Forty-Ninth Year

SITE FOR BIG THREE PARLEY BELIEVED FIXED

World News In Brief

Quebec, June 6.—(P)—The Quebec Department of Roads announced that during 1944, 7,358 miles of roadway was either rebuilt or permanently reinforced by the Provincial Government.

A total of 20,402 miles was maintained in usable condition, comprising 6,282 miles of highway and 14,120 miles of municipal roads. New roads covered 187 miles, while other routes were still under construction at the end of the year. One hundred and nineteen bridges were built or repaired.

An Aleutian Base, Alaska, June 6.—(P)—United States Army and Navy bombers from the Aleutians Monday attacked the Japanese Katakura naval base at Shimushu Jima in the Kurile Islands, bombing by instrument through heavy overcast with unobserved results.

Thirty miles south of Katakura, medium bombers attacked installations at Masugawa on the east coast of Paramushiro. All planes returned safely.

Toronto, June 6.—(P)—Tributes to Canadian manufacturing skill and discussions of Canada's position in the post-war trade world marked the opening yesterday of the 74th annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers Association.

Brig. James R. Duff, Deputy Controller General of the Inspection Board of the United Kingdom and Canada, told delegates Canada should capitalize in the reconstruction period on her war-acquired reputation for quality "second to none." He was supported by Admiral H. C. Rawlings, head of the British Admiralty Technical Mission in Canada, who called Canadian-built corvettes "the finest ships I've ever seen."

Quebec, June 6.—(CP)—Premier Duplessis told delegates to the Convention of the Chemical Institute of Canada last night that chemists are indispensable architects of progress and prosperity.

Guest speaker at the institute's first annual banquet, he said Canada, "is a rich country whose natural resources are practically unscratched," and that its future greatness lay in the hands of the research scientists.

Quebec, June 6.—(CP)—One of the oldest buildings in Quebec, a former residence of the Duke of Kent, now is being demolished.

The walls of the building, located on St. Louis Street a short distance west of the Chateau Frontenac, date back to the French Regime, and according to legend it was in this house that the capitulation of Quebec was signed in 1759.

Drummondville, Que., June 6.—(CP)—Paul Emile Perreault, 34, of St. Luc, Que., was killed here yesterday when he fell from a scaffolding on top of St. Frederic's Church. A coroner's inquest revealed that he was repairing a chimney and lost his balance.

BRAZIL DECLARES WAR ON JAPAN

Rio de Janeiro, June 6.—(P)—Brazil declared war on Japan today.

Brazil broke diplomatic relations with Germany, Italy and Japan on January 28, 1942, and declared war on Germany and Italy August 22 of the same year.

Unexplained News Blackout Put On Okinawa Operations

Manila, June 6.—(P)—Japanese units in Southern Okinawa "now firmly entrenched in new positions," were locked in fierce fighting yesterday with American troops, the Japanese Domei Agency reported today as an unexplained news blackout of island ground operations developed at American Headquarters.

The Allied Guam communiqué failed to mention Okinawa land operations, reporting only air strikes into Japanese home waters.

(Such omissions of mention of important operations in the past often have preceded the announcement of exceptional news—possibly the conclusion of a campaign.)

The Tokyo broadcast said the Okinawa garrison was meeting "numerically superior" American forces and acknowledged the landing of 6th Division Marines on Oroku Peninsula, south of Naha. Domei said the landing force was "reported" to include 100 tanks and 400 to 500 infantry reinforcements.

Japanese forces on Mindanao, thrown back from all useful areas of the island, may have to make their last stand in the mountains west of Davao.

Allied Control Council In Berlin Ends Abruptly With Concern Felt Over Austria

London, June 6.—(P)—A hint that the site of the next "Big Three" parley already had been set was given the House of Commons today, as one report that the first meeting of the delegates to the Allied Control Council in Berlin had "ended abruptly" created new anxiety here.

Without elaboration, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir John Anderson, told Commons there was "no chance" that the Big Three would meet in London, leaving the suggestion that a site had been selected.

Meanwhile, fresh concern arose also over the situation in Austria. Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery left soon after the Berlin meeting without attending a Russian banquet, saying they had to return to their headquarters yesterday evening.

Details concerning the organization of the Allied control council and how it will govern Germany remained unsettled following the first meeting of delegates from Britain, the United States, Soviet Russia and France in Berlin yesterday.

Dispatches from Berlin disclosed that Gen. Eisenhower had left Berlin last night to return to his headquarters at Frankfurt after signing a joint declaration announcing the assumption of supreme authority in the Reich by the four victorious powers.

PLANS MADE TO COMPILE SPEEDY RESULT OF VOTE

Chief Electoral Officer Outlines Special Instructions Aimed at Bringing Canadian People Fastest Possible News of Election.

Ottawa, June 6.—(P)—Returning officers and their deputies are urged to do all they can to aid the Canadian Press in promptly collecting accurate returns in the June 11 Dominion election, Jules Castonguay, Chief Electoral Officer, said today.

Special instructions aimed at bringing the Canadian people the fastest possible news of the election results were outlined by Mr. Castonguay.

In each polling station established in the locality of the Returning Officer's office, the Deputy Returning Officer has been instructed to deliver his ballot box and an accompanying envelope containing a preliminary statement of the poll to the Returning Officer as soon as possible after closing of the poll.

Every Deputy Returning Officer for outlying polling stations has been instructed to telephone or telegraph the Returning Officer the result from his poll as soon as the count is completed.

"The Returning Officer for each electoral district has been specially directed to prepare on election night a compilation of the votes cast in each polling station of his electoral district as the ballot boxes are received from local polling divisions and as the results are telegraphed or telephoned to him from outlying polling divisions," said Mr. Castonguay.

"This procedure will be uniform in all constituencies. In past elections the practice in Alberta has been to compile returns for several constituencies in one centre. In this election this procedure will be changed to conform with other provinces and each Returning Officer in Alberta will collect and compile the returns in his constituency.

"The Returning Officers," said Mr. Castonguay, "have also been directed to furnish the public and the representatives of The Canadian Press with the results as they are received."

Bracken Speaks To The Farmers

There can be no doubt in the mind of any sensible, right-thinking farmer as to how he, his wife and his family should vote on Monday next.

John Bracken, Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, has put his cards squarely on the table and has made his agricultural programme open to all. The Progressive Conservative Party has one agricultural policy and one alone. It does not preach one theory in the West and another in the East.

Mr. Bracken, speaking at Huntingdon on Tuesday, placed special emphasis on the fact that Agriculture had been relegated by the King Government into being the poor relation in the national economy of Canada.

John Bracken's theory is that farm folk must be treated as human beings. "I have pledged myself and my party has pledged itself, to bring to the farming people of Canada a new programme designed to give them that fair deal—nothing more or less." This is how the Progressive Conservative Leader explains his views on agriculture. No farmer can ask for more.

When John Bracken speaks on agriculture he speaks with authority for he has had the practical experience. He was born on a farm, the son of a farmer. He has followed the plow, milked the cows, brought in the wood, helped with the haying and put a hand to the other hundred and one chores which are typical of and essential for farming.

The practical experience which he gained on his father's farm stood him in good stead when he entered the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph. Graduating with honours, young Bracken was offered a position with the Federal Department of Agriculture on a Western Canada project, which took him to Winnipeg, to work as Manitoba representative of the Seeds Branch of the Dominion Department there.

His outstanding ability in the realm of agriculture was not to go unnoticed and within a year Hon. W. R. Motherwell, first Minister of Agriculture in the first Liberal Government in Saskatchewan, appointed John Bracken, Superintendent of Fairs and Farmers Institutes for Saskatchewan, and Secretary of the Provincial Livestock Association.

Further recognition came when he was named to the original faculty of the New University of Saskatchewan, where he became Professor of Field Husbandry. In 1920 he was offered and accepted the presidency of the Manitoba Agricultural College.

In 1922, at the insistent demand of a group of farmers, John Bracken became Premier of Manitoba, an office which he was to retain for twenty-three years and inaugurating a political career which is without precedent in contemporary political history within the British Commonwealth of Nations. John Bracken was never defeated and he won five straight elections.

John Bracken today knows the problems of the farmers of Canada. He understands the situation as it effects each section of the nation.

He has lived and worked as a farmer. He has devoted his life to the betterment of farming. He is a friend of the farmer because he appreciates farming.

As leader of the Progressive Conservative Party Mr. Bracken has clearly defined his views so far as the farm is concerned. As Prime Minister of Canada and leader of the Federal Government he would differ from some of his predecessors in that betterment of Canadian agriculture and a fair deal for the farmers would be closer to his mind and heart than wasting time, effort and words on political propaganda which means nothing, but disregard, for the farmer.

The Eastern Townships farmer is a man who thinks for himself, and his wife is a woman who can and does think as intelligently as her husband. They are people who will appreciate what Mr. Bracken has said about agriculture and with confidence in him and his promises for the betterment of farming, will do their part on voting day to see that he is given the opportunity to serve Canada for which he is so well qualified.

The farmers of the Eastern Townships should throw their whole weight behind the Progressive Conservative Party and its farmer leader. The help to farmers is there. The farmers have but to say the word.

Conference In Stalemate On Major Powers Question

By C. R. BLACKBURN

San Francisco, June 6.—(P)—Delegates to the United Nations Conference—their numbers increased by the addition of Denmark, which has been admitted as the 50th nation represented here—today entered the seventh week of their efforts to agree on a new peace organization.

Much of their task of charter drafting is near completion, but on the main issue of authority to be exercised by the major powers, the conference remains in the stalemate which has existed for more than two weeks.

Optimists hope that today will bring a definite and final declaration from Moscow on the extent, if any, to which Russia will recede from her stand on the Yalta voting procedure.

Urgent talks seeking to avoid a permanent Big Five split over the veto-power issue were reported underway in both Moscow and San Francisco. Premier Stalin is said to be reviewing the Soviet insistence on the right to veto even discussion in a world security council.

President Truman's personal emissary, Harry Hopkins, is handling the negotiations in the Russian capital. State Secretary Edward Stettinius, as chief United States delegate to the Conference, is holding conferences on the subject here with Soviet Ambassador Andrei Gromyko.

If Marshal Stalin's answer is firmly and finally unyielding, the Conference may decide to put the issue to a vote and hope that Russia will take defeat gracefully.

If Russia concedes the right of the Security Council to discuss international situations which might threaten peace without each Big Five member being able to veto such discussions, it is probable that those seeking even greater relaxation of veto powers would be satisfied and harmony would be restored.

A possibility if Russia maintains her adamant stand is that the Conference will adopt as much of a charter as possible, and leave the Big Three leaders—Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and President Truman—to fill in the blank spaces with compromises to be reached in personal discussions later.

There was no outward indication today that Russia would yield an inch but in the face of an almost certain split which would place the Soviet Republics and a few neighboring countries against the rest of the Big Five, it seemed likely Premier Stalin would choose to make the small concession necessary to maintain harmony.

Speaking at Winnipeg, home of the Winnipeg Grenadiers, one of two Regiments captured at Hong Kong, Mr. Drew charged that although forewarned by the British Government that war was to be expected in the Pacific the Liberal Government sent two regiments and a headquarters staff to Hong Kong without necessary fighting equipment and training.

Mr. King, speaking at Saint John, N.B., said the results of the Ontario election showed what happened when those who favored social reform were divided into too many parties.

"There," he said, "you have a Government returned to office with a large majority of seats and with only forty-five per cent of the votes as against fifty-five per cent for other parties. Are we going to have so many parties that they will compete against one another and allow the common enemy to get more members than they should?"

He said the Liberal Party was the only party in the Federal election able to win seats in all provinces and win an overall majority.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative National Leader, told a Huntingdon, Que., rally the Liberal Party could not elect much more than a "Corporal's Guard" in next Monday's voting in any of the eight provinces he has visited in a cross-country tour.

The Progressive Conservative trend in Ontario, he added, was indicative of the trend in the rest of the country.

Niemoller Thinks Hitler Still Alive

Naples, June 6.—(P)—Germany's anti-Nazi Protestant leader, Rev. Martin Niemoller, says he believes Hitler may have tried to escape by U-boat to Japan under cover of the Nazi announcement of his death.

Liberated by American soldiers and now classed as a "displaced person" after spending eight years in prison camps for attacking Nazism from his Berlin pulpit, Niemoller said yesterday:

"I read recently that a U-boat had been reported taken up by American officers aboard, who were believed trying to escape to Japan. It may be that Hitler (also) was trying to escape and for that reason the Nazis announced he was dead."

Niemoller, who called himself "Hitler's own prisoner and personal enemy," said he would not believe Hitler is dead until and unless a reliable witness has seen the body.

Of the German people, Niemoller said they "like to be governed and live under some authority" and as a whole "don't like to mingle in politics." However, he said the Germans had suffered badly and found themselves victims of Nazism like others, which might make them "a little more cautious." It remained possible, he added, that they were "incapable of living under a democracy."

About Control Of Germany

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As intended, the Allied pronouncement on Germany is confined almost entirely to the machinery for control and not very enlightening as to methods by which the country is to be re-established as a nation.

The machinery turns out as expected. It is intricate, undoubtedly will run into clashes of both personalities and policy, but could hardly have been evolved, under the circumstances, in any other way.

There are statements in the announcement where it strays from pure description of the control machinery, which give rise to speculation.

Chief among these is the combination of statements regarding boundaries:

1. That the boundaries, for occupational purposes, are those as of 1937.

2. That the set-up does not involve annexation of Germany.

Just where this leaves the Polish occupation of Silesia is unclear. Polish settlers already are reported moving into at least some cities in this area, largely evacuated by the Germans in front of the Russian advance and with further evacuation reported recently. According to the Lublin radio, these Poles "will assume posts in the administration of local government, commerce, industry, handicrafts and communications."

In connection with "the resettlement of people in ancient Slav lands that now return to the mother country." This statement was made specifically with regard to the then impending transfer of 1,000 Poles from Lodz to Frankfurt.

This is annexation accomplished, compared with annexation which had been expected under ultimate settlement after more than temporary military control. Since it was expected to develop ultimately, it is of little import except as it relates to another section of the plans, which reserves to the full council the right to determine all matters, in any zone, affecting Germany as a whole. Here is a hint that future decisions as to what affects Germany as a whole, and therefore lies within the province of the council rather than the individual zone controllers, may be more difficult than the immediate problems themselves.

At any rate, it opens the door for another important problem to come up immediately. That is compensation of Holland for the land which Germany flooded. Holland is in desperate straits for food and, unlike other war-ravaged countries, cannot do much for herself because of what the salt water did to her farming areas, which will take years to rehabilitate. Even the Dutch are not unanimous on whether annexation of German land will be the best long-term answer. Future dangers are too obvious. Is it a matter for the British occupying authorities to decide, or for the whole control council?

TRACES HISTORY OF TRANSPORT AT LIONS CLUB

A resume of the history of transportation in this province was presented to the members of the Lions Club last night by Wilfred Baehr, director of the Provincial Transport Company.

The speaker told of the arduous days of travel over hazardous roads which was the common lot of all travelers in the "horse and buggy" days. He went on to explain the problems of railroading and the demand for a still better transport system in modern times, stressing, however, that in the world of tomorrow, the railroad and the automobile companies could not engage in competition, but must endeavor to complement the service of the other in such a way as to extend maximum service to the general public. He urged those present to aid in educating the public to this point of view.

Although connected himself with the inter-urban branch of the automobile service, he declared that the future of small, independent companies would, for the most part, depend on the shorter routes of local and inter-municipal hauls, giving as an example of this the fact that in 1943 some 600 busses were used to transport 1,000,000 pupils to and from schools each day and that these pupils would have been unable to attend had it not been for this service. "This service can be widely expanded and it is by one of the methods which will be opened up when materials are once more available," he continued.

In conclusion, Mr. Baehr explained against one another and allow the common enemy to get more members than they should."

"I have heard some people deplore the result in Ontario. I say it is the greatest object lesson this country could ever have or what happens when there are too many parties."

Chicoutimi, Que., June 6.—Hon. Onesime Gagnon, Provincial Treasurer in the Quebec Union Nationale Government, last night told Chicoutimi district meetings in support of Independent candidates in the June 11 Federal election that Union Nationale "from the very first" supported Independent candidates in the present campaign.

"Union Nationale from the very first rushed over to support Independent candidates while our party could have waited to congratulate winners or remained indifferent in case of defeat," Mr. Gagnon said.

Speaking of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Mr. Gagnon said "King has to speak in small halls and under the protection of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police lest someone shout to his face disapproval of what he has done."

ed that because the autobus industry was a late entry in the field, many rigid controls have had to be imposed, but that these controls are only necessary to prevent exploitation. "At the present time," he stated, "there are only slight licensed companies in the whole provincial field, and there is room for many more."

Mr. Baehr was introduced by Alphonse Laramee.

Alex Allard reminded the members that a general salvage drive will be held here Monday night next, and urged all members to be on hand. Neil Tracy was delegated to contact the Boy Scouts in an effort to gain their support which has been much appreciated in other drives.

Result of Ontario

English better than French, are Canadians, ready to co-operate in a spirit of "give and take" with the rest of the country.

Do not be misled by the old wives' tales that the Liberal Party has spread through Quebec for twenty years or more that "Tory Ontario" wishes you ill. Regard in a true light those who would divide and split us, up, for their own ends. Examine their statements in the light of truth.

The people of the other provinces of Canada are much the same as we are. They work as hard, have much the same problems, hopes and troubles. During this last week of the campaign, the Liberals, desperate as they see the people of Canada rising to turn them out of the power they have enjoyed so long, enjoyed for their own benefit and not that of the people, will use every means to hold on.

Every old prejudice, every political trick, every fear, every aspiration and every hope will be used and tried. Every sort of promise will be made to everybody—truth will be ignored as they make their last desperate stand.

Throughout this province they will spread the word that only they can help and protect us from the rest of Canada, which they would have us believe is bent upon our destruction.

Ladies and gentlemen, I urge you with all the sincerity and vigor at my command not to be misled. Rather let us go forward, united with the workers, the farmers and the business men and the women of the province, to elect a government for all and for all a Government that has failed us.

Let us show, that in spite of every effort to split us and set one against the other, we are ready to play our full part in building a stronger, more united country.

The election in Ontario shows that the people of this country, sick of Liberal administration, tired of the divisions within the country, disgusted by a trail of broken promises and disillusioned by a leader who thinks only of personal power, have turned again to the party which I represent, the Progressive Conservatives.

They have turned to the party which stands for known principles, and have cast out into utter darkness those who would turn our freedom into socialist dictatorship for their own ends.

Let us do the same. We are a winning team. After long years we are at last coming into our own. We do this not with any great sense of triumph. Not with any sense of the glories of being in power. But with solemn thankfulness that we can have an opportunity to serve. That we can face the responsibilities of the after-war years and do a job—a job for all the people, and not just a chosen few.

Let us join this winning team and play our full part. Let us go forward in a spirit of unity and co-operation, and not allow ourselves to be split and divided from our fellow Canadians.

I should ask your forgiveness perhaps, for stressing so often this question of Canadian unity so much in this campaign, but I cannot sincerely ask you to forgive me for something that I believe is so important. As you all know from letters from husbands, brothers, sons and sweethearts who are serving abroad overseas, it makes no difference what language a Canadian speaks, or from what province he came to serve—that matters is that he is a Canadian—we are one and the same.

It may have taken a war to make us realize that we were a nation. Our men may have had to travel thousands of miles to England, Italy, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany, and have had to pay a terrible price to learn that we must stand together to succeed and even to live. Our men and women at home may have had to work long hours at unaccustomed labor, and may have had to make great sacrifices of health and time to learn the priceless lesson of unity.

Let us not now forget that lesson. Let not our labor and sacrifices be in vain.

I well realize that my French is somewhat halting, and it is my loss that I cannot put before you this all-important point with the fluency I would like.

You perhaps wonder why I persist speaking in a language that is not as familiar to me as English. I do so first because, win, lose or draw, I am a Canadian. Second, Quebec will be able to vote in the election that I said one thing to the English-speaking voters and something different to the French-speaking voters.

In this election the Liberals are telling the English-speaking voters that to vote for one is a waste of time—that it will mean they will lose their vote—because not a single French-speaking Canadian will support me.

On the other hand they are telling French-speaking voters that they must at once vote for the English-speaking citizens so that their rights will be protected.

Thus locally we see the "divide and rule" tactics that are being used throughout the province.

I have been warned that it may be "politically wise" to talk in this fashion. This does not concern me. You will all know that I am not trying to hide anything I say, or to mislead you in any way.

I know it is not necessary to say one thing in French and another in English to succeed in this country, or this province.

No man can say what the result will be next Monday—but I can assure you that a vote for me is not a waste. There are men of good will, both French and English-speaking, who are working hard on a basis that we have not a good fighting chance. All I ask is that you consider carefully the issues, as I know you will.

Through public meetings, the radio and the local newspapers I have made myself as clear as I can on all the matters affecting this campaign. I consider this statement tonight an international unity so important that I have taken the necessary space in tomorrow's La Tribune to have it published and read, where it can be read and calmly considered.

Ladies and gentlemen, the tide against the Government is rising all across Canada. The people of Ontario have already spoken, and will repeat themselves again next Monday.

Let us in Quebec show that we are willing to play our part, that we meet the challenge of the after-war period proudly, knowing that success will be ours.

Canada is today a nation. United, nothing can stop us. Let us cast off the shackles of separatism, welded by the Liberal Party through the years, and going forward together show the rest of the world that we are in fact one people—all Canadians.

Thrills Galore At Ormstown Show

Ormstown, June 6.—When it was decided to hold the 32nd renewal of the Ormstown Exhibition on June 6th to 9th, one of the first things that was definitely decided on was that second to the "serious business" of the Exhibition, that of the entertainment, would be given the women's department and junior events, was the matter of providing some interesting moments or "thrills" for the public.

For those who attend the Exhibition which opens in the Arena tonight at 7:30 p.m. there will be thrills galore. It has been taken care of in three different ways.

The Midway offers the first. The new rides, the interesting fascinating and surprising features that Wallace Brothers present in their show promise to be something very new. Since 1939, the last Exhibition, there have been many, many raising innovations and inventions in the midway world. Actually the old standbys, sometimes in old, and often in new form, will provide lots of opportunity for the screams and yells of fun that fair always create. However, Wallace Brothers promise plenty of thrills.

A second special feature are the acts which will be presented in front of the grandstand and in the arena. These special attractions are daring and breath taking. If you don't believe us, try it yourself. These acts have been specially booked for this occasion, and as it is the first attraction of this kind offered in Ormstown, you may be sure that it will be very interesting.

Finally the Horse Show, with difficult and daring jumping events on the program offers a four night menu of thrills and perhaps spills.

Bell Workers Urged To Get Out And Vote

F. Johnson, President of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada, has issued a letter to all employees of the Company urging them to cast their ballot on June 11, and to "persuade your family and friends to do so."

"I sincerely trust that every employee entitled to the franchise will vote. It is at once a duty and a privilege which none should neglect," he declared.

"If there ever was a time in which the obligations and the privileges of citizenship were more clearly defined, stand in clear relief it is now. Democracy, as you know, has been undergoing in the past six years, the severest test of its history. It can continue to survive and to function at maximum efficiency only if the will of all the people is expressed by their ballots at the polls."

Speaking later at Brockville, Ont., Mr. Bracken said that if the Prime Minister had not chosen to have the Canadian war effort carried on by a single party "he might have earned the right to ask the people to send him back for another term."

Instead of providing leadership, the Government had "lapsed behind public opinion on all major issues," and had expounded and carried out policies which have brought this country today to a state of disunity never known since Confederation. M. J. Coldwell, National C.C.F. Leader, spoke at Calgary and called for a Royal Commission to investigate the awards and findings of the War Contracts, Depreciation Board and to make this information public. He said the "old-line parties have sold out to the tax drive of the reactionary interests" who "have managed to evade war taxes to the tune of $1,500,000,000 by the device of over-depreciation."

29,862 VOTERS IN SHERBROOKE

It was announced today by Leonidas Bachand, returning officer for Sherbrooke County in the coming federal election, that after the enumeration of voters, the total voting list for this county stood at 29,862. After the revision, however, the list now stands officially at 29,862. This is an increase of 340 voters.

Shawinigan Falls, Que., June 6.—Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal, co-leader of the Bloc Populaire in the June 11 Federal election campaign, last night told an election meeting that 11 Bloc Populaire members in the next parliament could hold the balance of power "as United Farmers did from 1921 to 1925."

Mr. Houde said that no party will have an over-all majority in the next Parliament and "50 Bloc Populaire members from Quebec will hold the balance of power, which actually is power itself."

Rotary Clubs Throughout World Are Seen As Potential Force For Good

In an address to the Rotary Club last night, Arthur Lagueux, a member of the Quebec Rotary Club, one of the twenty-three delegates from that city visiting the Sherbrooke Club this week, maintained that had man's respect for his fellowman kept stride with the march of material improvements in civilized nations, we would not be living today in a distorted and warring world.

Mr. Lagueux is a Past District Governor of Rotary, has served on the advisory committee of Rotary International and is a Past President of the Quebec Club.

He declared that the ingenuity of man has brought nations closer together and paradoxically further apart because as "our civilization has speeded up, our geography has shrunk as our methods of transportation and communication have shortened distances and distrust and discontent have grown apace."

"This is a gloomy period in history for the seed of hatred has brought forth its foul fruit. We see nation set against nation, race against race, faith against faith, class against class and worst of all, man against man. Created hatred is the tragedy of the modern world," he asserted.

Mr. Lagueux charged that man's inhumanity to man is appalling and declared that while "we have literally mastered the physical forces of nature, all our difficulties today can be traced back to the indisputable fact that too little attention has been paid to human nature."

He called upon members to dedicate themselves whole-heartedly to develop a strategy of friendship and good-will to combat the tide of militarism and created hatreds now clouding the horizon, for he said, "Rotary is but a lifeless skeleton unless it is kept vitalized by fellowship and devotion to service."

Although Mr. Lagueux asserted his belief that ahead of Rotary there is a destiny far beyond the most ambitious dreams of the pioneers of the Club, he warned members not to expect miracles of the Club. He pointed out that in the short span of forty years the Club had developed until now it is an ideal of thinking thousands with a solidarity of purpose, that of understanding through fellowship. "To define Rotary is impossible for to define it would confine it and it is too universal for that," he said.

He said that Rotary is but the spontaneous expression of the finer qualities of man spreading a gospel of understanding to the end that men be friends. "The 5,401 clubs with a membership of almost 245,000 may not seem to be so great as numbers go, but 245,000 selected men scattered throughout the world with a solidarity of purpose is some potential force. The fact that Rotary with its philosophy of encouraging world friendship through understanding, has been excluded from certain countries, is positive proof of the potency of its doctrine," he said.

He informed members that of the 46 nations represented at the Peace Conference in San Francisco, 45 are Rotary nations, and that among those in attendance as participants in the proceedings, 42 are Rotarians, 25 of them official delegates from 17 countries.

The roster of visiting Rotarians from the Quebec Club included: President William Warmington, who thanked the Sherbrooke Club for their hospitality; Edward Lacasse, George Lavoie, Hector Fabre, Paul Champoux, Dan McCaughey, Victor Waele, Roland Chagnon, Stanley Brock, Philip Poiré, Emilie Robitaille, Jules Massicotte, Jules Laporte, Harold Hyndman, Maurice Desy, Raoul Langlois, Emile Garneau, Leon Viens, Walter Edwards, Paul Lavigne and Frank Fortier.

Other guests included: L. E. McMeans, Montreal; H. T. Meldrum, Ottawa; Henri Gagnon and E. J. Stone from Sherbrooke. Service personnel present at the Club as guests included: Cpl. D. A. Cathcart, R.C.A.F.; WOI Dennis Veasey, R.C.A.F.; and St. 1. Robert Hopkins, R.C.N.

The speaker was introduced by Jack LeMay, one of the delegates from the Quebec Club, and was thanked by George Murphy, Jr.

Sgt. Delbert Alby Wheeler, previously reported missing, now has been officially reported killed in action in France on August 13, 1944. Joining the Sherbrooke Fusiliers Regiment in July 1940 he underwent training at the Sherbrooke Fair Grounds during the winter of 1941. Being stationed in Newfoundland during 1942 he returned to Debert, N.S., and transferred to the 27th Armored Regiment and was promoted to H.Q. Squadron 4th Armored Brigade before proceeding overseas. He is survived by his wife, nee Dorothy June Valliere, and little daughter, Virginia May, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wheeler, of Sherbrooke, two sisters, Mrs. Edgar Parrytt and Mrs. Edward Friendship and one niece and two nephews of Montreal.

Ottawa: Henri Gagnon and E. J. Stone from Sherbrooke. Service personnel present at the Club as guests included: Cpl. D. A. Cathcart, R.C.A.F.; WOI Dennis Veasey, R.C.A.F.; and St. 1. Robert Hopkins, R.C.N.

Result Of Ontario Vote Seen As Challenge For Federal Balloting By Local Candidate For P. C. Party

The most important point in the Ontario election, Major John Bassett, Jr., Progressive Conservative candidate for Sherbrooke County, stated in a radio address here last night, was the fact that people in all walks of life, engaged in every type of business, united to support the Progressive Conservative Party.

"This," he said, "is a challenge to us for the federal election," but he warned that organizers and workers for the Liberal Party in Sherbrooke had already reverted "to their old tactics of trying to set up against the rest of Canada, so that they may perpetuate themselves in power, at least in Quebec, even if the rest of the Dominion repudiates them."

In his address Major Bassett said: "The important political news of today is the sweeping victory of George Drew and the Progressive Conservative Party in the Ontario provincial election."

I wish to discuss with you some of the implications of this victory in the federal field, with particular reference to the Province of Quebec and Sherbrooke County.

Close study of the campaign that was fought in Ontario—one of the most bitter in many years—with its charges of a Drew Gestapo, a libel suit filed by Premier Drew against a Toronto newspaper, and a libel suit against the Premier by a former provincial policeman, now allegedly absent without leave, and the charge by Liberal Leader Hepburn that his office had been broken into—shows that in spite of these matters, which obtained great headlines in Ontario papers, the voters would not be deterred from the real issues.

The opposition to Premier Drew in the last week of the campaign did everything possible to cloud the issues, and they failed. The people spoke in the most unmistakable terms. They showed that they were through with the socialist doctrines of the C.C.F. They showed that the policies of the Liberal Party, which have held federal sway for ten years, were not policies that could benefit the people, govern the country, or unite the Dominion.

So clear did the people speak that besides Premier Drew gaining a sweeping over-all majority, almost doubling his representation in the Legislature, Joliffe, the C.C.F. leader, was personally defeated in his own riding, and Hepburn, the Liberal leader, was defeated in his own riding for the first time in six election campaigns.

To me the most important point in the whole election is the fact that people of all walks of life, engaged in every type of business, united to support the Progressive Conservative Party.

Business men in Toronto, farmers in western and eastern Ontario, miners from the traditionally Liberal section of northern Ontario, and workers from industrial Windsor and Sarnia, all united to return Progressive Conservative candidates to the Legislature.

In every way this victory was a triumph of a united people, and not of any one class or group. All attempts of the opposition to set one class and one group against another failed, and failed miserably.

This result is a challenge to us for the federal election. Even now it has been brought to my attention today that organizers and workers for the Liberal Party in Sherbrooke County are reverting to their old tactics of trying to set up against the rest of Canada, so that they may perpetuate themselves in power, at least in Quebec, even if the rest of the Dominion repudiates them.

Liberal supporters are already spreading the doctrine across the Province of Quebec, including this riding, that this province must return an every-day group of Liberal members to form a solid bloc against "Tory Ontario." They are claiming that they alone understand the needs of Quebec, and that they must be returned to Ottawa to protect us against the rest of Canada, who are obviously going to vote Progressive Conservative next Monday, as they did last Monday.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have continually stressed Canadian unity throughout this entire campaign, and I do so again tonight. We have had enough of people who want to form blocks against other Canadians. We have had enough of those who would set themselves up as our protectors against other sections of our own country.

We do not need protection in any way from any part of Canada. In war and peace we have done our part, gladly and proudly. The people of this province, whether they speak French better than English, or

GINGUES DEALS WITH ISSUES OF HIS PARTY

Maurice Gingues, Liberal candidate in Sherbrooke County in the June 11 Federal election, spoke to a gathering in the Hall of St. Therese Academy last night, bringing up all federal questions raised in the present campaign and stressing the war effort of the King Government in the face of "the political effort" of the Bracken party.

The Liberal candidate scored Mr. Bracken and Mr. Justice McGuire, and quoted from letters from French-Canadians serving Overseas who are supporting the Liberals in this election. He declared that the Canadian soldiers are satisfied with the rehabilitation programme that Mr. King had established for them.

Mr. Gingues commented favorably on the presence of a large number of ladies and clergy in the assembly, and on his supporting speakers, Benoit Turmel, President of the regional federation of the Eastern Townships Young Liberal Association, J. C. Poulin and Gerard Michaud.

He devoted a large part of his time in recalling the world scene since 1939, remarking that without the effort of all the United Nations, the world would be served today by Nazis and the Quisling of Montreal, Camille Houde.

He deplored the fact that the youth had been ill directed by the Bourasas, the Chalouls, the Laurendes and the Houdes, "who seek only your votes to secure a mandate and live at your expense."

The candidate presented his views on the plebiscite question, stating that he believed in it sincerely that if the Province of Quebec had given an affirmative vote then it would have deprived the imperialists of the only argument which they used for conscription for Overseas.

In conclusion he emphasized that "I was, I am and I shall always be against conscription."

Three New Members Appointed To Bishop's University Corporation

P. H. SCOWEN

MAJ. JOHN H. MOLSON, M.B.E., E.D.

The appointment of P. H. Scowen, East Angus, Major John H. Molson, M.B.E., E.D., Montreal, and Squadron Leader Hugh H. Smith, Quebec City, to the Corporation of Bishop's University was announced today by the principal and vice-chancellor, Rev. Dr. A. H. McGreer, O.B.E., M.C.

Mr. Scowen is the general manager of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, and a member of the Protestant Committee of the Council of Education. A native of England, he received his education at Bishopston, entering the employ of the Brompton Pulp and Paper Company after leaving school. He was appointed general manager of the Company in 1938 and last year was elected a director of the Brompton Pulp and Paper and also of the St. Lawrence Corporation Limited.

Major Molson, who has had a distinguished record both in the last war and in this one, was educated at Lower Canada College and at McGill University, leaving McGill to go Overseas with the Black Watch in the First World War. In this war he served Overseas with the navy and also for three years with the army, being, for a time, Commanding Officer of the Basic Training Centre at Huntingdon, Que.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE 400 BELOW ZERO TO 2,600 ABOVE!

Next time you stir a cup of hot coffee, notice this: You feel the handle of your spoon get warm as heat is conducted away from the coffee. In the same way, heat escapes from bare, uninsulated factory furnaces, steam lines and other hot equipment. This costs money and wastes fuel.

To prevent such losses, Johns-Manville, through years of research, has developed a wide variety of scientific insulating materials that control temperatures from 400 degrees below zero to the intense heat of 2,600 degrees above. In use today in every type of industrial service, these Johns-Manville Insulations speed up manufacturing and save thousands of tons of coal every year through conserving heat.

Many of these J-M insulating materials make effective use of asbestos—and the famous Johns-Manville mine at Asbestos, Quebec, is the largest asbestos mine in the world.

AFTER ONE YEAR

One year ago today—in the early morning hours of June 6, 1944—the United Nations forces swarmed onto the beaches of Normandy in the culminating moment of almost five years of intensive preparation. The day for which the world had waited, the day when the great effort to liberate the continent of Europe from the domination of Nazi Germany had arrived.

One year has elapsed since the great effort was undertaken and a review of that year, its general story of successes with the occasional setback, fully justifies the caution which the Allied commanders displayed before undertaking the mighty venture. Over a period of months, there had been constant harping and criticism in various quarters against the delay in staging the invasion, but fully appreciative of the tremendous task which lay before them, those charged with the organization of the great event bided their time, ensuring that every possible precaution would be taken to prevent any disaster to the move which was designed to change the history of the world.

Now, one year later, it can be readily appreciated that the success of their efforts was beyond even the best of their expectations. Hardly eleven months after the landing on the Normandy beaches, the oncoming German military machine was a thing of the past. The air force had long previously disappeared for practical battle purposes, the once substantial German navy had been whittled down to a mere skeleton, its mighty army of supermen where either in Allied prison camps or were hopeless, dispirited groups, isolated from their main forces and from their homeland waiting until such time as the United Nations got around to the task of setting their future. They had met with a military defeat unparalleled in the history of war.

And while the military machine was wiped out, the home front was also shattered. The entire country was occupied by former enemy forces, cities had been levelled by intensive aerial bombardment and virtually the entire industrial and transportation system of the nation left in a shambles. Every inch of territory they ever occupied has been freed from their yoke and the German nation itself is a thing of the past insofar as a political organism is concerned.

All this change in fortune occurred within a single year, perhaps one of the most critical years in the history of the human race.

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL ON SOCIALISM

Prime Minister Churchill's opening attack on the Socialist programme of his Labor opponents in the British general election campaign, which he described as "abhorrent to British ideas of freedom" can be taken as an indication of the fierceness with which the current battle is to be fought. And as might be expected, Mr. Churchill's speech, launching the Conservative party's campaign to retain power when the country votes next month drew sharp comment from both the Liberal and Conservative press.

The Prime Minister declared that Socialism is inseparably interwoven with totalitarianism and the worship of the state, adding that no Socialist system can be established without a political police or some sort of gestapo.

One way in which the declaration was received is indicated by the Daily Express, owned by Lord Beaverbrook, a member of Mr. Churchill's cabinet and a close adviser, which said the Prime Minister "has challenged Socialism directly and relentlessly on the issue of human freedom. He has branded it for what it is—totalitarianism, the worst 'ism' of the lot."

On the other hand the Communist Daily Worker headlined it "Churchill launches the Red scare," and in an editorial labelled "A Tawdry Speech," asked: "What has led the great war Premier to sink to this senseless demagoguery?"

The Independent Daily Mail said the speech caused surprise in all parties by its vigorous, challenging tones. However, in the opinion of the Liberal News-Chronicle, the noble eloquence of the Prime Minister's finest hours was sadly lacking, adding that "the country is simply not going to believe that Messrs. Attlee, Bevin and Morrison, who until a week ago were members of the victorious War Cabinet, have suddenly become potential Himmlers with lust to plunder the savings of the proletariat."

Thus it is obvious, from the general tenor of the press, that the election campaign is going to be one of the old slug-it-out affairs which have long featured British politics.

THE GERMAN TERMS

The announcement yesterday of the terms of the German unconditional surrender makes it apparent that seldom in history has a nation been so definitely defeated as the Reich, for in addition to being trimmed down to her pre-anschluss size, Germany is disarmed, her ships and communications made forfeit to Allied control, her planes grounded and her war factories placed at Allied disposal.

In addition a four-power control Council will be created so that in the period when Germany is carrying out the basic requirements of unconditional surrender, supreme authority in the Reich will be exercised, on instructions from their governments, by the Soviet, British, United States and French commanders-in-chief, each in his own zone of occupation, and also jointly, in matters affecting Germany as a whole. The four commanders-in-chief will together constitute the Control Council and each commander-in-chief will be assisted by a political adviser. The Control Council will have a permanent co-ordinating committee and a control staff, which will have thirteen divisions covering affairs falling into the following categories:

Military, naval, air, transport, political, economic, finance, reparations, deliveries and restitution, internal affairs and communications, legal, prisoners of war and displaced persons, manpower. Each division will be headed by a representative designated by each of the four powers, and the staff may include civilians and also in special cases nationals of other United Nations appointed in a personal capacity.

Liaison with other United Nations governments will be established through military missions to the Control Council.

A declaration of requirements arising out of Germany's unconditional surrender was signed in Berlin yesterday.

The declaration, signed by representatives of the four powers, said Germany bears responsibility for the war and, having been defeated completely, "has become subject to such requirements as may now or hereafter be imposed upon her."

The declaration then laid down provisions covering the end of hostilities by German forces, maintenance of order and administration of the country and the immediate requirements with which Germany has to comply.

German labor in plants and records or other useful information are to be furnished to the Allies upon demand.

All German facilities for moving Allied troops, together with their equipment and supplies are to be furnished upon Allied demand.

The Germans were ordered to provide complete and detailed information about mines, mine fields and other hazards, and to make available unarmed German military and civilian personnel to render these areas harmless.

German radios were ordered silent unless directed to continue by Allied representatives.

Principal Nazi leaders and others designated by Allied representatives as being suspected of war crimes are to be apprehended and surrendered. The same applies to United Nations traitors in Germany, and German authorities and people were ordered to comply "with any instructions given by the Allied representatives for the apprehension and surrender of such persons."

CANADA AND ORIENTAL TRADE

With the development of foreign trade admittedly one of the chief problems Canada will face in maintaining a degree of economic prosperity in the future, the visit of eleven members of the Economic Resources Commission of China to make an inspection of selected Canadian industries is an event of no mean importance. For many years prior to the war, economists held the view that one of the greatest hopes for a general improvement in world living standards lay in the greater utilization of the Oriental market, where hundreds of millions of people are surviving on the mere subsistence level. Even a slight increase in the per capita purchasing power of the Chinese people alone would make fantastic sums available for foreign purchases and of this potential market Canada might well expect its share.

The spokesman for this delegation, C. Yun, in referring to the unsatisfactory condition and volume of post-war trading, gives Canada the assurance that China is not going to export cheap labor in the form of goods to depress Canadian prices. Rather it is seeking means of lifting the standard of living of the Chinese people.

If China, through the greater and more efficient use of her natural resources, is able to fulfill her hopes of raising the economic standard then she will have removed the chief obstacle that heretofore retarded mutual commerce.

PRESS COMMENTS

WOMEN AND WAR

London Free Press
It is significant that in the discussion as to the reform of German education, there is a strong sentiment on this continent that women teachers be employed. With women teachers the children are apt to receive a less militaristic outlook on life. Men teachers are inclined to emphasize military glory and power, all the external trappings and panoply of war. Women teachers do not see history and living in this light and are more likely to accentuate the benefits of peace. This is particularly true in Europe where war has been part of the experience of most men, on and off, for centuries.

WOMEN IN HEAVEN

St. Thomas Times-Journal
Rev. L. V. Pocock, of Hespeler created what was described as quite a commotion at the Synod conference of the Anglican Diocese of Huron in London on Wednesday, when he saw the large proportion of women in the church on Sunday. "I hate to think that when I go to Heaven I am going to be among so many women," he said he liked women, but he hoped there would be some men there also. Mr. Pocock paid the ladies a somewhat left-handed compliment. Personally, we would regard Heaven as measuring up to its place as a spiritual Elysium if there were two or three women to every man; all the more blissful a place to aim at as our permanent spiritual abode. Of course, some fellows might think they were in the other place down below. The situation is not so bad, however, as he thinks. It is true of every church and denomination that there is always a larger percentage of women in the congregation than men, but attendance at church is not an infallible guide to qualification for admission to Heaven. The only measurement is how a person lives day by day, and there are countless numbers of men — and women — whose practice of living is better than many of those who are regular church-goers. We have seen some rascals in church who might properly be called humbugs, and there are ardent women church workers who behave in the most catfish manner toward their Christian sisters. Worse still, they sometimes behave shockingly toward the minister.

We do not know why so many women go to church and fewer men do. Perhaps hubby feels that after he has worked hard—more or less—for 44 to 48 hours a week he can best spend the day loafing around the house in slippers ease, or by spending a strenuous day on the golf course. Either way is his idea of a day of rest. It is something of a mystery to us how the little woman works from about 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. in the house, putting in several hours a day for a church organization, the Red Cross or some other group in between, seven days a week, which friend husband thinks is a cinch, and still she goes to church on Sunday.

Mr. Tibson came home one evening to find his wife displeased with him. "Do you realize, James," she asked, icily, "that you have forgotten that this is my birthday?" "Of course I've forgotten," he answered, readily. "There really isn't anything about you to remind me that you're a day older than you were a year, or even ten years ago."

A young subaltern shown round the training quarters by the sergeant-major, saw some soldiers talking in a corner. "What are those men doing?" he asked. "Oh, swinging the lead," answered the sergeant-major. "By jove!" exclaimed the subaltern, "beastly heavy work, what? Still this war has to be won." And waving his hand to the men he shouted, "Carry on, boys! Carry on!"

He: "Where are all the nice girls this evening?"
She: "Out with the handsome men, I think."

"I've called for a parcel addressed to Mr. Smith," the man announced in the village post office.

"Oh, have it," replied the postmaster. "But how do I know it is Mr. Smith's?"

"Why, have a look at this," the man answered, taking out a photograph of himself. "That looks like me, doesn't it?"

"Ah, so it do," answered the postmaster, and handed over the parcel.

HAVE A SMILE

After several unsuccessful attempts to draw her husband into conversation at the restaurant the wife discovered the cause of his abstraction to be a beautiful girl dressed in black and seated at a nearby table. "An attractive widow," observed the wife coolly.

"Yes, indeed, a very attractive widow," agreed the husband enthusiastically. "Yes," sighed the wife, "I wish I were one."

The ladies of the picnic party had been gathering flowers, leaving father to start getting the tea ready. When they returned the kettle was already boiling. "My word," mother said, pleasantly surprised, "you have been quick boiling the kettle. How did you do it?" "Oh, easy," father replied airily. "I just happened to let the pound of butter fall on the fire."

A naval engagement of premier importance took place at the entrance of the Gulf of Riga when a number of German transports were sunk by Russian warships. The British are reported to have made major advances on the Dardanelles front.

Forest fires have been raging in the vicinity of Scottstown and large areas of timber have been destroyed during the past two or three days. The blazes, fed by the tinder-dry ground, are still out of control. At St. Cecile, near Lake Megantic, the Cleophas Gagnon lumber mill and a large quantity of logs and lumber were also destroyed.

The condition of King Constantine of Greece who has just undergone a serious operation is causing grave anxiety.

At the meeting of the Brigham Branch of the Homemakers' Club the following took part in the programme: Mrs. J. J. Brimmer, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. T. L. Barnett and Miss Sweeney.

The alleged pampering of German prisoners of war in British camps is bringing considerable criticism and the view is expressed that the prisoners are being given better treatment than the defenders of the country.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

At the reorganization meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Adderley Presbyterian Church, the following officers were elected: Mrs. A. MacKinnon, Mrs. J. J. Mackenzie, Mrs. John Kelso and Mrs. A. P. Watson.

The United States death toll in the heat wave has mounted to 175 with the boiling mercury climbing to new altitude marks. In Montana, the farmers are rejoicing at a freak snow-storm which brought badly needed moisture to the crops.

The French newspapers are generally critical of the note sent by the Allied ambassadors to Germany on the Cologne area evacuation, claiming that the mild tone of the document provides the Reich with too many grounds for quibbling.

Maintenance men have been withdrawn from the Nova Scotia collieries, as the strike of the miners enters its fourth month. Much fear is expressed for the general safety of the mines.

Among those taking part in a musicale given by the Dunham Branch of the Women's Institute were Mrs. O. C. Selby, Miss L. E. Baker, Miss A. Marlow, Miss M. Rykert and Mrs. S. J. Sewall.

Meeting at Victoriaville, the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade have requested the Provincial Government to take stern action against the slot machine racket.

Senator Pierre Laval seems assured of forming a new French cabinet designed to grapple with the financial impasse. Probably he will not seek as drastic powers as those which caused the downfall of his predecessors.

The Bennett administration has introduced legislation based on the Price Spreads report designed to eliminate undue competition and generally stabilize the price structure throughout the Dominion.

Among those taking part in a play presented at Lennoxville were Nobel Smith, Mrs. H. Aikman, Miss Betty Mackenzie, Mrs. Abercrombie, Mrs. C. Seale, Mrs. G. Hall, Mrs. M. MacAllister, Mrs. A. Mosher, Mrs. A. Willard, Mrs. Marlin, Miss Geraldine Seale, Mrs. Donald Ross and Mrs. H. Wark.

The new tactics developed by General Weygand of cutting off advance panzer units with his lovely knit defences formations has virtually halted the German drive on the Western Front. Wide German industrial areas have suffered severely as the result of heavy British aerial attacks. Premier Paul Reynaud was given virtually dictatorial powers in an effort to meet the grave military situation caused by the German offensive.

Wide public approval is greeting the British Government announcement that sixteen anti-British societies have been banned from the Dominion.

Reports from Moscow indicate that Russia is prepared to adopt a more benevolent tone to the Allies despite the recent Nazi western front gains.

Officials elected at the annual meeting of the Sherbrooke Canoe Club were Wyatt Johnston, Fred Simpson, Francis Parker, Newton Munkittrick, C. C. Cabana and Dan Irwin.

HEART FINESSE WINS CLUB TITLE

The Vanderbilt Cup Committee once again gave the entire receipts of the National Knock-Out Team of Four Championship tournament for the Vanderbilt Cup to charity. The funds this year went to the Travelers' Aid Society for servicemen's lounge.

Winning of the Vanderbilt tournament gave Charles Goren a flying start for the McKenney Trophy, which is awarded to the outstanding player each year. Helen Sobel has won it three times in the last four years, but winning the Individuals just previous to the Vanderbilt gives Goren the edge—just as West gave him an edge in this hand by doubling it.

Health Insurance Is Stressed At Annual V.O.N. Meeting In Ottawa

Ottawa, June 6.—Health insurance, whether privately or Government sponsored, was stressed last night before the 47th annual meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses by Miss Alma Haupt of New York, life insurance company nursing bureau director.

Miss Haupt discussed United States industrial nursing, school nursing and other branches of the public health field, and emphasized the need for public health nursing for rural people.

"The biggest thing in the future of this branch of nursing is health insurance—whether privately sponsored or supplied by the government," she told the final session of the annual meeting.

"I think government health insurance will mean people will expect much more nursing care—they will be buying something and they will expect to get it. This is where we must hitch up the team of public health nursing services and government health insurance schemes."

Miss Haupt's address climaxed a day-long meeting which included re-election of J. W. McConnell of Montreal, as President. More than 200 members from across Canada attended.

In her report of the year's work at the afternoon session at Rideau Hall, Miss Elizabeth Smellie, Chief Superintendent of the Order, outlined plans to integrate the Order's service with government health measures.

"With health insurance and other medical care plans in prospect, the Order, as a specialist organization existing primarily for care of the sick and for teaching in the homes of the people requiring nursing care, has a definite contribution to make," said Miss Smellie.

Glorify Yourself...

SELECT SLACKS OF STURDY FABRIC

BY ALICIA HART

You can wear slacks and keep your masculine admirers, if you'll take a size that matches your hips, pleat in the front fullness at the waist and take it in at the back with darts.

I gleaned all this from a popular singer Enrico Caruso, Jr., son of the late world-famous tenor. Caruso says the reason men are so critical about slacks is that they know more about them than women do.

First, he says, for goodness sake don't wear slacks made of soft or flimsy fabric. Settle for men's wear material, such as worsteds, which will take good tailoring, hold their shape and keep their creases. Another plea he makes is: "Please, ladies, have them long enough to hit the first row of laces in your walking shoes."

When I asked him what about wearing slacks with high-heeled shoes, he first winced, then groaned.

WOMEN JOIN IN CAMPAIGN FOR MAJOR BASSETT

By MARJORIE DONALD,

The women of Sherbrooke are hastening to climb on the Bassett Bandwagon. And let me tell you, here and now, that there is no division between these women who come from north, south, east and west to work on behalf of Major John Bassett, Jr. There are Canadian women helping us who speak only French, and there are others who speak only English and there are those who speak both languages with equal fluency. There are young women and older women, college women and home women, business and professional women, and it would be impossible to say which are the hardest working and most enthusiastic. Two young college graduates, Miss Barbara Thompson and Miss Jean Sutherland, are the special assistants at Headquarters and they will be glad to answer any inquiries.

This is Ladies' Day on the radio and I hope that you all heard Mrs. F. H. Bradley's fine address in French and that you will be sure to listen this evening at 8:45 when Mrs. D'Arcy Lynch and I will speak in English in support of your candidate, John Bassett. Watch this column tomorrow and every day until June 11th and the victory of John Bassett.

The President, Mrs. Howard Price, opened the meeting with prayer and the minutes and reports followed. It was decided that prayer books for the choir would be purchased, also that additional work knitting would be taken for the summer months. Corporate communion will be observed on Sunday, June 24, at 8 a.m. At the close of the business session the members enjoyed a social hour and light refreshments.

Mrs. C. Gordon Armitage, with Mrs. Edward D. Bradley, Mrs. H. L. Cleveland, Mrs. M. V. Long and Miss Lou Farnsworth, acting as assistant hostesses, entertained delightfully yesterday afternoon at "Strenuousness," her home on the Montreal Road, where a benefit tea closed the season's activities of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church. The guests, who included the members and a few friends, were cordially received by Mrs. Armitage in the entrance hall, the incident weather-permeating the party from being held in the garden, which had been the original intention. However, the profusion of lovely spring and early summer flowers which adorned the already attractive rooms, compensated the guests who had eagerly anticipated roaming about the beautiful garden and grounds. Mrs. Raymond D. Wood, President, and Mrs. Edward Bradley did the honors at the beautifully appointed tea table, which was centered with a large bowl of narcissi. Mrs. Gordon Sangster assisted the hostesses in serving. An additional feature, which while entertaining the guests, also substantially augmented the gratifying grand total of the afternoon's receipts, was a Chinese auction, at which Mrs. E. A. Tomkins most successfully acted as auctioneer. The tea party was indeed an enjoyable climax to the past season, and the officers and members united in extending thanks and appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Armitage, whose generous hospitality had made possible this happy closing event.

"FIRST IN-FIRST OUT"

Timing of discharge of men from the Armed Forces is based primarily on length and type of service—to give the advantage to those in the longest.

But the early release of some men with special skill or experience will contribute to the maintenance of maximum production, and, hence, the prompt employment of other men as discharged.

Employers in industry may make application for the speedy release of any man in the Forces, where the employer can prove that:

1. the man has a special skill or experience needed in his plant or business;
2. the employment of the man will aid—effective further prosecution of the war; reconversion of industry; prompt employment of men and women discharged from the Forces.

Any application by an employer must be made to a District Committee.

Applications approved by this Committee will be submitted to the Industrial Selection and Release Board at Ottawa.

The Board and Committees will have representatives of the Departments of Labour, National Defence, Munitions and Supply and Reconstruction, as well as of the National Employment Service.

After thorough investigation by the Committee and the Board, cases recommended upon favourably will be submitted to the Armed Forces for action—subject to the man agreeing and the Forces not requiring his services further.

The procedure applies to men regardless of where now posted—whether overseas or in Canada.

Interested employers in industry are to apply to

Language Problems Discussed At Stanstead County Teachers' Meet

Ayer's Cliff, June 6.—The spring meeting of the Stanstead County Teachers' Association was held in the Ayer's Cliff High School on Tuesday evening, May 22, at eight p.m. The President, Miss Gloria Fraser, presided. Thirty-three members were in attendance. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, after which the Treasurer, Miss Audrey Bellam, reported $52.15 in the treasury. A short meeting followed. Plans were made to hold an inter-school public speaking contest in the fall. Rev. Mr. Amaron gave a brief report on the spring conference of the High School Principals' Association held at Ormstown. There being no further business, Mrs. Hazel Coates then introduced Mr. C. Wayne Hall, of Lennoxville, the guest speaker of the evening.

Mr. Hall, an ever welcome visitor, chose as his topic, "Why Not Teach Composition?" The speaker began his discourse by saying that although composition is the underlying basis of all subjects, it is the least taught on the course of study. He went on to say that the work in many fields would be radically improved if composition were better taught. Many teachers are apt to overestimate the importance of punctuation and capitalization. Composition ability deals with something a great deal broader. Many teachers merely teach the language exercises, and that alone is the cause of a great many difficulties.

It is evident by the work in many schools that composition is not being taught at all. Compositions written in the June examinations show no originality, no sincerity and no vital interest on the part of the pupil. The cause of the difficulties does not lie with the teacher, course of study or department of education alone. At the present time, however, the teacher is given so much freedom in her work that she can do much to make composition alive and stimulating. In the first place, it should be basically oral—not written. Of course, in Grade I, no written composition is done at all, but even Grades X and XI one-third of the work should be oral.

Pupils must be shown that they are going to be given a chance to develop abilities that they will use later in life. They do not get enough practice under supervision in the conversational art. Furthermore, letter writing is also very important. Yet work of this kind often is colorless, empty and lacking in individuality. To overcome these defects the teacher should help the pupil to gather material and evaluate experiences. More emphasis should be laid on the contents of a composition than on punctuation and capitalization. Many times a child is given no opportunity for expression of individuality. He must be made to feel that he is on his own and a premium should be placed on work that shows individuality.

Mr. Hall pointed out that in many American schools the "Oblique Approach" to composition is used. The child forgets that composition is a subject. Committees are asked to report certain aspects of a topic to the class. The children are interested because they are free. Class room formality disappears. The pupil participates in this form of activity only a short time when his point of view begins to take shape. Then when he is asked to write a composition about something he has discussed he will write because he has something to write about. Often subject material will suggest itself from the pupils' lessons, but the subject still requires the teacher's guidance.

In addition to stimulating and guiding the pupils, the teacher should provide them with material and give them composition models to examine. In that way the pupils will sense the finer characteristics of the work and will develop his own method or style. Furthermore, he will be able to see to what extent he can measure models to the work. The child should learn to be his own critic and be able to decide whether or not he is right. He must have a standard and then he can work under guidance, but with assurance. The pupils should learn to do their own proof reading. Much time is saved if the pupils eradicate all the mistakes in spelling before their work is handed in.

The pupil must have in the back of his mind a knowledge of what comprises an interesting sentence. The work in language will grow out of composition. So, therefore, the language books should be used only as the need arises. The teacher must be realistic in her work. If she is going to develop pupil ability it must spread into all work. The pupil must learn to think logically and speak concisely at all times. Greater efficiency in other subjects would be realized if more time was spent in teaching composition. The teacher must not regard this subject merely as a series of lessons to be accomplished. Composition deals with the individual's personality and is the expression of his point of view.

At the close of the address, Mrs. Doris Little, on behalf of the members, expressed thanks to Mr. Hall for his interesting and helpful talk.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED YOUR CHILDREN FOR

FAMILY ALLOWANCES?

1,200,000 FAMILIES have already registered for Family Allowances. Approximately 100,000 families who are entitled to register and who will benefit, have not yet registered.

Family Allowances cheques will be mailed in July.

If you want to receive your first cheque, register now. If you delay your registration any longer, it may not be possible to deal with your application in time to send you the first cheque.

If you have children under 16 and if your income is under $3,000 a year, you will benefit from Family Allowances. If you have not registered, and intend to do so, please act at once! Family Allowances Registration forms have been mailed to every family. They can be obtained at the nearest post office or by writing to the Regional Director of Family Allowances in the capital of your province.

AND

INCOME TAX

When the Family Allowances Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child.

Family Allowances cheques will be paid in full every month. But for the last six months of 1945 an adjustment will be made to avoid duplication of benefits. The table below shows the effect of this adjustment and will enable taxpayers to determine the extent to which they will benefit from Family Allowances.

TABLE SHOWING EFFECT OF ADJUSTMENT FOR 1945

AMOUNT OF TAXABLE INCOME	Percent by which taxpayers will benefit from Family Allowances in addition to present income tax credits for 1945.
Not over $1200	100%
Over $1200 but not over 1400	90%
" 1400 " " 1600	80%
" 1600 " " 1800	70%
" 1800 " " 2000	60%

" 2200 " " 2400	40%
" 2400 " " 2600	30%
" 2600 " " 2800	20%
" 2800 " " 3000	10%
" 3000	0%

NOTE.—This table applies to married persons and others having the status of married persons for income tax purposes. For the relatively small number of single persons supporting children and not having married status for income tax purposes, and for members of the Armed Forces, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

The BENEFITS: The Family Allowances Act was passed to help equalize opportunities for all children. The monthly allowances will assist in providing medical, dental and nursing services, better food, better clothing and shelter.

Family Allowances are additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

Furthermore, Family Allowances are NOT taxable. You do not add these monthly payments to your total income when computing your income tax.

In the column at left is an explanation of the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax deductions for children. From the table given you can determine quickly the extent to which you will benefit.

REGISTER NOW!

If you intend to apply for Family Allowances but have not already done so, please act at once—in the interests of your children. Remember, the first cheques will be mailed in July, but only to those who have registered and are eligible to receive Family Allowances.

Christian Scientists Gather For Annual Meeting Of Mother Church

Lasting world peace has its roots in the permanency of divine laws and cannot be expected to rise from the foundations of selfish desires and aims. The Christian Science Board of Directors told the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Monday.

Commending the efforts of the California peace conference to evolve a practical basis upon which nations might outlaw war for all time, the Directors pointed out that these efforts would be successful insofar as they reflect the operation of God's government in human affairs.

The Directors' message featured the fourth annual gathering of Christian Scientists to be held under the restrictions of wartime travel. The audience reflected the desire of the Directors that Mother Church members living beyond the 50-mile area of Boston should abide by the requests of the Office of Defense Transportation and remain at home this year.

Highlighting the meeting was the election of Mrs. Myrtle Holm Smith, of Waban, Massachusetts, as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year, succeeding Paul Stark Seeley, and the re-election of Roy Garrett Watson, Treasurer, and Mary G. Ewing, Clerk.

Christian Scientists heartily concur in the purpose of peace conference representatives in California to find ways and means to prevent war, the Directors stated. They saw these efforts as making practical the Sermon on the Mount.

"The manifestation of God's law can never fail to quiet the turbulent waters, but we must assiduously strive to rule out our thoughts any qualities which would work against, rather than for the peace of the individual, and therefore of this world." In this way, the Directors indicated that world peace stems from the individual overcoming of human faults.

"In order to keep one's spiritual understanding clear there must be deep consecration in thought and deed to the government of divine Principle. There can be no lasting peace where selfishness reigns. Therefore, it is by those who base their thoughts upon God's laws that the present global problems can be solved and a lasting peace attained."

The Directors stated that membership in The Mother Church was now four times greater than it was 35 years ago. There is a growing awareness, they said, of the need for unselfish service to God and His law. Without frankness and honesty in the world, they added, "we have a whirlpool in which there is no steadiness and no rest."

In tribute to the courageous struggle of Great Britain against the rising tide of Nazism, at and after the time when she stood alone in her armed resistance, and to those who held on in other lands, the Directors stated: "Their consecrated prayers and unceasing efforts have been rewarded with a glorious victory."

The Directors also paid tribute to the faithful chaplains and wartime ministers who are "bringing comfort, healing, and spiritual strength" to thousands of men and women in the armed forces.

Stating that the greatest catastrophe to overtake the human race was the loss of the true import of Jesus' life and teaching, the incoming President, Mrs. Holm Smith, said, "The loss to Jesus' followers of their old way of thinking and living, or 'trying to graft the new onto the old.' She cautioned against the human race losing its spiritual gains of more recent years for the same reasons.

The assurance of the defeat of godless evil seeking world domination has made 1945 one of the most outstanding in human history, the retiring President said. While a great deal has been accomplished, he insisted, there was plenty still to be done. He impressed upon his audience, however, that the assured way of accomplishment lies within the heaven of spiritual truth implanted in human consciousness by Christ Jesus nineteen centuries ago.

2 Big Features Now Playing At New Premier Theatre

A fast-moving drama of thrills and suspense, laid amidst beautiful surroundings of Old Mexico, is told in "The Falcon in Mexico," RKO Radio's latest addition to The Falcon series, with Tom Conway again portraying his accustomed role of The Falcon, master sleuth. The picture opens tomorrow at the Premier.

The chain of mystery starts in a New York art gallery late at night, where The Falcon comes upon a beautiful Mexican girl trying to steal a portrait of herself; alleged to have been painted by an artist who apparently had died many years before. Nearby lies the body of the gallery owner. The Falcon has inadvertently released a burglar alarm, and when the police turn up the girl has disappeared and he is arrested for murder. He manages to escape with the painting, and trace the daughter of the dead artist to a New York apartment.

She doesn't believe her father is really dead, and persuades The Falcon to take her to Mexico City, where her father used to make his home. He does so, and runs into two thrilling adventures. The Falcon solves the mysteries of the murders and of the artist.

Added interest is afforded by the beauty of the Mexican settings, particularly the scenes of a candlelight fiesta in a small village, and the sequences on the shores of Lake Patzcuaro with its famous fleet of butterfly fishing boats.

Playing in support of Conway are Mona Maris, Martha MacVicar, Nestor Paiva, Mary Currier, Cecilia Callejo and Emory Parnell. Maurice Geraghty produced under the supervision of Sid Rogell, and William Berke, directed from the screenplay by George Worthing Yates and Gerald Geraghty.

"The Great Flammarion," which will be seen as the added attraction, follows Hollywood's newest trend—uncompromising drama. Starring Erich von Stroheim and Mary Beth Hughes, the Republic picture possesses one of the most daring and off-the-track stories ever to be produced in the film capital.

"The Great Flammarion," in my opinion, has the sort of story which forecasts the motion picture of tomorrow," says von Stroheim. "It is realism at its best and there are no concessions to hokum."

TO OUR FELLOW CANADIANS

MONDAY WE GAVE A DECISIVE MAJORITY TO THE PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE FORCES AND WILL DO IT AGAIN JUNE 11TH STOP ONTARIO CANADIANS SEND MORE MEMBERS TO THE HOUSE OF COMMONS THAN ANY OTHER PROVINCE AND WILL ELECT 82 NEXT MONDAY STOP ONLY 44 MORE ARE NEEDED FOR A MAJORITY.

THE PEOPLE OF ONTARIO

Canada Will Answer

The people of Ontario have condemned at the polls petty political pandering, flouting of public opinion, disregarded plebiscites. They, like all other Canadians, want a fair deal for everybody, with government that's open and above board.

That's why the people of Ontario, who send 82 members to Ottawa, are backing Bracken and his team of Progressive Conservatives next Monday, as they voted Progressive Conservative in Ontario.

That's why other Canadians are doing the same, west and east. That's why only Bracken can win an over-all majority on June 11.

This nation's future must not be entrusted to an unholy alliance of W. L. Mackenzie King, M. J. Coldwell, Tim Buck and Maxime Raymond. Group government of this type reduced France to ineffectiveness. Do we want this in Canada?

The only alternative is a strong majority for John Bracken and his candidates.

Quebec Defeats Drummondville By 29-14 Score To Be Sole Runner-Up

Quebec, June 6.—Collecting a total of 24 hits including two doubles and two triples off three Drummondville hurlers, Quebec defeated the visiting Cubs 29-14 last night in a Provincial Independent Baseball League tilt.

Marc Fournier, who was touched for 14 hits in 4 1-3 frames, was charged with the defeat. Starting pitcher Gilbert (Lefty) Godin, who recorded his third victory of the season, yielded six safeties and struck out 10 before being relieved by Henri Labrecque in the eighth. Godin also had a perfect game at bat with two singles and a three-bagger besides batting in four runs. Catcher Conrad Parent batted in one run with three singles in as many trips to the plate.

After having bagged one tally in each of the third and fourth frames, the local team shovelled nine runs across in the fifth, seven in the sixth and ended their scoring spree with five more runs in the seventh.

The victory allowed the Quebec club to retain sole possession of second place in the standing.

It was learned officially last night that Lachine had been granted a franchise in the Provincial Baseball League. Lachine will play their local games at the Montreal Stadium.

SILKMEN WIN SOFTBALL LOOP OPENER HERE

The long awaited opening of the Industrial Softball League A Division was held last night at Dufresne Park with City Councillor P. Hamel hurling the first ball and Councillor A. Fiset behind the plate.

Three games were played as scheduled, two at Dufresne Park and a third at the Parade Grounds. In the league opener Canadian Silk and the Rand Drill fought it out all the way with equally good fielding and hurling on both teams but the Canadian Silk had better luck at bat picking up eight hits, seven off L. Bessant and one off B. Cunter who relieved Bessant in the box at the end of the fifth inning. The Rand Drillers picked up six hits off R. Plouffe who went the route. T. Big guns for the Canadian Silkmen were G. Dupe and G. Philippon with two hits each. G. Proteau got two for the Rand.

In the second game also at Dufresne Park, the North Dame de Rosaire School edged out the K. Parent, with a score of seven runs to six. The other game of the evening was a one-sided affair with a team representing the Fusiliers de Sherbrooke flattening the Paton team under a score of ten to one.

There is to be a meeting Thursday night in the New Wellington of the league officials to discuss any necessary changes in the schedule which must be shortened because of the late opening. It is hoped that all those interested in the league will attend this meeting. Details may be obtained from Andre Renault, the secretary of the league.

Tomorrow night's games are scheduled as follows: at Dufresne park, Kayser vs. Canadian Silk, 7 o'clock and North Dame vs. Rand at 9 o'clock and a third game at the Parade Ground at 7 o'clock also.

RECORD HEAVY WAGERING UPON ENGLISH DERBY

By EDWARD J. DENNEHY
London, June 6.—(AP)—The betting spurge that has swept race tracks in North America has spread to Britain. Bookmakers reported today the wagering on Saturday's Derby, Britain's premier racing classic, already is the heaviest in history. They estimated $2,500,000 would be wagered on the race by post time.

With Britons able to use their automobiles once more on a limited scale, thousands of racegoers are expected to jam the Newmarket course to witness this last wartime Derby before it returns to its traditional home at Epsom Downs next Friday. Many are expected to make a two-day holiday of the affair and view the running off of the Oaks on Friday.

Top choice of English sports writers and followers to win the Derby favorites seldom win a year ago. Lord Rosbery's Ocean Swell won in a surprise finish thus giving the peer an opportunity of matching his father's feat of fifty years ago when he won two successive Derby races with Lad and Sir Visto.

Midus, originally 100 to 1 shot, jumped into public favor a week ago with a flashy victory in the Newmarket stakes. However he has shown no liking for an off track and if it rains, his chances may be hampered.

Giants Continue Slide Downhill Toward Surging Pittsburgh Squad

By JACK HAND.
Even a $500 fine couldn't pull Bill Voiselle out of his losing streak so New York Giants are still sliding downhill today toward the surging Pittsburgh Pirates.

Voiselle didn't lose the game last night to Brooklyn, 6-3, in the 14th but he did hit a wild streak with two out in the last of the ninth to load the bases. Then he dished up a pitch that pinch hitter Ben Chapman nicked for a game-tying single.

Ace Adams was the eventual loser in the fifth overtime frame when Bill Hart's single followed by Ed Stanky's double broke the 3-3 tie. Goody Rosen then put it on ice with a two-run homer.

Pittsburgh moved up a half game to within three lengths of the pace-setters by an even break with Cincinnati Reds, losing the opener 4-0 to Ed Heusser but cooling off the Redlegs' nine-game win streak in the finale, 9-1, behind Max Butcher.
