Sixty-Six Year

First national gathering

Boer War vets re-unite

OTTAWA (CP) — About 250
Boer War veterans ranging in age from 76 to 96, headed home
today after "taking" this politically-deserted capital in their first nation-wide reunion.

The old soldiers marched smartly on Confederation Square and remembered their fallen comrades as they observed the 60th anniversary of the end of the South African War.

Bedecked with Queen Victoria medals, they toured the capital and swapped anecdotes
about the bloody three-year campaign.

They capped the gathering
Thursday night with numerous and boisterous toasts and an enthusiastic reception for Mayor Charlotte Whitton, the only woman at a dinner tendered by the federal government.

"I find you more vigorous and friendly than most city
councillors," Mayor Whitton told them.

GREETING FOILED
Veterans Affairs Minister
Churchill said he had been unable to greet the mayor because at least six veterans had gathered around to kiss her and when she arrived at the Chateau Laurier Hotel.

Governor General Vanier earlier told the veterans they gave
"a very good example to the regular forces" when they marched past him on Confederation Square as noon-hour
traffic backed up in all directions.

Glancing at the chiefs of staff
of the armed services, he added with a smile that this was not a reflection on the 100
desk-bound regular troops who marched with the veterans.

Gen. Vanier departed from his prepared text as he dedicated a book of remembrance
containing names of the 284 Canadians who died in the Boer War.

Blocks chimney, becomes a pet

GLENDALE, Ariz. (AP)
You've heard of bats in the belfry. Well, the Carl Short family had an owl stuck in the chimney for 10 days.

It took that long to discover the source of a fluttering, thumping sound.

Firemen looped a rope
around the owl and pulled it free. Fireman Dale Morgan
dubbed it Oswald the Owl,
and took it home for a pet.

Few signs of violence, revolution

In second year as a republic, South Africa in stable position

LONDON (CP)—South Africa
today entered its second year as a republic with its economic position secure, its political outlook stable and its attitude defiant.

British correspondents in Cape Town report there have been few signs of the violence
and revolution that many predicted would follow the nationalist government's repressive racial policy.

Prime Minister Hendrik Ver-
woerd and his regime seem, if anything, stronger than they were before breaking away from the Commonwealth. The government remains unperturbed by the storm of protest
aroused by the sweeping powers of detention proposed in the sabotage bill now passing through parliament.

Verwoerd has, of course, retained the passionate support of the Afrikaaner population. But by bringing security and stabl-ity, he has also reassured the English-speaking South Africans.

'THINGS IMPROVED'
"The end of the world has not come as they half expected,"
writes Leslie Beilby in the Daily Telegraph. "In fact,
things have improved all round."

English-speaking opposition
to Verwoerd and the government's increasingly dictatorial measures has weakened after disappointing returns for both the United and Progressive parties at last fall's general
elections. Says Beilby:

For English language education

Urge more bilingualism in system

Four institutions strongly recommended to the Royal Commission on Education
yesterday that a greater emphasis be placed on the teaching of French in the English-speaking education system in Quebec.

In a brief to the commission, sitting at the University
of Sherbrooke, Bishop's University, called for more activities and courses to be conducted in French in all schools and universities "to further the aims of bilingualism."

"French should first be taught in Grade One rather than in the third grade as is the present case," a joint submission of the three private schools in the area—
King's Hall, Compton; Stan-
stead College and Bishop's College School recommended.

A Grade XII education for all students going on to university
was also called for by Dr. Ogden
Glass, principal of Bishop's University who presented his university's brief.

This recommendation was also made by the three private schools.

Dr. Glass told the commission that approximately one-third of his students at present are taking at least one course in French and, in fact, for one of the university's degrees, in business administration, French
is a required subject.

"To aid in developing bilingual students, the administration has envisaged making one of our dormitories completely French-speaking," Dr. Glass
continued.

The three private schools recommended "that the learning of French should begin in Grade
one and be pursued with the utmost emphasis throughout

the elementary grades, thereby making feasible a broader syllabus and higher standard of ability in the language in high school grades."

Referring to the Grade XII
recommendation, Dr. Glass said:
"In our opinion an extra year
of school work at the Grade
XII level would make them
(the students) reader to meet the challenge of university studies."

Dr. Glass said that he personally would prefer retaining the four-year degree-granting course, rather than shortening
it to three even though the students would have an extra
year of high school.

"Industry does not need workers until they are close to twenty years of age," Dr. Glass said, "and so there is no need to try to get students out of school when they are 17 anymore."

"Since immaturity contributes largely to the number of
first year university failures,
we suggest that a Grade XII
education be made obligatory
for all those progressing on to university," the private schools
said.

"The lengthening of the school course would also allow
the syllabus to be broadened
and afford teachers more opportunity to achieve solid grounding and more time and freedom
in their presentation of subject matter," their brief said.

The Bishop's University brief
also recommended that all possible care be taken to avoid and prevent any lowering of academic standards in the striving for province-wide uniformity in

A new solution is discovered to finding magnetic North Pole

OTTAWA (CP)—Pinpointing
the magnetic North Pole, one of Canada's most popular geographical guessing games, has got a new solution.

All you have to do to play
this contest is to put an X on the map, where you think the pole should be.

But to come up with the right
answer is as difficult as knowing which direction the stock market will head next. It won't be tomorrow where it is today.

The magnetic pole, which wanders around Canada's Arctic
according to changes in the earth's magnetic field, is constantly on the move at the fast

clip—geologically speaking—
of more than five miles a year.

'PROS' KEEP TRACK

For a really up-to-date answer
of how to find it, you have to go to scientists at the Dominion observatories here. These
"pros" of the game make it
their job to keep track of the roving pole and occasionally
take a trip to make sure it's where they believe it to be.

Ten years ago the mines and technical surveys department's map of Canada showed the pole
on the northwest edge of Prince of Wales Island.

Dr. P. H. Serson, physicist in the observatories' geomagnetic
division, calculates the pole now
has crossed the 60-mile-wide Barrow Strait to the south coast of Bathurst Island, about 2,300 miles northwest of Ottawa.

A more precise location is 75
degrees north latitude, 99 degrees, 30 minutes west longitude.

The Daily Mail's Peter
Youngusband says the Afri-
kaners compared their present
alienation with the great trek
they made by their ancestors
in 1836. They accept the fact they stand alone "with the stubborn courage Afrikaners have always shown in their fight for what they believe in."

Pearson follows Dief in B.C. but receives quieter treatment

A picket line, a few hecklers,
no fisticuffs—that's how Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson
was greeted in Vancouver
Thursday night.

Mr. Pearson followed Prime Minister Diefenbaker to the West Coast city by less than 24 hours—heading into the attention of Wednesday's wild demonstration that disrupted Mr.
Diefenbaker's rally at the huge Exhibition Forum.

The Liberal leader said the

demonstration was a "bad
deal."

"The prime minister is entitled to good treatment—who ever he is," he said, during a stop in a car cavalcade that toured the city, with a gathering in Vancouver's colorful Chinatown.

His main speech was in the Queen Elizabeth Auditorium,
where 3,000 gathered in the main hall and by closed-circuit
television to more than 1,000.
The doors were closed when the limit under fire regulations
was reached.

He received a warm reception, but there was some heckling. Outside the auditorium, a few pickets carried placards
asking for jobs.

CALL ON BRAINS

Mr. Pearson said that as prime minister he would call
on the best brains of management, labor and farm organizations to form a task force to tackle what he called "the mess" created by the Conservatives.

The prime minister was in Alberta, again stressing his farm theme of new agricultural markets, more farm production.

"You can expand your markets and increase wheat production," he told farmers at Westlock, Alta. "We have the markets and we will continue to have markets."

At Red Deer—the riding being contested by Social Credit
Leader Robert Thompson—Mr.
Diefenbaker said discussions are under way on acquiring 13,000, 000 acres of marginal land on the Prairies for pasture and millions of acres in Eastern Canada.

Federal assistance
would be paid to move cattle
to better feeding areas from places where grass is in short supply.

At Penticton, B.C., Mr.
Thompson said his party, if elected to government, would abolish "political bias" in judicial appointments. He told reporters that he felt a non-partisan committee should make

Israel's first execution

Defiant to end, Eichmann hanged

TEL AVIV (AP)—Defiant to the end, Adolf Eichmann was hanged Thursday night for organizing Nazi Germany's war-
time extermination of 6,000,000
European Jews.

The young state of Israel hanged the 56-year-old former Gestapo lieutenant—colonel at two minutes before midnight on an improvised scaffold in a third-storey storeroom of Ramleth Prison near Tel Aviv.

It was the first execution in the 14-year history of this Jewish state which counts among its citizens thousands of relatives of Jews whom Eichmann helped speed to death in Hitler's gas chambers.

Eichmann's body was cremated quickly and the ashes
scattered under the waters of the Mediterranean.

REMAINS COOL

Eichmann was cool and unrepentant as Israel carried to conclusion its announced determination to record the history
of the Nazi pogrom and hand
out justice in the name of all Jews.

A faint smile on his face,
Eichmann spurned the traditional black hood and even chided his jailers for making it difficult for him to stand on the scaffold's trap door.

"My belief was correct," the former head of the Gestapo Jewish affairs section said.
"... I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

At a command from an Israeli guard, Eichmann stepped to the trap door and lunged to his death almost in a single motion.

Death was almost immediate,
prison officials said.

FOUND GUILTY

Eichmann was condemned to death last December by a special three-judge tribunal that found him guilty of acts of "unparalleled enormity" against the Jewish people and against humanity—the only crime subject to capital punishment in Israel.

The cold-blooded Nazi burocrat with thinning hair insisted he was only a minor cog
carrying out orders from above
in the Nazi campaign for "the final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

But the court said he actually relished shipping Jews to their deaths by the hundreds of thousands, saying he was motivated
by "an ardent desire to...
blot out an entire people from
the face of the earth."

The Israeli Supreme Court
rejected Eichmann's appeal
against the death sentence
Tuesday, declaring even death
was an inadequate penalty.

And with unexpected speed,
President Izhak Ben-Zvi sealed
Eichmann's doom about noon
Thursday, rejecting appeals for executive clemency from Eichmann, members of his family
and others.

Eichmann was transferred

salem, where he had been

Agriculture program lags

Russia increases consumer prices

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today increased consumer prices of meat and butter to finance the country's lagging agricultural program in the face of food shortages.

Butter — up 25 per cent — will cost $1.83 a pound; pork and beef — up 30 per cent — will retail for 88 cents a pound.

The effect of the increases
are measured against salaries
much lower than those in most foreign countries. A semi-skilled Soviet worker gets the equivalent of $88 a month, professional and semi — professional
people about $222 a month.

The government announcement said that the increased charges were necessary because there was no other means
of raising money to pay the increased expenses on farms.

During the winter there was a serious shortage of meat and butter in the stores. There has been much private grumbling.
SUGAR CHEAPER

The government conceded that the increase in price would be a burden upon the people,
probably decreasing their eating of meat and butter. As a compensation, some decreases
were ordered in certain other products, notably sugar.

The statement said the cost of producing food, meat and butter had increased sharply because of the expenditures on mechanization on the farms.

This announcement left Western spectators somewhat nonplussed since the aim of mechanization in most countries is to cut costs, rather than to increase them.

What has been known for some time, however, is that the amount of money spent on mechanizing farms and in producing fertilizer has been kept
so low that agriculture has fallen behind the rest of the economy.

Moreover, the announcement made it plain that people in the cities are going to bear the lion's share of the burden of the increased prices. That will tend to level out the living standards of the city and country groups. Normally, city people have lived better in the Soviet Union because of a sharp
salary and income advantage
accorded them from the time of the revolution.

Stock market rallies

NEW YORK (CP-AP) — The
New York stock market has fully recovered from losses in this week's severe slump but prices of issues still are far below their highs for the year.

Wall Street rallied for the second consecutive session Thursday and more than made up the retreat of Monday and Tuesday.

But the rally failed to spark
the Canadian stock markets
which were shaken by losses.

The recovery also failed to stimulate buying interest on any scale in the London stock markets today and price movements
were small.

Buy orders on the New York Stock Exchange swelled to mammoth proportions—a dramatic turnaround from the selling panic that earlier had gripped
the market.

Trading continued at a hectic
pace, totalling 10,710,000 shares.
The New York Stock Ex-
change's ticker tape was one

close of trading.

Surprise move at NDP rally

Meeting votes for medical care

KAMASK, Sask. (CP) — A surprise vote among 675 persons attending a New Democratic Party rally here Thursday night showed about 80 percent in favor of implementation July 1 of the Saskatchewan government's medical care
plan.

The vote came toward the conclusion of a meeting at which national NDP Leader
T. C. Douglas was the main speaker. Mr. Douglas was speaking in support of party candidate Leonard Larson in the Yorkton riding.

The resolution favoring the compulsory, pre-paid medical plan also proposed that those attending the meeting in this farming community of 2,800

persons extend their appreciation to Kamsack's four doctors.

The Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, which represents the 904 doctors in the province, voted opposition to the medical care plan early this month. Some doctors are reported to have threatened to leave Saskatchewan rather than practise under it.

Kamsack's doctors have said
they will practise under the
plan.

Kamsack is 150 miles northeast of Regina.

During the rally Mr. Douglas told the attentive but generally undemonstrative gathering he was confident that if 100 doctors left the province in the face of the controversial medical plan, a other 100 soon
would fill their places.

He said Saskatchewan doctors are the highest-paid in Canada, with an average income in 1961 of more than $18,000, and this would be enough to draw all the doctors
needed.

Joyal opens campaign

Accuses PCs of inaction, delays

FERNAND JOYAL
Liberal opens campaign

"The inaction and delays of the Diefenbaker Government" came under attack Thursday night as Fernand Joyal, Liberal candidate in Sherbrooke County, opened his election campaign with a rally at St. Sacrament parish hall in East Sherbrooke.

Addressing an audience of some 200 people, Mr. Joyal said that the Progressive Conservative policies had reduced the rate of national economic growth to the point where production in 1961 alone was five billion dollars below what it would have been if the rate of increase apparent under the previous Liberal regimes had continued.

Unemployment had reached the 700,000 mark whereas under the Liberals it had never exceeded three per cent of the working force. At times under the PCs it had reached ten per cent, he said.

The boasted Diefenbaker Government winter works program proved too little and too late, said Mr. Joyal.

He said that a secret report given the Government by economists indicated unemployment would reach one million by 1964 unless immediate steps were taken to meet the situation.

Outlining Liberal proposals to meet the coming crisis, Mr. Joyal declared the party when elected would create a national planning commission composed of representatives of industry, labor, university economists and government agencies. This commission would determine the number of jobs needed to give full employment for Canadians, the number likely to be provided by private industry and the number that must be created for under government programs.

It proposed the creation of an Atlantic Community to boost exports; special credits to aid industrial expansion; regional development programs; slum clearance and tax cuts to aid consumption during times of recession.

In the field of social legislation, the Liberals planned a system of contributory old age pensions supplementing the existing payments; a health insurance plan that would not affect doctor-patient relationship; financial assistance to youths and unemployed men taking technical education courses.

The system of equalization payments to the provinces would be improved a national flag provided within two years, the vote would be extended and a control would be placed on electoral expenses if the Liberals were elected, Mr. Joyal declared.

The decision of the PC government to construct only one landing strip at the local airport was largely responsible for the failure to find a company willing to provide air service to Sherbrooke, Ald. Paul Gervais declared.

When the Airport was started by the Liberals, two strips were planned but one of these was eliminated by the Diefenbaker Government, he said.

J. L. Pelouin urged the election of a solid bloc of 75 Liberals from this province to assure that Quebec took its proper place in Confederation.

Some of the social security policies of the Liberals were outlined by Mrs. Paul Gervais, who said that all social reform legislation since 1937 had been introduced by the Liberals.

Parents must decide on education content

COOKSHIRE—(Special)—Parents were told Thursday evening to decide what they want for their children's education and to proceed to obtain it.

C. W. Dickson, English secretary to the Royal Commission on Education which is holding hearings in Sherbrooke at present, made the remark at a meeting of the ABC Home and School Association at the Cookshire High School.

Representatives from most of the Compton County school boards attended the gathering. Mr. Dickson pointed out that the ideas he explained at the meeting were given as private citizen and not as the board's representative. Mr. Dickson is formerly of Scottstown and has been involved in teaching and education for 30 years.

He traced the history of education in Quebec for the past 200 years and noted that, with his travelling experiences in other provinces, he was glad that he lived in Quebec where the Protestant minority had been given the privilege of running its own school system.

It will take time to solve some of our problems, especially in the thinly populated areas, he said. But much can be done if members of school boards and education have tolerance, mutual understanding, learn to organize and to co-operate.

During a lengthy question and answer period, it was noted that a much larger high school in Compton County might help to solve some education problems. This would necessitate new

No government control

Complete academic freedom advocated in Bishop's brief

Academic freedom in the Province of Quebec at present is not in danger, Dr. Ogden Glass, principal of Bishop's University affirmed Thursday, under questioning from Msgr. A. M. Parent, chairman of the Royal Commission on Education.

"The government should have no control whatsoever in matters of education," Dr. Glass maintained, "even if it paid 100% of the cost, and it is for this reason that we have submitted the resolution calling for complete academic freedom."

When questioned about Bishop's recommendation that Grade XII be made compulsory for all students going on to university, Dr. Glass said that he personally would prefer retaining the full four year course rather than shortening it to three, even though the students would have an extra year in high school.

"That four months be taken off from college and generally be devoted to work other than studies is too much, and in that time too much can be forgotten," Dr. Glass said in defending his recommendation that the school year be made longer. He envisaged the lengthening of the school year by granting a break in early spring, and thus creating three equal terms.

"At present our costs are shared approximately in three equal ratios by the government, endowments, and fees, however, as our enrollment increases it becomes increasingly harder to keep the endowments at that ratio nevertheless, in all fairness we feel that we shouldn't keep running to the government to make up the deficit all the time and this is one reason why we have raised our boarding fees by $100 for the coming term," Bishop's bursar, Lyman Tomkins, told the commission Thursday.

Dr. Glass, under questioning by Msgr. Parent, chairman of the commission, called for a single body to have control and to enforce uniformity in the presenting of university degrees.

On the subject of bilingualism at Bishop's, Dr. Glass stated that approximately 1/3 of the students take at least one French course, and to further this, the administration is thinking of making one of its dormitories in the future completely French-speaking.

Princess delayed

GLASGOW (Reuters)—Princess Margaret and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, were stuck in an elevator for one minute Thursday while visiting the Royal College of Science and Technology here.

In discussing the role of the university in the community, Dr. Monroe, a member of the commission, suggested that both Bishop's and the University of Sherbrooke unite to give evening courses so as to benefit the community.

Dr. Glass, countered a question concerning the harmful aspects of an honours courses providing "specialization too early and in too great quantities," by pointing out the results these programs have wrought.

The Catholic School Commission also asked that the president of the commission be allowed to authorize, on his own expenditures of greater than $50, which is presently the maximum allowed by law.

The commission also recommended that the school inspectors do their job by grades rather than by geographical locations as is now the case. The commissioners felt that this would allow a better job to be done.

A fourth recommendation by the Catholic School Commission dealt with changing the school day to two separate sections of five hours each.

"In this way we could get greater use out of the buildings, and could save the taxpayers a great deal of money in the construction of new, and in all reality unneeded schools."

Their final recommendation called for a "higher academic content in the subject matter taught in elementary grades."

There is a definite need for guidance officers in the schools, according to a brief presented to the Royal Commission on Education by Marcel Guy, a member of the Freres Club, a Catholic social club, in Sherbrooke. The brief went on to explain the great losses that are taking place daily in the local school system because of the lack of a person qualified to lead the students into the fields for which they are particularly suited and for which they have the requisite talents and capabilities.

The brief presented yesterday by the Sherbrooke Catholic School Commission called for the division of all the schools in the province into one of three categories: those from highly populated areas, those from moderately populated areas, and finally those from sparsely populated areas.

"If this were done," Gustave Lafontaine, who presented the brief, maintained, "we could drop certain courses from one area and add others to others, thus allowing us to teach the students what they will, in the long run, need the most."

Purchasing agent traces profit leaks during address to local buyers' group

Profit leaks in every purchasing department and through every buyer can often take up a major segment of a company's financial position, the secretary of the Purchasing Agents Association of Montreal declared Thursday night.

The following is a list of the new executives:

Wm. F. V. Foster of St. Hilaire, Quebec, who is purchasing agent of the general purchasing department of the Canadian Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Co., Ltd., Montreal said that profit leaks affect both big and small operations alike.

He said one of the major profit leaks is understaffed departments which loose control of the dollars. Other profit leaks the speaker pointed out are:

(1) the buyer who pays the higher prices at the expense of his company's profit;

(2) the "expert buyer" who knows everything. "He's the type that never seeks advice, seldom requests competitive bids and rarely explores markets," Mr. Foster said.

(3) Friends. "I believe some company officials are influential in this regard without consideration to their company's profit," he said.

(4) Craft is potentially a real and elusive danger, the speaker said and also high in this list is flattery, lunches, entertainment and trinkets which are intended to spellbound the weak buyer.

(5) The simple honest mistake, the misunderstanding, the mishap and inefficiency usually result in hidden financial loss to a company too, he said. The executives for the Eastern Townships branch of the

Three schools call for council to govern university admission

The need for a central body to govern university entrance drop certain courses from one area and add others to others, thus allowing us to teach the students what they will, in the long run, need the most."

The Catholic School Commission also asked that the president of the commission be allowed to authorize, on his own expenditures of greater than $50, which is presently the maximum allowed by law.

The commission also recommended that the school inspectors do their job by grades rather than by geographical locations as is now the case. The commissioners felt that this would allow a better job to be done.

A fourth recommendation by the Catholic School Commission dealt with changing the school day to two separate sections of five hours each.

"In this way we could get greater use out of the buildings, and could save the taxpayers a great deal of money in the construction of new, and in all reality unneeded schools."

Their final recommendation called for a "higher academic content in the subject matter taught in elementary grades."

There is a definite need for guidance officers in the schools, according to a brief presented to the Royal Commission on Education by Marcel Guy, a member of the Freres Club, a Catholic social club, in Sherbrooke. The brief went on to explain the great losses that are taking place daily in the local school system because of the lack of a person qualified to lead the students into the fields for which they are particularly suited and for which they have the requisite talents and capabilities.

The brief presented yesterday by the Sherbrooke Catholic School Commission called for the division of all the schools in the province into one of three categories: those from highly populated areas, those from moderately populated areas, and finally those from sparsely populated areas.

"If this were done," Gustave Lafontaine, who presented the

June Birthstone PEARL MOST VERSATILE GEM

The birthstone for June, the lovely Pearl is certainly the most versatile gem that a woman can own, according to Paul Nadeau of Skinner & Nadeau Inc., Jewelers here in Sherbrooke. He said that "pearls are always in good taste, for day or evening, and for a woman or girl of any age."

As a birthstone, wearing the pearl is said to symbolize modesty and purity, and for this reason, it is often the choice of the bride. One of the coming traditions today, Mr. Nadeau said, is for the parents to start a fine necklace for their young daughter, adding pearls to the strand to mark birthdays, and other special gift-giving times. Often, other relatives will take an interest in seeing the pearl necklace grow, so by the time the young lady is of marriage age, she has a fine beginning for a jewelry wardrobe.

Mr. Nadeau, who is a member in the American Gem Society revealed that this organization also recognizes the Moonstone and the rare Alexandrite as alternate birthstones for June. Moonstones, according to legend, will banish nightmares, and like the Pearl, it is a gem often compared to tears and raindrops. The Alexandrite, a recent gem discovery, is quite rare. It is a favorite of the June-born man, for it has the exciting quality of appearing green in daylight, and a strong raspberry red under artificial light.

However, Mr. Nadeau cautioned, the Alexandrite is often imitated by heat-treating synthetic sapphires, so it is important to buy this gem only from a reputable and gemologically skilled jeweler.

Abandoned mines provide ET hazard

Two incidents of the past week, one in the United States and the second in Alberta, in which children lost their lives as a result of falling into abandoned mine shafts draw attention to the unsatisfactory condition of many non-operating mines in the Eastern Townships.

In a one-square-mile area in Sherbrooke county at least six unprotected mine shafts provide potential death traps for children and adults alike. In one case a shaft idle for the better part of a century is situated only a few feet from a frequently travelled highway. Separated from the public road only by a row of bushes it is neither capped nor surrounded by a fence. A few hundred yards away, shrubbery has surrounded another shaft and strangers picking berries in the area might easily fall down the water-filled hole.

Quebec laws demand that when a mine suspends operations that it be capped properly and fenced in, a very fine law as far as it goes.

But the regulations have one basic weakness. They make no provision for maintaining the protective works once they have been installed. Time takes its toll, especially on wooden structures that are not adequately maintained. It is not long before rain, snow, frost and wind wreck the shaft houses or the platforms erected over the mines or animals or human beings destroy the fences. Even the logs and fencing disappear, sometimes down the shafts they are supposed to protect. The situation is further aggravated by bushes growing around the depressions.

The original mining groups cannot be held responsible for maintaining the protective works as in many cases they went into bankruptcy when the workings were closed.

In the final analysis the responsibility rests with the provincial government who licensed the mining operations in the first place. Legislation should be passed charging the mines inspection department or other agency with the task of ferreting out these abandoned mines and arranging for their proper protection before some catastrophe strikes.

Pilot development plan for Brome

The announcement made by Agriculture Minister Hamilton at Knowlton Tuesday that Brome county will probably be the site of one of the first pilot projects of the new Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act is a heartening one.

Almost since the act was passed a year and a half ago, Brome has been among the leaders in promoting its aims.

Early in January, the Brome County Rural Development Organization was formed. It works in close harmony with existing organizations in the cause of rural development — a number of farm forum groups and a coordinating county council.

Mr. Hamilton indicated that the project the federal government has in mind for Brome would be an experimental one concerned with changing farm resources into tourist and recreational resources. He said negotiations between the federal and provincial government will probably be held on or after June 15 so that federal authorities can act.

The project should be of tremendous significance. The ARDA plan is fundamentally a long-range program to assist rural people through resource development projects. It aims to increase the opportunities to improve incomes and employment, to make desirable land use changes and adjustments and to make an overall approach to the conservation of soil and water resources.

Tourist facility development is obviously just one phase of ARDA planning.

But for Brome, it could be an important phase. A good start in the right direction has already been made with extensive new ski site developments in that area; developments which have been little short of spectacular in their success to date. The county abounds, too, with abundant natural tourist resources in the summer time, and the projected construction of the long-awaited Montreal-Sherbrooke autoroute, which will cut across a portion of Brome county should clear the way for substantial development of these resources.

The implications of the project go far beyond the borders of Brome county. Many other areas in the Townships — indeed, throughout Canada — will be watching the project with great interest. The lessons learned in Brome may well lead the way towards a virtual revolution in rural development in many parts of Canada.

'Fluorophobia' helps mislead public

(The following is an editorial by Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director, Health League of Canada, reprinted from HEALTH Magazine.)

There is a statement attributed to Voltaire which is significant in the history of thought and free speech. In effect, Voltaire is said to have given voice to a maxim expressing the view that while he might object with the greatest vigour to the views of an opponent, he would defend to the death his right to speak.

It is suggested here that when Voltaire made this famous statement he, of course meant that he would uphold the right of a man who is sincere to speak the truth. It has never been suggested that Voltaire attempted to defend the right of the insincere man to give voice to opinions which he knew were not the truth.

All this has to do with statements made by various vociferous propagandists suffering from that curious disease called by the late Dr. W. L. Hutton of Brantford "fluorophobia". Dr. S. W. Leslie of Toronto is one of this group. In a recent public statement he said that fluor-idation was only of benefit to a small group of children.

Dr. Leslie knows just as well as any doctor or dentist in Canada knows that fluoridation of communal water supplies given from birth to the age of 12 or 14 years will ensure a vast reduction in dental decay in children generally. He also knows that the benefits of fluoridation extend through life. If it is in the minds of many that, knowing this fact, even if he had not read it in the Morden Report, it became a duty incumbent on Dr. Leslie to give these facts to the public.

As President of his curious Society for the Scientific Study of Prevention of Contamination of Water Soil and Air, Dr. Leslie makes a statement calculated to confuse and befuddle the public. We suggest that Dr. Leslie has no right to stand behind the protection of a medical or dental degree to make statements to the public which he knows are not true.

The Morden Report issued by the Ontario Government is the result of study by a committee with the powers of a Royal Commission under the chairmanship of the late Mr. Justice Morden. It includes the following statement: "We are convinced that it has been conclusively proved that the presence of fluoride, either naturally occurring or mechanically added in a municipal or communal water supply in concentrations of approximately one part per million strikingly reduces the incidence of dental caries when such water is consumed during the period of tooth development and that the caries-reducing effect of fluoride extends into adult life."

This statement is in accord with the opinion of virtually every competent scientific society in North America. How does Dr. Leslie justify his conduct and why should his co-workers in the job of misleading the public also concur in statements which they know are not true?

Our advice to the public of Canada in this fight for the fluoridation of communal water supplies to preserve health is simply "ask your family doctor or dentist his opinion."

Corrects impressions in book review

Dear Sir:

An item "This won't touch most Christians" by Bluebell Phillips, appearing in the March 3, 1962, issue of the Sherbrooke Daily Record has been brought to my attention.

The item infers that Mr. Platt has "his own particular group". This inference is incorrect. Mr. Platt, who passed away about one year ago and cannot defend himself, has not been a member of any particular group for more than 20 years. He has endeavoured to accept all teachings that he could corroborate with the Scriptures contained in the Holy Bible. He read and loved the writings of some of the World's greatest Christian writers, disregarding their denominational affiliations.

The very positive statement that the chapters of the book were "written by various men of the Church of the Latter Day Saints put together by Mr. Platt" is utterly erroneous. At no time has Mr. Platt had any connections with the Church of the Latter Day Saints. He has read about them and examined the Mormon doctrines; but he was not in agreement with them, and certainly, not one of the articles compiled by Mr. Platt is the work of the Latter Day Saints group.

The reporter, Bluebell Phillips, has drawn a conclusion, perhaps from the heading of chapter one of the book where "Latter Day Christians" is a misleading phrase used in the English translation of the book. The German version has "Glaubige der Endzeit" meaning endtime believers. The translation to "Latter Day Christians" is indeed unfortunate. However, for a reporter to draw a conclusion from a somewhat ill-worded chapter heading and to make a public proclamation in a daily newspaper is bearing false witness and comes little short of libel. I realize it was done in ignorance. As to the content of the book, let me say that it may be somewhat controversial among some Christians, especially those adhering to one particular group; but Mr. Platt tried to prove it by the Scriptures and not by some particular denominational creed, and everybody has a right to prove all things by the Scriptures, regardless of anyone's personal opinion.

I would be happy to have this letter published, unless the above-mentioned reporter publicly recalls her (his) statements concerning Mr. Platt and his book. I doubt if the reporter could identify one of the preachers or writers who have contributed to the content of the book. The by-lines used in the book refer to some highly respected Christian teachers.

Slow shuffle at UN

U Thant acts on New Guinea

By FLETCHER REYNOLDS

UNITED NATIONS — U.N. Secretary General U Thant has called for a ceasefire in West New Guinea, reversing the hands-off policy he has pursued in that Far East trouble spot.

Although his appeal was directed to both the Dutch and the Indonesians, the onus is on the latter, who are the aggressors.

Mr. Thant had come under heavy criticism from Western circles at the U.N. for his lack of initiative in the New Guinea war.

Monday the Dutch formally announced that they would resume negotiations with the Indonesians on the basis of proposals put forth by Ellsworth Bunker, a former United States diplomat who is now acting as mediator in the dispute. Indonesia had already indicated its readiness to negotiate on the basis of the Bunker proposals.

The Bunker plan provides for the United Nations to take over Dutch-held West New Guinea and to administer the territory for a period of not longer than two years. At the end of this period, the U.N. will hand the territory over to Indonesia. The Indonesians will then administer West New Guinea for an unspecified time, until the Papuan natives of West New Guinea can determine their own future.

The key clause in the plan provides for the Papuan natives to decide whether they want to join Indonesia or to become independent. In Western circles at U.N. headquarters there is skepticism about whether the Indonesians—if once in control of West New Guinea—would actually allow the Papuans to vote for independence from Indonesia.

Indonesian President Sukarno maintains that West New Guinea is a part of Indonesia. In the past, the Indonesian government has opposed all Dutch efforts to have the U.N. take over West New Guinea and to have a U.N.-administered plebiscite. Also, the Jakarta government claims that Indonesian paratroopers currently invading West New Guinea are only reclaiming Indonesian territory from the Dutch.

The Dutch government has reportedly accepted the Bunker plan only because of pressure from the U.S.

Washington's role in the whole affair is somewhat mysterious. The U.S. recommended Mr. Bunker as mediator in the dispute. Mr. Thant accepted this recommendation and Mr. Bunker has supposedly been serving as an impartial U.N. mediator to help the Dutch and the Indonesians reach agreement.

The U.S. State Department denies that it has anything to do with Mr. Bunker's activities as a mediator. But it is well known at U.N. headquarters that Mr. Bunker has worked closely with the State Department in coming up with his proposals, which are being backed by the U.S. There are even some at U.N. headquarters who say that Washington and not Mr. Thant had been running the show.

Until yesterday, Mr. Thant had not cut a very spectacular figure in the attempt to settle the feud between the Dutch and the Indonesians. While the situation deteriorated in West New Guinea, Mr. Thant chose to do nothing, relying solely on the efforts of Mr. Bunker.

Last week the Dutch requested Mr. Thant to send U.N. observers to West New Guinea. The Dutch also appealed to Mr. Thant to ask the Indonesians to stop their paratroop invasion of the territory. Mr. Thant lamely replied that he could not act on the Dutch plea without being partial.

The U.N. Secretary General's inaction caused murmurs of disapproval from certain segments of the Western camp at the U.N. It was pointed out that to do nothing to stop the Indonesian invasion was, in fact, merely siding with the invaders against the Dutch. Mr. Thant's attitude was also compared unfavorably with his predecessor, Dag Hammarskjöld, who was seldom afraid to bring the U.N. into hotspots like West New Guinea.

Mr. Thant's call for a ceasefire came when hopes were already rising for a peaceful settlement.

If the Dutch do peacefully leave West New Guinea, and if the Indonesians do give Papuans self-determination, then Mr. Thant's go-slow policy will be justified. However, these are very big ifs, and only history can tell whether Mr. Thant has been right.

THREE VILLAGES —

The Border Peanut League baseball players are selling season tickets to their games. It is hoped the public will support the teams by buying one as the money is needed to purchase equipment, and the games are fun to attend. Anyone wishing to make a donation may contact Roland Curtis or Mrs. R. Gosselin, Derby Line, or Mrs. Bernard Laberee, Beebe.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Bushnell, of Arvida, spent the holiday weekend with Mr. Bushnell's mother, Mrs. John Bushnell, Rock Island, and visited others in the community, leaving here to spend several days in Burlington.

the appointments — with the committee made up of representatives of bar associations, labor, government, the judiciary and other major organizations.

LEADERS MOVE ON
Mr. Diefenbaker flies from Edmonton to Timmins and Kirkland Lake in Northern Ontario today. Mr. Pearson flies to Ottawa, with a stop at the Lakehead. New Democratic Party Leader T. C. Douglas is returning to his home riding of Regina, while Mr. Thompson is stumping in the Calgary-Edmonton area.

This is the first general election in which Indians have the franchise — and three of the four party leaders made a pitch for their vote in speeches Thursday.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, speaking in Westlock, Alta., said one of his proudest achievements is the granting of the franchise to Indians. This right was provided by legislation passed by Parliament in 1960.

Liberal Leader Pearson said a Liberal government would establish a tribunal to adjudicate Indian land claims. It would be a "legal tribunal which the Indians themselves will know will be above suspicion."

At Dauphin, Man., Mr. Douglas said Indians should have the same rights as all other Canadians. He said the Bill of Rights, "not worth the paper it is written on" — offered no protection for Indians against discriminatory practices.

education.
Dr. Glass, called for "a greater exchange of ideas and opinions regarding high school and university curricula between those responsible for the designing of such curricula in both types of institutions with a view to arranging a logical sequence of studies at both levels."

The institution of technical schools for those students "who have intelligence and technical ability but who do not qualify for admission to university" and the need for a study regarding "those who qualify neither for university admission nor for admission to the proposed technical colleges but whose intellectual abilities warrant further educational opportunities" were two more of the recommendations made by Bishop's University.

The brief presented by Bishop's also called for a "redistribution of the vacation terms with a view to equalizing the academic terms."

Other recommendations made in the Bishop's brief concerned greater inter-change between the universities of the province of lecturers, ideas, and in the undertaking of large projects in such fields as history and sociology.

CAN JOIN BLUE CROSS

NO AGE LIMIT!

NO MEDICAL QUESTIONNAIRE!

Why you need Blue Cross. The Provincial Hospital Insurance Act does not take care of the fees of the physician who treats you in hospital. Nor the surgeon's fees. Nor the anaesthetist's charges. Nor the extra cost of a private or semi-private room. You must still pay these bills yourself. And they can easily run into hundreds of dollars.

That's why you need the extra protection already enjoyed by 750,000 Blue Cross members in the Province of Quebec under employee welfare group plans.

Now you can join — individuals — married couples — families with children — people over 65 — without a medical questionnaire or physical examination of any kind.

IMPORTANT:

Fill in and mail the coupon NOW. We'll send you full details and an application form promptly. Your signed application must be completed and mailed back by June 18th.

Agricultural convention to be held June 12, 21

Canadian Agriculture on the World Scene will be the theme of the 42nd Annual Convention of the Agricultural Institute of Canada to be held in Ottawa, June 18 - 21. In making this announcement, J. E. McCannell, the Institute's Executive Secretary, claimed that a more urgent topic would be difficult to find at this time.

The European Common Market, the World Freedom from Hunger and Foreign Aid projects, trade with common countries and the future world population explosion are all pressing issues demanding top priority in attention in Canada. These and other major international developments all bound to have a tremendous impact on Canadian agriculture.

The convention will take place at the Institute's Convention. Over 800 professional agriculturists from across Canada and abroad are expected to gather for the event to be held at the University of Ottawa.

Now there is colored concrete

Concrete is a good durable concrete. With either of the latter methods, you will have to make sure the surfaces are clean. Use a detergent to remove stains. In stubborn cases use lye, but handle it carefully and rinse thoroughly. Wear rubber gloves, boots and goggles. Apply finish when surface is dry. Use a concrete stain, not wood stain. Apply according to directions. Remember that color intensity is determined by the amount of penetration, so brush out smoothly. Don't allow puddles to form. Most stains require more than one coat plus a finish coat.

Mixed Dry

The powder is mixed with other dry ingredients before water is added. Dry materials should be mixed until they are uniform in color.

Save Money

Rather than color the whole batch of concrete, you can save money by coloring only enough for a layer about an inch thick. You will have to mix and pour two separate batches. Pour the base and roughen the surface with a broom. Allow to set until surface water has gone. Then apply the topping. The base should still be soft enough for bonding.

DAIRY PRODUCTS — MILK PRODUCTION UP

Milk production in 1962 is expected to exceed the 192 billion pounds produced in 1961, given average pasture conditions and a continued growth of the national herd.

Effective May 1, 1962, the Agricultural Stabilization Board dropped the selling price of butter from 64 to 52 cents a pound. The retail price is expected to range around 58 cents per pound and sales should expand.

Butterfat prices to producers are expected to remain the same, since the Agricultural Stabilization Board will buy butter at the same price as in 1961.

Payment of 25 cents per hundredweight for milk utilized in manufacturing will continue to be paid, exclusive of surplus milk from fluid milk producers.

Skimmed milk powder production is likely to be lower in 1962, as a result of low world prices and diversion of milk to casein. Domestic consumption is expected to increase further in 1962.

POULTRY PRICE MAY STRENGTHEN

Egg production from April to July is expected to be higher than in the same period a year earlier. During the last half of 1962 production is expected to be lower and prices up.

Markets of broilers were up in the first quarter of 1962 but are expected to decrease in the second quarter. Cutbacks in February and March in purchases of broiler chicks indicated a decrease in the volume of broilers to be processed. This would raise turkey prices above those of last year.

POTATOES — SUGAR BEETS — OILSEEDS

Potatoes — Smaller potato plantings are in prospect this year if intentions are carried out, but would still be the second highest acreage since 1953. Planted acreage is expected to decrease in all regions except in Western Canada when an increase of 18 thousand acres is expected.

Based on average yields for the past five years, the indicated acreage would result in a crop of 42.2 million hundredweight, approximately two million hundredweight less than in 1961. Some reduction is also expected in the United States. This combined with a smaller crop in Canada may result in higher prices for the 1962 crop, compared with 1961.

Sugar beets — Sugar beet plantings in 1962 may equal 90,000 acres, with an increase of 4,000 in Manitoba. The Canadian sugar beet support program for 1962 will take the form of a deficiency payment based on the declared value of imported raw sugar. World prices, which determine import values, have been showing a rising trend and will likely be at higher levels during 1962 than in 1961.

Oilseeds — Acreage of flaxseed is expected to be 20 per cent smaller, but with average yields, production could exceed the small crop of 1961. Nevertheless, much larger world supplies do not seem likely and prices should be well maintained.

A smaller rapeseed crop is in prospect for 1962. However, with large carryover stocks and plentiful supplies abroad, prices to producers will probably be lower than during the harvest period of 1961.

With average yields, soybean production will likely be smaller than in 1961, in spite of a somewhat larger acreage. Canadian soybean prices depend largely on supply and demand conditions outside Canada. These conditions indicate that prices may be somewhat lower during 1962-63.

The Canadian sugar beet support program for 1962 will take the form of a deficiency payment based on the declared value of imported raw sugar. World prices, which determine import values, have been showing a rising trend and will likely be at higher levels during 1962 than in 1961.

Daffodil lunch held at Waterloo

WATERLOO — The daffodil luncheon sponsored by St. Luke's W.A. was an exceptional success. The large number attending enjoyed the salad luncheon served buffet style.

The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Hilda Hughes, president, and Mrs. Sylvia McKergow was in charge of the tickets at the door. Decorations, in charge of Mrs. Doreen Osborne, were in the theme of a sidewalk cafe in Paris. Gay Parisian scenes bordered the church hall, with daffodils in great prominence. The tables were spread with pink cloths, and centered with little cakes, topped by tiny dolls.

The tea table was covered with a green crocheted cloth. Yellow candles in silver candleabra were separated by a huge bowl of daffodils. Mrs. Russell Lawrence and Mrs. George Williams poured. Replenisher for the tea and coffee were Mrs. Phyllis Pickford.

A most satisfactory sum was realized.

Bertrand Brassard, Liberal Candidate in Stanstead County!

A YOUNG MAN; A DETERMINED MAN!

MR. AND MRS. BERTRAND BRASSARD AND FAMILY

Bertrand Brassard is a young man. He is the official Liberal candidate in Stanstead County. He has proved, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that he is a person of strong convictions; a person capable of making up his own mind. He impressed delegates to the nominating convention; he is the official candidate.

He has taken an active part in public affairs. In 1956, when the Comité de l'Hôpital Magog Hospital Inc. was formed, Mr. Brassard was made secretary, a post he occupied for the three years the committee operated. Magog residents are aware of the accomplishments of this committee.

During this same period, he became director of the Syndicat Catholique des Ouvriers du Textile de Magog Inc., and has fulfilled his duties in this regard for three years. During the 20 week strike in 1959, Mr. Brassard took charge of picketers. He also took responsibility, as chairman, for the proper organization of the strikers' recreation committee.

It is refreshing to know that Mr. Brassard does not accept all the credit, which, in our opinion, is his due. He says that he could not have accomplished anything as chairman of these various committees without the wholehearted support of other committee members. Syndical members, in recognition of his accomplishments, elected him secretary. He resigned after one year's service, to enable him to give more attention to other activities.

LIBERAL ACTIVITIES

In 1955 he became interested in politics, choosing the Liberal Party. First, he became chief organizer in a constituency. His work soon brought him to the attention of the party executive, and, during the last provincial election he was provincial organizer, after being named chairman of the local association; his term of office expired in 1961.

The accomplishments of Mr. Brassard and his team in Stanstead County are obvious. The Liberals won that election.

After the victory of June, 1960, Mr. Brassard participated in organizing the Association Libérale Feminine de Magog and provided spade work throughout the constituency in order to re-vitalize the Association de la Jeunesse Libérale. He is still president.

When we take his accomplishments into consideration, we arrive at the conclusion that Mr. Brassard leaves no stone unturned in carrying out his assigned duties. He sees hard work as a means of proving his ability and being worthy of the trust shown in him.

HIS FAMILY

In 1952 Mr. Brassard married Albertine Audet of Magog. They have two children: Manon, 8, and Carole, 4. Manon is in grade two.

Mr. Brassard was born in St-Joseph d'Alma in 1928, where he obtained his primary education. After attending the Chicoutimi Seminary for one year, he decided to follow a commercial course, which he completed at Sacre Coeur College in Beauceville.

He then settled in Magog, where he is now employed as a machinist at the Dominion Textile Company plant where he has worked for 14 years.

He is the man to represent you at Ottawa because he knows your problems. He is a worker and he has worked to improve the lot of his fellow working men. Today, he is a candidate in the forthcoming election because he is determined to continue his work in the interest of workers and all other groups. Our country, and, of course, Stanstead County, needs men who will work for co-operation between management and labor, always keeping in mind the rights of the working man.

Marriages

Herring-Des Lauriers

COWANSVILLE — A lovely spring wedding took place on May 12 1962 in St. Therese de L'Enfant Jesus church, Cowansville, when Miss Yolande Huguette Des Lauriers, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Camille Des Lauriers, was married to Mr. Kenneth E. Herring, of Cowansville, the eldest son of

Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Herring of Bury. Father W. Chasson officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mr. Guite of Sweetburg was organist. Mr. John Kane, uncle of the bride who sang "Ave Maria", and "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of taffeta, with full skirt and small train. The waist and hemline were draped with lace caught with white satin bows. The bodice was fashioned with round neckline and long sleeves. Her elbow length veil of tulle illusion, was held with a crown of aurora borealis stones. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom. She carried a nosegay bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

The groom was attended by his father.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece dress of nylon organza over blue printed silk, black accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a gown of old rose lace over taffeta, with matching bolero and white accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Maurice. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom under an arch of wedding bells, tall lighted tapers completed the decor.

For her wedding trip to New York and Niagara Falls the bride wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a corsage of burnt orange roses.

Out of town guests were from West Lebanon, N.H. Portland, Me. Bury, Montreal, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Bishopston, Island Brook, Gould, St. Lambert, Lachine, Coaticook, East Angus, Lesage, Ville Leveque, Bedford and Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Herring are residing in Cowansville.

Chairs in Different sizes
will provide comfort for all

A really comfortable, lived-in living room needs chairs that fit the varying requirements of different people. Not everyone wants to sprawl in a lounge chair, nor do all of us want to sit up stiff and straight.

Looking around a seemingly comfortable living room, one member of the family said: "There isn't a chair in this room with a back high enough to lean my head against. Everyone of them stops right in the middle of my back." This is true of many homes.

A wing chair is one answer to this particular problem. A variety of shapes and heights will add interest and provide comfort to people of different sizes and preferences.

Dear Polly: On one wall (about six feet wide) in our dining room, we have a buffet that is four feet wide. Above it is a mirror 18 inches wide and 27 inches tall. It has a gold frame. The problem is: should we put some plaques on each side of this mirror and if so, what kind? Should they be fruit or flowers? We have a flower plaque on one wall and the Lord's Supper on the other.—Mrs. X.

Dear Mrs. X.: Move that mirror, which is too small, to another place. Get a large one which is better scale for the buffet. It might be about three feet wide and taller than it is wide. A couple of plaques at either side are not going to help the present situation.

Dear Polly: Is blond furniture out of style? I went to three stores looking for a chest of drawers in blond wood but couldn't find one. I want to use a three-drawer chest in place of an end table in my living room because I need the drawer space. All my woods now are lined oak. Could I use a dark chest or two? I don't like the lacquered chests now being shown because of the gold on them.—Mrs. J. S.

Dear Mrs. J. S.: Warmer and darker tones in wood finishes do seem to be more popular now than the blond finishes. A painted chest seems to be your best bet. Have a dark rich green, lacquer red, mustard gold or black, whatever looks best with your room scheme. Ask the store to order one without the gold trim. Or perhaps you could paint an unfinished one yourself. It isn't difficult. I saw such a low chest that looked stunning. It was covered with tortoise-shell wallpaper and stood between two chairs.

MAPLE COPSE CHAPTER, I.O.D.E.

At the May meeting of Maple Cope Chapter, I.O.D.E. an interesting selection of slides was shown by Mrs. A. B. Lovelace covering a motor trip from Port-aux-Basques to St. John's, Newfoundland, and return. Many beautiful views of rocks and sea were included, as well as those of the rugged terrain where camping equipment is a necessity because of the distances between towns and the absence of motel accommodation away from the main centers. The speaker was introduced by the Regent, Mrs. Austin Scott, and thanked by Mrs. Gordon Herring.

Mrs. Scott presided at the business meeting which preceded the program and reports were received on the month's work.

The treasurer, Mrs. Darcy Bennett, gave the financial statement, mentioned that the proceeds from the Birthday Tea held at the end of April were most satisfactory. Bills were ordered paid and $20 voted to the Korean Projects fund.

The Educational secretary, Mrs. A. W. Preston stated that another United Nations seminar would be held at Macdonald College in early August to which pupils from Grade X of local high schools were invited. The chapter voted to supply funds for a Lennoxville pupil to attend, the candidates will be chosen by the Principal, Mr. J. Edward Perry.

As a summer project it was decided to hold a raffle, the first prize to be a set of colored bed linen donated to the chapter by a Provincial officer. Books of tickets will be distributed to the members at the June meeting.

Mrs. R. C. McFadden, Services secretary, announced that she had 38 articles on hand and would like to send 50 to Headquarters early in June if they were received shortly.

A request from the Optimists for a flag to be flown from the new pole in the Lennoxville Park playground was considered. However, as Mrs. Austin Scott had a large flag which she was willing to donate to the Park committee, the chapter was not required to supply one.

Business concluded, the meeting closed with the usual ceremony and refreshments were served by Mrs. Scott and Miss G. Killingbeck.

How to store winter clothes

Are you one of those people who toss a few mothballs into an ordinary closet and consider your winter wardrobe safely hibernated for the season?

It just doesn't work that way. Careless winter storage can be a real hazard to clothing, warns the National Institute of Dry-cleaning.

The most important thing to remember is never put clothing away dirty. Dirt and food stains are an insect's invitation to dinner. And larvae already deposited on garments must be removed. They eat many times their weight daily—and your clothing is their favorite meal, no matter what the fabric.

Garments should be professionally cleaned—and all spots removed—before storing. Also, you can save yourself a lot of aggravation next fall by letting your drycleaner make minor repairs (or by doing it yourself). Many cleaners don't charge for this service.

Before storing garments, remove belts from their loops and hang them from a coat-hanger so the backswing won't crack. Close all fastenings so garments won't hang out of shape. Then hang the clothes carefully or fold them into boxes.

Sweaters and knitted garments should be stored flat. You might stuff them with tissue paper so fold marks won't be obvious. But remember, pile can be distorted when you fold garments into boxes.

Sprinkle a reliable moth preventive into the clothes containers or closets (or have your drycleaner mothproof garments after cleaning) and seal them shut. Store areas should be kept cool, dry, and away from sunlight to discourage the hatching of insects. Cleaned and moth-protected garments must be sealed from air and moisture to be completely safe.

Cedar chests and cedar-lined closets are satisfactory when moth eggs are already out of garments. While the cedar won't kill moths or silverfish, insects avoid garments surrounded by cedar.

Leave plenty of air space in storage compartments. If you don't have ample storage space, you'll find that many drycleaners provide sealed storage vaults with controlled humidity and temperature where your garments hang safe and insect-free. The fee is usually small and garments are insured. That way your garments are returned at the end of the season cleaned, pressed, and ready to wear.

Ogden County couple honored on anniversary

OGDEN COUNTY — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Danneau was the scene of a pleasant event on the afternoon and evening, May 26, when their family entertained relatives and friends at Open House to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

The bride, wearing a white floral silk dress was presented with a white and mauve corsage of poms, and the groom of the silver year, with a white carnation boutonniere from their family. They were presented with a white satin bag containing 25 silver dollars and 25 cents, by their younger son, George, from the children, as well as other gifts of silver and of money.

Refreshments were served from a table attractive with a white and silver cover and centered with a three-tiered anniversary cake, a gift of Mr. and Mrs. George Danneau, parents of the groom. The cake which was decorated in white and silver, and topped with a vase of flowers, was flanked by multi-colored tulips, white and silver candles in silver holders, and a decorative silver colored 25 and white candles.

Miss Therese Danneau, the couple's only daughter, was in charge of the guest book. Those attending were from Springfield, Mass., Verdun, Montreal, Beebe and the Boundary Villages.

Spring entertainments at the Wales Home

RICHMOND — The residents of the Wales Home have reason to be thankful and appreciative of the many forms of entertainment brought to them by outside groups during the spring season. Among the most recent were the following:

A humorous play, entitled, Is There a Doctor in the House? was presented by Mr. Northcote and his Thespian Players from Drummondville. This performance brought much laughter and applause from the audience. Then, John Hobson, physical instructor at St. Francis High School, Richmond, with three of his students, gave a wonderful demonstration of gymnastics which was again much appreciated.

Another unusual form of entertainment which pleased the audience, was the clever tricks performed by Scamp, a little dog owned and trained by Lorne Ames, of Danville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Desnoyers of Granby, again delighted the audience by showing colored movies of the lower St. Lawrence, like St. John area, Gaspe, the Maritimes, the Maine Coast and a few other places.

A group of young people, members of Mrs. M. Connors' dramatic class, from Drummondville, gave a splendid entertainment under her direction.

The Imperial Singers, a group of 35 members of the staff of the head office of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Montreal, directed by Laurie Griffiths and with Joan Smith as pianist, presented their spring concert, a high class program.

The Singing Girls of Sherbrooke, 30 young ladies, directed by Mrs. Guy Blanchette, rendered another fine concert. Added to their performance was the exquisite stage appearance of the singers and director.

On Sunday, April 29, the choir of the Christian Advent Church, Danville, under the leadership of Mrs. McCoy, rendered the cantata, From Death to Life; and on Sunday, May 20, the choir of St. Paul's United Church, Waterloo, gave the cantata, The Beatitudes, under the direction of Roger McKergow. Both these cantatas were excellently rendered by the soloists and choruses of the respective groups.

The Salvation Army Band from Sherbrooke also rendered a musical program, including a girls' tambourine drill which was very effective.

The last event was a rather impromptu performance when the student nurses from the Sherbrooke Hospital made a tour of the Home with their instructors and were lured into a singsong which was in progress in the large living room.

SWEETSBURG —

Tigers, despite injuries, are on the move

Al Kline is out with a broken shoulder. Frank Lary, a 23-game winner last year, has one victory. Batting champion Norm Cash and slugger Rocky Colavito are hitting .238 and .235 respectively. And the Detroit Tigers have moved within two games of the American League lead.

How've they done it? With key contributions from the reawakening C boys—Cash and Colavito—who have given indications of shaking their prolonged slumps, and with outstanding performances from Jake Wood, outfielder Billy Bruton and pitcher Paul Foytack. The trio combined Thursday as the Tigers won their 10th in 12 games by belting Chicago White Sox 13-5. Wood drove in five runs with a three-run homer, two doubles and a single.

HAS WON FOUR

Foytack, who had been relegated to the bullpen at the start of the season, ran his record to 4-1 since being restored to the starting rotation when Lary was injured and the other frontliners were being tagged by the opposition.

While the Tigers were improving their position, Cleveland upped its first-place edge over the idle New York Yankees to a full game by beating Baltimore 4-3. In the only other game scheduled, Kansas City blanked Washington 1-0 behind Jerry Walker's six-hitter.

Backed by the slugging of Wood and Bruton, the Tigers had little difficulty with the White Sox, although Foytack had to have relief help after allowing a two-run homer by Bob Farley in the sixth and a two-run triple by Bob Sadowski in the seventh. Foytack gave up six hits before Ron Kline took over and permitted only one run over the final 2 1-3 innings. Don Zanni (2-2), first of four Chicago hurlers, took the loss.

ERROR HELPS TRIBE

The Indians, shut out on three hits by Robin Roberts for five innings and trailing 3-0, used Brooks Robinson's error as a wedge in the sixth inning and scored all their runs. A single by Ty Cline after the bobble, Al Luplow's double, a two-run triple by Tito Francona and a sacrifice fly by Chuck Essegian did the damage. Jim Grant (3-0) won it with relief help from Gary Bell. Ron Hansen homered for the Orioles.

Walker (6-2) won his pitchers' duel with the Senators' Steve Hamilton (0-2) when the As came up with an unearned run in the last of the ninth. With two out, Ed Charles started things with a single. Joe Azcue followed with another single and when right fielder Joe Hicks lost control as he prepared to throw the ball, Charles sped home with the clincher. Hamilton wound with a seven-hitter.

Dodgers post their 11th straight win as Giants stopped by Phillies, Redlegs are on move, stop Braves

It's still the powerful San Francisco Giants and the dazzling Los Angeles Dodgers bunched at the top of the National League. But the surprising Cincinnati Reds, who took it all last year, are on the move.

The Reds clicked again Thursday, beating Milwaukee 7-4 behind steady-pitching Bob Purkey and resurgent slugging star Frank Robinson. Purkey became the Majors' first nine-game winner with a seven-hitter and Robinson continued his hot comeback with a double and a decisive three-run homer.

Meanwhile, things got even closer at the top as the Dodgers won their 11th in a row and the Giants saw their string stopped at seven victories. Los Angeles pinned the 11th loss in a row on the New York Mets, 6-3 on a three-hit pitching job by Joe Moeller. Ed Roebuck and Ron Perranoski. And Philadelphia's Art Mahaffey trimmed the Giants 2-1, giving the Phils their first victory in eight games.

The results left the Giants with a mere half-game edge on the Dodgers and the Reds, who've taken seven of their last eight, five games out.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh won its fifth straight in a 5-4 squeaker over slumping St. Louis and Houston whipped Chicago 10-6 with a five-run ninth inning.

Purkey, a 16-game winner for Cincinnati last year but No. 3 among the Reds' front line pitchers behind Joey Jay and Jim O'Toole, registered his ninth victory in 10 decisions as the Reds jumped ahead of Milwaukee and stayed there. He was tagged for a homer with one on by Hank Aaron in the sixth and yielded two more runs in the eighth.

Robinson's double got in a run as the Reds scored twice off Carl Wiley in the third and he powered Cincinnati into a 7-2 lead in the seventh with his homer, which followed singles by Don Blasingame and Marty Keough.

Robinson's prolonged slump had him under .200 not too long ago. Thursday's two hits raised his average to .289.

The Dodgers played even with the Mets until the sixth, when Larry Burdett broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run triple and scored on a sacrifice fly. Light-footed Maury Wills again flashed on the bases, stealing second after each of his three singles. Tommy Davis also counted three singles for the Dodgers and drove in two runs.

STYMIES THE GIANTS

Mahaffey stymied the Giants with speed and control before wavering slightly in the late going. He was nicked for two singles in the eighth, then was finally reached for a run in the ninth on Orlando Cepeda's triple and Felipe Alou's single with one out.

The Phils collected four of their six hits and both their runs off lefty Billy O'Dell in the first. Tony Taylor and John Callison opened up with doubles for one run, and Tony Gonzalez' single coupled with an error by Cepeda brought in the other.

Job Friend ended a string of five losses with ninth inning relief from Eloy Face and Diomedes Olivo as the Pirates nipped the Cardinals. Friend, now 5-6, and Dick Groat batted in two runs each for a 4-1 Pittsburgh lead after three innings and Bill Mazeroski's homer in the sixth proved the winner. Carl Warwick supplied the ninth-inning clincher for the Colts with a two-run single and Jim Pendleton applied the crusher, a three-run homer.

Rejean Plourde holds Sherbrooke to five scattered hits in posting his win, meet Granby here Sunday night

Granby Knights dumped the Drummondville Royals 7-2 last night in Drummondville and took over the top spot in the E. T. Provincial League. Meanwhile, backed by the five-hit pitching of Rejean Plourde, the Acton Vale Beavers sent the Sherbrooke Alouettes skidding to fourth spot with a 5-0 victory over the Larks at the Park Avenue Stadium and the Coaticook Canadians, paced by the three-homer performance of Lew Skinner, outlasted the St. Johns Pirates 18-10.

Earl Palmore, (2-1), started on the mound in Sherbrooke. He was chased from the mound in the fifth in favor of Bernier, the Als clean-up man. Palmore, who lost his first game because of errors a few days ago, was also the hard-luck loser last night. He pitched fine ball but five errors by his mates sent Acton Vale surging in the lead. He gave up seven of the Beavers' ten hits.

The Als opened strong when second-baseman Frank Kurty led off the first with a double. He died on the bases when his mates failed to hit in the clutch. The Als got another single in the second and another in the third. They offered some opposition in the ninth when they struck for back to back singles but Plourde settled down and got the side.

Plourde went the distance for the win, whiffing seven, walking only three, and allowing only five 'out of the infield' hits.

DRUMMONDVILLE — The Granby Knights and the Drummondville Royals clashed for first place here last night with Granby the victors, 7-2. The win, oddly enough, marked the eleventh consecutive win for the Knights over Drummondville.

Pete Cianfrone, who was tagged for two wicked innings, gave up 13 hits while losing his first game in three starts. Benoit Leblanc, the young Granby lefthander, held the Royals to eight hits while going the distance for the win.

The Royals were charged with four errors, most of them coming on inaccurate throws to first.

ST. JOHNS — First-baseman Lew Skinner, a Sherbrooke Alouette cast-off, hit home-runs in the third, fifth and ninth innings here last night to pace his Coaticook Canadians to an 18-10 victory over the St. John Pirates.

Bob Micucci added a solo shot in the eighth with the bases loaded.

Bertrand Morin, who took over from George Vanderlaan in the fourth inning was credited with the win. He held the Pirates pointless for five innings and watched his team score 11 runs in the last two innings to turn a 10-7 loss into an 18-10 in. Gross, Trahan, Bouvier and Gorlacyk all took turns in trying to stop the Canucks.

Rerard and Potvin, with three hits apiece, led the losers.

Robin Neil hurls Senators to 11-4 win over Yankees, whiffs 18 while Danny Greenland paces way at plate

Lanky Robin Neil, pitching a 11-4 count. Senators played well but there are still a few loose spots in the team and Coach Tom Walker will no doubt tighten up in view of next week's tussle against the Tigers. Neil, Brunet and Greenland were the Senator stars, Crosby Cotton, who played well behind the plate, and Roland Langlois, who is improving with every game, were the Yankees' big men.

Danny Greenland, with three hits, helped his pitcher's cause in the 11-4 victory. Yankees are improving and tighter infield play will help. They made no less than five miscues last night. Senators jumped into a 6-1 lead at the end of two full innings on a double and single by Greenland driving in four runs. Yanks tallies in these two innings came on a single by M. Fortier and two walks. Each team chalked up four runs in the third. Hits by J. Talbot and Crosby Cotton sending in the Yankee runs. A. Cook, M. Brunet and M. Lynn drove home the Senator scores.

Roland Langlois, who relieved Bob Smith on the mound for the Yankees held the Senators to one run and one hit in the last three innings. Neil was still in control of the Yankee batters in the closing innings holding them to a lone single by R. Smith. The game ended with the Senators on the long end of use

Lawn-Boy gives your lawn the close-clipped, broadloom look of a putting green because it cuts grass properly. Lawn-Boy's blade is part of the secret. It's made of case-hardened spring steel (like butcher knives) to give you a keen, long-lasting edge that cuts, not rips. Each blade has a special stiffener that stops the turning force from bending it, keeps it level to cut level. Blade height adjusts easily. With most models, you can buy a new grasscatcher that works like a vacuum cleaner to clean as you cut! The result is a lawn that's not just cut... but perfectly cut. Your Lawn-Boy dealer will show you.

Windsor Cards retain first place, trounce Magog Aces 14-3, second game called because of argument

MAGOG — (Staff) — Windsor Cardinals, backed by the two-hit pitching of Mike Raymond, pounded out 13 hits here yesterday afternoon and belted the Magog Aces 14-3, to take their second victory in as many games.

The second game of the twin-bill was called in the third inning as the result of a rhabarb between Charlie Cloutier, coach of the Cards, and the home plate umpire. Cloutier maintains that the umpire made six or seven bad calls in the game before he blew up. The last call, when the umpire, reversed one of his men's decisions, is when the coach ordered his men to pack up. He plans to protest the game.

The Cards trounced Richmond Royals 14-1 on Sunday in the official opener and are now leaders of the E.T. Junior Baseball League.

Wellie Bibeau paced the Cardinals yesterday with four hits and five RBIs. Nelson Emond, the second sacker who has been hot since the season started, sporting a .927 batting average, banged out four hits in yesterday's win. Other hits went to first baseman Dave Todd with two, George Guilbault with two, and Mike Raymond, one.

Windsor picked up four runs in the first, four in the third, three in the fifth, and added singles in the second, fourth and seventh. Raymond, (1-0) won the distance for the win, striking out 15 men.

Losing pitcher for the Aces was Clement Faford who was lifted in the fifth after being tagged for 13 runs. Rancourt and Gosselin picked up the sole hits for the Aces.

Magog dropped a notch in the league standings, having won one and lost two. They split a double header with the Asbestos Angels Sunday afternoon.

Meanwhile in other league action, the Drummondville Royals dumped Asbestos and the Thetford Miners trounced Richmond 16-0 and 21-0.

Windsor meet Asbestos on home grounds Sunday afternoon.

Hi-Y Club to stage annual girls track and field meet tomorrow, five major trophies are at stake

Five major trophies will be at stake tomorrow in the annual Sherbrooke Hi-Y Club Track and Field Meet at the Parade Grounds.

Ten schools will be competing in the event which is slated to commence at 9:00 a.m. and end at 5:00 p.m., providing everything is run according to the time table.

Cowansville, Knowlton, Sutton, Drummondville, Asbestos, Danville-Shipton, Granby, Bury Magog, Lennoxville and Sherbrooke will be on hand for the event. ADS won the Rotary Trophy for the high team aggregate of the meet and will be out to defend their laurels.

The other trophies are, Y's Men, senior high aggregate, M. Mitchell Trophy, for the midjet high both won by Cowansville last year, Jim MacKinnon Trophy, bantam high, won by ADS, and the Ralph Gosselin Trophy for the Pee Wee high aggregate won by Lennoxville.

The Hi-Y Club presents trophies to the individual winners of each section, pee wee, bantam, midjet and senior. The classes are based on ages, pee wee up to 12 years, bantam, over 12 to 14, midjets, over 14 to 16, and seniors, over 16 years of age.

World Soccer teams nurse wounds and prepare for next big round Saturday, England loses 2-1

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — World soccer cup teams are licking their wounds, counting their casualties and girding for the next round of matches in the big tournament Saturday.

All 16 teams now have played one match and several have suffered injuries that are worrying coaches preparing for weekend action.

Russia had three casualties in defeating Yugoslavia 2-0 Thursday. Fullback Eduard Dubinsky suffered a broken ankle, right winger Slava Metreveli was cut over the right eye, and centre forward Viktor Ponedelnik was kicked in the ankle.

Yugoslavia has halfback Zeljko Matus and left winger Muhamed Mujic on the injured list. Matus has a nose injury and Mujic a swollen right ankle.

The extent of the injuries to date showed just how tough and hard the competition will be before the final matches June 17.

Three other games were played Thursday. Hungary beat England 2-1, Czechoslovakia defeated Spain 1-0 and West Germany and Italy played to a scoreless tie.

Spain, which was already without star centre forward Alfredo di Stefano, now has halfback Severino Reija on the doubtful list with a leg bruise as a result of Thursday's match.

GOALIE SHAKEN UP
Czech goalie Viliam Schoif was shaken up too during the game.

Heinz Schneider, one of the Swiss defenders, is out with an ankle injury and it's doubtful whether he will be fit for the match against West Germany Sunday.

Thus the team with the strongest reserves and best physical strength could win the tournament. And observers are beginning to think that Brazil, the defending champion, may be faced with a tough task to retain its title, won in Sweden in 1958.

The 16 teams have been divided into four groups. The leading two teams in each group will go into the quarter-finals June 10.

Russia and Uruguay lead the first group with two points each. Chile leads group two with two points, followed by West Germany and Italy with a points each.

Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston to meet in Chicago Sept. 25 and promoters predict $5,000,000 gale

CHICAGO (AP) — Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Chicago Sept. 25 predict it will bring in gross revenues of more than $5,000,000.

The fight will be staged in Comiskey baseball park which has 46,500 permanent seats, plus 10,500 temporary seats that can be added.

Tickets will range from $100 to $10, but the biggest slice—an estimated $4,000,000—will come from closed-circuit television.

The estimate on gross revenue—money received before expenses—was made Thursday by Al Bolan, vice-president of Championship Sports Incorporated, the promotion syndicate handling the fight.

He predicted the bout will "dwarf all other fights in history from a financial standpoint and from a performance standpoint."

Patterson, the champion from New York, will receive 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of ancillary rights, including radio and television charges. Liston, from Philadelphia, will receive 12½ per cent of the live gate and ancillary

PLAN FORMAL S'IGNING

The two fighters will come to Chicago in two or three weeks for formal contract signing.

Major details of the 15-round bout were settled Thursday and approved quickly by the Illinois State Athletic Commission. Chicago was selected as the site after the New York State Athletic Commission refused to grant Liston a licence to fight in New York because he had some brushes with the law.

The fight will mark Patterson's eighth defence of his crown. Comiskey Park was the site of two other heavyweight championship bouts. Joe Louis won the title there June 22, 1937, knocking Jimmy Braddock in eight rounds. Ezzard Charles beat Jersey Joe Walcott on a 15-round decision June 22, 1949.

23 --- Cut Shot

The cut shot requires so much practice and is so hard to master that it would hardly be worthwhile if it weren't such a stroke saver.

And if it didn't give the player such a feeling of complete satisfaction when played well.

The cut shot can get the ball to the green from lies in the rough where ordinary backspin is difficult to apply, and make it stop like it had brakes. It is particularly helpful when your ball is in deep rough near the green. It is valuable when you need a high-flying quick-stopping ball.

Playing the cut shot off solid ground, your stance should be so open your body is almost facing the target. The ball should be played just inside the right foot. An upright swing from this stance will cause the club to cut across the ball.

Open the clubhead wide and strike the ball before taking a divot.

The cut shot is valuable when a quick stop is needed on a shot from a trap. The ball should be played off the left foot from sand and a small amount of sand

BODY almost facing target, ball just inside right foot.

should be taken before the ball is hit.

The cut shot stroke from sand otherwise is played exactly as it is from solid ground.
