ARMS PARLEY FACES PLAIN ISSUE OF ACCOMPLISHMENT OR FAILURE

Leading Delegates Spent a Busy Day in Preliminary Talks, but Buzzing Rumors Were None Too Hopeful—On Outskirts of League, Maxim Litvinoff Is Pressing Russian Scheme for Non-Aggression Pacts—Meanwhile Reports Reaching Geneva Speak of Increasing War Preparations in Far East.

Geneva, May 28.—Disarmament efforts today were reaching a showdown. After two years of negotiations, the World Disarmament Conference, due to re-assemble tomorrow, faces the plain issue of accomplishment or camouflaged failure.

Arthur Henderson, Conference president; Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary; Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister; Norman Davis, American ambassador-at-large, and other leading delegates all spent a busy morning in preliminary talks, but buzzing rumors were none too hopeful.

Germany remains away from the Conference and the League. Britain, her two detailed plans for disarmament virtually discarded by other powers, is inclined to await events. France declines to sacrifice any of her armed security unless she gets an effective quid pro quo. And the world rattles with armaments greater than when the Conference began in February, 1932.

On the outskirts of the League, Maxim Litvinoff is pressing the Russian scheme for non-aggression pacts. She has already concluded about eighteen of these, and Litvinoff is reputed to be endeavoring to convert them into pacts of mutual assistance. The Russian scheme would, in effect, be another form of the Geneva protocol, but limited to the countries of continental Europe.

Reports reaching Geneva speak of increasing war preparations in the Far East, between Japan and Russia. Reports multiply that while strengthening her western frontiers, Russia wants to join the League.

Wednesday the League Council meets in a special session to discuss the actual warfare between Paraguay and Bolivia in the "Green Hell" of the Gran Chaco.

In all this turmoil, the position of Canada may be clearly summed up. She stands for:

Abolition of the private manufacture of armaments.

General acceptance of the British disarmament plan.

Recognition of the German claim to equal rights, but on the basis of a general reduction in armaments.

RUSSIA STUDYING ENTRY INTO LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Moscow, May 28.—The Soviet Government is "considering very seriously all the arguments in support of the League of Nations," the official newspaper Izvestia announced today.

Commenting on the proposal of Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, for a Franco-Soviet rapprochement involving the latter's entry into the League, the Izvestia says it is welcomed with great satisfaction by Soviet public opinion, and that it was one of the matters discussed by Maxim Litvinoff, Foreign Commissar, and Barthou in their recent conversations at Geneva.

Applauding what it terms France's efforts to refashion the League into a more effective instrument for the defense of peace, the Izvestia says:

"The Soviet Union is capable of defending its borders against any danger, but this does not alter its duty to do everything for the cause of peace and safety."

"The stronger is the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics the more it should seek to co-ordinate its forces with other countries ready to join the fight against the danger of war."

Although the Soviet organ does not discuss the possibility of entry into the League, it is understood in foreign diplomatic circles here that the two conditions demanded for the recognition of the Soviet Government by the League of Nations are the recognition of the Entente of Rumania, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, and a seat on the League Council.

This last demand, it is understood here, is opposed by Poland, which wants the only vacant seat now remaining in the Council.

Foreign diplomatic quarters interpreted Barthou's proposal as a move for a Franco-Soviet alliance aimed against Germany.

FRANCE INSISTENT THAT PARLEY BE CARRIED ON

Geneva, May 28.—France wants the Disarmament Conference to continue, hopeless as the situation looks. Louis Barthou, French Foreign Minister, at the steering committee this afternoon declared that France was prepared to use every effort to bring the work to a successful conclusion.

EIGHT THOUSAND ATTEND BASILICA INAUGURATION

Ste. Anne de Beaupre Scene of Impressive Ceremony that Officially Opened New Basilica.

Quebec, May 28.—A crowd of well over eight thousand persons attended at Ste. Anne de Beaupre yesterday the inauguration of the new Basilica, which was marked by impressive religious ceremonies. The benediction of the temple was made Saturday by Mgr. Martin Lejeune, Apostolic Vicar of Keewatin, and it was he who yesterday delivered the opening sermon reminding pilgrims that Ste. Anne, in the new church dedicated to her, was ready as ever to receive them.

U. S. NAVY WINNER IN A DRAMATIC MERCY DASH.

Balboa, C. Z., May 28.—The United States navy apparently was the winner today in its dramatic mercy dash by air and sea to save William Albert Robinson, writer and explorer, stricken by appendicitis.

Brought here by the U.S. destroyer Hale from the lonely Galapagos Islands, one thousand miles away, Robinson lay today in the Army hospital. Physicians believe he will recover.

His bride, the former Florence Crane, Chicago, waitress, who accompanied him on his expedition, was taken ill when Robinson was taken ill, said he suffered "tortures of the damned" before two naval planes arrived with surgeons.

The Robinsons were on a honeymoon cruise on a small vessel when the attack came a week ago, with no medical aid at hand.

YOUTH CHARGED WITH CAUSING FATAL MISHAP

Gustave Bolduc, of Asbestos, Charged with Manslaughter Following Collision which Caused Death of George MacKenzie, of Danville.

George MacKenzie, twenty-three years of age, of Danville, is dead; Miss Adele Atkinson, twenty-one years old, also of Danville, is seriously but not critically injured, and Gustave Bolduc, twenty-year-old Asbestos youth, is confined to the Sherbrooke jail as a result of a fatal accident which occurred near Danville Saturday night. Bolduc, held criminally responsible for MacKenzie's death, is facing a charge of manslaughter and will appear before a local court tomorrow morning to have the date set for his preliminary hearing.

According to information released by Detective Auguste Guyon, who investigated the mishap, MacKenzie and Miss Atkinson were driving in a horse-drawn vehicle to a dance in Asbestos shortly after nine o'clock Saturday night. They had gone about half a mile from Danville when their buggy was struck by a driver who failed to stop after the collision.

Detective Guyon, ordered at once to the scene, found the vehicle overturned. He reached the scene of the fatality at two-thirty o'clock. From the testimony he was able to collect from persons who had arrived on the spot shortly after the accident, Detective Guyon, accompanied by Police Officer Martel, of Asbestos, visited a dance hall after being advised of the license plate which the death-dealing car bore. Before any arrests were made, Guyon found the damaged car near the hall.

Arrested with Bolduc were Paul Henri Bolduc and Roger Plourde, both of Asbestos, who were passengers in the car which Gustave Bolduc was operating. Yesterday afternoon Dr. J. N. Letendre, of Danville, held a coroner's inquest which culminated in an accusation of criminal responsibility being preferred against Gustave Bolduc. Both Paul Henri Bolduc and Plourde were exonerated when the evidence submitted to the coroner's jury revealed that they were only passengers.

With his usual celebrity Detective Guyon, who recently replaced Detective James Haney as representative of the Provincial Police in the Eastern Townships, pieced together his case. Yesterday photographs of the scene and the smashed wagon were taken. This afternoon Guyon returned to Danville to collect further evidence and line up his witnesses for the Magistrate Court's inquest.

Speaking to the Record this morning Dr. R. H. Stevenson, of Danville, who was summoned to the scene, stated that MacKenzie had died instantly from a fractured skull, while Miss Atkinson had suffered injuries to the head. The horse which MacKenzie was driving escaped with a minor bruise to one of its legs.

TWO DROWNED WHEN AUTO PLUNGED INTO RIVER

Truro, N.S., May 28.—A search party led by Royal Canadian Mounted Police today found the body of William Ferguson, 21, of Dartmouth, who, with seventeen-year-old Alice Hingley, of Truro, was drowned last night when an automobile ripped off a section of bridge railing and plunged into Isham's River.

James White, 19, and Marjorie McElmon, 22, both of Dartmouth, escaped as the car sank in the swirling waters of an onrushing tide that quickly covered the machine.

Reaching shore they climbed up the twenty-five-foot embankment to seek help. Ferguson, the driver, and Miss Hingley, in the front seat with him, were still in the car when it went down.

There was no trace of them when police searched the car early this morning, however, and detachments were detailed to drag the stream. Ferguson's body was found about a mile from the scene of the accident. Search for Miss Hingley's body was continuing at noon.

SHIPPING AND MARKETING BILLS HOLD ATTENTION OF PARLIAMENT

Hoped that Greater Progress Will Be Made with Marketing Measure when Commons Resumes Sittings This Afternoon—Early Introduction of Companies' Act Expected—Included in Shipping Bill Is Clause Calling for New Canadian Marine Flag.

Ottawa, May 28.—Parliament has the prospect of a lively and varied week before it resumes its sessions today. The marketing bill is the first order of business in the house of Commons, and while it was dogged with steady opposition on its previous appearances, there is a belief it will make better progress today. A number of amendments remain to be approved in committee of the whole.

When the Senate resumes its sittings it will receive the report of the committee on the new shipping bill, the most voluminous piece of legislation of the session.

Included in the shipping bill is a clause calling for a new Canadian marine flag with a large green maple leaf replacing the Canadian shield on the blue of the present flag.

Ranking with the shipping bill in importance from a legal standpoint and, like it, lacking in material for political controversy, another bill is due for discussion in the Commons right after the marketing measure. It is the new Companies' Act, which provides for stricter control over the incorporation and operation of companies which sell of the public. Little opposition is expected for it.

CANADA LEADS IN INDUSTRIAL RECOVERY MOVE

World Production of Certain Important Commodities Shows Appreciable Increase, with Unemployment Decreasing in All Principal Countries but France.

Geneva, May 28.—Canada leads the way in industrial activity. League of Nations figures for the first quarter of 1934, compared with the first quarter of last year, show the following percentage increases in industrial activity: Canada forty per cent; United States thirty per cent; Germany and Poland twenty-five per cent; Sweden eighteen; Japan eleven; Norway six; France three.

Unemployment is decreasing in all the principal countries of the world except France.

World production of certain important commodities shows an appreciable increase, the figures also reveal. During the first quarter of 1934, production of coal increased by twenty per cent, of gasoline twelve per cent, pig iron fifty-one per cent, steel fifty-four per cent, and zinc thirty-seven per cent, in comparison with the same period of last year.

On the other hand, the gold value of world trade again shows a decrease for the first quarter of 1934.

FRENCH AIRMEN TODAY NEARING ULTIMATE GOAL

After Speedy Flight Over Atlantic Ocean, Veteran Pilots Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi Now Winging Way Over North American Continent in Hope of Establishing New Air Record.

New York, May 28.—Safely over the Atlantic Ocean, the French flyers, Paul Codos and Maurice Rossi, faced down the Canadian United States coast this morning while a flurry of conflicting reports accompanied their progress on the non-stop flight from Paris, San Diego, Calif., is their goal.

Observers throughout Maine checked a big silver monoplane, identified as the Joseph Lebrun through Eastport, Rockland and Bar Harbor—the last named point at ten a.m. E.S.T.

Meanwhile, every preparation for their landing was made at Floyd Bennett field in Brooklyn on the strength of wireless reports from Chatham, Mass., that minor trouble had developed and a landing here would be necessary unless repairs could be made in the air.

A wireless message direct from the plane to the Chatham wireless station at a late date, City Corporation place the time of their landing at 2 p.m. E.S.T. in event they find it necessary to come down at Floyd Bennett.

FLIER'S WIFE OVERJOYED WITH NEWS

Paris, May 28.—Madame Maurice Rossi cried with joy today when she was informed that her husband's plane was reported over eastern Canada.

With tears in her eyes, she said: "Naturally, we are greatly relieved that they are safely over the Atlantic. It had been a long night of anguish but we have been kept in close touch with the news and today has brought happiness that the worst part of the trip is over."

450 ARRESTED IN MONTREAL POLICE RAIDS

Montreal, May 28.—Another paralyzing blow to gambling establishments and houses of ill repute was struck on Saturday night by Director Fernand Dufresne. Fourteen raids were conducted and four hundred and fifty persons placed under arrest.

The Provincial and Quebec Liquor Commission police also made several raids on blind-pits, arresting one hundred and fifty men and women.

Since the start of Director Dufresne's campaign, and with the co-operation of the Provincial and Quebec Liquor Commission police, over one thousand prisoners have been booked on various charges from operating or being found in a gambling establishment or disorderly house, to owning houses where liquor was sold illegally.

That Director Dufresne has decided to close all gambling establishments and other houses of ill-repute, and that he will do everything in his power to do so, is evidenced by the work which is being done by the various morality squads under Deputy Director E. H. Gobell. Raid after raid is being conducted daily in various districts and patrol wagons and fleets of taxicabs kept busy transporting prisoners.

Of Chancellor Gibeorne, of the Anglican diocese at Ottawa, pending an inquest. Meanwhile police said they were seeking a fifth Indian in connection with the crime.

BATTERED BODY OF CONSTABLE IS RECOVERED

Two Indians Charged with Murder as Search Is Pressed for Remains of Second Missing British Columbia Officer.

Merritt, B.C., May 28.—The battered body of Frank Gibeorne, Indian department constable, lay in a morose heap today, grim evidence of the starting sequel to the investigation of a stabbing affray at the Canford Indian reservation. Two persons were under arrest charged with murder and two others were held in custody.

Wire nettings were thrown across the Nicola River which yielded the body of Gibeorne, while searchers patrolled the river banks in search of the body of Provincial Constable Thomas Carr, co-investigator in the wounding last Wednesday night of Mrs. Enos George, Indian woman.

Enos and Richardson George, Indian brothers, were in Kamlay jail, charged with the murder of both constables. After a brief presentation of charges against them, Magistrate A. G. Freeze remanded them for eight days. A third brother, Joseph George, is in custody and a fourth Indian held as material witness.

The body of Gibeorne, native of Ottawa, was found in the branches of a willow tree, five miles below the reserve where a bloodstained automobile was found last Thursday. Police believe the two officers were clubbed to death, placed in the car and an attempt made to drive the vehicle into the river. It lodged against a tree.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral of Gibeorne, a son

NEW CANADIAN LOAN VERY LARGELY OVER-SUBSCRIBED

London, May 28.—The new Canadian $50,000,000 loan offered today was an immediate success, the lists closing an hour and a half after the opening.

The loan was very largely over-subscribed, but this did not affect prices on the "gilt-edged" market.

The issue, in 3 1/4 per cent bonds, was made at a price of 96 1/2.

PAID OFF BARGAINING BANDIT WITH TWO DOLLARS

Toronto, May 28.—Mrs. Frank Tilley, 64, operator of a west end furniture store, paid off a bargaining hold-up man with two dollars on Saturday night. Displaying a revolver, the thug demanded all the woman's money. Told that she had none, he said he needed money and would be content with as little as two dollars. He was promptly paid.

ALD. BLAIS HAS RESIGNED FROM CITY COUNCIL

West Ward Representative Tenders Resignation to City Treasurer Prefontaine This Morning—Will Give Explanation Later.

Omer Blais took it upon himself to walk down to the City Hall this morning and tender his resignation as one of the two West Ward representatives on the City Council.

His action, to say the least, came as a surprise even in municipal circles. Just what prompted him to conclude his municipal career so abruptly is a matter of conjecture.

Ald. Blais was first elected to the City Council on April 14th, 1932, to replace ex-Ald. E. H. Hebert, who declined to stand for re-election. In 1931 and again in 1934 he was returned by acclamation.

He had very little to say when he tendered his resignation this morning. He quietly went to the City Treasurer, Leonard Prefontaine, but the conversation had hardly got beyond the discussion of the weather when Ald. Blais put his hand in his coat pocket and produced a carefully folded paper which he handed to the Treasurer.

Opening the paper, Prefontaine was surprised when he read the few typewritten lines. Ald. Blais simply said that he was resigning. He wanted the resignation to take effect immediately. He promised that he would give a complete explanation at a later date.

For some time past the municipal horizon has been rather troubled. There were many dark clouds overhanging and something in the way of action was promised.

The first booming came on May 15th, when E. C. Jobin resigned as West Ward alderman. He and Ald. Blais were the two West Ward spokesmen on the municipal board.

Ex-Ald. Jobin resigned because he was faced with legal action to have him unseated because of alleged transactions with the City of Montreal. He has been coming to an end. Regulations putting an end to what was becoming an abuse have now been prepared and are in force limiting the permits to build and rent such cabins only to owners of establishments who cater regularly to the travelling public.

For several years the City of Montreal has been building and using of cabins for travellers has been under severe regulations as to hygiene and moral conditions, but this control proved in many cases very unsatisfactory due to the fact that there was no provision governing permits. It was also thought unfair that hotelkeepers, who for the whole year had to look after travellers in some cases at a loss and only had a short season to improve their financial situation, were discriminated against by any one wanting to compete with them by offering shelter in cabins. By the new regulations, details of which will be given out next week, the cabins now erected are to be tolerated but in future hotelkeepers only will be free to build such lodgings.

In special cases which may arise in localities where there is no accommodation for a rather long distance, the matter will be handled by the Provincial Tourist Council, which will study the reasons advanced and will submit a report on which the authorities will act.

LIMIT CONSTRUCTION OF TOURIST CABINS

Quebec, May 28.—The uncontrolled erection of cabins for tourists along the highways and roads of the province of Quebec has come to an end. Regulations putting an end to what was becoming an abuse have now been prepared and are in force limiting the permits to build and rent such cabins only to owners of establishments who cater regularly to the travelling public.

For several years the City of Montreal has been building and using of cabins for travellers has been under severe regulations as to hygiene and moral conditions, but this control proved in many cases very unsatisfactory due to the fact that there was no provision governing permits. HUMOROUS THIEF TAKES LIQUOR STORE RECEIPTS

Owner Advised to Hand Over $170 "Before Somebody Steals It from You" by Hold-Up Man.

Chicago, May 28.—Max Blumenthal, owner of a liquor store, was putting the day's receipts, $170, in his pocket, when a man with a pistol entered.

"Give that to me before somebody steals it from you," the man ordered.

Blumenthal obeyed.

BABY BORN BY THE ROADSIDE

San Mateo, Calif., May 28.—When Raymond Andre's wife suggested that he stop the car, he did so, marking at the side of the road.

When he got going again, he drove directly to a hospital where doctors told him everything was all right—mother and baby, who arrived by the roadside, are "doing nicely."

LARGE AREA OF NORTHERN CANADA THREATENED BY TIMBERLAND FIRE

Without Rain for Over Fortnight, Northern Forests Are Today Veritable Mass of Matchwood—Provencher, in Path of Blaze, Evacuated by Residents—Forest Rangers and Volunteer Fire-Fighters Worked All Night in Frantic Efforts to Prevent Outbreaks from Spreading and Causing Further Damage.

Bush fires, fanned by high winds, threatened destruction of a village in northern Quebec and caused considerable damage to northern Ontario timber limits over the week-end in a series of outbreaks which spread terror by the lightning-like rapidity with which they communicated from one place to another.

With no rain having fallen for over a fortnight in northern Quebec, the bush was a veritable mass of matchwood. The Stanley-Siscoe extension plant in the Siscoe gold mine area was destroyed by flames and the village of Provencher, fifteen miles west of Rouyn-Noranda, was evacuated by scores of its three hundred residents, who moved their effects to Rouyn. A sawmill was gutted in no time.

Flames raging in the Campbell's Mills and Meteor Lake district were fought by one hundred and fifty men with the aid of the Ontario Forestry Department gas cars. Equipment from as far as Sudbury was rushed in. Oba and Hornpaine fought fires in the bushlands near there, and other fires burned along the Trans-Canada highway on the north shore of Lake Superior close to the Pancake River work camp.

Several fires of more or less serious nature were reported from half a dozen localities in Quebec. Three cottages at the Aldermar mine were reported destroyed, while fire was said to be raging at Taschereau and in Cadillac township, in which is situated the Pandora mine.

Arntfield mine was in direct line of the fire that swept through Provencher, but a fortunate decrease in the velocity of the wind caused proprietors to evacuate the mine easily. Another fire raged along the Beattie Railway near its junction with the Canadian National Railway.

Throughout the day the entire district was shrouded in a dense cloud of smoke which completely obliterated the sun from view. Both in Ontario and Quebec forest rangers and volunteer fire-fighters worked all night in frantic efforts to prevent the fires from spreading and causing further damage.

A forest fire swept across the northern half of Falconbridge Township about eighteen miles northeast of Sudbury. The fire advanced on a two-mile front at the same time employees of the Falconbridge nickel mines were trying to extinguish a small fire near the company's smelter.

There are no settlements in the path of the larger fire and, providing an east wind that fanned the flames dies down, little danger to communities is anticipated.

ATTENTION OF CABINET TURNS TO METROPOLIS

Early Announcement of Date of Special Session Expected—Many Appointments Before Quebec Cabinet Meeting.

Quebec, May 28.—The date of the special session of the Legislature to consider City of Montreal affairs will probably be decided at this week's session of the Quebec Cabinet. However the decision may be deferred should developments indicate that a special meeting of the cabinet is necessary to determine the exact needs of the metropolis.

Appointments on the dairy commission will also come up as submitted by Hon. Adelard Godbout, Minister of Agriculture. It is now urgent to allow the commission to go ahead as provided by legislation adopted at the last session. It is also expected that the Hon. J. B. Hays, director of agricultural economics, will be chairman of the board and Marc Hudon, secretary, S. Desmarais, of the Federal Co-operative, is also mentioned as a possible member of the board with an English-speaking commissioner.

RANGERS HOLDING UPPER HAND IN MANITOBA FIRE

Winnipeg, May 28.—Batting high winds, low temperatures and low humidity conditions, forest rangers and volunteers today held in check Manitoba's first major epidemic of forest fires.

Burning in widely scattered areas, four fires were reported out of control Saturday night. Two of the largest blazes at Sandhill forest reserve were brought under control Sunday night.

Hundreds of cords of wood were destroyed in the Greater Winnipeg water district, where an area of four square miles was burned over. A fourth fire in the light brush surrounding Middleboro was quickly extinguished.

BEAUPARLANT MURDER TRIAL IS IN PROGRESS

East Hereford Woman Being Tried in Montreal Court of King's Bench for Murder of Joseph Langlois, Hereford Hills Lumberman-Farmer.

Mrs. Wilfrid Beuparlant, nee Hermine Normandin, charged with the murder of Joseph Langlois, Hereford Hills lumberman-farmer, who was brutally killed near his home on June 1st last, appeared in the Court of King's Bench in Montreal today for trial.

Zephirin Fontaine, of East Hereford, who has been acquitted of Langlois' murder for reasons of insanity, is to be transferred from the local jail to Montreal today or tomorrow to testify in the Beuparlant case. Although he has been declared insane, it is understood that Fontaine will be permitted to render testimony for the crown in the probe into the circumstances surrounding the murder of Langlois. It will be up to the twelve jurors to believe what part of Fontaine's evidence is reasonable and true, and what part has been inspired by his abnormal condition.

Today's proceedings, it is expected, will be confined to the selection of a suitable jury to hear the case. Mrs. Beuparlant was granted a change of venue for her trial following Fontaine's hearing because the defence claimed she might suffer from prejudice at a local hearing.

The body of Joseph Langlois, who conducted a small lumber business in the Hereford Hills, was discovered on the highway leading from his home to Canaan, Vt., on the morning of June 2nd last, sprawled across the road, the head battered and crushed.

Detective James Haney, of the Provincial Police, investigating the case, discovered that Langlois had gone to Canaan, Vt., on June 1st last, accompanied by Zephirin Fontaine, an employee, to collect a sum of money on a note bearing the name of Alphonse Gobeil, of Rumford, Maine. Pending the opening of the coroner's inquest, Fontaine, who said that he had left Langlois in the American village and returned home on foot, was detained as a material witness. Haney also had three other employees held—namely, Mrs. Beuparlant, Joseph Beuchemin and George Beaugrand.

The police investigation revealed that the Gobeil note was forged. Several days before the coroner's inquest, Zephirin Fontaine confessed to the crime. He said that he had left Langlois in Canaan, proceeded towards Hereford Hills on foot, and waited in ambush for the lumberman, whom he assaulted and beat to death as he drove by in his car. Fontaine, Mrs. Beuparlant and Beuchemin were formally charged with Langlois' murder by a coroner's jury under Leonidas Bachand.

At his trial in Sherbrooke last fall, Fontaine testified that he and Mrs. Beuparlant had been in league with the spirits. He said that he had seen these spirits to kill Langlois, he said, or devils would "invade the world." In his testimony he indicated that he was strongly under the influence of the woman who is being tried in Montreal this week for Langlois' murder.

UNITED STATES LABOR TROUBLE STILL SERIOUS

Rioting Continues in New Orleans and Laurinburg, Although Conditions Are Quieter at Toledo.

Washington, May 28.—Calm prevailed today in the riot area of strike-torn Toledo, but New Orleans longshoremen and textile mill workers in Laurinburg, N.C., were continuing the injured after yesterday's riots.

Eight were reported wounded, one possibly fatally, in Laurinburg, in a night riot. Guns and brickbats were brought into play, after a parade by scores of strikers through the mill section.

The Prince Mill—last of the four units of Waverly Mills, Inc., to be affected by strikes—was "temporarily closed."

In an atmosphere of tension, United States government mediators in Toledo worked to avert a threatened general strike. State militia men patrolled the strike area, where five days of violence resulted in two dead and nearly two hundred injured.

Hope for a settlement by night-fall was expressed by mediators, led by Charles P. Taft, in the Electric Auto-Lite Company strike.

To become effective, the peace proposal must meet the approval of the union majority. Union members have been called to assemble at 7:30 p.m.

With more than half of the Toledo labor unions on record as approving a general strike in protest of labor conditions, mediators realized their work was barely begun. The Toledo Electrical Workers' Union has voted to strike on Thursday.

Striking longshoremen fought with police on the New Orleans riverfront, after rushing the dock where a steamship was preparing to embark.

A negro suffered a bullet wound in the arm and an officer's hand was broken.

QUIET REIGNS IN TROUBLED TOLEDO TODAY

Federal Mediators Bring Employers and Union Chiefs Together in Attempt to Avert General Strike Called for Thursday.

Toledo, O., May 28.—Five days of strike-born violence which has left a casualty list of two dead and nearly two hundred injured appeared to have ended today, but soldiers of the State of Ohio patrolled the strike area, alert for any sudden renewal of trouble.

Only a few stragglers disturbed the calm of the riot area during the night.

For the first time since violence flared, federal mediators, led by Charles P. Taft, brought union leaders and officials of the Electric Auto-Lite Company together over the same table cloth yesterday. They approached what Taft described as a "possibility of complete settlement."

As Taft labored to bring order out of the chaos at the auto plant, E. H. Dunningham, another federal mediator, sought to hold up a threatened general strike which certainly would bring more guardsmen and martial law here.

Workers have set Thursday as a tentative date for their walkout at the Toledo Edison Company.

There has been much talk of a strike of all union labor in sympathy with the strike in automotive plants. A meeting to further this proposal has been set for tomorrow night.

Federal mediators are now attempting to make a settlement of differences at all three automotive plants here where strikes are in progress. The Bingham Stamping and Tool Company and the Logan Gear Company are involved in the negotiations, along with the Auto-Lite Company.

ALD. BLAIS HAS RESIGNED FROM CITY COUNCIL

ation continues, Grenier sold the City 3,478 pounds of beef for which he received the sum of $541.58 from the municipal authorities. Mailhot, it is contended, helped Grenier to purchase this meat and by the transaction when it was sold to the city realized a profit of about ten per cent of the amount received.

Alderman Mailhot, since his election to office, according to the deputation, has continued to have an interest in different contracts with the city from which he "illegally and fraudulently" received benefit. Because of these reasons, it is requested that his election be annulled and that he be prevented from sitting on the Municipal Council for a period of five years.

Ald. Mailhot, it is understood, does not intend to resign from the Council, but will contest the action. It has been known that for some time past Alderman Blais has been in hot water. At the last regular meeting of the City Council he was the target for considerable criticism from his fellow aldermen. It was over the construction of a stone wall, or rather of two cement steps, on city property in front of the Blais residence on Champlain street.

The original intention of the City Council was to construct a stone wall along Champlain street. But the first thing the aldermen knew two five-foot holes had been dug on the street and plans were underway for two magnificent cement steps instead of the wall. The steps are supposed to cost one hundred and fifty dollars.

When the matter came before the Council meeting on Monday night last there was considerable discussion. No one knew who gave the order for the steps and Ald. Blais had little to say about it. Half of the aldermen present favored completing the work, but the other half protested. The Mayor had to cast the deciding vote, and he ruled that the work be completed.

Whether the construction of these steps had anything to do with Ald. Blais' resignation is a matter of speculation. It had been rumored that he also was to be served with papers in an effort to have him unseated, but no official action had been taken at the time he resigned.

However, he has now stepped out of municipal circles and apparently has no intention of reconsidering his action.

The Council will meet tonight to study the licence by-laws, and it is likely that some further action will take place during this session.

TRY THIS ON YOUR CANARY

Marysville, Kas., May 28.—What to do when the canary escapes its cage and settles in the branches of a high tree?

Turn a stream of water on the bird with a garden hose. Then the warbler flutters to earth with wings water-soaked and is easily recaptured.

John Wadham tried it here and it worked.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT ACTS TO HALT SECESSION

Large Counter-Petition Being Prepared to Western Australian Demands for Permission to Quit Commonwealth.

Melbourne, Australia, May 28.—Reports were current today that the Australian Government would take steps to prevent secession from the Commonwealth of Western Australia.

The Western Australia administration has circulated a petition seeking to gain support in its proposal to break away from the Commonwealth on the ground its interests are not served by association in the federation. The Commonwealth Government already has appointed four residents of Western Australia to prepare a case against secession.

Well-informed quarters said they expected that if the state sent a petition asking the King's authority for secession the Commonwealth would present a counter-petition to His Majesty.

EIGHT ONTARIO RESIDENTS MET VIOLENT DEATH

Highway Accidents, Drownings, Burns and Poison Cause of Series of Week-End Fatalities.

Toronto, May 28.—Eight persons met violent deaths in Ontario week-end accidents. Automobile accidents took four lives, a child died of burns. Two men were drowned, one in an overflowing bathtub, and one died from poison, believed to have been self-administered. In addition, the authorities found bodies of two persons drowned previously.

In London seven-year-old Phyllis Wright was fatally injured Saturday when she was struck by an automobile driven by Rev. William Cutlip, of Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Cutlip was charged with criminal negligence. Frederick H. Simms, aged forty-one, a Toronto house painter, was injured fatally Saturday night when he stepped from a street car into the path of an automobile.

John Jacob Hopper, twenty-one, of Toronto, was fatally injured yesterday when his motorcycle collided with a car. Frank Krueziel, aged thirty-four, a gardener, was fatally hurt Saturday night in a collision between his bicycle and an automobile driven by David Anderson, of Milton. The accident occurred at Cookville.

Near St. Catharines, Walter Dalton, of Grantham Township, was drowned on Saturday night when his automobile plunged from a highway into the Welland ship canal.

The other drowning victim was Louis A. Boehmer, eighty-two, of Kitchener. Members of his family found his body submerged in an overflowing bathtub at his home. In Toronto the body of Ernest Reid, aged forty-four, was found in the Don Valley. Beside it lay an empty bottle that had contained poison.

In his pocket was a note reading: "I could not live any longer. I am your sister." The significance of the second sentence was not established. Nine-year-old Jessie Johnstone, of Simcoe, died in hospital on Sunday from burns suffered Saturday night when her clothes caught fire as she watched a bon fire.

At Sarnia, Elias James was accorded a military funeral yesterday after his body had been brought from Marysville, Mich., where it was found in the St. Clair River. James and a companion, Fred Williams, had been missing since November 12th, when the altered wreck of the St. Clair River in a row boat. Both were residents of the Sarnia Indian reserve.

From Hamilton Bay yesterday police recovered the body of James Mitchell, twenty-one, of Paris, Ont. He had been missing since May 16th, when the body was found on the shore of the bay. He was said to have suffered from a nervous disorder.

ITALY THRILLS TODAY AT GLAD OFFICIAL TIDINGS

Crown Princess Marie Jose Will Present King Victor Emanuel and Queen Elena with Grandchild Who, if a Boy, May One Day Be King.

Rome, May 28.—Italy thrilled to the glad official tidings that Crown Princess Marie Jose will present King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena with a grandchild, who, if a boy, may one day be King of Italy. The announcement was made in the form of a communique from Duke Borea Dolmo, 102-year-old prefect of the Royal Palace, to the president of the Chamber of Deputies, Count Ciano.

It said the child would be born in about five months. The name of the child was to be conveyed to the Senate, Marie Jose will be twenty-eight on August 4.

Italy, which has been waiting for several years for this announcement, rejoiced unrestrainedly today. This kingdom has, in fact, been impatient. Crown Prince Humbert and Princess Marie, daughter of the late King Albert of Belgium, were married January 8, 1930.

"I want some cigarettes for my nephew," she said. "Certainly, madame," said the tobaccoist. "What particular brand does he smoke?" "Oh, dear," said the old lady, "I really forgot the name, but it's in one of the advertisements speak of so highly."

Upward Movement in New York Proved Stimulus to Elevate List as a Whole on Montreal Stock Exchange.

Montreal, May 28.—Encouraged by the upward movement in New York, Montreal Stock Exchange listings displayed a higher trend in the early dealings today. Canadian Industrial Alcohol issues, which have been quiet the last few weeks, moved forward with the "A" rising 1/4 and the "B" stock 1/4. OLD JIM.

George Gordon Payne.

When troubles heaped upon his head,
So that his eyes saw nought but red,
He did not whimper like a child
Or tear his hair in manner wild,
For Jim was made of sterner stuff;
He never said, "That's quite enough!"

When grief had made its presence known,
You'd never know it by its tone:
The smile you saw upon his face
Was, as usual, in its place,
For Jim in speech was never gruff,<
He came from a line of sterner stuff.

And, then, when there came that day
The ambulance took Jim away,
The only thing that he did beg
Was not to speak of his broken leg.
Although lacerated nerves were rough,
Old Jim was made of sterner stuff.

He never whined, he never cried,
Even though he might have died;
In fact, he never thought of doubt,
For in his heart his faith was stout,
For Jim was made of sterner stuff,
And that, we felt, was true enough.

WILL ANY MAN AMONG MEN TAKE EXCEPTION TO THIS POLICY?

Why do I criticize governmental folly and extravagance with plain-spoken vehemence? Why? The Opposition cannot perform, nor be held responsible for aught but past errors, and cannot be held accountable except for their graveyard.

In this English corner of Quebec we live but three generations away from the days when the pioneer forbears carved a forest wilderness into fertile gardens of plenty.

Thrifty and saving men, sturdy and energetic, grappled with the virgin wilderness of forest and hills, where before but Indian warwhoops and invading armies had ventured, and they cultivated farms and created industry.

That their labours of love shall be jeopardized by the paternalization schemes of men who turn up their noses at honest toil, we can only say that the mountain tops, "Thou shalt not pass!"

We are the richest rural and industrial corner in the Province of Quebec. We have been rudely harried by the taxgatherers because of that reputation; we except the Island of Montreal.

We have bugled the call to "Halt!" That we may preserve to those who carry the torch and hand it on to the next in the race we shall support for future selection only candidates who will subscribe and whom we believe will carry out the tenets they subscribe to. Nor shall that be the last which fathers and grandfathers earned by the sweat of their brow.

Ours is not a loss of confidence, but rather do we blazon forth a purpose of achievement and a promise of a return to the people of their right to rights won.

This may be a task of a few years. It is not idle persiflage nor yet any spirit of despondency, but rather a deep-toned promise of achievement and of a constructive purpose that we shall hand down unimpaired to our successors that to which we succeeded.

GET BACK ON THE RIGHT SIDE OF ECONOMY.

The injury done to Quebec Province by those members who persistently advocated a return to the low level of lotteries may in good time be wiped out by repentance or penitence, but the attitude of the pork barrel gang on the Translation bill is not calculated to aid our province in rehabilitation. The translation bill does not aim at abolition of the need of the dual language and its full recognition. It is simply an effort to organize the staff of translators so that each man on it does his fair share of work. The lotterer and the corridor bound will be eliminated. It is a bill which aims at practical economy.

Why should the predatory members of Quebec from the Ottawa district be ever arraigned against measures of economy? They would give to our Province a black eye and translate to the world an opinion diametric to the tenets of Quebec and the habitants. We are a thrifty and economic people in Quebec province, and I think the day has long gone by when there will be found any applause to the member who winks his eyes, shrugs his shoulders and hugs himself at the thought that he has tapped a new hole in the pork barrel.

In a recent committee inquiry into the waste and extravagance in maintaining the regiment of translators at the Capital, the clever, comic and oftentimes clownish Mr. Pouliot, of Temiscouata, showed that he was a quitter inside the ropes of a clean-cut inquiry. He was supporting the perennial Civil Service Employment advocate, Dr. Chevrier, of Ottawa.

An interesting recollection of politics at the Capital returns for the moment. It was in 1904, whilst I was editor and publisher of the Ottawa Free Press, an ancient journal whose subscribers were all rabid Liberals, and were behind the greatest Lobbygow ever carried to a finish in Ottawa—the Grand Trunk Pacific—where Charles M. Hays put it all over Sir Wilfrid, whose business acumen was Arthabaska high.

I was strongly supporting the Hon. E. H. Bronson as the Liberal candidate at the convention to choose the men for the 1904 general elections. He would have swept the convention. I made the error of coupling Bronson, a man of high prestige and unblemished reputation, with a young lawyer named Belcourt, who afterwards used his position to multiply his own practice, and was a self-proven lobbyist for a client on a commission basis.

The "machine" argued that Bronson was too straight and honest for service where big railway contracts were in sight, and at their instigation Sir Wilfrid asked Mr. Bronson to retire, and allow the lobbyists to put up a man of no consequence, who made his insurance office an employment agency. So deplorable did he make the situation of seeking a government job that the Civil Service Commission was erected as a future protection.

Dr. Chevrier, the Liberal member for Ottawa, has a rather weak or careless partner in his English Liberal running mate, but he is always willing to prove to the civil service employees that "Codlin's your friend—not Short." He is somewhat flagrant about it, and actually fights the plan for economic co-ordination of the printing and translating staff, as he thinks Ottawa may lose a few thousands a year, whilst the taxpayers gain a modicum of relief.

We would have the Quebec members study this co-ordination measure, and get themselves aligned for the right, as future elections are to be fought on economic policies and relief for the taxpayers.

CONTROL THE SMALL MIND BY GEOGRAPHIC REVISION.

The rebuke given by the Royal Society to the busy name changers applies to other of the rough-neck variety who would destroy old landmarks and cut down trees in a park. Rightfully, the members of the Royal Society of Canada demand that the name of Cumberland Harbour be changed back to its original cognomen of Jacques Cartier Bay. It is the traditional landing place of Jacques Cartier when he sailed from St. Malo and stepped ashore in Canada, which was then called New France.

There has been too much of this constant violation of the ethics of history. We might commend the elimination from the map of a name like Rat Portage, but to change Glen Iver to St. Elie d'Orford, or Brompton Falls to Bromptonville, only displays the crude and uncultured.

Few people in Quebec like the prefix of "Saint" to the name of any place, for it denotes an absence of intellect and originality; and it also applies the diminutive as much as does the affix of "ville." It is akin to the naming of a wee lad "petit Louis," when he afterwards grows to be as big and brave as Louis Cyr, the Strong Man.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

The futility of the scrap between Paraguay and Bolivia may only excite our interest as do the battles related by Dean Swift in his parody of "Gulliver's Travels." The Dean pictured a war between two nations because they differed on the question of which end of an egg should be uppermost when it was placed in an egg cup.

But these little South American nations, Spanish in their nomenclature, could be retarded in their disturbances of the atmosphere if the League of Nations would declare contraband of war to be fair prey for any nation. Thus might we send down our fleet of four fishing war boats and capture enough ammunition in transit for the next hunting season.

When the right copy of Hansard reaches this pen I shall encourage those who rejected decisively the proposed bill to legalize that iniquitous thing, a sweepstake or lottery, and shall likewise discourage the half-hundred hard-boiled creatures who would boast of their poker trend.

The Marketing Bill is just as promising and just as empty as has been the fulfilment of other promises which can never be carried out until a start is made.

What Editors Say

GOODWILL.

St. Catharines Standard.
The Boston Globe remarks: "If some of the perpetually wrangling nationalistic entities in Europe could deduce the lesson of Canadian-American relations, peace would be served better than it is today."

And to substantiate the above in full, we have witnessed two nice gestures of goodwill, both translated into realities in the past week or two.

We regard the decision of Homer S. Cummings, Attorney-General of the United States, that no good purpose would be served by "snatching away Frank Grigware alias James Fahey," naturalized Canadian citizen of Jasper, Alta., who escaped from Leavenworth many years ago, as one which will meet a hearty response from every Canadian. As is well known Fahey has made an exemplary Canadian citizen, and his good citizenship over a long period of years during which he married and has become the father of three fine children is almost convincing proof that he might have been wrongly convicted in the United States.

The other recent gesture of goodwill was the decision to return the Mace, emblem of authority of the hundreds of the United States taken at the time York was burned by the invading American troops in the War of 1812.

And if further evidence of fine goodwill is necessary, all we have to do is to point to the visit of so many hundreds from New York and Pennsylvania States here on Monday and Tuesday under the aegis of Rotary.

As between Canada and the United States, there aren't even any differences to sit around the table and talk about. The cordial relations between the two people in both countries will never permit a government in either to head toward trouble.

THEY ARE GREAT TRADERS.

Kingsport Whig-Standard.
Judging by per capita figures of trade, the people of the northern part of North America are the great traders of the continent.

During the ten years from 1923 to 1933 domestic exports of Canada were of the average value of $49.79 as compared with an average of $14.31 for the United States and $36.21 for the United Kingdom. The same period the average value of imports by Canada was $37.00 as compared with $12.75 for the United States and $61.76 for the United Kingdom. The average value of total trade was thus $86.79 for Canada, $29.06 for the United States and $97.97 for the United Kingdom.

Britain stands at the top as a trading nation. In proportion to population Canada is not so very far behind. On the same basis, this country stands far above the United States.

TOO MUCH TALK.

Owen Sound Sun-Times.
For more than three months the present session of Parliament has been dragging on at Ottawa, and the end is not in sight. Indications are that it will go well into the summer before the slate is cleaned and the members permitted to get back to their homes. Without minimizing the importance of the most of the legislation which comes before the House, and without desiring to stifle expression of opinion, it is certain that a great deal of time could be saved. Altogether too much time is wasted in talking politics without discussing the subject under debate. These political speeches should be saved up for the hustings. The people should not be asked to pay out their good money for politicians to find fault with each other. Political differences should be relegated to the background in favor of constructive suggestion.

STRAP IS BETTER.

Fort Erie Times-Review.
Magistrate J. C. Massie, who presides in police courts from Ridgeway to Cayuga, has fallen about Buffalo ministers through giving persons convicted in his court the alternative of a spanking with the flat strap or a jail sentence. The ministers refer to the administration of the strap as a brutal and barbarous practice.

This is denied by Magistrate Massie and by Sheriff Victor L. Davidson, of Welland, whose staff administers the punishment. The sheriff points out that records prove the effectiveness of the strap as a deterrent to crime cannot be denied. We are inclined to believe that a good old-fashioned spanking with the broad strap is more likely to turn a youth from the crooked way than is a brief jail sentence. During his confinement he is thrown in contact with men who have been "in" more than once, and who are coming to regard the jail terms rather lightly.

LIVING BEYOND AGE OF A 100 IS NOT SO MUCH FUN

Mrs. Eliza Gage Wade, of Ridgefield, Conn., Will Celebrate Her 104th Birthday Tomorrow.

Ridgefield, Conn., May 28.—To Mrs. Eliza Gage Wade, living beyond the age of one hundred years isn't so much fun.

And she speaks with some authority, for yesterday she observed her one hundred and fourth birthday anniversary.

"If anyone tells you it's fun to live to be one hundred and over," she said, "don't believe him. I always wanted to have a large family and to die at an early age. Here I am, 104, and living with my only daughter."

She recalled that recently she displayed a little awkwardness in stirring her afternoon cup of tea and remarked:

"Anybody would think I was an old woman."

A slight woman weighing less than fifty pounds, Mrs. Wade spent her birthday quietly.

RUSSIAN PRINCESS FINDS MONTREAL HARDENED TOWN

Following Acquittal on Charge of Jumping Hotel-Bill Is Arrested for Shop-Lifting—Also Faces Deportation.

Montreal, May 28.—Acquitted a few weeks ago of a charge of "jumping" a hotel bill, Anna Tokareff, self-styled Russian princess of the Czarist regime, reappeared in Montreal, accused of stealing a dress from a local department store. She pleaded not guilty, and was remanded for trial May 31st.

Her lawyer, Paul Desy, told reporters something of his client's colorful history after the arraignment. She claims that she was a princess prior to the Red Revolution, and that she travelled with the White Army immediately after the Bolshevik triumph. Her father and her husband were killed by the Reds in 1918, she says. Escaping from Russia, she came to the United States as an exile. She entered Canada about five months ago.

Princess Tokareff denies categorically the charge against her, asserting that she has been "framed." Officers of the Immigration Department, however, told the judge that

JAPS WORRIED AT BRAZIL'S PLAN TO CURB IMMIGRATION

Hope South American Nation Will Find Means to Prevent or Postpone Enforcement of New Law.

Tokyo, May 28.—Grave concern was expressed by the Japanese Government concerning prospects of a drastic reduction of Japanese immigration to Brazil.

A Government spokesman said he hoped the Brazilian Government valued the friendship of Japan, and that the South American nation would find a means to prevent or indefinitely postpone the enforcement of a new restriction law.

Savings deposits were up $9,000,000 as compared with March but $25,000,000 less than a year ago.

Whatever the result of her present trial, they want her on charges of entering Canada illegally.

PLAN METHODS OF PROMOTING WORLD PEACE

Delegates from All Parts of Canada Attended Annual Meeting of League of Nations Society.

Ottawa, May 28.—Plans for another year's activity in promoting the ideals of world peace and international co-operation throughout Canada are complete following the annual meeting of the League of Nations Society in Canada.

Delegates from all parts of Canada attended the meeting and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice, was re-elected president. Resolutions passed declared for:

1. Creation of a separate department of external affairs in the Canadian Government headed by a full-time minister.

2. An investigation of the private traffic in arms by a parliamentary committee in Great Britain.

3. Improvement in the machinery for the settlement of international disputes including the negotiation of an arbitration treaty between Canada and the United States.

4. Canadian support for the League of Nations towards the reduction of armaments, rationing of key minerals, abolition of armament manufacture for private profit, internationalization of civil aviation and creation of an international air police force within five years.

5. Steps in Canada to promote social justice and moral disarmament.

CALL LOANS FOR APRIL SHOWED LARGE INCREASE

$13,000,000 Greater than in March and Nearly $40,000,000 Greater than Last Year.

Ottawa, May 28.—Call loans outside of Canada at the end of April, 1934, were $13,000,000 greater than on the same day in March and nearly $40,000,000 greater than on the same day in 1933, according to the monthly bank statement made public today. Call Loans within Canada were slightly less than the previous month but more than $6,000,000 greater than a year ago. Current deposits were up $40,000,000 as compared with the previous month and about $25,000,000 as compared with a year ago. VALUE OF FISH CATCH HIGHER IN PAST YEAR

Quebec Fishermen Received 21.5 Per Cent. More Money for Catch in 1933 than in 1932, Says Minister.

Quebec, May 28.—Fisheries of the province have now gone through the worst of the crisis, according to Hon. Hector Laferte, Minister of Colonization, Game and Fisheries, who expects that the 1934 season would see improvement in the fishery regions of the province, based on information supplied by F. M. Gloat, superintendent of maritime fisheries, and officials of the department, in addition to federal statistics, which indicate such improvement.

"In the course of the year 1933 our fishermen caught 83,336,100 pounds of fish, an increase of one million and a half pounds of fish over the preceding year. The fishery specially affected are cod, salmon and eels," stated Hon. Mr. Laferte.

"The increase is also seen in the value of the catches, $2,128,471 in 1933, as compared to $1,815,544 in 1932. This is more than seventeen per cent. increase. It may be stated that since 1929 the value of the production has decreased.

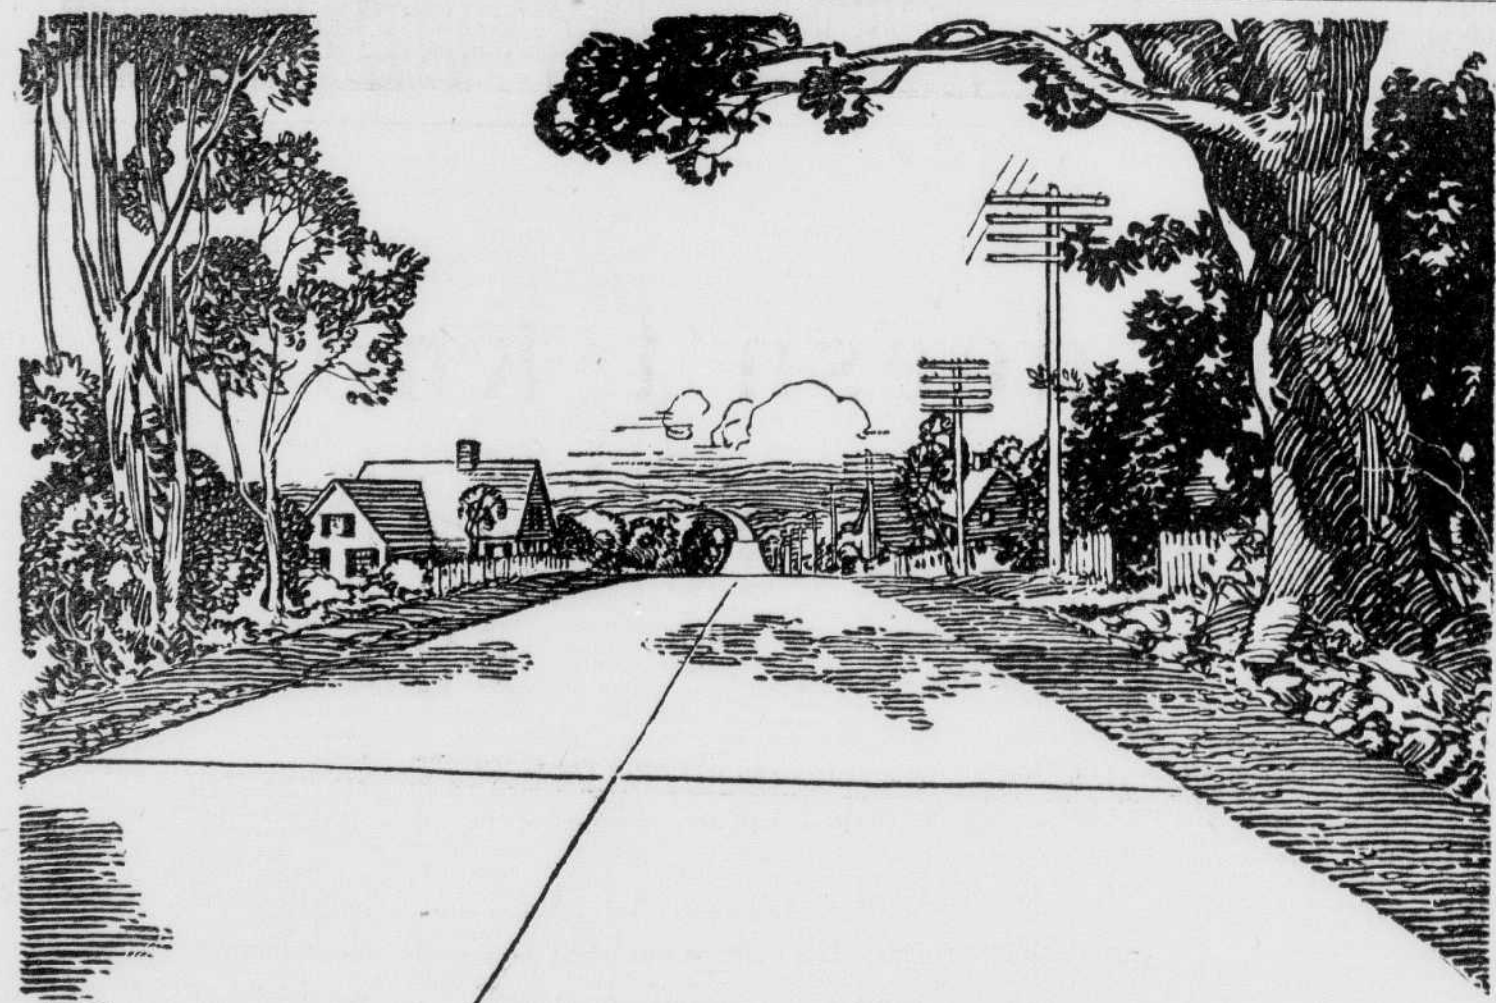

"This increase of seventeen per cent. in the value seems to indicate that the worst is over for our fishermen and that better years are in sight."

A point on which Hon. Hector Laferte insisted is that while the increase in the value of the catches was of seventeen per cent., the increase in the amounts paid to fishermen themselves reached 21.5 per cent. He thought this proved a justification of the efforts made by his department to improve the conditions of the Quebec fishermen. He also saw in those results the success of the efforts of the officials of the department with the co-operation of the representatives of the counties affected in the Legislature.

RECORD WORLD LONG DISTANCE FLIGHT PLANNED

Canadian Pilot and Companion Will Attempt Flight from Toronto to Baghdad Early in July.

London, May 28.—Flying Searfarer the Second, formerly the Molisons' plane, L. G. Reid, a Canadian pilot living in London, and J. R. Ayling, of Berkhamstead, hope to set up a new world long distance record flight from Toronto, Canada, to Baghdad, early in July. As a preliminary the Searfarer took off from Pending Sands, Car-marthenshire, Saturday and flew to Hatfield, Hertfordshire, with a load of 400 gallons of petrol representing a weight of 6,000 pounds. Reid and Ayling piloted the plane. They said the maximum load from Toronto to Baghdad would be 7,200 pounds.

CANADIAN WATERS ATTRACT MANY FOREIGN FISHERMEN

Speckled Trout in Rivers of Eastern and Central Canada Chief Attraction for Disciples of Isaac Walton.

Montreal, May 28.—Canada has during recent years taken her place as one of the great playgrounds of the world. Millions of tourists visit the Dominion yearly to enjoy her recreational attractions, and of all outdoor attractions angling is among the greatest.

The interior waters of Canada comprise one of the outstanding geographical features of the country. Exclusive of the Great Lakes, the combined area of the larger Canadian lakes is about 78,000 square miles. The combined length of the principal rivers is more than 47,000 miles. In addition there are the thousands of small lakes and rivers many of which are not shown on any charts or maps. In these waters the angler is offered a variety of fish under a diversity of conditions not found in any other country.

The Atlantic salmon is with many the most prized fish of all. It is taken in the coastal rivers of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and eastern Quebec. The speckled trout, however, attracts a greater number of anglers than does the salmon. It occurs in the provinces of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario, and Manitoba.

LOCH NESS MONSTER AGAIN SPRINGS INTO LIMELIGHT

Mysterious Dog-Faced Terror, which Was Last Reported Dead on Beach Near River Ness, Now Said to Have Been Swimming About for Twenty Minutes.

Fort Augustus, Inverness, Scotland, May 28.—The mysterious Loch Ness monster appears to have nine lives, natives of this district reflected today after Brother Richard Horan of St. Benoit Abbey, Fort Augustus, reported seeing it swim about for some twenty minutes.

The dog-faced terror was last reported dead on the beach near the outlet of the River Ness. Brother Horan, whose testimony was corroborated by three other persons, declared he saw a creature with a neck like a serpent's body. It stayed above water until a motor boat roared out, he said.

Last week a London dentist found on the beach near Loch Ness the body of a creature thirteen feet long with a head like a dog and a long serpent-like body. He took the head to Col. Hamilton of the London Zoo, who identified it as a rarity with a big name which translated into "King Herring." It was thought to have been the monster himself.

She doesn't know how you do it!

YOU feel a little embarrassed and sorry for her. She looks so admiring and helpless, so envious, and so—so—ineffective!

Her clothes are always so bad, poor little thing. And she pays too much for them. Her home is furnished with all the wrong things. She seems to have a genius for wasting money. When she goes out to buy anything, soap or silverware, or lingerie or lamps, she's sure to turn up with something nobody ever heard of before and doesn't want to hear of again.

She is that eager, but not very bright, little woman who, "my dear, doesn't ever read advertisements." Who doesn't know what to buy, or where to find it, or what to pay for it. Who doesn't know values and can't compare them. Who doesn't know that when a new style, or a new convenience, or a new anything arrives, one sees it first in the advertisements.

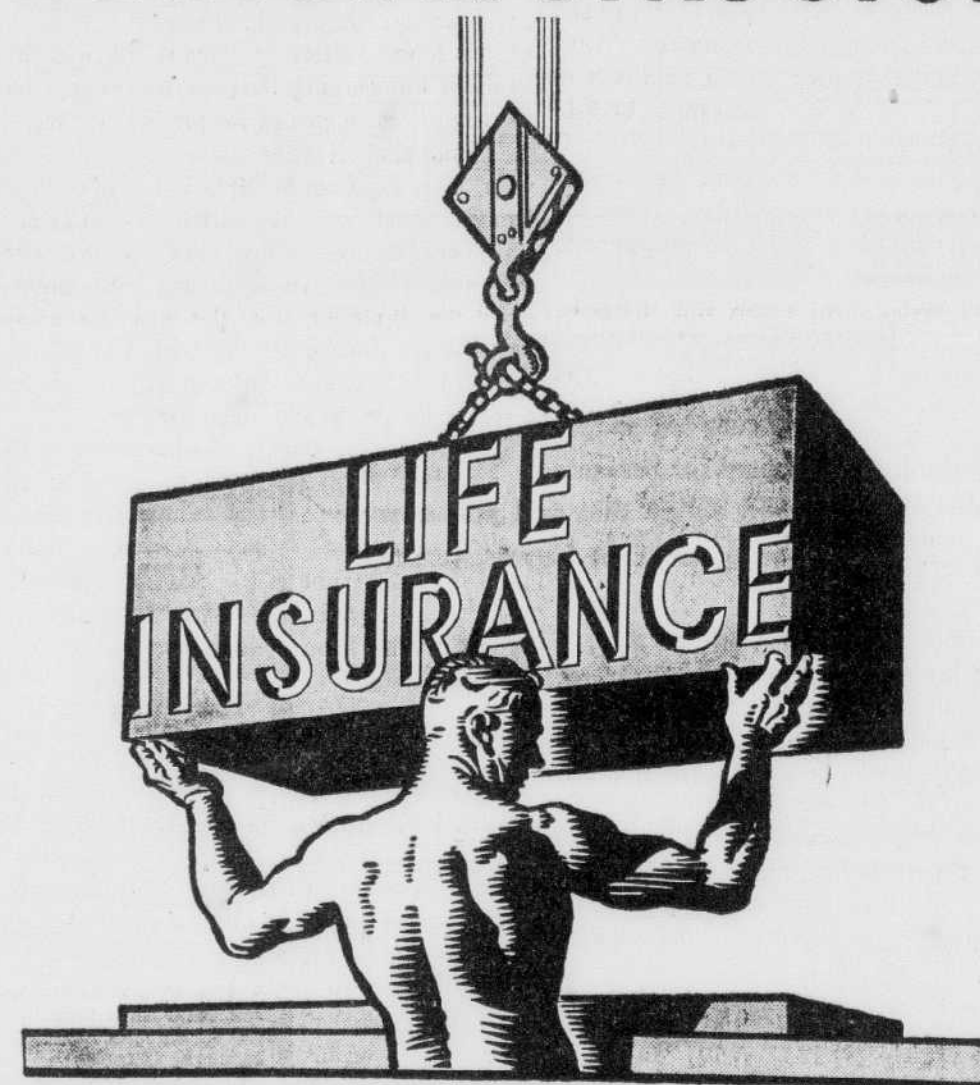

One really gets a little vexed with her—

But let's not waste too much time on her. It's about time for you, dear lady, to have your daily look through the advertisements.

To stand the test of advertising merchandise must be good.

EFFORTS OF ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS PRAISED

A large number of the local lodge of the Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs attended divine service yesterday morning at Plymouth United Church. The sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Elmer Read was on the subject of "Enduring Friendship" and was based on the text, "A friend loveth at all times," Proverbs 17:17, and the words of Christ, "I have called you friends," St. John 15:15.

Previous to the sermon Dr. Read cordially welcomed the visiting lodge and spoke appreciatively of the good work the Order is accomplishing in the promotion of fraternal relations and mutual helpfulness.

The choral service included an opening Sanctus, by Tours, the anthem, "In the Beginning," Darnton, and a solo by Mrs. Wright Gibson, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," Brahms. At the united service in the evening, conducted by the Rev. Dr. Lennox, Dr. Read preached on "Starry Souls." In the course of his sermon he contrasted the care bestowed on the body with the neglect of the soul's life, and said that the latter was the supreme tragedy of multitudes of men and women. The cult of the body had superseded the cult of the soul to man's great and eternal loss. He urged that all present should seriously give themselves to the cultivation of those qualities of life that have eternal values.

A trio "Through The Coming Night," Curshman, was sung by Mrs. Wright Gibson, Mrs. J. G. Ransehouan and Miss Ransehouan.

CITIZENS PAY
LAST TRIBUTE
TO MRS. WRIGHT

Funeral of Prominent East Sherbrooke Resident on Saturday Afternoon Largely Attended.

Hundreds of Sherbrooke residents and citizens from surrounding towns gathered at the Church of the Advent on Saturday to pay their last tribute of respect to Mrs. William Wright, whose death took place on Thursday following a long and painful illness. The church, of which Mrs. Wright had been one of the principal supporters for the past thirty years of her residence in Sherbrooke, was inadequate to house the large gathering, many of whom were forced to remain outside.

The solemn funeral service was taken by Rev. E. H. Humphries, rector, who also conducted the service at the grave. During the church service two hymns were sung, "Abide With Me" and "Peace, Perfect Peace," with Mrs. J. H. Wark presiding at the organ.

The pall bearers were Messrs. T. F. Davidson, Granby, W. N. Munro, Auburn, Me., John Morkill, W. R. Webster and C. A. French, and the flower-covered casket was borne to its last resting place by Messrs. Wright Gibson, Andrew Gibson, Herbert Gibson and Leland Gibson, nephews of Mr. Wright, Clifford Bryant and Porter Bangs.

The principal mourners were her husband, Mr. William Wright, her daughter, Irene, Mrs. Roland Bauger, and Mr. Badger, Mrs. W. H. Brown, of Derby Line, a sister, and Mr. Brown, Mrs. E. W. S. Gibson, Danville, and Mrs. W. W. Gibson, Sherbrooke.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Davidson, and Miss Gwen Davidson, of Granby; W. N. Munro, of Auburn, Me.; C. H. Cleveland, O. M. J. Ingers, J. H. Boutelle and Arthur Burbank, of Danville; and Mrs. S. R. Badger and Mrs. W. S. Bauger, of Derby Line, a cousin.

Well and favorably known in Sherbrooke social and charitable circles, Mrs. Wright, the wife of the proprietor of the New Sherbrooke House, was born at Nicolet, Que., in 1859, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Hall. In 1902 she was married to William Wright, of Sherbrooke, and came here to reside in that year.

Aside from her home, beautifully situated on Woodward avenue in East Sherbrooke, her main interests were in the little Anglican Church in East Sherbrooke, and it is in no small measure due to her generosity that this institution was able to carry on in its earlier days. The East Ward school was also the recipient of many acts of kindness from her.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright had three daughters. The eldest, Mary Almira, died in infancy and Bertha Elizabeth passed away eight years ago last April. The youngest, Irene Ruth, Mrs. R. A. Badger, resides in Sherbrooke. In addition to her husband and daughter, Mrs. Wright leaves one sister, Mrs. W. H. Brown, of Derby Line, and several more distant relatives to mourn her loss.

LAST CHANCE—FINE ART PAINTINGS

Mr. F. Ramus, fine art dealer, will positively close his exhibition on Tuesday evening at 10 p.m. If there are a few things which you need out of this exquisite collection, you had better get in touch with Mr. Ramus at once at 78 Wellington St. North. Mr. Ramus further wishes to inform you that rather than pack a lot of these fine oil paintings, he will sacrifice them at very low figures, and no reasonable offer will be refused.

MAYOR BRADLEY TO ATTEND OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Mayor F. H. Bradley will form part of the delegation of mayors of Quebec cities and towns which will go to Ottawa on June 8th to press their appeal to Premier R. B. Bennett for relief of the municipal treasury from one-third of the cost of the direct unemployment dole as now in force.

The Mayor said this morning that he did not know exactly what the nature of the matters to be discussed with the Prime Minister were, but he had been invited to Montreal on June 7th to make preparations for the visit to Ottawa.

Other questions of municipal finance will also be discussed at the meeting, but that of the dole is considered the most important.

BENEFITS OF CONTACT WITH THE DIVINE

The usual morning service was conducted yesterday in Trinity United Church by its pastor, Rev. Dr. Walter S. Lennox, who took as his text, Judges 6, verses 1 and 2, "Showering fire, the transformation wrought in Gideon by his contact with God, Dr. Lennox illustrated how such contacts with the Divine brought out the latent powers and the hidden splendors in all lives that experienced them.

During the service the choir rendered the anthem, "Springs In The Desert," composed by Arthur Jennings, and Miss Thekla Crawford, of Lennoxville, sang "Thanks Be To God," Dickson.

The Sunday School session was held at the usual summer period hour of 10 a.m. and the Trinity Brotherhood sang in Wesley Hall at 2 p.m. and studied under Dr. Lennox's guidance, "The Moslem Faith and its Founder."

GRACEFUL SWIMMING EXHIBITION BY Y. W. C. A. GIRLS

Disporting themselves like graceful mermaids in the pool at the MacKinnon Memorial, members of the Y. W. C. A. swimming classes gave a spectacular and delightful demonstration on Saturday afternoon. Under the direction of Miss Emma Hayes, their instructor, the various strokes, breathing exercises, diving and several aquatic "stunts" were executed with amazing dexterity and grace. The events followed one another in rapid succession, and during the hour of demonstration there was not one dull moment for the spectators, who clearly showed their enjoyment and appreciation by very generous and continued applause.

In the dog paddle, an amusing and splashy number, the following juniors participated: Doris Gallinger, Phyllis Bean, Carol Jamieson, Evelyn Woolton, Margaret Earnshaw, Shirley Walter and Roberta Milne. A demonstration of the work accomplished during the month of May by the pupils who took advantage of the four free swimming lessons revealed almost unbelievable progress in so short a time. The several strokes were cleverly portrayed as follows: breast stroke, by Sally Suckling, Ruth Ewing, Ellen McCrea, Doris Wardleworth and Olivelette Roy; side stroke, by Ruth Ewing, Sally Suckling, Doris Gallinger, Patty Webster, Olivelette Roy and Florence Pearson; board stroke, by Patty Webster and Olivelette Roy; sculling, by Olivelette Roy and Rose Brian; crawl breathing, by Gertrude Alison, Uldene Parfement and Roberta Milne; and dead man's float, by Uldene Parfement and Phyllis Bean, who also demonstrated breathing with head turning, crawl kick and arm stroke. The complete crawl stroke was exhibited by Patty Webster, Rose Brian, Olivelette Roy and Irene Wardleworth, and the back crawl by Florence Pearson and Irene Wardleworth.

The balloon race is ever a special feature at a swimming demonstration, and the pretty event was charmingly done on Saturday by Shirley Witter, Ellen McCrea, Doris Gallinger, Eva Woodson, Phyllis Bean and Carol Jamieson. The amusing stunt race of "hanging out the wash" at either end of the pool was staged by Patty Webster, Sally Suckling and Irene Wardleworth, vs. Gertrude Alison, Ruth Ewing and Olivelette Roy, who hung their articles just a little ahead of their rivals.

Swimming under water, diving for bricks, diving off the board and standing and racing dives were all well done. Four clever "stunts" included: the spinning top, by Ruth Ewing, who stretched somersault by Patty Webster and waterwheel, by Irene Wardleworth, who with Patty Webster cleverly portrayed the "porpoise."

At the conclusion of the regular programme the torch assembly plunged into the pool and a jolly "spinal party" closed most spectacularly the successful and entertaining swimming demonstration for 1934.

OPTIMISM FOR BETTER TIMES IS EXPRESSED

Low Point of Depression Has Been Passed and Conditions Generally Are on Upgrade, Declared Charles B. Howard Before Life Underwriters' Association.

A ring of optimism for better days and advice to the financial leaders responsible for the depression of the past four years to replace personal cupidity with an interest for the general public were the keynote struck in addresses delivered at a breakfast sponsored by the Life Underwriters' Association at the New Sherbrooke House this morning that marked the inauguration of financial independence week.

The breakfast, presided over by H. A. Peabody, president of the local branch of the Life Underwriters, was attended by a large number of local business and professional men. The speakers included His Worship, Mayor F. H. Bradley, Howard, M.P. for Sherbrooke, and Mayor Bradley appealed to all to take a greater interest in the civic welfare of Sherbrooke. "Do not be backward in your suggestions and advice to improve our city," he said.

Speaking briefly, Charles B. Howard struck a note of optimism for more prosperous times, declaring that the low point of the depression was struck in April, 1933, and that since that time conditions generally in this country and other parts of the world have been on the upgrade. "And now the low point of the depression has been passed," he said, "we can look forward to brighter days, to a return to the prosperity that was ours a few years ago."

Mr. Howard congratulated the insurance men on the fact that they are carrying on, stating that they are rendering a real service to the country. "Your opportunities now," he continued, "are better than they ever were before."

The greatest crisis that the world has known, stated Judge J. J. Lemay, was the result of financial leaders directly responsible for the depression failing to follow certain principles that should always be remembered. "We have not yet completely emerged from the dark shadows of depression," he continued, "and those principles will have to be followed if we are to emerge successfully, once and for all time. The present crisis was not brought about by the wheat growing in our fields, or the gold in our mines—it was the result of financial leaders of the day pursuing personal cupidity to dominate enterprise. They exploited certain industries and concentrated on mass production, forgetting the small man, the consumer, for whom, after all, production is meant. This personal cupidity must be replaced by an interest for the general public."

Mr. Peabody stressed the fine work accomplished by insurance companies during the past four years, and stated that an average of $400,000 is paid out to Canadian policy-holders every day.

Life insurance in Canada has a greater investment in government and municipal bonds than all the chartered banks combined. Mr. Peabody continued, "Its loans on real estate are double those of all the mortgage and trust companies combined. Its funds represent a greater total than the total deposits of all banks, trust companies and government depositories combined." Brief addresses were also delivered by B. N. Holtham and L. Grosjean.

MARRIAGES

LOBLEY—BRAMFITT

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place on Saturday, May 12, when Gladys Mary, only daughter of Mr. M. E. Bramfitt, of Farsley, England, and the late Mrs. Bramfitt, and Stanley Barker Lolley, son of Mr. Walter Lolley, of Wallingford, England, and the late Mrs. Lolley, were united in marriage. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's cousin, Miss E. Ducker, on the Lower Belvidere Road, Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennox, pastor of Trinity United Church, officiated.

The room where the ceremony took place was beautifully decorated, the color scheme being carried out in pink and white and the bride and groom stood under an archway covered with smiles and spring flowers, the decorations being the work of friends of the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. G. E. Hollingdrake, of Montreal, looked charming in a frock of grey silk crepe, trimmed with navy blue, gray hat, and gray shoes and stockings. She wore a corsage of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Edwina Ducker, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant, and was gowning simply in navy blue with trimmings in gray and wore a corsage of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Clifford Cilles, friend of the groom, acted as best man. Following the ceremony, the happy couple received the congratulations and best wishes of the guests, after which the wedding supper was served in the dining room, the decorations being carried out in pink and white. The beautifully decorated wedding cake, centred the table, which was adorned with pink and white sweet peas in silver vases.

Later the young couple left for their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a gray dress with gray coat of English tweed and accessories to match, and wore on her arm a beautiful pearl bracelet, the gift of the groom.

The bride's gift to the groom was a brown leather travelling bag, and to the bridesmaid a cameo ring, while the best man received a pair of cuff links from the groom.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Lolley will make their home with Mrs. Ducker on Langhorne Farm, Sherbrooke.

That Mr. Alfred Wood has returned to Sherbrooke quite recovered from his protracted illness will be heard with pleasure by hosts of friends who have missed his genial presence at the Record office.

Mrs. Gordon MacKinnon, of Westmount, who is at "Sherrygroom," her country home near Westville, and Mrs. Grier, also of Westmount, who is her guest, were visitors in Sherbrooke yesterday visiting Mr. James MacKinnon, Victoria street.

Mrs. W. R. Price, High street, president of the Quebec Presbyterial, is leaving tomorrow morning for Montreal to attend the council executive meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, the opening session of which will convene in that city tomorrow.

Mrs. N. B. Greenleaf and her little son, Stewart, who have been visiting the former's mother, Mrs. W. B. Channell, Portland avenue, have returned to their home in Toronto. Mrs. Greenleaf was accompanied on the return trip by Mrs. W. W. Lynch, who will be her guest in the Queen City.

Mrs. C. C. Cabana and Miss Cecile Cabana, who motored to Montreal yesterday, returned to Sherbrooke this afternoon accompanied by Mrs. R. P. Blanchet, of Los Angeles, Calif., who will be a guest of her sister, Mrs. Cabana, and Mr. Cabana, at their home on Melbourne street for some time.

The beautiful flowers on the altar in St. Paul's Church yesterday were in loving memory of Mr. John Mouldy, Sr., who died on May 20, 1930, and of Miss Edith Emily Mouldy, who died on May 27 in the same year, and were given by the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mouldy, and their son, Mr. Arthur Mouldy.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Lyon and their little daughter, Patricia, left by motor this morning en route for their home in Riverbend, after spending the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. E. N. Lyon, London street. Mr. Lyon arrived in Sherbrooke on Saturday, Mrs. Lyon and her little daughter having come on from Ottawa, where Mrs. Lyon was called by the sudden passing away of her father, Mr. A. Huband.

The Sherbrooke Country Club was the scene of a largely attended and most enjoyable social gathering on Saturday afternoon when the officers' wives and the wives of the chairmen of the men's committees entertained at the season's first bridge party. The hostesses were Mrs. F. A. Briggs, Mrs. S. R. Newton, Mrs. P. M. Robins, Mrs. A. G. Stevens, Mrs. B. N. Holtham, Mrs. E. N. Fidler, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. J. T. Hawkins, Mrs. A. Kerridge and Mrs. Frank Norcross. Contract bridge was played at twenty-two tables and at the conclusion of the game a pretty prize was awarded at each table.

Many additional guests joined the players at the tea hour, when the spacious lounge and wide verandahs presented an animated and festive appearance, which was greatly enhanced by a profusion of gorgeous tulips. Tea was poured by Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Newton and Mrs. C. B. Howard, the tea table being attractively arranged with the same lovely spring flowers. The following long list of ladies assisted in serving, the Misses Marguerite Robins, Beverly Norcross, Dorothy Rose, Andrea Hyndman and Madeline Baldwin.

DEATHS REPORTED

MR. GEORGE BEAULAC, ST. ARMAND.

St. Armand, May 28.—This community was shocked on May 19th to learn of the tragic death of one of St. Armand's well known and popular young men, George Beaulac, 19, lac. Leaving home in the morning in the best of health and spirits, he drove to the residence of J. Lamothie on the road between Phillipsburg and Pike River. As he left the Lamothie yard two cars were approaching, one from each direction and he evidently noticed only one, for a car bearing a New York license, proceeding towards Montreal, struck the rig, cutting the wagon in two pieces and injuring the horse so that it had to be killed.

The unfortunate young man was thrown about one hundred and twenty-five feet, when he landed face down upon the cement road. He was picked up and carried into the Lamothie residence where Dr. Languey of Bedford, attended him and found that his legs, arms and neck were broken and his skull badly crushed. Rev. Father Fournier, of Pike River, administered the last rites of the church before life was extinct.

An inquest under Coroner Jacques of Farnham was held and gave a verdict of accidental death. The victim of this accident was born at L'Angevin, Que., on August 11, 1913, and had spent the past eight years near St. Armand. He leaves to mourn his untimely death his father, Joseph Beaulac, one sister, Bibiane, and six brothers, Elphege, of Paquetteville, Ademard, of Dunham, and Ephraim, Come, Felicien and Real, of St. Armand. His mother predeceased him eight years ago and his sister, Laura, also died on May 19th in the year 1929.

All of the family were present at the funeral. The body was removed to the home of Mrs. George Raymond in St. Armand, from where the funeral service was held on May 21st at nine a.m. to the Church of Notre Dame de Lourdes, where Rev. Father Lamothie officiated. Interment took place at St. Armand Roman Catholic Cemetery. Beautiful flowers were placed on the casket by sorrowing friends. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the family in their sad bereavement.

On Friday morning, May 11th, her remains were taken from her late residence by train to her old home parish, St. Stephen's Church, Inverness, Que., where the funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Denton. Interment took place in St. Stephen's Cemetery.

Miss Beatrice Watts, a very cheerful disposition and will be missed by her many friends. The flowers were very lively, showing the esteem in which she was held in her home town.

Those left to mourn the loss of a loving daughter and sister are her father and mother, two brothers and one sister-in-law.

The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Watts and family in their great bereavement.

HOWARD JAMES WESTGATE, ISLAND BROOK.

Island Brook, May 28.—The news of the sudden passing of Mr. Howard J. Westgate at his home here on May 4, 1934, came as a great shock to his relatives and friends.

Mr. Westgate was born in April, 1893, at Island Brook, the eldest son of the late Isaac Westgate and Ellen Mooney. His first marriage was to Laura Bean, of Sherbrooke, on November 21, 1917, who passed away within six months, after an operation for appendicitis. His second marriage was to Tilly Gay, of Saskatchewan, on January 9, 1926.

The funeral service was held on Sunday, May 6th, conducted by Rev. A. J. Vibert and was largely attended by relatives and friends. The bearers were Messrs. Thomas and Hollis Burns, Franklin Kerr and W. J. Dawson.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife and little son, Raymond, seven years, a daughter, Donna, three years; five sisters, Mrs. Earle Young, Elmira, N.Y., Mrs. Guy Campbell, West Montpelier, Maine; Mrs. Lewis Farnsworth, Saversville, Que.; Mrs. Everett Kerr, Montreal; Mrs. Gordon Kerr, of this place; also three brothers, Roy, Maple and Milton, all of this vicinity.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. MacDonald were Mr. Edwin MacDonald, of Sherbrooke and Mr. Rupert MacDonald, of Montreal.

Mrs. Alex Smith and Mr. John Smith, of Brompton, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. Allan MacRae.

Mr. John Murray, of Megantic, was calling on relatives recently.

Mr. D. D. MacLeod spent a few days in Megantic.

The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Norman Murray, of Megantic, are pleased to hear that she is gaining after her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Steward, of Megantic, were calling on Mrs. D. MacLeod recently.

"So you were going to a fire," said the speed cop sarcastically to the motorist he had stopped.

"Well, yes, exactly," said the motorist breathlessly, "but I'm trying to prevent one."

The speed cop nodded grimly. "And how were you going to do that?" he was asked.

"Well, the boss said he'd fire me if I were late again, and I was hurrying to get to the office in time," explained the motorist.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Corrected His Constipation.

If you are troubled by common constipation, read this letter:

"Just a word in appreciation of what your ALL-BRAN has done for my health. For years, I had been dosing myself with pills and other dopes for constipation.

"I decided to try Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Now I am in good health, and haven't taken a drop of medicine for six months."—Thos. F. Little (address furnished upon request).

Headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness—any one of these may be caused by common constipation. Yet this condition can be corrected, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to help promote regularity. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. How much safer than patent medicines! Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with meal.

Serve as a cereal or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Get ALL-BRAN, and not a part-bran product. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

DEATH SEVERS
ANOTHER LINK WITH THE PAST

Infant Who Survived Horror of 1847 Had Long Life—Partridge Island Witnessed a Nation's Tragedy.

Saint John, N.B., May 28.—Looking eastward over the Atlantic from the mouth of Saint John harbor, a gleaming Celtic cross on Partridge Island marks the burial ground for hundreds of immigrants whose tragic deaths doomed one of the darkest chapters in Ireland's history. After a lapse of nearly eighty-seven years since the dread period of "ship fever," the death of Robert Tyner in his eighty-ninth year has snapped a link with the plague of 1847. Tyner, who died here, was believed to be the last survivor of those fever-stricken passengers who sought health and homes in a new world.

More fortunate than scores of infants who died aboard ship, Tyner came safely through the gauntlet of disease and death when he was a year old. In 1927, he took a prominent part at the unveiling of the memorial on Partridge Island, where harrowing scenes reminiscent of London's great plague had been daily occurrences eighty years previously.

Subscription from people of Irish descent in Saint John enabled erection of the white cross commemorating a kinfolk catastrophe.

Although the thin soil of Partridge Island claimed many victims of the potato blight, thousands of others filled graves at widely separated points in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces in addition to a multitude of unfortunates whose bones are scattered on the ocean bed along the seaway from Ireland.

Death and emigration depleted the population of the Emerald Isle by more than two millions in 1847. Successive disastrous crop failures prompted a wholesale exodus from the impoverished homeland, and out of the throngs bound for Saint John alone more than two thousand men, women and children, starved amid squalid conditions on overcrowded ships, were committed to the deep or buried on Partridge Island.

A food shortage steadily increasing the tide of emigration in the early forties reached its climax in 1847 following almost complete failure of the previous year's potato crop. Widespread destitution, famine, typhus and death were the result. The famine extended even into the highlands of Scotland. Coupled with the fever, it spread more quickly than aid could be received from the outside world, and the stricken people saw no other alternative than fleeing the land of their birth.

The numbers of Irish immigrants arriving at Saint John in the first years of stress were: 2,000 in 1844; 6,000 in 1845 and 9,000 in 1846. The overflow from Ireland in the latter year rose to 130,000 of whom 33,000 went to British North America. During the following year, when fever and famine took their huge toll, 15,000 landed at the Partridge Island quarantine station. Some eight hundred had died at sea, 601 died in the quarantine hospital, many others succumbed aboard vessels in quarantine and hundreds of fatalities occurred after the typhus spread to the mainland.

The year 1847 opened gloomily in Ireland, a land of liberty inequities at Roscommon, eighteen were cases of starvation. Seventy-five cases of typhus were reported daily in that district alone. Graves were being dug all over the country but the death list mounted so rapidly that burials failed to keep pace with fatalities.

Some of the survivors, weakened and easy prey to sickness, had enough money for emigration, and many completely destitute were given passage out of the country. Those unable to buy food for the ocean trip averaging three to four days depending on the ship's speed, insufficient in supply and poor in quality. With grasping shipowners taking advantage of a lax inspection system, the overcrowded immigrants were herded together like cattle. Undernourishment and squalor became agents for typhus. In 1846 thirteen convicts were secured against shipmasters brought before Saint John magistrates on charges of overcrowding vessels and supplying insufficient and inferior provisions.

Increasing pressure upon quarantine facilities at Partridge Island resulted in a government grant of $200 for better accommodation in 1874. Before repairs could be made, however, the "fever ships" began landing human cargoes by the hundreds and a new "pest house" became necessary.

The big Mides, first of these ships, arrived on May 5, 1847. Two adults and eight children had died en route and many passengers were ill when landed. Nine days later the barque Aldebaran arrived. Out of 418 passengers thirty-four died at sea, more than one hundred were victims of fever upon their arrival and eighty subsequently died or were buried on the island. Infant mortality featured the ocean tragedies, and most of the island graves were for adults. Lack of care and nutrition decimated the children before they could reach port.

Ten other vessels arrived in May and their passengers were removed to the island hospital. Veritable death ships included the Pallas, Thornley Close and Amazon. Adding to the horror, the brig Mary Dunbar, from Cork, had smallpox aboard.

The Partridge Island staff soon had more work than it could handle. Dr. James Patrick Collins, one of the doctors responding from the city, sacrificed a promising career, died as a result of his work among the patients and became, in his early twenties, a martyr to the stricken people of his race.

POULTRY COST

Poultry Industry Given New Deal—New Profession Offers Remunerative Employment.

Vancouver, May 28.—Enormous reductions in poultry farming costs and the opening of a new highly remunerative profession in North America have followed the introduction of "chick sexing" in British Columbia.

By the expert separation of newly-hatched male and female chicks, poultry farmers of this province have reported saving thousands of dollars in the three months sexing depots have operated here. Many students have undertaken the study and applications have been received from all parts of the continent for experts to operate in poultry farming districts.

Chick sexing has become an important profession in Japan since its discovery there by Dr. K. Masui. Last year, the Japan Chick Sexing Association held a championship contest which was won by Hikosaburo Yogo from among three hundred competitors. The prize was a trip to the United States to demonstrate the new art.

Yogo gave demonstrations in Vancouver last summer in co-operation with the University of British Columbia. He gave other demonstrations in Pacific coast centres of the United States. As a result, the Chick Sexing Association of America was formed, with headquarters in Vancouver.

British Columbia depots were opened at New Westminster and Cloverdale and on the international border, near Blaine, Washington. In three months, five Japanese experts have sexed more than 1,500,000 chicks of which a large percentage of cockerels have been destroyed. The men have proved ninety-eight to one hundred per cent. accurate, sexing seven hundred to 1,400 chicks each hour and 5,000 to 11,000 daily.

Through elimination of unwanted cockerels, poultry farmers have saved huge quantities of feed and have considerably reduced losses from disease. Pullets have been healthier and have made better progress because they have not had the more aggressive cockerels to compete with under the brooders and in the run-yards.

Commercial poultrymen who grew pullet chicks sexed by Yogo reported they were able to produce pullets of higher average quality in appearance, laying from fifteen to twenty per cent more during the fall and winter than pullets raised in previous years.

In addition, chick sexing tends to relieve the meat market of many thousands of young broilers the farmer does not want. Alternatively, farmers may purchase sexed cockerels and produce a higher grade broiler. Prof. E. A. Lloyd, poultry department head of the University of British Columbia, declared the meat market already shows a distinctly beneficial effect from elimination of the surplus.

"This is a new deal in the poultry industry," he said. "It automatically reduces surplus and gives greater efficiency all around."

Sexing is done by the study of anatomy, preferably when the chick is about twelve hours old and before it is fed and watered. The technique involves the inversion of the ventricle of the baby chick, where tiny folds of the inner lining of the cloaca disclose to the expert eye types of small genital eminences differing slightly in males and females.

Consistent study of from four to six months is required before students are able to handle chicks properly with a high degree of accuracy. Several Canadian students have already developed accuracy of more than ninety per cent. Two of these are being trained to introduce chick sexing to other parts of Canada. Many requests for instructors have been received from Eastern Canada.

island in June. Passengers were constantly dying aboard the ships in quarantine and after disembarking. At the end of the month 880 were sick in the hospital. Infection spread to Saint John, mainland accommodation for the patients were overtaxed and scores died in the city. Nearly 10,000 immigrants had reached the island by the end of July. As many as six vessels would arrive the same day and all reported fatalities en route. The Quebec Envoy, from Londonderry, carried a malignant type of smallpox.

Destitute and weakened by starvation, the passengers presented a pitiful appearance. Great numbers had to be carried ashore forming an almost constant procession of wretched men and women during the memorable summer and autumn of 1847. The sick, dying faster than coffins could be made as the pestilence increased, were buried as they were. Trenches, in some instances, provided a common resting place for bodies cast together.

On one occasion, when all the doctors and assistants were prostrated, forty-five bodies accumulated in the dead house. All the dead were interred in a huge pit near the building, and the spot is still distinguished in summer by the vivid green of grass nourished for almost ninety years by the bones of Irish unfortunates.

One of the last fever ships arriving here was the barque Aelous on November 3, 1847. Most of the 240 passengers from Sligo were withering means of support, broken in health and scanty attire. Hundreds of poor roamed the city streets and door-to-door begging was common.

The fever ships brought death and misery to other New Brunswick ports. Before the Looshtank could reach Miramichi 117 passengers died, twenty-nine succumbed aboard the ship in port and death claimed ninety-six more after the sick had been removed to hospital.
