INFORMATION FOR CAREGIVERS

BIBLIOAIDANTS®

BETTER INFORMED
TO BETTER HELP®

ABOUT

Biblio-Aidants is a program of the Quebec Public Library Association. Close to 165 municipalities and corporations are members of the Quebec Public Library Association for a total of more than 310 service locations covering 80% of the Quebec population.

Biblio-Aidants is available in more than 850 participating public libraries as well as associated health libraries throughout Quebec. Visit our website to see if your library participates in the program.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Biblio-Aidants is an initiative of the Charlemagne, L'Assomption and Repentigny libraries. The Quebec Public Library Association would like to thank these three cities for allowing it to extend the program to the rest of Quebec by transferring the copyright.

HOW DO WE SELECT THE INFORMATION?

Each document for inclusion in the Biblio-Aidants thematic booklets is evaluated with impartiality, based on Librarianship practices in place in public libraries, using various general selection criteria.

First, the booklets are carefully designed to primarily meet the needs and interests of caregivers. Every title is evaluated according to relevance and quality of its content for the general public, in the Quebec context. If of equal value, Quebec materials are always preferred. The credibility and reputation of the author, creator, illustrator, publisher or producer are also of great importance. Furthermore, special attention is given to the timeliness and long-term relevance of the subject as well as the accuracy of the information.

With regard to documentaries, works by health professionals (doctors, nurses, occupational therapists, psychologists, etc.) are given preference. However, titles based on lay or experiential knowledge are not rejected outright, especially those involving support by a caregiver.

Finally, each thematic booklet is considered as a whole in order to respect the diversity of the topics covered and allow for a balanced presentation of viewpoints. For more information on the selection criteria for Biblio-Aidants, please visit www.biblioaidants.ca/criteria

INTERNET RESOURCES

A few tips for critically assessing information found on the Internet

THE SOURCE OF THE INFORMATION (AUTHOR OR AUTHORS)

- Who created the site?
- Is it possible to obtain information about the author or the owner of the site?
- Is it a government or university site or one belonging to a recognized organization?

THE QUALITY OF THE INFORMATION SOURCE

- What is the objective (to inform or sell)?
- Are the sources referenced?
- Are there links to similar sources (to verify the accuracy and objectivity of the information)?
- How frequently is the information updated?

Keep an eye open! Information is shared very quickly, and false news travel just as fast. We should not always rely on content shared online, especially on social networks. You may find articles in which the information is false or exaggerated. It is therefore important to check the quality of information before you believe it and share it.

General works

A BEGINNER'S GUIDE TO TARGETED CANCER TREATMENTS

Elaine Vickers. Hoboken: Wiley, 2018, 360 p.

Using over 100 original illustrations, this accessible handbook covers the biology and mechanisms behind a huge range of targeted drug treatments, including many new immunotherapies. Dr Vickers translates a complex and often overwhelming topic into something digestible and easily understood. She also explains what cancer is, how it behaves and how our understanding of cancer has changed in recent years.

LIVING WITH CANCER: A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE FOR COPING MEDICALLY AND EMOTIONALLY WITH A SERIOUS DIAGNOSIS

Vicki A. Jackson, David Ryan and Michelle D. Seaton. Baltimore: Johns Hopkins University Press, 2017, 351 p.

A resource for cancer patients and their caregivers shares relatable patient stories along with tips on how to ask the right questions to receive the proper care while continuing to living the best life possible.

TAKING CHARGE OF CANCER: WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW TO GET THE BEST TREATMENT

David Palma. Oakland: New Harbinger Publications, Inc., 2017, 255 p.

Receiving a cancer diagnosis can be terrifying, and the first thing you probably want to know is: How am I going to survive this? Cancer care requires decisions from numerous professionals, delivering treatments that are potentially life-saving, but also potentially dangerous and life-threatening. The chances of cure and survival for any given patient depend on the expertise of the cancer team, and whether procedures are in place to ensure that cancer care is delivered properly. So, how can you make sure you choose the right treatment team and ensure the best chances of survival and long-term health after being diagnosed with cancer?

HOW TO HELP YOUR FRIEND WITH CANCER

Colleen Dolan Fullbright. Atlanta: American Cancer Society/Health Promotion, 2015, 99 p.

This book contains suggestions for expressing concern and helping in practical ways throughout a friend's cancer experience, from diagnosis, through treatment, and after active treatment. It also provides insight into a friend's cancer experience in each part of the journey. For example: "What is a source of anxiety for many cancer patients? What does a cancer patient fear most when active treatment is over?"

SURVIVORSHIP: LIVING WELL DURING AND AFTER CANCER

Barrie R. Cassileth and Ian Yarett. Ann Arbor: Spry Publishing LLC, 2014, 215 p.

Cancer patients may have heard of using integrative medicine to complement traditional care and alleviate both short- and long-term side effects of cancer treatments, but where do they locate accurate information on acupuncture, massage, yoga, and nutritional therapies? This book will help patients separate the facts from the hype when considering complementary medicine.

OWN YOUR CANCER: A TAKE-CHARGE GUIDE FOR THE RECENTLY DIAGNOSED AND THOSE WHO LOVE THEM

Peter S. Edelstein. Guilford: Lyons Press, 2014, 253 p.

Dr. Peter Edelstein translates the challenging medical and psychological issues facing the cancer patient into lay terms, as well as outlining options for "owning" the path ahead. The result empowers patients and their loved ones to take control of their treatment regardless of cancer type or stage, to maintain their independence, and to oversee the processes which will determine their ultimate survival and quality of life.

THIS SHOULD NOT BE HAPPENING: YOUNG ADULTS WITH CANCER

Anne Katz. Pittsburgh: Hygeia Media, 2014, 250 p.

This book offers information and insight on a broad range of issues affecting young people with cancer.

THINGS I WISH I'D KNOWN: CANCER CAREGIVERS SPEAK OUT

Deborah J. Cornwall. Sarasota: Bardolf & Co., 2013, 256 p.

This book is the first to capture the thoughts, feelings, and insights of cancer caregivers on a large scale. Things I wish I'd known shares what 86 interviewees and dozens of others who were consulted informally wish they had known at the outset of their caregiving journeys.

FIGHTING CANCER WITH KNOWLEDGE AND HOPE A GUIDE FOR PATIENTS, FAMILIES, AND HEALTH CARE PROVIDERS

Richard Frank and Gale V. Parsons. New Haven; London: Yale University Press, 2013, 280 p.

This book features topics such as: what cancer is and how it spreads, how cancer treatment strategies are chosen, how cancer-fighting drugs work to shut down the growth of the disease, which factors affect a patient's prognosis, how patients can visualize cancer treatments at work in the body and why this is helpful, how to deal with "incurable" cancer and more.

CANCER IN OUR FAMILY: HELPING CHILDREN COPE WITH A PARENT'S ILLNESS

Sue P. Heiney and Joan F. Hermann. Atlanta: American Cancer Society, 2013, 218 p.

Jim wore a rakish hat over a good head of hair; he asked real questions and gave real answers; he loved to see Joyce shine, both in and out of the spotlight; and he didn't mind the mess she made in the kitchen. Then, just after their one-year wedding anniversary, her new husband was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer. During the nineteen months that followed, as they battled his illness together, she discovered for the first time what it really meant to be a couple—to be a true partner and to have one.

LOVE AND LAUGHTER IN THE TIME OF CHEMOTHERAPY

Manjusha Pawagi. Toronto: Second Story Press, 2017, 288 p.

April 28, 2014: I won't be coming in today, I have leukemia.' That's the message Manjusha Pawagi, a family court judge in Brampton, Ontario relayed to her office one morning after a routine blood test showed a deadly result. She did not return to work for two and a half years. This book describes how even the darkest moments of life can be made worse by roommates; details how much determination it takes to ignore the statistics; and answers the age-old question, what does it take to get a banana Popsicle when you need one?

THE CANCER WHISPERER: FINDING COURAGE, DIRECTION, AND THE UNLIKELY GIFTS OF CANCER

Sophie Sabbage. New York: Plume, 2017, 224 p.

Both memoir and self-help book, this book is the chronicle of a passage from 'terminal' diagnosis to exuberant wellness in just a few months.

KIDS DON'T GET CANCER: THE REMARKABLY INSPIRING STORY OF MICHAEL CROSSLAND

Michael Crossland. Sydney: Evolve Instant Author, 2016, 145 p.

Before Michael was even one year old, he was diagnosed with an aggressive cancer of the central nervous system – a tumour had taken over half of his tiny body. The chance of Michael surviving was virtually non-existent. He started chemotherapy at 1 year old and by his second birthday, doctors had basically given up all hope. His only hope was taking part in a drug trial program – a program of which Michael was the only participant to survive the treatment. Although he survived, he was left with some permanent scars – only one lung, a damaged heart and a sensitive immune system. He's a man who has faced (and still faces) extreme challenges in life, but he never gives up. And despite his own obstacles, he always puts others before himself and gives so much to people in need.

WHEN BREATH BECOMES AIR

Paul Kalanithi and Abraham Verghese. New York: Random House, 2016, 228p.

At the age of thirty-six, on the verge of completing a decade's worth of training as a neurosurgeon, Paul Kalanithi was diagnosed with stage IV lung cancer. One day he was a doctor treating the dying, and the next he was a patient struggling to live. What makes life worth living in the face of death? What do you do when the future, no longer a ladder toward your goals in life, flattens out into a perpetual present? What does it mean to have a child, to nurture a new life as another fades away?

IT'S OKAY TO LAUGH (CRYING IS COOL, TOO): A MEMOIR ABOUT LOVING MADLY AND LETTING GO

Nora McInerney Purmort. London: Piatkus, 2016, 288 p.

When Nora's boyfriend, Aaron, was diagnosed with brain cancer, they refused to let it limit their love. They got engaged on Aaron's hospital bed and had a baby boy while he was on chemo. With It's Okay to Laugh, Nora puts a young, fresh twist on the subjects of mortality and resilience. What does it actually mean to live your 'one wild and precious life' to the fullest? How can a joyful marriage contain more sickness than health? How do you keep going when life kicks you in the junk?

A LUCKY LIFE INTERRUPTED: A MEMOIR OF HOPE

Tom Brokaw. New York: Random House, 2015, 230 p.

Brokaw diagnosed with multiple myeloma, a treatable but incurable blood cancer, takes us through the emotions, discoveries, setbacks, and struggles – times of denial, acceptance, turning points, and courage. This memoir is a story of a man coming to terms with his own mortality, contemplating what means the most to him now, and reflecting on what has meant the most to him throughout his life.

A JOURNEY OF HOPE: ONE CHILD'S BATTLE WITH CANCER

Jeanie James. Nashville: West Bow Press, 2015, 180 p.

The author successfully captures the raw emotion, love, and courage that her family demonstrated while battling childhood cancer. This book provides a glimpse into the roller coaster of life that families are thrust into when they first hear those devastating words: your child has cancer.

TWO MOTHERS ONE PRAYER: FACING YOUR CHILD'S CANCER WITH HOPE, STRENGTH & COURAGE

Laura Lane. Fonthill: Ulukau Publishing, 2015, 226 p.

Laura and Laurie share their story of: friendship and inspiration, struggles and miracles, joy and sadness, love and loss. Their narrative provides a sense of hope and teaches us how to find needed strength and courage. It is a guide and support to any parents faltering under weight of the horrendous news that their precious child has been diagnosed with a life threatening-illness. It reminds us all of the fragility of life, the necessity to remain present in each moment, and how to find perspective in even our darkest hours.

GRATITUDE

Oliver Sacks. Toronto: Alfred A. Knopf of Canada, 2015, 45 p.

In January 2015, Oliver Sacks was diagnosed with a recurrence of cancer, and he shared this news in a New York Times essay that inspired readers all over the world: “I cannot pretend I am without fear. But my predominant feeling is one of gratitude... Above all, I have been a sentient being, a thinking animal, on this beautiful planet, and that in itself has been an enormous privilege and adventure.” Gratitude consists of four essays that originally appeared in The New York Times.

EVERY DAY I FIGHT

Stuart Scott and Larry Platt. New York: Blue Rider Press, 2015, 298 p.

Struck by appendiceal cancer in 2007, Stuart battled this rare disease with an unimaginable tenacity and vigor. Countless surgeries, enervating chemotherapies, endless shuttling from home to hospital to office and back – Stuart continued defying fate, pushing himself through exercises and workout routines that kept him strong. He wanted to be there for his teenage daughters, Sydni and Taelor, not simply as their dad, but as an immutable example of determination and courage.

EVERYBODY'S GOT SOMETHING

Robin Roberts and Veronica Chambers. New York: Grand Central Publishing, 2014, 263 p.

With grace, heart, and humor, Robin writes about overcoming breast cancer only to learn five years later that she will need a bone marrow transplant to combat a rare blood disorder, the grief and heartbreak she suffered when her mother passed away, her triumphant return to work after her medical leave, and the tremendous support and love of her family and friends that saw her through her difficult times.

THE RULES OF INHERITANCE

Claire Bidwell Smith. New York: Hudson Street Press, 2012, 304 p.

Claire Bidwell Smith, a fourteen-year-old only child, learns that both her parents have cancer. The fear of becoming a family of one compels her to make a series of fraught choices, set against the glittering backdrop of New York and Los Angeles – and the pall of regret. When the inevitable happens and Claire is alone in the world, she is inconsolable at the revelation that suddenly she is no one's special person. It is only later, when Claire falls in love, marries and becomes a mother, that she emerges from the fog of grief. Using the five stages of grief as a window onto her personal experience, Claire Bidwell Smith has written a powerful memoir that is at once exquisite and profound.

THE YELLOW WORLD: HOW FIGHTING FOR MY LIFE TAUGHT ME HOW TO LIVE

Albert Espinosa. New York: Ballantine Books, 2012, 153 p.

At thirteen, Espinosa was diagnosed with cancer, and he spent the next ten years in and out of hospitals, undergoing one daunting procedure after another, starting with the amputation of his left leg. After going on to lose a lung and half of his liver, he was finally declared cancer-free. Only then did he realize that the one thing sadder than dying is not knowing how to live. In this rich and rewarding book, Espinosa takes us into what he calls “the yellow world,” a place where fear loses its meaning; where strangers become, for a moment, your greatest allies; and where the lessons you learn will nourish you for the rest of your life.

MORTALITY

Christopher Hitchens. New York: Twelve, 2012, 104 p.

Throughout the course of Hitchens' ordeal battling esophageal cancer, he adamantly and bravely refused the solace of religion, preferring to confront death with both eyes open. In this riveting account of his affliction, Hitchens poignantly describes the torments of illness, discusses its taboos, and explores how disease transforms experience and changes our relationship to the world around us. By turns personal and philosophical, Hitchens embraces the full panoply of human emotions as cancer invades his body and compels him to grapple with the enigma of death.

DYING TO BE ME: MY JOURNEY FROM CANCER, TO NEAR DEATH, TO TRUE HEALING

Anita Moorjani. Carlsbad: Hay House, 2012, 191 p.

After fighting cancer for almost four years, Anita's body began shutting down – overwhelmed by the malignant cells spreading throughout her system. As her organs failed, she entered into a near-death experience... and the actual cause of her disease. Upon regaining consciousness, Anita found that her condition had improved rapidly – without a trace of cancer in her body! Anita shares all she has learned about illness, healing, fear, “being loved,” and the true magnificence of each and every human being!

THE END OF YOUR LIFE BOOK CLUB

Will Schwalbe. Toronto: Knopf Canada, 2012, 336 p.

NOT THE LAST GOODBYE: ON LIFE, DEATH, HEALING, AND CANCER

David Servan-Schreiber. New York: Viking, 2011, 164 p.

Nineteen years after his original diagnosis, years of deep study, and an urgent sense of mission about hope and alternatives for those with cancer, David Servan-Schreiber submits to an emergency MRI that confirms his greatest fear: the brain cancer has returned. Here, he shares his coming to terms with the news and, with courage and candor, examines his life from the point of view of one who understands that his illness is terminal – nevertheless, living every day fully and with hope.

THE MIDDLE PLACE

Kelly Corrigan. New York: Voice/Hyperion, 2009, 266 p.

Kelly is abruptly shoved into coming-of-age when she finds a lump in her breast – and gets the diagnosis no one wants to hear. When her father, too, learns that he has late-stage cancer, it is Kelly’s turn to take care of the man who had always taken care of her – and to show us a woman who finally takes the leap and grows up.

THE LAST LECTURE

Randy Pausch. New York: Hyperion, 2008, 206 p.

If we had to vanish tomorrow, what would we want as our legacy? When Randy Pausch, a computer science professor at Carnegie Mellon, was asked to give such a lecture, he didn’t have to imagine it as his last, since he had recently been diagnosed with terminal cancer. But the lecture he gave – “Really Achieving Your Childhood Dreams” – wasn’t about dying. It was about the importance of overcoming obstacles, of enabling the dreams of others, of seizing every moment (because “time is all you have...and you may find one day that you have less than you think”).

NOVELS

CRAVING

Esther Gerritsen. New York: World Editions, 2018, 189 p.

Elisabeth and her adult daughter Coco happen upon each other in the city, on opposite sides of the street. The accidental nature of their meeting is indicative of their estrangement. Elisabeth divorced Coco's father long ago, and contact with her daughter has been scant ever since. She takes the opportunity to share some bad news; she has terminal cancer and not long to live.

ALICE & OLIVER: A NOVEL

Charles Bock. New York: Random House, 2016, 399 p.

Alice Culvert is one of those people who just seem so vividly alive, which makes her cancer diagnosis feel almost incongruous. How could such a being not go on? But all at once, Alice's existence, and that of her husband Oliver, is reduced to a single purpose: survival. As they combat the disease, the couple must also face off against the serpentine healthcare system, the good intentions of loved ones, and the deep, dangerous stressors that threaten to push the two of them apart.

100 DAYS OF HAPPINESS

Fausto Brizzi and Antony Shugaar. New York: Pamela Dorman Books, 2015, 384 p.

What would you do if you knew you only had 100 days left to live? So begins the last hundred days of Lucio's life, as he attempts to care for his family, win back his wife, and spend the next three months enjoying every moment with a zest he hasn't felt in years. From helping his hopelessly romantic, widowed father-in-law find love, discovering comfort in enduring friendships, and finding new ones, Lucio becomes, at last, the man he's always meant to be.

BEFORE I GO

Colleen Oakley. New York: Gallery Books, 2015, 312 p.

WHAT'S LEFT OF ME

Amanda Maxlyn. Flower Mound: Bandit Publishing, 2014, 308 p.

Four years ago I became known as the girl with cancer. I refuse to cry. And I refuse to give in. A relationship with a man is the last thing I'm looking for right now, but one night with Parker changes everything. He is persistent, and he knows what he wants. Me. He doesn't treat me like I'm fragile. But he doesn't know that I have cancer, and I'm not ready to tell him.

THE QUARRY

Iain Banks. New York: RedHook Books, 2013, 326 p.

Kit doesn't know who his mother is. What he does know, however, is that his father, Guy, is dying of cancer. Feeling his death is imminent, Guy gathers around him his oldest friends – or at least the friends with the most to lose by his death. What will happen to Kit when Guy is gone? And why isn't Kit's mother in the picture? As the friends reunite for Guy's last days, old jealousies, affairs and lies come to light as Kit watches on.

BENEDICTION

Kent Haruf. New York: Alfred A. Knopf, 2013, 257 p.

When Dad Lewis is diagnosed with terminal cancer, he and his wife, Mary, must work together to make his final days as comfortable as possible. Their daughter, Lorraine, hastens back from Denver to help look after him; her devotion softens the bitter absence of their estranged son, Frank, but this cannot be willed away and remains a palpable presence for all three of them.

DAUGHTERS FOR A TIME

Jennifer Handford. Thorndike: Center Point Large Print, 2012, 352 p.

A woman raised by her older sister adopts a child to start a family of her own, but her joy is short-lived when her sister is diagnosed with life-threatening cancer.

COMICS

IN-BETWEEN DAYS: A GRAPHIC MEMOIR ABOUT LIVING WITH CANCER

Teva Harrison. Toronto: House of Anansi Press, 2016, 128 p.

Harrison documents through comic illustration and short personal essays what it means to live with breast cancer. She confronts with heartbreaking honesty the crises of identity that cancer brings. She struggles to reconcile her long-term goals with an uncertain future, balancing the innate sadness of cancer with everyday acts of hope and wonder.

EMBROIDERED CANCER COMIC

Sima Elizabeth Shefrin. Philadelphia: Singing Dragon, 2016, 32 p.

As soon as Bob was diagnosed with aggressive prostate cancer, he and his wife Elizabeth started making cancer jokes to take the edge off of an otherwise frightening situation. A lot of those jokes were about sex. Here, textile artist Elizabeth Shefrin has picked up a needle and thread to share those intimate jokes, revealing how they helped her and her husband to process the realities of cancer treatment.

THE INFLATABLE WOMAN

Rachael Ball. London: Bloomsbury Publishing, 2015, 543 p.

Iris (or balletgirl-42, as she's know on the Internet dating circuit) is a zookeeper looking for love when she is diagnosed with breast cancer. Overnight, her life becomes populated with a carnival of daunting hospital characters. Despite the attempts of her friends – Maud, Granma Suggs, Larry the Monkey and a group of singing penguins – to offer comfort, Iris's fears begin to encircle her until all she has to cling to is the attention of a lighthouse keeper called sailor buoy_39.

THE STORY OF MY TITS

Jennifer Hayden. Marietta: Top Shelf Productions, 2015, 352 p.

When Jennifer Hayden was diagnosed with breast cancer at the age of 43, she realized that her tits told a story. Across a lifetime, they'd held so many meanings: hope and fear, pride and embarrassment, life and death. And then they were gone. Now, their story has become a way of understanding her story: a journey from the innocence of youth to the chaos of adulthood, through her mother's mastectomy, her father's mistress, her husband's music, and the endlessly evolving definition of family.

RELATIVELY INDOLENT BUT RELENTLESS: A CANCER TREATMENT JOURNAL

Matt Freedman. New York: Seven Stories Press, 2014, 240 p.

Freedman underwent radiation and chemotherapy for his adenoid cystic carcinoma, a rare cancer that had spread from his tongue to his neck to his lungs by the time it was discovered. This is the funny, moving, courageous, and witty journal he kept during that time, in comics and words, of his thirty-five-day course of treatment.

PROBABLY NOTHING: A DIARY OF NOT-YOUR-AVERAGE NINE MONTHS

Matilda Tristram. London: Viking, 2014, 97 p.

At 31, the author was 17 weeks pregnant and looking forward to having her first baby. Then she discovered she had bowel cancer. This graphic memoir, which is never morose or self-pitying, starts at the moment she was diagnosed and ends when her course of chemotherapy finishes.

WHEN DAVID LOST HIS VOICE

Judith Vanistendael. London: SelfMadeHero, 2013, 280 p.

Up until senior year, Greg has maintained total social invisibility. He only has one friend, Earl, and together they spend their time – when not playing video games and avoiding Earl’s terrifying brothers – making movies, their own versions of Coppola and Herzog cult classics. Greg would be the first one to tell you his movies are terrible, but he and Earl don’t make them for other people. Until Rachel. Rachel has leukemia, and Greg’s mom gets the genius idea that Greg should befriend her. Against his better judgment and despite his extreme awkwardness, he does. When Rachel decides to stop treatment, Greg and Earl make her a movie, and Greg must abandon invisibility and make a stand. It’s a hilarious, outrageous, and truthful look at death and high school by a prodigiously talented debut author.

STRESS AND CANCER

Catalyst, ABC Australia. 2016, 14 min.

Online: www.abc.net.au/catalyst/stories/4489949.htm

Can stress accelerate the spread of cancer? Every day in Australia 360 people learn they have cancer. It goes without saying it's a very stressful time. Stress as a cause of cancer has not been convincingly proven but recently researchers have been looking at how stress drives the spread of an existing cancer from the original tumour. They've identified pathways caused by stress that facilitate the spread of breast cancer cells around the body. What's more remarkable, the researchers may have found a way to prevent it.

CANCER – THE EMPEROR OF ALL MALADIES: MAGIC BULLET

Barak Goodman and Jack Youngelson, PBS. 2015, 112 min.

The search for a cure is the greatest epic in the history of science, spanning centuries and continents. This film centers on the story of Sidney Farber, who defied conventional wisdom in the late 1940s to introduce the modern era of chemotherapy. He later galvanized a “war on cancer” campaign with philanthropist Mary Lasker that culminated in the National Cancer Act. Interwoven with Farber’s narrative is the contemporary story of a 17-month-old diagnosed with T-cell acute lymphoblastic leukemia. The film follows her as she and her parents struggle with the many hardships and decisions foisted upon a cancer patient.

CANCER – THE EMPEROR OF ALL MALADIES: FINDING THE ACHILLES HEEL

Chris Durrance and Barak Goodman, PBS. 2015, 113 min.

Scientists believe they have cracked the mystery of the malignant cell, and the first targeted therapies have been developed. But very quickly cancer reveals new layers of complexity and a formidable array of defenses. Many call for a new focus on prevention and early detection as the most promising fronts in the war on cancer. By the second decade of the 2000s, the bewildering complexity of the cancer cell yields to a more ordered picture, revealing new vulnerabilities and avenues of attack. Perhaps most exciting is the prospect of harnessing the human immune system to defeat cancer. A 60-year-old NASCAR mechanic with melanoma and a six-year-old with leukemia are pioneers in new immunotherapy treatments, which the documentary follows as their stories unfold.

CANCER – THE EMPEROR OF ALL MALADIES: THE BLIND MAN AND THE ELEPHANT

Deborah Dickson and Barak Goodman, PBS. 2015, 113 min.

This episode picks up the story in the wake of the declaration of a “war on cancer” by Richard Nixon in 1971 and the search for a cure. Three causation theories emerge linking cancer to viruses, chemicals, and genes that divide the scientific community. In the lab, rapid progress is made in understanding the essential nature of the cancer cell, leading to the revolutionary discovery of the genetic basis of cancer, but few new therapies become available. Not until the late 1990s make advances in research begin to translate into more precise targeted therapies with breakthrough drugs. Following the history during these fraught decades, the film intertwines the contemporary story of an oncologist diagnosed with breast cancer. Her emotional and physical struggles provide a bracing counterpoint to the historical narrative.

CANCER: THE NEW TRAILBLAZER

Marie-Pierre Jaury, ARTE France. 2015, 51 min.

Should cancer really be understood and treated as a genetic disease or could another avenue – which was once abandoned but has now been taken up again – enable us to combat it? Researchers and doctors in various countries want to revolutionize the cancer paradigm. For them, cancer is a disorder of cellular metabolism, which could be treated with a few simple molecules and anti-diabetes drugs already on the market. This film examines why genetic cancer theories became the sole focus of government funding and invites us to take stock of new research and clinical trials taking a big-picture approach by depriving cancer cells of the food and resources they need to develop.
