Living Costs Up Again After 5-Month Decline

Thetford South

Truck Kills Mayor

THETFORD MINES — (Special) — Mayor Henri Rousseau, of South Thetford, was killed yesterday afternoon when he was crushed under a heavy dump truck.

Mr. Rousseau, who is also prefect of Megantic County, was working on the dumping mechanism of the truck in front of his home. The jack apparently slipped.

His wife discovered the accident after she heard a cry. She ran out from the house where she had been working and found her husband pinned between the chassis and the box of the truck.

Mrs. Rousseau tried to extricate him and then ran to a neighbor's for help. A doctor was called and Mr. Rousseau was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Thetford.

He was placed in an oxygen tent and given blood transfusion but died without regaining consciousness.

FAIR REPRESENTATIVE — Leon Loucin, General Director of the recent World Fair at Brussels, signed the city's Golden Book at a reception held at the City Hall yesterday. Budget Tax Hikes In Effect

OTTAWA (CP) — Living costs rose during April following a five-month decline, pushing the consumer price index up by one-fifth of a point to 125.6 on May 1 from 125.4 on April 1, the bureau of statistics reported today.

Some of the price boost reflected tax increases announced in Finance Minister Fleming's April 9 budget, the bureau said.

While some food prices dipped, prices rose for cigarettes, cigar tobacco, liquor, automobile tires, theatre admissions, men's haircuts, women's hairdressing, along with men's and women's footwear, fresh fruits and vegetables and costs of home ownership. Textiles and household supplies also were higher.

These offset declines for gasoline in Ontario where "price wars" had occurred in a number of cities, beef, coffee, eggs, sugar, lard, some pork cuts and coal.

WAGE FIGURES DOWN

Wage figures showed a downward tendency during March. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at April 1 — latest date for which figures are available — was 169.1, based on 1949 equalling 100. This was down from 170.2 on March 1 but up from 163.4 on April 1 last year.

Bureau officials said the occurrence of the Easter holidays during March was a factor in the decline. The index, computed from a survey of firms employing more than 15 persons and covering a wide range of industries, represents an average of total wages paid.

While living costs showed an increase during March, they still were below the all-time high set last Nov. 1 when the consumer price index moved up to 126.3. In the five months that followed the cost-of-living yardstick made a total drop of nine-tenths of a point. The bureau said the decline was mostly of a seasonal nature.

The various sub-groups that go into the consumer index showed these changes between April 1 and May 1: Food, down to 118.5 from 119.3; shelter which includes rents and home ownership costs, up to 141 from 140.5; clothing up to 109.7 from 109.6; household operations down to 122.5 from 122.6 and other commodities and services up to 134.9 from 133.7.

Wholesale prices showed mixed trends during May. The index for 30 industrial raw materials, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, dipped to 242.1 in the week ended April 24. However, the Canadian farm products index, also based on 1935-39 prices, rose in that period to 219.1 from 213.9.

Another Secret Meeting

Western Powers Keep Up Pressure On Reds To Abandon Berlin Threat

German Election Snag

GENEVA — (Reuters) — The Western powers are concerned about the effect on East-West negotiations of West German plans to elect a new federal president in West Berlin next month, sources at the foreign ministers conference said today.

A spokesman for the Christian Democratic party said in Bonn that members of the Bundestag (lower house) will be flown to Berlin to take part in the federal convention, starting July 1.

Konrad Adenauer, the outgoing West German chancellor, is regarded as a certain choice for the presidency.

Conference sources said the election plans were brought up at a meeting Wednesday of the British, American and French foreign ministers — attended by West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano.

UNDERMINE WEST'S CASE

The Western powers were understood to have said that holding the election in West Berlin would tend to undermine the GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers keep up their pressure on Russia today to abandon its threat to West Berlin and negotiate on a four-point Western proposal for the divided German city.

The Big Four foreign ministers scheduled another secret session this afternoon at French Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville's villa, with a dinner meeting to follow.

Western officials said they expected Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko would discuss individual points of the Allies' new proposal calling for continued stationing of Western forces in Berlin and a reduction in inflammatory propaganda and subversive activities there. But it also was expected Gromyko would try to reshape it or substitute his own plan for it.

The Western ministers put forward their formula for Berlin in Wednesday's secret session. Gromyko countered with a plan of his own along the line he laid down in a formal speech Tuesday demanding that the Western powers give up their occupation rights.

US Missile Production Cut Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise decision to continue both the Nike and Bomarc missile programs at a cut-back level was reported in the making today.

An influential congressional official said he has been informed that Defence Secretary Neil McElroy plans to recommend a go-ahead for both the Nike-Hercules and Bomarc missiles.

But he said the secretary is likely to propose to President Eisenhower a reduction in outlays for both missiles, since they represent air defence only against bombers at a time when chances of missile attacks are growing. This decision was expected to depend in part on the reports McElroy receives on progress toward obtaining the Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile.

MAIN POINTS

The West's formula carried these main points:

1. The right of the Western powers to maintain troops in West Berlin would be recognized and Russia in effect would pledge a policy of non-interference. This would cover access routes between Berlin and West Germany across East German territory.

Delinquents Enjoy The Life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Juvenile delinquents enjoy being juvenile delinquents, says a scout leader.

"It's very difficult to get them to give up juvenile delinquency once they've got started," Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, told a press conference.

"But if you have a constructive program, as we feel we have, you can keep the numbers down."

Orbit Attempt

Four Mice Didn't Make It

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Four black mice, blasted aloft in an attempt to return a living creature from a satellite, apparently didn't make it.

The U.S. Air Force wanted them to orbit the earth in a satellite, Discoverer III, for 26 hours, then parachute in their air-conditioned capsule.

The two-stage Thor missile roared into space Wednesday as scheduled and sent back radio signals for 13 minutes. Then the signals stopped. The air force said it has heard nothing since.

Six hours after the firing the ballistic missile division said: "Based on information... available it is believed that the Discoverer did not achieve an orbit."

The 78-foot-long projectile was presumed to have burned up on re-entering the atmosphere.

The mice, pick of their breed, would have been the first creatures retrieved alive from orbit. Two monkeys were fired into space from Cape Canaveral by the army May 28 but their trip covered only 1,500 miles. They were not intended to go into orbit.

At blastoff the mice underwent an acceleration force seven or eight times that of gravity. This was nothing new to them—they had trained for the flight in test chambers simulating the severe stresses to which they would be exposed.

No New Deal For Towns

NORTH BAY, Ont. (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities ended its annual convention Wednesday night with no apparent progress towards one of its major goals — a better financial deal from senior levels of government.

Delegates were generally satisfied with their other accomplishments as they started home but several were brooding about Prime Minister Diefenbaker's speech Tuesday night.

Mr. Diefenbaker told the 500 delegates his government has committed itself as far as it can go for the present. He cut short any possibility of a federal-provincial-municipal meeting in the near future, something described as a must by Mayor H. G. R. Mews of St. John's, Nfld., the outgoing president.

Mayor Robert M. Simpson of Arnprior, Ont., elected president Wednesday, said he is "firmly of the opinion that the senior governments will have to contribute more because present municipal tax sources can't bear the load they carry now."

But delegates decided against renewing their bid for a tri-level meeting and for a realignment of taxation power.

Mayor Simpson said that while municipalities had been relieved of the burden of social services, they still have to pay most of the cost of education, which rose in per capita cost to $31.94 in 1956 from $10.45 in 1947.

Delegates were told municipalities should do their borrowing now because money will continue to be tight for some time.

Walter J. McCarthy of Montreal, assistant treasurer of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, said Canada's business outlook shows "that a return to easier credit conditions is unlikely to occur soon."

Mayor Edward Wilson of Verdun, Que., was re-elected honorary treasurer.

The federation announced its convention next year will be held May 11-15 in conjunction with the annual convention of the United States conference of mayors.

Riots Continue

Ecuador Blames The Reds

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Machine-gun fire crackled through this big port city into the early hours today, with troops chasing looters after two nights of rioting blamed by the government on Communists.

Civilians fought army forces in the streets again Wednesday night and set fire to a security-police building before the crowd of 10,000 was dispersed. The renewed rioting grew out of the funeral services of six of eight persons killed in clashes between troops and civilians Tuesday night.

Military authorities ordered a 10 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew for the city of 275,000, Ecuador's largest. President Camilo Ponce earlier had proclaimed martial law throughout the predominantly Indian nation "to save the republic from anarchy and aggression."

The Communist party openly challenged the martial-law decree and appealed for "a great front of popular and democratic unity to prevent dictatorship."

Jet Planes Buzz American Airliner

TOKYO (AP) — Jet planes, believed to be Russians, made three observation approaches on an American airliner over the North Pacific today more than 200 miles off Soviet territory, Northwest Airlines reported.

The U. S. Air Force said it had no planes in the area at the time, prompting speculation that Soviet fighters had approached the Seattle-to-Tokyo Northwest DC-7C.

Union Probed

ELLIOT LAKE, Ont. (CP) — Appointment of a special four-man union fact-finding committee to examine and report on statements about previous financial dealings of Local 598 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) was announced Wednesday. Nels Thibault, national president of the union, said the committee will also examine allegations involving the union's national executive board.

PM Stalling On Meeting Says Martin

OTTAWA (CP) — Paul Martin says Prime Minister Diefenbaker is stalling to help Premier Frost's Progressive Conservative government through next week's provincial election and at the same time provide an excuse for ditching an election promise.

The Liberal MP from Essex East was referring to a July 6 conference here of provincial finance ministers. Finance Minister Fleming and senior civil servants on federal-provincial fiscal relations.

The meeting, he said, will decide nothing because all that remains to be decided is a formula for payments by the federal government to the provinces for sole federal use of direct taxation fields. That sort of decision can be made only by the cabinet.

Mr. Martin spoke during debate on a federal proposal to continue for another year the current tax-rental agreement under which the provinces receive 13 per cent of personal income tax collections, nine per cent of corporation income tax revenue and 50 per cent of succession duties.

Union Leaders Complain

Anti-Labor Campaign In Canada

TORONTO (CP) — Leaders of the nation's biggest single union today sounded separate warnings of a "growing" anti-labor, anti-union trend in Canada.

The speakers — top directors of the 83,000-member United Steelworkers of America (USWA) — expressed alarm in opening reports to the union's national policy conference here.

"We are meeting this year in an atmosphere influenced by a constant barrage of anti-labor propaganda," William Mahoney, USWA national director, told some 300 local union leaders at the conference.

"The line of attack stretches from the fog-bound domain of Joey Smallwood to the balmy shores of Bennett's British Columbia," added Larry Sefton, USWA chief of 317 local unions from Ontario to the west coast. They pointed to Premier Joseph Smallwood's intervention in the Newfoundland loggers strike and to B.C. legislation backed by Premier W. A. C. Bennett that makes unions legal entities open to court actions.

Both Mr. Mahoney and Mr. Sefton pressed for full USWA backing for current efforts by the CCF and the Canadian Labor Congress to create a socialist worker-farmer political party.

Adding that the federal government should hang its head in shame over the Newfoundland "mockery" of democracy, Mr. Mahoney advised Labor Minister Starr to "hesitate to accept" the presidency of a Geneva general assembly of the International organization later this year — an honorary job Mr. Starr is expected to get.

Mr. Sefton and another keynote speaker, James Nicholson of Sydney, N.S., pinpointed unemployment as a major economic problem this year. Mr. Nicholson is USWA director for Quebec and the Maritimes.

BLAMES AUTOMATION

"It seems chronic unemployment due to automation and technological improvements is here to stay unless governments at all levels combine their resources and planning in a serious bid to end this blot on our economy," said Mr. Sefton.

He said USWA membership in his five-province district reflected the jobless situation, dropping 7,000 members between 1957 and 1958. The union has about 51,000 members in his area.

Mr. Nicholson said the job picture in Nova Scotia is "quite gloomy" but added that co-operation with the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council may lead to new work opportunities.

He also told of new efforts to organize workers along the lower St. Lawrence River "where a new mining and industrial empire is being built... in scattered islands of population where large-scale industry has hitherto been largely unknown."

Canada's Heart Bill $200 Million A Year

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada pays a $200,000,000 doctor bill every year because of heart disease.

In addition, the country pays with a "terrible death toll" resulting in an inestimable loss to its economy and future, says Alex B. Hill of Toronto, president of the National Heart Foundation.

PLOT UNCOVERED

The army general staff said in a communique it had proof of a "dangerous subversive plot that may threaten the very existence of the Ecuadorian nation."

It named subversive elements, "some of them in the service of foreign interests."

Ecuador has a long history of turbulence. The latest outbreak grew out of a brief mutiny by 90 army conscripts last Friday in Porto Viejo, a provincial capital near the Pacific coast 80 miles north of Guayaquil.

Civilians joined the conspirators in lynching their commanding officer, blamed for the suicide of one of the soldiers. During the fighting that followed two students were killed.

President Ponce said one aim of the Reds is to force the cancellation or postponement of the 11th inter-American foreign ministers conference, to be held in Quito next February.

this cause. Forty per cent of all deaths of men between 35 and 54 is from heart disease."

He said the foundation, meeting all this week with heart specialists of the Canadian Heart Association, "faces a huge challenge" in its fund-raising efforts in the fight against heart disease.

Grants-in-aid offered by the foundation are at present supporting 95 research workers in 48 different locations in Canada, Mr. Hill said. Nineteen full-time research workers were fully supported through fellowships.

SUPPORT RESEARCH

A total of $560,760 has been committed in the academic year 1959-60 to the support of research by scientists working at universities.

But research efforts "are prejudiced by lack of assured continuity of financial support," Mr. Hill said.

Many potential Canadian heart researchers were being lost to other pursuits and other countries because of lack of funds required to provide security of tenure at a reasonable salary.

Mr. Hill said a minimum of 30 additional full-time researchers are required by the foundation. The cost would be $1,000,000.

10 Families Flee Fire In Quebec

QUEBEC (CP) — Ten families groped through smoke-choked hallways to safety early today when fire razed a women's clothing store below their dwellings and damaged two other commercial establishments in the lower-town district.

One minor casualty was reported. An unidentified man was taken to hospital with cuts suffered when he broke a window to escape.

All other occupants of the second and third-floor flats fled downstairs without incident, wearing nightclothes and some carrying a few possessions.

Cause of the outbreak was not immediately known and there was no estimate of loss available.

Late Bulletin

OTTAWA (CP) — Howard Green, 63-year-old Vancouver lawyer, today was sworn in as external affairs minister. Mr. Green, who has been federal public works minister since June, 1957, will retain that portfolio on an acting basis until his departmental estimates for 1959-60 have been passed through the Commons.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's refreshing to come across a riches-to-riches story.

Consider the success saga of George Hamilton, a rangy member of Palm Beach society who came here with polo mallet and 20 suits of clothes, including three formal. In just a year, he is well on his way to starring ranks and has bought his first Rolls Royce.

George is a dark, likable lad who talks with the ease of one who has never known want. Born in Memphis, Tenn., he has lived most of his 19 years in New York and Palm Beach with stops in 25 different schools.

The last was Palm Beach High School, and that's where he won "best actor" honors in a dramatic competition.

"I think I won because I was the only one who didn't have a southern accent," he grinned. "Anyway, it encouraged me. I guess I had always wanted to be an actor, but I had the idea it would take years of training. I couldn't see taking acting lessons for as long as it would take to become a doctor or lawyer."

WENT WITH HIGH HOPES
With high hopes, he went to New York and was introduced to MGM executives.

George decided to assault Hollywood. Despite his moneyed background, he came here on his own.

"I arrived with $90 in my pocket," he said. "I vowed I would take no help from my family. And by the end of my first two months, I had $1,700 in the bank."

George hit it rich with an artistic little picture called Crime and Punishment, U.S.A.

MGM tabbed him as a comer and signed him to a contract.

He still doesn't want to take dramatic lessons.

"If it doesn't come easily to me, it isn't right," he said of his acting. So far it has come easily.

Sunshine Record

Past Month Proved Brightest Of Mays

The highest total amount of sunshine ever registered during a May month for the past 45 years was recorded last month by the experimental farm in Lennoxville.

May 1959 produced a total of 268.1 hours of sunshine compared with 223.6 hours last year and an average of the 45-year span of 202.8 hours.

The highest temperature for one day during the month, though it did not quite reach the 1932 high of 89 degrees, managed to bring the average well above the figure for May 1958 and the 45-year average.

The weather on the whole pointed to a warmer month of May than has been usual: average temperature of 56.91 degrees against 50.76 last year and a 45-year average of 52.05 degrees. The low point to which the mercury fell was 24 degrees on May 9 compared with the all-time low of 19 degrees on May 18, 1924.

The darkest year over the tested span occurred in 1945 when only 114 hours of sunshine appeared, coupled with which the rainfall of 6.69 inches made that month of May a truly dreary time.

Rainfall last month did not come close to that figure with only 2.19 inches of rain, but the previous May proved even drier—1.17 inches.

The highest one-day fall of rain during the month occurred on May 21 when 0.61 inches fell, slightly less than the lowest monthly rainfall over the 45-year period of 1921 with just 0.74 inches in 1921.

May 1945 again proves the toughest on record with a grand one-day deluge of 2.04 inches, only a fraction of an inch below the total fall for the entire 31 days of May 1959.

Montreal Favorable Site For International Fair

The City of Montreal has great advantages which would favor a world's fair in 1967, said Leon Loncin, general director of Belgium's fairs and expositions.

According to Mr. Loncin, such a fair needs a great amount of capital and long preparations.

"If Canada wants such a fair for 1967" added Mr. Loncin, "it should make its demands right away, before other countries do."

In requesting that the fair be held in Canada, he added, the names of those that will take charge of the fair should be mentioned, the theme, aims of the exposition and of the population the fair is likely to draw so that the international exposition bureau will be able to study the chances of such an undertaking.

As far as Montreal is concerned, said Mr. Loncin, its population is more than Brussels was when it hosted the last World's Fair, although Brussels had a better geographical position, because it is situated between vast industrial towns between France and Germany.

He said that at the Brussels World's Fair, over 50 countries had participated in a theme entitled "For a Better and more Human World."

Mr. Loncin made these statements following a visit to the City Hall, where he was greeted by Industrial Committee Chairman Paul Gervais, who was representing the mayor; Andre LeDuc, Chamber of Commerce municipal and industrial affairs representative; Emile Levesque, past president of the ETAA, and Pierre Bachand, city treasurer.

Customs, Excise Collections In May Declined

Revenues collected at the port of Sherbrooke during the month of May 1959 by the Department of National Revenue, Customs and Excise Branch, were slightly lower than the figures for the same month in 1958. L. W. Greenland, collector-in-charge, reported today.

However, the total for the first two months of the 1959 fiscal year show a considerable increase over that of 1958.

Figures show a May decrease in revenue of $11,348.43 while the two month figure shows an increase of $92,736.67.

For last month, the following are the official revenue figures: Customs Import Duty: 1958, $46,465.01; 1959, $46,900.28; Excise Taxes: 1958, $179,347.44; 1959, $167,700.42; Excise Duty: 1958, $111.38; 1959, nil; Sundry Collections: 1958, $66.00; 1959, $40.70. Totals: 1958, $225,969.83; 1959, $214,641.40.

Total for two months ending May 31, 1958: $471,720.02; totals for two months ending May 31, 1959: $564,456.69.

Rescued were Pierre Laroche, 18, and Hughes Brunel, 19, both of Sherbrooke.

Members of the Sherbrooke fire department were called out in case artificial respiration was needed, but both the boys were dragged unharmed from the water.

Committee To Study New Dam

NORTH HATLEY — At a special meeting of the Mississippi Fish and Game Club, attended by the mayors of the five municipalities of North Hatley, Katevale, Ayer's Cliff, West Hatley (Massawippi), and the Township of Hatley, a committee was formed to negotiate the construction of a new dam on the Massawippi river. The committee comprises Clifford Reed, North Hatley, chairman; E. Gauthier, Katevale; George Mosher, Ayer's Cliff; John Jenkins Township of Hatley; Ken Little, West Hatley; A. C. Stafford, Fish and Game Club; G. T. Miltimore, Southern Canada Power, and John Fox, Q.C.R.

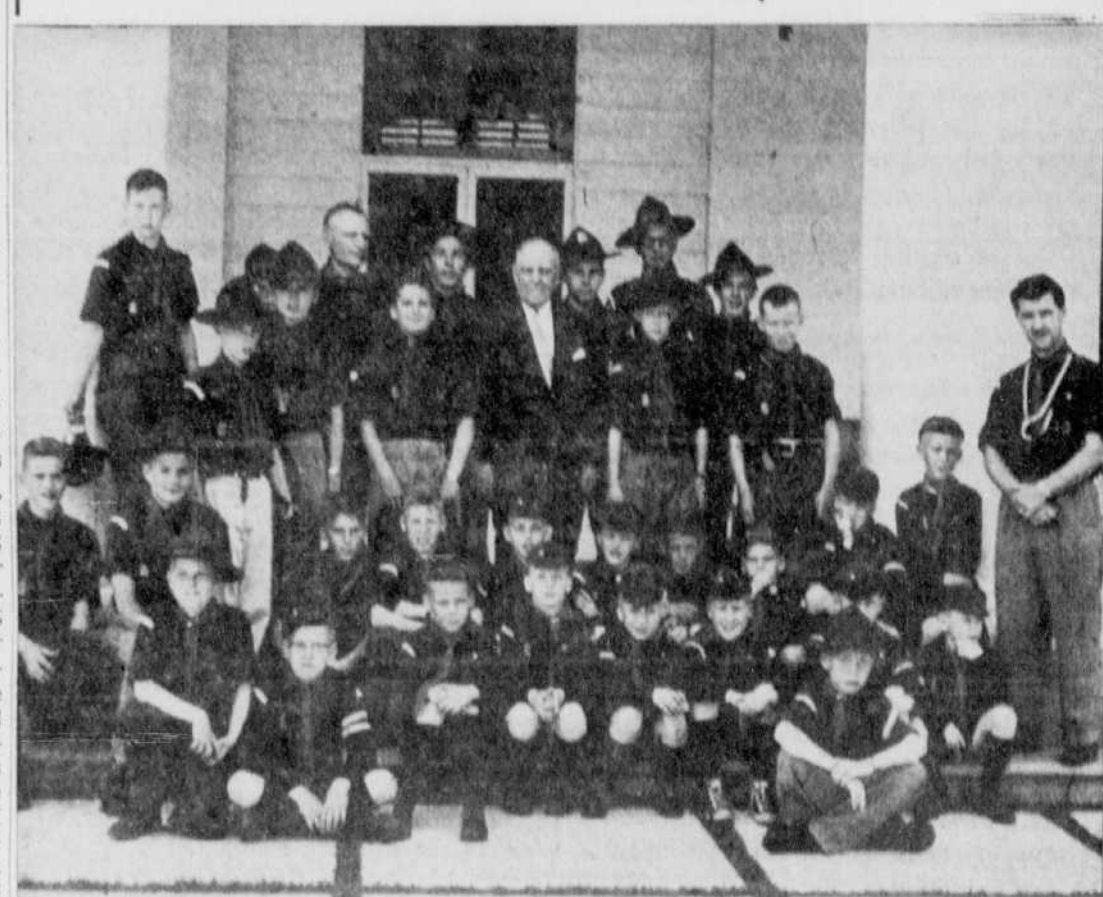

Mayor Reed stated that the provincial government has agreed to build the dam, but not on leased property. The S.C.P. appears willing to sell their share of the property for a nominal price of $100 but the spokesman for the Q.C.R., John Fox declared that the plans for the dam would have to be approved by his company before they would sell their land. A set of plans has already been drawn up by the S.C.P. and approved by the Q.C.R., but there is still no certainty that these plans would be adhered to by the government. Mr. Fox continued by saying that the main concern of the Q.C.R. was for the water level, and that a maximum water mark should be established and not exceeded. This could be done if sluicing gates were built. Mr. Fox added that his company had already spent $100,000 on reconstructing washed out roadbeds caused by flooding.

Mayor Reed said he had sent a representative to Montreal to discuss matters with the C.P.R.

Mr. Stafford, representing the Fish and Game Club, stated that his club wished to stock the lake with trout, but that this would not be feasible until a screen had been constructed in front of the proposed dam.

Another meeting will be held shortly.

Helping The Volunteer

Several cases of volunteer fire fighters in the United States setting fires in order to "have something to do" have been reported recently.

Although we have not heard of any such cases in this area, the report does indicate a basic weakness inherent in any volunteer fire fighting group, no matter how efficient or zealous it may be.

To a professional fireman, of course, there is no "thrill" in fighting a blaze; there is instead, the ever-present spectre of death or disablement. Most volunteers, it is safe to say, have the same attitude. The volunteers are men of great public spirit to whom their community is greatly indebted, even though many are comparative youths. They are drawn to this activity largely by devotion to public service, though some may also yearn for a little excitement.

Most of the communities in the Eastern Townships have volunteer fire brigades. In small villages and towns, there is no other feasible way to provide for any sort of fire protection.

There are vast differences between the skills of professionals and volunteers and there is a great deal more to fighting a fire than pouring water on the flames until they are out.

Fortunately, in this area, the volunteer brigades are constantly being given the advice of the professionals, in this case the Sherbrooke department, which puts on frequent demonstrations of technique and equipment. In this way, the enthusiasm and spirit of the volunteer is tempered with the know-how of the professional.

But there remains a strong case for more communities employing professional firefighters. It costs money and for many communities would be impossible for that reason. But the larger communities would be well advised to support their brigades with professional leadership which is not simply an overworked extension of the police department.

As the magazine International Fire Fighter points out, the slight increase of taxes necessary to pay for the professional would be more than made up in lowered fire risk insurance rates, and much less damage when a fire does occur.

Singapore On Its Own

Another former British colony has embarked on home rule, with the new government of Singapore being formed by the left-wing People's Action Party led by Lee Kuan Yew. Mr. Lee, virtually unknown to the outside world until last week, thus becomes the focal point of another experiment in which the ideas of East and West clash head-on.

The new premier is British-educated. But like many others who have received their formal education in the United Kingdom, his views have been shaped by his colonial background more than by his Western teachers. He campaigned on an anti-colonial platform, stressing social welfare for the underprivileged of the tiny colony.

The People's Action Party is nearly 50 per cent Communist but Mr. Lee claims that he will not be dominated by them. Yet he has demanded the release of party members jailed as subversives by the British. The Chinese form the majority of the population and it is inevitable that Red China, the dominant force in Asia today, will exert great influence on the future course of Singapore.

Mr. Lee wants union with Malaya, another former colony with an anti-Communist government. Singapore has little economic future except as the commercial port of Malaya but Malaya, with problems of its own and a delicate population balance, is not anxious to inherit nearly a million Chinese and more Communists. It has been fighting Reds in the jungle for years.

The future of British military establishments remains in doubt, although Britain has retained control of foreign affairs and defense in Singapore. Experience has shown, however, that if the local government and populace becomes hostile, the "foreigners" days are numbered.

Mr. Lee has his work cut out to keep Singapore on its feet economically and his Communist supporters will be no help in bringing stability.

A Good Idea

Twelve years ago, Miss Marion Richards, now 64, of Norristown, Pennsylvania, decided she was tired of chipping in for office bridal and baby showers, and never getting a party in her honor.

She spoke up for the world's spinsters, saying she was proud of her status. She got her own little office party going, and the idea has spread beyond the borders of her own country. So today is known in the United States, at least, as Old Maid's Day.

It is not a lonely hearts club, but a day honoring those who perform a vital function in society. "More often than not," Miss Richards explains, "it is the old maid of the family who cares for aged parents, ailing relatives, and helps send a niece or nephew through college."

There have been less sound ideals behind much less worthy "days."

Letter To The Editor

The Editor,
The Sherbrooke Daily Record,
Dear Sir:

Congratulations to parties responsible in Magog, on their decision to let "who" wear "what" one wants to, and also on the two very fine letters appearing in your paper recently, regarding the same situation in Sherbrooke, namely, shorts. When I was a girl shorts were only a meal that we fed to the animals on the farm, along with ground oats, etc.; but today they are a part of every wardrobe, and should be considered as such.

I haven't seen very many eyes turn away when the female sex came into view, wearing very daintily low-cut evening dresses. Some people prefer the low-cuts, (and Heaven only knows what keeps them up in place!) and others prefer the pants, shorts, Bermudas—or what have you. Let them have them, wear them where they want to. Young minds are innocent until some old foggy instills ideas and motives.

Away back in the good old 20's, I fought for five years to be allowed to "bob" my hair—but when I won out it was worth it.

So stick to your shorts, folks, and wear them on your property and where you will.

This is a free country, or has been. Let's keep it so and not embarrass our summer visitors and tourists by looking at them as if they were objects from outer space when they appear in summer attire.

The fad for wearing shorts will probably fade away, but in the meantime, I am on your side for freedom to wear what I prefer when I choose to wear it. People had best concern themselves about items like the one where the Nootka was recalled from Saint John, N.B., and sent in haste where a Russian ship had been sighted only last week.

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA. — Memo to the Canadian electorate.

I beg to report that your Parliament has sat daily since Jan. 15, Saturdays and Sundays excepted, and excepting also a 12-day Easter recess, and has transacted a considerable amount of important national business.

Further, that a substantial amount of business still remains to be dealt with, so that the chances of winding up the parliamentary session by the July 1 target date grow dimmer daily.

Further, that in an effort to speed things along, the government has prevailed upon the Commons to sit three mornings a week, as well as five afternoons and four evenings, starting immediately.

And finally, that your Parliament seems to be heading into the same old shemoodle of other years. The kind of home stretch in which money is voted at a million-minute clip, and those who want to debate legislation fully are accused of unduly delaying the business of the House.

The government's flap to finish by July 1 is because prorogation of Parliament on that day would fit nicely into the Queen's timetable. She will be in the capital on Dominion Day.

If Parliament fails to finish its business by July 1, the next date the Queen would be free to prorogue Parliament is July 27, a Monday, which she is scheduled to spend free of engagements at Governor General Massey's home near Port Hope, Ont.

It would appear that the government is planning for this eventuality. Originally the Queen's stay at Port Hope was one day only—Sunday the 26th. Now a free Monday has been added. Moreover, the mounted troop of the RCMP, which has a busy summer schedule at fairs and exhibitions, is available in Ottawa on July 27 to provide a mounted escort for the Queen's drive to Parliament.

Of course, if opposition MPs "talk out" Prime Minister Diefenbaker's bid for a prorogation by the Queen, Governor General Massey should do very nicely. He's an old hand at it.

Few MPs are optimistic that Parliament can make it by July 1 even if the PM were to decide that action on a Bill of Rights should be postponed until next session.

This is contentious legislation, and won't be passed quickly. I think that if its postponement means making the July 1 deadline, it will be postponed. Otherwise it will be proceeded with, and in that case probably will be reserved for the royal signature, "Elizabeth RI," prior to a July 27 prorogation.

Even without this legislation so close to the PM's heart, Parliament still has a heavy enough agenda. There's a debate on the defence department estimates, covering most important questions of defence

Ontario, Quebec Exceptions

Canadian Crop Seeding Delayed

By NEVILLE NANKIVELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A rugged winter and a cold spring delayed crop seeding everywhere in Canada except in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

Despite the early setback, a Canadian Press cross-Canada survey shows that acreages will probably be about the same or slightly higher than last year. And crop prospects look fairly good in most areas.

Agricultural officials in British Columbia, where seeding was delayed several weeks because of a late cold snap, said 1959 is expected to be the biggest year in the province's general crop history.

Seeding advanced rapidly after initial delays. At the end of May it was nearly completed in most provinces and the green shoots of new crops showed above ground.

Crop growth, however, will be determined by what the weather does during the growing season. Good rainfalls now would be beneficial to most crops.

Wheat, Canada's main crop and a valuable source of export revenue, was originally expected to show an acreage increase of about eight per cent—based on farmer's plans at March 1.

The estimates will likely be reduced slightly due to the seeding delays. Final figures are not yet available.

Early estimates of wheat seeded on the Prairies were put at 22,038,000 acres. Last year nearly 20,200,000 acres were seeded and the value of the crop came to about $387,400,000—based on initial payments to farmers.

Other main Prairie crops are oats, barley, rye and flax. All except barley are expected to show slight acreage increases. Barley will probably be down about four or five per cent.

Special field crops such as rapeseed, mustard seed, sunflower seed and soybeans are all expected to show substantial acreage decreases.

Initial crop prospects appear good in Alberta and Manitoba but not so good in Saskatchewan where it has been abnormally dry since April 1 and subject to a lot of soil drifting. Rains are needed to bolster sub-soil moisture reserves.

Grain seeding was nearly complete in Saskatchewan and much of Alberta last week. Rains in Manitoba and parts of Alberta delayed operations and seeding was only 25 per cent complete in eastern Manitoba.

British Columbia has 1,100,000 acres under cultivation, about two-thirds of it in grass for grazing, hay and silage. Grain crops in the Peace River country are up five to 10 per cent over last year and the pea crop in the Creston area is expected to show a 20 per cent acreage increase.

In Ontario, where 1958 crops were valued at $320,082,000 and a tobacco crop at $90,432,000, seeding suffered little delay and last week was complete in the south. Forty per cent remained to be seeded in the north.

Ontario's winter wheat—600,000 acres seeded last fall—suffered badly because of an overload of ice followed by cool, dry weather. The ice smothered the grain and spring runoff came too late.

The weather was good for spring-sown crops though, because a heavy snow cover kept frost from penetrating too deeply and gave a good start to spring seeding.

Barley and spring wheat acreages show slight increases, helping offset winter-killed crops. Tomatoes are reduced due to heavy crops last year. Soybeans are down because of depressed prices and potatoes remain about the same.

Heavy snow also helped Quebec to get a good start on seeding and nearly all of the 5,200,000 acres to be sown had been completed last week. Pastures are reported in excellent condition and acreage of main crops this year is expected to be unchanged.

Quebec's crop value in 1958 was $160,765,000, down from the year before. Oats, mixed grains, potatoes, hay and fodder corn are the most important crops.

Seeding was delayed in the Maritimes due to a late spring, cold weather and deep frost which was still not out of the ground late in May.

Crops, mostly grain and potatoes, are expected to have the same acreage as last year. Seeding of the two crops started only a short time ago in Prince Edward Island where severe winter-

FARMERS NEEDED.

(St. John's (Nfld.) News.)

At the moment Newfoundland is producing barely 10 percent of its requirements of agricultural produce.

We should be able to produce 50 percent. And to the extent that we can bridge the gap between the present 10 percent and the prospective 50 percent, we shall be increasingly better off.

We shall be keeping money in the province that would otherwise go abroad. And more Newfoundlanders will find a decent living in their native land.

ONTARIO'S BLACK FLIES.

(Sudbury Star.)

Walter Henderson, member of Parliament for the northern British Columbia riding of Cariboo, claims the black flies in his constituency are the largest in the world.

The man must be boasting! We are equally certain that the biggest black flies live in Northern Ontario. Our black flies have caused escaped prisoners of war and prison escapees to surrender to the authorities. They have put strong men in hospital.

We venture to say that Northern Ontario black flies are not only the most ferocious but are also the most crafty when stalking their prey. Master safecrackers are pikers in comparison.

Dr. Alex. Nimmo Named Moderator By Presbyterians

TORONTO (CP) — Rev. Dr. Alexander Nimmo of Wingham, Ont., Wednesday night was elected on the first ballot as moderator of the 85th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Dr. Nimmo, nominated by Rev. Fred Miller of Beauharnois, Que., won over Dr. Agnew H. Johnston of Fort William, Ont., and Rev. Donald S. Jackson of Port Credit, Ont.

Like his predecessor, Rev. Dr. John McNab, the new moderator graduated from Presbyterian College, Montreal, in 1929, and was made an honorary doctor of divinity there in 1957.

The new moderator served with the RCAF during World War II, and was senior chaplain at the technical training school at St. Thomas for two years. He has been moderator of the synod of Hamilton and London, and is a member of the senate of Presbyterian College.

In 1927 Dr. Nimmo married Ethel May MacLean of Durham, N.S., their daughter Margaret is the wife of Rev. George Malcolm, Presbyterian missionary in Formosa. Their only son, Stewart, was killed in an automobile accident in Ontario's Muskoka area in 1954.

case they have presented to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. They have argued that Berlin is a separate entity from the federal republic and enjoys special status.

The Berlin situation now is the focal point of the foreign ministers conference and the Western powers fear that Russia might regard a move to hold presidential elections there July 1 as likely to increase tension, sources said.

But they added that latest indications from West German officials here were that this date might not be final.

The main idea of holding the election in West Berlin, apart from party political considerations, apparently was to show West Germany's solidarity with West Berliners whose city lies in the heart of East German territory.

The election of the present president, Theodor Heuss, for his second term took place in Berlin.

PM STALLING

Mr. Martin said Premier Frost has said he wants $115,000,000 more from the agreements on the basis of 15 per cent of personal income taxes, 15 per cent of corporation taxes and 50 per cent of succession duties. He said all provinces now favor this formula.

But with a provincial election in Ontario June 11, refusal of this demand would embarrass Mr. Frost. So a July 6 meeting was called.

Replying briefly in the few minutes before the Commons adjourned, Mr. Fleming said Mr. Martin's "flights of imagination were simply superb. . . . Substituting the padding from his remarks, they seemed to come

MP Blasts Social Credit In Quebec

OTTAWA (CP) — The Social Credit party and the Union des Electeurs movement in Quebec came in for some harsh words Wednesday from a CCF MP who said they will grow in influence so long as heavy federal borrowing of money continues.

Erhart Regier (CCF—Burnaby-Coquitlam) said in the Commons that Social Credit is the only political movement in Canada that advocates turning the printing press and producing "money for which there is no value."

He said that if Finance Minister Fleming pursues a course of heavy borrowing "those irresponsible advocates of monetary reform are going to grow in influence throughout Canada."

He said he regrets the growth of the Union des Electeurs movement in Quebec "where they are able to persuade municipalities after municipality that the minister should use the Bank of Canada to finance, without interest, all the capital needs of our municipal governments."

down to this—that the honorable member is a self-confessed imaginative citizen."

In their business, the Commons:

1. Granted the government interim money supply for two months of $634,617,069. Interim supply of $616,654,878 for the first two months of the fiscal year was approved earlier. The grants are made pending approval of spending estimates.

2. Gave final approval to the government's bill setting up a national energy board to regulate gas and electricity import, export and tolls and providing for similar regulation for oil if the cabinet so decides. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Demonstrate Handling Of Propane Gas

Proper handling of propane gas creates no more hazards than electricity, it was explained last night at a special demonstration in Camiand park by the city fire department in conjunction with the Quebec Propane Gas Company.

Tanks of gas were heated and recharged later while firemen hosed them down, simulating actual fires in which the tanks might be exposed to heat with a subsequent explosion.

Explanation of the handling of the gas was given by Chief Percy Donahue and Lt. Inspector L. P. Harton, in charge of fire prevention for the city.

Practical demonstrations of the extinguished propane gas blazes were given, using hoses equipped with "fog nozzles."

Beside the large crowd which gathered at the park to watch the demonstration many fire chiefs from the district attended with members of their departments. Also representing the city were Aldermen J. M. Jeanson, Antonio Pinard, Everett Nicol and Carl Camiand.

Miss Hebert opened the meeting with the recitation of the rosary for the intention of two members who are in hospital.

Care Of Under-Privileged Included In I.O.D.E. Welfare Work

REGINA (CP)—Summer camps and clothing for under-privileged children . . . reading material for servicemen . . . hymn books in large type for elderly people . . . equipment for institutions and playgrounds. . . . All this adds up to part of the services at home and abroad of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire.

Delegates to the order's annual convention today heard convener Mrs. R.C. Latimer of Toronto—review the work done by this department during 1958-59.

The order's 984 chapters across Canada spent $435,165 on services

—75 per cent of it in Canada and the remainder abroad.

Members tagging and canvassing for worthwhile causes sponsored by other organizations raised $100,963 to put a total of $536,128 on the department's books.

LARGEST ITEM

Clothing and bedding earmarked for such groups as the British Save the Children Fund and the British Sailors Society totalled $146,573, largest single item.

Furnishings for hospitals, country and senior citizens' homes accounted for some of the $73,199 spent on institutional services.

British Columbia has opened the first IODE guest home for elderly women, to be known as the IODE Emerson House, Mrs. Latimer said.

Other large expenditures were for food—Christmas hampers, hot lunches, cod liver oil and vitamin pills for school children, treats for the elderly and milk for babies at clinics—which totalled $43,306.

VARIETY OF AIDS

Under recreation, funds for swimming lessons, camps for underprivileged children and orphanage parties totalled $20,438. "Amenities", a general heading covering items such as pocket-book editions for servicemen overseas, handicraft materials and home permanents for patients in mental hospitals, cost $41,538.

Chapters spent $20,471 on services ranging from donations for costly heart operations, artificial limbs, dentures, eye glasses and hymn books in large print for the elderly.

The order's work in memory of the dead of two world wars cost $11,961. One Nova Scotia chapter spent $2,316 to erect a plaque and cairn at the Louisbourg National Historical Site commemorating the bicentenary of the siege of the Cape Breton town.

Knee-Length Girdles Latest Trend

Among the newest creations in foundation garments shown yesterday in the Mayfair Room of the New Sherbrooke Hotel, was the new pantie-girdle featuring the extra length in the legs. Made entirely of elastic and ending just above the knee, they give a perfect fit under popular leotards and tights.

Particular emphasis was placed on elastic in girdles and bras for added comfort and support.

Homemaking

Scouring the bottoms of skillets, pots and pans often leaves washcloths and towels in a greasy mess. The utensils will be cleaner and so will your washcloths if you use a paper towel and chlorine bleach cleanser on the pan and skillett bottoms.

Housewives who wipe up rusty rings left by cleanser cans will appreciate new bottoms on the items. These are of plastic and won't leave unsightly marks when left standing in the kitchen or bathroom where moisture gets to them.

Beauty Tips

Good health habits may not be the gang's way but for bright eyes, hair and skin and a lot of pep, take care of yourself. Complexion problems plague most teen-agers. Many irritate the situation by ignoring daily use of soap and water. They also stuff themselves with gooey desserts and not enough fresh fruits and vegetables.

AT YOUR DRUGGIST

Ruth Millett

Housework Played by Ear Keeps Boredom on the Run

"I've found the answer to how to keep from hating housework," writes the mother of three children.

"At least," she says, "it works for me and it might work for some of your other readers, too." Then she goes on to explain:

"First I tried being systematic and worked by schedule, but I felt like a drudge. No matter how I felt or what I really wanted to do — if it was Monday I washed and ironed; Tuesday I cleaned house; Wednesday I shopped, etc. "I hated knowing what my day was going to be like when I opened my eyes in the morning."

"Now I pay some attention to my own feelings and mostly work by mood. If I'm in a clean, scrub and polish mood I give the house a thorough cleaning and actually enjoy making it shine."

"If it's a beautiful day and I can't bear to stay indoors and scrub, I decide it will be yard day, and I go to work with hedge clippers and enjoy the outdoors while I clip and weed and rake."

"If I'm in the mood for sewing I give the house a fast lick and a promise and open the sewing machine and set to work because I have a feeling that today my sewing will go easy."

"If I'm restless I make out a list of errands that need to be done and get in the car and do them."

"Of course, I can't always indulge my moods. There are times when a child is home sick from school I play nurse for the day. There are also times when I have to rush and hurry because there are unexpected emergencies to be met. All housewives have those days and there's nothing you can do about them."

"But I think a lot of housewives don't even think about giving themselves a break by paying attention to their moods. That is kind of foolish, isn't it, since we're our own bosses and can generally schedule our work to suit ourselves?"

OBITUARIES

MRS. J. CHOINIERE, OF MONTREAL

BEDFORD.—The death occurred on Friday, May 22, at her home in Montreal, of a member of one of the oldest families in this district, in the person of Mrs. Josephine Choiniere. In her 101st year the frail but active centenarian still went about her normal routine of housework.

On March 12 last, "Aunt Jo," as Mrs. Choiniere was known to her large circle of relatives and friends, celebrated her 100th birthday. The occasion was marked with congratulatory letters from Queen Elizabeth and Prime Minister Diefenbaker. She was also the recipient of many gifts and good wishes from friends and relatives far and near.

Mrs. Choiniere, the former Josephine Roy, was born in Christville, and was one of six children brought up on a farm at Missisquoi Bay. She married Daniel Choiniere in 1879, who predeceased her at Irberville in 1901 and in 1913 Mrs. Choiniere moved to Montreal.

She had three children, two of whom, Mrs. Carrie Carter, of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Fred Choiniere of Montreal, predeceased her. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Lillie Choiniere, of Montreal, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Choiniere could trace her ancestry back to Pierre Roy, who came to Canada, or New France as it was then called, in 1666 and later married a Miss Ducharme.

Funeral service was held in Montreal at Collins Funeral Parlor, with interment in Irberville.

$1,000 Donated To B.M.P. Hospital

SWEETSBURG — The Brome Missisquoi Perkins Hospital is in receipt of a cheque for $1,000 from Bruck Mills, as an outright donation to help defray the cost of operating the hospital. The company made this contribution so that service charges to the patients may be kept at a lower level than would otherwise be the case.

At the annual meeting of the hospital's board of governors of the Brome Missisquoi Perkins Hospital, it was reported that hospital services provided during 1958 showed an increase over 1957.

Admissions increased from 2,470 to 2,573 and patient days from 18,564 to 18,630. The largest increase was recorded in laboratory tests, from 20,325 to 27,514. This is the result of new diagnostic equipment recently purchased, making possible the performance of many different tests.

The cost of new equipment purchased over a three year period amounted to 49,764.00.

Public Speaking Program Presented By Grades 5 And 6 At Derby Line

DERBY LINE — Eight students of Grades 5 and 6 of the Derby Line School presented a public speaking program at MacDonald School, in a contest for the Civic Oration of the Junior Woodmen of America and all based on the theme, Industries Which Have Shaped a Nation.

Richard Henry spoke on the telephone, Hope Greenwood, radio, Catherine McVane, newspaper, Jacqueline Conley, synthetics, Linda Lamonte, radio, Audrey Bowen, railroads, Margaret Huckins, frozen foods, and Christina Darby, automobile.

Each student did justice to his topic and showed a great deal of study and research on the subject of his choice.

Henry Richard told about Edison's invention of the telephone and traced its history to the present.

Miss Greenwood spoke of the early invention of the radio and its influence on the people of America in the past 40 years.

Miss McVane said newspaper roots are entwined with America itself, the first one having been printed in 1690 in Boston, Mass., spreading news of democracy across the country, as well as keeping all informed of events at home and abroad.

Of synthetics, Miss Conley mentioned a few of the many we use in everyday life since 1928. Those most important to the American way of life are nylon, rubber, plastics and others, all made from chemicals.

Miss Lamonte, speaking on radio referred to the first station in America W.V.I. in Chicago, Ill., and the use of earphone radios in the early days of invention. In 1922 the first commercial advertisement was heard over radio.

Miss Bowen, told of the thousands of miles of railroads which have contributed to the development of America, of the steam, electric and diesel locomotives. The United States she said has the highest railroad mileage in the world, and the first railway was built in Baltimore and Ohio in 1830; and she described using maps, the system's growth in America.

Miss Huckins, on frozen foods an industry first started in 1921, told of their importance to the American way of life and to the nation.

Miss Darby, speaking of automobiles, referred to the first one built in the United States by Henry Ford, of the vast growth of the industry, giving employment to thousands of persons, and bringing in its wake improved roads a vast contribution to war victory.

The judges, a panel of three, found it difficult but reached a decision, and Clair Holebrooke, State of Vermont superintendent, presented Miss Bowen with the trophy for the best composition and its presentation. Richard Henry was runner-up and was presented with a trophy. Gold pins were presented to Miss McVane, Miss Conley, Miss Greenwood and Miss Lamonte.

The program opened with a recitation, Freedom. During the retirement of the panel of judges, a tribute to Memorial Day took place, with, in Flanders Fields, a choral reading by Grade 5, followed by America's Answer. Six boys presented in Memoriam and the Grade 6 choral group sang, The Star Spangled Banner, with Sandra Rollins and Laurel Curtis each taking a solo part and Larry Waterman, the narrator. Group singing continued until the announcement of the decision of the judges.

Mr. Holebrooke, in his remarks said this was the 11th year a similar program has taken place in this part of the U.S. and said he felt this group had held up the tradition of the contest participants, and he gave a brief history of the home of the Junior Woodmen of America in Rock Island, Ill.

Mr. Holebrooke also presented Mrs. Irene Selby, of the teaching staff, with a five-year-cycle plaque, won for the second time at Derby Line School. Among the parents and friends present was Guy Magoon, district supervisor.

Cleveland Indians Drop Fourth Straight And Lose Hold On First Spot

Senators Rally To Edge Yankees In Little League; Red Sox Travels To Lennoxville For Tilt Tonight

The Kiwanis Club sponsored Senators trailing 8-3 going into the bottom of the fifth inning in a Little League game last night against the Lennoxville Optimist Club sponsored Yankees came up with a seven run spurge to take a close 10-8 decision at the Parade Grounds.

Tonight Red Sox travels to Lennoxville to take on the Yankees and at the Parade Grounds the Senators meet the Tigers both games starting at 6:30 p.m.

Top of the first last night saw the Yankees take a 1-0 lead. Two walks and a double by Gary Taylor sending in the run. Senators got this one back in their half of the same inning Porritt, Senator's shortstop, drove in the tally.

Three walks in a row and a lusty three base hit by Garard gave the Yankees a 4-1 lead in the first part of the second inning. Senators cut this down one run before the inning ended four free passes sending in the run.

Two errors and a fielder's choice, in the top of the third, gave the Yankees another run. Senators going scoreless in the inning. Taylor connecting for a single this coupled with three walks pushed home three runs for the Yankees in the top of the fourth gave them a 8-3 lead.

Senators got their third run in their half of the same inning. A home run by Patrick, a triple by Porritt, and four walks in the bottom of the fifth was what the Senators needed to give them the lead and this is how the game ended as the Yanks went scoreless in the top of the sixth inning.

In a game where pitching was not of the best each team can do better and once the new men fit in play will improve. Standing out in the game were Porritt, Patrick of the Senators, George Garard and Gary Taylor for the Yankees.

Yankees 131 300— 8 5 1
Senators 110 178—10 4 2
Watson, Montgomery (5) and Cook; P. Palmer, Caron (3), Porritt (4), and W. Patrick.

Nationalist China To Represent Formosa At Winter Olympic Games; Red China Will Not Be Represented

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Red China cannot participate in the 1960 Winter Olympic Games at Squaw Valley, Calif., but Nationalist China has been invited and has accepted, an organizing committee official said Wednesday.

Robert L. King, executive director of the committee, said: "Recent action of the International Olympic Committee does not make Red China a member of that group. Red China cannot and will not participate in the Olympic Winter Games."

"The organizing committee invited Nationalist China and they accepted prior to the IOC action. The organizing committee will stand behind this invitation and accept entries of Nationalist China competitors at Squaw Valley."

King said IOC president Avery Brundage, in a telephone conversation from Lausanne, Switzerland, told him Nationalist China could compete but reserved comment as to what name that delegation would bear.

At Munich last Thursday, the IOC voted to unseat the Nationalist Chinese delegation as China's representative on grounds that it no longer represents sports in China. Brundage said then that Red China could now apply for a seat as China's representative and the Nationalists could apply as representatives of Formosa.

Senators Win 4-0 While White Sox Move In With 6-1 Victory Over Orioles; Mantle Homers As Yanks Edge Tigers

They're still holding on by a scalplock, but Cleveland's Tribe is fast becoming a bunch of vanishing Indians in the American League race.

Washington Senators handed the Indians a fifth consecutive defeat, 4-0, Wednesday night on home runs by Harmon Killebrew and Ron Samford that backed up Bill Fischer's three-hit pitching.

Chicago White Sox moved into a virtual tie for the top .003 per centage points behind Cleveland, by reclaiming second place from Baltimore with a 6-1 victory over the Orioles.

Fourth-place Kansas City is only 1 1/2 games back of the Indians after a 5-3 victory over the last-place Boston Red Sox, who are just six games out of first.

And fifth-place Detroit is within 3 1/2 games of the lead, even after losing 6-5 to New York Yankees. The champs still are seventh, but only 4 1/2 games shy of first.

Fischer, 28, breezed to a 5-1 record and his first victory ever against the Indians after Killebrew hammered his 19th home run in the fourth inning and Samford made it 2-0 in the fifth.

It was the second in two nights for Samford, whose entire major league total of four has come this season.

Herb Score (5-3) was the loser, giving up six hits in his six innings as the sixth-place Nats, only four games out of first, padded their season record in the west to 9-2.

Southpaw Billy Pierce, after losing three straight, gained a 6-5 record with an eight-hitter as the White Sox ended their losing streak at three with their third victory in 11 games. Gene Woodling's eighth-inning homer junked

Reyno Worthy Wins In 2.12.2-5 To Post Top Time On Last Night's Card; Fabi's Mariette Iba Double Winner

Reyno Worthy, a 12-year-old bay gelding, driven by F. Brochu registered the best time on last night's midweek card presented by the Sherbrooke Racing Club when he drove under the wire in 2.12 2/5 to nose out Dumas' Mary G. Herbert.

In the first half of the "C" Pace Brochu's entry broke at the first turn and ruined his chances of winning the event. He started from the seventh spot while the second time he drew the third position and made good use of the good spot.

Driver Buster Huckins, who was teaming Dumas' little black mare, Mary G. Herbert, was obliged to settle with two seconds as her rally just failed both times to cop first position. Both heats were close.

The majority of the classes were all close as the drivers were going all out to cop the top payoff berths. The double of Millspring and Fabi's Mariette Iba paid $27.20. The Fabi entry was the only double winner of the evening coping both ends of the "C" and "D" Pace.

The quinnells were low as the rail experts were at their best in picking the winners. The first paid $30.10 the fourth while in the seventh $11.60 and in the tenth the pickers were rewarded with $7.90.

Brochu's Reyno Worthy paid the top win ticket $18.80 while Lassi Land, in the third, rewarded her backers with $20.20 for a place investment. Laurier Bergeron's Coca Cola, in the first, walked off with the high for a show bet when $31.90 was collected for his third-place finish in the first race on the card.

Lucien Denault, who was slated to drive last night, was forced to withdraw when he was kicked on the hand by a horse and the judges allowed a replacement for him on all entries.

Charlie Goldman Arrives To Start Training Durelle For July 15 Bout; States Conditioning Important Thing

MONCTON (CP) — Charlie Goldman, arrived here Wednesday to supervise the training of Yvon Durelle, the Baie Ste. Anne, N.B. fisherman who meets world light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in a rematch July 15 at Montreal.

The veteran United States fight manager, who handled retired unbeaten world heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, will take full charge of Durelle's workouts for the first time today.

Durelle, the National Boxing Association's second ranked light heavy, was stopped by Moore on a knockout in the 11th round last December.

"I'm going to concentrate in getting Yvon in the best of condition," said Goldman. "I'll try to teach Durelle a few of the ring tricks but won't tamper with his style. That would be dangerous," he added.

CONDITION IMPORTANT

"Conditioning is the important thing," said Goldman. "If a fighter is in top shape he always has a chance while he's on his feet. If the flesh gets weak, the spirit doesn't mean a thing."

Goldman added: "If Durelle wants to co-operate I think everything will go okay."

Goldman, who started boxing when he was seven, once held the bantam weight title. He started training boxers in 1914 and has directed scrappers to world titles in every division but the light heavy.

Durelle weighed 182 1/2 following Wednesday's workout. He resumed drills Tuesday after a layoff May 23 when he fought a four-round exhibition in Fort William, Ont.

The 28-year-old Durelle has been training here off-and-on since late March. He weighed 205 when he started.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

Washington — Joe Brown, 132, New Orleans, stopped Paolo Rosi, 134, New York, 9. (Brown retained world's lightweight title).

It seems like ages ago, but remember when the word was that Milwaukee's Braves were choke-up guys? Whether that was a bum rap or not, they're a cool crew of two-time champions now, chopping down anyone who threatens their shot at a third straight National League pennant.

It was mid-May when the Braves zeroed in, running off six in a row for a 4 1/2-game bulge. Then they slowed to a walk and San Francisco started to close in.

Just last Monday, the Giants steamed into Milwaukee with a 7-2 record and walloped the Braves 11-2, whittling their edge to 1 1/2 games.

TIGHTEN UP That did it. The Braves tightened up and blanked the Giants 3-0 in the second game of the series and made it two straight Wednesday night battles from behind for a 7-4 victory on a pair of two-run homers by Ed Mathews and a solo shot by Hank Aaron that clubbed the second-place Giants 3 1/2 games behind again.

Mathews, who had hit only two home runs in 17 games has upped his total to 19 with three in two nights. And Aaron, hit-less in three consecutive games, now has gone 5-for-7 in the last two, fattening his startling average to .426.

While the Braves were spanking the Giants, third-place Pittsburgh remained within 4 1/2 games of the lead by beating St.

the champion by that group. He had been stripped of his title by the NBA.

Ed Bouchée hit a two-run homer, then walked and scored the clincher for the Phils on Wally Pate's single in a two-run fifth inning. Jim Owens (4-3) won it, giving up eight hits but only one earned run. Dave Hillman (3-4) was the loser.

33-Year-Old Champion Opens Cut On Challenger's Head; Rosi Pushes Fight All The Way; States He Wants Rematch

WASHINGTON — (CP) — Joe Brown, an old man as fighters go, smashed open a gaping wound over Paolo Rosi's left eye Wednesday night and retained his world lightweight boxing crown with a ninth-round technical knockout.

The 33-year-old champion emerged from the scheduled 15-rounder in such good shape that he declared: "I'm ready to go again on Monday if someone brings along a little money."

A straight right — Rosi moaned it was a butt — caused the cut, an inch and a half long and a quarter-inch wide, in the eighth round.

Blood streamed down Rosi's face and it was no surprise when referee Charley Reynolds, at the direction of two ringside doctors, stopped the skirmish between the eighth and ninth rounds. Under District of Columbia rules it was recorded as a ninth-round technical knockout.

It was the seventh defence for the busy Brown, from New Orleans, since he won the 135-pound title from Bud Smith in 1955. He and Rosi were tied on points at the time the fight was stopped.

WOULD OFFER RETURN

Brown's plans? "I don't have anything lined up. But if Rosi wants another shot and it can make some money, that's okay with me. There's Kenny Lane and Carlos Ortiz (the No. 1 and 2 contenders) and I'm ready for them."

Lane, from Muskegon, Mich., and Ortiz, of New York, clash June 12 for New York recognition as "world junior welterweight champion." Brown edged Lane in his fifth defence last July 23.

The cut-prone Rosi, who confused Brown a bit by pressing the fight, said the cut was opened when the champion "hit me with his head."

"No punch, just his head. He's a champ? Say—a champ don't have to run away. I chase him all night—he hold. In the last round he built and held out his hand, say 'I'm sorry.' I fight him again and I beat him, you see."

SAME STORY

"That little bald head can butt pretty hard," said Brown in rebuttal. "Feel them lumps on my forehead. I don't blame him for yelling 'butt' as an alibi but everyone in the place saw that right cut him open."

Rosi, a 31-year-old Italian-born New Yorker, was the aggressor all the way. Although the backtracking champ had the gaunt-faced Rosi missing punches, Paolo still landed several to the body and head.

The officials were divided in the scoring. Reynolds had Rosi ahead 76-71. Judge Harry Volkman had Brown in front 77-75. Judge Norvel Lee had them even at 75 each.

Brown weighed 132 pounds, his lightest in years. Rosi, No. 3 contender, scaled 134. The champ was a 3-to-1 favorite in his 100th pro fight.

A crowd of 3,968 paid $28,760 for the bout. Television added $40,000 to the pot, making Brown's purse $25,598 and Rosi's $12,799. It was Paolo's biggest payday in 37 pro fights. Rosi's record is 31-5-1 including three defeats by TKOs on cuts. Brown's record is 73-16-9 plus two no contest affairs.

National Golf Week Commences On Saturday; Funds Go Towards Junior Development; Medals For Winners

Canadian golfers will all have the opportunity to challenge our National men's and ladies' champions during NATIONAL GOLF WEEK, June 7th to 14th, at over 600 golf clubs throughout the country.

The men and boys will play against Henry Martell, Canadian P.G.A. Champion, from the Highlands Club, Edmonton, Alberta. The ladies and girls will play against Marlene Stewart Street, Canadian Open Ladies' Champion, of Fonthill and Toronto, Ontario.

Over 15,000 male and female players have "beaten the champ" since this event was inaugurated in 1952 or just under 20% of all those who played.

Contestants may play as many rounds as they wish for $1.00 per round and select their lowest net score to match against that of the gross established by the champions. Players without handicaps will be handicapped by club professionals using the Callaway System.

Plans are well advanced at all clubs for this annual tournament, and the R.C.G.A. and C.P.G.A. estimate over 25,000 will compete this year.

Advanced ticket sales have been arranged so that all golfers and sportsmen may contribute to this worthy cause in case they cannot play on the specified dates.

Some provinces are donating special prizes for the lowest provincial net scores recorded in addition to the attractive "I Beat the Champion" medals which all winners will receive.

All net funds are specifically used to teach the Royal & Ancient game to our boys and girls. Let us all join one of Canada's greatest youth building projects.

Ingemar Johansson Testifies That He Never Agreed To Rematch With Eddie Machen Before Grand Jury

NEW YORK (CP) — Ingemar Johansson testified in federal court Wednesday that when he decided to fight Eddie Machen for the first time last September he had not wanted a rematch.

"If I beat him, I should be the No. 1 contender and I said I should not like to have a rematch," the challenger for the world heavyweight boxing title told the court.

He knocked out Machen in the first round of the fight Sept. 14 at Goteborg, Sweden.

Johansson, training at Grossinger, N.Y., for his June 25 fight with champion Floyd Patterson, made his statement before Judge Irving R. Kaufman, hearing a petition by Machen asking that Johansson be prohibited from fighting Patterson on the ground the Swedish fighter had failed to live up to a return match agreement.

A rematch agreement was signed by Edwin Ahlquist, but Johansson testified his father Jens is his manager and that he never had paid Ahlquist, an "advisor," any part of his ring earnings.

Machen contends that a paper signed Sept. 13, 1958, is a valid return-bout contract. Johansson said he did not learn about the Sept. 13 document until two days later.

Tommy Loughran, a former world light-heavyweight champion, testified as an "expert" witness on boxing in behalf of

Canadiens Sell Two Farmhands To Black Hawks

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens Wednesday announced the sale of two of their farmhand hockey players to Chicago Black Hawks for an undisclosed amount of cash and the right to select one or more players from Chicago's list at a later date.

Those sold to the Hawks are Murray Balfour and Terry Gray, both with Rochester Americans of the American Hockey League last season.

Los Angeles And Dodgers Sign New Contract

LOS ANGELES (CP) — Los Angeles Dodgers of the National League and the city signed a contract for a new ballpark Wednesday, exactly a year after voters approved a Dodgers-city deal for building the stadium in Chavez Ravine.

They haven't reached the point where they can start digging the foundations in the ravine, but Dodgers president Walter O'Malley said during the signing at city hall:

"I'm still optimistic about our target dates. We hope to start work by July 1 and to play our first game in the new park on opening day next season."

Opponents of the contract succeeded in having it placed on the municipal election ballot last June 3 as a referendum. Voters approved the deal by a narrow margin.

Later, however, the contract was ruled invalid in Superior Court. The State Supreme Court overturned that decision.

Now opponents are seeking to bring the matter before the United States Supreme Court.

Johansson, Loughran told the court that it was "extraordinary" for a rematch agreement to be signed before a non-title bout.

Also testifying was Truman Gibson of Chicago, the former head of the International Boxing Club, which was broken into smaller units by a United States Supreme Court order. Gibson told of his promotion activities of a year ago.

Ben Hogan Is At Peak And Is Rated Favorite To Win Open, Says Harmon

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — "Ben Hogan is at the peak of his game," Claude Harmon said Wednesday. "I would have to pick him to win his fifth Open next week."

Harmon, former Masters champion, is host professional at the Winged Foot Golf Club where the 59th U.S. Open golf championship will be played June 11-13.

"Ben still is the best golfer in the world, and I become more convinced of it every time I play a round with him," the paunchy master of Mamaroneck added.

"He still has that keen competitive edge. From tee to green, no one can touch him. Every shot is thought out thoroughly. His control is something fantastic. He misses so few shots it is alarming."

MORE RESPONSIBILITIES
Hogan, 46, now burdened with the responsibilities of a club manufacturer, next week-end will seek to break the three-way tie he has with old Willie Anderson and Bob Jones as the winners of all U.S. pen competitors. Each has won four times.

"For a while Hogan was bothered with his putting," Harmon continued. "No more. Besides, the Open always is a driving contest. Hogan is the most accurate hitter in the business."

"One day last week Ben had a 67 with a bogey on the last hole. On another round he had 71, with a double bogey at the 17th. Remember, too he recently won the Colonial Invitation over a very good golf course."

Par for the 6,950-yard championship course is 70. Hogan is tight-lipped about his present form.

"I'm not as sharp as I would like to be." A perfectionist, he is never satisfied.

How about his chances in the Fine Series Of Quebec Fish Books

Produced By PQ Fisheries Department

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—A particularly fine series of booklets about fish in Quebec waters will become available to every-day people this summer though their printing started six years ago on a limited scale.

The booklets, called Fishes of Quebec, have been a pet project of Quebec's fisheries department authorities. So far the booklets in English and French, have been circulated among biologists, libraries and some schools. They will also be available to visitors when the department's aquarium near Quebec City is officially opened this summer.

Canadian and United States biologists have expressed high praise for the publications and the fisheries department expecting a good public demand has ordered new printings.

FINE REPRODUCTIONS

Experts say nothing quite like them has ever been published about Canadian fish. The booklet size is 10 by 14 inches and each contains full-page color reproductions of paintings of male and female of one species. The back cover of each booklet carries a colored illustration showing the devices and methods used in Quebec to catch the species discussed.

So far six booklets have appeared. Each deals respectively with the characteristics, habitat, spawning and eating habits of speckled trout, Atlantic Salmon, lobster, cod, sturgeon and eel.

The series is aimed primarily at the Quebec public and the scientific observations in the booklets about each species are directly related to this province whose maritime fisheries extend over 85,000 square miles of St.
Lawrence Gulf water. Sports fishing waters also are plentiful

RC Missionary To Dine With Queen Elizabeth

By PHIL ADLER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — A Roman Catholic missionary familiar with Eskimos and Indians of the Far North will dine with the Queen this summer.

Rev. Anthony Biname, 60-year-old member of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate, is one of 35 Canadians for all walks of life invited to have Dominion Day dinner with the Queen and Prince Philip at Government House in Ottawa July 1.

The missionary who has spent more than half his life with the Eskimos and Indians passed through here on his way to summer headquarters in the Northwest Territories, after a vacation in Belgium.

He was eager to return to Norman Wells, more than 1,100 miles northwest of Edmonton, where he built a church.

LOVES NORTH
"I don't envy your situation in the city," he said in an interview.
"There are too many red stop-lights. I'm used to the liberty and freedom of the bush."

Father Biname was a secular priest in Namur, Belgium, when he joined the Oblates in 1924. The following year he was on his way to Canada's northland for work with the Eskimos.

He now speaks English fluently, as well as French, Greek and Latin, and the Eskimo and Hare Indian tongues. He says he thinks in French.

But no language could have helped him when he got lost in the

throughout the province where the daily bag limit of 15 pounds of speckled trout is proudly cited as the highest on the continent.

FULL OF INFORMATION

But author Vadim V. Vladikov, internationally known biologist who recently left his post here to go to the University of Ottawa, has crammed a lot of general information about each species into the four to eight pages at his disposal in each of the booklets.

Dr. Arthur Labrie, fisheries department deputy minister, wanted a text that would interest both the layman who has no taste for scientific lingo and the experts who demand accurate information. He gave the job of putting the text into shape to Jean-Marie Roy, a young Laval University graduate in biology who is a newspaper man as well as a government employee. Mrs. Vladikov prepared the English text.

The vivid paintings of each species were commissioned from Germaine Bernier of Montreal and Eugene Klimoff of Quebec.
Their accuracy impresses even the casual reader.

Pleased with the results of its efforts the department plans to continue the series. Next species to be described: The herring.

The booklets are available from the fisheries department for 50 cents a copy.

Arctic peaks behind Aklavik. He had been hunting alone, on foot,
when a sudden snowstorm struck,
the first of the season.

Father Biname shot a caribou, wrapped himself in the animal's skin and ate raw meat until the storm subsided. He took a bearing on the stars and three days later walked back into his post.

TRAPPED IN ICE

In 1933 he became captain of the 57-foot schooner Our Lady of Lourdes, although he didn't know anything about sailing. "There was no one else," he explained.
There were two others aboard, an Eskimo pilot and a Roman Catholic brother who acted as mechanic.

The vessel was used for supplying mission outposts along the Arctic coast. In 1936 he became trapped in ice before it could supply Father Biname's home base of Paulatuk.

The bishop was aboard on that trip, Father Biname recalled. A call for help brought supplies by plane, which took off the bishop.

Spacious Shopping Center For Motorists

It was eighteen years ago that T. S. Meehan first opened a small automotive supply store on Belvedere St. S. opposite the armoury. His establishment was called the "Canadian Tire Corporation Associate Store."

The eighteen years have been ones of progress for Mr.
Meehan and his business. Once established it did not take long for Sherbrooke and vicinity motorists and sportsmen to realize that here was a store selling top quality merchandise, particularly tires and batteries at prices much lower than elsewhere.

In 1952 Mr. Meehan moved his business to 310 King
West where he availed himself of the more spacious quarters to expand his business.

With this added floor space he was able to carry more stock which attracted more customers until once again a space problem developed.

Mr. Meehan has moved his business again, this time to 430 Minto Street. The new location it is felt should provide ample floor space for the Corporation's fine line of products for years to come.

Motorists face no parking offers complete expert service.

Mr. Meehan, known to his many friends as Stan has been a resident of Sherbrooke
since 1941. Born in Corkery, Ont., he attended St. Mary and Almonte High Schools
there.

In 1942 he enlisted in the Canadian Army and served in Italy and Sicily before returning to Sherbrooke in 1946 to resume his business.

Mr. Meehan is a devout churchman and takes an active interest in community welfare. An ardent sportsman he encourages competitive games and good sportsmanship.

The vessel remained trapped from September to July and during that time eight of the missionary's 12 sled dogs died.

Father Biname's Maritime work ended in 1940. Now he lives in Norman Wells during the summer, and at Fort Norman in the winter. The settlements are 50 miles apart on the Mackenzie River.

Dinner, Dance and Party Held In Honor Of Class

COWANSVILLE — This year the members of the graduating class of the High School were feted at a threefold celebration. First there was a dinner at the Hotel Maurice in the Salon Rose; this was followed by the traditional dance in the school gymnasium; and finally came a private party at the Armory.

The dance formed the major part of the event and was open to the public. Decorations were elaborate and colourful. The theme was Japanese. To add authenticity to the make-believe of paper flowers and effective murals, there were on display several miniature dolls from the land of the cherry blossom.

From a central hanging lantern, bright orange and white streamers were draped to mask the high ceiling. An occasional parasol and numerous baskets of flowers also adorned the large hall. The arch through which the graduates paraded was fragrant with lilac.

The girls of the class each wore a corsage on her white party dress. Red carnations were the popular choice, although some had selected the other school color, white. The two colors were again in evidence in the basement at refreshment time. The food as well as the numerous blooms already described, had been contributed by parents of pupils of all grades. Thanks go to them and to the local merchants who loaned furniture for the event.

The evening in their honour was arranged by the students of Grade X, under the able chairmanship of Francis Duval. Committees members were: Decorating and advertising, Joan Tanaka, Lise Carl, Peggy Takeda; food, Linda White; invitations, Malcolm Brown, Billy Sone; prizes, Joyce Yates, Laura Buchanan; ticket sales, Richard Sargent, Larry Pickel; reception committee, Ronald Allen, Douglas Algiers, with partners; transportation, Walter Shufelt, Larry Pickel, Marcel Simoneau.

There were two M. C.'s, Joan Tanaka and Larry Pickel. Dancing was enjoyed to the music of Mike Tetrault and his band. The chaperons were Principal and Mrs. M. C. Tyler, Vice-Principal and Mrs. Gordon Bown. A number of other staff members were also in attendance.

Several members of her family also dropped in for the evening, and presented her with a birthday cake, made and decorated in pink and white by Mrs. Merton Dustin. Master Billie and Misses Wilma, Janice and Cynthia Greenleaf sang Happy Birthday to their grandmother. Coffee and cake was served.

THE ONE TRUE NATIONAL ADVERTISING MEDIUM

IS

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER... because 88% of America's families get a newspaper every day. That's national coverage!

Over 100 million people read a newspaper on an average day. Every one of these readers has the opportunity to see every advertisement in the newspaper. Only a few of these people can be reached by any radio, television or magazine message.

Unlike television and radio, newspaper advertising is always ready and waiting to suit the time, place and convenience of the consumer. The newspaper is always selling — and always selling to more people than any other medium.

If you want to sell more products to more people, use the daily newspaper — the one true national advertising medium.

Canada's Primary Textile Industry

$800 Million a Year Business

The production of textiles in Canada forms a large section of the country's domestic manufacturing industry and contributes importantly to the nation's total economy. There are about 700 textile plants, located in every province with the bulk of them concentrated in Quebec and Ontario. These mills, often long-established, family-owned concerns, are of vital economic and social importance to the districts where they are located. Above, textile workers inspect section of a huge nylon herring seine net. A similar net—960 feet long—is being used experimentally by fishing craft in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

At a modern textile mill in Valleyfield, Quebec, cotton yarn is spun into final form, while an alert operator keeps constant watch on the workings of the spinning frame. When yarn is eventually wound onto lower bobbins each inch has been stretched and twisted to 28 inches.

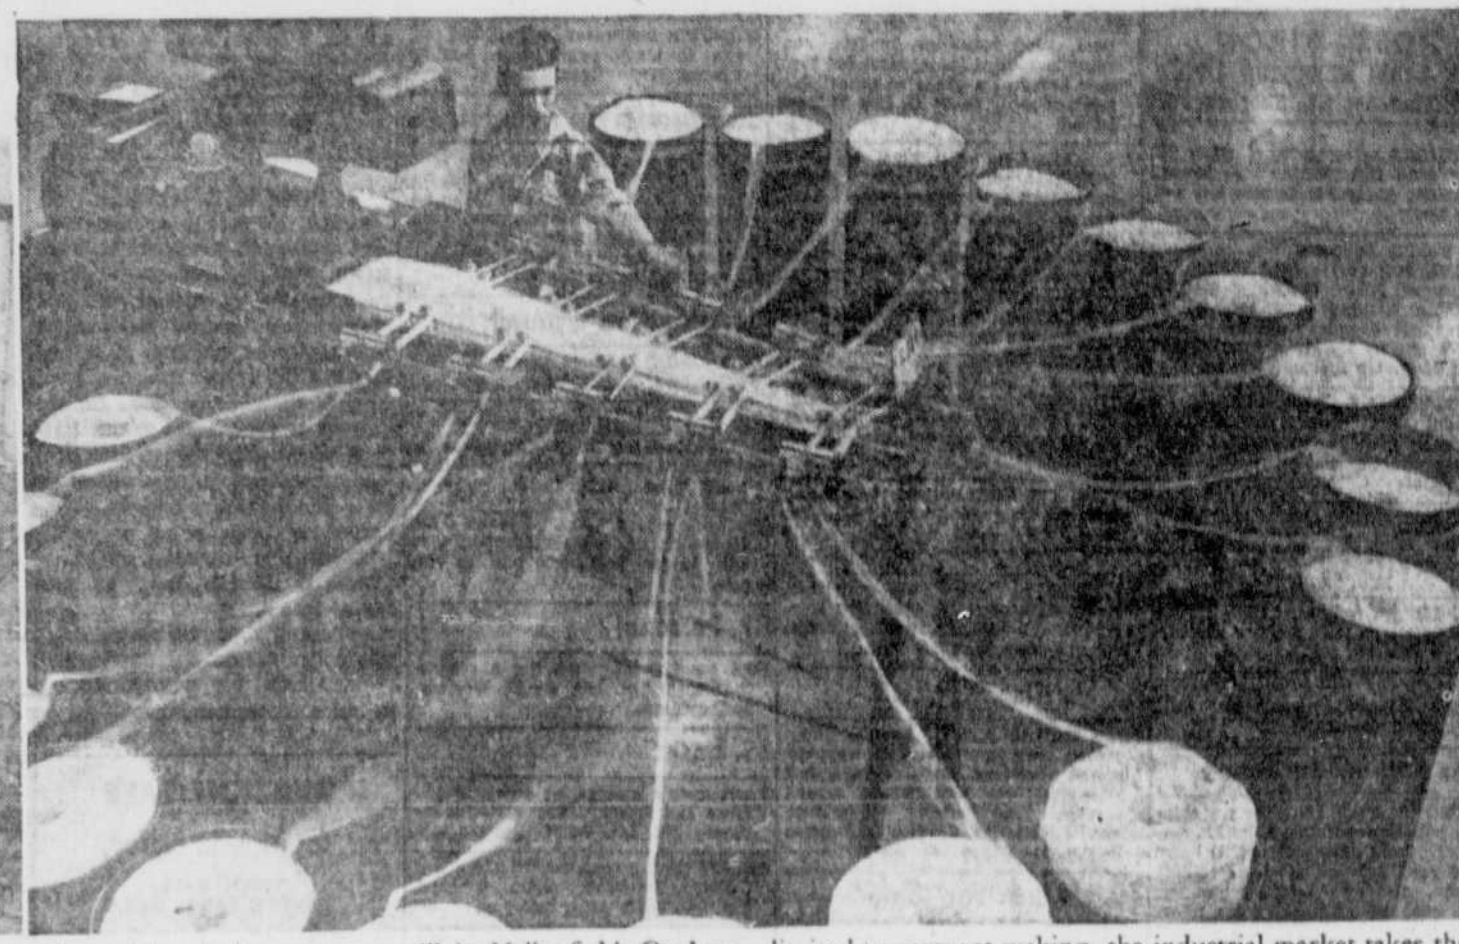

A dramatic cocktail dress is created with the aid of versatile and colourful Canadian cotton, featuring yellow and orange poppy print against a black background. A panier effect, using moss green polished cotton adds a high-fashion note to this low-cost gown.

One in every 17 manufacturing workers in Canada is employed in the primary textile industry, and 45% of these employees are women. Many of the plants are located in cities of less than 50,000 population and often represent the only manufacturing industry of the district.

At one time many of the skilled workers required by textile plants had to be brought into the country from outside. This trend has been halted almost completely with the establishment of textile schools which now meet the industry's demands for highly trained specialists.

A machine-tender at a new mill in Valleyfield, Quebec, described as "the most modern textile mill on the North American continent", keeps a sharp eye trained on the "lap winder". Canadian textiles are widely considered to be of the very highest quality. The use of textiles is not limited to garment-making; the industrial market takes the largest share of the trade. The industry represents a total investment of some $700 million; annual production value runs close to $800 million.

LEAVING HIGH SCHOOL STAFF — Six members of the Sutton High School staff, who are leaving at the end of the present term to take other teaching posts, are seen above at the farewell gathering held in their honor. From the left, they are: Seated Miss H. Vail, Dr. K. Harper, Miss D. Phillips and Mrs. I. Wedge; standing, Rev. J. H. M. Brett, who made the presentations, D. Denton, R. Davidson, and Miss S. Phelps, who spoke on behalf of graduates and students.

Farewell Party

Sutton Friends Honor Popular Teachers

SUTTON — Sutton said good-bye and thank you to Dr. Kathleen Harper, High School principal, and to five other teachers, at a farewell party held at the High School recently.

Dr. Harper came to Sutton in 1930 and, with her leadership and executive ability, has brought the High School to a position high in the Province. She assisted in getting the village and rural school boards amalgamated and was instrumental in getting the rural schools consolidated.

Then she cooperated with the School Board in building the present modern High School. Through her efforts Grade 12 has been taught here for the past four years.

Dr. Harper, who leaves Sutton to take the post of principal at Sunnyside High School, Stanstead, is president of the Quebec Association of Protestant School Administrators. She will be greatly missed by her many friends and the good wishes and grateful thanks of all Sutton residents go with her, especially those of the parents whose children have benefited so much from her discipline, character training and high standards.

Another well-loved teacher, Miss Hildred Vail, also leaves Sutton this year to teach at Stanstead, Miss Vail has taught for 37 years in the County of Brome, the past 16 of these in Sutton, and before that for several years in the Township of Sutton. After 20 years of teaching Miss Vail was given the Order of Scholastic Merit.

Miss Vail's great interest in life is teaching and in her pupils, who become her children. Several hundred children have passed through her hands and all remember her with affection and some with real gratitude. She hopes to complete 40 years of teaching.

Miss Dorothy Phillips, whose home is in Gaspé, has been on his studies for his degree at Sir George Williams.

David Denton, of Hatley, is teaching at Sunnyside in Stanstead, after two years in Sutton.

The thanks and good wishes of the entire community go with all these teachers.

Guests were received at the school by Mr. Rupert Phelps, chairman of the School Board, and Mrs. Phelps. Mrs. S. N. Pergau presented corsages to the lady teachers.

Miss Sandra Phelps, a graduate of the first Sutton Grade 12, spoke for the graduates and students, expressing their gratitude and appreciation. Mrs. Robert Cowan sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Cowan.

Rev. J. H. M. Brett, in making the presentations, said that a teacher never really leaves a community, part of them lives on in their pupils. Their character and disposition leave an impact that is never completely forgotten. They were given purses and billfolds and a sum of money in each.

S. N. Pergau was master of ceremonies.

Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. M. D. Hastings, Mrs. Lyndon Royce, Mrs. Dennis Haggerty and Mrs. N. Bleser. The tables were attractive in white and silver, with centerpieces of lilies of the valley, yellow pansies and tall yellow tapers. The gymnasium was decorated with baskets of white, purple and mauve lilies, yellow tulips and mauve iris.

Servers were Mrs. Wallace Holden, Miss Isabelle Brouillette, Mrs. S. N. Pergau, Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. Vernon Lamb, Mrs. Edward Elard, and Mrs. Douglas Brown. Glowers were arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brown, Mrs. Pergau and Mrs. Hollis Dyer.

The committee in charge included Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Dyer, Mrs. Hollis Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Pergau, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Miller and Mrs. Nelson Thompson. Canvass chairman was Hollis Dyer.

Hostesses were Mrs. A. J. Darrah, Mrs. Robert Miltimore and Mrs. George Webb. The refreshment committee comprised Mrs.

COWANSVILLE —

At Emmanuel Church Rev. Carl Gustafson chose Evangelism as his sermon theme and used as the text, Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men. A solo, My Task was sung by Mrs. Stuart Harrowing, accompanied by Miss Grace Shuffell at the organ. Members who drive to service were advised to avail themselves of the ample parking space behind the church, rather than use the busy Main Street.

It is a double pleasure to say Happy 91st Birthday to each of two Cowansville residents: Mrs. (Phoebe Jacob) Paul Viens, of North Street, who has lived in this area ever since she was born in 1868 on June 4; and Mr. Frank Wise, who celebrates on Monday, June 15, and who in little more than a year at the Nesbitt Residence has become noted for his wit and wisdom, not only there but also in the life of the community.

A stag party was held for Mr. Keith Dryden at the Hotel Maurice, the occasion being his approaching marriage. Fellow Vilas employees, other friends, and some former classmates from Cowansville High School gathered to wish him well, and present him with a purse of money and a copper tray with matching decanter and glasses.

The annual Sunday School picnic of Emmanuel United Church will be held at Jackson's Bridge on Saturday afternoon, June 20. Transport will be by car and the joyful motored will leave the Church at or soon after 1 p.m. Everyone is welcome and it is hoped that as many parents as possible will attend. For all age groups there will be games and swimming, supervised or organized by staff members. Each child or adult should bring a box lunch and beverage, but ice cream will be served by the Sunday School.

Townships Fish And Game Notes

By IVY HATCH
Lake Massawippi Fish and Game Club are to be congratulated on the success of their annual banquet held at Ripplecove Inn and attended by about 150 persons from various points of the Townships who enjoyed the fine turkey dinner. This club was incorporated in 1901 and is believed to be the oldest conservation club in these parts. A charter member, Charles Wright, of Sherbrooke, active during the 58 years, was not able to be at the banquet because of poor health. He was much missed and it is hoped he will soon be better. Forty-three guests were lucky prize winners, prizes being donated by various merchants of Eastern Townships cities and villages.

Dore fish are being caught in Lake Massawippi, and it is reported an eleven- and a-half pounder was caught by a lucky angler. In the past four years 137,000 dore have been transported to many lakes of the Province of Quebec from Missisquoi Bay.

Richmond Pelletier, director of Molson's contest is asking all entries to the contest to be actually witnessed for weights and measures, and all forms carefully checked before being sent to the Montreal office, otherwise the forms will be rejected.

Stanstead County Fish and Game Club have set up another two weighing stations for the contest, that of George Audet, Rock Island and Lee Audet, Stanstead. The County Club opening days at Crystal Lake, O'Malley, Hatley and Baldwin Ponds were very successful. The weather was cold but hardy anglers were at the waters at dawn and throughout the day.

A number caught their limit of eight trout per license and the majority caught some trout. The conservationist friends, Game Wardens, Seth Blake and Alger Piercy were at the ponds and joined Walter Soutiere at Crystal Lake. At the latter a few fines were imposed on persons having rainbows less than 10 inches in length, a law made by the Provincial Department of Fish and Game.

There are records of some excellent rainbows coming from Crystal, and speckled from a 14 four club-controlled waters. The new rearing pond at North Derby for stocking of Lake Memphremagog is now in the making and should be ready for fish from the hatchery the end of June.

With the summery days hundreds of persons are being attracted to Baldwin's Mills government hatchery; new pools have been built and on a sunny day the fish can be easily seen.

All members of the Federation are invited to attend a Migratory Birds committee meeting on June 11 at the Britannia Room of the Sheraton Mount Royal Hotel, in Montreal, at 8 p.m., when W. W. Mair, chief of Canadian Wildlife Service will attend as well as Jean Duguay, general superintendent of Game and Fisheries for Quebec.

Lake Lyster Fish and Game Club held a successful fish Derby at Baldwin's Mills. The day was cold but about 250 children attended and enjoyed the fishing provided. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Patterson were winners of the grown-ups events by catching eight trout weighing some 3 1/2 lbs. They were presented with a Club trophy by Charles Gerin, of Coaticook.

Stanstead County Fish and Game Club annual banquet and social evening will take place at Aver's Cliff on June 9. Women's church societies will serve a family-style dinner, starting at 6 p.m. in the Fair Grounds dining-hall. The program and awarding of valuable prizes will take place

Bumper Wheat Crop In Pakistan To Be Last Before Big Estates Are Cut Down

By GEOFFREY IMESON

KARACHI (Reuters)—The last main wheat crop before big estates are broken up under the Pakistan government's ambitious land reform scheme is being harvested in West Pakistan. It is said to be a bumper crop.

This appears a good omen as Pakistani, with one of the lowest yields an acre in the world and a huge annual deficit in food production, embarks on plans to lift agriculture out of a morass of feudal neglect, inefficiency and social injustice.

With the deadline passed for the filing of declarations of their holdings by the big landlords, the land commission is sifting data preparatory to the physical transfer of land due to be completed by October.

HOLDINGS NOT KNOWN

Then, theoretically, Pakistan becomes a nation of smallholders and peasant proprietors, with a ceiling of 500 acres—in practice it will be higher because of liberal exemptions — on irrigated farms and double that figure for non-irrigated land.

But the ultimate effect of the reforms, whether in terms of statistics, economics, politics or long-term social consequences, is still anyone's guess.

One big absentee landlord recently advertised in a Lahore newspaper for his tenants to come forward and help him fill in his forms. He had no records of the extent, or even the locality, of some of his holdings.

His perplexity is typical of the question marks which still inevitably hang over the new military government's scheme to smash the political and economic power of the big landlords, promote the rise of a new middle-class farming community and create, eventually, an enlightened public on which to base a new franchise.

Accurate figures of the total at St. George's Parish Hall. This event is open to everyone, regardless of being a club member of not. Rock Sequin, Province of Quebec biologist, will be the guest speaker and his subject will be, The advantages of rearing ponds to Stanstead County Fish and Game Club.

Prizes totaling $500 will be offered by Memphremagog Club for a derby on June 21 and 22 and a grand trophy will be awarded. The competition is open to all residents of the province and a new team-type contest will be tried out.

amount of land which will accrue to the commission's pool under land reform will not be available for months. In the three most backward divisions of West Pakistan — Sind, Khaipur and Bahawalpur—where the scope for redistribution is greatest, some estimates put the figure at just over 2,000,000 acres.

NO SECURITY

It is likely to be less in the Punjab and northwest frontier areas, where, for a variety of reasons, many estates already have been scaled down and the land redistributed.

Throughout West Pakistan the big estates are largely worked by "tenants at will"—the landlord's will—without permanent and heritable rights and liable to be evicted at the landlord's whim. They have no right to compensation for improvements; a system of payment in kind exposes them to exploitation, while the absence of institutional credit facilities means that many of them are hopelessly in debt to the landlords.

The biggest immediate question mark is the likely effect of the reforms on agricultural production, which at present supplies about 90 per cent of Pakistan's exports and whose condition is therefore the main factor in this country's regular trading deficit.

Many landlords argue that the land reform scheme gives tenants insufficient incentives while the landlords, even if under a new compulsion to make the best of their smaller holdings, are deprived of power to induce a progressive outlook in their tenants because even unsatisfactory ones now are secure under the law against eviction.

These landlords predict that a further, more drastic series of reforms will be called for in a few years to avert a disastrous decline in productivity.

Old Cloak-And-Dagger Atmosphere Of Oil Scouting Loses Out To New Methods

CALGARY (CP) — The old cloak-and-dagger atmosphere of oil scouting is gone. A new professionalism has emerged, says the man who heads North America's clorful corps of oil scouts.

Bill Allen of Calgary is enthusiastic about the change and the prospects. But he cherishes many yarns about the ingenious ways of the old-time scout.

A rugged six-footer, Mr. Allen looks as if he could have taken care of himself in the industry's most boisterous days at the turn of the century. In those times, he says, a scout's orders were to get any information he could—and stay out of jail.

NEW METHODS

Competition is just as keen for the modern scout, but methods have changed. Today's oil scout, Mr. Allen explains, has added science and technical tools to his bag of tricks.

He began work as a scout with a big oil company 15 years ago.

It was largely field work for him then but now, at 36, he works from an office as the company's chief scout.

This year, as president of the National Oil Scouts and Landmen's Association, he is also North America's chief scout, and his beat is a schedule of conventions and meetings all over the continent.

Discussing the changes he sees in one of the most legend-making branches of oil work, Mr. Allen says the oil scout started out as an admitted spy. The earliest on record, a man named Hughes, is said to have spent 48 hours in the mud under the floorboards of a rival's well in Pennsylvania, and to have been paid for what he learned there by being cut in on a land deal which netted him $50,000.

His successors kept busy with nerve, guile and all manner of disguises, and have dodged bullets and brickbats when some-

LESS FLAMBOYANT

Today's scouts must use their wits in less flamboyant ways, Mr. Allen says. Piece by piece, the scout gathers his information. No source can be overlooked—government reports, the talk heard at meals, published drill logs and what is seen in the fields.

Western Canada had only a handful of scouts around the time of the big Leduc discovery in 1947. Today there are about 175. "Don't count on it that the new business-man scout has none of the old wiles," Mr. Allen adds. "Whenever a company drills a tight hole—one they won't talk about—it's fair game for all competitors to try to pry out what's happening."

Mr. Allen tells how scouts have successfully decoded messages radiated into headquarters from remote wells. He knows others who have gained entry to tight wells by pretending to be local inhabitants knowing little about oil. And telescopes are standard equipment for watching a competitor's drilling operations from a distant hilltop.

Excellent Cuisine, Fine Decor Feature Mercier Restaurant

Ask any Magog businessman or citizen where there's a good place to eat, and among the establishments recommended to you, one is sure to be the Magog Bar-B-Q at 475 Main Street, West. You can't miss this handsome restaurant, close to the intersection of highway routes one and 50. Gaily decorated with the appearance of grandeur, it boasts one of Magog's largest neon signs.

Inside the thrill is even greater. On entering the restaurant section, a large modern arranged and decorated cafe style establishment with a long counter and stools at the right, and comfortable, inviting booths at the left meets the eye. The walls are tapestry and natural pine finished, with a trim of pink woodwork. The floors throughout this place of business are of a rich inlaid linoleum.

Proceed to the end of the restaurant, and to the left is the dining room, a cottage styled section with a huge picture window overlooking Main Street at one end, and a pine wall at the other. The side walls are partly draped and tapestry decorated. The tables and chairs are of natural pine, and lighting ideal for an exquisite atmosphere.

You don't see the galley, kitchen and storage rooms, but they're huge, and equipped with the latest in catering needs. This is where the secret to this restaurant's success begins. The best in food, prepared by an experienced staff, and served in style by good looking, courteous waitresses awaits you.

Who is behind the success of this establishment? None other than one of Magog's own sons, Rodolphe Mercier and his wife, The Merciers, with eight other employees are responsible, and the whole community admires their efforts.

The chief chef is Jean-Paul Morin, whose eighteen years cooking experience give him the right touch. Head waitresses, Miss Celine Cliche, and Miss Bernadette Dion, a waitress of many years' experience make sure that there is never a dissatisfied customer.

One hundred and two customers can be seated here at one time, 62 in the restaurant and 40 in the dining room, and there's never a delay in service. Modern equipment provides the staff with a means to keeping pace with any demands made on them, whether for light lunches or the largest in full course meals.

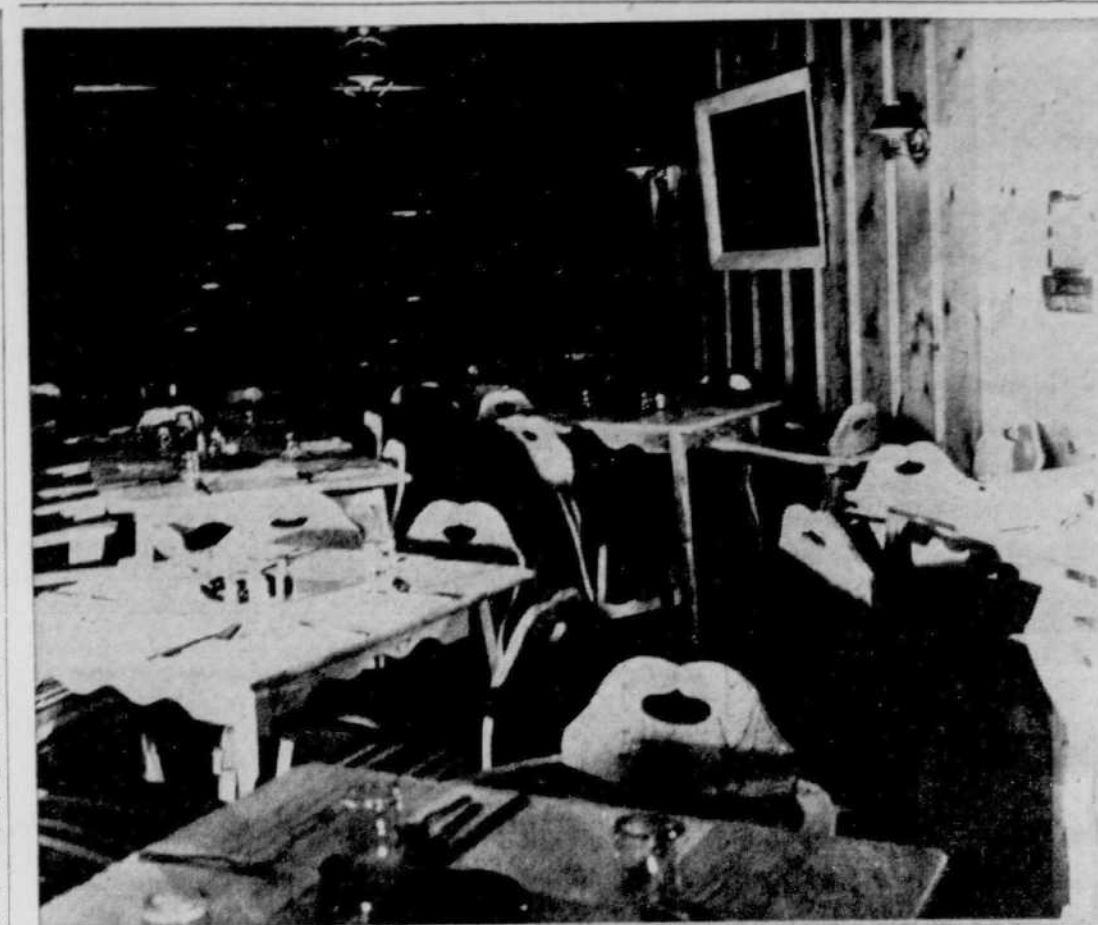

Patrons are more at ease here. The establishment was designed for rest, relaxation, and good meals. Music of their choice in a soft controlled volume, pleasant wash rooms, all that discriminating customers could ask for.

Rodolphe Mercier, owner and manager of the Magog Bar-B-Q, is a young man, and has lived in Magog since 1926, coming to this city as an infant. Just another of the city's young men, he is known and liked by everyone. He attended the St. Patrice Academy, during which time he entered sports, and excelled in hockey, boxing, softball and baseball. His first employment was with the Dominion Textile Company. He then opened a men's clothing store which he operated for six years and later turned to hotel keeping for two years. Two and a half years ago he returned to Magog, and 18-months ago built the Magog Bar-B-Q.

Old friends and acquaintances were pleased that Rodolphe has returned, and his fellow businessmen are glad to have him in their midst. He's a real promoter, and a credit to the city.

BEDFORD —

Miss Nettie Lovering is the guest of her sister and niece, Mrs. W. Ketchum and Miss G. Ketchum, in Stanstead.

MODERN FEATURE — The dining room at the Magog Bar-B-Q is a unique feature of this establishment. Dining room and restaurant combined, can accommodate 102 persons. Modern facilities and efficient staff guarantee excellent service at all times.

Danish Ship Is One Of Prettiest Ships Afloat

By JOHN CHADWICK

COPENHAGEN (Reuters)—Denmark's lovely ambassador of the seas, a white, tall-masted sailing ship, will slip out of Copenhagen's harbor during June and head out to sea on a six-months' voyage which will take it to Africa, the Mediterranean, and across the Atlantic to the West Indies.

The school ship Danmark, newly refitted, will begin a new phase in its career, looking just as proud and elegant as when it was launched a quarter of a century ago.

In command will be Capt. Knud Hansen, who has sailed the oceans for 44 years—390,000 miles with the Danmark.

The 80 boys aboard will be Denmark's latest group of "sea-going apprentices," future officers in their country's merchant marine.

NATIONAL TRADITION — The Danmark is more than ship. It is a national tradition. That is why, in spite of criticism from some quarters that maintaining a sailing ship is outdated and unnecessary, it has been completely refitted by the state during the winter and now is ready to begin its second quarter of a century of service.

The Danmark is one of the most beautiful ships afloat. In scores of countries crowds flock to the waterfront when it arrives, its three masts crowded with white sail.

The ship is a familiar sight in ports throughout the world. It has anchored in 84 harbors in Europe, Africa, North and South America and the West Indies, and has established countless valuable connections between this little Scandinavian country and distant parts of the world.

It was not surprising, therefore, that after months of arguments among the experts, the Danish government decided last year that it should continue its ocean-going career, even though it was no longer compulsory for new officers to have served "under sail."

The Danmark, built in the early 1930s to train the country's future marine officers the practical way, will continue to turn out efficient, self-reliant leaders for modern vessels.

Latest Methods Used In Toronto Crime Laboratory

TORONTO (CP)—A new scientific crime laboratory operated by the Ontario attorney-general's department is one of a half-dozen in Canada where the latest methods are applied to aid police.

"We don't make cases—we just look for the facts," says Dr. Ward Smith, director of the laboratory in the provincial police's new criminal investigation bureau in downtown Toronto.

The equipment in the laboratory, valued at more than $100,000, makes some of Sherlock Holmes' fictional deductions look pretty elementary.

There's a spectograph, a densitometer, spectrometer, infra-red light, comparison microscope and x-ray machine among other devices. All play an important part in tripping up the criminal.

VARIETY OF METHODS

The spectrometer can spot a counterfeit coin in seconds. Another machine, the spectrophoto-meter, identifies a drug or poison by measuring the amount of ultra-violet light they absorb. The more familiar x-ray machine can locate a bullet embedded in a wall.

The infra-red light brings out writing on burned paper, or an erasure on a forged cheque. The comparison microscope can find almost anything, such as part of a fingerprint on a matchstick.

The reputation of the crime laboratory appears to have won the respect of the underworld.

Police in Northern Ontario recently picked up a suspected safe-cracker, carrying his tools. He refused to talk.

Kiwanians Faced

Busy Schedule At

Waterloo Meeting

WATERLOO — A busy schedule faced members of the Kiwanis Club when they attended the regular weekly meeting. During the dinner hour, President Wally Jenks announced two birthdays being celebrated during the week, that of Jacques "3.2" Chagnon, and Frank "one eye" Makinson. He also announced that Gerry and Grace McGovern were celebrating their wedding anniversary.

The group was led in a lively sing-song by Tom Wilkinson and Sam Wayne, accompanied by Roger McKergow on the piano.

Maurice Lalumiere, chairman of the boys and girls committee, read a letter from a local family, thanking the club for their little son's tonsillectomy which the club had paid for.

Roger McKergow reported that an interclub meeting was planned with the St. Johnsbury Club in June. Secretary John Chapman read the report for the month of April with the club receiving a total of $9.2 out of a possible 100 points. In March the club placed tenth in the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime District.

Rev. Glynn Davis, chairman of the Support of Churches committee announced that the Annual Kiwanis Church service would be held on June 7th at 7.30 p.m. in the United Church.

Owing to the fact that the milk fund is quite low, it was decided that the delivery of free milk to selected families will be discontinued from June 1 until Nov. 1. The club felt it advisable to keep a small reserve in order to guarantee free delivery next winter when work is scarce.

Jack Kastner, chairman of the Attendance committee, announced that the attendance for April had dropped from the month of March, when the average was 35 members out of a possible 44.

Program Chairman Frank Makinson announced that a Father and Son Night will be held on June 14, and a special program is being planned.

Final plans were made for the Safety Campaign which the club is sponsoring with the aid of the provincial government. Tom Wilkinson, chairman of the committee, reported stickers were being printed for cars passing inspection.

Gerry Tetreault is looking after the printing of check-off cards. The campaign will start with a parade in which a wrecked car will be displayed to emphasize the necessity of good lights and brakes.

Seated at the headtable with President Wally Jenks were Gordon Dunsmore, Dave Schaenfield, Gene Sheppard, Jacques Chagnon and Gerry McGovern.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY

The Alumnae of Maplewood Convent held a benefit bridge and 500 party in the City Hall. Cards were played at 33 tables.

After the games, a beautiful hand-carved kneeling bench and several elaborate cakes were sold by Chinese auction, Francis Daigle, master of ceremonies being the efficient auctioneer.

Mrs. Therese Saurette of Granby, and Mrs. W. E. Courtemanche, Mrs. Leonard Girard and Mrs. Roger McKergow were among those to draw door prizes. Numerous prizes were presented to players with high scores. First prize in bridge went to Mrs. T.

The Doctor Says

SWIMMING CAN BE HEALTHIEST SPORT — IF RULES ARE OBEYED

Swimming is one of the finest sports and is indulged in by millions.

If there is no physical reason to avoid it (such as a bad heart), if the water is not too cold, and if a few sensible precautions are taken, it is about as good a summer sport as is available.

It is never wise to swim alone. Even a strong and experienced swimmer can develop muscular cramps, become tangled in sunken obstacles or otherwise get into trouble.

Some drownings come from this kind of carelessness because no one is around to help or call for aid. It should be avoided.

Drownings also come from swimming in unsupervised areas, whether they are ponds, rivers, lakes or the ocean. In many of these the water is deeper or colder than expected and they often have submerged rocks, stepoffs or other hazards. Tides may be stronger than swimmers.

Diving in such places is particularly dangerous. Far too many reckless youngsters have broken their necks by diving — perhaps on a bet — into some place which they thought was deep but turned out to be shallow.

Allergy to cold is probably responsible for some drownings too. It is somewhat alarming how many people, particularly youngsters, seem to ignore the old rule concerning the danger of swimming after eating. After a person eats, considerable body blood gathers around the stomach to aid in digestion and is therefore not available to the muscles used in swimming or to keep the body warm.

Of course, a lot of people get away with this hazardous practice but cramps are much more likely immediately after eating. If they occur in deep water, drowning is by no means unlikely.

It should be a hard and fast rule not to go swimming for at least an hour after eating, and longer if the meal has been a heavy one.

One experienced swimmer who has done guard duty told me that an important cause of drowning is alarm or excitement on the part of the swimmer who gets into a little trouble. The fear exhausts the swimmer and he is less likely to use his head in getting out of the difficulty. This is a good point — it never helps to get panicky when in trouble.

It is a rare summer Sunday or holiday which passes without several unfortunate deaths from drowning. And the worst of it is that these deaths are so unnecessary. Just a little more care and they would have been prevented.

It would surely save lives also if more people knew something about artificial respiration and placed it in effect immediately whenever needed. The proper procedures for artificial respiration are described in virtually all first-aid manuals and more people should learn how this is done.

Future Discussed By Quebec Beef Cattle Assoc.

Upwards of 100 people attended a general meeting of the Quebec Beef Cattle Association, held recently in the New Sherbrooke Hotel. As the president, Bruce McKellar, of Dewittville, was in hospital, Howard Nichol, 1st vice-president, occupied the chair.

The chief subject under discussion was the future of the Association. Col. B. D. Lyon briefly outlined the accomplishments of the Association since its beginning in 1937. Membership is made up of purebred beef cattle breeders, feeders of beef cattle, representatives of the meat packing industry and anyone else interested in the promotion of the beef cattle industry. Its supports such endeavors as the Sherbrooke Winter Fair. In 1951, it organized the first spring sale of breeding stock. These sales have been carried on successfully ever since.

Pierre Labreque, director of the Livestock Branch, Quebec Department of Agriculture, outlined the premiums available to purchasers of purebred beef bulls. He pointed out that the premiums had been increased, but he also stated that the inspectors would be more severe in the future when accepting bills for these bonuses.

The following officers and directors were elected for the year: Past president, Mrs. McKellar, Dewittville; president, Howard Nichol, Lennoxville; 1st vice-president, Clifford Gaulin, Bury; 2nd vice-president, E. G. Smith, Magog; secretary - treasurer, D.J. Macmillan, Cookshire. Director, Mrs. T. C. Sturt, Arundel, L. Langevin, St. Pie; E. G. Smith, Magog; Robert Laberge, Danville; C. A. Staples, Montreal; Dr. E. Mercier, Lennoxville, and Armand Ouellette, Quebec.

With this board of directors, it is expected that there will be an increase in activities of the Association.

ductor, the boys, wearing blue caps, performed a precision march and were joined by the girls, wearing pink hats in a song with Louise Gosselin, at the piano.

The group presented a motion song and the band of four girls and seven boys played a number under the direction of Steven Rollins, accompanied at the piano by Claude Blais. A choral speaking number was presented under the direction of Michel Roy, the group was accompanied at the piano by Jeanne Murray in a song.

The boys sang Brother Jacques, gathered around Andre Cote, who portrayed the brother. They were accompanied at the piano by Denise and Diane Larocque.

Lucie Dumas, accompanied the group in a song and Alouette was sung, with five boys and five girls playing band instruments.

The Holy Family was sung by the group, with Susan Monty, playing the piano. A little boy attired as priest gave a few words of advice to the audience, entitled "The sermon of Father Seguin." Willie Molson played the graduation song on the piano, while the graduates, the girls in white gowns and caps and the boys in black, sang.

Prizes were distributed to the entire class as well as the certificate of graduation by Marc Gagnon, attired as a cardinal, assisted by four little folk, two girls dressed as nuns and the boys as priests. These gifts had been donated by friends and parents from the Boundary Villages and Montreal.

Miss Kathy Reed, on behalf of the class presented their beloved teacher, Rev. Mother St. Louis, with a bouquet of red and white carnations and daisies and Michel

Church Group Holds Meeting At Melbourne

MELBOURNE — The Dorothy Group of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met in the Church Hall.

It was decided to have a load of earth brought to level the church lawn.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Converse and Mrs. William Converse.

This was demonstrated as they joined in presenting the French and English numbers.

Knowlton W. A. Has 65th Anniversary Entertains Annual Deanery Meeting

KNOWLTON—St. Paul's Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was hostess to the annual Broome-Shefford W.A. deanery meeting. On the same occasion the 65th anniversary of the Knowlton branch was celebrated. A large group of officers of the diocesan board and members from the six deanery branches attended.

A service of Holy Communion was held at 11 a.m. in St. Paul's Church, at which Bishop Dixon was celebrant, assisted by Rev. Paul Busing and Rev. Rural Dean Nurse. The bishop gave an inspiring sermon based on thoughts developed from the great events which occurred on three mountains, Sinai, Calvary and Olive.

After the service those attending had an opportunity to renew old acquaintances and make new friends until luncheon was announced in the Church Hall, at which members of St. Paul's Evening Guild assisted the W.A. in serving.

The president of the branch, Mrs. F. Bowen, welcomed the guests, among whom were daughters and close relatives of pioneer members and representatives of the United Church. In her address, Mrs. Bowen stated that in 1894 the first group of local W.A. members was organized, and the work had gone steadily on through the years.
