Survey shows more students than expected found summer work

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Aided by federal manpower programs, employment drives set up by business and campus placement offices, thousands of Canadian students found employment this summer despite predictions that the summer of 1970 would provide little or no work for them.

Generally were successful in finding work for students. Firm statistics are expected soon when the manpower department releases a national survey. Although many department spokesmen prefer to await release of the survey before commenting, most indicate that they had reasonably successful programs. A spokesman in Halifax said that "in a general way it was a very good summer, better than last year." In Saint John, N.B., half of 1,200 students who applied to a special placement office found full-time or part-time work. OPERATED BY STUDENTS The office, set up by the department and the Saint John board of trade and operated by three students, will be opened again next year, said a board spokesman who found the program "very successful."

Canadian National Railways also employed more than 300 students throughout the Maritimes. Although the University of Montreal refused comment, a manpower department official working through Sir George Williams University said only 376 of 1,680 students who registered were placed in jobs, making 1970 the worst year in the last five. At McGill University, only 15 to 20 per cent of students were placed through the campus programs, although an official said those who found work on their own did not show on placement records. Students who did get jobs in Montreal often said the work was unsatisfactory, but placement officers criticized them for registering late. MINISTERS HELPED At Laval University in Quebec City, however, about 80 per cent of 3,000 students who registered for employment found work. Emile Simard, Laval's placement director, said the Quebec government set an example for private business by asking cabinet ministers to hire as many students as possible in their departments. In Ontario, the University of Toronto placement service found work for 86 per cent of 5,019 students who registered. David Currey, Toronto's placement director, said his office found there were fewer openings than last year but better placements were available. Toronto took part in a manpower department operation which set up eight centres in the city and 50 throughout the province. John Nelles, program director, said referrals were up 34 per cent from 1969 and that although the manufacturing sector had fewer openings the project generally was successful.

In Ottawa, Carleton University and the University of Ottawa set up the University Students Employment Maison which coordinator Charles Levy called "highly successful." The program placed 3,772 students. Those in engineering, economics, commerce and journalism had the most success. Many of 5,000 students hired for public service jobs were not registered with the program.

U.S. finds evidence of SAMs

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States is reported to have evidence that the most advanced type of Soviet surface to air missiles have been introduced into the Egyptian ceasefire zone along the Suez canal. The SAM-3 sites are presumed manned by Russian military personnel.

Israel charged last week that SAM-3s had been taken into the zone in violation of a military standstill agreement paralleling the ceasefire accord.

The United States has said it had evidence of violations and asked Egypt and Russia for "rectification."

But the state department had refused in the course of several news conferences to say whether the United States had specific information bearing out the Israeli charge that the advanced SAM-3s had been deployed last week.

Meanwhile, the state department said Wednesday Israel had made reconnaissance flights inside the 6.6-mile zone on each side of the canal where planes are prohibited.

The assessment of officials here is that these apparent Israeli violations of the standstill agreement are essentially different from the violations charged against Egypt. The explanation is that the Israeli flights were not to gain a military advantage but to check Egyptian activity.

Players offer two

At a recent meeting of the Committee of the Lennoxville Players it was decided that this local dramatic group would again produce a play and an operetta during the coming season.

A general meeting for all those interested has been set for Monday, September 21st, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium building at Bishop's College School.

Anyone interested in joining or rejoining the group is urged to attend this meeting, where names will be taken of those who wish to become engaged in acting or the various opportunities for work on productions.

The Lennoxville Players is an entirely amateur troupe which for the past fifteen years has been producing plays and musicals under the sponsorship of local service organizations, the profits of the performances going to the work of those organizations.

ONE INJURED AND $2,000. MATERIAL DAMAGE — Two vehicles collided at the intersection lights on Route 32 and Main Street with the drivers losing control and one ended up hitting the gas pumps on Therrien's Service Station while the other struck a pedestrian. Injured was Norman St. Cyr, age 33, of Asbestos, who was struck by the vehicle driven by William Brocombe of Danville while the vehicle owned by Mrs. Blanche Jodin of Lowell, Mass., U.S.A. caused considerable damage to the station property. The accident was investigated by Chief Jacques Arguin. Mr. Brocombe's car is to the right, in the photo.

Auto talks lag as negotiators mark time

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Low-level talks on minor, non-economic issues continued Wednesday, second day of the strike against giant General Motors of Canada Ltd., as negotiators marked time waiting for a resumption of bargaining at the international level.

There were no picket line incidents at GM's eight Ontario plants and none in St. Therese, Que., as the 27,000 Canadian workers affected by the strike appeared to be adopting a cheerful fight-to-the-finish attitude.

Meanwhile, United Auto Workers Union officials from St. Therese arrived in Toronto Wednesday to join their fellow union negotiators in talks with GM. These talks are concerned with matters of Canadian interest, such as local plant conditions.

Master-level talks, which would deal with the major issues in dispute such as wages and pensions, are due to resume on an international level next week in Detroit. The strike marks the first time that Canadian and United States workers have combined forces against one of the Big Three automobile manufacturers.

300,000 OFF IN U.S.
About 300,000 workers in 31 U.S. states are affected.

Both sides are meeting with the belief that the strike will be long, perhaps longer than the 119-day strike by the UAW against GM in 1946. Most economists, and spokesmen for automotive supply industries that count heavily on GM contracts, generally agree that the Canadian economy could absorb a month-long strike without serious dislocation, but no longer. Some workers in firms that supply material to GM already have been laid off. These include 150 at Standard Products Canada Ltd., in Stratford, Ont., and 20 at Eaton Automotove in London. Another 150 will be laid off Friday by Detroit Gasket and Manufacturing Co. Ltd., in Petrolia, Ont.

About 24½ cents separated both sides on the wage issue when talks broke off in Detroit, one hour before the strike began Monday midnight.

The union is seeking wage increases ranging from 6½ cents to 84 cents in the first year of a three-year contract to go with the current average weekly wage of $160.80. GM has offered 36 to 48 cents in the first year.

Ste. Therese starts feeling the pinch

MONTREAL (CP) — The strike of 2,400 workers begun Tuesday at the General Motors plant in Ste. Therese, Que., is expected to have a major impact on side industries in Quebec.

A plant which manufactures coil springs for GM will lay off 28 employees Friday in Lacolle, Que., on the Canada-U.S. border. "We had been hoping for a settlement of the strike so that this would not be necessary," a company spokesman said Wednesday.

"But unfortunately, as of Friday, our production will be stopped and our people will be let go."

Lacolle plant which produces carpeting for new cars has also laid off about 50 people on the production line in the last two weeks.

"Had the strike been averted those 50 people surely would have been called back in," a company spokesman said. "But if it goes on for any time, we just will have to let more go."

Other centres likely to feel the impact of the strike include Hawkesbury, Ont., where windshields for the Ste. Therese plant are manufactured, and Joliette, Que., which has a tire manufacturing plant.

A plant in St. Jerome, Que., which provides GM with dashboards, is also vulnerable, as is a tire company in Valleyfield, Que., which supplies rubber products.

Lesser effects are expected at various larger companies which supply motor oil, gasoline and anti-freeze.

Ford ups prices

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced Wednesday an average $153 price increase in the manufacturer's suggested retail price of its 1971-model automobiles.

On most cars where prices were raised, the increase amounted to five per cent. Ford cut the Mustang Mach I by 1.5 per cent and raised the Torino GT by one per cent and the Torino Cobra by 0.8 per cent, making the average increase for all lines 4.6 per cent.

Ford raised prices an average $108 last year, bringing the two-year increase to an average $261.

Morgan latest addition to Sherbrooke Party roster

By CUTHBERT JONES
SHERBROOKE — The Sherbrooke Party last night presented its seventh aldermanic candidate for the Nov. 1 municipal elections with Keith Morgan, director of marketing for the Eastern Townships of Bell Canada, being named to contest the North Ward seat now held by Ald. Everett Nicol.

Announcement of Mr. Morgan's nomination was made at a press conference held Wednesday night at the Hotel Sherbrooke, attended by a large number of supporters of the new party.

Mr. Morgan was introduced by Patrick O'Gallagher, who declared that the new party headed by former Alderman Marcel Savard, who is seeking the post of mayor, had attracted its ranks a number of strong candidates from different areas of business and industry.

Charges benign neglect of tourism

In accepting the nomination, Mr. Morgan declared that for the first time in the history of Sherbrooke, the civic election fight was being waged on the issue of policies and not of the record of individuals or of personalities.

He praised the party leader, Marcel Savard, as a dynamic man, a proven administrator and a competent and readily accessible gentleman. Discussing the problems facing Sherbrooke, he said that one of the most important was the stimulating of the tourist industry.

"Considering that every $100,000 spent by tourists is considered the equivalent of an industry employing 20 persons," he said, "we might ask what is the present administration doing? Less than 2.3 per cent of the money spent by tourists visiting Quebec province is spent in the region of Sherbrooke."

Without having an exact estimate of the tourist potential of the Sherbrooke region, it is certainly higher than 2.3 per cent. Mr. Morgan was supported by Reynald Frechette, ex-MNA for Sherbrooke and former speaker of the Quebec National Assembly, who took the opportunity to deny reports that he planned an entry into municipal politics. "I deny categorically," he declared, "that I have any intention of seeking municipal office, either as mayor or alderman." The party leader, Marcel Savard, and Michel Cloutier, candidate in the Center Ward, also spoke briefly.

Suggest cryptic computers

MONTREAL (CP) — Companies using computers to transmit sensitive or secret information should have security systems capable of foiling unauthorized "listening in," a management consultant said Wednesday.

Ruben J. Rosen, partner in P. S. Ross and Partners, told a Canadian computer seminar that data transmission over communications lines is as susceptible to wire-tapping as a voice transmission.

Computers to which many persons have access "emphasize that any weakness in controls can result in much greater losses than in the past."

The normal course of business would not carry much danger of wire-tapping or listening in, he said, but where data are extremely confidential, techniques such as scrambling and cryptography can be used to disguise data being handled.

Creditiste execs to meet

QUEBEC (CP) — The executive of the Quebec Creditiste party will meet in Levis, Que., Saturday to lay the foundation of its internal structure, a party spokesman said Wednesday. Maurice Ouellet said in an interview that party leader Camil Samson and chairman Dr. Gaston Tremblay will preside at the meetings.

The sessions are to be attended by 26 persons including the party's 12 members of the Quebec national assembly, delegates from nine regions of the province and five party organizers.

Mr. Ouellet also announced that Louis Tardivel has been named head of research services for the 12 assembly members. The Creditistes were given a research budget of $15,000 by the government when they received recognition as an official party after the Quebec election last April 29.

Mr. Tardivel is former director of CBC public relations in Quebec City.

Denies Quebec is "little favorite" of Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa denied Wednesday that his province is Ottawa's favorite when it comes to dishing out federal funds.

Mr. Bourassa told reporters some provinces, particularly British Columbia, feel that Quebec receives more than its fair share of equalization payments from federal tax revenues which go to provinces with relatively lower standards of living. "In other federal systems, they have done a better job of eliminating regional disparities," he said, referring to the United States.

In the U.S., government departments plan their spending to stimulate the economy where it is most needed.

REPEATS PROPOSAL

Mr. Bourassa repeated his proposal for the creation of a federal stabilization fund—loans and grants—to help provinces such as Quebec which have higher unemployment. However, he would not say how the idea had been received by other provinces at Wednesday's federal-provincial talks on financial matters.

He said all Canadian governments have agreed to try and eliminate regional economic disparities, and the stabilization fund is one way of doing so.

Mr. Bourassa said he has received assurances that the federal government will take account of Quebec's situation when it draws up new tax-sharing arrangements with the provinces in 1972. He said he will have an answer from the federal government in six or seven months.

HAS HIGHEST TAXES

He urged the other governments to remember that Quebec has "the highest taxes in the country and one of the highest unemployment rates and is making efforts to reduce spending" in considering its financial demands. He is still seeking the reimbursement of $236,000,000 the Quebec government estimates has been paid out by Quebecers under the two-per-cent social development surtax on personal income.

The Quebec government maintains that the surtax was introduced to pay for the federal medical care insurance plan. Quebec has not yet entered the plan, and wants her money back. "The essential thing is that Quebec should not be penalized for not having medical care insurance," Mr. Bourassa said.

SETTING UP FOR A CONVENTION

Prospects looked dim so he headed West

BANFF, Alta. — When David Carr of Sherbrooke needed a summer job in the spring of 1969, and prospects looked dim, he looked to the west and has never regretted it.

The 21-year-old Bishop's University student, who enters his fourth year of business administration this fall, worked as a houseman during the summer of '69 at the Banff Springs Hotel.

So well did he answer guests' calls for glasses, towels, etc., that this year he returned to the famous CP Hotels resort as head houseman.

As head houseman David is in charge of setting up facilities for conventions.

"I particularly enjoy this part of the job," says David, "as it involves dealing with top businessmen who are in charge of the conventions."

A hotel houseman can be confronted with a wide variety of problems and the most memorable for David occurred during his first year at the Banff Springs when a guest removed a screen from a window — and let in a bat. With a couple of bellmen, an assistant manager, a security man and a couple of maids lending a hand David managed to down the bat with a broom.

The guest promised to keep the screen in place, then settled down to a good night's sleep.

As for off-duty recreation, David says, "I'm scared stiff of heights so my mountain climbing is done via cable car." He takes full advantage however of staff privileges on the Banff Springs Golf Course.

He's also done a fair amount of travelling around the immediate area, including a trip to the Calgary Stampede.

Summer staffers admit that fellowship is a big part of working at the Banff Springs which has a student payroll of some 700 from virtually every campus in the country.

Most of the students make friendships that last all their lives and reunions of Banff staff — as well as its sister Canadian Pacific resort Chateau Lake Louise — are frequent winter occasions.

Guests find the student workers refreshing and polite. Beginning "green" at the summer's opening, they quickly catch on.

Hotel guests are repeatedly surprised. After all, that waitress at the table may be an honors home economics student.

It's equally hard to realize that the bellboy with the luggage may be holding down a scholarship at medical school. And then there's the chambermaid who may be honoring in languages.

Earning money in one of Canada's major beauty spots has its attractions and there's usually a sizable waiting list of job applicants who must be at least 18 to qualify for any position.

The student staff are housed in staff annexes and return transportation is paid if the staffer remains the entire June to September summer season.

Hitherto a summers-only operation, the Banff Springs made a break with an 88-year tradition last year, when it reopened in mid-December, heralding the beginnings of its new year-round operation.

GOLFING OFF-DUTY

Traditionally, the mid-September departure of the student staff has signalled the closing of the hotel — but this year the hotel remains open, with other staff taking over where the students leave off.

Though they receive a basic salary the student staff earn most of their summer income from tips contributed by guests.

In employing university students for summer duties, the hotel is also contributing to their educational development and many depend on their summer earnings to continue in school.

Boundary chamber hopes for 60 C of C recruiting drive planned

BOUNDARY — A general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held on Tuesday evening, September 15, at the Legion Memorial Home in Stanstead, marking the end of the first fiscal year since organization a year ago.

During the year there have been 19 meetings held and the Chamber had 43 members. Attempts have been made to establish a Liquor store in Rock Island, the Chamber operated an information booth for the February Dog Sled Derby.

In reference to the Liquor store, in April a 55 page brief was sent the Liquor Board and to date this has not even been acknowledged, so at the September meeting it was voted to send a communique to Premier Bourassa making inquiry concerning this.

As the new year begins this will be one of the primary projects, along with requesting more highway signs and numbers of direction. Hugo LaPenna noted numbers are not evident for direction to Lake Memphremagog East shore.

Post cards of local scenes are to go on sale within a few days now. This is a project sponsored by the Chamber.

Pierre Lavallee of the Sports Federation noted a corn roast held at the Del Monty in August realized $115.00 after expenses had been paid. Mr. Lavallee presented half this amount to the Frontier Swim Project, the other half to go to the Minor Hockey League. Mr. Lavallee thanked his co-workers on this, Denis Bouchard and Guy Gauthier.

Denis Bouchard, Bernard Laberee, Wilrod Duchesne, Maxime Doyon, Henry Nadeau, Eugene Lambert, Raymond Fluet, Guy Gauthier, Jean-Guy Roderique, Raymond Langevin and Andre Pepin were named as Directors. Nominations are open until the next general meeting, Oct. 13, when the five executives will be elected and the directors' nominations confirmed.

The membership objective for 1970-71 is 60, and there will be drive this fall to recruit additional members.

The October 13 meeting will be at the Imperial and it is hoped that a member of the Legislative Assembly will speak.

Pesticide manufacturers move to spruce up image

JASPER, ALTA. (CP) — Manufacturers of agricultural bug killers moved to improve their public image as the four-day convention of the Canadian Agricultural Chemicals Association ended Wednesday.

The association decided to increase its membership dues to establish a public information program to tell the public the industry is responsible in the field of environmental health.

Jack Kennedy of Toronto, CACA president, said pesticide manufacturers will try to get their story across more than in the past.

"We fell we have a good story to tell and it should be told."

The association, which has 54 member firms, 80 per cent of the agricultural chemical manufacturing companies in Canada, also instituted a self-policing procedure through a three-member ethics advisory committee.

However, the code of ethics will not be revealed until it has been cleared through the federal consumer and corporate affairs department, Mr. Kennedy said.

Calling it a significant step forward, Mr.

Kennedy said it could result in member companies being asked to withdraw a product from the market.

More than 220 delegates attended the convention, "Pesticides and the Environment".

Several speakers said there is a need for constant evaluation of chemicals used in the production of food.

Dr. W.J. Darby, chairman of Vanderbilt University's biochemistry department at Nashville, Tenn., said data must constantly be re-examined.

Cyclamates were a good example. There was no evidence of any undue harmful effects on animals until experiments a year ago discovered tumors in rats.

David Spurgeon, Toronto Globe and Mail science editor, told delegates the public now is wary of all chemical pesticides and is concerned about their possible effects on the environment.

"More and more manufacturers and innovators are going to have to prove that the benefits of their products are worth the total cost."

Keynote is involvement for Stanstead opening

STANSTEAD — With Stanstead College opening the second week of September, the Boundary communities' population increases by more than 200 persons.

The soccer game is scheduled for 1:15 p.m. and the football at 2:30 p.m. In the morning, the College junior varsity team will play Selwyn House of Montreal.

There will be an evening dinner in Le Baron Hall and it is hoped by the Headmaster and staff that Alumni will remain.

Bill Robinson, Grade 12, has been named president of the Athletic Committee and Davis House representative. Greg Brown is secretary, of Grade 10 and his grades representative of Colby House. Mike Allard is Grade 11, representative of Colby and Steve Mitchell of Grade 11 in Davis.

The varsity football team had a scrimmage with North Country Union High, Newport, on Saturday. It went very well for both with the score 13 for Stanstead and 12 for NCUHS.

September 16, two soccer games are on tap, JV and Junior with St. George's school of Montreal.

Mr. Lester will be in Montreal on September 17 to attend a meeting of the College Planning and Development Committee.

The students here are of several denominations of religion and because of this the boys may attend the church of their choice. However once a month there will be a compulsory service in Fierce Hall. It is tentatively planned to have the usual College Sunday service at Centenary but plans are not yet complete. There will be school clubs organized before the end of the month, Saturday night movies have already commenced.

Russians share blame

If the rather tenuous Middle East ceasefire turns into renewed warfare, much of the blame must rest with the Russians and the Egyptians who apparently have never taken the truce seriously. If they had really wanted to see the temporary arrangement open the way for a lasting settlement they would not have indulged in flagrant violations of the agreement which Israel entered reluctantly but in good faith.

Admittedly Egypt cannot be debited with full blame for constructing new rocket emplacements on its side of the Suez Canal during the armistice or for the other efforts it is making to improve its military position. The major share of the blame for this dereliction must rest with Russia.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the missiles and the emplacements are all provided by the Russians who are also operating them. If the Russians had not wanted the weapon installations to be made in the canal zone, they could have halted the flow of men and material.

The logical assumption is that the Russians and the Egyptians have never expected any lasting agreement to emerge from the talks, or they would not have provoked the Israelis into refusing to attend the conferences while the violations were taking place.

If, as seems probably, the cease-fire ends without a permanent agreement, the Egyptians have arranged things so they will be in a better position to force the Israelis back from their positions on the east side of the Suez Canal. Probably this was the purpose that President Nasser and his Moscow pals had in mind in the first place.

Pay-as-you-blow-it-up

The dean of the University of Wisconsin law school has come up with, if not a solution, at least a new approach to a major headache of college administrators—the soaring cost of property damage insurance.

Under a plan formulated by Dean Spencer L. Kimball, each student at state universities would be required to pay a sur-charge of $100 each semester. The individual campus would hold $90 and the remaining $10 would go into a general fund covering all schools in the state.

At Madison campus alone of the University of Wisconsin, this would create a fund of some $5.5 million. But if no damage or disruption occurred during the semester, the $90 would be refunded to the students. The state would keep the $10.

It is a sort of pay-as-you-blow-it-up plan, though Dean Kimball hopes that its real effect would be to encourage students to oppose acts of violence.

MATTER OF FACT JOSEPH ALSOP

Soviets cheating

WASHINGTON — Daily, the story of the mess we have got ourselves into in the Middle East becomes longer, nastier and more ominous. Until now, for example, there has been no published suggestion that others besides the Egyptians have been cheating on the promised standstill cease-fire with Israel.

In a sense, of course, this was always a distinction without a difference: for the Soviets today are the effective masters of Egypt. But the more wishful policy-makers were still given to pointing out that the crucial military standstill had "only" been violated by forward movements of SAM-2 anti-aircraft missiles, which have Egyptian crews.

Even that comfort has now been snatched from the self-deceivers, however. In the past week, two new SAM-3 battalions, having four missile-launchers apiece, have been moved up to positions about 30 kilometers from the Suez Canal.

The very advanced, highly secret SAM-3s can kill planes at very low altitudes. And they are well known to be manned exclusively by Soviet troops. And Russian soldiers also man each SAM-3 battalion's accompanying anti-aircraft guns.

In this connection, it is well to remember the promise given by both the Egyptians and the Soviets, prior to the cease-fire. It was a promise — and here the quotation comes from the U.S.-originated paper that Moscow and Cairo accepted — to "refrain from changing the military status quo within (a zone) extending 50 kilometers — to the west of the cease-fire line."

The cease-fire line was the canal itself, of course. Thus the direct Soviet cheating is now every bit as flagrant as the Egyptian cheating. Somehow, this puts an even blacker tinge on the lies Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Dobrynin told to State Secretary Rogers, and the lies that other representatives of the Soviet government also told, in Moscow, to U.S. Ambassador Jacob Beam.

There is a good deal of truth, alas, in the rule that when you are positively panting to be lied to, you must bear some of the blame for the untruth. But that does not alter the enormous weight of national responsibility assumed by the United States, vis-a-vis Israel, because we were so eager to believe the Soviet lies.

Once again, with respect to this key matter of the U.S. guarantees given to Israel before the cease-fire, there is more — and worse — in the record than has yet been published. The cease-fire went into effect just before midnight of Aug. 7; and in the early morning of Aug. 7, the Israelis began to be concerned about the lack of detail in the language above-quoted.

They accordingly drafted an addendum to the already-agreed terms for the cease-fire and military standstill. It specified, in the completest detail, that the standstill would insure them against any movement whatever of any kind of anti-aircraft missile in the 50-kilometer zone, along the canal.

The addendum was rapidly transmitted to Washington, reaching here early in the afternoon of Aug. 7. While pointing out that there would be no time to obtain formal Egyptian and Russian adherence to the added language before the hour of the cease-fire, the State Department cheerfully assured the Israeli Embassy that everything in the addendum was solidly covered by the original promise to "refrain from changing the military status quo."

The very grave responsibility the United States thus assumed has been consistently down-played since the terrible proofs came in that the U.S. policy-makers had been bamboozled and lied to by the Soviets and the Egyptians. That by no means alters the responsibility itself, however.

The facts are plain. The United States guaranteed to Israel a military standstill. On the basis of that guarantee, Israel agreed to the cease-fire. The cease-fire had hardly occurred before the Egyptian violations began, to which have now been added flagrant Soviet violations.

In response, the United States has shuffled, and waffled, and refused to respond to the most arrogant provocation, and has even ended by treating this nation's own solemn, freely given guarantee as a thing of no account. Furthermore, the failure of the U.S. guarantee has vastly increased Israel's peril.

Pre-cessate-fire, the whole Egyptian infrastructure along the Suez Canal had been bombed to flinders. The Egyptian heavy artillery had to be withdrawn. Gamal Abdel Nasser in truth owes a great debt to the United States for believing his lies and the Soviet lies. But what the United States owes to Israel is a far graver question.

THE ART BUCHWALD COLUMN

WASHINGTON — It was the end of the 1970 fall fashion season, and the news on all fronts was bad. The Fuehrer, deep down in his bunker underneath the Seventh Avenue Subway, was reading reports from all parts of the country in rage and frustration.

"Mein Fuehrer," one of his aides told him, "Seventh Avenue is in ruins. The midi-length skirt has bombed. All is lost. We must surrender."

"Don't tell me we have lost the war," the Fuehrer screamed. "We will counterattack. We will punish all those who refuse to wear the midi-skirt!"

Another aide came in. "Good news, mein Fuehrer," he said. "Bonwit Teller reports it has just sold two midis today."

The Fuehrer started to dance a jig. "You see, swine. It is selling! The midi is selling! Today, Bonwit Teller . . . tomorrow the world!"

The Fuehrer went over to his map and stuck two pins in it. "That makes 234 midi-skirts sold this year. I told you the women would go for it."

Another aide came in with a telegram. "Mein Fuehrer, Saks Fifth Avenue has surrendered to the midi forces. So has Macy's, Gimbels and Bloomingdales. We cannot hold out much longer. Perhaps we should issue a communique saying that it makes no difference what length a woman's skirt is this year as long as she's happy."

"Never! Never!" screamed the Fuehrer, kicking over chairs and tables. "I decreed that women would wear midis and they will wear midis, whether they like them or not."

The aides looked at each other in hopelessness. The Fuehrer's mistress, who was playing solitaire, looked up from her game. "Perhaps it may be better, liebchen, to give in."

The Fuehrer looked at his mistress and screamed, "Yes, and if I surrender I will be tried as a war criminal and they will hang me. They will say I brought ruin to all of them. The answer is, 'No!' My plan to bring order to the fashion world will triumph. If they do not listen to me, there will be anarchy in the land. What word from Sears, Roebuck!"

An aide came in with the new Sears, Roebuck catalogue. "They've replaced the midi with pantsuits," the aid said. "Traitors! They will pay for this," the Fuehrer yelled as he started tearing the catalogue to bits. "I made Sears, Roebuck and I will destroy them."

Midi uber alles

The telephone rang and an aide grabbed it. "Yes, yes, Good, good." The he turned to the Fuehrer. "It's Orbach's. They have a customer in the store and she's looking at midis."

The Fuehrer started to dance another jig. "The tide is turning," he cried.

"What's that?" the aide said. "Oh." He hung up the phone. "Her husband came in and dragged her out of the store."

The Fuehrer's mistress began to cry. His Alsatian dog, sleeping in the corner, whined.

The teleprinter rang. An aide went over to the machine. "I Magain's, Marshall Field, Lord & Taylor, and J. C. Penney have collapsed. They're all holding fire sales on the midi."

The Fuehrer sank down in his chair. "That does it. No more Mr. Nice Guy."

The Fuehrer's mistress took a bottle of cyanide capsules out of the drawer and placed one in each cupcake. She called over the dog and gave him a cupcake. He ate it eagerly and rolled over dead.

She poured out two cups of coffee. She handed the Fuehrer a cupcake. He looked at her and said, "Liebchen, you believed in the midi, didn't you?"

The mistress took the other cupcake. "With my legs, what choice did I have?"

White Paper

Most independent Canadian businesses are located within a few miles of the U.S. border. The proposals for tax reform in Mr. Benson's White Paper which would, in many cases, more than double the taxes of Canadian companies, made many businessmen stop and think. Why not just shift head office a few miles south and enjoy the more favourable U.S. tax climate?

Canadian proprietors were not motivated by greed or the "fast buck" when they considered this possibility. It's a matter of economics. Almost without exception, Canadians are engaged in strenuous competition with U.S. companies anxious to develop new markets in Canada.

U.S. companies certainly do not enjoy any advantage over Canadian companies in matters of quality, design and delivery. In fact, many Canadian companies now conduct business quite successfully in the U.S. as well as Canada.

But if a U.S. company pays a tax rate of 22 per cent, and a Canadian company faces a tax of 50 per cent under the White Paper, there is no question about who will enjoy the competitive edge.

And now this imbalance is in grave danger of worsening. Recently, the Small Business Tax Simplification and Reform Act of 1970 was introduced in the Senate of the United States by Sen. Alan Bible, chairman, select committee on small business.

Among provisions are: 1. Extension of the low rate of 22 per cent from its present maximum of $25,000 to a new level of $500,000. (Canada's White Paper proposes elimination of our 21 per cent low rate altogether, and taxing all company profits at 50 per cent.)

2. A five-year tax holiday to any new business. 3. Appointment of a tax analyst in the U.S. treasury department to look at taxation "from the point of view of the small businessman and the free enterprise system, rather than the government's interest in raising revenue."

These and other provisions illustrate the completely opposite viewpoint on company taxation between the two countries.

In Canada, the finance department proposes taking more tax money from businesses, in the United States, they talk of lower taxes and more opportunities to compete and succeed.

Because of the large number of subsidiary companies in Canada, any tax advantage being enjoyed by the U.S. parent would also result in large artificial transfers of earnings from Canada to the U.S. where it would be taxed at a lower rate.

Mr. Benson has promised some measure of assistance to small businesses when the Canadian tax rate goes up to 50 per cent.

But in the light of U.S. proposals, this is surely not the time to be making changes to the structure of corporation taxes in Canada.

For better or worse, Canadian businesses operate against international competitors. If placed at a serious disadvantage, their departure to a better tax climate becomes not only possible but inevitable.

Wales Home resident feted on birthday

RICHMOND — Mrs. Gray was pleasantly surprised on her birthday when her sister, her daughter and son-in-law came to the Home to ask her and a friend to accompany them to Sherbrooke, for a supper treat, continuing on to her daughter's home where a jolly crowd had gathered to help make her birthday one to remember.

The presentation of many gifts was next with Mrs. Hadenko helping her mother open them.

Mrs. Gray thanked all for the gifts, her daughter for sponsoring the party, and everyone for the many good wishes.

The following evening friends at Wales Home feted Mrs. Gray, gathering for 500 and refreshments and wishing her the best in following years.

Five hundred was played at five tables, Mrs. Decoteau winning the high score for ladies, Mr. Hatch for the men, both receiving suitable prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Hadenko served refreshments, Mrs. Gray at the head of a long table, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray were seated on either side of their mother who cut and served an attractively decorated birthday cake on which were 88 lighted candles.

Retirement dinner held for Butterfield office workers

BOUNDARY — Miss Mildred Blake and Mrs. Jeanne McMullen, who both retired from the Butterfield offices on August 31, were on the evening of Sept. 2, guests of honor at a dinner party, given by their co-workers, and held at the Legion Memorial Home at Stanstead.

Arrangements of multicolored gladioli were used to decorate. Seated with Miss Blake and Mrs. McMullen at the head table were Mrs. Gordon McIntyre, Miss Beulah Stevenson and Mrs. Walter Campbell. The two guests of honor were each presented with corsages of red roses, made by Mrs. Stanley Miller.

The Legion Auxiliary served a family style turkey dinner. Joseph Maheux, president of the Quarter Century Club came and presented the Quarter Century membership and pin to Mrs. McMullen. Miss Blake is a member of the Club for the past few years. The couple also were the recipient of gifts from the co-workers.

Among those who attended the dinner party were former employees, some retired and others who had resigned over the years. It was a pleasant get-together in the lounge of the Memorial Home.

Mr. Maheux also presented retirement cheques from the Quarter Century club to Miss Blake and to Ernest Nason, who also retired on August 31.

Miss Blake first joined the Company in January 1942 and was always in the order department. Mrs. McMullen has had 40 years of service with the Company and Ernest Nason has had 44 years of service.

Grid Gaiters' movies pleasant surprise

LENNOXVILLE (SA) — What the coaches found instead were some highly encouraging individual performances which had not been apparent Saturday when the overall impression was comparative chaos. Given a chance to monitor isolated individuals in the scrimmage movies, the team's general staff was afforded some treats which lead them to believe they will have something to show local football fans.

"There are a lot of them with good raw material who just need to pick up experience and confidence to be really good college ball players," reports coach Grazys.

The other sudden developments occurred when students arrived this week to register for the academic year.

Some half-dozen or so of them dropped into the athletic offices and indicated they'd like to join Gaiter football practices. Never ones to turn prospects away sight-unseen, the coaches told them to suit up.

"They'll all be given a chance," says Grazys.

One who expected to stick with the team is Jim Wright, a defensive lineman who has acquitted himself well.

He'll be with the club in Fredericton, N.B., Saturday to face the University of New Brunswick in an exhibition contest. The Gaiters will leave by bus Friday morning for arrival in the New Brunswick capital in time for an afternoon workout.

Ti-cats dig holes in vaunted Calgary defence

By IAN MacLAINE HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats, capitalizing on an outstanding game from their defensive unit, romped to a 39-18 victory over Calgary Stampeders Wednesday night in a Canadian Football League interlocking game before 21,100 fans.

Tommy Joe Coffey, the leading scorer in the EFC with 53 points going into the game, added eight more with five converts and a field goal. Quarterback Joe Zuger's 65-yard single completed the Hamilton scoring. Herm Harrison and Dave Cranmer scored six-pointers for Calgary. Larry Robinson added six points, converting both touchdowns and adding a field goal and single.

Calgary, tied with British Columbia Lions for second spot in the Western Conference, came to Hamilton with the best defensive record in the CFL and was the favorite.

Beavers ready for Nats after clobbering Cornwall

By SCOTT ABBOTT

SHERBROOKE — Sherbrooke Beavers returned home from their highly successful trip to Cornwall yesterday evening but will be back on the road tonight.

The local club will travel to Rosemount for an exhibition contest against the Nationals, visitors to Sherbrooke last Friday night. The Beavers dropped that decision 9-3, but if Tuesday's showing in Cornwall is any indication, the Nats may not have as easy a time of it this evening.

Tuesday's visit to Cornwall paid off handsomely as the Sherbrooke forces ran up a 14-5 victory.

Flashy Gilbert Smith turned in a hat trick, while Normand Dube, Jean-Claude Landry and Michel Lefebvre all contributed two markers. Claude Rancourt, Rejean Beaudoin, Gaston Boulanger, Gerald Lecompte and Yvon Cloutier scored once each.

Beaudoin has shown Lou Poliquin enough in the exhibition season to land himself a Beaver contract. The former Lake Megantic Royal becomes the eighth player signed by the team.

Beaudoin led the Royals in scoring in 1969-70, racking up 29 goals and 36 assists in 39 games.

That record was good for fourth place among scorers in the Eastern Townships Junior "B" Hockey League. The 5-11 185-pound Beaudoin continued to produce in the playoffs, accumulating eight goals and 11 assists in only 10 games while leading the club to the playoff title.

In five games with last year's Beavers, Beaudoin counted two goals and picked up one assist.

The native of St. Samuel is enthusiastic about the Sherbrooke club's attitude this year.

"This isn't at all like the team last season," says the 19-year-old.

Montreal's cellarellas squeeze out former champs in 4-2 win

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal Expos handed Tom Seaver his seventh loss in his last nine games by defeating New York Mets 4-2 Wednesday night.

Montreal grabbed a 3-0 lead in the third inning on a walk to John Bateman, an error by Donn Clendenon on Bobby Wine's bunt, run-scoring singles by Marv Staehle and Jim Gosger and a wild pitch by Seaver.

Art Shamsky's two-out homer in the fourth gave the Mets their first run but the Expos got that back in the bottom of the sixth on a run-scoring single by John Bateman to grab a 4-1 lead.

Shamsky's second homer of the game and his 11th of the season brought the Mets to within two runs again, but Steve Renko held them off the rest of the way. Renko, 12-10, scattered five hits, walked none and struck out two.

The Purebred Arabian garnering the most points in the breeding and performance division will be awarded the Challenge Trophy.

Help your Nat'l skiers

SHERBROOKE (SA) — Skiing enthusiasts are advised that contributions can be made to the National Ski Team Fund at any office of The Royal Trust Company. Objective of the Fund's campaign for public donations is $185,000. The money will subsidize the training and transportation of the National Team for competition in alpine, cross-country and jumping events. Public support of the Canadian Ski Association's drive is vital if financial woes are not to plague the Team as in the past.

THE AGE OF MERCURY STARTS TODAY

Better ideas make better cars MERCURY Getting better all the time

For 1971, the name of Mercury means more than ever before. More choice because Mercury has added a sensational new little car, Comet, to a line that ranges up to the big, luxurious Marquis. More better ideas in action. And more value—because at Mercury, every car we build must live up to the Lincoln Continental tradition.

Introducing the all new Mercury Comet The little car with better ideas.

There's never been a car quite like Comet. It handles and parks like a little car. It's priced like a little car. Gas mileage rivals the imports and it's simple to maintain. But Mercury Comet allows you to choose between a 2-door model and a four door model. Between three frugal Sixes and a performance-proven V-8.

Mercury Comet 4-door sedan

Marquis'71

Canada's most luxurious medium-priced car
was never so easy to own.

A dramatic new look for Marquis and an entirely new model priced to bring the luxury of Marquis within easier reach. The luxury of a car that is the only one in this class styled in the Lincoln Continental tradition. With a ride only the world's great luxury cars can match. 3-speed Select-Shift automatic, power steering and a quiet-running, powerful V-8 engine are among the many features that are standard on Marquis—but cost extra on lesser cars.

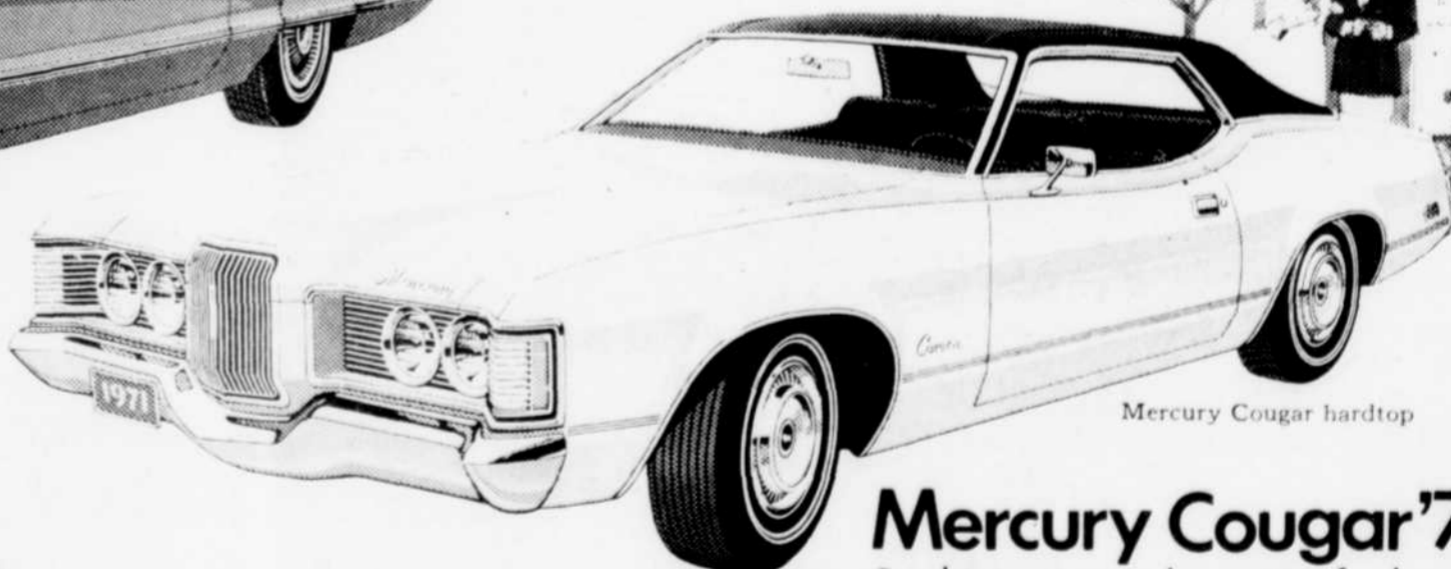

Marquis Brougham 4-door hardtop

Mercury Meteor'71

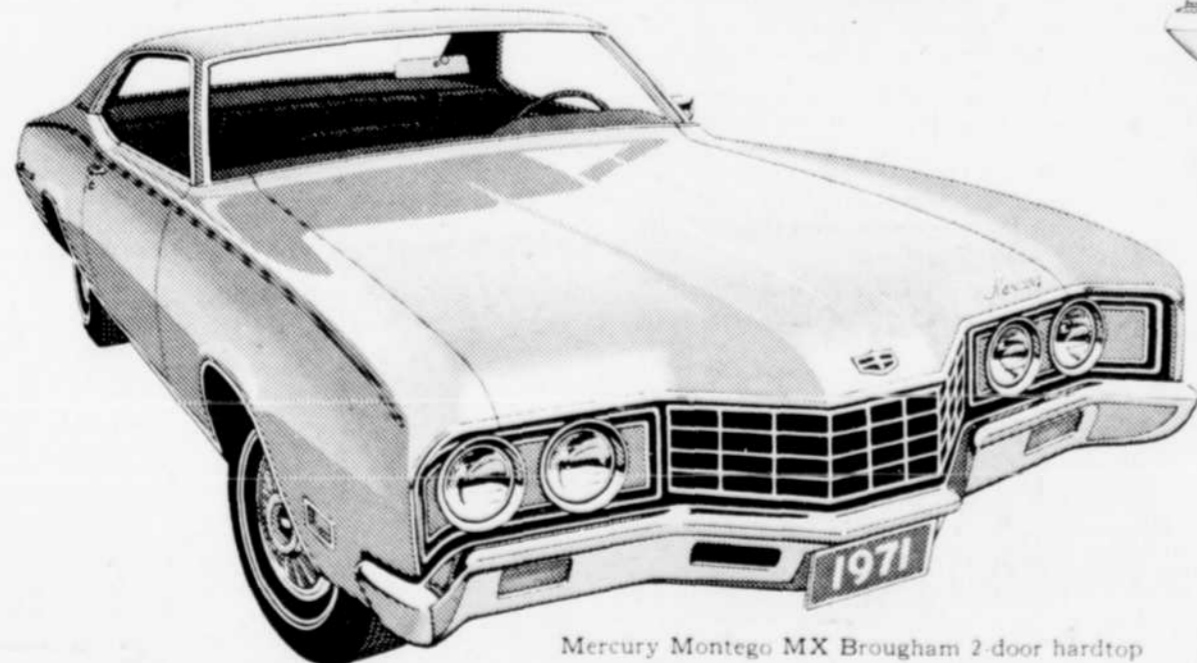

Your money gets you more.
Costs a little over 3...but well under 4..

The 1971 Mercury Meteor is completely re-styled to give you more beauty and more riding comfort than ever before. Superbly appointed interiors—designed to give generous head, leg and shoulder room and insulated so the ride is as quiet as it is smooth. Standard features on the models priced in the popular 3 to 4 thousand dollar range include upper-level power ventilation, steel guard rails in every door and a husky V-8 engine.

Mercury Meteor 2-door hardtop

Mercury Cougar hardtop

Mercury Montego MX Brougham 2-door hardtop

Mercury Montego'71

not out of your budget.

A great new way to put some sunshine in your life—at a price within reach of most budgets. You'll like Montego's sporty styling. You'll enjoy Montego's handy size; a foot or so shorter than big cars. You'll appreciate the quiet, relaxed comfort of Montego's hi-styled interiors; the smoothness of the ride, the economy of the sturdy 250 cu. in. 6-cyl. engine. Or you can personalize Montego with options that include a 429 four-barrel V-8, power steering, Whisper-Aire conditioning and many more.

Mercury Cougar'71

Sophistication with a spirit of adventure.

All new for 1971, Mercury Cougar is a very personal luxury car for people with a taste for action. The ride is satin-smooth and whisper quiet. The longer, lower, wider body helps provide the handling ease of a sports car. A 351 cu. in. V-8, bucket seats, floor-mounted stick are just a few of the standard features.

Pat & Bob's team win playoffs

MAGOG (Special) — The South-Shore Softball League ended its season last Sunday, when the Pat & Bob's team clinched the playoffs, by winning three straight out of 5 scheduled games, to take the playoff title. They downed the Magog Dry Cleaners, who ousted the Pomereau Texaco team earlier. The season champions, Chateau du Lac were earlier defeated by the Pat & Bob's squad. Sunday's game was 12 to 6 for the victors.

Plans are in the making for an end-of-season party with awarding of trophies, then a special organization meeting for the 1971 season will follow.

Pat & Bob's will represent the South Shore in an intercity competition soon, when the community's top teams of 3 leagues will take part. Albert Noel, President of the South Shore League said he has lots of confidence in his play off champions. Games should start beginning of early October.

In a Monday evening softball game at the Park de l'Est, Magog "All Stars" women's team, defeated the Bromontville girls 11 to 10 in a hard fought competition.

SIX TELEVISIONS WERE WON Sunday in the Georges Lussier Labatt sponsored golf tournament held at the Mt. Orford golf links. Seen left to right are: Doug McEwen, best of the day; M. Rheame; A. Lamoureux; Georges Lussier; L. Demers; R. Ethier; and Y. Monast. This competition has been described as the biggest tournament of 1970 in this region.

Canadian Ski Patrol busy recruiting for '71 season

MONTREAL — Responsible adult patrollers are the aim of the Canadian Ski Patrol System in 1970.

John Edwards, subbing for Charlie Brooks, head of the Eastern Townships Ski Patrol System, said at a recent press conference the 1970 recruiting program will aim at families, not individuals on the slopes this year.

"We feel we must have more than the free-loader looking for an inexpensive way to ski," he said.

Mr. Edwards said the Eastern Townships zone requires at least 180 patrollers for the upcoming season.

"It's not a question of merely weeding out the irresponsible types as much as an elimination of the free-loaders," he said.

There are few changes in the Eastern Townships this year: Harvey Catchpaw and Judy Lord are expected to head up the Orford operation; Glen Cathcart will be at Bromont; John Edwards at the Glen. Both Owl's Head and Echo are in limbo, or should be settled before long.

It is confirmed that the annual meeting of the CSPS will be held in the Eastern Townships at Le Baron Hotel in Sherbrooke next June.

Recruiting dates for the Eastern Townships zone will be announced shortly.

It was also mentioned that a new ski patrol room at Glen Mountain is being built, and in readiness for the beginning of skiing.

All those wishing to patrol at Orford and North Hatley joined last night by registering at the Princess Elizabeth Elementary School in Magog, where there is also enrollment tonight. This year there is a $7.00 enrollment deposit.

O'Keefe tournaments Sept. 20 & 27

MAGOG (Special) — The "George Trew Special" golf tournament will be held for the 4th consecutive year at the Mt. Orford Golf and Country Club on Sunday, Sept. 27th. Sponsored by Ernest Pouliot, the Magog and Granby O'Keefe agent, this is a pro and amateur best ball event, also with two sections of four man teams, which will also be best ball events. Deadline for entries is Sept. 22nd, addressed to George Trew, 69 Bullard Street, Magog.

This Sunday, September 20th, Ernest Pouliot will play host to members of the Liberal party and friends of Georges Vaillancourt, who'll be celebrating his tenth anniversary in politics. The celebration will be in form of a golf tournament, and should prove a most interesting day. The golf games will be followed by a banquet.
