

Next week's weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 13 to 20

Sunny and very warm with heavy dews. Clouding later for scattered but violent thunder showers with hail. Clearing rapidly for blue skies and balmy breezes, then quite warm. Temperature range 40-80°F or higher, with 60 sunny hours this holiday week.

Improving generally for an agreeable weekend with hot days, morning dews or mists, and cool nights. White frosts for some districts. Fishing best at dawn and late evening.

Lucky Graduate!

Westmount High grad John Brow seems to be getting more than his just desserts as he is congratulated by fellow grads Marge Wright and Marny Wood at a recent ceremony. Festi-ties may be a little premature, however, as the teenagers won't know whether they have actually graduated until the results of the current examinations are announced in the middle of the summer.

3 car collision ignored by complacent shoppers

A noisy three-car collision Friday afternoon at the corner of Grosvenor avenue and Sherbrooke street drew very little attention from the shoppers and passers-by. The small knot of onlookers that did gather quickly faded when police arrived on the scene shortly after the accident.

The accident occurred at 3.37 p.m.; two minutes later a Westmount patrol car drew up; less than five minutes after the accident occurred a tow truck from an adjacent filling station had removed the cars from the road and traffic was back to normal.

Six minutes after the accident a passerby who was questioned said he didn't even know there had been a collision.

Involved were Mathias Demers, 50, of 1829 Cartier street; Joseph Mottet, 40, of 5218 Clodert street; and Richard Zaplinskizz, 22, of 1648 Cote St. Luc road.

Demers stated that he was proceeding east on Sherbrooke street, when upon approaching Grosvenor avenue he suddenly hit two other cars as he started to cross the intersection. He said that the light was in his favor.

Joseph Mottet, who was proceeding north on Grosvenor avenue, maintained that the traffic light was green in his favor hit the side of his vehicle, pushing him into another auto going north on Grosvenor.

Zaplinskizz corroborated Mottet's story.

Another three car collision occurred Saturday at 6.15 p.m. at Atwater and St. Antoine street when an auto driven by a University of Montreal student was sandwiched between two other cars.

Frans Manouvrier, 30, of Ville Lasalle, told police that he was travelling south on Atwater. On approaching St. Antoine street he proceeded to stop between two autos, he said, but struck both.

Drivers of the other autos were Claude Deschamps, 36, 4822 Westmore avenue, and Roger Dupuis, 35, of 111 Delinelle street, an employee of Aviation Electric Ltd.

Finance group see Westmount with Secretary

Thirty-six busloads of MFOA delegates were taken on an escorted tour of Westmount Tuesday by the city's secretary-treasurer, A. W. D. Swan.

MFOA, the Municipal Finance Officers Association of the U.S. and Canada, ended its 53rd Annual Conference yesterday at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, after a five-day session.

Swan, the MFOA member from Westmount, showed the 1,604 registered delegates and their wives points of interest throughout the city, including the artificial ice rink and the floral clock.

The floral clock in Westmount Park, which may seem a commonplace enough phenomenon to local citizens, is the oldest in North America, and therefore a point of tourist interest, Swan stated. It is over 30 years old.

MFOA is only one of a large number of continent-wide municipal associations who have headquarters in Chicago, Ill., and who meet annually.

Rotary Fair will be held on ice rink

The Rotary Club of Westmount will hold its annual "Rotary Fair" on the skating rink of Westmount Park, June 22 to 27, it was announced Wednesday.

The fair, in operation since 1942, is used to raise funds for the various charities, public speaking groups and safe-driving courses which Westmount Rotary supports.

The 30 booths, running through wheels of chance, bingo and refreshments, have for the most part, been erected. At least one Rotarian will be present in each booth.

In former years Westmount Rotary used the money obtained from the fair to construct and operate the Unity Boys' Club. President Page disclosed that nearly $400,000 has been spent on operation of the club.

'I had a few drinks' driver tells police

A hit and run driver who admitted to having had "a few drinks" was taken to the Montreal General Hospital with forehead lacerations in the small hours of Friday morning after Westmount police picked him up on Dorchester avenue west, near Greene avenue.

Johnny Serrati, 40, of 5556 Snowdon avenue, damaged an auto belonging to Douglas Henry of 4035 Dorchester street west, at 3.15 a.m. Friday.

He told police that he had had a few drinks at the Lasalle Country Club and had later driven friends home.

After leaving his friends' house, he said, he started west along Dorchester street, and "the only thing I can remem-

Talent show performance is successful

(In the absence of columnist Maurice Mariasine, Unity Boys' Club director, Robert Parker, program supervisor, reports on the club's activities.)

Members of the Unity Talent Parade who took part in the special presentation at Lake Placid were welcomed back safe and sound midday Thursday—a very excited and happy group even if a little worn out. It seems the presentation was a wonderful success and our club director will no doubt have a complete report on his return.

LAURIER CLUB

The final meeting of the Laurier Club was held recently. Peter Doherty, the supervisor, submitted his annual report this week. The officers, Mike Dwyer (president) Bud McKaig (vice-president) Mike Bervaldi (secretary) and Richard Cooney (treasurer), are to be congratulated on the constructive work resulting from their efforts. A donation of six dollars to the Unity Club funds was a fine gesture.

THE SWEET ADELINES

This singing group, which has been meeting consistently on Tuesday evenings throughout the season, had their final sing-song this week. According to Mrs. Booth, their very able leader, the group have had a very happy and successful season and are looking forward to reopening next September.

Obituary

GEORGE A. WALKER

A funeral service was held Wednesday in Dominion Douglas Church for George A. Walker, 79, former head of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who died Sunday.

Mr. Walker a former Westmount resident started his career with the CPR as an office boy, rising not only to the chairmanship of the board of that company, but to the directorship of many others.

Born in Toronto, Mr. Walker first worked for a small store at $1.25 a week, later joined the CPR with a raise of 7 cents a week in pay.

Studying shorthand and typing in his spare time, Mr. Walker completed his high school education and went on to get a law degree from Osgoode Hall, University of Toronto in 1906. He continued to work for the CPR during his studies.

He went to Alberta five years after graduation as the company's solicitor in that area, and remained in Calgary for 23 years.

In 1928 he married the former Gladys Graves of Elgin, N.B., and in 1934 came to Montreal as assistant general solicitor for CPR. In 1938 he became general solicitor.

He became the head of the Law Department in 1945, as vice president and general counsel and was elected to the board of directors in 1947. In the same year he became vice-president of the company and a member of the executive committee.

In March 1948 he became chairman and remained at the head of the company for the next seven years. He resigned in 1955 as chairman, but continued as a director.

Mr. Walker was appointed a governor of McGill University in 1952 and was a life governor of the Montreal General Hospital. In 1950 Bishop's University at Lennoxville conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law.

In addition to his CPR posts, Mr. Walker was a director and member of the executive committee of Canadian Pacific Steamships and Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, CPR subsidiaries.

He became a director of Canadian Pacific Airlines, Dominion Atlantic Railway, Lake Erie and Northern Railway, Midland Simcoe Elevator Company, Scottish Trust Company, Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo, Railway, Vancouver Hotel Company and West Kootenay Power and Light Company.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George M. Hobart of London, Ont.

Short story

Shorts were getting so short in Plattsburg, it is reported, that the citizens were, according to police, becoming "concerned".

As a result a bylaw was rushed through — requiring that shorts, worn on the street, be down to the knee.

First victims were two girls from Montreal.

Now they are short $5 each.

Use of power up this April

Westmount's maximum power demand in April was 12,000 KW, a drop of 600 KW from March. Energy consumption of 5,044,000 KWH was 270,000 KWH higher than in March. This was 5.6% higher than the consumption a year ago.

Net earnings amounted to $87,030, an increase of $2,540 over April 1958. Net expenses for April amounted to $70,963 — an increase of $13,360 over April 1958. Indicated surplus for the four months to date is $52,610.

The new Line Truck and new line crew began work on an overhead grounding network. The rebuilding of No 3 Fire Alarm Circuit was in progress.

Serrati stated that he got out of the car, looked around, got back in, and started the car again, continuing west along Dorchester. He had a blowout as he passed Greene avenue, he said, and was looking for a taxi when Westmount police picked him up.

Henry, who had parked his auto at about 2.30 a.m. on Friday morning, did not notice anything until nine a.m., when he came out to find that his car had been towed away by police after being involved in an accident.

Jews' mission is emphasized by H. J. Stern

As the chosen people, Jews have grave responsibilities to themselves and a spiritual mission to all mankind, said Rabbi Harry J. Stern of Temple Emanuel this morning. He was addressing a congregation of old and new members of the Temple who were gathered to celebrate the confirmation of 28 young men and women in the Temple, and the feast of Shabouth of the Eternal Covenant.

Said Rabbi Stern, "The feast of Shabouth marks the day when the Torah was given in the wilderness to the Jews. It has been revitalized in modern life through the confirmation ritual, and has become a great day for parents as well as their children on which to reconfirm the great religious ideals of the Jewish people."

The Rabbi pointed out that Jewish records reveal that in the story of Moses and his experience with the burning bush. God spoke to him through the voice of Moses' father, Amram.

"This strikingly suggests that the greatest influence in the lives of children is parental guidance," he concluded. "Shabouth is a reminder to parents that confirmation and all that follows depends on the mode of living practiced by father and mother as Jews and as human beings."

 run into vehicles

A fortunate Westmount six-year-old escaped with only a bruised knee after running out onto St. Catherine street west and into a passing car on Wednesday.

Pierre Villeneuve, 4 Somerville avenue, a St. Leo's student, told police that he ran across St. Catherine street from the south side, and did not notice the auto, which was travelling west.

Driver of the car, Herbert Korenberg, 34, of 2505 Maplewood avenue, corroborated the statement. "I was travelling on St. Catherine street when on entering the intersection of Halliwell and St. Catherine street west, a young boy ran out from the south side of the street and struck my auto." Korenberg is president of National Marketing Ltd., 310 Victoria avenue.

Still another youngster, this time riding a bicycle, escaped with a bruised knee after collision with an auto at the intersection of Sherbrooke street and Greene avenue at 6.57 p.m. Friday.

Eleven-year-old Gilles Vincent, 400 Mount Pleasant avenue stated that he was going south on Mount Pleasant, which becomes Greene avenue on the south side of Sherbrooke, through the intersection on the amber light when he struck an auto going east.

Driver of the auto was Hubert Lalonde, 37, of 307 Elm avenue, who stated that he was stopped at Greene and Sherbrooke on a red light. The light turned green, he stated; he started to cross the intersection when a bicycle came south on Mount Pleasant against the light, and struck his auto.

THE LAST LESSON is fast approaching for Roslyn's School's well-known and loved Miss Dewey, Grade 1 teacher who now numbers in her classes youngsters whose parents she taught. She retires this year. With her are members of her class, Jennifer Mircenta and Cathy Love.

Miss. E. Dewey retires — at Roslyn for 38 years

Miss Elsie Gordon Dewey, Roslyn grade I teacher who has taught at least 1,200 youngsters in her 38 years at Roslyn School, is planning to close a chapter of her life when she retires from the profession this summer.

"I love teaching my grade I children, and have found it a rich and rewarding experience," she admits, "but now I feel it is time to go on to something else."

Miss Dewey, who says she has been going to school all her life, is looking forward to taking her time about deciding just what she will do first, now that she is to have plenty of leisure.

A graduate of Westmount schools and Macdonald College, Miss Dewey started at Roslyn immediately after receiving her diploma, and has enjoyed every minute of it.

"I've never had time to be bored," she states. "First year work never loses interest because it is one of the periods of greatest discovery for the children."

"At this age they are just being introduced to the things of beauty in life, and the art of reading. Each little personality is different, and they learn much at this stage."

He disclosed that the skeleton plans for a three-storey building along St. Catherine street on land which, in part, formerly belonged to the City of Westmount as part of the Westmount athletic grounds.

"The building," Carr continued, "will house both the present junior and senior high schools and will have the most modern classrooms, laboratories, gymnasium, auditorium and cafeteria. The total cubage and size is about the same as the last few high schools constructed in the Montreal area."

"If no delay occurs in the approval of these sketches and future detailed plans," he concluded, "it is hoped that construction will start in time for occupation by September, 1961."

Let's get behind the city's effort

TALL flag-poles rising in city hall park, repainting of traffic lines, replanting of flowers, building of a special crescent-shaped roadway to pass in front of the city hall steps — all these are tangible signs of the city's effort to get everything shipshape for the visit of Her Majesty and Prince Philip.

From the office of city manager Tom Hughes comes word that Westmount is doing everything possible to welcome The Queen in fitting fashion.

Let's all make sure the effort of the general public backs up the lead of the city fathers.

When the Royal cavalcade wheels into Westmount, let's make sure that all flags are flying, a maximum of bunting in place on buildings in the area.

When the mother and father of the present Queen paid a similar visit two decades ago, Westmount's effort stood out as exceptional.

Let's maintain the tradition.

Some children don't vacation

SCHOOL will be out for the summer shortly, and many local children will be getting away to the seaside, the mountains, or the north woods for a summer-long vacation.

But remember — some children don't get away.

They will be playing on the streets more frequently than during the school year, and motorists should be more on the alert to do their thinking for them.

There will be less traffic on the streets, and as a result motorists are inclined to relax their vigilance.

But children play harder in summer, it seems. They run out on the road, without thinking of the danger, perhaps chasing a ball or a hoop.

Remember, motorists, some children don't vacation.

Spare their lives.

'U' and Non-'U' subject raised

SIR: As a property owner and taxpayer in Westmount, I wish to draw attention to the many members of the lower classes who seem to be finding their way into the municipality, either as tenants or visitors, and suggest that something be done to control them and the bad influence they bring with them.

For many years, I saved my money and worked hard in order to buy a house in Westmount and remove my family and children from the demoralizing effects of living in such an undesirable neighborhood as Notre Dame de Grace.

To my horror, however, I have discovered that especially among the young people, children of tenants, (who in my opinion should not be permitted the municipality) there are people in Westmount whose behavior is as atrocious as that of the residents of N.D.G. The youngsters are noisy, uncivil, stay out late, and occasionally have to be censured by the police.

Among the adult tenants in the neighborhood, I regret there are those who drink alcoholic beverages to excess and can be seen intoxicated on the streets. There are even persons with the effrontery to place signs "Room to Rent" in the neighborhood.

May I suggest, sir, that steps be taken by City Council to eradicate this situation by ejecting as soon as possible all persons in Westmount who are not property owners; and by requiring all persons who come to dwell here to pass an intelligence and character examination, which would, for adults at least, call for the equivalent of graduation from one of the universities, and confirmed attendance at a recognized church.

In addition, sir, I recommend, that check points be set up around the boundaries of Westmount, and that a system of passes be instituted by which visitors to the community be carefully screened; and if they are admitted these visitors should become the responsibility of their hosts in the community.

Only by the adoption of such measures, which are reasonable enough, can Westmount regain its position and reputation as a place for the "right people" to dwell.

I remain, sir, your humble servant,

Property Owner

Author achieves happy combination

The problem of whether to "go commercial" or stick to art for art's sake and starve is a problem which faced writers, actors and artists long before beatniks ever came on the scene, but few people have been able to solve it as adroitly as TV author-novelist Eugene Cloutier.

Cloutier, who lives at 331 Elm avenue, has attained the fortunate position of writing creative work which pays well for television and radio, and somewhere in his busy schedule finding time to write two novels for his own artistic satisfaction.

These latter works have not gone unnoticed; recently he was awarded a $4,000 Canada Council grant to help free family and work away from the constant demands of his commercial career and social life which he has built up in Montreal.

"I have been writing for many years now without rest," says Cloutier. "Last year I had a month's holiday — the first in 12 years.

By JANE BARTLETT

"I completed both my other novels in Europe, away from the telephone and other interruptions. I can't work on this phase of my writing as I would like to, because of my obligations here."

At the same time, Cloutier doesn't drop his TV work entirely when abroad: "When I states that his inspiration is always Canadian, and that his novels are a combination of personal experience and imagination, with an underlying serious note.

"It is my weakness to write novels with the intention of making the reader think — especially when nowadays readers want just the opposite," he confesses.

As a young man Cloutier acquired many of the experiences he bases his work on while a journalist for the Quebec newspaper, "Le Soleil." From his parliamentary and Palais de Justice assignments he draws a fund of situations and characters, and has in fact just completed a television play based on a full scale criminal trial which is starting July 1. The play to run weekly for four weeks titled "Proces pour Meurtre."

The tag of "playwright" may be attached to Cloutier in the near future. On the shelves of his beautifully outfitted workroom are two plays for the theatre which he feels are not quite yet ready but which have not been abandoned.

"Like wine, I feel they must age a little, become more mellow," he says.

him from the pressures of radio and T.V. giving him time to devote to a third novel, as yet untitled.

At the moment Cloutier admits TV is his main occupation, but he plans to go to Europe this summer with his

Sees Royal Visit fitting, proper

SIR,
The city of Westmount has a well deserved reputation as a municipality that successfully organizes receptions for Royalty and other distinguished visitors. It's citizens can be proud of having the distinction of a visit from Her Gracious Majesty and her handsome Royal Consort.

Westmount is entitled to this consideration, since it proved the loyalty of its citizens in two World Wars. When the call came those who dwell within the borders immediately responded. Testimony to their valor and sacrifice is commemorated in the beautiful monument but a few yards from the City Hall Her Majesty will visit.

Westmount has within its borders the famous Royal Montreal Regiment. The officers and men of which fully lived up to its fine reputation for efficiency and courage. Other branches of the Armed Services are also located within the city limits.

Quite a number of its higher administrative personnel and the employes in the several departments wear the coveted ribbons testifying to their service. Ex Mayor Bruneau and his immediate predecessor served King and Country.

The present chief magistrate long identified with the Militia and who attained the rank of Lt. Colonel expressed his readiness and eagerness to serve overseas, but was, much to his disappointment, kept in Canada.

The preparations made to welcome Her Majesty are evidence that the Mayor, Aldermen, and principal civic officials particularly the General Manager and his able assistant welcome the opportunity of greeting Her Majesty and Prince Phillip in truly Westmount fashion.

Whoever is responsible for having Her Majesty visit Westmount is entitled to the warm appreciation of the Mayor, his council, colleagues and the people of Westmount so justly and frequently mentioned as the most efficiently governed municipality in Canada.

The occasion will certainly be an historic one and in future years will be recalled with pleasure and pride. Westmounters will, I am sure, show their appreciation by their numbers and loyal cheers.

Bernard Rose.

STAMPS GALORE

— by —
Wayne L. Bungay

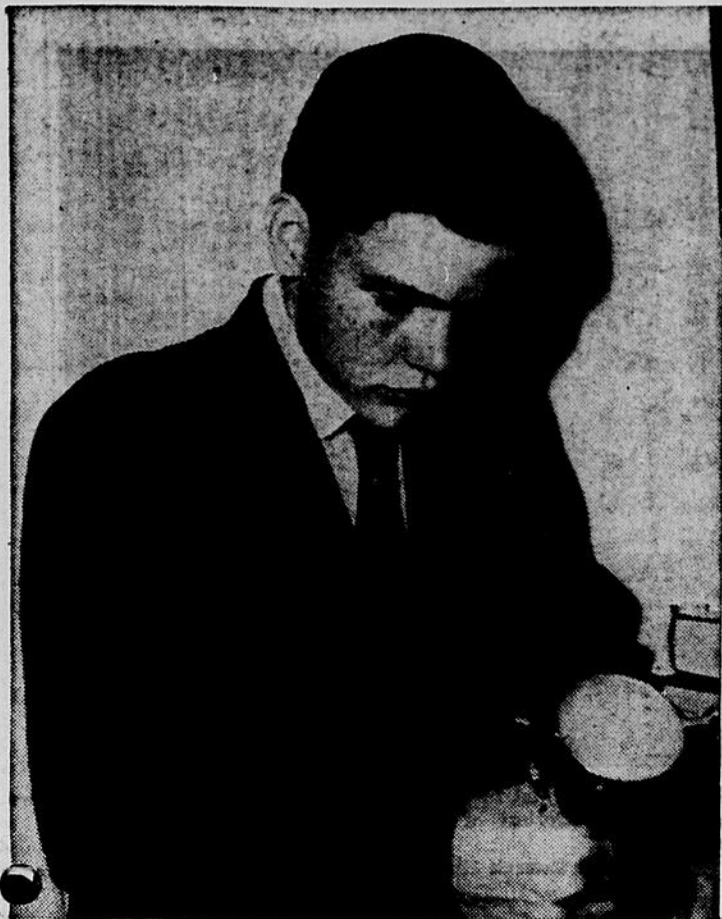

On June 4 the Westmount Stamp Club and the Westmount Junior Stamp Club held their annual banquet. For the junior club it was a reunion-banquet — the first in over fifteen years.

During the meeting the new slate of officers were announced for the Westmount Stamp Club and they are as follows: Honorary President, Mayor of Westmount — J. C. Cushing; President, K. G. W. Smith; 1st V.P., Major Wm. Greer; 2nd V.P., S. R. Groves; Treasurer, R. J. Sutherland; Secretary, L. R. Waller; Ass't. secretary, John Simmins; Sales Manager, L. Bronstein. No changes were made in the Junior Club with William Cochrane as President; Secretary, Steve Kelleher; and Margaret Ward in charge of the stamp stock books.

The Israel H. Levine Memorial Trophy for the Junior Club was awarded to Steve Kelleher while the Canadian Philatelic Society Trophy was presented to Wm. Cochrane. A presentation was also made to senior member L. Bentham who for many years has offered his untiring assistance to the Junior Club. For the Westmount Stamp Club, the Israel H. Levine Memorial Trophy was awarded to myself — for which I express my sincerest thanks. The Lt. Governor's silver award was presented to former president S. R. Groves while the Lt. Governor's Bronze award which was taken by Secretary L. R. Waller.

The Canadian Philatelic Society has received permission to change its name to the Royal Philatelic Society of Canada and will adopt this new title shortly — as soon as constitutional changes are made according to L. G. Buck who was recently to the Board of Directors.

It seems that no matter how much competition is facing him Dr. James J. Matejka of Chicago can take it with ease. Dr. Matejka won the Brisley Trophy at Ottawa's "BYPEX" in May of 1957 for his airmail stamps and covers of Newfoundland and he recently won the same award at the Sarnia Exhibition "SAR-PHEX" for his outstanding exhibit on Alaskan Postal History.

WINNER OF HIGHEST AWARD: Lee Watchorn, 25 Burton avenue, won the Lucas Medal, Selwyn House school's highest honor award at a prize giving ceremony at the school Tuesday evening. A real heat-beater — family swims slated

Due to the exceedingly hot weather two family swims will be held during the week when mothers and fathers can bring the younger members of the family into the pool with them. A qualified life guard will be on duty to give instruction or assistance if needed.

An invitation is extended to all parents and children living in Westmount to attend these period on Tuesday and Friday at 7 p.m. Mixed swimming will be available every night from 8-9 p.m. with the exception of Wednesday and Saturday night. There will be mixed swimming on Saturdays from 1:30-3 p.m. A summer membership is now available for three months at the rate of $8.

As an experiment this summer: on Saturdays two three-quarter hour periods of instruction will be open to children four to eight years old. This class will be conducted by John Ray, physical director. Children must be accompanied by the father in the pool. The classes will run from July 4 until August 8. For further information, please call WE. 7-3916.

For men there are periods every day at 12:30 p.m. until 1:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and every evening from 5:30-7 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Other times are available for men and ladies. Contact the Y for further information.

The gym will open on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday for gymnastics from 7-9 p.m. Professor Steve Vamos will conduct his fencing classes, Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 3-9 p.m.

Registration for the Westmount YMCA Summer Fun Club opened May 27 and is rapidly approaching capacity.

The club will once again operate from the Westmount YMCA with program running from Monday to Friday from June 29 to August 21.

Activities already confirmed for this year include the ever popular beach trips, a visit to St. Hubert Air Force Base, boating and swimming instruction plus many other programme of an educational and recreational nature.

Jim Hawkes, Youth Work Secretary of the local "Y" has been appointed club director for the 1959 season and he brings to the job a background of 10 years of YMCA camping experience. Assisting Mr. Hawkes in the operation of the camp is a staff of twelve counsellors selected from the community and trained by the local Y in a series of sessions designed to equip them with the skills and knowledge required to counsel children.

Parents of children who require further information about the programme are asked to phone Mr. Hawkes at WE. 7-3916. And all interested persons are asked to register their children early as registration will be limited this year.

Young arsonists cause near blaze

The possibility of a dangerous fire was averted on Sunday when Westmount firemen doused a small conflagration in a garage at the rear of 4274 Dorchester avenue.

The fire was started by children stuffing paper, followed by lighted paper, down the chimney of the garage.

The chimney opens into the garage, in which a lot of furniture was stored at the time of the incident.

During the week, two false alarms were reported by the Westmount Fire Department, one at 11:33 p.m. Friday from the box at Kensington avenue and Sherbrooke street west, and another at 11:58 p.m. Saturday at Selby and Greene avenues.

Woman driver hits and runs

Women drivers must be coming in for some loud condemnation by Michael Gilmore, 41, of 5886 Waverley street, whose auto was damaged on St. Catherine street in Westmount Monday afternoon by an unknown woman driver.

Gilmore told police that he parked his Vanguard sedan outside 4205 St. Catherine street west, and returned a few minutes later to find the car damaged. He learned from a witness that a woman driver had struck it and left the scene of the accident.

How one low-cost policy insures entire family...

"With a wife and two children, a man has plenty of responsibilities. In my case, the major problem was getting insurance coverage for all of us without the expense and complexities of individual policies.

"Then my Confederation Life man told me about their new Family Policy. All I pay is one low-cost premium and we're all covered. When we have more children, they're covered too—at no extra cost! Last night, I signed the application for my Confederation Life Family Policy and solved the major problem of protecting my family's future!"

EXAMPLE:

Coverage for man, age 30, wife and 2 children

- Monthly Premium: $12.00.
- $5,000 permanent insurance on your own life with premiums payable only to age 65.
- Substantial cash values guaranteed and generous dividends declared annually.
- Premiums waived if totally disabled for at least six months.
- Double or Triple indemnity if death due to accident.
- Liberal Cash Benefits for Accidental Dismemberment.
- Insurance on your wife until you reach age 65.
- $1,000 insurance on each child, present and future (maximum $5,000 for all children) to age 21 or your age 65 if sooner; each child may convert to a $5,000 policy regardless of health at that time.

800-pound anchor is memento of Danish seafaring diplomat

By DEBORAH WOODWARD

An eight-hundred-pound anchor was dropped this year — in the thick of winter — on the lawn of a Wood avenue home, Westmount. In its iron bulk there is enchantment . . . in its active days this anchor steadied and saved the last of Denmark's sailing ships.

Theodor Schultz, who retired from the post of Consul General of Denmark in January, has recently come to this house. He decided a short while before his retirement that he would like to have an anchor by his home, and on his last visit to Denmark made arrangements to secure it.

"I am of a naval and merchant marine family of many generations," comments Mr. Schultz. Admiral Christian Wulff, of the Royal Danish Navy, who took part in many wars, was his paternal great-grandfather.

His maternal great grandfather was Thomas Soding, of whom Mr. Schultz has written: "Master of the Danish barque 'Concordia' on the first and second Danish circumnavigation and whaling expeditions to the South and North Pacific, and master of the 'Neptune' on the third expedition. In this endeavor within the years 1839-1846 he circumnavigated the world three times by both capes, without either loss of life, cargo or ships."

Mr. Schultz was born on St. Thomas Island in the Danish West Indies where his father was the government secretary.

Perhaps being born on an island in the midst of the Caribbean, where the arrival and departure of naval and merchant vessels was a part of life, gave Theodor Schultz his love of the sea. Or perhaps thirty-eight years in the Danish foreign service — in countries as diverse as Latvia, Estonia, Norway, South Africa, and Canada — with thousands of sea miles to cross in between — brought him to the sea. Maybe his heritage of sea-faring ancestors, and the maps and tales which surrounded their adventures was almost certainly a great influence.

"I have always had the sea near me," Schultz explains. It is a part of me just as it has been a part of my life."

Schultz, sitting in the living room of his home on Wood avenue pointed to Westmount mountain. "It is the imagination that is important," he said. "Ships pass down the river in the night and their sounds echo back to me from the mountain. I do not need to see these ships — I have seen ships just like them — and in the sounds that come to me I rediscover them. I know that a ship is at Chateaugay because the sound is of a certain force. I know the size and kind of ship because it echoes in this way."

To the children who pass by this Wood avenue residence, coming to and from school — and to many an adult, too — the mighty black anchor calls up the best of adventures . . . Moby Dick, Treasure Island, the tales of Magellan, the Vikings, the pirates.

Mr. Schultz has even another suggestion about this anchor. When children ask him what it is for, he replies, "Lay your hand on the anchor and make a wish. Hope for something. It will come true, for the anchor has been the symbol of hope to man for generations."

Colonel attends NATO conference

By VALENTINA RAHR

Col. Paul L'Anglais, Montrose avenue, is a member of the Canadian delegation to the North-Atlantic Treaty Organization Conference which was opened by the Queen in London, on June 5, and ended Wednesday. NATO forces in Europe are approaching a peak period in their post war baby boom — which in turn brings about the shortage of space and facilities for adequate schools — including a shortage of teachers.

Starting next September about 1,000 children of Canadian soldiers and airmen serving in France and Germany will enter Grade 1, compared with 25 children graduating at the end of this month. By next year the disparity will be even worse, and will continue to grow worse until about 1963 when a levelling off process should begin with the number of graduates gradually balancing the new intake of pupils.

A major school building program, including about 10 more new schools, equalling the present number, will be needed within the next five years of Canada is to maintain her soldiers and airmen in Europe at anything approaching the present strength. The army is running out of suitable barracks for classrooms — there will obviously be no shortage of youngsters for a long time to come.

Miss Alice Lighthall, Metcalfe avenue, is chairman of the Indian and Eskimo Committee of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild. A special exhibition of stone carvings was arranged in co-operation with the Canadian Government and the Guild, in New York recently. Mr. R. A. J. Phillips, assistant director of Northern Administration in the Northern Affairs Department, noted that primitive art has sometimes been destroyed by commercialization in other lands.

He said: "We have no desire to tell the Eskimo what he should do for he is a full and free citizen. We do hope to prevent unscrupulous people from trying to force the Eskimo to adopt the means of mass production for the sake of a quick return. I hope that we never reach a position where we can publish a mail-order catalogue of Eskimo Art and accept orders for recumbent walrus or seals with the left eye closed."

The show was a terrific success, and was described as a "gold rush" in New York. The pieces sold as though the people were afraid the objects would vanish before their eyes. The Smithsonian Institute bought three pieces, and one industrialist bought $1,550 worth of sculptures. The proceeds of the show are to be used to train Eskimo hunters as lay ministers. On exhibit was the "Mother and Child" presented to Queen Elizabeth in 1951 by the Canadian Government. It was on loan from the Queen.

Marion McCormick, St. Catherine street west, is piling up a big audience for her daily women's commentary program on CBM in the Quebec area.

Miss Francis Goltman is scheduled to give a concert in the auditorium at Victoria Hall, June 23. On June 27 she will be leaving for Calgary, to attend the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers Associations Convention. Later Miss Goltman will proceed to Vancouver where she will stay at the Hotel George, to cover the Second Vancouver International Music Festival, returning to Montreal in August in time for the Montreal Festivals.

In connection with the Royal Visit on Thursday June 25, the City of Westmount has offered to reserve standing room for children and their teachers on the route of travel as follows: King's — east side of Argyle avenue just north of Cote St. Antoine road; Queen's — south side of Sherbrooke street west between Olivier and Greene avenues; Roslyn — north side of The Boulevard between Clarke and Argyle avenues.

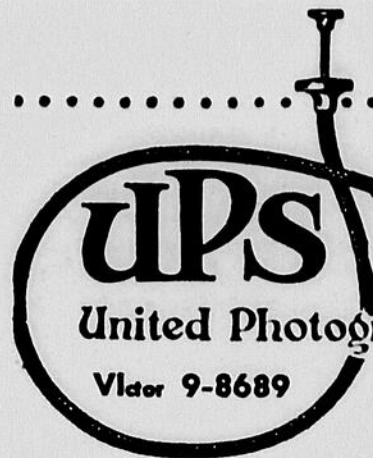

If a sufficient number of parents wish to have their children see the parade in this manner, the schools will arrange for pupils of Grades 1 to 6 to assemble at their respective schools at 2.30 p.m. and be conducted to the places allotted. Afterwards, Grades 4, 5 and 6 will be dismissed at these locations; and Grades 1, 2 and 3, will be brought back to the schools for dismissal there.

Miss Gian Lyman, Lansdowne avenue, entered a bagatelle for piano, which was played by John McKay, Grosvenor avenue, in the Sarah Fishcher Concerts Scholarships held at the Mechanical Institute last week. Although the composition scholarship was won by Andre Prevost, a high standard was maintained by the other six entrants in this class.

These scholarships are open to residents of the Island of Montreal who are born or naturalized Canadians. Restrictions, including age limits, are those that conditions must be recommended by their teachers as having promise for a career in the musical profession and that they had not previously held a musical scholarship. This is the first time Canadian composers were included in adjudications for the annual Sarah Fishcher Concerts Scholarships.

for the amount, assuming that the city would pay".

Revival of the Jewish General hospital's situation came this week following a statement by hospital president Philip Garfinkle, 1 Douglas avenue, that "failure of the city of Montreal to make a good commitment to pay $600,000 towards our expansion program has left us in a serious financial position".

The situation goes back to the building of the new wing of the hospital in 1954 and an occasion on which the provincial government was making a million dollar contribution to the hospital — and had its cheque along to close the deal.

At that time, says Mr. Asselin, the executive committee had recently passed a general resolution that all hospitals were to be treated alike, and the city was making the rounds. As a result, as chairman of the executive committee, and in view of the provincial move, he assured the Jewish General that they would receive the same treatment as others.

With the advent of the Drapeau-Desmarais administration the next October, however, the new group announced a policy of no aid to hospitals, and failed to carry through the obligations of their predecessors, an unprecedented development. "They did not stick to that principle however" Mr. Asselin said yesterday "and a check of the record will show that the Drapeau-Desmarais administration did make payments to hospitals. One was to the Cardinal's campaign".

"The present administration hasn't done anything on this matter yet" Mr. Asselin added "but they may do it — I certainly believe that they should."

Montminy family in the swim

NDG-YMCA played hosts on Saturday night to some of Montreal's best young divers for the annual inter "Y" diving competition. In addition to representation from different YMCA's, entries were received from Palestre Nationale, Snowdon YM-YWHA and Concordia.

Westmount YMCA was well represented in the intermediate boys' division by Anthony Blair who won this event, followed by Peter Swendsen of the same club. NDG "Y's" Elizabeth Hutchinson placed first in the intermediate girls.

Peverley White, NDG "Y" lead her team mates in a very closely contested event in the girls' open championships followed by Cathy Fares and Susan Ringwood.

In the boy's division, Claude Casaubon captured the open event for Palestre Nationale. This was the first time Claude had won a city championship.

The Montminy family of the NDG "Y" diving club, made a fine showing. Lise Montminy, placed first in the girls 10 and under; Robert, won the boys 10 and under and John captured the inter-"Y" diving trophy. This is the second year that John won the trophy for the NDG.

Story of 'Empress' sinking uncovers unusual souvenir

It is very seldom that a letter gets lost in Her Majesty's Mail Service, but one former Westmount resident recently came up with an amazing incident which occurred shortly before the outbreak of World War I.

Mrs. Margaret Johnston, now a resident of Verdun, remembered the incident after reading an article in a local weekly paper describing the sinking of the Empress of Ireland, May 29, 1914. It reads like a fairy tale.

It appears that Mrs. Margaret

Mrs. Johnston went to the Westmount post office and had a money-order made out. The number of the money order was 4575 dated May 26, 1914.

The money order was duly mailed and bears the postal stamp on the envelope of 6 p.m. of that day.

An interesting feature of the envelope is the postal advertising on its face which advertised the holding of the Cartier Centennial in Montreal from September 6 to 13 1914, the outcome of which saw the erection of the famed Cartier monument which now adorns Fletcher's Field on Park avenue.

Nothing more was heard of the letter after it was mailed until it was received in Scotland five months later stamped clearly over the face of the envelope:

'Recovered by divers from wreck of S.S. Empress of Ireland'.

The letter was received by Mrs. Moffat in Scotland and later her daughter Mrs. M. Elliott came to Canada to live and brought the letter back with her. She is now a resident of 320 First avenue LaSalle, and often visits her sister on Gordon avenue, Verdun, who is now celebrating her fiftieth anniversary of residence in Canada.

The two sisters visit each other frequently between Verdun and LaSalle and it was the publication of the story in The Guardian that recalled the famous letter which is shown herewith.

NEW RESEARCH LABORATORIES at AYERST, McKENNA & HARRISON

Not wishing to use a spade where a steam shovel will do, Mayor Maurice Cousineau of Ville St. Laurent, Quebec prepares to turn the first sod to start construction of a million and a half dollar pharmaceutical research laboratory at Ayerst, McKenna and Harrison Ltd. The two new buildings will be completed by the end of the year.

Ayerst, McKenna & Harrison Ltd., pharmaceutical manufacturers, will spend well over a million and a half dollars on the new research laboratories which will be devoted exclusively to medical and pharmaceutical research and the testing of new compounds, as well as to pure research in developing new drugs.

The Ayerst research laboratories will serve the Ayerst organization which now operates actively in 32 countries throughout the world.

The new centre, consisting of two buildings with over 50,000 sq. ft. of floor space, was necessary to accommodate expansion of existing laboratory facilities and to facilitate work in new fields of research and development of new drugs.

The addition of these buildings will bring to a total of 200,000 sq. ft. the floor area covered by the Ayerst, McKenna & Harrison Ltd. laboratories in Ville St. Laurent. They are the fourth and fifth new buildings to be constructed since 1944 to accommodate the expansion.

The new laboratories come under the directorship of Dr. Roger Gaudry who has the responsibility for the execution of the company's research programmes.

PERSONALITY

Columbia: Flat Rock Ballads. Sung and played by Carl Sandburg. ML 5339. This Spring your columnist like many other followers of the great American balladeer, poet and historian, Carl Sandburg, were keenly disappointed when he had to cancel a Montreal appearance due to ill-health. However this record is the silver lining and a wonderful solace, for in this intimate visit to Mr. Sandburg's home in Flat Rock, North Carolina where these songs were recorded, there is a friendly air of informality as this famous octogenarian spins his homespun tale of Americana. For here are the many facets of the American folk song sung and played on the guitar by a master in his field, in a voice as rich and twangy befitting a man half his age, with a subtle humor and a knowing sense of timing and delivery. The programme embraces twenty-seven folk-songs and ballads, some of them full-length presentations like his rollicking 'My Name is Yon Yonson', 'The Horse Named Bill', 'Wanderin'', 'I Ride An Old Paint', 'Down In The Valley', 'Turkey In The Straw', 'Nora's Dove', etc., while others, 'Sailors of Dollars', 'Get The Sailing, Sailing', 'Fancies, Fancies', etc., cover three or four lines only, enough to cover the philosophy intended. This is an interesting and rewarding listening experience and a definite must to those who collect folk-songs.

Columbia: Sir John Gielgud in Shakespeare's 'Ages Of Man'. OL 5390. Sir John Gielgud's one-man show which opened on Broadway as part of a nationwide tour, is a brilliant idea, giving the listener a vivid cross-section of Shakespeare in some of the bard's most famous lines dedicated to Youth, Manhood and Old Age. Sir John gives us superb readings from 'As You Like NIMBLE NEEDLEPOINTING. Jeannette Katz, choosing from a hundred different shades of thread, weaves design and color into a simple piece of canvas, as she sits in her needlepoint shop on Sherbrooke street just west of Prud'homme.

Last needlepoint stronghold fosters the art in N.D.G.

The Jeannette Needlecraft Shop, at the corner of Sherbrooke and Prud'homme, has a deluding sign over its door. There is nothing "electrical" about what goes on inside — every piece is made by hand.

Jeannette Katz, who started the store just over two months ago, has been doing needlepoint since she was 12. The chairs which she displays in her Sherbrooke street window have seats in rich wine colors that she painted 30 years ago. The store offers all kinds of interest to the idle explorer and a host of materials to the serious needlepoint worker. In fact, part of Mrs. Katz' job, as she sees it, is to get people interested in the disappearing skill; she's ready to teach people — right there in the store — how to go about needlepointing a design.

In the shop hang decorative pictures of roses in the hunt, tiny English villages and "still lifes" of every variety. Mrs. Katz explains that needlepointing can be used for footstool covers, chair seats, bench covers, and even rugs, but it is also superb to hang just as you would a painting.

"I always tell ladies that it's a wonderful hobby if you want to stop eating candy in front of television. Once you've learned the basic stitch, it's a perfect occupation for the hands while you're watching programs; Needlepoint also has its uses as a therapeutic activity. Not long ago a group of children from the Mackay School for the Deaf visited the Needlecraft Shop and Mrs. Katz and the teacher held up needlepointed pictures of animals, people, and all kinds of things for the children to identify.

Mrs. Katz' work is on display in Anita Cope's shop at the corner of Prince of Wales and Somerset and at Louis Coiffeur on Queen Mary road. She invites people to come in anytime to the Jeannette Needlecraft Shop.

More than 200 shades of silk and wool threads and a large variety of "canvasses" — burlap squares with the basic design on them — fill the shelves and counters of the shop.

The only needlepoint shop in the city is right here in N.D.G.

Telephones to play major role in coverage of Royal Tour

While touring Canada this summer, Queen Elizabeth will be able to telephone her family or other parts of the world if necessary.

At the same time, telephone equipment will play a major role in providing the world with up-to-the-minute coverage of her tour of Canada.

The telephone facilities, provided by The Bell Telephone Company of Canada and other members of the Trans-Canada Telephone System during her six week tour of the nation, will serve in a number of ways.

On the royal train, Her Majesty, other members of the royal party, government officials and the press will have telephone service in their railway cars. On the royal yacht, "Britannia", local and long distance service will be available whenever it is moored at a Canadian dockside.

The ship will be connected via special cable installations at 13 cities while train connections will be made at 17 centres, most of them in western Canada. When waterborne, the "Britannia" will use its own ship-to-shore radio facilities to connect with the regular telephone system so the royal party can call anywhere in the world.

Five green telephone sets will be on board the royal train. These telephones will be connected via a cable with the local telephone company where a special operator will handle all calls manually. The train will be hooked up in this way at each point where it remains for periods of one hour or more.

Outgoing calls from the royal train may include person-to-person, station-to-station or collect calls, but all calls made to the train will be person-to-person only. The same regulations will apply for calls made to and from the "Britannia".

Cities at which the ship will have land-line communication include the ports of Sept Iles, Port Alfred, Quebec City, Trois Rivières, and Montreal in the province of Quebec, and at Toronto, Windsor, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, the Lakehead and Hamilton in Ontario. In Nova Scotia, the royal yacht will be connected with the local telephone exchange at Halifax and Sydney.

Royal train connections will be completed by telephone personnel at Hamilton, Stratford, and London in Ontario; Calgary and Edmonton in Alberta; Revelstoke, Sicamous, Vernon, Kamloops, Chilliwack and Vancouver in British Columbia; Biggar, Saskatoon, and Regina in Saskatchewan, and Brandon and Winnipeg in Manitoba.

In order to provide on-the-spot coverage by television of many of the events highlighting the Queen's visit, special portable microwave towers will be used to transmit the picture and cable will pick up the audio portion of the ceremonies.

Circuits for radio commentators, Bell Teletype machines for newspapermen and telephoto units for photographers will be among the other services provided by the member companies of the Trans-Canada Telephone System during the six week tour of the country.

QUEEN ELIZABETH will be able to call virtually any place in the world from the royal train during her tour this summer by merely picking up the standard green telephone in the drawing room of her car. The set, one of five provided on the train by The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, can be plugged in or removed by the steward, W. L. Notley, as required. Canadian telephone systems will also provide numerous other telephone facilities during the tour, such as portable microwave towers shown right, which permit on-the-spot television coverage of special events during the tour.

Steinberg's purchase Grand Union stores

An agreement has been reached whereby Steinberg's Limited, the Quebec based Canadian Company, a 70-unit supermarket chain, will acquire 38 stores operated by The Grand Union Company in Ontario on Saturday, June 13, according to a joint announcement by Sam Steinberg, president of Steinberg's Limited, and Lansing P. Shield, president of the Grand Union Company, East Patterson, N.J.

"The operation of these markets and their trained organization mark a long step forward for Steinberg's Limited in its development of the Ontario marketing area", Mr. Steinberg said. "In addition, signed leases, and other stores under consideration in several shopping centres should make Steinberg's Limited a significant factor in the Toronto area", M. Steinberg added.

MUSICAL Sharps, Flats and Naturals The Schirmer 'Guide'

By Frances Goltman

(First Part of 2 Instalments) THE DETAIL that is contained in the Schirmer Manual (that I mentioned in last week's column) is a valuable asset to teachers, parents, pupils and people who perform for their own pleasure but the only people who would bother to get it would be progressive professionals. It is up to us therefore to enlighten amateurs and guide parents as well as their children in all these important phases of pedagogy and musicology.

THESE WORDS SOUND BIG but they take in the gamut of proper work; pedagogy means advanced teaching. Well, to arrive there one must know the fundamental elementary rules. Alas many pedagogues can instruct advanced players but lack the patience to be bothered with the young, and only want them when the groundwork has been accomplished.

MUSICOLOGY is the research section of the art of music or a systemized knowledge of music.

THE SCHIRMER "PIANO TEACHERS' GUIDE" has a 14 page preface to the itemized lists which is truly remarkable. The writer's name is not mentioned but I presume it must have been the Editor of Music of G. Schirmer, Inc. The title is "THE MATTER OF PIANO STUDIES" and begins: "For the intelligent and progressive piano teacher, the matter of piano studie presents a problem which, at first glance, is truly baffling in its diversity and dimensions. . . . The purpose of the present discussion and of the carefully classified list of studies which follows it, is to shed a little much-needed light on a perplexing subject, to act as "first aid", as it were, in the difficult situation which confronts every piano teacher who seeks a larger view in solving the technical problems of the instrument.

THIS ENLIGHTENING SECTION traces pianism from Clementi, (who is called "The Father of Piano Playing" in the Baltzell History of Music that I studied from cover to cover) to Liszt whose demands on the executant can hardly be overestimated. One has to possess complete technical power to play most of the Hungarian genius' works.

THE NEXT TITLED SECTION is "The Means To Mastery". From this I quote: "The needs of both teacher and pupil will be as many sided as are the diversities of temperament. What is one man's meat may be another man's poison. The modern teacher well knows the futility of attempting to force pupils of various talents and temperaments through one and the same technical mould, of trying to make the square peg fit into the round hole, and therefore he will seek to fit the study material to the individual case, instead of the pupil to the study. The day of the same stenciled grind for every aspirant to keyboard proficiency is past and gone."

THE "METHOD" follows in detail and some of those mentioned are Alexander Lambert, (with endorsements by Paderewski and Josef Hofmann, after which it states, "any further comment is unnecessary"); Eukenio Pirani (High School of Piano Playing); Malwine Bree, Czerny's Practical Method. While these are excellent for extremely serious and talented pupils there are now many methods added by newer and contemporary composers that appeal to children in the beginners' stage.

NO TEACHER SHOULD STICK to any one method but should study the student. For the benefit of parents and teachers here is a list of widely used books by these eminent educationalists: John M. Williams, Ada Richter, Peter and Margery Kennedy, John Thompson, Michael Aaron.

SAYING OF THE WEEK: We speak of educating our children. Do we know that our children also educate us? LYDIA SINGOURNEY 1791-1865.

At times, the planet Venus is only 25,000,000 miles from the earth, but it also goes as far as 161,000,000 miles away.

1959 Moretti captures the eye

The Italian Moretti is one of the imported cars that is attracting much attention now because it is being distributed nationally in Canada for the first time. For some years this custom-built car was available on limited basis to Canadians at about $5,000.00.

Now different Moretti models are being offered fully equipped in Canada. These models are the 750cc coupe and convertible, which has a top speed of 92 mph.

Ninety per cent of Moretti body component parts are hand made, hand finished and hand assembled. The engine component connections, made of aluminum, brass and bronze, are designed for long wear. The engine consists of water-cooled four-cylinder valve-in-head and overhead cam, the car has air-cooled brakes. Gas consumption ranges up to 45 miles per gallon.

Westmount Examiner, Friday, June 12, 1959 13

Moretti was driven 80,000 miles through five continents with sealed engine and was subject to no change other than oil or water.

Correspondence school head says 150,000 study by mail

The growing importance of correspondence education in our educational picture is revealed in the fact that some 150,000 Canadians are now enrolled with correspondence institutions, according to Glenn A. Oman, president of International Correspondence Schools Canadian Ltd.

Oman told the Westmount Rotary Club today that "interest in correspondence courses has become world-wide. Perhaps the greatest acceptance comes in those countries which enjoy the highest degree of literacy." He said correspondence education is almost universally used in the Scandinavian countries.

In the U.S. more than a million students are enrolled. Even Soviet Russia is using this means very extensively to provide technical training for the masses.

"The trend in Canada today is toward ever-increasing acceptance of the home-study student." Canada's "Who's Who" contains a large number of prominent Canadians who have correspondence education in their background. And most industries, like pulp and paper, steel, aluminum, power and textiles, have top officials, department heads and foremen who received correspondence instruction.

The "average correspondence student is 28 years of age, married, has two children and is employed." What is not generally realized is that a great many correspondence course students have university education, the speaker declared.

Oman, who heads Canada's largest and oldest correspondence school, said correspondence institutions are in competition with no one, but play a vital role of their own in furthering the education of adult men and women.

Referring to a recent survey by Mill and Factory magazine which revealed that 68% of all employees interviewed wished to further their education, Oman asked, "How is industry going to cope with this? How are the schools going to handle this problem?"

He said, "It is the opinion of those of us in the correspondence field of education that resident classes, including the universities, high schools, trade and technical schools cannot possibly keep pace with the demand for better educated and technically trained employees in the future. It is going to create an enormous financial burden, much of which would have to be borne by the taxpayer. Furthermore, the problem of acquiring qualified instructors, already acute, would become progressively worse."

"The good-calibre correspondence — or home study — school with its specially and accurately prepared text material, its techniques of building the teacher into the text, its known-how experience in handling mass training at all levels — is the most logical answer for the masses of workers in this technical age," Oman concluded.

PIXIE TOMBOY star of "Gigi," Lise LaSalle cools off between rehearsals at La Poudriere on St. Helen's Island. The English version of the play is now playing through June 13. Cast includes Lise LaSalle, Roland Hewgill, recently seen in the Theatre du Nouveau Monde's production of 'Long Day's journey into Night,' Luc Triganne, Jeanine Fluet, Kay Tremblay and Raymond Royer.

As you like it

By Laurent Price
Niagara Falls — So What?

Last week we spent a few days in Quebec City and its environs; and, of course, visited with our good friend Louis Paré.

Paré, by the way, if you happen to be among the unenlightened, is the genial and astute director of the Quebec Municipal Tourist Bureau.

Our man has, in handy and successful fashion over the years, beaten drums and thumped tubs, and his messages have reverberated all over the civilized world attracting visitors to the province's historic capital city.

Having had some experience in similar endeavors, we appreciate a thorough craftsman of the fraternity — and Louis Paré qualifies with high honors.

One phase of his work is maintaining an amiable and pleasant liaison with newspaper and magazine writing types. Next to keeping the local the local merchants, inn-keepers, restaurateurs, various religious factions and other subscribers to the "bureau" in happy and cohesive states of mind this can be quite a problem to some in like positions. But, not director Paré!

First, he knows whereof he speaks; second, he's sincere and honest; third, he invariably has an interesting "angle" to offer the scribes for their listening pleasure — as they say in radio.

The month of June had obviously inspired Louis Paré, and with true Gallic concern for lovers, romance and marriage, he (and his "angle") deftly turned the conversation to honeymoons.

"By what authority and finality," asked he, "does Niagara Falls, in Ontario (we always have difficulty spelling that province's name) dare pose either traditionally or practically as the ideal and sole "voyage de noce" location?"

"If," he went on, "a fall of water is necessary to a head start for connubial bliss, wouldn't the Montmorency Falls close by Quebec serve as a more pleasurable prerequisite?"

Louis Paré's proposition fell upon eager and receptive ears.

To the best of our recollection, we have made two journeys to Niagara Falls (neither having had anything to do with wedlock). Once, we were violently sea-sick crossing Lake Ontario from Toronto (more spelling difficulty) to the place; the other time, passing through on the way to Buffalo. And, on that hapless occasion, a bad case of sun-burn made our life and brief visit, temporarily very painful and miserable. Consequently, it is possible that our "reasoning" in the matter is slightly tinged with disenchantment.

Nevertheless, while Niagara certainly puts on a

TRAVEL TIPS

By Larry Libman

Have you been thinking about a cruise for this summer?

It probably has occurred to you, but maybe the cost was too high. Well, we can solve that problem for you. Take a cruise on a cargo ship. It is very inexpensive, fun, and you will see all of the ports and points of interest that you would on one of the big cruise liners. The cargo ship only accommodates 12 passengers, which makes for a closer relationship and makes it easy to make friends.

So for that inexpensive and wonderful holiday, think about a cargo ship cruise . . .

grow and has breadth to spare, Montmorency is a hundred feet higher and lays claim to a more ethereal beauty. Turning from the former — in the opposite direction — ugly Ontario Hydro power houses rear up to obliterate the view. They're not only an unromantic sight, but serve as a timely reminder to the new "bread-winner" of the imminent approach of a life-time of light and heat bills.

On the other hand, the falls at Montmorency, while undoubtedly harnessed too, considerably have their power making machinery hidden behind shrubs. And, looking away from them, the newlyweds' eyes (with stars still in them, we hope) are greeted by a magnificent expanse of the St. Lawrence, with the sight of the wondrous Isle of Orleans as a back-drop.

From the upper part of Quebec proper, too, the view in all directions is at once ineffable and endlessly describable; hotels and restaurants are the tops in North America; the city's citizens are urbane, well-mannered and gracious; its architecture a tasteful melange of the old world and new.

So, young lovers, if you must have water falls, pay heed to Louis Paré, his beloved Quebec and the ones at Montmorency.

Unitarian church attendance rises

Membership in the Church of the Messiah (Unitarian) has reached a record high of 759, it was announced at a recent annual meeting of the congregation. This is a net increase of 70 since the annual meeting in 1957. Membership in the church school stands at 250, showing a 40 per cent growth for the same period.

C. G. Gifford, president of the Schweitzer Group, one of the church organizations, stated that it now had a mailing list of 85. The group has sponsored or taken part in nine open meetings since its foundation in September.

Officers elected for the 1959-60 season are H. S. Tutsch, president; A. S. Cumming, vice-president; Charles Seaborn, treasurer; Douglas B. Clarke, secretary; W. C. R. Anderson and Arthur McMaster, wardens, both to serve four year terms.

Elected to the board of management were W. L. Barnes, past president; D. C. Borden, James Conant, David DeJong, C. G. Gifford, R. G. Goddard, R. H. Halyard, Mrs. F. H. Hunt, Mrs. Tom MacDonald, Donald McGill, H. E. Moquette, Fred Ness, Mrs. L. A. Stein, Stewart Symons, Mrs. W. E. Thomas.

Christian Science

The inspiring experiences of the patriarch Abraham will be featured at the services in the Christian Science churches this Sunday, in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject "God the Preserver of Man."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's statement to the Galatians: "Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham."

The meaning for today of Abraham's lifework will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "This patriarch illustrated the purpose of Love to create trust in good, and showed the life-preserving power of spiritual understanding."

600 Temples. The Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion assures training for Rabbis who minister to Congregations. The College is the oldest Rabbinical seminary in America and has schools in Cincinnati, New York City, Los Angeles and is now constructing a branch school in the city of Jerusalem.

Under the co-chairmanship of William ittes and Max Kaufman, the following members of Temple Emanu-El have made voluntary contributions toward the College and the Union: Rabbi Dr. Harry J. Stern; Hyman rover, David H. Lisser, Lawrence Marks, Samuel Wechsler, Abraham Izenberg, Nathan Izenberg, George Hollinger, Alfred N. Miller, Paul N. Levee, William ittes, William Morris, Hershell H. Lewis, Henry E. Greenspoon, Joseph J. Cooper, Samuel Paperman, Edmund ordon, Maurice Garfinkle, Arthur Pascal, Jack Carrick, Irvin Gertsman.

New brotherhood board meeting: Special dinner meeting, La-Salle Hotel, Monday evening, June 15 at 6:30 p.m. At this time appointments of committee chairmen will be announced, and plans will be formulated for the new Temple season of activities following the summer vacation. Abraham Izenberg, president, will preside.

Memorial Tablet. The name of Frank Simon reenspoon was formally inscribed on the Temple Memorial Tablet last Sabbath as a perpetual memorialization. An offering to the synagogue in loving tribute to the departed has been by Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. reenspoon.

Religious school awards prizes and certificates

The Temple Sanctuary was crowded with parents and pupils at the closing rally of the Religious School recently.

FACTS THAT SPELL "OPPORTUNITY" FOR YOUNG MEN WITH AMBITION

1. The "Royal" is North America's fourth largest bank. More than 950 branches are in operation and new ones are being opened all the time. During the past six years we have opened more than 150 new branches, each one creating new managerial positions... and resulting promotions for young Royal Bankers.
2. "Influence" plays no part in advancement at the Royal Bank. Most senior officers from the Chairman and President on down started as juniors in small branches and advanced on merit alone.
3. Home study banking courses are available to all staff members. Successful candidates advance quickly.
4. For young men interested in gaining international banking experience, the Royal Bank has some 90 branches abroad... in New York, London, Paris, Cuba, the Caribbean area and South America.
5. We have generous pension plans that compare with the best, as well as group, health and hospital insurance, at low cost to employees.

To each at birth, a lamp is given,
To light his path through life,
Our task, is but to keep it clean,
And bright, amid earth's strife.

It is our guide, amid dark night,
It never should grow dim,
But held aloft, that all may see
God's path, that leads to Him.

Dryla-Lightfoot wedding held in the Church of the Advent

The marriage of Iris Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Frederick Lightfoot of Montreal, to Mr. Stanley T. Dryla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Dryla of Montreal, took place on Saturday, June 6 at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Advent, Canon Sydenham B. Lindsay officiating, assisted by the Rev. Alexander Mellor. Mr. Edward Brown, organist, played the wedding music with choir boys in attendance.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and carnations. The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a gown of ivory satin and alencon lace with fitted bodice ending in a chapel train. Her long veil of tulle illusion was held by a lace crown and she carried a prayer book with stephanotis and white orchid.

Miss Helen Dryla as maid of honor and Mrs. G. R. Swinden, Mrs. D. H. Martin and Mrs. A. Lightfoot as attendants wore ice blue skimmers satin frocks with fitted bodices, square necklines, bouffant skirts and hats to match. They carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. John Hodgkin acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. G. R. Swinden, Mr. D. H. Martin and Mr. A. Lightfoot.

Mrs. Lightfoot, the bride's mother, was gowned in periwinkle blue silk chiffon with a hat of white tulle and a spray of matching flowers attached to her handbag.

Mrs. Dryla, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in peacock blue peau de soie with a white tulle hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the reception held at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Dryla left for the Laurentians, the bride travelling in a biege linen suit with green accessories, wore a corsage of green orchids.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Harris of Brownsville, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. E. B. MacKenzie of St. Petersburg, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Walsh, 96 Dufferin road, Hampstead, were guests of honor at an At Home on Tuesday evening at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Allison A. M. Walsh, 28 Granville road, Hampstead, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Over one hundred guests gathered to greet the honored couple. The table was centered with a large special wedding anniversary cake set on a gold dish, with the lettering 50th raised in the centre, also a unique white china fan-shaped flower holder which contained 12 yellow roses, one in each holder. Yellow tapers completed the picturesque setting. Throughout the house, yellow chrysanthemums, roses, carnations and peonies were in profusion.

Married in Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, June 9, 1909 by the Reverend Dr. Herbert Symonds, they have one son, Allison (a lawyer); and two grandchildren, Julie and Diana. Mr. Walsh has two brothers,

A. W. Walsh of Westmount; George E. Walsh of Montreal; and one sister, Mrs. T. H. Taylor, McDonald avenue, Montreal. Retiring from the Bell Telephone Company after 47 years service, Mr. Walsh is a past president of, and is still active in, the Telephone Pioneers of America, Laurentian Council, C. F. Sise Chapter; a life member of the M.A.A.A.; and has been active on the vestry at Christ Church Cathedral for many years, where the couple still attend church.

Mrs. Walsh is a member of the Westmount Women's Club; and a past president and honorary governor of the Queen Elizabeth Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

The couple formerly lived on Victoria avenue, Westmount, and have lived in Hampstead for the past 15 years.

Mrs. Samuel Bronfman entertains at luncheon for YM-YWHA Governors

By MILLICENT HICKMORE

More than one hundred guests attended the luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, OBE, honorary president of the YM-YWHA at her home, 15 Belvedere road for the 'Y' women Governors.

Luncheon was served on the terrace, where fourteen large tables were set up overlooking the garden estate.

Mrs. Bronfman gave a short address welcoming the guests and thanking the co-chairmen of the luncheon, Mrs. Nathan Steinberg and Mrs. D. Wolff. She also thanked Mrs. Ben Nadler, chairman of the Women's Organization of the 1959 YM-YWHA Membership Campaign, designated as the "Golden Jubilee Campaign". The drive will mark fifty years of service by the Association in the Community.

"Mrs. Nathan Steinberg has enrolled 26 governors", Mrs. Bronfman remarked, "and today Wednesday" Mr. and Mrs. Steinberg's first granddaughter was born, and the grandparents immediately enrolled her as a governor of the 'Y'."

Mrs. Ben Nadler thanked Mrs. Bronfman and spoke on the work of the 'Y'. "We have," she said, "88 new governors, making a total of 400 lady governors, who serve as ambassadors for the rapidly growing Jewish Community in Montreal."

Following the luncheon Mrs.

Bronfman expressed the wish that the guests remain and tour the garden or just sit and relax.

Pollard-Kenkel

The marriage of Elizabeth Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Charles Kenkel of London, England, formerly of Hampstead, to Mr. John Kirkley-Arrowsmith Pollard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Septimus Pollard, took place May 30, in Dominion-Douglas Church, the Rev. Dr. Lloyd Smith officiating. Mr. John Robb played the wedding music and Mr. Kevin Dougherty sang during the signing of the register. Standards of white gladioli, white chrysanthemums and shasta daisies, arranged with candles in candelabra were used as decorations.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of ivory antique brocaded satin with a fitted bodice, having a square neckline, a full skirt ending in a draped cathedral train. Her fingertip-length veil of tulle illusion was held by a cap of sequins and seed pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of Calla lilies.

Miss Grace Lallemand, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Peter B.

Dennis and Mrs. George F. Bassett, as bridesmaids, were in frocks of silk organza with fitted bodices, short sleeves, and bell-shaped skirts; the maid of honor being in peacock blue and the bridesmaids in coral. They wore bandeaux of matching organza petals and carried semicascade bouquets of shasta daisies.

Mr. William T. Hall acted as best man for Mr. Pollard, and the ushers were Mr. Nicholas D. Tsadilas, Mr. Hugh P. Wallis, and Mr. George F. Bassett.

Mrs. Kenkel, the bride's mother, wore a gown of avocado green silk, with a matching hat, rose beige accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink orchids.

Mrs. Pollard, the mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in cafe-au-lait Alencon lace. She wore a matching hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of brown orchids.

The reception was held at the Queen Elizabeth Hotel, where white and yellow chrysanthemus were used to decorate.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Pollard left for Ormond Beach, Florida, the bride travelling in a French blue suit, and wearing a white straw hat, white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of lilac orchids.

Taylor-Gordon

The marriage of Maureen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gordon, and Mr. Ronald Edward Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, took place recently in Calgary United Church, the Rev. Charles R. Plaskett officiating.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white poult de soie appliqued with seed pearls and sequins, with accordion pleats flowing into a chapel train. Her elbow length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a tiny headdress of seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a white Bible from which fell feathered white carnations and red Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. K. A. MacDonald, as matron of honor, and Mrs. G. April and Mrs. R. Noel, as bridesmaids, wore similar frocks of pale green organza over taffeta, with hats to match, and they carried cascade bouquets of soft pink carnations.

Mr. Arthur Shippam acted as best man for Mr. Taylor, and the ushers were Mr. James Gordon and Mr. Jess Taylor.

Mrs. Gordon, the bride's mother, was in a gown of beige Chantilly lace over taffeta. She wore a hat of the same shade, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of brown lace over champagne colored taffeta, with a matching hat, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

The reception was held in Montreal West Town Hall, where spring flowers were used as decorations.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left for a motor trip to New England, the bride travelling in a fitted coffee brown suit and wearing beige hat and dark brown accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Salisman roses.

Quota Club International Convention takes place in Washington June 10-13

For the first time in 28 years Quota Club International Convention will be held in Washington. Celebrating its 40th anniversary at its annual Convention this event will be held at the Shoreham Hotel official headquarters, June 10-13.

Among local women attending will be Mrs. Mabel Perry of Notre Dame de Grace, Director on the International Board; Mrs. K. Brown, president of the Quota Club of Montreal; Mrs. Norah H. Holcomb, Immediate past president of Quota Club of Montreal; and Miss Marjorie Zavitsky, Quota Club of Montreal.

Congressman Chester Bowles of Connecticut, former Ambassador to India, is the featured speaker at the International Night Banquet on June 11. The subject of his address will be "America's Responsibility in World Affairs." To this banquet have been invited the Ambassadors of the three countries, outside of the United States, represented in Quota International membership—Australia, Canada, and Mexico.

President Margretta Claflin of Columbia, Ohio, has issued a call for delegates from clubs in all Quota countries, and approximately 700 are expected to attend the 4-day session. The president will preside at all business meetings and banquets.

On June 10, preceding the official opening, a fortieth birthday party will be staged at the Shoreham. The Washington Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will entertain under the direction of Gil Baylis, Master of Ceremonies.

QUOTA'S FOUNDER

The Luncheon on June 12 will be in honor of Quota's Founder, Mrs. Wanda Frey Joiner, of Los Angeles, California. A tribute to her will be given by Miss Eleanor Nicholas of Sydney, Australia, and Miss Gladys W. Jones, general secretary of Quota, will speak on her recent visit to Quota clubs "down under". Miss Frances Knight, Director of the Passport Office, Department of State, will speak at the Fellowship Luncheon on June 13 on "New Trends in Travel." Two Quota Fellowship holders will be guests: Dr. Sigrid Keller of Brazil, 1959 holder, and Mrs. Gladys Chattergoon Willey, holder in 1952, formerly of Trinidad.

Miss Betty Beale, columnist on the Washington Star, speaks at the Installation Banquet on the night of June 13 on "The Washington Whirl by a Capital Columnist." The United Nations Singers of New York, a group of thirty men and women of the UN secretariat, will present folk songs of UN countries, under the direction of Donald Read.

Reports of service work in club communities, in the realm of public affairs, and International projects will be given at business sessions each morning. The election of new officers will be held on Friday, June 12.

TOUR OF CITY

Entertainment features include a Sunset Tour of the city on June 10 and trips to Mt. Vernon

Approaching Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rappel of Hampton avenue, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary-Ainslie Helen, to Mr. Gordon Robert Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Law of Verdun. The marriage has been arranged to take place on July 25, in St. Monica's Parish.

The approaching marriage is announced of Marguerite Geraldine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Quinn, of Outremont, to Mr. John Patrick Moynagh, of Westmount, which has been arranged to take place on Saturday, at nine o'clock, in the Church of St. Raphael, The Archangel.

Mrs. James Saur named to head Alumnae Society

The annual meeting of the Alumnae Society of the High School for Girls was held in the Assembly Hall of the Montreal High School on May 9. During the past year, the Society has been busy endeavoring to keep membership up, provide funds for scholarships, bursary and emergency funds and special projects, including the annual gift to the School.

The Lilian M. Hendrie Scholarship was increased this year from $100 to $150. The second scholarship of $250 was also given. An emergency fund was set up to help girls leaving the school to further their education by means other than college. A cheque for $50 was given to the school towards a record player for the girls' recreation room.

TORONTO CONFERENCE

Caron Von Nida of GHS has been chosen one of the Canadian representatives at the International Study Group of the Junior Red Cross, to be held in Toronto this summer, and it will be the pleasure of our Association to pay her expenses to this Conference.

MEMBERSHIP

At the meeting, Dr. Ross received the cheque for $50 towards a record player for the Girls' Recreation Room. The treasurer, Mrs. Wright, presented the auditors' report. Mrs. Lydon gave a report on membership. 683 paid-up members, and two new Life Members — Mrs. James Saur and Miss Norma Hawes.

The officers for the year 1959-1960 are as follows:

Executive: president, Mrs. J. Saur; first vice-president, Mrs. H. Shalinsky; second vice-president, Mrs. N. Seath, recording secretary, Miss Carol Harvey; and points of historic interest on June 12 and 13. An early morning tour of the White House is scheduled for Saturday. These tours are under the supervision of Mrs. Claire Yarrow Oglesby, president of the Washington Quota Club. Receptions at the the Canadian Chancery and at the Indonesian Embassy are planned for Friday afternoon. Receptions will be held in the Hotel on June 10 after the Birthday Party to meet the Board of Directors, and on June 13 to meet the newly-elected officers. ## Mrs. J. W. Stockdale elected Silver Cross Mothers president

The annual meeting of the National Council, Remembrance Association, of the Silver Cross Women of Canada, was held in May at the Laurentide Inn, Ste. Agathe des Monts. The RCAF "Remembrance Association" Silver Cross Mothers of Montreal were the hostesses. There was a large attendance and very good weather. The highlights of the meeting were the Memorial Breakfast and the service at the Cenotaph at Ste. Agathe, following which the delegates were invited to a reception at the City Hall where light refreshments were served. At the closing banquet, at which Mrs. Leo Tobin of Montreal presided, the delegates were addressed by Mr. David Burgess of the Canadian Legion. The next meeting will be held in Peterborough, Ont. on May 12-15, 1960. The officers elected were: Mrs. J. W. Stockdale, president; and five vice-presidents, Mesdames Tobin, Simpson, Kelly, Murray and Fleming, Mrs. Jas. Freeman is exec. cor. secretary, and Mrs. Percy Hicks rec. sec.

their 110th annual meeting in the Masonic Hall at Richmond.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A joint divine service was held at 5:30 p.m. on Friday in Eglise Presbyterienne at Melbourne, Que., followed by a banquet and dance at The Roadside Pavillion in the evening. At noon on Saturday a memorial service was held, with the laying of a wreath, at the War Memorial in Richmond.

Reports of the LOBA showed an increase in membership and finances, and donations were voted to the Cancer Fund, Blind Institute, Orange and Protestant Children's Home, and the Orange Hall Building Fund in Westmount. The welfare report showed that in addition the lodges had in the past year contributed approximately $2,200 to various charities.

Mrs. E. Williams, grand mistress of the LOBA of British America, and Mrs. Brownell, past grand mistress of New Brunswick, motored from New Brunswick to conduct the election and installation of officers, as follows: — grand mistress Mrs. Glenna Holt; dep. grand mistress Miss Elvina Stephens; past grand mistress Miss Gertrude Hoyle; Jr. dep. mistress Mrs. Clara Atkins; chaplain Mrs. Annie Moores; dep. secy., Mrs. Inex Cooke; dep. treas., Mrs. Mary Davidson; dir. of ceremonies Mrs. Florence Bridgeman; lecturer, Mrs. Eleanor DuVall and Mrs. Katherine Ryder; dir. of juveniles Mrs. Christie Bigelow; auditors Mesdames Jenny Cove-duck, Annie Argue and Janet Govan.

TROPHIES

The "exchange" table was well patronized and Mrs. Christie Bigelow won the handmade quilt, and Mrs. Frances Burness won a large tablecloth.

Faith Lodge at Harrington, and Lily-of-the-Valley Lodge at Pottimore, won the JOL trophies for general proficiency.

West End Group of Grace Dart Hospital WA

Report of the activities of the West End Group for the second year, was made at the annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of Grace Dart Hospital held recently in the Nurses' Residence on Sherbrooke street east.

The Group comprised mostly of local residents, has remained at 14 members in order to meet in the various homes.

It was noted in the report, read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. K. Gowans, that three meetings had been held and one money raising event, A Musicale and Tea held in Dominion-Douglas United Church Hall on April 8.

Throughout the year members raised money by means of talent, such as raising and selling vegetables, hand sewn articles, baby sitting, bridges, etc.

With the funds the Group were able to purchase furnishings for a recovery room and four bedside chairs for the wards.

Presentation of the furnishings was made by Mrs. Sydney A. MacSween, chairman of the medical superintendent of the Grace Dart Hospital. In accepting the gifts, Dr. Allen made special mention of the many improvements which had taken place in the Hospital since the organization of the Women's Auxiliary and its affiliated groups. A special vote of thanks being extended to Mrs. MacSween for her participation in the formation of the auxiliary.

On this occasion, a Book Shower was held by the West End Group, when approximately 200 books, French and English, were given to the hospital for the patients.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Gordon W. Leverette, a member of the Group, gave an illustrated talk on her recent trip to Mexico. Other members attending were—Mrs. Stewart Allen, Mrs. T. J. Guilboard, Mrs. Bruce McLaren, Miss E. E. Thacker, Mrs. J. Wilfred Shaw and Mrs. H. B. Watts.

Royal visit and regatta top New Brunswick season

A two-day visit by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and her popular husband Prince Philip and a boat regatta featuring some of the best water craft along the Atlantic seaboard are among the highlights of events for every member of the family vacationing in New Brunswick, Canada, this year.

The Royal couple are scheduled to pay a full-day visit to Fredericton, the provincial capital, on July 27 where they will be tendered a public reception and attend a harness racing meet. The following day they will make public appearances in Saint John, Moncton and Shediac.

The Fredericton Boat Club is sponsoring a mammoth regatta on the St. John river July 17 to 18. Yachts and racing vessels participating in the Atlantic competition from Marble Head, Massachusetts will be included in the colorful flotilla. A full program of aquatic sports is

CPA tours offer visits to Europe

Five incomparably exciting and economical tours to Europe recently developed by Canadian Pacific Air Lines, and described in an attractive brochure, are now available to the travelling public.

The tours are as attractive as the brochure describing them. Almost every European travel package possible is covered by these five tours which range in time from 17 to 36 days. You can leave from eastern Canada — Montreal or Toronto — entering Europe through the gateways of Lisbon and Madrid, and during your chosen time in Europe, you can visit your own selections of famous capitals: London, Amsterdam, Paris, Brussels, Geneva, Cologne, Nice, Rome, Barcelona — almost any combination is possible.

TRUDEAU, MRS. G. F. CLARKE (president), MRS. J. N. HILL, MISS G. HOLLIDAY, MISS PEGGY SHERRITT and MRS. T. P. KAY.

Overseas clubbers are busy

A group of West End girls went to Ottawa, Saturday, for the annual reunion of the Overseas Club, a group held together by a common interest — the fact that they were members of the Red Cross Corps overseas during World War II.

With them they are taking along a carefully prepared map illustrating a country-wide public service project they have been operating since the club was founded.

The girls have raised money to provide movie projectors, wheel chairs, group tents, table-tennis equipment, cribs and mattresses, TV sets and other items to hospitals from one end of Canada to the other.

Designer of the map and chairman of the project this year is Miss Sherritt, who is head of the transport division at the Red Cross Blood Transfusion center at Isabella and Victoria avenues.

President of the Overseas Club this year is Mrs. George F. Clarke. Other executive members are Mrs. F. F. Rejall, Mrs. W. R. Trudeau, Mrs. J. N. Hill, Miss G. Holiday and Mrs. T. P. Kay.

Wheel chairs have been provided by the group for every province of Canada. Some of the hospitals and clinics to receive items are in out-of-the-way places, including the Magdalen Islands and Vancouver Island.

With the completion of the wheel chair project, the club has turned to providing equipment to children's hospitals in each province.

So far wheel chairs have been placed in hospitals in Charlottetown, St. Johns, Calgary, Regina, Kentville, Vancouver, Winnipeg, and Rexton, N.B., as well as one on Vancouver Island and at Grosse Isle.

Projectors have gone to St. Johns, Montreal, Vancouver, Calgary, Winnipeg, Fort William, Halifax, Regina and Charlottetown.

At the reunion this weekend in Ottawa the girls will have an opportunity to swap the latest gossip with some they haven't met since the London blitz, the mud roads of France, the wooden cobblestone street of Brussels or perhaps some other World War II battlefield.

Monday they will be back at their tasks and looking forward to another year of projects.

Trucks tangle in local lane

Two trucks got tangled up in a lane at the rear of 4010 St. Catherine street west shortly before 12 noon on Tuesday.

Romeo Guy, 55, of 1885 Theodore street, employed by W. J. Bell Inc., told police that he was backing up his truck into the lane when he struck another truck. He did not state whether or not he had seen the second vehicle.

Driver of the other truck, Rene Bachand, 37, of Brosseau Station, an employee of General Automobile Equipment, stated that he was stopped in the lane when the first van struck.

Dupuis, Barnard star in Pepsi's 9th win

A homer by Dave Barnard in the bottom of the ninth inning, with two on base, gave Pepsi Cola a come from behind 11-8 victory, their ninth in 11 starts, over Pinky Stamps at Willibrord Park Tuesday night.

For Stamps, it was their seventh loss. Winning pitcher Gil Dupuis, who is setting the league on fire, played a relief role for Ross Graham in the seventh in-front of the pack and following Sunday's 6-1 win over the Royal Canadian Mounted Police the league leaders appear to be well on their way to pennant honors.

Pinky upset Dow Brewers 2-0 Sunday night at Trenholme Park.

Despite the threat of rain, a better than usual crowd saw Pepsi hand RCMP hurler Dave Pearce his fifth loss, while Gil ning to pull the game out of the fire. It was Dupuis' seventh win and he is having the best season ever in Snowdon and Verdun ball circles.

Besides hitless ball for two and two-third innings, Dupuis hit a homer for two runs to pull Pepsi within one run in the seventh. Pinky were leading 8-7.

In the big ninth, Dupuis again played hero scoring the tying run before Barnard's three run homer for the 11-8 victory.

Second place is Dow with a five-five record. Third goes to RCMP with 3-7-1. Pinky is in the cellar. RCMP tied Pepsi 1-1 week ago Thursday. The game goes into the books as one point.

Leon Blackman playing his second game for Pinky continued his hot hitting with three for five, including two doubles. The feature of Pinky's seven run rally in the second inning was a three run homer by Maurice Racette.

Pinky started a rookie intermediate twirler, Bruce Westwood, who pitched three innings of hitless ball. Walter Teichgraber was the losing moundsman.

Pinky has acquired Willie Graham for the rest of the season from Pepsi, according to the manager Ernie Rochon. The deal was made by Rochon and Pepsi's manager Bill Bourne.

Pepsi has moved well out in Dupuis chalked up his sixth win against one defeat.

Dupuis got things rolling in Pepsi's triumph as he started off the game by striking out the first three batters.

In all, the stocky righthander whiffed nine batters and walked two, while allowing six hits.

Meanwhile, Pepsi centrefielder Dave Barnard was having a wild time at the plate.

Barnard walloped out four hits in four tries, including a homer. He walked once and finished off his "field day" by scoring three of the Pepsi's half dozen runs.

Although Pinky are looking for another pitcher, it's becoming apparent that Wally Teichgraber can do the job when called upon. Wally fired a four-hitter as did loser Gilles Legare. It was Teichgraber's third win against two losses and Legare has a 2-2 record.

Pepsi players head parade

Official batting averages for the Snowdon Fastball League show Pepsi's Pete McManaman pacing the hitters with a healthy .461 mark.

Teammate Dave Barnard is second with a .414 average while Pinky's Maurice Racette is belting the ball at an even .400 clip.

McManaman and Barnard also lead the pack in the RBI department with ten and eight runs knocked in respectively.

Barnard, Racette and Dow's Jacques Belanger have each smacked three doubles while Connie Broden of Pepsi has clouted two home runs.

Stan Diamond has pilfered three bases for Dow to lead in the stolen base division.

Wanderers crew have six straight ball victories

Action in the 1959 Municipal Senior Softball League is well underway with the standing showing the hustling Wanderers unbeaten in six starts, Billy McEwen and Paul Hamilton share pitching duties.

The main reason for their success to date could be put down to their never-say-spirit.

Last year's champs, the Bombers, handled with but two wins in six outings.

Grant, Wayne Hibberd and The Higgins Boy are the mainstays of this club.

Stars boast Bob Lunny as their leading light who has credit for their three wins in five starts.

Lunny's squad has the best conditioned outfield in the League, when his left and centre fielders learn to play the rebounds off the school, they will cut down on the earned runs.

Sun Lifers, with Snowdon leaguer Dave Barnard in the line up, are tied for second place with 6 points. Cardinals are tied for third place with the Bombers, but have a game in hand, while the Kings are winless in 5 starts.

The league has lost five of its scheduled 21 starts to the weatherman.

Games scheduled for June 21 will be played at the end of the schedule due to the use of the diamond for celebrations in connection with the Royal Visit.

Rained-out games will also be made up at the end of the schedule.

Large field for track meet

The Provincial Track and Field championships will be held at Verdun June 19-20 sponsored by the Olympic Club.

These events will also serve as basis for selection of a Quebec team to be entered in the Canadian Pan - American Games Trials, when the Dominion's representatives for the Chicago invasion in late August, will be chosen.

Several city clubs have filed entries in the men's and women's events at the Provincial meet along with Valleyfield, Shawinigan Falls and the Eastern Townships athletes.

Unity Indians win LL contest

Carlos Gagne won his first Little League game of the season Monday when the Unity Indians defeated White Sox 8-3. This put the Indians in first place in the American "B" League with half a game up on the Red Sox.

Indians increased this lead to one and a half games by beating the second place Red Sox 8-6. Little Richard Holden won his third straight game and Bob Angelini lost his first in three.

Red Sox tagged Holden for four homers but it wasn't good enough for a lead as the Indians bunched their singles to score eight runs.

Unity midget baseball team lost their opening game of the season to the N.D. Giants of Verdun 5-2. Although, John O'Driscoll had five runs scored against him, he did not permit a single hit during the game. He lost his control during the fourth inning and walked four batters and permitted one run.

In the third inning, Unity scored on successive singles by Bob Brisson, Wayne Dallas, a double steal, and a single by Fred Powers which accounted for two runs.

In the sixth and final inning, Giants scored four runs, all unearned. On two errors by second baseman Johnny Moore who had previously taken away sure singles from the Giants with men on third base, and by John O'Driscoll who overthrew first base, Bobby Brisson had two hits and Wayne Dallas and Fred Powers one each.

Egan Chambers questions CBC in Big Four telecasts

The CBC hopes to televise 21 of the 28 football games in the Big Four League this fall. CBC Vice-President E. L. Bushnell announced.

But he was non-committal, in the Commons Broadcasting Committee, to an MP's suggestion that if the CBC had waited it might have got broadcast rights for the games for less than the reported $312,000.

Egan Chambers (PC-Montreal St. Lawrence - St. George) said the Big Four had asked $350,000 for the rights and got $312,000.

"Perhaps a month or two from now they might have been happy to take $220,000."

Mr. Bushnell replied: "maybe you're right. We'll never know."

Mr. Bushnell did not confirm the $312,000 figures — he said that both the CBC and the Big Four had agreed not to make it public.

He said the CBC is paying $125,000 for rights to telecast the Grey Cup game and $117,000 for rights to games in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Mr. Chambers said this comes to more than $500,000. With television costs, the total paid to broadcast football could be around $1,000,000.

He asked whether the CBC wasn't competing with its own sponsors in buying the Big Four rights.

Mr. Bushnell said this wasn't so. The Big Four had very few offers from sponsors for rights to the games this year and none of the offers was satisfactory.

Ball leagues close off schedule play

The Red Wings and Sugar Kings will close off the mosquito schedule of the Westmount Municipal Recreation Department ball league. The teams clash today at Westmount park.

FROSTED DECANTER

EVER been on a flying fishing trip? sure you pack a supply of these lures.

Let me take you on one as told to me by Bob Lacourse, Louis Delisle and Paul Bruneau, who have just returned after five days in the Northland, two of which were extra due to the fact they were grounded by bad weather, which of course, the trio didn't mind. They brought back a limited catch of Reds, ranging from 1½ to 3 lbs.

Leaving Friday morning at 4 o'clock they drove as far as Mont Laurier where they were met by the "Flying Bushman" Zenon Mianson and his flying machine called the "Big Bird". Supplies were loaded along with all the necessary fishing and camping equipment and they were off to that wonderful place called the "Wild Country" to fish and be alone with nature. The site they made their camp on was so close Incidentally, flying time from Mont Laurier into this sportsman's paradise is roughly an hour and a half, and the view from the air of this area is worth the trip alone. All the lakes and rivers seem to stem to and from the Gatineau River and every minute of flying time is a scenic wonder.

If you're a Pike fisherman you'll be very interested to know that at Kiamika pike are in abundance. Paul Habscher's catch is proof of this, his pet lure is the Voblex, and he uses them by the dozen. Paul is a good friend of mine and very shortly I will introduce him to some trout fishing, then good-bye pike.

to nature they had only the stars, sky and various forms of wild life for company, such as moose, deer and bear, and not another living soul till the plane came back to pick them up. Their day comprised of getting up at four in the morning, eating a breakfast that most of us would consider dinner: a thick steak, three eggs, toast with honey and coffee. This carried them through the day, for fishing took over and eats were forgotten until three or four in the afternoon, when they called it a day and returned to camp. Another enormous meal was consumed and by eight they were bedded down for the night too weary and tired to realize that back home this was the hour they started their day over with various chores around the house, etc.

The lures they used mainly were the Toronto Wobbler and Gresvig Alligator, so if you are headed up to the wilds make

Westies score 14-3 rugger win

The local rugger Spring season came to an end on Saturday as Westmount, the current provincial champions, defeated Ed Kelleher's All-Stars 14-3 at Northmount High School on Saturday.

Playing against driving rain and wind in the first half, the Westies held their powerful opposition to a 3-3 deadlock at the half as the sides traded TDs. The Stars opened the scoring with a try by Tony Hedge, shortly before the interval Westmount swept up the field for Roy Hamilton to go over in the corner.

In the second stanza the Westies, serving advance notice that they will once again be a threat for honors in the Fall, took complete control of the game as their back row of Mike Ellis, Wilf Harrison and John Goldsmith played stand-out games. Ellis scored the first TD of the second stanza which Don Gladwin converted to make the tally 8-3. Wilf Harrison then added two further scores to round out the count at 14-3.

Coaches' grid clinics set for Saturday and Sunday

Some 100 coaches have signified their intention of joining in the two-day clinic being prepared by the Montreal Alouettes in cooperation with the Quebec Rugby Football Union.

The clinic is being held June 13 and 14. It is open to high school and minor league coaches throughout the province and the Maritimes.

"It's a welcome sign," said Alouettes president Ted Workman yesterday. "Last year, we reached a high of 114 for one night, but a large number of those in attendance were youngsters permitted to join in the affair. This year, the invitation list was screened closely. We expect a large, mature group."

A highlight of the clinic, which is being held at the Centre Notre Dame, 3791 Queen Mary Road, will be the appearance of Weeb Ewbank, coach of the championship National Football League Baltimore Colts.

All of the Alouettes coaches headed by Doug Walker, will speak at the clinic.

Ewbank is to speak twice on the second day of the clinic. His first lecture will deal with the types of pass protection used by the Colts.

He also plans to deal with the basic offensive plan of his champion team.

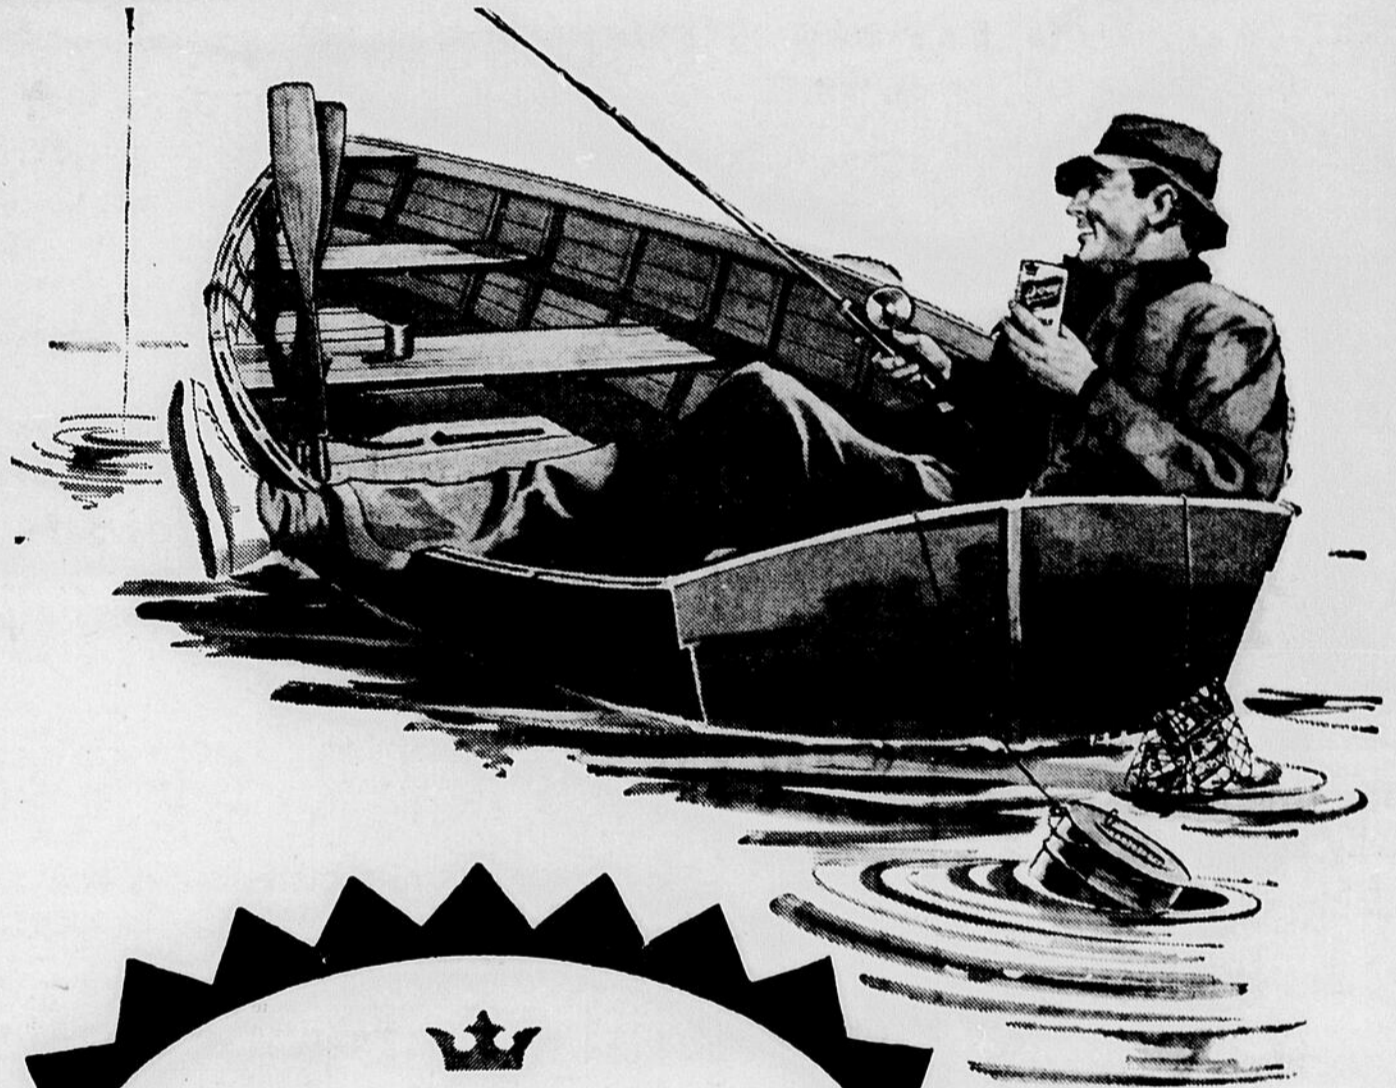

Walker has been in the city for the last few days preparing his presentation.

He will talk on organizing pass offense on the opening day of the clinic. The following day he will discuss offensive formations used in the Big Four.

He also will be chairman of a question-and-answer panel.
