Methot in a scene from "Marked Woman," now playing at the Westmount United Theatre, opening Sunday until Tuesday at the Seville United Theatre.

Splendid Stage, Screen Show At Snowdon

Armand Meerte and his orchestra will once again head the stage show at the Snowdon theatre this week-end. In addition to Meerte's orchestra several acts of vaudeville have been booked in for the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening shows and Billie Eckstein will once again feature piano solos in conjunction with the stage show.

In addition to the feature pictures, "Victoria, The Great" and Jane Withers in "45 Fathers" another old time silent film, in the series, "Time Marches On" will be shown with the stage show. As usual a special musical score will be played with this silent film by Billie Eckstein at the piano and Armand Meerte at the drums. It is also announced that a special matinee performance of the stage show and silent film will be given Good Friday afternoon.

A HEART DRAMA THAT'LL THRILL YOU !

Lewis Stone and Charles Judels in a scene from "You're Only Young Once." Cecilia Parker and Mickey Rooney co-star in this Heart Thrilling Drama which opens a three day engagement at the Westmount United Theatre Sunday.

IN DANCING, SINGING ROMANCE

Eleanor Powell who will be seen with Nelson Eddy in "Rosalie," opening at the Snowdon United Theatre Sunday until Tuesday.

Noted Beauties In 'Marked Woman' Require Service

Twenty maids and hairdressers and four chauffeurs — all "personal" — recently established a new high in players' retainers on movie sets. The record was hung up during the making of "Marked Woman." Bette Davis' latest starring vehicle for First National, which comes to the Seville United Theatre next Sunday until Tuesday, now playing at the Westmount United Theatre.

The star herself has only one maid, one hairdresser (who also serves several other feminine members of the cast) and her personal chauffeur. The other chauffers, maids and hairdressers, with two wardrobe women who perched together on Dressing Room row and exchanged gossip, are employed by the other ladies of the cast.

These include Rosalind Marquis, Isabel Jewell, Lola Lane, Mayo Methot and Jane Bryan, to mention only principals who rate individual dressing rooms and maids.

Lloyd Bacon, the director, had filmed a long list of notable flickers, but cannot recall one in which there were so many maids waiting around just off-stage with their mistresses' makeup boxes, cigarettes and cough drops!

The reason for this aggregation of famous film beauties in a single film? They're all importantly cast as night club hostesses in "Marked Woman."

Three Weeks To Build Movie's "Typical Town"

Although Carvel is presumably a town in Idaho, you will never find it on the map. Instead, it exists in its entirety on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot in Culver City.

Although much of the action of "You're Only Young Once" at the Westmount United Theatre, starting Sunday for a three-day engagement, is placed on Catalina Island, the town of Carvel figures prominently in many scenes of the comedy drama.

Rather than transport several hundred players, technical equipment and production materials to a typical Idaho town, Director George Seitz decided to move the mountain to Mohamet. Thus, the time and costs of travel would be spared Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker, Mickey Rooney, Sara Haden and others in the cast.

After three weeks work, the community of Carvel rose on Lot No. 2 at the studio. A picturesque little community, it boasted shady streets, little cottages set in green lawns, gardens, winding foot paths and white picket fences.

Two other streets, the business section, contain a two-storey bank building, the newspaper office, a hotel and general department store and two blocks of business houses, including grocery stores, markets, drug stores, furniture, hardware, farm implement and book stores. A three story, red-brick courthouse rises in the center of the village in the public square.

In keeping with the realistic appearance of the town, the interiors of two houses were completed from parlor to kitchen, containing furniture proper to the locale and exact in every detail of construction.

Belgium imported nearly three times as many American bicycles last year as it did in 1936.

Many Star Film Favorites Head "Wells Fargo" Cast

One of the most stirring and inspiring stories taken from American history which is now playing at the Seville United Theatre, opening at the Monkland United Theatre Sunday until Tuesday in a majestic cavalcade which ranks easily as one of the screen's major accomplishments.

The story is the dynamic "Wells Fargo," Paramount's tribute to the men who built and maintained America's first life line of empire. It covers broadly the stirring quarter of a century which began with the discovery of gold in California and the end of the War between the States, the crowded years during which the American nation spread from ocean to ocean and its future greatness was established.

To quote the author of a recent history of the express business, "the story of it has been told and retold, but when will it ever stale?" The manner in which the story is told in film in "Wells Fargo" attests to the epic qualities of the story wrich, for sheer power, has no equal in film history.

The story begins with the decision of a young New Yorker, played by Joel McCrea, to enter what was then one of the most important as well as dangerous though lucrative businesses in the West—the carrying of mail to the frontier outposts and the returning to "civilization" with the gold which was pouring from the mountains in a steady stream.

The tale follows him as he goes from outpost to outpost, establishing routes for pony express riders and later, the stagecoach. It also tells of his beautiful romance with Frances Dee, daughter of a wealthy Southern banker, whom he marries, and the hardships they endure in the crude West. It follows the romance of these two people for twenty-five years and uses their lives as the framework for a story upon which the whole history of the West is placed.

The brilliant cast also includes Bob Burns, in a role which is new to him—that of a scout—and which gives the drawling Arkansan a splendid opportunity to prove what a great actor he really is. The same can be said of Lloyd Nolan, Robert Cummings, Porter Hall, Ralph Morgan, John Mack Brown and a long list of others, all of whom have important roles in this story.

STARDUST

On and Off the Set

By Morty Green

Beautiful Sinner

Marion Martin, described by Ziegfeld as "the most beautiful girl, I have ever seen" will soon appear in her first picture, "Sinners in Paradise." She provides the minor love interest with Bruce Cabot.

Pond Crossers

Spencer Tracy is scheduled for a trip across 'the pond', to star in a British production, temporarily titled, "National Velvet." Another Hollywoodite to go "over there" in the near future will be Robert Montgomery. A comedy by P. G. Wodehouse, called, "If I Were You" is being prepared for him.

A 'quickie' producer dashed into his script-writers office the other day and handed him a pencil. "By five o'clock it should be down to here," he said, pointing to a spot about a half-inch from the eraser. Such is Hollywood.

Vocational Congress Meets Early In May

Vocational congress sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., which instructs girls' classes of all high schools in the city in choosing a vocation, will meet this year on May 4 and 5. This congress was established a year ago.

Lectures on many of the professions, including medicine, law and teaching, will be given. Girls are expected to be present from all the high schools in the city including West Hill High, Westmount High, Montreal West High and Verdun High.

OFF WHITES SMART

Off whites, like oatmeal and string colors, are popular for late spring and summer, and natural is also a favorite.

Store Clerks Study Good, Bad Money

The United States secret service has begun a nationwide campaign to teach the neighbourhood grocer and the corner drugstore's "soda jerker" the difference between good and bad money.

Chief Frank J. Wilson explained that retailers are the principal victims of counterfeiters. The ordinary clerk will accept a bogus $10 bill without knowing the difference, but when he tries to put it in the bank, trained tellers spot the error. Experienced agents will conduct a series of night schools in various cities on the detection of counterfeiting. The first will begin in New York April 1.

Lesson No. 1—Beware of strangers.

Furs are so important this spring and summer, that a costume will look incomplete without them.

MONTREAL HIGH SCHOOL WINS SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIP

LOCAL TEAMS OVERWHELMED BY HOMESTERS

First Annual Swimming Meet Gives High School of Montreal Majority of Points in Senior and Junior Classes

Earning an aggregate of 40 out of a possible 72 points, Montreal High School swimmers and divers were well ahead of other schools when scoring was compiled on the weekend following the first annual swimming meet held under the auspices of the Montreal and District Swimming and Waterpolo Union.

Montreal High's junior team also did well against opposition, eorning half the number of points that could be garnered by any one schol with 32 out of a possible 64.

The meet, first of its kind ever held within the confines of the Montreal High School pool, was well conducted and was run off with an efficiency and smoothness that seldom accompanies swimming competitions.

Young delegates from five schools, Baron Byng, West Hill, Westmount, Montreal High and Verdun High took part in the meet which consisted of 18 events and included relay and diving competitions for both junior and senior entries.

Five Schools Respond

Application forms had been sent out to 14 major high schools on the Island of Montreal, and, although only 60 competitors took part in the proceedings, the success of the venture augured well for future water tourneys of the type for high school boys.

Final computation placed the teams in the following standing: senior, Montreal High, 40 points; Westmount, 11; Verdun High 9; West Hill, 7; Baron Byng, 5. Junior standing: Montreal High, 32; Baron Byng, 16; Verdun High, 7; Westmount, 6; West Hill, 0.

Roland Hood, starry Montreal High performer, established a new pool record in the senior free style event, a 40 yards race, when he travelled the distance in 18.2 seconds. Postons, West Hill, was second in the race with Herbert, Montreal High, third.

In the junior breast stroke final, a two-length afair, Brainin, Montreal High, chested the water in fine style to create a new mark in school records for the distance. His time was 26.3 for the event. Later in the afternoon he won the two-length free style event and was one of the day's big point notchers for the High School, earning 10 with two first. Aronoff, Baron Byng, winner of the back stroke event, also garnered 10 points after he placed in other races.

Kept Out of Competition

Although equalling the pool record of 57 seconds in the four-length senior breast stroke heat, Mahon, Westmount, was forced to pass up the privilege of starting in the final when he received a severe attack of indigestion and had to content himself with watching activity from the sidelines. The winner of this event was Owen of Montreal High who covered the distance in 59.4 seconds.

Some promise was shown by divers in both junior and senior classes. Steinberg, Baron Byng, in gathering up 49.8 points had to show some stylish performance from the board in order to beat out Cochrane of Montreal High who notched 45.1 points on the judges' books. Mills, Westmount and Burbs, Verdun High, placed third and fourth.

In the junior diving, Alliston, Montreal High, brought honors to his school by showing exceptional finesse for so young a boy. He was given 42.4 points for his efforts off the board. Aronoff, Baron Byng, placed second with Peters, Westmount, and Daniel, Verdun, placeding in that order.

Montreal High teams won both relay races. The senior four of Hoffman, L. and A. Ross, and Herbert, beat out Westmount, Verdun was third, West Hill fourth. The Montreal High junior team, Knox, Brainin, Shannon and Lyall, was hard pressed by Ver- adversaries.

SYRACUSE STARS ADD CHAPTER TO BOOK OF ICE PLAYOFF UPSETS

Eddie Powers' Syracuse Stars added another chapter in the book of hockey playoff upsets this spring when they eliminated Cleveland Barons from the International-American League title hunt.

Max Bennett wrote "finis" to Cleveland's championship bid with a goal in the fourth over-time period of a game at Cleveland before a capacity crowd of 10,000. The marathon duel lasted 122 minutes and 41 seconds Bennett's goal on a long shot gave Syracuse a 3-2 victory.

Defeat came as a bitter pill to the Barons, who had paced the Western Division of the League in a remarkable string of unbeaten games on home ice. The ill-fated Clevelanders finished their play-off campaign with only 10 players, including their 42-year-old coach, Bill Cook.

Boys Brigade Notes

WESTMOUNT DISTRICT NEWS

First Company enjoyed touring another factory, as they continue on their educational work, and hope to make similar trips every two weeks until the close of the season.

The Company are organizing several Indoor Hockey teams, which will play from week-to-week, and will be open to challenge. The junior boys of the company will form a team to compete with boys of their age and size, while the seniors will open challenge to other companies or teams in the district. Boys are reminded to bring their indoor hockey sticks with them.

Ambulance class is stepping its work so as to be ready for the final tests to take place very shortly. Lieut. Sutherland is making remarkable progress with this class and judging by the response, feels all of the boys will be successful in making their badge or certificate.

11th Company

The Eleventh have been making steady progress and are looking forward to holding their second annual inspection, early in May, at which time they will give a display of B. B. activities, under the direction of Capt. Cecil Gordon. A delegation from this company were present at the enrolment service of the 16th Company in Kydd Memorial Church, when the district companies turned out 125 strong, accompanied by two bands. The Rev. H. M. Sewell delivered a most inspiring address to the boys on what it meant to be soldiers of Christ.

Life Boys

Life-Boys of the First Company have certainly grown these past few weeks and are having the time of their lives each Tuesday evening. Recently they played basketball with the Live Wire Trail Rangers of Westmount Park United and came out victorious. Four boys have been awarded their white caps, denoting their place at the top of the team. These are Clarence Hawksworth, Billy Morton anl Benfield Inglis and George Montgomery. Clarence Hawksworth and George Montgomery were the first boys of the team to receive their Pathfinding badge.

Just as soon as the team are all in unniform, their picture will be taken; a souvenir every member will cherish for many a year.

Eleven Pitchers Starting This Spring With Detroit Tigers

According to present plans of Manager Cochrane, there will be 11 pitchers with the Detroit Tigers when they report at Briggs Stadium to open in Detroit's American League home program April 22.

The staff will include Tommy Bridges, Vernon Kennedy, Elden Auker, Roxie Lawson, George Gill, Harry Eisenstat, Al Benton, Poffy Poffenberger, Jake Wade, George Coffman and Schoolboy Rowe.

Cochrane, also planned to bring seven able-bodied infielders to Detroit, Gehringer, Greenberg, Rogell, Piet, Christman, Ross and Croucher. Unfortunately Croucher returns as a hospital patient.

Relief pitching was one of the several Detroit problems last spring. This work may be solved by Al Benton, a burly individual with a powerful right-handed delivery; by George "Slicker" Coffman, another right hander; and by Harry Eisenstat, a southpaw.

A wrestling promoter has offered to finance John "Mysterious" Monatgue in pro golf competition, which is a hint that somebody actually believes those fables about John after all.

SPORT ODDITIES

TODAY in SPORT

By ELMER LANTHIER

At a time when columns were being pounded out telling of the complete dominance in the boxing game of Joe Louis, it was more than relieving and served to arouse some pride in this old race of ours when an item trickled over the wires to the effect that James J. Braddock had been awarded the Leo R. Rains Veteran Boxers' Association trophy as the "most deserving and courageous" boxer of the present era.

Naturally the judges' decision for Braddock was spontaneous, came without much deliberation. It was a right and proper one as I see it. In fact, Braddock cannot be handed too many bouquets, in my estimation, even if he isn't tops in the heavyweight class today.

His sudden climb and all too rapid fall from the position as best man was watched from this corner with more than passing interest. In him was seen the most perfect champion since Jack Dempsey wore the crown.

A Clean Athlete

Through and through, Braddock is a clean athlete; clean in mind, clean in body. They are qualities not often found in athletes today.

Braddock is the only one in the upper strata of the heavyweight field—with the possible exception of Tommy Farr—who really can be looked upon as a champion in the true, real sense of the word.

A champion can be all that the word implies or just part of it—a crown wearer. But crown wearers are not wanted, especially in the heavyweight class.

Influence Seen

Today there are too many youngsters who look to the heavyweight champion of the world as the perfect athlete, their idol, a man who can do no wrong, a person to be admired not only for his boxing prowess but who can be pointed out as a clean living man, a good citizen, an asset to the community.

Braddock is all that and although some will claim there are many present day contenders who measure up to the standards, I'll stand behind the solid frame of James J. any day and know that I am behind a champion.

Shaping The Royals

Optimistic word is being received by this observer regarding the potentialities of Montreal Royals, now in the process of formation at the spring training camp in Lake Wales, Florida. Our authority from the sun bleached land of the palm tree relays some favourable comment.

Followers of "Rabbit" Maranville and his International League entry will be overjoyed to hear that the 1938 edition will be a hard hitting team.

The club has apparently bolstered every sector on the team with the possible exception of the outfield, which at present is being doctored into what is hoped will eventually be a strong link of the team.

Kies Gets Relief

Normie Kies, who last year had his hands full choring behind the bat, will this summer have an able relief mate in the person of Gilly Campbell, late of Syracuse.

The position has been bolstered 100 per cent by the acquisition of Campbell and the "Rabbit" assures that there will never be more occasions where Kies will have to give his all. It might be remembered that in a two-week stretch last summer, Kies dropped 15 pounds, as a result of his continuous, tiring work without relief behind the bat.

The pitching staff should be a strong one. Of last year's hurling crew, Royals still have Ol' Harry Smythe. Also with the club this summer will be Ben Cantwell, a major leaguer with Bees, Giants and Dodgers. Last year he had the best earned average in the International League while playing with Jersey City.

Porter Given Vote

Another lancer, from whom much is expected, is Dick Porter, who worked with Little Rock in the Southern Association last summer. Our observer calls him to win 15 games in the coming schedule. Del Wetherell, drafted from Memphis of the S.A., is another competent moundman.

A prediction that Alex Hooks, —who replaces Bernie Cobb at first base—will be one of the most popular men of the club, is made.

Hooks is a vast improvement over last year's worker at the initial sack. His hitting and fielding has been a feature of the spring training menu and although he may find it slow starting when Montreal comes home, he will gradually get into the run of things locally before long.

Bell, Sankey Solid

Bell and Sankey will probably remain at second and short while either Babe Benning, utility infielder last season, or Mercer Harris, up from Savannah, Ga., will play at third. The toss will probably favour the former.

But as far as the outfield is concerned, Royals will have to go searching for at least two good men. Only Paul Dunlap and Gus Dugas remain from last season and the crop of newcomers does not boast of any exceptional talent.

On the whole, however, Royals should be a hard hitting team and "go places" this summer, although the bid for pennant honours favours Newark Bears or Baltimore.

Off The Record

Just what will happen to Montreal's Big Four Indians this fall is still a question mark. Nationals, new O.R.F.U. entrant, have grabbed up most of last year's Indians in the sweep for recognition. Montrealers will be able to see Balmy Beach, Hamilton, and Sarnia Imperials in action next fall . . . Walter Young, last year's Boston marathon winner and now a Verdun policeman, is seriously thinking of taking the trip to Boston for Tuesday's race whether Verdun likes it or not . . . Bobby pins were strewn over the ice and permanents were ruined in a recent ladies hockey game when the gals took down their hair and took up combat with clenched fists. Preston Rivulettes eastern Canadian "lady" champions and Charlottetown Islanders were the teams . . . Senior baseball teams will hog the picture at Atwater Park this summer.

QUIT WARNING

Tourist (in Ireland): "But that spot is dangerous. They should put up a notice to that effect."

Pat: "Sure an' we did have a notice there for the last ten years, but as no one ever fell over we took it down."

NEW DRIVER

Mrs. Johnson (learning to drive)—Henry, that little mirror up there isn't set right.

Henry—Isn't it?

Mrs. Johnson—No, I can't see anything but the car behind.

MICKEY COCHRANE'S ANNOUNCEMENT WAS NOT SURPRISING

Mickey Cochrane's announcement from Miami, Florida, that he will not don a uniform for Detroit Tigers this season, can hardly be described as a surprise.

Plans for Mickey's retirement were revealed several weeks ago, when the Detroit Baseball Club announced its 1938 roster. Mickey's name was missing from the list of catchers. Cliff Bolton, Ray Hayworth, George Tebbetts and Rudy York comprised the catching staff, according to the folder distributed from Detroit headquarters.

Incidentally that same folder lists five outfielders for the 1938 squad and it isn't a quintet that is likely to start the chills up the back of rival American League clubs.

Pete Fox is the power-house of the bunch with a 1937 mark of .331. Chet Laabs batted only .240 and Jo Jo White .246. Dixie Walker had a .302 mark with Chicago White Sox. Roy Cullenbine did .308 with Toledo Mudhens . . but that was against American Association hurling.

Unless Mickey Cochrane has a spring training prescription for fattening batting averages, the 1938 Detroit outfield will be the lightest hitting combination in many years. Much depends, of course, on the way Laabs travels in his second year as a big leaguer, and how Cullenbine adjusts himself to American League pitching.

WESTMOUNT Y.M.C.A. REMAINS UNBEATEN AFTER WASHING OUT ALL STARS 30-18 ON FRIDAY

Hi-Grads Bowed to Amicis 41-19 in Second Feature of Doubleheader — Ronnie Blackburn Chalks Up Twenty Seven Points, Enough to Trim Opponents All By Himself

Today being Good Friday no games will be played in the Westmount basketball tourney, but on Monday at Queens School the series will be resumed when Amicis meet the winners of the Football Club-All Stars game. Then on Wednesday, the surviving squad from these three teams meet the losers of the Dominion Douglas-Westmount Y tilt for a berth in the final round.

Westmount Y remained in the unbeaten class when they defeated a weakened All Star team Friday night 30-18. The All Stars gave the Y team a real battle of it for the first part of the game and held a four point lead at the interval, but faded badly in the second session.

The second game of the double header saw the elimination of the Westmount High Grads, when they lost to the Amicis by the score of 41-19. Probably the highest individual scoring feat of the season was witnessed in this game, when Ronnie Blackburn, centre man of the city league team scored twenty-seven points, more than enough to beat the Grads by himself. Doug Smaill turned in a neat effort for the High Alumni.

On Monday the Football Club "kicked" the Track Club out of further contention by handing them a 63-24 beating. Individual the Brother Director, said he was scoring efforts also featured this game with the veteran Ike Kert notching twenty-one and Graham Henley twenty points apiece, in behalf of the Footballers cause. Ricker was the best for the Runners.

CLOSE IN SHOTS . . . As a mark to the interest evinced in the local tournament, the representatives of the first two teams eliminated in the early rounds, stated that they would certainly be represented in the competition next year . . . Ike Kert stole the show on Monday evening when the tournament went "classy" and played a game at the M.A.A.A. gym. A fair sized crowd watched his every move, especially after he had scored seven baskets in the first half of the game. From then on he was playing on borrowed time as the Footballers were shorthanded, only five men turning up, but still managed to ring three more through the hoop . . . The fractured collar bone that Ronnie Blackburn suffered midway through the season, which proved so disastrous for the Amicis, has evidently not affected his play any, in fact he is playing a much better game now than before he was injured.

If you haven't any in the house now, 'phone your grocer and order a case or carton of that good ale that tastes better and is better — DOW OLD STOCK ALE!

The Little Cock Sparrow

A LITTLE cock sparrow sat on a green tree,
And he chirruped, he chirruped, so merry was he;
A naughty boy came with his wee bow and arrow,
Determined to shoot this little cock sparrow.
"This little cock sparrow shall make me a stew,
And his giblets shall make me a little pie, too";
"Oh, no!" said the sparrow, "I won't make a stew,"
So he flapped his wings and away he flew.

HOW TO MAKE EASTER EGGS

The Easter egg is a beautiful idea. It is a symbol of the return of spring, for the egg contains in it, in a mysterious way, the promise of life. All over the world friends give and take presents of Easter eggs; in the country, perhaps, a basketful of the freshest new-laid eggs; but in town some of us may receive a pretty nest, or fancy basket, of candy eggs. Let us see if we can make some Easter eggs ourselves.

Surprise chocolate eggs are a good idea. Boys who collect eggs and know how to "blow" them will find these easy to prepare. Simply make a small hole in one end and a slightly larger hole in the other, then blow through the small hole until the shell is empty.

The empty shell is stood on its broad end, and two or three drops of melted chocolate are poured through the top hole. This must dry and harden to stop up the bottom hole. Then the egg is filled up with melted chocolate. To get this we take a bar of chocolate, put it in an empty jam jar, and stand it in a pan of boiling water until the chocolate is melted, and can pass, by a funnel, through the hole in the egg. A little white sugar will cover up the dark spot, and great will be the surprise when the egg is cracked at table.

A nest of Easter eggs.

We might make four surprise chocolate eggs and put them in a nest—not a real bird's nest, but one we can make ourselves. We first get some twigs and twist them together in the form of a nest—of course ten fingers can do what two small bills can do. A little glue will secure the twigs in place, and between them we arrange some real or artificial moss. Failing that, we can color some green, or shred a little green crinkled paper. Pad the nest with little bits of cotton batting and a downy feather or two, and then it is ready for the eggs, as shown in the picture. A small basket, deep or shallow, is a good substitute for a nest.

A surprise egg might have a filling of confectioner's sugar, which is pure and wholesome. Take some confectioner's sugar and dissolve it in a few drops of cold water so that it will run through the small hole in the shell and fill the egg. Then place the egg in boiling water a few minutes to harden it. The icing can be made pink by adding to it a drop or two of vegetable coloring.

Le Petit Poulet

Cott, cott, cott, — qu'y a-t-il de neuf?
La poule fait l'oeuf.
Cott, cott, cott, — tant qu'il le faudra,
La poule pondra.
Cott, cott, cott, — qu'est-il arrivé?
La poule a couvé.
Toc, toc, toc, — qu'y a-t-il de neuf?
Le poulet dans l'oeuf.
Toc, toc, toc, — un petit coup sec:
Il frappe du bec.
Toc, toc, toc, — un oeuf s'ouvre au choc . . .
Bonjour, petit coq!

ICARUS AND HIS WAXEN WINGS

The airplane is one of the wonders of the present age, but dreams of flying through the air are as old as early mythology. King Minos of Crete had in his service a skillful workman named Daedalus. Daedalus built the famed labyrinth for King Minos, but soon afterward he lost the royal favor and was thrown into prison. He made his escape, but could not leave the island, as the king had all departing vessels watched.

The workman was doubly anxious to escape, as his young son Icarus was with him. He decided to make wings for himself and his son. After inspecting the wings of many birds he took a quantity of feathers and bound them together in the shape of wings. The larger feathers he tied with thread and the smaller he secured with wax. Icarus watched his father with interest and collected the feathers when the wind blew.

When the work was finished Daedalus fastened the wings on his shoulders, and by imitating the motions of a bird he found himself poised in the air high above the earth.

His next step was to teach Icarus to use the wings. The boy learned quickly, but he was impatient to fly faster and higher than his father would permit.

All was ready for the flight. Daedalus warned his son not to fly too low, as the damp would clog the feathers, nor too high, as the sun would melt the wax.

Shepherd and plowman watched in astonishment as the pair rose in the air. On they flew, past Samos, Delos and Lebinthus. But Icarus, exulting in his power, soared upward as if to reach the heavens. The blazing sun softened the wax. Down plunged Icarus, to be drowned in the blue AEgean Sea. His body was buried on an island which is called Icaria to this day.

EASTER ETHER

About this time every year the airlanes take on a festive spirit. Schedules are crammed with special events and even regular weekly features dress up in springtime garb to keep pace with the season. This Easter will be no exception.

Good Friday brings the annual CBS presentation of Bachs cantata, "Christ Lag in Todesbanden," with Richard Maxwell as tenor-philosopher. St. Mark's choir brings greetings from the Bowery, via the same network, and the New York Philharmonic Symphony, Sunday afternoon, plays excerpts from Act 1 of Parsifal by Wagner. Pope Pius speaks through CBS, 6.30 a.m. Sunday, from the Vatican, with sacred music by the Sistine Chapel and Benedictine choirs. From 7 to 9.30 a.m. CKAC will take listeners across the continent following the sun in a series of sunrise services from St. Louis, Provo, Utah, and Glendale, California.

Holiday broadcasts commence Thursday evening. The Jewish audience will be attracted especially to a Passover broadcast with Rabbi Stephan Wise, Friedrich Schorr, baritone, and David Ross via CBS —and possibly CKAC—at 10 p.m. Two hours later Haydn's "Seven Words of the Saviour from the Cross" will be performed by the Columbia choristers and symphony orchestra through the same network.

In lighter vein are afternoon programmes Sunday. Bob Trout, news commentator and Miss Cobina Wright, Jr., will stick antennae in their hats and tiny transmitters in their pockets as they stroll down Fifth avenue describing the Easter Parade via CBS. For NBC, Mrs. Hedwig Easter, publisher of the Sandwich Free Press, will describe, appropriately enough, the Sandwich Easter Parade in her little Illinois home town. The program opens on Fifth Avenue, New York, and switches to Fifth Avenue, Sandwich. A novel twist to an annual radio assignment!

Regional listeners will hear all major network features in addition to special holiday fare from the local studios. Rupert Caplan produces "Good Friday" by John Masefield, with a cast of thirty-five Friday eve at 8. Two hours later CFCF-CBM feature Richard Manning, orchestra, choir, and soloists in lighter entertainment.

These are but a few of the highlights scheduled for Easter weekend. Roundly considered, rather a fine effort on the part of the broadcasters to spread the spirit of Easter along the airlanes. Good advice would be to clip this column and keep it handy by your radio—for these, and many other programs, will climb aboard their respective kilocycles and climb out your loud speaker in days to come.

F. D. R. FROM WASHINGTON

Franklin Delano Roosevelt speaks to the Pan-American Union and the world via all major networks today, Thursday, at noon . . . Phil Brito deserts the Mount Royal Hotel for Manhattan and Hollywood Friday eve. Tuesday he stars with Nick Kenny in New York . . . Raoul Ranier, billing himself as "Europe's Dance Sensation" a short time back at a down town theatre, appeared here several weeks ago as half of the dance team of Daro and Costa. He has been in America for many years. The "Good Humour" amateur auditions, broadcast by CFCF from the stage of United Theatres, are worth dialing—in these wintry nights. Al Plunkett is master-of-ceremonies . . . Something called "Siberian Sleigh Ride" is Raymond Scott's latest contribution to the realm of fine music. Your correspondent made the acquaintance of Mr. Scott a short time ago and is happy to report him an otherwise sane and sensible young man . . . Even Mr. Scott must bow to Harold Moon, young Montreal composer, in the matter of unorthodox titles. Mr. Moon's latest opus—as yet blissfully absent from the airlanes—bears the picturesque caption, "Teardrops

OF NO IMPORTANCE

Unprinted stories concerning the Corona Hotel fire are making their way along local broadcast channels. Several prominent radio artists made the old landmark their abode and suffered severely by its destruction . . . Juliette Drouin, harpist with the Montreal Orchestra and with Kenn Sisson on the national networks, escaped only with the clothes she was wearing and looked on from the street as flames devoured her $6000.00 library of rare harp manuscripts which can never be replaced . . . Canada sends London a special program from the shores of the St. Lawrence Sunday afternoon. Lawrence Gilliam will produce the show for shortwave transmission to the Empire . . . Jeanne Dusseau, widely-known Montreal soprano, is starred as "Butterfly" in the forthcoming broadcast April 19 of Pucini's "Madame Butterfly" from Sadler's Wells Theatre in London . . . Jean Sablon, French idol of the flappers, returns to Montreal April 22, supposedly for a special series of airings . . .

TUNEFUL TRIPE

Harry Owens succeeds Horace Heidt at the New York Biltmore July 3 . . . Lucio Agostini's picture graces the cover of "Feelin' High and Happy", latest opus by the composers of "Truckin'" . . . R. B., of Sherbrooke Street, writes for advice concerning possible publication of original music. Says he: "As I play by ear, my compositions are not written in musical form nor do they have lyrics. Would you know of someone interested in completing them to our mutual benefit?" . . . Full name and address of the writer will be supplied anyone interested, but R.B. faces an almost impossible task if he contemplates attempted publication of his tunes. Definite plugging, several radio performances and an uncommonly good score are needed if a publisher is even to be approached . . . Herbie Kay, bandleader at the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel, is married to Dorothy Lamour, feminine influence in the life of one Chas. Aloysius McCarthy. We print this in answer to three correspondents whose hearts were evidently affected by fair Dorothy's fluttering on the silver screen . . .
