Westmount Park-Emmanuel Church Welcomes Rev. Dr. H. B. Campbell

Rev. Dr. Harvey B. Campbell, formerly minister of Emmanuel United Church before its recent amalgamation with Westmount Park Church, was formally inducted as minister of the merged Westmount Park-Emmanuel congregation at a special ceremony conducted by members of the Montreal Presbytery in the church on Wednesday of last week.

The induction was performed by Rev. G. Campbell Wadsworth, minister of Montreal West Church and chairman of the Presbytery, who presided. Rev. R. DeWitt Scott, secretary of the presbytery read the scripture lesson and Rev. J. S. Nickerson, minister of Westminster Central Church, said the prayer. The sermon was given by Rev. D. M. Grant, minister of St. Andrew's Church, Westmount, and Rev. George W. Goth, former minister of Westmount Park Church for the past six years, recited the steps leading to the induction.

Rev. Goth's Farewell Sermon

Mr. Goth preached his farewell sermon as minister of the church at the morning service a week ago last Sunday. He leaves Westmount Park Church to be inducted as minister of The Metropolitan United Church, London, Ont., early in September.

Following the induction ceremony, a reception for Dr. and Mrs. Campbell, attended by several hundred people, was held in Webster Hall. After some musical selections, Dr. and Mrs. Campbell were introduced by George W. Rowell, formerly Secretary of the Church Board of Emmanuel Church, and were welcomed by Mr. Chesbrough, Clerk of Session. Dr. Campbell in turn, introduced Wm. Duff, Lay Associate of the amalgamated congregation. Mrs. Campbell spoke briefly.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, refreshments were served. The congregation of Westmount Park-Emmanuel Church will unite in worship with the congregation of St. Andrew's Church at the latter, during July and August, and will resume services in its own building on the second Sunday in August, when both morning and evening services will be broadcast.

Bicycle Collides With Automobile On Atwater Ave.

Injured when his bicycle piled up against an automobile at Atwater Avenue and Selby Street, late Thursday afternoon, Wilfred Giard, 18, of Montreal, was conveyed to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital in a Montreal Radio Police Car. He was found to have suffered a severe shaking up and several bruises and was released after receiving First Aid.

Giard was bicycling down Atwater Avenue, and as he approached the Selby Street intersection, he passed an automobile going in the same direction. The car stopped suddenly to let an automobile, driving eastward out of Selby St., enter Atwater Avenue and the bicycle struck the second car.

The bicycle sustained a damaged front wheel and tire, bent frame, pedals and handlebars.

Westmount Rotary Club Holds Its Annual Meeting

This week's luncheon of the Rotary Club of Westmount marked the end of another Rotary Club year, which ended on Wednesday. As it was the occasion of the Annual Meeting, retiring president W. F. "Bud" Close, briefly addressed the members before going into the annual report. He pointed out that during his tenure of office in the past year, the club in general had aimed at five chief objectives: increased membership; to see that the members were fully informed as to the activities of the club; to promote greater fellowship; to increase the efficiency of the club by holding more committee meetings, and to make this year's carnival the best in the history of the club. He added that efforts toward these objectives were successful.

Following this, the secretary's report was read by Stan Neilson, who is retiring from the position of club secretary, which he has held for the past two years. The report stated that the club lost three members through retirement during the past year, but had increased its strength by 14 new members. The financial report, which proved to be very satisfactory and was superbly turned out, was read to the members, on behalf of Rotarian Dan. McL. Brophy, by Rotarian J. A. DeLalanne. Mr. Brophy, who has been treasurer of the club since its inception, celebrated his 85th birthday, and was honoured by the members of the club by a presentation of a fine pipe and a large birthday cake.

This was followed by reports of various club committees, read by president Close, after which he addressed the members, thanking them for their real and effective co-operation during this year as president. He turned the chair over to incoming president Don Ross, who called on past-president P. E. Jarman to present the past-president's button to Mr. Close. Past-president Doug McKean then concluded the meeting by presenting Mr. Close with an engraved silver salver on behalf of the club.

Delegates Attend Inter-Y.M.C.A. Young Adult Meet

Four delegates from the Westmount Y.M.C.A. attended a Young Adult Program Conference of the Montreal Y.M.C.A. held at Camp Otoreke from June 25 to 27. The chief aim of the Conference was to review the past season's activities and to plan for the future. The experience which the delegates had over the week-end should prove invaluable to the future program of the Young Adult Section of the Westmount Y. M. C. A.

Jim Kennedy, 4151 Dorchester St. W., acted as chairman of the Promotion Committee of the Conference which numbered 77 delegates from all parts of the Montreal Area. He has been appointed to represent the Westmount Y. M. C. A. on a City-wide Y. M. C. A. Citizenship Promotion Committee. Johnny Johnson of Sherbrooke St. W., capably represented the Branch on the Program Planning Committee of the Conference, but was unable to attend the Conference. Gordon Clarke, Young Adult Program Secretary, acted as a Discussion Leader of the session on "The Y. M. C. A. in Today's World" — the address being made by J. W. Westmount's Child Health Centre Is Formally Opened Westmount's new and long-anticipated Child Health Centre, situated in a former administration building of the Royal Canadian Engineers, at the Westmount Athletic Grounds, was formally opened on Tuesday afternoon, in a ceremony attended by representatives of various civic and health bodies, by Alderman G. L. Fowler, Commissioner of Health and Public Welfare.

In a brief address to the gathering, Alderman Fowler stated that a baby clinic in Westmount had been an objective for some time. He added that during the past few years, under the direction of Dr. J. J. Day, Medical Health Officer for the City of Westmount, the Health Department's facilities and services have been considerably extended. However, there are still added improvements to be provided, to keep pace with modern health requirements. These problems are presently being given serious consideration.

Mr. Fowler recalled the opening of the Chest X-Ray Clinic a short time ago, adding that much more has to be done to combat the spread of TB in Westmount. Owing to lack of adequate space, the Health Department has been handicapped in some of its endeavours, he said, and has established the Child Health Centre in its present temporary quarters. He concluded by stating his belief in the valuable service the clinic will render to our citizens, and formally declared the Child Health Centre open.

Dr. Day then spoke briefly to the gathering. About 350 babies per year are born in Westmount, he stated, and that the objective of the Health Department is to provide an adequate organized program of care in infant welfare in Westmount. He contrasted conditions some 50 years ago with the present, pointing out that larger families were the rule in past years, but that due to lack of pasteurized milk and without the benefit of modern, organized medical science and facilities, the mortality rate among young children in those early days was very high. A future aim of the Child Health Centre, he added, is to establish a child health study group.

Weredale Summer Camp Active Now School's Over

Once again the Weredale Park area has taken on a more-than-usual tranquil air, with the happy shouts of youngsters from Weredale House silenced for the Summer, but this is not an occasion of gloom, for these happy voices have been replaced by much happier notes in the same youngsters at Camp Weredale, located at Lake l'Achigan, some 14 miles from Shawbridge, Que.

Weredale House is one of six Red Feather Services of Welfare Federation which operates summer camps in the Laurentian Mts. Some 100 youngsters moved into Camp Weredale on Monday, and this number will be increased from time to time as working boys in residence at the House get their summer vacations and join in the camp life. Camp Weredale will be supervised by Vernon G. McAdam, executive secretary at Weredale.

The Montreal Boys' Association got a head start on all other Red Feather Services, by opening its summer camp near St. Adolphe de Howard last Saturday, moving in a party of more than 200 boys. A second period at Camp Lewis will begin July 10, with later trips providing for holiday vacations of more than 600 boys. Boys from eight to 14 years are invited to apply for a camp vacation at the Association's office, 1421 Atwater avenue. Most of the campers are in Camp Lewis for a two-week stay, but some will be there for longer periods, depending on the need. Harold E. Betts, assistant executive director of the Red Feather Service, will supervise Camp Lewis operations this year.

The Young Women's Christian Association site near Ste. Marguerite, Que., came to life on Monday, with Miss Diana Cumner in charge of Camp Oolahwan. Miss Cumner will be assisted by a staff of 35, including circle directors, special craft instructors, counselors and counsellors-in-training. Registration has been very good, and the camp is almost booked to capacity.

Camp Carowanis, near Ste. Agathe, the Summer home for children in residence at Summerhill House of the Ladies Benevolent and Protestant Orphans Society, opened on Tuesday under the direction of Miss Margaret McCallum, executive superintendent. This camp will remain open until the girls return to the Summerhill avenue residence for school opening in September. This Red Feather Service also operates Camp Amy Molson near Glenville, Que., for boys and girls from six to 10 years. This camp opened today under the direction of W. D. McVie, but is already booked to capacity. Efforts will be made to extend accommodation from 50 to 60 to provide space for many youngsters who otherwise would be unable to get to camp.

University Settlement began operations at Lake Hershey on Wednesday, with the first month being set aside for boys. The younger lads have been allotted the first two weeks, but because of the heavy registration, many of these youngsters will have to wait until the second period and go up with the older boys.

CYCLIST INJURED IN TRUCK COLLISION

Herbert M. Davidson received treatment for a deep gash in his left thigh and a cut on his forehead after the bicycle, which he was riding, had collided with a parked truck on Upper Lachine Road. Treatment was at the Homoeopathic Hospital and was administered by Dr. Stein, who then permitted the victim to return home.

The 24-year old lad, who lives at 345 Grosvenor Avenue, Westmount, collided with a truck owned by Camille Mongeau, 6790 Upper Lachine Road, on Sunday afternoon at 2:35. Mongeau's truck was parked outside his home at the time of accident, which was investigated and reported by Constables Trudel and Toupin.

Y.M.C.A. World Service In Action

RUSSIA

Though there are still no YMCA'S inside the Soviet Union, thousands of Russians were helped by the Y this year in western Europe. A rest centre, set up in the old Russian Mission at Noisy-le-Grand, brought back health and peace of mind to teachers, artists and social workers suffering from war neuroses. Five summer camps in France and three in Germany gave fun to hundreds of children from DP families. And CARE packages were passed out to those suffering from malnutrition.

The Y-sponsored Russian student Christian Movement, now 100 strong, this year added a choir and a kindergarten to its activities and ran a heavy schedule of meetings and discussions. Last winter, despite short food rations and freezing temperatures, 30 of the students went camping in the mountains near Grenoble.

The Russian YMCA Press in Paris has hit the 300 mark in the number of titles pumped into a book-hungry Slavic public. Besides its standard output of Russian classics, the Press now has in preparation a comprehensive set of modern materials on religious education for Orthodox youth. Last year, for the first time in its history the YMCA Press sent books into Russia — 1000 volumes to the Patriarch of Moscow for use in the three theological academies and ten seminars there.

The Russian Orthodox Theological Institute in Paris, checking up on its graduates, found 149 of them serving as priests, missionaries, teachers and social workers in Europe, India and South America. Applications for the evening courses at the Institute continue to pile up, with Serbs, Rumanians, Latvians, and Estonians joining the Russian students.

Primary textiles are now produced in 200 cities and towns throughout Canada.

OPPOSED OUTLOOKS ON LIFE

Whether we have one world or two worlds is immaterial to the average man and woman — what is important is, that we have a world in which we can live in peace, writes Mr. Bernard Rose.

If the peace is to be made by a unilateral totalitarian state, or we are to continue to have our beings as democratic citizens, free to speak, free to organize, free to seek opportunity to improve our economic position, free to worship as we see fit, I think it can be taken as a foregone conclusion that we prefer democracy, to the totalitarianism advocated by obsessed champions of the Right or the Left.

It has been clearly and convincingly demonstrated within the last decade (and from all the evidence we have at hand), that the totalitarian despots view with no favour the prospect of the world becoming more, rather than less, democratic.

One cannot blame a people or nation for choosing the form of government which appeals to it, but what every lover of freedom does strenuously object to, and will fight to the limit, is being dragooned into accepting a form of government and supervision that is not only an ever-present threat, but reduces him to a mere cypher. The people in Sweden are as intelligent and economically advanced as those of our own and other democratic countries. They are progressive along social and educational lines and from all accounts would certainly not relish becoming a satellite of a power which seeks to shape the mind of its citizens educationally and politically along set lines.

It is a truism that "men cannot live by bread alone", but the bread we eat, which we can purchase in any store we wish to patronize, and without belonging to a particular economic class, is far sweeter than that which the misled peoples were given in Hitler's Germany and Mussolini's Italy. We may talk as we please, but the Western and Asiatic outlook on life and appreciation of democratic institutions are diametrically opposite.

Czarism was opposed to the political, educational, and economic emancipation of the masses. The small and select group that ruled Russia in the days of Czarism employed agents of the state to spy upon, arrest, convict, hang, and exile those they regarded as a menace to the welfare of the controlling element. Totalitarian states are dominated by oligarchies, and, notwithstanding all that may be said about equality, distinctions are made since those who belong to particular classes are better paid, better fed, better clothed, better housed and looked upon as important citizens.

Where a state is dominated by the privileged few, there is little likelihood they will permit the population to enjoy the rights and privileges that distinguish the democratic from the totalitarian regime.

The workers, either as individuals or members of organizations in Great Britain, the United States, and Canada have made splendid progress in every direction, within the last two decades. They are now a power in the land. They can choose their rulers and depose them freely, without fear, whenever they deem it to the general advantage.

One world is a magnificent conception; to translate it into fact depends upon the willing and sincere co-operation of the leaders who can act and speak for their respective peoples. One world will only come into existence when information will be available without censorship to the peoples living in every country. Until such time as the prospect of one world is within the bounds of possibility, the democratic nations in Europe and the Western hemisphere can co-operate and demonstrate that a freely elected and democratically administered state is far superior to any form of totalitarianism. Eternal vigilance will ever be the price of political, religious, cultural, economic, and social liberty.

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Well, Camp Tamaracouta is open once again, this time for the 1948 summer camping season . . . and with well over three hundred boys and scouters in attendance for the first period . . . in fact, including the staff, the total will likely reach three hundred and fifty . . . this is fifty above the three hundred maximum set by the Camp Committee for any of the four periods . . . but that's something that can't be helped. Have you ever travelled to camp? . . . Well, it's quite an experience . . . everyone gathers down at the Central Terminal of the Provincial Transport Company . . . and the buses are supposed to leave . . . in theory, at any rate . . . at eight a.m. . . they never have yet, to our knowledge . . . anyway, somewhere between 8.15 and 8.45, after all the Scouts and baggage have been loaded on, the dispatcher gives the O.K., and the boys give him a cheer . . . the journey to camp is on.

After a slow twenty minutes through Montreal's disgraceful traffic, the busses finally reach Decarie Blvd . . . and pick up some speed . . . soon we're well out into the country . . . and the boys are shouting, giving their Troop yells, waving at everyone they pass on the road . . . and they're eagerly watching their progress northward at the same time . . . it's the first time away from home for many . . . first time to camp for many more . . . and it's quite an experience . . . we pass through Cartierville, Ste Rose, St. Janvier, by-pass Ste. Therese, and we're still humming right along . . . now some of the boys are getting a little thirsty and hungry too . . . a chronic state with most . . . ask any mother . . . so, the bus drivers pick out a handy roadside restaurant . . . and the boys go in and get some refreshment while the drivers get some relief . . . and then we're on the way again.

By this time, we're mighty near St. Jerome . . . and pretty soon we're rolling through this gateway to the Laurentians . . . here we lose the good roads and turn off on a smaller road . . . fourteen miles to go . . . the first half mile is paved . . . as far as the cemetery . . . and then it's a good old-fashioned dirt road from here in . . . the busses start labouring up the hills . . . and we do mean labouring, too . . . more than once in past years, the boys have had to get out and help push a particularly old bus up a particularly bad hill . . . and there's two or three very bad ones . . . and so we keep climbing all the time . . . gra-

then

You, my huge stomach fed.

But then you called my mistress, And I felt very sad. I didn't want to leave you, And I knew that I'd been bad.

And then my mistress showed me, In the paper was my name, And so, through my adventure, I'd climbed to doggy-fame.

And now I'd like to thank you, Before I take a nap, For all your kindness to me, Woof - woof, your loving "Cap".

dually getting nearer camp . . . and an undercurrent of excitement starts creeping through everyone . . . even the oldest Scouter can feel it although he may not admit it.

Then, we cross a small bridge, which is located at Strong's Mill . . . and some young second year camper shouts . . . "It's just another half mile now!" . . . excitement rises to fever pitch . . . and then, a yell goes up as the busses round a bend in the road . . . and everyone yells, "We're here!" . . . what a disappointment for the first year campers . . . all they can see is the camp station wagon and the camp truck, parked beside two barns . . . and a few members of the camp staff there to direct the busses to parking positions . . . you see, the busses only go as far as Maxwell's Corner, which is two miles from camp . . . the road is too bad to permit them to go any further . . . so they claim . . . and now the baggage is unloaded from the busses into the camp truck while the Trader checks on the number of arrivals.

The younger lads are none too keen about a two-mile hike . . . although some of them are so enthusiastic they set off on the run . . . but they soon are cured of that . . . and now, picture yourself as sitting in camp awaiting the campers . . . about half an hour or so after the truck left to meet them, we see a few lone stragglers coming up over the hill . . . these are the speedsters . . . probably from the first bus load, too . . . they all head for Headquarters where the truck will come to unload their baggage . . . and as they gradually come in . . . as they will do for the next hour now . . . the boys on the staff give them the once over out of curiosity . . . and many such remarks are heard such as "Gee, look at that squirt . . . don't tell me he's twelve years old" and so on . . . and still the boys pour in . . . and now, here's the truck with the first load of luggage . . . they leave it all at HQ and the boys start looking for theirs . . . and those who have to wait for the second load are none too pleased . . . and then everyone has their kit and all are headed for their individual camp sites . . . and another year or period of camping at Tamaracouta has begun.

Next week, gentle readers, we will tell you more of the Troops in camp this period. Until then, adios!

Letter TO THE Editor

Dear Sir:

On the morning of Tuesday, June 15, you very kindly rescued and returned my big Great Pyrenees dog, "Cappy".

To thank you and all the people on your staff who took such an interest in him, I wrote the enclosed poem for "Cappy".

Although he enjoyed his visit very much, he has since stayed at home and has not since tried to stray.

Yours truly,

(Miss) Marlon van der Walde

My name is Lenmor's Captain, I am a dog, you see. I am a pure, extremely large, All-white Great Pyrenees.

One morning I got kennel-sick, And thought I'd run away. I broke my leash and trotted off; It was a lovely day.

But it was hot and soon my throat With thirst was burning up. Your offices looked friendly, So I thought I'd stop to try.

You gave me water for my thirst, You patted my big head. You spoke kind words to me, and

Quebec Safety League Warns Against Fatigue

If you are planning a trip over the Dominion Day week end, be especially careful at the start and near the end of your journey. According to the Province of Quebec Safety League, the records indicate that many traffic mishaps occur within twenty-five miles of the start or the end of a journey.

The Safety League said it was likely that haste is an important factor in many of these mishaps. Folks are anxious to get on their way, they are delayed by one thing or another beyond the time they planned to start. So when they do get going they try to make up for lost time, and drive faster than is safe for the conditions.

As they near the end of the trip, fatigue seems to be important. Too many drivers try to cover too great a distance in one stretch, it is a good plan to break the trip at least every two hours and spend about ten minutes outside the car to get the kinks out of muscles and stir up the circulation by walking about. The tiredness frequently leads to haste to get to the destination, to get out of the car and relax. If the trip is long enough that the last part of it must be travelled in the dark, the hazard is doubled. A large number of accidents near twilight may be the result of hurry to arrive before nightfall. Be particularly careful after dark. Even with the best headlights one can not see well enough to drive safely above forty-five miles an hour.

The Province of Quebec Safety League estimates there will be far too many fatal accidents over the Holiday period, with the bulk of them occurring on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Of course the most of them will come on Sunday afternoon, when folks start hurrying to wind up activities and get home.

Most of the deaths will come in traffic although the week-end will probably show a large number of drownings. This is the first chance for an outing at many water resorts. The water is cold, and anyone who is in it intentionally, or otherwise, will need to be a good swimmer to stay out of trouble. Boaters should be especially careful to avoid upsets, for, unless the weather is much warmer than we have had, they will need quite a few clothes, which when water-soaked will handicap even a good swimmer. Be sure your boat is sea-worthy, that it has a life preserver and that it is not overcrowded.

"On this holiday week-end, take it easy in every way" than your outing will be entirely pleasant.

Red Cross Activities Outlined In Latest Issue Of Quarterly

The latest issue of the multi-lingual quarterly, "Red Cross World", published in Geneva, Switzerland, devotes several pages to the expansion of peacetime work of the Canadian Red Cross in Canada.

The publication says that the American Red Cross and the Red Cross of several other nations have looked to the Canadian Red Cross and to the Dutch Red Cross for pointers on the organization of nation-wide systems of free blood transfusion.

The annual campaign posters of dozens of nations were collected by the League of Red Cross Societies, which publishes the quarterly, and of the nine chosen for reproduction, the Canadian and the United States posters are shown in central place. An article devoted to the history of Red Cross in Canada recalls that Chief Army Surgeon M. G. Sterling Ryerson was first to fly the famous emblem in this country. He personally sewed a red cross on a white background and flew it to protect his medical activities during the Riel Rebellion, in

Christian Science

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Exodus 20: 2, 3 "I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved. God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God." (Psalms 62: 5, 6, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"We lose the high signification of omnipotence, when after admitting that God, or good, is omnipresent and has all-power, we still believe there is another power, named evil. Evil is a negation, because it is the absence of truth. It is nothing, because it is the absence of something. There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God." (Pages 469, 186 and 228).

PATRIOTISM

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor, Rector of Trinity Memorial Church.

We might define patriotism as devotion to our country; not simply to its soil or to its race, but to the whole heritage of culture, literature, religion and politics upon which we have entered. In some cases that inheritance is comparatively simple and homogeneous, but in our case in the Dominion of Canada, it is anything but simple. We have two major cultures and a great many minor ones; we have two major forms of Christianity; we have two great and ancient literatures and political traditions that vary more deeply than most of us realize. There was a time in history when such varieties might have been welded into one common culture. It is our task to build up through our diverse inheritance the common loyalty that will make a single nation.

We do not look only to the past as we consider our inheritance. When a son inherits from his father he does not simply live upon his patrimony. Out of loyalty to his father and his father's work and ideas, he seeks to increase the inheritance. So we do not live entirely in the past; we develop our inheritance in order that we may make it richer and better to hand on to our children. For our inheritance is not a dead thing like money or material possessions, but a living thing. Perhaps a farm is a useful analogy.

A son inherits his father's farm not as so many acres of soil but as so many acres of living, growing things which he is in honour bound to improve to the best of his ability that he may leave a richer farm to his son. And yet the farm in itself is not a very good comparison because the son might take over a dairy farm and change its character straightway and make it into a fruit farm. Our cultural, religious and political inheritance cannot be dealt with in that way. It is not something to be violently changed, but lovingly studied and understood, corrected if necessary, developed along its natural lines, but handed on to the next generation with its charter unimpaired.

Our inheritance comes to us from the Celtic, Anglo-Saxon, Norman tradition, with a few ideas and influences from other traditions. If we are to be loyal to that inheritance we shall keep it in its essentials as it is, Christian, democratic, with culture and literature deeply based on Anglo-Saxon and Gallic foundations.

There are few of us who do not criticize our country at various points in its social, political and economic life. Some of us feel that progress in these parts of our inheritance is extremely slow. Some tend to go farther and look abroad. In 1938 and 1939 there was a very distinct movement to imitate Nazism and Fascism because they seemed to be so efficient. Today, others would like to imitate Russia and adopt Communist politics and methods because those methods appear to be of value to some classes in the community. A few would like to take pattern from oriental countries.

In any case distant fields tend to appear more attractive than our own. But the essential mistake in the wholesale adoption of ideas that have grown up in other cultural traditions is that they could not be introduced in any general way into our tradition without changing its character completely. If we were to adopt Fascism or Communism as political and social cultures in this country it would be at the cost of cutting ourselves off completely from our natural roots and any living organism cut off from its historic life is bound to suffer intensely in the process.

Patriotism will not consist in overturning the things that we have inherited, whether they be cultural, religious, social, political or economic, but rather in developing the tradition, correcting it where necessary, checking it in certain directions and encouraging it in others, until we have handed on to the next generation something that is in some degree better than the past but still is essentially the same.

Budget-Making Is Subject Of Talk By Hon. D. C. Abbott

At a luncheon on board the S. S. St. Lawrence tendered to the members of the Montreal Branch of the Women's Press Club by Canada Steamship Lines Limited on Saturday, Finance Minister, Hon. Douglas C. Abbott, the guest speaker, told of the preparations involved in presenting a national budget. Contrary to popular conception, the making of a budget is a continuous process. First consideration, said Mr. Abbott, in his informal speech, was what the overall budget policy was to be in the coming year. After various departments sent in their estimates, these usually were subjected to some trimming down, and in cabinet, shortly before the proposals were brought down, there might be some modifications made. The general public, said Mr. Abbott, had little idea of the intricacy of the work of preparing a budget, and tremendous numbers of requests and suggestions from various business groups and others who had recommendations to make on tax changes, kept government workers busy the year round, particularly before presentation of the budget.

Helen Murphy, president of the Montreal Branch of the C.W.P.C., presided. Campbell Carroll welcomed the press women on behalf of Canada Steamship Lines, Glen Gilbert introduced Mr. Abbott, and Mrs. Murphy thanked him.

Goon Shoes Built To Happify Feet

Borrowing ideas from hydraulic engineering and physics, a New Yorker has designed a shoe of leather, latex and treated fabric which is guaranteed to bring relief to aching feet. In addition to its other features the "Goon Shoe", as some people call it, is grounded with metallic thread to carry off static electricity.

But clumsy appearance does not bother the designer of the "Goon Shoe". Nature, he says, intended us to walk on sand but we have paved the world with tile and concrete. My shoe is a synthesis of what nature intended as our natural environment.

The pistol was invented by Carmine Vitelli, of Pistola, Italy, and derived its name from the town.

Many Showers Honour Miss Patricia Fisher

Among those who entertained recently for Miss Patricia Fisher, whose marriage to Mr. Ronald Glen is taking place tomorrow, in Trinity Memorial Church, were: Mrs. F. Benjamin and Mrs. L. Lavell, who were hostesses at a social evening, when the guest of honour was presented with a dinner set. Mrs. C. J. Orr, Miss Ruth Orr, and Mrs. H. Glen gave a miscellaneous shower for the bride-elect, and Miss J. Craig, Miss E. Reardon, and Mrs. F. Kola-Baba, a personal shower. Also, Miss R. Le Petrie and Miss Joan Fisher gave a cup and saucer shower.

"Master of Bankdam" British Film at Snowdon

The loves and matings, the schemings and hatings in a prosperous Yorkshire family are set against the throbbing background of industrial England in "The Master of Bankdam," which will have its Montreal Premiere at the Snowdon Theatre on Saturday. Sensitive direction by Walter Forde and brilliant acting by Anne Crawford, Dennis Price, Tom Walls, Stephen Murray, Linden Travers and others, make this British film a "must" for every moviegoer list.

The original novel "The Crowthers of Bankdam" by Thomas Armstrong, was of a length which a film could not possibly encompass in two hours; but Walter Forde and his cast have succeeded superbly in capturing the spirit and atmosphere of the book while restricting their scope to the period 1854-1890. Their story shows how from modest beginnings, Simeon Crowthier built up an enormous business by honesty, foresight and thrift. Meanwhile his two sons grew up into totally different characters and there developed between them a grim battle for mastery.

Anne Crawford and Dennis Price as a humble mill-lass and the young Crowthier she marries are quite delightful as lovers and as wedded lovers. Tom Walls is the very spirit of Yorkshire as old Simeon Crowthier—a magnificent performance in the finest role he has ever had.

A special selection of short subjects round out an excellent program at this comfortably air conditioned theatre.

AT THE AVENUE SATURDAY
Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon co-starring in "Wuthering Heights" starting Saturday at the air conditioned Avenue Theatre, find their love strangely influenced by the desolate moors.

Dramatic Role Played by Merle Oberon in "Wuthering Heights"

Lovely, titian-haired Merle Oberon has a most important and dramatic role in "Wuthering Heights," the great love story which stars her opposite two dapper leading men—Laurence Olivier and David Niven—which starts Saturday at the Avenue Theatre.

"Wuthering Heights" casts slim and sylph-like Merle as Cathy, hot-tempered, devil-may-care Nineteenth Century lass who runs wild over the moors and crags of Yorkshire. Cathy's beauty and vivacity attract the loves of two men—brooding and darksome Heathcliff, and wealthy and socially prominent Edgar Linton. In her youth Cathy turns to Heathcliff in spite of his boorish manners and strange ways—because their love is mingled with the mystery of the moors. But Cathy's love is not strong enough to stand the blows of disappointment. Heathcliff does not fulfill her childish dreams and conquer the world to lay at her feet. Instead, he deteriorates into a lowly stable boy, content to be near her and worship her.

A strange and unhappy climax separates the lovers. Heathcliff disappears and Cathy marries Edgar Linton. But after two years Heathcliff returns, determined on revenge to teach the woman he still loves the ways of pain.

The cast supporting the three principal players boasts such well knowns as Flora Robson, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Donald Crisp, Hugh Williams and Miles Mander. The special added attraction, "Ragged Angels", unfolds a gripping story of human interest, highlighted by tense and thrilling action. The principal romantic roles are played by Andrea Leeds and Joel McCrea, while the important supporting roles are portrayed by Walter Brennan, Gene Reynolds and Tommy Kelly. Briefly, the story revolves around Professor Lawson, portrayed by Walter Brennan, and his music school settlement, composed of ragged youngsters, who are musical prodigies. Into this school comes Frankie, who inherited a talent for the violin from his dead father and has run away from home

Larry Parks, the exciting star of "Down to Earth" and "The Jolson Story," has a dashing new type of role in the new Technicolor swashbuckler, "The Swordsman," which starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre. Parks gives a performance that will rank alongside those of the greatest screen swashbucklers of all time. He is being compared to such outstanding habitués of cloak-and-dagger films of the past and present as Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., Ronald Colman, Errol Flynn and Cornel Wilde. Parks is said to have the elan and dash required to carry off such a role with the utmost credibility and appeal.

As Alexander MacArden of the Clan MacArden, Parks is a fighting, loving, hard-riding Scottish Highlander of the 18th Century. Danger is his boon companion, glory his first love—but a forbidden kiss almost proves his undoing... when he defies a deadly family feud to woo lovely Ellen Drew of the Clan Glowan!

Miss Drew, last seen in "Johnny O'Clock," is making her first appearance in quite some time in a costume drama. She is reported to make a beautiful and appealing heroine. George Macready, the villain whose swordplay proves to be no match for Parks, is an old hand at playing in romantic adventures and he last appeared in "The Return of Monte Cristo."

Edgar Buchanan, that superb character actor, is harking back to the type of hard-riding role he had in "Renegades." Parks, incidentally, had a part in that epic Western which helped school him for his furious riding chores in "The Swordsman." Ray Collins and Marc Platt, in his first straight dramatic part (he's reported good, too), round out the cast of principal supporting players.

Women Involved In Murder At Monkland Theatre

AT MONKLAND THEATRE

A mentalist and a psychologist match wits to out-manuever each other in this scene between Tyrone Power and Helen Walker from "Nightmare Alley," the Twentieth Century-Fox filmization of William Lindsay Gresham's sensational novel of a ruthless barker in a cheap carnival who claws his way to a big-time career, using women as pawns. The film, which opens Saturday at the Monkland Theatre, was produced by George Jessel and directed by Edmund Goulding. It also features Joan Blondell and Coleen Gray in the cast which includes Taylor Holmes, Mike Mazurki and Ian Keith.

Tyrone Power, credited with many of film's most memorable portraits, comes to the screen of the Monkland Theatre Saturday in what is heralded as the most unusual and provocative role of his out-standing career—that of Stan Carlisle in the Twentieth Century-Fox filmization of "Nightmare Alley." Unlike anything he's done, Power takes on a meaty part in this tough, hard-hitting story of a man who waged a ruthless battle to win mastery over men's lives and women's hearts, and who succeeded only in his own destruction.

Power wanted the story played as Gresham wrote it, without any saccharine touches, and with all of the hard-hitting body punches. As a result, Jules Furthman's screen play gives full play to the character of Stan Carlisle: young, smart, unscrupulous and ruthless—"heel" or hero, depending on whether he finds and exploits your secret fears, or holds forth the promise of heavenly romance—a guy who claws his way to the brink of what he considers success by betraying and using others, by chicanery, and even murder.

The film unfolds the story of Stan's start as a mentalist in a cheap carnival, his success as "The Great Stanton," star attraction of swanky night clubs and parties; his sensational rise in the "spook racket"; and his final mad and spectacular gamble for the one big "killing."

Joan Blondell, the provocative Aunt Sissy of "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," appears as Zeena, whom Stan betrays for the secrets of her trade. Coleen Gray, exciting new star discovery who scored a smash hit in "Kiss of Death," is seen as Molly, the good, trusting girl who loves Stan in spite of everything. Glamorous Helen Walker becomes the scheming psychologist, Dr. Lilith Ritter, the only woman Stan doesn't dare play false, and who turns out to be more cunning and deadly than he.

Second Feature

Everybody's talking about the "new" Franchot Tone in Columbia's "I Love Trouble," which will be the second feature.

In this mystery melodrama, Tone forsakes the drawing room comedy and rousing adventure types of roles with which he has been identified for 14 years as a star, to create a new type of screen detective.

To achieve a true delineation of a private detective at work, Tone spent two months before production studying Los Angeles private detectives as they worked on cases.

As a result, Tone's characterization, in contradistinction to portrayals of other screen detectives, has been hailed as being representative of the trade's best operatives. At no time does Tone limn his character as being smarter than the trained police officers. And in the unfolding of the story, Tone takes only one drink. He also uses a gun on only two occasions.

His detective is also different from those played by Dick Powell, Humphrey Bogart and Robert Montgomery. While not one of those hard-working sleuths can exactly be called girl-shy, Tone's "private eye" is slightly "wolf-ish."

Locals Now Only One Game Behind League Leaders

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Now only one game behind the league leading St. Augustine's nine, and at long last out of the league cellar, Kev Kennedy's Ascension crew will get a chance to climb higher in the Snowdon Senior Fastball League standings when they play host to Thrift at N.D.G. Park this Sunday evening.

The Ascensionites split their pair of regular league games last week-end, edging Hampton Food 1-0 at Trenholme Park on Monday behind a magnificent one-hit hurling job by Gerard Lecavalier, and in turn being edged by Columbus 3-2 at N.D.G. Park on Sunday evening.

The Monday evening tussle was a memorable one. The locals tallied the only run of the game in the top half of the second inning. Noel Romney started things off by working Bill Durnan for a walk. Tommy Brennan laid down a nice bunt to sacrifice the Rom along to second. But Hampton Food's makeshift infield neglected to cover third on the play and Noel kept right on going for the hot sack. Then it was that first baseman Wally Taylor, the player the Hamptonites obtained from Thrift for Jack McKissock, heaved the ball to third. But there was no one there to receive it and Romney sprinted home as the ball rolled into the stands.

Two Bingles

The run was unearned but even had the Hamptonites played heads-up ball it's probable that the run would have scored anyway for both big Emmett ones and Dave Harvie, who will very likely be given serious consideration for the rookie of the year honour, followed with clean singles.

It was a pitchers' duel all the way, reminiscent of some these two great right-handers used to wage two years ago when Durnan was toiling for the Snowdon Stars and Lecavalier for Canadair Aces.

Gerard had the edge on Monday. He twirled lovely no hit ball for seven and no-third innings, the Hamptonites reaching first only three times in that stretch, each time on errors. Then, with one gone in the eighth, Sibby Munday drove a clean single through the box for the losers' only hit of the game.

Lecavalier fanned seven while walking none.

Durnan Also Impressive

Durnan also turned in an impressive game. The big fellow allowed only six hits, half of them in the infield, while whiffing five and walking two.

The delegates to the City-Wide Young Adult Program Conference held at Camp Otoreke made their reports at this meeting. Jim Kennedy was appointed to act on a City-wide Citizenship Committee with another member to be appointed. Jim Bolton was appointed to the City-Wide Young Adult Program Council and two other members are to be appointed. We are going to take our place in the wider activities of the Y.M.C.A., and we have to have an active group within our Branch in order to do so — last Monday's meeting was the good start

Memorial Service For Geo. Beurling

As a tribute to the memory of the late George Beurling, killed recently in a plane crash in Italy while en route to Palestine, a special memorial service is to be held in the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue on Cote St. Antoine Road, Westmount, on Tuesday at 8.15 p.m., by the Brigadier Frederick Kisch Branch No. 97 of the Canadian Legion.
"Buzz" Beurling was killed while on his way to fight for the new State of Israel, and it has been revealed that he enlisted in the Israeli army at the regular rate of pay. With the approval of his father, Fred G. Beurling the service will be held in appreciation of his son's friendship and support to the Jewish cause.

William Johnstone, student at Sir George Williams College and member of the Central Y.M.C.A. Water Polo Team, will serve as Assistant Camp Director of the Westmount Y.M.C.A. in-the-City Camp.

Mr. Johnstone will be in charge of operations of much of the program during the summer months.

Having missed three evenings out of the last four on account of rain, the softball enthusiasts are hoping that tonight will be better. The teams will be playing, weather permitting, on King George Park diamond at 7 p.m. If you think you still can play, come on out and find it to be true. Most of us do.

The weather does help some activities and on cool wet evenings, particularly Mondays, the bridge players are out in strength. Turn out on Monday at 8.15 p.m. and take a hand.

"Tuesday Trips" are still acceptable to most members and a few will be going cycling next Tuesday. If you come along, there will be a few more. You are welcome. An all-day cycle ride is being planned for members and their friends later in the month. Don't miss it!

With the warm weather setting in, the Thursday "Splash Parties" are filling the pool. Mixed swim-civic and community bodies will attend the service, which will be conducted by Sqdn.-Ldr. Jacob Eisen, of Toronto, former senior Jewish chaplain of the R.C.A.F. overseas, and Rabbi Wilfred Shuchat of the Shaar Hashomayim Congregation.

Tom Auburn Nets Hospital Nursery $300

Approximately $300, the entire proceeds from a show put on recently before 600 children at Victoria Hall, by Tom Auburn, well-known N.D.G. magician, was turned over to the Infants' Nursery of the Herbert Reddy Memorial Hospital and is being used to purchase needed oxygen therapy equipment, it was announced this week.

Sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Montreal, a recently formed group of business and professional women, Mr. Auburn, in his show, "Magic for Children," held his youthful audience spellbound by his fine entertainment.

The show was the first undertaking of the Altrusa Club of Montreal, and in view of its popularity and success, the club plans to organize a series of such afternoons for children in the future.

POURED IN THE SAME MOLD

In Hollywood for screen parts, blonde models Joy Lansing, left, and Pat Vaniver discovered (or somebody with keen eyes discovered) that they have the same measurements. They're both 5 feet 6 inches tall, weigh 115 pounds, and have a 36-inch bust, 33-inch hips and 23-inch waist.

Police And Fire Softballers Top Postmen 4-3 Fri.

The powerful Police and Fire team beat out the Postmen in a last inning stand to the tune of 4 to 3 to take over the lead from the R.C.M.P. on Friday.

In the bottom half of the last inning, with the Postmen leading 3 to 2, two men out, Beaton and VanRyswyk singles, Chatelois hitting a double to hit home the tying run and Wood hitting the Posties hurler for a home run to win the game for the Police and Fire.

On Diamond No. 1, the Western Taxi nine clipped the R.C.M.P. for 12 runs to beat them out 12 to 4.

Trophy Wanted

This new senior loop, started in the City of Westmount by Constable C. W. Presley and Clarence Nickolls is doing well and a good brand of softball fills the diamonds every Tuesday and Thursday nights, for the benefit of the sports minded residents of Westmount.

The only thing lacking in this new senior league is the fact that after battling out the schedule and then the playoffs, the winning team, so far, has nothing but a hand shake to take home.

A number of organizations and persons of Westmount have been approached by Constable Presley to donate a cup or trophy, but so far without success. Any organization or person interested in this softball League who wish to donate a cup or trophy to the winning team, or a small donation towards the purchase of windbreakers and crests, is requested to get in touch with Constable Presley at FI.3525 or YO.3233.

LOBSTER NEWBURGH

Two cups picked out boiled lobster meat; ½ pint cream; 1 cup sherry wine; 2 tablespoons butter; yolks of 3 eggs; salt and cayenne pepper to taste.

Melt the butter in a saucepan or chafing dish, and add the cream. Let simmer gently for half a minute and add the lobster meat cut up in good sized pieces. When the cream has again reached the boiling point, add the well-beaten egg yolks to which has been added the sherry wine. Add cayenne and salt to taste, and let thicken to a good creamy consistency, stirring all the while from bottom and sides of saucepan. Serve hot in patty shells or ramekins. Serves 6.

Local Soccerites Drop Two Games

The past week was not a very profitable one for the Westmount entry in the National City Soccer League as they dropped both their games and suffered a few cripples from the hard games of the week.

On Thursday Westmount met the undefeated Canadair team and came out on the short end of a 3-2 score. This was a hard fought game and Westmount were very unfortunate to lose as they played a fine fast game, but an injury to Dick Shorrock, their goalie, led to the first two Canadair goals. From comments heard after the game, Westmount made many friends with their display against one of the better teams in the city.

It was a different story on Monday last when Westmount met Hungaria at Fletchers field and got soundly beaten 6-0, the local team were without the services of 6 of their regulars, owing to injuries and were only able to field 10 men, this along with Hungaria playing one of the better games, left Westmount to battle gamely in a hopeless struggle.
