ENEMY BRINGS UP RESERVES.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, July 20.—The Germans have been forced to bring up 100,000 reserves to the army of the German Crown Prince as a result of yesterday's fighting, and the French and Americans, after fluctuations, have been enabled to strongly fortify the newly gained positions southwest of Soissons, says Marcel Hutin in the Echo de Paris.

BERLIN SAYS ATTACK REPULSED.

(Associated Press Despatch)

BERLIN, July 20.—(Via London)—A fresh attempt by the French to drive a wedge through the German lines between the Aisne and the Marne was repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces, according to the statement issued by General Headquarters last evening.

BRITISH CAPTURE VALUABLE GROUND.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, July 20.—The German high command will not be pleased with the news that the British captured a valuable piece of ground—Meteran—yesterday. It is but a trifle compared with the big events on the French front, but in war, trifles count, and Prince Rupprecht at least will not underestimate the loss of a position which now gives the British an observation ground where he might wish to keep his doings secret.

Scottish troops among others, made the assault which extended south of Meteran and in front of Merris. They formed without the Germans getting a hint of impending trouble and moved forward in full daylight.

AMERICAN ADVANCE MADE UNDER ENEMY LINE.

(Associated Press Despatch)

With the American Army Between the Aisne and the Marne, Friday night, July 19.—American troops participating in the Allied advance of about a mile and a quarter on the Soissons-Chateau Thierry front late today, went forward against strong machine-gun fire over ground covered with German dead.

From a hill east of Domniers, about six kilometres southwest of Soissons the correspondent Friday, saw the Americans going into action in the forward movement. The advance was well organized and the system worked well from one end of the line to the other. Under a barrage fire from 75's and 55's infantry and machine gunners advanced through ripening grain fields, trampled by the retreating Germans Thursday and reached their objectives, according to schedule despite the fire of German machine guns. The bombardment of the big German guns was feeble at this point.

The Americans started from a point just west of the Paris-Soissons road near the shell-shattered village of Missy-Aux-Bois, advancing nearly a kilometre before the Germans began to reply with their big guns to the Allied barrage. Missy-Aux-Bois lies in a valley and the Americans were advancing up towards the east. A few tanks were here and there preceding the infantrymen. As the Americans progressed the enemy barrage fire increased.

German Dead in Piles.

The hillside east of Domniers, over which the Americans advanced, were dotted with dead. The entire region was well within the German lines until after the Franco-American offensive on Thursday. One quickly-dug trench had been filled with German bodies. They were machine gunners who had been caught by the terrific fire of the allied artillery. In many places the German dead were in piles, while a trench on the crest of a hill contained more than one hundred dead.

Advance Under Barrage Fire.

After intense barrage fire along the entire front from Soissons to Chateau Thierry, the allied advance this evening opened exactly at 5.30 o'clock. As far as the eye could reach could be seen allied observation balloons, while the sky was specked with allied airplanes, flying in various directions, many returning from over the German lines to make a quick report on observations and the result of the fire of the big guns. From the hillside the smoke and dust thrown up by the allied shells could be seen away beyond the advancing Americans.

Brought Up Food.

Behind the advancing troops came trucks loaded with various foodstuffs. These went back and forth steadily. The chauffeurs of these trucks were frequently under fire. One chauffeur passed through Missy-Aux-Bois after supplying the advancing men with chocolate, just as three German shells exploded within the wrecked village.

Twenty-five minutes after the Franco-American advance began the rattle of German machine guns could be heard in the distance, but it did not affect the Americans, who only appeared more eager to progress. The officers had to caution them not to proceed beyond the barrage in accordance with the schedule. The German machine gun fire continued but a short time and as the Americans could be seen steadily pressing forward eastward the rattle dwindled and finally stopped.

Americans Maintained Advance.

Missy-Aux-Bois was deserted by the French peasants before the Germans came, the village having been torn from end to end by shell fire in previous fighting. Not one wall or any stone buildings are standing. To (Continued on page 10)

BRITISH TROOPS ADVANCED LINE ON MILE FRONT

Village of Meteran Captured—438 Prisoners Taken as Result of Operations on Flanders Front.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, July 20.—British troops last night advanced their line on a mile front south of the town of Hebuterne, the War Office announced today.

A successful raid was carried out by the British near Beaumont-Hamel.

As a result of yesterday's operations on the Flanders front, the British line was advanced along a breadth of 4,000 yards in the Meteran sector. The village of Meteran and a group of buildings southwest of the village, known as Le Waton, are now held by the British troops. The prisoners taken aggregate 436.

BERLIN ADMITS

THAT ALLIES HAVE PENETRATED LINES

(Associated Press Despatch)

AMSTERDAM, July 20.—A semi-official telegram received from Berlin, while admitting that "the enemy has succeeded in penetrating into and pressing back our lines at some points," avoids particulars of the Allied success. The telegram calls the Franco-American offensive "a relief offensive brought about by the German offensive on both sides of Rheims," and adds:

"The attack was carried out by very strong and deeply echeloned forces, supported by low-flying airplanes and numerous tank squadrons. Before some sectors between the Aisne and northwest of Chateau Thierry, some eighty tanks were counted in the first attack."

ALLIES REACH LINE AT VIERZY.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, July 20.—The Allied advance has reached the line of Vierzy, beyond the wood of Mauloy, east of Villers-Helon and Neuilly-St. Front.

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, July 20.—The text of the French official statement follows:

"Vierzy has been reached and the troops have gone beyond Mauloy Wood, east of Villers-Helon, and conquered Neuilly-St. Front and Loy-Clignon."

CRUCIAL POINT OF BATTLE IS APPROACHING

Strengthening of Opposition Indicates that Contending Armies Will Soon Be Locked in Great Struggle.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE AISNE-MARNE FRONT, July 20, 8.30 a.m.—The battle zone along the front of the Allied counter-attack between the Aisne and the Marne is being extended further south toward Chateau Thierry than the region previously affected, according to information early this morning. The Franco-American forces are continuing the steady pounding of the northern part of the line, near Soissons, although the movement is lacking the dashing advance which characterized the first day of the attack.

The attempts of the Crown Prince's generals to rally their forces to meet the steady movement of the Allies has resulted in such strengthening of the opposition as to indicate that the battle is approaching the point when the armies will soon be locked in a giant struggle.

Both on the northern end of the line and further south the reinforced Germans are making a desperate effort to hold their positions.

The weather was clear this morning, and this gave some satisfaction to the thousands of men engaged on the Allied side. The indications, however, were that the day would be of an exceptional heat.

200,000 AMERICAN TROOPS FIGHTING IN FRANCE.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.—Six of General Pershing's divisions, or about 200,000 American troops are fighting with the French in the present offensive in the Aisne-Marne district, General March, Chief of Staff, today advised members of the Senate Military Committee at their weekly conference. The Franco-American offensive will continue as long as it is possible to force the Germans back, General March stated.

MILITARY COMMENTATORS WARN AGAINST TOO MUCH OPTIMISM

While General Foch's Has Carried Out Brilliant Counter Stroke, Writers Point Out How British Surprise Attack at Cambrai was Afterwards Countered By Germans—Recognized that Germany Has the Power to Concentrate Strength For a Thrust that will Tax Allied Defence To the Utmost

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, July 20.—What the Germans are going to do on the battle front from Rheims to the Marne on the Aisne is the question which occupies most of the military and editorial commentators in the morning newspapers.

While it is conceded that General Foch's brilliant counter-stroke has deprived the Germans of the initiative in the Rheims sector and caused them serious damage, it is not universally assumed that the positions in that area can be stabilized without much further severe fighting. Warning is given to remember how the British surprise advance at Cambrai was afterwards countered by the Germans.

On the other hand, the view that the enemy cannot do more between the Aisne and the Marne has its representatives, and these look for the withdrawal of the Germans from the British armies.

How Hall's Wine Helps

Hall's Wine renews health at its source, builds strength by building vitality, restores the energy which anxiety or illness has depleted.

Without the help of such a tonic in times like these, you'll find your worries "grow on you," undermine energy, stifle happiness, make you a burden to yourself and all around you.

If your health is already injured—whether from overwork, strain, influenza, colds, operation, or serious illness—you need the help of Hall's Wine even more, for not only will Hall's Wine quickly renew your health, strength and vigour, it will safeguard you against the danger of those "complications" which always threaten where weakness prevails.

More Proof of How Hall's Wine Helps

"I was ill for over three years and had given up hope. After taking Hall's Wine, I felt new energy returning, and after the fourth bottle I felt better than I have ever felt in my life."

"Influenza and internal trouble left me weak and depressed. The doctor ordered me Hall's Wine, he said it contained the properties to cure me. To my surprise I felt better after one dose, and after a week friends remarked: you are just like your old self again."

(The originals of all testimonials published for Hall's Wine are on our file for reference.)

BEDFORD DISTRICT HAPPENINGS

Gatherings By Daily Record Correspondents in Various Communities.

FOSTER

Mrs. and Miss Perry, of Montreal, are guests of Mrs. McCormack, at the Parsonage.
The dance given in the hall on Tuesday evening for the benefit of the boys who are about to join the colors was a decided success, the proceeds yielding a small amount for each one, besides giving them all a good send-off.

Owing to the continual wet weather the farmers have done very little haying yet, but the report is that the crop will be fully up to the average.

Rev. G. J. McCormack attended the clericus at Mansonville on Wednesday.
The summer cottages along the lake are nearly all filled with city guests, which tends to make Foster quite lively.

Miss Jessie Hillhouse has been engaged to work in Mr. Fruss' office for a month, while Miss Inglis is away on her vacation.

SUTTON

Miss Dorothy Safford is at Brome Lake for a few days with friends; Miss Florence Martin at Potton Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Bayles and children, Mr. Geo. LeMare and son, of Montreal, at Mr. M. G. Safford's on Thursday; Mrs. W. Davidson and

Old Ideas Die Hard

But when you tire of treating eczema internally as a blood disease and apply Dr. Chase's Ointment you will soon be convinced which form of treatment is most effective.

Naturally and gradually the skin is healed as you apply this soothing, antiseptic ointment. The new skin is soft and smooth, and you only wonder that you did not try this treatment sooner.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.
Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drugist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

LADY PINK TOES HAS HER INNINGS

There is no excuse today for women to have ugly, painful corns

For a few cents you can get a quarter ounce of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati chemist.

Apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly, yet, immediately, all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it out, root and all, with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on the bottom of feet, just seem to shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.

BROME FARMERS ARE HARD HIT

Appeal for Exemptions for Those Who Would Help in Harvest—New Bridge Going Up.

BROME, July 20.—(Special)—Work has started on the new bridge near the St. John's Church and the old structure has been removed. The work will be pushed as fast as the weather will permit. The bridge company bring their own help with them with the exception of teams, which are very difficult to obtain owing to the busy haying season. Good help is obtainable at $4.00 to $4.50 per day.

Fencing in Track.
A working gang is busily engaged in building a fence on either side of the C. P. R. line in this division.

Appeal for Exemptions.
The calling of the boys from the farms at the commencement of haying and harvesting is a most serious matter. Appeals are being made for an exemption of 20 days or thereabouts, but with the continuous rains which have retarded the progress of haying very little of the crop will be harvested at the expiration of the exemption time limit. Vigorous protests are being entered.

Grandmother Gave It To Mother, Mother To Me, I To My Baby.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Gray, Jacquet River, N. B., has to say about Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. She writes: "There is no medicine I know of that can come up with Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It has been in our house for forty years. My grandmother gave it to my mother, she to me, and I to my baby. For summer complaint it has no equal. I never miss a chance of telling my neighbors about it. I would not think it safe to go to the country in the summer without a bottle of it. I have saved my many a doctor bill."

For the past 72 years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been recognized by both the people and the medical profession as the greatest remedy known for all cases of diarrhoea, dysentery, cramps, colic, pains in the stomach, cholera, infantum, cholera morbus, seasickness and all bowel complaints.

There are so many spurious "strawberry" preparations on the market today that it would be well for you to see that the name "Dr. Fowler's" is on every bottle you buy.

Our guarantee, that it will do what we claim for it, stands behind every bottle. But the imitations—what is their record, where the guarantee?

WHAT IS DOING IN GRANBY CITY

Police Will Round Up Deserters in District—Building Operations are Very Brisk.

GRANBY, July 20.—(Special)—A band of some fifteen or twenty police arrived in town this week and are actively engaged in locating those who have as yet failed to comply with the requirements of the Military Service Act or have ignored the call to report for duty. So far some half dozen delinquents have been secured. It is understood that Granby will be the headquarters of this detachment of police, who will spend some time in this section, scouring the surrounding country, as rumor says that a considerable number of deserters are spending the summer enjoying open air life in the woods.

New Building Being Erected.
In spite of the fact that building material of all kinds is scarce and expensive, quite a number of new buildings are in the course of construction at the lower end of the city. The Canadian Consolidated Rubber Co., is putting up a new machine shop, Mr. John Bradford is building a new house, and Mr. F. Topp has a fine new barn almost completed. It is understood the site of the old Reclaiming Works and the vacant lot directly opposite the Canadian Consolidated Rubber Factory are to be used for the employees of the Company.

Wants To Be In At The Finish
Sergeant Lester L. Tompson writes from "Somewhere in France," to a lady in Granby: "We have had some lively times this spring and some awful marches, our longest, practically continuous in one day, was about 35 miles. About an hour after reaching our destination, I had to wake the men up so as to be in readiness to repel an attack. Tired as we were, I suppose you read awful accounts of what is going on over here this year, but I have seen it just as bad and worse in other years. I talk of 'years' now, as I have been in the game for over three. Have been offered positions in the rear several times, being one of the 'Orignals,' but always felt I wanted to be in at the finish."

Ladies' Aid Society.
The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church held their July meeting in the basement of the church on Tuesday afternoon last. It was decided to hold a sale of food and useful articles in the autumn. Fancy articles are to be eliminated this time, as it was thought people could well get along without fancy things in war time, when everything should be the plainest of the plain.

Mrs. A. F. Pollock is spending a few days at Ahuncic, the guest of Mrs. Egan.

Mrs. W. J. Horner, of Montreal, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Newton Kennedy.

Canadian Patriotic Fund.
Mr. W. Hyndman, of Smith's Mills, was in town on Tuesday in the interests of the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Mr. Hyndman is connected with the Central executive committee at Ottawa, and has spent some two years in organization work in all parts of the country. His visit to Granby was with a view of ascertaining the prospects regarding a campaign for funds some time during the present summer. A hastily convened meeting of representative business men was held in the Council Chambers in the afternoon. Mr. W. D. Bradford, the president of the local branch of the Patriotic Fund, presided, and called for expression of opinion from each one of the gentlemen present. Mr. Hyndman explained that while the Government had agreed to finance operations after April 1, 1919, the fund would be dependent upon voluntary contributions until that date. After a discussion of the situation locally it was decided that the present would not be an opportune time to launch a campaign in this city, and that at any time the prospects of success along this line would not be bright unless some move should be made in Montreal.

But stop a moment! How would your wife and kiddies fare if you should die today? What provision have you made for such a contingency? SUNDAY RECITAL PROGRAMME.

Mr. Whitehead's programme for the evening recital at St. Peter's tomorrow evening is as follows: Postlude (Henry Smart), Pastorale Arthur (Toote), Lamentation (Guilmant). The latter number is of special interest in these days of war, being written in memory of one of the composer's dearest friends, who was killed during the bombardment of Paris in 1870. It is heroic in mood and proportion, and is regarded by some as the masterpiece of this great organist and composer.

SOUND REPRODUCING INSTRUMENTS

In view of the fact that the country wide is being canvassed for the so-called Talking Machine, made in many instances by Furniture Companies, Piano Manufacturers and Cabinet Makers it is significant that in spite of this ever increasing opposition, the original famous Victrola, still holds the leading place as the greatest Sound Reproducing instrument of the Age.

The Victrola contains many essential tone and mechanical patents, which are used exclusively on this instrument, and are responsible for its success. Furthermore the product of the Victor Factory is greatly oversold, although the Company is striving to meet the demand, yet the shortage is very acute.

The New Wilson Piano, Style "D"

This is to introduce to the musical people of Sherbrooke and Eastern Townships the New Wilson Piano, style "D". The Wilson Piano has been before the public for about 20 years, and needs hardly any comment from us. They are giving splendid satisfaction in hundreds of homes and in many of the largest Colleges, Convents, Concert Halls throughout Canada, including King's Hall, Compton, (6 Wilson Pianos); Stanstead College, Notre Dame Convent, Sherbrooke; Bishop's College, Lennoxville; Lennoxville Academy, Convents of Coaticook, St. Hyacinthe, Valcourt, Magog, Weedon, Asbestos, Windsor Mills, etc., High School, Beebe, Sherbrooke Protestant Schools and many others.

The New Wilson Piano, style "D", is an instrument of exceptional merit, and will easily rank with the best high grade Piano made in Canada or the United States. It is medium size, 4 feet 7 inches high; the case is Mahogany, beautifully polished. The New Piano has full iron plate, Wilson Special Action, with latest type of brass Flange, extra quality Hammers, fine Ivory Keys, and solid Ebony Sharps. Full length Swing Music Desk, "Practice Muffler" for children, operated by 3rd pedal.

We hope that every Pianist in Sherbrooke and throughout the Townships may have an opportunity to see and try this new Piano. We believe it will compare favorably with any of the Highest Grade Pianos, even those of the highest price. There are only fifty Pianos in the first lot, and we know they will be bought quickly when seen and heard.

The New Wilson Player-Piano with the same Scale and size of case will be ready shortly, and due notice will be given when the first shipment arrives. This new Player has the latest type of Aluminum Action, with several special features formerly to be had only in the very high priced American instruments. We can safely predict a large demand for the New Wilson Player.

The prices are moderate, considering the splendid quality and real value of the two instruments, and our One Price System will be strictly adhered to. Established prices are printed on the price card.

Our terms of payment are known to be reasonable. A small amount paid down brings the Piano or Player to your home, and the balance can be arranged by monthly or quarterly payments.

If you have an old Piano or Organ to exchange we will allow every dollar it is worth. We invite you to see these Pianos, or write us for Phonograph and Piano prices.

The Orangemen's celebration,
which was held on July 12th, was one of the largest that has been held
for many years. The day dawned
bright and clear, after four continuous days rain, leaving the roads in a
bad condition for the motorists,
some having experienced great difficulty in reaching the grove. The cockade all the way from Ayer's Cliff, Cookshire, Sawyerville, East Angus, St. Cecile and also Sherbrooke, and two came from Uncle Sam's domain.

The only thing which marred the pleasure of the day was the absence
of so many of the young men, who had joined the colors. The speaker of the day was the Rev. Ruel Dean Saunders, of Montreal, who spoke
for two hours on the burning questions of the day; Rev. Mr. Rothera,

MUSICAL GATHERING

AT KNOWLTON

Many Lovers of Music from Sherbrooke and Lennoxville
Will Attend the Assembly.

One of the most unique of Canadian musical gatherings is the Church Choir Assembly, which is held yearly at Knowlton, Que. The object of this conference is the improvement of the choir and rendition of church
music, and it is already beginning to make its influence felt in Quebec and Ontario. This assembly is practically under the control of Mr. Arthur Egg,
the well-known organist of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, and he has gathered around him for this year's assembly distinguished organ-ists from Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, Pittsburgh, Nova Scotia and other points. Mr. A. E. Whitehead, organist of St. Peter's, who will be one of the lecturers and conductors,
is taking quite a large party from Lennoxville and Sherbrooke, and with Rev. G. Ellery Read, who is a member of the advisory board, will welcome any music lovers who desire to join this party.

The period of the assembly will cover the last few days of July and
first days of August.

WAR GARDEN BULLETIN.

Issued by the Canada Food Board in collaboration with Experts on the Staff of the Dominion Experimental Farm.

PRACTICAL DAILY GUIDE FOR
VACANT LOT AND BACKYARD
GARDENERS ENLISTED IN GREATER PRODUCTION
CAMPAIGN.

Try drying your vegetables this year. It's a profitable business any way you look at it. The advantages over canning are the economy in
space, the lower cost of jars and diminished risk of injury from frost or heat. There is the old-fashioned method of "sun-drying" which is inexpensive, simple and satisfactory
where there is enough sun. The most modern and the quickest method is that of using an electric fan either with or without artificial heat. Vegetables dried by this method are not so likely to discolor. The third method known as "artificial heat," consists of utilizing the heat of the stove or
of the oven. For the majority of town
and farm homes this method is the most practicable.

Germany has made a fine art of drying. Indeed, at the present time,
the total capacity of the potato-drying
factories in the enemy country is 37,000,000 hundredweight. There are about 700 potato drying factories, 250 drying cylinders, 400 open
drying plants, 150 corn drying plants
and 250 vegetable drying factories.

The war gardeners of Canada
might give the Hun a little of his own medicine by pitting their vegetable
forces against his.

THIRTEEN EXECUTED

VON MIRBACH

(Associated Press Despatch)

AMSTERDAM, July 20.—The Col-

volutionary socialists implicated in the plot which culminated in the assassination of Count Von Mirbach,
the German Ambassador to Russia,
have been executed. Many others, it adds, are under arrest.

HAPPENINGS
AT DANVILLE

Mr. J. J. Brosseau Appointed
Fuel Controller for District—
People Asked to Use Wood as Much as Possible.

DANVILLE, July 20.—(Special.)—
Mr. J. J. Brosseau has been appointed fuel controller for Danville. He has been requested by the authorities
to forward an estimate of the quantity of coal required for the village.
It is stated that only about 70 per cent. of the amount used last year,
will be available for use by consum-
ers. In order to conserve coal householders will be required to burn wood wherever possible, and wherever
wood can be used for heating purposes
no coal will be allowed. It is expected that further stringent measures
will be taken along this line before
the winter sets in.

For the Red Cross.
Three Red Cross tea and ice cream
social held on Mrs. C. C. Cleveland's lawn, on Thursday afternoon, and evening was very well attended.
Tables were placed among the shrubbery on the lawn, which was decorated with flags of the Allies.

Fine Exhibition of Dancing.
In the local in reference to the country dance given in Mr. Austin Morrill's new barn recently omission
was made of a very pleasing feature which took place. This was the fancy dancing of Miss Queenie Gibson, of Montreal, which was much appreciated by all present. Responding to an encore she executed in a splendid manner a Sailor's Hornpipe. She was accompanied on the violin by Miss Beatrice Webb. At the close of Miss Gibson's dancing she was presented with a beautiful bouquet given by Mrs. J. N. Greenshields, of Isleval Grange Farm. The presentation was very prettily performed
by Master Phillip Pressler, of Asbestos. Mr. Omer Shaw ably performed the arduous duties of floor
manager, and it was through his efforts that the dance was such a pronounced success.

Will Enlarge Seating Capacity.
At a meeting of the Church wardens of St. Anne's Roman Catholic Church, last Sunday, it was decided to enlarge the seating capacity of the sacred edifice. As it is at present
there are not enough pews to accommodate the needs of the congregation. It is proposed to move the organ back, and place new seats in the gallery. The choir will be moved back with the organ. By this means some thirty additional seats will be available, which will, to some extent,
alleviate the situation.

Social Was a Success.
The gross receipts from the tea and
ice cream social given on Mrs. C. C.
Cleveland's lawn on Thursday afternoon and evening were $125.66. This sum would indicate that the affair was a huge success. The weather was ideal and all who attended were well
pleased with the attention given them
by the bevy of young ladies who acted as waitresses. The object was a worthy one—to help the local Red Cross Society. The Canadian Band was present and discoursed several selections
on the grounds. The Society wishes to thank all who in any way contributed to its success. The following donations, included in the above sum,
were received: Mr. J. R. Pearson $5,
Mr. C. H. Cleveland $5, Mrs. J. N.
Greenshields $5, Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Currie $15, Mrs. J. Pinel $2, and Mrs.
Sanderson $1. The gross proceeds from a country dance given on a previous evening were $72.75.

THE ONLOOKER COMMENTS

DRIVING THEM BACK.

The events of the past week will confirm the opinion that the crisis of the war passed during that period when the Germans carried out their two offensives in the early spring. Without any considerable help from their American ally, the French and British forces were unable to prevent the Germans from breaking through their lines during those difficult days. At that time the attack of the Central Allies was at its strongest, and, at its strongest, it was checked. Today the American is at the front, and with all the enthusiasm and determination of his country behind him, is turning the Allied defensive into an offensive. The German offensives have been growing weaker, and their last, thanks to the "glorious episode" of the American and French troops, has been turned into more than a failure. The Americans are beginning to pay, in very earnest, some of their indebtedness to Lafayette.

Not only do the Americans bring fresh troops and new inspiration to their own bit of the line in France. They will inspire the other soldiers who have wearied of the war and who may have lost their enthusiasm, though not their courage and grim determination. The entrance of the American forces into the struggle will give fresh hopes to those at home and those on the battlefield.

In Italy the situation is excellent. In Russia there are signs of regeneration of pure patriotism, and the Czechoslovaks in Siberia are clearing up the Russian situation in the East. Not before, for a long time, has the situation been more encouraging, more promising of victory over the German Empire and its allies.

WHY PRICES ARE HIGH.

If the road from the producer to the consumer was shorter and more direct, the high cost of living problem would be solved. Too many middlemen is the real explanation for high prices. People generally are, perhaps, not aware that eggs are being sold in Sherbrooke which have been shipped here from Montreal, though they very likely came originally from this district. The egg circle or the buyer collects them from the farmers in Sherbrooke and vicinity, ships them to Montreal, and the local dealer buys them in Montreal and has them shipped out for his Sherbrooke customers. What a waste! Garden strawberries have been selling in Montreal for some time at 18 cents per box. The lowest price reached here has been 30 cents per box. These strawberries are not grown in Montreal any more than they are in Sherbrooke. Why should they be 70 per cent. higher here than there? The only explanation would appear to be "more middlemen."

The question of food distribution in this country is one that should receive very serious Government attention. The appeal is for economy. There is no greater waste than that represented in the handling of foodstuffs in their travels from the producer to the consumer.

EXCESSIVE COST OF FIRE PROTECTION.

It is not well to boast, but Sherbrooke's record in fire losses for some years has been excellent. The average losses have been less than in many former years, though the city has grown. This is, no doubt, partly due to improved fire protection in the city, in the way of water pressure and apparatus and the better enforcement of precautionary measures.

In spite of this, however, considerable increases in insurance rates are noted, and this raises the question as to whether these rates are justified in Sherbrooke. The Fire Department of the City Council should investigate fire insurance rates as applied to Sherbrooke, as well as fire-fighting apparatus.

The annual fire losses in Canada are very great, and undoubtedly Sherbrooke is being made to pay for losses elsewhere, which is fair to a certain extent, but the city's own record should be taken into consideration, and nothing can be discovered in it that will justify advanced rates on city property.

Canada's annual fire waste is said to be $2.73 for every man, woman and child, and is larger than that of any other civilized country in the world, according to a report by the Commission of Conservation on Fire Waste in Canada, just made public. This enormous waste, the Commission asserts, is sapping the economic vitality of the country, and the immediate adoption of compulsory fire-prevention measures is necessary. The investigation also revealed the fact that the expense of conducting the business of fire insurance in Canada is unduly high and that there are grave abuses inherent in the present agency system, and this undoubtedly has a direct bearing on rates.

The report, which was compiled for the Commission by Mr. J. Grove Smith, says that since Confederation fire loss in Canada, excluding forest fires, has been $700,000,000. Of this sum, $350,000,000 is made up of direct fire losses, $150,000,000 represents the cost of maintaining public and private fire protection services, whilst $197,000,000 is the amount of insurance premiums paid but not returned to policy holders in compensation for losses. In addition, nearly 200 people are burned to death and about 500 seriously injured by fire every year. The Commission states that Canadian municipalities employ 4,200 men to extinguish fires, at an annual cost of $4,000,000. In the four normal years, 1912-1915, Canada's annual per capita fire loss was $2.73, as compared with $2.26 in the United States, 64c in England, 74c in France, 28c in Germany, and 13c in Switzerland. A disquieting feature is that the losses in this country are increasing with great rapidity.

The Commission says that 70 per cent. of fires in Canada are caused by the careless and ignorant use of property. This carelessness, it says, is largely induced by a sense of individual security created by the present system of fire insurance, which cannot restore the values destroyed, but merely distributes the loss in the form of high insurance premiums and high cost of living generally over the whole community. Next in order to carelessness as causes of fire come faulty building construction, arson and lack of adequate fire prevention laws, such laws as exist being but poorly enforced. Canadian fire departments, the report continues, are the best in the world, but they are not preventing a steady growth of fire losses.

In dealing with the remedy for present conditions, the Commission says that compulsory legislation, making individuals responsible for their own careless acts, is imperative. The public, it is asserted, must be aroused to their collective responsibility, so that public opinion will urge and support the adoption of restrictive legislation that will penalize in every way possible the irresponsibility and negligence which are the principal causes of fire waste in Canada.

The Commission contends that the high cost of doing business implies extravagant administration on the part of insurance companies, and says that from 1899 to 1916 the public has paid the insurance companies 65c for distributing every dollar of indemnity. This, it continues, gives food for thought when it is remembered that, under present government management, the collection of customs and inland revenue costs less than 5 per cent. of the receipts. Since the establishment of government insurance in New Zealand in 1905, the rates on mercantile risks have been reduced 10 per cent., and on dwellings 33 1-3 per cent. The report asserts that insurance agents in Canada are paid, on the average, a commission of slightly over 20 per cent., obviously a large expenditure on middlemen. It is also stated that the number of agents is excessive, a circumstance which makes necessary a higher commission than is economically necessary.

"The root evil of the insurance business and one of the greatest factors in the excessive fire waste in Canada is undoubtedly the method of compensating agents solely on a commission basis," the report declares. The careless agent is paid equally well with the careful agent. The more insurance he can place on a given risk, and especially a highly-rated and, therefore, dangerous risk, the greater will be his compensation. This tends to over-insurance, carelessness in the use and care of property, and arson, all of which cause a heavier fire waste. The remedy for this, the Commission states, is a profit-sharing commission for agents, whereby those who write good risks would be more highly remunerated than those who write bad ones. The Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, it is pointed out, has attempted, but failed, to adopt a similar system of contingent commissions on account of the disadvantage under which it would place its members in competition with non-Board companies. The Commission of Conservation, therefore, recommends that uniform legislation be drafted into the Dominion and provincial insurance acts to establish the principle of profit-sharing commissions for all companies, leaving the companies and their agents to work out the details.

FUEL SITUATION.

The fuel outlook is not extremely bright. Fortunately a very fair quantity of coal reached the district early in the season, but it was not enough to go around, and many cellars are still empty.

Economy in fuel and the use of wood where possible will be necessary this year, and perhaps to a greater extent than last year.

The city has named one of its officials as city fuel controller, in the hope that through this medium a larger supply of fuel may be obtained for the city.

SOLDIERS AND LAND SETTLEMENT.

It looks as though the Government would have to revise its previously conceived plans relative to the settlement of soldiers on Government lands. A Winnipeg despatch states that the soldiers' representatives have investigated the blocks of land set apart for soldiers in the Peace River district, and have condemned them as unsuitable for settlement. The Quebec Government has offered a township in the northern district along the G. T. P., but this tract has also received adverse report by the veterans because of its nature as an uncleaned and unsettled district.

The authorities will be forced to conclude now or later that the returned soldiers cannot be sent back into some of the remote districts as pioneers in land settlement. One hundred years ago this would have worked. Discharged British soldiers who have been engaged in the Napoleonic wars were among the earliest settlers in the Townships, particularly in the Drummond and Megantic districts. But this plan won't work today. The natural tendency of the returned soldier is to stay in the city or town. He does not turn any more naturally to the land than he did before the war except for his inclination towards out-of-door life.

The Canadian Forestry Journal, referring to this question, says:

"In many of the schemes of soldier settlement and the encouragement of immigration after the war, there appears for almost the first time some concern for the quality of the land on which homesteading shall be permitted. We may read in this some hope that examination of soil in advance of settlement may reduce the amazing evil consequent upon indiscriminate 'locating.' Canadians, as a rule, have been slow to recognize that the normal, profitable crop on most non-agricultural soils is timber and that the bitterest experience a government can visit upon a farmer is to establish him in defiance of Nature's fundamental laws. One of the primary duties of the Soldiers' Settlement Board will be to guard the soldier-settler from the pitiful consequences of a bad location. If areas are hastily thrown open without thorough examination by foresters and soil experts, whose advice will be accepted as final, the efforts of the Board will prove worse than useless. It will be a matter of great interest to the Forestry Association and its members to follow the work of the Board and ascertain how far scientific guidance in the selection of land for veterans is allowed to dominate."

If farming is to be popularized as a calling for returned soldiers, the Government must give more attention to the opportunities that present themselves in the other settlements. The Eastern Townships farming communities, for instance, can absorb hundreds, even thousands, of returned men. The adoption of a plan such as Senator Foster is advocating would be an important and first step in this direction. Bring the returned men into touch with the soil and country life on their arrival in Canada, either as convalescents or as students of agriculture. Demonstrate to them the attractiveness of country life.

It is a natural desire on the part of the authorities to settle unoccupied lands, but the cause of agriculture would be served as well by increasing the agricultural population in older farming districts and inducing more intensive cultivation of the soil.

PARIS REJOICES OVER SUCCESS OF ALLIED ARMS

Enthusiasm Aroused Such as the French Capital Has Long Been a Stranger to.

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, July 20.—The news of the continued success of the Allied arms on the Aisne-Marne battlefield last night aroused enthusiasm such as Paris has long been a stranger to. The boulevards and cafes all were thronged with people eagerly discussing the night official statement, which did not satisfy the thirst of the people for news. Persons with inside knowledge, however, supplied all that was wanted. All sorts of reports were spread from mouth to mouth as to the number of prisoners and guns captured and towns reoccupied. Full credit was given the Americans for their share in the victory, which the public delightedly referred to as evidence of what is to come when the sister republic of France puts forth all her might.

MORE GRAND TRUNK MEN WITH LONG SERVICE PENSIONED

MONTREAL, July 17.—Additional names are being added this month to the Grand Trunk honor roll of retired men, bringing the total number of officers and employees pensioned by the railway during the last ten years to twelve hundred and seventy-seven, the company's expenditure in pension payments during that period being $2,000,000.

Mr. J. R. Donnelly, Assistant Master Mechanic at Allandale, Ont., goes on the pension list after a continuous service of forty-four years. Mr. F. Goodier retires from the position of Agent at Southampton, Ont., after forty-five years of service. Mr. C. J. Williams, of the Motive Power Department, Montreal Shops, retires with forty-six years of continuous employment with the Grand Trunk to his credit. In addition to a clean record of service, Mr. Williams has done notable work in connection with the Insurance and Provident Society of the Grand Trunk, having been the chairman of the first section of the executive committee for a number of years. Capt. W. F. McGregor, Ex-Superintendent of Grand Trunk Ferries at Windsor, Ont., also goes on the pension list, and other veterans of the railroad service now retiring are Mr. B. Rooney, Flagman, Fenton, Mich., forty-three years service; Mr. A. Biggar, Gateman, Orillia, Ont., nineteen years service; Mr. A. W. Jamlin, Engineer, Midland, Ont., forty-eight years service; Mr. J. Robertson, Car Inspector, Stratford, Ont., twenty-nine years service; Mr. J. Harris, Fitter, Hamilton, Ont., seventeen years service; Mr. F. W. Fritzenberger, Carpenter, Battle Creek, Mich., eighteen years service; Mr. A. Currie, Watchman, Sarnia, Ont., twenty-four years service; Mr. P. Bernier, Signaller, Pt. Levis, Que., thirty-five years service.

Under the Grand Trunk pension plan officers and employees are retired on reaching the age of 65 years, but the Pension Committee has power to pension any employee after the age of sixty years, with twenty years continuous service, who is certified unfit by the Chief Officer, and, in special circumstances, employees who have reached the age of sixty can be retired on pension. No pension is at a lower rate than $200 per annum, and is usually considerably more than that, the annual allowance being calculated at one per cent. for each year of continuous service on the highest average rate of earnings during any ten consecutive years. The employees make no contribution to this fund.

The AUTO SCRIBE'S
SCRIBBLINGS

ANOTHER JUMP IN PRICE.
Automobiles are not to be left behind in the steady onward march that is in progress these days towards higher prices. It is only a few months ago that the manufacturers gave notice to the various dealers of an advance in the price of the horseless vehicles, and it is now announced that another increase will be noticed on the tag slips of the cars before very long. Just what this latest increase is to be has not, as yet, been definitely stated.

This latest increase is no doubt the result of the increase in the cost of manufacturing, and also the restriction placed by the Government on the importation of automobiles valued at $1,200 and upwards f.o.b. at place of manufacture. However, this restriction evidently will result in more factories being built in Canada, for already it is stated that the Knight Motor Company have drawn up plans for a new factory in Toronto, where they will either assemble or actually manufacture automobiles.

BOOST FOR MOTOR TRANSPORTATION.

The increase in railroad rates will, according to officials of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, be the greatest boost transportation by motor.

No matter what battery you now use, the world-famous Prest-O-Lite Service System is at your disposal whenever your battery needs attention.

The

tor vehicle has received since it became obvious that carriers other than steam driven would be essential for effective releasing of national resources.

One interpretation placed on the action of Mr. McAdoo is that the government believes motor trucks are capable of handling a tremendous share of the nation's freight and that the increase is to discourage shippers from using valuable car space for the transportation of products less essential to the needs of the nation.

Manufacturers of passenger cars have also taken heart because the decision tends to encourage greater use of the automobile for travel, and unless an increase in the cost of gasoline offsets the gain, motor cars should be used more than ever before.

A striking example of the immense saving to shippers can be had from these figures: If the shippers now using motor trucks as carriers between New York and Philadelphia were sending their tonnage, which amounts to 900,000 tons annually, over the railroads instead of the highways, the recent freight rate increase of the railroads would tax them approximately $450,000 more than they paid previously. Motor trucks plying between these two points carry the equivalent of 720 box cars loaded to 50,000 capacity, or, 36,000,000 pounds each week. 640 trucks operating between these two cities make a total of 7,200 trips a week.

Probably even greater than the impetus to the motor truck industry will be the effect on the passenger car business. Business and professional men will make short business trips by automobile on a larger scale than ever before. Fewer trains and conveniences for the travelling public will cause thousands to switch over to the highway and passenger cars.

More and more during the past year have owners utilized their cars for business trips of 50 to 300 miles before the railroad rate increase. For instance, a trip from Cleveland, Ohio, to Washington, D. C., via rail previously cost $12.20; while under the new fare schedule a similar trip will cost $17.25.

Large corporations and jobbers who have provided automobiles for their salesmen, as well as those considering this departure as a means of transportation for their field representatives will enlarge passenger car sales materially by their demands.

Owners of motor cars who annually take extensive summer vacation trips on railroad trains will think twice this year before passing up a vacation via motor. For example, a family of four would pay in round-trip railroad fare for a distance of 100 miles $24.00, plus, probably, Pullman, city street car fare and baggage transfer; while the both way cost via motor car, figuring cost of gasoline, wear of tires and depreciation on car cost, would total approximately $10 for the entire family. This is the average estimated cost considering all types and sizes of automobiles.

Then, the matter of health is a strong point in favor of the motor vacation trip. The highway route avoids the dirt and cinders of railway coaches; the stuffy, crowded accommodations resulting from scores of passenger coaches being removed on most of the main travelled lines; and the delays getting to and from railroad stations and changing trains at terminal points.

Reroof with Brantford Asphalt Roofing

Don't let a leaky roof damage the wall paper, carpets or furniture in your home, the crops in your barn or the goods in your store. Tear off the old shingles or other worn out roofing material and put on a lasting roof of Brantford Asphalt Roofing.

This roofing is made of a blend of hard and soft asphalts on a long-fibred felt base. By blending the asphalts a roofing of remarkable elasticity is secured—one that is flexible, durable and capable of resisting all kinds of severe climatic extremes.

Brantford Asphalt Roofing is, in addition, surfaced with silica sand on both sides, which adds to its weight, fire-resistance and durability. You may be offered other sanded roofing, but it will not have the quality of material or weight of saturation of Brantford Asphalt Roofing.

Made in three weights—60 lb., 70 lb., 80 lb. per square.

Brantford Rubber Roofing

is the same quality as Brantford Asphalt, but has a smooth, rubbery surface instead of the sand. It is particularly suitable for verandahs, decks and floor coverings. Three weights—40 lb., 50 lb., and 60 lb. per square.

Standard Mohawk Roofing

consists of the same grade of materials as Brantford Asphalt Roofing but is lighter in weight—a thoroughly reliable roofing at a low price. Tested for years and has given entire satisfaction. Sanded on one side. One weight—40 lb. per square.

Mohawk Rubber Roofing

The same quality as Standard Mohawk but with a smooth surface. Used for all classes of temporary work—sheds, bunkhouses, camp sites, even dugouts in the trenches. 35 lb., 45 lb., and 55 lb. weights.

Leatheroid Roofing

Slightly lower quality than Mohawk Rubber. Used for same purposes. 35 lb., 45 lb., and 55 lb. weights. Samples of any of these roofings and prices will be furnished by either the makers or their agents in this locality.

YOUNG CANADIANS CORNER

HIS BOYHOOD DAYS

One day not very many years ago, but to this Polar bear in the Zoo it seemed ages, he was with his mother at home in the frozen regions of the far North. They had been sitting on the edge of an ice cake catching fish, and having the very best time in the world, when his mother suddenly raised up, whiffed the air, and gave a deep, rumbling growl, the kind of a growl she used when she was angry or excited. And well she might be disturbed, for yonder, not fifty yards away was a boat full of tall creatures that stood on their hind legs, and were unlike anything he had ever seen. His mother jerked him around in front of her body, and was just in the act of pushing him off in the water, so that she could swim away with him, when a strange thing happened! There was a big noise like the ice makes when it cracks during the long, cold Arctic nights, and then something like fog, only bluer and thicker, drifted away above the boat. When he looked around for his mother she was lying flat on the ice, and a little stream of something very red was trickling from a hole in her side, and staining the ice a most wonderful color. While he was wondering what it all could mean, he heard something whish through the air, and the next instant something closed tight around his throat, and he felt himself being pulled roughly over the ice. As the tight thing around his neck kept him from breathing, he soon forgot everything, and did not know any more than if he had been asleep. When he woke up he had a funny feeling about his throat, and he was so hungry he did not know what to do. He naturally looked around for his mother, for when he had that empty feeling he always thought of her the first thing, but she was nowhere to be seen. Then he noticed for the first time that he was not free to go where he wanted, as there was a tight something around his neck that was fastened to a chain and the chain was fastened to a post. So there he was, only able to walk around in a little circle. Presently one of those curious things that walked on two legs came towards him, but this time there was no big noise or blue fog, but he pulled with all his might on the chain, and tried to run away. But the chain was stronger than he was, so he was obliged to stay, no matter what happened. The two-legged creature came up close, patted his head and made a funny noise with his mouth, but it was not the kind of noise his mother made. When he found that no harm came to him, his heart quit beating so fast, and he sidled up and took a good smell of his strange visitor. It was a new scent to him; it was not anything like the smell of a seal, or wild fowl, or of a fish, and it certainly did not smell like his mother. But still nothing happened, and he began to get real interested, and almost quit pulling on the chain, and actually went nearer and rubbed against the legs of the thing he afterwards learned was a man. Then the man brought a pan of something that looked like fish, and smelled like fish and very soon he was eating so fast and enjoying it so much that he for-

got everything except how hungry he was. He noticed that he was on a great big something that was floating, and it wasn't an iceberg either, and there were a great many of these queer men creatures on it, too. He soon got real chummy with the man who brought him fish every day, and would try to run to meet him when he saw him coming with the pan. As the days passed the weather got warmer and warmer, and he wished he could pull off his winter suit, like men pulled off their coats. One day land came into sight, but it was not the kind of land he knew about—there wasn't a single iceberg to be seen, no ice fields—no snow, and look as hard as he could he did not see seals sunning themselves, or penguins standing in rows like soldiers. When the thing they had been riding on for so many days stopped, the man who gave him fish led him down a sloping plank, and for the first time in his life he was walking on ground where there were no snow or ice. After a while the man led him up to a place where all kinds of animals lived, all of them strangers to him, of course, but then they had a familiar smell, and that was very comforting. The man opened the door, pushed him inside, closed it and went away. Left to himself, he looked around, and found that he was in a sort of a cage that did not have a single hole big enough for him to crawl through. And there he has been ever since. He heard someone call it a Zoo, but he never did know what that meant, even though he had lived there for years, and had grown to be as big as his mother.

MARRIAGES

WOODSIDE-ROTHNEY.

The marriage was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's father, Leeds Village, Que., on Wednesday, July 10, of Helen Allan, only daughter of Mr. George Rothery, to John Hutchison Woodside, of Waterville, Que. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James H. Woodside, of Cumberland, Ont., brother of the groom, assisted by the Rev. T. S. St. Aubin, of Kinross's Mills, Que. The bride, who was unattended, wore a travelling suit of taupe grey taffeta silk, with hat to match, and a corsage bouquet of heather from the banks of Loch Lomond. After dainty refreshments were served, Mr. and Mrs. Woodside left for a wedding trip to Montreal and Smith's Falls.

ROTHNEY-DUNN

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dunn, of Leeds Village, Que., on Wednesday, July 8, when Elizabeth Oliver, their eldest daughter, was united in marriage with George Smith Rothery, also of Leeds Village. The Rev. T. S. St. Aubin, of Kinross's Mills, conducted the ceremony and Mr. J. T. Allan, of Cookshire, played the wedding march. The bride, who was given away by her father, was daintily gowned in white, with bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white peonies and daisies. She was attended by her sisters the Misses Winnifred and Flora Dunn, as bridesmaids, while her little sister, Janet, as flower girl, carried a basket of pink and white flowers. The groomsmen was Mr. William C. Hutchison, cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony refreshments were served to a large number of guests. The bridal couple left by auto for a wedding trip to the Eastern Townships.

EDGAR-COWLING.

EAST ANGUS, July 20.—(Special)—On Wednesday morning, July 17th, at nine o'clock, the marriage of Miss Constance Cowling, youngest daughter of Mr. E. C. Cowling, to Mr. George Edgar, of Montreal, was quietly solemnized at Christ Church,

FOOD BOARD FLASHES FOR FEMININE FOLK

There are still some women in Canada who do not seem to be aware that it is against the law to make icing from cane sugar. It is surely apparent to anyone who is in the habit of buying cakes that substitutes and chiefly maple syrup, are now being used by all the bakers.

Here is a simple recipe for maple icing which should serve for special occasions, although there is very little excuse now for any kind of icing on cakes:

2 cups maple or corn syrup,
2 teaspoons shortening,
1 egg white.
Boil syrup until it spins a thread. Add shortening. Pour slowly over beaten white of egg. Beat until stiff enough to spread on cake.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 20.—Joe Jeanette, of Hoboken, and Kid Norfolk, of Panama, fought a fast eight-round draw here last night. Jeanette weighed 190 pounds and Norfolk 180.

East Angus. The church was beautifully decorated by friends with marguerites and ferns. The Rev. E. K. Moffatt, incumbent, performed the ceremony and Miss Winifred Mundell, M. A., of Montreal, played the wedding march. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, Lieut. Stuart Planché, of the Royal Navy, cousin of the bride, acted as usher. The bride wore a lovely gown of navy Georgette, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, relatives and intimate friends only being present. Following the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Edgar left for Kennebec Port and other points. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Ward, Mrs. Triggs, Mr. W. H. Cowling, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Cowling, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. French, Mr. James French, the Misses Louise, Florence and Ruby French, Miss Marjorie Planché, Mr. Stuart Planché, Miss E. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Henry, Lemoxville; Mrs. H. Short, Port Stanley, Ont.; Mrs. G. Harris, Richmond; Miss Mundell and Miss Mitchell, Montreal.

HATLEY AND DISTRICT NOTES

Two Serious Accidents—Mr. William Thwaites and Mr. Frank Sutton Seriously Injured.

HATLEY, July 20.—(Special)—Two serious accidents have occurred within the past few days in this vicinity. As Mr. William R. Thwaites was on his way to Waterville, where he was to deliver a calf, one wheel of the express wagon dropped into a hole in the road, throwing Mr. Thwaites to the ground, the box in which the calf was imprisoned striking the unfortunate man on the side of the neck. The accident, which occurred near the property known in former years as the Reynolds place, was witnessed by men who at once hastened to the spot. Mr. Thwaites was found in an unconscious condition, and remained in this state for several hours, being ultimately removed to his home, where he is at present reported to be making favorable progress towards recovery. During the past two or three years both Mr. and Mrs. Thwaites have been specially unfortunate, as last winter Mrs. Thwaites slipped on the floor of her kitchen and fell, breaking one hip, and previous to this Mr. Thwaites fell on the icy sidewalk in Sherbrooke, when he so seriously injured one knee that he was obliged to undergo treatment for some time in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Fell and Fractured Hip.
While engaged in loading hay at the farm of his son-in-law, Mr. Frank Sutton, at North Barnston, Mr. Henry Morrison, of the same place, had the misfortune to fall from the load, striking heavily upon one hip. It was at once perceived that Mr. Morrison was badly injured, and a surgeon was hurriedly summoned, who found it impracticable, on account of the nature of the injury, to reduce the fracture. Mr. Morrison was afterwards removed to his home in the neighborhood of the old California school-house.

W.C.T.U. Meeting.
The regular monthly meeting of the Hatley W.C.T.U. was entertained on Thursday afternoon at the Guild Hall by Mrs. B. F. Bowen. The public will be entertained at a patriotic tea on Friday afternoon in the Guild Hall. The hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. John Robertson, president; Mrs. Jones, vice-president, and Mrs. M. W. LeBaron, treasurer. It is hoped that all who are interested in the work of the Red Cross Group and Patriotic Society will assist by contributions of food, without personal solicitation.

Reached England after Long Voyage.
A letter received on Thursday at The Butternuts brings the welcome intelligence that Pte. Harris Leavitt, younger son of Mr. Chas. D. Leavitt, has after a voyage of nineteen days reached England in safety and is now at Shorncliffe Camp in Surrey. Pte. Leavitt, who is a grandson of Mrs. Hartwell and a nephew of Mrs. Whitcomb, of the Butternuts, intends taking advantage of the first opportunity to look up his cousin, Gunner I. C. Whitcomb, who has not yet returned to France, as well as another former Compton boy, Pte. George Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Carr. It has been learned beyond all doubt that Mr. and Mrs. Carr's elder son, Pte. Fred Carr, who was reported on the casualty list as among the missing, was instantly killed by the bursting of a shell while on active service.

Notes.
Pte. J. Dove, of the Canadian Grenadier Regiment, Quebec City, has been spending a short time with his brother, Mr. J. W. Dove, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Bowen at North Barnston.

Mrs. Maud Ayer Meserve, of Los Angeles Cal., accompanied by her cousin, Mrs. Robert Bradley, of Sherbrooke, has been a recent visitor at the homes of their cousins, Mrs. W. A. Hodges and Mrs. J. F. Woodman, where they were joined by another cousin, Mrs. B. R. Bowen, of North Barnston, which was the first time the five ladies had spent in each other's company. Mrs. Meserve, who also called upon a maternal cousin, Mrs. H. M. Emery, is a musician of exceptional ability, having for some years filled the important position of superintendent of the musical departments of different schools and colleges throughout the southern part of the State of California.

Mrs. B. W. Dove has returned from Lyndonville, Vt., where she has been for the past few weeks at the home of her father, Mr. W. Morse; Mrs. W. J. Hunter, Mrs. B. R. Bowen and Mrs. J. W. Dove, from North Barnston, here on Thursday to attend the meeting of the W.C.T.U.; Mr. Alden Bayley and his step-daughter, from St. Johnsbury, Vt., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hartwell; Mrs. H. McCulloch, of Montreal, for a few days with Mrs. M. W. LeBaron; Mrs. G. H. White and young son to Waterville on Friday for a week's stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. White; Mr. and Mrs. L. Schoolcraft, Misses Doris and Alice Schoolcraft and Mr. Leo Burceyik accompanied Mr. H. F. Webster in his car to Sherbrooke for the day; Miss Gertrude Imrie, of Sherbrooke, is spending her holidays at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Webster; Mr. R. Hinch, of Richmond, who has been a visitor at the Glidden home, returned to his home on Thursday; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bowen at Sherbrooke on Friday; Mr. P. Schoolcraft and Mr. Sorel Bryan to Sherbrooke on Friday.

The members of St. James' Guild met at their hall on Wednesday afternoon, when a portion of the time was spent in preparations for the ice cream social which took place during the evening and which was attended with success, by means of which the Hatley Red Cross Group realized the

Twenty-one Raids Carried Out By British Has Resulted in Much Damage to German Railway Centre.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, July 20.—(British Wireless Service)—Striking evidence of the damage caused by the raids of British bombing squadrons upon the German railway system at Metz-
Sablons is afforded by an official
British photograph published today.
This photograph, taken shortly after the double raid on July 6 and the night of July 6-7, from a height of
over ten thousand feet, shows in minute detail the whole of the important railroad junction at Metz, including
the famous "railway triangle" at Metz-Sablons, where an immense
number of lines converge into Metz Central station and southwards to the western front.

The effects of some exceptionally destructive bursts were visible in
the photograph among the engine
shed and workshops in the centre of the triangle, and the remains of two trains, completely burned out, can be clearly seen. There also is evidence of great damage to the network of railway lines in the southern
arm of the triangle.

Since the beginning of June at least twenty one raids have been made upon Metz-Sablons.

BELIEVED U. S. CRUISER SAN DIEGO TORPEDOED

(Associated Press Despatch)
WASHINGTON, D.C., July 20.—
Belief that the cruiser San Diego was sunk by a torpedo is expressed in a despatch today from the chief of staff of cruiser forces to the Navy Department. The despatch follows:
"The captain of the San Diego reports that he is inclined to the belief that the ship was sunk by torpedo.
There are no conclusive factors, however, on which to base a definite
opinion at present, in view of the following circumstances:
1.—No torpedo wake was seen.
2.—No convincing evidence that per-iscope was seen.
3.—No submarine appeared, in spite of the fact that three unarmed rescue
ships were in the vicinity for about
two hours.
Ship was struck on port side abaft
beam, which discourages mine theory.
Weather was fine; smooth sea.

BRITISH AIRMEN RAID GERMANY BEYOND RHINE

Bombs Were Dropped on Important Works at Mannheim, Heidelberg and Oberndorf—Railway Trains Also Attacked.

LONDON, July 20.—British bombing squadrons again have invaded Germany and have gone beyond the Rhine. An announcement from the Air Ministry says that bombs were dropped on the Benz works at Mannheim, on the railway station at Heidelberg, on blast furnaces in the Saar
district and on a powder factory at Oberndorf, the latter having been bombed yesterday. A fire resulted at the Benz works. Railway trains
also were attacked. The statement
reads:

"Our bombing squadrons again
were active during the night on July

heim, the railway station at Heidelberg and the blast furnaces at Bur-

At the Benz works a fire broke out.
A hostile airdrome was attacked, one

jected to machine gun fire.
"On July 19 the powder factory at

Bursts were observed on the buildings
in the factory. All our machines returned safely."

M. MALVY GIVES EVIDENCE ON OWN BEHALF

Former Minister of Interior Said
Morale of Army Dropped After April, 1917, as Result of Offensive and Disappointed Hopes

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, July 20.—The cross-examination of M. Malvy, former Minister of the Interior, who is on trial before
the Senate, sitting as a high court
of justice, on a charge of treason, was continued yesterday.

M. Malvy defended himself as having always acted in accordance with each ministry of which he was a member. He created a sensation by quoting from a letter dated May 5, 1917, from General Nivelle, expressing the gratitude of the army and General Nivelle, then commander-in-chief of the armies of the North and Northwest, for M. Malvy's work.

M. Malvy said the morale of the army was excellent before the April, 1917, offensive, but that it was lowered sharply afterward owing to the result of the offensive and disappointed hopes. The mutinies, he added, were due to defective canton-
ments, and the suspension of leaves,
and also to the Russian revolution
and stories of the new Russian army
discipline and the soldiers selecting
their own officers.

Hon. Mr. Tessier in his reply says:
"I want to say that the construction
work on this important highway has been only delayed by the exigencies
of the war and the financial crisis;
and that it is the intention of the Quebec Government to proceed as soon as possible. As to the question of surveying, you may be assured that I will give it my immediate atten-

NEW TYPE OF BRITISH 'PLANE

New Machine Has Great Speed and Capacity for Carrying Great Weight in Bombs.

(Canadian Press Despatch)
LONDON, July 20.—The newspapers today give prominence to a report of a new type of British airplane which, having been tested at
the front with the greatest success,
is about to be employed there in large numbers. Few technical details are given, but it is said the new machine
has enormous speed and climbing power. It is capable of carrying great weight in bombs, machine guns
and other equipment, and of attaining a height of 20,000 feet in an as-tonishingly short time.

It is said the machine can cover
long distances at a speed which leaves all but the fastest modern scouting machines far behind, and thus is able to cross the enemy's lines and drop bombs and return for a fresh load within a time limit far
less than any of the earlier airplanes.

SAYS GERMAN CASUALTIES WERE 40,000

(Associated Press Despatch)
PARIS, July 20.—(Havas Agency)
—Henri Calli, member of the Chamber of Deputies, who has just returned from the front, writes to the Matin
an interesting narrative of the fighting east of Rheims.

Owing to the manoeuvre directed
by General Gouraud on July 15th,
when he ordered his advanced posts
to fall back to the French main positions, the French lost hardly 4,000
men in killed and wounded, he said.

On the other hand the Germans
lost ten times that number, he writes.
By ten o'clock in the morning a number of German regiments had lost
more than half their effectives, and
entire companies were almost annihilated and had only a few men left.

der-in-Council has been passed prohibiting the burning of all straw

HUNS CANNOT BREAK THROUGH WESTERN FRONT

Mr. Wiggam Told of Conditions at the Front as He Found Them
to Audience at the Chautauqua
Last Night.

"Propaganda works like the poison
gas—imperceptible until after the effects are beginning to be noticed. I have never lost confidence in the Allied army, nor do I believe that the Huns can break the Western front." Mr.
Albert Edward Wiggam, in his simple but forceful way, filled the minds of his audience at the Chautauqua last night with a stronger confidence, and gave them an insight into
the conditions on the battlefields of France.

"We are fighting to see that the
dream of the noble French people
comes true." This was one of the inspiring messages brought from the soldiers fighting under the Stars and Stripes in France by Mr. Wiggam
to the people who, though their hearts
are with the boys "over there," cannot grasp the full significance of this terrible struggle. The simple heart to heart story of "The War as I Saw it in France," told by one who had been
with the boys, talked with, and to them, gave the audience a slight idea
of the wonderful courage, splendid morale and pluck of the American army now engaged in war. In referring to his lectures to the boys in camp, the speaker said: "The boys
don't like to hear long-winded lectures relating to why we're in the war.
They know." Mr. Wiggam was prevented from visiting the Canadian line by the March drive, but met and conversed with many of Canada's brave lads while in France, and was full of praise for their devotion to duty. "When this drive was launched,
boys returned after three days' leave
instead of ten, naturally disappointed,
but said they were going to give the Kaiser a good one."

"When the boys go over the top
they are thinking of honor and courage, and that is what will win the war; victory is first won in the heart
of the soldier, and the faces of boys
who have died in No Man's Land were
a look of peace that passeth all understanding," continued the speaker.
Referring to the problem of re-
adjustment of labor after the war, Mr.
Wiggam said "the genius of democracy will be able to find a job for both
the man and the woman."

Several interesting souvenirs were shown by Mr. Wiggam, with graphic descriptions of incidents connected with them. Part of the first aero-plane used in night flying by an American soldier was shown, with a humorous account of a ride in one of them. He described an "Ace" as an aviator who brings down five German
planes on their own side of the line,
and said that the final element of victory in war is the airplane.

Other interesting objects were a German air bomb, of which the only possible use was to kill innocent civilians; a gas mask; a German canteen;
shoes such as are furnished to refugees by the American Red Cross;
barbed wire taken from entanglements forty-five feet from German
guns by a soldier; saw-toothed bayonets; war posters, and the new life-saving garment, which was donated by Mr. Wiggam in order to show its full capabilities. In his concluding remarks, Mr. Wiggam said: "Germany
is worshipping Baal, and we worship
the Jehovah. We are reaching our hands over the crater of religion and political differences, and united we shall win."

MUSICAL NUMBERS GOOD.

The following programme given by Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Winters yesterday afternoon was of a novel character, and may rightly be termed one
of the "hits" of the Chautauqua.

Mrs. Winters as a bird imitator
charmed her audience with her true
imitation of the music of the wild
woods, and brought her hearers very close to nature with her bird calls
and charming description of bird life.
Mr. Winters recited "The Song of the Cardinal" (Mrs. Porter) in an engaging way, after which Mrs. Winters gave a whistling solo, "The Red Bird," in which the pretty call of this bird was mimed. Their closing number, "Bob White's Wedding Day," a combination of whistling,

reciting and piano accompaniment
was a delightful number and received
hearty applause. Mr. J. Franklin Caveny kept his audience in a merry
mood with his cartoons, "chalk
talk" and fine sketches, which included marine views, moonlight, sunrise, winter scenes, etc., accompanied by witticisms and poetic quotations.
A "drawing card" was the sketching
of victims in the audience, during which the suspense reached almost fever heat, but was dispelled by two very fine portraits of Mr. Brown and Mr. Lovell, being handed to the owners by Mr. Caveny. His interesting
"stunt" was brought to a pleasant
climax by a rapid clay modeling of
the busts of an American Indian,
Wm. Shakespeare and Abraham Lincoln.

The first part of the evening's programme was given by Mr. and Mrs.
Winters, in which Mrs. Winters scored a second victory by her "Birds of the Forest" and "Excitement in Birdland," an original composition.
Mr. Winters gave a fine recitation,
"Victory Loan," and accompanied Mrs. Winters' solos in an artistic manner.

CHILDREN HAD GOOD TIME.

The Chautauqua children had an enjoyable outing this morning in the form of a breakfast in the woods.
About sixty children gathered at the Parade Ground at 8 o'clock, and in charge of Miss Carlock, with Mr. W.
A. Hale as guide, went up Portland
avenue and found a nice "woodsy"
place, where a breakfast menu of bacon, eggs, rolls, etc., was quickly
prepared, and to which full justice
was done. The music of children's voices mingled with that of the birds,
and the woods rang with laughter
and song. After a happy hour spent in roaming about the children were brought safely back to the Parade Ground, where games and Chautauqua exercises concluded a morning
that will remain in the memory of the children who are fortunate enough
to be included in the five days' junior programme long after the big brown tent has disappeared from their view.

TOMORROW'S CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAMME

Probably the most attractive musical programme that has been offered
by the Community Chautauqua will
be presented today and tomorrow,
both afternoons and evenings. Today
the Royal Hawaiian Singers and Players will be heard, while tomorrow the celebrated Kilties Band of Canada will hold sway. Lovers of music will no doubt gather in large
