WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1937

PRICE: TWO CENTS

City Leads For Year In Real Estate

Westmount's Transactions During 1936 $102,728 Ahead Of Outremont; Sales Up For Month

Figures released by the Montreal Real Estate Board reveal that Westmount led the suburban municipalities, of which there are thirty listed, in real estate transactions for the year 1936. 176 sales for a total of $1,820,546 carried this city ahead of both Outremont and Verdun, nearest contenders for the "crown", who trailed closely behind with 225 sales for a total of $1,717,818 and 283 sales for a total of $1,745,253 respectively.

At various times during the year, Westmount, Outremont and Verdun each took the lead for a few weeks; "rivalry" was keen, however, and none maintained the lead for any protracted length of time. Last month's sales, however, aided materially in placing Westmount at the head of the list for the year's transactions.

During December, Westmount was second in point of value of sales, being exceeded by Outremont. This city had 23 sales involving a total of $244,126 against 17 in the northern municipality amounting to $288,347. Verdun was third with 24 sales valued at $122,126.

Westmount's transactions during December greatly exceeded in both number and value those recorded during the previous month, amounting to $69,406 for 15 sales.

It is interesting to note, in summarizing the year's transactions in the suburban municipalities, that Westmount's sales are usually fewer in number than those of either Outremont or Verdun, yet the values thereof, if not always greater in the aggregate, are usually bigger in proportion. This was not the case, however, in December.

The largest sale during the past week to be recorded by the Montreal Real Estate Board was that of the property at 4682 Roslyn avenue, which Mrs. J. P. Lamarche et al sold to Percival M. Fox for $20,000.

Leading Men Are Good Christians

The impression that great scientists are often "superior to Christianity" was attacked by Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr of St. Andrew's Church in his sermon Sunday evening. "We find it is the foremost in the ranks who are to be found in the church," declared the pastor, in denying that scientists look upon the church as something feeble.

The church has not tried to combat this idea earlier, because, Dr. Kerr said, is that it "smacks somewhat of the methods of modern advertising—it seems just a little cheap and vulgar." Due to the fact that his congregation is largely one of young people, Dr. Kerr said he felt that this impression, often given students by their university professors, should be corrected.

Dr. Kerr cited the names of the leaders in many fields whom he said were devout churchmen, taken from Wallace's "The Religious Faith of Great Men." The book shows, said Dr. Kerr, that "those foremost in their profession are almost without exception men with a humble faith in Almighty God."

World's Most Famous Dog Is Dead He Had False Teeth In His Head

This week the wandering, meandering, loitering and snooping Examiner reporter really has a scoop that is a scoop for local readers. 'Tis a story that has never been printed before... at least, not this angle of it. And now that you have been built up, we'll tell you what's wrong with it: it's only six months old.

Burial Held Tuesday Of J. Borthwick

Retired Insurance Executive Died At Hudson Avenue Residence In His 72nd Year

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence, 8 Hudson avenue, of John G. Borthwick, whose death occurred on Saturday in his 72nd year.

Mr. Borthwick was a native of Edinburgh, Scotland. He received his early education there, and entered the employ of the Caledonia Insurance Company in 1880. He was sent to New York in the following year to act as secretary of the Board of Trustees. He was later interim manager of the company at Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. Borthwick returned to Edinburgh, and became chief clerk in the foreign department between 1898 and 1900. He was then appointed Canadian manager.

In 1916, he was elected president of the Canadian Fire Underwriters' Association, and on formation of the Dominion Board of Fire Underwriters in 1929 he was appointed first president. He retired from this company in May, 1930, after fifty years' service.

Mr. Borthwick was a charter member of the Beaconsfield Golf Club and for many years belonged to the Royal Montreal Curling Club. He also belonged to the St. James Club, and was a governor of the Montreal General Hospital. He worshipped at the church of St. Andrew and St. Paul.

His wife, the former Jean Ritchie Kerr, predeceased him some years ago. He is survived by a sister, Miss Isabella Borthwick, of Edinburgh.

Interment was made in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Active Week Is Passed By Local Police

Many Arrests and Convictions During Past Few Days—Offenders To Be Sentenced Today

An active week has been passed by the Westmount Police department, resulting in a general "clean-up" of loiterers and door-to-door beggars and the arrest on eight separate charges of breaking and entering, and of carrying housebreaking implements, of a pair of offenders whose apprehension is expected to bring to an end a mild "epidemic" of housebreaking and thievery that has swept the city during the past three weeks.

Paul Vincent and Hurby Castonguay, arrested recently by Constables Tremblay and Hovenden, will be sentenced by a Montreal court this morning for housebreaking and stealing. The pair were brought up before Recorder Hale, and remanded till yesterday morning for sentence, but were turned over to Montreal police for questioning.

Among the major "hauls" laid to them by local police are: goods valued at $100 from a house on Victoria avenue; goods valued at $1000 from a Belmont avenue residence; $400 worth of goods from a Roslyn avenue home; $250 worth of valuables from a house on Grosvenor avenue; goods to the value of $700 from a home on Lansdowne avenue; and goods of considerable worth from an Aberdeen avenue residence.

Most of the stolen goods have been recovered to date by Captain Broden and Constable Tremblay. Charged with receiving $400 of the above stolen goods, F. C. Dumont will also be brought before a Montreal court this morning.

Ed. Drury was arrested on Saturday by Constables Jones and Baker for door to door begging, and was given thirty days. He is an old offender. Armand Guerin was arrested for loitering on Atwater avenue on Monday by Constable Lawson, and was also "put away" for thirty days. Denis Jackson, arrested on January 10, 1930, after fifty years' service.

The report of the financial activities and standing of the Dominion Woman's Auxiliary was given by Mrs. G. F. Leigh, Diocesan treasurer.

HALF A BILLION IN GOLD

Four guards with machine guns were only a part of the stern-faced contingent which guarded half a billion dollars in gold bullion when it was transferred from the Philadelphia mint to the new federal repository at Fort Knox, Ky. The upper picture shows a truck leaving the mint with 78 of the precious gold bars, which weighed nearly a ton and a half. The 78 bars in each truck load were worth a million dollars. The lower photo shows the impenetrable granite steel and concrete "pillbox" which Uncle Sam has built as a safeguard in case of war and against theft. From the trucks, the bullion was loaded on four rail cars and it was sent to Fort Knox by the government's own registered mail.

Queer Fare W.J. Cleghorn Enjoyed By Old Resident Rotarians Is Interred

Patrick Hadden Told Luncheon Gathering Of 'Witch's Brew', Natural Paradoxes

The members of the Westmount Rotary Club were treated on Wednesday at their regular weekly luncheon to an entertaining, and at times amusing address by Patrick Hadden of the Spoke Club who took as his title "A Witch's Brewing". The announcement of the subject of the address in the club bulletin had the Rotarians wondering, while the remarks of Mr. Hadden had them opening their mouths in wonder, closing them incredulously, only to open them again in laughter.

Running the gamut of the animals from the "ant to the elephant" or vice versa, the speaker contributed not a little to the mental store of knowledge of his listeners, whether they were animal lovers or merely curious attendant to his every word, their interest trapped by his pleasing style of delivery and wealth of intriguing subject matter.

Mr. Hadden spoke of birds used for fishing; fish that caught spiders from tree-tops; fish that travelled overland and climbed trees; fish that piloted ships over the proper course; frogs that forecast the weather; bears that took home coal for the winter; bears that caught cold and died of pneumonia when brought to a warm climate; mice that sang; mice that were crossed with deer and were only twelve inches high; tigers crossed with lions; dogs with wolves; ants that kept slaves—kept their own cows, and harvested their own grain; and grasshoppers turned into zombies by wasps.

Well remembered here Mr. Cleghorn entered the oil business at an early age, retiring ten years ago. In his early years he earned the nickname of "Billy The Horse" because of his ability to withstand hard knocks in the course of his many Lacrosse games, and for his remarkable endurance. He was the father of Sprague and Odie Cleghorn, famous athletes whose names are still dear to thousands of sport fans, especially with Les Canadiens and other teams. He was a life member of the M.A.A.A., a member of the old St. George's Snowshoe Club and of the Thistle Curling Club. His younger brother, who died about twenty years ago, was a noted football player.

In 1888 he married Harriet O'gilvie. She survives, as do his two sons, Sprague H. and J. O'gilvie (Odie) Cleghorn; three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Weldon, jr., Mrs. Frank Henstridge and Miss Jean Cleghorn; a sister, Mrs. A. E. Mussen and one grandson, Charles Henstridge.

Dictators Likened To King Herod

Reports Of Committee Chairmen Read At Meeting Of Women's Auxiliary Held Recently

In an address before the Women's Auxiliary of Shaar Hashomayim in the Auxiliary room of the Synagogue, Rabbi Charles Bender compared Herod, King of Judea, to dictators of modern times. The same tricks, as showy achievements, military parades and the spectacular were used to divert the minds of the people in times of stress, the speaker pointed out.

"Dictators assume authority by virtue of the weakness of a nation rather than by virtue of their own strength," Rabbi Bender told the gathering. Mrs. Edward Solomon, the president, reported that the equipment for the library and club room for the use of graduates and pupils of the Sunday School, is near completion.

Mrs. M. J. Heilig, the treasurer, read the financial statement. Mrs. Em. Solomon, the secretary, read letters of thanks from the Montreal Hebrew Orphans' Home for a gift and from the Children's Memorial Hospital for a gift of pyjamas and a donation of $25.00. Mrs. Alton Goldbloom gave a paper on "Current Events." Rev. Dr. H. Abramowitz spoke briefly.

Hostesses for the meeting included Mesdames H. R. Ressler, M. A. Brown, B. Rudner, I. Selig, H. Levinson; C. Rubin; I. Rosenbloom; G. Stream; M. Scherzer; H. W. Freedman. St. Stephen's W.A. Reports Active Year

Annual Meeting Reveals That 1936 Was Year Of Many Activities and Accomplishments

The annual meeting of the St. Stephen's Women's Association was held recently, at which the reports of work done during the past year, read by the various committee chairmen, revealed a highly satisfactory state of affairs, and a year replete with activities.

The Association, which includes all women's and girls' groups, raised $3,830.74 during 1936, an increase of $65.78 over 1935. Of this amount $2,245.29 was sent to the corporation of the church for local expenses, $165.50 to the Mission Budget of the Diocese and $528.75 to the Montreal Diocesan Women's Auxiliary for Missions.

The following officers were elected for 1937: President, Mrs. J. D. Telford; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Malcolm Lemieux, re-elected 2nd vice-president, Mrs. T. Ramsey; recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Laws, re-elected; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. M. Butler, re-elected. Treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Soden, re-elected; mission committee, Mrs. F. G. Frankum, re-elected.

Members of the Executive appointed by the Rector: Mrs. Basil Evans and Mrs. Mervyn Offer. The Rector, Rev. Harold Laws, expressed his appreciation of the work done by the association in all its groups and votes of thanks were moved to the retiring president, Mrs. F. W. Harvey, the vice-president, Mrs. G. S. Carter and the retiring member of the Executive, Miss Winifred Roberts.

The following officers were elected at the annual meetings of the different groups: Guild Group "A": Honorary (Cont'd on Page 3)

J. A. Edmison Inaugurated Course At "Y"

Public Speaking Group Held First Session Monday Evening At Local Branch

"Every public speaker, no matter how seasoned he may be, experiences a certain amount of nervousness," declared J. Alex Edmison, prominent lawyer, in addressing the opening session of the Public Speaking Course at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. Monday evening. "We must admit, in taking this public speaking course, that one of our prime objects is to overcome nervousness."

Mr. Edmison outlined the requisites of a good public speaker, and dwelt briefly on the advantages of being able to give a crowd one's views as easily as to a small group of three or four. The old-fashioned orator, the "Billy Sunday" type, is now obsolete, he declared, and the wild gestures, thundering bursts of emphasis, and "oratory" of the former generation is a thing of the past. It has been replaced, he said, by the "conversational" method of public speaking.

Now every speaker must have something to say, went on Mr. Edmison, and he must know how to say it. One of the great aids in overcoming nervousness is to know that one is thoroughly acquainted with his subject. Mr. Edmison further outlined the techniques of public speaking, such a position, voice, place of hands, etc.

Following the address, each member attending had an opportunity to "practise" what he had learned in rising and telling the assembled group his name, occupation and hobbies.

Wilf Spearman was in the chair. Lovell Carroll will be the speaker at the next class this coming Monday.

PROTESTS ANNULMENT

Rev. T. W. Jones, in addressing the Young People's Union of Calvary Church on Monday evening, scored the attitude towards mixed marriages that exists in the province of Quebec. He claimed that canonical law was given precedence over civil law, and that there was nothing in the law of the realm to uphold such a situation.

"Such conditions as exist in this province ought not to be tolerated in a British country," he declared.

Spring Is On The Way, We Sigh Prognosticated By A Butterfly

Of course, we aren't sure; we're bearing in mind the often tragic consequences of printing false news, the suspense of printing things that aren't verified at press time and then waiting for the O.K. to come through, and what happens to newspapermen who make errors in spelling people's names and giving the wrong addresses. But we'll be very bold this week and allege that the first butterfly of the year was not seen in Westmount!

Yes, it's a hard thing to bear. Especially after hunting all over the city during last week's mild spell for the proverbial first sign of the gentle season. We even went so far as to give up sitting in the Westmount Theatre Tuesday afternoon to pursue our pursuit. And when we stated that since the first butterfly of the year had not been seen in West-

Local Church To Have 60th Anniversary

Special Services and Functions To Mark Diamond Jubilee of Calvary Church

The Sixtieth Anniversary of the founding of Calvary Church as an independent congregation will be celebrated by special services to be held in the present Church edifice, at the corner of Greene Avenue and Dorchester St., on Sunday and Monday. Special services will be held on Sunday, at which Mayor Jenkins and members of the council are expected to be present.

On January 26th, 1877, a group of people met in a church which they had already erected on Guy St., Montreal, and in the company of ministers of neighbouring churches and in the spirit of devotion and high adventure, were formally organized as a Congregational Church, under the name of Calvary. Thirty-six members signed the roll as the charter group, of which number, only one, Miss Martha Richardson, is still a member of the congregation.

Preceding the formal act of organization, mission work had been carried on for a number of years in the area where the church was built, in association with the work of Zion Congregational Church, which was situated at the corner of Milton and Manoe streets. One of the abiding institutions growing out of that missionary service was the Boys' Home, now known as The Werdale House, which has served so splendidly in the field of Boys' work.

The work established on Guy Street was splendidly served in its earlier years by many outstanding citizens, including John Ritchie, John R. Dougal, Charles Cushing, R. W. MacLachlan, Peter Wood, Robert Weir, Robertson Macaulay, and in later years T. B. Macaulay, J. O. Richardson, George McGarry, Ronald Stephen, W. A. Wood, Judge Seth P. Leet, and W. T. Gunn, who later became Secretary of the Congregational Union and subsequently Moderator of The United Church of Canada, and a host of others, both men and women, who have occupied positions of importance in many walks of

Brotherhood Met Here On Saturday

Rev. Arthur Wilkinson was the guest speaker Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood. Meetings of various Brotherhood groups were held throughout the city and district and many noted speakers addressed the gatherings.

The new concepts of human relationships which had begun to permeate society since the "Birth at Bethlehem and the death at Calvary" comprised the subject of Mr. Wilkinson's address. These new concepts were instrumental in changing the moral ideas of a world then "perishing in animalism and lust"; and these concepts had continued up to the present, contended the speaker.

The sum of that contribution to humanity at large had altered mankind's attitude towards war and womankind, went on Mr. Wilkinson. The first had been condemned as futile, and the other placed on the same footing in the world as man.

Spring Is On The Way, We Sigh Prognosticated By A Butterfly

The Examiner had not been on the streets for ten minutes before the phone started ringing. "We understand you're hunting for a butterfly," query-stated Mrs. Bentley, of Claremont avenue. "Well, my husband saw one on Tuesday—or maybe it was Wednesday."

We leaped for a pencil and scratch pad. "Where was it?" we gulped. "Well, it was near the Manufacturers' Terminal, at Ontario and Moreau streets," explained Mrs. Bentley. "It was one of those little cabbage-butterflies." "Thanks," we sighed, trying not to sound disappointed. After someone had found a butterfly, the thought that it wasn't in Westmount was too much. WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1931

HONOUR FOR HON. A. K. HUGESSEN

The many local friends of Hon. A. K. Hugessen will join us in congratulating him upon his appointment to the Senate of Canada. Mr. Hugessen is a young man of great ability—two facts which have occasioned some surprise that he should be placed in the Senate; but it is said on good authority that his appointment is far from the usual reward for political services rendered. In the first place, his presence will help to lighten things generally in the Red Chamber; in the second place, he will be close to the Cabinet where his services will undoubtedly be called upon frequently—indeed there are rumours that he will be made a Minister Without Portfolio; then there are those who see in his appointment the first step in a lengthy, constitutional reform of the Senate. The Hon. Mr. Hugessen is of the British nobility. Both his father and grandfather were members of the British House of Commons. Mr. Hugessen came to Canada at an early age, and received his education at McGill University. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war, and has a fine record of service. An excellent orator, he speaks both languages fluently; his speech before the members of the local Liberal Club previous to the last Federal election will be long remembered by those who heard him. He was defeated in that election in St. Lawrence-St. George by Hon. C. H. Cahon, by a comparatively small majority. Like others of the "old school" of British Liberals, Hon. Mr. Hugessen is a thoroughgoing democrat. His presence in Ottawa will not only add to the government's prestige, but his ability will be at the call of Mr. King and his colleagues.

AN UNUSUAL COINCIDENCE

An interesting article by a West End resident Bernard Rose, K.C., in the current number of The Labour World relates an unusual coincidence in respect to the defence of free speech, free assembly, and a free press made some time ago by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, to a delegation of labour leaders from Quebec, and the more recent decision of the United States Supreme Court on the same matter. The language employed by both the Canadian Minister of Justice and the Supreme Court were strikingly similar. Needless to say, both emphasize that our democracy rests upon a foundation of liberty—Mr. Lapointe emphasizing its dual traditions of British and French freedom, and the Supreme Court emphasizing the liberties guaranteed by the United States constitution. The Supreme Court went so far as to declare that without the fundamental freedom of assembly, democracy could not exist. In the fact of such testimony as this, it is not likely that any serious attempt will be made to reinstate in the Criminal Code of Canada the mischievous Section 98. Those who protest against its removal from the Code do not realize that it could well be used by their opponents as well as by themselves.

In an old trunk that belonged to his grandfather, a Tuscon, Ariz., high school boy has found letters written by Longfellow, Hawthorne, Lowell, Emerson, Holmes, Whitier, Mark Twain and James Whitcomb Riley. What, nothing from "Pro Bono Publico," "Citizen," "Indignant Subscriber" or "Anonymous"?

World's largest bombing plane, now being tested by the U.S. Army is designed to reach an enemy 1,500 miles away, drop a ton of explosives and return to its base in one operation. The news item doesn't mention, however, whether the new machine will be christened "the Aggie Macphail."

By straying off his course, Captain James A. Mollison lost the chance to better the England-to-Cape town flying record of his wife, Amy. But that's nothing. At this season of the year many husbands get all turned around, while wife goes straight to the counter which has what she wants.

Six men were killed, 20 wounded and 80 arrested when members of rival Mexican labor unions fought with revolvers and daggers during an election meeting. Why can't we have elections like that?

Following three disastrous raids by Fascist bombers, Antonio Mije, the commissar of war at Madrid, has been replaced by Enrique Garcia, representative of the Proletarian Youth. It's still mostly politics.

Bar Associations, like most Chambers of Commerce have a strong leaning toward conservative opinions on social and economic questions. Many assume the legal mind naturally turns in that direction and particularly the so-called corporation lawyer. But as a matter of fact there are a considerable number of liberal lawyers and also judges with decidedly progressive views.

The liberals of the American Bar Association are forming a National Lawyer's Guild and will attempt to organize lawyers who are in favor of "reasonable business regulation, social security, labor legislation and child labor legislation." They speak of being "a progressive force in the life of the nation." The relations of economics and politics being as intimate as they are such a guild will probably have political significance. It will be splendid if the guild does something politically effective—besides running for office.

An effort is being made to oust Glenn Frank from the presidency of the University of Wisconsin. If this is an attack upon academic freedom it is unusual because he is a conservative and those who seek his dismissal are progressives.

When he became president at the age of thirty-seven he was an outspoken liberal but political events and perhaps political ambitions—

he was suggested as the Republican candidate for the presidency—

had to do with his change of views. One charge is that to add to his $15,000 salary he spends too much time lecturing and writing. He claims the university has made great gains under him and independent observers agree with him. It is felt, however, that as the older and more eminent members of the staff retired the new appointee has not been up to former standards. Governor La Follette, ardent progressive and supporter of President Roosevelt, has been drawn into the fight and his last appointments of regents put him in a position to win by a vote of nine to eight. His supporters say that he is as incompetent as his critics say he is, it should not have taken twelve years to find it out.

The Port Hood coal areas in Inverness County, Nova Scotia, are now operated by a group of practical miners who speak Gaelic. A recent visitor stated that very little English is heard and all mine orders are in Gaelic.

British Metals Corporation is shipping 1500 tons of zinc ore each week from Sterling, near Loch Lomond, Nova Scotia. The ore goes by water from Fourchen.

Disraeli said of Gladstone: "He is an honest man, in the worst sense of the word."

The foreign soldiers in Spain all claim to be "volunteers" though there is evidence that some were reluctant to go and needed government persuasion. Moreover, neither Germans nor Italians nor Russians can leave their own countries for any purpose without permits, and it seems hard to believe so many thousands could have smuggled themselves out. And soldiers of fortune could not take planes, tanks, machine guns, heavy artillery and submarines with them. In any language but that of diplomacy, it would be said that someone lied when they said they would not send men or munitions into Spain and lied again when they said they had not done so.

"And the fact that each belligerent seeks to capture world public opinion for itself gives basic to my conviction that war as an instrument of policy must inevitably disappear, destroyed by the enlightened attitude toward it on the part of nations. And it is the creation of this public opinion adverse to war that each of us can perform effective work for the promotion of harmony and peace among the peoples of the earth."

Hon. Alexander W. Weddell, United States Ambassador to Argentina, who in a broadcast compared war with dueling.

HOLDS HIGHEST TITLE IN RUSSIA

Stalin may be dictator of Russia, but a soft-spoken, gentle, gray-haired man of 60 is its president, theoretically the highest office in the land. The man is Michael Ivanovitch Kalinin, peasant-born Communist of long standing, and a pioneer in the Bolshevik revolution.

From the beginning of the Communist revolt, Kalinin fought for the liberty of the peasants of Russia. He was thrown into prison. He suffered exile, and while his comrades continued to bolster their forces, he organized the first group of revolutionaries in Revel. Poorly educated, still a peasant at heart, Kalinin has remained president of Russia since 1921. To him come the people of Russia with all their troubles, and of him they demand fulfillment of the promises the new government has made to them.

On his 60th birthday, recently, Russia issued a stamp bearing Kalinin's latest portrait. (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Abandoning the controversial style of many of his famous sociological novels, Mr. Sinclair here tells the story of a co-operative in terms of the people who work in it. There is a splendid list of characters, living people and not sociological symbols, men and women whose triumphs and defeats are told in warmly human terms. As a sheer narrative of gallant struggle against economic odds and social disintegration Co-Op ranks as the best sort of vivid, readable fiction.

But the book is more than good reading. It is a compelling account of a social movement that may in the future provide a means for rehabilitation for millions of unemployed in every country. It is a plea for human co-operation toward a more decent, secure, and intelligent social structure. It is the author's most important, readable, convincing novel in many years.

He closes as follows: "Quite a decision for the President of the United States to make, with all the business men of America pulling him one way and all the idealists and dreamers of social justice pulling him the other! Should he let the unemployed get hold of the land and tools, and set to work to build themselves a new world, with new freedom and independence for all workers? Should he permit them to make a demonstration of the fact that they could do such a job, and that they wanted to? It was very, very dangerous, in the eyes of everyone who believed in the profit system, and thought it could be patched and kept going. It would, in truth, be the most revolutionary event in present-day America. What was Franklin D. Roosevelt going to answer?"

BOOK REVIEW

by HOWARD S. ROSS

CO-OP
A novel of living together by Upton Sinclair
Publishers—Farrar and Rinehart, Inc., on Murray Hill, New York.

This is the author's first novel in five years. And the past five years have been crowded with social history in the making, tumultuous with panic and hope, and the despair of men and women deprived of their work and their future, with a crisis in economics and government.

In these recent years the author has played an important role. His End Poverty in California (E.P.C.) campaign rocked California from end to end, and his theory that men and women can help themselves even in years of catastrophe to a better and more complete life has been proven by the astonishing growth of the co-operative movement, not alone in California, but across the entire continent.

Abandoning the controversial style of many of his famous sociological novels, Mr. Sinclair here tells the story of a co-operative in terms of the people who work in it. There is a splendid list of characters, living people and not sociological symbols, men and women whose triumphs and defeats are told in warmly human terms. As a sheer narrative of gallant struggle against economic odds and social disintegration Co-Op ranks as the best sort of vivid, readable fiction.

British Metals Corporation is shipping 1500 tons of zinc ore each week from Sterling, near Loch Lomond, Nova Scotia. The ore goes by water from Fourchen.

Disraeli said of Gladstone: "He is an honest man, in the worst sense of the word."

The foreign soldiers in Spain all claim to be "volunteers" though there is evidence that some were reluctant to go and needed government persuasion. Moreover, neither Germans nor Italians nor Russians can leave their own countries for any purpose without permits, and it seems hard to believe so many thousands could have smuggled themselves out. And soldiers of fortune could not take planes, tanks, machine guns, heavy artillery and submarines with them. In any language but that of diplomacy, it would be said that someone lied when they said they would not send men or munitions into Spain and lied again when they said they had not done so.

"And the fact that each belligerent seeks to capture world public opinion for itself gives basic to my conviction that war as an instrument of policy must inevitably disappear, destroyed by the enlightened attitude toward it on the part of nations. And it is the creation of this public opinion adverse to war that each of us can perform effective work for the promotion of harmony and peace among the peoples of the earth."

Calvary Church Notes

The Diamond Jubilee Festival of the founding of Calvary Church, as an independent congregation within the Congregational Union of Canada, will be celebrated on Sunday, with special services in the church auditorium.

The Minister, the Rev. T. W. Jones, who celebrates at the time the sixteenth anniversary of his acceptance of the pastorate, will conduct the service of worship at 11 a.m., and will welcome as the guest preacher, the Right Reverend Peter Bryce, D.D., Moderator of the United Church of Canada. Assisting in the service will be the Rev. E. Munson Hill, D.D., a former minister of Calvary Church, and the Rev. William Munroe, D.D., secretary of the Montreal Presbytery, a former pastor of Bethlehem Church, now amalgamated with Calvary.

The Mayor of Westmount, together with members of the City Council, will be in attendance at this service.

All former members and friends of both Calvary and Bethlehem Churches are cordially invited to attend.

Special programmes in celebration of this occasion will be given in both the Sunday School and in the Calvary Men's Own Brotherhood at 3 o'clock. It is expected that Dr. Hill will attend these sessions.

The evening service at 7.30 p.m. will be conducted by the minister, the Rev. T. W. Jones, who will also preach the sermon.

The Choir, directed by Mr. G. W. Cornish, organist of the church, will render special music at both morning and evening service.

On Monday at 8 p.m. the Annual Meeting of the Church and congregation will be combined with the Jubilee with a program specially arranged.

The Pastor of the church will preside while the annual report will be presented by the secretary of the church, Dr. H. V. Driver.

Dr. E. Munson Hill will bring a special message of remembrance, while greetings from the chairman of the Presbytery, the Rev. A. McTaggart and from neighboring ministers of other denominations and from former ministers of Calvary will be presented—interspersed with musical items by members of the choir.

A special feature of the evening's program will be the cutting of the birthday cake by Mrs. E. Munson Hill.

Tonight (Friday), the special functions receive their send-off in the wonderful travellage, "Hitch-hiking Round the World," to be given in the church by the Rev. Ellsworth Toll, one of two brothers who travelled 30,000 miles around the world. This thrilling story will be illustrated with beautiful pictures in colors. Doors will be open for ticket holders only at 7.15 and for the general public at 7.45 p.m.

No seats will be reserved for ticket holders after 7.45 p.m.

Tomorrow morning at 11.15 at the Junior Congregation service, the sermon, will be by Mr. Mordecai I. Mendelsohn.

The next meeting of the Sisterhood Wednesday morning Study Group will be held January 27th at 10.30 o'clock with Rabbi Stern in charge.

Meanest Thieves At Work Locally

One of the homes looted by a pair of sneak-thieves in Westmount recently was the residence of the late Dent Harrison, alderman of Westmount for many years. Among other things the thieves stole a gold medal which had been presented to the late Mr. Harrison by the Master Bakers Association.

Quick work on the part of the local police recovered a great deal of the "haul," resulted in the arrest of two thieves and also brought the "receiver" to book. Sad to say, however, the damage had already been done.

The medal, prized so highly, had been melted.

HOUSING LOANS
Four loans totalling $45,175, under the Dominion Housing Scheme, have been effected in Westmount, it was revealed in the House of Commons Wednesday by Finance Minister J. Dunning.

Ninety eight similar loans have been made to residents of the Island of Montreal, it was revealed the total amounting to $2,071,870.

Miss G. Tomalin In Fine Recital

A large and appreciative audience gathered Friday afternoon in Victoria Hall to hear Gertrude Tomalin, well known monologist, who rendered a fine programme of monologues and sketches. The event was under the auspices of the Ladies' Literary Society of Dominion Douglas Church.

Miss Tomalin concluded her recital with four short numbers in which she was accompanied at the piano was J. J. Weatherhead. Her programme, with the exception of two speeches from Bernard Shaw's Saint Joan, was confined to the lighter type of selections.

Her most appreciated selection was "Madame D'Aubigne, Widow," a substitute for one listed on the programme.

life, business and professional. The Church was happy in its ministerial leaders from the very first, outstanding among these being the Rev. E. Munson Hill, D.D. whose pastorate began shortly after the organization of the congregation and lasted for eighteen years prior to his becoming Principal of the Congregational College, Montreal, Dr. and Mrs. Hill, who now live in Philadelphia, will be present and take part in the Jubilee Celebration this weekend.

Among the outstanding pieces of service rendered by Calvary we find the introduction of the Christian Endeavour Movement to Canada in the year 1883, by the forming of a Society in connection with the congregation.

In 1896 the first Men's Own Brotherhood organization in Canada was formed from a Bible Class led by Mr. T. B. Macaulay, thus providing an active link with the Brotherhood Movement in Great Britain, which has now extended into The World Brotherhood organization in Canada, was formed from a Bible Class led by Mr. T. B. Macaulay, thus providing an active link with The Brotherhood Movement in Great Britain, which has now extended into the World Brotherhood Federation.

Members of Calvary were also instrumental in founding Point St. Charles Congregational Church, and later on Amherst Park Congregational Church, while nearer at home, one of the Bible Classes of Calvary started the Welcome Hall Mission on its career of service.

In 1896, a number of the members of Calvary with a goodly company of other folk, organized Bethlehem Congregational Church, erecting the church building on the corner of Clarke and Western avenues, Westmount. There splendid service was rendered for a number of years under most effective ministerial leadership, including that of the Rev. William Munroe, D.D., who is now the Secretary of the Montreal Presbytery of the United Church of Canada, and who will take part in the services this weekend.

Well known citizens of Westmount, including Dr. W. D. Light, Alex. McA. Murphy, S. T. Spindlo, A. H. Vallance, C. E. Box and many others were associated with this congregation, and later shared in the work of Calvary.

In 1912 the Canadian Pacific Railway purchased the property of Calvary Church on Guy Street and the congregations of Bethlehem and Calvary were formally amalgamated under the name Calvary Church. The Bethlehem Church building was sold to the English Lutheran congregation and a church for the use of the new congregation was erected at the corner of Greene Avenue and Dorchester St., Westmount, the cornerstone being laid in June 1912, and the building formally opened and dedicated in November 1913.

The present minister, the Rev. T. W. Jones commenced his association with Calvary as Student Assistant on April 3rd, 1912, continuing in this capacity until 1915, and after service with the Military Y.M.C.A. during the war, accepted the call to the pastorate at the Annual Meeting in January 1921, being ordained and inducted on April 20th of the same year. Under his ministry the membership has increased from year to year, while the increased enrolment of the Sunday School, largely through the addition of a considerable group from the former Douglas Methodist Church, led to the building of a new Sunday School Hall, which was opened and dedicated on the occasion of the Golden Jubilee in 1927.

In the year 1925 the congregation of Calvary entered with other Congregational Churches into The United Church of Canada, and since that time members of former Methodist and Presbyterian Churches have united with the Congregational folk in Calvary in happy fellowship and service. In June of last year the Minister of Calvary was elected as President of the Montreal and Ottawa Conference of The United Church, thus affording another indication of the effective working of the spirit of unity.

This Sunday morning, the Diamond Jubilee Service will be conducted by the Minister, while the sermon will be delivered by the Right Rev. Peter Bryce, D.D., Moderator of The United Church of Canada, with Dr. Hill and Dr. Munroe, former pastors, assisting in the service.

Mr. Jones will preach at the evening service, on Sunday at 7.30 p.m. and will preside at the Annual Meeting of the Congregation to be held on Monday evening, January 26th at 8 p.m., at which time the report of the year's work will be presented by the Secretary, Dr. H. V. Driver. Dr. Hill will also speak at this meeting and Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Jones will be associated in the cutting of the Jubilee Birthday cake.

Westmount High School Notes

By M. S.

A letter was received recently by Mr. S. F. Kneeland, superintendent of schools, from Mr. F. C. Mead of London, England, who will be remembered donated prizes last spring for the best essays written by the scholars of this school and Argyle Junior High, on the subject "What benefits does Canada receive by being a member of the British Empire?" Mr. Mead again congratulates the Westmount scholars, and forwards the interesting fact that the compositions written here were considered in England superior to those prepared by English scholars on the same subject. The hope is expressed by Mr. Mead that Canadian pupils will continue to show such knowledge of Empire matters and adds that he will be pleased to again donate awards this year for compositions on "Australia." It is quite certain that the Westmount scholars will again accept Mr. Mead's kind offer.

During the past week Ivy Lawrence and George Tomkins of Verdun High met Sonya Elkin and Jack Carters of Westmount High in an inter-school debate, in the school auditorium, when the subject was "Resolved that money has more influence than ability." Both sides presented their arguments in an effective manner, but the Verdun team played up considerably humor in following their line of argument which evidently influenced the decision in their favour. Westmount upheld the affirmative side while the visitors the negative. On the same evening Harriet Bloomfield and Stewart Willis representing Westmount invaded Verdun High when the same topic was up for consideration but in this case Verdun presented the affirmative while Westmount took up the negative.

Debates seem to be the order of the day as on Monday afternoon last the oratorical representatives of the third and fourth forms were heard on the subject, "Resolved that Pacifism under any conditions is the highest form of Patriotism." Miss M. Harrison and I. Rocklin representing the 4th form presented a strong case for the affirmative, while for the negative and 3rd form, Louis Malcolm and John Randolph did their utmost to persuade the large audience of the effectiveness of war. Each speaker showed careful study of the subject and it was with some difficulty that the judges, Miss B. Truax, Mr. Murray and Lawley gave the decision to the fourth form. Olive Packard of the D. and D. society presided. The announcement is made that the school as a unit, through the D. and D. society, is considering the advisability of procuring a membership in the Montreal R. - - Theatre.

Plan to Present Sinclair Lewis Play Here

Longing in shirtsleeves in the green room of the Adelphi Theatre in Manhattan, drilling his Corps storm troopers and coaching his small town editor Dormus Jessup, Nobel-prizewinner Sinclair Lewis hatched something of an all time record in theatrical production last fall. The simultaneous opening of his anti-fascist play "It Can't Happen Here" in eighteen cities from New York to San Francisco under the sponsorship of the American Federal Theatre Project proved a startling innovation. The novelty of seeing the familiar European fascist phenomena transplanted to a North American setting startled and captured the attention of thousands of blasé theatre-goers accustomed to run-of-script entertainment. Proof of the pudding was the box office success with which the play and its numerous productions were crowned.

Working from the best-seller novel of the same name, author Lewis and Hollywood scenarist J. C. Moffitt adapted a play which is vital and moving. It is especially thought-provoking in its implications to an intelligent audience. And Westmount audiences will presently have the opportunity to see "It Can't Happen Here" when the New Theatre players open in Victoria Hall next month. Two evening performances are scheduled for February 3rd and 4th.

Expert Discussed Diamonds At Hi-Y

At the regular Monday evening supper meeting of the Westmount Hi-Y Grads, held in the local branch this week, the special guest speaker was Mr. Lovell Baker, diamond expert.

Mr. Baker discussed diamonds, and told of their chemical and crystalline construction. He outlined the history of some of the famous diamonds, and passed round glass life-size models of such famous stones and the Koh-noor, the Cullinan, etc.

Following the address, there was a short question period in which Mr. Baker further enlightened his hearers. He also told of the making of artificial gems. Parker Chesney was in the chair.

French Course Will Present Opportunities

Commencing Tuesday evening, Miss Robichaud's Commercial Academy, 4882 Sherbrooke Street West, will offer a course in French conversation. This class will be of benefit to all those who are desirous of learning the French language, in addition to those who are anxious to improve their present knowledge.

An open invitation is extended to everyone interested to attend a demonstration lesson, without prior commitment, on Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. Miss Robichaud will outline in a preliminary way the course offered in French grammar and conversation, drawing particular attention to the more common difficulties encountered in the study of French.

The ever-increasing demand for people equipped with a thorough knowledge of both French and English is demonstrated in the comments of Mr. F. R. Clarke of the Protestant Employment Bureau, appearing in the Montreal Daily Star on January 12th to the effect: "Not a single day passed in the depression when I could not have placed a stenographer knowing French."

Miss Robichaud's reputation as a successful instructress of French and English, in addition to a thorough grounding in commercial subjects, is widespread. As the number of invitations to the demonstration lesson on French conversation is limited, it is recommended that early reservation be made by telephoning the Academy at DEXter 2663.

SOCIETY PLANS BIG EXPANSION

The West End Horticultural Society, one of the most enterprising organizations of its type in this part of the Dominion, is making arrangements to accommodate additional members at the present time, with a view to the coming spring and summer seasons, when their activities will increase.

Unfortunately in our larger cities the beauties of nature are being replaced by bricks and mortar to a great extent, and as a form of encouragement to beautify lots and gardens and to keep porch flower boxes, etc., the organization is offering cups and prizes.

It is hoped to extend the effort this year and offer prizes for competition among the service stations of the district to stimulate an added interest in beautifying this part of the city.

Whether you have a garden or not the association is looking for your membership. At the annual flower show prizes are also given

Funeral Was Held Of Miss F. Currie

The death occurred in this city on January fourteenth, of Miss Flora Currie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Currie, after an illness of several months duration.

Miss Currie was an old resident of Westmount, as were her parents before her. For many years she did active social work. She was one of the first Travelers Aid workers in the city, was interested in the University Settlement and took an active part in its work several years ago. She also did practical nursing proving herself very proficient in several lines of endeavor. For some years she travelled extensively, but had passed the last five years at Rockaway Beach, N.Y., and still more recently at home in Westmount.

Miss Currie possessed a keen mind and an alert interest in everyday affairs. She was a regular church goer, an adherent of Presbyterianism. Her entire life was spent in the service of others. The funeral was conducted by Rev. J. Lavell Smith from William Wray's Chapel Friday last. Interment was in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Following are notes on John Reymes-King's Fifth recital: The Lute Music by John Dowland consists of three short pieces. The Lute was much used in the XVIIth century, and resembles a harp. Following the custom then Dowland names the pieces after and "Queen Elizabeth Galliard", but he pokes fun at this habit of naming is "Mrs. White's Nothing!" Domenico Scarlatti represents the XVIIth century in two light, cheerful pieces (Pastorale and Ballet) written for harpsichord, precursor of the pianoforte. There follows Bach's Fugue in E flat, the "St. Anne" so called because the theme accidentally resembles that tune ("O God, our

COMING TO LOCAL UNITED THEATRES

Shirley Temple, and Frank Morgan as they appear in "Dimples," which will open for three days at the Westmount Sunday, following at the Seville and then the Monkland.

Singing, Dancing, Dimples Flashing, Shirley In Hit

Singing, dancing, dimples flashing even when tears are clinging to her lashes, Shirley Temple opens at the Westmount Theatre Sunday in her new Twentieth Century-Fox triumph, "Dimples," the grandest story Shirley has ever had and the outstanding hit in her parade of success.

As a little minstrel, harmonizing with street singers, playing every role in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" single-handed, starring in a minstrel show and mothering and caring for her irrepresible and incorrigible guardian Frank Morgan, Shirley shares with you her love and laughter, tears and thrills trials and triumphs.

In addition to Frank Morgan, Shirley's supporting cast includes Helen Westley, Robert Kent, Astrid Allwyn, Delma Byron, the Hall Johnson Choir and the mimitable Stepin Fetchit.

There is laughter, romance and drama in "Dimples" in addition to Shirley's songs and dances. With Morgan as her mentor, Shirley cokes out a precarious living for them both by leading a group of young minstrels in impromptu shows on the streets.

Morgan, however, has a penchant for other people's valuables and his nimble fingers are always attaching themselves — quite unconsciously, of course! — to some object or other.

Shirley, meanwhile, with her charms and smiles, captivates a wealthy woman, Helen Westley, who wants to adopt her. Miss Westley offers Morgan $5,000 if he will permit Shirley to come and live with her. Morgan indignantly refuses—but one of his escapades forces him to accept the offer, although Shirley's heart is breaking.

Before the conclusion however, Shirley, with her songs, smiles and dances, straightens matters out, scores a triumphant success on the stage, and brings happiness to two young lovers.

Shirley is better than ever before and her new musical numbers literally stop the show. Morgan and Stepin Fetchit furnish abundant and hilarious laughter, while Robert Kent, Astrid Allwyn and Delma Byron provide exciting romantic interest. Helen Westley is superb in her role, and the Hall Johnson Choir provides unparalleled music.

Darryl F. Zanuck appointed William A. Seiter director and Nunnally Johnson associate producer of the film.

Arthur Sheekman and Nat Perrin wrote the screen play, while the music and lyrics were composed by Jimmy McHugh and Ted Koehler.

GROUP PRESENTS LABURNUM GROVE

Montreal Repertory Theatre Presents J. B. Priestley Play At Victoria Hall

After being foiled several times through difficulties in obtaining playing rights for Montreal, the Montreal Repertory Theatre was able to present "Laburnum Grove" to a local audience last night in Victoria Hall. The play will be repeated again tonight, tomorrow evening and Saturday evening as the MRT's forty-second major production.

"Laburnum Grove" was first produced in London by Sir Cedric Hardwicke at the Duchess Theatre in November, 1933, proved an immediate success and enjoyed a long run with Edmund Gwenn in the leading role. In the season of 1934-35 it appeared on Broadway also with great success and strengthened its author's position as one of the foremost writers of the modern English stage. Priestley who was practically unknown in 1929, became almost overnight to be regarded by many as a contemporary classic with his "Good Companions" and later "Angel Pavement" though "Good Companions" was brought to the stage and screen with undoubted popularity, the author's actual first play was "Dangerous Corner" produced in London in 1932 and for the first time in Canada by the MRT in 1933. This production is still regarded by many MRT followers as one of the theatre's triumphs.

Priestley once said that the two most important things in a play are character and atmosphere. He illustrated this precept admirably in "Dangerous Corner" and does so again in "Laburnum Grove". Here he creates a most definite atmosphere of suburbia called "Ferndale", Laburnum Grove, Shooters Green, North London, the home of the Radfems. It is placid, highly respectable and comfortable. George Radfern, the master of the house, has his office in the "City" but once he is at home his one passion is his greenhouse where he grows prize tomatoes. Discontent is rearing its head however—Elsie, his daughter wants excitement and also wishes to marry an obviously unsuitable but flashy young man—a brother and sister-in-law are trying to wheedle George out of a large sum of money.

Suddenly, in the midst of a quiet Sunday evening supper, George calmly announces that he is not what he seems but really a prominent member of a criminal gang. The bombshell effect may be imagined. The events of the following day keep the family in a state of ferment and maintain the interest of the audience right up to the final curtain—and even beyond it.

In the MRT production the leading role of George Radfern (played by Edmund Gwenn in the original presentation) is taken by Whitfield Aston, long one of the theatre's most experienced and

Yuma Plans To Make Speedier Marriages Possible, Is Claim

Yuma, Ariz.—This western Gretna Green is starting the season with "right now" service for altar-bound Hollywood couples and others.

Constable Ed. Winn, who exchanges his gun for a Bible to succeed Earl A. Freeman as "marrying justice" of the peace, has a head full of plans for speeding up things. His program calls for moving his residence from the outskirts into the middle of Yuma, and burning the lights all night as a guide to elopers.

"These folks who want to get married in a hurry and go to the expense of chartering an airplane to bring them to Arizona aren't going to hunt all over a strange town for a justice of the peace," Winn says.

The easy-going, horse-trading former Texan plans to be ready at all hours. Through years of experience as a peace officer, he has learned to awaken easily and clothe himself quickly—there'll be no long waits on his front porch, he promises.

Some nights Yuma's thriving wedding business brings as many as 20 couples knocking at the doors of the justice.

Freeman, who is retiring after "slicing an estimated 25,000 couples," says a decade of this sort of life has made his hair gray and broken his health. Recently, those night-time visitors included, John Barrymore and Elaine Barrie, who arrived at midnight in a chartered plane. Justice Freeman "had the knot tied in the blink of an eye."

Winn says marriages will be conducted "on the same high level." The fee will remain the same, "customarily" $5. Movie stars usually pay more, but seldom above $25. On this basis, it is estimated the office has paid Freeman about $150,000 in marriage fees alone.

Local High Team Chalks Up Another Victory—Intermediates Downed Verdun At Forum Saturday 3 To 1—Juniors In 3 To 0 Victory Over Lower Canada College—Future Games

By Doug Laing

On Friday, the Westmount seniors chalked up another victory when they beat M.H.S. by 2 to 1.

In the first period M. H. S. was on the offensive most of the time, but near the end Buddy Hellyer scored a goal on an assist from Mowatt and Bennison. Yec, Montreal's right wing, hit his head against the iron post at the nets and had to stay off for the rest of the period. Small was given a four minute penalty for slashing.

In the second period Westmount opened up fast and Casey scored with Bennison assisting. Small received another penalty for tripping. Bradbury, Montreal's defence, got a penalty for tripping. Morrison, left wing for Montreal, with MacDonald assisting was able to score on Fry.

W.H.S.—Fry; Small; Ross; Bennison, Mowatt, McMartin; subs: Hellyer, Thomson, Casey, Kennedy.

M.H.S.—Henderson; Bradbury, Eddols; MacDonald, Morrison, Yec; subs: Bromley, Farmer, McKay, Camhill.

On Saturday, the Westmount Juniors lost to Verdun by a score of 5 to 1.

Intermediates vs. Verdun

Westmount took the offensive from the start to the finish of the game. Fisher and Bennett scored before the end of the first period. In the second period Bennett scored again for Westmount. Near the end Verdun were able to score.

W.H.S.—Scarlett; Bennett, Dawson; Turner, Fisher, Low; subs: Kennedy, Campbell, Hanson, Darling.

In the second period Ian Hellyer broke away and slipped the puck past Brooks, L.C.C.'s goaler. Porter near the end got through the defense and scored.

W.H.S.—Lindsay; McCrae, Porter; Woods, Wallace, Hellyer; subs: Riddell, W. Fraser, Fitzpatrick, Morrison.

Fancy Skating Group Is Formed

A meeting was held last Monday evening in the Westmount Athletic Grounds to arrange formation of The Westmount Fancy Skating Club. Preliminary arrangements were completed, and at the Clubs first outdoor meeting Wednesday night, thirteen fancy skaters were present.

A rink has been reserved for the use of this group every Monday and Wednesday evenings, from 6.30 to 8. Competent fancy skaters will be in attendance to aid children in mastering this science.

It was decided that in the near future, a competent instructor will be in regular attendance.

Egg-a-Day Crown Rests Lightly On Aging Champion

Sardis, B.C.—The paths of glory lead but to the hen-yard. An egg is an egg whether you open it at the big end or the little end, and even if you lay 357 in 365 days that is that and anyway why should there be 365 days in a year?

Thus Doreen, white Leghorn. Doreen once had her picture in the rotogravures, and millions waited to see if she would set a record.

She did. A transcontinental telegraph wire flashed the word to a waiting world. "Doreen enters nest!" Two minutes later a triumphant cackle was the signal for another flash to all quarters of the continent. Doreen had equalled the world egg-laying record. That was three years ago—the normal length of a hen's career.

Every hen has her day, but Doreen is a long-lived bird. She has lasted beyond her period of triumph. That is always very sad, but Doreen is not sad in spite of the fact that she could not pass along her genius to her progeny. None of them ever have done any good at this egg-a-day business.

Here and there she scratches in the hen yard of her master, M. H. Rutledge, of Sardis.

"She did pretty well in her day," he says, "she'll scratch around in a sort of retirement for the rest of her life."

SPORT ODDITIES

With the Boys at The Westmount 'Y'

Fencing Club

Saturday saw the members of the Fencing Club getting some very good tournament experience in a competition judged by Mr. Geo. Tully. The weapon in use was the foil and some fine fencing was seen. A cup was presented to the winner, Earl Reid. Three boys were tied for second place, Mac Paul, Colin Ramsay, and Hack Yates. In fifth place was R. Grant and sixth Angus McIntosh. This tournament was for boys who just started fencing this season, but the second-year men will get their chance next week. A foil competition will be held for them on Saturday and a cup will be presented to the winner.

An innovation was made before the regular meeting last week in the shape of a Young Ladies' Fencing Class. It is hoped that this can be made into a popular part of the programme. Equipment will be supplied by the club. Meetings will be held on Saturdays from 2.30 to 3.30. Any girls interested are asked to get in touch with Mr. Taylor at the 'Y'.

Yotmots

The Yotmots made a very important decision at their meeting on Friday. They have decided to continue their very popular Danc-ing classes every Friday night. These classes drew large crowds last year and it is certain that they will be equally in demand this year.

Hockey Schedule

Old Man Winter made a flying visit to Westmount last week-end and stayed just long enough to allow the 'Y' Juniors to make use of the fine, new facilities at Murray Park. The spacious building in which to change their outfits and warm themselves must have inspired them, for they played two fine games of hockey.

Both games were close, fast contests with a comparatively small amount of scoring, due to very nice work on the part of the goalies.

In the first game Don Ellis' team won a 2-1 decision over Wm.

Harrison and his warriors. The losers scored the first goal but it only took R. Rutledge a matter of a few seconds to tie it up. Followed several minutes of close play and finally Hugh Harkness broke away and scored the winner for his team from a scramble. The second game produced a star in the person of Leslie Renault. He scored both of his team's goals which enabled Jack McCreath's squad to exact a similar 2-1 win from Tommy Greenshields and his team. Leslie's second goal was scored on the nicest play of the day. It was a fine solo rush. He dashed in on his opponents' goal and despite a great try by Barrie Condon, he sent a waist-high shot into the net. Both games were featured by exceptional goaling. The forwards were making good scoring opportunities only to be robbed at the last minute by a great stop.

If the weather will conveniently stay cold for this week-end, Jack McCreath will play Don Ellis and Wm. Harrison will take on Tommy Greenshields.

The teams Saturday were: Wm. Harrison, Temple Weller, Ed. Murray, B. McPhee, Huntley Ferguson, Donald Logan, John Inglis.

Don Ellis, E. Petford, B. Pearson, F. Nutter, R. Rutledge, H. Harkness.

Jack McCreath, Jimmy Peters, L. Renault, D. Goode. Tommy Greenshields, M. Shulman, B. Condon, B. Johnson, Clifford Griffith.

Farmers and local authority agricultural committees in West Wales are in a quandary. During recent weeks a large number of cattle have been killed by ragwort. The only known, certain cure for ragwort is to liberate cinnabar moths in the affected areas. But cinnabar moths can also be a pest, and the farmers and agricultural committees have decided what they will do—allow the cattle to be killed by ragwort, or liberate moths which will become a pest.

Maroons, Hawks Occupying First Places In Y House Loop After Saturday Wins

Former "Cellar" Teams Have Now Taken Up Abode In "Attic"—Maroons Bested Bruins 31-29—Hawks Trimmed Maple Leafs 15-14—League Standing Given

By S. Hunter

The second week of the new series of games in the 'Y' House League produced still further upsets than last week, for the erstwhile last-place teams have taken complete and undisputed possession of first place. Winning by rather slight margins, the Maroons and the Hawks are now riding the crest of a wave that has avenged all former defeats at the hands of the Bruins and the Maple Leafs and carried them beyond fear of being caught very soon.

The Maroons, from an 18-all tie at half time, fought stubbornly and managed to score two more points than the Bruins in the second half. The final score was 31-29. The players were: Maroons: P. Stolp, G. Rogers, E. Reid, D. Austin, L. Dickie, Bruins: U. McCulloch, D. Lightfoot, M. Paul, E. LeMaistre, R. Ashley.

In the second game the Hawks won from the Maple Leafs by an even smaller margin than the first game. After a first half of comparative inactivity, both teams went out and scored most of their goals in the second half, but the Hawks had just the extra amount necessary for victory. At the end of the game the score-board read Hawks 15, Maple Leafs 14.

The players were: Hawks: M. Shippee, C. Ramsay, F. Kenwood, B. Wilson, W. Ball, J. Novinger, Maple Leafs: L. Dickie, A. McIntosh, N. Jeffries, L. Schyrer, D. Smith, D. Goodfellow, L. Marshall, P. Stolp and D. Lightfoot are making a grand race out of it for top scoring honours and are far out in the lead over their nearest rivals. The "Big Seven" of the 'Y' House League with the number of points they have scored is: P. Stolp, 20; D. Lightfoot, 20; U. McCulloch, 13; N. Jeffries, 13; C. Ramsay, 15; L. Dickie, 11; M. Paul, 10.

COMMENT ON CURRENT
Radio Programmes and Stars

By JACK HIRSHBERG

PICKUP
Unsurpassed in the history of Canadian broadcasting for wealth of detail, and absolute drawing power on the basis of sheer entertainment satisfaction, a new series of tobacco-sponsored programs featuring weekly pickups from London, New York and Paris will be inaugurated Sunday afternoon February 7, at 5.45 on a trans-continental network, according to information exclusive to this corner last night. Though the series is still in the formative stage, the programs will probably originate locally in the Marconi Aircraft and be released to a nationwide Canadian network including regional French stations as well as CFCF. Although local broadcast officials politely changed the subject when asked for details last night, it is probable that the program will also feature a short-wave pickup from the greatest news centre of the week.

TICKER TAPE
With Burns and Allen apparently past the peak of their fun-making career, the goofy comedians will fade from the Columbia network on March 31 and their customary Wednesday evening spot on April 7 will be occupied by Ken Murray and his stooge, Oswald, the program originating in Columbia's Hollywood Playhouse. The supporting orchestra and vocalist are as yet unannounced. As reported here several weeks ago, Lloyd Huntley has signed with CKAC and presents his first session of Huntley Harmonies through La Presse facilities Saturday evening at 8.30. . . . Despite protests of many American journals, the National Broadcasting Company has increased its radio service to South America, adding two new programs and commercializing a third. The schedule especially intended for reception in the Torrid Zone now includes the Saturday afternoon performances from the Metropolitan Opera House and the Sunday morning symphony concerts from the Music Hall and is irradiated with increased efficiency from a new directional antenna near New York.

Because of motion picture commitments, Milton Berle heads for Hollywood Monday evening and will drag Wendell Hall, Billy Jones, Ernie Hare, Tommy Mack, Andy Sanela and Jolly Gillette to the motion picture capital with him for a series of "Pacific Community Song" programs to be inaugurated through Columbia-CKAC January 31. . . . "Little Orphan Annie," off CFCF for over three weeks, is to be replaced shortly by "Magic Island," a new series of programs for the young folk. . . . Cab Calloway, heard currently through WOR from Gotham's Cotton Club, heads shortly for Montreal and will grace the midtown boards for a week early in February. . . . Nick Carey, heretofore professional spreader of ballyhoo for Loew's, has moved across the street to the Capitol in the post of assistant manager. . . . Nick has publicized such stars as John Boles, Ina Ray Hutton, Duke Ellington and George Olsen. . . . Igor Stravinsky arrived in New York this week and conducts the famed Philharmonic Sunday afternoon, leaving Manhattan immediately following the concert for a Montreal appearance Monday evening.

MAINLY ABOUT VEGETARIANS

"It is not meet that ye eat meat"—this seems to be the slogan of the vegetarians. To them, meat is poison; to others it is meat.

There are various kinds of vegetarians, which may be divided roughly into three classes—those who are vegetarians because of the principle of the thing; those who are vegetarians simply because they were brought up that way and have no desire to change over. We might also group together separately (no laughs, please) those who sneak out and eat a ham sandwich when no one is looking. These are the ones who spoil vegetarianism for those who really enjoy it.

Most people seem to think that vegetarianism is an integral part of some religion. While certain sects in India adhere to "non-meat"—our own word, don't look for it in Funk and Wagnall's—the vegetarian you meet in this country belongs generally to one of the three general classes in the foregoing paragraph, and has no religious scruples in the matter.

Now in dealing with vegetarianism, we know whereof we speak, having followed that system all our lives. So excuse us if we point our snout in the air and assume an atmosphere of superior authority. There are some who follow the system through idealism and love of principle. These are the "live and let live" group, and to substantiate their attitude have looked into the matter from a scientific and analytical angle. We won't go into details of what they have found, but if you're interested the local library will aid you in the matter. Then there are those who have been brought up that way, and simply stay away from meat and its derivatives because they're quite satisfied to get along the way they are doing. The ones who simply don't like meat are in the minority, because the force of habit is so strong that once one is brought up to eat certain brands of food, there is no inclination to change over.

Then there is the man who admires vegetarianism as a matter of principle, but hasn't the fortitude to adhere to it completely. He boasts that he has given up meat, and then when no one is looking, he dashes down to Dinkelberg's Delicatessen and orders a smoked meat sandwich. This one type of "vegetarian" is, sadly enough, taken as representative of the whole group, and the others have to take a lot of ribbing on his account. We know.

Milk and eggs, butter and cheese. What about 'em? Well, as for milk, butter and cheese, they are mammalian products, and while not intended for humans, particularly, it is not necessarily overstepping the bounds of the ideal to indulge since we are mammals after all. Eggs, on the other hand, present a problem. They represent potential life, but if taken at a sufficiently early papers a five-column picture of the Montreal Orchestra in rehearsal, and in the accompanying caption refers to the Orchestra as the CBS Little Symphony. . . . Merely a slip of the keyboard; or perhaps press agent's license! . . . "Charlie McCarthy," a dapper runt and a blockhead if ever there was one, is radio's newest star, Rudy Vallee for an extended series of appearances on the Vallee Thursday evening hour. "Charlie" happens to be the wealthy young dummy to whom Ventriloquist Edgar Bergen recently bequeathed $10,000, and with whom Eddie has appeared for the past 17 years. . . . Radio coverage of a news event hit a new high yesterday with both major networks' elaborate broadcast description of Roosevelt's inaugural ceremony. The inauguration was already history when the newspapers hit the street some hours later, scooped once again by radio. . . . Rupert Caplan's new Wednesday evening series, "Spotlight Parade," is drawing heavy fan mail from all provinces and letters have been received from points as far distant as Los Angeles. . . . Matt Hef's piano twosomes with Alan Melver are an unadvertised highlight of these weekly variety sessions. . . .

stage of incubation, one cannot be said to be eating meat. For this reason, some strict vegetarians eat only pullet eggs . . . which have no daddies.

The general conception of a vegetarian meal is a dish of grass, a bit of watercress and a boiled carrot. But don't be fooled; the vegetarian gets away many a good hearty meal, composed entirely of fresh fruits, vegetables, and bread and flour products.

"I won't eat any meat, waiter. Bring me a boiled potato. Meat costs the life of some poor, suffering animal." "O.K., sir, if you wish; but let me warn you that that potato has cost the lives of thousands of potato bugs." Those who deride the vegetarian have never been able to explain why man has vegetarian teeth, after the style of those on a horse, or a cow. The vegetarian animals are the strongest and most docile. The ox, the horse, the elephant, for example, the meat eating brutes, the lion, the tiger, etc., are fierce and fast, but lack endurance. . . .

Next week, the subject being timely, we'll tell you all about butterflies.

DIED WEDNESDAY
Burial will be made this morning of James Patrick Grace, who died at his late residence, 484 Argyll avenue, on Wednesday. Funeral will be from the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord at nine o'clock, with burial in Cote Des Neiges Cemetery.

DICKENS FELLOWSHIP HONORS SHAKESPEARE

The memory of Shakespeare will be honoured at the Montreal Branch of the Dickens Fellowship in Victoria Hall, Westmount, on Tuesday evening, when a special Shakespearean programme will be submitted.

The guest speaker is Bishop Carrington of Quebec, who will give an address on the "Drama of Shakespeare." Following the address, the Dickens Players' Club will present scenes from the famous comedy by Shakespeare, "The Merchant of Venice." The play will be directed by John Ready. The connecting narrative will be spoken by Stella Sprowell, and W. Gay Wilkinson will officiate as stage manager.

The cast, who have been carefully coached, will be as follows: Duke of Venice, Walter Whittaker; Antonio, John Ready; Bassanio, Gordon Johnson; Gratiano, Fred Sheward; Salanio, Oscar Wing; Salarino, Albert Stevens; Shylock, Robert Watt; Portia, Winnifred Schlatter; Nerissa, Norma Ross; Clerk of Court, Douglas Martin; Magnificoes, John Service and William Messenger; Captain of the Guard, Harry Mainer; Soldiers, John Struthers and Graham Aston; Page, Phillip Ready.

During the evening Miss Margaret Messenger will be heard in vocal numbers. Altogether the evening will be a most attractive and memorable one. Whitfield Aston, the popular president of the branch, will be in charge of the meeting.

DELPHIC STUDY CLUB
A business meeting of the Delphic Study Club followed by a musicale will be held in the Windsor Hotel, Salon 'A' on Wednesday, January 27th, at 3 p.m. The following artists will take part in the musicale:—Mrs. G. Gillespie, contralto; Mr. W. Hill, baritone; Miss Doreen Callan, pianist, Miss W. Collard, accompanist.
