World News In Brief

Bombay, Nov. 29.—(P)—Thirteen persons were drowned today by a tidal wave which swept the beaches at Bombay. The tidal wave was believed to be the result of an earthquake reported yesterday somewhere at sea. Observatory experts placed the centre of the quake in the Arabian Sea at a point equidistant from Karachi and Bombay off Western India.

The experts said the shock was one of the worst recorded here in 96 years.

Auburn, Calif., Nov. 29.—(P)—Nine men were killed last night and 16 injured in the crash near here of a transport plane bound from Palm Springs, Calif., to Sacramento.

All the passengers were Japanese-American soldiers. It was not immediately learned whether the nine dead were passengers or crew members.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—(P)—A protest against the wrecking of five Japanese cyclotrons on orders from Gen. MacArthur as "wanton destruction" of valuable scientific instruments which could be duplicated in Canada only at great cost in money and scientific effort, was issued here today by the National Executive of the Canadian Association of Scientific Workers.

Signed by 70 workers in the fundamental atomic research laboratories of the National Research Council here, a statement said destruction of the Japanese cyclotrons "is in a class with the burning of books by the Nazis" and that cyclotrons were not instruments for production of atomic bombs.

"By running these cyclotrons continuously for 1,000,000 years, the Japanese might have been able to make enough plutonium for one bomb," the statement said.

Moncton, N.B., Nov. 29.—(P)—The Transportation Commission for the Maritime Board of Trade today recommended that a survey be made to determine the benefits and detriments which would accrue to the Maritime Provinces if the St. Lawrence seaway and power project were carried out. It was felt that the seaway would tend to centralize industry further in Ontario and Quebec.

The commission will ask air line officials to consider including Maritime points in international air services between Canada and Europe, the West Indies and South America. In the event that this step cannot be worked out, it was recommended that authorities consider granting stop-off privileges to air services crossing the Maritimes.

Montreal, Nov. 29.—(P)—The Montreal Gazette says today in a newspaper story that three or four "flying barbottes" now are operating while the regular ones are still closed, one month after they voluntarily shut their doors "in an attempt to dodge the coming storm."

The Gazette adds: "One of these is being operated by the owner of the best known St. Catherine Street East barbotte house which is now advertised as a 'gymnasium'."

"The operating gang parks their cars in front of the former premises, and they take well-known players to temporary premises where the game is operated for only a few hours, then transferred to a different location."

"Last week, one night, the players were taken to the owner's summer house on the Quebec highway," the newspaper says.

Big Three Conferences Are No Longer Needed—Truman

Washington, Nov. 29.—President Truman said today he saw no need for any more Big Three conferences if the United Nations Organization works as it should.

Asked at a press conference whether revisions in Allied control policy and machinery for Germany might require a meeting of himself, Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee, Mr. Truman said he was not in favor of special conferences. He wants the United Nations to do their job, he added, saying he remembers that the League of Nations was ruined by special conferences.

The President said he hopes the United Nations will take over within the next 90 days all the problems previously worked out by Big Three meetings.

In his discussion of foreign policy Mr. Truman also developed these points:

1. He does not share either the fear which he said some persons in the United States hold that Russia will not co-operate toward world peace or that Russia's policy will lead to war. He was emphatic in stating he did not share any such fears.

2. At a later date, the President will discuss fully the international

German Army Plan For Surprise War On Austria Bared

Goering Described as Man Who Directed Blitz Invasion of Austria After Austrian Nazis Paved Way by Deposing Chancellor Schuschnigg—Transcripts of Telephone Conversations Read to International Military Court.

By WES GALLAGHER

Nuernberg, Nov. 29.—(P)—German Army plans for a "surprise war" against Austria and Nazi Fifth Column plots leading to German invasion of the country in 1938 were placed today before the International Military Tribunal trying twenty Nazi leaders on War Crimes charges.

Hermann Goering was described as the man who directed by telephone the blitz invasion of Austria after Austrian Nazis paved the way by deposing Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg.

Goering became serious as Sidney S. Alderman, assistant United States Prosecutor, read in detail transcripts of telephone conversations between Goering and Austrian Nazis on the days before and on the days of the unopposed invasion.

The records were found in the ruins of the Berlin Air Ministry Building by Daniel de Luce, Associated Press correspondent.

Many of the telephone conversations were with Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Austrian Nazi leader and one of Goering's fellow defendants. The prosecution said the records clearly disclosed Nazi plotting to absorb Austria into the Reich.

For the second straight day, prosecutors continued to unfold the tale of Nazi intrigue, deceit and Fifth Column activity that resulted in the blitz Anschluss of Austria in 1938.

The Austrian war plan, identified by the code name "Otto," was taken from files of the German High Command, said an assistant United States Prosecutor, Sidney S. Alderman. He then produced a directive from Marshal Werner von Blomberg in which he quoted the former War Secretary as saying "There might be special preparations for war against Austria."

The war plan was introduced over the objection of counsel for Col. Gen. Gustav Jodl, German Army Chief-of-Staff, who said the document showed only that the Wehrmacht was preparing "for all eventualities" including "war against Spain."

The prosecution also produced as evidence Gen. Jodl's private diary which revealed that Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, High Command Chief-of-Staff and one of the defendants, and German naval chiefs had conducted fake military manoeuvres to frighten Austria in February, 1938—a month before Hitler moved into the neighboring country without resistance.

Goering's court conduct reached a new high when he shook his head and ponderously rocked from side to side in negation of the prosecutor's statement that the Nazis feared the result of a plebiscite called by Austrian Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg to determine Austria's stand on independence. The prosecutor maintained that Hitler forced Schuschnigg's resignation and then marched into Austria to prevent the plebiscite.

The prosecutor read from Jodl's diary a reference to the proposed Austrian plebiscite which declared "the Fuehrer is determined not to tolerate it."

OCCUPATION OF NAVAL BASE BY BRITISH UNITS

Local Administration Set Up in Soerabaja Under British Control as Military Operations Continue to South of City.

Batavia, Nov. 29.—(P)—The British Command officially announced today the complete occupation of the Java naval base city of Soerabaja—the scene of bitter fighting in recent weeks between Indonesian nationalists and British Indian troops—and said a local administration has been set up there under British control.

Military operations continued south of Soerabaja where 12 Indonesian guns were knocked out yesterday.

At Bandong, the summer capital, 75 miles southeast of Batavia, the commander of the British 37th Brigade continued negotiations with Soetardjo, the Indonesian "governor" of West Java. British authorities earlier had issued an ultimatum that any Indonesian found in the northern half of Bandong after noon today would be shot.

The British command said other terms of their ultimatum provided that no Indonesian civilians be permitted within 220 yards of any British or Japanese post and that any male civilians manning road blocks would be shot.

Soetardjo apparently was trying "very hard" to co-operate but added that his efforts were ineffectual since he had no control over some native nationalist elements.

Mortar fire and sniping continued from the Kampongs surrounding Bandong.

Evacuees from outlying areas are moving into Bandong and creating a difficult accommodation problem.

GEN. MARSHALL MAY RECOMMEND HELP TO CHINA

Military Aid May Be Suggested Following Survey of Situation, in Opinion of U.S. Commander in China.

Chungking, Nov. 29.—(P)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, United States Commander in China, told newspapermen today that he thought Gen. Marshall was being sent to China "to make a survey of the situation and make appropriate recommendations to the President concerning future United States assistance—or military aid—to China."

Gen. Marshall is coming to China as special envoy, replacing temporarily at least the resigned United States Ambassador, Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley.

Chinese press dispatches meanwhile reported Nationalists have halted their fighting advance toward Mukden, Manchuria, because Russians allegedly agreed to their peaceful entry later into that historic, industrially-rich city.

The dispatches said that Nationalists now are mopping up Chinese Communist resistance in the area between Shanhaiwan, Great-Wall gateway to Manchuria, and Kowpangze, a rail junction 90 miles below Mukden.

Another report said that Chinese Communists whose resistance to the Nationalist drive thus far has been sporadic, were digging in at Tashan, on the Peiping-Mukden railroad 25 miles northeast of Kowpangze.

NO PROSPECTS OF EARLY END TO CONFERENCE

By FRANK PLAHERTY

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—(P)—Meetings of the nine provincial Premiers with members of the Federal Government entered their fourth day today with no early prospect of a finish or any public sign of disagreement.

The Premiers with Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other federal ministers are discussing ways and means of revising financial and other relations between the federal and provincial governments.

Officially the body is the co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference. Actually it is a clearing house for ideas and views as between the heads of Canada's ten governments.

Apart from whatever concrete results it achieves in the way of agreement on taxation, allocation of responsibility for social services and public works it is giving these two levels of government an unprecedented

End Of Ford Strike Appears Nearer Today Than At Any Time Since Mid-September

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 29.—(P)—Proposals for settlement of the 79-day-old strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada plant today go before the 10,000 members of local 206, United Automobile Workers of America (U.A.W.), in a bid to enforce their demands for union security.

The federal government plan for settlement received approval yesterday from the negotiating committee and the policy committee of local 206 and 195 concurred. The vote of the Ford policy committee was 16 to 3 in favor of the proposal.

Today as the proposed settlement basis went to the Union membership,

STRIKERS VOTE

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 29.—(P)—The 8,000 members of local 206 of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.) today took a secret ballot on proposals for settlement of the 79-day union-security strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada Works.

The voting took place at a mass meeting which started at 10 a.m. and union officials said they expected to announce the result late this afternoon.

the end of the strike appeared nearer than at any time since mid-September.

Details of the plan have been a carefully guarded secret, but the Toronto Globe and Mail said last night in a Windsor dispatch that they concurred appointment of an umpire to see that strikers are returned to work without discrimination leaving the Union security issue to negotiation and, that if necessary, decision would be made by an arbitrator with power to make a ruling final and binding on both sides.

The back-to-work plan struck its first snag last night when Ford stewards at a four-hour session voted 71 to 67 against acceptance of the policy committee's recommendation. The negative vote by the stewards will not hinder the proposals from going before the union membership but it is expected it may influence the vote of the members.

Story Of Torture By Iron Hill Man Is Investigated By Police

Montreal, Nov. 29.—(P)—Provincial Police today pressed investigation of claims made by 42-year-old Fred Stone of Iron Hill, Que., who told Deputy Director Hilaire Beaugard at Sweetsburg, Que., jail that he had been chained to a bed every night for 20 years in the home of a farmer where he worked, and managed to escape only when the farmer forgot to chain him.

Stone was found November 20 on the road near Knowlton in the Brome Lake district by Will D. Soles, an auctioneer, who notified Knowlton police. Police took him to Sweetsburg where he was held in the prison hospital for exposure. He was partly frozen when found, and his condition is considered serious.

Doctors who examined Stone said that his legs bore marks of chains and that "he probably suffered a long time." His condition is considered serious.

Director Beaugard said Stone told him he had gone to live with a Sweetsburg family 20 years ago when they offered to look after him as he was reported to be suffering from a mental condition. Stone worked on the farm every day, but when night came, his guardians chained him to a bed in the attic in fear of his mental condition.

This practice continued for 20 years, Stone said, and he escaped only when the farmer forgot to fasten the chains.

When found by Mr. Soles, Stone was wearing light clothing and wore rubber boots on his sockless feet. He was unable to walk, and was almost unconscious.

The name of the farmer was not revealed by police, but Director Beaugard announced that eight Sweetsburg residents mentioned by Stone, were needed to corroborate his story.

CO-OPERATIVES' TAXES WILL GET FULL ATTENTION

By JACK WILLIAMS
 Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—(P)—Report of the McDougall Royal Commission on the taxation of co-operatives made public Monday will cause co-operatives to review their policies on the payment of patronage dividends and the accumulation of reserves, informed authorities said here today.

While there has been no indication of what action the government may take on the commission's recommendations, the taxation of co-operatives has been a subject of discussion for some time and the report is sure to receive careful attention before a decision is reached.

Basically, the commission proposes that co-operatives be made subject to the same taxation as their competitors. Patronage dividends would be allowable as a deduction before the taxable income was determined. Money put into reserves would be deductible only under very definite regulations.

Larger groups affected by any change in the taxation of co-operatives would be the big western wheat pools, and so far as the recommendations apply to them they are looked on as a compromise proposal. The pools have maintained that

GOVERNMENT BILL ATTACKED BY 3 SENATORS

Breadth of Powers Bestowed on Government Under Measure Criticized by Liberal Members of Senate.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—(P)—The Senate picked a number of holes in Commons' legislation yesterday but it reserved its heaviest artillery for the Government's bill to set up the new Department of Reconstruction, one that went through the Commons with comparatively little discussion.

Three prominent Ontario lawyers—all Liberal Senators—criticized the breadth of the powers bestowed on the Government under the bill.

Before sending it to committee after second reading, Senator Salter Hayden said the nature of the bill made it difficult to assess the full scope of the authority being conferred on the Minister, Hon. C. D. Howe.

Senator Peter Campbell criticized a section defining income for purposes of excess profits and Senator J. J. Bench opened up on the broad powers provided for the investigation of any contract.

The Senate approved a bill establishing a Government-controlled central loan and mortgage corporation with its own amendment providing that its auditor should be appointed by Parliament and that he and the board of the firm should report annually to the House.

Its banking committee made minor changes in a bill amending the war charter act to prevent Government interference with war memorials. The committee removed any suggestion that the Government should interfere with designs.

Senator G. G. McGeer (L.—British Columbia) introduced an act to amend the penitentiary act of 1935 and in doing so called for greater accommodation for recreation and training of young people. He and Senator John Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, urged definite action on the Archambault report of 1939 on penitentiaries.

Second reading was given that bill and another defining regulations for the protection of the maple sugar industry and its customers.

Speaking on a proposal to stimulate gold production, Senator Gustave Lacasse (L.—Ontario) urged protection for the public against the sale of unreliable gold stocks.

Steel Workers Favor Strike On Wage Issue

Incomplete Returns From 27 States Showed 342,125 Votes in Favor of Shutdown and Only 70,639 Against Strike.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 29.—(P)—Officials of the C. I. O. United Steel-Workers of America held in their hands today authority to call a country-wide strike to enforce their demand for a $2-a-day pay raise.

The power was given by members of their Union who voted in a National Labor Relations Board election yesterday, favoring a strike nearly 5 to 1.

Unofficial, incomplete returns to the N.L.R.B. from hundreds of polling places in 27 states showed the workers favoring 342,125 for, and only 70,639 against a strike.

There was no indication a strike would be called immediately or even in the near future.

Officials of the U.S.W.A. told their local leaders before the voting that a favorable ballot did not necessarily mean there would be a strike.

Workers were cautioned against any premature work stoppage and were informed the authority for a strike rests with the National Wage Policy Committee and the Executive Board.

The election was the greatest N.L.R.B. vote ever undertaken in the United States, involving 766 plants and some 650,000 workmen, many thousands of whom did not cast ballots.

The vote was called for by the Union after the Steel companies said they could not grant a $2-a-day pay boost without a raise in steel prices, which the Office of Price Administration refused.

The story was the same in every State, with overwhelming majority for the strike authorization.

Complete returns from Pennsylvania, greatest steel producer in the United States with an annual ingot capacity of about 30,000,000 tons, voted 161,512 for, and 36,817 against.

The teeming mills of Ohio produced a 69,096 to 14,223 return for the strike authorization.

New York steelworkers plumped for the walkout by about 40,000 to 7,000 votes.

The smallest majority, about 2 to 1, was recorded by 3,000 steelworkers in Colorado.

Yesterday's balloting involved employees at all plants of "Little Steel" and "Big Steel," numerous independents not included in either groups, as well as aluminum workers who more than a year ago became members of the U.S.W.A. aluminum workers, voted for the strike in about the same ratio as steel workers.

Yamashita Denies Atrocity Charges

Manila, Nov. 29.—(P)—Direct examination of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, testifying in his own defence on war crimes charges, concluded today with the former Philippines Commander steadfastly denying any knowledge of atrocities committed by his Japanese Army subordinates.

In response to questions by defence counsel, Yamashita admitted close liaison with his various chiefs-of-staff but snapped an emphatic "No" to a question whether he ever issued any orders for killings or brutal treatment of civilians.

In fact, he testified, he had instructed his subordinates to cooperate with the Filipinos as much as possible.

At the conclusion of defence questioning, the chief prosecutor, Maj. Robert Kerr, began cross examination. His questions mainly concerned Yamashita's military career, commands he had held and length of service in various countries.

Soviet Delegate Dissents At U.N. Preparatory Meet

At U.N. Preparatory Meet

By SYLVAIN MANGEOT
 London, Nov. 29.—(Reuters)—The first serious difference of opinion at the preparatory commission of the United Nations developed today when Andrei Gromyko, Soviet delegate and ambassador to the United States, objected to a plan calling for the establishment of a temporary body to deal with questions of trusteeship.

The recommendation was made by the executive committee of 14 of the preparatory commission which has been meeting here since last Saturday to settle preliminary questions before the general assembly of the United Nations gathers here in January.

Mr. Gromyko raised his objections on the grounds that a temporary trusteeship body would be unconstitutional, a mere substitute for the main body. The Soviet Government could not accept the proposal, for, with no territories as yet placed under United Nations control, there would be nothing for the proposed organization to do.

Mr. Gromyko's objections had been generally expected. However, the executive committee recommendations were reached by a majority vote with Czechoslovakia, the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia objecting.

Elsewhere at the preparatory commission sessions discussions of a permanent home for the United Nations organizations continued with no decision as yet reached by the sub-committee hearing applications from two Canadian areas, Quebec City and Vancouver Island, three Canadian-American international zones, and nineteen United States cities or states.

SCOTSTOWN

The speaker at St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, November 18, was Rev. John I. MacKay, of Montreal, Superintendent of Home Missions of the Montreal-Ottawa branch of the United Church. The theme of the evening service, "Freedom," was based on the text, "Where the spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty," from II Corinthians, III:17. The need of freedom and liberty was emphasized, and the consciousness of not being driven or confined. Jesus could have escaped Calvary, but would not have become the Saviour of the world. He deliberately chose the rough, hard way, compelled by his love for men. Instances were quoted of great men who gave up a life of comfort and ease, preferring a life of hardship in the service of their fellowmen. The essence of their freedom was that they were compelled. The church is the organization through which the spirit of the Lord as liberty will survive. Where the spirit of the Lord is, there, and there only, is liberty and freedom. We must constantly apply ourselves that it will be radiated to the ends of the earth, that all shall be free.

The monthly meeting of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Philip Boy, with Mrs. John C. Smith as assisting hostess. The President, Mrs. D. A. MacLean, was in the chair, and read the Scripture lesson from Isaiah XXX and Psalm XLVI. The opening hymn, "O God Our Help In Ages Past," was followed by a generous offering. A donation of two dollars from an absent member was gratefully acknowledged, and it was announced that the Peace Thanksgiving Fund was almost completed. Each member was requested to send to the Welcome and Welfare Secretary an article of children's clothing for deaconess work or a toy, soap, washcloths, etc., for port work. Mrs. MacLean and Mrs. W. Tean read the report of the church in China. There have been many discouragements in China. Christian influence ebbs and flows, but in one hundred years there have been one million Christians, and they now have a government headed by outstanding Christians. China is discovering the power of the Cross, and work has just begun. The love and power of Christ is in the church, and it is going forward in China today. Mrs. Boy dealt with the church in Japan, which faces attack from a ruthless and determined foe. Two or three men are being sent there from the Foreign Missions Conference, and others will be sent as the way is opened up. Little is definitely known of the Korean church, but all hope that it will be given strength. The meeting closed with the hymn "He Leadeth Me," and prayer by Mrs. MacLean. Tea was served by Mrs. Boy, assisted by Mrs. John Nicholson.

The November meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society was entertained by the President, Mrs. A. A. MacAulay, who opened the meeting with quotations from Dr. Stanley Jones and Rev. W. E. Dubois, relevant to the fulfilment of peace. Following the singing of "Unafraid," Mrs. MacAulay read "A Sunday at the Bethel Mission Orphanage," and the hymn "He Leadeth Me" was sung. The name of Miss Edna Grant, of Vancouver, B.C., Field Secretary of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, was added to the list of prayer partners. Acknowledgments of sympathy cards sent to bereaved members and friends were read and an article concerning the temperance work being done at auxiliaries was read by Mrs. A. A. MacAulay. Items from "You Should Know" were read by Mrs. C. M. Smith, Mrs. F. B. Mayhew and Mrs. William Taylor. Mrs. Smith kindly offered to entertain the December meeting, and Mrs. J. D. Cox were appointed a nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the ensuing year. The study period was conducted by Mrs. Cox, who stated that the singing of hymns and the widespread provision for Sunday Schools had a determining influence in the building up of the African church. Items from the "African Exchange" were read by various members, and incidents given in the work of Dr. Currie, of Chissamba. It was also noted that due to the inability of the African women to read, they are unable to take the part they should, or would, in the work of the church. The motto, "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers," and the Mirzapur Benediction closed the meeting. Later the hostess served tea, assisted by her sister, Mrs. John Gray.

A congregational "Welcome Home" party was given by the members of St. Alban's Anglican Church for Gdsms. Wilfred Templeman, C. W. G., and Cpl. Harold Baker, R.C.C., the latter repatriated from Hong Kong. The party was held in the Church Hall, and entertainment was provided by playing five hundred. Under the direction of Mrs. Scott Parsons, assisted by other members of the congregation, refreshments were served, and a social period enjoyed. During the interim, Rev. E. C. Ward cordially welcomed the guests-of-honor and expressed the pleasure of all the friends at their safe return. On behalf of the congregation of St. Alban's Church, Mr. N. L. Maher presented Cpl. Baker with a serviceman's pen and pencil set, and Lt.-Col. E. S. McMannis made a presentation to Gdsms. Templeman of a lighter, both gifts being accompanied by sincere good wishes for future success. The recipients made suitable acknowledgments and extended thanks for the enjoyable evening and the happy re-union, expressing their pleasure at being once more reunited with their friends.

Mrs. H. A. South was hostess at a meeting of St. Alban's Guild, which was directed by the President, Mrs. B. H. Woolley. The business items included final arrangements for a sale of fancy and useful articles to be held in the Church Hall, and the following convener's names, Mrs. J. A. Pennoyer, donations and novelties; food; Mrs. Woolley, Mrs. G. Lobley and Mrs. A. H. Cowling; fancy and useful articles, Mrs. E. S. McMannis, Mrs. Roy Desruisseau, Mrs. Scott Parsons and Mrs. Bernard Atkin. The Girl Guides, under the supervision of their leader, Miss Audrey Walker, to be in charge of the "Mystery Tea," Mrs. E. W. Templeman, assisted the hostess at the tea hour. In honor of her sister, Mrs. Reginald Buzzell, and Brig.-Gen. Buzzell of Macon, Ga., Mrs. B. G. Mayhew entertained at a delightful evening party at her home on Main Street. Bridge was played at three tables, and the prizes were won by Rev. E. C. Ward, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Scott Parsons and Mrs. H. A. South. At the conclusion of the game, delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, who was assisted in her hospitable duties by her niece, Miss Betty Buzzell.

Mrs. Nell MacDonald and her son, Mr. Ronald MacDonald, spent a week-end with the former's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford MacDonald, in Drummondville.

Mrs. John E. Nicholson and her daughter, Miss Evelyn Nicholson, were visitors in Sherbrooke. A Miss Evelyn MacLeod, who spent a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacLeod, has gone to Drummondville, where she has secured a position.

Mrs. D. G. MacIver and Miss Ethel MacIver have returned from Montreal, where they were guests of friends.

MacIver, of Sherbrooke, Mrs. George MacDonald, Mr. Donald Matheson, Mr. Allan Matheson and Mr. Lachlan Matheson, of Lennoxville, Mr. Murdo R. Propose Emperor GOVT. MEMBERS VOTED 162-27 AGAINST C.C.F.

Tokyo, Nov. 29.—(AP)—Half-hearted applause greeted a suggestion in the Japanese Diet today that the Emperor system should be perpetuated under a Japanese-style democracy.

Premier Kijuro Shidehara and one of Japan's leading reconstruction politicians, Ichiro Hatoyama, both voiced the opinion in an unprecedented legislative discussion in the House.

The Liberal leader demanded to know the limits of the Government's contemplated democratization. The Premier replied with a definition of democracy as "representation of the will of the people."

ished by a group of Szechwan Province financiers, said several outstanding questions between China and Russia are approaching settlement.

Co-Operatives

they should enjoy complete exemption. The income tax department has held that they were subject to tax including patronage dividends and there now are cases before the courts on this issue. The commission favors taxation with the dividends exempted.

The report also proposes that the exemption of dividends should be retroactive. The situation on previous transactions is complicated. Those in the grain business fall, in that regard, into three groups—those that have paid dividends, those that have not paid dividends and those that have set aside a fund for the possible payment of dividends after the tax position has been determined.

Another important feature of the commission's report is that its recommendation for the exemption of dividends is applicable to all companies, regardless of whether or not they are organized on co-operative principles. Thus the private grain trade might find itself in competition with co-operatives as to who would pay the highest dividends.

Another recommendation which, if adopted, would have a marked effect on many co-operatives is the requirement that to enjoy exemption for patronage dividends they must be paid to all customers on an equal basis, regardless of whether or not they hold membership in the co-operative.

Inspector "Jim" Lemieux Is Promoted To R.C.M.P. Office

Many friends in the Eastern Townships, where he served for several years as an R.C.M.P. officer, will learn with interest of the appointment of Inspector J. R. "Jim" Lemieux to command the Montreal sub-division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He takes over his new duties immediately.

Born and brought up at the police station at Valleyfield, Que., Insp. Lemieux had a long and interesting career with the Mounties along the border, in the West and in the Lake St. John district.

Until his new appointment, second in command of the criminal investigation bureau in Montreal, he was instrumental in bringing scores of criminals to book during the war years for infractions of the curfew, rationing, narcotics and other statutes. He was also in charge of the investigation of the Aluminum Company of Canada sit-down strike at Arvida for a Royal Commission five years ago.

Son of Chief Wilfrid Lemieux, for 35 years head of the Valleyfield force, Insp. Lemieux joined

FIVE MEMBERS GAVE TALKS AT Y'S MEN'S CLUB

"Highlights of our life" was the topic on which five members of the Y's Men addressed the Club at their weekly dinner meeting last evening at the Chateau Frontenac Hotel, the speakers being Eric Chalut, Gordon Beerworth, Edgar Martin, Don Barfield and Charles Kench.

Tracing the story of their lives, each speaker began with the telling of when and where he was born, following with a glimpse of his early life and concluding with his business and wartime experiences. Two of the autobiographers were born in Sherbrooke, Edgar Martin and Don Barfield, and they gave a most interesting account of their military service, highlighting a few instances of life overseas with the R.C.A.F.

The other three speakers came from widely scattered points, Eric Chalut was born in the Northern Ontario mining country, at Cobalt, Ont., and he told of a trip through the famous Hollinger Mine at Timmins. He is now manager of the local Metropolitan Store branch.

Gordon Beerworth, born in Newport, Vt., sketched a brief picture of the world's largest quartermaster installation at Camp Lee, Va., where he was on the staff of the United States Army Quartermaster Review.

Charles Kench, who first saw the light of day in what he termed "God's Country," Vancouver, B.C., told the Club about his service with the R.C.A.F., describing the various stations he had been assigned to as instructor during the war period.

The speakers were thanked by President Vic Newton, who presided, and an announcement was made that the Club's weekly meeting would be the monthly business session.

Reports were heard from Andy Blatherwick, who stated that tickets on the Club's Turkey Raffle were selling rapidly. Wyatt Johnson informed the Club of the Bowling Team's progress, and Jeff Wilson enthusiastically reported that the Club's Table Tennis Team were now leading the E. T. League.

President Vic Newton gave a colorful review of the hunting excursion on which nine members of the Club participated last week-end at the Compton County Fish and Game Club, his remarks delighting the rest of the members who had read a few of the particular highlights in the Club's weekly bulletin, "The Cheerful Earful."

An enjoyable sing-song, led by Ed Loomis, who was assisted by Jeff Wilson and Hal Evans, rounded out the evening. Andy Blatherwick presided at the piano.

Prayers were conducted at the late residence by Rev. Philip Matthews, thence to St. Paul's United Church. At the church service, Rev. Matthews paid tribute to the faith of the deceased, and stated that he most certainly left a monument to his memory in his thirty-four years service as Superintendent of the Church Sunday School.

The bearers were George Gray, Avin Switzer, Colin C. MacPherson, Dr. C. S. Harris, Allen Smith and Albert Cottrell. Hymns sung at the service were "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "He Leadeth Me."

Interment was in the Magog Protestant Cemetery. The large floral offerings paid silent tribute to the esteem in which Dr. Adams was held in the community.

He is survived by his wife, Minnie Adams, and a step-son, Walter McClements. He is also survived by six children of his first marriage: Dr. M. E. Adams, D.D.S., of Magog; Mrs. Beatrice McGerrigle, Dr. L. J. Adams, M.D., Dr. A. W. Adams, D.D.S., Mrs. Aldeth Clark and Selwyn Adams, all of Montreal. Twin sisters, Miss Emily Adams, and Mrs. David Marston, of Danville, and an uncle, Dr. George W. Adams, also of Danville, survive, together with eight grandchildren.

Born in Danville on October 19, 1874, Emery J. Adams received a degree in dentistry from McGill University in 1896. Two years later he came to Magog, and practised for twenty-five continuous years until his son, Marston E. Adams, went into partnership with him. With his son, he practised another twenty-five years, retiring only last spring, due to poor health.

Dr. Adams was a member of St. Paul's United Church, serving as Sunday School Superintendent there for thirty-four years.

Taxi-Driver Held Up At Point Of Gun On Bowen Ave. South

Two young men who held up a Sherbrooke taxi-driver at the point of a gun near the Hotel Dieu Hospital on Bowen Avenue South at about 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night were sought today by municipal police.

Police were non-committal about their investigation but the taxi-driver, René Lemay, an operator for Red Diamond, told a Record reporter details of the hold-up in which he was robbed of $5 which was all he had in his possession.

Lemay said that he was proceeding along Bowen when he was hailed by two young men. He stopped for the pick-up fares, having no other assignment, and the two youths stepped into the rear seat. Lemay said one of the youths immediately pointed a gun at him and the other threatened him with a blackjack.

"One of them removed my cap, I suppose so the fellow with the blackjack could strike me harder," he said.

Lemay stopped his car and told the young bandits that if it was money they wanted he was ready to surrender all he had. He handed them his purse. They looked into it and found one dollar.

"They told me this wasn't enough and I was forced to clean out my pockets. They contained about five dollars in loose change."

The bandits got out of the car after this and told Lemay to drive away, after warning him to keep silent about the hold-up.

"They told me if I said anything they'd get me," Lemay said.

He drove immediately to No. 1 Police Station where he reported the hold-up. To date no arrests have been made.

Plans Will Be Made To Accord Fusiliers Big Civic Reception

With the announcement that the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment, a unit of the 4th Canadian Armoured Division, will move from Northwest Europe to the United Kingdom December 15 en route home, citizens here may be assured that when the Regiment finally arrives home, it will be met with a huge official welcome.

Recently, a committee was formed here to draw up plans for the reception of the Regiment which has brought honor to Sherbrooke and the E.T. through hard and bitter fighting on the battlefield of Europe.

LT-Col. Aime Biron is acting as president of the committee, which includes Major W. L. Arnold, Major P. H. Baldwin, Major A. J. Gagnon, Capt. J. H. Gilbert and Capt. E. Gagne. This committee will meet within the next few days, and it is expected that then an announcement regarding some of the plans will be made.

City Clerk Antonin Deslauriers declared this morning that the City of Sherbrooke would co-operate one hundred per cent in any arrangements prepared by the local committee. He added that with yesterday's announcement of the movement of the Regiment home, it is expected that the committee will approach the city officials soon regarding arrangements.

"Tough" is the single but significant word used to describe the men of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers, who with their Sherman tanks, were part of the Canadian assault force which pushed an extremely hard and helped stabilize it there in the earlier stages of the post D-Day war in Europe. The Regiment was in the thick of the fiercest fighting in the days immediately after the landing.

Repatriation was supervised through Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Manila. LT-Col. McArthur toured many districts of Japan, and was in Tokyo with Gen. MacArthur.

LT-Col. McArthur was the first commanding officer of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment, which he commanded for the first two and a half years of its existence. He directed the training of the unit in Canada and then took it to Newfoundland, where the Regiment did guard duty for almost a year.

On the conversion of the regiment to armoured Col. McArthur left for England with a group of his senior officers for special training and resumed active command when the unit arrived at a body late in 1942. At the end of that year he was returned to Canada for special medical treatment and upon his recovery was posted to National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa.

Previous to the outbreak of the war Col. McArthur twice commanded the Sherbrooke Regiment, and was promoted to the rank of full Colonel and given command of the 10th Infantry Brigade. He had also, just prior to the beginning of hostilities, commanded the University of Bishop's College Contingent of the C.O.T.C.

Considerable time was spent previous to the talk in discussing various plans for the use of the money the club raised with their Rotary Fair, and a large number of very good ideas were brought out which were referred to the Board of Directors for their approval. It is hoped to be able to announce a definite budget within the next few weeks.

The attendance contest ended with the Yankees winners over the Canadians, and the dinner next week will be paid for by the losers. The results were not too one-sided but the Yankees emerged ahead and are looking forward to their reward of a free dinner. Also on the schedule for next Monday is a movie, "Oil In Victory."

TWO CARS ARE DAMAGED IN LOCAL MISHAP

An early morning accident today caused considerable damage to two cars when they collided at the corner of Portland and London Streets at 4:30 a.m.

Marcel Fortin, of Montreal, was proceeding north along London and Alphonse Desharnais, 134 Brooks Street, Sherbrooke, was proceeding east on Portland Avenue at the time of the accident.

Desharnais received a minor cut to his face but was given first aid at the police station by Sgt. Gauthier. Fortin received no injuries. Constable Roland Rousseau was on the scene of the mishap.

SORCERY TRIAL SET FOR MONDAY

Next case to be heard in Court of King's Bench on December 3rd will be that of Albert Loubier, of St. Benoit, Labre, who is charged with the practice of sorcery.

Included in the few remaining cases yet to be heard before termination of the fall session of the Criminal Assizes is that of Gerard Cameron, of Stornoway, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Leon Gagnon at Stratford, and the retrial of Armand Vachon, of St. Isidore, on a charge of attempted murder.

Vachon, accused of an attempt on the life of Napoleon Thivierge, was tried earlier in the term when the jury failed to agree on a verdict.

The charge of sorcery against Loubier was lodged following complaints that the accused had professed the power to effect certain cures, for which he received money.

Snowshoe Club Members Held First Meeting Of Fall Season

Members of the Sherbrooke Snowshoe Club gathered in the clubhouse of Prospect Road last evening for the first regular meeting of the season.

Volleyball and cards were played prior to the serving of a hot lunch by Ed Cann and his assistants. President Howard M. Thompson opened the business meeting with an address of welcome to the following returned servicemen who were present at the meeting: John Mitchell, Roy Muir, Hugh Brown, Jim Burton, Les Draper, Maitland Soles and Syd Inglis. All former members of the club who have been on active service will be reinstated as life members upon their return. Maitland Soles replied to President Thompson on behalf of the veterans.

Secretary Ted Messenger read the minutes of the annual meeting and of the last regular meeting of last year.

Initiation of the new members will take place on December 5th, and all members are asked to be present and "lend a hand." Chorister Francis Parker, accompanied by Andy Blatherwick and Ashley Hunting, led the singing, closing the meeting with singing God Save the King.

Col. McArthur Is Expected To Arrive In Vancouver Dec. 4th

LT-Col. M. W. McArthur, National Defence Headquarters, who headed the Canadian Repatriation Liaison group which arranged for the repatriation of Canadian prisoners of war in the hands of the Japanese, is expected to arrive in Vancouver from the Far East on December 4th.

LT-Col. McArthur will reach his home here a few days later.

The announcement of his appointment to head the important group came the same week as the surrender of Japan. With fifteen officers and fifteen N.C.O.'s, LT-Col. McArthur presided almost at once in Manila in the Philippine Islands.

The Canadian group visited the Japanese detention camps and sent full details to Ottawa. Next-of-kin in Canada were provided with all information available by the speediest route.

LT-Col. McArthur's group saw that the prisoners of war were moved to camps in or near Manila and given food, medical care where required and comforts and other amenities essentially Canadian such as cigarettes, books and papers.

PREPARE A SUITABLE WELCOME

The announcement by the Canadian Army Command that the members of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers will start their homeward trek from North-western Europe on December 15 imposes upon the public organizations of the city and individuals alike the duty to see that a fitting welcome is accorded to these men who have for the past four years served their country in many, widely distributed sections of the globe. Citizens of Sherbrooke and the Eastern Townships, from which this regiment was originally recruited, are justly proud of the honor which the unit has brought to this district. But to give lip service to this pride is not enough. There must be some practical demonstration of the esteem in which the men are held by the people of the community.

To ensure that a suitable welcome is provided for the members of the Sherbrooke Fusiliers upon their return to Sherbrooke, it is imperative that all organizations and individuals interested should meet without delay and form the required committees. In turn these should prepare a complete programme worthy of the community from which this regiment went originally.

The Sherbrooke Fusiliers have made for themselves a proud record in the time they have served overseas and it is only right that those who stayed at home should leave no stone unturned to assure that they are properly honored on their return to their native soil.

MARKED CONTRAST

Many persons will recall the commotion caused over the racket scenes in the trials of Pierre Laval in Paris—the snarling prisoner with his dramatics, and the judge and jurors who showed their contempt and hatred for the prisoner, and expressed it ad lib.

But there was a scene in the Nurnberg court room last week of an entirely different character. Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence took things under control. When asked to plead guilty or not guilty, Hermann Goering, second ranking Nazi war criminal, attempted to make a speech. He was very sharply cut off, and the usually smiling Goering glared his hatred. He was uncovered by the little incident, revealed as the man he really is, under a bland exterior and pretense of joviality. There was nothing of the glad-hander about Goering on this occasion when the British judge squelched him at the outset. Apparently there will be dignity at this trial, if nothing else, and solemnity, too.

It may be true that there is no written international law under which these men are to be tried, but it was very well put when United States Justice Jackson, acting as prosecutor, said: "The real complaining party at your bar is civilization." Which is quite true, for the moral conscience of the world has revolted against these genocides.

ARABS SEEK A COMMON FRONT

Efforts to bring some solution of the many problems facing the Near East are aggravated by the fact that there are many tribes of Arabs which have had their tribal differences and then there are tribes within tribes which have also been disunited. However, a step in the direction of removing these difficulties was taken when the Arab Federation was established in Cairo last spring. This was supposed to have united the seven leading tribes. Now from Palestine comes information that the various tribes in that country have signed a mutual agreement pact in order to present a solid front against unlimited Jewish immigration.

Qualified observers in Cairo declare that the Arab Federation is not one that should be belittled as the Zionist critics are doing. These onlookers claim that the Federation is a definite challenge to the political, economic and military domination of the European powers in the Middle East, and that if it continues to expand it will establish a Pan-Arab state.

Its slogan is "An Arab world for the Arabs."

Some criticism has been offered in certain quarters that the Federation is a British creation, but the president of the Federation tersely answers this claim with the statement: "It may be a British suit, but I am wearing it." Formation of the organization is said to be the fulfilment of ideals subscribed to for small nations by the United Nations conference at San Francisco.

A general object of the League, according to its constitution, is "to draw closer the relations between member states and to co-ordinate their political action with a view to obtaining close collaboration between them to safeguard their independence and sovereignty, and to interest itself in general questions concerning Arab countries and their interests."

In plain language, these seven states, most of which are poor, backward and thinly populated, hope to form a block which by unity of action can accomplish objectives unattainable by them individually. More ambitious Arab leaders look beyond the political horizon to a time when the league will embrace sixty-million Arabic-speaking Moslems from the borders of Persia to the shores of the Atlantic in North Africa.

This seems a mighty project, but it is by no means unsurmountable if the various Arab fractions are able to pool their resources and fully appreciate the power which lies in union.

ONE REASON FOR SPEED

One very obvious reason why the Allied officials should brook no further delay in trying and sentencing the top-notch Nazis who are charged with an extended list of war crimes is that the best-fed and best-housed Germans in Germany today are these self-same war criminals. While hundreds of thousands of German children are being half-starved or half-frozen, and while Europe's displaced peoples, numbered in the millions, are dying on the roads, these Nazi higher-ups are being kept in comparative luxury. They are being provided with good food and warm quarters and receive the best of medical attention.

Thus, even those who believe they have a possible chance of acquittal are more than willing to make every available move to delay and postpone both the proceedings and the sentences. If and when any are freed, they will have to return to the standard of living provided for the rest of the German people.

INDEPENDENCE FOR ITALY

Two quite understandable feelings are the desire of the Allies to give up at as early a date as possible their duties of controlling the administration of Italy and the desire of the Italian people to have this control end as soon as possible. The Italians have long had aspirations of being a free and independent people and have achieved this status on varied occasions and reasonably hope to do so again. Their views have been definitely expressed by Palmiro Togliatti, Minister of Justice, who declares: "We don't want Italy to be either semi-colonial or semi-independent, and to those reactionaries who insist the Allies remain to safeguard the country, we answer that we are in position to protect it ourselves."

But it must be clearly remembered that is what Italy said after the First World War. She failed then in this promise and she may well fail again, the current political crisis in that country holding little prospects for the early establishment of a stable and powerful government. Thus, this time the United Nations must make sure that there will be no second failure. There must be no more Mussolinis, no more Fascists, no more "millions of bayonets" to back up bombastic imperialistic ambitions, and no more jackal tactics in an effort to "get in on the kill" when neighbor nations are hard-pressed.

Thus while the Allies are as anxious as anyone to get rid of an unpleasant task, circumstances force them to remain until they are assured their objectives are accomplished.

WEALTH FROM COAL

At the present time a Royal Commission named by the Dominion Government has been inquiring into the general position of the Canadian coal industry and seeking suggestions as to the best means of improving the conditions of the companies, and the workers. To date the bulk of the evidence has been concerning the possibility of maintaining the present wage and employment rates in the industry. There has been little or no talk of improvements. All parties concerned seem convinced that the best that can be hoped for is the retention of the rather unsatisfactory status quo.

The potential wealth possibilities of coal seem to have been ignored. In Britain, many new industries have been created through the processing of coal. The by-products include two thousand made from coal tar—coal tar dyes, medical supplies including aspirin, local anaesthetics, modern anti-septics; perfumes, essences and flavorings; plastic articles of many kinds; ammonia and agricultural fertilizer.

While Britain has been obtaining all this wealth through diligent research, Canadian coal remains in its primeval condition, with little or nothing done to extract its hidden values.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Little children, keep yourselves from idols. — I John 5:21.

Yet, if he would, man cannot live all to this world. If not religious, he will be superstitious. If he worship not the true God, he will have his idols. —Theodore Parker.

HOSPITAL FACILITIES

To the Editor of the Record, Dear Sir:—For the past few years the doctors, supervisors and nurses of the Sherbrooke Hospital have been greatly inconvenienced by the lack of sufficient accommodation for patients who sorely need medical and nursing care. Writing as a citizen and also as one who uses the hospital, I would like to impress upon the public the need for a greater and continued interest in our hospital.

The Sick Children's Hospital of Toronto this summer raised by public and private subscriptions over seven million dollars for the construction of a new Children's Hospital. The Southern Canada Power Co., in their paper "Contact," published on November 15, showed pictures of the new St. Joseph Hospital at Granby. This hospital contains 150 beds, 28 private rooms. It was completed during difficult days and the inspiration behind it was men of vision and aggressiveness. A Montreal specialist when asked regarding the need for a new Sherbrooke Hospital said that it was "an imperative necessity."

I see no reason why the English-speaking people cannot harness their resources and begin working upon such a needy project as the providing of sufficient accommodation for the sick. The purpose of this letter is to appeal to the leaders of our district to agitate unceasingly and apply pressure in order that the Eastern Townships may have a hospital that is adequate, and which will be a great factor in the health of our people. Many feel that a subscription list should be opened and that aggressive action is necessary. The events of the past few years have shown that much more can be achieved by intelligent enterprise than by casually waiting for financial aid from the province, which unfortunately appears to depend upon the fortunes of political warfare.

Yours truly,
W. J. KLINCK, M.D.

FAIRMILES FOR SALE

There is a note of criticism over the sale of Fairmiles to individuals for $3,000. The Fairmiles are the swift submarine chasers that can produce a rare turn of speed. They have power plants that were built for naval use. They are costly to operate and require a crew of at least four men.

What worries us is that: If the Fairmiles at $3,000 are such a good buy, why don't the critics of the sales snap up a dozen of the boats and make themselves a neat profit?

OUT WITH THE STAPLE!

There's a devilish contraption known as a staple used in private and government buildings to attach two or more sheets of paper together. When papers or documents are being sent out, the sender pulls down a handle on the stapler, welding the sheets together. The staple itself—a thin length of wire with sharp and pointed ends—nearly meets at the back of the last page like a lobster's claw gripping its prey.

For some reason or other most users of these infernal staples either cannot or do not fasten the documents together in the blank parts of the upper corner. That would be too easy for the receiver. With fiendish ingenuity they manage nine times out of ten to drive the steel wire through some essential word or phrase and to conceal the "punch

Do You Know?

Q—What secret anti-tank weapon were the Germans using at night at the end of the war?
A—Infra-red ray searchlights. The invisible infra-red rays bounced back to "image changers" on German tanks, and tankmen could thus aim with reasonable accuracy.

Q—What is the smallest of American republics?
A—Haiti. It is also the most densely populated—273 persons per square mile.

The other day the ultimate in unfair stapling tactics raised its head. A new magazine issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare came to us with a vicious piece of wire right through the printed matter. We broke a nail, cut our fingers, and finally tore the magazine apart by main strength, ripping gaping holes through the printed matter on every page. Then we hurled the brochure—which incidentally might have been a very good one—into the basket with a clang that could be heard as far away as Health and Welfare Minister Brooke Claxton's office. And we give him fair warning. Any more stapled magazines like that and we'll retaliate by sending him copies of this newspaper with the toughest and sharpest staples we can find, piercing the heart of reports of his own speeches.

HAVE A SMILE

Ivan Demetrius and Mischa Petrovitch loved to argue. Standing on a street corner in Moscow, whence they had come to enjoy a much-needed furlough, they watched an infantry regiment marching by.

"Do men grow upward or downward?" asked Ivan absently.

"Why, downward, of course," replied Mischa.

"How do you know, Mischa?" asked Ivan.

"Because," replied Mischa, "once when I outgrew an overcoat it became too short for me at the bottom."

"No, Mischa," replied Ivan looking out at the marching soldiers, "men grow upward."

"Why do you say that, Ivan?"

"Because," replied Ivan, "you will see that our brothers marching out there are all even at the bottom, but uneven at the top."

And then the argument really began.

They were proud of their big and belligerent-looking pug. He never failed to warn them whenever a stranger or caller approached the house.

"Does he bark?" a caller politely asked.

"No," came the surprising answer, "he always darts under the bed."

At the breakfast table the amateur poet eagerly opened the morning paper, ran his finger down the "Contributors' Column," and, finding what he sought, began to read. Suddenly he gasped, dropped the paper, and in an agonizing voice cried, "Oh, heaven, what have I done to deserve this?"

"What's wrong, dear?" asked his startled wife.

"Wrong?" he muttered. "I wrote a poem about our Willie, and I said, 'My son! My pigmy counterpart!'"

"Yes, yes, go on!" urged his anxious mate.

The poet drew a long breath, picked up the paper, and, squaring his shoulders, forced himself to read.

"My son! My pig, my counterpart!"

An American soldier who had heard of English eccentricity, found himself one day in a remote village—liding in a pony trap with a retired colonel.

Every hundred yards the colonel took a little pinch of powder from a packet and threw it on the road behind him. Finally, the G.I. asked what the powder was.

"It's anti-lion powder," said the colonel sternly.

"But, said the American, "there are no lions in this country."

"You're right," said the colonel, "and it's a good thing, too, because this anti-lion powder is no earthly good."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

SPADES? YOU'D DO BETTER IN DIAMONDS

Here is the type of hand that wins championships. The national tournament at the Hotel Chelsea in Atlantic City next week will in all likelihood produce several hands of this sort.

Take a quick glance at the hand. If you were told to play it at six, would you prefer spades or diamonds?

The average bridge player would too often play this hand at spades, which would be held to five, while six diamonds is cold. That was the contract arrived at by Waldemar von Zedtwitz and Samuel Katz in the recent Metropolitan Tournament in New York.

After East cashed the King of hearts, he shifted to a club. Von Zedtwitz went up with the ace, took three rounds of trumps, and discarded his three clubs on dummy's

Competitive Job Of Wife

Women Erroneously Believe Marriage License Alone Holds Man

One of the greatest mistakes that women make is in failing to recognize that being a wife is one of the most highly respected occupations that they can undertake...

This is a cold, hard, bleak fact that romantic young girls ignore. They think that the husband chase ends at the altar, and that having captured their game, they can sit down and fold their hands and take things easy for the balance of their lives...

It is this theory that marriage gives a wife a monopoly on her husband that nothing can break, or even infringe, that makes so many women do the foolish things that land them in the divorce court...

EVER ASENT WIFE. You can see women's fatal optimistic belief that the marriage bond is strong enough to keep a husband tied to his own door post, no matter what sort of a strain is put upon it...

There is the slovenly woman who doesn't think it worth while to comb her hair or put on a clean dress for a mere husband...

These women think they are playing safe because they have marriage licenses locked up in the bank box or hung on the walls, but a scrap of paper doesn't go far in holding a husband whose wife has laid down on her job...

Oh, there is plenty of competition in the wife business, and in these days when the world is chock-a-block with attractive girls, a wife has to meet it. Or else—

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

WEST BOLTON

Several Reports Given At East Clifton W.I. Meeting

East Clifton, Nov. 29.—The Women's Institute held its monthly meeting with Mrs. Guy B. Waldron, with a good attendance of members and several visitors.

The meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. Guy Waldron. The members repeated the Salute to the Flag, a prayer for the soldiers, sailors and airmen, followed by the Lord's Prayer and the Club Women's Creed.

As this meeting was held near Remembrance Day, the President requested that the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" be sung, followed by a two minutes' silence in memory of the fallen heroes who had given their lives in World War I and II.

The roll call subject was "Does It Pay to Work and Leave the Child Behind?" and the motto was "If a Task is Once Begun, Never Leave It Till It is Done." The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Parkinson, and approved. The correspondence included letters from Mrs. Lillian Townsend, Convener of Home Economics of Berthe; Mrs. Florence Mortimer, Provincial Convener of National and International Relations, of Port Daniel Centre, and Mr. Lionel Brittle, Director of the National Clothing Collection, thanking East Clifton for its contribution of 246 pounds of used clothing.

The "Consumers' News Bulletins" were distributed and five dollars was donated towards gifts for local boys and girls who have been on active service, and ten dollars by the War Workers' group.

Mrs. James Towers, Convener of War Services, gave a report showing that a number of articles had been completed and returned to Sawyerville and one dollar had been donated to buying seeds to be sent Overseas.

The Convener of Education and Better Schools, Mrs. Guy Waldron, called upon the guest speaker, Rev. C. Cushing, to address the meeting on this subject, which he did in a very able manner. Speaking on "Compulsory Education," he said that the pupil should be studied, as in many cases their interests were centered somewhere else and if they were given the proper training they would prove to be valuable citizens.

Mrs. Parkinson, on behalf of the W.I., thanked Rev. Mr. Cushing for attending the meeting and giving such an informative address on education.

A very interesting reading was given by Mrs. Ray Waldron, "Discontent in the Air."

As there are still some soldiers who have not returned from Overseas, it was decided that some boxes should be prepared at once and sent in case they did not arrive home for Christmas.

Mrs. Guy Waldron, on behalf of Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, who was unable to be present, read a letter from Mr. G. H. A. Westoby, Enrollment Manager, of Montreal, and the Quebec Hospital Service Association, and also distributed pamphlets on the benefits of the Blue Cross Hospitalization Plan.

A delicious dinner was served by the hostess at the noon hour, and the table proceeds were very gratifying.

Mrs. Lawrence Waldron, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Marchant, of Lancaster, N.H., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Waldron.

Miss Bentrice Cooper, of Boston, Mass., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Waldron.

ing the past twenty-five years was outlined by Mr. R. S. Gardner and Mr. Hicks was called upon to present the medal on behalf of the provincial headquarters.

Mr. Reakes replied, expressing deep appreciation of the recognition of his service, stating that his 20 years' service in Asbestos community held many happy memories, especially during the various camps held and noted that quite a few of the "Dads" present had been Scouts in his troop, and their sons were now in the present troop. He also expressed pleasure at having two fathers present who were absent at the last supper, Mr. Graydon Heath, from Hong Kong, and Mr. B. P. Mills, from Europe.

Mr. Hicks then introduced the speaker of the evening, Professor Dando, of McGill University, Montreal, who gave a very excellent talk to the parents and boys on Scouting in general, stressing the value of the movement in the community. He also referred to the fine spirit of "bonne entente" which was in evidence in this bilingual group, so fully represented by the English and French Scouts, Cubs and fathers, not only at the supper, but working closely together for the good of the boys and the community. The group was complimented on having practically one hundred per cent of the "Dads" sitting beside their sons, numbering seventy-eight in all. The Group Committee and all present, very much appreciated the presence of Professor Dando and Mr. Hicks, who despite the inclement weather, had driven from Montreal by car to be present at the supper, returning the same evening.

A technicolor film of the Scout camp and photographs of the Cub camp were shown by Mr. Jones and Mr. Molson. These were very much appreciated by the parents, who saw their boys in action.

Mr. N. Farrar, Group Committee Secretary, was then called on to present the President of the Mothers' Auxiliary, Mrs. Farrar, with a cheque from the Group Committee members, towards their funds in appreciation of their putting on the supper. The chairman, Mr. J. L. Hall at the piano, and the lowering of the King's colors by Scout Leo Hamel.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleansed the complexion should clear up.

Joint Trade Boards Given Oyster Supper At Richmond

Richmond, Nov. 28. — Richmond and Melbourne Senior and Junior Boards of Trade were guests of the genial hosts of the Brunswick Hotel, Messrs. J. A. and Jacques Desrochers, at an oyster supper following a joint business meeting.

Mr. Fred Newell presided at the business meeting assisted by Mr. Rene Cormier, President of Junior Chamber of Commerce. Details for providing prizes for winners in each ward in the contest for the best kept grounds and the best kept gardens were discussed. A resolution was submitted and passed bearing upon the granting of a franchise for a new bus route running through Richmond.

The question of the dangers of the "Quebec Crossing" was raised in a letter received from a well known local industrial firm. In the ensuing discussion it seemed to be brought out that operators of trucks were under special difficulties in trying to see if a train was approaching on their right.

Mr. J. L. Burns outlined the procedure adopted by the Railway Commission in calculating, whether or not special gates with their watchmen or special signals were required at a railway crossing. He also explained that the expenses of operating these safety devices were distributed between the railway, the municipality, and in some cases the Provincial Government.

At the close of the business meeting, Messrs. Desrochers presented their compliments to all the members and invited them to a delicious oyster supper as guests of the house.

The Doctor Says

SURGERY LESSENS HIP FRACTURES' DANGER

By William A. O'Brien, M.D.

Hip fractures usually are located in that portion of the femur (thigh bone) which connects the round end with the bone proper. These injuries, common in older persons, once mean a bed-ridden patient or one with a poor chance for recovery. Thanks to developments in orthopedic surgery, this has been changed.

Hip fractures follow falls from tripping on a rug or falling and bumping the side of the hip. Women are more apt to be injured than men. All hip injuries should be examined with X-ray even though the patient is able to get up and walk without too much difficulty, as fracture may be impacted and not give way for several days.

Hip Is Nailed

Patients with hip fractures usually are in shock and this condition must be treated before any attempt is made to set the fracture. Casts seldom are used today as proper healing is twice as likely if the broken hip is nailed together.

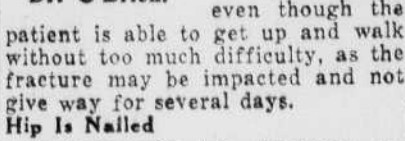

Under special anesthesia the bones are placed in proper position and a nail driven through the neck of the femur into the head of the bone. Steel pins also may be inserted. Nails or pins can be removed after healing occurs if they are a source of irritation. In a few days the patient may sit up, ride in a wheel chair or walk with crutches, but there must be no weight bearing for some time.

Fractures of the hip heal through formation of callous and conversion into bone, in from four to six months. Failure results from difficulty in bringing the fractured ends together or from too great stress developing at the fracture line after walking. This shearing force is produced by muscle pull and by the weight of the body, and may be so great that the fracture has to be reset or a special operation performed.

Bone Graft Possible

Sometimes a piece of fractured bone is separated from its blood supply and dies. Given sufficient time, new bone will grow into the piece and heal. It may be necessary to insert a peg of bone from the tibia (shin bone) and re nail the bone.

Elderly patients with fractured hips require special nursing care and encouragement. Healing is slower than other fractures because of the age of the patient and severity of the injury. The hip joint may develop arthritis as a result of irritation from the fracture.

Dr. O'Brien.

If you've been waking tired and listless, why not do as thousands today are doing—simply drink a cup of Ovaltine warm at bedtime. For Ovaltine does three things to bring vigorous morning freshness.

(1) Taken warm at bedtime, it relieves that feeling of nervous tension—helps the body relax for sleep without drugs. (2) Processed for easy digestion, it supplies light nourishment to prevent restless tossing and turning due to digestive unrest. (3) It supplies a variety and wealth of important food elements to rebuild body and nerve cells, replenish vitality to meet the morning.

Ovaltine furnishes not only essential vitamins, but also a combination of minerals, high-quality proteins and quick energy food elements which authorities agree are necessary for health and top vitality.

So if you sleep poorly—waken tired and listless—why not turn to Ovaltine as an aid to refreshing sleep and clear-eyed, radiant morning freshness. See if you don't begin to wake up each morning brighter, and more buoyant—ready to greet the day with a smile.

VICTORIAVILLE REJECTED BY E.T. INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Distance And Difficult Travelling Conditions Reason Entry Refused

An application from the Victoriaville Intermediate hockey team was rejected by the E.T. Intermediate Hockey League last night at a meeting held in Windsor Mills. The reason for the rejection was due to the fact that plans for the coming season have already been drawn up and also because of the distance and travelling conditions to Victoriaville. The schedule for the coming year was discussed and approved with a small number of changes being necessary.

Those present at the meeting were Bertrand Tardif, Marcel Gobeil and Tom Demers, of Asbestos; Pat King and Fernand Gendron, of East Angus; Dallas Grant, "Duke" Ducet, A. Blouin and John Tarte, of Windsor Mills; Harold Kydd and Eddy Burns, of Richmond; Emile Letarte, Ernie Taylor, President of the league, and Yvan Dugre, from Sherbrooke, and Antonio Belisle, Mike Haroon, Leo Companion, Marcel Garand, Jacques Gamache and Paul Gendron, of Victoriaville.

The following is the E.T. Intermediate Hockey League schedule for the season 1945-46. (Due to winter travelling conditions between Asbestos and East Angus, these two teams will play two four-point games instead of four regular games.)

Dec. 16—Sherbrooke at Windsor.
Dec. 19—Windsor at Richmond.
Dec. 23—East Angus at Sherbrooke.
Dec. 23—Richmond at Asbestos.
Dec. 28—Asbestos at Windsor.
Dec. 29—Richmond at Sherbrooke.
Dec. 31—Windsor at East Angus.
Dec. 31—Sherbrooke at Richmond.
Jan. 3—Sherbrooke at Asbestos.

Boston Bruins Trounced New York Rangers 5-1 Before 13,900 Crowd

By The Canadian Press
Subject to change at short notice, Boston Bruins today unquestionably are the hottest team in the National Hockey League.

They staked claim to that title last night, defeating New York Rangers 5-1 before a 13,900 crowd in Boston Garden.

The proud team of prewar years thus achieved its fourth straight victory and cemented the longest undefeated record owned by any N.H.L. team so far this season. Bruins suffered their last setback 20 days ago when Montreal Canadiens took a 5-3 verdict.

After a slow start which saw them suffer three losses in their first six games, Bruins entrenched themselves solidly in fourth place and went to work. They started the victory skein with a 7-1 decision over Rangers Nov. 11 and in two games prior to last night's contest, whipped Canadiens 3-0 and Toronto Maple Leafs 5-3.

Last night's conquest, fashioned principally on a three-goal spurge by youthful Bill Shill, shunted Bruins into a third-place tie with Chicago Black Hawks. The deal-locked clubs are a point behind second-place Detroit Red Wings and three in arrears of Canadiens.

Rangers, still bogged in a fifth-place stalemate with Leafs, provided the only goal of the first period when Mac Colville deflected a shot by Pat Egan on a play launched by Edgar Laprade. That stroke finish-

Joe Louis Will Be 90 Per Cent As Good, And That's Enough To Beat Conn, Says Trainer Seaman

Mannie Seaman is in Los Angeles to supervise Joe Louis' preparation for the defense of the title against Billy Conn next June. Work will begin at once.

Seaman was with the Brown Bomber in the capacity of a procurer of sparring partners and sharp-eyed observer before Jack Blackburn died, took over the actual training when Old Chappie passed away.

"Don't let anyone tell you that Louis won't be razor sharp," says Seaman, a chunky little black-haired, blue-eyed guy with red apple cheeks and the face of a cherub. "Louis is the easiest heavyweight to train who ever held the championship, and that goes for Gene Tunney, who practically trained himself. Joe is up at six each morning, does six or eight miles on the road before breakfast. He is actual-

Louis will be in as good condition as was Jack Johnson the day he beat Jim Jeffries—and Johnson was as old as Joe Louis will be next June—32.

"Abe Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, decreed Marty Servo, just out of the Coast Guard following three years' service, should prove in one or two test bouts that he is still a top-notch fighter before attempting a shot at Freddie (Red) Cochrane for the welterweight title.

"That would be fair, not only to the public, but to Servo. I don't want to be quoted on what I think of Mike Jacobs' decree of no tune-up fights for Conn and Louis. If Conn has a tune-up, Louis also would be allowed the same privilege. But we're not worried. We'll have our tune-ups in the gym."

Seaman, who looks like a mere youth, has been training fighters 30 years. His first world champion was Benny Leonard, who was pretty good, too.

Louis now weighs 220 pounds, reports Seaman. He'll gradually work off 20, enter the ring weighing between 196 and 198.

Sane, Methodical Course
"I'm not overlooking Joe's idleness from actual ring competition," asserts his handler, "but in his case the layoff was different from those of his predecessors. Joe led an army life. There was no wine, women and song stuff to soften him up. For this reason his four-year layoff doesn't equal one year's idleness of previous heavyweight champions. The same thing goes for Conn.

"It goes without saying that neither Louis nor Conn will be as good as he was when he went into the army.

"But I feel that Louis will be 90 per cent as good. Of course, for a while pictures will show him to be gross, out of shape. Naturally, he is out of condition now. But I'm going to put him through a sane, methodical course of training, and when the bell rings, he'll be as physically and technically perfect as possible."

And Many Seaman believes that will be enough for Joe Louis to repeat over Billy Conn, or beat anybody else who happens along.

Mannie Seaman... "Louis will be good enough."

Busy Session Held By Members Of Centenary Church Group, Stanstead

Stanstead, Nov. 29.—A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Edward Curtis when twenty members of the United organization of Centenary Church gathered for the November meeting. The President, Mrs. L. G. The ladies voted unanimously to continue for at least another year with the United organization, which is an amalgamation of the Women's Association and the Women's Missionary Society. Everyone present felt that the credit for the success of the past year goes in large measure to the President, Mrs. L. McGilton, who has done a prodigious amount of work to organize the many activities and to see them carried through. Mrs. McGilton in turn said that without the splendid co-operation of the ladies any plans of hers would not have succeeded and she heartily thanked all the members present and absent for their willingness to help in anything asked of them. Following the business session Miss Elsie McIntosh gave an interesting and educational talk on "Shintoism." Her purpose in choosing this subject was to attempt to help the
