World News In Brief

London, Jan. 13.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Attlee last night reported to the King on the work of the 10-day Commonwealth conference which ended here last night. Attlee later entertained his fellow Prime Ministers at a dinner party.

Madrid, Jan. 13.—(R)—An authoritative source today said that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower soon will confer here with Generalissimo Franco. The informant declined to say when the western European defence chief is expected.

Hamburg, Germany, Jan. 13.—(P)—Sir Ivone Kirkpatrick, British high commissioner to West Germany, warned the German people last night that playing off one against another in the cold war would lead to Germany's destruction. In a blunt speech to the German Overseas Club, Sir Ivone said that Germany must decide whether she wishes to be associated with the western nations and "must do so without equivocation."

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—(P)—The Progressive Conservative party's committee on organization, composed of representatives of all provinces of Canada, will meet shortly after Parliament opens Jan. 29, it was announced yesterday. Party headquarters issued the announcement for George Nowlan, president of the party's association and member of the Commons for the Nova Scotia constituency of Annapolis-Kings.

Paris, Jan. 13.—(Reuters)—The French navy is to be heavily reinforced this year with at least one carrier, a number of anti-aircraft ships, minesweepers and escort vessels, a navy ministry spokesman said yesterday. Twenty new ships will join the fleet—four escort ships of 2,700 tons and 16 300-ton minesweepers. The conversion of the 7,000-ton cruiser de Grasse into a flag ship will also be completed.

Belgrade, Jan. 13.—(P)—Bulgaria is smuggling "suicide squads" into Yugoslavia to spy on Marshal Tito's army, four accused Bulgarian agents testified yesterday before a packed courtroom at Nis. They were the first defendants heard among seven on trial for espionage and communist subversive activities on behalf of Bulgaria. Four others arrested with them await trial later.

Washington, Jan. 13.—(P)—The United States, Britain and France last night announced an agreement to set up new international machinery to expand production of scarce materials and distribute them most effectively among the free countries. Commodity control groups will be formed shortly to deal on a global basis with the scramble for rubber, tin and other commodities which has accompanied the Korean crisis and the western defence build-up.

Canadian Troops Find Stiff Training To Their Liking

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Miryang, Korea, Jan. 13.—(P)—The change came almost overnight. Almost 1,000 good fellows, who had done practically everything except soldier for two months, suddenly got down to the real thing. And the atmosphere became electric with keenness.

The 2nd battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, was launched on the program devised by Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone of Edmonton and Salmon Arm, B.C., its commanding officer, to carry it to battle worthiness.

Wainwright, Alta., saw individual training completed—to a level which United Nations authorities here considered rendered the battalion as battle-ready as any in the theatre.

But for two months since—at Fort Lewis, Wash., where it staged before embarking for Korea, then more than three weeks at sea, and finally at Pusan, where it married up with its equipment—the battalion had largely marked time. Stinking, squalid Pusan eliminated any "romantic" notions the men had of Korea, and, regrettably, the only satisfaction it offered was in placing in their hands the equipment with which they would fight.

Came the move inland, once had won his fight for time in which to train his men to the pitch on which both he and the Canadian government had insisted.

He chose the area himself—a

St. Laurent Arrives For French Visit

Paris, Jan. 13.—(P)—Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada arrived today by train from London for a two-day visit during which he is expected to discuss the Far Eastern situation and President Vincent Auriol's proposed Canadian visit.

The Prime Minister received a chief-of-state welcome at the North station, where his train arrived an hour late. Originally he had planned to fly from London, where he attended the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference which ended yesterday.

St. Laurent did not make any statements to reporters on his arrival. However, he scheduled a press conference for later today.

On hand to greet the Prime Minister, who will confer on a wide range of topics with French officials, were Premier Rene Pleven, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, Defence Minister Jules Moch and a representative of Auriol.

Canada's ambassador to France, Maj.-Gen. George Vanier, was among those who met St. Laurent on his arrival.

A French air force band and a guard of honor were also present. The band played the Canadian national anthem as St. Laurent stepped from the train to the red carpet laid out on the station platform.

There was a slight confusion on the train conductor's part which amused both St. Laurent and his well-wishers. The train stopped at the wrong platform and Pleven quickly ordered the red carpet transferred to where the train stopped. That done, the conductor then started up the train and pulled into the right platform. So the carpet was moved back.

Officials at the foreign ministry would not say what would be discussed during St. Laurent's visit. However, it was reliably reported that Far Eastern questions would be high on the list.

Auriol has accepted an invitation to visit Canada, probably during April and it is thought that a definite date may be set during the President's talks with St. Laurent.

Fierce Attack On Wonju Front Is Beaten Back With Terrific Support From Air Force.

By OLEN CLEMENTS
Tokyo, Jan. 13.—(P)—American infantrymen, supported by terrific air power, late today smashed attacks by waves of screaming communists in the battle for the vital Sobaek mountain passes on the bitter cold central Korean front.

A field dispatch from AP correspondent William C. Barnard, with the United States 2nd Division, said the Americans counter-attacked at 4:45 p.m. (2:45 a.m. EST) after holding firm against day-long assaults.

The Americans and attached units of French and Dutch troops are holding a critical horseshoe line south of the central Korean rail and highway hub of Wonju. They are blocking the Reds from using two main highway passes to southeast Korea. Also in the allied line was the south Korean 8th division.

Before the 2nd division counter-attacked it had fought off at least five attacks on the middle and both flanks of the 15-mile front. The snow-covered hills resounded with the fury of the battle and shouts by 8,000 to 10,000 Reds.

Allied fighters ripped into the Reds. The bloody fighting was in weather as cold as any experienced on the bleak Changjin-Hungnam front in North Korea. Temperatures went to 30 below zero.

Korea Reds opened the assault before dawn with two small "ban-zai" attacks on the 2nd division's centre. By noon they had hurled up to 10,000 troops against the arcing allied salient just south of burned-out Wonju, central Korean transport key.

And as the Koreans struck the northernmost U. N. position in Korea, other Korean and Chinese communist forces swept around Wonju in the strength of two divisions in a wide enveloping movement. Already some were cutting in behind the hard-pressed U. N. fighters who were standing fast only two miles south of Wonju.

To the north, a huge communist force was building up fast, adding to the critical situation on the central front. Chinese were moving into this concentration from the western front south of Seoul.

The importance of the raging battle was this: Wonju is a rail and road hub that controls the avenues of advance or retreat through the Sobaek range.

"It was clear today that what may be called the battle of Sobaek is increasing in scope," said an Eighth Army communiqué.

"The issue is whether the enemy can force the passes of the mountain range."

The Sobaek slants across the peninsula from northeast to southwest—a great natural barrier in front of the old Pusan perimeter.

Except for the bitter mountain battle, there was little activity along the U. N. defence line. Allied patrol action was intensive, however. The communist build-up in the west went on apace.

AP correspondent William Barnard, with the 2nd division, reported the quick development of the Red assault from the two previous rushes.

By mid-morning the Reds had co-ordinated attacks on the 2nd's front and flanks with at least a regiment in action. A strong force was reported in reserve.

At noon the Reds were hitting at all three points with 8,000 to 10,000 men.

Only once did the communist pressure ease. That was when allied aircraft swooped in for another day of mighty blows. Then the Reds added more troops to the attack.

Eight Army reported at least 1,100 Reds killed by air artillery and small-arms fire Friday. That brought the total of enemy dead in three days around Wonju to 3,500.

Air Force and navy planes claimed a toll of 1,300 Reds in Friday's operations throughout Korea. Bombers blasted Wonju and a 2nd division spokesman today said the town was 80 per cent destroyed.

Red forces, believed to include Chinese elements, continued swarming over the snow-covered hills around the east flank of the 2nd division.

They were reported some eight miles northeast of the rail and road junction of Tanyang, about 30 miles southeast of Wonju. They maintained a road block 10 miles below Wonju on the Tanyang road.

If the communists take Tanyang, U. N. forces will have only one road on which to get out of the Wonju area southward to Chungju, 27 miles away.

The Reds also had moved into Macha, another road-rail junction town 17 miles northeast of Chechon, which is almost midway between Wonju and Tanyang.

Maj.-Gen. Robert B. McClure, 2nd division commander, stressed the difficulties of fighting against a "goat-like enemy" filtering over the snow covered mountains. He told a press conference Friday: "All I want is a chance to do a

Eisenhower Is Visiting In Norway

By AKE FEY
Oslo, Norway, Jan. 13.—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew through dangerous weather from Copenhagen to Norway yesterday on the northernmost lap of his European search for fighting men and fighting spirit to oppose communist aggression.

His four-engined U. S. air force transport overcame severe icing conditions to make its second hazardous landing in 24 hours.

A less-powerful plane of American newspaper men following the Atlantic alliance defence command, was forced to turn back over the cold waves of the Kattegat to Copenhagen, where it landed with five inches of ice frozen to the under side of its wings.

Eisenhower is due to fly to London late today or Sunday.

Norway's defence minister, Jens Christian Hauge, staff chief Gen. Ole Berz and U. S. acting ambassador William P. Snow were among those who welcomed Eisenhower. Later he drove to the Oslo for fact-finding conferences with Norwegian authorities and Americans stationed here.

Eisenhower told reporters: "The size of the nations makes no difference. We must all sacrifice according to our ability. We must do it with spiritual devotion. Our aim is not even to win a victory, but to restore peace."

King Haakon VII is to receive him in audience today.

In Denmark the General was assured that the 1,400 Danish troops now on occupation duty in Germany will be turned over to his command as soon as an act can be run through Parliament and approved by the King. There is a backlog of 75,000 men who have had some training.

Eisenhower evidently encountered among the Dames a spirit of determination which pleased him. His speech to newspaper men—a ritual with each visit—undoubtedly was warmer than usual at Copenhagen.

Claxton Replies To Legion Charges On Equipment Need

Ottawa, Jan. 13.—(P)—Defence Minister Claxton said last night the government has placed orders for more than $425,000,000 worth of war planes and ships and that deliveries of clothing on order should let the forces meet any anticipated situation.

He said the question of compulsory training in the reserve forces—advocated strongly by the Canadian Legion—is "of course a matter for the Government and Parliament."

Mr. Claxton issued a statement in reply to a Legion charge that there is "a serious shortage of ships, planes and equipment and even boots and a clothing" for the armed forces and that there is an "admitted absence of adequate organization necessary to any appreciable expansion of the reserve forces."

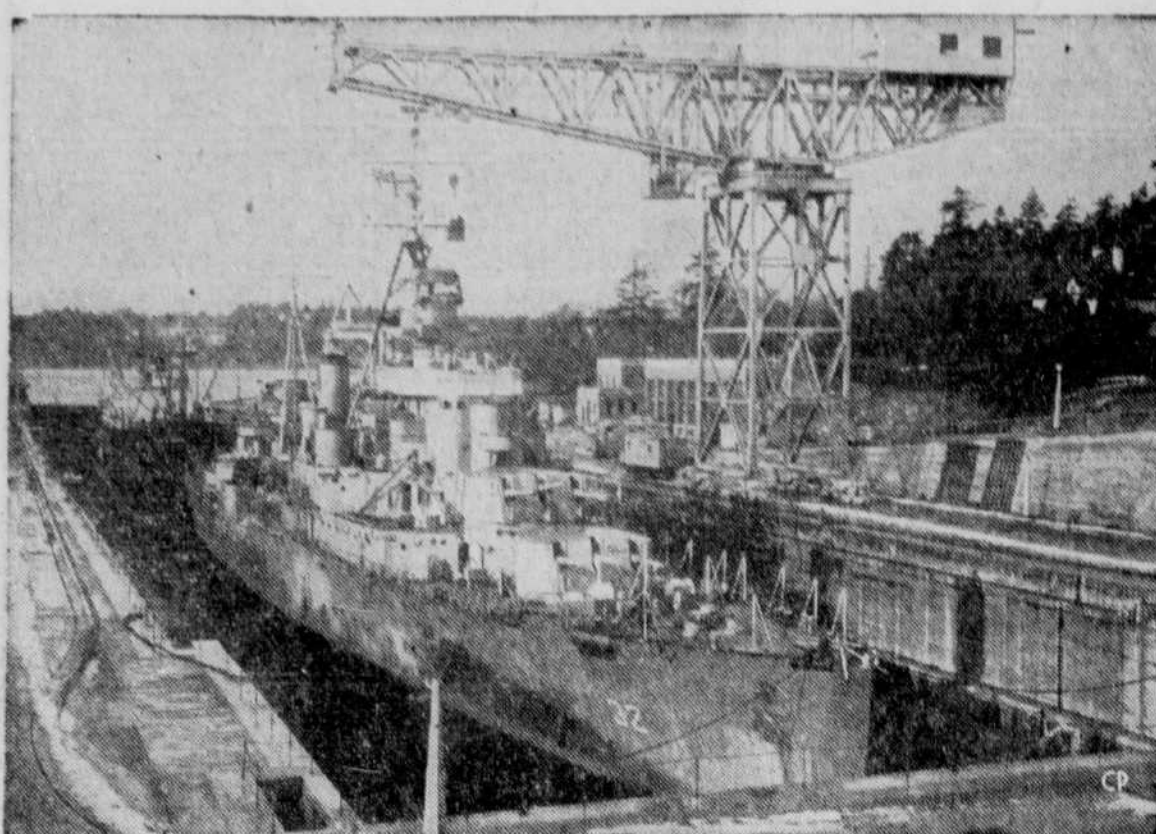

The Legion made the charge in issuing a call to its branches to mobilize public opinion to back a demand for compulsory training in the reserve forces.

Mr. Claxton's statement took up the Legion's contention that equipment shortages constitute a major obstacle to any program of compulsory training in the reserves.

He said "there are no shortages of equipment that would affect the position," and added: "Of course we need ships and planes, and so does every other country. That is why we have placed

Navy Readies Big O

Now completing refit at the Esquimaux naval base, the cruiser Ontario will sail Feb. 19 for the Antipodes on a 15-week training cruise with units of the Australian Navy. The 9,000-ton ship is expected to call at Pearl Harbor en route to Australia and may also visit New Zealand. It will be the first time a Canadian warship has visited Australia. She has a complement of 700 men under the command of Commodore H. F. Pullen.

United Nations Expected To Forward Latest Peace Plan To China Today

White River "Mild" Says Hornepayne

Sudbury, Ont., Jan. 13.—(P)—The title of coldest spot in Canada, worn for years with key dignity by the town of White River—250 miles north of here—has been challenged.

A partisan of Hornepayne, another railway town 50 miles farther north, has labelled White River's only claim to fame as "the greatest publicity fraud of the century." Reg Pitt, columnist for the Sudbury Star, claims to have records to prove it's much, much colder in Hornepayne.

Pitt tells today the results of a survey, conducted with the help of Carmen Rajotte, the Star's Hornepayne correspondent. Miss Rajotte sent in a record of temperature readings taken every day throughout December in the early-morning hours.

Pitt compared her figures with corresponding Dominion weather office records for White River, and the "coldest spot" looked like a Florida beach resort by comparison.

On a day when White River registered a mere 18 degrees below zero, the Hornepayne thermometer hit 39 below. When it dropped to 30 below in White River, it was 42 below in Hornepayne. While White River residents sweltered in a balmy 10-below breeze, their Hornepayne rivals shivered proudly in a 36-below gale.

Pitt says his records are locked away "to escape the fate of the stone of Scone." But he demands credit where credit is due, even if it means changing Hornepayne's name to Blizzard Gulch or Snow-drift Valley.

Lake Success, N.Y., Jan. 13.—(P)—Baring last-minute Russian delaying tactics, the United Nations expects to dispatch its take it or leave it peace bid to communist China today.

There is no doubt of approval by the veto-free political committee, but Russia might delay a vote until Monday.

Diplomats feel that if Russia lets the offer—which promises the communist Peiping regime a conference on Far Eastern problems in return for a cease-fire in Korea—pass without a fight, it may presage acceptance by communist China. Peiping has spurned all previous U. N. peace efforts, however, and most observers think this one will suffer the same fate.

The proposals, originally formulated by the three-man cease-fire commission consisting of Assembly president Nasrallah Entezam of Iran, L. B. Pearson, Canadian External Affairs Minister, and India's Sir Benegal N. Rau, were formally introduced as a resolution today by Israel's Abba Eban.

He read a provisional version to the committee last night. The resolution asks the U. N. to approve the cease-fire group's recommendations. It requests Secretary-General Trygve Lie to forward the proposals to Peiping and asks that government for its observations.

It was deliberately couched in language acceptable to almost all countries, and some of the more optimistic delegates felt Russia's Jacob A. Malik might refrain from objecting.

The five points made by the cease-fire group, and approved in advance by the conference of Commonwealth Prime Ministers in London were:

1. An immediate cease-fire with safeguards "ensuring that it will not be used as a screen for mounting a new offensive."

2. When a cease-fire is obtained, advantage should be taken of it to pursue consideration of further steps to be taken for the restoration of peace.

3. All non-Korean forces to be withdrawn in stages from Korea and appropriate arrangements, in accordance with U. N. principles, made for the Korean people to express their own free will in respect of their future government.

4. Appropriate interim arrangements to be made for the administration of Korea pending the establishment of the new Korean government.

5. As soon as the agreement has been reached on a cease-fire, the General Assembly shall set up "an appropriate body which shall include representatives of the governments of the United Kingdom, the United States, Russia, and communist China with a view to the achievement of a settlement, in conformity with existing international obligations and the provisions of the United Nations charter, of Far Eastern problems including, among others, those of Formosa and of the representation of China in the United Nations."

The United States agreed to the plan, because it represents the wishes of a U. N. majority and because it feels that possible rejection of the offer by the Chinese Reds would solidify non-communist support for a strong line against that country.

"We have over 50,000 units of battle dress in store and $35,000,000 worth of clothing and textiles on order. We outfitted the 10,000 men taken on for the special force and are pressing on so that deliveries of clothing, including boots and shoes, should enable us to meet any anticipated situation."

"We have more than doubled the actual fighting units during the last six months and we are going to do everything necessary to defend our country and take our full share in collective defence. The program I expect to put before Parliament will leave no doubt in the minds of the Legion or anyone else about that."

Vatican City, Jan. 13.—(P)—Francesco Cardinal Marchetti-Selvagiani, 79, dean of the Roman Catholic College of Cardinals, died today.

Cardinal Marchetti-Selvagiani, a native of Rome, received the red hat from Pope Pius XI in 1930.

British Press Council Is Proposed

London, Jan. 13.—(P)—Representatives of newspaper owners and editorial workers today made public a proposed constitution for a council to police the British press and improve its standards.

Establishment of a council of 25 men was urged by a Royal Commission in July, 1949, following an investigation of the press at the request of Parliament.

The constitution drawn up by a working committee would have as its first article: "To preserve the established freedom of the British press."

Much of the criticism of the British press, which led to the formation of the commission, came from the ruling Labor party. Its members complained bitterly that the predominantly Conservative press seldom gives the present government a break.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan once called the British press "the most proscribed in the world."

The attitude of such Labor members has led to fears on the part of the press that the government may attempt through the proposed press council to put on controlling pressures.

In an apparent effort to allay these fears, the proposed constitution provides for dissolution of the council "if it appears to the members that the voluntary nature and independence of the council are threatened."

Influenza Takes Heavy Toll In Europe And On Continent

London, Jan. 13.—(P)—Hundreds have died, thousands are ill and more are coming down with the disease every hour in the worst influenza epidemic to hit northern England since 1918.

The industrial heart of England is threatened with severe production cutbacks as the fortnight-long siege continues to ravage Liverpool, Manchester and dozens of smaller centres.

Officials say it is difficult to estimate the number who have died from the disease or from flu-bred complications. They deny, however, reports that 5,000 died in the Liverpool area.

Extra gravediggers were hurriedly hired in Manchester. Coffin funerals were held with one preacher burying as many as five victims at a single service. Clergymen were so busy with funerals that weddings and baptisms had to be postponed.

Death notices filled an entire page in a Liverpool newspaper one day this week. Most days the obituaries ran to two full columns.

The epidemic has spread to other European countries.

About one-third of the Belgium population has been stricken. Other countries, less hard-hit, reported the outbreaks were easing.

The disease forced postponement of a Belgian cabinet meeting, and many court cases were adjourned because three out of four judges were down with the flu.

In Liverpool, big west-coast seaport, 705 deaths were reported last week. The normal figure is about 200. In the greater Liverpool area 1,000 deaths from all causes were reported.

Added to the health crisis is the danger from an attendant slump in

Canadians Are Getting Hot Showers

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Miryang, Korea, Jan. 13.—(P)—It's "plumbing by Brown"—a Calgary in this Canadian camp in a chestnut grove alongside the Miryang river.

Hot showers—could anything be more civilized after a dusty day's training in the nearby hills where the 2nd battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry is preparing for action?

Capt. Owen Brown of Calgary and Cardston, Alta., second-in-command of a company led by Maj. George Flint of Montreal, thought out and dreamed up an installation.

Flint's men now use the showers in the evening, once the day's work is over, and others in the battalion may use them until their companies build their own. The charge for visitors is 25 cents a time, the proceeds going to the company canteen fund.

Brown chose a low-lying cliff sloping to the river bank for his set-up. On the higher ground are located the heating plants and tanks. In an alcove carved below into the cliff face is the shower room, covered in by tarpaulins.

The room, illuminated and heated by a kerosene stove, is walled by rocks hauled from the river. The rocks, three deep at the base and tapering to one at the top, sloped back and are faced by tarpaulins, too, lest any man slip and hurt himself on jagged edges.

"That masonry," Brown boasts, "proves that the Romans weren't the only ones who could build with rocks and using no mortar or cement."

Most of the excavating and construction work was done by Ptes. Armand Filiatrault of New Westminster, B.C., Ross Colquhoun of Clinton, Ont., and George Burnett of Victoria, B.C.

Pte. Ron Bourgon of Ottawa mans the heating apparatus—there is no pump and the water is carried from the river in pails.

Bourgon's stoves can raise the ice cold river water to warm-shower temperature within 10 minutes. Another five and the water is boiling.

Lieut. Harold Hayes of Vancouver scoured the materials, most important of which were the four 55-gallon oil drums, lengths of piping, faucets and two coffee tins which, when punctured, became the shower heads.

Korean artisans worked 8½ hours by hand in Miryang to carve a thread into the pipe so that the faucet could be screwed on.

The bath can become a steam room by the simple addition of heated rocks on to which drops of water are thrown.

Pte. Doug Ames of Fredericton, one of the first to use the installation, emerged gleaming after lathering away a heavy coating of Korean dust, to pronounce his captain's dreamchild "swell—the finest shower this side of the Pacific."

Company visitors agree they get a good two bits' worth, too.

BE CHARITABLE TO GAIN PILE.

"Whenever daughter sits at my right, I win the game. She's sure to make a bad discard sooner or later, and I gather in a nice discard pile. The reverse is true when she sits at my left. Then she always gives the pack away to my son, and I'm left high and dry."
"What can I do to win when I'm in the unfavorable position?" Surprisingly enough, you can do quite a bit. Of course, it's always better to have the weak player at your right, but you can protect yourself even when she's in the other seat.

The important point is to be mildly generous. Give away a small discard pile from time to time. Do it regularly and deliberately.

If you play a very tight game, the player at your left gets into trouble. Sooner or later, she is bound to give the pack away. If you keep giving her small discard piles, she will have enough cards in her hand to make safe discards.

When the player at your left can discard safely, the player at your right eventually begins to feel the pinch. He can get nothing useful from the pack, and eventually he may have to make a dangerous discard.

That is when you reap your reward. You are not generous to the player at your left for sweet charity's sake. You have always had in mind the eventual squeeze-ing of your right-hand opponent.

When giving a pile away, you are always most eager to get black threes into the hand at your left. They won't help that opponent offensively but they will provide absolutely safe discards.

Of course, you must provide a little sugar coating from time to time to make sure the pile is picked up. But it isn't too hard to find out what is useful to that opponent, and it won't do you much harm to help her plans along provided you don't go so far as to give her natural canastas.

If you help the left-hand opponent too much, there will be no sizable piles to pick up yourself. The plan must therefore be followed with a certain amount of moderation. The important thing to remember is that you can't win by playing too tight a game.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

What a Name!

offices shows concern for you! Her exhortations prove this. Unto you God's great Christmas gift, Jesus, was given with power available that you may forthwith become a Son of God. Your race, your denomination, your social status, these matter not. His invitation is addressed to "whosoever will" (Rev. 22:17), decide to come for His salvation is full and free. If it is otherwise, you may be sure that it is not His! Only two conditions does He demand—Renounce and Faith!

Come then, to the Saviour! Make no delay! He is the Way—the Only Way—for He plainly declared that "No man cometh to the Father except by Me" (John 14:6). To which St. Peter added: Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4:12).

To try another way would be to disloyal, improper, impertinent, unnecessary for thereby we attempt the impossible. For you Christ has a welcome. There is mercy with the Saviour. There is cleansing, healing, in His Blood. Believe then in His Holy Name. Take Him at His Word, and you will find that your life will, in the days ahead, be all sunshine in the sweetness of our Saviour Christ the Lord.

HOW?

But how can this be? Ask you. I know not how that Calvary's Cross a world from sin can free; I only know that matchless love has brought God's love to me. In that love—the love of Jesus which none but His loved ones know—will walk till travelling days are done.

"TAKE THE NAME OF JESUS WITH YOU"

As 1951 "Wise Men" take the name of Jesus with you as you journey across the coming twelve months. That name will joy and comfort give you! Take it, then, wherever you go.

Today that Name is under an organized, all-out attack. Isms—Communism, Materialism, Secularism—are conspiring to rub out the most precious of all Names. They know that the white fire of its purity has the only solution for our national and international justice and brotherhood. They would rob human hearts of this source of comfort and healing.

But this they will never do, if and when we make it the standard of all our values—the test of all our perplexities—the comfort for all our sorrows—you, shield against every temptation—the assurance of your hope for the future. Engrave that Blessed Name on your heart! Write it on your forehead! Always pronounce it with the most harmonious accents! And whenever you use that name or hear it name a hissing and a byword to some, if I will, or I can keep it good!

Onward then, along the Road of Life go, glorifying in the Name of wondrous Love, the human name for God above—Jesus! For as vintment poured forth is that name (Song of Solomon 1:3) of Him Who is my Shepherd, Brother, Friend, My Prophet, Priest and King, My Lord, My Life, My Way, My End—My Saviour!

During 1951, and until the end of your earthly pilgrimage, make it your honest endeavor to honor the Holy Name which tells that earth and heaven are bound by chains of Love. As a Christian, I am committed to proclaim it believing that the music of that Name will refresh my soul in death. "Jesus, may our hearts enfold Thee ever answering to Thy love, till our eyes at last behold Thee on Thy glorious throne above."

My soul! What a Name!

EAST ANGUS

Mrs. Lewis McHugh, of Lennoxville, and Mrs. Lily McKenzie, of Sherbrooke, were sponsors of a very enjoyable surprise house warming, given to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Willard, in their new home, on Thursday evening, December 28, by relatives and friends from Bishopston, East Angus, Lennoxville, Sherbrooke, and Milby.

Cards were played at six tables. The prizes went to first, Miss Elaine Bishop, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Carl Leonard, of Milby, the consolation; the gentlemen's first prize was won by Mr. Douglas Bishop, of Bishopston; and the consolation, by Mr. Carl Leonard, of Milby. Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies present, after which, Mr. Irving Willard, in a few well chosen words, presented Douglas and Shirley with a beautiful Kenwood blanket and a purse of money from their relatives and friends. Mr. Willard on behalf of himself and wife, expressed their very deep appreciation to all who had helped to make such an enjoyable evening, and for the beautiful gifts and extended a cordial invitation for all to visit them again. The singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", brought a very enjoyable evening to a close.

The Women's Institute will be held on Wednesday evening, January 17, at the home of Mrs. Claude Cooper with Mrs. B. King and Mrs. C. Damon, as the joint hostesses.

The annual Christmas party for the First East Angus Wolf Cub Pack was held in the Parish Hall, on December 20, with all cubs and leaders present. The boys played various games and then gifts, candy and apples were distributed from the Christmas Tree. Two members of the Scout Troop were present, and received special prizes for having been Two-Star Cubs, when they went into the Troop. Mr. Carl Greenewald and Mr. Thomas Moore made the presentation of "official" hand-saxes and hats to Scouts Billy Scott and Thomas Goodenough.

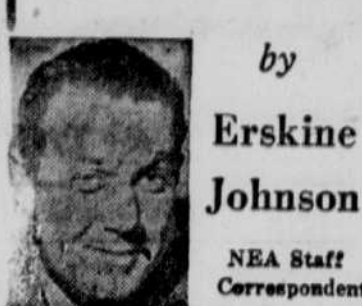

Mr. Edward Tincare spent the New Year's holidays with relatives in and around Montreal. Mr. Ronald Rowland spent the holidays with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Morrison, in Gould.

Mr. and Mrs. Justin Riddle, of Sherbrooke, spent New Year's Day, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hebert and Mrs. Riddle. Dinner guests at the same home were Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald and Miss Kay Fitzgerald.

IN HOLLYWOOD

GOSSIP MILL LINKS GARLAND WITH PRODUCER SID LUFT
Hollywood—Exclusively Yours: Now that Judy Garland has admitted she'll divorce Director Vincent Minnelli—as first rumored here weeks ago—Hollywood is wondering whether she'll become Mrs. Sid Luft. Her secret dates with Luft, whom Lynn Bari is divorcing, were the first tip-off of her split with Minnelli.

The Herb Evers who may be Janet Blair's next husband was once under contract to Fox and left Hollywood after the studio failed to pick up his option. . . . Danielle Darrieux, the French pastry, is telling pals that she made a mistake in accepting the role of Jane Powell's mother in MGM's "Rich, Young and Pretty." The role isn't what she expected.

Carmen Miranda's frank wordage when somebody admired her jewel-encrusted compact:

"My husband gave these to me after hee fight. Beeg fights, beeg prassants. Leetle fights, nothing."

Howard Hawks' big science-fiction movie, "The Thing," which may have to acquire a new title because of the Phil Harris song hit, was slated to be the first man-from-another-planet film.

But a couple of smart film writers turned producers, Jack Pollexfen and Aubrey Wisberg, are beating him to the boxoffice punch with "The Man From Planet X," starring Robert Clarke. The film just wound up after six shooting days and a $50,000 budget.

"It's a nervous A," says Pollexfen, "with a million exploitation angles."

The film carefully avoids any mention of the distance traveled by the strange visitor from Planet X.

"We did it on purpose," Pollexfen grinned. "If we had mentioned the distance some 12-year-old with a slide rule would prove we were bums."

Role
Ann Miller missed that big role in "Singing in the Rain." Too tall for Gene Kelly, who would have to be singing in the rain while standing on a ladder. . . . Jean Wallace and Cornel Wilde were a surprise twosome at the Fox and Hounds. . . . Bob Hone to a cow on the set of "The Lemon Drop Kid." "Out of my way, Crosby!"

It's top secret at MGM, but a sequence in line with the "Pinky" and "Home of the Brave" cycle will be added to "It's a Big Country." James Edwards, who scored in the latter, may star in the episode.

A western western singer lambasted the daylight recently out of eastern western singers.

Jimmy Wakely, Oklahoma-born sagebrush and pop warbler, ABC network disk jockey and Bob Hope's favorite guitar player, pointed his vocal six-shooters at eastern singers masquerading as "westerners" and pulled the triggers with:

"They're awful. They all sing through their noses and talk corny. Somebody should round 'em all up and herd 'em across the border."

There's no big secret, says Wakely, to a smooth western star.

"You just sing as good as you can and talk straight from the shoulder."

Jimmy has been warbling in his smooth western style in movies and on the radio for 13 years. For the second year he's No. 1 western singer in the juke box set and has "Bushed and a Peck" riding in No. 4 spot on the popular song parade.

After two overseas trips with Hone—to Korea and Alaska—Bob calls him "Twang" and Jimmy calls Bob "Homer." Jimmy's favorite story on Bob is about him telling jokes through an interpreter to an all-Japanese audience in Tokyo.

Every time the audience laughed the interpreter took a bow!

Foiled Up
The Italian picture co-starring former Miss America, Marilyn Buford, and Toto, the clown, has struck a production snag. Marilyn was injured in a motor accident after a serious bout with pneumonia. . . . Inside word is that the Willinger photographs of John Garfield and Shelley Winters for billboards and posters for "He Ran All the Way" are too sizzling to pass the Johnston office censor.

Marie Wilson's six-week sit in Las Vegas for a divorce cost her more than a husband. She had to nix a big movie role. . . . Promised and hoped for: Helen Hayes' return to the screen, for the first time in 14 years, in Leo McCarey's "Mr. Son John." She arrives in Hollywood March 1.

Evelyn Keves plays Jeff Chandler's wife in "The Iron Man," then goes directly into "The Four Poster" as the wife of Robert Preston. She's willing: "I won't even have one day's rest between husbands."

Mery, who is a patient in the St. Francis Sanatorium, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Morrison, of Gould, were in town calling on relatives and friends.

Mr. Reginald Webb spent Christmas Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Webb, in Bishopston. Sympathy is extended to Mr. Dennis Desruisseaux and family, in their bereavement.

Miss Dorothy Montgomery was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Allen and Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, in Kinross Mills, for a few days.

Ready for action in a scene from "A Ticket To Tomahawk" the Technicolor comedy of the old west which opens tomorrow at the Granada Theatre. Appearing in the action comedy are Rory Calhoun, Dan Dailey, Walter Brennan and Anne Baxter.

Miss Esta Barr Of Boston, Mass., Charmed Boundary Rotarians With Her Fascinating Address On "Fingerprints"

Derby Line, Jan 13 — "Your fingerprints are a mark of exclusiveness; no one else in the whole world has the same prints," said Miss Esta Barr, fingerprint expert from Boston, Mass., in the course of an unusually interesting talk at the Monday meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary, held at the Del Monty Hotel. The meeting was attended by Rotarians, their wives, members of the Customs and Immigration staffs, at Derby Line and Rock Island, as well as a number of special guests. President C. R. Darby presided at the meeting.

"There are records of fingerprints as long ago as 4,000 B.C., and from that time until 629 A.D. they were used as identification. The Chinese used them for identification purposes, and there are deeds from 3,000 B.C., with prints instead of signatures. From the Emperor to the poorest coolie, each Chinese carried a reproduction of his thumb print."

"To many people fingerprints bring crime into the mind. Actually the use of prints to solve crimes, important as this use may be, is a minor matter. They are most valuable as the only positive identification of an individual. These prints are found on the hands and feet of each person. They form three months before birth and last until after death."

"The first file of prints was started in Scotland Yard, and within a short time, contained 250,000 prints. A Scotland Yard sergeant started a class in fingerprinting in St. Louis, at the time of the exposition there, and in his class was one woman, today there are about one thousand women fingerprint experts in the United States."

"The Federal Bureau of Investigation has the largest file of fingerprints in the world, with over 130 millions in the civilian file alone. As a result of fingerprints, 70,000 persons with criminal records were found to be working in vital industries in New England during the Second World War. When the famous Coconut Grove fire occurred there were many members of the armed forces present. Because their prints had been taken previously, all were identified within a very short time. All 491 who died in this terrible fire, were identified; many would not have been identified had it not been for the prints. The prints on your hands and the prints of your feet are so nearly identical, that if the hands were missing, the person could be identified by the prints of the toes or feet."

"All personal things should be fingerprinted; your checks, your withdrawal slips, your insurance policies. The prints of all voters should be on file, and each person made to place a thumbprint on his ballot. This is now done in Mexico, and the city of Chicago, Ill., is starting this practice."

"You read in stories of someone destroying their prints to prevent their being caught. This is an extremely difficult thing to do. All four outer layers of skin must be removed, and when they grow back the original prints will again appear."

"I am now advocating fingerprinting all children when they start school. Not only is this a permanent record, always useful for identification purposes, but new discoveries of use being made that make these prints even more valuable."

"Fingerprints have proven to be of great value in the early diagnosis of disease. An actual diagnosis of your physical health can be made from your fingerprints. Not only do diseases show up in the prints, but from them susceptibility to Polio can be determined. By printing, all children, it would be possible to quarantine those apt to catch the disease or to give them a serum when practical."

"Fingerprints are also useful in determining the state of your mental health, and also for vocational guidance. There is no end to the value of these prints, and as these facts are realized by more people, the criminal aspect of fingerprints will seem much less important to all of us."

Miss Barr also told of fingerprinting the giants and midgets of the Ringling Brothers Circus, and

MARBLETON

On Thursday evening, January 4, Mrs. Clifford Weyland entertained the "500" Club. The games was played in the living room, which looked very attractive, with its beautiful Christmas Tree and other decorations. Mrs. H. H. Bishop won the highest score and prize, and Mrs. William Hetherington, the consolation. The evening was very much enjoyed. At the close of the game, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Beverly Gilbert, of Cookshire, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Maskell.

Word and picture folders have been received from Mr. Douglas Weyland, who is making an extensive trip to Texas.

Dr. Elliott has been confined to the house for the past few days, owing to illness.

Mr. William Hetherington is ill at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thorndie and two sons, of East Angus, were guests on January 5, of Mrs. R. W. L. Thorndie.

Miss Lucy Weston has returned home, after spending two weeks in Sherbrooke, as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Butler.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Belford and little daughter, Laura, of New Carlisle, were New Year's guests of Canon and Mrs. Belford, at the Rectory, and Mr. and Mrs. Silver and three children, of Montreal. Rev. William Belford, of Ottawa, was a Christmas guest at the same home also Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, of Montreal. Canon H. O. N. Belford, Mrs. Belford and Mr. Hubert Belford are leaving on January 8, for an extensive motor trip to different parts of California and Mexico. Rev. J. W. Harrison is taking over the church services in their absence.

Many Join In Impressive Final Tribute To Alton Douglas Kerr

The Universalist Church at Derby Line, Vt., was filled to capacity yesterday as sorrowing relatives and a host of friends paid their last respects to Alton Douglas Kerr, for many years a prominent resident of Sherbrooke.

Mr. Kerr, who was in his 51st year, was born and educated in Sherbrooke and later continued his studies at Belleville Business College in Ontario. Son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Kerr, he was married in 1930 to Jane Audinwood, of Derby Line, who survives him.

A valuable member of the Rotary Club of Sherbrooke, Mr. Kerr moved to Derby some five years ago when ill health caused him to take a less active part in business and social affairs. At the time of his death, which came suddenly and as a great shock to his many friends, Mr. Kerr was owner and president of the National Wallpaper Company in Sherbrooke, a member of the Sherbrooke Curling Club and of the Stanstead and Compton County Fish and Game Club.

He was also a veteran of the first World War, having served with the R.C.A.F.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Kerr is survived by one sister, Dorothy, and a nephew, Bob Clark.

Feeding Of Dairy Cattle Has Been Revolutionized By Use Of Silage

(Editor's Note: The following article on silage for dairy cows was prepared by Ernest Mercier, assistant in the division of animal husbandry at the Experimental Station at Lennoxville).

By ERNEST MERCIER

The use of silage, especially of corn silage, has revolutionized the feeding of dairy cattle. It is worth from 33 to 40 per cent as much as good hay and is an economical feed for dairy cows. Hay-crop silage is worth fully as much per ton as corn silage having an equal per cent of dry matter and its cost is lower than that of corn silage in this country.

Cows will generally produce more milk on a ration containing both silage and good hay than they will when no silage is fed. The only exception is when they have an abundance of excellent legume hay of much better quality than the average. The poorer the quality of the dry roughage, the greater the value of silage for milk production.

If silage is so valuable how much should be fed to dairy cows? Many investigations have been made to find out the possibilities of replacing all the hay by silage in the ration of milking cows. Probably the longest experiment in that field was carried at the Experimental Station of Lennoxville. During five years, different groups of Jersey cows were wintered on hay-crop silage as the only source of roughage. At the end of the wintering period grass-silage fed cows were in as good flesh condition and state of health as those fed either grass silage and hay or corn silage and hay. The cost of feeding was practically the same for the three groups but silage fed cows produced a trifle more milk and buttermilk than either of the other two groups of cows.

Dairy cows can live, produce and reproduce on silage as the only source of roughage. They will eat as much as six pounds of silage per 100 pounds of weight. If corn silage is used, a meal mixture richer in protein and ground limestone or other calcium supplement must be supplied.

As it is recommended under usual conditions to feed silage as the only source of roughage for milking cows?

Cows fed twice a day all the silage and hay they will eat consume about three pounds of silage and one pound of hay daily per 100 pounds of liveweight in addition to the usual amount of meal. If the hay is of excellent quality they may eat a little more hay than this. In some experiments, the results have been satisfactory when corn or other silage has been fed as the only source of roughage, it has been necessary, in some other trials, to feed a greater amount of meal than usual to keep up the milk yield or else the production has been lowered.

Practically all of the advantages from feeding silage can be gained when no more than 20 to 40 pounds per head is fed daily, along with all the hay dairy cows will eat. If the hay is of exceptionally good quality cows may consume more dry matter and total digestible nutrients in roughage when thus fed than when given a larger quantity of silage. It is a question of getting the nutrients from the cheapest sources of roughage. Feeding well-cured legume or mixed hay is the easiest way to provide ample amounts of vitamins D in winter rations.

Considering all the information available, it seems advisable to feed in addition to silage 5 or 6 pounds of good hay per head daily instead of silage alone as roughage.

Robert Broadbent Died In Hospital Here Yesterday

Vice president of the Industrial Stampings Ltd., Bromptonville, Robert Broadbent of Danville passed away in a local hospital yesterday. He was in his 73rd year.

A highly-respected citizen of Sherbrooke, Mr. Broadbent was born in Embassy, Yorkshire, England, coming to Canada in 1881.

During his younger days, he was employed by the Acheson-Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, Peabody, Colo., and upon his return here in 1909 worked with the Sherbrooke Irons Works as machine shop foreman.

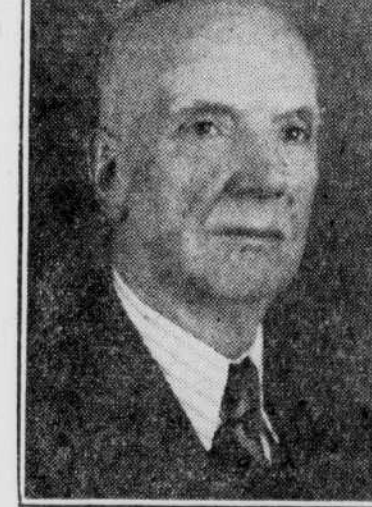

In 1920, when the plant was purchased by the Superheater Co., Ltd., he was promoted to shop superintendent, which position he held until his retirement in 1946.

Mr. Broadbent was Past Master of the Prince of Wales Lodge No. 63 A.F. and A.M., and was Past Grand Senior Warden of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, A.F. and A.M. At the time of his death he was treasurer of the Prince of Wales lodge. He was also a life member of the Sherbrooke Snow Shoe Club.

He leaves to mourn his passing: his wife, the former Eva Alice Miller; one son, Osgood; two daughters, Elberta and Evelyn (Mrs. Fred Diamond); a brother, Alfred, and a sister, Mrs. Sarah Emerson, in this city, and several grandchildren, great grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

The funeral service will be held on Sunday, January 14th, at 2:00 p.m. from Johnston's Funeral Home, Rev. Roy Stafford officiating. Interment will be in Eaton Corner Cemetery.

A Masonic funeral service will be held at Johnston's Funeral parlor at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Sherbrooke Police Hold Two Men For Thefts Here, Magog, Eastman

Two young Sherbrooke men are being held by local Municipal Police on a number of theft charges following their arrest in Magog yesterday, after a series of adventures during which they are said to have stolen the following:

A light delivery truck, property of Arthur Couture, plumber, Fifth Avenue Sherbrooke.

Automobile of Thomas Breault, garage owner of Eastman.

Contents of the cash box in a Magog garage.

Breaking into and stealing from a Magog restaurant.

Local detectives are questioning the men, both in their early twenties, in an attempt to see if they were involved in other local robberies—a series of which were perpetrated at churches here and one at a restaurant on Wellington Street South, some time ago.

Through the combined efforts of provincial Chief Telephone Lavioie and members of the Sherbrooke force, the men were apprehended in Magog early Friday morning after the second vehicle which they are said to have stolen in the space of a few hours, smashed into a fence post, going out of Magog to Sherbrooke, and burst into flame.

The policemen caught the men as they attempted to escape across a field. The other thefts were committed prior to this, with the taking of Mr. Couture's truck apparently first on the list.

The truck was abandoned at Eastman when the men took the car owned by Mr. Breault.

Chief of Sherbrooke's Municipal Police force, Edward Moreau, was delighted with the co-operation his men received from police at Magog and Eastman.

"If you remember," he said, "we caught a man here a few days ago who was wanted by the police at Magog. In this case the Magog police have caught people we are interested in here."

Rover Scouts Plan Meeting Here Tonight

The first meeting of a Rover Scout group will be held this evening at seven o'clock at the St. Patrick's Old Boys office, 49 King Street, West.

This group, for boys 17 years of age and over, will be under the leadership of John Lenaghan. The meeting will be attended by Patrick M. O. Evans, field commissioner from Ottawa.

Tomorrow, at 2:15 p.m., a meeting for all Scout officers of the district will be held at Plymouth church hall.

The plan achievement meeting, announced earlier this week, will take place at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 21, at St. Peter's church hall. This is a change of site as it previously was planned to meet at Plymouth church hall.

On Jan. 20, a banquet will be held for the 2nd Lennoxville pack at St. George's hall at 6 p.m. Mr. Evans will be the guest speaker. Presentations will be made by Mr. Evans.

Funeral Service For Mr. Chailier Monday Morning

Funeral services for the late Victor Chailier will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Antoine Church. Mr. Chailier, well-known citizen of Lennoxville, passed away at his home, 17 Church Street, Thursday evening, after a short illness.

Wood superintendent with the Brown Co. of Berlin, N.H., for 36 years, Mr. Chailier retired two years ago because of ill health and came home to Lennoxville.

He is survived by his widow, the former Marie Louise Robidas, five sons, Arthur, Constant, Roland, John and Gilles, all of Lennoxville, and one daughter Rose. Resting at his late residence until the funeral, the late Mr. Chailier will be buried in Lennoxville Cemetery.

Our Congratulations To:
P. A. DAUNCEY, who is observing the anniversary of his birth tomorrow.
PHIL BIRON, who is celebrating the anniversary of his birth today, and ARTHUR KER- RIDGE whose birthday will be celebrated tomorrow.

M. Dunsmore Will Speak Here Monday

Malcolm Dunsmore, M.A., principal of the Granby High School, will speak at the meeting of the Home and School Association on Monday evening, January 15th. Mr. Dunsmore is a graduate of the Sherbrooke High School and of Bishop's University and is a former president of the Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers. He will speak on "Recent Trends in Education."

The meeting will be held this time at the Lawrence School and will start at eight o'clock. A special bus will leave Portland Square at 7:30 and will return to that spot after the meeting.

The pupils of the school will render musical selections during the evening.

Resort Owners Are Hoping For More Snow

Local winter resort owners — experiencing their second poor skiing season in a row — had a faint smile on their faces yesterday as a few inches of snow fell. Skiing conditions are expected to be from fair to good this weekend in the North Hatley area and at Manoir Orford and it is expected that the ardent hickory artist will find skiing conditions very good at Mt. Orford.

Hillcrest Lodge reports that a large number of guests have arrived and more are expected for the week-end.

If conditions remain unchanged some and maybe all the ski tows at Hillcrest are expected to be in operation for the week-end.

BE CAREFUL

Several skiers are injured annually due to the fact that they try to ski where there is not sufficient snow. A hidden branch or rock has sent more than one skier, even some experienced ones, to hospital.

Start out gradually. Get the feel of your skis and practice your turns.

Skiing is becoming a popular winter sport—let's hope that a few more feet of snow will fall before the dust flies.

Two Children Are Injured, Vehicles Damaged In Accident At Lennoxville

Two children were injured and two vehicles were damaged in a collision which occurred on the Lennoxville road just a few minutes after noon yesterday.

Paul Bouffard, 5, and his 9-year-old sister, Anita, were taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital here. They were passengers in a car driven by their father, Leon Bouffard, 48, of Megantic. Mr. Bouffard was not injured.

A truck, driven by Frank Krywoszej, 42, of Birtchen, was headed towards Sherbrooke and apparently tried to pass another vehicle when he saw a car, driven by Mr. Bouffard, and headed towards Lennoxville. The two vehicles crashed and following the accident the truck came to a stop about 60 yards from the car.

Neither driver was hurt but young Paul Bouffard is suffering from a fractured leg while Anita will return home today after being treated for nervous shock.

Provincial Police Traffic Officer Rosario Bergeron investigated the accident.

Several minor accidents were reported by municipal police in the city yesterday.

All accidents were the result of the icy condition of the roads. No one was injured, however and damage was light.

Sportswear Mfg. Company Is Established Here

George Breckenridge, well-known local sportsman, has recently established a new industry in this city, manufacturing sportswear garments such as hipsters, waders, parkas, raincoats, storm (hunting) suits and sports jackets made from a special plastic material, Vynilite.

Mr. Breckenridge is thus adding to the well-established lines of fishing tackle, lures and other related equipment which he has been selling from coast to coast over the last five years.

The local company has close working arrangements with Seal-Dri Sportswear Company of Rockford, Illinois. Mr. Breckenridge having acquired the exclusive rights of manufacture and sale of Seal-Dri garments for Canada.

Norman Ralston, president of the Rockford company is at present in Sherbrooke instructing and advising the local company in the making of Seal-Dri garments which are electronically sealed by the latest-known processes, making them 100 per cent waterproof.

In this new venture, Mr. Breckenridge has associated with him a few of his personal friends and the new company, known as the Seal-Dri Sportswear Company of Canada has rented quarters at 19 Wellington Street South.

The local company is at present giving employment to 15 young men and women, all of this community, and prospects are that the personnel will have to be increased substantially in the not too distant future.

L. P. Letourneau New Manager At Saint Jean's

The Directors of C. O. Saint Jean, Ltd., have announced the appointment of L. P. Letourneau, a man with wide experience in the field of retail merchandising, as manager of the local store.

Mr. Letourneau brings to Saint Jean's the fruits of 35 years experience with such large stores as Dupuis Freres Ltd., the T. Eaton Company of Montreal and Le Syndicat de Quebec, Ltee.

Mr. Letourneau began his career, as have many other men in his business, as a clerk, and through his enterprise, rose to the position of director in charge of purchases and sales manager at Le Syndicat de Quebec, Ltee.

Mr. Letourneau said he plans to reinstate at Saint Jean's the old principles on which the past success of the store was built. Clients may be assured he added, that at Saint Jean's they will al-

BRITAIN AND HONG KONG

The warning issued by the United States Department of State that citizens of that country evacuate Hong Kong is an indication that official Washington fears that British Crown Colony is on the list of Communist aggressions.

Hong Kong is, of course, indefensible against any strong attack. This was demonstrated effectively in December, 1941, when the two Canadian battalions, Winnipeg Grenadiers and the Royal Rifles, were overpowered along with a large number of Imperial troops. The island is only thirty-two miles in area (not counting the adjacent peninsula of Kowloon) with about one million persons packed in it. To these have been added an estimated 750,000 Chinese refugees in the past few years.

A large percentage of the population can be reckoned as undependable, with little loyalty to the British or anyone else and would be good subjects for fifth column activity. The city would be under heavy bombing attack. Equally important, its water supply from the mainland can be cut off, so it could not stand a siege. In fact, it was the failure of the water supply that caused the surrender of December 1941. Some British troops are stationed there but whether a gallant but useless defence would be attempted remains to be seen.

STALIN IS "GOOD COPY"

A Yugoslav newspaper counted 91 mentions of Stalin on the front page of Pravda, the leading Moscow propaganda organ, in just one issue. Naturally, none was uncomplimentary, and many fairly reeked with reverence.

One need only recall President Truman's music critic letter and the critical storm it generated to realize how different things are on this continent. If the United States followed the Stalin model, it would take a mass grave to hold all the editors who spoke against Mr. Truman on that occasion.

EUROPEAN STEEL PRODUCTION — A BIG PRIZE

The biggest military prize in the world today is the steel production of Europe. It is as simple as two plus two equals four. Yet in the discussion of the relative importance of Europe and Asia to the United States the situation is frequently forgotten.

With Western Europe's steel on America's side Russia's long term victory in direct combat is virtually impossible, the Christian Science Monitor maintains, which adds if this steel were integrated into Soviet strength the position of the United States would be perilous indeed. Discussing the whole situation the Monitor continues:

There is no similar steel stake in Asia. Asia's vast potential for the time is manpower. But who will make the guns, the tanks, the locomotives, the machines to equip Asia's potential soldiers? For generations to come the center of such production will not be in Asia (outside of Japan) but in North America, in western Europe and in Russia itself.

The simple statistics tell the story better than a volume could do. They show the awful danger threatening the United States if Russia should grab western Europe. They explain the cold shiver that went through many American military men at the question of Senator Robert A. Taft (Rep., Ohio), "Can Europe be defended?" If Europe's steel production and potential cannot be defended and if this means that it will ultimately go to Russia, then the situation is gloomy indeed. If only for its own preservation, America needs to defend western Europe.

Here are some comparative figures of steel capacity for 1949 expressed in metric tons (the figures on short tons would be larger):

United States and Canada, 95,000,000.

Western Europe, 60,000,000.

U.S.S.R. and satellites, 27,000,000 (?).

If the Soviet conquered western Europe and took over its steel capacity, then its output would be about equal to North America's. Omitting the United Kingdom (with 16,500,000 ton capacity) the Soviet would still boost its controlled production to about 70,000,000 tons if it took over the balance of Europe.

Look for the contrast at the Pacific. Biggest steel capacity there is Japan's with 7,000,000 metric tons. Australia and India have about the same, around 1,500,000 each. Communists have taken over China, but its steel capacity is only about 100,000 tons, while Manchuria has about the same amount. Korea has about 75,000 tons.

Here is the military argument for defending Europe. The Soviet is steel poor. It has added a little to its own estimated 21,200,000 ton capacity by taking over four satellite nations: The Czechs with 2,800,000; Poland, 2,200,000; Hungary, 800,000, and Rumania, 300,000. But it is no match on this basis for the outside world.

Steel is what Russia needs. Germany has an estimated 1949 capacity of 17,000,000 tons, France 10,000,000, the Saar 2,700,000.

CHECK ON HUNTERS

Winnipeg Tribune

With the aim of reducing the number of hunting accidents and as a deterrent to infractions of the provincial game laws a reader suggests the Manitoba government change the hunting licence system.

His idea is to have the permit to hunt resemble an automobile licence on which would be endorsed all major offences. In this way, he argues, it would be possible to prevent an irresponsible hunter from getting permission to shoot the year following his indictment, or longer if the offence was serious enough to warrant that.

Some years ago the practice in this province was to issue a blacklist of men who, because of game-law infractions the preceding year were refused licences. In those days, however, there were only about 5,000 licences issued annually and relatively few prosecutions. Now there are about 5,000 prosecutions annually and 60,000 permits to hunt are issued.

OLD SONGS NEVER DIE

Guelph Mercury

Why is it that the old songs never become out of date? What causes such old favorites as "The Heart Bowed Down," and "I Dreamt I Dwelt in Marble Halls" to receive repeated encores after the Bohemian Girl has run for more than three score years? What is more plaintive than that immortal Scotch song, "The Land O' the Leal," or "Flow Gently Sweet Afton"?

The writer once heard a famous tenor sing the recitative and aria, "How Weak and Frail a Thing is Man," and "Lend Me Thine Eyes," from the Queen of Sheba. He gave a superb rendition of this classic. He received a certain amount of applause, more of a perfunctory sort, but enough to warrant an encore. He responded with that simple little song, "To Mary." There was no brilliant accompaniment, just a few chords on the piano, but the singer had feeling and pathos. When he was through there was absolute silence for almost a minute. Then the immense audience burst into not simply hand-clapping—but cheers. As regards musical excellence the two selections are not in the same class, but the simple folk song gripped the audience—it went home.

Singers and entertainers would do well to remember at times that after all, the old songs have a tone and color that takes. They are "human interest" songs, if the term is appropriate.

PORK TRADE

Regina Leader-Post

There patently are two aspects to the problem of what to do about the pork trade with the U.S. There is the temporary one of endeavoring to stimulate hog production to utilize the frozen feed wheat. There also is the long-term question of removing the artificial barriers against the movement of Canada's food products to the markets of the world. In the past, farmers have been against tariffs, import quotas, embargoes, and other man-made obstacles to the freer movement of trade.

It once was the proud boast of the Canadian farmer that he could compete with any farmer anywhere in producing food for world consumption. If only he had a chance to do so through the elimination of tariffs and other trade restrictions. If Canada offered an assured market for all the farmer could produce, he might be able to forget these boasts of yesterday. But such is not the case. The economic survival of the farmer rests on the restoration of trade on a multilateral basis through the continued reduction of tariffs and other restrictions.

Although there may be temporary disadvantages to hog producers in the removal of embargoes against two-way trade in hogs and hog products with the U.S., Canada's farmers stand to benefit in the long run by such a step toward the elimination of as many as possible of such artificial barriers to the freer sale of Canadian food products throughout the world.

CANADA'S DUTY

St. Catharines Standard

Quoting Defence Minister Claxton that "the time has come when every young man must consider if it is not his duty to serve his country by joining the Reserve or Active armed forces." The Hamilton Spectator, in language of futility observes that it is no use to point out the breakdown of the voluntary system of recruiting and no point in trying to disguise its failure, because: "Demagogic politicians have done too good a job in the past selling the conviction that it is not a young Canadian's duty to train for his country's defense." That paper agrees with Mr. Claxton about the duty of a young man and also suggests that the duty of the elected government is "to take this country out of its shameful role as the only English-speaking country TO REFUSE to give its young men a chance to train for the emergency which cries from every house-top."

Here are facts and figures: U.S. target 3,500,000, Canada's establishment 69,000, now 8,000 short. To measure up to the U.S. present strength, Canada should have 227,000, and when the U.S. forces reach 3,500,000, the Canadian equivalent would be 318,000. Britain has over one million men under arms; the Canadian equivalent would be 300,000 in uniform.

Why compulsory training? It is a natural and honorable form of insurance against pushing untrained men into battle against totalitarianism's hardened professionals. It is the fair way and the most efficient for preparedness. To date, Canada is on a one-fifth limited liability basis as compared to Britain or the U.S. The military policy of the government is one of grope and hope.

NO CLEAR PICTURE OF ANYTHING

What A Name!

By REV. B. S. MURRAY, M.A.

One of the first thrilling experiences of parenthood is, I am told, the selection of a name. Sometimes that causes quite a stir. Of Jesus, of whom I am thinking today, this was not so. His name for many generations remained a secret with God the Father.

Until that historic day when the angel Gabriel, sent by God, announced to the maiden Mother, kneeling in her lowly cell, at Nazareth, the Name of Jesus. To Joseph also an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream telling him that his espoused, Mary, would bring forth a son and "thou shalt call His Name Jesus; for He shall save His people from their sins." (Matt. 1:21).

This Joseph did for on the eighth day after birth, the infant Jesus was circumcised and received the name of Jesus, which means "God the Saviour." What a beautiful idea! To give a child a name that implies public service. Sometimes we name a child after some greatly admired person who may be a stranger to us because he has done something for his church or his country. Is not this truly to "Christianize" the child, for so the Lord Christ was named, a name which should serve His people. To dedicate the child almost at birth to His people is to follow the example of the Holy Family.

How I would have liked to have called at that time and just listened to the conversations. Of course the mother called the Child Jesus. But what did He call her? Mother? According to the Bible, His name for Mary was "woman." (John 24:19-26); Matt. 12:46-50. This St. Paul confirms when he writes: "When the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law." (Gal. 4:4).

Back to that wonderful night, I go, in imagination, and with the Jewish shepherds on the hillside, hear that angel announce: "This day is born unto you a Saviour which is Christ the Lord in the city of David." Here are four pearls of deathless music set in motion for aye! They tell the story briefly: "In the city of David . . . Christ the Lord . . . A Saviour . . . Unto you! Prophecy was fulfilled! The Saviour came! B.C. yielded to A.D.!"

Let us pause for a brief period over the words, A Saviour Jesus did not come to condemn. "For God sent not the Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world should be saved through Him." He came to save. And He saves as to the past, the present and the future. As to the past, He is Christ Jesus whom God set forth to be a propitiation. As to the present, the blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin. As to the future, "He is able to present you faultless before the presence of His glory." Surely then, Jesus is all sufficient! Beware lest we forget that He takes your part and pleads for you in Heaven above. (Heb. 7:25) Jesus Only then, should be your motto. Only in Him can we know justice, good will, righteousness, lasting peace, joy and the fullness of life for every one. And He is a suitable, willing, all sufficient Saviour Who on Calvary's Cross, for our redemption, made there (by His one oblation of Himself once offered) a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction for the sins of the whole world. Keep that Jesus saves!

As a member of that Church, why not endeavor to make 1951 a victorious year over sin—a year of grace and salvation? To do this, be a realist and face the fact of sin. I know that sin is not a popular subject. I also know that ignoring the deep darkness of sin, the necessity of its forgiveness, and that Christ Alone can forgive sin, has robbed the Church of impelling incentives to holy living and passionate evangelism. Only when we fully realize that Christ deemed the aforementioned issues so vital that He gave His all—His life—then will we surrender and so live that our life demonstrates that Jesus Only is essential to the abundant life.

Strange how those who think about life whilst recognizing the necessity for the abolition of poverty and all physical defects yet fail to remember that Christ Jesus came to save the earth from the sin which blights the human soul. I thank God that the Church is stressing today as never before in

The Record Short Story

Football Hero

By ISABEL JOHNSTON

"But, mother, he needs me!" Laura protested, her 16-year-old face exalted with tragedy. "It's all right for you to phone and ask about him," her mother argued. "But I don't think you should insist on going to the hospital."

"The sound of my voice might be the turning point," Laura tossed back her blonde hair dramatically. "It might make him fight for life!" "I never heard of a boy dying of a broken leg," her mother said. "You don't want his mother to think you are chasing him."

"After what I went through—seeing him carried from the field on a stretcher—I don't care what anyone thinks."

"It isn't as if you were engaged," her mother pointed out. "A football hero is likely to have a number of girls admiring him."

"It isn't her worship with me," Laura insisted. "I love him!"

Some mothers worried because their children were too reserved and never confided in their parents. Mrs. Ames did not have that trouble with Laura. Laura not only showed all her feelings to her mother, she showed them to everyone. Winning Mrs. Ames listened to Laura telephoning Mrs. Hawkins. She spoke as if it were her right to accompany the family to the hospital to see Peter. There was nothing Mrs. Ames could do. She gave Laura money for flowers and hoped Laura wouldn't declare her love too frankly before the boy's mother. Maybe as Laura grew older, she would learn more finesse in dealing with men and their families.

The next day Mrs. Ames ran into Mrs. Hawkins in the grocery store. After inquiring about Peter, she tried to play down Laura's impulsiveness.

"I hope you won't let Laura plague you too much," she smiled. "You know how young girls are over a football hero like Peter."

"I know," Mrs. Hawkins smiled and then made some vague, complimentary remark about Laura. That night, Laura came back from the telephone on the verge of angry tears.

"Mrs. Hawkins won't let me go with them to see Peter tonight," she said. "She's one of those jealous, possessive mothers. Just because Peter cares for me, she wants to keep us apart."

"At least you'll have time for your homework!"

"Homework! At a time like this!" Laura muttered.

"You wouldn't want to be left behind—and have Peter go on to the Senior class," her mother suggested.

"But maybe . . . maybe . . . with this illness, Peter won't get promoted either," Laura pointed out. Then it suddenly occurred to her. "But if Peter's poor in lessons, he couldn't play football. It would break his heart. Oh surely, surely they wouldn't give him a condition after what he's done for the team!"

A brilliant idea came to Mrs. Ames.

"Maybe if you study, you can help him catch up."

That night, at least, Laura stayed home and studied, but Mrs. Ames suggested did not keep Laura away from the hospital long. Laura took to rising early in the morning to do her studying. She refused to let anything interfere with her visits to Peter. When Mrs. Hawkins did not take her to the hospital she managed to wangle a ride with some of her other relatives. She told her mother she had given up her plans of being a stylist. She had decided on nursing as her career. Mrs. Ames wanted to say that Peter's leg wouldn't be her history the service she owes to humanity and well she may do so! But she must stress no less the fact that Her greatest service is the giving of Christ to a sin-cursed world. This was her highest purpose when She was made by Her Father, and this is to be Her supreme duty to the end.

"I'm going to rub it in," Laura answered, missing Mrs. Ames' point.

As she lay in bed reading, Mrs. Ames heard Laura rushing up the stairs from her outing at the movies. Impulsively Laura burst into her mother's room, sat down on the bed and burst out:

"Do you know what? Peter read us a letter Doris wrote him."

"A love letter from another girl? That wasn't nice."

"Not a love letter. Trust Doris. Just a pally, pally, friendly one, telling Peter how much we all miss him."

Laura paused, looking tragic.

"Oh, Mom," she wailed, "when a girl really loves a man, does she always have to pretend not to?"

"It's just that she shouldn't show her feelings too plainly or too soon," Mrs. Ames explained.

"Oh, Mom, I can't be coy. I can't! I can't!"

It was some comfort to Mrs. Ames that Laura at least always took her mother's advice.

Late one Saturday afternoon, Laura came rushing into the kitchen, sparkling with happiness. Mrs. Ames had heard that Peter was coming home from the hospital. She supposed that was the reason for Laura's joy. Laura sat down at the kitchen table. Much to Mrs. Ames' amazement, she began a rhapsody over the afternoon's football game. Mrs. Ames, busy preparing dinner, kept hearing Tommy's name again and again.

"I didn't know Tommy was on the team," she said at last.

"He wasn't. But today, they let him play—and, oh boy, was he good!"

Then Laura lapsed into dreaminess. At last she said:

"Would you let me have money for some wool? For a sweater?"

"Are you going to knit Peter a sweater?"

Laura did not answer immediately. The pressure cooker whistle went off and Mrs. Ames turned it down. Then in a casual, off-hand manner, Laura explained:

"It was childish hero worship—the way Peter broke a leg for the team and all." Then Laura brightened. "It's Tommy. He's asked me to knit him a sweater. He's sure it will bring him luck on the field."

"Of course, dear, you can buy the wool," Mrs. Ames agreed. Inwardly and fervently, she hoped that Tommy wouldn't break a leg.

THE END.

TAKE TIME TO THINK—IT'LL PAY DIVIDENDS

I am sometimes surprised, and even saddened, by the fact that some players don't. For example, the hand shown today was played by a very experienced player. Yet all his experience wasn't enough to cope with the heart suit.

The bidding was quite good. South used the Blackwood Convention to find out that his partner had one ace and two kings. He then went to six no-trump, suggesting that a grand slam might be makeable.

If North had held a long suit, he might have gone on to seven, but his pass was proper with the cards he held. Since South actually failed to make even the small slam, North can hardly be accused of underbidding.

West opened the jack of diamonds, and South won with the king. He could count five spade tricks, two diamonds, and two clubs. He therefore needed three heart tricks to make his slam contract.

South laid down the ace of hearts and then finessed dummy's jack of hearts, losing to East's queen. South reasoned that he would make his contract if the heart finesse worked, if the suit broke 3-3, or if some sort of squeeze later developed.

He was disappointed on all counts. The finesse lost, and no squeeze developed. West simply saved hearts, and East saved diamonds. South therefore made only eleven tricks.

The proper way of playing the hearts to make three tricks should be known to every good player.

The first heart trick should be won by dummy's king, and the second by South's ace. South then leads his remaining heart towards dummy's ace.

Actually, the queen of hearts would have dropped on the second round, so that South would have had no problem. However, assume that the queen of hearts has not yet appeared when South leads his third heart.

If West has the queen, dummy's jack of hearts must surely make a trick—regardless of how badly the suit breaks. If the suit breaks 3-3, dummy's fourth heart will surely become established. Meanwhile, there is no risk that East may make the doubleton queen of hearts.

General Manager George Weiss Of World Champion Yankees Having Contract Trouble With Players

New York, Jan. 13 — (AP) — General manager George Weiss of New York Yankees, saddled by holdout troubles, is finding out that winning a pennant and world championship is not always a bed of roses.

Usually taciturn on salaries, Weiss admitted at a press conference today he expected difficulty signing some of his athletes.

Weiss didn't mention names but it was understood that he had in mind such players as Yogi Berra, Joe Judge, Tommy Byrne, Hank Bauer and Fred Sanford. They are among those reported disagreeing with their boss on their worth.

Thus far only five Yankees have signed 1951 contracts — pitchers Bob Muncie and Wally Hood; outfielder-first baseman Hank Hank Workman; Johnny Mize and Phil Rizzuto. Not all contracts have been mailed out, however.

Muncie, formerly with St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, was drafted last November from Los Angeles where he won 15 and lost 17. Hood, a University of Southern California graduate, had a 7-16 record at Kansas City. Workman, also with Kansas City, hit .267 but his 131 hits included 23 home runs.

The most stubborn holdout is expected to be Page. The veteran relief pitcher, who had a miserable season in 1950, has been offered a contract calling for a cut of 25 per cent of last year's $30,000 contract. Page is reported to be asking for the same salary.

Berra, the slugging Yankee catcher, already has been quoted as saying he was not satisfied with the first offer. He is reported to be demanding $30,000, a 50-per-cent increase over his 1950 salary. Bauer, whose .320 batting average was bettered only by Rizzuto and Berra among the Yankees, has returned his unsigned contract, said to call for $10,000, a 25-per-cent increase. The young outfielder wants $15,000.

Byrne, who had a 15-9 record last year although he was of little help in the final six weeks of the campaign, has been offered the same contract. He believes he is entitled to a raise.

GREEN LIGHT AT STE. ANNE DE LA PERADE

Well, here's an item of good news. It really looks as though the petits poissons (tommycods) are making one more trip anyway up the Ste. Anne River. Wednesday night Cecile Marcotte called me from Ste. Anne de la Perade to say that they were really running and that $8 had been taken from her cabin that afternoon. And Ernie Duckett of Champlain, in town for the fishermen's convention reported that they are taking fish down his way despite the difficult conditions incidental to the coincidence of very high tides and exceptionally high water. The fishermen have to go out to their traps in row boats.

I was particularly pleased to learn this because Jim Conant of Time Magazine was planning to go down to La Perade as he did yesterday, and I had hoped that he might get the picture when the fish were running, which after all is the only time it can be seen. I had given him a note to the Marcotte sisters, but Cecile told me that Mr. Auguste Baribeau, first citizen of La Perade for 10, these many years was to be on hand to meet him. Jim will see all there is to see under such guidance, and our little fish might make the enterprising U.S. weekly mark, shortly.

Honor Paid a Good Warmer

A function which I should like to have attended for purposes of applause was the recent meeting of the Lachute Council at which Game Warden Cook was presented with a $100 wrist watch. The gift was a testimonial from Argenteuil County citizens in recognition of Mr. Cook's consistent wildlife conservation efforts in the district.

Gordon Cook is known throughout the province as one of the outstanding wardens of the department. He knows the bush, the creatures which live in it and the man creatures which go into it. And there he, too, has the ability and courage to go with beneficial results to fish and game as well as anglers and hunters.

Too often such a warden is not popular in the district in which he operates and there probably are a few exceptions in Gordon Cook's case as well, but it augurs well for hunting and fishing in Argenteuil that his fellow citizens who count as sufficiently behind him and his efforts to tender him this testimonial.

But, they said in winding up a nine-day parley:

1. German and Japanese settlements should be speeded.

2. "Any feasible arrangement for a frank exchange of views with Stalin or with Mao Tze-Tung" would be welcomed.

A conference spokesman explained the Prime Ministers have in mind a meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee and French Premier Rene Pleven with Stalin to discuss the war.

3. Living standards of the millions who live in poverty in the backyards of the world should be raised. The Commonwealth bloc resolved to help where it can.

The Prime Ministers sent regards to Americans and a promise to the Russian and Chinese communists, to the United States. It has been a privilege to work closely with Americans, whose aid to war-torn countries has been warmly regarded. They are determined to stand on common ground with the United States on international issues.

To Russia and Red China: The Prime Ministers do not seek to interfere in the affairs of the Soviet Union or China or any other country.

The Commonwealth leaders met to swap ideas on all aspects of the world crisis which have stemmed from the east-west differences. As a group, their resources in men and materials could be decisive in wartime. Countries represented were Britain, Canada, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

While the call for top-level talks had general support, it was inspired largely by India's Jawaharlal Nehru. India has declared herself neutral in the cold war. Presumably she would try to stay out of a hot one.

Mrs. Beauregard Out Of Danger

A 36-year-old mother said by police to have served pills green to her four children and herself last night was reported "out of danger."

Dr. J. A. Prefontaine, physician attending Mrs. Lucien Beauregard, said she and her three surviving children were recovering from the effects of the poison.

One of her sons, two-year-old Gerard, died 24 hours after he was fed the poison by his mother, police alleged.

An inquest into his death was postponed pending recovery of Mrs. Beauregard.

In the same hospital here are her son, Jean, 4, and her daughters, Marie, 7, and Therese, 3.

Bishop's Girls Defeat Y.W.C.A. Cagers 36-24

Bishop's University girls' basketball team last night downed Sherbrooke Y.W.C.A. 36-24, in a scheduled contest of the Eastern Townships Basketball league played at the University.

It marked the first time this season that the co-eds had defeated the "Y.W.". Each team has now beaten the other once. Bishop's and the Y.W.C.A. are tied for first place in the league standings.

Playing their second game in two nights the girls of the Y.W.C.A. were a little weary and their shooting was off.

Summary: Bishop's: Brenda Stym (21), Ann MacDonald (4), Lee Seymon (7), Betsy McKindsey (6), Mary Dorrian (4), Pam Garland (6), Daphne Acheson (5), Phyllis Wells (7), "Nims" Smith (0), Barbara Fields (0) Total 36. Y.W.C.A.: Ruth Hamilton (1), Rita Berube (2), Jacky Roberts (3), Mary Fournier (7), Pat Morrison (5), Elizabeth Groves (4), Enid Smith (2), Lillian Thibault (0), Therese McKenzie (0). Total 24.

British Press

Under the constitution the council would be a voluntary organization of 12 editorial workers and 12 members of newspaper management and a management chairman. The proposed constitution was submitted for study to a joint meeting of groups representing both editorial workers and management.

In addition to article one on freedom of the press, the proposed constitution provides that the council shall undertake to:

1. Maintain the character of the British press in accordance with the highest professional and commercial standards;

2. Keep under review any developments likely to restrict the supply of information of public interest and importance;

3. Promote methods of recruitment, education and training of journalists;

4. Promote a proper functional relation among all sections of the profession;

5. Promote technical and other research;

6. Study developments in the press which may tend towards greater concentration of monopoly;

7. Publish periodical reports recording its own work and reviewing from time to time the various developments in the press and the factors affecting them.

little fighting on a piece of wide ground.

"If we could have a good tight perimeter on flat ground, the enemy could come on by the thousands and we could plow them up."

"Our mobility is so handicapped that we are brought down to the level of a man on foot with a rifle—and the enemy has many more of those than we have."

New York, Jan. 13 — (AP) — Margaret Truman was reported yesterday to have reached a tentative agreement with the National Broadcasting company to appear on a dozen radio and television shows at a salary of between $2,000 and $3,000 for each performance.

The network would say only that a contract has not been signed yet, and neither Miss Truman nor her manager, James A. Davidson, could be reached for comment.

Heavy Roll Of Business Prepared For New Session Of Legislature

Quebec, Jan. 13. — A heavy roll of business loomed today for the Quebec Provincial Legislature when it resumes its session Jan. 24 after sitting for eight days last November.

Uppermost in the new pieces of legislation to be introduced by Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale government are provincial rent control regulations and judicial changes designed to lighten the task of Quebec Superior Court now faced with a heavy backlog of pending cases.

At his regular weekly press conference, the Premier gave an outline of some of the new bills he intends to introduce.

Mr. Duplessis gave no details of provincial rent control designed to go in effect when the federal rent regulations expire in April.

He said the measure will be tabled early to allow interested parties to make "constructive suggestions."

"It is undeniable," he said, "that measures must be taken to safeguard the prerogatives of tenants and the rights of property owners and avoid the calamities of mass evictions and exploitation. These are never justified and are particularly reprehensible under the circumstances."

Two of the proposed judicial changes are designed to put under the authority of Magistrate's Court all municipal election recounts and contestations and judicial inquiries.

Recounts and contestations in municipalities which have charters of their own now are dealt with in Superior Court. Since last year, such legal action in municipalities governed by the cities and towns act and the municipal code have been heard in Magistrate's Court.

A provincial court whose judges are named by the provincial government.

Another change will exempt Quebec Labor Relations Board from what Quebec's civil service calls briefs of prerogative, a proceedings which can delay board decrees pending appeal.

The Premier said briefs of prerogative are a procedure which apply to "tribunals" and "the labor board is not a tribunal" within the meaning of the civil code.

The provincial labor code will be amended to allow collective agreements to remain in effect longer than their present one-year limit provided there is agreement between employers and employees.

The Premier will also introduce a bill for the construction of a 37,000 horse-power hydro-electric development on the Ste. Marguerite river flowing north-south into the town of Sept Iles, Que.

He said the north-shore St. Lawrence river community proposed point of shipment for Ungava iron ore, will grow with the mining development and will need more public services including hydro-electric power.

Other legislation announced by the Premier included:

1. An increase in the fund created by the government to pay two per cent interest on housing loans made under 1948 Quebec legislation.

2. Authorization for the municipality of Jacques Cartier, near Montreal, to borrow money for construction of a sewers and water-work system.

3. A municipal charter for Sept Iles.

4. A bill to clarify property titles in some Eastern Townships areas where some mineral deposits have been uncovered. The Premier did not elaborate on the mineral deposits.

5. Municipalization of the hydro-electric system in Lake Maguinette to conform with results of a referendum.

Huntingville Abattoir Is Lost In Blaze

Levesque's slaughter house, property of Julien Levesque, on the Huntingville Road, about five miles from Sherbrooke, was completely destroyed by fire early this morning.

Volunteers from the district were aroused to battle the blaze which occurred between one and two o'clock this morning and succeeded in saving 27 butchered hogs and a quantity of refrigeration equipment before the building burned to the ground.

The fire is believed to have started in the centre of the building where the oil boiler which heats the building is located. There were no buildings adjoining the abattoir.

The slaughter house was an up-to-date, completely modern, building erected less than two years ago.

Berlin, Jan. 13. — (Reuters) — Mayor Ernst Reuters, Social Democrat, and Walter Schreiber, Christian Democrat, died yesterday in a "photo-finish" mayoralty election in the west Berlin city assembly. The Free Democrats and Christian Democrats had joined together in sponsoring Schreiber. The assembly adjourned until next Thursday. Meanwhile Reuters and Schreiber will start negotiations for a three-party coalition government for west Berlin.

Singapore, Jan. 13. — (Reuters) — Five persons — three Asian policemen, the fireman of a military train and a civilian motorist — were killed in terrorist attacks in different parts of Malaya last night.

The friends of Miss Todd will be pleased to hear that she is able to be out again, after her illness.

News Briefs From Around The Province

Montreal, Jan. 13. — (AP) — Gaston Vassard, 40, who fled a number of lawyers and notaries by promising to acquire rare books spirited out of France before the German invasion, was sentenced yesterday to two years in penitentiary.

Police said Vassard visited the homes of members of the Montreal bar and of the Notaries' Association and offered to sell them rare law books saved from the Nazis. He was paid sums ranging from $5 to $125, but never produced the books.

Drummondville, Que., Jan. 13. — (AP) — Five-year-old Therese Paris of Grantham West, Que., was killed yesterday when she stepped from behind a parked automobile into the path of another car.

Montreal, Jan. 13. — (AP) — Lack of clear-cut international policies of a distinctive flag and a national anthem leave Canadians without any national pride, Rene Gobeil told the Young Progressive Conservative Association here yesterday.

Quebec organizer for the party, Mr. Gobeil said the Liberal federal government is doing little to give Canada a national anthem and distinctive flag, prerequisites of a people with strong national aspirations.

Boucherville, Que., Jan. 13. — (AP) — An R.C.A.F. Vampire jet aircraft crashed here yesterday during a routine training flight, killing the pilot.

He was identified as P.O. William Ainsley Joy, 24, of Toronto. The plane belonged to the R.C.A.F. 410 fighter squadron based at St. Hubert, Que., about 8 miles from here.

An eye-witness said the jet exploded in mid-air.

Montreal, Jan. 13. — (AP) — A. D. Dutton, chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's board of governors, yesterday told members of the board, in session here, that the CBC had never asked for a monopoly on Canadian television.

Mr. Dutton spoke following an announcement in Quebec Thursday night by Premier Duplessis that authorized the Montreal city council to start construction of a television transmitting atop Mount Royal in the heart of the city.

The Premier placed one condition on the authorization — there must be "no monopoly."

The chairman was also commenting on a statement by T. J. Allard of Ottawa, general manager of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters, who said that Mr. Duplessis' decision "means an end to CBC self-created monopoly of television on Canada if that government broadcasting organization wants to bring television to Montreal."

Quebec, Jan. 13. — (AP) — Laval University announced yesterday it will award honorary doctorates of education to Omer Jules Desaulniers, superintendent of education in Quebec province, and B. O. Filteau, French secretary and deputy minister of the department.

The doctorates will be conferred Feb. 14.

For the Purple and White this will make their fifth league contest and they will be out for their second win in as many starts, having defeated MacDonald College in their last league game.

Although the McGill cagers are considered one of the four top teams in the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Valley Conference, the Bishop's hoopers are rated an even chance of beating the Red and White by virtue of their 60 to 59 win over Palestre Nationale in an exhibition game last Saturday. McGill went down to defeat at the hands of the same Palestre Nationale by a one-sided 74 to 43 score in a recent game played in Montreal.

The Bishop's starting line-up will consist of wings John Kuebler and Stan Brabbin flanking centre Sam Purdy with Jack Simpson and Bob Birch at the guard posts. As alternates, Coach Bob Sullivan will have two very able men in the persons of Ron Hodgeman and Gord Bennett.

The next home game for the purple and white will be on February 10 against Ottawa University.

OBITUARIES

MR. WILLIAM ALEXANDER
MILES, OF RICHMOND,
FORMERLY OF FULFORD

Fulford, Jan. 13.—There passed away on December 21, 1950, William Alexander Miles, son of the late William Alexander Miles and his wife, Katherine Elizabeth McColl, all of Fulford, at the age of seventy-five years.

The deceased was born in Ful-ford and as a young man entered the employ of the C.P.R. with headquarters at Farnham. Later he was transferred to Moose Jaw, Sask., where he continued in the employ of the C.P.R. for twenty-nine years.

At the age of sixty-five, he retired and in 1940 returned east and lived at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Roy Graves, in Sherbrooke.

At the death of Mrs. Graves, he went to the Wales Home, but was taken suddenly ill and removed to the Sherbrooke Hospital, where he passed away on December 21.

The funeral took place on Friday evening, December 22, in Blake's Funeral Parlors, in Sherbrooke, with interment at Ful-ford. The Rev. Ross Adams, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, in Sherbrooke, officiated.

The bearers were Messrs. Roy
Graves, Richard Bockus, Oscar
Davis, Carmi Gaylor, all life long friends of the deceased.

He leaves to mourn his loss, two nieces, Mrs. Doris Gordon, of Granby, and Mrs. Agnes Laing, of Medicine Hat, Alta.

MR. LEMUEL COWDREY

OF ASBESTOS

Asbestos, Jan. 13.—The funeral service for Mr. Lemuel Cowdrey was held on Saturday afternoon from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, with Rev. C. Ritchie Bell, of Montreal, officiating.

The church was filled with old friends and neighbours, French and English, all of whom, came to pay their last respects. The organist and part of the United Church choir assisted with the service.

Rev. Mr. Ritchie Bell preached a very comforting sermon, taking his text from the Gospel of St.
John XIV, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions, I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am, there ye may be also."

The bearers were Messrs. William Clark, Dr. Kenneth Smith,
William Sontar, Gerald Doucet,
Dean Olney and Henry Smith.

Interment was made in the Danville Protestant Cemetery.

MR. ELEAZAR DESBIENS,

OF DIXVILLE

Dixville, Jan. 13.—The death of Mr. Desbiens occurred at the home of his son, Mr. Leopold Des-biens, on Wednesday, December 6, following a long period of ill health.

The funeral service was held from the church of St. Mathieu in Dixville, on Saturday morning, December 9, and was largely attended.

The deceased is survived by his sons, Messrs. Leopold, of Dixville, Philippe, Arthur and Gerard, of Coaticook, and Moise, of Pointe-au-Pic; two daughters, Mrs. Alguel Scalabrini (Gerardine), and Mrs. Olivia Aurie (Marie Rose), of Montreal.

The funeral was under the direction of Mr. L. Villeneuve, of Coaticook, and the interment was made in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Coaticook.

The bearers were all grandsons
of the deceased and were Messrs.
Marcel Cote, Roland, Armand,
Denis, Lawrence, and Yves Des-biens.

Among those who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Desbiens, Philippe Desbiens,
Arthur Desbiens, Gerard Desbiens,
M. Moise Desbiens, Alde Scalabrini, Mrs. Olivia Aurie, William
Savard, Adelard Audet, Eudore
Desbiens, Gerard Desbiens, Mr. and Mrs. Lefevre, Eugene Cote,
Oram Cote, Raoul Grenier,
Mme. Jeanette, Juliette, Denise,
Cecile, Giselle, Elizabeth Desbiens, Jeannine and Anita Cote, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Edward and Roger Audet, Renald, Jean-Paul, Syl-vio, Roger, Bernard and Bertrand Desbiens, Claude and Marcel Scalabrini, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pouchard, M. Gaudreau, M. A. Bergeron, Roger Jean Marie, Mrs. E.
Lapier, Mrs. E. W. Damon and many other friends.

LETTER FROM BRITAIN

Taking A Census

By A. K. ASTBURY

Plans for taking Britain's first census for 20 years are well under way. The Registrar-General, who looks after such matters, is completing his selection of 50,000 people who will go from door to door delivering and later collecting completed census forms. Centres will be set up to help those who speak little or no English; rangers of the Forestry Commission will be asked to complete forms for gipsies in their area; and the police will seek particulars from any wayfarers who may choose to sleep out of doors on the chosen day. General population figures will be published within six to ten weeks of the enumeration, and detailed studies of the statistics provided will be published at intervals over a period of years.

In 1931, when the last census was taken, we had a population of 45 million. Since then it has grown to 50 million and there have been great movements of people from one industry, and from one part of the country, to another. There are probably more people living in London now than there ever have been, and Birmingham has displaced Glasgow as the second largest city of Britain. The census, too, should provide interesting information on the extent to which Welsh is still spoken in Wales, since those who speak Welsh only, and those who are bilingual, are to be separately identified—as are Gaelic speakers in Scotland. The answers to questions on the census forms, too, will provide statistics valuable to those concerned with housing, and with those changes constantly taking place in family structure and, as a result, in the social life of the nation.

The first national census in Britain was taken in Scotland. The government, through Lord Advocate Dundas, commissioned a minister of religion to do it—the Reverend Alexander Webster, of the Tolbooth Church, Edinburgh, who got his returns by writing to every parish minister in Scotland. He made the population in 1775, just over 1,265,000; in 1931 it was nearly five million. And the commonest name in Scotland (as that last census tells us) is, strangely enough, Smith; with MacDonald and Brown second and third.

GAELIC SPEAKERS
It is, I think, in the revelation of such rather unexpected facts that a census justifies itself, at any rate to the unofficial mind. The number of Gaelic speakers in Scotland, for instance (to me a perennial source of interest) would never be accurately known without a census.

There is a rather interesting experiment going on at the moment in Kettering, England which may, like the impending census, produce some interesting results.

Musically Speaking

By MARGARET DOHERTY

The show must go on—Opera star Rise Stevens went on with the show at the Metropolitan Opera House on Thursday night despite a second-act eye injury. She was reported resting comfortably at her home today. Miss Stevens received a splinter of glass in her right eye during a wine glass-mashing scene in the second act of "Der Rosenkavalier." A house doctor removed the glass silver between the second and final acts, and the singer went through the third act without wearing a bandage.

Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships, should be proud of the fine performance given by dramatic soprano Jean Scarth at the Ermitage in Montreal, last Sunday night, when she was one of the singers of the program "Nos Futurs Enfoies."

Judging from the reception she received, Miss Scarth should be well reflected on this section of the province as well as on herself. The Red Cross is to try music with blood donations—You've heard how cows give more milk with music in the background. Well, now the Red Cross is trying to do the same thing with blood donors. Where mobile blood banks are set up in the states, the musical mood will be supplied by a Dixieland jazz outfit.

More power to the Quebec Rota Club. For sponsoring again this year a "Talent Search." This is a contest open to young Quebec artists who pursue serious study of singing, piano, violin and other classical instruments.

Might we suggest that it would not be a bad idea for one of the local service clubs to do likewise? A recital featuring Mrs. Robert Bell, organist, Miss Jean Scarth, soprano, and Miss Elizabeth Dawson, pianist, will be held in Trinity Church on February 9. More information as to the program will be published shortly.

there are storms in west and north-west London than in other parts of the city; and Hampstead, in the north-west, is known among those who live there for its sudden storms. These are at times so violent that men working in the large conduit now takes the Fleet river (after which Fleet Street is named) from Hampstead to the Thames at Blackfriars have in the past been caught underground by the suddenly increased flow of water. But for the last few years underground workers have been warned by the slamming down of the lids of manholes in the street, however sudden rain has given promise of a rush of surface water into the conduit. This noise can be heard reverberating through

AROUND the ARMOURIES

The holiday season is well and truly over and activities around the armouries will be resumed at full pace next week.

This means that this column, dormant over the holidays, will come to life again. Co-operation of the units is necessary if the column is not to be still-born, so how about sending in your news.

TED ANDERSON.
"VAN DOOS" AT HOUSE OPENING

A crack 100-man guard of honor comprised of members of the 1st Battalion Royal 22nd Regiment, Quebec City, will escort His Excellency the Governor General when he opens the first session of the 22nd Parliament in Ottawa, January 30. The famed "Van Doo's" band will play throughout the ceremony.

Major J. M. R. Gendron, of Quebec City will command the guard. Second in command will be Capt. Henri Charbonneau, formerly of Ottawa, and Lt. Raymond Labrosse, of Ottawa, will have charge of the color party.

"BOOTS AND SADDLES" STILL SOUNDED IN ARMOURIED UNITS

They don't forget the old days and the way things used to be in the Army.

Gene are the horses and the trim, plumed riders; gone is the creak of saddle leather and the impatient stamping of hooves; gone are the lances with bright pennants flying.

In their places are ponderous, viciously armed and heavily armoured cars, the roar of powerful engines, the crackle of radio static, grimy, overalled troopers and the smell of grease and oil.

But tradition dies hard in the cavalry. Perhaps for the reason alone, Ottawa's 4th Princess Louise Dragoon Gun's and other cavalry units across the country converted to Armoured Corps, continue to sound "Boots and Saddles" and "Saddle Up" when they parade.

"Boots and Saddles" reminds all members of the unit that there is but half an hour left until parade time. "Saddle Up" warns that parade will be called in 15 minutes.

But when the "Turn Out" is finally sounded, officers and men head not for the stables but for the vehicle park and the big armoured cars with which the unit is equipped.

No one has a yet tried to put a sewermen the chance of escaping

a wetting.

Miss Betty Crichtley, who was a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she underwent an operation, for tonsils and adenoids, has returned to her home in Lennoxville.

Mr. Tony Price has returned to the University of Bishop's College, Lennoxville, after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Price, Quebec City.

Mrs. E. L. Atto, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Atto, Mr. Dennis Atto and Mr. and Mrs. George Dunsmore, Lennoxville, left yesterday to attend the funeral of Mrs. L. W. Atto, Thetford Mines, which took place this morning.

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, January 10, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Dunsmore on Portland Avenue, with the president, Mrs. George Stevenson, presiding. The meeting opened in the usual manner by singing a hymn, with Mrs. W. R. Adams at the piano. This was followed by a devotional period conducted by Mrs. E. T. Jones. Several items of business were discussed, among them being the allocation for the supply. This is to be $15 as well as clothing and knitted articles, and supplies for the port workers in Montreal. The speaker on this occasion was Mrs. H. Ross Adams, who chose as her theme, "If we should really pray." In keeping with the week of prayer, Mrs. Adams based her thoughts on the words from Acts 4:31-32, mentioning the results of trust, prayer, and what it can do and has done in the lives of individuals and nations. She stressed the need for more prayer among all people in our troubled world. Mrs. C. A. Turner expressed the thanks of all to Mrs. Adams for her interesting and inspiring address. The meeting then closed by singing a hymn, and prayer by Mrs. Stevenson after which refreshments were served assisted by Mrs. L. Dunsmore and Mrs. R. A. Denovan.

HATLEY

Word has been received by Miss Winnifred Ives of the death of Mrs. J. Robinson, nee Katy Putney, a native of Hatley, and well known to the older generation. One of her twin daughters, Edith, passed away some years ago.

DAWSON'S

Facing City Free Parking Lot

Friends of Mrs. R. Truax, Westmount Street, will regret to hear she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital, where she underwent an operation, this morning.

Miss Peggy Ross, who spent the holidays with her parents, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. J. Gordon Ross, at their home in Quebec City, has returned to King's Hall, Compton.

The christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Colton, Jr., Caen Street, took place on Sunday, December 24, at the Church of Advent, the Rev. Canon E. K. Moffatt officiating. The baby was given the names, Nancy May, and the godparents were Miss Catherine Colton, Miss Verda L. Gray, Canaan, Vt., and Mr. Winston Banfill, Colebrook, N.H. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. J. Colton entertained at a reception, at their home Wellington Street, North, where the lace-covered table was centered with the christening cake, on a silver cake-stand and arranged with matching candles in silver candlesticks. The paternal grandmother assisted in serving.

Christmas Club
Meets At Bishopton

Bishopton, Jan. 13. — The annual Christmas party of the Bishopton Christmas Club was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Harrison. A light evening was spent singing carols, playing games and enjoying contests. Gifts were exchanged from the beautifully decorated tree. One new member to the Club was at this meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the evening.

General Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Joyce entertained at a New Year's party at their home here. Canasta was played at three tables, the prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Harold McKenzie. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Lorraine Jenkinson, of Montreal, spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jenkinson.

Among those from this vicinity who are patients in the Sherbrooke Hospital at present writing, are Miss Annie Hughes, Mrs. Forrest Lancaster and Mr. Aubrey Batley.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Joyce over the holidays were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Joyce, of East Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shirley, of Montreal, and Mr. Lester Joyce, of New York.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Harrison on Christmas Day were Mrs. Arthur Haddon and Miss Adelaide Haddon, of Sherbrooke, Miss Irene Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Harrison. Other guests at the same home have been Mr. Edward Haddon and Lynda and Dale Haddon, of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Norman Kittums, of Montreal.

Miss Florence Gilbert has left Montreal, where she has a position as teacher in one of the schools there.

MARRIAGES

ROY—MICHAUD

Rock Island, Que., Jan. 13.—A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday morning, December 13, at nine o'clock, in the church of "Our Lady of Mercy," Rock Island, when Solange Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aime Michaud, was married to Conrad Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roy, of Rock Island. Rev. Father Grozier celebrated the nuptial Mass, and the wedding music was played by Mr. Paul Morel. Winter flowers were used to decorate, and marked the guest pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle with lace trim, long sleeves ending in points over the hands, the full skirt forming a train. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Mr. Roy stood as witness for his son.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was served at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rock Island, where the guests were relatives and friends from Cookshire, Tomifobia, Richmond, Ayer's Cliff and the Three Villages.

Mrs. Michaud attended Stands Ursuline Convent, and Mr. Michaud attended Rock Island school. Mr. and Mrs. Michaud will reside in Ayer's Cliff.

Mother's Household Tasks Are Eased By Metal Snap Fasteners on Tots' Wear

These practical playclothes are in corduroy. The little girl (left) wears a pink corduroy creeper with ruffle around the bib and gripper fasteners to make dressing easy. Brother's overalls are dark blue corduroy with gripper fasteners at waistband and straps to give extra inches as he grows. He wears flannelette pajamas (right) with knitted bands at wrists and ankles. Corduroy slippers have snap fasteners that adjust to foot size.

By GAILE DUGAS

Children's fashions which have metal snap fasteners are apt to make mother's household tasks easier. Made to replace tiny buttons and miniature buttonholes on small garments, these fasteners reduce the contents of a mending basket to almost nothing.

Lately, these snap fasteners have appeared on clothing for children of all ages, from layette to grammar school. Such fasteners even make slippers of sturdy corduroy adjustable to individual foot size.

On a pink corduroy creeper for a small girl, these gripper fasteners are an aid to easy dressing.

And on dark blue corduroy overalls for a little boy, gripper fasteners at waistband and straps make dressing simpler and allow extra inches for growing. Since these overalls adjust to a boy's growth, they're balmy to any budget.

Flannelette pajamas for a small boy in a gray striped pattern have knitted bands at the wrists and ankles to keep him warm. And with front gripper fasteners, these pajamas encourage self-dressing.

Growing boys and girls, whose clothes take the roughest wear, can be completely dressed for playtime in corduroy or denim overalls, shirts and play skirts that have sturdy metal snap fasteners. These fasteners also appear on flannelette and seersucker robes and on raincoats.

Subject: "Sacrament."
Testimonial meeting: Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Reading room open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 3-5 p.m.
Friday evenings, 7-9 p.m., at His Majesty's Building.

"Sacrament," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 14th, 1951.

The Golden Text is from John 6:33, "The bread of God is which cometh down from heaven and giveth life unto the world."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it; For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins. But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom." (Matthew 26:26 to 29).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink of his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? If all who ever partook of the sacrament had really commemorated the sufferings of Jesus and drunk of his cup, they would have revolutionized the world. If all who seek his commemoration through material symbols will take up the cross, heal the sick, cast out evils, and preach Christ, or Truth, to the poor, the receptive thought—they will bring in the millennium." Pages 33 and 34).

Ladies' Circle Of Presbyterian Church Has Meeting At Scotstown

Scotstown, Jan. 13.—The annual meeting of the Ladies' Circle of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Mrs. A. G. Murray, on Wednesday, January 3, with Mrs. Gordon MacLeod and Mrs. D. G. MacLaver, the joint hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, reading from Psalm XIX, followed by the "Lord's Prayer" in unison. There was a good number of members and visitors.

After the call and reading of the previous minutes, correspondence was read consisting of thank you notes and good wishes from those who had been remembered at Christmas. Reports of the conveners in all departments were given. All showed a very successful year, socially and financially.

After adoption of the reports, the conveners of the nominating committee presented the following slate of officers: Honorary President, Mrs. J. W. Smith; President, Mrs. D. A. Campbell; Vice-president, Mrs. A. H. MacDonald; Secretary, Mrs. A. G. Murray; Treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Smith.

These were declared elected. After the installation of the officers by Mrs. Philip Boy, Mrs. D. A. Campbell, took the chair, read the constitution, and appointed the conveners in the various departments. A vote of thanks was extended to the president, Mrs. D. A. Campbell for her faithfulness and success in the past year and for her generosity in taking over for another year. It was noted that the Circle was organized twenty-five years ago, on January 4, with thirty-three members, eight of them are still active. The following were the first officers: President, Mrs. Malcolm Nicholson; first vice-president, Mrs. Flora Elger; secretary, Mrs. Colin MacRitchie. After adjournment, tea was served by the hostesses. At the next meeting, the hostesses will be Mrs. Arnold MacKenzie and Mrs. K. R. MacLeod.

Sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. N. Maher and

Mr. Leslie MacLeod spent the week-end in Arvida with his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Watson was in Sherbrooke visiting his father in the hospital.

Those who attended the funeral of Mrs. Horace Goodwin, included Mr. and Mrs. Lester Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodwin, Miss Laura Goodwin, Mr. Earl Coleman, Mr. Samuel Maher, Mr. Clayton Sharnan, Mr. Erwin Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sharnan and Mr. and Mrs. Rudi.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McLean were calling on Mr. Arthur Lintott, Mrs. Maher and Mrs. Charles Goodwin.

Mr. Arthur Ward and Mr. Clarence Goodwin accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Justin Sharnan were calling on Mrs. Lintott and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McLean, in Scotstown.

Mrs. Jacklin was in Bury on business.

The many friends of Mrs. Horace Goodwin were sorry to hear of her death. The family has the sympathy of all members of the community in their bereavement.

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Jean Marie on New Year's Day, when the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Maurais, and Mr. and Mrs. Theophile Major and family, of Coaticook; Mr. and Mrs. Jules Pichette and Miss Lucienne Jean Marie, of Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lacasse, of Magog; Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Jean Marie and Miss Alcide Caron, of Bristol, Conn.; and Miss Jacqueline Jean Marie, of Rock Island.

Miss Claire Charest was a guest of her brother, Mr. Gerald Charest and Mrs. Charest, in Colebrook, N.H.

Mr. William Wilcox, of Montreal, and Mrs. Bernice Carr, of Toronto, Ont., were called here by the illness and subsequent death of their mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcox, who passed away at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mailhot, where she had been receiving care for some months. The immediate cause of death was a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Roger Charest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charest, has enlisted with the Royal Canadian Navy, and left this week for Halifax, N.S., where he will train for two months.

The friends of Mrs. H. Albert Norris will be sorry to know that she had the misfortune to lose one of her pair of farm horses.

Dr. Kenneth Willis, superintendent of Magog, visited the Intermediate School here on Thursday.

Mrs. H. A. Osborne and Miss Andrea Osborne were in Montreal for a day.

Mrs. M. E. Owens has sufficiently recovered from her operation to be able to leave the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and is recuperating at the Convalescent Home, "The Hedges," in Cowansville.

LOCALS PLAY IN WINDSOR TONIGHT AND ANGUS TOMORROW

Len O'Donnell's sport shots and pot shots

The smoke has now cleared away and Stan Warecki and Ted Hodgson are still with the Sherbrooke hockey club, but no thanks to Mr. Vinet of Valleyfield.

The special meeting convened in Montreal this week must have been a real humdinger judging from the reports we hear from Forest Keene, business manager of the local club. Three ballots were cast on the subject and each time Valleyfield objected. In the end they were the only ones in the circuit who were against the transfer.

There was nothing that President George Slater could do as the league ruling states that all clubs must be in accord or it can't pass. However, the locals had another ace up their sleeve and that was the intermediate farm club. The boys signed cards and then joined the seniors immediately and in this manner they were acceptable according to the Q.A.H.A. ruling.

It still seems a funny thing to us that Valleyfield should object as we previously stated they would benefit from it just as much as the local team. The Valleyfield association looked at it from a different angle and didn't want to let either Shawinigan or the locals get any new players for their clubs. Seems a foolish attitude to adopt but that is the way they wanted it and they stuck to it.

The locals dropped a tough one Thursday evening to the Royals but it was good hockey to watch regardless of the outcome. It had been nice to have won but on the other hand somebody has to lose and this time it happened to be the Royals. They seem to have a hard time with the Royals and have yet to chalk up a win against them on the local freeze.

From the lofty position of the press box, which is partially hidden by sign boards, the defense didn't look very good and we think that at least three of the tallies can be charged to their misplays. They definitely had an off-night. Their clearing was very bad as time after time they slipped the puck right on the Royals' sticks and this eventually gave them a good scoring opportunity.

Our forwards missed several good chances but so did the Royals. The locals outshot their opponents but young Plante was just too good for our sharpshooters and he was in a big way responsible for his team's victory.

Roger Bessette turned in a good job and was forced to come up with two and three tons in a row when things were bad as the Royals were swinging around in high gear. Stan Warecki and Ted Hodgson should be a great help to the locals once they get settled and get to know their mates a little better. With the addition of Hodgson veteran Red Goupille can be rested a little more and still be very useful to the team. And we think he has earned it. Previously Coach Dugre had no other alternate but to use him as he had only four forwards but now he can work in Hodgson and no doubt the kid will come in handy.

He made a mistake the other night but on the other hand who on the team doesn't make them. He is a hard worker, but still is not in top shape, but if he keeps up his present pace it won't be long before he is. He definitely will be very useful to the boys and it should make a big difference by the end of the season. Forest Keene worked hard to obtain them and we think he should be congratulated for his untiring efforts in landing them. The team seems pretty well balanced now and barring injuries should come home with flying colors. At least we hope so.

Champion Ezzard Charles Scores T. K. O. Against Lee Oma In Tenth; Referee Goldstein Stopped Fight

New York, Jan. 13.—(P)—Ezzard Charles chopped down Lee Oma with his merciless slashing blows last night to score a technical knockout of the Buffalo boxer in 1:19 of the 10th round of his sixth World Heavyweight title defence at Madison Square Garden.

Although several of the lean Cincinnati negro's blows strayed below the borderline to draw a stream of boos, the champion had Oma in a bad way from a barrage of head punches when Referee Goldstein stopped it. Goldstein penalized Charles in the fifth and eighth for low blows and warned him in the first and second rounds of the interesting contest.

It was a much better fight than the 6-1 odds against Oma promised. The gallery mob screamed at every blow Charles drove into Lee's body after the early warning. At the end of the fight they loosed a storm of boos.

Two officials had Charles in front when the battle was stopped before Oma ever was knocked off his feet. Referee Goldstein had it 7-2, giving Oma only the rounds he got on fouls.

Judge Charles Shortell had it 6-3 for Charles and Judge Frank Forbes saw it 4-4 with one even, going into the 10th. The Associated Press card showed it for Charles 6-2-1. The 34-year-old Oma, tiring badly after the fifth round, caught the fancy of the crowd of 11,504 that paid $54,185 by his ability to shake off Charles' Sunday punches.

Time after time, Ezzard landed right-hand leads flush on Oma's jaw only to have the challenger back off the counter. The end came unexpectedly although it didn't seem Oma could continue to take the hammering blows much longer without going down.

In the 10th, Charles burst from his corner, infuriated by the boos and his inability to drop Oma. Two jabs were followed by a right to the jaw, then came eight searing left hooks to the head without return. Oma, trying to dance away, was obviously in a bad way. When another hook drove him into full retreat, Goldstein folded him in his arms and led him to his corner.

There was little of the walking Oma was used to know. None of the hands-down-at-the-side maddening saunter. He actually carried the fight to the champion in the early rounds, until he ran out of gas against a 20-year-old opponent.

The tantalizing challenger ripped open a cut under Charles' left eye in the second round. It seemed to come from a sharp right uppercut in a clinch. A cut opened over Ezzard's left eye in the sixth, the same round when a well appeared under Oma's right eye.

In the dressing room, Charles said he felt sharper than anytime since he'd been champion. "I was over anxious," he said. "I'm sorry the crowd didn't like the fight. I didn't think I hit any low blows. Oma carried his guard low and my licks kept bouncing off. Besides he wore his pants high."

"He was plenty smart and tough," Oma confirmed the views of ringside critics when he said "I just ran out of gas, that's all. I'd never fought 15 rounds before."

Of course, he didn't even finish the 10th of this 15-round match. "I wasn't hurt," he said, "only befuddled."

His chief competition is expected to come from Sweden's Alf Holmberg (now at the University of Tennessee), John Stayton of Purdue, Curtis Stone of Philadelphia's Shamahan Catholic Club, and, maybe, Willy Slykhuus of Holland.

Willy has been the mystery man of the media, and even at this late date the question is: "Will he, or won't he run?" The fleet Hollander has been in an argument with A. A. U. officials over expense money.

The mile here has but one shortcoming: Fred Wilt, the fast-travelling Federal Bureau of Investigation man, is staying in New York to compete in the Metropolitan A. A. U. Senior Championships. Ingvar Bengtsson of Sweden will try his luck in the 1,000 meter.

Arthur Wint, the Olympic Champion from Jamaica, will run the tin the 600-yards, and MacDonald Bailey of Trinidad will compete in the sprints.

Leafs, carrying the torch tossed by Edmonton Mercury from last year's world hockey championships, were faulty in their passing and unco-ordinated in attack.

A crowd of 14,000 saw the Canadian match score-for-score in the first two periods, then, with the count knotted at 2-2, fell before a four-goal Swiss spurge in the finale.

Lethbridge is the midst of a 60-game, pre-championship tour of Europe. The World Tournament starts at Paris March 11.

Don McLean and Bill Chandler got the Leafs going. Captain Ferdy Beiler led Switzerland with a pair, and Deimon, Schuoger, Trepp and Duerst added singles.

The Board's verdict was handed down in the case of James Badame, a Toronto horseman who beat the horses for $8,435 in 1947 and $4,907 in 1948 and tried to have these amounts subtracted from his taxable income. The Board turned him down.

Up to now, the government had not sought to levy on track winnings. Nor had it permitted deductions for losses at the betting wickets.

President Given Confidence Vote

A vote of confidence in Bill Webb as president was passed last night at a reorganization meeting of the LaSalle Five O'Clock Club.

Henry Ward was re-elected treasurer while Doug Davies was named to assume the duties of secretary, formerly held by Mr. Ward.

Allan Ward was elected captain of the club's dart team, with Warren (Pete) Bewick and Gordon Norton as assistant captains.

A list of club members was approved and a motion that members of the Sherbrooke senior hockey club be made honorary members was adopted unanimously.

Local Table Tennis League Opens Monday

The eight teams in the Table Tennis Association of Sherbrooke will start play on Monday night.

The schedule calls for the Elks to visit Hillcrest and the Sports Club to visit the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Bromptonville to visit the St. Jean Baptiste Choir and East Angus to visit the Y.M.C.A.

F. G. Ferguson is president of this association which is affiliated with the Canadian Table Tennis Association.

Other officers are: Honorary president, Ashton Tobin; vice-president, Jeff Wilson; secretary, Gordon Harmer; treasurer, J. L. DeLeseul.

Top Track Stars To Compete This Evening

Washington, Jan. 13.—(P)—The top track stars of the United States compete in the fourth annual Washington Evening Star Games today and, as usual, the milers threaten to run off with most of the headlines.

Don Gehrmann, former University of Wisconsin star, will try to repeat the victory he won in the mile last year.

His chief competition is expected to come from Sweden's Alf Holmberg (now at the University of Tennessee), John Stayton of Purdue, Curtis Stone of Philadelphia's Shamahan Catholic Club, and, maybe, Willy Slykhuus of Holland.

Willy has been the mystery man of the media, and even at this late date the question is: "Will he, or won't he run?" The fleet Hollander has been in an argument with A. A. U. officials over expense money.

Two Wins Would Move Them Into Third Position; Magog Moves To Waterloo For Sunday Tilt

Sherbrooke Intermediates have a wonderful opportunity of vacating the cellar position of the E. T. Intermediate Hockey League this week-end when they play Windsor tonight and East Angus tomorrow.

At present the locals are one point behind East Angus and two from Windsor, who are in third position. Two victories would vault them into a two-way tie for third spot.

This evening they pay their initial visit of the season to Windsor, to a tilt with George Guilbeault's squad, and if the locals can maintain the pace they set Thursday, when they upset the Magog Aces, they stand a fair chance of taking the Paper Makers.

Tomorrow they travel to East Angus and this will be a hard battle as Pat King and his squad are tough to beat on their home ice.

The teams are pretty well bunched with the leaders only two points ahead of Waterloo and tomorrow these two teams, the Aces and the Maroons, will meet in the Waterloo Arena in a very important battle. If the Magog team can knock off the Maroons they will extend their lead but Norris' squad will be hard to take on their home ice and a victory for them would send them into a tie for first place.

Close Matches Played In Annual Sherbrooke Curling Club Bonspiel; Finals Slated For Tonight At 8.30

The semi-finals were reached last night for the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Trophy in the Sherbrooke Curling Club bonspiel while the quarter-finals in the Southwood Memorial and the Lethorp Challenge trophies were also attained.

In the Rand section of the bonspiel eight rinks will battle it out to move into the finals. In the upper half of the bracket the Bishops will meet Frank Beaudry's foursome. In the lower part Parker Smith and his Theford Mites quartet squared off.

In the lower half of the bracket four games were run off. On the early shift Toby Jackson skated out an 8-7 verdict against C. Crozier, another Granby rink, while Chapman piloted his local aggregation to a 10-5 win over R. Bradford's Granby team. Allan Wark knocked off Stan Gallinger's local foursome 7-4 and Roy Wiggett's rink squeezed through with an 8-7 win over Joe Bellam and his Lennoxville rink, but was forced to play an extra end to do so.

The finals are slated for this evening at 8.30 while the semi-finals in the Southwood and Lethorp will be played this afternoon immediately following the bonspiel dinner which will be held at 12.30.

Magog foursome while Doug Racey guided his squad to a close 7-5 decision against J. Graves' Magog quartet. Racey will now meet Bill Hammond and his local team for the right to tangle with Connor in the semi-final.
