MRT To Open Season Here

The Montreal Repertory Theatre returns to the Victoria Hall stage Oct. 14, after an absence of ten years.

The English Comedy hit, "Traveler's Joy" will open on the Westmount stage for a two day stand then moving to West Hill High School for an additional two days.

Reasons for this major deviation from practise are, (1) to replace the old M.R.T. stage, which was destroyed by a disastrous fire on March 4, this year and (2) to bring M.R.T. talent to a greater area of theatre-goers. Even before the fire occurred, directors of the organization had discussed a return to Victorial Hall as part of a touring program.

Associate membership of the group has been applied for by many Westmounters after the announcement of the Victoria Hall performance was made. The membership entitles the holder to two reserved seats to each of M.R.T.'s five major productions and first choice of seats at reduced rates.

The Westmount Park putting tournaments held their most successful season this year, Rocky Rothwell, Recreation Supervisor announced.

There were twenty-two regular tournaments throughout the season, and winners in both ladies' and men's competitions received engraved teaspoons from the City of Westmount Recreation Department.

The most consistent winners and players with best yearly averages were:—Mrs. R. Kent, Harry Smith, and Murray Starke.

The weather this year Rothwell said has been good enough to continue putting after the last official tournament. Bob Kent and Mr. Regan have donated two golf balls each as prizes for extra tournaments. These tournaments have been run off and a third one will take place tonight for the same prizes.

The Putters banded together and presented George Cairns with a token of thanks for the good work he has done this year in organizing all the tournaments. The Recreation Supervisor also extended a vote of thanks to George for his complete co-operation during the season.

Complete records have been kept of all tournaments, and next year will open with handicaps predetermined.

Unsolved Murder Still Westm't Police Mystery

By A. M. Sandzelius
 Some years ago, a woman was found murdered on Prospect avenue, apparently by a killer wielding an axe. When police came to arrest a suspect, they found he had left town. A few years later, however, this same man was found murdered on a deserted road just outside the city. The cause of his death was ascertained as blows from an axe by a person or persons unknown.

This was revealed to the Examiner during research work in connection with this paper's series on the history of Westmount.

Hidden Tower

Equally as mysterious, though not as grisly, is the tale of the "hidden tower." This tower, when first rediscovered in 1929, gave no clue as to when, by whom, or why it had been constructed. To this day, no one has yet uncovered these facts.

The tower is situated just under the centre of Atwater Avenue, immediately below the C.P.R. railway bridge. Any reader with information regarding this tower is asked to call the Examiner.

Days of The Toll

Apparently, in days gone by, a toll was charged for any vehicle wishing to travel further west than the corner of Elm Avenue and Sherbrooke street. This was done despite the fact that to go further west meant going nowhere, except out-of-town.

A well, originally built by one of Westmount's first families, the Raynes, can still be found in the basement of a residence at 4351 Westmount Avenue. It has been said that at times when the water fails, this well can still be drawn upon to provide fresh water.

Old City Hall

Westmount's original City Hall has probably been visited many times in the past fifty years by customers interested in the purchase of jewelry. This building is now known as Ohman's jewelers on Greene Avenue.

The City Hall in those days served an almost six-fold purpose in that not only was it the city hall but also the police and Fire departments, road department, Health dept., etc. It was only recently, in 1947, that the Police and Fire forces were made separate units.

Trafalgar Monument

In an interview with Police Lt. F. G. Porter, it was learned that in 1805, a monument to the Battle of Trafalgar was begun on a piece of land situated at the bottom of Malcom Road just of Trafalgar Ave. The unfinished ruins may still be seen at that spot.

Craft Classes Now In Operations At Unity Boys

To-date three craft classes are functioning at the Unity Boys club. The leatherwork class, under Frank Paradise, meets every Tuesday night. Mr. Stikeman's leatherwork and woodwork group meets every Wednesday night and Louis Thomas' Indian Lore and Fretwork classes meet every Wednesday evening and Saturday morning.

Convention Chairman Howard Atwood Hopes To Get Mayor Charlotte Whitton As Speaker

Talking the bustling outspoken Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Mayor of Ottawa, into being one of the guest speakers at the 88th annual convention of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers, scheduled in Montreal Oct. 9 and 10, is but one of the many problems facing this year's chairman, Howard Atwood, 3440 Hingston avenue.

Mr. Atwood, who teaches at Westmount Junior High School, said that his committee is working hard to get Mayor Whitton to speak at the convention.

He is presently drawing up the program for close to 3,000 Quebec educators from parts of the province as remote as the Gaspé Peninsula and the mining town of Noranda, who will converge on Montreal for the convention.

To Speak Oct. 10

It is expected that Mayor Whitton will speak Friday, Oct. 10, with another noteworthy speaker Dr. S. R. Laycock, Dean of the Department of Education, University of Saskatchewan, scheduled to address the gathering Oct. 9. As in past years the sessions will be held in the High School of Montreal.

Professor Theodore Anderson of Yale University will address teachers on "the trend towards French in the American Elementary School." The audio-visual section will hear a talk on British experience with television from a representative of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

"The convention will provide its delegates with a holiday-type atmosphere, but the teachers' annual get-together is of a completely serious nature," Mr. Atwood said.

30 Meeting Scheduled

In addition to hearing keynote addresses Thursday and Friday mornings, close to 30 sectional meetings are scheduled.

Specialized problems are discussed at these meetings and teachers are given an opportunity to learn new teaching methods employed in the United States and Canada. They will also have a chance to evaluate their own techniques by comparing them with those who are attempting to teach the same subject matter in schools scattered throughout Quebec. A slate of officers for the 1952-53 season will also be elected.

As a conclusion to the convention the Annual Award of Merit dinner will be held in Victoria Hall, Westmount, October 9, when a select group of teachers will be honored for long and distinguished service. Dr. L. P. Patterson, retiring president of the P.A.P.T. and principal for the School for Crippled Children, will present the annual report.

Scouting Around

with REG. GROOME

The annual provincial Scouters' Conference is just around the corner now . . . October 11, 12, and 13 to be exact. That's Thanksgiving weekend, the time of the year when North Hatley, deep in the heart of the eastern townships, is at its most beautiful peak. The trees and mountains are a glory to behold, and no better time could be chosen to hold such a get-together. We sincerely hope to have the opportunity of renewing old acquaintanceships and making new friends at this conference. How about it, Scouters? Will we be seeing you there?

St. Malachy's Cub pack has received so many applications that three packs have now been formed. The newly elected group committee includes the following: G. F. Keith, F. De S. Robert, M. Laliberte, E. Brooks, E. Cannon and associate members J. Fitzgerald, E. M. Lamarche, E. Higgins, K. McNamara, W. Patterson, O. S. Sands, S. Skahan and G. Tynan. Tom and Bill Glatzmayer and Bill Shannon are once again the scout leaders, with the cubmasters being D. M. Cook and Misses Pat Cousineau and Denise Aumais. Taking advantage of good weather last Saturday, the three packs went up to Mount Royal and held their meetings near Beaver Lake.

Badges won at camp were presented, as follows: Homecraft, David Keith; Teamplayer, Marc Bruneau, David Sands, Brian Buckley and Alex McNamee; Athlete, Eric Brooks, Brian Wadey; Swimmer, Marc Bruneau, David Sands, Brian Buckley, Alex McNamee, Eric Brooks, Brian Wadey, Brian Finnegan, John Lue, David Keith, Alfred Fitzgerald and Mike Kane. Second stars went to Brian Skahan, John Lue, David Keith.

Following the meetings, races were held, for different age groups. Winners were: 8 years, Raymond Thomas; 9 years, Peter McNamara; 10 years, Gary Wheeler. Teams representing their packs in a relay race, won by the Gold Pack, were: Gold: Brian Skahan, John Lue, David Keith and Michael Whalen; Green: Walter Cannon, Arthur Cannon, Brian Finnegan and Frank Robert; Brown: Neil Laliberte, Brian Egli, Eric Brooks and Brian Buckley.

Iona Scouts

Iona Troop has resumed meetings in Iona School every Thursday evening, and there are still openings for six more boys. The Scouters will be glad to welcome any lads near 12 years or older any Thursday night.

Trinity Memorial

In Trinity's Troop, Arthur Armstrong is now patrol leader of the Fox Patrol, and three new acting P.L.'s have been appointed — Richard Powell (Muskkrat), Richard Howard (Otter) and David Dow (Bear). Second David Shaw is presently in charge of the Wolf Patrol. During the three meetings so far this season, the Fox Patrol won the honor pennant twice and the Otters once. Last Friday's meeting ended with a council fire and two enjoyable skits by the Fox and Bear Patrols.

Tuesday, the Wolf Patrol spent an evening at Western HQ rifle ranges, directed by J. Florence. Each Patrol is included in plans to visit the range, with the formation of a troop rifle team in mind. Floor hockey sessions after meetings have been discontinued in favor of badge instruction, with the current courses in Ropespinner and Knotter.

Richard Howard, David Dow, Ronald Holding, Eddie Neal and Kendrick Bateman, together with assistant scoutmaster J. C. Warrington, spent last weekend camping and hiking at Rawdon, on a similar outing to that enjoyed by 5 other Trinity scouts the previous week at Lennoxville. It is hoped each and every member of the Troop will be able to get out for one of these weekends before the snow flies.

A well attended meeting was held last week by Trinity Pack, with two new chums welcomed . . . Allan Kilpatrick and Gary Hamelin. Games, general review of the union flag and a marching session followed, the latter to smarten the boys up for the church parade on Sunday. Michael Warrington, Herbert Doyle, and Jack Witcher will compose the color party. Blue six won the competition. (This six will be duty six next Monday, expected to arrive earlier).

Trinity Cubs and Scouts are to meet for the church parade in Minto Park, behind the AOA building on Sherbrooke street at 1:30 p.m. sharp. Uniform should be worn.

L. D. Richardson To Be Chairman Of Conference

The third conference of the Packaging Association of Canada will be held in the Mount Royal Hotel next Thursday, Oct. 2, beginning with a luncheon at 12.30 p.m. Chairman of the conference will be Lyle D. Richardson, of N.D.G., general manager of Shipping Containers Limited.

Main speaker will be Charles J. Zusi, executive vice-president of Container Laboratories of Chicago. The title of his address will be "Technical Advances in Packaging." Mr. Zusi intends to illustrate the impact of engineering and scientific ideas and methods in the packaging and shipping field.

During the program there will be a full color sound film called "Rainbows to Order" — the story of color development in packaging. The technical forum will be conducted by George W. Langston of Crane Ltd., and will include Roger Larose, Ciba Co. A. W. Clark, director of merchandising, Johnson and Johnson; William Sherman of Steinberg's; W. F. Barrington, of Somerville's Ltd., London, Ont.; and J. G. MacKinnon, Standard Paper Box.

Motorists Only Allowed To Park On One Side Of Street

Westmount is preparing to wage a winter war on traffic congestion. Motorists will only be allowed to park on one side of most streets from December to March — a four month period. Westmount householders have been receiving notices of the new restrictions from City Hall. A quota of notices will be mailed each day until all residents have been notified. City General Manager T. J. Hughes admits in the notice that the restrictions appear "drastic" at first glance but he has an explanation.

They are intended for the "greatest good for the greatest number."

"If cars cannot reach their destination because of inadequately plowed streets, the privilege of parking is of little use," he declares.

"If people are to use their motor vehicles to get to and from residences or businesses, without spending hours bogged down in snow or waiting for the traffic ahead to clear, new regulations designed to alleviate winter conditions are vital."

Hope for Improvement

Mr. Hughes says statistics show a tremendous increase in winter use of autos. This winter Westmount program of snow removal will be geared to parking restrictions.

"We hope that even in the most severe snow storm at least one side of every street can always be kept plowed and free of parked or stalled vehicles," he said.

He says that the restrictions are the result of careful study of winter conditions in relationship to snow removal.

The restrictions apply only to streets that have no parking regulations. On Greene and Victoria avenues there will be no parking on the east side from St. Catherine to Sherbrooke street between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. and likewise between Sherbrooke Street and N.D.G. avenue.

The bylaw will apply only between 7 p.m. and 10 a.m. to stretches of Atwater, Claremont, Greene and Victoria avenues, mostly in the commercial areas, and to The Boulevard from Cedar avenue to the eastern limits of the city.

Mr. Hughes said that if there was an early spring break-up the restrictions would be lifted before the specified time.

"I put away my hard-earned money"

This young bank depositor recently wrote to his bank manager:

"I made a goal of $1,000 for this year. It is two years since I opened the account with two dollars. I owe thanks to you that I put away my hard-earned money where it will benefit me... I do not wish to touch it for the time being."

Building up a bank account means work and sacrifice. But Canadians know the value of having savings handy in time of opportunity or need: they maintain 7½ million savings accounts in the chartered banks—almost twice as many as ten years ago. At the same time bank staffs have almost doubled. That, and higher wages, have increased bank payrolls almost three times.

More people use the banks, more people work for the banks than ever before.

Yellowknife Featured In Cameo Short

The booming, frontier town of Yellowknife in the Northwest Territories is featured in Associated Screen Studios' latest Canadian Cameo theatrical short subject release.

Entitled Push Back the Edge, this new short depicts how the lure of gold has virtually pushed back the edge of Canada's last frontier to the fringe of the Arctic Circle.

Many little know oddities of Yellowknife are highlighted on the screen. Among these are Buryin' Smith, owner of a combined hearse and bus. His rates are fifty cents per passenger, vertical — and two hundred dollars per head for those in a horizontal position. Then there is the Yellowknife Blade, a mimeographed newssheet, whose proud boast is that it is the only newspaper in a million square miles. The citizenry of Yellowknife are seen as being truly tax-illated, for there are more taxis in this sub-Arctic operating area of seven miles than there are per capita in the traffic-jammed streets of Manhattan. The sour-dough is revealed as having gone entirely modern, for he is now flown in to the scene of his prospecting by airplane, and his supplies as well.

Directed by Gordon Sparling, Push Back the Edge was shot in full colour by cameraman Jack Hynes. The background score for this picture was composed and directed by Lucio Agostini, noted Canadian artist.

Direct From Hollywood By JACK HIRSHBERG Plaudits to Stanley Kramer From Columnist Hirshberg

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25 — Producer Stanley Kramer fairly dominates the news this week. Hollywood is still talking of Mary Pickford's withdrawal from her starring role in "Circle of Fire", Kramer's picture which was to have been her cinematic comeback after many years of retirement.

"Circle of Fire" was supposedly a project very close to Mary's heart. While the script is still secret, its theme touched upon a matter of tremendous current importance: Whether believers in democracy should resort to Communist smear tactics in fighting Communism.

The film takes the view that such a lapse in democratic principle and thinking can only indicate a weakness in democracy.

"In other words," Kramer told me, "we still believe in the Bill of Rights."

Strangely enough, in the United States today such a statement of faith in the very foundation of freedom sometimes leads to charges of weakness or outright Communism, itself. The filming of a picture on such a theme demands both the acme of intelligence and a tremendous degree of courage.

Miss Pickford still says she wants to do the movie but declares she won't make it unless it is in color. Kramer postponed his shooting date once in order to secure a commitment from the Technicolor company, but color equipment and facilities are strictly limited and he was unable to get such a commitment even after having marked time several months. With considerable money already invested in cast, studio rental and technical facilities, Kramer could afford no further delay.

Miss Pickford reported for rehearsal the first day or so but thereafter failed to appear. She states her reason for bowing out is her feeling that any movie which brings her back to the screen after so protracted an absence should be in color.

Much more probable, however, is Miss Pickford's sudden development of rigid tootsies, otherwise known as cold feet. She never has been successful as a talking picture actress. But insiders feel she has made a great mistake, for "Circle of Fire" appears to be that rare scenario which could bring her back in a blaze of histrionic glory and boxoffice excitement.

Kramer is going ahead with plans to produce the movie anyhow and will soon announce a replacement for Miss Pickford.

By virtue of his forthcoming release, "The Fourposter," this astute young producer continues to monopolize the teletypes. While sweeping statements are not up my alley, this is certainly one of the most adult, completely captivating and unforgettable movies I have ever seen. Here is the American "art" picture, Hollywood's answer to those tilt-nosed critics who claim the only sophisticated celluloid comes from overseas.

"The Fourposter" is based on the Broadway hit of the same name, which, in turn, was inspired by Jan de Hartog's Dutch original. It spans a lifetime, from wedding night to death, of Rex Harrison, a poet whose poetry simply does not sell, and his wife, Lili Palmer.

There are no other characters seen or heard in the film, though delightfully cartooned interscene sequences link the episodes in subtle clarity. The entire action takes place in the couple's New York bedroom, with much of it centered in or around the antique four-poster bed. Here we see the fun, ambitions, disappointments, high romance, troubled relations, grief and the ecstasy of a woman who married her husband because he was a charming rogue, because she loved him, physically — but most of all because he was her friend.

Lili Palmer will definitely enter Academy Award contention with her portrayal of the young woman who was launched into motherhood so soon after marriage that she had no chance to think of herself, the wife so devoted to the development of her husband's literary talents that she had no time to develop any interests of her own. Writer Alan Scott, aided by de Hartog's drama, treats the theme with the warmest understanding. There is never a moment of caricature or cliché. And the dialogue is brilliant.

Driving home from the preview at Columbia Studio my wife turned to me and said:

"I wonder how many couples, exhausted by everyday living and irked at each other, will see this movie and then go home and renew their tenderness toward one another."

"The Four Poster" is that sort of cinema. I am doing you a favor by toting you on to this film. Look for it.

EASY CAKE FILLING

A quick and easy cake filling, enough for two 9-inch layers, can be made in a short time. Toast 1 cup of chopped pecan meats in ¼ cup of butter, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add ¼ cup cream. Mix well and add 3 cups confectioners sugar, mixing until smooth. Add ¼ teaspoon salt and one teaspoon vanilla. Spread over cake (it's especially delicious on devil's food), and tasters will keep on eating!

TV Comes To Montreal

But Most Viewers Would Like To See It Privately Operated

Regular television programming, over BFT, has come to Montreal.

It is interesting in this respect to note that, in the words of the CBC chairman, negotiations to obtain some of the programs the United States television networks have broken down. The reason, he said, was that agreement could be reached on the division of advertising revenue from programs.

But even the CBC can't seem to agree on any American programs may not come here. local TV spokesman, presumably affiliated with the CBC since that body has set up an airtight television monopoly in Canada, says that U.S. telecasts won't be seen here until the American sponsors decide to put them in the Quebec market.

Of course, there is another angle here which shows the manner in which the CBC conducts its business. The CBC took over television in Canada, because it said that private stations were allowed to operate, they would bring in TV from the United States, which would be a bad influence. So now, only a few months later, the CBC is making excuses for not giving Canadians the "undesirable" U.S. television shows.

The CBC has a long history of deals like this, dating back to the post-Second World War days when it successfully undercut private radio stations to obtain U.S. network radio shows, and passed the decree that no private radio station might form its own network of stations.

But getting back to the CBC and American television, the entire situation seems silly. The Americans have been in this television business for a considerable while longer than we have and likely know a great deal more about it than we do.

The question seems to be just how far the CBC's television can go without American programs. Performers have been rehearsing since February for TV debuts here, and the best technicians available have been secured.

But if CBC radio is any criterion to be followed, the programs for the first two weeks are going to be very good—but, what then? CBC radio has never shown the consistency for high grade entertainment of most of the U.S. radio networks, and there is no encouragement to believe that CBC television will prove at all different.

CBC radio has produced some fine programs it is true, programs as good as any produced anywhere. But there is no consistency of quality—and with promise that its television is going to be even as good.

The people of Canada have been waiting for television for a long time. They are going to be wiser about it at first. But when the novelty wears off, and it will, the only way to keep people watching TV is by consistently good programs. Let's hope the CBC has realized this.

St. James United

A rally of the membership of St. James United Church for Sunday morning, Sept. 28, at 11 a.m. will mark the beginning of the autumn festivities.

Thirty-six new members, eight of whom are coming on Provisions of Faith; the rest by letters of Transfer, will make their vows of allegiance and loyalty to Christ at the morning service, following which the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered by the Rev. B. B. Brown, interim minister, assisted by the assistant preacher, Dr. G. B. Caird. A supplementary Communion will be administered at the close of the evening service when Mr. Brown will be assisted by Dean J. Thomson.

The choir of St. James United Church has always been an attractive feature of public worship. Under the leadership of Arnold Bellis, the new organist, they are bringing greater efficiency. Mr. Bellis is preparing the choir for special autumn and winter choral work. The choir will welcome anyone who has choir experience and would like to assist.

Christian Science

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson sermon to be read in churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Sept. 28.

This Lesson-Sermon brings out God's creation, which constitutes reality, is spiritual, harmonious, eternal; whereas the apparent universe of matter, including all discord and decay, grows out of the mistaken belief that the dust of the ground... became living soul.

Bible citations include the following: "He hath made the earth by his power, he hath made established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding." (Jer. 51:15).

Correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The three great verities of Spirit, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience, - - - Spirit possessing all power, filling all space, constituting all Science, - - - contradict forever the belief that matter can be actual. These eternal verities reveal prim-

Boys And Girls Help Build Nature Centre

The West Rock Nature Center, in New Haven, Conn., is in every sense an "of, for, and by-the-children" project. Its forty-acre park was built by hundreds of boys and girls who contributed over 40,000 "child-hours" of volunteer work during the past five years. Already in use are a native-wild-animal zoo, a museum, nature trails, camping and picnic facilities, a wading pool, and a ski trail. Good Housekeeping magazine reports that the park has 30,000 visitors every year.

Regular examination of the eyes by an eye specialist will ensure that weakness of sight or any eye disease can be treated before it becomes serious.

V.O.N. Is One of Most Valued Services of Red Feather Agency

One of the most familiar of Montreal's Red Feather services is the Victorian Order of Nurses, which recently issued a statement explaining the function of the agency, and what it is equipped to do for people who need its services.

The V.O.N. particularly wants the public to realize that all nurses on the staff of the Order are graduate registered nurses, and most of them also have taken special training in public health nursing at a university. All nursing visits provide opportunities for the families to seek help and discuss in strict confidence whatever concerns the patient.

Victorian Order services, considered the highest possible, standard of nursing care, is available to everybody, whatever their financial position. The fee for a nurse's visit is the actual cost of sending a nurse into the home. These costs are computed annually, and the fee charged is adjusted to suit individual circumstances. Care is never refused because of inability to pay. Those who are able to do so pay the full cost. Others pay what they can, and in many instances no charge is made.

With the cost of hospital care rising, many people are finding that with the help of the V.O.N., patients can be cared for as satisfactorily at home as in hospital and in many cases the patient is much happier in familiar surroundings with his family nearby. In other instances, the number of days in hospital can be shortened, and the convalescent patient cared for at home, thus greatly reducing the expense of recovery, the V.O.N. report says.

The Victorian Order of Nurses is one of Montreal's Red Feather services, supported out of funds contributed every year in the annual Red Feather Campaign. This year, the campaign objective is $1,450,000, and the drive begins officially on September 29, under the general chairmanship of T. H. Atkinson, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada.

For Luncheon Or Lunch Boxes, Crispies Are New Flavor Treat

Crispies are as simple as ABC to make, and the uses of these delectable morsels are many. They fit in practically everywhere the clock around. All crispies are made from a basic foundation — flaky piecrust mixed with cold fruit juice instead of water. Wide range of flavor is possible by the use of fresh or dried fruits, while diversity of shape is practically endless with the use of different cutters.

Crispies can be cut with an ordinary sharp knife into squares, oblongs, and diamonds.

These delicate bits are delicious to serve with hot or cold beverages, with cheese instead of crackers after dinner and with ice cream. They're fine for the school lunch box, too.

Spread them on a platter so as not to overlap, cover with wax paper and set in a cool place until ready to bake.

Foundation Pastry

- 2 cups sifted pastry flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 4 tablespoons fruit juice — very cold.

Work the shortening into the sifted flour and salt, adding the fruit juice a little at a time. When thoroughly mixed, roll out on a lightly floured board to 1/4 inch thickness and cut in desired shapes. Use fruit juices alone for thinning the dough and have them icy cold; the colder the liquid and the firmer the shortening, the crisper the crispies will be.

Chocolate Crispies

- 1 cup powdered sugar
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa

Cream the butter and sugar and work in the cocoa. Spread on the uncooked dough. This may prove a bit difficult, but as soon as it goes into the oven, it will melt.

Orange Crispies

- Chopped pulp of two oranges
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- Grated orange rind
- Combine the orange pulp, free from all membrane, with sugar and cinnamon. Spread this mixture on the crispies, then sprinkle with a little extra sugar and cinnamon and the grated orange rind. Bake in a hot (400 degree F.) oven and serve cold. Pastry should be mixed with orange juice.

Prune Crispies

- 1 cup cooked prunes, free of skins and stones.
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine these ingredients and allow to simmer for about 10 minutes. Cool and spread on the uncooked crispies; cut in oblong strips. Use prune juice for moistening the pastry. Half of a blanched almond may be pressed into the top of each crispie before baking.

Make it Yourself by Pauline Roy

If you would like to have a leaflet which contains directions for the appliqué, as well as a pattern for the beanie, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Make-It-Yourself Department of this paper requesting WESKIT AND BEANIE, Leaflet No. E-2511.

A piece of material cut in the shape of a design or a band and sewed to a contrasting material is called appliqué. It may be of any fabric — cotton, felt, rayon, lace, velvet or even leather. Appliqués can be used effectively as trimming on blouses, dresses, aprons, hats, sweaters, belts, bags or children's clothes. Home furnishings, such as luncheon cloths, curtains, and bedspreads, may also use this type of trimming.

Create Your Own Designs

You can buy ready-made patterns for it which include directions, but you can also create your own designs by drawing it on a piece of heavy paper and cutting out a pattern from it. Use the pattern to cut out the material. This is an excellent way to use up odd pieces of materials. Be sure to allow enough material for turning under all edges at least one fourth of an inch. Felt, ribbon and leather pieces are the exception since the edges of these materials need not be turned under.

How to Apply Appliqués

If the edges are to be turned under, baste a narrow hem all around. Then pin the pieces to the article which is being appliquéd, and when you are sure each piece is in the right place, stitch it on. Appliqué can be done by hand and by machine — with visible whipping-stitches, running, or machine stitches, or blanket-stitches of crochet thread or yarn. Use fine self-color thread if you want the stitching to be inconspicuous — heavier thread in a contrasting color if you want the stitches to stand out in relief against the background of appliqué.

Colorful Back to School Ensemble

Felt weskit and beanie colorfully trimmed with gay felt appliqués make an attractive back-to-school ensemble.

Decoratively Speaking

Decor For Boy's Room

By Frances James

When we come to the decoration of a little boy's room we must not think of odds and ends and leftovers. How often have you said or heard your neighbor say "don't know what to do with this old chair . . . perhaps we can just put it in the boy's room". The boy's room should not be decorated with the old chair from the living room; that tattered rug from the hall that no one liked anyway; the bedspread that Mary Joan can no longer use. Give him a break . . . give him a well decorated room containing furnishings he will enjoy and can live with.

A boy's room needn't be expensively decorated but what he needs are sturdy cottons, linoleum floors, bright masculine colours and designs.

Bring some typical boyish pattern into the room. For instance, look at the rollicking boy's designs in wall paper. You will be able to decorate the boy's room less expensively if you start with a wall-paper pattern and use plain cottons for draperies, bed covers and chair covers.

The most popular choice for a boy's wallpaper is the "Mountie" design. It is a colorful scenic showing the famous Canadian "Mountie" with horses canoes, huskies, Indians and tepees. Decorating from this design the "Mountie" red would be perfect for draperies and bedspread. The bright blue could be used for linoleum, lamp shades and chair covers. It would result in a simple decorative scheme, costing little but coming high in pleasure value for any boy.

Have you ever noticed that a boy can be surprisingly neat, tidy and clean if his surroundings inspire these virtues? We'll bet you dollars to doughnuts that if you put a little effort into improving your boy's room he'll amaze you by keeping it in a much more orderly fashion.

How To Wash and Dry Blankets Successfully In Your Machine

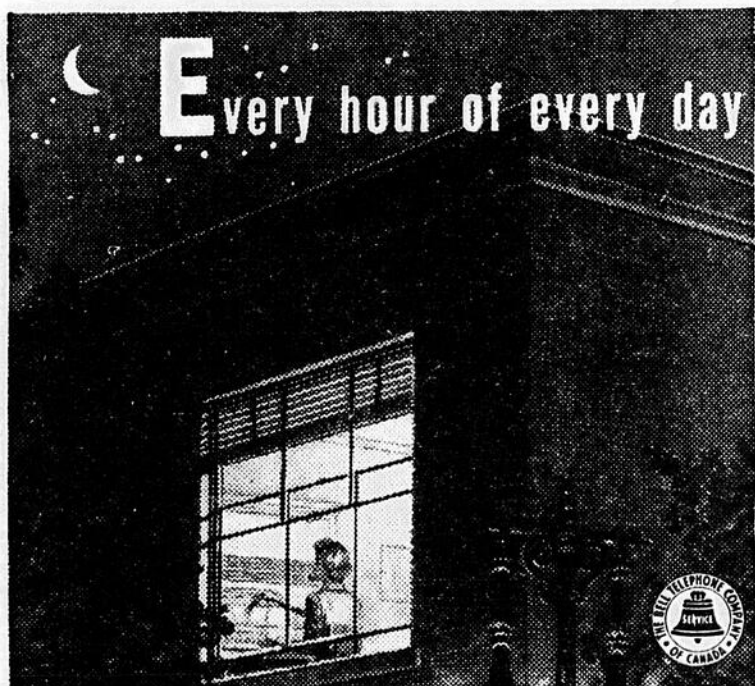

Although some blanket labels still advise you to wash blankets by hand, a careful laundering in your washing machine will generally prove more effective and certainly a lot less work. Here are the seven key steps in machine-washing blankets, as outlined in a special section on the care of blankets in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

1. Fill washer with warm water. If yours is automatic, you must stop washer, after it has filled, by pulling out dial or electric plug.
2. Add 1 cup detergent or 1 cup water softener; run washer until cleanser dissolves. Soak blanket five minutes. Run washer one minute.
3. Set dial at "spin" to extract water from blanket; run 2 or 3 minutes. Let washer fill for deep rinse; run for 1 or 2 minutes. Then give blanket a final spin; run until all water is out — at least 2 minutes. Remove blanket.
4. Put 6 large terry towels in dryer and preheat for 5 to 6 minutes. The hot towels will speed drying time and help prevent excessive action that's especially dangerous to wool.
5. Put blanket into dryer and start tumbling action. Run dryer 15 minutes. Remove blanket immediately, and spread or hang loosely to finish drying.
6. If your dryer has choice of settings, it's best to use "low." Time drying very accurately. A blanket can shrink badly in just the last few minutes of drying, so it's better to underdry than overdry it.
7. Whether you dry blanket in dryer or not, you'll improve blanket's "loft" by brushing with grain of nap. Press bindings with steam iron or dry iron set at "low."

Hails Free Taste, Style of the Future

There's a new trend in life today, a trend toward the greater exercise of free taste. As reflected in home furnishings and decoration, free taste means the use of anything that is beautiful, providing it fits the needs of its owner. October issue of House Beautiful magazine quotes a prominent painter as saying that, "Anyone who looks for quality in an object and not for the name of the artist is exercising what I call 'free taste.'"

The author of the article points out that, when it comes to free taste, there can only be examples, never rules. "Free taste," he says, "may be exercised by anyone — certainly anyone with an average income."

By way of examples, the article cites the experience of Boris Aronson, prominent Broadway scene designer. When he was planning sets for "Cabin in the Sky," Aronson toured the South in search of ideas. In one shabby home, he found that a family with no money for paint or wallpaper had used free samples of wallpaper to decorate their room in a sort of mosaic pattern.

"It was one of the most exciting things I have ever seen," says Aronson. "Without being conscious of it, they were artists, because they had free taste and courage."

Jay Kel Silver Originals Adopt Coronation Theme

Coronations set historic patterns for pomp and ceremony. And the same holds true for the accompanying regal splendor of jewelry seen perhaps once in a lifetime. With this in mind, Jay Kel Limited, Montreal, again sets a trend in costume jewelry by definitely embracing a Victorian theme in its Fall 1952 jewelry line.

"You will note the main thought for most pieces," says Mr. Frank Leblanc, Jay Kel designer and a recognized international authority on jewelry fashion, "is the large, finely cut stone. This is particularly evident in the graceful silhouette of the pear-shaped stones which pre dominate in the Victorian influence of queenly gems and masterful styling."

The flattery of shimmering stones comes to the fore as the jewelry fashion of 1953. The platinum and gold adornment as exemplified by Queen Elizabeth is theme-like for Jay Kel's desire to convey to Canadian women the feeling of wearing exquisite costume jewelry within their means and still enhance their wardrobe with the regal effect of sprakling, genuine Austrian rhinestones and precious sterling silver.

Noticable, too, is the flattering graduation effect of most necklaces where the centre motif is again the distinguished pear shape drop and the graduation of sides which curve gracefully to the single strand motif toward the end of the necklace. Bracelets lend themselves to the identical theme. In most instances, the flattery of the drop or pendant type earring is predominantly shown. The pear-shaped drop maintains the theme.

The Coronation influence is again radiated by Jay Kel pins. Gems like finely-cut crystal again set the pace. Open centres in many pins reflect the flattering effect of the framed gems.

Many styles show a sun burst effect furthered by the dimensional bridge. Here, two layers of stones to the individual pin, brings out the desired brilliancy of prisms of light. The softer shades of amethyst and jonquil — again regal in effect — are also prominent in the new Jay Kel line.

Novel "Cow-boy Hats" Will Start Stampede

"Cowboy Hats" of marshmallows, puffed rice and chocolate invite the eager help of young "cowpokes" in your family when you make them.

Looking for a wholesome party idea for the young set? Perhaps this "Cowboy Hat" will be a good chocolatey answer.

These Cowboy Hats are easily made. Puffed rice forms the base. Then a marshmallow-chocolate sauce is poured over the puffed rice to coat each individual kernel. The fun comes when the young cowboys and cowgirls shape the candy-puffed rice mixture to resemble cowboy hat brims.

This calls for an experienced "hand" as any young cowboy will tell you, so call for volunteers at this point. When the brims are all shaped, cap each with a toasted marshmallow for the crowning touch.

Arrange the candy-coated cowboy hats on a large platter. Serve milk as a beverage, and prepare for a stampede.

Cowboy Hats

Base: Six cups puffed rice, ½ pound fresh marshmallows (about 32), ½ cup butter, 2 squares (2 ounces) unsweetened chocolate.

Measure puffed rice into a large greased bowl. Melt marshmallows, butter and chocolate in a double boiler, stirring occasionally. Pour marshmallow mixture over puffed rice, stirring until puffed rice is evenly coated. Shape 24 hat "brims", using about ¼ cup of the puffed rice candy for each. Place in refrigerator.

Topping: Twenty-four marshmallows.

Just before serving, toast the marshmallows on a baking sheet (F.) until a delicate brown (2 to 3 in a moderate oven (375 degrees minutes). Place a toasted marshmallow on each hat brim to form the crown.

Mystery Cake Frosting— If you have a plain cake in the house and want to make it partyish in a hurry, slice bananas lengthwise into several slices (4 or 5) and dip in orange or pineapple juice. Lay them all over the top of the cake. Frost over the bananas and all around the sides of the cake with sweetened whipped cream. Use plenty and spread it thick over the top so the bananas will be a surprise when the cake is cut.

This might settle a few arguments. Good Housekeeping magazine reports that red hair is found most frequently in Scotland (where 5 per cent of the people are redheaded) in northern Europe (2 per cent redheaded), and in southern Europe (1 per cent redheaded).

For a delicious luncheon loaf, use 3 cups biscuit mix; add ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1 cup cooked, chopped prunes. Combine 1 egg with ⅓ cup milk and stir into first mixture. Bake in loaf pan at 350° for an hour.

Auxiliary Gift Shop Opened In Hospital

An additional service of the Women's Auxiliary of the Jewish General Hospital has been created—the Gift Shop, which is in charge of co-chairmen, Mrs. Milton Oser and Mrs. Victor Cape with the following committee: Stock — Mrs. J. Stampleman; Personnel — Mrs. Simon Rubin; Publicity — Mrs. M. E. Coshof.

Housed prominently in the foyer of the hospital, an attractive showcase, cupboard and shelves display a variety of gifts for all occasions. These are not confined to baby, invalid and convalescent gifts. Suitable gifts for birthdays, graduation, hostess and other remembrances are available. Much thought, careful shopping and planning have gone into the choice of these items. Orders will be taken for floral arrangements, fruit and food baskets to be delivered anywhere in the city, as well as for handmade dresses and suits for children, handknitted lace stoles, etc.

"This valuable service will eliminate hours of shopping", says Mrs. E. Lozinski, President of the Women's Auxiliary, and "should prove to be a boon to many."

Proceeds from the sale of all items will further the needs and requirements of the rapidly growing and expanding hospital to which a new wing is now being added.

Apple Pie Is Still Favorite; Cook It Many Different Ways

As far as desserts are concerned, some feel that apple pie with cheese is a gourmet's heaven, while others swear by cherry ice cream dripping with chocolate syrup. What is your favorite? If it is apple pie, then you are like Mr. and Mrs. Average Canadian, according to an unofficial survey made by one of our national magazines in leading restaurants in one of our larger cities. They say that pie far outsells any other dessert, and of all the kinds of pie, apple, either with or without cheese, heads the list. Second in popularity is ice cream, with fruit cups and various types of puddings tied for third place.

Another interesting point is that there was a difference in the type of desserts sold depending on whether the customers were men or women. In the survey, restaurants serving more male customers sold far more pie than any other dessert. When customers of the fairer-sex were in greater number, jellies and puddings accounted for a large share of the business, although even here pie was a top seller.

Here are some suggestions from the home economists of the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa for making that "apple pie with a difference". Instead of serving cheese with pie at the table, why not include it right in the crust? Line the pie-plate with pastry, then fill with apples, sugar, cinnamon or nutmeg as for any apple pie. Roll a half cup of grated cheese into the pastry for the upper crust and cover the apples with this cheese crust. Bake in a hot oven of 425° F., for 15 minutes, then reduce the heat to 350° F., and bake for 20 to 30 minutes or until apples are tender. Instead of making a cheese crust, the pie could be baked without an upper crust for a change and grated cheese sprinkled over the top of the cooked pie. This pie should be returned to the oven just long enough to melt the cheese.

A deep dish apple pie is always a winner. To make it, slice and arrange six or eight medium apples in a greased casserole. Dot with butter and add a cup of maple syrup. Cover with pastry which has been pricked to allow steam to escape and bake in a hot oven of 400° F., for 25 minutes or until the apples are tender.

If you have a pie shell already baked, try a Fairy Apple Pie. To make it, fold two stiffly beaten egg whites into sweetened apple sauce made from about six medium apples. Pour into the baked pie shell and bake at 350° F., for 15 minutes.

Store Piecrusts

Do you sometimes hesitate to make a pie because of the time involved in mixing and rolling the pastry? Then try this method of pleasing your family with more frequent pastry desserts:

When preparing pastry, instead of measuring out ingredients for one pie, use six cups flour, sifted with two tablespoons salt, blend with one pound lard (no substitute), and one cup water.

You will find you have enough dough to roll out two double-crust 10½-inch pies, and one single-crust 9-inch pie.

You may wish to bake one of the double-crust pies immediately. Do so, and while that is in the oven, roll out the other crusts, placing the top piece carefully on a piece of wax paper, which in turn goes on a large, flat cover or piece of cardboard. A piece of wax paper suffices to cover the single crust pie.

Both are placed in the refrigerator, where they will keep a week or two without detriment, but lard must be used for shortening to insure crispness.

In the days to come you may assemble a pie in a matter of minutes with whatever filling tends to strike your fancy — a toothsome return on your initial investment of time.

Tricks With Mixes — A glamorous breakfast treat for those who like sweet breads may be made in a hurry with a package of muffin mix. Add ½ cup nuts to the batter prepared by the package directions, and bake in tiny muffin pans. While they're piping hot, roll these tiny muffins first in melted butter and then in cinnamon sugar.

For a delicious luncheon loaf, use 3 cups biscuit mix; add ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1 cup cooked, chopped prunes. Combine 1 egg with ⅓ cup

Westmount Stars Esther Williams In Role Of Wave

As breezy salty and refreshing as its title, M-G-M's "Skirts Ahoy!" launches a boatload of stars, songs, dances, love and laughs on the Westmount screen this Sunday in one of the year's gayest and brightest Technicolor musicals.

Esther Williams, in a role as form-fitting as her Wave uniform, leads the big parade of talent garnered for this rollicking musical tale of three girls who join the Navy either to get or to forget a man, with Joan Evans and Vivian Blaine as her torch-bearing buddies and Barry Sullivan, Keefe Brasselle and Dean Miller as the males responsible for it all. Also involved in the whirl of entertainment are the five De Marco Sisters and the popular singing star, Billy Eckstine.

Miss Williams plays Whitney Young, the Long Island society girl who ditches her prospective bridegroom at the altar, fits into the life of the Waves like a duck to water, falls head-over-heels in love with a Navy doctor (Barry Sullivan) who doesn't like predatory girls, then puts up a stiff fight to win and hold him. Her two buddies have their romantic work cut out for them as well; Joan Evans as the shy and homesick small-town girl, Mary Kate Yarbrough, who gets jilted by Dick (Keefe Brasselle), her childhood sweetheart; and Vivian Blaine as the brassy ex-salesgirl, who sets her cap for Archie (Dean Miller), a sailor who once took her rowing in Central Park. But everything turns out for the best by the time the Wave fledglings have completed their ten weeks of boot training and emerge as knowing and competent Navy girls.

Added Attraction

Also on the same program is James Stewart, whose impersonation of Monty Stratton in "The Stratton Story" provided one of his finest screen portrayals in an even more gripping and powerful role as "Carbine Williams" in M-G-M's compelling drama.

Prison is not usually considered the ideal place in which to invent a gun, nor do prison wardens usually allow their charges to engage in such questionable activity. Nonetheless, that is exactly what happens when Marsh Williams is accused of murder and is forced to serve eight years in prison. Unbroken by servitude with a brutal chain gang, Marsh eventually wins the support of Captain Peoples, warden of the Caledonia Work Camp, and is instrumental in the invention of the U.S. 30-mi. carbine developed by Winchester, the first carbine to be adopted by the U.S. Army in forty years and the rifle which General Douglas MacArthur declared one of the strongest contributing factors to the American victory in the Pacific.

2nd Institute Lecture Scheduled On Oct. 1

The first in a series of lectures on hobbies, to be given under the auspices of the Mechanics' Institute, was held in the Institute Lecture Hall with an informative talk, illustrated with photographs and diagrams, given by Richard Fitzelle, of the staff of the William Ewing Company Limited. His subject was "Growing Tulips and Daffodils and Other Spring Flowering Bulbs in the Outdoor Garden."

The next lecture in the series will be on Wed. Oct. 1, at 8.15 p.m. in the Institute. The speaker will be Mr. Fitzelle, whose subject this time will be "Growing Flowering Bulbs in the Home".

"We would welcome qualified young musicians, especially string and woodwind players to our non-sectarian group," said Mr. Elvin. "Any youthful instrumentalist interested in learning and playing symphonic music is invited to an audition with us."

The conductor has arranged an interesting program for the talented young people. Included, in the numbers to be studied are Prokofiev's Classical Symphony, Aaron Copeland's Rodeo Suite, Tschai-kowsky's Serenade for Strings, and the Oberon Overture by Weber.

Among the concerts planned for the orchestra this year is one with a leading choral group. These and other plans will be announced later by the orchestra's board of course includes sight reading, interpretation of parts, microphone technique, voice and diction, and everything pertaining to radio broadcasting. ## Grocers Top Westmount In Series Start Steinberg's intermediates got off on the right foot Wednesday night in their provincial semi-final play-off series against Nelco Supplies, Westmount League champions, when they downed the suburb city larrigans 7-2 at Trenholme Park.

Willie Graham was, as usual, on the mound for the grocers and held the suburb city aggregation to four hits. The wing-dinging right-hander was in top form.

Beland went the distance for the losers.

Steinberg's broke the scoring ice in the fifth inning with a singleton and went on to wrap up the contest with three-run splurges in the sixth and eighth frames.

The losers notched both their tallies in the seventh.

The series resumes at Westmount Park Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Offensive Power Weak As Roussac Fires Touchdown Pass To Reid

By Allan Sandzelius

Revenge is sweet, when earned; and Westmount High's defeat of Catholic High at Monday's Rugby Carnival by a score of 5-3 was, at least in this writer's opinion, very 'fluky' indeed.

True, it can be said that the Black and White were on the rough side in garnering those two costly 20 yard penalties near the close of the contest, and also that Westmount played it safe, but this does not alter the fact that the Purple squad were very lucky to get their crucial five-pointer.

The locals' offensive blocking was virtually non-existent even though they managed to stop everything coming through the center. And that mostly on account of Catholic High's stubborn refusal to do anything else. But enough second guessing, let's look on the brighter side!

Yesterday a fairly large crowd witnessed the first regular game of the High School football season for Westmount as they teed off on their perennial rivals, West Hill at the Westmount Athletic Grounds. The score? Next week.

Well, with High School of Montreal having given McGee a run for their money on Wednesday after a predicted slaughter, the league shapes up as being a little on the even-seven so why not come out three-hundred strong to all locals' tussles (it can be done!) and perhaps see a few surprises?

CARNIVAL CARICATURES

We think the Westmount High cheerleaderettes could have done better . . . at least that's one man's opinion . . . how about a few LADS on the 'team' . . . say, maybe, three girls and three boys to whoop it up . . . Lew Davies says 'No Soccer this year . . . they want to play football instead' . . . Heather Doig, Judy Logan, Di Johnson and the Christmases among the femmes competing for berths on the WHS Tennis team . . . Miss MacMillan also has volleyball practices on her present schedule . . . Mitch Klein now 'in' the 'announcing' racket . . . doing a good job, too . . . say, Lou, it's ROUSSAC not Rousseau . . . keep October 27 on your mind . . . that's the big game versus Proctor Academy . . . should be plenty close this year . . . another newcomer to WHS rugby ranks is St. Leo's offspring, Grant Gill . . . played bantam, two seasons ago . . . O.K., so Eleanor Dodge doesn't go to Westmount High! . . . sorry, still no team line-ups . . . for sure next issue . . . finally, don't forget to see the Purple Team in action against HSM next Wednesday p.m. . . . promises to be a battle well worth seeing.

Unity Boys Club Secure Basketball Coach For Team

Coaches for the Unity Boys' Club midget basketball team which is being entered in the Montreal Boys' Basketball League have been secured. They are Emmett Murphy and Fred Donald. Practices will be held every Monday and Wednesday from 8 to 9 p.m.

Bill and Jerry O'Brien's Boxing Club got away to a good start last Monday night with an attendance of 38 boys. The Club meets every Monday night until further notice.

Marshall Showing Well With Canucks

Don Marshall, who is showing up well in the NHL Canadiens practices, still does not know where he will play this year.

Last Saturday night in an exhibition game against the pros, Royals won, and Marshall got two assists. In another practice game he scored three goals and got one assist.

One Forum official said that they did not know where Marshall would play this year. It could be with a senior group team and it could be with an American Hockey league club.

Buddy O'Connor is still debating where he will play this year. There is another player-coach job in the offing, but the deal is still not settled.

It is an American amateur club and they have a rule that forbids former American league players to play in the league. Yet another rule allows NHL players to play.

O'Connor has been out with Valleyfield and Coach Toe Blake has been in contact with Frank Boucher of New York Rangers. O'Connor has the okay from his parent club to work a deal. He played for the Braves against Canadiens last Sunday. He was out twice with the club last week.

SPORTS

at St. Leo's

St. Leo's Academy's six man touch rugby activities, opened up last Saturday at Westmount Athletic Grounds, with close to a hundred youngsters turning out to take active part in the thrills of touch rugby.

Football festivities got underway early last Saturday, with the Pee Wee group showing terrific enthusiasm in their game, which turned out to be a ten all draw. The two teams were Joe Gallagher's Aces and Jimmy Grant's Cubs. Fleet footed George Spare and Freddie Collins scored the touchdowns for the Aces, while chunky Steve MacIntyre was the star of the Cubs, smashing his way across for both this team's touchdowns.

This Saturday morning, the same two clubs, will meet in an effort to determine a winner.

The Bantam League opened up with two well played games and good turnouts for all the four teams. Frank Jago's Alouettes defeated Mike Lunny's Rough Riders 18 to 12 and Brendan Guilfoyle's Tiger-Cats were returned winners over Kevin Dunnigan's Argos by the score of 10 to 1.

The official opening of both sections was a success and was further favored by ideal Autumn weather. The only possible sour note, was the absence of senior boys in the school, to help out and encourage the youngsters. Coach Andy McGillis is highly optimistic of an excellent season of competition for the small fry in the Academy.

The schedule will continue with a double-header in the Bantam section on Friday and Saturday and a single game in the Pee Wee section on Saturday morning. All games are played at Westmount Athletic Grounds, with regular practises at Westmount Park.

Senior Hockey in 1952-53

A meeting will be called within the next ten days and a strong effort made to improve the present gloomy outlook on the Academy's 1952-53 senior hockey front. With but four hold-overs from last year's fourth place club, it is going to be a man sized job to build up the strength of the team without event a Junior team as a feeder.

The few athletes left on the English side of the high school seem to lack the pep and spirit to tackle the problem and coach McGillis is looking towards the French speaking students of the academy to bolster the spiritless crew on the English side of the school.
