EDEN WARNED AGAINST USING FORCE

Four Major States Hold Convention Key; Stevenson Favored

World News In Brief

— SAINT JOHN, N. B. —

(CP)— City detectives are investigating the possibility of arson in a $150,000 uptown fire here Monday which left five firemen slightly injured.

Three alarms drew all the city's fire-fighting equipment to the congested business area where flames raged at the rear of the Agnew Surpass shoe store and threatened to spread to two adjoining three-storey structures.

— VICTORIA — (CP)—

Premier Bennett of British Columbia took advantage of the legal minimum notice Monday night in announcing a provincial election will be held Sept. 19, 38 days after the announcement.

He said he chose the minimum time so an election would not disturb the business life of the province.

— NEWPORT NEWS, Va. —

(AP)— Five Nova Scotia fishermen rescued from a drifting launch Thursday arrived here Monday aboard the Liberian freighter Brant.

The seamen were all off the schooner Western Glen, a 50-foot vessel which lost power and pumps during a gale a week ago Monday. The vessel, taking water fast, was kept afloat 50 hours by an around-the-clock bucket brigade before the rescue.

— SYDNEY, Australia. — (Reuters)

Britain will set off four atomic explosions in the south Australian desert next month—one of them a "baby" weapon dropped from a bomber.

Sir William Penney, director of the British Atomic Weapons Research Establishment, told a press conference today that two of the explosions would be from towers to "reduce the danger" and the fourth would be a "ground burst" of small explosive power.

— SPRINGHILL, N. S. — (CP)

Four men died early today after a car and an army truck collided at Mapleton, 12 miles south of here. Another man was in serious condition in hospital.

All five were passengers in the car. The truck driver was not seriously hurt.

— JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) —

Indonesian newspapers, charging a wave of corruption in high government circles, hinted today that Premier Ali Sastroamidjojo's government may be in danger, and that Foreign Minister Ruslan Abdulgani may have to be recalled from the Suez conference in London.

— MONTREAL — (AP) —

Police today revised estimates of loss in a week-end fur robbery, boosting the value of vanished mink pieces to $60,000.

It was the biggest fur theft of the year here, police said. Originally, they had reported that two thieves fled shortly after breaking into a concrete vault. They were alarmed by a squad car.

— QUEBEC — (AP) —

The city council of suburban Sillery has been informed by Frank G. Power, member of Parliament for Quebec South, that he is preparing an application for the establishment of an English television station in Quebec. Operators of the station would be Goodwill Broadcasters, Incorporated, owners of radio station CJCQ here.

— QUEBEC — (AP) —

Two men are missing and believed killed following the explosion of a 20-foot motor boat on the St. Lawrence River Monday night.

Provincial police named the missing men as Roger Lavoie, 33, of Quebec, owner of the boat, and Joseph Pichette, 60, a Quebec fireman.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Four pivotal states, all with substantial voting strength, today held the key to the Democratic presidential nomination.

As the party's national convention moved into its second day, presidential hopefuls centred their attention on the uncommitted delegate votes of Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey and Texas which command nearly 200 convention ballots between them.

This would be enough to put Adlai Stevenson, former governor of Illinois and the pace-setter in the race for the nomination, over the top Thursday when the 1,372 voting delegates select the man to lead them against the Republicans in the Nov. 6 election.

By the same token, they also could be enough to enhance substantially the nomination prospects of Averell Harriman, governor of New York state who is Stevenson's closest opponent and who has the official blessing of former President Harry S. Truman.

The latest Associated Press tabulation of delegate support showed Stevenson and Harriman both increasing their strength but with Stevenson still holding his lead over the New Yorker. A pack of favorite sons — state leaders who get a formal nomination for the first ballot-trailled far in the rear.

The AP tally gave Stevenson 554 votes to 229½ for Harriman. Favorite sons and others held 283 votes while the remaining 305½ still were uncommitted. To win, a candidate needs 686½ votes.

The Stevenson-Harriman tussle overshadowed the convention proper, which opened with traditional party fanfare Monday in Chicago's giant international Amphitheatre.

Monday night more than 2,000 delegates heard Governor Frank G. Clements, a 36-year-old spell-binder from Tennessee, predict that, come November, the Republican administration, with "a record of broken promises and unredeemed pledges," will do the "great fadeaway of the century."

They heard, too, a plea from Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt for a "united party with differences resolved." She is supporting Stevenson.

The No. 1 man of the convention in these early stages is Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, the popular and powerful southern leader who, as chairman of the Texas delegation, holds 58 votes.

Both Stevenson and Harriman have held meetings with Johnson — whose decision could sway the voting sentiment of other southern delegations — but there has been no indication whether either side had been able to strike a deal for the big bloc of Johnson votes.

Overtures also went out to the state delegations of Michigan, whose Governor G. Mennen Williams controls 44 votes. Ohio with its 58 ballots and New Jersey with its 36.

Monday night Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers union which is a powerful influence on the Michigan delegation, came out formally for Stevenson. But that was not regarded as a surprise.

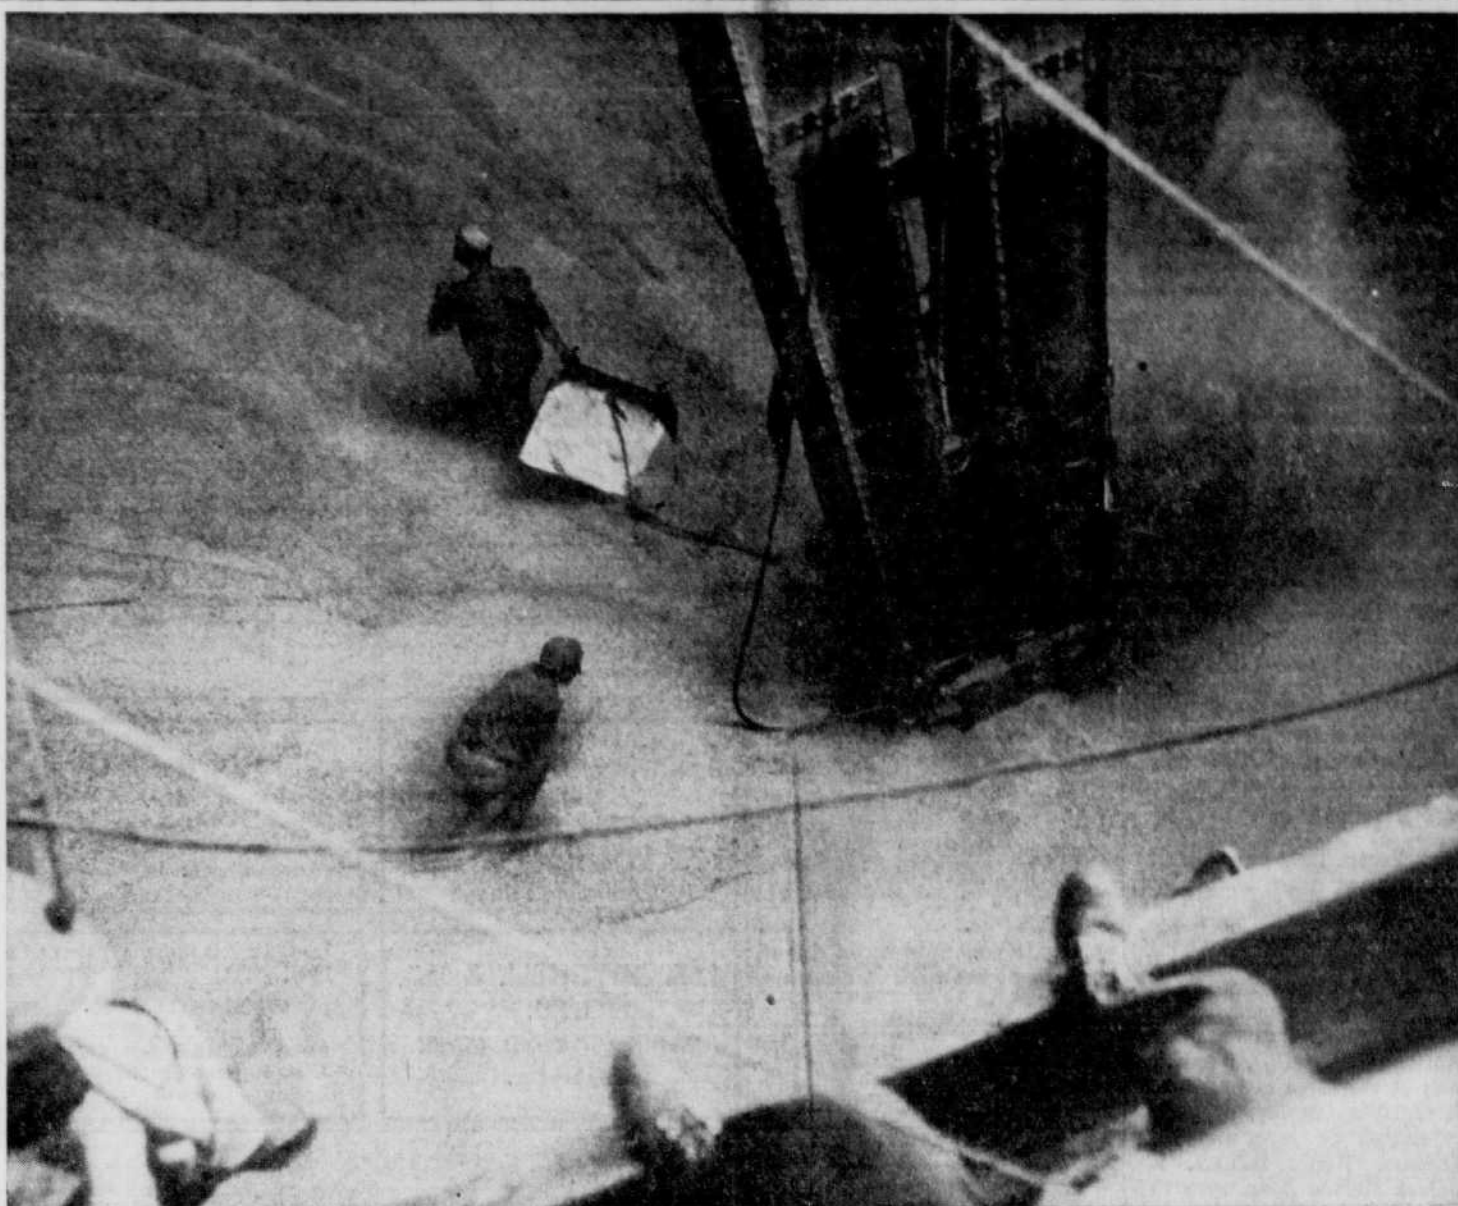

Toronto Hit By Storm

TORONTO — A violent wind and rain storm Monday battered Toronto for 33 minutes, leaving one dead, hundreds of fallen trees, snapped power lines, shattered windows, damaged television aerials, crushed roofs and dented cars.

Winds of up to 11 miles an hour, accompanied by torrential rains, struck at 5 p.m. and snarled rush-hour traffic.

Mrs. Edwin Bradley, 34, was electrocuted when she attempted to move a fallen power line from a hedge in front of her house.

Power in many areas was not restored until several hours after the storm.

Grain Flows — Montreal harbor, heading for a record season of activity paced by passengers and grain, is the scene of this grain-unloading operation on a lake vessel. Grain shipments are up 30 per cent over last year — more than 81,500,000 bushels by water and rail — and outbound ocean shipments are equally brisk. (CP)

Parliament To End Today

OTTAWA — Parliament may be prorogued today, the 152nd sitting day since it met more than seven months ago.

It has been a wordy and wearying session, one that has unleashed a wave of bitter feelings between government and opposition ranks that lapped at the Speaker's chair.

It will be remembered for a long time for the unprecedented events that left a searing mark on some of the 7,500-odd pages of official debate reports.

Perhaps the most critical was the unparalleled motion, of censure against Speaker Rene Beaudet.

Cafe Blast Kills 14 In Utah

MONTICELLO, Utah — (AP) — An explosion shattered a crowded cafe in this southeastern Utah uranium mining community Monday night, killing at least 14 persons. Officials said the death toll may rise.

The small Monticello Hospital counted 26 injured. Others were flown to hospitals in Salt Lake City and towns in Colorado.

The blast was believed caused by leaking gas. A resident, Steven Hazelwood, risked his life to shut off the gas system after the explosion.

Mrs. Bernice Saull, who was near the cafe at the time, said it was a "terrific" explosion. The blast was felt three miles away.

"The cafe was there one moment I looked," said Mrs. Saull, "then the next — it just wasn't there."

The explosion ripped through the cafe at the peak of the dining hour. About 60 persons were believed in the building at the time.

Officials said the cafe had been connected only Monday to Monticello's new natural-gas system.

The Red Cross flew blood and plasma from Salt Lake City, 240 miles northwest of here, to aid the injured. Doctors and nurses from towns as much as 100 miles away were rushed to the scene.

The explosion left a 30-foot-deep hole where the small cinder-block cafe, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ramsdell, stood on the outskirts of the town. Mrs. Ramsdell was injured.

Monticello, population 1,762, is in the heart of the uranium mining area known as the Colorado Plateau, 23 miles west of the Utah-Colorado border and 89 miles from Moab, the plateau's uranium "centre."

Public safety agencies, civil defence, Red Cross and communications and power crews stood by up and down Florida to fight the storm.

Navy airmen flew their planes in and out of the hurricane vortex, reporting the progress of the storm toward the coast.

Operators of Florida's luxurious beach resorts stockpiled food and marshalled shutters to protect expanses of window glass.

Betsy, named for the second letter of the alphabet, was spotted by a navy reconnaissance plane Friday far out in the South Atlantic.

heard the program personally, but he had been supplied with "facts" about it.

The program was a "clever subversive program" that had been praised by the Communist press all over the world.

Revenue Minister McCann, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, said he had not seen the program and could not express an opinion.

The exchange came up shortly before the adjournment as the House discussed CBC estimates.

Earlier, during study of justice department estimates, George Nowlan (PC—Digby—Annapolis-Kings) said it appears possible for a provincial administration to use the RCMP for political purposes or for investigation for which the people of Canada as a whole should not be asked to pay.

He was referring to a case dealing with a British Columbia request for an RCMP investigation into activities surrounding the granting of a forest management licence by the province.

B. C. is one of eight provinces — all except Ontario and Quebec — which have contracts with the federal government whereby the RCMP acts as the provincial police force.

Florida Battens Down For Hurricane Betsy

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Hurricane Betsy hesitated slightly today as it approached the Florida east coast between Palm Beach and Melbourne with 120-mile-an-hour winds.

At 6 a.m. EDT the weather bureau said the storm had slowed its forward speed to 15 miles an hour and lessened a threat to the greater Miami area.

Betsy at that time was centred near latitude 25 north and longitude 75 west, or about 25 miles slightly south of east of Miami.

"The present indicated movement would bring the storm in on the east coast of Florida between Palm Beach and Melbourne late tonight or early Wednesday," the weather bureau said, "but winds will be increasing to dangerous velocities well ahead of the storm centre."

The hurricane was bearing in from the Bahamas after doing millions of dollars worth of damage in Puerto Rico.

Hurricane signals flew along the Florida east coast from Miami, 169 miles north to Melbourne and from Palm Beach, 60 miles north of Miami, inland to Lake Okeechobee.

The weather bureau said the Palm Beach vicinity was Betsy's most probable point of entry. It was at Palm Beach in September, 1928, that one of Florida's disastrous hurricanes slammed ashore and killed nearly 2,000 persons.

Public safety agencies, civil

Justice Minister Garson said the federal government would pay for such an investigation which Harold Wich (CCF—Vancouver East) said involved sending a police inspector to the U. S.

Under the terms of the contract the provincial government could ask the RCMP to conduct any investigation which the provincial attorney-general deemed would be proper if there were a provincial force. Mr. Garson said. For that reason he could not table in Parliament copies of reports of the investigation.

As State Secretary Dulles prepared to leave the United States today, he was reported confident that the London parley will provide a basis for a peaceful settlement.

MARCINELLE, Belgium (Reuters) — Twenty rescue teams worked in grim silence today, hoisting bodies from deep in Marcinelle's disaster-struck coal mine at the rate of one every three minutes.

Eighty dead miners were found at the 2,750-foot level-most of them beyond recognition after lying in sealed galleries since last Wednesday at temperatures of up to 140 degrees.

More than 250 miners—mostly Belgians and Italians—were trapped underground when fire swept through the mine, cutting off escape routes.

A mine spokesman announced Monday night that all hope of finding any of the trapped miners alive must be abandoned, even though there may still be survivors in the main 3,395-foot gallery.

A silent crowd of more than 2,000 huddled shoulder to shoulder in the rain outside the main gate during the night.

Wives and mothers, some of whom have kept a vigil at the gates for seven days and six nights, sobbed hysterically as the task of bringing out the bodies went on.

A nearby schoolhouse, heavily guarded, has been turned into a temporary mortuary. Truckloads of coffins arrived during the morning.

One victim who was brought dead to the surface Monday had his name written on a piece of paper and pinned to his jacket, probably the last thing he did before he died from asphyxiation.

Labor Wants Pledge; Egypt Would Explode Canal When Invaded

LONDON — (AP) — Manoeuvring for a face-saving compromise on the Suez Canal controversy intensified today as apprehension over war mounted in some quarters.

No compromise plan has yet come into the open — only two days before the scheduled opening of the London conference called to seek international control of the canal. But Prime Minister Eden is under increasingly heavy pressure to ease the crisis by invoking the help of the United Nations.

The Daily Mirror, which opposes Eden's government, says in an editorial that the prime minister will not have the support of the British public if he resorts to military action. It calls on him "to alter his course, even if a change of heart might prove fatal to him as a politician."

The Mirror's statement came shortly after leaders of the opposition Labor party urged Eden to "make plain that military measures taken in the last 10 days are purely precautionary and solely intended for defence against possible aggression."

The Labor chiefs called on Eden to state that increases in Britain's land, sea and air forces in the Mediterranean area are "not preparations for armed intervention outside and inconsistent with our obligations under the charter of the United Nations."

They added that a special meeting of the UN General Assembly should be called to decide any conclusions reached by the London conference.

The Daily Telegraph, which supports the Conservative government, predicts that Britain at the conference will propose that "any international agency set up to operate the canal should be linked in some way with the United Nations."

Eden has said the military buildup following Egypt's president Nasser's nationalization move was precautionary, but he has declared that Britain will not permit sole Egyptian control of the vital Middle East waterway.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is expected to give the government's latest evaluation of the situation in a radio address tonight.

Diplomats of the 21 countries which have agreed to meet with Britain on the problem began converging on London today. Of those invited, only Greece and Egypt refused to participate.

Egypt demanded an expanded 45-country meeting to discuss the canal.

As State Secretary Dulles prepared to leave the United States today, he was reported confident that the London parley will provide a basis for a peaceful settlement.

Australia's Prime Minister Robert Menzies, already here for the talks, said in a television address that Egypt's nationalization of the canal has precipitated a world crisis "more grave than any since the Second World War ended." He warned that acceptance of the Egyptian move could "encourage other acts of lawlessness."

But another Commonwealth prime minister, Ceylon's Solomon Bandaranaike, was quoted in an interview in Colombo as welcoming Nasser's call for an expanded canal conference. He

Children, Wives Out Of Egypt

LONDON — (Reuters) —

Egypt's nationalization of the Suez Canal has resulted in about 1,000 British wives and children from Cairo and the canal zone being airlifted to Britain, most of them in Operation Nursery.

The British government advised its subjects in Egypt not to remain there unless they had "compelling" reasons. The Egyptian authorities have not hindered the evacuation in any way.

In fact, John Foden, general manager of the contractors' organization which looks after the personal problems of employees and families of the seven civilian firms operating in the canal zone, said they are "leaning over backward" to help.

The first wives and children of 12 British families from the zone reached Britain Aug. 9. Some of the wives said they would have preferred to stay behind with their husbands.

Just before the weekend 84 wives and children of British and Dutch members of the staffs of the Shell Company of Egypt and Anglo-Egyptian oilfields left in specially chartered aircraft for Britain. The two companies plan to move 120 people out of Egypt.

The husbands who remain behind in the canal zone plan to form group establishments. With many homes being closed down during the crisis, hundreds of Egyptian servants will be put out of work.

The only women being kept in the canal zone are 35 secretaries and nurses.

Monday the first 100 of 900 wives and children of British contractors' employees left in two chartered flying boats. They were flown to Malta in the first stage of the journey back to Britain.

When the lift is completed, about 600 men will be left in three main British civilian bases in the zone.

UN Moves To Abolish Slavery

GENEVA (Reuters) — Representatives of 38 countries met here Monday to approve a United Nations draft convention abolishing all forms of slavery.

The proposed draft will supplement a League of Nations convention adopted 30 years ago.

However, the convention is binding only on countries that sign the convention so that any states where slavery still exists are free to continue the practice.

There also are no provisions in the draft for stopping and searching ships engaged in the slave trade which belong to nations that do not sign the convention.

According to such experts as Charles Greenidge, secretary of the British Anti-Slavery Society, there still are about 12,000,000 slaves in the world not including the 60,000,000 African slaves bought from their parents and treated as chattels by their husbands.

Most experts agree, however, that slavery flourishes in its most unadulterated form on the Arabian Peninsula, where the slave population is estimated roughly at 500,000.

Progress has been made. Bahrain and Kuwait have recently abolished slavery. Saudi Arabia and Yemen have, however, repeatedly turned down requests for information on slavery in their countries.

High-Priced Sunshine

Most newspapers and radio stations in Quebec Province were reporting yesterday that the death toll on the weekend was creditably lower than usual and many suggested that this was a result of the crackdown by Provincial Police.

But for the Eastern Townships this was not a gratifying weekend. There were several serious accidents, one person was killed, another critically injured and many others hurt less severely. Two people were drowned as well.

Until recent weekends, this area had been singularly fortunate this summer by comparison with the rest of the province. One possible reason was the poor weather which may have kept the highways of this resort-centre from being as heavily-travelled as usual.

The recent upswing of fatalities, highway and water, would seem to bear out this theory. For the increased number of deaths has been coincident with a great improvement in the weather.

It seems a high price to pay for a nice weekend.

Tax Cuts And Saving

Finance Minister Harris has just come up with an excellent suggestion.

Canadians, he believes, should save more money and invest it in the 11th issue of Canada Savings Bonds which go on sale October, 15.

Undoubtedly this is an excellent idea. Savings bonds are a splendid investment for those who wish to — and can — save money.

But Mr. Harris should do his part in the savings campaign by the simple process of using some of the surplus now being accumulated by the federal government to cut down taxes.

Regardless of the declarations of certain of the brain-trusters who seem to be dictating fiscal policies in this country at the present time, there is every reason to assume that tax cuts, if properly applied, could be deflationary rather than inflationary.

For instance, a sharp reduction in the sales tax, now collected at the manufacturers' level, probably would reduce the cost of many essential articles of living, easing the pressure on the price structure and possibly resulting in the modification of some of the current demands for wage increases.

The sales tax is one of the most iniquitous of all hidden taxes as the amount received by the government is only a portion of that paid by the consumer. The original tax is paid by the manufacturer and added to the basic price of the article, with the regular write-ups for the jobber, wholesaler and retailer being added to the original tax.

Thus, if the government saw fit to slash $200,000,000 of its sales tax collections, the savings to the public might well approximate $400,000,000 or even more, or more than $125 annually for the average Canadian family of five.

Faced with a diminution of its revenue, the Government might give some thought to economy and cut out many of the needless and wasteful projects to which it is ready to commit itself — with a corresponding reduction in the demand for durable and consumer goods and the release of valuable manpower for the production of useful articles.

Citizen Truman's Influence

It's truly amazing that ex-president, Harry Truman, should carry so much weight in the choosing of a Democratic candidate for the presidency.

As former president, Citizen Truman could certainly be expected to assert a certain amount of influence. But for so many adult delegates to be waiting with bated breath to follow his lead — whatever it might be — must be very interesting to many Canadian followers of the convention.

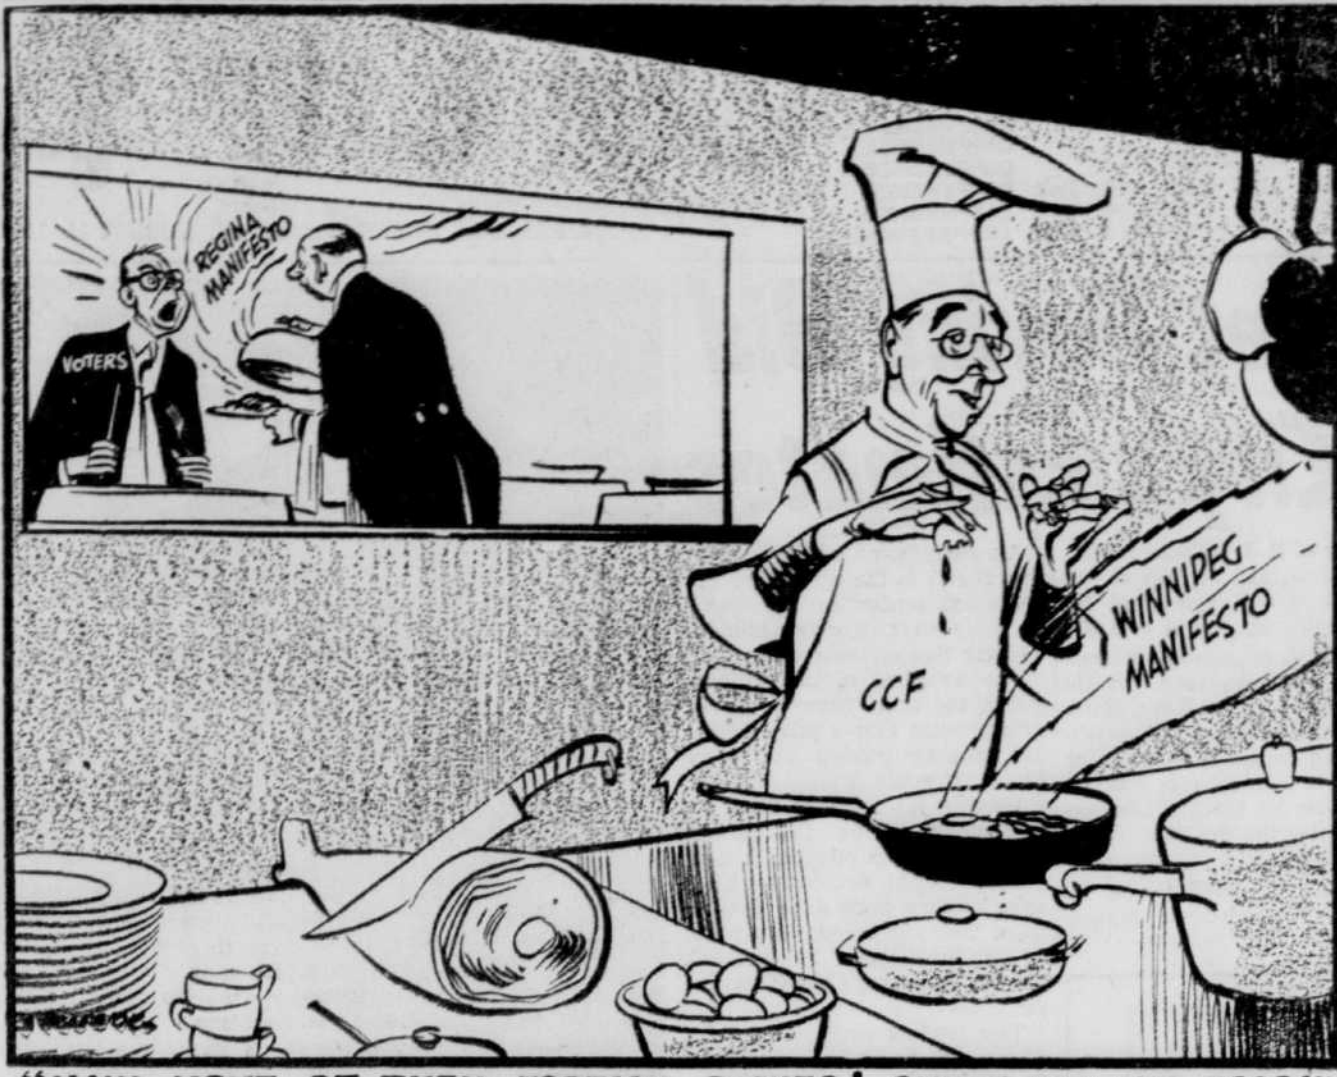

The full extent of Mr. Truman's influence will be clear this week. Indications before his endorsement of Governor Harriman were that Adlai Stevenson was the next thing to a shoo-in for the Democratic choice to oppose President Eisenhower. It will be enlightening to see how many votes the former president will be able to swing.

Mr. Truman's support of Governor Harriman came as no great surprise. Far more surprising would have been a reversal of the Truman form in favor of another candidate. For Mr. Truman has shown long-standing support for the New York State governor and his past record — call it stubbornness or loyalty — pointed away from a last-minute switch despite great pressure that undoubtedly had been brought to bear.

Television coverage of the convention will give many Canadians a close look at election preparations of both the great American political machines, right from the serious appeals down to the high-jinx in the hotel lobbies.

Some of it will probably remind us of a Grey Cup weekend, but along with the brass color and unabashed grandstanding will be an opportunity to watch the serious business of a two-party democratic system electing the country's candidates for chief executive.

BABY TELLS STORY OF MANKIND

The Financial Times

In his growth and development a baby is retracing the whole past history of mankind, physically and spiritually, step-by-step.

He starts off in the womb as a single tiny cell, just the way the first living thing appeared on the earth. Weeks later he has gills like a fish.

Toward the end of his first year of life, when he learns to clamber to his feet, he's celebrating that period millions of years ago when man's ancestors got up on all fours. It's just at that time that the baby is learning to use his fingers with skill and delicacy. Our ancestors stood up because they had found more useful things to do with their hands than walking on them.

The child in the years after six gives up part of his dependence on his parents. He makes it his business to find out how to fit into the world outside his family. He takes seriously the rules of the game.

He is probably reliving that stage of human history when our wild ancestors found it was better not to roam the forest in independent family groups, but to form larger communities.

Then they had to learn self control, how to co-operate with each other according to rules and laws, instead of depending on the old man of the family to boss them around.

monds, and South dropped the nine of diamonds in the attempt to persuade West to continue the suit. West saw that the three and deuce of diamonds were missing, and that his partner might well be signaling with the six of diamonds for a continuation of the suit. After some thought, however, West decided that the diamonds could wait, and he therefore shifted to the queen of clubs.

South executed his second swindle by playing low clubs from both hands on this trick! Since East followed suit with the lowest possible club, West should have seen that something was amiss. West continued, however, with the jack of clubs, and South breathed freely again.

Declarer won the second club with the ace, drew trumps with the ace and dummy's nine, and cashed the king of clubs in order to discard the king of hearts. Declarer then led the queen of hearts to ruff East's ace.

After this series of plays it was easy to get to dummy with the queen of spades in order to discard two diamonds on the jack and ten of hearts. South thus managed to hold the loss down to one club and two diamonds.

If South had played the hand normally, East would have won a heart trick and would have returned a diamond. The defenders would have defeated the contract by taking a heart and three diamonds.

Fishermen who begrudge the effort involved in catching live crickets for bait can buy a quart of them, by mail, from a Georgia cricket farm.
We learn that it takes fifteen days for cricket eggs to hatch, eight weeks for the insects to grow to bait size. We note, too, that the breeders where they lay about in 85° temperature, lapping up chicken mash, are made of aluminum. But we confess we're not too surprised. It simply means that this busy metal has found still another use in the busy housing industry — this time providing clean, warm, pleasant quarters for aristocratic crickets. You see aluminum everywhere these days!

LATE CONVERSION

(Winnipeg Tribune)

The CBC board of governors has given private radio stations the right to deal directly with sponsors and communication companies to set up networks of two or more stations. The new policy is on a one-year experimental basis.

Up to now, private stations have had to deal with the C.B.C., which would set up the subsidiary networks and bill the sponsors. Under the new policy, private stations will still have to notify the C.B.C. and officially they will be able to set up their networks only on a monthly basis, as previously, but they will be able to do their own bargaining with sponsors and communication companies, such as telephone systems.

Affected by the change will be such operations as regional football and hockey networks. The change is in the right direction and will undoubtedly result in more economical operation of special networks to the advantage of private stations. It may well be wondered, however, why up to now the C.B.C. has injected itself as a middleman into a market where buyers and sellers of services could readily deal directly with one another.

It looks as if the C.B.C. has acted belatedly to correct a mistake that is 15 or 20 years old.

Birchton Club Holds Meeting

BIRCHTON — The regular August meeting of the Helping Hand Club took the form of an "Outdoor" at the Murray home.

Due to the absence of the president and vice-president, the past president, Mrs. A. Glen, took charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Lefebvre conducted the devotionals, the theme being humility, kindness, and the assuming of one's responsibility in the home, school, community, church, and politics.

The various committees gave encouraging reports, and a new member was welcomed. The new business included plans for catering to the wedding reception of Miss Theda Jackson on September 1st and the assuming of half the cost of the paint for the outside of the Parsonage.

The September meeting will be with Mrs. Howard Picard on September 4, at 8 p.m.

The meeting closed with the Tour Treasures Differ

LONDON—Canadian girls on the Commonwealth Youth Movement's "quest of 1956" are collecting bagfuls of out-of-the-ordinary souvenirs.

No picture postcards for them during their two-month tour of the United Kingdom. Instead they are filling their suitcases with a mound of mementoes that include:

Rocks from Hadrian's Wall, built in 122 A.D. across the north of England; slips of ivy from St. Andrew's in Scotland; fig leaves from Lambeth Palace, home of the Archbishop of Canterbury; pebbles from British beaches; and heather from Scottish moors.

"We save anything and everything," said 17-year-old Esther

Prudham, whose home is in Edmonton but who goes to school in Ottawa. "I've even got a leaf from a 1,000-year-old tree."

The girls are members of an 80-strong party of youngsters from 16 to 19 from Britain, Canada, Gambia, Sierra Leone, Nigeria, Zanzibar and Kenya. Four others are from Cyprus—two Turkish-Cypriots and two Greek-Cypriots.

"They get along very well together," said Maj. Fred W. Ney, organizer of the movement who lived many years in Canada.

Since July 3, the girls and boys, all wearing crimson blazers, have seen the English Lake District, Carlisle, Perth, Edinburgh, Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, and London. Still to be visited are such historic places as Stratford-on-Avon, home of Shakespeare; Canterbury, famous for its cathedral, and Winchester, King Alfred's capital.

Like the others, 16-year-old Nancy Muir of Vancouver has the collecting bug, but she is gathering charms and spoons with city crests on them—one for each place the party visits.

All, of course, are also storing away memories and impressions.

"I liked Edinburgh best," said Mary Chalker, 17, of St. John's, Nfld. "But I don't quite know why."

Others keeping memories or mementoes or both include Anne Quintin, 18, Sherbrooke, Que., Barbara Thompson, 15, and Denise Moffatt, 16, both of Winnipeg.

The tour ends August 24 when most of the youths return to their homes. A small party of Canadians will continue to Gibraltar and Malta.

Candies Favor Coffee Flavour

PANOCHA A CAFE DE BRASIL

Ingredients: 3 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed, 1 cup strong coffee, 2 tbsp. white corn syrup, 2 tbsp. butter, 1 teas. vanilla, 1 cup chopped Brazil nuts.

Combine sugar, coffee and corn syrup in saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly, until a candy thermometer reads 238°F., or until a little of the mixture dropped in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from the heat and drop in butter (do not stir). Cool, without stirring, to 110°F., or until the candy is lukewarm. Add vanilla. Beat with a spoon or electric mixer at medium speed until the mixture loses its gloss and a small amount dropped from a spoon will hold its shape. Stir in nuts. Pour into lightly buttered 8x8x2-inch pan. When cold cut into squares. Makes about 11-13 lbs.

COFFEE TAFFY

Combine 2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup light corn syrup and 2/3 cup coffee in a saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring, until sugar is dissolved. Cook, without stirring, to 268°F., or until a little dropped in cold water is very firm. Remove from heat and pour into greased pan. When cool enough to handle, pour 1 teaspoon vanilla into centre of mass. Gather corners toward centre so that flavoring will not be lost. Remove from pan and pull. Wrap in pieces in waxed paper. Makes about 1 1/2 pounds.

Big County Fair Opens Thursday At Barton, Vt.

THE MIDWESTERNERS — A big feature at the Barton Fair will be The Midwesterners, bringing 23 country and western artists together for performances Friday and Saturday evening.

4-Day Fair Features Outstanding Acts; Variety Is Keynote

A giant four-day extravaganza opens this Thursday at the Barton Brook Park in Barton, Vt.

It's the annual Orleans County Fair, bigger and better than ever this year, with many internationally-known attractions including Jack Kochman's Hell Drivers and the Mills Brothers, labelled the "TV Discoveries of '56."

Also headlining the fair will be Station WLW's Midwestern Hayride, an outstanding attraction featuring 23 country and western artists. They'll perform Friday and Saturday evening.

Variety is the keyword. The Hell Drivers will be in action Thursday for two shows, afternoon and evening. The Mills Brothers will help close the fair with afternoon and evening performances on Sunday.

Harness Racing will be staged Friday and Saturday afternoons. There'll be a big horse show, divided into two parts for Friday and Saturday mornings.

These are only a few of the big features at this year's fair. There'll be vaudeville galore, baseball games, band concerts, organ recitals, a grand cavalcade of premium stock, horse pulling and tractor pulling.

A brand new midway will be a great attraction, with many new rides, games and an excellent shooting gallery.

Exhibited, too, will be many varieties of stock, as well as farm machinery, arts and crafts and flowers.

Albon Cracks "Whip" Nightly At Barton Fair

Death cracks the whip nightly for Albon. And you may witness this macabre performance in front of the grandstand at the Barton, Vt., Fair each day and night of the Barton Fair.

"The whip" in this case is a slender steel upright which pierces the sky to a height of 130 feet. The whip-cracking action is furnished by Albon himself when he ascends this lofty sensitive perch. It's tall, it's slender and it's flexible; and Albon's every movement contributes to the swaying action of the top-most section. In utter defiance of this treacherous, vibrant whip, Albon ascends to its very pinnacle and there assumes gymnastic attitudes, statuesque in their beauty and flawless in their perfection. Under the performer's weight the pole begins its dizzy side-to-side swaying action, plummeting him through space like the living weight of some gigantic metronome. The finale is a full handstand, held while describing the lethal arcs, the whole effect enhanced by the use of fireworks.

Albon has been 15 years an aerialist. For some years he was a member of the famous Siegrist flying return act and in that unit had several seasons with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. He has had his own sway pole act for seven years.

Yes, sway pole artists do have accidents, occasionally. Albon once broke a leg in a fall and remained inactive only one week. Thereafter he worked for nine weeks with the leg in a cast.

Big Anniversary Celebration At Richmond Fair

MISS ANTOINETTE LINAHEN
SEC. TREAS.

ARCHIE DYSON
HON. PRESIDENT

100th Annual Fair Will Open This Thursday, Running 3 Days

RICHMOND—The 100th anniversary of the Richmond County Fair will be observed this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Richmond Fairgrounds, with a special anniversary show planned for the occasion.

Leaving no stone unturned to make this year's anniversary exhibition one of the greatest in the history of the Eastern Townships fairs, President Alf. T. Smith and directors of the County Agricultural Society have arranged a colorful program.

Miss Antoinette Linahen, hardworking secretary treasurer of the fair, reports a record number of entries in all classes, with several new competitors on the list.

Opening Day of the fair will be highlighted by Junior activities, with district club members putting on their own show. Activities are scheduled to get underway at ten o'clock with judging competition. Showmanship will be held in the afternoon.

In addition to the other general fair attractions, there will be a large Red and White Day Friday scheduled to start at 9:30. Many Avshires of the county, are expected to show.

For entertainment there will be a fun-packed midway and a gala 10-act grandstand variety show, put on by the Gus Sun Agency. This will include acts by The Hot Rod Hobo and his comedy car act; The Brownie Silverlake Trio, with their Roman Ring act, Mickey O'Malley and his Flying Saucers, and the Great Mattis, high sway-pole performer, as well as many more.

Saturday, August 18th will be the special Anniversary Day. Along with the regular acts in the grandstand show and all its attendant attractions, there will be two outstanding new acts for the final day only, being brought to Richmond by Paramount Entertainment Bureau, Inc., of Montreal. Gordon Beerworth, well-known to Eastern Townships fairgoers and representing Paramount office, will be present and have charge of the special anniversary program.

In addition to a "Pageant of Progress" in fashion, being arranged by the Women's Institute and the reading of highlights of the past 100 years activities, plus the introduction of past presidents and members of the fair board, it is planned to make a presentation to the oldest person on the grounds. Will Be Seeking Top Honors
At Annual Richmond Fair Again

TO SHOW AT RICHMOND — Clarence Pease, Richmond Fair exhibitor for 40 years, is shown working with his 24 bee colonies. Honey has been Mr. Pease's specialty for over 50 years and he has walked off with all the honors at both Richmond and Sherbrooke fairs. Like many, Mr. Pease exhibits in more than one section of the fair and again this year plans to take his pigs, some of which are pictured here.

RICHMOND — It's little wonder that H. C. Pease of Richmond always carries off most of the prizes in the honey section at the Richmond Fair. He's been at it for a long time.

Although Clarence Pease doesn't quite recall when he started raising bees, he knows for sure that it was well over 50 years ago. He was just a small boy when he went for a walk in the woods and discovered his first swarm. Today, he has increased his colonies to 24.

Mr. Pease has been exhibiting his honey for over 40 years at both Richmond and Sherbrooke fairs and has returned home just about every time with all the prizes.

He raises bees as a hobby although it keeps him busy most of the time. He goes about his daily tasks with the colonies kept well out of reach behind the barn and sells honey to many Richmond customers. Some of it has gone as far away as Boston and New York.

For his customers, Mr. Pease prepares the preferred extracted honey, but his fair exhibit also includes comb honey.

Mr. Pease, who looks after 120 acres of farmland as well as his bees, is also a hard worker for the annual fair. Besides preparing his own exhibits, he's a member of the fair swine committee and a director of the Richmond County Agricultural Association.

He showed us a few pigs, exhibiting every year and, although admitting he didn't always have winners, he said he managed to make a little bit of money... "enough to satisfy myself, anyway."

The entire Pease family have been exhibitors in various departments at the fair for many years. Mrs. Pease and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Raymond Pease have been friendly competitors in the flower department for several years.

Together, the two usually lead the flower class and walked off with most of the prizes.

This year, however, Mrs. Pease thinks she will leave all the winning to her sister-in-law, for she's had too busy a summer to work with her plants.

But husband Clarence knowingly suggests that come fair and thrills.

Also performing will be the Three Rockets in a transition from the old to the new, as three handsome and clever young lads render their version of rock and roll and the popular songs of the day.

Currently taking top honors in Montreal, the boys will soon appear on Jackie Gleason's television show. Dressed in currently popular Western attire, the Three Rockets will be a main attraction for the 100th anniversary celebration.

Gee Family Will Bring Holsteins, Maple Products To The Richmond Fair

RICHMOND — A well-established family of over 60 years in the Richmond-Melbourne area is upholding its tradition this year of exhibiting at the Richmond County Fair.

For W. L. Gee and son, Brian, it's a double chore to get ready for the fair. Each in his own way has been busy for months preparing separate exhibits for the event.

Along with being chairman of the cattle exhibit at the fair, Willie Gee's duty is to look after the family's 55 head of registered holsteins. Twenty-one year old Brian prepares the maple products and in past years, the two combined have brought home a good deal of the bacon in their individual fields.

Willie's father, D. M. Gee, settled near Kirkdale many years ago. Soon after, he established a milking herd and in 1898 started shipping milk to Montreal, one of the first of the district to do so. Today with their 22-head milking herd, his son and family still ship daily to the Guaranteed Pure Milk.

Both Willie and later son Brian, were born and brought up on what is now called Sugar Ridge Farm. In all, they own 400 acres of pasture and bush.

The Gee's went into holstein breeding about 15 years ago. In the past 10 years, they have been top exhibitors at the fair and have returned with several champions. Chief among these was the reserve junior champion male at both Richmond and Sherbrooke fairs.

Brian Gee took over the maple products exhibit after graduating from Macdonald College in 1954. In the first few years of exhibiting, he has taken first and second prizes in different classes.

Last year, he received first on his display, but second on the taste. But, as Brian confessed, "It wasn't hard to lose to Otis Fowler" (one of Canada's top syrup producers.) "But it would be really something to beat him."

Fortunately this year's yield from the Gee sugar bush was 190 gallons, higher than in most districts. The 1,600 trees tapped produced good quality syrup and Brian's hopes are high for the coming fair results.

RICHMOND—

Mr. Herman Fowler, of New Market, Ont., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bradfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Martin, of Southwick, Mass., and Mrs. Ethel Francher, of Springfield, Mass., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Moreland.

The Misses Gladys and Elizabeth Pritchard, of Minneapolis, Minn., who have been the guests of Miss M. A. Nelson, have returned to their home.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garth Burrill were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Witty and two sons, Garth and Dirk, of Mont Vernon, N.H., and Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Dyson, of Calgary, Alta.

Dr. and Mrs. V. J. Budon, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hudon, Mr. James Gribbons and Mrs. V. Scott Desmarais were guests of Miss C. J. Farquhar following the committal service of Miss C. J. Scott.

Miss Rose Wilkinson, of Montreal, was a week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lodge.

DUO COMPETITORS — Sugar Ridge Farm, owned by W. L. Gee will be well-represented at the Richmond County Fair, being held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Brian Gee is shown, above, preparing some of his maple products exhibit while Father Willie Gee looks on. Along with exhibiting the maple products, the Gees have been yearly exhibitors in the Holstein class. (Record photo by Gerry Lemay)

If the dairy farmer of today intends to make an operating profit, he must develop cattle that will produce the maximum quantity of high quality milk from a minimum of feed. Jerseys take less feed to produce top quality milk.

We have Jerseys for sale of all ages and at farmer breeder prices.

Most persons engaged in the business of producing beef cattle conduct their affairs with the view to making a profit.

The prosperous farmer is not buying good Shorthorn bulls and raising good cattle because he is prosperous, rather he is prosperous because he buys good Shorthorn bulls and raises good cattle.

We have Shorthorns for sale of all ages and at farmer breeder prices.

Ulverton Mayor Defends Jersey Honors At Richmond

Bob Simpson's Nyamakad Farm Possesses Excellent Jersey Herd

KIRKDALE — Being Mayor of the Municipality of Ulverton, president of the Quebec Jersey Cattle Club and director and publicity chairman of the Richmond County Fair doesn't give spare time these days. But on top of it all he manages to look after a 1,000 acre farm and raise one of the finest Jersey herds around. Farming comes natural to Montreal-born Bob who's lived on a farm since the age of seven. After a bout with the forces during the war, Bob started operating his father's farm not far from Richmond and has been there for 11 years. Nyamakad is a name Bob picked out for the farm. He got the idea when in India during the war. It means "profit land."

That he became interested in farming at an early age is shown clearly by the success Bob has gained with his fine Jersey herd. The herd has taken top honors at the Richmond Fair for several years now, although Bob modestly admits he has competition from only four or five other farmers now, compared to 12 eleven years ago.

Among the laurels won by his herd is the reserve all-Canadian junior male honor; the reserve junior champion at the Sherbrooke Fair in 1954; the reserve grand bull at the Sherbrooke Fair in 1955; the fifth prize bull at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, besides the grand champion cow at the Sherbrooke fair in 1953 and the reserve grand female in 1955.

In all, Nyamakad Farm has a herd of 165 head with a top rate milking herd of 80. Latest addition to the Simpson herd is Anson Sir Victor, 20-month old Jersey shipped directly from the Jersey Islands. The bull, arriving at Nyamakad Farm five months ago, is co-owned by Pierre Veillon, of Sweetsburg. It was flown from the Jersey Islands to Scotland and came the rest of the way by boat.

Jerseys are not the only class the Simpsons enter at the fair. On top of that they own about 60 head of both poled and horn-

TO BE AT RICHMOND — The Brownie Silverlake Trio, a feature act of many of the larger circuses, will be present with their Roman Ring act in Television Stars of 1956 at the grandstand of the Richmond Fair for three days, starting Aug. 16-18. This will be their first appearance in this part of the country.

Many Changes Have Occurred Since First Fair Was Held In Richmond 100 Years Ago

RICHMOND — Fairgoers who will throng the well-kept grounds and buildings of Richmond County Fair this week surely will be impressed with the many improvements and exhibit facilities to be found at the 1956 exhibition. Yet few will realize the vast changes that have taken place during the past century of activity as the Richmond County Agricultural Society marks its 100th anniversary with a "Salute to the Century."

To look back 100 years to early days of Richmond Fair with its beginnings as a tiny cattle show minus modern buildings and midway and grandstand attractions, it is hard to realize how today's accent on entertainment compares with the strictly agricultural aspect of the fairs of yesteryear.

If those who had the foresight to inaugurate an annual fair back in 1856 could visualize today's huge modern arena, spacious grandstand with covered stage, cattle and horse barns, etc., they would no doubt consider it far beyond their imagination.

Likewise, those who attend the fairs of today would be hardly impressed or interested in the get-together of farmfolk and cattle and horse judging without the attendant entertainment factors which make today's fair so vastly different from a century ago.

The first cattle show of Richmond County Agricultural Society was held in Danville, on the Danville Common September 24, 1856.

In the evening the directors and judges held a dinner at Lynch's Hotel, at which Lord Aylmer of Melbourne was named President with vice-presidents G. N. Cleveland and W. Farewell of the British American Land Co., and secretary, John Maine.

The exhibitors of the first fair, few indeed compared to the several hundred competing today, included: D. Harvey, A. A. Leet, B. C. Perkins, Thomas Gaffney, Elijah Silver, J. Mahaffey, Elisha Gallup, E. Gallup, John Green-shields, Rev. A. J. Parker, William Philbrick and E. Silver.

In the early days of Richmond Fair the annual show was held alternately in three locations, in Richmond on the Lovejoy property, in Melbourne on the Mac-Kenzie property and in Danville on the Common. Although small, the fairs created much interest and were attended by many from surrounding districts.

The first fair was held on the present grounds in 1891 but with many of the old records being destroyed by fire it is hard to compile an accurate history of the fair with names and events as they occurred up to 1896.

In that year the following deed of sale was recorded, denoting the purchase of the present site on the spacious fairgrounds overlooking the flourishing county seat and sprawling railroad yards of the Town of Richmond.

"July 2, 1896. Before Simeon Frazer, N.P., residing in the Town of Richmond, District of St. Francis, Came and appeared: 'Mr. Patrick McGauran, of Richmond, railway conductor, and Dame Catherine McGauran, widow of the late Mr. Augustin Noel, in his lifetime of the city of Sherbrooke, P.Q."

"Purchase recorded of present grounds, bought from above deceased owners by the Richmond County Agricultural Society represented by President W. L. Ball, Vice-president, M. J. Crombie, director, J. W. Ewing and secretary-treasurer, Chas. Campbell, for the sum of thirteen hundred and seventy-four dollars."

Since that date, many changes have taken place with the passing years. New buildings have been added, grounds enlarged and improved, and the number and quality of exhibits have vastly increased with the corresponding upswing in exhibitors and attendance.

One man familiar to everyone in the Eastern Townships, and President of the E. T. County Fairs Association for the past years, is Archie E. Dyson. He holds a record for the office of President of the Richmond Fair, a tenure of 14 years, during which an unprecedented and extensive program of building and renovations were instigated and carried out.

Included in the "Dyson Days" of Presidency were the following buildings: 1939 the grandstand; 1940 the coliseum; grandstand stage and dressing rooms for performers; 1942 new race horse barns; 1944 new cattle barns; 1950 new cattle, sheep, hog and calf club barns; 1952 new horse barn, and grandstand stage with covered roof.

With an ever-increasing exhibit list, the directors have accordingly increased the prize list. In 1923 the Society paid out $1,300 while in 1955 the total prize money distributed was $3,554.

As passing years take their toll, very few remaining members of the previous boards of directors are still alive. Among the "old brigade" of directors still living are such familiar names as F. E. Gallup, James Smillie, H. E. Bieber and E. D. Taber, whose activities still continue to aid present day members with their knowledge and experience.

In the ladies' Department, the oldest members of the committee still living are Miss G. Mathias, and Miss Harkom, whose invaluable help in the past is still widely recognized.

From available files and memories, the following list of former presidents and secretaries has been compiled through the co-operation of Miss Antoinette Linahen, Secretary-Treasurer, whose many years of experience have also been of great benefit and incalculable help in her dual role as Secretary-Treasurer of the Eastern Township's Fairs Association, which post she has held for many years in conjunction with the president, Archie Dyson.

NY State Racing Body Suspends Two Drivers

NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York State harness racing commission Monday suspended two drivers including Canadian reinsman Maurice Pusey.

Pusey drew a five-day suspension from Yonkers Raceway judges for what they described as a "careless and reckless" ride behind Mr. Galvin in the sixth race on Aug. 10.

Judges at Saratoga raceway suspended Lawrence Beaudet of Detroit for 30 racing days for "brutal and indiscriminate use of the whip" during and after the second race of Aug. 10 in which Beaudet drove Lark V-bart.

Mantle, Aaron Still Leading Major Hitters

NEW YORK. — (AP) — Wally Moon, St. Louis' speedy outfielder, is the latest Cardinal player to make a bid for National League batting honors.

Moon gained 11 points during the week to boost his average to .327 and challenge Milwaukee's Hank Aaron, who leads the league with .340. Figures include games through Sunday.

While Moon was having a successful week, Aaron slipped four points with 11-for-37. Stan Musial, meanwhile, suffered an eight-point decline and fell from second to third at .317. Stan the Man went 9-for-38.

New York Yankees' Mickey Mantle continues to hold a comfortable advantage in the American League batting race. Mantle heads the loop with a .370 average, followed by Boston's tempestuous Ted Williams, runner-up at .354. Mantle also is tops in home runs with 418 and runs batted in with 104.

Lt. Ed Warner Disqualified For Taking Too Much Time On Shots, Sets Pace But Score Disallowed

SOUTH MARCH, Ont. — A 28-year-old Kingston and Vancouver marksman Monday night was awarded the coveted Queen's gold medal and General Sir Arthur Currie Trophy by the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association although he placed second in the match.

Sgt. J. R. Bud Hardy of the Royal Canadian Electrical Mechanical Engineers carded a 175 of a possible 200, finishing eight points behind Lieut. Edson Warner of Lennoxville, Que., but the latter was disqualified because he took too long on some of his shots.

The Gen. Sir Arthur Currie match is held in conjunction with the Queen's Gold Medal match.

Warner, 26-year-old member of the Sherbrooke Regiment who missed winning the Queen's prize at Bisley, England, earlier this summer by a single point, represented Canada at the world championships in Norway and the Olympics at Helsinki, Finland, in 1952.

Maj. A. B. Coulter of Ottawa, DCRA executive vice-president, said following the meeting that Warner's score would not be allowed to stand. "Disqualification of Warner's score is automatic," he said following the meeting. "Since these matches are held under service conditions, time limit on getting the shots away in 45 seconds and it can't be extended. We have to draw the line somewhere."

A four-member Royal Canadian School of Infantry team from Camp Borden, Ont., won the Gen. Sir Arthur Currie team trophy fired in conjunction with the Queen's match, with a combined score of 645 of a possible 800, finishing five points ahead of the Royal Canadian School of Military Engineering at Chilliwack, B.C.

Today, the Bankers' match from 300 and 600 yards will be fired in the morning with the MacDougall match from 200 and 500 yards being held in the afternoon.

In addition, trials in the Olympic smallbore matches to decide two berths on Canada's four-member team that will compete at the Olympics at Melbourne, Australia, and shoot-offs to decide the winners in three of the opening day service matches that ended in ties will be held.

England's Brenda Fisher Sets New Record For Lake Ontario Crossing

Knocks More Than Two Hours Off Mark Set By Marilyn Bell; Takes 18 Hrs. And 50 Minutes; Third To Make Swim

TORONTO — (CP) — Britain's Brenda Fisher Monday set a record for swimming across Lake Ontario, completing the 32-mile stretch in 18 hours, 50 minutes.

By so doing she became the third person to cross the lake and dropped two hours and six minutes from the previous best time, set by Toronto's Marilyn Bell in 1954.

Marilyn, then 16, made the distance in 20 hours, 36 minutes. John Jaremy, 36, a Toronto steamfitter, swam the lake last month, taking 17 minutes longer than Marilyn.

Brenda slipped into the Niagara River at Niagara-on-the-Lake at 10:56 p.m. Sunday night. During the last quarter-mile of her gruelling marathon the elements conspired to rob the sturdy 28-year-old fisherman's daughter from Grimsby, England. But four-foot waves, lightning, thunder and torrential rain could not stop her.

A giant wave washed her in at 5:47 p.m. and then, apparently little the worse for wear she boarded the accompanying craft, Daydream II.

"I feel fine, thank you," she said over the ship's radio, "I'll have my bath now."

Her coach, Herb McNally, also from Grimsby, said he is "very proud to have trained the queen of the English Channel, the queen of the Nile and now the queen of Lake Ontario."

She holds the women's record of 12 hours, 43 minutes for the English Channel, which she has swum twice, and last April set a women's record of 12 hours, 11 minutes for the 29-mile River Nile swim.

Brenda swam through darkness, rain and finally into brilliant sunshine Monday. Weather conditions were favorable through most of the swim, with water temperature around 64 degrees and winds of 15 miles an hour from the southwest.

She stopped infrequently for snacks of tepid tea, well loaded with sugar, and biscuits. Most lake challengers take honey or syrup and baby's cereal during a long grind.

Through the early part of her swim Brenda was without paces. A radio appeal, however, attracted a school of volunteers and reports of her gruelling chore prompted many radio listeners to pledge gifts of money and merchandise for her.

A constantly-swelling armada of small craft and launches chugged beside Brenda, bearing radio reporters and their short-wave transmitters, newspaper men, paces, photographers and spectators.

The swim, which began on a calm lake, under a sky that varied from grey to brilliant sunshine, was finished in a driving rain, thunder and lightning.

Accompanying boats were in danger of capsizing as the storm lashed with renewed fury as she landed.

When she was 15 yards out boats whistled and cheering shouts of encouragement from the crowd urged her on. Then the breaker caught her up and placed her within an arm's length of a five-foot stone embankment.

She touched it eagerly, stood up, smiled at the well-wishers on the shore, then got into a row-boat to be taken to the Daydream II.

LITTLE LAKE DOUBLE FINALISTS — The above photo shows the finalists who met last night for the doubles championships of the Little Lake Tennis Tournament. The Durocher-Giard combination upset the veteran and defending champions Majella Charest and Yvan Boisvert in a closely fought battle. The winners copped the first 6-4 but dropped the second 3-6 and then rallied to overcome a big lead in the third set to win 8-6 and then finished the match with a 6-3 decision in the fourth to wrap up the crown. Tomorrow evening the opening round of the Eastern Townships Tennis Tournament will be staged at the courts of the Sports Club on Fraser Street. The draw will appear in tomorrow's paper. Today is the deadline for entries which closes at 5:00. (Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Leafs Come Up With New Slogan For Next Winter

TORONTO — (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs have come up with a new slogan and a bunch of new faces for the 1956 National Hockey League season. Now, it's "Rock 'n Roll with Howie Meeker and his Crew Cuts."

The musical note, replacing the 1955 "Guts, Goals and Glamour" motto, was revealed Monday by general manager Hap Day. Leafs open their training season at Sudbury, Ont., Sept. 18.

Meeker was appointed coach last April on a one-year contract. His crew cuts were identified as five juniors signed to pro contracts this year.

They are defencemen Bob Baun and Al MacNeil and wingers Gary Collins and Bob Pulford, all with Toronto Marlboros, last year's Memorial Cup champions, and winger Pat Hannigan of Toronto St. Michael's Majors.

Meeker, 33, former player with the Leafs, coached Pittsburgh Hornets of the American Hockey League the last two years.

Have Redlegs Reached End Of The Line After Hoping Pitchers Would Hold Up? Slip Two Games Behind Idle Dodgers

Have the Cincinnati Redlegs, who figured "to go as far as our pitching will carry us," reached the end of the line?

It was manager Birdie Tebbetts who tagged his pitching the big "if" in the National League pennant chase, and now that his not-so-robust Redlegs are slumping at the plate just when the pitching is in need of a lift the Cincys are hurting.

Tebbetts needed a "stopper" Monday night, what with relief ace Buster Freeman sidelined by a back injury and Hal Jeffcoat and Brooks Lawrence taking their lumps, but he couldn't find one. Milwaukee's first-place Braves swept the final three games of their four-game set with a 5-1 decision.

The defeat skidded the Redlegs four games behind the Braves and two back of Brooklyn, rained out at New York in the only other game scheduled in either league.

The Redlegs, who won the series opener behind Larry Jansen who was just recalled from the minors, were on even terms with the Braves for five innings. Then Del Crandall, whose sacrifice fly produced the first run, tagged Klippstein for a two-run homer, his 13th, to break a one-all tie in the sixth and Milwaukee was rolling.

Rookie Frank Robinson soaked his 26th home run for Redlegs only run.

Rookie Taylor Phillips, a 23-year-old southpaw, gained his third victory without defeat, scattering seven hits.

Milwaukee, which got through the Redleg series without the starting help of ace right hander Bob Buhl nursing an injured finger, plays three at St. Louis before moving on to Cincinnati, while the Redlegs have four games with the Chicago Cubs before returning home.

The Dodgers have three with the Giants, then go to Philadelphia for the weekend before starting a make-or-break western trip that includes three at Cincinnati and two at Milwaukee on five consecutive days.

In the American League, first place New York has a three-game series at home against Boston—a set which looked like more of a scrap until the Red Sox were knocked out of second place at Washington last weekend. The Yankees still have an 8 1/2-game bulge over second place Cleveland.

After scoring a 40-36-76 round Monday, Doe said he had trouble with his putting. "I couldn't read the greens," he said. "They're real dandies."

Bob Kidd of Vancouver was B. C.'s best with a one-over-par 74.

Norman's 69 smashed a course record set in 1951 when Pete Kelly, a former National Hockey League player with Detroit Red Wings and now golf pro at Bathurst, N. B., shot a 71 in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island matches here.

He charged down the back nine in 33, three under par.

In the Canadian junior tournament's first round Monday red-headed Bryan Copp of Vancouver carded a 77 to take a one-shot lead over Bob Kennedy of Moose Jaw, Sask., and Gary Gowan of Kitchener, Ont. Both came home in 76.

Other juniors battling for the crown are Bill Hutchinson of Saint John, N. B., (80), Perry Locke of Dartmouth, N. S., (80), Bruce Murray of Edmonton (82), Remi Lefebvre of Montreal (82) and Don Atkinson of Winnipeg (89).

The defending Canadian amateur champion, one-putting five greens on the back nine Monday, served notice he will be very much in contention when match play for the amateur crown starts Wednesday. His Willingdon Cup rounds will double as qualifying scores.

Meanwhile, he teams with captain Jerry Magee of Toronto, Jack Lowrey of St. Catharines and Bill Morland of North Bay to fend off the Manitoba challenge for the Willingdon Cup.

Magee carded a one-over-par 74 in the first round. He went in a two-under-par 35-including four birdies—soared to a three overpar 39 on the way home.

Lowrey's 77 and Morland's 82 completed the Ontario picture. Don Gardner of Winnipeg carded a first-round 74 to lead the Manitoba bid. Last year's junior champion, George Knudson of Winnipeg, was in at 75. Bob Gray had a 76 and captain Harry Critchley of Winnipeg a 79.

Trailing British Columbia in order after 18 holes were Quebec 314, Alberta 319, Nova Scotia 321, N.B.P.E.I. 332 and last-place Saskatchewan 334.

Don Doe of Granby, Que., who lost a thrilling final to American crooner Don Cherry in the 1953 Canadian amateur is on the Quebec team.

Toupin was called on last season to replace Jean-Paul Lamerande in the middle of the campaign.

TROIS RIVIERES — (CP) — Jack Toupin, popular Trois-Rivieres hockey figure, has been named to coach this city's entry in the Quebec Hockey League next season.

Hospital officials said Dublin's suffered torn ligaments in his knee but would not indicate how long he would be sidelined.
