POLISH PRIME MINISTER DIES IN PLANE CRASH

Six Important Aides Die With Polish Premier

Pilot of Plane Only Survivor of Crash in Attempt to Take Off from Gibraltar on Return to London From Middle East—Deputy Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk Named as Temporary Successor.

London, July 5.—(AP)—General Wladyslaw Sikorski, Premier of the Polish Government in London and commander of its armed forces, was killed last night when the Liberator plane in which he was travelling crashed shortly after taking off from Gibraltar, the Air Ministry announced today.

The plane, which was carrying six important aides of the Premier, crashed into the sea when its engines failed soon after the take-off.

Sikorski, six other passengers and all members of the plane's crew except one were killed, reliable reports said.

Among the victims was Sikorski's daughter, Mrs. Sophia Leniowska, twenty-six, who was travelling with her father as liaison officer between the London headquarters of the Polish Auxiliary Territorial Service (Women's Forces) and the Middle East. She was wearing an A. T. S. uniform. Her husband is a prisoner of war in Germany.

The only survivor of the crash was the pilot of the big plane, who was seriously injured.

Sikorski had been visiting Polish armed forces in the Middle East and was in Cairo as recently as last Thursday.

His death came at a moment when the forces which he had been organizing to fight for the liberation of Poland were at last ready to take part in the offensive operations they had been planning since the humiliating days of September, 1939, when their country fell before the German invaders.

The fatal accident first was announced by the Polish Government in a brief statement which gave no details. Shortly afterward the Air Ministry issued this brief communique:

"The Air Ministry deeply regrets to announce that General Sikorski was killed last night when the Liberator aircraft in which he was travelling crashed shortly after taking off from Gibraltar.

"The general was accompanied by Major General Kilmekci and other members of his staff. The only survivor of the accident is the pilot, who was seriously injured and is in a hospital."

Other victims included General Tadeusz Kilmekci, forty-eight, Chief of the Polish General Staff; General Andrzej Marwicki, Chief of the Operational Section and expert in military science and a British colonel, Victor Alexander Cazalet, who was a political liaison officer and sometimes served as an interpreter of Sikorski's public speeches.

The cabinet immediately designated Deputy Premier Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, leader of the Polish Peasant Party, as Acting Premier, pending the selection of Sikorski's successor.

German Radio Convinced Russian Offensive Near On Eastern Front

London, July 5.—(AP)—Preparations for a German attack in the Belgorod area Northeast of Kharkov have been smashed by artillery and mortar fire from the Russian midday communiqué broadcast from Moscow and recorded by the Soviet monitor announced today.

The war bulletin reported only minor action had taken place in other sections of the front. "Several dozen" Nazi troops were killed in a night raid on trenches in the central front and a reconnaissance detachment was dispersed by machine-gun fire, the communiqué said.

North of Chuguev, twenty-two miles Southeast of Kharkov, Soviet artillery smashed two self-propelled German guns which had been shelling Red army positions, the bulletin stated.

An attempt by a strong German punitive force to encircle a guerrilla unit in the Leningrad area were smashed after several days of fighting, the communiqué added.

Action which developed on the Northwest front over the week-end, where the Russians said yesterday they had wiped out 800 of 2,400 junk-supported Elite Guardsmen who attempted to recapture an important hill, had apparently subsided.

FORMER CONSERVATIVE NOVA SCOTIA PREMIER DIES IN HALIFAX

Halifax, July 5.—(AP)—A former Conservative Premier of Nova Scotia, Col. the Hon. Gordon Sidney Harrington, 59, died at his home here yesterday afternoon after a lengthy illness.

London, July 5.—American airmen presented a cheque for $400 to aid the Sea Rescue Squadron of the R.A.F. Fighter Command Saturday night at a party celebrating the hundredth rescue from the Channel and coastal waters.

The cheque was given on behalf of the U.S. Army Air Force Bomber Command, which donated half the money. The remainder of the sum was raised among bomber crews themselves for what they called "good life insurance."

London, July 5.—(AP)—Surrounded by men with whom he fought and served in war and politics, the body of Hon. R. J. Manion today was carried to its grave in Notre Dame cemetery here.

For the solemn Requiem Mass chanted by Rev. Joseph Birch, St. Joseph's church was filled with Cabinet Ministers, former Ministers, Members of Parliament, Government officials and old military and political associates of the man who died suddenly Friday night.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, against whom Dr. Manion contended as leader of the Conservative Party in the 1940 general election, was one of the pallbearers. Another was Hon. Ian Mackenzie, the Liberal Minister of the Interior.

"His love for Canada has been a passion and from the inception of his career to its untimely end he spent himself generously for the physical and moral well-being of his fellow citizens," said Father Birch in a brief funeral oration.

He said it was not the Roman Catholic custom to deliver eulogies of the dead but that rule was waived in the case of public men who had proved themselves worth of God and their country and who had shown greatness and nobility of character.

From every corner came indications that before the end of the week the great coal strike would be ended. The 100,000 or more men in Pennsylvania, Alabama, Virginia and Tennessee who continued rebellious at the United Mine Workers' back-to-work orders dwindled to less than 30,000 with reports coming in hourly of additional locals voting to return.

Thousands trooped into the pits today close on the heels of small preparatory shifts which readied the diggings last night. Many other thousands pledged themselves to return tomorrow.

Pennsylvania's great bituminous field, which last week was crippled by the absence of nearly 48,000 of its 117,000 workers, today held promises from U.M.W. officials, backed by votes of locals, that the number will be cut at least to 11,000 by tomorrow.

In Central Pennsylvania District 2, where nearly 35,000 were idle and only 10,000 working at the week's end, votes from locals reversed the figures.

John Kramrich, field representative for the U.M.W.'s Uniontown District 4, said all locals in this area except one voted to return.

Five more big locals voted to return in Pittsburgh districts, reported President John P. Bussarello. He estimated only 1,000 holding out as compared with 6,400 last week. The district has 36,000 members.

Greensburg District 2, numbering 10,000 workers, was reported 100 per cent at work.

Just as pronounced was the shaftward trend of Eastern Pennsylvania's 83,000 hard coal miners. Virtually all of them were at work today, despite the holiday, and the few mines not working expected to be operating tomorrow.

JAPAN SEEKING NEW PROGRAMME FOR SINGAPORE

Premier Hideki Tojo Arrives in Singapore for Personal Inspection of Recently Gained Territory of Japan.

New York, July 5.—(AP)—The Japanese radio announced that Premier Hideki Tojo arrived in Singapore today to confer with Field Marshal Count Hasegawa Terachi, supreme commander of Japanese forces in the Southern area "and to inspect personally actual conditions in the South."

The broadcast, from a Domei news agency dispatch, was an English-language transmission reported to the Office of War Information.

Domei also said another motive of Tojo's visit was to "prepare the new policy for the Southern regions."

The O.W.I., declaring the broadcast did not specify the actual conditions Tojo planned to inspect, pointing out that Terachi's command presumably includes the New Guinea-Solomons area where a strong new Allied offensive is underway.

While official military sources declined to discuss the operations, the Ministry of Information disclosed that a special broadcast had been made to the people of Crete, warning them not to be tricked into thinking this was the start of a real invasion.

The broadcast urged them to be quiet and declared: "This time no action is required from you. This is not an invasion."

The Middle East communiqué announced that "small British land forces carried out raids on air fields in Crete last night."

"The operations were successful," the communiqué said, "a number of aircraft being destroyed on the ground."

"All our patrols withdrew safely." The raids constituted the first barage, and the Germans fired back at irregular intervals, some of their shells falling in the Dover area.

The United States 8th Air Force lost eight bombers on the Sunday missions, which involved a round trip of more than 600 miles to La Pallice, and more than 200 miles round trip to Le Mans. Bombing results were good, a communiqué said, although heavy fighting opposition was met at Le Mans and Nantes, it was said. A number of enemy fighters were destroyed, the communiqué declared.

One American bombardier, Lieut. Harvey H. Wallace, said the engine factory at Le Mans "just isn't there any more. They can cross that factory off the list."

R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. fighters and bombers also swept over the Continent Sunday, hitting at railway yards at Amiens and knocking down enemy planes, with a loss of four of their own.

Britain itself began its second week of respite from German air raids.

The Berlin radio reported a few "nuisance raids" over Western Germany last night. Isolated bombs caused light damage to residences, said the broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press. It claimed that twenty-four heavy bombers and one fighter were shot down by the Germans yesterday.

London, July 5.—(AP)—Following up a smashing R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack against Cologne, American heavy bombers rounded out the week-end Sunday by dumping bombs on the airplane engine factory at Le Mans, France, and the U-boat works at Nantes and La Pallice, which were protected by Allied fighter planes, including those from the R.C.A.F. command.

However, the big attack of the week-end was the one against Cologne, with bombers making side excursions to Hamburg and other targets in the Ruhr, which broke the lull that has held since June 28, when the same two cities were also the targets.

Laying such a concentrated load of explosives on the vital Cologne industrial districts cost the raiders thirty-two planes, eight of them Canadian.

Fires from the flaming city were visible for 150 miles, pilots who had carried out the 118th bombing attack there reported, while smoke billowed to 18,000 feet.

After last Monday night's pounding, the Berlin radio declared: "The attack on Cologne has entirely altered its face; all familiar landmarks have been wiped out."

British Commandos Stage First Land Raid Against Crete Since Evacuation Of Island In 1941

By LEWIS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer
London, July 5.—(AP)—British forces jabbed into the Island of Crete last night, destroying enemy planes on airfields, and withdrew successfully, a special Middle East communiqué disclosed today.

This was the first landing reported since British forces were driven from the Mediterranean island by air-borne invasion forces in May, 1941.

There was no indication of the size of the forces used but it was assumed in London military quarters that they were small bands of Commandos who are highly trained in such work.

While official military sources declined to discuss the operations, the Ministry of Information disclosed that a special broadcast had been made to the people of Crete, warning them not to be tricked into thinking this was the start of a real invasion.

COMMUNISTS TO REORGANIZE IN DOMINION SOON

Tim Buck, Leader of Canadian Party, Declares Organization Convention to Be Held in Toronto.

Winnipeg, July 5.—(AP)—Tim Buck, leader of the Communist Party in Canada, said in a public address yesterday that "abolition of the Communist Internationale has done Hon. Louis St. Laurent (Minister of Justice) out of an argument against the Communist Party."

He told a United Nations picnic crowd a National Communist Party would be organized at a party convention in Toronto August 21 which "would prepare Canada to take her place as a world power and preserve the rights of the working man."

Buck is chairman of the National Initiative Committee set up to organize the new party.

Aims of the new National party, he said, would be Socialism and the party would advocate a controlled economy for the Dominion. Chief concern would be the post-war world.

General MacArthur Resumes Active Field Army Command

Australian and United States Forces Report Further Gains in Fighting in Central Solomons, Taking Strategic Village on Vangunu Island and Destroying Twenty-One Japanese Planes Over Rendova Island.

Although Still in Speculative Stage, Many Names Mentioned as Likely Aspirants to Federal Seat.

Stanstead, July 5.—Setting the political pot-bolling with the addition of a new name to the list of candidates who have already tossed their hats into the ring or are contemplating the action, prospects for a battle-royal in the forthcoming bye-election in Stanstead County loom imminent.

Only one month away from the polls, already a baker's dozen of county men are being mentioned as aspirants to the seat and set the chief topic for discussion in all parts of the county, as the planning of meetings and the general gamut of elections indicate a very lively campaign.

Foremost among those entering the field is the name of Pierre Thomas, of Magog, the Mayor of that municipality, whose aspirations have won him the nomination of the C.C.F. party.

Though Paul Lafontaine, Secretary of the Progressive Conservative Association, in Quebec, stated in Montreal that his party, officially, is taking no part in the bye-elections, it is widely rumored that John T. Hackett, K.C., former member for Stanstead, may seek his seat again, and Wesley Bradley, Sherbrooke lawyer and summer resident of the County, also has been mentioned as a likely candidate, while Albert Fregan, of Rock Island, is also regarded as a possible starter.

In the Liberal camp the name of the ex-member, R. G. Davidson, has been heard from many points.

Other names up for the standard-bearers are Roger Bouchard, of Coaticook, and his fellow-townsmen, J. C. Samson while the Independent Liberals have been rumored as presenting either Albert Sidelan, Coaticook, or M. A. Girard, of Magog.

Maxime Raymond's Bloc Populaire will also contest the riding, it is understood, with the proposal that possibly J. A. Choquet or Aurelien Belanger, both of Katevale, may enter the race.

Purely conjecture as yet, with the exception of the C.C.F. nomination, the next few weeks will undoubtedly witness one of the most eagerly contested elections that Stanstead County has yet seen. It remains to be known just what the final line-up will be but, no doubt, the electors will be fully informed within a very few days. The fire is hot and the kettle is boiling—who is going to stir the brew?

Determined Resistance Fails To Halt Allied Attacks Against Italy

At Least Forty-Three Enemy Fighter Planes Which Offered Determined Resistance to Allied Planes Attacking Sicily Shot Down—Allies Disclose Coastal Targets in Vicinity of Rome Object of Attack.

HON. PETER HEENAN AGAIN CONTESTING LEGISLATURE SEAT
Kenora, Ont., July 5.—(AP)—Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Labor, was unanimously chosen Liberal-Labor candidate during the week-end for the Kenora Rainy River constituency in the forthcoming Provincial general election.

Nassau, Bahamas, July 5.—(C.P. Cable)—American officials here were recruiting 1,000 more laborers Saturday to work on farms in the United States. There now are 2,000 Bahamian workers on American farms. The Duke of Windsor, Governor of the Bahamas, said in a press conference that conditions for laborers in the United States were excellent.

Allied Headquarters, North Africa, July 5.—(AP)—Allied bombers smashed back heavily at Axis air-dromes in Sicily yesterday and destroyed at least forty-three enemy planes which offered determined resistance "in fierce air battles," an Allied communiqué said today.

On the heels of Saturday's day-long assaults, which had been described as the heaviest Allied air attacks on Italy's island outposts since Pantelleria fell, the Northwest African Air Force bombed Catania, Gerbina, Salce, Comiso and Milo in a fourth of July display of power.

The communiqué also disclosed for the first time from an Allied source that coastal targets near Rome were the objective of Allied bombers Saturday night.

(The Italian Sunday communiqué said that the seaplane base at Ostia, on the mouth of the Tiber river, twelve miles Southeast of Rome, and Fiumicino, two miles North of Ostia, across the river, had been bombed.)

Trapani and Comiso also were attacked Saturday night, the war bulletin declared.

The Coastal Air Force bagged another enemy aircraft Saturday night, it was said.

Allied planes losses numbered thirteen, the communiqué added.

(The Italian Sunday communiqué, as broadcast by the Rome radio and recorded by the Associated Press, claimed that Italian fighter craft shot down twenty-five Allied planes, eighteen of them over the Catania plain; that German interceptors had shot down another twenty-one; and that combined Axis anti-aircraft barrages brought down another ten, for a total of fifty-six.)

(Then it was said two bombers should have been added to yesterday's Saturday night tally of fifty and asserted that a grand total of 108 planes—"mostly multi-engine"—had been lost by the Allies in two days.)

The attack on Catania, by the Northwest African Force, followed up a Saturday night pounding delivered by R.A.F. bombers of the Middle East command, which dropped bombs on the railway yards North of the harbor after fighting had weather to reach the targets.

Gerbina, one of Sunday's objectives, is an airport inland from Catania, which is on the East Sicily coast.

Salce, Comiso and Milo were among Saturday's targets.

Apparently the Saturday night raid on Trapani was intended to finish off some of the damage started by a raid Friday night and demolish the Italian harbor area had started in the harbor area.

Three raids were carried out in daylight Saturday against Comiso and adjacent airfield at Bisari in Southern Sicily, Salce, in Southwestern Sicily, and Milo, the airfield

WAR BULLETINS

London — The German radio asserted today that German submarines have sunk four Allied merchant ships, totalling 21,000 tons, in an attack "on a very strongly protected convoy in the Mediterranean."

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, was unconfirmed by any Allied source. The date of the asserted action was not given.

New Delhi — Four-engined bombers of the United States 10th Air Force bombed the jetty at Akyab and attacked the Shweli bridge in Northern Burma yesterday, a communiqué announced today.

Mitchell bombers joined in the attack with heavy raids on Central Burma, dropping more than ten tons of bombs on the railway yards at Shweli and scoring many direct hits on tracks, rolling stock and warehouses, the communiqué said.

BRILLIANT ARMY SHOW STAGED ON WEEK-END

LaFleche Recognizes Sherbrooke As First City In Canada To Identify Soldiers' Homes With Honor PennantExceptional Success Accorded
Two-Day Military Festival As
"Sherbrooke Honors Its Fighters"—Many Notables
Present as Citizens Learn "How-What-Why" of the Army.

Canada's Minister of National War Services, Major General L. R. LaFleche, D.S.O., M.C., participating here yesterday in the presentation of pennants to the next-of-kin of Sherbrooke men and women on active service, climax of a two-day military festival, "Sherbrooke Honors Its Fighters," paid special tribute to the accomplishment of the City of Sherbrooke in the war effort. "I want you to know," he said, "that this occasion marks the first time in all Canada that any city has given fitting recognition to the contribution of the individual home to the armed services."

Describing this precedent-setting epoch as he began the distribution of over 400 red, white and blue, maple leaf-centred pennants, the Minister emphasized his belief that such a practice would soon be invoked by the Government on a national scale. "It is only right that we should give such a fitting means of identification to each Canadian home from which one or more members have gone forth to serve their country," he stated. "Citizens of Sherbrooke can indeed be proud that such a gesture was launched here in this city as part of this magnificent celebration."

With a background of the thirty-two flags of the United Nations supported by members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, who figured so prominently in the week-end festival, and a guard of honor composed of the rest of the C.W.A.C. unit, Major General LaFleche was assisted in the presentation ceremony by Major General E. J. Renaud, C.B.E., District Officer Commanding M.D. 4; Lt.-Col. Walter H. Scott, Recruiting Officer, M.D. 4; Lt.-Col. E. J. Nantel, O.C. Lord Sherbrooke T.C. 43; Lt.-Col. H. F. C. Cocks, Protestant Chaplain, M.D. 4; Major B. W. Fairweather, Deputy Adjutant General; Col. Sam Echenberg, O.C. Jacques Cartier Camp; Col. Leopold Chevalier, General Chairman of the Festival Committee; Lt. M. Nanton and Capt. E. English of the C.W.A.C.; Mayor A. C. Ross, Senator C. B. Howard, Judge Dalmat Landry, J. P. Mullins, M.P., Richmond - Wolfe, Maurice Gingues, M.P., Canon Ira Bourassa, Parish Priest of Sherbrooke, Capt. Jean Marchand, P.R.O., M.D. 4; Lt.-Col. J. R. Dansereau, O.C. Le Regiment de Chateauguay; Capt. Denis, of the same unit; and Capt. Louis Lacoste, E.T. Recruiting Officer.

Citizens of this city were treated to an exceptional demonstration of how-what-and why of the army as a fast-moving schedule of spectacular events were staged by local and visiting troops, in conjunction with a display of motorized equipment during Sherbrooke's own unique Army Show. Highlights of the week-end, aside from the main feature, the presentation of the pennants, were vividly-realistic front-line battle manoeuvres performed by the Lord Sherbrooke Training Centre and the Princess of Wales Own Regiment, assisted by 35th Battery, and the stark reality of the supposed aerial attack on Central School during Saturday night's upper town blackout.

Some twenty-seven persons "required" first aid for shock and minor injuries, and at least two were "sent" to hospital for smoke suffocation, as the grim horror of an actual air raid was strikingly demonstrated by a picked crew operating under the direction of Capt. George Guthrie, of Military District No. 4. Signalled by screaming sirens and the noise of C.P.C. warden's rattles, the blackout occurred at 10 p.m., immediately followed by the air raid warning. As the pseudo planes approached the city bombs were dropped and the attack centered around Central School and King George Hotel. Through the use of innumerable smoke generators the suggestion of burning buildings was effectively simulated. Exploding bombs, thunder flashes and flares accompanied the sound system amplification of "The Bombing of London," making an unforgettable show that actually brought home the manner in which folks "over there" are continually under attack.

C.P.C. members under Leo Thibault, Mobile Force members commanded by Jean Valenti and Major Wm. Foot, and the Civic Police and Fire Departments under the guidance of Director Percy Donahue, all assisted in the demonstration, the Fire Department's huge truck and extension ladder being rushed to the hotel to counteract the fictitious blaze, "rescue" attempts being a spectacular part of the half-hour show.

Members of the St. John Ambulance Corps rendered invaluable help with their First-Aid work, their emergency room in the King George Hotel being crammed to the limit with the real casualties of the evening. The entire male and female corps were in action, under joint direction of Miss J. Trudeau and Alberic Julien.

Concluding the Saturday evening show, a brilliant fireworks display was given by Capt. Guthrie's men, the like of which had not been seen in Sherbrooke for many years. Star shells, sky rockets and flares all elicited the enthusiastic applause of the huge crowd assembled in the area.

Right on schedule at 10 a.m. Saturday morning the first event got underway, as citizens were given a glimpse of the many motorized vehicles on display. Leaving Belvidere and Drummond Streets, via Belvidere, Frontenac, Wellington, Aberdeen, Alexander and Galt Streets back to their starting point, the parade consisted of two 32-ton Ram tanks, the largest manufactured in Canada, several field artillery guns and mortars, anti-aircraft guns, twelve universal carriers, twelve motorcycles, two armored scout cars, six jeeps, a field ambulance, and a lengthy convoy of light and heavy trucks containing men of the Farmham Camp and the P.W.O.R.

Bright spot of the whole programme for the majority of people was the 55-piece military band, from the District Depot, M.D. 4, under the baton of R.S.M. Black, taking part in all parades and providing concert music during the programme, this splendid aggregation of top-notch musicians drew well-merited applause wherever and whenever they appeared.

Officially opening the new downtown office of the local Civilian Advisory Committee, C.W.A.C., at 11:00 a.m., Major-General Renaud emphasized the important place of the women in the army. "They are working exceedingly hard, and being of the army, constitute a loyal and courageous element who are doing their share in this war," he said. "These rooms are opened to enable the Civilian Committee to provide sufficient and correct information to girls wishing to enlist in the Corps. It is the duty of those in charge to see that the malicious and unfounded rumors spread against these girls of the C.W.A.C. are counteracted. Only people with the minds of saboteurs would try to create discord and trouble amongst the finest body of women in Canada."

Brief addresses of welcome were made by the Joint-Presidents, Mrs. F. W. McNulty and Mrs. Lucien Lavallee, who again pledged themselves and their Committees to the task of providing the much-wanted information to girls from this district, now made easily available through the opening of these convenient headquarters.

Among those present were Lt.-Colonel Emile Levesque and Mrs. Levesque, Lt.-Col. E. J. Nantel, Lt.-Col. Walter Scott, Lt.-Col. B. P. Lyon, Mayor A. C. Ross, Everett E. Goodenough, Lean Trepanier, Major B. W. Fairweather, Brig.-Major C. de L. Mignault, Capt. Geo. Guthrie, Capt. J. A. Lacoste, Col. Sam Echenberg, Col. Leopold Chevalier, Maurice Gingues, Aldermen J. W. Genest, J. A. Robert and Lt. A. Trudeau, Misses Madeleine Levesque and Margaret Doherty, Joint-Vice-Presidents, Miss G. LaCombe, Secretary, and the following committee members: Mrs. Paul McKenna, Mrs. Leon LaCombe, Mrs. E. Vaillancourt, Mrs. J. FATAL MISHAP
WINDSOR MILLS

Accidental death was the verdict brought in by a jury inquiring into the death of J. A. Huard, fifty-year-old Canadian National Railways brakeman of Richmond, who received fatal injuries when he fell off a moving freight train at the Mill Street crossing in Windsor Mills on Friday morning. Leonidas Bachand, coroner for the District of St. Francis, conducted the inquest at Windsor Mills on Saturday evening.

The victim had climbed atop one of the larger freight cars and was in the process of applying the brakes when he lost his balance and plunged onto the tracks, the wheels of the car severing his left arm and right leg, according to evidence offered at the inquest.

Chief witness to testify was the conductor of the train, M. Fee, who saw the accident. "I saw Huard when he got on top of one of the freight cars and as we neared the Mill Street crossing, he started to apply the brakes and it appeared that he lost his footing, falling headfirst to the track under the moving freight," he said. Testimony given by Mr. Fee was confirmed by members of the crew. The freight was en route to Island Pond at the time the mishap occurred.

Others testifying were Dr. R. Morissette and Dr. J. P. Fortin, of Windsor Mills, who ordered Huard removed to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he died at 8:15 o'clock on Friday evening, less than twelve hours after being admitted.

Medical testimony showed that the victim's left arm at the shoulder and his right leg below the knee were torn off, and although he was given several blood transfusions in an effort to save his life, these proved futile. Surgeons said they were unable to operate because of the seriousness of Huard's condition.

STAMP DRIVE
OPENED TODAY
IN SHERBROOKE

"Stamp out the U-Boat" made its debut in Sherbrooke today when the stamp-o-gram drive, aimed at raising $6,300 locally in war savings stamps to provide seventy depth charges, was officially launched by Mayor A. C. Ross. The new four-week campaign, which opened this morning in the twelve counties in Division Five and Six of the Eastern Townships, promises to be a real headache for one Mr. Hitler.

The stamp-o-grams will be sent to the Corvett H.M.C.S. Sherbrooke at the termination of the drive. A stamp-o-gram is a group of stamps, purchased for one dollar, which are attached to a tally sheet. The tally sheet will be sent to the men of the Corvett Sherbrooke with the names of the purchasers on each stamp-o-gram.

Mayor Ross this morning received a telegram from the Hon. J. L. Isley, which read: "Have arranged through naval services to have the following wire sent to mayors of all centres after which fighting ships have been named. I urge the citizens of Sherbrooke and district to participate to the limit of their ability in the 'stamp out U-Boat' drive being launched today. The men of the H.M.C.S. Sherbrooke are fighting the anti-submarine campaign to the limit of their ability and the knowledge that the citizens of your district are helping to supply them with ammunition through the purchase of war savings stamps will be an inspiration to them."

Stamp-o-grams in Sherbrooke will be sold in general stores, banks and by various organizations and service clubs. The campaign ends on July 31. From today to the end of the drive every war savings stamp bought will be used to buy depth charges. The Dominion goal is $1,350,000, enough to purchase 15,000 depth charges at a cost of ninety dollars apiece.

said that the City Fathers will appropriate $10,000 which will be used for the repairing of streets, sewers and sidewalks, the damage caused by the recent flood.

E.T. RESIDENTS TO ENTER ART COMPETITION

It was announced today that the Eastern Townships' Art Association is sponsoring competitions for Christmas Card and Calendar designs in color. Freedom in choice of subject is allowed but drawings sent in should measure not less than fourteen by sixteen inches and should be mounted with a three inch border.

Prizes of five and two dollars will be awarded to the two successful winners in each group and honorable mention will be given to entries of merit. Each competitor may submit three works and the competition is open to members of the Eastern Townships only.

The winning designs will be reproduced and sold for the benefit of the Red Cross Society. Besides the paintings, a photograph competition has also been arranged, and all subjects chosen should be suitable for printing as a Christmas card or calendar and should be suitably mounted. Similar awards will be given the entries in this competition and the reproductions will also be used for the benefit of the Red Cross.

A public exhibition of the prize winning and the honorable mention entries of both competitions will be held at the Art Studio in October. All those wishing to enter the contest are asked to forward their entries to the Eastern Townships' Art Association, Box 68, Lennoxville, Que.

FIREMEN ANSWER FOUR CALLS

Four calls were answered by the Municipal Fire Department during the forty-eight hour week-end period ending at seven o'clock this morning. A blazing name sign in front of the O. U. Leger store at 5 King Street West was put out before the arrival of firemen yesterday afternoon.

Firemen also put out an oil stove blaze in the kitchen at 4 Sanborn Street, a stove pipe fire at 160 Belvidere Street, and a grass fire at the Sherbrooke Vacation Colony. There was no damage.

SCHOOL BOARD
FOR NEW TERMS

Two members each were re-elected by acclamation at the annual nominations of the Sherbrooke Protestant School Board and the Sherbrooke Catholic School Board held in the City Hall this morning. Returned for another three-year term expiring in July, 1946, were F. J. Southwood and Dr. H. D. Bayne on the Protestant School Board, while former Mayor Joseph Labrecque and J. R. Simms were re-elected for similar terms on the Catholic School Board.

In view of the fact that the four candidates were unopposed, they were all returned to office by acclamation. Their terms expired on July 1.

Members of the two boards follow: Protestant School Board—James H. Wark, Chairman, and Commissioners, H. D. Bayne, Gordon Mackay, F. J. Southwood, C. L. Spafford, and George Ewing, Secretary-Treasurer.

Catholic School Board—Notary Ernest Sylvestre, Ernest Lafontaine, Edouard Boisvert, K.C., Joseph Labrecque and J. R. Simms.

TWO HURT IN
ARE IMPROVING

Emile Boulanger, thirty years old, 123-a Brooks Street, today was reported to be resting in St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he was taken after the truck in which he and Fernand Roy, also of Sherbrooke, were riding figured in a collision with a Quebec Central Railroad train carrying gravel at a level crossing in East Angus at 4:45 o'clock on Saturday morning.

Roy, aged twenty-six, who suffered slight bodily injuries and was badly shaken up, was released from the local institution last night.

Precipitation Is Very Heavy

Too much moisture is still the report from farmers in this district who have been hampered all season by the excessive rains. A check at the local Dominion Experimental Farm at Lennoxville today showed that all crops in general are suffering from the heavy precipitation.

Farmers should be haying but the wet weather makes the process slow and much of the quality of the hay is lost by leaving it stand longer than it should be. The hay crop in general was probably better than any other crop this year and farmers said that the quality was particularly high, but should the rain keep up this quality will be greatly reduced and the haying season will be seriously retarded.

Grain is far behind the mark for other years and once again the rain is blamed for the meagre growth and farmers fear that unless the ground has a chance to dry up the complete crop may rot and be lost. Corn, potatoes and all other vegetables are also behind their usual schedule and even vegetables planted on high land are suffering from the incessant soaking that they have received during the past few weeks.

The rainfall last night and today reached close to the one inch mark, it was reported at the Experimental Farm this morning and officials said that since the ground was already saturated this fall was considered heavy, but that in an average dry summer the amount of rain would be considered as medium. The rainfall for the month of June was 9.31 inches as compared with 10.34 inches for the highest monthly rainfall for twenty-nine years. This fall also exceeds last year's total by 1.40 inches. The highest rainfall for any one day during the month came on the fifteenth of June when the record of 4.08 inches was equalled.

The average temperature for the month of June was only 49 of a degree lower than the 62.96 average for the same period last year. The highest temperature for the month was 86 while the lowest was 32. The lowest temperature for the past twenty-nine years has been set at twenty-five and the highest at ninety-three.

Although more rain fell this past month than a year ago the total sunshine for the month greatly exceeded the sunshine for last year and it was also higher than the monthly average for the past twenty-nine years. A total of 211.2 hours of sunshine were recorded for this past month as compared with 173.8 for the same period last year. The highest monthly sunshine reported in the past twenty-nine years was 276.3 while the lowest monthly sunshine was recorded at 156 hours in 1922.

Officials report that the prospects for, less rain, are higher for this month, however, and if the crops are to be grown at all the rain fall must decrease otherwise crops will be washed out, rusted or rotted.

Nine-Year-Old Child Succumbed To Injuries Received When Blasting
Cap Accidentally Thrown In Stove

Leonidas Bachand, Coroner for the District of St. Francis, said today that pending further investigation by Quebec Provincial Police he will open an inquest into the death of nine-year-old Dale Moshier, of North Hatley. The lad died in Sherbrooke Hospital from injuries received by an exploding electric blasting cap which had been accidentally thrown into the kitchen stove of his home along with some chips from the woodshed on June 25. The blast shattered the stove.

Taken to Sherbrooke Hospital with his brother Galend, aged four, who was also injured in the explosion, a part of the victim's face was blown away by the blast. Several blood transfusions given the boy in hospital last week were futile. Coroner Bachand released the body on Saturday and the funeral of the victim was held from the home of W. M. Cunningham at North Hatley yesterday afternoon, with the Rev. Canon E. Roy, of Waterville, officiating. The remains are resting at Swanson's Undertaking Parlors at Waterville, pending the inquest.

Meanwhile, authorities at Sherbrooke Hospital reported today that Galend, who suffered severe shock and a serious left eye injury, is improving steadily and that his eye may not be impaired. It is expected that he will be released from the local institution the latter part of this week.

CITY BRIEFLETS

Strawberry Supper, Sand Hill, Wednesday, July 8.

St. Andrew's Auxiliary strawberry shortcake tea, City Hall, Wednesday, July 7th, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Hot dogs, hamburgers, French fries, at Armitage's until midnight.

Following the accident, the two men were given first aid treatment by Dr. J. A. Couture, of East Angus. They were removed in an ambulance to hospital in Sherbrooke, where examination showed that Boulanger had received scalp, facial and neck injuries.

The men were travelling to St. Ludger de Beauce for a load of timber in a truck of the Noel Lumber Company, of Sherbrooke, when the mishap occurred.

FOUR PERSONS
POLICE COURT

Recorder Raoul Gagne in Police Court this morning disposed of four cases as a result of week-end police activity.

A soldier was sent to jail for a month when he was convicted of committing an indecent act. He was taken into custody on Saturday night.

Charged with being drunk and disorderly, a local resident was fined $20 and costs. He pleaded guilty to the counts.

Another man was fined $10 and cost, with an alternative of fifteen days in jail, on a charge of drunkenness. In default of the fine, he was sent to serve the sentence.

On a similar charge, a local resident lost a five dollar deposit when he failed to answer the accusation.

JOHNS-MANVILLE

BANFF GUARDS

WATER SUPPLY

The fact that the picturesque town of Banff in the Rockies is nearly 5,000 feet above sea level and that winter temperature sometimes drops to fifty below zero, presented Johns-Manville engineers with an interesting insulation problem. The pipe which supplies water to the town is suspended over a river at one point and is completely exposed. The question was—how to protect that exposed section from freezing at fifty below zero. It is twenty-two years since those J-M engineers studied this problem and the proper J-M insulation was applied to the pipe line at Banff. And drinking water has flowed freely to this famous year-round vacation resort, without interruption for nearly a quarter of a century! This installation is typical of the long and dependable service which hundreds of users obtain from Johns-Manville Industrial Insulations.

SAFETY OF THE MEDITERRANEAN ROUTE

You can take the word of Lloyd's underwriters for it, it is safer for a supply ship of the United Nations to sail through the Mediterranean than to travel around Africa and the Cape of Good Hope.

The latest schedule of war risk insurance, prepared in London by a joint rating committee representing Lloyd's and the underwriters, includes rates for Mediterranean voyages for the first time since June, 1940—a sad commentary on the efficiency of Mussolini's navy now bottled up in Italian ports as a result of the North African campaign.

Striking evidence of the United Nations' sea and air command of the narrow waters between Africa and Sicily is shown in the fact that, where insurance rates are quoted for both the Cape of Good Hope and the Mediterranean routes, the latter are lower.

It was not so long ago that the Italians referred to the Mediterranean as "Mare Nostrum" and in 1938, Gen. Valle, the Fascist Undersecretary for Air, claimed Italy had enough air strength to deny sea operations there to any group of nations.

Today, not only is Italian air and sea strength insufficient to deny the Mediterranean to other nations but it is insufficient to permit Mussolini's warships to clear their own ports.

All that is left of the Italian fleet, according to the best information, is seven battleships and a few destroyers, not enough to support the big ships in major operations. Most of the fast cruisers that Mussolini built are at the bottom of the Mediterranean.

The seven Italian battleships are scattered among the ports of the Adriatic and Tyrrhenian seas, dispersed no doubt to prevent a repetition of Taranto where five Italian warships in the harbor were put out of action for months in 1940 by one prolonged attack by aircraft of the British Fleet Air Arm.

The dispersal of the battleships makes them ineffective as a fighting force. Any attempt to get them together would be a hazardous undertaking, considering the concentration of Allied submarines, warships and air power in the Strait of Messina and the Sicilian Channel.

BOMBING DAMAGE RECORDED

High over the smoking ruins of Ruhr industry Royal Air Force aircraft fly in daylight, not to wreak destruction but to record it. They are the "eyes" of the Royal Air Force, photographic reconnaissance planes.

They follow the giant bombers. And the pictures they bring back have been termed "the most terrible ever published of the destructive power of the bombing airplane."

No picture taken of London during or after the blitz days was like these photos. The shots these reconnaissance craft took of Düsseldorf, key city in Germany's great industrial valley, earned for that centre the newspaper description, "The Dead City of the Ruhr."

Composite pictures show a litter of wrecked and roofless buildings over an area of more than two square miles. Some fires still smoulder. Fires have swept through the industrial area. Block after block of buildings have been burned out, the blackened areas of devastation dotted with whitened patches where heavy high explosive bombs removed everything standing.

As reproduced in newspapers these first pictures of a four-figure bomb load on the heart of the city are frightening. As they appear under the all-seeing eye of the stereoscope, a machine that brings smashed buildings, crumpled factories, hammered railway yards and littered streets into real-life perspective, they are terrible and terrifying.

Düsseldorf absorbed more than 2,000 tons of bombs on the night of June 11/12 at a cost of forty-three British aircraft. The town still smouldered when the photographers went over it next day at 23,000 feet. Its streets, many of them, appeared lifeless.

It is the same in other Ruhr centres, Bochum, Barmen, Wuppertal. It means Hitler's arms cities in the Ruhr are crumbling away one by one, that paralysis, sown by the R. A. F. is moving inexorably over this great centre of German war production.

DR. R. J. MANION

The death of Hon. R. J. Manion removes from the Canadian parliamentary scene a man who made his mark in a number of fields of human activity—as a doctor, a soldier, an author and a parliamentary executive. Although never destined to achieve the Premiership, Dr. Manion played an important role in various Cabinet posts during the many years that he was a Member of the Canadian House of Commons.

Perhaps his most notable role in this respect was his handling of the post of Minister of Railways and Canals in the Bennett administration, when his insistent attitude on a number of issues forced a sharp curtailment in the expenditures of the Canadian National Railways, which resulted in a marked improvement in the financial position of the railway.

His record as a physician is well known, especially in his former home riding of Fort William. As a soldier, he had a splendid career in France and Flanders during the First Great War, while his books, many of them dealing with the work of Canadian doctors in the front line, provided some of the chief arguments against him when he ran as leader of the National Government party.

Following the defeat of his party and his personal setback in his own riding, he quit the political field and offered his services to the Government, occupying the post of Director of Civilian Defence at the time of his death.

PUSHING TO THE FRONT

By Grenville Kleiser

"A reasonably sound body, a fairly good mind, industriousness, tact, and an earnest desire to progress," are the qualifications for success, in the opinion of C. E. Denney, President of Northern Pacific Railway Company.

Allan C. Emery of Boston, gives this counsel: "Hard work. Great determination; that is, recognizing no obstacle as too great to be overcome in some way. Self-confidence and the ability to concentrate one's mind on definite things. Strict honesty and integrity, and, greatest of all, which I believe necessary to trust and most genuine business success is faith in God."

John R. Ainsley, also of Boston, puts it tersely: "A thorough knowledge of your work, constant application, honesty, and steadfast adherence to right principle."

Here are some further qualifications for achieving business success:

Concentration. Interest in one's business and love for it as one's life-work. This can come only from an assured faith—or, rather, knowledge—that while making money the transactions of business are mutually beneficial to the buyer and seller.

Knowledge. A careful and constant study of one's business with an ever-increasing knowledge of its needs and the needs of its customers.

Advertising. Truthful, forceful, and persistent advertising, free from even the appearance of exaggeration.

Liberality. Try always to give a little more than expected, either in quality of goods or efficiency of service.

I asked a highly successful financial man what his advice would be to young men. He said:

"Absolute honesty; tireless industry; infinite patience; carefulness and thoroughness; unflinching courtesy. Avoid speculation or resorting to get-rich-quick schemes of any kind whatever."

Of course character is of paramount importance. Men respect a strong, positive character. It is a great motive power, portrays a man at his best, and is the guiding influence of his life. It makes of him a forceful agent in his business associations and a more capable and useful man.

Determination is essential. An irresolute man is lost. The determined man overcomes obstacles that otherwise mean failure. Determination, allied with patience, spurs on to success.

Summing up, we see that the following are vital to success in business:

Honesty, courtesy, courage, truthfulness, industry, sobriety, concentration, health, insight, generosity, imagination, adaptation, and loyal co-operation.

PRESS COMMENTS

DE GAULLE SEES NAZI HAND BEHIND DISPUTE IN ALGIERS

Johannes Steel in the New York Post.

The astonishing thing about German diplomatic strategy is that it has not changed since the first German War of Aggression in 1914. In 1917, when the German General Staff was beginning to have doubts about the outcome, it decided that, since military means had failed to liquidate the second front which the Russians had maintained in support of the Allies for three years political means would have to be used.

The German generals, therefore, enabled Lenin to reach Russia via the famous sealed train which was sent hastily through Germany from Switzerland to the borders of Russia. They calculated correctly that the presence of Lenin on Russian soil would act as a catalyzing influence and bring about a revolution that would take Russia out of the war and thus liquidate Germany's second front.

In this war too, the Germans have used the principle of the "sealed train" to confound the Allies. During the last few weeks, no less than 250 ex-members of the Quai d'Orsay (French Foreign Office) and other former officials of the French Republic and Vichy France have arrived in Algiers. These men without exception were the political, diplomatic and bureaucratic organizers of the French defeat in 1940. Subsequently, of course, they became Vichystes.

Their arrival in Algiers, where they were received with open arms by Gen. Giraud, was preceded by the equally mysterious arrival there of 152 over-age Vichy French generals and 2,000 younger French officers whose political convictions range from the moderate right to the extremism of the Cagoulauds and the Royalists and whose views on military strategy and tactics have proven to be antiquated in the course of this war.

All these men could not possibly have left France without the expressed sanction of the Gestapo. They are in fact Germany's "sealed train" of 1943. This is stupid nonsense. General de Gaulle simply refuses to open the "sealed train."

He is determined to prevent this political time-bomb of Fascism from exploding later in France. He clearly sees the danger to French democracy later should these generals and bureaucrats be given important jobs now. For this would place them in strategic positions after victory and thus enable them to set up a sort of "reformed" Fascism in France for the purpose of preserving the German economic control of Europe's industrial plant, a business in which they are already junior partners.

There is evidence that this "sealed train" operation was planned long ago. As early as the 15th of September, 1942, the French underground newspaper Le Populaire reported that Petain and Hitler had only one worry and that was to find someone who could be built up against De Gaulle in the Allied camp where he would serve as a Trojan Horse of a special breed. The paper further reported that the candidate mutually agreed upon by Berlin and Vichy was General Giraud.

As for the latter's mysterious escape from the Fortress Koestgenstein, it must have been an extremely difficult acrobatic feat for an old man like Giraud who cannot walk without a cane, to lower himself some sixty feet from his prison window to the craggy rocks upon which Koestgenstein is built.

However, it may be, Giraud's presence in Africa and the arrival of the "sealed train" contingent have served Germany's political purpose. It has produced the sort of confusion the Nazis have always been able to take advantage of. Giraud and the new contingent of officers, diplomats and bureaucrats that has arrived in Africa speak for the de Gaulles, the Fontenelles and other French industrialists and financiers who are now in partnership with the German cartels. They do not want this partnership to be broken after the war and they are using the scene in Algiers to slip their puppets into strategic positions there as well as in London and Washington.

Many examples of this are available. Monsieur Peyrouton, for instance, has discreetly faded into the background. But his assistant, Monsieur de Latourville is now a member of the Giraud mission in Washington and General Giraud will no doubt try to make him a member of the new legation that will combine the de Gaulle and Giraud groups when it is set up.

This entire situation in North Africa must be projected against the simple fact that the German industrialists, knowing that Germany has lost the war militarily, are actively preparing for the kind of defeat that will not shake their economic and financial hold on Europe too much.

General de Gaulle is not only to be congratulated upon his "stubbornness" but deserves the gratitude of all those who want to see Germany aggressive, whether it be military or economic, made impossible once and for all. His unwillingness to deviate from his position and his insistence on riding French political and military life of all traitorous scum, and all the deliberate organizers of defeat, show his superb political instinct and a rationalism that many Allied statesmen and politicians lack.

That is why the French people trust de Gaulle and that is why no matter how much some people resent what they call de Gaulle's "hauteur," the French people will insist that he lead them and on one else.

WITNESSES ENTITLED TO PROTECTION OF COURT

Toronto Telegram

Considerable comment has followed the conviction and sentencing to seven days' imprisonment of a Crown Attorney at Windsor. On one hand it has been stated that the incident properly shows that no one is above the law. On the other hand the sentence has been criticized on the ground that the magistrate was more lenient than other magistrates had been where the offense was the same—that of drunk driving. In Hamilton, for instance, a woman whose husband had bumped into two parked cars was sentenced to 21 days in jail and was forbidden to drive for a year. In another Hamilton case, a man who was fortunate that he did not hit any other cars was sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Another feature of the case seems to have escaped notice, though it equally deserves comment. Counsel for the defence, himself a former Crown Attorney, attempted to ride the Crown witnesses in a manner which has been too familiar in some courts. Of one who was a member of the Ontario Voluntary Constabulary, he said that one of Constabulary's more or less dangerous commands was to have loose in the community. Magistrate Menzies promptly checked the lawyer. "I won't allow that in this court," he declared.

Defence counsel was compelled to withdraw his offensive phrase. After listening to counsel's attack on one witness after another the magistrate mildly observed, "I hope you are not making an attempt to blackball all the witnesses."

Witnesses are entitled to the protection of the court and in this case they were given it. People who come to court to assist the administration by telling what they know do so generally at considerable inconvenience to themselves. They deserve better than to be exposed to browbeating and belittling from a lawyer who imagines that his position as an officer of the court gives him that privilege. Too often the lawyers are allowed to get away with it.

FOOD SUPPLIES NOT UNLIMITED

Financial Post

It will be a miracle if food continues to be really plentiful in Canada for the duration of the war. This does not mean that we are in any danger of starvation. There is abundance of bread in sight, but the outlook for concentrated food like meat, eggs and dairy products, is by no means reassuring and we are only going to fool ourselves and store up future trouble by shutting our eyes now. The miracle that may save us would be a repetition of last year's bountiful harvest but such development from the late start this spring coupled with an acute shortage of skilled farm labor is most unlikely.

Canadian farmers and the food processing industry of this country have reason to be proud of their achievements to date. They have met a soaring domestic consumption of food plus a huge additional export of bacon, eggs and dairy products to Great Britain. They have done this despite the serious drain on manpower to the armed forces and the munitions plants. They have done it, too, despite the fact that during the early stages of the war there was little official indication of what foods would be required from Canada and what would not. As a result we lost at least one valuable season in building up reserves of coarse grains and fodder which are the essential raw materials for dairy, meat and poultry products.

This was a serious loss because in agriculture, even more than most other industries, one must plan 12 months if not several years ahead if production is to be substantially altered. Hogs, dairy cows and laying hens cannot be conjured out of thin air. They must be raised to maturity before they can produce food.

Now farmers know where they are going and what is expected of them. To meet the food goals set for this year, and it is vital for all concerned that we do meet them, we cannot afford the slightest waste. Every acre of grain and hay, for livestock feeding next winter, must be saved and to do this will require ample farm help. That help, moreover, must be on the job when needed, because any and grain does not wait. Every hour it stands after it is mature, there is loss.

In domestic distribution of food we are going to have to be frugal. Wider rationing and smaller rations of certain items may be necessary. If so, then there is nothing to be gained by postponing steps until stocks have been dissipated. That sort of thing is only encouraging the confusion, black markets and hardship.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE ALPH TOP ARMY OFFICERS ENJOY BRIDGE GAME

Many Bridge League executives are now serving Uncle Sam. First and foremost, Maj.-Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther is chief of staff of the Fifth Army under command of Lieut.-Gen. Mark W. Clark. Before leaving for overseas, General Gruenther was a member of the League's executive committee and a member of the National Laws Commission.

I received a letter recently from General Clark, telling me that he and Commander Gruenther were playing against General Eisenhower and General Gruenther, General Clark bid up to four clubs, and General Gruenther doubled. We may have to wait until the war is over to get the complete hand. I can tell you, however, that General Clark redoubled and made an overtrick, and he has been rubbing salt in the Gruenther wounds ever since.

Before the war General Gruenther was secretary of the Vanderbilt Cup Tournament. Here is an interesting hand from this year's Vanderbilt Tournament—another hand in which clubs played the important part.

"Fortify" Spaghetti With Protein Foods

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Noodles, spaghetti, macaroni and other such pleasant non-rationalized wheat foods need to be "fortified" with protein, vitamins and minerals to do a full feeding job. Combine milk, cheese, eggs, left-over meat sauce, fish or fowl with them to add to the protein.

Noodles With Frankfurter Sauce (Serves 4-6)

One 8-ounce package noodles, 1 bunch watercress, ¼ cup fat, ½ pound frankfurters, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup finely diced onion, ¼ cup finely diced celery leaves, ¼ cup diced green pepper, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 pint hot milk.

Cook the noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain and rinse with hot water. Add ¼ bunch of coarsely chopped watercress and heat for a few minutes. Meanwhile, cut frankfurters into ¼" slices. Place fat in frying pan and sauté frankfurters until slightly brown. Add onion, celery leaves, green pepper and watercress stems cut into ¼" lengths. Cook, stirring occasionally until tender. Sprinkle flour into frying pan and stir smoothly into the mixture. Add salt and pepper. Add milk gradually, about ½ at a time. After last milk is added, bring to a boil and cook for one minute, stirring constantly. Arrange hot noodles and watercress around edge of hot platter. Fill centre with frankfurter sauce. Garnish with short cut watercress.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed blackberries, cracked wheat cereal, raisin toast, butter, coffee, milk.

LUNCH: Creamed victory garden vegetables on whole wheat toast, iced melon, hot tea, milkshake.

DINNER: Scrambled eggs with brains on toast, broiled tomato halves, country fried potatoes, green salad, bread and butter, stale cake with stewed peaches, tea, milk.

Baked Eggs on Spaghetti (Serves 5)

One and one-half cups broken spaghetti, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups milk, 1½ cups shredded American cheese, salt, pepper, 5 eggs, soft bread crumbs.

Cook the spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender; drain well. Make cream sauce with the butter, the flour and milk. Add 1½ cups of the shredded cheese and stir until it is melted; season to taste. Add the spaghetti, and pour into a shallow baking dish or platter. Make five depressions in the mixture and break an egg into each. Sprinkle crumbs around the edge of the dish, and place it in a very moderate oven (315° F.) until the eggs are done and the crumbs lightly browned. Sprinkle the remaining cheese on the centre of each egg, and return to oven just long enough to melt the cheese. Serve with sliced garden tomatoes sprinkled with chopped scallions, green peppers and celery.

Try Combining Bath Powder and Cosmetic Scents

JANE WYMAN: teams scents.

BY ALICIA HART

This summer when temperatures rise and sweat glands work a 24-hour shift, don't run the risk of offending others about you. Besides using an anti-perspirant, keep yourself sweet and fresh with a light perfume too. And you'll find that the scent lingers on and on if you use bath powder and cosmetics of the same odor, as does Warner's pretty and feminine star Jane Wyman.

Ensembles of scents are the most economical way to buy your bath salts, dusting and face powder and perfume. For one enhances the odor of the other and counteracts it, as is the case when several bouquets are mixed.

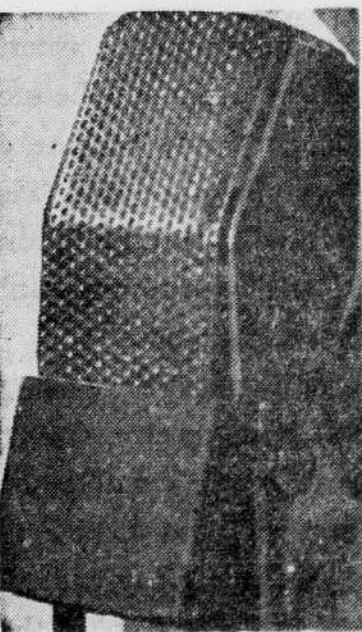

And here's a tip Jane says will often save you money. Before buying a new perfume and accompanying cosmetics, test the scent for its lasting qualities. A perfume which may linger for hours on one woman, sometimes fades away completely from you in a very short time.

EAST ANGUS

Mrs. F. S. Parsons, of North Bay, Ont., has received word that her son, Lt. F. W. Parsons, has arrived safely somewhere in England. Lt. Parsons was born and went to school in East Angus.

Overcome Shyness and Be a Public Speaker

SPEAK ON THE RADIO

Have you always wanted to be a radio personality? Is this your secret ambition? You must have a good voice of course, and above all you must be able to speak in public.

Do you tremble at the thought of standing up and making a speech, or even a little talk in front of people? You must overcome this feeling if you want to succeed as a speaker, either in public or over the radio.

So many people get stage-fright at the sight of an audience waiting to hear them. Others lose courage when they get in front of a microphone.

No need to be in the background! Practice will soon give you the confidence and self-reliance you need to appear before people.

Our 32-page booklet will help you to make a friend of your voice, to develop it and put your character in it. The booklet tells you how to make your audience like you as well as how to prepare and deliver your speech.

If you're toastmaster at a function, don't worry about it—read our booklet with instructions. Parliamentary order is also included.

Send 15 cents in coins for your copy of Public Speaking Self Taught to Sherbrooke Record, Home Service, Sherbrooke, Que. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and the name of booklet.

News Items From Waterloo

Officers and members of Waterloo Lodge, No. 12, I.O.O.F., worshipped in a corporate body in St. Paul's United Church. The service was conducted by the Rev. H. E. Parsons, Minister of the Church, who addressed the large congregation on the subject, "The Beloved Community," taking for his text, "For he looked for a city, which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God" and "But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly one; wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a city." During the service, the choir, with Miss Graves at the organ, rendered three hymns, "Unto the Hills," "Come Let Us To Our Lord Our God" and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and "He Knows, He Cares, He Loves," and an anthem.

The annual event held each June under the auspices of St. Luke's Young Women's Guild, was a pronounced social and financial success. The officers and members were cheered by the support of a large number of friends. The table of hand-made and useful articles, which was conveyed by Mrs. Donald Martin, Mrs. Nelson Langevin and Mrs. Basiner, was the focal centre of interest as long as anything remained unsold. Later afternoon tea was served by the members who had artistically arranged the hall with quantities of spring flowers. Tea was poured by Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Hunter. The gratifying sum of forty-three dollars was realized from the sale and tea. Immediately after the serving of refreshments a business meeting was convened by the President, Mrs. Albert Dix, when it was decided to donate twenty-five dollars towards reducing a small church debt and the same amount towards the budget.

In the Corpus Christi procession from St. Bernardin Church, the entire parish was so well represented that the estimated number taking part was easily two thousand souls. The Host was carried by the Rev. Father Ernest Messier, Cure of the parish. The various organizations of the Church were all represented, each group being led by officers carrying special emblems. The procession left the church at eleven a.m., proceeded up Main Street to Foster Square, thence to Maplewood Convent, where arrangements had been completed for holding an impressive religious ceremonial service. Following a short stay there, the procession wended its way down Clark Hill to Court Street and back to the church. Weather conditions were ideal for the event and the various places of business and private grounds on the route were decorated.

The local Red Cross executive desires to announce that an abundant supply of wool has been received and knitters are requested to procure their supply so that these essential articles may be well maintained.

A Free YEAR OF UNIVERSITY for 1270 young men from 17 to 22

Open to civilians and serving-soldiers who can qualify

THE Canadian Army University Course Number Two is now available to young men from 17 to 22 who have completed university entrance requirements and who are medically fit. The course embraces Physics, Mathematics and Engineering. At the completion of University Course and Military Training, the successful candidates may become eligible for training as officers. The University will grant credits to successful candidates toward University degrees later on.

While taking the course, candidates will receive free tuition, board, lodging and text books. They will also receive standard rates of Army pay and their dependents will receive the same allowance as those of other serving-soldiers. Free dental and medical care will also be available. Volunteers under 17 years and 6 months must have the written consent of their parents.

Serving-soldiers who are not older than 22 on the first day of August, 1943, and who have completed University entrance requirements must make application to their Officer Commanding.

Civilians who are not younger than 17 and not older than 22 on the first day of August, 1943, and who have University entrance requirements, must fill out and mail the coupon below to the Registrar of the University concerned. A request for further details does not commit you to enlistment.

Takes Fifth Game As East Ward Reports Win

Boissonneault's Chimney Sweeps took their fifth straight game of the season yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Notre Dame squad 4-1 in their second encounter of the season. In the other end of the double-header played, the East Ward team came through for the first time this season, defeating the Mount Pleasant Club 8-7.

After their fifth in a row the Boissonneault players now feel quite confident that they will be able to go through the remainder of the season without much worry as to the outcome, and yesterday's game was much more assuring than any of the others. In the game between the East Ward and the Mount Pleasant Club the tide turned just as was expected and the East Ward team who have been doing a good job of holding down the cellar position have started their upward climb and there is more reason than one to believe that they will line up very near the top by the time the playoffs were around.

Notre Dame scored the first point in yesterday's game when one run was knocked in in the first inning and no further scoring was done until the third when Boissonneault took their first two runs to move into the lead 2-1. The other two Boissonneault points came in the fifth and the seventh.

In the other game the East Ward accounted for a point in the first but did not score again until the ninth when they brought in all their other runs to take the game by the narrow margin of one point. In the first four innings of the game it looked as if the Mount Pleasant Club really had the game on the line because their two runs in the second, third and fourth and one in the fourth made the chances of the East Ward club look very slim and the three hundred people who attended the game felt that the line team would still hold down the lower berth, but a series of errors on the part of the Mount Pleasant Club in the last few minutes of the game gave the bottle collectors an opening and they were by no means slow at taking advantage.

The following is the summary of the two games played at the Park Avenue Stadium yesterday afternoon.

GOOD RACE CARD FEATURES LOCAL ARMY FESTIVAL

Commanding more than usual interest in the inaugural meet of the present season, three fast trotting events were run off on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds, as a feature of the military festival. Under the direction of Norrey Price, the various starters provided great interest, especially due to the fact that several of the horses were just being readied for the summer track season.

Two heats were staged in each event, with the following results:

Colt Race

King Sherbrooke (C. E. Coombs)..... 1 1

Kid Martindale (Beau-doin)..... 2 2

Eva McElwyn (Perrault)..... 3 3

Officiating in the judges' stand were the well known race officials, O. M. J. Ingalls, starter, and E. E. Spafford and Dr. Romeo Veilleux, timers.

OUTSIDERS ARE BET FAVORITES

Boston, July 5.—(AP)—The Green-tree Stable's Shut Out and Lou Tufano's Market Wise hailed as possible winners of today's ninth running of the $50,000 added Massachusetts Handicap—riches stake of the New England turf season—may be the favorites to go to Suffolk Downs and bet against the favorites.

Today's race, as in the past, may be a field day for the longshot punters. Patrons remember that only two favorites ever have won the famous handicap—Sea-biscuit in 1937 and Whirlaway last year—and that both paid off at one dollar per dollar.

Shut Out and Market Wise go to the post at 5:30 this afternoon equally weighted at 125 pounds and heading a field of ten. It is expected the holiday throng will surpass 40,000 and send more than $1,000,000 through the mutuel machines.

Other in the field are Attention, Don Bingo, Abbe Pierre, Firebrand, Kansas, and A.B. Plock's Woodford Lard.

Three Base Hit

Jersey City Offered Chief Show In International Loop

By The Associated Press

Six clubs in the International League spent some as well as soggy July Fourth while the lowly Jersey Giants went slightly insane and battered out a pair of victories over the second-place Newark Bears.

The two defeats pulled the Bears to within half a game of third-place Montreal Royals, one of the six teams that spent an idle holiday because the weatherman was not cooperative.

Not only did the Little Giants defeat the Bears but they combined good pitching with lousy hitting for the twin triumphs, 4-2 and 11-7.

In the first game, Ken Trinkle had a one-hitter up to the seventh when the Bears scored both their tallies on singles by Ed Levy and Don Savage plus a triple by Larry Rosenthal after two were out.

The nightcap was entirely different. Bill Voiselle started for Gabby Hartnett's crew and in the fourth he was out in first by 9-0 before the Bears produced a four-run rally of their own that sent him to the showers.

Newark kept right on rolling in the fifth and actually had the winning run at bat with one out in the sixth before the veteran Bill Hartnett shut the door.

Although Toronto Maple Leafs, still the league leaders, were idle they broke into the news columns by sending Ralph McCabe, young pitcher last year with Wilkes-Barre, and Sid Goldstein, also a hurler, to Albany of the Eastern League.
