G. M. Barry Morton, Sales Representative of The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company, Montreal. A former President of The Montreal Life Underwriters' Association. A resident of Westmount, formerly of N.D.G., Mr. Morton is addressing a Sales Congress of The New York Life Underwriters' Association in the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, tomorrow. Mr. Morton's invitation from New York to address this meeting is the reverse of the long-standing practice which has brought American speakers to Canadian Congresses.

Alpha Omegas Hold Radio-Type Hour Programme

Alpha Omega Society of St. Andrew's will offer an outstanding programme on Sunday which will be second to last in the present series. Ean Fraser and John Piper will be present to swing this "Mr. Anthony Hour" type event off to a good start.

Ernie Taylor, Jr., and Patricia Brown will impersonate Mr. and Mrs. Anthony respectively. The audience will be asked to submit "problems from life" real or fictional, and the experts will offer solutions. The entire evening will be in charge of Walter Mingie, Jr.

On Wednesday, members of the Alpha Omega Society are invited to attend the "Amateur Hour" being presented at Stanley Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. and host for the evening will be the combined 20 - 30 groups of Stanley Presbyterian and Dominion Douglas churches.

The final program of the year will be on March 30th. Dean Hall will be guest speaker and he will address the group on the subject "The Stars". Refreshments will be served.

HOME-SCHOOL GROUP PLANS SQUARE DANCE

Turning back to the good old days, the Westmount High School Home and School Association is holding a "Square Dance" evening at the Senior High School, Cote St. Antoine Road, Friday, March 28, at 3.15 p.m.

Jack Lang, supervisor of physical training for the Montreal Protestant School Commission, will be master of ceremonies for the evening. On this occasion the Association has invited the students of the Senior High School to be present and during the evening a few modern dances will be interspersed along with the others.

It is expected that a large number will be present for this affair.

St. Patrick's Life-Work Told Holy Name Society

At the March meeting of St. Augustine's Holy Name Society held in the Parish Hall on Marcell Avenue, the life and works of St. Patrick, pictured in prose by the guest speaker, Rev. George Thoms, of Ascension Parish, Westmount, highlighted the evening, while a background of Irish songs and melodies subsequently added fitting accentuation of the central theme.

Harry J. Carter, President of the Society, took the chair for the business meeting which preceded the address and before introducing the customary reports, formally extended congratulations on behalf of the Society to H. J. Nevin on his recent appointment as General Manager of Passenger Traffic for the Canadian National Railways.

Reports rendered by John O'Neil and Thos. Higgins revealed that arrangements had been made for Rev. Father Lafleur, in charge of the Shrine at Cap de la Madeleine, to visit Montreal on Wednesday and display in St. Augustine's Parish Hall the moving-picture films he has made of "Indian Life in Quebec."

F. W. Jansen, chairman of the Membership Committee, outlined briefly the steps taken and to be taken by his committee to maintain and arouse active interest and participation in the Society's plans and activities by all members. A satisfactory financial statement was submitted by the treasurer, George Davidson, and Harry J. Nevin, on behalf of his associates on the council of the Young People's Association, reported a continuance and expansion of activities, announcing that plans for a Public Speaking Contest amongst the boys and girls of the parish schools have been put into effect, the response being most encouraging.

George Bateman announced that the Public Speaking Group is well and regularly patronized and extended a hearty invitation to all Society members to attend any of the group meetings (held every Tuesday in the Parish Hall at 8.30 p.m.) and see and hear for themselves "what goes on."

Following the adjournment of the business meeting, the Chaplain, Rev. M. J. Healy, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. George Thoms, of Ascension Parish, Westmount. Taking as his subject "St. Patrick the Man," Rev. Thoms illustrated popular misconception by the answer of a pupil of tender years who, when asked what he had learned from reading the life of one of the Saints, replied "Well, he was a regular guy until he got religion!" Such, said the speaker, was all too often the reaction of many persons—that the Saints were "regular guys" who suddenly "saw the light" and thereafter devoted themselves to a life of constant prayer, vigils and fasting.

That theory was a misapprehension; the Saints were, in fact, men and women who had so conducted their earthly lives as to fulfil the roles as men and women in the manner that God had intended them to do. St. Patrick, said Father Thoms, was a man who lived up to the great ideal that burned within him and whose faith remained steadfast through all his tribulations.

Mayor Houde To Open Que. Drama Festival

His Worship Camillien Houde, Mayor of Montreal, will open the Western Quebec Regional Drama Festival which is to be staged on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week at the Sun Life Auditorium. Mayor Houde will attend officially on Tuesday the opening night.

A unique feature of this year's festival is the entry by two dramatic groups, of plays to be presented in both French and English. Carl Dubuc Group are presenting "Lorizam" by Mr. Dubuc, which will be heard in French on Thursday and in English on Friday. Les Quinze are presenting their entry, Alfred de Musset's "On ne saurait penser a tout" (You can't think of everything) in both languages on the opening night, Tuesday.

The Western Quebec Regional Drama Festival is organized by a committee chosen to represent drama groups in the district. As adjudicator this year, the Committee has secured the services of Virginia Vernon of London, England.

Virginia Vernon has a long list of theatrical successes to her credit. Born in America, the daughter of a theatrical manager, she was educated in France. She has acted, produced and written plays both in English and in French. Her late husband, Frank Vernon, was a well known London producer, and she collaborated with him in adapting continental plays for the English stage and vice-versa. Their greatest successes have come from their productions of Noel Coward's plays, in French, at the Madeleine Theatre, Paris.

Mrs. Vernon is a full member of the Societe des Auteurs et Compositeurs Dramatiques, Paris, France. This honour is especially distinguished as it has been conferred on very few writers of non-French nationality.

During her career, Mrs. Vernon has been associated with such famous stage personalities as John Gielgud (seen here recently in "The Importance of Being Earnest"); Claude-Andre Puget (whose play "Les Jours Heureux" appears in the Festival), Noel Coward, Marie Tempest, Andre Maurois, Gracie Fields, and many others.

First Of Four Public Lectures

The first of a series of four public lectures on the C.C.F. government in Saskatchewan, will be given by Mrs. Gladys Strum, M. P., on Wednesday at 8.30 p.m. at Preston Hall, 1173 Drummond Street, announces Estelle Gahair, 4378 Western Avenue, Westmount, of the Education Committee, Quebec, C.C.F.

Mrs. Strum has the unique distinction of being the only woman member of parliament where her ability and eloquence command the respect and admiration of all the House. Everyone is interested in the member for Qu'Appelle just as all eyes are turned toward the province she represents because it too is unique in being the only socialist government in America. No Canadian should be indifferent to what is happening in Saskatchewan.

This will be a first hand report from the most newsworthy province. Mrs. Strum's lecture, "Saskatchewan, Social Laboratory of America," will be followed by others given on the three succeeding Wednesdays at the same place, by outstanding members from Saskatchewan, on government enterprises and co-operative enterprises, health and social services, labor and education.

Parental Schools To Solve Problem

"Send Them (Parents) Back To School" was an outstanding address delivered last night by Nat W. Jacobs, K.C., 4326 Sherbrooke Street West, before the Cote des Neiges Community Association. Mr. Jacobs believes his subject is a novel view-point to an old question and suggested that Juvenile Delinquency is everybody's problem.

On the basis that no single person is unimportant in the nation's welfare, Mr. Jacobs asserted that all should be vitally concerned about the growth of every boy and girl.

Crime always has been and will be a problem of youth, he declared, and if delinquent careers are not checked early, society must expect that these youthful offenders will develop into habituals.

Mr. Jacobs had much to say as regards Reformatories and suggested it is while in such places juveniles obtain elementary education in crime. He suggested also that waywardness is a parental cause and that the chief responsibility lies with the home.

He explained why he arrives at the conclusion and shows as remedy the training to be an effective parent, and said no parents should feel themselves incapable to the task. There are no fixed rules to follow, he remarked, and concluded with his suggested solution, Parental Schools.

A largely attended meeting of the Westmount High School Home and School Association heard an interesting panel discussion Tuesday night on "Home Work". The panel was composed of two pupils, two parents and two teachers and many interesting sidelights were thrown on this problem. H. A. Crombie, president of the Association presided and acted as moderator for the panel.

R. A. Speirs To Speak To Home-School Group

At the close of the meeting, parents will be invited to visit the classrooms where samples of the children's work will be on display.

Billeting

Any parent interested in billeting high school students here for the Musical Festival, April 23-27, are asked to get in touch with Mrs. W. F. Dawson (DE. 6133) or Mrs. Dent Harrison (WA. 4317). Homes are still urgently needed to accommodate visiting American and Canadian students.

All parents not yet approached who feel they would like to help out by providing bed and breakfast for the four nights and four mornings are invited to contact the two ladies named. Help of parents will be greatly appreciated by the Festival Committee.

UNITY BOYS' CLUB PRESENTS FROLICS

For an hour and a half of solid entertainment and rollicking fun, see Bob O'Neil's Unity Frolics, presented on Thursday next at Westmount Junior High School at 8:30 p.m.

Following this first showing of Elizabeth Todd, speaking for the pupils, referred to aspects of home work objected to by the student body and she was ably backed by John Draper, who urged that a schedule be adhered to for the term.

Mrs. Read and H. C. Todd spoke for the parents and pointed to problems from the home side of "Home Work".

Miss Beryl Truax and Ed. Smith, teachers of the Senior High School, gave the teachers' view-point on the subject.

After these brief speeches members of the panel questioned one another and then the meeting was thrown open to questions from the audience.

Following the meeting an exhibit of the work of the Art Group, under J. D. Lawley, was inspected by parents who were highly pleased with the work of the young artists.

the Frolics at the school the troop will decide on what further uses they can put the show. The troop have been rehearsing for weeks, and there is good variety of turns and the show as a whole has lots of "punch" though purely amateur.

ARE OUR HEROES BEING FORGOTTEN ?

Not by the
CANADIAN + RED CROSS

PEACE HAS COME TO OUR LAND and our returned men are being absorbed into civilian life. But there are still hundreds of these men who are lying sick or crippled in veterans hospitals. Many will not be back home for months or years. Many will have to remain in hospital the rest of their lives.

These men who bear the scars of war more than any others, are apt to be passed by and forgotten by most Canadians. The Red Cross does not forget them. Red Cross workers pay them frequent visits — bring them cigarettes, candies and many Red Cross comforts. They provide facilities for various handicrafts to keep the hands and minds of these veterans occupied.

The Red Cross needs money to carry on this great service to our hospitalized veterans. Your Red Cross donations can bring comfort to the men to whom we owe so much . . . will you do your part?

CANADIAN ACTOR GETS BIG CONTRACT

Paul Dupuis, French-Canadian star of the Ealing-J. Arthur Rank production "Johnny Frenchman", has arrived in London, to start his new seven-year contract with the Rank Organization. He just completed a leading role in "The Whispering City", produced in Quebec province, and Rank officials were so impressed with his performance in these two films that they signed him to a contract immediately. Paul is six feet, dark haired with blue eyes and speaks with a decided French accent. He is a champion skier, ex-newspaperman, and was a war correspondent for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for three years.

ORDER OF ST. JOHN EXTENDING SERVICES

Another link is to be added to the long chain of Centres of the Order of St. John in our province. It will be named the St. Johns-Iberville Centre and its president will be Mr. L. O. Regnier, president of the Chambers of Commerce of the Province of Quebec. The city of St. Johns already has on hand seven instructors and its Centre will soon take a prominent place amongst the 26 other Centres of the Order operating in all parts of this province.

"The Order of St. John," declares Colonel Arthur Gaboury, provincial administrator of the St. John Ambulance Association, "was established in Canada shortly after the discovery of our country, in the town of Sillery. The inheritance it has bequeathed to us commands respect, appreciation, gratitude, and every one of us must contribute to the diffusion of its humanitarian programme.

"The Order has become a Canadian institution and by that right all must give to it their assistance, for its teachings are beneficial and profitable to the whole population.

"The Order of St. John", adds Col. Gaboury, "has no need for searching for a peacetime programme. Its programme does not change. Taking one year with another, its mission is teaching first-aid practice, medical care, home nursing and hygiene. Its task is quite heavy. It implies work, and no recreation. There are no tea parties nor social meetings of any kind. The Order is satisfied with rendering service to the population."

RED CROSS NEEDS YOUR SUPPORT

Time-honoured, world-wide, a beacon of mercy and help in a world troubled by strife and international misunderstandings, the Red Cross serves mankind better than any other agency excepting religion. Its work is well known in all countries, its support is universal. Now, as never before, the organization is strong and ready to serve Canada during the years of peace in its efficient, practical way. For instance, the Red Cross plans to equip every hospital in Canada with banks of blood plasma, free of charge.

The Red Cross is presently conducting its annual appeal for funds. The objective in the U.S.A., is $60,000,000. In Canada it is $5,000,000, of which $1,000,000 has been allotted to the Province of Quebec. The Canadian objective is entirely for work in Canada, and this work is entirely dependent on campaign proceeds. To maintain its services in its 2,500 branches in Canada, the society needs a generous response to its appeal. This is a cause that will win the support of all public-spirited Canadians. Local residents will do their full part.

WEEKLY REVIEW

Snapshots Of Rural England

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Cheltenham is an old eighteenth century English town trying to act like a young American city. This acting, however, is confined to a narrow intersection in the centre of the town, at which there are changing stop-lights and fenced-off corner sidewalks. At busy periods of the day a police car with a loud-speaker is parked, and a policeman delivers spasmodic lectures to erring pedestrians in a magnified voice and (to me) unintelligible English. I am not suggesting that these stoplights are unnecessary, but the appearance of this bit of Chicago in the midst of a dreamy, Old World town struck me as rather comical.

Perhaps the Americans themselves were responsible for this elaborate traffic regulation, for the headquarters of the Yankee forces encamped in the district during the war was situated in the town, and there must have been considerable traffic of military vehicles to and fro in those war years. But the Yanks were gone, and the old town and surrounding countryside knew them no more. They had left their mark, not only at that intersection, but also in other particulars, and I did not meet anyone who expressed deep regret at their departure.

Cheltenham was first brought into repute as a fashionable resort by the visits of George III, and the larger buildings and residence are all Georgian in style. These residences were formerly the homes of retired London merchants, civil servants and military men who have served in India and other parts of the Empire. But they, like the Americans, have departed and their palatial homes are mostly let off in flats and occupied by humbler people, many of whom fled from bombed cities during the war.

The town is situated in the heart of Gloucestershire, and is a convenient centre from which to take trips to Stratford-on-Avon, the Melvern Hills, Gloucester and down the Wye Valley to Tintern Abbey. I did not get to Stratford, being detained half way at Evesham on business. Evesham is a typical rural English town, the main street of which seems to have been little changed since the time of Shakespeare, so that I felt that I had absorbed something of the atmosphere in which the immortal bard grew up to manhood. I consoled myself over not seeing Stratford with the thought that I had avoided looking upon that architectural monstrosity, the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre.

O sylvan Wye! thou wanderer thro' the woods,
How often has my spirit turned to thee.

So wrote Wordsworth 150 years ago in his poem, "Lines Written Below Tintern Abbey." The trip down the Wye Valley is one long unfolding panorama of natural beauty — velvety-green lowlands and uplands, the immemorial Forest of Dean, ancient Chepstow Castle, villages nestling in the dales, thatched and shingled roofs overgrown with lichen moss that glistens like bronze in the sunlight here and there a baronial hall, the distant view of the Severn River, like a monstrous serpent, winding out into the broad Bristol Channel in the dim beyond. That is how I saw it. Here is a bit of description by Wordsworth;

These hedge-rows, hardly hedge-rows,
Little lines Of sportive wood run wild, these pastoral farms,
Green to the very door; and wreaths of smoke
Sent up in silence from among the trees.

Tintern Abbey is but a skeleton of its ancient self, only the bare walls remaining, the interior overgrown with grass clipped by grazing sheep. Beside the Abbey is an inn at which we had a very frugal lunch, for even here, far inland, the ration "points" have penetrated. Outside the inn, sitting on a grassy bank by the road-side was a typical English tramp. He was so much like the "stage" tramp that I suspected he had been made-up and stationed there for scenic effect. His clothes looked as if he had stolen them from a scarecrow. He had a whimsical, happy, weathered face, and as our party passed by he was playing or trying to play a tune on a crude sort of flute. He produced similar instruments from his pockets and, with an apologetic grin, he said, "I make these myself." If he was offering them for sale, there were no buyers. When the party was from his pockets several large pebbles with which he put on a juggling act. He was rewarded with a little shower of coins.

entering the bus for the return trip, this versatile tramp took As we drove away, I turned to a socialist friend and asked him what he would do with such tramps under the new social order. He thought for a while, and said, "We'd educate them." "But he seems happy enough," I said, "happier than you and I; so why make his life miserable with education — and spoil the picture?" That may seem a callous thing to say, although it was spoken in jest. But this particular tramp seemed to me to be a child of nature—a sort of ragged Peter Pan, pipe and all — and an essential part of the human foreground of the picture of the English countryside. He was probably a lone survivor of old-time Merry England.

This is the season for the baby contests that give judges a grand chance to be very popular—one mother!

THE FORUM.

Conducted by Howard S. Ross,
K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

Harry E. Burroughs, who died in Boston at the age of fifty-six, came to Boston from Russia as an orphan in 1904. His early days as a newsboy on the Boston streets were so hard that he decided to do everything he could to help other poor newsboys. In 1927, a successful lawyer, he established the Burroughs Newsboy Foundation which provided a fine building for newsboys and their friends and offers classes in vocations and hobbies. The story of the Foundation is told in Mr. Burroughs' book "Boys in Men's Shoes." He was highly thought of by the people of Boston of all classes and creeds.

The university college of the University of Chicago opened in January a weekly forum on labor problems. The first session was addressed by Joseph D. Lahman, Assistant Director of Race Relations for the Rosenwald Fund and Ralph Helstein, International President of the United Packing House Workers of America.

I receive each day my interesting and bright home town daily, the Post-Record of Sydney, Nova Scotia, edited by my friend, H. P. Duchemin, K.C., and his son. I find much of interest in it and am glad to note that quite a number of the editorials in the Post-Record are quoted by other Canadian journals in different parts of our country. I also see some very forthright letters in that journal's "People's Forum" from persons who as a rule are not afraid to sign their names and seem to be ready to cross pens with all comers.

Recently Rod J. McDougall of Glace Bay wrote: "If Mr. Campbell thinks we are living without a worry or a care except Communism, I wonder where he has been since he came to the age of reason and looked around him, as he would have seen strikes, lockouts, riots, depressions and unemployment. Yes, we are, with our small population, able to produce enough to feed a great part of the world's population, yet we have seen hunger and grief around our very doors.

There are more people of Irish blood in the United States than in Ireland. Between 1820 and 1920 nearly 5,500,000 Irish people settled in the United States. The only parallel in history was the migration from Portugal to Brazil. Even so, the proportion of Irish stock is higher in Newfoundland, Australia and Scotland.

At Sydney, Nova Scotia, recently, meetings were held to consider changes at the county jail. The changes would amount to $18,435.00. Among others who spoke on the matter was Mayor MacLean of Sydney, who, at one stage of the discussion said: "Let us try to cure the causes that require jails and such institutions and when this is done it will pay higher dividends than building jails."

Pre-fabricated aluminum houses are now coming off the assembly lines in Great Britain like mass-produced motor cars. They are rolling out of former bomber factories, complete with fittings, at the rate of twelve houses every working hour. Soon it is hoped to turn out a complete house every two and a half minutes—which seems clearly incredible. The British Minister of Supply said it is a remarkable sight to see these houses moving down the production line with painters, plumbers and other craftsmen working inside them as the belt moves on. He said that the government has undertaken to produce 54,500 of these houses by the autumn of 1947, this aluminum house was a "real good-looker" and though temporary would probably have a life of one hundred years. He stated that one of such houses could be erected on its site in one hour, "sometimes quicker than the tenants could move in."

A coerced goodness is not goodness at all.—Dr. Lynn H. Hough.

If doing what ought to be done be made the first business and success a secondary condition, is not this the way to exalt virtue?—Confucius.

William N. Macartney, M.D., Fort Covington, New York State, who heard one of my addresses on Equitism at the Rotary Club of Malone, wrote me: "The more I think of the work-unit-dollar the more it appeals to me. I hope you will keep on developing the idea and getting it more and more before the public."

I heard a very fine address by Reverend Urban Nagle, O.P., over the radio and wrote him about Equitism. He replied as follows: "After some delay your letter with its enclosure was forwarded to me and I am very much interested in your outline of Equitism. Although not an economist, I have long been aware of the hopelessness of much moral progress in a scarcity economy. Material things or the lack of material things can twist us away from fulfilling our best aspirations. Thank you for telling me about this development. I hope to learn more about its ideals and its progress."

World peace involves world harmony. World harmony requires that regardless of race, nationality, religion, colour or sex, normal (capable of personal responsibility) human adults serve each other equitably. That necessitates that natural resources be free from price. The Equitist proposal, the work-unit-dollar, according to time, will free the natural resources. The natural resources will be free for use and will be a flux to hold the work stored in them and each person who helps to make the natural resources useable will get equitable remuneration for the work stored in the natural resources. The work, under Equitism, would be measured hour for hour according to time. That would give the world a pure medium of exchange.

Beverley Baxter, Canadian born British Conservative M.P., and brilliant contributor to Maclean's Magazine, said recently at Ottawa that Canada is looked upon as having a "tremendous position in world affairs."

He said we are looked upon with "wonder and envy" by other nations and hopes that "some giant would get behind us and give us a great heave forward" so that we would become the very great nation we should be.

He said nearly every young Briton who trained in Canada would like to come here to live if the barriers are lifted on both sides of the ocean, but the drain of manpower would be a heavy loss for the U.K.

He believes his party will meet defeat again in the next British general elections unless it puts before the people an "enlightened capitalism" and that much will depend upon what happens in Canada and the U.S.A.

Church Of The Advent Marks 57th Anniversary

On Sunday, the Church of the Advent, Westmount, will commemorate the 57th anniversary of the First Service, which was held on the 23rd March, 1890; this was also Passion Sunday, as it is this year. The Service was held at 7 p.m. in a house at No. 3 Staynor Avenue, and was conducted by the Rev. Canon Ellegood, Rector of St. James the Apostle, assisted by O. R. Rowley, Lay Reader.

George Hague, another Lay Reader, was also interested in this new congregation, and supported the building of a Chapel of Ease, as it was called. The Chapel was opened for worship on Advent Sunday, 1892, and from then on was known as the Church of the Advent. The Rev. Cameron Waller was appointed Priest in Charge, under the direction of Canon Ellegood, the Rector.

The subject will be "Resolved that more religious education should be taught in the schools." Refreshments and a social evening will follow the debate.

Dominion-Douglas

On Sunday, Dr. Lloyd Smith will preach at the morning service at Dominion-Douglas Church taking as his subject "Strange Fruit From A Tree," and at the evening service the Rev. Graham Barr will take as his theme "The Transmuting Power of Christianity." The music at the morning service under the direction of John Robb will include "Let All the World in Every Corner Sing," and there will be a solo by John M. Stewart. Church school will meet at 3 p.m. and at 8.45 p.m. the Young People's Union will meet in Friendship Parlor and will be addressed by Professor John Dando, of McGill University.

Ladies' meetings for the week include the Sewing Circle at 2 p.m. on Monday, the Handicraft Guild at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, and the Frances Willard W.C.T.U. at 3 p.m. on Wednesday. At the Sewing Circle meeting, members and guests will be received by Mrs. H. B. Wilder and an address will be given at the tea hour by the Rev. A. Lloyd Smith.

There will be the usual meeting of Cubs at 7 p.m. on Monday, Scouts at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Guides at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Senior Scouts at 7 p.m. on Thursday and Brownies at 11 a.m. on Saturday.

On Wednesday at 8 p.m. there will be the regular Lenten Service at the church and the Rev. Graham Barr will speak.

An advance announcement of interest is that the choir will sing Handel's Oratorio, "The Messiah," on Wednesday, April 2nd at 8.30 p.m. This presentation is made under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society.

THE TWO MORONS

A couple of morons pooled their bankrolls and bought a second-hand car. They went driving up the mountains, going around corners and dangerous curves at sixty miles an hour. Finally one moron couldn't stand it any longer.

First moron—"Every time you go around one of those hairpin curves so fast, I get frightened."

Other Moron—"If you get frightened, why don't you do like I do?—I keep my eyes closed!"

St. Luke's United

"Selfless Living" is the subject of the sermon to be preached Sunday morning at St. Luke's. The evening subject, the final in the series of sermons of "The Manhood of the Master," is "The Master's Courage."

The Women's Missionary Societies will have charge of the Lenten Service next Wednesday evening. Mrs. A. W. Batchelor will be the speaker.

Those desiring to unite with the church either by certificate or on profession of faith are urged to contact one of the elders or the minister as soon as possible. Reception of new members will take place March 30.

Members of the congregation and friends will kindly note that a Good Friday service will be held in this church at 10 a.m. Special music will be rendered by the choir.

The choir will present the cantata, "The Darkest Hour" by Moore on Sunday evening, March 30th.

Westmount Park

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning and evening services in Westmount Park Church on Sunday next, with Preparatory Service on Friday at 8 p.m.

The series of evening sermons on "Design for Living" will be continued, when Mr. Goth will preach No. 5, the topic being "Life Can Be Easier." Many use too much energy on fretting and fuming over trifles which leaves us too tired to be creative and to do the right thing at the right time. Human beings have tremendous energy stored up, but if we waste it on non-essentials, our life becomes harder, but by no means more interesting. Used in the right way our energy can help to make life easier and more enjoyable.

St. Andrew's Church

At the evening service on Sunday the choir will sing Dubois' Oratorio "The Seven Last Words." This notable French work loses none of its appeal during the Lenten season.

St. Andrew's choir has familiarised the Oratorio through many performances in past years, and sings it with a remarkable freshness each time.

The Reverend D. M. Grant, minister, will conduct the service, and the choir is to be under the direction of Fred Whiteley, who will also play the organ.

Soloists are Mrs. R. C. Saunders, Mrs. W. H. Lewis, John Grant, and one of the two most notable tenors presently singing in Montreal. The service commences at 7.30 p.m. and is timed to end in a little over an hour.

Calvary Church

The recent visit and message to the Canadian Churches and to the Ministers of the Gospel, of Pastor Martin Niemoeller of Germany, will be the theme of the morning sermon in Calvary United Church on Sunday by the Minister, Right Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D. Dr. Jones was with Pastor Niemoeller during his visit to Canada and heard his public messages and more personal counsel to the ministerial group. The intensely personal religious convictions growing out of his years of imprisonment in the Dachau Concentration Camp and his convictions regarding the Mission of the Church in the post war world contain vital lessons for the Church in Canada today.

The Guest Preacher at the evening service in Calvary will be Maxwell Reader, a candidate for the Ministry of the United Church enrolled in the United Theological College, Montreal, and at the same time Student Pastor of the Church at Essex Junction, Vermont. Young people are specially invited to attend this service.

A Teacher — Officer — Parent Night will be held in the Church Parlors on Wednesday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of considering the life and work of Calvary Church School in the light of Day School and Community experiences. The meeting will be open to all. speaker has indicated his willingness to answer questions at the conclusion of the address.

Holy Week begins a week from Sunday. Plan to attend all week-day services.

Westmount Baptist

"Christ — The Advocate". This will be the theme of the Morning Sermon in Westmount Baptist Church. In this address Dr. J. A. Johnston will show the New Testament presents Christ as Barrister, Advocate and Kings Counsel, at the Supreme Court of Heaven. The musical part of this Service will include a Solo, "The Penitent", by Van der Water and a Chorus, "Lord, For Thy Tender Mercies' Sake" by Farrant.

At the Evening Service the theme of the Minister will be "On The Road To Calvary". In this address is frankly faced the question, 'Can the Modern Church Really Follow Christ?' The ministry of music will include Solo and Chorus, entitled "The Wilderness", by Goss. Westmount Bible School has its sessions each Sunday at 10 a.m. The School is operated as an integral part of the Church Program and is operated by a competent staff of Officers and Teachers.

Church Fellowship reaches a high peak in the Westmount Mid-week Service, which meets each Wednesday evening. This is an interesting and vital gathering, in which the people participate freely and with fine spontaneity. Guests are always accorded hearty welcome at any of the Church's Services.

Blend Your Powder With Skin Coloring For Good Grooming

Are you fair skinned? This type of coloring goes with blond hair, but is also characteristic of red-heads and certain gray heads. Best advice to you is to match your skin tone as nearly as possible with a light natural foundation and powder. Darker shades are too obvious on you, and may even tend to make your complexion look dirty. Lipstick and rouge for you should be a bright, clear red. And if you must choose between a blue or orange tint, choose the latter.

For medium skin tones, try a foundation and powder a shade darker than your natural coloring. Don't permit too much yellow to creep into your make-up. You'll look prettier with a shade of pink in your powder, and let your lipstick and rouge be near strawberry in color.

For the light skin that goes with dark brown or black hair, use powder and a foundation of a warm peach coloring. Your lipstick can be quite deep in color and of a blue cast. Very often this sort of skin looks very smart without any rouge at all. Without rouge, however, you must be sure to emphasize your eye make-up.

Peach make-up is also fine for ruddy skins. But, instead of a deep bluish lipstick, use a light orange shade.

Card Party To Aid Cite De Notre Dame

A card party will take place at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Thursday evening, March 27th, under the sponsorship of a group of English and French speaking Montreal women who are interested in Overseas Relief work. Many beautiful door prizes have been donated to date and there will be 'surprise' table prizes.

This project has been undertaken to help the stricken children of France and the proceeds will be devoted to the work of two young priests of the Catholic Church, formerly residing in Canada, who are now working for the reclamation of souls in de-Christianized communities in France.

The Rev. Father Briand, of 'Les Fils de la Charité' Order, who recently visited his family in Montreal and spoke over the radio of his work, is in charge of a children's camp located in Brittany, by the sea, where approximately 600 children will be taken for a six weeks' holiday in the summer. The camp is called 'Cité Notre Dame,' where the work of a large number of volunteer assistants is the feeding and clothing of the children who are kept happy and occupied by games and interests specially designed to revive the spark of Christianity in young minds which have become apathetic through the war and subsequent years of want and misery.

Half of the proceeds of the card party will be devoted to the work of Rev. Father Briand and half to the work of Rev. Father Cyr, of the St. Vincent de Paul Order, who is also doing rehabilitation work in France.

Joint conveners for this event are Mme Gerard H. Lafontaine and Mrs. Arthur W. Young, who will be assisted by a large committee of ladies prominent in English and French groups in the city and suburbs. Mrs. Daniel Johnson and Miss Loretta MacDonald are in charge of publicity. Mrs. R. Grattan Hishon and Mme J. A. Lacaille are joint treasurers and Mme Roger Christin and Mrs. Edmund Foster, secretaries. Tables can be secured from any of these ladies. Subscriptions to the fund by interested people who are unable to attend the card party will be gratefully acknowledged.

H. E. Viscountess Alexander Honored Guest At Club Luncheon

The Westmount Women's Club 29th annual charter day luncheon was held yesterday in the Ball Room of the Mount Royal Hotel, with the club's patroness, Her Excellency the Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, as the honored guest.

Mrs. C. S. Fortier, president of the club, presided, and special decorations were carried out at the head table with masses of spring flowers and candles in the club colors. The Rt. Rev. John Dixon, Bishop of Montreal, invoked the blessing.

"It is indeed an honor," said Mrs. Fortier in her remarks, "to welcome our Honorary Patroness Viscountess Alexander of Tunis to this charter day luncheon." Mrs. Fortier then greeted the members, guests and presidents of sister societies. Mrs. A. O. Ponder, President of the Canadian Women's Club, responded to the toast to sister organizations.

Her Excellency, who was accompanied by an aide, Capt. Price, and by her Lady-in-Waiting, Miss Jennifer Bevan, graciously received the head table guests at a quarter to one o'clock; and the members and guests after the luncheon.

A musical program, under the direction of Mrs. F. G. Sharpe, featured selections by the Royal Albert Quartette. Mr. J. E. F. Martin, organist of St. James the Apostle Church, accompanied these singers in a group of four songs. Mrs. R. M. Whitmore, of the Westmount Women's Club Music Committee, sang two solos accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Sharpe, who also acted as accompanist for Mr. Arthur Davidson's three violin selections.

Among the guests at the head table were His Honor, the Mayor of Westmount, and Mrs. R. Percy Adams, Mrs. T. de G. Stewart, founder of the Westmount Women's Club; Mrs. John Hyde, charter member.

Mrs. John Dixon, Mrs. H. S. Jacques, Mrs. Harold Mills, Mrs. A. Turner Bone, Mrs. P. G. Del-

look smart with any suit. They are an English glove.

HOLT RENFREW & CO., corner of Mountain and Sherbrooke Sts., is like the gay Easter bunny itself, decked out with all the latest fashions for all ages. Starting from the ground floor up, one notices the crisp new styles, gay colours, everything that one needs to make Easter a reality. On the ground floor is the glove department with the finest gloves from France and England. If you have not already seen their string gloves from England, you will not want to miss "THE SHORTIE." They are knitted mercerized cotton, with a turn back cuff, and in all the spring shades, Kelly green, red, blue, cream, brown, and gold. They really look like hand-knitted gloves, and for only $1.50, at this price one can have several pairs. I am sure you will be delighted with the washable perforated soft lambskin gloves. The saleslady assured me that these wash beautifully, and they come in yellow, tan and toast, the latter being a perfect match for a pigskin bag. These also are very reasonable, and would

A Kaleidoscopic View of Fashion

Have you noticed in the last few years the tremendous changes that have taken place in our Montreal departmental stores? Today we have reason to feel proud when shopping with our out-of-town friends. The latest improvements have been made in Robert Simpson's third floor, a real center of fashion. It was only this week that I really took time to explore the various departments, and it was a revelation to see what our Canadian artists have done in completely revitalizing this floor. Upon leaving the elevator one is immediately struck by the richness of color, and exquisiteness of design that flank the entrance to the medium price dress section. Here, the dresses are all displayed in a manner that hides the hangers, and also protects the merchandise from dust. Standing at the entrance to the fur department, one gets a kaleidoscopic view of the floor, starting at the millinery dept., with its soft greys and rose shades, and then branching off to the right, the Salon Vendome, where the more expensive dresses, coats and suits are displayed. Here you will find that the classic note prevails. The suit dept., at the extreme end of the floor, is done in a soft forest green, with white trimmings, and the suits are also all cleverly arranged to the best advantage. Upon walking through this floor one is apt to accept all these changes as a matter of course, until one realizes how cleverly the mirrors have been placed, and above all, there is space to walk around and select one's garment. With all this convenience, SIMPSON'S continue to offer the finest of clothes, and at the lowest of prices.

C.S.L. Gift Shop

Beware, the Bar-Sharks Have Arrived
The C.S.L. Gift Shop, 1480 Sherbrooke St., near Mackay, looked especially attractive yesterday when I dropped in for a chat with the girls. There were so many new articles displayed that I simply couldn't begin to mention them all, but I must say if you are looking for a special Easter gift, I'm sure you will be well satisfied here. For a start, did you know that one may buy all makes and shades of stockings here; crepe, lisle and nylons, 45-42- and 52-gauge. You will be amused by the latest addition to the "BAR," namely, THE BAR-SHARKS. Yes they are just as vicious looking as their name implies, only more useful. They are made of a heavy metal, with an aluminum finish, the open mouth is used for a bottle opener, the head for cracking ice, and the tail for cutting paper. They are about 6" in length. Never have I seen such exquisite ceramic ware; there are large flat shaped flowers, in beautiful pastel shades, the green leaves being separate, so that one may arrange as many as one likes, or they can be used as ash trays. They are most effective when placed on a reflector. Some come in clusters of small flowers with a place in the center for holding a candle. Here is a suggestion for a small gift, but a very dainty one; a china table cigarette lighter, decorated with small flowers. If you have a wedding gift on your mind, why not drop in here and browse around, for the assortment is so great that you are bound to find "SOMETHING OUT OF THIS WORLD." Some rather unusual old fashioned and high-ball glasses were being unpacked when I walked into the receiving room. They were etched HE and SHE, and the muddlers and the stirrers had large dice on the ends. Many are finding the tarnish-proof boxes excellent for their silver, they are very decorative with the hand-painted cover.

TO ADD AN EASTER TOUCH TO YOUR CUP CAKES, after taking them from the oven, cut a tiny bit from the center and fill with shredded cocoanut. Return to the oven until the cocoanut is browned. Then place a few colored jelly beans on top. This will give the effect of a bird's nest.

A Northern Combination for Easter
It may come as a surprise to some ladies to learn that HENRY MARKS LTD. in the Mount Royal Hotel, Peel St. is a store which includes ladies' as well as Men's wearing apparel. This is a companion to Case Ltd. on St. Catherine St. near Peel, and the same prices prevail at both stores. When Mr. Glen Case took over the Henry Marks store he introduced certain new ideas that were applicable only to this type of store. Mr. Case has recently returned from a trip to England and Scotland, and has brought back much exclusive merchandise that I will be telling you about from time to time. Last week when visiting the Henry Marks store I was shown the new 100% pure wool Mohair pullover sweaters with cartigans to match. I know that you will be delighted with this combination, the silky finish to the Mohair giving a softness unusual in this type of wool. Both have a ribbed neck and waist, sizes 34-40, and come in eight beautiful shades; these are exclusive to this store. No woman looks smart in slacks unless they are expertly tailored and of fine material, such as Bermuda doe skin, which you may be surprised to learn can be purchased at HENRY MARKS LTD. These slacks have been tailored in England, having the cut and workmanship that only the English can provide. The shades are rust, sand, apple green, and nut brown. Those spending Easter "UP NORTH" would do well to come in and choose their own color combinations of these sweater sets and slacks. Both are exclusive to HENRY MARKS LTD. IN THE MOUNT ROYAL HOTEL, PEEL ST.

Country Furniture

Those of you who have summer cottages, or are building in the country this spring, would be surprised to see all the furniture that is on sale at Morgan's Trust Co., 2085 City Councilors, just below Sherbrooke. There is a department that handles only this type of furniture. You will find bedroom sets, dining room sets, kitchen table and chairs, and all they need is a new coat of paint, or some polishing. Walking through this floor was like peeping into the past, and examining some skeletons that had seen more illustrious days, and which still had plenty of life in them. There is an old pine Welsh dresser and tripod table, about 6' long, with two long benches to match; this combination would be ideal for the country. Then, there was the full length vanity dresser, with fluted legs, and an upholstered bench, painted greyish cream. For anyone who is looking for such a piece, this is a find, as it has never been used. There is also a brown wicker desk and chair, in perfect condition, which would be very useful in the country, or even in the city. I hope that there may be among my readers someone who has been looking for a real old-time bedstead, as there is a rare old antique solid walnut double sleigh bed, which had been brought in 1786, by Charles Robin, from France to Percé, in the Gaspé peninsula. There is a solid oak dining room set that deserves special mention, as it could be used in a city home, being a refectory style in the linen fold pattern. There are many more interesting pieces about which space does not permit me to tell you, but a visit to the MORGAN'S TRUST CO. will prove most interesting and profitable.

HOME EDUCATION

HER NEW FRIEND

By MARY STARKEY

"Mother," said little Dale the other morning, "may I stay away from Sunday school tomorrow? Jean Wilcox wants me to come over to her house. She says her folks never go to church or Sunday school. They think it's old-fashioned."

"Well, dear," replied her mother, "you know Jean has never been to our Sunday school. The family has been here only a few weeks. Did you explain to Jean how much you like your Sunday school — how you enjoy the singing and the Bible stories and what a delightful person your teacher is?"

"Oh Mother," answered Dale, "I was stupid! I should have told Jean that she would like our Sunday school. If I could only get her to come. I'm sure Miss Mitchell would make her glad she was there. It was wrong for me to forget how Miss Mitchell works to make us happy. I should have remembered to say that she took us all to the lake last summer and that every Christmas she has a party at her house for us."

"Yes, Dale," said her mother. "Miss Mitchell is an unusually devoted teacher. You are especially fortunate in being able to attend such a well-managed Sunday school and to have such a nice teacher as Miss Mitchell is. You will find that long after most of your other teachers have become memories she will still be your dear friend. I know, because I had a teacher much like her."

"An important lesson to learn, Dale, from what has occurred, is that we should be open-minded but not make snap decisions. Do you know what that means?"

"Yes, Daddy says things like that, doesn't he? It means listen but take time to do your own thinking. Daddy explained it to me. I listened, but I didn't take enough time to think. I like Jean, Mother; she is my newest friend. If I could only get her to come to church and Sunday school once, I think she would like it. But perhaps her mother wouldn't let her come."

"There's no harm in trying," her mother suggested with a smile. "Put on your yellow dress and go over and ask Mrs. Wilcox if Jean may come to breakfast here tomorrow morning and go to church and Sunday school with you afterwards. If you say it very nicely, it is not likely she will refuse. If she does refuse, we may be able to think of some other way of gaining her consent later on. You try first, and if you succeed, it will be something you have done in return for all that has been done for you."

"All right, Mother," agreed Dale, "You are a perfect dear. Thank you ever so much."

Zig-Zag Eating Method Not Taboo For Canada

Is it correct, children ask, to hold your fork in your left hand and your knife in your right, cut a piece of meat and then put down your knife and transfer the fork to your right hand and with it, with the fork prongs turned up, raise the meat to your mouth? This method, called "criss-cross" or "zig-zag eating," is considered awkward and incorrect by some authorities though it is in general use in North America.

English people hold the knife and fork in the same way when cutting meat but raise the fork held in the left hand, prongs down, to the mouth with the piece of meat. This method is considered good form.

When one is not eating, or if one is passing one's plate, the knife and fork should be left parallel on the plate, never removed from the plate.

Xavier Guild Hears Irish Spirit Praised

At the monthly meeting of the Xavier Apostolate Guild, held in Congress Hall, the speaker, the Rev. Jasper Stanford, pastor of St. Dominic's parish was introduced by the president, Mrs. J. P. Boyle and thanked by Mrs. J. M. Doyle.

Father Stanford told how even early Irish newspapers expressed the sense of humor, poetry and faith of a happy people. He quoted from an issue of "Young Ireland" published on Saint Patrick's Day, 1876.

"Wherever the Irish have set foot," said the speaker, they have left behind their story in Irish poems and melodies. He spoke of the soothing, romantic qualities of Irish music, which appeals in a particular way to people all over the world. Some find Irish music sad, he indicated, but such is not really the case. It expresses a peculiarly Irish philosophy, which is really optimistic.

A program of Irish airs was given by the ladies' choir of St. Malachy's Church, accompanied by Mr. J. E. McCaffrey, and conducted by Mrs. T. B. Shea.

The Very Rev. Edward M. Brown, S.J., Moderator of the Guild spoke a few words.

Tea was under the convenership of Mrs. E. Thibodeau.

Curl-Brush Treatment Revives Drooping Locks

For droopy curls and nape-of-the-neck stragglers, a good tool to have is a new curl-brush with a tapered mouse-tail handle around which hair ends can be curled with ease. The brush is just right in size and price for a gal's handbag.

And if you're wise you'll use the curl-brush in conjunction with a creme set, or a solid-type brilliantine that gives hair ends a natural looking lustre. For a finishing glamour touch, spray your hair with a little of your favorite perfume.

MAPLE SYRUP AND SUGAR NO LONGER RATIONED

Quebec families who through the war years carefully saved sugar coupons for the maple syrup season will now be able to use these coupons for other rationed goods in the sweets line as the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced this week that beginning with the 1947 crop, maple products were no longer rationed. They have also been removed from price control.

However industrial users are still required to obtain permission from the Sugar Administration before acquiring or using any maple syrup or maple sugar in the manufacture of any goods or other product.

South America Is Her Office

Cutting bamboo by the dark of the moon in Trinidad or supervising construction on an airline terminal in Mexico is all in day's work for petite Pamela Drake. As designer with the Latin American division of Pan American World Airways, she's the first woman in her field and she flies from country to country to work as nonchalantly as most girls board a bus for the office.

It's Pamela's job, as assistant to the division traffic manager, to make accommodations more efficient for the increasing number of air-travel passengers to Latin America. This covers everything from mapping plans for a streamlined terminal to converting old buildings into comfortable guest houses.

The dynamic American-born designer is currently working on 40 such projects throughout Latin America. It's not at all unusual for her to work in a different country each day. Three sets of luggage in three years have succumbed to the swift pace she sets and she drops into her apartment in Mexico City only for an occasional change of wardrobe. "But I wouldn't trade my job with anyone," she says.

Volunteered Ideas

Trained as a decorator but forced by the depression into other types of work, Pam's whirlwind designing career started when she volunteered her ideas for decorating Pan-American's Burbank, Calif., terminal. She worked at her regular job on the sales staff during the day and gave up nights and weekends to the terminal job to prove the worth of her ideas. Best proof was when executives promoted her.

Crucial test of her ability that set the pattern for following assignments was redesigning passenger facilities at the terminal building in Merida, Yucatan. When she finished, a plane could unload passengers, load again and be back in the air in 15 minutes. To eliminate unnecessary delay she speeded up baggage handling, tore out office partitions and regrouped customs immigration and traffic desks behind a continuous counter.

To transform an old office building or army barracks into a spacious colorful guest house reflecting the spirit of the country, and to decorate rooms economically, is a trick the pint-sized designer achieves with ease. The use of color is her most effective decorating tool, she says. Medium blues and greens are her favorites for interiors to give a cool, comfortable effect that offsets tropical heat.

Chief problem is utilizing local labor and adapting materials at hand for the job. "I teach local carpenters to put furniture together and train girls to stitch upholstery. I work right with them, sewing or sawing. It's a thrill to know I'm teaching them a new industry," she says.

Native Superstition Rules

Case in point is the guest house at Trinidad. To get bamboo for furniture, she yielded to native superstition which dictated that it had to be cut by the dark of the moon.

"It was eerie," she recalls. "We stood around a flickering fire in the middle of the night passing the logs, as they were cut, across the flames to kill the 'bugs', so the natives believed. Later, I had the bamboo saturated with chemicals to make sure the 'bugs' were dead. But the furniture was beautiful and the workmen were so proud of it, they signed the pieces they made."

Lack of springs for chairs and couches was overcome by webbing made from surplus canvas. Silky fibers were plucked from bean pods to stuff the cushions.

Pam has found that her femininity—she's five feet tall, has brown hair, blue eyes and an engaging smile—has been more of a help than a hindrance in her work. "Latin Americans are very gallant," she says. "At first, sometimes, workers are skeptical of my ideas because I'm a woman, but after I show them I know what I'm talking about they are wonderfully co-operative."

Shimmering Silk From China Is Run Through Woman's Mill

In Pawtucket, Rhode Island, Irma Cull's silk mill is again living up to its name; for raw silk is now flowing to its looms in steadily increasing quantities — mostly from China at present with a trickle from Japan and Italy. As fast as possible, machinery is being reconverted to turn these fibers into shimmering lengths of silk. When importation of raw material ceased, it became necessary to convert to production of rayon and similar fabrics, to keep the mill humming during the war years.

While Irma Cull has been a mill owner and operator in her own right for five years only — taking over when her husband passed on — her experience and knowledge have been acquired over a period of 25 years or more.

Rose at 6.45

It was in 1923 that Joseph Cull purchased a piece of land in Pawtucket — a mill center known the country over — and proceeded to erect his mill. Once the business was established, Irma worked right along with him, for she was equipped to handle the office end.

"We would set the alarm clock every night; and every morning, six days a week, Joe and I left the house at 6:45, spending practically the entire day at the mill, she recalled as she related experiences of those strenuous first years of their business.

Handles Mill Business

And Irma Cull still goes to the mill every week day. That is, except when business trips to New York intervene: for she handles all mill business single-handedly. In New York she confers with customers and arranges with Chinese importers for supplies of raw material.

This delightfully feminine, modestly gowned woman has her finger on the pulse of this thriving industry, taking all the responsibility in her stride. She knows every employee by name, and there is a considerable number — both men and women.

Ministers' Wives

The Ministers' Wives Association of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada will hold a meeting in St. James Church Parlor, Friday, March 28th at 2.30 p.m. The guest speaker, Mrs. H. Newman of the staff of the "Canadian Jewish Review" will give an address on "Religion and Group Tension."

As winter ends we are reminded that nobody skids intentionally — it's always a slip.

Hints On Fashions

Navy with a touch of white is a time-honored fashion that looks forever new, since it is capable of infinite variations. Crisp, white pleated batiste cascades down one side of the bodice in a semi-heart shape, and edges the sleeves of this neat navy crepe dress. The overskirt buttons in back above a silver-slim underskirt. The neckline is convertible, the pleating can be turned back so that the neckline forms a V. This is a delightful frock for pleasant spring afternoons.

Your RED CROSS help is needed!

In frontier districts of Canada the nearest hospital or doctor may be a hundred miles or more away. Over twenty years ago the Red Cross began establishing outpost hospitals and nursing stations in these remote regions. Today a whole chain of Outpost Hospitals can be found in the frontier districts of the Dominion: They bring medical science within reach of these isolated communities: Hundreds of thousands of patients have been treated in these tiny hospitals, including thousands of confinement cases. These hospitals also serve as health centres for their communities, carrying on medical inspection in the schools and organizing clinics for the children. Your help is needed to maintain and expand this vital work. Stand behind the Red Cross, and help bring medical aid to your fellow-Canadians pioneering on Canada's frontiers. HOLLYWOOD HANDICAP

HOLLYWOOD, March 20 — Just a week has passed since running of the 19th Oscar Derby, otherwise known as Presentation of Annual Awards of Merit by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, (pause here for breath).

May I point with pride to the fact that this column correctly predicted the seven main results three months ago? "The Best Years of Our Lives" won in a walk, as foreseen here. Frederic March beat Gregory Peck as top male actor in a photo-finish; and Olivia de Havilland pulled away on the stretch to outdistance Jane Wyman and Jennifer Jones as best actress of the year.

My crystal ball had also picked Anne Baxter and Harold Russell as donors of the year's best supporting performances, and it prophesied William Wyler and Samuel Goldwyn would be named champion director and producer, respectively.

This clean sweep atones in part for my notoriously hammy handicapping in prior Oscar Derbies.

Viewed now in retrospect, the recent Academy Awards merit a partial revival of faith in the folk who do the voting. Efforts by certain individuals and studios, especially Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, to influence the vote proved unsuccessful. MGM failed to win a single major award, although Louis B. Mayer did waltz home with prizes for photography and art direction on "The Yearling". Likewise, best that Warner Brothers could do was trap a couple of trophies for short subject productions.

It was Samuel Goldwyn's night all the way. "The Best Years, etc." won five Oscars and helped earn him the valued Thalberg Memorial Award for outstanding contributions to the cinema art. Sam smiled happily as he trotted on and off the stage collecting his awards and making pretty little speeches of appreciation.

The headlines and kilocycles brought you these results as the tiny white envelopes were opened and the balloting choices announced. However, headlines are hasty and seldom capture the human interest inherent in such an occasion. Perhaps the following lines can compensate for that.

All dolled up in my rented

"Fun Parade" At Forum For Bumper Return Visit

Once more, and again under the sponsorship of Riverview Court Number 1620, Canadian Order of Foresters, the hilarious, side-splitting "Fun Parade" radio show, prime favorite of thousands of network fans throughout the land, and with famous Roy Ward Dickson at the helm, will again amuse the thousands who will doubtless flock to enjoy the spectacular routine of antics, clowning and prize-winning which have made it one of the most talked-of shows ever to go on the air.

This time the breath-taking doings will take place at the Forum, and the date is fixed as of Monday, April 28. The "Fun Parade", it will be remembered, was here in January last, and despite unforeseen difficulties which developed at the last moment, played to an overflowing audience.

For the present occasion all arrangements with respect to ushering, reservations and ticket sales will be in the hands of the Forum administration, in itself a guarantee of clockwork precision. The proceeds, and they should be plenty, will, as usual, be devoted by Court Riverview to the interests of Montreal's under-privileged children.

And this time there are promised four-count them, four-hours of the "most ridiculous, side-splitting nonsense" ever to be presented for the amusement and edification of any audience. The value of the prizes, incidentally, is placed at two dress suit ($7.50, including a shirt one size too big), I nudged my 1940 Nash into the traffic line of 1947 Cadillac limousines at 8 p.m. last Thursday night. Three thousand fans filled the bleachers outside Shrine Auditorium, yelling excitedly whenever a movie star popped out of a car. When I popped out of mine several disappointed fans murmured "Who's he?"

In the Shrine foyer radio announcers were identifying and interviewing the arriving celebrities. As I passed down the aisle the networks went silent. One photographer snapped my picture in error, then cursed himself for wasting film.

Inside the 7,200-seat auditorium I was escorted to an aisle seat, front row. For some moments I marvelled at my good luck, but before my ego became too bloated I found myself surrounded by trombonists and trumpet tooters of the 60-piece orchestra. I felt like a fourth assistant second trumpet, and there's still a ringing in my ears seven days later.

Proceedings got under way right at 8.45 o'clock. Contending stars and creative artists took their seats, rehearsing to themselves the "spontaneous" speeches of gratitude they'd deliver if they won. Only Harold Russell, the handless veteran, was unruffled. He sat with his wife, and signed autographs with his hooks. The applause was terrific when Harold won his special award, but when Anne Revere handed him a second Oscar as best supporting actor the audience accorded him the loudest accolade I've ever heard.

Later I asked Harold what he planned to do with the twin statuettes of gold.

"I'm gonna put 'em on my mantel back home and keep two spotlights shining on them day and night!" he replied.

Olivia de Havilland's victory wrote the first sister "act" into Academy history. Twice previously nominated, this year proved the charm of three. Her kin, Joan Fontaine, had won the prize in 1941 for "Suspicion".

Miss de Havilland was charmingly garbed in pale blue, but her dress had little effect upon her personality. When Joan ran backstage and extended a hand in felicitation, Olivia turned abruptly away and made some ill-mannered (Continued on Page 14)

GAY TECHNICOLOR MUSICAL! Ilona Massey and Walter Pidgeon are co-starring with Jane Powell, Roddy McDowall, and Jose Iturbi in "Holiday in Mexico," in Technicolor, which starts on Saturday at the Monkland United Theatre, playing until Tuesday night.

New Comedy Theme For Abbott And Costello At The Monkland

Hollywood's favorite funnymen, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, are now to be seen at the Monkland United Theatre until Friday night, in "The Time of Their Lives", which is packed with new ideas of how to make people laugh.

Marjorie Reynolds, John Shelton and Binnie Barnes have leading roles. Other popular players in the large cast are Gale Sondergaard, Jess Barker and Robert Barrat.

In this original screenplay, portray Colonial characters. They are mistakenly shot by George Washington's soldiers and are condemned to ghostly existence for 166 years. Then the old homestead, where they are confined, is restored and the new owners move in.

The owner of the estate, enacted by John Shelton, invites his doctor, his sweetheart and her aunt to spend a week-end at the soon-to-be haunted house. Lynn Baggatt portrays the sweetheart. Binnie Barnes is seen as the aunt and Gale Sondergaard appears as the psychic housemaid. She calls the two ghosts who search for a letter from George Washington. The letter, it is believed, will absolve them of the old suspicion that they were traitors to the American cause.

The two ghosts, incidentally, frighten members of the household, and, in turn are scared by electric lights, fans and other modern appliances.

M.R.T. CLUB HEAR TALK

The M.R.T. Club will meet at Guy Street Playhouse tonight at 8.30 p.m. The guest speaker will be William Long of McGill University, Department of Dramatics. Mr. Long will speak to the group about his own experiences when he worked with the venture-some company in North Carolina called "The Lost Colony" which has been operating for over ten years. The members of the club may bring a guest to this meeting.

PURCHASES HOME

Between completion of her starring role with Alan Ladd in "Wild Harvest" and start of "Road to Rio," Dorothy Lamour took time to move into her new Beverly Hills home, doing most of the housecleaning herself as well as supervising details of moving.

remark to her personal press agent. They have been at odds periodically for some time, but it's unfortunate that Olivia could not have been gracious enough to accept her sister's good wishes in the spirit in which they were offered. Actually, Joan is a far more cooperative and likeable person, and Miss de Havilland's sense of self-importance requires immediate shrinkage.

It was also a night for rejoicing in Britain. Noel Coward's "Blythe Spirit" received an Oscar for supreme achievement in special effects. Britishers also won two of the three writing awards, for "Vacation From Marriage" and "The Seventh Veil". Rex Harrison, Greer Garson, Deborah Kerr and Compton Bennett took the stage briefly during the evening, and there was loud approval of a special award to Laurence Olivier for making: "The greatest of foreign films — 'Henry V'. No play of the classic theatre has ever been translated to celluloid so masterfully." The words are those of Academy President Gene Hersholt.

Today the Oscars are resting on mantels and desk tops throughout this cinema city, but thoughts already are turning ahead to next March. Perhaps Mr. Paul L'Anglais will be present then to accept an award for "The Stronghold", Canada's first major feature production. Or am I taking a flier into the realm of wishful thinking?

Bogart-Bacall Teamed Again In "The Big Sleep" At Westmount

Tough, tense and exciting, "The Big Sleep", now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night, re-unites two popular favorites, Humphrey Bogart and Lauren Bacall. And something new has been added to this great combination—lovely Martha Vickers.

The beautiful and talented Miss Vickers plays the role of a pathological pretty whose chasing ways run her right into the murderous activities of a big shot gambler and a small-fry chisler, in his Raymond Chandler murder mystery. She also tries her childlike charms on the private detective her father has hired to find the blackmailer, Phil Marlowe (Humphrey Bogart), no novice to the chase, passes her up in favor of her sister (Lauren Bacall). But Marlowe soon finds that said-sister is more interested in protecting her family and not until the final gun duel does she own up to the fact that she is on his side. For the sake of her family, and her heart, she plays along with him, and punctuates this intense adventure with exclamation points.

"The Cornish Rhapsody" Featured In "Love Story" At Seville Soon

"Love Story", which starts at the Seville United Theatre on Wednesday, March 26th, though not remotely to be described as a musical film, uses music in a way which enhances and accentuates the feelings of the characters in the story. Music becomes not so much a quiet, pleasing background to the plot, as an integral part of the development of the characters themselves.

Margaret Lockwood, as Lissa, a celebrated pianist, goes to Cornwall on a holiday and, with what she supposes to be only one year of life before her, meets an emotional experience of such strength that she is inspired to write a piano concerto. Into this composition, her love for Kit, her feeling of freedom underneath the Cornish skies, the emotion inspired by the grandeur of the rocky coast and the sea, the sadness that her life may be ended just as she has found love are all poured. The resulting concerto is the extremely popular "Cornish Rhapsody".

Co-starring with Margaret Lockwood are Stewart Granger and Patricia Roc, with Tom Walls in a grand supporting role. They combine their talents to bring this modern story to the screen in a frank and entertaining manner.

LOANS STARS

David O. Selznick has loaned two of his rising players, Rory Calhoun and Rhonda Fleming, to producers Pine and Thomas to star in Paramount's "Adventure Island," color film adapted from Stevenson's "Ebb Tide."

The American iron shipbuilding industry dates from 1868, when 2000 tons of such vessels were built at Chester, Pa.

THRILLING MYSTERY FILM! Humphrey Bogart portrays Raymond Chandler's famed fictional detective Philip Marlowe, in the thrilling film "The Big Sleep," which starts on Saturday at the Seville United Theatre. Lauren Bacall has the leading feminine role.

Household Hints

By MARY MORTON

"It isn't the work, it's the worry about what to serve that makes the average housewife weary," says an article I read recently. From the family meals to the dinner we're planning to give some very special guests, we wonder what is best to serve—what will be enjoyed, what, if we're contemplating guests, they like and have no allergies or dislikes for.

I'm going to suggest a menu that should have few dissenters among either the family or visiting friends.

Today's Menu

- Breaded Veal
- Baked Potatoes
- Frozen Green Peas
- Perfection Salad
- Hot Rolls or Muffins
- Lemon Cake Pie
- Breaded Veal
- 2 lbs. veal steak
- Salt
- Rolled cracker crumbs
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 1 egg

Cut the veal into individual pieces for serving, sprinkle with salt, score meat well. Beat the egg slightly, add milk, dip veal pieces first in rolled cracker crumbs, then in milk mixture, then back in crumbs, and saute a nice brown in hot fat. Add a little water to the pan, cover and let simmer either on top of stove or in the oven, until tender, about 1 hour. Serves 4 to 6.

Baked Potatoes

Scrub potatoes well and remove bad spots. Dry and rub each potato with bacon fat, then bake as usual. The bacon fat gives the potato a nice flavor as well as a crispy crust, so that the skin may be eaten, and valuable minerals preserved.

Lemon Cake Pie

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 lemon, juice and grated rind
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 cup milk
- 2 egg whites
- 2 tablespoons flour

Mix sugar and flour together, add well beaten egg yolks and gradually add the milk and melted butter; next add lemon juice and grated rind. Cut and fold in the egg whites beaten until stiff. Pour into an unbaked pie shell and bake 15 min. at 450 F., then reduce the heat to 325F. and bake another 30 minutes.

C.D.N. ART THEATRE PRESENTS PLAYS

Canadian Art Theatre will present three one-act Canadian plays at Victoria Hall on the nights of April 10th and 11th. The choice of plays includes two by Gwendolyn Pharis, namely The Courting of Marie Gendrin and Still Stands the House, the latter having won first prize as the best native Canadian play entered in the annual Dominion Drama Festival in 1939. The third selection will be the premiere of a play just completed by a young Montrealer, who, according to Joy Thomson, C.A.T. director, is showing definite promise as a playwright.

Although the three plays depict typical aspects of life in Canada, they are widely different in theme.

JACK TRENT'S Sport Topics

THE BEST IN HOCKEY, 1947

Lewis Carroll, the famous humorist, once put these words into the mouth of one of his characters, the Walrus: "The time has come to talk of many things, of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax, of cabbages and kings." Carroll never heard of hockey, and he might never have heard of Montreal, for all we know, but nevertheless most local sport fans seem to have concluded that the time has come to discuss kings—the kings of the frozen sheets for 1947. Let's talk about the reigning monarchs of Canada's national game. Here are our ideas.

Les Canadiens have won their fourth successive league championship, but the Boston Bruins may break up the Canadiens' ideas for their third Stanley Cup in four years, for it is the third-place Bruins that the Habs must face in the first round of playoffs and all indications point to the Bruins being the hottest team in the league when the money series starts.

As this is written, Maurice Richard and Max Bentley are still waging their great fight for the individual scoring championship with Milt Schmidt but a few points behind. The chances of Schmidt (the best hockey player in the league for the last quarter of the schedule) of overtaking the other two are indeed slim, but the big boy from Beantown has been going great guns in recent games and still had a chance as this went to press. We would favour the elusive Bentley over Richard for the championship, because of the Chicago centre's greater play-making ability; it is easier to get an assist than it is to put the puck in the net. Then again, Bentley is finishing stronger than the Rocket, but even if Richards loses the lead that he has held for the past few months, he has plenty of consolation, for he will wind up the season close to 15 goals ahead of his closest rival in the goal scoring department.

MEEKER LEADS CALDER TROPHY SPECULATIONS

The Calder Trophy is once again a one-way selection, with Howie Meeker, the chunky Toronto right wing as the logical man for the honour, on both points scored and team value. If Meeker wins this award, it will mark the fourth time in five years that a Toronto player has received the award, the others being Frank McCool on 1944-45, Gus Bodnar in 1943-44, and Gaye Stewart in 1942-43.

The Lady Byng Trophy, which annually goes to the player who best combines effectiveness with gentlemanly conduct on the ice, should once again go to Bobby Bauer, Boston right-winger, who received the Trophy twice previously, in 1939-40 and in 1940-41. Other previous winners of the Trophy, Toe Blake of the Canadiens and Syl Apps of Toronto, have received more penalties this year than Bauer, and besides, neither have played the sparkling brand of hockey that Bauer has showed for Boston.

ANOTHER HONOUR FOR BILL DURMAN

Bill Durman has once again clinched the Vezina Trophy, with the fewest goals scored against him. But the present system for the judging of the best goaler in the league is deficient, for it is invariably the goaler on the best team in the league who wins the Trophy. Why not adopt another system? One such system would be the bringing into consideration the number of shots on goals, a feature of goal-keeping that is entirely overlooked in the present system. We think that if this system were inaugurated, a change would be shown in the merits of the different goalers, and such goalers as Harry Lumley of the Detroit Red Wings and Frankie Brimsek of the Boston Bruins would be high among the leaders, for they have far more shots to handle than does Durman.

Our two choices for the Hart Trophy as the Most Valuable Player in the League are Maurice Richard, and the ever starry Schmidt of the Bruins. You can't overlook Richard's 40-plus goals in the final computations, but then there is a question as to whether his goals are of more value to the Habs than is the great two-way play of the rugged Beantowner. Schmidt, too, has played with different line mates on several occasions this year, but has shown his true value by making these combinations click with his inspired play.

Our all-star team incidentally would have Max Bentley, Richard, and Schmidt on the forward line, with the great Bostonian playing at left wing, a position he has played frequently for the Bruins this year. There are only two All-Star defencemen in the League from where we sit, Kenny Reardon, the great crowd pleaser, and colorful Jack Stewart. The goaler of course is Bill Durman.

Thanks for listening.

Mammoth Bowling Tourney Slated For City Soon

Canada's biggest bowling tournament will be held in Montreal this spring with the open duckpins championships slated to be rolled at the Windsor Bowling Club from May 12 to June 22.

The tournament, being staged under the sponsorship of Budd Hats, is expected to attract close to 3,000 trundlers from all parts of Canada and northern U.S. points. They will roll for the Budd Golden Hat Trophy and $3,000 in cash prizes. Most of the bowlers will be from points in Quebec and eastern Ontario with some representation expected from Toronto, western Canada, New York and Vermont.

The Golden Hat will go to the five-man team champions with other trophies up for competition for singles, doubles and all-events titles. Aside from the major awards there will be close to $2,000 in merchandise prizes, making it the richest bowling show ever staged in Canada.

Entries close at midnight, April 30, at Windsor Bowling Club.

Karnak Temple Patrol Holds Drill Rehearsal

Possibility of a well-drilled team for Atlantic City in May, thrilled Captain Alex Campbell, quite pleased with the turn out of the Drill Corps at their first rehearsal of the year at the recent well-attended meeting of the Karnak Temple Arab Patrol, at the Shrine Club Rooms, Saturday. The Drum Corps also turned out in full strength.

President E. Rooke occupied the chair. William H. Mack, Potentate, announced a church service to be held Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church, Mance Street. Rev. Dr. Malcolm Campbell will conduct the service and all members of the Patrol are invited.

J. H. Spence spoke on the coming Wild Animal Show at the Forum, May 3 to 10, and was satisfied the way the programme was shaping up. An invitation was extended to all members of the patrol to attend Mount Moriah Lodge on April 4.

Entertainment was supplied by the Associated Screen News under the able supervision of Wm. Singleton.

Dixie, 2nd Westmount Draw 2-2 In Poltrick Cup Series

By REG. GROOME

The Poltrick Cup Series in the Inter-Pack Hockey League is all tied up and at a stalemate after playing three games in the best-two-of-three series. Dixie won the first game 1-0, 2nd Westmount won the second tilt 3-2 and the third game played last Saturday at Lachine Arena turned out a 2-2 tie. This last fixture was a bitterly contested one with feeling running high between the two teams.

Much dispute was raised in the final stanza when a Dixie player had a breakaway and the 2nd Westmount goalie, Grimson, threw his stick in an effort to avert a goal, which he did. However, somehow or other, the foul escaped the referee's notice, and no goal was awarded on the play, which should have been automatic.

Dixie scored first blood when Grigg scored unassisted at the ten minute mark of the first period. Southward evened it up near the end of the second stanza only to have Debreuil put Dixie one up again two minutes later on a pass from Grigg. At the five minute mark of the final canto, Southward scored again to tie the game at 2-2, no further score being recorded. It was shortly after this that Grimson threw his goalie's stick at the Dixie player, who was coming in fast on a breakaway for what looked to be a sure goal.

Warnoch Penalized

Three penalties were handled out in the game, all to 2nd Westmount, and all for tripping. Drummond was penalized in the first period, and Warnoch drew a penalty in each of the second and third periods. Referees were Lucien Murray and Eddie Quinn. 2nd Westmount apparently elected to play the game in a very unorthodox manner which, but for a little non-observant refereeing, would have cost them the game. They certainly didn't deserve to win the game or even rate a draw on the strength of Grimson's performance. It is worth noting that all penalties in the game were dished out to 2nd Westmount, every one for tripping.

Warnoch of 2nd Westmount seems to be the lad to earn penalties, for he has been well arrayed with them in every one of the play-off games. In last week's tilt, he drew two, the week before three and in the first game of the series, he drew the only two penalties in the game. At the same time he has been an important cog in his team's winning, but could better combine his ability with good sportsmanship and gentlemanly play.

The two teams will play a fourth game in an effort to decide the cup winners but the series has lost its taste for them now. Starting out as a plain sportsmanlike series it has gradually developed into a bitter feud which has created some bad feelings all around. The fourth and definitely last game of the series will be played at Lachine Arena this Saturday afternoon from 2-3 p.m. Teams Saturday were, Dixie: A. Madley, goal; defence, Salagan and O'Reilly; forwards, Reibmayr, Renaud and Grigg; substitutes: Mackay, Arless, Carman, Legros and Debreuil. 2nd Westmount: C. Grimson, goal; defence, Peters, Lillie; forwards, Warnoch, Southward and McKeown; substitutes: Donaldson, Greenwood, Hango, Webb, Martin and McLaughlin. Dixie were playing two men short Saturday, both of whom were sick.

Sometimes a bride can bake her cake and eat it, too!

Draw... playoffs Here! Stanley Cup Play starts Next Week

Stanley Cup Play starts Next Week

In a week's time, four of the six cities that comprise the National Hockey League will be overcome with a playoff fever—far exceeding the most cherished ambitions of hockey's pioneer promoters.

Interest in these drama-packed post-schedule series has increased tremendously since the season of 1926-27. It was in 1926-27 that Lord Stanley's famous old trophy came into the exclusive possession of the National Hockey League...

When the National Hockey League was formed on November 8, 1917, it was composed of four teams. Two of the cities that were represented by teams in the original circuit still have representation in the current loop.

The premier Toronto club, back in 1917-18 was known as the Arenas, and it was this Toronto team that won the Stanley Cup in 1917-18. The club's name was changed to the St. Pats at the start of the 1919-20 season...

Montreal Canadiens, who have hidden the roost as hockey's number one team during this, and the past three seasons, have added five collars to Lord Stanley's battered old mug.

Boston Bruins received their franchise into the National Hockey League on the first of November, 1924, and competed in the league in the 1924-25 season.

Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Cougars received N.H.L. franchises on September 25, 1926, and both teams participated in the circuit during the 1926-27 season.

Bearing in mind the length of time that the Stanley Cup has been in competition, and how the two Canadian clubs—Toronto and Montreal—have been in operation longer than the American members of the N.H.L., the distribution of the trophy has been very uniform.

St. Leo's Sports

The Academy Senior B hockey squad have finally disposed of the Catholic High's threat to upset St. Leo's as monarchs in the Senior B Interscholastic League.

Meeting the Black and White in a post-season play-off to settle a first place tie, the Clark Ave. sextet were extended to the limit in a two-game total-goal series to nose out the pesky Durocher Street speedsters 5 to 4 on the round score.

It was a well-deserved win for the spirited Westmounters who won practically on sheer fight alone as they played without four key players and for pilot Andy McGillis it was a case of landing his club into championship territory, coming through on not much more than a wing and a prayer.

The spark that carried the team through to the title was captain Jimmy McCarthy, who inspired his teammates with dogged determination to win and a brilliant all-around display of hockey talent.

Vince Heney and Johnnie Drury both turned in star-studded performances on the defence, and were ably assisted by Louis St. James and Ronny Shaw to form a defensive bulwark that time and again broke the hearts of the fast-travelling C.H.S. forward brigade.

PLAYOFF POT POURRI
Coach Andy McGillis was high in his praise for the C.H.S. forward trio of Fridham, Burchell and Golden, three of the most publicized young hockey prospects in the city, but for his money would prefer Mickey Bourassa, the polished little pivot performer for the Saints.

Pat Palmer is the most improved player on the team. Bernard Dubrille was a lifesaver on a number of occasions in the Academy goals.

St. Leo's two most staunch supporters are Mr. Paul Thraser, teacher of third grade and Dave O'Meara, clever goalie prospect. The team's playing ranks were further depleted when Bob Caron, smooth skating forward, was forced out of the line-up for the balance of the season due to a minor illness.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

Foreign Flags over OTTAWA

TELL OF CANADA'S IMPORTANCE IN THE MODERN WORLD

20 years ago there was none... ten years ago only four... TODAY there are 24 Ambassadors, High Commissioners and Ministers representing their governments at Canada's capital. Striking evidence, that, of Canada's new place among modern nations!

We emerged from the war a far greater country than we ever were in pre-war days. Peacetime accomplishments are maintaining that new greatness today.

In the 80's we had a High Commissioner in London, and an Agent-General in France—but we had little say in our foreign affairs. Canada negotiated with foreign powers through the British Foreign Office, with Empire countries through the British Colonial Office.

In World War I Canada won the right to a separate signature to the Treaty of Versailles. That made 1919 an important date for us. Then, in 1931, we and the other Dominions gained recognition as equal partners with the United Kingdom.

World War II... Canada's achievements in battle overseas and in production at home won us world recognition as a modern power. The great majority of the embassies at Ottawa were established during the war years.

Today, as a result of applying his knowledge of motor cars, his energies and talents to the full, he has developed a unique business in automotive service. His success has enabled him to fulfill a long nourished ambition to train and ride his own jumping horses, taking part successfully in open competition, and to turn his dramatic abilities profitably to playing leading roles in motion pictures.

GUY PURSER says: "I'm glad I decided to follow my career in Canada. There were opportunities when I started out. There are much greater ones now. No longer need young Canadians go beyond our borders to follow the road to success. It lies before them in Canada today."

Spring Cleaning Home Accidents To Be Avoided

The number of home accidents usually increases during the cleaning period, warns the Province of Quebec Safety League. Colonel Arthur Gaboury, general secretary of that organization, offers some suggestions to avoid mishaps during this season.

"Be sure that the handles of brooms, mops and brushes are smooth and free from splinters," says his message. "Use rubber gloves to protect the hands from the drying effects of chemical cleansers.

"Use a sturdy stepladder for all tasks which you cannot reach while standing on the floor. A tall ladder provides space to put cleaning cloths and brushes, and gives one a chance to steady oneself, if necessary, by grasping the ladder with one hand.

"Be sure the ladder's bucket shelf is sturdy and large enough to hold your cleaning bucket securely. Clear the room of all movable pieces so you may not bump into or trip over them. Carry all tools, equipment and articles to the place you expect to use them. Leave nothing on the stairs.

"Put small children in another room with playthings so they may be out of harm's way, and yours, during the cleaning operations. Do not use flammable cleaning fluids indoors.

"Place the soap on the bucket shelf so the steps of the ladder do not get slippery. Stop cleaning half an hour early so you have time to put things away before meal time, or the family comes from work or school. Finally, do not try to do too much at a time. Haste to finish, combined with fatigue from the day's work can produce a serious injury."

It might also be added that doing small sections of the house at a time makes the task less tiring and upsetting for the entire family. Safe cleaning is efficient cleaning, and much less tiring than any other variety.

Young couples, these days, rarely go to see the old folks at home, says a preacher. Perhaps because the old folks so rarely are.

BASKETBALL

Playing at NDG 'Y' Saturday, the Bantams lost the Inter-Y Championship to Pt. St. Charles 27-11, in the third game of the playoff series.

The Midgets won the championship from NDG 15-13 in a sudden death game on Saturday. After defaulting Wednesday's game because of players' illness, and playing with only six players, Westmount won a hard fought game. Starting with a two-point lead which they picked up in the first five minutes, the Westmount boys led all the way. NDG tried their hardest, but the close checking only provided opportunities for fast breaks which Hannaford, Wells and George were quick to capitalize on.

Allan Smith and Alex Condie played steady games at guard, while Eddie Moore, the versatile player, relieved his team mates at both centre and guard.

This win gives Westmount the right to meet International 'Y' for the City Championship.

Dr. C. B. Smith Heads Unique Effort Obtain Beds For Mtl. T.B. Children

Within a few weeks a complete wing of the Alexandra Hospital will be available for the care of 50 children suffering from active tuberculosis announcement was recently made by Douglas Bremner, chairman of a special committee of citizens of Montreal.

So the Montreal Westward Club can add another chapter to their fine list of achievements for, although this project was carried out through the efforts of combined service clubs, the original idea was purely that of the Montreal Westward Club's Crippled Children Committee, Dr. C. B. Smith as Chairman.

This Committee last year found that no beds were available for T.B. children in Montreal. The Alexandra Hospital for contagious diseases in children, due to advancement in medical science, was not being used to capacity and an offer to the Provincial Government to turn over a wing of 50 beds for T.B. if the Government would finance it, was made. No proper arrangements were arrived at.

Big Proposition

Being too large a proposition for the Westward Club, a meeting of the Committee together with an official representative of other service clubs was called in November, under chairmanship of Dr. C. B. Smith.

Explanation was given of the project and it was clearly stated that this effort should be a united effort of all clubs and not a Westward Rotary project.

After discussion, a committee was formed to endeavour to bring the Alexandra Hospital and the Provincial Government together. The committee was formed as follows:—Dr. C. B. Smith, Douglas Bremner, President, School For Crippled Children, William Bulloch, Montreal Lions Club, W. Bryant, Chairman of the Council of Service Clubs of Montreal, and

T. Willard Mace, Past-President, Montreal Westward Rotary Club.

A petition was circulated for endorsement and later pressed to a successful response, the petition citing the terrible need for beds for these young children afflicted with T.B. The Hospital wing is now assured.

Some time yet will be required to equip the wing and to procure the necessary medical, technical and nursing staff, but it is anticipated that in two or three months the hospital will be ready to receive patients.

his great work at an early age and while he found strength and guidance through prayer and vigil, he was an active man—a wonderful organizer and splendid administrator, who established many churches, trained excellent workers and kept constantly travelling his extensive territory carrying out the great work which he accomplished so worthily.

A hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was extended to the speaker by Bert Wilson on behalf of the Society.

Under the direction of A. Stacey as Master of Ceremonies, entertainment featuring melodies of the Emerald Isle was furnished by able artists. Professor Craig rendered an Irish Medley at the piano, R. Stark sang two melodious numbers, Bernard Corneli added the old favourite "Danny Boy" with his violin and Frank O'Farrell a novel whistling item, giving "Rose of Tralee" and "My Rosary." Michael Foley brought out "the bones" to give that Irish flavour, while Pat Cosgrove, talented vocalist of "The Navy Show" rendered two popular numbers, followed by Bernard Yorgan with two delightful selections on that instrument which is all too seldom heard as a solo—the 'cello.

POINT THE WAY TO LASTING PEACE

● With over 30,000 branches and over 900,000 members, The Canadian Junior Red Cross is pointing the way to lasting peace. As a part of the world-wide organization with 25,000,000 members, Canadian Red Cross Juniors foster international friendliness and understanding on a broad scale, by corresponding with Junior Red Cross groups in other lands. This is but one of several ways in which the Red Cross works for and through Canadian children.

The Canadian Junior Red Cross peacetime program includes: the practice of health; relief of child victims of war; work for veterans in hospitals; and service to handicapped children.

Furthermore, the Red Cross trains thousands yearly in Home Nursing — teaches water safety and first aid — saving thousands of lives with thousands of ounces of prevention.

Canada needs the Red Cross! And the Red Cross needs your financial support — every last dollar you can spare. Every penny will be put to work doing what you would do if you could. Let your conscience be your guide — give from the heart — generously.
