Oral polio vaccine for Sherbrooke area within two weeks

Oral anti-polio vaccine should be available in the Sherbrooke area within the next two weeks a spokesman for the Quebec Department of Health said in a telephone interview Tuesday afternoon.

Although the exact date when it will be first available here is not certain the spokesman said it will be soon. He said that probably at first the vaccine would be in short supply but that the immunization program will be stepped up as the supply of vaccine increases.

The Health Unit in Sherbrooke under the direction of Dr. Emile Poisson will be administering the oral polio vaccine in this area the spokesman for the department said. The Sherbrooke area will be receiving its first supplies at the same time as the rest of the province the spokesman said.

Dr. Poisson said last month when a provincial program of vaccination was first announced that school children who are most susceptible to polio, will receive the first doses.

Dr. Poisson said that the new Sabin vaccine is a considerable improvement over Salk vaccine since the immunization it provides is almost 100 per cent while the Salk vaccine immunization was only about 75 per cent. Only one dose of the new vaccine is required, instead of the three and often four shots of Salk vaccine which were required before immunization was complete.

When the new program was announced, Dr. Poisson said that everyone should have a dose of Sabin vaccine, even those who had had a complete series of Salk vaccine shots.

Vaccine for the Sherbrooke area will be supplied by the University of Montreal and a Toronto laboratory.

E. T. ready for election June 18

Nomination day set for fourth of June

OTTAWA (CP) — There will be a federal general election Monday, June 18, two months from today.

The enumeration of voters will take place between April 30 and May 5.

Nomination day will be June 4 except in 21 large, scattered ridings. Nomination day for them will be May 22.

There will be 265 Commons seats at stake. The present party standing in the Commons: Progressive Conservatives 203, Liberals 51, CCF-New Democratic Party 8, vacancies 3.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced the election date Tuesday in the Commons after a month's-long electoral war of nerves.

All MPs greeted the announcement with jubilation.

Exact day for dissolution of the 24th Parliament for election of the 25th remained indefinite but it could be today or as late as Sunday.

Mr. Diefenbaker listed several items of government legislation he would like to see cleaned up before he sees Governor-General Vanier to recommend dissolution.

The election campaign, in second gear for a long time now, will shift into high almost immediately.

The Conservatives took power in June, 1957, with a minority government after 22 years of Liberal rule.

They were returned in a landslide March 31, 1958, when the Commons standing read: Conservatives 208, Liberals 49, CCF 8.

Mr. Pearson said in the Commons after the election announcement that the voters will decide the election "on the record of this government."

Mr. Diefenbaker indicated he has another campaign issue in mind.

He charged that "obstruction" by the Liberals had made it almost impossible for the Commons to get any business done.

Mr. Pearson replied that Mr. Diefenbaker was in effect saying that it was impossible for the government with 203 members to get its legislation passed "unless the opposition gave up the exercise of its cherished rights of carrying out its duties."

J. W. Pickersgill (L—Bonavista-Twillingate)said Mr. Diefenbaker regards as obstruction any Commons speech not made by a cabinet minister.

On the whole, the mood of the Commons was jovial after weeks of bickering and you-did-you-didn't exchanges.

Mr. Diefenbaker spun out his election announcement for several minutes, keeping the actual date to the very end.

He said first he had Sept. 12 in mind for the election, the same day previously fixed for two byelections. This was an apparent slip because the day announced by Mr. Diefenbaker for the byelections was Sept. 10. Moreover, federal elections must be held on a Monday and Sept. 12 is a Wednesday.

The prime minister said that because of opposition "delaying tactics" it had become almost impossible to proceed with Commons business.

There had been "no real effort to deal with Parliament's essential business."

In the current session's 63 days, 27 had been devoted to appropriations, eight to the throne speech debate, two on an opposition non - confidence motion and 25 on legislation.

SPEECH DRAWN OUT

Mr. Diefenbaker went on to mention government measures he wanted to see passed—one omission was the Senate reform bill providing for compulsory retirement of senators at age 75—and then came to his final, and key, sentence:

"Therefore, I shall recommend to his excellency the dissolution of this House and the holding of the election on June 18."

After the desk-thumping and cheers died away, Mr. Pearson said the Liberals were "delighted that the prime minister at long last has put an end to the contrived uncertainty surrounding the date of the election."

Cost of the election, apart from party campaign expenses, is estimated at $10,700,000. Some 67,000 enumerators will tabulate the names of those eligible to vote.

Tuesday's announcement by Prime Minister Diefenbaker that Canada would go to the polls on Monday, June 18, caused little surprise among political workers throughout the Eastern Townships. To most of them the statement was merely the official confirmation of an accepted fact.

For more than a month now, the major parties have been busy organizing conventions and nominating candidates with the result that by May 6, the date of the Progressive Conservative convention in Drummond-Arthabaska, the parties should have their line-ups completed.

To date, the PC's have selected their standard-bearers in three of the eight ET ridings—Compton-Frontenac, Shefford and Sherbrooke — while in three others—Brome-Missisquoi, Richmond-Wolfe and Stanstead—the PC representatives in the last House are expected to stand for re-election.

This leaves only Drummond-Arthabaska and Megantic as counties in which the Government supporters have still to line up representatives.

The Liberals have nominated candidates officially in Drummond-Arthbaska, Megantic and Richmond-Wolfe, with the former Member, Marcel Boivin, being expected to contest Shefford again.

Nominating conventions in most other ridings are scheduled before the end of April.

Just to make the fight a little more interesting, the Social Credit party has named candidates in six of the eight constituencies, with representatives in the other two to be announced by the week-end.

The New Democratic Party so far has failed to advance any candidate but a number of party rallies are on the books for the next few days.

By constituencies, the ET situation lines up:

BROME-MISSISQUOI — No official nominees to date but candidacy of Heward Grafftey, PC member of the last House, expected to be confirmed at a convention in Cowansville on May 2.

Liberal nominating convention scheduled for April 25 in Cowansville, with three candidates officially entered: Noel Belleau, mayor of Bedford, Leo Duquette, of Fulford, and Marc Hudon, mayor of Dunham Township.

In the 1958 elections, Mr. Grafftey ran up a majority of 4,268 over the Liberal candidate, Maurice Halle, the most impressive majority registered by any ET candidate.

COMPTON-FRONTENAC — William F. Clifford, of East Angus, nominated by PC's to contest seat formerly held by PC Mac Stearns who has withdrawn owing to ill health.

Liberal convention slated for Bury on Thursday evening, April 26, with Gerard Lacourciere of Lake Megantic and Marcel Trepanier of East Angus probable candidates.

Henri Latulippe of Lake Megantic named by Social Credit.

In 1958 Mr. Stearns led his Liberal opponent, J. A. Blanchette by 1,034 votes, Dr. M. Lowry, CCF, polled 361.

DRUMMOND-ARTHABASKA — Sam Boulanger, Liberal MP, again named by Opposition forces.

The PC convention will be held at Victoriaville on Sunday, May 6, with six probable candidates: Victor Paul, Victoriaville, who was defeated by Mr. Boulanger in 1958 by 768 votes; Raymond Beaudet, Victoriaville attorney; Marcel Marier, mayor of Drummondville; Pierre Jutras, Victoria-

Quebec members jubilant

OTTAWA (CP)—Quebec MPs on both sides of the House received Prime Minister Diefenbaker's announcement of a June 18 federal election with noisy enthusiasm Tuesday night, foreshadowing an eager campaign for the province's 75 seats.

Both parties have sought to represent themselves as defenders of Quebec autonomy, and it is expected that this issue will be a dominant one in the provincial campaign.

There were few solid indications, however, of the extent to which the provincial Liberal and Union Nationale parties would participate in the federal contest.

Official Progressive Conservative spokesmen say they are not counting on any active support from Quebec's Union Nationale party but one party source said 80 per cent of the Quebecers who vote Conservative on the federal level support the Union Nationale in Quebec politics.

A solid provincial organization, led by the late premier Maurice Duplessis, is credited by many observers with having helped the Conservatives to sweep 49 of Quebec's federal seats in June, 1958.

MAY GET SUPPORT

Some support of PC candidates by the Union Nationale this year was thought likely, even though the federal party has not solicited any.

Equally uncertain was the extent to which Quebec Premier Jean Lesage would back the federal Liberal campaign.

Mr. Lesage set the stage for

Seaway faces opening troubles

MONTREAL (CP) — Apprehension mounted in shipping circles today as a strike and a damaged lock brought activity in Montreal harbor and the St. Lawrence Seaway almost to a halt.

One shipping official described a delay in opening the U.S. section of the island waterway as "about as bad as anything that has happened to the seaway since it opened."

The delay, caused by a leak in the Eisenhower lock at Massena, N.Y., is expected to delay the opening by almost two weeks to April 24 when repairs are to be completed.

Construction strike

Further trouble expected

The Township-wide construction strike rolled into its seventh day today and the acts of destruction which started Tuesday in Sherbrooke is expected to be followed up by more, police officials said this morning.

"The trouble yesterday was just a beginning of what is to come but we will be ready for it," Sherbrooke Police said.

Seven squad cars, each containing four policemen are patrolling the streets today on the lookout for mob violence.

No trouble was reported during the night but Tuesday night and in the early hours of the morning concrete forms were destroyed at Hall Machinery Company and the front and rear windows of a car owned by Eugene Marcoux, a general contractor, were broken by what police said were, "union members."

One situation which may bring trouble sometime next week has developed at the construction site of the new Sherbrooke grandstand.

Angelo Gelimini who was the contract for building the steel base for the new grandstand plans to start work with 14 men on Monday of next week. Mr. Gelimini told The Record this morning "I will do my job even if I have to call in municipal and provincial police protection."

One incident Tuesday afternoon forced the intervention of Arthur Lapointe, an agent of the Eastern Townships Construction Trades Council. Strikers tried to stop work on the installment of a furnace at the St-Jean-Baptiste School on Biron Street but were told to go home by Mr. Lapointe. Workers on the furnace returned to their jobs.

Mr. Lapointe exhorted striking construction workers Tuesday night to "hold the line" in their battle for improved working conditions.

Red defectors 'return' home

MOSCOW (Reuters) — The government today produced two Russians who defected to the West but returned to their homeland after allegedly falling "into the hands of United States intelligence."

Scientist Alexei Golub, whose defection in The Netherlands caused an international incident, and electrician Nikolai Vokhmiakov appeared at a press conference attended by 300 Soviet and foreign newspaper men.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, commented: "After experiencing for themselves the 'delights' of the capitalist world, the men who had defected were soon disappointed and returned home."

Golub, a biochemist, sought asylum while visiting The Netherlands last year. His wife, Irina, insisted on returning home without him and last March 27 Golub himself went back to Moscow.

Vokhmiakov was said to have sought asylum at the United States embassy in Rome while in Italy as a tourist.

Seeks divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) Actress Natalie Wood filed a divorce suit Tuesday against actor Robert Wagner, her husband of 3½ years. Her complaint charged cruelty. Miss Wood, now 23, and Wagner, 32, married Dec. 27, 1957.

Detonations start next week

Canada may be relatively free from US nuclear tests fallout

WASHINGTON (CP) — Canada, which lies in the direct path of radioactive fallout from Russia's 1961 nuclear tests, may be relatively free of much of the debris from United States detonations expected to start next week.

First in more than three years, the U.S. tests will be conducted over a period of about three months in the South Pacific area of Christmas and Johnston islands. Johnston is about 700 miles southwest of Hawaii.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission says that of the total debris from the Pacific shots, only about one or two per cent is expected to consist of local fallout.

"The remaining 98 or 99 per cent is expected to be dispersed high above the earth's equatorial regions," the commission added in a statement, indicating much of the fallout may circle the earth at the equator instead of the northern hemisphere as was the case in Russia's Arctic series last fall.

In the U.S. case, "the diluted bands of low-level radioactivity will lose part of their radioactivity through natural decay processes before they gradually descend to earth over a period of years."

Despite expressions of concern by Canada and other countries, including the non-aligned nations, the United States is moving rapidly towards resumption of the shots which may start about April 25, depending on the weather. Russia has threatened to reopen her aerial shots if the United States does.

WON'T TEST BOMARC

More than 10,000 men are involved in the U.S. preparations of some 40 experiments.

Informants said there is no immediate plan for including the Bomarc, the anti - aircraft missile which Canada has adopted, in the tests. This never has undergone full operational testing with its nuclear load.

Want Britain in talks

ECM political talks run into 'roadblock'

PARIS (AP)—Efforts by the six Common Market countries to extend West European economic unity into the political sphere have broken down over Belgian - Dutch demands that Britain join in the talks.

The snag arose Tuesday as foreign ministers of the European Economic Community discussed setting up a political authority, to co-ordinate foreign policy and defence activities of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The French, who acted as conference spokesmen, said Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak and Joseph Luns of The Netherlands threw up the roadblock after all six ministers had agreed that any plans for political association should be submitted to London for comment.

Britain, which now is negotiating to join the economic union, suggested last week that the time had come for her to join in the political talks also. The West Germans cold-shouldered the proposal, and France is reported to feel the same way.

French informants said the French, West German, Italian and Luxembourg ministers agreed that a political accord should be signed if Britain raised no objections. But Spaak and Luns balked at such a procedure and in effect demanded that the British be brought into the negotiations as an active participant.

Spaak was reported to have told the ministers that as long as Britain remains outside the Common Market, he will not sign a treaty on political association even if it conforms to Belgian views.

The ministers adjourned the conference without issuing a communique or fixing a date for their next meeting.

US reveals sweeping proposals

Submit disarmament plan

GENEVA (AP)—The United States today introduced its plan for a sweeping world disarmament treaty providing for gradual abolition of all arms and armed forces "in a peaceful world."

The 35-page document was submitted to the 17-nation disarmament conference by U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean.

Unlike the Soviet plan for total disarmament within four years, the U.S. plan contained no time limit for its completion. The first two of its three main stage would last three years each.

The step-by-step approach to world disarmament contained numerous safeguards including an elaborate international control organization with ever-widening powers.

Each succeeding stage in the disarmament process would begin only when the control organization "determines that the conditions specified in the treaty have been met."

At the end of the final stage, world peace and security would be maintained by a United Nations peace force so powerful "that no state can challenge it."

The general provisions of the U.S. plan had been put forward by State Secretary Rusk March 15, shortly after the start of the disarmament conference. The Russians at the same time submitted a detailed treaty draft.

WOULD BAN TESTS

The U.S. draft provided that the first of the three stages of disarmament would include a ban on nuclear weapon tests "under effective international control" and a ban on production of fissionable materials for use in weapons.

It would also bring a 30-percent reduction in nuclear delivery vehicles and conventional armaments at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

The United States and the Soviet Union would reduce their armed forces to a maximum of 2,100,000 men each by the end of this stage.

Dean said the new plan was based on the principle "that the nations of the world should seize a moment in time to stop the arms race, to freeze the military situation as it then appears, and to shrink it to zero, always keeping the relative military positions of the parties as near as possible to what it was at the beginning."

Husband asks church for excommunication, too

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The husband of a segregationist excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church asked today for the same censure.

The request to Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel from Bernard Joseph Gaillot came 14 hours after his 41-year-old wife failed in a dramatic plea for grace from the 85-year-old prelate.

"If she is truly excommunicated from the Catholic church," Gaillot wrote to the archbishop in which he disclosed shortly after midnight, "then I too should be excommunicated. We, being two people joined together by God, have done no intentional wrong to our church."

Mrs. Gaillot, mother of two children in Catholic schools, was excommunicated Monday along with two other segregationists for opposing the archbishop's decision to desegregate parochial schools here next fall.

Mrs. Gaillot, who contends that God demands segregation, hurried to see the archbishop on the grounds of his residence Tuesday while he was joining a pilgrimage group in prayer.

"I beg your mercy, your excellency," she pleaded as she knelt before the archbishop. "Admit before God and yourself that you did not want to integrate."

The archbishop remained silent during the episode.

Gaillot, 44, a parts clerk for an industrial machinery manufacturer, told reporters he mailed a letter to the archbishop shortly before announcing its text.

'MISFIT' HANDS NET BIG SLAM

Take a look at the South hand only. Suppose you are playing duplicate and your partner, who is a sound bidder opens with one club. What do you do?

Your first bid is easy. You bid two hearts and he rebids to two spades. Now, what do you do next? You might suspect a misfit and go slowly, but when Mrs. I. E. Jones of Cleveland held the South hand she was in no mood for such quiet tactics. The game was nearly over and Mrs. Jones was looking for a top score so she went right into Blackwood and after her partner showed one ace and two kings, Mrs. Jones went all the way to seven no-trump.

She could count 13 tricks provided her heart suit would run and that was enough for her purposes.

If West had opened a club the chances are that Mrs. Jones would have gone right up with dummy's ace, but fortunately for her West made his normal lead of the spade jack.

Mrs. Jones won with her ace and started right after the hearts. When West was unkind enough to discard a diamond on the third heart Mrs. Jones wished she had restrained her enthusiasm a trifle and stopped at six no-trump, but there was no way to go back there so she cashed her queen of spades, led a club and finessed dummy's jack.

When that held she continued the suit. Clubs broke and her grand slam was home.

You, South, hold:

A—Bid three no - trump. Your partner has shown the equivalent of an opening no trump, but is unlikely to be good in spades. Three spades is a close second choice.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Rudyard Kipling appropriated the name first, for a little boy in his famous story, but currently there are three Kims in show business, all of star calibre and all female.

And sometimes it's confusing. There is Kim Hunter, who usually plays suffering, emotionally distraught ladies, a string of unhappy women that started with Stella in A Streetcar Named Desire. There is Kim Novak, the screen actress with a passion for mauve that extends even to her hair rinse.

And there is Kim Stanley, the blonde, serious-minded method actress who will star in tonight's main television event, a Tad Mosel original drama, There's Where the Town's Going, on CBS.

Miss Stanley talks about educational opportunities for young people interested in theatrical careers. At a time when many performers are mourning the disappearance of road companies, stock companies and a lack of acting opportunities in Hollywood, Miss Stanley believes that young talent has a better chance than ever before.

"There are now more good acting schools for young performers than ever," she says. "And there are more chances to act in off-Broadway shows."

FARNAM'S CORNER

Friends of Mr. Luther King will be sorry to learn he is under a doctor's care.

½ AWAKE Nights ½ ASLEEP Days..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They toss and turn in bed, then are dull and listless during the day. When kidneys slow down wastes and excess acids stay in the system. Disturbed rest, tired feeling and backache often follow. If you don't rest well at night—if you feel dull in the daytime—use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Then you feel better—rest better—work better. You can depend on Dodd's Kidney Pills. 71

Show Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene:

The town's still talking about the Academy Awards — nice to have something supplant Elizabeth Taylor for a while. The talk is all bad, even though there have been duller Oscar shows. And the academy big wigs can point to the show's rating—high, as always.

Here's another point of discussion: Is it fair for a picture like Ben-Hur, Gigi or West Side Story to sweep almost everything in sight?

Was West Side Story really that good in photography? (Not compared to the magnificently pictorial El Cid). And how about those West Side Story costumes? Authentic, yes, but hardly an achievement in design.

The joke is that the second most important man in creating West Side Story—after Jerome Robbins, who conceived it all—didn't get even a nomination. He's Leonard Bernstein, who wrote the music.

Unhappiest girl in town is Connie Stevens, for an odd reason. She just got word that her television series Hawaiian Eye has been renewed for another year.

Most actors would rejoice. But another year of TV means Connie won't be available for features. She hasn't done one in 18 months despite the success of her tear-jerking Parrish and Susan Slade.

Bob Hope is glowing over the English reviews of Road to Hong Kong and the smash business the film is doing in London. He admitted on the Critics Choice set that he was against the title.

"I wanted The Road to the Moon, because we go there in the movie and it's right up to the minute," he said.

Fences proposed for pools and ponds

North Ward Ald. Paul Gervais has suggested to city council that measures be taken to prevent children from playing in ponds and swimming pools filled with water from melting snow.

He told council Monday evening that fences should be erected around municipal and private ponds and swimming pools for the safety of youngsters.

Mayor Armand Nadeau asked the city attorney to report to council next week about what bylaws could be enforced to protect children.

Ald. Everett Nicol pointed out that the city should start by building a fence around the pond at Howardene.

A delegation of Blue Veterans taxi operators, represented by Gerald Allaire, lawyer, asked council to cancel the stand permit of the Red Diamond Taxi Association at the Public Market because the firm's drivers are picking up fares at the bus terminal where there is a stand of the Blue Veterans' Taxi Association.

Ald. Carrier Fortin suggested council send a letter to the Red Diamond Taxi Association asking company officials to see that their drivers abide by the present stand arrangement.

Lawyer Allaire said the Red Diamond has 46 cabs in its service compared to the Blue Veterans 26 cars. He said a private survey showed that 231 fares were picked up at the bus terminal by the Red Diamond Taxi drivers in a few days.

Ald. Antonio Pinard suggested officials of the companies meet and settle their problems before approaching council.

A special meeting will be held April 24 at city hall for the passing of a bylaw permitting Vincent Scullion to build a number of two-storey buildings with eight apartments on Malouin Street near Prospect.

City council approved of the bylaw but decided to wait until the special meeting to pass it in order that residents in the area can protest against it if thy want. At present only two apartments per building were allowed in this area.

City council approved payment of $227.50 — 50 per cent — of damages caused to a car by a falling tree on Wellington Street South.

City Attorney told the council that half the tree was on city property and the remaining part on Noel's property. Mr. Noel has agreed on paying his 50 per cent, it was noted.

A report from the city's electrical department to city council Monday night said that the electrical department didn't receive a letter from the Town of St. Catherine regarding the request of to erect lights on one of their streets.

During last week's council meeting a letter was received noting that the electrical department hadn't done anything about a request of erecting street lights.

Ald. Carl Camirand told city council two employees of the city who were working in the area were told to erect the lights but the city's electrical department officials were not advised of the request.

Alderman Camirand said it was not up to the city's electrical department employees to take work orders which should be given into the city.

Alderman Pinard told the council that if the employees were efficient they would have turned in a report. Troubles on streets should be reported by the employees to their superior officers he noted.

Alderman Camirand replayed, "Our city employee.. are not obliged to tell us what other cities want."

Warned people of area

Motorist is attacked by rabid fox as he steps from car in Lennoxville

A Lennoxville man narrowly escaped being bitten by rabid fox on Tuesday when he was attacked as he got out of his car on Belvidere Road hill.

Ernest Truax of Queen Street said he had stopped his car on Belvidere Road about a half mile from the crossroads when a motorist coming from the other direction warned him that a rabid fox was in the vicinity.

"Just then I saw the fox about four feet from me. It was foaming at the mouth. I grabbed an ax from the back of the car and went after the fox but it ran under the fence. I went and warned the people in the area and then I went home and got my gun."

Mr. Truax said he tracked the fox through the snow across the fields for about a mile and a half but then lost the trail. He said the fox was heading towards Sherbrooke when he lost track of it.

Machines can't match man's mind

No machine yet invented can do creative thinking in the sense of imagining or creating something useful, but they can duplicate some of the processes of the mind, members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club were told Tuesday evening by J. J. Beaudet, manager of the Granby office of the Bell Telephone Company.

In a talk entitled, Masterminds at Work, Mr. Beaudet said that two thought processes, memory and logic, can be built into machines, and they can use them much better than the human brain in doing "gargantuan tasks" that man could never hope to do.

Computers themselves, he said, perform simple operations. "Basically they can only compare, remember, shift information around, discriminate between the sizes of numbers, and do calculations. But they perform these operations so well — their memories are so infallible, their calculations so foolproof and their answers so quick — that they can do tasks that once seemed impossible."

He referred to telephone switching equipment as one of the world's largest electromechanical brains, one of the most complex apparati ever devised by man. As it receives the information dialed into the telephone, he said, the brain interprets and analyses it, "then draws on its memory and makes decisions based on logic as it sets up the connections to the telephone you want."

The speaker was introduced by Paul Carriere and thanked by Greg O'Boyle. William J. Fuller was welcomed as a new member of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club at Tuesday night's meeting. He was introduced by past president Lee M. Watson.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting were Fred Dunkerman of London, England and Ted Littler of Montreal. Other guests present were Hal Robinson of Waterville, Rene Carriere of Montreal, and Ian C. Watson of Sherbrooke.

President Paul Theobald reminded the members of the 125th Anniversary Concert by the Sherbrooke Harmony Band to be held on April 26. The concert is being sponsored by the Rotary Club in aid of the Sherbrooke School for Retarded Children. Members were urged to return the proceeds of their ticket sales and the president expressed the wish that as many as possible would attend the concert and bring their friends.

By CHARLES CATCHPAUGH
(Record Correspondent)

Voters must study election issues

During the next eight weeks Canadians will hear much about the manner in which the affairs of their country have been administered. Before they go to the polls on June 18 they will be told of the good things the present government has done and of the bad things it has abstained from doing; they will be told of the good things it has not done and the bad things that it has done.

There will be no balancing of the accounts by the individual speakers, as each individual seeks to make the strongest case for the particular party he supports. Progressive Conservative speakers will stress all the favorable aspects of the situation. Representatives of the Opposition parties will tell only what's wrong.

Each elector has a definite responsibility to himself and his country during the two months ahead. He should weigh carefully the statements of the opposing speakers and seek to determine for himself whether the government on balance has administered the country effectively or whether it has been derelict in its duty; and whether or not any of the Opposition groups could have done a better job.

From time to time efforts may be made to introduce extraneous issues into the campaign, but in the final analysis the voter must decide his ballot on the achievements or lack of achievements of the Diefenbaker Government.

If they believe the administration has done a good job and will continue its favorable policies in the future, it is up to the electors to return it for another four year period. If they do not like the record, then they should turn it out.

Within the next eight weeks they should learn enough about national affairs to make their own decisions.

When politics can prove profitable

Canadian parliamentarians, complaining at the inadequacy of their present indemnity, cannot but cast an envious eye upon the financial operations of Adam Clayton Powell, a member for the U.S. House of Representatives from New York City.

Although he draws a salary of $22,500 a year, Mr. Powell has been conspicious by his absence from his seat in Washington, explaining that he had other responsibilities to look after elsewhere.

And furthermore, he believes that his secretary should be well looked after, especially if a relative. In his earlier days as Congressman, Mr. Powell received an allowance of $3,074 per annum for his secretary. But in December, 1960, he married her. Promptly her salary was upped to $13,000, still in excess of the indemnity paid a Canadian Member of Parliament.

One of the major undertakings which prevent Mr. Powell, a colored man, from attending to the business of the nation, is the construction of a $50,000 home in Puerto Rico to which he plans to retire when his membership in congress is completed.

Of course, he must be accompanied on his jaunt by his secretary-wife who undoubtedly is busy answering mail from his Spanish-speaking constituents in New York.

But Mr. Powell professes to believe in close attention to duty — by others. He is chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee. As head of this group he issued a directive that members of the staff shall be dismissed if absent for any reason — even illness.

He explained the edict simply:

"Members of the staff are expected to be on the job every day."

It will be interesting to watch the attitude of his electors when he seeks re-election this fall.

A Red crisis by any other name ...

Those past masters of the art of doubletalk — the Russians — have outdone themselves in the latest issue of the Canadian edition of Soviet Union Today, a slick propaganda magazine published by the USSR Embassy in Canada.

Last month, during a momentous meeting of the Central Committee of the Communist Party in Russia, Mr. Khrushchev made clear in a long and hard-hitting speech that the Russian agricultural program was in a mess, and in effect, promised that heads would roll if things did not improve sharply.

But, according to Soviet Union Today, the mess is not really a mess at all.

In a section devoted to excerpts (another Russian habit, this quoting of appropriate excerpts) from that Committee speech, the magazine headlines: "There is no crisis at all in our agriculture," and then goes on to quote Mr. Khrushchev as saying this.

But three paragraphs later, the same Mr. Khrushchev says:

"But, comrades, why are we speaking of shortcomings, then, and not only speaking, but criticising them sharply.

"Because the growth of the output of agricultural products lags behind the growth of the people's requirements."

There is, in other words, a crisis that is not a crisis. Production of automobiles, or furniture, or watches or houses can lag behind demand, and you do not necessarily have a national crisis. But when a people's demand for food — a basic necessity — cannot be met then this is most asuredly a crisis of major proportions.

The editors of Soviet Union Today must have a peculiar blind spot. The excerpts they have printed of Mr. Khrushchev's speech add up to a positive affirmation of everything Mr. Khrushchev is denying.

Perhaps Mr. Khrushchev and the editors have never read Shakespeare. If they had, they would know that phrase, "a rose by any other name . . ." The same thing applies to an agricultural crisis.

Other papers say:

Russia afraid of Red China's power

Remembering the righteous indignation with which the Soviet Union hailed the explosion of French atomic devices in the Sahara Desert, it is more than a little intriguing to speculate on how the Kremlin will welcome the probable addition this year of Communist China to the existing four powers of the nuclear club.

It has long been apparent the status conferred by the possession of nuclear weapons is a Chinese ambition. It may even be that the pursuit of this objective has been in some measure responsible for the economic distress which has overtaken Peking. But the most recent reports emanating from Red China through Japan, which is always sensitive to atomic happenings, make it virtually certain that Mao and his cohorts are now on the verge of an ability to produce and to detonate nuclear devices.

And there is a growing conviction that this will be an established fact by this Summer, or at least no later than the end of the year.

Different pieces of evidence lead up to this conclusion. China is known to possess at least four atomic reactors, of which the largest, situated near Peking, has been in existence since 1958, and can produce some three kilograms of plutonium 239 in a year. As a result, the Chinese Communists now have available a small stockpile of this substance, sufficient to enable them to detonate two or three small atomic bombs any time they desire.

Public statements by Chinese government officials have emphasized this ability, and have prophesied its fulfilment in fact in the course of 1962. And their prophecies have been given a new likelihood by the ordering and arrival from Czechoslovakia of additional equipment needed for the detonation of a bomb.

In the course of events, therefore, this now appears to be a foregone conclusion, and the more so in that Red China, not being a member of the United Nations, is untouched by even such measure of success as may attend the Geneva conference on disarmament and the banning of nuclear blasts.

All of which merely serves to underline the urgent necessity first to get Communist China into the UN and second, to reach an agreement on atomic armaments.

This must be as clearly visible in Moscow as it is London or Washington. The larger the expansion of the nuclear club, the greater the danger for everyone. But it will be interesting to hear what the rival Communist capital will have to say on the subject.

If the Geneva talks break down and the United States in consequence resumes air testing before this Summer, then it will be possible to present Peking's move as a necessary strengthening of the Communist position. But even so, what the Kremlin says outwardly and what it thinks inwardly may be two very different things. For it can in no wise be comfortable to have another atomic power on the east, especially when that power is one which openly claims the leadership of the whole Communist world.

Canadian Legion branch for Magog

Dear Sir:

Is it at all possible that you can grant me some small space in your valued publication.

First I would say that the Legion as a whole deeply regrets the fact, that at the moment there is not an active Branch in Magog.

There used to be a few years back an extremely active and very strong Branch in that City Branch No. 80.

Now it has fallen my lot as Commander of the Memphremagog District No. 1 to reform an entirely new Branch, this includes the Ladies Auxiliary.

At the moment we have admitted into the North Hatley, Waterville Branch several Magog Comrades, subject to transfer when we have sufficient members to call for a Charter.

Several Comrades of Magog have studied the situation in that City, and have come to the conclusion, that there is need for a Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, also there is little need to oppose the A.N. & A.F. now doing so well or to create conflict between the Legion and them. We the committee working upon this project, have no desire to injure, or create ill feelings betwen veterans, whatever organization that they may belong to.

As a whole, we feel that the A.N. & A.F. are a fine sturdy bunch, very active, who have in the past shown the Legion no small measure of co-operation, for which much thanks is in order.

In Magog there is the potential for real co-existence and we see no valid reason why this is not so. I write this with the clear understanding that it is not our intention to put the A.N. & A.F. on the rocks or out of business, but rather to awaken the Veterans of that area into action, and co-operation with the A.N. & A.F. This effort upon our part, may even bring them in new members, who can tell.

I would ask veteran readers to look for my advertisement which will appear later., as to time and place of our grand meeting to be held in Magog shortly.

Frank H. Pryce,
Commander Memphremagog
District No. 7,

Thanks all who helped in bus crash

Dear Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those wonderful people in Lennoxville who helped our children after the school bus accident last Tuesday. I know I am speaking for all the parents in expressing my gratitude for the kindness you extended to them.

Our thanks also to Mr. Percy and his staff who were so helpful to the children and parents alike.

We are very fortunate to have such a conscientious bus driver as Mr. Robinson on our route, and are extremely indebted to him for his good judgment in handling the situation the way he did.

I wish publicly also to thank Douglas Gillam for helping our little girl Diane off the bus. We are very grateful to him for his thoughtfulness.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Harold Drew,

Benefits many

'Harm' caused by fluoridation is shown to be a pack of myths

By RON LAWRENCE

TAKE ONE BATHTUB FULL OF WATER . . .

Add one part of fluoride to every million parts of water.

Stir and drink it

Yes. Drink it — all of it.

Now, repeat the experiment five times more.

If You Don't Drown before you've gulped the last bath full, you will have swallowed enough fluoride to kill a small rat.

But the fluoride won't kill YOU.

YOU are bigger than a rat. It will probably take a further 100 baths full of the mixture to give you even a stomach ache (always provided that your stomach can hold 2,120 gallons of water).

THE ISSUE

Ridiculous as the experiment may sound, the mixture's proportions of water and fluoride are the same as when fluoride is added to a city's water supply.

At the rate of one part of fluoride to a million parts of water a rat would have to drink those six baths full before he died.

Since Canada's more rabid antifluoridations have labeled fluoride rat poison, the actual formula may be of some interest.

At present Canadians are spending over $100 million a year on dental care.

But the tab would be many times that amount if all those who NEED dental care did something about their teeth.

BENEFIT

Just what will happen when fluoride is added to a city's water?

The results of 264 studies by an even large number of international scientists show that only benefit can be derived from the process.

There are those who say that fluoride will accumulate in the system (like radioactive Strontium 90) and that over a period of years it will harm the body.

IT IS TRUE that fluoride does tend to accumulate in the body — but at such a slow rate that a man would have to live 600 years before his system contained enough residual fluoride to kill that same small rat.

Carried to extreme, if there is any lethal effect on humans in fluoride, man would have to live to the ripe old age of 6,000 years before his bodily accumulation would be considered harmful.

To understand the action fluoride, it is necessary to understand the development of teeth.

By the third month of pregnancy, the enamel is already formed on the teeth of an unborn baby.

Prior to this stage, fluoride in the mother's system will help her unborn infant to grow up with acid-resistant baby teeth.

By the time the same infant is eight years old, the enamel on his permanent teeth is already formed. If he lives to be 100 years old, he won't get any more.

Fluoride in youth will give him protection that will last into adulthood.

WHAT ACTION does fluoridation of water have on teeth?

"It's simple", says Dr. Wesley J. Dunn, of Toronto, who is secretary of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons. "Fluoride strengthens the enamel. Its like having a wooden door and replacing it (through the action of the fluoride) with one of steel."

Dr. Gordon Bates, general director of the Health League of Canada, and well known in Toronto for his public health work had this to say:

"Fluoridation of water is the most important discovery in preventive medicine that has been made in the last 20 years."

'LIES!'

Asked if he considered fluoride harmful to man, he said:

"Nonsense. Fluoride does no possible harm, only certain good. All this nonsense that has been said against fluoridation is merely a campaign of misrepresentation by a vociferous minority.

"In fact, the whole thing is a compendium of lies — and you can quote me," Dr. Bates said.

REGARDLESS of the pros and cons in the fluoridation case, it is a fact that many Canadian municipalities already have fluoride in their drinking water.

It is "natural" fluoride, which is in no way different to the man-made variety.

NOWHERE HAS the record shown that fluoride has harmed man — but the record DOES show that fluoride is of benefit to those communities that avail themselves of its properties.

IN FAVOR

The report of the Ontario Fluoridation Investigating Committee—which comprised Mr. Justice Kenneth G. Morden, Dr. G. E. Hall, of the University of Western Ontario and Mrs. Cameron McKenzie—favors the use of fluoride.

And the report says, in part:

"WE ARE CONVINCED the incidence of dental caries in Ontario is of such magnitude that it must be regarded both as serious and as a major public health problem and that adequate treatment of dental caries in the whole population is beyond the resources of the dental profession.

"WE ARE ALSO convinced that the long-term ingestion of fluoride at approximately one part per million over a very wide range of water intake is not harmful to bodily health and that no fluorosis of esthetic significance is especially associated with it.

"WE HOLD THE firm opinion that the fluoridation of municipal water supplies by authority of appropriate legislation would not be a denial of any fundamental or basic civil right or liberty which the Legislature of Ontario should protect or preserve."

(TNS).

Gerald Waring REPORTING

OTTAWA — "If the Indians wish it," Hon. Ellen Fairclough told the Commons on March 13, her Indian Affairs Branch would issue a new call for tenders to buy the timber on Tsimpsean Indian Reserve No. 2, north of Prince Rupert, B.C.

But the Indians vehemently did not wish it. In 1954 and 1957 their timber had been offered for sale, with no bidders. Last December it was offered again, with two bidders. If it were offered a fourth time there might be no bidders.

"We insist," the Tsimpsean Band Council resolved April 6, "that the Beaufort Industries contract to log our reserve be accepted at once."

This company had bid more than $2,200,000 in cash and kind for the timber, a bid the government had rejected in favor of a cash bid of $792,000 for a smaller amount of prime timber. The resultant protests of the high bid company, opposition MPs and the Indians themselves forced Mrs. Fairclough to quash the contract award — but not to adhere to the Indians' plainly expressed wishes concerning the disposition of their property.

"I am here," Prime Minister Diefenbaker said April 12 to the emissary the Tsimpseans had rushed post-haste to Ottawa, "to see that justice is done to the Indians. I am willing to do that."

His justice did not, however, include directing his headstrong lady minister to do what the Indians wanted done with their timber. He had written a Bill of Rights guaranteeing certain rights without discrimination by reason of race, including the right to the enjoyment of property.

"We of the Tsimpsean Band are unanimously resolved that we be allowed to exercise our basic right of ownership in disposing of the timber on our reserve," the Indians had said.

In vain did the Indians' emissary, the venerable and highly respected Haida missionary, Rev. Dr. Peter Kelly of Nanaimo, protest to the prime minister that justice could not be done without his intercession. Action to direct the award of the contract to the Beaufort company as the Indians wanted, would not be favoritism towards the company, Dr. Kelly argued. Rather, it would be confirming the Indians' enjoyment of that precious right in Mr. Diefenbaker's bill.

The 1,000 Tsimpseans have good reason to fear the delay that a new tender call will occasion. There are signs that the Japanese export market for their logs is deteriorating. If it fails there will be no market and no one will bid.

Moreover, government officials have diddled and procrastinated over this sale for nearly 11 months. Already the Tsimpseans have spent a winter without the woods work that sale of their timber last year could have provided. If there are further months of delay it will be impossible to get the access roads into the timber built in time for logging next winter. There will be no work, and no company-sponsored vocational training program to rehabilitate the band.

Last week the old Indian clergyman — he will be 77 on Saturday — besieged Diefenbaker's office, seeking the door that the PM had once assured him would always be open to him. His conviction, his determination — and perhaps his strong Methodist faith — at last found that door. And while in the end he did not get what he asked, I doubt that John Diefenbaker will sleep well unless he insists that his lady minister move without further delay so that Doctor Peter's impoverished people will have work next winter and new hope for the years ahead.

debate in his budget speech April 12, when he announced a deficit of $140,000,000 for the coming fiscal year and accused the federal government by taking the lion's share of tax revenues.

Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal-Laurier) took up the cudgels in the House of Commons, demanding that present tax-sharing arrangements be revised to give Quebec its fair share of the tax dollar.

Neither federal party, however, has gone as far as the Quebec premier in his stand on provincial autonomy. Mr. Lesage has urged the federal government to call a halt to federal-provincial tax-sharing arrangements and allow the provinces more direct taxation.

WILL REMAIN ALOOF

Reliable sources in the federal Liberal party feel that Mr. Lesage will follow the tradition established by Quebec premiers and avoid taking a direct part in the federal campaign.

Mines Minister Jacques Flynn said the Conservatives' campaign in Quebec would not take pot-shots at the province's Liberal government.

But an organizer said later that it would depend on the individual attitude of each candidate whether any attacks were made on the provincial administration.

In Memoriam

BUSER — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Rene Buser, who passed away April 18th, 1960.

His last parting wish we would loved to have heard,
And breathed in his ear,
Our last parting word,
Only those who have lost are able to tell,
The pain in the heart,
In not saying farewell.

Sadly missed by,
His Wife, SALLY,
ARTHUR & LAWRENCE, Sons.

MICHAUD — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Lillian Corner, wife of J. O. L. Michaud, who passed away on April 18th, 1957.

We watched you suffer day by day,
It caused us bitter grief,
To see you slowly fade away,
And could not get relief;
Your weary hours and days of pain
Your troubled nights are past,
And in our aching hearts,
We know you found sweet rest
at last.

Ever remembered by,
J. O. L. MICHAUD, Husband,
GEORGE and TERESA,
(son and daughter);
HUB and CECILE,
(son-in-law and daughter-in-law;

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"We have a powerful incentive in this organization, Mason! One mistake and you're fired!"

Here's why
Heinz Baby Foods in Steri-Seal Tins
are better for baby and easier for you

HEINZ STERI-SEAL TINS PROTECT VITAMINS FROM LIGHT RAYS

Light rays destroy the important riboflavin vitamin in baby foods. Heinz Steri-Seal tins protect riboflavin, and Vitamin C, better than other types of containers. Tins protect that appetizing Heinz flavour too.

HEINZ STERI-SEAL TINS ARE TAMPER-PROOF

Tampering fingers can't break the hermetic seal of a Heinz Steri-Seal tin, even by accident. When you open a tin in your kitchen, you're absolutely sure it's never been opened before. Contents are sterile, ready to eat straight from the tin.

Hot cross buns for Good Friday

By LOUISE MOORE

I am not going to start with that old cliche "one a penny, two a penny—hot cross buns." But I would merely say that if you have a case of indigo blues remember that "all sorrows are less with bread" and hot cross buns are one of our spiciest yeast breads particularly popular on Good Friday morning and during the Easter season.

If you have been easing up on breads remember that they also are a protein food so that a fragrant batch of yeast buns is an ode to health.

While excellent hot cross buns can be bought from your baker or confectioner there is great satisfaction in turning out some of your own and so let them rise and shine on Good Friday morning.

HOT CROSS BUNS

Peel 2 medium size potatoes and boil in enough water to cover until soft. Drain and carefully mash so that no lumps remain. There should be 1 cup mashed potatoes.

Dissolve 1 tsp. sugar in ½ cup lukewarm water. Add 1 package Fleischman's Active Dry Yeast and let stand 10 minutes in a warm place free from drafts.

Scald 1 cup milk. Add ¾ cup shortening—I like to use butter or half butter and shortening or margarine—suit yourself.

When shortening is melted add the mashed potatoes. Then stir in 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2 beaten eggs, ½ cup sugar, 2 tsp. salt, 2 tsp. cinnamon or more if you like them real spicy, and add the yeast mixture. Beat well.

Let rise in warm place free from drafts for 2 hours or until doubled in bulk.

Meanwhile cover 1½ cups seedless raisins with water and boil until soft. Drain well.

Add to sponge; then stir in 3¾ cups sifted all-purpose flour gradually.

Knead until smooth and elastic. About ¼ cup sifted all-purpose flour may be used in addition to above flour for kneading.

Cover and let rise for 1 hour in warm place free from drafts.

Turn out on lightly floured board and roll to about ½ inch thickness and cut with 2-inch cutter.

Place buns on greased cookie sheet. Brush tops with milk. Using scissors snip top of buns at right angles to form a cross.

Bake in a 425F oven for 25 minutes. When fresh from the oven top lightly with a mixture of 2 tblsp. milk, 1 cup icing sugar and 1-2 tsp. vanilla.

When buns are cool make cross with frosting.

And should you wish a coffee cake with its streusel topping you can't go astray with this recipe — it's tops.

COFFEE CAKE

Scald 2 cups milk and cool to lukewarm. Dissolve 1 cake compressed yeast in about ½ cup of the lukewarm milk, then add to remainder of milk.

Add 3½ cups sifted bread flour and beat thoroughly. Cover and let rise in warm place until sponge is light — about 2 hours.

Mix and sift 3 cups bread flour, 2 tsp. salt, ¾ cup sugar and add to sponge.

Work in 1 cup soft buttter and 1 slightly beaten egg. Knead until smooth. Cover and let rise in warm place free from drafts until doubled in bulk.

Brush top with melted butter, cut down and then roll out to ½ inch thickness on lightly floured board. Fit into a greased square pan 8 x 8 x 2". There should be enough for another small pie pan.

Cover with tea towel and let rise in warm place free from drafts until doubled in bulk.

Brush top with melted butter and don't be stingy —use at least 2 tblsp. of it. Sprinkle with ¾ cup brown sugar mixed with 1 tsp. or more of cinnamon.

Bake in a moderate oven 375 F. 25 to 30 minutes. Wonderfully good served with coffee and apricot or other jam or fresh marmalade.

For and about Women

SPARKLING WITH VITALITY — Swiss cotton ottoman by Mettler holds sway in a new bright and bewitching color, sun-struck pimpernel red which casts its glow over this easy, elegant coat-dress. The notched collar is widely open, the two-toned tie belt cinches the waist and the skirt flares gently as big, bold buttons parade down the dress front. Soft navy blue, gleaming white and red give this tri-colored sleeveless fashion added dash and further highlights its handsome beauty for summer.

FOR THE EASTER PARADE — This charming coat and dress ensemble entitled "Gauguin" by D'Anjou, noted Montreal couturier, is in a tantalizing shade of Melon — a fashion favorite this spring. The coat is a blend of CORVAL (R) and wool, with slightly dropped waistline, boxed pleats, rolled tie-belt, three-quarter sleeves and a jewel neckline. The dress — with coat lining to match — is a viscose print in a complementing shade of Melon. It is sleeveless, with a high neckline, and follows the lines set by the coat.

Men see ideal date as ideal mate

When Scholastic Magazine's Institute of Public Opinion set out to discover what young people consider an ideal date and an ideal mate it made an interesting discovery.

Girls, apparently, have one set of standards for a good date and another for a good husband. But young men tend to see pretty much the same girl, whether they are talking about an ideal date or an ideal mate.

It could be that a lot of marriage problems begin with the fact that girls don't know they have to maintain the qualities of a good date all their lives if they are going to please their husbands.

And so many young wives wrongly assume that if they are good homemakers, they are automatically good wives. They concentrate so hard on being good managers, good housekeepers, and good mothers that they think they are doing all that any man could expect of a wife.

But, if in concentrating on being good homemakers, they overlook the continuing necessity for having the qualities of a good date—they may be in for serious trouble.

And what are the qualities of a good date and also a good mate from a young man's point of view? Well, the first three are exactly the same for both and they are: "pleasing personality, attractiveness, neatness."

Now a young man obviously assumes that this attractive, neat, girl with a pleasing personality will be a good housekeeper, good cook and good mother.

He takes that for granted —while expecting her not to neglect any of those three important personal qualities he sets such store by.

Just knowing that her husband will always judge her as a date as well as a mate ought to help a young wife make their marriage successful. For it's no good for a wife to try to be HER idea of the ideal wife. What is important is that she try to match her husband's image of the ideal wife.

May bride elect feted

Mrs. Roland Booth and Mrs. Ronald Farrow, Warren Street Lennoxville entertained at a surprise linen shower at the home of the latter in honor of Miss Phyllis E. Guy of Lennoxville a May bride to be who was invited for a cup of tea only to find about 26 of her friends gathered in waiting.

On her arrival she was presented with a dainty corsage by Mrs. Farrow and seated in a special chair decorated in pink and white with white wedding bells overhead and others adding to the room decorations.

The guest of honor was presented with a basket of gaily wrapped parcels which when opened revealed a quantity of household linens for which she graciously thanked the donors.

The hostesses serves refreshments assisted by Mrs. Clifford Marshall, Mrs. Michael Gormley, Miss Carol Coburn and Miss Greta Marshall.

Hatley Institute views films on New Zealand

HATLEY — A most enjoyable meeting was held in the Institute Room recently when Hugh Doherty, of Sherbrooke, took the group by film on a pleasant and informative trip to New Zealand.

Films of New Zealand's beautiful mountain ranges, beaches and lakes were shown; as well as the largest and most complex hot springs and geysers in the world.

It was learned that the climate is very pleasant with lots of sunshine. New Zealand's main industries are farming, sheep-raising, and flax-growing, and the country is the biggest exported of dairy products in the world, mostly to England. Cattle graze all year on pastures with no winter housing.

The strata of the soil being very hard and dry and of volcanic nature, one is liable to hit hot steam geysers anywhere. The population is 98 per cent British stock, the natives are called Maoris and are very clever at wood carving.

The low cost of living in New Zealand is due to government owned schools, universities, hospitals, free medicine and medical care.

Mr. Doherty spent a year in New Zealand on a Rotary International Scholarship. He was introduced by Mrs. W. Sharman and thanked by Mrs. Dale Millar.

A silver collection was taken and refreshments were served by the members of the Institute.

Highest frequency of earthquakes in Canada at B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Seismologist W. G. Milne says Vancouver could be hit by an earthquake as devastating as the one that took 452 lives and caused $350,000,000 damage in San Francisco in 1906.

Vancouver and San Francisco sit on an earthquake belt 400 miles wide that rims the Pacific Ocean along the coast of North and South America and Asia, he said.

It gives British Columbia the highest frequency of earthquakes in Canada, said Mr. Milne, a seismologist at the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory at Victoria.

He estimates that 20 earth tremors are recorded within 100 miles of Vancouver each month. Last year there were 150 tremors in the Vancouver-Victoria area though only six were strong enough to be detected without delicate instruments.

Vancouver has never had a major earthquake but it could be rocked at any time by the kind that left 143,000 dead in Japan in 1924 and killed 2,000 in Chile two years ago.

Mr. Milne said scientists don't know exactly why the quake zone exists. One theory was that the massive thrust of warm Pacific currents against the North American continent caused the land mass to shift and crack under pressure.

Dr. V. J. Okulitch, head of the geology department at the University of British Columbia, said most prevalent supposition is that the cooling of the hot core of the earth is shrinking and buckling the outer surface.

Witch doctors dupe German to accept sorcery

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)— Witch doctors and practitioners of black magic are duping superstitious Germans into accepting sorcery as a cure-all for physical and spiritual ailments, an authority on the subject says.

Johann Kruse, 72, heads an organization called the Research Archives for Contemporary Witchcraft. It has been operating 11 years.

Kruse sketches this picture:

Untold numbers of old women —mostly in remote rural areas of Germany—are subjected to persecution and even beaten as alleged witches.

Pharmaceutical firms produce special articles for occult proceedings, including items described as devil's dirt, witches' powder, dragons' blood and elephant's lice. These are sold by many druggists.

Publishers of occult literature issue material giving detailed instructions on witchcraft which are followed widely.

Kruse says charlatans and witch hunters who claim they can drive out a devil or a witch often collect fees of up to $200 for one visit.

The leading West German daily, Frankfurter Allegemeine, reports that some of the witch hunters seem to feel a genuine messianic zeal to drive out the devil.

Two veterans to join Gilbert and Sullivan

Jack Creley has already been chosen for the role of the Duke of Plaza-Toro and Ilona Kombrink as his daughter Casilda.

Miss Byatt has previously appeared here as Buttercup in HMS Pinafore and Ruth in The Pirates of Penzance, while Mossfield played Captain Corcoran in Pinafore and the pirate king in Pirates.

Sick people like sentimental, quiet paintings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Topics this week: Art choices of sick people, vulnerable months in the womb, and decreasing death rates from appendicitis.

THE BEDSIDE CRITIC

So you're sick in bed, and they show you 30 paintings and ask you which you'd like to hang in your hospital room.

A jury of patients in hospital at the University of Michigan were asked just that. They turned thumbs down on most of the candidates from the modern art field, and chose instead quiet, sentimental paintings of landscapes, seascapes and wildlife.

Most popular was Roy Mason's Three Mallards. Runnerup was Winslow Homer's sea action Breezing Up. Third was Claude Monet's The Bridge at Argenteuil.

TIME OF DANGER

The first three months in the womb—the time of rapid development from a few cells to an embryo — are among the most critical for the unborn. Researchers know that deformities often occur when the mother is hit by virus diseases like measles during this period.

Now comes word that the early stages of pregnancy are the time that unborn animals are most susceptible to death or damage from X-rays and other ionizing radiation as well.

So far it has not been proved that radiation damages human embryos, Dr. Robert Rugh of Columbia University reported to the American Radium Society. But, he warned, radiation can harm, even kill, embryo rats — and these findings indicate that care should be taken in using X-rays on newly-pregnant women..

2,709,000 DAYS IN BED

Fewer people are dying from appendicitis, thanks to antibiotics to control infections, and better surgery and diagnosis. The death rate has fallen to one per 100,000 in the United States.

But it doesn't mean that fewer people are getting appendicitis. In one year alone, 417,000 Americans fell ill to the disease. Ninety per cent underwent operations. In all, these appendicitis victims spent 2,709,000 days in hospitals, say statisticians from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Church group at Knowlton ends studies

KNOWLTON — After nine continuous weeks of study and discussion, the combined Study Group on, Growth and Understanding, a book which is a guide on Church Union, concluded its sessions with a meeting at St. Paul's Anglican Church. Mrs. Wm. Badger was chairman.

Rev. Th. Van Petegem opened the session with a Scripture reading and prayer after which Rev. T. E. R. Nurse reminded the group of the services taking place in St. Paul's Church. Each evening throughout this week. Services will take place at 7 p.m., conducted by Mr. Nurse and Mr. Van Petegem.

A giant service is being arranged to take place on June 24, on the Brome Fair Grounds for all Protestant churches in the district. Choirs from each church will lead in the singing directed by Roger McKergow, of Waterloo.

Brandon Sykes and Stephen Morson, chairmen of the previous sessions, gave their impressions of the value of study.

It was voted to continue study next fall or early in the new year.

After the meeting, Mrs. Nurse and several ladies of St. Paul's Church served refreshments.

SUTTON —

Mr. Fred Knights left by plane with his father, of Montreal, on April 13, on a three-week trip to England. Mr. Knights, born in England, but a resident here for most of his life, was also overseas during World War II as a member of the Armed Services.

The Fire Brigade was summoned on April 12 to extinguish a grass fire behind the John Jones property occupied by Mrs. Harold Poirier on lower Mountain Street. The fire which had threatened destruction of the buildings, was soon put out. At this time of year Sutton usually has many such alarms because of grass fires, and residents are requested to keep close watch on all fires set to burn over lawns or to destroy refuse.

The World of SPORTS

To hold Boston marathon Thursday, Oksanen and Kelley are favored, 12 Canadians among record field

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston marathon, a gruelling 26 miles and 385 yards, will be staged Thursday, pitting Finland's Eino Oksanen and Johnny Kelley of the United States in another duel.

Oksanen, 31-year-old police detective from Helsinki, is favored to retain the crown he won in a battle with Kelley last year.

Also highly rated is another Finn, Paavo Pysteynen. The 31-year-old army sergeant is Finland's 10,000-metre champion who has been training hard to combine his known speed with stamina.

Oksanen won in 1961 and 1959, beating Kelley, from Groton, Conn., both times.

Cool weather is forecast and both Finns will be aiming for Kelley's course record of 2:20.05, set in 1957. The course was lengthened that year to the official distance after having been shaved down some 1,000 yards by changes in Boston's streets.

The year before that Oksanen posted a time of 2:18.51 over the shortened course, finishing third behind Antti Viskara of Finland and Kelley.

CANADIANS TO RUN

A dozen Canadians, headed by Orville Atkins of Toronto, are entered in the record field of 228 from five countries, but the entry list probably will be cut by starting time.

Atkins, 26, recently established himself as a top threat, winning Chicago's Windy City marathon. Not since Gerard Cote's 1948 victory has a Canadian won the Boston classic.

Also entered are Gordie Dickson and Richard Pedler, both of the Hamilton Olympic Club, Danny Pucknell and George Crerar, both of the East York Track Club, Roland Michaud of Montreal's Mt. Royal Francs-Amis Athletic Club, Richard Bushe of Ottawa, Roland Bouffard of Montreal, Paul Bellirveau of Toronto's Gladstone Athletic Club, Peter DeGraaf of Ottawa's Bytown Harriers and Robert Labrecque and Claude Gagnon, representing the Royal 22nd Regiment of Camp Val Cartier, Que.

Comets win and take 2-0 lead in WHL final

SPOKANE, Wash. (CP)—Spokane Comets turned the second game of their Western Hockey League final series into a rout Tuesday night, scoring five unanswered goals in the third period to defeat Edmonton Flyers 9-4 before 3,289 fans.

The victory gave the Comets a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven set. They won 3-1 Sunday. The third game will be played in Edmonton Thursday night.

Home crowds don't worry Ed Powers, says Carl Voss, chief NHL referee, players are dedicated group-Powers

CHICAGO (CP) — Carl Voss, questioned about his refereeing staff, mentioned one who has a reputation for handing out more penalties to the home club than he does to the visiting team.

"No crowd intimidates this guy. I can say the same thing for all our officials—but this guy doesn't even know crowds exist."

Carl Voss is chief of referees and linesmen for the National Hockey League and "this guy" is Eddie Powers.

Milt Dunnell, Toronto Star sports editor and columnist, interviewed them both just before the fourth game of the Stanley Cup final.

"The guy Voss referred to is a veteran of war in the skies as well as on skates and a man contemptuous of athlete, club executive or spectator who would attempt to interfere in his work.

'NO HERO'

"I was no war hero," Powers insists. He spent five years flying long-range fighter planes.

"In the air force you did develop a philosophy that you lived from day to day. In this game there is always a tomorrow, so being a referee doesn't bother me a bit.

"Does the Chicago crowd get on my nerves? Not at all. They pay their money, so let them yell. This is just another rink. There's only one thing that makes it tougher to work here—the junk which people throw on the ice.

"I suppose I like the job or I wouldn't be doing it."

"One thing he is firm about:

"When I'm refereeing, I'm going to to do it my way and to hell with people who don't like me. I couldn't care less."

His attitude is that if the day comes when every player achieves perfection, then the athletes will demand the same of the referees.

RESPECTS PLAYERS

Basically, Powers has a deep respect for hockey players. He believes they are a dedicated group and he knows they have living expenses—so he's slow with the penalties which involve fines.

His firmness and consideration were demonstrated in the third game of the final when Leafs' Dick Duff turned on him.

"I tried to warn Duff that his quota of yacking was running out," Powers said.

"He wouldn't listen, so he had to go. Nice guy, but what could I do?"

He slapped Duff with a 10-minute misconduct which cost the diminutive winger $25.

National Fitness Council approves new proposal by Maurice Richard and Howie Meeker for top athletes

OTTAWA — (CP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Howie Meeker, former foes of the National Hockey League rink, have teamed up to make a new contribution to the Canadian sporting world—off the ice.

The retired Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs star forwards are co-sponsors of a proposal to establish a system of national awards to outstanding amateur sportsmen.

Their suggestion met a favorable response Tuesday when put to the newly-formed National Fitness Council at its second meeting here.

The 30 member advisory group endorsed the proposal to establish "Canadian amateur sport awards" to be presented "by Canada" periodically to outstanding athletes.

Details have to be worked out but it has been suggested there might be more than one award a year and perhaps an award for each major sport or each field of athletics. It is not known whether the awards would be in the form of a trophy, medal or plaque.

The council, set up ta advise the government how to spend the new $5,000,000 annual parliamentary grant to develop a national fitness program and aid amateur sport, disclosed details of a comprehensive scholarship scheme prepared by a special committee.

PROPOSES SCHOLARSHIP

The committee proposed that a $600,000 federal-provincial scholarship program be established to provide 100 national fitness scholarships for undergraduates, 20 national fitness and amateur sport graduate fellowships and 10 special fellowships. The program is subject to government approval.

The 100 undergraduate scholarships, worth $1,000, would be available to Canadian residents for first year's study at any Canadian university and courses leading to a degree in physical education.

Graduate fellowships, worth $2,000, would allow a year's postgraduate study leading to a master's or doctor's degree in physical education or recreation, or for any other type of educational program primarily related to fitness or amateur sport.

The special fellowship, open to persons "professionally employed in a senior capacity" in the field of fitness or amateur sport, would permit a year's postgraduate or special study related to physical education. Such awards would be worth $4,500 for a married or $4,000 for an unmarried person.

The committee also recommended establishing a system of $1,000 bursaries based on students' needs.

Among other projects announced Tuesday by the council was the proposed allocation of $300,000 this year to produce movies, booklets and other literature publicizing the council's aims and policies.

Grants totalling $16,000 to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada for sending athletes to international meets, and $67,277 to 15 unspecified sports and athletic group also were announced.

Council chairman Ken Farmer of Montreal said a policy statement and application form for assistance would be sent shortly to 55 sports bodies.

Coach disagrees with retirement of Herb Elliot

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Percy Cerutty, the coach who guided Australian miler Herb Elliott to fame, still believes he can persuade the runner to change his mind about retiring from international athletics.

In an article written for The Melbourne Sun, Cerutty says although he thinks Elliott has made the wrong decision, he does not think it irrevocable.

"I know what Herb has had to put up with and I know he has reasons for wanting to retire," Cerutty says.

"But I still say he can do all the things he has to do these days and still come back.

"Right now he has lost confidence—he never did have a great deal of confidence in himself.

"He is on his own over in the United Kingdom and that is why he decided he is not keen to go on.

"I feel very deeply that he owes a lot to his home city of Perth, to the (forthcoming) Commonwealth games and to his country.

Cleroux fights Folley tonight, to count on punching strength, win may bring him a title shot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bob Cleroux of Montreal, Canadian heavyweight boxing champion, counts on a heavy hand to move him a step closer to a world title shot when he battles veteran Zora Folley tonight.

He will go into the ring an underdog with odds of around 7 to 5 favoring the more-seasoned campaigner from Chandler, Ariz.

Cleroux, 24, bulls in to take two punches for the chance of landing one, which could prove dangerous against a boxer of Folley's stature. Cleroux has never been floored in compiling a 31-2-1 record as a professional and never was down while winning 25 amateur bouts.

The 29-year-old Folley changed styles after suffering a surprise knockout loss to Argentine Alejandro Lavorante last year and vows to throw more punches than usual.

"We hope he does try to punch," Cleroux's manager, Al Bachman, said Tuesday. "If a guy stands up and fights, it's better for Cleroux."

Folley has stopped 33 foes in compiling his 57-5-2 mark to rank as the No. 3 heavyweight contender. Cleroux holds the No. 4 position.

"If he gets over Folley, he'll be No. 3," Bachman said. "And if anything happens to Sonny Liston so he can't fight Floyd Patterson for the title, maybe Cleroux will get the shot. He has a better chance than Eddie Machen No. 2 because he's a much more colorful fighter. He's the Dempsey type—bobs, weaves and punches all the time."

The scheduled 10-rounder will start at 9.30 p.m. PST. There will be no radio or television coverage.

Canadian entry takes third in sweepstakes

KINGSTON, Jamaica (CP) — Third prize of $6,565 in the Jamaica Turf Club's April sweepstakes was won by a Canadian entry Sunday.

The winning ticket, held by a Canadian identified only as "Shot up Creek," was on the horse Suamarez.

First prize of $88,500 went to Joseph Thomas of Trinidad. Second prize was won by a Jamaican and the fourth and fifth prizes were won by United States ticket-holders.

The race was won by Chevalier, owned by Pat Chung and trained by Sydney Watson.

Dressing Room Comments

CHICAGO (AP)—Coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago Black Hawks was concerned over the condition of Toronto Maple Leaf goalie Johnny Bower Tuesday night—concerned that the Leafs may play more inspirational hockey without him than with him.

Pilous is a great one for trying to think along logical lines in figuring all the angles in the final Stanley Cup playoffs.

His Hawks squared the best-of-seven series at two games each with a 4-1 triumph, their second straight on Chicago Stadium ice after the Leafs opened with two victories in Toronto.

Bower left the game midway in the first period with a groin injury and Don Simmons replaced him. The Hawks peppered Simons, who spent six years with Boston before being sent to Providence in the American Hockey League last season.

"I don't know if Bower will be able to play in Toronto Thursday or not," said Pilous. "But if he doesn't, the Leafs may be more inspired and just that much tougher.. They will play better defensively as a team to help him (Simmons).. It could work against us more than if Bower were in the nets—who knows? Then, again, Simmons isn't to be taken lightly—he stoned us with Boston.

CAN BREATHE NOW

"After squaring the victory, we are up mentally. We have a little more zip going for us. We have adjusted to their style now. We feel we have some breathing room."

"But we've got to beat them in Toronto—or are we to think we are just homing pigeons?"

In the Toronto dressing room, Bower limped out and left for a hospital to stay overnight.

He said he believed it was an injured groin muscle but wasn't sure if he would be able to play again in the series.

Coach Punch Imlach said he is worried about it.

"Simmons is a good goalie and has a good playoff record. If we have to use him in the next game, he'll be a better man because he'll know he will be playing.

TOUGH IN CHICAGO

"It's tough to play against the Hawks, three officials and 20,000 fans.

"I wish we had that kind of a crowd behind us in Toronto. They're worth two goals to a team.

"I guess both teams are a bunch of homers. We win two at home, then they win two at home. It's okay with me if it keeps up that way."

Imlach stressed this because if the series goes seven games, Toronto will have played four at home.

"I have to admit one thing," he said. "They were the aggressors but we didn't back down from them."

Asked if he had any complaints about the officiating, Imlach said:

"Why protest? The score was 4-1. Some day we might get the same kind of officiating and then we'll both be even. It was a bad night for the officials and a bad night for some of our players."

Santa Rosa, Calif.—Marcello Vargas, 145¾, Mexico, knocked out James Patrick, 145, Alameda, Calif., 6.

Post 4-1 victory to even series, wildest cup game in NHL history, Johnny Bower pulls groin muscle

CHICAGO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs fled to the friendly surroundings of home ice today, probably thankful they escaped alive from this rabble-rousing home of the defending Stanley Cup champion Chicago Black Hawks. They left behind two nightmarish losses and one injured goaltender.

They got their lumps Tuesday night in one of the wildest cup final games in history. And 20,000 blood - thirsty Hawk fans loved every minute of it as the Leafs went down to a 4-1 defeat following a 3-0 shutout two nights earlier.

The win-at-home, lose-on-the-road series is squared at two games each following a pair of Leaf victories in Toronto. The gladiators next square off in the best-of-seven set in Toronto Thursday night.

It was a brutal, fist-and stick-swinging battle that produced 24 penalties, a blown fuse that ignited some useless arguing, frayed tempers and a chagrined Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League. There was some pretty good hockey, particularly by the Hawks.

"I deprecate the whole thing," Campbell told The Canadian Press in an interview. He was referring to a stick duel between Frank Mahovlich of the Leafs and Stan Mikita of the Hawks at a time when all the players had to do was skate around until the clock ticked off the final seconds.

HIT ONLY AIR

The Toronto cause was already lost. The Leafs were getting nowhere when Mahovlich and Mikita starting swinging. They waved their sticks like baseball players taking vicious cuts at a ball. Fortunately, they stood well back and fanned at the smoke-laden air in Chicago Stadium.

The Hawks' Eric Nesterenko, who has done a tremendous job of shadowing the starry Mahovlich in this series, stepped in between them and received a whack on the arm from the Toronto left winger's stick for his trouble.

Mahovlich and Mikita were given game misconducts and were each slapped with an automatic $50 fine that goes with the offence.

"The action taken by the officials exhausts all authority I have in connection with the incident," Campbell said. In effect, this means no official action will be taken.

BOWER HURT

The game might have been costly to the Leaf cause, although coach Punch Imlach wasn't unduly worried. Goalkeeper Johnny Bower suffered a groin injury in the first period—which took 1½ hours to complete what with fights and penalties — and went to hospital here overnight for observation.

Bower pulled a muscle midway through the session when he executed the splits to stop a blazing ankle-high drive from the blueline by Bobby Hull. A few minutes later he skated to the Leaf bench, apparently in pain. After a conference involving Campbell, the coaches and game officials, the period was temporarily halted and the players went to the dressing rooms.

Spare goaltender Don Simmons, who quit hockey to take a job as a milk salesman last year when he was ticketed for a trip to the minors, was called from the stands to take Bower's place. The Hawks greeted him by scoring a goal on their first shot. Simmons allowed three goals and Bower one.

Hull, the Hawks' 50 - goal scorer during the regular season who brushes off would-be Leaf checkers with a flick of his powerful arms, scored two goals. The others went to Reggie Fleming, whose speciality is penalty killing.

Red Kelly scored for the Leafs at 18:08 of the first period after Hull and Fleming had built a 2-0 lead.

Fleming's goals were the only ones he has scored against Toronto in 15 league and four playoff games this season. His second, in the middle period, caused great commotion.

GOAL LIGHT DEAD

The goal judge pressed the button but the red light wouldn't go on. A fuse had blown and Toronto players, particularly Bob Pulford, promptly blew fuses of their own.

They claimed it wasn't a goal. Pulford sassed referee Frank Udvari. He was given a 10-minute misconduct, which calls for a $25 fine.

Mikita, a big star in this series, set up the play for Hull's opening goal at 10:36 of the opening period and has a good chance of equalling or breaking two Stanley Cup records.

Mikita has 19 points on six goals and 13 assists in 10 playoff games this season, one shy of the mark set by Gordie Howe of Detroit Red Wings in the 1955 playoffs. And he is one off the record 14 assists set by Fleming Mackell, then of Boston Bruins, in 1958.

The pattern of the game was set early when the Hawks, who used muscle and skating to beat the Leafs Sunday, adopted the same strategy. Leaf bodies were spilled all over the ice. Seventeen seconds after the opening faceoff Toronto's Bobby Baun and Hawks' Murray Balfour traded punches.

This was Chicago's softening-up process.

BREAK UP BRAWLS

Fights broke out at other times but no clean-cut punches were thrown as Udvari and linesmen Matt Pavelich and Neil Armstrong skated in fast to break them up. All told, Udvari called four major penalties, two game misconducts, one 10-minute misconduct and 17 minors.

Imlach was somewhat critical of the officiating. "It was tough to play against the Hawks, three officials and 20,000 fans," he told reporters.

"I wish we had that kind of a crowd behind us in Toronto. They're worth two goals to a team."

Coach Rudy Pilous of the Hawks said that "after squaring the series we are up mentally."

If Bower is unable to get into the remaining games of the series, it could be a severe blow to the Leafs. However, Imlach isn't worried.

"Simmons is a good goalie and has a good playoff record. If we have to use him in the next game he'll be a better man because he'll know he will be playing."

Al Lopez counting on Robinson to help sagging White Sox

Paces league in RBI department with 13 and batting at .500 clip, gets second homer in 8-0 victory

Floyd Robinson, not a go-goer by Chicago White Sox standards, seems to be the much-needed power hitter manager Al Lopez has sought to revitalize his sputtering attack of the last two American League seasons.

Robinson doesn't burn up the basepaths like teammates Jim Landis and Luis Aparicio, but his hot bat has sent him to the top of the league's list of runs batted in with 13.

Robinson, 25, who hit .310 as a rookie, is going along at a .500 clip at the start of his sophomore season and ruined Minnesota Twins Tuesday with his second home run, a pair of doubles and seven RBI. The White Sox won 8-0.

Just as dynamic as Robinson's hitting was New York Yankees' approval of the reducted milage to Baltimore's outfield fences as the Yanks crashed a pair of home runs in whipping the Orioles 8-3.

PITCHES SHUTOUT

Dick Donovan of Cleveland Indians pitched his second straight shutout over Boston, blanking the Red Sox 5-0, and Jim Bunning of Detroit Tigers, backed by four homers, defeated Washington Senators 9-2. Kansas City Athletics spoiled Los Angeles Angels' debut in new Chavez Ravine Stadium with a 5-3 victory that knocked the Angels out of a tie for first place with the Yankees.

Robinson, who hit 11 homers and had 49 RBI last season, backed rookie Joel Horlen's six-hit pitching with a two-run, first-inning homer off loser Camilo Pascual (1-1), had a two-run double in the fifth and a three-run double in the ninth. He also had a single and has 12 hits in 24 at—bats. Horlen is 1-1.

Baltimore moved in its distant outfield barriers during the winter and Bill Skowron took aim on the left-field fence with a tie-breaking shot in the seventh inning. He also drove in three runs, while Boyer had two RBI, one on his fifth-inning homer, and Elston Howard also had two RBI.

Jim Coates, who pitched four innings of hitless ball in relief of Whitey Ford, was the winner. Reliever Dick Hall (0-1) lost. Gus Triandos homered for Baltimore.

BEATS SIX AGAIN

Donovan beat the Red Sox again with his second straight five-hitter and got all the help he needed from Willie Kirkland's two-run homer in the first inning. While rookie Al Luplow hit his first round-tripper of the year. Kirkland had four hits and threw out a runner at the plate. Bill Monbouquette, who had a 12-inning, 4-0 victory over the Indians last week, was the loser.

Al Kaline's first 1962 homer broke a 1-1 tie for the Tigers and Bull Bruton wrapped up things with a three-run shot. Norm Cash hit his third homer and Dick Brown his first as Bunning (1-0) scattered seven hits. Benny Daniels was the loser.

Kansas City rookie John Wyatt (1-1) gave up only four hits until he tired in the sixth inning. Don McDevitt and Bob Grim finished up, while Ken McBride lost and is 1-1. Four of the Athletics' runs were unearned as they scored twice in the third and fourth innings to overcome a 1-0 count.

Fitness Council brims with ideas to help sports

OTTAWA (CP) — The newly-formed National Fitness Council was brimming with ideas and plans at the end of its second meeting here Tuesday.

The 30-member advisory group announced several projects that will require government approval:

1. Grants to 15 sports and athletics groups totalling $67,277. Individual grants were not announced.

2. Allocation of $600,000 each year for a federal-provincial sports scholarship program.

3. Allocation of $300,000 this year to produce movies, booklets and other literature publicizing the aims and policies of the council.

4. A $16,000 grant to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada to send Canadian athletes to international competitions. The AAU had complained when it was omitted from the first series of council grants.

Two former National Hockey League stars, Maurice Richard and Howard Meeker, sponsored a proposal to establish "Canadian amateur sports awards." The awards would be presented "by Canada" to outstanding athletes periodically. Details will be worked out later.

Council chairman Ken Farmer of Montreal said the council will send a policy statement and an application for aid form to 55 sports bodies shortly.

THE PALMER METHOD

Colts draw first blood and knock over Mets on Buddin's four-bagger, Dodgers edge Giants with 8-7 win

The eager Houston Colts have drawn first blood in the battle of have-nots in the National League.

After one week of play, the Colts are scurrying along in fourth place, only two games off the pace, and New York Mets are looking for their first victory.

The two new National League clubs met for the first time Tuesday and the Colts grabbed a 5-2 decision on Don Buddin's three-run homer in the 11th inning.

The older Mets, with a veteran lineup of faded names, were supposed to be long-ball hitters. The Colts were reported to be a fiery band of line-drive hitters. But the Colts turned to power for all their runs on Norm Larker's two-run homer and Buddin's winning blow. Gus Bell's homer that tied the score with two men out in the ninth was the only explosion by the Mets, who have lost all five starts.

Pittsburgh Pirates rebounded from a five-run spurt by Chicago Cubs in the first inning and handed the Cubs their seventh straight defeat 10-6. It was the sixth victory for the unbeaten Pirates.

BOMBARD THE GIANTS

Los Angeles Dodgers bombarded San Francisco Giants for eight runs in the early innings and held on for an 8-7 decision with Frank Howard and rookie Tim Harkness of Lachine, Que., hitting home runs.

A scheduled night game between St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies was postponed because of cold weather. Cincinnati Reds and Milwaukee Braves were not scheduled for action.

Bobby Shantz of the Colts and Jay Hook of the Mets were hooked up in a fine scoreless duel until Shantz suffered a "catch" in his left shoulder while making an off-balance throw in the sixth inning. The little lefthander had given up only four hits.

The Colts finally broke through for two runs on Larkers homer in the sixth but the Mets got even with an unearned run in the eighth and Bell's homer in the ninth. The winning blast by Buddin, formerly with Boston Red Sox, was hit off loser Herb Moford, who took over in the ninth inning after Hook left for a pinch hitter. Jim Golden won in relief.

Chicago, tied a major league record by using five pitchers in the eighth inning but couldn't stop the Pirates from rallying for six runs in the last two innings.

BEAT THE CUBS

Harvey Haddix, the last of four Pirate pitchers, was the sixth lefty to beat the Cubs this season. Barney Schultz, third of seven pitchers thrown into action by the Cubs, was the loser. Rookie Lou Brock and Ron Santo homered for the Cubs, Don Leppert for the Pirates. Leppert drove in four runs with his homer and two singles.

The Dodgers recovered from Monday night's 19-8 loss to San Francisco and knocked out Mike McCormick, who was making his first start of the season. In addition to the homers by Howard and Harkness, Tommy Davis continued his batting splurge with a bases-loaded double and Maury Wills drove in the other run with a triple. Don Drysdale won his second with relief help from Larry Sherry in the seventh inning.

Harkness, a six-foot-one, 170-pound first baseman, was making his first start for the Dodgers. The round-tripper was his only hit in four times at bat. Harkness, 24, was used by the Dodgers as a pinch hitter earlier this season.

Centre-fielder Willie Mays of the Giants didn't arrive until the second inning because of a court appearance in connection with his divorce. Wills hit his triple over the head of Matty Alou, Willie's replacement. Mays finally got into the game as a pinch hitter in the seventh inning. He struck out.

Bobby Shantz is happy again as he becomes No. 1 starter for Houston

NEW YORK—(AP)—Pitching has become a pleasure again for little Bobby Shantz, who has suffered great disappointments in major league baseball.

The reason is simple. Shantz, 36 and in his 14th year in the majors, is a starting pitcher again after what seems to him a lifetime in the bullpen.

"It's more satisfying to be a starter," says Bobby, who has become the No. 1 hurler with Houston Colts of the National League. "It's so much easier than being a relief pitcher.

"You work much harder as a reliever, even when you're not called upon. It takes a lot out of you. You have to throw every day in the bullpen. You have to keep your arm loosened up at all times. As a starter, you pitch one day and then rest up the next three or four."

The five-foot-seven lefthander was about the best starter in the business in 1952 when he won 24 games for Philadelphia Athletics and was voted the American League's most valuable player.

A shoulder ailment brought on by favoring a mending broken wrist forced him into the bullpen and apparently ended his days as a starting pitcher.

This season Shantz regained his starting status and, while it still may be a bit early to pass final judgment, his bullpen days appear to be over.

Bobby was his old self Tuesday as he blanked New York Mets through nearly six innings in a game won by the Colts 5-2 in 11 innings.

Until he was forced off the mound with a bit of shoulder trouble with two men out in the sixth inning, Shantz held the Mets to four singles and no runs. He struck out five batters and walked one.

The injury isn't serious and Shantz doesn't expect to lose a starting assignment.

YMHA may drop out of finals

MONTREAL — (CP) — Montreal's YMHA Blues apparently will have to drop out of play-off competition for the national Senior B basketball championship, it was learned Tuesday night.

Coach Murray Waxman said his team is unable to play on the dates set by the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association because they conflict with the Jewish passover holidays.

"So far we haven't been able to get them changed and it looks as though we'll have to forfeit", said Waxman, a construction firm operator who played on Canada's 1948 Olympic basketball team.

The Blues were to meet Saint John, N.B. YMCA in a two-game total-point series here Saturday and Sunday with the winner to advance to the national final against Sarnia, Ont., YMCA in Sarnia April 23-25 in a best-of-three set.

But the high holidays fall on April 24-25.

WILL HAVE TO CEDE

"We can't play on those dates and since there is no point to advancing we have been told we'll hove to cede the series with Saint John," said Waxman.

"We asked the Sarnia officials if they would agree to move the dates back a couple of days. But they said they couldn't do it because three of their players would be unavailable."

An engineer for 51 years, plans to stay on the job

By BERNARD BROWNRIGG
(Record Staff Reporter)

Jean-Charles Cote, Sherbrooke engineer for the past 51 years, says he has done a lot of work planning streets in the past, "and I still plan on doing a lot more, for there seems to be just as many new streets to construct as when I started here in 1911."

The 76-year-old engineer recalled that it took close to seven years to decide what streets should be paved and to engineer their construction.

"In 1917, we finally began to pave Wellington Street," Mr. Cote said.

"We paved it from King to Frontenac Streets in three days," he noted, recalling that paved streets were not very much in demand in those days.

"We never had parking troubles then because there were only about 25 cars in the city and the only reason we really needed paved streets was when it rained. Then the sand would turn to mud and the street would turn into a skating rink," Mr. Cote added.

He said that many times he saw women slip and get their gowns covered with the reddish-colored muck.

"I've made quite a few plans for streets and in many cases I have seen the same streets come back time and time again to be replanned because they were two small or old sewage and water pipes had to be replaced," he said.

Mr. Cote, the only employee, who has been connected with the city for 51 years, told The Record he started in the engineering department after graduating from the University of Montreal "and I plan to stay here for some time to come."

"I joined the city with Thomas Tremblay and we worked together for years before he retired. Then as the years passed, we kept on getting more and more engineers. They are still in demand," Mr. Cote noted.

He said the biggest engineering project he worked on was after the annexation of Orford township to the city in 1949.

"We were two engineers then and we worked for two years engineering the project. We had to make plans for water mains, gas and sewer pipes and other underground conducts needed for the new streets.

"The hardest part of the project was engineering a method of putting the pipe across the Magog River," Mr. Cote noted.

He said he didn't believe in retiring because "I like my job and feel that if I ever quit it I'd be lost and end up losing my good health."

Guerrilla fighter settles down as restaurant owner

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. (CP)—In a long white apron, restaurant proprietor Theodore Pantoulias bears little resemblance to the popular conception of a tough guerrilla fighter. But the medal he shows proves appearances can be deceiving.

The medal and a framed scroll were presented recently to Mr. Pantoulias by a grateful Greek government for successively battling Fascists, Nazis and Communists.

He fought the Italian Fascists when they invaded Albania, battled the Nazis when they marched into Greece in 1941 and, when the war ended, took part in the vicious guerrilla fighting when Communists tried to take over his homeland.

Reluctant to talk about the years of strife, Mr. Pantoulias related only one episode, involving the Communists in 1947.

The Reds had put a price on his head and during a raid on his home village captured three of his children.

Mr. Pantoulias said he did the only thing he could. He captured a known Communist family and used them as hostages to barter for the lives of his children. It worked.

His son Harry, now a teacher at a high school here, recalls that the Reds burned the family home during the raid and killed his grandfather.

Ship builder tears ships apart, puts them together for launching

VANCOUVER (CP)—There's a certain fascination about the business of building ships, especially when the builder has to tear one apart and put it together again before it's launched.

This is happening at Allied Builders Ltd. in Vancouver's False Creek, where workmen are putting the finishing touches on a $250,000 federal government survey ship, the Hugh Young, for use on the Mackenzie River.

The 87-foot ship, crammed with the usual maze of wires and pipes and equipment, is almost completed.

Now Allied must cut the ship up into nine sections, ship them by rail to Waterways, 460 miles north of Edmonton, and there put them back together.

A crew of eight will take 2½ weeks to get the ship launched up north.

The method violates all the normal rules of efficient business, but in a way it is efficient and for T. Arthur McLaren, who runs Allied, it's a big part of his business.

It's easier to build the ship here, he says, than to ship all the 1,001 items up north where a missing bolt could hold up the work.

The ship isn't just a bare hull, but fully equipped. It takes a major surgical job to cut it up.

The incisions are laid out on the blueprints with a sharp eye on the inner intricacies of the ship and the size restrictions of the railways.

The cuts are laid out on natural "breaks" in the hull—welded seams. These are usually just spot welded so that the hull comes apart readily.

The first cut will be forward, detaching a 13-foot length of the bow. The wheelhouse comes off in one piece. The main house is cut into three pieces and comes off at deck level.

The hull, minus the bow section, is then split down the middle. A section comes off each side amidships and each of the two aft halves contains a diesel engine.

Railway freight cost for the shipment is estimated at $11,000.

Once assembled again, the Hugh Young faces a further adventure. To get to the Mackenzie it must be portaged 25 miles around rapids on the Alberta - Northwest Territories border. The ship will be placed on a huge trailer drawn by three caterpillar tractors.

LAND OF GODS

More than 350 temples stand along the twisting streets and spacious squares of Katamanku, Nepal.

Mystery of returning swans is solved

MAIDSTONE, Ont. (CP)—The mystery of the returning swans has apparently been solved.

It seems they didn't want to continue their northward migration because one of their number wasn't fit to travel.

The department of lands and forests reports that late in March 500 whistling swans, which usually rest on water during their migration, chose a muddy Maidstone Township field in southwestern Ontario as a stopping place.

They took to the air each day but kept coming back to join one bird that remained on the ground. A conservation officer thought the bird was injured. Investigation showed it was merely exhausted.

When it was moved to another place it began to feed and walk around. When the flock of swans returned that night they didn't land. The assumption is that the only reason they kept coming back was because they didn't want to desert their exhausted friend.

Students build University chapel

VICTORIA (CP)—When the chapel of University School is completed shortly after Easter it will be a reason for special pride among the 240 students. They're helping build it.

Apart from normal studies at the independent boys' school, the students raised $20,100 in donations, put in a total of 25,000 hours of work, mixed and poured 31 tons of concrete, cut and finished thousands of feet of lumber and pounded hundreds of pounds of nails.

Headmaster J. J. Timmis said the campaign to raise funds involved each of the boys writing letters to family and friends for $10 donations. A target of $100 each was set to meet construction costs estimated at $25,000.

Preliminary design was done at the school. Finishing touches were applied by an architect. A full-time carpenter has been employed on the project throughout and such jobs as bricklaying, wiring and stucco on the exterior are being handled by experts.

The chapel has a seating capacity of 250 and room for an additional 60 for special occasions.

Mayor Leger Cameron congratulated the players for the fine teamwork displayed and stressed the excellent co-operation between the two races represented, several French speaking members having participated in the bonspiel.

Others who spoke briefly were Mr. Kendrick, Mr. Lovelace, Mr. Jenkins, Mr. Groleau, Mr. Perry, Alva Patterson and Foster Ross, who announced the Lennoxville Men's Own Bonspiel will be held on Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28, inviting all teams present to enroll for the event. New varieties of wheat and oats recommended to Alberta farmers

EDMONTON (CP) — New varieties of oats and wheat have been added to the 1962 list of seeds recommended to Alberta farmers by the Alberta Varietal Zonation Committee.

The committee includes representatives of the University of Alberta and the federal and provincial agriculture departments.

The new wheat variety, recommended in each of the four zones of Alberta, is known as Canthatch. It is similar to Thatcher in all respects except for its superior resistance to stem rust.

The new variety of oats is known as Glen. Initially it is recommended in zones of west-central and all of northern Alberta. It has characteristics similar to Garry but it is slightly earlier maturing and higher yielding.

The Alberta committee was formed several years ago to coordinate the findings of various experimental agencies and to recommend to farmers those grain varieties which have proved most suited to production in various soil and climatic zones in Alberta. Recommendations are revised annually.

The province has been divided into four zones within which growth conditions such as precipitation, soil type and length of growing season are relatively uniform. Zones are also sub-divided as growth conditions may not be entirely uniform throughout the entire region. In these cases more than one variety is recommended.

Crops covered in the list of recommendations include wheat, barley, oats and flax.

TALLEST TOWER

BERLIN (AP)—The Communist East German news agency claims East Germany now has the tallest man-made structure in Europe—the 1,175-foot radio tower near Oranienburg, just north of Berlin.

Scholarships for students

OTTAWA (CP)—The Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland is offering scholarships for 1963 to university graduates from Canada and other Commonwealth countries.

Offered under the Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Plan, they will be for advanced courses of study at the University College of Rhodesia and Nyasaland at Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia.

Closing date for applications from Canadians, which may be sent to the Canadian Commonwealth Scholarship and Fellowship Committee, 77 Metcalfe St., Ottawa, is May 14.

WIN TOP HONORS — The L. M. Thomas Memorial Trophy is presented to the Waterville team skipped by Don Sylvester, which captured top honors in the annual spring bonspiel held by the Coaticook Carpet Bowling Club. Above, from the left, are: Jack Goodfellow, who made the presentation, Don Sylvester, A. Maranzin, C. Sylvester and A. Hopper. Cast of stars to make historic movie will cost over $6,500,000 for filming

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The hero of this tale is a sober Missourian who has lived half his life in Britain and who has written the longest, costliest and—it is hoped—funniest comedy in movie history.

The fellow is William Rose, who joined the Royal Canadian Air Force early in the Second World War, arrived in England in 1940 and has lived there ever since. He was temporarily deprived of his American citizenship for having joined a foreign force. Unable to bring his British bride to the U.S., he settled in Britain.

He had a hit or miss writing career in British films, the hit being Genevieve. That gave him the notion for the comedy to end all comedies.

"I had a race of a half-hour in Genevieve, he recalled. "The thought occurred to me: Why not write a picture that would be a race from beginning to end."

KRAMER BUYS IT

Rose and his wife Tania, with whom he has collaborated on scripts, toyed with the idea for a while. Finally, they sold the idea to Hollywood producer Stanley Kramer for a price, to be paid in advance, which Rose says is "more than I earned in my entire writing career."

The price is reliably reported at $375,000.

The Roses' script will run about three hours, 20 minutes. Filming will start in June. Cost: $6,500,000.

The movie now is titled It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World.

The cast so far: Spencer Tracy, Milton Berle, Ethel Merman, Sid Caesar, Jonathan Winters, Mickey Rooney, Buddy Hackett, Terry-Thomas, Dick Shawn, Edie Adams, Jimmy Durante, Peter Falk, Rochester. Several other big names will be added.

The plot concerns a race among various shady types for a buried treasure, with Tracy as the law man who does the chasing.

Cookshire groups plan paper drive

The members plan to hold a paper collection on Saturday, May 12.

Repairs to the rectory kitchen were discussed, and Mrs. Durrett reminded the members of the J.A. and G.A. festivals to be held on May 5 and 26.

At the close of the evening the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held May 11.

SUTTON —

Sutton Cubs were glad to see Mr. Carold O 'Brien, Cubmaster, back for a week at his home here after six months' treatment at the Royal Edward Laurentian Hospital. He remained for a week with his mother, Mrs. Frank O'Brien, then returned to the hospital for further treatment.

Mrs. Robert Hill, who has been a patient for several weeks at the B.M.P. Hospital, Sweetsburg, has returned to her home on Maple Avenue.

Mr. Leslie Holden, Mountain Street, was removed by ambulance to the B.M.P. Hospital Sweetsburg, on April 12, because of a heart condition. He will remain for treatment there for a time.

Mr. Cecil Woodard, now a resident at the Wales Home, Richmond, plans to spend the Easter period with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Woodard, and with his daughter, Mrs. Fred Knights.

Guild meets at Bishopton

BISHOPTON — The Ladies Guild was entertained by Mrs. M. Davis, with Mrs. R. Betts, Mrs. G. Clarke and Mrs. F. L. Gilbert assisting. Rev. T. Hardy opened the meeting.

Donations of material were received from a Montreal firm and from a member, who is ill.

The treasurer reported the maturity of the bond held at the bank and Mrs. L. Herring was appointed to inquire about its redemption.

Proceeds of the meeting amounted to $4.25.

The next meeting will be held on May 3 at the home of Mrs. F. L. Gilbert.

GENERAL NOTES

Miss Sheila Davis and Mr. James Boyce, of Montreal, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis. While here they attended the christening of Terry Dale, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell, at Eustis, where they were godparents.

Kiwanians observe Good Will Week April 22-28

Over 125 Kiwanians representing a total of six American Kiwanis Clubs and four Eastern Townships ones, will join the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club April 23 for the 41st annual observance of the Kiwanis International U.S. - Canada Good Will Week April 22 to 28.

The Newport, Vt., Berlin, N.H., Barre, Vt., Laconia, N.H., Burlington, Vt., Hardwick, Vt., clubs will join the Thetford, Waterloo, Granby and Magog clubs here in Sherbrooke and will be part of the 4,300 clubs throughout the United States and Canada which celebrate the week.

The inter-club meeting will be held at the Sherbrooke Hotel beginning at 6.15 p.m. Each club will be represented by at least ten members each.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Col. Philip Joyal, deputy chief of staff for plans at Northern NORAD headquarters at St. Hubert, Quebec.

At Monday night's meeting special emphasis will be placed on dramatizing the traditional friendship between Canada and the U.S. for the meeting falls at the time of the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement. (April 28, 1817).

The Rush-Bagot Agreement is an informal document (not a treaty) which virtually de-militarizes the boundary between Canada and the United States by calling for a limitation of naval vessels on the waterways between the countries and instructing those which are deemed necessary to interfere in no way with the peaceful passage of merchantmen of either country. The agreement could — and can — be terminated by a simple six months' notice on the part of either signatory nation. It is this document which has made possible the unfortified three thousand mile Canada - U.S. border which today stands as a dramatic example of good neighborliness.

Clubs are urged to publicize Canada - U.S. Goodwill Week emphasizing the colorful three thousand miles of friendship, marked dramatically by the thirty-four Kiwanis Peace Makers.

Local observances might include telephonic interchanges between clubs on opposite sides of the border, interchange of speakers, inter-club meetings, and special educational type of program including the showing of films on Canada — or the U.S. — as appropriate.

KIWANIS LENDS A HELPING HAND — Service to Youth is one of the main aims of Kiwanis International and the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club does its share by sponsoring a camp for Crippled Children at Ayer's Cliff. Above, Kiwanians help one of the boys who attended the camp to walk along the camp's wharf. (Record Photo by Gerry Lemay)

Service to youth, community, nation purpose of Kiwanis

Kiwanis International, a men's service organization comprising nearly 300,000 business and professional leaders in close to 4500 communities throughout Canada and the United States including Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands, has as its purpose "Service to Youth, Community and Nation" and its motto, "We Build."

There are eight areas of work undertaken by Kiwanians and these are included under the groupings Youth Services and Citizenships Services.

Under Youth Services come Boys' and Girls' Work, Underprivileged Children, Vocational Guidance and Key Club and Circle Club work.

Citizenship Services include Agriculture and Conservation, Public and Business Affairs and Support of Churches in their Spiritual Aims.

Kiwanis work with youth is always a popular area of club activity. Varying within clubs it may take the form of leadership and guidance of youth groups, cooperation with local schools in sponsoring such projects as public speaking contests, safety or citizenship training programs, etc., and supervision of recreational activities and athletics, perhaps sponsoring baseball or hockey teams.

The underprivileged child has always been the concern of Kiwanis Clubs from the beginning. The physically and mentally handicapped and the socially handicapped are helped in various ways. One local project is the Crippled Children's Camp at Ayer's Cliff. Kids' Day is always a major project in clubs throughout the nation.

In the realm of vocational guidance, Kiwanians often are engaged in vocational counseling or cooperate with schools in providing needed guidance services. Some clubs furnish vocational aids or assist in placing young people in summer jobs.
